French Cancel Nuclear Tests During Crisis

PARIS (AP) — France's 1969 atomic test program in the South Pacific will be canceled and credits will be reduced for the super-sonic transport plane Concorde as part of the French austerity program to save the franc, Premier Maurice Couve de Murville announced today.

Couve de Murville gave the National Assembly the news on civilian and military projects that will suffer in a cutback of 1969 budget deficit from 11.7 billion francs—$2.34 billion—to 6.354 billion francs—$1.27 billion.

President Charles de Gaulle announced the deficit cut Sunday night in a radio address, but left it up to the premier to spell-out the details.

Couve de Murville said the military budget will be trimmed by $90 million francs—$50 million—and that the 1969 atomic test program cannot be held. During this year's test series, France's first hydrogen devices were exploded.

The Concorde super-sonic transport project is a joint venture with Great Britain. Its costs have ballooned from an estimated $48 million in 1962 to about $2 billion.

The cut announced by Couve de Murville will be $12 million in the French contribution for 1969. It was not known how much delay this might cause in the program. The first prototype is scheduled to fly late in December.

The premier said that a 4.25 per cent payroll tax will be canceled, and adjustments made in the added value tax to compensate for the loss in revenue.

The added value tax is the equivalent of a sales tax.

Subsidies granted to nationalized industries—coal mines, railroads, gas and electricity, and the Paris public transport system are the biggest money losers—will be cut by 1,150 billion francs—$2.50 million.

The railways will increase freight rates by about 6.2 per cent Dec. 1 and high tension electricity rates will go up 4.8 per cent on the same date.

These increases had been planned before the speculative run on the franc that caused great fears of devaluation.

Couve de Murville spoke against a backdrop of signs of calm in Europe's money markets after last week's heavy speculation against the franc. France's decision not to devalue the franc had at least a temporary bracing effect.

The franc was firmer in Paris and gold buying dropped, showing somewhat more confidence in the French currency.

The British pound moved ahead for the second day and the U.S. dollar was steady on Europe's markets. Devaluation of the franc had threatened both the pound and the dollar.

Germany's marks were still being exchanged for dollars, but at a less feverish rate than on Monday. The German decision to revoke the mark upward caused speculation to unload them for dollars.

London dealers said pressure from buyers of gold was dried up. The price fixed in the afternoon was $39.70 an ounce, the first time since the crisis here last week it had gone under $40.

Nixon May Appoint 'Foes' To Cabinet, Sen. Tower Hints

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon, contending closed-door meetings with advisors and prominent Republican officeholders apparently has just made up his mind on some Cabinet appointments.

Although Nixon has said he'll name his Cabinet choices before Dec. 6, GOP Sen. John G. Tower of Texas emerged from a Monday conference with the President-elect and acknowledged he'd talked about possible Cabinet selections, Democrats as well as Republicans.

Asked if it would be accurate to say Nixon has not yet decided on any Cabinet nominees, Tower carefully responded that Nixon indicated no final decisions on him—leaving wide open the suggestion that the incoming chief executive had privately reached, or is very close to, some final choices.

Tower, one of three prominent Republicans to meet with Nixon during the day, gave a thumbnail description of the kind of Cabinet he believes is being sought by Nixon: "People of great professional competence whose ideas are not incompatible with those of the President-elect and who have an ability to implement those ideas."

Tower's senator said Nixon would like "geographical balance" in the Cabinet but would not sacrifice other considerations to parceling out appointments on a regional basis.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York was another visitor who acknowledged talking to Nixon about specific jobs and specific possible officeholders. Like Tower, he wouldn't mention any names but offered this teasing comment: "I happen to be the senior senator from a state with an awful lot of talent."

Javits, recently returned from a European tour, said Nixon specifically authorized him to state that the President-elect "showed an interest in a proposal by the senator that if the Paris peace talks continue after Jan. 29, one of the two U.S. negotiators—W. Averell Harriman or Cyrus Vance—be retained by the new administration to provide continuity.

Javits talked to Harriman and Vance while in Paris and said they are pushing their peace quest "without waiting for the new administration."

People 'Get Involved' And Help Officers With Arrests

Two citizens of Magic Valley assisted law enforcement in a recent five-day suspended jail sentence.

The Faraworth youth was cited for driving too fast for the road conditions. He entered a plea of guilty in this charge and was fined $10 by Jerome Justice of the Peace Irving Allmon.

The other incident took place Sunday when a vehicle was reported driving in a reckless manner around Filer.

State Police Officer Frank Mogensson said he had attempted to approach the vehicle earlier, but had lost it. A citizen of Filer later observed the car and made a citizen's arrest.

The driver, Richard Webster, 20, Filer, appeared Monday in Twin Falls Justice Court where he entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving. He was fined $25 and costs by Judge Reed P. Moughan.

Mr. York and Mr. Mogensson expressed their appreciation Monday morning for the two people who "got involved."

"This is the kind of thing that people have to realize—we need their help sometimes," Mr. Mogensson said.

Envoy of Saigon Arrives in Paris Amid Talk Rumors

PARIS (AP) — A mystery envoy from Saigon was reported in Paris today preparing for the arrival of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. This indicated South Vietnam's boycott of the Paris peace talks is nearing its end.

Qualified informants said if all goes well Ky is likely to arrive with a South Vietnamese delegation by next week, clearing the way for the resumption of the negotiations that have been suspended since Nov. 6.

An American-South Vietnamese agreement on the terms of Saigon's participation in the conference is imminent, according to reports from both Saigon and Washington. President Nguyen Van Thieu is expected to announce his government's readiness to participate in the Paris talks with the United States, North Vietnam and Viet Cong's National Liberation Front in a few days.

Informants said the mystery man from Saigon arrived during the weekend to arrange the many protocol details connected with the reception and accommodation of the South Vietnamese vice president in Paris.

He was reported to be a high official in Ky's own office, but the South Vietnamese mission withheld his name "for reasons of security."

The official will be returning to Saigon in the next two days or so, sources said.

South Vietnamese officials suggested that the agreement under which Thieu would agree to participate in the Paris talks "showed an interest in a leading role" on the allied side of the table when certain major issues were defined, particularly anything touching on the political settlement of the war.

The United States would have to say on such matters as withdrawal of its troops from South Vietnam and a matching North Vietnamese pullback.

The United States would assure South Vietnam again that it would resist any Communist effort to impose a coalition government on the South.

The South Vietnamese would "ignore" the presence at the table of its troops from South Vietnam and a matching North Vietnamese pullback.

Allies Battle Reds In DMZ Gas Fumes Dim Hope For 78

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese in the DMZ battled the demilitarized zone today for the first time since President Johnson called the bombing halt Nov. 1.

American infantry planes and artillery were reported fighting an enemy force 500 yards inside the southern half of the zone just above Con Thien. The South Vietnamese reported at least three North Vietnamese killed in a brief clash seven miles to the east, about a mile inside the DMZ northwest of Gio Linh.

By late afternoon there were no reports of any U.S. or government casualties.

The U.S. command said Marines entered the DMZ because intelligence reports indicated enemy activity creating a possible threat to U.S. forces at Con Thien.

A spokesman said about 0:50 a.m. a reconnaissance patrol from the 3rd Marine Division ran into enemy troops that fired assault rifles and 50-caliber machine guns from fortified positions. The patrol returned the fire and an hour later Marine reinforcements pushed into the DMZ.

The spokesman said the fact that the cat-and-mouse game contact "is a fairly good confirmation" of intelligence reports indicating a threat to Con Thien.

South Vietnamese reconnaissance patrol into the southern half of the DMZ "to locate enemy mortar positions that have been firing on South Vietnamese units operating south of the DMZ."

South Vietnamese infantrymen sweeping the western approaches to Saigon uncovered two big 107mm rocket launchers with eight launching tubes 24 miles west of Saigon.

In Saigon, Viet Cong time bombs ripped through two buildings and caused considerable damage. Six of those killed and one survivor were Americans. Air America is a charter airline that flies for U.S. government agencies in Vietnam and Laos.

Adding to the problem was a report on the analysis of gas content in the mine shaft where a slim copper tube poked through and sucked it to the surface for examination.

The report on the sample showed it to contain 7.4 per cent deadly methane gas—more than three times the limit for human survival—and one per cent carbon monoxide, 50 times the tolerable limit.

"You and I could not live in the mine shaft today at a hearing by the Army Corps of Engineers. T.F. County Study Of '69 Budget Made

It's budget time in Twin Falls County and a commission is studying requests from department heads in an effort to come up with a final budget in February.

By Idaho law the 1969 budget in each of the state's 44 counties must be established by the second Monday in February. The county operates with cash reserves until taxes are paid in the fall of each year.

Tuesday, it was indicated that the commissioners would attempt to keep the budget figure lower than the 1968 budget, but Commissioner Morris Carlson said, "It's going to be tough."

The highest cost of living, which affects everything the county buys.

It was reported that budget requests submitted to date are in line with requests of previous years.

The 1968 budget, established last February, was $3,566,285. However, that figure contained items that can be deleted in this budget.

For instance, the commissioners allocated $13,500 for a mental health center, but they have other $35,000 for the general election. Also, $50,000 was included in the 1968 budget for improvements at the airport. The improvements are a joint city-county effort.

In 1967 the budget was $3,237,125. Estimates nationally show the cost of living has risen nearly 18 per cent in the past year.

This rise is noted by the commissioners who are finding the family food dollar doesn't go as far as it did last year.

Whether this rise in the cost of living will directly affect the size of this year's county budget is something to be determined.

County Clerk Harold Lancaster said the commissioners are attempting to keep the budget lower than the 1968 figure of about $3.5 million.

'Muckraker' Novelist Dies At 90

BOUND BROOK, N.J. (AP) — Upton Sinclair, a prolific author and founder of the "King of the Muckrakers" during a 63-year career, is dead at the age of 90.

He died Monday at the Somerset Valley Nursing Home near here. A memorial service will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Bound Brook at 11 a.m. Saturday.

During what he described as a 63-year battle for social justice, Sinclair wrote full-length novels, was known for his own works, "The Jungle," captivated men to fame at the age of 28 in 1906.

He took exposed filthy conditions in the Chicago meat-packing industry and led to the nation's pure food laws. The book was known for his own works, "The Jungle," captivated men to fame at the age of 28 in 1906.

It was one of the major reasons for the support of many famous men.

Among his admirers were George Bernard Shaw, who recommended Sinclair for the Nobel Prize and Albert Einstein, who wrote a poem in his honor.

Sinclair, a very 5-foot-7 man who kept in shape by playing tennis, was known for his energy even in his later years.

In 1942 he won a Pulitzer Prize for his novel "Dragon's Teeth." His first administration from a high Vatican prelate that the Pontiff might have erred in some of those divisive decisions.

'Even If Orders Are Wrong' Papal Obedience Demanded

VATICAN CITY (AP) — One of Pope Paul's closest advisers declared today that Roman Catholics must obey the Pope's orders even if the orders are wrong.

