BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson has released details of his 1969-70 general fund budget of $302.4 million, which the governor's budget director described as one with "little fat."

The total is about $36.6 million more than the budget for the present biennium, which ends June 30, but $34 million less than the budget requests.

Samuelson said his budget can be financed with existing revenue and by utilizing part of a projected $16.7 million surplus from the current biennium.

James Defenbach, the budget director, said one of the budget recommendations included close up and all will be able to operate on a lean budget.

Including eliminated revenue, special funds and federal grants, total spending proposed for the next biennium adds up to $310,406,403 for the current two-year period.

Highlights of the budget document released Thursday were:

More than two-thirds of the total general fund money goes for education. The proposal for public school spending is $75.25 million, up $15.5 million from the current biennium.

The current recommendations included of $10.2 million less than the recommended by the Board of Education and a $1.9-million increase from the current biennium. $13.1 million for Idaho State University, $2.3 million less than the state board proposal and $1.4 million more than the present biennial budget.

Proposed $20.2 million more than the amount of the state board proposal for Boise College, which became a state institution Jan. 1.

Health and welfare spending proposals account for a major portion of what remains after subtracting education proposals.

The governor's budget calls for salary increases for state and local health proposal and $14.5 million.

Also included in the governor's budget proposal is a building fund program which would call for spending in excess of $15 million. This is not general fund money. Samuelson recommends $9.5 million for construction at various state institutions, plus whatever it takes to finish the new state penitentiary he estimated about $6.5 million for the prison work. A major portion of the $9.5 million would go to keep buildings in better condition, at institutions like higher learning.

The governor's budget calls for salary increases for state and local health proposal and recommendations by the State Personnel Commission. But, Defenbach said, the budget allows for a minimum number of new positions.

One of the largest percentage increases proposed by the governor is an increase in the Department of Administration, which includes the Office of the Budget Director and other divisions concerned with state government housekeeping functions.

Samuelson proposes the department increase by 10 per cent, or $2.2 million, for the current biennium to nearly $7.

million for the coming biennium. One of the agencies recommended for a budget cut is the office of State Treasurer Marjorie Ruth Moon. The reduction from $170,633 to $161,351 is also proposed by Miss Moon, who explained her last budget contained a $14.5 million appropriation for the state treasurer.

Another key feature of the new budget document is its 308 pages compared with 72 for the last executive budget.

This executive budget is the state's first "program budget," which means that spending proposals are detailed by agency and by program.

The new format, Samuelson said, will give legislators a clearer picture of where the money was spent in the past and what programs they should finance for the future.

The budget document was released earlier than usual because legislators will begin work earlier this year. The Joint Finance Appropriations Committee will begin a series of hearings and inspections next week; the week prior to the opening of the session. Previously, the committee had conducted its school and tours of state institutions while the session was underway.

Olmstead Gets State Water Job

BOISE (AP) — Gov. Don Samuelson named Twin Falls cattle rancher Tom Olmstead to the State Water Resources Board today as a replacement for George J. Crookham Jr., of Caldwell, who has been chairman of the board since it was created in 1965.

Crookham, whose term expired Tuesday, learned from the press conference he would not be re-appointed.

"This apparently is a lack of confidence in me so I shall submit my resignation as a member of the Idaho negotiating team on the Columbia Interstate Compact Commission," he said.

Olmstead, 41, has served five years as president of the Idaho State Reclamation Association and from 1966 to 1968 was Idaho director to the National Reclamation Association. He is presently a member of the board of directors of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Irrigation 200,000 acres and is the largest company of its kind in Idaho.

Samuelson announced earlier this week appointment of Joe H. Nettleton of Murphy to the water board succeeding Arie L. Daniels. Both new appointees were named to four-year terms.

Olmstead said Thursday he considers himself a "development man." Development of Idaho water for Idaho uses is the only way to prevent diversion to the southwest, he said.

Olmstead also said he favors regional cooperation among the Northwest States to preserve the area's water.

Lebanon Tells U.S. To Withdraw Fleet

By The Associated Press

The Lebanon government has informed Moscow that Soviet tanks must leave Lebanon and told the U.S. 6th Fleet to keep out, newspapers in Beirut said today. But authorities declined to confirm the reports.

The reports said the government told the Soviet Union that Russian ships could visit Beirut. Moscow asked the Soviet ambassador to take a stand in the Mediterranean, but never visited Lebanon.

The right-wing newspapers Al Nahar and Al Jadid said Premier Abdulla Yafit expressed the view that U.S. Navy ships would be welcome but that the U.S. fleet should not be allowed to enter the Mediterranean.

Robert A. Mahon, chief of Nevada operations for Hughes, said Thursday the necessary papers for approval had been forwarded to the State Department.

Mahon called for an end to "irresponsible statements and actions by any officer of Air West." Although he mentioned no names, the remark seemed like HUGHES, Page 2, Column 2 civilized Pope Paul VI.

Meanwhile, the once quiet Lebanese-Israeli border erupted again in an artillery duel Friday night, and the Big Four powers continued talking about a Soviet proposal for joint peace talks.

Chief Rabbi Yitzhak Nissim, head of Israel's Sephardic community, criticized the Pope in his message to Lebanon expressing sympathy for the loss of 13 communal aircraft downed by the Israeli campaign against Beirut.

At a news conference in Tel Aviv, Eban denounced the Security Council resolution condemning the Israeli raid and suggesting Lebanon is entitled to compensation.

If Israel were wiped out completely by the Arabs, the Security Council "would do and say nothing," Eban declared, referring to the Soviet veto which has blocked every attempt to censure the Arabs.

The Pope, the United Nations of razing the United Nations to "steel, the planes, the money" while ignoring the fact that "hundreds of our people have fallen as victims of Arab violence" over the past two decades.

180 Families Get Christmas Baskets Here

Some 180 needy families in the area received Christmas baskets this year, according to Mrs. Sally Molynaux, YWCA director.

