G. Meir May Rule In Israel

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Mourning Israeli leaders pooled their support today behind a woman who once taught school in the United States to be Israel's next premier, political sources said.

They said Mrs. Golda Meir, 71, apparently had won the backing of the majority Labor party leadership and of other major factions to succeed Levi Eshkol, who died of a heart attack Wednesday.

Israel grieved Eshkol's death and prepared for his funeral Friday.

The Israeli cabinet met in emergency session on learning of Eshkol's death and named Deputy Premier Meir as acting premier. He will serve at least a month.

Allon privately supported the granddaddy behind Mrs. Meir, the sources said. And the ruling Labor party appeared agreed to nominate her as premier following the official 30-day mourning period.

Mrs. Meir came to Palestine from the United States in 1921. Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, a military hero of the 1957 war victory over the Arabs and Israel's most persuasive diplomatic voice, Foreign Minister Ahdan and other early supporters for the premiership.

Sources said age could be a determining factor since both Eshkol and Dayan are considerably younger than Mrs. Meir.

Bomb Scare At O'Leary Proves False

A bomb scare at O'Leary Junior High School early today failed to keep classes from starting on time.

A boy called the Twin Falls police station at 8:23 a.m. and said a bomb had been planted in the school building and it was set to off immediately.

Police called school officials and the building was emptied of all students. They milled outside while police searched school officials searched the building.

At 9 a.m. however, the building was termed secure and students were allowed into the building to go to classes.

School district officials said a contingency plan in such cases was needed.

The plan calls for students to be taken to nearby churches and other safe buildings where classes can be held while a school building is searched.

Because the building was searched and secured before the contingency plan didn't need to be implemented.

Officers said the boy who called in the bomb threat spoke quickly and sounded like he had a "mouth full of beans."

O'Leary was also the scene of another bomb threat just before the Christmas holidays began last year.

New Paul Labor Camp Is Planned By Farm Group

RUBEN — The Paul Labor Security Association will build the Paul Labor camp. Cost of the project is estimated at $134,000.

Decision to rebuild the facilities was reached after the State Department of Health condemned the county's three labor camps last year. The sites, including the Wilson, Paul and Hines camps, will not be allowed to open this year, unless all buildings are either upgraded or health standards met.

New buildings, are constructed by the 1970 labor season.

A problem facing the association, however, is that the camp must have a clear title to the

IF AWARDS WERE TO BE given out for comfort and rest, the condominium apartments at Sun Valley would have to take all honors. This scene was captured Wednesday afternoon by Times-News photographer Dan Johnson. With the heavy snow and the fog in the valley and the tall pine tree-covered mountains in the background, the landscape appears fresh and secluded. The snow is expected to remain at Sun Valley for some time to come.

Snow Is A Four-Letter Word-But Employment Hits Record

A four letter word best describes the factor most affecting Idaho's labor force during the first month of the new year—snow.

Record amounts of the white stuff fell and accumulated to record levels and generally complicated the working world of much of the state.

In spite of deep snow in the mountain areas and most of Northern Idaho which tended to limit logging and halt any construction work under way, total employment during January was at a record level for that month.

Total employment this past month jumped 2.5 per cent above the record level set during January, 1968, and surged above the 1960-69 January average by almost 100,000 square feet.

Employment during January was at a record level for that month.

unbroken chain of months starting with June, 1967, which exceeded the figures of a year ago.

Three-fourths of the December to January drop in employment can be attributed to two industries — retail trade and construction. With Christmas buying and inventory out of the way most retail stores had laid off their extra help. The bad weather pretty well ended any outside construction work in progress, adding to the ranks of the unemployed.

The year-to-year gain in employment recorded increases from as small as 100 in wholesale trade up to a rather sizeable increase of 1,000 in food processing. Employment in food processing during this past year was 10,000.

Lodge Warns Reds To Halt Offensive

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge warned the Communists today their new offensive in South Vietnam raised the threat of allied reprisals. The Viet Cong countered with an unprecedented attack on President Nixon and his "vile designs."

The charges and countercharges at the Paris peace talks came just one day before Nixon was to arrive in Paris.

Lodge accused the Communists of killing and maiming helpless civilians in their attacks on South Vietnamese population centers this week.

"These people have done no wrong, yet they are the victims of your neutron violence," the American negotiator told the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese delegations.

"The consequences of these attacks are your responsibility."

The Viet Cong's foreign minister, Tran Van Kiem, lashed back at the United States with an attack on Nixon.

"Since it took power in the United States, the Nixon government has not only followed the lead charted by the Johnson administration, but it has intensified the war of aggression against the South Vietnamese people."

Kiem charged the U.S. has hidden his policy behind kind words of peace, the inauguration statement and the press conferences of Mr. Nixon have clearly shown the dark and vile designs of his government," the Viet Cong delegate said.

Kiem claimed that American B52s and allied troops had leveled to the ground 310 villages, set afire more than 30,000 homes, killed and wounded more than 5,000 persons—mainly women, children and old people.

His statement was one of the toughest yet by the Communists at the talks, and was interpreted by diplomatic observers as a warning to Nixon not to expect any concessions by the Communists at the bargaining table.

Pueblo Crewman Tells Of Suicide Plan

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI)—Driven to despair by fierce beatings of North Korean guards, a Marine sergeant from the USS Pueblo stated his wife in a fake suicide. The shocked Communists called off his tongue.

The story given in secret by Sgt. Robert J. Hammond, 23, of Coronado, N.I.I., was made public in an edited version by the Navy Wednesday.

Hammond and the Pueblo's only other Marine, Sgt. Robert J. Chisen, 24, of Chilton, N.I.I., were held in a closed dorm Tuesday before a five-admiral court of inquiry into the Pueblo affair.

Hammond's fake suicide try occurred during "hell week" shortly before the Pueblo crew was released after 11 months of imprisonment to North Korea.

