The dog, apparently the victim of senseless and savage vandals, was apparently abandoned to die under the wheels of a truck. However, after a period of recuperation, the puppy, now appropriately named Lucky, has been given to Karen Hoffman of Chicago, whose own dog recently died. Both pup and owner seem to regard themselves as lucky. (UPI telephoto)

U.S. Jets Hit North Vietnam After Unarmed Plane Downed

SAIGON (UPI) — American warplanes bombed North Vietnam for the first time on record in six months today, raiding an aircraft gunner who shot down an unarmed U.S. photo plane, military spokesman said.

U.S. Air Force F4 Phantoms and F105 fighters on the guns near Dong Hoi, a North Vietnamese port on the South China Sea 40 miles above the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

The jets were escorting an unarmed Phantom taking pictures of the flow of men and supplies down North Vietnam's main road toward the South. Ground fire hit the photo plane and it turned out to sea.

There, the two crewmen bailed out and were picked up by a rescue helicopter. Headquarters said one was taken to a hospital ship but the other escaped the ordeal without serious injury.

Spokesmen had no report on how much damage the two armed escorts did in their retaliatory raids against the ground gunners. The bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1 but photo flights with armed escorts have continued.

It was the fifth American plane lost over the North since the bomb halt. Four of those planes were unarmed reconnaissance aircraft and the fifth was an armed escort fighter-bomber.

North Vietnam reserved the right to fire on U.S. planes on picture missions, and the United States gave its pilots permission to fire back if fired upon over the Communist nation.

In Saigon, terrorists staged a second day of bombings, killing three South Vietnamese civilians and wounding 10 in seven

Thunderous Explosions Kill Seven At Du Pont Plant; Arson Pondered

CARNEY'S POINT, N.J. (UPI) — Searchers found a fourth body today in the remains of a Du Pont Co. chemical plant where three thunderous explosions apparently took a total of seven lives and injured 72.

Jim Young said the Wednesday explosions disintegrated everything around them so completely that three bodies still missing may never be found.

Charles H. McCoy, president of Du Pont, assured the community that the company will pay for all damages caused by the blast, which shattered windows as far away as 100 miles. The injured included 10 children cut by glass who the plant in three Penns Grove, N.J., schools, a mile from the plant, blew in.

Of the four bodies found, only one could be positively identified. The names of the other three victims were established by telephone conversations between the plant and Du Pont's schools.

Only a ring of blackened earth remained to show where

Cassia Trustees Mull School Proposals

BURLEY — Cassia County school trustees heard presentations of three independent proposals for new school construction at a special board meeting, and agreed to discuss the proposals at its next regular meeting Monday.

Two proposals — sponsored independently by citizens committees and a district faculty group — called for building new grade schools at Burley and Springfield, and additional improvements in the system.

The third plan presented by a Board Trustee Norval Wildman called for construction of a single large elementary school southeast of Burley.

The plethora of school building proposals were prompted by an earlier announcement by the Cassia School Board that schools in Oakley, Declo and Ruff River faced loss of accreditation because of substandard facilities.

The Educational Advisory Committee presented its proposals following a series of public meetings concerning what committee members have called the "crisis" in the school system.

The faculty proposal, presented by Burley High School Assistant Principal Harold Blauer, was drawn up without knowledge of board members and is independent of the citizens' advisory committee.

The faculty proposal called for

Mexico Crash Kills 79

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI) — A Pan Am jetliner, skidding on the rain-swept Sierra Madre for a place to land, crashed atop a 6,000 foot peak Wednesday and burned, killing all 79 persons aboard, including tennis pro Rafael Osuna.

A helicopter pilot, who returned from the crash site 20 miles north of Monterrey with five airline officials, described the scene:

"Everyone is dead. The bodies are mangled. It will be very difficult or impossible to identify everyone. Everything is burned."

The plane crashed into a part of the Sierra Madre known as "Mank's Mountain" where the range is lush with vegetation that can be seen for miles.

A Mexican official who flew over the crash site said the plane smashed into a 500-foot high sheer vertical wall.

"We saw nothing but a big black blob with smoke coming out of it," the official said. "Small fragments of aluminum were scattered over the site. I don't believe a single body is intact."

The official said a crew of specially trained mountain climbers arrived from Mexico City at 10:15 p.m. (EDT)

Wednesday and left immediately for the crash site.

The rescue team made their first attempt to scale the peak early today, but a spokesman said the first bodies probably would not be brought down until tonight.

The team apparently planned to load the bodies into baskets to be taken to Monterrey by helicopters from Laredo, Tex., which will circle over the wreckage.

Repairs Completed On Break In Dietrich Canal

DIETRICH — Water was expected to be turned back into the Dietrich Canal by Thursday noon as crews completed repairs on a break which occurred early Wednesday by the brief lack of sand in the Millner-Gooding Canal.

The break, which started with a washout around a piece of pipe used to divert water from the canal to water stock, eventually tore out 100 feet of the canal bed leaving 53,000 acres of land in the Gooding, North Shoshone and Dietrich area without water, but with the water expected to be turned back on Thursday, no crops were damaged by the brief lack of water.

Leon Grive, manager of the Big Wood Canal Co., said the runaway water went into the sagebrush and no crops were hurt by the canal break.

The break was discovered early Wednesday by employees at the canal company. Equipment from the Bureau of Land Management and North Side Canal Co. was used to assist in repairing the break.

The water was turned off at Millner and gates opened to divert water into Wilson Lake. Thursday morning the Dietrich canal was dry and crews were completing repairs on the rock bridge work.

Mr. Grive said it will be another day before the water in the canal gets to full capacity.

More than 3,000 Idaho Power customers were without electrical power for 44 minutes Wednesday when a connector failed south of Bellevue near Timmerman Hill.

The outage ended in the 46,000 volt line at 1:51 p.m., he said.

Lincoln Field

Lincoln Field has never been open to the public during the summer months. Dr. Stacey said the playground receives heavy use during the school year and has always been closed during the late summer months. He said he does not know yet how much of the city would be shifted and supervised like other large parks in the city.

It said the city possibly could use the grounds for some of the recreation programs. If acquired, he said, Lincoln Field would be staffed and supervised like other large parks in the city.

PEARL HARBOR

(UPI) — The U.S. and Australian governments worked out plans today for a joint investigation of a collision between two warships of their nations which killed 74 Americans.

The decision of the two navies to study the disaster together is the latest in a series of differing versions of what occurred during the vessel's collision.

Site Sought For Jerome CAA Center

JEROME — The Jerome Community Action committee will meet at 8 p.m. June 13 in the Heritage Community Center to discuss the possibility of opening a day care center.

