

T.F. Mental Retardation Center Should Be Reality By September

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Everything goes according to plan Twin Falls will have an operating mental retardation center by the first of September. The funds have been approved, the plans are being drawn and in six weeks the specifications will be ready. This means the Idaho Department of Health may be ready to call for bids in two months, perhaps less.

The local money was put into a fund, and application was made for more money. The money came from the state and from Uncle Sam's federal government.

The property where the mental retardation center will be located is presently zoned residential low density. The state wants it changed to residential-professional.

The request has been referred to the city's zoning commission. Its next meeting is March 10 and the matter will be discussed then.

The mental retardation center will be used as a diagnostic center for 150 to 200 children. The mentally retarded and the physically handicapped will be trained or evaluated at the center.

In addition, there will be facilities to train — or teach — 30 to 50 mentally retarded and physically handicapped children.

There's a need — a very critical need — in the Twin Falls area. She said the state has the Idaho School and Hospital at Nampa. "But this facility is used to house the mentally retarded. It does nothing toward keeping the child in the home, keeping him in a familiar atmosphere, where the training can be of important benefit."

Priority Rating Given Rock Creek Water Project

The Rock Creek watershed project, which will affect nearly 100,000 people, took another step toward reality Tuesday night in Boise, when the plan was given a priority rating for small watershed planning assistance.

The project was given priority following a hearing before the Idaho Association of Soil Conservation Districts Watershed Priority Committee. Twin Falls County commissioners, city councilmen, officials of the Rock Creek Reservoir Co., Inc., Twin Falls Soil District, Snake River Soil District, West Cassia Soil District and others journeyed from this area to testify at the day-long hearing.

The approval means the plan will get priority toward a feasibility study on the project. At least three county commissioners said they were happy with the news and looked forward to completion of the project.

"This will be a great thing for the Twin Falls area," Commissioner William Chancy said.

"We need this. It offers a tremendous potential for recreation and water development," Commissioner Morris Carlson said.

"I'm very pleased," Commissioner Chairman Heber Loughmiller said.

Proposed watershed projects on the Big Lost River in Arco and the Big Wood River near Halley also received favorable consideration by the Idaho Soil Conservation group presiding at the meeting.

The committee recommended that additional community support be sought for the two projects, the Big Lost River and the Big Wood River. After that, the committee recommended the projects be resubmitted to the conservation group at its next meeting.

Derrick also appeared at the hearing. He vowed city support to all concerned on the project, he said. Frequent flooding in Rock Creek in Twin Falls has left the area looking like a dumpground. "We need to control this area flow water. This is a good project."

He said there is a lot of coordination yet to be done and a financing arrangement has to be worked out with the government and the local agencies involved in sponsoring the project.

"At a guess, and this is just a guess, it could be completed before anything is done. But we have made a start."

Mr. Derrick said he was taken by surprise by the action taken by the conservation group.

The project proposal calls for the storage of about 25,000 acre feet of water for use in irrigation. A small reservoir would be created in the canyon south of Hansen. This reservoir would also be used for recreation, such as boating, swimming, water sliding, fishing and scuba diving.

The city also plans to build a small dam in the canyon near See ROCK CREEK, Pg. 2, Col. 8.

NORTH VIETNAMESE CHILDREN look over their fish on sale at a street market somewhere in North Vietnam. According to legend, a household deity called Tu Yuen ascends to heaven during the Tet (lunar new year) period, to report to the Nephrite King on the behavior of a particular family during the preceding year. As a farewell gift for his journey heavenward, the little god is given a live carp. Consequently, during preparations for the Tet celebration, they fish of all sorts are sold in every market. Marines, Reds Duel In Savage Battle Near Laos Border

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marines duelled Communist artillerymen across the Laotian border today and fought inch by inch through 100-degree jungle heat to the edge of the A Shau Valley. They killed 196 North Vietnamese soldiers and discovered the graves of 185 others.

UPI correspondent David Lamb, at the Marine base, said the Marine push toward the Laotian border had become a major battle for control of the region and that not an inch of ground had come easy.

The Communists tied snipers to trees on suicide missions, they booby trapped discarded equipment, set trip mines across trails to detonate mines and removed all unit identification from their dead. But they were identified as North Vietnamese.

The Marines sat out three weeks ago to clear large Communist units out of the A Shau Valley which stretches roughly westward from the Da Nang area to the border of Laos. It is a principal infiltration route for Red units threatening the coastal plains.

Today's fighting raged to 739 the number of Communists killed in the operation, nicknamed Dewey Canyon. Most of the casualties were inflicted in the last five days as midday sun heat enabled the troops to shove off from the fog-shrouded mountain bases.

The Marines reported American losses since the operation began as 61 killed and 285 wounded including five killed and 26 wounded today.

The Marines drive has been helped by B52 strikes into Communist held areas of Laos. Formed sources said today the B52s took advantage of the 24-hour all-weather Tet truce in Vietnam to hit Laos with the heaviest bomb loads of the year.

Today's fight against North Vietnamese soldiers shifted himself to a tree limb and dropped a grenade onto a Marine patrol beneath him. Three Leathernecks were hit and one was killed.

One Marine unit was reported so close to the border it was drawing machinegun fire from Laos. Its members were perched over Highway 922, a prime infiltration route which filters out of Laos, winds through the 30-mile-long A Shau Valley and flows into Hue.

While B52s used the 24-hour truce to bomb in Laos, the Communists used it to move thousands of troops into the Da Nang area, posing a new threat to the city.

Israelis Ponder Attack Answer

By United Press International
Israel leaders conferred intensively today to respond to Tuesday's Arab terrorist attack on an El Al jetliner in Zurich, Switzerland.

Israeli foreign minister, Moshe Eban, condemned the raid as a "despicable act of terrorism" encouraged by the present world opinion toward previous Arab guerrilla acts.

In Jerusalem, Jordanian leaders said Israel and Jordanian troops battled for 25 minutes in the northern Jordan Valley this morning. The Jordanians suffered no casualties, but "it is believed enemy forces suffered some," the spokesman said.

In Jerusalem, urgent meetings of Israel's Defense Security and Commercial Aviation Security committees were expected. The second committee was formed after Arab terrorists shot another El Al airliner at Athens Dec. 28.

That raid brought a swift reprisal from Israeli commandos, who blew up 13 Middle Eastern airlines at Beirut Airport two days later.

The attack at Zurich Airport came as the airliner taxied down the runway for takeoff. Suddenly the Arabs opened up with bursts of machine gunfire that punctured the hull of the plane and wounded six occupants. An airline security guard darted out of the plane and shot one of the terrorists dead.

Swiss authorities held the other attackers, two men and a woman, pending formal charges. The plane's passengers were to be flown out of Zurich today. Credit for the attack was claimed by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, which operates out of Jordan. It said the attack was retaliation against savage actions of Israeli occupation authorities.

Mini-Cassia Hospital Problems Are Aired

BURLEY — There appears to be no agreement among leaders in Mindoka and Cassia counties as to what is the best solution for improving hospital facilities in the two communities.

But it was clear at a meeting called by the Joint Hospital Planning Committee for some 70 civic and business leaders in the two counties Monday night at the Ponderosa Inn that something needed to be done.

The committee, headed by Ted Kelsey, Burley, stressed that the meeting was not to be an end in itself but to bring leaders up to date on the problems of the two hospitals, in Burley and Rupert, which are jointly administered.

For the first time in eight years the Mini-Cassia hospital complex has made money, but the committee members who formed a panel to give information to the hospital trustees (there were three proposals which could be followed, one to construct a new two and one-half million dollar facility on neutral ground between the two communities, to do nothing, or thirdly, compromise by consolidating the services of the two hospitals and trying to make the most efficient use of both institutions.

There was general agreement that this is the best way to follow, but no one could agree just as to what division of services is best. There has been discussion of merging the Mindoka hospital into the Burley home complex.

But, according to a meeting among those who responded from the audience at the Monday night meeting, where one lived determined which county should have the most extensive hospital facilities. The Burley committee members participated on the panel were Mrs. Audrey Harper, director of nurses at Carle Memorial Hospital; Mrs. Fern P. Orest, director of nurses at Mindoka Memorial Hospital; Dr. Eugene Holmberg, Dr. James Kirkpatrick, both Burley; Dr. R. K. Humphrey and Dr. Howard Crawford, both Rupert; John A. Clark, Oakley; County Commissioner Chairman; Russ Van Every, Mindoka county commissioner; and Mr. Barton, John Hutchison, Idaho Hospital Association executive director, who was moderator.

City May Buy Dierkes Lake Property

The City of Twin Falls has taken out an option on the Dierkes Lake property, according to Herb Derrick, city manager.

Mr. Derrick said the city has been looking at the property for a number of years and feels it would fit in well with the other city land at Shoshone Falls. He said the city would develop the area for recreation purposes — fishing, boating, swimming, etc. Mr. Derrick said he and the city council feel it would be beneficial for the city to own the land and have the area open to the public.

City officials are now awaiting approval from Housing and Urban Development on their open space funds application. The city manager said the city has received tentative approval from the San Francisco office for the project. He said officials at the office notified the city that they had received high priority and has about a 68 per cent chance of being funded.

The city manager said the project is formally approved. HUD would pay one-half of the appraised value of the property, which includes some 140 acres. It would also pay the cost of the appraisal.

The property is now owned by Fred Foss, who purchased it from Herbert E. Dierkes several years ago. Mr. Foss has approached the city and has indicated he is interested in selling the property.

The city's option will expire about May 1.

House Delays Flood Plain Bill

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI)—The House Resources and Conservation Committee today voted to hold further study—possibly until the next legislative session—on a proposed flood plain management bill.

Rep. Alan Hyde, R-Idaho Falls, moved to hold the bill on grounds the legislature will have a better idea of what is needed after this spring's anticipated floods in Idaho.

Holding the bill in committee, he added, also would give the people throughout the state time to give the proposal a better look.

His motion, seconded by Rep. George Brucke, D-Boise, came after his subcommittee report on the bill and a discussion of it by state Recreation Engineer R. Keith Higginson.

Rep. Ed Hedges, R-Boise, urged that some kind of flood plain management legislation be enacted at this session of the legislature. If the bill does not do everything that is needed, he said, it could be amended next year.

The bill held in committee would require the state reclamation engineer to define flood plains in areas where there is a chance of a flood at least once every 100 years. Then counties would be given the task of setting up controls on structures to be built within the boundaries of these flood plains.

3 Suspects Face Federal Prosecution

Three men who are accused of robbing a store owner in Berger at gunpoint last Thursday will be taken to Reno, Nev., to face federal prosecution on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle.

