Livestock Hall Of Fame Will Honor 5 Prominent Men

Five prominent Magic Valley livestock men — two cattlemen, two sheepmen and a cattle-buyer — will soon be named by the Southern Idaho Agricultural Livestock Industry Hall of Fame.

According to Earl Stansell, director of the Hall of Fame, the five men will be honored for their outstanding work in the livestock industry at the annual Hall of Fame Banquet, set for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 17 in the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

The five men to be honored include Noy Brackett, Hagerman and Tom Callen Sr., sheepmen; both cattlemen, Mauricio Guerry Sr., Buhl; and Wilbur Wilson, Rogerson, sheepmen, and Albert Higley, Paul, cattle buyer.

Master of ceremonies of the banquet will be Gene Hull, vice president of Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. The invocation will be given by Rev. John Garbrandt, Jerome United Methodist Church.

Mr. Brackett, who will be introduced at the banquet by Ivan Skinner, Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., has lived in Southern Idaho all his life. He was born in Twin Falls and was raised

Chafee Named Chief Of Navy Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense-designate Melvin Laird today named John H. Chafee to be secretary of the Navy and Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor Roger C. Seamans Jr. to be secretary of the Air Force.

In a surprise appointment, Stanley R. Resor was nominated to stay on as secretary of the Army.

The nominations must be confirmed by the Senate.

All three men appeared before senators at a news conference held by Laird.

It was the second round of high-level defense appointments made by the new defense chief for the Nixon administration.

Earlier Laird had selected David Packard, multimillionaire head of a California electronics firm, to be his No. 2 man in the Defense Department as deputy secretary.

Chafee, 46, leaves office as governor of Rhode Island Tuesday. He succeeds Paul R. Ignat

Wallace Ballot Disputed

Electoral Vote Challenge Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Challengers moved today to nullify a North Carolina presidential electoral vote cast for George C. Wallace in ceremonies officially declaring Richard M. Nixon the next president.

Sen. Edwin S. Muskie, D-Maine, said he and Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., will make an effort to have the wayward "Third" might complicate election in order to take the vote from Wallace. If they do, less than the full electoral vote could be recorded for, possibly the first time in history.

Formal declaration of Republican Nixon as President-elect after the vote canvass was rejected in joint meeting and completed was a foregone conclusion. So was declaration of Spiro T. Agnew as vice president-elect.

He said he expects the House to follow a similar procedure on the official vote canvass can be completed today.

Lucky Find

EAST PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Linda Aurie, 11, was walking with her brother and two other youngsters Sunday when she spotted an envelope. She picked it up and found it contained $1,600 cash and a check for $810.

She, her brother, Robert, 10, Robin Vaughan, 13, and his brother, Randy, 11, promptly took the money to a nearby police station.

Police were able to locate the owner of the money, Jess Chewing, who rewarded the children with $2 each.

Chewing said he had left the money in a paper bag on the hood of his car as he drove away from a radio and TV store he owns.

Monday afternoon the 20-member group, headed by Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, and Rep. J. L. Palmer, R-Malden, co-chairmen of the joint committee, was scheduled to visit College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls and to confer with local school district officials.

Ed Reay, superintendent of the State School, said the legislators toured facilities and reviewed the budget for the school. After eating lunch there, they went to Tuberculosis hospital where they also inspected facilities.

The budget request for the coming biennium is $1,545,831, compared to $1,330,000 in the last two years. Jay Williamson, health-business administrator, explained the increased costs of outpatient treatment and also salary increases under the merit system.

However, Mr. Williamson pointed out $50,000 will be deducted from this budget as $25,367 — in St. Anthony and a school trustees meeting in Idaho Falls. The lawmakers then travel by national guard transport plane to Lewiston.

There they plan to visit the Lewiston Children's Home and Lewis Clark Normal School.

The tour, the first in history to be held before the start of the legislature's regular session, which begins next Monday, gives legislators opportunity to see what the institutions are asking for and why, Mr. Williamson added.

Tuesday's schedule takes lawmakers to Lava Hot Springs, where the state operates a resort that gets no general fund money but has a state-supervised biennial budget placed in the state treasury.

Another Tuesday visit will be with school trustees and superintendents in Arion. Then lawmakers will inspect Idaho State University, where the appropriation for which was recommended at $13,107,360 — in Pocatello later in the day.

Wednesday's schedule calls for visits to State Hospital South — $3,289,578 — in Blackfoot, the Youth Training Center — $1,578,367 — in St. Anthony and a school trustees meeting in Idaho Falls. The lawmakers then travel by national guard transport plane to Lewiston.

There they plan to visit the Lewiston Children's Home and Lewis Clark Normal School.

Reds Kill Saigon Official

SALGON (AP) — Education Minister Le Minh Tri died in a hospital today, victim of the terror attack against a major South Vietnamese political figure in more than a year.

A downturn by a grenade explosion that demolished his car on the highway led to his death.

Across the country, the Viet Cong and North Communists generally avoided battle, as they have done for several months.

Tri was an American-trained physician who had held his Cabinet post only about three months.

His driver was killed instantly and two bodyguards and a passerby were wounded by the blast, the most spectacular incident of his kind in Saigon since the enemy's Tet offensive last winter.

A government spokesman said the attack was "an act of terrorism by the Communists."

The bomb was reported fashioned from a U.S. M28 grenade fortified with plastic explosive.

Tri was shot at a traffic light by two youths, who then escaped on a motorcycle.

Tri had studied at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

Directing the Education Ministry is considered one of the nation's most difficult jobs. Many students are Viet Cong activists or sympathizers.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported more than 100 clashes, arms fights, air strikes and light shelling. Fifty to 100 large-scale allied sweeping operations were under way.

Hayakawa said the picketing American Federation of Teachers local does not have strike sanction.

The union, which represents 350 of the 1,300 teachers at the school, voted immediate strike action Sunday night in support of its demands for union recognition, higher wages, a voice in administrative procedures, and removal of police from the campus.

The college ended its three-week holiday recess with members of the teachers union joining student strikers.

Gov. Ronald Reagan threatened to use bayonets if necessary to protect classroom operations for the vast majority of students and faculty not striking.

As classes resumed today, some picket students teachers were picked at students' arms as they walked onto the campus and implored them to leave.

"Stay out, Don't scab for Reagan," they yelled. "Don't be a Reagan lover."

Hayakawa announced a set of rules Saturday which place a ban on all rallies in the central campus area—the striking area for demonstrators by student strikers during two weeks of almost daily violence in early December.

GOODING—The State School for the Deaf and Blind and the State Tuberculosis hospital here were the first stops Monday as the Idaho Legislature's Finance Appropriations committee began its tour of state institutions.

Nixon Names 'Hard-Line' Negotiator

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon, without stating his own views on Vietnam peace talks, has named as his chief Paris negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge, who has a reputation for taking a hard-line view of the war.

Lodge, 66 and twice ambassador to Saigon, will head an all-star negotiating team that by its makeup, leaves in question Nixon's own policy attitude toward the peace efforts in Paris.

During two Salton tours, Lodge generally mirrored the shifting but usually optimistic appraisals of the Johnson administration.

Summary, Extended Outlook

A warm ridge of high pressure is continuing to dominate the plateau area including Southern Idaho and East-Central Oregon. This is expected to block storm activity from the agricultural valleys of Oregon and Idaho. East-Central Oregon at least through Tuesday morning, but some rain is possible by late Tuesday. Weak Pacific disturbances passing by to the north may sag into this area and produce a little light rain or snow Tuesday night or Wednesday. Some sunshine and mild temperatures are expected for Tuesday in all of Southern Idaho and East-Central Oregon. Valley fog near the Oregon border is burning out, but will return again tonight.

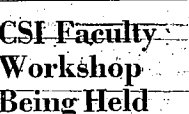

Increasing southerly to westerly winds will continue the warming trend by bringing more warm air from overhead down to the surface. High temperatures today and Tuesday will range in the 30s and the lower 40s in the Eastern Idaho valleys and in the 40s and lower 50s in the Snake Valley, Idaho, and Malheur valleys. Lows tonight will be mostly in the 20s and the 30s.

Yesterday was partly cloudy to cloudy over Southern Idaho and East-Central Oregon. A light rain or drizzle was reported at times but moisture amounts were generally too light to be measurable. However, some measurable amounts of rain fell at Penelton, Levi's and Grandville.

High temperatures in the agricultural valleys were mostly in the 40s but ranged from 35 at Ontario to 53 at Mountain Home and Castleford. Lows this morning ranged from 22 at Malad to 30 at Pocatello. Areas of dense fog formed again during the night in the lower Malheur and Southwestern Idaho valleys but the morning dissipated during the morning hours.

