TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1969

TEN CENTS

TWIN FALLS CITY officials rolled out the red carpet Thursday night for Kellwood Co. employees as they arrived in Twin Falls for a two-day tour of the area. Chamber of Commerce president, Harold Howe, welcomes Mrs. Earl W. Hornbaker as she steps from the plane and presents her a corsage. A full schedule has been set up for the Kellwood Co. employees to introduce them to Twin Falls, its housing, churches, schools, shopping areas, hospital, etc. The group will visit the plant site and training building, as well as scenic attractions of the area, including Shoshone Falls. Twin Falls picnic area and Blue Lakes Trout Farm. The group arrived by private plane Thursday night at the Twin Falls Airport and will be returning to Silver City, N. C., Sunday morning.

Fire Trucks Answer 2 Calls at Laundry

The Twin Falls Municipal Fire Department answered two calls Friday morning at Troy National Laundry, 201 Second Ave. W. Two trucks were dispatched at 7:12 a.m. to extinguish a fire in a dryer in the laundry part of the building. Fred Higgins, fire and gas inspector, said a control on the dryer apparently wasn't functioning properly and caused the dryer to overheat. The firemen extinguished the fire and returned to the station at 7:40 a.m. The trucks were called back to the scene at 7:52 a.m. when it was discovered a vent from the malfunctioning dryer had caused a fire in the attic of the building. Mr. Higgins said there was some damage to the building, since the firemen had to cut some holes in the roof and ceiling to put out the small fire. He said the overheated dryer could have done more damage, but the heat had caused two heads to break off a sprinkling system and the water from the sprinklers controlled the fire. The firemen were at the laundry until 8:47 a.m.

World War II Veterans Honor D-Day Landings

ST. LO, France (UPI)—Veterans of the U.S. and Allied invasion force that gathered across the channel for the D-Day landings 25 years ago returned here Thursday for remembrance ceremonies. American officials, French dignitaries and veterans from the United States, Britain, Canada and a half-a-dozen other countries that took part in the drive against Adolf Hitler's "Atlantic Wall" attended six ceremonies commemorating the men who died here. On June 5, 1944, the men of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's invasion army were embarking on the boats and landing craft that were to take them across the channel to France early the next day. "It's a pity like could not have been here," French veteran Etienne Brun commented. U.S. Ambassador Sargent Shriver and Mrs. Shriver, along with General Omar Bradley, General Maxwell Taylor and Senator Philip A. Hart, attended ceremonies at Utah and Omaha beaches. The two beaches, in northwestern France between Deauville and Cherbourg, were the main landing points for the U.S. forces commanded by General Bradley. On Omaha Beach Thursday, U.S. fighters from Ruislip Air Force Base, England, streaked low overhead as an American National Guard monument was inaugurated. At Omaha Beach, officials and hundreds of veterans stood bareheaded in a stiff offshore wind for a minute of silence at the Madeleine monument, before the unveiling of the 4th Division Monument. Allied warships, including the French cruiser De Grasse, steamed a few hundred yards offshore as British, American, Canadian and French troops took part in a march past. Torches were lit at each of the ceremonies at Bayeux, Colleville-sur-mer, Omaha Beach and Utah Beach. Thursday night the torches were brought to Carentan and used to kindle a large flame in the huge bowl used for the Olympic flame at Grenoble last year. Short prayers were said by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish chaplains and a contingent of French army troops—none of them old enough to have been born at the time of the landing—fired a volley in the air. At Sainte-Mere-Eglise, where 23,000 paratroopers were dropped in the first phase of the invasion, thousands gathered at the local church for the lighting of a "liberty flame" and a mass. French and Allied veterans kept a nightlong vigil at the flame.

Loses Bid

A Twin Falls Boys' State delegate Thursday lost the bid for governor to his opponent from Pocatello. Steve Blake, Twin Falls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Blake, was defeated in Thursday's election at Boise State College by Adelin Cull of Pocatello's Highland High School. Also elected Thursday were David Badger, Rupert, state auditor, and Heret Strong, Idaho Falls, lieutenant governor.