Each year the YWCA acts as the "go-between" for the City and its basket project. All names of families thought to be needy are submitted to them. Mrs. Molynaux said she investigated approximately 230 names this year and made arrangements in neighboring communities for the names submitted from there.

She said about the same number of baskets was prepared as last year. The Christmas boxes are filled with food and household supplies. Turkeys are purchased for the boxes through cash donations.

According to Mrs. Molynaux, the Ellis Club took care of 106 of the 180 baskets and the rest were packed at the YM-YWCA by members of the Y-Teens. CSI students working at the Y and Neighborhood Youth Corps are enrolled, employed at the Y.

The Y-Teens, who handle the deliveries are under the direction of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Molynaux explained that this is a "joint-type of project" where all the community works together. The donations come from churches, civic groups, women's clubs, school groups and from individuals.

Ex-Richfield Man Killed In Seattle

RICHFIELD — Richfield relatives have learned of the tragic death of Ivan Johnson, 70, former Richfield resident, at Seattle Monday afternoon.

Johnson was killed by an unknown assailant and stabbed 22 times. He was found in an alley after the stabbing and died a few hours later in a Seattle hospital from a collapsed lung and pneumonia.

Johnson's car was found with blood on it and it is believed he was killed or attacked in the car.

He is survived by his widow, Hazel Johnson; a step-daughter, two brothers, Aaron Johnson, Auburn, Wash., and Joe Johnson, Sacramento, and a sister, Mrs. Cal Morgan, San Francisco. The Johnsons operated a cafe in Richfield before moving to Washington in the late 1940's.

Students Find 'Miseries' Can Result In Wealth, Fame

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Those who misread the "Miseries United" in the neighborhood grades of School 52, re-birthed for five cents each to much of the world, raise money for a gradual may still be with them, but party.

"We're famous," said one 13-year-old girl as she and her classmate looked forward to the United States and overseas, the telecasters, who amount to 16 countries of the world.

The city's board of education cleared the way Wednesday for several magazines wanted to produce a professional book, book to be called "School Misery." After consultation with city school officials, the eighth-graders and their parents, Mrs. Lopez and Miller agreed to publication and signed a contract with the Christian Corporation, which has formed a corporation whose members include the children's parents.

"School is dropping all our books, so we will have to go to the library and the teacher doesn't believe you."

Mrs. Lopez, 24, and in her third year of teaching, thought the committee would be generous, but had them mimeographed. The youngsters sold

There is no reason not to give. We always ask if someone can't give, just a small amount, whatever it is. A Red Cross blood drawing is set from 2 to 7 p.m. Monday at the Twin Falls American Legion Hall, and an effort is being made to meet the first quota of the year.

The Universe

Ten lunar orbits do not a successful moon landing make, but the brilliant and virtually flawless performance of Apollo 8 and its crew render accomplishment almost a foregone conclusion in 1969.

Thus it is not too early to begin asking, "Where do we go from here in space—if anywhere?"

With the major development work on the Apollo Project completed, Americans have in their national inventory the production and testing facilities and highly skilled personnel representing an investment of some $30 billion. This investment can either be dismantled, as was the nation's investment in aeronautical know-how in the infant days of aviation after World War I, or new goals beyond Apollo can be set for it.

Undoubtedly, when the final chapter is written in the amazing Apollo story, the nation will be in a mood to divert a great part of its current spending on space to needs much closer to home. But it would be false economy, and a misreading of the real purpose of space exploration, to allow the tremendous capabilities that have been built up to deteriorate.

For the moon is not hanging up there in space just to provide a convenient target for Americans and Russians trying to one-up another in technological stunts. Its pull on man's imagination is infinitely greater than its actual gravitational strength.

Although from here, and even from the view of a circling astronaut, it appears to be nothing but a forbidding globe of dust and rock, no man can say what its ultimate value may be, if only as an astronomical observatory or as a laboratory whose unique conditions make possible experiments that cannot be performed on earth.

We ought not to make the mistake of Daniel Webster, who vowed never to vote for the spending of a cent of the public money on the exploration of the "useless" American West.

There remains near-earth space, whose manifold uses we have only begun to appreciate and exploit. A permanent manned space laboratory is a logical post-Apollo goal and one which there is good indication the Russians have set their sights on.

Such a station is also a necessary forerunner to intensive exploration, and possible scientific colonization of the moon. It is simply too costly and wasteful to use gigantic Saturn rockets to send a few men directly to the moon, and unfeasible to supply them this way.

With an earth-orbiting space station, regular shuttle flights to the moon can become a reality. Beyond that, it would be an assembling and stepping-off point for exploration of the nearer planets.

The Apollo project is not yet completed, but it has already opened the door on a vast new realm nothing less than the entire universe. We cannot allow that door to close again, for to do so would be to fail our own dreams.

Job Accidents

Few industrial accidents are as dramatic or as tragic as the recent West Virginia mine disaster, but every day such accidents do take a heavy toll in lives, suffering and economic loss in the U.S.

On an average day 55 Americans lose their lives, 8,500 are permanently disabled and 27,000 are less seriously injured in pursuit of their livelihoods. Measured against the 75 million employed Americans, these statistics may pale into insignificance, but they represent a tremendous cost in human suffering.

In 1967, Labor Department officials estimated the annual cost of industrial accidents—including payments by workers' compensation programs, lost wages, lost production and medical costs—was about $9.5 billion.

Industrial accidents are taking a higher toll than they were a half dozen years ago, although the rate is still considerably lower than it was decades ago. The recent worsening generally is blamed on a greater influx of untrained and in some instances sub-standard personnel into the labor market.

American industry is changing at a greater pace than at any time since the industrial revolution. This creates severe safety problems. But it is not progress when industrial accidents show an upturn in an age which likes to pride itself on safety consciousness.

