

Consumer Prices Record Sharpest Increase In 15 Years During 1968

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Consumer prices made the sharpest rise in 15 years since the Korean War, the government reported today.

The Labor Department reported that the consumer price index in 1968 rose an average of 4.2 per cent over 1967.

The index last month was actually 4.7 per cent higher than it was in December, 1967, but the Bureau of Labor Statistics explained that the over-the-year increase averaged out to 4.2 per cent.

Both increases were the largest since the Korean War years—1950-51, when prices rose 8 per cent.

The consumer price index for December was 123.7, meaning that goods and services that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period had risen to a cost of $12.37.

Prices in December rose two tenths of 1 per cent, primarily as a result of increased food and housing costs. The two-tenths of one per cent increase was one of the smallest one-month rises in 1968, but normally consumer prices don't rise at all in December.

The most significant indicator in the report was preliminary estimates that wholesale prices in January, 1969, are showing their largest increase since February, 1968.

The last year's prices rose even close to 4 per cent, since the Korean War period, was in 1958 when the index rose 3.5 per cent and in 1966 when it climbed 3.3 per cent.

In November the index rose 4.8 per cent above the level for November, 1967.

Labor Department officials predicted earlier that the rise for 1968 would be "slightly more" than 4 per cent.

If the wholesale price trend indicated for this month continues, the rises will be generally reflected later in the year at consumer price level.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, would not venture a prediction as to what he felt consumer prices might do in 1969.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson's Council of Economic Advisors predicted last month that prices in 1969 would rise 3 per cent.

Over the year, grocery store food prices rose by 4 per cent while the cost of restaurant meals jumped up 5.7 per cent.

Another major item in the average family budget, medical costs—rose 7.3 per cent for the year.

The cost of consumer services rose 6.1 per cent since December, 1967, with nearly all expenses connected with owning and maintaining a home showing an increase.

The price increases have been the result of an inflationary era which has been with the nation almost continuously since the end of 1965.

About the only major category that showed any decrease in December was the price level of new and used cars, which dropped from November. New car prices during the month went down 1.1 per cent and used car prices dropped nearly 2 per cent.

Viet Cong Will Observe 'Truce' Over Tet Holiday

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist ground forces "three more American helicopters in South Vietnam, military spokesmen said today. The Viet Cong announced they would observe a truce during the Tet holiday next month and the Allies said they had the proposal "under consideration."

The downing of the helicopters brought U.S. aircraft losses since the new year to 31. Military sources said the losses were heavy in light of the limited extent of fighting since the first of the year.

Communist forces have improved anti-aircraft defenses at their strongholds in South Vietnam and have moved an entire battalion of anti-aircraft guns into the Cambodian border region northwest of Saigon, the sources said.

The Viet Cong announced in a radio broadcast monitored in Saigon that the Tet holiday ceasefire Feb. 15-22. Last year during Tet, the Communists called a truce, then launched their biggest offensive of the war against South-Vietnamese cities.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said that "because of the last Tet offensive" it was "too soon" to announce the one year date for a Tet ceasefire this year. He said any ceasefire "will not last long if there is one."

Viet. President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam said in Paris Monday his government might declare a 20- or 48-hour truce. He said a new Communist offensive would be crushed with "heavy losses."

About 500 Communist troops attacked a South Vietnamese airborne battalion outpost 64 miles northwest of Saigon Tuesday, military spokesmen said, following a two-hour barrage with a ground assault.

The government soldiers repulsed the attack killing 23 Communist while sustaining 100 casualties.

American infantrymen operating with Navy river patrol boats uncovered a three-ton Communist weapons cache 23 miles southwest of Saigon Tuesday.

Inter-Arab Strife, New Iraq 'Trial' Trouble Mideast

By WILBORN HAMPTON
United Press International

A Syrian diplomat was shot and wounded today in Baghdad by an Iraqi intelligence agent, the Syrian Foreign Ministry announced in Damascus. The shooting added the threat of inter-Arab strife to a Middle East already gripped in a new crisis.

New spy trials were reported under way in Iraq despite worldwide protests and warnings that the hangings of nine Jews Monday could lead to Israeli reprisals and the possibility of a new conflict in the Middle East.

The Foreign Ministry identified the wounded diplomat as Abdel Karim Sabbagh, political attaché at the Syrian Embassy in Baghdad, capital, said he was shot while entering a car through the Baghdad streets and that Syria had strongly protested the incident.

The reported shooting emphasized the division within the Arab world, it said, in the party centering on elements backing or opposing Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser have led to a series of political convulsions in both Syria and Iraq.

The new tension, between Syria and Iraq coincided with start of the new spy trials in Baghdad. Reports in Cairo said those on trial were "imperialists" but Israeli officials said earlier 60 to 65 Jews faced immediate trial on espionage charges.

"Imperialists" could refer to any force seeking to overthrow the Iraqi government of Premier Ahmed Hassan Al-Bakr in the run that has seen some, but political turmoil since the monarchy was overthrown in July, 1958, and King Faisal II was slain.

A new warning of the dangers facing the Middle East came today from President Charles de Gaulle of France who told his weekly cabinet meeting in Paris that the Mideast will lapse into bloody chaos unless the big four powers find a joint peace solution.

Stroser emphasized the growing Mideast tension in a speech today to an Arab solidarity conference in Cairo when he called for the six great powers to end the conflict of 1967 was "prelude to a war which is not over yet."

Both the United States and Britain issued appeals to the Israeli government not to carry out reprisal attacks against Iraq or the 10,000 to 20,000 Iraqi prisoners in the hands since the 1967 June War. The fear was that reprisals could lead to another war.

Idaho Legislators Study Hunting Fees

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho House of Representatives will consider today a bill to raise the deer-only, out-of-state hunting license fee from $25 to $50.

The House's Resources and Conservation Committee gave the "do pass" recommendation to the proposal on Monday. Fish and Game Department representatives said they were seeking the increase to allow for better control.

Out-of-state hunters purchase an estimated 3,000 tags a year.

The House and Senate resumed action this morning after more committee meetings.

Gov. Don Samuelson said Thomas McInerney, D-Pocatello, said he felt the "deer is going to blow off" when it is realized there is not going to be enough to provide a $500 a year raise for each of the state's school teachers.

The State Department of Public Education was asked to clarify the situation with teachers' salaries.

McAteer said a clarification should be made to point out that state money is appropriated to local districts on an average daily attendance basis which would prevent the automatic raises for all teachers.

Sen. Reed Budge, R-Soda Springs, commented during a speaking that there is a "continuing need for raising the requested $500 average increase in teachers' salaries during the next biennium."

Budge said under the present state funding distribution formula "districts which don't have money are still not going to have money and all teachers are still going to get the $500 raises."

In other developments Tuesday, the House defeated, 42-22, a bill to award honors for meritorious service to citizens of Idaho and servicemen by the governor.

The Senate passed, 20-4, a measure making the Legislative Council instead of the attorney general responsible for drafting statements of purchase for proposed constitutional amendments.

And, after considerable debate, the Senate approved by a 25-16 vote a bill to require uniform annual observation of four holidays on Mondays to comply with federal law.

Allies Complete 'Strategy' To Speed Progress In Parley

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. and South Vietnamese negotiators completed today what they called a "flexible" strategy designed to prevent deadlock in Thursday's second Vietnam peace meeting with the Communists, sources here hoped the Communists would agree to discuss military matters first, such as the reestablishment of the Demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam.

Henry Cabot Lodge, the U.S. negotiating chief, proposed that the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegates indicated they hoped the Communists would agree to discuss military matters first, such as the

Heart Attack Claims Life Of Twin Falls Businessman

Paul R. Taber Sr., 76, a prominent Twin Falls business and civic leader, died Tuesday evening of a heart attack.

He was a patient at the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital at the time. Shortly before his death he had been admitted to the clinic for treatment of injuries following a two-car collision at the intersection of Eighth Avenue East and Shoshone Street.

Police Chief Frank Barnett said it is, apparent Mr. Taber did not die as a direct result of the injuries sustained in the accident. He added, however, that investigation was continuing to see if the death might be ruled as a traffic fatality.

First Woman Prosecutor Hired By T. F. County

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Twin Falls County, as most residents like to tell, is first in many things and the county has done it again.

A woman has been hired as deputy prosecutor. She is the only woman in Idaho serving in that capacity. In fact, she might be the only woman to ever serve in Idaho as a deputy prosecutor.

At least Mrs. Maureen Warren has been told she is the first. She was hired Monday by Prosecutor Robert Galley. She will take over the duties handled by Mr. Galley before he took the oath of office two weeks ago as the county's prosecutor.

Mrs. Warren, the mother of four children, was born and raised in Idaho and is a 1967 graduate of the University of Idaho law school. For the past two years she has practiced law with the firm of Jones and Jones in Boise.

Law, it seems, runs in her family. Her father and her brother are both lawyers. Their names also happen to be Jones.

"I wanted to break away from the family firm and get out on my own," the blond-headed deputy prosecutor said Tuesday. She said Twin Falls was the right size to raise a family. "I'm really happy to come here and work as a deputy prosecutor," she said.

"Her past experience has been as a defense attorney. In switching to the role of prosecutor, Mrs. Warren said, it should be real challenging."

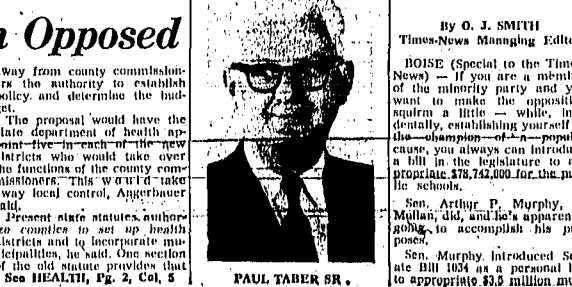

Her family will join her in Twin Falls later this week. Mrs. Warren will handle original matters and work on other legal duties assigned her by Mr. Galley. Her office is in the new judicial building near the Twin Falls County courthouse.