SAC Plane Reported Lost With 19 GIs

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UPI)—A massive air search was concentrated in the Bering Sea today for a four-engine Strategic Air Command plane "assumed down" with 19 servicemen aboard. The RC135, a reconnaissance version of the Boeing 707, vanished 30 minutes after takeoff from Shemya, a tiny island at the western end of the Aleutians. It was en route to Eielson Air Force Base near Fairbanks. The military maintains a base on Shemya in the Bering Sea, which separates the United States from the Soviet Union. The Pentagon said the plane was not shot down. SAC headquarters in Omaha, Neb., announced late Thursday the plane was "assumed down" in an area about 180 miles east of Shemya. There was a brief flurry of hope earlier when the Pentagon said a beeping distress signal had been received from the ocean, about 250 miles east of Shemya. However, the Coast Guard Air Search and Rescue Headquarters in Juneau said the report proved to be a search plane trailing its own emergency equipment. The Coast Guard said the missing plane "radiated" a "strong" and "persistent" vibration shortly after takeoff. It was equipped with several 20-man life rafts and adequate survival gear.

Gooding County Escapees Repeat Feat In Shoshone

SHOSHONE—The two Chicago brothers who escaped from Gooding jail last month Thursday night again made their way to freedom this time from the Lincoln county jail where they had been put for "safekeeping." Lincoln County Sheriff Thomas (Wild) Conner, who said he was sleeping right above "where the action was," discovered the two were gone when he went to feed them breakfast Friday morning. Another prisoner, who was in jail with them, also said he did not know they were gone, so the escape must have been done quietly. Sheriff Conner noted, "The brothers, Arthur William Neal, 28, and Joseph Wayne Neal, 28, had been kept in separate cells in the Lincoln jail which is in the basement of the courthouse here. The sheriff said the men somehow dug out of their cells and together escaped through a hole in the concrete basement wall. An area-wide alert has been issued for the two men. Sheriff's officers were checking Friday morning to see if there had been any outside help."

Audit Completed On Justice Court Books

An audit of books kept by Karl Robert (Jack) Lewis, the Buhl justice of the Peace, who has been suspended pending an investigation, has been completed. Twin Falls County officials are presently checking the results of the audit. The results have not been made public. Robert Galley, county prosecutor, said, "This is a very detailed report. We want to study it carefully. Then we'll make a public statement." The audit was ordered several weeks ago after Mr. Lewis was arrested and charged with using an insufficient number of check. Mr. Lewis is free on $1,000 bond and a preliminary hearing has been set for July 22 in Twin Falls County Justice Court. Harry Turner, a Twin Falls attorney, has been appointed a justice of the Peace to hear the case. His appointment is permanent, allowing him to preside as a Justice of the Peace whenever the present justice, Reed Maughan, disqualifies himself. Judge Maughan, who is also from Buhl, disqualifies himself in the Lewis case. Mr. Lewis was arrested May 9 on a complaint signed by County Clerk Harold Lancaster. It is alleged Mr. Lewis issued a check for $380.50 to cover his April court report to the county. The check was written on county account maintained to BOSTON (UPI)—The executive officer of the USS Pueblo, the ship's captain Thursday said the vessel was captured without firing a shot and that the capture could have been avoided. Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr., in a copyrighted story in the Christian Science Monitor said "This capture—this illegal seizure—needn't have happened. In my opinion, it could have been avoided." "The events of that day mushroomed out of control. We were finally ensnared by our own inability to copy and calmly read the situation." The Pueblo was "playing a game of chess of big stakes on the high seas with the North Koreans" when it was captured off the Korean coast Jan. 23, 1968, he said. He said the ship, the USS Pueblo, had "combed these same waters on a similar mission before us with a more experienced captain and crew, and would have found a way to extricate herself from this same situation," he wrote. Murphy, who was accepted in command of Bucher, said he originally felt "we were put together and outmanned, and open warfare with the weapons available could well have been suicidal" when a North Korean submarine chaser and torpedo boats ringed the Pueblo. However, when the Pueblo attempted to flee into open water and the North Koreans opened fire, "I certainly expected the Pueblo to retaliate." Murphy, who announced his resignation from the Navy after being cleared by Navy Secretary John H. Chafee of disciplinary action, said there was a steady feud between Bucher and Lt. Stephen R. Harris of Melrose, the intelligence officer who headed a 28-man detachment. Bucher "adamantly maintained that it was his ship and he ran every part of it. On the other hand, Lt. Harris was very opinionated and he wanted to be in charge of the ship within a ship concept." The Bucher-Harris difference of opinion flared at the time of capture and simmered throughout our detention," he wrote. Murphy added the two "apparently had a history of chiding, minimized their differences during the recent court of inquiry into the Pueblo affair."