WASHINGTON — Only hours after William Scranton, President-elect Nixon's envoy to the Middle East, called for an "evenhanded" policy in that explosive area, Mr. Nixon was forced by domestic politics to give a leg up to Israel.

Despite a hard-and-fast policy not to receive any foreign leaders until he became President on Jan. 20, Mr. Nixon invited famed Israeli Gen. Moshe Dayan to come and see him at his temporary headquarters at Manhattan's Pierre Hotel on Dec. 14.

As Israeli defense minister, and the most glamorous figure of the Israeli victory in last year's six-day war, Dayan had as much reason to be granted an interview by Mr. Nixon as anyone else in the Middle East.

The problem, however, was that Mr. Nixon's policy of keeping foreign leaders at arm's length during the transition period had been fully implemented and communicated to several other governments, including at least two in the Middle East area—Iran and Kuwait.

When the Prime Minister of Iran began to plan his trip to the United States last fall, the U.S. Ambassador-in-Iran cabled the State Department, telling it a matter of principle to prevent the Iranian prime minister from being received by the President-elect, either Vice President Humphrey or Mr. Nixon (the election hadn't been held yet).

Immediately after the election, a formal request by the U.S. Ambassador arrived, asking for the meeting with Mr. Nixon. Discreet contacts were made first with Robert Murphy, Mr. Nixon's top troubleshooter, and Robert Murphy, his foreign policy liaison chief with the Johnson administration:

Murphy's answer: under no conditions would President-elect Nixon meet with foreign leaders.

Still, the U.S. Embassy in Iran pressed the State Department to change its line. Once again in the White House, it was pointed out, a formal visit to Washington by a foreign head of state could at best return only marginal dividends—unless the visit could be used as a springboard to establish communications with the new President.

So eager was the State Department to receive the talks that the schedule was fixed to include a trip to Florida, with plenty of empty space, for a run down to Key Biscayne in case the President-elect should change his mind at the last minute and grant an interview.

But Mr. Nixon's mind was fixed—and there would be no excuse for the Prime Minister of Kuwait to go to the Persian Gulf whose treasury now helps Egypt make up for the loss of the Nixon search for peace in the dangerous Middle East.

Radicals Of Little Substance

WASHINGTON (NEA)—American youth, radical left lives by the illusion that they are revolutionaries—their struggle is a revolution. They are not.

These self-styled "revolutionaries" are, in fact, largely playactors filling up their otherwise empty lives with a game they think is important. Recently, it would seem, they have decided to drop out of university studies, hoping to find ferment on the ground to be a "revolution" and is needed in the "movement." The only movement they have earned this way into is the actors' union.

The word from university campuses around the country, including those where strictly racial issues are at stake—is that the influence of the white radicals, almost always overrated and over-dramatized anyway—is fading.

As indicated, reports from campus life in this country have opened. Nur have the more mature liberals turned to the "radical cause" in any significant numbers. The Cleo Negro affair certainly had serious damaging effect on Vice President Humphrey's election prospects, but to the extent that added in the election, the "revolution" was destroyed. The police reaction has been judged excessive, but the word from first sources was that the "revolution" was responding as if it were only threatened seriously. There was no comedy in Chicago. Real revolution is dead in the streets, and the self-deluding "revolutionaries" have yet to show much taste for that.

Comment from students in some schools indicates that many are beginning to realize the comic-opera aspect of their activities.

The defense work done by universities and colleges, as new report shows, is running at just about the same levels as in earlier years, notwithstanding the large number of students and confederations by the radicals in schools from coast to coast.

DEAR ABY: Before I leave, I'd like to send you some papers saying we're not to share in any of his worldly possessions during his lifetime, and would not be entitled to anything should he die.

He signed the major part of his property and assets over to his friends.

In his defense, I should mention that he has never been married before, and he is my third husband, so maybe he is just playing it safe. I married the first time at 15, and that ended in divorce, too. Do you think he really loves me, or is he taking me for a fool?

DEAR WONDERING: Regardless of who you sign off, let your own lawyer and find out how binding it is. A man who would ask his wife to disclose all his worldly possessions during his lifetime, and would leave her unprovided for, should be sued for damages.

Send him a letter, enclosing a copy of the Uniform Act, and if that doesn't work, sue him.

DEAR ABY: The following is from a letter I recently received from an out-of-state relative:

Take a can of pork and beans, add a few juicy wienerettes and a little imagination. Add ham, marshmallows, sliced tomatoes, cheese, onions, or perhaps you wish to combine it with sauerkraut, serve it over a bun or stuff a green pepper. When you eat it with two good basics like beans and wienerettes, you simply can't go wrong. The whole secret is cooking with "imagination" and adding a little seasoning, then taste." But in case you don't have time to let imagination run free this time, try some of the following recipes. We guarantee you will like them.

ITALIAN PORK AND BEANS:

2 cans (1 lb. each) Van Camp's Pork and Beans

1/2 cup Stoltzky's Canned Tomato

Cocktail Sauce

1/2 teaspoon horseradish

1/2 tablespoon brown sugar

1/2 teaspoon black pepper

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 wienerettes, sliced

Parsley

Combine first six ingredients and mix well. Pour into a 1/2 quart casserole. Arrange meat on top of beans. Cover and bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Garnish with parsley.

TOTEN-BEAN MEAL:

1 can (1 lb. 5 oz.) Van Camp's Pork and Beans

4 cups (1 lb.) shredded cheddar cheese

Aluminum foil

On the center of a double thickness of aluminum foil (9 x 12-inches) spoon one-fourth cup bacon.

Pork and Beans—Top with wienerettes and half-a-slice of cheddar cheese. Wrap tightly in foil. Tie securely. Place in a 9x13-inch baking dish. Add water to depth of 1 1/2 inches. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Makes four servings.