Merger Plans Of T.F. Bank Are Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The merger of the Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls, Idaho, and the state's largest bank, Idaho First National Bank of Boise, was approved Tuesday by Comptroller of the Currency William D. Conn.

The bank of Boise, third largest in the state, has been granted permission to open a branch in Twin Falls and construction of a downtown location is now under way. This move, it is pointed out, will challenge the existing branch of the First Security Bank of Boise, the state's second largest.

By joining forces with the Idaho First National, the federal official said that the Fidelity Bank will merge with other things, a trust department, credit card services and other customer benefits.

Murphy Makes Opponents Squirm School Fund Bill Frets Foes

By O. J. SMITH
Times-News Managing Editor

BOISE (Special to the Times-News)—If you are a member of the minority party and you want to make the opposition squirm a little — while you do it — establishing yourself as the champion of a popular cause, you always can introduce a bill in the legislature to appropriate $75,742,000 for the public schools.

Sen. Arthur P. Murphy, D-Mullan, did, and he's apparently going to accomplish his purpose.

Sen. Murphy introduced Senate Bill 1034 as a personal bill to appropriate $3.5 million more for the public schools than Gov. Don Samuelson recommended in his executive budget.

As a result, teachers throughout the state are putting on a letter-writing and telephone campaign to their legislators urging them to go all out in support of Sen. Murphy's bill.

The only trouble is they don't realize that Sen. Murphy's bill will not get to the floor and he never expected that it would. It's too good a hand in the legislature for that.

He knows he can do all the legislators, that the appropriations bills always comes out of the finance and appropriations committee, not as personal bills. He also knows there is a pretty good chance the committee will give up with an appropriation approximately the figure in his bill. He can't lose. A lot of people are going to believe that the appropriations bill that comes out is his bill, which he introduced one first, and he's the champion of the teachers and the education crowd.

Meanwhile, he's causing the opposition party some "embarassment" by having to answer the letters and calls from their constituents urging them to support the Democratic Senator's bill.

And, if it should happen that the committee comes out with an appropriation substantially less than his proposed $75.7 million, he always can say, "I tried."

Health District Plan Opposed

By GEORGE DAILMEIER
Times-News Staff Writer

Representatives of the seven area counties and the City of Twin Falls, belonging to the South Central District Board of Health Tuesday opposed a two bill currently before the Idaho Senate that would reorganize the South Central District Board.

The eight representatives met in Jerome to voice unanimous opposition to Senate Bills 1030 and 1032 which are proposed would eliminate and then reorganize the health district.

South Central District Board Chairman John K. Angerbauer, representing the Twin Falls City Council said following the meeting the proposed reorganization has some justification but our main objection is that it would take away local control.

He said the county commissioners in the seven-county district "violently" opposed to the bills.

Bill 1030 he said, would abolish the present health district and bill 1032 would create seven health districts within the state. Major portions of the designated district number five, he said the bills would take away from county commissioners the authority to establish policy, and determine the budget.

The proposal would have the state department of health appoint five-in-a-row the new districts who would take over the functions of the county commissioners. This would take away local control, Angerbauer said.

Present state statutes authorize counties to set up health districts and to incorporate municipalities, he said. One section of the old statute provides that

Bucher Hopes To Regain Ship's Helm

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI) — Pueblo skipper Lloyd M. Bucher has two main goals — to clear his name and again command a U.S. Navy vessel.

The 41-year-old commander of the intelligence vessel feels there is no need for Congress to look into the capture of the Pueblo by North Korea one year ago. Bucher says he is getting a fair hearing at a Navy court of inquiry. He thinks the public has overreacted to his narrative of capture and torture and particularly to the routine Navy warning he is suspected of violating Navy regulations for relinquishing his ship without a fight.

The civilian attorney for Bucher, E. Giles Harvey, made the point Monday at a news conference.

Harvey said Bucher was distressed at the impression he is being made a scapegoat for higher-ups.

One of those superiors, Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, testified in closed session before the five-judge board on Monday. Johnson will begin public testimony Wednesday. Other officers involved in the operational response to the Pueblo's radio messages for assistance will be called at the same time. Tuesday's session will be closed.

Harvey said Bucher agreed with Adm. Thomas Moorer, chief of naval operations, the Navy was simply seeking the facts.

He said Bucher hoped to command a U.S. vessel again. He said he thought the Pueblo skipper was eminently qualified.

That Day

Sunday is Groundhog Day and according to often reliable sources the duration of the winter will be determined that day when this little furry creature pokes his head above ground.

Adherents to groundhog folklore maintain that if the groundhog, or its western cousin (marmota marmota) emerges from his winter hibernation that day to find his shadow cast upon the ground, he will return to his burrow for at least another six weeks of winter weather.

However, the folklorists insist, if the groundhog fails to see his shadow Sunday, the Arctic winds will soon abate and the animal will remain above ground to greet an early spring.

Date Changed For Lincoln Budget Meet

SHOSHONE — The special meeting for Lincoln county commissioners to hear public opinions regarding the 1969 county budget has to be changed to 8 p.m. Feb. 7, according to Mrs. Luella L. Klusky, clerk.

The change is made from Feb. 3 in order not to interfere with the Chamber of Commerce meeting.

By setting up this extra meeting prior to the regular budget hearing on Monday, Feb. 10, the commissioners will then have time to consider the proposals made before taking final action on the budget.

At the public hearing Feb. 10 the budget may be lowered, but cannot be raised over the January proposed figures.

Pat Nixon Thrills Aid Club

WASHINGTON (UPI) — First Lady Pat Nixon made a surprise appearance Tuesday at the first weekly meeting of the Senate ladies' Red Cross unit. "So many of my old friends are here," she said, "and I believe in the work."

Almost nobody, including Mrs. Robert H. Humphrey, the retiring president officer, knew of Mrs. Nixon's plan. But she appeared with someone produced a big cake, with a "Welcome Back Pat" message in blue icing, led Mrs. Humphrey to presume the First Lady had confided in at least one of the unit's members.

The Senate wives roll-stands, makes layettes for the families of service men overseas and sell scarves.

They had been told that Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew would attend, and about 25 were on hand to meet the vice president's wife, their new presiding officer.

Long before Judy Agnew arrived, the First Lady made her unannounced appearance before the group, which was headed when her husband was vice president in the 1950's. Mrs. Nixon was dressed in the regular blue-gray Red Cross uniform worn by most members of the Senate ladies.

She chose a seat at one of the long tables in the committee office of the old Senate Office Building where the unit meets, and began to cut and fold squares of gauze.

It might have been eight years ago, when she regularly attended the meetings as the wife of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

She said she hoped to attend other sessions, when her schedule permits.

Mrs. Nixon received a warm but low-key welcome from her former colleagues. They were happy to have her back among them, and she already was at work when she arrived left their places to join her. She took a chair at a sparsely furnished table.

Mrs. Humphrey, surprised to discover a reporter in the room, explained that the 52-year-old group's sessions "traditionally close to the press and must remain so."

Work Opens In Public Lands Area

The Idaho Personnel Commission has announced a competitive continuous recruitment periodic examinations for positions in the Department of Public Lands.

Positions to be filled are for forest ranger, forest warden and assistant forest warden, at salaries ranging from $156 to $373, depending on classification.

Applications, available at local offices of the Idaho Department of Employment, should be addressed to the Idaho Personnel Commission, Capitol Building, Boise, Idaho, 83707. Deadline is Feb. 20, 1969.

The commission also announced examinations for ADF equipment operators, programmer trainees, programmers, programmer analysts, and systems analysts in various classifications.

Salaries range from $413 to $992, depending on classification.

June 30, 1969, is the deadline for filing applications with the Personnel Commission.

Dispute Brews Over Withdrawal Of Nominations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The dispute between President Nixon and former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark brewed today over whether the Nixon went back on his word by withdrawing former President Johnson's judicial nominations.

At his news conference Monday, Nixon said he "did not have any understanding with the President (Johnson) directly." Nixon said he had no discretion "to agree to a deal" that he would approve the nominations.

Former Monday Clerk said he had been informed by Nixon's attorney general, John N. Mitchell, that Nixon would not withdraw the nominations, and therefore, Johnson did not seek Senate confirmation.

AMENDMENT RULLED

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Senate will consider a memorial to Congress proposing that the U.S. Constitution be amended to give the President of the United States to be elected to one six-year term.

Nutritionist Scores Lack Of Interest In Proper Food

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A nutritionist at the University of Lancaster, Pa., recommended that Congress establish a federal program to coordinate an overall nutrition program.

Another witness, David Baird, director of research at St. Joseph Hospital, Lancaster, Pa., recommended that Congress establish a federal program to coordinate an overall nutrition program.

"Without this means, we will undoubtedly continue to fall short of our goals, despite increases in expenditures of time, effort and money within our existing framework of operation," Courtain said.

Mills Urges Modification Of Vehicle-Check Statute

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Law Enforcement Commission member Rep. James Martin (R-Burley) urged modification of the state's vehicle inspection law to require that certain kinds of farm vehicles be inspected for brakes only.

Mills testified before a subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee Monday that he opposes any exemption that would allow certain farm vehicles to be exempt from the law.

"If we're going to exempt these vehicles they should at least have brakes," Mills said.

Fidelity Bank Holds Annual Meeting Here

Directors of the Fidelity National Bank of Twin Falls met here Tuesday to elect officers and stockholders met in annual session.

Directors re-elected to their posts by the stockholders were Clyde R. Bacon, J. H. Breckenridge, L. A. Frazier, S. H. Graves, James S. Kiley, J. E. Ramsey, Gay H. Shearer and H. J. Stearley.

In his annual report, President Frazier offered a statement of confidence in the bank's future and called for improvement and growth in all banking activities during the year 1968.

