

Dissatisfaction Spreads In Ranks Of T.F. Law Enforcement Officers

By FRED DODD
Times-News Staff Writer

A significant number of Twin Falls area law enforcement officers are becoming increasingly disgruntled with their jobs.

Several plan to quit in the near future, and low pay isn't driving them out.

One officer, with eight years experience in law enforcement, said he plans getting into another line of work altogether.

"I'm ridiculed in my own neighborhood, stuck in a job with no future, in debt, out of control by the courts and my superiors," this officer confided one day.

The man on the beat, the few interviewed during the course of a few months, says law enforcement has been downgraded drastically during the past three or four years.

"When I was a kid I wanted to amount to something. I was kind of surprised when I put on a blue uniform, but I was pleased too," the officer said. "It meant something to be an officer then."

Now he says, "I'm just a cop, someone to hate and believe me they can hate, even in Idaho."

One officer said he knows of at least four teen-agers involved in the selling of drugs. "A lot of these drugs are the kind found in the medicine cabinet at home — sleeping pills, diet pills. But a large amount of marijuana, LSD and speed (an excitant, a pick-me-up) are sold too," he said.

He said several teen-age girls had been invited to a party recently, then given small amounts of marijuana to smoke.

"Soon these girls were having a ball. Then one night someone slipped them a little speed. To day one of the girls is pregnant and she doesn't know who the father is."

This kind of narcotics problem, according to the officer, is not widespread through Twin Falls, but it is the kind of problem the officer knows about but can't build a case around.

"Well, the way the courts are these days we couldn't raise an enough evidence against these kids to hold them in jail for an hour."

Twin Falls County Prosecutor Robert Galley agreed in a talk before a women's group recently.

He said a man had been observed passing a narcotic to someone else. "We had an eye-witness. He was asked how he knew this narcotic was passed and the witness replied 'I saw it' and this wasn't good enough."

Mr. Galley said it got down to how the pass was seen, and the witness replied, "Because the hand that did the passing was attached to the body of the man doing the passing."

Testimony was then introduced that denounced the witness and Mr. Galley said the case was lost.

Two officers spent at least 30 hours a week of their "off-duty" time to prepare evidence for that case. The time, one officer said, was wasted.

At the present time a man awaits the death sentence in Nevada. He raped a young bride, and shot her husband through the head at close range. He was found guilty in a jury trial and the case has been appealed and appealed.

"Finally, in a last-ditch effort, the man's plea for a commutation of sentence was denied by Nevada's board of pardons.

But a college professor has taken up the crusade to keep the man alive. "We'll get our day in court yet," the professor said recently.

Many Twin Falls officers wonder about this. The condemned man has had his "day in court" for the last four years. His appeals have cost the taxpayers more than $250,000.

"He killed a man in a cold blood then raped his bride while she watched her husband bleed to death and then admitted the killing and this is the kind of man society wants to free because he isn't understood," some officers cry.

"What the hell is happening to this country?"

This last plea is something this reporter has heard more than once while visiting the Twin Falls police station and county sheriff's office.

Many juveniles, some officers say, are rude and abusive when being questioned about the most minor of infractions of the law.

"They say things to us you wouldn't believe. It would make me see T.F. OFFICERS, P. 2, C 6

Student Rampage Injures 11 In Chicago Brawl

By United Press International

A Chicago-area high school was closed today after 11 students were injured in a racial brawl. Three hundred students, whites and Negroes, rampaged through the cafeteria and book store of the University of Houston Monday.

A strike by militant black high and junior high school students in Los Angeles lost some support when teachers who had refused to cross picket lines at a junior high school voted to return to classrooms.

Classes were canceled Monday at the State University of New York's Binghamton campus and Valparaiso (Ind.) University students were held to discuss campus problems.

A settlement was reached Monday night between 250 black students and the Southeast campus Chicago City College. Classes will resume Wednesday again be held in museums, parks and other locations.

Black students who had announced they were withdrawing from Duke University in Durham, N.C., said Monday they were staying, at least until the end of the semester. "We decided the university would be benefiting more from our leaving than we would be," a spokesman said.

Fighting broke out Monday between Negro and white students in Bloom Township High School in Chicago Heights, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. Eleven students were injured, and today's classes were canceled.

School Supt. Richard E. Barnhart said fighting erupted Monday night between 250 black

40,000 Confront Allies

SAIGON (UPI)—An American armored column five miles long today led a force thousands of American and South Vietnamese troops into the jungles northwest of here today to blunt Communist drive for Saigon.

It appeared to be the largest operation of the Vietnam War and although exact size of the force was military secret there were elements of four U.S. divisions and a number of South Vietnamese divisions involved against a Communist force estimated at 40,000.

Military observers thought far more than 40,000 allied troops were involved since allied strategy has always been to outnumber the enemy whenever possible. Military officials said earlier only that "more than 10,000 troops were involved."

UPI correspondent Nat Gibson observed the area of operation 30 to 50 miles northwest of Saigon. Other sources said the allied column moving through the old Mitchell plantation in Tay Ninh Province ran into intense and heavy opposition.

Gibson said lead elements of the armor were in heavy contact with Communist troops within 15 minutes after moving into the plantation. He said the fighting lasted until sundown when the armor pulled back to night defensive positions.

American and South Vietnamese officials have warned for weeks of a threatened Communist offensive in Saigon and 40,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces have massed to attack a direct assault on the Cambodian border.

Communist forces were near the Cambodian border, operating in a series of strikes by 1952, which craters the jungle area where intelligence reports located Communist bunker systems.

The operation is code-named Atlas Wedge and involves elements of the 1st and 2nd Infantry Divisions, the 1st Air Cavalry Division, the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, a division normally would have about 15,000 to 18,000 men but was reduced to 11,000 reported today in the drive.

There was an immediate report on allied casualties.

The largest previous operation of the Vietnam War was launched in a nearby area last September.

CSI OK's Gym Bid, Rejects Two Others

College of Southern Idaho trustees voted Monday night to accept the low bid for a health-PE building and rejected the housing commission's rejected bids for a student union and dormitory.

The low bid for the health-PE building was for $1,275 million for Arrington Construction Co., Idaho Falls, which appeared previously the Nielsen and Miller Construction Co., Twin Falls, was the low bidder on the project.

However, it was learned that a computation error had been made in the firm's bid for the building, and the company asked to be relieved of its bid.

Chinese Attack Russ Troops Defending Tiny Border Isle

MOSCOW (UPI) — Chinese Communist forces fired on Russian border troops defending the tiny island focal point of Sino-Soviet tensions Monday night, a Soviet column reported today.

Col. S. Borzenko, military correspondent for the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda, said the Chinese opened up with mortar and machine guns at dusk on Soviet troops guarding Damansky Island.

"Finally the firing trailed off but in darkness we could see the lights of truck convoys on the move," Borzenko reported. "The Maoists are not quiet."

The colonel gave no casualty figures, but the newspaper said the announced Soviet death toll to five from last Saturday's third island battle in two weeks.

The Soviets used helicopters to shuttle their wounded from the snow-covered island to hospital facilities nearby, Borzenko wrote.

He did not say whether the Soviets shot back. The series of skirmishes on the Ussuri River islands began March 2, when 91 Russians were killed.

The latest reports clashed with analysis from China experts stationed in Hong-Kong.

They said both Communist and Russian border troops were armed — despite, despite verbal barter from both Peking and Moscow after Saturday's renewed fighting.

Neither nation picketed the other's embassy, the analysis noted.

Soviet newspapers today blasted the Chinese for deluding the Chinese for deluding the United States and West Germany. "Behind all of Peking's actions one can clearly see a well thought-out line of Peking adventurers who think that in their policy against the Soviet Union and other Socialist (Communist) countries Mao (Cheung, Chinese party chairman) could strike a deal with the most aggressive forces of imperialism," Pravda said.

Madrona St. for the closure of an alley behind his business was discussed. The council asks and Bill Langley, city attorney, to draw up an ordinance for the closure of the alley after hearing an explanation from Jean Muller, city engineer. In making the request, Mr. Herrert said he would like to expand his business and this was the only way possible.

The council authorized the planning for a five-year maintenance agreement with Cron Prestressing for the care of the water reservoirs. The contract was previously approved by the engineering consultants.

