TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1969

U.S.MAIL

IF ANYTHING, TUESDAY could have been called the Ides of April. It was deadline day for many a taxpayer, and one was caught in the act here, mailing his return in the dark of night near the Twin Falls Post Office. Postal officials said the mailing wasn't heavy at midnight Tuesday, the deadline for mailing tax returns. But there were a few returns in the mail boxes and all were postmarked midnight. Returns mailed today are late, and if Uncle Sam is due some money the taxpayer faces a penalty charge. If the taxpayer is due a refund, and if he mailed the return after midnight, his return will be delayed a while.

Work Resumed At Kellwood Site Here

Construction on the Twin Falls Division of the Kellwood Co. site has resumed by Ronald VanAuker Construction Co. Robert Matthews, plant manager, said this week.

Construction at the 20-acre site last week resumed to the city, was halted temporarily when R. M. VanAuker, Caldwell, was shot to death at Siler City, N. C.

Mr. VanAuker's construction firm had started work on the $1.2 million plant site. After his death, his son, who operates a construction firm in Oregon, agreed to resume work.

Mr. Matthews, Scott Stringer and College of Southern Idaho construction crews, have been reworking the old C. C. Anderson building to serve as a training center for Kellwood employees.

Two knitting machines for the hostelry firm arrive in Twin Falls this week and will be set up at the training center. CSI is offering training programs for Kellwood employees.

Mr. Matthews also said that he has selected a plant maintenance supervisor and personnel manager, but does not wish to disclose their names at this time.

St. Anthony Youths Caught At Dietrich, Total Now 6

DIETRICH — Six escapees from the State Industrial Training School at St. Anthony are accounted for with the arrest of two boys here, it was reported Wednesday.

Three youths were captured last Saturday, two at Fairfield and the third at Jerome. They were held in the Jerome County jail until their return to the school.

The three boys escaped last week. Then, on Sunday night, three more escaped. These three boys stole a car at Rexburg and drove it to Jona, near Idaho Falls. They abandoned that car and attempted to steal a motor-cycle. It wouldn't start so they hitchhiked to Arco and stole a car there. They drove the car almost to Shoshone before it lost a tire and ran into a ditch.

The boys walked into Shoshone, then split up, one going to Nampa, his home town, and the other two going to Dietrich. At Dietrich, a farmer saw the boys attempting to steal a motorcycle. He called the county Sheriff Thomas Connor and the boys were quickly taken into custody. This was Tuesday. The boy at Nampa was taken into custody Tuesday.

Officials said Wednesday all three boys are being returned to the center.

The three boys held in Jerome were the same three who escaped from the center several weeks ago with seven other youths, but one has been captured since.

Larry Hauber, state rehabilitation officer in Twin Falls, said charges of car theft may be filed against the youths.

The two boys captured in Dietrich Tuesday were 15 and 10 years old. The boy captured in Nampa is 17. It was learned Mr. Hauber said the boys held in Jerome had also been involved in car thefts and in attempting their escape from the school.

He said in all cases the keys of the vehicles had been left in the ignitions.

Processed Spud Use Keeps Market Active

By ROBERT VAN AUDELIN
Times-News Farm Editor

The potato market in the past few weeks has seen more activity than in many years.

This fact is evident in Magic Valley and throughout the nation where potatoes are grown. The market for potatoes has been up and down for several weeks, particularly in potato futures, particularly in potato futures.

Just last week the May contracts—potatoes to be sorted and delivered in May—were up near the $3.50 mark, and Tuesday they were down to $2.08 and $3.00.

There seem to be two main factors causing this roller coaster effect on the potato market today—the demand for processed product and overcapacity of Eastern potatoes.

The demand for the processed product, boosted so much that fresh suppliers cannot purchase the potatoes. One local fresh potato supplier said that processed potatoes are buying at a minimum of $3.50 to $3.75 hundredweight field row, whereas fresh-supply potatoes had been paying as much as $2.25 to $2.50 per hundredweight field row. He said the market is competitive with the processing plants.

Most of the potatoes in Magic Valley already have been purchased, but those that have not yet been sold are being sold at the market of Eastern potatoes.

In Maine, the potato market is dropping because of the over-supply of the 1968 crop and poor prices. The report is that potatoes today on the futures market, are for the fall end of the potato crop, where the quality

'No Survivors' Found In Wreckage Of Lost Plane

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Pentagon said today that "regrettably there is no report of any survivors being found" from the missing EC212 aircraft lost in the Sea of Japan Monday night.

Two Russian ships joined in the search and rescue operation at U.S. request. The Russian port of Vladivostok is only about 150 miles from where the plane apparently went down.

The EC212, a propeller-driven plane crammed with electronic snooping equipment, had been missing for about 20 hours when search planes sighted the debris. The destroyers Tucker and Dale were en route from Japan.

There were these developments:

President Nixon was to meet with his National Security Council. The White House was treating the incident in a subdued, non-crisis manner, and the optics, especially military, by available to Nixon, were apparently limited.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in Manila Tuesday night, told newsmen the administration believes the plane was more than 100 sea miles away from the Korean coast when two MIG jets attacked it.

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C. of the House Armed Services Committee called for immediate military retaliation against North Korea, with nuclear weapons if need be. But for the most part, congressional reaction was restrained and cautious.

North Korea demanded a meeting of the Korean Military Armistices Commission Friday, presumably to bring up the plane issue. There was no indication from the military in Seoul that it would accept.

The Pentagon said the plane was under orders to fly no closer than 50 miles from the North Korean coast, and was actually 90 miles out when it was heard from late Monday night, Eastern Standard Time.

The Russian navy destroyers steamed toward the sea after spotter planes sighted debris Tuesday night, Washington time. The United States had asked the Soviets for help in rescue efforts.

"No survivors have been reported," the Pentagon said of the debris which "could be associated with the missing aircraft." Location of the debris was given as 41 degrees 14 minutes North and 131 degrees 50 minutes East. The location corresponded to the general area where the Pentagon said the craft was last heard from.

Seas were described, as moderate, but the water was only 42 degrees Fahrenheit. Officials doubted any survivor could last very long in the cold water. The plane was equipped with life rafts.

The plane was carrying six tons of electronic monitoring gear and diplomatic sources said it may have been assigned to listen in on Chinese and Russian military forces on the disputed border between the two countries where the two have clashed recently.

Jaycees To Open State Meet Here

More than 600 members of Jaycee and Jay-C-Ette clubs will gather Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Twin Falls for their annual state convention.

The convale begins at 9 p.m. Thursday with a get-acquainted mixer at the Twin Falls Moose Hall, according to Dick Messersmith, Jaycee convention chairman. Mrs. Barry Bigelow is general chairman of Jay-C-Ette activities planned for the three days.

Among speakers scheduled for the three-day session are Wade Fleetwood, associate director of Partners of the Alliance, who will speak at a Friday noon banquet, and Dr. Royal L. Garff, professor of marketing and speech at the University of Utah, who will speak at the Saturday night installation banquet.

Mr. Fleetwood is one of the national leaders of an international relations program endorsed by the Jaycees. The Partners of the Alliance is a self-help program conducted between the U.S. and Latin American countries.

Mr. Fleetwood is a former Idahoan. He received his degree from the University of Idaho and later taught at Boise High School. He was executive secretary to Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, from 1957-1963. He later joined the agency for International Development in the State Department, where he served as congressional liaison for two years. He is now being named to his present post.

Dr. Garff has been a featured speaker at Jaycee meetings in five states recently. His book, "You Can Learn to Speak," is written extensively on selling and human relations.

From 1938 to 1941 Dr. Garff was director of retail training for the Montgomery Ward Co. in Chicago. Since then he has conducted training workshops and has completed week-long clinics for various professions.

A prayer breakfast for members of the young men's and women's groups will be at 8 a.m. Friday.

Officers will be elected and will be installed Saturday night. Current presidents are Hanssen, Nampa; Jaycee president, and Mrs. Joe Jensen, Caldwell; Jay-C-Ette president, Nampa.

The convention headquarters is the Holiday Inn.

Rupert Sets Meet Tonight On Hospital

RUPERT — Representatives of the Rupert Development Corporation and Mindoko County Commissioners will meet Wednesday night to meet with representatives of a Nebraska-based firm which has demonstrated interest in moving into the area.

Richard Bohle, president of the local corporation, Larry Duff, Bob Balch, Charles Cresson and Oliver Hanzel report the firm had indicated an interest in moving into the area to operate the local hospital facilities if a nursing home were also available for the company to operate.

The firm reportedly now operates a number of other nursing homes and at least two hospitals. The local county commissioners March 25 voted to assume operation of the Mindoko See RUPERT, Pg. 2, Col 8

Blame Fixed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department said today "all evidence now available" indicates a missing U.S. military plane was shot down by North Korean aircraft and that it was "far outside" North Korean airspace when attacked.

"From a variety of sources, some of them sensitive, we are able to confirm that at all times during its mission the aircraft was far outside any claimed territorial airspace of North Korea."

Notes For Renewal Job Sold

The Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency sold $1.51 million in federal notes today to Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co., Chicago, at an interest rate of 4.28 per cent.

The bank paid a premium of $49—it was one of five firms making bids on the project notes.

The local agency chose the open market route because of the fact that they were able to secure a better interest rate than through the federal government. The agency could have borrowed directly from the Department of Housing and Urban Development at an interest rate of six per cent.

