Formerly Rejected Youths Prove Excellent Soldiers

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 90 per cent of the first young men who entered the Army under lowered mental and physical standards have turned out to be first-class soldiers.

This is reflected in a Pentagon study of results on a far of a two-year program designed to "salvage the poverty-stricken youth of our society" for military service and later for civilian life.

Under that program, the Pentagon accepts men who formerly were disqualified for draft in industrial or volunteer service.

The report found that 91 per cent of the first group of such men were rated "excellent in conduct and efficiency" after an average of 16.5 months of service.

About 84 per cent were promoted, some as high as sergeant. Only 3 per cent had been court-martialed.

"Field commanders in Vietnam and in the United States report that these men are well motivated and performing creditably in the field," the report stated.

The Pentagon did not indicate how many men were taken into the Army in this first group who entered service before October 1, 1965.

However, the report claimed that "project 100,000 which exceeded its goal of 140,000 such men accepted for military service in the first two years of the program which ended in October 1967."

On the basis of performance, the Pentagon said an effort will be made to bring 100,000 "new standards men" into military service every year from now on.

The report also stated that the program which ended in October 1967.

military service among the nation's youth," the study said.

Eligible men are those who:

- Fail to score well on standard written tests but can qualify fully as satisfactory servicemen;
- When exposed to modern instructional techniques used in the military services and on the job; and
- Suffer from physical defects which can be corrected in a short period of time.

The report said that about 10 per cent of the "new standards men" had successfully graduated from basic training, with only 13 per cent requiring extra men who fall basic training are discharged.

Soviets To Use Computerized Surgical Skills

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet surgeons, whose only heart transplant was the use of computers, will use computers in choosing donors and planning post-operative care in future operations, a leading physician said today.

The computer will help determine the best time for the transplant and the condition of the recipient and the donor, Dr. Alexander Vishnevsky wrote in Pravda, the newspaper of the Communist party.

"The computer will help in the selection of hearts and other organs attach great importance to the use of computers," Vishnevsky wrote.

The only announced attempt to transplant a human heart in the Soviet Union ended in failure in the city of Novosibirsk, 33 hours after the operation. A Soviet newspaper announced Jan. 1 that five other heart transplanting had failed, but nothing further has been said of them.

Defense Maneuvers Delay Sirhan Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jury selection apparently will not start until the defense attorneys have filed motions to delay the Bishara Sirhan trial on charges of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Defense attorneys took up most of Wednesday, as they did Tuesday's opening session, and defense counsel prepared more for submission today.

However, Grant B. Cooper, one of three defense attorneys, said the defense and prosecution had agreed after a closed session on the chamber of Judge Herbert V. Walker to begin questioning prospective jurors no later than Monday.

The trial had its first witness Wednesday — an expert on juries. William A. Goodwin, the Los Angeles County jury commissioner, testified on how prospective jurors are selected.

Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian who came to this country with his parents in California's Democratic primary election.

The slim, dark-complexioned defendant smiled and waved at his mother and two brothers as he sat in the courtroom during the long counsel table. Mary Sirhan, 35, was at the rear of the courtroom with her sons' Aed, 29, and Mark, 21.

Again newsmen and the few spectators were thoroughly searched by sheriff's deputies before being admitted to the courtroom, where the defense covered steel plates over the windows as further precautions against any attempt on Sirhan's life.

Cooper presented motions to set aside the list of prospective jurors for the trial and to quash the indictment.

The oil workers strike is a week-old.

After seasonal adjustment, the department said, the employment gain amounted to 475,000 with gains in construction, state and local government, manufacturing, and wholesale and retail trade leading the way.

BOISE (AP) — A State Rep. William L. Brauner D-Caldwell, says he intends to propose a constitutional amendment that would allow a higher tax rate for utility property than for other property.

UFO's

that the government possesses that which is secret and has their crews in secret captivity some are "fantastic nonsense."

—Allegations the government has attempted an official cover-up of the flying saucer matter have "no factual basis whatever."

—Some public school students harmed by absorbing unsound and erroneous reading materials on UFO's and "space" recommended teachers stop giving them credit for reading space books and articles.

The scientist charged at one point the National Investigations Committee for Aerial Phenomena (NICAP) "made several efforts to influence the course of our study."

The scientist presented 35 cases where UFO's were photographed, or appeared to have been photographed.

None were said to give evidence of "probable fabrication or misrepresentation." Seven were classified as "natural or man-made phenomena" and 12 provide insufficient data for analysis.

Since the Air Force's Project Blue Book began investigating UFO's in 1952, there have been 12,007 UFO sightings, 907 of which remain unidentified.

U.S. Processing Required On National Forest Timber

Domestic processing will be required for all timber harvested from national forest lands in the Inland Northwest Region, Regional Forester Floyd Iverson, in making the announcement said today in accordance with provisions of the Foreign Aid Assistance Act of 1968.

The forest supervisors on national forests in Southern Idaho, Utah, Nevada and Western Wyoming, which comprise the Inland Northwest Region of the Forest Service, have received instructions to proceed with timber sales. Sales had been temporarily halted pending action by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior on the log export provisions of this act. New sales contracts will provide for the domestic processing of logs.

This amendment, which went into effect Jan. 1, provides for domestic processing of timber harvested from federal lands in the Inland Northwest Region. The agencies involved may exempt not more than 250 million board feet annually from the domestic processing requirement.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Secretary of Interior Stuart L. Udall have agreed that the 250 million board feet exemption will be allocated as follows: (1) 275 million board feet will be assigned to the Northwest Region of the forest service in Oregon and Washington; (2) 15 million board feet will come from national forests in California; and (3) the remaining 60 million board feet will be assigned to the Bureau of Land Management of the Department of the Interior.

The new regulations describe unprocessed timber as (1) any logs, such as saw logs, peavee logs and pulp logs, (2) cuts and squares over eight inches in thickness which are to be subsequently re-manufactured, and (3) any split or round but not other round wood not processed for end-product use.

2 Valley Girls Become Politicians

When is a girl a boy? This little riddle is easy to answer at legislature time because girls are able to serve as page boys in the Idaho House and Senate and next week two Magic Valley girls are going to Boise to do just that.

—On a big honor and as one mother put it "a tremendous thrill for a girl from a small town."

The girls are both 17 and in November were candidates in the Twin Falls Junior-Miss Pageant.

They are Jill Allred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allred, and Paula Hawks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ullman of Twin Falls.

Miss Allred's political career was aided by Sen. Richard High and Miss Hawks was discovered and hired by Rep. Ray Lincoln. Both girls were approved by the Twin Falls County Republican Central committee and both girls have the complete endorsement of their parents.