"Testifying that he grew 'quite terrified' and saw no end to the captivity, Hammond said he planned to attack his guards in hopes he would be killed and take a couple with him."

The strategy he eventually adopted was almost too successful, Hammond related. He broke through the mid-watch lock while lying in his cot at night. The Marine said he hid so profusely he thought he might really die.

The bleeding finally stopped and Communist guards found him lying in a blood-soaked bunk. "I told the guard he was chicken because he wouldn't kill me," Hammond said. He was forced to get up and clean up his blood-soaked uniform.

Nor was "bawled out" by North Korean officers but the torture came to an end.

Hammond was the third Pueblo man to disclose that he considered suicide while in captivity. The others were Lt. (j.g.) Timothy Harris, 23, of Jacksonville, Fla., who leapt last week, and skipper Lloyd M. Bucher.

"Hell week" that led to Hammond's suicide try resulted from discovery by the Communists that Americans had been making obscene finger gestures in propaganda pictures.

Many of the Pueblo's 74 enlisted personnel were bent on an effort to make their way out of the camp. They were told who instigated the plot. Today, many so far has indicated the North Koreans never found out.

Hammond and Chisen are believed to have been the only men on the Pueblo with Korean language training. The Navy has declined to comment on the fact and there was no reference to it in the Navy-edited summary of their testimony.

Berliners Cheer As Nixon Reaffirms U.S. Intent To Maintain West Freedom

ROME (UPI)—President Nixon on flew to the eternal city of Rome from embattled Berlin and was greeted by cheering crowds of America's European allies before starting discussions with the Soviet Union.

"We shall have discussions with our allies in London first and then with a final wave he shouted in German: "Danke schoen und auf wiedersehen" (Thank you and goodbye).

Shortly before Nixon flew the 110 miles inside East Germany to West Berlin the Soviet Union delivered a new blast against West Germany's plan to hold its presidential election at a meeting of the electoral college in West Berlin March 5. The Communist party newspaper Pravda said "it must not take place."

East Germany said the election violated the four-power agreements governing Berlin and increase tensions. The Communist have threatened the city's supply lines and protested the flights to West German officials. The fact Nixon brought with him Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and Foreign Minister Willy Brandt, former West Berlin mayor was sure to sting the East Germans.

Nixon said in an arrival speech, referring to occupation by the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

"But there is a fifth power in Berlin. That power is the determination of free men to remain here and of free people everywhere to stand behind them those who want to remain free."

And then in an off-the-cuff remark to West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuetz standing near him Nixon said: "I stand here today as the symbol of that fifth power that won't be intimidated by any pressure or any threat from any direction."

Frost foggy Tempelhof Airport, Nixon and the West German officials drove through the city to the wall, always an emotional high point for visitors. When he arrived, crowds surged through the police lines in a tremendous ovation. Nixon rushed forward and shook hands as he walked many times.

For 15 minutes Nixon stood at the wall and gazed into the Communist-ruled East. In Berlin, the Communists for 15 minutes closed the border crossing point through which

4,000 Guerrillas Die

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. and South Vietnamese guns and diversions today broke the heaviest thrust of the Communist offensive on Saigon's doorstep. With 4,000 guerrillas dead, the five-day drive waned.

Beaten and battered from the city, the Reds abandoned the villages they captured 15 miles northeast of the city on the edge of the American air base at Bien Hoa.

Maj. Garrett Hays of Fayetteville, N.C., an adviser to the Saigon soldiers, said the busiest air base in the world was the Communists' ultimate goal and "possibly they could have gotten in if they tried a little bit."

U.S. headquarters in Saigon listed 234 guerrillas killed in the suburban fighting. It reported 30 shellings around the nation overnight and no major ground battling, a dropoff from earlier days.

American intelligence warned, however, that the Communist command still had not committed any of its 55,000 troops in the area around Saigon. They predicted more Red attacks toward the capital.

U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes roared off the Bien Hoa runway Wednesday and wheeled quickly against the Communists. Propaganda planes dropped a picture of a Viet Cong who had surrendered and told the Reds to give up.

Without a shot, South Vietnamese soldiers in a dawn rescue plan. Dong Lach and Ho Nai, 15 miles northeast of Saigon. The 1,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese who had turned them back in a door-to-door fighting Wednesday were gone. American losses so far in the drive were put at 350 dead and about 1,000 wounded — a far higher casualty rate than the 164 killed and 1,031 wounded last week during Allied, a Communist truce for Tet.

South Vietnam said nearly 500 of its fighting men were dead this week.

Sun Valley Is Added To Flight Route

Sun Valley has recently been added to the Air Utah flight schedule in a move to further enhance the service for the mountain west skier, according to the airline officials.

The move comes on the addition of the Sun Valley run to the Air Utah schedule. Jim Burr, president, said, "The need is apparent and the service has been well received. We anticipate equal response to the flights to Sun Valley, as originally experienced with the Jackson Hole flights."

"The decision to institute these flights was actually made prior to the announcement by Sun Valley Airlines to discontinue its flight service. Thanks to the location of Air Utah in Salt Lake City, we feel we are in a better position to offer connecting flight service with major airlines from all points in the country."

"With our base of operations in Salt Lake City, Air Utah can schedule the type of aircraft—highly efficient, high-speed, four-passenger Cessna or the 10-passenger Beechcraft Queen Air, an all-weather rated, twin-engine aircraft."

"Studies we have completed have shown the need to connect Salt Lake City with Sun Valley, and the history of passenger traffic from Park City and Twin Falls."

"With flights to Sun Valley, Air Utah will provide air service to these towns on a daily basis."

"Mr. Burr added, 'Certainly each airline has to evaluate the potentials of each city to be served, and whether it is economically feasible to maintain.'

Computer System Credited With Aiding T. F. Police

Computerized crime information applied through the National Crime Information Center in Washington, D. C., was credited Wednesday with solving several Twin Falls matters.