The three men still have not been identified.

Twin Falls County Sheriff Paul Childer said Thursday warrants have been issued, including the men of armed robbery. "We want them here, and someday we'll get them," he said.

The three men were being held in the Elko County jail pending transfer to Reno to face the federal charge.

They were arrested at a roadside in Wells about two hours after the robbery. It is thought the men might be escapees from the Oregon State Prison, and it is also thought that one of the men might be wanted for murder.

Border Guards Delay Traffic

BERLIN (UPI)—East German border guards today delayed traffic for two hours at the Western end of the highway linking Berlin to West Germany.

Border officials said the delay, supposedly for vehicle identification papers, began at midnight and ended about 2 a.m. It backed up traffic, mostly trucks, more than two miles.

Most residents of the town were without water from early morning until mid-afternoon Tuesday when the water supply was restored. This had been in operation only since last Friday when the never and deeper well during the trouble and its submersible pump was pulled and taken out for repairs.

The deeper well is expected to be back in operation Friday, Village officials said the smaller emergency well either went dry or caved in, but it was back in operation by 11 a.m. Tuesday. The pump stopped working about 4 a.m. but was not discovered until 7 a.m.

However, it takes several hours for pressure to be built up. On other days the water was mid-afternoon before water was available in most of the homes here.

School was dismissed about 11 a.m. for the rest of the day also, because of the lack of water.

Hansen Without Water As Well Runs Dry—Temporarily

HANSEN — Hansen was back to normal Wednesday after a water shortage Tuesday when it happened when "the well runs dry." Students had an unexpected vacation and no one could see his lands.

Sen. Jordan Says Everything Looks Rosy For Pres. Nixon

A report on the first month of the Nixon Administration, given by Sen. Jordan Tuesday, was a look-ahead to the legislative luncheon, depicted things as still rosy for the new President.

Idaho Senator said, "There is an air of optimism and hope in Washington, due to the vigor and freshness of the new administration."

Of the situation whereby the Republican President is faced with, working with both houses of Congress dominated by the opposition Democrats, Sen. Jordan said he thought it was a healthy thing.

President Nixon has been in the respect of the leaders on the administration and then "brought up to the Hill" with the muscle to push it through.

"There is a good thing so that the Nixon administration appears to be reaching out to get good men for appointive positions. He saw several individuals have applied for jobs in the administration."

"There is a good thing that the Sawtooth Recreation Area bill, which has been introduced in both houses, will be enacted this session. He saw several chances the administration will come up with a real tax reform program that will plug loopholes which allow tax evasion cooperation [See SEN. JORDAN, Pg. 2, Col. 1.]

Despite talk and articles in magazines and newspapers, he has not noted much sentiment in Washington favoring resumption of American-Cuban relations (in answer to a question by Bob Coiner).

He has introduced a bill calling for a 10-year moratorium on hydro-electric projects on the Snake River and is co-sponsor of a bill to revise the electoral college without doing away with it.

Prior to Sen. Jordan's talk, the group at the Legislative Luncheon in American Legion Hall talked with members of the Twin Falls County delegation in the Statehouse.

James Phelps asked about the status of bills dealing with workers' compensation laws and was advised by Rep. William Roberts, R-Buhl, that they are in committee and have not yet been approved.

Rep. Jack Claiborn, R-Twin Falls, a member of the State Affairs Committee, said there had been several hearings on the bills and it likely they will be amended to reduce costs. Sen. John Barker, R-Buhl, noted that a public hearing is scheduled on the bills next Monday.

In reply to a question by Joe McCollum, Rep. Roberts reported that a subcommittee is working on drafting legislation for changing the Idaho motor vehicle inspection law, and the changes should be in bill form in a couple of days.

Proposed changes, he said, include exempting vehicles of a gross weight of 3,000 pounds or less, except lighting requirements for vehicles traveling on the roads only between a half-hour before sunrise and a half-hour after sunset, and exempting slow-moving vehicles (25 miles an hour or less) from provisions except for brake requirements.

John Barker reported that there will be hearings on all water bills in the Senate at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday (Feb. 19), and a public hearing before the Constitutional Revision Committee at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

'Freeloader' Bill Passed By Senate

By PAUL M. QUINN

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Senate passed, 28-3, and sent to the governor a House bill aimed at eliminating "freeloader" from county welfare rolls.

The bill had cleared the house by a 50-1 margin on Feb. 10. The measure was strongly opposed during Senate debate by Sen. James Storch, D-Sandpoint, who termed the bill "a piece of legislation."

Sen. W. Fisher Ellsworth, who successfully maneuvered the measure through debate, said the bill was designed to call attention to abuses in county welfare programs. "It would allow county officials, at their discretion, to require that welfare recipients perform work on county buildings and property."

The bill calls for compensation to be paid to the welfare applicant and then this amount would be deducted from the amount of the welfare check paid out.

Under terms of the bill Gov. Don Samuelson will consider it supported by the duties of the State Department of Social Services.

McCormack, speaking at a news conference, said President Nixon should retain O'Leary in his post as "a good bipartisan gesture."

Published report recently indicated that O'Leary, who has held the job for only four months, was among those whose routine resignation to the new president would be accepted.

McCormack said he did not want to get into the controversy growing over O'Leary, but he said he knew the department head to be a devoted public servant and an expert in the field.

Earlier Tuesday, James Boyd, a former head of the Bureau of Mines, said the agency should be reauthorized. He would not comment on whether O'Leary should be retained.

Boyd is president of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum Engineers (AIME).

"The economy must be placed under firm restraint until there are unmistakable signs that we are headed back on a noninflationary path," Kennedy said.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The Judiciary Committee of the West Virginia Senate reported a bill to the floor Tuesday which prescribes the death penalty for five classifications of rape and murder.

The bill provides the electric chair to be used for executions.

The state legislature abolished capital punishment in 1905, but the sponsors of the measure said the crime rate was increasing at an alarming rate and that death for certain crimes would be a deterrent.

Presently, the runoff of Rock Creek water ditches into the Snake River near Twin Falls.

Parks would be established in the area and the streamside areas would be put to use for fishing and other recreation.

Pollution is the big consideration for the project, it was also pointed out. Building a series of dams in the Rock Creek watershed area would help control the pollution from industrial plants now located along the creek from Hansen to Twin Falls.

Mr. Loughmiller said the project, when finished, would benefit nearly 100,000 people in the way of recreation.

Jack Claiborn, Jr., president of the Rock Creek Reservoir Co. Inc., said this project will not interfere with the Salmon Project as proposed by the Bureau of Reclamation for the Salmon Tract. Mr. Claiborn said this project is for the Rock Creek area lands only.

Make Keeping Lent Serious Business

By REV. JOHN RILEY

Episcopal Church of the Ascension
Spring is here, and so it would seem an adherent to the Liturgical Calendar of the Christian Church. The season in the Christian Year which begins with Ash Wednesday is called "Lent," and the word "Lent" derives from an old Anglo-Saxon word meaning "spring." So whether or not you are with us or not, Lent, or "Spring" begins Wednesday, Feb. 19.

There are many and varied reasons for "keeping Lent" as a phrase has it. As many a reason as there are Christians. With many of the faithful, the meaning is a seven-week time out of the year when the penitent looks into his own being and tries some kind of training so he can better run the race of life.

For some, again, this is serious business, and things are given up in order to take on some of the more important things of life. One couple I've known for years gives up certain television programs in order to do some good reading. A business man, too, has made the point for me that he would have spent on this to the missions program of his Church, and it amounted to quite a lot.

On the non-serious side on today finds children and even some adults up dessert soft drinks, smoking, which really this has little or nothing to do with improving one's relationship with God and fellowman. Lent often times serves as an excuse for losing weight and that hardly finds its place on the Christian Calendar.

When one looks beyond all the insignificant uses one can put the season to, if he has a mind for such, one can find a very great and good use of the seven-week period.

For instance, the scripture lessons appointed to be read in many churches during Lent have to do with the ministry of Christ among the world's peoples of his own day. And so Lent can become for the Christian a time for an examination of the Christian ethic, the meaning of the Christian person, commitment, discipleship, involvement, of human society and its need of redemption.

One publication, "Mass Media Ministries," points out that the first 33 days of Lent are supposed to commemorate those three years in which Jesus preached, taught, healed, cast out demons, trained his disciples, walked the roads of Palestine as an itinerant evangelist, and gathered followers and converts. All of which, by the way, led him to the crucifixion at the Easter beyond.

To keep a season with this in mind requires much more than treading a way to lose weight or in hanging to a person on the street about how hard you find it to give up smoking. Unless the Christian does what he is appointed to do in, uses these next seven weeks to look at his own involvement in reconciling people and in redeeming what's left of this old world, you might as well give up Lent and be done with it.

And the way most of us "keep Lent," that might not be a bad idea.

Medical Tests Fail To Locate Cause Of Death

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—An autopsy failed Tuesday to disclose what caused the cardiac arrest that claimed the life of a veteran aquanaut as he was about to enter the Sealab II, a deep-sea laboratory on the Pacific.

Further pathological tests were ordered to try to determine the reason Barry Cannon, 3, a civilian electronics engineer, died Monday as he began a 12-day stay on the ocean bottom with eight other aquanauts.

On the agenda for the gala event are a prize-winning horse race at the fairgrounds in Rupert, the annual Fourth of July parade through the city, a rodeo July 4-5, the crowning of the 1969 Rodeo queen July 4, a carnival, and the annual chuckwagon jamboree.

Del Haslam, Ovid, Idaho, has been contracted again this year to provide the rodeo stock, and Bob Chambers will be the announcer. Mr. Chambers is from Pendleton, Ore., and has been announcing rodeos since 1958. He has announced for over 70 different events.

He competed in rodeos for five years, and won his first contest at the age of 15 for a bull ride in California.

Specialty acts and a clown have yet to be contracted, according to chamber members. Other details have not yet been worked out.

Those interested in entering the queen contest may obtain an application from the Rupert chamber office soon.

Soviets Agree To Negotiate Czech Damage

PRAGUE (UPI)—The Soviets have agreed to negotiate with Czechoslovakia over compensation for damage to the occupied nation during the invasion last summer, authoritative sources said today.

However, the Soviets are not likely to pay for more than partial destruction, the sources said.

They said the groundwork for such talks was laid in recent diplomatic exchanges between the two countries, but added that no major difference on the amount.

The best estimate of loss caused by the Soviet-led invasion in August was about $225 million, but the sources said it was highly unlikely the Soviets would pay anything close to that amount.