Pueblo Officer Pins Blame On Bucher

Vandals' Acts At Park Shell Said Increasing

There have been a number of acts of vandalism to the Twin Falls City Park bandshell over the years, but reportedly it seems it is a greater problem this year.

Reed Coulam, secretary-treasurer of the city band group, said lights have been broken out and some of the risers broken. He said this is public property and the vandalism is an additional expense to the city. Last week, however, he repaired the risers at his own expense.

Mr. Coulam said the bandshell facility is for the public's enjoyment and should be appreciated by all the people.

Puerto Rico: Castro Is Wasting Time

Friday, June 6, 1969. THOMAS HOWARD, Assistant to the Publisher. DALE THOMPSON, Composing Room Manager. PAUL STANLEY, Press Room Manager. O. J. SMITH, Managing Editor.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Castro's rebels who are trying to stir an anti-American revolutionary spirit among Puerto Rico's three million people are wasting their time. The push for independence in this island commonwealth has less steam behind it than ever.

The sporadic though now diminished flurry of supermarket and department store fire-bombings in San Juan is the work of hard-core Castroites led by Juan Mari Bras. Roughly a dozen of this small band are now in jail. These revolutionaries could make no pretense at having wide popular support on the island. Their clear purpose is to frighten potential outside investors, since Puerto Rico's continuing economic growth is the rebels' worst stumbling block.

ment polled in the range of 3 per cent of the total vote—about the same as in the most recent previous elections. Newly elected Gov. Luis Ferre believes that the true strength of the independence movement may be closer to 10 per cent, since there is an assumption that many supporters of the former Gov. Roberto Torres would vote for the Democratic party favor independence at some future date, if not now. Not surprisingly, too, it is estimated that perhaps 80 per cent of the University of Puerto Rico's faculty lines up for independence. Their influence on island politics, however, has proved somewhat less than crucial.

To Each His Own

Since the end of World War II, national policy of the United States has recognized that liberalized international trade is essential to promote and preserve the strength of the non-Communist world. For nearly two and a half decades, five presidents have backed the removal of lowering of tariff barriers and the creation of common markets in Europe and Latin America.

has only one local winery, taxes domestic wine at 20 cents a gallon but taxes wine from California at $1. For wines of high alcoholic content, the Georgia taxes increase to 50 cents a gallon for the local product and $2 for all "foreign" wines.

Today, manufacturers in the Netherlands can buy steel from West Germany without having to battle local tariffs. In Central America, similar trade walls have fallen. But in the United States, ironically where the idea of a common market was pioneered 180 years ago, we seem to be retreating back into local protectionism. The giant of American commerce finds itself increasingly fettered by Lilliputian bonds in all but a few of the 50 states.

Yet this and other taxation of products in interstate commerce could clearly seem to flout Article I of the Constitution which forbids states from levying duties on imports and exports.

These bonds take different forms—taxes, regulations and administrative rulings—but their net effect is to penalize the out-of-state seller. In Arkansas, local publishers can sell magazines by subscription without having to pay a sales tax. Out-of-state publishers are denied this exemption.

Up to now, Congress has ducked the issue and the courts, in the absence of federal guidelines, have often declined to invalidate state measures. The consequence in the case of Rex Daniel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, has been "a balkanization of the economy."

Six states have varying rules which discriminate against the person who trades in a car purchased in another state. Florida, Kansas, Louisiana and North Carolina all have tax formulas that tax products made outside the state, while exempting the identical product manufactured within the state.

In 1968, after a five-year study of the situation, Celler's committee drafted a bill which would prevent the taxation of a small company by state, county or city governments unless that firm owned or leased real estate, maintained a local employe or had a stock of goods within the taxing jurisdiction.

