Jay-C-Ettes And Jaycees Gather For State Meet

The Holiday Inn has taken on the look of a political center this week as delegates to the state Jaycee-Jay-C-Ette convention have begun plastering campaign posters over the walls.

By Thursday night nearly 400 people had registered and another 200 to 300 delegates were expected to arrive Friday, the first business day of the statewide convention.

The convention, which will be highlighted by election of officers and their installation Saturday night, got under way Thursday night with a get-acquainted mixer at the Moose Lodge.

The delegates are utilizing the facilities of the Holiday Inn, Elmer Lodge, Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center and National Guard Armory.

Friday's activities began with a prayer breakfast at the Holiday Inn and will be completed with caucusing and campaigning, which will go on until the wee hours Saturday morning.

Orientation team competition for Jaycees was scheduled for Friday morning at CSI. Local businessmen were judging the contest.

Both Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes had full schedules during the morning and a joint luncheon at noon at the National Guard Armory. The Ten Outstanding Young Men and the Outstanding Young Educator were to be named at the luncheon. Gary Adams, Payette, was master of ceremonies.

Several forums, on subjects ranging from Keep Idaho Green, ways and means, orientation and government, to youth and sports in the community, were scheduled Friday afternoon.

A campaign dinner Friday night will begin the formal election procedure. Nominations for state Jaycee and Jay-C-Ette officers will be made during the dinner, and nominations and campaign speeches will follow.

Group caucusing and campaigning will continue from 9 p.m. Friday to 2 a.m. Saturday.

Officers will be elected Saturday and installed in a session Saturday night. The installation banquet, followed by a choice of a dance or trip to Jackson, will conclude the regular convention.

New and old officers will meet Sunday.

'Spy' Flights Will Continue

NOBODY EVEN CARED when this house at 1445 Addison Ave. E. burned to the ground Thursday morning. The fire department was there, but just to watch and see things didn't get out of control. The house just happened to be on the location picked for construction of a new 7-11 grocery store, and it was decided that burning was the easiest method of getting it out of the way. Willis, Inc., is the contractor for the store building. It is one of four 7-11 stores that are being built in Twin Falls.

Nixon Orders Escorts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today said U.S. aerial reconnaissance flights over international waters along the North Korean coast will continue and that they will be protected.

"This is not a threat," Nixon told a news conference in his first public comment on the shooting down of a U.S. reconnaissance plane Tuesday by North Korean MiGs in the Sea of Japan. He added, "This simply is a statement of fact."

He said that as President he could not ask 56,000 American troops stationed in South Korea to be endangered by not having intelligence knowledge which he said the unarmed reconnaissance flights provide.

Nixon said flights off North Korea were discontinued immediately after the EC119 with 31 men aboard was shot down.

But he said that order he ordered that such flights be resumed with protection.

Presumably, the new flights will have U.S. fighters flying protective cover.

Nixon said the downing of the EC119 was "unprovoked, deliberate and without warning."

This was similar to the language used by the United States in a protest given the North Koreans Thursday night at Panmunjom.

Nixon stressed that the U.S. plane was an unarmed propeller-driven craft. He said his mission was reconnaissance and at no time did it go closer than 40 miles to the coast.

At the time it was shot down, he said the plane was 90 miles from shore, headed out to sea. He said the plane had aborted its mission following orders.

He said the United States knew this from its radar and the North Koreans must also have known it.

The President, in his first news conference since March 14, also made these points:

"The chances for peace in Southeast Asia have dimmed. See FLIGHTS, Pg. 2, Col. 5"

SIRHAN BISHARA SIRHAN, found guilty of first-degree murder in the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, awaits his sentence. The jury, which has served for 15 weeks in the marathon trial, will meet again Monday for what is hoped to be a short job to determine whether the young Arab will face life imprisonment or the death penalty. Title 3 Program's Fate Is Discussed

The Advisory Board for Title 3, a new idea, technique or practice, is meeting in Twin Falls to discuss a predicted cutback in funds allocated to the state in the implementation of Title 3 programs.

Charles Brown, Boise, consultant for Title 3, said that the meeting began Thursday and will continue through Friday.

Title 3 programs are those which are innovative or exemplary, such as individualized learning center at Hagerman. This is the only Title 3 program now operating in Magic Valley.

Two programs in which school districts have participated, the Antique Theatre at Buhl, and Herrett's Arts and Sciences Center in Twin Falls, will be phased out of Title 3.

Such programs are innovative from the standpoint of being a new idea, technique or practice, and exemplary from the standpoint of serving as model programs for other school districts to observe.

One of the main concerns of the advisory board is that there is a possibility of federal funds being cut back, which would mean the end of many new programs in the state, Mr. Brown said.

The programs can only be operated three years with federal funds. Then school districts must pick up the cost of the programs if they are to remain operable. This excludes regional centers, which may be federally funded for a longer period of time.

There are 11 programs now operating in the state. Plans and promised funds for another six in 1970.

The business being undertaken by the committee is assessing program needs, evaluating programs now operating, writing proposals and distributing them by the committee.

Those attending are Dr. Bob Shreve, chairman, University of Idaho; and Mr. Brown.

Armed Czech Soldiers Move To Defend Ouster Of Dubcek

PRAGUE (UPI)—Armed police and soldiers moved into Wenceslas Square today to enforce the ouster of Alexander Dubcek as Communist party secretary. His leadership brought Czechoslovakia reforms that permitted freedom of press, radio and television, accusing them of anticommunist and distorted reporting.

He promised the nation would not fall back into the repressive Stalinist control given an "important government position."

This was similar to the language used by the United States in a protest given the North Koreans Thursday night at Panmunjom.

Nixon stressed that the U.S. plane was an unarmed propeller-driven craft. He said his mission was reconnaissance and at no time did it go closer than 40 miles to the coast.

At the time it was shot down, he said the plane was 90 miles from shore, headed out to sea. He said the plane had aborted its mission following orders.

Jurors Challenged To Rule On Penalty

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution in the trial of political assassins' chief Prosecutor Lynn Compton told jurors Thursday, after the jury found Sirhan guilty of first degree murder in the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Compton said the prosecution would not ask directly for the death sentence, but would tell the jurors their consciences must be their guides in determining if Sirhan gets life imprisonment or death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

"The jury will have to decide the proper punishment for political assassins," Compton said. "I have said on many occasions that I don't think it is appropriate for me personally to express an opinion as to what the penalty should be."

The trial is in recess through the weekend, with jurors permitted to entertain their spouses at the hotel. The penalty phase, which gets under way Monday at 8:30 a.m., is expected to last no longer than one or one-half days.

Neither side was expected to call any witnesses.

Predawn Tornado Pounds Alabama

A predawn tornado, surged through southeastern Alabama today, killing one and injuring three. Another twister touching down near Bainbridge, Ga., injuring one.

The Red River of the North, which flows into Canada, flooded all along its course in Minnesota and North Dakota, eight miles wide in some places.

The next few days were to be hard ones for residents of areas where flooding as melted winter snows forced rivers driving about 23,700 persons from their homes, North Dakota had seen 18,000 homeless, South Dakota 4,000, Minnesota 3,100 and Wisconsin and Iowa 800 each.

Most of the Iowa and South Dakota flood refugees returned to their homes, but the rising Mississippi caused new move-outs in northern Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois, continued strengthening dikes in preparation for the big river's crest.

At Minot, 12,000 persons had left their homes—Minot's population is 24,000—and the Army Corps of Engineers said the Missouri River flooding could cause $35 million damage.

Only last week the river caused $3.5 million damage when it peaked at 17 feet. It was the city's worst flood since 1904. By early today, the Missouri was at 18.3 feet and officials said it could hit 20 feet today. Floodstage is 12 feet.

Youth Ranch 'Walkaways' Crash Truck

RUPERT — Three boys who walked away from the Idaho Youth Ranch near here Wednesday night have been captured and will be returned to Mindoka County to face charges of stealing a pickup truck.

The boys were taken into custody Thursday afternoon after they were hurt in a two-vehicle collision three and a half miles north of Lewiston. They had stolen a truck from Boyd Chubb, Rupert. The truck they were in struck the side of a truck trailer rig on Lewiston.

Two of the boys were treated and released to the custody of Lewiston police. A third, the driver of the truck, was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment of a fractured nose and head injuries.

Officials at the Youth Ranch said two of the boys are 10 and the other is 14 years old.

Leo Childs, director of the Youth Ranch, said the boys would all be returned to Mindoka County to face theft charges. He said they probably would be held in the Mindoka County Jail pending their appearances in Probate Court.

He said final disposition of the case would be up to the court.

Reservoir To Fill Within 24 Hours

SHIOSHONE — Maglo reservoir is expected to crest and begin spilling over within the next 24 hours, said county officials said Friday morning.

Cooler temperatures Thursday night and Friday were helping the situation, but the water is steadily increasing in the reservoir, with 170,445 acre feet reported Friday morning.

When the spill begins to overflow the spillway, the extra water is expected to cause flooding on ranches along the Big Wood River. The Gooding area, his preparations have been made by the farmers there and some have left their homes in anticipation of the high water.

Big Wood River Canal Co. officials explained that water will begin flowing over the dam when the spillway boards are full. When water is to be conserved, the spillway can be built up with boards so the reservoir can hold an 191,000 acre feet capacity.

At Halley, the Big Wood River is a 2 1/2 feet. Friday morning it was 2 1/2 feet. Thursday it was 2 1/2 feet. Halley Thursday night, but not enough to cause concern.

The main spillway from the reservoir is 172,000 acre feet. Thursday it was 172,000 acre feet. Halley Thursday night, but not enough to cause concern.

San Franciscans Jeer At 'Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 5,000 San Franciscans gathered before sun-up today to laugh and sing as they watched their city rocked by its famous earthquake and leveling fire.

But the devastation was on a movie screen as the city held a movie celebration on the 63rd Avenue Theatre. The movie was April 18, 1906 when the city was ripped by the most disastrous tremor and fire in the nation's history. Nearly 500 died and 350,000 were left homeless as the three-day fire roared through 23,000 buildings.

The mayor's hour-long bash at Civic Center Plaza included records of Enrico Caruso singing selections from Carmen as he had here the night before the 1906 quake.

MGM made available its midsize film "San Francisco" and its famous earthquake and leveling fire.

As the party ended, the big crowd sang "San Francisco" and then local restaurateurs provided soup and the Army passed out coffee and doughnuts—just as they did 63 years earlier.

Firm Abandons Mobile Home Court Project

The members of B.R.O.S., Inc. have decided against installing a mobile home court in the northeast Heights subdivision, after studying the regulations set by the city council.

