Officials Tell Of 'Selling' T.F. As Site

By RUTH MILLER Times-News Staff Writer

The people of Twin Falls played a large role in selling this area to the Kellwood Co., which plans to locate a plant here, officials of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce said this week.

The company, which supplies nylon stockings for Sears, has been local interests that the plant will come to Twin Falls if an adequate labor force is assured.

Orland Mayer, director of industrial development for Idaho County, said that the initial contacts of the Kellwood Co. said that sewage, water and educational factors all were listed as criteria which were considered in their consideration of Twin Falls and other areas.

He said that transportation was very important to the Kellwood officials, and Magic Valley's ability to provide second morning delivery to West Coast markets was a prime factor in offsetting some of the See OFFICIALS, Pg. 2, Col. 1

Employment Opportunity
THE IMPENDING LOCATION of a large hosiery manufacturing plant in Twin Falls is the result of much hard work by members of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. The chamber officials noted, however, that many of the selling points which Twin Falls has, are direct results of the citizens' civic pride and civic improvement. Among chamber officials who were listed in securing the location of the Kellwood Co. plant here are, from left, Howard Allen, immediate past president; Harold Howe, president; and Ray Rostrom, secretary-manager. Kellwood has assured that a plant will be built here if an adequate labor force can be provided.

Helps Rescue

LARK, Utah (UPI)—A tough old miner, former Heyburn resident, trapped four miles underground for nearly a week helped direct his own rescue efforts Thursday.

William Vernon Jones, 61, gave directions to weary rescue teams after eating his first meal since last Friday.

Food and water were pushed 40 feet through a two-inch diameter pipe to Jones, trapped by a rock slide in the honeycombed mine where he has worked for the past 20 years.

Lighting up the sky with a "great big orange cloud" from their rockets, Blaine Jones, is currently a Heyburn resident, living in the city in 1946. Later he moved to Utah, his brother, Blaine Jones, is currently a Heyburn resident, and is the father of 11 children.

Astronauts Fire 'Spider' Away From Apollo Craft In Daring Space Chase

SPACE CENTER—Houston (UPI)—Two astronauts broke off from the Apollo 13 command ship in their lunar landing craft and gunned it away on a daring chase in space that could make or break the plans to land men on the moon this summer.

Lighting up the sky with a "great big orange cloud" from their rockets, James A. McDivitt and Russell L. Schweickart, reported that he saw the command ship's jets firing "just as clear as a bell. It lights up the whole area around the command ship."

disadvantage of the area. After Twin Falls was selected as the Idaho site, the competition with selected areas from about four other sites.
Twin Falls was then in the position of selling itself, rather than underselling another area.
Mr. Meyer said.
He also stated that at this point he began working as a consultant with the Woodford officials and Twin Falls interests, including the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Development Corp., picking up the work of selling Twin Falls to the state.
Mr. Meyer said that after two visits to Idaho, the company officials picked Twin Falls as the site.
To assist in this sales job, the Chamber of Commerce prepared detail portfolios containing information on Twin Falls' criteria.
The chamber also prepared a colored slide presentation containing 53 slides showing residential areas, churches, schools, business sections and other aspects of Twin Falls.
The only step remaining to assure the location of the plant in Twin Falls is to prove that the labor supply is available in Magic Valley.
Registration blanks for potential employees are being run in the northern and southern Idaho News and the Gooding Leader.
Application blanks must be submitted in person to employment offices in either Gooding, Jerome or Twin Falls on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
If the results of the survey are favorable, the chamber on a $1.2 million plant will begin immediately. Three sites are still under consideration in Twin Falls.

CAA Director Twin Falls News In Brief

Applications Are Studied

Applications for the directorship of the South Central Community Action Agency will be screened Saturday in a meeting at the CAA headquarters.

The members of the screening committee are Carol Martin, Twin Falls; Lyle French, Burley; and John VanOrman, Jerome.

The agency has been without a director since Charles Albain resigned in January. Albain was named director of the SCCAA annual meeting Marvin Glasscock, newly elected chairman of the board, was appointed to serve as acting director until a permanent director could be hired. Mr. Glasscock has been in the past few weeks and the office has been vacant.

The employees of the agency have urged that a director be hired immediately.

'Kidney Van' Donated By Recipients

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The University of California Medical Center has received a "live" kidney van from recipients who appreciated the "gift of life."

Howard Swartz, 46, who received his transplant 14 months ago, acted as spokesman for the group.

"About last August," he said, "a number of us who were operated on at the center are alive today because of kidney transplants from the University of California Medical Center."

Swartz said the group learned of the need for a specially equipped van to transport kidneys from donors at one hospital to recipients in another. They began a mail campaign to raise money for the van.

Dr. Samuel L. Kowitz, head of the center's transplant service, told the 128 former patients that they were generally light and spotty ranging from none at Boise to traces at Kuna, Burley, Mountain Home and Malad.

"High temperatures over Southern Idaho yesterday were about the same to 5 degrees below normal," he said. High readings ranged from 29 at Idaho Falls to 44 at Boise. Low readings last night ranged from 18 at Idaho Falls to 29 at Mountain Home.

Phase-Out

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Supreme Court Wednesday upheld by a unanimous opinion the constitutionality of the controversial inventory tax phase-out law, the personal property tax, the personal inventory, livestock and forest products to be phased out over a four-year period beginning this year.

The tax will be replaced with sales tax money.

Plaintiffs in the case argued that the portion of funds each county will get was a gift with no strings attached. A 10-wp in the center of the money being given in any manner they see fit, regardless of any relationship to the amount of money the county has or the amount of money they actually need.

The case was first brought against the state treasurer and the Ada and Blain County treasurers and auditors by R. D. Leonardson, Vice President of the Idaho Taxpayers Association, and Reps. John Pino, D-Pocatello, and Marjorie Davidson, D-Boise.

Caldwell attorney S. M. Eisman said the court gave attorneys time, in which to argue for a phase-out of the tax. He said he had not yet decided whether to seek a re-hearing.

Obituaries

Ray Etherington

KIMBERLY — Ray Leslie Etherington, 27, 523 West Monroe, Kimberly, died of asphyxiation in his apartment at Grants, N. H. where he had been employed.

He was born Nov. 27, 1941, at Lava Hot Springs and had attended schools in Burley and was graduated from Burley High School. He had spent seven and a half years in the U. S. Army. Two and a half of these years were spent in Berlin, Germany. He married Gisela Silder on Feb. 18, 1966, in Berlin. Mr. Etherington was a member of the LDS Church.

Surviving in addition to his wife are one daughter, Holl Syverson, Murtaugh; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Etherington, Kimberly; two brothers, Dean Etherington, U. S. Air Force, Zweibracken, Germany, and Gene Etherington, Monticello, Utah; and one sister, Kendall (Shirley) Syverson, Murtaugh.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at White Mortuary Chapel with Bishop Roger Tolman officiating. Last rites will be in Twin Falls Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday and until services Monday.

Nixon Gives Medals To Army Trio

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today awarded the Medal of Honor to three veterans of the Vietnam war for heroism in battle in Vietnam, two of them during the Communists' 1968 Tet offensive.

The recipients were listed in the White House ceremony.

All three of the men were awarded medals for continuing fighting to rescue their comrades and destroy their equipment, according to Defense Department officials.

The White House ceremony was held in the East Room of the White House.

Nixon placed the blue-ribbon gold medals—the 72d and 73d anniversary of the Vietnam War—on the necks of Staff Sgt. Joe Hooper, 29, of Sausalito, Calif.; Spec. 5 Clarence Eugene Sasser, 21, of San Francisco; and Staff Sgt. William Zabinski, 26, of Trenton, N.J.

Of the 74 times the nation's highest military honor has been awarded for Vietnam action, 37 have been posthumous and 37 to men who survived the actions for which they were cited.

Court Sentences Soldiers To Jail For Desertion

Ft. Dix, N.J. (UPI)—A federal court sentenced officers Edwin C. Arnett for four years at hard labor in the nation's first trial of a soldier deserting his military unit, and seeking asylum in Sweden.

Arnett, a balding, 30-year-old Army cook, captured and liberated his seven-man, one-woman platoon announced the sentence. It was his first show of emotion in the mandatory trial.

Other sentences, arrived at in little more than an hour, included forfeiture of all pay, reduction to the lowest enlisted rank and a dishonorable discharge.

Arnett told reporters after the sentencing he had not expected such a stiff penalty but added, "You never can tell." The maximum sentence was five years.

Arnett said that because of his conviction and sentence, he doubts that other American deserters in Sweden will return to their country to face charges.

"I think now that nobody will return," he said.

Arnett's penalty carries with it an automatic appeal to a military review board in Washington.

Arnett, formerly of Santa Ana, Calif., deserted his unit in Cam Ranh Bay, South Vietnam, in February, 1968, went to Russia and then to Sweden where he was granted asylum. He returned voluntarily to the United States last Dec. 14.

told him the film will not be shown in any of the Twin Falls drive-in theaters.