The statement by Pericle Cardinal Felici, president of the Commission for the Revision of Canon Law, was an unmistakable call for obedience to the Pope's decisions on birth control, priestly celibacy and other issues facing the church.

It was after the first administration from a high Vatican prelate that the Pontiff might have erred in some of those divisive decisions.

Writing in the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano for the second time this month, the Italian cardinal asserted: "Certainly the Superior can err in issuing orders. Though he acts in virtue of power received from God, such power passes through the smallness of human nature which does not always succeed in penetrating the profound design of God. But the possible error of the Superior does not authorize disobedience of the subjects."

On Nov. 7 Cardinal Felici wrote that those who defy the Pope were verging on heresy. Today he said "obedience must be given to those who hold legitimate power."

Under this heading he included all authorities who receive their power under law and said that any superior who does not respect the law under which he has his power may not demand obedience.

But, added the cardinal, "It is quite certain that the superior commands within the limits of his competence, the subject must obey, that is support the wish of the superior most earnestly out his orders, not seeing in the superior the man but rather the legitimate constituted authority."

Bid Opening On Airprt Facility Set

The bid opening for construction of the airport restaurant facility extension will be held at 4 p.m. Friday at the Twin Falls City Hall.

Carl E. Benson, architect for the project, said the extension to the southeast portion of the building will nearly double the present restaurant space.

He said the extension will be done in matching brick.

Following the Friday afternoon bid opening, the city council is expected to approve the low bid during its regular meeting Monday night. The approval will be made following a check of the bid.

Herb Derrick, city manager, said they are anxious to get started on the construction work as soon as possible. They hope to have the extension completed about the first of the year.

Jerico Corp. has a contract with the city to space the restaurant facilities. The present restaurant space has proved too small to accommodate the airport business.

Jack Ramsey Is Wounded In Vietnam

Marine First Lt. Jack Ramsey, Jr., the son of a Filer couple, has been wounded in both legs in fighting in South Vietnam.

The 23-year-old officer once was a reporter for the Times-News. His father is an editor at the Fidelity National Bank.

Jack Ramsey Sr., in Twin Falls, said Tuesday his son's leg was injured Tuesday evening. "We don't know very much yet about his wounds, or how serious they might be," Mr. Ramsey said. The lieutenant's wife lives in Portland.

Mr. Ramsey said his son was evacuated to a hospital ship on the coast of South Vietnam and is being treated at the ship.

There was no indication where in South Vietnam Lt. Ramsey was wounded.

He has been in South Vietnam since June. He attended Lewis and Clark College in Portland.

Reds Protest U.S. 'Attacks' Against North

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnamese protesters who say U.S. air and naval attacks against its territory, a spokesman said today.

Nhuyen Than Le, the delegation spokesman, said attacks in recent days violated the U.S. bomb-halt commitment.

He said North Vietnam's protest Monday when an American A-1J was downed in Nghe An Province and an F-4C fell to enemy fire in Quang Binh Province.

U.S. sources in Saigon said two American planes were shot down over North Vietnam Monday. They identified the planes as an F-4C and an F-105. The F-4C was a B-57D and the F-105 was a B-57D.

Idaho Plans Training For Inmates

BOISE (AP)—Gov. Don Samuelson said Tuesday he is expecting approval shortly of a federally-financed project to provide vocational training for inmates in the state prison system who will soon be eligible for release.

The training would be intended to prepare the men for jobs in civilian life. Samuelson said 15 men each will be trained as chefs, farm equipment repairmen and small appliance repairmen. A $116,000 grant under the federal Manpower Development and Training Act will finance the project, operated jointly by the state Departments of Employment and Vocational Education.

Italian Crisis Believed Ended By New Leaders

ROME (AP)—Marlano Rumor, leader of the Christian Democracy party, met with President Giuseppe Saragat today to receive a mandate to form a new center-left coalition to end Italy's government crisis.

As Rumor reported to the presidential Quirinal Palace, political circles, and the press were reporting that Saragat, except the task—and this they thought would be his first time as premier. He tried last time to line up a government but failed. This time he had at least initial support from the Socialist party, which holds the key to any center-left renewal. Just a few hours before he went to Saragat the Socialist leadership voted again that the time had come to form a center-left government once more. Alessandro Perilli, Socialist president of the Chamber of Deputies, had the same view in an advisory mandate by Saragat Sunday.

Idaho Board Certifies Vote Tally

BOISE (AP)—The State Board of Canvassers Monday certified vote totals in Idaho's Nov. 5 general election.

Totals reported by clerks in each of Idaho's 44 counties were very little different from the unofficial tallies made earlier. Republican Richard M. Nixon's electors received 183,769 votes, and was trailed by Democrat Hubert Humphrey, with 89,273, and George Wallace, with 36,541 votes in the district race.

In the Senate race, the official tally showed Democratic incumbent Frank Church received 173,482 votes. Rep. George Hansen, his challenger, received 89,273.

The four electors chosen in the presidential contest will meet Dec. 16 with Secretary of State Frank P. McCulloch to cast their votes for president. Canvassers will then certify the votes to the General Services Administration.

Rep. James A. McClure received 90,870 votes in his 1st District Republican campaign, versus 62,000 for Compton I. White, Democrat, in the district race. Republican Orval Hansen's 65,029 votes led the three-way race. Democrat Darrell Manning received 31,900 votes in the district race. Independent candidate Joel Anderson received 4,377.

The vote total, Canvassers said, was more than 5,000 less than in the 1964 presidential election in Idaho, when 300,415 votes were cast for the high office.

At the meeting Gov. Don W. Samuelson, Canvasser in Chief, Gen. Allan G. Shepard and State Treasurer Marjorie Moon. The other board member, State Auditor Joe R. Williams, was out of town.

The teacher, Fred Nauman, was reassigned pending a hearing.

T. F. Youth Invited To Science Meet

Sixteen-year-old David Becher, son of Ted R. Becher, 1220 Fourth Ave. E., will attend the Seventh International Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at the University of Utah in March.

He is the only Twin Falls High School student invited to attend. He has been invited on the basis of his grade average in high school—a straight A average in sciences—and his western states will attend and 26 students from Idaho have been invited.

The symposium is a yearly event which brings together the young brains of the west for discussions on technical matters. Young Becher is a junior at his high school.

The symposium will be held March 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 at the University of Utah campus and science teachers and speakers from the Intermountain area and the nation will attend to give the young scientists pointers on education and sciences.

Police Arrest Negro Leaders In School Fuss

NEW YORK (AP)—Two key Negro leaders in the Ocean Hill-Brownsville school district were taken into custody Monday as the state moved to preserve a shaky agreement which ended a seven-week teachers' strike last week.

The Rev. G. Herbert Oliver, chairman of the suspended Ocean Hill board, and Albert Vann, head of the Afro-American teachers' Association, were arrested at Junior High School 271.

Police said the two refused to leave the school as requested by Herbert Johnson, the state trustee put in charge of the eight-school experimental Brooklyn district as part of the strike-end program.

Both were to be booked on charges of criminal trespassing, police said. The seizures came on the heels of a dispute over Johnson's decision Monday to temporarily remove from classes a union teacher accused of injuring a 12-year-old pupil at JHS 271.

Lloyd Walker walking along Shoshone Street. Ward Rees greeting friend in bank. Bob Alexander talking to acquaintance on street corner. Mrs. Margie Babcock giving money to fund total. Howard Allen crossing street. Darrell Smith talking about Jaycee activities. Bob Williams having cup of coffee. Paul Newton visiting in city engineer's office. Leland Carson driving city truck. Harold Cook looking at papers in office. Leo Soran talking on telephone. Carl-Benson telling plans for airport restaurant extension. Rex Ulrich delivering news release. Mrs. Ann Anderson talking about money. Mrs. Zoe Ann Shaub helping poodle out of car. All overheard. It's too hot here! as warm outside as it looks from inside.

Nuclear

... regulations were into effect, squads of security police manned border crossings and airports and searched travelers to make sure they took out no more currency than the relatively small amounts decreed Monday. Air lines and tourist agents reported heavy cancellations. You can't go to New York for 21 days with $14 in your pocket, said one, that being the maximum amount allowed a French tourist.

These are the regulations that affect the average Frenchman, but they are of secondary importance in the government's fight to keep the franc at home. To check the big speculators who converted billions of francs into West German marks in the past three weeks, the government decreed that all foreign exchange deals must clear through official channels. It remains to be seen how well this can be enforced.

Revived Tot Transferred To Salt Lake

Michelle Dawn Bolton, 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Todd Bolton, Twin Falls, has been transferred to the University of Utah Hospital at Salt Lake City for further medical treatment.

The tot was stricken Nov. 17 at her home by pneumonia. Officers, family members and Magic Valley Ambulance Service personnel revived the child through artificial resuscitation and oxygen.

She was listed in fair condition Tuesday when she was transferred from Magic Valley Medical Hospital to Salt Lake City.

ICC Allows Railroads To Boost Freight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission granted the nation's railroads today an interim freight rate increase on most commodities of 3.40 per cent.

The ICC said in a statement its decision modifies its June 10 ruling that permitted the railroads to file tariffs limited to no more than 3 per cent.

It excluded from today's authorization higher rates for grain, iron, steel scrap and pig iron, saying increases in those rates must remain at the 3 per cent rate set last June.

Ex-Heyburn Man Found In Mountains

MURPHY—Three men reported missing on a hunting trip in the rugged Mountain area in southwestern Idaho were found Tuesday and were being taken to a hospital for examination.

One of the trio, Lanny Christie, 27, Caldwell, is a former Heyburn resident and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Christie, live Heyburn.

Sheriff Al Barberis, who was in one of the search planes which spotted the men, said all three appeared in good condition. Ground crews were in the vicinity and headed toward the men.

The other two youths were George Dean and Robert Brizbenbe, both 17, both Nampa.

Peace Officers Meet At Burley

BURLEY—Magic Valley Peace Officers Association will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in conference room of Ponderosa Inn. All the legislators of the area have been invited to attend the meeting, announces Floyd Higgins, Burley, president of association.

Both were to be booked on charges of criminal trespassing, police said. The seizures came on the heels of a dispute over Johnson's decision Monday to temporarily remove from classes a union teacher accused of injuring a 12-year-old pupil at JHS 271.

T. F. Youth Invited To Science Meet

Sixteen-year-old David Becher, son of Ted R. Becher, 1220 Fourth Ave. E., will attend the Seventh International Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at the University of Utah in March.

He is the only Twin Falls High School student invited to attend. He has been invited on the basis of his grade average in high school—a straight A average in sciences—and his western states will attend and 26 students from Idaho have been invited.

The symposium is a yearly event which brings together the young brains of the west for discussions on technical matters. Young Becher is a junior at his high school.

The symposium will be held March 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 at the University of Utah campus and science teachers and speakers from the Intermountain area and the nation will attend to give the young scientists pointers on education and sciences.