The bank, with a motor branch in Twin Falls and branches at Filer and Hazelton, is a member of the Federal Reserve System and also the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Driver Finds Job 'Slippery'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Albert Parker, 64, a truck driver for the state highway department, found out the hard way why his job is so important.

Parker was on the way to spread salt on city streets Monday when the truck skidded on a slippery street and overturned, dumping four tons of the de-icer on Wilmer Ave. Parker received only minor injuries.

DRIVER ROBBED

MANILA (UPI) — A 27-year-old taxi driver appeared naked but police headquarters in suburban Quezon City on Tuesday and complained that two men and a woman held him and stole his cab, money and clothes.

Bills On Finances Approved

BOISE (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert Robson has handed down two rulings for State Finance Commissioner John Silva which indicate there is no conflict on two Senate bills changing the state finance law.

Robson ruled "there did not appear to be any reason state endowment funds cannot be invested in the private securities of the economy." He also said there did not appear to be any conflicting law in legislative enactments which require the payment of taxes by public depositories exacting a profit from public funds.

The opinion on the endowment fund was sought because of legislation introduced in the Senate during this 40th session of the Idaho Legislature to implement a constitutional amendment approved last Nov. 5 by the state's voters.

At the present time endowment funds may be invested in government bonds or state warrants. The amendments would permit a wide margin for investments that will mean gains of more than $3 million a year for the state's coffers.

Neither the state as trustee nor the public school system as beneficiary owns the trust reserve, therefore neither entity could be said to directly or indirectly own the stock purchased with the trust reserve," the opinion said.

It was stated that the Idaho Constitution requires the endowment fund to be a depository of state funds.

It was also stated in the opinion on the legislation that a national bank "does not have a vested right to be a depository of state funds."

"Therefore, as depositing of state funds is properly within the regulation and control of the individual state legislature, in necessarily follows that the state legislature may place reasonable restrictions on exactly which banks are eligible to receive state funds."

Under question was a Senate bill that would permit investment of state funds only in banks that pay state taxes.

BSC Instructors Begin Classes At State Prison

BOISE (UPI) — Boise State College has started teaching at the Idaho state prison.

Three courses are being offered at the new prison site south of Gowen. First of them are in chef training, electrical appliance servicing and farm machinery operation.

An $85,000 program from the Manpower Development and Training Act in financing the program, designed for 45 men.

Charles Rostron, director of the Boise State vocational-technical education division, is in charge of the courses.

'Super Weapons' Assailed Solon Asks Cost 'Crackdown'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John Stennis, recalling good old days when "you could buy a pretty good submarine for about $30 million," told the Pentagon Tuesday to clamp down on the increased cost of these super weapons.

Stennis' chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, also announced that his panel would start hearings soon on the proposed $79 billion defense budget which includes $500-million for three fast nuclear submarines.

"We're finding out that the increased cost of these super weapons is just tremendous," Stennis told Barry J. Shillito, President Nixon's choice as Assistant Secretary for installations and logistics.

Shillito appeared before the committee, which must approve his nomination before the Senate can confirm him.

Stennis told Shillito to try to stop cost "overruns," in which the Pentagon's final bill for a weapon is much more than originally estimated.

"When I came here you could buy a pretty good submarine for about $30 million," said Stennis. "Senator since 1948, I won't say what one of these new super subs costs—it may be classified—but it's just astronomical."

The three fast nuclear subs listed in the budget average about $180 million each in estimated cost. Most nuclear submarines cost the Navy about $100 million.

Stennis told the committee he would start hearings on the Defense Department budget submitted by the Nixon administration.

Author Sees U.S. President As 'Complex Human Being'

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Nixon is a "human being more complex and baffling than most," but still a basically good and decent American, writes author Allen Drury in the current issue of Reader's Digest.

Nixon is the most sophisticated political person in the United States, according to Drury, whose novel "Advise and Consent" about power politics in Washington won the Pulitzer Prize for literature in 1959.

The new President "doesn't expect to be loved but does hope to be respected," Drury said in the article.

The late Sir Winston Churchill is the world leader Nixon admires most, the article said. Nixon once said of the British prime minister, "He was never defeated; he was knocked down, and he came back, and it happened repeatedly. And he was such a complete man—such an indomitable spirit."

Drury's article quotes liberally from aides and intimates of Nixon in drawing a word portrait of a man "possessed of extra dimensions" which have finally brought him to the White House.

"In the possibility of world peace through a policy of firmness. —In his country, its heritage of freedom and its potential to serve both its citizens and the world. —That a person can accomplish a great deed if he is willing to plunge into the battle or accept the challenge. —That the individual American can achieve for himself a good and satisfying life if given the proper opportunity. —That 'lasting' progress in America is impossible until the racial crisis is solved.

Nixon To Combat Crime

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon told Republican congressional leaders Tuesday he wants to wage a "war on crime"—particularly in the nation's capital.

At a two-hour breakfast meeting with GOP leaders, Nixon also said he expected that the 10 per cent income tax surcharge probably will have to be continued through 1970.

Senate GOP Leader Everett McDirksen and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford told newsmen after the White House meeting that Nixon would ask Congress for more money to boost the Justice Department's crime-fighting efforts.

"We're going to ask for supplemental funds for whatever it takes to carry out this war on crime," said Dirksen, reporting on the meeting with Nixon.

Later, Ford told newsmen at the Capitol it was hoped the administration could "solve the problems of the District of Columbia, as an example" of a successful fight against crime. "We hope to use this as a showcase of what can be done," Ford said.

Dirksen and Ford did not specify how much money would be needed. They said it would go primarily for increasing judgeships, abolishing bail reform and expanding the staffs of prosecuting attorneys. "On the income tax surcharge, Dirksen held out little hope that the 10 per cent levy could be reduced or eliminated. "We maintain a surplus, the surtax certainly will have to be maintained for the time being," Dirksen said.

Teachers Confer With Trustees

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Representatives of 5,000 teachers at San Francisco State College met with the college board of trustees Tuesday to try and work out a solution to a problem that has almost immobilized the school for two months.

Trustee Louis Hellborn said both sides were "apart" following a similar 13 hours meeting Monday.

Some 350 members of the American Federation of Teachers walk off their jobs three weeks ago. They demanded better pay and working conditions and expressed sympathy with the students who have tried to close the school to win acceptance of 15 demands concerning minority races.

campus leaders of the Black Students Union and the Third World Liberation Front called for a "mass mobilization" on the campus Thursday, similar to a demonstration on Thursday at which 483 persons were arrested for failure to disperse on police orders.

"Thursday we're going back on that campus and we're going to shut it down," said Third World leader Hari Dollon.

Transamerica Expects Dispute Over Structure

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Transamerica Corporation announced Monday it plans to build a 1,000-foot-high building in downtown San Francisco, which would be the city's tallest structure.

John R. Beckett, chairman of the board of the big holding company, said at a news conference he expected the unusual pyramid-shaped structure, 55 stories topped by a spire, to be controversial.

"I'm sure there will be public debate," Beckett said, "but I think it fits the character of the city and I'm very pleased with the design."

The building was designed by architect William L. Pereira and will be built at a cost of approximately $30 million, scheduled for completion in the spring of 1972.

Interstate Route Noted By Chamber

GLENN'S FERRY—At Monday's luncheon meeting in Glenn's Cafe, Glenn's Ferry Chamber of Commerce members discussed the route of Interstate 80 N through Glenn's Ferry.

A group was meeting with the Elmore County Commission that same day to request the commissioners ask for a public hearing by the State Highway Board.

Edward Booker for the Department of Interior, Boise office, was slated as guest speaker, but he was unable to come this week. His visit will be next Monday, according to Bill Thompson, publicity chairman.

Booker will discuss proposed reclassification of land in the Owyhee area across the Snake River from the Glenn's Ferry Community.

Frank Clarke reported on a visit with Wilhelm Beckett, state director of parks, about the status of the Three Island State Park development. Beckett reported the project was awaiting funds.

Samuelson Sends Trio To Probe North Idaho Snow

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson said Monday night he is sending civil defense director Charles Rountree, Gen. James Brooks, acting adjutant general and Vic Richards of the state highway department to make an on-the-spot evaluation of severe snow conditions in Northern Idaho.

The inspection will be to determine how the state can help in the area from the Benevise area north.

Some snowdrifts, the governor said, are 18-20 feet high.

A report will be made back to the governor as soon as possible. The possibility exists that the national guard may be asked to aid in alleviating the problem.

"PRAYER" PROTESTED
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., is backing legislation to offer a constitutional amendment preserving the right of people to pray in state director of parks, about public buildings. The amendment would toss out any interpretation of the Constitution which would hold otherwise.

Bill To Repeal Pay Raise Gains

BOISE (UPI)—A bill that would repeal a legislative pay raise recommended by the Legislative Compensation Commission was introduced Tuesday by a bi-partisan trio in the Idaho House of Representatives.

The measure repeals a section of the 1967 law creating the commission which would have allowed the raise to take effect if the commission's action is not repealed by the 25th legislative day of the current 40th session. It was introduced by Reps. Walter Little, R - New Plymouth; Ward Chaburn, R - Albion; and Wayne Tibbitt, D-Rigby.

The plan of the commission would raise the pay of the lawmakers to $200 per month plus $25 per diem expenses and $10 per diem added salary while they are in Boise. The present legislative compensation is $3.50 per day or $103 per month and $25 per diem expenses and $10 per diem salary.

Franco Halts Spanish Freedom Surge With Imposition Of Strict Controls

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Generalissimo Francisco Franco has called at least a temporary halt to the slow progress of the people of Spain toward new freedoms.

Just how temporary will be seen at the end of three months when a "state of exception" granting Spanish police almost unlimited rights of search and seizure and imposing full censorship on Spanish newspapers is supposed to end.

Imposition of the state of exception, short of martial law and similar to a state of siege, followed months of mounting opposition to the Franco regime among students, workers and young Roman Catholic priests.

In violent outbreaks, demonstrators have burned the Spanish flag, trampled the portrait of Franco, and even threatened to throw the rector of Barcelona University out of his office window.

