the medical college hospital.

Abernathy said he is ready to meet with McNair "anywhere, any time" to discuss settlement of the labor dispute.

"As governor of this state, he has the duty and the responsibility to see that Local 1192 is recognized as the bargaining agent of the poor and black people of South Carolina," Abernathy said.

"I am staying here until it is recognized."

Before the rally, the demonstrators had marched again to the college hospital. Abernathy dismissed most of the march because of his late arrival in Charleston. He joined the marchers for the final quarter-mile walk to the church.

Abernathy appealed for a school boycott.

"Go back home and tell your mother and father that Ralph Abernathy said you are a traitor if you go to school," he said, "and the youths can't get more money by hanging up and marching with Local 1192 than you can in any schoolroom in Charleston."

Friday night was the fourth night of a 9 p.m. to 4 a.m. curfew enforced by about 800 National Guardsmen—and 400 state police officers. McNair has given no indication when the curfew will be repealed.

Court Will Examine Vote Requirements

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agreed today to examine the contention that millions of Americans are unfairly deprived of a vote in presidential elections by trying to meet residency requirements.

The court will hear arguments and hand down a written decision next term. The suit at least challenges Idaho's residency requirement of six months in order to vote for president.

The Supreme Court on April 21 struck down state one-year residency requirements for welfare and at the time Chief Justice Earl Warren in dissent suggested that the decision might have ramifications involving residence requirements for voting.

The voting suit was brought by a lawyer and his wife, Richard and Christine Hall. Shortly after they moved from Colorado Springs, in mid-1968, they found they would be ineligible to vote in either state in last November's presidential election.

Bright Buoy

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (UPI)—New answers to the mysteries of weather may be possible, thanks to a self-operating electronic buoy named "Sea Robin" now being tested near Bermuda.

Studied with 10 different recording instruments, the buoy can transmit its weather findings via satellite and by radio to distant recording centers.

Scientists from General Electric's Missile and Space Division here believe a network of the buoys, spread across wide ocean areas, could permit major improvements in weather forecasting.

New Jersey Skipper Talks About Crew

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The skipper of the USS New Jersey, the world's only active battleship, said "only an idiot would not send the New Jersey back to the Far East if the Vietnam hostilities remained at the current level."

Capt. J. Edward Snyder Jr. of Fairfax, Va., spoke of his pride and with pride in a radiotelephone interview as the huge battleship steamed toward its home port.

Hundreds of wives and children of the 1,553 officers and crew waited at the Long Beach Naval Station for the 56,000-ton ship to arrive home.

Many of them had waited at night and in the rain for the ship to arrive.

The New Jersey was first scheduled to arrive last April 18, but instead she was diverted back to Japan as the last minute felt toward North Korea after the downing of a Navy reconnaissance plane.

The ship's 1,553 crew members and their families were greeted by families unprepared, but residents of Long Beach offered shelter and the Navy offered financial assistance when funds ran low.

We're looking forward to it more than they are," Capt. Snyder said of the postponed return.

He called his crew, all volunteers, "the most magnificent crew I've ever had in my 28 years of naval service."

The New Jersey carries the world's largest naval guns, 16 inches in diameter, more than 20,000 rounds in 434 gun missions while patrolling the coastlines of both North and South Vietnam.

Snyder said if ground troops were asked to assess the effectiveness of the New Jersey, "they would say without exception the New Jersey offered something that no conventional weapons system could offer."

Army Is Told Of Defects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee revealed that the Army was alerted in mid-1967 about a defective part in its Cobra helicopters, the swift heavily armed gunship in Vietnam.

The Army began stepped-up inspections after discovering the tail rotor yoke of the AH-1 Cobra was subject to "metal fatigue," a general told the committee in a letter made available to the House.

The Army also began giving all Cobra fliers routine training in yoke-failure emergencies as well as simulated engine failure drills, the letter said.

The Bell Helicopter Co., maker of the Cobra, has developed an improved yoke which it has installed on the civilian version of the Cobra since last June, the letter said.

The Army, which helped Bell develop the new yoke, says this month-receiving supplies with which to replace the hazardous yoke on 600 Cobras in Vietnam, it was reported.

The House Armed Services Committee and Senate preparedness subcommittee made a trip to Vietnam last week. Army officer at Hunter Air Field near Savannah, Ga.