The sources declared they were willing to pay only for "direct damages," the sources said. The Czechs also have demanded compensation for the staggering economic losses caused by idled factories, disruption in raw material supplies and other production deficits.

The sources said "direct damage" amounted to a fraction of the total losses. It would include highway pavement chewed up by tank treads, parks damaged by troops who bivouacked in them last month, buildings sprayed by gunfire and crops destroyed by military vehicles.

The economic costs included lost production, cancellation of contracts by Western firms and severe disruption in tourism.

The sources offered no recent figures on the loss estimates, but three weeks after the Aug. 20-21 invasion the Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper, Prava said it surpassed 1,028 million Czechoslovak crowns, or $270 million.

The "direct damages" reported then were estimated at only about 8 million crowns, or $104,000.

That estimate probably increased as officials were allowed to inspect areas vacated by troops later in the month.

Loophole?

One of the problems encountered in eliminating loopholes from the federal income tax is defining just what is a loophole. Those who receive exemptions under the law do not consider themselves culprits, and many persons regard certain loopholes as legitimate even though they do not benefit them.

which have the smallest base of popular support. A tabulation prepared by the U.S. Treasury recently indicates the broad general categories into which most of the loopholes fit. Leading the list is health and welfare, with a tax loss of $19.5 billion. Next is commerce and transportation, to the extent of $9.7 billion. Then, community development and housing, $5.2 billion; natural resources, $1.7 billion; education and manpower, $900 million.

Courts And Torts Cost More

Fifth District Court is getting busier and busier each year. And the more work there is, the more money it costs. County Clerk Harold Lancaster said Monday he estimates the Fifth District Court in Twin Falls has about 33 per cent more business today than it did five years ago.

"We had about 725 civil lawsuits filed in Twin Falls last year. Add this to an estimated 150 criminal cases filed and you get 875 cases in a year's time."

Each manila envelope used to file each case costs $1.50. Mr. Lancaster received a shipment of 500 Monday. Mathematics shows that 875 cases a year times $1.50 comes to $1,312.50. This is the cost just for envelopes to keep the cases in.

Then there is the cost for paper, paper clips, pencils, rubber bands, ink and erasers. The secretarial help must be paid, also.

This year's budget calls for $28,100 to operate the district court in Twin Falls. In 1968 a budget of $26,600 was required. Mr. Lancaster said little things add up.

'Envoy' Urged To Mexicans Within U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Manuel Lujan Jr., R-N.M., thinks President Nixon should name some kind of ambassador between the White House and the Mexican-American population.

Thanking Nixon for his interest, Lujan wrote the President a letter with some ideas about how to help the Spanish-speaking people of the Southwest. "Our major problems, affecting not only Spanish-speaking people but all peoples of the Southwest, are education, vocational training, employment and most certainly industrial development," Lujan's letter said.

He suggested that the President can prove this assistance by appointing a presidential assistant specifically to work with us on existing federal projects and on new "partnership" projects, Lujan said. He said the men-Nixon-picks, if he decides to have such an assistant, should be able to talk through red tape, should be available readily to talk with Mexican-Americans, and should be able to work on a broad range of problems.

Politics-Policy Debate Clogs Progress In Debate On Trans-Pacific Air Routes

By ROBERT BUCKHORN WASHINGTON (UPI)—The lucrative Trans-Pacific airline route case is caught in a squeeze between politics and foreign policy.

Outwardly, the next step is up to President Nixon who recalled former President Johnson's awards in the international phase of the case. In a four-paragraph letter to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) on Jan. 24, Nixon said he wanted a review of the awards which were worth $50 million a year in added revenue to the winning airlines—Pan American, Continental, Trans World, Northwest, and Flying Tiger. Braniff also was given key routes to Hawaii from Mexico.

Nixon said he made his decision for foreign policy considerations. One thing he wanted to make clear was that his action should not suggest there was an "illegal or improper influence" brought on the case, Nixon said. Not everyone agreed with him. The day before Nixon made his announcement, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Nixon should hold up the Johnson awards to make sure they were not made on political grounds. In a Senate speech, Griffin cited newspaper reports which claimed that Braniff hired former Johnson aide Walter Jenkins, and Cliff Carter, Griffin said that Lloyd Hunt, Johnson's former protocol chief, was "closely connected with Continental." But other sources pointed out that the former president of American Airlines—C. R. Smith—was Johnson's commerce secretary. But Johnson barred American from an across-the-Pacific route.

Both Johnson and Nixon cited foreign policy considerations in their actions. There is no two-sided to this argument. Japan is opposed to another American carrier flying to Japan. Two already operate over the route—Pan American and Northwest—another one would just mean more competition for the government-backed Japan Airlines. But the U.S. State Department takes a different view. sources say. The diplomats feel that the U.S. has the right to operate international American airline into Japan under its earlier bi-lateral agreements with Japan. If Japan gets its way, a precedent might be set that would return to plague the U.S. in dealings with other nations where similar airline situations exist.

Two key congressmen also have made it plain that they planned to check the foreign policy considerations very carefully. One is the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, J. William Fulbright, D-Ark. The other is his counterpart on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa.

Fulbright has indicated that he may even hold hearings on the case. Morgan has said he wants to make sure "we don't go overboard and do anything that might be against the best interest of our own airlines." Meanwhile, the CAB is withholding any action on the so-called domestic American route which is the lucrative mainland-to-Hawaii routes. What Nixon decides to do on the issue will affect the domestic route. But Nixon has no control over the independent regulatory agency which is headed by a longtime Johnson friend, John H. Crocker Jr. So far there is no indication when Nixon will act on the matter, what he does, or when he does it, there is certain to be more controversy.

Prison Board Scored

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI)—An informal "committee" of five Democrats told the House today the governor should appoint a new Board of Correction immediately to straighten out problems at the State Prison.

Rep. Robert Hankerson, D-Coeur d'Alene, said he and Reps. Dennis Arzen, D-Cottonwood, Marl Hopkins, D-Pocatello, Larry Looney, D-Coeur d'Alene, Edward V. Williams, D-Lewiston, paid an unannounced visit to the prison Feb. 12.

"Because of what they found, we said they believe Gov. Don Samuelson should appoint a new Board of Correction immediately—a board composed of 'reliable, stable men who understand compassion when dealing with human values.'"

"This board should be responsible for developing and administering policy to be enforced by a qualified warden, without constant interference by the board collectively or individually," Hankerson said.

In addition, he said they also believe:

—An immediate cooperative agreement must be made between the Board of Corrections and the Board of Health to provide psychiatric evaluation and treatment of the inmates.

—A vocational rehabilitation program should be established for the inmates, one that is meaningful and relevant to the needs of the inmates, instead of the needs of the prison and other state agencies.

The training officer at the prison immediately institute a definite program for training guards and other personnel and that necessary tools and equipment be purchased to carry out this program.

Hankerson and his "committee" received legislative proposals for their study and report, the third such inquiry of prison problems by a legislative group in the past two years.

Other studies were made by an interim committee of the Legislative Council, by a special three-man Board of Inquiry appointed by the governor.

Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, D-Tuttle, a member of the governor's special board of inquiry, noted that all three studies came up with the same basic conclusion: The Board of Correction must be replaced by a responsible, part-time board.

House Majority Leader Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, praised the "committee" of Hankerson's and said it will take "bi-partisan support to bring out the 'paritisan' problems of the prison."

Both Ravenscroft and Crapo said legislation to help accomplish these tasks is coming from the Senate.

Hankerson told the House that "There has been a great deal of interference by the administration of the executive branch of our state."

"In trying to run the state like a business, the chief executive has appointed members of the Board of Corrections who would take orders from him, regardless of their propriety," he said.

In his report, which he said was "supplemental" to the other two reports, Hankerson listed a number of specific problems his group found at the prison, among them payment of a $600 monthly salary to a training officer who "does virtually nothing."

Rep. Lanting Admits Tax 'Solutions' Will Be 'Unpalatable' To Public

By LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI)—House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Twin Falls, said Tuesday any solution to the 40th legislature's finds for the tax problem "will be as unpalatable as it was two years ago."

Matters of taxation and funding of education dominated the appearance of the House leadership at a press club luncheon.

Lanting said the organization of a session, held in December, meant "we were in business the first day," although he admitted "We might be going a little too fast."

"It's a little unusual when the legislature is called for being too efficient," he added.

Majority Leader Terry Crapo, R-Idaho Falls, however, said the session had not been touched on the major issues, which he coined as education, the prison problem and property tax.

Crapo predicted that the session would last 62 days, and added, "I think you'll see us walk away from a lot of legislation that is major but isn't pressing."

Crapo said the major item in the budget is the funding of education, and said, "We can't really run a budget out until education is taken care of."

Minority Leader Ed Williams, D-Lewiston, said the consensus of the minority is that the State Board of Education had "acted responsibly" and had "been realistic" in proposing a method and figures. He said the minority supported the board of education.

Crapo said he could see no consensus of opinion among the majority, but said that before a lump sum appropriation is considered, "There have to be some pretty strict assurances as to how it has to be divided."

Assistant Minority Leader William Murphy, D-Wallace, said he could see a definite correlation between the funding of education and the tax problem.

Murphy said one problem is that Idaho has 41 assessors "who in many cases are not too well trained." One proposal, he said, is that the sole taxing power be given to the county treasurers, rather than being divided between treasurers and assessors.

Williams noted that Gov. Don Samuelson had allowed House Bill 23 to become law without his signature. He said the bill in effect "raided the general fund of $1 1/2 million."

Mine Inspector Protests Bill

BOISE (UPI)—State Mine Inspector O. T. Hansen said Tuesday that a bill proposed by Senator Art Manley, D-Coeur d'Alene, is too restrictive on the dredge mining industry.

Hansen said "It means there shall not be in business the long period. This is prohibition."

Hansen said that the legislature should hold back dredge mining legislation and allow a Western States Alliance to develop a uniform dredge law.

He noted he will propose to other Western states mine inspectors the formation of a compact to develop a uniform dredge mining bill at the Council of Western States government meeting in April.

Car Wreck Kills Lewiston Youth

LEWISTON (UPI)—Two Lewiston area youths were killed Tuesday evening in a car accident in Nes Perce County.

Gregory J. Johnson, 18, Lewiston, and Dan W. Vessey, 16, Siltco, were killed when they lost control of their vehicle on a curve, skidded off the roadway and rolled over an embankment about three and one-half miles east of Smulding Junction on U.S. 12, police said.

The Best of Two Worlds' Charter Change For Lewiston Endorsed

BOISE (UPI)—The House of Representatives approved 34-22 today and sent to the Senate a bill opponents said would give the city of Lewiston the best of two worlds.