Larry Mack, director of the South Central Community Action Agency, said the group has expressed an interest in locating the center in the old Falls City School building. He said, however, the committee has not yet received the approval of the school board to use the building.

Mr. Mack said it is imperative the center act soon to begin operation of a day care center by the new fiscal year, which begins July 1. If the building is acquired, there is still time involved in drawing up the application for funds and receiving approval for the project.

There are two CAA day care centers now in operation — one in Twin Falls and the other in Burley.

The center provides child care for working mothers who otherwise would be unable to afford day care service and hold a job. The children are cared for by aides and volunteer workers. They receive a morning snack, lunch and an afternoon snack. Toys, tables, chairs and other materials have been donated to the other centers by members of the community.

Mr. Mack said the old school building and grounds would provide extra playground space not afforded by the other centers.

U.S., Australian Navies Join In Probe Of Disaster

PEARL HARBOR (UPI) — The U.S. and Australian governments worked out plans today for a joint investigation of a collision between two warships of their nations which killed 74 Americans.

The decision of the two navies to study the disaster together is the latest in a series of differing versions of what occurred during the vessel's collision.

The Australian Navy Ministry had said earlier the carrier Melbourne ordered the U.S. destroyer Frank B. Evans to change course. Reports received here by Pacific Fleet headquarters from survivors of the collision indicated crewmen aboard the Evans received no warning of the impending crash.

The two governments originally announced Tuesday they would conduct separate investigations, but the Pentagon said Wednesday the Australian navy had accepted the U.S. proposal for a "joint preliminary investigation."

At the same time, the Defense Department said it was abandoning plans for an unilateral inquiry by a high-ranking U.S. Navy officer.

There was no immediate explanation for the change.

In the meantime, fleet headquarters here released news findings about the tragedy which occurred shortly before midnight during an exercise involving 40 ships from many nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

The reports said the collision touched off fires, explosions and flooding aboard the Evans. The ship was damaged in a way known as "The Grey Ghost" of the Pacific because of its stealthy maneuvers along the enemy coast during the Korean War.

The 180-foot forward section capsized almost immediately and sank within two minutes. The sea engulfed several men who were amidships, and whirlpools caught crewmen who fell overboard.

"Since the accident occurred before dawn, many men were still asleep," the Navy said. "There was virtually no warning of the impending collision and many persons were hurled from their bunks by its impact."

Sailors in the after section of the Evans raced through compartments after compartment, stammering water-tight hatches to prevent further flooding.

"It's that you swamy thing you discover some recently bought thing that no one uses anymore? Clear up ... I'll tell you with a Times-News Want Ad. You'll get from see to see when you count the cost!"

(Continued From Page One) Point headquarters in Wilmington were temporarily cut off. Young said the first explosion occurred at 1:45 p.m., two minutes after workmen began carrying bags of gunpowder from a storage building to the new gas-gathering railway project.

Two other blasts followed in a matter of seconds. Two clouds of black smoke and a ball of fire leaped skyward from the plant.

"I honestly thought we were being bombed, particularly when the two clouds of smoke went up," said Anne Gilpin, wife of a Penns Grove school principal. "I'm laughing now, but I wasn't then."

The victims of the explosions, all residents of New Jersey, were identified as Francis J. Quinn, 30; William L. Roy Willem, 20; Barry W. Moore, 23; Joseph A. Harrell, 44; Elmer T. Hill, 44; Lawrence P. Rollhard, 25; and Harry D. Green, 25.

Only Quinn's body has been identified.

Reds Throng To Moscow For Conclave

MOSCOW (UPI)—The world's top Communist packed Moscow mansions and hotels Wednesday to discuss preliminary plans for a conclave of Thursday's opening of the first world Communist summit in a decade.

Delegates from 71 of the world's 86 parties checked into the capital, the Soviet hosts reported on news. "It is a Red Union of Moscow and forces resistant to new Mao," revolutionaries called the meeting.

The report by the news agency Tass was the latest in a series of Soviet news items designed to heighten interest in the "anti-imperialist" policies of Mao Tse-tung, Chairman of the Chinese Communist party.

The Soviet news agency stated in its attempt to obtain a condemnation of the Chinese at the summit meeting.

At least 50 of the delegations are expected to arrive Tuesday. They included most of the leaders of Europe's ruling Communist parties, including West Germany's Walter Ulbricht, Poland's Wladislaw Gomułka of Poland, Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Janus Kadar of the absenteeist Czechs, and Tedor Zhivkov of Bulgaria.

Conference attendees said the only unexpected arrival would be a delegation from Cuba, which had boycotted interparty conferences leading up to the summit. The sources said the Cubans would only have "observed" and not be a full participant.

At least 15 of the world's 86 parties were staying away from the summit for reasons linked to differences between the Soviet Union and Communist China. Most prominent among the absentees were North Vietnam, North Korea and Yugoslavia.

Other group donors were the Burley Post Office and Cassia National Bank.

A five-gallon pan was awarded to W. John Jones, Burley. Others who were presented to Ome Baker, Oakley, four-gallon; Virginia Hansen and Bill Matthews, both Burley, and Norman Smyton, Burley, three-gallon; and Rachel Wunder, Albion, and Fonda Allen, Burley, both one-gallon pints.

Auto Dealer Is Sued Here By Customer

A lawsuit asking $17,875 in damages has been filed against a Twin Falls automobile dealership and one of its salesmen, Sheriff's deputies said.

The plaintiff court records showed Thursday.

A 19-year-old youth, George M. Cunningham, filed the suit against Able Uriguen Oldsmobile and one of its salesmen, Michael Thornton. The youth alleges he purchased a 1966 car from the dealership for $1,950. He said the car was bought in April and it broke down a few days after purchase.

The plaintiff accused the dealership of fraud in the sale of the car, and also complained the dealership would not repair the car, although the plaintiff alleges he had been given verbal notice that there was a full 30-day warranty on the car.

Cunningham tried to return the car and get his money back, but the dealership refused to refund the money, the complaint alleges.

The agent is asking for the full purchase price back, $2,500 compensation for loss of the use of the car, $12,500 punitive damages and $2,500 in attorney's fees.

U. P. Asks To Discontinue Filer Agency

The Union Pacific Railroad Co. has filed two applications with the Idaho Public Utilities Commission — to discontinue their Filer agency and to drop their passenger service on the Pocatello to Buhl train.

The UPRR Co. and Railway Exchange Agency, filed a joint application to discontinue their agencies at Filer. In a second application the UPRR Co. asks permission to change the classification of trains No. 49 and 50 from mixed to freight trains.