Mayor Egan Krull issued a proclamation recognizing the 50th anniversary celebration year of the League of Women Voters.

In raising business the building permits and license applications were approved and the minutes of the advisory boards and commissions were read along with the monthly departmental reports.

Water Stock Shares Are Leased By City

Twin Falls City Council opened and awarded bids on the lease of 401.84 shares of water stock in the Salmon River Canal Co. Monday night.

Those with high bids receiving the shares were John Courney, $7.02 for 200 shares; Burnett Estes, $5.97 for 100 shares; and A. J. Nelson, $0.25 for 100 shares. There were four bidders for the water shares for the 1969 season.

The council also adopted resolution No. 1420 setting a golf course fees for the 1969 season. It also authorized a lease agreement with the golf pro for the club house facilities for the 1969 season. The fees will be the same as for the 1968 season.

Director Is Hired For CAA Activity

Laurence Leroy Mack, Baker, Ore., was hired Monday night by the South Central Community Action Agency to serve as director. He will begin work here April 1, according to Marvin Glascock, chairman of the agency board of directors.

The agency, which serves Cassia and Jerome and Twin Falls counties, has been without a director for two months. Al Morgan, former director, resigned in December. Mr. Charles Albion was hired in January. Mr. Albion was forced to resign for health reasons, and the office has been vacant since. Mr. Glascock has been serving as acting director.

Mr. Glascock said the board was extremely fortunate to receive an application from such a highly qualified man as Mr. Mack.

The new director attended Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., where he received his bachelor's degree in psychology, parliamentary under the University of Oregon, Eugene, where he earned his masters degree in vocational rehabilitation counseling. He has also had advanced training in fire, aircraft, curbs, gutters, fire hydrants, street lighting, proper

Cost Of Money Spirals Upward

NEW YORK (UPI)—The cost of money, spurred upward by the federal government's drive against inflation, reached a new high Monday with the announcement that major banks were raising their prime interest rate to 7 1/2 per cent.

The latest interest rate is the minimum charge set by banks on loans to their biggest, most creditworthy customers.

The latest increase of 1/4 percentage point was the fourth increase since December. Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. in New York was the first to announce the increase, followed by other banks in New York and across the country.

British Mobilize Troops Anguilla 'Invasion' Feared

LONDON (UPI)—British mobilized 240 paratroopers and 40 policemen in full combat gear today for what diplomats believe might be an invasion of Anguilla in the Caribbean to restore colonial rule.

A British diplomat returned from the former island colony last week saying it was under control of "gangster-type elements," possibly Mafia hoodlums from the United States.

Army trucks carrying 200 reinforcements, paratroopers and 40 policemen, all in combat gear, rumbled into the Royal Air Force Base at Lymington, 70 miles west of London, late Monday. Two troop-carrying turboprop transports stood by to restore law and order on the 28-square-mile island, and pave the way for the restoration of British colonial rule over the island's 6,000 inhabitants.

Britain is still responsible for the defense and foreign affairs of the 15 British Caribbean territories, created in 1966 from former British Caribbean colonies. The islands lie 100 to 150 miles due east of Puerto Rico.

Anguilla unilaterally declared its independence from the federation last May 30. William Wallace, parliamentary under secretary at the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, returned to London last week saying the island had forced him off at gunpoint.

City Okays Mobile Home Plans

The Twin Falls City Council approved an ordinance providing for the construction of mobile homes in the North Heights Subdivision, subject to the signing of the contract.

There is a clause in the contract providing that after the property must be annexed to the city prior to making the water and sewer connections.

The action was taken Monday night following an application by B.R.O.S. shortly after the first of the year. The firm proposes to use the property for a mobile home court. The area is located east of Blue Lakes Boulevard North and north of Falls Avenue East.

City Attorney Bill Langley drew up the agreement following numerous meetings of the council and B.R.O.S. officials. The agreement states the developer must prepare plans and conform to city standards in regrading, sanitary sewer, water lines, aircraft, curbs, gutters, fire hydrants, street lighting, proper

Safety Ruling Stirs Anger Of Legislator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee Monday criticized as "arbitrary and hasty" a decision made in the final days of the Johnson administration to tighten radiation mines.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said the regulations, which would allow radiation levels only one third as high as now permitted, might make it impossible to mine uranium at all.

Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare supported the decision although he said the considerations that provided it were like a Greek drama "with dozens of characters shuffling in and out."

The regulations adopted by the Federal Radiation Control Commission are scheduled to take effect until Jan. 1, 1971, to give mines a chance to develop new safety measures.

Finch said the FRC, which he would review the matter in the spring of 1970 and might make some changes.

Atomic Energy Commissioner Gerald F. Tapp told the committee there is no "adequate scientific support" for the regulations.

But he said the AEC is willing to meet the results of the FRC review.

Finch conceded there is no proof that present mine radiation levels are hazardous, but they may be higher levels, present in mines during the 1950s, caused lung cancer and health matters, we apply a safety factor," Finch said.

Enrollment Decline To Hit Colleges

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Very Rev. Paul C. Reinert, president of St. Louis University, predicts the enrollments of private colleges and universities will decline within the next 10 years from one-third to one-fifth of total college enrollment.

Father Reinert said private colleges are unable to compete financially with state institutions and some private schools may have to "revert from private to public status."

Father Reinert said the private institutions have "freedom to experiment and innovate," and he added that, if the private schools do not receive financial aid, "this nation will end up with a monolithic system of higher education, one that will be highly resistant to change."

St. Louis University has been forced to close its School of Dentistry and its Department of Geology because of lack of support. The Geology Department will be closed in June, and the Dental School will close after the 1970-71 academic year.

The University News said in a recent editorial: "Because of the financial difficulties involved in operating a private university, it is reasonable to assume that the best policy is one of specialization of study — offering a limited number of really good departments rather than a large number of mediocre ones."

Super Church Would Unite 9 Groups

ATLANTA (UPI) — Plans were outlined Monday for a "super church" uniting nine black and white American Protestant denominations into a single organization.

A commission on the Constitution of the Church Union (COCU), holding its eighth annual meeting here, presented a plan by which the churches would have a three-tiered ecclesiastical offices and four levels of geographical organization.

The plan is to be studied in this session and readied for possible presentation at next year's COCU meeting. It would probably be two or three years before the plan could be implemented.

COCU envisions approval of a plan that would combine the African Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal Zion, Christian Methodist Episcopal, Christian Episcopal, Presbyterian U.S., United Church of Christ, United Methodist and United Presbyterian Churches.

The churches have a combined membership of 23 million persons.

The Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, secretary general of the World Council of Churches and a pioneer in ecumenism, urged the group to work for the merger in order to revitalize the churches' influence in the world.

Welfare Workers Plan Labor Union

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Striking welfare workers in Allegheny County have voted to organize as the United Welfare Workers and said they would remain on strike until their wage dispute with the state is settled.

Nearly 600 workers attended a meeting and rejected a recommendation from their leaders to end the work stoppage. A meeting is scheduled next Monday in Harrisburg between leaders of the United Welfare Workers and state officials.

The workers are seeking 15 per cent pay hikes. They say clerical workers employed by the welfare department are paid less money than some welfare recipients.

What's Quasar Color TV got that keeps it out of the repair shop?

The works in a drawer.

Quasar TV's "works in a drawer" are ten tubeless solid-state mini-circuits ingeniously arranged in a pull-out drawer right on the front of the set.

Only the picture tube and the rectifier are not solid-state. Everything else is tubeless mini-circuits designed to work without burning out. If mini-circuit service is ever needed, the drawer slides out, the circuit is unplugged, a replacement is snapped in, and the drawer is closed. It can be done right in your home, not the repair shop.

No other Color TV gives you both solid-state dependability and the stay-at-home serviceability of Quasar TV.

So if you've been holding out for Color TV with a dependable difference, you don't have to wait any longer. Quasar is here. Color TV with the "works in a drawer."

Engine Heat May Be Cause Of Disaster

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (UPI)—Venezuelan investigators said today an overheated engine was the cause of a Vlasa airliner to crash and kill 152 persons in history's worst air disaster.

The 28-passenger, eight government commissions probing the wreckage said the prime theory was that the plane's left engine had a fire under the skin of takeoff.

A high government official discounted reports the Miami Herald had with 46 persons aboard was sabotaged.

"We may investigate those rumors," said Inspector Perez. But "the technical reports we are receiving indicate that the accident was simply an accident."

