TEN CENTS

Moans And Groans Are Heard

Snow Buries Magic Valley

Snow is something everyone likes until it gets here. And Wednesday night the snow began to fall. By Thursday morning Twin Falls was buried under four inches and the moans could be heard above the spluttering of motors and the scrape of snow shovels. The snowfall covered all of Magic Valley.

Indications are, too, that this is only a test run before the main event. The weatherman predicts a real "humminger" of a storm by Friday or early Saturday. When that one gets here, it's expected to snow for several days straight.

But the weatherman has been wrong before.

As the morning grew into afternoon Thursday, the snow continued to fall. At times it was pushed by winds up to 20 miles an hour and some drifting was reported in rural areas surrounding Twin Falls.

Magic Valley schools, scheduled to let out for Christmas vacation Friday afternoon, will continue to operate unless the snow picture changes drastically in the next 12 hours. School officials in all Magic Valley schools said they are keeping a watchful eye on the snow situation.

In Twin Falls, city crews started work at 4 a.m. Thursday. Salt and sand were thrown on streets and intersections hit Ervin Hand, street superintendent, said if the snow continues to fall he will have it piled in the middle of streets then hauled away.

"This is a real problem each year," he said.

Roads throughout Magic Valley are snow covered and snow tires or chains are recommended to motorists.

At Shoshone, district highway officials reported a snow floor from Slatier and Challinor to the Nevada line and from King Hill on east through to Burley and Rupert. Some drifting was reported through the Craters of the Moon area between Carey and Arco.

Snow depths varied from four to six inches from King Hill across Magic Valley to eight at Ketchum and six at Fairfield; highway department personnel said.

Highway crews worked all Wednesday night and were continuing the battle Thursday.

THIS SHOULDN'T HAPPEN (to a dog. But the weatherman didn't seem to care Thursday. He predicted the snow, then ridding it in a little to get back at those who have doubted him in the past, said more is on its way. By mid-morning Thursday there was four inches on the ground and an estimated three inches more floating in the air. If it keeps up it will be a white Christmas.

'War' Declared On Canada

Mohawks Stage 'Uprising'

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP) — All but three of 19 American fishermen arrested after a two-hour standoff that blocked the international bridge linking the United States and Canada were released on bond early today.

A spokesman for the Cornwall City Jail said three persons remained in jail on charges stemming from the shouting, shoving demonstration, Wednesday that blocked an international bridge for two hours in protest of Canada's failure to live up to the 1794 Jay Treaty.

Cornwall police said two shots from a handgun rifle slammed into the Canadian Customs House on the St. Regis Reservation, home of the protesting Mohawk Indians.

The Indians had filed some 100 demonstrators for Wednesday's blockade, he said.

The bridge was quiet early today.

Ernest Benedict, the crazy-faced, black-haired chief of the Indians, said there would be no repeat blockade.

"It is not the Indian way to be arrested," Benedict said.

Canadian Police, unarmed, waded through a wall of angry Mohawks Wednesday and cleared away the 25 automobiles the Mohawks brought up to blockade the bridge.

There was no one hurt in the shots at the customs house. Cornwall police officers said they had no suspects.

A spokesman for the Cornwall jail said only three persons remained inside on charges stemming from the demonstration. The others were released shortly after midnight.

Benedict spoke to his tribesmen late Wednesday, making it clear that he was against further demonstrations against the Canadians, who drew the Indians to three weeks ago with the imposition of customs duties. The Mohawks, who live on both the Canadian and American sides of the bridge, contend the 1794 Jay Treaty guarantees them free passage.

Indian men, women and children threw their bodies in front of the bridge to clear the automobiles. There were no injuries.

"I tried to keep everyone calm on both sides," Benedict said, his arms folded on the long kitchen table he sometimes uses for meetings with tribal leaders.

"But it seemed too much to me. We were there for a purpose."

The Indians, members of the St. Regis Reservation that is bisected by the Canadian-American border, are angered because they say they are being treated as second-class citizens. See MOHAWKS, Page 2, Col. 5.

Sorans Close Purchase Of Turf Club

The Turf Club, which has been vacant for the past several years, has been sold.

Leo Soran, owner of the Detroit Grill, announced Thursday that he and his brother, Robert Soran, have purchased the property from Hugh Faulkner.

Mr. Soran said they would begin as soon as possible with the remodeling of the building. He said it would probably be several months, depending on the weather, before they would be open for business.

The Sorans are planning to have large banquet facilities as well as accommodations for regular dinner customers. Mr. Soran said previously they would keep the name, "Turf Club," for the business.

He said they would disclose remodeling plans when they have had time to survey the building and see what needs to be done.

The Twin Falls City Council had previously approved the beer and liquor licenses for the Turf Club.

Cambodia, Cong To Release Prisoners

SAIGON (AP) — Cambodia announced today that it is releasing 12 American soldiers captured in the past year, and the Viet Cong offered to free three U.S. troops it holds and possibly more.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, said a news conference in Phnom Penh he was freeing 11 American soldiers and a South Vietnamese captured last July when their river boat strayed into Cambodian waters and an American helicopter crewman captured last month.

Viet Cong spokesman in Phnom Penh, which represents the U.S. government in Cambodia, said it expected that the 12 Americans being freed there would be flown by commercial airliner to Bangkok Friday.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands in Saigon announced, meanwhile, that American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all increased last week although no major sustained ground fighting was reported. The U.S. Command also reported four sharp skirmishes Wednesday in which it said American forces killed 131 enemy troops.

The release of three American field prisoners by the Viet Cong was made contingent on a Christmas Day truceless meeting between U.S. and Viet Cong delegations to arrange the transfer of the men. The proposal was made in a radio broadcast by the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong has declared a unilateral three-day cease-fire for Christmas and another for New Year's. The South Vietnamese government has declared a 24-hour Christmas cease-fire only and the broadcast did not indicate whether the NLF would cancel the prisoner release if the United States failed to extend its cease-fire.

Freedon?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A responsible U. S. source indicated today North Korea has agreed to release in the near future the 82 crew members of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Socialist Candidate Dies At 84

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Norman Thomas, six times Socialist candidate for president and throughout his life a prodigy of the American conscience, died today. He was 84.

The announcement was made at the Hillside Farm Nursing Home, here by Mrs. Margaret Goltzberg, director of nursing.

He was moved to the nursing home a year ago from the Huntington Hospital, where he was hospitalized after suffering a stroke.

Thomas lost his every race for public office, but lived to see the acceptance of many of the ideas he championed.

The 100-year-old socialist president Herbert Hoover to Harry S. Truman and criticized every one since.

The peak of his career as a candidate came in 1932, during the great depression, when he polled 900,000 votes enough to make Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt take notice.

Down to 150,000 votes in 1938, Thomas quit running, and lost leadership of the Socialist party four years later advocating abandonment of expensive presidential campaigns.

Snowfall Is Welcomed By Ski Areas

Much-needed new snow was welcomed by South Central Idaho ski resorts Thursday. In the past few days, enough snow has accumulated to allow some areas reported snow was still falling.

Soldier Mountain, near Fairfield, will open for the season this week and a Forest Service report listed a total of nine inches of snow at Fairfield, seven of which was new and the report indicated depths were greater at the ski area.

A grand opening is slated for Sunday, Bob Frostensen, co-owner, reported, but the resort will also operate on Saturday. Roads to the area were listed as excellent and an additional snow machine has been added to help pack slopes. George Varian will head the ski school at Soldier this year.

Magic Mountain has received 14 inches of new snow during the past week, a Forest Service report from the area stated Thursday morning. Snow was still falling at that time.

Runs were being packed for Thursday and the road cleared for weekend skiing. The new snow here and in other resorts was described as light with a total depth at the Rock Creek Ranger Station of three feet Thursday.

Reports from the Pomerelle Ski area near Albion indicated work was under way to complete repairs to the lift for the coming weekend and possibly for skiing by Friday.

Tests were being made following last Sunday's breakdown and officials said the resort would not open until it was certain the lift would operate properly and safely. New snow was also reported at Pomerelle with storms Sunday night and Wednesday night. A full-scale blizzard was reported at the resort Wednesday afternoon.

Sun Valley also reported new snow and said a cover of good to excellent snow conditions is now listed for all runs. Two bowls were opened to skiing Wednesday and another was to be opened Thursday. The resort received seven inches of new snow earlier in the week and about three to four inches Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

As of Wednesday, the Twin Falls Post Office had handled approximately 15 per cent less mail than at the same period last year, reported Fred Sanger, Twin Falls postmaster.

"The reason for decrease in the over-all volume of mail can be best explained by three factors," Mr. Sanger explained.

"It takes time for people to mail their Christmas cards from Thanksgiving to Christmas. This year Thanksgiving fell late in November and the two holidays are close together. Evidently people haven't yet shopped and mailed in full strength, he said.

Weather also influences Christmas mailing, he stated. Whenever a heavy snowstorm precedes Christmas by a few weeks and the roads are blocked with snow, people seem to enter the holiday spirit earlier. When this occurs the Christmas mail load increases at an earlier time, he continued.

The position of Christmas Day in the week also is significant. Christmas falls on a Wednesday this year. People will mail on the weekend before Christmas, expediting their letters and packages to arrive on time. Actually,

SHOPPING DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

Megaton Hydrogen Blast 'Ripples' Nevada Desert

By RALPH BIGHTON
AP Science Writer

PAHUFE, MESA, Nev. (AP) — A hydrogen type nuclear device with the wallop of a million tons of TNT heaved a mesa top momentarily heavenward today and sent oceanlike waves rippling over the Nevada desert.

A great cloud of dust spiraled high above the sage and sand. And newsmen, allowed to watch a major underground test for the first time, from a vantage point but 12 miles away, felt the ground heave beneath them "like the motion of a bouncing boat."

The blast, one of the mightiest

yet in the United States, went on despite protests to the Atomic Energy Commission from some scientists, labor leaders and pacifist groups.

And, as the AEC predicted, it apparently caused little if any off site harm.

In the gambling town of Las Vegas, 160 miles from the explosion, 4,500 feet under 6,200-foot-high Pahute Mesa, shock waves swayed tall buildings perceptibly.

At Panaca, Nev., a bit less than 200 miles away, school superintendent Prescan Price gave this description: "I was sitting in the office and desks and furniture began moving back and forth. Coal hangars on racks were rattling. We could feel the tremor for nearly a minute."

Shock waves also were felt at the mining hamlet of Tonopah, 70 miles away, but weakly. At St. George, Utah, where some past blasts have been felt, authorities said they had no reports on this one.

The AEC said the motion lasted about 30 seconds. An observer on the 22nd floor of a hotel casino said the motion made her feel "weak in the knees. It had to balance."

The AEC had said shock waves should be perceptible for about 250 miles.

At the control point 12 miles from ground zero, the rippling ground action lasted five or six seconds. Newsmen watched the action on television screens, which flickered out momentarily as the shock hit.

The AEC said the energy yield of the shot—described as a weapons test—was just about what was expected and there was no venting of radiation into the atmosphere. A spokesman called the test "very successful."

The shot, scheduled for Wednesday, was delayed a day for fear unfavorable winds might carry radiation toward populated areas should there be venting.

Kidnap Payoff Is Thwarted. As Police Scare Off Suspects

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A ransom payoff for kidnaped coed Barbara Jane Mearke was broken up here today, the FBI reported, when a policeman chased a suspicious car north from Miami's highway and recovered a suitcase stuffed with $500,000.

Also found in the car, abandoned by two persons near downtown Miami, was a skin-diving suit, apparently used in making pickup of the money from the waters of Biscayne Bay, the FBI confirmed.

A source close to the millionaire land developing family said in Atlanta earlier that Barbara Jane was alive and unharmed. He declined to elaborate.

The source confirmed the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mearke, had returned to their plush home at Coral Gables, Fla.

FBI agents, county and city police swarmed into the bayside area where Deputy P. S. Self found the money in the abandoned car. Helicopters and dogs were thrown into the search for the fugitives, one of whom carried a carbine rifle.

"My concern and the father's concern, is for the girl's safety," said Fred Fox, assistant special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office.

Fox said the fugitives abandoned a blue Volvo with Massachusetts license tags when Deputy Self noticed the car "where it shouldn't have been."

Fleeing the car, one fugitive carried the carbine. The other dropped the suitcase in his flight.

Packed into the suitcase were used $20 bills banded together in packages, each marked $1,000.

Miami Police Lt. James Knight said his estimate, without counting, was that the bag contained $500,000.

Fox confirmed the ransom effort involved putting the suitcase filled with money into Biscayne Bay where it was apparently recovered by boat.

The boat came to shore near a residence on Brickell Avenue and the transfer to the auto was made.

Self had been in his patrol car about 6 a.m. making idle chatter with city policeman Matthew Moran when he saw the Volvo in the expensive residential area.

Self reported that he was chasing the car and he said several shots were fired from the car.

Airport Cafe Remodeling Is Postponed

The Twin Falls City Council has tabled action on the two bids received for construction of the airport cafe addition.

Herb DeRrick, city manager, said the two bids received, which were for $28,075 and $28,000, were much more than the city is prepared to pay for the addition. He said the city had not planned to spend more than $18,000 for the addition.

The city manager said the council probably will rewrite the specifications for the work and call for bids at a later date. He said they realized that construction costs during the winter were higher and it would probably be more feasible to call for bids when the weather is more conducive for such work.

Originally the city planned to have the addition to the south-east part of the terminal building completed in January.

Jerlen Corp. has been released from its lease agreement with the city for the cafe facilities and it is presently being leased by Mrs. Arleta DeRrick.

Navy Man Credited With Saving Life At Jerome

JEROME — A young Navy man from Eden who is home on leave was credited Thursday by officers with saving the life of a 60-year-old Jerome man seriously injured Wednesday afternoon in a two-vehicle collision at the intersection of Highway 93 and 25.

State Patrolmen Bill Watts said James C. Rogers, Eden, administered mouth to mouth resuscitation for 20 minutes on Ollis Wall, Jerome, until help arrived following the accident at 4:50 p.m. Wednesday.

Mr. Wall and his wife, 54, were taken to St. Benedict's Hospital and he was later transferred to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, Twin Falls, where attendants reported Thursday his condition was poor.

The Walls were passengers in a Volkswagen driven by Elmer Ridgeway Jr., 21, Jerome, who was turning left from Highway 93 onto Highway 25 toward Jerome. The Volkswagen collided with an international pickup truck pulling a trailer home driven by Lebert Schmidt, 57, Twin Falls, who was headed south on Highway 93.

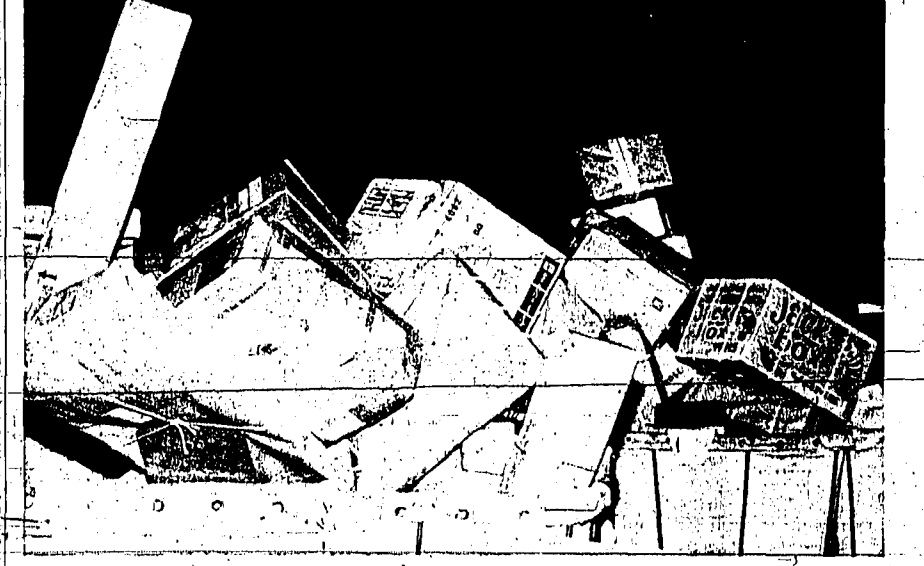

Mr. Schmidt was accompanied by his wife, Mary, 70, and Mr. Ridgeway's wife, Shirlene, 20, and their 4-month-old baby, Rachel, also were in the Volkswagen.