One incident was the recovery of a stolen car. It was taken last week from Towele, Utah, and found in Twin Falls.

A kidnapper was arrested last month by Idaho State Police of a kidnapping suspect. He allegedly took a woman from Mexico into El Paso, Tex., and kept her there.

A vehicle stolen out of Oregon two weeks ago through use of the crime computer system, it was also reported.

Use of the system in aiding law enforcement officers in Twin Falls was a notable credit through the Idaho State Police in Boise.

The computer system has been in operation since February, 1968. It has helped law enforcement officers make 110 arrests of wanted persons and has also helped in locating stolen vehicles and stolen license plates.

The computer crime service is operated by the FBI in Washington, D. C. Information of types of crimes, descriptions of suspects and the way they operate, and information on stolen items such as cars, guns and boats, is fed into a giant computer complex. It is stored there until the information is requested from a local law enforcement agency anywhere in the United States.

Twin Falls police report it takes only a few minutes to receive information over a telephone system which is connected through the Idaho State Police in Boise.

Berlin

(Continued From Page 1) West Germans allowed to pass through the wall. Communist border guards said the 15-minute closure was a tactical measure to prevent a jam on the Western side while Nixon visited the wall. People from West Germany can enter Berlin on business, those living in West Berlin are barred by the wall.

Before climbing the 12 steps to wooden platform overlooking East Berlin, Nixon stood with bowed head before a cross marking the spot where two East Berlin youths were shot to death as they sought freedom in the West. He appeared moved at photographs of the two young men.

Death Penalty Ordered Twice For Killings

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A former policeman has been given the death penalty for two slayings of his wife and his girlfriend's husband.

A seven-man, five-woman jury returned the verdict against Paul Perverel, 31, on Tuesday.

The prosecution which charged the motive for the killings was a $25,000 life insurance policy in double indemnity insurance policy, termed the killings "the most brutal, savage, cold-blooded and premeditated murders living."

Mrs. Cromwell was given a life sentence after her attorney argued for mercy arguing that she was not an expert party in the death of her husband and that she had been under Perverel's influence.

Plans for the new Paul Labor Camp units, as presented by Twin Falls architect Ivan Slovic, from units on an interchangeable basis, so that doors can be locked or unlocked to allow for the required number of bedrooms.

The buildings would be of concrete slab with metal roofs and would be placed back to back. Ten such units would be built.

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's traffic fatality toll rose to 24 Tuesday with the deaths of Melbourne Archibald, 40, Trenton, Utah, and David Funkhouser, 19, Challis.

Idaho State Police said Funkhouser was apparently riding in a car driven by Lynn Wilson, 68, Wilson, traveling at 15 miles per hour, pulled out of a parking lot and was apparently hit in the right side by Scott Sigler, 17, Challis, traveling at an unknown speed.

County Sheriff Bert R. Meacham is continuing investigation of the accident, but state police assumed Funkhouser was riding in the right rear seat of Wilson's car.

Caribou County Sheriff R. J. Murrisset said Archibald, father of three children, died when his 1959 Thunderbolt collided with a west bound Union Pacific freight train 8 miles west of Soda Springs.

Archibald's body was four feet from the tracks, but the car was 80 feet from the tracks and the motor from the vehicle, was 87 feet beyond.

Union Pacific agent D.O. Smith said the accident occurred about 4:20 p.m.

Last year at this time the fatality toll was 41.

FAIRFIELD—Camas County Commissioners have appointed four men to act as deputy sheriffs. They will be on duty in the Sawtooth Recreation area at Fairview during the snowmobile season.

Camas County Sheriff Paul Cox states that Hugh Koonce, Curt Blumiers, Jim Reedy and Earl Smith are being deputized. All are employees of the Willow Run Snowmobile Lodge.

Newscaster Honored By Farmer Union

RUPERT — For the first time in 16 years an Idaho newscaster has been honored by the Utah-Southern Idaho Farmer's Union for his "service to the field of agriculture."

Whitton has been with the local radio station since 1955 and worked for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., as an information specialist.

Whitton was awarded the honor in New Plymouth under the Black Canyon Irrigation Project. Since his father's death, Whitton manages his mother's farm.

Whitton said upon notification of his selection, "I have always tried to see that farmers, ranchers and businessmen who are dependent upon agriculture have the best of the farm problems to help them better realize that agriculture is the backbone of our economy."

The award will be presented Saturday afternoon at the annual convention in Salt Lake City.

Whitton is a farm broadcaster award, Karl Shisler, president of the union, said, "With decreasing numbers of farm people, it becomes more essential than ever that agricultural news be broadcast."

Heavy snowfall and resultant snow removal activity provided some temporary work for the seasonal employees in Burley food processing plants continued to operate at peak capacity with a continuing good supply of potatoes.

Shortages of experienced year-around farm workers have already developed in the Gooding area, presaging the probability of a serious shortage of these workers during the coming season. Attempts are being made to fill these jobs with migrant workers.

In Jerome snow, rain and windy weather curtailed farm and other outdoor work. Sun Valley is enjoying a good winter season with ample snow on all ski courses. Mails are needed there and a shortage is expected to continue to the end of the winter season.

House Passes Repeal Of Law On Medic Pay

BOISE (UPI) — The House of Representatives approved 50-7 Wednesday a bill which would repeal the law requiring doctors, dentists and veterinarians in certain cases to reimburse Idaho for their education.

House sponsor Lyle Cobbs, R-Boise, said that under the present law students attending such courses at out-of-state schools under the program of the Western Interstate Commission on Higher Education (WICHE) must return to Idaho and practice for two years or repay the state what it has spent on them.

"This provision is completely impossible to enforce and unfair to our children," Cobbs said.

In response to a question from Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Malden, Cobbs said the state has not collected "one cent" under the law anyway.

Palmer said the state currently is spending $600,000 per biennium to pay out-of-state tuition for pre-medical, pre-dental and pre-veterinary students. He said he did not think the requirement they practice in Idaho or repay the state for its help was bad legislation.

