TIMBERS, BRICKS and snow create a tangled debris for crews to remove at the IOOF lodge at Hailey where weight of the snow collapsed the roof on the building Wednesday morning. Ernest Fife, lodge noble grand, said extent of damage could not be determined until the debris was removed and a new snowfall Thursday was making this work difficult. A second-hand store and cleaning establishment were housed in the first floor.

Oil Clogs Snow Collapses Hailey's IOOF Lodge Roof; Warning Issued Coastline At Resort

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—A thick carpet of black sand and gullied 12 miles of beaches including the white sands of this resort Wednesday and forced closure of the harbor here.

Onshore winds pushed waves of the acid black goo over the shoreline from Carpinteria to Avoca Beach.

The oil, part of a massive spill that has spread across 800 square miles of the Pacific off Southern California, was being dumped at the rate of 2,000 gallons a day from an offshore well in the Santa Barbara channel.

The petroleum layer, from two to six inches thick, washed across the sands to the high tide line, about 15 feet from the water's edge.

Most of the oil lay on top of the sand like an ugly black pond, although some sank in. The slicks of polluted coastline resembled a long strip of roofing tar. UPI reporter Jerry Henry said walking on the sand was like straggling through chewing gum.

Some other beaches as far south as Oxnard also were fouled by patches of oil.

A state official said that even if the oil leak was stopped immediately, it would take up to two months to clean the beaches.

HAILEY — Crews were removing the debris of brick and snow from the Hailey IOOF Odd Fellows Lodge building whose roof collapsed Wednesday morning from the weight of the heavy snow. Their work was hampered by new snowfall.

Ernest Fife, noble grand of the Rising Star Lodge No. 12 which built the structure in 1904 and owns the building, said lodge officials have not yet decided whether the lower floor of the structure will be worth repairing. They will be unable to decide before plans for the debris is removed and they can determine the extent of the damage.

As the cleanup work went on Thursday, Forest Service officials warned that a summer or two of heavy snow would be expected here Thursday to check condition of the structure.

homes are designed to hold 120 pounds per square foot, according to John Combs, Ketchum ranger station, and at Ketchum, it is estimated that the water content of the snow is enough to make the weight of the snow about 80 pounds per square foot on all buildings.

The ranger explained that one cubic foot of water weighs 62 pounds and on top of a B-14 mountain there are two cubic feet of water per square foot, meaning that every square foot of snow weighs 124 pounds.

Maurice Rejins, operator of Smiley Creek Lodge, Thursday said that anyone having a cabin or summer home should check the condition of their roofs.

Dr. C. A. Hawkes, Salt Lake City, who owns the building near the IOOF hall in Hailey, was expected here Thursday to check condition of the structure which houses the Soil Conservation office, Standard Oil and the Ketchum Title Co. Employees at the three businesses have been unable to work the past three days because of further snow, but that has been repaired.

The skylight in the Hawkes building was broken when the roof of the adjoining hall collapsed. Mr. Fife said the IOOF lodge had hired Mike Ivie, a contractor, to clean the debris, but this was difficult because of the new snowfall Thursday.

The second floor of the lodge building was used by the members for meetings and banquets, and contained a kitchen which only recently had been furnished with new dishes and silverware, now all lost in the snow.

All of the regalia from both the IOOF and Rebekah lodges also were ruined in the resulting damage after the roof collapsed.

Housed on the first floor of the building were the Wood River Hunters, started by Mrs. Pat Elsher, and the Operatively Secondhand Shop, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grant.

Mrs. Fife said she worked until late Wednesday night removing the cleaning equipment and furnishings. The clothes were taken to the B and D Dry Cleaning Co. The store was closed Wednesday night.

The Grants and their helpers also carried out all merchandise in the second hand store Wednesday night from the Weezy building across the street.

Mr. Fife said he was able to salvage about 20 of the framed pictures of past lodge noble grands which had hung on the north wall of the lodge room.

Union Turned Down In Spud Plant Vote

By RICHARD HIGH JR., Times News Staff Writer

Idaho Frozen Foods employees Wednesday overwhelmingly voted to reject a year-long effort by two unions to represent workers at the Twin Falls food processing plant.

Sixty-seven per cent of the workers voted to remain non-unionized, while the remaining third were divided between the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, and the Meat Cutters and Butchers Union of North America Amalgamated.

Compared to the company's election total of 185 votes, the Teamsters received 59 votes, the Meat Cutters received only 33 votes. One ballot was voided.

The election was a repeat of a vote held in 1967 which was ordered by the National Labor Relations Board following union claims that unfair election procedures were used by the company.

Verde Foods, company president thanked employees after the election for their "support during the organizational drive."

Plant manager William Routh said he was "very pleased with the outcome of the election."

He said he "looks forward to the continuing development of the Idaho Frozen Foods employe benefit program."

According to Tom Hazard, director of services of the Idaho Employers Council, the two unions "were going far beyond their traditional borders." He said the unions are leaving their traditional organizational areas and moving into unrelated industries.

Hazard said he viewed the Twin Falls effort as "an opportunity for it to get a lot of money in their bank account they can win. It's big business for them."

Hazard attributed the employe rejection of the unions as a "vote of confidence in the company."

"This means the pension program, the working conditions and the way people are treated here must be pretty darned good to get this kind of percentage," he said.

Teamster organizer H. W. (Spec) Reynolds said following the vote tally, "I guess the company did a better job than we did. The people weren't ready for it and we were really shakedowned."

Reynolds said the Teamsters will "possibly make another attempt next year," after the union "locks the pulps" of plant workers.

Hazard said the union claims are UNION, Pg. 2, Col. 8.

Minidoka Agent To Be Transferred

RUPERT — The Minidoka County agent of the University of Idaho Agricultural Extension Service agreed to transfer one of the county's agents to the county seat.

The request was made by the county commissioners in an attempt to maintain the extension service budget at the same level as last year.

Grant Hill, head of the State's county agent program, was in Rupert last week. He was C. D. Youngstrom, associate director for the extension service. The men met with county commission chairman Alvo Roemer and agreed to transfer agent Vance Smith.

Mr. Youngstrom said that at present no position is available for the transfer and agreed that the extension service will assume the expense of Mr. Smith's transfer until the position is available.

Indications are that Mr. Smith will not be transferred for at least a year, and until the move he will remain at his present position.

The Minidoka county commissioner, in a letter to the extension service last month, indicated that because of agricultural conditions in the county, they did not feel the agricultural agent is necessary in the county. They noted, however, that they did not feel the extension service should be curtailed, but that the county agent should be transferred to the county seat.

Mr. Youngstrom said that at present no position is available for the transfer and agreed that the extension service will assume the expense of Mr. Smith's transfer until the position is available.

Senators Chart Vote Test Of Job Program

BOISE (Special) — The Senate is scheduled to vote today on a bill that will enable the Department of Public Assistance and the Department of Employment to cooperate in the Work Incentive Program, which is designed to take the hard-core unemployed off of relief rolls and put them on the pay roll.

The measure, Senate Bill 1071, was brought out of the Public Health and Welfare Committee with a "do pass" recommendation. It is being carried on the floor by Sen. John Barker, R-Id.

Sen. Barker noted that the bill enables the state agencies to be in conformity with the Social Security Act, wherein exemption from income may be required.

Starting July 1, the new Social Security amendments provide that under the Aid to Dependent Children program, the Department of Public Assistance will exempt the first $30 of earnings and one-third of the balance of earned income, in figuring payments.

Section 2 of SB1071 will enable the DPA to overcome statutory barriers to the Work Incentive Program (WIN) by permitting the department to transfer payments to the Department of Employment.

In Macomb, Ill., Western Illinois University students staged an orderly demonstration on the campus Wednesday night and called for a boycott of classes today and scheduled a meeting to discuss what action to follow. The demonstration apparently was because of disqualification of a candidate in a student government election ballot.

Students at Oshkosh State University have given the administration until Friday to reply to a list of demands in support of dismissed teachers, and a greater student voice, or face a possible student strike on Monday.

Gov. Ronald Reagan declared the "extreme emergency" at the Berkeley campus, although the campus was relatively quiet Wednesday.

Of the five demands presented at North Carolina A&T by representatives of the 200 protesting students of the 3,000 — mainly Negro — enrollment, four were common complaints about grading and testing. The fifth was a demand the school's Humanities Department be "black oriented" by September, offering courses in black art, music and poetry.

Traditional values provided the stage for the most comical campus demonstration staged Wednesday. Six women and four men students stripped to the buff at Grinnell College in Iowa. Wednesday, in front of Bruce Draper, manager of college promotion for Playboy magazine, who was delivering a speech.

The students sang and chanted in the altogether that "Playboy magazine is a money-changer in the temple of the body."

Snow Heavy In South Hills

The water supply outlook picture for the Salmon Tract this year is getting brighter and brighter, according to the Feb. 5 snow survey made on the Roseworth-Salmon Falls Watershed.

