New Blast Dims Hope For 78

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A new explosion, sending flames shooting upward like a flash of lightning, hit the coal mine today where 78 men have been trapped in burning passageways for two days.

The blast at 2:50 a.m. shook the company store more than four miles away.

It was the latest in a chain of explosions that started Wednesday morning and trapped 78 of the 82 men working on a shift in the Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. The other 21 either escaped or were pulled from a bridge over the store.

"I felt the impact on my face," said 19-year-old Rich Opyoke who was standing on a bridge over the store.

Leonard Gross, publications director for Consolidation Coal Co., Mountaineer's parent firm, pinpointed the explosion at the intake shaft on Mine Run, one of the many passageways of the sprawling mine complex spread over seven-mile area.

"There has been no assessment of the intensity of the explosion," Gross said immediately after the blast. "However, it was reported that flames erupted from the portal."

He said this was the spot where experiments have been made under way to control the fire in the mine shafts by cutting off the oxygen.

"This was a relatively strong blast," Gross said, "and it was much stronger than one last night. He said it might be 'several hours' before the severity of the blast can be assessed."

"It is apparent that the fire is still in the shaft," he continued. "While smoke in the shaft indicates that there is still fire underground."

At 4:30 a.m. another light explosion, called a "pop off" in the fields, occurred. It was on Mod's Run where the big blast took place earlier.

The larger explosion blew fragments of rock and steel almost one-half inch thick which had sealed it earlier. Steel beams weighing a total of 100 pounds were blown into the blast wrenched it all from the opening.

The explosion came nine hours after another blast, but farceful sent fire and smoke churning from another mine entrance.

Officials termed that blast—just before 6 p.m. Thursday—See BLAST, Page 2, Column 7

Nixon Opens Hunt For 'Best Talent'

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon tonight sought additional nominations to his new administration, talent search unprecedented in its scope, seeking people to fill some 2,000 jobs in the agencies of his new administration.

"I am reaching beyond the party structure in order to find the best qualified people without regard to political affiliation," he said.

Nixon announced in a statement that he is soliciting the suggestion of Republican governors, members of Congress, local party officials, college presidents and deans, business and labor leaders in a manpower search, he said, which would emphasize judgment, creativity and youth.

John Ehrlichman, counsel to the president-elect, has over-all charge of the program, operating out of offices in New York and Washington.

The positions are below cabinet levels and pay from $10,000 to $25,000 a year.

Ehrlichman said some incumbent office holders may remain during the Nixon administration. He said that depends on their performance.

"We're not going to rush in and flip over a lot of furniture in these agencies just to prove that we're a new administration," he said.

"The doors of the new administration will be open to talent and imagination regardless of party, race or section," Nixon said in his statement.

Harry Fleming, 28, an Alexandria, Va., businessman, is in charge of the Washington talent hunt office. A staff of about 50 there will examine suggestions produced by the search for nominees.

Nixon spent the day working at his 39th floor headquarters in the Hotel Pierre and scheduled appointments with former Gov. William W. Scrantom of Pennsylvania and Gov. Louis B. Nunn of Kentucky.

Announcement of the talent search came a day after word of the enlistment of 100 leaders of business, education and industry to frame recommendations for legislative program of Nixon's new administration.

Picket Line Continues At Clinic

A picket line was still up Thursday at the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital in striking members of some unions continued to stay off the job.

One of the pickets said that the hospital picketers and carpenters still had not returned to work.

It is the painters local which has set up the line because Skyline Construction Co. has subcontracted with a non-union flooring contractor.

Robert Hubbard, who is striking, said that "Looks like we'll still be here Monday."

Mr. Hubbard said he understood the picket line was in place, but none of the principals involved in the dispute could be contacted. Louis Melis, business manager of the clinic, also had no comment on the strike or negotiations.

The Painters Local No. 704-BID called Thursday when they were at the clinic project about 10 p.m. Wednesday and work was at a standstill most of that day.

However, the clinic's workers had crossed the picket line, but others continued to honor them.

Magistrates Miss Ballot On Courts

BOISE (AP) — Members of the Idaho Magistrates Association voted in favor of a referendum in the Idaho ballot system. But less than half the delegates to the annual meeting were present Thursday for the vote.

The referendum would reform the court system, a court reform bill passed the last legislature but was vetoed by the governor.

District Judge J. W. Norris of Weller said there should be some improvements in the court system but "Idaho now has a good, workable court system that should be retained."

Norris suggested justices of the peace should be elected in positions could place them in positions of owing public debts.

Norris said lower court judges should be required to attend continuing schools and pass tests administered by the state supreme court.

Committee Formed To Prepare Report For Rock Creek Watershed Project

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Feature Editor

Establishment of a steering committee to begin preparation of a Preliminary Investigation Report for the Rock Creek Watershed Project was called for Thursday in a meeting of project sponsors and supporters.

Meeting in the Twin Falls County Courthouse, with County Commission Chairman Itzhak Loughmiller conducting the meeting, the group heard a status report on the project from Forrest H. Clouser, water-aid planning leader for the Soil Conservation Service in Idaho.

Mr. Clouser said steps being followed under Public Law 860 which provides for such projects, have now reached the point

Falls Here Is Scene Of TV Commercial

A Hollywood film crew shot scenes for a Bic-Waterman Pen Corp. television commercial on Wednesday and Thursday at the top of Shoshone Falls.

"The commercial we're shooting is similar to the one now being aired on national TV where two villains threaten to destroy a beautiful girl with many tons of earth poured from the crane," said film director John McKennon.

"This sequence involves an Indian princess, played by Lauren Hutton, being pursued by two 'bad men' by the name of Alen Jaffe and Sid Halg," explained Mr. McKennon. The Indian princess runs to the edge of the falls with the bad men in hot pursuit. The three of them reach the edge of the falls and the film commentator says, "Will they destroy this beautiful thing?"

At this point the princess pulls her Bic pen and proceeds to throw it to a fishing boat and through it over the falls, said Mr. McKennon.

"Wednesday we filmed the actual recovery of the pens at the bottom of the falls. We threw six pens tied to floats over the top of the falls and our boat at the bottom only recovered two of them," stated Mr. McKennon.

"The recovery of the pens was authentic. Personnel at the Shoshone Falls Idaho Power Co. plant watched the bad men after they were filmed from the water at the bottom of the falls," a power company representative stated. "The film pictures were an awfully nice group," he added.

The film crew constructed an actual set from the park road to the edge of Shoshone Falls. A 40-foot expansion ladder was placed against a cliff, which was used to set Jan. 17.

Union Contract Provisions To Go Into Effect Jan. 1

BURLEY—Provisions of a new contract between the Oregon Food Processors Association and the United Brotherhood of Carriers will go into effect Jan. 1, 1969.

The contract, which was signed by Dan Ackley, secretary of Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, Local 218, AFL-CIO, represents a 17 percent wage increase.

Mr. Ackley said an union committee, since Sept. 1, has been working out the provisions for a $50,000 adjustment bracket and the company agreed to set up.

The final meeting will be held between the committee and company representatives Dec. 17.

He said, and then the provisions, which will mean upgrading and pay raises for the employees, will be in effect Jan. 1.

Also going into effect Jan. 1, Mr. Ackley noted, will be a new, improved medical and surgical program for employees, paid in full by the company.

D. E. Masterson Jr., head of the company's industrial relations department, will take part in the Dec. 17 meeting.

The employee benefits came as a result of contract negotiations that were concluded in June of this year. The contract is due to expire in June 1971.

Elderly Pair Shot To Death In Home

TUCKAHOE, N.J. (AP) — Two grandparents were found shot to death in their rural home Thursday in a burglary-police said. The bodies had been set afire.

State police said Mr. and Mrs. Linda Clark, 62 and 65 respectively, were found partially clothed behind the front door of their one-and-a-half-story frame house on the Clarkson Nursery farm, which they ran.

The bodies were removed from the house before flames reached them by their son, Philip Clark, in his early 30s, and a neighbor, Dr. Allison Price, who first noticed the fire from his home about 400 yards away, according to police.