The prosecutor then contacted Wayne Kullander, manager of the Idaho Orpheum Theater, and bookings for Twin Falls showings are made in Salt Lake City.

"Mr. Kullander has little or no control over these bookings," Mr. Galley said.

"Candy" was scheduled for a Twin Falls showing last month but intermountain, last night, canceled the booking from looking in Twin Falls to give officials time to evaluate the situation "in light of public opinion in the community."

If the picture is booked for Twin Falls showing at a later date, there will be a preview showing for interested public officials. The movie will have the famous X rating and no one under 18 years of age will be admitted to the theater.

Steps will be taken to enforce this, Mr. Galley said.

"Mr. Galley emphasized, 'The movie is not booked for showing in Twin Falls theater at this time.'"

The movie, it was reported, deals with sex for the sake of sex. It would be a neutral theme other than that.

Mr. Galley said he approached the theater managers in consultation with the attorney because of the complaints received in his office.

"However, there was never any threat of action when the scheduled showing of the movie in Twin Falls."

Solons Strive To Halt Move On Pan-Am

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate and House strategists have launched a drive to stop a Democratic gambler conglomerate from buying out the controlling stock in Pan American World Airways.

Congressional sources said the move is based on fears the group might eventually buy out control of the airline, which claims to be the world's largest, as a part of a "raid."

Sen. Norris Cotton, N.H., introduced a bill which would give the Civil Aeronautics Board authority to rule out the lower bid by another firm if it determined such a sale would hurt the public interest. Presently, the CAB has sole authority over such bids when the new buyer is already in the transportation business.

Resorts International Inc., which has acquired a 9.7 percent of Pan American's stock — a $90 million venture based on current market prices — is headed by the late Pan Am, told stockholders of the impending sale in a letter Feb. 22. At that time he said the move is being a benefit to your company or in the public interest which can be gained by any affiliation with resorts."

He described the company as a company which has gambling, and other operations in the Bahamas Islands.

Resorts International was formed by the late Mary Carter Paint Co. It owns or operates three plush Bahamian gambling casinos plus hotels, and other properties on the Caribbean resort islands. It also owns a hamburger stand chain in 10 states and in Ontario, Canada.

T. F. Principal Lauds Police Performance

Twin Falls police have been praised for their cooperation and professional performance of duty while attending high school functions.

The praise was issued Thursday afternoon by High School Principal John Lawrence.

Officers are assigned to football games, basketball games and other school functions where large groups of students gather. Officers also direct traffic in and away from the high school after the activities are finished.

Mr. Lawrence said police have been requested to do this duty as a precaution against any trouble that might break out. He added Thursday, "Fortunately we have had no trouble either last fall or this year."

Mr. Lawrence said he wanted to express his appreciation and the appreciation of other school officials for the "fine example set by the members of the Twin Falls police force."

'Only Ninth Child Lives' Despite Great Handicap

By TABER COLLINS
Newspaper Writer,
Phoenix, Arizona

"Your wife is fine. It's a boy, but we have a problem," the doctor said.

Seven times during the past 12 years the strange-looking man in white pajamas and night cap had stood in the dimly lit hallway, mumbling words I barely heard over the pounding of my heart.

"Each time my wife had been fine, the little one had been fine too. Six little girls, and two fine boys. And now the ninth. Jesse."

I had trouble keeping my voice steady as I walked with the doctor through the swinging doors where I was introduced to the pediatrician. The two doctors then led me toward a large cubicle into which a glass-enclosed incubator was being wheeled.

"Unlike the other babies in the nursery, this one needs a special type of diaper. He lay on his side and his breathing was like an overheated puppy panting desperately for air. There were irregular gasps, a shuddering sigh, then nothing.

A nurse reached in through the back and snapped her fingers against the sole of his foot, once, twice; the baby jumped, gasped, and resumed his pathetic panting.

"I looked at the doctors. They leaped in disbelief. They led me away from the window.

"But suppose she stays? I pleaded.

"She'll be there, there's always a nurse in that area," the doctor assured me.

The pediatrician explained that he would like to have two more doctors examine the baby, and they would let me know as soon as they could agree on the diagnosis.

"My wife was in a deep sleep when I went to her room. I whispered to the nurses at her bedside to tell her I had been in, then started for home where eight little people waited anxiously.

"How was I to explain what I didn't understand myself? It was after midnight. I knew that no one would be asleep. I knew, too, that I must tell it all, every strange and frightening detail about the baby that we had all, as usual, taken for granted.

"Jesse is here," I began, trying to explain to the small ones more comprehended as well as the older ones. "But the doctor doesn't know if your little brother will stand up or go on to heaven. All we can do is pray."

"What's the matter with him, Dan? Is he sick?" someone asked.

"No, he's not sick. He just can't seem to breathe the way he should. The doctor doesn't know yet just what the trouble is. So only the Lord can help Jesse now."

"Let's pray," someone said. I prayed.

As I sat in the hospital cafeteria the next day I heard three doctors discussing a rare case presently in the nursery. They spoke of a two-day-old baby suffering from Hyaline membrane disease, a respiratory ailment. Only one in a thousand survives.

I called the pediatrician's office and learned he was on his way to the hospital. When I finally confronted him with the startling conversation I had overheard, he confirmed that the baby discussed was ours.

He added that although there was absolutely no change as yet, every breath increased the possibility of hope. If Jesse's heart were strong enough to keep pumping without nourishment, his lungs would clear and he might live. At my fond or ill-willed would either drown out the tiny breaths or suck his head into stopping.

I spent agonizing minutes before the nursery window after talking to the doctor, and again after visiting my brave wife. I don't remember much about those visits; my mind was in a haze.

I do remember clearly the strange way he tried to console us by such remarks as, "Well, at least you have others at home" or "It isn't as though this were your only one."

But that wasn't the point. The others at home? Have nothing whatever to do with the new one, now? It is always as if new-baby were the only one.

It was the only Jesse—the only one who was new to the family whom we all had embraced right along with Mommy through the long nine months.

Hagerman Man Retires From Power Firm After 45 Years

HAGERMAN — Albert W. Gregg, operating superintendent of the local power plant for Idaho Power Co., has retired after 45 years of service spent almost entirely in the Hagerman Valley.

Mr. Gregg, who headed the utility's seniority list with the greatest number of years of service and described as "a completely dedicated employee," was honored by associates and friends at a reception last week at the Oxbow Cafe.

More than 152 persons attended the open house, one coming as far away as Seattle, to extend their best wishes. Mr. Gregg was presented with a three-piece, matched luggage set and a 1.35 mm camera from the company.

He also received an inscribed pen and pencil desk set with a transistor radio and a ring from fellow employees of power plants from trips to conferences and numerous other gifts from friends.

Among the many who attended the open house, were the members of the Hagerman Basketball team, who attended as a group. An ardent basketball fan, Gregg rarely missed a "Pirate" ball game.

Born in Colorado, but reared in Hagerman Valley, Mr. Gregg joined Idaho Power Co. at the age of 19 as a helper at the Lower Salmon Falls generating plant.

He was soon promoted to operator there and served in this capacity for the next 12 years, except for a brief tour of duty in 1936 as an operator at the Swan Falls plant.

In 1937, after two years as assistant chief operator at Lower Salmon plant, Gregg transferred to Idaho Power's new 20,000-kilowatt Upper Salmon A. Plant.

"I worked briefly as an electrician and chief operator, then in 1938 became the plant's superintendent.

Mr. Gregg continued to serve in that position for the following 18 years, adding the Upper Salmon B plant to his sphere of responsibility when this newest of Idaho Power's generating facilities was completed in 1947.

At the time the remote-controlled B plant went into service, the Upper Salmon development had the greatest generating capacity of any in the company's system. With this long experience in generating-plant supervision to his credit, he was named assistant power plant operating superintendent in 1956.

Among his responsibilities was management of any of Idaho Power's generating plants, especially those in Hagerman Valley where he maintained his headquarters.

In recent years, one of his special tasks, was that of assisting in the continuing transition in the plants to advanced operating techniques.

Gregg plans to remain in Hagerman for the summer. This fall, he plans to return to college, probably at Boulder, Colo.

Active in community affairs, he is a member of the Hagerman Masonic Lodge No. 78 and the Hagerman Methodist Church.