According to Glenn Nelson, chairman of the Twin Falls Soil Conservation District, the snow pack for all courses in the South Hills is 136 per cent of the previously recorded average and 200 per cent of last year's water content at this time. The water content of the soil, Mr. Nelson said, will greatly facilitate the runoff from the snow pack.

The snow depth and water content of the courses, as compared to a year ago and the 1967-68 water content averages of previous years, are:

The visit, his first outside the country since becoming President, will take him to six cities — Brussels, London, Berlin, Bonn, Rome and Paris.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For each job eliminates the political patronage system and announced immediately removal of the names of all postmaster and rural mail carrier appointments from poll-books, abolishing a system that has existed since the days of Benjamin Franklin.

The President conceded that there may be a certain amount of political resistance to his plan, but he said, "This is the only way to believe, to bring the system back to the level of a merit system."

Suit Contesting Inventory Tax Phaseout Has Counties In Trouble

By FRED DOODS
Times-News Staff Writer

County government moves from one crisis to the next as the year slowly progresses and right now, because of a lawsuit involving the repeal of the inventory tax, the county is neck-deep in a brand new financial problem.

Chances are the matter will be resolved by this fall, but if it isn't, the county may be in trouble. At least County Clerk Harold Lancaster has made a prediction of trouble if something isn't done.

It all started in early 1968 when the phaseout of the inventory tax began. The tax, which involves a levy on merchandise and livestock in each county in the state, was ordered phased out by the 1967 Idaho Legislature.

It was to be phased out at 25 per cent a year over a four-year period.

Because the inventory tax revenue is being lost to the counties, the loss was to be made up from the sales tax. The counties are to receive quarterly payments. Twin Falls County has received two, totaling about $38,000. Both checks have had to be mailed back to the state auditor's office.

Why?

The state had ordered the checks not to be cashed. Because of the result involving the inventory tax, and because of the question if the Legislature's action is overturned, the matter is now in limbo.

Right now, with only 25 per cent of the phaseout completed, Twin Falls County gets about $136,000 a year from the sales tax. With 100 per cent phaseout in four years, the county would get about $54,000 a year.

"That's a lot of money in any man's language," Mr. Lancaster said.

But the county is beset by additional problems connected with the phaseout of the inventory tax.

"We're not too worried about cashing those sales tax checks," Mr. Lancaster said. "Sometime, soon, the matter will be resolved and the county will get money from someplace. It's the side-effects of this phaseout law that have me worried."

One side effect is the decline in assessed valuation in Twin Falls County.

Right now the county has an assessed valuation of about $52,000,000. This is a drop of more than $1 million in a year's time. Over four years, the drop will exceed $4 million.

The taxing units within the county—the cities, school districts and highway districts—levy according to assessed valuation. If the valuation drops, the levy will drop and the taxing unit will receive less money to operate on.

The exact total released by the Associated Taxpayers, re-valued the assessed valuation in Twin Falls County dropped $1,203,784. This is because the assessor cannot assess the worth of inventory or livestock.

The sales tax money is apportioned to the taxing units according to the individual unit's levy. The technicalities in the matter are hard to explain, hard to understand and even harder to correct.

To explain the situation, a simple example must be used. The taxing units set levies in the amount of each year. The levy is how much the taxing unit needs to operate. It might be said the county needs $1.50 for every $100 of assessed valuation to operate. In addition, the general school levy (school and junior college) is $1.50 per 100 of assessed valuation. If the city needs $4.50 and the independent school districts need $2.50, the Highway District in Twin Falls County needs $1.00. Amount of money the county gets from the sales tax.

If it doesn't, the tax could shoot up to $100 this year; $150 in 1970 and up to $500 or higher in 1972 when the 100 per cent phaseout will be accomplished.

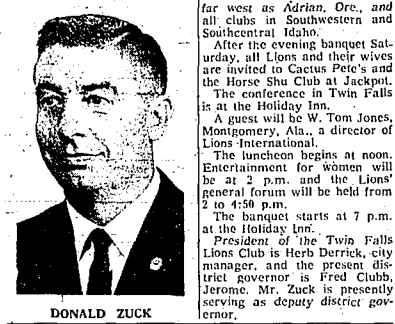

This is not anticipated by county officials and state legislators.

All are agreed a solution to the counties' growing tax problem is needed, and quick. After all, no one wants to see his taxes increased by a third because of confusion.

Bill Introduced To Let Idaho Supreme Court Meet In T.F.

THIS LARGE BENCH MIGHT one day seat members of the Idaho Supreme Court. A bill, S. 1105, has been introduced by the Idaho Senate Judiciary Committee. The bill would allow for the High Court to sit in Twin Falls once a year. It also would allow the court to have six terms instead of five. The court has never conducted official business in Twin Falls. The new bill, if approved, would change this.

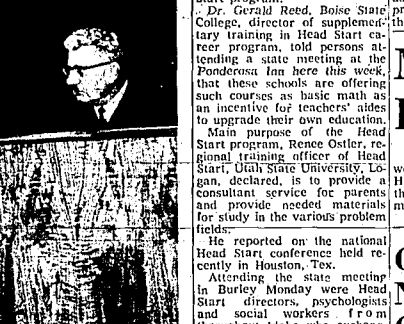

A bill that could bring the seat all the members of the high court if they come here," Judge Ward said recently.

The bill introduced by the committee Wednesday amends the present Idaho law relating to the number of terms of the high court, and where the court will sit.

"Mr. Kramer said the costs of traveling to Boise, spending several days there and coming back to Twin Falls "are tremendous to the client who has to foot the bill when it takes a case to the Supreme Court."

He said these extra costs could be dropped if the Supreme Court comes to Twin Falls.

According to state law, three

Remodeling Is Some Trouble For Hospital

Magic Valley Memorial Hospital has not been without its problems during its present remodeling work.

Mrs. Irene Oliver, administrator, said the hospital is somewhat crowded, but that no emergency case has been turned away. She said the elective cases have been limited and sometimes by the patient's choice.

On Wednesday Mrs. Oliver said she was 30 beds short on fifth floor where some work was being done, but this was made up by being able to use some other rooms on third floor which previously had been out of use.

Mrs. Oliver said that on occasions the major moving of patients will be over and she said the biggest part of the construction work should be completed in three or four months.

She said the contractors have been very cooperative in trying to limit noise and all the patients and hospital personnel are accepting the inconvenience well.

Idaho Honors Guardsmen For Viet Duty

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's adjutant general says the state is making a name for themselves in Vietnam.

Maj. Gen. George B. Bennett, who just returned from first hand look at the 11th Engineer Battalion which was commended in midweek, said "I'm sure it is well-known over there."

"Everyone over there is aware of the outstanding job they're doing," Bennett said. "In all of my travels, there was nothing out of the ordinary."

General Bennett said the battalion has four companies serving in a triangular area from Ft. Bliss, located below Canyon Bay on the coast, to Ban Loc, located north and west, to B'Sar to the south.

"So far, the unit has lost two men — one to a mortar blast and the other to a vehicle accident. Twenty-four other men have been wounded."

General Bennett said the men due to return to Idaho in September, "look and act tough."

"I hope guys are lucky because they've convinced they can handle the V. C. and any thing they want to throw at them," he said. "Facilities here in the morale is very good. I didn't talk to a single man who didn't know that he had a job to do, who didn't know why he was there."

"Of course, they'd probably rather be somewhere else."

Courses Offered To Head Start Workers At CSI

BURLEY — College of South Idaho, Twin Falls, and Boise and Lewiston are the only three places offering career "development" courses to persons working with the Head Start program.

Dr. Gerald Reed, Boise State College, director of supplementary training in Head Start career program, told persons attending a state meeting at the Ponderosa Inn here this week, that these schools are offering such courses as basic math as an incentive for teachers' aides to upgrade their own education.

Main purpose of the Head Start program, Renee Ostler, regional training officer with Head Start, Utah State University, Logan, declared, is to provide a consultant service for parents and directors of day care centers for study in the various problem fields.

He reported on the national Head Start conference held recently in Houston, Tex.

Attending the state meeting in Burley Monday were Head Start directors, psychologists and social workers from throughout Idaho who exchanged ideas, discussed policies and programs in the Head Start program.

Career development and parent-involvement is being stressed across the nation, Reed said. The Head Start program, Miss Ostler said, is a national program to help children in low-income areas.

Bill Martin, Lewiston, stated that persons going into this career field must enjoy working with people and be sympathetic toward their problems.

John Flores, assistant director of the Salt Lake City Community Action program, told the group that development of the program is a gradual process. His own decisions is very gradual. Programs are extended to assist persons to study their own needs and make their own decisions.

Ray Reid, Burley, educational director of the Head Start program in Cassia county, made arrangements for the meeting.

Membership Drive Planned By C. Of C.