The background of the case were bound behind his waist with a tarp bedsheet. He was clothed only in his underwear and was blindfolded with a red cloth, Webb said.

He said the wife was nude but not bound.

Oil Company Faces Claim For $274,500

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Big business breached into Twin Falls Thursday, attempted to force closure of an oil company around up getting a claim of $274,500 slapped against it.

But the effort of the Sinclair Oil Corp., agent one of its subsidiaries, against Mr. Clements, was partially successful, Friday Mr. Clements was selling no Sinclair Oil products.

What the outcome will be is anyone's guess. The claim has been filed with Sinclair. If it is not honored, a lawsuit may be filed, according to Mr. Clements' attorney, Lloyd Walker.

The background of the case runs deep and could end up as a federal action, it was learned.

Mr. Clements, a sportsman and World War II veteran, started as an oil dealer in 1955. A contribution is $200 million.

Britain, although strapped itself, is providing $100 million with Belgium, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Sweden and Canada providing the same amount.

Japan's share is $50 million.

Informants said after Thursday's 17-hour session it appeared the franc would be reduced either by 10 per cent, from 20 cents to 18 cents, or by 15 per cent to 17 cents.

A spokesman for the office of French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville said in Paris there would be no announcement until after the French Cabinet meets on Saturday.

To bolster the new value of the franc, the 10 nations at the conference were getting together a line of credit in other currencies which France could use to halt the flight of capital from French banks.

West German source said $2 billion would be subscribed by members of the "Group 10" at the Bonn meeting, the Western world's leading financial powers. The Bank of International Settlements in Switzerland reportedly offered an additional $500 million.

The crisis resulted from the large-scale exchange of francs for West German marks by speculators acting in the belief that France would have to devalue her currency because of economic setbacks stemming from last spring's worker-student crisis and that the West Germans would have to increase the value of their mark because of the heavy surpluses they have piled up on exports.

German Official Declares France To Devalue Franc In Effort To Stem Crisis

FRANCE would be devalued by 10 per cent, according to a German official, in an effort to stem the crisis in the Western world's leading financial powers.

Five Years Ago... Kennedys Honor JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy's family, including children clutching flowers, gathered in the early morning chill today at his grave on the 5th anniversary of his assassination.

Among the first to arrive was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, the sole surviving Kennedy brother, accompanied by four children, presumably those of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy whose remains lie buried only feet away from his brother.

In another car Joan Kennedy, Edward's wife, brought two of their children, Ann and Hugh, to the site of the assassination.

Visitors to the grave were expected to total in the thousands, trickling by the Cape Cod market memorial built in 1967, the 25th anniversary of the assassination.

Elsewhere in America and throughout the world, memorial services were held to mark the 35th birthday of the United States. "We have not forgotten," Onassis planned to observe the anniversary quietly, as she has each of the last four years. Her private secretary, Nancy Cuckerman, said she would attend Mass in New York and spend most of the day in seclusion.

As he left the cemetery, Edward Kennedy paused where newsmen were waiting at the main gate and told them, "We appreciate your understanding and sympathy for our grief."

Little sprigs of flowers—white roses, lavender, chrysanthemums and red roses—were placed on the grave. Mrs. Kennedy's grave was also visited by others who remembered the late president.

Also among the early-arrivals was Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, personal secretary to President Kennedy.

There was, too, a group of girls from Trinity College, a group of young people from American, Young and Young's, and a group of students from the University of Florida, Fort Lauderdale Fla., on a tour of Washington.

In an estimated 24 million people have visited Kennedy's grave and the flame that has burned with only slight interruptions since his burial three days after his death.

T. F. Applies For FAA Airport Funds

Twin Falls Municipal Airport made application Friday for Federal Aviation Agency project funds for improvements at the airport amounting to $215,518.

Jean Miller, city engineer, explained the city and county would set up $16,122 toward the $201,396, which is the total estimated cost for the improvements at Joslin Field.

Mr. Miller said he hopes to have a preliminary indication on the federal funds prior to Jan. 1, but he noted the funds cannot be allocated until after July 1, 1969—when the new fiscal budget will be in effect. He said by making an early application, the city and county hope to gain priority in consideration for funds.

The city and county will have approximately $150,000 available for airport work after Jan. 1.

The request is broken down as follows: land acquisition, estimated total cost, $4,000; sponsor's fund, $19,655; and FAA's funds requested, $24,905; construction work mark runway extension, estimated total cost, $18,000; sponsor's fund, $4,477; and FAA's funds, $81,631; construction and mark taxiway extension, estimated total cost, $28,500; sponsor's fund, $2,946; and FAA's funds, $36,097; installation of the high intensity runway lighting system, estimated total cost, $20,881; sponsor's fund, $17,870; and FAA's funds, $5,011; installation of a perimeter fence, estimated total cost, $1,219; sponsor's fund, $1,372; and FAA's funds, $1,736; seal existing runway, estimated total cost, $20,000; sponsor's fund, $3,558; and FAA's funds, $11,202; and relocation of irrigation ditches, estimated total cost, $12,000; sponsor's fund, $2,500; and FAA's funds requested, $7,036.

New Airport For Burley In FAA Plans

Construction of a new airport at Burley, and improvements at 34 Idaho airports have been recommended by the Federal Aviation Agency.

The $7.84 million in projects for Idaho is part of the FAA's five-year National Airport Plan which recommends 800 new airports and improvements at 3,900 existing ones at a total cost of $2.16 billion.

Ed Woods, Twin Falls airport manager, explained that each recommendation is based on the "one airport in Magic Valley idea."

Mr. Woods said the recommendations "presented this year indicate the FAA did not receive the necessary support for this plan."

Burley already is served by a municipal airport. The FAA's recommendations include a new airport which "believe plans" for a new airport should be included in the long-range plans.

Extending and strengthening of runways and taxiways was recommended at Burley, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Shoshone County at Kellogg, Pocatello and Fremont Memorial at Sun Valley.

Obstruction removal was also recommended at Twin Falls and Blackfoot.

Enemy Guns Drop Four U.S. 'Copters'

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that four American helicopters were shot down in the past 48 hours and another was damaged in the northern half of the demilitarized zone for the first time since the bombing halt there.

The command said the Americans opened up on guns in the North Vietnamese half of the DMZ after they fired on U.S. reconnaissance planes. But it denied Communist charges that North Vietnamese villagers were shelled.

Six U.S. soldiers died in the helicopter crashes, which raised to 33 the total number of helicopters shot down in South Vietnam during the war.

The threat of infiltration in the Central Highlands was undermined by massive B2 strikes thrown at jungle hideouts along the borders of Kontum province, the U.S. Command said almost 750 tons of bombs were dropped in the area during the past 24 hours.

North Vietnam's foreign military aid minister, Pham Hung, said Thursday stationing aircraft inside the southern half of the zone and shelling three villages in the north and north half on Nov. 16, 17, 20 and 21.

"We hope with this program series, to bring the library more into its natural place as a part of community activities," Robert Bruce, librarian, explained. The public is invited to submit suggestions for programs to be considered for future scheduling to Bert Dickson, adult services librarian.

Professor Asks Ailment Victims To Decide Death

SEATTLE (AP) — A bill to permit victims of terminal illness to decide for themselves how long their lives should be prolonged has been introduced by a University of Washington law professor.

Dr. Arval A. Morris said the measure, which is known as the Voluntary Euthanasia Act of 1969, would allow persons to decide before an illness or accident that death should be pronounced if their faculties are "severely and irreparably impaired."

Several safeguards are built into the bill to prevent anyone from being placed in a certified hospital and be certified by two physicians who agree that his condition is terminal. Death could not be administered until 30 days after the patient's declaration is made.

The professor said the bill carries a penalty of life imprisonment for anyone trying to make it appear a patient wanted to die when he didn't.

Morris said the measure is the proposal to be a controversial one.

Leafy Letter

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Linda Preston received a letter from her soldier husband in Vietnam which said: "Dear Linda, has anyone ever written to you on banana leaves before?"

Her husband, Pvt. Wayne E. Preston, did. Explaining his odd stationery, Preston wrote that he was in a combat zone and that wasn't any paper available — but there were a lot of banana trees.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (AP) — A school bus collided with a freight train at a railroad crossing here today, killing two high school students and injuring 29 others.