"We still need young dentists and doctors," Palmer said.

Rep. Rudy Anderson, R-Boise, urged passage of the bill, saying, "We ought to pay doctors to come to this state instead of discouraging them."

WASHINGTON — There is a flavor of the preposterous in published reports that a special Pentagon committee actually will pass solemn judgment of whether spy ships like the ill-fated Pueblo are really needed.

It is as if Defense Secretary Melvin Laird were to order a study on the possible effectiveness of infantrymen armed only with bows and arrows.

So the Pueblo not caught—so what else is new? It was doing a job made necessary by the times, for which the script was not written by the Bobsey Twins or Victor Herbert.

War it is as vital as the continued manufacture of the hand grenade. Consequently, it is safe to predict that the special Pentagon committee headed by Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard will whitewash the sorry affair of the capture of the Pueblo by North Korean gunboats.

Conglomerates

In a Congress which already has given notice it intends to look into present tax laws with a magnifying glass, particularly with a view toward eliminating "loopholes" for foundations, an aura of uncertainty hangs over both business and personal taxes.

Among the special tax provisions in the business community which already are coming under considerable fire from members of Congress are those which encourage conglomerates. The most influential tax man in Congress, Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, signaled the conglomerate battle by expressing concern at the frequency of such mergers and suggesting that tax laws favoring them be changed.

"It Covers Just About Everything, And It Goes For A Few Billion Less!"

Those who believe the Pueblo case will bring a change in spyship policy obviously already have forgotten the ordeal of the U.S. Liberty, which was fired upon by Israeli planes and gunboats during the Arab-Israeli war of June, 1967. A larger edition of the Pueblo, the Liberty lost 34 American dead and 75 wounded to the over-zealous, but not over-competent, Israeli attackers. Yet, after a few weeks of public indignation, the Liberty was forgotten.

Rocky Misses

Little support has been engendered by New York's Gov. Rockefeller for his proposal that the "temporary" 10 per cent surtax enacted last year to combat inflation in a war-bloated economy should be extended indefinitely and channeled into the states to help pay for the rising costs of welfare and education.

ing the surtax. One thing about it "temporary" taxes, they seldom are repealed. Although the Nixon administration has taken no official position on the scheduled demise of the tax, the President has hinted broadly he will urge Congress to extend the life of at least part of it.

Blood Drive Is Set Monday

Nearly 14 years ago a Twin Falls police officer got up early to give a pint of blood at St. Edwards Catholic church. Today, Wesley Dobbs is still giving blood but he is no longer a police officer. He teaches criminology at the College of Southern Idaho.

There was a quota of 150 pints then. Fifty-three pints were donated. Today, the Red Cross bloodmobile effort in Twin Falls is termed a success with the past two drawings in a row exceeding the quota.

WES DOBBS ON THE right here has been holding still during Red Cross bloodmobile drives for nearly 14 years. He gave the first pint of blood in 1955 when the bloodmobile started coming to Twin Falls. He is still donating today. John Schlegel, acting head representative of the Red Cross, San Francisco, is pretending to take blood from Mr. Dobbs here in a publicity shot to advertise the bloodmobile visit to Twin Falls next Monday. The bloodmobile will be at the American Legion Hall from 2 to 7 p.m.

Monday, the bloodmobile will visit Twin Falls for the second time this year. The drawing will be held at the American Legion Hall from 2 to 7 p.m. Appointments may be called in to eliminate waiting at the hall.

This week marks the 20th anniversary of the Red Cross Regional Blood Center at Boise. Because of this, Red Cross officials in Twin Falls are hoping more than ever to exceed 150 pints. All blood taken and used in Magic Valley comes from the Boise blood center. The blood is provided without charge, but there is a charge for storage and medical services.

Mr. Dobbs of 2144 Crewwood Drive, is being honored during this drive as the first Red Cross donor in Twin Falls. Arthur Anderson of Twin Falls is the honorary chairman of this drive.

Also, the Twin Falls Jaycees have challenged all civic organizations in the city to the blood drive. Doug Volmer, president of the Jaycees, said Jaycees will turn out Monday in an effort to beat or match any other civic organization in Twin Falls.

All eligible donors are urged by Red Cross officials to donate blood Monday at the American Legion Hall.

Weights And Measures Week Will Be Observed In Idaho

The 11th annual observance of Weights and Measures Week begins Saturday, but the United States actually has had a weights and measures law since 1793. The first law was signed by Congress on March 2 of that year.

The first official observance of National Weights and Measures Week was initiated in 1958 by the Scale Manufacturers Association, Inc., according to Ken Magee, inspector with the division of weights and measures, Idaho Department of Agriculture.

The division, according to Lyman D. Holloway, supervisor, inspects all commercially used weighing and measuring devices. In the state, he said the devices inspected by his department range from large capacity scales to small petroleum meters. The division also checks pre-packaged goods to assure the weights marked are accurate.

In June, 1968, the Department of Agriculture moved into a new laboratory at 2120 Warm Springs Avenue, in Boise. In 1965, the federal government, through the National Bureau of Standards, allocated funds to purchase new precision standards and weights and measures and laboratory equipment to be issued to all states, at the rate of 10 states per year.

Idaho is in the third group of states to receive the new precision standards. The Idaho legislature followed through by setting aside funds for construction of a special laboratory session during the 1967 session.

Scales under the division's jurisdiction are checked annually by the division.

The scales and measuring devices are checked for the benefit of the merchant and consumer. A scale, especially large commercial sizes, which is off only ounces or fractions of an ounce, can cost the seller thousands of dollars if allowed to operate.

Mr. Magee said that the new fruit in packaging bill passed by Congress has increased the work load of states' weights and measures divisions. He said that packaged goods must be checked more closely to determine if packages are complying with the new federal regulation.

