WATER SPILLS OVER American Falls Dam as the upstream reservoir fills and no storage space is left. Replacement of this dam is planned at some future date, but it apparently will be the same height, with the result storage capacity will not change. Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, warns that elimination of this water waste is a top project for all citizens of the state. In this aerial picture by Times-News Photographer Dan Johnson, the reservoir is to the right, the dam to the right-center, and the Union Pacific railroad bridge downstream from the dam.

Senator Calls For More State Action To Salvage Runoff

By O. A. (Gus) KELKER
Times-News Editor

Existing and future demands for financial aid to the big cities of the nation will play havoc with reclamation projects in Idaho.

In fact, according to Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, the $175 million requirement for financing the large community water demands and urban rebuilding, will ultimately require reclamation projects being undertaken with more funds from within the state.

"The present proposed national budget for reclamation construction is the smallest for as far back as we can remember," the state senator said.

"This comes at a time when we see the criminal waste of waste. For instance, the water American Falls Dam pours over Miller Dam, drops down over Shoshone Falls and then goes to the Columbia and the Pacific, and the benefit to Idaho is lost."

Sen. High has just completed an aerial inspection flight of the Snake River from American Falls to a point below the Perrine Memorial Bridge, a 90-foot drop of Twin Falls.

"Before this flight I realized the water waste situation was not good," he said, "but the aerial inspection put the entire thing in its true perspective."

"Looking down on the Snake River, filled with the overflow from American Falls Dam, it brought home the scope of the

Reds Gun Down Two 'Copters In Cambodia

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command Saturday announced six helicopter crashes in incidents that killed 16 Americans and injured seven. Two fell under fire in Cambodia, the first such losses in that country reported by American headquarters.

U.S. spokesmen were vague in identifying the forces who hit the two Navy helicopters which crashed in Cambodia, but implied that the gunners were Communist. Cambodia said its frontier troops shot down the helicopters. Four Americans were killed and four wounded.

The other losses were an Army helicopter and a Marine helicopter which collided just south of the Demilitarized Zone, killing 12 men and two Army helicopters shot down elsewhere in South Vietnam, killing two Americans and wounding three.

The official U.S. communique on the helicopters lost in Cambodia said they were jet-powered UH-1 "Sea King" craft which had responded to a call from an aerial observer to investigate a group of sampans on a Mekong Delta waterway near the village of Moc Hoa, 44 miles west of Saigon. The incident occurred last Monday. The report said the helicopters came under fire 1 1/2 miles south of the Cambodian border in Kien Tuong and that one crashed inside Cambodia, killing three crewmen and wounding a fourth.

The second helicopter was shot down while trying to rescue the crew of the first and crashed about 80 yards away, wounding one crewman.

A third helicopter, flown by a U.S. Army crew, picked up the survivors of the two Navy aircraft, but one of the Navy men was killed and two Army men were wounded by ground

May Day

BUHL—Mr. and Mrs. John Mercer, who live at 2012 N. 12th Ave. N., in Buhl, don't believe the younger generation is all bad. In fact, they know there are some thoughtful youngsters right in their own neighborhood.

Thursday night their doorbell rang and when they opened the door, no one was there. But hanging on the door was a bouquet of flowers. The Mercers, who are elderly and do not get out of their home often, were touched at the kindness.

Thursday was May Day, and the anonymous youngsters received an old rural custom not much practiced nowadays.

Funds OK'd For Kellwood Classes

Financing for training programs for the Kellwood Co.'s hokey manufacturing plant in Twin Falls was obtained during a meeting this week in Boise.

Dr. James L. Taylor, College of Southern Idaho president, returning from Boise where he conferred with Roy Iken, state director for vocational education, said the "green light" on financing the training programs was given at this time.

Through cooperation with several state agencies and the governor, CSI will be able to obtain funds and begin the programs about May 15, Dr. Taylor said.

Last week the college president conferred with Gov. Don Samuelson on the possibility of

De-Consolidation Is Proposed In Cassia

BURLEY—A proposal to de-consolidate the Cassia county school district is among several being studied by the Educational Advisory Board.

Nine Burley residents presented the idea of de-consolidation at a citizens meeting last week at the Declo High School.

They stated that all other possibilities for long-range improvement programs have been exhausted and "we feel there is no other alternative." Noel Bow-

Potted Mouse

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (UPI)—Police prowling through the attic of a house in search of narcotics reported Saturday they found a potted mouse.

Officers said the rodent apparently had eaten into a bag of seeds believed to be marijuana.

The mouse lay on his back, his eyes glassy and livid to the humans. His only response was to wiggle his feet when his stomach was tickled.

Youth Shoots Thumb While Cleaning Rifle

A Twin Falls youth, attempting to clean the barrel of his .22 long rifle, was shot through the thumb Saturday afternoon, Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers said.

Renee Flinn, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Flinn, was rabbit hunting about five miles east of Twin Falls when the accident occurred.

He told officers the barrel of his gun jammed into the dirt as he was climbing through a fence. He said he thought he got the gun on safely before putting his thumb into the barrel. The gun discharged, however, and the shot went through his thumb.

He is being treated at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

More Urban Renewal Sites Bought

The Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency has purchased three more properties in the downtown area, bringing to eight the total purchases since the first of the year.

The parking lot behind Price Hardware, 147 Main Ave., was bought from Mrs. Charlotte Link. This parking lot is 75 feet by 100 feet.

A building next to the Salvation Army Thrift Store at 263 Main Ave. E. was purchased from Hazel E. Sweet, Blincker's Furniture uses the building for storage.

The third purchase was the Stop-Ken Auto Parts Co. site at 161 Second Ave. N. The property was owned by E. V. J. Woods.

The price of the sales was not announced.

Breakthrough Seen In Paris Conclave

PARIS (UPI)—Signs of a meaningful breakthrough in the Vietnam peace talks were stronger Saturday than at any time since full-scale negotiations began in January.

In Washington and Saigon, they related to a possible withdrawal from the war of some U.S. troops. Secret negotiations between the Saigon government and the Viet Cong were another possibility.

The top Viet Cong negotiator in Paris, Tran Bui Kiem, told newsmen, "We are very open in order to achieve a just political solution. The peace conference will of necessity produce results."

An announcement by U.S. Embassy spokesmen in Saigon strengthened the possibility some American soldiers would be pulled out of Vietnam.

The report said Maj. Gen. Richard Scheffer, the U.S. command's deputy chief of staff

SIDEWALK SUPERINTENDENT'S VIEW of the work going on at the new Bank of Idaho building, Main Avenue and Shoshone Street, shows the new corner beginning to take shape. Times-News photographer Dan Johnson posted by the site Saturday morning, peered the lens of his camera up to one of the viewports in the safety wall and caught this scene. Workers here are putting finishing touches on masonry at the front portion of the new building. The building, Twin Falls' highest, is scheduled for occupancy this summer.

Dr. Taylor Heads Blood Drive

Dr. James Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho, has been named honorary chairman of the Red Cross blood drive in Twin Falls Monday.

In accepting, Dr. Taylor said, "We've managed to exceed the blood quota the two times this bloodmobile has been here in this area. It would be a real credit to the community to do it again this Monday."

Dr. Taylor said the bloodmobile will be at the St. Edward's Catholic Parish Hall on Seventh Avenue East. The drawing will be from 2 to 7 p.m. People may call the Parish Hall for an appointment, to eliminate waiting to give blood.

The bloodmobile will visit St. Edward's Tuesday from 2 to 6 p.m., at the grade school.

Students Shower Police With Bottles In New York

By United Press International

There were growing signs Saturday of a student resistance to a Cornell University campus demonstration among students, faculty and state legislators.

However, there was more student violence at Potsdam, N.Y., where more than 500 students from Clarkson College and a branch of New York State University showered police with bricks and bottles. The officers intervened when the mob began hurling missiles at buildings and broken into a music store, destroying $5,000 worth of merchandise. Sheriff's deputies and police from three communities dispersed the students with tear gas.

Elsewhere in New York, scenes of violent outbreaks at Columbia, Cornell and Queens College, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller week and have been barred from the campus.

President Kenneth S. Pitzer of Stanford University in California said that 21 students had been identified as participants in the take-over of the main administration building this week and have been barred from the campus.

"Y" Pool Fund Drive Gets Under Way In Earnest

The drive to finance construction of a YM-YWCA swimming pool and athletic building got under way in earnest last week with 430 to 450 workers starting to contact selected prospects for contributions.

A major report meeting is set for 7:25 p.m. Monday, and is expected to give some indication of how the early portion of the drive is going. The campaign is scheduled to wind up May 20.

At a preliminary report meeting Thursday, two days after the first effort, nearly $16,000 was pledged.

Hal Hallock, professional advisor for the campaign, said this amount does not include all of the funds collected to that date and that a true picture should be available after Monday's report.

Workers are attempting to attain a goal of $95,000 to expand facilities at the Y. The new addition will include an indoor swimming pool, handball courts, locker and shower rooms and a health club.

The big gifts branch of the drive reported $11,500 collected Thursday night and the teams reported $2,477. In the teams category, O. J. Smith's section was high with $1,105 collected, and Dr. Bill Brown's division, with $800 collected, was high division.

Curtis Eaton is big gifts chairman and Bob Colner is top level chairman in the big gifts category. Team captains are: Mr. Smith, Dave Nelson and Doug Neville.

Mr. Hallock said, "It is difficult at this time to tell how the campaign is going. The first four weeks don't give much of an indication."

He and his wife are residing in Twin Falls for the duration of the campaign, which is expected to conclude May 20.

Part of the drive, which Mr. Hallock said has proved popular in other fund drives around the nation, is the "Buy a Brick" theme.

Families or individuals wishing to have their names glazed on a brick in the new addition may give $300 to the drive. Businesses wishing to have names glazed on bricks may contribute $1,000. Mr. Hallock said the glazing is permanent and will last the life of the building. People now being contacted by the teams have been placed on a selected prospect list. The big gifts division is contacting business firms and individuals, Mr. Hallock said.

There will be no door-to-door soliciting in the drive. Mr. Hallock said if someone who has not been contacted wishes to contribute to the Y improvement project, they may call any of the team captains, or the drive office, 734-2190.

$475 Raises Given Blaine Teachers

HAILEY — Every teacher in Blaine County will receive a $475 raise next year, Supt. Vernon Exner said Friday. Additional increments will range up to $200.

Teachers in Ketchum with a B. A. degree will earn from $5,825 to $6,725, while a degree teacher with nine credit hours of graduate work will receive $5,925 to $6,965. For 18 credit hours of graduate work, the salary scale ranges from $6,125 to $7,725 and for 27 credit hours, $6,325 to $8,795.

Teachers with master's degrees will earn from $6,325 to $8,925. Mr. Exner said all but five of the 67 teachers in the district have indicated they will return next year.

Dirksen: The Burr Under Nixon's Saddle

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen has become, at the very least, a mild annoyance to the Nixon administration.

Those Nixon men who privately spoke their concern as early as last October that Dirksen might prove something of an embarrassment to a new Republican regime are looking good.

Up to now the effect of his "free-wheeling" flamboyance has been largely felt in the field of appointments. Should it ever be transferred in a big way to issues Dirksen might find himself repeating the role of stubborn resistor acted out with vehemence by Dwight Eisenhower's Senate leader, Sherman

Dirksen does not win, however, all Harry Sandoval was named head of the Small Business Administration over a Dirksen choice because earlier the President himself had suggested to Sen. John Tower that the job should go to a Texan (in fact, a Mexican-American) and had asked Tower to supply an candidate.

On Capitol Hill, says one GOP senator's aide, "There is dismay among the younger senators at the way Dirksen gets into."

The ROTC

So what's wrong with the ROTC? In Idaho there is nothing wrong with it. ROTC units in various Idaho schools have offered fine programs.

But what of today's cry from many quarters to get the ROTC out of the "campus"? Under extreme pressure from those who really want little to do with anything of the administrations of a number of universities have moved to either abolish the program at their schools or to cease awarding them academic credits.

This attitude may be because of a growing reaction against the military among the intellectuals or it may be because of pressure from radicals.

We believe the radicals are the "power" behind the moves being made against ROTC. We also believe, as President Richard Nixon does, that college administrators are going to have to have guts enough to stand up to this pressure and to run their schools as they should be run.

But this is neither here nor there as far as the ROTC is concerned. One of the principles by which this nation has operated from its founding is civilian control over the military.

This principle is served not only by the fact that the President is commander-in-chief and a civilian is the head of the Defense Department, but by the equalizing effect obtained by drawing into the services masses of civilians through the draft and the ROTC.

Should the services be denied this leveling, should they no longer be able to fill the officer ranks with thousands of ROTC graduates yearly, should they be completely isolated from civilian America, the anti-militarists could find in the end that instead of striking a blow for peace and individual liberty they have only succeeded in creating in this country a Prussian type military elite infinitely more against their ideals.

This possibility, not the question of money, is also the most satisfactory argument against proposals to abolish the draft and make military service voluntary.

An anti-ROTC editorial which recently appeared in 29 college newspapers around the country contended that "training soldiers whose ultimate aim is to kill is hostile to the principles of Academia."

This same kind of fuzzy-headed thinking was behind a demonstration at Kent University in Ohio in which radicals drove recruiters from the Chicago Police Department to the campus. As if the police, or the military, are to be humanized by cutting them off from access to the best young minds in the country.

The ultimate aim of soldiers, like that of policemen, is not to kill but to protect the nation and its citizens. And the citizen soldiers from the ROTC are doing their part in this great effort.

We may not like the military, we may be convinced of the "different" slant of the military mind and we may dream of the time when the only soldiers we see are in pictures found in history books, but we fool only ourselves if we think that wars are a de by generals and not statesmen.

Asked to comment about the campus editorial which gained such wide circulation, Col. Everett Stoutner, chief of the ROTC division in the Pentagon, said:

"Thank God we have a country where an article like this can appear."

To which we say Amen — and thank God we have a country that can produce a soldier capable of such a statement.

And thank God once more that we have citizen soldiers willing and patriotic enough to do their job — our job — as they see it should be done.

There is nothing basically wrong with the ROTC.

HEW: Drug Center Closure

WASHINGTON — With narcotics addicts apparently under the aegis of the same so-called budget-experts.

Now another Texas Democrat, Rep. Ray Yarborough, is leading the protest movement. Yarborough, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee and its subcommittee on health, education and welfare, finds himself trying to rationalize the closing of one of the two federal addiction centers.

Very probably the closing of the Fort Worth clinical research center was NOT Secretary Finch's idea. Circumstances strongly suggest that he was not initially responsible for plans to shut the facility, which is providing treatment for about 100 addicts.

Reports began circulating late last year, in fact, that penny-wise "experts" in HEW and the Budget Bureau had agreed to close the center in January.

It was reported that the outgoing administration's final budget would call for transferring the Texas operations to a similar federal facility in Lexington, Ky.

An influential Texan named South J. Johnson is said to have personally vetoed that plan. With the arrival of the

We Can Slash Viet Forces

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Evidence available to this reporter indicates that up to 20 per cent of American troops in Vietnam could be withdrawn with no unfavorable effects on the progress of the war or the South Vietnamese government.

In fact, the withdrawal, if properly announced and correctly timed, would probably strengthen the South Vietnam government and the forces of democracy within that country and weaken the position of the Communists.

It would be practical for such a withdrawal of 100,000 Army, Air Force and Marine Corps troops to begin in July or August and continue at a rate of 10,000 a month.

The withdrawal of naval units at this time is more problematic, because of the large-scale Communist use of the sea for bringing in supplies and the difficulty of patrolling the long South Vietnamese coast.

The U. S. experience in Laos is indicative. So long as the Lao army could lean heavily on U. S. aid it was almost completely ineffective. When American aid was slashed, the Lao

Without TV

WASHINGTON — There is some question as to what role the communications media is playing in student unrest. Most of us like to think we're just reporting the events on college campuses, but there is a growing suspicion that our role may be to participate rather than observe. How do you ever wonder what might happen if the press and TV didn't show up at a student demonstration?

OK, guys, we're taking the bull by the horns, everybody ready for the attack?

"We better hold off; the TV cameras haven't arrived yet."

"I did alert them. I said we were going to lock ourselves in at noon. They said they were entering the building at the Coliseum and they didn't have any cameras available."

"That's a hell of a note. It's just like the tough guys, racial, capitalist TV, the news, the revolution. What do we do now?"

"It's take the building any way."

"What good will it do? There are no press photographers or newspapermen here either."

"I called up the papers and told them what we were going to do and they said they were not here either another student takeover. They said it wasn't news any more."

"You tell them we were going to be in the building, the dean of the law school?"

"Yeah, and they said to send them a press release on it."

"What? The reporter from the school newspaper?"

"The school newspaper said they didn't have any student but they'd do a fill-in later from one of us."

Ten Plus Twenty Years

So here we go again with bits of this and that from the Idaho Evening Times files of 30 years ago this week.

The Evening Times announced first complete plans for construction of a labor camp on 60 acres of land south of the city. The camp itself will be a "miniature city."

The government bought the land from J. H. Seaver. The initial appropriation for construction comes to $218,000.

Buhl's Speedy SCI league amateur team will meet the Twin Falls County team for the event were Miss Norma Jean Dinger, Miss Shirley Greenhalgh, Miss Virginia Benson, Miss Virginia McBride and Miss Marian Griggs.

What was termed a "jolly dance" attracted 100 couples to the annual spring event of the Red Knights. Buhl girls for the event were Miss Norma Jean Dinger, Miss Shirley Greenhalgh, Miss Virginia Benson, Miss Virginia McBride and Miss Marian Griggs.

Chalk up another "spin-off" from space research.

What started as a study of fuel storage in Atlas missile tanks in 1955 has developed into a theory that may contribute greatly to our knowledge of tornadoes.

As a result of studying the whirling of fluids in rocket tanks, scientists with TRW, Inc., noticed that a mathematical theory they constructed for solving this problem could be applied to tornadoes to determine their maximum wind velocity. By using photographs of past tornadoes and applying the formula, it was possible to determine the physical characteristics of the destructive funnels for the first time.

The scientists are hopeful that further studies will show what the conditions are that lead to tornadoes and why they do not turn into tornadoes. The knowledge could ultimately lead to the development of sensing devices for some sort of early warning system.

Rupert Hotel Slated For Demolition

RUPERT, Idaho (UPI)—The Caledonia Hotel, a landmark since 1918, is scheduled to be torn down and five businesses now located on the ground floor have been given notice to move by June 30.

Ben Warthen, who operates the hotel owned by his mother, said the return for the number of hours needed to operate the facility was not great enough to warrant keeping the hotel open.

The three-story building, built in 1918 by three shepherds, has central rooms and office space, Warthen said there were no plans for future development of the lot.

NEW YORK (UPI)—City Finance Administration, Flaviano C. Perrotta is trying to find the absent-minded motorist who recently paid about $40 to park at a city meter.

Perrotta displayed a park contraption the size of a dime that was found in the Counting and Records Section of the Finance Administration's Parking Meter Division.

Perrotta refused to disclose the year and the denomination of the coin, saying the motorist would have to properly identify it.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England (UPI)—British Rail is discontinuing the 12-mile Stratford-on-Avon to Honeybourne run.