Police Arrest Negro Leaders In School Fuss

NEW YORK (AP)—Two key Negro leaders in the Ocean Hill-Brownsville school district were taken into custody Monday as the state moved to preserve a shaky agreement which ended a seven-week teachers' strike last week.

The Rev. G. Herbert Oliver, chairman of the suspended Ocean Hill board, and Albert Vann, head of the Afro-American teachers' Association, were arrested at Junior High School 271.

Police said the two refused to leave the school as requested by Herbert Johnson, the state trustee put in charge of the eight-school experimental Brooklyn district as part of the strike-end program.

Both were to be booked on charges of criminal trespassing, police said. The seizures came on the heels of a dispute over Johnson's decision Monday to temporarily remove from classes a union teacher accused of injuring a 12-year-old pupil at JHS 271.

Dirksen Sees 'No Problem' In Congress

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said Monday he does not foresee any difficulties in a Republican administration working with a Democratic Congress.

The Illinois Republican, in a jovial mood and wisecracking to newsmen, made the comments at a news conference as he checked out of St. Barnabas Medical Center after a week of undiagnosed tests and treatments.

The Senate minority leader reported himself in "top flight condition," and even planted a kiss on a hospital nurse when he arrived at the conference.

At the news conference, his first since winning re-election Nov. 5, Dirksen said he has been in touch with President Johnson and President-elect Richard M. Nixon's staff since entering the hospital.

Dirksen said he believes the major business before the Senate will include action on the Multilateral Nuclear Treaty and approval of the budget.

He noted that traditionally no Senate action is taken until after Inauguration Day, Jan. 20.

Seventh grade honor students included Barbara Burbank, Wade Diehl, Tom Dolar, Charlie Heppner, Janeen Hutchinson, Doreen Lauritzen, Laureen Parker, Barbara Teply, Terri Tvedy and Brent Watson.

Eighth grade high honor students were Gary Arford, Susan Helm, Deborah Collins, Leo Hammerquist, Linda Hendrix, Roger Iverson, Garland Kyles, Martha LaRue, Dirk Surber and Melissa White.

First graders on the honor roll are Jeannette Allen, Vicki Allen, David Amundson, Kitchy Butler, Tammy Carson, Pat Charlton, Darlene Distel, Debra Holsworth, James Monroe, Anne Phillips, Dave Rogers, Rhonda Smalley, Shelly Thorsen and Kristi Wright.

Democratic 'Coalition' Praises O'Brien For Reform Proposals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The new Democratic Coalition, making reform of the Democratic party's machinery one of its first goals, has commended National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien for saying he will name two reform committees.

The action by the coalition's temporary steering committee meeting in St. Louis underscored its determination to work within the framework of the Democratic party.

Most members of the steering committee were active in the presidential campaigns of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, or Sen.

George S. McGovern of South Dakota, and many worked for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey after his nomination. The steering committee put off for two months decisions on a more formal national organization, but approved a statement that its main goal is to transform the Democratic party into a national political instrument which will represent and provide avenues of participation for all citizens.

Noting O'Brien's announcement Saturday that he would soon name the groups to develop new rules for the 1972 Democratic National Convention, the coalition sent him a telegram urging that they be composed of those who worked to achieve party reform during the 1968 convention and whose membership will signal vigorous and prompt assistance to all states in making changes.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Profit and publicity are the prime motives for violence on aircraft," a committee of the Air-Line Pilots Association (ALPA) said.

The recent wave of hijackings appears to have the common goal of advertising some political ideology," the ALPA destructive objects committee told the association's 20th biennial board of directors meeting.

The committee said "sensational and disproportionate coverage of these events by the news media serves to encourage the next publicity seeker or to plant the idea in a deranged mind."

The pilots suggested aerial offenses be made more difficult through the use of weapon detection devices located in the terminals and improved cockpit security measures, such as bullet-proofing walls and arming crews.

The committee told 270 delegates at the board meeting that many positive steps have not been taken because they are not totally effective and their cost could not be justified on that basis.

New Books Are Added To Filer Library

FILER — New books have been added to the Filer City Library shelves, according to Mrs. P. E. Albin, librarian.

A new copy of "Ship of Hooey" was presented to the library by the author, Elsie D. Hunt, to replace the worn copy. Other new books and replacements include: "The New Year" by Pearl Buck; "To Sir, With Love," "Brathwaits," "Edge of Glass," Gaskin; "One Summer in Between," "Ma & Pa," "That Quail," Robert, "Stanger (non-fiction)," and "Unexpected Treasure," by Byzuknhiel. "Lenny Fivers," West; "The Corner Shop," Cadel; "But Daddy," Buck; "The Kitchen Madonna," Godden; "Mutiny on the Bounty," Northoff and Hall; "Freedom of the Press," "Continuing Struggle," Stein, (non-fiction), and "The Life of George Gershwin," Rushmore, (non-fiction); "Rushmore, "A Long Vacation," Verne; "Wilches, Wilches, Wilches," "Hok," "Ribsy," Cleary; "Benji Moran," Deblino; "Wilderness Wife, Story of Rebecca Boone," DeGering.

Hearing Dated On Log Exports

PORTLAND (AP)—A public hearing will open Dec. 6 on log exports.

The hearing will be held in Portland by the Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management.

The agencies will receive written testimony until Dec. 11 on the export of Port Orford cedar and Alaska yellow cedar from Washington, Oregon, and Northern California. Prime species such as Douglas fir, Western hemlock are not involved.

The Morse Amendment to the Foreign Assistance Act of 1968 limits export of logs from Western federal lands to 350 million board feet.

But the amendment allows federal agencies, after public hearings, to permit the export of additional unprocessed timber that is in excess of domestic needs.

Toys Can Hurt

NEW YORK (AP)—The means to cause blindness or other eye injury to children can ride in Santa Claus' bag of toys unless "dotting relatives" have foresight, the president-elect of the American Medical Association says.

Dr. Gerald D. Dorman of New York, addressing the 60th anniversary meeting of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, said: "Dotting relatives continue giving tiny children toys of breakable plastic, and toys that have sharp edges, sharp points, exposed springs and exposed gears. Small children stalk one another with toy pistols and toy cannons that fire plastic missiles."

British Court Jolts Kansan

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP)—Sheriff Marion Weese has received notice that a Kansan was convicted Oct. 16 in Dunbar Court, London, on a charge of drunken driving and that the English court suspended his driver's license six months.

"It was the first notice of this type I can remember in which a conviction in one country can be binding in another as a result of a reciprocal agreement," the sheriff said.

'THEME' NOTED

CINCINNATI (AP)—An underground newspaper circulating on the Xavier University campus and pledged to an anti-war theme says it will stage a "coming-out" party when the ROTC holds its military ball Dec. 7. It will be tagged the antimilitary ball, the newspaper "Attempt" said.

LBJ Confers With Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson met Monday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and with the National Security Council, but the White House said no special events required the meetings.

The subjects of Security Council discussions are rarely announced. In one departure from custom, Johnson invited news photographers in for a brief picture-taking session at the start of the meeting.

Among those attending was Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, who participated in international monetary talks in Bonn last week and who expressed confidence at a news conference that a possible money crisis had been averted.

Press secretary George Christian said Rusk arranged to discuss with the President a variety of matters involving his department, in advance of the Security Council meeting.

Inside Report: The Mathias Coalition

WASHINGTON — A one-page flyer printed on yellow paper, titled "The Afro-Asian News" and describing the close alliance between Rep. Charles (Mac) Mathias and Negroes, suddenly appeared on the doorsteps of Maryland voters just before Election Day.

white backlash is sharp: it places like the Dundalk-Essex section of east Baltimore County, the eastern and southern sections of Baltimore City, and the city of Hagerstown. The flyer was an eleven-hour thrust at Republican Mathias' campaign for the U. S. Senate, printed and distributed by forces of the incumbent incumbent candidate, George Mahoney.

Similarly, in the Dundalk-Essex area of eastern Baltimore County, Mathias ran better than Nixon and in fact better than any Republican since Dwight D. Eisenhower. He and Nixon ran about even in blue-collar neighborhoods of east and south Baltimore.

Yet, though "The Afro-Asian News" was patently bogus, it contained no untruths. Mathias had indeed been endorsed by the Maryland NAACP and had worked effectively for House passage of open housing. But what is significant is that neither the flyer nor Mathias' record hurt him among these supposed white backslashers.

Indeed, in his victory against incumbent Democratic Sen. Daniel Brewster and Mahoney, Mathias was one of a handful of Republican candidates across the country to cut into normally Democratic voters among both Negroes and the white workingmen.

This enabled Mathias to win his three-cornered race for the Senate with 47 per cent of the Maryland vote while President-elect Nixon was losing the state with 43 per cent. Furthermore, because the Mathias and Nixon strategies were so diametrically opposite, the Maryland election returns provide an excellent case study of why Nixon's national victory margin was so small.

In Maryland as elsewhere, Nixon's strategy was to cede the Negro vote to Vice President Humphrey (on the ground that it was unattainable and that any campaigning for the black slums might exacerbate the white backlash vote.) The result: Nixon carried barely 10 per cent in the Baltimore area.

By waging a vigorous campaign among the Negroes (including visits to black churches every Sunday), Mathias was able to pry away 14 per cent to 20 per cent in the Negro precincts of Baltimore — disproving the canard that low-income blacks won't split their votes in a general election.

Even more surprising, moreover, was the outcome in the black areas. In Washington County (which includes a large black area, a United Auto Workers center), Mathias picked up 59 per cent of the vote to Nixon's 47 per cent.

Behind these voting figures are dramatically contrasting campaign tactics. Nixon wooed the white industrial vote as a solely with his law-and-order theme (and tough-talking Gov. Spiro T. Agnew). So unspecified was Nixon's approach to the workingman that he scarcely bothered to rebut Humphrey's charges that a Nixon administration would risk higher unemployment.

Like everybody else campaigning in 1968, Mathias talked about law-and-order. But he also reassured workingmen on bread-and-butter issues and cleverly capitalized on the contempt of rank-and-file unionists for their labor leaders. Uninvited to candidates' meetings sponsored by organized labor, Mathias showed up anyway and held press conferences when denied admittance — an old but effective ploy.

The result was a triumph of tactics that showed how a candidate like Mathias, lacking both charisma and a statewide reputation, could nevertheless wield together significant parts of the black ghetto-white backlash vote that Nixon's strategy had deemed impossible for anybody but a Robert F. Kennedy.

Moreover, a comparison of private polls and actual returns shows that Nixon's strategy lost rather than won votes in Maryland. In early September, Nixon held comfortable leads in the black areas, while Mathias trailed substantially.

Thus Maryland is further evidence an opportunity to significantly extend the boundaries of the Republican party. Mathias' example also is instructive for the future. At a time when Republican Bourbons are insisting that Nixon seek out white voters to build a national majority, Mathias' winning coalition points to a different and more positive direction.

Help To Saigon

It is understood a number of Nixon men would like to keep a part of their campaign team intact, send it to Saigon to help the South Vietnamese develop an Asian equivalent of door-to-door canvassing, precinct organization and political strategy.