Trains 49 and 50, running from Buhl to Pocatello east and west, now carry passenger and baggage cars as well as freight. A passenger train is scheduled for Tuesday, July 8, in room 204 of the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

Probe Shows Brakes Failed In Bus Wreck

BOISE (UPI) — Prosecutor Ellison M. Matthews says a fatigue fracture in the front wheel of a bus caused the fatal crash at the intersection of Glenwood Road and Highway 20, resulting from brake failure.

Matthews said that "for this reason, it is not anticipated that any criminal charges will be filed against the bus driver for the death that occurred."

Matthews said that the accident and 89 other persons were hurt. Witnesses said the school bus ran a stop sign and was struck by a truck.

"Our investigations, which include the opinions of various experts that have examined the physical evidence of the collision, has established to my satisfaction that the proximate cause of the accident and resultant injuries and death was a fatigue fracture in the front wheel of the bus and not from any negligence of the operator," Matthews said.

People gathered in the grand ballroom of the Anclote in tears in their eyes, trying to piece together the story of the tragedy.

The hotel clerk was able to rattle off the names of the well-known persons on board:

— Rafael Osuna, 30, Mexico's top-ranked amateur tennis player and hero of the surprising Mexican victory over Australia in Davis Cup competition just 11 days ago.

— Carlos Madrazo, a former chairman of one of Mexico's political parties—the "used boy of Mexican politics"—and the nation's most controversial political figure—who, together with his wife, attempted to establish an effective political opposition.

— Raul Chapa Zarate, chief of the federal highway police.

— Eloy Espinosa, the political leader of the country's farm bloc.

— Manuel Lemus, a student political leader.

— Carlos A. Madrazo, former governor of the Mexican State of Toluca.

In all, the plane carried 72 passengers, a pilot, two copilots, three stewards and a stewardess.

Auto Dealer Is Sued Here By Customer

A lawsuit asking $17,875 in damages has been filed against a Twin Falls automobile dealership and one of its salesmen, Sheriff's deputies said.

The plaintiff court records showed Thursday.

A 19-year-old youth, George M. Cunningham, filed the suit against Able Uriguen Oldsmobile and one of its salesmen, Michael Thornton. The youth alleges he purchased a 1966 car from the dealership for $1,950. He said the car was bought in April and it broke down a few days after purchase.

The plaintiff accused the dealership of fraud in the sale of the car, and also complained the dealership would not repair the car, although the plaintiff alleges he had been given verbal notice that there was a full 30-day warranty on the car.

Cunningham tried to return the car and get his money back, but the dealership refused to refund the money, the complaint alleges.

The agent is asking for the full purchase price back, $2,500 compensation for loss of the use of the car, $12,500 punitive damages and $2,500 in attorney's fees.

U. P. Asks To Discontinue Filer Agency

The Union Pacific Railroad Co. has filed two applications with the Idaho Public Utilities Commission — to discontinue their Filer agency and to drop their passenger service on the Pocatello to Buhl train.

The UPRR Co. and Railway Exchange Agency, filed a joint application to discontinue their agencies at Filer. In a second application the UPRR Co. asks permission to change the classification of trains No. 49 and 50 from mixed to freight trains.

Trains 49 and 50, running from Buhl to Pocatello east and west, now carry passenger and baggage cars as well as freight. A passenger train is scheduled for Tuesday, July 8, in room 204 of the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls.

Postponed

SHOSHONE — The Lincoln County Fair Board meeting set for Thursday has been postponed to 8 p.m. June 12.

The change was necessary, according to fair board officials, because the organizations, individuals and business firms who sponsor the fair took request booth space, donate 4-11 awards and apply for money.

The board of directors will meet on Thursday.

Car Or Wife

CANTERBURY, England (UPI) — "Car or wife must go," read the advertisement bank in the local newspaper Wednesday.

"Car-1963 MGB, red, all extras. $1,200. Wife-1944, blonde, 37, 50-24-36, 660-9000, nearest offer."

Ken Shaw, who placed the ad, said he is offering his wife for sale because she complains his sports car is cramped and drafty. "For the sake of peace in the home, one of them has to go," said Shaw.

Boise Mayor To Order Officials To List Assets

BOISE (UPI) — Mayor Jay S. Amys says an ordinance will be drafted to require Boise's elected and appointed officials to disclose their financial interests.

Amys said the City Council voted unanimously to direct the city attorney to draft such an ordinance.

However, the mayor said he had mixed feelings about the proposed requirement. He said it might make the city's task of finding qualified persons to fill appointed jobs more difficult.

Memorial Day Remembrances Are Stolen From Local Graves

The Memorial Day holiday was spoiled for some Magic Valley people by local "grave robbers" who took flowers and other decorations from graves. "It's terrible — my husband just kept saying, 'This just isn't happen,' remarked one of the victims, Velma Donnelly. Just over a year ago Mrs. Donnelly constructed eight crosses of wood, decorated with crushed glass, each about 15 inches high.

This Memorial Day she put three on graves in the Jerome Cemetery, one in Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery and four on graves in the Twin Falls Cemetery. Of the eight, five were taken — only three of the four placed in the Twin Falls Cemetery were there Monday.

"I can imagine someone doing practically anything but taking things off graves," she said. An unusual sign is that these same decorations were placed on the same graves last year, but none were taken. "I couldn't believe it," she added.

The Times-News received another call from a Kimberly woman, Mrs. Ross Medley.

"Two days before Memorial Day we put a large planter of petunias on a grave at the Twin Falls Cemetery. Memorial Day we came to water it — it was gone," Mrs. Medley related.

The owner of Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery, Robert Harney, said he had received complaints "every year we have reports of thefts — actually I think there are fewer this year than usual," he said.

In a letter to the Times-News public forum Mrs. U. N. Terry relates two more incidents.

"My husband and I decorated three graves early Memorial Day with large pots of petunias. Our thought was that we could keep them looking nice for a longer time than with cut flowers. One was gone from the grave by Saturday evening and another had disappeared by Sunday — so — we took the third home for safekeeping," she writes.

"What kind of people cannot permit others to honor their dead during the Memorial Day weekend," Mrs. Terry adds.

The manager of Twin Falls Cemetery, Bill Madland, stated he had received complaints yet, which was unusual. Both Mr. Harney and Mr. Madland cited the difficulty involved in the theft of decorations — knowing whether the person picking up the decoration is its owner or a friend of the owner or a thief.

Memorial Day decorations were "colored away from the Twin Falls Cemetery beginning Tuesday, said Mr. Madland. Decorations at Sunset Memorial Park Cemetery will be left until Friday, according to Mr. Harney.

HOLDING ONE OF THE three crosses left of eight she placed on graves in three local cemeteries, is Velma Donnelly. She constructed the crosses of wood and chipped glass. When she went to pick them up Monday, she found five of them missing.