The informant told the committee (Ga.) "Evening there, was widespread belief among fliers that the Army knew of the defective yoke but was not taking corrective steps. The informant was asked to remain anonymous, claimed to have information that yoke failure from metal fatigue has caused "39 to 40" Cobra crashes.

A Pentagon spokesman told UPI that during fiscal 1968 there have been seven Cobra crashes or near crashes called "major accidents" and three still are being investigated.

Only one crash was blamed on a yoke failure. This occurred Dec. 17 during a level training flight near Hunter at about 400 feet altitude. The "90 degree gear assembly" flew off with a loud noise and the craft crashed. The Evening Press said two men were injured.

Accident records from Vietnam could not be obtained immediately but Pentagon sources told UPI the Cobra has a good record and is considered fully operational.

Youth, 17, Dies In Barrage Of Bullets After Fast Chase

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI) — A 17-year-old boy engaged in a high speed shootout with officers along 50 miles of Interstate 5 on Saturday was riddled with bullets when he turned his vehicle back to ram a sheriff's car.

Robert Bolden, Santa Cruz, Calif., died in a Medford hospital about an hour and a half after the chase ended.

In Bolden's small car officers found two kilos of marijuana, an estimated $500 in silver money and a clipping from a high school newspaper listing him as an expected minister of the track team.

The chase began near Weed, Calif., after a California Highway Patrolman spotted the youth driving erratically.

When the officer attempted to halt him, Bolden forced the officer's car into a parked truck and sped away. During the chase, officer Howard Allen of Yreka, facing a choice of ramming two other cars in a cloud of dust or hitting a bank, struck the bank and was injured.

Another police car was struck by bullets and a Jackson County, Ore., sheriff's car was dented when Bolden's car hit it.

During the chase, Bolden several times stopped his car on a curve and waited until officers came into view, then fired and drove away again.

At other times the tall, bushy-haired youth sat on the top of the seat of his small car, stuck his hand through the sun roof and fired as he drove.

A witness later counted nearly 50 rifle bullet holes and several shotgun shell marks in the youth's car. He died of multiple wounds in the head and upper body.

The clipping he carried in his wallet was dated March 7 and came from the Pioneer High School newspaper in Santa Cruz, Calif. It included Bolden's picture and an article which said: "Mississippi is expected to open his Utah visit with a speech today at Payson Junior High School."

He claims there is a plot to recruit campus youth in subversive movement to overthrow the U.S. government.

Gunnage's appearances are being sponsored by the "Truth About Civil Turmoil Committee." He will wind up his visit with a speech Friday at the Driggs Elementary School in Salt Lake City.

Infrared Glasses Help Get Thieves

NEW YORK (UPI) — Detectives equipped with "snoper" goggles, a battery of spotlights and a burglar alarm Sunday at the Manhattan townhouse of Harry S. Guggenheim, millionaire executive and philanthropist.

Three two-man detective teams followed the suspects, Alphouse Cinque, 51, and Robert "Big Boy" Giller, 39, to the townhouse and watched while they allegedly forced the inner vestibule door.

Cinque and Giller, both of whom have prior burglary records, had been under police surveillance for "months" of weeks. They were arrested in Grand Central Terminal, where police said they were placing about $3,000 in cash and property worth more than $7,000 in a coin locker.

The detectives used infrared glasses like military "snoper scopes" to follow the actions of the two suspects.

The loot included art works, jewelry and a pen inscribed "Best wishes, Lyndon Johnson" which was given to Guggenheim by the former President.

Guggenheim is the 70-year-old president and editor of the New York Island newspaper Newsday. He also owns the Cain Hoy (S.C.) racing stable, and he was in South Carolina at the time of the attempted burglary.

He also is president and director of the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation and a trustee of the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum in Manhattan. He was married to the late Alice Patterson, whose father, the late Joseph Medill Patterson, was the founder and publisher of the New York Daily News. Guggenheim was the U.S. Ambassador to Cuba from 1929 to 1933.

South Viets Get $1 Million Yearly For 'Non-War' Losses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States government has been paying the South Vietnamese people about $1 million a year to compensate for "non-battle" damages caused by American troops, Pentagon records show.

But it was impossible to determine how much more it cost the U.S. Treasury to pay for damages arising in combat. These claims are settled by the South Vietnamese government, which receives a great deal of financial aid from the United States.