These Nixon men believe that only through becoming skilled in these basic "grass roots" tactics can the South Vietnamese come to stand on their own feet politically, build a truly representative government and be able to compete with the heavily organized Viet Cong in post-war elections.

This project, if carried out, would be based on the computerlike tactics used by Nixon strategists in the winning of the 1968 presidential campaign.

Cities, districts and wards would be analyzed. Then organizing would be focused on the critical areas necessary for victory in any future elections in which the Communists might take part.

That is, the major effort would go into the high-pay-off areas.

Back of this possible Nixon-team strategy are somber reports on conditions in South Vietnam.

Incoming data from Saigon and the provinces indicates that South Vietnamese-American forces are in good shape militarily.

But politically the situation is dangerous.

Stability is paper-thin. The political parties are small and fragmented. Not one has a grass roots base. Political organization is almost nonexistent in most city wards and country villages alike.

So much emphasis has been put on military victory that creation of the political base necessary to insure sound government in South Vietnam has been neglected.

Billions have been spent on military actions and economic and technical help for creating the political know-how which is the strength of a democracy has been largely ignored. The South Vietnamese have repeatedly asked for technical political help.

By contrast, Hanoi has sent south some of its most skilled "precinct organizers."

Ho Chi Minh has spent the last eight months vigorously upgrading his underground organization in South Vietnam's villages and rebuilding his organization in the major cities. Concurrently, his men have been actively repairing, enlarging and rejuvenating local "front" groups in areas where they existed, and actively building new groups in areas under nominal government rule.

Hanoi has been working to strengthen its control over youth, women, farm, student, teacher, trade and fishing co-operative groups it has organized or infiltrated over the years.

Despite the small minority of Communists in South Vietnam, this efficient Hanoi organization might wield surprisingly strong power in free elections against the present divided, poorly organized non-Communist majority. At least, this is the worry in some informed circles.

This worry is back of the push in the Nixon camp for a crash program.

GOP Rules Legislatures

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Reflecting the general tightness of the 1968 election, the Republicans this time picked up only a modest 60-odd additional seats in the nation's state legislatures. Two years ago they gained a smashing 503.

Indeed, the advance was so small that, on the basis of still incomplete results, no state apparently produced a pickup of more than 10 or 12 seats. There was, however, some bright news for the GOP, and corresponding gloom for the Democrats. Republicans moved to the point where they now control both upper and lower houses of the legislatures in 20 states—exactly the number in which Democrats have double control.

More significant for the GOP is the fact that the list now includes California and New York. The party already had double control in New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois. Pennsylvania and Michigan had also been on the Republican list, but in each instance one legislative house slipped back to Democratic control.

Only Massachusetts, Florida and Texas among the big 10 have both houses under Democratic control. Another bit of good cheer for the GOP is the fact that of the 20 states where they now rule both houses, they likewise have the governorship in 15 cases. The roster includes California, New York, Illinois and Ohio. New Jersey has a Democratic governor. In the two big split states, Pennsylvania and Michigan, Republicans hold the governorship. They also hold it in two states, Massachusetts and Florida, where Democrats reign in both legislative houses.

The most noteworthy immediate consequence of these changes is the loss by California State Rep. Jesse Unruh of the state assembly speakership, the important power base for an incumbent who intended to launch his 1970 bid for the California Democratic governorship nomination. A Republican now gets the speaker's job.

There probably is no unappreciated figure in U. S. politics today than Unruh. He has wanted the governorship for years. In 1966 he thought he had former Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown's promise to clear the way for him, but Brown ran for a third term and not.

This year, as in 1960, Unruh tied his fortunes to Sen. Robert Kennedy, as he had done with his slain brother eight years earlier. But Kennedy's assassination June 5 left Unruh in a grave dilemma. He tried to resolve it by finally casting his weight with the liberal, fervently antiwar Democrats backing Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Sen. George McGovern for the 1968 presidential nomination. Though nominally with Humphrey in the fall campaign, Unruh privately was forecasting big defeat for him in California. The vice president's loss of the state by only 48 to 45 in percentage does not enhance Unruh's position.

Nothing else so dramatic grew out of the 1968 state legislative results. But the GOP's heightened command over the governing processes in most of the 50 states gives the party unparalleled opportunity to build itself in new ways — yet undetermined — which might translate into greater Republican strength at the national level.

For 1968 showed once again that, while voters are steadily more willing to give Republican state control, nationally they cling to the crumbling Democratic party in Congress and may elect a Republican to the White House only by his skilful nose.

San Francisco's Mayor Joseph Alioto, ardent Humphrey man, makes the expected governorship try in 1970. Unruh now be at far greater disadvantage than seemed likely just a few months ago.

Tracheitis

Dear Dr. Hosteson: Would you discuss tracheitis, the seriousness of same, and whether it is caused by a germ or what? I have been told it is a cold or a similar virus infection which may start as a cold in the head but progresses downward toward the chest.

Cough-mixtures that promote secretions and irritations help soothe the inflamed tissues. If you are a smoker and have a cold, give up smoking, at least for the time being. Cigarettes are only adding insult to injury.

The cold, of course, will have to wear itself out. But meantime the trachea will heal more slowly if you protect it from any unnecessary irritation.

Dear Dr. Hosteson: Please give me information about Meniere's disease. I don't think it is split right but can't find it in the dictionary. Would diet have any effect? I have dizziness almost always when I wake up in the morning very nauseated. —Mrs. R.M.

"Dizzy Spells," you spell it Meniere's disease, caused by a disturbance of the balance mechanism in the inner ear. If you will read my booklet, "Dizzy Spells," you will find Meniere's disease described and explained. Diet has little if any effect except that in some cases avoiding salt will help to reduce congestion in the ear. Send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope if you would like the booklet. It will make the trouble understandable to you, and how they work out. The new secretary of State, whoever he may be. Indeed, if Nixon's choice for this post proves especially felloship, he will be drawn into the high councils.

Depending on who they are and how they work out, the new secretaries of Defense and Treasury stand a chance of making it. But recent presidents have tended, in economic affairs, to place increasing personal reliance on the Council of Economic Advisors. Nixon's pick for chairman of CEA could be a crucial sign.

Some experts on White House operations contend the evidence already indicates Nixon intends to exert strong personal control over the budget. From this they read clear proof that the White House will indeed by a supremely dominant command post.

With a few weeks, some prominent figures will be named to major cabinet posts. But only a handful will be key men. With these exceptions, the crucial advisers will be White House aides prominent only in Nixon's own mind.

Dear Dr. Hosteson: I am a man of 58, retired because of back and eye defects. When I get out of bed, I bought a bicycle for exercise. I had liked to ride with my daughter when I was younger.

There was a tragedy as an old fool. Some of the neighbors have hollered, "Jill-o, Silver," after I passed them. These were grownups(?). "Hey, grandpa, aren't you a bit old to ride a bike?"

I don't pay any attention to them, but inwardly I am hurt. Why is it so right to ride a bike in Europe and so wrong here? Why don't bicycle manufacturers conduct an advertising campaign and try to sell the idea to older folks?

I have two bikes here but can't find another group to ride with me for fear of being ridiculed. Why's wrong, doctor? —L.P.

Just grin and wave when they holler. The neighbors will presently get used to seeing you riding, and some may join you. Jogger and runner, at all, and chased by dogs.

Cycling is excellent exercise — recommended and done by Dr. Paul Dudley White, the noted heart specialist, among others. Your idea might well be considered by the bike builders.

Dear Dr. Hosteson: Would you explain a condition called actinic keratosis? What can be done for it, and could it be cancerous? —L.P.

A keratosis is a horny thickening of the skin. (A wart is one form of keratosis). An actinic keratosis is one which has been formed by the influence of actinic rays — that is, rays which can cause chemical changes. In this case, it means, in essence, ultraviolet rays. The sun's rays.

These keratosis do have a tendency to become cancerous, although not quickly. The best rule is to see a specialist (preferably a dermatologist) as early as they should be removed before they begin malignant changes. Removal is a rather simple procedure, and nothing to upset anyone.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Hosteson in care of the newspaper, enclosing 10 long self-addressed stamped envelopes, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Hosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Earth Theory

Space science, still in its embryonic stages, is playing games with scientists trying to unravel the secrets of the universe.

Perhaps because scientists are impatient to learn all they can about their environment, and therefore lavish attention upon every instrument-laden spacecraft which goes into that mysterious domain, they place too much importance upon individual tests and the apparent knowledge each produces.

A case in point is the theory of the origin of the universe. Scientists once were evenly divided on the question, some contending the universe began in one huge explosion, others leaning to a never-ending evolution concept.

Naturally they are eager to use the eyes of satellites traveling great distances away from this planet and its dense atmosphere which limits observations from earth-bound telescopes. Up to now spacecraft observations of light wavelengths have tended to confirm the "big bang" theory.

Then along came a rocket from the White Sands Missile Range last February, which carried a telescope to a distance of 105 miles. It detected an intense infrared glow in various parts of the sky where wavelengths should be very weak, according to the primordial flash hypothesis.

Which sort of stasis the pot boiling again in discussions of the origin of the universe. Knowledge which comes in little bits and pieces, it seems, may be better than nothing, but not much.

MR. SPECTATOR

Seems Sort Of Silly!

Remember the unidentified flying objects? Who doesn't?

People are still seeing them but the good old Air Force — plus a few so-called intellectuals — are still trying to convince everyone that they don't exist.

But Mr. Spectator wonders if they are right. How could so many people — including a lot of real smart ones — see these things and yet not see them? Everyone who reports an sighting, and who is just dreaming. True, there will be some nuts, but by and large he number of "real" sightings far outnumber those of the people who just want to get their name in the paper.

But, as we said, the Air Force, for instance, seems determined to ignore the fact something has been seen.

For instance, let's take the Condon investigation that is now under way and whose findings are expected to be released next January.

But even before these so-called "findings" are released the outcome of the announcement can be guessed.

Although Dr. Edward U. Condon and his fellow scientists at the University of Colorado have announced their findings will not be made public until next year, they have prevailed the Air Force, which financed the two-year project, a sneak preview of their report.

Several factors have contributed to make the Condon findings, whatever they may be, less decisive and convincing than they might otherwise have been. First, the report already is nine months overdue, and it will finally come at a time when UFO interest is at a low ebb.

More important, however, is the objectivity of the director of the project. Early in the study Dr. Condon commented publicly that he thought there was "nothing" to the sightings. Last May several key members quit the project, complaining that Dr. Condon was not interested in investigating UFOs, but only in proving they don't exist.

There was a gap of months or a year ago, when the nation would have eagerly awaited a half-million-dollar study on UFOs. The circumstances surrounding this particular study have generated little interest.

THAT PIT AGAIN

Dear Mr. Spectator: I'd like to answer Frank of Twin Falls, that had the article on the "harrow pit" in your column of Nov. 22.

When I went to school over 70 years ago I was taught that a HARROW PIT or the depression or ditch alongside of the road was made by HARROWING dirt to build the road bed. I don't know if my father was a road builder and that's also what he told me it was called.

