TETANUS SHOTS

Q. Each year before our children go to summer camp they receive protective shots, including tetanus. Is this necessary?

A. You should be guided by the advice of your family doctor and that of the camp authorities. The present thinking of the American Public Health Association on tetanus immunization is that a fully immunized person (one who has received three injections of toxoid not less than four weeks apart followed by a reinforcing dose 8 to 12 months later) need not be given annual boosters. Under such circumstances, and in the absence of injury, the Association recommends a reinforcing shot every 10 years.

Information About Airport Bonds Explained By League

As a part of its activity to inform the voters of the issues in the forthcoming election, the League of Women Voters of Twin Falls provides this information concerning HJR 7.

HJR 7 would amend the Constitution to authorize cities and villages of the state to finance the purchase, construction and equipping of air navigation facilities by means of revenue bonds. The Constitution now limits the use of revenue bonds by cities and villages to water systems, sewage collection systems, water treatment plants, sewage treatment plants, and off-street parking. A revenue bond must be passed by two-thirds of the qualified electors voting in such an election. This amendment would permit cities and villages to go to the electors for approval of such a revenue bond issue. Revenue bonds are then paid off by the users of the facility so financed, in this case, the users of such air navigation facilities.

Inside Report: Nixon's Thin Coattails

Monday, October 28, 1968 AL WESTERBERG Publisher O. A. (Gus) KELKER Editor

Security On Wheels

Taking recent history into consideration, one really cannot blame the White House for ordering a tank for the President to tour in. Of course, it doesn't look like a tank. In fact, the President's new limousine looks like a Lincoln.

Quickie Doctors

A new type of medical practitioner may be in the offing as a result of a new course of instruction at the University of Colorado Medical School. Opinions of Guest Editors

INADEQUATE MINING LAWS From Idaho Falls Post-Register Castle Peak, at 11,820 feet, is not just one of the highest peaks in Idaho. It is one of the most scenic settings in the entire West. Because of its unique wilderness qualities, the U.S. Forest Service has kept the area under a strict administrative control. It is a wilderness area truly in the conservation group as advancing a wilderness concept for the White Cloud Range area is still a very real goal.

CHICAGO—On Chicago's Illinois Northwest Side where racial tensions run high, there is evidence that Richard M. Nixon's coattails may prove to be thin indeed. Interviews were conducted among the middle-income white workers there, assisted by the Oliver Quayle polling organization, revealed a tide of landslide proportions for Nixon. But the district's Democratic Congressman, Rep. Roman Pucinski,

More About Postal Service

WASHINGTON — As a citizen who since February, 1963, has been suggesting that the U.S. postal service is not quite as efficient as smoke signals during a hurricane, I am pleased to note that the prestigious Reader's Digest has taken roughly the same position. The Digest, which is also read widely, has come right out and boldly endorsed the Kappel Commission report which recommends lifting the postal service out of the nineteenth century. Relatively few citizens have been ignoring it in the hope it would go away.

Is The Gain Fast Enough?

WASHINGTON—Local polls in some areas show Vice President Humphrey beginning to move up in the presidential race, but they continue to show GOP candidate Richard Nixon with a commanding lead. Like all national polls, these newspaper surveys in key states, offer some hope for Humphrey campaigners. For the most part, however, here and elsewhere, his writer did an excellent job in putting all the gritty facts together. For example:

values — are terrified by northward encroachment by Chicago's Negro masses. Only 6 of the 50 say the country is being run for the Negroes (contrasted with a national average of 40 per cent). The tone was set by a machinist who told: "I'm a colored man, I'm running the country."

Most striking is the loyalty to Pucinski by the seven Wallace supporters, each of them Democrats who backed President Johnson in 1964. Contrary to Republican wishful thinking that the Democratic Wallace would carry their party on the rest of the ticket, six of the seven favor Pucinski. Pucinski's strength is no mystery. He is reported to be Pucinski," said a Republican insurance salesman, who is switching from Hoellen. "He puts the colored element in his camp. Once he is elected, he will be unopposed by the rest of the ticket, six of the seven favor Pucinski."

Art Buchwald The Outsiders

WASHINGTON — Wall Street may face congressional hearings early next year on the question of "inside information." What it boils down to is that some unscrupulous investors and brokers are using their knowledge of confidential information to make money on company stocks. The Securities and Exchange Commission, which is supposed to protect the public, feels that these "insiders" should be forbidden to cash in on this information, nobody else knows anything about it.

