Church, Hansen Conduct Newspaper Debate

By SEN. FRANK CHURCH

As long as we are in Vietnam, I have always believed that we should lend all possible support to our men fighting there. I have consistently voted to provide our troops with all they need.

But I thought it a mistake to send American troops into Vietnam in the first place. Four years ago, I began to speak out against our growing involvement in Southeast Asia. I remember that General Douglas MacArthur had warned us, after Korea, that we should never again become involved in an Asian land war.

Since then, I have seen my worst fears confirmed. Step by step, we have been caught in a precarious Asian bog. Into its quicksands we can sink deeper, but out of it there is no easy extrication.

Our experience in Vietnam, I believe, is a tragic symptom of a flawed foreign policy which has led us to over-extension abroad while our problems at home go unattended.

We must begin now to re-examine our foreign policy, for I remain deeply concerned. See CHURCH, pg. 17, col. 1

Editor's Note

This is the first installment of a four-part series in which the Times-News is giving Sen. Frank Church and Rep. George Hansen an opportunity to discuss the eight major issues of their campaign.

The issues were decided upon by David Mead, representing Rep. Hansen, and Lloyd Walker, representing Frank Church.

Each installment of the series will cover two issues. The first two issues are the war in Vietnam and foreign aid.

By REP. GEORGE HANSEN

In 1965 I contacted the President and told him it would be a mistake to send American troops in large numbers to South Vietnam. I felt we could use our technological superiority to properly train and equip South Vietnam to deal with the enemy.

We also had strong diplomatic options we could have used, but didn't. Instead, Lyndon Johnson broke a political promise not to send American troops in large numbers to Vietnam, and today, through the mismanagement of this war, and the division between the President and his own Democratic Senators of which my opponent is one of the most outspoken — we have more than half a million men in South Vietnam.

After this session was made, we still could have ended the war quickly and decisively. The Halphong Harbor should have been closed, and the rail and highway links into North Vietnam cut. This would have sealed off North Vietnam from outside assistance and forced them to the negotiating table.

Instead, we allowed them to continue. See HANSEN, pg. 17, col. 3

Russian Astronaut Returns

MOSCOW (AP) — Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy and the Soviet space ship Soyuz 3 returned to earth today after nearly four days in orbit during which they set no records and apparently scored no breakthroughs for the Soviet space program.

Tass said the spaceship made a soft landing where it was supposed to in the Soviet Union but did not give the exact location. Beregovoy "feels well," said the Soviet news agency, and was met by "friends and correspondents in the area where he landed."

"Cosmonaut Georgy Beregovoy successfully completed the program of scientific and technical research," Tass said. The 47-year-old cosmonaut's flight was the first manned flight in 18 months for the Soviet Union, but it set no records and no technical breakthrough was announced.

Beregovoy was launched into space last Saturday morning and began a tandem flight around the earth in the wake of the unmanned spacecraft Soyuz 2, which had been launched the day before.

Before Soyuz 2 was brought down for a soft landing on Monday, Beregovoy made two speeches to the unmanned craft, but if he tried to link up, this was not announced.

A Soviet scientist writing in Pravda Monday said the purpose of Beregovoy's flight was to develop docking systems essential to the Soviet program of eventually constructing huge orbiting platforms from which rockets would be launched to the moon and planets.

A parachute was used in the landing, Moscow Radio said, and just before the touch-down, engines were used to further soften the landing.

Grand Opening Of CSI Fine Arts Center Is Nov. 13-15

The grand opening of the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center has been set for Nov. 13-15, according to LaVar Steel, chairman of the Lyceum and Assembly committee.

Mr. Steel said that at 8 p.m. Nov. 13 the Utah Civic Ballet will perform in the new college facility.

Featured with the group will be a former Twin Falls resident, John R. Nelson, son of Lloyd A. Nelson, Route 2, Twin Falls. Mr. Nelson is a soloist with the ballet troupe as is his wife, Janice.

At 8 p.m. Nov. 15 the State University Old Lyric Repertory Co. will present "Charley's Aunt," one of the best-known of all American farces.

Registration Moving Slowly In County

Registration in Twin Falls County's 51 precincts is moving slowly, registrars said Wednesday.

A poll of about 15 of the 51 precincts indicated voters had a lot of questions about the election next Tuesday, but some of those voters have yet to register.

However, in at least four precincts a record registration was indicated. In Hansen, the registrar, Mrs.

Bernice Simmons, said, "It's not as good as it could be." She said about 300 people were registered with her, but at least 200 more could be registered.

The deadline for registration is about average at that precinct, it was reported. Kimberly 2 has 175 registered, and is reported to be low. The registrar there, Mrs. Dorothy Pollard, said she has not been busy this week registering voters. "In fact, no one came in Tuesday," she said.

Build 6 is an established precinct and there is very little change there, with more than 200 registered.

Filter 2 has been "very busy" during the past week and it is expected a registration record will be broken there.

County Reviewing Resolution Banning Non-Resident Workers

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

An undetermined number of employees at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital may be without jobs in two months if a present county commission resolution is allowed to stand.

At least two of the employees involved are registered nurses.

Hospital Administrator Mrs. Irene Oliver has refused to reveal the number of employees involved, and even refused to talk about or be quoted on the controversy that started Tuesday. County Prosecutor Michael Felton was asked for a legal opinion on the matter Tuesday, Wednesday, after reviewing the legal nature of the controversy, he said, "In my opinion the employees at the hospital are county employees. They are governed by a county budget, and work by a county budget. As such, out-of-county employees at the hospital would be affected by the wording of the resolution."

The resolution involved was passed unanimously by the Twin Falls County Commission last August.

It stops the hiring of anyone who might live outside the Twin Falls County limits. It also sets a cutoff date of Jan. 1, 1969, as the date when all present county employees who live outside the county must quit.

When the resolution was first passed, it was thought it would affect only two women — Mrs. Norman Hintze, a clerk in the Probate Court, and Mrs. Robert Stokessberry, a clerk in the Justice Court.

But Tuesday it was discovered that out-of-county employees at the hospital might also be affected.

"The resolution was not meant to concern the hospital employees," County Commissioner Charles Heber Loughmiller said Tuesday. Estimates indicate nearly 200 people work at the hospital, but it is not known how many of the employees live outside Twin Falls County.

Mrs. Hintze lives in Jerome and Mrs. Stokessberry lives in Hazelton.

In light of the investigation into the matter, conducted by the hospital board, Loughmiller has indicated the resolution "will be reviewed and could be canceled before the Jan. 1 deadline."

At the first interview with Mr. Loughmiller and other members of the commission, William Chaney and Morris Carlson, the commissioners indicated they were not aware of the controversy.

United Fund Report Shows Progress

Dr. Thad Scholes, Twin Falls United Fund Drive chairman, reported $23,271 in cash collected.

He said that at this time last year only $23,000 had been received.

The informal report luncheon was held Tuesday at the College of Southern Idaho Vocational Institute.

Special reports were given by leaders from each division. John Roper said the special gifts section has collected $3,270, which compares to $510 at this time last year.

Frank Long reported the chapter plan has $23,233 and at this time last year $23,000 had been collected. The commercial division has received $3,003 and Jack Mutton said only $2,890 had been collected at this time last year.

Other divisions noting good progress were the government division, $1,031 compared to $600 last year; professional division with $3,748 compared with $4,088; education division, $3,760 compared with $3,271; and the religious division, $1,443 compared with $245, and salesman's division with $84 and $109 for last year.

The volunteer women working in this year's drive have done a good job. They said they hoped more women would be involved next year.

Dr. Scholes said the victory dinner will be held Nov. 12 at the Holiday Inn.

WHEAT STOCKS UP.
BOISE (AP) — Stocks of wheat in Idaho on Oct. 1 totaled 38.9 million bushels, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today.

In Deep Creek, registration is going well and at Twin Falls the registrar is reported to be on schedule.

The registrar at Twin Falls said sign up is slow.

The election is next Tuesday, with the polling places open from noon to 8 p.m.

A list of places where voters may register and a list of polling places will be published later this week.

Gen. Abrams, LBJ Confer In Secret War Conclave; Bomb-Halt Talk Hinted

FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Urgent, secret talks between Gen. James H. D. Johnson and his military commander in South Vietnam indicated today that Johnson may once more be close to final decision on ending the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam in a move to advance peace negotiations.

North Vietnam has denied for several days through Hanoi radio broadcasts and newspaper articles that it had made or would make any kind of deal with the United States to meet U.S. "conditions" for ending the bombing.

U.S. officials insisted that this did not necessarily mean, however, the negotiations between Washington and Hanoi for an agreement on de-escalating the war had collapsed.

The White House disclosed Tuesday night that Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., had returned hastily to Washington to give President Johnson a full report on the military situation.

Abrams attended a top level policy review session with Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and others before setting out again for Saigon.

It was understood today that one of the issues taken up in the meetings with Abrams was the extent of the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from South Vietnam as well as the threat of new action on the North Vietnam side, where the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have gone, and what the meaning of their disengagement may be.

Considerations of this kind would be involved in Johnson's assessment of whatever cau-ious, perhaps indirect, word he may have obtained from the North Vietnam side that the full has a political significance. In this connection there have been reports that North Vietnamese representatives in Paris told U.S. negotiators early in the current series of peace talks that if Johnson deescalated the war on the U.S. side he would not be walking into a trap.

Responsible U.S. officials have been unwilling either to confirm or deny this report but it has been understood to be substantially correct, and to fall short of the minimum assurances that the President has been seeking to justify from his point of view a decision to end the bombing.

Administration officials have constantly denied speculation that the bombing policy decision was in any way related to the U.S. presidential election campaign.

Diplomatic authorities believe, however, that next Tuesday's election could have an important bearing on the exchanges between Washington and Hanoi, for example, in continuing a deadline against which the North Vietnamese themselves might measure their own negotiating strategy.

City Employees Press For Wage Increases

By ANNETTE JENKINS
Times-News Staff Writer

Although Twin Falls City Hall has heard little from the city employees in the last month or so concerning wage increases, there are indications the issue will be brought up again before the next budget session.

The city employees have formed a committee headed by Dave Johnson of the engineering department. His committee was set up to study the city's salary schedule, and he expects them again next week. The study will be completed by Dec. 15.

The firemen are awaiting the results of a survey before making their next wage request, but are maintaining contact with the state labor commission, Mr. Thomas said.

Members of the city employees committee are Kimble Durham, sewage disposal plant; Dell Webb, airport; John Brown, filter plant; Arnold Bryson, parks department; John Koon, water department; George Stapleton, streets department; and Kenneth Johnston, police department.

Mr. Berwick told the committee he did not want to negotiate with only certain departments, and if such a request is made, it would be done by all the city workers.

The committee has asked the firemen to join with them, but the firemen rejected the offer. George Thomas, president of the firemen's group, said the local firemen are members of the International Association of Firefighters. Mr. Thomas said their union does not like them to negotiate with non-union workers to negotiate, but it is not prohibited.

Mr. Johnson, on the other hand, believes the reason the results of the survey before making their next wage request, but are maintaining contact with the state labor commission, Mr. Thomas said.

High School Band Slates Performance

The Twin Falls High School Orchestra has been invited to appear in the convention program of the Northwest Division of the Music Educators National Conference to be held in Eugene, Ore., March 19 through 22 of next year.

Del Slaughter, director of band and orchestra at the Twin Falls High School, received word from Jack T. Schaeffer, president of the Northwest Music Educators conference, that the Twin Falls High School Orchestra is one of three performing groups in Idaho invited to appear at the program.

The other groups invited are the Parma High School Band and the Bernal High School Orchestra.

The Northwest Division includes the six states of Washington, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming, Alaska and Idaho.

Groups asked to perform at the convention were selected by means of a type of audition, prepared last spring. The Twin Falls group was encouraged to apply by the judges at the last two district conventions.

Hunter Wasn't Lost - Just Lack of Communication

HAILEY — It was all a lack of communication.

That's how Sheriff Orville Drexler Wednesday summed up a confusing situation in which his companions to be lost mist hunters Tuesday night and wondered what all the commotion was about.

Bill Lattimer, 50, Placerville, Calif., wasn't lost; he just took longer to return to camp and when he did return Monday night and no one was there, some of his companions had notified officers. So the next morning he went hunting again.

Plumlee estimated that the situation happened some 22 of next year.

Train Derails, Ignites Fireball

CRESTWOOD, Ky. (AP) — A Louisville & Nashville freight train derailed before dawn today, toppling a series of oil tank cars and fires in this small community about 20 miles from Louisville.

Power lines were knocked out, five vehicles severely damaged or destroyed, and three buildings set afire.

An orange fireball burned 150 feet into the air and burning barrels were hurled through the air like fire bombs.

The explosions apparently originated in a box car containing "powered propellant" bound for an Army Arsenal in Milan, Tenn., an L & N official said.

Plumlee estimated that 14 cars were in the heaping wreckage but the railroad indicated there might have been as many as 24.

Jerome Dentist Appears in Court

Dr. Jack N. Adams, a Jerome dentist, appeared in Twin Falls County Probate Court Wednesday on a felony charge of non-support.

The preliminary hearing was held before Judge Richard Rued.

The press was excluded from the hearing on a motion by the defense attorney, S. A. Kolman.

Twin Falls County Attorney Michael Pelton is representing the state in the action.

Dr. Adams is accused in the complaint of non-support of his former children.

The results of the hearing were not known by press time.

Amendment Would Change Law On Fund Investments

In an effort to fund the voters of the issue of the coming election, the League of Women Voters of Twin Falls provide this information.

SJR 4, if approved by the voters, would amend the Constitution to allow the investment of Idaho's permanent endowment funds in such investments as provided by the legislature.

Presently the Constitution limits such investments to government bonds only, which yield about 3.8 per cent. Idaho has a permanent endowment fund in excess of $75,000,000. The low return paid by government bonds has not kept current with present-day inflation.