It reached the decision after finding out Mrs. Florence Hicks, 53, had been the only passenger on the 285-seat diesel for the last two years.

Hearing Set May 12 For Buhl Budget

BUHL — Buhl school district trustees have set May 12 as the date for the public hearing on the budget for the 1969-70 school year. The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the high school.

The budget, which will top the $800,000 mark, reflects the increase in state and county apportionment for the district as provided by the last session of the Idaho legislature.

The biggest increase in the proposed budget is in the area of teachers' salaries due to the emphasis placed on this item during the legislative session.

Local school trustees were not obligated in the appropriation to establish a uniform salary increase for all teachers.

In a revised salary schedule approved by the trustees, increases from $500 at the lowest level to a high of $900 were provided. The average increase for all teachers was approximately $700.

A teacher with two years of training would start at $4,950 and at the end of the fifth year would advance to $5,150. A three-year teacher would start at $5,300 and advance to $5,550 at the end of the fifth year.

Teachers holding a bachelor's degree would begin at $5,800 and over a 15-year period would advance to $6,850. A teacher with a bachelor's degree plus 15 hours of study would start at $5,900 and in 15 years advance to $6,950. Teachers with master's degrees would begin at $6,800 and advance to $7,400 after 15 years.

In addition to the base salary schedule, the Buhl trustees have provided an additional head family-salipend of $200 annually for those who qualify. The new salary schedule also provides for payment of the teachers' share of retirement by the individual teacher. In the past year the Buhl school district paid the teachers' retirement share from district funds.

All non-certified school district employees received an increase of $25 to $35 per month, depending upon the job classification.

The 1969-70 school district budget is based upon an assessed valuation in the district of $9,500,000, an increase of over $350,000. The state and county apportionment increase for the Buhl School district amounts to $70,493. The estimated increase from county taxes based on the increased assessed valuation amounts to $11,788.

The mill levy in the proposed budget is 22.5 mills for general operating expenses and eight mills for bond interest and redemption. School district bonds cover the high school expansion plus the Buhl Elementary School building.

Selecting your share in the Capital Fund

It is the desire of the YMCA-YWCA to make a public and enduring record of those who have subscribed in significant amounts to the Magic Valley YMCA-YWCA Capital Fund, and thereby will have played a decisive part in the success of the campaign.

The illustration below is typical of the kind of recognition now being planned. Location and design of the memorial wall will be determined by the number of names to be recognized, following completion of the campaign.

WATER FROM UPSTREAM dams, unable to hold the spring runoff, makes a scenic spectacle of Shoshone Falls. Sen. Richard High, who made an aerial inspection of the river, said the sight was "beautiful from the air," but "comes at the expense of farmers" who could use the water now being wasted in the downstream flow.

Senator Asks Action To Salvage Runoff

Development be given the opportunity to continue.
"We must examine means for state aid in financing construction projects. I have several ideas along this line which will be explored, but I can say right now that such aid cannot come from the general fund. It must come from another source."
Possible ways to provide for water, a separate page—and the elimination of the downstream waste during high water, as outlined by Sen. High, included:
(1) Construction of the Ririe and Lynn Crandall Dams upstream.
(2) Divert the excess around water recharge by running it into porous lava rock near Rexburg. This would then eventually seep back into the river downstream, or it could be pumped from the underground basin by means of wells.
"We have to save our water so it can be put to beneficial use for Idaho," he said. "We know that the State of California has a bigger organization in terms of people employed on water planning than the whole federal Bureau of Reclamation and we all know what California is working on and has in mind."
He said the 10-year moratorium on federal water project plans secured by Sen. Church and Jordan was very good, but said that, as a result, many people have slowed down in their plans to keep Idaho water in the state.
"This is a mistake," Sen. High said. "We must never stop working to have Idaho's water rights right here."
He praised the members of the state legislature in appropriating money which permitted organization of a board to confer with the Federal Land Law Review Commission, which plan sweeping changes in administration of federal lands within the various States.
"More than 60 per cent of the land in Idaho is federally owned," the Senator said, and he added that water is really not much good unless we have the land to put it on.
But it is the state's proposed reclamation projects on

Ministers Adopt Policy On Marriage

BUHL—A series of articles on preparation for marriage were adopted by the Buhl Ministerial Association when members met at the First Christian church with the Rev. Floyd Austin, chairman.
The articles have been written by various members of the ministerial association.
The following resolution was adopted by the group: "The members of the Buhl Ministerial Association, concerned about the number of marriage failures in our society, agree to the necessity of proper preparation for Christian marriage. We expect that all couples coming to us for marriage will enter into a period of marriage preparation with their pastor, and we will not schedule a date for a wedding until arrangements have been made for such preparation."
In other business, it was agreed to have a series of union services on Sunday evenings during the summer. Details will be phoned at a later meeting.
Rev. Harrie York, pastor of the Christian church, will hold a vacation church school this summer. Plans of other churches will be announced later.
The next meeting will be at 8 a.m. May 6 at Wesley House, 204 La-Riv. Paul LaRue, secretary.

Softball Begins For T. F. Women

Girls' and women's softball registration began Thursday at the Harrison Park Recreation building. It will continue through May 30.
The building will be open from 9 a.m. to noon and from 4 to 6 p.m.
In the girls' division, teams are organized by grades four and up. League play will begin June 17 and end July 1. Finals and a tournament will follow. Julio Astorquia is the supervisor.
Women's softball league play will begin June 10 and games will be Friday and Saturday nights.

Lions Club Sets Annual Service Sale

An annual project of the Twin Falls Lions Club will be under way during the coming week in Twin Falls as members become salesmen for the handicapped persons of Live, Inc.
"Each year Lions Clubs in southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon make door-to-door drives to sell merchandise made by handicapped persons receiving assistance through Live, Inc."
"This is a nonprofit establishment working with the Department of Public Assistance and sponsored by area Lions Clubs. The center provides employment evaluation and a sheltered workshop for disabled persons of Idaho."
In the center, rehabilitation efforts include training in certain skills. Items made during this training are then marketed by supporting clubs, with funds turned for the purchase of additional material for the workshop.
Lions Club members going door-to-door May 5 through 9 will present identification. Residents are urged to ask for such identification before making a contribution or purchasing an item offered for sale.

String Players Perform in T.F.

More than 100 string players in the Twin Falls school system participated in the annual Orchestra Night at the high school gymnasium.
Directors are Det. Slaughter, high school; Jud Pettigrove, O'Leary and Stuart Junior High Schools, and Jane Ellen Shew, elementary schools.
The elementary orchestras from Bicket, Harrison, Lincoln, Morningside and Washington combined to play the opening numbers, with the Stuart and O'Leary seventh grade groups each playing two numbers.
Others groups appearing were O'Leary eighth grade orchestra and the Stuart eighth and ninth grade group which was combined with the O'Leary ninth grade. The high school string orchestra concluded the program.

Slugs, Beer Can Rings Are Being Used In Meters

Twin Falls police reported Thursday slugs and aluminum beer can rings are being used in city parking meters and Times-News newspaper dispensers.
Often parking meters and the newspaper racks become jammed and need repair, and it was reported the use of this "fake money" is on the increase.
"Officials said the violators can be charged with a misdemeanor and police are being ordered to watch for violations and investigate cases where these 'fake coins' have been used."

Trees, Shrubbery Planted At T.F. Cascade Park

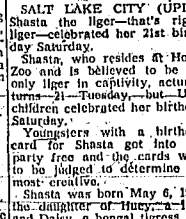

Trees and shrubbery were planted at Cascade Park Friday, according to Howard Johnson, parks superintendent.
He said the city parks department has completed installation of the park-sprinkling system, and the grass will be seeded early next week, he said.
Mr. Johnson said all playground equipment has been installed except for the horses on the swing, which he said will be done later.
The parks superintendent said he plans to keep one man at the park most of the time to act as a caretaker and watchman.

ready authorized by Congress and this will not include any new starts.
"In addition to this, we have the devastating interest rates which go into effect on payback projects July 1 and which will hit 4.875 per cent. Just two years ago this rate was three per cent. These new high interest rates make half of the planned projects not feasible."

Czechs Arrest 1,255 In Revolt Try

PRAGUE (UPI)—The mass arrest of 1,255 persons in Moravia and Bohemia earlier this week may mean Czechoslovakia's new regime smashed an attempt at armed revolt, political observers said.
The Czechoslovak news agency CTK said police broke 524 persons and detained 141 of them on criminal charges, "mostly violence and theft."
"Quantities of stolen goods were recovered, including 24 motor vehicles, 10 firearms, building materials and other goods," the report said.
CTK quoted Czechoslovak public security headquarters.
Last Wednesday Interior Minister Josef Groesser said officials in southern Moravia had uncovered "an illegal conspiratorial organization" dealing weapons allegedly for use against Soviet occupation troops.
The plotters had "a political program and relations with military circles," Groesser said, adding that "in the near future it will be possible to start prosecution."
Groesser said weapons that had increased in the last four or five months. Four machine guns, 14 automatic pistols, 23 rifles and 43 other hand weapons had been stolen in the Czech region, he said.
In January and February alone two machine guns, 76 automatic pistols, 75 other handguns, a rifle, and 1,672

Filer Lists Band, Chorus New Officers

FILER—Recipients of special awards and new officers for the school chorus of the Filer High School were announced at the close of the annual awards concert Friday night in the school auditorium.
Ronald Clarke is the new president of the band. Connie Lohr is vice president; Lorrie Messner, secretary, and Janice Shepley, treasurer.
Barbara Schaefer is drum major and Judy Kendrick is lead twirler. Other twirlers are Connie Lohr, Carol Tidwell and Donna Rae Belcher. Randy Matlock is outgoing president, named the new officers.
Cathy McCandless is the new chorus president and will be assisted by Barbara Gilling, vice president, Katie Fienor, secretary, treasurer, and Kathy Lassen, point secretary. Susan Fienor, past president announced the new officers.
Richard Saunders, Music Director at the School, announced Christi Reed as winner of the special accompanist award; Susan Messner, the choral award; Everett Messner, the John Phillips Sousa award, and Becky Ulrich, most valuable musician award.
The concert featured band and chorus numbers. Soloists were a trio Vincent, Lynn Ramseyer, Susan Fienor, Cathy McCandless and Chris Ann. Special selections were by the clarinet and saxophone quartets and a vocal trio. The "Tijuana Trash" presented several selections.
Grand finale of the evening was the rendition of "Ain't a Matter" by the combined chorus and band with one verse sung by the entire senior graduation class.

Mini-Cassia Conservation Tour Slated

RUPERT. — The second annual Mini-Cassia Conservation Tour is scheduled for May 13 and 14 at Howell Canyon, about three miles below the Pomello ski area.

The tour is open to all school children from the Cassia and Mimioka schools.

Participants are expected to participate in the conservation education tour sponsored jointly by the schools, federal, state and county conservation agencies.

Providing an opportunity to make use of an outdoor laboratory for learning about natural resources and their relationship to man is the purpose of the excursion.

County Extension Agent, soils, Gary Post, work unit conservator, Burley Soil Conservation Service, and Terry Guiley, chief of reservoir operations, Burley Bureau of Reclamation watershed; and Dan Poppleton, district conservation officer, Idaho Fish and Game Department, Rupert, and John Hill, refuge manager, Mimioka Wildlife Refuge, wildlife education, Boise-Idaho-Fish and Game Department, recreation, and Lewis Martindale, Burley area manager, BLM, Gary Allen, timber project staff, Sawtooth National Forest, Twin Falls, and Robert Brock, Burley area manager, BLM, Fire Control.

The initial Mini-Cassia Conservation Tour was conducted last year.

READING IS NO PROBLEM for young Pat Donnelly, but it might have been. Pat, now 5-years-old, wears glasses and, with the glasses, has perfect vision. His mother, Mrs. Robert L. Donnelly, a volunteer in the coming amblyopia and hearing clinics, says his problem was caught in a clinic similar to the one opening in Twin Falls Monday. The clinic is free to pre-school children of Twin Falls.

Free Sight And Hearing Clinic To Start Monday At Y Building

The time to catch and correct sight and hearing defects in children is before they enroll in kindergarten.

With this in mind, pre-school children of Twin Falls and vicinity are not only invited, but urged to attend testing clinics beginning Monday in the Y-WCA Building on Elizabeth Boulevard, Twin Falls.

The clinics, free to all children, are for amblyopia and hearing tests. Sponsors are Delta Gamma Alumnae and the Junior Club of amblyopia tests, and the Welcome-News-Women's Club for hearing examinations.

The clinics open each day at 9 a.m. and continue until noon, opening again at 1 p.m. and continuing until 4 p.m. Children may be brought in at any time without making appointments.

Dates for the clinics are May 5 through May 9 and May 12 through 16. Children 3, 4 and 5 years old will be screened and tested for amblyopia while hearing tests will be for those 4 and 5 years old.

Children of these ages do not know when their sight or hearing is below standard, and parents who have been closely involved with the child throughout his life also have difficulty detecting early problems.

Because of this, and the damage that can be done by letting defects go unchecked, sponsoring organizations say some pre-school testing is vital.

This is the first time this type of clinic has been held in Twin Falls and sponsoring organizations are anticipating two weeks of steady testing.

Among volunteers who will be testing the children is Mrs. Robert Donnelly.

She has been interested in such tests since her own son, Pat, now 5 years old, was tested in a similar clinic and found to have amblyopia or lazy eye.

While the discovery of Pat's problem came too late for complete correction, he does have perfect vision with the use of glasses, which he will undoubtedly wear throughout his life.

Mrs. Donnelly said her son

Curb, Gutter Bids Are On City Agenda

The authorization for invitation of bids for construction of curb, gutters and sidewalks on Falls Avenue between Harrison Street and Washington Street is expected to be given by the Twin Falls City Council Monday.

The regular meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall.

The section of Falls Avenue to be under discussion borders the CSI campus on the south and has just recently been paved.

A report on the bid opening for construction of an addition to the Airport Administration building. The bids were opened Friday.

Other business will include the signing of three proclamations by Mayor Egon Kroll. Mottos will be: "American War Mothers Carnation Day," May 21, and "Salvation Army Week," May 12.

Building permits and license applications already approved by department heads, will be considered by the council.

SUITE RANSACKED

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—A thief ransacked the hotel suite of Barry Henschel, one of the world's richest men, but got only $3,300 in loot, detectives said Saturday.

The burglar's wife said a crocodile skin jewelry box had been slashed open but only four pieces of jewelry and some cash were taken Friday.

School Food Association Meets In T.F.

The last meeting of the Idaho School Food Service Association for this school year was held in the Lincoln School, Twin Falls, reports Mrs. Warren Strong, who presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Elva Shank, Buhl, read a poem and Mrs. Millie Conroy, Twin Falls, called the roll. Mrs. Bertha Glick, Twin Falls, reported on a supervisor's meeting held recently in Glenns Ferry.

Mrs. Glick also introduced Mrs. Ruth Silmer who will be working with the hot lunch program and taking over some of the duties formerly executed by Arthur Wright, Boise.

3 Men Held On Burglary Charge

GOODING — Three men are being held in the Gooding county jail pending a hearing on charges of first degree burglary in connection with the theft of a change machine.

Deputy Sheriff LeRoy Hays arrested Kenneth Schmoee, 21, California, and Jackie Johnston, 21, in Bliss Thursday night and a third man, John Bennett, was arrested in Wendell by Sheriff Earl Brown and Wendell Police Chief Dale Bunn, all on the same charge.

Sheriff's officers said a change machine valued at $130 and containing about $20 in quarters and nickels was taken from the Valley Laundromat, owned by Dale Glauser, Hagerman, earlier in the week.

Play Given

RICHFIELD — Two performances of the senior class play, "Take Three Girls," was presented at the high school last week.

Mrs. James Thomas and Mrs. Charles Buttene, directors, were presented appreciation gifts by Blaine Sorenson, a member of the cast. Eleven members of the senior class took parts in the play.

Job Corpsmen Ordered Jailed For Assault

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Two Job Corps youths, charged with robbing a Salt Lake City man, have been sentenced on a reduced charge of assault and battery.

David Rosendo Barrago, 20, Walsenburg, Colo., and Phillip Dale Paxton, 18, Valentine, Neb., pleaded guilty to the reduced charge before City Judge Melvin Morris.

Morris sentenced the pair to six months imprisonment, fined each $100 and ordered the youths to make $150 restitution.

Barrago and Paxton were charged in connection with the robbery of Gene Renck, 28, last February. Renck said two youths stabbed him several times before robbing him.

The pair will be released to the Job Corps after serving their prison sentences.

TIMES-NEWS PUBLIC FORUM—VOICE OF THE READER

T. F. Police Chief Pens Reply To Policy Critic

Editor, Times-News: This is in answer to a letter by Betty Theilman. I do not believe in answering any and all letters or opinions critical of the Police Department. Everyone is entitled to his opinion, and this is not meant to justify any action taken or not taken by this Department.

The reason for this letter is that Betty Theilman's letter was such an "obnoxious" attempt to "get even" for the arrest of a relative for possession of fireworks.

This was the second violation for this individual and involved a large quantity of fireworks on both occasions, both dangerous fireworks and safe fireworks.

She asks which is worse for the children to have fireworks or drugs. I do not decide this. There is a law against either with evidence of a violation of either law there will be a prosecution.

However, I can assure that people who have had their storm doors blown out by illegally sold fireworks would have a definite opinion as to which was worse. Those who might have property destroyed would also have some personal feelings on the matter.

Sensitivity Groups Said Related To Brainwashing

Editor, Times-News: I imagine the I-group sensitivity training, indulged in by Mr. LaRue and other adults in the community, is related to the brainwashing that was done to the prisoners of war in the Communist prison camps.

It is the same process of mental conditioning that must be done to all Americans to prepare them for the day when Communism takes over.

Edward Hunter in his book "Brainwashing: From Pavlov to Pervers" states that the strongest defense that the prisoners of war had to resist the Communist brainwashing was their faith in God and their comrades. Nevertheless, they were subjected to endless hours, days and months of interrogation to force them to confess their sins against the Communist State.

Those who had a deep faith in God never broke, but many were forced to admit, and even came to believe themselves, sins they had never even committed. The punishment was always more severe to those who did not admit anything than to those who had actually committed espionage. The idea was to break down the moral virtues and ruggedness so they could be controlled.

Edward Hunter received testimony from hundreds of returned prisoners of war, and every one of them who was able to withstand the persecutions and stand faithful to America had that necessary faith in God.

Gary Allen in "Hate Therapy—Sensitivity Training for Planned Change," tells that group pressure is a way to put up feelings and takes a form of revenge, sadism, and masochism.

When the Russian Communists

Valley Woman Criticized For Being Prejudiced

Editor, Times-News: After several readings of Mrs. Robinson's reply to the articles of the Hagerman school system, I was moved to reply to her. I felt that the way she attacked said critics, put her on much the same level as they. Her editorial appealed to the public's moves and/or folkways, but in a near childish fashion.

Myrtle, graduate of Hagerman High School (class of 1928), is not criticizing her personal views, but instead saying she should follow a more grown-up course of action.

It is my personal belief that no matter which side of the fence a person may be on, bias and prejudice should be left out of anything to do with the foundation of our American society as our public schools.