Joseph G. Molner, M.D. Those Stitches

Dear Dr. Molner: Eighteen months ago my wife underwent an appendectomy at age 70. Post-operative office visits resulted in four stitches being removed after surfacing, including one that required a pulling. Another stitch has been acting up for the past month with the same pricking and discomfort. The doctor says to wait until it surfaces so we can see it. If it does not show signs of surfacing, what? Are not operation stitches supposed to absorb? Is there something radically wrong somewhere?—W.J.Z.

Evan-Picone Lists Details Of Collection

NEW YORK (AP)—Fashion designer Frank Smith put his designs over again for the Evan-Picone house of styles, with his newest creations including ladies sports and casual clothes. This was called his North-South collection.

Vivacious looking models showed off these sporty styles like fun-loving girls determined to make it South; or, at any rate, to wherever the on-the-go crowd hangs out—North or South.

Smith gave his styles a feminine quality by including soft details such as ruffles and belts.

Dainty white linen blouses—ruffled down blouse center, on stand-up collars, or blouse with a 18-inch ruffle neatly tucked into slacks or skirts.

Coupled with these blouses were wide-legged slacks, in black and white or brown and white plaid linen fabric, that fitted low on hips with a ruche-belt.

Long-length linen jackets, sleeved or sleeveless and thickly belted, with wide lapels and decorative double row of metal buttons, made another slack-top combination. Their deep pocket-pockets, of generous proportion, could accommodate more than a handkerchief.

Wrap-around skirts, secured with a tie-belt, were worn slightly above the knees, in plain linen color combinations of soft yellow and grey.

Light blue cuddly woolen sweaters were a deviation from the classical tailored variety with their ruffled trimmed collars, cuffs or buttoned center. The V-neck red sweater was an eye-opener against a white skirt.

A belt-style, long black woolen skirt; the blue sleeveless vest, also worn with a black skirt, was an interesting item with decorative black embroidered edging.

These fashions, whether they receive Northern or Southern exposure, have come through with feminine characteristics in softness of lines, color and fabric.

Sheriff's Race Leads Interest In Jerome Balloting Nov. 5

JEROME—There will be six contests when Jerome voters go to the polls Nov. 5.

Most hotly contested is the office of sheriff where Dewey Cavin, Democrat, is attempting to unseat James B. (Pat) Burns, who has held the office for 20 years. Mr. Cavin is a lifetime resident and is employed by Handy Realty. He is a veteran and an officer in the State National Guard for 12 years. Mr. Burns is a lifetime resident and is employed by Handy Realty. He is a veteran and an officer in the State National Guard for 12 years.

Mr. Cavin stated that he would work as many hours as necessary at the responsibilities as sheriff if he is elected.

Besides his 20 years as sheriff, Mr. Burns has two years experience with the Idaho State Police, and served during World War II in the Criminal Investigation Division of the Army Corps. He said he would continue to operate his office in the same efficient, economical manner if he is elected.

Both seeking the office of state representative for the first time are Willard Lattimer, Edon, Republican, and Leon Aslett, Democrat.

Mr. Lattimer, who has been a resident since 1919, was a member of the Valley school board for 14 years. He has served the county for eight years as commissioner from district 3. Mr. Lattimer is opposed to gun control legislation and said also that people should work out their problems on a local level.

Mr. Aslett has been a Grange member for 30 years and served four years on the Jerome County Fair Board. He is president of the C. A. Construction Co. He owns a ranch north of Jerome, and is the one who raises registered Black Angus cattle.

Max O. Suter, Democrat, is seeking the post of county commissioner in District 2, now held by John Van Orman. Mr. Suter is serving his third term as director on the Board of Magic Valley Growers, Inc. He is a farmer and livestock producer.

John Van Orman, Republican, a native of Idaho, is seeking re-election to the post he has held two years. He has been a taxpayer for over 20 years. Mr. Van Orman stated he believes in strong local government and is vitally interested in Jerome's county.

He said that local government should be progressive, but also conservative. Seeking office for the first time are Claude Bernard, Republican, and Rodney Paus, Democrat, who are competing for the office of commissioner from the third district. Mr. Bernard has lived in Jerome county since 1942 and was a school board member for 13 years. He is chairman of the First Segregation Farm Bureau and secretary-treasurer of the Beet Growers Association.