This amendment would allow investment of these funds in the private sector of the economy under whatever management and restrictions the legislature would establish. Education is the chief benefactor of the returns from these funds; supporters of the amendment feel the return should be much higher than it now is.

Opponents of the amendment argue that it is best not to change from the present day very "safe" investment policy.

T. F. County Treasurer Raps Charge

Ruth K. Jones, Twin Falls County Treasurer and Democratic candidate for reelection, Wednesday declared statements of her Republican opponent show his lack of knowledge of county government.

"The people deserve to know all about the treasurer's budget and expenditures," Mrs. Jones said.

"It is easy for a new candidate to fall prey to incomplete information and political trickery. I suggest my opponent come in person to the courthouse and compare his knowledge with the facts."

"All major county offices have shown an increased budget in the past five years," she added.

Republican Candidate Wade Quigley charged Tuesday the current treasurer's budget has increased 55 per cent and her payroll more than 100 per cent in the past four years.

Mrs. Jones said as an example of individual county budgets over the past five years—the entire length of time she has held office, her office's operating costs have about kept pace.

She said, for example, the prosecuting attorney's office had a 1962 budget of $18,574.10 and a 1967 budget of $23,244.33, which is an increase of $10,671.23 in 1962, $29,735.54 in 1967, or an increase of $4,064.34; county commissioners, $18,204.86 in 1962, $29,935.79 in 1967 for an increase of $10,730.93; and the sheriff's office, $18,186.62 in 1962, $30,181.92 in 1967 or an increase of $8,995.00.

These and other records are open to the public and can be checked at any time, she added.

The treasurer's office staff includes three full time deputies and one half-time clerk as regular employees. She said that the treasurer's staff had increased from five to 11 employees.

Mrs. Jones said she has invited her opponent to come to the courthouse and discuss the issues on a high level.

"The treasurer added that all department budgets in the county, including his own, were approved by the board of county commissioners before adoption."

Starkey Given 10-Year Term After Trial

BOISE (AP) — Theodore J. Starkey, 27, of Boise, was sentenced today to a 10-year prison term in connection with the slaying last July of James E. Funderburg, 27, also of Boise.

District Judge Merle E. Young fixed the penalty in Fourth District Court. Starkey was tried on a charge of first-degree murder, but jury convicted him of voluntary manslaughter and the sentence was the maximum possible.

Eugene Smith, Starkey's attorney, said no decision has been reached regarding a possible appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Frank W. Grooms, 28, of Boise who earlier pleaded guilty to a first-degree murder in connection with Funderburg's death, is serving a life prison sentence.

T. F. Man Is Hit On Head By Brick

FAIRFIELD — Verle Askew, 27, Twin Falls, was hospitalized Friday after being hit on the head by a brick which apparently was thrown from an other truck as the two vehicles met 17 miles east of Fairfield.

Verle Askew, who was taken to the Sun Valley Hospital, told him he was headed west on Highway 2 when he saw a red pickup truck passing him and the next thing he knew he was hit by a brick coming through the windshield.

He pulled the United Oil truck to the side of the highway and rolled out of the vehicle unconscious. Mr. Askew reported a bruise on his shoulder and a slight concussion.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Paul Newman, who backed Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy for the Democratic presidential nomination, says he will campaign for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Debate

A televised debate between Sen. Frank Church and Rep. George Hansen will be telecast on KMTV television, channel 11, at 8 tonight.

The debate was held last week in Moscow. It is called "Campagna for the Foundation of the Issues in the Idaho Senatorial campaign will be discussed by the two candidates."

Court Cases Are Heard By Judge

John R. Lea, 55, Kimberly, appeared in Fifth District Court Tuesday for sentencing on a conviction of receiving stolen property.

He pleaded guilty to the charge last week. He is accused of receiving a shotgun and rifle, although knowing they were stolen.

Judge Theron Ward questioned Mr. Lea extensively, then ruled that a second pre-sentencing investigation should be held.

Judge Ward said the information Mr. Lea gave the probation officer was false.

Mr. Lea was placed in the custody of the sheriff until the second pre-sentencing investigation can be finished.

Also appearing before Judge Ward Tuesday was Mike Beer, 18, and Dan L. Hinton, 19, both accused of first degree burglary. They pleaded guilty to breaking into a store at 400 N. Market, 850 Shoshone St. W., on Oct. 24. Both men requested a delay before sentencing. They are held in the county jail.

New Postal Office Set At Hailey

HAILEY — Grant Patterson, postmaster at Hailey, received a telegram from the postmaster general that a new post office will be constructed at Hailey. The Post Office Department has accepted an assignable land option for the site, which is located on the northwest corner of River and Kroy in Hailey where three lots, comprising 14,000 square feet, are situated. The land is owned by John Weery.

The optional deed will be transferred to the bidder, who will purchase the land, construct the building, and specifications for the new Post Office Department and then lease the building to the department.

The building will contain 3,361 square feet of interior floor space and have 345 square feet of platform.

The building will be set back from the street and have plantings on both River and Kroy streets and have entrances on both streets.

Jerome Man Is Elected At College

Larry McGhee of Jerome was elected this week as president of the College of Southern Idaho freshman class.

Leon Wright, student body president, said Wednesday morning that final tabulation of the approximately 400 ballots was completed Tuesday afternoon following Monday's election.

Other freshman officers are Dave Johnston, Twin Falls, vice president; Sandra Parker, Rupert, secretary; and Susanne Belsch, Twin Falls, treasurer.

Dave Vickers of Twin Falls was elected cheerleader and Alice Simonds and Julie Smith, both Twin Falls, Patty Bartholomew, Hailey, and Darlene Von Weller, Buhl, were elected pom-pom girls.

Mascot will be Debbie Curtis, Twin Falls.

Others running for positions were Jay Harwell, Jerome, who was defeated by Dave Johnston for vice president, and Connie Cops, Twin Falls, and Larry McGhee, Shoshone, candidates for pom-pom girls.

All other positions were uncontested. The freshman class officers will hold an organizational meeting Wednesday night.

Both academic and vocational technical students voted in Monday's election.

Sen. Church

Sen. Frank Church will campaign in Twin Falls Thursday.

He will speak to the student body of the College of Southern Idaho at 9:30 a.m. Thursday morning. He will send a flag to the college Circle K Club. He will then tour the campus.

At noon, Sen. Church will be a guest speaker at the Kivans Club.

Nixon Cancels Commercial After Protests

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. said Tuesday that Richard M. Nixon's campaign forces have withdrawn a television commercial which Hubert H. Humphrey's forces called a "smear."

"It is not NBC's decision whether to run the commercial or not, but the Nixon-Agnew campaign committee has decided to withdraw that particular commercial from all future broadcasts," an NBC spokesman said.

There was no immediate comment from Nixon's campaign headquarters, but a spokesman said there would be a statement later.

The commercial showed a smiling Humphrey with scenes of war, poverty and rioting.

"It is a smear in keeping with Nixon's below-the-belt reputation in politics and unworthiness of a man running for the nation's highest office," said the Democratic National Committee.

News Of Record

CASSIA COUNTY

Burley Police Blotter
William L. Halford, 22, Route 1, Burley, was cited for failure to yield right of way following a two-car accident at 10:20 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of Almo Avenue and 14th Street. Halford was driving a 1961 Chevrolet west on 14th street when it collided with the right rear fender of a 1968 Chevrolet driven by Shelby C. Hayden, 25, Route 2, Rupert. Anna E. Bold, 18, Burley, was a passenger in the Halford auto. Damage was $450 to the Hayden auto and $250 to the Halford vehicle.

Burley Police Court
Kenneth McKee, 16, Heyburn, $10, no driver's license and $3 failure to pay fine as agreed; Larry G. Henton, 22, Burley, $50 and 3 days in city jail, disturbing the peace; Michael D. Gibson, 19, Route 1, Heyburn, $50, illegal possession of beer; Alexander G. Rangel, 20, 1551 Normal Ave., Burley, $10, no driver's license.

MINIDOKA COUNTY

City Police Blotter
No citations were issued Sunday night when vehicles driven by Kevin Ridge, 17, and Joseph Andrian Marcotte, 17, both Rupert, collided at the intersection of 1st street and E street in Rupert.

Both vehicles were headed west on 1st street when Ridge made a left turn in front of Marcotte, and Marcotte's auto struck that of Ridge's.

Damage was estimated at $150 to the 1967 Ford driven by Ridge, and at $20 to the 1965 Chevrolet, driven by Marcotte.

State Police Blotter
A two-wheel trailer, loaded with household furniture, and pulled by a 1964 Plymouth driven by Kenneth Farmer, 19, Rapid City, S. D., was demolished Friday afternoon when it rolled over 16 miles east of Burley on Interstate 15.

The vehicles were headed east when the trailer started to swerve, causing both vehicles to turn around in the highway, with the trailer rolling. No damage was done to the auto.

Vehicles driven by Curtis Neyman, 26, Burley, and Kevin Grady, 26, Salem, Ore., were involved in an accident Friday afternoon a mile north of Burley at the intersection of Highway 27 and the Hub 66 Station.

Both vehicles were headed north on Highway 27 when Neyman apparently ignored the overpass and realized Brady was in the right lane of traffic. He applied his brakes and attempted to pull in the left lane, lost control, went into a broadside into the median, and overturned on his top. Brady was not really involved in the actual accident.

Damage was estimated at $1,500 to the 1968 Pontiac driven by Neyman.

A 1963 Chevrolet driven by Alfred Wilcox, 65, Burley, collided with a light pole belonging to the city of Burley early Monday morning on U. S. Highway 30S.

Wilcox was making a right turn and was blinded by the sun, ran off the roadway on the right side and struck the light pole. Damage was estimated at $200 to the Chevrolet. No citations were issued.

Annual Halloween UNICEF Drive To Be Held Thursday
Thursday is Halloween and little children will be ringing doorbells for candy and pop-corn.

While they are doing this, a slightly older bunch of youths will be ringing doorbells for donations to UNICEF.

Twin Falls Mayor Egon Kroll has already signed a proclamation designating Thursday as UNICEF Day in Twin Falls, and has urged the public's cooperation when students from various youth groups trek throughout the city, ringing doorbells.

Funds collected through the UNICEF drive annually go to help the world's needy children. It is the United Nations' Children's Fund, and helps children and mothers to better health in more than 100 countries.

President Lyndon Johnson has also declared Thursday as national UNICEF Day.

Mayor Kroll said those ringing the doorbells will be properly identified.

Some youth groups represented in the UNICEF drive will be students from the First Presbyterian Church, St. Edward's Catholic Church, the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, the First Methodist Church, the First Baptist Church, the Church of the Brethren, the Kimberly Methodist Church, the Y-Tecns, and members of the Twin Falls High School Key Club.

"The importance of this year's election is without precedent. For the first time in history an American President will be faced, not only with the problem of restoring peace abroad, but with re-establishing harmony at home.

In a period of great national concern, the people of Idaho are indeed fortunate to have George Hansen as a Republican candidate for the United States Senate. After serving four years in the House of Representatives, he is highly qualified, experienced and represents the fresh leadership that America needs as we move into the challenging 70's.

During fourteen years in Washington, I learned the awesome nature of the great decisions a President faces. And, I know the importance of close cooperation between the Executive and Legislative branches of our government. An across-the-board Republican victory on November 5th will give us the opportunity to bring about the change our nation so desperately needs.

I urge you to give George Hansen your support on Election Day so that he can add his energy, initiative and ability to the new Republican team that will take office in January."

Survey Negates Reported 'Duplication' In Idaho Public Assistance

BOISE (AP) — A study prepared for an Idaho legislative committee said today "there is very little direct duplication" between programs of the department of public assistance and other agencies.

The study was made for the Legislative Council's budget-fiscal committee by the Bureau of Public Affairs Research at the University of Idaho. It was intended to aid the committee in recommending changes in Idaho's public assistance program.

Sidney Duncombe, associate director of the bureau, told the committee that during the study four officials of the Department of Public Assistance and officials in 11 other state agencies were interviewed.

The result, he said, was a determination that there is "very little direct duplication" between the programs.

"Direct duplication," he said, "can be defined as two agencies providing the same services to the same people."

Duncombe said that while the primary purpose of the study was to determine whether there was duplication, it showed some gaps in service.

One involves children needing placement in foster homes or child care institutions. The "lack of funds" to finance such care.

He said another gap "involves vocational rehabilitation for the unemployed father who has exhausted unemployment compensation and other benefits."

Existing programs generally do not permit such persons to qualify for them, he said.

The bureau prepared, at the committee's request, legislation to give the state more authority in compelling absent parents to provide financial support for their children.

Duncombe said a study of such programs in Oregon and Washington indicated Idaho might recover up to $1 million a year with a similar project.

Gene Rutledge of Idaho Falls, director of the Idaho Nuclear Energy Commission, reviewed the committee's first year's accomplishments of his agency.

He also reported on efforts to retain a materials testing reactor at the Atomic Energy Commission installation in Eastern Idaho which had been scheduled for phasing out.

Rutledge said he is hopeful the reactor, described as extremely important for research purposes, will be retained in operation.

He said the operating cost is about $300,000 per year and he said Idaho might attain "a meaningful participation" if it provided one-third that amount.

If it does, he said, he is confident other western states—which use the reactor for research—would provide one-third with the AEC also contributing one-third.

He said the reactor is the only one of its type west of the Mississippi River and is one of three doing research work with it in the country.

Rupert Lions Club Sets Charter Fete On Saturday

RUPERT — Alden Briggs, a director for the Lions International, Eugene, Ore., will be the guest speaker during the 25th annual charter night for the Rupert Lions.

The event is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday at the Rupert Elks Lodge under the direction of John Trevino, chairman.

Mr. Briggs has served for two years on the International Board of Directors and has devoted considerable time to visiting District Lions clubs and projects. He is a 100 per cent district governor.

He has served as cabinet secretary, chairman of multiple district board of governors, and has received numerous club and district awards for his work.

A graduate of Jamestown College, he is presently the president and manager of the A. J. Briggs Co., a printing and lithography firm in Oregon.

