Mine Blast Traps 55

SMOKE BILLOWS from the wrecked Llewellyn portal of the Consolidation Coal Co. mine at Farmington, W. Va., where early-morning explosions triggered a fire that trapped 75 miners. At least 20 were later rescued. (AP wirephoto)

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Explosions roared through a deep coal mine early today, trapping most of the 75 miners in smoke-filled shafts. But the Marion County sheriff's office said 21 men either escaped or were pulled from the mine.

The first blast just before 6 a.m. (EST) Sheriff Robert Tennant of Marion County said blew machinery through the Llewellyn opening and destroyed that exit. Thick smoke billowed from the shaft and made rescue from that point impossible.

Tennant said several men escaped when the first blast hit and rescuers pulled another eight from a shaft, using a bucket on the end of a cable to lift two at a time. At noon, 21 men were reported rescued and safe about 55 others were missing and had not been contacted.

More than a dozen three-man rescue teams tried to enter the Mounier No. 9 mine through the Mohan air shaft. But rescue efforts went on in 26-degree weather and flurries.

Sheriff Tennant said the estimate of "about 55" who were missing was vague because the "lamp zone" where miners check in at the start of their working shift, was destroyed in the explosion.

One of those reported safe was Matt Menas, Jr., whose father was killed in the same mine in a blast that took 15 lives on Nov. 13, 1949.

The mine is located in the rich coal country of north-central West Virginia near Mannington and just south of the Pennsylvania state line. The mine and company is a division of Consolidation Coal Co.

Rescue efforts moved slowly through the mine because of the explosion and the smoke which filled the shafts.

Despite the subfreezing temperatures and the snow, fires, Red Cross units and women's clubs from nearby communities provided coffee and sandwiches for the waiting wives and children.

Dave Davis, president of the Mountaineer Coal Co., said the blast packed a powerful punch.

FRANK MAGEL, Twin Falls pioneer who came here in 1891 and started in the automobile business, died of a long illness Tuesday.

Death Takes Frank Magel, T.F. Pioneer

Frank Magel, 83, pioneer auto and tire dealer of Twin Falls, died Tuesday of a long illness at a local rest home.

He was born Dec. 10, 1884 at Sidney, Iowa. Mr. Magel came to Twin Falls and started in the auto business in 1907. He had the Haynes Auto Agency and the Cadillac dealership and company is a division of Consolidation Coal Co.

Mr. Magel was married to Margaret Williams in 1912. She died July 25, 1965.

Mr. Magel was an active member of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension and was a vestryman for many years. He was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Dodge and Plymouth Agency for many years. He has had the Goodyear Tire franchise for 55 years. On Jan. 12, 1918 he married Margaret Williams in Twin Falls. She died July 25, 1965.

'Light' Casualties Reported Rockets Hit U.S. Units

SAIGON (AP) — Communist rockets and missiles struck U.S. military installations in South Vietnam Tuesday night, killing two Americans and wounding 12. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 15 enemy soldiers hurling grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Military spokesmen said the attacks were light. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 15 enemy soldiers hurling grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Several shells slammed into a U.S. Navy hospital area, but initial reports said they caused no damage or casualties.

New local news spokesmen said one of the towns shelled was Camlo, 10 miles below the demilitarized zone, killing two U.S. military personnel. One American serviceman and six South Vietnamese civilians were wounded.

In the Mekong Delta, Viet Cong shells hit a base camp of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division in the DMZ.

Airliner Lands After Blast Destroys Washroom On Board

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — An explosion and fire endangered a Continental Airlines 707 jetliner as it approached Denver Tuesday evening, carrying seven crewmen and 63 passengers, including Sen. Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo.

The fire was put out and when the plane descended from 18,000 feet and landed safely on a foam-covered runway, FBI agents arrested one passenger, Lawrence B. Havelock, 47, of Lake George, Colo.

"It was like a sonic boom," said Helga Wood, a hostess. "Like the whole tail was blowing off."

"The smoke got so bad I felt like kicking out a window," said Hansen who was bound for a speaking engagement in Lander, Wyo.

"We don't know what caused it," the senator said, "although there was speculation about a band had undergone follow-up surgery about three weeks ago. Officials at the Denver Veterans Administration Hospital said Havelock was discharged Oct. 23.

The FBI said smoke started pouring into the passenger cabin and a concussion was felt just 12 minutes before the plane was to have touched down.

Mrs. Wood said a lavatory door was blown off with a rush of flames and smoke. She said she ran to the cockpit, showed the pilot, Ken Tieg, Littleton, Colo., "There's a fire back there!" and grabbed a fire extinguisher.

By the time she got back, another hostess, Gunnel Erikson, 31, was calmly spraying the fire with another extinguisher.

"She was the hero," said Mrs. Wood, who is from August, Germany. Miss Erikson is from Sweden.

Plastic fixtures in the lavatory were charred and melted. The heat activated sensors which dropped oxygen masks to the passengers. The outer shell of the aircraft was not penetrated.

The FBI said Havelock was born in Czechoslovakia, but was a naturalized American citizen with 20 years military service. His wife said he also served 6 1/2 years with the British Army.

Parents Protest Teachers' Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Union teachers returned today to three schools in Ocean Hills-Brooklyn after angry groups of parents ended overnight sit-ins protesting part of the agreement that ended the citywide teachers' strike.

The teachers and students entered the schools after a state trustee running the experimental, "decentralized" Brooklyn district gave the three principals at the schools letters removing them from authority.

The letters also required that unauthorized persons be out of the school buildings before students would be allowed to enter. The protesters left the buildings without incident.

The sit-in protest followed the generally peaceful reopening of the city's 900 schools Tuesday after a citywide strike that kept most of the 1.1 million public school pupils out of class for 35 days.

A key point in settlement with the principals.

The AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers was the reassignment of the three Ocean Hill principals pending a court hearing on the legality of their appointment.

The union said that the principals were among those who harassed union teachers in the district. An eleventh hour legal move by the New York Civil Liberties Union failed to prevent the reassignment of the three men at this time.

The principals are Lulu Fauci, PS 155, the city's only Puerto Rican principal; William H. Harris of JHS 271 and Ralph Rogers of PS 144. Harris and Rogers are Negroes. All three principals left their schools before students and teachers entered.

Rhody A. McCoy, administrator of the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican district, had earlier warned there could be a "confrontation" over the issue.

Will 'Reassess' Situation Nixon Ponders Arms Treaty

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon intends to reassess the international situation, particularly in Czechoslovakia, before deciding when he wants the United States to proceed with a treaty to control the spread of nuclear weapons.

A source close to Nixon outlined that position today as the President-elect neared the end of a five-day vacation in Florida and the Bahamas.

This left unclear the timing of the new administration will seek on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, which Nixon has endorsed and promised to implement. He has maintained, however, that ratification by the United States should await normalization of the situation in Czechoslovakia.

Republican candidates look that position as the Soviet invasion last Aug. 20.

A Nixon source said that remains his view, that he has set no timetable for U.S. ratification, but that he will not announce a judgment until the matter is once again before the Senate, which has yet to approve the treaty.

"I don't believe we'll be short after Congress reconvenes on Jan. 3, Nixon takes office on Jan. 20.

Indications are that President Nixon would like to see U.S. action on the treaty completed before he leaves office. But Washington sources indicate they do not believe such swift action would be possible without Nixon's concurrence and full support.

In a series of campaign position statements, Nixon said that "at a later point, when a situation may be more normal, perhaps the United States should act on the treaty.

On Oct. 20, Nixon said Senate approval and ratification of the treaty had been properly delayed "because of the sudden, brutal Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia."

"In January, the Senate will undoubtedly reassess Soviet intentions in Central and Western Europe; I am hopeful that we can then proceed with this important treaty."

Nixon, who returned Tuesday from two days of seclusion on Grand Cay in the Bahamas, planned to cover today with two of his top advisers, Lt. Gov. Robert Finch of California and John M. Mitchell, a partner in his law firm and his presidential campaign manager.

He was to leave Key Biscayne in the day to fly to New York. But he is expected to return to the Florida resort soon, perhaps for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Powell Loses Court Appeal Of Jail Term

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell was released today by the state's highest court in his effort to free himself from a jail term for a conviction that has been hanging over his head for two years.

The Court of Appeals unanimously sustained a lower court's judgment that Powell in contempt in connection with a libel judgment against the Harlem Democrat.

The libel sentence was imposed when Powell failed to appear in court to face a libel suit by Mrs. Esther James, a Harlem widow he had described on a television program as a "gold-digger" who had made no money from the award of about $50,000.

Powell has been free pending the appeal.

Area Civil Defense Exercises Planned

Magic Valley setting up civil defense exercises which began next week.

Jerome County officials will begin Monday preparing for a Dec. 4 mock nuclear attack.

A six-day course to educate the officials on procedures to use in case of a nuclear attack or other disaster.

Involved in the Jerome school program are the following: Jerome, Idaho, county, military, highway, law enforcement, county and other officials.

Also on the civil defense agenda in Magic Valley in coming weeks is a two-day refresher course Dec. 11 and 12 at the National Guard Armory in Jerome. The course will be in radio monitoring.

A civil defense management course will be Dec. 9-12 at the courthouses in Hiley, Mr. Cooke said.

Mr. Cooke also stated that Idaho needs to become more involved in civil defense. He said that many people labor under the belief that if a nuclear attack were to hit Idaho "it would be all over."

He said that this is essentially not true, that most nuclear bombs have a capability of covering only small portions and that people in those areas part of the area do not have a good chance to survive.

Red China Kept Out Of Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Advocates of U.N. membership for Red China suffered their worst defeat in four years today, as 46 of 58-44 with 23 abstentions the General Assembly rejected a resolution to expel Nationalist China and seat the Chinese Communists.

A similar resolution was defeated last year by a vote of 58-45 with 17 abstentions. The proposal was sponsored by the Soviet Union, which won a month-long victory in 1965 when the vote was a 47-47 tie.

This year's resolution was sponsored by 15 nations headed by the Soviet Union, which won a month-long victory in 1965 when the vote was a 47-47 tie.

Only two other Communist nations, Cuba and Romania, backed the proposal. The Soviet Union, locked in an ideological dispute with the Chinese Reds, voted for the proposal after giving it only perfunctory support.

The assembly adhered to its previous policy of requiring a two-thirds vote.

Italy's proposal to set up a study group to sound out governments on the idea of a two-China solution—seating both the Reds and the Nationalists—was defeated by a vote of 58-44 with 23 abstentions.

Pravda Avers U.S. Blocks Peace Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda accused the United States today of blocking peace talks between the Soviet Union and the United States.

The Communist party newspaper, which reflects the official Soviet viewpoint, also called for an end to U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam, calling them "provocative overflights."

The article noted that the United States had stopped bombing North Vietnam nearly three weeks ago but since then had made no further progress toward peace.

HHH Says Space Plans Lack Funds

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Declaring America's space program a wise investment, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicts the nation "will pay the price for not investing in the funds for future space research."

"The space program has contributed greatly to the structure of our nation," Humphrey told a group of scientists and space administration officials meeting here Tuesday to review preparations for an around-the-moon flight by the three Apollo 8 astronauts at Christmas time.

"I have felt it has been underfunded at times and we will pay the price," the vice president said, "while complaining that Congress and the Johnson administration cut space spending because of other priorities."

"I feel it is a wise investment on the part of Congress and the public," Humphrey said, "and referring to space research. 'I'll do what I can as a private citizen and a former chairman of the space council to see it is funded."

Humphrey, who as vice president is chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council which advises President Johnson on space policy, visited Cape Kennedy for five hours Tuesday en route to Washington from Miami, where he and his wife Muriel were vacationing.

Burley's Generosity Will Allow Woman To Walk Again

BURLEY — Burley residents have shown they have a heart and proved that some problems can be solved without the expenditure of millions of dollars.

A new life is beginning for Mrs. Helen Hinchshaw, who Wednesday morning was out on a plane for Salt Lake City where she will be fitted with an artificial leg, thanks to the donations of many local clubs, students and individuals.

Once she learns to use the artificial leg, Mrs. Hinchshaw will be able to care for her children once more and plans to support herself by taking in ironing and babysitting in her home. She has a young son with a diabetic condition and has been living with a sister here, confined to a wheelchair.

Mrs. Hinchshaw was donated in a fund drive which was spearheaded by Wayne Watson, of Wallace, and Mrs. Hinchshaw's brother, Mr. Hinchshaw. The artificial leg will cost about $305, and with the need for additional funds for travel and rehabilitation, a goal of $450 was set.

Tuesday afternoon, officials of Casia National Bank, where a special account for Mrs. Hinchshaw was set up, reported the goal had been exceeded by $41.50.

It is expected that Mrs. Hinchshaw will spend the Christmas season in her new limb. When the fund drive was started, Mrs. Watson said it was hoped to have her walking by Christmas.

"At this point we are way ahead of schedule," he stated. "I hope to have her walking by Christmas."

Prison Official Sets Goal Of Training For Warden

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Board of Corrections wants a professional penologist to direct the state penitentiary, now that Gordon Cyril B. Siler has been fired.

Board of Corrections Chairman C. L. House said Deputy Warden Fred Abrams will act as warden for the time being. But he said it is hoped the board will name a professional penologist to take over the job in the fiscal year which begins July 1.

He said a salary of $20,000 to $25,000 would have to be offered. The board has been paying Siler $16,000.

Siler was fired Tuesday because, House said, "his inability to gain cooperation of employees and to effectively administer the affairs" of the prison.

Siler, who served as prison chaplain under a former administration, had been warden since 1967. He is a former FBI prison minister.

House said the situation at the prison has been deteriorating for the past six months and had got to the point where changes had to be made.

"The far to be a team effort," House said, "he said Siler in the past six months had made no progress in getting the cooperation of the prison staff."

Siler said, "I got along with all but two or three of them. House said numerous walk-outs by prison trustees was not a factor in Siler's dismissal.

Manslaughter Trial Opens In Burley

BURLEY — The involuntary manslaughter trial of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hutchison opened Wednesday morning in district court here before Judge Sherman Bellwood.

The couple is charged with falling to provide medical attention to a minor child, as the result of the death last May 23 of their 4-year-old son, Michael Owen Hutchison. The child died of a heart ailment at the Cassia Memorial Hospital from the Parliet Motel here where the family was living.

Herrmann Bedke, Cassia county prosecuting attorney, is representing the state and the Hutchisons are being represented by Gordon Nelson, public defender from Cassia and Minidoka counties.

Jurors were being selected when court recessed Wednesday noon.

New Post

Congressman-elect Orval Hansen announced Wednesday the appointment of Louise Shaduck as his administrative assistant.

Miss Shaduck is presently executive director of the Idaho Department of Commerce and Development. She has held the post for over 10 years. Prior to that she was an administrative assistant to Sen. Henry Dworshak.

She will assume her new duties on Rep. Hansen's staff after the first of the year, it was reported.

Army Enlistment Program Listed

The Army is seeking qualified women for enlistment in the Women's Army Corps, SIC Clerancy M. Fulton, Twin Falls recruiter, announced Wednesday.

He said the following schools are open for November: clerk typist, motor pool, food service, communications center, specialists and treatment for eyes, ears, nose and throat.

Sgt. Fulton said the school of choice will be guaranteed to qualified young women. "Women will also be given enlistment leaves during the holiday."

Interested women may contact Sgt. Fulton at the Army Recruiting office, 245 Main Ave. W.

Scientific Site Closed To Public

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Construction of a protective levee at the Marmes archaeological site will close the area to visitors except on Sundays, Army Engineers announced Tuesday.

Engineers say bulldozers and other earth-moving equipment are working six days a week to complete the levee before winter rains behind the Lower Monument Dam on the Snake River.

The $1.2 million levee will prevent the water from reaching the archeological excavation which has yielded 11,000-year-old human bones, spear points and other artifacts of ancient origin.