Mr. Paus has been a director of the American Falls Reservoir, District 2, Canal board for the past 20 years and a farmer in the Hunt area. Paus is also the owner of Stockman's Realty.

Carl Stephens, Democrat, who holds the office of Treasurer, is being challenged for the first time since 1953 by Mrs. Teresa Hendry, Republican, who entered the race as a result of a large write-in vote in the primary.

Mr. Stephens has served as treasurer for 18 years and says he has operated the office on a sound, businesslike basis. He is a World War II veteran and a member of Elks Lodge and American Legion. He helped organize the Jerome Baseball Commission and has served as its president for many years, as well as coaching Little League and Legion teams.

Mrs. Hendry, a native of Idaho, has worked in the office of the county agent, North Side Canal Co., and the North Side Land and Water Co. Mrs. Hendry moved to Boise in 1941 where she and her husband operated a real estate office. While in Boise, she held a number of responsible positions including that of court reporter.

Mrs. Hendry believes local government, properly administered, is the best government. If elected, she would fill the position to the best of her ability and on a full-time basis.

Seeking the post of prosecuting attorney are S. A. Kolman, Republican, and Frank L. Benson, Democrat. Mr. Kolman received his law degree from the University of Idaho and is presently Hazelton city attorney and has a law practice in Jerome. He is a member of the Idaho and Fifth Judicial District Bar Association. He is also chairman of the Jerome County Red Cross and chairman of the Magic Valley Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Mr. Benson has been prosecuting attorney of Power County and assistant to the State Attorney General for three and one-half years. He served in the office of Price Administration immediately after World War II. In 1955, he was elected to the office of Attorney General for a four year term.

Unopposed Republican candidates are Dale Burkhalter, for the office of assessor; Russell Shaud, for probate judge, and Lauren Neher for coroner.

Seeking the post of legislative chairman are Dwight Osborn, Republican, and Joe McCarter, Democrat.

Jack Murphy Speaks About Republicans

SHOSHONE—Richard M. Nixon has shown a steady surge of strength in Idaho for the past 10 days, Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy said Saturday.

Gov. Murphy, who is Idaho Nixon-for-President chairman, said he had been in contact with Nixon committee members throughout the state and noticed every area reported increasing gains for the Republican presidential candidate.

Gov. Murphy issued a two-part observation on the Nov. 5 election.

"Every poll taken in Idaho since the national convention shows that Mr. Nixon is enjoying increasing popularity among Idaho voters, but I do want to remind Idahoans that polls don't actually vote."

"People are the ones who vote. Don't count on the other person to vote. He may be counting on you."

"Idaho for many years has been noted for its high percentage of voters who cast their ballots in the privacy of the home to 100 per cent turnout this election as is possible to achieve."

"Every Idahoan has a stake in the future of the country, and the way to have a voice in that future is to vote," Gov. Murphy declared.

LBJ Enters Controversy; Nixon Defends Campaign

By The Associated Press President Johnson has accused Richard M. Nixon of making "ugly and unfair charges" on security and peace efforts.

Humphrey charged Nixon with spreading an unfounded rumor that the Democrats are playing politics with peace.

Humphrey accused his Republican presidential opponent Sunday night of "simply using the old Nixon tactic of unsubstantiated insinuation" by suggesting White House "insiders" are trying to bring off a Vietnam peace agreement.

But Nixon—expanding Sunday on his Friday statement that he was not a "cynical, last-minute attempt" to salvage Humphrey's candidacy—said he was trying to squelch the reports.

"It seemed to me that I was being quite responsible in making Nixon's statement clear that I would not think the President would be thinking me rather than attacking me."

Johnson, making a political appearance in New York, said he accused Nixon of making "ugly and unfair charges about our security gap and charges about our attempts to win peace in the world."

Wallace Voices Confidence As Campaign Nears Windup

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The early candidate for Alabama Gov. George Wallace goes into the closing week of the presidential campaign talking like a winner and believing the polls which show him losing ground.

Wallace says he will be elected; that the polls are "liars" trying to rig the election; that they have been wrong before and are wrong again.

After the returns have been counted Nov. 5, he says, "we're going to put some of the polling out of this out of town."