Inside Report: Tragedy Of Berkeley

Friday, March 7, 1969... O. A. IGALL KELKER... WILEY BOSS... GENE CARBERT... DALE THOMPSON... PAUL STANLEY... O. J. SMITH

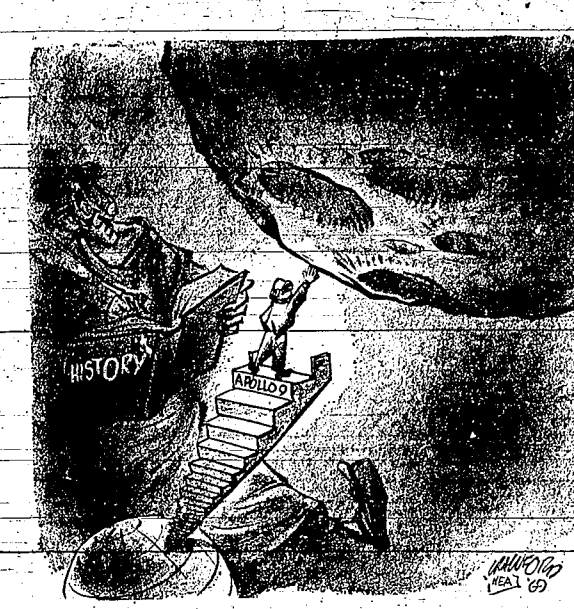

BERKELEY, Calif. — More long-haired demonstrators in the cold, drizzle fear now gripping the faculty. Ever since the Free Speech Movement of 1964-65 transformed Berkeley into a center of agitation, professors have criticized student radicals only at the price of rising vituperation from them. Now faculty members feel that price is going up. The fear of disruption of their classrooms and even of physical violence is now endemic among non-radical faculty members.

Little Progress

It was a year ago that the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders issued its landmark warning that America was in danger of splitting into two societies — one black, one white, separate and unequal. What progress has been made since then in solving the country's foremost domestic crisis? A major first-anniversary appraisal finds: Not much.

Despite the passage of a federal fair-housing law, the physical distance between the places where blacks live and where whites live did not diminish during the year. White concern with the problems of the cities was high early in 1968 because of the Koerner report and the assassination of Martin Luther King, but it hardened into outright resistance to slum-ghetto needs later in the year. In sum, there has not been "even a serious start toward the changes in national priorities, programs and institutions advocated by the commission."

Philanthropic Foundations

WASHINGTON — Okay, let us continue to keep a wary eye on the bloated military machine, but the time also has come to consider the philanthropic foundations as another potential threat to the principle of government by the people, as opposed to government by clique.

by the Ways and Means Committee hearings are every enough. At the end of 1966, there were 30,262 tax-exempt foundations. Of this staggering number, the House Small Business Committee has studied only 500, and has discovered these 500 had assets of $15.1 billion, up 41 per cent in six years, and a gross income in 1965 of $1,079 billion. It is safe to say that the 30,262 foundations have assets totaling at least one-third of the annual Federal budget.

to both Presidential and Congressional control. This is not to say that the Ford Foundation's McGeehee Bundy or some other Rockefeller is about to march on the White House. The recent army of PIR D's or antipoverty workers. But indisputably the foundations have become a force to be reckoned with politically, along with the bogeyman in Wall Street, Big Labor and civil rights movement dominated by militant advocates of capitalism.

Thus, Berkeley is fertile soil for the hard-core, 309 or so trou-

MR. SPECTATOR

Here Comes The Parade

This was Main Street South in Twin Falls on Labor Day in 1900. It was a big event — one of the first parades in the community which was born in 1904.

There were few spectators along the parade route, as noted in the picture, because practically all the residents of the community were in the parade.

with the signs advertising the event, as you note in the old photo which was taken by pioneer photographer C. E. Blischoe. Sunday's picture will be of a pioneer visitor to Twin Falls and a landmark of that time which is now gone for good.

ART BUCHWALD

"Year Of Mother"

WASHINGTON — Nineteen, sixty-nine, according to the Chinese calendar, is the "year of the rooster" in the United States. It could be the "year of the mother." It may be too early to predict, but I think this is going to be a year for mothers.

one who did it had a lousy mother. The kids' fair at the colleges, and the schoolboys say they're not revolting against the school. They're really revolting against their mothers. How do you think that is going to be? "Terrible, I should think," I told my Aunt Sophie. "And it is true that there is an campaign on going on, but I would attribute it to the confused anxiety we're living in. People have to be a somebody, for their mothers."

Young Readers To Assist In Picking Book For Award

Young readers in Twin Falls will have an opportunity to take part in choosing the Young Readers' Choice Award again this year. The award, established in 1949 by the Pacific Northwest Library Association, is given each year to the book which has proved most popular to the children. A committee solicits suggestions for popular titles from school and public libraries in Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia. The year's ballot is available to children in grades four through eight at the Twin Falls Public Library. Voting will take place April 12, at which time the ballots will be sent to the University of Washington, Seattle, to be tallied. There is a lapse of three years between date of publication and selection of the award book. Titles on this year's ballots were published in 1966. They are: "Nighthawks on Nantucket" by Joan Aiken; "Andy Buck

Nine People Face Charges

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — Eight men and a woman face arraignment on charges involving terror bombings on the San Francisco Peninsula. A grand jury indicted them on 38 charges of criminal syndicalism; conspiracy to disturb a public meeting; possession of tear gas and possession of explosives. The suspects were rounded up Feb. 15 in raids on their homes. Officers seized 30 guns and 70 pounds of black powder along with pictures of Adolf Hitler and other mementoes of the Nazi era. Police said the group disguised its meetings as Bible group study session. The raids came after a police officer, Armando Laracu, 25, proved as a sympathizer in order to gain evidence. Police said the defendants were involved in about 30 bombings directed at such groups as Concerned Citizens for Peace and the Mid-Peninsula Free University.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have very recently taken a job which requires me to work very close to a dentist. He has offices in one of the best professional buildings in town and his patients are mostly well-to-do.

The first day, I noticed that the dentist had had onions or garlic for lunch. "Well," I figured, "that can happen to any one once in a while."

Well, every day this week the dentist has come back from lunch smelling like an Italian pantry or a Kosher kitchen or whatever.

I can't understand why one of his patients doesn't say something to him. If I were a patient, I would—but I only work here. Any suggestions? I don't know how much longer I can take this.

NEW GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Tell him! He may appreciate it. And if he doesn't, your next job HAS to be better.

DEAR ABBY: There have been several occasions when I have turned down job offers for dates, and their return was, "Well, then I guess you prefer girls."

This always leaves me speechless. Abby, please suggest a good reply to this silly remark.

LIKES MEN

DEAR ABBY: I am not the kind of person who discusses my personal problems with friends, but I am so frustrated I have to talk to someone, and I do need some advice.

My husband has a high executive position, and is a good provider for his family. He is well-liked by his business friends who work with him. I might add, on these occasions my husband is great company and when he looks at me, his eyes sparkle. He is all a woman could ask for.

BUT, there is another side to him which is killing me. He never wants to accept invitations from people who whom he isn't involved in business. And he doesn't want me to be in a fairly convincing performance. When I have gone against his wishes in this regard, I've buffered an evening of embarrassment and humiliation, so I don't do it again.

Magic Valley Favorites

MRS. LINDA HOLLAND, Recipe 7, Twin Falls

Pineapple Salad
1 can crushed pineapple
2 small packages lemon gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups hot water
1/2 cup-milk
1/2 cup grated cheese
3/4 cup cream or whipping cream

Combine pineapple and sugar in a saucepan and boil for three minutes. Pour this mixture into dissolved gelatin. Let cool slightly. Add nuts and cheese. Put in refrigerator until it just starts to jell. Add cream. Chill until set.

(The Times-News will pay $5 each week for the best recipe submitted for Magic Valley Favorites. If you have a favorite recipe, just mail it to the Recipe Department, Wauna's Edge Editor. The recipe becomes the property of the Times-News and cannot be returned.)

SELECTING A HEIFER from the Blaine Curtis Hereford herd, with the help of Mr. Curtis, right, are two College of Southern Idaho officials, Herschel Boydston, left, is head of the college's agricultural department, and Dr. James L. Taylor, center, is president of the college. Dr. Taylor and Mr. Boydston are selecting a heifer which has been donated to the college's agricultural department by Mr. Curtis, Burley, in appreciation of the help he has received.

Donates Heifer To CSI

Blaine Curtis To Disperse Herd

BURLEY — A great era in Idaho livestock history will end on March 15 when the Blaine Curtis and Sons entire registered Hereford herd will be dispersed at the ranch south of here.

The long established and nationally known herd has been producing on a breeding program designed to meet the needs of the commercial-cattle producer. Established in 1853, this herd has averaged about 100 bulls annually that were sold to commercial cattle producers in 17 states and Canada and Mexico.

The influence of the Curtis herd has reached many states through private sales and sales made at shows throughout the nation. Curtis Herefords have sold at the top of the past sales for many years.

Recently Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho, and Herschel Boydston, head of the CSI Agricultural Department, selected a top daughter of the senior herd sire, Tex Royal Onward 16, as a gift for Curtis Herefords to the college's agricultural department.