Young priests have freely criticized the church hierarchy, demanded closer identification with underpaid workers and encouraged church members to encourage church members to join as political prisoners.

Leaders of labor groups within Catholic Action, a church-based lay organization, have charged that "Spanish workers are abandoned materially, culturally and spiritually and have no other recourse than illegal strikes."

Workers and students alike have demanded their own "free" organization not under government control.

Imposition of the new government controls, while not unexpected, came as a defeat for the young technocrats with whom Franco sprinkled his cabinet prior to 1966 and to Franco himself.

Franco, perhaps not wholly trusting the move toward a relaxation of totalitarian rule, nonetheless had permitted his cabinet members to relax press laws, to write a new law of religion and to write into the new constitution a purrany of freedom of expression.

The latter is now wiped out, and whether it will be restored depends upon the Filangists who formed the political backbone of Franco's support in the Spanish Civil War and upon the army.

Particularly it must be regarded as a defeat for the man most active in bringing about the relaxation of censorship and the law governing religious worship.

He is Manuel Fraga Iribarne, minister of information and tourism.

Under the old law, Spanish newspapers, magazines and news services were required to obtain a censor's stamp of approval on all material for publication.

Fraga eliminated arbitrary censorship and placed editors on their own responsibility.

Sen. Williams Urges Continued Cost Controls

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — An economy-minded Republican Senator said Tuesday that it was just as vital to keep tight controls on the federal payroll under the new GOP administration as it was under the Democrats.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware seized notice to would fight any attempt by the Nixon administration to remove the lid Congress imposed last year on government employment.

Williams was author of the measure which prohibits, with some exceptions, government agencies from hiring more than three replacements for every four workers who retire, resign, die or are fired.

"It is just as much needed now as it was under the other administration," Williams said of the restrictions. "I didn't put the ceiling in just because there was a Democratic administration."

President Nixon's budget director, Robert P. Mayo, hinted at repeal of the restriction when he advised the heads of all federal agencies in "manipulate" for the time being, the 1970 budget assumption that the personnel appointment limitations will not be effective beyond June 30, 1969.

But he also invited comments from department heads which or the restrictions should be kept.

Williams said Mayo did not discuss the matter with him before sending out the letter.

The Senator said the administration may simply be giving agency heads — many of whom are chafing under the restrictions — a chance to "sound off" without really intending to ask for repeal of the statute.

But he added quickly: "I see no reason to repeal it."

Congress demanded the employment ceiling as part of the price it charged former President Johnson for the 70 per cent income surtax.

But unlike the surtax, which will expire June 30 unless extended by Congress, the hiring restriction will remain on the books unless repealed or modified.

State Condemns Taco Stand Site

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The Nevada Assembly unanimously passed a measure Monday giving the state Planning Board authority to condemn a taco stand, which is blocking construction of the legislative building.

It is the only parcel of land in the Capitol complex not owned by the state.

IRS 'Colors' Federal Income Tax Forms In Attempt To Reduce Mounting Errors

Magie Valley taxpayers now have, or should have, their 1968 income tax forms.

The IRS says the forms are color-coded, but it has nothing to do with recent civil rights legislation. Color, according to the Internal Revenue Service, is used to draw attention to the lines that often give people the most trouble. It is hoped that the various colors used on the forms will reduce mistakes.

IRS officials report that one of every nine returns filed last year contained an error. Errors cause slow processing. Refunds come in that much later.

The two-color forms were sent to 30 million taxpayers across the country.

Forms that can be obtained in banks, post offices and at the IRS office in Twin Falls are printed in regular black ink.

In attempting to answer common questions publicly, the IRS also notes that a check mailed to a charity in December but cashed in January may be deducted on the 1968 return.

When the label on the tax return mailed to the individual is wrong, the taxpayer may draw a line through the incorrect part. Then the proper information should be substituted. The corrected label should be filed with the return so the return can be properly identified with the tax account.

People often ask the IRS

"What insurance premiums are deductible as a medical expense?"

And IRS says premiums paid for policies providing medical care are deductible as medical expenses for those taxpayers who itemize deductions. Deductions cannot be taken for life insurance premiums or weekly

Feast

BOISE (UPI) — Scores of bald eagles, officially rated as one of eight "endangered wildlife species," have gathered at Lake Poni Oreille and Coeur d'Alene Lake to scavenge for scraps of spawning out kokanee.

Kokanee, small landlocked salmon, spawn and die to complete their life cycle in the late fall. Bald eagles migrate to Idaho's big lake country to feed on the litter of dead fish on the beaches during the winter months.

Ray Rogers, Coeur d'Alene, regional game biologist for the Fish and Game Department, said there were at least 75 of the big eagles at Lake Poni Oreille, and 35 or 40 of them at Coeur d'Alene Lake.

Congress gave year-round, federal protection to bald eagles in 1949.

Most medical expenses need to be reduced by three per cent of the gross income before they can be deducted. For medical insurance premiums, however, half of this cost up to $150 may be deducted without regard to the three per cent rule. The excess is then subject to the three per cent rule. The rules are explained in the 1040 instructions.

College students who work in the summer must file if they make more than $600. But the parents will not lose the child as an exemption if they furnish half his annual support.

Also, the same exemption, the child's and the parent's, can be claimed on two returns.

For income insurance compensation for injuries in an automobile accident, the IRS says a report does not have to be filed. Damages for injuries suffered in an accident are tax free.

Officers Generally Agree That Rehabilitation In Idaho Is Just Not Working

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Magic Valley law enforcement officers and others concerned in one way or another with crime are generally agreed that many of the rehabilitation efforts in Idaho are not working.

Why?

This question comes up all the time. A police officer will ask it at home over the dinner table and again while on duty. A sheriff's deputy will ask it while booking a suspect in for the third time in a year. A parole officer will ask it after he has sent one of his probationers to prison.

A judge will ask it when he sentences a man to the Idaho State Prison, possibly for the second or third time.

To reach some answers, a look at the present system is necessary.

As a rule, a first offender will not be sent to prison for a crime of a non-violent nature. In other words, a judge will give the first offender a chance to mend his ways—to change his life.

The first offender may be charged with first degree burglary. He is 19 years old. His juvenile record—his arrests before he reached the age of 18—shows four arrests, one for illegal consumption of beer, three for running away from home. The 19 year old comes from a broken home, as most of them do, and he dropped out of high school in his junior year.

He has no trade, no way to make a living. He was arrested inside a grocery store in the middle of the night.

This case is an example. It is an example that is all too common to the arresting officer, and to the prosecutor who has seen too many such cases.

The 19 year old will be arraigned before a judge and given a chance to hire an attorney to represent him in the case. If the youth can't afford to hire an attorney, one will be appointed to represent him. The cost will be paid by the county. The youth is then entitled to a preliminary hearing.

At this hearing, the state must show that a crime has been committed and that there is reason to believe the youth can be held to answer for this crime.

The youth is then either bound over to a District Court or the charge against him is dismissed.

If he is bound over to the higher court, the youth is again arraigned. He is required to enter a plea of either innocent or guilty to the charge.

Bond is set at all stages of the legal proceedings. Bond is used to guarantee a defendant will appear in court when his appearance is required. Quite often, a defendant is released on his own recognizance—after the plea of guilty is accepted.

The judge has several choices. If there is no legal reason, sentencing is pronounced after the plea of guilty is accepted.

The judge has several choices. If the youth pleads innocent, a trial is scheduled. The state must then prove the case against the defendant.

However, as often happens, the youth pleads guilty to the District Judge may order the plea entered in the records. A presentence investigation is ordered.

This investigation is conducted by the resident probation and parole officer. In Magic Valley there are two.

The investigation deals with the defendant's past history, his family background, his outlook on life, his chances for rehabilitation. Usually such an investigation takes one to two weeks to complete. It is about 14 pages of single-spaced type.

The judge needs this report to make an intelligent decision on sentencing the defendant.

When the defendant returns to court, the judge—reminding the defendant every step of the way of his Constitutional rights—asks him if there is any reason legal in nature why sentence should not be pronounced.

A declaration of insanity would be such a reason. A judge, hearing this from the defendant, has no choice but to advantage of scaring the youth by full offender.

Nearly 50 per cent of the men in the Idaho State Prison are between 18 and 25 years of age.

To back up this point, records show that about 10 probationers return to a life of crime or violate a probation agreement for every parole that fails.

Some officers feel this 10 to 1 figure is due to the scare factor the parole receives in prison.

The parolee has had a taste of prison life. He doesn't want to go back. The probationer has not to learn this.

"It's degrading to go to prison," one man said recently.

"They give you clothes, no underwear. The shoes are a size too large and from the day you go in you are no longer a man, you are a number. A number," he said.

In Colorado and in some other states a man is sent to prison for a short term—sometimes a day and on other times for two weeks—then returned to his community in a probation status.

The "scare" of prison life often works. Many probationers, seeing the inside for the first time, think twice before entering a life of crime.

Rehabilitation is not available to Idaho District Court judges. The judge can order a stint in the county jail as part of the probation agreement. But a trip to the county jail is nothing like a trip to prison.

Fifth District Court Judge Theron Ward said he would prefer to hire professional help rather than suffer the costs of a rising crime rate.

probationers and parolees, but often without the guidance of a psychiatric or psychological evaluation of the defendant.

It covers about 14 pages of a person who probably has never been inside a prison. A parolee, on the other hand is a person who has been released from a prison but still required to live a restricted life, within the terms of the parole agreement.

The entire system of rehabilitation in Idaho, for the main part, falls into the hands of 11 probation and parole officers. They can help probationers and parolees get jobs, but these officers can do only so much.

The breakdown in the system, then, is becoming apparent. Many law enforcement officers now, saying, "If only that kid had someone who cared. He might have gone straight."

When a parole officer has 60 or 70 people to "care" about, his efforts are spread very thin. It costs about a day to keep a man in prison. It costs about 60 cents a day to keep a man on parole or probation.