Grant Osterhout, a spokesman for the firm, said the rules set by the city for such a mobile home court make the project economically impossible. He said the company would not be able to construct the court in compliance with the standards and make it pay for itself.

FCC Chief Cites Effect Of Ad Curbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission said Thursday cigarette makers would probably quit advertising on radio and television if their commercials had to include strong health warnings.

Rosal Hyde told the House Commerce Committee that cigarette advertisers probably would prefer not to buy broadcast time if they were forced to include warnings that smoking is a health hazard.

The committee is holding hearings to determine if Congress should permit the FCC to proceed with its proposed order to prohibit cigarette advertising on radio and television.

The FCC will be free to put the order into effect unless Congress acts to extend the 1965 cigarette labeling and advertising act, due to expire June 30, or otherwise moves to block the FCC order. The 1965 act prohibits any regulation of cigarette advertising during the advertiser's life.

Hyde injected the alternative of extending the health warning to advertisements after Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), president of the committee, expressed doubts about the propriety of an advertising ban, and after committee members generally expressed reservations about opening the door to federal suppression of advertising.

Current law requires that the health warning be included only on cigarette packages. It says: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous to Your Health."

Nixon Backs Control Of Mergers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration supported federal control of future banking conglomerates Thursday. But it opposed a stronger bill that would virtually outlaw banks from nonbanking activities.

In testimony prepared for the House Banking Committee, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker and Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard W. McLaren urged federal control of so-called one bank holding companies.

But they opposed a measure by committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., to end nonbanking activities by these companies which have mushroomed in the last year.

Since 1938, holding companies controlling more than one bank have been under strict regulations imposed by Federal Reserve Board as to what "bank related" businesses they can control.

Companies controlling only one bank, however, have escaped federal regulations, and the number of these companies has skyrocketed.

B.R.O.S. had taken out an option on 17 1/2 acres of land east of Blue Lakes Boulevard North and north of Falls Avenue East. Mr. Osterhout said the option expired April 8, and the firm decided against purchasing the land. The property is located outside the city limits, but the agreement drawn up by the city officials said the land would have to be annexed before the city would supply water and sewer to the area.

Mr. Osterhout said he realized the city has a responsibility, but he thought the regulations were entirely too stringent. He said some of them were more restrictive than those for residential-low density areas.

Some of the regulations he pointed out were the 6,000 square-foot lot size, which is the same as required for residential-low density. Mr. Osterhout said screening or fencing, said necessary for the 17 1/2 acres, would be quite costly. The rules also read that a trailer must not cover more than 40 per cent of the lot area.

Two vehicle stalls would be required on each site, which is not required for other types of housing, he said. There also would have to be a 25-foot landscape strip around the perimeter of each park; 25 per cent of the gross park area must be for recreation and 150 square feet of concrete patio space must be provided for each home.

Mr. Osterhout said the regulations are not feasible for such a mobile home court. He said the people living in such a court do not want a large lawn to be ordered into effect unless Congress acts to extend the 1965 cigarette labeling and advertising act, due to expire June 30, or otherwise moves to block the FCC order. The 1965 act prohibits any regulation of cigarette advertising during the advertiser's life.

Hyde injected the alternative of extending the health warning to advertisements after Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), president of the committee, expressed doubts about the propriety of an advertising ban, and after committee members generally expressed reservations about opening the door to federal suppression of advertising.

Current law requires that the health warning be included only on cigarette packages. It says: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous to Your Health."

Mouse Threat Empties Minot Area Homes

By United Press International

The residents of Minot, N.D., have moved over for the mouse threat.

"As soon as I heard the latest prediction about the Mouse River, I quit," Allen Doerr said Wednesday, explaining why he stopped sandbagging his rented home.

The Mouse River, swollen by melting snow and ice jams, winds 14 miles through the town, and is expected to be particularly damaging.

About 12,000 of Minot's 34,000 residents have left their homes because of last Friday's flooding and because two more crests are coming down the Mouse. The first will hit Friday or Saturday, the second should come through April 23 or 24. Usually a placid river, the Mouse will be a mile-wide lake before Minot's ordeal is over.

About 23,500 midwesterners had been driven from their homes, and the federal government Wednesday declared parts of five states—lowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin—disaster areas because of spring floods.

Home owners, businesses, churches and charitable institutions suffering flood damage were made eligible for federal loans at 3 per cent interest, said William Sandoval Jr., administrator of the program.

About 15,000 persons were temporarily homeless in North Dakota, 4,000 in South Dakota, 2,000 in Minnesota, 900 in Wisconsin and 700 in Iowa.

More flooding was expected as a million gallons of the Mississippi River poured past St. Paul, Minn., at near-record crest. Hundreds of automobiles were driven from their homes and the downtown St. Paul airport was under water.

Frank Kulak Built Arsenal Of Bombs, Guns In Apartment

CHICAGO (UPI) — The house he lived in may have to be condemned. The last bomb was carried out gingerly. His neighbors, the civilians, have carried out their belongings.

Frank Kulak, arraigned on his 32nd birthday Tuesday for killing two policemen during a six-hour siege Monday evening, was Cook County Jail Wednesday without bond and will remain there at least until June 4, date of his next hearing.

Six policemen and two civilians were injured in the siege. When he surrendered, Kulak told police he planted the bomb which killed a woman clerk and injured eight other persons in a Goldblatt Brothers department store April 7. Kulak said he planted the bomb "to show how awful war is."

In his neighborhood, a working-class area of Chicago's Far South Side, Kulak was known as a loner who called everybody either a "sniper" or "civilians."

Just before dark, police carted from the house a blue-painted fire extinguisher wrapped in a blanket.

Inside the fire extinguisher was packed black powder — 54 unexploded bombs were found in Kulak's apartment or lying in the yard around the building Tuesday after the area was cleared.

Also in Kulak's arsenal were two shotguns, two carbines, several handguns, hand grenades, a grenade launcher, 2,800 rounds of ammunition and empty cansisters for more homemade bombs.

As the fire extinguisher bomb was carried out, the residents entered to claim what they could of their belongings from the bullet-riddled building.

Mrs. Mary Malachuk, who lived on the first floor, exclaimed, "I couldn't imagine there could be so much damage. Everything is broken . . . there's even a big hole in my bedroom floor from a bomb, and the ceiling looks like it's going to cave in."

She didn't know Kulak very well. Most residents of the neighborhood could only remember him as a quiet man who roamed the streets at night, usually dressed in black. Lately he had been carrying a shopping bag and a brown zipper bag into his apartment.

Kulak's older brother, Harold, 48, said Frank had told him about his age to get into the Marine Corps at the age of 16 near the end of World War II. He said Frank rejoined the Marines for the Korean War and was hit by artillery fire, losing two fingers.

Goldblatt Bros. Foundation has since announced it is giving $5,000 to each widow of the slain policemen. Sgt. James Schaffer, 48, and Detective Jerome A. Subig.

The policemen were investigating the fatal bombing in the war-torn department of Goldblatt Brothers department store nearby when the sniper opened fire on them, setting off the six-hour battle.

PAUL HARVEY He Kept Slaves

Patrick Henry said, "Give no liberty or give me death." Patrick Henry kept slaves. From here, looking back, that sounds inconsistent, hypocritical.

Let's consider the rest of the story. And then let's try to anticipate what tomorrow's historians, looking back at us, might deduce.

George Washington's forefathers came from Britain, settled in Virginia in 1680. His father died when George was 11, leaving the family very poor.

Moreover, the public is impressed only by when an arrest is made for an offense whose naughtiness possesses some degree of importance. To be arrested is to be a criminal, a scoundrel, a scoundrel, a scoundrel. A cause reaps few seriously when its pleader presents himself as an object of ridicule to the masses. Stolen Property Charge Dropped

A charge of illegal possession of stolen property against a Buick was ordered dismissed in Twin Falls County Justice Court Wednesday. Roger C. Census Changes Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans, responding to Congressional criticism, ordered immediate changes in the 1970 census Thursday and promised to clear proposed questions with Congress two years in advance of future censuses.

One change ordered Thursday involved a controversial multiple-choice answer to a question about a household's kitchen and bathroom facilities. Some legislators had charged the answer amounted to invasion of privacy.

One answer to the question "Do you have a bathtub or shower?" was: "Yes, but shared with another household." On Stans' orders, this reply was changed to read: "Yes, but also used by another household."

In a letter to all members of the House and Senate, Stans said the reply was "reworded to remove any implication the government wants to know with whom they are shared."

He also announced that three million fewer households than originally planned would be required to answer the long form census questionnaire of 66 questions.

Previously, one of every four of the nation's 80 million households would have had to answer the long form. Now only one of every five will answer it, and three million additional households will receive the shorter, 24-question form.

Stans noted that replying to the census has been mandatory since the first census was taken in 1790. But he said he would appoint a special commission to study whether voluntary or partially voluntary censuses can be conducted in the future.

Boiseans Win $400,000 In Suit

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—A couple from Boise, Idaho, won a judgment here Thursday against the state of Nevada in the total amount of $400,000.

Mrs. Diane Silva and her husband, Fred, won their suit for the rape of Mrs. Silva by a prison honor camp inmate in 1966.

The jury, in district court, after deliberating for approximately two and one-half hours, returned the verdict in the amount of $300,000 for compensation for Mrs. Silva and $100,000 compensation for her husband.

The Silvas had originally sued the state and three former officials of the Nevada State Prison for $800,000 in damages. They claimed the defendants were negligent in maintaining security at the honor camp north of here and, as a result, an inmate escaped and raped Mrs. Silva. The Silvas had, at that time, lived in the vicinity of the camp.

Pierce Spillers, the inmate, is presently serving a 20-year life sentence for that incident.

Judge Thomas Craven ruled earlier that the three former prison officials could not be held responsible. He did, however, rule that the state was grossly negligent and said the Silvas would be awarded compensation.

The Silvas' attorney, Peter Echeverria, said Thursday that he was positive the case would go before the supreme court. He said he believed the $25,000 recovery limitation in the Nevada Constitution was unconstitutional because it violated the equal protection clause of the state and the United States Constitution.

"If a man has $15,000 worth of damages," Echeverria said "He gets 100 per cent of his recovery back. But Fred Silva (who has been awarded $100,000) would only get back 25 per cent of his money" under the constitutional limitation.

Sen. Church Plans Series Of Speeches

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, will be in his home state for a week of speaking engagements beginning Friday.