Mr. Boydston said, "Mr. Curtis has supported the College of Southern Idaho in the past with monies donated to the agricultural department scholarship fund. $500 after the establishment of the college. Mr. Curtis offered breeding stock to help establish a college beef herd. Although we would have preferred to retain this Hereford heifer, with the approval of Mr. Curtis, the monies derived from the sale of this heifer will be placed in a fund to be used as scholarships for worthy students when needed or used later in the establishment of a beef herd. This expression from Mr. Curtis in the future of the College of Southern Idaho is very gratifying to us at the college."

Mr. Curtis said he is "very pleased with the help received from the College of Southern Idaho and donating this heifer will show my appreciation and support to the college and its agricultural department and staff."

Over 240 head of registered Herefords, including cows with calves, will be sold at the dispersal sale on March 15. Mr. Curtis said he is dispersing his entire herd at this time because of health reasons.

All cutmen, both purebred breeders and commercial producers, are urged to attend this dispersal sale for top-notch Herefords.

ADMIRING HEREFORD heifer, which has been donated to the College of Southern Idaho by Blaine Curtis, Burley, center, are Dr. James L. Taylor, left, CSI president, and Herschel Boydston, right, head of the college's agricultural department. The heifer will be sold at Mr. Curtis' dispersal sale March 15 and monies from the sale will go into an agricultural scholarship fund.

Extension Service Discussed

By ROBERT VANAUDELN, Times-News Farm Editor

The extension service in Twin Falls County was discussed recently at great length — mostly constructive criticism — by members of the Twin Falls County Extension Advisory Council, which meets in Twin Falls County.

Mr. Loughmiller said that the county needs the extension service more than ever and that it has to grow to stay ahead of everything, which "they haven't been." He said he would not like to see the extension service cut out, but more contacts with the public have to be made in order to keep the program.

Other members of the council, which represents all phases of agriculture in Twin Falls County, said that more communications are needed between the local extension service personnel and the public, especially through the news media, as well as through personal contact.

Mr. Loughmiller also said that with new products, some good extension service has begun helping the low-income families to raise their standard of living. Mr. Loughmiller said this group of people need help and that the program that is under way should have been started out the nation.

Mr. Loughmiller said that the extension service has come under fire throughout the state after the counties were asked to increase their contribution toward the salaries of county agents. He added that this county cannot afford to lose any of its agents, as some counties are now doing, but the extension service needs to be progressive.

Spud, Onion Group To Take Part In Japan Trade Fair

MURTAUGH — Participation in the annual Japan Trade Fair this year has been approved by the Idaho Potato and Onion Commission.

The fair is scheduled in Tokyo April 17 through May 6.

Jack Alfred, Murtaugh, commission member, said the Idaho wheat industry has been successful in opening up the Japanese market following similar trade fair trips in the past. The Commission feels strongly that a large potential exists for potato products among the Japanese population, they reported.

Reconstituted potato products accompanied by simple directions would have a clear advantage over other U.S. foods on the Japan market, he said.

Processor members of the Commission agreed a need exists in the industry to increase use of Idaho potatoes by entering the export market. Participation by the Potato Processors of Idaho in the food fair trip was requested.

The Commission also set plans to provide representation for the Supermarket Institutional Convention in Atlantic City, N.J., and the National Restaurant Show in Chicago, both scheduled during May. Both of these food conventions give the Commission an opportunity to promote use of Idaho potatoes at the national level.

The Commission acknowledged receipt of a nation-wide survey of potato buying habits of U.S. households. The study, conducted by a New York firm, will be held confidential by the Commission pending further study.

Bureau To Meet

WENDELL — A special meeting of the Gooding County Farm Bureau will be held at 8 a.m. March 20 at Wood's Cafe, Jerome.

Featured speaker will be George Oberle, New York City representative of the Walstra Co. on Wall Street. His topic will be "Future Market Concerning Crops and Livestock."

This special meeting will take the place of the regular March meeting. Regular meetings of the Farm Bureau are held the third Thursday of each month at the Wendell Civic Club rooms instead of the Grange Hall as was reported last week.

Retained

MALTA — Gene Ward, Malta, was retained as watermaster at the annual election meeting of Cassida Creek District No. 8-C held in the Elba LDS Cultural Hall.

Charles Ward, Malta, who was chosen chairman, appointed Donald Chandler, Elba; Ted Taylor and Golden Gardner, both Malts, as committeemen. Jay Cottle, Malta, will continue as secretary in the organization.

Social Security Question Box

If you have any questions about your social security, address them to: Mr. Davis, Box 1239, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Q. When the retirement age was lowered to age 62, why didn't they make it possible to pay full social security benefits at age 62 instead of paying only 80 per cent of what a person can receive at age 65?

A. The reason benefits are reduced at age 62 for workers and wives is that by doing this the actual cost over a period of years remains about the same for those who take reduced benefits. If full benefits were paid at age 62, this would result in great additional cost and could not be done without a substantial increase in the contribution rate.

Q. If my earnings are more than $1680.00 in 1968, will I lose all my social security checks for the year?

A. Not necessarily. One dollar of your benefits will be withheld for every $200 that your earnings exceed $1,680 up to $2,880. If your earnings exceed $2,880 then $1.00 of your benefits will be withheld for every dollar in excess of $2,880. Therefore, if your earnings were $2,000 or $3,000, you may still receive some of your monthly benefits.

Fight Import Bills, Says Japanese Aide

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—Japan's Minister Extraordinary in the United States urged American farmers today to fight the rash of import restriction bills being presented to the Congress.

Bunroku Yoshino, a top official in Japan's Washington embassy, said exports of agricultural products to the United States are being sought on an optimistic direction in U. S. trade policy. Yoshino said, "Limitations, in one form or another, are being sought on virtually all major Japanese exports to this country."

Yoshino said his country had already agreed to voluntary restrictions on steel, but "we find the plan for additional protection for textiles and apparel to be completely unjustified."

"To achieve growth in agricultural trade in the Pacific area, it will be necessary to work together to maintain and expand liberal trade policies in the area," he said.

"In this context, you and your fellow agricultural leaders throughout the United States have a great responsibility for you have considerable influence upon the course of events in this country."

Idaho Falls Sugar Factory To End Run

IDAHO FALLS (UPI)—With an all-time record for sugar production in eastern Idaho, the Idaho Falls Sugar Factory is pre-capacity from past seasons. The piling to wind up the initial sugar content of the crop was a campaign of slicing 1968 sugar good, he said, and beets stored well.

Lloyd V. Olsen, district manager for Utah-Idaho Sugar Company in Idaho said production from the 1968 crop was approximately 165 million pounds of pure, white sugar. He said this eclipsed the record of 142.5 million pounds set in 1965. Olsen said the factory had a good campaign this year with ready assured, "the big sugar higher volume and stepped up factory at Idaho Falls is pre-capacity from past seasons. The piling to wind up the initial sugar content of the crop was a campaign of slicing 1968 sugar good, he said, and beets stored well.

432,000 Are Signed Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nearly 432,000 farms signed up to participate in the government's 1969 feed grain support program during the first two weeks of the program enrollment period, the Agriculture Department said today.

The department also reported that nearly 208,000 farms signed up for the 1969 wheat support program in the same period and nearly 142,000 farms enrolled in the cotton support program.

The report covers enrollment from Feb. 2-14. The sign-up period continues through March 14. Officials said feed grain farmers agreed to idle nearly 10.2 million acres of corn, grain sorghum and barley land in return for price supports and acreage diversion payments. The government hopes to get about 37 million acres retired from these crops this year to reduce surpluses and bolster prices.

Farmers enrolling in the wheat program so far have agreed to voluntarily cut acreage by about one million acres below their 1968 allotments. The agriculture department's voluntary retirement goal is about 2.5 million acres.

Potato growers:
Thimet gives "built-in" protection against WIREWORMS, aphids, psyllid, leafhoppers

Use Thimet® 10-G insecticide or Thimet-impregnated fertilizer at planting time—and get economical, extra-long control of insects. Thimet's powerful systemic action means all-around plant protection including the lower leaves. By controlling insects with Thimet you prevent psyllid yellows and other destructive virus diseases that reduce crop yields.

With Thimet working systemically inside the plant you get steady, long-lasting even control. Thimet reduces soil compaction caused by spraying and dusting equipment—eliminates drift problems and hazard to beneficial insects.

Thimet protection produces a high quality crop for table use, chipping or other processing.

For further information, contact your insecticide supplier. Before using any pesticide, stop and read the label.

Cassia County Snow Depths Are Above Previous Years

BURLEY—Measurements made on the 10 snow courses of Cassia County March 1 show snow depths and water content are still above previous years average for March.

Snow course measurement for Burley was 56.2 inches of snow, 18.4 inches water. In 1968 there were 52 inches snow and 9.7 inches water. In 1967 measurements were 37 inches snow and 11.4 inches water, giving a long-time average of 15 inches of water and a 120 per cent of average.