Plans for a membership drive were announced Wednesday by Harold O. Howe, president of the Twin Falls Chapter of Commissioners Board of Directors.

Mr. Howe presided over a Tuesday meeting, his first since being named president last week. He said that a membership drive is a "definite plan," but that details have not been worked out yet.

Laird Noh, representing the local livestock industry, explained to the Chamber-board the recent increase in grazing fees on public lands. Mr. Howe said that further studies of the increase would be made to see if the change can be shared and cattle owners in getting the increase order rescinded.

Mr. Howe said that some permanent committee assignments will be made at the next chamber meeting, scheduled for Feb. 18.

The meeting was held at the Lighthouse Cafe at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission Co.

Councilman Notes Need Of Closing Law

Twin Falls City Councilman George Bennett says the ordinance altering the closing hours of drive-in restaurants from 1 a.m. to midnight on Friday and Saturday nights was a necessary action to control the existing situation.

Last Monday night the council passed the ordinance which will change the closing time.

Previously, all the drive-in restaurants, with the exception of one, closed at midnight. The ordinance which remains open drew a large crowd and had been of constant concern to the police department.

Neighboring businesses of the Dairy Queen, many of which are motels, had complaints regarding the noise on the property.

Mr. Bennett said this particular business had become a nuisance due to the uncontrolled actions on the property.

He said that the city manager is responsible for working with the city manager on the police department problems.

State Aide Gets Backing Of Committee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved President Nixon's nomination of U. Alexis Johnson as No. 3 in the State Department. But Chairman J. William Fulbright cast one of two "no" votes.

The committee voted in favor of Johnson as undersecretary of state for political affairs as well as Frank Shakespeare Jr. as director of the U.S. Information Agency.

Fulbright said he was "offended" by Johnson's aggressive defense of past policies in Vietnam. Fulbright would not say who else voted against Johnson.

Fulbright contends that Johnson was too closely connected with past Vietnam policies to give objective advice to the new administration.

Fulbright told reporters he voted against Johnson "because of his views about our engagement in Vietnam."

He added that he "was particularly offended by his going to Vietnam" on route home from Tokyo last week.

Fulbright said he had made statements in firm support of U.S. policy in Southeast Asia. That, Fulbright said, was in "poor taste."

Court Upholds Conviction Of Father Groppi

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court today upheld the conviction of James E. Groppi on a charge of resisting a police officer.

Groppi was fined $300 and sentenced to an additional year in prison on August 19, 1967, for violation of a ban on night open housing marches in Milwaukee.

The former Catholic priest had contended in his appeal that his rights were violated by Circuit Court Judge F. Ryan Duffy's three-year sentence and because the court threw out a subpoena issued to Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier.

The majority opinion said Duffy was correct in both actions.

Valley Traffic Courts

Michael Wurdinger, Van Valley, was fined $25 by Spokane Justice of Peace C. W. Givins for violating the white line ordinance. Maxine E. Hagen, Burley, was fined $11 for speeding by Judge Givins.

The Udall Act

Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel very soon may be looking back on his confirmation grilling by the Senate as the good old days of his new job.

He has the dubious fortune of succeeding possibly the most energetic and dedicated man who has ever held the Interior post, and of inheriting unfinished business out of which promise to develop some of the nation's most pressing problems in the years immediately ahead.

Former Secretary Stewart Udall held the post for eight years under two presidents, for every minute of that time deeply committed to his role as the steward of the nation's natural resources and the champion of the public interest in their utilization, although his often controversial actions may not always have pleased every segment of that public.

Udall's decision on pollution, mineral oil, highways and public lands will affect how Americans live for years to come. In his last week in office alone, he pushed through the addition of almost 400,000 acres to the national park system (he had wonched much more—seven million acres).

Udall's is going to be a tough act to follow. And making it tougher are some of the decisions Secretary Hickel is going to have to make very soon on Indian affairs and mine safety, conservation, reclamation and pollution-control projects, and disposition of the vast government-owned oil shale reserves in the western states.

No one can wish him anything but the very best of luck.

Interior lacks the glamor and massive budgets of other departments such as Defense and State. But his role in the scheme of government becomes increasingly important as the need to utilize the nation's land, air and water resources as efficiently yet fairly and nondestructively as possible becomes increasingly pressing.

Crimefighter

The new attorney general, John N. Mitchell, promises to carry out a "vigorous" law-enforcement policy, fulfilling a campaign pledge of President Nixon.

The head of federal law enforcement cannot do much about muggings, holdups, burglaries and similar atrocities against the person or his home, except in so far as the attorney general can help upgrade local police work through the new Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

But it is reassuring that the attorney general, who is a symbol of law enforcement, has promised to fight crime on all fronts. The attorney general is, first of all, a prosecutor.

It is also reassuring to know that Mr. Mitchell would not hesitate to deny bail to likely reconvicts awaiting trial, would recommend against granting parole permits to activists like those who disrupted the inaugural parade, and will make use of wiretapping, a foremost tool in combating interstate racketeering.

In the public mind, Mr. Mitchell, who also is not opposed to capital punishment, could prove to be an effective counter to the U. S. Supreme Court and its outpourings of decisions that protect the lawbreaker at the expense of society's right to protect itself.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The time is "at hand" for a new approach on inflation.

The federal government now attempts to control the economy by regulating the supply or the cost of money through raising and lowering taxes and interest rates and other devices. It tries to restrain price and wage gains through government guidelines, presidential pressure and a variety of regulations.

These programs have not stopped inflation. Sometimes these official attempts at control have intensified inflation or unemployment or prolonged a recession.

The situation is now such that the prestigious Council of Economic Advisors in its latest report to Congress has put that moves aimed at price stability almost inevitably result in higher unemployment with its consequent suffering. The council submits a persuasive chart to prove its point.

But workable, anti-inflation techniques are at hand that should, in fact, reduce unemployment rather than cause it.

Today, enough data is available to clearly indicate which economic conditions and which government actions effectively slow down inflation and the conditions and which actions inflate rapid price increases.

This data seems to suggest that the government could best fight inflation by intensifying its control of the modernization of industry — with special emphasis on those areas of construction, home building, education, health care and other services in which modernization has lagged.

As a corollary there should be a strong reexamining of state and federal educational programs to include emphasis on medical, nursing, legal, teaching and laboratory aides as well as technical training.

Take some of the figures.

In the past 10 years, prices have gone up about 25 per cent.

Yet consumer indexes show new car prices have risen but 4 per cent, education, textiles 3 per cent. The wholesale prices of farm products are up but 3 per cent, rubber and rubber products 1 per cent, metals and mineral products 2 per cent, pulp and paper 5 per cent, machinery and equipment 17 per cent, textile products and apparel 7 per cent and food and power combined 2 per cent and chemicals have declined 2 per cent.

Manufactured products as a whole are up 10 per cent while a wide range of consumer goods

Note that the upswing in prices in general has been modest in areas where there has been the greatest application of advanced research in new products, manufacturing methods, equipment and management — administrative techniques and in areas such as most noted except electronics where competition was intense.

Far productivity has increased 76 per cent in the decade — manufacturing output has grown almost 40 per cent.

It will be noted also that price gains have been modest even in some major industries where both profits and wages have moved up sharply.

By contrast, in the same decade, the costs of medical care services have moved up 60 per cent, housing and home maintenance costs 31 per cent, services generally 37 per cent, food costs to the consumer by 21 per cent and per pupil school costs $2 per cent.

It will be noted that these hefty price gains are in areas where one or more of the following signs of stagnation exist:

Obsolete codes, which make mass production difficult or impossible, as in the home building industry.

Little use of automation, electronics, computers or other modern mechanical advances.

Wide areas of the home building industry, in automobile and household equipment repairs in most other service industries.

Heavy shortages of skilled technical assistance, such as teachers, medical, dental, nursing and laboratory aides.

Ancient methods of administration or distribution.

Little attempt to substitute equipment or machines for manpower in those routine parts of the operation in which machines or instruments are superior to men.

These are the five problems out of which inflation is made. These are the targets at which the major government anti-inflation programs should be aimed.

ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

Report: Finch Vs. Thurmond

WASHINGTON—Robert Finch, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), is moving toward mandatory school desegregation in the South, and hence a massive confrontation between him and Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina in the Nixon Administration's first internal crisis.

Finch closed his order of last Wednesday (Jan. 29), withdrawing Federal funds from 11 segregated Southern school districts, with force — saving gimicks for Thurmond. But faulty press interpretation of these gimicks as outright surrender to the South all but obscures the fact that Finch, while speaking more softly than the Johnson administration, is ready to use the big stick of Federal power to compel school desegregation.

This, a critical struggle inside the Nixon Administration between Finch and Thurmond, Nixon intimates who believe the President made a commitment to relax enforcement. The outcome is still uncertain but Finch was the clear winner last week in the first major battle inside the new Administration.