The excavation is located about 60 miles west of Pullman.

U.S. Must Pay $1.2 Billion Extra For Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it will have to pay $1.2 billion more than planned for the first of its cargo planes, biggest planes ever made.

The report from the Pentagon came in the wake of a statement by A. E. Fitzgerald, an Air Force financial management official, who said his work could cost rise to $2 billion over estimates.

The Defense Department said the Air Force estimated the cost of the first of the new cargo planes would be $3.1 billion. The revised figure is $4.3 billion.

The Pentagon said the increase is due to higher labor and material costs, new technical difficulties and unexpected technical problems. The aircraft is built by Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Fitzgerald had told Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, that the cost increase was due to faulty cost estimating, poor cost control and "corporate strategy."

Spokane Voters Back Treatment Of City Water

SPOKANE (AP) — Results of absentee ballot counting indicate Spokane voters have endorsed fluoridation of the city's water supply.

Although the vote totals remain unofficial, the complete ballot count from the November 5 general election shows 71,342 votes for fluoridation and 21,009 votes against.

The balloting was advisory in nature and it will be up to the City Council whether fluoridation is carried out. The council, however, has indicated it will be guided by results of the referendum.

Another issue on the general election ballot whose outcome remains doubtful is the initiative ballot vote counted apparently lost by a narrow margin.

This was a proposed slum-provisioning ordinance that would have required the city to build a certain number of new units. The complete but unofficial results show 30,712 for the measure and 31,941 against.

Navy Men To Be Feted At Glenns Ferry

GLENN'S FERRY — Plans were made at Monday noon's meeting of the Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce to honor the seven local boys who are going into the Navy under the Budy program with a luncheon and a guest speaker, reports Bert Walker, president.

The Chamber also decided to help sponsor the Apaloosa horse show being contemplated by the Idaho-Oregon-Newspaper Apaloosa Horse Club in the spring.

Recess would be included, Walker said, and that the chamber was willing to "go along and do everything it could to encourage the show." About 150 persons from the northwest would be included.

Saturday the chamber and anyone else interested will meet at Hanson's Cafe at 8 a.m. to leave on a tour of Idaho State Prison in Boise. Walker stressed that anyone is welcome to make the trip, arranged by the chamber.

Prague Plants In Dispute

PRAGUE (AP) — Scattered token strikes broke out in Prague plants today in support of students, who announced they would prolong their massive sit-in demonstration by 24 hours.

The worker and student action was to protest loss of freedom following the Soviet-led invasion. It is a challenge to the country's Communist leaders, who have accommodated themselves to Moscow's demands.

In a few plants work actually was halted for 15 or 30 minutes. Whistles sounded from several factories in the industrial Vysehrad district as a show of worker solidarity in plants where there were no work stoppages.

The Prague Student Action Committee met overnight and said the occupation of university and college buildings scheduled next day will continue another 24 hours.

The committee said students are preparing with other young people, workers, farmers and intellectuals for "a decisive clash with some political reaction represented by disguised neo-Stalinists." It appealed for similar action from other workers in Bohemia and Moravia.

Nations Send Economists To Mull Crisis

BONN, Germany (AP) — Financial leaders of the world's 10 wealthiest nations met today in emergency session to discuss the future of the hard-pressed French franc and try to stabilize the international monetary system.

Central figures in the gathering were officials of the nations principally concerned, Economics Minister Karl Schiller of West Germany, current president of the group, Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, Roy Jenkins, and Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli of France.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler and William McCleskey Martin, chairman of the board of governors of the U.S. Federal Reserve, were on hand. But the United States appeared to be taking only a standby role in the crisis.

The other nations participating were Belgium, Canada, Italy, Japan, Netherlands and Sweden. Switzerland, a stronghold of international banking, was represented by an observer.

The meeting was held at the West German Economics Ministry, a converted army barracks in the Bonn suburb of Duisdorf.

FACING EXTINCTION

Since the turn of the century, at least 20 species of animals have been destroyed by man. Many of those facing extinction today are the American bald eagle, the polar bear, the giant tortoise, the timber wolf, the island parrot and the pygmy hippopotamus, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Samuelson Breaks Ground At Idaho Falls

IDaho FALLS (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson broke ground today in groundbreaking ceremonies for a new child development center which he said "will be leading in a most practical, cost-modest young human lives."

"The center," he added in his prepared remarks, "will be concerned with child development; with human happiness and equipping these young lives to cope with the future."

The governor said the center will be built to meet the needs of mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped children in the ten Eastern Idaho counties.

"The center will be used," he said, "to diagnose the care of children, many of whom have several handicaps. A program will be designed to help the children fit into the school system or otherwise gain a productive place in society."

Bids on the structure were opened Nov. 14. The apparent low offer of $166,459 was submitted by Clark Brothers of Idaho Falls.

Local sources provided $25,000. The remainder comes from state and federal funds.

Scales Of Justice

Though the average person may be more apt to challenge the wisdom of a lawyer than of a doctor, his attitude toward the two professions of law and medicine is similar—awe tinged with suspicion. He realizes that the one is indispensable to our physical well-being and that the other is essential to the preservation of a society whose ideal is the greatest good for the greatest number. Because of the esoteric bodies of knowledge they encompass, both professions are also a bit mysterious to the layman. They are closed circles to him, walled in with their peculiar languages which only the initiated can understand. Sometimes it appears as if doctors and lawyers want to keep in each other's familiarity, they seem to fear, will breed, if not contempt, something far less than admiration. Thus they make their own rules, discipline their own members and reject too-close scrutiny by non-doctors and non-lawyers. The result on the part of laymen is too often superstition where there should be appreciation, distrust where there should be confidence. Just as a man with a disease must place himself completely in the hands of his physician, so a man involved in litigation or charged with a crime must bet his economic security on his freedom and sometimes his life on the skill of his attorney. In the matter of law, however, there is a third party involved—the public. All you have to stake is the outcome of a case, especially when a crime against society has been committed.

Flabbergasted

Management says it's flabbergasted and understandably so at the rejection by the International Longshoremen's Association of an offer to increase wages and benefits $1.01 an hour over a three-year period, at East Coast and Gulf ports. The ILA feels that the $4.25 hourly wage the longshoremen will receive by 1970 is hardly a "magnificent" sum and the gain it represents will have been wiped out by inflation by then. It ignores what would be the union's own contribution to inflation, if the shippers agreed to the union's demand for $6 an hour, a six-hour day, plus two hours of overtime rates, or acquiesced in the union's desire to defeat the purpose of containerized cargo by stripping and reloading it, as it passes through port.

MR. SPECTATOR Study, Study, Study, Study

The men and women who are licensed to fly the light planes making up today's sky are not the same as the men and women who were licensed to fly in the days of the biplane. The pilots who fly the commercial aviation planes—the big jets, the medium passenger carrying planes and the air-taxis—do this as a part of holding their job. Most of the people who fly the light planes do it because they think it is the thing to do. And they are right. It is above and beyond the call of duty. More than 60 of these people—holding student, private or commercial licenses under government laws—completed eight hours of study Tuesday in Twin Falls just so they could become more efficient in what is, for the most part, their hobby. That's flying! These people, just before midnight put in that number of hours in completing the Federal Aviation Agency course called "Operation Raincheck." Held at the Idaho Power Co., auditorium, the course deals with a multitude of rules and regulations that go toward making flying safer, and toward making the pilots better pilots, more up on what is going on and more up on what is expected of them so far as regulations are concerned. Four experts were the "teachers" for the course. These four are Leo Peck, chief flight service station, Purcell, Donald Washington, chief flight control tower facilities; Elwood Plummer, Salt Lake City, air traffic controller; and Lloyd Graybill, head of the government weather bureau facilities at the research center here. With all the advances made in flying, it has become a precision task rather than one which permits the pilot to just get up and go from here to there. The rules are many and the regulations are many as the businessman-pilot or the just-for-fun pilot is expected to know them. At the study session Mr. Spectator helped to complete the study with the current driving requirements in the automobile world. Wholly inadequate driving exams, wholly inadequate written exams and so little emphasis on the rules of the road in all the years he drives. Seems that he starts out knowing much about what he is doing and knows less and less as time progresses.

WASHINGTON—While Jacqueline Onassis has been enjoying her honeymoon cruise through the fabled isles of Greece, some of this city's nosy social-historians have been studying up on the former first lady's Croesus-rich husband. One of the documents unearthed in this jet-set research, is a Senate report titled "Sale of Government-Owned Surplus Tanker-Vessels." It was published in 1952 by the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, now known as the McClellan committee after Chairman John L. McClellan, D., Ark.

By all rights the musty old document should be a reporter's dream in this stormy late autumn of 1968. In its time-worn pages, it links the names of Aristotle Onassis, Hubert Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon. Actually, however, the old report has some of the aroma of a late-late movie on television. Today's stars appear only briefly and are barely recognizable in the supporting roles they played in those not so far gone days. From the report, there emerges a rather seamy picture of some free-wheeling Washington operators, including an ex-congressman named Joseph E. Casey, and a number of fast-buck schemes keyed to the disposal of surplus tankers built by the government during World War II.

Scrooge

The subcommittee reported that a Panamanian firm, owned by Onassis and his cousins, did acquire an interest in a U.S. firm—United States Petroleum Carriers, Inc., which was organized and, with Casey's help, allotted four surplus U.S. tankers of the T-2 type. Within six months, according to the report, Onassis and his cousins had acquired a 49 per cent interest in the supposedly Texas-owned corporation. It further three per cent interest had been acquired by three U.S. citizens who were close business associates of Onassis. It seems clear to the subcommittee that United States Petroleum Carriers was organized as a device to obtain tanker vessels from the Maritime Commission, and following the allocation of four vessels to the corporation, the citizen stockholders from the Maritime Commission for the corporation to qualify as a citizen relinquished their stock interest and, with

PAUL HARVEY

From Texas comes word that Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D., has bet with friends that he can name the man who looks like him in the Democratic primary, when he is up for reelection in 1970. Yarborough, according to intimates, is betting on Lyndon B. Johnson. Despite President Johnson's avowed intentions to become a Texas educator, that looks like a reasonable bet. Despite his genuine love of the ranch, there are many here who think Johnson will be unable to adjust to the leisurely life of rancher-educator. Yarborough and the President are long-time political opponents and leaders of opposing groups of Texas Democrats. Vice President Humphrey was credited with a Texas-size miracle in the recent campaign when he was named by Yarborough and Gov. John Connally, a Johnson ally, to join forces publicly in his behalf.

The Skyjackers

The skyjacker must be intercepted. Before he can use his high-tech gun or knife to divert or destroy an airliner in flight, he must be detected and disarmed. The question is "How?" There is no simple motive, no standard MO for these incidents of piracy. The months of October and November, 1968, witnessed the following variety. Robbers tried to rob 39 aboard a Philippine airliner. In the resultant shoot-out at 10,000 feet, one passenger was killed and another injured. A bullet hole might have exploded the pressurized cabin and all aboard would surely have died. A Greek airliner out of Paris was turned back by armed pro- and anti-Communists who were interested only in distributing "Free Greece" leaflets to passengers. One of our airliners was diverted from Florida to Cuba by a black nationalist who threatened to seize "an American plane every day for 100 days." Passengers described him as a "kook," probably an narcissist. About that same time, a chartered light plane was diverted to Cuba by Alben Barkley, Jr. and a son, William Barkley. A Greek airliner out of Paris and three children, apparently fleeing overwhelming financial obligations. With a more-than-a-dozen of our planes which "went that way" during 1967 were commandeered by culpits for a variety of reasons and a variety of weapons. It's this "variety" which complicates detection and interception. With a microscope, such as those which guard our airports against the admission of metallic objects, the airlines could silently frisk passengers for any dangerous objects. A fluoroscope might not detect a plastic bomb. Further, irregular passengers might not be subjected to a cumulative dose of potentially harmful radiation. The FBI released a booklet in 1968 outlining suggested emergency procedures for flight crews but offering no panacea for airborne piracy. A 1961 federal law has helped little, it says; "Whoever commits or attempts to commit aircraft piracy as herein defined shall be punished by death." Yet there have been more than a dozen attempts since that law was written. The problem will increase. Air traffic has doubled in the past 10 years. This year more than 50 million tickets are sold. Now we are entering an era when airliners will carry 365 passengers. Eventually the CS-A may carry up to 600. The cost of each tragedy when it occurs. Sabotage for insurance is a separate problem. I am now talking about skyjacking and we must find some way to checkmate the skyjacker! The FAA, the ATA, the Congress, the ALPA—all are burning the lights over this some classified military research is encouraging. Eventually fallout from that research might rescue us. Meanwhile, the need is specific; means of surveillance without passengers knowing about it and without too many false alarms which would differentiate between lethal weapons and nonweapons. I am now aware of the weakness of our present system. I suggest no solution. Perhaps you can.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Bad Breath

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a very embarrassing problem, bad breath, and I don't know what to do to end it. I work with the public and must have a pleasing breath. Everything I eat affects my breath. My teeth are not the best, but I see a dentist. What can I do? I use a mouthwash. Please help. My family is suffering.—Mrs. H. When you say that "everything you eat affects your breath, it makes me wonder if you aren't on the wrong track. It doesn't seem reasonable that all food would have such effect. Therefore, by not dieting your suspicious, to something else, some bronchial or lung condition, your example, which can't be ruled out as a cause, can't be ruled out of what you do or don't eat. Bronchitis is one. Cystitis and AF. There are also conditions in the throat and nose that can cause bad breath and do not respond to mouthwash or any of the common remedies. I've outlined a list of number of other unsuspected causes of bad breath in my booklet, "Bad Breath Can Be Cured." It's being written in a booklet for immediate distribution. I suggest that you study some of these other causes. To get the booklet, by mail, send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Molner in care of Times-News. Dear Dr. Molner: I am ordering five of your booklets to send to friends and relatives. It's probably all right to send them to other people—but of course include a long, addressed, stamped envelope for each person and indicate clearly which booklet goes to which person.—A.Z.P. ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK Report: The Rocky Question

WASHINGTON—Shortly after the election, a leading Southern Missouri was so revered by reports that President-elect Nixon's Cabinet would reflect a liberal tinge that he telephoned John Mitchell, Nixon's former campaign manager who is now chief talent scout for the soon-to-be-named Nixon Cabinet. The Southern Republican told Mitchell that what disturbed him most was the report that Nixon planned to name Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York as Secretary of Defense. To Nixon's conservative supporters, said the Southerner, the appointment of Rockefeller would spread doom and pessimism both North and South. Mitchell, replying in a conciliatory vein, said nothing directly about Rockefeller. He reassured the Southern Republican that Nixon still stood squarely behind his pledge at the Miami Beach convention not to betray the South. The Southerner ended his brief talk with Mitchell greatly mollified. But in fact, far from settling the matter, the conversation only underscored how absolutely crucial to the fate and direction of the Nixon administration is the question whether Nixon does or does not offer his old Republican foe a top spot in the Nixon administration. Rockefeller is the quintessential symbol of the liberal, anti-Nixon, Eastern establishment wing of the Republican party. As such, it is Rockefeller who, for opposite reasons, arouses the most intense emotion among conservative and liberal party leaders. "I'd rather have some left-wing Democrat than Nelson Rockefeller," one Bourbon Republican from Illinois told us. "It's not that important about Rockefeller as one person," a liberal Republican Senator said. "It's a symbol. What Nixon does about Nelson will tell us whether this Administration is going to be open-ended or a tight little conservative clique." Nixon and Rockefeller have not had a single serious talk about the future. Their only contact since the election, in fact, came in the wee hours of Nov. 6, before Nixon's victory was certain. Nixon telephoned the Governor at his Manhattan apartment to thank him for his help during the campaign and, in a glancing reference, said he would need Rockefeller's help in the future. Even Nixon's closest associates claim they don't know what the President-elect has in mind for Rockefeller, if anything. But why they talk about Rockefeller—calling him first "very controversial" and only second "symbolic"—indicates some real reluctance by Nixon to invite him into the Administration. Moreover, with the conservative Mitchell now having been placed in charge of the Cabinet-level talent hunt, Rockefeller's fate inside the Nixon camp may not be in wholly friendly hands. It was Mitchell, for example, who was Gov. Spiro Agnew's chief protagonist for the Vice Presidential nomination at the Miami Beach convention. Although Mitchell has never revealed his inner thoughts about Rockefeller, some conservatives on the Nixon staff talk privately about fessing the Governor by naming an establishment Democrat to the post. Perhaps Mrs. Nixon could get in the way of David Rockefeller to the Treasury.