During the next five days, low pressure will again move into the valley states by the end of the week. Therefore, the extended outlook for the valleys of Southern Idaho and East-Central Oregon calls for temperatures to average near normal but with a cooling trend after midweek. Precipitation should average above normal beginning as peaking snow about Thursday. Normal high and low temperatures for this period are Boise 36 and 22; Pocatello, 32 and 13; Gooding, 34 and 18; Burley, 35 and 18; Idaho Falls, 38 and 11, and Twin Falls, 32 and 13.

Burley Stake Confab Set

BURLEY — Elder Bruce R. Conkley, member of the First Council of Seventy of the LDS Church, will speak at the Burley Stake conference Jan. 18 and 19.

A former attorney, Army security and intelligence officer and newspaper editorial writer and official, Elder Conkley was appointed to the church's missionary council in 1946 and now directs the spiritual guidance program for LDS men and women in the Armed Forces.

He also is the author and editor of several LDS church books. Stake President Leon Williams, 114 Overland Ave., reports visitors are well come to the general sessions at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Jan. 18.

Marmes Site Is Closed To Public

MARME'S ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITE, Wash. (AP) — The Marmes archaeological site in southeastern Washington is closed to the public for an indefinite period, a Washington State university official said Sunday.

Weather damage to the main access road made it necessary to prohibit traffic entirely while construction proceeds on a byway which will protect the area from flooding backwaters of the lower "Monumental Dam," WSU spokesman said.

Young Man Fined After Disturbance

John Strickland, 21, Klamath Falls, pleaded guilty Monday morning in Twin Falls Police Court to charges of disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and violation of city ordinance.

Mr. Strickland was arrested by Judge Harry Turner. Police Chief Frank Barnett said Mr. Strickland was arrested for disturbing the peace after officers received a call that a disturbance was being held at the midnight Sunday at the Black Light Club Bar.

The chief said that after Mr. Strickland was taken to the station he started a fight with officers, and after he was placed in the cell block he broke a window.

Israelis Focus Confer On Conflict

By The Associated Press

Jerusalem and Israeli officials focus on the Arab-Israeli conflict during a meeting of Arab-Israeli officials here, officials here said Sunday.

The Lebanese government said the meetings were held at the border "within the scope of a mixed armistice commission and under the supervision of United Nations observers."

Questions discussed at these meetings concerned the inventory of arms and the charges that the Israelis are violating the terms of the 1948 armistice agreement, the Beirut government said.

Lebanese leaders have claimed repeatedly that the Israelis are using their control of the border to smuggle arms into the area. The Israelis have denied the charges, but a United Nations observer said the Israelis are not denying the charges.

Israelis meanwhile rejected a Soviet offer of a six-day East-West peace sponsored by the Big Four. King Hussein of Jordan and the Egyptian press welcomed the offer, but the Soviet press said it was "immediate, decisive" effort is needed to stave off another war.

Trial Of Sirhan To Start Tuesday Under Guard

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, a 24-year-old Jordanian charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was to start his trial Tuesday in a heavily guarded courtroom where windows have been reinforced with steel as a security measure.

Sirhan, dark and slight, is accused of shooting Kennedy in a parking lot in Los Angeles on the afternoon of the New York Democratic proclaimed victory in California's presidential primary.

The trial is to last more than two months. Both the defense and the prosecution estimate nearly 200 witnesses may be called.

Because the small courtroom in the Los Angeles Hall of Justice can accommodate only 75 spectators, accredited newsmen will view a videotaped recording of the proceedings in a room four floors below.

The trial is to start at 10 a.m. Tuesday and will last a month, Mary, and two brothers in Los Angeles are plan to attend the trial. The father is staying near Jerusalem.

Mr. Wilson, who has about 5,500 ewes and 1,500 ewe lambs, owns 1,380 irrigated acres near Hammett. He also has 10,000 acres of "range land" for his sheep.

Mr. Wilson has been in the sheep industry for many years. He has been president of the Idaho Wool Growers Association from 1958 through 1961. He also is a past board member of the King Hill Irrigation District.

Mr. Wilson, who got started buying cattle when he was 15 years of age, will be introduced by Ott Florence Jr. Mr. Hildebrand is president of the Utah and California for some 20 years, as well as for various feeders.

'Middle-Of-Road' Congress Convenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 10th Congress convenes today in a meeting to certify Richard M. Nixon as President-elect and debate a rare challenge to the Electoral College system. The house hoped to take up proposed pay raises for congressmen, cabinet members and the president.

Among the Senate's first order of business are pre-inauguration hearings on Nixon's Cabinet nominees and the attempt to make filibusters easier to cut off.

Senate Democratic leaders plan early work on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty held over from the last session, although they appeared little hope for ratification before President Johnson leaves office Jan. 20.

Along with its first deliberation on legislative proposals this week, Congress takes up the workday business of making committee assignments and filling party organization vacancies.

Senate Republicans, expecting increased committee assignments to reflect their gains in November elections, began setting up a GOP committee in party caucus to shift their candidates for committee posts.

But Chairman W. Fulbright, D-Ark., wants to cut the size of his key 10-member Foreign Relations Committee and efforts are under way to trim back the 26-member Senate Appropriations Committee as well.

Prospects that the 91st Congress would see a period of reassignment following years of innovative social legislation, reminiscent of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration, was seen Sunday by three ranking congressional figures.

Senate Democratic leader Conrad R. Ford said he believes the 91st Congress will be more middle of the road than the 90th — and one that will respond to what he called Nixon's broad range of domestic and foreign programs.

House Republican leader Carl Albert, R-Mont., said he believes the 91st Congress will be more middle of the road than the 90th — and one that will respond to what he called Nixon's broad range of domestic and foreign programs.

signaled these other choices for the Paris delegation.

Lawrence E. Walsh, 57, a Manhattan attorney, will be a district judge before serving as deputy attorney general in the Eisenhower administration under Secretary of State-designate William P. Rogers.

Career diplomat Marshall Green, 52, will be detached from his duties as ambassador to Indonesia to give additional support to the negotiating team.

Philip Habib, 48, another career foreign-service officer who served with Lodge in Saigon, will remain a member of the U.S. delegation.

As indicated earlier, deputy negotiator Cyrus Vance, a Johnson friend and appointee, has agreed to remain in Paris for about a month after Jan. 20 as a liaison between the negotiators.

Lodge will leave his present post as ambassador to West Germany to assume his new assignment.

Nixon's vice presidential running mate in 1968, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, will be brought back into public life by the late President John F. Kennedy in 1963. Trying to put a Republican label on Vietnam policy, even then a problem, Kennedy made Lodge ambassador to Saigon.

Lodge remained in South Vietnam until the following year, when he returned home and a year later was named to the post of ambassador to West Germany.

LBJ Ponders 'State' Talk For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Democratic congressional leaders conferred for an hour today without reaching any decision on when the President would deliver his State of the Union message to Congress.

The leaders, a White House official said, asked the President to deliver in person the state of the Union message which looks back over the past year and takes a glance at the future. Mr. Johnson told reporters he did not know whether he would deliver the message personally or send it to Capitol Hill to be read.

He said he planned additional meetings and chats with Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill today and Tuesday and perhaps decisions would emerge from these on timing of the State of the Union, budget and economic messages.

He said the outlook is for a small budget surplus for the current fiscal year. He gave no word on the shape of the new budget he will submit this month.

Rostow Sees 'Building A New Asia' As Major Problem Facing Nixon

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has opened a "future of independence" for the nations of Asia and the possibility of some new relationship with Red China because of its role in Vietnam, says presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow.

Rostow says Vietnam peace-making and "building the new Asia" among the major problems of the incoming Nixon administration.

Other top foreign-policy problems for the foreseeable future include, in his view, stabilizing the war-racked Middle East, negotiating nuclear weapons limitations with Russia and finding a solution for the racial conflict in Africa.

An economist and former college professor, Rostow has worked in the top levels of government since the first days of the Kennedy administration eight years ago. For three years he has served President Johnson as special assistant for international security affairs, earning the sobriquet of "resident White House hawk." Before that he headed the State Department's policy planning staff.

He is leaving government as a determined defender of U.S. intervention in Vietnam, and an advocate of strong powers for a President to act as necessary in foreign crises, even without full or formal action by Congress.

"The American people need never fear that a president of the United States is our tendency to engage our forces," Rostow said in an interview. "It is the most reluctant decision a president can make."

Rostow argued that the United States would have been drawn into a bigger war in Asia involving Communist China, if not chosen to fight in Vietnam. He contended that U.S. interests in Europe and the Middle East had not been damaged by the Johnson administration's concern with Asian affairs.

Following are some of the key questions and Rostow's responses:

Q. Suppose President Johnson had chosen to pull out of Vietnam in 1955 after deciding on a large war would not be worth the cost. Why wouldn't that have been an acceptable course of action?

Rostow: I know it was President Kennedy's judgment in 1961 that the consequence of pulling out would mean stating to Asia and the world that our commitments under the SEATO treaty were not viable.

