Arabs Say Troops Bombed

Israel Denies Reported 'Attack'

By WILBORN HAMPTON
United Press International
Baghdad radio said seven Israeli planes bombed Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan today. Israel flatly denied the report and observers in Tel Aviv said Baghdad radio obviously spread the word to cover up events in Iraq.
Only Wednesday night Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said Israel must do everything possible to save the 2,500 Jews still living in Iraq and apparently ruled out any reprisals for the hanging of seven Jews on Monday.
Dayan said further trials of innocent Jews were being conducted in Iraq in response to worldwide furor against the execution of 14 men in Baghdad Monday, nine of them Jews, on charges they spied for Israel.
The United States was particularly interested in Israeli-Iraqi development because Iraq now holds two U.S. citizens, an American oil engineer and his wife. They were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Baill, formerly of Houston, Tex.

Howard G. Maves, father of Mrs. Baill, lives in Huntington, W. Va., where he said he had been notified of his daughter's arrest by the State Department.
The State Department said it had not been informed of any charges against the Baills.
Today Baghdad radio said seven Israeli planes attacked the 10,000 to 20,000 Iraqi troops stationed in Jordan since the seizure of Arab-Israeli territory and that one plane was shot down in flames. Jordan also reported two Israeli reconnaissance planes were driven back from Jordan.

There was speculation in some quarters Israel had begun retaliation there against Iraq despite Dayan's speech to an audience of labor youth in Jerusalem Wednesday night.
The Israeli army issued a formal statement saying it "categorically denies any knowledge of any air force raid against the Iraqi expeditionary force based in Jordan." A spokesman said the Baghdad report was "unfounded."
UPI correspondent Elvav Seamon toured military areas around Tel Aviv today and said he saw no evidence whatever of unusual military air activities on this day which the Jews were observing as a day of mourning for the Holocaust, the memory of the nine Jews hanged Monday.
Simon said the belief in Israel that Baghdad radio broadcast the report to stir anger

Teacher Pay Bargaining Studied

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI)—Members of the House Education Committee agreed Wednesday to introduce legislation permitting salary negotiations between teachers and their school boards.
Executive Secretary Wayne York of the Idaho Education Association told the committee the bill was an outgrowth of fears by his group that labor unions would infiltrate the teaching profession in Idaho.
"The threat is there," York said. "The threat has been there. The threat continues at the present time."
While the bill, as written, also would allow for negotiations between such groups as the IEA and the school boards on policy in the district, York said one of its major objectives was in salary negotiations and working conditions.
It would not make results of such negotiations compulsory but it would require continuing talks through a mediation panel if necessary—as long as a dispute existed.
"It provides for finding or mediation machinery to assist in resolving disputes, but it avoids at this time arbitration and compulsion," York testified.
He said that, next to getting a $10 million increase in state aid to public schools the next biennium, this bill is the primary objective of the IEA at this session of the legislature.
Committee Chairman Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise, took note that defeat of this type of legislation is the principal objective of the Idaho School Trustees Association. York agreed this probably was so.
"I think," said Rep. George Brocke, D-Kendrick, "the first negotiation here should come between the IEA and the trustees."
Rep. William J. Brauner, D-Caldwell, moved to introduce the bill, stressing as he did so that its purpose was to give the matter a thorough airing at a public hearing to be held later. York said teachers wanted such a hearing. Cobbs said it may take four or five days to ready the bill for introduction.
Several members of the committee expressed reservations about the proposal.
"As I see it, this bill contains a rather far-reaching impact on school financing," said Rep. John George, R-Shoshone. "I can certainly foresee an impasse between the school board and the education association and the responsibility (for more money) reverting to the legislature."
York disagreed.
Rep. William Lattimer, R-Eden, said his constituents are "bitterly opposed to this bill." He said he had not had "one teacher come to me to support this bill."

U. S. Urges Bilateral Troop Ouster In Vietnam As First Step To Peace

PARIS (UPI)—The United States called today for a withdrawal of both American and Communist forces from South Vietnam and suggested setting up a Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) as the opening step towards peace.
North Vietnam promptly rejected the suggestion of a DMZ as "unintentioned." The Communists did not immediately reply to the suggestion of U.S. chief negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge for withdrawal of troops, but in the past they have refused to discuss the matter until political questions are settled in Vietnam.
The negotiators from North and South Vietnam, the United States and the Viet Cong, took four hours to make their opening speeches at today's second session of the Vietnam peace talks. After a brief break for coffee, they resumed discussions for the first time since the talks opened Saturday without prepared texts, which are released to the public.
The South Vietnamese delegation leader, Pham Dang Lam, joined Lodge in the call for a truly demilitarized zone and urged the Communist statements in Saturday's opening session of the expanded talks were simply "empty insults without foundation."

Death Claims Ex-CIA Chief Allen Dulles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Allen W. Dulles, 75, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, died late Wednesday night. Death was attributed to complications from influenza and pneumonia.
Dulles served as head of the CIA for eight years, from 1953 to 1961. Almost all of this time was during the two presidential terms of Dwight D. Eisenhower.
First reports of Dulles' death came from the CIA. A spokesman said he died at Georgetown University Hospital of "complications of the flu and pneumonia."
Dulles resigned as CIA chief in late 1961, several months before John F. Kennedy became President. He later served on the Warren Commission which investigated the assassination of Kennedy. He finally fulfilled one of the commission's major findings—that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone assassin.
Dulles, brother of the late John Foster Dulles, who was secretary of state during the four years of the Eisenhower administration, also fulfilled some special assignments for President Lyndon B. Johnson.
One of these came in 1964 when he went to Mississippi to bring into the struggle of three civil rights workers.
Dulles, as head of the CIA, was in the forefront of the cold war against communism. His appointment by Eisenhower in January, 1953, helped him in the position of helping to guide America's foreign policy during the series while his brother fought communism openly as Secretary of State.

NFO Plans To Be Bargaining Agent For Area Beet Growers

A spokesman for the Twin Falls County National Farm Organization said Thursday the NFO will soon move to supplant the Twin Falls County Beet Growers Association as bargaining agent for area sugar beet growers.
Twin Falls County NFO President Floyd Shepherd said his organization is about to begin a concerted effort to replace the role of the beet growers association because "the beet growers association and the sugar company are taking advantage of the beet growers."
Shepherd cited the failure to provide a trained chemist to check the sugar content determinations made by Amalgamated Sugar Co. as an example of the "failure" of the beet growers association.
Shepherd said the growers association has hired a "flunky without professional chemical training" to check the analyses done by the sugar company chemist.
"The NFO will soon hire a professional chemist" to replace the beet growers association checker, Shepherd said.
According to Shepherd, "the NFO interest in sugar beets is new." He said the organization currently has enough members to be "effective" in dealing as bargaining agent for the beet growers. He said the organization has 5,000 Idaho members, but did not have available to him the number of NFO members in Twin Falls County.
Shepherd earlier told a Twin Falls NFO meeting that "At the present price" farmers' profits are "jeopardized" by increasing production costs.
"It's a wonder the farmer makes any money at all," he said.
"When we farmers start earning a profit on our agricultural commodities and all livestock, every landowner in the valley will start a profit and every wage earner will earn a better living."
The NFO unit earlier named five county men to the grain, price and marketing bargaining committee at a Tuesday meeting in Twin Falls attended by about 40 area farmers.
Committee members include Frank Clark, Twin Falls; Melvin Tilly and Aubrie Connolly, both Mountain Home; Dale Gould, Bull; and Floyd Stanger, Hansen.