ART BUCHWALD Getting Ready For Nixon

WASHINGTON—The most important thing now that the election is over, is for Americans to prepare themselves for the next four years. It isn't too early to start putting outspen on the question, because that's the way President-elect Nixon likes it. The first thing you have to do is stop calling Mr. Nixon "Uncle Dick." In place of Lynda Bird, there'll be Tricia; in place of Lucie, there will be Julie. If nothing happens with the engagement between now and Inauguration Day, Julie will marry David Eisenhower. So the new first family will consist of Dick, Pat, Tricia, Julie and David, but not Chet. As for the first lady, Pat will have to do her own thing. Mrs. Kennedy was big on redecorating the White House. Mrs. Johnson bought American and Mrs. Nixon will have to find something else to do so she won't look as if she's copying the Democratic first lady. Perhaps Mrs. Nixon could get in the way of David Rockefeller to the Treasury. Shirts are out—but suburbs are in. The present attorney general, of course, is in. Wall St. is in—but the SEC is out. Minnie is in—but Bess is out. The press will be in at the beginning—but in six months it will be out. Robert Rockefeller and Romney are in. Jim Mayor Daley is out with both Democrats and Republicans. Golf is in and so is Key Biscayne. Abdominal scars are out—J. Edgar Hoover will probably still be in. The Supreme Court is out—J. William Vincent Penie is in—Jack Valenti is out. The New York Times, without question, is out. Needlepoint designs of the presidential seal, thanks to Julia Nixon, are in—but getting into bed with your parents is out. Runching is out—but shaving twice a day is in. Buckley's in—Buchwald's out. And last but not least, Spiro Agnew's foot is in.

Latin Official Offers To Boost Family 'Pay'

BUENOS AIRES, (AP) — where 21 million people live in an area half the size of the United States.

President Juan C. Ongania, is trying to counter pressure for birth control by offering to increase allowances for families with more than three children.

The allowance now is 2,100 pesos or $7 monthly per child. It is paid by the parent's employer until the child is 18 years old.

President Ongania, siding with the conservative bishops who control the Catholic Church in Argentina, has asserted obedience to the Pope's ruling on artificial birth control. The Church-oriented cultural club to which many top government officials belong, said in a statement that birth control violates the Pope's directives and church doctrine.

Many Argentines claim more procedures with contractors and births are necessary to populate the public, it was reported.

Plumbing Board Sets T.F. Meet

Members of the Idaho Plumbing Board will meet in Twin Falls at 10 a.m. Thursday to consider minor changes in state plumbing codes on mobile homes.

The meeting will be held at the Inn.

The code changes have been requested by manufacturers of mobile homes.

Board members will also be available to hear complaints and to discuss the code or plumbing.

Many Argentines claim more procedures with contractors and births are necessary to populate the public, it was reported.

Budget Director Says Idaho Needs $203 Million

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's budget director says a general fund budget for 1969 of $203 million will be recommended to the legislature in January.

James A. Defenbach, in remarks prepared for delivery to the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, outlined reasons this morning why he and Gov. Don W. Sanderson have arrived at the budget figure—$37 million more than the current budget.

Hearings Planned On Route

BOISE (AP) — Hearings will be held before the State Highway Board decides on any proposal to re-route U.S. 95 around Lewiston Hill, the board decided Tuesday.

Three proposals were discussed to make the North-South route safer and easier to drive where it winds up toward Lewiston from Lewiston's low elevation.

at its Tuesday meeting, the board appeared to favor the North Fork/Hatwai Creek plan, a 7.5-mile highway strip estimated to cost $7.5 million. Planning engineer Dean Tidale said the proposed project would require 4.9 miles of 7 per cent grade, or about the same as the proposed ridge route.

The ridge route, a 13.7-mile detour costing $9.7 million, would be the only alternative where the Memorial Bridge at Lewiston. The others would leave the existing Highway 95 about two miles east of Lewiston.

However, Tidale explained, it would require a great deal of cutting and filling.

Considerable discussion was devoted to the fact that the favored route would tend to bypass connections to West of the Chairman R. Doyle Rymms said he felt a two-lane connector between 95 and U.S. 195 should be considered in addition to the North-South route.

Sen. Jordan Refutes 'Fix' On Election

BOISE (AP) — Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, Tuesday said there was "nothing to a rumor that there was a deal between him and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, in the election."

Church was re-elected to a third Senate term, defeating Republican George Hansen.

Ousted Utah Prison Guards Defend Action Declare They Saw Prisoners Before Escape

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "I not only saw them all, but would ask for salary adjustments to encourage more applicants for prison posts."

The board also said it would require fulltime manning of guard towers in the maximum security yards. The tower was not manned during the escape.

Seven of the convicts were captured by Saturday night, but two were not arrested until Tuesday. Michael Patrick Jones, Berkeley, Calif., serving a term for the slaying of a policeman, and Frank Lopez, 26, Rock Springs, Wyo., serving time for grand larceny, were found hiding in an old automobile in a wrecking yard 20 miles south of the prison.

Lance and Kelbach were sentenced to execution for a Christmas shooting spree two years ago in which six persons died. Lance chose to die before a firing squad and Kelbach selected hanging. The convictions have been appealed. Lance's wife, Donna, is serving a term at the prison for attempting to smuggle a handgun to her husband.

Another escapee was William Walter, 35, convicted of slaying a prison guard.

Patches Of Fog Shade Highways

Patches of fog were reported in scattered areas throughout Idaho today, but most major highways were listed as bare and dry. Some sections had icy spots.

The highway and law enforcement departments listed these road conditions:

- Interstate 80-U.S. 10—Fourth of July Canyon and Lookout Pass, icy spots.
- U.S. 12—Lolo Pass, icy spots.

Rafferty Assails Unequal Dispersal Of Federal School Money To States

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — federal block grants to states be phased into practice.

Rafferty proposed statewide uniform intelligence tests; return of tax revenues to the state; creation of a secretary of education post in the Cabinet; and divorce of public education from politics.

He also disagreed with Tuesday's keynote speaker, Sen. Peter F. Dominick, R-Colo. Dominick had suggested broadening the scope of the program through financial control, Mrs. Koonitz said.

"If it is a good idea, let's do it now, not phase it in over the next three or four years," Rafferty said.

Elizabeth Koonitz, president of the National Education Association, said teacher militancy "has produced professionals who care," and is reflective of the quality among teaching staffs.

"We have long tried to produce independent, creative thinking, courage and other attributes in teachers and students. The docile nature of teachers offered no assistance to administrators faced with political influences and power over the school program through financial control," Mrs. Koonitz said.

FBI Probes Idaho Stabbing

BLACKFOOT (AP) — Investigation continues into the stabbing of a Fort Hall woman as she sat in a car near U.S. Highway 191 five miles south of Blackfoot last Thursday.

Nellie Warjack of Fort Hall was wounded by a knife and remained hospitalized Tuesday. "We're trying to find people who can shed some light on the incident, but right now we don't know when or if we'll be able to file charges," a Pocatello FBI agent said.

Wallace Faithful Hold To Firm Belief That Their 'Master' Will Rise Again

By TOM TIEDE
NEW YORK (NEA)—There's a new bumper sticker soon to appear on automobiles in the nation—George Wallace will rise again!

The slogan is part boast, part warning. And for millions of the Wallace faithful it is proud declaration that their master's will lives on.

Wallace has long insisted that his American Independent party can not be suffocated by a defeat at the polls. "We're too big, they're too many of us," he has repeatedly grinned. "We gonna be around now for a long time."

Many of his admirers believe it also. And across the nation thousands of them have already begun working toward 1970, 1972 and beyond.

"George didn't create this idea," says Hamp Graves, a top Wallace hand in Indiana. "He just got it moving again. And now, hell, ain't nobody going to stop us; we're going to build a permanent political force."

The building of this permanence, says the Wallaceites, begins at the national level. They speculate the party may go through some hierarchy shuffling, confusion, perhaps even merging and renaming. But then, structuring will begin.

Many realistic third-party workers feel the movement must organize along traditional specialties: a national chairman, functioning treasury and a semi-state-city chain of command. The belief is roots must go deep fast.

The party roots, they say, are already fairly well-grounded. Tom Coffey, Wallace's campaign headquarters co-ordinator, says he has recorded "more than 1,000 official campaign offices in the country and about half again that many unofficial ones. We have over 100 headquarters in California alone."

"The job now," says Gallion, "is to preserve as many of the offices as possible and to keep the volunteer workers interested. We have to establish tight communications so everybody'll know what everybody else is doing."

"We'll show the way in Alabama. We're going to keep the national headquarters going full speed and our volunteers (250 a day) will be as busy as ever."

Gallion also believes the party must begin endorsing candidates for local and national offices as soon as possible. He says it should be a problem since "we have got thousands of requests from prominent people to help them out."

The most important step, Gallion feels, is to fuse a sense of professionalism to the party. He compliments the "surprisingly effective" amateurs who have worked for Wallace, but admits they can be embarrassingly unpredictable.

"All the party needs to ruin it," says Gallion, "is some Kluxer mouthing off." The professionals prevent this kind of indiscretion, he says, and at the same time keep the sheep from straying a way through un-

Some third-party people go a step further on professionalism.

They believe that Wallace himself may eventually have to go. With all his skills, they explain, his national image has something of the minor league about it.

Whisperers one southerner: "George is really too blunt at times. And he's been hampered by the 'Nigra' thing, too. I don't think we ought to rule out a more appealing face — Ronald Reagan, maybe, or somebody like that."

Wallace doubters, however, have not surfaced in any numbers as of yet. There's no anti-Wallace movement afoot. He is still the symbol of the throne.

"Without George," a California John Bircher says, "we'd fall apart. We need him more than ever now. For one thing he controls all the funds and will take a hell of a lot of money to buck the old two-party system."

According to history, it'll take more than money. There have been less than a dozen parties of consequence in American electioneering, and only four (in modern times) besides Wallace's that could be fairly labeled major third-party threats.

The other four—Teddy Roosevelt's Bull Moose, Bob LaFollette's Progressive, Henry Wallace's Progressive and Strom Thurmond's States Rights—made what amounted to single, bold inroads in the established voting patterns before erosion of interest relegated them to the political garbage dump.

Still, in spite of the odds, the American Independents are adamant.

"You know who we got on our side," says WETI's A.C. "Red necks, peckerwoods, woolhats and neopickers. In other words, legit children in the development of an outdoor recreation program along the trail."

Ship Collision Kills 6 Persons
MANILA (AP) — At least six persons drowned when the inter-island ferry Irana and the British freighter Eastern Moon collided Monday night in Cebu harbor, navy headquarters said today. The Irana sank, and the first report of the collision said 200 persons were missing.

Reports from Cebu said seven persons were killed, but a navy spokesman said only six bodies had been recovered, three children and three adults. The search is continuing.

Press reports said 81 surviving passengers and crewmen from the Irana had been accounted for. No one was hurt aboard the 5,328-ton British freighter.

YOUTH PLAN DETAILED
PORTLAND (AP) — National Lewis and Clark Trail Commission delegates heard in a business report Tuesday the commission will continue work on a program to involve underprivileged children in the development of an outdoor recreation program along the trail.

World's Finest Bourbon a 173-Year-Old Secret

CHICAGO, ILL.—Before you can call yourself the world's finest anything, you'd better have a case in your favor.

Jim Beam Bourbon has that "case."

The whole matter started with Jacob Beam—who would be 200 years old this year—and a secret he discovered.

The secret, in the case of Jim Beam Bourbon, goes back to 1796, and it is still hush today. This secret lay in the heart of Kentucky where there was, and is today, a right combination of climate. The right hand formula: the perfect formula.

In north central Kentucky Jacob Beam found clear, free water—water free from limestone impurities that would ruin the very best Bourbon in the world.

Out to make his own rolling country, he had his own private distillery.

His own private distillery.

Civil Rights Is Topic Of LBJ's Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson told civil rights leaders Tuesday night that there can be no rest now in the fight to break down barriers and obtain equal opportunity for all Americans.

He urged funds for programs now under way — and enforcement of civil rights laws now on the books.

"We have come a long way" in efforts to banish bigotry and move toward one America. "In which the races of man have learned tolerance and respect," he said, "but we are nowhere in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Johnson flew to New York to address a dinner of the Urban League, an organization devoted to the promotion of civil rights, with no advance disclosure of his travel plans.

In his prepared dinner speech, the President said he had come "to reaffirm my dedication to civil rights in America."

He cited statistics of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, pointing to low percentages of employment of Negroes and Puerto Ricans among some 4,200 New York businesses.

Canadians Ponder Alliance

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian government is considering whether to increase its forces assigned to the North American Defense Command, decrease them or pull out of NORAD, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told the House of Commons Tuesday.

Trudeau said Canada's part in the command, in which it is the only nation to have troops, is "indirectly" included in a government review of foreign and defense policy now being made.

If Canada decides to contribute nothing to the joint U.S.-Canada command, established in 1958 with headquarters in Colorado, the agreement would become defunct, he said.

If Canada decreases its commitment but does not eliminate it, Trudeau continued, the NORAD agreement can exist with "very little arms from one side or the other."

He added that Canada might decide to increase its arms commitment.

Canada renewed the NORAD pact for a five-year term expiring in 1973. The Canadian commitment includes three Voodoo intercepter squadrons and two Bomarc missile sites, both defenses against bombers.

Canada and the United States have the right to withdraw from NORAD on a year's notice.

Asked whether additional U.S. troops might be stationed on Canadian soil if Ottawa reduces its commitment to NORAD, Trudeau said: "Of course it is a possibility, but I would not suggest it as a likelihood."

He refused to elaborate on whether any definite policy decision had been made beyond saying "the government may or may not change its mind."

Canadians have a right to know, said Trudeau, "but the trouble is, if we are to tell them our policy before reviewing it, there would be little purpose in reviewing it."

Months ago Trudeau had indicated his interest in maintaining a good North American defense system. There has been talk in Ottawa that Canada might renege its North Atlantic Treaty Organization force in Europe, which consists of a 5,000-man brigade and an air division.

Trudeau said Tuesday that policy which began last week involves "what kind of defense policy we need, whether in or out of NATO, in or out of NORAD and so on."

MINISKIRTS DO MAKE a difference, apparently, Temre Jaco, bottom, a junior student at California State College, Long Beach, quickly gets offers of assistance for her stalled car, in a test of pulchritude versus courtesy. Mrs. Ula B. Scanlon, top, is bypassed by a hitchhiker and has to wait 17 minutes for someone to offer help. A photographer shot the pictures from a location across the street in a test of who does best among ladies in miniskirts. (AP wire photo)

'Pulchritude' Tops 'Charity' In Test Of Car-Troubled Ladies

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Among ladies in distress. Standing fortly beside an automobile stalled just off the Pacific Coast highway stood, on different days: (1) A shapely lass of 19 in a miniskirt and (2) A grandmotherly type of 75. It was a test of who does best among ladies in distress. Within three minutes after pretty Temre Jaco took up her position beside the car the first of a parade of males stopped to try to rescue her. Each time the scene was restaged at a different location, she had an offer of assistance within three minutes. But 17 minutes went by before the first good Samaritan stopped for the older hitchhiker, Ula B. Scanlon.