That would have meant a movement of the whole area under communist control. It would have meant also that the flank of the Indian subcontinent would be exposed. And when that result was fully revealed the United States would not sit still for these consequences but would re-engage, under worse circumstances, and we would have a bigger war.

I was in the State Department when President Johnson was going through his very difficult decision of 1965 to bomb the North and send in combat troops. It is my impression that his judgment was that the net consequences of our withdrawing and accepting disaster in Vietnam would be a later, bigger war and one with a nuclear China involved.

Q. Is it your feeling that four years later, and $100 billion later, and 30,000 lives later this was well-justified?

Rostow: Yes.

Q. And you think that larger war has been avoided?

Rostow: If we see it through, I believe so.

We have seen in the wake of President Johnson's decision of 1965 a most remarkable change in the contours of Asia. In terms of economic and social development we see great vitality in Korea, Japan, Taiwan, Thailand, Malaysia.

But more than that, Asians have a sense of confidence now that they have a future of their own to make. We see the beginnings for the first time in history of cooperation among Asian nations through such organizations as the Asian Pacific Council and the South-East Asian associations, and the Asian Development Bank.

Formerly Asian leaders did not know whether their future would be one of independence or one under China's control, because there is no relevant power out there to cope with China except ourselves.

Q. Has the Vietnam war crystallized the whole issue over what the proper U.S. world role should be?

Rostow: Vietnam, as an issue debated with such strong feeling in our country, has had many dimensions. One of them has been a relative decline in the United States and European countries have not taken part as allies in the war in Vietnam even though some were members of SEATO.

The fact that our European allies did not engage their forces has led to make some Americans feel that perhaps the war was not justified.

Q. The United States has sometimes been criticized in recent years for being "policeman of the world." Isn't there some truth in this?

Rostow: The basic point we should be clear on where we have acted with force, we have acted either under the United Nations or we have acted in terms of treaties. There are a great many areas of turbulence in the world in which the United States has not engaged itself except diplomatically, and sometimes not even that.

There is no impulse in the executive branch to go rushing around the world fixing things unless they are of vital interest to the United States and require action as a matter of last resort.

Q. Isn't it true that there has been a relative decline in United States authority in the Middle East and a growth of Soviet influence as a result of the involvement in the Vietnamese war?

Rostow: I don't know of any firm evidence that would connect the war in Vietnam with our Middle East position. The problem of the Middle East is that it is an area with multiple schisms — the Arab-Israeli, the racial nationalists versus the more modern Arabs, the Arab countries — and other Muslim countries.

Q. Could the United States not take a more active role in trying to solve the European problem of integration?

Rostow: No, I don't believe that thoughtful Europeans honestly think that we have the capacity to change President de Gaulle's views of British entry into the Common Market which is the central issue.

COMMENT

Who's Running It?

From The Idaho State Journal... The course of events relating to administration of Idaho's penitentiary suggest that even the inmates might have done a better job... An audit report in September of 1967 confirmed previous penitentiary practices ranging from outrageous to ludicrous... Members of the State Board of Corrections had an arrangement to take food from the prison commissary, farming and prison industry was haphazard in operation, record-keeping was sloppy, the building was antiquated and even lacking in plumbing in one-third of the cells, there was poor control over weapons, keys and tools, and there were no written plans for coping with escape riots or fire... There was an effort at reform undertaken with construction of a new prison at a site about 10 miles south of Boise. Badly underpaid prison personnel were given raises, but the administration continued to founder... Scarcely had the new prison started to take shape than charges arose that it was outmoded, too large, and not geared to modern rehabilitative concepts... The budget of the State Board of Corrections, the Legislature and the State Permanent Building Council. There was agreement only that there was a definite lack of communication among all... The latest goal to come to light is the failure of the State Board of Corrections to obtain title to the land on which the new prison is located. The 300-acre tract is held by the public school endowment fund, and presumably can be transferred from one state agency to another... But there are more serious problems than that... There apparently has been no professional study of the prison plans, or aims of the Idaho penal system... Warden Orville E. Stites was fired last month, apparently as the result of differences with the Board of Corrections... His successor should be a trained, professional penologist who will give some direction to a program of rehabilitation that has sadly waned... In addition, the Board of Corrections should be abolished from its present status of full-time paid members, and reshaped as a part-time advisory body concerned more with policy than administration... These are matters which should be of high concern when the 40th Legislature meets in January. The neglect of past Legislatures has been largely responsible for the accumulation of present problems, and there is a need for immediate sorting out and corrective action.

WASHINGTON—The convening of the new Congress has brought to light an unpublished report that broadly outlines the already furiously controversial community action programs of the Johnson Administration's so-called war on poverty... Prepared by Rep. William Scherle, a Iowa planning member of the House Education and Labor Committee, the report charges flatly "community action programs have done more to impede the war on poverty than any other component... based on a detailed study of widespread scandals, corruption, violence, maladministration and numerous other outrages in community action programs in cities throughout the country, the Scherle report underlines the little-known fact that more money has been spent on CAP than any other aspect of the war on poverty... The CAP budget for the current fiscal year is $540 million—$250 million more than last year... CAP does nothing directly to alleviate, eliminate or combat poverty... Significantly, Rep. Scherle's unpublished findings are square in accord with those of former Assistant Labor Secretary, Daniel Moynihan in a forthcoming book scathingly denouncing the handling of the anti-poverty program by the Johnson Administration... The lack of coordination and cooperation between community action agencies on one hand and school officials, welfare agencies, housing authorities and representatives of private enterprise on the other, have brought about total alienation of the community leaders from anti-poverty programs... Community action leaders seem to have overlooked their responsibility to mobilize and utilize resources, public and private, of a community in an attack on poverty... Community reaction to the abrasive aspects of community action has developed an atmosphere of conflict and bitterness... There is ample evidence that hostility and conflict exist between anti-poverty agencies on one hand and elected officials and community agencies on the other... Among the cities cited by Scherle as glaring instances of this are the following: Newark, N.J.—"Community action personnel organized and participated in demonstrations... distributed announcements of a police brutality rally to be held at a police station... Mayor Louis Weis testified that he had complained to the Office of Economic Opportunity... anti-poverty workers were menting "racist unrest... He said he received no answer from OEO funds... Durham, N.C.—Anti-poverty officials arranged and paid for buses to transport... demonstrators to the city hall... Protest demonstrations followed and a disruptive situation ensued at a time of high tension during the Newark riots... Nashville, Tenn.—"Police Captain John A. Sarace testified that OEO funds had been issued to a "pilation school" at which children were taught to "hate whites"... The school operated by Fruit Branch, a black power advocate and chairman of Nashville's Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee... included an instructor, George H. Vane, who accompanied Stokely Carmichael to Cuba...

RAY CROMLEY A Moon Landing

WASHINGTON (NEA)—With the success of the moon orbit under their belts, U.S. space scientists have begun to worry about some unsolved problems of the moon landing... The landing presents some technical problems not yet worked up with space flight... The greatest of these, the one that worries some National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists the most, is the timing of the lunar excursion module (the "bus") down from the space ship to moon surface... The problem is this: There is very little gravity on the moon and little or no electromagnetic field... The precise timing of the descent is critical... Without a fairly strong magnetic field or centrifugal force to act as a stabilizing influence... The danger is that a strong magnetic field will interfere with or short a burst on one of the guidance rockets during the maneuvering from ship to moon... Or there might be a slight irregularity in the rocket fuel itself, or in some mechanical part of the fuel or guidance system... In flights around the earth or in-landing, gravity or the atmosphere help stabilize the vehicle. In long space flights the speed and the distances make maneuvering less difficult relatively... But in the moon landing, a very small error or irregularity could shift the "attitude" or angle of the landing module enough to damage the ship or injure the astronauts at the landing... A shift in the angle or attitude and a slight overcompensation to correct that shift might set the landing module tumbling in the moon's "sky" and cause the "bus" to land upside down or at too great a speed... So much for the landing... The two astronauts who visit the moon face the same problems in getting their "bus" back to the rendezvous with the space ship... If things should go wrong, the two astronauts who land on the moon would like to try to get two of their earth satellites, for there is no known way to rescue a man from its surface, if he cannot carry his own transportation... Considering the tremendous strides made to date in the space program, NASA scientists are betting that these lunar excursion module problems will be solved before the planned moon launch this summer... If the bugs in the "bus" will be postponed,

The Final Judge

The Transcendent

From The Christian Science Monitor... One towering figure dominated Protestant thinking in the world during the first half of the 20th century. That figure, Karl Barth, had a tremendous influence on the thought of such Protestant theologians as Rudolf Bultmann, Emil Brunner, Paul Tillich, and Reinhold Niebuhr... His thought led to and epitomized a movement variously referred to as Neo-Orthodoxy, Neo-Reformation theology, or crisis theology... Barth turned the religious thought of the day back to the Bible, accepting and contributing to scholarly Biblical criticism... Barth turned the religious thought of the day back to the Bible, accepting and contributing to scholarly Biblical criticism... Barth turned the religious thought of the day back to the Bible, accepting and contributing to scholarly Biblical criticism...