The $1.51 million note to Continental Illinois will be paid off through grants from the federal government, Robert Alexander, attorney for the local agency said the government could have through appropriations already made, directly financing the local project.

However, through allowing the agency to advertise and sell project notes on the open market, public money is being involved, and a saving of almost two per cent was realized.

The local notes were pooled See RENEWAL, Pg. 2, Col 7

Filling Of Magic Reservoir Is Cue To Flood Threat

Gooding ranchers along the Big Lost River, north of the Deer Creek bridge, and in the Ketchikan area south of Warm Springs are making preparations to move in expectation that the river will overflow its banks as Mr. Fox said that one of the main problems at this time is finding suitable rock closer than the dam. It has been estimated that the work will consist of building dikes and installing rip rap to strengthen potential weak spots along the river bank and the flow of the river will be kept as slow as possible.

"We are not going to make a canal out of the river and rob the natural beauty of the channel," he stressed. Mike Ivie is the contractor hired to haul the rock.

"No flooding is anticipated at this time."

Orborn canal out of the Big Fish Creek Dam, at Carey, where the water level dropped slightly on Tuesday. Watermaster W. C. Eldredge said.

At Wood River Dam, Watermaster Boyd Stocking said that the water level raised 1,200 acre feet. In the past 24 hours, but that the dam is only about one-third full, with an estimated 10,000 acre feet in storage. The dam has a capacity of 30,000 acre feet.

Carey Lake raised "quite a bit yesterday," a spokesman said, but no flooding is predicted, though the water level is almost even with Highway 33 along the lake. State Highway Department personnel are watching the highway situation, but have not yet posted warning signs.

House Resigns

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson announced Tuesday afternoon he had received a resignation of C. (Doc) House from the Idaho Board of Correction.

Douglas Bean, administrative assistant for Samuelson, said he had no more information and could not say whether House would be kept on in another capacity.

Mideast Warfare Continues Unabated

By United Press International

Egyptian and Israeli troops battled across the Suez Canal for the 10th straight day today, Cairo Radio said. Israel also fought Jordanian forces and sent two jets into Jordan and struck at Arab positions.

A Jordanian military spokesman said two French-built Israeli Myer's tanks attacked Nashan and Um Taha with rockets and napalm for 10 minutes. There was no mention of casualties.

Unofficial reports in Israel said the planes bombed Arab guerrilla positions that shelled three Israeli settlements with mortars earlier in the day.

Officially, Israel said only one mortar fire from Jordanian territory was directed at the settlements of Ashdot Yancov, Ne'ur and Bet Yosef and at Israeli patrols in the Beilan Valley. One Israeli force returned the fire and the exchange lasted 45 minutes.

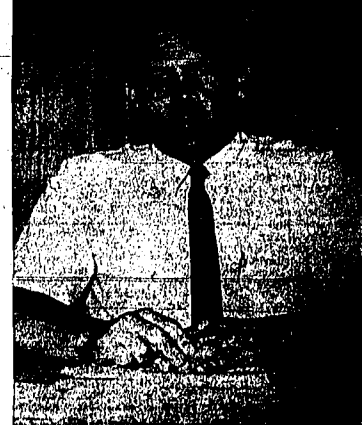

The Jordanian military spokesman said a military force of 1,000 men and 100 tanks in three hours of artillery, mortar and tank fighting across the Jordan River.

He said Jordanian guns destroyed five Israeli tanks, a vehicle, two 50-caliber machine guns, a mortar, an observation post and two artillery emplacements.

Israelis residents near the Jordanian coastline line the Israeli-occupied West Bank "alliance" Arab commando positions from where mortar fire was directed at the settlements.

Israeli Jordanian forces rejected Jordanian King Hussein's six-point peace plan proposed in Washington last week.

The guerrilla groups, in an unprecedented joint statement, said they decided to reject the latest Jordanian proposals and all other proposals to liquidate the Palestine cause.

NEW DIRECTOR of the South Central Community Action Agency is Laurence Mack, with headquarters in Twin Falls. Mr. Mack formerly was a counselor with the State Department of Employment, Baker, Ore.

New CAA Director Takes Over In T.F.

Laurence Mack, formerly of the Lane county Youth Study Project, Eugene, Ore., and was a counselor and lecturer at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, has taken over as director of the South Central Community Action Agency office here.

Mr. Mack says he wants to first get the feeling of the people of the area. After considering their needs and wants, he would like to establish a specific program which would be most beneficial. He plans visits to the various Headstart programs and two Neighborhood Centers in the tri-county area this week. Mr. Mack plans to talk with the workers and persons involved with the programs to find where the needs lie.

The new director came to Twin Falls from Oregon, where he was an employment security counselor with state employment offices. Previously, he had served as a juvenile court director for Umatilla County, Pendleton, Ore.; field counselor for the Mike Larson School for Boys, Woodburn, Ore., where he counseled potatoes and their families.

He was a research assistant last year.

The show will be at 8 p.m. April 24 and 25 at O'Leary Junior High School auditorium, according to Bradford T. Hickerson, high school drama director.

Mr. Hickerson said that in 1927, nine years after the Russian czar and his entire family were shot by a firing squad, word began to spread over Europe that the czar's youngest daughter had escaped execution.

The drama concerns a young girl who fit the description and controversy which developed over whether the girl actually was the czar's daughter.

Television Pact Awarded In Boise

BOISE (UPI) — General Communications and Entertainment, Inc., Tulsa, Okla., has been awarded a franchise by a 4-2 vote by the Boise City Council to provide cable television service to the area.

Passage of an ordinance franchising the firm came after a lengthy public hearing in which education television was caught in a clash between the Oklahoma firm and a joint venture consisting of Idaho's two television stations, KBOI and KTUV, and Community Television Inc., Denver, Colo.

Wendell Group Maps Campaign For Interchange South Of Town

WENDELL—A committee has been appointed by Wendell Mayor Carl Geissler to coordinate efforts to persuade the State Highway Department to build a full interchange from the Interstate highway south of town.

Melvin Gates was named to serve on this committee at a city council meeting attended by a delegation from the Wendell Chamber of Commerce. It was reported that much research has been done to secure a full interchange from the Interstate which will run south of Wendell, and a half diamond interchange to the west.

But state and federal highway officials have repeatedly said that enough valid reasons have not been presented. Unless the city council and chamber members can prove an urgent need for the full interchange, Wendell will have only a half-diamond approach from both the south and west, the mayor noted.

Cecil Hobbey, city attorney, will work with the committee.

Edward Johnson, city superintendent, states that alley and street clean-up work will start April 21, and will continue for the rest of the month. Trucks will pick up trash from the alleys and citizens are asked to place loose trash in containers to make the work easier as the workers have a large area to cover.

Students Take 'Positive' Poverty Stand

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI) — "University of Idaho students are attempting a positive approach toward the problem of poverty," according to Wayne Fox, UI graduate student in mathematics.

Fox, a teaching assistant in the Department of Social Sciences, at the university, is coordinator for SEED — Students for the Education of the Economically Disadvantaged.

The new organization aims to create support for young Americans "caught in the cycle of poverty," Fox said, who added, "the tools of SEED are political and educational."

Fox said the first project of SEED will be to persuade the university student body to raise fees $3 per semester to fund a scholarship program. Scholarships would be for students with a Bility, but from poverty-impacted areas, who ordinarily would be financially prevented from going on to higher education.

A special election for the student body to vote on the proposed fee increase was approved by the student government and set for May 7.

WASHINGTON — While candidates are still brooding over their 1968 campaign deficits, the right-wing United Republics of America (URA) has launched its fund-raising operation for 1970 — resuming an operation that for sheer audacity and presumptuousness is unequalled on the American political scene. Judging from past experience, URA's current fund-raising will bring in hundreds of thousands of dollars from conservatives who passionately desire to elect conservative Republicans to Congress. Also judging from past experience, the time-out of each dollar so collected will ever reach a political candidate. Rather, half of URA's take will be funneled into Richard A. Viguerie Co. of Washington, D. C., a fabulously successful direct mail firm specializing in political fund-raising. Indeed, Dick Viguerie — who entered politics through the conservative youth movement a decade ago — is a most fascinating figure in the shadow world of political finance. As fund-raiser for the URA and scores of individual campaigns around the country, Viguerie has shown genius at gathering in the conservative dollar. The criticism directed at him by Republican professionals is that not enough of it ever gets to the candidate. That's why regular Republicans were less than delighted to see the smooth Viguerie touch in URA's first post-election fund-raising effort. A Feb. 3 letter, under the signature of Rep. Marjorie B. McConally, a freshman Congresswoman from New York elected with the help of $2,000 from the URA, calls on past contributors to the URA to pay $25 — "more if you can" — to purchase a URA board of sponsors certificate. The certificate will build a campaign fund that can definitely elect a conservative Republican Congress in 1970. "We may fail again" unless the money is collected to send "skilled campaign tacticians" around the country to help you win. Another letter, also signed by McConally, was sent out as a follow-up on Feb. 24. But for the conservatives on URA's mailing list could see URA's balance sheet for 1968, they would know that most contributions to URA are perpetuated through salaries, fees, and — mainly — direct mail solicitations. Figures for 1968 filed with the clerk of the House show the URA collected the handsome sum of $475,537 but distributed only $100,000 — less than 10 per cent — to candidates. Of the balance, $289,285.65 is listed for direct use "bonusing" solicitors — $240,318.21 of that being dispersed to the Richard J. Viguerie Co. How Viguerie applied the quarter-million dollars between his own fee, postage, and other expenses is not indicated. Another $184,944.99 was spent by URA in buying a hefty payroll, travel and entertainment costs, and incidental expenses. Actually, despite its gargantuan fund-raising effort, URA has a $21,000 cash deficit for 1968. Even that skimpy $43,000 actually distributed by URA to candidates must be divided into impact. Out of 40 candidates receiving URA contributions, only 10 were winners. And of the eight winners, only two (including McConally) were in districts that could, by any stretch of the imagination, be called closely contested. In fact, some of the URA campaign fund distribution was equivalent to "pouring" money down the drain. The highest single URA contribution of $3,500 went to Gordon Liddy, a Conservative party candidate for Congress — in the Hudson River Valley just north of New York City. Liddy never had a chance and actually dropped out of the race before Election Day to endorse the Republican nominee, Hamilton Fish Jr., who in November was elected.