By and large, however, discriminatory taxation is the worst culprit, resulting not only in aggravation and competitive disadvantage to the seller but higher prices to the consumer.

"The bill overwhelmingly passed in the House but died in the Senate, due in part to insufficient time remaining in the legislative year and to opposition from governors and state tax administrators, many of whom suggested an interstate tax compact as an alternative remedy.

One of the most flagrant examples involves wine, Georgia, which small companies in every part of the United States are now so burdened by unnecessary paper work and unreasonable tax requirements that commerce between the states is being stifled. It is especially shocking to me that while trade barriers in Europe are being rapidly removed in favor of common markets, the concept of free trade within our own United States is rapidly being buried beneath mountains of complex tax returns."

ELKO HERE WE COME

June offers the finest nature can produce. Penetrating the clear air and rich verdure on all sides are the ecstatic songs of birds. Golden sunshine, soft, delicate breezes, longest days of the Year, fragrant with the mingled perfumes from garden and meadow — what a month it is!

MR. SPECTATOR

If you feel like you're 100—and can prove it—you'll get the red rug treatment thrown your way down at Elko, Nev., on June 29.

COME ON OVER

There is, of course, nothing really funny about the Midwest these days. But it does come as something of a relief that even the grim Arab-Israeli standoff can have its lighter, or at least less lethal, moments.

GIVEAWAY DEPT.

THE ISRAELIS ALSO ARE REPORTED PUTTING THE LANDSCAPING ON THEIR SIDE OF THE CANAL TO USE AGAINST THE EGYPTIANS.

Shades of World War II—although there is no indication the Egyptians are reacting with the amusement with which Allied troops greeted the handouts of the Red Cross and the Axis Navy in those days.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have an ugly scar on the calf of my leg, which is embarrassing for a girl. Do you know of any cream that would hide it or any treatment to make it less obvious?—R.R.

THE AMERICAN CHRISTIAN CHURCH HAS PROFITED FROM THE BLACK MAN'S BONDAGE AND THE EXPLOITATION OF THE NEGRO.

Who are these characters rapping up and down the aisles of our churches demanding "reparations?" Blacks insisting that you and I must pay the millions of dollars because our ancestors kept their ancestors in slavery.

DEAR DR. THOSTESON:

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have eight month-old puppies that my stools were flat instead of round. My doctor said it was probably due to hemorrhoids, but made no examination. They seem to be getting flatter all the time. Could this be a sign of cancer? Four generations of my family have had hemorrhoids.

Curiosity Kills Cat, Halts Launch

BLANDING, Utah (UPI) — The launch of an Athena missile to test the reentry characteristics of inter-continental ballistic missiles was delayed 30 minutes today by a cat who disrupted a radar tracking facility.

An Army spokesman, Jim Lovelady at the White Sands Missile Grounds in New Mexico, said the cat climbed a utility pole in Blanding and short-circuited a transformer.

"This set-off a chain reaction disrupting a tower at a critical radar tracking facility 15 miles away at White Mesa which in turn delayed the launch of the missile, 100 miles from Blanding, at the White Sands, Utah, launch complex near Green River."

Lovelady said the cat, which was killed, cost "American taxpayers several thousand dollars in loss range time."

The missile was finally launched at 2:55 a.m.

The Athena-Rocket is part of the Army's five year program to test the reentry characteristics of ICBM missiles.

An earlier missile was successfully launched at 10:55 p.m., Lovelady said, adding both missiles "impacted on the range 450 miles southeast of the Utah launch complex."

Jurors Deny Damage Claim Against Ford

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI) — A claim of $125,000 against Ford Motor Co. by a Lawrenceville, Calif., couple has been denied by a Kern County Superior Court jury.

Howard and Charlotte Coursey filed the suit against Ford following an accident four years ago on Highway 14 near Mojave. They alleged that faulty brakes caused their 3-month-old Ford pickup truck's left front wheel allowed air to escape from the tubeless tire which caused the pickup to go out of control and overturn.

Ford had contended during the 3½-week trial that the river across was a result rather than a cause of the accident.

Wednesday, in its second day of deliberations, the jury agreed with Ford and denied the claim.