As for wheeling a wheel barrow along the side of the road, I never heard of that one.

Of course, there are a lot of things I never heard of.

YEARS AND YEARS

Mr. Spectator listened to the LDS Tabernacle Choir last Sunday morning in the TV broadcast from Salt Lake City.

The first heard it-over radio-back in 1933 when he was a University student in Chicago. And, being an Idaho boy (at least not a member of that church) it sure made him homesick.

The same fellow who spoke certain words those 35 years or so ago is still speaking them now. They are the words that made Mr. Spectator homesick. What were they? Here they are:

"Again we leave you in the shadow of the Everlasting Hills. May peace be with you, this day and always."

The announcer then, as now, was Richard Evans.

But Mr. Spectator isn't homesick for Idaho anymore. He lives out here now for a good many years, and is glad of it.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Nixon And His High Council

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Two or three of Richard Nixon's cabinet choices — but no more — probably will find their way into the highest councils of his government.

The likelihood prospect, of course, is Gov. Robert Finch of California, friend and longtime aide to Nixon. Finch has indicated publicly that he might take a cabinet post, though not a job on the White House staff.

Earlier intelligence from the Nixon camp suggested that Finch might not take either one, since it was felt that his known political ambitions would best be served by his keeping a close tie to California. At most it was thought he might make his way to Washington via a U.S. Senate seat. In the event Sen. George Murphy should retire.

Recent accounts have stressed that Finch's loyalty to Nixon may now seem paramount in his mind. But the argument can be made sensibly that Finch's long-range ambitions may be better served, in fact, through his being seen again and again in the Nixon limelight in the next four to eight years.

Nixon's regard for Finch is fully documented. Finch in turn is said to believe that he knows Nixon's mind better than most men do.

If the Californian takes a cabinet job, his presence in the Nixon inner circle would be automatic. Moreover, he would be a top candidate for coordinator of the new president's domestic affairs program.

It is a commonplace that Nixon himself wants to devote his (and heavily to foreign matters. Even if he did not, the experience of recent presidents indicates that events probably would compel this concentration.

An important thing to watch is whether or not Nixon decides to have an "in-house" foreign office establishment of the sort managed in recent years by McGeorge Bundy and Walter Rostow.

The President-elect's deep personal interest in the foreign field suggests this relatively new White House operation may be instituted. It serves as a collector, filter and coordinator of vital diplomatic and military information. Any chief executive who wants to keep personal command in this field needs the instant service it can provide but the ponderous State Department cannot.

There is no the faintest hint yet of who might lead such a White House operation if it is to be continued. But it is a good guess that if and when a foreign affairs co-ordinator is chosen he has a strong chance of joining the inner circle very quickly.

To follow this course would not be necessarily to downgrade the new secretary of state, whoever he may be. Indeed, if Nixon's choice for this post proves especially felloship, he will be drawn into the high councils.

Depending on who they are and how they work out, the new secretaries of Defense and Treasury stand a chance of making it. But recent presidents have tended, in economic affairs, to place increasing personal reliance on the Council of Economic Advisors. Nixon's pick for chairman of CEA could be a crucial sign.

Jerome Preparing For Defense Project

JEROME—A week of preparation for the Civil Defense emergency operations for individual simulators and simulation exercise, to be held on Dec. 4 at the Pioneer Hall from 8 a.m. until noon.

On Monday afternoon consultants from the University of Idaho and the Idaho Military District set up facilities in the hall. There was briefing for the simulation group, which includes law, fire, public works, shelter, medical welfare, external agencies, RADEF simulators and simulator plotters.

Court Ousts Challenge Of Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court threw out Monday a suit challenging the constitutionality of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Dr. Jeremiah J. Brennan, Chicago heart specialist, and two others charged the committee's activities stifled freedom of expression and criticism of the government.

Their request for a hearing was turned down by a 5-3 vote. Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and John M. Harlan said the court should have scheduled oral argument in the case and weigh whether their appeal has merit.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and Abe Fortas voted to dismiss the appeal. Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate in the case.

Stamler and the two others, Mrs. Yolanda Hall, a nutritionist, and Milton M. Cohen, a social worker, refused to testify in a 1965 investigation of Communist activity in Illinois.

Their suit challenged the constitutionality of the 1950 congressional act that authorized the committee to investigate "un-American" and "subversive" "propaganda" and "propaganda activities."

Automaker Notes Defect In 5,622 Cars

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. said Monday it is notifying dealers and owners of replacement required in steering linkage components on some 5,622 of its 1969 Rebel and Ambassador cars.

The company said it is recalling 5,790 Rebels and 11,179 Ambassadors for inspection to locate the 5,622 believed to have faulty parts.

"Some of the components involved were found to be improperly heat treated by the vendor and are subject to failure under certain stress conditions," said E. W. Bennett, vice president of safety and quality assurance.

Bennett said the faulty parts came from one of two suppliers, and that both the pitman and idler arms are being replaced in cars found to have been equipped with faulty parts. He said the possibility of arm breakage was greatest when the car was being parked or moving slowly.

Ketchum Girl To Talk At Burley

BURLEY—Dawn Johnson, Ketchum, will speak at 8 p.m. Saturday at Burley IOOF Hall. Miss Johnson with the United Nations Delegate from this area.

She won her trip to the United Nations Headquarters by writing an essay in competition with other students in the Ketchum area. As winner of the contest, she was given an all-expense paid trip to United Nations headquarters.

The public is invited to the open meeting to hear Miss Johnson tell of her experiences and the trip. Other entertainment is also planned for the evening.

SHERIFF PAUL CORDER inspects damage which was done to this 1963 Volkswagen Saturday night and Sunday morning when it was parked at the Villa Lounge on Eastland Drive. Land Council 'Bug' In Courthouse Causes Slight Stir, High Interest

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—An attorney for the Public Land Users Council told Idaho Wool Growers Monday that the recently proposed increase in grazing fees on public lands would be a hardship on livestock growers.

Joe Tudor, of Washington, D.C., said the increase of about 33 per cent was a hardship because it did not take into account capital investments.

He said his organization was trying to help the Public Land Law Review Commission in its study of policies dealing with the country's 750 million acres of public lands.

The land users council opposes further extension of federal primitive and wilderness areas, too, he said.

"Too much land already has been withdrawn from public and productive use," he declared. The council is urging Congress to provide better facilities for recreational lands already developed, he said.

Ed Marsh, Salt Lake City secretary of the National Wool Growers Association, said the National Wool Act, which provides incentive payments to growers, has been extended through 1970.

Another beneficial piece of legislation enacted this year, he said, was one which closed a tariff loophole which had permitted heavy imports of cheap wool-fabric fabrics.

State Aide Talks To Filer PTA

FILER—Everett Parry of the State Department of Health and Welfare, Twin Falls, spoke to the Filer Parent Teacher Association on the topic, "The Importance of Education to our Teenagers about Venereal Disease," at the meeting in the Filer High School.

Mr. Parry, who is working out of the South Central District Health Department, showed a film dealing with the subject entitled "A Quarter of a Million Teen-Agers."

Mr. Parry was introduced by Sandy Stuart and Mrs. Jack Fields of the Filer Jay-Cettes. A question and answer period was held.

Queen Named

JEROME—Helen Kleinmoen was named queen at the recent meeting of TOPS Slimettes. She read an article about exercising and told about the new exercise salon in Twin Falls that they visited last week.

New goals were set to be met by the end of the year. The next meeting has been changed to 7 p.m. Wednesday because of Thanksgiving.

Professor Asks Language Help For Indians

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A good command of English is the "best vocational education we can give the American Indian," said Dr. Lynn Osborn.

The University of Kansas speech professor told the Western Speech Association of America Monday the major language barrier for Indians is a lack of understanding by non-Indians.

"We forget there are still more than 100 separate Indian languages... and many regional dialects," he said, adding that 55 per cent of Indian children living from homes in which English is not the basic language.

He said Indians are often misunderstood because portions of their native language—and aspects of their culture cannot be translated into English.

Ghetto residents have a similar problem, said Dr. Ernest J. Clark Jr., director of the Economic Opportunities Program at California State College, Long Beach.

"The communications used by black people are designed to communicate with other black people," he said.

Clark said ghetto words and phrases offensive to white people often have different meanings to ghetto residents.

Rep. Ford Says Nixon Will End Viet Conflict

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., says Richard M. Nixon will provide fresh impetus to end the Vietnam conflict after he becomes president. "It isn't ended before then."

"He'll be in a position to do much like the did at the time of the Korean War," said the House minority leader, referring to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Despite the Democratic majority in both houses, Ford said, Nixon will be able to get along better with the 81st Congress than Hubert Humphrey would have if his White House bid had succeeded.

Electors Will Meet Dec. 16

BOISE (AP) — Idaho's presidential electors are to meet Dec. 16 to cast four electoral votes for the nation's highest office. The State Board of Canvassers met Monday to certify the vote totals for the electors and other state positions.

Secretary of State Pete T. Cenarrusa, who noted the electors would meet on his birthday, said there were more than 9,000 fewer votes in the Nov. 5 election than in the 1960 presidential election.

The total this year was 291,153, versus the record 300,415-vote total in 1960. Republican President-elect Richard M. Nixon carried Idaho both times.

Nixon or rather his electors — the different received 155,968 votes, compared to 89,273 for Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey and 36,541 for American Independent George Wallace.

Sen. Frank Church, a Democrat, retained his Senate seat by piling up more votes than any other candidate for any other office, 173,452. His opponent, Rep. George Hansen, received 114,394 votes.

Rep. James A. McClure's 1st District congressional vote total was 99,870, versus 62,002 for Democrat Compton I. White. Republican Orval Hansen, with 65,029 votes, won the 2nd District congressional seat. He was trained by Democrat Darrell Manning, 54,256, and AIP candidate Joe Anderson, 4,377.

The official vote totals, as certified to Cenarrusa by clerks in each of Idaho's 44 counties, were still different from earlier unofficial tallies.

Final counts also confirmed that five of the nine proposed constitutional amendments were approved by Idaho voters. Approved were those allowing annual legislative sessions, providing for appointments to fill district or supreme court vacancies, providing for removal of judges for bad behavior, allowing communities to set revenue bonds for such things as airport construction and widen investment opportunities for state school endowment funds.

Ground Crews Seek Trio Of Hunters

MURPHY, Idaho (AP) — Ground crews using four-wheel-drive vehicles searched in remote southwestern Idaho mountains today for three men who failed to return from a week-end hunting trip.

Owyhee County Sheriff Al Daberis said missing were Larry Carlisle of Caldwell, G. C. or G. D. Dean of Nampa and Robert Brizenbue, 17, also of Nampa.

They were believed to be in the Juniper Mountain area, about 100 or 125 miles south of Boise in the Owyhee Mountains. More than five inches of new snow was on the ground in the area Monday, and conditions prevented an aerial search, Daberis said.