In a category with John Calvin's "Institutes"... As a professor at Bonn in Hitler's Germany, Barth repeatedly attacked Nazism, arrested, tried, and convicted, he was expelled from the country in 1935, after which he volunteered for military service in his native Switzerland... Had it not been for Barth's Neo-Orthodoxy, the Social Gospel movement might have succeeded in turning Protestantism to greater involvement in the world long before this eventually happened... Barth's life work, now ended, serves to remind us of those aspects of religion that which seem remote in our day, but which, if the cyclical pattern of immanence and transcendence continues to hold, will once again stress the importance of the divine over the human.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Heart Attack

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My query is a heart I have been caught twice without quick medical aid when my wife had a coronary attack... Generally speaking, it is more important to know what not to do than what to do... Patients who are subject to recurrent and severe attacks of angina pectoris (not a "heart attack" but the symptom of a coronary thrombosis) should have nitroglycerin on hand... A coronary thrombosis, or heart attack in which the blood supply to part of the heart muscle is suddenly interrupted by a clot or embolism, is another, and more acutely dangerous matter... I do not think, for example, that Ewigleben would listen seriously to the demands of certain black militants at San Francisco State College... I have the right to protest the editorial policies of the newspaper... I really think the citizenry would elect Ewigleben something like, maybe, King... What's the likelihood of follow-up?

likely to harm than to help the patient... I realize that it is frightening time for you as well as the patient, but while fussing over the patient or trying to do something else to do for him—must be something to do, it won't help him... Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 13 and would like to try tennis but have heard all these stories mostly from older women that were very dangerous, could stop the flow of circulation with birth when you get older... There is no truth in the stories you have heard... Note to Mrs. R. T.: Some folks have a normal temperature a degree or so below average... It is nothing to be alarmed about... Note to Mrs. R. A Literary Legacy

From The Denver Post... If John Steinbeck had written nothing else but The Grapes of Wrath his place in American literature would be firmly secure... When it appeared in 1939, the book brought Steinbeck both praise and denunciation... Although Steinbeck did not maintain the incredibly high standard of The Grapes of Wrath... But Steinbeck did not lack recognition in his time... heart disease at the age of 60...

had been honored by his countrymen with a Pulitzer Prize, and by the world at large with a Nobel Prize for his important contributions to literature... Steinbeck admitted in private moments that he had a sort of "breacher" complex, and his books reflected his inner conflicts about how best to serialize... As an erudite aptly observed: "It's as though half his literary inheritance came from the hands of Mark Twain... and the other half from the worst of Colton/Mather..." Steinbeck truly made the forgotten man unforgettable.

ANDREW TULLY Gold Medal For Dr. Ewigleben

WASHINGTON—Quick, fierce Robert L. Ewigleben is excited, let us assume a street after him and strike a gold medal in his honor... Ewigleben is president of the 8,500-student San Mateo College in California... When all of San Mateo's students went on a rampage, beat other students with fire hoses and metal pipes and caused about $15,000 damage to college property, Ewigleben acted instead of punishing something about national spirit... I do not think, for example, that Ewigleben would listen seriously to the demands of certain black militants at San Francisco State College... I have the right to protest the editorial policies of the newspaper... I really think the citizenry would elect Ewigleben something like, maybe, King... What's the likelihood of follow-up?

Lodge Envisions Ultimate Victory In Vietnam War

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, named Sunday by President-elect Nixon to head the Paris peace negotiating team, has been involved in the Vietnamese situation off and on since 1953.

There is a compilation of statements Lodge has made in the past about the political and military aspects of the war, its chances for success and prospects for peace.

June 23, 1964—Just after he resigned as ambassador to help former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton in his unsuccessful fight for the Republican presidential nomination, Lodge said: "In Vietnam, the aim of the struggle is to create a proper political atmosphere. That's how you beat the Communists there. I don't see the need for more troops in Vietnam. I think our policy there of relying on the Vietnamese to win with our help is the right policy." He said he had chosen this particular time to return to the United States because "things in Vietnam started to go better."

Aug. 18, 1964—"There is no question about our determination to see this thing through." He added, however, "We don't believe in a military solution and the military don't believe in either. Our goal is a political solution."

May 19, 1965—Lodge defended the bombing of North Vietnam, but said, "By itself, it will not bring an end to the war." Discussing a six-day lull in the bombing, he said, "I think it is possible to stop them (the raids) for a few days." As for negotiations, Lodge said that as far as U.S. allies in Asia were concerned, the less talk of negotiations, the better.

Sept. 6, 1965—Just after returning to Vietnam for a second tour of duty as ambassador, Lodge said that when he left "there was a question in many people's minds of the chances of success in the effort to wind off Viet Cong aggression. Now I find an atmosphere in which it is generally agreed that the Viet Cong cannot win militarily."

Dec. 21, 1965—"I think finally, after a great deal of trial and error, we and the Vietnamese have learned to braid together the different strands of Vietnam. We are on the right track. It is now a question of having forward motion."

Jan. 16, 1966—"Persistent execution of the political and military plans which have been agreed to will bring victory than a defeat."

Feb. 14, 1966—"I maintain that a stalemate is better than a defeat."

March 28, 1966—"The situation in Vietnam will 'improve as things go on.'"

April 23, 1966—Lodge said the political confusion in Vietnam had hampered the war effort, but a great deal of military success was achieved during last month and I believe the last time can be made up. We showed that we knew how to overcome the military units of the Viet Cong. We've shown that we knew how to overcome the battalions of the army of North Vietnam. That we've made a lot of progress."

April 30, 1966—while en route to Washington for consultations with President Johnson, Lodge said: "I think we are ahead of what we were last summer and are very much ahead of what we were last spring."

May 1, 1966—"I don't think there is any doubt that the United States is going to stay in South Vietnam and do what is in the best interest of the government of South Vietnam. The government of South Vietnam does not have control or expert power throughout the country. It has not yet achieved control, the war will be over."

June 25, 1966—"On the military side, the government is going particularly well."

Nov. 14, 1966—"When we have beaten the army of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong force has been broken, we will have simply won the opportunity to get through to the heart of the matter, which is more than 200,000 terrorists who are organized throughout the country and looking exactly like civilians." This phase of the war will be a wholesale basis, although in terms of the main military effort, "I would expect a very different military situation indeed here by next year."

Dec. 6, 1966—Lodge said the war in Vietnam "just might fade out." He said, "I think I could say that they cannot win. I think you could say that we cannot lose, we cannot be pushed out. I think I could say we haven't won yet."

Jan. 8, 1967—"I would expect the percentage rate of American casualties in the conventional military war to achieve very sensational results in '67."

Jan. 11, 1967—"I think the military may accomplish all that could be expected of them."

Jan. 12, 1967—"I believe the purely military part of the war—which is what the Americans are engaged in—will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining."

March 16, 1967—Just after resigning the ambassadorship, "I would predict that there will be about the outcome of the war."

March 21, 1967—Lodge said there was "absolutely" no prospect of a peace treaty. "I don't talk in premature and it will also be that for a long time."

April 8, 1967—"If we could deny this terrible inner circle the war would be virtually over."

April 25, 1967—"The picture in one of solid achievements behind us and difficult problems ahead."

Oct. 11, 1967—Lodge said the war cannot be won without military success, "but military success alone will not win it."

After his selection by Nixon to head the negotiating team, Lodge said he would like to "set for a hopeful forum for the definition of the interest of all parties involved and for the design of agreement to meet those interests."

He added that a peace formula "means weighing our views in the balance of justice, looking ahead to the principles of interest, and ordering them for purposes of compromise."

Troops Move Maneuver Near Border

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The advance party for 12,000 U.S. Army troops landed here today to prepare for large-scale maneuvers starting later this month near the Czechoslovak border.

About 270 soldiers flew the Atlantic from Forbes Air Force Base in Kansas, along with units of the 1st Cavalry Division at Rhein-Main Air Base. They headed for depots at Kaiserslautern, Karlsruhe, and Mannheim, where they will prepare tanks, guns and other heavy equipment left behind when their units were deployed from Europe last spring.

The main bulk of the troops will arrive at Nuernberg in a massive airlift Jan. 20-21 to maneuver about 30 miles from the Czechoslovak border. The exercise, named Reforger, was originally scheduled for later this year but was moved ahead to winter to simulate the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia last August.

The maneuver takes place Jan. 29-Feb. 4.

Most of the men participating in the maneuvers will return to their units by Feb. 15. The 74 Phantom tactical fighter squadrons flying over for a parallel Air Force exercise named Crested Cap I, will remain in Europe to complete training.