Mr. Wall is reported in good condition at the Jerome hospital and the other two couples were not injured.

Patrolman Watts said citations are pending further investigation.

THIS MAY LOOK like a big stack of packages, but don't be fooled. The Twin Falls Post Office reports 15 per cent less mail handled compared to the same time last year. But postmen are still busy and expect to be through next Tuesday. The Post Office urges patrons to mail, mail, mail. Then have a Merry Christmas.

Xmas Mailing Slow, Says Postmaster

As of Wednesday, the Twin Falls Post Office had handled approximately 15 per cent less mail than at the same period last year, reported Fred Sanger, Twin Falls postmaster.

"The reason for decrease in the over-all volume of mail can be best explained by three factors," Mr. Sanger explained.

"It takes time for people to mail their Christmas cards from Thanksgiving to Christmas. This year Thanksgiving fell late in November and the two holidays are close together. Evidently people haven't yet shopped and mailed in full strength, he said.

Weather also influences Christmas mailing, he stated. Whenever a heavy snowstorm precedes Christmas by a few weeks and the roads are blocked with snow, people seem to enter the holiday spirit earlier. When this occurs the Christmas mail load increases at an earlier time, he continued.

The position of Christmas Day in the week also is significant. Christmas falls on a Wednesday this year. People will mail on the weekend before Christmas, expediting their letters and packages to arrive on time. Actually, mail posted on the weekend before Christmas may not arrive by the 25th, he added.

The last Post Office accounting, which included the 28 days preceding Dec. 13, indicated that 3,285,881 pieces of incoming and outgoing mail were processed within the post office. Mr. Sanger stated: "This year's volume of mail was four per cent lower than last year during that period. This accounting included about two weeks of the Christmas mailing. Although the volume of the mail has decreased this year, the efficiency of its processing has increased by over four per cent, he said.

From Monday to Wednesday of this week between six and seven thousand packages arrived at this office by incoming mail, he said. Of that number only about 160 remain undelivered Wednesday.

This is a very difficult time of the year to increase the efficiency of a postal operation. We know that all our workers here are doing an outstanding job in order to make this increased efficiency possible. Mr. Sanger concluded.

Minidoka Citizens Hear About Landfill

ROBERT—About 30 interested citizens were educated on the aspects of a legal sanitary landfill Monday night when they attended a public hearing in Rupert. The hearing, organized by a 12-member Citizens' Committee, was called to help inform the public as to the requirements of the landfill.

Bob Olson, from the State Department of Health, Boise, presented a slide presentation explaining the state requirements for the fill.

A question period followed Mr. Olson's address, and it was explained that a sanitary landfill will have to be created soon as it will be a state requirement. The idea of the county-wide fill was originally discussed in early September when representatives of the project met with a Bureau of Reclamation project representative and a reality officer.

In the earlier meetings of the group, it was the general consensus that both the county and city of Rupert are faced with the need for the new fill facility.

The Citizens' Committee is charged with the responsibility of selecting suitable sites for the proposed dump area, and have scheduled their next meeting for early in January.

Don Koster, Rupert, is chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Richard Schenk, Paul, secretary.

Party Held

RICHFIELD — C.W. and Jay Ward, Inc., owners of the Richfield, chess plant, entertained at a Christmas party Tuesday night at the Depot Grill, Twin Falls.

A group of 44 workers and their wives and husbands were guests. The program featured slides and narration of a journey to Africa by Joseph Van Leeuwen.

IKES AIDE DIES — NOGNOR, England (AP) — Air Chief Marshal Sir James Robb, 73, British deputy chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the allied invasion of Europe in World War II, died Wednesday. He was chief of Britain's fighter command from 1945 to 1948.

Behavior Code

American colleges that are operated as "benevolent dictatorships" encourage student unrest, says Robert B. Yergo, dean of the University of Denver's law school.

those to whom any rules apply—whether in the family, in business, on the campus or in the national life—to express their opinions on the wisdom of those rules and petition for their reform.

Yuletide Days

This is one of the holiest periods of the calendar year, and unquestionably the most joyful. Homes hum with preparations for Christmas, the wrapping of packages, the decorating of trees, and the cooking and baking of festive foods.

happy Christmases in the past now no longer possible because of deaths and separations. Yet over all there is a kindness and a charity, a search by many people for opportunities to give to those more helpless and lonely than themselves.

Washington: Militant black power postal employees are under special surveillance to avert their attempting to disrupt mail service during the stupendous Christmas rush.

Reason for these extraordinary precautions is three under cover sabotage plots by militant black power postal employees: (1) During the recent election, to slow down delivery and mis-direct large quantities of campaign mail; (2) to prevent other employees from participating in a "suggestion box" program; (3) to oppose the giving of contributions to the United Negro College Fund—despite the fact that the principal beneficiaries are Negroes.

National and local postal authorities are firmly confident there will be no snafus or undue delays in Christmas mail collection and delivery.

"We are watching the situation closely and are quite certain we can cope with it. We constantly get tips and information from loyal employees of schemes and plans to disrupt the mail and cause trouble.

"The black power scheme to foul up electioneering mail was thwarted by word from loyal workers. They told Beall about it and he immediately instructed a number of special supervisors to keep an eye on the suspects and their activities.

"Nationally, there are around 715,000 postal employees, of whom 132,000 are black. Another 20,000 are from other minority groups—Mexican-American, Indian, Eskimo, Chinese, etc.

"In the nation's capital, Postmaster Beall estimates they number some 150. They have an organization of their own called the Core of Postal Employees ("COPE").

"An Alliance spokesman denied that, asserting it has no ties with "COPE". The Alliance, which claims 45,000 members nationally, is one of several unions representing D. C. postal workers.

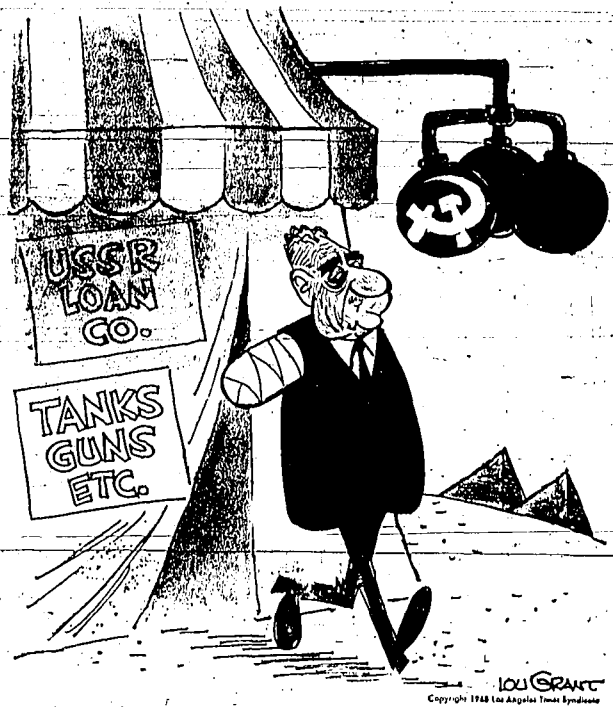

"They have a high degree of intolerance," says Beall, "and their attitude of retention (of the militants) is very strong. I have no authority to fire anyone. I can only make recommendations for discipline or penalties.

"According to Beall, aggressive "COPE" leaders have definitely declared: "You can pacify us, but you can never satisfy us."

"Ken Fulton, of the Postoffice Department's public relations staff, confirmed Beall's complaint about lack of authority to get rid of trouble-makers.

"Yes," he admitted, "it takes quite a while to fire someone." Similarly, he conceded, there were instances where black power militants had caused disruptions in postoffices.

ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK Report: The J-K Intrigue

WASHINGTON — As late as this past Tuesday (Dec. 17), when he discussed it with his advisers, nothing in the transition period had disturbed President-elect Nixon more than the continuing signs of President Johnson's insistence on a last-second, lame-duck summit meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

Nixon himself has privately informed political intimates that he regards the White House pressure for a meeting, which would be held in Geneva, as "most unwise."

But the Soviet leaders have delicate problems of their own in any deals with President Johnson between now and Jan. 20. They must diagnose, and then factor in, Mr. Nixon's inner attitude about a Johnson-Kosygin meeting.

Nixon intimates say that Mr. Johnson has not actually invited Mr. Nixon to accompany him, if the projected frequent talks on nuclear arms control and anti-ballistic missile systems.

Mr. Nixon, in short, wants to open a dialogue with U.S. allies in Europe before he opens one with the Soviet Union.

Further, Nixon men feel that, once Mr. Johnson is out of office and the Russians are unable to exploit his desire for a summit talk, the U.S. might well ask about receiving a higher Soviet price for a summit meeting.

RAY CROMLEY That New Foreign Strategy

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The time is ripe for a radical change in U.S. foreign policy.

The tools are available. The techniques are known. The payoffs would be great.

Today foreign policy is largely based on economic and military aid.

With sound institutions, rapid economic development is possible. Without them, economic development may be ragged and uncertain, regardless of how much economic aid the United States pours in.

That is, we helped build countries in which the average man has a say and a stake in his government.

MR. SPECTATOR

Weather Will Be Fair

Who says nobody ever does anything about the weather? An Act of Congress, duly ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, guarantees that fair weather will prevail for the inauguration of President-elect Nixon on Jan. 20.

NEW STORY! Here's one of the more popular jokes that is now going the rounds. Seems as though Mayor Daley of Chicago, President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey were on a plane that "ditched" on the ocean.

Well, almost guarantees. The 20th Amendment to the Constitution, which changed Inauguration Day from March 4 to Jan. 20, was passed for reasons other than the weather, of course. But one of its results has been to greatly enhance the odds in favor of auspicious weather on these auspicious occasions.

They climbed out onto the wing. There was one one-man life raft available. President Johnson thought that he should get the raft because, after all, he was the President.

Prior to 1937, when the amendment was first effective, almost one in every three inaugurations on March 4 was notable for wet and miserable weather, says the Environmental Science Services Administration. (In fact, one president, William Henry Harrison, was thoroughly chilled during his inauguration in 1841 and died of pneumonia a month later.)

Mr. Daley had other ideas. This, he said, was a democracy so why not vote on the proposition as to who was entitled to the raft.

But only two of the eight inaugurations held on Jan. 20 have been meteorologically marred. The first was the 1937 inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the very first to be held on the new date. It was almost washed out by one of the worst rains in the history of the event. The second was in 1961, when a heavy snowfall the night before John F. Kennedy's inauguration crippled traffic in the capital and required heroic efforts to clear the streets in time for the parade.

Some ways contend that the Amalgamated Sugar Co., is putting out the anti-sweetener rumors so people will eat more sugar. But we all know this is just a joke so we will ignore it. But regarding this circulating story that sweeteners are dangerous to humans, here is the latest as we know it:

According to ESSA, almost 100 years of records reveal that average conditions for the noon hour on Jan. 20 are a temperature of about 37 degrees, a wind of 10 miles an hour or less and a partly cloudy sky. This, repeat, an average and not a forecast.

Cyclamates, one of the groups of artificial sweeteners used widely in diet foods and beverages, have come under serious study by the United States Food and Drug Administration because of recent research which indicates they may have harmful genetic effects on animals.

The records also show that the chances against precipitation of any kind during the inauguration ceremony are at least six to one, and about 20 to one against snow. There could, however, be some accumulation on the ground from a snowfall.

An FDA spokesman, emphasizing that all findings thus far are preliminary, commented, "We are not alarmed about it—we are interested."

Dear Public: We students of the School of Cosmetology wish to remind you that typing is a courtesy.

And now a good word for the mailman. Estimates are that some 10 billion pieces of Christmas mail will have been delivered on time and reasonably intact by the overburdened couriers by the time the holiday season comes to its merciful end. That is as much mail as a major country such as France moves in an entire year. But another way, it is 50 gifts, cards and letters for every man, woman and toddler in the nation.

Don't forget. We aren't making any money except what you give us. Don't forget us!

This may be the season to be merry for the rest of us, but for the mailman it's a month of the misery.

Ear Noises

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have noticed that you could get books on various subjects by writing to Dr. Molner and wondering if some of the topics would still be available by mail.

alled you, how can I? All I can offer is this: there are thousands of individuals who suffer emotional strain experiencing blindness from hysteria. It doesn't happen often, but when it does, sight may return as abruptly as it was lost.

I think there was one on what to do about ringing or buzzing sounds in your ears, but I did not have any need of it—Is this a dangerous sign? Can I still get a copy of that booklet?—W.E.F.

In such cases there is no detectable physical cause—and about the only way you can prove it was emotional, or hysterical, is to eliminate everything else that might have caused it.

Yes, you can. All of the booklets will continue to be available and a new one, in fact, has just gone to the printer. As you probably know by now, I work a close collaborator with Dr. Molner from the time this column started, and I worked on all of the current booklets with the exception of one.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What do you think of taking a 3-month-old baby on a jet plane to Europe? Would it affect the child's hearing, maybe permanently?—C.H.

Ear noises are not ordinarily a danger sign. They are very common indeed as folks get older, and they come in all varieties: ringing, buzzing, crackling sounds, hissing.

I can't see any chance that it would affect a healthy baby's hearing at all—let alone permanently. With pressurized plane cabins, there is slight change of air pressure, and that is the only thing that would have any bearing on this question.

It is true that in some cases these noises accompany a real health problem, but that is only occasionally true. More often they don't mean anything except that we are getting older and you're getting older.

Note to D.D.R.: I'm a bit surprised that, as a resident of Minnesota, you forget that there are a few medical centers there, both familiar with your intricate problem—at Rochester and at the University of Minnesota medical center. Why hunt for some more distant one?

The noises do not necessarily mean that hearing is impaired; while ear noises may at times accompany ear faults, the opposite may also be true and the hearing remain as acute as ever.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, hemorrhoids, itching, and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I last vision in both eyes a year ago and was in the hospital nine days. I had tests for all kinds of things, glaucoma, etc. My doctor called in 20 other doctors for the opinion. They didn't have any.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail—but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Reader questions are incorporated in this column whenever possible.

Affor five days my sight returned but left me near-sighted. I am 35 now and wear glasses. What could have been the trouble? Will this trouble return?—Mrs. B. P.

Official City and County Newspaper... Pursuant to Section 60-10B Idaho Code, Thursday is hereby designated as the day of the week on which legal notices will be published.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 35 now and wear glasses. What could have been the trouble? Will this trouble return?—Mrs. B. P.

Record Yule Travel Seen Despite Flu Threat

By The Associated Press
 The nation's roads, rails and skies are getting more crowded every day as Christmas approaches and thousands of Americans head for home or vacation spots. There are indications, however, that the outbreak of Hong Kong flu may ease travel congestion.

An Associated Press survey shows airlines, bus companies and railroads in most major cities expect record crowds during the Christmas season.

In several areas, however, spokesmen for travel companies said the passenger load has been spread out somewhat because of early school and college closings due to flu.

"We're all getting a break with the flu epidemic," said Virgil McKibben, assistant regional manager of Greyhound Bus Co. in Washington. McKibben said the flu is "scattering the travel over an extended period."

He expects the congestion to get worse, however. "The day we're all dreading is the Sunday after New Year's when everybody is going to be returning at the same time," McKibben said. "I don't know if it is going to be something out of this world."

In most cities, the question is not whether there will be record holiday crowds, but simply how high the records will be.