Valley Traffic Courts

Maxine Watson, 32, 1229 Co-nint Ave., Burley, was fined $10 by Burley Police Judge Richard E. Willis for stop traffic light violation and $10 for an expired driver's license.

Robert I. Mitchell, 28, Hwy. 25, was fined $5 by Judge Willis for expired driver's license and $15 for improper brakes.

Ruby L. Southern, 57, 1418 Elba Ave., Burley, was fined $10 by Judge Willis for stop sign violation. John E. Burkert, 34, Rupert, was fined $15 by Judge Willis for failure to yield the right of way.

Lady Bird Asks Litter Removal

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, who has "The First Lady of Beautification," urges manufacturers to help solve the litter problem by producing a package "that will disintegrate or is worth redeeming."

The nation's First Lady was honored Tuesday by Keep America Beautiful, Inc. for her endeavors to clean up and beautify both cities and the countryside.

"It will take effort and money to develop ways to salvage and reuse the products" that have been so lavishly discarded, she said, "but the social cost of not doing so is even higher."

ply the loss to this year's income and then go out and repurchase the issue.

The rule states that the tax loss will not be allowed if within 31 days the taxpayer buys the same or substantially the same security. Such transactions are termed wash sales.

Caution also should be used in deciding to get rid of a stock. Simply to realize a savings on income taxes isn't always the best reason for selling. As in any purchase or sale, funds available if the stock must be considered.

Secretary? British Group Pushing Plan To Bring Historic Vessel Home From Falklands

BOISE (AP) — Unsuccessful Senate candidate George Hansen is under consideration for appointment to President-elect Richard M. Nixon's cabinet. Idaho Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa said Tuesday.

By GLENN GOODEY
BRISTOL, England (AP) — How do you make the descendants of Drake and Nelson care enough about their naval history to pay $50,000 pounds ($12.2 million) on the line to bring home a 125-year-old rusting chunk of it from the other side of the world?

That's the problem facing Robert Badley, 56-year-old British stockbroker.

He heads a group of British businessmen who feel that the steamship Great Britain, which has been gathering barnacles in Sparrow Cove in the Falkland Islands since 1888, has been away from home far too long.

PTA Learns Of Remedial Reading

SHOSHONE — Mrs. William Flavel presented a program on remedial reading at the PTA meeting held Monday night at the Lincoln school auditorium.

'Airplane' Combo Crashlands In Rooftop 'Concert'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jefferson Airplane, a rock music group, bombed out Tuesday as far as the police were concerned and their rooftop renditions resulted in a bumpy landing for actor Rita Moran.

She was launched at Bristol in 1843 by Prince Albert, the Prince Consort, when Queen Victoria had been on the throne just six years.

She was 322 feet long with a beam of 50 feet and was called the "monster of the deep" or the "mammoth of the ocean."

DEER 'GOOFS' CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)

A white tail deer crashed through the plateglass display window at a furniture store Tuesday. The deer then jumped back onto the street, bounded out of town and into the woods about a mile away.

The guitar noise got the better of guesst and tied up traffic on the streets below.

In 1846 she ran aground on the Irish coast and the cost of salvage almost bankrupted the owners. But her ability to withstand the pounding surf convinced even the most skeptical that iron was the material for future shipbuilding.

Her maiden voyage to New York in 1845 was accomplished in a record 15 days.

Commission Asks Vote For Attorney As Vice President

SEATTLE (AP) — Chances are you've never heard of Erick D. Dimoff, 37, the commission on Election Reform's ideal candidate for vice president.

Dimoff, a Seattle attorney, speaks Russian and French and that, says the commission, could allow him to negotiate effectively with Russia and France.

So the group is asking the nation's presidential electors to cast a vote for Dimoff for vice president.

The main interest of the commission is in reforming the election process in the United States. Dr. Peter Kotzer, 34, a physician at the University of Washington and commission spokesman said Tuesday. "There are several routes you can take, but in 1972 the election of the President will be carried out by the people."

Kotzer said the committee is campaigning for direct popular

EVER WONDER WHAT a fire sale looks like from the outside? Wonder no more. This is the scene of a fire sale a few minutes before it starts. An estimated 400 women crowded into the downtown Twin Falls area Tuesday to take part in the Paris Co. Smoke sale. The sale followed a fire in the Paris building a week ago. More than $130,000 worth of stock was put up for sale. Items went quickly and steadily throughout the day. Traffic also was backed up in the downtown area.

Fund-Raisers

Lag In Filing Election Tally

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Clerk W. Pat Jennings says the names of 21 campaign fund-raising committees, 20 of them Republican, that filed late financial reports have been sent to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The committees' treasurers Jennings said Tuesday, "did not comply with the time requirements as set forth in the Federal Corrupt Practices Act."

With a change of administrations less than two months away, it appeared likely enforcement of the statute's provisions would be left to Clark's successor.

Reports to the House Clerk are required 10 days and again five days before the election.

The 20 GOP committees listed by Jennings raised nearly all the $14.6 million reported by President-elect Richard M. Nixon's campaign supporters so far.

The one Democratic committee was the National Congressional Committee for Humphrey, a Cincinnati, Ohio, group that was not officially associated with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's national campaign.

Pomerelle Ski Area Slates Opening Date

ALBION — An opening date of Thanksgiving is anticipated for Pomerelle Ski Area according to Con DeThomas, general manager.

The current snow depth of several inches is expected to increase with additional snowfall, he said.

Considerable work has been done at the lodge the past summer, including work on the main lift, repair work on fireplaces and towers. Several hundred posts were hauled from the higher slopes and cut up for use in the fireplace.

Mr. DeThomas reports the lift will run Wednesday through Sunday of each week, from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. A cafeteria which is equipped to handle up to 800 skiers per day will operate Saturday and Sundays.

Seven major runs are available to skiers at Pomerelle with numerous smaller trails throughout the area.

Soviets Want U. S. In Southeast Asia

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Russia wants a U.S. military presence in Southeast Asia even after peace comes to Vietnam, diplomats with close ties to the Kremlin said Monday.

The diplomats, Russian and East European, declined to be quoted by name.

The implication of their remarks was that the Russians were hoping to work out some form of collaboration with President-elect Richard M. Nixon on peacekeeping in the area.

There was no way of determining whether they were attempting to mislead or floating rumors in advance of the takeover by the new administration.

"We have no objection to bilateral agreements between the United States and Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore, Indonesia or the Philippines," one Russian informant said.

In an interview, he emphasized bilateral accords, apparently excluding such collective security pacts as the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization or the Australia-New Zealand-United States-ANZUS-agreement.

Asked if the Soviet government would object to establishment of military bases, he replied: "You already have bases in Thailand, why remove them?"

Apparently referring to Communist China, he added: "You must remember that both our countries face the same threat in Asia and you know who I mean."

Official Views College Unrest As 'Inevitable'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Turmoil on college campuses today is "the inevitable characteristic of a rapidly changing world," says the president of the California Institute of Technology.

"An educational system not in turmoil," Dr. Lee A. Duhrig said Tuesday in his annual report to the school's trustees, "would be one that is surely dead."

The universities' success—not failure—have brought on disruptions, Duhrig said, adding that "despite its faults, our educational system gives more and more opportunities to young people than any other in existence—or in the history of civilization."

South Korean Finds Family Slain By Reds

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean reserve officer returned home from a night of searching for North Korean guerrillas to death and his cow and 10 fowl and two daughters massacred, apparently by the North Koreans, the Defense Ministry reported.

The North Koreans have been the object of a massive search since about 80 of them landed on South Korea's east coast, early this month. Thirty-seven have been killed and two captured.

Ko U-Sik, 27, a reserve corps platoon leader, had been taking part in a night search through the rugged, mountainous area about 100 miles east of Seoul. When he returned to his home in P'yongchang County this morning, he found his whole family beaten and stabbed to death and his cow and 10 fowl and two daughters massacred, apparently by the North Koreans, the Defense Ministry reported.

The Defense ministry said the footprints of a group of men led from Ko's isolated farm home into the uninhabited mountains.

Your first thought is that Chevy is a good looking pickup...

Here are some second thoughts:

work truck playmate second car camper

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rook hunting. Collecting antiques. Etcetera.

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere. Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end, features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8 1/2 ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-inch.

Under the rugged chassis, coil springs take care of bumps. Inside, thick foam seats take care of you.

There's a lot more. And more you can order. Like: power steering and air conditioning. It all adds up to a good deal any way you look at it. See your Chevrolet dealer for all the facts and the good word on low price.

Marriage OK Is Hope Of Former Priest

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — A former Catholic priest who married a former nun, and later was accorded recognition by the Vatican, hopes the church will act without delay in similar cases in the future.

"I would like to interpret the speed and graciousness of the dispensation as an indication that Rome is willing to move with more haste in similar cases," said George Frein. He added that he referred to cases involving both laymen and priests.

Bishop Leo F. Dworschak of the Fargo, N.D., Diocese announced Monday that the Frein marriage had been recognized by the Vatican. He said the marriage was obtained from the Vatican. He said the marriage now is recognized by the church and the Freins are in full sacramental communion with the church.

Gunfight Wounds 3 Officers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto called for a grand jury investigation of the Black Panthers following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Eight Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted within 100 yards of a police station after two cruising patrolmen stopped a panel truck minutes after a service station hold-up.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 51, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the van which had Black Panther placards on its side. "Service" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat fired," said John Paul, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

LT. Dermot Creadon, 30, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation "into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Creadon and Flynn remained in critical condition today.

Three officers were in a car which was an emergency call from Creadon.

LT. Michael O'Mahoney said: "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an alleyway next to a church."

O'Mahoney was wounded in the hand, but said the three came out of the church with their hands up after he fired three warning shots.

The other officers with O'Mahoney ran to the van.

"Five men in the back of the truck started to get out and covered them with my gun and ordered them back in and locked them in," said officer John Hanifin.

The gunfire brought other officers running from the nearby Hall of Justice.

Those arrested included Ray Lewis, 28, of San Francisco, writer of the Black Panther, the militant Negro group's publication.

Others were listed as Wilford Holly, 25, of Oakland, a frequent contributor to the paper; Wayne Smith, 37, a Black Panther; the man for Oakland; and Sam Napier, age unavailable; John Bowman, 21; Lennox Merritt, 16; Harill Hill, 17, and Richard Brown, 27, all of San Francisco.

Police Stand By As Classes Reopen At Troubled College

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With police on standby basis, school officials arranged to reopen San Francisco State College today. It was shut down last Thursday because of campus violence.

The dean of the seven schools... and I have decided to resume... a full class schedule," said President Robert Smith Tuesday night in rejecting a faculty proposal for a single campus-wide class for today.

The faculty called for a dialogue between Smith and the striking Black Students Union which would be piped to classrooms.

Smith earlier had told students that the campus would remain open in compliance with a state college trustees order, but police protection would be necessary. The trustees said violence and threat of violence would not be tolerated on any of the 18 state college campuses.

Smith was booed and jeered when he said: "It is crucial that we turn more to the community — to law enforcement agencies — to try to control violence on this campus."

Some white students later said they had voted to picket all classes, conduct classroom education disruptions and "defend ourselves if attacked by police."

Campus disorders erupted earlier—the state college system chancellor, Glenn Dumke, ordered Black Panther George Murray suspended for 30 days as a part-time instructor and graduate student pending an investigation. Murray had urged Negro students to carry guns on campus.

The Black Students Union demanded Murray's reinstatement and also called for more courses in Negro culture and admission of more minority students. Most of the school's 18,000 students are white.

JFK Told Doctors To Keep His Ailments From Jackie

NEW YORK (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's personal physician says Kennedy, with an injured back and a deficiency of the adrenals, told her not to discuss his physical problems with his wife.

The physician, Dr. Janet C. Travell, writes in the current McCall's magazine that Kennedy, then 38 and 12 years older than Mrs. Kennedy, said, "I don't want her to think she married either an old man or a cripple."

Dr. Travell wrote how she knocked down a rumor that Kennedy had Addison's disease in a report he asked her to write for him a year before the 1960 Democratic convention in Los Angeles.

At that time she wrote that Kennedy had never had either of the "readily visible" signs of the disease—hush discoloration of the mucus membranes of the mouth and deep pigmentation of the skin.

The Addison's disease rumor crept up just before the convention, says Dr. Travell, and Robert F. Kennedy, campaign

Mali President Held By Senegal

—DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Reports to Dakar today said that President Modibo Keita of neighboring Mali, who was overthrown by the army Tuesday, has been arrested with his cabinet.

There was no indication where they were being held or whether they would be put on trial.

The government radio in Bamako, capital of the former French colony in West Africa, said today that messages of support from all parts of the country were coming in to the new military regime. A "national salvation committee" headed by Lt. Moussa Traore took power after a crisis which has been building up for months.

LBJ Urges 'Rights' Effort

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson... in an indirect challenge to his Republican successor, says many civil rights gains have been made in the last five years "but we are nowhere in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Addressing the National Urban League here Tuesday night, Johnson called on government, business and labor as well as the news media and schools to give Americans what he called "the right to opportunity."

He said, "we can expand our economy and resist those voices who call for a little more unemployment as medicine for inflation"—an indirect criticism of some economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon who have said an increase in unemployment would help fight inflation.

"I promise you one thing," Johnson said. "For as long as I live, I shall remain joined with you in fighting for that right to opportunity."

Johnson made his remarks, which were relatively short and vainglorious in tone, in an address at the New York Hilton Hotel to the 12th annual Equal Opportunity Days awards dinner of the Urban League, an organization devoted to the promotion of civil rights.

Whitney M. Young, executive director of the league, announced at the meeting the establishment of a $100,000 Lyndon Baines Johnson scholarship fund at the University of Texas to annually aid a "deserving black youngster" studying public affairs.

In his speech Johnson recounted the strides—and some of the setbacks—Negroes had made during the past five years of his administration. He noted that incomes for Negroes had risen and the infant mortality rate among Negroes had declined.

But he also noted that income of Negroes is still only 60 per cent of whites' incomes; one Negro family in three still lives in poverty; millions of Negroes are still relegated to menial jobs; one out of four Negro teenagers is unemployed and the Negro infant mortality rate is still three times that of whites.

"We have come a long way," he said. "We have made a lot of verbal commitments. We have even changed a great many lives already for the better. But we are nowhere in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Oil Drilling Set In Center Of Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Signal Oil & Gas Co. will start drill for oil under the downtown civic center, digging under and around the music center, hall of records, the courthouse and the county jail.

The contract was awarded Tuesday by the board of supervisors on Signal's high bid of $137,085. The county will get one-sixth royalty on all production in the 65-acre lease.

In a separate lease, the county retirement board accepted Signal's high bid of $421,180, plus one-sixth royalty, to drill under 20 acres held by the board—including the hall of administration.

Local governmental units receive several million dollars annually from oil royalties.

'First-Class' Postmaster May Lose Job With U. S.

CUBAGE, Ky. (AP) — This southern Kentucky mountain village may have a fourth class Post Office, but most any of its 75 families will tell you it's got a first-class postmaster. And Otis Cowan, a displaced farmer celebrating his 70th anniversary as postmaster here, figures he may be the last to hold the job. The Post Office Department has announced plans to suspend service at several similar fourth class Post Offices across the country.

But while he's here, Cowan says he intends to see that Cubage's postal patrons get the best service Uncle Sam's Post Office can offer.

"I can handle anything here that they can in the big city offices," he says, "all except international money orders, that is, and I don't get no calls for them."

Cowan conducts the Post Office business from a small shelf built under the window of a tiny, unpainted frame building beside a rural road in southeastern Bell County.