The Pentagon said it had no figures on the amount paid out by the Saigon government for property damage, injuries or deaths to civilians. These payments "come under" the Saigon government's military civil action program, which receives support from American funds.

Thus if a U.S. Army jeep is traveling through a rubber plantation and a gasoline barrel rolls off and sets a fire, the United States pays compensation directly.

But if a South Vietnamese civilian is wounded by U.S. troops in a battle, or his crops are destroyed as the result of a battle, the payment is made by the South Vietnamese government.

Claims by the South Vietnamese have far exceeded payments by the U.S. government. In fiscal year 1968, for example, claims totalled $2.9 million but the amount paid out was $1.6 million.

In fiscal 1967, the United States paid out $692,000 in settlement of claims. For the ninth month-period which ended last April 1, a total of $852,000 was awarded.

Question...

Do I have to pay Federal Income Tax on the life insurance proceeds I received recently?

Answer...

Very probably the insurance you received is exempt from Federal Income Taxation. Insurance proceeds are usually paid-to-related beneficiaries-for-the-purpose of providing funds after the death of the insured. However, if the insurance money was paid to you in satisfaction of a debt, or for some other valuable consideration, then all or a portion of the money must be included in your gross income for Federal Income Tax purposes. This applies also to death benefits paid under accident and health insurance policies.

As a general rule, therefore, this money is tax-exempt if you are the surviving spouse or a relative of the insured and the insurance proceeds were paid in a lump sum to you as the beneficiary of the policy.

Heyburn Area Woman Hurt In Car Crash

RUPERT — A 56-year-old Heyburn woman escaped with only minor injuries early Sunday morning when a guard rail was rammed through the entire front of her car.

Mrs. Beulah Laycock is listed in good condition at Middletown Memorial Hospital where she was taken after she apparently fell asleep at the wheel of her 1960 Chevrolet while headed south on 200 W. about three and a half miles south of Rupert.

Mrs. Laycock apparently fell asleep as she traveled onto an overpass above Interstate 80N and her car went off the right side of the road, colliding with the guard rail. The rail then went through the left front of the car and out the right door.

No citations were issued.

Twins Commit Double Suicide

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twin 66-year-old sisters leaped hand-in-hand from the roof of their six-story Manhattan apartment house Sunday and died when their bodies landed in the dirt courtyard below. Hands still clasped.

Police theorize that the sisters, Mrs. Edna Slater and Mrs. Lillian Gross, were dependent over family illness — and the death of Mrs. Slater's husband several months ago.

Early Sunday Mrs. Slater went to her sister's fourth floor apartment in Washington Heights, and while Mrs. Gross's son Norman slept, the two sisters walked up two floors to the roof, and jumped, neighbors reported.

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A former undercover agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation and police intelligence is visiting Utah this week to give several speeches.

He claims there is a plot to recruit campus youth in subversive movement to overthrow the U.S. government.

JERUSALEM—Grandmotherly wisps of gray hair escape the loose bun, but that fleeing impression of gentle matron is overwhelmed by the bold, direct stare and the cold voice of authority—our U.S. pressures.

At one time in the early '50s Israel offered to accept 100,000 Palestinian refugees but no longer. With the growth of commando organizations dedicated to the destruction of Israel, as Mrs. Meir said, Israel will not admit a potential fifth column into her lands.

COMMENT

Police Situation

Idaho State Journal

Congress inevitably will press this year a debate on the Fifth Amendment and the rights of defendants in criminal actions. President Nixon may ask Congress to consider both an amendment to the Constitution and legislation that could undo some of the Supreme Court's controversial decisions in criminal cases.

The measure went on to allow police to hold a suspect in custody for up to six hours (or longer in certain circumstances) before arraignment and still obtain an admissible confession. And it provided for the admissibility of eyewitness testimony, even if the suspect had not been warned of his constitutional rights.

Protection against self-incrimination is the name of the Fifth Amendment, which provides that no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself.

With 90 per cent of the world's population now using the metric system of weights and measures, there can be little question that its universal adoption is only a matter of time.

It is beginning to appear that before long the United States and Canada will be the only major countries retaining a non-metric system.

The conversion to metric measurement is very difficult and expensive in an industrialized country.

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Since Lincoln: Four Are Slain

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Not long ago—a leading American political figure went on a one-day trip to make a public appearance. By careful design, there was no advance notice of his travels.