Sen. Proxmire Offers Bill On Credit Rating

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., today introduced a bill designed to protect people from "the downright malicious gossip and hearsay" and other abuses in some credit rating reports.
The measure, called the "Anti-credit reporting bill," seeks to insure the accuracy, relevance and confidential nature of information in credit reports.
It was proposed after a series of hearings into the credit industry revealed what some lawmakers said was an abuse of the power of information held by the big credit rating firms.
Proxmire in remarks prepared for the bill's introduction said members of the Associate Credit Bureau of America had filed an $10 million American credit firm to inform the individual when he is being denied credit because of a bad report; and would require the credit firm to inform the individual whenever they are adding derogatory information to his file.
"Even if the information in agency files is 99 per cent accurate, and I doubt it is that good, the inaccurate items unjustly malign the reputation of more than one million Americans," he said.
He said some of the information in credit files "is inaccurate, ranging from mistaken identity to downright malicious gossip and hearsay."
"Moreover, individuals sometimes have considerable difficulty in getting adverse information corrected," he said.
The bill would give the individual "reasonable opportunity" to correct wrong information in credit files, would require a report user to tell the individual when he is being denied credit because of a bad report; and would require the credit firm to inform the individual whenever they are adding derogatory information to his file.

Freezing Winds Punish California

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sub-freezing temperatures and frigid winds are punishing Southern California today on the heels of three rainstorms which left at least 90 persons dead.
The cold weather front moved down from Oregon and swept across California bringing more snow to the mountains but only isolated rain showers to lower elevations.
The U.S. Weather Bureau took the precaution of issuing a "press release intended to quell 'starc' rumors" to reassure residents understandingly jittery following the worst series of storms in 31 years last week.
"The weather Bureau lends no credence to the rumors of a new storm reaching Southern California," it said.
Only traces of rainfall were expected, the bureau said.

Don't despair! Modern lamps no longer need such fuel, but whale oil and kerosene were very important to the whaling industry. The idea of the lamp originated in the Stone Age, but it was the whaler who developed the lamp containing fuel in the West. Today, of course, almost no homes are without an incandescent lamp. Just as electricity gradually replaced whale oil, and kerosene, your present table lamp seems out of date. Why not get a new lamp and lighten someone else's home?

Minidoka Schools To Appeal Fee Ruling

RUPERT — Minidoka County School District Board of Trustees Wednesday declared the district will appeal to the Idaho Supreme Court last week's Fifth District Court decision which outlawed certain school fees.
The board said in a prepared statement "Judgment of the court has not yet been entered. Therefore no official action can be taken at this time. However the board has instructed the school's attorney Charles Crockett on the receipt of the judgment to take whatever steps are necessary in the preparation for an appeal to the Idaho Supreme Court."
"It is the opinion of the school board that the case is most important not only to this district but to all the districts in the state of Idaho. To the best of our knowledge every district in the state charges fees at the high school level," the statement said.
"We feel it necessary to the educational system of our state to have a supreme court ruling on the legality of charging fees within the school districts."
The trustees said there have been two rulings on the matter of school fees — one from the seventh district court and one from the Idaho Supreme Court. See APPEAL, Page 2, Column 1.

Court

BOISE (UPI)—The House Judiciary Committee Wednesday proposed legislation that would require the State Supreme Court to hold at least one term a year in Twin Falls.
At present, the law requires the high tribunal to meet twice a year in Boise, and once each in Pocatello, Lewiston and Cour d'Alene.
Committee chairman Clyde Keithly said there were two principal reasons for the bill. The act would provide a "convenient courthouse" in Twin Falls and an increasing case load in that area of the state.
"The Supreme Court said it was willing to meet there if the legislature was willing to approve the bill," Keithly said.

New Storm, Fund Woes Plague Idaho

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI) — A picture of clogged highways, stalled equipment and mudslides stretched way out of proportion was painted here Wednesday by northern Idaho highway officials.

The committee was sent here by Gov. Don Samuelson to determine how the state can help the residents in the area. The plan is to make a report back to Samuelson on their findings as soon as possible.

The possibility exists that a state of emergency may be declared and the national guard called up to aid to alleviate the snow removal problem.

During the two-hour session, about 25 city and road district representatives explained their situations and made suggestions as to what was needed to fight the white stuff. There was general agreement that a heavy snow-blowing equipment was most needed on an immediate priority basis.

Several commissioners expressed the fear that if the snow continues, their districts would not be able to cope with the problem.

Mrs. Alice Kessel, Coeur d'Alene city clerk, said anticipated expenditures through January for removal operations in the lake city alone will be more than $60,000. County Commissioner Henry J. Mayer, and County Road Supervisor Herm Ament said so far this month the county has spent $32,000. Representatives from Post Falls reported expenses in excess of $17,000—three times the amount anticipated and budgeted.

It wasn't known just when the governor would decide whether northern Idaho qualifies for state funds. The committee was expected to meet in Boise sometime Thursday, however.

Insurance Men Warn Homeowners To Check Ever-Rising Policy Needs

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS — NEW YORK (UPI) — Inflation it's become a household word.

Who hasn't felt the effects of inflation on the family budget? It's using the cost of everything you buy, steadily, month after month.

But, at the same time, for the homeowner, it has boosted the value of his property. And unless you've been on the alert, your home today may be underinsured.

For instance, a house that cost $20,000 to build 10 years ago would cost at least $30,000 to replace today—possibly more if you've materially expanded or improved it over the years. If using the standard insurance basis of 80 per cent of replacement cost, you initially covered the $20,000 home for $16,000; you should have increased this coverage to at least $24,000 to be fully insured against partial loss today.

The 80 per cent figure is an important one. As long as 80 per cent of its replacement cost is covered, full replacement of partial loss will be made to the limit of the policy—in effect, new for old. If insurance falls below this minimum, any replacement will be made with allowance for depreciation, or at actual cash value.

Example: The roof on a house costs $1,000. It has an estimated life of, perhaps, 20 years. After 10 years, it is blown off in a storm. If the homeowner carries insurance at the minimum of 80 per cent, the roof will be replaced with a new one. If insured below this level, the roof will be depreciated by half its original value, allowing only $500 for its replacement.