Out of 35 Republican candidates for Congress receiving URA funds, fully one-third failed to win nomination. An example: William J. Mullany, a member of New Jersey's right-wing "traffick" faction and a parish to the URA's regulars, received $100 URA contribution before being massacred in the party primary in a district later won by the Democrats in November. Up to now, however, these bleak facts of life regarding the eventual whereabouts of their URA contributions have not troubled conservative donors deeply. It may be coincidental that Wainwright Dawson Jr., its first elected sponsor, also is a URA member. It is coincidental that its address in Washington, 415 2nd St., N.E., is identical to URA's. If the Firearms Lobby's cost of raising money is also as astronomical — as the URA's, it would be no surprise.

For instance, a new fund-raising effort has been made by the Firearms Lobby of America. It may be coincidental that Wainwright Dawson Jr., its first elected sponsor, also is a URA member. It is coincidental that its address in Washington, 415 2nd St., N.E., is identical to URA's. If the Firearms Lobby's cost of raising money is also as astronomical — as the URA's, it would be no surprise.

He certainly knows he shouldn't drink and drive. He probably is just as aware of the dangers of drinking and driving, either, whether driving or not — but especially not when driving. They are a form of amphetamine, a powerful stimulant, and according to law, should be dispensed only on prescription. But this law, like so many laws is violated by people who can't seem to get it through their heads that there is a reason for such laws. In all, do provide some false "pep." Continued use can lead to dizziness, nervousness, and ultimately to a heart attack or even a person's energy that can even collapse. It's a dangerous practice. People taking boogie medicines to stay awake, often they have to take sedatives in order to sleep. This vicious circle has caused a great deal of human destruction. But people still do it. They try it once, or twice, or a number of times, and get away with it. But familiarity breeds contempt. Then one day they realize that they have taken too much of these powerful drugs. But familiarly bred contempt, then one day they realize that they have taken too much of these powerful drugs. But familiarly bred contempt, then one day they realize that they have taken too much of these powerful drugs.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My boy friend is 23 and is long-faced truck driver and mover. He is a heavy smoker and also drinks. He takes these pills, bennies, a pep pill, and I tell him it is bad for his blood and system. Please let me something about this pill and its after effects, if any. G. C.

Dear Sir: I am a 12-year-old boy and I like eggs. I eat one for breakfast and one before I go to bed (scrambled). My mother says it is possible to eat too many eggs and that it could be harmful. Is this true? — J. Z.

You can lose weight if you really want to. Dr. Thosteson's booklet "Lost Secrets of Reducing" tells you how — naturally and with no gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy, write to Dr. Thosteson, care of this newspaper, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume of mail received, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In your (or Dr. Moiner's) booklet on "Acne, the Teen-Age Problem," it says to avoid milk and all dairy products. But everyone, including doctors, urges teenagers and most adults to drink 1 1/2 pints to a quart of milk daily. What should I do about this? — W. K.

Read the booklet again. You missed an important point: skim milk is allowable. It has the calcium and protein you need, but it leaves only a trace of fat. Exactly how much effect diet has on acne is not easy to say positively, because it seems to vary from person to person. But a fat restriction appears to be helpful — and "milk products" such as cheddar, ice cream, and whipping cream have considerable fat.

Sweets — carbohydrates, candies, pastries, cake, etc. often are restricted, too. And since chocolate bolsters some patients, if you favor the milk (and the med) that you drink, use vanilla rather than chocolate.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a headache in my kidney, and my doctor wants me to have X-rays every six months. I would like your honest answer to this. Is it dangerous to have too many X-rays taken? I am 35. — Mrs. A. T.

Too many X-rays can be harmful — but every six months that long a time, it is essential that your doctor keep track of a condition like yours.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If I have many drops of iodine should a person take every day in place of the iodine in the salt? — Don't take any in drop form. It was once calculated that the amount of iodine the body needs to equal the iodine in the salt is about one drop.

Yes, of course, you need only a tiny trace. Too much iodine (and several drops a day could be far too much) may be asking for trouble.

Fluoridation

The fluoridation controversy, confused enough as it is by claims and counter-claims, has been further muddled by recent reports that fluoridated water can be injurious to artificial kidney patients. An estimated 1,500 persons in the United States who have suffered failure of natural kidney function through disease or accident, depend upon "hemodialysis" by artificial kidney equipment to keep them alive. In hemodialysis, their blood is passed through a unit containing permeable tubing or membrane immersed in a water solution of special composition so that blood impurities will be removed. During the process, there is also transfer of dissolved substances from the water solution into the blood. Under average circumstances, a patient's blood is "washed" in an artificial kidney two or three times a week for from 6 to 14 hours and is exposed to tremendous amounts of water — in most cases about 900 quarts. In many parts of the country it has long been necessary to purify the local tap water before using it in artificial kidneys in order to remove iron, calcium, magnesium and other natural or added elements, says the U. S. Public Health Service. This is done either by distillation or by passing the tap water through a special device, similar to a water softener, which "deionizes" it. It is also necessary to add certain blood-purifying chemicals. In other words, artificial kidneys are not just hooked up to the nearest public water outlet. The desirable fluoride content in water to be used in dialysis hasn't yet been finally determined, says the Health Service. Some clinicians claim a small amount can help counteract bone demineralization in kidney patients. There is also evidence that absorption of too much fluoride can be harmful. Because kidney patients are exposed to so much water, the Health Service recommends that most water used in dialysis be deionized to remove all elements, including fluoride. "There is no relationship," says U. S. Surgeon General William H. Stewart, M.D., "between the daily consumption of fluoridated water and the use of such water in artificial kidneys. ... the need to process some water supplies before the therapeutic use in large quantities in artificial kidneys has no bearing on the ingestion by ANYONE of optimally fluoridated water from community water supplies, recommended by health authorities as a medically safe procedure for the reduction of dental caries."

COMMUNIST CUBAN MISSION

WASHINGTON — Government agencies have confirmed — probably with the help of electronic bugging devices — that the Communist Cuban mission to the United Nations has become a financial and propaganda headquarters for promoting revolution by black militants and white radicals. Some radical groups, it was learned at the highest levels, are receiving the bulk of their financing from their Cuban tutors. Specifically, it was said, these include the Black Panther Party and Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). One official here, who insisted on anonymity, estimated that the Fidel Castro regime has poured "more than one million dollars" into the treasuries of various radical organizations during the past 18 months. At the same time, there was a difference of opinion among government sources as to whether the Cuban government was involved in the alleged conspiracy by members of the Black Panthers to explode bombs in five Manhattan department stores during Easter Week. Twenty-one Black Panthers have been indicted on the conspiracy charges. "A conspiracy takes money," said one source, "and those cats knew where to get it." Another source, however, said it was "illogical" to assume that the Cubans would get "mixed up" in bombings because they would "serve up revolutionary purpose" at this time. At any rate, the disclosure that the United States had denied re-entry visas to two Cuban UN diplomats, whom a government source says as a normal reaction to evidence that the Cuban Mission is engaged in extensive subversive activities. One of the two diplomats, Juan Jimenez Escobar, a mission counselor, is described as one of the Havana regime's leading experts in the export of revolution. As it happens, this reporter is personally acquainted with the expertise of one of five other Cuban Mission members under investigation by the FBI and State Department. He is Lazaro Espinosa, a third secretary at the UN mission, whom I met during the Castro revolution in 1959. Espinosa was introduced to me by the late Che Guevara at the Havana Hilton Hotel. He's a "leading technician in terrorism." Later, Espinosa was dispatched to Planer Del Rio province to run down a counter-revolutionary movement. Government sources here say another of the five, Jorge Rey, is known by American counter-intelligence agents as one of Castro's top theoreticians. Rey Vega, it was said, directed from Havana subversive activities in Venezuela

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Pep Pills

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My boy friend is 23 and is long-faced truck driver and mover. He is a heavy smoker and also drinks. He takes these pills, bennies, a pep pill, and I tell him it is bad for his blood and system. Please let me something about this pill and its after effects, if any. G. C.

Dear Sir: I am a 12-year-old boy and I like eggs. I eat one for breakfast and one before I go to bed (scrambled). My mother says it is possible to eat too many eggs and that it could be harmful. Is this true? — J. Z.