A page boy—or girl in this case—supervises within the legislative chambers and while doing so finds out about the inner workings of state government by being on the scene when the news is happening. The girls will get paid $12 a day each, Miss Hawks will stay with friends. Although there are no provisions for supervision of page-boys, both girls will have "adequate supervision in Boise," according to their parents.

Miss Hawks plans to save money for college and Miss Allred will use her savings to finance a tour of Europe with the European Study League.

Young people, starting at age 14, are eligible to serve as page-boys in the Idaho Legislature. But application must be made through the Representative or Senator from the individual's district in Idaho.

The application is processed through the Legislature's At-Large Committee, then sent to the political central committee in the individual's county.

But this isn't the end of the road for a page boy hopeful. School officials have to be consulted and an absence of up to two months from school, has to be approved. Needless to say only those students in the top of the class will be given permission to leave school for such a length of time.

Miss Hawks and Miss Allred are the only two page boy candidates from Magic Valley.

Miss Hawks, according to her parents, has been interested in government for many years and attended girls state and was a finalist for girls nation. She plans the piano, swims and plays herback riding as a hobby.

Miss Allred is a member of the Murrough High School Pep Club, the drill team and is a cheerleader. She wants to be an airline stewardess someday.

JILL ALLED PAULA HAWKS will represent Magic Valley as page boys at the 40th session of the Idaho Legislature in Boise next week. Both are high school seniors. They will earn $12 a day while on duty in the Legislature for the next two months.

Monk Arrested For Smashing Valued Relics

PATRAS, Greece (AP)—Police arrested a 22-year-old monk today on charges of breaking into St. Andrew's Cathedral and smashing a glass display case containing an altar with fragments of the Apostle Andrew's head, given back to the Greek Orthodox Church by the Vatican five years ago.

The monk, identified as Geravrios Argyropoulos, told police he did it because he was opposed to the way the head was kept in a glass case, calling this contrary to the Orthodox faith.

Police said they traced the monk from the handwriting of a note left near the relic saying, "Our Orthodox lives forever. Glory to God."

The monk, who is a member of the church's choir, admitted taking the documents. St. Andrew is the patron saint of this Peloponnesus port.

Engine Troubles, Design Critics 'Dethrone' New British Ocean Queen

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA)—The QE2 developed its initial engine troubles, and had to limp back to Greenock without completing her trials.

This meant that the shake-down cruise at sea, which was scheduled for Dec. 10, had to be postponed. It meant, too, that a Christmas charity cruise scheduled for Dec. 22 had to be canceled, and money refunded to 800 ticket holders.

The ship finally got to sea in late December, carrying 250 carpenters, decorators, plumbers and electricians, plus 500 Cunard employees and their families, only to "develop what a company spokesman called "technical expansion" problems in the engines that led Cunard to refuse to take delivery on the liner.

In addition to everything else, the QE2's configuration "has been severely criticized as being unpleasing to the eye. Her lone funnel near the stern, in particular, has drawn scorn as resembling a penny whistle.

Compared to the QE2, her sister ships, the Queen Mary with three funnels and the original Queen Elizabeth with two, were deemed much more pleasing in matters of ship design.

The Queen Mary, of course, is now permanently anchored off Long Beach, Calif., where she will serve as a tourist-peek shop and shopping center. The Queen Elizabeth has now gone to America to join her, to be used as a convention ship off Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Unless the QE2 can shake her rattle in a hurry, her builders, Upper Clyde shipbuilders, may well be the next-to-proud owners of the first floating convention center that never got to be a luxury liner.

Union School Is Being Turned Into County Historical Museum

Now that all the bugs have been taken out of the project, the transformation of the old Union School into a county museum is progressing at a satisfactory rate, according to Helen Porterfield, secretary of the Twin Falls County Historical Society.

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Provo officials say a new electrical substation in Provo should eliminate large-scale power outages in the city.

NEGRO TRAINING SET

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Georgia Institute of Technology and Atlanta University will cooperate in an effort to train Negro engineers.

when members of her group began renovation of the building, it was discovered that termites had nearly destroyed the large room in the basement of the structure. The beams have been replaced with iron posts and the building has been started to exterminate the termites.

The county purchased the property several months ago from the school district for $7,500. The school, west of Twin Falls, was closed for classes at the end of the 1967-68 school year.

School officials felt it would be less expensive to bus students into school in the city than to maintain the last of the district's country schools.

A group of men from the historical society has been working Wednesday and Saturdays at the museum site. Anyone interested in helping on the project is asked to do so, Miss Porterfield said.

She said that paneling is being installed on the main floor and Atlanta University will cooperate in an effort to train Negro engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewain Clark and son, formerly of Shoshone, have moved from Pocatello to Adrian, Ore. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nephi Clark.

SELECTED GLENN'S FERRY—The Glenn's Ferry High School student council elected Paul Strain well-stocked, according to the month of December.

No formal opening date has been set, but Miss Porterfield said the museum will definitely be open to the public by September.

As the project progresses, it is hoped that permanent displays can be made in the building and that outdoor displays can be built.

Other officers of the society are Les McGregor, president, and Ed Jagels, curator.

Refreshments were served by Peggy Ewing, Vicki Simons, Celia Gould, Lu Ann Howard, Linda Monroe, and Carol Wright.

Rupert Okays Improvement

RUPERT — Rupert City Councilmen Tuesday night approved a contract with the local school district and adopted a resolution establishing Local Improvement District 12 during their regular meeting.

The contract with the school district outlined a payment plan for the district's share of the cost of the new LID, which involves the northeast section of the city, in which Lincoln Memorial and Washington schools are located.

The estimated cost to the school district for its portion of the improvement would be between $25,000 and $30,000, to be paid from the plan's facilities fund levy and paid off in three years.

Plans for the LID 12 were originally planned for LID 11, which had to be begun again after City Attorney Bill Goodman reported that the bonding attorney refused to sell the bonds for the proposed LID, because of legal publication of intent to form the district.

Salvation Army Holiday Activity Noted

The Salvation Army in conjunction with the YWCA, secured the names of 53 families who needed food and clothing on the holidays, according to Capt. George Driver.

Wildlife Is Not Hurt By Winter Snow

To date, the deep snow in the northern section of Magic Valley has not caused any serious problems with deer and elk, at least in the Hiley-Ketchum area, according to Ray Lyon, conservation officer.

However, deer have been seen within the city limits at Shoshone and along Highway 33 between Shoshone and Hiley. At Shoshone farmers report some herds of deer have been helping themselves to grain and straw piles on North Shoshone.

Mr. Lyon said between 80 and 100 deer are wintering on the south side of Deer Creek ridge. Earlier in the season there was some difficulty with dogs.