Badger Gulch has 41.3 inches of snow with 11.6 inches of water, while in 1968 there were 13 inches snow and 5.2 inches water. In 1967 there were 28.7 inches of snow and 7.8 of water for a 9.7 long-time average of water with a 120 per cent of average.

Vipont measurement was 53.3 inches of snow and 16.3 inches water. During 1968 there were 30 inches snow and 8.5 inches water. In 1967 there were 24 inches snow and 10.5 inches water with 11.1 for the long-time average of water and 140 per cent of average.

Howell Canyon has 63 inches snow and 23 inches water while in 1968 there were 43 inches snow and 15.2 inches water. In 1967 there were 52 inches snow and 18.7 inches water, with 16.1 long-time average of water and 117 per cent of average.

Sheep Hollow has 31 inches snow and 7.5 inches water. In 1968 and 1967 there was just a trace of snow, with 4.4 long-time average inches of water and 170 per cent of average.

Boy Scout Camp measurements were 46.4 inches snow and 13.2 inches water, compared to 32 inches snow and 11.1 inches water in 1968, and 11.7 inches snow and 10.6 inches water in 1967, with a long-time average of 12.4 inches water and 106 per cent of average.

Clear Creek has 37.2 inches snow and 27.2 inches water, compared to 40 inches of snow and 11.4 inches water in 1968 and 53.1 inches snow and 16.3 inches water in 1967 with a long-time average of 15.8 inches water and 172 per cent of average.

One Mile Summit has 39.2 inches snow and 9.1 inches water. In 1968 there were 15 inches snow and 4.5 inches water. In 1967 there were 16 inches snow and 4.1 inches water, with a long-time average of 6 inches water and 152 per cent of average.

Summit Springs has 53.3 inches snow and 10.6 inches water, compared to 25 inches snow and 7.7 inches water in 1968 and 26.4 inches snow and 7.4 inches water in 1967. The long-time average is 26.2 inches of water and 139 per cent of average.

Sublett has 34.4 inches snow and 25.5 inches water with 19 inches snow and 6.1 inches water in 1968, 30.6 inches snow and 8.2 inches of water in 1967 and a long-time average of 19.5 inches of water and 106 per cent of average.

Bossetter, Badger Gulch, Howell Canyon and Sublett long-time averages are a result of 15 years of records.

Soil Conservation Service and Forest Service personnel obtained the snow survey information.

SEN. FRANK CHURCH, center, confers with Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado and staff aides during the recent hearings of the Senate Public Lands Subcommittee on Increases in grazing fees ordered by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior. Sen. Church, Idaho, who is chairman of the subcommittee, called the hearings to develop information on the new fee schedules, which would raise grazing fees four times the present amount over the next 10 years. Other subcommittee members seated are, from left, Sen. Clinton Anderson, New Mexico; Sen. Church; Sen. Allott; Sen. Len Jordan, Idaho, and Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, Wyoming.

2 Shoshone Area Cattle Associations, BLM Sign Allotment Management Plan

SHOSHONE—The Board of Directors for the Shoshone Cattle Association and Terra Hone Cattle Association have signed an allotment management plan with the Bureau of Land Management. The plan will use a rotation grazing system on 60,000 acres of private, state and federal lands located in the northwest corner of Lincoln County, north of Shoshone.

Twenty-eight operators run 2,400 cattle in the allotment. The new grazing system consists of a rotation of pastures to allow maximum forage production, a maximum harvest of this forage by cattle, still leaving feed for wildlife that use the allotment. This system will increase overall cattle production, produce more pounds of beef, and increase the carrying capacity of the allotment.

Operators and BLM staff enter and exit also wintering on this allotment and this grazing system will eliminate most competition between game and livestock.

The allotment management plan is very flexible by leaving the decision making to the board of directors and the Bennett Hills area manager. They will decide turnout dates, proper stocking rates, grazing extensions to the basic season, and favor range improvement. Unlike many associations, the directors meet every month, thus keeping on top of all matters affecting their allotment.

Public relations between the users and sportsmen generally have been good, with deer, chukar and snipe groups using the allotment. There always seems to be two or three days of fence mending in the spring, due to hunters cutting the fences in the fall instead of looking for gates. It is hoped that in the future, hunters using the allotment will favor deer and sportsmen they should like sportsmen, as it is only a privilege to hunt on federal ranges.

Cattle and sheep first grazed this area during the 1870s. Large numbers of livestock using the range throughout the grazing season have caused the area to slowly deteriorate. In 1957 the area was divided between sheep and cattle use. Since that time the BLM has worked with operators to co-operated in range improvement projects.

Approximately 50 reservoirs have been developed, 2,700 acres seeded in crested wheat grass, and 5,000 acres of brush sprayed.

Noy Brackett Raps Grazing Fee Increase At Hearing

A Magic Valley cattleman responding to the hearing held by the Subcommittee on Public Lands of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee in Washington, D.C.

Noy Brackett, Hagerman, and past president of the Idaho Cattleman's Association, represented the Idaho State Farm Bureau at the hearing called by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, on the grazing fee increase that went into effect in "January."

Mr. Brackett said that the increased grazing fee "may very well be disastrous" in its effects on Idaho. His testimony is based on the Farm Bureau's contention that such a ruling should have waited until completion of the report by the Public Land Law Enforcement Commission.

Mr. Brackett said, "To say the least, this has not been done. This policy alone would be sufficient to oppose the grazing fee increase. The majority delegates representing nearly 1.8 farm memberships adopted the policy at the Farm Bureau Federation convention in Kansas City."

"The Idaho Farm Bureau with nearly 12,000 farm members, is in complete agreement with this policy."

"The economic effect on Idaho communities and ranchers may very well be disastrous. During the steps to the maximum grazing fee increase, Idaho will inherit a loss in rancher income because of the increased production cost which will certainly reflect on the economy of the state. The increased grazing fee doesn't result in a correct response received. In permit values are recognized as "competent studies reveal if comparable Idaho public land private ranges have little differences, if any. Federal agencies and land in a position through the years have recognized the value of permits when ranches were bought and sold. The schedule of repayment of loans by cooperative grazing association to the Farm Home Administration will be jeopardized because the loans were collateral on present grazing fee structure.

"Capitalized permit value losses for the ranching industry in Idaho and its direct effect on the economy would be in the millions of dollars. Using average public land permit value figures, Idaho has a conservative figure of $30-million capitalization in permit values of sheep and cattle on BLM and Forest Service ranges.

"Permits, used as collateral for loans by lending institutions, government or private, may well be eliminated and of course the borrower will be in a weaker pay-off position. Future mortgages for ranchers—doubtful.

"An administrative fee of 11.1-g such as a grazing fee increase, with its magnitude or results should receive detailed study and research to weigh the benefits and disadvantages before enforcement.

"Ranchers will contribute more to maintaining federal lands as permit fee revenue intake will decrease.

"Increased fee exists in some Idaho ranches, where the return on invested capital is shown to be negative, will force these ranches out of business. We trust the poverty wages should not be intentionally multiplied. Millions of dollars are being funneled to rural areas as a poverty eliminator."

Eye-glasses Sought By Filer Grange

FILER—Mrs. Paul Hash sought Grange members for donations of old eye glasses for a Grange national charity project at the regular meeting in the Blue Grange Hall.

Mrs. Loren Drake was installed as lecturer. Members voted to donate to the fund to send several delegates to Gila, Arizona. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson served refreshments.

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Cairns were guests. Mrs. Cairns sang two solos, accompanying herself on the guitar. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Williams showed pictures of a trip they recently made to Australia. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson served refreshments.

PRODUCTION RISES

NOISE!—Production of red meat by commercial slaughter plants in Idaho during January is estimated at 22,300,000 pounds by the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is nine per cent above a year ago.

Grangers At King Hill Donate $20

KING HILL — A Thank-you letter for $20 sent to the Idaho State Deaf and Blind school for spending money for needy children, was read by the secretary, Mrs. Denver Allred, at the King Hill Grange meeting.

The members discussed money-making projects, and a monthly drive. Mrs. T. M. Timbers reported on credits that could be earned this year by the group. Mrs. Joe Young lectured, listed the contests for 1969, with Mrs. Frank Jones in charge of the sewing and Mrs. Cecil Bott, the photo contest.

Mrs. Rodney Rubens and Mrs. Glenn McGee will be in charge of the musical contest. There may also be drawings or posters pertaining to Grange history, in water colors.

The members voted to send $5 in Care for the benefit of school kitchens in Chile, South America.

Pomona Master Horace-Lipe brought a bulletin of Idaho State legislative news and a list of things the Grange endorses, including the maintenance of the "farm" type of economy in government, self-help programs for the needy, an improved all-weather highway between north and south Idaho and assessment of real property based on the earning power of that property.