The senator's office announced Wednesday he will speak Friday morning at the dedication of the freedom shrine at Boise State College and at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day banquet Friday night in Boise.

Saturday morning Church will appear at the Democratic Women's Workshop and will attend the meeting of the Idaho Democratic State Central Committee. He will travel to Coeur d'Alene Monday to speak at the evening banquet of the Kootenai County Democratic Central Committee.

The following day the Idaho Democratic will appear at North Idaho High School in Coeur d'Alene and in the evening at a banquet of the Parks and Recreation Association convention.

Grangeville will be the senator's Wednesday stop where he will address a meeting of the Idaho County Democrats.

Church will return to Boise the following Thursday and on Friday will travel to Salt Lake City where he is scheduled to be keynote speaker at a model United Nations assembly at the University of Utah.

Army Helicopter Brews 'Flap' As Congress Protests Spending

By DANIEL RAPOPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A flap is brewing over a new Army helicopter. If the bird turns out to be a billion dollar boondoggle Congress won't be able to say it wasn't wanted.

Regardless how it all ends, critics of the "military industrial complex" can be expected to add to their ammunition pile the story of the Cheyenne helicopter.

Such Capitol Hill giants as speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S. C., of the House Armed Services Committee, threw their considerable prestige behind this new generation chopper.

They did so despite explicit predictions last July that the Cheyenne procurement was destined to become a multi-billion dollar "disaster."

One week ago the Army, which heretofore had been busy defending Cheyenne, suddenly reversed itself. It bluntly put the word to Lockheed Aircraft Corp., developer of the Cheyenne, either explain in writing "your ability to cure your failure to make satisfactory progress" or face the possibility that the government would cancel the contract.

All sides agree that on paper the Cheyenne would be 4 hands like Rivers, instead of relatively junior members like Pike. And he had one other reason.

"Where the national interest of our country is concerned, I am going to err on the side of weakness," he said.

With that, dozens of big city Democrats responded to party discipline and joined Republicans in defeating Pike's amendment 121 to 47.

Dr. Luther Thompson, director of the Southeastern District Health Department, will be a member of a panel Friday at Idaho State University, Pocatello.

The meeting will be a joint staff session of the Southeastern District Health Department and Dr. Thompson's district. The meeting theme is church and relationships of developing health programs in Eastern Idaho.

For his part in the panel discussion, Dr. Thompson will speak on comprehensive health planning in South Central Idaho.

District Board Of Health Plans Meet On Tuesday

The South Central District Board of Health will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Wood Cafe, Jerome. The announcement was made by Dr. Luther Thompson, district department director.

Dr. Thompson said the group will discuss pesticide storage and new legislation relative to health departments.

Representatives from the seven counties are expected to attend the quarterly meeting. John Angerhauer, Twin Falls, is chairman of the board.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say a few kind words in your column for the thousands of respectable, mature men who wear beards?

I myself have a neatly trimmed beard, over which some of my friends have expressed much envy. They would like to grow one, but say their employers won't allow it. While my employer tolerates my beard, he hasn't forbidden me to wear one.

I am sick and tired of the snide remarks one hears from those who associate beards with hippies, yuppies, beatniks, and subversive characters.

It takes time and effort and

HAZARDS NOTED—WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Public Health Service has told color television owners not to sit closer than 6 to 10 feet from their sets to minimize potential radiation hazards.

DEAR ABBY: Is a FIFTH COUSIN far enough away for marriage? ELOISE

DEAR ELOISE: Genetically speaking, yes.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: My mother didn't write a "Dear John" letter to my boyfriend, but I wish she had. I am now John's wife. I left a comfortable home and a mother and father who loved me to get married at 16. I am 38 now, broke and unhappy. I live in a hole in the wall with no conveniences, no new clothes, and no car to drive. I agree with that mother who wrote and asked John to wait until he could offer her daughter something better before proposing marriage.

If I could do it over again, I wouldn't have married so young. I would have waited until I both worked and saved money. It's too late now because I'm pregnant.

Please, Dear Abby, tell girls who think they are in love to wait for a man who thinks enough of them to provide them with a decent future. Love DOES fly out the window when poverty comes to town.

He said he loved me, but I didn't even get a valentine.

Lee Trali and William Pruett, King Hill, have finished planting beets and are running water on the new planting.

Calves from the replacement heifers were branded and dehorned on the Knox Pitch Fork ranch, King Hill. Lloyd Jensen, Hagerman; Kent Giles, Glenns Ferry; the members of the W. J. Knox family and of the Donnie Donahue family helped with the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pruett and family have moved onto the Paul Woodward farm, King Hill, which they had purchased recently.

John Davis and son Gregg helped Ben Ellis with the branding and dehorning of about 50 calves. Mrs. Marie Lawson moved from King Hill to the Lawson ranch where Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lawson lived last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Perry and three children have moved from the Hot Springs ranch north of Corral to the former Ernest Wilson farm south of Fairfield, near Mormon Reservoir. The Perrys purchased the farm from Mr. and Mrs. Wilson about a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Young and children have moved a home on a farm owned by John Humphreys, Corral, to the Hot Springs ranch where Mr. Young will be employed by Wesley Fields. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Funkhouser will also move back to the Hot Springs ranch from a house on another farm owned by Mr. Fields that is up Soldier creek. Mr. and Mrs. Correll Van Gorder and family have moved from Fairfield to the home vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Young and Mr. Van Gorder will be employed by Mr. Humphreys.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Marsh, Tuttle, are improving the farm they bought two years ago from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller. The old farm buildings and trees are being cleared away and leveling is being done to make bigger fields and facilitate irrigating.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis, Tuttle, have moved from the farm they recently sold to a tenant house at the Bradshaw ranch. Stan Wright, Pocatello, and Reynard Wright assisted the Davises in moving.

Reynard Wright, Tuttle, was assisted by Stan Wright, Pocatello, Robert Wright, Hulley, Ed Davis, Tuttle and Robert VanAusdell of Kimberly in branding calves and transferring them to a pasture.

Richfield first and second grade students toured the Fairview Poultry Farm and were treated to deviled eggs by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ross. Mrs. Max Behr and Mrs. Mary London-Carter accompanied their pupils.

The 1969 snow cover was good for winter wheat in the Richfield area. Melting snow shows the wheat making good progress.

Field work in most parts of Magic Valley, particularly in the southern part, is progressing at a fast pace. Many are planting sugar beets and others are preparing ground for corn and other crops. Watering of spring wheat also is under way in many areas.

TPR Clinic Set For Tuesday Here

Registered and commercial breeders from throughout Southern Idaho are expected in weighing and grading of cattle Tuesday at Frontier Field, and continue through the processing to the application of performance records. Tuesday afternoon in the Fine Arts Center Auditorium on the College of Southern Idaho campus. Sponsoring this clinic is the Idaho Hereford Association along with the American Hereford Association. Discussed at this clinic for the grassroots of performance testing, will start with the use of performance records for herd improvement and increased profits. Tips on improved efficiency of selection and culling will be provided by those on the program. Also on the program will be Art Linton, TPR director for the American Hereford Association; Willard Wolf, field representative, American Hereford Association; and Lou Rothwell, Arto, president, Idaho Hereford Association. Several Idaho breeders will be providing cattle for the demonstration Tuesday morning. They include Clark Hereford Ranch, Buhl; Wallace Hayes and Sons, Rockland; Robert Howard, Murtaugh; Tom Callan, Rogerson; Dennis Curtis, Burley; E. A. Eakin, Jerome; Orson Zollinger, Malta; Larson Herefords; Burley; Herb Richards Hereford Ranch, Kimberly; and many others also are expected to furnish livestock for the demonstrations. Boydston says this is probably the time to get acquainted with the program in order that cattlemen may make good interpretation of the records which they will undoubtedly see appearing with the pedigree of all sale animals in the near future.

USDA Notes '69 Winter Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department predicted Thursday the 1969 winter wheat crop would total 1,139,825,000 bushels. The predicted 1969 winter crop, added to a possible 1968 spring wheat crop of about 228,000,000 bushels indicated in a report last month, would bring total wheat production this year to 1,437,825,000 bushels. This compares with the record-large 1968 crop of 1,470,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat forecast, made on the basis of April 1 conditions, shows the crop up 2 per cent from the forecast made in December of last year and down 7 per cent from last year's winter harvest.

Advisory Group Urges More Research In Synthetic Food

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A research advisory group has urged federal farm scientists to step up development of new plant-based and synthetic foods that taste like meats and other natural foods. Cows used in the test were injected with "pregnant mare serum," a substitute for a natural hormone which stimulates egg production in cattle, and also with another material designed to assure ovulation. Of 81 cows treated, 52 became pregnant after a single mating and produced 29 single calves, 8 sets of twins, 8 sets of triplets, 2 sets of quadruplets and one set of quintuplets. Officials said the process turned up a number of major drawbacks: cows were thin and about a quarter of the cows rating twins did not rebreed later. Despite these and other problems, officials said researchers will continue their studies because the potential benefits of stepping up the multiple-births and avoiding quadruplets and quintuplets births which present difficult management problems.

Committee members said one step should be new studies on how to make vegetable proteins more "acceptable" to consumers. Other new foods for the future should be developed by research on new combinations of raw farm products and synthetic ingredients, the committee said. "Flavor research will be necessary to make such foods taste like originals," the committee said. The agriculture department, meanwhile, furnished a progress report on experiments in which hormone-treated beef cows produced calves at the rate of 111 per 100 cows. In well-managed commercial beef herds, the calf rate is normally 85 per 100 cows. Officials said the treated cows were used in an experiment at El Reno, Okla., in which federal and state scientists cooperated in a search for better techniques of inducing multiple births.

Asparagus Hunters Warned

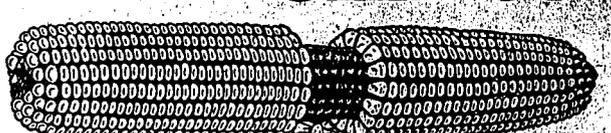

JEROME — Do you like to pick and use roadside asparagus? This has become a source of several families' early season greens, but might be a bad idea, says Wilmer G. Priest, Jerome County agent. Mr. Priest says this is especially true if you like to spread through the fence and get those nice green plump shoots which are on the inside ditch banks. Several of the weedicide herbicides which are used to keep ditch banks and other waste areas free of noxious weeds are approved for use on non-crop areas and are not cleared for use on food to be used for human consumption. A weedy fence row or a weedy ditch bank is a waste area which is not used for food production by the farmer and chances are that he has sprayed these areas to keep the weeds from spreading into his field. It's a waste area to the farm operator and it may be a food poison to the roadside asparagus hunters. Mr. Priest adds that asparagus hunters should ask if it has been sprayed before picking the shoots and don't pick in areas where the grass shows a yellow chlorotic color or where the asparagus is pithy and wilted. New shoots just coming through the ground can pick-up the herbicides as well as the old shoots which may have emerged before spraying took place.