AEC To Call Bids On Work At Arco Site

IDAHO FALLS (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans to issue specifications Tuesday and call for bids on miscellaneous condition in three areas at the National Reactor Testing Station.

Four principal items are involved in the work, estimated to cost $40,000. These are, by area:

Test reactor area — construction of a 30 by 23-foot single story pumice block addition to the west end of the TRA hot process building to be used for storage and decontamination of hot cell equipment.

Central facilities area — Modification of space in building CP688 to accommodate installation of a remote-input-output terminal station associated with the computer science center in Idaho Falls.

Test area north — Installation of an auxiliary fire protection system and upgrading of an existing system in TANG67 building, and installation of spray-on fiber insulation material on ceilings in the TANG62 annex building to reduce heat loss.

The work is restricted to small business firms.

Meantime, the AEC announced award of a $38,780 contract to Whalen and Company, Billings, Mont., for excavation work in the NRTS chemical processing plant area.

Mr. Carter was promoted to line working foreman in 1954 and to his present position as line crew foreman three years later.

His 25 years of service qualified him for membership in the Idaho Power "Pioneers," composed of retired and active employees who have been associated with the firm for 25 years or more.

Employee Is Honored For Long Service

A veteran employee of the Idaho Power Co. recently received a distinctive award honoring him for his long service, according to E. E. Haroltsen, southern division manager.

W. M. Carter Jr., Twin Falls, began to acquire his electric utility knowledge while still in high school. He worked part-time for his father, who was local agent at Richfield for West Coast Power Co.

He joined Idaho Power in 1944, working first as an apprentice serviceman and then as a serviceman at Twin Falls. He switched to line construction and has been engaged in this ever since.

Sea Tragedy Claims Lives Of Three Nebraska Brothers

WATERLOO, Iowa (UPI) — In 1942, the Navy termed the loss of the five Sullivan brothers of Waterloo on the same ship "the heaviest blow suffered by a single family in American naval history."

Tuesday, the Defense Department had to list as missing in action the names of three brothers from Nebraska who served together on the U.S. destroyer Evans which was sliced in two in the South China Sea by the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne.

They were killed during World War II when the cruiser Juneau was sunk in 1942.

The Sullivan boys were George, 29, Francis, 26, Joseph, 23, Madison, 22, and Albert, 20. They all enlisted in the Navy on the same date late in 1941, with the stipulation they would remain together.

They were together aboard the Juneau when it was sunk by Japanese shells in the South Pacific, and their deaths stunned a nation. In their honor, a new destroyer was named "the Sullivans."

The three Sage brothers were together Tuesday morning when the Evans was rammed, leaving 73 crewmen missing.

The Navy had a policy discouraging brothers serving on the same vessel after the Sullivan brothers died in the Solomon Islands campaign. But a Pentagon spokesman said Tuesday the rule had been "rescinded."

Utah Family Saved From Poisoning

RUPERT — A Utah family was saved from a serious illness Monday when State Patrolman Bob Brown located them and warned them of possible chicken poisoning in a chicken they had purchased in Vale, Ore.

State and local law enforcement officers in the Mini-Cassia area were notified to watch for the family about 4:15 p.m. Monday. About 6:30 p.m., Officer Brown located the car and, when warned of the danger, the family discarded the chicken before eating any of it.

They told officer Brown that they had stopped in Jerome to eat, then decided to go on a little further before doing so.

The chicken, cooked, had been purchased from a restaurant in Vale, Ore., and was believed to be poisoned. The family was located near Burley on the interstate 80N.

On World Peace

Hawk and dove, hard-liner and soft-liner, many disagree over the reasons, but they are agreed on one thing: There must be no more Vietnams.

For the one side, the argument is moral. The United States cannot be and has no right to be the world's policeman. It must never again intervene unilaterally in a situation where there is no direct threat to its own security.

The reasoning on the other side is more pragmatic. The United States must not again allow itself to be bogged down, its material and human resources drained, in a war in which it has neither the intention nor the hope of achieving a clear-cut military victory in the traditional sense.

Both sides cannot blink the fact, however, that there are likely to be more Vietnam-type situations as we enter the 1970s — in the Middle East, Africa, elsewhere in Asia — any one of which will have the potential of involving the great powers in confrontation.

Thus both can agree with a recent statement by a "National Policy Panel" of the United Nations Association of the U.S.A. that it is imperative "that means be found, promptly, for a larger number of countries to share more fully the responsibility of international peacekeeping. If it would be a mistake for the United States to continue carrying, or attempting to carry, so much of the responsibility alone."

As a result of Vietnam, there is likely — in the future — to be even greater political resistance, both at home and abroad, to unilateral efforts to keep the peace or to control "foreign" conflicts, says the panel, which was headed by Kingman Brewster, president of Yale University, and included Cyrus

Vance, former deputy secretary of defense and U.S. representative in the Paris peace negotiations, retired Gen. Matthew Ridgeway and 23 other prominent American leaders.

The panel therefore proposes a major initiative on the part of the United States to urge the United Nations to set up a peacekeeping force of 40,000 men to control international conflicts in the coming decade.

The force would be provided by the small powers, be controlled by a special peacekeeping section in the U.N. Secretariat and financed by a special fund, largely underwritten by the United States.

Unlike other such U.N. forces in the past — Korea, the Middle East, Kashmir, the Congo — this force would be permanent and would be in being before, not after, fighting broke out.

There are many obstacles to this vision of a world army to keep world peace, not the least of which is the undoubted intention of the U.S.S.R. to maintain its unilateral freedom of action in the countries on its border. But there are also signs of growing Soviet willingness to seek common cause with the United States in situations where they believe multilateral action could prevent major confrontation and escalation.

Total costs to the United States of four years of the war in Vietnam have exceeded $125 billion and 33,000 American lives. Total 10 1/2-year U.S. contribution to the U.N. Emergency Force in the Middle East was $67.6 million and no lives.

Neither operation can be called a success in that it ended or prevented a war, but if the best we can hope for at this stage of the world's development is a choice between failures, it is not difficult to decide what that choice should be.

Burger Says To Rewrite The Case Rules

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Judge Warren Burger has expressed some strong differences with how the U. S. Supreme Court has operated in recent years. Since it is virtually certain Burger will be confirmed as chief justice on that court, the public should know just what these disagreements are and what they are not. The evidence indicates that Burger believes the Supreme Court has been on firm ground in its basic and fundamental constitutional interpretations on the rights of men and women accused of crime.

The ball reforms of recent years (which gave accused persons the right to be released without posting a conventional bail bond) were long overdue.

Burger does not hold those who criticize the Supreme Court for making law.