Five other inspectors besides Mr. Magee will inspect each year, checking all types of measures.

During 1968 the members of the weights and measures division checked 15,629 devices in Idaho. Mr. Magee said of this number, 916 of the devices were rejected for repair. Mr. Magee said that during 1968 there were 25,000 pre-packaged items checked.

The observance of Weights and Measures Week continues through March 7.

At Michigan State University, students opposed to campus disorders gathered a petition of more than 10,000 signatures to show that the majority of students and faculty are against disruptive behavior.

At the University of Notre Dame, a survey showed 70 per cent of the students support the policy of the president, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, to give demonstrators 15 minutes of meditation before expelling or suspending them.

A group of students at Wichita State University known as SPAS (Students for the Prevention of Aggressive Student Movements) conducted a "milk-in" at the Student Union to protest their opposition to campus disturbances.

Six students of a group protesting the appearance of Dow Chemical Co. recruiters on the Northwestern University campus were arrested Tuesday night.

At Rutgers University, police had to be called to protect a group of about 40 black students who barricaded themselves in the administration building on the Newark, N.J., campus.

Angry students were preparing to clear the rebels out of the building when the police were summoned.

At Rice University, the man named last week as president announced his resignation after widespread criticism from students and faculty.

Wiley College, an all-Negro school in Marshall, Tex., was closed Tuesday by the school president, Dr. T. W. Cole Sr., who tacked a go-home notice on an oak tree after some students locked themselves in buildings.

BOISE — Idaho Power Co. announced Wednesday the first step in its new five-year construction program expected to cost $130 million — an investment representing more than $1,028 for each of its present 126,615 residential and farm customers.

Company president Albert Carlsen said the utility will launch the long-range expansion by spending $12.5 million for new facilities of all types in 1969.

"Of this year's total investment, more than $5.5 million goes earmarked for new recreation facilities and transmission lines and substations, and some $6.9 million for distribution lines and substations and other service facilities."

"Our five-year construction program is absolutely essential to help sustain the momentum of the Snake River valley's economic progress," Carlsen declared.

"For this reason, it must be undertaken in spite of steadily rising construction costs and money financing charges that are higher than ever before."

Construction costs, according to the utility official, are climbing at a rate of 10-12 per cent annually.

He said interest rates on short-term borrowings such as Idaho Power uses for construction have increased 15 per cent in the last decade, while the cost of financing bonds issued to pay off short-term loans has increased 37.5 per cent in only five years.

A major portion of the company's planned five-year expenditure will come from investors, Carlsen pointed out, to whom the investment must be "both sound and attractive."

He said the long-range construction program's chief aim is to "provide essential supplies of electricity and maintain our high standard of service reliability in an expanding economy."

"Increasing supplies of power are necessary to assure continued growth by the phosphate, food-processing and other industries, as well as additional progress in desertland reclamation by private-enterprise developers," the utility president said.

"Service reliability is an essential element of our product — the very foundation upon which modern electric power systems are built."

Idaho Power's 1969 budget includes outlays for items ranging from new generating plant studies to an additional mobile transformer to new recreation facilities.

Carlsen said company engineers will continue exhaustive feasibility studies of a proposed steam generating plant, the location, capacity, cost and start-up date of which are still to be determined.

The utility's additional mobile transformer, a $100,000 unit that will be its fourth such facility, will be available for maintenance and reconstruction use throughout the Idaho Power system.

New recreation facilities for public use will be provided at a former construction trailer park downstream from Oxbow Dam, where the company plans to begin rehabilitating electrical and water hookups this year.

The Oxbow park, ultimately scheduled to accommodate as many as 200 trailers, will be the fourth major recreation area created and maintained by Idaho Power in connection with its T. E. Roach Hills Canyon development.

Carlsen noted that the utility's 1969 construction expenditure is smaller than in previous years. "Our budget reflects the fact that for the first year since 1955, Idaho Power does not have new generating facilities such as Brownlee, Oxbow and Hells Canyon dams under actual construction," he explained.

Man Sentenced In Juvenile Case

Henry H. Schaeffer, 57, Kimberly, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail when he appeared in Probate Court on a charge of causing a 16-year-old girl to come within the purview of the Youth Rehabilitation Act.

He was accused of causing the girl to stay away from school between Jan. 24 and 30.

Judge Richard Reed suspended 20 days of the sentence and gave Mr. Schaeffer 27 days credit for time already served in jail.

Mr. Schaeffer pleaded innocent to the charge when he was arrested Feb. 3. He was found guilty in a court trial Wednesday afternoon, court records show the trial was before Judge Richard Reed.

TV Translators Set Up By Bill

BOISE (UPI) — A bill allowing establishment of translator facilities was introduced in the House Tuesday.

The measure allows groups in remote areas to install equipment to receive and amplify the signals broadcast by one or more television stations and redistribute the signals by appropriate broadcasting means, but shall not include redistribution of signals by wire or cable.

Land-Access Bill Debated By Committee

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary and Legislative Administration Committee Tuesday night heard testimony from rockhounds, hunters and motorcyclists on a bill requiring every person to get permission to enter land of another.

Land owners, testifying on "destructive forces" of motorcycles, however, agreed that the proposed bill was too broad and needed redrafting.

John Emery, Boise, spoke for the Idaho Wildlife Federation and Treasure Valley-Trial Machine Association, saying, "This is an entrapment of people who enjoy the outdoors."

Lloyd Haight, Boise, told the committee the problem as a landowner "is to give the 10 per cent of the cyclists who disregard the rights of others."

Jim Gillespie, Boise Attorney, said "there is a need for this law, but not in the terms in which it is written. We must come up with some type of cooperative effort."

Several persons at the hearing commented that under the bill private land could not be identified, therefore causing persons to be inadvertently guilty of criminal trespass.

Sen. Moss Offers Bill To Assist Conservation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legislation to permit the Federal government to join the states in a fight against diseases which threaten to kill off trout and salmon throughout the country was introduced Tuesday by Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah.