For total loss, payment is at the value of the policy and, of course, property can be insured for 100 per cent.

If you haven't paid much attention to your homeowner's insurance beyond paying the bill for renewal you should check now to see that coverage is adequate.

Confined to a few days or hours — caught millions of motorists by surprise because the strikers gave a scant three hours' notice. The walkout began at midnight in Rome and most of Northern and Central Italy and was scheduled to extend to the rest of the country.

The gasoline strike was part of a wave of labor and political protest.

quote. A qualified appraiser, real estate agent, insurance agent or company can help you determine replacement value of your home and what protection you should have.

Most home insurance is comprehensive, covering dwelling and accessory buildings and personal property against loss from a variety of causes and most policies are written for a period of three years. If such policies are not renewed regularly, underinsurance is bound to result.

This can happen even over a period of three years. Construction costs have been going up at a rate of at least 5 per cent yearly and costs associated with home ownership, such as repair and maintenance, are up 28 to 35 per cent over the last decade.

Recognizing this, many companies now are offering an endorsement which would increase automatically the amount of coverage under homeowner's insurance policies.

The Multi-Line Insurance Rating Board, a countrywide rating-making organization, has filed such an endorsement in most states and thus, for, it has been approved in 26.

"Under this inflation guard endorsement, coverage for dwellings, other private structures, unlisted personal property and additional living expense would be increased 1 per cent over the policy's face value every three months," Lewis of Plasi, general manager of the M.I.R.B., explained.

"This means," he said, "that policyholders choosing this endorsement would have limits of liability specified in their policies increased by 1 per cent on the date the policy has been in effect three months, 2 per cent on the date it has been in effect six months and so on up to 12 per cent over a three-year policy period."

He said an increase in premium will be charged for the inflation guard endorsement, the amount varying from state to state and according to the size of the policy. Regular policies without the endorsement will remain available. "The endorsement simply relieves the policy-

Jewish Community Of 2,500 In Iraq Lives Amid Intrigue And Violence

By PHIL NEWSOM — UPI Foreign News Analyst — Jews have lived in Iraq since the days of Babylon, and the Jewish community there once was the largest in the Arab Middle East. Today its numbers are estimated at about 2,500, living under conditions of misery comparable only to similar unfortunate in Syria.

Nine of its members were hanged in a public square this week on charges of spying for Israel and their bodies left dangling to be subjects of taunts and jeers of an Iraqi mob.

Others are known to remain in Iraqi jails awaiting hearings before military courts which, according to past practice, will assume guilt at the outset, with only the severity of the sentence still to be determined.

Plots, counter-plots and violence are a way of life in Iraq and the losers pay heavily. In July, 1958, in a revolution with heavy Communist participation, King Faisal II died be-

The Skyjacker

Skyjacking is becoming so much a part of the pattern of our times that the wise traveler may be the one who, in packing for a flight to Labrador, tosses in a few items of tropical clothing just in case.

Not everyone is laughing, however. Particularly not the airlines. Helpless themselves to come up with any sure way of protecting their passengers from the inconvenience, and the very real danger, posed by the airborne seizures, they are now asking the United Nations to take action.

The International Air Transport Association, a nongovernmental organization representing 102 scheduled airlines, almost all those operating on international routes, wants skyjacking to be declared an international crime in a class with piracy and genocide. It is also asking world governments to speed up ratification of a convention drawn up in Tokyo in 1963 which, among other things, would require signatory nations to release immediately seized planes, crews and passengers forced to land in their territory.

This, of course, has generally been the case even without the formality of a treaty. With the exception of an Israeli airliner forced to land in Algeria some time back, skyjacked planes and persons have been on their way again after minimum delay.

International action is certainly called for. But declaring skyjacking to be an international crime would not in itself be enough. This would be merely formalizing what is already generally recognized. Punishment must also be fashioned to fit the crime. Any better than punishment would be prevention.

What might turn the trick in both respects would be a binding international agreement obligating governments to take immediate and severe punitive action against skyjackers landing in their territories, thus removing any prospect of asylum at the end of the line. But this would be difficult if not impossible to achieve since some governments, notably the one most immediately involved—Havana—are not inclined toward international co-operation.

Meanwhile, we fly on—luck. So far there have been no injuries or deaths. But luck can run out at any time. Until some means of applying international brakes to airborne lawlessness is found, potential disaster will continue to be an unlisted passenger.

MR. SPECTATOR

Snake River Indians

Thumbing through Charles S. Walgamott's book "Reminiscences Of Early Days" disclosed to Mr. Spectator just how the Indians sent their smoke signals.

Early settlers will remember seeing signal smokes being sent up in the Goose Creek mountains and later in the day see an answer by signal smoke sent up in the Sawtooth mountains, more than a hundred miles away.

"Sawm men who have lived long with the Indians explained how they were able to send up these shafts of smoke high in the air without a break causing it to die down quickly, then start up again as quickly.

"At night they would send up rockets by rubbing the inner bark of sage or cedar into a tar-like substance, fasten it to an arrow and after lighting it, shoot it into the heavens. When these signals were being displayed, the settlers in the valley knew that hunting parties from the reservations were in the mountains."

So much for now—but tomorrow I'll tell you more about the Indian situation in Magic Valley and the Snake River area soon after the coming of the white settlers.

Also, borrowing once more from this interesting book on early history of the area, Mr. Spectator will tell you how the white men gyped the Indian when the Redman should have been given Caninus Prairie. It is interesting, so any the least, I'll see you tomorrow.

MOMENT OF TRUTH

However much one may have steered oneself against ruinous times, it is still a shock when the stage and screen heroes of one's youth play the parts of parents with grown-up sons and daughters. It is a moment of truth.

The image, formed a couple of decades or so ago, is of a tall young man who always got the girl in the end; a "young light," the theatrical agents called the type. The time parallel we share with him makes us reflect what he must be now, a "medium" or an "Old everyone's life when, reading a biography, he comes upon a phrase such as "he had now reached an age when his ideas were set and he disliked activity" which sends the reader back to the beginning to ascertain how old the character is.

It is like showing old photographs to children. "How young you were then! Your hair was black and you were thin! ...!" Such sharp truths make sad hearing; they cannot be denied.

That is why albums should be kept, except for moments of nostalgia, at the bottom of a bottom drawer.

BRUIN TROUBLE

It's coming down to a choice between bears or people in our increasingly visited national parks, says a biologist.

According to Galdner B. Momen, a professor at Coucher College in Baltimore, injuries from black bears occur almost daily in Great Smoky and Yellowstone National Parks, and some of them are rather gruesome. Within the past few years, the government has paid $100,000 in damages on two separate occasions because of grizzly bear injuries.