The missing three, all employees of Idaho Potato Growers in Nampa, failed to return Sunday night from the hunting trip they began Saturday morning.

Federal Funds Awarded BSC, Boise Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $138,000 federal grant has been awarded Idaho for a 36-week course at Boise State College for 40 unemployed workers in electrical appliance serving, cooking and farm equipment operation.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, also announced Monday a $9,272 grant has been awarded to St. Luke's Hospital in Boise to continue its radiation therapy technology training program, and $1,150 planning advance has been made to Rigling, Idaho, to help fund a $255,000 sanitary sewage system.

Stranded New York Commuters Find Problems Mount As Cars Jam Roads

NEW YORK (AP) — The 90,000 commuters of the struck Long Island Rail Road make their nerve-wracking way to and from New York City via bumper-to-bumper traffic and jammed buses and subways today for the second day.

With the nation's busiest commuter line shut down Monday by a trainmen's walkout over a new timetable, the time element in getting to work proved a travel headache of giant proportions.

"I've never seen anything like it in my life," said a man who drove for two hours from Bethpage to Manhattan—a trip that usually takes about 45 minutes. Grand Central Parkway, for instance, was clogged with a six-mile stream of barely moving autos during the rush hours. Bus companies added extra vehicles, taxi pools were formed, and subways brought out all available equipment. Cars pools were hastily formed. However, it all added up to crowded quarters, slow going, and confusion. It was just as bad getting home in the evening.

Even the judge who issued the original restraining order against the 1,600 trainmen, which was ignored, evidenced his frustration.

"Because of these men and this strike," said Chief Judge J.C. Zavert, "I can't bring to Garden City tonight, and I have to sleep in my chambers."

The members of Local 517 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen walked out at 12:01 a.m. Monday, contending that the first major schedule change in 20 years would cost them about $300,000 a year in overtime.

Harold Pryor, head of the local, said the strike was unauthorized in view of a restraining court order. But he contended the LIRR introduced the schedule changes "without proper notice and without consultation with the union."

The railroad termed the strike illegal and officials of the line pressed contempt charges against the union leaders.

Idaho Board Asks Trial Of Suit

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court Monday upheld two district court decisions and reversed a third, sending it back for a new trial.

Remanded to district court for a new trial was the 7th District Court decision that Zula Kidd, Mrs. Kidd, of Thornton, had sued Gardner Associates, Inc., a construction company, and Clark Gardner, to recover damages.

The supreme court, in a split decision, said jury instructions on operation of the rules of the road concerning construction vehicle accidents were in prejudicial error in the trial. The court ordered a new trial.

The high court upheld the 6th District Court decision granting Teri State National Bank a judgment against Gateway Storage Co., but modified the amount of damages — more than $30,000 — to conform with evidence.

A 7th District decision was upheld which said Max Quayle was entitled to receive part of the estate of Susan Emil Butth, an associate, who died near St. Anthony (two years ago, Quayle said Butth had promised to favor him in his will.

Butth's heirs had appealed the decision.

Boise Concern Enters Low Bid

BOISE (AP) — Fisher Heating and Plumbing Co. of Boise submitted the only bid Monday for installation of a heating and ventilating system in the old Capitol heating plant.

Public Works Commissioner Robert V. De Shazo said the firm would be awarded the $1,680 contract.

Council Ponders State Investments

BOISE (AP) — Proposed legislation to broaden investment possibilities for the $75 million state school endowment fund was among recommendations given to the Legislative Council today.

The council's Public Depository Committee unanimously adopted the proposal in a meeting held Monday to complete its report to the council.

Other proposals before the committee were bills to allow banks to pay interest on public deposits and permit savings and loan institutions to handle public deposits.

One change proposed by the committee — and opposed by the Idaho Banking Association — would restrict state and municipal deposits to those banking institutions which pay sales and property taxes.

Federal law now frees national banks from such local taxes because they are considered instrumentalities of the federal government.

Investment of endowment funds could be widened under S.J.R. 4, a constitutional amendment passed Nov. 5 by Idaho voters. The committee considered legislation which would implement the amendment.

Atty. Gen. Alvin Shephard suggested the committee support such measures. He said he disagreed with outside opposition which has contended that the state cannot become a stockholder in private companies.

The executive manager of the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, Yost, said he opposed the legislation concerning endowment fund investments because he thought it would be taken to court and challenged on constitutional grounds.

"It is our attorney's opinion," Yost said, "that some purposes expressed do not coincide with the constitution."

John D. Silva, state finance commissioner, said he thought any court testing bills implementing the amendment would favor the bills.

Proposals adopted by the committee also included: — One permitting state banks to engage in all activities permitted national banks by law.

— One abolishing the Department of Public Investment and placing its activities within the Finance Department.

In discussion of the proposal to permit banks to pay interest on state deposits, bankers present agreed the measure was good, but said collateralization should not be required by law, as it is now.

However, legislators said the public and other law-abiding citizens would not buy such a bill without some sort of safety device. Silva advocated setting up a loan-to-deposit limit that would make collateral an automatic requirement whenever a patronized bank rose above the limit. Such a plan is now working in Utah, he said.

An attorney for the Bankers, Jess Hawley, said there is really no risk to removal of the collateral requirement.

Creation of governing boards to determine when collateral or money on hand — is required would not be good," he said.

"Oge collateral is required, you can't keep it from the public. It would subject the bank to a run," Hawley said. "The effect could be fatal."

Bankers also argued against allowing savings and loan institutions to receive state deposits, contending that they did not have reserves or liquidity necessary to handle demand withdrawals.

Idaho Board Asks Trial Of Suit

BOISE (AP) — The Idaho Supreme Court Monday upheld two district court decisions and reversed a third, sending it back for a new trial.

Remanded to district court for a new trial was the 7th District Court decision that Zula Kidd, Mrs. Kidd, of Thornton, had sued Gardner Associates, Inc., a construction company, and Clark Gardner, to recover damages.

The supreme court, in a split decision, said jury instructions on operation of the rules of the road concerning construction vehicle accidents were in prejudicial error in the trial. The court ordered a new trial.

The high court upheld the 6th District Court decision granting Teri State National Bank a judgment against Gateway Storage Co., but modified the amount of damages — more than $30,000 — to conform with evidence.

A 7th District decision was upheld which said Max Quayle was entitled to receive part of the estate of Susan Emil Butth, an associate, who died near St. Anthony (two years ago, Quayle said Butth had promised to favor him in his will.

Butth's heirs had appealed the decision.

Boise Concern Enters Low Bid

BOISE (AP) — Fisher Heating and Plumbing Co. of Boise submitted the only bid Monday for installation of a heating and ventilating system in the old Capitol heating plant.

Public Works Commissioner Robert V. De Shazo said the firm would be awarded the $1,680 contract.

Karen Cloud, Crane Wed

VIEW — Karen Marie Cloud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon H. Cloud, Albuquerque, N. M., became the bride of Sgt. Steven A. Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crane Jr., View, in rites Oct. 19 at the Spruce Street LDS Chapel, Albuquerque.

Bishop Donald Jones performed the double ring ceremony. The ceremony was repeated in Albuquerque at the LDS Temple Oct. 21 with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee-Merrill, Pocatello, and Mrs. Richard Nicholls, Pravo, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, attending the ceremony.

A reception honoring the couple was held in Albuquerque after the ceremony and they were honored at an open house Oct. 25 at the View LDS Cultural Hall.

The bride wore an empire-styled gown of antique ivory satin, trimmed with seed pearls, with an attached chapel-length train. Her veil was held by a Camelot cup of matching material and trim. She carried a cascading bouquet of white gardenias.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Larry E. Van Sickle, sister of the bride, with Ruth Ann Cloud, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. Attendants for the bridegroom included Mark Young and Thomas Undiene, with Larry E. VanSickle and William L. Steinkamp serving as ushers.

For the open house in View, the sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lee Merrill and Mrs. Richard Nicholls, were attendants. Joe Crane, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Richard Nicholls was officiant.

Jane Crane, cousin of the bridegroom, registered the guests. Background organ music was played by Mrs. Orval Searle. Gifts were arranged by Mrs. James Nowland, assisted by Marletta Bowen, Donetta Gibby and Wendy Parish.

Mrs. A. L. May, Rupert, grandmother of the bridegroom, presided at the punch table. Mrs. Edwin Anderson and Mrs. Don C. Asher cut and served the wedding cake.

Serving the refreshments at the quiet tables covered with lace were Mrs. Recie Brogdon, Mrs. Deloss Stoker, Mrs. Elton Hatch, Mrs. Eward Gibby, Janan Stoker, Jeannette Lind, Debbie Mabey and Bernice Bryant.

Lee Merrill, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was master of ceremonies for the reception program.

After a wedding trip to Victoria Island, British Columbia, the couple resides at 1234 Grande, Albuquerque. The bride attended the University of New Mexico and is employed at the First National Bank. Sgt. Crane is serving with the Air Force, stationed at Kirtland Air Force Base, Albuquerque.

Dessert Idea Noted By Area Extension Agent

GLENN'S FERRY — "Meringued Pears are light-as-air dessert," reports Marilyn Jordan, Elmore County extension home economics agent.

Mrs. Jordan noted that when the dinner center is a hearty one, the knowledgeable hostess will complete the meal with a light dessert. Delicate, airy Meringued Pears are a memorable finale to just such a meal. Ideal for entertaining, too, because the ingredients are as close as your kitchen. Even more important, this tasty dessert can be put together in a matter of moments.

- 1 (1 lb. 13 oz.) can Bartlett pear halves
- 1/2 cup pear syrup
- 3 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 3 egg whites
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoons chopped almonds

Drain pears, reserving syrup. Place pear halves, cut side up, in shallow baking tin. Pour one-third cup pear syrup in bottom of pan. Combine brown sugar, lemon peel and nutmeg. Sprinkle this mixture evenly over pear halves.

Beat egg whites and salt until almost stiff. Gradually add powdered sugar, continuing to beat until stiff. Pipe meringue evenly over pear halves. Sprinkle meringue with chopped almonds. Bake in 325 degree oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm. Makes six to eight servings.

Past Matron Is Speaker

Mrs. Lucille Kelly, past matron, gave a talk on her trip to New York City, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. with members of Twin Falls Chapter No. 28, Order of Eastern Star met recently at the Masonic temple.

Women's Section

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a 50-year-old woman to still hear "bells" when she meets the right man? I have a friend who has had many opportunities to marry, but she has held off because she was waiting to hear "bells" ring. Should she wait any longer? Or should she settle for less?

CONSTANT READER DEAR READER: Those "bells" don't ring out the same message to everyone. To some it signals "the last call for supper" while to others, it's a prelude to a heavenly romance.

DEAR ABBY: To my great disappointment, I find that my wife's obstetrician does not permit the husband to be present in the delivery room to witness his wife giving birth. I would like to know from whom these OB doctors expect to get paid for their services.

RESENTFUL DEAR RESENTFUL: The husband usually pays, I'm sure. But he pays for the services the doctor performs — NOT for the "seat-to-the-performance."