Orval Hansen Cites Democratic 'Failures,' Sen. Church Asks Farm Bargaining Aid

By The Associated Press State Sen. Orval Hansen, Republican 2nd District congressional nominee, said in Idaho Falls today that there has never been a "more urgent need for a complete change of national leadership."

"In the nearly eight years since the last Republican president, the record has been one of failure on every front," Hansen said.

He cited rising crime rates, inflation, plight of farmers and the Vietnam War.

Both senate candidates spoke over the weekend at an Idaho Falls meeting of the National Farmers Organization.

Sen. Frank Church, Democrat, said the only permanent solution to the farm problem lies in fixing the farmer power to bargain freely and effectively.

"Government will not solve the farm problem, regardless of which party wins the current election," Church declared.

"The farmer has been caught in a constant squeeze which has resulted in the lowest parity on record, and that won't be changed until we get rid of the Humphrey-Johnson-Freeman ticket," Hansen said.

Compton I. White, Democratic 1st District congressional nominee, told a Sandpoint group that the negative voting record of his opponent, Rep. James A. McClure, was "discouraging and disappointing to the majority of Idahoans."

"He not only has voted again education measures that would have resulted in a $8 million gain to our schools, but has opposed other legislation designed to benefit the average consumer," White said.

McClure, speaking to insurance underwriters in Caldwell, said the prospect of relying on insurance savings becomes less and less attractive as inflation advances at more than four per cent yearly.

"People now retiring find that savings plans they started in the 1930's and 1940's fall way short of their expected goals," McClure said.

Church has been a critic of the administration's policies in the Vietnam War.

RUPERT—The Outstanding Farmer of the Year and the Grassman of the Year for Minidoka County will be announced during a joint dinner program Nov. 7 in the Catholic parish hall.

Dr. Boyd Martin, Dean of Letters and Science at the University of Idaho, has been selected as the guest speaker for the annual dinner, sponsored by the Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Thursday has been set for the day for the tour of the farms of candidates for the Outstanding Farmer award. Chamber members will gather at the Chamber office at 8:30 Thursday morning to begin the tour.

The candidates will be judged on their overall operation, community activities, attitude toward farming, upkeep of their farm, conservation practices, and their use of their resources.

More than 70 farm couples will be hosted by chamber members during the annual dinner in an attempt to become better acquainted.

The Grassman of the Year was selected earlier by the Grassman committee and will be announced during the dinner Thursday.

Church Names Rodeo Expert For Hall

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has nominated Jackson Sundown, former Nez Perce rodeo performer, for the Indian Athletic Hall of Fame at the Haskell Institute in Lawrence, Kan.

Sundown's rodeo career reached its peak in 1916—seven years before his death—when he won the world bronc-riding championship at the Pendleton Round-up in Pendleton, Ore.

Sundown was a member of the Wallowa band of Nez Perce Indians, led by Chief Joseph. Church said. As a young boy during the Nez Perce War of 1877, he was on the retreat which ended in the chief's surrender in Montana.

Church said Sundown later spent time with Sitting Bull's exiled camp in Canada and then settled in Nez Perce Reservation in Idaho.

Diabetic Hunter Reported Missing

CATLEIGH, Utah (AP)—A man believed to be a diabetic has been missing since the middle of last week on a hunting trip in the rugged Weber River drainage near this Summit County town.

Sheriff Ronald Robinson said some 50 searchers looked Sunday for Howard McAdams, 48, Mognia. An airplane was called in this morning. Robinson said the mountain country has been hit by hard frost at night and there is a heavy cover of downed timber.

"We'll have a tough time finding him if he's down," Robinson said.

The sheriff said a hunting partner reported McAdams missing Saturday. He said it was not unusual for McAdams to stay away from camp overnight, so the report of his disappearance was delayed.

Robinson said relatives told him McAdams is a diabetic who usually carried medication with him.

Dark Toast, Children Don't Mix

A child's preference for dark brown toast brought the Twin Falls Fire Department to a Twin Falls residence—Saturday morning.

Firemen said that they were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Blake and family, 1025 Elm St., about 9 a.m. for a smoke investigation.

Firemen determined that one of the Blake youngsters had been fixing breakfast for himself, and one of the things he fixed was slightly burned toast—and quite a bit of smoke.

Firemen also reported that at about 1 a.m. Saturday morning they were called to 333 1/2 Third Ave. E. to extinguish a blaze in a detached basement apartment. The fire was contained in the couch. The apartment is occupied by Rich Chapman and Paul Eissman.