Smoking the Bear and Goldlocks, a queen of the circus notwithstanding, bears are far from being friendly, harmless phlymates, he writes in BioScience, organ of the American Institute of Biological Sciences. They are large, often bad-tempered carnivores who can outrun anything, except a horse or antelope.

Even we can have sanctuaries for waterfowl, Momen argues, surely we can find suitable ones for bears. Old Faithful, he points out, is unique to Yellowstone; bears are not.

RADICALISM

In case you are interested in this sort of thing, Mr. Spectator would direct your reading to the following: The University of California at Berkeley, which has the distinction of having been the scene of some of the nation's worst campus disorders, is inviting more of the same by holding a course on radicalism this quarter.

Lecturers such as radical leftists Tom Hayden and Herbert Marcuse will be the featured attractions in the course sponsored by the Center for Participant Education. This is the student group which triggered a major conflict last fall by sponsoring lectures by "Bridge-Cleaver, Black Panther agitator who now is a fugitive.

ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

The Fulbright-Rogers Axis

WASHINGTON — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is not the same man who one year ago flustered the testimony behind closed doors from Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

When Rusk's Republican successor, William P. Rogers, came to Capitol Hill for routine questioning on his confirmation, Fulbright actively offered the door session to spare him any possible embarrassment.

This is just one piece of evidence to show how sharply the view of the State Department has changed as seen from Fulbright's musty, elegant office in the Capitol. There are many other pieces.

Shortly after the election, for example, Richard M. Nixon telephoned Fulbright just elected to his fifth Senate term from Arkansas, for mutual congratulations. But the exchange was pregnant with innuendo.

That wasn't his last private talk. After making his early December surprise decision to name Rogers Secretary of State, Mr. Nixon discussed that—and other appointments—in detail with Fulbright.

Since then, the relationship has sweetened, creating a bond of civility and cooperation between Fulbright and the State Department dramatically different from the last three years of acrimony.

When pressure for more U.S. help to victims of the civil war in Nigeria reached a new peak, Rogers offered to come before Fulbright's committee and review what could be done.

Fulbright said thanks, but the testimony wasn't needed. The real reason, he knew Rogers didn't have the time.

Fulbright has also quietly offered to help Rogers and the President sell their solution to the Vietnam war so long as he remains convinced that the Administration really means to push the Paris negotiations without rescinding the war, no matter how painful and long those negotiations may be.

Thus, Fulbright has drawn back from the resolution he pushed through the Foreign Relations Committee last year, aimed squarely at President Johnson, by the Senate record that no President should commit American troops abroad without first consulting with the Senate.

It is quite clear by now the conditions don't know what is going to happen in 1969. All predictions are being changed almost daily.

Emphasizing the expected slowdown in growth in the first half of 1969, what is missed is that this year will be a most profitable time for a wide number of industries.

not make it a big issue—as of today. State Department skeptics wonder how long "today" will last.

The President is under strong pressure from some military experts—including Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor, deputy commander of Vietnam who has been here counseling Mr. Nixon—to win a military victory in Vietnam.

For the Nixon administration, the stakes are large. If Fulbright breaks with the President over Vietnam, he could unleash against Mr. Nixon the full fury of the liberal-intellectual lobby that forced Lyndon Johnson out of politics.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The weakness of economic forecasts is that they spend so much time looking at the forests that they lose sight of the individual trees.

Overall, government analyses indicate that the 100 industries surveyed, 12 expect increases of more than 10 per cent, 50 increases of 5 to 10 per cent, 40 decreases of less than 5 per cent and 5 industries whose business will remain level or decline a little.

About Jogging

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would jogging be injurious to arthritis? I have it in my neck, arms, and legs. I am 57, in good health, but I know, but overweight.—Mrs. L. F.

Jogging has had a whopping lot of publicity lately, and it would be a good thing if more people took up serious jogging. But when you have arthritis? Well, that depends.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 57 and I have been taking estrogen—female sex hormones. By mistake, naturally. My wife knows, but over-weight.—Mrs. L. F.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as outlining effective treatments and medications. Sinatra's Dad Laid To Rest In Quiet Rites JERSEY CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Anthony "Marty" Sinatra, actor, singer and saloon keeper, retired fireman and the father of Frank Sinatra, was buried Tuesday in a sprawling cemetery a few miles from the town where he lived most of his 74-year life. About 350 persons, including a number of celebrity friends of the family, attended the funeral in the Church of the Madonna at Fort Lee, N. J., and many of them went on to the burial in Jersey Garden City Name Cemetery. Crowds totaling about 2,000 gathered along the route.

Frank Sinatra was accompanied by Frank Jr. and his daughters, Nancy, with her fiancé, Jack Haley Jr., and Tina. Other celebrities on hand included singer Sammy Davis Jr., comedian Allan King, baseball manager Leo Durocher and publisher Bennett Cerf.

The 74-year-old widow, Natalie "Dolly" Sinatra, burst into tears at the graveside. She was escorted to a waiting limousine by her son and grandson and her friend, restaurateur Gilly Bizzo.

Sammy Davis, wearing a brown fur coat, walked ahead urging onlookers to stand back and keep their voices down. The elder Sinatra died of a heart attack Friday in Houston, Texas, where he had just completed treatment. A heart transplant was considered, but doctors decided it was impractical.

The funeral service was held at Fort Lee and was chosen for the funeral service because it was the one that Sinatra had attended since when he was a young boy, and then a home in the riverside town across the Hudson from Northern Manhattan.

Reagan Declares U.S. 'Abandoned' Crew Of Pueblo

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan accused the U.S. government Wednesday of illegally abandoning 83 crew members of the USS Pueblo during their captivity in North Korea. Dismissing the Naval court of inquiry into the ship that was captured, Reagan said at a news conference, the crew should not feel the vessel's captain, Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, was on trial.

"I think the United States government is on trial because if there were any sliver of omission or commission in this whole incident, they were on the part of the government," Reagan said.

Chicago Railroad Overturns 'Experts,' Continues To Make Money On Commuters

By DEAN C. MILLER UPI Business Editor NEW YORK (UPI)—It's no secret that most railroads would rather haul coal or cattle than commuters.

The reason was summed up succinctly by Chairman Stuart Saunders of the Penn Central who recently said, "nobody ever made money hauling commuters."

Saunders apparently never heard of the Chicago & North Western commuter lines which haul 500 suburbanites into and out of the Windy City each working day. Last year it netted a record $2.8-million. That is a 10 per cent profit jump over the 1967—and the eighth straight year the C&NW has made money on the commuters most lines except like lepers.