He is also a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force reserves, having served during World War II in the Air Force with the European Theater.

Chairman of the Lane County Board of Education, Oregon, Mr. Briggs is an active member of the Lutheran Church, the Metropolitan Civic club and the Elks.

He and his wife, Muriel, have two daughters.

Other guests for the event Saturday will be District Governor Farren Faler, Twin Falls, and Fred Club, Jerome, district governor of 39.

Mr. Trevino said all past charter members are invited to the event in addition to members of the Lions clubs in the district.

Entertainment will be provided by the Snake River Flats singing group.

Dancing will follow the ceremonies. Assisting Mr. Trevino in the planning are Pete Ford and Bob Walters.

Rutledge said he is hopeful the reactor, described as extremely important for research purposes, will be retained in operation.

He said the operating cost is about $300,000 per year and he said Idaho might attain "a meaningful participation" if it provided one-third that amount.

Candidates Talk With White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House reported Tuesday that conferences have been going on with representatives of the three presidential candidates concerning the transition in January to a new chief executive.

Charles S. Murphy, White House special counsel, has conferred with representatives designated by Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey, Republican Richard M. Nixon and George C. Wallace, candidate of the American Independent Party.

Murphy headed a similar task force for President Harry S. Truman, planning the transition to the Eisenhower administration.

Land Board Lists Sale Of Tracts

BOISE (AP) — The State Land Board reported Monday the sale of three tracts of state-owned grazing land in Washington County, all at more than the appraised prices.

R. H. Raney, Weiser, paid $19,200 for 320 acres appraised at $3,600; Edward Raney, Weiser, paid $17,200 for 240 acres appraised at $7,200; and T. B. Burton, Weiser, paid $5,100 for 150 acres appraised at $4,800.

Social Security Booklet Listed

Pat O'Marra, social security district manager in Twin Falls said Wednesday that a new booklet, "What's the Status of the Social Security Trust Fund?" is available at the Twin Falls social security district office.

The booklet, he said, "explains how the social security retirement, survivors, disability, and Medicare programs are financed, and gives a report on the income and outgo of the four funds out of which benefits are paid; the amount of cash reserves in each, and the expected operations and status of the funds in the years ahead."

The reports show that the social security program continues to be financially sound," Mr. O'Marra said.

Copies of the booklet may be obtained by writing, calling, or visiting the Twin Falls Social Security District Office.

Mrs. Schutte Is Queen Of Week

IANSEN—Mrs. James Schutte, a newcomer to the Slim and Trim TOPS Club, was least likely to become queen of the week at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steel-smith with a loss of three pounds.

A total loss of 14 pounds was noted among 20 members weighing in. Mrs. Irene Harris was welcomed as a new member.

It was decided to put a limit on the cost and gifts to Kops graduates, as the purpose is to lose weight, not receive an overabundance of gifts. It was decided to purchase material and make capes for graduates to wear.

Mrs. Clifford McCoy, Filer, was hostess. Measuring and recording weights and measures was the program feature. Planning pictures were taken of the newer members.

Malta Cooks Are Hosts For Meet

MAJITA — The Idaho School Food Association met at the luncheon of the Raft River School in Malta with the cooks of the Malta schools as hostesses.

President of the association, Mrs. Ross Gulliver, Malta, conducted the meeting. The luncheon was decorated in the Halloween motif.

Twenty-seven cooks attended the meeting, representing the schools in Raft River, Albion, Burbank, Southwest, Springdale, Declo, Overland and the Oakley schools.

Assisting Mrs. Gulliver with the meeting were Mrs. Ella Mae Orthmann, Albion, and Mrs. Rita Holtman, Malta.

Entertainment was furnished by Mrs. James Linsbury, Raft River, High School Sophomore teacher who plays the harp, after which a business meeting was held.

Land Sale To HHH Revealed

CHICAGO (AP) — Court records reveal that Hubert H. Humphrey accepted from a wealthy patron of the Democratic party in Minneapolis some valuable lakefront lots on which he built his home in Minnesota, the Chicago Tribune said today.

The six lots along North Waverly Shore, some 35 miles west of Minneapolis, were acquired from Ray C. Ewald, managing director of Ewald Brothers Sanitary Dairy, when the vice president was a senator, the Tribune said in a copyright story by Walter Trohan of its Washington bureau.

The story described the company as a "financial angel of the Democratic party."

In Philadelphia, a Humphrey spokesman said he would have no comment on the story. The Tribune story said that the transfer of the property in Wright County, Minn., was recorded in the county courthouse there for almost two years. At the time the Ewald Dairy was involved in a civil trust action involving price fixing after having been fined in a criminal antitrust action.

The deed to the six lots was executed in Minneapolis on Sept. 27, 1936, by Ewald and his wife, Muriel. The deed was not filed in the Wright County courthouse at Buffalo, Minn., until Jan. 24, 1938, nearly two years after Humphrey acquired title.

Although the deed states the consideration was "one dollar and other good and valuable considerations," the deed bears no federal revenue stamps, which indicates no cash changed hands.

The courthouse records show that Humphrey has since paid about three years ago put a $30,000 mortgage on the lots and the home he built at Waverly.

No comment was available today from Ewald, who is ill at his Minnesota home. He has suffered several strokes and has a serious heart ailment.

However, his brother, Dewey, said there was "no connection between this property and that lawsuit." He said Humphrey "never did have any connection with the litigation."

Dewey heads the dairy. He said he had no brother, Ray, sold the property to Humphrey.

"I don't know what he paid for it," Dewey added. "I know none of my business and we never talked about it."

Mrs. Ray Ewald also denied that the land was given to Humphrey.

"It was paid for," she said. "It wasn't given to Hubert, I know that."

Vote Peak Set At 300,450 For Gem State

By The Associated Press

Idaho established its current record for total votes cast in an election in the presidential balloting in 1960.

That year, 300,450 Idahoans voted for president, giving a majority to Republican candidate Richard Nixon, who lost nationally to the late John F. Kennedy.

In the last presidential election, in 1964, the vote total in Idaho was 232,477 and the Gem State followed the nation in giving a majority to Democratic President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Two years ago, in the general election, 232,591 votes were cast.

Pocatello Vote Defeats Bonds

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Bond issues for a $650,000 airport terminal and a $400,000 covered swimming pool were defeated Tuesday by Pocatello taxpayers, who turned out in record numbers.

Both issues needed two-thirds approval, but the swimming pool bond was favored 4,582 to 2,489, for 64.7 per cent approval, and the airport bond received a 4,172 to 2,828 vote or 58.8 per cent approval.

Some 7,100 taxpayers went to the polls, compared with the previous high of 4,416 for the $400,000 airport terminal bond election April 2. That issue failed when only 61.9 per cent of the voters supported it.

Conservationists Battle Dam-Builders To Protect Kentucky's National Forest

STANTON, Ky. (AP) — "Who would have ever thought progress would have found us here?"

Dottie Morrison's one-and-a-half story frame house nestles against the base of a mountain. Ringing the sky above are craggy bluffs crowning the palisades of the 15-mile-long Red River Gorge in eastern Kentucky's Daniel Boone National Forest.

Below the huge rock formations and natural stone arches (some 20 in the gorge), an occasional canoeist paddles down the free-flowing tributaries of the Red River's North Fork.

Fishermen cast in the clear-water streams. Hikers make their own trails through the Upper Gorge wilderness.

Sometimes natural scientists lead classes through the living laboratory of plant life which a University of Kentucky professor says is unmatched for variety anywhere east of the Rockies.

By 1973, if all goes as planned, the waters of the North Fork will cover the gorge bottom, back up into the tributaries, destroy half the range of wildlife and swamp the house where the Morrisons live and the homes of at least 20 other families.

The Red River Reservoir will be one more link in the Army Corps of Engineers' chain of 23 dams planned or under construction in Kentucky, once called the Wilderness State.

"Where will people go to lick the wounds of progress?" asks Mrs. Morrison, who spoke in opposition to the dam at an evening hearing.

She is not the only one asking that question.

The Kentucky Section of the conservationist Sierra Club has spent the last year fighting to preserve at least part of one of the few accessible wilderness areas of at least 200 acres left in the eastern United States.

Because the Sierra Club started its battle five years after Congress approved the dam, it has aimed for a compromise — an alternate dam site downstream from the approved site.

The club says that the alternate site would satisfy all the objectives of the project — flood control, recreation, water supply — while preserving the upper gorge and most of the North Fork's tributaries.

Although a dam at either site would flood the Morrison home, Mrs. Morrison favors the alternate site.

Pitching in on the club's side have been newspapers, Associated Press, and Justice William O. Douglas, who made a protest hike through the Upper Gorge last year, and, after initial reluctance, Kentucky Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper.

But the dam would cost $2.7 million more at the downstream site, displacing about 20 more families and 600 acres more farmland.

Most of the people of Clay City and Stanton, towns on the fringes of the gorge, who asked for the dam, oppose the downstream site.

W. R. Holstein, president of the Kentucky Section of the Sierra Club, believes their opposition springs from "a genuine fear that if they agree to the downstream site there'll be some trick to it."

There also is resentment of outsiders' intrusion. "We've got enough sense over here to know what we need," says B. H. Billings of Stanton.

In the middle of the sniping is the Corps of Engineers, which shows no signs of flagging in its intention to build the dam at the original site.

The Corps' Louisville office has interpreted a vague directive from Congress this summer as a mandate to proceed at the approved site. The Corps sees only one possible change in plans — lowering the water level of the reservoir if a new study finds other ways of producing flood control and water supply.

But if the Republicans gain control of Congress this November, Sen. Cooper, supporting the alternate site, would be top man in the Public Works Committee.

Whether the matter comes up again in Congress depends largely on how far the engineers are able to stretch the $770,000 allotted for their new study, purchase of land and a start on construction.

The Sierra Club's Holstein believes "the end result will be that they'll build the dam at the downstream site."

Another Inmate Leaves Prison

BOISE (AP) — An Idaho State Prison inmate disappeared Tuesday from the new prison site, but another escapee was caught in Long Beach, Calif.

Prison authorities said Kenneth Francis Glingras, 30, left the prison site south of Boise Monday in the early afternoon. He was serving 14 years for grand larceny in Lemhi County.

Though Glingras was paroled August 1966, he was returned as a parole violator more than a year ago after his conviction of statutory rape in Power County.

Dale J. Dittmar, 29, was arrested Monday in Long Beach and charged with holding up a health food store. He disappeared from the prison hearing plant Oct. 22.

Candidate Asks 'Contracts' For Idaho

By The Associated Press

State Sen. Orval Hansen, Republican, asked District Congressional candidate, says Idaho "has the manpower and the facilities to handle a great many contracts that have been going elsewhere."

"Effective leadership from Idaho's representatives in Congress in cooperation with business, labor and community leaders in the state can produce additional millions of dollars each year in job-creating contracts and private investment for Idaho," Hansen said in Pocatello.

Hansen suggested that Idaho's four congressional delegates establish a joint staff position for a government contract specialist.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said in the Twin Falls area that the state enjoys a potential of growth and development unmatched in the West.

"The need," he said Tuesday, "is to translate the potential into reality."

"Jobs, new income, new industries do not happen by themselves," Church said. "They require the dedication and service of all Idahoans, particularly public officials at all levels of government."

Church's opponent, Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, told an Idaho Falls group a change is needed in the Senate "to assure the future of Idaho water development."

Hansen said, "as for the controversy over who can best serve Idaho in the field of water resources, I can only point to my opponent's original, ill-conceived Wild Rivers Bill, which provided an invitation to thirsty southwest states."

He said the bill would have tied up a great deal of Idaho's appropriated water in so-called "wild rivers" — which Hansen said would have given notice that Idaho did not need all of its water for reclamation purposes.

His opponent, Rep. James A. McClure, the Republican incumbent, said in Emmett that he favors an automatic cap of living increase in Social Security benefits.

"I am confident," he said, "that a new administration will give our senior citizens the assurance that their pension dollars and savings will not be eroded by faulty fiscal policies of the federal government."

Joel Anderson, American Independent Party Second District nominee, said his opponents have ignored the primary issue in this campaign, which he said was "our basic freedom."

Throughout all history, man has been fighting for individual freedom and against an all-powerful central government," Anderson said. "Any time that the government gets so strong that they can force us to do things against our will we have lost our free agency and once lost it is very hard to regain."

About 200 persons attended a $10-per-plate fund raising dinner in Boise Tuesday night for the AIP, at which Circuit Judge Richard Emmett of Montgomery, Ala., said:

"You can't pick up a newspaper today without reading of internal and external strife," Emmett said. "The country needs a movement toward George Wallace to take care of its ills."

Ike Disavows Plans To Live To Age Of 78

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower says he wrote off as "improbable" the thought that "I might reach the venerable age of 78."

The former president made the observation in a letter to students at Eisenhower College, a four-year liberal arts institution that opened its doors this fall.

"Eisenhower wrote: 'Despite the formidable number of years I have been marking Oct. 14th as an annual milestone, each birthday has at least one new and fresh element in the letters and messages I receive after noon. It was the greetings from you, the charter class of Eisenhower College.'

"I must say that when I was your age the thought that I might reach the venerable age of 78, if it entered my mind, was instantly written off as improbable, and in my most fantastic imaginings I am sure I never entertained for a moment so absurd a notion as a college named after me."

The letter, postmarked Oct. 28, was sent from Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, where Eisenhower is recovering from a series of heart attacks, and was appraised at $8,800.

Sen. Church Stresses His Ability To Represent Idaho In Senate

By The Associated Press

Sen. Frank Church, a well-known critic of the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy, has concentrated in his campaign for re-election on the question "Who can most effectively represent Idaho's interests in the Senate?"

Church, 44, is seeking his third consecutive term after 12 years in the Senate — during which he keynoted the 1960 Democratic National Convention and became an eloquent spokesman for those opposed to a continuation of the war in Vietnam.

He contends that his 12-year Senate tenure enables him to effectively represent Idaho in national affairs and policies.