Safety Ruling Stirs Anger Of Legislator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the House Atomic Energy Committee Monday criticized as "arbitrary and hasty" a decision made in the final days of the Johnson administration to tighten radiation mines.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said the regulations, which would allow radiation levels only one-third as high as now permitted, might make it impossible to mine uranium at all.

Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare supported the decision although he said the considerations that preceded it were like a Greek drama with dozens of characters shuffling in and out.

The regulations adopted by the Federal Radiation Control Commission are not scheduled to take effect until Jan. 1, 1971, to give miners a chance to develop new safety measures.

Finch said the FRC, which he heads, would review the matter in the spring of 1970 and might make some changes.

Atomic Energy Commissioner Gerald P. Tapp told the committee there is not now adequate scientific support for the new regulations.

But he said the AEC is willing to await the results of the FRC.

Finch conceded there is no proof that present mine radiation levels are harmful, although the high-level radiation present in mines during the 1950s, caused lung cancer.

"When we are dealing with health matters, we must have a safety factor," Finch said.

Enrollment Decline To Hit Colleges

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The Rev. Paul C. Rebert, president of St. Louis University, predicts the enrollments of private colleges and universities will decline within the next 10 years from one-third to one-fifth of total college enrollment.

Father Rebert said private colleges are unable to compete financially with state institutions and some private schools may have to "revert from private to public status."

Father Rebert said the private institutions have "freedom to experiment and innovate" and he added that, if the private schools do not receive financial aid, "this nation will end up with a monolithic system of higher education, one that will be highly resistant to change."

St. Louis University has been forced to close its School of Dentistry and its Department of Geology because of lack of support. The Geology Department will be closed in June, and the Dentistry School will close after the 1971 academic year.

The University News said in a recent editorial: "Because of the financial difficulties involved in operating a private university it is reasonable to assume that the best policy is one of specialization of study offering a limited number of really good departments rather than a large number of mediocre ones."

Super Church Would Unite 9 Groups

ATLANTA (UPI) — Plans were outlined Monday for a "super church" combining nine black and white American Protestant denominations into a single organization.

A commission on the Consultation on Church Union (CCU), holding its eighth annual meeting here, presented a plan by which the church could have three levels of ecclesiastical offices and four levels of geographical organization.

The plan is to be studied in this session and reported for possible presentation at next year's CCU meeting. It would probably be two or three years before the plan could be implemented.

CCU envisions approval of a plan that would combine the African Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal Zion, Christian Methodist Episcopal, Christian, Episcopal, Presbyterian, U.S., United Methodist and United Presbyterian Churches.

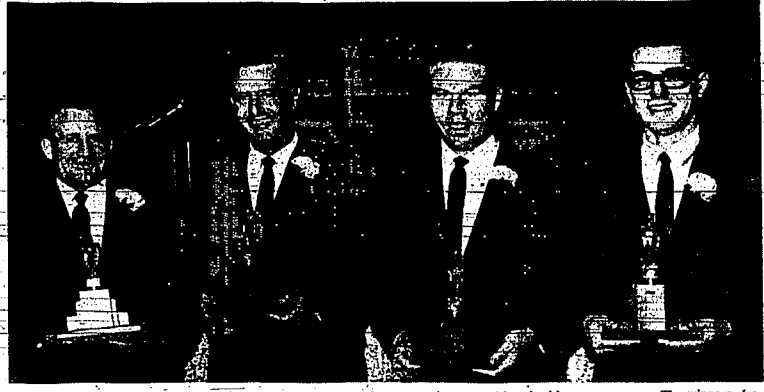

The churches have a combined membership of 25 million persons.

The Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, secretary general of the World Council of Churches and a pioneer in ecumenism, urged the group to work for the merger in order to revivify the churches' influence in the world.

Isle Offers Tax Shelter To Artists

VALETTA, Malta (UPI) — This sunny Mediterranean island has become the latest gathering place for film stars, authors and entertainers.

Some come here to settle some are attracted by the climate, underwater sports and Maltese hospitality.

And, as a byproduct whether or not it figures in their plans, they find the tax laws far more lenient than in Britain or the United States.

Last year Malta had a record number of tourists. This year is expected to set a new record.

Maltese date the influx from 1962 when Honor Blackman, then star of "The Avengers" television series, told her husband to get away from it all. She chose a small uninhabited islet named Comino.

Now the islet, situated between the main islands of Malta and Gozo, is the favorite resort of scores of others in show business. And the price of property is soaring there as it is everywhere.

In addition to the acting colony there are a number of famous writers in residence in and around Malta.

One of them is Dr. Desmond Morris, author of the international best-seller, "The Naked Ape," who found, ironically, that Malta is the only country in the western world which does not permit public sale of his book.

Nevertheless, Morris says his stay here has given him the "thinking time" he needed and he is now at work on a sequel to "The Naked Ape" as well as a major study of predator animals such as tigers, hyenas, panthers, lions and wolves.

Morris' wife, Romana, also a writer, is producing a guide to the Maltese islands. Their son, Jason, was born in Malta last October.

Another best-selling resident is Nicholas Monsarrat, author of "The Cruel Sea" and other novels which have been filmed, including "The Story of Esther Costello."

"To live in a quiet place is an ideal," he says.

Since Malta is in the sailing area it has an additional attraction for British luminaries. Among those who have recently set up homes here are television star Roger Moore, of "The Saint," film actor John Mills, video comedian Jimmy Edwards, jazz virtuoso Johnny Dankworth and his wife, singer Cleo Laine.

Ex-Commander Says Defense Of Pueblo Could Have Started War

By DANIEL RAPOPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The former U.S. military commander in the Pacific said today the United States "might have precipitated World War III" had it gone headlong to the aid of the USS Pueblo.

Retired Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp told a special congressional subcommittee examining the Pueblo seizure by North Korea that regardless of any "rules of engagement" he would have sent planes to help the intelligence ship if they had been available early enough.

But he agreed under questioning that any U.S. action after the vessel was firmly in the Communist hands would have been tantamount to starting a new world war.

rescue while it and its captives were still at sea, Sharp said. "The rules didn't make a damn bit of difference. I would have done what was best."

Besides, Sharp said, the slight gray-haired former four-star admiral made it clear the legalities would have played no part in his decision.

Sharp, who retired last Aug. 1, said that by the time American forces got the Pueblo's plea for help, Navy planes aboard the carrier Enterprise and Air Force fighters in Japan, equipped with conventional weapons, were too far away to reach the scene on time.

Air Force planes in South Korea were within striking distance, but Sharp confirmed reports that they were used because they were equipped with nuclear weapons.

North Vietnam, Sharp said he was not altogether clear on what rules applied in the Pueblo case.

Welfare Workers Plan Labor Union

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Striking welfare workers in Allegheny County have voted to form a new independent labor union. The workers voted Monday to organize as the United Welfare Workers and state officials. The workers are seeking 15 percent pay hikes. They say clerical workers employed by the welfare department are paid less money than some welfare recipients.

Nearly 600 workers attended a meeting and rejected a recommendation from their leaders to end the work stoppage. A meeting is scheduled next Monday in Harrisburg between leaders of the United Welfare Workers and state officials.

Remain on strike until their wage dispute with the state is settled.

Medal Contains Spelling Error

TOKYO (UPI) — A medal awarded in Japan to commemorate the Nobel Prize in literature had a spelling error. The manufacturer said an employee apparently wrote when he called the Swedish embassy to ask how Swedes spelled "literature."

It came out on the medal "litteratur" instead of "litteratur." The medal was cast in honor of novelist Yasunari Kawabata, first Japanese to win the Nobel award in literature.

What's Quasar Color TV got that keeps it out of the repair shop?

The works in a drawer.

Quasar TV's "works in a drawer" are ten tubeless solid-state mini-circuits ingeniously arranged in a pull-out drawer right on the front of the set.

Only the picture tube and the rectifier are not solid-state. Everything else is tubeless mini-circuits, designed to work without burning out.

If mini-circuit service is ever needed, the drawer slides out; the circuit is unplugged, a replacement is snapped in, and the drawer is closed. It can be done right in your home, not the repair shop.

No other Color TV gives you both solid-state dependability and the stay-at-home serviceability of Quasar TV.