Congressman Says 84 Per Cent Back Missile Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Whip Hugh Scott predicted Thursday President Nixon's antiballistic missile system would easily win Senate approval now that a nationwide poll reported 84 per cent of the population favors an ABM.

The Pennsylvania senator told a news conference the poll ran counter to his mail, which opposes the safeguard ABM by 9 to 1. That, he said, indicated there was an organized letter-writing campaign conducted by anti-ABM forces.

The poll, Scott said, was conducted by the Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., for a new citizens organization formed to mobilize public opinion in favor of the ABM system.

The group, called the Citizens Committee for Peace With Security, includes Clare Booth Luce, former ambassador to Italy, professional football coach Vince Lombardi and Roy Campanella, former major league baseball star.

Many members of the committee are leading contributors to the Republican National Committee and received no outside financial support from any organization.

Casey said he did not feel the committee's pro-ABM stance influenced the pollsters and said the project was conducted along objective and scientific lines.

He also said it contradicted the impression that the American public opposed an ABM created by a letter-writing campaign directed "by a small group of militant opponents."

"The real voice of America is not being heard," Casey said.

The poll, he added, sampled the opinion of 1,500 persons in 85 areas of the country and cost $10,000.

Nixon's Stand On Military Stirs Furor In Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Critics and supporters of President Nixon's speech in defense of the military clashed on the Senate floor Thursday. They injected other subjects such as militant students and unruly demonstrators into their remarks.

It started routinely when Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., praised Nixon for warning against unilateral disarmament and criticizing the "new isolationists" during his commencement speech Wednesday at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Sen. Albert S. Gore, D-Tenn., a critic of the antiballistic missile and some other military programs, jumped to his feet to call Nixon's remarks "intemperate."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., at a hearing of the joint economy in government subcommittee deplored the "unfortunately strong language" of Nixon's Air Force Academy speech.

He said the speech "has been interpreted as an attack on the patriotism of those who are questioning the basic need of this nation for a military force as large and burdensome as we now have."

Although he did not participate in the floor debate, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, a leading voice for judicial reform, said "There is also need to overhaul the machinery for removal of judges who are judged unfit to continue to hold office," he said.

Jurors To Ponder Fate Of Soldiers

FT. ORD, Calif. (UPI) — The lengthy court-martial of 14 soldiers on charges of mutiny drew to a close Thursday. After the last words by defense and prosecuting attorneys, law officer Lt. Col. James A. Hagan recessed the proceedings.

He planned to instruct the five-member panel and turn the fate of the men over to it later Thursday night.

Prosecutor Capt. Dean Filippo, concluded the 35-day trial by asking the panel to find each of the defendants guilty.

They were charged with the serious crime of mutiny for participating in a sit-down demonstration of 27 soldiers at the San Francisco Presidio stockade last Oct. 14.

The prisoners refused to go to work and sang songs during the protest. They testified during the trial that they were trying to call attention to grievances which had been ignored.

The prisoners also staged the demonstration to protest the fatal shooting of a stockade inmate by a guard three days earlier. Their grievances included claims of unsanitary conditions and overcrowding in the stockade at the Army base in San Francisco.

In his final words to the panel, defense attorney Terence Hallinan said flatly, "These men are guilty of no offense whatsoever. This case has been built with the testimony of 14 psychiatrists who said the defendants were under mental strains which caused the demonstration."

Filippo concluded his case by saying "all 14 are guilty of mutiny. He said, "Their intent was to overthrow law-lawful authority."

In four previous courts-martial, eight of the 27 demonstrators were found guilty by the court and sentenced. Three of the 27 escaped, and two are under medical treatment.

Hanson Asks For Judicial Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress a man Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, told a senate subcommittee Wednesday that "Recent events have clearly demonstrated the need for judicial reform in order to strengthen public confidence in the Nation's court system."

Hansen's appearance before the subcommittee on Improvements in Judicial Machinery of the Senate Judiciary Committee was in response to an invitation by its chairman, Senator Joseph D. Byrd of Maryland.

"The requirement a judge make public disclosure of certain assets and income will serve as an effective deterrent to the giving and accepting of favors that are inconsistent with his judicial performance of his duties."

"There is also need to overhaul the machinery for removal of judges who are judged unfit to continue to hold office," he said.