Even with a well-kept reformation machine, the cost is less to the taxpayer than the present alternative—prison.

But prison, some officers feel, has its good points.

A national survey shows that 20 per cent of the men in prison deserve to be there. Eighty per cent do not. They can lead useful lives if given the chance.

Prison removes a man from society. It protects society from the criminal. But in most cases that criminal will walk out of prison some day.

Prison may prepare a man for the outside. Presently the Idaho State Prison does not prepare a man for release. Despite a lot of talk in the past two years, little has been done.

The "why" becomes a little clearer.

It is also felt that probationers would be sent to prison for a two week stretch. This has the chance at probation and probably be rehabilitated without coming in contact with hardened criminals now in prison.

The 10 to 1 figure between probationers and parolees, which is an estimate for Idaho, indicates prison does "scare" some individuals.

Such an approach would only be one step in the direction of rehabilitation.

Rehabilitation isn't accomplished overnight, as the past two years in the Idaho State Prison controversy has proved. But headed in the right direction, rehabilitation can become a reality very quickly.

Officials agree the state needs qualified psychiatrists, psychologists and sociologists working for the prison system. They also agree the state needs a professional and qualified warden.

Other states have found it cheaper to hire professional help rather than suffer the costs of a rising crime rate.

The state probation and parole officers presently use job counselors, an on-the-job training program for probationers, mental health facilities when they are available (they are not in Magic Valley) and the College of Southern Idaho and area high schools for the return of rehabilitated people that need it.

More probation and parole officers are needed, it is agreed. And more study in the field of rehabilitation is needed. There is also a need for more money to reach this end.

Too often the law officer arrests the repeat offender. It is felt if the repeater can be rehabilitated, the crime rate would drop drastically.

To rehabilitate that individual, he needs a good job and his self-respect.

But it can't be given to him. He must earn it. All the state can do is open the way, train the individual in the direction that is possible.

Military Soldiers Enjoy Vietnam Surfing

CUA VIET, Vietnam (UPI)—It may not be Southern California, but it's still good surfing for Marines and Navy men at Cua Viet, six miles south of the Demilitarized Zone separating the two Vietnams.

The area has been reserved for swimming and surfing in the South China Sea and is used by servicemen on two-day rest and recuperation leaves from the war.

Smoking Among Miners Believed Major Cause Of Lung Cancer Deaths

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—Uranium mining and cigarette smoking don't mix, a scientific advisory team has reported.

In a recent report, the committee said a serious problem with lung cancer in the uranium industry could be solved if miners did not smoke.

The committee, sponsored by the National Academy of Science in Washington, was headed by Cyril L. Conner, Director of the Laboratory of Radiation Biology at Cornell University.

Conner said the results of the eight-month study have been submitted to the Federal Radiation Commission, which requested an interpretive evaluation of radiation exposure among uranium miners.

"An important point is that it appears that only cigarette smokers among the uranium miners were affected by lung cancer," Conner said.

"If only nonsmokers were allowed to work in mines," he said, "this might help solve a lot of problems."

"But," he added, "this would be a departure in labor prac-

—the dictation of personal habits. It would require not only no smoking on the job, but no smoking period."

Some 5,000 men were employed in uranium mines at the peak of production in 1960 and of them, more than 100 have developed lung cancer.

Since it takes between 10 and 20 years for lung cancer to develop after exposure starts in the mines, "we are now beginning to see the results of the large scale mining operations that produced material for atomic weapons," Conner said.

He cited estimates that future incidents of the disease among uranium workers already exposed might range up to 1,000.

The report conceded current data on the subject contained some uncertainties but said decisions must be made on the information available because the lives of miners are at stake.

There is no question that the frequency of lung cancer is higher in the uranium miners than in the general population, Conner said.

He said it is expected that mine owners will "do everything financially and technologically possible to make the uranium mines safe, but the elimination of smoking may, more than anything else, decrease the likelihood of uranium miners developing lung cancer."

Gail Ramsey Is Installed Queen Of Bethel No. 30

HAILEY — Gail Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dor Ramsey, was installed honored queen of Hailey Bethel No. 30 at recent public ceremony.

Luanne Stevens, retiring honored queen, was installing officer. Mrs. Roberta McKercher was narrator for a ceremony, "Garden of Roses," written by her.

Unit Executive Board Meets

The Idaho Unit of the Good Shepherd Home Auxiliary Executive Board held a luncheon meeting at the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls, Jan. 20.

The past president, Mrs. Charles Valentino, and the retiring membership chairman, Mrs. Del Butterfield, were presented gifts from the group, and congratulations were extended to Mrs. Butterfield on her election to the second vice-presidency on the home governing board.

A synopsis of the 1968 work of the auxiliary was given by Mrs. Art Kaster, president.

The $1,200 budget contribution to the home in Terra Bella, Calif., was attained before the end of the year, and the treasurer, Mrs. Edwin Lierman, reported that contributions came from LWML Clubs, Sunday school, talent displays, dinners and sewing circles.

The goal for 1969 was set at $1,250. The next meeting is in April at the Butterfield home, to hear the reports of the governing board meeting to be held in March.

Country Pals Club Convenes

The Country Pals Home Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. J. H. Sharp, with Mrs. Betty Moore, introduced as a special guest.

Six of the members were present at the County Council meeting in January. It was announced and Mrs. Ernest Ihler was appointed club health chairman.

The new yearbooks for 1969 were distributed. They were made by Mrs. Maurice Allen. A potluck dinner was held at noon. Mrs. J. H. Sharp presented the lesson, "Pots and Pans." She showed aluminum, stainless steel, cast iron, porcelain on metal, glass and non-stick finish cookware courtesy of Price Hardware, Twin Falls. She told the advantages of each particular kind of cookware.

The minimum of cooking utensils one needs is three vegetable units—one, two and three quart sizes; large skillet for pan broiling and sauteing, small break fast skillet, round roaster and baking and casserole unit.

Ericson Hobby Shop gave a demonstration on making paper flowers covered with a film of plastic. Each member made a flower.

The next meeting is Feb. 17 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Sharp. The lesson will be on "Convenience Foods."

Area Couple Recites Vows

SHOSHONE — Mrs. Shirley L. Tews, Dietrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Edwards Sr., and Harold L. Thompson, Jerome, son of Mrs. Edward Thompson, Twin Falls, were married in an evening ceremony at the Jerome Presbyterian church Dec. 21.

Rev. William L. Barrett officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Attendants for the couple were their children. His were Mrs. Stratton (Marilyn) Laggis, Ketchum; Dr. Max Thompson, DDS, Kelchum; Sharon Thompson, Bellevue, Wash., and Ren Thompson and Steven Thompson, both Jerome.

Her attendants were her children, Mrs. Byron (Judy) Weiss, Dietrich; Glenda Tews, Danny Tews and Robert Tews, Dietrich.

Only family members were in attendance at the ceremony. Mrs. Thompson is the Lincoln County assessor, having been elected to the office last fall. She served as four years prior to that as deputy assessor.

Council Members Hear Talk On Immunization Program

Mrs. Grant Ambrose, health program representative, Idaho Department of Health, Boise, was introduced by Mrs. Richard Kirsch, Twin Falls, council health chairman, at the January meeting of the Twin Falls County Extension Homemakers Council. The meeting was held in the Roundup Room of the Rogerson Hotel, with a luncheon preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Ambrose gave a program on tetanus. The project for the extension clubs furnished by the Department of Health immunizations. She showed a film entitled "50-50 Chance," that gave the true picture of the need for tetanus shots for everyone. She stated adults need to take a look of their immunizations and not only for tetanus but smallpox, diphtheria, polio, measles and mumps.

Children are much better immunized but still some have only partial immunization, if any at all, because parents do not complete the series to give full protection. She noted, she emphasized the need to keep records of all shots, vaccinations and booster shots which are doubly important.

The new medical I.D. card or "Green Card" is now available through the Department of Health. A complete up-to-date immunization is required to obtain the card. The film will be available to all extension clubs for showing at their meetings and can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Tews. The film will be available to all extension clubs for showing at their meetings and can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Tews. The film will be available to all extension clubs for showing at their meetings and can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Tews.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. J. Boss, council president. Guests were introduced from Minidoka, Jerome and Gooding counties. Council committee reports, given by the chairman, included family life, health, publicity, civil defense and safety to each adult.

Mrs. Eugene Jensen, general chairman for the district meeting to be held in Twin Falls March 27, gave a short report. The theme of the meeting is "Learning and Living."

The Amalgamated Sugar Factory tour report was given by Mrs. Alfred Thoren, Filer. Each club is asked to make its own arrangements for the tour and this should be done soon as the campaign will close on Smith received special gifts.

WINNERS NAMED — HANSEN — Mrs. Cloe Weech and Mrs. Ruth Hill were high score winners at the July 12 Pinesdale Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Dora Daw. Mrs. Earl Tridle was low score winner and Mrs. Minnie Bedow received the traveling prize.

Kay Steenlith was a guest. Lydia Mae Pyron, Mrs. Daw, Mrs. Ralph Simmons, Mrs. Rose Wiseman and Mrs. Thomas Steenlith received special gifts.

Yama by Anna Fogarty

Miss Craven, Mincer Wed

RUPERT—“A Winter Wonderland” may well have been the theme for the wedding that united in marriage Kathleen Rose Craven, Rupert, and Richard Mincer, Carson, Iowa, Dec. 28.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Craven, Rupert, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Mincer, Carson.

Rev. Gene A. Zienke, Puyallup, Wash., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, performed the double ring candlelight ceremony at the First Pentecostal Church, Rupert, before an arch of evergreens flocked with white, edged in pink spray and silver glitter, and flanked by candelabra containing pink tapers.