"The Senate is the citadel of the small states of our union," he says.

"Idaho's influence in Washington depends primarily upon the stature and seniority of her two senators. With the passing of years, I've been enabled to serve Idaho with increasing effectiveness and growing results."

A member of the Senate Foreign Relations and Interior and Insular Affairs committees, and the Special Committee on Aging, Church has collaborated with Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, on numerous conservation and reclamation measures.

Communication with constituents is important to a lawmaker, Church says. He says he has held county courthouse talk sessions in all of Idaho's 44 counties in the past two years, hearing what residents had to say about any subject.

In recent months, Idaho's senior senator has appeared less of the "liberal" and he once did in Senate voting and in public statements.

Church says his concern over foreign policy goes "beyond Vietnam."

Baby Sitting Service Offered On Election Day

WENDELL — Wendell Future Homemakers of Tomorrow will provide free baby-sitting service Tuesday so mothers may vote.

Mothers may leave their children at the high school home economics room and return for the children after they vote.

Mrs. Hazel Lawton will supervise the home ec students and the children.

As an election aid, the FHA has invited Vernon Ravenscroft to speak to the girls and their parents. Mr. Ravenscroft is a candidate for re-election for state representative in District 22A.

Currently, the FHA members are preparing for the district convention Saturday at Burley.

Janice Huff, Maureen Francis and Pat Scheel will be candidates for district officers.

defeat his Republican opponent. Six years later, he became the first Democratic senator in Idaho history to win two consecutive terms.

Filer Hosts District Meet For Legion

FILER — American Legion and Auxiliary members from the Fifth District convened at the American Legion Hall Sunday for their annual convention which opened with a business meeting, followed by a coffee hour. It was climaxed with an evening banquet in the hall.

Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. Edward Shaff registered and greeted guests. Mrs. Jack Ramsey, Filer auxiliary president, introduced Mrs. Leroy Rehwalt, who presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Rehwalt introduced officers, who included Mrs. Leon Tibbitt, Boise, department president; Mrs. Paul Brown, Filer, department parliamentarian; 50th anniversary chairman and national foreign relations chairman, and Mrs. Rex McClain, Eden, district secretary.

Mrs. Austin Matheny, Eden, department vice president; Mrs. Con McDonald, Eden, child welfare chairman; Mrs. Dexter Watkins, Eden, Girls' State chairman; Mrs. Milton Hanson, Filer, district vice president; and Mrs. Floyd Shepherd, Hansen, district chaplain.

Mrs. Matheny membership chairman, announced the district units have reached 78 per cent of their goal for 1968-69, and that four units, Kimberly, Eden, Oakley and Filer, have reached their goals.

Mrs. Larry Schaefer and Mrs. William Rude were in charge of the coffee hour. Mrs. Joyce Harding, accompanied by Mrs. Ramsey, sang a solo.

Mrs. Rex Wood was general chairman for the convention and Mrs. Ted Glassinger and Mrs. Rude served as decorations chairman for the evening banquet.

Von Nebeker Is Candidate As Democrat

A member of the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital board until he resigned to run for the county commission, Von Nebeker is a Democrat.

He is running for the commission in the Third District in Twin Falls County.

Mr. Nebeker came to Twin Falls County in 1916 with his parents and has lived here since. He was a farmer in the Kimberly-Hansen area until 1957 when he started managing other farms. At the present time he manages 28 farms located in five Idaho counties.

He was chairman of the Hansen school board for five years, chairman of the Twin Falls County Weed Advisory Committee and a director for the state weed board for two years.

Cooks Hear Tips About Appliances

FILER — Bernard Schmidt of the Idaho Power Co. talked on the uses and care of the electrical appliances used in school kitchens at the October meeting of the Idaho School Food Service Association in the Washington School, according to Mrs. Harvey Maxson, president.

Mrs. Millie Canoy, Twin Falls, read an article on how to prepare frozen turkeys and Mrs. Beulah Deahl and Mrs. Vi Sutton, Twin Falls, demonstrated the making of a brown rice and turkey dish. They also showed how to make "peck-a-boos," a dessert. The foods were served as refreshments.

A film was shown by a member of the police force demonstrating how women can defend themselves if ever attacked by thugs.

Vietnam Hawks, Doves Agree That Attaining A Proper Peace Will Be Difficult

SAIGON (AP) — If there is one agreement among American officials in Vietnam, it is that no U.S. president can quickly or easily win the war or gain a palatable peace.

A hawkish, massive cautious by almost four years of war, make no predictions of victory dates. The doves, mindful of Korea's twelve-year stalemate, take a "see long and arduous negotiations at best."

Some see the possibility of a total American troop reduction—perhaps an initial 5,000 men—early next year. But no one will name a date when the army of Vietnam might be able to stand alone.

Few officials give the impression that they hope for much from Paris in the immediate future. A boding halt, in the opinion of many, might actually stiffen Hanoi's attitudes.

The U.S. command in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, works on the assumption that the Communist command is now planning one more big offensive in a few weeks or a few months.

"I just hope that Washington doesn't lose its nerve," said one civilian official who has worked in Vietnam for three years.

A ranking general added: "We came over here to do a job and we're spending a tremendous amount of our country's wealth. My biggest concern is whether we have the patience and the perseverance to get the job done. I believe we must."

A civilian official who has never reflected Washington's frequently rosy optimism points out that all the old problems—nepotism, corruption, inefficiency, bribery, desertions—are still here. At the same time, he feels that enemy strength is at low ebb and fewer than 15 per cent of the South Vietnamese now actively support the Viet Cong.

Adding up these pluses and minuses is the name of the game in Vietnam. Nowhere do they give a clear picture, but the most favorable balance sheet appears, right now, to be on the battlefield.

From the jungled hills of the 17th parallel to the swamps of the Ca Mau Peninsula, allied armies are sweeping and patrolling as never before—and the enemy refuses battle. High-altitude B-52 bombers rain more than three million pounds of bombs daily on enemy sanctuaries and staging routes. Jets, helicopters and artillery give allied forces a battlefield punch unmatched in history.

Since the first of this year

U.S. figures claim that 168,200 enemy have died on the battlefield—against losses of 13,000 American dead and 13,600 South Vietnamese killed.

Most of the enemy losses came in three successively weaker offensives of February, May and August.

These losses account for the lull in the fighting, U.S. intelligence officers say. The enemy had to pull back and replenish and re-equip its forces. U.S. military say that the fact that this paralleled the Paris peace talks was coincidental.

"We haven't gotten one scrap of evidence that this was any de-escalation," an American spokesman said. "We do have plenty of intelligence that he wants to try again, but for the moment his intentions have outrun his capabilities."

The U.S. command is little swayed by reports that the enemy has pulled five divisions out of Vietnam and into sanctuaries in Cambodia and Laos. These troops are within half a night's march of allied outposts and on the order-of-battle maps they remain and are ominous.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese believe that infiltration—running at 30,000 monthly in August and 20,000 since then—has largely made up the enemy's manpower losses earlier in the year.

Counting the local force guerrillas, it is believed the enemy can field perhaps 220,000 men. In the main force combat battalions, 75 per cent of these are North Vietnamese regulars.

In addition the losses in enemy leadership have damaged him severely. One defecting soldier recently reported his battalion had lost three commanders in 10 days.

All this leads the U.S. command to believe that enemy losses will be still more staggering if another offensive comes—even though it would doubtless achieve some successes.

The Americans also profess confidence that the South Vietnamese army will stand up well to any new offensive.

In the long run, everyone seems to agree, the strengthening of the army of the Republic of Vietnam—abbreviated to ARVN and pronounced Arven by the G.I.s—is the most hopeful way to "de-Americanize" the war.

On paper, the buildup begun by President Nguyen Dinh Thieu's mobilization order is doing well. All the maneuver battalions of the regular army have new U.S. M16 rifles and these are now being given the militia forces.

The militia, militia, and police forces now number about 825,000 men and the goal is one million by the end of the year.

The desertion rate, however, remains a serious problem and the actual number of men under arms is questionable. Many a militia outpost is nominally manned by men who show up only on payday. Some militia commanders flagrantly sell enrolling—recruiting—pay for his military status, kicks back his pay and dodges the draft.

But ARVN is deeper than that and are rooted in politics. The military machine is still controlled by officers who fought for the French and outsiders have a rough time.

Although the situation is improving, top appointments remain political and the statistics indicate the guerrillas will continue to focus on them.

Even though the ARVN has been taking more casualties than the U.S. forces for almost three months, the defense of Saigon, Da Nang and the nation's three biggest cities—remains largely in American hands.

The day is not in sight when the ARVN could hold the 1st Corps Area—certainly not with the enemy in strength like he is now," reported a senior Marine staff officer. That area is along the demilitarized zone.

The remark is applicable also at other sore spots. ARVN needs more training, artillery and air support before it could stand alone against North Vietnamese regulars in their present strength.

However, ARVN, and particularly the militia forces, have shown increasing effectiveness in "the other war," the pacification of the countryside.

This is the war that has been largely directed by Robert Komer, the ex-CIA officer just appointed ambassador to Turkey.

There are 48,000 revolutionary development men in the villages in some 700 teams.

Last month enemy guerrillas killed 104 RD team members—double last year's rate—and the statistics indicate the guerrillas will continue to focus on them.

Komer's office claims 66.8 per cent of South Vietnam's population live in relatively secure areas—opposed to 16.8 per cent in Viet Cong areas and 16.4 per cent in "contested" areas.

Critics say these figures show only part of the picture.

"This isn't pacification, it's occupation," says one. "While the troops are there everything is fine. Pull the troops out and everything goes down the drain."

Since he shucked off his uniform and became an elected president more than a year ago, Nguyen Van Thieu has done little to inspire the war-weary populace. Months were taken up chopping down his former boss and rival, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Last May, however, Thieu acquired more political stature when he named 65-year-old Tran Van Huong premier. Huong, a gray-haired curmudgeon with a peasant's rugged face, has an unusual reputation for honesty. He also is a Southerner and this is important in a nation unwillingly dominated by North-born military officers.

A few weeks ago Huong kicked his own half-brother out of the government bureaucracy. Many believe he would kick out droves of people if he had his way—and the people to replace those ousted.

The anticorruption campaign of Huong and Thieu has removed half a dozen province chiefs and more are slated to go. Perhaps 1,000 lesser officials and local police officers have been transferred. But these measures have hardly scratched the surface of what must eventually be done.

Czech Writer Faces Query In Spy Probe

BONN, Germany (AP) — Federal security officers questioned a correspondent of the official Czechoslovak news agency CTK today as a spy suspect.

The correspondent, Otakar Svoboda, 43, said of his detention: "This is a provocation... espionage mania."

His agency protested the arrest, declaring: "The consequences can cause serious complications in relations between the Czechoslovak Socialist Republic and the Federal Republic of Germany."

A fellow correspondent, Karel Cisar, said Svoboda was accused on the basis of statements made by a Czechoslovak army major who recently fled to the West and by Josef Adamcik, editor-in-chief of the Austrian federal press service, who was arrested last Thursday in Vienna on suspicion of espionage.

During a 40-minute interval in which police allowed him to visit his office in Bonn, Svoboda looked calm and unworried. Slightly built, with thinning gray hair, he has been a correspondent here for four years. He is married and has one child.

A spokesman for the Justice Ministry confirmed Svoboda's detention as a suspected spy and said he had been released on condition that he stay available for further questioning.

West Germany's security system is under urgent study as a result of several hundred deaths and disappearances this month. A key case seemed to be the death of Rear Adm. Herman Luedke, a retired officer of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, killed by gunshot 15 days after a microfilm of top secret NATO documents was traced to him Sept. 23.

Psychiatrist Declares: 'Violence Is Diminishing'

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Karl Menninger argued Tuesday that there has been no real increase in violent crime in America and said the idea behind the phrase "law and order" is self-destructive.

"More murders have taken place by far in the past thirty years," the 75-year-old psychiatrist said. "Violent crime has been diminishing all the time."

Menninger, who has studied the nation's courts and prisons for three decades, said he didn't want to challenge crime figures from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, but then added: "No crime statistics are very dependable."

"Most crimes of violence do not take place in the streets," he said, "they take place in the homes. Most nonviolent crime takes place in department stores, supermarkets and restaurants."

Menninger, chairman of the board of trustees of The Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kan., spoke at a news conference held in connection with publication of his book, "The Crime of Punishment."

Asked about statistics to the nation's courts and prisons, he said: "I see no compelling evidence that there has been any increase in violence."

He referred questioners to the novels of Charles Dickens and suggested that the Boston Tea Party and the Crusades could be classed as riots.

Today's idea of "law and order," Menninger said, stems from the medieval practice of keeping "the king's peace at all costs."

"In exert more force to match the force of insurrection, the force of protest, force against force, the 'law and order' theory... is self-destructive," he said.

In his only reference to the news conference to the press, he said: "If you are feeding the people's fear, you'll always attract attention."

Menninger sharply criticized the prison system in this country, saying it is built on punishment, rather than penalties. The system, he said, will change "when the public abandons the idea that you've got to beat the hell out of someone to make him change. That's the one thing that won't make him change."

Menninger also urged changes

Princeton Poll Favors Hubert

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey topped presidential preference polls Tuesday of Princeton University students and faculty members.

In an undergraduate poll conducted by a student debating group, the top three were Humphrey with 39.5 per cent of 1,374 ballots cast, Richard M. Nixon 28.1 per cent and Dick Gregory 10.9 per cent. The 1,374 votes represented about 45 per cent of the undergraduates.

Humphrey won 71.4 per cent in a poll of 251 faculty members conducted by the campus newspaper, the Daily Princetonian. Humphrey polled 75 per cent and Nixon 6.3 per cent.

HEFTY THIEF TOLD CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Burglars took $200,000 worth of postage stamps and U.S. savings bonds from a branch post office, police say. Postal officials said the two million stamps and bonds taken from a safe, broken into sometime between Monday, weighed 800 pounds.