The basic function of judges is to decide cases and resolve controversies. In performing that function, a court of last resort (such as the Supreme Court) must, as we all know, construe and interpret constitutions, statutes, rules, contracts, wills and trusts, and in so doing it will frequently make law in the evolution of common law.

Burger holds little patience with those who "claim that the breakdown of law and order is the by-product of decisions which have so tied the hands of the police their task is next to impossible."

The hard fact is that, generally speaking, local police organizations, large and small, lack the professional training needed to make the most of six months to several years of intensive training.

Burger, in fact, is not in agreement with those who have objected to the Supreme Court's rulings in criminal cases. He believes the court should be in that business.

In Burger assumes "the correctness of the objectives the court sought to reach" in its controversial decisions on police procedures for the interrogation of suspects.

Burger argues that rules must be used in a common sense which meet the spirit of the law—respecting both the rights of the accused and the practical problems of the police.

NATO's Allies May Be Jolted

PARIS — Canada's contribution of 10,000 men to the NATO defense force is at best a minor contribution to the European balance of power.

The new Canadian plan was put before members of the Atlantic alliance at a Brussels session today. Besides reminding European statesmen that they should shoulder the major responsibility for Europe's defense, it also should give the United States the guts to reappraise its own contribution to the NATO army.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau announced the Canadian troop reduction April 3. To NATO's let's you-and-him fight crowd, that was bad enough. But now Canada wants to quietly transform its NATO role.

As outlined by Defense Minister Leo A. J. Cadieux, Canadian forces over the next three years would be shifted to rear echelon reserve stations.

This is true, but it doesn't make NATO any happier. The Canadian force now consists of an armored brigade of 6,000 men and a fighter-bomber wing of 4,000 men stationed in Germany, and they are among the best trained and best equipped in the defense army.

Trudeau also said what the U. S. has not dared to say. He has pointed out that Europe's "magnificent recovery" now enables the Europeans to provide "adequate" conventional troops and arms for their own defense.

Trudeau also has blandly listed Canada's military priorities: 1. The defense of North America in cooperation with the U. S. 2. NATO commitments. 3. International peace keeping duties.

These are priorities Washington will not dispute, with the addition of America's expected more far-flung global commitments, such as trying to maintain order in the Middle East and Southeast Asia. It seems never to occur to any American administration to point out to its European allies that the U.S. has 3,407,557 men (and women) under arms, and that nearly half of this force — or one and one-half million are serving overseas.

In short, in defense of the free world of America is expected to be the first in battle and to shed the first blood. Those dangers are inherent in the large number of bases we maintain abroad — 429 major bases and 292 minor ones. In most countries, these bases are focal points of anti-American sentiment. But worse, there are the risks that responsibility for defending these bases could lead to another Vietnam-type adventure.

Moreover, within the NATO establishment at least, American dollars pay for a great many luxuries for our military allies. They finance much of the "soft-lead" entertainment, the hiring of elegant transport, the building of fancy officers' clubs and the creation of recreation facilities thinly disguised as "defense" installations.

In France's new post-De Gaulle political atmosphere, it is almost sure that the French will play a bigger role in NATO, and may even reassign troops to the NATO force. But now that Canada has shown the way, the U. S. should put its own pressure on NATO. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield has estimated that pulling out even one division from Europe would save the American taxpayer $30 million a year.

WASHINGTON — Several of our congressmen are in Paris this week observing the air show, which they insist is essential to their legislative duties during the forthcoming year.

Leading the group is Congressman L. Mendel Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and Charleston, South Carolina's gift to the American people.

It must be very difficult for a Frenchman to understand Rivers' role in our system of government, and can just imagine a scene between the congressman and a French official he is introduced to at the air show.

Big Babies

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently I have been hearing things about diabetes and large babies.

I am 34 and just had my fifth son, 10 pounds, one ounce. My previous babies weighed 9 pounds, 8 ounces.

I have always been so proud of having such nice big babies. Now I feel (I guess) a little bit queasy, but I don't know why. I wonder if there is something wrong with me.

Well, probably your husband popped some buttons with pride, but don't either of you feel too deflated. You've had a possible — not a positive — warning — not a ban, and that's about all.

We know that about one-third of all babies born to diabetic mothers are big, weighing 10 pounds or more.

We also know that women, apparently non-diabetic, who have 10-pound babies are more likely to develop diabetes 10 or 20 years later. This is so-called pre-diabetic phase.

Further, some of these women having large babies will show signs of diabetes. This is so-called gestational diabetes.

All I can say is that this succession of good-sized babies may be a warning. If there is any history of diabetes in your family, or if you tend to overeat, you should be checked periodically.

If the disease appears, you'll detect it early and it can be controlled effectively. Detect it late, and you'll have more trouble.

Meantime, besides periodic tests, there's nothing you can do except make sure that you are not overweight. Excess weight can bring on diabetes sooner.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been advised to have four small meals a day, being troubled with colitis. I am puzzled as to how I am to get a balanced diet. I need any advice. Balanced diet is important; balanced meals are not. Eating that diet, every day will give you the nutrients, vitamins, and minerals you need to what we mean by a balanced diet. It doesn't matter at which meal you eat your vitamins.

to clothe detailed rules of evidence and police station procedure in the garb of constitutional doctrine (which is difficult to change when changing proves necessary).

He believes that it has been unfair for the Supreme Court to revise something as complicated as the code of criminal procedure and evidence "piecemeal" on "the narrow record" of a few cases — "rather than by the orderly process of statutory rulemaking."

"There is a dangerous and even mischievous weakness in making over-revising sweeping general rules of procedure and evidence on a case-by-case basis."

"The cases the Supreme Court takes up usually come to the court on the narrow record, but on one case which frequently presents emotionally appealing situations that confuse and blur the bedrock of precedent."

"The evidence suggests Burger now believes the Supreme Court should take the leadership in rewriting the rules of federal criminal procedure in an orderly, systematic, piecemeal, slide-way. But he believes that a variety of men with wide practical experience must be in on the rewriting — and that Congress, too, must have a say."

Mendel Rivers

WASHINGTON — Several of our congressmen are in Paris this week observing the air show, which they insist is essential to their legislative duties during the forthcoming year.

Leading the group is Congressman L. Mendel Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and Charleston, South Carolina's gift to the American people.

It must be very difficult for a Frenchman to understand Rivers' role in our system of government, and can just imagine a scene between the congressman and a French official he is introduced to at the air show.

Students Stage Constructive "Stunt"

Ninth graders at O'Leary Junior High School left the school with a constructive "stunt" Thursday.

Wednesday evening the students pulled out the old lilac bushes which have long surrounded the school building. After clearing the area they planted eight evergreens.

The trees were purchased with funds from the class treasury and by student donations.