The bus carried 34 high school students and the driver.

The bus had stopped to pick up two students at the base of an incline leading to the crossing. Police said the road was slippery following an overnight light snowfall.

Hagerman Survey Urges Emphasis On Basic Subjects

HAGERMAN — Hagerman parents and students want emphasis maintained on basic subjects such as English, mathematics, writing and spelling, results of a questionnaire show.

Returns have been received from about 130 persons, on a questionnaire sent to 400 residents by the Hagerman Citizen Study Group. Senior students, faculty and board members also participated in the survey, in addition to parents.

Study group leaders indicated Friday that results of the survey show a great majority answering the questionnaire want emphasis maintained on such subjects as English, reading, writing, spelling, science, social studies and health education.

They also indicate that general knowledge should be taught in the fields of industrial arts, foreign languages, music and art, but comments disapproved of specializing in these fields.

The high scores in the category of attitudes and behaviors indicated that people still want these taught in the school. Comments in this section indicated that the home still should also have its responsibility with these.

There were some general comments on the wording of the questionnaire as to different meanings. This was recognized by the study group. It was agreed that the meanings of the statements would appear different to different people.

The Citizens Group wishes to thank all those participating in this survey. Every additional bit of information obtained from the community will help them in the group study.

The Citizens Group has been organized to make a comprehensive study of the Hagerman elementary school and its needs, both academically and materially, if such need is found.

TORRINGTON, Wyo. (AP) — The Torrington fire department recently doused a fire in a camper trailer parked on a Torrington street, confining damage to a burned spot on the roof.

The fire chief said a glass bottle of butane gas had been overfilled and left in the camper. When the sun got around to the West, the sun's rays overheated the bottle and caused it pop-off valve to open. The butane gas seeped to a vent of a wall heater and was ignited.

Cablevision Firm Probes Bad Reception

BURLEY, Idaho (AP) — John Cline, manager of the cable television firm Cable View, Inc., says inconsistent picture transmission from Sierra Microwave, of Denver, has irritated viewers.

Cline said Thursday cable systems in Jerome and Mountain Home, Idaho, also had complained.

Sierra Microwave General Manager Larry Romwell said in Denver he told Cline three months ago circuits might be improved with additional generators, but that would mean higher rates.

Romwell said no complaints from Idaho areas other than Burley had been received.

He said he would look into Cline's complaint "since we want to give customers' good service."

All Hail Earl Warren—Then Farewell

Friday, November 22, 1968... PHONE 733-0931... AL WESTBERGER... G. O. A. FOWLER... WILEY DODDS... GENE CARPENTER... DALE THOMPSON... PAUL STANLEY... O. J. SMITH

WASHINGTON—Chief Justice Earl Warren makes a good point... but not an unarguable one—in sentiments leaked to some of his peripatetic...

perhaps lead to a number of 4-1... In the past, Warren thus is plumping for the ideal solution to the impasse caused by the Senate's rejection of President Johnson's nomination of Associate Justice Abe Fortas as Warren's successor...

the man who will fill that office next Jan. 20... Naturally, some of Warren's fans on the New Left have suggested that Richard Nixon will be a cad and perhaps guilty of lese majeste if he takes the Chief Justice at his word...

Spy Technique

The stories out of West Germany read like bad Ian Fleming. Six suspected communist agents escape to East Germany, three are suicides, four are arrested, including three men who allegedly stole a missile and two navigational devices...

"The Least They Could Do Is To Wait Until I'm Inaugurated"

Warren is a decent citizen who has been subjected to scurrilous abuse because of his decisions, some of which I think were wrong but hardly cause for the impeachment demanded by assorted right-wing kooks...

Supreme Court justices in the past have died or been forced to retire in mid-term, and the Court somehow managed to get through Warren's departure for private life now would have no more effect on the Court's business...

Swifter Justice

Three Arabs are being held in New York, charged with concocting a plot to assassinate President-elect Richard Nixon... It is impossible to know whether the three are guilty, and if they are, whether this is part of a widespread plot or something instituted independently by the father and two sons...

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak About Humphrey and Houtchens

WASHINGTON—One day last week, Washington lobbyist John Graves stopped in at the office of the Democratic chairman of a Midwest state and asked him to support Delton L. Houtchens for Democratic National Chairman when Lawrence F. O'Brien resigns...

Moreover, Warren told Johnson in a note accompanying his resignation that at the age of 77 he felt unable to do the job of a younger man... His resignation was addressed to "Dear Mr. President" and signed "Earl Warren, a citizen or old pal and thus its disposition is the prerogative of two days. I'm starving."

He heard his daughter say to her friend, "I'm flattered that you'd ask me," my friend said, "but frankly, I've never been involved in hunger strike myself. I thought you kids usually took over the administration building..."

MR. SPECTATOR

Happy Holiday

For some unknown reason, holidays do not hold as much favor in American life today as they once did... One reason, apparently, is because many people now work only five days a week where their fathers before them worked six and many of their grandfathers worked seven...

PAUL HARVEY Gamble To Lose

The compulsive gambler I think he is trying to win. In fact, he is trying to lose... Another familiar for instance: Caribbeans are populated by American investors who get rich dreaming of a Caribbean island. Yet as soon as they get the island, they resign almost daily contact with the stockbrokers and are soon again giving full time to "the money game" and hardly any time at all to the expensive toys they had thought they wanted...

ART BUCHWALD College Call

WASHINGTON—A parent never goes to college with his child going to get those days from his offspring in college... "Hello, Daddy," she said. "Guess what? I'm on a hunger strike." My friend gulped. "That's wonderful, Martha. How long have you been on it?" "Where are you calling from?" my friend asked. "The dorm. Almost all the girls here are on the strike, too."

"Can't you give me some ideas?" he asked. "I've heard he could hear her talking with people in the background," Susie said that Gandhi went for 60 days without eating or drinking anything, but she was kidding. "But he was in training," my friend said. "He de-escalated his food intake for months before he struck."

OLD STUFF?

I rarely take exception to word usage, and realize that typographical errors are impossible to catch—but ever since I have begun to think I can read the Times-News and someone down there uses the word BORROW for BARROW continually...

RESUMING EDUCATION

Education at all levels is well on the way toward becoming a fulltime avocation. The number of adults going back to school today is at an all-time high... More adults have more free time away from earning a livelihood, and this certainly has made going back to school easier. But there has to be more to it than the mere fact that there is available time...

HEARTLESS

Dear Mr. Spectator: Some people dumped their helpless kittens on the roadside near here. We certainly don't need more cats but we rescued them and want to help in finding them a home. They are about 1 1/2 to one-half months old and two of them are males. They are fluffy and cute. If interested please call 324-2021 at Jerome.

HAL BOYLE The Jane Merrow

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN... Merrow makes a marvelous mistress in "In Winter." It would be impossible to blame the aging King Henry II for allowing the young French Princess Alys to be mistress 800 years ago. If she looked anything like this ingenue actress... Those grand green eyes—sometimes they're green; sometimes they're grey; sometimes they're blue; anyway, they're not emerald—that long-flowing light brown hair, and a lissome figure show to more advantage than in 20th century short skirt than in the cumbersome costume of the 12th century...

"Hut" scene—she couldn't get into the teaching school until she was 18. She is "in" in the year, she attended the famous Royal Academy of Dramatic Art... She cut her acting teeth on the stage, and her first film role was in "Don't Bother to Knock." She did some television work—the results with delightful exceptions the "marvelous comedy," "Just in Time," a British spoof of the James Bond milieu, a "send-up" we call it, "The Last of the B.B.C.'s," "Lorna Doone" series.

Burley Knife, Fork Club To Hear Traveler On Saturday

Friday, November 22, 1968 Twin Falls Times-News 5
from the distillers of JIM BEAM bourbon

BURLEY.— Shirley Duncan has just been completed. She will be the featured guest speaker of the Burley-River Knife and Fork Club at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in dining room of the Magic Valley Christian College, Albion.