Committees will be announced for the year by the worshipful master at this first meeting of the year. The annual Washington Birthday Dinner is planned for Jan. 21 in the hall.

Bank Employees Plan To Picket In Wage Dispute

STATTLE (AP) — An official of the Employees Association of Seattle-First National Bank said Sunday his group has scheduled picketing at 15 branches of the statewide system Tuesday.

Bill Gates, executive secretary of the union, which represents employees of the bank's 145 branches, one a large downtown branch, would be picketed in Seattle.

Gates said picketing would be shifted to central Washington Wednesday. The bank has 125 branches.

The union has been picketing branch banks sporadically since its strike began Dec. 31.

Gates would not say specifically where the branches to be picketed Tuesday and Wednesday are located.

HUGHES TRAVELS

BOISE (AP) — R. C. Hughes, federal-state coordinator in the office of Gov. Don W. Samuelson, was in Washington, D.C., Monday for a conference with officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Hughes was one of two representatives of the smaller states called to the conference. The other was the federal-state coordinator for Utah.

Bandit-Proof Coin Boxes Appear To Be Answer To Driver Robberies

By The Associated Press

A plan to cut down on bus driver holdups by requiring passengers to put the exact fare in a "robber-proof" box is being called a success in six of the nation's largest cities and is spreading to more.

Robberies of bus drivers, which were running at high rates and three a day, have virtually ended in Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Cleveland, San Francisco and Washington, D.C., since each of those cities adopted the plan.

The system is also in operation in Milwaukee but police there say it is too soon to evaluate results. Detroit will put the exact fare policy into effect Nov. 30 and New York has taken the program under study.

In at least three cities—Baltimore, Washington and Pittsburgh—the death of a driver during a holdup was partially responsible for the move to adopt the exact fare system.

Although there are variations from city to city, basically the plan works as follows:

The driver carries no change or tokens so the passenger must deposit exact change or a token. If the passenger lacks the right change, he may overpay and be given a refund slip redeemable later. The fare box is locked and

Stumph To Seek End To Dispute

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — The chairman of Idaho's American Independent Party, Joseph Stumph Jr., plans to meet with dissident members of the Central Committee in an attempt to pull the party together.

Stumph said that his next move after an all-day meeting Saturday of the Central Committee failed to draw a quorum.

The AIP head had called the meeting of the 104-member group to ask for a vote of confidence.

Late last year, a dissident faction announced they had chosen Nolan Victor to replace Stumph. Both "app" from Twin Falls.

Stumph says only the Central Committee may change chairman.

Inmate Caught After Fleeing Caldwell Jail

GALDWELL, Idaho (AP) — A Canyon County jail inmate was recaptured Saturday night at the home of his wife in Garden City, a Boise suburb, just hours after his escape.

Michael Ray Gluech, 30, of Nampa, serving a four-month forgery sentence, was missed about 8 p.m., according to Sheriff Dale Hilde.

Two officers talked Gluech into surrendering. Hilde said Gluech's wife was not home at the time.

American Girls Strive To Help War-Torn Biafra

By MORT ROSENBLUM
Associated Press Writer

AFIKPO, Nigeria (AP) — As sleek workmen apply fresh plaster to bullet holes outside, 26-year-old Mary Lois Bennett and five other American girls who live depend on her.

Two months ago she was home in New York. For the next year, she'll be here, at a mission hospital on a hill in this war-ravaged town bordering secessionist Biafra on the north.

"At night I can hear the firing," Miss Bennett says. "I guess I'm scared. They don't tell us anything. I don't know what's happening around here. But there's so much to do."

Two other American girls work with her in other parts of the hospital, one by the Rev. Rory O'Brien, a 29-year-old Irish missionary who listens to "Clancy-Brother" folk song records for recreation.

AFIKPO is firmly in Federal hands, but the front line is just 13 miles to the south.

The girls—and five other American girls in the region—volunteered for duty in Nigeria through the U.S. Catholic Medical Mission Board and are paid by the Catholic Relief Service.

"It's so frustrating," Miss Bennett says. "There's no medicine, nothing to work with."

She takes care of the acute deficiency disease ward where two dozen youngsters hover near death for lack of protein.

"See the little one over there?" she asked, indicating a frail child with pencil-thin limbs. "He's the only one who has responded to the antibiotics."

"All we can do is keep feeding high-protein formula and hope it works," she said.

Up the highway in the head-quarters town of Abakaliki, Judy Bator, 22, of South Bend, Ind., does much the same thing at Saint-Kiriakos-Hospital.

She treats 120 patients in a former leper ward, part of a general hospital run by Medical Missionaries of Mary.

Working with her are Nancy Baker, 24, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Sister Frederick Mary of New York City, on loan from her school near Ogden.

"It's grand being here," said Miss Baker, her hair damp from the intense humidity, "but so much work."

Judge Lists Record In Justice Court

The case load in Twin Falls County Justice Court during 1968 was about nine per cent higher than in 1967, according to Judge Reed P. Maughan.

The judge said that in 1968, 4,404 civil and criminal cases were handled in Justice Court. In 1967, 3,817 such cases were handled in Judge Maughan's court.

Idaho Fish and Game Department cases processed through Justice Court in 1968 were 44 percent higher than in 1967.

Receipts during 1967 were $50,477, including 1968 receipts of $67,651, an increase of about eight per cent.

In 1967 2,989 traffic cases were handled in Justice Court and in 1968 the number of traffic cases was 3,426.

Judge Maughan noted that one of the most important changes in his court in 1968 was moving of the office from the old hospital building to the courthouse.

He said he feels the "great mislanners" should be thanked on providing these facilities. They are a far cry from what he had been using.

Snow Depth In Cassia Is Listed

BURLEY — Snow measurement in Cassia County as of Jan. 2 are announced by Gary Post, Soil Conservation Service, Burley. More snow than last year is reported.

At Badger Gulch, 27.2 inches of snow was measured as compared with only 4.6 inches of snow last year at this time. There is 5.6 inches of water content—compared with only 1.7 last year. The average reading of snow measurement from 1959 through 1967 was 11.9 inches snow and 2.9 inches water.

Howell Canyon course reading was 52 1/2 inches snow with 13 inches water. Last year the reading was 16.2 inches snow with 4 1/2 inches water. The average reading from 1959 through 1967 was 31 1/2 inches snow with 9.1 inches water.

There are ten snow courses in Cassia County which are measured during the winter. For the February readings the course at Sublett will be added—making a total of three courses measured. In March all ten courses will be measured.

The water outlook is very good with the first reading of just two snow courses," stated Mr. Post.

Two Officials Voice Protest Of Budget

By The Associated Press

Two Idaho officials have said state institutions will suffer if Gov. Don Samuelson's budget recommendations are followed by the legislature.

Dr. William E. Davis, president of Idaho State University, said the government budget proposal "won't even keep us where we are."

Dr. Merick W. Pullen, director of the state mental health program, said the recommendation for State Hospital North at Orofino "won't even come close to providing the requirements for accreditation."

The comments were made Friday, the day after Samuelson's budget proposals were released.

The governor's recommendation for general fund spending for ISU was $13.1 million, compared with the recommendation by the State Board of Education of $15.4 million.

The governor's budget proposal would put total federal and state aid to State Hospital North at $2.4 million, compared with the $3.6 million recommended by the State Board of Health.

Davis formed the state board budget proposal "is realistic at present but ISU needs to continue taking care of normal growth."

Filer Sets Drawing Wednesday

FILER — More than 75 blood donors will be needed at the Jan. 8 Red Cross blood drawing if the winter quota is to be met, according to Mrs. Elmer Parrott, Filer blood chairman.

Filer holds drawings twice a year, in January and July, with a quota of 75 units for each drawing. This quota was met a year ago but in July, it fell short by four units, making a total of 71 units donated by area citizens for 1968.

The drawing will take place from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Filer American Legion Hall. Lunch will be served to donors and baby-sitting service is provided for mothers with small children.

Twin Falls is holding a blood drawing from 2-6 p.m. Monday. Donors at other Twin Falls or Filer are assured that there will be "no waiting" period at either place, according to the chairman.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Sex is an animal instinct which is normal in ALL animals. Man is an animal—right?—so when man feels the natural urge to have sex, what is wrong with following his natural instincts? JUST CURIOUS

DEAR JUST: ALL animals have a natural urge to procreate. The lowest animals "mate" by instinct. Man, the highest of all animals, "mates" not only to procreate, but to express the ultimate in love. Animals have no capacity for love. One mate is as good as the next. Casual and promiscuous "mating" among civilized people (or simply using another word for the same selfish sex urge) is not an animalistic behavior. It is for lower animals. It's also for the birds.

DEAR ABBY: This is very important to me. I'm 24 and Bobby is 29. He is smart, good looking and has a great personality. Bobby started gambling back in college. He played cards or the slot machines and would win at everything he gambled on. At first it was for fun and now it is his fulltime occupation. Bobby has read a great deal on the psychology of gambling, has studied the odds, and claims he bets "scientifically." So he can't lose. Maybe he's been lucky so far, but he always seems to have plenty of money.