About 11:50 p.m. Friday two trucks answered a call to 240 Blue Lakes N.

Firemen said that masking tape around a ceiling light caught fire and burned through the ceiling and into the attic. The frame house is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Soran.

Roger Greenup, 17, Twin Falls, was reported in good condition Monday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where he was admitted following a motorcycle-truck accident Saturday.

Twin Falls City Police said Mr. Greenup was driving a 1968 Yamaha motorcycle off of the Stinker Station lot on Kimberly Road when the accident occurred.

They said a 1957 Dodge half-ton truck driven by Larrie Eugene Ragain, 24, Route 1, Twin Falls, was traveling south on Madrona Street when the two vehicles collided.

The motorcycle collided with the right rear of the truck, oficers said. Mr. Greenup was taken to the hospital by Magic Valley Ambulance Service.

He was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Neither Mr. Ragain nor two passengers in the truck, Peggy Ragain, 24, and Albert Kay, 42, were injured.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My neighbor ("I'll call her "Mrs. X") is divorcing her husband, and she is looking for proof of adultery. Knowing Mr. X, I'm sure she will have no trouble, as I have seen many strange cars parked in front of their house all night when Mrs. X has been out of town.

Mrs. X has asked me some leading questions which indicate that she knows that her husband has been playing around - and with whom? My problem is this: two years ago, my husband and I were having some difficulties, and I foolishly had a brief affair with Mr. X. I had never been unfaithful before, and I'd never do it again. I have a jewel for my husband, and I think he could forgive me if he ever found out, but I don't want to do that. But if the truth is going to come out in my neighbor's divorce, I'd rather have my husband hear it from me than in a courtroom. Should I help the wife in her search for evidence? And what should I do about my own guilty conscience? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Keep your mouth shut and don't contribute any "evidence" in this case. And if you've never prayed before, pray now. With luck you yourself a heap of unhappiness.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a guy who enjoys playing cards, and he plays for money. Just to make it "interesting." Personally, I don't care much for cards, but I can play a fairly decent game if I have to.

All of Joe's relatives play cards 'night and day, and they think it's terrible that I don't play. I've even over cards the way they do.

Abby, I love this guy, and I have really tried to like cards, but there is no use fooling myself. It's boring. Besides, some of Joe's "interesting" evenings have cost him more than he can afford to lose.

New! I am being told (by Joe's relatives) "If you intend to marry Joe, you had better learn to like cards."

Don't misunderstand me. I think it's all right to play once in a while. But all weekend, and every night? WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You mention Joe's relatives, but how does Joe feel about it? Gambling can become just as serious as "addiction" to booze, tobacco, and other undesirable habits. Take a second look at Joe to be sure the joker isn't too wild.

DEAR ABBY: We hear so much about the "rudeness" of guests who arrive late, but how about guests who arrive EARLY? Isn't that rude, too?

We know a certain couple whom we invite for 7:30 if we want them there at 7. The 30 minutes before guests are scheduled to arrive are probably the most hectic (and important) to the hostess, and it just burns me up to have to drop every-thing and entertain these early birds. Besides, it puts me in a very bad mood. What do you say, Abby? GLADYS

DEAR GLADYS: I am, you said it all - and very well, to which I can only add, "Amen."

DEAR ABBY: How come when you gave all that advice on what to do about obscene telephone calls you didn't mention the one trick that works like magic? Get a real loud whistle like those used by policemen and gym teachers. Keep it near the telephone, and at the first hint of an obscene or annoying phone call blow the whistle right into the mouthpiece