HENRI LEMOYNE (Twin Falls)

Pro-ABM Stance Urged On Senses, Jordan, Church

Editor, Times-News: This country has never been attacked from without. Reason to it, has always maintained a superior arsenal. As one therefore, has dared to attack us.

Now, Mr. Editor, would you or I provoke a fight with Caslow Gray or Sonny Liston? I doubt it.

America will probably never be attacked if we have the Safeguard ABM System. Without it, we might possibly be unprotected.

In a speech before the Associated General Contractors of America March 17, Sen. Jordan, Jackson, D.Wash., a man who has served 17 years in the House and 17 years in the Senate, said that all our weapons of experience in defense matters, said, "There is only one safe way to negotiate with Moscow. That is, to have strong positions to bargain from."

All the double talk about the needs here at home and the position that is to be becoming obsolete or ineffective should not deceive us. Sen. Jackson says "It would make no sense to leave this country naked" to enemy missile attack.

I am proud that over the years I have supported my President whether he was a Democrat or a Republican in the critical decision to safeguard the national defense.

Most of us, whether Republicans or Democrats are first of all Americans, or aren't we? This letter is written with the fervent hope that each American who reads it will write both Sen. Jordan and Sen. Church, U. S. Senate Building, Washington, D. C., urging them to vote for the ABM Safeguard.

Sen. Jordan says he will vote for the Safeguard. But how will Sen. Church vote? The people of Idaho who voted for the latter should insist that he not desert Sen. Jordan's vote. Let's watch and see. But write, write today, for a vote will be taken in the next few days.

Housing Unit Occupants Offered Simple Solution

Editor, Times-News: I noticed on the front page of Friday's Times-News (April 25), that the executive director of the Housing Authority has a problem. How much heat for all the tenants at the housing units because of the closing of the Kimberly Weather Station would, that all our problems could be so small!

I have no statement to make as to the merits of closing the Weather Station, but if this really does deprive the tenants of the main reason for keeping the station open, then it should be closed.

The purchase and installation of a low-cost thermometer which will register the highest and lowest temperature for the day would be the simple solution to this problem. I'm sure there are many people who are capable of reading a thermometer who live in the housing units and would be glad for this simple change.

We all hate to pay taxes, and if this represents the values we get for our tax dollars we are being cheated.

I expect there are many good reasons for keeping the weather station open but this argument has no merit whatsoever. Any student in junior or senior high school could do the work required to compute the degrees days mentioned by spending less than five minutes a day. This is bureaucracy in its finest.

WAYNE BARNBY (Twin Falls)

Critic Advised To Quit Harassment Of Police

Editor, Times-News: It seems that someone should come to the defense of the Twin Falls Police Department.

In answer to Mrs. Betty Theilman's letter of Sunday, April 27, she states that the police department classified the drugs as misdemeanors.

Use of Transport? What was the charge?

In the first place, ignorance is running rampant throughout the area and is helping a great deal in hampering our police force in law enforcement. The police do not classify laws. They only try to enforce them.

The legislative bodies make and classify laws. The courts interpret and try according to laws passed by the legislature. It is not the police's job to make them. When you vote for a man because you think he is nice person remember you may be the one who is passing the statutes—you think are stupid.

Much to the dismay of our police officers, many of our citizens are being "loose" by our courts, either outright or on probation, so that they may try again. This is our fault, yours and mine, not our police force.

RAY T. CRANDAL (Twin Falls)

Saving Said Poor Excuse For Not Using The ABM

When we are spending approximately $6 billion a year on defense, economy is a lame excuse for not going ahead with deployment of the ABM (antiballistic missile system).

A five per cent increase in defense costs to secure retaliatory ability is a small price when without this system we may well be inviting in the near future, the Soviet ultimatum of "surrender or perish."

The argument is advanced even by some conservatives, that ABM funds will be wasted because the Soviets can, at will, place suitcase size nuclear bombs in any city or factory in the country. Therefore, the argument goes, there is no need for anti-missile defenses, for when and if the Communists attack us, they will not need missiles but will simply use "suitcases."

This argument completely misses the point. Whether we are attacked by missiles or "suitcases" the point is we must at all costs, maintain, keep intact, the ability to retaliate, against the attacker.

JOSEPH K. STUMPH JR. (Twin Falls)

Bliss Voters Urged To Support Local Schools

We in the Bliss community now have an opportunity to demonstrate to our younger generation our belief in the American way. Since our community voted to keep our schools at Bliss, we need to unite in our efforts to continue the necessary four mill levy in our school district.

The four mills being asked for is not a raise! You have no intention to raise taxes in the past several years.

Also within the next three years the bonded indebtedness on the gymnasium at Bliss will be paid off and our mill levy will automatically decrease by three mills.

Many people do not understand that one mill equals $1 per $100 assessed valuation, and presently our assessed valuation equals 13 1/2% of actual property value.

If this four mill levy is not passed and our high school is moved, farmers, ranchers, businessmen and home owners in our community will find their various properties less desirable to prospective buyers.

Get out on May 5 and support your school by voting yes to continue our mill levy.

CHARLENE STROUD, Sec. Citizens for Bliss Community (Bliss)

Vietnam Conflict Deemed 'Black Mark' Against U.S.

Editor, Times-News: The way the war in Vietnam is being conducted is a shame to America, a black mark on our Christian heritage. Disrespect and division in America, continues to increase because our continued reason for being in Vietnam, namely "to fight Communism," is so obviously phony.

Through alliances and trade with Communist nations we America are supplying approximately 80 per cent of the war materials with which the Communist bloc is fighting us.

The death of thousands of American as well as the death of thousands of innocent Vietnamese women and children, is cold blooded murder which I believe, was not paid at the feet of concealed traitors in our own government.

To the degree that every American citizen is immersed in Communist bloc is fighting us. To the degree that every American citizen is immersed in Communist bloc is fighting us. To the degree that every American citizen is immersed in Communist bloc is fighting us.

Individuals responsible for the actions of our government, and cannot therefore, escape some responsibility for the Vietnam atrocity.

I have been told by a reliable source of the State Department's policy position on Vietnam, wherein, admittedly, we have no intention of winning this war. This being the case, there is no reason for us being there. We should, and must, go all out or get out! Any other course leaves us unworthy of the blessings of God who made us great when we were good, and when we had the courage of our convictions.

My husband served in Korea when he was young and innocent. I thank God he is not in Viet Nam today, when he would be forced to fight, not for America, but against her. I might encourage him, as others are doing, to go to Viet Nam rather than go to Vietnam and risk his salvation in a politician's no-

Nixon, Byrnes Chat On Louisville Trip

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—President Nixon, in a "sweetest" song, so it played baritone voice, stopped off in Louisville for a "Happy Birthday" to elder statesman F. Byrnes before flying to Louisville for the derby day.

Byrnes, a former governor of South Carolina and one of the most versatile men in American politics, marked his 80th birthday and his 63rd wedding anniversary Friday, but the big celebration was delayed until Nixon's visit.

After talking with Byrnes and his wife, Maude, for 50 minutes in Byrnes' Columbia home, the President and Byrnes stepped onto the front porch of the white brick dwelling to the cheers of hundreds of friends and neighbors.

The University of South Carolina band struck up "Happy Birthday" and the President, in a booming baritone, led the singing of "Happy Birthday, dear governor."

Nixon then sang wad to the band to play "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," a song that Byrnes confessed that he used to sing to his wife on each wedding anniversary "when I was vain enough to think that I could sing."

The band, however, didn't have the music for the "Anniversary Waltz" instead.

Then Nixon, holding Byrnes by the arm, said he asked the couple the secret of their long marriage and whether they had argued. The President said Mrs. Byrnes had "replied": "Yes, we have a rule that before the day ends we kiss and make up."

While the President was talking, the white-haired 87-year-old woman leaned over and kissed her husband on the cheek.

The chief executive paid high tribute to Byrnes, who during his career served as secretary of state, head of the Office of Economic Stabilization, director of the Office of Economic Stabilization, and as chief aide to Franklin D. Roosevelt—a role that earned him the title of "assistant president."

Nixon was accompanied on the visit by his wife, Pat, and members of the South Carolina and Kentucky congressional delegations.

A crowd of about 4,000 tumbled out to meet Nixon at the Columbia airport and other thousands lined the route of his two-mile motorcade to Byrnes' home.

Convict Killed After Wild Ride With Kidnaped State Patrolman

DENVER, Tex. (UPI)—An ex-convict, Robert Samuel Dent, 22, who "would not be taken alive," was cut down by a shotgun-blast in the face and pistol shots in the arm.

His wife of one year, Ila Faye, 21, was captured and Crone was freed unharmed.

Dent, released just two weeks ago from Angola State Prison in Louisiana after serving a term for burglary, told lawmen in a running-radio-conversation from Crone's squad car that he wanted to see his children and was desperate.

"I want 10 or 15 minutes to talk to my kids and love them and I don't think they'll be ... seeing us again." Dent told Safety agreed to let the mantham's 15-minute head start if he and his pretty wife, officers, and his wife see the two small children in a small white house. "I'll keep the bargain," Dent said in agreeing with the deal.

... because they had "nothing to live for," kidnaped a Texas highway patrolman Friday and led hundreds of lawmen on a six-hour chase that ended when officers killed the gunman from an ambush.

... "I don't know why they were so desperate. They said they had nothing to live for," said Patrolman Kenneth Crone, 27, who was handcuffed and held captive during the high speed chase across rainy southeast Texas.

RESERVING SPACE in her suitcase for trophy she hopes to bring home from National Distributive Education Clubs of America competition is Mrs. Phyllis Wagner-Jerome, Robert Becker, left, Alison Wilson and Mrs. Wagner are attending the DECA National Leadership Conference May 3-10 in Atlantic City, N. J. The two men are mid-management instructors at the College of Southern Idaho; and Mrs. Wagner is a second-year mid-management student. She won a first place trophy in national competition last year.

CSI Trio Attending National Conference

Three representatives of the College of Southern Idaho are attending a week-long conference of the National Leadership Conference of Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) in Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. Phyllis-Wagner, Jerome, a sophomore mid-management student, is representing CSI and the state in national training manual competition. She won first place last year in national individual marketing improvement, and won three first place trophies in radio commercial, training manual and speech, at the state convention this year.

Accompanying Mrs. Wagner are Robert Becker, CSI mid-management instructor.

The delegation left Saturday morning and will return to Twin Falls May 10.

While in the eastern United States, the local group will meet with Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, at a luncheon in Washington, D. C.

The high school DECA conference is being held in conjunction with leadership conference. About 8,000 students are attending.

Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Linda Guthrie, former CSI student, are the only Idaho DECA members ever to have placed in national competition. Mrs. Guthrie received her trophy in 1967.

Mrs. Wagner is local DECA secretary, state DECA chairman, and CSI student body treasurer.

Directors Of Contractors' Group Named

Bob Brehm and Rufus Turner were elected to the board of directors when the Building Contractors of Magic Valley Association met recently at the Holiday Inn.

A parade of homes was discussed and it was decided that members of the association will build six homes and have open house to acquaint the public with new ideas in home construction.

Joe Lavalle and Alex Brehm discussed the availability of financing for new home construction.

Bob Johnson, a representative of U. S. Plywood, gave a program on plywood, grading and types.

The membership of the association is now 35. The group meets the first Thursday of each month.

'No Booze!'

UX BRIDGE, England (UPI) — Shane the German shepherd has been ordered to go on the wagon.

Shane belongs to Sean O'Shea who runs the White Horse Pub. She's 14 months old, and has been drinking stout, courtesy of the customers, for almost a year.

But now O'Shea has rung up a sign: "No more beer for the dog."

The reason: "Her hands over-glazed eyes, lack of energy, fragile temper."

"She was as miserable as sin in the morning, moping about the place," O'Shea said.

Which is understandable. Shane consumed an average of eight pints of the stout nightly.

Highway Toll Climbs To 73

NAMPA (UPI)—Idaho's highway traffic death toll climbed to 73 Saturday with the death of 35-year-old Lauren B. Nichols of 77 on this same date a year ago.

Nampa. The victim perished in a single-car crash on Interstate 80 North early Saturday morning. The State Police said a tire blew out on his car and it rolled over. The victim's wife, Mary, was hospitalized.

The 73 deaths compared with 77 on this same date a year ago.

Top-Ranking Democratic Senators Differ On Need For ABM System

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two senior Democrats on the Senate Armed Services Committee clashed Saturday on the need for an antiballistic missile system, disagreeing sharply over estimates of Soviet power and the vulnerability of the U.S. nuclear strike force.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., charged in a St. Louis speech that the Defense Department had changed its estimates of Soviet offensive strength to build a case for the ABM. He said the ABM would be "the beginning of a magnum line of defense holes in the ground philosophy which in turn could lead us to disaster."

Symington sits to Stennis

He said the safeguard ABM was needed to block a Soviet big-missile strategy designed to "effray" blackmail of the end, destroy."

But Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., charged in a St. Louis speech that the Defense Department had changed its estimates of Soviet offensive strength to build a case for the ABM. He said the ABM would be "the beginning of a magnum line of defense holes in the ground philosophy which in turn could lead us to disaster."

Symington sits to Stennis

right during secret deliberations under the crystal chandeliers in the committee's cloistered meeting room in the old Senate office building. Both have access to classified material that the ordinary American is prohibited from seeing. But the ex-Mississippi judge and the former Air Force secretary have come to opposite conclusions on the ABM and a host of other national security issues in the past year.

Symington charged that the Pentagon upgraded the Russian SS9 missile from a first-strike to a second strike weapon in an effort to establish a case for this new (ABM) development.

He told St. Louis' Backstoppers Club that the committee only last year was advised that the SS9 was comparable to Titan II liquid fuel missiles the United States abandoned a decade ago. But now, he said, the Pentagon says they pack a punch of 20 to 25 megatons, enough to knock out hardened missile silos.

Stennis acknowledged that changes in estimates of Soviet strength have been made in recent months, but he said this occurs all the time.

Members of the new administration started talking about the SS9, he said. "It flared up briefly (as a new threat), then they discounted it and then it steadily developed what they were doing. It's always speculative with these weapons at first, when they're being put up. But when they start becoming a reality, they become more formidable."

The same is true of Russian submarine development, the chairman said. Whereas the Pentagon in past years has minimized the threat to the U.S. missile fleet, the new administration has insisted that its vulnerability may be in question in the future.

"The submarine threat is coming up more clearly, more formidable," he told UPI.

Symington said the answer to the question of the balance of terror was not the ABM but the development of more attack submarines, more air sunintercept development so as to insure that, if we are attacked, our missiles will be able to penetrate and destroy any aggressor."

Stennis, however, said he was a "little surprised" that opponents of the ABM and those calling for reductions in the Pentagon budget were demanding even more expensive offensive weapons.

"We have a formidable strength now," he said. "We are not running behind them in offensive strength. We are well fixed now."

Murphy To Outline 'Ground Rules' For Paying Fire Bills

BOISE (UPI)—Acting Gov. Jack Murphy told a news conference Friday he will fly to Washington, D.C., next week to set up "ground rules" for negotiating the state's firefighting bills of 1966-67 with the federal government.

Murphy will also make an attempt to save the Material Testing Reactor at the Atomic Energy Commission's National Reactor Testing Station near Idaho Falls. The MTR program at the station will be unfunded, Murphy told the news conference, as of March 1970. He will attempt to get the $1.6 million to keep the program active.

Tuesday, Murphy will meet with Gen. George Lincoln of the Office of Preparedness, efforts to establish "forms" as to how Idaho will proceed to settle the fire bills with the U.S. Forest Service, the Bureau of the Budget, the Bureau of Land Management and the OEP.

Other members of the forest fire bill negotiating team, appointed by Murphy at the construction of the 40th Idaho Legislature, are Sen. Ray Rigby, D-Rexburg, and Rep. William E. Taylor, R-Twin Falls.

The lieutenant governor said

(the first attempt he will make is to try and persuade Lincoln to settle the dispute over the $865,000 that Idaho received from the OEP under provisions of the state's fire bill declaration.)

Murphy maintains that some $300,000 of this amount has been "distracted" by federal government auditors because Idaho tried to pay federal firefighting bills with the funds.

"This is what it was for," the lieutenant governor stated.

On Wednesday, Murphy will meet with Dr. Glenn Seaborg, head of the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Idaho congressional delegation, in an attempt to save the MTR program.

He said he had "documented" Idaho's case for saving the MTR, including a list of all the major universities in the West that wish to participate in programs at the Idaho Falls area installation.

On another topic, the acting governor also said that the Rocky Mountain Federation of States "leaves a lot to be desired." He said it comes up with elaborate plans but very few are ever executed.

Solons To Report On Unsafe Washers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two Democratic congressmen will hold a news conference Tuesday in which they will offer evidence that some automatic washing machines contaminate the clothes they are supposed to clean.

Also contributing to the alleged bacterial contamination, say the lawmakers, are cold water laundry detergents which the manufacturers claim "germproof" clothes.

Reps. John Dingell, Mich., and James C.orman, Calif., said in a statement:

"The press conference will deal with the contamination by pathogens and other bacteria of clothing laundered in conventional automatic washing machines. This has been found by the United States Department of Agriculture to result in the spread of bacterial infection."

Dingell and Corman blamed the problem on "faulty design of washing machines" and the advertising claims by the cold water detergent manufacturers.

At the news conference, the congressmen said they will show photographic blowups of bacterial growths, diagrams of washing machine design and samples of deceptive advertising.

They also will comment on "the gravity of the situation" and announce steps they are taking to bring about congressional action and draw public attention to the problem.

Dingell is chairman and Corman is a member of the House Small Business Subcommittee on regulatory agencies. They indicated the subcommittee would pursue the matter.

Sen. Church Comments Move For Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senator Frank Church, D-Idaho, said that the tax reforms proposed by the Nixon administration were welcome steps in the right direction, but emphasized that far more should be done to correct injustices in the tax laws.

"What is needed is nothing less than a general revision of the U.S. Tax Code, which now fills 1,200 pages and has not been updated since 1954," Sen. Church said.

Church said the administration's proposed limit on tax preferences, designed to prevent wealthy taxpayers from excluding more than 40 percent of their income from the tax base, would not do enough to guarantee fair distribution of the tax burden.

Golden Spike Limited Heads For Utah Ceremony

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 13-car Golden Spike Centennial Limited moved down Grand Central Terminal's track 34 at 8:11 a.m. Saturday, 20 minutes behind schedule — en route to Utah and a ceremony marking the 100th anniversary of the nation's first transcontinental railroad.

Aboard were about 80 railroad buffs who had paid $995 each for the privilege of a leisurely round trip—plus hotel accommodations — to Promontory Summit, Utah, where on May 10 the driving of the golden spike that signaled the binding of a continent by steel rails in 1869 will be re-enacted.

It was at Promontory Summit, in the Utah desert, 63 miles northeast of Ogden, that Leland Stanford, president of the Central Pacific Railroad, swung a sledge hammer at a golden spike, to link the Union Pacific Railway and signal the completion of a transcontinental railroad.

The air-conditioned train, painted light blue with the legend 1869-1969 and a spike painted in gold, has five coaches, two dining cars, three baggage cars, two observation cars, and a crew car. Beginning at Harmon, N.Y., it will be powered by a steam engine.