My question is: Is it possible to marry a gambler and be happy? Some people say gambling is a "vice" and I don't think I'd be proud to say my husband is a "professional gambler." Bobby is not "hot." He's a college graduate and could make a good living in many other ways. If you or your readers know anything about this subject, please help me. DOBBY'S DIRT.

DEAR GIRL: The "psychology of gambling" is not all that complicated. It's the science of trying to get something for nothing. Don't bet on a gambler. You're a catch to lose.

DEAR ABBY: You gave BEWILDERED some excellent advice. She was married to a man who didn't want his family to know he was married. I hope she listens to you, and finds out WHY he is so determined to keep their marriage such a secret.

I wish that I had had the chance to do about what you did to do about a husband who didn't want his family to know that HE was married. When he left me 18 months ago, I found out he had wives living in Montana, Wyoming, California, and another one right here in the same town as yours truly.

NO LONGER BEWILDERED
—Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 88788, Los Angeles, Cal., 90089 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vicki Heiter, Sligar Recite Nuptial Vows

Vicki Heiter, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Heiter and Lewis Heiter, was married to Dwight N. Sligar, son of Eldon Sligar, all Twin Falls, in winter rites at the United First Methodist Church.

Dr. Harold Nye performed the double-ring candlelight ceremony. The altar was decorated with baskets of fragrant pink and white flowers and pink gladioli. Pink bows decorated the pews. The candles were lighted by Douglas Bland, cousin of the bride. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Richard Morris, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and peau de soie. It featured a lace jacket with bell sleeves. An attached chapel train fell from the skirt with an overlay of lace.

The veil was held by a tiara of pearlized orange and blue blossoms and pearls. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and light pink chiton carnations. She also carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers borrowed from her grandmother, Mrs. C. L. Morris.

Kay Brown was maid of honor, with Jean Johnston, Twin Falls, and Jean Hartsock, Salt Lake City, as bridesmaids. William McClymonds served as best man. Groomsman were Arlis Sligar and Tom Kelly Jr., with Ralph Jones, Pocatello, and Richard Dean, Twin Falls, as ushers.

Guests were registered by Conni Heiter, sister of the bride, and Lilla Sligay, cousin of the bride. The reception was held in the fellowship hall after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white organza cloth accented with clusters of pink satin roses and decorated with a three-tiered cake decorated with pink roses and white sugar-bells. It was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom under a canopy of white lace bells. The cake was flanked by two sweetheart cakes. The cake was served by Mrs. Richard Morris, aunt of the bride, assisted by Mrs. James Ingalls, cousin of the bride. Bland, cousin of the bride, officiated. The bride, given in marriage by Mrs. Tom Kelley Jr., sister of the bride, groomed by Jean Johnston, Twin Falls, and Jean Hartsock, Salt Lake City, and bridesmaid, Douglas Bland, Women of the Woman's Society of Christian Service were in charge of the reception. After a honeymoon trip to Europe, the newlyweds will reside in Twin Falls, where the bride is attending Mr. Juan's College of Hair Design and the bridegroom is employed by Gem State Welders Supply. Showers were given for the bride by Jean Johnston, Kay Brown, Mrs. James Johnston, and Mrs. James Ingalls, and Mrs. Otis Bland and Mrs. Richard Morris.

Non-Conference Record Is Poor In Big Sky

By The Associated Press

Big Sky Conference basketball teams came close to a perfect record against nonconference opponents over the weekend, losing all but one game.

Defending champion Weber State was the team that turned the trick and relied on sophomore sensation Willie Sojourner for four losses.

Three other teams in action on Saturday lost to Idaho State and Gonzaga each losing one game.

Idaho State stepped out of the conference into a major college territory Friday and Saturday nights, being swatted down by the nation's 12th-rated team, New Mexico State, and Friday night at the hands of Western Athletic Conference power Arizona in Tucson.

Idaho nearly made the winning side of the ledger, however, by utilizing a stalling game to nearly upset Washington State University. The Vandals fell behind in the final 1:20 of the game and lost 55-50.

Gonzaga continues to have its problems, this time traveling the coast for a game with Portland State and losing 103-78.

Weber managed to stay close to the streaking Wildcats of Weber through the first half until Sojourner began to work his magic on the boards.

Weber dropped its first game of the season to West Texas A&M, but since then has not tasted the sting of defeat.

The Wildcats have run off eight in a row, not including a victory in a road game in Hawaii.

Idaho State's problem was a road game in Hawaii.

St. John's Enjoys Role Of Spoiler

By The Associated Press

Nothing could be finer for the Redmen of St. John's than to play a Carolina school ranked second nationally.

The 17th-ranked Redmen from the sidelines of New York, who knocked North Carolina out of the No. 2 spot in the Associated Press college basketball poll a week ago with a 72-70 victory at Madison Square Garden, took their next step Saturday night in Charlotte, N.C., where they squeaked past Davidson, the No. 2, 75-74 in overtime.

St. John's apparently has found its level. No. 1 UCLA played too much in the finals of the ECAC Holiday Festival last Monday 74-58. But the Redmen's miracle finish isn't calculated to give Coach Spring Lou Carnesecca any less excitement.

The New Yorkers made up a three-point deficit in the final seconds. First-year Dave Prie's jumper cut Davidson's lead to 74-73. After a timeout, the Wildcats were unable to get back in the game.

St. John's took over with two seconds left. Bill Paultz, a 6-foot-10 sophomore reserve, sank a corner shot for the victory.

Davidson, unbeaten in eight previous starts, had managed a 65-65 tie on Jerry Krohl's basket with 25 seconds left in regulation time after trailing by 13 points in the second half. But St. John's hit 61.7 per cent of its four shots and John Warren, 25 points, and 24 by DePre offset Mike Maloy's 31-point spree for the losers.

Most of the heat, mighty UCLA kept rolling along. The Bruins, unbeaten in nine games, thrashed Tulane 96-84 as Lew Alcindor hit 15 of 21 shots, 34 points in only 21 minutes. Coach John Wooden took Alcindor out of the game after the 7-12 center protested a foul call by tossing the ball into the air and drawing a technical foul.

Winter Tab On Waterfowl Starts Today

BOISE—Idaho's winter waterfowl inventory starts Monday, Jan. 6, and runs through Jan. 10, or until the statewide count is completed, the Idaho Game Department said today.

The inventory is part of the continent-wide counts of migratory ducks and geese, and swans that are made in the American states, and in the Canadian provinces as well, according to John R. Woodworth, Idaho director.

The winter waterfowl inventory is not made in Mexico until later in the winter months.

About 35 workers of the Idaho Fish and Game Department and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will act as ground observers, and another eight to ten men will work as aerial observers. Normally the state counts about a half million ducks, a census of rare trumpeter swans also is made at the same time, and eagles, both bald and golden, are noted, too.

Hawks Stifle Phoenix Rally; Win 97-96

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Hawks survived a frantic comeback by Phoenix for a 97-96 National Basketball Association victory Sunday night when Sonny Gary Gregor snubbed a field goal attempt with one second remaining.

The loss was the 10th in succession for the expansion team from Phoenix while Atlanta was Atlanta's 13th in its last 14 games.

Lou Hudson scored 21 points to pace the Hawks while Gregor chipped in with 23 for Atlanta. Phoenix's scoring was led by Dick Van Arsdale and Dick Snyder, who netted 22 points each.

The victory put Atlanta back on the winning track after 12-game victory streak was stopped by Los Angeles here Saturday 121-111.

Promotion In Karate Is Reported

Bob Wagner, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wagner, 112 Maple Ave., has been promoted to blue belt rank in karate, it was announced Saturday.

The announcement was made by Robert Tidd, instructor for karate classes in Twin Falls. Mr. Tidd said the promotion qualified Miss Wagner as an instructor.

She had to pass through three ranks to gain the promotion and has the green, orange, and three degrees of brown to pass through to reach the black belt rank, the highest awarded in karate.

Mr. Tidd teaches karate classes above the Labor Temple Saturdays.

The style of karate taught is Kai Kumi and about 40 are registered.

Bues Dump Nets Behind Jones Boys, 98-91

COMMACK, N.Y. (AP)—The New Orleans Buccaneers, led by their backcourt duo of Jimmy and Steve Jones, took command in the last five minutes of play and beat the New York Nets 98-91 in an American Basketball Association game Sunday night.

Jimmy Jones, who finished with 24 points, made two free throws with 4:55 remaining and brought an 83 tie. Steve Jones, who had 17 points, hit a three-point field goal 45 seconds later. New Orleans had an 88-83 lead and didn't trail again.