If daylight saving time is continued, it is suggested to begin June 1 and Sept. 1. Slow moving vehicles should be required to display safety stickers. An increase is urged in the amount allowed on the state income tax return, for each dependent.

*They oppose the increase in the gas tax, legalized gambling, the sale of obscene literature and the unionization of farm labor.

Melvin Helwich was reported as being in the Veteran's hospital, Boise. Mrs. Young conducted some games during the reciters hour. Mr. and Mrs. Denver Allred served refreshments.

Reid Newby Retained As Watermaster

HAILEY — Reid Newby, Shoshone, was re-elected as watermaster for District No. 7-AB, Big Wood River, at the annual meeting of waterusers in the Blaine county courthouse. Eighteen waterusers from Blaine and Lincoln counties attended.

The proposed budget was adopted. Robert Hamilton from the State Department of Reclamation, Boise, explained several points concerning water measuring devices. He also told of the cooperative program between the State and Federal reclamation departments using U. S. Geological Survey for maintenance and metering on the main streams in the state.

Mr. Newby said deputies for his district will remain the same as last year, with Woodrow Watts, Bellevue, serving the Upper Big Wood River; Warren Hoodapple, Gooding, Lower Little Wood River and Lower Big

Oakley FFA Chapter Wins Swine Event At Blackfoot

OAKLEY — The annual Future Farmers of America Swine Judging Contest held recently at Blackfoot by the Idaho Purebred Swine Breeders Association, was won by the Oakley High School FFA Chapter.

Members of the Oakley judging team came home with the first prize which was a "papered" Hampshire-Gilt, donated by Carl James, Blackfoot, and a trophy donated by the Purebred Swine Breeders Association.

Team members included Marvin Alton, Chris Baker, Stephen Severe, Norman Bergener and Keith Adams. The Oakley FFA chapter adviser and instructor is J. R. Swan.

The prize gilt has been named by the chapter members as "Arnold the Papered Pig."

Bull Sale Set

The Idaho Cattlemen's Association has scheduled its annual Spring Range Bull Sale for March 14 at Filer.

Some 200 Hereford and Shorthorn bulls have been consigned for the sale, reportedly the Northwest's largest range bull sale. The bulls range in ages from 18 to 30 months.

All cattlemen interested in top quality bulls are urged to attend the sale, which begins at 11 a.m.

Completes Course

KIMBERLY — Bill Fahey, Kimberly, has completed a course on artificial insemination by the Cache Valley Breeding Association in Logan.

He received his license from Cache Valley after completing his studies on semen collection, nutrition, heat synchronization and basic inheritance. He is registered with all beef and dairy associations.

Named Directors

FILER — The Filer men were named directors of the Idaho Swine Producers' Association during a recent meeting in Caldwell.

Vernon Lassen and Douglas Schoder were named to the board.

Grange Sets Benefit For New Hospital

TUTTLE — A benefit for the new Gooding Hospital was planned at a meeting of the Tuttle Grange.

A pancake supper will be held at the Tuttle Grange Hall at 7 p.m. March 19 with the proceeds to be given for equipment for the hospital.

Raynard Wright reported on an executive meeting of Granges in Gooding County which authorized a letter to Gov. Don Samuelson to remind him that he ran for election on conservatism in state government spending.

Idaho's 1968 Calf, Lamb Crop Listed

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said the Idaho calf crop is estimated at 657,000 head.

This is four per cent above the 1967 and 1967 identical calf crops of 629,000 head.

Cows and heifers two years old and older on Jan. 1 were estimated at 708,000 head, compared with 684,000 a year earlier and 698,000 two years ago.

The 1968 lamb crop is estimated at 888,000 head — the smallest lamb crop on record dating back to 1924.

WASHINGTON — Farm prices are now at 72 cent a bushel, one point below a year ago, states USDA officials.

Wood River, and Leslie-Bushby, Richfield, Silver Creek and Upper Little Wood River.

Mr. Newby said the adopted budget for Blaine, Lincoln and Gooding counties will be available within the next week.

Now, effective wireworm control, even if you plant before April 1.

Now, you can apply Diazinon® at higher rates and get effective wireworm control when planting before April 1.

Just broadcast Diazinon either as a spray or granular application and control will last long enough to do a job on wireworms.

And what a job it does. Even on any strains that might be resistant to other insecticides. For years growers have been able to rely on Diazinon's effectiveness.

Now you can get the same kind of reliability on early planted potatoes, too.

Of course, Diazinon used at the lower rates still does the job on wireworms in potatoes planted after the first of April.

Either way, early or late, you'll get effective wireworm control with Diazinon.

HANDING WATCH TO Terry Jarolimek, Cassia County's outstanding 4-H boy, is Mrs. Annjean Scholer, former Cassia County extension agent. Terry received the watch, donated by Jensen Jewelry, Burley, during the recent awards banquet for 4-H'ers and 4-H leaders.

MRS. BETTY WALKER, a 4-H leader for the past 22 years, receives an award for outstanding service to the Cassia County 4-H Council and Youth of the Community, from Dee Rex Bingham, 4-H Council president.

Cassia Area 4-H'ers, Leaders Get Awards

BURLEY—Cassia County 4-H Leaders held their awards banquet recently at Stampede Cafe. A trophy was presented to Mrs. Betty Walker, Declo, for 22 years of outstanding service to the 4-H Council and Youth of the Community by Dee Rex Bingham, 4-H Council president.

Mrs. Walker has served in 4-H work consecutively since 1948 and has had the leadership over 216 girls during the years. In 1954, 1959 and 1961 Mrs. Walker led two clubs each year and in 1963 she was the leader for three 4-H clubs. She is also a member of the 4-H Camp council.

Mrs. Bingham was master of ceremony and presented the following awards:

Other awards presented were Key awards to Dawn Hunt, 10 years of 4-H work and 25 completed projects; Christine Gillette, six years and 48 projects; Linda Duke, nine years and 29 projects; Carolyn Zollinger, four years and 15 projects; and Shirley Bowers, seven years and 30 projects. Farnum Warr, Milner, presented the Key awards.

Jim Chaburn, Albion, presented the leaders awards to Richard Kossman, Malta, five years, and he has had the leadership of 43 boys; Mrs. Carl Newirth, Malta, five years and 86 girls; Jay Kidd, Declo, five years and 68 boys; Mrs. Roy Hondu, Burley, 10 years and 69 girls; and Mrs. Glen Pappas, Malta, 15 years and 176 boys and girls.

The outstanding 4-H girl was Carol Warr, Albion, who completed nine years of 4-H work in projects of swine, pig, lamb, poultry, gardening, family living, citizenship, first aid, safety, health, style review and junior leadership. This year she received medals for projects in the call h, achievement, poultry and junior leadership. The award was a watch donated by First Security Bank, Burley, and was presented by Merrill Atkinson, assistant manager of the bank. Mrs. Farnum Warr, Burley, received the award for her daughter who is in nursing training in Salt Lake City.

The outstanding 4-H Boy was Terry Jarolimek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jarolimek.

The youth has completed five years of 4-H work in projects of tractor, crops, garden, electricity, poultry, swine, knitting, soap, family living, beef, entomology, bees, home improvements and photography. This year he received a medal from Eastman Kodak Co. for his work in photography.

Mrs. Annjean Scholer, former Cassia County Extension Agent, presented a "Bulwa" watch donated by Jensen Jewelry, Burley, to Terry Jarolimek, as outstanding 4-H boy.

Grace prior to the dinner was given by Lewis Dille. Musical entertainment was presented by Mack Davis, Larry Henderson, John Goodyear and Stan Kilduff, family students at Magic Valley Christian College, Albion.

Guest speaker was Ernest Blauger who spoke on "Service, Life is a series of problems and that is the key to happiness. Happiness is the ability to control ones state of mind," Blauger stated. The purpose of the 4-H program is to help young people to get young people to work in 4-H requires great leadership."

Options For Farmers Are Given By ASC

HAILEY—Verl W. Simpson, chairman, Blaine County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said producers participating in farm programs may choose from a wide range of options that will permit them to realize maximum program benefits.

Producers with a feed grain base may exercise their option and sign up to divert a minimum of 20 per cent of their base to qualify for program benefits. They also may divert additional acres for payment. The price support payment will be earned on an acreage of feed grain up to 50 per cent of the base.

Mr. Simpson explains that those who take part in the wheat program are also eligible for "diversion" use an acreage equal to 15 per cent of the farm allotment, may produce wheat on all their allotment acres.

Farmers who wish to produce less than their full allotment may sign up to earn diversion payments on the additional diverted acres. Domestic marketing certificates will then be earned on the acreage devoted to wheat up to 43 per cent of the allotment.

Producers participating in both the wheat and feed grain program also have the option of substituting wheat for feed grain or feed grain for wheat in any combination within the total permitted acreage. Diversion payments will be based on the program crops underplant.

Producers who participate in the feed grain, or wheat program will be eligible for price support loan on their entire production of respective crops.