When this battle takes place soon after Mr. Nixon's inauguration is due largely to Finch's Democratic predecessor as Secretary, William French, who was widely operative in the bureaucracy. Instead of setting the five cases before he left office, when French's bid on as a political bomb to the Republicans with action required by Jan. 29.

Moreover, all these cases were so complicated that none of the "freedom of choice" plans presented by the 10 local school boards could be defended in a court of law. Each contained the familiar new pattern of Southern segregation — the old Negro schools continuing as separate schools, while white schools as all-white except for a smattering of Negro students for the facade of desegregation.

Through the commission, Spatchers, named for Mr. Vonenum, Tilley to end up as a political fusion of Finch's decision was the location of two of these districts in the home state of Thurmond, the President's most valuable ally in carrying the South.

defeated liberal Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California.

In general, Finch's aide urged him to cut off funds to the five districts without qualification. But strong pressure for a stall came both from Congressional Southerners and White House aides.

Feeling the heat from Thurmond, Finch called numerous Republicans in to get their views and was urged to stand firm. Finally, he compromised, but strongly on the side of desegregation — cutting off aid but adding this gimmick: If the school districts reach agreement with terms of HEW negotiators within 60 days, the money lost for that period will be returned.

The decision was approved over the telephone by Mr. Nixon, but it was Finch's decision, not the President's.

Making the best of bitter disappointment, Thurmond publicly expressed satisfaction. In private, however, Southern Republicans are angry and fearful that Finch's order paves the way for a Democratic comeback in the South. The veteran Republican, James of North Carolina, was furious, storming to both House Republican colleagues and over the phone lines to HEW.

Trade Benefits

As I recall the story, staying American prisoners of war were tortured by their captors by setting them before a banquet table loaded with delicacies, each with his hands tied behind his back.

The captives returned in an hour, eagerly to find the menu riveting, instead the prisoners had formed an "association."

Each was taking turns, with a spoon held in his mouth, feeding his neighbor.

Thus can cooperation accomplish objectives otherwise unattainable.

With industries increasingly handicapped by federal restrictions and a cost-price squeeze, trade associations are more than ever important to you.

placed by the artificial instamint. The mother hen has been replaced by incubators, brooders.

Today, because of all this new know-how — including computer-formulated feed — a turkey can produce a pound of feed in a smaller amount of feed and in less time than any of our other domesticated meat-producing animals.

What does this mean to you? Obviously the National Turkey Federation is fine for the turkey grower. It helps him produce more efficiently, research more economically, market more efficiently, make more money—what's that to you?

Here's why: Because we can make better turkey meat for your table, you'll want 18 to 23 cent a pound, turkey is one of those rare food products which actually costs the consumer less than it did 15 years ago.

Further, the turkey industry is not getting any of your dollar by the backdoor tax route. This industry receives no direct federal subsidies, has no government-owned plants, and is as free as any and freer than most. It produces — and you benefit.

Trade associations are naturally related themselves to other industries in other ways, but addressing convention of these associations actually costs you a real benefit and enhanced your real profit for what private industry can do to solve its own problems.

Make the unions, membership in such associations is not compulsory. It is true that nonmembers benefit from these efforts without paying dues. But they can't do you, the consumer. Efficiency benefits everybody.

Helping to feed one another, we all eat better.

Fertile Period

Continuing yesterday's discussion, how to find a woman's period when her fertile period will occur?

Well, ovulation (or the release of an ovum, which is necessary for starting a pregnancy) occurs roughly in the middle of the average 28-day cycle, that means that the ovum will appear 14 days after the beginning of the menstrual period — or 14 days before the beginning of the next one.

On the surface, that makes it easy. Avoid sexual activity a few days before and a few days after that "14th day" and, in theory, there will be no pregnancy.

But suppose either the ovum or sperm remains viable, potentially fertile, for longer than a couple of days? Since we cannot be certain that, at times of ovulation, the sperm may not be longer than usual, an element of uncertainty appears.

And how sure can we be that ovulation will occur exactly on the 14th day? Well, it won't. There are very few women who haven't experienced an occasional delay in the arrival of a menstrual period — meaning that ovulation, that month, was a bit delayed.

Many experts believe that the menstrual period first started about 14 days after ovulation; some think it will invariably be so. But obviously, you can't predict ovulation because you don't know in advance just when the next menstrual period will start.

What about the woman whose cycle is not a regular 28 days? She can determine the beginning of her cycle in a number of ways, one of which is to keep a record of the time of ovulation. One clue is helpful. At the time of ovulation, the body temperature rises sharply, about a half degree or so. Keeping a daily temperature chart often can determine the time of ovulation very closely and can be helpful to a couple who are having difficulty achieving pregnancy and want to know when the most fertile time is.

The temperature method is not so useful to those wishing to avoid pregnancy, because the rise in temperature shows when ovulation is actually occurring, not when it is going on. This chart can, however, give a woman some information about her usual pattern.

(For accurate results, temperature should be taken rectally. One must be alert not to be deceived by a temperature rise which may be caused by illness, or whatever.)

But there you have about all I can tell you about predicting when you'll be fertile. It is not possible. I do not and cannot say that it is foolproof. There are too many possible pitfalls, including pregnancy avoidance. It is not impossible.

A few, indeed, have indicated that conception might occur from sexual contact during the "fertile" period. This is certainly very unlikely, but the human body is not a totally predictable organism. However unlikely, perhaps an extra ovum could, occasionally, be released during a woman's fertile period. This maybe a far-out speculation, but it adds to my reasons for not wanting to be dogmatic about the "rhythm" method. It is sound enough in terms of probability, but it cannot promise any certainty.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would it be beneficial to rinse the eyes with clear water once a day? —M.A.

What for? The constant formation of tears in the eyes is nature's way of protecting the eye. I can't see any benefit from additional washing. In fact it will wash off the natural protection of tears.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About 20 years ago when I was a child I was given several Mexican jumping beans. I never knew what they were, but I have learned that these beans contain worms.

I have never taken any type of "worm" medicine, and I'm wondering if after all those years, I have a whole family of worms in my intestines.

I have never taken this to anyone and am too embarrassed to tell my doctor as I am a mature married woman now. I have a very good doctor and wonder if this could be the cause. —I.G.

Kids will swallow the darnedest things. You won't be able to tell me after 20 years, though, you can safely stop worrying. Of the thousands of kinds of bugs and worms that exist, only a scant few live in the intestine as a natural place to live.

Chinches are what you expelled the jumping beans without your direct supervision, but the shell of the beans, and that was the end of the matter. If the shells did come apart in your intestine, the little insects died quickly. No, if you have pinworms or round worms, they didn't come from your childhood bean-swallowing.

You can lose weight! If you really want to, Dr. Thosteson's "Lost Secrets of Resisting" diet system is natural and with no gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. ## Processing Of Thoughts

In case you are interested, nobody ever shot a dead bird! They shoot at the bird that is flying.

As speaker of the evening Mr. Moore set about dropping enough thoughts here and there during his talk in the hopes that it would wake up some of the community workers to do latter things for the old home town.

So, for your edification, we will drop a few of the more choice selections in your direction.

Every dog likes his own pups. Let's spread enthusiasm.

The idea is the thing — each resident must play a leadership part.

To lead men you must be as one with the hearts of men.

There are thousands of unborn ideas.

The greatest comfort is the knowledge that we have done our work well.

We have much to offer each other. You can make Magic Valley THE community of the Gem State.

Too many businessmen still think of advertising as a cost rather than an investment.

We don't seem to want to solve our own problems.

The easy roads are crowded and the level roads are jammed.

Look at the whole thing instead of just our own little individual work. It has been the keystone for too many years.

You can't wait for the other fellow to do it.

NO TIGHT ENOUGH

No matter where you go, day or night, you can always hear the expressions, "There just is not enough hours in the day, or I haven't got time for."

In case you're interested, there still are some who have time for the "extra" activities and you always take notice if it's to benefit others and not the individuals themselves.

We have in mind the Country Music Jamboree which is coming up in the near future. The Jamboree is in its eighth year and is presented two or three nights annually by country music bands from throughout Magic Valley with a number of proceeds going to worthy organizations who can benefit with a "few extras" thanks to the efforts of these musicians.

The men (and women) who compose these country music bands are all individuals who have families — who have regular daily employment and most of them play music for dances, etc., two and three nights each week. Yet, they still have found time to donate their time and talent to bring to the residents of Magic Valley a two-night variety program enjoyable to all — all for the sake of someone else.

The musicians should be commended for their efforts.

The Jamboree is scheduled for 8 p.m. Feb. 17 and 18 at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center. Fourteen country music bands will be participating. This year the Snake River Jamboree has its sponsors, the event, assisting with publicity, etc., with all proceeds going to the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center.

THAT POST OFFICE

Everyone is picking on the post office.