He doesn't sort or deliver mail. Cubage is on a Star Route and the mail for its patrons is

Draft Boards Add Minority Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System says the proportion of minority group members serving on local draft boards has doubled in the last year.

The system said Tuesday the number of Negroes, Spanish-Americans, Indians and Orientals serving on the nation's 4,000 boards went from 1,001 in October last year to 2,108 this year. Six per cent of draft board members last year were drawn from the four groups, compared to 12 per cent this year.

Selective Service adopted

about a year ago the goal of increasing minority representation.

Careful Conservation Offers New Life To Parched Everglades

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The bountiful "River of Grass" once again will be forced to the brink of destruction. The wide, shallow river that for centuries poured over the south rim of Lake Okechobee and drifted slowly down through the sawgrass to the sea runs as it did before. It nourishes thousands of ponds, swales and sloughs filled with fish and crustaceans. On this rich food supply, birds, animals and reptiles thrive.

"There is plenty of food now for everything out there," says Francis Nix, the park's hydraulic engineer.

The restoration of the park was brought about by two months of record-breaking rains, and a discovery that Florida has water enough, if properly controlled, for both man and beast.

In May and June, double the normal amount of rain deluged the Everglades. And since June, water from the reservoirs of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District have been wide open, pouring excess water southward into the park.

No one can be sure how much permanent damage the park has suffered from drought and man's interference with the balances of nature. When there is plenty of water, wildlife is scattered over the park's 1.5 million acres.

Rare birds like the roseate spoonbill, egret and white heron, which once inhabited the park in large numbers, are making a comeback. It is estimated that 50,000 birds now occupy the mainland area. And with plenty of food, a good nesting season is in prospect this winter.

The alligator, one of the park's most prized denizens, has been badly hurt, but more by poachers than by drought. The population has been slashed 95 per cent since the 1930s.

Pressure on Congress led to recent approval of a construction program that will improve storage and distribution facilities of the flood control district. It promises the park a minimum of 315,000-acre-feet of water a year, through the floodgates. In this wet year, the park already has received 700,000 acre-feet.

Nix knows that human demands of the future could revive again the cries, "Water for alligators or people?" and "Birds can't vote." These were heard in 1966 when the National Audubon Society and other conservation groups—fighting to stave off a monumental tragedy in the park—argued that enough water should be spared from the reservoirs to save the wildlife.

Teddy's Friend Plans New Visit To White House

SEATTLE (AP) — A man who says he "used to take Teddy Roosevelt's kids to roller skate" plans to return to the White House tonight for his first visit since 1910.

William R. Fletcher, 84, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish-War Veterans, and his wife have been invited to a White House reception for the heads of the nation's veterans organizations.

Fletcher said his earlier White House visits came while he was stationed at a gun factory in Washington.

"I used to take Teddy Roosevelt's kids to roller skate Saturday mornings," he said. "It was because it was a pretty good roller skate. I used to pick them up at the White House."

Tests Charted Of Computers For Missile

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AP) — The pulsed-laser and computer systems of the Air Force's new air-ground short range attack missile (SRAM) are to be tested Friday over White Sands Missile Range.

The Air Force is saying very little about the missile except that it has a range of more than 100 miles and can be launched by aircraft well out of range of enemy defenses.

Wreath Cluster Honors RFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cluster of wreaths marked the grave of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, the 43rd anniversary of his birth.

Kennedy, who was assassinated in Los Angeles last June, is buried in Arlington National Cemetery next to the eternal flame over the grave of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Friday is the fifth anniversary of the president's assassination.

Nine wreaths were placed Tuesday at the small white cross that marks Robert Kennedy's grave until a permanent memorial being planned by the family can be installed.

The flowers on one wreath spotted out:

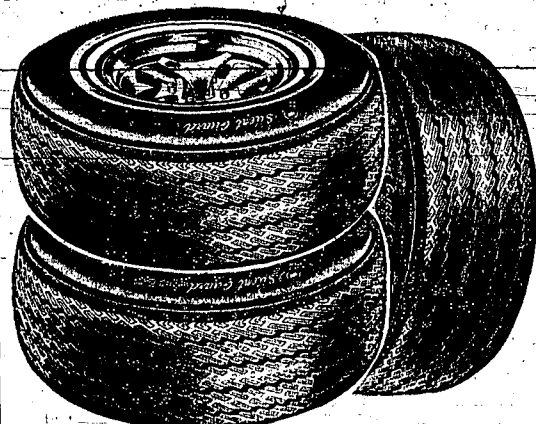

"We dream, Bobby, and ask why you died. The words echo Kennedy's remark, 'Some people see things as they are and say, 'Why?' I dream things that never were and say, 'Why not?'"

Kennedy's widow, Ethel, who is expecting her 11th child, was under doctor's orders to rest at her McLean, Va., home. She wasn't expected to visit the grave.

LEGISLATIVE LINEUP

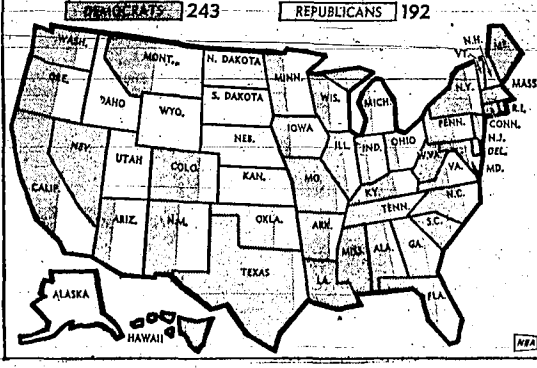

Republicans picked up some 50 additional legislative seats in the 1968 elections, for short of the more than 500 they gained in 1958, but enough to give the GOP full control of 20 state legislatures, as many as the Democrats control. In eight other states, Republicans control one house and Democrats the other. Legislatures are elected on a non-partisan basis in Minnesota and Nebraska.

CHICAGO (AP) - Wheat futures fell nearly 4 cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade today and corn and soybeans dropped more than 2 cents in active liquidation that hit all crops. A principal factor in the decline of wheat prices was an announcement that Japan would suspend wheat imports from the United States pending results of an investigation that damaged grain - allegedly was shipped from the U.S. to Japan. Japan is one of this country's best customers of soybeans and grain and this decision could hold off sales at a critical period. Before the suspension was reported there was a noticeable reaction in the futures market to the nervous word financial condition. Wheat gave up 2 cents in early dealings and increased the loss later. A small rally occurred at the close.

Successful Investing

Q. Could you clarify for me what a warrant is? - B. L.

A. Warrants, which were used commonly in the 1920s, have again become important and therefore should be understood by the investor.

Warrants frequently are used by an acquiring company in conjunction with other securities to sweeten a merger offer. They also figure in some refinancing arrangements and occasionally warrants are attached to a common stock offering. At times an underwriting firm receives warrants as part of its fee for arranging the financing.

Although a warrant gives the holder the right to buy stock for a stated price usually within a specified period of time, it does not represent ownership in the corporation, nor does it pay dividends.

The main value is in the leverage a warrant affords a trader. For example, since January, GAC Corp. warrants - trading at about half the price of common stock - moved up 106 percent while the common gained only 73 percent. Leverage

Turkey Growers Asked To Curb Crop In 1969

WASHINGTON (AP) - Spokesmen for the nation's turkey industry recommend that producers hold their 1969 production to this year's level of 106.9 million birds, says the Agriculture Department.

Industry producers and processors met with department officials last week to map guidelines for next year's production. Department officials said Tuesday demand for turkey meat in 1969 will be only slightly higher than this year because of increased supplies of red meat and broiler chickens.

Supplies of frozen turkeys also are expected to be larger on Jan. 1 than in recent years, the department said.

Sugar Firm Says Income Drops In Year

OGDEN, Utah (AP) - The Amalgamated Sugar Co. today reported net income of $5,799, 900, equal to 25¢ per common share for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30.

That compares with earnings of $6,743,000 or $3.16 per share in fiscal 1967, which was the company's record year for profit.

Fiscal 1968 sales were $88,800,000 and compare with total revenue of $79,292,000 for the prior year. The company produced 7,170,000 bags or hundredweights of sugar in fiscal 1968, approximately 715,000 more than in 1967.

Amalgamated President A. E. Benning described the financial results as "reasonably good," but said the company anticipates improvement in the current fiscal year if marketing conditions are normal.

He said increased sugar beet prices and relatively high unit production costs in 1968 accompanied by the low sugar content of last year's beets were factors in the lower level of earnings.

Court Backs Rail Merger Of 3 Lines

WASHINGTON (AP) - Merger of three railroads known as the Northern Lines was approved by a special three-judge federal court today.

The merger had been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, but the Justice Department brought suit in court, contending the merger would eliminate traditional strong competition in the area.

The special court rejected the department's request for a permanent injunction to block the merger. It stayed its decision for 15 days, however, to permit filing of a possible appeal.

The merger would unite railroad systems with 26,000 miles of line stretching from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, and from the Great Lakes to the Pacific.

The major lines involved are the Great Northern Railway Co., the Northern Pacific, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad.

Total assets of the three are about $3.15 billion.

The ICC rejected the merger in April 1965, the same day it approved the giant Pennsylvania-New York Central merger.

But it reversed itself 18 months later, saying it was carrying out the congressional policy of encouraging restructurings of the nation's railroad lines.

The merger would have been approved last May had the Justice Department not intervened.

The department contended the merger would lessen competition in the area served by the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific. It charged also that a possibly illegal agreement may have been made concerning rail service to the city of Milwaukee.

Three Teams Considered For SIC Membership And Division Split Proposed

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

The Southern Idaho Conference will meet in Twin Falls Nov. 25, ostensibly for scheduling of football games, but at the end of the session the league very probably will be a third again as large and scheduled on a geographical split basis.

Southern Cal Awaits Rose Bowl Opponent

By The Associated Press

Southern California's Trojans increased their hold on the No. 1 spot in major college football Tuesday, and now will be ranked No. 1 in the nation by the Associated Press.

For Twin Falls the squeeze is on for other schools. It might be the logical answer to a problem that has been plaguing the school for years. The fact is that the Southern Idaho and Idaho conferences, as they exist today, are in for a shakeup within the next two weeks.

In the end it may become a matter of Twin Falls' past policies have been pointed west. It is difficult to assess the true worth of Twin Falls in this case since it is in the midst of a pawn in an Eastern Idaho, Boise area search for answers to a football problem.

In a few thousand well-chosen words let us view the prospects of athletic change when the Southern Idaho and Eastern Idaho conference's interests get together.

In the first place the Eastern Idaho Conference, due to a whopping imbalance of student enrollment, associations of the past and hopes for the future were not bright on the day of its birth.

The EIC is an outgrowth of the unrest of athletic director Jack Young of Idaho Falls, now gone, and the steady decline of relations within the Cross State Conference.

For many years Idaho Falls didn't want to be in the then Big Six. In a two-year period of the early 1950s it withdrew from championship consideration in football and basketball, not playing all the teams, and participated in basketball.

When it returned its pleasure with SIC in a fresh up was gauged by its winning it. It was happy, if losing unhappy. Its most legitimate complaint was the cost of traveling to the Boise area to play.

As the Boise area to play alternative plans. These plans could not be brought to bear until Skyline became a reality. Pocatello and Highland became available and Minico and Burley, the big brothers in the Cross State, were given a per capita ride into oblivion, as it were, by a majority of the members.

This sequence set up formation of the Eastern Idaho Conference. Pocatello's schools liked the idea of this arrangement — conference games in easy traveling distances. The EIC developed a transportation equalization plan which more than paid for the extra trip the Pocatello schools made west.

After that, the league will be divided east and west with those three schools along with Highland and Pocatello of Pocatello in the east and the eastern half; Borah, Boise and Capital of Boise, Meridian, Nampa and Caldwell in the west.

The schedule will probably run this way — all division members meeting annually and picking up the other three on alternate years. There will be no provision for playoff since they would have to come at the end of the conference year.

and would disrupt the lucrative and traditional Veterans' Day games.

The plan appears capable of accommodating the wishes of all with the exception of Twin Falls which would prefer to be in the western division. Since this would throw the split out of balance and disrupt easy scheduling, it is probable that Twin Falls will have to go along.

Athletic Director Bob Donnelly reports "It is out (Twin Falls) intention of playing each of the Boise schools every year. We would prefer it would be in conference. Under this arrangement, second years two of the Boise schools would be non-conference."

Donnelly noted that the disruption of the SIC over the past eight years has been brought about by other interests. "We (Twin Falls) have done our best, getting beat about as often as any one, without complaining. We dislike thinking about becoming the lamb for the disidents that have threatened the SIC years."

Ron R. Van, Boise schools athletic coordinator, who might also be architect of the plan, says he favors the plan as it would keep state together and reduce the increasing football schedules with non-conference teams.

Football is the crux of the matter, since the state allows playoffs and other tournaments in all other sports. No school is reporting trouble filling basketball schedules.

"Unless we come up with a plan like this, we will force the two Pocatello schools into withdrawing from the SIC and joining with the Eastern Idaho Conference or a new alignment of larger schools," he said.

"I think Cross State playing in the Southern Idaho conference, or the Big Six, and I would be called, has been one of the best things for athletics in Idaho. It has kept us playing and competing with the state's best. If we don't accept the division idea, it will turn the state into three camps. We will have to go to the state and strip in our schools."

"We feel that four to five years will bring a change in the Big Six. And I would be called, has been one of the best things for athletics in Idaho. It has kept us playing and competing with the state's best. If we don't accept the division idea, it will turn the state into three camps. We will have to go to the state and strip in our schools."

Progressing into basketball, Runyon said the scheduling is no great problem. "A smaller school can come up with a team that will give a larger school a lot of trouble or beat them," he pointed out. "We feel that each team once would be enough to establish a league champion. The other teams in geographical areas could play twice a week, only the first and second game, counting in the league."

It was assumed that golf, tennis, baseball and track would be left on a divisional basis.

local over the years. It may not be of great moment. It is a matter of pride. It is felt that the Big Six ball success would increase in the east — not next year perhaps — but thereafter. It might be agreed to the situation in the interest of state-wide big school harmony, far interest, etc., as Boise's Ron Runyon argues.

The fact that the Boise schools have agreed to play Twin Falls annually, keeping the next two Boise Veterans' Day games a non-conference event, becomes a soothing ointment.

But, you will note, "all this applies to football. The upheaval will benefit only football and will, in the final conclusion, only confuse in the other sports. The lack of a playoff, in the interest of traditional Veterans' Day games, hurts a divisional setup. The crux will come on the vote for admission of the three new prospective members to the SIC. If accomplished, the split will become fact. If not, it is probable that the Pocatello schools will withdraw — perhaps in the future rather than immediately — and a new league arise in the east.

TROPHY BUCK, which very probably is one of the largest shot in Idaho this year from an antler standpoint, is displayed above the kill in the Fairview area with a 30.06 at a range of about 350 yards Saturday.

The 217-pound dressed animal was spotted from the road and eventually shot across a deep canyon. Another buck and doe, above the big buck, were taken by the party of three. The most impressive part of the antlers is the girth of the beam.

Owens Nabs Back Of Week With Job Against Tough Missouri

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma's tough Steve Owens beat out Michigan's one man gang, Ron Johnson Tuesday for the Associated Press' college Back of the Week.

The junior Oklahoma tailback gained 117 yards and scored three touchdowns in leading the Sooners to a 28-14 victory over sixth-ranked Missouri in a vital Big Eight Conference game.

Johnson, running on a rain-slick field, broke the Big Ten records and overtook the career rushing mark of the great Tom Harmon in leading the Wolverines to a 34-9 rout of Wisconsin.

Only the fact that Michigan was playing a team unable to win a game this year apparently kept voters from giving Johnson the No. 1 honor over Owens. Nevertheless, Johnson's performance was titanic. He scored five touchdowns on runs of 35, 67, 1, 60 and 49 yards. In 31 carries, he ran up an individual total of 347 yards.