Stocks

2:30 P.M. SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market gave a good trading late this afternoon, widening early losses. Trading was moderate. Losses outnumbered gains by nearly 200 issues on the New York Stock Exchange. Wall Street showed caution and disappointment over the fact that a positive development occurred over the weekend regarding possible peace in Vietnam. At the same time, with election day about a week away, the street was showing some pre-election jitters in view of the latest reports of political polls. Eastern Airlines, edging higher, paced the list in activity. It was boosted by a flock of 57,200 shares. Sinc-air, ahead about 3 points, was close to the top on turnover as investors responded to news that Sinclair said it would acquire a 10% interest in Gulf & Western. C & W fell more than 2 in less active trading. Line-Tempo-Vought was sold heavily, losing more than 3 points, in reaction to disappointing earnings. Also active, IBM dropped 5, and Texas Gulf Sulphur rose about 2. The decline was cushioned by Du Pont's rise of a couple of points. Steels moved fractionally higher on news of a continuing high level of orders. U.S. Gypsum sank about 3 points. Texas advanced more than a point. Losses of about a point were taken by Schering, Standard Oil of California, Central, Swift and U.S. Smelting. Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the difference in economic philosophy between the Democrats and the Republicans? Surprisingly, as necessary as the answers are, many people couldn't state them. Most people won't find a awful lot of help either in reading the two platforms, for there are perhaps as many similarities as differences, at least to the inexperienced eye. And yet, one of the chief arguments used by the presidential candidates, and most of the lesser candidates as well, is that they can guide the economy better than their opponents. In search of guidance, Dr. Paul McCracken, a Republican, and Dr. Walter W. Heller, a Democrat, were asked what, in their opinion, were the fundamental economic differences in the nation's philosophy of government. McCracken, a University of Michigan economist, was a member of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisors from 1955 to 1959, and is mentioned as a possible council chairman should Richard M. Nixon be elected president. Heller, an economist at the University of Minnesota, was council chairman from 1961 to 1964, serving both Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. Both men spoke as individuals rather than as party spokesmen. "First of all," said McCracken, "I think it is important to stress to them that one of the great strengths of the American political system is that the change from one president to another doesn't produce a 90 degree turn, as in some systems. "I think this is an important aspect, at least to them, that there are no differences between the parties. There are, although the middle ground is shared, but it is substantial. "I think it is important to stress to them that the key difference revolves around the allocation of money to the private and public sectors. This is the key to our nation's economic welfare. "The Republican position is more nearly what I would call a 'free market' philosophy. Cracken said, "I believe in a 'free market' philosophy, but I would mean fewer rather than more federal imposed restrictions on private enterprise. "The program he said, is this: 'Respect the sanctity of property policy, perhaps even holding on to the surplus. Cooperation with big business and big labor to obtain economic momentum, specific proposals for trying to break through inflation in construction, medicine, insurance, and other industries. "Heller said he felt a Republican president would be inclined to put growth in the Gross National Product by lowering taxes and increasing military spending and that the Democratic would spend on civilian programs. "And when there is a difference in the whole philosophy of regulation and tax reform," he said. "But as you get beyond these really sharp differences" there is a difference, he said, in "direction of preference" in regard to revenues. "Nixon is upper income inclined, Humphrey is inclined toward the lower income." Heller said the candidates also attach different goals to policy. "Humphrey puts full employment and growth at the top of the list. The other philosophy of Nixon is to put stability over full employment, even though some of his advisers say that he would not do that. Heller said he felt the Democratic anti-inflation program was especially strong and the Republican program "mostly slogans." It is ironic, he said, that "Nixon is getting a lot of mileage out of inflation but

Successful Investing

I retired two years ago on Social Security, a small pension and dividends from Cities Service Co., Ford Motor Co., Santa Fe Industries, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Affiliated Fund and Wellington Fund. Should we invest some of our $20,000 savings to get more income?—L. H. A—Your portfolio offers a good balance of adequate income and moderate growth potential. Because Cities Service moved up sharply in its participation in the ownership of Atlantic Richfield preferred shares in the Alaska oil boom, yield is currently on the low side. Nevertheless, shares should be held for their appreciation prospects. Jersey Standard needs no additional comment—having been recommended here repeatedly. Santa Fe—holding company for Atchison, Topeka—has the added appeal of continued diversification into nonrail activities and should be held for income. The stock has begun to recover its normal 26 per cent segment of the total automotive market after last year's strike which reduced production to 22 per cent. Your mutual funds should be held for their yield and gradual growth. By investing about one-half of your savings reserve in A-rated West Penn, Power 74's, of 1968 you will increase your income modestly. These bonds, if you purchase them, will produce a 90 degree turn, as in some systems. "I think this is an important aspect, at least to them, that there are no differences between the parties. There are, although the middle ground is shared, but it is substantial. "I think it is important to stress to them that the key difference revolves around the allocation of money to the private and public sectors. This is the key to our nation's economic welfare. "The Republican position is more nearly what I would call a 'free market' philosophy. Cracken said, "I believe in a 'free market' philosophy, but I would mean fewer rather than more federal imposed restrictions on private enterprise. "The program he said, is this: 'Respect the sanctity of property policy, perhaps even holding on to the surplus. Cooperation with big business and big labor to obtain economic momentum, specific proposals for trying to break through inflation in construction, medicine, insurance, and other industries. "Heller said he felt a Republican president would be inclined to put growth in the Gross National Product by lowering taxes and increasing military spending and that the Democratic would spend on civilian programs. "And when there is a difference in the whole philosophy of regulation and tax reform," he said. "But as you get beyond these really sharp differences" there is a difference, he said, in "direction of preference" in regard to revenues. "Nixon is upper income inclined, Humphrey is inclined toward the lower income." Heller said the candidates also attach different goals to policy. "Humphrey puts full employment and growth at the top of the list. The other philosophy of Nixon is to put stability over full employment, even though some of his advisers say that he would not do that. Heller said he felt the Democratic anti-inflation program was especially strong and the Republican program "mostly slogans." It is ironic, he said, that "Nixon is getting a lot of mileage out of inflation but