So thought we would just tell you that a couple of years ago Willie in Guatemala, Mr. Spectator found that there were not even post boxes in Guatemala City — a community with a few hundred thousand residents.

Why? Because the people wouldn't what is in the box. How do you mail things here? Take the letter to one of two post offices in town. One is at the airport — the other Mr. Spectator never saw.

Nobody ever mails packages. They never get out of town.

So let's not pick on our post office. Things might be a little late but they get there and posting is much more convenient.

Samuelson Urges Enactment Of 'Harsh' Penalties For Misuse Of Weapons

By LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson said Wednesday he would suggest to legislative leaders that "consideration be given at this session to making penalties and punishment for illegal use of guns much more harsh than at the present time." At his weekly news conference the governor said the "mis-use of arms" was the type of gun legislation he supported. He said it should be mandatory that extra sentences be imposed if guns were used in criminal offenses. Samuelson said he had been informed by Bill, Gen. James Brooks that the emergency conditions in northern Idaho were "administrative" and that if conditions do not change for the worse today, Samuelson added, the 42 men from the National Guard who were sent to Idaho to help with the cleanup of equipment would return to Lewiston. The main worry continues to be centered on the threat of a riot in the months to come. Samuelson said he noted that the engineers had been alerted and would "beep up" potentially dangerous areas. The main flood threats, he said, were the Kootenai, St. Joe, and Clearwater Rivers. Samuelson expressed concern when questioned about the possibility that the state schools might be funded on a formula system which would give Boise State College less than the $9.2 million recommended by the governor.

"With the costs that are accrued by the state just taking them (BSC) into the system, I don't see how they could get by on much less," he said. He added he would like to see all the state schools "treated fairly and honestly, but I'd like to see them start on the same basis." The governor also expressed qualms over the $35 million bond issue proposed by the state to fund north-south Highway 95. "I'm for better and as many highways as we can possibly build, but I think we have to be careful about usurping the authority of the Highway Board." He added that the state has utilized all federal money available and the north-south highway would have to be paid for by the state alone. In other matters, Samuelson said, "While he had no qualms about the intended use of the Taylor Ranch on Big Creek, he objected to the University of Idaho maintaining its options on the ranch because 'that's taking another $100,000 piece of property off state tax rolls.' He said the University of Idaho has returned from Vietnam after extending the governor's greetings to Idaho National Guardsmen serving there. The pride that the state of Idaho has in the men of the 11th just can't be repeated often enough," Samuelson said. "Vocational education at the state prison is a good idea. I hope it's true." He said he understood Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy has received 21 or 22 applications in the position of warden at the penitentiary. Kildwell.

Legislators Ask Utilities To Pay Higher Tax Ratio

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Five House members Wednesday offered constitutional proposals that, in effect, would allow the taxation of utility operating property at a higher rate than other real property in Idaho. In the hopper for introduction were proposed constitutional amendments setting up three classes of property—real, personal and operating—and striking the requirement that all property be taxed according to its value. Sponsors listed on the proposals were Reps. Wm. J. Brauner, D-Caldwell; Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise; Tom Maynard, D-Clark Fork; Rudy Anderson, R-Boise; and William J. Murphy, D-Walace. When asked if the purpose of the proposals was to remove constitutional obstacles to taxation of utility property at a higher rate than other property, Murphy said, "That's basically the thing." Two years ago, the State Supreme Court declared unconstitutional the historic practice in Idaho of assessing utility operating property at a higher rate to cash value than other property. It handed down its ruling in a case testing constitutionality of a 1955 law setting up property assessment on a basis 20 per cent for real and personal property and 40 per cent for utility property. "We're floundering around with this problem," Murphy said. "We feel we need this in the form of a constitutional amendment we could clarify the problem and return to the old method of assessment under the 20-20-40 law."

Court Reform Bills To Be Introduced

By PAUL M. QUINN
BOISE (UPI) — Judiciary committees of both houses today voted to introduce the first bills of the massive court reform proposal with bills scheduled in the Senate Wednesday afternoon and the House Thursday. There are an estimated 35 bills in the package. The measures all deal with modernization of the state's lower court system. Sen. Robert Rowett, R-Mountain Home, chairman of the Judiciary and Legislative Administration Committee, said four of the 35 bills would be introduced in the House. The House Judiciary Committee voted to put them into the hopper Thursday. They are revenue measures which must originate in the lower chamber. Two years ago, Gov. Don Samuelson vetoed part of the court reform package proposed by the Legislature. He claimed that control of the courts would have been removed from the people inasmuch as the bills would have been administered by district courts. He also said the proposed financing of lower courts was insufficient. In his state of the state message during the first week of the 1968 session, however, Samuelson called for the court reform package again — stating that objections he had earlier were convinced he would work with favor on the bills. Samuelson also had objected to the package as proposed by the Legislature on the ground that a method of financing the new system was not clearly set forth. He feared that the transition would create a work shift from local government to the state general fund. The Judicial Council and a special committee on the courts by the governor worked for two years to revamp the package that failed. The commission providing of the court plan provides for establishment of a magistrates commission in each judicial district consisting of the 200 members of the Board of County Commissioners and one member county, one mayor from within the district and the senior district judge. The commission would select the number of locations of the magistrates and make the appointments. Selection of the magistrates would be made by the hands of local elected officials and lay members.

State's First Paternity Act Passes

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Senate passed, Tuesday, a bill that would give the State of Idaho its first paternity act. The measure its sponsor said would take a burden off the taxpayer and "get the fellow who is responsible and educate him." The paternity bill would turn all proceedings over to district courts and would make both the father of the child and the mother responsible for support. Paternity trials would be held by the court without a jury and blood tests would be the basis for establishing paternity of the child. The court could direct a father with sufficient means to pay a reasonable sum for the support and education of the child until the age of 19. "Idaho is one of just four states in the country without some type of paternity law," Sen. Ray Rigby, D - Roshar, said. "A prosecutor now has to tell the little woman that he cannot prosecute" the man responsible for the child. "Many times young couples are forced into marriage and the only thing a prosecuting can do is to charge statutory rape if the woman is under 18," Rigby said.

12-Man Jury Seated To Hear Shaw Trial

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — An all-male panel of 12 jurors and two alternates was seated today to try Clay L. Shaw on charges of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy. Opening statements were set for Thursday morning. The second alternate was sworn in and Dist. Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. sent them off to get a group picture taken by news photographers. He dismissed court for the rest of the day. The final alternate was Robert J. Burtel, president of a crane service, who said he had heard the defendant lecture at an export-import school where Burtel was a student 15 years ago. Burtel was the 1,170th venireman questioned in 14 days of jury selection to try the 55-year-old retired New Orleans businessman who has been free in a $100,000 bond since his arrest in March of 1967. Shaw sat calmly during the swearing-in of Burtel. With a full jury seated at last, Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison seemed determined to "overprove" his conspiracy case against Shaw. In the Tuesday afternoon session, 39 of the 50 available prospects virtually one out of every five took this route. The last man excused was the 1,169th of the trial, prospect Joseph L. Alonk, 38, the chief prosecutor had a prospect last week that "the state may choose to overprove" the charge that Shaw conspired with Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie to murder President Kennedy. Despite roll calls by Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. of the Warren Report is immaterial to a case of alleged conspiracy that does not charge any murder or accident. The FBI said that while Lewis was at the bank, the second gunman was holding his wife captive at a spot about three miles away. After leaving the bank, the FBI said, Lewis was left stranded while the gunman drove to the spot where Mrs. Kennedy was being held. He was picked up by his partner. They left in Lewis' car, which was later found abandoned.

Elderly Man 'Wills' Estate To Nation

MIAMI (UPI) — They held the body of the old man on the bed in his $1-a-night hotel room. He held a walking cane in his hand. "In case of my death, I wish to make the U.S. government my beneficiary 100 per cent," it read. The will was signed by Jacob Ramer, U.S. Army, Retired. The locker also contained $695 in cash, bonds valued at $6,350 and a bank account totaling $2,657. Authorities said Ramer, 70, apparently died of a heart attack. Everett Stanley, a hotel employee, said Ramer "never talked and never bothered anyone. He didn't say boo." The hotel's night manager said Ramer checked into the hotel in September of 1967, listing "The City" as his former relatives. "Officials said Ramer's $14,990.67 probably would be turned over to the U.S. government."