An Eastern Airlines spokesman in Philadelphia said the carrier expected a 60 per cent increase this year in travel to Florida and Puerto Rico. United Airlines said it has added 14 extra sections on flights from Philadelphia, expecting 33 per cent more passengers than usual.

Harry K. Malone, Jr., assistant manager of the Atlanta Airport, said he expected extreme congestion, but did not know whether the crowds would be worse than last year.

Malone said much of the crush was due to military personnel from nearby Fort Benning and other installations.

The air-traffic controllers who staged a "follow-the-book" campaign and spurned travel last summer—apparently do not plan to resume their slowdown.

A spokesman for the Air Transport Association said in Chicago that airlines in the Windy City expect no unforeseen delays providing the weather is good. Dan Vucurevich, the tower chief at O'Hare International Airport, said he would have an "adequate" staff on hand to handle peak traffic, even though several controllers have the flu.

There's a rundown on expected travel situations in some major cities:

New York—Airlines have scheduled hundreds of extra flights and one carrier hired extra ground personnel to speed reservations and baggage handling. The Port of New York Authority said bus traffic at its midtown terminal was expected to peak Friday and said planners were having a difficult time scheduling extra runs because of the flu.

Philadelphia—Both Greyhound and Trailways Bus Co. said they would have about 100 extra buses on hand each for weekend travelers. New York-Baltimore-Washington routes were expected to be heaviest. The Penn Central Railroad has scheduled extra trains on its New York and Washington runs for Friday and Dec. 20.

Dallas—American and Braniff Airlines just opened new passenger terminals and expect to handle the on-the-ground traffic more easily. Special arrangements have been made to handle the 4,000 military personnel expected to use the airport Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Washington—A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said the capital's worst-traffic problems were usually in summer and added, "It would surprise me if Christmas was as bad as this summer." He said traffic problems normally arising at Thanksgiving "just didn't materialize" this year. A Penn Central spokesman predicted a 20 per cent increase in the number of passengers traveling during the holiday season.

Boston—Travel was expected to peak Friday and American Airlines said it expected 5,000 passengers on out-bound Boston flights Dec. 20—a record for a single day. Northeast Airlines said the heaviest bookings on its Florida flights are over the coming weekend.

Los Angeles—T.W. Morgan, the Greyhound terminal supervisor, said, "We're going to have a hell of a weekend." Every employee who is available and healthy will be working.

A spokesman for Los Angeles International Airport said, "Every holiday has exceeded the preceding year. We're anticipating considerably more traffic this year."

Sen. Clark — Assails Plans To Feed Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spearheading a bipartisan attack, Sen. Joseph S. Clark says the Agriculture Department has "fallen pretty badly on its face" in handling programs to feed America's hungry poor.

"It is just not set up to handle these welfare programs," the Pennsylvania Democrat commented Tuesday during a special Senate committee hearing on hunger programs.

Testifying at the time was Aaron M. Altshul, an Agriculture Department specialist on international nutrition improvement.

Clark and several other members said Altshul's own comments had indicated the Agriculture Department has given more attention to problems of the hungry abroad than at home.

"It is perfectly ridiculous for these programs to be in the Department of Agriculture," commented Illinois' Charles Percy, a Republican.

Six Firms Indicted On Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indictment in Ogden, Utah, of three dairy firms and six of their officials on price fixing charges has been announced by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

The dairy products were distributed in Utah, southeastern Idaho and northwestern Colorado in a $30 million a year business.

Clark said Wednesday the indictment contends that since 1957 the defendants and unnamed co-conspirators have conspired to fix and maintain wholesale and retail prices, to suppress supply and rigged bids in federal and state contracts and to divide business among themselves.

An attorney for one of the dairies, Albert R. Bowen, said in Salt Lake City Wednesday night it would be inadvisable to make any comments at this time on the government's action, but also said "These dairy leaders are respected for their integrity in Utah business circles and in the dairy industry across the nation."

Named as defendants were: Bentrice Foods Co. of Chicago its junior vice president and former district manager for the Utah area, E.A. Walker, and the present district manager and former branch manager, Bill R. Terrill;

Federated Dairy Farms, Inc. of Salt Lake City, its general manager, L. Glen Garrett, and its general sales manager, Winston J. Fillmore;

Hill-Land Dairyman's Association of Murray, Utah, its general manager, Louis R. Curtis and its wholesale sales manager, H. M. Peterson.

Maximum penalty for corporate defendants, upon conviction, is a fine up to $50,000 each. The individuals, in addition to similar fines, could be sentenced to a year in jail.

Extreme Cold Forces Landing Of Small Plane

ONTARIO, Ore. (AP) — A Boise-based twin engine airplane made a safe forced landing at the Ontario airport late Wednesday after developing propeller control problems while flying at 21,000 feet.

One of the crew was Gene Kingston and Paul Hungerford was a passenger. Both men are with Bradley Aviation in Boise.

Hungerford said they flew into minus 40-degree temperatures, which apparently affected hydraulic fluid in the propeller control system.

Hungerford said the problem developed near John Day, Ore., and it appeared they might not be able to make it to an airport. He said Kingston was able to stabilize the propeller after descending to about 14,000 feet.

Utah Scientist Says Tests Pose Major Fallout Hazard

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Westerners are being subjected to unnecessary radiation from nuclear bomb tests in Nevada, a University of Utah scientist told Gov. Calvin L. Rampton.

Dr. Robert C. Gentile, director of the university's radiological health program, said even though the radiation may cause no immediate health hazard, it does damage human cells and it can produce "damage that possibly can affect human kind for a hundred years to come."

The governor said it would be better if the nuclear tests in Nevada were stopped, but without more evidence of the hazards, he couldn't order the Atomic Energy Commission and ask the tests be discontinued.

Pendleton earlier had said a Dec. 8 nuclear test in Nevada showered Utah with the highest fallout since 1962.

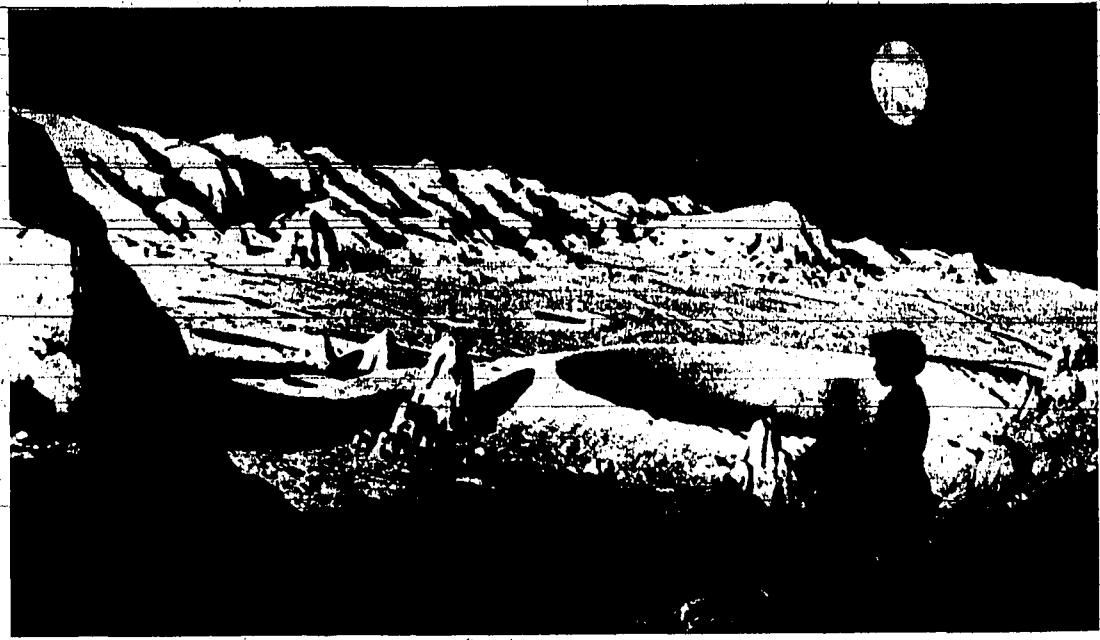

He told the governor Wednesday that the survey showed that exposure was less than first thought.

A "most fortunate accident of condition" prevented greater contamination — most people were indoors when the radioactive cloud passed and most of the radiation was from radioactive tungsten, Pendleton said.

Jury Indicts Eight For Curbing Rights

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Eight policemen have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate and violation of civil rights of Negro residents during racial disorders last summer.

The indictment said the policemen assaulted one Negro and broke windows of several business establishments operated by Negroes.

U.S. Atty. David Satz Jr. of New Jersey said the policemen were charged with violating an 1872 Civil Rights Act, the first such indictments against policemen brought in the state.

"Enough people came forward immediately with enough evidence to warrant presentation to the grand jury," Satz said.

A coalition of civil rights groups charged that the police department "rioted against the citizens, uncontrolled by their own civil rights coalition suppressing the disorders."

Pateron, which has a population of 150,000 of which about 40,000 are Puerto Ricans and 20,000 Negroes, was hit by sporadic disorders early in July.

The civil rights coalition claimed that at one point during the disturbances that included firebombing and rock throwing

Hotel Fire Kills Five In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — At least five persons perished today in a fire which raged through a four-story hotel building near the heart of the downtown area.

It was feared that more bodies might be found when firemen reach other rooms of the A&A Hotel, an aged brick structure.

Rooms in the hotel rent for one dollar a night.

One resident who got out, John Peters, 46, told newsman he awoke about 5 a.m. to find his mattress on fire.

Tungsten 187, the radioactive isotope, gives off radiation for only a short time, compared with other elements such as Iodine 131.

Milk was not contaminated with Iodine 131 by the Dec. 8 test—partly because the fallout did not occur at a time when croplands and pastures were in use. Radioactive iodine was found in thyroid of some deer, however.

Iodine 131 in milk supplies during the 1962 tests resulted in some milk processing being delayed until the radiation level lowered.

Another nuclear test was scheduled in Nevada for today.

Electoral College Abolition Deemed Major Blow To Idaho

BOISE (AP)—An Idaho member of the National Committee on Electoral Reform says Idaho's influence would be "cut about in half" if the electoral college were abolished.

Erwin H. Schweibert, in a statement released Wednesday in Boise, said many persons dissolving electoral college reform have assumed the only alternative is abolition.

"The abolition of the electoral college would increase the influence of large states and reduce the influence of small states in presidential elections," Schweibert said.

He said "It doesn't appear likely" people from small states would want to relinquish the greater influence the electoral system provides.

He called the system "a link between the state and federal governments preserving an important concept of our federal system."

Americans voting in presidential elections actually vote for electors, who in turn vote for the candidates for president. Electors are equal in number to

Cenarrusa Seeks Advice On Dispute

BOISE (AP) — Secretary of state party and said the replacement of Stumph was made at a meeting of the central committee earlier this month.

Cenarrusa also received Wednesday a copy of a letter in the central committee, in which Stumph said he does not recognize the action taken and has called a central committee meeting for Jan. 4. He said he will ask for a vote of confidence at that meeting.

Stumph said he would abide by the vote and would support another chairman if the central committee votes him out.

The group supporting Victor asked Cenarrusa to change his records to show Victor as chairman. Cenarrusa said he will leave the attorney general's opinion.

Storms Curb Search For Missing Flier

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — The search for a missing Spokane pilot on an air mail flight over northern Idaho continued Thursday, but officials said search conditions were expected to be bad.

Missing on a flight from Boise to Spokane is Eugene W. Whitteley, 43, Spokane, who last made radio contact over an area southeast of here early Wednesday.

Ridges rise to 5,000 in the area near the confluence of the Salmon and Snake rivers. He radiated on an emergency frequency he had "one engine out at 11,000 feet and was descending."

Brief periods of clearing were forecast Thursday and search flights were planned. Snow vehicles were scheduled to search the rugged "breaks" along the Salmon River in southern Nez Perce County for any trace of the twin-engine craft. There's about two feet of snow in the district.

New search planes were out Wednesday. Snow vehicles and two boats took part in Wednesday's hunt. The boat search was to be discontinued Thursday.

Whitteley was on an air mail charter flight between Boise and Spokane for Conair Airways of Billings, Mont., when he disappeared.

Idaho Power Pays Taxes—They're $5.4 Million

Idaho Power Co. reported Wednesday that it has paid $5.4 million in property taxes for Idaho counties, including Twin Falls County, the first installment on 1968 property taxes totaling nearly $5.4 million—the largest bill in the utility's 52-year history.

Company president Albert Carlsen said the taxes, levied on Idaho Power's operating facilities and construction work in progress, added up to $5,380,524.

"Our 1968 property taxes, which once again far exceed those levied against any other single taxpayer in the state, are more than $120,000 higher than the company's previous record bill in 1967 and have increased by some $2.1 million over our taxes only 10 years ago," he said.

Schools will receive more than $3.5 million, or about 65 percent of Idaho Power's total 1968 property taxes.

The balance will be used for such purposes as the support of cemetery, highway, fire, sewer and library districts.

Twin Falls County received $259,672 as its first installment payment on Idaho Power's 1968 property taxes, according to Carlsen.

The utility's total tax in the county this year was more than $519,273, of which about $331,800 is earmarked for the support of education.

Carlsen said that Idaho Power has paid a total of nearly $43 million in property taxes to the 27 counties in the last decade alone.

Nearly $27.5 million of this amount has been used to help build new classrooms, buy books and pay teacher salaries.

"One of the major reasons for the increase in Idaho Power's 1968 property taxes," Carlsen explained, "was our construction work at Hells Canyon Dam."

The huge hydroelectric project went into full power production earlier this year, completing the three-dam T. E. Roach Hells Canyon Development and boosting the utility's total generating capacity to nearly 1.5 million kilowatts.

Bob Hope Gives 6 Shows In Day

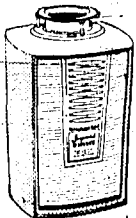

SEOUL (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope and his troupe, split into four groups, put on six shows today for a total of 12,000 troops just south of the Korean demilitarized zone north of the Imjin River.

Hope, wearing aboard a helicopter, appeared briefly at four different shows at the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division's forward posts and positions and made two extra unscheduled stops.

One of the four groups was led by actress Ann-Margret and had five members of the 12-girl Goldiggers song and dance group.

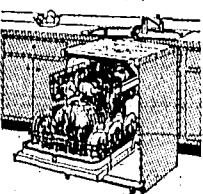

Enthusiastic soldier-fans greeted the group with huge "Hello Ann-Margret" signs and applauded and cheered the actress and other mini-skirted beauties.

FORMER TWIN FALLS resident, Air Force S. Sgt. William H. Donnelly, left, greets S. Sgt. Charles F. McLean, temporary Air Force recruiter for Twin Falls. Sgt. Donnelly will assume permanent charge of the Twin Falls Air Force Recruiting office in March after attending a 54-day course at the Air Force Recruiting School, Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He will return to Twin Falls after an absence of 10 years.

New Air Force Recruiter Is Former T.F. Resident

A former Twin Falls resident, Air Force S. Sgt. William H. Donnelly will return to Twin Falls with his wife and two children to take charge of the local Air Force Recruiting office sometime in March, he reported.

Sgt. Donnelly was born in Jerome and moved to Twin Falls with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Donnelly, in 1954. He enlisted in the Air Force immediately upon graduation from Twin Falls High School in 1959.

He was stationed two years in England with the 420th Air Refueling Squadron and then went to March Air Force Base, Cal., assigned to the 11th Radar Bomb Scoring Group. After two years at March he went on detached duty with the 11th to Wilder, Idaho, and lived in Boise and Caldwell for the next 24 months with his wife, the former Maryann Miller of Boise.

Sgt. Donnelly has recently returned from a 30-month tour on Okinawa, where he served as noncommissioned officer in charge of group administration and worked as an Air Force special investigator.

He and his wife are now visiting their parents in Boise while the Sergeant is on Christmas leave.