DECORATOR'S BEAN SOUP:

3 slices bacon

1/2 cup celery, chopped

1/2 cup onion, chopped

4 wienerettes, sliced

1 can (1 lb. 5 oz.) Van Camp's Pork and Beans

1/2 cup water

2 beef bouillon cubes

1 bay leaf

Dash of cayenne

1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire

1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes

1/2 teaspoon sugar

In a large saucepan, fry bacon until crisp; drain, crumble, and set aside. To the bacon drippings, add celery and onion; saute for 10 minutes. Add bacon and water. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat, add bouillon cubes, and simmer for about 30 minutes. Add 1/2 cup of medium cream. Simmer for about 10 minutes. Makes six generous servings.

To flute wienerettes, cut each wienerette into 3 equal lengths, then stand each length on end and cut 1/4 inch inward toward center to form what looks like 8 pieces of cut pie. Do this to both ends of each wienerette length and as it cooks it will fan out.

MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN:

1/2 cup onions, minced

2 tablespoons bacon drippings

1 can (8 oz.) Stoltzky's Finest Tomato

1/2 teaspoon ground thyme

1/2 teaspoon oregano

1/2 teaspoon sugar

1/2 teaspoon parsley

Prediction Popular This Time Of Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — This is the time of the year when prediction is popular, when peering into the crystal ball is part of the fun of beginning a new year.

It is human nature, if you guess right, you can't help but feel good, and if you are wrong, you can forget the whole thing.

But prediction in the area of television is really quite easy, simply because it really doesn't change much except its external appearance.

The case, for instance, features predicts that within the next 12 months the three television networks will be preoccupied by midwinter into existence of a clutch of half-hour situation comedies about beautiful, bright-eyed sons. After all, the big hit of this season has been "Julia," about a beautiful widow with a bright, cute son.

It is written here that all three networks will try to come up with variations on the theme of "Julia," adding all the claim each variation to be a "bold new concept in television entertainment."

Some network will bravely decide to drop one of those nightly two-hour movie reruns. Good old movies for TV are not among them, and no public, not anyone where near as enamored of the lesser movies as it once was.

The time will probably be filled with two half-hour situation comedies plus a one-hour variety show headed by "a very attractive singer with a Southern accent and a guitar."

A number of one-hour Westerns will be entered in TV's "Boot Hill" come spring while an equal number will be born next September. The heroes will change, but the scripts and the horses will look awfully familiar.

There will be numerous statements from the better broadcast organizations decrying TV's excessive amount of violence. Networks will protest, but they are being extra careful about that sort of thing—long fights and wholesale killings—but the regular viewers won't notice any real difference.

A show with low ratings but tremendous popularity will be canceled immediately, there to be a well-organized protest with letters to the networks and to TV columnists and perhaps even some equally well-organized demonstrations before network heads realize that they may even keep the show on the air—anyway, for a little while.

Established variety shows will try desperately to insert outrageous political commentary and/or provocative pieces into their regular programming in recent into daring areas in hopes of stimulating controversy or at least some publicity.

Approximately half the viewing audience will complain to friends that "whatever I see on TV, they cancel it." The other half will complain that they never ever watch TV, sports and the educational stations, but somehow are able to remember the most recent play turns to "Peyton Place" or the gags of Rowan and Martin.

$9.6 Million Sought For Buildings

BOISE (AP) — A building fund program of $9.6 million plus is needed to complete the new Idaho State Penitentiary, was included Thursday in the budget recommendations of Gov. Don W. Samuelson.

He made public the recommendations he will send to the legislature which convenes Jan. 13.

He estimated it will take about $65 million to complete the new prison on a rural site south of Boise to the extent all penitentiary operations can be moved to it.

The scattered operations now in use have been blamed for the late evening conversation of some of the security personnel in recent into daring areas in hopes of stimulating controversy or at least some publicity.

Plans call for sale of both those properties and Samuelson said revenue thus received could be used for some of the new construction.

The $3.6 million program includes:

State Capitol renovation, $406,500; Boise State College library addition, $2,000,000; Idaho State University, $2,300,000, including $700,000 for nuclear science and engineering lab; $420,000 for a warehouse and technical buildings.

Lewis Clark Normal School, $16,000; State School for Deaf and Blind, $465,349; State Youth Training Center, $144,450; University of Idaho, $2,015,000, including $1,521,000 for addition to agricultural science building and $446,000 for addition to engineering shop and laboratory; Health Department, $261,000.

Including health centers in Coeur d'Alene and Post Falls and $30,000 to add to funds provided earlier for mental health centers in Lewiston and Twin Falls; State Hospital, North, $8,000; State Hospital, South, $8,000; State Hospital and Hospital, $105,000.

Assistant Of Sheppard Quits

ROSEVILLE (AP) — Michael Southcombe, who became Atty. Gen. Alan G. Sheppard's deputy in 1961, has resigned to practice law in Boise.

Southcombe, who was a law partner of Sheppard's, had become an assistant attorney general after Sheppard took office in 1963, is a graduate of the University of Idaho Law School.

He will join the law firm of Shewell & Shewell, which will be sworn in Monday as a state supreme court justice.

Sheppard was elected to the court last year and Gov. Don Samuelson named Robert R. Kellogg attorney general.

Southcombe fell ill the first two years of his second term as attorney general.

News Brought Most Dramatic Moments To Television, Not Show Business

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The most dramatic moments of television in the past month—in show business function but not its news coverage.

Television cameras permitted a nation to share in the tragedy of two assassinations; to react to disturbances on city streets; to see war and fighting men in close-up, and to glory in an adventure that took men around the moon.

It was a year in which most Americans attended, through television, the funeral services of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. We shared the grief outside our homes with the world.

What kind of a year this has been! A year when, for the first time, we saw the President of the United States as he told us he would not seek re-election. And television took us through every step of the complicated and sometimes turbulent process that led to the election of a new president.