Moss told the Senate the bill also was aimed at halting a native shellfish against diseases brought in with foreign species of shellfish introduced into American waters.

"The bill, Moss said, would give the Interior Secretary authority 'to develop, together with the states, regulations and programs that will effectively control and eradicate these diseases that constitute a threat to the fish resources of the nation.'"

Under the bill, he said, federal and state officials could seize nurseries or dispose of any fish that posed a threat to fisheries.

Guild Members Hear Review

Mrs. Donald C. Anderson reviewed the book, "Frontiers" by Catherine Marshall, the moving experiences of a young teacher in an Appalachian mission school. It is a glowing story of the beliefs to which faith and challenges can rise in the human heart. It is also a dramatic program of the mountain people, their poverty and courage, and the suffering and humor that Christy came to cherish.

The author's sketch of Catherine Marshall was given by Mrs. Delmer Davies.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Ivan Alford and Mrs. Glen Bradford.

The March meeting at the home of Mrs. Del Van Orden and members are encouraged to bring a guest.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband had too much to drink last night, and confessed that the reason he bought me that beautiful beaded bag for St. Valentine's day was because he'd bought one for his girl friend and he felt guilty. Now I don't even want the bag.

What do you think?

HURT

DEAR HURT: I think you should quit drinking and looking at bags.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office and am sure one of our girls goes on pregnancy leave, we have a baby shower for her. At the present time we have an unmarried girl who will be going on pregnancy leave soon. What do we do about this?

Should we ignore the whole thing? Or should we go ahead and have a baby shower as though everything were normal and acceptable to all of us? Wouldn't this be condoning her condition? Or maybe we should just take up a collection and give her the money instead? Any suggestions you can offer would be very much appreciated as this whole affair is divided as to what we should do.

NAMELESS, PLEASE.

DEAR NAMELESS: A baby shower for an unmarried girl could be awkward and strained for all concerned. But depending upon your collective judgment of the girl herself, I think an act of compassion and helpfulness (a quiet collection) would be appreciated by the mother-to-be, and make you all feel better.

DEAR ABBY: I can add nothing to your suggestion to the women whose husband "ignores" her after her hysterectomy.

However, for the sake of other women who may postpone or refuse that operation because they feel they may be considered "less of a woman" by an uninformed husband, let me express my feelings. My wife had a hysterectomy 14 years ago, so I've seen her scar thousands of times. When I notice it I always have two feelings. One is sympathy for the pain she suffered to get that scar. The other is a feeling of thankfulness that she has it. Without that scar, my wife's life would have been either a hell or a heaven. I have friends who have no scar to look at. Their children have no mother.

THANKFUL IN KANSAS CITY

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the wife whose husband decided after five children that he wanted a younger woman, described my situation when I was raising our five youngsters. I could have thrown him out, but I didn't on the advice of a lawyer friend who told me that our children would do better in a home with both parents than in a broken home with no father at all.

I covered for my husband when possible, but our children knew we had our problems, and they've taken (not sent) to church, and we did everything we could to give them a good moral upbringing. Their father, believe it or not, was very helpful, too.

Now the children are grown and gone, and have their own families. After the last was married I let their father go. There are no hard feelings. The war is over. Who needs revenge when the results are so sweet?

NOT SORRY

Musicians Thanked For Contribution

By NORMA HERZINGER

A room full of adults sat quietly watching a film which depicted the simple joys that can be attained by handicapped youngsters and I'm sure each and everyone said a silent prayer for their blessings.

Each and everyone felt very proud, too, that they have played a small part in providing a little joy for these handicapped youngsters or perhaps aided in obtaining a needed piece of equipment to further the progress and comfort of a few.

The event was an appreciation dinner sponsored by the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center for the country music musicians and their partners who donated all proceeds from this year's eighth annual Country Music Jamboree to the center.

Approximately $8,000 has been donated to various needy organizations during these eight years, with the Easter Seal Center being recipient the past few years. According to Ray Crumbliss, secretary-treasurer for the jamboree, approximately $1,200 was realized this year after all expenses relative to the jamboree were paid, the biggest being for the rent of the auditorium at the College of Southern Idaho.

The auditorium has been in use for several months now and is a great asset to the community—but it has never been filled like it was by Magic Valley residents coming to hear country music. The auditorium will seat approximately 920 persons. These 920 seats were filled plus 340 extra chairs that were set up and then there were people left standing the second night of the jamboree. Now if that isn't a tribute to country music—I'd like to see it tested.

The YM-YWCA, where the appreciation dinner was held, was appropriately decorated with music staffs and notes and the tables were lined with runners of music notes, all under the direction of Mrs. N. A. Henkelman. Mrs. Frank Stearns, Easter Seal delegate from Lincoln County, was a special guest, along with members of the Snake River Lions Club who were sponsors for the jamboree this year.

Mrs. Wilford Benedict and Mrs. Robert Cox were in charge of the food for the dinner, with donations made from the parents of youngsters obtaining services at the Easter Seal Center, Buttry's Super Store, Safeways at Aberdeen, Albertson Stores, Fenn's Market, Eastside Market, Swensen's Magic Markets, Driveway Market, Marty's IGA Market, Ida Gem Store and Town and Country.

Mrs. Merle Stoddard, director of the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center, talked on the film that was shown on Camp Easter Seal and of activities at the local center, thanking the group for its donation.

Lesson Topic Presented For Baptist Women

SHOSHONE—"Keys to a Successful Baptist Youth Fellowship" was the lesson topic presented at the Baptist Women's Mission Society meeting held at the home of Mrs. James Holt, Mrs. Dan Kelley presented the lesson.

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, Jack Kelly, Steven Kelly and Mike Oul, participated. Mrs. Mona Turvall, white cross chairman, reported on the sewing quota being done for shipment to Africa missions, stating it was almost done and the Overland white cross quota was complete and ready for shipment.