Rep. Hansen Avows Idaho Needs His Brand Of 'Conservatism'

By The Associated Press

Rep. George Hansen, a former insurance salesman, has decided that after serving two terms in the House he wants to bring his "dynamic and positive conservatism" to the Senate.

An enthusiastic and energetic Republican campaigner, Hansen is 38. He is a former Alameda mayor and Pocatello city commissioner.

He was elected four years ago to the House and became the only freshman congressman to gain membership on two major committees—Interior and Agriculture.

The tall, crewcut Idaho native says he does not subscribe to "do-nothing conservatism, but dynamic and positive conservatism."

Hansen is a hawk as far as Vietnam policy is concerned. He says he has never voted in favor of foreign aid either.

The LBJ-Church (Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho) program has been too wasteful, too extravagant, and in most cases, misdirected," Hansen contends.

The United States has, he says, set up what he terms sanctuaries that threaten the security of American troops in Vietnam. Hansen contends the military commanders should be free to use all the facilities they have against whatever targets they wish.

But he says America should never have entered the conflict in the first place.

In his fast-paced campaign travels in Idaho, Hansen has addressed himself to domestic issues as well as foreign.

"At the 1960 Democratic National Convention," Hansen said, "Frank Church complained that after eight years of Eisenhower in the White House there were swinehills in the streets."

"Today after nearly eight years of Kennedy-Johnson

High School and Ricks College, and did graduate work at Idaho State University.

He served in the Air Force from 1951 to 1954 and is now a Naval Reserve officer.

When the eastern Idaho community of Alameda was a separate, incorporated city, Hansen was elected mayor. He was instrumental in bringing about a merger of Alameda and adjoining Pocatello and was elected a commissioner of the new city.

U.S. Scientists Win Nobel Peace Prizes

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Nobel scientific awards for the 1958 Nobel prizes in chemistry and physics went to two American professors who deciphered the genetic code shared the prize to Lars Onsager of Yale University and the physics award to Luis W. Alvarez of the University of California at Berkeley.

It was a clean sweep of the 81-year-old Frenchman, reciprocal relations, "which are fundamental for the thermodynamics of irreversible processes," the award committee said.

A native of Norway, he came to the United States in 1928 and was naturalized in 1945.

Alvarez, 57, was honored for his "decisive contributions to elementary particle physics." The award committee cited in particular his discovery of "a large number of resonance states, made possible through his development of the technique of using hydrogen bubble chamber and data analysis."

Alvarez was born in San Francisco, took his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago in 1936 and has been on the University of California staff ever since.

From 1940 through 1943, Alvarez worked in radar research and development at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston. He then spent two years at the nuclear research center at Los Alamos, N.M.

When Nobel laureate Ernest O. Lawrence, the inventor of the big cyclotron, died in 1958, Alvarez succeeded him as director of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory. He had been deputy director since 1954.

Alvarez made an important breakthrough in elementary physics in 1960 when he discovered a hitherto unknown resonance particle, a discovery that shattered the previous picture of how matter was built. This discovery came about through the use by Berkeley scientists of a gigantic particle accelerator in a new experimental technique.

Onsager graduated as a chemical engineer from the Norwegian Technical University at Trondheim in 1925 and after further study at Zurich, Switzerland, moved to the United States. He took his Ph.D. in theoretical chemistry at Yale in 1935, was a research instructor at Brown University 1928-33, and in 1934 became an assistant professor at Yale. Since 1945 he has been J. Willard Gibbs professor of theoretical chemistry at Yale.

Fire Damages Home Near Hagerman

HAGERMAN—Fire extensively damaged the Marion Pugmire home approximately one mile east of Hagerman Saturday.

The Hagerman Valley fire department was notified at 3:35 p.m. by Mrs. Tom Fausett, a neighbor to Mr. and Mrs. Pugmire.

Bob Lawanson, fire chief, reported the fire was kept from spreading beyond the kitchen and part of the attic. The remainder of the house received some damage from heat and smoke. The fire was brought under control by 4:07 p.m., but some of the firemen stayed at the scene until 5 p.m. to make certain the fire did not break out again.

It is believed the cause of the blaze was an electrical short in either the kitchen range or the hood above the range. No one was home at the time of the fire.

An estimate of the loss and contents has not been determined at this time.

Funeral Services

Mrs. Anna Horak, 2 p.m. Thursday, White Mortuary chapel.

Otis Cooper

Otis Samuel Cooper, 72, 441 Duval Court, died Monday of a long illness at Twin Falls Clinic Hospital.

He was born May 5, 1896, in Stillwater, Okla., and married Lila K. Ireland Oct. 10, 1922, in Pawnee, Okla. They moved to Twin Falls in 1930. Mr. Cooper worked for the Twin Falls Canal Co. for 15 years and for Globe Feed and Seed for several years. He attended the Assembly of God Church.

Survivors include his widow, Twin Falls; three sons, Bill Cooper and Ronald Cooper, both of Twin Falls, and Donald Cooper, Boise; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Foster, Dublin, Calif.; Mrs. Beatrice Farmer, Sterling, Alaska; and Mrs. Goldie Morten, Scotts Bluff, Neb.; 14 grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Rosie Ward, Olympia, Wash.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Thursday at the White Mortuary Chapel by Rev. L. L. MacLennan. Last rites will be held in Sunset Memorial Park.

Mrs. DeLong

PAUL—Mrs. Helen Louise DeLong, 80, Paul, died Tuesday morning at a Rupert nursing home of a brain ailment.

She was born in March, 1888, in Texarkana, Tex., and was married to Robert George DeLong in Olympia, Wash. In 1917 they moved to Paul from Washington. On Aug. 9, 1964, Mr. DeLong died in Rupert. She was active in the Methodist church.

Survivors include one son, George DeLong, Paul; two grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the Walk Mortuary Chapel by Rev. Warren McConnell. Final rites will be held in the Paul Cemetery. Friends may call at the Walk Mortuary Thursday afternoon or Friday until time of services.

Hearing Charted On Slay Charges

MONTPELIER (AP)—A preliminary hearing for William Radabaugh, 64, charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of two elderly widows on May 29, opens Thursday morning at the Bear Lake County Courthouse in Paris.

Justice of the Peace Clem Humphreys will conduct the hearing to determine if a crime has been committed and if there is a reasonable cause to believe Radabaugh was responsible for the deaths of Mrs. Lena Johns and Mrs. Mary Villanova, both in their early 70s.

Attorney James B. Green, Pocatello, has been appointed as a special prosecutor to assist Bear Lake County Prosecutor Gary Williams in the case. Radabaugh's attorney is D. A. McDewitt, Pocatello, who was appointed by the court.

Mrs. Johns and Mrs. Villanova, who were sisters, were found dead in their apartment at the Lewis Hotel. They had been shot at close range with a 12-gauge shotgun, police chief Sid Teuscher said.

Singer To Face $500,000 Suit

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Singer Robert Goulet has been sued by a law firm which says it set up a $500,000 contract for the entertainer but never received its legal fees.

The firm of Wiener, Goldwater & Conitz said in a suit filed Tuesday that it arranged the contract with the Frontier Hotel for eight weeks in 1969 and 1970. The firm said Goulet failed to pay the legal fees and it wants $50,400 damages.

SHARMAN WEISS—Sharmar Douglas, daughter of the former ambassador to Great Britain, Lewis W. Douglas, and Mrs. Douglas of Tucson, Ariz., was married Tuesday to Andrew Mackenzie Lloyd, a London-born food importer.

Joseph Inama

NAMPA—Requiem Mass for Joseph R. Inama, 88, Rupert, who died in a Nampa hospital Tuesday, will be celebrated at St. Nicholas Catholic Church in Rupert Saturday at 11 a.m.

The Rev. Fr. M. McNeill will be celebrant. Burial will be at the Rupert Cemetery. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday at the Walk Mortuary in Rupert. The Alisp Chapel in Nampa is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Inama was born Aug. 11, 1880, in Sanzonia, Australia, and at the age of 17 came to the United States. He married Maria Inama on Feb. 4, 1905, at Kommerer, Wis.

Survivors include their 62nd wedding anniversary on Feb. 4, 1967. She died Feb. 13, 1967. In 1920 the couple moved to Rupert.

Mr. Inama was a charter member of the Kommerer and Rupert Knights of Columbus and worked for the Twin Falls Canal Co. for 15 years and for Globe Feed and Seed for several years. He attended the Assembly of God Church.

Amendments Discussed At Glens Ferry

GLENS FERRY—Fred Kennedy, Mountain Home, Elmore County prosecuting attorney, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce meeting in Hanson's Cafe. Kennedy discussed the nine constitutional amendments to be considered at Tuesday.

Bert Walker, president, appointed a committee to select the recipient for outstanding citizen award this year. Members are Glenn Hall, Tom Rogers and Eddie Bostic. Mr. Walker reported he had contacted Warren G. Sullivan, director of the Idaho State Penitentiary concerning a tour by the Chamber members during November.

On Nov. 7 he will attend a meeting with Assistant Commissioner of the State Land Board, Ralph Samson, in Boise, concerning the desert land survey in this area. Several others from the Chamber plan to accompany Mr. Walker.

Names Confuse

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—Bonnie Hisey, a candidate for the New Mexico House of Representatives, has a problem.

Fathers who don't know him think he's a lady candidate. The Hisey family has to live with this problem and one called by the name of Hisey's wife's name is Floyd.

4 Tie For Blue Pencils At Meet

Four men tied for blue pencils at the recent meeting of the J. B. Perrine Toastmasters at Kay's Supper Club.

John Morris and Kent Kirk both were awarded blue pencils for the best speech and Homer Roberts and Bob Day tied for the best table topic speech.

Presiding officer at the meeting was John Carter, table topic chairman was Frank Robinson, Ken Reid was toastmaster, and the general critic was Ron Emery. The topic for the meeting was "National Issues" and a report was given on a planned meeting with the College of St. Joseph in Idaho vocational speech class at the Holiday Inn.

WILLIAM LANTING

Rep. Lanting Campaigns For Office

A lifetime resident of the Salmon Tract and presently speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives, William J. Lanting is running for reelection on the Republican ticket.

He represents District 24 in the House.

He is presently in his fifth term in the Legislature and is a member of the Idaho Legislative Council, having been named to the council when it was created six years ago.

He is also president of the Western Conference of the Council of State Governments, and is a member of the board of directors of the Salmon River Canal Co.

He has been active in developing Idaho water resources. Mr. Lanting lives south of Hollister and owns and operates a farm. He raises wheat, cattle and hay. He attended school at the Salmon Falls and is a graduate of Hollister High School.

Soviet Vessel Seen Near Hawaii
PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The Soviet intelligence ship Gavril Saychev reappeared in Hawaiian waters Tuesday, the Navy said.

The 295-foot Soviet ship was last seen in these waters in mid-September when it stayed for 10 days mostly off the Barbours Point Naval Air Station on Oahu.

U.S.-tug has been assigned to watch it.

The Saychev is listed in Jane's fighting ships as equipped with sophisticated scientific equipment and with about 70 scientists usually assigned, the Navy spokesman said.

British 'Poets' Purvey Poetic Particulars In Pubs To Establish Ease Of Listening

By GLENN GOODEY

LONDON (AP)—Go into a pub and hear a poet recite. Go into a pub and hear the music of the Caeffidde and the Music-In, grotesque homemade contraptions that might have been designed for an angel by Hieronymus Bosch.

Go into a pub and hear a new, zany approach to a poetry session.

The Barrow Poets, a roving group of young poetry lovers, as offbeat as the Beatles were when they first started life in a Liverpool cellar, are Britain's increasingly popular fun entertainers.

More than 200 turned up a few nights ago to hear the Barrows in a London pub that could hold only 60. The 200 squeezed in and dozens fainted.

The Barrow music ranges from airs by Mozart and Bach to souped-up folk tunes; their poetry from serious readings to quick limericks.

They are a group of three men and three women, all of whom are students aged 25 to 35, who want to be accepted as pure entertainers and not forlorn.

CSI Group Will Present "Bell, Book And Candle"

"Bell, Book and Candle" will be the first play of the CSI Theatre season, according to Mrs. Fran Tanner, director.

The play will be at 8:15 p.m. Nov. 21, 22 and 23 at the arena theater in the Fine Arts Building.

Church Notes Potential Of Idaho Growth

Sen Frank Church, touring the Magic Valley area, said Tuesday that Idaho "enjoys a potential of growth and development unmatched in the West."

"The need," he said, "is to translate the potential into reality. Jobs, new income, new industries do not happen by themselves. They require the dedication and service of all Idahoans, particularly public officials at all levels of government."

Church noted that because of congressional authorization of projects he had sponsored in the Senate, the greatest water development program in the history of the state is now under way.

From Dworshak Dam in northern Idaho to Ririe and Teton dams in the east to the proposed southwest Idaho Water Development project and plans for the Salmon Falls Division project near Twin Falls, Idaho is moving forward," Church said.

"We must keep the momentum going."

On another front he said, "outdoor recreation is our fastest growing industry—offering the potential of some more jobs than the state's other major industries."

"People grown weary of the dreary of urban life are seeking refuge in our scenic, hospitable surroundings providing us with new wealth," Church said. Idaho must have public officials who recognize the need for balanced development: utilizing our land and water resources for agriculture in areas where we have a comparative advantage; conserving our natural beauty; in others, where outdoor recreation represents the high value. The state can afford no less."

Ray Lincoln Runs Again For Position

An incumbent candidate for District 23 of the Idaho House of Representatives is Ray Lincoln.

He is a lifetime resident of Twin Falls County and is a member of the Education Commission in the Legislature. He is also a member of the national advisory board for the Bureau of Land Management and is on the board of directors of the statewide Production Credit Association.

He has been named to the Idaho Livestock Hall of Fame and is a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Elks Lodge, Kiwanis and Toastmasters.

Mr. Lincoln has served two terms in the Legislature. Representatives and is a Republican.