Retirement Plan Eyed By Grange

RICHFIELD — A retirement plan for county officials was discussed at length at the Richfield Grange meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ross. C. F. Chaffield, chairman of the board of commissioners, explained the plan which is similar to the State highway retirement plan. He also reported on his recent trip to North Carolina and other Southern states. Grange women voted to serve lunch at the Don Ward farm sale April 19. Mrs. Glen Ross assisted Mrs. Eugene Alexander, lecturer, in presenting a program on April 15. Mrs. Alexander received the attendance cash prize. The April 22 meeting will be at the C. F. Chaffield home.

Production Of 3 Area Cows Listed

GOODING — A Gooding area dairyman has three cows listed in an official production testing report released by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Included with the pounds of milk and butterfat are the amounts of solids-not-fat produced by each registered Holstein since last calving. The three cows, owned by Jerry Westendorf, Gooding, and their actual production levels are: Toponis Captain Agnes 586065, a 4-year-old, has credits of 19,330 pounds of milk, 664 pounds of butter fat, and 1,888 pounds of solids-not-fat in 352 days; Hon-Son Skyline Carol 586068, a 4-year-old, had 18,900 pounds of milk, 659 pounds of butterfat and 1,848 pounds of solids-not-fat in 305 days; and Toponis Cypsel Leader Candy 635289, a 2-year-old, had 15,850 pounds of milk, 655 pounds of butterfat and 1,740 pounds of solids-not-fat in 305 days.

Big Combine Shipment Hits Pocatello

POCATELLO — A half-mile long trainload of harvesting equipment rolled into town recently. It included 59 flatcars with 118 combines valued at about $2.5 million. Joseph P. Falno, manager of Allis-Chalmers branch here, said it is the largest single shipment of Gleaser combines ever to come into the Northwest — "or anywhere else in the U.S." Mr. Falno said the trainload of combines will continue on via Union Pacific to Pendleton, Ore., after leaving 17 carloads here. The shipment left Independence, April 7. He said most of the Gleaser combines were special models with automatic devices to keep the body of the unit level as it harvests wheat on the steep hillside. Many are also equipped with air-conditioned cabs. They are the largest commercial combines of their type on the market, he said.

SUNNING THEMSELVES on these sunny days the past week are several hundred ewes and lambs on the Frank Jouglard ranch, south of Rupert. The ewes have already been sheared for their wool and soon the lambs will be either marketed or kept as breeding stock.

Beet Leafhopper Population Average

The beet leafhopper conditions in the Pacific Valley are about average. According to survey data compiled by Keith Evans, Twin Falls, supervisor of the Plant Control Division, USDA, ARS, the plants adjacent to cultivated areas in Twin Falls are somewhat above the average of the past few years, but the beet leafhopper population is low. In the cultivated areas of Gooding and Jerome the population and development of host plants are about average or lower, states Mr. Evans. Some local hot spots probably will occur, however. Host plants are average in the cultivated areas of western Idaho. Although beet leafhopper populations are down, it is anticipated that some local trouble along river bottoms, canal banks and waste areas will occur. Surveys made by the Entomology Research Division personnel last year indicated about 500,000 acres of Russian Thistle had carried through the summer and this contributed to the large number of beet leafhoppers found from Mountain Home to Tuana Springs. According to data compiled for overwintering beet leafhoppers in Southern Idaho made during March and April, beet leafhoppers averaged 52 per 100 samples (each sample is equal to one square foot) in the Glenns Ferry area as compared to seven in 1968, 22 in 1967 and 72 in 1966. In the Jerome-Gooding area they averaged 21 per 100 samples as compared to 136 in 1968, 18 in 1967 and 99 in 1966. In the Mountain Home area averaged 78 per 100 samples as compared to 11 in 1968, 11 in 1967 and 74 in 1966. In the Saylor Creek area they averaged 87 per 100 samples as compared to 54 in 1968, 37 in 1967 and 119 in 1966. Leafhoppers in the Twin Falls area averaged two per 100 samples as compared to one in 1968, 18 in 1967 and 45 in 1966. The beet leafhopper populations in the combined range breeding areas averaged 60 per 100 samples as compared to 42 in 1968, 22 in 1967 and 99 in 1966. Areas on which 50 to 550 leafhoppers per 100 square feet of samples were found include Black Mesa, 2,000 acres; Tuana Springs, 3,200 acres; Dead Man's Gulch - Solosabal Well, 2,400 acres; Rosevear Gulch, 6,400 acres; Indian Cove, 6,400 acres; Saylor Creek Well, 1,000 acres; Rattlesnake Gulch, 8,000 acres; Reverse Siding, 3,200 acres; and East and West Mountain Home, 6,400 acres, for a total of 43,000 acres. Mr. Evans said this total of 43,000 acres may require chemical control. Only one viruliferous test has been completed at this time. This sample from Black Mesa ran 50 per cent viruliferous. Nymphal surveys will be conducted during May to determine the extent of control needed.

Sales Of Meat Methods Said Obsolete

WASHINGTON — Today's "modern" methods of retailing meat are really old fashioned, the National Livestock and Meat Board says. "Retailing methods for other foods passed meat selling a long time ago," the board said in a newsletter that reported it had agreed to finance a special production development research at Kansas State University. Researchers will try to find better methods of handling and merchandising frozen meat. And the key to future progress, the meat board said, will be development of frozen products which are not high in quality but are consistently uniform. "The key is quality control every steak looking as nearly as possible like every other steak (or chop, roast, etc.) whenever the housewife buys were served by Mrs. Brockman."

Bees Are Essential For Fruit

There is plenty of business for bees in Idaho orchards this spring, states Tony Horn, horticultural specialist with the University of Idaho extension service.

Horn said the beneficial insects have an unusually important role in producing what is expected to be a heavy fruit crop.

Putting them to work at the right time is essential, Horn said. That means when the fruit blossoms are in the right stage for development. Right now is the time in many orchards.

For sweet cherries, move bees in when about 10 per cent of the blossoms are open. In pear orchards the best time is when about a third of the blossoms are out. For apples, the green light flashes when king blossoms open. The kings are the blooms predominant in a cluster.

Horn says one colony of bees per acre is required for good pollination. The bees will work on fruit blossoms most of the time if they are not attracted to other blooming plants that compete for their attention.

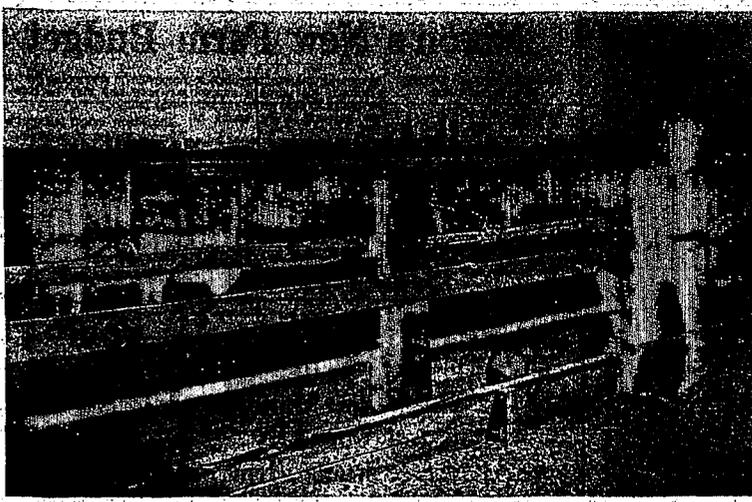

Horn says the bees may, for example, be lured by dandelions. If dandelions are abundant, put one orchard it is wise to destroy them now.

Some fruit varieties need more than bees for adequate pollination. They require pollen by blossoms of another variety of the same kind of fruit. Delicious apples, for example, need a variety like Golden Delicious, Jonathan or Winter Banana to set a substantial crop.

The Hale peach needs Elberta or similar variety. All sweet cherries need another variety as a pollinator.

If no pollinator trees are available, Horn said, branches in bloom may be cut from distant orchards and placed in containers filled with water near the trees you want to pollinate. Bees will visit these bouquets and transfer pollen to the trees.

Prospects are good for Idaho fruit this year. In spite of the late start, Horn said, orchards escaped serious damage. Another factor that makes Idaho growers eager to manage their orchards efficiently, is the fact fruit crops in other Northwest states were severely hit by severe weather.

GAZING OUT OVER several head of beef cattle on the Tad Abo farm, near Paul, is Kuo Kahashima, a young Japanese trainee who is in this country learning modern agricultural techniques. Since January, when he came to the Abo farm, he has been feeding some 600 head of beef cattle and about 200 head of sheep.

Helping Others Goal Of Japanese Trainee

By ROBERT VANAUDELL
Times-News Farm Editor

Helping others in the field of agriculture is the goal of a young Japanese man who is in this country learning modern techniques and management in agriculture.

Kuo Kahashima, 22-year-old man who has a 2 1/2 hectare (6.17 acres) farm in Southern Japan, is living with the Tad Abo farm, near Paul, learning the "tricks" of farming and feeding livestock.

Kuo has been with the Abo since January and has been feeding some 600 head of beef cattle and about 200 head of sheep on the Abo farm, but with farming season in full swing, he will be out in the fields learning how farmers in this area raise various row crops.

Kuo says on his farm in Japan, which is considerably smaller than the Abo farm, he raised rice, wheat and fruits. He also has had some experience in breeding beef cattle, but raised none on his farm.

The main goal of this young Japanese man is agriculture cooperative and helping other countries develop its agricultural economy. Kuo said prior to coming here he was working in a cooperative office and as a result is interested in agricultural cooperatives.

When asked, Kuo said he enjoys feeding and taking care of the livestock on the Abo farm. He said this is the first time he has seen this many cattle and sheep in one place.

In Japan, Kuo said, there are not too many cattle and sheep because the feed for these animals is expensive. He added that most of the feed is imported from the United States, and the feed grown in Japan also is expensive.

According to Mr. Abo, Kuo has been a great help in his operation, after he learned the "ropes" of things.

Kuo's hobbies include social dancing, archeology and haiku (Japanese seven-syllable verse).