That may set something of a pattern for the politics of America from here on. The threat of assassination by radicals and other top figures is greater than it ever was.

Beginning with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the country has had six presidents. One, John F. Kennedy, was assassinated. Two others, Roosevelt himself and Harry Truman, had unsuccessful attempts made on their lives.

In his more than five years in office, Lyndon B. Johnson had some 6,000 written threats against his life. President Nixon surely will not be spared this same continuing menace.

Violence and high politics have long been linked in this nation, as witness the fact that one-fifth of our 20 presidents since Abraham Lincoln's time have been murdered in office.

The 1968 killings of Robert F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. are reminders that the danger does not stop at the White House.

Writing recently in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, political scientist Sidney J. Slomich and clinical psychologist Robert L. Kantor suggested that the rise of charismatic figures like Roosevelt, the Kennedys and King at crisis periods in history tends to heighten the prospect of assassination.

The man with charisma is, by definition, a person who by his very appearance and presence sends a sense of hope and promise to millions at a time of crisis.

But the Slomich-Kantor theme is that potential political assassins not only suffer a feeling of hopelessness, but actually develop a vested interest in supporting their—despair.

Maternal Deaths

Eugene Register-Guard

The Oregon Senate is expected to vote on a liberalized abortion law. Opponents are sure to base their arguments on the morality of abortion. That is begging the question.

Abortions are available now—in foreign countries for those who can afford them, in cheap motels for those who can't. In the metric system, the Journal of Criminal Criminology and Police Science, published by the Northwestern University Law School, Harvey L. Ziff has a written 23-page discussion of the problem. Among his observations:

"You've Come A Long Way, Baby?"

Strange Disease

GEORGE C. THOSTON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please comment on polyarteritis, causes, treatment, cure if any.

Polyarteritis is a strange disorder of the arteries. I call it "strange" because we have never seen a Scout uniform, a cur, and because it occurs several causes, and because it manifests itself in several ways.

This Is A Fender-Bender?

That's the name common in police and newspaper circles for routine automobile accidents in which there are no serious injuries. Policemen and newspaper people see lots of such accidents and are usually unimpressed. If you happen to be one of the principals involved, however, and the owner of a car that winds up looking like this, it impresses you as considerably more than a "fender-bender." This 1968 Opel, owned by Mrs. Miry Draper, 28, Murtaugh, is listed on the police wreck report as being "totaled." This is also a common usage among police and newspaper people when the cost of fixing a damaged car would be more than the list price of the car. Again, however, if it's your car, you may feel differently about whether the car is demolished. Only the front end of the Opel was damaged when it and a 1961 Chevrolet, driven by Patricia A. Cogwell, 31, Twin Falls, collided Friday morning at Second Street West and Third Avenue West. Only minor injuries occurred.

Black Militants Interrupt Service

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Negro leader interrupted the Sunday morning communion service at Riverside Church to denounce the predominantly white congregation with a list of demands for massive financial contributions.

James Forman, an official of a small militant group, the National Black Economic Development Conference, denounced the annual income, other funds from pensions, retirement and investment programs and affiliated radio and television.

Forman pushed his way to the front of the church and began to read his demands after a hymn that began the 11 a.m. service.

When he persisted, the pastor, Dr. Ernest Campbell, led his six fellow ministers and a blue-robed choir of 60 down the aisle and out of the church. He returned about 15 minutes later.

Confused by the unorthodox events, many of the congregation of 1,500 walked to the rear of the church, which is affiliated with the American Baptist Convention and the United Church of Christ. Most returned a few minutes later.

The black speaker, who wore a gray suit and carried a fancy cane as he spoke, left with three supporters to attend a rally at the City College of New York, where black and Puerto Rican students have kept the campus shut down for nearly two weeks over a dispute over admissions policies and an ethnic studies program.

Hansen Will Visit Idaho This Week

BOISE (UPI)—A former Republican Congressman, now a deputy administrator in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is due to visit Idaho this week.

According to Woodrow I. Rasmussen, state agricultural stabilization and conservation service executive director, George V. Hansen will arrive in Boise Wednesday, May 7, for a visit to the Idaho State ASCS office.

Thursday, Hansen will attend a special ceremony at Ricks College, Reckburg. He is a Ricks College graduate.

An "ASCS observation tour" honoring the former 2nd district congressman is planned for Friday, May 8. Hansen will observe field results involving the application of ASCS programs and talk to farmers.