The nation and the world are still mourning at the way television permitted us to follow the astronauts in a quarter-million miles into space and back.

There were some, especially happy events on the entertainment side. There was, for instance, that fine adaptation of the stage play "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." Vladimír Horowitz was presented in a glorious hour of music, and we saw Barbra Streisand giving a concert in Central Park. There were many more.

If You've Seen One Rose Parade, You Have Seen Them All—It's Tradition!

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — You might say with a certain degree of truth that if you've seen one Rose Parade, you've seen them all—the slow-moving floats with their millions of flowers, the pretty smiling girls, the proud bands and horses, the ringing of an occasional entry or TV stars in conspicuous spots.

It matters not at all because watching Pasadena's annual Dallas and the Cotton Bowl, NBC to New Orleans and the marathon football viewing (Sugar Bowl).

It has become "established" New York's Day tradition.

The floats themselves seem to have more beauty and more elaborate than ever.

CBS once again had Bess Myerson and Mike Douglas carefully handling the descriptions while who over 40 years had done NBC's Rose Parade commentary so often she can confidently depart from the program notes, had Raymond Burr sharing the assignment.

The University of Southern California's great running star did manage to score a touchdown with an 80-yard run but the afternoon was claimed by Ohio State.

The half-time entertainment by the two universities was excellent and bands performed with the precision of the June Taylor Dancers.

If all those games were not enough, NBC carried the viewers on to Miami for the Orange Bowl.

By that time there must have been 10 million people across the country, which was a shame since it was the most exciting game of the lot with Penn State winning in the last 15 seconds.

Both networks have plenty of practice covering parades and the game of football does uniformly excellent jobs.

From the occasional football viewer, however, comes one complaint: Occasionally a player will be writhing in agony on the field after a play and the cameras will hold up a couple of quiet commercials, returning when the play is about to be resumed. Nobody bothers to inform the vast and concerned audience about the condition of the injured player.

"FULL STEAM AHEAD," seems to be the theme of this photo. The Twin Falls factory, Amalgamated Sugar Co., is in full operation as sugar beets are being processed into sugar. The factory is in operation 24-hours a day to process the record number of sugar beets. Beets from many states are piled up being hauled by truck and rail, to the factory for processing. The current campaign at the factory is expected to continue for another month.

Sugar Control Is Necessary, Says Claiborn

Jack D. Claiborn, State Twin Falls spokesman of the Idaho Beet Growers Association told the Shelley and Bonneville beet growers recently that "Control of sugar production is necessary if there is not to be a market surplus in 1969."

Mr. Claiborn spoke to the two groups at a meeting in Shelley recently. He explained the need for marketing an acreage control. He added that the sugar cane producers, exclusive of Hawaii, Louisiana and Florida, in 1968 produced between 300,000 and 400,000 tons over their quota, and April made an effort to put a resolution through Congress to amend the Sugar Act in a manner which would allow for an increase in the market quota to cover this excess production.

The resolution was opposed by all segments of the sugar industry, Mr. Claiborn added.

Mr. Claiborn said "We knew that we could not allow this without this quota being taken away."

He explained an acreage allotment hearing held in Boise last July, where growers favored an acreage allotment for 1969, because of the increase in production over previous years, which would indicate a producer of at least 300,000 tons.

Major portions of the processing industry opposed this view,

Mr. Claiborn said, adding that

NFO Signs Contract With Idaho Firm

RUPERT—The National Potato Organization has assigned their first supply contract for potatoes to an Idaho firm, according to an announcement by Kyle Robinson, the potato buyer for Idaho and Oregon.

The secretary of agriculture ruled against it for 1969.

"I feel," Mr. Claiborn said, "we should have had these contracts signed earlier. He said that there were only five chartered counties in the organization which had exceeded the quota by such an extent that it is even more necessary now than it was in July."

Mr. Robinson, in making the announcement in Pocatello, said, "We have just signed and ratified the first NFO potato supply contract which will reflect sizable increases for produce over the present market."

The contract was signed with an Idaho Potato Fresh packing firm.

Earlier last week, on a local radio station panel show, D. Hansen, chairman of the potato committee for the National Potato Organization—gave some of the first hints as to the number of NFO members in the state. He said there are over 5,000 members which represent about 70 per cent of the total agricultural production. He said that there were only five chartered counties in the organization which had exceeded the quota by such an extent that it is even more necessary now than it was in July."

Indians Gain Training In New Program

MISSOULA, Mont. — Eight Indians representing reservations in Montana, Idaho and Wyoming are receiving training in the Indian Consortium Program at the University of Montana (UM), Missoula, to enable them to meet their respective tribal and reservation needs more effectively.

Two trainees are participating in a similar program at Eastern Montana College, Billings.

The program is a part of the Indian Community Action Program (ICAP), Office of Economic Opportunity, with the University in Missoula acting as the grantee agency, according to Dr. John Hall, UM's coordinator of extension services to tribes and continuing education at UM.

Dr. Hall said the program is funded in the areas of technical assistance, services and training, and Head Start.

Trainees enrolled at UM are taking college courses working in an area of development projects and are providing technical assistance services to reservation residents in their areas of specialization.

George W. Thompson Jr., Wolf Point, Mont., one of the UM trainees, said the consortium goal is to provide opportunities to expand and develop services to Indians through tribal governments and community action agencies (CAA).

The ICAP at the University in Missoula provides technical assistance to the Indian populations of the state area. Ten reservations are represented in the overall program at this time.

Training sessions provide technical assistance and training services to enable Indian tribes to take advantage of opportunities including federal-state programs, tribal self-help, reproductive social economic and cultural objectives.

Sessions provide educational opportunities for ICAP personnel in reaching those goals.

Areas of interest and Indian representatives participating in the program include:

Community Action Project (CAP) Management — King, Kuna, Blackfeet Tribe, Blackfeet Reservation, Browning, Mont.; Roy Small; Cree Tribe, ROCKY Boy's Reservation, Box Elder, Mont.