Robert Mense, a Hamilton, Ohio, insurance agent, who was making the trip with his wife, said "I've been a railroad buff since I was seven years old," and admitted to logging more than 70,000 miles by rail in the past 7 years.

For the occasion, he wore a white jacket with the insignia of the Cincinnati Railroad Club.

Nixon To Continue Aid To Antioch Despite Dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration is not cutting off any of the more than $1 million in federal aid given annually to Antioch College, even though no white students there are enrolled in a black studies program described by its director as "only relevant to black studies."

The administration's decision not to invoke the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibits federal support for segregated colleges, apparently was based in part on the fact that none of about 1,700 students on the Yellow Springs, Ohio, campus had sought admission to the Afro-American Studies Institute.

Leon E. Panetta, director of the Office of Civil Rights in the Department of Education and welfare, said in a news conference Friday that "we objected to the director's statement that (the program) should only be open to black students."

But, he continued, since "no white student had ever applied" and since some of Antioch's 120 Negro students had been denied admission on grounds that it would not be relevant for them, there was no evidence of racial discrimination.

"Our basic concern is not whether we condone or condemn black studies programs but whether they discriminate on the basis of race, color or national origin," said Panetta. "But if we should determine that (an applicant's acceptance) is always based on race, we would object to that."

Panetta made it clear the Antioch decision was not intended to outline any broad administration policy for dealing with possible discrimination in black studies programs, which have been demanded in the last year at schools across the nation.

But he admitted that various schools, including six colleges and universities that had asked the government for advice on the question of black studies, had been watching the Antioch case closely.

Influential Senators Stir Speculation On Viet Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Either President Nixon is on the brink of announcing the long-delayed unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam, or some antiwar Republican senators are staking out an all-out assault on the chief executive's position.

The trial balloons are in the air. Within a 24-hour period the antiwar Republican senators are expected to have spoken on the need for a troop pullout.

The key Democrats who virtually hounded President Lyndon B. Johnson out of office on almost the same issue have remained silent.

Has Nixon given the Republican senators a signal?

On Thursday, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., chair of the Senate GOP and senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for the start of troop withdrawals "without delay."

Less than 24 hours later, Sen. Frank Church, R-Idaho, the assistant Senate Republican leader, said in a speech at Pittsburgh: "I urge the withdrawal of all substantial number of American troops from Vietnam."

And in Portland, Ore., freshman Sen. Robert Packwood said they are "insatiable" that Nixon already has made the decision to withdraw American fighting forces from Vietnam.

The obituary of the Vietnam military, Aiken, Scott and Packwood are not considered purchased doves, although they are more closely aligned with that species than with the hawks. What is striking is that all three chose the same time to speak out.

Aiken, an independent member, said he told the White House several hours in advance that he would make his speech—the first assessment among Republicans on Nixon's Vietnam position. This may well be true, but Scott, desperately trying to be loyal to a President more conservative than he is, clipped in Friday night with his plan for a "substantial" withdrawal of American troops.

There was no indication whether Scott, who attends weekly meetings with Nixon at the White House, informed the executive branch of his speech to the University of Pittsburgh alumni association.

National Music Week Begins; Outstanding Programs Slated

By NORMA HERZINGER

Magic Valley residents are asked to "think music" during the month of May as the 48th annual National Music Week officially gets under way today.

"Music Enriches Life" is the theme for the special observance set from May 4 to 11, and, under the capable leadership of Mrs. C. R. (Irene) Fox, local chairman and member of the Twin Falls Music Club, outstanding programs have been scheduled for the entire month of May. To coincide with the national observance, many organizations are dedicating their May programs to National Music Week to create a better understanding and appreciation of the value of music in the community.

The National Federation of Music Clubs, a non-profit organization dedicated to the advancement of music, has sponsored National Music Week since 1939, although the first observance was May 4 through 10, 1924. The Twin Falls Music Club is affiliated with the NFMC.

The local calendar of events scheduled includes:

May 6—Concert by the Alroten of Note, the official United States Air Force Dance Band, at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center.

May 8—Grand Council Fire and Blue Bird Fly-Up at 7:30 p.m. at the Twin Falls High School Gymnasium.

May 9—The annual O'Leary Junior High School Talent Show at 8 p.m. at the school auditorium.

May 15—Pops Concert by the Twin Falls High School Symphony Band at 8 p.m. at the CSI Fine Arts Center.

May 16—Twin Falls High School Wind Ensemble to perform at the elementary schools.

May 21—Band Night set for 8 p.m. at the Twin Falls High School Gymnasium, with 400 students, grades 7 through 12, participating.

May 22—Festival of Chords at 8 p.m. at the CSI Fine Arts Center, with all grades, elementary through high school, participating.

The Symphonietta performed at the elementary schools April 30, giving half hour programs in honor of National Music Week, and May 1, 200 string music students, grades 5 through 12, presented Orchestra Night at the Twin Falls High School.

Local organizations honoring Music Week during May are the Altrusa Club of Twin Falls, Business and Professional Women, Exchange Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Soroptimist Club, Twentieth Century Club, Twin Falls Order of Eastern Star Chapter No. 29, OES Magic Chapter No. 82, Bethels No. 19, 59 and 43 of International Order of Job's Daughters, United Methodist Church, Presbyterian Church, Valley Christian Church, Baptist Church, First Christian Church, Kimberly Methodist Church and the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

The Twin Falls Public Library will feature a special Music Week Book Shelf that will be of interest to many.

A CELLIST, Valeris VanLeeuwen, is one of many Twin Falls students who will be participating in musical programs during the month of May.

Happenings At ISU Include Honors

Great things have been happening at Idaho State University. Members of the Scotch Guard ROTC women's honor drill team, won three trophies at the Seattle University Invitational Military Drill Competition at Seattle and JoAnne Kelly, Seattle, has been named Miss Wool at Idaho State University for 1970.

The Scotch Guard won all available events. The ISU women won the sweepstakes first place award and were awarded two trophies for their one-a-traveling trophy and the other a permanent trophy.

Scotch Guard Drill Commander Karen Conrad, Pocatello, won the first place trophy for the best women's drill commander.

Paul Gardner, Filer, is overall commander of the Scotch Guard which serves as a drill team, service organization and women's auxiliary for the ISU Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Miss Kelly, a junior at ISU in dental hygiene, won the Miss Wool ISU contest competing in a field of eight entrants.

She will receive a sweater outfit from Block's Department Store, Pocatello and an expense paid trip to the Miss Wool of Idaho Contest in Boise Nov. 16.

The runner-up in the Miss Wool ISU contest was Donna Blakeslee, a sophomore business education major from Filer. Other finalists were Judith Hambleton, a junior dental hygiene major from Soda Springs, and Rebecca A. Fredrickson, a sophomore speech major from Pocatello.

The previous Miss Wool ISU was Karen Conrad, a senior in marketing from Pocatello.

The Miss Wool ISU competitors modeled once in shorts, once in a black dress and once in their own clothes. Choice of the winner was also based on an interview.

Breakfast chairmen include Mrs. R. A. Sims and Mrs. Donald Donahue. Table assistance members are Mrs. Claudio Eguisquila, Mrs. Eddie Rosic, Mrs. Dan Wicher and Mrs. Dick King. Refreshments will be served to the families and friends of the first communicants.

Guest speaker was Father Douglas Riffle, and reported was the parish visit by Father Nicholas Walsh who showed colored slides of the Paula Mission in Cali, Colombia.

Other officers included Mrs. Warren Saunders, associate matron; Mr. Stungers, associate patron; Mrs. Jim McArthur, secretary; Mrs. Bob Freeman, treasurer; Mrs. T. W. Richmond, conductress, and Mrs. Dan Hardin, associate conductress.

Mrs. Jim McArthur, worthy matron, presided at the meeting, with Mrs. Ada Huston as first guest, organizer for the evening.

A thank-you card was read from the George Ahlquist family. Cashwell cards were sent to Harvey Thompson and Ernest Uhery and a sympathy card to the Ahlquist family. A thank-you card was read from Mrs. Bill Watt and an Easter greeting was read from the worthy grand family of Idaho.

Mrs. Kern reported on the card party held for the Mason and Eastern Star members following the Jobie pancake supper. There was seven tables of pinocle and four tables of bridge in play.

All Eastern Star members were urged to bring Betty Crocker coupons to the next meeting to be used for a worthy cause for the chapter.

The altar was draped in memory of Mrs. Lola Studebaker, Mrs. John Goodhue, Mrs. Don Higbie and Mrs. Ahlquist. The relief committee reported that Mrs. Lola Chapman was a patient at the hospital in Teton.

Decorations for the chapter room were arranged by Mrs. Ada Huston and Mrs. Wanetta O'Riley. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Pierce, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Boring, co-chairman; John Rhoads, Mrs. G. A. Roland, Mrs. Lucy Hatfield, Mrs. Mary Peck, Mrs. Rose Pence and Mrs. Marvin Cadson.

Relief Society Meetings

For May Are Outlined

SHOSHONE — Lessons on a weekly basis for the LDS Relief Society will be concluded for the season with the month of May. During the summer recess, only one meeting a month is scheduled for the society.

The spiritual living lesson for May, on the first Tuesday, will feature the topic, "Doctrinal Instructions" with an objective that women of the church devote herself to gaining more knowledge through diligence and obedience.

In addition to the subject of obedience, to be discussed are The Godhead, Eternal Man, Salvation and the implementation of knowledge regarding the coming of Christ.

The visiting teachers' message for the month of May deals with the subject of "Reconciliation" showing that reconciliation is more than forgiveness.

The homemaking lesson is set to point out ways to beautify the home interiors, with emphasis on furniture arrangements and use of accessories.

"Are We Prepared?" is the social relations lesson topic, dealing with need to cultivate improvement, wise training, taking a review with plans and fulfillment.

Some of the wards are having spring bazaars or socials to end the year's activity.

DOWNTOWN TWIN FALLS

Dear Abby

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have never written to you before, but then I have never had a 16-year-old daughter before either.

Gloria has had a couple of movie dates, but the boy's parents took them and brought them home.

Last Sunday another boy, who has been to our home several times, asked Gloria's Daddy if he could take Gloria to the prom. To everyone's surprise, Dad said yes, and Gloria has been thrilled ever since.

Now the problem: Last night this boy came by and as he was leaving Dad saw him kiss Gloria goodnight. Now Dad says Gloria can't go to the prom with this boy unless he (Dad) takes them and brings them home several times, asked Gloria's Daddy if he could take Gloria to the prom. To everyone's surprise, Dad said yes, and Gloria has been thrilled ever since.

I say, Dad's taking them is better than not going at all. Do you think Gloria should be allowed to go with this boy in his car? They planned to double with another couple.

TORN MOM

DEAR TORN: I don't blame Gloria for not wanting her Dad to change his mind and let her go to the prom. Better tell Dad that if Gloria has had the proper upbringing he won't have to worry about her behavior at age 16. And if he insists on changing her much longer, not to be surprised if Gloria decides to move out of the house at the earliest possible moment.

DEAR ABBY: A month ago last Monday, my younger brother, Sheldon, 50, passed away after a lingering illness. He had been sick for two years and his last months were spent in a hospital. I went to visit him very often and brought him many things to cheer him up.

Last week I received a letter from my brother's widow, thanking me for being so "kind" to her husband.

I am very hurt, Abby, this man was MY beloved brother for 30 years before he was her husband, and I do not have to be "thanked" for being "kind" to him during his illness.

I want to tell this sister-in-law exactly how I feel, but my children say I should let it go. Well, I am not going to let it go. Am I wrong?

GRIEVING SISTER

DEAR SISTER: I think you are, Apparently when your sister-in-law was writing for "Thank you" messages, she remembered your many kindnesses and did not want to slight you. Let it go. Your sister-in-law has enough to worry about right now.

DEAR ABBY: I think you missed the point in the letter from "Worried" whose husband was overly friendly to his sister-in-law, and said it was done by the husband.

The key was in the last sentence: "I answer his needs every time he asks me." Abby, if wiser could only realize that a husband needs a little enthusiastic cooperation now and then. Why should he have to wait? A wife who has to be chased around the bedroom and know that he is answering his wife's needs, too.

Any woman who waits for her husband to "ask" her has no kick coming if he answers the needs of some outside ladies who will certainly let him know they need him, and will appreciate his answering those needs.

So, Dear Abby, please tell wiser to wait a little while occasionally, and don't wait to be "asked" — or they may be too late.

A clergyman of the American Lutheran Church, he is married and the father of three children. He is chairman of the Northwest Region of the National Lutheran Social Welfare Conference and the Spokane County Committee on alcoholism. He belongs to the American Psychology Association, the American Association of Pastors, and the Institute of Pastoral Care. He will speak on "The Christian Family."

Dr. J. Fields, campus pastor at Iowa State University, is a graduate of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., received an M. S. degree in psychology from Iowa State University, and did graduate work at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio. He has authored various essays, short stories, books and has also edited a six volume series on "Sex Education" for the Family Life Committee of the Missouri Synod. He is a member of Alpha Lambda Phi, a Lutheran Academy for Scholarship, and Psi Chi, a national psychology honorary. Dr. Fields will speak on "The Christian Woman and Her Marriage Relationship."

During a special evening program May 12 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, he will speak on "Christians View of Sex" and Guides for Sex Education in this program will include filmstrips, discussions and questions.

Chairman for the institute is Mrs. Elmer Fischer, Pierdon, with Mrs. L. E. Reinke and Rev. Harold Eben, Twin Falls. They are being assisted by LWML members from various local societies throughout Magic Valley.

Sessions at the Holiday Inn will begin May 13 at 10 a.m. and on May 14 at 9:30 a.m. A small fee will be charged to cover the cost of materials.

The evening program May 13 will be conducted at Immanuel Lutheran Church beginning at 7:30 p.m. A special invitation extended to husbands and wives of area, to attend this evening program under the direction of Dr. Fields.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Elmer Fischer at 326-4625, Mrs. L. E. Reinke at 733-7466, or Rev. Mr. Eben at 733-7174.

Filer Women

Are Guests At LWML Meeting

LWML Meeting

Buhl — Women from Peace Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Filer were guests during the April meeting of the St. John's LWML. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Alfred Dais and Mrs. Marilyn Schroeder serving as accompanist.

Unbeaten Majestic Prince Takes Derby

Champ Outlasts Arts And Letters To Win By Neck

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Unbeaten Majestic Prince, playing a fighting heart as well as blinding speed, thrilled President Nixon and one of the biggest crowds in the history of Churchill Downs Saturday when he won the $155,700 Kentucky Derby by a neck over Arts and Letters.

Majestic Prince broke from the outside post position in the field of eight and outdistanced him—cutting toward the rail on the run through "the stretch" the first time.

In so doing, Majestic Prince squeezed Fleet Allied and then charged past jockey Dean Hall of Fleet Allied said, "I had seen in the money at the race. I would have claimed a foul against him."

Hartack said, "I think I kind of brushed a horse on the outside during the race, but I didn't know it was the Derby."

Johnny Lodge, winning the Derby in his first attempt as a trainer after a long and great career as a jockey, commented that Majestic Prince "had to use a great deal of ground" on that first turn. But when Hartack sent Majestic Prince after the leaders on the backstretch and then turned him loose in the homestretch, it didn't matter.

The running time of 2:01 4/5 was far off the Kentucky Derby record of 1:59 3/5 set by Northern Dancer in 1964. A chance for a record disappeared with the relatively slow pace for the first mile.

Hartack also rode Northern Dancer and his other Derby champions were decidedly in 1962—Venetian Way in 1960 and Run Lige in 1957. He has won 24 stakes in 1969.

The Derby starts while Artar recorded his five in 21 starts.

Knoop Bats Angels Past Royals 3-2

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI)—Bobby Knoop hit his first home run of the season in the eighth inning Saturday night at the Johnstone stadium in a tie-breaking run in the seventh and the California Angels scored a 3-2 win over the Kansas City Royals.

The Angels climaxed an uphill climb with runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings for the victory. Knoop's home run allowed five hits in seven innings to gain the victory and even his record at 2-2.

The seventh, Roger Replogle walked was forced by Vic Davallillo and Jim Fregosi singled the runner to third. Johnstone singled for his third hit of the game to bring home the run to break a 1-1 tie.

Vandals Drop Weber Twice To Hold Lead

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—The University of Idaho swept a doubleheader with Weber State 2-1 and 6-0 Saturday to remain undefeated in "Big Sky" competition.

Skip Valvo gained his seventh victory of the year as the Vandals won the first game on a run-scoring double by Ron Pollock in the seventh inning.

Idaho jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning of the second game. Jim Smith homered with one on and Phil Reese drove in two more runs with a double.

Valvo pitched Jerry Smith went all the way in pinning his shutout. Idaho now leads the Big Sky Conference with a 4-0 record.

Hartack Says His Mount Tried To Loaf

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Jockey Bill Hartack, whose favorite Eddie Arcaro for the classic victories, said Saturday he had to keep after him because he was loafing.

"I had to keep after him because he was loafing," Hartack said. "I had to keep after him because he was loafing."

Hartack said he had to keep after him because he was loafing.

Hendren Nabs 14 Passes In Idaho Drills

MOSCOW, (UPI)—University of Idaho All-American Jerry Hendren caught 14 of 14 passes thrown at him Saturday during the Vandal spring football scrimmage.

Hendren, who was the No. 1 pass receiver in the country last year, scored two touchdowns during the two-hour scrimmage.

Coach Y. C. McNease said he was most pleased with the performance of the defensive line.

McNease said the addition of sophomores gave Idaho the potential for the strongest defense in the Big Sky in the past years he has been at the school.

The Vandals were to continue their workouts Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday with the first intersquad game to be held at Person field next Saturday.

WSU Crushes Washington

SEATTLE, (UPI)—The Washington State Cougars crushed their cross-state rivals from Washington 116-30 Saturday, winning every event but one in the eight-event track and field meet.

The Cougars failed to sweep any individual events, but they did win seven of the 10 events. Nine meet records were set, including eight by the Cougars.

Washington's John Hubbard was the only Husky to win an event. He set a school record with a toss of 62 feet two and three-quarters inches in the shot put.

WINNING BY A HEAD, Majestic Prince just manages to stave off a closing surge by Arts and Letters to grab the $155,000 Kentucky Derby Racing Classic. (UPI telephoto)

Twin Falls, Wendell Girls Win District Titles; Miss Rogers Sets Two Records

Shattering five records, two by Linda Rogers, the Twin Falls girls won the Class 7A district titles at the Wendell Triangles duplicated the feat the boys accomplished Friday by taking the Class B crown Saturday afternoon.

Blessed with good weather and a fast Bruin track, the girls racked up most of the in-district bests so far this year.

Miss Rogers dropped her own 100-yard dash record from 11.9 to 11.6 and came back to win the 220-yard dash in a record-breaking 27.5. The old mark was 28.2, set by Deana Roberts.

Twin Falls' 11-year Miss Burlington took the broad jump at 10-7 3/4, nine inches ahead of the old mark held one year by Rosella Priestland, Wood River, Miss. Florence posted the other Bruin record, getting the shotput out 34 feet, 1 1/2 inches, against the old mark of 33 5/8 set by Shirley Owenby, Twin Falls, in 1967.

While Miss Priestland lost her broad jump mark, she took a heavier blow on the high jump standard. She upset that from 4-7 3/4 to 4-10, defeating Miss Hamilton of Twin Falls on a few crucial inches.