Gunmen Force Banker To Release $70,000 While Holding Wife Captive

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Two gunmen forced a bank president to give them $70,000 while holding his wife captive in their home. Henry Lewis, president of the Florida National Bank of Arlington, and his wife Margaret, were released unharmed after the ordeal and the gunmen sped away with the cash. Police and the FBI put out a statewide manhunt for the two men. The drama began late Tuesday night when the two men, carrying pistols, barged into the Lewis' southside home, cut the telephone lines and held the couple captive. "They made us go to bed dressed," said Lewis. "We just laid there all night long with one of them outside the door. They were very polite but they refused to let us have coffee until we had the money," Lewis, 59, said. The bandits allowed him to shave before going to the bank although they told him their schedule would "go tight" to allow him to make coffee. At 5 a.m., one of the gunmen stepped from a car and accompanied him by the line-up of the couple's two cars and three hours later the second gunman stepped into his bank in the second man's car. "When he walked into the bank," said Vice President Raymond Pitts, "he told us we had 10 minutes to get the money or he would never let his wife again. We moved fast." The FBI said Lewis instructed

AFL-CIO
Helps Union

Pay Strike Fee

NEW YORK (UPI)—AFL-CIO President George Meany has offered to help New York's United Federation of Teachers pay a $220,000 fine, imposed because striking teachers ignored court orders to return to the classroom, a union official said.

Jules Kolodny, UFT secretary, said Meany will discuss the fine with the AFL-CIO Executive Council which was "going to try to collect as much as they could" to help the UFT, which called about 100,000 strikes last year.

UFT President Albert Shanker, sentenced to 15 days in jail on contempt charges Monday, was out of town and does not know of the offer, Kolodny said.

The AFL-CIO will not allow the UFT to suffer the consequences of this fine, "Kolodny said. "After all $220,000 is a gigantic figure for a small union to absorb."

Senator Asks
Strong Terms
For Gun Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, calling gun crimes a "national disgrace," Tuesday introduced a bill requiring additional prison terms for persons convicted of using a firearm during commission of a crime.

The measure would provide for 10 years in prison for the first offender and 25 years for subsequent offenses. These mandatory terms would be in addition to punishment meted out for the crime itself.

Under no circumstances can the sentence imposed against the criminal gun user be suspended or assessed concurrently with the sentence required for the commission of the crime," Mansfield said.

"In other words, the criminal will be compelled to serve additional time in prison solely for deciding to use a firearm."

In a Senate speech, he conceded that questions will be raised about Congress writing mandatory sentences. But he said that Congress is justified in dealing with the problem as it was in making it more difficult to get weapons through the gun control act last year.

"To put it frankly, gun crimes have become a national disgrace," he said.

Mansfield said if the criminal "finds the penalty so severe as to deter its use, only then can society be protected from the violence it produces."

Publishers
Assail Rules
On Help Ads

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association asserted Tuesday that federal guidelines prohibiting placement of "help wanted" advertisements under separate male and female headings do not have the force of law.

An ANPA spokesman said in New York City that recent rulings by the U.S. Court of Appeals and a U.S. District court stated that the Equal Opportunity Commission's anti-discrimination guidelines of last August could not be enforced pending a determination on the merits of the case.

The ANPA goes to the U.S. District Court in Washington, D.C., Friday to attempt to prove that the commission order would cost newspapers thousands of dollars in advertising revenues and would be a disservice and containing to readers.

The commission said Tuesday that the guidelines, which still are in effect, do not make it illegal for a newspaper to print job ads under headings by sex but that any prospective employer who places such an ad could be subject to prosecution under the 1961 civil rights act.

Castro Ponders

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress was told today that Fidel Castro does nothing to who airline hijackers to Cuba and might be willing to help ease the threat.

Deputy assistant Secretary of State, Frank E. Loy, told the House International and Foreign Commerce Committee that the State Department has made specific proposals, which he did not bring to Castro on the hijacking problem.

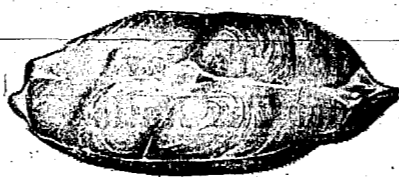

Loy said that the Cuban government regards the hijacking problem as serious and that it neither encourages nor condones hijacking.

Loy added that if the hijacking continues at the present rate, there have been no involving U.S. airlines this year. "The Cuban government may adopt measures of its own," he did not say what they might be.

Fire Destroys
Milk Barn
At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — A fire from unknown sources destroyed a milk barn, a three-unit milker, milk cans and cooler at the George Tschann farm north-west of Shoshone Saturday evening.

The fire was noted about 7:45 p.m. after the Tschanns had finished milking and had gone into the house.

The Wood River Fire District fire truck and the Shoshone Fire District truck answered the call and a number of neighbors also responded to assist. They were able to keep the fire from spreading to a shed area, hay stack and straw nearby. The fire crews were commanded by the Tschanns.

Their barn and equipment were not insured. The building was a frame structure.

The 23 head of dairy cows that are now being milked by the Tschanns were not milked Sunday morning, but by 3 p.m. Sunday, neighbors had rallied to assist, had cleared out a shed and adjacent property belonging to Tschann, and one neighbor brought his 2 unit milker outfit and this was installed so that the cows were milked pretty much on schedule that evening.

Of South

ATLANTA (UPI)—Columnist-publisher Ralph Emerson McGill, victim of a heart attack two days before his 71st birthday, was eulogized Tuesday as the voice and racial conscience of the South—the man who spelled "the difference between Atlanta and Birmingham."

Seemingly in good health and spirits earlier in the evening, the Pulitzer Prize-winning writer collapsed about 10 p.m. Monday at the home of a friend, John H. Lawhorn, following a private dinner. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Holy Family Hospital.

His final hours were typical of the 30-odd years he spent crusading for the rights of all, and particularly the Southern Negro. He devoted two hours and five minutes during the afternoon to talking with senior students at Booker T. Washington High School, and then labored until late Monday in the book-lined office on the fifth floor of the Atlanta Constitution, where he had worked since 1928—the last 9 years as publisher.

Griggs said he did not know how the cyanide got in the jail.

Griffith had been scheduled to testify Monday in the armed robbery trial of another prisoner who also was housed in the jail.

Minico Demolishes Class

A Matmen, Valley Surges

Past Declo In B Chase

RUPERT — The Minico Spartans earned the Class A race a shambles by demolishing up to past pressure on defending champion Oakley in the B division and Buhl surged as Twin Falls wrestled in the A division of the district wrestling tournament Wednesday night.

Minico, losing only one man, piled up 107 points during the night to lead the A teams.

Buhl is second with 56 and Twin Falls third at 52. On the B side, Valley most of the night, but Declo had less than a good night and the Vikings took the lead 88-78. That and Buhl's place in the A division will be the only ones left during the finals beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Minico gymnasium.

The A division boils down exactly to this: Minico against an all-star aggregation of the fourth district. Minico is the favorite to win. The Spartans lost a man only in the 168-pound class where Buhl's Dan Turner, decided Freeman Freeman fights Young of Twin Falls for third Thursday night and, if he wins, it means all 13 of Minico's wrestlers go to state in Idaho Falls next year.

Twin Falls Coach Steve Buratto, who usually has something to say, could only spurt Wednesday night as his Bruins edged almost completely. With Buhl doing most of the damage, Twin Falls lost one first seed and five second seeds during the night. Two of those were to Buhl in the lighter classes and the Indians got expected victories from the goldstun winners of John Walker and Turner to tie Twin Falls with four men in the finals.

Four Share Lead In Hope Desert Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Little Valley, Clackman, Lee Trevino and Tom Shaw shot five-under-par 67 Wednesday to share the first round lead in the 100-Boys Hope Desert Classic golf tournament on a day in which 46 of the 136 players in the field broke par.

With play being contested over four courses—Indian Wells, Bermuda Dunes, La Quinta and Tamarisk—seven players shot 68, 12 were at 69, 12 at 70 and 11 at 71.

Indian Wells is regarded as the easiest of the four tournament courses and it was there that Litter, who was second to Jack Litter in the San Diego Open, bagged his 67. Gene had five birds and no bogeys on his card.

Trevino, the U.S. Open champion playing at Bermuda Dunes, had four birds and one bogey but ruined things with a double bogey six on the par four 435-yard 16th.

ISU Relay To Run In L. A. Times Meet

POCATELLO — Three boys, three-fourths of the ISU mile relay team, from Idaho high schools could scarcely envision a day when they would succeed track powers as they will face Friday night in the Los Angeles Times track meet.

A pair are from Boise High School, Tim Dunne, the school record-holder in the 400, and returned in some fine anchor leg relay legs with a best of 46.2 in the NCAA meet last June.

Buhl came out with a four-fer leading over Twin Falls chokes completely. The Bruins should salvage second on the strength of six men wrestling for third place. Buhl has only four.

The only event that won't include Minico in the finals ends Turner against defending champion Cliff of Wood River at 168. Wood River will have five men going for titles, Jerome Two and Burley one.

Arzen, a senior center, scored two quick jump shots after the intermission to give Notre Dame a 40-39 lead, and he won his eight points within a two-minute period.

Buhl came out with a four-fer leading over Twin Falls chokes completely. The Bruins should salvage second on the strength of six men wrestling for third place. Buhl has only four.