So if you've been holding out for Color TV with a dependable difference, you don't have to wait any longer. Quasar is here. Color TV with the "works in a drawer."

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Just at the turn in history when the world seems pulled closer by the magic of science...

Bayard Rustin, speaking recently in Florida, put his finger on the matter when he labeled this country's black nationalist movement a reversion to tribalism...

Curiously, Rustin's observations coincide closely with those of author Peter Drucker in his new work, "The Age of Discontinuity"...

As for the kind of tribalism Rustin has in mind, he sees it fundamentally as a device to escape a world of competition and responsibility...

They are incapable of governing. They seldom have an economic base or even much to govern.

Pilots Plan Action

In a few weeks, the International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations will meet—and among the things they will discuss is what to do about plane hijackings.

country from a large part of its contacts with the rest of the world. The technique was used successfully against Algeria last summer in order to obtain the release of an Israeli plane which had been hijacked to Algiers.

Nationhood seemingly was a well-established phenomenon a century ago. The names of the first two-thirds of the 19th century have been for some sort of supra-national organization amounting to a "world state" which would keep all its parts at peace.

He cited the increased French separatist agitation in Canada and the Walloons in peripherality to Belgium. He might have added the internal strife in Pakistan, the horrifying bloodletting among warring people of the subcontinent of India, the struggle between Biafra and Nigeria in West Africa. The examples are many more. Curiously, Rustin's observations coincide closely with those of author Peter Drucker in his new work, "The Age of Discontinuity"...

The other manifestation is the one stressed by Rustin in his mounting pressures against the authority of established, sizable, economically viable nations. Within these, separatists, acting like tribes either on racial, or race-or-religion-or-prior-national origin, are tearing hard at the national fabric.

Black separatism in America is such a phenomenon. So is the Catholic-Protestant furor in northern Ireland.

After The Moon

One more stepping-stone — the third-from-last — has been firmly laid toward the moon by the flight of Apollo 9.

We are thus very shortly going to be faced with the question of what new worlds to conquer in space.

So spectacularly successful has been the progress of the moon program since the tragic fire in an Apollo capsule on the launch pad in January, 1967, that the climaxing flight — the actual landing of the first man on the moon — could be achieved with Apollo 10, now being prepared for a lunar orbital mission in May.

There are some who would just as soon wrap up the whole thing, declare the moon landing an excellent feat, and now get down to the business of applying all that money to more mundane goals, such as a cure for cancer or pollution or urban blight.

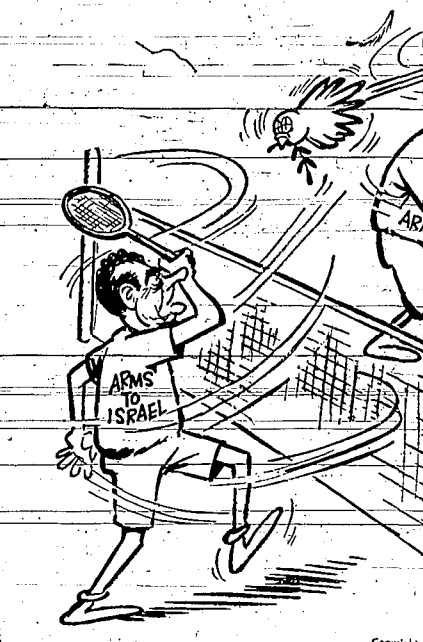

To pull the giant rocket off the pad and revamp all its systems and components for a moon landing, however, would delay the launch until June. Since lift-off of Apollo 11 is scheduled for July, the moon "race" certainly does not warrant the slightest compromise with any kind of haste or readiness, it is just as well that NASA has decided to leave the sequence as is.

Others will argue for bigger and better programs, like a seven-year tour of the solar system or a manned landing on Mars.

Apollo 10 will further serve to check out the performance of the "Spider" — the lunar landing module — and orbital rendezvous maneuvers, communications and a host of other complex and essential systems.

We will, of course, take the middle road — continuing to send unmanned probes to the planets and perhaps begin the building of a permanent, manned, earth-orbiting station, among whose functions will be the launching of more extended exploration missions to the moon.

"The Pill"

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Your answer to a letter from a woman who was thinking of breast-feeding her baby and still taking birth control pills has been worried.

The letters, by the way, included one from a woman who had taken part in an experiment on the question of pills being taken even during nursing. It will always cause enough reduction to create a problem.

WASHINGTON — Even if a body is opposed to the death penalty as I am — it is a pleasure to argue the point. The view of Judge Perry G. Bowen Jr. of Maryland's Calvert County Circuit Court, who appears to get the murder in a touch more serious than stippling.

Apparently, Judge Bowen and Judge Hart are content to present their cases with "people for their country" they should get at least a footnote in the history of crime prevention.

MR. SPECTATOR

We Cannot Understand

We fail to understand why some things are done the way they are, or are allowed to continue, the way they are allowed to continue. For instance:

Street West? That's the post office corner. Ever try to walk across that corner or ever try to slow down when driving to make a turn into the post office or to park in that vicinity? Ought to try it sometime.

THE IRS

Just how deep is the well of personal income Uncle Sam draws on every year? And when the Times-News new building goes up at that corner, the traffic will be heavier than ever.

Charges of Russian collaboration with the United States are old hat relative to the Chinese of collusion with the hated Chiang are something else again, something of an escalation in the already bitter war of words.

Experts — he r — believe that pragmatic opposition to Mao's policies and alternatives developed to advance China's interests in the real world come most frequently from the leaders associated with Chiang Kai-shek in the State Council.

Session Continues Fund Fuss

BOISE (UPI) — The stage was set today for a battle over the funding of higher education as the 40th Idaho Legislature entered its 65th day and fifth day of overtime.

Monday afternoon a new higher-education funding bill was introduced in the session, considered the last "main" obstacle standing between the legislators and adjournment.

The new bill came about after a meeting between Gov. Don Samuelson and Democrat and Republican leaders. It rolls two other measures into one $57,878,883 appropriations measure some $48.15 million of it from the general fund.

The measure was introduced early in the afternoon but the Democrats in the Senate twice refused to suspend rules to consider any appropriations measure.

The "suspenders" in consideration immediately required a two-thirds majority and failed by a 21-14 margin.

One Democrat, Sen. Richard Egbert, D-Teton, voted with the Republicans in favor of the suspension.

Senate leaders stated following the meeting with the governor that Samuelson has agreed to go along with the "compromise" package.

B52 Loses Engine In Michigan Swamp, Circles Lake Huron For Six Hours

WURTSMITH AIR FORCE BASE, Mich. (UPI) — Two engines dropped off a B-52 bomber during its six-hour circling of a swamp Monday and the giant aircraft was forced to circle Lake Huron for nearly six hours to use up fuel before finally making a safe landing.

The bomber, carrying "four armed non-nuclear bombs," had just taken off from this base in the northeastern section of Michigan and was at a altitude of about 8,000 feet when the engines loosened and plunged to the ground, an Air Force spokesman said.

The bomber was carrying 200,000 pounds of fuel and burned off but 81,000 pounds during its six-hour circling. It finally landed at 4:52 p.m. EST.

Hundreds of spectators lined the beaches at nearby Oscoda, about midway up Michigan's Lake Huron shoreline, to watch the aircraft landing.

According to the Air Force, the jet was headed for a routine practice bomb run over the Gulf of Mexico when the incident occurred.

The bombs, had they dropped and exploded, "would have been like large hail popping," a spokesman said. "They were harmless, he added.

The engines which fell off were contained in a pod on the right side of the aircraft and in order to keep the plane under control, authorities said crewmen switched off two more engines in a pod, also on the right side of the bomber.

A base spokesman said the seven crewmen were safe. The landing was "perfectly normal," he said.

President's Stand Outlined Hayakawa, Nixon View Riots

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The acting president of San Francisco State College, hard hit by student disorders, said after an hour at the White House Monday that President Nixon favors leaving campus disruptions to local authorities, but that federal education aid should be denied convicted campus agitators.

Dr. S. Hayakawa and the President talked about the turbulent situation at San Francisco State as Nixon was preparing a statement on the wave of campus disruptions. Hayakawa said he left the White House meeting with two impressions:

—Generally, Nixon favored leaving campus problems to state and local authorities, particularly to college administrators.