Eugene Flowers said he has not yet seen any elk this season on Adams gulch, where elk have been fed in previous winters.

The fact that no deer or elk have yet been sighted close to Hiley or Ketchum indicates that warmer weather and wind has blown ridges in the Snowtooths, so the herds are able to find feed on them, Mr. Lyon said.

Fishing through the ice is being carried on at Little Wood River and Eish Creek. Big Wood River is open above Magic for white fish only. Good catches of bass are reported at Carey.

Mr. Schelske talked on the aid to dependent children phase of the department's work, and told of the various phases included in his work.

Reports were given on the rummage sale held in December. Mrs. Rolf Lucke announced the winter board meeting will be held Jan. 25 at the Thunderbird Motel, Boise.

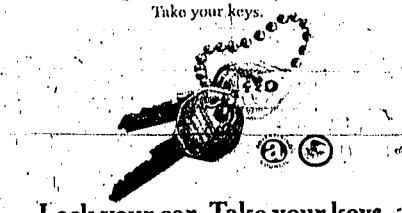

The next meeting will be an orientation meeting for new members.

Lock up your car instead of a kid.

People are usually surprised to find out how many criminals started as teen-aged car thieves. But that doesn't seem to stop them from leaving their cars unlocked and the keys in them.

Last year 76% of stolen cars were left unlocked; nearly half also had ignition keys in them! Even a kid can steal a car with a key in it. Maybe that's why more than half the car thieves in this country are under 18.

To steal your car and start a life of crime, young car thieves need your help. Don't give it to them. Lock your car. Take your keys.

Conditions In Chicago Are Described

BURLEY — Conditions in Chicago were described for Burley Chamber of Commerce members during the weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Bryan's Cafe by Dr. Bill Toolson, who is attending orthodontic training there.

Dr. Toolson, who took his family from Burley to Chicago six years ago for his training, said he plans to open an office in Twin Falls after graduating and will travel to Burley one day a week.

Taxes in the western suburbs of Chicago are double what they are in Cassia County, he noted. While many new buildings are going up in Chicago, including swimming pools at schools, in the southern section of the city school bonds have been defeated consistently for the past five years.

This has meant elimination of sports and music activities because of lack of funds. In the school where the Toolson children attend there is no hot lunch served and all students walk.

Dr. Toolson attended a dental school which is across the street from Cook County Hospital where many injured Negroes were brought during the riots which occurred following Dr. Luther King's assassination.

He noted that some Negroes threatened to burn the hospital when officials refused to release them in an effort to quell the rioting, but that also there were many hard working Negroes. It was announced that Jack Simplot will be the guest speaker for the annual chamber dinner, slated for Feb. 3. Tickets are available at the chamber office, said Ted Kelsey, president.

Oil Firms Deadlock In Strike

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The nationwide strike of 60,000 members of the oil, chemical and atomic workers union went into its sixth day today with the union and major oil companies reported still deadlocked.

A spokesman for the Denver-based union said Wednesday night that no progress had been made and none was expected immediately.

The union's 435 locals are seeking pay raises of 72 cents an hour over 23 months. The companies have offered "half that" according to the union.

Supplies of gasoline were reported sufficient across the nation. Shortages that have cropped up were blamed on failure of delivery men to cross union picket lines.

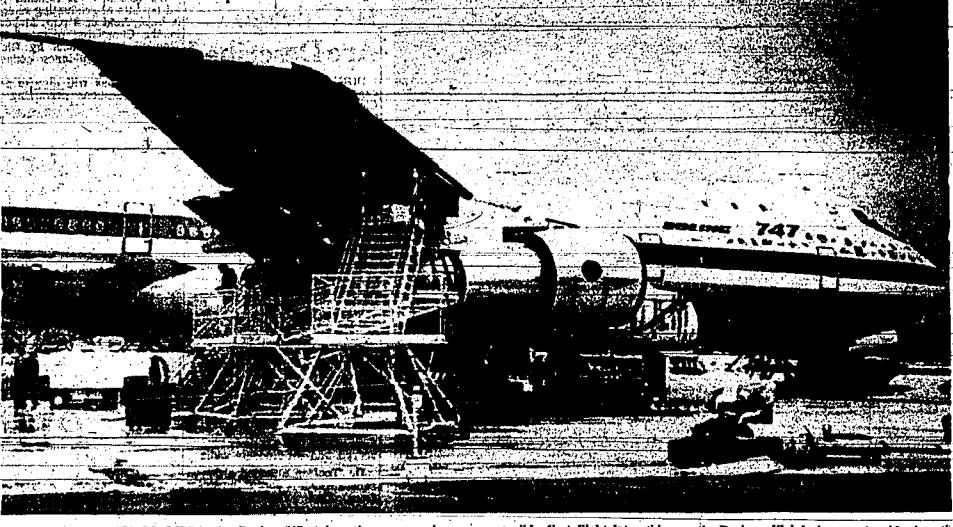

Temporary shutdowns in refinery operations were reported at scattered spots, including a Continental Oil Co. plant in the Denver suburb of Commerce City. A spokesman said equipment failure which triggered the shutdown could be repaired as early as Thursday.

A. F. Grospross, union president, said the union is "not a shenanigans" by the oil companies in Texas. Grospross said a judge there was single-minded in its function against the strike at a Texaco plant in Port Arthur, Tex., some 600 miles away.

Grospross said he ordered the men back to work Tuesday night "to play safe" but the company wouldn't let them in.

There was a single incident of violence reported Wednesday in Long Beach, Calif. Snipers fired on three oil company tank trucks, police said, puncturing the vehicles' radiators.

In Michigan, oil and gas shortages were reported. Officials said about 100,000 gallons of gas stations served by the eight struck companies have shut down, mostly because drivers would not cross picket lines.

Montana Rescuers Seek Lost Airplane

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Despite cold and snow because of the rescue, the Kotticks are being, they already have had to survive three nights of sub-zero temperatures.

The searchers planned to continue the search at least until Saturday.

The three said they believed the plane is down in that area because the pilot made no radio check with Mullen, Idaho near the Montana-Idaho border as flight plan scheduled.

Missing are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kottick and their two children, a boy and a girl.

The men, Bud Nelson of Great Falls, brother of Mrs. Kottick, and her two brothers-in-law, were flying to Northampton, Mass., for a festive dinner with daughter Julie and son-in-law David Eisenhower.

Nelson and wife Pat planned to arrive around dusk at the 555-a-month apartment of David and Julie, married here Dec. 22. The plane apartment is across the street from the Smith-Calkins campus where Mrs. Eisenhower is a student. Her husband commutes to classes at nearby Amherst College.