Sgt. Donnelly was granted a special transfer request to be stationed in Twin Falls. After completion of a 56-day course at the Air Force Recruiting School, Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will assume duty as the Magic Valley area recruiter at the Twin Falls Air Force Recruiting office.

Sgt. Donnelly has two children, Alan, age 3, and Laura Lee, three-months. His family will remain in Boise until his graduation from recruiting school and will then move to Twin Falls, he said.

"I've waited a long time to return home," he stated. "I want to renew old acquaintances. The Class of '59 at Twin Falls High School will have its reunion soon and I'm looking forward to attending with my wife," he stated.

S. Sgt. Charles F. McLean is now on temporary assignment as Twin Falls recruiter. He travels from Boise to the local office on Main Street twice a week and is on duty each Tuesday and Thursday. There is a full time secretary at the office each weekday, Sgt. McLean stated. "Sgt. Donnelly will take over in March," he said.

Charles Herrick Funeral Services

BULL. — Charles Oscar Herrick, 83, (101 Broadway Ave.) died Wednesday morning at his residence of an extended illness. He was born Nov. 13, 1885, at Bridgeport, Iowa, and married Hilda Casey at Hibbing, Iowa, Jan. 26, 1910. They moved to Idaho in 1934 and lived near Kimberly until moving to Bull in 1938. Mr. Herrick then farmed southeast of town. Later he was employed by the State Highway Department for five years, retiring in 1952.

Then Mr. Herrick worked for about 10 years as custodian of the Bull Christian Church of which he was a member. Survivors include his widow, Hilda, two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Wiseman, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Hazel Cullison, Winter, Iowa; one son, Russel Herrick, Bull; two brothers and two sisters, all in Iowa; six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Bull First Christian Church by the Rev. Harrie S. Young. Entombment will be held in the Bull Cemetery. Friends may call at the Albertson-Dickard chapel Friday until 8 p.m. and Saturday until noon.

Lions Hold Joint Meeting In Bliss

WENDELL. — Jim Campbell, president of the Wendell Lions, acted as master of ceremonies at a joint meeting of the Wendell and Hagerman Clubs held at the Okibow Cafe. District Governor Fred Chubb was the featured speaker for the evening. Mary Lou Chris and Ann Hagerman sang a selection of Christmas carols. Deputy District Governor Don Zuck presented Joe Leeper, John Able and Jim Armstrong, all of Wendell, with new membership pins.

'DEATH' DELINEATED HONOLULU (AP) — Dr. Clarence Craford of Stockholm, Sweden, says "the life or the death of the brain is the factor which decides if a human being is living or not."

British Survey Indicates Major Job Changes On Tap

LONDON (AP) — An education study center told parents Thursday to prepare their children for a swiftly changing, computerized world in which men may have to change careers several times before retiring and the office stenographer will be out of date. The Advisory Center for Education said that by the year 2000, when today's students are in midcareer, one of five British workers will be employed in medicine, science, teaching and other professions—2½ times as many as at present. Fewer than one in 10 will hold clerical jobs—a decline of 25 percent, the center predicted. Three of five will be manual laborers, a drop of nearly 13 percent, and the number of business executives will hold steady at 10 percent. All this adds up to a revolution in education and the decisions children must make about their careers, said the center, a nonprofit agency based in Cambridge. "We could so mistakenly give these children career advice rooted in the past: the vacancies abundant now, the details

Mrs. Winder

POCAHONTAS. — Mrs. Rachel Clayton Winder, 56, Pocahontas, died Wednesday in a local hospital of a long illness. She was a former resident of Bull and Castleford. Mrs. Winder was born Feb. 28, 1912, in Kingston, Ark., and came to Idaho in 1931. She lived in Bull and Castleford for 25 years and married Raymond Winder Dec. 5, 1937, in Twin Falls. Survivors include her husband; four daughters, Mrs. Richard Silva, Glotata, Calif.; Mrs. Dalton Brawley, Kimberly; Mrs. Anna Osterger, Santa Barbara, Calif.; four brothers; Joseph Griggs, Castleford; Fate Griggs, Wendell; F. J. Griggs, Huntsville, Ark.; and Floyd Griggs, Springdale, Ark.; a sister, Mrs. Grace Argo, Roseville, Calif.; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Twin Falls. The Rev. James Hughes will officiate. Burial will be at Sunset Memorial Park. Friends may call at the Henderson Funeral Home in Pocahontas until Friday evening and at the church from noon Saturday until time of services.

Mrs. Adams

BURLEY. — Mrs. Edyth M. Adams, 81, died Wednesday at Burley nursing home of a long illness. Born May 26, 1887, at Potomac, Ind., she moved to Oregon with her parents when a child. She attended Oregon schools and lived for a time in Pringleton and later moved to Santa Ana, Calif. In 1941 she married Clarence Adams at Las Vegas, Nev. She came to Burley in 1966 to be near her sister and she had lived there since. She was a member of the Methodist Church. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Euclym Asets, Burley; Mrs. Leona Myers, Otwell, Ind.; and Mrs. Mona Vetch, Luke, Odessa, Mich.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Joseph Payne Memorial Chapel with Rev. Paul L. Ludlow officiating. Final rites will be in Pleasant View Cemetery. Friends may call at Payne Mortuary Thursday evening and Friday prior to services.

Wendell Library Policy Changed

WENDELL. — Clarice Morgan, librarian, reports the library board has voted to change the past policy of the library fees. Starting the first of January the fee will be 25c a year and cards must be renewed every January. If a card is filled before renewal date another card will be issued without charge. The board stated that since the library is financed by a two mill levy paid by city residents, the non-city residents will be charged a flat fee of $1.25 per year, effective Jan. 1.

Ball Slated

EDEN-HAZELTON. — The senior class of Valley High School has completed decorating the Hazelton gym for the Senior Ball with the theme "Once Upon A Christmas." The event will be held at 8:30 p.m. Saturday and will feature the dance music of the Gary Harris Quintet. The Coda's will entertain during intermission.

U. N. Committee Aims Broadcast From 'Space'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly unanimously approved a proposal Wednesday to set up a working group to study prospects of direct transmissions from communications satellites to home receivers. The resolution, sponsored by the United States and 25 other nations, also calls for the group to study economic, legal and other implications of satellite broadcasts and determine if they are feasible for use by developing nations. The group would operate under the U.N. Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space. The measure also asks for continued efforts toward an agreement establishing liability for damage caused by space missiles which fall on foreign soil.

Chief Confirms Child Molesting

BURLEY. — The rumor of a child being molested in Burley was confirmed Wednesday by George Warrell, Chief of Police. "A boy was picked up in the early part of December and molested and an attempt to pick-up another boy was made last Friday," Warrell stated. "The Burley Police Department is looking for a male suspect in regard to the incident," he added. "Parents are urged to warn their children not to talk to strangers and not get in a car with strangers, until the matter can be cleared-up," the chief said.

WOULD-BE ESCAPEES from the Idaho State Prison in Boise are checked into the Ada County Sheriff's office Wednesday after their capture. The escapees are Johnnie Wayne Barr, 26, at left, and Earl Leon Wright, 23. They are being questioned by Deputy Sheriff Vic Peterson. The two men held an elderly woman hostage in a brief attempt at freedom, which ended in a chase through traffic-clogged streets of downtown Boise. (AP wirephoto)

Hostage Relates Tale Of Terror

BOISE (AP) — "We were sitting there eating breakfast when they came up," 70-year-old V.E. Ward told sheriff's officers. He was referring to two state prison escapees who abducted his wife and held her at gunpoint Wednesday morning. His wife, Elizabeth, also 70, was uninjured but badly shaken by the ride which ended in police capture of the two convicts in downtown Boise. "They told me that their rendered car had gone in the ditch and wanted to use the phone," Ward said after the episode. The men were Johnny Wayne Barr, 26, and Earl Leon Wright, 23, trustees who walked away from the Eagle Island prison grounds Wednesday morning. Ward said the two demanded his shotgun and rifle and one forced him to drive to nearby Star to cash a check while the other stayed with Mrs. Ward. Sheriff's officers followed the escapees' footprints in the snow to Wards' house. "We didn't have any information about where the men were hiding," said Sgt. Hal Lemaster, "we just followed the tracks to the farm."

Area Youths Sentenced In Drug Case

RUPERT — Hearings on petitions against two Minidoka County juveniles who were recently arrested for possession of marijuana were conducted in the county Probate Court Tuesday afternoon.

Judge Larry Blucker sentenced both youths to 30 days in the county jail and a year probation. He said the names of the pair will not be released.

Murphy Asks State Prison Investigation

BOISE (AP) — Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy said Wednesday he was certain the Board of Corrections would want to hold a full-scale inquiry into the escape of two Idaho State Prison inmates from the Eagle Island prison farm. Murphy said the incident, which ended in downtown Boise with the capture of the convicts, "serves to point up the immediate need for completion of the new penitentiary."

ROBBERIES AVERTED INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Indianapolis Transit System says it has had no bus robberies since Nov. 12 when passengers were required to have their tickets punched. A spokesman says only about 30 cash refund slips are issued each day, mainly because passengers help each other make change.

News Of Record

MINIDOKA COUNTY State Police Blotter — No citations were issued Monday morning five miles south of the Cottler part of entry on Highway 305 when a 1968 Kenworth truck-tractor rig, owned by Willis Shaw, Elmsprings, Ark., went out of control on slick roads and landed in a field. The truck, driven by Paul Fleming Jr., 34, Boise, was traveling about 35 miles per hour when it hit a slickspot, jackknifed across the highway, and into the field, taking out about 20 feet of fence. Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the rig. Sharon Corr, 15, Rupert, was cited for failure to yield the right of way Monday afternoon after the 1959 Ford she was driving collided with a 1964

Chevrolet pickup truck, driven by Dean Phillips, 47, also Rupert. Miss Corr was attempting to turn right on Highway 24-25 near the Kraft lands when her car collided with the Phillips vehicle. Damage was estimated at $300 to the Ford and at $350 to the pickup truck.

Sheriff's Blotter — Cleston Roney, 49, Rupert, suffered minor injuries Saturday night when his 1960 Dodge went out of control on a county road two miles north and about six miles west of Rupert. Roney was headed west on 200 N. when the vehicle went off the left side of the road, and struck a power pole. The car was demolished. No citations were issued.

Joe Fink Completes Efforts To Shield Inaugural Ritual

WILMETTE, Ill. (AP) — Joe Fink, the unusual hero of four presidential inaugurations, has completed his vital part in preparations for the next one. So that President-elect Nixon and his entourage need not be bothered Jan. 20, Fink has bird-proofed the inaugural parade route between the White House and the Capitol.

Otherwise, the startlings would cause the dignitaries to lose some of their dignity, observed Fink, 63, of Wilmette, in an interview. He and eight workers spent 12 days spraying the 100 trees along Pennsylvania Avenue with 2,000 gallons of a chemical he invented — 22 years ago and produces at his National Bird Control Laboratory.

"It's a nonpoisonous chemical which deters birds from landing," said Fink. It irritates their feet. His $10,000 contract with the inaugural committee guarantees to keep startlings away from Pennsylvania Avenue for at least four months. Until Fink came to the rescue, the birds used to disturb inauguration festivities and parade participants upon thousands of birds attended those parades," Fink said. "You couldn't see the sky for them. Trees along the route were littered with them."

Spectators in stands under the trees had to raise umbrellas for protection, he said. "Then in 1953 the Department of Parks asked us for a demonstration," Fink recalled. "They'd tried everything but nothing worked. Nobody thought we'd work, either. But the next day every tree around was covered with birds except those trees we'd treated. And the next day we got the assignment for President Eisenhower's inauguration."

This inauguration will be the first one for which Fink will be on hand to observe the results of his handiwork. "I'm holding final inspection Jan. 10 so I think I'll stick around for it," he said. "I was never able to make it to the others although it was always invited."

Pike insists on Marriage After Divorce SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike, planning to marry for the third time, says "I don't believe I could be excommunicated, but he notes the difference between that and being refused communion."

The twice-divorced cleric, 55, resigned as Episcopal Bishop of California to join the center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara. His successor, Bishop C. Kilmer-Myers, has made no public statement giving approval to the Methodist wedding planned Friday. The bride-to-be is Diane Kennedy, 31, a Methodist who has never been married.

Under Episcopal practice, a divorced person must obtain permission of his bishop before remarrying. Miss Kennedy helped in the writing of Bishop Pike's latest book, "The Other Side," a best-selling account of his experiences with psychic phenomena.

Father Kills Former Wife, Hits Children

CARLINVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A father of 10 children opened fire on a welfare agency Christmas party for his family Wednesday, police said, killing four persons including his estranged wife and wounding four of his children. He then fled, shot himself and died hours later.

Authorities said Sherman Kline, 38, pulled out two pistols while gifts were being opened in the offices of the Illinois Department of Child and Family Services and began firing. Killed were the wife, Lorraine, 33; two social workers, Frank Wildgrube, 24, and Bonnie Albracht, 23, both of Carlisle; and a receptionist, Ann Kepler, 25, of Bethel, Ill.

Two of the children, Michael, 14, and Diane, 8, were in critical condition in a Springfield hospital, while the other two wounded youngsters, Gene, 13 and July, 10, were in serious condition in a Carlisle hospital.

After the shooting, Kline drove some 60 miles to the home of a brother near O'Fallon, Mo., where the brother said, he admitted the shootings, but refused to give himself up.

Vernon Kline said his brother ran into some nearby woods, he heard a shot and called police. Officers found Sherman Kline with a bullet wound in his head. He died later at a hospital.

A spokesman for the welfare agency said he believed Kline was upset because he thought the agency had "come between himself and his family."

Miss Kepler, who was to have been married next March, was credited with saving the eyes of two other secretaries in her office when she stepped between them and Kline as he fired into the office.

Kline, who separated from his wife in May, was reported to be a plumber for a St. Louis firm.

"The Coming Glory" Was Described By Prophet Called Second Isaiah

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

THICK double walls surrounded ancient Babylon, its gleaming towers rearing beside the Euphrates River. From the battlements, the broad avenues of the city's lavish center, flanked by stately, palatial courts and temples to Tiamat and Marduk.

There, in the midst of fashionable idolatry, imposing wealth, vaulted sciences and gay, uninhibited pleasures and luxuries, the God dwelt for half a century in servitude, longing for a lost dream.

"By the waters of Babylon, there we sat down and wept," says Psalm 137, telling of the despondency and misery of that time.

Directions blurred and purpose wavering, Judah's messengers of the divine will for man, Ezekiel, in his bleak vision, saw his nation turned into a valley of death, littered with broken skeletons, wailing:

"Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost. Yet out of that desolation, he uttered words of that 'dark period' from 587 to 538 B.C.—the dauntless Daniel and a brilliant, tender prophet whose name remains, unknown—a glimpse of a coming greater glory than ever.

"They who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength," wrote the nameless sage, called the Second Isaiah. "They shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint.

"Arise, shine, for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you. . . and nations shall come to your light."

The bold, perceptive Daniel, singled out for special duty in the retinue of the conqueror, the Babylonian monarch, Nebuchadnezzar, also saw in a dream the tracery of an amazing majestic future. He related:

"Behold, with the clouds of heaven, there came one like a Son of Man, and He came to the Ancient of Days. And to Him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples, nations and languages should serve Him; His dominion is an everlasting dominion which shall not pass away.

"At a trusted need, He will not break and a dimly burning wick He will not quench. . . till He has established justice in the earth," wrote the anonymous one, also called Deutero-Isaiah.

"The Lord has laid on Him the iniquity of us all. Another odd, puzzling conception, yet applicable, and it was in keeping with the shadowy, figurative symbolism in which the prophets often spoke in that stricken melancholy period of captivity.

Brought by decadence and war into bondage under the heel of a powerful, skilled, heathen empire, Judaism's great commission, of bringing knowledge of one universal God to the world seemed shattered and dead.