The Long Island Railroad, for instance, loses about 300,000 dollars on its commuter service. It has overdue bills amounting to $8-million. In the last three years, it has faced 26 strikes, strike threats, work stoppages or threats of work stoppage. It now is confronted by a full-scale passenger rebellion which includes "hate" boycotts, commuter unions, refusals to show tickets and threats of lawsuits. The New Haven Railroad, which the Penn Central took over January 1 only under duress, is the laughing stock of New York commuters. A thousand jokes and cartoons have been inspired by its antiquated cars with the peeling paint and the 1890 chandeliers, its breakdowns and its haphazard schedules.

How does the C&NW make money and friends where other railroads lose money and friends? "We treat the commuter like the valued customer he is," said Frank Koval, head of the C&NW Suburban Services. Our surveys indicate his basic desires are convenience, comfort and dependability, and we try to give him these services.

In 1961, the C&NW decided to gamble with an expensive modernization program. They replaced "dirty," inefficient cars with colorful double-deckers, 200 of which provided as much passenger space as 400 of the old cars. They are kept spotlessly clean. They also are warm in the winter and air-conditioned in the summer. And the regular rider is guaranteed a seat. Schedules were overhauled to provide trains when they were needed.

"Our main objective is to move people," Koval said. "Good equipment can't run itself, so we have a management attitude that pushes good performance and dependability by our workers. We run a daily check on each of the 200 trains. If a train is more than two minutes late, we find out why."

"Chicago commuters responded to this unusual attitude by leaving their cars at home and riding the train to work. Ridership is up 34 per cent since 1961, or about 7-million riders. Profits for the C&NW are rising each year.

BLACK LINE SHOWS the route of the 138,000 volt line the Bonneville Power Administration will build under the power line contract. The line will connect the Minidoka Dam to a new sub-station four miles southwest of Burley. The $204,005 contract has been awarded to Wire Installation Contractors, Inc., Spokane. Construction is authorized to begin Monday and the project is scheduled for completion by Sept. 8, 1969. BPA officials point out that the present BPA transmission system is becoming inadequate to meet the rapidly growing electrical needs of the Burley-Unity area.

HUGHES BUYS CLAIMS VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (UPI)—Las Vegas industrialist Howard Hughes has bought additional mining claims here, it was disclosed Tuesday.

BPA To Build 138,000 Volt Line From Minidoka Dam To Unity Sub-Station

BURLEY—A contract for $204,005 has been awarded by the Bonneville Power Administration for construction of a 138,000-volt transmission line connecting the Minidoka Dam with the BPA Unity sub-station located approximately four miles southwest of Burley.

Who Installation Contractors, Inc., Spokane, Wash., is the successful bidder for the transmission line contract. Bob Lee, BPA area manager, Idaho Falls, said the contractor is authorized to proceed with construction of the line on Feb. 3, and the project is scheduled to be completed by Sept. 8, 1969.

"Capacity of the present BPA transmission system serving the Burley-Unity area is becoming inadequate to meet the rapidly growing electrical loads in the area," Mr. Lee said.

"For this reason, the new line will be constructed between Minidoka Dam, the power generating unit in the area, and Unity sub-station, the key point of delivery on the Bonneville Power supply system.

"to the very strict standards for specification that are required in all BPA construction contracts," Lee added.

After the line is in service it will be operated and maintained by the BPA crew located in Burley, working under the direction of Dale H. Brooks, BPA Idaho Falls area operating and maintenance supervisor.

Free said if the merger takes effect, classes could start at the Baker location as soon as fall, 1969.

Two Principals Resign Positions

DETROIT (UPI)—The white principals of two racially tense Detroit high schools have left their posts to dwell in the stress caused by students was undermining their health.

The two, both heads of schools with high-Negro enrollment, said Tuesday that the pressure from students was more than they were able to cope with.

Robert Branton, in the school system for 32 years, has taken an indefinite leave of absence from Martin Luther King High, which is located in the near-downtown area. He said he took the action on the recommendation of his doctor.

Stacey Berkowitz, a member of the public school system for 20 years, said the pressure at Mackenzie High School was draining him physically. He said he would take a leave of absence for at least six months and then decide what to do.

80th Year At Moscow Is Observed

MOSCOW — The University of Idaho established by the Territorial Legislature only 22 years after the close of Idaho's Indian wars, will celebrate its 80th birthday today.

The occasion will be marked at 5:15 p.m. by a concert on the David Memorial Carillon by Hall M. Mackinn, head of the music department. Otherwise, it will be studied as usual, with many second semester classes just getting under way.

President Ernest W. Hartung, before making his annual report to the regents the passing of eight decades for the university, commented: "Everything about looking to the future should be based on the past if it is to have meaning, for the present is but a fleeting moment of transition between the past and to ignore the future obviously stifles progress.

More than 67,000 students have attended the university since its opening. Last fall, the institution set a new enrollment record of 6,342. At the start of the institution, there were only 30 to 40 students.

DEAR ABBY: I am an attractive, intelligent, affectionate woman of 23. My problem is that I am ready to marry and settle down, but my 25-year-old boy friend, whom I've been seriously dating for a year, is not ready. He says that all the mates in his family have...

DEAR ABBY: My son is nearly 12 years old and he doesn't know a thing about the facts of life. I think it is time he learned, but his mother says, 'Give him time. He will learn.'

DEAR WORRIED: What a 12-year-old boy doesn't learn at his mother's knee he is sure to pick up at some low joint.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 27 years and have had a child who is eight years old. 'Three years ago I began having asthma attacks. Six months ago my attacks got worse, so after a series of tests with a specialist, he said I was allergic to dog hair and had to get rid of our dog.'

DEAR ALLERGIC: Surely a formerly 'thoughtful and considerate' man who lately has become more concerned about the dog than me.

DEAR ABBY: Why should one read Prince Vallant in the complex when real life, as reflected in our column is so much more exciting?

Rev. Donald L. Hoffman, minister of the First Christian Church, performed the ceremony before a setting of baskets of red flowers and red candles.

Given in marriage by her father—the bride wore a floor-length gown, fashioned of brocade velvet, with an empire waistline accented with a peau de soie bow. A matching bow held her floor-length veil of silk illusion net. She carried a bouquet of red roses and wore a cameo locket worn by her mother and her grandmother at their wedding.

The bride and groom were met by her maid of honor, and that of their attendants were made by her maid of honor.

Maid of honor was Bonnie Kay Reed, sister of the bride, Seattle, Wash. Ronnona Jacobs, Yakima, Wash., cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid.

JUMPER MAKES NEWS

The Rembrandt spring collection designed by Ole Barden is definitely in the spirit of today. Much of the collection gave the impression of ease-softened colors, supple fabrics, fluid shapening. The jumper made news as a dress, as a coat or as a jacket in the collection. Always it was clean cut with no superfluous details—nothing more than a simple rounded or straight neckline slashed down the front and (in the jumper coats) front pocket flaps and a high back vent.

Science Aids Short Children

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Abnormally short children may be helped in the future through the use of a synthetic growth hormone, says the director of the pituitary gland bank at the University of California Medical Center.