You can lose weight if you really want to. Dr. Thosteson's booklet "Lost Secrets of Reducing" tells you how — naturally and with no gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy, write to Dr. Thosteson, care of this newspaper, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume of mail received, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In your (or Dr. Moiner's) booklet on "Acne, the Teen-Age Problem," it says to avoid milk and all dairy products. But everyone, including doctors, urges teenagers and most adults to drink 1 1/2 pints to a quart of milk daily. What should I do about this? — W. K.

Read the booklet again. You missed an important point: skim milk is allowable. It has the calcium and protein you need, but it leaves only a trace of fat. Exactly how much effect diet has on acne is not easy to say positively, because it seems to vary from person to person. But a fat restriction appears to be helpful — and "milk products" such as cheddar, ice cream, and whipping cream have considerable fat.

Sweets — carbohydrates, candies, pastries, cake, etc. often are restricted, too. And since chocolate bolsters some patients, if you favor the milk (and the med) that you drink, use vanilla rather than chocolate.

MR. SPECTATOR One House—Now Two

Remember in yesterday's Mr. Spectator you were shown the home on the Salmon Tract which was originally owned by one J. H. Swain, a pioneer in these parts? ed to remodel but it was almost unlivable the way it was. Large open stairway, entrance way, wide arches to the front room and between front room and living room. The only two doors you could shut to keep warm in the winter were to the kitchen. "We nearly froze when we lived there. There were four bedrooms upstairs, with places for stove pipes, and a large hallway leading downstairs. There was no insulation as such in those days."

Mrs. Nelson said that original construction cost for the house was $5,000. The original owner was known as "Hute" and he finally went into the registered sheep business and finally lost the place. It sold a couple of times until the Nelsons first moved into it in 1936. So that, in a nutshell, is the story of the two-story house which used to grace the Salmon Tract. There are more details, of course, and Mrs. Nelson can relate them to you but as Mr. Spectator we are sorry (but not really sad) that we lacked the wrong owner of the house in the first place. This did lead to learning more — and interesting — things about it. Such is life!

Both are now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Nelson, Route Two, Twin Falls. They first rented the stately old home and moved into the original structure in 1936. Mrs. Nelson says her friends said she would never last a year — but they were wrong. She painted most of it in 1942 and then, later, they decided to remodel the place. The result was that it ended up as two homes. "Really, we didn't think of destroying a landmark when we decid-

Safer Work Is Asked In Mines

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A re-searcher in the field of respiratory ailments says the solution to coal miners' "black lung" problems is not compensation but rather to make their jobs safer.

"It does seem to me," Dr. Ian Higgins said Tuesday, "that there should be some acceptable agreed standard based on sound scientific evidence which should be enforced and that the levels of dust in coal mines should be adequately checked."

Higgins, a Britisher who re-on the University of Michigan faculty testified before a house labor subcommittee on sidering coal mine health and safety legislation.

He avoided taking a position on the Surgeon General's recommendation that three milligrams per square inch would be a safe dust level.

Congress is considering legislation to improve the life of miners as an outgrowth of the Manthorn, W.Va., disaster last November in which 78 men were killed.

News Of Record

MINIDOKA COUNTY State Police Blotter
Alan Lee Pidoock, 15, Rupert, was cited for failure to yield the right of way Saturday night when the car he was driving crossed into the path of a 1969 Honda, ridden by Burton Knight, 22, Rupert. The accident occurred at the intersection of 1005 and Meridian Road in Rupert as Pidoock was headed east on 1005.

Damage was estimated at $100 to the motorcycle and at $75 to the 1969 Chevrolet, driven by Pidoock and owned by Norma Hansford.

Later Saturday night, vehicles driven by Ione Broadhead, 45, Burley, and Weldon Tracy, 40, collided three miles south of Burley on Highway 305.

Mrs. Broadhead was attempting to pass the 1958 Beal-truck-trailer owned by Continental Oil and driven by Tracy when she met another vehicle and pulled back into her lane of traffic. In pulling back, her 1965 Dodge struck the rear of the truck trailer. Damage was estimated at $50 to the car.

Mrs. Broadhead was cited for improper passing.

VICTIMS OF REDS Buried In Viet
HUE, South Vietnam (UPI)—The bodies of 200 South Vietnamese slain by Communist executioners in the battle of Hue 15 months ago were buried Tuesday in a cemetery on the outskirts of this old imperial capital.

The mayor of Hue, Col. Le Dan Tran, declared a day of mourning and an estimated 30,000 people, many of them weeping women, lined the streets as the funeral procession moved to the grave site to the beat of a death march.

A hand played Auld Lang Syne when the homemade coffins, some fashioned from pine which had caused American rockets, were lowered into the ground. The music was partially drowned out by the screams of women who hurled themselves before a Buddhist altar decorated with bananas, candy and burning candles.

Several women had to be led away by policemen.

The victims were mostly village officials, teachers and soldiers who were massacred by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops during the Communist invasion of Hue at Tet in 1968.

Jury Is Taking Its Time

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan is encouraged because the jury is taking its time in reaching a verdict for the killing of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"They must be looking it over," he told one of his lawyers.

Courthouse observers at the three-month trial of the young Arab were inclined to agree with him to the extent the jury did not quickly go along with the prosecution demand for finding a first-degree murder and rejection of defense claims Sirhan was mentally confused.

The seven-member jury panel retired to locked rooms in the Billmore Hotel late Tuesday after a full day of deliberation. They had spent one hour before the trial ended Monday but did little more than pick a foreman.

SHARING HIS POPCORN with an unusual 'friend,' young Danny Reed Jr. of Centralia, Ill., found that neither man nor beast can resist the temptation of the hot buttery treat. Danny was visiting the St. Louis, Zoo's walk-through bird cage at the time. (UPI telephoto)

Former Alaskan Guide Loses License, Is Out $19,000 Over Royal Hunt

ISSAQUAH, Wash.—(UPI)—Sirhan said the affair began in May, 1967, when six guides from the Interior Department indicated a "party of Asians" was interested in a hunt and wanted a guide who would be paid in advance.

Burnett was selected over 16 other Alaska guides and it was later revealed the King of Nepal, Mahendra Bir Bikram, his wife, Queen Ratna Rajna Lakshmi Devi Shah, a general and colonel from Nepal and two U.S. security people would be in the party.

Burnett said he gave an estimate of $30,000 for six persons after cutting down a suggested trophy—list which would have cost more than $100,000.

Burnett said Air Force 1 flew the king and queen to Alaska and cargo planes carried supplies. The Army and Navy were in on the act and there were 36 persons instead of six.

"It had snowballed to a point where not a guide in Alaska could handle it," Burnett said. "The king, a poor shot because of poor eyesight, hit a bear in the leg near a closed area, Burnett said. Three days later they saw the animal and Burnett and Burnett killed it, he said.

"As far as I am concerned it was not a closed area and if it was it was only a matter of yards and here was a wounded bear," Burnett said. "Then it didn't dawn on me they'd do anything about it because they bent so many ways to give their majesties a nice hunt."

The guide lost his state license in January but still has his commercial pilot's license for Alaska.

Burnett said he submitted a bill to the Nepalese embassy for about $60,000 including about $19,000 from his own pocket. The embassy paid the bill down to $35,000 leaving Burnett and some creditors holding an empty bag, he said.

Burnett was fined $750 and escaped jail only because a friend, Bert Carlson, of Issaquah, near Seattle, paid the fine. He said he lost his plane, equipment, cabins and his credit.

He is living here temporarily with Carlson and his wife, helping them build a home.

"The State Department backed off," Burnett said. "They have disclaimed responsibility."

He said he is considering suing for $500,000 plus 25 per cent for attorney's fees but holds no grudge against the king. —A

Goldwater Praises Effort Of Military

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Tuesday the United States "should thank heavens" for the military-industrial complex as they do for the Bible under which our nation thrives and prospers.

"Its ultimate aim is peace in our time regardless of the aggressive, militaristic image which the left wing is attempting to give it," the 1964 GOP presidential candidate said in a Senate speech.

Goldwater said many Pentagon problems "stem not so much from a military-industrial complex as they do from the mistakes and miscalculations of a civilian-computer complex . . . the Pentagon hierarchy of which is the most important part of the 'whiz kids,' which was erected during the McNamara era in the questionable name of cost effectiveness.

"I, rather than deploring the existence of a military-industrial complex, I say we should thank heavens for it. The complex gives us our protective shield. It is the bubble under which our nation thrives and prospers. It is the armor which we must annually require in a world divided."

Agency Warns Budget Slash Could Crimp Northwest Power

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department warned Tuesday its budget cut of $400 million from the Bonneville Power Administration could result in an electrical blackout of three Northwest states in 1973.

The department said failure to complete the lower Snake transmission line on schedule by April, 1972, "would create an extremely serious transmission and power supply condition in northeastern Washington, northern Idaho and western Montana."

A reduction of $3.96 million for the lower Snake line will delay completion by one year and "without this line," the department said, "a fault on the lower Monument-Little Goose line would create a condition with a resultant loss of generation."

The department said that in January of 1973, frequency disturbances by loss of this generation could open electrical ties with Canada, California and the East.

Simultaneously with the loss power on the Lower Monument-Little Goose line, a large surge of power would be forced into the western Montana system and would cause electrical systems at eight different generating plants "to break apart" in the three states.

"Until the plants could be brought back on the line, the area would be blacked out," the department said.