Johnson called "R.J." by his teammates as a complimentary comparison with Southern California's O.J. Simpson — led the Big Ten single game record of five rushing touchdowns scored by Red Grange at Illinois in 1924.

The 6-1, 195-pound senior from Detroit pushes his career rushing total to 2,855 yards — 171 better than that of Harmon. Owens also had a terrific day — less imposing statistically but impressive considering the strength of the opposition.

The Associated Press' Back of the Week wound up totaling three more yards on the ground than the entire Missouri team. But what makes his showing even more remarkable is that he ran exclusively between the tackles against the Big-Eight's toughest defense.

It's little wonder the 6-foot-2, 217-pounder from Miami, Okla., had Missouri Coach Dan Devine shaking his head after the game. "I don't recall anyone ever doing that to a team of mine," he moaned. Devine, "and I've got a long memory, I've got the heaves against the Big-Eight's thieves — anybody could get that toughest defense."

Denver Signal Caller Is Jailed

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Marvin Briscoe, quarterback for the Denver Broncos — professional football team, was arrested and charged with shoplifting Monday afternoon, the Jefferson County Sheriff's office said Tuesday.

Sheriff Harold Bray said Briscoe, 23, was in a department store and purchased two phonograph records. Bray said Briscoe was accused of slipping a third record into the package. Briscoe was booked at the Jefferson County Jail and released on personal recognizance bond. He is to appear in Jefferson County Court Nov. 27.

Later the purse was ordered held in escrow pending the outcome of Fuller's appeal.

Chemist Says Derby Test Was Unusual

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A state racing chemist testified for the first time Tuesday that he varied standard normal procedure when he gave a phenylbutazone test on Daner's Image.

Kenneth W. Smith told the Kentucky State Racing Commission he did so because of "the absorption or strength" of the urine sample given him after the Kentucky Derby. Grafton, Smith, operator of a Louisville testing laboratory, said he had not made this information available to Churchill Downs stewards during their hearing into the disputed race.

"I wasn't asked whether I had done this," he said under cross-examination by Arthur Grafton, one of the attorney's representing Peter Fuller.

Fuller is fighting to restore the Kentucky Derby crown to his three-year-old colt who was disqualified and placed last when his urine sample showed traces of phenylbutazone, an anti-inflammatory drug. Smith underwent intensive cross-examination by Grafton who was attempting to prove that the 52-year-old chemist used phenylbutazone testing procedures which were not common to his profession.

After traces of the medication appeared in Daner's urine, stewards ordered the purse redistributed with $122,600 going to Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, which had finished second.

Later the purse was ordered held in escrow pending the outcome of Fuller's appeal.

Eagle Receivers Ditka, Ballman Are Suspended For Talk To Reporters

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Eagles of the National Football League made no announcement of the action by General Manager Coach Joe Kuharich, but Ditka and Ballman both confirmed that they had been suspended.

"I was called in today (Tuesday), by Coach Kuharich and told I was suspended indefinitely," Ditka said when confronted with an Associated Press report of the action.

"I'm on suspension and I believe I've been placed on waivers," Ballman said.

The 26-year-old Ballman, who was acquired from the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1967 for two players and a third-round draft choice, said: "Mr. Kuharich told me that I wasn't going along with the Eagles' program. He referred to several articles which appeared in the New York area news media in recent days."

Raider Coach Saved 'Soul' Of Tackle

NEW YORK (AP) — At Davis, the man who runs the Oakland Raiders, has been called a lot of things, but the Lasserer is the only one who has called him a Billy Graham.

Lasserer is one of Davis' employees, and that's the reason for the comparison.

"At Davis is my Billy Graham," Lasserer says, "because he saved my soul."

While enjoying his salvation, though, the 6-foot-5, 280-pound veteran also has been returning the favor by waging weekly crusades for the Raiders.

His latest was against the New York Jets, and he emerged from it as The Associated Press selection as the defensive player of the week in the American Football League Tuesday.

Lasserer has come through a lot of crusades since Davis made him a Raider three years ago. Prior to that his pro football life hadn't been very enjoyable.

Signed by the Los Angeles Rams out of little St. Augustine College in North Carolina, he lasted only three weeks. From there he went to the Denver Broncos.

The Broncos released him in 1964, and that's where Davis came in.

"I thought I was through with football, and was bitter about it," he said.

Early the next year I began to ache to play again. I wrote to Davis because other players had told me he treated everyone with respect.

"Davis called and told me to come to camp in shape. I was over 300 pounds then, but I got down to 250. When I first got to Oakland I had a chip on my shoulder. I was mad at everybody. After a while, though, everything was fine."

The only anger Lasserer displays now, though, is when he's ripping through the offensive line of the Oakland Raiders.

He did that so often against the Jets last Sunday that they finally moved veteran guard Dave Herman to tackle in place of Rookie Sam Walton.

Only Joe Namath's quick release of the ball on his passes kept the Jet-quarterback from being hit more often by him and the other Raiders. As it was, Lasserer dumped Namath three times behind the line.

Suspended

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Atlanta Hawks guard George Leshman has been suspended after failing to appear for a pair of games and missing practice, the Hawks general manager said Tuesday.

Marty Blake, Hawks general manager, declined further comment on the suspension.

Duck Flight Is Below Last Year's Count

BOISE — Duck migration through Idaho remains about 30 per cent below cumulative counts on resting-feeding areas for the same date last year, Idaho Fish and Game Department reported today.

Bi-weekly counts on all 11 main concentration areas for the period ending November 2, found an estimated 30,000 ducks and 13,000 geese. Since the tally for the previous two weeks was 294,000 this was an increase of 22 per cent. Comparative figures show this year's totals down from the long-term average by about 20 per cent.

Clarence Norberg, game bird supervisor, commented that relatively mild weather throughout Idaho and Montana undoubtedly has retarded the annual migration to date, since ducks and geese start duck movements. There has been some storm activity, but temperatures overall have been mild so far this fall.

He added that "it remains to be seen" whether cumulative duck and geese numbers through Idaho reach the proportions they did last year. Early predictions from Canada during late summer foresaw smaller duck flights, largely because of drought conditions in the Far North, and a bag restriction on mallards in Idaho was ordered for the first time.

Raiders Top AFL Offense Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — It may come as a surprise to watchers of Heidi that the Oakland Raiders have the most explosive offense in the American Football League.

The Raiders, who scored two late touchdowns to beat the New York Jets while most of the nation complained about the movie that knocked the game off the air, have averaged 409 yards a game, best in the league.

Kansas City, idle this Sunday, has the best running game and the San Diego Chargers lead the pack in pass offense.

Does the fact that Oakland scored twice in the final seconds, the Jets still lead in total defense with an average yield of 240 yards per game. They also are tops in rushing defense and Houston leads in pass defense.

Coach Claims Rule Change Is Harmful

CHICAGO (AP) — Rules that have extended playing time of college football games this season contribute largely to the rash of injuries being reported, Northwestern Coach Alex Agase said Tuesday.

Three-hour games now are commonplace, mainly because of the rule stopping the clock any time the ball changes hands but primarily because of the new regulation that also stops the clock on first downs.

"Five years ago, we averaged about 64 offensive plays a game," Agase said. "Now it's 83 or 100."

"It's natural, that with more plays there will be more injuries."

"This can account not only for the apparent rise in injuries but also for the rise in scoring. The players are open just that much longer for injuries, and are more prone to them because of weariness from the wear and tear of extra play. Squads that are not too deep to start with, like Northwestern, are just about depleted at the end of the season."

ABA Action

Dallas used a balanced attack to edge out a 110-107 American Basketball Association victory over Indiana Tuesday night.

The Denver Rockets blurt up an early fourth quarter bulge and held off a Minneapolis Rally to edge the Pipers 121-121.

Veteran Jackie Moreland popped in 42 points Tuesday night to lead the New Orleans Bucs to a 114-108 victory over the Kentucky Colonels.

by Coach Kuharich and told I was suspended indefinitely," Ditka said when confronted with an Associated Press report of the action.

"I'm on suspension and I believe I've been placed on waivers," Ballman said.

The 26-year-old Ballman, who was acquired from the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1967 for two players and a third-round draft choice, said: "Mr. Kuharich told me that I wasn't going along with the Eagles' program. He referred to several articles which appeared in the New York area news media in recent days."

Ballman, an eighth-round draft choice from Michigan State by the Steelers in 1962, said the suspension was unfair because "I was misquoted, a different version of what I said appeared in the newspapers."

This was the second time he joined the Eagles before the 1967 season that Ballman has been reprimanded for articles which appeared in public. He made remarks at a luncheon in Virginia last season about Eagles quarterback Norm Snead. Earlier this year, Ballman walked out of training camp in a salary dispute with Kuharich.

Ballman said he hasn't played in the last two games.

Ditka, who was acquired by the Eagles in a 1967 trade with the Chicago Bears for quarterback Jack Concannon, is quoted in the newspaper article as saying he did not want to play for Kuharich next season.

"What appeared in the paper (the New York Post) was not what I said," Ditka said he told Kuharich, who is the general manager of the Eagles.

"I was asked if I would come back to play for the Eagles under Kuharich next season. I replied that I would not. I don't think he wants me to play for him. And I don't want to play for any man who doesn't want me."

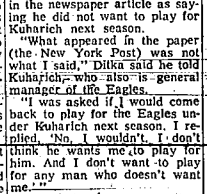

Mississippi Coach Will Retire Soon

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The University of Southern Mississippi announced Tuesday that head Coach Thad "Pie" Vann had requested permission to retire from active coaching with the close of the current football season.

President William D. McCain and athletic director Reed Green said they had granted the request "with regrets," subject to approval by the state college board.

Vann is one of the nation's most successful coaches. He joined the Southern staff in 1937 as line coach after a successful tenure as a prep coach at Meridian. The 1929 university of Mississippi graduate became head coach here in 1949.

As a head coach, his teams have won 138 games, lost 55 and tied two in regular-season play. His 1958 and 1962 teams won national small college championships.

New York Yankee Rookie Of The Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Bahnsen, 23-year-old New York Yankee right-handed pitcher, was named Tuesday the Rookie of the Year in the American League for 1968.

Bahnsen, who had a 17-12 record and a 2.06 earned run average, received 17 of the 20 votes from a 20-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Del Unser, Washington center fielder, received three votes. No others were mentioned.

The selection of Bahnsen made it a clean sweep of baseball honors by pitchers with only one more major award to be announced—the Rookie of the Year in the National League. That let due for release in Friday afternoon papers.

Previously pitcher Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers had been acclaimed the unanimous winner of both the American League's Cy Young award for pitchers and the league's Most Valuable Player award. Bob Gibson, the St. Louis Cardinals' pitching ace, won both the Cy Young Award and Most Valuable Player Award in the National League.

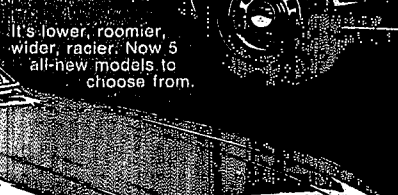

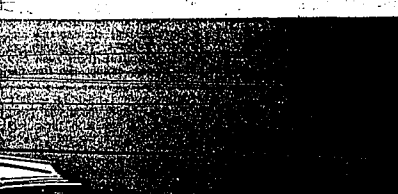

Bahnsen had a brief four-game trial with the Yankees in 1966 but spent 1967 at Syracuse in the International League where he had a 9-11 record. Re-

T.F. Firemen Ask For Wage Increase

The Twin Falls firemen have submitted a letter to the city council asking a wage increase of $100 per month for each man. Their other requests include a longevity of $2 per month for each year of service and vacation of 1 1/2 days per month after 10 years of service. The vacation for those with less than 10 years of fireman's duty would remain as is. They ask sick leave of one day a month to accumulate to 30 days. The firemen requested that working conditions and hours remain the same. The firemen have been asked to join with the other city employees in asking wage and benefit increases—but they have so far, declined to do so. The firemen say they understand Herb Derrick, city manager, does not want any union group involved. Mr. Derrick on the other hand, says he does not remember ever making such a statement. The city employees have also presented the city manager with a letter listing their wage and benefit requests. This group has a representative from each city department, except the fire department. This group is asking a 12 1/2 per cent wage increase. They attached figures with their letter which figure the total wage increase would be $110,908; so that security benefit increase of $4,880 and retirement benefits, $3,882. This would make the total increase $119,670. They also asked a review of the city retirement program be instituted. They suggest the benefits be increased by lowering the retirement age or establishing a minimum expired time provision.

Astronaut Aide Declares U.S. Land Of Opportunity

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — As it has been with every man launched to date, the face of Guenter Wendt will be one of the last seen on earth by America's next astronauts until they return from outer space. Wendt, a native of Germany, was a member of the spacecraft close-out crew of all U.S. astronaut and monkey launches beginning with Ham, a chimpanzee who was the first passenger to ride aboard a one-man Mercury spaceship. In between launches, Wendt—now a U.S. citizen—monitors lights in behalf of the Free World-making tapes for Radio Free Europe, a job that classifies him as a "traitor" in East Germany.

"I tell them that I had 20 cents when I came to America. But now I live more comfortably than I could any place in Europe. And for those who don't believe me, I give them my mother's address and tell them to check with her. Many have stopped her on the street and asked her if what I said was true." His mother lives near Beuth University in Berlin where Wendt earned a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering in 1942. In 1949, he went to work as a mechanic for Ozark Airlines in St. Louis, Mo., and six years later began work for McDonnell Aircraft there, pricing contractor for America's Mercury and two-man Gemini spaceships. Wendt was a member of the close-out crew, the small team of men which seals the spacecraft hatch before blastoff, for every Mercury and Gemini launch at Cape Kennedy. He is now pad leader for North American Rockwell Corp., builder of Apollo spaceships, and was one of the last eight men to leave the white room before the three Apollo 7 astronauts rode into orbit Oct. 11.

"I just want the people there to know that the United States is a true democracy where anyone can make a go of their life if they are willing to work," he said. "I also tell them that Americans trust aliens, and put them in responsible positions. I know that the people who monitor broadcasts realize the Russians never do that."

"Guenter Wendt," pun-loving Apollo 7 commander Walter M. Schirra Jr. said at the time of Wendt's departure.

Allies Warn Germans About Vote

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Western Allies have warned the Bonn government not to stage the election of a new federal president in West Germany early next year and risk a Berlin crisis allied sources said Tuesday. The sources said the warning was passed to German Minister Willy Brandt last week by his American, British and French counterparts.

Dissidents Fail To Draw Big Following

WASHINGTON (AP) — A campaign by dissidents to disrupt the Army and draw large numbers of soldiers into antiwar activities has fizzled 80 days after election of "National GI Week." They claimed efforts to get many servicemen to join protest demonstrations during what was called "National GI Week" just before election "didn't get off the ground." "The antiwar people distributed a few leaflets around Army posts, but nobody paid attention to them," one senior officer said. Several "coffee houses" opened by antiwar groups near Army posts have had relatively few GI patrons, said officers who have been watching the activities. Officials said that the last six months have seen an intensification of "dissident-type activities directed at the service." There also has been a change in emphasis, the official said. The dissidents are telling GIs to stay in the Army and make as much trouble as possible, one officer said. The East German threats—backed by Moscow—are based on the contention that West Germany has no claim on West Berlin and no right to make its political presence felt there. West Germany holds that the city is part of the federal republic.

Stockmen Link Forces In Protest

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon cattle and sheepmen entered strong protests today to plans of the federal government to increase grazing fees on public lands.

Speakersmen for the Oregon Cattlemen's Association and the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association said their groups will oppose the increase in what they called "a last ditch fight to save the range livestock industry in this state."