Hadl-Charger Negotiations At End; Passer To Be Free Agent

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — John Hadl, the best quarterback in the American Football League by Joe Namath, may be on the open market April 1. Hadl and his social secretary, Potomac Corp. President Clifford C. Graham, told a news conference Wednesday that contract negotiations with San Diego Chargers are terminated.

"John will be a free agent April 1 — I guess that's the term for it," he said.

Namath, called Hadl the "major quarterback" after leading his New York Jets to a superb bowl victory over Baltimore Colts last year.

Graham said he last talked with Chargers President Eugene Klein Monday and they are substantially apart "in relation to the future of John."

Hadl, who will be 29 Feb. 15, has completed seven years with the Chargers and set team records last year in passes thrown yards gained and touchdown passes. However, he also leads the league in interceptions.

Sophomores Brighten Utah Hoop Future

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — Mike Newlin and Ken Gardner are two youngsters destined to put a sizable dent in the University of Utah basketball record books and possibly resurrect the school's dynasty in the Rockies.

Both are sophomores on a Utah basketball team struggling to break even during the 1968-69 season but showing more poise and strength than anyone thought likely at the beginning of the campaign.

Bulls Outlast Chicago 120-108

DETROIT (UPI) — Guard Jerry Sloan's 23 points and a fine supporting effort by his Chicago teammates Wednesday night helped the Bulls run up a 16-point halftime advantage and then hold off the tired Detroit Pistons, 120-108, in a National Basketball Association contest.

Detroit, which lost its fourth straight game and seventh in the last nine, climbed to within four points, 106-102, late in the final quarter, but the Bulls rallied with six straight free throws to split the victory.

U.S. Drivers Kill Million Animals Daily

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American Automobile Association said Tuesday U.S. motorists kill one million animals a day. "We kill more game with our cars than we do with our traps," the AAA said.

The report said that in 1968 at least 363 million animals, most of them birds, were struck and killed by vehicles in the United States.

Animal carnage on our highways comes as an appalling and almost unbelievable shock to all of us," the AAA said.

As an example, a spokesman for the organization said, "During the past year, 27,410 deer and 37,000 birds were killed by cars on our highways. In addition, 5,000 quail, 250 turkeys and 500 pheasants, and 100,000 other birds and mammals were killed by motor vehicles, he said, including polished metal cars and trucks.

Efforts to protect wildlife from motor vehicles, he said, include placing polished metal signs about highway slabbings in hopes that reflected headlights would cause animals to "freeze" and not dart across the roadway.

SHOVELING THE ROOF is becoming a common chore for many residents in the Wood River valley which is experiencing one of the heaviest snow years in recent years. ## Taber Death Not Traffic Fatality Police Chief Frank Barnett said Mr. Taber, 76, died after he was admitted to the Twin Falls Clinic and Hospital of a heart attack, not of the hip and jaw injuries he received in a crash at Shoshone Street East and Eighth Avenue East.

Mr. Taber was a former Twin Falls city councilman and was a leading businessman and civic leader in the city for many years.

60th Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

JEROME — More than 100 friends and relatives from Magic Valley attended the 60th Wedding Anniversary observance of Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Meeks at the First Christian Church. The event was hosted by the couple's family, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Theon Zahn.

The couple came to Jerome in 1915 and farmed in the Falls City and Sugar Loaf communities until 1958, when they retired.

Mrs. Meeks chose a cranberry-colored wool-knit sheath for the occasion accented with a corsage of pink and white roses, a gift from her family.

The refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and silver. Pink candles in silver holders and silver coffee service completed the table appointments.

Penny Parade Is Scheduled

RICHFIELD—The prospective Penny Parade for the LDS Primary Children's Hospital at Salt Lake City has alerted Richfield, Idaho, and 310 employees work there. Over 135 volunteers and 115 junior volunteers donated over 32,000 hours of work. A total of 245 doctors are now at the hospital's medical staff, with almost all specialties of medicine represented.

Children of the church Primary department contribute birthday pennies each year as their part in helping other children who need hospital care there. All children, regardless of race, religion or national origin, under 14 years of age, are eligible for medical treatment.

Mrs. Clifford Dayley, a Blaine State Primary counselor, is in charge of the stake penny parade for the six ward churches, Richfield, Carey, Shoshone, Dietrich, Hailey and Sun Valley.

Only one patient from the Blaine LDS Stake is presently receiving any treatment from the Primary Children's Hospital. He is Steve Sanders, a gun accident victim at Richfield during the Christmas holidays in 1967. He is now an out-patient at the hospital and is able to stay at home except for treatment two days each week. While still paralyzed he moves around in an electric wheel chair and has a teacher come to his home for school work.

In 1967 almost 7,000 patients were admitted to the hospital. 5,070 operations were performed, and 310 employees work there. Over 135 volunteers and 115 junior volunteers donated over 32,000 hours of work. A total of 245 doctors are now at the hospital's medical staff, with almost all specialties of medicine represented.

Pennies donated are used only for Primary service cases. Parents assume financial responsibility for private patients. Of the patients admitted in 1967 there were 628 Primary service cases. Utah had the highest number of patients with Idaho, second; Nevada, third, and Wyoming, fourth.

Club Represented

RUPERT—The Crestview 53ers Home Demonstration Club was represented at the Jerome county Extension installation recently for an all-day dinner meeting.

Mrs. Kalisek will also serve as a council representative during 1969.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband was married before and had two children by that marriage. We have been happily married for 5 years. His former wife never remarried. Of course we have to pay child support, which my husband has been doing regularly every month.

Well, if we are just one day late with the check, his ex-wife has his son call us up and ask where the money is. (She hasn't spoken to my husband since the divorce.) What I would like from you is a good stinging answer he could give this kid to get him off our backs. This is really getting to us.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: The solution is so obvious, I can't understand why you didn't think of it. Get the support check there on-line every month, and you will not be bothered by any calls, and you won't have to have an answer.

DEAR ABBY: I am a soldier who has been in Viet Nam for 6 months. I recently received a letter from my mother telling me that my fiancée, to whom I've been engaged for 9 months, is about 4 or 5 months pregnant, and she's going around telling everybody that she is carrying MY child. I do not deny having had relations with her, but I don't see how this baby could possibly be mine.

Should I write a letter terminating our engagement and asking her to return my ring? I'll love her.

NAMELESS IN VIET NAM

DEAR NAMELESS: Since you still "love" her, don't ask for the ring, ask for an explanation. Could be your mother heard wrong, or your fiancée figured wrong.

DEAR ABBY: I have exhausted every last source and am about to lose my mind trying to find the author of a quote. Accurately as a car rental it goes like this: "It is all the same to me if a man comes from Sing Sing or Harvard. We have a man—not is history."

Ten dollars to your favorite charity if you can give me the answer. Thank you. H.H.G.

DEAR H.H.G.: The author is Henry Ford. (My source: "The Great Quotations," compiled by George Seldes.) And please send 10 dollars to your local Mental Health association. You are welcome.

DEAR ABBY: I live about 15 minutes walking distance from school. Every morning, my boyfriend comes by and gives me a ride.

I have a younger sister who goes to my school and my Mom has been taking her. My father says it is silly for my Mom to make a special trip to drive my sister to school — that she should ride with my boyfriend and me. Well I don't particularly enjoy her company, so when this came up, we got into an argument, and my sister said she refused to go where she wasn't wanted.

Then my father ORDERED her to ride with us! Does my father have the right to tell my boyfriend to take my sister?

OLDER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: No, but be honest. You made your sister feel unwelcome, who was unfair. A ride to school is not a "date" and it wouldn't have hurt you to graciously give her a ride in order to spare your mother the extra trip.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 6970, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Rosalie Ash, Orton Wed

BUHL—The First LDS Church was the setting for the Dec. 23 wedding and reception for Rosalie Marie Ash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Woodrow Ash, and Lamar Neff Orton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Whitney Orton, all Buhl.

Bishop Clyde Cox, Buhl, performed the double ring ceremony before a background of Christmas garlands, evergreen topiary trees and a lighted Christmas tree. Mrs. Clyde Cox accompanied. Gerald Cassleton, soloist. She also served as organist for the ceremony, and later, at the reception accompanied Mrs. Dale Bell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried a sweet-heart bouquet of red and white roses. She wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned in a fitted bodice and low rounded neckline. A lace-covered cummerbund circled the waistline and ended in a wide tailored bow at the back with long wide cashes. The softly pleated floor-length skirt featured a chapel train, and the hemline was bordered with wide white rose-petted lace.

Her fingertip veil of white illusion, bordered with white lace, was held by a tiara of white roses.

Mrs. Ross Merrill, Logan, and Mrs. Harlan-Harmon, Moscow, high-school and college friend of the bride, attended the bride. Diane Orton, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid.

Best man was Dennis Orton, Bureley brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Lawrence Smith, Wendell, and Charles Ash, Buhl, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the church cultural hall immediately after the ceremony.