The President-elect, who planned to return to New York later tonight, was born in 1913 in a two-story frame house at York, Linda, Calif., near Los Angeles.

The birthplace sat in the middle of a falling lemon grove planted by Nixon's father, Long after the elder Nixon sold the property it became the site of an oil discovery that would have made the family millionaires.

Nixon spent much of Wednesday working on his inaugural address, a chore that he occupied him off and on for more than a month. Several speechwriters also have been employed at the task. The President-elect, who has been reading up on past inaugurations, wants the tone for his new administration with the Jan. 20 address that will be carried to the nation by television and radio networks.

No Pension Safety Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Aristotle Onassis has stopped receiving her $10,000-a-year presidential widow's pension at her own request.

The Treasury said Wednesday that the widow of President John F. Kennedy asked in a letter in late October that the pension end as of Oct. 1. She married Onassis, the Greek millionaire, on Oct. 20.

Legal authorities had disagreed over whether a presidential widow should continue to receive the pension after her remarriage.

State Police Officer Urges Efforts To Curb Speeders

BLACKFOOT (AP) — A Blackfoot-based Idaho State Police officer who arrested 310 motorists on moving violations in 1968 said he feels that cracking down on speeders saves lives.

Earl Farmer, who uses a stopwatch to clock speeders, has even stopped Bingham County Sheriff Arch Hess for driving above the speed limit.

About 400 of his 775 arrests in 1968 were for speeding violations. Farmer says, "I could have written twice as many."

"When drivers know the police are around and when they know they'll get nailed if they speed, they slow down," the officer maintains.

"High speed is what makes the most accidents and causes the factor that turns a lot of them into fatalities," he says. "When you cut speed you cut accidents and you cut traffic deaths."

Farmer Derrick, city manager, said after the city council Monday night between Mr. and Mrs. Noel Brittan and the city, the city will own all but two houses in the block.

Monday night the City Council voted to enter into a purchase with Mr. and Mrs. Brittan for the purchase of lots 5 and 6 in block 75.

Mr. Derrick said after the transaction is completed, the city will either try to sell the buildings on the Brittan property or tear them down. In any case, he said they plan to remove the buildings.

"The city needs the property for parking for city employees," Mr. Derrick said some day there may be a joint police-fire complex and it might possibly be constructed on the land adjacent to the city hall. In this case, he said, the land behind the city hall would very definitely be needed for parking space.

Dairy Clinic For Grocers Concluded

The dairy clinic sponsored by the Idaho Dairywomen's Association for grocery store managers concluded Wednesday afternoon, Joe Hall, Boise, manager of the Idaho Dairywomen's Association, said the sessions were held to help store managers train employees to make the most of their dairy products and dairy displays.

Mr. Hall said this is the first meeting of this kind, but they will hold similar meetings in Idaho Falls and Pocatello this week.

The major purpose of the meeting was to point out to the grocers the overall importance of the dairy products in their stores. Mr. Hall noted that per square-foot display space, there is more gross profit on dairy products than on any other type of product sold in the grocery store.

The grocers were given tips on promotion of the products, proper display, as well as cart and rotation of the items.

Special speakers at the workshop, in addition to Mr. Hall, were J. Jim Brennan, Boise, executive secretary of the Idaho Food-Dealers Association; Pat Tate, Boise, owner-manager of Tri-angel Dairy; Robert E. Black, University of Idaho Extension position; Elmer Smith, district manager of Kraft Foods, Salt Lake City, and Chai Loveland, Boise, sales manager for Meadow Gold.

Beautician Asks Right Of Bar Seat

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Lynnda McClellay is going to stand up for her rights—the right to sit at a bar.

Miss McClellay, 23-year-old Tacoma beautician, said Wednesday she plans to refile a suit to obtain that right.

State law allows women to sit at the bar in a tavern where no hard liquor is sold, but prohibits them from doing the same thing in a cocktail lounge.

Last Nov. 12, the permit, she says, she was denied by the liquor control board and a Tacoma cocktail lounge for the right to "position her person" at a bar stool in the lounge.

Pierce County Superior Court Judge William Brown dismissed the liquor board as a defendant.

McClellay said her attorney, Neil Hoff, will either refile the suit in Thurston County, site of the board's headquarters in the state capital of Olympia.

McClellay said her attorney said she would sue the board.

She said her action has caused considerable consternation and hurt the beauty salon business she operates with a partner.

"I've had a lot of letters and phone calls," Miss McClellay said. "The ladies of Tacoma are going to run me out of town, but no lady would want to sit at the bar."

"But I feel as deeply as ever about the unfairness of the law. I'm not going to give up. Women should have the same rights at the bar as men."

Burley Begins New Parking Meter Plan

BURLEY — "Validated parking meters" went into effect Wednesday in Burley. The 500 parking meters in downtown Burley have been filled with the metal tokens which are used as a nickel or dime to put into the parking meter.

For a minimum $2 purchase one token will be redeemed by participating stores.

The tokens may be redeemed at Roper's, Thriftway Drug, Western Auto, Jensen Jewelers, Cassia National Bank, Style Shop, Coast-to-Coast, Stoddard Appliance and Furniture, Seaman's, Paulson's Jewelry, McCallister Furniture and Appliance, McCaslin's Lumber, Kid-dyville, Dayley's Shoes, Lee's Furniture and Appliance, Hood's Shoes, Hogan's Leather Associates, Burley Reminders, Inc., Albertson's, Williams Sewing Center, Rita's Maxima Shop, J.C. Penney's, J and J Office Supply, The Fabric Center, Burley Rexall Drug, Bryan's Cafe, First Security Bank, Jolley's House of Gifts and Idaho Department Store.

Others are Mode-D-Day, Gardner's Electronics, Mini-Cassia Beauty College, Wolf Hardware, Pacific Supply Cooperatives, City Finance Co., Spencer's Office Supply, Fred's Miller Drug, Henderson's Dad and Lad, and Van Engelsen.

Burley is the first town in Idaho to make the change over in the parking meter system.

The new parking meter system will be paid for in about two years, reports Mayor Joe Peters, an actor that there is a chance that the parking fees could be lowered.

Under the new system a nickel-in-good-for-parking-30-minutes and a dime is good for parking one hour.

Maps Being Updated For South Hills

The updating of maps is a continuous process at the Sawtooth National Forest Service office in Boise.

Blain Maw, of the Forest Service's engineering department, said they are presently working on maps of the South-Hills-Twoon area in 1957. These will be ready in the next two years, he said.

He said the editing work was begun last summer. Two men from the regional office in Ogden worked for three months on the field editing. They surveyed and photographed some of the area by helicopter and drove over some of the woods.