Kuo is one of five Japanese men in Magic Valley who are learning modern techniques of this area. The other four young men are on farms at Rupert, Malta, Kimberly and Castleford.

The five are on a work-study program sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation in cooperation with the Japanese Agricultural Training Council, Embassy of Japan and the Departments of State, Labor and Agriculture.

HELPING WITH the farm work on the Tad Abo farm, near Paul, is a young Japanese trainee who is in this country to learn modern farming techniques. Here Mr. Abo tells Kuo Kahashima how to operate one of the big tractors on the farm.

Field Day On Cattle Research Set

CALDWELL — Results of experiments in feeding beef cattle will be told May 10 at the forty-second annual field day at the Caldwell branch of the University of Idaho's agricultural experiment station.

The program was announced today by J. J. Dahmen, superintendent. Several hundred beef ranchers are expected at the public meeting, beginning at 10 a.m.

James E. Kraus, dean of the college of agriculture, will give a short talk. R. D. Ensign, director of the experiment station, and P. Donald Bok, head of the animal science department, will be chairmen of morning and afternoon sessions. Staff members will report on several current feeding tests. In one trial, 80 Angus steer calves are individually fed for a comparison of ammonium chloride and urea in corn silage with and without barley. Another involves 60 head, group fed background rations. A third attempt to find the effect of sprouting on nutritional value of wheat as a cattle ration.

Bovine vibriosis, bovine serum proteins as related to calcium, and 1960 calf losses will be discussed by veterinarians, Marvin Wittman, Cullisac, president of the Idaho Cattlemen's Association, will moderate a panel on the Idaho beef cattle improvement program. A committee for that development was established last summer by the association and the university. Six progeny groups are on trial.

Lunch will be served at the station. In the evening the Idaho Cattle Feeders' Association will have a "Steak-o-Rama" at the Golden Pheasant in Caldwell.

Gardeners Try New Food Varieties For Better Eating

By SHEILA and ALLAN SWENSON
NEA Garden Specialists

Plant breeders enjoy good eating as much as home gardeners. This year, many new varieties have been introduced. They feature better taste, greater hardiness, more desirable keeping, freezing or canning qualities.

Burpee's VF is the product of 15 years of tomato research. This wilt-resistant hybrid tomato is resistant to both verticillium and fusarium wilt. Medium large, red firm fruits are abundant and mature 72 days after setting out.

Tricky Jack pumpkins, ideal for Halloween lanterns, are produced in profusion on four-foot bush-type plants. Flesh is superior for pies, according to Farmer Seed and Nursery Co.

For popcorn try new Fire-side, a strawberry popcorn produced on plants only hip high. It fits limited space gardens. Bears 100 ears per stalk and matures in 65 days. Good also for decorating with mahogany color of gold kernels, from Farmer Seed.

Saketa of Japan has introduced Top Yield, an F-1 hybrid watermelon. It yields a high percentage of 80-pound melons. Fruit, sweet, firm, bright red flesh. Expect maturity in 90 days from seed.

At Bellevue Research, the Agriculture Department has produced an Italian paste-type tomato, Parker.

It is early, productive, crack-and-wilt-resistant and forms a low compact vine. For something different, try Royal-red bean, a high-yielding dark kidney bean. It has near immunity to curly top virus and mosaic. Matures in 80 days on tall, erect bushes, according to Washington State University developers.

Look around this year. Ask your garden center manager for new varieties that show promise. Then try some in tests with your-old favorites. Plant breeders put millions of dollars into Improving vegetables for commercial producers. You'll find better eating if you take advantage of these plant variety advances for your home vegetable garden.

Grangers To Help Youth Attend Camp

WENDELL — Mrs. Ray Ruby, Pomona lecturer, presented the Wendell Grange with $10 which was part of the proceeds from the Grange Benefit dinner.

This money is to be used to help sponsor a youth to the Grange Youth Camp.

The group decided members should be between 14 and 18 years old to attend the camp. If a couple is chosen to attend the grange will add an additional $15 to help with expenses.

The grange voted to sponsor Mrs. Ivan Miller's 4-H club again this year. Members chosen are Mrs. Mrs. Wayne Mathews and Mrs. Elmer Johnson. Other business included the acceptance of three resolutions that were read.

The program consisted of poems read by Mrs. Albin Holmquist. A parliamentary quiz was given by Mrs. Ruby.

Jim Lattimer Heads 4-H Club

MURTAUGH — The Pasajak 4-H Club has elected Jim Lattimer president.

Allan Mitchell is vice president. Dana Silvers, secretary; Marlene Lattimer, treasurer; Carol Lattimer, reporter; Gordon Graff, recreation chairman, and Velvet Jansen, sergeant-at-arms.

Projects were discussed and meeting dates were set up. The club will meet every two weeks. Meetings will be held after school at the grade school until summer vacation and then will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the member's homes.

Todd Peterson and Julie Peterson are new members. The 4-H pledge was led by Carol Lattimer and the pledge of allegiance by Marlene Lattimer. Leaders for the club are Mrs. Morris Lattimer and Mrs. John Silvers. Refreshments were served by the Lattimers.

Nixon's New Farm Budget Outlined

By BERNARD BRENNER
UPI Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's new budget proposals for agriculture include a head-on challenge to a conservation program that has been a "casual cow" to many members of Congress.

Nixon, in submitting his changes in Johnson Administration budget proposals for fiscal 1970, proposed complete elimination of the Agricultural Conservation Payment Program (ACP) for the 1970 crop year.

For years under this program, the government has paid farmers part of the cost of approved conservation practices. President Lyndon B. Johnson had proposed trimming the $200 million-a-year subsidies to $100 million in the year beginning July 1, down about $263 million from recently-revised estimates of the cost of proposals made for the same period by the Johnson Administration.

along with Johnson proposals to eliminate all advance support payments to feed grain and cotton growers in the spring of 1970.

Nixon increases over the Johnson proposals included $121 million more for the price-supporting Commodity Credit Corporation, which will need more money than expected earlier because of bigger production prospects and smaller export prospects.

There were also boosts of $10 million for crop insurance costs and $1.5 million for fighting screwworms and hog cholera.

Nixon proposed a $15 million increase — to nearly $1.5 billion — over Johnson Administration proposals for fighting hunger in the year beginning July 1. Officials indicated other, and possibly farther reaching, proposals on revamping the hunger programs may be coming along later.

The Nixon budget follows the Johnson budget in proposing a step that has proven unpopular with dairy leaders and other farm bloc lawmakers. Like the Johnson proposals, the Nixon plan would virtually eliminate the $104 million-a-year special milk subsidy program. Most of the money, about $80 million,

New Manager Named By Sugar Firm

SALT LAKE CITY — Utah-Idaho Sugar Company announced appointment today of John G. Seely as new manager for all of the firm's operations in Idaho.

Lloyd V. Olsen, who had been manager for U and I in Idaho since 1964, was transferred to Moses Lake, Washington, as manager for the sugar company in the Columbia Basin. The sugar factory at Moses Lake is the largest in the U and I system and one of the biggest in the nation.

President Rowland M. Cannon of the sugar firm said the changeover would be made in the near future.

In a related move, M. Keith Ellis, who was agricultural superintendent for the sugar company until transferred to Pasco, Washington, a year ago, where he has been in charge of special projects, was promoted to district manager of "U" and "I" operations in the Yakima Valley of Washington.

Conservation Camp Scheduled

The University of Idaho Conservation Camp held annually at Camp Alpine in Eastern Idaho will be conducted this year from June 2-7, according to Dian Genn, Twin Falls County Agricultural Agent.

"We know that not all schools are out at the time this camp is scheduled, but most schools are out making it possible for boys who desire to attend this camp to do so," Genn said.

The five-day camp teaches boys those who are completing the ninth grade this school term, and those who are not yet 20 years old, the basic information in the Conservation of natural resources.

Men who are specialists in their respective fields will instruct the boys in soil, water, forest, wildlife, and rangeland conservation. These specialists will teach by lecture and demonstrations on a level fitting to the ages of the young men attending the camp, Genn said.

Genn commented by way of example: "Saving leftovers from one meal to another is a simple form of Conservation which everybody understands, but a clear understanding of just how to conserve soil from windborne books, pictures, measuring and water erosion is not easy. It requires a high degree of technical know-how. Conservation of other natural resources is equally as technical."

Boys who attend this Conservation Camp come away with more understanding of conservation and technical procedure than 99 per cent of the nation's population.

Genn said, "Often times soil conservation districts, vocational agriculture chapters and local granges sponsor boys to this camp which is good, but perhaps a better way is for parents and particularly grandparents to send boys to the camp."

"While boys sponsored by organizations are expected to give a report on things learned at camp, it may be most important that they report to their own families and put the things they have learned into practice."

"The camp is run on a cost basis which is $25 per boy. Transportation is added which will be about $5 round trip from Twin Falls making a total of $30. Enclosed is the cost of health insurance, food and lodging and work supplies such as how to conserve soil from windborne books, pictures, measuring

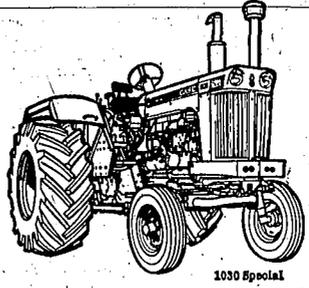

Soil District To Have Booth

JEROME — The North Side Soil Conservation District has decided to change the meeting date to the 3rd Monday of each month.

Members will have a booth in the Jerome County Fair this year. It was also decided to sponsor a grassman candidate and to provide scholarships to two boys to send them to Camp Alpine.

The new Jerome County Co-operators will be Gerald Goshour, C. R. Morrill, Kenneth Roberts, and Oils Hughes.

Snowmold Damage Widespread In Idaho

MOSCOW — Heavy snowfall which covered Idaho grain fields for much of the winter has led to widespread infection of snowmold in winter wheat, according to surveys by University of Idaho agricultural scientists.

Huber, an associate research professor of plant pathology, estimates that five percent of winter wheat in northern Idaho has been damaged, and is young enough to require re-seeding. Early surveys in southeastern Idaho suggest damage may be as high as 80 per cent in one of two counties and 15 per cent on the average.

Winter conditions were optimum for snowmold fungus to develop, Huber said. The organism requires long periods of high humidity and temperatures in the 32 to 50 degree range. And this is exactly what a heavy snow cover provides.

Although snowmold infection is widespread, damage in northern Idaho is not as severe as it would have been had moisture conditions been normal last fall, Huber believes. Fields were so dry in early fall that many farmers delayed seeding until Oct. 1 or later.