Rodeo Club To Sponsor Riding Event On Sunday

The new College of Southern Idaho Rodeo Club will sponsor a gymkhana at 1 p.m. Sunday at Frontier Field.

The club is holding the event to raise money to cover expenses of competing in inter-collegiate rodeos.

Events are clover-leaf barrel race, horseman's class, scoop shovel race, musical chairs, barback race, ruse, trail class, flag race, boot race and seven barrel race.

An all-around trophy will be given to the best horseman. Entry fee is 50 cents per person. The public is invited.

Attend Show
WENDELL—Cosmology students in Idaho will go to Boise Nov. 2 to attend a three-day educational show. The students will be accompanied by their instructors.

Students from Wendell include Marcia Meisand, Anna Schreck, Connie Wike, Darlene Von Well and Susan Cooper. After the show the students will apply their knowledge and have a show in their respective schools using a model of their choice.

The Barrows will recite poetry and sing to anyone who will listen, including schools, colleges, universities and theaters. They have even been to a rehabilitation center for the mentally ill.

"We have a program for every occasion," said Sue. William Beatty-Wright, the poet, reads the poetry and plays the Caeffidde, a collection of drums, bass, drum, cymbal, clappers and kazoo.

Another of his instruments is the Music-In, so called because real musicians complain that it muddies in, and they'd rather it didn't.

"We appeal to people because we don't insult anybody's intelligence," he said. "We don't try to pretend this is grand culture. The music and poetry is just to be listened to and enjoyed."

The group are Jim Parker, who plays the oboe, English horn, clarinet and concertina; Heather Black, who plays the violin; and Gerard Benson, the group's poet.

3 Contests Offered In Lincoln Vote

SHOSHONE—There will be three contests in the general election Tuesday for Lincoln county candidates, for three district commissioner, assessor and sheriff.

Incumbent Glenn L. Sorenson, Republican, who has been filling the unexpired term of the late William Bolton, will be opposed by a newcomer, Democrat Russell Sweet, for county commissioner.

Sheriff Thomas Conner, Republican, is being opposed by Max E. Behr, and Shirley Tew, who has been acting as county assessor by appointment of commissioners since February when Ray E. Oyer died, is being opposed by Democrat Louis Vaughn. Mrs. Tew has filed on the Republican ticket.

Other unopposed Democratic candidates is Howard E. Adkins, for prosecutor.

Republicans who are running for re-election without opposition are Myron D. Johnson, treasurer; C. M. Wilson, probate judge; and Dr. R. G. Neher, coroner.

WSCS Meeting Is Conducted By Methodists

RUPERT—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Paul United Methodist Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Schneider. Paul, with Mrs. Amy Clark as co-hostess. Guest was Rev. Alice May Woolley, who presented facts about the Paul Jones Club Community calendar. The WSCS decided to have a meeting for the monthly business meeting and the annual bazaar added to the calendar as proceeds are used to provide glasses for the local needy.

Mrs. Kenneth King, Hynes, asked the group to serve for her daughter's holiday wedding. Decoration chairmen include Mrs. Ruben Kruse, Paul; Mrs. H. O. L. McCollan, Crestview; Mrs. George Abo, Hynes, and Mrs. Ronald Matheson, Kasota.

The lesson for the day was presented by Mrs. Kris Kosterbauer, whose topic was "Human Rights."

Mrs. Kosterbauer related her topic to the 20th anniversary of human rights legislation obtained by the legislature. She obtained her facts for the lesson from the October issue of "The Methodist Woman."

She cited the U.S. Army as the best example of integration and noted that all nations have accepted the human rights legislation.

The group entered a discussion period after the lesson.

Two coming events were announced during the meeting. The annual turkey dinner and bazaar is scheduled for 5 p.m. Oct. 26 and a noodle-making day for 9 a.m. Nov. 21, with Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, chairman, in charge of activities.

The November business meeting of the WSCS is set for Nov. 21 with Mrs. Harold Ingram and Mrs. David Kraus as hostesses.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID L. WHITNEY

Miss Witherspoon, Whitney Exchange Nuptial Promise

Teresa Witherspoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Witherspoon, Twin Falls, became the bride of David L. Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert A. Whitney, Hollister, in rites at the Carillon, Sept. 28.

White topary trees with red burgundy roses lined the altar for the setting of the candle-lighting ceremony performed by Rev. Donald Hoffman of the First Christian Church, Twin Falls.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length semi-fitted A-line gown of blue pink peau de soie. The scalloped Chantilly lace covered the scooped neck empire bodice. The quarter length sleeves and cathedral-length train was made from the same lace.

The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother, assisted by Helen Kuykendall. The bride's shoulder-length veil of cascading tiers of pastel pink and white tulle was held in place by a self fabric bow accented with teardrop pearls. Smaller pearls dotted the entire bodice. The veil was designed and made especially for the bride by Miss Kuykendall.

The bride carried a bouquet of burgundy and pink flowers made from feathers designed and fashioned by her. All corsages and flowers were made from colored feathers designed by the bride.

Mrs. Maria Embree, Twin Falls, was matron of honor. Mrs. Marilyn Kepner, Elsie Whitney, aunt of the bridegroom, and Miss Kuykendall were bridesmaids. Flower girl was Robyn Witherspoon, sister of the bride.

Craig Sheppard, cousin of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer.

Ron Embree, Twin Falls, was best man, with Jerry Kepner, Larry Newberry and Aaron Witherspoon, brother of the bride, serving as ushers. Aaron Witherspoon and Jerry Kepner also served as chadlightholders.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony, with Mrs. Gary Cliff registering and greeting guests. Gifts were arranged by Kathy Huston and Ada Chatterton.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with burgundy and pink flowers with silver leaves. Serving the cake was Mrs. Dan Whitney, aunt of the bridegroom. Mrs. Charles Sheppard, aunt of the bridegroom, served the punch. The bride's table was decorated with burgundy velvet covered with white lace.

Club Delegate Gives Report

RICHFIELD—The Burnham Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Eugene Freeman, Twin Falls, with Mrs. V. E. Perton as co-hostess. Mrs. Anna McKissick reported on her attendance at the state home demonstration conference in Coeur d'Alene recently.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson read an article. Mrs. Eva Sorenson received a hostess gift and Mrs. L. L. Magoffin and Mrs. Lela Gardner received Pollyanna remembrances.

The county council festival at Shoshone Nov. 7 was announced, with activities starting at 9:30 a.m. at the American Legion Hall. All interested women are invited to attend. Program numbers and demonstrations will be given by a e c h participating club. A sack lunch is to be taken by those attending, with coffee and punch to be served.

The Nov. 14 meeting is at the home of Mrs. Clifford Dayley.

Kathleen Greb, Hiler Marry

GLENN'S FERRY—Kathleen Maria Greb, daughter of Anthony Greb, Mountain Home, and Mrs. Mary Tucker, Kansas City, Mo., and Fred W. Hiler II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Whit, Glenn's Ferry, were united in marriage Oct. 5 at a Nuptial Mass in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, Mountain Home.

Rev. Father William Ordway performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Preston Host, Nampa, was soloist, and also played the wedding music. Altar boys were David Freeman and Nick Shilt, Mountain Home.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length alencon lace gown with an empire waistline, scooped neckline and long sleeves. The train had a full sweep and was of the same lace as the gown. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with a headpiece of nylon flowers. Her bridal bouquet was a crescent of white Spider chrysanthemums and a bronze-colored pompons.

Mrs. John Hiler was matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Mary Ann Lancaster, Mountain Home, and Mrs. Margaret O'Connor, Salt Lake City, sister of the bridegroom.

Krisann Hiler and Mary Hiler, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They dropped petals of Spider chrysanthemums from tiny white baskets as they preceded the bride down the aisle.

Best man for his brother was John Hiler, and ushers were Dale Anderson, Boise, and Doyle Ahnstedt, Mountain Home.

A reception was held in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Hall immediately after the ceremony.

Mrs. Edna Spealman, Sandpoint, grand guardian, made her official visit to the bride. A luncheon was held at Nelson's Cafe, where Mrs. Spealman met with the Job's Daughters and the council. A dinner was held in honor of Mrs. Spealman while she was in Burley and the Job's Daughters presented her a gift.

Guests attended from Idaho Falls, Bethel.

New Members Are Initiated

BURLEY—Five new members were initiated into International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 181, during special ceremonies at Masonic Temple.

Initiated were Kim Sue Blair, Connie Fairbrother, Carmen Fairbrother, Susan Korb and Sue Kuna.

Jill Hoffbuhr, honored queen, conducted the meeting. Laura Elliott and Jan Hoffbuhr played a piano duet.

Mrs. Dawn Hiler, daughter of the bridegroom, registered the guests, and gifts were played by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pavey and Mrs. Doyle Ahnstedt.

Mrs. Lynn Clayton, Mountain Home, and Mrs. Violet Bryant, Boise, cut and served the three-tiered cake which was decorated in the orange and white theme, topped with a cupid couple before an altar. The tiers were spaced with glass colonades, in side each was an orange rose, and the cake base was fluted with white lace. Double candles in glass holders were adorned with orange satin bows and the table was covered with white lace over orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Abbott, Fall Creek, served the punch from a table decorated in orange and white. Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, Mountain Home, presided at the silver coffee service.

Guests attended from Boise, Nampa, Reynolds Creek, Pocatello, Brunau, Grandview, McColl, Glenn's Ferry, Kansas City and Salt Lake City.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Canada. The bride is employed at First Security Bank at the Mountain Home Air Force Base. The bridegroom has been associated with his brother in business in Mountain Home since 1962.

After the reception, the guests were invited to the John Hiler home for a yard buffet dinner.

ESA Chapters Host District Dinner Meet

Burley Alpha Psi, Rupert Alpha Eta and Twin Falls Alpha Nu of Epsilon Sigma Alpha were represented at the District No. 3 ESA fall dinner meeting at the Colonial House in Twin Falls.

Mrs. John Simpson, president of District No. 3, was in charge of the business session. Reports were made by the chapters on the year's activities. The Burley and Twin Falls chapters participated in and on the state philanthropic project, selling Owyhee coffee for the Easter Seal Society which started Oct. 23 and will run through November.

Rupert Chapter members reported they sent four children to camp during the summer.

Mrs. Vaughn Woodhouse, Burley chapter president, bid for the April spring meeting when Glendora, Idaho, state ESA president, will be in attendance and install new officers.

RUMMAGE SALE PLANNED

SHOSHONE — A rummage sale and bazaar will be held Nov. 4 and 5 at the Groose building, south of the drug store, by the local Methodist Church. The public is invited.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old male and unattached, also a steady worker and mind my own business. My best friend is married, has a wife and baby and they live with HER people. They have no transportation, so I visit them quite often. While I am there, I am in the company of her parents. Now for my problem: My friend's mother-in-law wrote to me declaring her "love" for me. Abby, I have never even looked sideways at this old lady and I don't know what gave her the idea that I could care for her. I hate to go to their house again, knowing how she feels about me. But if I stay away, my buddy will wonder why.

Should I tell him about this? Or is there a better way to handle it?

INNOCENT VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: Don't mention this to your buddy or his wife, and don't go to his house any more than is necessary. But when you do, be sure you give them to mind your own business and make sure you don't look at the old lady sideways or any other way. If she pitches you again, tell her (quietly) to confine her "love" to her own husband.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem you wouldn't believe. I am 16 years old, and for as long as I can remember I haven't done anything without cheating. I have also stolen all my life. I started when I was little, taking small things from my friends. I have even snatched and stolen money just to get away with something. I've never been caught. I guess I'm just lucky, or maybe I'm good at it from so much experience. I am also a terrible liar. I lie just to get people to listen to me. I don't have any friends but I'd like at least one of the good kind. I'm always trying to impress people, but I just end up making a fool of myself. I need to be a good person, but I don't have the willpower. I need some help before it's too late. If it's not too late already, Dr. Dear Abby, what can you do for a 16-year-old failure?

A FAILURE

DEAR FAILURE: No one who

Mrs. John Simpson, Rupert, District No. 3 president; Mrs. Carl Feeler, Twin Falls, president of Alpha Nu, and Mrs. Richard Erwin, Rupert, president of Alpha Eta. Activity reports from the various chapters were given.

Judging Slated For Art Club

Judging yearbook covers will be featured at the November meeting of the Mary Davis Art Club. The club will meet Nov. 21 at the home of Mrs. Frank Briggs.

Mrs. Ollie Ballard was co-hostess. Clara Walton presented the program, demonstrating the art of batik, a technique of dyeing fabrics using wax as a dye resistant to cover parts of the design.

A collection of more than 800 pitchers, owned by Mrs. Briggs, were viewed by the members.

The club will meet Nov. 21 with Mrs. Alma Regus. The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Ballard.

SHOWER HELD

ELBA — A baby shower was held recently for Mrs. Terrell Westover at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Crofts, Elba. Assisting Mrs. Crofts with the activities of the evening were her other daughters, Mrs. Ron Casper, Pocatello, and Mrs. Milo Paskett, Bountiful, Utah. Mr. Westover is now serving in Vietnam and Mrs. Westover is residing with her parents in Elba.

Extra Activity Noted For LDS Groups In November

SHOSHONE — LDS Church Relief Societies are launching a month of extra activity in November, with regular lessons supplemented by variety type fairs, bazaars, cooked-food sales or other fund-raising projects.

In many of the wards, the funds raised at these events, provide expenses for the entire year's operations, and they also show the handwork of women of the respective organizations.

The spiritual living lesson for November is entitled "The Fruits of Apostasy," with an objective for woman to search her soul to root out seeds of apostasy, that she may remain true and faithful.

Visiting teacher message for the month is entitled "Let Every Man Esteem His Brother as Himself," with an objective to realize there is a universal need to be esteemed and esteem.

The homemaking lesson will cover Christmas traditions. Establishing family traditions can make Christmas a time of joyous anticipation, happy association and spiritual renewal.

"The Questions Every Woman Asks" is the title of the social relations lesson for November. These questions will deal with a woman and her responsibility and destiny.