"Shall these bones live?" came the question in Ezekiel's grim vision of a death-stricken canyon. But "behold, a rattling; and the bones came together, and there were sinews on them, and flesh."

Curious, visionary, wrathlike, born of ruin and affliction, yet it carried a lingering hope and unrelinquished conviction, smoldering beneath the bumptious, lusty and extravagant panoply of pagan Babylon.

Engineering, technology, astronomy, mathematics, art-works and cuneiform literature flourished in the academies of that affluent capital of Chaldean, along with grand-scale prostitution, drunkenness, tyranny and all that, 2,500 gods.

The golden-templed temple of Marduk, god of ruling order, towered massively beside the processional street, Albur-Shabu, outwitting shrines to Tiamat, god of chaos, and Ishtar, goddess of sensual delights.

That same dazzling street scene, a magnificent place of Nebuchadnezzar, with its charming hanging gardens.

The whole city, haughty, artful, sated with spoils of conquest, came to be regarded as the archetype of human corruption and defiance of God—the great beast, harlot Babylon.

Nebuchadnezzar picked some of his prisoners for duty in his court, including Daniel.

Daniel warned Nebuchadnezzar he would go mad, running wild in the fields, until he recognized that "some High God" Sovereign rules humanity. The madness came, and the clarity, before he died in 561 B.C.

Daniel, although continued in his post under the new ruler, soon came under condemnation for defying an edict not to pray to "any god or man" but the king. Cast into a den of lions, he emerged unharmed.

Unlike other writings of the prophets, the book of Daniel relating—those extraordinary events—remained unknown, until centuries later, in 168 B.C., raising questions about its time of composition.

But it specifically concerns the years of exile, including Daniel's interpretation of those "fateful" words: "Mene, Mene, Tekel and Parsin," which appeared on the wall at a rowdy feast of the new king, Belshazzar.

"You have been weighed in the balances and found wanting. That night, Belshazzar was slain.

Unlike Daniel, most of the captive Jewish population ceased out a bare existence as farm laborers, servants, street sweepers, peddlers, wood-carriers, and building crews, living in drab hovels with meager diets.

Overcast—muted—their Paninis relate, hooting, "Sing to us one of your songs of Zion!" But their throats pitched their lyrics hung straggling on a willow branch. "How shall we sing the Lord's song in a foreign land?"

Despite their forlorn regrets and bitter resignation, the far-seeing, unnamed prophet, whose writings form the latter part of the book named for the earlier Isaiah, from chapter 40 through 55, offered hopeful consolation.

"Comfort, comfort my people," says your God," he said. "I have prepared the way of the wilderness. Every valley shall be lifted up, and every mountain and hill be made low. . . And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together."

More of those veiled, tenuous linkages, words applied more than 300 years later to Jesus, in a turbulent, lightning-lucid thunderstorm. He visualized God's appeal as pervading all the world, not just Judaism, picturing that totality as "wheels within a wheel," moving everywhere.

Subject at times to silent, motionless trances, he envisioned a broad, life-giving river rising out of Judaism, and he saw high hope ahead.

"Says the Lord God. . . I will manifest My Holiness among you in the sight of the nations. I will send down My sheep and I will rescue them from places where they have been scattered. . . I Myself will be the Shepherd of my sheep.

"I will seek the lost, and I will bring back the strayed, and I will bind up the crippled, and I will strengthen the weak. . . I will feed them in justice. . . I will set over them One Shepherd. . . I will send down showers of blessings. . . I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant. My dwelling place will be with them."

A tremendous restoration, a new, more intimate kind of emancipation and relationship rang in those tenuous, leaping symbols.

Daniel, who remained a regal adjutant through Babylon's collapse in 539 B.C. under the expanding new Persian empire and into the rule of its more benevolent King Cyrus, conceived the approach of an everlasting kingdom over all the earth.

Generally, the messianic yearnings looked toward some divinely exalted, blissful world sovereignty, but the unnamed "Second Isaiah" added a shocking note to that concept, saying: "We had no form or comeliness that we should look at Him, and no beauty that we should desire—Him. He was despised and rejected by men; a Man of Sorrows, acquainted with grief. . . He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; upon Him was the chastisement that made us whole, and with His stripes we are healed. . . Yet it was the will of the Lord to bruise Him. When He makes Himself an offering for sin. . . He shall see the fruit of the travail of His soul and be satisfied; by His knowledge shall the righteous One, My Servant, make many to be accounted righteous; and He shall bear their iniquities."

These strange, anticipatory insights, along with others, are known as the "Servant" passages, which Christians see as portraying the coming persecution and death of Jesus in union with humanity for its evil-doing. Cyrus, the new master of the Middle East, released the exiles in 538 B.C. to go home, and "Second Isaiah" foresaw that joyous time. He offered fitting encouragement, suffused with those happy, peculiar intimations of redemption.

"Awake, awake, put on your beautiful garments, O Jerusalem. . . Shake yourself from the dust, arise, O captive. . . deliverance draws near speedily. . . And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, as a light to the nations, that My salvation may reach to the end of the earth. . . Behold, I will lift up My hand to the heavens, and raise My sign to the peoples. . . For the mountains may depart and the hills be removed, but My steadfast love shall not depart from you. . . Behold, the Lord comes."

And 42,000 people, with pots, blankets and children, trudged the 200 miles home.

Jubilant, reassuring, brimming with renewed purpose and soaring expectancy in the waning hours of a long night of the soul, "Second Isaiah" also used words that Jesus would quote as His text in His first sermon five centuries later in Nazareth:

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon Me, because the Lord has anointed Me to bring good tidings to the afflicted; He has sent Me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."

WHY CHRISTMAS ALMOST WASN'T

By Jack Kent

GOD IS NOT DEAD!

FEARFUL THAT OUR SEASON'S GREETINGS WOULD BECOME LOST AMONG THE CROWD IN THE "CHRISTMAS CARD" EDITION OF THE PAPER, WE DECIDED TO RISK THE CONDEMNATION OF OUR COMMERCIALIZING CHRISTMAS AND PRINT OUR MESSAGE ALONG WITH OUR REGULAR AD.

We sincerely hope that no one's religious sensibilities are offended as we thus express what Christmas means to us. As we ponder the meaning of this season, it seems that whether God lives or is dead is what Christmas is really all about. We rejoice with you that God-does-live, that He sent His son-to-live among us nearly two thousand years ago leaving us the wonderful gifts of His miracles, His teachings, and most precious of all, the gift—through His suffering, death and resurrection—of life after death for all of us. May our gifts this Christmas be inspired by the love which caused God to send His Son and Christ to give His life for us is our wish.

Ky Tells Of Fighting 'Friends' At Paris

PARIS (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam said Wednesday night he has had to fight "my so-called friends" as well as enemies since coming to the Paris conference to end the Vietnamese war.

Reporters asked Ky to identify the "so-called friends." He was asked if he meant Americans. Ky replied: "You know who and they know who."

At another point, Ky was asked what he thought of the views on Vietnam expressed by Henry A. Kissinger, president-elect Nixon's appointee as foreign policy adviser.

In an article written before his appointment in the quarterly Foreign Affairs, Kissinger proposed a two-tier system of negotiating a Vietnam settlement with Washington and Hanoi coming to terms on military matters and Saigon and the Vietnam government on political problems.

Ky's answer was terse: "Junk."

Ky spoke with newsmen at a diplomatic reception in his honor. He appeared to make plain that South Vietnam's relations with its American ally are currently less than easy.

Reporters asked the vice president what he felt about the recent statements of prominent Americans in government and Congress. Specifically they drew attention to statements by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford.

McGovern called Ky "this little inshore dictator" who is "playing" around in the plush spot of Paris. Clifford said Saigon and Hanoi were squabbling over negotiating rules in Paris while Americans are dying on Vietnamese battlefields.

To all this, Ky retorted: You can imagine my problem. I have to fight not only the enemy but also my so-called friends. So I hope these fellows stop saying they are friends and defenders of freedom and liberty.

The blunt South Vietnamese leader also told newsmen he may fly back to Saigon "to spend Christmas with the troops on the front" and to consult President Nguyen Van Thieu "on the new developments."

Asked what new developments he was referring to, Ky said there has been a new development each day. He seemed to refer to developments behind the scenes of the stalled Paris peace conference.

The Vietnamese have made no secret of their belief they consider themselves to be under American pressure to yield more ground in the search for the basis for negotiating a peace.

Retirement Of Teachers Is Postponed

SHOSHONE—Trustees of Shoshone School District approved postponement of retirement until the end of the school year for Arvilla O'Donnell, third grade teacher, and George McClun, elementary principal.

O'Donnell has taught in the Shoshone system for 11 years and Mr. McClun has been principal for 25 years in the Lincoln School.

On a r.d. members discussed adopting standards and procedures for determining eligibility for fees or reduced price school lunches. Adoption was postponed until the next meeting for the purpose of clarifying the eligibility criteria.

Date for the annual trustee election was set for April 14. Election in past years has been held in May. The earlier date will allow any new trustees to become involved in budget planning.

Trustees will be elected from Zones 1 and 4. Mrs. Frank Dallas and George Horn are presently serving from those zones.

Mrs. Dallas and Waldo Jones reported on the annual meeting of Idaho School Trustees Association in Boise.

Storage Of Pesticides In Valley Area Draws Warning

Dr. Luther Thompson, head of the health office of the Idaho Department of Health, said Thursday he is concerned about the storage of pesticides in Magic Valley.

"Sizable quantities of dangerous pesticides are handled, used and stored in the valley and it's apparent many people handling these products are unaware of their danger."

He said a fire in any one of the many storehouses in Magic Valley could "spread fumes."

Dr. Thompson said his office is working with the state to draw up regulations governing the storage and use of dangerous pesticides.

"A drop of parathion, for instance, in the eye or mouth may rapidly be fatal and even adequate skin exposure may cause death," Dr. Thompson said.

People handling pesticides should not handle them alone, and if any pesticide is spilled it should promptly be washed away, he said.

He urged special care in the disposal of empty pesticide containers. "It may be dangerous even to use the empty container as a trash barrel. Even a small quantity of the pesticide may be fatal."

He said pesticides can be carried on the wind, or in the smoke of a fire. They can also be carried away by water and wind up in irrigation streams.

Dr. Thompson also urged parents to use caution with pesticides around the home, especially since winter is here and most of the pesticides used around the home are stored in a garage shelf or in the basement.

He said symptoms and toxic effects of certain chemicals are varied. "The need for treatment by a physician is often immediate and at the scene. All physicians have knowledge of the use of specific antidotes and the hospital emergency care rooms throughout the valley have been equipped for poisoning emergencies."

He said all physicians and hospitals have access to immediate information from the Poison Control Center at Idaho State University.

Oregon Recount Clinches Ouster Of Sen. Morse

PORTLAND (AP) — The 24-year Senate career of Wayne Morse is apparently ended unless a major error is discovered in the recount of November votes in Oregon's Lane County.

Sen. Morse, expected to resign today by a spokesman said Morse would have no comment until the recount is ended, possibly Friday.

Lane County is the only remaining county to be completed in the recount. With 50 per cent recounted, Morse had gained about 23 votes.

The recount from 35 of the 36 counties showed a Republican Robert Packwood leading 370,026 to Morse's 364,003. Packwood won by 6,023 votes.

Morse had gained 61 votes in the recount.

The original count gave Packwood 408,825 votes and Morse 405,480.

Morse has hinted that he could challenge the vote in the courts or the Senate. His observers have challenged 39,674 votes and Packwood's representatives had challenged 34,277.

The challenged ballots are set aside for possible use later in the courts or the Senate.

Search Begins For Lost Plane

SEATTLE (AP) — Weather permitting, ground and aerial searches were to set out Thursday to scour the snowy hills of Southwest Washington for a plane missing on a flight from Wenatchee to an airport east of Portland.

Ron Pretti, state aeronautics director, said the pilot was Dick Rubenthal, an employee of Western Airways Inc., based at the Troutdale Airport. He was alone on the flight.

Deputy sheriffs from Clark County searched by car through falling snow for some two hours after the plane was reported overdue Wednesday night.

Pretti said a woman in Washington reported what she thought was the sound of a plane crash and deputies in Skamania County were alerted.

Rubenthal left Wenatchee for the Troutdale Airport at 3:48 p.m. His last contact was about 5 p.m. when he told the Federal Aviation Administration at Portland he was north of the Columbia River and about four miles east of Portland.

Pretti said the plane then disappeared from the radar scope.

Ski Patrol Aide Speaks At Jerome

JEROME — John Gluck, a member of the National Ski Patrol, talked to the Jerome Kiwanis Club meeting this week. He was introduced by Don Allen, program chairman.

Rev. Robert Cooper conducted a brief memorial for Tapsley Lamm, former president.

Russell Sheridan, Filer, lieutenant district governor, made his official visit. Other guests were Harold Cook, Twin Falls, a former charter member, and Kelly Block and Jim Stauffer from the Key Club.

Mr. Gluck talked about snow sports safety and how to survive in the mountains in the winter. He stated that the most important thing is not to panic. Oil from snowmobiles can be ignited to make a signal. He also demonstrated the new safety ski bindings.

Mr. Gluck is a member of the Camas County Search and Rescue Group which functions the year around. He noted that patrol members serve without pay, buy their own equipment and pay their own expenses.

Wendell Notes Holiday Closing

WENDELL — The Wendell City office will be closed Tuesday and Wednesday for Christmas.

City councilmen opened fuel oil bids at the last meeting. The American Oil Co. bid was the lowest received. Their bid was 1450 per gallon. Other bids included Ambrose Distributing Co., 1475, and Continental Oil, 1470. The fuel oil is used at the fire station.

Bids will be requested for truck and tractor tires for street equipment soon.

Fairfield Plans Lighting Event

FAIRFIELD — There will be an outdoor Christmas lighting contest in Camas County again this year.

Sponsored by the Camas Club, Idaho Power, Prairie Power, and other organizations, the contest will feature prizes for both residences in the city and in the country.

Rules of the contest state that lights and decorations may be outdoor or indoor as long as they are visible from the street or road. Friday is deadline for the sign-up. Mrs. Joseph Cook is chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Richard Dalm, Mrs. Eyla Hupfer and Mrs. Lloyd Barron.

Out of town judges have been chosen for the event, according to Mrs. Cook. Amounts of top prizes will be announced later.

Sirhan Jury Faces 'Lockup'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The jury hearing the murder trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan will be locked up tonight and weekend.

Judge Herbert V. Walker ruled Wednesday in Superior Court. The prosecution objected this would make selection of a jury difficult since the trial of the man charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is likely to last three months.

Emile Zola Berman, New York attorney, was officially approved at the brief court session to John Sirhan's two other defense attorneys. Berman, 65, told newsmen he supported Kennedy for president. Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, is to go on trial Jan. 7.

Distaff Robber Strikes Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police say a young woman, Franklynn Wavod down Fred Tolson, 18, and Clyde Black, 19, as they approached in a car, and they stopped and offered her assistance. She then confronted them with a large knife and robbed them of $16, police said.

DOWNTOWN TWIN FALLS

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 8 launch team began today the critical task of activating the three fuel cells that will provide electrical power for the space ship on its intended moon orbit flight.

The operation, expected to last several hours, involved piping in supercold liquid hydrogen, at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero, and liquid oxygen, at 297 below, into the fuel cell system. The two combine during flight to produce electricity and a by-product, water, used by the astronauts for drinking.

The three astronauts who will fly the mission, meanwhile, slowed their rugged training pace as the countdown neared the final hours for Saturday's launching.

Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders are to ride the awesome power of a Saturn 5 superrocket into space at 7:51 a.m. EST Saturday.

If all goes well, they'll orbit the moon for 20 hours on Christmas time, paving the way for other astronauts to land next year.

The trio Wednesday night watched the fiery blastoff of a Delta rocket and probably expressed a wish that their Saturn 5 works as well. The Delta performed perfectly and hurled a communications satellite into orbit.