The new fee increases threaten the Western beef industry and rural communities dependent upon it, said Donald Ostenson, executive vice president of the Oregon Cattlemen's Association.

"They sure will hear from us," added Kenneth Johnson, chairman of the public lands committee of the Oregon Woolgrowers.

Johnson is an Enterprise sheep operator who grazes his flocks in the Hells Canyon area of Northeast Oregon.

The stockmen hope the fee increase plan is a lame-duck proposal "which will die in the new administration takeover."

The fee increase proposals were announced last week by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. Both said present fees are too low.

The federal Bureau of Land Management administrators about 19.2 million acres in Oregon, most of it east of the Cascades. Present BLM grazing fees on these lands east of the Cascades are 33 cents for each cow or five sheep per month. The government proposes to increase this to 44 cents by next spring and to 53 cents for each cow or five sheep in 10 years.

Lawsuits Will Test Aid Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group claiming Congress made hunger illegal when it set up federal food programs, announced today a series of lawsuits in 26 states aimed at forcing the Department of Agriculture to do more to help feed the poor.

The Center on Social Welfare Policy and Law, based at Columbia University in New York, said the suits would seek to establish either Food Stamp or Commodity Distribution programs in most of the estimated 590 counties that now have neither.

The center argues that depriving a person of the right to government food because of his residence is a violation of the Constitution's equal protection clause, said staff attorney Ronald F. Pollock.

"We're claiming hunger is illegal in the United States," attorney Gabe Kalinowitz said in announcing the suits. "Congress has said OK, we'll do away with it."

The Food Stamp program, set up in 1964, lets poor families buy more groceries than they have money for. The commodity distribution program, set up in 1955 and modified in 1959, allows the government to give away certain foods.

Kalinowitz said the center is arguing the two acts "require by their language that every county be given one program or the other."

Most of the suits will be filed by local cooperating attorneys today, or Wednesday, he said.

The move is an attempt to push even farther one of the goals won by the Poor People's Campaign.

During that spring campaign the Rev. Ralph David Abernethy won a promise from Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman that one program or the other would be put into all of the poorest 1,000 counties.

Freeman announced Monday expansion of the programs to more than 200 additional counties. But Kalinowitz said that still leaves about 500 counties without either program. And while they may not be poor counties, he said, there are poor people living in them.

The group said the states where suits would be filed are California, Colorado, Florida, Indiana, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Statement Of Need Urged As Basis Of Welfare Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government proposed Tuesday that people be made eligible for welfare on the basis of a simple statement of need.

The proposed new approach, which would eliminate involved investigations, could mean that more eligible people would be added to the swelling welfare rolls, officials said. But they said little abuse would be expected because investigations have found only about one-half

Red Captive Shuns Details On Return

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — After nearly two years in Communist prisons on charges of espionage, Andrew Csala, 37, arrived home recent from Hungary.

"I don't want to talk right now about what happened to me in prison in Hungary," he told newsmen. "There are 14 other Americans in prison there. I don't want to hurt their chances. I am well and I am very happy."

Csala, one of Hungary's top electrical engineers, came to the United States with his parents in 1958. He had returned to his homeland in 1966 "to see the old places where I grew up" and to see a childhood sweetheart.

He was staying with friends in a small town outside Budapest in November of 1966 when he was picked up by police. Next morning, he was charged with espionage, convicted and sentenced to six years in prison.

His family learned suddenly Oct. 16 that he had been released.

of one per cent of infractions.

After publication of the proposed new regulation in the Federal Register on Wednesday, interested parties would have 30 days to submit comments.

Affected by the regulations would be programs of Old Age Assistance, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, aid to the blind, aid for permanently disabled and help for those who cannot afford to pay their medical bills—medicaid.

Critics in Congress and elsewhere have expressed concern at the rapid growth of the AFDC and medicaid programs.

Under the proposed new regulation, states administering the aid would require that local welfare officials accept a simple declaration by a welfare applicant as evidence of his need. However, investigation would be made if the applicant's information were questionable. And exports would have to validate an applicant's claim for disability such as blindness.

Queen Of Week Listed At Sears

HANSEN — Bonnie Ryan was best loser and queen for the week at the Slim and Trim TOPS Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith.

Mrs. Mary Frennell was a close second with three pound loss, Miss Ryan lost three and a half pounds. A total loss of 18 pounds was noted among 17 members weighing in.

It was reported that Mrs. Margaret McCoy had undergone surgery last week.

Measurements were taken at the program feature. The leader read some correspondence from the state director and a questionnaire concerning International Recognition Day was answered.

BARNES TO SPEAK
BOISE (AP)—Dr. John B. Barnes, president of Boise State School Trustees Association, will

Lock Works

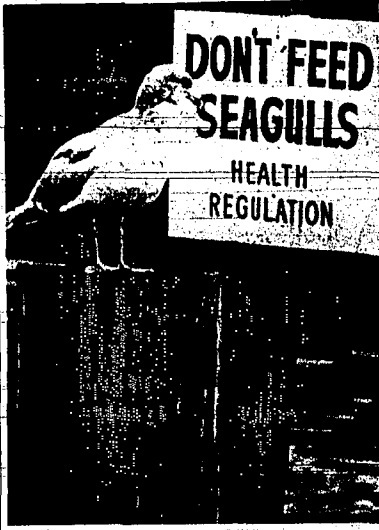

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP)—A "steep" asked the Kalispell police recently for a place to spend the night. They obliged and put him up in a cell. In the morning, after a good night's sleep, he started to leave—but the cell door was locked. Police efforts to open the padlock failed. Finally, the lock had to be cut off with a torch.

Trio Offers To Buy Stock Of State Bank

WALLACE, Idaho (AP)—Goldconda Mining Corp. Vice President H. F. Magnuson and two other men have tendered an offer of $322.50 a share for the outstanding stock of the First National Bank of Wallace. Magnuson said the bid was made jointly by himself and two Spokane business men, Turner Clack and David A. Clack. The offer follows a bid by the First Security Bank of Salt Lake City of $22.50 per share for the bank's stock. The Salt Lake City bank's proposal was made in conjunction with an offer to merge the two banks. Magnuson said the bid by himself and the Clacks amounts to $325 cash per share and a year-end dividend of $7.50 to be paid by First National Bank. The dividend, he explained, would be refunded to the stockholders who sell their stock to Magnuson and the Clacks. Magnuson said the purpose behind their offer is to keep the bank locally owned and operated. He said it is one of only two independently operated banking institutions north of the Salmon River in Idaho. The bank has about 100 stockholders and assets totaling $11 million, Magnuson said.

REGULATIONS OPPOSED

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Alfred E. Periman, president of the Central railroad system, said a transportation system must be established to offset government regulation that he says is threatening the survival of the industry. He says the nation needs common, private ownership of various forms of transportation such as rails, air, sea and highway.

IF HE CAN READ, he surely must be thinking this sign is for the birds. The sign is on a piling near a restaurant on Seattle's waterfront. (AP wirephoto)

Burley Neighborhood Unit Will Open Its Doors Dec. 1

BURLEY — Kirby Wilson, director of the Burley neighborhood center, said he is planning to open the building on Dec. 1. The Burley center is located at 1600 Albion Ave. on the bottom floor of the old Baptist Church building. Aides at the center are Erma Linda Farza and Carol Shilt and Florence Griffiths is the secretary. Items needed at the center include chairs and tables for children, a refrigerator, a deep freeze, dishes, cooking utensils, silverware, toys, playground equipment, a table lamp and desk. Mr. Wilson said anyone wanting to donate such items or serve as volunteer workers at the day care center should call him at 678-8681.

Idaho To Get $155,600 In Road Funds

BOISE (AP)—Approval of $155,600 in federal funds for highway safety projects in Idaho was announced Tuesday by the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission. The matching funds will go for projects totaling $279,400. Projects approved include: —Enlarging the blood-alcohol testing program by the State Health Department, making the service available to local law enforcement at no cost. —An inventory of highway hazards and potential high accident locations. —A survey of available emergency medical facilities.

Continuation of the program for driver training instructors at Idaho State University. This includes purchase of 12 driving simulators.

Funding of the safety commission's administrative program during the next year.

S. Sgt. Ronald B. Petry, the husband of the former Diana Jones of Gooding, has received an Air Force commendation medal at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland. He was decorated for meritorious service while assigned at Naha Air Base in Okinawa. The medal was for professional skill and initiative. He is a native of Ohio. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Jones, Gooding.

Pfc. John D. Green, husband of the former Iva Lee McClure Dietrich, is in Madigan General Hospital, Tacoma, Wash. He is recovering from wounds incurred Aug. 25 while with the U.S. Army fighting in Vietnam, near the Cambodian border. Pfc. Green received multiple injuries from machine gun fire. His recovery has been complicated by a severe attack of hepatitis.

Pfc. Richard D. Maddox has completed his training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and is spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thane Maddox, Route 2, Jerome, Id. He will report to Ft. Lewis, from where he will be sent to the 17th Replacement Co. in Korea for an extended tour.

E-4 Daniel E. Maddox, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Maddox, is serving in Binh Phuoc, Vietnam, with the Ninth Division, 2nd Mechanized Battalion of the 47th Infantry. He has been in Vietnam 10 months.

Mrs. Fred V. Dixon, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Byington, Wendell, spent the past week with her husband, O.C. Dixon, who is with the 6th Co. in officer candidate school at Ft. Benning, Ga. She attended the 18th week status party. The infantry company now holds the highest academic rating. The com-

Therapy By Art Proves Able To Pinpoint Ailment

By LEE LINDER
 PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Art in scribbles and bold colors is now being used to help doctors probe the minds of patients.
 At Philadelphia's famed Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital the illness of some mental patients can be partially diagnosed by the drawings they make.
 This is a pioneering field of therapy. And it appears to be fast becoming a more exciting step toward a cure of mental illness than the traditional occupational therapy. Many hospitals are now following Hahnemann's lead, and switching to art therapy, no one can be a failure," says Myra Levick, mother-of-three, who is director of Hahnemann's art-therapy training program.
 "It's an excellent key to opening up a person's mind. Especially, in cases where the patient is nonverbal and just is not communicating at all."
 While the majority of art therapy is with paint, water or oil, some patients—in the hospital's psychiatric ward—use pencil or other art materials such as tiles.
 Mrs. Levick, who has a bachelor's degree in fine arts and a master's in educational psychology, says art offers patients creative activity that substitutes for their neurotic symptoms. Patients ventilate their feelings on the paper or canvas, and the drawing seems to help relax—tensions—acting—almost like a combination tranquilizer and mirror.
 "A patient's art work can demonstrate improvement, regression or a cycle of both," says Mrs. Levick. "This depends on the nature of the illness, and the length of time in treatment."
 Psychiatrists don't judge the patient's work artistically, she asserts, "but rather look at the way the patient organizes his work and uses space and color in relation to reality."
 To illustrate: One patient on admission to the hospital sat down and drew a vase with flowers. It was rigidly composed, composed of flowers, masses together and the picture covering only a small part of the page. Psychiatrists said it displayed anxiety, defensiveness and a poor self-image. Three weeks later the same patient drew a much larger, flowered, free-flowing and colorful, showing he had loosened up quite a bit.
 Local and federal investigators began setting a snare for two kidnapers after the mother, whom they did not identify, reported her son was being held hostage. She said the boy called home saying the man would release him after she left a package containing $800 at a church here on Temple Street.
 Police instructed the woman to leave a fake ransom package while they waited in the darkness. They said the person who collected it was the missing son. He will appear before juvenile-court authorities.

Youth, 14, Tries Tale Of Kidnap

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy was sent home with his mother the other night after he was caught collecting his own ransom, police said.
 Local and federal investigators began setting a snare for two kidnapers after the mother, whom they did not identify, reported her son was being held hostage. She said the boy called home saying the man would release him after she left a package containing $800 at a church here on Temple Street.
 Police instructed the woman to leave a fake ransom package while they waited in the darkness. They said the person who collected it was the missing son. He will appear before juvenile-court authorities.

Filer Announces Honor Students

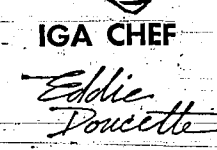

FILER — The first quarter honor roll has been released for the Filer Elementary School by Bill Heaps, principal.
 Eighth graders on the high honor roll are Sandy Hoop, Ron Jones and Susan Skinner. Seventh graders are Mary Nell Frier and Jani Vincent.
 Eighth graders on the honor roll include Eddie Bemis, Scott Brown, Bob Juncos, John Courtney, Martin Decker, Cynthia Gregory, Ron Griffl, Sharon Messner and Linda Shobe. Seventh graders are Jeanne Holliday, Terri Thurman and Kathy Williams.

Protesters Given New Life By Supreme Court Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court lifted today a ban on speeches or other public demonstrations by white supremacists on Maryland's Eastern Shore.
 The unanimous decision stressed that individuals or groups cannot be barred in advance from speaking by police officers. Justice Abe Fortas for the court, they must have a chance to give their side before a judge.
 "There is a danger in relying exclusively on the version of events and dangers presented by prosecuting officials because of their special interest," the ruling said.
 The ban was imposed in August 1966 on leaders of the National States Rights Party in Somerset County. It followed a rally near the courthouse steps in the town of Princess Anne the evening of Aug. 6 in which the white supremacists spoke against Negroes and Jews and told their listeners to return the next night to raise a little bit of hell for the white race.
 CERVANTES HONORED ROME (AP) — Miguel de Cervantes, creator of "Don Quixote," has received the final accolade from the city he learned to love when he came here in 1570 in the remains of a cardinal. Some has named a square for him in front of the National Museum of Art in the heart of the city's beautiful gardens, the Villa Borghese.

Tarawa Anniversary Commemorates One Of Bloodiest Pacific Battles

LONDON (AP) — The 25th anniversary of the U.S. Marine victory in the Battle of Tarawa, one of the bloodiest operations of the Pacific War, will be commemorated Saturday on tiny Betio Island.

It took the 2nd Marine Division 3 1/2 days to recapture the island, which was heavily fortified and defended by Japanese forces. A thousand Americans were killed and more than 2,000 wounded. The Japanese lost 4,999 men.

To mark the 25th anniversary, the government of the Gilbert and Ellice Islands Colony is arranging a number of local events, the Crown Agents for Overseas Governments and Administrations announced in London.

A commemorative plaque will be placed at Betio harbor. An official U.S. military detachment will be among the visitors. Commemorative postage stamps are being issued.

There are plenty of relics to remind the visitor to Betio of the carnage a quarter of a century ago. But veterans of the battle will find the island once again covered with coconuts, palms and pandanus pines. New buildings—like the small harbor and the place is swarming with people.

Betio, which is only 2 1/2 miles long by half a mile at the widest point, is one of the islands which make up Tarawa atoll.

The Japanese moved in soon after Pearl Harbor, but for a time they did little to fortify the Gilbert and Ellice Group, except to build a seaplane base on an island of Makin atoll. From this base their planes were able to attack shipping between the United States and Australia.

In August 1942, to divert Japanese forces from Guadalcanal, the Americans launched a raid, led by Lt. Col. E. P. Carlson, on the seaplane base.

It was successful, but its immediate effect was to cause the Japanese to rethink their defenses in the Group. They concentrated on Tarawa and turned Betio into a fortress, covered with a maze of bunkers, pillboxes and interconnecting trenches. Heavy coastal guns, sold to Russia by Britain during the Russo-Japanese war, were installed at either end.

In 1943 the Japanese were forced to the defensive. They were under heavy pressure in New Guinea and the Solomons. The Japanese fleet was badly mauled at Rabaul on Nov. 5.

The American forces mounted Operation Galvanic against the Gilbert group. Its three objectives were to capture Makin atoll with its seaplane base, Tarawa atoll and Abemama, an atoll some 75 miles southeast of Tarawa.