Dr. E. H. Ragland, superintendent, complimented the students on a "very nice, constructive contribution from the class."

He said replacement of the lilac bushes had been discussed at an administrative level, but no action had been taken.

The students had asked permission to plant the evergreens.

Pocatellans Report Attack By Grizzly At Island Park

POCATELLO (UPI) — State Fish and Game officers are warning fishermen to stay out of a heavily brushed outlet of Henry's Fork at Island Park in the wake of a weekend attack by a bear on a Pocatello couple.

Conservation officers said while they have not verified a report the bear was a grizzly, it is attempting to find and identify the animal.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell Turner, Pocatello, escaped injury last Saturday when the bear attacked their small boat in the outlet. It was the first such attack since two college girls were killed by a bear in Montana's Glacier National Park two years ago.

Mrs. Turner, treated for shock at Mack's Inn before returning to Encanto Monday, said she and her husband saw the bear about 11 a.m. Saturday.

She said that bear simply swam about 50 yards across the river in front of their boat. Then, seconds later, she said, another bear growled viciously at them, stood on its hind legs on shore and then swam directly at the boat.

Mrs. Turner was sitting in the bow at the time, she said. She said she avoided one swipe of the bear's paw. Then, she said, the bear swamped the metal boat by shoving its nose below the surface.

When the craft capsized, Turner turned it between the attacker and its occupants—and the bear apparently gave up the attack. The boat then sank in 10 feet of water.

Turner pulled his wife, a non-swimmer, to shore—and Mrs. Turner's brother, Grover Charlton Jr., Idaho Falls, helped them.

Californians Are Hurt In Truck Crash

RUPERT — Three California residents suffered only minor injuries Monday afternoon when the pickup truck they were driving was demolished two miles east of Burley at the Heyburn Interchange on Interstate 80N.

Investigating officer Bob Brown said the 1968 Ford pickup truck, driven by Russell Bodine, 19, Van Nuys, Calif., was headed east on the Interstate when Bodine apparently swerved to avoid striking a car. The vehicle went out of control, struck the right guard rail, jackknifed, and hit the left guard rail.

A 1964 Kenecraft Trailer home, being pulled by the pickup truck, worked loose and continued another 100 feet east before coming to a rest after striking the left guard rail. A boat and camper on the pickup truck were thrown from the wreckage, and the camper also demolished. Damage to the trailer home was estimated at $500, and at $200 to the boat.

Mr. Bodine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bodine, 18 and and Mr. Bodine were treated and released at the Cassia Memorial Hospital. All three were wearing seat belts.

Officer Brown cited Mr. Bodine for failure to keep his vehicle under control.

FTC Orders Crackdown On Tire Ads

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) announced Tuesday a crackdown on automobile tire advertising that misrepresents overall speed and safety performance capabilities.

Charging that deception of this type "involves obvious and serious hazards to life and safety," the FTC said action would be taken starting July 3 to challenge misleading and deceptive speed claims.

The commission is already monitoring all forms of television and radio advertising for any such claims. And last week it announced public hearings would be held on various practices of automobile manufacturers and dealers.

Among examples of current tire ad claims cited were: "Built like a racing tire. Tested at 130 mph." "All new wide tire made especially for the young crowd and today's high performance cars." "Certified safe at 100 mph. So you're sure you're safe at 60, 70 or 80."

Among other claims were: "Safety tested at over 100 mph." "Standing 30 feet we safely tested them at 130 mph." and "Stops 25 per cent quicker."

What it all boils down to is that with the money you save at Swensen's, you can afford to have your own birthday party or remodel yourself. For a nice variety of low prices, please read on—

Boiseans File District Court Suit To Demand Safer School Buses

BOISE (UPI)—Christopher R. Hooper, Boise, Wednesday filed a complaint in Fourth District Court asking that the Boise School Bus Company be temporarily enjoined from transporting pupils to and from school.

Hooper, president of the Citizens Association for Safe School Buses, filed the suit on behalf of himself and several Ada County residents against Boise Independent School District No. 1, T.C. Bird, superintendent of the school district, the Board of Trustees of that district, and the Boise-School Bus Company.

It was a Boise school bus that was involved in last month's accident which killed one child and injured 80 others. Among those filing as plaintiffs were parents of some of the injured children.

The complaint alleges that Boise School Bus Company, its agents, servants and representatives "are negligent, reckless and careless in the transportation of pupils to and from school."

The complaint further said that the defendants "have failed to prevent the negligent, careless and reckless manner and way in which said school buses are repaired, maintained and operated."

The complaint also asks that the Boise School District be temporarily enjoined from paying compensation to the bus company pending outcome of the suit; for a permanent injunction restraining the school district from permitting unsafe, careless, negligent and reckless transportation of school children; for a permanent injunction ordering the school district to provide proper and safe transportation of school children; and for costs and further relief as the court sees fit.

Senators Express Concern Over Cost Of Giant Aircraft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite Lockheed's claim its C-5A will be "one of the great achievements in aviation history," members of the Senate Armed Services Committee are increasingly disturbed at the junko cargo plane's costs and the circumstances involved in its procurement.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said Wednesday he doubted the committee would back procurement of the plane. But he suggested the $1 billion Air Force request to buy more C-5As be reduced to $450 million. Aircraft Corp. may be pared by several million dollars.

Court Allows Dancing For Joy Of Job

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—A person who breaks his leg while dancing in the company elevator during his lunch hour may claim workers' compensation in New York State—but only if he's dancing because he likes his job.

In a 4-2 decision Wednesday, the Court of Appeals said Robert Bletzer should receive $912 in workmen's compensation for time lost when he broke his leg in an elevator in the building where he worked for Harcourt Brace and World, Inc., as an associate editor of high school textbooks.

Court Allows Dancing For Joy Of Job

The court upheld an appellate division ruling that said Bletzer should receive workmen's compensation because he had been inspired to take the dance steps as an outlet of his "good feelings" about his job and fellow employees, his supervisor and his general good spirits.

The guard, William Charles Lane, 60, was being charged with the death of Larry Kimmons, who was walking across a lawn with several other boys when they were stepped by Lane. Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Every time my wife and I go visit a friend or relative, my wife thinks she has to bring a little gift for the children. I think it's a nice idea when the children are appreciative, but I put my foot down when it comes to a certain family.

My wife's sister married very well and she has three spoiled, selfish children, under ten years of age. No matter what we bring them, and my wife always spends a little more on them just to make a good impression, it is received with, "Oh, is that ALL?" Or, "I have one just like it."

I told my wife that from now on, we'll bring those children nothing. She says she agrees, they don't deserve anything, but if she came empty-handed her sister would look at her funny. What would you do?