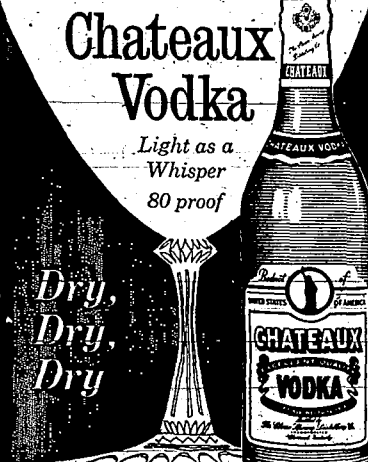

Miss Duncan's home is officially Australia but for the past 15 years it has been the world. She has been all about it. Her adventuring started when she was 19 with a girl companion and a dog, she bicycled around her native country. It wasn't easy. There was a lot of "far-out" country.

A few later she went to Katmandu and Nepal; several years later she did a two-year adventure tour of Africa. There she visited 22 countries, lived with tribes, spent time at the Schweitzer hospital, analyzed life in the cities and in the bush country.

Most certainly one of the lecturer's most intriguing facets is that of adventure. Perhaps it is because adventure is in the blood of most of us that the adventure speaker always has been a sort of mystic attraction, club officials note.

For almost half a century the world was left to the male to do the adventuring.

In our modern world women are now in the adventure field, Miss Duncan's latest adventure.

Gun Industry Assails Measure On Registration
WASHINGTON (AP)—The gun industry opened fire today on a proposed new federal regulation that would require all buyers of firearms to list their name, address and description along with a signed statement of eligibility.

But Sheldon Cohen, commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, said, "The casualness which has been associated with some sales of firearms is gone."

Top-tax officials opened hearings on the proposed rules to carry out the new gun control law due to take effect Dec. 16.

A spokesman for the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers Institute said the statement required of all gun purchasers goes well beyond what the law requires.

The U.S. 10th Cavalry, with all Negro enlisted men, existed from 1865 until 1944, when Army desegregation ruled out such units. During that span, the 10th, or Buffalo Soldiers as they called themselves in the early days, served with distinction in the Indian Wars and the Spanish-American War.

The modern Buffalo Soldiers formed their group about three years ago. Their aim: to make a movie about the frontier horse soldiers of the 10th Cavalry. A group of young Negroes, some of whom had never been on a horse, decided to train themselves to impersonate the Buffalo Soldiers in the proposed film. They drew support and advice from actors Woody Strode and John Russell.

Shops were closed and trains and buses withdrawn from many routes. McNamara was scheduled to visit Calcutta Sunday morning but, fearing trouble, the government canceled the tour. Instead he drove around the city to disperse more than 200 students burning an effigy of McNamara.

"Shift" Repeated In 2 Men

By The Associated Press

Two patients received new hearts for the second time Thursday after earlier transplants failed.

Everett Thomas, 47, the nation's longest-surviving heart transplant, received a second replacement at St. Luke's Hospital in Houston, Tex. His condition today was listed as satisfactory.

Darrell Hammarley, 56, received a second heart at Stanford University Hospital, Stanford, Calif., after the first replacement began being erratically within six hours. His condition today was given as fair.

Hammarley, a retired airline pilot from San Jose, Calif., was the first in history to undergo a second heart transplant. Dr. Norman E. Shumway, a pioneer heart transplant surgeon, was in charge of the surgical team.

Dr. Denton E. Conley headed the team operating both times on Thomas, who received his first donor heart May 3 in the world's ninth heart transplant.

Conley's accountants were discharged from the hospital last summer and began work as a trust consultant for a bank in Houston.

He was readmitted to the hospital last month and it was announced he was showing signs of rejecting the heart. His condition was reported as serious shortly before the second transplant.

The hospital did not identify Thomas' second donor but said she was a 47-year-old woman who died of a brain hemorrhage shortly before his second operation began.

The Stanford donors also were not named.

Hammarley, a pilot for 23 years, was forced to retire about a year ago. He had three heart attacks.

He received his first transplant Wednesday. Six hours later the organ developed an erratic rhythm and showed a below normal over-all performance.

The removed heart—the first transplant—will be autopsied to determine what went wrong, doctors said. It was extremely fortunate that a second donor was available and it shows the need for organ banks to meet emergencies, they added.

Hammarley's second operation was described as "relatively simple and went very well. He was Shumway's eighth heart transplant patient."

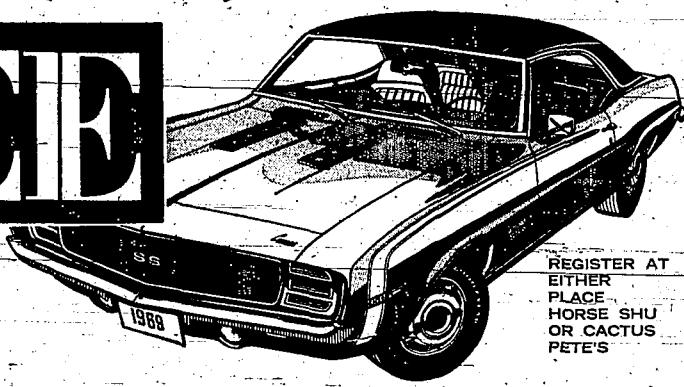

The second Thomas operation which required more than two hours to complete took longer than some of the previous Houston transplant operations. Conley said the team encountered minor problems with "near tissue from the first operation."

Conley said he was "more confident" of the second transplant.

"I have a lot more miles on me than when we did the first. I am more confident of the surgical procedure now," he said.

The team has performed 15 heart transplants, including Thomas' second.

SELECTING A LIKELY PROSPECT for his Thanksgiving dinner is Greg Hill, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hill, Twin Falls. Greg, along with his brother, Doug, 17, and sister, Cindy, 19, have been raising turkeys for their college fund the past few years. This year the three raised about 1,600 birds and are expected to be sold for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Processing of these turkeys is under way and all members of the family, plus a crew, will be busy the next few days cleaning turkeys for Thanksgiving. Most of the turkeys will be sold as fresh turkeys for Thanksgiving and the rest will be put into cold storage until Christmas. Cindy is attending University of Idaho with funds from the previous turkey projects. This is a good year for turkey growers, the second good year in the past 15 years. Nationwide the market is up a few cents over previous years.

Amalgamated Mails Initial Payment For 1968 Beet Crop

With sugar beet harvest operations over 85 percent completed in the three-state growing area of Utah, Idaho and Oregon, checks representing a $24 million first payment have been made to contract growers of The Amalgamated Sugar Co. for the 1968 crop.

The payments represent a substantial increase over 1967 payments, according to company president A. E. Benning, due to increased tonnage and higher sugar content in this year's beet crop.

Individual farmers receiving their fall checks, mailed Nov. 14, also realized the highest payment per ton in company history.

The fall payments are estimated to be from 85 to 90 percent of the total company's final purchase price. As net returns are a part of the formula, the final computation waits a full year until the beet harvest has been processed and the sugar has been sold.

The company said the first payment applied to deliveries made on or before Oct. 31. Late in this month more checks will be mailed for beets received through Nov. 15, and in December two more mailings will cover final deliveries.

Harvest operations began in early October and have progressed rapidly in all of Amalgamated's six agricultural districts despite occasional interruptions caused by late fall rain and snow storms. Harry A. Elcock, vice president and general agriculturist, reported that on Monday the harvest had passed the 99 per cent mark in Utah and was over 95 per cent complete in the company's Burley-Rupert and Twin Falls districts. The new growing areas of Elmore and Owyhee counties still have many beets in the fields with digging 85 per cent complete. Southwestern Idaho's Nampa growers and Nyssa, Ore. farmers are nearly 80 and 90 percent complete, respectively, with their harvest operations.

Bean Production In Idaho Rises

Production of commercial dry beans in Idaho is now expected to total 1,680,000 per hundred weight (clean basis), according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

This is 112,000 per hundred weight below the Oct. 1 forecast. Output at this level would be seven per cent above last year's small crop, but seven per cent below the 1962-68 average production. Yield per acre is placed at 1,500 pounds, 220 pounds below last year and 244 pounds below average.