It was the sixth consecutive loss for the Nets. Manny Leaks, recently acquired from Kentucky, had 18 points with 10 rebounds, and Wali Blimen had 21 points.

Celtics Crush San Francisco By 134-86

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Boston Celtics gained revenge for two previous defeats by crushing the San Francisco Warriors 134-86 in a National Basketball Association game Sunday.

The Warriors, who defeated the Celtics 101-92 two nights ago, was never in contention in the nationally televised game at the Cow Palace. Boston led by as much as 30 points from the second quarter on.

Reserve John Havlicek came off the bench to pace the Celtics with 23 points. He scored 17 in the first half, including 11 in the second period when Boston put the game away.

The Warriors couldn't get started against the Boston offense that held them without a field goal for a stretch of 10 minutes in the fourth period.

The leading scorer for San Francisco was Reggie Eitz, 15 points with 17.

Morton's Third-Period Pass Gives Dallas 17-13 NFL Playoff Bowl Win

Performances In Examiner Meet Poor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Beamon, Lee Evans and Willis Davenport went right on winning. Gerry Lindgren and Dave Patrick were right on losing.

The 1969 U.S. indoor track and field season opened Saturday and a large group of Olympic hopefuls lured 11,838 customers to the Cow Palace to watch some good competition but generally lack-luster performances.

Beamon, whose 29-2/4-foot long jump at the Mexico City Olympics may last a generation, won his specialty on his only jump going 26-1/2.

Then he came back to capture the triple jump as well as the 500-meter race in the first of a parade of outstanding performances in the meet.

Evans, winner of the gold medal in the 400 meters at Mexico City, yanked his way through an uncompetitive quarter mile, winning in 49.9.

At the end of the meet, however, Evans provided the thrill of the evening when he made up some 100 yards to take a slim victory in 3:21.9 for his San Jose State mile relay team over the Southern California Striders.

For Lindgren and Patrick, 1969 began as bad as 1968 ended. Both runners missed attempts to make the Olympic team and both were badly beaten here.

Indiana Pacers Top Houston By 107-101 Margin

HOUSTON (AP)—Freddie Lewis sank a basket with only 17 seconds remaining in the fourth period as the Indiana Pacers clinched a 107-101 victory over Houston in an American Basketball Association game Sunday.

Steve Clubin connected on six straight free throws for the Pacers early in the third period while Indiana overcame a 53-49 halftime deficit.

Lewis paced all scorers with 27 points. Clubin had 19. Steve Johnson led the Mavericks with 24, followed by Kendall Rhine, who had 19.

Don Carles of Houston scored two free throws with 1:19 left in the game to knot the score 101-101 before Indiana went ahead.

The Cowboys started as if the game-winning 20-yard touchdown pass by Dallas' talented quarterback Don Meredith carried them to Cleveland in the NFL's Eastern Conference title game in the first period on an 81-yard touchdown punt return by Meredith, however, a 11-10 lead off the foot of Fred Cox.

Dallas made it 13-10 at half-time with a 57-yard touchdown pass from Meredith to speedster Bob Hayes, and a field goal by Mike Clark. The tough Cowboy defense blanked the Vikings in the second half of the rain-drenched game in the Orange Bowl.

A furious pass rush by Dallas linebackers Chuck Howley and Leroy Jordan on Minnesota punter King Hill helped set up the winning touchdown.

Howley and Jordan just missed blocking the ball which went off the side of Hill's feet for only 21 yards to the Minnesota 31.

Minnesota's offense was stymied in six plays. He teamed with Baynham for a "21-yard" completion and first down at the Minnesota 13. After losing back to the 20, Morton hit Baynham for the winning score.

Douglass Gives Views On Bowl Game

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Bobby Douglass of Kansas, a rifle-armed southern quarterback, "wasn't even" suffered an embarrassing loss in the Orange Bowl, found redemption in the inaugural American Bowl Saturday.

"I've been brooding about the Orange Bowl game for the last three days," smiled Douglass after he led the North to a 21-13 victory over the South in the college-all-star football game.

Kansas lost to Penn State 15-14 in the last 15 seconds of the Orange Bowl when a 12th-man penalty against the Jayhawks gave the Nittany Lions a second and successful conversion attempt.

The 160-lb., 212-pound back of the year in the Big Eight Conference took over quarterbacking duties from Cincinnati's Greg Cook midway in the first quarter and turned a dull defensive duel into an exciting ground and air attack against the Duke team.

"I was awfully cold in the first half. I guess that was because I only got to practice one day. I know that if I had been on target better, we'd have completed twice as many passes as we did. That was the greatest bunch of receivers I've ever seen," said the blond Douglass.

Valley-Murtaugh Battle Will Highlight Tuesday Hoop Action

A third Valley-Murtaugh showdown, which appears to be a battle between Rockland and Oakley, and Dietrich at Richfield clash highlight Tuesday's men's basketball schedule.

All seven games are conference clashes. The Dietrich-Richfield being important in the Northside Conference, as a Richfield victory could trim the Blue Devils' top lead. Also on tap Tuesday are Shoshone at Hagerman, Raft River at Hansen, Cascade at Declo, and Bliss at Carey.

Action at Murtaugh should be hot and heavy if previous scores are any indication. Besides the close battle at Valley earlier in the year, the Vikings slumped the Red Devils 76-73 in overtime, again at the Vikings home floor.

Murtaugh should rate the edge this time, coming off two straight wins over North Gem and always tough Rockland. The Vikings were upset Saturday night by the once-beaten Hagerman Pirates in overtime.

It could wind up as a battle between Murtaugh's Quesnell and Valley's Don Meyer. Either man may be the night's capable of hitting in the neighborhood of 25-30 points.

Oakley has been getting tougher with the year progresses, and comes into the Rockland game with three straight victories.

The Hornets will have to contain the Bulldogs' big man, Nelson, and overcome a height disadvantage. Saturday night Nelson hit for 25 points in a losing effort to Murtaugh.

Oakley's three straight wins came at the hands of Carey, Dietrich, and Hansen, the Dietrich win snapping a seven game Blue Devil winning streak.

At Hansen, the Randy-led Blue Devils face the Tigers coming off a 60-51 win over the Gannas County Mustangs Friday night. Well-known local players, and Ken Patterson lead the Tiger attack. Saturday night the Tigers were bombed by the gemina when the Pirates' Randy Clark hit 22 points.

Although the game is on the Tiger's home floor, the superior speed of the Blue Devils may prove the difference.

Sixth-year "Birds" have been having their problems this year, and the once-beaten Hagerman Pirates won't help matters any. The Pirates' Randy Clark and Ray Lapp are both good scorers, and the Pirate defense is tough, allowing only 14 points per game.

Hansen, the Huskies are 1-4. Hansen off a loss to Murtaugh Saturday night, Raft River comes off a 78-59 loss to the Declo Hornets and posts a 2-7 record. Raft River and Hagerman figure in the Trojans scoring, with Rigby being the big man under the boards.

Hansen has been plagued with a three-game long cold spell, twice hitting very poor percentages and totaling less than 40 points. Saturday night the Huskies were dumped 66-47, but a solid final period barrage could indicate a resurgence in Huskie scoring trends.

Lumi Nabs Southern Cal Golf Tourney

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)—Bob Lunn, a 23-year-old pro from Sacramento, Calif., shot a final-round 69 for a 135 total Sunday in winning the 231st Southern California Open Golf Tournament.

Lunn started the day with a first-round 68—two strokes back of leader Mac McLendon and Ray Bots. But Lunn carded three second-half birdies for his three-course 69—585—the 8,600-yard Los Coyotes Country Club course. He won $6,000.

Jim Gilbert, a little-known pro from San Diego, Calif., and Dick Lotz of Hayward, Calif., made a closing bid but fell one stroke short and tied for second at 136.

Gilbert had birdies on the 11th, 13th, 16th and 17th holes to close the gap but could only par the 18th. Lotz shot a front nine of 31, two under par, then came back three under for a final round 97.

Gilbert and Lotz each earned $2,500. Bots, of Los Angeles, had a par 72 for 137 and third place money of $1,250. McLendon was a stroke back at 135 for $1,000.

Harry Tusciano, Frank Beard and Dave Hill tied at 139 and defending champion Billy Casper, the PGA's leading money winner last year, tied with Howe Johnson at 140.

Ten players were tied at 141, including National Open champ Lee Trevino and amateur Steve Bogan, son of Pete Bogay, former Public Links champion.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

TOP PLAYERS ARE DECISIVE

Jim: "What do you think is the one factor that changes a great bridge player into a very great bridge player?"
Oswald: "There are many factors but I believe the most important is the willingness to make a decision rather than to pass the buck to partner."
Jim: "I don't suppose you the Milquetoast who never took a stand of any sort."