Mr. Maw noted that the helicopter involves extra expense, but with the time element involved it was necessary to expedite the mapping.

"He said the maps are redrafted in Ogden and the men do not add on to the old maps. According to Mr. Maw, the maps of South Hills area are very outdated and have been in need of redrafting.

'Fidgety' Professor Views Scribbling On Rest Room Walls As 'New Art Form'

NEW YORK (AP)—A priest will listen to me," Robert Reiser, a fidgety, frizzly bearded little man who spends much of his time knocking on the doors of public rest rooms, said Wednesday.

"Is anybody in there?" he asks.

"Wait, wait. Who is that?" "Oh, pardon me, madam?" "This is the kind of activity, of course, that is dimly looked on by police and psychologists. But Bob Reiser gets away with it because he says he's looking for knowledge." More precisely, he's looking for graffiti (writing) which is so often and so solidly scribbled in public accommodations.

Reiser is perhaps the foremost graffiti expert around. He says he has visited "thousands of lavatories" and written two books on the subject, one of them titled "Selected Scrawls from Bathroom Walls." His "class meeting Mondays" is attended by six very interested girls and one very conspicuous Catholic priest.

Each student pays $67 for the lectures, which can best be described as scintillating. The girls scribble and scribble. Reiser smiles grimly now and then but smiles gamely through the four-lettered words.

Reiser tells his class that a graffiti comes from the Greek word graffiti, meaning "to scratch." He says the Bible mentions such handwriting on the wall. The Egyptians practiced it with hieroglyphics, and when archeologists excavated the ruins of Pompeii they found dirty ditties preserved by the lava.

But real appreciation of graffiti, says Reiser, did not come about until more recently when a more progressive society began examining the scrawls as a sort of art commentary on the modern scene. To wit: "Revive Fertility Rites." "Dial beer, not men." "Be creative, invent a sexual perversion." "Life is a hereditary disease." "I am the rightful heir to President Polk — but no one else is."

Reiser says such graffiti — patriotism, anarchism, humor, paths. He says much of it is clever, witty and intelligent, but he confesses most of it is base, obscene and utterly scroungy.

"Here's a base one," he says, writing on the blackboard. "I found it in a toilet on 14th St. It said, 'Smile, you're on Candid Camera.'"

This is when the class project begins to clang.

Reiser, a free-lance writer in his late 40s, says he is interested in all graffiti — dirty or not. He claims he scrawling is a kind of folklore.

He says his studies have convinced him that graffiti is practiced at all levels of today's society. He believes some executives write as brutally as sailors; some laborers put down remarkably thoughtful prayers and some kids ("who often learn to read from bathroom walls") are the wildest of them all.

As for women, Reiser says they generally make poor graffiti writers. He explains they do not get the same emotional kick out of it as old men. He says the scrawls in lady's rest-rooms are often the products of night custodians.

To prove his opinions, Reiser takes his class on field trips through the rest rooms of lower Manhattan. They are a curious lot, the students, weaving in and out of lavatories while passers-by watch with amused sniggers.

But Reiser, at least, cares about property. He urges the class on. He chases room occupants away. He leans over fixtures and examines every pencil mark. "Here," he says, "Oh, look at this. It's beautiful. Hey, isn't this great!"

When he notices his class lingering behind, shopping, he reminds them that the pursuit of learning is not easy. Then he remembers the girl friend he once lost because she got sick and tired of spending dates in these places.

Despite the girl quips and the tipsy nature of his class, however, Reiser says he's serious about graffiti. He says it's one of the fastest growing art forms and has become accepted in advertisement, politics and every day life.

"Graffiti," he says, in a line that might well grace a toilet wall somewhere in Manhattan, "has literally charged the face of the nation."

The use of the developed sites, which would include campgrounds, was down two and one-half per cent from 1967. In 1967 there was a 513,900 visitor-day use as compared with 500,900 for 1968.

Visitor use of the dispersed areas for hunting, fishing and hiking was up considerably. The total was 1,300,000 visitor day use in 1967 and 1,555,500 in 1968 and 23,700 in 1968.

Detroit Council Demands Data On City Affairs

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Common Council is fed up with having to find out about municipal affairs in the morning Free Press and afternoon News.

So the council Wednesday adopted a resolution forcing all city departments to submit information to it before it goes to the news media.

The resolution apparently was a result of council embarrassment over a Detroit News story that one of the many recommendations of a Model Cities proposal submitted to the council called for creating isolated districts with legalized prostitution.

Though this incident may have provided the impetus, council members have complained for years that newspaper articles often give them their initial contact with a proposal.

Filer Blood Drawing Is Successful

Filer's first blood drawing the year was termed "successful" when 77 units were collected at the Red Cross Blood Drawing held Wednesday in the American Legion Hall. The quota of 75 pints was topped by two pints. There were five rejects, and 30 pints given as replacements. Janet Ulrich and Mark Hall received one-gallon pints. Dr. Harwood L. Stowe gave medical assistance. Registered nurses in attendance were Mrs. Luther Thompson and Mrs. E. S. Luckert, all of Filer. Nurses aides were Mrs. Ernest Theener, Mrs. Paul Hainline, Mrs. Raymond Reichert, Mrs. George Grover, Mrs. Mabel Barron and Mrs. Velma Bulkley. Mrs. Raymond Campbell and Nelson Hansen served lunch to the donors. Cookies were donated by Mrs. Alfred Theener and Mrs. Elmer Parrott. Mrs. Gordon Schroeder furnished desserts for volunteers. Clerks for the drawing were Mrs. Edith Lammers, Mrs. Rex Lancelotti, William Rude, Mrs. Irene Childers, Mrs. Cecelia Doughy and Mrs. Parrott. Max Dwyer was campaign chairman and was assisted by Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Mrs. Joyce Harding, Mrs. Edward Johnson and Mrs. Richard Schwitzer. Use of the Hall is donated by the American Legion. Jerry distributed blood drop posters to technicians. Equipment was loaded and unloaded by Acme Machine Shop employees: John Ripston, Ludwig Byrd, John Lando, James Dall and Mr. Parrott. The Ruby Flower Shop donated and white flower arrangement for the refreshment table. Mrs. Parrott, chairman for the Filer area, expressed her appreciation to all donors and volunteer workers who helped in making the blood drawing go over the top. Filer's first blood drawing will be in July.