Livestock Survey Cards To Be Mailed

The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, assisted by the Post-Office Department, will distribute nearly 20,000 livestock survey cards to livestock producers.

The livestock cards, returned by farmers and ranchers, supply the basic data that enables the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service to make estimates of the cattle and hog inventory, fall pig crop, forecast of the spring pig crop, and trends in milk and egg production.

"An accurate appraisal of Idaho's livestock situation is possible with the survey information obtained through the cooperation of farmers and ranchers," said State Statistician Jim Olson. "The larger the return of questionnaires, the better the estimate and less chance of error. These unbiased estimates are generated primarily to assist farmers and ranchers in making intelligent management decisions."

Sheep, Lambs On Feed Estimated

Sheep and lambs on feed in seven major feeding states on Nov. 1, 1968 is estimated at 1,573,000 head, four per cent less than a year earlier, according to the Crop Reporting Board. Colorado and Kansas had more sheep and lambs on feed on Nov. 1 while Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, Texas, and California had less.

Trees Available

JEROME—Wilmar Priest, Jerome County extension agent, reports that orders are now being taken for the University of Idaho windbreak and forestry trees. "The trees are two and three-year-old seedlings which will cost around $1 per hundred depending on the size, order and variety of the trees. Varieties available are bushy hardwoods, tall hardwoods, tall evergreens and dense evergreens. Order blanks are available at the county agent's office."

Social Security Question Box

If you have any questions concerning Social Security benefits or qualifications, address them to Jim Davis, Box 1239, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

Q This is in regard to the question in the Social Security Question Box (Times-News on Friday, Oct. 18), concerning the joint tax returns for income tax purposes. You said that the net income from a business such as farming is credited to the husband's account and his wife can draw benefits on his account as his dependent upon his retirement. Now then my question is: What happens to the wife's social security if there is a divorce after 20 or 30 years of work by her on her account? Does his next-wife as his dependent draw from that account? What benefits is wife now entitled to receive, she remains single or if she remarries.

A—If a husband and wife were both receiving social security benefits at the time of a divorce after at least 20 years of marriage, the divorced wife would continue to draw benefits on her former husband's account and her entitlement to benefits on her first husband's account, but she could no longer continue to draw on her second husband after being married to him for nine months. If a divorced wife were not retired at the time of a divorce, she could receive benefits on her former husband's account if she was married to him for at least 20 years and has been receiving 1/2 of her support from him or he was under a court order to provide her support or had written agreement for her support in case the husband remarried. No. 2 could become eligible to receive benefits on her account after being married to him for nine months.

Q When I file for Medicare, what will I need to prove my age, since I don't have a birth certificate.

A There are many documents which will need to be reviewed, however, the document must show your age or date of birth and the date the document was made. The older the document is the better proof it is. The best proof of your age would be a birth or baptismal certificate to which you have your own signature. Other documents that could be used are: school records, census record, insurance policy, military discharge, naturalization record, etc.

EGG OUTPUT STEADY

Idaho's October egg production totaled 17 million eggs, the same as September, but down two million from October, 1967, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

A. J. EVANS, president of the Potato Processors of Idaho, center, examines the sedimentation rates of samples of waste. F. C. Haas, chairman of engineering committee, right, and K. Lynn Sirrine, secretary of the engineering committee, left, explain purpose and the progress of the pilot plant at Burley.

Potato Processors Of Idaho Escalate War On Pollution

POCATELLO—Action on three fronts by Potato Processors of Idaho in their continuing battle against stream pollution was announced today by F. W. (Bill) Bergeson, manager.

First, the association has approved an increased 1968-69 budget for its engineering committee to expand studies of secondary effluent treatment systems. (Secondary treatment involves the biological treatment of organic matter remaining after treatment removes solids from water such as results from potato processing.)

Second, the association has retained the engineering firm of Cornell, Howard, Hayes and Merryfield, Boise, and Corvallis, Ore., to operate PPI's pilot plant at Burley with a significantly stepped-up program of testing and evaluation of potato waste treatment processes.

This company has designed and built many secondary treatment plants both for municipalities and industry. It presently is serving as architect-engineers for a large industrial treatment plant at Shelley now under construction, Mr. Bergeson said.

Third, the engineering committee is negotiating for installation of a pilot potato resins line to test a new method of peeling which could reduce the organic discharge of plants by 50-60 per cent.

The new method, developed by the Western Utilization Research and Development Division, Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture at Albany, Calif., requires very little water, according to Mr. Bergeson, and removes the peels as solids containing 15-20 per cent dry material which can be sold as cattle feed, burned or disposed of in sanitary land fills.

The PPI's pilot project would test both the efficiency of the system and its economic feasibility.

The association's engineering committee has been conducting waste disposal studies for some time at the Burley pilot plant in cooperation with the Idaho State Board of Health and Northwest Laboratories of the Federal Pollution Control Administration at Corvallis.

Tests planned under the accelerated program at the Burley plant include anaerobic and aerated lagoons, spray field disposal and elevated lagoon systems, Mr. Bergeson revealed.

Board To Meet

SHOSHONE—The Advisory Board of the Bureau of Land Management will meet at 9 a.m. Dec. 5-6 at the American Legion hall here.

They will make recommendations to the secretary of the Department of Interior on grazing fee adjustments, consider recommendations on grazing applications for the 1969 grazing season and review the district's programs.

Spray now for cheatgrass control.

Now you can turn a field of cheatgrass-alfalfa . . . into alfalfa again. Wipe out weeds that cause off-flavor milk. Eliminate a source of throat and mouth abscesses in cattle. And stack more bales of higher-quality alfalfa hay.

You do it with an application of Simazine NOW herbicide this fall. Anything after the first killing frost, but before January 1st. Once moisture has moved Simazine down into the weed root zone, it begins to kill weeds as it is absorbed through their roots.

Simazine controls cheatgrass, shepherds-purse, mustard, foxtail . . . and most other annual broadleaf and grassy weeds that can infest, take over and ruin a good alfalfa field.

Control lasts all season, which is why weed control with Simazine is so economical. Profitable too because of the greater demand for better quality, weed-free alfalfa hay.

Make this the year you turn your weedy alfalfa field into alfalfa again. With Simazine.

Legislators Briefed On Idaho's Water

"Top priority has been placed on the water inventory and needs studies during the present biennium to identify water demands for the next 100 years and enable Idaho to cope with the diversion threat."

"This statement was made by Dr. Robert Lee, executive director of the Idaho Water Resource Board, at a recent Twin Falls meeting while briefing local state legislators and others about the progress of the board and Idaho water."

Dr. Lee said preliminary results indicate that the Snake River in Southern Idaho will ultimately be inadequate to meet our potential needs. The water inventory study has been completed and soil surveys have been completed in 14 counties. Water needs studies are conducted primarily by contract with other agencies or departments.

Dr. Lee said, "Preliminary work discloses a number of interesting facts about the water resource in Idaho." Among these are:

—Although about five million acre feet flow past the Wyoming state line into Idaho each year along the South Fork of the Snake River, nearly all of it is committed under present development and 86 per cent of Snake River flow is Idaho's under terms of the Snake River Compact.

—About 1.4 million acre feet per year are all that remain unconsumed at Milner Dam.

—The Lower Teton and Ririe dams now under way, plus Snake River Basin Recharge, if feasible, and Lynn Crandall dam would utilize most of that.

—Water supply improves below Thousand Springs and over seven million acre feet pass the King Hill area each year.

—Near Water the excess runoff averages about 12 million acre feet per year.

—On the demand side, studies show about 3 1/2 million acres of land under irrigation in the Snake River Basin and about six million acres of potentially irrigable land in this region within Idaho. Simple calculations show that ultimately the entire 12 million acre feet could be used in the Snake River Basin for irrigation, assuming it could be made available by complete regulation.

"In the past decade, at least a dozen different plans have been proposed for diverting water from the Northwest and Canal of the Colorado River. Recent Legislators on Twin Falls and Jerome Counties as well as the canal company representatives from Twin Falls and Jerome Counties attended the meeting."