Dr. Roberto Encarnilla says steady progress has been made in the study of the hormone. Evans first discovered the growth hormone in animal glands in 1924.

Animal hormones proved ineffective in humans, but another UC professor, Dr. H. C. Li, isolated the human growth hormone, using human pituitary glands.

The world's first Pituitary Gland Bank was established in 1960 at UC and more than 30,000 glands have been collected since. Last year, Li completed studies of the molecular structure of the growth hormone, which he hopes will lead to a synthetic hormone.

Explorer Charts Voyage By Skiff

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Norwegian explorer who sailed the course around the world through the Pacific strait, accidentally followed the said Wednesday he plans to sail across the Atlantic and a light skiff made of papyrus, blown across the Atlantic in May despite ratings such a craft used by the Egyptians in 4000 B.C., will sink in ocean water.

The 48-foot craft is under construction in the Lake Chad area of Africa where stalks of papyrus, which the ancient Egyptians used to make paper, grow in abundance.

Thor Heyerdahl, in New York to the United Nations Secretary General U. Thant for permission to sail under the U.N. flag, said "when I crossed the Pacific on a balloon raft it was to provide proof for the theory that the first people settled by people from the South American mainland.

"The Atlantic crossing is a little different. We are not out to make a successful voyage could add credibility to the growing belief that the Inca and Aztec civilizations had their elements of Egyptian culture quite apart from the pyramids.

Heyerdahl, who is 54, noted that some anthropologists believe some Egyptians, blown off course rounding the Gibraltar strait, accidentally followed the said Wednesday he plans to sail across the Atlantic and a light skiff made of papyrus, blown across the Atlantic in May despite ratings such a craft used by the Egyptians in 4000 B.C., will sink in ocean water.

The theory, however, has its detractors, such as an Egyptian friend of Heyerdahl's who has been soaking papyrus stalks in his bathtub and insists they become so waterlogged, they will sink in two weeks' time.

The Egyptian, nevertheless, intends to come along with Heyerdahl when he makes the trip, estimated to take about 60 to 90 days from Morocco to Yucatan.

The crew, which also is expected to include an American, an Egyptian, a Frenchman, an Italian film maker and a Russian doctor, will store their water in vessels like those used in ancient Egypt and exist on the food of the period.

The one concession to the 20th century is to be a radio transmitter—just in case the Egyptian turns out to be right about papyrus.

AMONG THE new 25 graduates of the University of Idaho who were commissioned second lieutenants and ensigns in the U.S. Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force recently was Charles A. Dunn, Twin Falls, of the Army. Mrs. Dunn is shown pinning the gold bars on his shoulder.

Rupert Installs New Chamber Of Commerce Officers At Fete

RUPERT—Newly elected 1969 officers were installed at a fete heard an address from Mayor Evans Rich, a retired army general who is now executive vice president of the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Rich has been active in community affairs for many years and has served as president of the Utah Chamber Executives Association and as director of the Mountain States Association of Chamber Executives.

Mr. Rich centered his remarks around the threat of communism and how it affects the American daily life.

"Are we a people who care?"

Other new officers include: Ed Hariman, first vice president; Buster Goode, second vice president; and Ruth DeThomas, secretary.

Holover directors include Merle Hann, Richard Megard, and Bill Hanes. Ken Bell will also act as director for another year.

Following the installation of the 150 members and guests

He said that the United States has become a nation that cares less about what a man is than what he has. But, he continued, we can change things if we have a desire to. "There is enough talent in this room or any part of America to change the course of history," he noted.

His then paralleled the American way of life now to the fall of the Roman Empire. Among the causes of the fall cited by Mr. Rich were a larger divorce rate, higher taxes, thirst for entertainment, and the lack of religion.

During the first portions of the dinner meeting, the gathering was entertained by the "Tater Tunes," consisting of Howard Brun, Claud H. Bowman, Tom Pierce, and Bill Thomas.

Tables were decorated by Rupert Abstract, Bell Agency; Camden Meyer for the Minidoka County School District; Penneys, Idaho Department Store, First Security Bank, Rupert Floral, Floyd's Floral, Jones Potatoes, and the Idaho First National Bank.

Thieves 'Borrow' Statue 'For Luck'

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The two-year-old mystery of the frequent disappearance of a religious statue from a church in the Tepic stum area—and its return with money attached to it—was finally solved Wednesday.

The Rev. Jose Socorro, church pastor in the area, said one of his parishioners, a his friend took along the statue on "sorties" to bring them luck.

"When he's along, we don't get into trouble," the man told the priest. "We always give him a share of the loot for the church."

Father Socorro took the statue and locked it in a trunk, he said, to prevent any more midnight forays.

Negro Educator Demands Right To Name Classes

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—Charles Davis, a Negro English professor at the Pennsylvania State University, said Wednesday the faculty should retain the right to decide what courses should be taught and who should teach them.

Davis, also chairman of Penn State's Human Relations Commission, said he was unequivocally opposed to a proposal that Negro students be given veto power over black courses and black faculty members.

Davis praised the Douglas Association, a Negro student group, for trying to increase Negro enrollment at Penn State.

He is interested in governing courses in black culture.

But he said the proposal that black courses and faculty members be approved by the Negro student body was a dangerous precedent for the entire student body—black or white.

Speaking at a discussion session sponsored by the Douglas Association, Davis said the judgment of curriculum and faculty should remain where it belongs—with the faculty.

Lawrence Lattin, white professor, proposed the establishment of five-year baccalaureate programs to enable students with high school deficiencies to keep pace with other students.

Senate Confirms Board Member

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Senate has confirmed the appointment by Gov. Don Samuelson of Gerald A. Geddes, Pocatello, to the Industrial Accident Board for a six-year term.

Geddes, a Democrat, will serve on the board until Jan. 13, 1973.

Sen. John Evans, D-Malad, minority leader of the upper chamber, praised Geddes for his contributions to labor and business and said that the appointment had served as president of Local 449 of the Electrical Workers Union and as business agent.

He also worked with the Atomic Energy Commission in the area.

The board is made up of one member from labor, one from employers and one described as a "public member."

Geddes also worked on revision of Idaho's safety code.

The confirmation was unanimous.

Sought Truck Brings Sad 'News'

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore. (UPI)—The owner of the automobile and busway store breathed a long sigh of relief Wednesday when he saw the truck lumbering through the snow toward his door.

His customers were happy, too, for the truck, they believed, carried 10 sets of badly needed tire chains. There is a foot or three feet of snow on the ground of this small community.

The truck, however, carried water skis, life jackets and lawn mowers.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government supplies of gold declined slightly in one month for the first time in nine months, the Treasury reported Tuesday.

The monthly Treasury bulletin showed total gold holdings dropped $5 million to a level of $10.892 billion. The decline was the smallest change recorded in the last 12 months.