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our forties and this is the second marriage for both of us. We were recently blessed with a beautiful baby girl who was born 5 months early. (She is now 8 months old.) My husband's whole family, including his ex-wife and teen-aged children, know nothing about our marriage and baby. He says he prefers to keep it that way for the time being as they may be bitter or angry with him.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS W. BUTLER

Virginia Moore, Butler Recite Nuptial Promise

HANSEN — Virginia Ann (Ginger) Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Moore, Hansen, and Dennis W. Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Butler, Hansen, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony Nov. 8 at the Kimberly First Christian Church.

Rev. Howard Larsen officiated at the double ring ceremony. Pedestal baskets filled with bronze-colored chrysanthemums and candleabra with lighted orange-colored candles adorned the rostrum.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowning in an all-lace over-the-shoulder length gown. The fitted bodice, featuring a scalloped square neckline and long sleeves, joined at the natural waistline. A detachable lace train was fastened at the back waist by a large lace bow. The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother.

Her bouffant shoulder-length veil was held by a cluster of heart-shaped leaves encrusted with pearl beads and crystals ending with a pendant over her forehead. Her jewelry was a locket, containing their pictures, a gift from the bridegroom.

She carried a nosegay bouquet fashioned of white chrysanthemums accented with orange-shaded roses.

Mrs. Jerry Scott, North Powder, Ore., was matron of honor. Mrs. Harold L. Moore, was maid of honor and Rene' Butler, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

Mary Adams, cousin of the bride, Hansen, was flower girl, and Rodney O'Gorman, Twin Falls, cousin of the bridegroom, was ringbearer. Doug Moore, brother of the bride, and Jeff Colner, Murtaugh, cousin of the bride, were candlelighters.

Terry Butler, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Keith Strubberg and Greg Moore, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Terry Butler was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Douglas Giee, organist, who also played the traditional wedding music and prelude.

Mrs. Ivan Latta, Twin Falls, registered guests at a table decorated with a lace-trimmed heart-shaped banner containing pictures of the bride and bridegroom.

The white four-tiered cake decorated with orange-colored roses, centered the bride's table. At each side was a heart-shaped cake, one inscribed with the bride's name, the other, the bridegroom's name. Lighted orange candles and orange bows and ribbon tied to the cloth frons completed table appointments.

Mrs. Roy Hancock and Mrs. William C. Barnard cut and served the cake. Mrs. Rex Redman poured coffee, and Mrs. Calvin Gould, aunt of the bridegroom, served punch.

Pollution Laws Will Take Effect

BOISE (AP) — Regulations adopted Monday by the Idaho Air Pollution Control Commission will go into effect in about two months.

The rules limit the amount of pollutants which an industrial plant may release and specify methods of determining the amounts. They also provide penalties for violations.

Dr. M. L. Jackson, dean of the University of Idaho Graduate School and chairman of the regulations committee, said the regulations were intended to interfere as little as possible with expansion of Idaho industry.

Regulations concerning fluids specify procedures for checking grass and alfalfa in areas near plants to determine whether contamination occurs.

Funeral Services

Showboat Is Pack Theme At Richfield

RICHFIELD — "Showboat" was the theme of the Park 8 award-meeting for graduating Webelos Scouts at the LDS Cultural Center Hall Friday night. Displays of banners, soap, sculpturing, and puppets made by the six boys carried out the theme.

Master Ken Dixon was master of ceremonies. Showboat tunes were sung by the Scout groups and parents and a puppet show presented with song and banjo accompaniment by Cub Scout Den 8.

Webelos Scouts graduating from the Cub Scout program to receive "Arrow of Light" awards were Jaime Anderson, Brent Flavel, Westly Jensen, Michael Robinson, Jon Hardy, and Kent Piper.

Webelos awards presented were craftsman—Westly Jensen; engineer, Kent Piper; Michael Robinson; forester, Michael Robinson; Jaime Anderson; showman, Brent Flavel; Jaime Anderson, Westly Jensen; Michael Robinson; Jon Hardy; Kent Piper; Douglas Maestas; Brian Braubler; Gary Haws; Kevin Crowther; outdoorsman, Jaime Anderson; geologist, Michael Robinson; Kent Piper and Jaime Anderson.

Gary Haws received his denner bars and Brent Flavel, assistant denner. Eddie Flora, Eric Jensen, and Brian Braubler received one-year pins; Douglas Maestas, two-year pin; and most of the graduates received three-year pins.

Mr. Loy Lee was honored with a certificate for work as a Webelos leader. Mrs. Mark Bowers is the new leader.

Prizes were offered by Dale Ralls and Rex King. Mrs. Grant Haws led group singing with Mrs. Ken Dixon as accompanist and Mrs. Dan Ralls as Cub Scout participation director. Games and refreshments concluded the evening.

Ralph McCauley

EDEN—Funeral services for Ralph B. McCauley, 57, who died Saturday of injuries suffered in an automobile accident at half-past five on Monday, will be announced by Payne Mortuary, Burley.

Mr. McCauley was born Nov. 13, 1911, at Buhl and attended school there. He was married to Edna Black in Twin Falls, and the marriage was solemnized July 19, 1960, in the Idaho Falls LDS Temple.

At the time of his death he was operator of the Eden Cold Storage Co. He was a member of the LDS Church, had served as Sunday school superintendent and was one of the seven presidents of the Seventies Quorum of the Gooding Stake. He served on the Eden Town Board from 1945 to 1957, and was mayor from 1949 to 1951 and 1955-1957. He was a charter member and a past president of the Eden Lions Club and was a past city fire chief.

United Fund Drive Inches Nearer To Goal Of $85,000

A check from Union Pacific for a substantial amount was donated to the Twin Falls United Fund Drive Monday. The donor asked the amount not be listed.

Mrs. Margie Babcock, secretary of the United Fund Drive, reported that this donation brings the total to approximately $85,000. The 1969 drive has already exceeded the total collected the previous year, but the goal is $85,000.

United Fund officials urged all people and businesses that have not turned in their pledge cards to do so. If an individual has not been contacted and wishes to give he should call the United Fund office at 733-2067.

Agencies supported by the United Fund Drive are the YMCA, YWCA, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Athritis Rheumatism Foundation, Salvation Army, Mental Health Association, USO and Red Cross.

Profits College Day Scheduled At High School

NEW DELHI (AP)—Why are there so many big landlords in India even after legislation fixing ceilings on land holdings?

"The answer is simple," said Damodar Sanjaywala, a former president of the ruling Congress party. "It is because in India those who possess land are cleverer than those who have enacted the laws."

Only the Twin Falls seniors will be allowed to attend the daytime sessions, but from 7 to 9 p.m., lower classmen and students from neighboring schools are invited to visit the meetings.

Colleges and universities that will be represented include College of Idaho, College of Southern Idaho, Boise State College, Magic Valley Christian College, Ricks College, Twin Falls Business College, Idaho State University, University of Idaho, Brigham Young University, University of Utah, Utah State University and Weber State College.

"This day will give students an opportunity to talk with the various college representatives and learn more about the programs they offer.

Room assignments for the evening session will be posted in the front entrance of the high school building.

Bankers Back Interest On State Funds

BOISE (AP) — A spokesman for the Idaho Bankers Association said Monday his organization generally supports proposed legislation which would permit banks to pay interest on state and local government deposits.

But Jess Halway, a Boise attorney representing the association, told the Public Depository Committee of the Idaho legislative Council the organization opposes a proposal that would give a local or state auditor the right to say which banks could accept public funds.

Lack of a quorum delayed the start of the committee's session until a short time before noon. Only three of the 11 members were present at the scheduled time. The others were delayed by bad weather.

The committee was expected to recommend that Idaho's public depository law be amended to permit banks to pay interest on state and municipal deposits. It also was expected to consider making savings and loan institutions eligible for deposit of public funds.

Rail Officials List $750,000 Loss In Wreck

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Western Pacific Railroad officials have estimated damage from last week's 35-car derailment near Wendover, Utah, at $750,000.

The eastbound freight train was derailed Wednesday on a steep grade 17 miles west of Wendover.

Cars carrying new automobiles, lumber and produce were derailed and the new autos caught fire and were declared total loss. One car carried an electrical transformer worth $79,000, railroad officials said.

The officials said permanent repairs to the section of track torn out by the derailment should be completed by next Saturday.

Court Demands In Gas Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Utah has filed a jurisdictional statement to get its appeal in the Edley Natural Gas litigation case on the docket of the Supreme Court.

Utah is objecting to a federal court decision to award North Dakota $10 million in damages from Interstate Corp. The Supreme Court earlier had ruled a merger of Northwest Pipeline and Edley Natural Gas violated antitrust laws.

The jurisdictional statement filed Monday with the Supreme Court contends the present case is within the high court's jurisdiction.

Daniel L. Berman, special assistant to the state attorney general, said the action is another step in "getting the case moving."

Berman said the Supreme Court has four alternatives to Monday's appeal: can it dismiss the appeal; affirm the federal court's decision; reverse the federal court, or call a hearing on the jurisdiction question.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

DALE PATTERSON

Marilyn Monroe unwittingly pointed out one of the principal problems of mankind when she quipped, "Fame may go by and — so long, I've had you." Some people hunger for fame, fortune, a different, more severe, amazing, humor, exalta, a hunger for the meaning of life, a hunger for a purpose for living. It isn't only the drug addicts, the alcoholics, the criminals, the delinquents, who in misery seek an ultimate solution to man's needs. The political doctors are well aware of this when they prescribe cures; popular cure-alls for mankind's ailments.

There is a cure however; easy to prescribe but hard to take. Part of the cure requires taking a stand before the will of God and the will of man. When we really mean and adhere to "Thy will be done" — the cure will come.

Idaho Vandals Loom As Possible Threat To Big Sky Basketball Crown

Webster State College, the dominant force in Big Sky Conference basketball competition since the league began, will have to repeat this year as league titlist by at least two other teams.

The University of Idaho, second in the conference behind Webster last year with a 9-6 record, must rate the favorite's role in 1968-69 action. The Vandals of coach Wayne Anderson have 10 veterans returning, including All-Conference guard Jim Thacker.

The University of Montana, in the middle of a resurgence of sports, could also be a contender, boasting nine returning lettermen and a host of tall, talented junior college transfers.

Montana State, always dangerous even in a bad season, has five of last year's five starters returning, with All-Conference Jack Gillespie leading the attack.

Gonzaga University, although limited to only six returning lettermen from last year's fourth-place team, is counting on the services of nine sophomores and possibly some of the best players to enroll at the school.

Idaho State University, following the college division playoffs, faces a rebuilding year. But head coach Dan Miller said he is satisfied with the progress of Heisman Winner?

NEW YORK (AP)—Southern California's O. J. Simpson is expected to be named winner of the Heisman Trophy Tuesday.

The Downtown Athletic Club announced a press conference at noon, EST, at which final voting will be disclosed for the best college football player of the year.