The tour includes stops in Boise, Pocatello and Bingham. As deputy administrator of ASCS, Hansen is in charge of state and county operation in administration of farm action programs of USDA.

Among these are the wheat and feed grain programs; the agricultural conservation program; the commodity price supports; farm storage facility loans; wool and sugar programs; and emergency programs.

Hansen, because of his farm background, served on the House Agriculture Committee during the 89th and 90th Congresses. He was deputy under secretary for congressional relations before being appointed to the ASCS position on April 3, 1968.

In 1968, Hansen was the unsuccessful Republican nominee for U.S. House of Representatives. Senator Frank Church, D-Idaho, defeated him.

Marshall Speaks On Anarchy

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The first Negro justice of the U.S. Supreme Court said Sunday "anarchy is anarchy is anarchy."

"It makes no difference who practices it," said Associate Justice Thurgood Marshall. "It is bad, it is punishable and it should be punished."

Marshall, referring to himself as a Negro and not a "black man," denounced black militants and said "nobody will be settled with guns, firebombs and rocks."

"It's time for the good thinking people to realize that black separatism breeds anarchy," Marshall told an overflow, predominantly Negro crowd at Dillard University's centennial celebration.

"Some of us old folks here can remember when a proposal was made to give Negroes a state, and who proposed it?" Marshall asked the crowd. "The Communist party, that's who, so that's nothing new."

Marshall, who rose in prominence as director of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, said while he believed black was indeed beautiful, he did not agree that it was the only color that was beautiful.

"I think we Negro Americans have just as many beautiful people in mind and body, as well as skin, as any other group and that we have just as many thinkers as any other group," he said.

"Certainly so far as race problems and minority rights go, the problems are not yet solved and I have no idea when they will be," the justice said. "Sure we're frustrated. There

Peace Corps Chief Plans Task Force To Shake Up Volunteers

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Joseph H. Blatchford, who becomes the new director of the Peace Corps today, plans to recruit a task force to shake up the volunteer service and revitalize it.

Blatchford, 34, who becomes the youngest agency chief in the Nixon administration, is the former executive director of Action International, a private volunteer organization operating in Latin America.

In an interview with UPI, Blatchford said he hopes to bring together a task force of young men to give the corps a going-over. He also plans to leave May 9 or 10 for a two-week tour of Libya, Kenya and Iran in search of "fresh ideas" about Peace Corps operations in Africa and the Middle East—two areas with which he is not directly familiar.

He expects to present the President with recommendations after about 30 days on the job.

Blatchford, who maintained an office in the Peace Corps headquarters prior to his Senate confirmation last Thursday, has already developed a number of impressions and attitudes about the agency which came to life during the "New Frontier" days of President John F. Kennedy.

Blatchford said Corps recruitment dropped during the last months of the Johnson administration.

He looks forward to broadening the base of the Corps by recruiting beyond young college graduates and more towards other sections of the American working population who have attained a greater level of professional qualification.

France's Reserves Nosedive

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI) — France's dwindling gold and foreign currency reserves took another $12 million nosedive in April, the French government announced today.

Disclosing for the first time since Charles de Gaulle's April 7 defeat and resignation, the Finance Ministry said the total April drain was $12.1 million. It did not indicate how much of this was the result of a panic rush to sell francs and buy gold, U.S. dollars and West German marks in the 24 hours after De Gaulle's defeat.

The announcement said France's reserves April 30 totaled $4.7 billion.

This meant France has lost between one-third and one-half of her original gold and foreign currency reserves defending the franc since the student rioting and general strike last May.

The government announcement was made as France's leftist parties, torn by internal dissent, split in feuding that their leaders warned could bring former Gaullist Premier Georges Pompidou to Elysee Palace. They called for party unity.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This writer is an ex-policewoman and knows that what you printed about marijuana and drugs are the straight facts.

I was recently asked, "what would YOU do if you found your son or daughter using marijuana?" I replied, "I would ask the chief of police to show my child a prison who was coming off narcotics, 'cold turkey'."

Secondly, "What would you do if you found your child using LSD?" My reply: "I would ask the judge to sentence my child to the state hospital, not as a patient, but to care for some of the teen-aged patients who are incapable of feeding themselves, or keeping themselves clean, but just lie there, and stare at the ceiling with unseeing eyes."