Producers who participate in the feed grain, or wheat program will be eligible for price support loan on their entire production of respective crops.

Grange Hears Of Hawaiian Trip

HAGERMAN—Mrs. Rose Oliver and Mrs. Rose Smith spoke on their recent trip to Hawaii at the meeting of the Hagerman Valley Grange.

Following their report, the group sang songs which the women learned while visiting there. Mrs. Smith was given the obligation.

The monthly dinner meeting will be held March 17. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scraggs, Mr. and Mrs. Don Peterson and Margaret McClung.

Poster Winners Are Reported

The Twin Falls County Farm Bureau's safety slogan poster winners were announced recently by the bureau.

First place winner was Kirk Ramsey in the senior division and Craig Shepherd in the junior division. Second place winner was Kelly Ellen in the senior division, and Connie Woodland, junior division.

Boatwright Leads Minico Past Idaho Falls; T.F. Is Beaten In A-1 Meet

By PAUL BUKER
Times-News Sports Writer

POCATELLO — Junior Jim Boatwright turned on a dazzling 37-point display and had his finest career night in rebounding to lead the Minico Spartans to a half-century 68-64 upset of the Idaho Falls Tigers in the feature of Thursday's opening round in the Class A-1 basketball tournament.

Twin Falls, fell to the Pocatello Indians 64-51, experiencing ice cold first and third quarters.

Weiskopf, Funseth Share Golf Lead

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Long-hitting Tom Weiskopf, of the Army, barely two weeks into an untold "veteran" Rose Funseth fired a 4-undep-par 68's Thursday despite a stiff wind to share the first round lead in the $115,000 Citrus Open golf tournament.

Several others, including defending champion, Duke Sikes, missed their birdies when they finished their rounds shortly after noon, but increasing wind and finally rain forced them back.

Sikes, missing his chance to put the lead into a three-way tie when he bogeyed his next to last hole, finished with a 74 under par 89, where he was joined by perennial runner-up Tommy Aaron, Miller Barber, Jack McGowan and polo victim Larry Hinson.

Despite wind that gusting up to 20 miles per hour, more than a third of the starting field of 144 golfers equaled or bettered par over the comparatively short, 6,849-yard "Rio Pinar" course, top two on the first round were Florida's Weiskopf and Funseth.

"This is the kind of course where you should score well if you drive well," said Weiskopf, who said he never scored a 68 would tie for the lead. "If the wind wasn't so high, the scores would have been a lot lower."

Funseth, who was the first to finish his round, was the first round might not be completed, but Thursday's scores would be washed out. The rain started just as Weiskopf was putting out and came down heavily for about 30 minutes — but everyone was able to finish.

Weiskopf, completed a five-minute tour as an Army clerk-type just four days before entering the Doral yet scored well enough in Miami to win nearly $1,400.

"I have the type of swing where I feel I can lay off for a month or so without it hurting me," said Funseth, who blasted said, "Of course, you lose your touch in the short game."

Funseth, 35, has only one tour victory to his credit in more than 13 years — the 1965 Phoenix Open.

Two strokes back in a packed field at 70, was J.C. Goswie who canned the third hole in one of his career by laying a seven-iron short four feet in front of the pin on the 165-yard 12th hole.

Linked with Goswie were Jack Nicklaus, former Masters champion Gay Brewer, New Zealand leader Bob Charles, Cliff Brown, Jerry Abbott, Dick Crawford, Bert Yancey, South African Harold Henning, Lee Trevino, Orville Moody and Johnny Pott.

Exuberant Tommy Shaw, winner of $30,000 as champion of last week's Doral Open, was one under par going into his final two holes Thursday but wound up with a 75 after taking a triple bogey for blasting out a sand trap into further trouble.

Ray Allen, the youngster who got into the tournament as an amateur, withdrew because of bursts in his hip, shot a 74 at Jessa Snead — Sam Snead's son — who was playing smooth as ever at 55 years of age, shot a 72.

Rose Signs Red Contract For $85,000

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Pete Rose, leading hitter in the major leagues last season with a .335 average, Thursday night signed his 1969 contract with the Cincinnati Reds for an estimated $85,000.

Rose, who will move from first to center field this season, had he will report to the Reds training camp in Tampa, Fla., Monday after he fulfills a military obligation. Rose's wife and daughter have been in Tampa since last Monday.

Rose's signing makes him the highest paid player in the club's history. Frank Robinson, former Reds' star now with the Baltimore Orioles, drew the previous high salary of $68,000 in 1964.

The signing of Rose leaves pitcher Jack Fisher as the lone Reds' without a winning season. Fisher, who was rejected a new contract offer from the Reds and said he was going home to Bayside, N.Y.

The Reds will begin Grapefruit League play Friday when they meet the Philadelphia Phillies in Clearwater, Fla. Gary Nungesser, Steve Hudson and Clay Carroll will pitch for the Reds.

Pete Needs 49 Points To Snap Record

NEW YORK (UPI) — All-American Pete Maravich of Louisiana State needs 49 points against Georgia Saturday night to end his junior year on a record breaking note.

Maravich, already assured of his second straight scoring title, will be out of eclipse the entire major college scoring record of 47.7 points per game which he set last season.

Maravich, who has a 43.81 per game mark, according to statistics released Friday by the National Collegiate Sports Services, entered the final game of the campaign with 431 points in 24 games for a 43.1 per game mark, well ahead of runner-up Dick Mount of Big Ten member Purdue. Mount averaged 37.5 points in 21 games for a 37.4 average.

Since playoffs and tournament games are included in final statistics for season leaders, Maravich is the only player to have wrapped up a championship, with all other leaders or contenders still involved in post-season games.

Low Alcindor of top ranked UCLA continues as field goal percentage leader (.839) having connected on 215 of 253 attempts; Jody Flinn of Ohio State leads in free throw percentage (.820) with 100 of 124; and Scener Hayward of Detroit tops the rebounders with 472 in 22 games for a 21.5 average.

Solons Mark Ted's Debut By Getting Only One Hit

By United Press International

—First impressions are any number of things, but Ted Williams, one of baseball's all-time great hitters, had his managerial debut made somewhat less than a smashing success Thursday when his Washington Senators were held to one hit while losing to the New York Yankees, 6-5, in a Grapefruit League season opener for both clubs.

The only Senator hit was a two-out single in the ninth by Dick Billings, Washington manager, to make the game close.

The world champion Detroit Tigers satisfied their final home season in Philadelphia Wednesday when they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1.

Horan signed for an estimated $50,000. Horan agreed to terms from his Detroit home and is expected in the Tigers' camp at Lakeland, Fla., late Saturday.

Manager Mayo Smith said Horan's delay in signing and the resultant setback in training would keep the burly slugger pitcher, Jack Jenkins, Shop out of the first 10 exhibition games.

Outfielders Rick Monday and Reggie Jackson became the final members of the Oakland Athletics to sign their 1969 contracts. Monday, the American League's 10th-leading hitter last season, batted .271 while Jackson slugged .29 homers.

Outfielder first baseman John Briggs ended his holdout with burg and General Manager Bling Devine indicated both might be fined when they do show up.

Rookie Tom Shopay's three-run homer accounted for the Yankees' final runs off losing pitcher Jack Jenkins. Shopay also had a double as the Yankees collected 10 hits to give John Cumberland the victory in relief.

Bob Bailey, the one-time Pittsburgh Pirates, slammed a hitting three-run homer to help Montreal edge Kansas City 9-8 in the only other exhibition game.

BRIDGE

OLD DEFENSE pointed out that South could and should have made his contract.

One of the most famous of auction bridge authorities used three of dummy's spades. Then today's hand in his lectures on defensive play. We have substituted contract bidding to take South to the same six-heart double contract reached in auction.

According to the lecturer, South could mark West with both minor-suit spades, so South decided to try to work an end play. He ruffed the first spade high, entered dummy with a trump and continued back and fourth until he had eliminated all of dummy's spades and every trump but the deuce. Then he led a diamond and finessed dummy's queen. Next came the diamond ace, followed by the seven.

If West had simply followed on diamonds, South's play would have succeeded but West played the jack and then the king, retaining the slowly deuce, so the end play did not work.

For years this hand was a fine example of brilliant defensive play. Then Travis White, writing in the Bridge World, pointed out that South could and should have made his contract. To win, South could have led a diamond first spade because that would make dummy's six spot high. He could not go down to a singleton club. Declarer could read that king, his club ace and drop the king. Therefore, he had to come down to two diamonds.

We have never learned what happened to Mr. White. He wrote several articles in the early days of contract that were well ahead of their day. Then he just seemed to lose interest in bridge.