Apollo Astronauts Plan Public Tour, 'Homecoming' Parade At Cocoa Beach

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The three Apollo 10 moon pilots plan to kick off a tour of public appearances by returning to their launch site Wednesday for a reunion with colleagues and a "homecoming" parade in nearby Cocoa Beach.

Spokesmen announced Thursday that while visiting the area, Thomas P. Stafford, John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan plan to establish an "Apollo 10 astronauts scholarship fund."

The astronauts wind up 11 days of technical debriefings today at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston and planned to report to the nation on their eight-day moon flight at a news conference there Saturday.

They will fly with their families to New York later Saturday and attend a Broadway play Saturday night.

On Sunday, Stafford, Young and Cernan plan to make a television appearance (ABC's Issues and Answers) and attend the Emmy television awards ceremony Sunday night. At the ceremony, the astronauts will accept special awards on behalf of the Apollo 7, 8, 9 and 10 crews for their in-space television performances.

The astronauts plan to return to their homes in Houston on Monday and then fly with their families to the moonport Wednesday morning.

First on their schedule here is a motorcade through the Cape Kennedy industrial area to the towering moon rocket assembly building where 2,000 launch workers are expected to greet them.

Stafford, Young and Cernan, whose flight paved the way for man's first lunar landing attempt in July, will drive to nearby Titusville for lunch and then motor back to the space center for a private meeting with colleagues at the Apollo crew quarters.

From there, the Apollo 10 spacemen will parade through Cocoa Beach with marching units from surrounding communities. A banquet is scheduled for Wednesday night.

On Thursday, the pilots and their families will fly to Puerto Rico for two days of receptions, a news conference and tours of five major island cities. They are scheduled to return to Houston June 14.

The space agency said the astronauts' schedules are not definite for the rest of the month, but a trip to California is planned for June 17, 18 and 19.

A White House reception also is planned for later this month as well as trips to Cleveland, Ohio, and New York City.

"Toothpick" Due In T. F. On Way To Jaycee Meet

The arrival of the "Oregon Toothpick" Sunday will give area residents a chance to see Jaycees from that state exhibit "a typical example of their home state's plant life."

The Toothpick is a 39,000-pound 420-year-old Douglas fir log which is being hauled across the U. S. to the national Jaycee convention in Louisville, Ky.

The Oregon Jaycee delegation will stop over in Twin Falls for brief ceremonies at noon at Idaho Equipment Co.

those who have attacked the military.

"Do you know of a group called SDS (Students for a Democratic Society)?" he asked. "They are the most sorry, contemptible, over-privileged people in the world."

"These people ought to be put in the penitentiary and hard labor," Long said. "I'd put them on a rock pile—if you don't work, you get shot."

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., another leading Pentagon critic, remarked in a committee hearing, "It seems that unless you indicate constant frustration of the military, you are unpatriotic in some way."

The Sacking Of Mary Daly

By REV. LESTER KINSOLVING

One of America's most impressively credentialed theologians — an attractive, brilliant named Mary Daly, is being dismissed by the faculty of the of the Jesuit — owned Boston College.

Dr. Daly has seven earned degrees, including Ph.D.s from both Notre Dame and the University of Strasbourg, which also awarded her a doctorate in sacred theology.

She was recently given a
"one year, non-renewable contract" (i.e. fired) by the Boston College administration, which has never claimed she is either anything but an ability or reminds in department.

In response to the 2500 Boston College students who signed a petition protesting her ouster, administration has refused to give any reason for sacking her.

The Rev. Charles Donovan, S. J., senior vice president and Dean of Theology, every type of discrimination whether social or cultural, whether based upon sex, race, color, etc. as in the release of Boston College administration to provide any other reason for her ouster, it appears that there is a real possibility of sexual discrimination as well as a violation of academic freedom. (A recently established review committee of five faculty members is, at this writing, examining this aspect of the case.)

This is not the first time that administration of Boston College has been involved in a furor over suppression of such ideals.

But Father Donovan also concided that the institution's students require complete confidentiality in such matters. He also noted that a request for official reconsideration of the ouster was voted down, 22:18 by the members of the academic senate.