Late-seeded winter wheat was not bothered by the disease. But damage is uniformly severe in wheat seeded around September 1, Huber has found.

Snowmold damage is caused by enzymes secreted in the wheat plant by the fungus. These enzymes destroy the plant's cell walls. In severe cases, the plant leaves decompose, and a wheat field comes into spring 'looking like a field of summerfallow,' the Idaho scientist said.

In milder forms, the snowmold organism kills only the old leaves and does not destroy the crown. The plant will continue to grow and will produce some grain. However, since the infected leaves are nutrient-carrying foliage, the grain is often low quality. This is a problem particularly in southern Idaho winter wheat.

Huber, who heads the Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station snowmold research program, said there is no practical and economical way to control this disease with chemicals. Mechanical control, such as applying coal dust to snow to hasten melting, have not worked in Idaho.

The best solution we have now is late seeding—after Oct. 1 in northern Idaho, and Sept. 15 in the winter wheat areas of southern Idaho," he said. "More heavily damaged areas should be evaluated before re-seeding or taking the crop out, since there may be some recovery of snowmolded wheat as well."

Crop rotations also have a definite effect on the snowmold fungus. In his research, Huber has been able to increase infection of a plot from zero to 75 per cent just by sprinkling on the equivalent of 200 pounds of cereal straw per acre. On the other hand, wheat following legumes seems to have much less problem with snowmold.

Idaho scientists believe that varieties of wheat with built-in snowmold resistance will be the best long-run answer to the disease. Dr. Warren Pope and Dr. Donald W. Sunderland, University of Idaho and USDA wheat breeders at Moscow and Aberdeen, respectively, are working with resistant selections of winter wheat varieties to improve the degree of resistance and wheat quality.

In the meantime, what should farmers do with snowmold-damaged wheat? In general, Huber said, two living plants per square foot will justify leaving the field. More heavily damaged areas should be evaluated before re-seeding or taking the crop out, since there may be some recovery of snowmolded wheat.

Outlook For Agriculture In '69 Good

Business in Idaho during the first three months of 1969 was good to excellent despite the handicap of a severe winter and deep snow throughout most of the state.

This is the report of the First Security News Letter which is being distributed this week. It was announced today by Kenneth J. Newman, vice president and manager of the Twin Falls office. The quarterly publication is edited by Dr. Elroy Nelson, First Security vice president economist.

The general outlook for agriculture in the state for 1969 is good, with somewhat higher prices for most crops and livestock anticipated. There should be at least equal production and both gross and net income per farm should be above that of 1968.

Cash receipts in the first quarter of 1969 from the sale of farm products were considerably above the total of $122 million in the first quarter of last year. Prices for all livestock and livestock products are considerably above those of one year ago, according to First Security.

Feeder cattle prices have been good to excellent for the past six months and somewhat higher than slaughter prices would dictate, while lamb prices are approximately 25 per cent above year-ago levels, reflecting con-

Water Will Be Turned In Soon

RUPERT — Both A and B Irrigation District and Minidoka Irrigation District have set April 21 for turning on the season's irrigation water, according to announcements made by the separate managers, Virgil Temple of A and B, and Tom Crawford of MID.

Temple said A and B water users needing water prior to the tentative starting date should contact the Rupert office. Mr. Crawford said that unless circumstances alter present plans, MID water will be turned on April 21.

Area Wool Pools Set Bid Dates

Several area wool pools will be calling for bids next week for several thousands fleeces of wool.

The Twin Falls Livestock Marketing Association will accept bids for their some 500 fleeces at 10 a.m. Friday, April 25, in the Twin Falls County agent's office, according to Luis Alastra, president of the group.

Wool buyers will submit their bids at this time and arrangements for loading the wool at a later date will be made.

Other wool pools also accepting bids will be Lincoln, Gooding and Elmore county pools Friday, April 25, in the afternoon; at Shoshone; and the Milwaukie and Cassia county pools will be offered for sale on Thursday, April 24.

Mr. Alastra said the Twin Falls association's first lamb pool will probably be in the early part of May.

Mothers At Albion Feted By 4-H'ers

ALBION — Mothers were honored recently at a luncheon hosted by the Albion Demetris Grange Hall. An Easter theme was used in table decorations and each mother received a carnation in a bad vase.

Following the luncheon the youth presented a program, including solos by Patsy Groves and Hall Anderson accompanied by Mrs. Joyce Anderson. Dovie Roberts gave a reading and Cathy Nelson played a piano solo. Marie Anderson played two selections on the clarinet, accompanied by Mrs. Anderson. Susan Amende and Carma Gagle presented a skit and Chris Gagle sang a solo, accompanied by Janice Clark. Mrs. Odeen Redman is leader of the 4-H club.

Production Of 3 Gooding Cows Listed

GOODING — Three registered Holstein cows owned by Terry Westendorf, Gooding, have been listed in an official production testing report released by Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Included in the report with the pounds of milk and butterfat are the amounts of solids-not-fat produced by each cow since last calving. This solids-not-fat is the part of milk that contains protein, lactose, minerals and other elements so important to the nutrition and taste of milk.

The three cows and their actual production levels are:

- Hou-Ston Skyline, Cavel, 680-984, a 4-year-old, has credits of 20,320 pounds milk, 718 pounds butterfat and 1,663 pounds solids-not-fat in 365 days, Toponia Nat. April 6703386, beginning at the age of one year nine months, produced 18,060 pounds milk, 638 pounds butterfat and 1,462 pounds solids-not-fat in 365 days, and Toponia Cypsis Leader Candy 6352896, a 2-year-old, had 16,720 pounds milk, 478 pounds butterfat and 1,286 pounds solids-not-fat in 350 days.

The Green Thumb

By C. E. BARHAM

GROW JUMBO HAMBURGER ONIONS: Some home gardeners are "pulling" earlier than the Spanish Onions which they harvested last fall.

This is unusual since they ordinarily are not harvested until after the first of October. To get them in so early as weather permits, four to six inches apart, hamburger onions are cheap. A bunch is handled as pulled in the field to the south, running 8 to 10 plants per bunch.

The most important disease of onions are mildew, botrytis and alternaria. Botrytis is also known as "blast" or "blight," and Alternaria is known as purple blotch. Diagnosis is not too important since control for all is the same. Use Manab, perhaps the best general fungicide for the home garden. One level tablespoon per gallon of water applied six times during the season, starting when plants are small will prevent the above diseases.

Incidentally, did you know that heart-disease researchers have found that onions have anti-blood clotting factors in them? In other words, onions exert a protective effect against heart blood clots. Who knows — the time may come soon when onions are used to attack the problem of blood clotting in humans. Meanwhile, why not grow some onions from seeds, seeds or plants?

DOES IT PAY TO WAX APPLIES? I've been asked if there's a wax which can be used to coat apples so they'll last longer in the home. The possibility of waxing apples is a question with us for at least 35 years, and today, practically all citrus sold on the fresh fruit market is waxed. Some apples are waxed commercially.

The waxes are applied in an almost microscopic thin film on the skin, and usually they contain such things as Carnauba wax (for shine), paraffin (to cut down on moisture loss), Japan wax (for hard finish) and emulsifiers. Actually, the main thing waxing does is to make the apples shiny.

As far as stretching the life of the apple is concerned, it wouldn't pay you to try waxing it. It takes special equipment to do the job and the advantages aren't worth it. You'd be further ahead if you put your apples in a treated polyethylene bag and stored them in a cool place to prevent wrinkling of the skin. Or, you can store a few in the back of your refrigerator.

HOW TO TELL A RIPE MELON: A reader writes: "A melon grower told me once that you can tell a ripe watermelon by studying the tendril or little feeder growing opposite the melon. When it turns brown, the melon is ripe. I know this sounds crazy but it sure works for me!"

THIS WEEK'S PERENNIAL: In our series, we can't omit the Milkweed, or Butterfly weed (Asclepias, pronounced "As-see-lee-pias") an item that will grow in the worst of soils. Butterfly weed will grow in dry borders and put on a bright display of orange blooms in mid-summer. Plant is hardy and never aggressive, and as an added bonus, the orange flowers last well when used as cut flowers.

The Butterfly weed has a long tap root and transplanting is difficult. Better leave the parent plant alone, once it's established. You'll get the best by starting new plants from seed sown outdoors in spring. Let plants grow a year before transplanting. It's best to plant the seedlings in a spot where you want them to grow permanently.

Asclepias tuberosa, the common Butterfly weed does not like a wet, soggy soil. It produces seed pods similar to those of the common milk weed (they're cousins) and many use these for dried arrangements.

BACTERIAL LEAF SPOT AND STEM ROT: Causes sunken leaf spots, dead areas followed by wilting and death of leaf. Control: Use clean soil, and disinfect cutting knife by soaking in bleach solution five minutes.

BLACKLEGG: Look for brown water soaked cuttings and young plants. Lesions enlarge and turn black. Plants wilt and die. Control: Make sure soil is well drained. Soak cuttings in solution of Zineb.

GRAY MOLD: Also called Botrytis. Causes water-soaked flowers. Look for woolly, gray fungus on rotted tissue. Flowers turn mush. Control: Give good air circulation, dust plants with Zineb, and remove old blooms and dead parts.

ALTERNARIA LEAF SPOT: Look for water-soaked areas on undersides of leaves. Spots are large and have a slightly sunken center surrounded by rings of darker-brown tissue, favored by cool, wet conditions. Control: Allow good air drainage, and keep plants sprayed with Zineb.

RUST: Pustules of orange spores on undersides of leaves. Disease worse under moist conditions. Control: Pick off badly infected leaves and burn. Spray or dust plants with Zineb.

VERTICILLIUM WILT: Wilt, yellowing and defoliation of middle and lower leaves. Shoots die back and plants are stunted. Disease is soil borne and will persist for years. Fungus spread by infected cuttings and plants, and has a wide host range, including tomato, strawberry, chrysanthemum, nightshade, and others. Control: Use disease-free cuttings. Avoid soil previously planted with tomatoes, strawberries or mushrooms. Bake potting soil in oven at 180 degrees for one-half hour before attempting to grow geraniums.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: S. D. of Twin Falls: "I had some nice green (but gawky) geraniums in the house. From these we took cuttings and rooted them as you mentioned in your bulletin. The bottom leaves are all turning yellow. What's wrong?"