Industrial Development — George Washington, Custer, Shoshone Tribe, Fort Peck Reservation, Wolf Point, Mont.; Thomas M. Plouffe, Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes, St. Ignatius, Mont.

Head Start Program — Louis Hendry, Arapahoe, Fort Belknap, Crow, Assiniboin, Lakota, Piegan, Wyo.; Mrs. Lucille McAdams, Shoshone Tribe, Wind River Reservation, Fort Washakie, Wyo.

Trainees participating in a similar program at EMC are Miss Kay Branch, Gros Ventre Tribe, Big Horn Reservation, Harlan, Mont., who is specializing in CAP Management and Winslow-White-Crane, Northern Cheyenne Tribe, Northern Cheyenne Reservation, Jamie Deer, Mont., who is concentrating on the housing and manpower aspects of the program.

Dramatic Break With Tradition Is Contemplated By Lutheran Leaders

NEW YORK (AP) — A dra-

Vikings Set To Battle Dallas Sunday

AP Wirephoto

Grant said Thursday he'll be surprised if his Minnesota Vikings don't play well Sunday against Dallas in the National Football Conference's "Roughhouse" in the Orange Bowl.

The 43-year-old Grant rejected a popular conception that the players are flat for this annual game between the second place teams of the Eastern and Western Conferences of the NFL.

"I know we're not going to be flat and I think Tom Landry (Dallas coach) feels the same way," Grant said. "This is a football game." Grant said, "There's too many bright birds among the players to let themselves go down."

Grant, in his second year as Viking coach, directed his squad to the Central Division title, but lost the Western Conference Championship game to Baltimore, 24-14, at Lambeau field the following night.

Montana head coach Bob Cope blamed cold shooting for his team's double loss in the Las Vegas Invitational tournament last week.

The Grizzlies fired only 35 and 38 per cent from the field in the two games.

Iowa State's Bengals are ahead in their series with Arizona, 3-1, but face a team that is rebounding from a 11-3 mark last year in the tough Western Athletic Conference.

The Boise State game is the opener of a five-game home stand for the Weber Wildcats, and new head coach Phil Johnson is not taking the Boise quite lightly.

Johnson, although his beginning senior college action this year could prove to be tougher than expected, coach Murray Sauer's field team has as much height as any Weber foe so far this season.

Balanced scoring and rebounding plus strong defensive play have been the trademarks of Weber's defense.

Weber is averaging 81.8 points per game and allowing opponents just 65.6 points per contest.

Idaho's record is not impressive, but it is pointed out that the five losses have been at the hands of the Wildcat for the Wildcats.

Results of the matches Filer men listed first, include 98 pounds, Meyer pinned Price; 100 pounds, Filer forced Spradling; 112 pounds, Ryals pinned Whiteford; 120 pounds, Alford pinned Johnson; 126 pounds, Ochene was decided by Deckard; 130 pounds, Lassen was decided by Robertson; 141 pounds, Kloua decided Eife; 148 pounds, Meyer was decided by Deckard; 167 pounds, Eife pinned Lassen; 180 pounds, Eife pinned Ryno; 188 pounds, Filer pinned Daffy; and 191 pounds, Filer defeated in Nicholason, and heavyweight, Orbeli pinned Shamus.

steps into Wildcat fair Friday hands of such major schools as Washington, Oregon, Seattle University and Washington.

Then comes the nation's 12th ranked team, New Mexico State, Saturday in Los Cruces. Up a 27-16 record against non-conference opponents so far this season with conference competition still a week away.

Max Baer Is Elected To Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Maxie Baer, the handsome California playboy-fighter who won the heavyweight crown in his first championship fight in his first defense, has been elected to boxing's Hall of Fame.

Baer, who died at the age of 40 in 1959, was the choice among the modern fighters announced Thursday.

Also selected by special committee were Muhammad Ali, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, the former light-heavyweight champion for the old-timers and Jacob Hyer, "champion of the American heavyweight title in 1916, for the pioneer group.

There were 392 ballots from members of the sportswriters around the world in the modern class. Eligible were fighters who had been active during the previous 35 years and who had been in retirement for at least two years.

After a strapping, 6-foot-2, 220-pounder, Baer had a lightning punch, a zest for living and a distaste for training, gained his shot at the title by knocking out Max Schmeling, in the 10th round, 1933.

A year later he won the title by stopping champion Primo Carnera in the 10th round. Carnera was floored 11 times in the bout.

A day less than a year later, in his first defense, Baer lost the crown to James J. Braddock, one of the great upsets of all time.

Braddock, who had once quit the ring, was 30 when he won the title, on a 15-round decision.

The Boise State game is the opener of a five-game home stand for the Weber Wildcats, and new head coach Phil Johnson is not taking the Boise quite lightly.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Ten-ranked Cincinnati pinned its 15th consecutive victim, Weber State, the Filer Wildcats, 23-23 Thursday night in a wrestling match.

What Does Namath Do For Jets? Never Has One Man Meant More To A Team

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEW YORK (NEA) — Not only rights, but also money, are at stake in the battle for control of the Philadelphia Eagles, a world professional football championship in 1960 has an artist of such dynamic thrust as Joe Namath meant so much to his team.

You say John Unitas? The Pittsburgh Steelers have won championships since 1958, besides they always had man-to-man defense, and still do, an "adjective" to the skills of Johnny U., and they didn't even need Unitas to win this year.

But the New York Jets, Don Maynard's "incredible" offense, the Super Bowl in Miami are an complete team — just as the Eagles weren't in 1960.

These Jets have an erratic running attack. Their defense soft in the secondary and fearless in scrapping, scrapping and the collective, sealing position that you usually expect. In a winner,

The Jets have Nanth, sleek, pretty, spectacular Joe Willie, a great arm, an intuitive fluid for the big play, and even the ability to execute that produces up-and-down swells in his formidably fast and mean for a most suspenseful theater every time he plays.