The agency also voiced concern that almost the entire proposed $3.4 billion budget for construction of the Monroe-Custer Transmission line was slashed.

Construction of the line already had been delayed one year because of last year's general budget cut and "with another year's delay" the department said. "The increasing load line, which also provides for power exchanges with the Canadian system."

Only $400,000 was proposed this year for the Monroe-Custer line, which also provides for power exchanges with the Canadian system.

Canada Draws Idaho Residents. Derailment Forces Many To Flee Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The friendly borders of Canada drew 457 emigrants from Utah, Idaho and Nevada during 1968, according to F.M. Norman, officer-in-charge of the Canadian Government Immigration Service.

Norman said some 20,422 United States residents came to Canada in 1968. Of the emigrants 5,888 came from nine western states served by the office.

He said most of the emigrants originating from the Pacific Northwest go to the Canadian provinces of British Columbia and Alberta.

Norman noted that for the first time in recent years, emigrants to Canada from the United States became a net gain to Britain with 37,889.

ALLENTON, Wis.—(UPI)—Residents of this Washington County village of about 500 were evacuated Tuesday night after a highly developed in a derailed freight train car containing highly volatile liquid propane gas.

The tank car was one of 32 500 Line freight cars which derailed about 1:45 a.m. Tuesday just south of here. Three of the cars contained liquid propane and one of them exploded minutes after the accident, shooting flames hundreds of feet into the predawn sky.

Firemen stayed at the scene of the accident the rest of the day, cooling the other two propane tank cars with fire hoses. One of them continued smoking throughout the day. The other, next to it, developed a bulge in its side Tuesday night but reportedly was not smoldering.

Woman Loses Bid To Change Plea On Bad Check Charge

After two days of testimony, a 20-year-old Twin Falls woman lost her bid for a change of plea on a bad check charge. Gala Jean Kellogg wanted to plead innocent. Fifth District Court Judge James Cunningham ruled Tuesday this couldn't be done.

Mrs. Kellogg, during her testimony under oath, said she was forced into a life of prostitution and alleged her life and the life of her young son had been threatened. It was the threat against her son's life, she said, that helped create pressure leading to her guilty plea in court last fall.

She also alleged advice from her attorney, her parents and vague advice from an FBI agent, led to the entry of the guilty plea.

The charge was issuing a check without funds in the bank. On Dec. 9 of last year she was given a three-year prison sentence. Sentence was then suspended and she was placed on 18 months' probation.

Mrs. Kellogg was apprehended in El Paso, Tex., last month and returned to Twin Falls as a probation violator.

The attempt to change her plea to innocent would have wiped out the probation and the case would have been started anew, with a jury trial.

But Judge Cunningham denied the motion for a change of plea and Mrs. Kellogg now faces a probation violation hearing. It is set for 10 a.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Kellogg testified she was coerced into writing bad checks by three men she met in Boise last year. She said that once this was done, she was forced to become a prostitute.

On a trip to Twin Falls she allegedly signed some checks without funds in the bank and was told she or her son would be killed if she didn't.

Twin Falls County officials filed a bad check charge against her last November.

In the hearing, which started Monday, Mrs. Kellogg's attorney claimed there was coercion that led to her entering a guilty plea to the check charge.

The prosecution claimed this was not so. Mrs. Maureen Warren, deputy prosecutor, said, "She wasn't coerced at the time she entered her plea. She simply knew she was guilty."

Judge Cunningham, in making his ruling, said, "Justice as we know it is based on the rules of law. And if we follow these rules, justice has been met. The issue is, was Mrs. Kellogg coerced into entering a guilty plea in the first place?"

He said he couldn't see where she was coerced into entering a guilty plea "in this case."

He added, "Even her own attorney advised her to plead guilty to the charge."

Judge Cunningham also determined there was no fraud, ignorance nor fear involved on the entry of the guilty plea.

"He said testimony had determined that the guilty plea was

Federal Official Commends Idaho For Road Safety

BOISE (UPI) — A federal Department of Transportation official says Idaho has moved speedily and effectively in establishing programs for elimination of highway deaths.

Faul H. Orris of Portland, safety management specialist and liaison officer for Idaho, Montana and Alaska, said he is particularly impressed with the number of people involved in safety planning.

Bottle Club Hears Show, Sale Reports

BOISE — Reports on the Boise bottle show and sale were given when the Buhl Antique Bottle Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gulick, Mrs. Vera Easterday was welcomed as a new member.

Approximately 100 displays from Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming were judged at the Boise show. Ribbons for first-, second- and third- place were awarded in several diversified categories.

A trophy for the best display for the entire show was awarded to a Montana exhibit. John Cothran, local chairman of the Buhl display at Boise, reported that the local club competed with three other clubs on a score sheet point system.

Judging was on showmanship, variety of materials, condition of bottles and judges' preference. The Seattle Antique Bottle club scored 296 out of a possible 345; Gem Antique Bottle club, Boise, scored 290; Buhl Antique Bottle club scored 250 and the Hellgate Antique Bottle club of Missoula, Mont., scored 225 points.

Bottle shows and sales are scheduled for May 3 and 4 in Missoula, Mont., and Ogden, Utah.

Mrs. Gene Hopkins won the bottle of the month. The next meeting will be at the home of Ed Jagels in Clover.

Supper Set

SHOSHONE — Boy Scouts of Troop 58 will sponsor a pancake supper from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday at the LDS Church recreation hall.

Proceeds will go to the Scout fund for operating expenses. The boys recently held a car wash, as the first fund-raising project of the year.

Entered at a time when Mrs. Kellogg had no contact with the men who allegedly forced her into prostitution and who allegedly threatened her life and the life of her son.

Finally it was determined the alleged threats came as a result of the writing of the checks and not as a result of her entering a plea in the case.

Mrs. Kellogg is being held in the Twin Falls County jail at the present time.

ATTENTION! ALL Potato Growers

This is an extremely critical period in our contract negotiations with processors and any sign of weakness is certain to work against us.

We have analyzed the contracts that are now being offered and find them to be considerably below the price structure necessary to return the average grower adequate income.

The demand for processed products at this time has been referred to as "fantastic" and there is every indication it will continue to climb.

Growers in this area have not had a price increase for three years. During this time our processing industry has enjoyed tremendous growth and has become firmly established in the market place.

Most Idaho processed products sell for 2c a pound more than competing areas, with some sales as much as 2 1/2c over other areas. Converted to raw product on a 40% recovery basis, this additional price means 80c to $1.00 more per 100 weight.

Potato Growers of Idaho, Inc. feel that the contract developed by them and offered to processors is reasonable and fair to all concerned. The increase demanded under our contract would only require a 1c per pound increase in finished product and finished product at this time is considerably above the 1968 harvest level.

Never before have we enjoyed the perfect atmosphere for making gains on pre-season contracts and all of you should be congratulated for the determination that you have shown.

Remember the year that our sugar processors discovered the only use for their plant was to grind up sugar beets. The same goes for our potato processing plants.

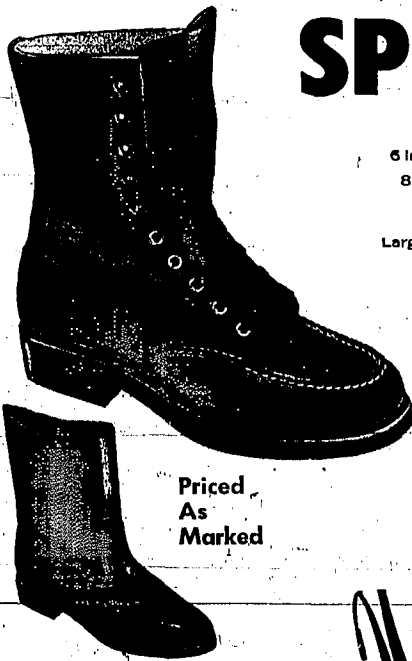

We have always been very proud of our Idaho potatoes and spend hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly in support of this pride (which has been money well spent). So let's quit raising them for less than the cost of production.

Our constant communications all over Idaho shows growers united as never before and all areas are saying "Hold the Line." We expect negotiations will continue and are hopeful that they will come to a successful conclusion.

We ask once again that all growers refrain from signing any contracts and that they refuse to make applications for contracts when contacted by processor field men.

This ad authorized by directors of District 5 and 6 of Potato Growers of Idaho, Inc. Paid for by grower members.

Foster Home Plans Eyed In Minidoka

RUPERT — A committee has been appointed from members of the Minidoka County Council PTA to work with others from other area organizations in studying the possibility of a foster home in the area.

The committee consists of Mrs. Kay Peterson, Mrs. Vance Beckwith and Mrs. Verlie Zell. They were appointed following addresses by Minidoka County Probate Judge LeRoy Blacker and Probation Officer Mrs. Robert Scott during a recent county PTA meeting at the Lincoln School, Rupert.

The speakers explained the need for such facilities in the area and noted that an average of 12 children would use the facilities most of the time.

It was noted that a Rupert home had been offered for use as the "half-way" house but no action will be taken until the matter can be studied further, officials noted.

Also during the PTA meeting plans for the group's annual presentation of "Sounds of Music" were discussed and the date May 16 was cited for the singing—the possibility of a foster home in the area.

The program will involve music students throughout the county who will perform in public concert that night. Proceeds from the event will provide a scholarship for a high school student selected by the PTA committee, and the remainder will be contributed toward purchasing a set of chimes for the district.