Cultural refinement discussion will cover the topic, "The Power of Discipline," based on literature from the text, "Out of the

Mrs. David (Joan Baez) Harris And The Rising Cost Of Resistance

By ROGER DOUGHTY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Mrs. David Harris spends a lot of time in jail. She calls cops "brothers," but they keep locking her up anyway. Other than that, Mrs. Harris is a rather typical young newlywed. She worries about the situation, encourages her husband in his career and likes to write "just for fun." The difference between Mrs. Harris and most new brides is that any time she feels like working a couple of days, she can make $25,000. You can't do that by throwing brush parties or selling cosmetics door to door, but money is easy to come by when you're a top folksinger like Joan Baez. That's who Mrs. David Harris used to be and still is to most people. Even as she sang to a full house at New York's Fillmore East Theater recently, her book, "Daybreak," was seen protruding from the pockets of many of those in the audience and it seemed a certainty that most of those on hand had at least a few of her nine record albums tucked away in their collections. Money is no problem for Miss Baez. If creature comforts were her only concern, she could long ago have retired to her beloved California to count coins and sit in the sun. But that's not the case. "I'm very grateful," says the singer, "that I can go into a room with 10,000 people in it, sing them songs, which I enjoy, and tell them things that I feel are important and have to be said. I'm happy that I've been able to integrate my performing with David's work. David's work consists of organizing resistance to the draft. So far, his efforts have earned him admiration from those who oppose the Vietnamese war and/or war in general, hatred from those who, like him, are hippie or Communist or both, a three-year jail sentence (which is being appealed) and a dedicated wife who has logged jail time of her own protesting what she considers to be an unjust system.

"There really isn't any leader as far as draft resistance goes," says Miss Baez. "My husband comes as close as anyone and he fights all the time to keep from being a leader and to make people function for themselves. There was a time when Joan was closely associated with the civil rights movement. And more again on political hopefuls would like to have her singing his campaign song. She has little interest in either cause. She calls politicians "nationalists" and says, "I don't have 20 minutes to go down to the polls and vote for something corrupt. That's not my idea of being constructive."

The vision of those involved in the civil rights movement has been "way too short," the singer says. "They're clutching for a piece of moldy pie. Her only cause, she claims, is the brotherhood of man. Draft resistance, she feels, is one step toward bringing about that brotherhood. "In effect," she says, "draft resistance is an attempt to organize decency. What David and others are saying is 'The odds are against us, but the only way to stop killing is to stop killing. I have to personally take myself out of the Selective Service System.' But when you make that commitment, you have to be ready to go into battle. You can't just sit around and wait for the brotherhood of man to arrive."

Harris made his commitment a couple of years ago when he and two friends turned in their draft cards. At that time, their hoped-for goal was to have 500 young men follow their example in two or three years. Today they claim that 4,000 have done so.

They also say that there are 30 draft induction refusals each week in San Francisco alone; that nobody has caught up with yet. The courts are back-pedaling.

Says Miss Baez, "There are 600 refusals in San Francisco that nobody has caught up with yet. The courts are back-pedaling. But numbers have never been that important to her and she's quite willing to admit that not all of those connected with the draft resistance movement are motivated by the same forces that drive her husband. "He believes that taking of life is immoral," she says, "but we know that some people are drafted just because the draft is an imposition on their lives. Others are involved because they feel the Vietnamese war is immoral. I have no idea as to the percentages, but I have to have it to anybody who is a resister. This is the one outfit where you can't be monkeying around. You've got one-to-five years hanging over your head. There's a very low percentage of phonies in the movement."

When Joan isn't performing or getting herself locked up, she likes to spend her time in Carmel Valley, Calif., the location of her Institute for the Study of Nonviolence. In San Diego, a long-time crusader for antiwar causes, runs the school while Joan is away.

"There's a chance for branches in New York, Rome, France and Santa Barbara," she says, "but so far I haven't found the people I'm certain of to run them. I'm fussy."

She's also fussy about where her money goes.

At that figure, the price of resistance is high. But Mrs. David Harris thinks it's worth it. In a subway station not far from the Fillmore, someone has scrawled, "The war must end. The draft must go." It's the hope of David and Joan Harris that Paul Simon knew what he was talking about when he observed, "The words of the prophet are written on the subway walls."

New Film To Depict 'Real-Life' Slavery

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A plantation owner stands haughtily on a dirt pathway, squinting at his black field hands sweating under a merciless Louisiana sun. "Niggers is business," wheezes a fat slave trader in a garish checkered suit who had sidled up to him. "The business of slavery," retorts the landowner with a sneer. "It's even more degrading to the masters."

Man Giving Name Of Galt Alters Face

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — An attorney says a man who gave his name as Eric Galt underwent minor plastic surgery before the assassination last April of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The lawyer, Bennet Olan, declined Tuesday to give details of the surgery performed by Dr. Russell C. Hadley except to say it was of the type which would not greatly change his appearance.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has reported Eric Galt was an alias used by James Earl Ray, now facing trial in Memphis, Tenn., on a charge of murdering King.

Olan said he thought the operation was performed three or four weeks before the assassination on April 4. "It may have been on the 4th or the 11th of March. I forget which," he said. The surgeon referred all questions to Olan. The lawyer said it's believed Galt sought out Dr. Hadley through the Los Angeles County Medical Association.

Olan said the case didn't stand out in Hadley's mind, but he added: "As soon as we discovered who the patient had been, the case was reported to the FBI."

The attorney said that as far as he knew, Hadley has not been subpoenaed to testify in the Ray trial.

Queen Opens Parliament With Pledge

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II opened a new session of Parliament today with a government pledge of votes for 18-year-olds.

It was the showpiece of a modest government program of reforming youth, Scotland and Wales more control over their lives.

The Labor government moved boldly in promising votes at 18, a move recommended by an official commission but rejected by an all-party conference of legislators which wanted to lower it, from 21 to 20. The act would add an estimated three million voters to the rolls.

The government also pledged to lower the legal age of majority from 21 to 18, allowing young people to sign contracts without parental consent. This is a popular move in Britain, where the large majority of teenagers go out to work between the ages of 15 and 17, and not to college like their American counterparts.

The rest of the queen's speech represented a restatement of past policies and earlier pledges.

9 Proposals Face Voters On Nov. 5

By The Associated Press

Idaho voters will find on the Nov. 5 general election ballot nine proposed constitutional amendments, approved by the legislature by at least a two-thirds margin. A simple majority in the election would make the amendments effective.

Here is what the amendments would do:

SIJR — Remove the state superintendent of public instruction from the list of elected state officials. Companion legislation, already approved but effective only if the amendment is enacted, would provide for the state superintendent to be appointed by the State Board of Education.

SIJR — Revise the amending procedure, so that a number of related changes in the constitution could be submitted to the people as a unit.

SIJR — Remove from the constitution the $10 per day salary now provided for state legislators and authorize the lawmakers to set salaries, effective at the following session of the legislature.

SIJR — Provide for annual, instead of biennial, sessions of the legislature, beginning on the second Monday of January each year.

SIJR — Give the legislature authority to prescribe procedure for filling vacancies in state elective offices, including justices of the supreme court.

SIJR — Authorize the legislature to set procedure for retirement, discipline and removal of judges and judges.

SIJR — Broaden the area for investment of state endowment funds, now limited to investment in government bonds, which would allow state bonds to be used for investment in corporate securities.

Inmates Flee 'Escape-Proof' British Prison

DURHAM, England (AP) — Three men escaped Tuesday night from the maximum security block at Durham prison, where some of Britain's most dangerous prisoners are held. The three men, one of whom had been in the prison since 1954, were recaptured and one was still sought.

The block is known throughout the prison service as the toughest in Britain. Officials had thought it 100 per cent escape proof.

The trio apparently climbed away brickwork in a shower room, then crawled through a duct onto the roof of an adjoining courthouse. One was caught on the roof and another inside the courtroom.

Utah Newspaper Endorses Nixon

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Salt Lake Tribune, saying Hubert Humphrey "cannot escape the Johnson Administration of which he has been a member for four years," announced today its editorial support of Richard Nixon for president.

The newspaper said "Mr. Nixon definitely is his own man. His mistakes of the past belong to the past and are of scant importance when compared with his present stature."

The Tribune also called for reelection of the three Republicans in Utah's four-man congressional delegation — Sen. Walter Bennett and Reps. Sherman Lloyd and Laurence Burton, Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, is not up for reelection this year.

financing construction of airports.

SIJR — Permit a corporation to specify which classes of stock would have voting privileges in corporation elections.

Any Congressman Can Vote Against Spending Bills That Are Going to Pass Anyway

(It's the easiest way to establish a record for economy)

Real Economy in Government Isn't That Easy and FRANK CHURCH KNOWS IT

Cuts in spending are usually made in the committees of Congress: If you spent $400,000 a day for 30 years, you still could not spend as much money as Frank Church has saved the taxpayer with amendments he has sponsored in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Back in 1964, Church stopped the giveaway of United States military equipment to wealthy European nations and Japan. Since then, these countries have BOUGHT what they need from us. As another example, in 1967 Church alone cut $730 million from another foreign assistance bill. That fight was won on the Senate floor BY ONE VOTE.

These are amendments Frank Church SPONSORED, and fights he LED — not simple "no" votes.

According to the Caldwell News Tribune, of the twenty-eight senators running for re-election this year, only seven have a better economy record than Senator Church.

Shadow Of Uncertainty Hovers Over Next Decade In Space For U.S.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's astronauts are ready once more to challenge space in an atmosphere of quiet confidence that 1969 will be the "Year of the Moon." But in the background lurks a lingering shadow of uncertainty about the next decade in space.

The United States has launched a long road back from the Apollo 1 fire that killed the first three Apollo astronauts on a Cape Kennedy launching pad in January 1967. Management, hardware and safety procedures have been overhauled, and the program now pulses with a next-year, fulfilling President

John F. Kennedy's dramatic 1961 pledge that U.S. spacemen would be on the lunar surface in this decade.

But enthusiasm for reaching this grand goal is dampened by an underlying concern that the first landing on the moon could be a dead end for the great capacity developed in the U.S. space program.

With the Vietnam war and domestic problems demanding more and more money, few new funds are available to establish another national space goal or even to start significant new unmanned space projects.

Congress gradually has sliced the budget of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to a high of $5.9 billion in fiscal year 1968 to an anticipated level of below $4 billion for 1969. In the same period, the number of persons working on the program throughout the country has dropped rapidly from 420,000 to just over 200,000.

As more and more people are laid off in industry and in NASA, skilled engineers and technicians are seeking jobs in other industries before they, too, get the axe. The losses of, and the uncertainties of an election year—taken together and sition from which it is most difficult to chart a clear and certain course for the future."

LAUNCHING A NEW school fashion in a Canadian school requires a certain amount of aplomb and courage. Charlie Ker, got a kit from Scotland and promptly wore it to Victoria Public School in Woodstock, Ont., where he is a second grade student. Classmates had some fun at his expense, but he didn't seem to mind. (AP wirephoto)

Intrepid Reporter Tests Wallace Feelings At Nixon Rally With Button, Propaganda

BY TOM TIEDE

WITH THE NIXON CAMPAIGN (NEA) — There was this nut the other day who showed up at a Nixon rally wearing a George Wallace-for-President button.

The nut was a newspaperman, testing the sociopolitical wind.

The rally was at an airport on Long Island. A couple of thousand Republicans were there. The newspaperman wore a single Wallace button and carried a small sign which read, "Let George Do It."

An old man stopped the newspaperman first. "Let George do what?" he asked, gruffly.

"Well, the nation," the newspaperman replied.

"From what?"

"From pseudo intellectuals," the newspaperman said, winking.

"And from Communists, anarchists, revolutionists and a pointy-headed government of fools."

"Good," the man said, shaking his head and turning around. He took an elderly woman by the hand. "Come on," he told her and they moved quickly away.

The old man's sentiment was or less mirrored the over-reaction to the presence of the Wallace supporter. For another 15 minutes nobody in the crowd asked the newspaperman any thing and, instead, made a point of ignoring him on purpose.

"Wallace for President," the newspaperman repeated, in little avail, and he lustily waved his small sign among the multitude of larger posters.

A small girl snickered at the newspaperman. A woman refused to say something but thought better of it and just offered an obscene gesture.

"Hey, cut that out!" the newspaperman ordered the teenager. Another obscene gesture.

"You," the newspaperman said, "are through in November!" At that point, several adults told the newspaperman to "go home."

One of them, a large man with a button-down sweater, said he would move out of the country if "that creep" (Wallace) were ever elected to any office.

"He's a former governor," the newspaperman countered.

"Of Alabama," the big man nodded. "That's all."

"Are you against Alabama?" "I'm against Wallace. This is a Nixon rally."

One Negro, who said his name was Paul, made the only comment for his race. He asked to see the Wallace sign, read it, smiled tightly and mumbled: "You from Long Island?"

"Why?" the newspaperman wondered.

"Because," the Negro replied, "I hope you don't move around me. I don't want my property value to drop."

Others, all white, however, had a different opinion of the newspaperman with the Wallace button. A short, squat man, who said he drove a bus, patted the newspaperman on the shoulder and said, "It takes a lot of guts to wear that pin." He said he was leaning toward Wallace himself, but would probably vote for Nixon.

"There isn't that much difference between them," the short man said.

Another sympathizer, a lady with large hips and small shoulders, greeted the newspaperman's button with, "Hey, look at that, a patriot!" She lit a long cigarette between her teeth and clapped loudly as the button passed.

"I like the newspaperman," said another child, who said he was born in Jackson, Miss., confessed he wanted to wear a Wallace tag to the rally himself, but his wife, who was his mother, said she would not let him.

"The Mississippi man walked," "Think Wallace can do it?" "Sure," the newspaperman answered. "It looks like 20-25 per cent of the voters favor him now, and he seems to be getting stronger every day."

"I know it, I know it," the man chuckled. Then he aped his wife, and said, "Keep it up, 'Em hell," and hustled into the crowd.