BUHL — Charlotte Kay Newlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Newlan, Castleford, and Willard H. French, Buhl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. French, Boise, were united in marriage May 3, at St. John's Lutheran church.

Rev. Henry Treist, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of some 125 guests. Background decorations included assorted spring flowers furnished by Mrs. Fred Oppolzer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white slipper satin featuring an empire bodice accented with rows of lace. Short sleeves and a beaded line further enhanced the gown.

Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a pearl headpiece. The veil was borrowed from Mrs. Dail Voores. She wore a pearl necklace belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Wilma Clusham. The bride carried an arrangement of pink-peach blossoms mounted on a white Bible.

Mrs. Dallas Voorhees served as matron of honor, Mrs. Roy Murphy and Linda Newlan as bridesmaids. Cathleen Voorhees was flower girl. The bridegroom and attendants dressed as well as the corsages for the wedding were made by Mrs. Dallas Voorhees.

Mrs. Roy Murphy, Boise, served as best man. Others were Glen Newlan, brother of the bride, and Don Voorhees, nephew of the bride. Alan Newlan, brother of the bride was ring bearer.

Mrs. E. M. Graesch played the wedding music and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Fowell Clusham who sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception honoring the new couple was held following the ceremony in the church hall. The bride's table was covered with a lace tablecloth and centered by the three tiered wedding cake. Blue flowers and white hearts accented the cake which was topped with two love birds holding wedding rings.

The cake was cut by Mrs. Glen Herzigler and served by Mrs. Wayne French. Mrs. Dean Bell served coffee and Kay Brown poured punch.

Gift buyers were Gerald Voorhees and Kenneth Newlan; Nancy Roberts and Mrs. Fred Shropshire opened and displayed the gifts. Helen Hopkins registered the guests.

As her traveling ensemble, the new Mrs. French selected a white lace dress with bell sleeves. The couple will be at home in Buhl.

Guests at the wedding were present from Weston, Pocatello, Fruitland, Boise, Jerome, Twin Falls and Wells, Nev.

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Miss America for 1969 said today the annual national beauty pageant represents the largest scholarship benefit available for young ladies in America.

Mrs. Judith Anne Ford, 19, of Belvidere, Ill., said "The Miss America contest is much more than a beauty pageant. It presents over $50,000 each year to entrants from across the United States."

Indians Sue U.S. Over Oil

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (UPI) — The Navajo Tribe has filed suit in the U. S. Court of Claims seeking millions of dollars in oil bonus money allegedly owed the Indians, tribal attorney Harold Mott said Wednesday.

Mott said the tribe has collected $88 million in oil lease payments since 1948 but the federal government has transferred other millions due the tribe to the U. S. Treasury.

The suit asked the government for an accounting of the money transferred to the Treasury, plus four per cent interest on the total. It also asked the federal government to pay taxes due on the oil payments to the states of New Mexico and Utah.

The reservation is located in New Mexico and Utah.

According to the suit, filed in Washington late in May, Bonvois payments—oil leases—on Navajo lands are deposited with the government.

The money deposited between the time lease bids are opened and the bidder is named — a period varying from 60 to 180 days — goes into the U. S. Treasury instead of to the Navajo tribe, the suit said.

The suit asked the government to determine how much money has been diverted to the Treasury and return the funds to the tribe, plus four per cent interest. Mott estimated the total would be millions of dollars.

The suit also said the government authorized the states of New Mexico and Arizona to collect taxes on oil and mineral development on the reservation but the taxes should be paid by the government instead of the tribe.

The document also asked for an additional one per cent interest on the $88 million in oil payments already made to the tribe.

From Golonka To Snodgrass, Film Stars Boast Odd Names

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Gone are the days of Rock, Tab, Rip, Lane, Lana and Rita.

Enter the era of Engelbert Humperdinck, Arlene Golonka, Horst Buchholz, Joanna Shimkus, Gayle Hunnicutt, Michael Sarrazin, Komy Schneider and hold your breath — Carrie Snodgrass.

Carrie had the opportunity to change her moniker to the likes of Gloria Glanville but refused. She would stand or fall on Snodgrass.

In the beginning it looked like a bad fall indeed.

"When I came out here from Chicago to see an agent—Jack Fields—he refused to handle my career unless I changed my name," Miss Snodgrass said.

"So I went to another agent. 'I wanted to keep my name because no writer, who is a member of our family goes people remember the name. It's magic. How could you forget it?'"

Asked why it was Snodgrass rather than the more conventional Snodgrass, Carrie was eager to explain.

"My great grandfather was a Baptist minister in Oklahoma," she said, "and he wanted to be different. So he changed the 'A' to an 'S' in the last half of our name. We also think he drank a lot."

Carrie is starring in her first movie, "Rabbit, Run," at Warner Bros. with James Caan.

Only 23 years old, Carrie is wise beyond her years: "She has a natural compulsion to raise a girl named Carrie Snodgrass."

"Even producers call my agent and ask him to bring me in. Then can't believe any girl would try to become an actress without doing something about her name. They say 'Bring her over. I want to see what a Carrie Snodgrass looks like.'"

Doubtless, the curious producers are disappointed. Carrie is a perfectly normal girl in appearance with the requisite number of eyes, ears and limbs. She is also pretty.

Her name notwithstanding she has made great progress in less than a year in Hollywood, working in "The Outsider," "The Virginian," "Judd for the Defense" and other television shows.

BSC Student Wins Honors As Journalist

BOISE (UPI) — Ruth Russel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Russel, Boise, has been chosen the second annual Idaho press women scholarship winner.

Miss Russel, a junior at Boise State College, was chosen from a field of candidates representing Boise State, the University of Idaho and Idaho State University. She will receive a $100 award.

Last year's winner of the press-women scholarship was Pam Zahner of the University of Idaho.

The Idaho press women scholarship is awarded each year to the most deserving woman attending an Idaho college or university who is planning a career in journalism," said Marjorie Ruth Moon, scholarship chairman.

Not that she's all that big of "Rabbit, Run" working with Caan and a bit player named Marc Anthony van der Nagel, under the supervision of producer Howard B. Kreitsek.

One cannot but contemplate the possibilities of Miss Snodgrass costarring with Humperdinck and Shimkus in a new movie.

Mr. Flores, who is a counselor and guidance instructor at Capital High School in Boise has received a three-year fellowship to study for his doctorate in university administration at the University of Texas, Austin.

Mr. Flores teaches commercial subjects at Bishop Kelley High School in Boise. They and their two children will leave for Texas in August.

Educator Is Speaker For Burley Meet

BURLEY — Dr. LaVern John, assistant superintendent of the Weber School District, Ogden, was featured speaker during the Burley Chamber of Commerce at Portnevo Inn.