Sponsored by Reps. Joe Wagner, D-Lewiston, and William Onweller, R-Boise, the measure would allow Lewiston to amend its city charter by ordinance, except for the power of annexation.

Wagner told the House this would allow Lewiston, one of two remaining charter cities in the state, to conduct "home rule" and not keep asking each session of the legislature for amendments to its charter.

Chairman Wray Lincoln, R-Twin Falls, of the Counties and Municipalities Committee fought the proposal. He said, however, he did not oppose home rule.

"If you would give all of the cities in the state the same privileges enjoyed by Lewiston through its charter, I could vote for this bill," Lincoln said.

"This legislation concerns me because it's just not right," he said.

"It's kind of like heavy underwear in a hot room. I can understand it but I don't like it."

He said the city of Lewiston should be given a choice—either give up its charter and live under Idaho's municipal code or keep its charter and live within its present provisions.

Onweller, who also is a city councilman, said he wished the city of Boise had some of the provisions in the Lewiston charter.

He said he felt it was the obligation of the legislature to make the cities of Idaho as capable as possible of meeting what he called their greatest challenge—urbanization.

"I also subscribe to home rule for cities and I think it will come but I don't know how soon," Onweller said.

Rep. Wm. J. Brannon, D-Caldwell, also supported the bill and pointed out the legislature spends hours and hours every session passing laws for mint growers, bean and beet growers and other interests. He said he thought it just as fair to do the same for cities such as Lewiston.

Famed HUAC Alters Name In House Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Tuesday abolished its Committee on Un-American Activities, replacing it with a new Committee on Internal Security. Critics said nothing was changed but the name.

Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Calif., said this was like renaming the Department of State, the Dept. of Defense or the Dept. of Justice.

But a proponent of the change, Rep. Albert W. Watson, R-S.C., replied, "A rose by any other name will smell just as sweet."

Chairman Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., named just last month to head the committee, sponsored the change, resulting in legislation which included a rewording of the committee's jurisdiction.

It was the first major overhaul of the panel since its given standing committee status in 1945.

On the day's only real test, it rejected 123 to 102 a liberal motion that would have changed the way of transferring the internal security functions to the Judiciary Committee—as is the practice in the Senate.

Ichord announced on the floor that the new panel's first order of business, at a meeting Wednesday, would be to investigate the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), the activist youth group.

House Panels Set Public Hearings

BOISE (UPI)—Public hearings on proposals for a chain store license tax and state regulation of television companies are scheduled by House committees this week.

Chairman Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, said his Revenue and Taxation committee will conduct a hearing at 3 p.m. Wednesday on the proposal to impose a special tax on chain store operations.

Chairman Wm. R. Boise, chairman of the Insurance, Public Utilities and Banking Committee, said a public hearing Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27 on cable television bills. These measures provide for investigation of Community Antenna Television systems by the Public Utilities Commission.

Welfare Panel Endorses Bill On Alcoholism

BOISE (UPI)—The House Health and Welfare Committee Tuesday asked the Legislative Council to draft a bill proposed by ex-Senator William Roden of Boise.

The measure would allow local authorities to operate residential facilities for alcoholics. The facilities would be operated with state grants either by a designated agency or a non-profit association.

ALAN DAVIDSON ... a green beret will speak Thursday at 8 p.m. at Robert Stuart Junior High School on his career and his service time in South Vietnam.

Green Beret Veteran To Speak Here

At the age of 28 Alan Davidson became a Green Beret and went to war. Today he is back in the United States and is scheduled to speak on his experiences at Robert Stuart Junior High School at 8 p.m. Thursday.
His subject will be "Victory Depends on You."
He arrived in War Zone D in Vietnam in 1963 and with a small group of Green Beret specialists worked to establish and hold a strategic hamlet. Before he went to Vietnam he was trained as a medical specialist, in addition to guerrilla tactics, sky diving, counter-insurgency and in weapons.
He said one of the hard lessons he learned there was that the communists believe in total war, consisting of shooting at times.
He sees communism used in the United States, but in a different way than in Vietnam.
Admission at Robert Stuart is 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. The talk is sponsored by the Twin Falls - TAFU committee.

Judge Denies Revocation Of Probation

A motion to revoke a probation being served by Ronald J. Laws has been denied after a hearing in Fifth District Court.
Mr. Laws, sentenced to 14 years for a conviction on desertion and non-support of his wife and child, is serving a 12-month probation.
The probation was ordered last June. Last January, a motion to revoke Mr. Laws' probation was filed. It was alleged he was not living up to the terms of the probation.
Judge Theron Ward ordered Mr. Laws to serve his probation weekends in jail. He was to be free only to attend walking classes at the College of Southern Idaho.
Then another motion to revoke his probation was filed. It was alleged Mr. Laws was abusing the terms of the extended probation.
After a hearing Monday, Judge Ward denied the motion to revoke the probation and ordered Mr. Laws to continue to jail only on weekends, or from 4:30 p.m. Fridays to 7 a.m. Mondays.

Space Work Is Motivated By 'Snoopy' — DOWNEY, Calif. (UPI)—Snoopy may never defeat the Red Baron in aerial combat but why the first American satellite in the moon the little Beagle-of-comic strip fame can take a few bows.

Since June, 1967 he has been part of the "innovation program" carried out by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) among its workers.

The flight of Snoopy and his spacecraft, his car's flopping inside a bubble-shaped space helmet and a happy grin on his face, is a familiar one on posters around plants that built Apollo program gear. More than 1,000 workers have been awarded special silver pins shaped like Snoopy the Astronaut for their quality work.

In his comic strip Schultz plans to start Snoopy toward the moon in a flying doghouse next month so he's apt to be the first earthing to get there.

Handicapped Bill Endorsed In Utah House — SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Local school districts would take on added responsibilities for training handicapped children under terms of a bill passed Tuesday by the Utah House.

The measure provides for the transfer of day care centers for the handicapped to replace the day care centers. In some cases the school district would merely take over the operation of Welfare Division day care centers.

The measure, which would take effect July 1 of this year, was approved by House members on a 61-6 vote after a number of proposed amendments were defeated.

Legislative analyst Karl N. Snow estimates the program would cost the state an additional $300,000 to $350,000 a year. It would require the transfer of $274,000 from the general fund to the uniform school fund.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would give the Third Judicial District two additional judges and take one judge from the Seventh District.

Grid Star Learns Secret Of Overcoming Obstacles

By BART STARR
Quarterback
Green Bay Packers

In case you are not a sports fan, the Green Bay Packers are a professional football team. They are one of the fabled teams of the game with a history of excellence going back to 1919.

When my wife, Cherry, and I came up from the University of Alabama in 1956, all eager and dazzled by the prospects of my young quarterback on the Green Bay Packers had fallen upon some dismal days, but the season of 1958 was absolutely the bottom. Out of 12 games, we tied one game and won — just one. Ten losses: sheer disaster.

In December our coach resigned. The danger signals were up for me and I knew it. I hadn't exactly sparkled out there on the field.

And then the lightning struck! We were a squeamish group who gathered to meet our new general manager that day in 1958.

"Gentlemen," Coach Vince Lombardi said that day, "we're going to have a football team going to win some games. Do you know why?"

"Because you are going to have confidence in me and my system. By being alert you're going to make fewer mistakes than your opponents. By working harder you are going to out-execute, out-block, out-tackle every team that comes your way."

As the coach talked, you could see the guys straining up to take a closer look at this intense man.

"But first of all," he went on, "you are going to present yourself up here." He put his finger to his temple.

"You can't win if you're not ready to win mentally. Therefore, expect you to think about only three things while you are part of this organization: your family, your religion and the Green Bay Packers."

I for one walked out of that meeting feeling 10 feet tall—and hadn't played a lick for him! All I had to do was to believe in him. Just as he said we would, we started working harder on the field.

We started our pre-season games. The tempo rose. Suddenly we won a game and our spirits soared. They kept on soaring. By the end of the 1959 season, we had won seven out of 12 games with virtually the same players who had lost 10 games the year before.

In 1960 we won a Division title, then in 1961 a World title, and after that the sky always seemed to get limitlessly higher.

How had Coach Lombardi accomplished these things?

You can say, of course, that he did it with his particular genius. But that's not an explanation.

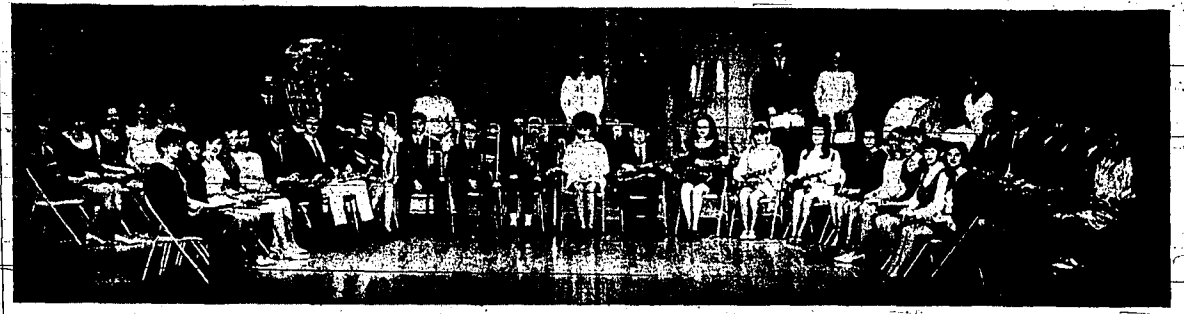

Having played for him for 10 seasons, I think I have reason to believe we had the mental toughness to weld them together in a way of living.

Coach Lombardi doesn't make a secret of his principles. Whenever he is in a position of the way he lives his own life and in the way he thinks, he can never forget that I will ever still be grateful for what Coach Lombardi did for me. As I look back to that first question mark of a year under him, I am convinced that I have never seen a three-year veteran who knew less than I did. But he brought out something in me that changed my career and my life. Confidence.

Mind you, I was always sure of my talent. I never doubted that I could play good football, but I lacked the kind of confidence that Coach Lombardi himself had, the kind that oozes out to others.

A quarterback is in a position of command; it is he who calls the plays. He must be alert and ready to adjust to the sudden and the unexpected.

Coach Lombardi started building my confidence by first giving me the enthusiasm and the words of encouragement. He spent a lot of time just talking to me, examining the "hows" and "whys" of the game. Then he began to bear down on me with a vengeance. "Treat mistakes with a vengeance!" he'd pound at me. "Don't brood over them, profit from them. If you think about mistakes, you'll make more mistakes. Just come back wiser and harder."