DR. ROBERT LEE, left, executive director of the Idaho Water Resource Board, discusses Idaho water with State Sen. Richard High, Twin Falls. Dr. Lee outlined the progress and programs of the state board of local legislators at a recent meeting in Twin Falls. Sen. John Barker, Buhl, High represents Legislative District 21 and Barker is from District 24.

Turkey For Thanksgiving Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Livestock and Meat Board questions whether turkey should be the main fare Thanksgiving day.

Turkey promotion during the Thanksgiving season includes the traditional gift of a live bird to the White House and reminders of the legend that Pilgrims favored the wild turkey for the first Thanksgiving in the early 17th century.

But the meat board, dedicated to the promotion of red meat, wonders if the sturdy Pilgrims could have eaten roast beef and pork, too.

It is possible, says the Chicago-based board in a newsletter, the traditional gift of a live bird to the White House and reminders of the legend that Pilgrims favored the wild turkey for the first Thanksgiving in the early 17th century.

KING HILL—Plans for a potluck turkey dinner at 7 p.m. Nov. 26 were made when the King Hill Grange met. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wolfe were named as the committee members by Master John Davis.

Horace Lipe, master of the Elmore Pomona Grange, has received several letters relative to the proposed changes in real estate taxation, which he had Arthur Greer read to the members. These changes would affect the tax on land and in some cases timber property.

Legislators on Twin Falls and Jerome Counties as well as the canal company representatives from Twin Falls and Jerome Counties attended the meeting."

Meeting Set

The state convention for the Idaho Growers Association will begin Sunday and end Tuesday in Pocatello.

The tongue-in-cheek statement said the livestock and meat industries are "not so married to tradition, as to turn the holiday market over to the birds."

Counter promotion campaigns have been launched for Thanksgiving and Christmas proclaiming "Pork, elegant for holiday dining," and "Highlight the holidays with beef."

However, the board admits, there is no intention to put down turkey. Instead, it is an another American tradition to express "freedom of choice" which comes to holiday dining.

Most Senators Conform To New Rule On Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly two-thirds of the Senate is finding it easy to live with a new rule on the handling of campaign funds, that was prompted by the sensational Bobby Baker case.

Sixty-three senators have given written authorization for at least one employee in their offices to handle such funds. One senator has designated eight employees to handle such funds.

The code of ethics adopted by the Senate last March includes a general ban on employees or officers of the Senate receiving, soliciting, distributing or being the custodian of campaign funds for senators or other federal officials.

The prohibition, however, does not apply to any assistant designated by the senator in writing to handle campaign funds and who is paid over $10,000 a year.

Restricting the political fund activities of Senate employees was recommended by the Senate Rules Committee in 1967 after its investigation of Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority who was accused of mishandling campaign funds.

The bipartisan Select Committee on Standards and Conduct had recommended a tighter curb than the Senate adopted when it incorporated a code of ethics into its rules.

The committee also recommended the only exception be one assistant to a senator, except "designated" who could receive campaign funds solely for transmittal to the candidate or to the treasurer of a political committee.

The Senate watered this down to exempt from the ban any assistant earning over $10,000 a year, designated by a senator and to permit those designated to solicit, distribute and be custodian of campaign funds as well as to receive contributions.

Senators are required to notify the secretary of the Senate of the names of those designated.

The rule requires that information be made available to the public.

Large-Scale Heart Studies Draw Warning Of Physician

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A prominent physician who has recovered from a heart attack cautioned Tuesday against adopting a big-time, big-plan government approach to ward preventing heart attacks.

Instead, said Dr. Irvine H. Page of Cleveland, the urgent need is for more creative thinking and research, and there are some promising leads.

"The plumber surgeons are cutting in because we know how to prevent now how to cure atherosclerosis," the process of clogging within arteries that underlies most heart attacks, he said.

The big plan approach setting specific targets to understand this puzzle "would be costly and unproductive," Dr. Page told the Council on Arteriosclerosis of the American Heart Association.

Research into atherosclerosis formerly known generally as arteriosclerosis, is simply not yet far enough advanced for such planning to pay off, he said.

Plane Wreckage Found In Oregon

GOLD BEACH, Ore. (AP) — The wreckage of a plane that crashed 15 years ago and was discovered Wednesday in a steep, heavily timbered canyon near here, yielded up little to searchers Thursday.

They found one shoe, one pair of glasses and two pocket combs, said Tom Tuso, the 28-year-old Forest Service employee who found the wreckage.

The four persons aboard the plane were Howard Shafer, 38; Terry Hanna, 30; and Bonnie Wilson, 21, all of Grants Pass, and Harold D. Shafer, 32, McMinville.

The plane disappeared en route from Gold Beach to Grants Pass on May 18, 1953.

BURLEY — The Burley Soroptimist Club had a dinner meeting and silent-auction Wednesday evening at Bryan's Cafe.

Mrs. D. C. Fullmer, club president, announced the Christmas gift exchange dinner party will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 4 at Bryan's Cafe. Dec. 18 the club's business meeting will be held.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Ellingham, Mrs. Betty Jamison, Owl Burley, and Tracy Swigart, Pocatello.

The silent auction was under the direction of Mrs. W. Gay Jones, and means chairman, assisted by Mrs. Wayne Konrad and Mrs. Wes Karston.

Boise Firm Pays To Stock River

BOISE (AP) — A Boise Valley metal-making plant has paid about $2,000 to have some 14 miles of the Boise River restocked with fish.

The State Fish and Game Department said Tuesday the fish kill was enticed by ammonia, which came from refrigeration equipment being flushed in the process of closing the plant, said Dave J. Dwyer, state fishery director, at Swift and Co.

Kentucky Derby Drug Suit Boils Down To Reliability Of Chemist, Lawyer Says

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Smith. It was Smith, the chemist at Churchill Downs, who reported discovery of the drug which cost Fuller's colt first money in the Kentucky Derby last May 4.

"Now if Mr. Smith is both competent and honest in all things," Grafton told the Kentucky State Racing Commission.

"But if Mr. Smith is incompetent or dishonest, it is unimportant to me. It is an entirely different matter."

Grafton's summation came after he tried repeatedly to refresh Smith's memory on testimony given at a Churchill Downs stewards' hearing last May and that he was supplying Thursday.

The stewards ordered a redistribution of the purse after finding up its investigation, and Fuller, the wealthy Boston auto dealer, has appealed. The $12,000 top award was held in escrow.

Grafton pointed out that Smith, during his appearance before the stewards, testified that he had made only five tests before the race but now was saying he had run another series on the Monday following the Derby.

Earlier in Thursday's session, Grafton again attacked credibility of one of Smith's tests which indicated phenylbutazone was present in the urine.

This test had been the subject of a dispute between Smith and Grafton.

Throughout the hearing, now in its fourth day, Grafton has attempted to discredit Smith's findings on grounds that he did not run enough tests and that the results he obtained were inconclusive.

Smith has been the chemist for the Kentucky Racing Commission since 1940.

It's Not Important, Save In Washington

SPOKANE (AP) — The game may not mean much around the Pacific Conference but to supporters of Washington and Washington State University's east versus west of the battle of the Cascades all over again.

The reference is to Saturday's cross-state encounter between the University of Washington Huskies and the Cougars of Washington State University.

This time the setting is Spokane's Joe Albi Stadium, and it features a rivalry dating from between two teams which haven't cut much of a figure in conference competition this season.

This, however, is not expected to dim the enthusiasm of loyal Husky and Cougar supporters, who view the yearly affair as something akin to a state-university championship playoff.

The Huskies under veteran coach Jim Owens will take a 3-4 record into the season's first game, the Cougars will have a 1-6 record. The teams are seventh and eighth, respectively, in the conference standings.

Washington boasts one of the stoutest defenses in the Pacific 8, allowing its conference companions an average of 279 yards per game.

WSU with ace aerialist Jerry Henderson in the quarterback slot has the league's second best passing offense. The Cougars have averaged 209 yards per game via the aerial route.

The Huskies can counter the Cougar passing threat with the league's best defensive back Al Worley. Worley has snared 14 enemy aerials this season, an all-time NCAA record.