Minico band instructor Keith Farris will be music chairman for the event.

New officers installed during the meeting were Mrs. Verlie Zell, president; Mrs. Elmore Plocher, vice president; Rev. McMillan, second vice president; Mrs. Pat Hansen, secretary, and Mrs. Donald Praetizor, treasurer. Fourth District PTA president, Mrs. Vance Beckwith, presided over the ceremony.

It came about nine years ago after a few drinks with some pals. "I just remember buying three pounds 10 shillings ($8.40) and asking for the eagle's wings on my head." # Announcing the first car of the '70s at 1960 prices.

FORD MAVERICK $1995*

(You don't have to read it all—but it's nice to know it's all there.)

Most new cars look like other cars. But when the word gets out that something really different is on the way, rumors run wild. Few cars have caused as much talk as Maverick. Ford's new entry in the small car field rivals the economy imports in price... but tops them in power, performance, passenger room and luggage capacity. We've been bonded with questions about Maverick. Now, for the first time, here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?
A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?
A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plays the big gap between the compact and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?
A. Maverick pinches pennies; not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?
A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-American kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Same economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique leather-pleated cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two, speed electric wipers. Satisfy belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lignite heater controls. Important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?
A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order interior air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semi-automatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Big Block.

Q. What about options?
A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order interior air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semi-automatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Big Block.

Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?
A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated eye and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?
A. Maverick's Six 160 looses 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick's one cover, 477, foot in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a reeled bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it handle and park easily?
A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet), than the leading economy import (38.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a hallway. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5% feel to any parking space.

Q. Can I really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?
A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. That all strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Flexible one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?
A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts, and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?
A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for the car. Price does not include white sidewall tires, $32.00 dealer preparation charge, if any; transportation charges, state and local taxes.

Court Asked To Determine Lake Owners

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—A court case to determine ownership of the lake bed and shore of Great Salt Lake was to begin here May 19 in federal court.

Principal opponents in the trial were the State of Utah and the United States Government.

Utah Atty. Gen. Vernon B. Romney announced plans for the Salt Lake City trial site after a Tuesday telephone conference with Judge J. Cullen Ganey of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, Philadelphia.

Ganey was appointed special master by the U. S. Supreme Court to hear the trial proceedings.

The exposed shorelands around the receding lake are highly valued because of their mineral potential. Utah brought suit in federal court to establish state ownership of the lands instead of the federal government.

Federal officials have laid claim to the lands and offered to sell them to the state for an appraised value of $4 million.

Romney noted that the trial also would revolve around ownership of the entire bottom of the lake.

Nixon Slashes School Funds In Rights Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration announced today it was taking steps to cut off federal funds to the first Northern school district found to be violating the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The Forndale City School District in Michigan has been told it is not in compliance with Title VI of the act and will be offered an opportunity for a hearing before an independent examiner.

Forndale schools were eligible for some $275,000 in federal funds for the current school year.

While existing federal programs are not immediately affected by today's action, the Michigan State Department of Education was notified that commitments of federal funds for new programs are now to be deferred.

Title VI bars use of federal funds for programs in which there is racial discrimination.

Leon E. Panetta, director of the office for civil rights of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, said that Forndale Superintendent John J. Houghton was notified that the district was not in compliance.

Bliss Praises His Party

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Ray C. Bliss, in his farewell speech as Republican national chairman today described the 1968 election of President Nixon as a victory for party organization.

Bliss addressed about 4,000 Republican women attending the annual national conference. A similar conference provided Bliss with the platform for his maiden speech as national chairman four years ago.

The GOP National Committee Monday elected Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland to succeed Bliss, whose resignation was effective today.

Bliss credited GOP women workers with playing a key part in electing Nixon last November. "I said that whenever there is a close election—as the last one was—it is an acid test of organization."

"If there ever was an organization victory in the history of this nation, it was the last one," said Bliss, an expert on political organization who resigned his retirement by the White House.

He added that he had never claimed to have "the voice of Enrico Caruso or the charisma of Cleopatra, but we've won some elections."

Bliss told the women, as he told the national committee Monday, not to feel sorry for him leaving the party.

"I feel like I'm getting a ten-ton load off my back," he said. "As the women assembled for the first business session of the four-day conference, they were supplied with a nine-page document, prepared by the administration, giving the administration's position on the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) deployment plan."

The national committee Monday adopted a resolution saying that the young Nixon administration had "moved quickly and decisively to reverse the policy of drifting into crisis—that has burdened the American people for far too long."

Youth Ranch Director Is Club Speaker

BURLEY — "There is no such thing as a bad boy, only a misguided one," declared Lee Childs, Rupert, superintendent of the Idaho Youth Ranch.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of the Burley Credit Union at the IOOF Hall, Mr. Childs added many of the boys at the ranch come from families with good financial status, but they have not received the guidance they need.

"It's either poor guidance, or no guidance at all, which causes a boy to go astray," he added. "Every boy has an interest in something. We need to look for this interest and work with it. Be interested in your boy, be his partner; don't just punish him but praise him, too."

Invocation was given by Kathy Muller, Mrs. Fred Dickson, president, announced Bosses Night will be held April 28 at Nelson's Cafe with Cong. James A. McClure as featured speaker.

SENATE GOP LEADER Everett Dirksen, left, accused the New York Times on Tuesday of trying to "smear" Otto F. Otepka, right, for plugging a State Department leak which helped John F. Kennedy win the 1960 Presidential campaign. Dirksen made his accusation before a Senate subcommittee meeting on confirmation of Otepka to a $36,000-a-year job as member of the Subservice Activities Control Board. Otepka has been the center of a security and political controversy since 1963, when Rusk, then Secretary of State, discharged him from his State Department position which involved security. (UPI telephoto)

Appalachian 'Poor Folks' Find Life Not So Bad, Despite Their Poverty

By LEE MUELLER

INEZ, Ky. (NEA) — It has been nearly five years now since they came: six green Army helicopters chattering over the hills, then plunging into a valley to land in an open field. It was early June, 1964, and a spring breeze moved easily through newly leaved trees, cooling many of the 5,000 persons who waited in the warm sunshine alongside Kentucky Highway for President Lyndon Johnson.

"As the helicopters settled into the knee-high grass, churning swaying green waves toward the highway, a local high school teacher whistled through his teeth.

"'Hoo boy,'" he said, as the helicopters, like crows, accumulated. "We must be worse off than I thought. This is a war, all right — an invasion."

It was, of course, Johnson's first stop in his celebrated War on Poverty. Statistically, Martin County seemed a good place to start.

A government study showed the small Eastern Kentucky county to be "the poorest all-white bounded area in the world." In 1959, its per capita income was $300, with approximately 70 per cent of its 10,000 population unemployed.

Dr. John W. Ford was the county's only physician. Its only dentist, Dr. Joe Meade — a poet of some note — had moved away a few years before. There were no pharmacies, no water or sewage systems and no industry — not even coal mining.

Unlike coal-belt counties farther south, which were being ravaged, blackened and starved by strip-mining augers, Martin County well-known in poverty scented with hickory nuts and beech-nuts.

Only occasional roadside shacks with curious children lunched on the porches marked an otherwise splendid example of natural beauty.

Residents of the county's two largest communities — Inez, the county seat, pop. 800; and Warfield, pop. 400 — lived comfortably enough because most of them worked. The county school system, which staffed two small high schools and several grade schools, provided considerable employment.

But there were others. I can remember kicking my way through ankle-deep leaves as we walked through the woods to a one-room school where my mother taught. I was five.

I remember the school, unpainted boards, sitting near a pond in a grove of beech trees. I remember the day the students chased a hog into the pond, yelling and splashing and laughing.

The school was located, as my mother later explained, in "the bend of Wolf Creek" — about 30 miles from the nearest county highway — but at least 100 years from civilization. Wolf Creek was, and still is, a difficult place to visit. In those days, we rode horses. My mother taught 14 children in that school. Only four of them had even been to the county seat. None had ever traveled outside of Martin County. None had ever seen a magazine or other than an arithmetic book, a spell-er or a reader, none had ever seen a book. Our house had no electricity, certainly no plumbing and very little heat. During winter months, we took our baths in washubs in front of a fireplace. At night, we slept between two featherbed mattresses.

"Much of our clothing was homemade. I can remember my mother scrubbing my only trousers at night on a washboard to have them clean for school the next day.

"And yet, I cannot remember being called 'poor.' Maybe poverty without dust isn't so bad. Maybe, but I doubt it. The truth was that my mother had a job and in Martin County a man (or woman) had respect if he had a job. Any job.

Most of the 7,000 unemployed persons in the county had never worked. Unlike the expelled coal miners, they entertained no remembrance of satisfying labor. They lived — just like they had always lived — to get through the day.

They handled the state's lone poverty program here. Now there are 18 persons employed in the building. Now there are six poverty programs functioning in Martin County. Now the per capita income has risen to more than $1,000. Inez is installing a water system. The county now has a pharmacy and two doctors. Another highway, leading to a parkway and state park is planned.

The additions have been instituted by several people who were embarrassed by Johnson's visit. Being the white poverty capital of the world is nothing to put up posters about. It hasn't been easy. "We've almost had to fight for everything we've gotten so far," automobile dealer Eugene Ward has said.