Joe Namath is the story of the Super Bowl this year, because any chumps the Jets have of winning are as securely wrapped around him as those tight layers of bandage on his burlap knees. Just as Joe was

Max Baer Is

Elected To

Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Maxie

Baer, the handsome California

playboy-fighter who won the heavyweight crown in his first defense, has been elected to boxing's Hall of Fame.

Baer, who died at the age of 40 in 1959, was the choice among the modern fighters announced

Thursday.

Also selected by special committee were Muhammad Ali,

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, the former light-heavyweight champion for the old-timers and Jacob Hyer,

"champion of the American heavyweight title in 1916, for the pioneer group.

There were 392 ballots from members of the sportswriters around the world in the modern class. Eligible were fighters who had been active during the previous 35 years and who had been in retirement for at least two years.

After a strapping, 6-foot-2, 220

pounds, Baer had a lightning punch, a zest for living and a distaste for training, gained his shot at the title by knocking out

Max Schmeling, in the 10th round, 1933.

A year later he won the title

by stopping champion Primo

Carnera in the 10th round.

Carnera was floored 11 times in the bout.

The Grizzlies fired only 35 and 38 per cent from the field in the two games.

Musial Tops List Of New Men To Be Eligible For Hall Of Fame Nomination

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Musial, 51, has been active with the former St. Louis Cardinals in the last 20 years but inactive for at least five.

Writers, who have been members of the association for at least 10 years vote in the election now being conducted by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Musial, who retired after the 1963 season, is eligible under the ground rules that require a Jan. 21.

Underclassmen Stole Spotlight In Bowls

NEW YORK (AP) — Rex Korn, Charlie Pittman, Cotton Speyer and Chuck Dicus, some of the stars of Bowl Day—1963, the starting team—were not among the stars why Ohio State, Penn State, Texas and 11 other Arkansas could be back for the starting 22, defeated Southern California, which had 14 underclassmen.

Korn, Speyer and Dicus are sophomores and Pittman is a junior. All help point up an interesting aspect of Wednesday's bowl game.

The Trojan All-American ran 18 yards for a touchdown and gained 171 yards over all on 28 carries, but Korn quarterbacked Ohio State to the 26-10 victory, bringing the Buckeyes from a deficit with his passing, running and an around-the-corner run.

The big star of Penn State's 15-14 victory over Kansas was senior Bob Campbell, but Pittman, junior, gained 61 yards on 14 carries and scored the team's first touchdown.

Texans' 26-13 winner over Tennessee got its two biggest plays from sophomore Speyer and junior Jim Street, with Street throwing and Speyer catching, they combined for two touchdowns covering 78 and 79 yards.

Arkansas' altitude-15 underclassmen, three juniors and six sophomores. The big man in the attack was Dicus, who was named the outstanding player in the Razorbacks' 16-2 victory over Georgia after catching 12 passes for 169 yards and one touchdown.

Delayed Bout Made Part Of Twin Bill

NEW YORK (AP) — The postponed Emile Griffith-Bob Baird middleweight bout will be put on as part of a doubleheader with the Buster Mathis-Gorge Chuvalo heavyweight 12-round at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 3.

Harry Markson, the Garden's general manager, made the announcement Thursday.

Griffith, the former welterweight and middleweight champion, now ranked second, and the sixth-ranked Baird of Akron, Ohio, were to have met this week but the 10-rounders had to be put back when Griffith was stricken with the flu several weeks ago.

OKAYS PURCHASE — BOSTON (AP) — Shareholders of Eastern Racing Association, Inc., operators of the track, Dennis, approved Thursday the Boston race track by Reilly Equities Corp. of New York.

Reeves May Rehire Fired Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Dan Reeves has agreed to bring back George Allen back as head coach of the National Football League club.

That was the speculation Thursday, a week after Reeves unexpectedly fired Allen on Dec. 26.

Editor Bud Furlough of the Los Angeles Herald Examiner wrote that he had learned Reeves was willing to take Allen back. The Times said it had learned from a "responsible source" that Allen may be hired.

Reeves was not available and a Rams spokesman said the club had no comment on the reports.

After 39 Years, 800 Victories, Rupp Still Reigns As King In Kentucky

LEXINGTON, KY (NEA) — The chair is not so much as chairs go—a stiff thing covered with brown leather—but compared with the gray steel folding seats surrounding Memorial Coliseum's floor, it is a little like the throne.

The throne belongs to the king. The king is Adolph Rupp. Few people have ever seen Rupp's throne, for it is placed at midcourt by a trekked student manager only during University of Kentucky basketball practices. And Kentucky basketball practices are closed.

Adolph Frederick Rupp, "The Kentucky," means as much to Kentuckians as the smell of burley tobacco or the rumble of horse hoofs in the background of Churchill Downs. Now, in his 30th season, Rupp's team has won nearly 800 games and four NCAA championships.

The Wildcat "prince" has been elated for several years now. Powers that be, to the secret factors. Maybe, the Baron doesn't want his players' attention diverted by strangers. Maybe Rupp is concocting surprise plays. Then maybe, they say, it's just Adolph's way.

Adolph's way. In recent years, there has been no other way as far as Kentucky basketball ball is concerned. Rupp runs things like he runs his practices.

The team files onto the floor dressed in practice clothes. Rupp, tall and swishing, walks across the floor, basketball in hand.

Across the floor, long-time assistant coach Harry Lancaster stands like Rupp, with radio station for post game in-players who have been out of action for more than 20 years drop into the veteran category supervised by a special Veterans' Committee of the Hall of Fame, which includes, in addition to Musial, who led the National League in lifetime hits and had more hits than any other player except Ty Cobb, the other new eligibles are Early Wynn, a 300-game-winning pitcher; Gil Hodges, former first baseman and manager of the New York Mets; Red Schoendienst, Musial's former roommate and Cardinal second baseman who now is manager of the Cards; and Vic Wertz, former American League slugging first baseman.