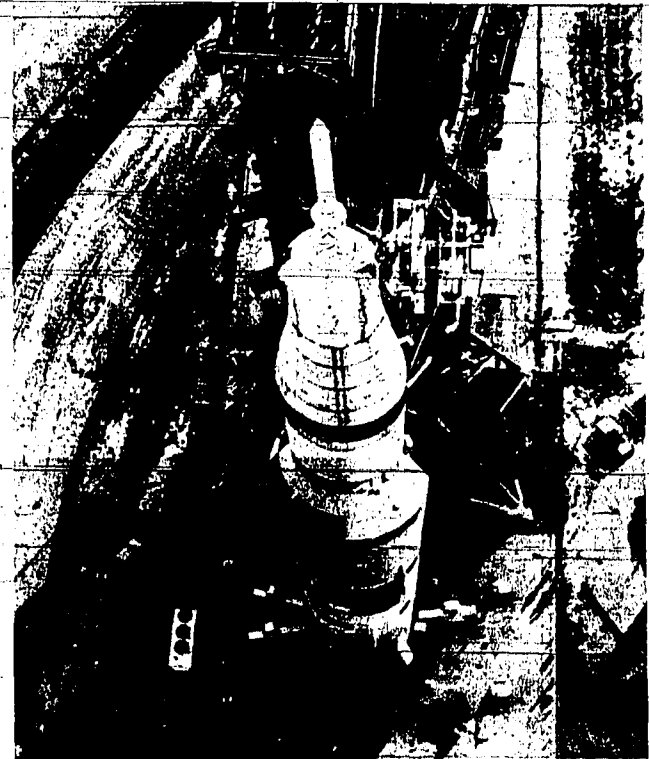

Lovell and Anders also spent a few hours with their wives, who flew here by private plane Wednesday from their homes near Houston, Tex.

Marilyn Lovell brought the four Lovell children with her, and they plan to remain here to watch the Apollo 8 launching. The children are Barbara, 15; James, 13; Susan, 10, and Jeffrey, 2.

Valerie Anders returns today to Houston, where she and Susan Borman will watch the blastoff of the Saturn 5 on television.

'Need' Plea For Welfare Draws Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission has recommended against a government order that would allow welfare applicants to sign a simple declaration of need instead of undergoing a lengthy investigation.

"In our judgment it is premature to impose such a mandate, despite the mounting criticism of the eligibility determination process," the commission said in a report Tuesday.

Called the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, the panel consists among its members Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Object of its criticism is a new order issued by the past month by the Health, Education and Welfare Department which would substitute a declaration of need for what some feel is the degrading investigatory process welfare applicants must now undergo.

The commission said states should be left free to experiment with their own eligibility systems.

The substitution becomes effective in June unless rescinded by the incoming administration.

Lovell and Anders also spent a few hours with their wives, who flew here by private plane Wednesday from their homes near Houston, Tex.

Marilyn Lovell brought the four Lovell children with her, and they plan to remain here to watch the Apollo 8 launching. The children are Barbara, 15; James, 13; Susan, 10, and Jeffrey, 2.

Nationwide Shortage Of Doctors Hits Communities In Southeastern Idaho

By LARRY BACON
Idaho State Journal
POCATELLO (AP) — Southeast Idaho is feeling the pinch of the nationwide doctor shortage.

The shortage has not yet reached critical proportions in this area. A really sick person can still be assured of quick medical care. But some doctors, especially in rural areas, are running themselves ragged to keep up with the patient demand.

A survey of nine general practitioners in the Pocatello area shows three must usually turn away new patients the year around. Two others say they have to turn down new patients during the busiest parts of the year.

GP's and internists are generally regarded as the "family doctors." Of the 16 in Pocatello, 11 said "non-emergency" patients must wait two weeks or more to get an appointment. Some doctors have a waiting period of six weeks for patients not requiring immediate attention.

Local doctors say Pocatello could use four to six more general practitioners, three more internists, two or three more pediatricians, a neurologist, a school graduate, only a small percentage have planned to enter general practice. A great number find careers in research, administrative medicine, industry, or a multitude of government health programs.

The AMA notes the government now employs more than 26,000 physicians — more than the total number caring for patients in 23 states.

Shortages of GP's in small towns are becoming even more acute. Most beginning doctors simply do not want to practice in a small community.

Why?

"In most cases they do not want the work and responsibility that goes with being a 'one man medical institution.' Most small town doctors are forced to carry a heavy patient load during the day and accept emergency calls at any hour.

"My calls are spread over a 24-hour period," said Dr. G. H. Mabey Jr., Malad's only doctor. "I can't lump my work into eight or 10 hours a day like a specialist can."

One doctor quoted in a recent medical journal had this to say: "My community has been critically short of physicians for several years. The situation is growing worse as the older doctors retire. Here you're at the mercy of the public 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with no letup, with chronic fatigue, and at times a feeling of complete hopelessness.

"I can spend only the barest minimum of time with my family. I can never attend my children's school functions or provide companionship for them on weekends and summer vacations. I have practically no social life."

In the city, doctors have the advantages of immediate aid from specialists in unusual or difficult cases. When the small town GP encounters such a case, he either has to trust his own judgment or send his patient to another doctor in a larger city.

The big-city doctor also has the advantage of having good hospital and laboratory facilities close at hand. He can enter group practices in which patient care is covered for each other during evenings, weekends and vacations.

Rural doctors in Southeast Idaho agree that unless more emphasis is placed in medical schools on training family doctors — especially for small towns — the rural doctor will be a thing of the past in a few years.

Some say too much emphasis has been placed on specialization — to the point a general practitioner is "looked upon" by some as a "second-rate doctor."

Dr. Leo G. Burkett of Downey says that just because a man's a specialist "doesn't mean he's any better doctor than I am. He doesn't do any more good than I do. I don't care if he does a heart transplant every 15 minutes."

If the rural doctor is a vanishing breed, what can be done to take care of the health needs of rural patients? Dr. Robert Leehling, medical education coordinator for the Intermountain Regional Medical Program interlocates, said various government-supported programs are being experimented with.

These include first-aid centers staffed by a nurse in television contact with doctors in a large city, mobile medical centers offering complete medical care to patients while they are transported to big city hospitals, and helicopters to fly patients to medical centers.

Some doctors say rural medical centers offering full medical care to several small communities are the answer. Others maintain patients will suffer unduly if the Intermountain Regional Medical Program inter-

The AMA recommends increasing enrollments at existing medical schools and building new ones.

Some Idaho doctors say more doctors could be attracted if the state had a medical school, but others say a medical school would be too expensive.

Some say the whole problem should be tossed into the lap of the federal government. There is disagreement on what should be done and who should do it. But the problem is getting worse. One recent survey pegs the nation's doctor deficit at 50,000 and predicts it will go up another 50,000 by 1975.

"I'm excited about the flight and looking forward to it," Mrs. Lovell said. "I think it's a fascinating thing."

The astronauts planned several interviews with experts to discuss the flight procedures. They'll be watching closely Friday when the terminal countdown begins. During this period, many vital operations will occur, including the pumping of tons of liquid hydrogen, liquid oxygen and xenon into the various fuel tanks of the 150-foot-tall Saturn 5, the most powerful rocket ever built.

After the rocket hurls the three astronauts to the vicinity of the moon, they will act as explorers, geologists, photographers, physicists and navigators. And Lovell thoughtfully will have some thoughts of a family man as the spacecraft zips over a lunar mountain he has unofficially named "Mount Marilyn" for his wife.

"The reason for us going around the moon has been justified on the basis that this will teach us how to operate in this environment — how to communicate, how to track, how to determine the position of the spacecraft," said Anders, Apollo 8's systems expert and chief lunar photographer.

More film and photographic equipment than ever carried on a U.S. space flight will rocket into orbit with Anders, Lovell and Borman.

Lovell, chief Apollo 8 navigator, is to track lunar landmarks during six of the 10 orbits of the moon to see how well astronauts can determine their location and find landing sites.

If the launch occurs on scheduled Saturday, the prime target will be the easternmost of five Apollo landing sites chosen previously by NASA on the basis of pictures from unmanned spacecraft. Apollo 8 is to pass directly over that area on its seventh lunar orbit.

While Borman points Apollo 8 toward the moon, Anders plans to snap pictures every 20 seconds throughout the daylight passes of the fourth and ninth lunar orbits to give scientists a "stereo," three-dimensional picture of lunar land not well covered by previous unmanned satellites.

The pilots will be on the lookout for areas where Russian scientists have reported seeing active volcanoes.

LONDON (AP) — Pamela Jeeves has demanded a divorce because her husband wouldn't argue with her.

Judge Jones said Mrs. Jeeves carried on a tirade into the small hours but her husband Basil just sat there listening.

"It was like talking to a brick wall," Judge Jones said.

The judge said that when, two weeks ago, Mrs. Jeeves decided to leave, it was the husband's lack of responsiveness rather than any cruelty which made up her mind.

The judge ruled that just to sit listening is not a marital crime. He refused Mrs. Jeeves's application for a divorce, but gave one to her husband on ground of her desertion.

The couple had been married five years. There were no children.

Japan Leftists Protest Visit By U. S. Sub

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Militant students and other leftists demonstrated at Sasebo today to protest the visit of the U.S. nuclear-powered submarine Plunger to the American naval base.

Police estimated the crowd at 2,000 and reported lots of shouting but no violence.

The demonstrators, preceded by 300 snake-dancing members of the militant Zenkyu-kai student organization, marched toward the U.S. naval base after a rally but were turned back by riot police.

The Science and Technology Agency said a slight hike in radioactivity was detected after the Plunger's arrival Wednesday, but the increase was attributed to a downpour and not pollution from the submarine.

CAA Board To Select New Officers

Members of the Twin Falls County Community Action Agency board of directors are scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Carol Martin, according to C. E. (Edd) Bossard, president of the group at present.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect new officers for the next calendar year, beginning in January. Other current officers are Mrs. Marjorie B. (Barnhart) secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors consists of a total of nine representatives from the general membership, three from the private organizations represented, three from public agencies and three from the low income group.

In 1931, 84 per cent of all physicians in private practice were GP's. In 1950, the corresponding percentage was 45, and in 1961, 37.

Colts Hope To Ease Sting Of Last Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts have had their Hong Kong flu vaccine, and now they're looking for some soothing balm in the form of a $15,000 Super Bowl pay check.

"If we can get it," said defensive tackle Billy Ray Smith, "it will take the care of the wretched headaches, sore throats and tears we've had since July."

The Colts 13-1 this year, have lost just two National Football League games in two seasons, but they haven't grown rich in the process.

Last year, Baltimore posted an 11-2 record but didn't even win the Coastal Division championship. Each Colt wound up with a meager $631.70.

"We had a fluke team last year," said center Dick Szymbanski.

"Who's going to remember the 1967 Colt team? Nobody is going to remember that Green Bay lost four games only that they won the Super Bowl."

"And, if we win the next two games and lose the third," Szymbanski said, "our great record this year won't mean anything either."

To a man, the Colts have more respect for the Minnesota Vikings, the Central Division champs whom they play for the Western Conference title in Baltimore Sunday.

The strong Vikings' defense blanked the Colts in the second half of their regular season game. Minnesota was twice stopped on the one-foot line with 10 minutes remaining.

Quarterback Joe Kapp was held in check by the Colts, but he directed Minnesota to a 20-20 tie last season which helped sidetrack Baltimore's title bid.

The Colts, who have a whopping 11-2 edge over the Vikings since 1961, have been installed as an 11-point favorite for Sunday's game. Minnesota has never won in Baltimore.

Graebner Is On Net Scene On Big Serve

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Clark Graebner found his explosive cannonball service Wednesday and powered his way back into the Davis Cup picture as the final selection of the United States official squad.

If he can maintain the blazing form shown in practice, it appears almost certain he will be reinstated on the team and assigned the No. 2 singles position behind Arthur Ashe Jr., U.S. Open champion from Richmond, Va.

"Graebner is playing very well," said Donald Dell, the U.S. captain. "So, for that matter, is Charlie Pasarell. The second singles place is still very much up for the grabs."

Although ranked No. 2 nationally and holder of an impressive overall record that included the semifinals this year at Wimbledon and in the American Open, Graebner was omitted from the four-man U.S. team announced last Sunday, ten days before the Cup challenge round against Australia Dec. 20-28.

The team included Ashe, Pasarell and the doubles combination of Stan Smith and Bob Lutz of the University of Southern California.

Father Tells Ashe To Spurn Offer

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe listens to his father and he always has. He will spurn a $500,000 offer to go on a pro tennis tour and dedicate himself to helping black people find their place in American society.

"You can build your castle too high," Arthur Ashe Sr., father of the tennis player, said today. "I'd like to be rich and famous, but there is more to life than that."

"Our kids in the ghetto need a lot of help. I would like to see Arthur, who can be an inspiration, do his part. I think that is what Arthur wants, too."

The elder Ashe was flown to Adelaide through funds collected by friends in Richmond, Va., where he is a park patrolman.

To watch his son lead the U.S. Davis Cup team against Australia in the Christmas Round starting the day after Christmas.

Because of Ashe, holder of the U.S. Amateur and Open titles, the Americans are heavily favored to win the trophy they have been able to take only three times in the last 18 years.

Ashe, who gets out of the Army in February, has been the object of spirited bidding by pro groups, with one offer said to amount to $100,000 a year for five years.

To make this purse, however, he would be subject to playing one night stands on tour in head-to-head competition with other pros.

Ashe has said he will be playing tennis for money next year. If the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's offer is accepted, he will permit players to accept prize money without turning pro, he is almost certain to turn his back on rich pro offers.

Bonneville Dross Shelley

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — The Bonneville Bees continued their winning ways Wednesday night as they defeated the Shelley Russets 71-53.

Sid Page of Shelley pumped through a better feeding than any of the non-conference game. Doug Johnson and Brad Bowen each put in 11 points to aid the Shelley effort.

The Bees led at the end of each quarter. As the second half opened the Russets could do nothing from the floor and had trouble getting it from underneath. The Bees shot just the opposite, and took advantage of several turn-overs for easy scores.

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Morrall, a 34-year-old traveling man who played quarterback for four clubs, before he found a home in Baltimore, was named Wednesday the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League.

Morrall, who took the Colts to the Coastal Division title and the Western Conference final with Minnesota Sunday, was the overwhelming choice of a 48-man panel of writers and sportscasters, three from each league city participating in the Associated Press Poll.

Two members of the committee did not vote in this category got Butch Wilson, a reserve tight end, it return.

Shortly after his arrival in Baltimore, Morrall was thrown into action with the Colts because Units reinjured the elbow in a game at Dallas.

When the season started he was No. 1 and Units an intent observer on the bench. It continued that way all season with Morrall making only brief appearances. Morrall led the Colts to a 13-1 record and a shot at the league and conference title fiddle for other passers, Morrall, and perhaps the Super Bowl, came into his own with the Colts. Picked as San Francisco's top and wound up as the top passer draft choice in 1956 after he completed 182 of 317 for 2,909. Morrall moved to Pittsburgh in 1957, Detroit from 1958 to 1961 and New York from 1963 through 1967.

During most of his 13 years as a pro, the 6-foot-2 Morrall has been a backup man for a more illustrious No. 1 man.

Thirteen years after he was back with the New York Giants behind Fran Tarkenton, the NFL All-Star and quarterback and Colts had figured they could the MVP of the league. Units well afford to trade him. They was the MVP last year.

Whitefish Offer Action, Eating For Idaho Fishermen Idled By Weather

NOISE — Whitefish fishing is fun for people with "know-how," they are good in that fresh-fried fish a day and there is no possession limit, the Idaho Fish and Game Department reminded sportsmen today.