THE TWIN FALLS JUNIOR Music Club festival will be held in Twin Falls March 28 and 29 and the Filer band, seen here, will be one group taking part. The club is an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs and Twin Falls is the site of the district 5 festival. Judges for the musical competition will be from the College of Southern Idaho. Applications are due now and should be mailed to Mrs. Louis Thorson. The Filer band is one group of six Magic Valley high schools that have affiliated to enter the competition this year. There are more than 1,180 music club members in the valley, which is district 5. The club has more than doubled its number in the past year.

Burley-Rupert Area To Have Coronary Care Unit By April

RUPERT — By April, the Mini-Cassia area will have an operational Coronary Care Unit (CCU) to be located at the Cassia Memorial Hospital. The unit will be one of four in the state at the present time.

The four bed unit, consisting of two beds for coronary care and two for intensive care patients, is being developed in the surgical or southern wing of the Burley Hospital under the existing roof.

Remodeling within the area will cost about $5,200, which will be taken from the hospital's operational funds, according to Robert Barton, administrator.

Douglas Carpenter of the Intermountain Regional Medical Program, Salt Lake City, said the special monitoring equipment will be provided through the Intermountain Regional Medical Program (IRMP) project entitled "Coronary Care Units Strategically Located Hospitals." The equipment will cost the program about $9,500.

The project's goal is to bring over 90 per cent of the population in the region within two hours travel time from the onset of symptoms of heart attack. Besides aiding and encouraging the construction of CCUs, the IRMP helps local hospitals to train their personnel in the operation of this specialty equipped unit.

The extra possible with CCU.

YOUNGSTER DIES PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Anthony Trama, 8, hospitalized since being struck by a automobile Oct. 25, 1967, died Monday in Children's Hospital. The check was in the amount of $8.73.

Judge Richard Reed fined him $45 and sentenced him to 10 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended.

Catman was headed South on 11 Street when he was unable to stop at a stop sign and his car slid into the path of a car headed North on 11 Street by Carl E. Krelly, 34, also Rupert. Damage was estimated at $250 to Krelly's 1960 Ford, and $100 to Catman's 1967 Chevrolet.

Army To Change Site Of Trial In Mutiny Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Army has granted a change of venue to a fourth young soldier facing a mutiny court-martial for participating in a 4-day strike at the Presidio stockade.

Lt. Col. Richard W. Snyder, the Army law officer (judge) ordered the trial of Pfc. John Colip, 20, Sacramento, Calif., moved elsewhere on grounds of a "possible backlash" among officers at the base. He did not specify a new site.

The first three GIs were tried at the Presidio, convicted of mutiny and sentenced to an average of 15 years at hard labor. The Army charged 27 soldiers with mutiny for their part in the walk-out.

Colip's attorney, Ron Rynne, argued the board scheduled to try Colip would be biased because of publicity concerning the earlier trials. He spent the opening session questioning the 10 officers on the board.

The first three mutiny court-martials were completed last week with guilty verdicts and sentences of 14, 15 and 10 years. The trials at the Presidio were marred by bomb threats, a suicide attempt by one of the defendants, and shouts of "hell" and "pig" from court-room spectators.

Shaw Jury Sees Fete Of 'Gras'

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Jurors in the Clay L. Shaw conspiracy trial watched Mardi Gras parades from the home of a friend of Judge Edward A. Haggerty and ate box lunches during the one-day recess in the trial called because of the carnival.

The trial, which began five weeks ago, will resume at 10 a.m. EST Wednesday. Dr. John Nichols, associate professor of pathology at the University of Kansas-Medical School, Kansas City, Kan., was to be in the witness chair.

Nichols, using the Abraham Zapruder film of President John F. Kennedy's assassination as basis for his opinion, said the assassin fired three shots wounded Kennedy and former Texas Gov. John Connally and the shot that killed Kennedy was fired from the front.

His testimony contradicted the report of the Warren commission on two points. The commission said one shot passed through the lower part of Kennedy's neck from behind, then pierced the body of Connally who was sitting in front of the President.

The commission also found the fatal second shot that hit Kennedy in the head was fired by Lee Harvey Oswald from a sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository, behind and to the right of the President.

The trial has become a trial of the Warren report, with chief defense lawyer Ramsey D. Sneed thrust into the role of defending the report.

Judge Charles W. Halleck of the District of Columbia Court of General Sessions Monday ordered the National Archives to release to Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison for evidence X-rays and photographs of the Kennedy autopsy and of Connally's wounds, the rifle Oswald used, a spent bullet and fragments of a bullet.

The government immediately appealed the ruling, which indefinitely delayed delivery of the items, and the state's conclusion of the prosecution.

Narick Demands To Check Vote Of Steelworkers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Emil Narick, who claims he has not yet lost his battle to unseat United Steelworkers Union (USW) President I.W. Abel, demands to inspect vote tally sheets compiled in all of the union's 24 districts during the Feb. 11 balloting.

Abel was declared the winner of the election on the basis of unofficial returns, but the official count by the United Brotherhood Association and three international tellers does not begin until Friday.

The Emil Narick for President Committee, said the "actual figures on 50 per cent of the vote cast shows that total final results should favor Mr. Narick." It claims Narick won

TIMES DO CHANGE — and so do people, apparently. Four years ago last September, Jeff Blum of Baltimore, then a freshman at the University of Chicago (above), said in a survey of youth opinion that "I don't care if I'm 'out'; I like my girls looking neat." However, in a recent University of Chicago study (below), Blum apparently has changed his mind just a bit. (UPI-telephone)

Aquanauts Utilize Vacuum Cleaner

ST. JOHN, Virgin Islands (UPI) — Four aquanauts living at the bottom of the Caribbean sea resumed experimental research Tuesday after averting an air supply crisis through ingenious use of a vacuum cleaner.

The men, who have lived at a depth of 50 feet in great Laysan Bay here since Saturday, used the cleaner to eliminate an excess of carbon dioxide in their underwater home.

The men rigged the cleaner as an auxiliary scrubber to suck up the gas after four fire extinguishers were found to be leaking the deadly gas inside the habitat.

The team, led by Richard A. Waller, 34, of Oxon Hill, Md., is attempting to live 60 days underwater without surfacing. Other team members are Conrad W. Mahoney, 31, of Bethesda, Md., Edward Clifford, 31, of Los Altos, Calif., and John Van Dersalke, 32, of Lywood, Wash. All are scientists for the Department of the Interior.

The project is jointly sponsored by the U.S. Navy, the Interior Department, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and General Electric Co., which built the habitat.

Lord Snowdon, Kin Of British Queen Documents Relations Of Birds, People

By MARGARET SAVILLE. LONDON (UPI) — The Earl of Snowdon, Queen Elizabeth II's brother-in-law, is busy capturing on film his own birds and how they react to the ways and whims of humans.

The subject holds promise of an intriguing television program by the photographer husband of Princess Margaret, Lord Snowdon's first documentary, about old age, produced the varied reaction of an unofficial prize at the Venice Film Festival and an accusation of making propaganda for euthanasia.

A spokesman for the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) said, "Lord Snowdon and Derek Holt are filming a documentary for us about animal behavior in relation to human beings. They have only just started."

"It might be rather about the life of his earlier (film but) you never know, when filming his best animals, what will come out."

U.S. viewers have a good chance of seeing the finished product. "It's a fair guess but one has to wait and see," said the spokesman. "All our programs are eventually offered for sale abroad."

Lord Snowdon, 38, has gone about the project very quietly. The first clue was a recent road collision near the south coast of Brighton involving his car. He was in the driver's seat, Alan Martin and Hart, writer of the old age documentary was a passenger. They hurried on explaining they were due to a location to do some filming.

The BBC spokesman did not know what Lord Snowdon was filming, although he admitted he began at a London exhibition of corgi birds.

Count The Gardies, "provided a lively debut for the royal filmmaker when screened in the United States and Britain last spring.

The slight of 11 injections of serum made from unborn lambs being pumped into the innards of the "euthanasia" clinic was something of a first for U.S. television.

Lord Snowdon won the unofficial San Giorgio Prize at the Venice Film Festival for his portrayal of the address and loneliness of old age.

But Mrs. Mary Whitehouse, general secretary of the National Association of Viewers and Listeners' Association in Britain, wrote, "We have received reports of people who were so upset and disturbed by the program that they could not stay alone in their homes afterwards. We regret to tell you that it has been interpreted as propaganda for euthanasia."

Mrs. Vera Miles, who ran a seminar hotel where Lord Snowdon filmed a dining room sequence, claimed he asked normally cheerful old people not to smile or talk. "He said he only wanted to be able to hear the knives and forks rattling."

Lord Snowdon's new role as a filmmaker has not been a quiet one. In the early stages of his friendship with Princess Margaret, he applied to the BBC for a job as television cameraman. The line's engagement ended that time of approach, but not his desire to direct and make films.

For some time after his marriage in 1960, he made home movies and showed them to his friends. He then began to make films at Kensington Palace.

The clique around the royal couple took on a strong movie and television flavor, and notably Peter Sellers, whom Princess Margaret met just after he married Swedish actress Britt Ekland. (Sellers and Miss Ekland were divorced last December.)

Sellers helped Lord Snowdon with his amateur film. They made one in which Sellers stood before a screen announcing he would give his celebrated impression of Princess Margaret. He went behind the screen. She came out the other side, did a dance, a mock curtsy, disappeared and he emerged to ask, "How was I?"

Princess Margaret liked Brit and the two couples often went out in a quartet to London shows. They met again in Sardinia on a yacht and last summer the royal couple played Sellers at the movie studios in Rome.

Snowdon's movie friends also include Richard Burton. They have both been seen out in New York wearing white shirt, necked sweaters and neckties for evening wear.

Princess Margaret has shared her husband's film interest and appears only occasionally in small specialty movie houses as well as to their regular tourists at gala premiers.

With his entry into the professional film world, Lord Snowdon's still photographic work has declined in quantity and appears only occasionally in the color supplement of the London Sunday Times, for which he works.

McClure Asks Study Of Silver Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, asked the Nixon administration Tuesday to define its silver policy as far as the weekly sales of two million ounces of government silver are concerned.

In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, McClure asked that the weekly sales be "temporarily halted" until a reevaluation of the need for additional quantities of the metal.

He also said that as the Treasury reevaluates past estimates at higher prices than what the government is selling it

McClure predicted that if the weekly sales continue indefinitely, "an embarrassed Treasury will have to buy silver later on Emergency Planning is pre-always downward, indicating now." The Idaho congressman also indicated that despite a prohibition against government silver going to foreign interests, American exports of the metal exceed domestic production. McClure termed this a violation of the "spirit" of the regulation.