Man-Made Problems

By Rev. JOHN RILEY
Rector, Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Twin Falls

In an interesting review of an even more interesting story recently published for children entitled "Pucker's Countryside," Alison Piplett briefly states the crux of the whole matter.

She writes: "Personally, I don't think I'd care to live in the Times Square subway station, but for Harry Cat and Tucker Mouse it provided a most desirable residence, central, convenient, warm, and quiet. Then one spring day in flew (yes, flew, what nerve!)
John Rabbit with an urgent appeal for help—from Chester
Crickett.

So off they went by evening train into Connecticut, where Alison Piplett states that by a brook meandering through a meadow, to see what they could do about their friends
John Rabbit and Chester
Crickett.

"It was not so simple," for the trouble was man made, the meadow was to become a housing development.

"Things like this can undo all the Chester Crickets the world holds, not to say anything at all about the frustration experienced by such close friends as Harry, Tucker, and John.

"Their problem, not as simple as they first thought, was man made. Imagine that!

"How many are, when it comes right down to it? After all, have we not seen a God-made problem? We do not, and we do not of our tried-and-proven methods, which never seem to change much.

"Secondly, enough solves in one place, listening and understanding could be the church — could it be?

Thirdly, an attitude which says "while a woman is in travelling is one thing, but once she is settled she is another, she remembers no more, she forgets can help mightily. Problems are for growth; what else?

God's own recommendation on Christ who was honest, and had had persons around him; and who suffered, rose again, and ever lives to make intercession for us.

Extremism Worries Religious Leaders

Religious leaders are worried about the rapid growth of extremism in America.

Their concern is reflected in recent developments in the two largest Protestant denominations.

The United Methodist Church earlier this month held a three-day conference at Norman, Okla., to study "the character and methodology of extremist groups" now operating in the country.

The Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention issued a statement last week emphasizing that "become-alert to the extremist forces" which threaten to tear American society apart.

He said the nation has experienced about 200 major civil disturbances in the past five years, during the last about 10,000 injured, with property damage well in excess of $1 billion.

The Rev. Clayton Hammond of Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the United Methodist Commission on Religion and Public Life, said "black radicalism and youth which currently 'are increasing to the point that the prospects for the immediate future are foreboding, to say the least."

Dear Abby BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A great deal has happened to our country lately, and the youth is blamed. We've been called everything from "flower children" to hippies. Everywhere you hear about "protesters" and d'r'a f dodgers, and adults are suspicious of any teen-ager with long hair.

I recently came across this quote from a worried adult: "What is this world coming to? What will the world be like when the younger generation takes over? Will be destroyed by individualism and lack of leadership?" (Signed Socrates, 409 B.C.)

Sincerely yours,
LINDA IN CEDAR RAPIDS

DEAR LINDA: And look what happened to Socrates' "world" — which was Greece! And they didn't regain stature again until Minella Mercouri made "Never on Sunday" and Jackie married Onassis.

DEAR ABBY: As the mother of a 22-year-old daughter, I would like to have some up-to-date information on present day dating customs.

My daughter has been dating a young man for several months. He's a college graduate and has a very good job. He invited her to go skiing, and then informed her that she would have to pay for her own lift fee. She thought this was rather odd, but she paid her own fee.

Then on subsequent dates he told her she should pay her own way.

She told him she thought he was being "cheap." He said she was "ignorant." And they quarreled.

Is the young man correct? Is it the custom now for girls to pay their own way when asked for a date? PERPLEXED

PERPLEXED: The gentleman treats the lady, unless they have an "understanding" beforehand, and are saving for their mutual benefit. A man who would ask a girl for a date and then suggest she pay her own way is no gentleman. And a girl to put up with it must be very hungry for company.

DEAR ABBY: You are a doll. You made me see the light, even though it took 6 years to register.

I am 40 years old and divorced. I am tall and slim and have been told that I am "attractive." I have many talents and a good job; but for some unknown reason I became involved with a married man. He was "misunderstood, unloved," etc., and said they were together only because of the children, but if it took him until he was 65 we could be together. You know the routine, I believed him.

Naturally we couldn't be seen together, so I entertained him in my home. He was jealous and possessive, and never knew until the last minute if we could be together, so I wasn't able to go anywhere.