The Rocky Mountain whitefish is the species known to most wintertime anglers. Somewhat smaller than mountain herring and a little more difficult to catch throughout the Intermountain West. Anglers recognize this whitefish, which gets to be about a foot long but may reach as much as four pounds. Somewhat pinkish in color, it has a white belly, a pale of spots and a short dorsal fin. It likes clear, cold streams and swamps in late fall and early winter.

Hard-bitten whitefish fishermen say that in some respects it is the best whitefish to catch. Ordinarily, the guy who does not know how, won't catch many of them. Bait and tackle must be rigged just right if you are to get a fish. When cast in the middle of a school of whitefish. Of course, finding schools of fish is the first problem to be solved. They do not stay in all of the deep holes or pools.

Various baits are used. Small grub-like larvae are good natural food. Whitefish seem to prefer stone flies that are sometimes called hellgrammites, and locally "hickies." Another good bait is the "mousy" or rail-tailed maggot, which is the larvae of the fly. However, it is better to use their own bait in the stream where they fish. It is the Caddis fly larvae, which builds stone or bark casings for its grub-like body, and sheds to rocks.

Whitefish are native to nearly every section of the state and the best time to catch them is in the winter months. They run in schools and the cold water produces fish that are of good size and firm flesh.

Two members of the committee did not vote in this category got Butch Wilson, a reserve tight end, it return.

Shortly after his arrival in Baltimore, Morrall was thrown into action with the Colts because Units reinjured the elbow in a game at Dallas.

When the season started he was No. 1 and Units an intent observer on the bench. It continued that way all season with Morrall making only brief appearances. Morrall led the Colts to a 13-1 record and a shot at the league and conference title fiddle for other passers, Morrall, and perhaps the Super Bowl, came into his own with the Colts. Picked as San Francisco's top and wound up as the top passer draft choice in 1956 after he completed 182 of 317 for 2,909. Morrall moved to Pittsburgh in 1957, Detroit from 1958 to 1961 and New York from 1963 through 1967.

During most of his 13 years as a pro, the 6-foot-2 Morrall has been a backup man for a more illustrious No. 1 man.

Thirteen years after he was back with the New York Giants behind Fran Tarkenton, the NFL All-Star and quarterback and Colts had figured they could the MVP of the league. Units well afford to trade him. They was the MVP last year.

Vikings Will Not Try To Run Over Foe

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Coach Bud Grant emphasizes the Minnesota Vikings will not try to run over the Baltimore Colts in Sunday's Western Conference championship game in the National Football League.

"We'll have to respect their defensive rush," Grant said Tuesday after the Vikings held a short workout. "We're going to have to mix it up. We're not going to have to try to run over them."

"We're going to have to throw the book at them," he said.

The Baltimore Colts' great defense allowed a league low of 144 points, and in a Nov. 24 contest against the Vikings held Minnesota without a touchdown in a 21-0 victory. The Vikings will try to find a crack this time around in Baltimore's zone defense.

The winner of the game at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium will play the victor of the Dallas-Cleveland game for the NFL championship Dec. 29.

"We feel we can win," Grant said. "If you asked me today how, I wouldn't be able to tell you, but we have to play our best game of the year."

The Vikings are Central Division champions with an 8-6 record. The Colts are 13-1 and Coastal Division champions.

Coeur d'Alene Will Host Sport Fete

COEUR D'ALENE — The Greater Idaho Sports Association announced today the date for the seventh annual Idaho Sports Banquet which will be held at the North Shore Convention Center on January 30 at 7:30 p.m.

This year many top speakers have been selected to appear at this annual affair that honors the athletes in Idaho for their performance during the past calendar year and also honors the top Northern Idaho team with the "Team of the Year" award.

Asson Mount, sports editor of Playboy Magazine, who annually picks one of the top All-American football teams is slated as one of the featured speakers and the NFL-APL "Comeback Player" of the year will be present to receive his award from Pat King, publisher of the Coeur d'Alene Press.

"Comeback Player" award is selected by United Press International, under the director, Jack Griffin, in New York City.

In addition to the sports banquet, there will be a special football clinic held on Wednesday, Jan. 29 at the Convention Center. The clinic will be sponsored and directed by Y C McNease, head football coach at the University of Idaho and his complete staff. Sessions will be held on Wednesday at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. and on Thursday at 10 a.m.

Tickets are slated to be on sale next week and all seats will be on a reserved basis.

Idaho Falls Stuns Pocatello

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — The Idaho Falls Tigers, with their suspended starters back in action, proved their 0-4 season record was not to be taken seriously as they outscored the Pocatello Indians 68-62 Wednesday night.

The Tigers showed they had found their rhythm this year as they allowed the Indians to jump to a 12-7 lead. They finally regained their composure and knotted the score at 13-13 with 3:16 left in the first quarter. The Idaho Falls crew hit three crucial homers and pulled in a 19-14 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never behind again.

Pocatello did tie the game up one more time, however. With the Tigers holding a 36-32 lead at the half the Indians hit for points at the start of the second half. The Tigers came right back to hit on three shots from the field and pulled away once again.

Defensive Leaders Get NL Honors

CINCINNATI (AP) — It might not win a pennant but a team made up of 1968 National League fielding leaders probably would be tough to handle.

Official league fielding averages, released Wednesday, showed such a team would consist of:

Wes Parker of Los Angeles with a fielding average of .993 at first base; Cookie Rojas of Philadelphia, .987, at second base; Ron Santo of Chicago, .971, at third base; Al Lerner of San Francisco, .979, at short stop.

Johnny Callison of Philadelphia 1,000, Hank Aaron of Atlanta, .991, and Pete Rose, Cincinnati, .990, in the outfield, and Joe Torre of Atlanta, .996, catcher.

Pitchers who completed the season with perfect fielding average led by Larry Jackson of Philadelphia who handled 69 chances without an error.

The official averages showed that the Cubs wound up as the league's top fielding team at .981. They committed only 119 errors while handling 6,375 chances.

Houston and San Francisco wound up as the poorest fielding teams with .975 averages and the Giants committed the most errors—162.

Philadelphia completed 163 double plays but Pittsburgh was tops with 162. San Francisco had the poorest record—only 125.

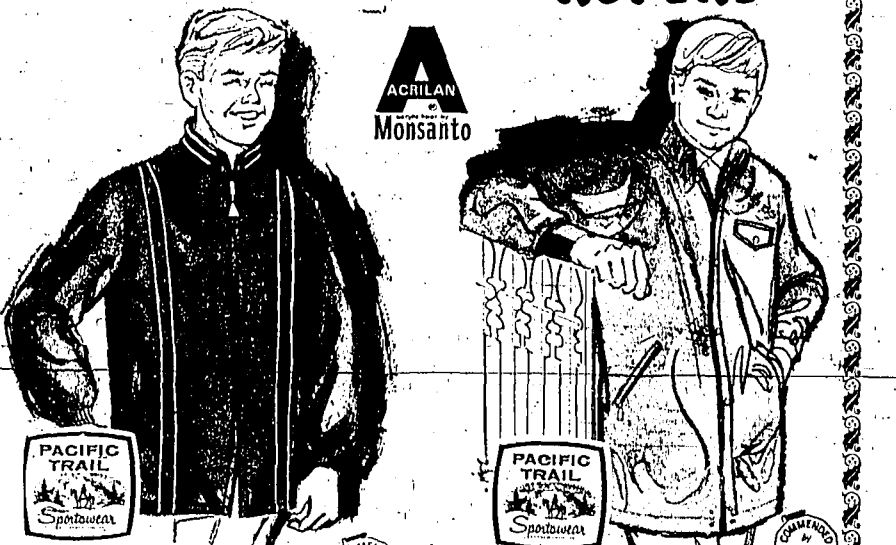

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh completed the season's only triple plays.

Chiefs Once Had Wells, Now He's Playoff Factor For Raiders

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Wells, who first attracted the attention of the Oakland Raiders when they saw him in Kansas City Chiefs films, is now a Raider who this week is the object of the Chief's cinematic attention.

The Chiefs and the Raiders met for the American Football League's Western Division title Sunday, and one of Kansas City's main concerns has to be Wells, a split-end who has passed catches and 12 touchdowns have helped put Oakland where it is.

His four catches for 113 yards and one touchdown, helped the Raiders beat stubborn San Diego last Sunday and today brought him The Associated Press' designation as AFL offensive player of the week.

It is ironic that the Chiefs should be studying ways to stop Wells in Sunday's game. They had him for a while last year but released him in their final year. However, he played for them long enough to get a supporting role in their game films.

"We were studying Kansas City films," explained Al Davis, the Raiders' managing general partner, "and all of a sudden I thought I was seeing things."

"I know the Chiefs played Ollie Taylor on the left, but here he was running on the right. At least I thought it was Taylor."

"Of course, it turned out that it was Wells. But he looked just like Taylor. They run very similarly, and they're built pretty much alike."

So as soon as Davis saw the Chiefs had put the 6-foot-1, 190-pounder on waivers, he grabbed him. Wells caught just 13 passes last year, mostly playing behind Bill Miller. But this year he developed as fast as he runs.

"He brought an entire new dimension to our attack," Coach John Rauch said. "Everybody used to fault us because we didn't have the bomb, but Warren took care of that very nicely."

So nicely, in fact, that his 12 touchdowns, one of which came on an end-around play, were the most in the AFL this season. His 53 pass catches placed him sixth, but no one caught more TD passes and his average gain of 21.5 yards per reception was second only to New York's Don Maynard.

How did he develop so rapidly in one season? Well, for one thing, he hasn't been dropping passes this year as he did last year.

For another, Wells explained, "I also had the bad habit of looking away from the ball before I caught it to see whose I could go. This season Fred Biletnikoff worked hard with me."

Quarterback Watches Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Injured quarterback Rex Kern watched from the sidelines Tuesday as his Ohio State teammates drilled for their Jan. 1 Rose Bowl engagement with Southern California.

But the super sophomore is likely to be calling the signals when the Buckeyes battle O. J. Simpson in the New Year's Day classic.

Kern suffered a dislocated shoulder Monday in a blocking drill and Dr. Robert Murphy ordered at least a week's rest.

And when Kern does resume contact drills, he will have a harness on his shoulder to protect against further injury.

Twin Falls Will Host Highland In SIC Game Friday

The Twin Falls Bruins make their season finale on Friday night when they host the Highland Rams in the local curtain-raiser for the Southern Idaho Conference. The Bruins, holding a 13 record, will go to Pocatello Saturday night.

EIC Expected To Add Two Teams Today

A new Eastern Idaho Conference is expected to be born Thursday with six southeastern Idaho high schools slated to meet at Blackfoot for an organizational and scheduling meeting.

The Burley Bobcats will be represented in the meeting along with Bonnevile, Madison, O. O. Hill, right now is to make the boys smarter, to know where to make that pass and themselves after completing their part of the play," he said.

Of course, the Bruins had their best night against Coeur d'Alene, scoring 57 points. (Mark Miller got 25 and Iowa pitched up 16 so our guard punch was good. We fell down on our inside scoring, but that's to be expected since Caldwell was taller, the coach reports.

The move will mean Burley completely away from its home fourth district as another member of the conference will be from this area. However, it will leave the Bobcats the opportunity to remain in the Cross State League if it chooses as they can play complete schedules in both and break the state's 10-game restriction.

Robinson Is Confirmed Top Rusher

NEW YORK (AP) — Halfback Paul Robinson of the Cincinnati Bengals, a first-year man on a first-year team, was confirmed today as the American Football League's leading rusher.

Despite the fledgling Bengals' last-place finish in the Western Division, Robinson, a rookie from Arizona, was the only runner in the league to gain more than 1,000 yards.

He finished with 1,023 on 238 carries, a 4.3 average. Another rookie, Kansas City's Robert Holmes, had a better average—5.0 yards per rush—but carried only 174 times for 868 yards.

That was one yard better than Cleveland's Dickerson of Oakland. Houston's Hoyle Granger was fourth with 848.

Kansas City's Len Dawson, one of only two quarterbacks in the league to complete more than half his throws, replaced Oakland's Dickerson as the best passer. Dawson had the best percentage—68.5—and best average gain—9.42—while Lammonica's over-all figures were good for second place, although San Diego's John Hall out-gained him 3,473 yards in 3,255 and 68 receptions to 60.

The closest race was among the receivers, where San Diego's Lance Alworth beat out George Sauer of New York, the defending champ, on the final day. Alworth's 60 touchdowns also led in yardage with 1,312.

The scoring crown went to New York's Jim Turner, who hoisted 24 field goals, a professional record, and 41 extra points for 145 total points.

In other departments, Oakland's George Atkinson led in kickoff returns, Kansas City's Noland Smith took punt return honors and Dave Grayson of Oakland had the most interceptions.

Maxwell House Announces Freeze-Dried Coffee

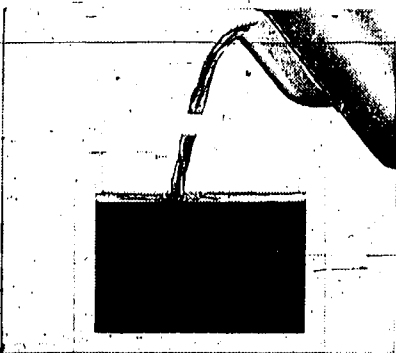

Now, an entirely new process called freeze-drying actually makes it possible for you to brew real percolated coffee...without a percolator!

Maxim® is an entirely new form of coffee.

Maxim is crystals of real percolated coffee. Concentrated crystals with the power to turn every cup in your house into a percolator!

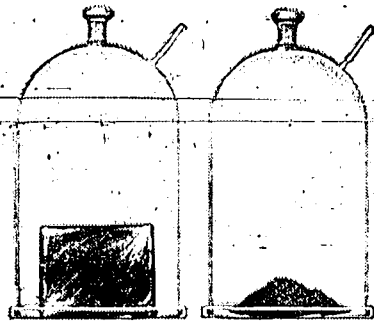

Maxim is an amazing breakthrough in coffee-making. It is entirely different from any instant coffee. It is entirely different from any ground coffee. Maxim is, in fact, concentrated crystals of real percolated coffee.

Maxim's secret—freeze-drying—is the result of years of coffee research at Maxwell House. A way has been discovered to transform actual pot-brewed coffee into concentrated crystals. Here's how it is done.

Freshly percolated coffee is poured into freezing containers.

Maxim begins with pots and pots of dark, strong, percolated coffee. This freshly brewed coffee is poured into special freezing containers. Here it is flash-frozen at the peak of perfection, when coffee flavor and aroma are at their break-fast-time best.

Vacuum chamber turns block of frozen coffee into crystals.

After the coffee has been frozen, the ice is drawn off—not by heat which destroys flavor—but by an amazing new vacuum process. It spirits the ice away without losing any of the honest flavor and body of freshly-percolated coffee.

Freeze-Dried crystals that need no refrigeration!

This "ice removal" leaves concentrated crystals of real percolated coffee. And that's exactly what Maxim freeze-dried coffee is—fresh-brewed coffee without the water. These waterless crystals stay fresh until you're ready to use them. They need absolutely no refrigeration and can be kept right in your kitchen cupboard.

Different from any other form of coffee.

You can tell at once that Maxim is unlike any other coffee you have ever used. Take a spoonful, and you see golden brown crystals that actually sparkle. Smell them, and you smell the rich, roasted aroma of freshly percolated coffee.

Turns your cup into a percolator!

The real miracle happens in your cup. The moment you add hot water Maxim's concentrated crystals explode into real percolated coffee. Maxim actually turns every cup in your house into a percolator! No pots. No grounds. No instant taste!

Important—you need less per cup!

Because Maxim's crystals are concentrated, you use less per cup than you do with any other form of coffee. For each cup, just use a level teaspoon (more or less to taste). You'll find it's surprisingly thrifty to use Maxim!

Discover Maxim—America's first Freeze-Dried coffee.

Get Maxim soon. Try it and see if you can detect a difference between Maxim and the good coffee you've been brewing in your percolator! You'll get the surprise of your coffee-loving life! Discover Maxim—America's first Freeze-Dried coffee—new from Maxwell House.