Young Oregon Priests Add Voices To Church Dispute On Clerical Celibacy

By GORDON G. MACNAB Associated Press Writer
In seeing married men at the altar. Many think the bishops believe laymen are not willing to accept the idea of married clergy. The young priests scoff at this. One said, taking note of the opposition of the older clergy, "Laymen will accept the change up with the clergy and the bishops." A Western Oregon priest in late 30s said, "The only way we can win is for a bishop to take the lead. It would help if a parish supported the idea and a congregation said so and urged the bishop to act." There are reports that a bishop in the Southwest has called on married priests to help with both confessions and the Mass in isolated communities. This is doubted by some and certainly lacks Vatican approval. But the priests hope that the Vatican will accept something it sees as an accomplished fact. They point out that married priests may now receive a dispensation and be restored to the full communion of the church, although they may not function as priests.

But the priests hope that the Vatican will accept something it sees as an accomplished fact. They point out that married priests may now receive a dispensation and be restored to the full communion of the church, although they may not function as priests.

Western Oregon priests are especially emphatic that laymen are prepared for it. They say retired Archbishop Edward D. Howard put the archdiocese on a course 20 years ahead of its time. Without a married clergy the Catholic church faces a grave shortage of priests, in the view of some. Already there are an estimated 5,000 towns in the United States lacking them. Priests are quitting and young men are not coming to the priesthood to fill the vacancies. This has not been true in Bishop Leitzig's diocese where there has been a surplus of priests, but it is true most places.

would avoid the obvious financial disruption of allowing marriage of priests who have no income except their clerical salaries. Moreover, one priest said, the married priests are a rich resource to be tapped not only to hear confessions and say Mass but to meet with priests and tell them about things outside church work. If the call should ever come. "The overall goal, though, is to allow priests to marry. Some suggest it should be optional for all. Others suggest there could be both a celibate clergy and a married clergy, with a priest declining at the end of his training. "They live in a hot-house world they are thrown off balance." One priest said he believed the most likely way of winning the point was through a powerful priest's association.

NASA Plans Busy Year For Space; Need For Funds Is Debated Heavily

By JIM STROTHMAN AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency's crystal ball for 1969 shows a busy year on the launch pads, on the moon and in the halls of Congress fighting for funds to continue a strong space effort beyond the lunar landing. Looking ahead to the next 12 months, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials privately express greater confidence in their ability to land men on the moon than in their ability to rally support for significant future projects. Budget pressures remain heavy. The Vietnam war and domestic programs demand funds that might otherwise go into space research, and space planners are closely watching for clues to how space will fare with a Nixon administration and a new Congress. Without sufficient funds, officials fear America's technological edge will be dulled and Russia will succeed in its race to be the first to colonize the moon and planets. America could accomplish two or three manned lunar landings this year. But funds do not exist to produce the know-how and hardware to set up a permanent base on the moon. NASA is preparing, meanwhile, to fly men in earth-orbiting workshops for up to 56 days beginning in 1971. The first three-man Apollo flight this year is scheduled as a 10-day earth orbit mission beginning Feb. 23. Planned by Altair Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian astronaut Russell L. Schweickart, the mission will be the first manned test of the type of craft that will taxi future astronauts from a three-man Apollo ship in lunar orbit to the moon's surface. Called a Lunar Module, the craft is equipped with four landing legs and will ride into space aboard the same Saturn 5 rocket that launches the main Apollo ship. Another important test of the Lunar Module is scheduled on Apollo 10 in mid-May when Stafford Corp. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young take the craft into orbit around the moon. Stafford and Cernan are to fly the vehicle within 10 miles

Chemist Makes Good On Vow To 'Neutralize Death Rays'

LINZ, Austria (AP) — "We would have buried dead dogs if that helped to cut down the accident rate" at a tricky spot of the Autobahn in Austria, an official here said. In fact, they did not do that, but instead allowed a rocket chemist to plant three metal loops there, when he claimed this would help to "neutralize death rays" at a tricky spot of the mishaps. The ex-chemist, Rudolf Wenger, said he went over the ground at kilometer-stone 120.6 of the Vienna-Salzburg Autobahn with a diving rod and discovered there were three underground streams. "These streams send out rays," he said. "They affect people and make them react in a peculiar way. We plan to 'neutralize' the rays, he planted three loops made out of what he called special metal. The Austrian Autobahn is fairly straight at a kilometer-stone 120.6, but 20 accidents occurred there from 1960 to 1966. One motorist was killed. Sixteen of the accidents puzzled police, as there appeared to be no reason for their occurrence.

Perhap it was the loops, or work done by the Autobahn department to improve the road here. After Wenger and the Autobahn department carried out their jobs there in 1000 only eight accidents took place, all due to explainable causes. George J. Lator, of the Autobahn department, said, "We told him to go ahead because after all we were certain they (the metal loops) would do nothing. Another official made the comment that they would have buried dead dogs had it helped to cut down the accident rate."

Motorist Loses Full Gas Tank

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Police spotted an automobile gas tank, filled with gasoline, on a city street. They were carrying the tank to the curb when a motorist stopped and reported a car stalled on the opposite side of the street. Police located the stalled car and found the driver checking the car engine for possible trouble. Officers checked the other end of the car and informed the motorist his gasoline tank was missing.

Turbulent South Africa Mixes Politics, Sports In Melee Of Racial Confusion

By KENNETH L. WHITING
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Interest in sports runs high in South Africa, and the man in the street has been disappointed recently to find that politics and sports mix in about the same manner as oil and water.
Political waves churned up by apartheid swamped several events, and national pride was easily bruised.
There are other problems from being kicked around among whites when they gather in the warm southern hemisphere evenings for the breskiet, or cricket barbecue.
The cost of living is creeping up. Black servants have trouble with the authorities over work-residence permits. Traffic jams seem worse than ever. Universities promise more grants to get students from Africa tested out of the continent in 1969. Africans and Asians in the United Nations are denouncing South Africa again.

Ex-'Attorney' Ends 'Career' Due To Health

WASHINGTON (AP) Daniel Jackson Oliver, would-be Holmes-Morgan lawyer, can't realize his dream of arguing law before the Supreme Court. Morgan, who posed as a lawyer for years before being sent to prison in 1961, asked the court Wednesday to appoint a lawyer for him. He pleaded poor health and the need to "unclivized treatment" at Leavenworth federal prison.
Morgan's appeal, expected to go before the Supreme Court in a month or two, grew out of his claim that he was dragged, hauled, clubbed and choked at Leavenworth.
His imprisonment and early release had not removed his taste for litigation and he first told the court he wanted to plead his own case.
Morgan, who lives in Washington, asked the court Wednesday for a free lawyer because he said he was "a poor person without funds."
The court is likely to meet his request.

CSI Biennial Report To Be Published

A biennial report on the College of Southern Idaho will be included in a state publication which will cover the operations of all public colleges in the state over the past two years.
The eight-page report covers CSI's finances, its physical facilities, library, educational program, instructional staff and student personnel services over the past two years.
It also contains a forward by Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, in which he states that during the coming biennial the college anticipates a growth in enrollment and physical facilities. The forward also states that the college plans to add new programs and improve upon existing programs and services.