Complementing the church decor were four evergreen trees decorated similar to the archway, and arrangements of flocked evergreens, each with a single pine cone and lighted pink taper, placed in the windows and on the piano and organ. The decorations were made and arranged by the bride.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of lace styled with a sarong neckline and long lily pads sleeves. Gathered flounces of nylon organza and sequins enhanced the bouffant skirt. She wore a heart-shaped gold locket that belonged to her maternal grandmother and was worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion was edged in lace and caught in a pearl comb. She carried a cascade arrangement of American Beauty roses and Lilies of the Valley.

Nancy Craven, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Nadia Okelberry, cousin of the bride, and Diola Satterwhite, Pendleton, Ore., were bridesmaids, and LaDonna Mincer, sister of the bridegroom, and Genea Rosa, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

Brenda Zienke, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Scott Sargent, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer, and LaDonna Mincer was candlelighter.

Best man was Wes Thompson, Pendleton, Ore., and Ralph Holland, Portland, and Steve Fackler, Pocatello, were groomsmen. George Duncan Jr., cousin of the bride, and Terry Mincer, brother of the bridegroom, were junior groomsmen, and John Crawford, Burley, and Joe Sargent were ushers.

During the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hruza sang, and a poem, “With God as Your Partner,” was recited by Mr. Hruza. Mrs. Walter Kaiser, Portland, was organist.

At the conclusion of the service, the bride and bridegroom, each with a lighted candle, lit a single candle, signifying the two had become one.

A reception program was held immediately after the ceremony in the Methodist Fellowship Hall. The bridal couple was seated on a wrought iron love seat with a white iridescent backdrop with burgundy valance, flanked by beauty baskets of white chrysanthemums arranged with evergreen and pine.

Mrs. Grover Ward announced the program.

Cindy Mincer was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's table, covered in pink tulle with a white tulle overskirt, was centered by the three-tiered white wedding cake which was separated by Grecian columns. It was decorated with scrolls and pink roses and tea-light candles.

Two lovebirds topped the cake which was made by Mrs. Richard Lesley, Aberdeen, Mrs. Richard Water and Mrs. Richard Sargeant cut and served the cake. Mrs. Leon Craven and Mrs. Doyle Craven, aunts of the bride, poured the punch. Mr. and Mrs. Laren Rosa,

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD MINCER (Dudley photo)

Joyce Gale, Deon Craven and Joyce Wilson were in charge of gifts. Jane Rose and Jodi Sargeant distributed pink scented rice to the guests.

The couple took a wedding trip to Portland.

The bridegroom is attending Conqueror's Bible college, where he is a theology major, and will be graduated in June.

A pre-nuptial engagement announcement party was given by Joyce Wilson, and a personal shower by Diola Satterwhite and Arlene Sargeant at Conqueror's Bible College.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Portland, Pendleton, Los Angeles, Twin Falls, Pocatello, Aberdeen and Juneau, Alaska.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister who has gotten a lot of good ideas for my sermons from your column, but I must disagree with you. A woman wrote that she had fallen in love with her pastor, and couldn't keep from thinking some thoughts she shouldn't entertain while sitting in church. You advised her transfer to a sister congregation without telling her pastor the reason.

Abby, we clergymen are aware that some of our parishioners do fall in love with us, and we are trained to cope with that situation. It happened to me, and with the help of a psychiatrist I was able to set the lady straight.

I would have suggested that the woman confess to her pastor how she feels about him. Then I would recommend that she see a psychiatrist, and together they can work her problem thru. If she follows your advice and transfers to another congregation she will still have the same feeling.

NO NAME, P.I.S.

DEAR NO NAME: Unfortunately not every clergyman is trained to cope with the above situation. Neither would every woman who falls in love with her pastor agree to confess her feelings to him, then consult a psychiatrist and work her problem thru.

DEAR ABBY: I have been criticized for giving a relative a vacuum-cleaner for a wedding present. Will you please tell me what is wrong with such a gift? Granted it is not as glamorous as silver or crystal, but in my opinion it is a lot more useful for a newly wedded couple who are just starting out in house-keeping.

I would like your opinion. IN PRINT, please, but without my name. PRACTICAL.

DEAR PRACTICAL: Good for you! It's good to know there are practical folk like you out there who refuse to get sucked into giving gifts that are more ornamental than useful.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that some working mothers have better behaved children than some stay-at-home mothers—that it's the quality, not the quantity of time spent with children that counts.

I am not a working mother, but the daughter of one. I'm not bragging, but I think my brothers and sisters and I (there are four of us) are very well brought up. We are all proud of our mother and wouldn't do anything to upset or disappoint her. We each have our duties and do them without having to be reminded.

We see more of our “working” mother than some of our friends see of their mothers, who are so wrapped up in their clubs and organizations that they don't have time for their own children.

One I know is so busy helping “underprivileged” children, that her own have run completely wild. I am 71, and the youngest of four, and I think we are it better off for having had a working mother.

Sincerely Yours, PAM

DEAR ABBY: I'm with you, I never heard of my parents either, but I know of a case close to it.

My mother-in-law didn't actually CARRY her husband to his grave. She DROVE him there. Don't use my name. SHE'S still living. SYRACUSE

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 62700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. * * *

Accessories For Home Need

Good Design

SHOSHONE — Guides for good design are practical rules to follow in selecting accessories for the home, according to the county home demonstration agent here.

Basic guides are line, shape, texture, color and added decoration, regardless of material, cost or style. The way these design elements are combined determines the overall quality of the article, the special point out. Accessories chosen with these points in mind will stay in style and be useful a long time.

All structural and surface lines of an object should add to its use or beauty.

They should be so arranged that the eye follows easily from one point to another. Good design ideas and shapes come from geometric forms such as a circle, square, oval or rectangle. The shape of all parts of an object should be related by repetition or by variation of the same shape. All parts should be in good proportion to each other. Consider the use when evaluating shape. Does it serve the purpose for which it was intended?

shows by its surface how it was made, what material was used, and how it was finished or treated. Of course it all adds up to “texture.” Honesty is the key! Was a genuine material used or has some material been made to look like another?

Color is one of the first things noticed. Natural color of a material is often the best. Color added in the making of an object may add interest and variety. For example, colored threads woven into textiles and stains in wood and pottery are more attractive than color added to the surface.

Boating 'Boom' Is Expected To Increase Speed In 1969

By LEROY POPE
NEW-YORK (UPI) — The boating boom, which has continued with only occasional interruptions, is expected to pick up a little speed in 1969.

That seems to be the consensus of exhibiting manufacturers at this year's midwinter boat shows.

Business at the Chicago show was reported as fabulous, and sales executives gathered for the National Show at New York's Coliseum, Jan. 25-26, said pre-show orders from dealers were bigger than a year ago.

According to the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, the total for the New York show, total boat and engine business at retail in 1968 was about $3.15 billion, up $500 million from 1967. The association thinks there will be another gain this year but declined to give figures.

The number of boats in use in America increased in 1968 to 8.44 million from 8.275 million the previous year.

The most amazing thing about the business is the flourishing condition of the luxury yacht market. In all the shows, the proportion of yachts, both sailing and power, selling for $20,000 to around $100,000 is bigger than ever.

"It is easier to sell a $100,000 boat than a $20,000 boat these days," said W.A. Hoiler, director of marketing for Hatteras Yachts, High Point, N.C., subsidiary of North American Rockwell Corp.

"As a general rule, the prospect for a yacht in the $100,000 bracket does not seem to be as bright as the cash outlay. If he likes the boat, he buys it. It's that simple."

Yet Hatteras and other makers of luxury boats agreed, the buyers of $100,000 craft are not usually among the nation's "big rich." "If they buy a boat, they buy a boat and have it custom built. But they are very prone to charter boats and crews at rates of $5,000 a month and out from the less wealthy folk who buy big yachts as a status symbol."

Hosler said the typical buyer of a $100,000 yacht is prosperous but middle bracket business.

Homeowners File Lawsuit On Jet Noise

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charging that jets aircraft at Los Angeles International Airport threaten their lives and their pocketbooks, 94,000 homeowners have filed suit against the city of Los Angeles for $2.8 million.

The mass damage action was filed in behalf of persons with interests in 45,000 parcels of property located near the airport's north runway. All are residents of the city of Inglewood.

The suit was organized by a homeowner group calling itself the Inglewood Residents Protective Association.

"We first put in a claim asking for $1 billion," said the association's president, Vito A. Bernardi. "The city did not respond, so now we are filing the damage suit."

He said the group also will seek a court order forbidding the city-controlled airport to use the runway in question.

The complaint charged that they have lived in fear of death or injury from plane crashes since the runway was opened May 2.

They maintained the noise of jet aircraft has deprived them of the chance to make financial gains by favorable sales of their homes and commercial structures. The suit also alleged that planes using the runway violate the residents' air space and that noise impairs the enjoyment of their property.

Pastor Seeks Changes In Church Ritual

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — There are "serious symptoms that the old forms of worship are on their way out," a Berkeley, Calif., minister told delegates to the 50th annual Pastors Convocation.

Dr. Browne Barr, pastor of First Congregational Church, Berkeley, said the church must look for "deconstruction and reevaluating traditional worship forms to make them relevant today."

Dr. Hagen Staack, chairman of the department of religion at Muhlenberg College, Pa., criticized the church's authority.

Staack said both Catholic and Protestant churches are structures to allow clergy and laity to reach solutions for society's problems. He said rebellious youth don't want to overthrow the authority of the church, but only to question the job being done.

He compared authority to a skeleton. "When your skeleton hurts, you know you have arthritis," Staack said. "The skeleton is hurting in the church, and they are tired of arthritis authority."

Kaiser-Steel Lists Record In Earnings

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Kaiser Steel Corp. has reported record net earnings of $33.9 million, or $4.95 per common share in 1968 as compared with $33.2 million net earnings in 1967, or $5.67 per share.

The decline in share earnings resulted from a 20 per cent increase in average number of common shares outstanding in 1968 as compared with 1967.

The earnings in 1968 were the result of record sales of $428.8 million as compared with sales of $401.1 million the previous year.