—That he and Nixon were in general agreement that federal aid to students should be withdrawn if they are convicted of serious offenses involving campus violence, unlawful assembly, students' obstruction of academic procedures.

Hayakawa said he and Nixon agreed that a basic solution to campus unrest involved expanding the educational process to minorities.

Senate Panel Endorses Bill On Lobbying

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary and Legislative Administration Committee gave a "do-pass" recommendation Monday to a bill which provides for the registration and regulation of activities of lobbyists.

Presently Idaho's anti-lobbyist statute, which does not require registration, has been considered a non-enforceable act.

Under the measure, proposed by the Idaho Citizens Committee on the State Legislature, persons "who shall be engaged to pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation by the legislature, or the approval or veto of any legislation by the governor, shall register with the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House."

The bill would exempt many activities, including testifying before committees.

Any person violating the act and convicted would be prohibited for 10 years from the date of conviction from being registered as a lobbyist.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband died and left me with two small sons, ages four and seven. At that time my husband's brother promised me boys he would be their "Daddy."

Well, "Daddy" has taken the boys to school and left me alone. I sent him a Father's Day card, ("To My Uncle") which he never even bothered to acknowledge. He ran in for a few minutes once last year at Christmas, to drop off a baseball glove for each of the boys. My wife comes by nearly every day asking how the boys are "getting along." I told her my sons didn't need another mother, but she could sure use a father. She said she would share anything with me but her husband. I don't want her husband, I want my boys to have a father.

Please tell me how I can tell this whole family to drop dead in a nice way. — BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Write off this phony "Daddy" and look around for a real one. Your brother-in-law is a heel, but you're spending far more time and energy hating him than he's worth.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a friend who has more than 100 dresses. She has a heart as big as she is. If any one of us needs a favor, for instance, if we are called out of town for a funeral or something unexpected, she is the one who takes care of our children — and gladly. I can't begin to tell you all the nice things this woman has done, expecting nothing in return. But Abby, does she die?

I like if you compliment her on her dress, she'll say she made it. And she doesn't own a machine and she can't sew a stitch. Furthermore one of us lives with her when she bought it.

Also she will "buy" my frozen, or carried-in food, and she'll look you right in the eye and tell you she made it from scratch.

So, Dear Abby, what do you do about a friend who lies? — PUZZLED

DEAR — PUZZLED: Nothing you love her for her good qualities and skip the rest.

DEAR ABBY: I think your advice to that mother who was concerned because her husband gave their 10-year-old daughter hard kisses on the lips and groined, is to have her taken home to parents.

Program Given For Sorority

GLENNIS FERRY — Xi Alpha Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi members met at the Tom Hartung home for a program on nature by Mrs. Don Cornish. She escorted them all to the Mayo-White residence where they viewed many scenic spots and sought in jewelry which Wilcox does.

Founders Day Banquet will be held at the Mountain Home Air Force Base on April 26 for the City of Elmore County Chapter, and the local chapter members will be in charge of the event, under the direction of Mrs. James Robertson and Mrs. Tom Pharris.

The next meeting will be at the Dan Welch ranch home for the second Friday of the month when Mrs. Pharris will present a program.

Trophies Are Awarded For Benefit Concert Support

When the local high school orchestra was chosen to perform for the Northwest Music Educators Conference and it became a community project to raise funds for these young people to attend the "Fifth Annual Music Clubs, affiliates of the National Federation of Music Clubs, responded with an enthusiasm that is to be commended.

A student in one of the local clubs said, "This is an honor to be picked from all these states, and to represent my club." This chance, so I think all Junior Music Clubs should really get out and sell tickets for the benefit concert.

Many hours the week before the concert, they distributed tickets, put up posters in the homes and collected the money from the sale of these tickets.

Some of the counselors called special meetings and distributed letters of explanation to be taken home to parents.

SHOSHONE — Officers were installed for the Wood River Canton No. 22 and Auxiliary at the meeting held at Gooding, Mrs. T. V. Strunk, Shoshone, reports.

LeRoy Fenton, Rupert, and Mrs. Hazel Schwaeger, Burley, were installing officers, assisted by their team composed of members from the Ruppert Number 19 Canton and Auxiliary.

William Henry Gooding was installed captain of the Canton. Other Canton officers are Dr. John Keiffer, Mountain Home; Lieut. A. G. Biswell, Dietrich, ensign; Jim Henry, Gooding, clerk; Robert Bryan, Gooding, treasurer; Lorene Larsen, Home, sentinel; George Eubanks, Gooding, guard; Martin Jewell, Ketchum, pickett; and Alvin Knowlton, Fairfield, banner-bearer, with Elmer Jordan, Wendell, chaplain.

Auxiliary officers installed are Mrs. Harrison, Fairfield, president; Catherine Roberts, Gooding, vice president; Mrs. Edna Harrison, Fairfield, secretary; Mrs. Jim Henry, Gooding, treasurer; Lorene Larsen, Home, vice, chaplain; Mrs. Alvah Knowlton, Fairfield, right aid to president; Mrs. John Deuer, left aid to president; Mrs. William Jewell, Jerome, right aid to chaplain; Mrs. A. G. Biswell, Dietrich, officer of the day; John Keiffer, Mountain Home, singing, color sergeant; Mrs. Jim Henry, Gooding, color bearer; Mrs. Boyd Harrison, Fairfield, and Mrs. Hazel Schwaeger, Burley, Gooding, officer of the guard; Mrs. George Eubanks, Gooding, right aid to the vice president; Bell Quarry, Wendell, left aid to the vice president; Mrs. T. V. Strunk, Shoshone, sentinel.

At the meeting, Mrs. Omer Shook was installed Junior past president. A petition was received for membership and plans were made for an auction to be held in May. The purpose of the auction is to raise funds for carrying out the State President's program.

Mrs. Robert Bryan gave an account of the life of Thomas Wide, the founder of Odd Fellowship in the United States. The thought of the day was given by Mrs. T. V. Strunk, Shoshone.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Zane Harrison and Mrs. Boyd Harrison, Fairfield. The valetine contest was used in the table decorations.

Supper Held

SHOSHONE — A potluck supper was held by the LDS Church MIA Married club recently at the church. After dinner there was dancing. Scott Parker was in charge.

There will be a social meeting each month, tentatively set for the second Friday of the month. Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Simpson are in charge of arrangements for the April meeting.

THE BOSS WHO MUMBLES when dictating has something in common with the boss who only dictates after lunch and always eats garlic-seasoned dishes. Both types have trouble keeping good secretaries. The International Secretary of the Year, Mrs. Bobby-Ogden, Dallas, says such bosses complain about the shortage of secretaries. (UPI wirephoto)

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

STUBBORN-BIDDING AND PLAY LOSE

The late George Kaufman was talking about a certain bridge player, George said, "There are two ways you can tell when he has a good hand. First his face lights up. Then he misplays."

West cashed a heart and led back a diamond. South took his ace and had one last chance to make his contract. He played his ace of trumps but the king did not drop and he was down one.

"Why didn't you just raise me to three no-trump?" asked North. "I had 100 honors in spades," replied South, who evidently had overlooked his 150 aces.

North gave up further attempts at conversation and started to deal, but we have a few cards to start with. South might well have opened two no-trump. He certainly should have been happy to raise to three no-trump when his partner responded.

Most important South should have made four spades without any trouble. He had nine easy tricks. The best way to make 10 would have been to win the heart lead in his own hand and play the ace and queen of diamonds. This would establish a dummy pack of diamonds as his trump trick.