Jim: "I imagine that Sidney Lazard of New Orleans possesses the quality of decisiveness."
Oswald: "He certainly does have it. Here is a hand from a team game in which he sat East. Note his double of four spades."
Jim: "A cautious player might pass the buck to partner. He has a minimum opening bid with a great deal of his strength in spades."
Oswald: "Right. No guarantee. Sidney was obliged to find that the actual penalty turned out to be three tricks. South had to lose two trumps, two hearts and two clubs."
Jim: "He was even happier when the result came in from the other table. The other East did not double and the other West went to five hearts. South doubled and set the hand only one trick."
Oswald: "If he had undressed his ace of diamonds he could have actually beaten it two but one down was good enough."

SAIGON POLICE HELP Le Minh-Tri, education minister for South Vietnam, after he was seriously wounded when terrorists threw an explosive charge into his car early Monday. Tri was rushed to a nearby hospital. His driver was reported killed and two bodyguards and a passby were wounded. (See story, Page One) (AP Wirephoto)

'International' Satellite Will Allow Worldwide Communications With Secrecy

By CARL HARTMAN
BRUSSELS (AP)—American forces under European command are setting a communications satellite that will help them keep in touch on any threat from the Soviet Union.
It is due to be launched from Cape Kennedy late next year. The satellite will look some 100 miles into space, about 300 miles to build and shoot into orbit.
Another $30-million is being spent on ground and sea stations for the satellite. The nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, France, though still a member of the alliance, is not joining.
NATO's satellite will enable a commander at a remote but im-

Artistic Slovaks Discover 'Painting Brings Rewards'

ROVACICA, Yugoslavia (AP)—There is more money in Bratislava in hours, the farmers of this little village located 30 miles north of Belgrade have discovered.
Nearly every man, woman and child in this village has a spare-time painter. The best of their canvases fetch money in London, Paris, a not far from where they are painted as examples of native art.
A sudden art craze were to sweep a Kansas farming community, and if the resultant cash were to be managed up by the big Manhattan dealers, one would have a rough American equivalent to what has happened in Bratislava.
But the farmers here are not Kansans, or even Yugoslavs, for the matter. They are Slovaks brought here from Czechoslovakia 100 years ago by the Austro-Hungarian empire to build the Turks.
They are used to till the soil and today they are among the most loyal of President Tito's supporters. In return, they speak the Slovak language and retain other old customs.
Big-bare Maria Paluska, 50, whose face is creased with wrinkles, explains the present flowering of art began over a class given in 1938.
"While playing chess with my neighbors, I mentioned that I had

Euthanasia Seen As Growth Curb

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—World food and population problems may eventually have to be solved by euthanasia, a University international affairs lecturer said here.
Prof. B. Cockram told a public meeting the obvious way to curb population growth is to reduce present decreased mortality by euthanasia, either by removing the causes of improvement or by killing off the aged before they become a burden.
Cockram himself is 65. His speech aroused a storm of indignation, particularly among aged people, and he hastened to add he is not recommending euthanasia.

Rupert Needs New Agency For Greyhound Bus Lines

RUPERT — Rupert residents may be in danger of losing the present Greyhound bus service if a new agency is not located by the first of March, according to a report given to the Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

Outgoing president Ken Bell said that the present bus stop is at the Clark Motor Company and that the company has indicated it will no longer operate the service after the first of March. Clark's originally gave notice Dec. 31, but agreed to carry for an additional two months to allow the bus company time to locate another stop for the bus.

The pros and cons of the bus service also were discussed by the chamber group, with the general consensus that the present stop was not conducive to good passenger response. The motor company closes early in the evening, causing late passengers to have to wait outside with no restroom facilities available, and no phone.

The company is also near the city limits, making it a long walking distance to the stop, and the company has indicated that the company met with chamber officials earlier this week and said the service to the area was a matter of economics. They said the company must make a profit from each stop.

It was noted, however, that the bus company must have the proper facilities for their service before they can expect to make a profit.

Currently only one bus services the area, that one in the afternoon.

Another problem in selecting a site for the bus stop is that it is that the bus drivers do not want to cross the railroad tracks into the city of Rupert.

Bus freight service was also discussed, and it was generally agreed that the present freight service is good.

Representatives also noted that the company has the problem of training the agents. With the agents in the area the bus service is only a secondary business, and often their time is devoted to other things.

Following the discussion several prospective sites for the bus stop were suggested and will be discussed during the Monday night board of directors meeting. The board's organizational meeting will be held Jan. 13.

Idaho Pilots Reminded To Register

Idaho pilots who failed to register in December for 1969 are reminded by Chet Moulton, State Aeronautics Director, that the application deadline was Dec. 31 and flight without registration is in violation of Chapter 153, 1947 Session Laws.

The 42 annual registration fee is devoted solely to paying for costs of search and rescue for lost aircraft and airman and represents an accepted moral obligation and responsibility of pilots in their help of one another in times of emergency or distress.

Mr. Moulton stated he believes many pilots have merely overlooked this requirement during the rush of holiday events and urged their prompt compliance.

The Aeronautics office will ask law enforcement agencies to do "spot-checks" during the coming weeks to determine compliance. Application blanks are available at all airports.

THERE HAVE BEEN some changes made at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. In the past 50 years and Frank Slack has seen them all. Mr. Slack went to work at the local firm on Jan. 4, 1919, as a bookkeeper. He is now assistant cashier.

Bank Employee, 75, Is Too Young To Retire, He Says

Frank Slack, Twin Falls, has been at the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. for 50 years, and has seen some big changes made in the banking business in that time.

When he went to work Jan. 4, 1919, Mr. Slack was one of nine employees in the bank. Today the bank, between its downtown location and branches at the Latah-wood Shopping Center and Kimberly, now employs about 80 people.

Mr. Slack has no plans for retirement. "Why quit?" he asks. "I'm 75 and he and his wife are parents of two daughters, Mrs. Charles Allen and Mrs. Kenneth Poe, and have five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Although the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. and Mr. Slack have been operating in the same location and building for 50 years, Mr. Slack recalls that there have been several changes in the building during his tenure there. "We've had three or four remodelings in that time," he said.

Mr. Slack began as a bookkeeper, and today is assistant cashier.

He said he has managed to keep pace over the past 50 years with the changes in the banking business. "It's altogether different now that it was then," he noted, that machines are much more in use today than they were 50 years ago.

"We're also doing 16 times the volume of business as we were in the 1930s," Mr. Slack stated.

Mr. Slack came to Idaho in 1911 where he and his wife cleared 160 acres of brush on the Salmon Tract. In 1918, on doctor's orders, Mr. Slack had to quit farming, and that's when he decided to get into banking.

"People are saving more money now than they were in 1919—they've got more of it—

Businessmen At Pocatello Query Budget

POCATELLO (AP)—The Pocatello Chamber of Commerce during the weekend criticized Gov. Don W. Samuelson's budget recommendations for the state's institutions of higher education.

Samuelson had announced last Thursday his recommendations for 1969-71, which included a $2.3 million cut from the Idaho State University budget recommended by the State Board of Education.

Idaho State is at Pocatello. Chamber directors endorsed the state board's request of $15,625,444 and went on record as "unfavorably opposing the arbitrary and capricious cuts" the governor made.

In a statement Saturday, the chamber urged other groups and chambers to oppose Samuelson's recommended budget, saying it could "only mean reductions in on-going programs that serve the youth of Idaho in our institutions of higher learning."

Samuelson, replying to the criticism, said "everybody in a statement Saturday, the chamber urged other groups and chambers to oppose Samuelson's recommended budget, saying it could "only mean reductions in on-going programs that serve the youth of Idaho in our institutions of higher learning."

FIRE RIPS WAREHOUSE SPOKANE (AP)—Fire Department officials here were investigating Monday the cause of a Sunday night fire that heavily damaged a janitor supply warehouse, Canter's Faultless Cleaners.

Court Decision Delays Payment Of Tax Shares

BOISE (AP)—A court order has held up payment to local taxing units of their share of the Idaho state sales tax.

Under provisions for phaseout of the inventory tax, local tax units get five per cent of the sales tax this year and will get 20 per cent by the end of four years.

The second quarterly distribution of the sales tax money was scheduled for Dec. 31 and the office of the state auditor said $88,830 now is in the distribution fund.

The 4th District Court ruled that the law providing for the phaseout of the inventory tax on merchandise inventories, livestock and timber products, and substitution with the sales tax is unconstitutional.

However, the court also held up distribution of the money until the period during which a higher court appeal could be filed.

Robson Appoints Aides For Staff

BOISE (AP)—Newly appointed Atty. Gen. Robert M. Robson announced appointment of Daniel A. Slavin as his chief deputy on Monday and Max A. Redford as his deputy in charge of criminal matters.

Both Slavin and Redford served as assistants to former Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard. Shepard resigned as attorney general after being elected a justice of the state Supreme Court, and Gov. Don W. Samuelson named Robson, a Kellogg attorney, to succeed him.

Robson formally began his duties as attorney general Monday.