Miss Rogers and Miss Billington were double winners for Twin Falls while Miss Priestland won the high jump and 40-meter hurdles, and took third in the broad jump.

No records have been kept for Class B, but most of the times and distances exceeded anything posted this spring.

Joan Gill of Camas County posted two wins, taking the 75-yard dash and the 50-yard dash in 6.2. She was the only time champion in the division.

The top three in each event advance to the regional finals against their third district counterparts next Friday at the Gooding State track. That marks the end of competition for the girls.

Wise Hurls Phillies To 4-1 Triumph

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Rick Wise pitched a five-hitter and singled in an eight-inning run to cap a two-run rally Saturday as the Philadelphia Phils beat the slumping St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Wise scattered four singles and the run-scoring double by Joe Judge in the eighth in earning his third victory of the season against two losses and dropping his ERA to 1.14, lowest on the Phils' staff. The Cards are now 1-10 at home this season and 10-14 overall.

The Cards' only run was unearned. Curt Flood hit and walked and got to second on an error by Larry Hise before Torrez's double.

Dave Watkins singled home Don Maney with the first run in the fourth inning. Maney had walked and advanced to third on a single by Rick Joseph and Lou Brock's error on the play.

Johnny Callison sacrificed. He drove home Hise with another run in the fifth. Hise walked and advanced to third on Julian Javier's eighth error of the season.

Sandra Palmer Holds Meet Lead

BENTON, La. (UPI)—Little Sandra Palmer fired an even par 72 Saturday for a 58-hole score of 142 and the lead of the $15,000 Shreveport Kiwanis Invitational golf tournament.

Miss Palmer had 11 pars of 33 and 37 over the Palmetto course. She shot a 69 for one shot lead over former champion Kathy Whitworth, Gloria Ehret and Sandra Haynie.

Miss Palmer, Whitworth, Ehret, Haynie and Donna Caponi shared the lead after firing 70s in the final round Friday. Miss Caponi fired a 70 Saturday to push her score to 149.

Bases Loaded Walk/Decides 3-2 Cub Win

CHICAGO (UPI)—Reliever Bob Taylor walked Adolfo Phillips with the bases full and two out in the eighth inning Saturday to force in Ron Santo with the winning run Saturday in a 3-2 win over the New York Mets.

Santo was on third after a triple that tied the score. The ball got by right-fielder Rod Gaspar, rolling to the right field wall and driving in Billy Williams, who had angled.

With Santo on third, Cal Koonce walked both Ernie Banks and Randy Hundley to fill the bases before Al Jackson believed and struck out pinch-hitter Gene Oliver.

But Taylor then walked Phillips to break the tie. Taylor struck out Jim Hickman to end the inning. Ted Abernathy, the third Cubs' pitcher set down New York in order in the ninth to preserve the win for Phil Regan.

Regan took over from starter Ferguson, finding his way allowed the Mets' runs on homers by J.C. Martin and Ron Swoboda, New York.

Blue Lakes Team Cops 49-48 Edge Over Hillcrest

Blue Lakes Country Club took a tight 49-48 edge over Hillcrest Country Club of Boise Saturday afternoon in the first half of the inter-club series.

The return match is set for Hillcrest sometime in September.

In the accompanying sweetest-spoons tournament, Jack Morgan of Hillcrest took low gross prize with an even par 68. He was followed by Charles Cosgriff, Blue Lakes, at 72, while John Hewitt of Hillcrest, and John Rosholt of Blue Lakes tied for 74.

Lynn Stewart won the net division with a five-under par 63. Joe McCollum and R. M. Serpa had 64s to share second place and fourth was shared at 69 by Winston Jones and Bob Snyder.

Weber Slips In PGA Rankings

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—White Jim Godman of Hayward, Calif., continues to lead the official money standing of the Professional Bowlers Association. Dick Weber has slipped into third place.

The veteran St. Louis bowler moved past Johnny Guenther of Nevada, Calif., after a 14-10 loss in the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament, which will win $2,500 at Madison, Wis. Weber posted his season earnings to $25,985. Godman, who pocketed $25,000 winning the Tournament of Champions at Akron, leads with $34,262 in earnings.

Hill Ties Beard In New Orleans Golf Tournament

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Explosive Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., struck 28-foot pressure put on the 18th green Saturday to tie steady Frank Beard of Louisville for the third round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open golf tournament.

Hill fired his second straight 68, following an opening round of 67, to headlock Beard at 203, 12 strokes under par at the 7,000-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

Beard, who has won more than $30,000 in recent years at Lakewood, his favorite course, had rounds of 67-67-69 for his 203.

Hill went into the 18th hole trailing Beard by one stroke. He slammed his second shot past the cup and then dropped the crucial downhill putt for the tie.

Beard, playing right behind Hill, settled for a par on the 18th hole. He was up to 114, the third round 10 strokes under par and one stroke ahead of Hill, but lost his lead briefly when he bogeyed the fourth hole. However, Beard picked up four birdies later in the afternoon to move back into the lead.

The fourth round was played in a combination of sunshine and rain, but most of the players said the brief, heavy rain did not bother them much.

Orville Moody—of Killeen, Tex.—and Harold Henning of South Africa, fired the best rounds of the day, each claiming in 66 on the par 72 course.

The 68 moved Moody into a three way tie for third place at 205, with first round leader Kermit Zarley of Seattle and Joel Goldstrand of Worthington, Minn.

Zarley and Goldstrand, who were roommates while playing at the University of Houston, both fired three under par 68s Saturday.

Hill, who admits to an explosive temper that has led him to break clubs, is an 11-year veteran on the tour. He won $14,000 between PGA suspensions last year and has not won a tournament since the 1967 Memphis Open.

Hill led at 107—four strokes behind Hill and Beard—headlocked at 107.

Beard-Henning-Goldstrand first round co-leader 126 Elder, Mel Hebert, Bob Cherry, Johnny Post and John Jacobs.

Only 78 players who shot under par during the first two rounds qualified for the final two rounds.

Hill was the lowest cut off for the professionals since the 1968 tournament in February.

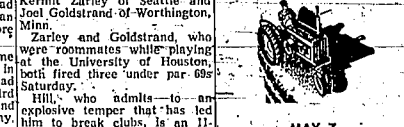

Bobby Mitchell of Danville, Va., made a brief run at the head Saturday morning, scoring four straight birdies. However, after the rain came he bogeyed the seventh and ninth holes, and was never able to recover.

Billy Casper, another tournament favorite who barely made the cut with a 142, finally hit his stride Saturday, and came in with a three under par 69. But he was still far back in the field.

BYU Sweeps Two Provo, Utah (UPI)—The Brigham Young University baseball team Saturday swept a doubleheader from the University of Utah, 12-8 and 7-2.

Three Records Tumble As Borah Takes SIC Crown; Twin Falls Grabs Second

Borah's Lions breezed easily to victory, three records were shattered, and another tied and the Twin Falls Bruins surprised by taking second place in the Southern Idaho Conference track and field championships Friday night.

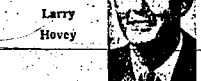

The Lions, getting a touch-and-go start from sprinter Steve Miller, piled up 73.7 points while Twin Falls, getting three firsts in two more than expected, had second with 46. Nampa took third with 32 while Highland had 33, Capital 24, Meridian 23.

Team scoring — Borah 73.7, Twin Falls 46, Nampa 33, Highland 33, Capital 24, Meridian 23, Pocatello 13 1/2, Caldwell 4.

FROM ALL ANGLES

Idaho State's football fortunes hit a setback this week when Larry Kirkchuck, the Bengals' starting quarterback, was injured last year, gave up his first two years.

By Larry Hovey

seasons of collegiate ball to sign with the Edmonton Eskimos.

Also heard that placement kicker Joe Patrone made the same decision.

And from ISU way, we hear that there might be a reduction in scholarships in some of the so-called "minor sports" to give more money to scholarship athletes available to football—the same year the mini-dome goes on display.

Idaho footballers include Steve Brown who came to Idaho as a basketball player, became the NCAA high jumper champion and now going for a cornerback position for Coach Y. C. McNeese.

The Vandals also have a new soccer star, a walk-on player from a Latin American country.

On the area scene, Noel Johnson, who had good success in his basketballing at Dixie Tech, will take his coaching talents to Kimberly next winter.

In Twin Falls, the track staff will grow to four next year with Denny Amquist, Helmer Kirk and Duane Stands joining head man Jerry Kleinkopf. This dovetails with prospects for a good Bruin track team coming up in the next two or three years.

This year's fresh crop of freshmen on the track and, of course, the pole vault, which has become a local favorite and there reportedly is very fine speed on the eighth-grade level.

The Eastern Idaho Conference makes its last annual meeting Monday night in Pocatello. Idaho Falls, Skyline and Miniro are withdrawing to join the SIC.

There appears a solid chance that Twin Falls and Burley will renew basketball relations next year, the Bruins going with Jerome and the Bruins for their four non-conference games.

New CSI Coach Jerry Hale didn't waste time getting acquainted with the position Monday night, he put his wife on the plane for El Paso Tuesday and had his first in-school results session Wednesday.

What prompted Hale to school the "Dr. (James L.) Taylor talked with me for four hours and gave me the greatest sales pitch I've ever heard. I couldn't have turned him down if it had been a girls school."

On the howling scene, Terry Hunter of Twin Falls whipped up a tired 600 Angles take over first spot in the state junior-bowling tournament last weekend. Diane Mofenb and the Bruins took second in the doubles. Those are the scores that eat the hearts out of veterans.

Minico Drops Pair To Boise And Borah

The Minico Spartans lost a pair of games to Borah and Boise Saturday afternoon, dropping a morning contest with the Braves 2-0 before falling to 10-6 Borah, who had just beaten Twin Falls earlier.

But the surprise was the high jump where Gailey, who wasn't thought of as a large, weeks ago, had opened up a 45-yard lead and there was no catching him. Windsor, after a five-minute flat first mile, was lonesome through the last half mile also in posting a 10:02.2 time.

Minter, the defending sprint champion in the seven-year state 220, just had enough to outlast Capital's Bruce Smith for the furlong title. Smith, who shattered the low hurdle record with a 15.6 clocking, was two yards back coming off the turn but gained steadily on Minter.

The Borah scuder, just headed for Boise, fell to fifth and sustained his first in-state loss this year.

The 220-yard dash finish was tight, two other features came in the medley and mile relays. Borah fell to fifth and sustained his first in-state loss this year.

Meridian closed fast to nip Twin Falls for second and the title range ran from 3:27.9 to 3:28.6 for the Bruins.

Twin Falls' showing reflected the "work done by the team since the Boise State meet, which saw the Bruins a badly beaten third and Borah not there. The distances were back to back with the Bruins.

Robb Stover, fighting illness all spring, rallying for a second place and Jack Cooper just saving fifth. Sophomore Robert Water, took the 100-yard dash. Dick Little hit a personal best of 31.4 in the shot to take fourth spot.

Senior Linnae Beckler led the Bruins with a three-over par 71, followed by Curt Thomsen at 72, Jeff Thomsen at 73 and Larry Manna at 77. Beckler was the only team with all four men in the 70's. They posted a 203 aggregate, followed by Capital 202, Pocatello 200, Nampa 71, Caldwell 309, Boise 320, Borah 330 and Highland 331. Meridian does not have a golf team.

Jeff Thomas of Capital and Mike Brown of Pocatello shared medalist honors with 68.

Majone stepped after what nearly was a disastrous start. He ran into out-of-bounds three strokes, but kept his cool and came home with a 77.

Vicki Malles, the state women's medalist, had an 81 for the Nampa team.

Valley Defeats Borah's Juniors In Twin Bill

EDEN — Valley rode the pitching of Don Cline and Don Meyer and the timely hitting of John Wolf into a doubleheader sweep over the Borah Juniors Saturday afternoon.

Cline won the first game 3-2 with Wolf driving in the winning runs with a double and Meyer lost his no-hitter — and control — in the final inning of the nightcap but still registered a 5-2 victory.

Borah took the early lead in the opener when Tom Donat walked and eventually scored on a Line single. Valley came back with three in the fourth when Bloxham walked and Weaver lived on a fielder's choice that retired no one. Steward singled in Bloxham with the tying run before Wolf unloaded his double.

Borah got one back in the seventh when Cunningham lived on an error, moved up on a ground out and wild pitch and scored on a ground out.

Valley led the nightcap in the first inning when Richmond lived on an error and Meyer walked. An overthrow on Taylor's grounder let one run in. Bloxham and Weaver followed with hits that plated one apiece.

Valley stretched in front 5-0 in the sixth when Bloxham lived on an error and Weaver singled him to third. After Weaver stole second, Krohn drove in both boys and girls teams competing.

It is now and white day for O'Leary and Green and White day for Stuart with the "victory bell," emblematic of supremacy, riding on the outcome.

Stuart plans a softball preliminary to the track meet — the faculty vs. the students. Track participants are not allowed to play in this one.

O'Leary, Stuart Duel Monday

Track takes over Twin Falls Monday afternoon for the annual doubleheader between teams from Robert Stuart and O'Leary freshman teams.

The event, which starts at 2:30 p.m. at the Stuart track, will have both boys and girls teams competing.

CSI Topples Ricks Twice To Claim Division Crown

REXBURG — Ron Blake wrapped up the northern division title of the Intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference with a one-hit, 2-1 victory over Ricks College Saturday afternoon and lefty Kim Blisset followed with a 3-2 decision that gave the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles a five-one edge in the six-game series between the two.

CSI now will travel south to play the southern division championship May 9 and 10 for the league crown. Coach Mike Glenn said it appeared Mesa of Grand Junction, Colo., would take the title and that the series would be played in Colorado.

Blake, who also plays No. 1 on the CSI tennis team, hummed his last — but — effectively losing the no-hit bid to a Shaw single in the third, and the shut-out to an unearned run in the fifth. He fanned eight and walked one. Blisset had four hits after two were batted.

Personal OPINION

QUESTION
Do you think Idaho's vehicle inspection law has any value as far as traffic safety is concerned?

LOCATION
Interviews in this case were taken at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission Co. during the Wednesday sale.

ANSWERS
BOB PIPA: "No, because something can go wrong with a vehicle a few weeks after it is inspected. It's just another way of raising money."

KEITH H. JOHNSON: "Yes, I do. It makes people keep their automobiles in good condition and removes some of the danger from the highways."

AL DANIELS: "I don't know whether it has made the highways safer, but it has an effect on somebody's pocketbook."

HOMER FREY: "No, it's just another expense. I wouldn't get out on the road in my car if it wasn't in shape and I don't think most people would."

Ripa Johnson Daniels Frey

Maxwell Haley Anderson Lekey

L. A. MAXWELL: "No, because they still have just as many highway accidents. A good many of them are caused by speed and not a malfunction of the car."

TERRY HALEY: "No, I don't. I think older vehicles and equipment should have to be inspected, but the newer models shouldn't."

A. ANDERSON: "Yes, I think it has merit. I wouldn't want a member of my family killed because another driver's brakes failed to function."

CHARLES LEKEY: "No, I don't feel it has had any value as far as traffic safety. It is not really a tight inspection and is not uniform throughout the state. It's more an idea of paying a fee."

Magic Valley Students Presented U Of I Awards

A number of Magic Valley students at the University of Idaho were presented awards Saturday at the annual Mother's Weekend.

Earl Peck Makes Low Bid On T.F. Airport Cafe

Earl B. Peck was the apparent low bidder for the airport cafe addition project during the Friday afternoon bid opening at the Twin Falls City Hall.

His bid was $21,200. Other bids were submitted by Earl Nelson for $27,720 and Ben Walton at $20,100. Subcontractors with the Peck company are A and B Plumbing and Smith Electric.

The city had budgeted $17,000 for the construction project and the city council will decide Monday night if it wants to add funds to this amount to carry out the project.

The airport restaurant addition was bid late in 1968, but only two bids were received and they were considerably higher than the estimated cost. The council decided against accepting either of them and again called for bids.

The addition is to be on the south side of the airport terminal building. Harold Gerber, architect for the project, said construction is to begin immediately after the contract is signed and the completion date is July 12.

The restaurant facility is presently leased to Mrs. Arletta DeHolt.

EARTHMOVERS SCOOP OUT dirt to form four large lagoons for the new sewer project in Hansen. The lagoons represent the final phase of construction which began last winter. Work at this site is being done by Winn and Co., Buhl, sub-contractor with Clawson Construction Co., Twin Falls. Four lagoons will be built now on property purchased from Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett just north of old U.S. 30 at Hansen. Land is available to expand to additional lagoons when necessary. Hansen officials say there will be no odors if a factors work properly and the lagoon site will be landscaped to form a park-like area.

When Dust Clears Hansen Will Have New Utility

HANSEN — Residents of a town of 190 would be needed, but bids opened Dec. 23, were $21,000 below estimates, which lowered the loan to $169,000. A Clawson Construction Co., Twin Falls, was awarded the bid, with Winn and Co., Buhl, sub-contractor for completion of the lagoons.

After paying the hookup and membership fee, the renter of property owner pays $6.50 per month, whether property is vacant or occupied. By making the project a sewer and water improvement persons not keeping up their sewer payments can be penalized by shutting off the water to their property.

A number of residents outside of Hansen, already using city water, have asked for annexation and sewer connections. In making installations, the contractor decided to place all trunk lines in streets rather than alleys as many alley lines were irregular with buildings or other utilities crowding much of the right-of-way.

Water lines also are installed in the streets, but on the opposite sides from the new sewer lines.

At the present time Clawson Construction Co. is about one month ahead of schedule in the Hansen project. They have visited other cities where similar systems are in use and find them highly satisfactory.

Four lagoons will be built now, with provisions for others if needed. Seven acres of land were purchased from Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett for the project. The city will continue until July 1 for some items, Mr. Creed says.

An ideal exhibit, Mr. Creed says, must contain the best possible example of every type of produce that can be grown locally. To have the best example, planning must be scheduled over several weeks to assure at least one plant will be at the exact right stage at fair time.

The exhibitor who adds a new variety or a type of produce not common to the local area may be the one to win the blue ribbon when quality is generally about the same level among the produce exhibits, Mr. Creed said.

Few people bother to raise their own gardens these days, even in rural areas, Mr. Creed finds. When he began working with young gardeners, he found even many farm families didn't have a toe in the garden any more.

This fall, he will be observing his 50th anniversary in exhibiting at the Twin Falls fair. Mr. Creed began fair displays Ball, three-year terms; W. D. Wiseman and Harold Warren, two-year terms; Robert Perkins, Harold Miller, Jr., and Allan Bourn, one-year. Mrs. Madge Panting also was elected to a two-year term, but later resigned.

Vergil Ball is project chairman, Ralph Simmons, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Thomas Steelsmith, assistant secretary. These officers were named in the organizational meeting.

Others involved in the project since the beginning include Norville Reynolds, Connie Bourn and Kenneth Motherhead, council members at the time of the original planning. Mr. Ball is mayor of Hansen.

Jack L. Allen, FHA representative, assisted in obtaining the loan and has been closely associated with the planning. Alfred May has handled legal arrangements.

One of the reasons Hansen residents are not complaining about dust and blocked or torn up streets is most feel the installation will benefit them as property owners.