LOANS TALLIED
HOUSTON (UPI) — State 10-a's totaling $2,544,800 were disbursed in Idaho by the Western Home Office of Prudential Insurance Co. during 1968.

Through the 13 Western states Prudential disbursed $202,040,215.

"SERVICE MEASURED BY THE GOLDEN RULE"

Second Avenue at Third Street No.

THE 1970 BUDGET AT A GLANCE

President Johnson's proposed budget for fiscal 1970, starting next July 1, would raise federal spending to the highest point in history. It forecasts a $3.4 billion surplus, providing Congress extends the 10 per cent surtax, now scheduled to expire June 30, for another year. Without the surtax, the budget would show an $8.7 billion deficit. Defense expenditures are budgeted for a $500 million increase over 1969, but the Vietnam share of the total is expected to drop by $3.4 billion, the first decline since the United States became involved in the war.

Hansen Sewer And Water Association Elects Directors, Adopts Regulations

HANSEN — At the annual meeting of the Hansen Sewer and Water Improvement Association, directors and regulations were adopted.

The association members, Ralph Simmons and Vergil Ball were elected to three-year terms on the board of directors.

W. D. Wiseman, Harold Miller Jr., and Harold Warren were elected to two-year terms, and Robert Perkins, Mrs. Madge Panting and Allen Baum were elected for one-year terms. The association was instituted to maintain experienced members on the board at all times.

Jack Allen, Federal Home Association representative and also a member of the Sewer Association, gave the highlights of the by-laws suggested for the association, which were then voted on and adopted.

The suggested rules and regulations for the operation of the community waste disposal were read and adopted. They covered six main points.

Members or users shall make application to the Hansen Sewer and Water Improvement Association for sewer service. The membership fee for all users, who apply prior to Feb. 15, shall be $25, including connection costs and service connection to the user's property line. Users who apply after Feb. 15, shall pay the membership fee of $25 plus a $15 hook fee, plus $2 per linear foot for the service connection to the individual's wastewater bill, as a separate charge for sewer service. The sewer service bill shall be paid on or before the 15th of each month. The penalty for late payment shall be 10 per cent on the unpaid bill, until said bill is paid in full.

The Equal Opportunity Agreement bill was also explained by Mr. Allen and adopted by the association members.

Mr. Allen reported that $169,000 has been deposited to the account for the sewerage system for the association.

Jack Straubner, of Dale Riedel and Associates, consulting engineers, announced that J. A. Clawson Co. expects to start installation Wednesday, weather permitting. He also explained technical details to those interested pertaining to the installation. He also noted that another associate will be available for making inspections at all times.

Vergil Ball, president of the association, stated that anyone wishing to obtain added information may attend the directors' meetings held the third Monday of each month at 8 p.m. Mr. Straubner announced the sewerage system installation should be completed by June.

Mrs. Panting, Harold Miller Jr., and Harold Warren were

Need Told For Summer Education

BOISE (UPI) — Harold Farley, assistant superintendent of public instruction, said Tuesday the Department of Education ranks summer kindergarten programs the most important of all pilot programs requested from the Idaho legislature.

The program would provide for 12,000 students each summer during the next biennium at a cost of $1.5 million. Farley said special education projects to develop cooperative programs over several districts, ranks second in priority, with elementary pilot programs to utilize teachers on a year-round basis third.

Sen. Joe Preston, R-DeLo, asked Farley where the emphasis was in the legislature. He said he had never had a request from a constituent for such a program.

The Department of Education officials estimated the cost of a year-round kindergarten program at 5.6 million a year.

Salt Lake Plant Ratifies Pact To End Walkout

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Work was to resume Tuesday at the Phillips Petroleum Co. after members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union (OCAWI) ratified a new contract Monday night.

No details of the contract were announced.

Phillips workers left the job Jan. 4 along with workers at an American Oil Co. refinery. Here and another 50,000 OCAWI workers across the nation. A settlement at the American refinery was reached last week.

Only about 25,000 workers remain off the job across the country.

'Indian War' Wrecks House

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Five men were fined $25 for participating in an "Indian war" during the weekend.

Police Sunday were called to a West Side home where a group of Chippewas had invaded a party thrown for a group of Minnesotans. No small act of bravery considering what police saw:

The front door had been battered down and about 20 persons were swinging ax handles, iron pipes and beer bottles.

Judge F. Ryan Duffy said he hoped the fines—for being drunk and disorderly—would "put a stop to these Indian wars."

Brundage Says Change In Olympic Custom Might Be In Effect For '72 Games

MUNICH, Germany, (UPI)—The International Olympic Committee, said Tuesday it will try to ban victory flag raisings and commercial exploitation from the 1972 Olympics at Munich and Sapporo, Japan.

The 81-year-old white-haired Avery Brundage, here, inspected Olympic sites for the Summer Games, told a news conference he hopes the IOC will back him in substituting neutral Olympic flag-raising (trumpet fanfare for the national flag-raising) and anthem-playings during medal-winning ceremonies.

During opening and closing ceremonies the athletes should march behind massed national flags rather than each behind his own country's, Brundage said.

"National flags should be used only for ornamental purposes around the stadium," he said.

Brundage recalled a resolution backing his views lacked only two votes of the necessary two-thirds majority at the last IOC meeting during the 1968 Mexico City Games. He said another try will be made before 1972.

As for commercialism, one of Brundage's pet hates, he said, "Most people agree the games have become too big and too expensive."

Brundage cited the 1968 Grenoble Winter Games as a glaring proof, although he hastened to exonerate the French Olympic Committee from blame.

Grenoble was "really five world championships over a distance of 30 miles and with five Olympic villages. One of our main objectives, uniting all athletes in one village, was lost," he said.

The Grenoble games meant $240 million in expenses, in sport, that's slightly exaggerated," he said acidly. "Besides, everything was commercialized, and the Olympic butter, Olympic sugar, Olympic gasoline, Olympic everything."

Brundage said a special IOC committee set up to consider the future of the Winter Games would report at next May's IOC meeting in Warsaw. He hinted Alpine skiing may be dropped from the games because of over-commercialization.

"Alpine skiers are 'misused as athletes,'" he said, "with advertising for ski clothes, boots and other products of the industry, he sneered. "This sport has turned into a circus."

Brundage said a related issue is the IOC will take up a recent decision to strip the Olympic skiing federation "which said it will pay its members—an idea entirely foreign to the Olympics."

"It will be up to the IOC to decide if alpine skiing stays in the games. We don't like it," he said.

"I repeat, he did not, although it seems they are saying the opposite."

He said the projected budget was sent to 200 coaches, most of them members of the IOC, in September.

"At that time we already had our players pretty well lined up," he said.

NCAA Raps Officials Of American Bowl

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Directors of the American All-Star football game, played here Tuesday, accused the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) of failing to communicate with sponsors and of recent implications they misled the players.

NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers was accused Monday of saying the game was not conducted according to NCAA standards and that the NCAA hoped to "rehabilitate" the game.

Byers said expenses and awards given the players were excessive and the players, said and they would not be allowed the remainder of their scholarships. Each player was presented matching men's and women's wrist watches, a room, two meals and $20 per diem, plus a round-trip ticket to and from the game, said it appeared the only sponsor was the game itself. National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"The truth is it took six months to find out what the NCAA considered acceptable gratuities for the boys in all-star games and then they seem to be variable," he said.

"By the time we found out they considered our plan excessive, 50 per cent of the boys would be up with one game had been invited and it appeared 'they were coming,' he said.

Thornton said the players were aware long before they came here that the game would make them professionals, and he said the players were sent from here to the Senior Bowl in Mobile—where they received cash.

"I said bowl officials telephoned NCAA headquarters in August to find out the policy on gratuities."

"The NCAA man on the telephone said he would send that policy," Thornton said.

"I repeat, he did not, although it seems they are saying the opposite."

He said the projected budget was sent to 200 coaches, most of them members of the NCAA, in September.

"At that time we already had our players pretty well lined up," he said.

Valley Races To 67-44 Win Over Buhl

EDEEN — The Valley Vikings rode the hot shooting of Don Meyer in the second half Tuesday to post a 67-44 victory over the Buhl Bruins.

Buhl had stayed close in the first half, and matched Meyer basket for basket in the first quarter as the Vikings fought to hit the first six points of the contest for the home club.

The Indians' Jones was red-hot in the second quarter, hitting 10 points, but after the intermission break Buhl was suddenly cold while the Vikings could do no wrong.

Meyer was assisted in the second half with two vital tips by Ritchie which helped seal the victory.

Buhl took the preliminary 41-43.

Devils Top Kimberley By 58-35

MURTAUGH — The Murtaugh Red Devils broke away from a tight first quarter to defeat Kimberley 58-35 Tuesday night.

The game was decided in the second quarter as the Devils scored four field goals, the remainder of the game, hitting one in the second quarter. Mike Rennie led the Devils. He charged that pushed the game out of reach in the second quarter.

Kimberley took the preliminary 14-18.

Camas County Nips Bliss In Last Minutes

BLISS — Torrid free throw shooting by Rick Glesler in the final two minutes helped Camas County nippers out of a tie and into a 59-52 decision over the scrappy Bliss Bears Tuesday night.

Bliss took the early lead but Camas County managed small advantages through most of the middle quarters. The lead melted away as Camas County managed a deadlock with two minutes remaining. Glesler then picked up four straight free throws to take Camas County to an eight-point lead in the final quarter.

Camas County won the preliminary 55-57.

Ohio State Upsets Illinois

COLUMBUS (UPI)—Sophomore Jim Clemons exploded for three field goals and passed off for a fourth within a two-minute span Tuesday night to help Ohio State nippers 70-47 Ten upset basketball win over eighth-ranked Illinois.

Sorenson scored 30 points in pace the defending champion, this week ranked 17th nationally by UPI, to a 40 Big Ten record and 100 points in the game. He also marked Ohio State's sixth straight win—adding 14 straight, Illinois 18-12 overall and 2 in the loop.