Washington's offense this season has been built upon a good running attack featuring fullback Harvey Banks, who has averaged 209 yards per game for 4.7 yards per carry on 124 attempts. Banks had a slightly better average—5.1 yards on 96 rushes.

Health problems developed in the Husky football camp earlier this week when a half-dozen players were stricken with influenza. All, however, were expected to be recovered by Saturday afternoon.

Kickoff time is set for 1:30 p.m.

The weather has not said it won't rain Saturday so fans are advised to bring an umbrella in the outcome of the fray.

For the record, the Huskies were 9-7 winners in Seattle last year.

H-Gridders To Receive Scholarships

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven of the nation's college football players were named Thursday as the National Football Foundation and the College Football Association's 1968 "H" team.

The winners qualify for $500 graduate fellowship funds. Two also qualify for an annual $1,250 Economic Fellowship grant of $1,250 each. Those to get medical grants are Steve Hindman of Mississippi and John Kendrick of Iowa.

Vincent DePaul Draddy, chairman of the awards committee, made the announcement. The winners will get their awards at the annual Football Hall of Fame dinner Dec. 3 at the Waldorf Astoria in New York.

The scholar-athletes named: Allen Brenner, Michigan State end; David Foley, Ohio State tackle; John Hendricks, Iowa guard; Steve Hindman, Mississippi tailback; George Kunz, Notre Dame tackle; William "Mike" Moody, Arizona end; William Porter Payne, Georgia end; Michael Perrin, Texas end; David Ren, Amherst tackle; Richard Sandler, Princeton guard; and Robert Stein, Minnesota end.

I-Formation Hasn't Been New Since '17

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 51-year-old picture indicates that the late John Heisman may have invented the popular "I" formation way back in 1917.

Heisman, football coach at Georgia Tech from 1904 through 1918, was known as "the father of the forward pass" and was credited with originating the "hidden-ball play," the snap and the vocal signals for starting a play.

The Heisman Trophy which goes to college football's best player each fall was named after him.

George Griffin, dean emeritus of Georgia Tech, produced the picture of the "I" formation used by Heisman in 1917, when the Yellow Jackets wore white.

"As best as I can recall, Heisman called his offense the 'jump shift,'" Griffin said. "All four backs lined up in a straight row behind the center. When the center bent over the ball, that would be the signal for all the jumping and shifting."

"The backs could do two or three different things," Griffin said. "I don't think the backs ever stayed in the 'I' until the ball was snapped."

The current "I" formation is credited to Tom Nugent, who developed the attack at VMI and later used it at Florida State and Maryland.

Wyoming Is Top Team Defensively

NEW YORK (AP) — Wyoming maintained its national leadership in total defense and has taken over the rushing defensive lead, according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Service.

Wyoming permitted Texas-Empire just 107 yards last Saturday (knocking UTEP out of the passing lead), to lower its average to 194.9 total yards allowed per game. Syracuse was second with 204.4, ahead of Miami, Ohio, with 209.7.

By holding UTEP to a minus 60 yards rushing, Wyoming took over the rushing defensive lead with a 67.3 average. Syracuse was the runnerup with 72.5.

Harvard has the best defense against scoring, yielding an average of only 7.6 per game. Miami, Ohio, was next with 8.4.

Kent State led in pass defense with 107.0, ahead of Colgate with 110.3.

Nicklaus Leaves Golfing Tour

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus canceled all golf commitments for the rest of the year Thursday because of a small broken bone in his right foot.

Nicklaus said he had no idea when the bone was broken, but the foot started bothering him near the end of the summer and recently became increasingly painful.

"There's nothing to do but stay off the foot for awhile," Nicklaus said. "I want to be feeling good at the start of the winter tour."

Man In A Hurry

Namath Doesn't See Need For New Rule

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Better to hurt a few quarterbacks than professional football itself, says the man with the twin knees and one of the best right arms in the game.

Joe Namath, one of pro football's surviving quarterbacks in this year of the demolition derby, considered the problem as he and the rest of the New York Jets recovered from last weekend's stuffing, his 43-32 American Football League loss to Oakland and prepared for Sunday's encounter in San Diego.

Asked if the AFL and NFL should take steps to protect the signal callers, Namath said: "I've thought about that. This year I guess every quarterback is giving it some thought. But I hope they don't do anything. A drastic rule change would ruin the game."

He said he didn't think enough quarterbacks would be knocked out of action to damage the game.

"If you looked into all the circumstances," Namath said, "I think you'd see that this isn't a freak situation this year with so many injuries."

"I'll take my chances just the way things are. I'm not in favor of anything that would detract from the essence of the game," he defined the essence as "the fight to get at the quarterback, the fight between the defensive and the offensive line. That's what pro football is today. And if the defense wins, you've got to give them their trophy."

"I don't know what you could do," Namath replied when asked if passers could be better protected without hurting the game's fan appeal.

He called injury and risks "a part of it, that's all. The only thing I fear is losing. I can't stand to lose a game."

Then Broadway, whose $400,000 arm and dime-store knees have vaulted the Jets within clutching distance of the AFL's Eastern Division championship, took a few steps —

Brown Named NFL Defense Man Of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Brown is the Green Bay Packers' strong safety. His main job is to handle tight ends like Baltimore's John Mackey and Los Angeles' Bill Trux. If he gets his hands on the ball it's usually an interception or a punt return.

In his first game since last Sunday's meeting with New Orleans, Brown had picked off only one pass and had scored one touchdown on a punt return.

Brown made headlines Sunday for the first time since he intercepted Don Meredith's desperation pass in the final seconds of the 1968 National Football League title game. For sweeping up a New Orleans fumble and running 22 yards for a score also intercepting a pass that set up a touchdown.

Brown has been named by the Associated Press as the defensive player of the week in the NFL.

"On the fumble you have to give credit to Herb Adderley and Bobby (linebacker Dave Robinson)," Brown said. "They hit Salts' runner Don McCall high and low and forced the fumble. The ball was just there and anybody could have run it in."

"Robby deflected the pass on the interception and it was just a matter of me playing the ball."

George Andrie, 6-foot-7, 250-pound defensive end of the Dallas Cowboys, also drew a nomination for his part in a pass rush that forced a fumble that led to a 21-yard touchdown run by Larry Cole, the other defensive end.

Bob Lurtzmann, New York Giants' defensive tackle, was awarded the game ball for his aggressive play against Philadelphia when the Giants held the Eagles to minus one yard in the second half.

Evans Calls Cops Racist, Declines Job

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Olympic gold medalist Lee Evans said Thursday he refused a job with the San Jose Police Department's Community Relations Division because of the department's "racist attitude."

San Jose Police Chief Ray Blackmore had announced Evans' appointment to the $600-a-month, part-time job Wednesday, praising the world record-holding quartet mile as a man who would command the respect of the community.

Evans, a 21-year-old San Jose State senior who won the gold medal at 400 meters in Mexico City in October, said, "My first priority is to black people. I would willingly work with a black group to improve conditions for black people."

He said, "Black people do not need the police. What they need is to organize themselves."

$2,000 Paid For Damage To Fishery

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Fish and Game Department reported Thursday a Boise Valley meat packing plant has paid about $2,000 to replace fish killed when ammonia was accidentally dumped into the Boise River.

The department said an investigation showed a fish kill in the river earlier this year was traced to a Garden City plant owned by Swift and Co. The ammonia came from refrigeration equipment being flushed in the process of closing the plant.

The settlement will pay the cost of restocking the river to a distance of about 14 miles downstream from the plant.

SIMPLE METHOD

TO MAKE SURE South looked at the dummy and decided that luck was surely running against him. He had one consolation. Had he used Blackwood he would have found that his side held all the aces and kings and might have gone all the way to seven.