Many homes in Hansen are now owned by persons who work in either Twin Falls or Burley. Taxes in Hansen, plus the monthly sewer charge, will still mean lower living costs than in the larger cities in the area and Hansen officials feel many home buyers will take this into consideration.

SPRING PLANTING IN many Hansen back yards and lawns includes a few lengths of sewer pipe. Each home owner must do his own contract for his own line from the sewer trunk to his home.

GIANT MANHOLE PIPE, installed at various intersections in Hansen, made excellent play equipment before installation. Here young Eddie Will, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Will, Hansen, climbs through a cone shaped manhole pipe near his home.

TRANSITE PIPE IS USED in the new Hansen sewer project. It is reportedly better than concrete and is easier to use. Connections prevent tree roots from getting into lines which constitutes a major problem in sewer maintenance.

Project May Preserve Lost Art Of Gardening

If you want to be a blue ribbon winner you have to plant curly and plant late.

Instead of the usual seven, eight, or even ten varieties of seeds and plants, you had better think in terms of 30 to 50.

These are just a few of the pointers being passed on to junior gardeners this spring in Twin Falls county.

The reason is the new junior division that will be added to the county fair competition this fall for produce growers. With the advent of the special division, young novice gardeners will compete against one another rather than allowing against experienced veterans who have been winning ribbons for years.

Selected to head the division and serve as an adviser to the youngsters is T. (Pete) Creed who says he is boosting when he states he probably has more ribbons than any other resident in the county in the past 13 years alone. Mr. Creed has collected more than 1,000 ribbons for his exhibits, mostly garden produce, in the Twin Falls County and Eastern Idaho State fairs.

This fall, he will be observing his 50th anniversary in exhibiting at the Twin Falls fair. Mr. Creed began fair displays

HOW DOES YOUR garden grow? In blue-ribbon style, is the hope of these youngsters. Putting seeds in the ground in their garden plots are Lori, Karla and Lisa Bassett, from left. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bassett, south of Twin Falls. They are among youngsters hoping to enter a special junior division of the Twin Falls County fair this fall. T. (Pete) Creed, pushing hand trowel, is supervising the new division.

COLLECTION OF 1,000 or more ribbons is shown here by F. T. Creed who believes he has more county and state fair ribbons than any other Twin Falls County resident. Exhibiting some 50 years at the local fair, he says he has collected about 2,500 ribbons in that time. He is helping Junior gardeners who will enter a new division of the local fair this year.

Awards Night Banquet Held At Murtaugh

MURTAUGH — The annual Awards Banquet was held Tuesday night for students of the Murtaugh Junior and Senior High School.

An overflow crowd of parents and families saw awards made for scholastic and athletic achievements.

The Junior High School awards for scholastics, athletics, and perfect attendance were presented by LeVere Bennett, Junior High School Principal.

Marvin Baker, music instructor, presented Pep Band awards and a token of appreciation was then presented by Gordon Graff to Mr. Baker who will retire this year.

Supt. Florin Hulse presented special attendance and scholastic awards to Senior High School students.

Coach Percy Christensen presented Gary Quisnell with the outstanding athlete award. The coach also presented football, basketball and track letters and trophies.

A mathematics award was given to Kelly Watts by Supt. Hulse.

Mrs. Dean Moore presented the Drill Team award. The Drill Team presented a special gift to Terri Hulse who acted as drill master this year. Track letters and trophies were presented to the girls by Mrs. Moore and Cathy Perkins was named high honor girl in the Mercuries, a school service by farm sales, second-hand and junk shops buying used garden equipment. He has made approximately a dozen of the small hand corrugators for use by the youngsters.

In addition to planting tips he will be keeping an eye on a number of gardens throughout the summer to suggest proper irrigation, spraying, fertilizing and other care. In addition, Mr. Creed will be planting three-quarters of an acre for his own garden.

Flowering cabbage, flowering kale, 14 kinds of squash, five to six types of sweet corn and beans with rare and unusual varieties are just a few of the plants being planted in his garden plot.

Purpose for creating the new junior display division is to encourage young people's interest in raising garden produce, and to teach them how to plant and care for the vegetables.

Mr. Creed said many local parents are missing the boat by not entering their produce in the Eastern Idaho State Fair and other state fair exhibits.

"Magic Valley and especially Twin Falls County, raises the best produce in the state. Our produce, with a longer growing season and other natural advantages, can nearly always win over that of other parts of Idaho," Mr. Creed said.

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

From P. R. M., Twin Falls, Idaho: I have a large brass coin which has a picture of a building on one side, with the lettering "U.S. GOV'T. BUILDING" and on the back "Treasury Department, World's Columbian Exposition Chicago, 1893" and "United States Mint Exhibit." What can you tell me about this? Is it valuable?

Answer: You have a medal, not a coin, from the Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. The actual purpose of this exposition (World's Fair) was to commemorate the 400th anniversary of Columbus's discovery of America. This exposition was distinguished by the fact that it had direct Federal sponsorship and the location was set by a Congressional Act (1890). The exposition was financed by a public stock subscription of 10 million dollars; a city bond issue of 5 million dollars, and a Federal grant of 5 million dollars.

The show covered almost 700 acres on the shores of Lake Michigan. The attendance was estimated at 27.5 million people. Many medals were issued for this fair, and they are eagerly sought after by collectors although they are not exceptionally high on them. You have a very nice one.

Please answer in your column.

Answer: You have a standard issue of the Belgian Congo, now a number of free states, under Leopold II, who was a king from 1835 until 1909. The coin is a 1-centime piece (Cent is the abbreviation for this word) and was issued from 1888 until 1894. There are 100 centimes in a franc, and the franc is worth about two cents. United States viewpoint, the coin would bring about 75 cents if in new condition.

From D. L., Burley, Idaho: I have a silver coin dated clear back to 1840. On the front is a woman's head, with the lettering "Victoria, Queen." On the back, "East India Company, 1840" and in the center of the wreath, "1/4 Rupee." I would like to know something about this coin and its value.

Answer: You are, by the way, despite the age of the coin, it is not valuable. It was issued under the East India Company's charter when they controlled the trade in India. The rupee was worth about 21 cents. United States exchange, so the coin has little monetary value.

However, collector value is about 30 cents on this coin, if it is in nice condition. The only coins of India which have much value are the gold coins, which are very scarce.

"LITTLE SALMON" RUN begins for members of Boy Scout Troop 99 when the group gathers at the LDS Church in Holister. A large cattle truck takes canoes, sleeping bags and other provisions to Salmon Falls Creek where it is crossed by U. S. Highway 83 south of the Idaho-Nevada state line.

EACH CANOE IS CAREFULLY packed with a portion of supplies before two party members are assigned per craft. Efforts are made to hold provisions to a minimum and to keep each canoe's weight about the same. Canoes are unloaded and packed at the launching sight.

ONE BY ONE, CANOES are launched and rapidly disappear around the first bend of the Salmon. Water is high and swift this year, and the nine-mile canoe trip was made between 8 p.m. Friday night and noon Saturday including an overnight stop. In the first canoe, number 10, are Andy Loughmiller, in the bow and Billy Loughmiller, troop leader, rear.

LAUNCHING WENT WELL until the final canoe entered the water. Carrying Bruce Gines, front, Allen Aston, center and his father, Ken Aston, rear, the craft had hardly more than entered the water, when over it went. The three dropped out of the adventure early this year, but are looking forward to next spring's event.

Scouts Find "Little Salmon" Adventure

Idaho's mighty Salmon River attracts numerous white-water adventures each summer, but match their skills against the famed "River of No Return."

But, in southern Twin Falls County there is now an annual adventure of a somewhat smaller scale. Each spring, at high water time, about nine youngsters run the "Little Salmon." All of the river adventurers are members of Boy Scout Troop 99, lead by Billy Loughmiller, Hollister.

The party puts in on Salmon Falls Creek on a Friday after school, just south of the Idaho-Nevada state line where the creek crosses U.S. Highway 93. Traveling in rubber rafts or canoes, they float and paddle, sometimes through some rough country and churning waters, for about 10 miles.

The trip involves an overnight stop and generally a few dunkings. All provisions are in plastic containers, with enough air-space to keep them afloat briefly.

Members of the river-running party begin planning for their annual trip before the snow melts, and for many it is something they have been looking forward to all year.

This year there were four disappointed members. The first was troop member David Chadwick, who lost out when he suffered a fractured ankle while pole vaulting just before the trip.

Three others fell by the wayside and had something of an adventure of their own. The last of the four canoes carried two persons each and the camp provisions.

At Ken Aston, the only other adult planning to make the trip, his son Allen, 12, youngest member of the party, and Bruce Gines launched their canoe, all seemed well.

Because of the extremely high and swift water in the creek, the three other canoes already had disappeared around a bend of the canyon.

As the last canoe started down stream, the current pulled it in toward shore into some thick willows. In attempting to get it back to the middle of the stream the passengers apparently leaned to the right at the same time, and over went the canoe.

All party members are required to wear their life jackets at all times, and the three were able to get the canoe righted and swim back to the bank in time to watch their craft float from reach within seconds.

Soaked to the skin, the three climbed from the water and took off on foot through heavy brush along the bank, hoping to overtake the party and hoping the others would be able to stop their canoe.

Going was slow and rough and they finally gave up and walked back to the highway.

David Chadwick, who was to drive the large truck from the launching point to where the party would end their trek and and dunked a few more members of the group.

"This year's trip, except for the three who capsized, was much easier than last year," Mr. Loughmiller commented.

"Last year we used rubber rafts and canoes and the larger craft proved too slow. We were about four hours late getting to the reservoir."

There is much more water in the creek this year, which also helped speed up the trip.

Running the "Little Salmon" began as an idea for Billy Loughmiller some time ago, but he didn't get around to doing it until last year and he decided to take his Scouts along.

That's the note of the party members knew just what many parts of the canyon looked like, and it wasn't known if a boat could travel the entire proposed nine miles.

"We found out that when the water is high there's plenty of stream. In places, the creek looks more like the 'big' Salmon this time of year," Mr. Loughmiller said.

Everyone who made the trip is looking forward to next spring and the three who lost out via the early dunking are not only going along, they are going all the way next time.

Mr. Loughmiller said this year they rented canoes but most of his troop members are planning projects this year to build their own canoe, so there should be plenty for next year's trip.

Book Review

By THELMA BALLEISEN
Assistant Librarian

"How Many Miles To Galena" by Richard Bissell is a delightful record of the Bissell family journeys in America. The reader travels vicariously to the West, Midwest, Canada, Alaska via the Alaska Highway and home with the author to New England.

"How Many Miles To Galena" is not a travelogue. It is a nostalgic record of American impressions. The author's book is written by a first-rate American humorist whose observations about history, people, places, and accommodations are written in a conversational narrative style with much humor, philosophy, and awareness of mid-twentieth-century American culture.

Seniors Lead Honor Pupils At Shoshone

"SHOSHONE — The Shoshone High School seniors elected the most students on the honor roll during the last six weeks period.

There were 20 seniors on the roll, with eight juniors, three sophomores and 13 freshmen. Seniors are Candice Connor, Vickie Guenechea, Carmen Haddock, Kalle Hansen, Debbie Harris, Mary Gayle Hata, Barbara Horn, Nancy Hubbs, Gayle Johnson, Sian Kerné, Jeanne Larsen, Rilita Leskinen, Donna Mabbitt, Rhonda Onelda, Linda Parson, Carl Pendleton, Phyllis Trachten, Louise Trachten, Ruth Tews and Connie Urrutia.

Arnold Roth has cleverly illustrated the book and his contributions have greatly enhanced the portrayal of local color. This book is bursting with vitality and is highly recommended for travelers as required reading.

Jerome Man Wins Medals For Valor

JEROME — Maj. John M. Toolson Jr. has received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Bronze Star for service in Vietnam. It was reported.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Barry, live in Jerome. Maj. Toolson received the flying cross for combat operations in December. He was an aircraft commander during a helicopter mission near Quan Lam. Another helicopter was downed by enemy ground fire and he managed to mark the position and later air strikes knocked out enemy gunfire, the citation reads.

He won the Bronze Star for meritorious achievement as commander of a troop in the First Air Cavalry Division. Maj. Toolson entered the Army in 1956 and went to Vietnam last August. He is a 1955 graduate of Jerome High School and attended Idaho State University. His wife, Janet Marie, lives in Jerome.

School Plan Is Adopted For Wendell

WENDELL — The Wendell School District has adopted the budget for the coming year.

Three visitors attended but no opposition was expressed. After the hearing, members of the school board and Superintendent Lawrence LaRue and Wendell Spalding, principal, met with representatives of the Wendell Chamber of Commerce, citizens law enforcement personnel, Probator Judge C. E. Spencer and The Rev. E. V. Hargreaves. Shopping and juvenile problems in the community were discussed with Mr. LaRue acting as moderator. Existing problems were identified and suggestions made for prevention and correction.

MRS. FLOYD DORIS, Halley, inspects a cactus plant which bloomed recently. The fragile, ruffled, star-like blossoms measure seven inches across. The cactus, the variety which is unknown to the owner, was given to Mrs. Dorius by Mrs. Grace Gilda three years ago. It bloomed for the first time last year.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

A HALLEY woman is enjoying blooms on an unnamed variety of cactus she received as a gift from Mrs. Grace Gilda three years ago. Mrs. Floyd Dorius says the plant bloomed for the first time last year.

The fragile, ruffled, star-like blossom measures seven inches across. Its petals are a soft, velvety white converging into a pale green throat. The pistil and stamens were a pale yellow.

Several weeks earlier the first indication of a bloom appeared. The bulb, emerging as a stem, reached up six inches, then a bloom appeared.

The stem lifted, as if in preparation for the advent of the beautiful flower, shed its prosaic green garb, taking on more glamorous shades of lavender and pink, and softened its harsh contour with miniature, hair-like leaves.

Mrs. Dorius said she planned the cactus in ordinary soil and watered it, along with her other cactus plants, about once a week. She has 23 different varieties of cacti.

The particular plant which is blooming does not have long spines, but rather small, star-like clusters along vertical backbones, running up the plant. Neither she nor Mrs. Gilda knows the name of the cactus.

A deer spent the night or at least part of one night last week in the booth at the Idaho Power Co.'s Thousand Springs plant near HACHEMAN where the employees write the generator readings in the log book.

When Warren Hutton, an employee at the plant, reported for work the next morning he found a broken window, glass scattered about and some blood. Upon investigation, he found traces of deer hair.

MANILA (UPI) — Three prisoners were killed and 13 others wounded Friday afternoon when a HACHEMAN gang at the national prison east of Manila fought a pitched battle with steel bars and improvised weapons. Gunshots and hand grenades were used. The Philippine news agency said the fighting was quelled by prison guards and constabulary soldiers.

Services were conducted last Saturday in Nyssa, Ore.

Burley Vocal Unit Returns From Contest

BURLEY — The Burley chapter of Sweet Adelines has returned home by bus from Reno, Nev., where they competed with 21 choruses in Region 12 in singing, barbershop harmonies, and other musical numbers. Mrs. Wendell McMurphy was in charge of choreography and costuming. The Burley group of six women wore aqua blue dresses during competition, with matching shoes and earrings.

The panel of judges said, "you are a very promising group, your choreography was good, the motions were well chosen and worked out smoothly; costuming was very showy and was a breathtaking sight, and all judges think you have a tremendous conductor."

'T WAS

A month before vacation
 When I looked at my car,
 The model was old and
 Had been driven too far,
 The inside was all ripped,
 The seat, it was torn,
 The brakes didn't work
 And also the horn,
 The windshield was busted
 The old clutch was broke,
 The gas line was clogged
 And so was the choke,
 I cried and I moaned
 And started to cuss,
 Something had to be done
 About my old bus,
 So I went to John Chris
 And am now all aglow
 It's like their ad said
 I got more for my dough,
 Now I laugh at the bumps
 And get mileage galore,
 My new car looks swell
 And here's something more:
 John Chris sold me my car
 On a long easy plan,
 My payments are low,
 I'm a happy man,
 Now my worries are over
 I'm no longer a pest
 This vacation I'm driving
 A snappy new Tempest!

SPYING AT ONE of the controls for a vehicle and front-mounted mine detector set during a demonstration at Camp Elliott near San Diego, Calif., is Army Spec. Fred S. Muffley. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Muffley, Hevito, Nev. He is shown on CBS news this week demonstrating the mine detecting vehicle. He is a 1963 graduate of Camas County High School, Fairfield, and has a degree in electrical engineering from Idaho State University, Pocatello.

Soldier From Magic Valley Tests New Mine Detector

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — Army Spec. Fred S. Muffley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Muffley, Route 2, Jerome, was shown on CBS news last week at the controls for a vehicle and front-mounted mine detector. The demonstration was given at Camp Elliott near San Diego.

The vehicle and mine detector can be maneuvered by a remote control. During March, Spec. Muffley was a member of a four-man Army team assigned to test the set over range areas north of San Diego which simulate rugged combat environments. Two hundred miles of performance evaluations were completed.

Following on foot, or in another vehicle at a distance, a single operator using a chest-mounted remote control transmitter can command the vehicle and front-mounted mine detector through a full spectrum of operations. The set is designed to reduce present hazards to operating personnel and is now considered ready for combat evaluation. Ryan Aeronautical Co., San Diego, under contract, modified four standard mine detecting sets into the remote controlled prototypes.

Spec. Muffley is a field radio instructor in Headquarters Company, Second Battalion, Student Brigade at Ft. Gordon, Ga. He entered the Army in November, 1968.

The 24-year-old soldier was graduated in 1963 from Camas County High School, Fairfield, and received a degree in electrical engineering in 1968 from Idaho State University, Pocatello.

Terry Drinkwater, CBS newsman, interviewed Spec. Muffley during the television program.

PROTEST LYNCHING

PATNA, India — About 6,000 government and private doctors went on a 24-hour strike in Bihar state Friday to protest the mob lynching last month of a physician. The mob in Daminagar, infuriated by rumor that a local citizen had died after an injection at a hospital, lynched Dr. S. A. Prasad, the physician in charge of the hospital.

Tourism Must Be Pushed Locally, Arco Man States

RUPERT — Eastern Idaho Chamber of Commerce President Edmond Gaumer, Arco, said Thursday if Idaho is to maintain tourist traffic in the state, it will have to be done by local and regional agencies. He said that he felt the local areas would get little support from the state Department of Commerce and Development because of the limited budget. The primary effort of the department over the past 12 years, he said, has been to promote tourism in the state. Now, however, he noted, an industrialist is in charge and is more interested in the industrial development of the state.

only 10 per cent over last year," Mr. Gaumer said. "The main exception to double efforts on the industrial development of the state while maintaining the tourism efforts, I do not believe it can be done."

The EIC had been hoping for a budget of $1 million for the department, but the department only asked for some $768,000, which is the figure it received. The key to success in the tourist trade, Mr. Gaumer said, is to hold travelers overnight. Consequently, the EIC is considering the development of "loop" trips, whereby the tourist begins in a particular city, visits surrounding historical sites and winds up in the original city.

Among the sites proposed to be developed in the near future, under the EIC's jurisdiction, are the Crystal Ice Caves, the National Historical Site near Arco and the Craters of the Moon National Monument.