Arrangements were made for the World Day of Prayer services to be held at 8 p.m. March 7 at the church. Mrs. Omer Shook was appointed chairman of the social hour to be held after these services.

A series of fellowship dinners will be held in the homes of church members, the first dinner being at the home of Mrs. Luella Kinsey, with Mrs. Erma Driskell as co-hostess. It was announced there will be a potluck dinner after regular morning worship services Sunday.

The next regular meeting of the group is set for March 6 at the church.

Demonstration Is Presented

TUTTLE—Mrs. Thomas Faucett, Hagerman Valley, demonstrated making decorated wall plaques and feather flowers at a meeting of the Tuttle WW Club at the home of Mrs. Sam Thornton.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. Fern Ravenscroft. Mrs. Raymond Wright was given the January gift and the next meeting was announced for Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Greia Graves, Gooding.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and guests were Mrs. Faucett, Mrs. Edna Harmon, Twin Falls; Mrs. Earl Leiser, Gooding; and Mrs. Raymond Taylor, Tuttle.

Proceeds

from the eighth annual Country Music Jamboree is presented by check by Junior Walden and Jim Burk, right, representing the country music musicians, to Mrs. Merle Stoddard, director of the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center, as Ralph Goodwin, a member of the Snake River Lions Club, looks on. The Lions Club sponsored the jamboree this year, with all proceeds going to the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center. EXPERT PROVES HE CAN WIN
The pool experts have been taking a beating all week. They have been going down at contracts that poorer players might make.

Today an expert makes a contract. He isn't going to make the best play from a standpoint of strict mathematics but from hearts. South won and counted 10 easy tricks provided he could escape with the loss of only one trump. Then he laid down his ace of spades. He hoped to drop the king or the 10 but all he collected was the three and four. Then he entered dummy with king of clubs and led dummy's last spade. East played the seven and the time to separate the men from the boys arrived.

South thought awhile. You have nothing to lose at a time like this by thinking. Then South played the eight of trumps. West showed out and South spread his hand conceding a trump, a diamond and a club. Why did South make that play? He must have known that a suit will break 3-2 68 per cent of the time but South had listened to the bidding. West had made a vulnerable take-out double. The bid would have been dangerous enough if West held a singleton spade or the doubling king and almost suicidal if West held king-10-small or 10-small in spades. Therefore South played West for the singleton and was correct.

CARD SENSE
Q—The bidding has been: West North East South
Pass 2♥ Pass 1♠
Pass 3♥ Pass 3♠
Pass 3♥ Pass 3♠
A—You should hold ♠A K 6 5 12 ♠5 A A K 10 9 6 4. What do you do now?
A—Bid four hearts. You are taking a chance but the reward for game is worth-while. You do have two hearts, one diamond and four quick tricks.
TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of rebidding two hearts your partner jumps to three hearts. What do you do now?
Answer Next Issue

the standpoint of practical, winning bridge.
Expert South took quite a chance when he opened with one spade. Some experts just hate to open with two bids. If West had passed the hand would have played at one spade but West was a bidder and stuck in a takeout double.
North passed, just as he would have if West had passed. East bid two diamonds and hoped for nothing too bad would happen to him. South jumped to four spades and hoped to find a trick somewhere in his partner's hand.

Declo Nips Glenns Ferry To Gain A-3 Finals As Wendell Ousts Castleford

By LARRY HOVEY Times-News Sports Editor

SHOSHONE—Two long booms by Dan Lewis and a pair of cringles off a steal and fast break broke the Declo Hornets away from the Glenns Ferry Pilots 57-49 in the championship semi-finals of the fourth district A-3 basketball tournament Wednesday night. The defeat put the pre-tourney favored Pilots into Thursday night's loser bracket semi-finals against the Wendell Trojans who earlier Wednesday exploded past the suddenly icy-cold Castleford Wolves 64-42. The winner of that Glenns Ferry-Wendell game, which begins at 8 p.m., will go against the undefeated Hornets Friday night heading north to wrestle the title from Declo.

The champion of this affair goes to the state tournament in Boise next week while the runner-up will meet the second-place team from the third district in a Monday night playoff for the eighth spot in the Boise bracket. The feature was a battle of a "battle of zones and a battle of zones" as the two teams stayed predominantly on the right side in attacking the basket. Glenns Ferry's line and right corner jumpers—along with free throws—kept Glenns Ferry in the game through the first minute of the fourth quarter. Dennis Mallory and usually light scoring Ken Harrington also helped the right side in keeping Declo just ahead most of the time.

Ahead only 44-43 with 7:09 left, Leo came to the left twice and Lewis pumped through two long set shots. Then Ken Darrington stole the ball and got a bucket and seconds later Gary Mallory yanked out a fast break with another cringle. That exploded Declo into the victory and it became a matter of Declo missing free throws as Glenns Ferry just missing for the rest of the game.

Declo's super star, Gary Mallory, was most effective in the first half when he hooked a half dozen shots, rebounded well and pumped through 11 points. But he picked up his fourth foul in the second half and was ejected. He was ejected for a fourth foul in the second half and was ejected. He was ejected for a fourth foul in the second half and was ejected.

Yastrzemski Becomes American League's Highest Paid Player

By BOB STEWART

Carl Yastrzemski got his $100,000-plus salary when he signed with the St. Louis Cardinals. The deal was reported by the Associated Press.

Yastrzemski, 30, is the highest paid player in the American League. He is also the highest paid player in the National League.

looking forward to this season. The Sox star sealed in at 185, only two pounds over his playing weight.

Gibson and Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals could only agree they were apart on how much the 33-year-old right-handed pitcher was worth.

Devine apparently offered over $100,000, but not the $125,000 Gibson has in mind for the 1969 ERA, 23.9 record, 15 consecutive victories and his straight scoreless innings he posted last season as the Cards won the NL pennant in a walk.