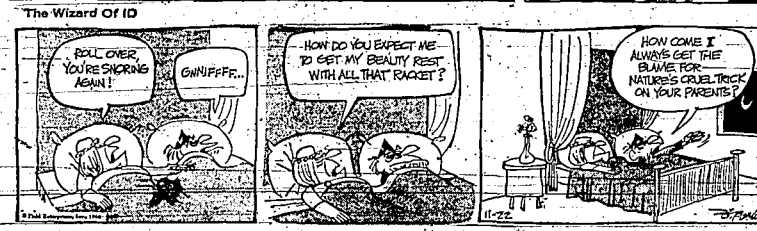

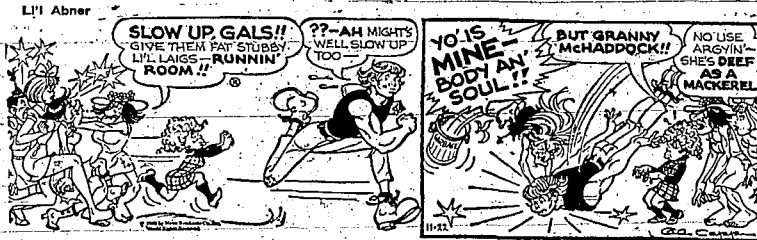

South should have drawn two, three- or four rounds of trumps. Then he should have cashed all his top cards in the side suits. After all this he could have led either a heart or a diamond and instead of being down one he would have made his slam. Due to the fact that West held the remaining hearts and East the diamonds, there was no way for the player who won that red suit trick to lead the other red suit. He would have to lead either a third club or a fourth card in his own long red suit. Either way South would be able to ruff in one hand and discard his remaining red suit loser from the other. This result would come from good luck. On the other hand South was certainly unlucky to find North with exactly the same number of cards in each suit that he himself held. But a third club in the North-hand and the slam would be a spread.

It was too much to expect that East and West could possibly go wrong in discarding on the five rounds of trumps. However, there was a way to make

ALL ABOUT CHRISTMAS CACTUS: We receive many letters for information on making a Christmas cactus for the holidays. We're going to untangle the confusion about "Crab" cactus. We'll also explain how to help clear up the confusion about these two plants. First, there are two Crab cactus. One is the "Christmas Cactus" and the other is the "Thanksgiving Cactus".

Greek Military Vetoes Execution Of Panagoulis

ATHENS (AP) — Greeks signed with relief today after their military government, apparently bowing to worldwide pressure, decided to let Alexander Panagoulis live.

The regime decided Thursday night not to shoot the 30-year-old man, who was sentenced to die for plotting to overthrow it.

Students were demonstrating abroad and appeals for clemency had come in from U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant, Pope Paul VI, the United States and many other nations.

Although no announcement of the clemency was made Thursday, the word raced through the capital.

Most Greeks feared that if Panagoulis was shot, it would be the start of a string of executions. He was the first man sentenced to be executed since the military coup 19 months ago.

Elation was evident as the news spread. The general reaction was "Well, we got over this and without any bloodshed."

In London, 15 Greek supporters of Panagoulis ended a four-day fast outside the Greek Embassy and danced with joy.

Panagoulis also was convicted of trying to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos, the titular leader of the regime. But Papadopoulos was said to have been against execution, and reliable sources said he had warned the other members of the military junta that executing Panagoulis would further harm the regime's image abroad.

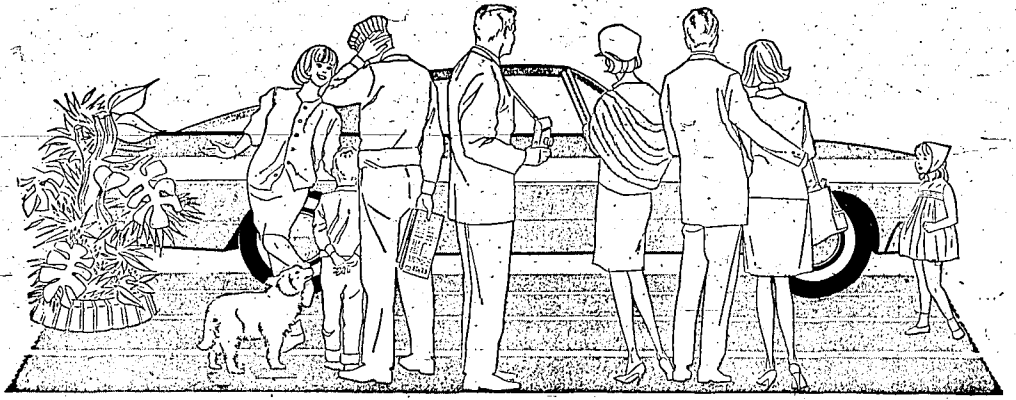

The sources said the decision not to shoot Panagoulis was reached at a hastily called Cabinet session in the regent's residence.

The Supreme Court on Thursday turned down a request by Panagoulis' lawyer for a retrial.

Panagoulis, however, who had told his judges he wanted to die to justify his struggle against the regime, was secretly transferred from an Athens military police training center to the prison island of Aegina, one hour from the capital by steamship.

Panagoulis was sentenced to death for subversive activities against the regime and for deserting the army. The military tribunal gave him an additional sentence of 18 years imprisonment for the attempt to assassinate Papadopoulos Aug. 33.

Meanwhile, the regime announced changes in four high government posts, and two of the former army officers involved in the attempt they would quit the government.

Brazilian Woman May 'Beat' Rabies

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — In a hospital here a 25-year-old woman may become a significant part of medical history. Candida de Souza Barbosa lives, doctors say, she will be the first person on record to have survived rabies.

Over a month ago Candida, who makes her meager living by patching clothes, was bitten on the foot by a stray dog as she passed through a park. Such things are not out of the ordinary in a city where stray dogs abound, and she soon forgot about the incident.

Thirty days later she began to feel nervous and agitated, later developing pains and partial paralysis which made it impossible for her to get out of bed.

Doctors from Francisco de Castro Hospital, which specializes in rabies, found that the girl had contracted the disease.

A team of surgeons headed by Dr. Rafael Aquiles Call performed a unique brain operation in an attempt to save Candida's life. Making two small holes in her head, they inserted two plastic tubes and pumped in hyperimmune antirabies gamma globulin.

"That was Nov. 9. Today, Candida shows every sign of recovery and her doctors say she is probably out of danger."

One text says: "Rabies in man is uniformly fatal when associated with excitation of the nervous system and the hydrophobia symptom." Dr. Max Carpin, who was responsible for much of the operation, said Candida had shown "a clinical history and all the classic features of rabies," including the hydrophobia symptom. The latter results from the rapid person's fear of water, associated with inability to swallow.

Death ordinarily occurs in humans three to five days after the onset of symptoms.

Rabies in domestic animals causes hundreds of deaths in Brazil each year. Exact statistics are unavailable, but medical sources here estimate that as many as 60 people have died from the disease in Rio alone this year.

Funeral Flight Meets Trouble, Lands In Utah

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP) — A funeral flight from Gillette, Wyo., ended in an emergency landing in the Red Desert of Southwest Wyoming Thursday afternoon when the plane's single engine developed trouble.

None of the four persons aboard — including the widow of an oil field worker fatally injured near Gillette Wednesday — was hurt.

Pilot Earl Redmond of Gillette landed the plane on a dirt road northeast of Rock Springs.

Once he restarted the engine, Redmond taxied the plane 40 miles to Interstate 80 where he flagged a motorist for a ride to Point of Rocks, Wyo., two miles west, where he telephoned authorities.

The widow, Mrs. Agnes Meecham of Vernal, and a companion, David Hatch of Vernal, were taken to Rock Springs where they handled the plane bearing Meecham's body for the rest of the trip.

The planes had been flying tandem.

Joseph Meecham, 52, died Wednesday when a piece of oil pipe fell on him at an oil field construction site north of Gillette. He had been temporarily living in Gillette.

Funeral services were reported pending in Vernal.

Redmond, an employee of Gillette Aviation, said the disabled plane would either have to be trucked to a repair depot or fixed on the spot.

Also aboard the disabled craft was Jean Krakaw, identified by the state highway patrol as a student pilot from Gillette.

Agricultural Boom Aids India

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's current agricultural boom is expected to raise this country's national income in 1967-1968 by nine per cent.

Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai, who also is finance minister, told Parliament the industrial sector's contribution to the boom would be all.

Nearly 14 different units of the industrial sector showed a significant decline in production, he said.