Princeton Students Issue 'Anti-Blind-Date' Volume

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—The editors of Princeton University's intellectually oriented student newspaper have turned Cupid.
"They published a slim volume for selective suitors containing brief biographies and snapshots of 1,500 coeds at eight exclusive women's colleges."
The book, entitled "Who the Girls Are" and priced at $2 a copy, is a sequel to their 1965 edition of "Where the Girls Are."
If history repeats itself, "Girls" will be a best seller in college bookstores.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last week I asked my mom if I could go to a party and she said yes. My girl friend's mom promised to give us there and mom promised to drive us back.

Well, today my mom asked me to help her take down the Christmas decorations so I took down a few things, and then I got tired so I sat down to rest for a while. Then I went off and forgot all about it, and besides I just wasn't in the mood to do much of anything.

In a while my mother came in and very politely told me that I wasn't going to the party. Do you think this was fair punishment for what I did? My mother PROMISED, and she went back on her word.

Now my girl friend is mad at me because I spoiled all her plans for the party.

My mom regards your column so I wish you would put this in with what you think of mothers who go back on their promises. Thank you.

PUNISHED

DEAR PUNISHED: The punishment should fit the "crime." Your mother should have ordered you to "act in the mood" for a little manual labor like cleaning out the basement or garage.

DEAR ABBY: Has what you give a man who has everything? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If I were with the Internal Revenue Department, I'd give him an AUDIT!

DEAR ABBY: Tell that 44-year-old woman who cried her eyes out and blamed her husband when she discovered she was pregnant that she should dry her tears and thank God.

I was 46 when the same thing happened to me. I'll admit, I was terribly upset at first (shame on me!) but I didn't let it get to me. I finally faced it with a smile. Abby, I had dentures and my hair was nearly white when I carried that child—but now I can truthfully say that it was the most marvelous thing that could ever have happened to my husband and me. Our late baby has been the joy of our lives.

I think there could be a hereditary factor involved with late babies—as my brother was nearly 66 when he fathered twins. And my own mother was 48 and Dad was 65 when I was born.

DEAR ABBY: You stated that it is possible for two brown-eyed parents to produce a blue-eyed child, but the reverse is NOT true. According to the natural laws of genetics, the chances of two blue-eyed parents producing a brown-eyed child are about 1 to one million. This is what is known as a "mutation" or a freak of nature, but it is possible. So please print this for the benefit of those to whom it may be important.

Don't give up giving advice, Abby. But please give up genetics.

Stocks

CLOSING SUMMARY NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher Thursday after three days of losses...

A strong technical rally in the morning carried the market to the Dow industrial reached 930.76, up 9.51.

There was good demand for the blue chips and time issues, but shortly after noon prices began to drift lower.

By the close most of the planer issues had given up their early gains. These included Continental Data, Scientific Data, Burrows and Honeywell, Xerox slipped to the downside but Polaroid saw firm demand and gained more than four points.

Airlines were fractional-gainers, with Grumman the stand-out. Gold stocks were higher as the demand for the metal continued in London and European markets.

Q—I'm holding 200 shares of a stock costing $23 a share, sold to me by telephone several years ago. No one told me it was a scam, and I was given no information about the company. Shares were then active on the American Exchange, but the salesmen disappeared, his firm moved away, and my stock dropped out of sight. What do I do?—E.P.

As a stockholder you could write to the company, now located at 7 E. 48th St., New York City, asking for up-to-date information. Your experience is one reason for the familiar saying, "let the buyer beware."

Q—On 10-18 the Fed, which is this nation's central bank, raised to 5 1/2 per cent from 5 1/4 per cent the interest charges on money it makes available to its member banks.

This lending—this credit—is really the source of the money that flows in this country. And in raising the price of credit, the Fed's intention is to credit a lot of potential borrowers out of the market.

Q—The banks did worry. The cost of money is to bank what the price of fabrics is to a clothing manufacturer or a retailer or a lumber, or prescription ingredients to a pharmacist. They would have to either raise prices or absorb the increase.

Q—The banks became especially worried by another Fed attitude that made it more difficult to obtain loans—later—resale of securities of the price they were willing to pay if declined.

Cuban Refugee Says 1,000 Have Died Seeking Freedom

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A young Cuban refugee who braved kill dogs and machine-gun fire to reach the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo said Wednesday about 1,000 people had been killed in the past year trying to cross the fence to freedom.

The 18-year-old youth was one of 87 refugees who dashed into the base Monday morning in what is believed the largest mass escape from the Castro regime.

However, for every two people who didn't make it across the fence Monday, one stayed behind, he said.

"It was horrible for the ones who didn't make it," said the youth, who wouldn't give his name to newsmen. "I saw the guards shoot three of the prisoners at close range. They just tumbled over."

Eighty members of the group were in Miami Wednesday aboard two U.S. Navy planes.

One of the men said three members of the group were cut down by machine-gun bullets and a woman was torn apart by dogs loosed by guards who patrolled around the naval base.

The man, who also declined to give his name, for fear his relatives in Cuba would be harassed, said two guards were killed by escapees' bullets.

"Transported to Miami were 46 men, 13 women and 21 children. Seven remained at the naval base.

One of the leaders said the escape took place early Monday when the group stole a truck in Havana and began a 600-mile westward journey to the base, picking up passengers as they went. By the time they reached the base, more than 120 were crammed into the truck.

"We parked the truck about 600 meters from the base and ran for it," said one of the men.

"The men carried the children and a lot of those who didn't make it were women and children."

He estimated about 30 members of the group failed to get across the base's barbed wire fence.

"We ran like rabbits and fell over each other when the guards began firing," said a slim youth. "Then they turned loose about a dozen dogs. I think they were Russian dogs, big black dogs."

"Shootings there are not unusual," said the 18-year-old.

"About 1,000 persons must have lost their lives in the past year trying to get inside."

In Washington, the Navy refused to discuss the incident, which is the normal policy.

Hundreds of Cuban workers used to cross daily to jobs on Guantanamo but six years ago the Cuban army stopped the crossings and cleared a wide swath of brush away from the chain-link fence girding the base.

Cuban machine-gun posts now surround the perimeter.

Budget Plans Completed At Richfield

RICHFIELD — Richfield city board members met Monday night to discuss the annual budget, dog licenses, and opening the road to the city dump grounds.

Budget plans are being completed this week with date of the public hearing to be announced.