Derailment Spews Fumes Killing Eight

CRETE, N.S. (UPI) - A freight train derailed into two tank cars in this farming community Tuesday, losing a deadly fuming cloud of anhydrous ammonia. Eight people died; 500 others were evacuated from their homes. Twenty cars of a 120-car freight train derailed and crashed into the tank cars carrying the ammonia, harmless when leaked and used as fertilizer but deadly if inhaled. The problem was compounded by fog that prevented the fumes from dissipating. Eight persons were killed, three of them unidentified in a state riding the freight. Lung-damaging fumes killed the others in this community of 3,500. In the southeast, scores were injured.

Jerome Scout Gives Report On Council To Governor

Bob Ploss, son of Mr. and standing summer activities pro-Mrs. Laurel Ploss, Jerome, was gram, and 1968 was another reported to Gov. Don Samuelson. "In 1968 we moved into two last week in Boise, new areas that have never been."

Dart Gillet, Snake River Area Council — the "Cape Horn" Scout Council — Scout executive, ex-Salvation Army of Southern Idaho, a national program in observance of a week and invitations given for Boy Scout Week. Twelve were extended to the children boys from the 12 Scouting regions in the United States are chosen to report to the President. One boy is chosen from each council in his state to report to the governor. The Scouts describe the year's activities to the governor in a brief report.

The seven Idaho Scouts were first introduced to the governor, then were presented to the Senate and House chambers. Special tributes and speeches were given in both the legislative groups. The Scouts then had lunch with Gov. Samuelson and a delegation of legislators at the Downtown where they gave their oral reports.

Young Ploss reported that 1968 was a banner year for Scouting in the Snake River Area Council. He noted the council covers eight counties in South Central Idaho and northern portions of Nevada and Utah.

"Fifty-eight per cent of all the council camp staff during before he was assassinated. William Barry, a strapping former FBI agent and friend of the Kennedy family, spoke in a low voice which faltered once after he told how he put his hand under the mortality wound, the information that Kennedy had planned to leave the stage by a stairs on the east side where Barry was stationed. Instead he left by the back. This was part of the defense, planned to lie in wait for Kennedy because even his own aides did not know until the last minute where he was going.

Senate Restores $100,000 To Study Of Hunger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate restored $100,000 to the budget for its study of hunger and malnutrition Tuesday after being told the proposed cut would "starve the hungry to wait a little longer."

On a voice vote, the Senate voted the full $250,000 requested for its Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, rejecting a $150,000 budget proposed by the Senate Rules Committee and a $165,000 compromise offered by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., committee chairman, said the cut was "penny wise and pound foolish."

"If this cut is approved, we are going to ask the hungry to wait a little longer before the Senate faces up to the problem," McGovern said.

Anti-American Protests In Turkey Continue Unabated

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Ankara, Turkey, early this year, U.S. Ambassador Robert W. Komer watched from a window of a campus building of the Middle East Technical University as leftwing students overturned his automobile and set it afire.

Then, according to the story, he sat down and ate his lunch with the university rector.

There is no record of disciplinary action against the students.

In the latest outburst, pro and anti-American demonstrators battled in one of Istanbul's main squares. About 20,000 persons were involved, the two forces about equally divided. At least two were killed.

This leftists were protesting a "careerist, egoistical and five destroyers from the U.S. Fleet."

Turkish officials deny that students in Ankara and far left demands that Turkey get out of the Western North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) are representative of Turkish opinion in general.

"Kemal Ataturk," they say, "turned us toward the West and we intend to stay that way."

For Komer, former head of U.S. pacification efforts in South Vietnam, it was getting to be an angry story.

To their shouts of "Down with the United States!" the students have added "Killer Komer!" to their list of epithets.

Those who attempt to explain anti-Americanism on a local basis find three possible causes.

One is a general belief that the United States sided with Green against Turkey in the dispute over Cyprus.

Another is the presence of American troops in Turkey under NATO and a feeling, exploited for propaganda purposes, that NATO infringes upon national sovereignty.

A third is the reduction in American aid to Turkey, expected to be phased out entirely in 1972.

Airliner Is Missing With 35 Aboard

HAWTHORNE, Nev., (UPI)—Ground parties, some on skis or snowshoes, battled rain and heavy snow today searching for a DC-8 airliner which vanished with 35 persons on a "gamblers flight."

The twin-engine plane, similar to the 471 which served as one of the workhorses of World War II, disappeared in a snow storm shortly after take-off from Hawthorne Airport at 4:00 a.m. Tuesday.

Its route varied from southwest to northwest, then to the country to the 13,000-foot peaks of the high Sierra, where heavy snow conditions had fallen on a record pack that has forced some ski areas to close.

The plane, carrying 32 passengers and a crew of three, was operated by Minuteman County Airlines, which also conducts business as Hawthorne Nevada Airlines.

Most of the passengers were on the return leg of a flight that carries Southern California customers to a Hawthorne casino on an overnight air excursion plan which includes air fare, dinner and cocktails.

The crew was identified as pilot Fred H. Hest, co-pilot Raymond Valley, Calif.; captain Ray Hamer of Long Beach; and stewardess Don Nunn.

The last report from the plane 30 minutes after liftoff from Hawthorne, when he radioed his flight plan to Yampah 100 miles away.

"They might have found a nice flat area to come down in or, they might have landed in our airport," said airport Manager Art Barlow.

"These pilots are real good. They are the best in the business."

An unsuccessful air search Tuesday was coordinated by the Air-Sea Rescue Service at Hamilton Air Force Base north of San Francisco.

The air search was called off at sundown Tuesday but crews with Jeeps, four-wheel drive vehicles, snowshoes, and skis continued the ground search throughout the night.

Refinery Union Reports Accord On Strike Issue

DENVER (UPI)—The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union (OCAWI) announced Tuesday tentative agreement had been reached on a new contract with the Tesoro Co., one of the last nationwide oil workers strikes.

Union spokesmen said nearly 7,000 workers were expected to return to work by Thursday after ratifying the new two-year pact. They said the offer met the required 63.3 cent minimum wage benefit increase.

The return will leave only about 7,500 workers still out on strike. Nearly 60,000 OCAWI members walked off the job in 22 states across the country last Jan. 4 after failing to reach agreement on new contracts.

Officials said the only major flare still out were Shelly and Standard Oil of Ohio. U.I.O. officials declined comment on a report that Shelly had told its workers to go back to work to return to work by Monday or be fired.

CHILDREN LACKS AID—WASHINGTON (UPI)—The General Accounting Office told Congress Tuesday nearly 70 needy children were kept out of a Head Start program in Los Angeles during the 1968-69 school year because ineligible children were enrolled.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Youthful Mando Ramos captured the 134 1/2-pound championship Tuesday night when his fight with Tito Cruz was stopped.

NHL Refuses To Lift Club From Oakland

NEW YORK (UPI) — Can the sports fans in San Francisco be so sure that the Oakland Seals will be in the National Hockey League? The NHL Board of Governors, which has refused to lift the club from Oakland, has a 9-3 vote Tuesday an application by a Vancouver group to move the club there.

The NHL is betting that a new rapid transit system being constructed that will whisk people from San Francisco to Oakland will solve the problem.

Clarence Campbell, president of the NHL, said that San Francisco would travel to Oakland to see anything is a valid one. But he said the club's system might change things.

"The Oakland arena currently isn't convenient to people who live on the peninsula. But once you get rapid transit which will take you right to the door, the problem is solved. A program of this kind has been in Oakland for two years and now St. Louis got a team even though no group from St. Louis applied for one."

Wilt-Led Lakers Drop New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bill Chamberlain scored 21 of his 25 points as the Los Angeles Lakers dropped the New York Knicks Tuesday night and cracked the Knicks' 11-game winning streak.

The Knicks' string of 20 consecutive victories at home also came to an end as Chamberlain's final two points with 3:30 left in the game gave the Lakers a 105-103 lead and they retained the margin to the end.

Walt Frazier, who scored a New York high of 30 points, muffed a last chance to tie the game with two seconds to go as his 25-foot angle shot hit the rim and bounced away. Elgin Baylor then laced the game with a basket two seconds from the end.

Oakley Wins Scoring Crown For Big Six

Gooding Chris Oakley, who exploded for 99 of his conference points in four games during the season, won the Big Six Conference scoring championship, according to statistics compiled by the Times-News Sports department for the 1958-59 season.

The 6-4 Oakley won the conference crown with 155 league points while Filmer and Roger King finished second and third in this league, total for the season with 213 points.

The Kings' family of basketball upped the fouling honors with Roger King's 57 fouls, the season title with 67 violations and winner brother Ralph nipping him by one foul 65-64 for the conference crown.

Roger was a double winner, hitting 94 free throws to lead for the season while Bob Carter, Glenn Perry's junior brother, had 48 for the season — one more than King.

Wood River dominated the team statistics. Although Wood River trailed Filmer 110 to 1003 in total points, Wood River played two less games and its average was 60.7 to 58.6 for Filmer.

With Two State Spots Open, A-1 Meet Will Have Only One Loser

With two state tournament spots available, there will only be one loser this year in the Class A-1 regional playoffs and a battle should develop over just which one of the two teams will be in the Twin Falls Bruins traveling to Minico Friday night and the winner of that one going to Burley Saturday night.

Although there is a lot of difference from the one to the other, there is little reason to expect the tournament to be any less tight. Twin Falls is the defending champion and due to the late season winning streak, has become a contender again.

Minico is solid and Burley, although the shortest in average, has shown at times it can beat about anyone.

The Bruins' 10-game winning streak after a six-game losing streak, certainly will be some to think the Bruins will win the tournament without much question.

Solons, Williams Still Negotiating

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington Senators said Tuesday it may take three or four more days to complete contract arrangements before Ted Williams becomes part owner and manager of the club.

Information for owner Robert Short and Williams have been negotiating in Washington for two days.

Short issued this statement on progress of the talks:

"Mr. Short and his attorneys are meeting here with Ted Williams' attorneys. They still are writing and negotiating the contract. Information will be revealed to the public when the contract is approved and signed. That possibly could take three or four days."

Dietrich, Hagerman Appear A-4 Favorites; Carey Is Darkhorse

GOODING — Dietrich and Ingrid reduced Hagerman, with Carey as the darkhorse, to the top of the A-4 basketball tournament opening Thursday night at the Gooding State gymnasium.

The tonight will open with a triple header. Richfield will meet Blais at 8 p.m., Camas County takes on Carey at 7:30 p.m. and Hagerman at 9 p.m. Against Gooding State at 9 p.m. Dietrich has the bye.