NORTH
♦ KJ74	♣ Q963
WEST (D)
♠ K94	♥ 765
♦ QJ103	♣ 9862
♠ J754	♥ K102
SOUTH
♠ AQJ1073	♥ A82
♦ AQ	♣ AS

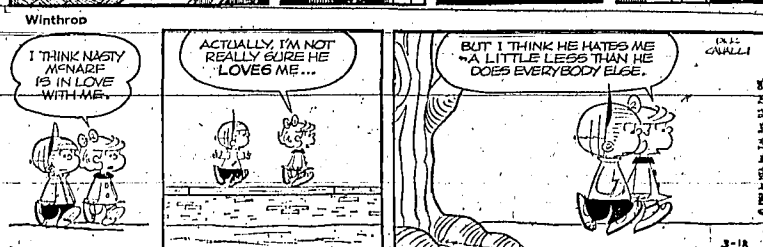

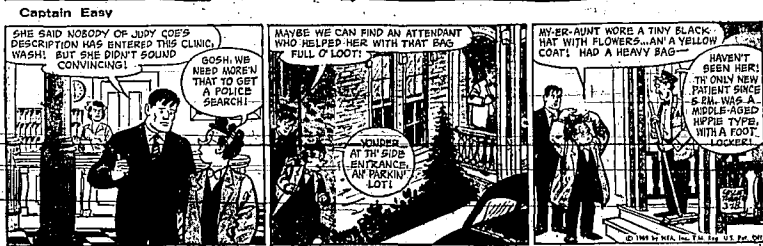

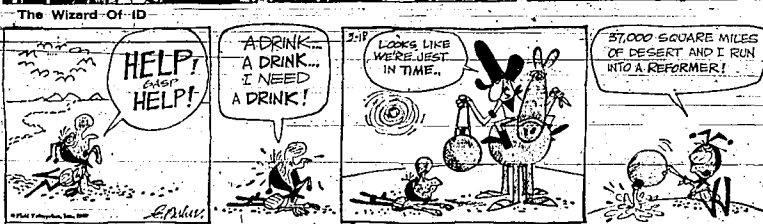

South might well have been that man. He sorted his cards and thumped out his one-spade bid. His four-spade call was equally firm but there was disappointment in his voice. He had hoped for a slam.

He won the heart lead in his own hand, thumped sawtooth and played ace and eight of clubs. If West had produced the king, South would have had a parking place for his third heart, but East had the king. Back came a second heart and South was in dummy. He tried the diamond finesse. That lost also.

CARD SENSE

Q-The bidding has been: West North East South Pass 2♥ Pass 1♠ You, South, hold: ♠ AK8532 ♦ 5 ♣ AK10964 What do you do now? A-Bid three clubs. You are on your way to a slam some-where. Show that you have a good club suit as your first move.

TODAY'S QUESTION You & partner continue by jumping to four hearts. What do you do now? Answer Next Issue

In Surprise Move Cards Trade Cepeda To Atlanta For Slugger Joe Torre

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Atlanta Braves today traded Joe Torre to the St. Louis Cardinals for Orlando Cepeda.

Paul Richards, general manager of the Braves made the announcement late Monday night when afternoon talk with the New York Mets proved futile.

"We are very happy to have Cepeda as our first baseman," Monday afternoon when (UPI) — The Atlanta Braves today traded Joe Torre to the St. Louis Cardinals for Orlando Cepeda.

Braves manager Luman Harmon said "I've known Cepeda since 1956 when I managed him in the Cardinals and I've admired his play. I've never seen him in his life. He is a leader in the infield which we are looking for under the circumstances. Torre did a heckuva job for me. We hated to lose him but this is a deal we couldn't pass up."

Torre, still unsigned, was reportedly seeking $65,000 from the Cardinals. The club offered $58,000 originally and came up to $60,000, but there was never an indication that Richards would apologize to Cepeda. Torre had done much for the team in the past two years and that as far as he was concerned "Torre would hold-out until Thanksgiving."

Torre insisted that Richards' observations on his worth to the club were sound.

With Atlanta last season, Torre, a catcher-first baseman, batted .271, hit 10 home runs and drove in 55 runs. He also hit 18 homers.

Faced with an impasse over both salary and the apology, the Braves put Torre on the market.

The Mets were in the action Monday afternoon when Cepeda's final offer was rejected. New York general manager John Murphy said he had offered pitcher Nolan Ryan, Catcher J.C. Martin, or Duffy Dyer, first baseman Ed Kranepool and infielder Bob Heise for Torre and Bob Aspromonte.

"As far as I'm concerned," Richards had said, "I wanted Torre as a gift."

National JC Tourney Begins Today

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — Once-beaten San Jacinto of Pasadena, Tex., heads the 16-team field into the opening round today of the national junior college basketball championships.

San Jacinto meets Johnson of Dallas in the first round tonight in the fifth of six first-round games.

The Texans, losers in only three of their last 40 games, are 32-1 this season and ranked as the No. 1 JUCO team in the country in the final National Junior College Athletic Association's ratings.

Eighth-ranked Paducah, Ky., meets Moberly, Mo., in the tournament opener at 1 p.m. (EST).

Other first-round games today and tonight pit Miles City, Mont., opposite Hutchinson, Kan.; Howard County of Blount Springs, Tex., against sixth-ranked Murray of Tishomingo, Okla.; Northwest of Powell, Wyo., versus Earlham of Iowa; and Robert Morris of Illinois against No. 2-ranked and undefeated Phoenix, Ariz.

Wednesday's concluding first-round schedule pits fourth-ranked and unbeaten Robert Morris of Pittsburgh, Pa., against Gardner-Webb of Boiling Springs, N.C., and Beraziz of Cocoa, Fla., opposite Vincennes, Ind.

Phoenix, at 32-0, and Robert Morris of Pittsburgh, at 27-0, are the only undefeated clubs in the field.

Torre Is Happy To Be With Cards

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI) — "I was surprised about all rumors of my being traded to the New York Mets," Joe Torre said Monday night "but when Mr. (Bill) Bartholomay, Atlanta president called me and said it looks like I'll be making a lot of money this season he had to be talking about the Cardinals."

"I'm very, very happy to be joining the Cardinals," Torre continued. "I'm delighted to be with a team that has a pennant chance, and I have the best of relations with the Cardinal players."

"Tim McCarver and I are very close friends, for one thing. For another, the Cards remember I hit only 145 against them last season."

Williams Runs Bosox Workout

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — Although the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland was canceled because of rain, the Boston Red Sox were able to workout here Monday.

Utilizing the covered batting cage, the pitchers got in their daily throwing while the hitters sharpened up against the pitching machine.

However, manager Dick Williams ordered an intra-squad game Tuesday morning, a day originally planned as free.

The Red Sox (4-4) are scheduled to return to Grapefruit League action Wednesday against the Houston Astros at Cocoa.

Pitcher Fred Wenz, who has been the ace of the squad, is currently the lone Alling member of the squad.

New Orleans Wins 118-99

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — New Orleans defeated the Los Angeles Stars 118-99 for the Buccanero's fifth consecutive win in their bid for the title of the National Basketball Association play-off berth.

The Stars jumped off to a quick 13-0 lead and pushed it to 21 points in the first half. The Stars never could come closer than four points in the third period and the Bucs rallied again to open the top to 19 points and wrap it up.

James Jones led the Bucs with 28 points. Red Robinson had 23 points and Fred Stone had 17 each and Jack Moreland 11. The Stars were led by George Stone with 21 points and Mury Jackson with 20.

Podres Tries Comeback With Padres

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — Johnny Podres remembers the glory days, and there were plenty of them for the stylish left-hander in the glory days of the Dodgers.

He also remembers the not-so-good ones—like the last time when he was just another old timer trying to win a spot with the Detroit Tigers and sitting home in Witherbees, N.Y.

Now, he is back with old friends on the expansion San Diego Padres, hoping to catch on but not all that sure he can or will.

"My arm feels good and I think I can help the club," he said the other day while peeling off a soaked sweatshirt following a lengthy workout. "If I didn't think I could help I wouldn't be here."

Podres, a proud man, didn't expect looking for the Padres, although he did admit he knooked on a few doors last year after the Tigers set him free.

"Sure, I want to pitch," he said, "but I never really expected to get a chance again after sitting out a year. Still, because he wanted me to join the club this spring," recalled Podres. "I jumped at the chance and managed to pitch about 70 innings with a local team. Then, I went to the instructional league in the fall when Bavasi, who had just

CSI Baseball

The College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagle baseball squad begins its 1969 season today, traveling to Boise to meet the Boise State Broncos. The first game of the doubleheader began at 1 p.m.

CSI Coach Mike Glenn says his pitchers "will get a workout" and that he will try to get a look at most of the squad in the two opening games.

Boise State has a 1-1 record, splitting with Idaho State in Boise last week.

Whitworth Wins Ladies' Golf Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Kathy Whitworth successfully defended her Orange Blossom golf tournament title by overhauling leader Marlene Hagge on the final hole Monday.

Ms. Hagge led the tournament from the first round, then shot a double bogey on the 18th.

"I just blew it," she said after her drive hit a tree and took a bad bounce to the recovery with a three wood onto the green, but then three-putted.