Dealing for purchase of a new city fleet of cars, the dogs without tags worn on collars will be impounded for a 24-hour period. Licenses must be purchased and a two dollar fee paid to redeem the dog. Others will be disposed of.

Sluder Construction Firm will be contacted to open the road to the city dump ground, now closed by deep snow and drifts.

Directional Sign Asked For Pomerelle

RUPERT — State Rep. Steve Antons said that he has asked the State Department of Highways to erect a directional sign on Interstate 80N, signifying that the Pomerelle Ski area is located south of Rupert.

Rep. Antons said that he had asked District two highway engineer Hjalmo Sessions, Shoshone, to check the possibility of having the sign erected for both east and west bound traffic at the Declo interchange.

He said that he must continue to attract tourists to Idaho and hope to accomplish this by letting travelers know where an area such as Hells Canyon is located.

The District 211 Representative pointed out that tourism is one of the major industries in Idaho which has tremendous potential.

RCA Products Show Growth

NEW YORK — Proof of the acceleration of progress is the fact that of the more than 12,000 products produced by RCA, fewer than half of them were in existence 10 years ago. And new products have a shorter life cycle than ever before.

Rich rewards for any new development can be reaped only if its creator can get it to the marketplace speedily and efficiently.

THIS WEEK EAT ..... CAMARAO

CAMARAO could either be Portuguese for Shrimp (When you see Portuguese popping up in the Swenson ads two weeks in a row, you know the grocery business is really getting rough), or a misspelled car.

We're sure that the people at General Motors didn't know that Camaro almost means Shrimp in Portuguese or that Shrimp in Portuguese almost spells Camaro. You don't see too many glamorous cars named after Crustaceans.

Since G.M. probably won't be paying for any of this, what we're really trying to advertise is CAMAROS (PROLAPD PORTUGUESE FOR SHRIMP). Here is the story as told by the U. S. Dept. of Interior and Dept. of Agriculture.

HERE IS THE STORY:

From the inshore waters of Alaska, and the coastal waters of Washington, Oregon, and California, fishermen harvest shrimp which tempt and tantalize the palate of the average man as well as the gourmet. These shrimp are relatively small in size, and are generally designated in the market as "North Pacific King Shrimp." When cooked, they are light orange-red in color and have a delicate flavor. Prized as a cocktail and salad shrimp, they are often overlooked as an excellent source of high-quality protein, minerals, and vitamins for hearty main dishes.

Special handling is necessary to preserve the form and quality of these shrimp, as they are very small, running 90 to 150 to the pound. Through modern processing methods, the industry offers the homemaker an economical, ready-to-eat shrimp of superior quality.

Many T.F. County Citizens Have Inaugural Invitations

Many Twin Falls County residents have received an invitation from President-elect Richard Nixon to attend the Jan. 20 inauguration in Washington, Jack Chishorn, Rep. Roy Lind, D. C., according to C. D. Lunte, Rep. William Roberts Buhl, chairman of the county GOP party.

Mr. Lunte said that he had no idea just how many invitations have been received by area residents, but that most party-workers and financial contributors to the Republican cause have been invited to Mr. Nixon's inauguration.

The number invited is at least 100 and maybe several hundred from all indications.

Mr. Lunte said Republican elected officials from the county have received invitations. Twin Falls County's state senators heard of no one in the county who is invited to the inauguration. Others invited are state Sen. George Ford, and his wife, who is chairing the Twin Falls County cans.

David Mead, son 5 of the Twin Falls County, was invited to Detroit, Mich. by chairman for George Hanse those invited, said that he has campaign for

Dependency Can Be Puzzler

Editor's Note: It is time to think about the income tax again. This is Chapter Four of a series reviewing the regulations with emphasis on taking advantage of all exclusions and deductions legally due you.

By RAY DE CRANE
 Most people are aware of the added $600 exemption credit they receive when they turn 65 and another exemption credit for blindness and of the $500 credit for each dependent.

questioning by Internal Revenue and a request for a greater tax payment.
 Here are typical "special situations" which have a way of popping up in almost everyone's return at some time:
 A dependent daughter was married in the latter part of 1955. Can she be claimed as a dependent by her parents who supported her for perhaps 11 months of the year?
 A son or daughter graduated in June and started to work. Can the parents claim the graduate as a dependent since they paid total support for the first six months and partial support thereafter? And what if the new worker makes no contributions to the parents' expenses after graduation?
 What about an elderly parent who lives in your home and receives Social Security? Can you claim her as a dependent? "You know they can't get along on their small pension and need help from us," is the usual complaint.

 What happens when a dependent dies during the year? May the estate be claimed as a dependent? And what effect does the birth of a baby toward the end of the year have on your return?
 The simplest of all will be answered immediately. In the event of death the status is determined by the status at the time of death. If at death the party was a dependent of yours, you get the full year's credit. A baby born any time during the year—even on New Year's Eve—entitles the parents to a full year's dependency credit.

The daughter who married in the latter part of 1955 is entitled to file a joint return with her new husband. If they file a joint return or if she is listed as an exemption on his return, you are out of luck. But if the new son-in-law files a separate return and does not list his wife as an exemption, you may claim her as a dependent on your return if she meets the qualifications of a dependent.

The chief support test for claiming a dependent is the requirements that you furnish the chief support (more than 50 percent) and that the dependent does not have more than $500 gross income. While the income limitation is waived for your children under 19 and some other dependents, it is not waived for a dependent for at least some part of each five-month period during 1955. The chief support requirement, therefore, produces this immediate question: "Just how much can my student son or daughter safely receive from you and still be claimed as a dependent?"

There is no uniform answer. The important thing that must be determined is the cost of total support for the child in 1955. Relatively easy to determine is the amount of support more than half of that total support.
 The fact that the student may have contributed little or nothing at home is unimportant in determining his status. What determines his contribution to his support, even though trifling, is the amount of support you furnish.

The same reasoning is followed on the question of claiming a parent for a dependent. Only the amount of support you furnish is important. The fact that the parent may have contributed little or nothing at home is unimportant in determining his status. What determines his contribution to his support, even though trifling, is the amount of support you furnish.

Retiring Envoy To Mexico Cites Progress In Trade

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Full-scale meetings between President Johnson and Mexican President Calderon in the United States this month, wearing the highest honors Mexico has ever offered, and basking in probably the best relations the neighboring countries have ever enjoyed, is becoming a reality, according to a Foreign Service officer, becoming president of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Relations.

Freeman said that the United States and Mexico are at an altitude now which has seldom if ever been reached in diplomatic relations between the two, Freeman said.

Freeman, father of three married daughters, was appointed ambassador by President Johnson in February 1964, after three years as ambassador to Colombia.

Freeman lists several reasons for solid improvement in relations between his country and Mexico.