Friday's game will send the winner of the Carey-Camas County game against the Hagerman-Gooding State winner at 7 p.m. with Dietrich meeting the winner of the Richfield-Blais game at 8:30 p.m. Action will continue Saturday night and resume for the second weekend on Tuesday with a pair of games.

Hagerman's hopes for a title have been dimmed by illness and injury with lanky Russ Lee, 6'6" junior, out at least two weeks from the team due to illness and guard Joe Bright is out of the tournament with a broken ankle. "It hurts us some, but we still have some good players," says Coach Carl Nelson. "They are a little upset now (Tuesday night) but they realize they can do it by working hard."

Dietrich, as the Northside Conference champion, rates as a favorite for other reasons. It can secure well and at the smallest team in the event but have a fine player in Randy Lee and, more importantly, Carey has secured a coach who can think another basketball team to death. It has proved this repeatedly this year as the little Devils help you make...

Plans Made For Legion Ball Season

PRELIMINARY ground work for the 1959 American Legion Junior baseball season was laid Tuesday night at a meeting of interested boosters and Legion officials.

The group discussed problems that will arise in the next few months prior to the season and also a need for an additional practice field if it hopes to include a "B" team in the program.

Dr. Addison T. Irwin, manager of the program last year, outlined the program that could be completed prior to the first game. He noted a strong ticket campaign will be the major item for the campaign. "It has become necessary for the program to start paying its own way... to get it out of the problem of just making ends meet through donations and charity from year to year," he said.

The group felt it should remain with the family ticket idea and for the campaign should be waged vigorously just before the start of the season.

The program fell heavily in debt two years ago. Nearly half that obligation is an additional debt and the boosters hope another good season will make the program solvent.

Game Tonight

A chance for sole possession of the 1958-59 inter-mountain Collegiate Athletic Conference rides on the line tonight when the Southern Idaho Ricks College Vikings at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

It is a game for the ages. Carey holds a one game edge over Mesa College in the ICAC standings.

Utah Shells Oklahoma City 99-87

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Utah offset the potent shooting of Oklahoma City's Rick Travis with a well-balanced attack that topped the Chieftains' 89-87 Tuesday night.

Travis, a 6-1 senior, poured in 30 points, but it was not enough to carry his club past the sharp-shooting Reddicks.

Utah, running its season to date, has four men capable of high scoring nights with 65 John Bradley and 60 Howie Bunn being the leading percentage scorers.

Burley has Bunn every night and the nights it wins someone else comes up. That someone generally is Kim Rawlinson, 10 transfer, who has had some big night nights, and Junior Mike Koofer has come on late in the season to produce points quite consistently.

The key to Burley's holding which every man comes to the fore that night. Bunn is a tall, energetic shot enough to get his points. Burley's other problem is getting rebounding the rebounding trio, Hillard, Bunn and Howie Bunn, who are other side generally is free to the opponent.

Minico is largely in the same position as Burley. Howie Bunn or Burley can stop Howie Bunn. The key to Minico is holding the rebounding trio, Hillard, Bunn and Howie Bunn, who are other side generally is free to the opponent.

Super-Fast Bombers Seek Sister Ship Missing In Desert

NELLIS AIR FORCE BASE, Nev. (UPI)—Ten F111A fighter-bombers searched for a downed sister ship Tuesday which disappeared a week ago in a desolate area of the Western Desert.

A total of 40 planes took off at dawn to resume a meticulous search of desolate desert and mountain regions in Nevada and Utah. The F111A with two pilots aboard disappeared Feb. 12 on a low-level night training mission.

The three-hour flight called for the $6 million sophisticated aircraft to go from here toward Ely, Nev., across a tip of the Great Salt Lake, then to Wendover, Utah, and back to Nellis via California, Nev. The mission called for the pilots to avoid detection.

A massive air search was launched the night of Feb. 12 when the plane failed to return and failed to report at a check-in point over Ely, Nev., a community in the northeastern part of the state.

Officials said the missing plane was camouflaged and would be difficult to sight from the air. Authorities also speculated that the sweep-wing aircraft might be covered by snow due to several storms in the Nevada-Utah mountains during the past week.

Or the plane might have become disabled over the sprawling Nellis air force base bombing and gunnery range which covers 350,000 square acres or five per cent of the land surface of Nevada.

Air Force officials gave no indication that the search would be called off until the F111A, filled with classified equipment, was located. Eleven of the F111A's have crashed since the plane became operational, including several crashes when the plane was assigned to Southeast Asia.

One of the classified features of the F111A is the TFR, or terrain-following radar. The pilot, though undoubtedly very using the TFR for the low-level night training mission.

When TFR is employed, it automatically guides the plane along valleys and over mountain tops at exactly the same distance from the ground with only small pilot adjustments required.

Malta Cubs Hold Banquet

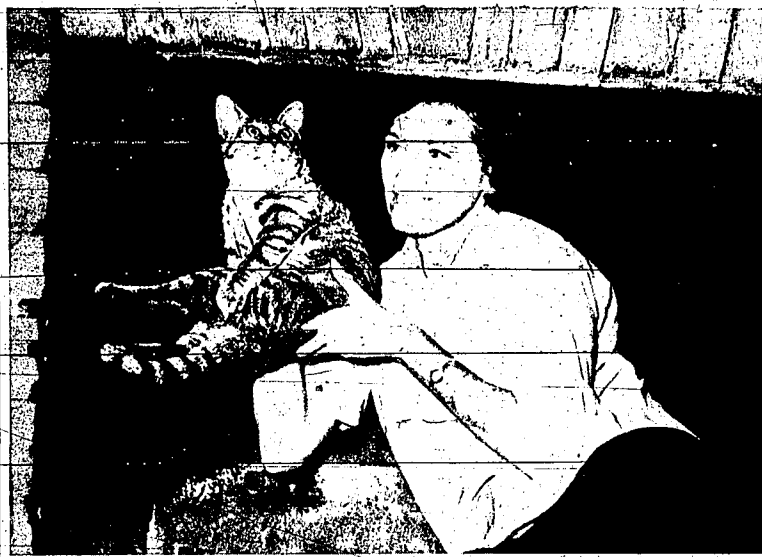

MALTA — "American Man Power Begins With Boy Power" was the theme of the annual Cub Scout blue and gold banquet at the Raft River High School luncheon.

Skills included a puppet presentation entitled "A Cub Scout Keeps His Promise" by Den 3, led by Mrs. Golden Gardiner, mother, Den 5, led by Mrs. Dee Rasmussen, presented a puppet show entitled "Safety First," while Den 4, led by Mrs. Jay Harper, presented "Operation A."

Invocation was given by Ivan Darrington. The flag ceremony was conducted by the Webelos den, directed by Jay Colthe, with Kenneth Rasmussen leading the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Dee Rasmussen received a four-year award and Mrs. Clarence Barrett, a seven-year award. Bear and wolf badges were awarded.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Darrington, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. LaVere Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy D. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Golden Gardiner and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Neddo.

A BELATED VISIT OF "Santa Claws," perhaps, was the goal of this wide-eyed cat, after a trip down — or almost down — the chimney of the Hugo Lambert home in Chicago. Mrs. Ruth Wood, holding the intrepid traveler, is the office manager of the Animal Welfare League in Chicago. When the leaguer received a call that a cat was apparently trapped above the damper in the Lambert fireplace, Mrs. Wood realized that she was the only League member small enough to accomplish the rescue. She did so, with no harm apparent to either herself or her friend. The family said the cat could only have fallen into the flue by way of the chimney. (UPI telephone)

Joe Namath Ponders 'Enjoyable' Problem: Spend $5 Million Sensibly

By DEAN C. MILLER
UPI Business Editor

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (UPI)—Quarterback Joe Namath, the New York Jets' super hero of the Super Bowl, has an enjoyable money problem: a national fast food franchise. It's figuring how to keep operation called "Broadway Joe's" which has had a test run in Miami. Both a sit-down restaurant and a fast-food drive-in, the franchise features a sandwich called "Football Hero." To make certain everyone knows it's a Namath operation, a lighted likeness of Namath, during the American Airlines Astrojet Golf Classic here. "Joe stands to make three to five million dollars over the next five years," Dowd, a short, pleasant fellow with mod manners and chiseled features, is concerned. He's especially from pro football young crowd is concerned. He's chairman sort of an anteroom. Indians Seek 'Local' Control Of Education

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A delegation of American Indians called Tuesday for Indian control of their schools, charging that education under the Bureau of Indian Affairs was the responsibility of "a bunch of handpicked Uncle Tomahawks."

The criticism before a Senate subcommittee on Indian education headed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., coincided with a White House announcement that President Nixon was considering a major overhaul of the bureau.

President's Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Nixon was studying a privately prepared report, not yet made public, which is "highly critical-of the structure and operation of the bureau" in the Interior Department.

That's why airlines have offered him long term contracts to do radio and television commercials, why clothing concerns offer stock and royalties for Joe's endorsement, why Braniff paid him almost $20,000 for a 20 second commercial and Schick gave him an estimated $15,000 for shaving his beard. It's also why the "Bachelors Three" restaurant bar Joe and two partners operate in New York is an "in" place these days.

"Our big problem," said Dowd, "is not to move too fast. It all has to be organized with maximum attention paid to tax shelters and growth."

Educator Talks To Twentieth Century Club

Dr. Gerald R. Wallace, Dean of the School of Education, Boise State College, was guest speaker when the Twentieth Century Club met for luncheon recently at the Holiday Inn.

He described the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence, stating that they were all men of means and education, but were considered traitors by England. He said that five of the men were tracked down and hanged while others suffered the destruction of personal property, and some died penniless.

He said that one of the first things people must do to uphold the Declaration of Independence is to wipe out prejudice. Dr. Wallace pointed out the contrasts in schools and educational privileges in the United States and said that each person should do his part to equalize advantages for all.

Dr. Wallace told the club members that the Declaration of Independence means something to every American, but only on a higher level. He said that demonstrators and rioters are following the wrong kind of declaration of independence and that they have no right to destroy other people's property in their quest for independence.

He stressed that people must stand up for what they believe in. He said that in education people are going to have to stand up for law and order and give young people heroes to look up to and follow.

"America, the Beautiful" was sung by Mrs. Juliet Hayden Boone, accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Harvey. Mrs. Boone also led the girls in singing "God Bless America."