A red aisle carpet led to the receiving line where the bride's parents, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Judd, Rupert; the bridegroom's parents; the newlyweds, and the bridesmaids greeted guests before a white Austrian curtain backdrop with red chiffon valance. Green topiary trees with red velvet ribbon bows were placed at each end of the line.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Fredric J. Ash, Rupert, at a red covered table covered with a Christmas centerpiece. A white frocked tree accented with red birds and red satin balls stood nearby.

A buffet table was covered with red floor-length cloth edged with red lace. Table decorations included three tall white and gold pillar candle stands entwined with evergreen, holly and red poinsettias, holding red candles. Guests sat at round quartet tables which were decorated with circular red lace-edged cloths and centered with Christmas greens and large candles. Assisting with serving were Shirley Suttz, Sheila Lauritzen and JoAnne Petersen.

Gifts were displayed on the stage by Mrs. Charles Morris, Mrs. James Moore and Mrs. Melvin Wilson, Buhl, and Mrs. Al Potjer, North Highlands, Calif.

Gifts were displayed on tables covered with white satin and tulle edged with lace. Ceramic plaques, holding aloft holiday bouquets, graced the tables. White holly leaves, holly and white tulle topiary trees, were placed along the stage rim, and on each side were red velvet and white tulle columns. Flanked red velvet reindeer and poinsettia arrangements were placed on the window ledges, and near them were a large decorated holly tree. Reception assistants were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cannon, Rupert.

Delbert Alexander, Castleford, served as master of ceremonies.

On Dec. 27, the marriage rites were repeated for the young couple in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. They were accompanied in the temple by his parents, by his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Orton, Bureley; the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fredric J. Ash, Rupert; a number of friends from the Buhl area, and by friends and relatives from Utah. The bridegroom's parents were hosts at a wedding dinner that afternoon in the Doll House, Salt Lake City, for members of the bride's party.

After honeymooning in Salt Lake City, the newweds returned to Buhl to visit with their respective families. They were guests of honor at a New Year's Eve family dinner in Rupert at the H. H. Judd home, and on New Year's Day at the Orton home.

Pat Orton, who is serving with the United States Army Security Agency, left from Twin Falls by plane Jan. 2 to report for further training at Ft. Devens, Mass. The next day Mr. Orton left Jan. 5 for Illinois, Ore., to resume her teaching duties.

The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial shower here by members of the Hines Elementary school faculty and at a post-nuptial shower there by officers and teachers of the LDS Primary Association.

SLAM SHOULD BE BID AND MADE.

We wouldn't be inclined to criticize a pair that failed to reach six spades with today's North-South cards. North has only one high card point and South 21 so that there are 12 points held by East and West. On the other hand, North has slam interest by bidding four spades. North would simply pass at three spades, with a weak hand North would sign off at four spades, with this holding he merely bids another suit to suggest a slam. South looks over his 21 points and they appear to be golden. He decides to do something about the slam. A control play might bid a Blackwood four trump and barge right into six, but an expert South would be for more delicate. This South merely bids four diamonds, to tell his partner that he, too, has slam interest.

North looks over his hand and decides that he does not have enough to warrant going past game so he signs off at four spades, but South is not going to be denied. He might even barge right into six but South merely bids five spades.

North looks over his hand and decides that he doesn't have to be denied. He might even barge right into six but South merely bids five spades.

A six-card spade suit and a singleton and should have interest in a slam. Then, while South has only 21 points he has two of the three top honor spades and except for one jack, the rest of his high cards are aces and kings.

There are lots of ways to bid to six spades. The sequence in the box is one that might be used by a partnership playing the Jacoby transfer.

North's three-heart bid is the spade transfer. All it guarantees is possession of at least five spades so South merely rebids to three spades as his partner has requested.

At this point North shows

Todays QUESTION

You bid five spades to show three aces and your partner bids six hearts. What do you do now?

Viet Veterans Voice Desire To Return Despite Hazards

IT'S REMARKABLE how many veterans of Vietnam military duty want to go back there. About 27 per cent. The survey-takers found that when they interviewed hundreds of returning soldiers. What is all about Vietnam these young fellows like so much? "The women," says a St. Louis sergeant. "When you play around with a Missouri girl, she usually outtalks you, and you end up feeling as tho' you'd made a jackass out of yourself. That doesn't happen with a Vietnam girl. You can count on her to be loyal, loveable, and quiet."

IS IT TRUE the marketing men tend to forget there are now five times as many well-heeled middle-aged women as impoverished teen-agers? AM LOST A DASH OF sugar on fried fish does something for the flavor, but not too much what? THERE WAS WASTO OF TEXAS the only broadcasting station in the country with call letters that name its own town? A TIME when horstadiash was called harshadish, but it evidently sounded too much like the tavern vernacular? AND ONCE AGAIN, do you deny the old politician was right when he said, "If you can't kill a wasp with one swat, don't slap at it?"

I'VE GOT THIS IDEA for a detective story. A confidence man, recently released from prison, claims he lived the last several years in Paris, and mentions he dined there on the claw meat of lobsters. That's how the detective knows he's lying, get it? French lobsters divide his claws. On ly American lobsters have claws.

WHEN THE FARMER with three sons and 17 horses died, his will stipulated one son would get a ninth of the livestock, another eighth, and the other two-thirds. Question is, asks a Californian, how did the boys divide up the horses. That ride is old. Come on, why can't I remember the outcome? Nuts.

Forest Service Advisory Unit Notes Stand On Grazing Fees

The controversial subject of an increase in fees paid by ranchers permitted to graze livestock on National Forest system lands was discussed at a recent meeting of the Sawtooth National Forest Multiple Use Advisory Committee.

The announcement of the increase by the federal government generated widespread and varied reactions from organizations and individuals concerned about the management and use of public lands and use of Forest Service officials. Some of the people were in favor of the increase, while others opposed it.

The 16-member Sawtooth National Forest Advisory Committee sought a common understanding of this complex issue, but was unable to reach unanimous agreement. Two members expressed strong support for the increase announced by former Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. The other members, though individual viewpoints varied, endorsed a statement prepared by two members placing the majority on record as recommending further study before the grazing fee increase becomes effective.

The following reasons were given: There is a possibility the action may adversely affect the good relationship established in this area between ranchers and Sawtooth National Forest Personnel which has resulted in beneficial cooperation in use of forest grazing lands to perpetuate and increase their quality. There is a feeling that because many of the ranchers feel the proposed fee schedule is unreasonable, they may not cooperate and increase their profit motive to that of long-range care of the grazing lands.

Since the Forest Service is charged by Congress must use the multiple use concept of administering its lands, this committee feels that every effort should be put forth by the government to reach a reasonable accord with the users so National Forest lands will be used as efficiently as possible, fully harvesting forest resources and not endangering perpetuation of the forest lands for future generations.

There is a feeling among stockmen in the West that in setting up the increased fee schedule not enough consideration was given to their particular situation in which grazing permits for public lands have acquired intrinsic value not recognized by the government.

All multiple use groups feel the manner in which the fee schedule was decided has not been given enough explanation nor wide enough circulation.

The committee feels an action with such far reaching implications should not be rushed into effect without fullest exploration of its impact on the multiple use concept.

Committee members are appointed by P. Max Rees, forest supervisor, to advise him on management programs and priority needs on the Sawtooth National Forest. The statement of individual committee members and the statement agreed upon by the majority of the members will be transmitted to the Regional Forester, Chief of the Forest Service and the Secretary of Agriculture.

Slick roads and streets continue to cause a rash of minor accidents on Gooding streets. A one-car accident Saturday morning resulted when the driver applied his brakes and slid into a telephone pole. Harold L. Robinson, 18, driving a 1963 Ford owned by LeRoy Bickford, damaged a telephone pole and knocked down a highway sign. The car received about $100 damage. Passenger in the car was Jerry Bickford, 16.

Gary E. Bay, 28, Gooding, was cited for following too closely when he rammed into the back of a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Paul L. Olsen, 25, Gooding. Olsen was traveling on Main Street, had to stop for oncoming traffic before making a left turn onto Eighth Avenue, and was struck by Bay, who was unable to stop. Damage to Olsen's car was estimated at $75 and $50 to the Bay automobile.

No citations were issued Saturday when a 1961 Chrysler driven by Alvin H. Smart, 30, Boise, was struck on the side by a 1964 Ford, driven by Ross Eckley, 17, Gooding. Eckley had slowed to make a left turn on 10th Avenue, misjudged the distance from the other car, and slid into the side of Smart's machine. Damage to the cars was minor.

A 1958 Chevrolet pickup truck owned by Dillard M. Burgess, Stop Motel, was damaged about $100 when it was struck some time Friday night or Saturday morning by an unknown vehicle. The truck was in the motel parking lot at the time of the accident.