Ms. Whitworth got wind of Mrs. Hagge's predicament as she approached her final hole on No. one.

"I was awfully nervous," she said. "My second shot landed right in a trap, and I felt sure I'd lost my golden opportunity. I hate sand traps, and I was out of my mind. My shot. But I put it on the green alright, and sank my putt," she said.

The final round was almost put off for the second straight day by showers Monday morning.

The heavy downpour let up just two hours before the 1 p.m. start.

The best round of the day was Shirley Ingelthorn's 66, which moved her up to second place in a tie with Mrs. Hagge.

Mickey Wright, the winningest golfer on the LPGA tour, struck four holes in one on the 17th after her shaky start. She shot a 67 Monday, with six straight 3s, to move her into fifth place.

Phillie Rookie Is Impressive

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — Rookie outfielder Ron Stone, obtained from the Baltimore Orioles for catcher Don Drysdale, is making a determined bid to win a job on the Philadelphia Phillies this spring.

So far, he's impressed Manager Bob Skinner.

The tall Californian who also can play first base and who is leading the Phillies in batting in exhibition games, has impressed the club with his determination and hustle.

"He has a great attitude and a fine arm," said Skinner, of the left-handed swinger and thrower. "He's also been swinging a big bat. It may help us."

Orioles' Robinson Has Chance To Become First Negro Manager

MIAMI (UPI) — Everybody's asking Frank Robinson the same question. "He's getting tired of answering it but he does anyway."

Yes, says the 33-year-old Baltimore slugger, he would like to become a major league manager.

The next question inevitably is the same. Does he think he can be successful?

"What is success?" Robinson wants to know. "Success is winning. In that regard I think I could be a successful major league manager."

All the questions about the possibility of his becoming baseball's first Negro manager stem from the fact that Robinson tried his hand at managing for the first time this past winter with Santruce in the Puerto Rican League. He was a four-star success, right out of the box. He led Santruce to a pennant.

"He was an even better manager than I thought," said Robinson. "I'm not saying he was a great manager, but he was a good one."

Robinson had only five white players on his club. He says he would like to see a Negro manager in the major leagues.

"All ballplayers test a manager to see what they can get away with it," Robinson says. "They have a way of coming up with different excuses. Some tried them on me. I told them I had used the same excuses myself."

Robinson, who's making somewhere around $15,000, gives no indication of retiring as an active player at the end of this season.

The eye trouble he had last year is all over with now, he says, and he's anxious to better his .288 batting average, 52 rbi's and 15 homers.

When the season is over he'd like another opportunity to manage Santruce again next winter and there's a good chance he'll get it.

But as for ever handling a major league club, he spreads his hands, palms upward, and says, "Who knows?"

Robinson suddenly has vaulted to the forefront although he has no idea whether he has any chance of being named manager of the Dodgers all the years Podres pitched for them.

"Buzzy told me to get into shape and play semipro ball after sitting out a year. Still, because he wanted me to join the club this spring," recalled Podres. "I jumped at the chance and managed to pitch about 70 innings with a local team. Then, I went to the instructional league in the fall when Bavasi, who had just

Davidson Job Termed As 'Wide Open'

DAVIDSON, N. C. (UPI) — Davidson College officials, searching for a successor to head basketball coach Jerry Driessell, emphasized Monday that the position is "wide open."

Driessell, who built Davidson into a basketball power, announced Sunday he was resigning to become head coach at Maryland. He had guided the Wildcats to three Southern Conference championships.

Among job candidates to replace Driessell are assistant coaches Terry Country and Terry Holland. But Davidson officials indicated they will also look outside for a coach.

"The coaches here both will be automatically considered," Dr. Samuel Reid Spencer, the Davidson president, said. "In any situation where you have a vacancy at the top, the people on hand have to be considered along with any other outstanding candidate who applies. It's wide open."

Conroy reportedly has backing from some influential Davidson alumni and supporters. A successful Pennsylvania prep coach before coming to Davidson, Conroy said he definitely was going after the post.

Copper Firm Plans Hike In Wire Price

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q - I am a 70-year-old widower, retired from the oil industry. I have a pension of $2,000 a month. I am concerned with the future of my income. I have a life insurance policy for $100,000. I am looking for a way to invest my money. I have a few stocks, but I am not sure if they are a good investment. I am looking for a way to invest my money in a way that will provide a steady income. U. S. Steel Plans To Seek Diversified Market Effort

NEW YORK (UPI) - U. S. Steel Corp. said today it plans to pursue more ventures in non-steel markets to further its role as a diversified producer. The nation's largest steelmaker said these ventures allow it to diversify its income and reduce its dependence on the steel market.

Business Today

UPI Business Wire - NEW YORK (UPI) - One answer to the problem of increasing communication is the use of the electronic mail. The use of the electronic mail is increasing rapidly, and it is expected to continue to do so in the future.

Eager Officer Discovers Judge Protects Pigeons

BRADFORD, England (UPI) - An eager policeman arrested a man for feeding pigeons in public gardens. The man was charged with interfering with the pigeons. The man was charged with interfering with the pigeons. The man was charged with interfering with the pigeons.

Union Demands Boycott Action

DENVER (UPI) - The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union (OCAW) Monday called for a nationwide consumer boycott against the Shell-Oil Co. and Shell Chemical Co. The union is asking its friends in the public not to buy Shell products, said A.F. Grosplan, president of the OCAW. "We are asking you to return their credit cards," Grosplan said.

Athletes Discover Pain Can Lead To New Strength

By BOB RICHARDS
Olympics Champion

Once upon a time in California, the fabled begins, there was a scrawny little boy who suffered from anemia. He was so frail that he had to eat special foods and sleep 12 hours a day, and he had to watch from the sidelines when his friends played their rugged games.

What happened when that frail little fellow grew up? He became merely the average child of his time. He was Bob Mathias, master of the high jump, the broad jump, the javelin, the pole vault—all those Olympic Games' most exciting contests, the decathlon. Bob won two gold medals, one in 1948 and one in 1952.

Yet the extraordinary, doesn't it? The entire history of the Olympic Games is made of this stuff. There's hardly a man or woman on an Olympic team who doesn't have a thrilling story to tell.

Throughout the years of the modern Olympics—since Athens, 1896—those stories have special meaning. For as I do and as you'll see all of life in microcosm. You'll see pain and struggle, perseverance, failure, triumph, youth and maturity, action; you'll see man in his splendor, as we want him to be. Look closely and you'll see what we, our Johnson had the bottom of his foot torn off in a cotton machine when he was 9 years old. That's the same foot he used later to take off the gold for the jumps, that won him his decathlon gold medal.

How about Ray Ewry, the greatest standing jumper who ever lived? He, too, that beautiful champion figure skater? She also had polio.

Joseph Guillemin was passed during World War I. He had the leg and stamens to beat the legendary Phantom Finn, Paavo Nurmi.

What about Harold Connolly, the hammer thrower? He had a left arm two-thirds the size of his right, a crooked stump. That did not stop him from being a world champion. He, too, made himself strongest where he was weakest. The lesson is obvious.

And what about the great hard luck. Back in my day of competition, in the 40s and 50s, there was a Hungarian named Karoly Takacs who was recognized as the best pistol shot in the world. More than anything Takacs wanted to win in the Olympics. He had a strange plan for him.

One-day driving home, Takacs was in a crash. The doctors had to amputate his right arm. His recovery was slow. It wasn't a physical problem, it was an emotional one. He had his hand on his forehead. People tried to help him but there was little they could do. He began to avoid his friends. Even his family did not know where he was.

Yet Karoly Takacs went to the next Olympic Games—as a contestant. In solitude he had to relearn his left arm and his aiming eye.

Pistol shooting requires tremendous coordination and mental development. It is an intellectual operation that most people realize—but Karoly was ready.

When the pistol event was over, his one-armed Hungarian stood, the cheers rising about him, on the topmost step of the winners' platform, a gold medal around his neck.

Takacs showed us something more than his superiority on the pistol range. He proved that human beings have a largely untapped comeback capacity.

Takacs discovered for himself the exciting fact that hitting bottom does not mean defeat. It just signals the end of the downward movement. As a friend of mine has remarked, "The bottom, you know, can be something to bounce off."