I believe that a picture is worth 10,000 words. Please accept my congratulations, Abby, on a fine letter. Very sincerely yours,

C. B. TUCSON, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: Your pitch about marijuana and drugs was one-sided. All you had to do was necessarily wind up on the heavier stuff. I know something about this trade for a number of years, though I have never been an addict, and wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot needle.

The idea that dope pushers are lurking around school grounds trying to sell dope to kids is ridiculous. It's not sold that way. It is sold strictly through contacts. A guy would have to be out of his mind to approach a strange kid. The Fed's would be on his neck in 10 minutes.

Abby, if you really want to help kids, tell their PARENTS that kids turn to dope because they've been put down, belittled and ignored. Kids prefer scorn to disapproval and being ignored. Parents who raise their children in a stable environment with love and understanding will never have to worry about drugs. I have seen what it does to people, and I wouldn't wish the habit on my worst enemy. And believe me I have plenty. NO NAME OR TOWN PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: I have had an almost abnormal fear of dope addiction ever since I was 17, and I'm glad that you've written bravely that will haunt me to my grave.

I saw a 19-year-old kid who needed a fix of dope, so desperately, he CARRIED his 17-year-old sister into a room to have sex relations with a man. (She was too sick and weak to walk, so he carried her there.)

After major surgery I laid in agony rather than to take the painkillers. My doctor would ask the chief of police to show my child a prison who was coming off narcotics, 'cold turkey'.

Secondly, "What would you do if you found your child using LSD?" My reply: "I would ask the judge to sentence my child to the state hospital, not as a patient, but to care for some of the teen-aged patients who are incapable of feeding themselves, or keeping themselves clean, but just lie there, and stare at the ceiling with unseeing eyes."

I believe that a picture is worth 10,000 words. Please accept my congratulations, Abby, on a fine letter. Very sincerely yours,

C. B. TUCSON, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: No one can tell me that marijuana is not physically harmful. My 18-year-old son admitted he's been smoking "grass" since he was 14!

Today, he can't pour a glass of orange juice without spilling it all over the table. Also, his eyes, which once were clear and bright, are now chronically bloodshot. And he can't sit for 30 minutes without going to the bathroom.

HEARTSICK DAD IN L. A.

DEAR ABBY: It is ironic that in your hysterical warnings you fail to mention the single legitimate argument against smoking "grass" — it is ILLEGAL, and the user is liable for ridiculously severe penalties, not to mention the record of a felony conviction in most states. Moreover, to knowingly and willfully break a law, any law — even one that makes it so much easier to break other laws in the future. The resulting disrespect for legitimate authority has become all too common of late.

Hollister Woman Is State Winner At Gem T.O.P.S. Meet

Jean Miller was named state winner in Division No. 4 at the T.O.P.S. state recognition meeting held recently in Boise. Mrs. Miller belongs to the Hollister T.O.P.S. Club.

She was also the yearly queen of her club and attained these honors by losing a total of 71 1/2 pounds from March 4, 1968, to Dec. 31, 1968. Mrs. Miller went from 191 pounds to 119 1/2 pounds to win this honor.

At Boise, Mrs. Miller was presented a corsage for graduating as a K.O.P.S., of which you must attend your weight goal for a period of three months. The next night, Mrs. Miller received another corsage and trophy for being the state winner in Division No. 4.

The Hollister T.O.P.S. Club received the State Plaque Award for its members losing the most pounds per member in the state. Mrs. Steve Pastoor is leader of the group.

There are more than 2,700 people belonging to the T.O.P.S. Clubs in Idaho and approximately 500 attended the state meeting in Boise.

Recipes Went To Her Waist

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mrs. Barbara Wisstoker, working on a soon-to-be published cook book titled "From Generation to Generation," gained 30 pounds while testing and tasting the results of her cooking.

She has since dropped down to her normal weight.

The book on Jewish cooking is being put together by the sisterhood of B'nai Amoona congregation. It comes out this spring.

Weight Loss Recorded By Measure-Ups

A 51 1/2 pound weight loss was recorded for the week when the T.O.P.S. Measure-Ups met recently.

This was compared to a 91 pound loss for the group for the same month of April. Evelyn Arnhardt was "Queen of the Week." A review of the month for the club showed Marlene Magee winning weight honors to be named "Queen of the Month." Weekly queens included Dorothy Buck, Marie Harding, Marlene Magee and Sadie DeCale.