Simpson, who has shattered collegiate rushing records in leading Southern Cal through an unbeaten season and into the Rose Bowl, is heavily favored for the honor.

Chief competition is expected from halfback Leney Keyes of Purdue and quarterback Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame. Simpson lost out a year ago to Gary Beban, UCLA's quarterback.

Namath Says His Mustache May Come Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Namath, a bachelor who deftly sidesteps all the blizzarding young ladies, says he'd let his kids throw mustaches if they wanted to.

"Yes, I would," said the New York Jet quarterback who's been wearing a mustache of the Fu Manchu variety, the kind that blossoms above the upper lip and extends down around the sides of the mouth.

The colorful Jet however, may be shaving his mustache soon because the Jets are within one game of winning the American Football League's Eastern Division championship.

They reached that point Sunday when Namath's brilliant passing attack powered them past San Diego. For that performance, he was selected the AFL's offensive player of the week by the Associated Press Monday.

Before leading the Jets into at least a tie for the Eastern crown, Namath stood in the Jet locker room at San Diego and trimmed his mustache.

"I'll shave it when we clinch the championship," he said. "We grew them, Namath had said, referring also to a few teammates who likewise had grown either mustaches or beards.

He started discussing the situation when he asked his opinion about the recent decision by general managers in baseball's American League that players could not wear mustaches or beards.

"That's ridiculous," he said. Namath, with hair creeping down the back of his neck too, was good in the 37-16 victory over the Chargers. In the first half alone, he completed 13 of 25 passes for 277 yards and two touchdowns, finishing with Don Maynard on an 87-yard scoring toss and Billy Matthe on a 18-yarder.

Drug Expert Says Dancer's Image Had No Drugs Present

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—An expert on drugs said Monday that, in his opinion, the five tests run on the urine of Dancer's image did not indicate the presence of phenylbutazone.

Dr. Charles H. Jarboe also told the Kentucky Racing Commission that the tests were not performed adequately, that the state chemist who made them did not keep adequate records, and that he himself would have performed further experiments.

Jarboe, acting chairman of the Department of Pharmacology at the University of Louisville Medical School, testified over the objections of George Rabe, counsel for the commission.

Rabe contended that Jarboe despite his qualifications in the field of chemistry, was not an expert in the field of horse racing.

Jarboe took the stand after the commission overruled a motion by Peter Fuller's legal staff to set aside the ruling under which the colt was deprived of the $122,000 first prize in the 1968 Kentucky Derby.

The Kentucky State Racing Commission rejected the findings and the score of no consequence submitted by Fuller's attorney, Arthur Grafton, during which the colt was deprived of the $122,000 first prize in the 1968 Kentucky Derby.

Fuller then appealed the decision and it is being heard by the Racing Commission.

Grafton charged that Smith was guilty of "innocuous and half truths" in his dealings with the stewards and, therefore, his findings were of no consequence.

Rabe scored a point when the commission agreed to hear from Dr. Charles Jarboe, acting chairman of the Department of Pharmacology at the University of Louisville Medical School.

The commission attorney, George Rabe, while admitting that Jarboe was an excellent chemist, said he was not qualified in the field of horse racing.

Pitt Coach Quits After Poor Season

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitt football Coach Dave Hart, who finished his third 1-9 season with a disastrous loss to a traditional rival, resigned under fire Monday.

Most of Jarboe's testimony during the morning dealt with various other tests which can be used to detect the presence of the illegal medication. Jarboe placed particular emphasis on an infra-red test on urine and also on one identified as thin layer chromatography.

Neither of these were used by Smith in concluding that Dancer's image had phenylbutazone in his system.

The hearing is expected to continue through Wednesday, then have a short recess for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Hart left Pitt—once a perennial powerhouse in national college football—with a suggestion that it must alter academic standards if it is to return to prominence. He also said he believed he had accomplished something.

"The next coach will have 80 players, not just 40," Hart told a news conference. When Hart took over the previous coach had recruited just 16 freshmen and the football roster was only half full.

University officials said they accepted the resignation with "regret and friendship" for Hart.

Pitt capped its third straight 1-9 season Saturday with a 65-9 loss to traditional rival Penn State, one of the most lopsided games since the two teams started playing each other in the 19th century.

Hart, who came to Pitt as head coach in 1966, had one year to go on his contract.

Ohio State Takes Over Top Ranking

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's convincing 50-14 rout of Michigan vaulted the Buckeyes into first place in The Associated Press weekly inter-college football poll Monday, ahead of Southern California, their Rose Bowl opponent.

There was little change among the rest of the Top Ten. Penn State, with a 9-0 record like Ohio State and Southern Cal, obtained the third spot at 77 1/2 points after walloping Pitt 65-9.

In the conference splitting, Twin Falls, Minico, Pocatello and Highland of Pocatello and the two Idaho Falls schools will be in the eastern division. Boise State and Capital of Boise, Nampa, Meridian and Caldwell will be in the west.

Eagles' Bob Brown Must Learn To Live With Team's Losses

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (NCA)—Robert Brown stands tall and his face Manchu mustache droops so insolently, a guy wouldn't think he cares. But Robert Brown cares. He has endured through September, through October and through November, whole months in which the Philadelphia Eagles lost every game they played.

"I don't understand it. It's unreal. It's no extra load to carry, it's my attitude," he said. "If I were terrible and lost 50-0, I wouldn't wonder if I'd be played good. Three-to-six to Pittsburgh. One point to the Giants. I can't forget we went into this. This is the year I wanted to go big. I'm concentrating to regain what Ralph Nery has that belongs to me." What Ralph Nery has is the ABA cross country championship run at Van Cortlandt Park Monday, covering the six-mile course in 29 minutes 16 1/2 seconds.

ODDS-ON HEISMAN WINNER is Southern Cal's record-breaking whiz, O. J. Simpson. Voting will be conducted today to determine this year's winner for the coveted award which goes to the college player showing the most ability and drive. Simpson's chief competitors are Notre Dame's Terry Hanratty and Purdue's Leroy Keyes. Neither has much of a chance. (AP wirephoto)

Area Sportsmen Seek Increase In Quality Of Trout Fishing

A need for quality fishing, that is—big fish, in Magic Valley waters was cited by trout fishermen at a public meeting held by the Portneuf River as the best example of Brown trout success. But he noted failure in other Idaho streams and waters and added the difficulty of the average fisherman to catch the Browns inhibited the department's desire to use them.

Some area sportsmen, claiming a deterioration of big fish capabilities of Magic Valley waters over the past six to eight years, said the success of trout fishing on a public meeting held by the Portneuf River as the best example of Brown trout success. But he noted failure in other Idaho streams and waters and added the difficulty of the average fisherman to catch the Browns inhibited the department's desire to use them.

There Monday night to speak of "catching big fish" where many are pleased to catch any fish. He noted that people have the opportunity to catch a limit due to the efforts of the department.

LUCK ASSISTS EXPERT SKILL

When the expert gets into a hole he frequently is lucky enough to be able to dig his way out.

South had a good 14 points for his opening diamond bid and to be just a little more of a hand. Then he saw that there was some sort of play for his contract.

All he needed was a favorable break in the spade suit, plus no really bad breaks anywhere else.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned his small trump. When West followed, trumps had been played properly and it was up to the spades.

South won in dummy, led a spade and finessed his 10. West was in with the queen and led the queen of hearts. South won in dummy and finessed the jack of spades against East's king.

This worked and things were looking up. He needed just one more break. He cried, "All together, boys," and played his ace of spades. The king dropped and all was well with the overbid. South could trump his three clubs in dummy and discard his losing heart on the nine of spades.

was tempted to try a stronger rebid than any no-trump. The fact that his distribution was the flat 4-3-3-3 deterred him.

North had plenty of distribution but no cards to go with it. His jump to three diamonds was a decided overbid, his follow up to five considerably more of the same.

South thought about bidding six. Not that he had any particular reason to think about it, merely that he assumed his partner had been inviting him to go on.

Mrs. Johnson Praises Park Of Redwoods

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson concluded her final beauty-America pilgrimage as First Lady by dedicating the 58,000-acre Redwood National Park...

"For this ceremony is the crowning moment of a crusade which has lasted two generations," Mrs. Johnson said. Her remarks were prepared for the dedication ceremony Monday at the foot of a 300-foot tall redwood in the new national park near Orick, 40 miles north of Eureka in coastal Northern California.

Mrs. Johnson said creation of the park, out of existing California state parks and private timberland, "is one of my husband's proudest achievements."

From the dedication site above Redwood Creek, Mrs. Johnson and her entourage will visit other areas of the new park, which stretches 40 miles along the Pacific Coast almost to the Oregon state line.

Mrs. Johnson planned to fly first to San Antonio, Tex. and then to the LBJ Ranch, ending a three-day, 6,000 mile tour that included stops at New Orleans, Cape Kennedy, Ft. Denver, Colo., and California.

Wendell Play Wins Top Rating

WENDELL—Wendell speech class II members have received word that their one-act play "Andante" has qualified to be presented at the Regional Festival in December.

The play "Andante," starred Leah Geisler as Martha, the wife; Cathy Gilbert, as Alice the maid; Bill Kearley as David the husband; Tom Olman, as Dr. Andrews and Dallas Johnson as Bruce, the son.

The play was directed by Wendell and was presented and judged at the district One-Act Play Festival recently at Filer.

Stewardess Will Receive Jobless 'Pay'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Celeste Lansdale, who was fired from her job as an airline stewardess for being married, has been granted jobless pay by the Florida Industrial Commission.

An appeals referee for the commission ruled that Mrs. Lansdale was entitled to compensating since marriage did not constitute misconduct.

Mrs. Lansdale's husband, Richard, an attorney, said he will file suit against United Air Lines for back pay. The airline has agreed to file Mrs. Lansdale her job back.

Ministers Set Thanksgiving Eve Services

The Twin Falls Ministerial Association's city-wide Thanksgiving Eve Service will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Speakers in "The Three W's of Thanksgiving" will be the Rev. John D. Riley, Episcopal Church of the Ascension; the Rev. L. I. Lamance, First Assembly of God, and the Rev. Robert C. Harvey, First Presbyterian Church.

Other leaders of worship will include the Rev. John W. Boyd, Seventh-day Adventist Church; the Rev. Eugene Tjarks, Our Saviour Lutheran Church, and the Rev. Howard Olson, First Church of the Nazarene.

The junior choir of the First Baptist Church, directed by Mrs. Ruth Turner, will sing the anthem. The offering will be dedicated to the relief ministry of the Salvation Army.

'Sample'

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The box was labeled "free sample."

A warning said, "Rush. Keep Warm, Cool." A suspicious rustling sound came from inside. On closer inspection, the 12-inch square box turned out to contain thousands of crickets.

They were offered as a free sample for the Rio Grande Zoo by a cricket farm in Louisiana.

Zoo Director Bruce Stringer said the crickets would be fed to snakes and monkeys.

Service Set

SHOSHONE — A Thanksgiving service will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the local Methodist Church with the Baptist and Assembly of God Churches assisting. The public is invited.