Olympic Games Finished; U.S. Wins Overall Medal Standings From Soviets

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sambro waving Mexicans, chanting college-style yells, closed the controversy-riddled 1968 Olympic Games Sunday night with a burst of color and informal pagentry perhaps unmatched in Olympic history. More than 80,000 jubilant fans, chanting "Mexico, Mexico, Mexico," saluted the flags and athletes of 119 nations in the climax of a record-shattering four days of athletic competition on this 14 1/2-mile high plateau of the ancient Aztec world. A pretty Thai girl, dressed in iridescent pink, was center of attention as the athletes from all around the globe broke ranks and spread toward the stands at the end of the flag raising and lowering ceremonies. Blacks and whites, some of them in flowing African robes and others in continental cut sport attire, rushed toward the stands, waving hats and raising their hands in friendly salute. Near the end of the moving flag program, as fireworks emblazoned the pitch black sky, the Olympic flame went out and was relit again for another four years, the huge electric scoreboard at the north end of the Olympic Stadium shifted its lights from "Mexico 68" to "Munich 72."

Petty Takes American 500 Auto Classic

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP)—Richard Petty, whose mastery of the big speedways was supreme last year, won his first major stock car race of the season Sunday by capturing the American 500 at the North Carolina Motor Speedway. Petty, whose blue Plymouth went to victory lane 27 times in 1967, four of them in long distance events, finished 16 seconds ahead of Ford driver David Pearson to collect $119,875 of the $385,500 purse. Petty now has won 52 of the 72 NASCAR points in his fourth year and whipped the New Orleans Saints 31-17. "The attitude of those guys is terrific," Winner said. "They just don't want to be beaten, and a team that won't be beaten can't be beaten. They keep hustling. I'm proud of them." This was the second time this season that the Cards had scored 21 points in the final period to upend the Saints, and New Orleans Coach Tom Fears was very much aware of it. "They won this one for me, but it wasn't for me," he said. "That one was given to me. It was robbery."

Tight Defense Gives Browns 30-7 Victory

McLain To Make Pitch At Denver

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The way Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers figures it, Little League baseball gave him a mighty push to big league stardom. So on Tuesday, McLain will fly here to make a pitch to save a little league ball park in suburban Denver. A league official, Richard Bauer, said McLain consented to make an appearance at a zone hearing.

The hearing will decide if the ball park is in violation of residential zoning laws.

'An Eyesore And Health Hazard'

Abandoned Cars Pose Growing Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — American cars are abandoning their old cars on city streets in record numbers and officials across the nation are perplexed over what to do about it.

"They're an eyesore and a health hazard," Kenneth O. Brown, St. Louis, Mo., building commissioner, said. "There are about 5,000 just sitting around the city and the number is growing at an alarming rate."

The Automobile Manufacturers Association said its latest figures showed six million cars and 856,000 trucks were junked in 1966, from the 4.2 million cars and 583,000 trucks junked in 1960.

Detroit has 12 policemen assigned the specific duty of searching for abandoned cars, and the Motor City harvested 16,000 last year.

In New York, where 30,000 abandoned vehicles, or about 4,000 more than in 1967, are expected to be collected this year, a sanitation official blamed the increasing number of abandonments, in part, on fatter paychecks.

"A guy's driving his car and it breaks down," he said. "He decides he's had the car long