Pascual accepted a slight above-fee offer from the Senators for a 20-minute chat with owner Rob Short, who was preparing himself for the arrival of home run champion Frank Howard at Pompano Beach, Fla. Thursday.

Howard has two requests—$475,000 contract and an extra week of delay in reporting so he can settle business affairs in Green Bay, Wis.

Frazier, Knicks Defeat Celtics

BOSTON (UPI)—Walt Frazier scored 13 of his 28 points in helping the Knicks to a 42-21 intermission advantage.

Late in the third quarter three long baskets by substitute guard Bernard King helped the Celtics break up a close game and take a 71-61 lead at the beginning of the final period. Frazier then started his heroics. His lay-in off a steal with 4:28 to go capped a string of 10 straight New York points and lifted it 83-80.

Wills Reed, who netted 17 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and stole the ball four times in helping the Knicks to a 42-21 intermission advantage.

Ski Race Shortened; Just Too Much Snow

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—Only the Italians were missing Wednesday when officials and crews worked overtime to get the slopes ready for the abbreviated World Cup ski slalom on Squaw Valley.

The Canadian contingent for the World Cup arrived in Squaw Valley after being snowed in at Sacramento, Calif., 125 miles away since the weekend.

They made it across the Sierra-Nevada main road artery, Interstate 80, Wednesday morning when the road was reopened to traffic.

An estimated eight feet of new snow fell on the Squaw Valley slopes, the same ones used in the 1968 Winter Olympic Games, in the past 72-hour period and forced cancellation of the downhill race.

Alpine director Bob Beattie canceled the slalom, which had been cut from three to two days and will start on Friday instead of Thursday with the running of the slalom. The giant slalom will be held Saturday, weather permitting.

"At first it was announced that the giant slalom, if held, would not count in World Cup points," Beattie said.

No one seemed to know exactly where the Italian contingent for the meet was. The only thing for sure was that the Italian contingent, the continental United States, waiting to make their way to Squaw Valley, via plane to Reno, Nev., since the weekend.

Most roads around the Squaw Valley area were open to traffic Wednesday, although limited in some instances. The weather was clear but forecasts call for more snow this weekend.

Ski Meet Boils At Oregon State

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI)—Four Negro basketball players at Oregon State University missed a game for a boycott of protest, protesting standards set for football players by round coach Doc Anderson.

The 37 black students on the 13,000 student campus charged Anderson with a boycott of classes and athletic events until Anderson's order was rescinded.

Negro basketball player Dave Anderson, who contributed 16 points, also had three of the three-point baskets.

Houston Drops Denver 136-122

HOUSTON (UPI)—Bob Berga came off the bench in the second quarter Wednesday night to score 27 points and lead the Houston Mavericks past the Denver Rockets 136-122 in a game of record three-point baskets for the Mavs.

Houston set a team record of seven three-point baskets out of eight attempts. Houston's Steve Johnson, who had 22 points, and three of the three-pointers, and Tony Jackson, who contributed 16 points, also had three of the three-point baskets.

Kuhn Can't See Players In Union

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI)—Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn does not see the major league players forming a full-fledged labor union to handle their future negotiations with the owners.

Kuhn, who admitted he had a part in the settlement Tuesday of the pension dispute between the players and owners, said he doesn't think the recent trouble will harden the lines between the two parties sufficiently to cause the players to form a union.

"My guess is that the Players Association will continue as it has been," Kuhn said. "I don't think it's the Phillies' training camp."

"I don't see the players wanting a union, and I have heard of no union," Kuhn said. "I don't believe in a union for ball players. The normal union relationship isn't appropriate for baseball."

"As to whether this will leave any bitterness, I think a dispute of this kind always leaves some bitterness. But I don't think bitterness is the right word. One of my jobs is to see that there is no continued adverse effects."

Asked if he thought he played a part in ending the disagreement, Kuhn said, "I think so. I talked to both sides regularly and gave them my views and elicited their views, and I pressed them to keep on negotiating and they responded to that. I don't think I dramatized, using my office, the harm this dispute was doing."

Thigpen Is Big Sky Loop Point Leader

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI)—Justin Thigpen of Weber State, who has been hanging around the leaders all season, moved into first place this week in the Big Sky Conference statistics released today.

He took over the lead from teammate Willie Sojourner who had a 22.3 points per game average to 20.7 Thigpen, playing his usual consistent game, hoisted his average from 20.2 to 20.4.

Harold Ross of Montana was named conference player of the week for lending his leg to an split in Spokane last weekend with Gonzaga, the first time the Grizzlies have beaten the Zags on their home court in 13 years. Ross scored 40 points in the two games.

Thigpen also leads the conference in field goal shooting percentage, hitting 66.7 per cent of his shots from the floor. He is trailed by Tony Inoue of Idaho State at 64.7 and Sojourner at 63 per cent.

Another change in statistical leaders came this week when Wilson Terry of Idaho State took over the free throw shooting lead from Eastern Washington's Thacker who had led most of the season. Thacker made only 7.1 of his attempts from the charity line the past week, dropping him to 80 per cent mark on 37-43. Terrell, on the other hand, made both of his 80.0 to beat him on 10-12. After Dick Snyder's two goals narrowed the margin to one point Clark, Billy Cunningham and Walker gave the 70ers breathing room, but the loss was the events in a row for the Sun.

76ers Collect Fifth Straight Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia 76ers shook off the Atlanta Hawks 104-97 Wednesday night for their fifth consecutive National Basketball Association victory in a drive to reduce Baltimore's lead in the Eastern Division race.

The 76ers managed to go in front late in the third period after falling behind 68-65 earlier in the game.

Chet Walker, Archie Clark and Hat Orecer led the 76ers from behind into an 80-81 lead after three periods. After Dick Snyder's two goals narrowed the margin to one point Clark, Billy Cunningham and Walker gave the 76ers breathing room, but the loss was the events in a row for the Sun.