The Treasury report said that all of the December drain was from the department's exchange account, used for monetary transactions between the United States and its trading allies. The account generally carries about $500 million in gold apart from official Treasury holdings.

Filer Puts Title Hopes In Two Loops On Line In Features Of Weekend

The Filer Wildcats put all their conference title hopes into this weekend and Hagerman's move into the Little Six Conference faces another test in the early weeks of area basketball action.

Filer, two games out in the South Central Idaho Conference in the Big Six, will be at Glens Ferry Friday night and host Wood River Saturday. Those two games are the most critical in the Big Six league while Wood-River owns a two-game lead over the Wildcats in the SCIC.

It is hardly possible if the Wildcats have their team back off the Big Six title would give the Big Six lead and pull to within one of Wood River in the SCIC.

Pro Loops Complete Lengthy Grid Draft

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1969 pro football draft, opening on a note of certainty and ending in confusion, wound up its two-day preliminary session on Saturday, with 442 players selected for the pro ranks.

The certainty was the status of O.J. Simpson, the Southern California rushing star of the USC team, the Heisman Trophy winner and two-time All-American, who was selected by the San Francisco 49ers on Saturday.

The confusion came at the very end. The New York Jets, choosing last in every round as world champions, selected Vic Washington, a defensive back, on the 17th and last round.

LSU Player Says Mount Can Outshoot Maravich, But Can't Outplay Him

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Louisiana State's Jeff Tribbett is the number one center among the likes to come to the South and cause trouble. He just goes around saving there a better shot at winning a national title than teammate Pete Maravich, who only happens to be averaging more points than Tribbett.

Tribbett never travels far down the scoring column to find his super-bud. He's Rick Mount of the same upper-100-percentage point average that is in the country's third best.

Tribbett qualifies as an expert negotiator in these matters because he has played the game with both Maravich and Mount, and Louisiana State is not about to call a board of inquiry to clean the Tribbett's national title, but he has seen Maravich as he receives a couple of baskets for his latest sidewalk.

San Jacinto. Still On Top; CSI Is 17th

Phoenix, Ariz., unbeaten in 17 games this season, retained second and Vincennes, Ind. (13-3), advanced one notch to third in this week's National Junior College Athletic Association poll.

High-scoring Indiana River of Fort Pierce, Fla., averaging 139 points in winning all 16 of its games this season, moved up to fourth and Northeastern of Sterling, Colo., dropped from third to fifth with a 15-1 record.

Baylor of Waco, Tex. (13-1), N.Y., and Robert Morris of Pittsburgh, Pa., both 17-0, held sixth and seventh respectively, with the latter team having advanced from 19th to eighth.

Lee, Bunn Continue To Top Area Cage Statistics; Two Records Appear Lost

Little has changed in Magic Valley basketball statistics over the past two weeks, but with three weeks — and basically five games — left to play it would appear that the scoring and free throw records for the fourth district definitely will be rewritten.

Randy Lee of Dietrich, having his second 40-plus point night going to go along with his one-game record of 56 and then adding 18 free throws in one game to are another Magic Valley record, has regained the lead in the top two departments. The 6-1 Blue Devil now is boasting a 28.9 average with a total of 434 points. The record is set by Ron Admison of Gooding, meaning that Lee can retire that by averaging 13.1 points per game. That shouldn't be a problem barring injury and with Lee that has been a possibility.

The youngster has gone through the season without any serious leg hurts and if he makes it, it will mark the first season he's been able to compete in all 20 games. Last year he missed the district tournament with a broken leg. Ankle sprains have been his biggest nemesis.

Lee also has pushed his free throw total to 104 — just 13 behind the record set by Ned Williams of Twin Falls. But his lead is that department isn't as overwhelming as in scoring. Lanky Greg Bunn of Burley is right behind with 99 and has six games left to play. All statistics are based on games through last weekend.

Burley Tops Buhl With Big Last Half

BURLEY — The Burley Bobcats, held to a 19-19 deadlock, exploded in the second half to pour them the Buhl Indians 52-37 in a non-conference game Wednesday night.

The underdog Indians took a narrow lead in the first quarter and managed to hold away a 23-point or three through most of the game. Burley stayed in the game on the scoring of Steve Hilliard.

But in the third quarter Burley started hitting and Greg Bunn started using his big right arm to play over the heads of the shorter Indians. Bunn scored 20 of his 23 points in the second half as Burley managed a small lead in the third quarter and then out-scored Buhl 16-6 in the final eight minutes.

Buhl took the preliminary 65-48.

N.M. State Rapped From Unbeaten List

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UPI) — Greg Howard, led revitalized New Mexico to a surprising 86-60 thrashing of sixth-ranked and previously undefeated New Mexico State Wednesday night.

Howard, making his first start since rejoining the team after a three-week suspension, led all scorers with 35 points.

While Howard was peppering the nets from outside and in, teammate Ron Santidri was holding the Aggies' big man, 6-9 Sam Lacey, to six points.

The Lobos, now 12-0, also put a clamp on guards Jimmy Collins and Chisley Curtis. The two, who averaged a combined 48.4 points per game, managed to get only 28 between them.

Rush Offered Head Job By Patriots

BOSTON (UPI) — Clive Rush, offensive coach of the World Champion New York Jets, has been offered the job of head coach of the American Football League Boston Patriots. The Patriots announced Wednesday night.

The Patriots made the announcement from their office here. The club said President Bill Sullivan had been conferring with Rush in New York, where Sullivan had gone for the player draft.

Sullivan, according to the club announcement, said he expected Rush to accept the offer Thursday morning after a meeting with lawyers to certify all the documents. Sullivan said he will bring Rush to Boston Thursday afternoon if he accepts, to meet Boston writers.

Rush, 37, would replace Mike Holovak, who was fired as head coach on Jan. 7. Sullivan flew to Mobile, Ala., to inform Holovak of the decision while the coach was scouting players.

Lemon Fired As Manager of Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jim Lemson was fired as manager of the Washington Senators Wednesday according to a team spokesman.

Burt Hawkins, the Senators' public information director said club owner Robert E. Shurt was still deliberating whether to fire Lemson, who held position within the organization.

Hawkins said no decision had been reached on whether to retain George Selkirk as general manager of the team, which finished last in the league in 1968.

Reports had been circulating that both Selkirk and Lemson would be dropped before the 1969 season begins. They said Shurt had offered to the field manager position to Bob Kennedy, former manager of the Chicago Cubs and the Oakland Athletics.

Hawkins confirmed that Shurt had talked with Kennedy and will name Sam Lewis, former manager of the Minnesota Twins, but said neither had been offered the job. Lewis had been a last-place finisher in the American League in 1967 to sixth place last season.

Selkirk has been general manager of the Senators for the last six of the eight years that they have been in the league since the old Washington Senators became the Minnesota Twins in 1961.