Oswald Jacoby shares his bridge tips and techniques in his book, "Win At Bridge." You'll be a winner, too, if you send for your personal copy. Available to readers of Times-News by sending your name, address with zip code and 50 cents to: Times-News, Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Study Slated On Origin Of Craters Of Moon Great Rift

ARCO — Dr. Fred M. Bullard, professor of geology, Department of Geological Sciences, other similar features in the University of Texas, Austin, Snake River Plain, Tex., has received a $2,400 grant to study the Craters of the Moon. The rift in the Craters of the Moon are among the most recent eruptions of this type known and a detailed study of this rift hopefully will contribute to a better understanding of fissure-type eruptions.

Following the field season, samples collected will be studied in the laboratories of the Department at the University of Texas. These studies will include petrographic analysis of the various flow from this rift, radiometric dating, if possible, and other tests which appear to be useful.

Dr. Bullard has studied volcanoes all over the world, including being on a U. S. Geological Survey expedition to Alaska in 1929, where he saw for the first time an active volcano. Later he served as an assistant in the Hawaiian Volcano Observatory under Dr. A. J. Jaggard, one of the leaders in the study of volcanoes.

Objective of the study would be to determine the origin of the Great Rift, the sequence of events which have occurred along it, its eruptive history, and the relation of the rift to other rifts and volcanic features in the United States.

SON BORN

KING HILL — Word has been received here of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lawson, Boise, Feb. 27. Mrs. Russell McMillan is the maternal grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lawson, paternal grandparents, and Mrs. Marie Lawson, the great-grandmother.

HUGH HALL, who with his wife, operates the North Fork Store, north of Ketchum, cuts a path into the Mountain States Telephone booth near the store, top left. There was a tunnel to the booth before the telephone crew removed the snow. At lower left, highway crews clear and widen Highway 93 between Halley and Ketchum—a job which has been keeping them busy all winter. Doors to the store-cabin complex are reached by snow tunnels, center, and at right, Mr. and Mrs. Hall leave their store, with snowbanks on either side.

Tunnels Of Snow Are Way Of Life

KETCHUM — "You have to like this country to live here the year around," said Mrs. Doreen Hall as she stood in the wide, plowed-out roadway between the North Fork store and a 15-foot-high mountain of snow.

Set back into the snow-mountain some 10 feet are three doors, each with a walkway through three individual tunnels. Inscribed on one door is "Men," on the second "Women" and the other "door" opens into the "living room."

When the snow is melted next spring a 10 by 15, 12-foot high building will emerge from its cocoon of snow.

A short distance from the front door of the store a Mountain States Telephone booth nestles beneath another snowbank and is reached by another tunnel. Gas pumps in front of the store are easily accessible, but the peaks of snow plowed away by the store have forced for the Halls a world all their own.

It is not a lonesome world, sometimes they brought on "cabin fever." On clear days they have a spectacular view of the valley, and the Sawtooths. When a blizzard comes they are snug and warm as they listen to nature's song of lamentation.

When skies are the deep blue for which this area is noted, they receive the sun's full warmth, reflected back from the snow patches which seem to reach up to the sky.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hall have a 12-year old son, John Wesley. During the summer they serve the public almost 24 hours every day of the week at their resort six miles north of Ketchum on Highway 93.

After the tourists have returned to their homes in other climes, and the season for fishermen and big game hunters is over, travel on International highway 93 drops off.

Then it is the state highway crew who wave from their trucks, or snow or rotary plows as they pass by, or stop in for a few minutes to say "hello." Built in 1967, the highway crew by Fleming, who makes the trip from the Ketchum postoffice to Stanley each day unless the road is blocked by snow.

Members of the highway crew have the road open no far this winter by working. The crew around, through some of the worst storms encountered since the Highway was completed.

As the crew climbs higher the mercury vapor lights at North Fork store, which came on at 5:30 p. m. around Christmas, are lit up around 6:45 there will be more and more visitors came from the valleys below the snow belt just to view the majestic scenery of the Sawtooths in their winter gear.

The Halls enjoy excellent TV reception, with their own transmitter which was installed by the late Jack Holman when he and Mrs. Holman operated the store.

Although Mr. Hall says he is busy 8 to 10 hours each day remodeling their living quarters in the store building and the six cabins in their complex.

The Halls came to the North Fork area by accident after his graduation from the State University, Pocatello, May 31, 1907. So anxious were they to get here they drove here that night after the graduation ceremony.

Mr. Hall worked at the Pacific and Boise National forests during his college vacations and photography is his hobby.

He majored in journalism, but no far here had time for his writing. As his winters are mostly occupied with shoveling snow, he now has a method taught him by a former Alaskan who is spending the winter in

Pueblo Cook Admits Koreans Took Bags Of Secret Papers

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI) — An enlisted cook from the USS Pueblo says he walked by 10 or more bags stuffed with the ship's secret papers when the North Koreans led him into captivity.

Commissioner 2.C. Ralph H. Reed, 22, Danville, Pa., Wednesday told of the documents' apparent capture before a five-admiral court of inquiry into the Pueblo affair.

Three more enlisted men were summoned today by the court, which is hearing testimony on the "behavior of the Pueblo's 22-man crew during 11 months of captivity in North Korea.

Also called to testify in open session was Dannie R. Tuck Jr., 31, Richmond, Va., one of two civilian oceanographers working on the Pueblo when it was captured Jan. 23, 1968.

The court went into closed session during the afternoon for testimony from enlisted men who worked in the Pueblo's electronic-espionage unit.

The five admirals appeared startled when Reed told them he saw 10 orange bags crammed with papers lying on the deck outside the espionage unit during the North Korean attack.

"Are you sure there were that many?" said Rear Adm. Edward Grimm. "Think about

"Ten or more, sir," Reed replied.

The bags were weighted so they would sink in the sea when thrown overboard. They apparently were not disposed of because the North Koreans had the Pueblo's decks covered with machine guns.

An authority on maritime law told the court Wednesday the North Koreans had no legal right to seize the Pueblo even if she had been in North Korean waters.

"A warship enjoys legal immunity even when it is in the territorial waters of a foreign state," Capt. John Brock, of the Navy Judge advocate general's office, told the court.

He said any country has the right to order a foreign man of war out of its waters but no right to board or search it.

Brock said the question was academic since the Pueblo was outside the 12-mile limit over which North Korea claims control.

Brock said that in legal theory the United States could complain to the International Court of Justice at The Hague about the Pueblo affair.

But the court couldn't hear the case unless both North Korea and the United States agreed to it, Brock said. He added that if the case went to court it would constitute diplomatic recognition of North Korea by the United States.

Brock said it was unlikely either condition would be met.

the area, which the Eskimos use when they are stranded in a blizzard.

It makes shoveling snow much easier. Instead of using a snow knife, he do the Eskimo way. Hall uses an ordinary hand saw to cut out a big square of snow. Then he slides his shovel underneath it and a chunk about four cubic feet slides off the roof.

Eskimos use these snow tunnels for igloos and T's caught in a blizzard they follow this technique to build four walls and a roof to shelter them until the storm is over.

Another valley resident of the North Fork cabins is Bill Handy, who operates a TV repair shop there. Their most frequent visitors are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Signmore, Elko, Nev., who have missed only five weekends here since first coming to North Fork a year ago last September.

There are 13 permanent trailer houses at the complex and the Halls have bases completed for 50 trailers on the four acres of land they own between Highway 93 and the wooded mountains which form a backdrop to the store. They also lease six acres of land from the Sawtooth forest at the mouth of Oregon gulch which adjoins their land.

Desertions Of Soldiers Said Rising

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee said Thursday 53,377 U.S. servicemen deserted between mid-1967 and mid-1968—an average of one every 10 minutes.

The committee reported a total of 15,550 soldiers, sailors, Marines and Air Force men went "over the hill" during that period—covering fiscal 1968. That worked out to one every three minutes.

Military personnel are classified as deserters when they are gone for more than 30 days. Those who come back or are caught within 30 days remain listed as having been absent without leave (AWOL).

These figures were substantially higher than fiscal 1967. They were included in a report prepared by a subcommittee which studied desertions. The report was released by the full committee.

The report noted that the number of deserters was equivalent to three and a half 15,000-man combat divisions. The total number of men who went AWOL equaled ten 15,000-man combat divisions.

In fiscal 1967, the report said, 14,668 went AWOL, with 40,227 ultimately classified as deserters.

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, told reporters that despite the large number, "only 250 have been tried and convicted of desertion."

Inouye, chairman of the subcommittee, also compared the light sentences given deserters with the stiff punishment up to 15 years—reserved to soldiers accused of mutiny in a California stockade.

The report charged "a lack of sufficient concern" among some Pentagon officials over the seriousness of the problem. It added that there was a disinclination to charge serious men with desertion with the result they are punished for being AWOL.

Accidents Noted
HALLEY — Fifty-eight automobile accidents were reported to the Blaine County sheriff's office during February. Sheriff Brower said the more than usual amount of accidents during the past month were due mostly to icy roads and high snowbanks.