John told the chamber members of the increasing responsibility of the teacher since public law requires that a child attend school from age 6 to 16. There is a wide mental disparity between students of the same age which puts a tremendous responsibility on the educator.

He explained a chart showing the development rate of mental growth of individuals with different IQ's ranging from kindergarten through 12th grade.

He listed seven conditions for learning as sufficient maturation and appropriate patterns of abilities, sufficient motivation-intrinsic and extrinsic, freedom from disturbing and distracting anxieties, goal directed practice and drill, perception of the effects of trials and errors, generalizing and transfer, and teacher guidance in setting the learning goals.

Dale Nelson, Superintendent of Cassin School district, introduced Dr. John and Dr. Jim Dunn, Ogden.

Dogfight Expected As Western Open Tourney Begins Action Today

CHICAGO (UPI)—A wide open scrap for first prize money of $26,000 in the $100,000 Western Open was predicted Wednesday with winners of 17 of the golf tour's first 25 tournaments in the field of 144. The 72 hole chessover, the 6,654 yard par 71 Midlothian course, begins Thursday and ends Sunday. The weather prospect for the four days was good with temperatures ranging into the high 70s and a slight chance for little rain Thursday and Saturday.

There was no standout favorite in the field, although Jack Nicklaus was on hand to defend his title, and Billy Casper was ready to try for his third. Nicklaus also has won the crown twice.

But only two players have won twice this year and one of them, George Archer, victor in the Western Open last year, was Pro-Am, was challenging for the Western. The other, leading money winner, Gene Littler, passed up the event.

The only other three standouts absent from the field were Arnold Palmer, who had to stay home to try to qualify for the National Open, Dave Hill and Dudley Wynn, who withdrew because of tendonitis.

Other tourney winners of 1969 who will be trying for their second in the 40th season included Charlie Siffert, Dick Trevino, Dick Lott, Miller Barber, Tom Shaw, Ken Stiller, Jim Colbert, Ray Floyd, Bunky Blackburn, Larry Rye, Douglass, Larry Insley, Deane Beman, Gardner Dickinson and Bert Yancey.

About the only certainty in the season is that it probably will be under par of 284. The course is not notably long, and relies on

City Golfers Dump Blue Lakes Squad

Don Lowman notched a low pass total of 65 over the Twin Falls Municipal course Wednesday afternoon to win the overall city championship trophy while leading his Myny Squad to a team victory over Blue Lakes in the process in the home-and-home series between the two clubs.

Lowman added his fine 65 round to a previous low of 76 shot at Blue Lakes Country Club two weeks ago. Municipal golfers ended the series with 104 1/2 points to the country club squad.

Paul Davids took second low round honors in Wednesday's round with a 68, followed by Duane Serna and Bill Roberts with 71's. All four golfers were playing for the money course. Rex Wood of Blue Lakes turned in the low net card with a round of 65, while Bruce Mecham, Mike Gray, and Donnie Larson tied for second with net 68's. Mecham, Gray falls from Blue Lakes while Larson and Mecham played for the city course.

Kelley Bests Phil Rookie, Padres Win

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Dick Kelley doubled home two runs in the ninth inning but needed relief help from Jack Baldwin and Billy McCall to put down a Philadelphia rally in the bottom of the ninth Wednesday night as the San Diego Padres defeated the Phillies 3-0 for their sixth straight victory.

Kelley, who had not won a game since May 8, was pitching a 90 mph ball when he doubled home two insurance runs in the ninth. Ed Spiezio singled with one out and Clarence Gustafson walked before Kelley delivered his key hit.

With one out in the bottom of the ninth, Kelley walked Cookie Rojas and had a 2-0 count on Rich Allen when reliever Preston Gomez called on Baldwin. The veteran reliever got Allen on a popout but Deron Johnson singled. McCall came on to get Johnny Callison on a deep fly to right to end the game.

Kelley's performance overshadowed a fine major-league debut by Billy Champion, the 20-year-old right-hander who pitched his last game from the Phillies' Eugene (Ore.) farm club, where he recorded a 7-1 record.

Red-Hot Mets Down L.A. In 15th Inning

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tommie Agee scored from first base in the 15th inning to give the Red-Hot Mets a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night for their seventh straight triumph.

Bud Harrelson opened the 15th by drawing a walk off relief pitcher Pete Mikkelson and was forced at second by Agee. Garrett then lined a single to center and the ball got past Davis and rolled to the centerfield wall with Agee coming around to score.

Ron Taylor, who came in to pitch in the 14th, received credit for his second victory in three decisions while Mikkelson absorbed his second loss in three decisions.

But the club owners apparently hit a snag in their discussions, breaking off the meeting late in the afternoon. A scheduled news conference was cancelled and the club owners are expected to legislate a change to reduce the trading of fairs during the final minutes of the season.

Kenney said at the end of a morning session of the NBA meeting that teams finishing in a tie in the standings will flip a coin for priority in draft picking. The winner of the coin toss will pick first on the second round and the losers first on every round.

NFL-AFL Talks Continue But Alignment Is Ignored

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National and American Football leagues met Wednesday to discuss certain joint issues but did not get into the program of National League alignment.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said he would like to get the joint business over with before going back to the realignment problem and expressed confidence that things would progress quickly enough so that alignment could be discussed again Friday.

Among issues discussed Wednesday was reported by the Competition Committee involving waiver procedures and the number of moves permitted on active, inactive and reserve lists.

How to get a hip teen to eat three squares a day.

Too many teens have less than ideal diets because they lack the proper motivation to eat well-balanced meals. How about yours?

Teen years are years of greatly increased nutritional needs.

Yet, survey after survey shows that approximately six out of every ten girls, and four out of every ten boys, have diets with less than ideal amounts of certain nutrients.

Most parents recognize the nutritional needs of their teens, but most provide good meals on a regular basis.

Proper motivation is necessary. Good nutrition must be made meaningful to teens.

1. Popularity: Every teen wants to be liked by everyone in his peer group. His peers judge him by how he looks, what he says, what he does, and how he performs.
2. Vitality: Teens want to be like people with a lot of pep and energy; the big guy who scores the winning touchdown, the cute little coed who's a wiz on the dance floor.
3. Enjoyment: Good meals can, and should be, pleasant and enjoyable for your teens. Make them feel they are an important part of family meals.

4. Involvement: Teens like to do things for themselves. Getting them involved in their nutrition needs is no exception.

The theme of the campaign is "Milk gives you a big hit that lasts."

Recognizing the importance of motivation in the improvement of teen nutrition, the American Dairy Association has undertaken an enlightening campaign of special interest to young people.

So we are asking all parents to take an active interest in motivating your teens to better eating habits.

Don't be a nutrition drop-out.