One 4-oz. jar of Maxim makes as many cups as one pound of ground coffee.

Country Pals Host Dinner, Gift Exchange

The Country Pals Home Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Glen Debban for a potluck dinner and Christmas gift exchange.

Mrs. William Debban was co-hostess. Election of officers was held. President is Mrs. Elwood McCauley, vice president, Mrs. J. H. Shurtz, secretary, Mrs. Maurice Allen, and treasurer, Mrs. Glen Debban.

Mrs. Irene Childers installed the new officers, with a Christmas tree centerpiece giving a message to each one of the officers.

It was announced that Jan. 13 will be a luncheon meeting at the Rogerson Hotel for members of Twin Falls County Home Extension Council and all clubs and standing chairmen are to have their year's report.

Mrs. Floyd Sharp and Mrs. J. H. Sharp won the white elephant. The committees appointed included scrapbook, Mrs. Childers, and sunshine chairman, Mrs. Jess Jones. The next meeting is Jan. 20 at 11 a.m. at the home of Mrs. J. H. Sharp.

Members Make Doll Clothes

Christmas plans were told by members of the Haus Frau Extension Club during the December meeting. Each member volunteered to make doll clothes for used dolls to go into family baskets for Christmas.

The group will go caroling at Twin Falls nursing home on Thursday. A Christmas gift exchange was held and table games played. Hostesses were Mrs. Jim Hall and Mrs. Eddy Ordez.

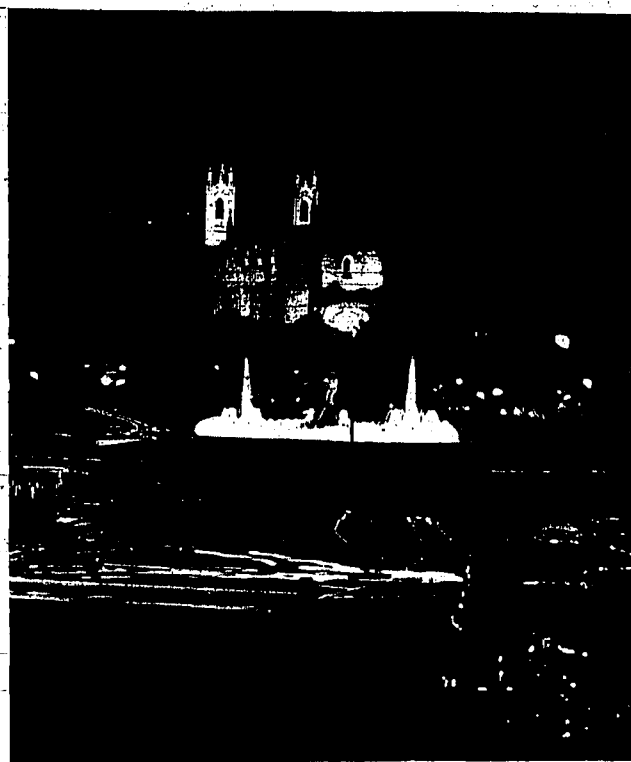

Party Held

LIGHTS ALL AGLOW enhance the beauty of the fountain in the Plaza de Círculos in Madrid, Spain, with the Prado Museum and the Church of San Jerónimo el Real in the background. This is said to be one of the most beautiful sights in the world and is one of the many sights Idaho travelers will be viewing in February when they tour Spain and Portugal on the Magic Fiesta tour. It is essential for anybody who wants to enter into the spirit of Madrid life to have a stroll before dinner and what could be a more perfect sight. Right beside the Prado Museum is the entrance to the Botanical Gardens in the Glorieta de Murillo. Times-News Magic Fiesta tourists will be leaving Twin Falls Feb. 8 and returning Feb. 22 after having spent one week in Lisbon, Portugal, and one week in Madrid. Reservations for the tour should be made by Dec. 31 by contacting Norma Herzinger, tour hostess, at the Times-News, or by calling Magic Carpet Travels.

Party Held

The annual Christmas party of the Past Oracles Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. Eva Olson. Members enjoyed a potluck supper and gift exchange with Mrs. Donald Trendwell and her daughter, Carrie Sue Santa Claus.

The house and tables were decorated in a Christmas motif. Plans were made to elect officers Jan. 21 at the home of Mrs. Trendwell. Mrs. William Armpa received a special gift. Mrs. Alice Woodley, Mrs. Olson's sister, was a guest.

Mrs. Callen Is Club President

JEROME—Mrs. B. M. Callen was elected president of the Jerome Garden Club at the recent Christmas Tea at the home of Mrs. Emanuel Nelsen.

Others elected include Mrs. Grace Maddish, vice president; Mrs. Chet Humphries, secretary, and Mrs. Gus Callen, treasurer. They will be installed at the January meeting.

Mrs. Eynon Ward presented a program of readings and a Christmas prayer. Mrs. Clayton Johnson provided a Christmas arrangement. Guests were Mrs. Glen Rolfe and Mrs. Nat Spoford.

The next meeting is Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. Pearl Barnes and will be a 1 p.m. potluck dinner.

GOOD DEFENSE BUILDS SCORE

No matter how well you bid and play, you can't expect to make every contract and good defensive play will sometimes set you several tricks.

When Bob Hamman went down three tricks at his two-

Most players would have simply played another top diamond. This would have allowed Bob to ruff in and end play George to go down only two, but Sidney led his jack of clubs. It didn't matter what Bob did at this point. He had already lost three spades, a trump and a diamond. He was still going to lose his last two spades and the queen of clubs.

Bob could have saved one trick from the wreck had he known where all the cards were before he started playing spades, but with a photograph of the opponents' hands.

Strangely enough, Bob's score of minus 300 cost him nothing in the trials. It seems that a couple of North players passed to one spade and ran to two diamonds after East reopened with a double and West passed. Two diamonds was a 1-0 doublet, whereas South lost two hearts and was doubled there.

heart contract, he congratulated George Raape and Sidney Lazard on their fine defense.

It was good defense indeed. George opened the jack of trumps. Bob won in dummy, led a spade and put in his even spot. George won and led another trump. Bob won that one also and led his queen of spades. George won and led a third trump. Back came a spade. George was on lead again. By this time, he had set up his eight of trumps so he cashed it, then played his nine of diamonds. Sidney was in for the first time.

What do you do now?

A—Bid three no-trump. Your opening was minimum but sound one. You should try for game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two no-trump partner bids three clubs over your one no-trump. What do you do now?

Wife Calls Camper 'Mobile Sin Palace'

WRITES an unhappy husband: "When I said I wanted to buy a camper so I could spend a few week-ends off-in-the-mountains by myself, my wife just didn't come apart. She said I didn't love her any more and accused me of trying to set up a mobile sin-palace. What can you do with a woman like that?"

Our Love and War man says it's clear this wife doesn't understand the thought behind Robert Louis Stevenson's statement, "Brief absences keep love bright and delicate." That's too bad. Nonetheless, this gentleman must get that camper. Every man who can afford to do so should own one.

Smile Is Girl's Fortune

The sweet smile of success has replaced the grimaces. Ann Stuart Pickett wore during high school—along with braces on her teeth. Because Ann's smile has just become her fortune, she has captivated her into an exciting television modeling career.

Ann Pickett, of Lake Worth, Florida, was an entrant in the National Model of the Year Contest telecast recently over network television. Like many other contestants, she was primarily vying for first place in a contest within the contest... the title of Ultra-Brain Girl which carried a $15,000 television modeling contract.

Today at 19, Ann is the Ultra-Brain Girl. Her future is valued $15,000 income this year will mostly be earned blowing kisses on television toothpaste commercials. But Ann stands to make an even greater five-figure salary with additional modeling assignments here and abroad.

Within a few weeks of her good fortune, Ann had left her parents' Florida home for an apartment of her own in New York City. Her days are filled with photography sessions, radio, television, newspaper and magazine interviews, casting calls, vocal training—and furnishing her new East-side apartment.

How did Ann Stuart Pickett get her winning smile? She worked on it. Just as a model studies her appearance and then learns to walk gracefully and create the right makeup, Ann studied her smile and created a plan for its look.

Here are her recommendations for a winning smile:

Study your smile in the mirror to be sure you don't show too much tooth gum or too many bottom teeth.

Exercise your mouth daily by saying the vowel sounds A-E-I-O-U. Exaggerate each vowel so that you feel the facial muscles stretch and pull. Relax your mouth after each exercise.

Of course, brush your teeth regularly with a toothpaste like Ultra-Brain—it offers a bright, sticky-taste in addition to its cleansing qualities.

Pay attention to your facial mannerisms. Don't habitually purse your lips or set your mouth droop sulky at the corners. It makes for ugly, aging lines.

Practice keeping the corners of your mouth just slightly turned up and by it at people when you meet them—a warm, sincere smile.

"Remember," says Ann, "it takes fewer muscles to smile than to frown."

Past Matrons, Patrons Feted By OES Unit

HOLLISTER.—The past matrons and past patrons of Hollister Chapter No. 47, Order of Eastern Star, were honored by their worthy matron, Mrs. LeRoy Mayor, during a recent meeting.

Mrs. Mayo, with an original verse, presented each a coffee mug, and Susan Fleener and Kate Fleener sang a verse of Christmas songs, accompanied by their sister, Helen Fleener. The worthy patron, Lester McGregor, who is a member of the Historical Society, showed colored slides of the society's tours in Idaho and Jarbridge, Nev.

Those introduced for the evening included Mrs. Ruby Dean, grand-representative of Ontario in Idaho; Mrs. George Clark, chairman of District No. 11, star booster committee; George Clark, member of the credential committee; and Mrs. Duane Ramsey, chairman of District No. 7, EXARL committee. Mrs. Ramsey gave her report to the chapter.

As a special event, the station of Martha was honored. Mrs. Mayo read the life of Martha, and had present and past Matrons stand and they were given a gift. Mrs. Homer Roberts, the present Martha, was chosen "Star of the Evening" and given a pin representing Martha's station.

Members voted to have a

Arllinda Partin Elected Queen Of Bethel 45

HAGERMAN.—Arllinda Partin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Partin, was elected homecoming queen for the year 1968. Practices for the ceremony of installation at 2 p.m. Jan. 5. All officers are asked to attend.

Mrs. Joe Miller and George McGregor were the December birthday members. They were presented gifts.

Mrs. Mayo announced that the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Erna McFarland, would make her official visit at the January meeting.

Mrs. Mayo prepared and served refreshments.

ored queen of Bethel No. 45, John Daughters.

Others elected to assist the new honored queen are Ruth Chick, senior princess; Cheryl L. Slane, junior princess; Bonnie Lonker, marshal, and Cheryl Sandy, guide.

Installation will be held at a special meeting, Dec. 28. Practices have been scheduled for Sunday and Dec. 27.

Sam Bishop Jr. was installed associate guardian, Ray Clawson was installing officer.

Members of the local Bethel are selling candy as a money raising project.

Refreshments were served by Lora Sandy and Becky Tupper.

ANN STUART PICKETT tells how to get a winning smile by using fingertips as "rests" to exercise muscles around the mouth by running through vowel sounds: A-E-I-O-U. These exercises must be exaggerated in order to obtain fullest results. Muscles must work against pressure of the fingertips as is done by isometrics.

Social Calendar

Royal Neighbor Lodge will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the 1001F Hall. Officers for 1969 will be elected.

SHOSHONE.—Civic Club will meet at the home of Mrs. R. G. Neher at 2 p.m. Friday. Mrs. Leon Papasogis program chairman. A silver offering will be taken. Hostesses will be Mrs. Neher, Mrs. Reid Newby, Mrs. John Talk and Mrs. Floyd Kisting.

PAUL.—The Christmas program of the Paul United Methodist Church will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the church sanctuary. The program will be prepared by the church's young people under the supervision of Rev. Alice Woolley.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at 12:30 p.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Ruth White, Morningside Drive, announced Mrs. Lillian Rayburn, WCTU president. There will be a Christmas party with basket dinner and an exchange of gifts followed by a business meeting.

Holiday Crafts Are Displayed

Mrs. Goldie Kessler of Erickson Hobby Shop displays a wide variety of Christmas craft ideas at the recent meeting of the National Guard Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Jerry Dunlap.

A Christmas gift exchange was held. Members discussed plans for a Military Ball, which will be held Feb. 22 at the Twin Falls National Guard Armory. It will be a semi-formal dinner-dance event, with music to be furnished by the Duke Flat Orchestra. Invitations are being sent to all members of the National Guard units in Buhl, Burley, Gooding, Hailey, Jerome, Rupert and Twin Falls.

An extra meeting was scheduled for Jan. 16 to address invitations for the ball at the armory. The next regular meeting is Jan. 23. Officers will be elected.

Area Lighting Contest Noted

GLENN'S FERRY.—Xi Alpha Chapter's Christmas decorating and lighting contest this year will feature four categories: reports the Beta Sigma Phi group's publicity chairman, Mrs. Bryce Keck.

There will be prizes offered for the best window display and painting; outdoor lighting; outdoor decorating; and one grand over-all award.

Cosponsoring the contest in a financial way are the Idaho Power Co., the Glenns Ferry Chamber of Commerce and the Glenns Ferry Lions Club. Mrs. James Robertson is chapter chairman of the contest, and the judging will be done during the week between Christmas and New Years.

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN NUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 47-year-old eligible man who is very much interested in a beautiful 26-year-old model. She has two children and her divorce (for which I am paying) is now pending.

you being taken for a ride, you'll be lucky if you aren't killed in the traffic.

I bought her a new car and have spent over $2,000 on clothes for her children in the last 6 months. She says she will marry me when her divorce is final, but in the meantime, I don't see much of her.

DEAR ABBY: I have an uncle who is dying in 10 years. He has made a lot of money during his lifetime and has spent very little of it.

She sees me every Monday night, but on Tuesdays she sees an old-boyfriend she says she is letting down easy. On Wednesdays she has to go out with her boss. On Thursdays she goes out with the girls. On Fridays she stays home and does her laundry and the week-ends she lets her husband come over (against the orders of his lawyer) because he misses the kids.

What I am getting at is this: I know he has a will because the intentions from time to time that he has "changed" it. I don't want to ask any questions of him or the lawyer but how can I find out how much he will leave when he goes?

My friends say I am being taken for a ride. Am I?

DEAR RELATIVE: I can tell you. He will leave it ALL.

LAKE FOREST.

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law (I'll call him "Papa Joe") has been making his home with us ever since my mother-in-law died 2 years ago.

Senate Girds For Struggle Over Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bicentennial Senate battle over making it easier to cut off filibusters is shaping up with proponents claiming almost 50 per cent support.

News Of Record

MINDOCK COUNTY Police Blotter

No citations were issued Friday afternoon following a two-vehicle collision on F Street in Rupert. Truman R. Schuler, 67, Rupert, was backing a 1960 Chevrolet pickup truck from the curb when it collided with a 1966 Ford, driven by Rudolfo Zamora, 28, also Rupert. Damage was estimated at $300 to the Ford.

Richard Paul, 10, Mindock, was cited for failure to yield at a railroad crossing Sunday evening after his 1967 Ford was struck by a Union Pacific Train No. 234, engineered by R. C. Lloyd, 58, Penetola.

Paul was entering the tracks on F Street when the train began to cross from the center area. Damage was estimated at $250 to the Ford.

Ronald Hold, 21, Albion, was cited for failure to keep a vehicle under control Saturday evening after the 1959 Pontiac station wagon he was driving struck a horse owned by Richard Lind, Burley.

The incident occurred on a county road five miles south of Burley at the horse was standing in the road.

Thodore P. Meronk, 50, Rupert, was cited for driving with intoxicated Sunday afternoon after the 1961 Studebaker he was driving collided with a 1967 Chevrolet station wagon driven by Jay Garth Payne, 44, Burley, at the intersection of East Idaho and Main street in Paul.