Mr. Gaumer said that it is hoped that the Craters of the Moon area will eventually become a national park, as Idaho now has none.

Magic Valley Slides Shown To Filer Club

FILER — Slides of Magic Valley were shown by Ray Roston, Twin Falls, to Filer Kiwanis Club members at their luncheon meeting in the Methodist Church.

The slides are some which the Chamber of Commerce uses to show to prospective industries and companies who might be interested in coming to Magic Valley. They show the business opportunities of the area, agricultural development, schools, colleges, scenic spots and others.

Morris Carlson, county commissioner, introduced Mr. Roston and also presented Haber Loughmiller and William Chaney, fellow commissioners.

Other clubs were represented by Charles Lunte, Morris Saitgast, Barney Carlson and Dr. Fred Kallusky, all Bull, and Norman Tarter, Ray Holmes and "Oz" Nelson, Twin Falls. Other guests included Mike Bertrich of KMYT television station, William Lyda and Scott Brown.

DEAR POLLY—May a man submit a Painter for stamp collectors? One can now place stamps in albums without the gum on the back being damaged. A pressure sensitive label cut to one-inch in height and one quarter inch in width can be folded over with the sensitive side out. Place one side of the stamp and then the other to the stamp album. At any time a stamp can be taken off without any damage to its backing.—GENE

DEAR POLLY—To remember our bird friends during the winter months I leave a bowl in my kitchen counter for bread and toast crumbs, dropped or unfinished cookies and crumbs left on plates which would otherwise go in the garbage can. The entire family cooperates in this easy way.—RUTH

DEAR POLLY—When my children grew past the baby stage I was left with a lot of good receiving blankets that I did not want discarded. I sewed six of them together to make an attractive summer blanket that looks like a patchwork quilt for my son's twin bed.—JUDY-GUS

DEAR POLLY—When baby outgrows his baby spoon you will find that it makes a great jelly, jam or mayonnaise serving spoon.—MRS. W. P. H.

DEAR POLLY—I am only 12 and every time a baby-sitter comes to stay with me she has to keep calling me downstairs to tell her where something is. I made labels and taped them on the cabinets or now the sitter can find things.—M. G. N.

DEAR POLLY—If you want a homemade toy that will keep the boy amused for hours, take an old nylon stocking, put a soft, all-ubber ball (about the size of a tennis ball) in it. Knot just above the ball. Take this outdoors, twist it parallel to your body and let her fly. You will be surprised at how high this can soar. Thanks for a great column.—F. & S.

REM: YER DA ONLY ARTIST IN DA KALLIKAK TRIBENZOO! YA LOIN BUSTER, HON NOT T'DRAW, SO'S HE COULD PICK UP A FEW BUCKS?

HOW NOT TO DRAW IS MY PROBLEM, TOO!

I SPENT YEARS UNDER MASTERS, LEARNIN' HOW TO DRAW... TODAY, I COULDN'T GIVE A PAINTING OF THE PRESIDENT TO MY MOTHER!

THINGS HAVE CHANGED, ORVY! TODAY, AN ARTIST PUTS A THUMB AN' ONLY THREE FINGERS ON A HAND... AND BOTH EYES ON THE SAME SIDE OF THE NOSE!

LIKE THIS... AND BOTH EYES ON THE SAME SIDE OF THE NOSE!

PEOPLE HAVE LOST SIGHT OF WHAT THEY REALLY LOOK LIKE!

I MUST BE LOSIN' MY SIGHT... YESTERDAY, I SHAVED DA MIRROR!

Later... HMM... YOU'LL NEVER MAKE IT, SON! YOU TRIES TO DRAW THINGS TOO MUCH-LIKE THEY ARE!

DDH-H... I'M SORRY, UNCLE REM!

But, back of the Kallikak house...

BUSTER! WHO DID THESE? THEY'RE VERY IMPRESSIVE!

DON'T TELL ANBODY, UNCLE REM... I DID THEM AT THE TOWN DUMP!

Buster has created a new art-form... "BUSTERMAS!"

Ask Them Yourself

FOR MELVIN R. LAIRD,

Secretary of Defense

How long have you known President Nixon? Did you ever work with him personally to your appointment?—Mrs. Walter Schoenfeld, EG Gouse, Wis.

● I have known the President about 20 years. For the last 15 years I worked with him professionally and personally. During the Eisenhower Administration, we worked together on various Congressional matters and since 1960 in Republican Party affairs.

FOR EVA GABOR of "Green Acres"

What do you use in making your hot cakes? What makes them bubble up?—Cheryl Williams, Hartford City, Ind.

● Darlings! I have to be honest with you. What I use in making my hot cakes is a "Jerry Fuller"—the name of the program who invents them for the show.

FOR RUSTY STAUB, infielder,

Montreal Expos

Is it true that you batted 300 on home runs alone in high school? If so, who convinced you to concentrate more on hitting for average?—Ken May, North Highlands, Calif.

● According to my high school coach, I did hit .300 on home runs alone. I discovered that I did not have the power necessary to hit home runs consistently in major-league parks. So I changed my hitting style.

FOR CLARENCE WILLIAMS, III, of "Mad Squad"

There has been a lot of emphasis put on the word "soul" recently. What is meant by "soul" in conjunction with your series?—Joan Brown, Newport, Ala.

● The use of "soul" to us means a concern for other people.

FOR ANDREW C. LUTHER,

vice president, U.S. Playing Card Co.

When and where was pinocle, now internationally popular, originated? Who invented it?—Arnold A. Niva, Ocean Springs, Miss.

● Pinochle has appeared in game books since about 1864 and is said to be of German origin. Little is known of the history of many basic card games, and less is known of the history of pinocle.

FOR HENRY RINGLING NORTH,

retired circus magnate

What do you intend to raise on the ranch you are building in Kilconnell, Ireland? How large will it be?—A. I. Garrick, Brooklyn, N.Y.

● We presently have around 400 head of State cattle, a foundation herd of registered Angus cattle, and a comparable herd of registered French-imported Charolais. Our Irish ranch totals about 1,000 acres.

FOR DR. CHARLES W. HARWOOD,

Dean of Fairleigh College

Just what distinct advantages do you have at a "cluster" type of college, such as yours?—Mrs. Joseph Jaeb, Humboldt, Canada

● A cluster college provides the means of combining the best features of a small college with the resources of a large one. Smallness means that students and faculty know one another; new ideas concerning education can be more readily tried; and students can play more responsible roles. The students also enjoy the advantages of the larger "parent" school (Western Washington State), a large library, laboratories, and the staff-in-depth necessary for specialized instruction.

FOR WALTER CRONKITE,

CBS News

Do you think the war scenes shown in TV news make people more or less prone to violence?—Mrs. R. Nettie, Lancaster, Pa.

● I should think less prone to violence, with a considerable distaste for war itself.

FOR JAMES ROWLEY,

director, U.S. Secret Service

How long will Lyndon B. Johnson get protection from the Secret Service?—Mrs. Daisy Harlock, Rogersville, Tenn.

● Federal law provides that Secret Service protection be afforded to former Presidents during their lifetime, unless they choose to decline such protection.

FOR DORIS DAY.

How did you decide to change your last name to Day?—Mrs. Linda Weaver, Northdale, N.C.

● David Leader Barney Rapp liked me at $25 a week to sing in his night club and gave me a new name—Doris Day.

WHAT IN THE WORLD!

Quality American Marriages

Egypt divorced to have the world's highest divorce rate—now it's us. But only because so much is expected. According to marriage counselor Dr. David R. Mace: "In other countries, the unhappily married accept their fate resignedly. If you esteem creativity or the quality of relations between husband and wife, then I think we probably have as high a proportion of really good marriages as any culture I can think of." So American marriages are not so bad after all.

Real Home Folks

The Lennon Sisters (their ABC-TV special is Tuesday) love family parties. Peggy told Family Weekly: "My July 31st, and Chris, 21st, have their birthdays two weeks apart; Joey, 11st, and Michael, a half, one week apart. So I combine them into two big parties a year. They make up their own theme. Last time it was

The Lennon Sisters

Superheroes—Wonder Woman and Diaper Man. We all help make costumes from scraps." As for the sisters, each insists, "We're not go-outers. The only time we get to dress up and eat in a restaurant with our husbands is on our birthdays and anniversaries. But it's very romantic."

Mr. Betz's Dream Home After a lifetime of renting, Carl Betz ("Judd for the Defense," ABC-TV) bought a home on Malibu Beach, which was most important in the remodeling "A room for each of us, to which we could retire." A studio for Gloria (wife), where she can paint and make dresses, and an office for me, where I can organize the paper work. Second, no closets or tables—so we will have to take our stuff to our rooms, instead of it accumulating in the hall."

Look—Don't Touch They finally got eight sea elephants from Guadalupé to Los Angeles MarineLand—but not without a struggle. These 4,000-pound beasts, according to curator John Prescott, are "very calm while on the beach, even in mating season. They lie about sunning and sleeping. You can pat them, and they will just look at you. But if a female thinks you are after her pup or a male after his harem, they will charge you." One monster slithered out from 2,000 others to sink his teeth into the "enemy"—the half-inch thick plywood kool of a 15-foot exploring ship. By the time we had gunned the motor and escaped, our boat was seriously damaged. Then the mammoth herd, having routed the intruder, majestically returned to his admiring harem."

"One, If by Land . . ." A colored balloon flying over a motor vehicle in trouble on a New York State highway is an official distress signal, according to Chet Cunningham-In "Construction Digest." Red: emergency medical aid is needed; green: police assistance; blue: mechanical help or fuel. Other states are now considering listing color-coded balloon kits to motorists.

The Wide-Track Family for '66: Grand Prix, Bonneville, Brougham, Executive, Catalina, GTO, LeMans, Custom 8, Tempest and Firebird. Pontiac Motor Division.

It starts with an Endura nose that won't rust, won't dent and won't chip. It can't. Because Endura has the spring of rubber, the toughness of steel. And it lasts longer than either one. Anything as good as Endura deserves having more than a nose made out of it. So we put it on Bonneville's rear bumper, too. That way you won't get the shakes when you're slipping into a tight parking place. But that's not the end of Bonneville's bumpers.

Vinyl strips along both sides protect your flanks. A sure cure for "parking-lot door." Nose-Rear-Sides. There's a bumper crop for you. Give Bonneville a test bump at your Pontiac dealer's. Break Away!

Can Some People See into the

FOR NINE MONTHS before it happened, Lorna Middleton felt a strong premonition building up in her that Sen. Robert Kennedy would be assassinated.

At first, the plump, 54-year-old, American-born piano teacher in London sensed he would be "in danger." Then on March 16, she "saw" an assassination, "probably while the Senator "is on tour in the West."

On April 5 and again on April 11, she felt a foreboding of death "connected with Kennedy." The fatal shots were fired on June 5.

Anyone can lay claim to hunches—but what's remarkable about Lorna Middleton's is that she wrote them all down at the time and sent them to a British psychiatrist to be recorded, evaluated, and later confirmed at the Central Premonitions Registry in London.

The written Kennedy hunches were not isolated phenomena. As Miss Middleton reported "visions" involving plane and train crashes, floods, earthquakes, and other disasters, the Registry corroborated many of them by events that subsequently occurred.

In a study of 469 premonitions by Britons filed with the Registry during 1967, only 18 proved true: Two persons were responsible for 18 of the 18. Highest scorer was Miss Middleton, closely followed by Alan P. Hencher, a 45-year-old telephone worker who apparently foresees events in amazingly vivid detail.

Last June, a Central Premonitions Registry, modeled after the London bureau, was set up in New York. A four-man investigative panel of parapsychology researchers is headed by Dr. Stanley Krippner, clinical psychologist and director of the Dream Laboratory at Malmondes Medical Center, Brooklyn. Still in its early stages, the Registry has already received more than 400 psychic forecasts from many parts of the nation, most are waiting to be evaluated.

Although skeptics may jeer at precognition, clairvoyance, and ESP (extrasensory perception), a growing number of research scientists are taking premonitions seriously. Through the Registry where reports can be analyzed and checked, they hope to produce evidence to support the concept of precognition.

London's check-up project was originated by Dr. R. D. Barker, an eminent psychiatrist who indulges his hobby in research of the supernatural. In October, 1966, a huge coal tip slid down on the Welsh village of Aberfan, killing 133 children and adults. At the time, Dr. Barker was writing a book, "Scared to Death," and he visited Aberfan to find out more about a child who was said to have rushed out of school only to die of fright.

The psychiatrist wondered if people anywhere had experienced some prevision of the catastrophe. Through a London newspaper, he launched an appeal for anyone claiming foreknowledge. Hundreds responded, but proof was hard to pin down. That led to formation of the precognition Registry. Perhaps, Dr. Barker thought, if enough premonitions were scientifically collected, an "early warning system" could be set up that might prevent tragedies or reduce them.

As the hunches poured in, Dr. Barker rated them by points based on a significant relationship to actual events. After a year, he was able to produce evidence of accuracy, particularly by Middleton and Hencher, before the Royal Society of Medicine.

"They are absolutely genuine," Dr. Barker said of their premonitions. "Quite honestly, they stagger me. Somehow these 'sensitive' people can gate-crash the time barrier—see the wheels of disaster starting to turn before the rest of us. It is difficult to attribute their experiences to coincidence alone."

From his analysis, Dr. Barker concluded that women make better "seismographs" than men; five times as many women as men reported premonitions. Those with the keenest perception, Dr. Barker found, had a sense of oppression and were unduly sensitive to calamities.

Who are the human "seismographs," and what makes them tick? High scorer Alan Hencher is a slender, balding bachelor of 45, shy and self-educated. Lunching with me in London a few weeks ago, he revealed:

"At first, I would get visions; just words in my mind; lately, as I concentrate more, I get pictures in natural color. Most often the premonitions come while I'm working, maybe because there's a lot of electricity at the telephone switchboard. Yet they also come at night, when the air is clear, or after a glass of wine.

"Usually my premonitions are accompanied by headaches, like a steel band around my forehead. I believe it's because I concentrate so hard. But as I write them down, the headache recedes. Then, when I hear a premonition has been borne out, I feel utter relief. It's as if something

FUTURE? FUTURE? FUTURE?

In America and Great Britain, so-called "psychics" are prerecording their visions—including one that foretold the death of the investigating scientist has been bottled up in me.

"I used to feel that if I didn't have the premonition, maybe the tragedy wouldn't have happened. Now I know I have nothing to do with the event itself. I just pass on a warning."

Among the psychic hunches Hencher considers most important is one which gave him a more piercing headache than usual. All night it kept him awake and tossing. In the morning he phoned Dr. Barker, reporting a plane crash with 124 victims and describing an island with Grecian-type statues around a church.

"It could be no other place than Nicosia in Cyprus," said Hencher. Sure enough, a few weeks later an airplane crash killed 124 people in Nicosia. One injured passenger died later, making the toll 125 and upset Hencher's preciseness.

In his most vivid vision, Hencher dreamed he was traveling in a plane, described its interior and two little blonde girls on board. He, "flew" from Spain, over a mountain and sea, and ran into a storm along the English coast. The engines started to cough; one exploded. The plane tilted and a wing hit a high hill. And that's what happened to a plane outside London in August, 1967. Hencher had called the shot to Dr. Barker three weeks before.

He has accurately predicted earthquakes in Iran and Milan, floods in England. Hencher's latest: "Sometime before September, 1969, a large lump of matter will be coming into space toward the earth. Intense sunspot activity will reach an apex not known before. The combination of natural phenomena will cause floods, hurricanes, and severe earthquakes in various parts of the world. There will be approximately 500,000 dead."

"Frightening?" Hencher reassured me: "Not all of my premonitions come true."

As for Lorna Middleton, the vibrant, dark-haired, teacher maintains that 32 of her premonitions in the past year have come to pass.

"Some come to me in a flash," she told me. "Others start with a blurred image and build up for several days into a clear sign of what might be expected. Usually I get them while walking along quietly."

"I don't dream very often, though I did have a dream about cars falling into the Ohio River, and two days later, in December, 1967, the bridge collapsed at Point Pleasant. Sitting in the cinema on Sept. 27, I felt a tragic foreboding about the Olympics. On Oct. 3, 15 were killed in the Mexico City rioting."

Miss Middleton believes her eerie faculty is inherited; both her mother and father, she says, were psychic. "Mother could tell which horses would win, but I'm not like that." At the age of 10, Lorna warned that her German teacher in Boston would commit suicide, and he did take a fatal overdose of drugs. After that, her mother pleaded, "Don't say it, or it will happen!"

In the past year or so, Miss Middleton has noticed that her premonitions have been more accurate. She even drew sketches of events for Dr. Barker. One sketch of a plane cracking up in snow, showed the approximate location and turned out to be a U.S. bomber in Greenland.

In April, 1967, she had a vision and wrote that "someone is going to the moon. He's terrified. He's burning." Next day, Russian cosmonaut Vladimir Komarov was killed in the manned space flight of Soyuz-1.

In her kitchen one afternoon, Miss Middleton suddenly felt depressed. "Gradually I saw a streak, a flash of light, then a sort of gray mist. The word 'train' kept coming through—'train, train'—and I saw the words 'Charing Cross.' She wrote about it to the Registry. A few days later, a train headed for Charing Cross station in London was derailed.

From the evidence at the Registry, Miss Middleton's record appears impressive. She has foretold the collision of a lorry and a train, earthquakes and big fires in Europe, sea disasters, rioting in France, and the H-bomb blast in China last January. When she predicted the disappearance of Australia's prime minister in December, 1967, "I didn't even know where Melbourne was. I just kept writing the name."

Other people in Britain have had premonitions that proved fairly accurate, though none as prolific and detailed as Hencher and Middleton. Some predictions are weird. One woman recently reported that her brother foresaw the discovery of "a new sort of animal in outer space."

Curiously, for several months both Hencher and Middleton sensed that Dr. Barker would die unexpectedly. When Hencher met Dr. Barker in January, 1968; he felt strongly that the psychiatrist's life would end shortly in Yockleton, the village where he lived. On Feb. 7, she wrote him, "I think you're going to have some trouble."

Dr. Barker, author of "Scared to Death," circulated a letter admitting his own concern. "Of course," he wrote, "it is possible that these premonitions, as with others, may not be fulfilled in a literal way." Last August, the psychiatrist suddenly died of a stroke in Yockleton. Had he, ironically, been literally scared to death?

At the New York Registry, thus far only three premonitions have been upheld. One, by Alan Vaughn, a 32-year-old Brooklyn editor, consisted of several dreams concerning the assassination of a young American whose description fitted Robert Alan P. Hencher, British clairvoyant, reads news of tragedy he predicted.

Kennedy. Two others forecast an "illness" and a "spat" aboard the Apollo spacecraft. Our astronauts did develop colds and argued with ground control in one recent flight.

How do we explain these instances of recognition? Dr. Krippner of the New York Registry observes:

"Some people are unusually sensitive to the nuances of events in time and space. In the case of Alan Vaughn's dreams, it's possible that he received a telepathic impression from the Kennedy assassin."

Lorna Middleton is convinced she has an inherited "sixth sense." Alan Hencher, deeply religious, theorizes: "God is like a massive brain that sees all and hears all. I feel that word comes to me from the 'outside,' and that I am an informant."