Donna Staylor, leader, announced the chairman. They include Cleo Robinson, assistant weight recorder; Sue Orr, scales manager; Doris Babin, business and photographer; Marlene Magee, program; Dixie Gavett, sponsor; Wilma Eastman, luncheon chairman; Beverly Kantson, gift chairman; Marie Harding, local foods and consequences; La Verne McKinstler, spracook and publicity; Mae Sterner, name tags; Loreta Snow, Collins, Rena Collins, pledge chairman; and Lucille Wilcock, banners.

A program by Mrs. Alice Reed, home extension agent, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Edwards, was presented, showing the various ways of wearing scarves. Mrs. Reed, using Mrs. Eldredge as her model, demonstrated how a basic dress can be "dressed up or down." She demonstrated morning shopping, luncheon, afternoon wedding and evening accessories, making the ensemble completely different each time.

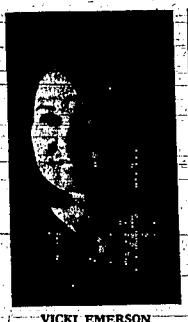

Virginia Bingham modeled the outfit she purchased with the check presented her from the club. This was part of her yearly queen award. She was the club's only KOP graduate in Boise and she also modeled the graduation cap, banner, and diploma presented to her at SRD Days in Boise.

Dorothy Buck was winner of the model contest and a "budget" contest has been set up for May. Wilma Eastman and Evelyn Arnhardt were the first week winners. The club has welcomed five new members.

Adoption Of Monkey Helped Woman Have Her First Child

OUR NAME GAME MAN is no woman over age 67 is named Adeline. . . IS IT TRUE that Peter-Paul-Gandy-company several weeks ago stopped making such a monkey business like this caption in search of a cartoon: "Keep the baby. Faith. . . IF YOU WANT to get back into the monkey way—know them first. . . IT IS COMMON Broadway condition that the ideal showgirl should be 5-foot-6½ inches tall. . . MATERNITY. . . When this wife at the age of 38 still bore no offspring, her doctor advised her to buy an infant monkey. . . He said such a monkey would require diapering and bottle feeding, and those chores would do much for the lady's frame of mind, relaxing her possibly even so greatly as to allow her to bear a child. "So I did as directed," she writes, "and a year ago, last autumn, my husband and I had our first baby, a beautiful daughter."
HOW LONG does it take you to brush your teeth? How many strokes do you use? One minute and a half is about average. With approximately 250 strokes. Or so I'm told. Hard to check that personally. The habit comes unraveled if you think about it. . . IN INDIA LIVES a tribe called the Todas, the husbands of which are permitted to appropriate their wives each entertain several lovers. Our Love and War man is looking into the matter to determine whether the matrimonial life of the Todas is generally happy or sad as a result thereof. . . MAGIC—Among the most baffling of magic tricks was that one wherever possible in "Checking Up." British Decry Elegance Of New 'Queen'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tradition dies hard in Great Britain. British reaction to the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth II, currently on the North Atlantic and heading for a triumphant May 7 maiden docking in New York City, reflects this fact.

"She's a magnificent ship but doesn't have the warmth and elegance of the old Queen of the Mary" was the comment of this newsman heard time and again while aboard the QE2 on its first commercial voyage.

Translate that means the British don't like their liners designed and geared for American travelers. And Cunard officials admit openly that the $72 million liner was built to attract American dollars.

"We fully expect 75 per cent of the revenue to come from Americans," said one Cunard official as the Queen recently rode at anchor off Tenerife in the Canaries.

Seasick passengers complained that the QE2's ceilings were too low, her bathtubs too short, the aluminum which has replaced much of the traditional wood too cold, the menus too restricted when compared with previous liners and some of the public rooms "too super dooper, need some toning down, don't you know." One steward who had served aboard the previous Queen-for-25-years said, "She's a good one, alright, but not in the same class with the old Lizzie."

One British passenger summed up his feeling about the "Americanization" of the Queen by noting that the first class dining room was named Columbia, as in Columbia gem of the ocean.

"And how about the name of the second class dining room?" asked Gilbert Hankinson, retired Sandiway, Cheshire.

"Britanna... that's what they named the second-class room." When the Queen arrives in New York Harbor the morning, welcome.