One thing, however, remains unchanged. The poor. The poor, it has been said, only gives an opportunity to do nothing longer.

There are people in Kentucky who claim any rehabilitation effort is useless, anyway. "Most of these people simply don't want to change their way of living," a state newspaper man said. "No amount of money; no great face-lifting of the day."

It was not until I left Martin County that I realized, fully, how it had been. There is no Park Avenue in Appalachia for the professional persons — mostly doctors in nearby counties — are held in awe and are expected to live in appropriate quarters. Their right to luxury is not questioned — or envied. To most it is not even real.

Until television came along, in fact, the isolated Martin Countyman simply had no conception of his role in society. President Johnson, however, helped change that conception.

Since the War on Poverty began, Martin County has changed. When Johnson rode through the town with Lady Bird in an open convertible that day, three women watched from the Office of Economic Opportunity office.

Educator Slates ISU Discussion

ISU is sponsored by the ISU Military Science Department.

Berkes is sponsoring a number of earth's strip mines; no vast home building projects; no pack-trail roadway building projects; no development of elaborate recreational complexes will cause these mountaineers to change their way of life. They are living the way they want to live.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks were in sharp retreat Wednesday as traders turned their attention to Washington to see whether it planned any action against North Korea for its continuing of a U.S. reconnaissance plane over international waters.

As trading moved into the final hour, the UPI stock market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, was off 0.51 per cent on 1,517 issues — on the Dow declines topped gains, 852 to 395.

The Dow Jones average of blue chip industrials dropped 7.31 to 924.63. Volume approximated 7,500,000 shares.

Point-wise losers were most evident among the oils and electronics, although similar weakness also cropped-up in other groups.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The possibility of major U.S. concessions at Paris has not been overlooked by "cash-rich investors" looking to get back in the market. Myron Spitzer and Staff Inc. Nevertheless, the firm cautions, the peace-hope rally is still a selective advance "subject to sudden reversal should the Vietnam war heat up again."

Business conditions are best characterized in the Commerce Department's recent comment: "unexpectedly buoyant," Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis observed. The firm's picture, the outlook for higher profits, the reasonableness of price earnings ratios, and the renewed optimism over peace prospects are excellent reasons for the market's recent strength and the rally can be expected to continue, the firm adds.

Successful Investing

Q—My aim is to provide additional income for travel when I yield and possible growth income from the conversion privilege. You are presently achieving a 3.3 per cent return on capital, but at retirement by switching your low-yield issues — Continental American Telephone, Continental Oil, Crown Zellerbach, Eastman Kodak, General Motors, Liggett & Myers and Union Pacific preferred — by a Freedom Share and E Bond monthly, invest $50 a month through Monthly Investment Plan and accumulate shares of Putnam Equities Fund. I am especially anxious to know your opinion of this and but will appreciate any comments on my holdings. G. Q.

A—You have done a remarkable job of building a retirement fund—current value over $400,000—through a systematic savings program. Others would do well to observe what can be achieved by regular, modest investments, made over an extended period. At your present rate you will have invested $10,000 in additional capital by 1977. Your investment will be a conservative but I gather from your letter that you are more comfortable in this setting. Putnam continues this quarterly fund—should not be a cause for concern. In 1968—the first full year reported—the fund outperformed the average by a good margin.

The fund is managed by well-respected and long-established Putnam Management Company. Stanley J. Pollock, who has arranged April 25 in Newark for five years in prison and a $100,000 fine. Pollock, a Republican, said in a statement the difference between the taxes withheld from his salary for the five-year period and the amount owed totals $253. He claimed he paid the full amount last June, but while it is true that I failed to pay the return when due, I deny most earnestly that such failure was designed with any criminal intent that is a willful, knowing and intentional failure to pay an essential element of the charge."

Express Unit Announces New Shipping Plan

NEW YORK — A new low-cost system enabling tourists to ship personal effects and purchases from Europe to the U.S. was announced today by Express Unit, a subsidiary of American Express International Freight Division.

The "convenient rate" system of baggage shipment is designed to eliminate confusion and reduce expenses for the tourist. Mr. Hicks said, baggage can be transported to the U.S. from all the major cities in Europe under our new "carefree baggage system."

American Express, with 42 freight offices throughout Europe, will provide a full line of services for the new system. This includes: local pickup and European handling fees at city of origin, European port expenses (loading, etc.), ocean freight to destination port, transfer through U.S. customs and delivery in New York or Boston. After clearance in New York or Boston, shipments can be forwarded to cities throughout the U.S. In the future, direct shipments will be available to Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago.

The new rate system is based on the weight of the baggage shipment with the lowest rate being 20 cents per pound.

Veteran Jurist Faces Charges Of Tax Failure

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — A judge who has been a member of the nation's business elite for more than 20 years, was charged with failing to pay income tax returns, it was disclosed Tuesday.

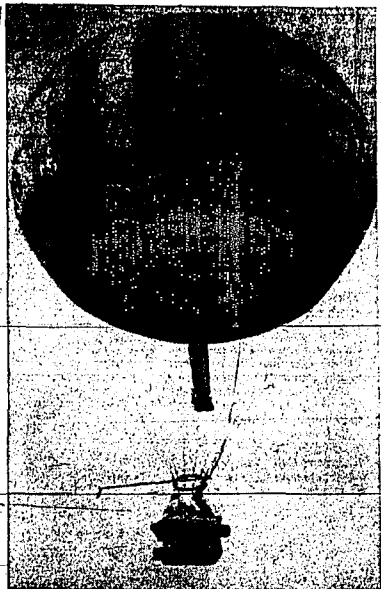

Passaic County Court Judge Stanley J. Pollock, 67, will be arraigned April 25 in Newark for five years in prison and a $100,000 fine.

Pollock, a Republican, said in a statement the difference between the taxes withheld from his salary for the five-year period and the amount owed totals $253. He claimed he paid the full amount last June, but while it is true that I failed to pay the return when due, I deny most earnestly that such failure was designed with any criminal intent that is a willful, knowing and intentional failure to pay an essential element of the charge."

Prices Of Lumber Menace Homeowners

By DEAN C. MILLER UPI Business Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) - Few things are more important than a roof over your head.

"Many Americans won't have those roofs, if they do, they'll be expensive unless the government does something about its lumber," said the frisky, fast-talking forestry expert who walked into this office a few days ago.

He was William D. Hagenstein, president of the Society of American Foresters, a man who admittedly had an ax to grind for the lumber industry. And, coincidentally, just one day later chairman John Sparkman of the Senate Banking Committee helped Hagenstein grind that ax a mile finer.

Sparkman told the Senate that federal forests are "woefully under-producing logs the nation needs" and called for an increase in the cutting of federal forests to offset lumber price increases.

Anyone who has tried to buy a house lately knows that prices have risen dramatically. And it's not all the fault of in-

Film Depicts Smashup With Foreign Car

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Members of the Senate Commerce Committee Tuesday watched previously secret motion pictures of safety tests in which a 1969 Volkswagen and a 1957 Ford smashed head-on at 30 miles per hour.

The Volkswagen appeared to sustain the greatest damage although both cars were severely crushed.

Robert Brenner, acting director of the National Highway Safety Bureau, also gave the committee previously unpublished information indicating that 9.6 per cent of accidents involving foreign compact cars resulted in a fatality or a serious injury—three times the rate for domestic luxury cars.

William Scott of the National Highway Safety Institute narrated the silent Volkswagen-Ford crash film. He said the passenger compartment of neither the Volkswagen nor the Ford was penetrated. It was a special dummy in the Volkswagen was thrown through the windshield when both seat belts and neck-locking devices failed.

Scott noted the Volkswagen's front-mounted fuel tank did not break although the Ford's radiator ruptured.

ABA Drafts Top Picks; Carolina Signs Cannon

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI)—The American Basketball Association grabbed one of the top prospects Tuesday as Miami announced at the close of the league's draft rounds that it had signed LaSalle's Larry Cannon.

Cannon had been one of Miami's early round picks in the annual draft.

The draft opened here Tuesday with the first five choices announced in early afternoon. Among top choices was big Neal Walk-of-Florida, picked by the Carolina Cougars as one of the early-round selections.

The New York Nets had UCLA super star Lew Alcindor as one of their first choices in the first five rounds, but it was merely a formality. Alcindor had signed earlier with Milwaukee of the National Basketball League.

The ABA draft picks were released in alphabetical order and not by the order of selection by the teams.

The first five round draft choices: (listed in alphabetical order, not in order of selection) New York—Lew Alcindor, UCLA; Terry Driscoll, 67, Boston College; Rich Robertson, 69, Cincinnati; Ed Studdt, 67, Holy Cross; Chris Thompson, 61, Princeton; Norm Vanlier, 61, St. Francis (Pa.).

Pocatello's Invitational Won By T.F.

POCATELLO — Led by co-medalist Jimmy Packard, the Twin Falls Bruin golfers ran off with the Pocatello Invitational Tuesday by a whopping 15 strokes.

Packard shot a five-over-par 76 to share the medalist with Jerman of Highland.

The Bruins had a total of 321 while Pocatello and Highland had 338 and 336, respectively. The other scores include American Falls 349, Blackfoot 353, Soda Springs 362, Idaho Falls 366, Pocatello 384 and Skyline 397.

Individually Twin Falls had Packard at 76, Larry Malone 78, Jeff Thomasen and Jim Bivens at 80.