First, I'd check the soil. Too much water will cause yellowing, and the same holds for poor drainage. A lack of light will cause yellowing, all over. But since the bottom leaves only, I'd be inclined to think it was too much water. A lack of water (dry soil) will cause the leaves to turn brown and dry up. Other causes of yellowing of bottom leaves could be overcrowding, and hot dry room temperature. Space your geraniums so they get light on all sides, keep the soil uniformly moistened and grow in a bright, cool window. I'm sure this will solve your problem.

A. K. of Tuttle: "I started some pepper seed twice and none of it came up. For some reason I'm having a lot of trouble getting any seed started. What am I doing that's wrong?"

Most seeds germinate best at temperatures of 72 degrees or higher. Peppers like it hot, and you get good germination if the seed box is placed next to a boiler, where it gets 75 degrees or higher. A low night temperature (below 65 degrees) will cause seeds to rot inside the seed coat. Perhaps you're covering the seed too thickly.

AVOID BURYING SEED. A fair rule of thumb is to cover the seed with a light material (such as peatmoss) to twice the thickness of seed. Sow the seeds and then dust it lightly with vermiculite, perlite or fine peatmoss.

Extremely fine seed such as snapdragon, begonia, petunia, etc. should not be covered. Do not use soil. Use a mixture of sand, peat, vermiculite and perlite.

S. N. of Hagerman: "Your readers will want to know how we use wood ashes. I save them from the living room fireplace, and keep them dry. Wood ashes which come in contact with rain or snow have little fertilizing value. I scatter them on the ground in May, and find they are ideal for celery, cucumbers, muskmelons and squash. Hardwood ashes are better than those from soft wood and contain about 5 per cent potash. Wood dust ashes on certain vegetables to keep bugs off. It works!"

Burley Area Riding Club Has Election

BURLEY — The Cavalier Riding Club elected new officers, planned calendar of events and heard Charles Peugh, Idaho State patrolman, speak during a meeting in the conference room of Idaho Bank and Trust.

Mr. Peugh spoke to the group on horse trailer inspection laws now in effect in Idaho. Officers elected were Jay Glorfeld, president; Dale Doman, vice president; Mrs. Velma Posey, secretary, and Mrs. Pat Hayden, treasurer.

A kick-off banquet of the year's activities will be held April 18 at Annie Laurie Inn, Albion.

Trail rides will begin latter part of April, according to officers, and a full program of fun and riding is being planned for spring and summer months.

$41 Million Additional Set For FHA

Cong. Orval Hansen said the Department of Agriculture is making additional $41 million new funds available for Farmers Home Administration Loans.

Hansen, who earlier this week asked administration to make $40 million available, said $25 million has been earmarked for FHA operating loans, and $15 million goes to FHA's emergency credit revolving fund.

Hansen said the $16 million released for the Emergency Credit Fund is in addition to $25 million released in March by Bureau of Budget.

Hansen said the farmers' need for the emergency loan fund was "critical." He said administration's action "indicates it is listening to the American farmer."

"As a result of declining farm income and depressed prices, a great many farmers have their backs to the wall," Hansen said. "If they are unable to obtain FHA loans to finance this year's farming operation, they will simply be forced to quit farming."

Milner Area 4-H Club Elects

MILNER — Mary Seymour was elected president of the Better Feeders and Fitters 4-H Club recently at a meeting at the home of the leader, Farnum Warr.

Ray Sargent was elected vice president; Carol Sargent, secretary, and Judy Ross, club reporter.

Warr explained the projects that were available to the members and outlined some of the requirements that each member would be expected to meet before fair time.

Donations Voted By K. H. Grange

KING HILL — King Hill Grangers have given funds to the Red Cross, Cancer, Easter crippled childrens drive and the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Russell McMillan was accepted as a new member at the last meeting. Mrs. Horace Lippe reported on the benefit card party.

Shelli Larson Heads 4-H Club

HAGERMAN — Shelli Larson was elected president of the newly organized cooking and sewing 4-H Club this week.

Other officers are Kay Bridges, vice president; Mary Carter, secretary-treasurer; and Julie Asplund, reporter. Mrs. Marion Pugmire and Mrs. Manuel Asplund are the leaders.

Since the club will feature both cooking and sewing, the members selected "The Needles and Spoons" for the club's name.

Meetings will be held on each Thursday with cooking stressed at one meeting and sewing on the alternate week.

Kay Bridges served refreshments assisted by her mother, Mrs. Pugmire.

Vigorous growth, free of weeds. These are the signs of skillful management. And the row crops — beans, peas, potatoes, and others — quickly reflect a farmer's art, or lack of it.

Agricultural financing must be on target, too. That's why Federal Land Bank people make a career of it, tailoring individualized long-term credit to each borrower's situation. We'd better not miss. Our bosses are the farmers we serve.

Raft River Wins Magic Valley Conference Title; Nelson High Jumps 6-4 1/4

FILER — Rockland's Ed Nelson, with a tremendous 6-4 1/4 high jump effort, and Dean Alfred of Rockland topped the individual record-breaking performances and Raft River ran off with the title Thursday afternoon.

Jackson-Led Braves Belt Houston 9-3

HOUSTON (UPI) — Sonny Jackson belted in three runs with an inside-the-park homer and Pat Jarvis staggered through a 11-hitter to give the streaking Atlanta Braves a 9-3 Thursday night.

Tigers Rally In Ninth To Edge Indians

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Willie Horton drove in three runs a double and his third home run of the season and the Detroit Tigers pushed across three runs in the ninth inning off reliever Vicenzo Romo to defeat the Cleveland Indians 7-6 Thursday.

Pirates Sink Mets 4-0 On 3-Run Homer

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Jim Bunning and Ron Kline combined for a three-hitter and rookie's Oliver matched his first major league home run — a three-run blast in the eighth inning — Thursday night to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-0 victory over the New York Mets.

broke three in running up a total of 74 points while Rockland was second with 61. They were followed by Hansen at 37 1/2, Oakley 35, Declo 28, Castile 24 and Murtagh 21 1/2.

Alfred, one of the smallest high jumpers you've ever seen, won the high jump by taking the low in a career best of 6-4 1/4. Both stand as conference marks.

Raft River set records in the 80-yard dash, 100-yard dash and 200-yard dash. Dan Osterhout, Declo junior, broke the other mark, leaving the 400-yard dash in 1:14.7.

The record book reflected the quality of day the conference enjoyed for a change. This is the first time the league has had anything but wind and snow to contend with in the five-year history of the meet.

Among other happenings in the day were the return of a district champion and a champion in his first time out. Theron Becker, who won the district two-mile last spring, made his first outing and won easily in just over 11 minutes.

Ken Darrington, Raft River's pre-race favorite, by a stride, won the 100-yard dash in 1:14.7. He was followed by Peterson, who won the 200-yard dash in 2:40.7.

McAuliffe scored on Al Kline's sacrifice fly and Stanley came in on Norm Cash's single.

Wille Horton doubled home Kline with the first run of the game in the fourth and broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth with his home run to score behind Cash, who had singled.

Chicago (UPI) — The Chicago Bears Thursday announced the signing of their 7th and 9th draft choices, split end Ron Copeland of UCLA and running back Joe Aluse from Arizona.

Copeland, 6-4 and 210 pounds, caught 23 passes for 598 yards and five touchdowns in his final two seasons with UCLA while Aluse, playing with the Sacramento Capitals in the Continental League last year, gained 748 yards in 180 attempts to wind up in the top five draft gainers.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Will Chamberlain and Jerry West took charge for the Los Angeles Lakers in the second half Thursday night, wiped out a six-point Atlanta lead, and took a commanding 31 edge in the Western Division title round with a 100-85 victory over the Hawks.

The victory was the first for the Lakers on the Atlanta court. The Lakers can wrap up the National Basketball Association division championship Sunday afternoon in Los Angeles with another victory.

Blues Edge Kings, Claim Sixth In Row
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Gary Sabourin scored his second goal of the game late in the third period Thursday night to give the St. Louis Blues a 3-2 win over the Los Angeles Kings and a 2-0 edge in games in the Stanley Cup semifinals.

Chicago Signs UCLA's Copeland
CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears Thursday announced the signing of their 7th and 9th draft choices, split end Ron Copeland of UCLA and running back Joe Aluse from Arizona.

Sabourin also scored at 11:22 of the second period, on a 20-foot shot directly in front of the goal. Bryan Campbell had tied the game for Los Angeles at 8:28 of the third period while the kings were short-handed.

Reveree John Ashley had assessed 18 minutes in penalties after a scuffle and the Blues were outmanned 4-3. As the Blues' Noel Picard and Terry Crisp broke from the penalty box, Campbell slammed his scoring shot from the point on the opposite side of the rink.

Carey Tips Richfield For Northside Title

GODDING — The Carey Panthers won the last two events of the day to safely stave off the Richfield Tigers and claim the track and field championship of the Northside Conference. Carey won it with 81 points, a seven-point bulge over Richfield while Dietrich had 52, Camas County 24, Bliss 23 and Gooding State 11.

Grand View won the girls division with 77 points while Richfield had 52, Carey 31, Camas County 17, Dietrich 13 and Gooding State 11.

Richfield picked up only four first, two in the field which proved the Tigers' strong point as the Tigers went one-two-five in the shot and one-two-three in the discus.

Dietrich, Camas County and Bliss provided the big individual winners, however. Randy Lee took the 220 and 440-yard dashes and finished second in the 100 and high jump. Bliss' Jos Leach took the high jump and pole vault, and fourth in the discus.

Tigers' Depth Wins Jerome Invitational

JEROME — Winning only three first places, the Mountain Home Tigers dominated the second and third spots to win the third annual J-Club invitational track meet Thursday afternoon.

Mountain Home took first only in two field events and the two mile but still piled up 62 1/2 points to win the Jerome Invitational.

The half-mile was which was just behind with 60 1/2. Filer had 44 5/8, Wood River 27, Gooding 28, Jerome 24, and Bluff 10.

Buhl picked up six first places—sharing one of those in a dead heat with Filer in the 400-yard relay.

Dennis Gartner was the only double winner of the day, taking first in the half mile in a personal best of 2:04.1 and the long jump.

The half-mile was the lightest race with all five spots going in a blanket finish.

Judo Tourney Opens Saturday

Between 180 and 200 players are expected to participate in the fifth annual YMCA Judo tournament Saturday at the Twin Falls High School gymnasium.

Guy Matsuoaka, instructor for the sponsoring YMCA group, said a highlight will be a special exhibition, staged after 7 p.m. Saturday.

Right-handed Bill Stoneman, who's won just two games in his 48-game major league career, pitched the first no-hitter of the 1969 season Thursday night and Rusty Staub made a key catch and drove in three runs as the Montreal Expos routed the Philadelphia Phillies 7-0.