In an interview with Dr. Barker's widow, I learned that before his death the psychiatrist had hoped to use a computer to detect a pattern or crescendo of premonitions before a calamity. After his investigations had gone on for more than a year, he admitted that in spite of the volume of premonitions he received, "the case for precognition is still not incontrovertibly established. Human disaster reactors require much further study."

Curiously, all premonitions reported have been about tragic events. Why? Dr. Krippner explains:

"There is much evidence that these people do foresee happy happenings, too. But they interpret the happy incidents as more normal and natural, so they don't pay much attention to them. It's the disasters that arouse their senses. These dire premonitions are written down."

As to how some people are capable of forecasting the future, Dr. Krippner theorizes:

"Our notion of the dividing line between the present and future is probably incorrect. We interpret the present as being the exact moment when something is going on. In reality, however, the 'present' for an event may come within a wider span of time. There are forces at work now that will probably not become obvious for a year or two. Then, when an event does take place, in retrospect we realize it was part of the present."

If all adds up to a most-tantalizing puzzle,

And David? Two years ago he described himself to me as... self-centered and egotistical. I don't get along with people." I found that to be an honest appraisal then—but not so valid today. Marriage mellowed him.

In a sense he has come to depend on Gayle to free him from himself, to bring him from self-centeredness into a world of outside interests.

Gayle and David met at a party in 1966 and claim they fell in love immediately. Then came a comedy of marriages—though neither of them sees the comic aspect. David told me in 1967 that they would get married several times "just to make sure." One ceremony was supposedly performed by themselves on a yacht off Italy. After several so-called "marriages," they joined in Nov. 16, 1968.

Their estrangement, says Gayle, came because "... we faced a difficult situation, one we couldn't cope with. David was starting a new movie company then, and the pressures were unbearable. There were misunderstandings which led to enormous rows. At the time, neither of us was in a position emotionally to come to terms. The months of separation made me realize, though, we couldn't live apart—yet it was only a near-tragedy that brought us together."

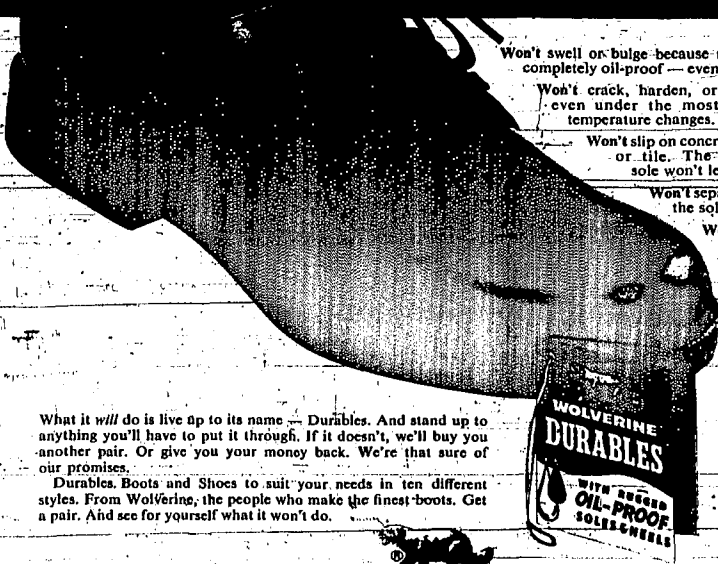

What next for Gayle and David? "I'm sure our marriage will work out," Gayle says. "I need to be David's wife. If I had to choose between being a woman alone and successful and a woman married to David and unsuccessful—well, I'd take David."

What's Behind the Boom in Mobile Homes?

Today's mobile-home park has all the facilities of a well-planned suburb.

DUE LARGELY to the critical need for low-cost housing, some 340,000 mobile homes are expected to be produced in 1969. They will account for approximately 80 percent of new, single-family dwellings valued up to $15,000.

Tom Johnston was reading aloud to his wife from an item in The Wall Street Journal, as part of a discussion about the purchase of their first home. A home had become a must for the Johnstons. Ellen was pregnant, and Tom had received a salary increase recently. Nevertheless, the Johnstons know that their savings were not enough for a house.

Ellen interrupted Tom with, "I don't know if I'd like living in a trailer park." But Tom continued with such statistics as "1968's average mobile home is 12 feet wide by 60 feet long, has 684 square feet of living space, and retails for $6,700, furnished."

The Johnstons were learning about a modern housing phenomenon—the boom in mobile-home living. They soon would learn, too, what's behind the boom: the crush of inflation on young and elderly couples.

Tom's persistence prompted them to investigate a new mobile-home subdivision located a short distance out of town.

The Johnstons walked through the well-planned—paved streets, lined with houses with garages, wood siding, bricklike fronts, floor-to-ceiling windows, shutters, carports, and porches. "This is all very impressive," Ellen said, "but they cost at least $20,000."

The Johnstons were in for some surprises. The model home came fully equipped with a 30-inch kitchen stove and a 12-cubic foot refrigerator in a choice of colors; it came completely furnished, including wall-to-wall carpeting. This was even a choice of décor.

This particular model had 1,440 square feet of living space, cost $10,800, as shown, plus an average of $45 a month park rental charges and $10 a month for utilities. It required a down payment of 20 percent.

As for the financing of a mobile home, Robert L. Wallace, vice president of Universal G.I.T. Credit Corporation, leader in this type of financing, says, "Mobile homes are purchased on the installment plan in much the same way as automobiles. The only difference is that a larger sum of money is involved, and the buyer has a longer period of time to complete payments."

Couples like the Johnstons contributed to the mobile-home boom. A mobile home not only met their budget requirements but answered their need for convenience, a reputable neighborhood, automobile parking space, service and facilities, and good management—even suburban atmosphere. Far from the "trailer park" Ellen had expected to find.

A Lunch That's Sunny Bright!

A tray of Peaches and Cream Cheese Salad squares with a bowl of orange dressing is set on a colorful yellow cloth for luncheon.

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Let nature's own colorful yellows and oranges—as found in egg yolks, peaches, lemons, and oranges—brighten your luncheon menu. Flowers, tablecloth, and favors can accent this sunshine theme.

Peaches and Cream Cheese Salad

- 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) cling peach slices
- Cantaloupe or honeydew melon (about 3 cups purée)
- 1½ cups cold water
- 2½ to 3 tablespoons (3 env.) unflavored gelatin
- 1-tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1-tablespoon grated onion
- 1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese (for eight balls)
- Roasted dried almonds

1. Using an electric blender as manufacturer directs, only mash peaches with syrup, adding about one third of the contents of the can at a time to the blender container. As peaches are mashed, turn into a large bowl. Purée enough meat from melon to make 3 cups. Turn purée into the bowl with peaches.

2. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over water in a heavy saucepan. Stir over low heat until gelatin is dissolved. Blend in fruit mixture along with sugar, seasoned salt, and onion. Turn into a 13x9-in. pan. Chill until partially set (see Decorative Topping) or until firm.

3. Meanwhile, shape cheese into balls and roll in almonds. Cover and chill.

4. Cut salad into squares. Place on salad greens. Top with cheese balls.

5. Accompany with Orange Salad Dressing; lemon-buttered French-style green beans topped with sliced hard-cooked egg yolks; potato chips; and olives. And for dessert a yellow or gold cake.

8 to 12 servings

Decorative Topping—A 1-lb. can cling peaches will be needed for about 24 slices. When mixture in pan is partially set, carefully place drained peach slices at regular intervals, allowing two slices per serving (see photo). Chill until set.

Orange Salad Dressing

- ¾ cup sugar
  - 1-tablespoon salt
  - 1-tablespoon dry mustard
  - ¼ cup orange juice
  - ¼ cup light corn syrup
  - 2-tablespoons tarragon vinegar
  - ½-tablespoon grated onion
  - ¾ cup salad oil
1. Mix sugar, salt, and dry mustard together in a small bowl. Add remaining ingredients, except oil, and beat with a rotary-type beater until blended.
  2. Very gradually add the oil while beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture is of desired consistency. Chill.
  3. Stir before serving.

About 1½ cups dressing

Zesty Asparagus-Celery Soup

- 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of asparagus soup
- 1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of celery soup
- 1 soup can milk
- 1 soup can water
- 1-tablespoon basil, crushed
- 2-tablespoons lemon juice
- ½-tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½-tablespoon grated onion

1. Blend soups in a saucepan; gradually add milk and water, stirring until blended. Mix in remaining ingredients.

2. Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Pour into small cups and sprinkle with grated lemon peel and snipped watercress. Set cups on individual serving trays and serve with assorted crackers.

Why We Must Win the Race Against German Measles

TINY five-year-old Betty, born hard of hearing and with a heart disorder, has to go to a school for the deaf. With many of her classmates, similarly or otherwise afflicted, she may be regarded as in the Rubella Class of '64.

Betty is one of the 30,000 surviving youngsters born handicapped after the devastating rubella (German measles) epidemic that swept the nation five years ago.

On the basis of past cycle trends, another widespread outbreak of German measles is expected to strike some time next year. In a dramatic race to forestall the coming epidemic, medical scientists have been rushing to perfect safe and sure-fire anti-rubella vaccines.

Within the next few months, one or more vaccines should receive the necessary go-ahead license from the Federal Division of Biologics Standards. When that red-letter day comes, it will be one of the biggest medical news breaks of the year. It will signal the start of a mass vac-ination of 20 million children, a monumental project which is being prepared by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

What will this mean to parents, particularly to mothers-to-be? An we all know, this viral disease is usually mild and relatively harmless in children. They get a rash for a few days, fever, some muscular pain, swelling in the neck, and a slight headache. But the infection is contagious, the virus spreading—through the mouth and nose—by close personal contact. The chief danger is to expectant mothers.

When the disease hits, especially during the first three months of pregnancy—but also later, the virus can attack the unborn child's growing organs—the ears, eyes, heart, and brain. One out of four of these babies dies before birth, and as many as half who survive will have one or more birth defects. The infant may be born with cataracts or glaucoma, hepatitis or bone marrow disease, and he may be mentally retarded as well.

The 1964 rubella epidemic, the greatest in a generation, affected an estimated 10 million Americans. Nearly 250,000 were pregnant women. According to one study, about 30,000 babies died before birth, and many thousands more succumbed early in infancy.

Until now, measures to prevent the damage of rubella have depended largely on therapeutic abortion and gamma globulin immunization; the effectiveness of which is questionable. Inevitably, the ravages of the '64 epidemic spurred an all-out drive for a reliable vaccine. Among those zeroing in on the search were 12 university medical centers, eight pharmaceutical companies, and five industrial-research labs, all coordinated by the National Institutes of Health.

While several rubella virus strains have been isolated for study, in the national interest, the concentration is mainly on a single virus strain—HPV-77—developed by NIH scientists. (HPV-77 stands for High Passage Virus—77 passages in tissue cultures to grow it.) This is a "live" virus vaccine, considered more effective than a "killed" type.

The HPV-77 strain was made available to scientists and drug manufacturers. Vaccines were made up from duck embryo tissue culture by Merck & Co. and from dog kidney tissue by Phillips Roxane Inc.; another firm, Smith Kline & French, working with an independent rubella strain originating in Belgium, grows its vaccine in rabbit kidney tissues. One university is growing still another rubella strain in human embryonic lung tissues.

The most intensive effort has focused on HPV-77. In testing, scientists at first feared that vaccinated children might transmit the virus to their mothers. That fear has now been allayed in one mass test after another.

In two suburbs of Philadelphia, for example, 265 children received the Merck vaccine. None of their mothers, sisters, or brothers came down with German measles. Among them were 18 pregnant mothers, who showed no sign that they had picked

Rubella is a killer or deformer of the unborn, and a 1970 epidemic is predicted; science, however, is rushing a vaccine which may save thousands up the infection, despite intimate contact with their children. Similar results were achieved in Washington, D.C., and elsewhere.

With the suburban youngsters, as well as in tests in Danbury, Conn., Tolowa, N.J., and other communities, close to 100-percent protection against rubella was obtained. This was clearly demonstrated when a German measles epidemic erupted in New Jersey eight months after children were inoculated. At two schools, three out of five unvaccinated children came down with the maldy, but those vaccinated were immune.

Will the vaccine work when used during an epidemic? Last year, in the midst of a raging outbreak in Taiwan, a U.S. Public Health Service medical team inoculated more than 800 boys, using vaccines from American drug firms. More than 90 percent of these boys did not get rubella, while half of the unvaccinated contracted it.

To obtain Government approval, an experimental vaccine generally must have been tried successfully on at least 10,000 persons. Thus far, more than 30,000 Americans have been tested with new rubella vaccines, including 18,000 with Merck's alone. One or more licenses should be granted any day now. It's still too early to tell whether a "shot" will confer long-term immunity or need boosters. So far, children vaccinated three years ago are still protected.

In some studies with adult women, however, a vaccine occasionally produced some mild arthritis-like symptoms, which soon disappeared entirely.

When vaccines are approved, not only will small children be inoculated but also perhaps teen-age girls. At first, they'll be used by pediatricians in private practices. Then, as production soars, the vaccines will go into the Government-sponsored nationwide immunization campaign. Some doctors may vaccinate wives if they are not pregnant at the time and will not become pregnant soon.

The ultimate goal, through vaccination of the nation's children (the "carriers"), is to wipe out German measles entirely in the U.S. Then even women who hadn't received the vaccine themselves would be safeguarded.

At least we should be all set for next year's rubella onslaught. Hopefully, before long, German measles—and the dread birth defects it causes—will become as uncommon as polio today. ☐

World's Fastest Way to Remove Stomach Bulge!

Designed by a leading physician to help carve inches off your waist line (without diet or weight loss) in less time than it takes you to smoke a single cigarette every day!

How? In a completely different way than you have ever dreamed possible before... as easily and logically as this:

Builds You An Invisible "Muscle-Girdle" That Automatically Holds In Your Waist-Line, AT THE SAME TIME THAT IT STRENGTHENS YOUR LOWER BACK!

Quite frankly, the development of the SLIM-WHEEL is based on one simple fact: That the Number One Sign of Aging (and the Number One Cause of the low-back pain that makes you fat) is well as look-ten years older than your age) is the bulging, protruding, bloated-looking stomach that sets in your twenties—and destroys your posture, your appearance, and your vitality from that moment on.

What causes this bulging stomach? Gravity! The fact that the older you grow, the more gravely pulls down your internal organs—presses them against those weak stomach muscles—draws your lower spine forward, twisting it hopelessly out of line.

And what can you do about this bulging stomach, to pull it back and flat again, permanently? Only one thing, of course—EXERCISE! The kind of exercise that builds you a permanent muscle-girdle along around that vital mid-section—that coaxes those internal organs back where they should be—that straightens that terribly-vulnerable spine right up again—and then gives you the DAY-LONG HOLDING POWER to keep that mid-section flat and hard and firm and straight, right up until the very hours of the morning! If you decide to go out and do the town!

Now, there are dozens of good exercises that will do this for you. But—until today—almost all of them had a "hidden handicap" that kept them from giving you the real benefits you need for your stomach!

You could, for example, jog. But jogging is mainly an exercise for your lungs and legs, and you would have to rely almost on it for at least a half hour a day before it could pull in your stomach.

You could try knee bends, toe touches, and other standing exercises. But they still take ten to fifteen precious minutes a day, and they can easily injure your back.

Or—even better—you can try sit-ups or a slant board. Ten minutes a day will do here. But again, all your weight is focused right on that lower back—and you can be terribly hurt.

Or—now, this very best way, and entirely at our risk—you can try a completely new kind of CONDENSSED exercise, in which you exercise ONLY the stomach bulging part of your "center-stomach"—the "inch that NOT ONE QUINCE OF WEIGHT presses down on your back"—and which you are ABSOLUTELY FORBIDDEN to do more than two or three seconds a day!

It's as simple as this—

First You Warm Up For 30 Seconds. Then You Exercise For 60 Seconds. Then You Admire Yourself All Day Long!

This Muscle-Girdle Exercise Plan consists of a simple wheel with a handle through it, and an ingenious, medically-developed and medically-proven idea.

What you do, every morning for two exhilarating minutes, is this: You put the wheel on the floor and stand above it. Take a deep breath and greet the morning, in two minutes you'll be in your shower or at breakfast, and it's going to be a wonderful day. You'll prove that, for yourself, in the next thirty seconds—

Now, put your hands on your hips and do the simple shoulder-warm-up you show you. You do it three times with the left shoulder, and three times with the right. You don't bend from the hips. You don't twist your spine. There is no conscious exertion. You won't even take a deep breath. But you will warm up and loosen your stomach muscles; you will feel better; and you'll be ready to zip right through your real exercise.

Now get down on your knees. Take the handle of the SLIM-WHEEL in your hands. Roll out the wheel as far as you can comfortably stretch. In the way we show you. Then roll it back again. That's it! You've done it! Five more times in the morning... six times at night... and you're finished!

(Later, you'll work your way up to twenty times. To do any more would simply be ridiculous.)

Now—what happened in those five or six little wheel-out wheel-in exercises? Quite simply, you have stretched tight, automatically, without any effort! Quite simply, you have stretched tight, automatically, without any effort! Quite simply, you have stretched tight, automatically, without any effort! Quite simply, you have stretched tight, automatically, without any effort!

But stop you must, because that's all you'll need at the beginning! Because this exercise will only work for you, if you do it EVERY SINGLE DAY! And that's why it's been made so simple... so easy... so quick! So you can do it every single day in less time than it takes you to smoke a cigarette and get one of those benefits to boot!

You May Have To Buy A New Wardrobe— BUT YOU MAY ALSO BE ABLE TO THROW AWAY THAT BREATING PAD FOR YOUR BACK!

Of course you'll look slimmer, in a mere week or two. Of course you'll have to start taking in clothes—one inch...two inches...three inches... maybe four. Of course friends will start pestering you—to find out what kind of "diet" could take off that kind of bulge, that quickly, without ceasing in your face!

These are all the obvious benefits. But there are even deeper and more meaningful benefits—that will stay with you for years. There's the marvelous feeling of control, and looking younger again. There's the eternal all-over better tone of your mid section, that may mean fewer stomach-aches and less indigestion for you.

But most of all, there's the drain-off of back pain and back-aching fatigue, that could take ten years off the way you feel! Nothing drains vitality as much as a back that's too weak to carry you through the day! Nothing kills sleep as much as a back that's too tired to stop muscular and no pills, no braces, no belts will ever do as much good for your back as this continuous, gentle, strengthening, muscle-girdle-building exercise that protects you for the rest of your life!

Try It Entirely At Our Risk!

The entire cost of this complete SLIM-WHEEL is only $7.98. You try it for one full month entirely at our risk. If you are not delighted in every way, of course, every cent of your money will be returned at once.

No one deserves a fat stomach! Why not get rid of yours—today!

I accept your invitation. Please accept me as a member of the Capitol Record Club and send me the six FREE RECORDS listed. I've indicated my first purchase for which you will bill me $4.98 plus a small shipping charge. I agree to buy just six more albums of my choice at the regular Club price during the next year — from more than 300 a month to be offered. All records will be shipped in stereo, also playable on most mono phonographs. The music I like best is:

Easy Listening | Classical | Country & Western
 Popular Vocalists | Movies & Shows | Teen | Jazz