There were, fortunately, no serious confrontations, although the newspaperman did everything he could, short of vulgarly or insult, to provoke discussion among the suburban Republican spectators. Few wanted to argue with what appeared to be an active, aggressive redneck.

The nearest thing to a physical incident occurred when the newspaperman tried to get a small cocker spaniel. The dog's owner, nestled the leash and walked off. The newspaperman said, "Hey!" The dog owner turned, snarled "Shove off, you!" and walked very angrily on.

Most rally spectators, however, showed no reaction at all. And as Richard Nixon delivered his address, the newspaperman walked in and out of the happy, cheering crowd, feeling about as welcome as the Asian flu.

When the rally finally ended, the newspaperman took off his Wallace button and tossed it away. A middle-aged woman, seeing this, walked up and said, "Oh, giving up, huh? What happened, did Mr. Nixon convince you?"

"Yes, lady," the newspaperman said. "Now I'm for Hubert Humphrey."

With what appeared to be an active, aggressive redneck.

Sen. Monroney Struggles For Survival In Election

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney is battling for political survival in Oklahoma against a strong challenge from former Gov. Henry Bellmon, the man who broke the Democratic party's iron grip on the state in 1957.

Most neutral observers rate the contest a toss-up.

Both men are popular and both are proven vote-getters.

BLM Aide Is Transferred To Nevada

SHOSHONE — The transfer of Kenneth E. Harrison is announced by William T. Mabbutt, Bureau of Land Management district manager here. Mr. Harrison is being reassigned to Carson City, Nev.

He was born at Rifle, Colo., but moved with his family at an early age to Filer. Following graduation from Filer High School, he attended the University of Idaho where he received a B.S. degree in Wildlife Management. While at Idaho he helped to establish and was a charter member of the Idaho Chapter of Farm House Fraternity, nationally known for its scientific achievement.

After a short period with the Idaho Fish and Game Department at Boise, Mr. Harrison served two years with the U.S. Army Signal Corps, including 13 months in Korea.

In May, 1961, he began with Bureau of Land Management, on a resource survey team and later that year was appointed assistant district conservationist. He has served since 1964 as district conservationist and wildlife specialist.

Mr. Harrison is a member of the Wildlife Society and the American Society of Range Management. He helped to organize the Southern Idaho Chapter of the latter organization and has served several terms on its board of directors.

Long associated with the Boy Scout movement, he has served the past six years as Scoutmaster of Troop 57, sponsored by the American Legion. He has also served for several years as an area judge in the Shoshone schools and science fair judge at Shoshone and Dietrich.

In his new position, Mr. Harrison will serve as area manager for the Reno-Reno area with headquarters in Carson City.

He is married to the former Sharon Wilcoxson of Rifle, Colo. Mrs. Harrison and their children will accompany Mr. Harrison when he reports to his new station Nov. 18.

There have been many close races in Idaho elections in the past.

In the past 10 years at least seven races for nomination or election to major state and congressional offices, have been decided by margins of less than 300 votes.

In the primary election in 1966, Conley Ward of Caldwell won the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State by a margin of 292 votes over L. E. Clapp of Boise.

Also in 1966, A. W. Brunt of Idaho Falls won the Democratic nomination in the Second Congressional District by a margin of 620 votes.

In 1958, A. M. Derr won the Democratic nomination for governor in a four-man field by only 122 votes.

World Speed Record Try Nearly Ends In Disaster For Mickey Thompson

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Driver Mickey Thompson had a third close call Tuesday, then decided to wait until early Wednesday for another attempt at the world speed record for wheel-driven cars.

Thompson, driving a car only 27 inches high—except for canopy and tail fin—pulled out of a vicious skid as some 400 miles an hour as he sped past the four-mile post of the 10-mile salt straightaway.

"I would've bet a thousand dollars that the car would have turned over," he said. "Why it didn't, I just don't know."

Despite the skid, Thompson went back for another try. This time, he clocked 300.1 miles an hour for a one-way run, but decided the salt was too slick for him to run any more Tuesday.

Noting a forecast for rain, he decided to make an early morning run Wednesday and said, "It looks like it's now or never." He backed off on the accelerator Tuesday, but he said he would go Wednesday and "stand on it."

Thompson's car lost traction as it accelerated Tuesday. It veered nearly one-quarter mile off the track and once was headed directly for the U.S. Auto Club's timing shack.

Thompson controlled the vehicle by applying power to the front engine and decreasing power in the rear engine. Both engines of the 29-foot-long Ford Autolite special have displacement of 427 cubic inches.

Thompson had two narrow escapes in warm-up runs several days ago when crosswinds and a slippery surface caused the car to tip up on two of its four wheels at 330 miles an hour.

Olympic Star Has Trouble With License

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Kathy Kusner, the Olympic equestrian, was reluctantly granted a Maryland racing license Tuesday by the Maryland Racing Commission in compliance with a court order.

She is the first woman ever to be licensed to race horses on the flat at a major U.S. track where betting is legal.

Miss Kusner said she would not seek a ride until Nov. 26 at Laurel. "She said she has commitments until then with the United States equestrian team," she said.

The 27-year-old show ring rider from Monrovia, Md., had been denied a license by the Maryland Racing Commission and she appealed to court. Circuit Judge Ernest A. Loveless on Sept. 26 directed the commission to issue a license. The ruling was turned down because of her sex.

D. Eldred Rinehart, commission chairman, accepted Miss Kusner's application and $35 fee.

The commission then turned down Miss Kusner's application for a license. The second time after stewards had watched her work a 4-year-old thoroughbred at Pimlico.

The commission, basing its decision on a report by the stewards, said Miss Kusner "is not presently sufficiently skilled to ride in the flat races as a journeyman jockey."

Reports had circulated around Laurel that the men jockeys would strike if Miss Kusner attempted to ride.

"I hope that won't happen," she said.

ISU Carries Hopes For Winning Season Against Boise Saturday

POCATELLO — Idaho State has hopes of a winning football season, an occurrence unheard of in Pocatello since 1964. If the Bengals of Ed Cavanaugh are to make this happen, a win over Boise State this Saturday would be a very good start on the way.

ISU currently sports a 3-3 record. The past three games were wins over Eastern Oregon, 50-27; over Eastern Washington, 34-10; and over Idaho State, 20-13. Saturday, ISU has tickets available for the game in a special ISU seating section block.

Cavanaugh has been impressed with the Boise defense, which has run up impressive yardage totals and loss of points in four games. Quarterback Hal Zimmerman and Eric Guthrie have thrown well, and discovery Abe Brown scored three touchdowns over two weeks ago, and ran for 115 yards last week. Halfback Larry Smith is a hard runner and linemen Ricky Lima and Jake Hooper are tough. Lima formerly attended ISU.

Quarterback Jerry Dunne, who has directed most of ISU's offense the past three games, may start against Boise. Larry Kerychuk played well against Weber and threw a 44-yard strike to Ed Bell for ISU's final score. For Dunne, halfback Rick Hulbert and end Jim Rackley it will be interesting.

Cavanaugh was pleased with the performance of sub-halfback Erby Capitani, who came in for Ambrose Costa and made 11 tackles in the first half. He thought one of the more crucial situations in the game came when ISU had four tries from the 10.

Idaho Film

Film of the Idaho-Washington football game played last Saturday in Seattle will be shown and narrated by Athletic Director Paul Oysten at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Roundup Room of the Rogerson Motor Inn.

Oysten will discuss the current athletic program at the university following the film. Any interested person is invited.

Track Feud Flares Again After Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the passing of the Olympics has gone the short peace that prevailed in the track feud between the nation's colleges and the Amateur Athletic Union, and the war is on again.

The U.S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the college eligibility has plans to sponsor as many as seven major indoor meets this winter in defiance of the AAU.

The college athlete running in an AAU meet is threatened with loss of the rest of his campus eligibility, starting this weekend.

"Our stand has become more solidified than it has ever been before," said USTFF President E. Wayne Cooley.

The colleges had declared a truce last April in their long war with the AAU so the feud would not interfere with the Olympic Games in Mexico City.

The truce runs out Thursday. The AAU has been the traditional governing body of open track meets in this country. But the colleges, which supply most of the athletes, argue that they have a responsibility to determine who the proper conductors are met for all-campus competition by their students.

A two-year U.S. Senate effort to work out a compromise was spurred by the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the USTFF last spring because the proposed settlement would have left the AAU in control.

The NCAA has announced that, effective Friday, any school sending athletes to an outside meet not certified through the USTFF will be penalized. And the schools will be expected to strip the college eligibility from any athletes competing on his own in defiance of the NCAA ban.

At the same time, the AAU long has threatened to take the international amateur eligibility away from any athlete who enters an unapproved USTFF meet.

Cooley, of Des Moines, Iowa, shrugged, "They have been throwing threats about idly for years. They threaten, but don't do anything about it."

The college-backed organization has scheduled the Astro-Turf Relays in Houston City, 24-25. Plans a National Invitational meet in Madison Square Garden in New York Feb. 7. It will track meets in this country. But the colleges, which supply most of the athletes, argue that they have a responsibility to determine who the proper conductors are met for all-campus competition by their students.

The first USTFF meet to test the AAU's temper will be its National Cross-Country Championships in New York City Nov. 28.

A special Sports Arbitration Board set up by the Senate in 1965 and appointed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey failed to solve the fight earlier this year.

Apollo Coach Given Post At Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Ray Kinasewich, coach and general manager of the Houston Apollo of the Central Hockey League, was named today to a similar position with the new Salt Lake City team of the Western Hockey League.

The announcement was made by club owner Dan Meyer. Salt Lake City will join the WHL in 1969 and, currently, in the league are San Diego, Portland, Vancouver, B. C., Seattle Phoenix and Denver.

Meyer said Salt Lake City will get the first choice in the hockey draft and that the club has been scouting prospective players.

Kinasewich, 35, directed the Edmonton team to the Canadian junior championship three years ago. He had brief major league playing experience with Detroit and also played with Seattle, Cleveland and Hershey.

Briscoe Does Well With Denver Club

NEW YORK (AP) — Marlin Briscoe has more than lived up to his reading of the Denver Post's prediction that he would be the first No. 1 Negro quarterback in major league football. He obviously, however, is doing a good job of both.

Briscoe, a rookie from Omaha, read the Miami defense perfectly last Sunday, changed plays, ran a quarterback sneak 10 yards for a touchdown that lifted Denver past Miami 21-14 and Tuesday was named the American Football League's offensive player of the week by The Associated Press.

The 10-yard run climaxed a day on which Briscoe relieved sorely missed Steve Tensel with Miami ahead 14-0 and rallied the Broncos to their third victory in four games.

Reed told Chicago football writers Tuesday that the film clip he received "that there was not one word from Ohio State accompanying it."

"There is sufficient proof that Hayes' purpose was not constructive," Reed continued. "It was altogether negative in that we have not heard one word directly from him."

Asked if he had said anything to Hayes about the matter, Reed said, "No comment."

Hayes contended that his sophomore quarterback, Rex Kern, was being unduly knocked around. He sent a film clip of Kern being encountered by a Northwestern player and declared publicly that "the officials should take charge — a player who deliberately hits a passer after he has released the ball should be kicked out of the game."

Weber Grabs Honors For Big Sky Week

By The Associated Press

Unbeaten Weber State College, shooting for its first undisputed Big Sky Athletic Conference football championship, captured player-of-the-week honors both offensively and defensively following Saturday's 23-16 victory over Idaho State.

Speedy Sam Gipson, who returned a kickoff 97 yards against Idaho State, was named offensive player of the week. Gipson leads the conference in kickoff returns (22.3 average) and is fourth in rushing with 527 yards in six games.

Hal Hagen, who anchors the Weber State defense which is best in the conference, was honored for his defensive play, including six tackles and 10 assists in Saturday's game.

Individually, Montana State University's Paul Schafer leads the conference in rushing with 659 yards for an average of 123 yards a game. Idaho's Steve Olson, who has completed 133 of 270 passes for 1,799 yards and 10 touchdowns, leads in passing. Olson's big passing bulge also has given him top spot in total offense. His favorite receiver, Jerry Henderson, tops the Big Sky in receiving with 65 catches for 982 yards and eight touchdowns.

Other Big Sky individual leaders include Henderson in scoring with 48 points, Billy Satterfield of Idaho State in interceptions with nine for 65 yards; Ron Davis of Idaho in punting with 41 yards per kick average; and Ned Bell of Idaho State has the best punt return mark—seven for 116 yards.

Idaho State continues to dominate team statistics, leading in total defense (allowing an average of 231 yards a game); rushing defense (2.5 yards per try); pass offense (78 of 160 completed for 488 per cent); and pass defense (72 of 193 completed for a 372 average).

Idaho tops in total offense with an average of 419 yards a game and Montana leads in rushing offense with an average of four yards a try.

The team honors presently point toward either Twin Falls or Nampa with a strong contention presented by Caldwell, Moscow, Skyline, and Highland.

The running time for the meet will be 10:30 a.m. for the class B division and 11 a.m. for the class A division.

NCAA Views Recruiting Measures

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An amendment aimed at curbing the "intensity of recruiting" among prep athletes, probably will be considered by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Marcelus L. Plant, president of the NCAA and a member of the faculty at the University of Michigan, said the amendment is likely to be on the agenda for the NCAA's annual convention at Los Angeles, Thursday.

Plant is in St. Louis for the three-day meeting of the NCAA Council.

The controversial amendment was approved last year by a slim margin. Plant said he has noted increased opposition to the change.

"This seems the one question that is going to generate the most heat. One notion is to amend the rule to eliminate the rule for schools with over 1,250 male students," Plant said.

Plant said roundtable discussions on ways of reducing college athletic expenses would be held at the Los Angeles convention.

He said high school recruiting is a part of the expense question.

The awards dilemma—how valuable a gift a junior athlete may receive—will be discussed today.

"For instance," said Plant, "if you give an athlete a watch, a color television, or a couple of color televisions."