KEY PLAY KILLS EAST'S THREAT
 Jake Winkman's pupils all manage to develop a reasonable amount of skill in dummy play. In today's hand we see Winkman as dummy.

South ruffed again and played his last trump in order to draw West's last one. East had been forced to discard twice and had played a diamond and his last spade.

South ran off his three high diamonds to discard one heart from dummy. Then he stopped to think awhile. Winkman could almost watch his mental processes.

Where was the king of hearts? West had shown up with a king of clubs and king of spades. East had bid twice. Would he have done it with just the queen of clubs and the heart jack? No, he wouldn't.

How can I make this contract with the king of hearts in the East hand?

Eventually, South worked it out. He led his fourth diamond and discarded another heart from dummy. East was on lead and had to play a heart. South let it ride around to dummy's queen and made his doubled contract.

CARD SENSE
 The bidding has been:
 West North East South
 Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠ N.T.
 Pass 1♥ Pass 2♠ N.T.
 Pass 4♠ Pass 4♥ N.T.
 Pass 5♥ Pass 5♠ N.T.
 Pass 6♥ Pass 6♠ N.T.
 You South, hold:
 ♠A95 WKJ7 ♦A104 ♣KQ108
 What do you do now?
 A—Pass. Your partner is trying to get to seven but there is an obvious missing card. He just can't hold the queen of hearts or he would have bid the grand slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 Instead of bidding three hearts over your two no-trump your partner has jumped to four hearts. What do you do now?
 Answer Next Issue

South's final bid of four spades did not meet with Professor Winkman's approval. As he points out, South bid four spades all by himself and there was no reason for South to think that he would be able to make it. Actually, North might have jumped to four spades after his partner's three-diamond bid but Winkman knows his pupils pretty well and was not going to fall into that trap.

West opened the king of clubs and continued. South ruffed and played the ace and queen of spades. There was really no point in trying to get to dummy for a trump finesse. West's double had clearly located the king of trumps.

West was in with the king and might well have led a heart but West took the easy route of continuing clubs.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks were mixed in late trading Thursday, although most blue chips tended higher. Trading was heavy.

The lack of progress at the second round of the expanded Vietnam peace talks in Paris, and a report that the cabinet in the Middle East slowed demand.

Encouraging news, meaning included some additional bright corporate earnings reports and a private survey indicating that construction awards were up 11 per cent in December from a year earlier.

Near 1 p.m. the UPI stock market indicator was up 0.09 per cent on 1,499 issues traded. Advances narrowly edged declines, 637 to 628.

The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chip industrials gained 3.54 to 941.43. Volume at that time totaled 9,630,000 shares, up from 7,700,000 shares traded at that time in the previous session.

I own 122 shares of Howmet Corporation on which I have a good profit, I could use more income and a friend tells me the French interests will allow the company to pay a good dividend or really let the stock go places. Would you comment?

A. The "French interests" of Howmet are not the French but the French interests of Howmet. In addition, Howmet and Fechny both have a 25 per cent interest in an aluminum smelter, Intalco, and are jointly planning the construction of a $150-million primary aluminum plant on the East Coast.

Because Fechny is France's leading aluminum producer and several Fechny men are in top management positions at Howmet, it may be more sympathetic to this segment of Howmet's business. But I would certainly not attribute the modest dividend to any one factor.

It is my opinion that the quarterly rate doubled in two years to any outside influence; Howmet is a cyclical growth stock and not an income issue.

Boise Action On Bill Is Just Confusion Of Names

BOISE (Special to the Times-News) — A rose by any other name may smell as sweet, but a water ways fund by any other name, would solve a couple of problems in the State Senate.

'Sno Foolin'

SEATTLE (UPI) — Motorists here won't have to worry about feeding parking meters as long as the cold weather and snow continue. E. Lorentzen, city treasurer, said two meter holders slipped earlier in the week and bruised their ribs and it was decided to keep the girls inside processing dog license applications. While motorists may be happy, Lorentzen isn't. He estimated the city will lose $4,000 each day.

Sluff Classes Discussed By Gooding PTA

GOODING—Problems of high school "sluff" courses and possible solutions were the discussion subjects at a meeting of Gooding PTA Monday night at the elementary school auditorium. Members of the panel included high school students, with members of the audience participating in the discussion. Courses which came under fire were student aide and office work. Eugene Gibbons, elementary school principal, pointed out the objectives of the student aide program and why it was of value to the school. Panel members felt that student aides do a lot of hard work, and that they do learn from these courses. They also pointed out that some students make "sluff" courses out of regular academic courses and adding that students should challenge themselves in any course. One felt that more academic subjects were needed in the high school, and another that there were not proper facilities to eliminate the student aide and office courses. The consensus of the group was that the two courses should be graded "satisfactory" or "unsatisfactory" rather than regular grading, and that they receive only one-half credit instead of a full credit. Members of the panel were Chris Oakley, Darla Bateman, Liah Muller, Carla Harbaugh, Debbie Meyer, Tom Arkoosh, Owen Swanson and Craig Hubbard. Invocation was given by Rev. Edmund Stanton, United Methodist Church, and the flag ceremony by Don S. Pack 97.

Landon Poma, 20, 700 Conant Ave., Burley, was fined $300 and sentenced to 10 days in city jail by Judge Willis for driving on a suspended driver's license. Eugene D. What looked like a simple offensive little bill was introduced in the Senate this session to transfer administration of the Water Ways Improvement Fund from the Department of Law Enforcement to the Department of Parks.

And, a short time later, senators began receiving mail and calls from back home, demanding to know how come the state is going to start taking over county funds.

It seems that the counties have been using money from a waterways fund collected from the licensing of pleasure boats for various recreational projects, such as making boat docks and improving launching sites and associated picnic areas.

When the senators began straightening out the confusion, they found these same water funds — the counties' water ways fund and a water ways improvement fund, the state fund derived from one per cent of the motor fuel tax. Senate Bill 1004 has to do with the latter. "The state isn't going to touch

Class Of '59 Reunion Plan Is Discussed

Plans for a reunion of the Twin Falls High School class of 1959 were formalized during a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. K. A. Rem (Koon) Gates, Twin Falls. David Nelson, chairman of the event, said the reunion will be held July 26-27 and plans are well under way for a series of events that weekend. There are over 200 members of the class and most of these are planning to attend.

It was announced that the Saints, a local group, would be furnishing music for the banquet and dance.

Mrs. Gates reminded that those members of the class who have addresses of other classmates should give them to her as soon as possible so letters can be mailed to them.

The next meeting will be Feb. 26, with time and place to be announced later.

Mrs. Lewis, who lives at the Perrau Bay Home for the Aged, had asked the divorce proceedings be speeded up so she could marry an unidentified man she met at the home.