For election it is necessary for a player to receive 75 percent of the votes cast.

Two Girls To Get Jockey Licenses

MIAMI (AP) — Two 18-year-old Miami girls who work as exercise riders are expected to get Circuit Court Judge James E. Shultz to issue them racing licenses next week, one of them by court order.

Judge Jack Falk ordered the commission to show cause in Circuit Court Jan. 14 why a license should not be issued to Barbara Jo Rubin of suburban Isis Christian Conspicuous of the Homestead area also filed application for a jockey license but not a party to the Rubin suit.

The commission will consider both applications at its meeting Jan. 10.

If licensed and permitted to ride, the girls will be the first to compete against men jockeys on a major track in the U.S. according to racing authorities.

Texas' 26-13 winner over Tennessee got its two biggest plays from sophomore Speyer and junior Jim Street, with Street throwing and Speyer catching, they combined for two touchdowns covering 78 and 79 yards.

Arkansas' altitude-15 underclassmen, three juniors and six sophomores. The big man in the attack was Dicus, who was named the outstanding player in the Razorbacks' 16-2 victory over Georgia after catching 12 passes for 169 yards and one touchdown.

Stanford Has New Rule On Race Issue

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Stanford University teams will not compete against schools which practice racial discrimination, President Kenneth B. Pitzer said Thursday.

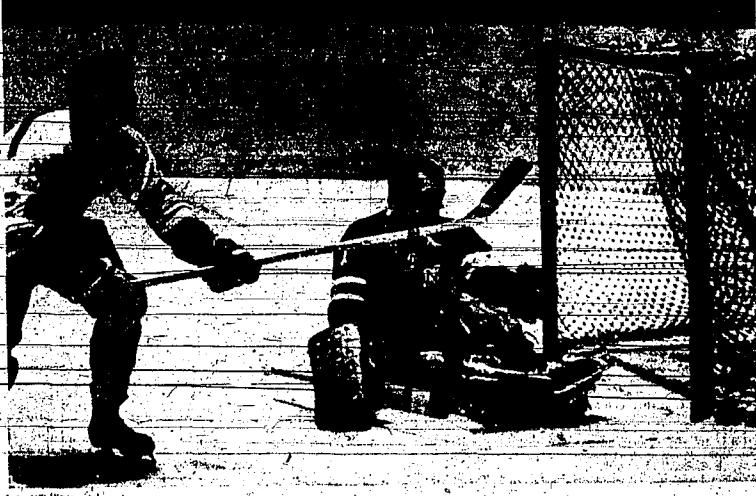

"Stanford expects to honor its current non-discriminatory commitments but the university also has an obligation to the black community and others to re-examine how future scheduling of athletic events can be carried out without offending our educational opportunity," he said.

The president's announcement followed discussions with John Powell and Nathaniel Kirtman of the Black Students Union.

SOCIAL FANS INJURED

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Twenty-one soccer fans were hospitalized Thursday after a headband collapsed at the end of the game between the Glasgow Rangers and Glasgow Celtic at Ibrox Stadium.

Chairman Andretti—who came in second on the championship circuit was the club's third place money winner with $109,102. He

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

WORST HAND IN TWO YEARS

Today's hand would qualify as the worst hand of 1968 except for one thing. It was played for fun.

West opened the king of spades against the three no-trump contract. East played the three and South the ace. South

All this doesn't seem to be enough to qualify as the worst of a year. Lots of people fail to set three no-trump contracts. The really bad feature did not come out until later on when the players looked over the scores.

The game was match point duplicate and not a top score for making three no-trump, but they would have the same top score for going down two tricks at three no-trump. What they could still have a top if they had gone down two tricks doubled.

It seems that the next best North-South score was minus 700. North had opened his singleton trump against four spades doubled. South had made his second trump to hold West to his contract. At all other tables the contract was four or five spades doubled and a heart was opened, whereupon West would take 11 tricks to score either 900 or 850 depending on whether he was doubled at four or five.

South had the 10 of diamonds and went with dummy's ace when West showed out. There was no point losing more than necessary so South cashed his five hearts and led the jack of clubs. West rose with the ace and returned a club, whereupon South made his contract instead of going down two.

While East and West were fighting about their failure to take their six top tricks, North tried to pour oil on troubled waters by pointing out that West had been the last man and that maybe South should have found some way to show his good five card heart suit.

She Brought Excitement

Miss 1968 Ends First Year

The fast-moving year 1968 has come to a close for Miss 1968, Lori Ann Hamburger—born at 12:45 a.m. Jan. 2, 1968, was first baby to be born in Twin Falls in 1968.

During the past year, Lori has learned to walk, talk and has been busy cutting teeth. She has four now. They came in when she was 6 1/2 months old. Her first words, spoken when she was eight months old, were "mama" and "daddy." They have increased to the point now, where she has quite a good vocabulary. She started to walk when she was 10 months, and since that time her mother has had a hard time keeping her out of things she isn't supposed to get into.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gil Hamburger, 171 Moreland, said they have enjoyed Lori a great deal. One thing for sure, said Mrs. Hamburger, "she has brought a lot of excitement."

Lori has two older brothers, Shaw, 3, and Ted, 5 years old. According to her older brother, little Lori seems to enjoy giving the ones she likes best. He further said he didn't want any children after he was married, unless they were just like Lori.

Apparently Lori has adjusted to her new family life very well. She keeps busy at all times, she is a real "go-getter," according to her mother. She has taken a liking to the television, and whenever there is any music she dances for the family.

"The blonde-haired, blue-eyed girl has added a great deal to our family," said Mrs. Hamburger, "and we are very happy to have her."