High winds kept the scoring up on the long Riverside Municipal course.

Twin Falls will split its team Saturday with one contingent going to Caldwell while the remainder stays home to host Jerome and Gooding.

Murcer Raps Four RBIs As Yanks Win

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bobby Murcer drove in four runs with a homer, single and double Tuesday in support of southpaw Felix Peterson as the New York Yankees made their home debut a success by whipping the Washington Senators 8-2.

Murcer, who has hit safely in the Yankees' seven games to date, cracked his third homer of the season to tie the score in the third inning, singled for a run to tie the score again in the fifth and doubled home two runs to cap a five run rally in the seventh.

John Pepitone also contributed to the Yankees 12-hit attack with a two-run homer in the seventh as New York routed five Washington pitchers and made things easy for Peterson to post his first triumph of the season.

Washington's starting pitcher was Jim Stewar, who pitched a scoreless eighth and ninth.

Reds Drop Giants In 12 Innings

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Johnny Bench's second-inning single with none out in the 12th inning gave the Cincinnati Reds an 11-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants Tuesday night in a wild game which the Reds won in the final four innings.

Each team scored three runs in the ninth inning and each scored one in the 10th. In the scoreless game before Alex Johnson tripled to lead off the 12th and scored on Bench's single after Jim Stewar and Lee May were intentionally walked.

Johnson drove in five runs for the Reds with a pair of homers in the second and third runs that put Cincinnati ahead 5-4 in the fifth, and a 10th inning grand slam. Peter D'Arco, center fielder, singled by Bobby Bonds and Willie McCovey tied the score at 5-5 in the seventh and set the stage for the wild ninth.

Dallas Evens Series With Buccaneers

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Chaparrals evened their seven, first-round playoff series with New Orleans at 3-3 by romping to a 136-118 win over the Buccaneers Tuesday.

The final game was scheduled for Thursday night in New Orleans, where the Chaps have won only one game this season and just two games in the two-year American Basketball Association history.

Glen Combs carried the Dallas team to victory with 40 points and 10 rebounds. Five other Chaps with 20, John Beasley with 19, Manny Leaks with 14 and Charles Beasley with 13.

Jimmy Jones was the leading point producer for the Bucs with 21 points.

Dallas took command of the game in the second quarter when the Chaps outscored the Bucs 22-9 in the fading seven minutes of that stanza. The Chaps built its lead to as much as 20 points and had the game in control from that point.

Indiana Puts Playoff Into Final Night

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Jose Cardena's sacrifice fly with one out in the 10th inning scored Max Alvia with the winning run Tuesday as the Cleveland Indians won their first game of the season, a 2-1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Alvia singled to right field of reliever Pat Dobson in the 10th and moved to third on pinch-hitter Cap Peterson's single. Cardena then followed with a long fly to score Alvia and break the Indians' losing streak at five games.

Vicente Romo, who hurtled the final four innings in relief for Cleveland and did not allow a run, picked up the victory while Dobson was charged with his first defeat.

(By Associated Press) Detroit 0, Cleveland 2, 9-0. Detroit 0, Cleveland 1, 9-0. Detroit 0, Cleveland 1, 9-0. Detroit 0, Cleveland 1, 9-0.

Pipers And Miami Wind Up In Draw

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (UPI)—The Minnesota Pipers edged the Miami Floridians 105-100 Tuesday night to even their American Basketball Association semi-final playoff series at three games apiece.

The seventh and deciding game will be held Saturday night in Miami.

Connie Hawkins led Minnesota with 33 points and Art Heyman added 21.

Skip Thoren topped Miami with 25 points and Jim McInnis led the Pipers with 22.

Minnesota built a 60-47 lead and never trailed in the second half, although Miami tied the score 96-96 with two minutes to play.

Traynor Sees Reduction Of Mound's Height As Prelude To Hitting Year

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Last season was the year of the pitchers but, says Pie Traynor, 1969 will be the year of the hitters because of the lower pitching mound.

"Last season there were seven pitchers who had 20 victories or better," the Hall of Famer said in an interview. "I doubt if there'll be more than three this year."

"The pitcher is not able to get all of his stuff on the mound that has been lowered seven inches. On the higher mound the ball would take off. But today the pitcher can't get his fast ball and breaking stuff to move. There won't be as many completed games this season as there were last year."

But Traynor feels the outstanding pitchers are adjusting themselves to the mound.

"Deeoy McLean and Mickey Lolich already have proved they are winners," he said. "I don't think Bob Gibson will have trouble keeping going year."

Traynor believes Detroit and St. Louis have a good chance to repeat as champions of their league.

"The Tigers have lots of punch aside from the good pitching," he said. "Bill Freehan—a terrific catcher—can hit and his shown consistency this year. Al Kaline looked his best during the World Series and he's been up in the majors for about 15 years. He throws well and can cover a lot of ground."

"The Cards did not stand pat on their lineup. Trading away Orlando Cepeda may not have sat well with many fans, but Joe Torre is a great hitter and a good replacement at first base."

The Cardinals' strongest threat comes from the Chicago Cubs, Pie believes.

"His infield—Glen Beckert, Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Don Kessinger," Pie said. "Ken Holtzman and Ferguson Jenkins are leaders of the pitching staff."

Traynor doubts that the Cincinnati Reds' pitching will hold up "but they can score runs and that's their greatest asset."

Idaho State Cops Pair From NNC

POCATELLO (UPI)—The Idaho State University Bengals Tuesday took a doubleheader from the Northwest Nazarene Crusaders 10-0 and 5-2.

Pitcher Brent Cutright of Pocatello, star of the double header, ran his season record to 3-0 and is working on an 11-game winning streak. Cutright has allowed only one earned run in 31 1/2 consecutive innings.

Catcher Keith Neville of Bengals hit the only home run in the double header.

"Once he knows the hitters, he'll be a good third baseman. He's a rookie, but he'll learn."

Secretaries—Take A Bow

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretaries, take a bow, perch on a pedestal or—polish your halos. You are the spokes keeping the wheels of business, science, education and what-not rolling, and you have been exalted. For the first time, judges in one nationwide essay contest on careers saw fit to place a ribbon on a teach-age girl who wants to follow your footsteps.

Annette Gallo, 17, of Bethlehem, Pa., one of seven winners in the career key Awards sponsored by the Reader's Digest Foundation and Girls Clubs of America, learned about secretaries by working in an office during junior and senior years of high school. "Although this may not be the most important—or the most exciting profession in my small way I will... keep an office running smoothly." Another winner departing from the teacher, social worker, scientist fields that attracted prizes in past contests is Janet S. Anthony of Costa Mesa, Calif. She's aiming for hotel management first, to help people, and second, to have a specialty on which to fall back in case of need once she's a mom. "Better understanding is achieved through... face-to-face communication... as travelers obtain their first impression of a state or society in the hotel lobby," she wrote. Reading a newspaper article about pharmacy influenced Cindy Speckner of Seymour, Ind., in her career choice. "Pharmacy is an excellent career for a woman with a family because of the great demand for part-time work in this field," she wrote. Brenda Medlin, of Columbus, Ga., wants "the joy of seeing the smiling face of a small child after learning something he has never known before—love." She will be a social worker. Donna Ellen Noriko, of Bridgeport, Conn., another of the winners, all 17, hopes to teach handicapped children—her concept of "working towards a better world." Jean Dassatti, of Pittsfield, Mass., selects guidance counseling because "there isn't anything more satisfying than to know I have helped someone." Tirina Reynolds of Toronto, plans to teach. "The problems, doubts, and misunderstanding of youth cannot be solved by a computer," she wrote. Amen.

Mrs. Harris Is Speaker For Nu Chapter

GLENN'S FERRY — "Parent participation in the schools is necessary," Mrs. Lora Harris told Nu Chapter members of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, at a monthly meeting in the Hammett Kofee Kup. Harris said that parents often have too high expectations for their children, and that they sometimes think of the school as the sole disciplinarian and teacher of morals.

IF YOU CAN'T FIND THE RIGHT CAR AT THE RIGHT PRICE AT JOHN CHRIS MOTORS IT CAN'T BE FOUND!

Thinking import? Thinking economy? Thinking about something that's imitating an import? Step up to a Pontiac Tempest that talks with an import tag but with the performance, luxury and economy of a Pontiac Tempest. Get with the great break-a-way at John Chris Motors!

1969 PONTIAC TEMPEST

If looks have anything to do with the price of a car, then Pontiac Tempest has to be the put-on-of-the-year. Those lines bespeak a price just this side of the moon. But it's all a big fat fib. Tempest is pure value. Tempest power stems from a 175-hp overhead Cam Six. So if looks and luxury and performance are what you want in an economy car, look no farther. You're home.

Idaho potatoes are very hot.

Just last year we introduced our contract in Idaho potato futures on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. We wouldn't have introduced it if we didn't think it would be useful, but even we have been surprised by its overnight success. A number of Idaho potato growers have already found that hedging a portion of their crop can be a means of obtaining more working capital with which to increase their volume. Hedging can also be a great protection against adverse price changes. It's a relatively simple transaction by which producers of perishable commodities can transfer much of the risk of price fluctuation to speculators—people whose business it is to take risks in the hope of profit. The Chicago Mercantile Exchange is the marketplace for the transfer of these risks. We'll be very happy to supply you with our booklet on potato hedging if you'll just write to us at the address below.