The 2nd Marine Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Julian Smith, was assigned to the attack on Tarawa.

In the early hours of Nov. 20, the guns of three battleships, five cruisers and nine destroyers opened up with a preliminary bombardment of Betio. Under cover of this barrage the assault troops moved in.

The tide was very low and the only assault craft which could cross the reef about 1,000 yards from shore were amphibious tractors, of which there was a limited number.

Col. David Shoup led the first troops which hit the shore just after 9 a.m. and despite heavy losses managed to establish a toehold. The slaughter began when the landing craft with the following waves grounded on the reef and the Leathernecks were forced to wade waist deep for hundreds of yards to the beach through crossfire.

By the end of the first day a beachhead some 300 yards deep had been established. The following day the issue remained in doubt until about noon, when reinforcements coming under very heavy fire.

Gradually the tide of battle turned and the Americans advanced from pillbox to pillbox.

More reinforcements were landed on the island Nov. 22. A Japanese counterattack that night was beaten off.

The mopping up operation continued and at 1:12 p.m. on Nov. 23 Betio was declared secured. In a short ceremony the American and British flags were hoisted on adjacent palm trees.

"Circus Atmosphere" Affects Transplants

An international competition for the prestige of successful heart transplants has led to almost a "circus atmosphere," charges Irvine H. Page, M.D., in a recent issue of the AMA News.

In addressing a National Congress on Medical Ethics, Dr. Page also criticized the payments being made for television and interview rights to physicians involved in transplants.

"The circus atmosphere of the town" it is clear that "the atmosphere has become overheated," Dr. Page said. He warned against what he termed the "circus atmosphere" of confidentiality and privacy.

"It is time to examine methods of scientific communication, criteria of death, confidentiality, rights of individuals, and the behavior of physicians, all quite aside from the value of cardiac transplantation as an experiment of the principles of confidentiality and privacy."

Teen-Age Queen Doubts Accolade

NEW YORK (AP) — "I thought they made a mistake," said Karen Marie Bruun, 16, after being chosen Miss Teenage New York City.

It was no mistake. Miss Bruun, a 5-foot-7, 116-pound, blue-eyed blonde from Staten Island, will represent New York in the nationwide Miss Teenage America Pageant in Fort Worth, Tex., and will be judged on a national CBS-TV color telecast on Nov. 30. If she wins the title, she will receive a $10,000 scholarship and other major prizes.

"Karen, who plans to major in biology in college and teach the subject upon graduation, has typical teen views. Miss Teenage New York City. She loves 'em. Intelligence before looks. She doesn't mind long-haired boys, but not longer than hers—and here's a pretty short, fellas!

Signature Stirs Dismay In India

MADRAS, India (AP) — A letter-writer to a south Indian newspaper noted with dismay that the newly issued ten-rupee notes have the signature of the governor of the Reserve Bank in Hindi, the language of north India.

"I wonder if the appointment of the governorship of the Reserve Bank will henceforth be restricted to the Hindi-speaking people or to those who can at least sign in Hindi," he wrote.

Anti-Hindi sentiment is strong and sometimes violent in south India.

'Subtle Smears' Replace 'Dirty' Politics Of Old

By PEGGY SIMPSON, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee says old-style dirty politics is giving way to more subtle smears "in the form of Madison Avenue tactics."

These are the tactics, Samuel J. Archibald said recently, that were "formerly used to sell untested deodorant."

Despite the emergence of more sophisticated smears, Archibald told reporters the 1968 election was the cleanest in years.

This year, there were 62 complaints of code violations compared to 98 in 1966 and 98 in the first presidential election year of 1964.

Archibald said nine complaints concerned the presidential race, compared to 35 in 1964.

Archibald said he felt his committee's actions receiving complaints, going to the opposite party for comment, and when a file is complete then informing the news media for all communications — had worked superbly.

"All we are doing is getting both sides to the public," Archibald said. "Sometimes we have to go back to each party several times to get all the issues answered. But we never make judgments."

In 1968, he said, 65 per cent of the "candidates involved in dirty politics lost their election."

He hasn't compiled a win-loss record for this year.

Only one set of candidates took advantage of an arbitration panel provided for the first time this year, through a Ford Foundation grant.

Weed Meet Report Given At Murtaugh

MURTAUGH — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tiffany were guests of Murtaugh Grange for a potluck dinner served prior to the meeting.

Art Carrier announced a Murtaugh Highway meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 9 at the Grange hall. The public is urged to attend this important meeting which is being called to discuss the annexing of the Murtaugh loop of the old highway along the river.

Mr. James Sargent, relief and goodwill committee chairman, asked that the names of needy families in his district be turned in to his committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Breeding and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Latimer were named as hosts for the Dec. 9 Grange meeting.

Mrs. Harold Messer reported that a group of Murtaugh Grangers served in the canteen at the recent Kimberly blood drawing.

Earl Young announced that the 1968 State Grange meeting will be held in Twin Falls for the sessions to open the first Tuesday in December. He also asked that two women from the local Grange volunteer for the Rose Drill and submit their names by Dec. 14 when Twin Falls County Pomona Grange meets in the Murtaugh Grange hall.

Morris Latimer will be responsible for securing the Grange Christmas tree from members of the senior class for delivery by Dec. 13 when it will be decorated at the hall.

A hall cleanup day will be held on Dec. 5 with a potluck lunch to be served at noon.

The program, presented by Mrs. Grace Peterson, included the welcome by James Kirkpatrick, master, and by Mrs. Peterson. "Thanksgiving, 1967" was presented by officers of the Grange.

Those taking part were James Kirkpatrick, Norman Peterson, Richard Carler, Mrs. Sargent, Earl Young, Mrs. Earl Young, Mrs. Messer, Mrs. Norman Peterson and Laurie Fowler.

A poem was given by Julie played two piano solos. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick presented a skit, and Mrs. Peterson read, "Be Thankful."

Takes New Job

JAIPUR, India (AP) — A former anti-British terrorist has settled down in the comfortable job of chairman of the Rajasthan State Roadways Corporation.

Jwala Prasad Sharma, who was a member of a group violently opposed to British colonial rule 50 years ago, now holds the government job.

Injured Mayor Greeted By Jest

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Mayor Willard Frost fractured his hip in a bathroom accident while attending the national mayor's conference in Chicago.

The Billings Gazette printed a cartoon showing a fence with the inscription "Willard Frost Backs Strict Bathub Control Legislation."

Fitting Gift Given

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — When Dwayne Miller resigned as Boulder's director of parks and recreation, he was given a fitting farewell gift by associates — an aluminum canoe, with Miller in the inscription "Dwayne Miller's Boat."

Miller, who holds a doctor's degree, then took part and recreation administration in a university.

French Students Ponder Future As Schools Reopen

By BERNARD LAVALLEE

PARIS (AP)—Education Ministry officials and the once rebellious French students are looking nervously at the future—and each other.

Toys Help Ailing Children

NEW YORK (AP)—A gaily dressed young woman held up a selection of dolls for the child to select from among fairy princess, a bride, a skater. Shyly, the crippled child picked the skater.

"The children identify with the dolls," says Clare Young, the 48-year-old Forest Hills, Queens, housewife who founded Volun-toys, a program for distributing toys in New York hospitals.

"The skater is a very, very popular doll," she says. "It does their skating and walking for them."

What makes Volun-toys different from other programs is that the 50 volunteers who make up the organization provide toys on a year-round basis, not just during the holidays.

They also send two Dutch-capped young girls to visit the children while distributing the toys, and they also try to make toys available in emergency rooms.

It was, in fact, in an emergency room where Mrs. Young was doing volunteer work that she saw most poignantly the need for toys.

"After an accident, the child may be all right. But while they are checking the mother, I've seen a child sit in a corner more than two hours—not making a sound, just petrified," she said.

Mrs. Young has been hospitalized herself 18 times—primarily because of a back injury—and says she can well understand "what it's like to have a little bit of kindness and the need to have it."

For her Christmas present last year, she asked her husband to give her enough money to buy toys to distribute in the coming year at one hospital.

He agreed. And while she was shopping for the toys, a Queens toy store owner gave her $60 more in a trade-in sales promotion.

The Health Department provided instructions for cleaning the dolls, and Mrs. Young and a small group of friends began ransacking costumes.

As women will, one told another and another, and soon there were 30 happily outfitting dolls.

The group eventually became Volun-toys, Inc., complete with a Madison Avenue office—also donated—and quite a following among the hospital set.

Gary Tegan Heads Cassia Farm Bureau

BURLEY—Gary Tegan, Burley, was elected president of the Cassia County Farm Bureau during the group's annual meeting in Burley.

Other officers elected were Vaughn Johnson, first vice president, and Bob Rasmussen, second vice president. Mr. Tegan will serve for two years and is succeeding Glen Larson.

Members of the Twin Falls State Farm Bureau president, spoke on grower-labor problems and referred to the boycott of California grapes in markets in the United States.

Members were urged to attend the state convention in Pocatello and training conference for county leaders in February or March at Phoenix, Ariz.

During the banquet at the Burley Elks Lodge Dr. Terry Sawyer, president of the Idaho College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls, was featured speaker.

"CSI will try to maintain an open door for students at all times, however the college will not tolerate interruptions whatsoever of the ongoing educational process," stated Mr. Sawyer.

"There will be no occupancy by dissident students of the CSI administration office," he said.

"We do not think that it would happen at CSI but college officials were prepared if it did take place," he said, in reference to student demonstrations and riots.

Steps taken to help forestall student activism, he explained are hiring teachers who want to teach rather than be pure researchers, provide meaningful student activities, and a student outlet through a student newspaper which is edited by students.

strike and street battles in May and June. After five months of hand-to-hand, university life is now resuming.

Some 200,000 of the 600,000 French university students already have returned to school. They apparently have not yet decided whether to go quietly back to work and accept the deep changes that resulted from their strike, or to continue their agitation until all demands are met.

The general feeling, both on campuses and in Education Ministry circles, seems to be that the great majority of the students want to get back to year-old system. His reforms were based on two main principles: autonomy for each university and student participation in the college administration.

The law aims at putting an end to both the centralization of teaching under the control of the minister and the authority of the teachers over the students. The bill was so radical that it first started a flurry of protests from the traditional-bound Gaullist group in the National Assembly.

But with De Gaulle's personal pressure, the bill eventually got through Parliament earlier this month without serious amendments. Only a few deputies abstained from voting.

Education Ministry officials admit there will be a long period of "experiments," and some of them privately reckon the implementation of the far-reaching reforms may cost a year of study to some students.

On the other hand, authorities must reckon with the total opposition by the extremists who say no reform in the university is possible as long as there is no basic change in the social system. They demand total liberty on the campuses.

Officials say they are depending on the goodwill of the moderate students.

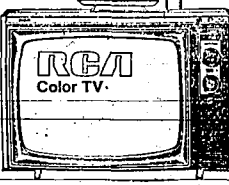

The government is also accelerating the election of school councils for secondary schools which will include pupil members.

Officials say they are depending on the goodwill of the moderate students.

It's Time To Harvest A Pumpkin Pie

Fall's golden harvest recalls with special pleasure the fashionable foods of autumn—like the aroma of gently spiced pumpkin pie waiting through the kitchen as it bakes.

Plan to harvest some pumpkin from your grocer's shelves for pies—and other scrumptious desserts. It's available in convenient sized cans just right for one pie (the No. 30 size) or two pies (the No. 2½ size). Here's a popular pie recipe which produces a smooth custard-pumpkin filling, lightly sweetened and lightly spiced.

HARVEST-TIME PUMPKIN PIE

2 eggs, slightly beaten
1½ cups Libby's Pumpkin
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
1½ cups evaporated milk or light cream
1 graham cracker pastry shell

Mix filling ingredients in order given. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in preheated hot oven, 425 degrees, for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to moderate, 350 degrees, and continue baking for 45 minutes or until knife inserted into center of pie filling comes out clean.

Glaze your pumpkin pie with orange-whipped cream and sunny-gold orange segments, or try some of the other pretty-looking, great-tasting toppings suggested. Through crisp fall and winter days ahead, they'll brighten your family's dessert outlook.

CREAMY-ORANGE TOPPING

Whip one cup heavy cream until stiff. Fold in three tablespoons powdered sugar and two teaspoons grated orange rind. Spoon over top of cooled pumpkin pie, leaving a pumpkin border showing. Garnish with one cup drained Mandarin orange segments.

SESAME CREAM GARNISH

Spread one tablespoon sesame seeds on shallow pan. Toast in 400 degree oven about three minutes until nicely browned. Fold into one cup heavy cream, whipped stiff. Flavor with two tablespoons powdered sugar and one teaspoon rum flavoring.

PEANUT CRUNCH

Crush peanut brittle with a rolling pin to make one-half cup; sprinkle over pie before serving.

MORE PUMPKIN GLAMORIZERS

Honey Whipped Cream—Whip one cup heavy cream until stiff. Fold in one-half tablespoon honey until blended. Honey Whipped Cream—thin stream of orange blossom or clover honey over pie after baking.

Dairy Cream—Serve pumpkin pie topped with sour cream, plain or sweetened to taste.

Mrs. Dean Is Honored By OES Chapter

HOLLISTER—Hollister Chapter No. 47, Order of Eastern Stars, paid tribute to Mrs. Ruby Dean, grand representative of Ontario in Idaho, during a recent meeting. Her term expires in December. Mrs. Dean gave a report on the Grand Chapters in Ontario, outlining their many activities.

Mrs. Dean was escorted to the east by the conductress, Mrs. Lloyd Nelson, where Mrs. LeRoy Mayo read a letter from Mrs. Ellen Jane Culbert, grand representative of Idaho in Ontario. Mrs. Dean received a gift from Mrs. Culbert.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mayo, worthy matron, and Lester McGregor, worthy patron. Those introduced were Mrs. Dean, Mrs. George Clark, chairman of District No. 11 star booster committee, and Otto Hochhalter, member of tellers committee. Mr. McGregor read the landmarks and general regulations, and under his direction all present renewed their obligation.

Lloyd Nelson was honored for his birthday anniversary and he was presented a gift from Mrs. Mayo.

All members welcomed the new members, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Bilick.

Refreshments were prepared and served by Mrs. Elwood Henstock, Mrs. John Henstock and Mr. and Mrs. Gran Jones.

It was announced that the December meeting is Past Matrons and Past Patrons Night.

AMBER PUMPKIN in a custard-smooth pie brings "sugar 'n spice" to fall menus. Harvest some canned pumpkin for pie-baking and try some of the prettified-pie-toppings too.

Xi Chapter Hosts Luncheon

CRUNCH—Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society held its November luncheon in the Roundup Room of the Rogerson Motor Inn. Table decorations, carrying out a Thanksgiving theme, were arranged by Lila MacCleod, Eden, and Mrs. Tom Craigh, Kimberly.

Special guest of the chapter was Irene Smith, Idaho Falls, state president of Delta Kappa Gamma. The highlight of the program was Mrs. Smith's message which she called, "Remove the Bustle and Let the Light Shine." Special music was arranged by Mrs. Keith Turner. Seven-year-old Robin Snow, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Carl Snow on the autoharp, sang a solo and Mrs. Snow and her daughter sang a duet.

After the program, initiation was conducted for seven new

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and have a beautiful baby whom my husband and I both adore. As I was 6 months pregnant when I got married—but my husband and I are very much in love, and we are not ashamed of it. My problem is my mother. She is so ashamed of me that she's gone around saying we were "secretly" married for 6 months, and I guess some believe her and some don't. I just tell people the truth. We're going to a family wedding out of state soon and my mother says if she hears me tell anybody we were married in January and the baby was born in April she will "take me bodily from the room." I told her I wasn't going to lie about it, but she has already threatened to sue me. Now she says I don't have the right to make a liar out of her. So what would you do? NO LIAR