Mrs. Roy Painter was program chairman and Rev. R. C. Harvey gave the invocation.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 53 and have been working for three years. I would like to get married but my hand in business has been so busy that I have not had time to get married. I dress fashionably, am well-groomed and my figure is "so-so." I'm no beauty, and I look my age. I would like to get married again, but I don't like old men and young men don't like me. Don't tell me to travel. I've traveled cooking and all I meet is other women looking for men. Don't tell me to develop my personality. I have more "personality" than most men I know. Don't suggest contact lenses. I've tried them and can't wear them. And don't tell me to tint my hair. I am already too. What can you do for me? LOOKING

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the letter from "FRIGHTENED," the 27-year-old woman whose 65-year-old father-in-law wanted a kiss on the lips, Abby, I think you were very rough on the old man. I, too, make an old man and a widow, and I don't think many young folks realize how desperately lonely and hungry for a little affection an old man can be at times. Not for SEX—just a touch of the hand. BETHESDA DEAR BETHESDA: I'm all for showing affection and plenty of it, but when a man tries to kiss his daughter-in-law's kiss him on the lips (as was plainly stated in the letter) I draw the line. If it's good clean fun, Dad, a hug or a kiss on the cheek will convey the affectionate message.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED PARENTS IN PITTSBURGH: No. We don't need a "new" code of morals. What we need is the courage and wisdom to live up to the old ones.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply to this column, write to: Mrs. Edna Hagerman, 8009 S. Hollywood, Los Angeles, Cal., 90009 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Soul Food Popular Elsewhere In World

By JEANNE LESEM UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The French don't call pigs' intestines soul food or chitlins but they eat them all the same, in sausages.

Like the English, who buy chitterlings cleaned and ready to grill.

It may surprise a lot of American soul food fanatics, white and black, to learn that chitterlings and some other foods considered part of American Negro cookery are staples in other countries.

The explanation is simple, says Louise Prothro, a Negro home economist here: "Soul food is what's cooked by people of a land using what they have."

While these were staples for the hard-working southern field hands—who far outnumber the Negro house servants—they were not the only elements of Negro cookery, she said.

"In the whole southern tradition, there was diverseness," she added. "The house servants learned about fine things. Not all of them ate only the poor food."

"There were times of feast and times of famine, depending on the crop or the time of year. Even the poorest family, if its hens were winging, had an abundance of eggs to make much more lavish meringue pies than their skimpy two egg white meringues today."

Georgia peaches to plentiful northern apples. Following is her adaptation of her mother's recipe.

Mix well together in a 2 1/2 to 3-quart baking dish, 4 cups of canned apple sauce, 3 cups of light brown sugar, 1/2 cup of vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon each of ground cloves and cinnamon and 1/4 teaspoon each of ground nutmeg and ground ginger. Bake 3 hours in preheated 325-degree oven. Stir once or twice during baking. Serve hot or cold. Makes 2 1/2 cups. To hold it for long periods, pour while hot into sterilized canning jars and seal immediately. Serve as a spread or topping for various breads or ice cream or with roast ham or pork.

They were great dietary differences regionally, too. People from inland areas of Georgia ate farm products, fish and land animals. Carolinians had seafood, crab soups and such.

"For Negroes from New Orleans and the bayou country, soul food was entirely different. They had chiles like seafood, jumbo crawfish, gumbo, red beans and rice, and so on. It found as if every Negro in America exists on soul food. Let's face it—their tastes, and their desires, for food and so on, escalate like those of anyone else."

"We used to have black-eyed peas one time a year, for New Year, because my father wanted them," said Mrs. Prothro, who was reared in Worcester, Mass., by parents who had come from rural Gray, Ga.

Spicy apple jam is Louise Prothro's example of soul food that moved north and changed its main ingredient, from plentiful Georgia peaches to plentiful northern apples.

"For Negroes from New Orleans and the bayou country, soul food was entirely different. They had chiles like seafood, jumbo crawfish, gumbo, red beans and rice, and so on. It found as if every Negro in America exists on soul food. Let's face it—their tastes, and their desires, for food and so on, escalate like those of anyone else."

"We used to have black-eyed peas one time a year, for New Year, because my father wanted them," said Mrs. Prothro, who was reared in Worcester, Mass., by parents who had come from rural Gray, Ga.

Spicy apple jam is Louise Prothro's example of soul food that moved north and changed its main ingredient, from plentiful Georgia peaches to plentiful northern apples.

his ace and count eight tricks. The ninth could come in the diamond suit if the ace of diamonds shows up in the West hand. It could come in the heart suit if hearts were divided evenly. He would know that it was even money that West would hold the diamond ace and almost two to one against finding three hearts in each hand.

Then, because mathematicians don't like to waste time, he would win the spade in his hand, lead a diamond to dummy's king and claim his contract.

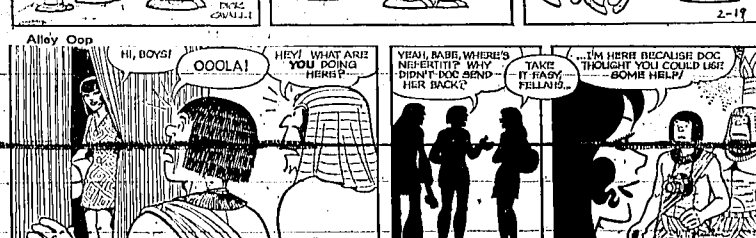

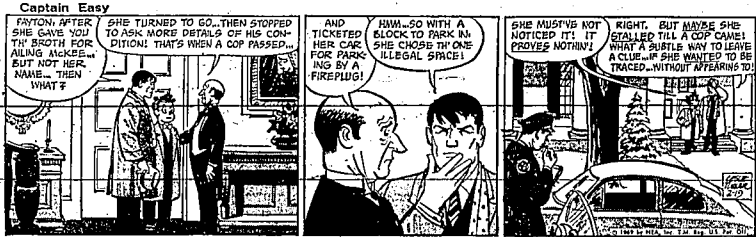

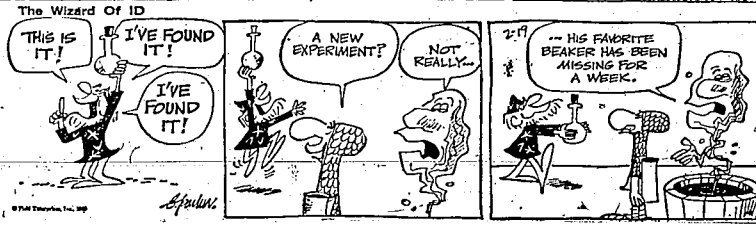

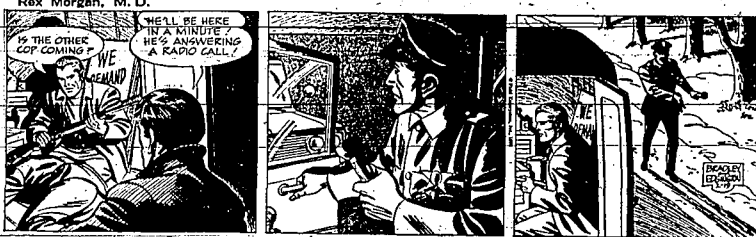

An expert bridge player would also make three no-trump but he would take a little more time doing it. Expert bridge players don't have to be great mathematicians but they do know that a suit breaks 3-3 a trifle less than 36 per cent of the time. They also are in no hurry to make important decisions, so the expert player would run off four club tricks before deciding which red suit would be better to attack.

West would have to make one discard and East two discards. One of them might throw away a heart. In that case, South might decide to play a heart to dummy's king and a second heart back to his ace to see if hearts were going to break for him. With one heart discarded, if both opponents followed twice there would only be one heart left to annoy him. Or they might throw diamonds in such manner as to give South a very good idea where the ace could be found. Falling all that, South would fall back on mathematics and try for his ninth trick in diamonds.

Teen-Age Boys Are Reported Buying 3,000 Wigs Weekly

THE CAMPAIGN to legalize contract marriage goes on. That is the marriage wherein the bride and groom agree to live together as man-and-wife for a given period of time only. Say, one year. After that, to continue their matrimonial life, they must proceed down to city hall to take out a new permit. And again the next year, and again, only so long as they so desire. Those radical theorists who promote this notion claim it not only would eliminate divorce, but contend marriage contract fees under such a plan could put local government on a paying basis. Am assigning our love and war man to look into it.

THE TOP MAN in a false hair firm says his company is now selling about 3,000 wigs a week to teen-age boys. AS FOR THE DOGS in this country, crossbreeds don't outnumber the purebreds anymore as much as you might think. Only two to one. A ST. LOUIS SUBSCRIBER claims he knows a gentleman whose true name is Wine Glass. AMAZING the hidden linkups between famous persons! For instance, who recalls that Efram Zimbalist Jr. is the stepbrother of that writer of renown, Marcia D'Amico. A TAIWAN POLICEMAN gets a demerit from the chief every month he fails to arrest at least one burglar.

FEW WOMEN can find much enjoyment in the amorous attentions of a man over 40 because of that age he is generally too bored and too tired to carry out a real romance. So states a Lewiston, Idaho, girl who asks what our love and war man thinks of that. He thinks it sounds like the statement of a mini-skirt life: Hasn't she ever heard that mind begins at 40? Well, what's life without love? Nothing. Q—HIS VOWS LANGUAGE made me up with the origin of the term "piker" to describe a cheap-skate? A. That began in St. Louis, he says. His Merriam-Webster claims piker alludes to "Pike County, Mo., thought to be the original home of many shillies off from that year on a dandy county! The reprobate who started that is unknown. . . . Q—WHAT DOES the average typist make? A. Strikeovers. Wait, that's flip. Depends on where she works. In New York City, $94.50. In Chicago, $96. In San Francisco, $98. Q—HOW MUCH DOES it cost to buy a one-minute commercial on Dean Martin's show? A. Am told that runs $50,000.

WHATSOEVER HAPPENED to Leonard Hanstein? He was that fine fellow who some years back demonstrated the size of his mouth. Enormous, it was. He could put his fist in it. Or a 100-watt lightbulb. He was a real character, breaking the shells. . . . MEN WHO WORK in the automobile plants now are about $14 a week better off than they were a year ago. But men who work in aircraft factories are about $3.50 a week worse off. Because of inflation, taxes, whatnot, which is the report of the computer boys.

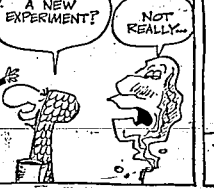

RAPID REPLY: Yes, Mrs. C., engineering who made a study of the costs of electricity say it's cheaper to leave the vacuum cleaner running as you move from room to room than to turn it off and on.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used wherever possible in Checking Up. Write man to L. M. Boyd, in care of P. O. Box 91817, Seattle, Wash. 98189.