Clemons finished with 14 points, including 12 in the last half. His two free throws with 1:06 to play gave Ohio State a 64-61 lead. He came back 10 seconds later to score on a steal to decide the issue.

Minico Cops Conference Mat Crown

RUPERT — The Minico Sparans wrapped up their fourth conference title by winning the wrestling championship in five years Tuesday night by defeating Skyline 42-15 to win up the dual match season.

Minico now goes to the conference wrestling tournament Friday and Saturday in the state capital. The district meet starting Tuesday in Rupert.

Jacksonville Sweets Series

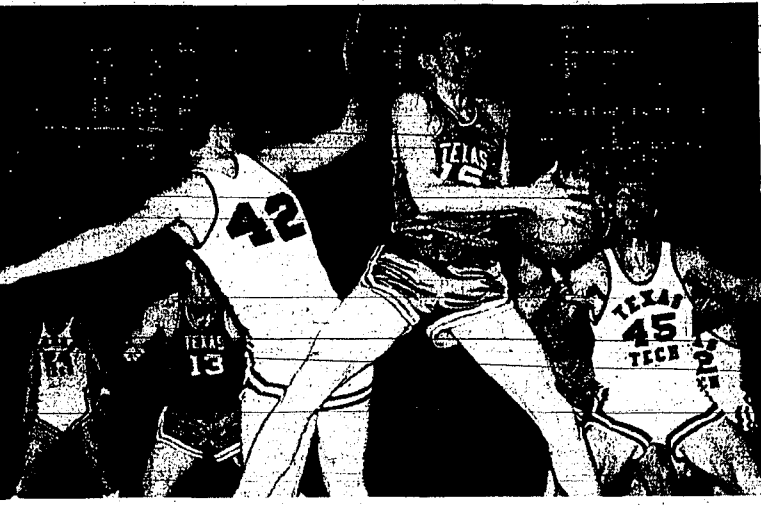

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The Jacksonville Dolphins defeated the Rainbows of Hawaii for a 7-6-1 victory here Tuesday night—the second year in two nights for the Dolphins.

The rough and tumble contest was pushed out of the winner's circle when the visitors were hampered with two straight technical fouls for roughness.

The Rainbows' stingy defense held Jacksonville to a meager 42 net yards from the field, far from its 50.6 percentage which was best in the nation before the two games with Hawaii.

Efforts To Protect Wild Game Birds Have Proven Successful

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Efforts to protect the nation's small flock of wild game birds, from overkill far, government officials said today.

Interior Department experts were obviously pleased, at field reports just beginning to trickle in that showed fewer hunters took smaller bags during the hunting season just ended.

The department imposed stringent restrictions on bag limits and the length of the season last fall after learning that the waterfowl population would be one of the smallest in recent years due to bad habitat conditions in the North.

"We have achieved our objective in reducing the kill," Henry A. Hansen of the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife said.

The only snare note came last weekend when more than 500 ducks were mysteriously killed or maimed along the Chesapeake Bay, one of the better hunting areas in the Atlantic flyway.

Autopsies performed at the Federal Wildlife Center in Maryland showed the birds—mostly red head, canvasback, and scaup—suffered multiple rib fractures, ruptured livers and massive bleeding near the liver.

One of the theories was that mercury vapor lamps at a nearby college cast a glare through the heavy fog and caused the birds to "wardrobe" the ground—their bodies were settling on water.

Hunters during the 1967 season took 234,000 red head, 155,000 canvasback and 530,000 scaup—birds that were among those most closely protected by last fall's restrictions.

Hansen said that for a variety of reasons he believes the number of hunters, also there have been no mass dieoffs in previous years, and weather conditions were not too adverse.

Actually, favorable weather in some places was simply "too good for hunters," Hansen said. The weather also allowed them to avoid stormwater who gather only on the season's opening day.

In other years, the duck population has suffered from

Wow! Says Hinton About Becoming Colt

NOTMAN, Okla. (UPI)—"I'm a little bit excited," said Ed Hinton when he learned he had been picked by the Baltimore Colts Tuesday night in the professional football draft.

Hinton, a 6-1, 190-pound backer, defensive end, first word from an elected Eddie Hinton when he learned he had been picked by the Baltimore Colts Tuesday night in the professional football draft.

"I'm a little bit excited," Hinton said. "I had talked with a few teams, but I never expected this."

Asked if the NFL champion Colts' loss to the New York Jets in the Super Bowl diminished the thrill of his selection, he said, "No, not at all; it's just wonderful, beautiful."

Hinton caught 60 passes totaling 967 yards for the Sooners last season and ranked him 12th in the nation. He also is regarded as an exceptional defensive back and punt return artist.

"I'm excited, but I would leave his home in Lawton, Okla., Jan. 30 for four and a half months of active duty in the Army National Guard. He will go to Ft. Polk, La., for his basic training, and then military police training.

"I'm excited about the coming military tour and said, "I'd rather play on the Ft. Polk football team."

Celtics Topple Atlanta 108-98

BOSTON (UPI)—John Havlicek stole the ball three times and converted the playmaking into baskets, led the Celtics to a 34-point fourth quarter and a 108-98 National Basketball Assn. victory over the Atlanta Hawks Tuesday night.

It was only the fifth loss in the last 20 games for Atlanta. The Celtics held a 64-41 lead at the half but Atlanta's Lou Hudson hit five straight field goals to lead the Hawks surge and they tied it 58-58.

West Defeats East In ABA All-Star Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The West All-Stars' behind-the-scenes coach, Dan John, led his team to a 70-62 victory over the East All-Stars Tuesday night.

The West All-Stars' behind-the-scenes coach, Dan John, led his team to a 70-62 victory over the East All-Stars Tuesday night.

The win enabled West coach Alex Hannum of Oakland to become the first coach to lead teams to victory in All-Star games of both the National Basketball Association and the ABA.

The West led all the way after Beasley, who was named most valuable player, tossed in a 25-foot jump shot with 6:21 left in the first quarter.

The West pulled to a 14-point lead midway through the first quarter but the East refused to quit. Les Hunter of Miami pulled the East to within three points at 130-127 with a jump shot with 58 seconds remaining.

The game was wrapped up for the West however, when Los Angeles' Warren Davis hit on a jump shot with 15 seconds left in the game.

Oakland's Rick Barry, a former superstar, played only 12 minutes and ended the game with 10 points. "This was his second game since returning to action after a knee injury.

For the East, the game was the climax of a series of setbacks.

East Coach Jim Harding of Minnesota was removed from the position by ABA Commissioner George Mikan earlier in the day after engaging in a fight with Minnesota Board Chairman Gabe Rahlin.

Mikan named Kentucky Coach Gene Rhodes to replace Harding.

In addition, the East was without the services of the division's leading scorer, Connie Hawkins of Minnesota. Hawkins is suffering from a knee injury.

The league announced that the 1970 All-Star game would be held at Miami Beach, Fla.

Twin Falls Wrestlers Edge Jerome

Twin Falls' big men, Dick Little and Doug Borah, came up with much-losing pin Tuesday night to let the Bruins stave off a late surge by Jerome and claim a 32-21 wrestling victory.

Twin Falls pushed in front 22-6 when Jerome reeled off three straight pins from 157 through 178 pounds. That pulled the Tigers to within one before Little and Borah pulled Twin Falls away.

Twin Falls goes to Buhl Thursday while Jerome is off until Feb. 4 when it hosts Wood River.

Results of the matches: Twin Falls men listed first, include 98 pounds, Sam Florence, decision over Camphel 106 pounds, Vic Stone pinned Fred Quintana; 115 pounds, Steve Wonderlich was decided by Dennis Sawyer; 123 pounds, Mark Rupert was decided by Dave Miller; 130 pounds, Brian Emmen decision over Bob Hill; 146 pounds, Ron Gage, decision over Dick Barnes; 141 pounds, Mike Sommers pinned Rich Thompson; 145 pounds, Dan Stone decision over Jacks-o 157 pounds, Jim Buckendorf was pinned by Leon Klein; 168 pounds, Tim Hill was pinned by Terry Schmitt; 178 pounds, Dan Touchee was pinned by Ted Kline; 191 pounds, Dick Little pinned Dave Randall, and heavyweight, Doug Borah pinned Dave Hesser.

Nixon Insists On 'Sufficient' Power

By DONALD H. MAY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has backed away from the phrase "military superiority" which he used during the campaign and is speaking instead of "sufficiency."

The change is probably one more of words than of substance.

In his first news conference as President, Nixon said: "Let me put it this way: when we talk about parity, I think we should recognize that we are in the interest of the United States around the world."

"I think," Nixon concluded, "sufficiency is a better term, actually, than either 'superiority' or 'parity'."

On Oct. 21, in a campaign radio broadcast, Nixon said: "I intend to restore our objective of clear military superiority—meaning by this the aggregate that constitutes real superiority rather than competition weapon by weapon."

Nixon's October campaign broadcast said: "It was concluded that by marking time in our own defense program, we could induce the Communists to follow our example, slacken their own effort, and thus we could have peace in our time."

Such were the dreams that cramped our national defense program. Out of it all evolved a peculiar, unprecedented doctrine called military superiority for America would no longer try to be first—we would only stay even.

"The 'superiority' means negotiations to come, to others it means missile launchers.

Nixon's word "sufficiency" more accurately describes how weapons are planned. But by itself it tells little about what Nixon's weapons policy will be.

How much is sufficient?

The government charged Ellis contacted a DuPont employe two weeks ago attempting to sell the product he expected to receive $250,000 from the formula, the complaint said.

The suspect's brother, Tim, 17, Ben Lomond, Calif., was also arrested, the FBI said, but released on personal recognizance bond.

Steven Ellis was held under $7,500 bond.

He was charged with having obtained a DuPont employe to sell the product he expected to receive $250,000 from the formula, the complaint said.