I think of what Jim Connelman, the great coach at Indiana University, said to me. "I've never seen a sword fencer broken but that the athlete went through pain and agony."

And that makes me think of youngsters like Cathy Ferguson, 17 years old, struggling in the backstroke event, six inches behind. She could hardly feel her legs and arms but she kept battling, nine yards, eight, seven, six. I could hardly believe the way she kept hanging on, digging in, until she pushed through to win.

Afterwards, all I could think to ask was, "Cathy, what did you do in the pain?"

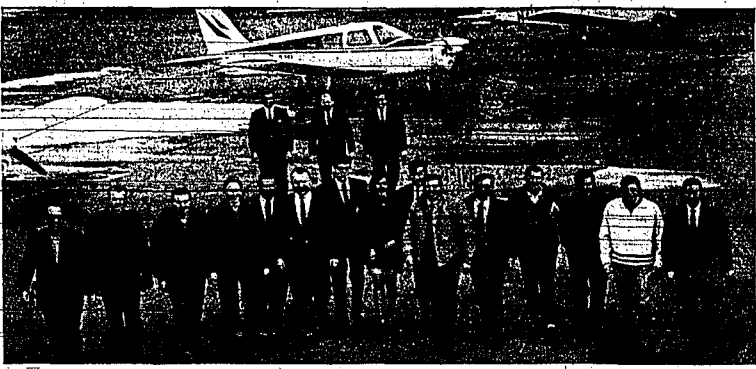

In that moment of glory, she could hardly control her tears but she said, "Dad, I just kept praying: 'please, God, help me keep going. Dear God, help me keep going.'"

I know that athletes train in pain because they are aware that in the race it's going to hit them and they'll have to drive through it.

Strange as it may seem, those athletes will tell you that when you go through pain, you achieve. Now you can stretch your lungs, to stretch your muscles, but when you do, the next time you have more capacity. That's what it's all about. When you think about the Olympic games, when you read about the closeness of the competition and the richness of the ritual, about the beauty and strength of those young men and women from all over the earth, be proud because you are watching the man as we want him to be, the way he can be—healthy and intelligent, strong by God and his brothers, disciplined and in control, struggling beyond the pain, excelling.

Next—Harold Sherman, Arkansas. Sherman tells how he abandoned his father who had sent him away from home, and what that lesson taught him.

Youth Faces Slay Charge In New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—A six-foot 16-year-old who said he was shooting at street lights and accidentally killed a train brakeman was charged Monday with homicide.

The youth, Richard Berkeley, turned himself in to police early Monday at the urging of his mother and friends. He said he fired the shot that killed George V. Burns, 49, Saturday night from the roof of a tenement near the Harlem station of the Penn Central Railroad.

Research Society Meets Tuesday

The Magic Valley Branch of the Research Society of America will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Snake River Conservation Research Center in Kimberly.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Mr. Marvin Niccum, Of- ficial Engineer and Geologist for the Idaho Nuclear Corporation at Idaho Falls.

Mr. Niccum will speak on "Composition and Geology of Ground Water in the Upper Snake River Valley. Interested persons are welcome and invited to attend this meeting."

Sergeant Moyes Gets Award Of Bronze Star

U.S. Air Force Technical Sergeant Warren A. Moyes, son of Mrs. Maura F. Moyes of Hazelton, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal at Zaragoza AB, Spain, for meritorious service while engaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces.

Sergeant Moyes was cited for his performance as an electrical power technician at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam.

He is now assigned at Zaragoza AB, Spain, in a unit of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe.

His wife, Rosellen, is the daughter of Mrs. Effie J. Perry, 100 Whittier St., Idaho Falls.

Petroleum Firm Increases Price

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (UPI)—Phillips Petroleum Co. announced Monday it is increasing the price it pays for about 220,000 barrels per day of crude oil produced in six states.

The price hikes were effective Monday and range up to 20 cents per barrel. All oil purchased by the firm in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Montana, Kansas and Colorado is included.

Prescription Drug Idea To Be Examined By Experts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Johnson administration recommendation that would provide coverage of self-administered prescription drugs under Medicare will be examined by a committee of non-government experts.

Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health Education and Welfare wants to know what the medical profession, pharmacists, the drug industry, economists and consumer groups think of the idea before he approves it.

Finch inherited the recommendation from his predecessor, Wilbur J. Cohen, through an HEW task force on prescription drugs. Its final report was made public Saturday.

"The whole subject of prescription drugs is vitally important to the people of this country," Finch said.

"I want to be absolutely certain that the department does everything in its power to make sure that the American people are receiving the best drugs obtainable at the most reasonable cost."

The task force was appointed in May, 1967, and consisted of HEW officials.

It said in its report that it would be both economically and medically feasible to provide self-administered drugs under Medicare.

"Their inability to afford the drugs they require may well be reflected in needless sickness, in disability, unemployment and costly hospitalization which could have been prevented by adequate one-of-hospital treatment," the report said of the elderly.

"We recognize that Medicare provides the great majority of the elderly with substantial protection covering the drugs they receive while they are patients in hospitals and extended care facilities.

"But they need a far improved protection against the cost of drugs that is when they are not hospital in- extended inpatients and especially, against those costs associated with the serious chronic conditions which afflict them," said Finch. "There can be no doubt that the elderly are hit hard by drug costs. We have to determine now whether the Medicare system offers the best means of helping older Americans meet these costs."

Several weeks ago, authorities were robbed by two gunmen. Frank Butera, 55, emerged from the family's living quarters in the rear of the store while his brother John was struggling with the bandits, police said. Frank was shot in the chest.

Police said the bandits fled empty handed Monday.

Police said black militants warned the Buteras to leave the neighborhood after racial disorders last year, saying it was not a place for whites to live.

Drivers Fired In Dispute With Union

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Five longshoremen were fired Monday for striking over the dispute with teamsters that threatened to close West Coast water-front operations.

The Maritime Association, an employer group, said four drivers were dismissed at the port of Oakland for refusing to accept orders from the Japan Lines' America Maru at the Seventh Street terminal.

In Portland, Ore., a crane operator was fired for refusing to operate a container crane during loading of the Matson Lines' Hawaiian refiner, the PMA said. Four crews were handling general cargo without incident.

Ports in Seattle and Southern California were not affected by the dispute, which involved the issue of a strike by East Coast longshoremen.

The long-festering quarrel centers on whether teamsters' longshoremen should load containers in installations near the docks.

Before the firings, the Teamsters union said it was advised by the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union that longshoremen "will refuse to handle any containers loaded by teamsters."

"This is our work," said Tim Richardson, head of Teamsters Local 65, "we won't give it up." "We are telling our people to go ahead and do their work that has historically been done by teamsters. It's been ours since we were chartered in 1907."

The ILWU declined comment on the firings and other phases of the dispute.

A PMA spokesman said the employer group has a contract with the ILWU, running through July 1, 1971. It has a no-strike clause, he said.

Idaho House Taps 'Hostess' Over Protest

BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho House Monday approved 40-23 a resolution declaring Miss Idaho as the official hostess of the state. The resolution was being legislating in an area where it has no business.

Miss Karen Ryder, Weber, the current Miss Idaho, was introduced following passage of the bill and said, "It's a great honor to me to be the first official hostess for Idaho."

Miss Ryder was then escorted to Gov. Don Samuelson's office where she was presented with a small gift honoring the occasion.

Although the resolution has previously passed the Senate by unanimous vote, several members of the House said a precedent was being set and other organizations than the I. O. O. F. Club, sponsors of the Miss Idaho program, would seek similar legislation.

"We're legislating in an area we shouldn't be legislating in," Sen. Ward Chaffern, R-Altamont, said. Rep. Kurt Johnson, D-Idaho Falls, added that the measure put the state and the legislature in an awkward position.

Proponents argued that only the legislature could grant the honor, and read a letter from the governor in which Samuelson said the declaration would not interfere with the function of the program, which is a study of the state.

Japanese Official Hits Gambling

TOKYO (UPI)—Gov. Ryoichi Miki today wants to abolish all forms of gambling sponsored by the Tokyo metropolitan government, even at the risk of losing 9 billion yen ($25 million) a year in revenue.

Miki said that as a "progressive" governor elected with the support of the Socialist and Communist parties, "it is opposed to horse, auto, jockey and cycling races held regularly under the sponsorship of the city government."