Expos' Stoneman Blanks Phillies 7-0 On No-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Right-handed Bill Stoneman, who's won just two games in his 48-game major league career, pitched the first no-hitter of the 1969 season Thursday night and Rusty Staub made a key catch and drove in three runs as the Montreal Expos routed the Philadelphia Phillies 7-0.

The Phil's crowd of 6,494 on a balmy night cheered the youngster when he set down the Phillies in the ninth to complete the no-hitter.

The team and the crowd mobbed him and pulled his cap off and he had to fight his way to the dugout after Maury Wills briefly bobbled Deron Johnson's sharp grounder but then fired first for the final out.

Stoneman had opened the ninth by striking out both Ron Stone and Johnny Briggs swinging on 3-2 pitches.

Stoneman—had—made two previous starts this season against the Mets and the Cubs and was beaten in both games, being knocked out both times while allowing 11 runs, in nine innings. Stoneman had won two games for the Cubs before going to Montreal.

This game was the first one for Expo manager Gene Mauch in Philadelphia since he was fired by the Phils last season.

Johnson was the only batter to pass first base against Stoneman as he hit into a force play and then stole second.

Jerry Johnson went the first eight innings for the Phils and suffered the loss as he allowed four runs. The Expos added three more in the ninth off two relievers.

The Phils hit only six balls out of the infield against Stoneman.

The Expos' first run was the ninth inning Frank White had no Coco Laboy singled and then recored.

Esposito And Boston Beat Montreal 5-0

BOSTON (UPI)—Phil Esposito scored twice and assisted three times Thursday night to lead Boston Bruin goalie Gerry Cheevers to a 5-0 Stanley Cup playoff rout of the Montreal Canadiens.

The Bruins were cutting Montreal's lead in the eastern playoff finals to 2-1 as Cheevers racked-up his third straight shutout on Boston Garden ice after twice blanketing Toronto in the preliminary playoffs.

Esposito and Eddie Westfall collected the Bruin goals in the first two periods, and Boston exploded for three scores in the third session, two of them by Ron Murphy and Ken Hodge, both coming only 16 seconds apart.

The Bruin victory, their first over Montreal in seven playoff games spread over two seasons, gave Boston a chance to deadlock the eastern finals when the series resumes at Boston on Sunday afternoon.

Cubs Keep Cards In Misery 3-0

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Bill Hands and Phil Regan combined on a four-hitter Tuesday night to keep the Chicago Cubs blanketed St. Louis 3-0, the second straight shutout the Cards have suffered since the lineup shuffling. It was Cubs' ninth victory in 10 games this year.

General Manager Red Schoendienst in an attempt to get the two-time defending National League champions out of their current slump, benched Steve Garvey, Julian Javier and Jim McCaw. He moved Joe Hagme from first to left, put Bill White in at first, switched Carl Frorister to first to behind the plate and inserted Steve Huntz at second base.

All of the moves went for naught as Hands and Regan stopped the Cards on just four hits after Ferguson Jenkins had blanketed them on five hits Wednesday night. St. Louis is now 4-8 this season and five games behind the Cubs in the Western Division.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

A BETTER WAY TO REACH SLAM

It is a bridge writer's privilege to show his bidding methods at their best.

Roth and Rubens have done this in "Modern Bridge Bidding Complete" but once in awhile they have slipped up a trifle. Today's hand is meant to illustrate two things. First is the Roth three-club response to a major-suit opening to show four trumps and 13 to 15 points in support.

Second is the theory of distribution which is that any time your partner fits one of your suits, he is not going to show up with more than two cards in the other one.

Thus they recommend a Blackwood four-no-trump to the south hand, followed by a jump to seven spades. It makes sense. North's four spades include both the queen and jack.

and he has only two hearts. We would prefer to have more information before we tried a grand slam and this particular hand is ideal for the Jacoby methods.

In our bidding, North would respond two no-trump. This is the Jacoby two-no-trump which forces to the spade game and shows the same minimum as the two-club bid.

South rebids three clubs showing a singleton in that suit. North bids three diamonds showing both that ace and some desire to get to six. South continues with three hearts to show that acc. North's four clubs shows the last ace and South bids four hearts to show the king of that suit.

This gives North a chance to jump to seven with a slightly conservative five spades or a slightly aggressive six spades. In either instance South can well afford to go to the grand slam and feel certain of finding the right cards in dummy.

What do you do now?
A—It is a ten-suit auction and five hearts will naturally favor the five-heart bid which will tell your partner to go to six if his hand is something you can handle the second diamond lead.

Soroptimists Push For Burley Museum

BURLEY—Support is snowballing in the Burley area for establishment of an historical museum, says Vivian Odney, of the local Soroptimist club. She said support for the project, long a dream of the Burley club, has been pledged both in the form of money and historical artifacts as soon as a museum can be established. And club members feel the perfect solution for housing such a museum has been found if the city will approve use of the former William B. Burton home which has been willed to the city by Mrs. Burton. So club members, and anyone interested in the project, will attend the Burley city council meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the city hall, to formally request approval for establishing the museum in the Burton house.

The will stipulates that a library be founded in Mrs. Burton's name and a youth lounge be provided and maintained. Club officials feel that the house is spacious enough to also house a museum in addition to the library and youth lounge. Persons willing to contribute time, effort and finances or who have in their possession historical articles they would like to have placed or exhibit in a museum may telephone Mrs.

Fred Sherrod at 678-7221, or Vivien Odney, 678-9301. Miss Odney conducted a special meeting of club members and local residents Tuesday afternoon at Bryan's cafe interested in the project to spearhead the plan which will need community-wide support. Creation of a museum at Burley has long been a dream of the Soroptimist club, Miss Odney said, adding she is hopeful with the present indication of support and the probability of a site being available, the dream can become a reality. Attending the preliminary session were William Roper, Mrs. Lucille Jamison, Al Dawson, Miss Odney, Mrs. Gerald Bryan, Mrs. LePage Layton, Jack Keen and Mrs. Don Chisholm.

Probation Of T.F. Woman Is Revoked

A three-year prison term was reimposed on a 20-year-old Twin Falls woman following a day-long probation-violation hearing in Fifth District Court Thursday. Mrs. Gala Jean Kellogg is being held in the Twin Falls County jail and her case will be appealed to the Idaho Supreme Court, her attorney, Golden Bennett, announced. Mr. Bennett appealed the case as soon as Judge James Cunningham issued his decision Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Kellogg pleaded guilty to issuing a check without funds in the bank when she appeared in court last fall. At that time she was placed on probation. She was arrested in El Paso, Texas, last month and returned to Idaho by Sheriff Paul Corder.

Panelist Advocates Strict Control Of U.S. Violence

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—A panelist told the nation's editors Thursday that letting known advocates of violence "run loose is like inviting rape." The assertion was made by Fred R. Crawford, director of the Center for Research in Social Change at Emory University, Atlanta, in a discussion before the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE). Crawford also said research indicated that a key ingredient in riots are "violent actors" who are abetted by people in the same brutal manner as the "violent actors." Another panelist, Otto N. Larsen, a University of Washington sociology professor, commented, "The weight of the evidence designates televised violence as a national health problem.

CSI Due To Offer Drafting Course

The College of Southern Idaho Vocational School is now accepting applications for students in a new drafting course which will begin this fall. The drafting course will cover 1,300 contact hours, according to Orval Bradley, vocational school director. Those enrolling should have an adequate high school mathematics background. Mr. Bradley said the program, which begins in September, will have a nationwide placement potential.

Dr. Vincent Brown, Washington, a Howard University dean and director of a civil rights project in which more than 600 civil rights leaders and black militants have been interviewed, said that during riots in Negro neighborhoods "most violence is caused by the over-reaction of whites."

Brown said riots were sparked "not because of any black addition to violence but because of the circumstances of Negro life and the way the white community has responded."

Boise Cascade To Present Film

BOISE (UPI)—Boise Cascade Corporation will present its new motion picture, "The Significance of You," April 24 in Boise. The organization invited the public to view the film which was made on location at many of Boise Cascade's world-wide operations. The 28-minute color movie handles the company's philosophies and dimensions in serving markets for shelter, building products, paper, packaging, office supplies, recreation and urban renewal.

The panel on violence in the United States followed an opening session Wednesday at which foreign policy was the main theme.

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson told the convention he sees little hope for success in the Paris peace negotiations, four-power talks on the Middle East or U.S. sanctions against South Africa.

PORK STEW, Rechauffe

This pork stew recipe is designed for left-over pork. "Rechauffe" refers to cold food made hot again. Try this tasty "Quickie!"

Brown 3 cups of left-over cooked pork (cut in cubes) in 3 Tbsp. of bacon drippings. When brown, stir in 2 cans whole potatoes and let simmer 10 minutes covered to heat through. Season if necessary. Serve on heated platter. Sprinkle cooked hot peas over all and surround stew with hot sweet potato biscuits.

Marinated Beef Short Ribs

Marinate Tablerite beef short ribs in Tablerite Italian dressing for at least 24 hours. Remove from marinade and put in dutch oven or kettle with cover. Add 1 cup water and 1 diced onion, cover and simmer until tender. If a "barbecued" effect is desired indoors or out on the grill — place under broiler in stove and baste with marinade, or outdoors broil over hot coals and baste. A tasty marinade gravy can be made by blending some of the marinade with a can of gravy, heating and serving with the ribs. Baked sweet potatoes and asparagus will make eye and taste appealing accompaniment, leaving you on your own for the dessert.

ROYAL STRAWBERRY JELLY-PRESERVES

MRS. CECIL F. HUGHES

Box 953, Twin Falls

Two boxes of strawberries, washed and hulled. Pour boiling water over strawberries. Let stand for five minutes. Drain well. Add one and one-half cups sugar. Bring to a boil. Then add two cups of sugar and boil for 15 minutes.

Put in shallow pan and cool about 24 hours. Put in sterilized glass or jars and seal with wax.

Save the boiling water that is drained off and heat and pour over the next two boxes of berries when processing a quantity of berries.

Prepare two boxes separately, but when left in shallow pan (enameled dish pan is recommended) several batches can be put together to stand during the 24 hours.

Strawberries remain throughout the preserve which has a brilliant rich red color and is most delicious.

THEY LOOK LIKE ice cream cones. You can eat them like ice cream cones, but under that crown of fluffy white frosting and colorful decorations is tender cake baked in Koebler Ice Cream Cups. A different cake dessert for parties — a wonderful surprise for lunch boxes.