Finally I saw something in your column that hit me right between the eyes. ("He'll never marry you. Why should he? He's getting the whole show for the price of the amusement tax.")

I looked at myself in the mirror, and said, "This is it — no more wasting years." I called him and told him bluntly not to bother me anymore. He got the message.

Now I can rest at night. Thank you!

APPLE-NUT SYRUP — For a very special brunch serve Apple-Nut Syrup. To prepare: Mix one tablespoon butter in saucepan. Add three tablespoons chopped pecans and brown lightly; then remove nuts. Blend one cup maple syrup, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and a dash of salt into butter in saucepan. Add one-third cup thinly sliced Washington State Winesap apples, cover and simmer slowly about 10 minutes. Remove cover and simmer three to five minutes. Remove from heat and nuts. Serve at once on French toast or waffles. Makes about two cups. The Winesap variety is chosen for this recipe and for the cooking purposes as it retains its full-bodied flavor throughout cooking.

CowBelles Sponsor National Campaign For Father's Day

The originator of Father's Day, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, Spokane, Wash., believed words of tenderness should be part of the annual June celebration.

"We agree," says Mrs. Jack Copeland, Clovis, N. M., of the American National CowBelles. With the Beef Industry Council of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, the CowBelles sponsor the annual Beef for Father's Day campaign. The CowBelles believe deeds should be added to words. "We say," Mrs. Copeland, chairman of the project, continues, "tenderness is beef for Father's Day."

Mrs. Dodd, who was responsible for the first Father's Day observance June 19, 1910, declared some years later, "Father's Day should include amply attendance at church, a little gift for Dad, and some tender words you've always longed to say to him."

Mrs. Louis Bergevin, Gardnerville, Nev., co-chairman of the 1969 promotion, points out there will be reminders for mom to shop for dad's favorite food in retail stores across the nation. Special full-color posters feature.

showing the tenderness theme will show mouth-watering T-bone steak, shioli, steak, rib-eye roast and beef rib roast.

The American National CowBelles is the women's auxiliary of the American National Cattlemen's Association. State and county CowBelle groups conduct the annual Beef for Father's Day promotion at the local level. Many call attention to beef for Dad's special day with proclamations by state and local government officials, selection of a Father of the Year, and presentation of beef gifts to the father of the first baby born on Father's Day.

Special Crop, Stock Survey Is Planned

Idaho farmers will be asked to participate in a special enumerative crop and livestock survey to be conducted by the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in late May and early June.

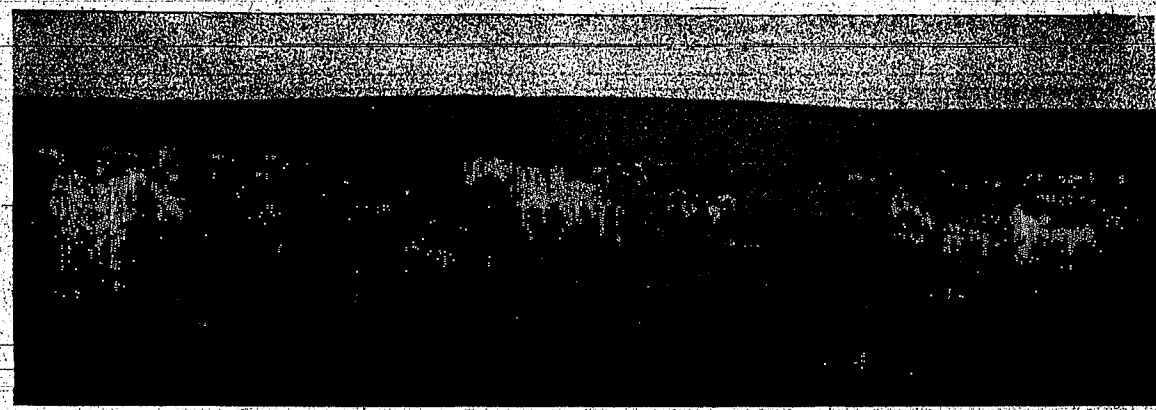

The survey is part of a nationwide effort to provide information needed to estimate planted acreage, crops, livestock numbers, and farm labor. In Idaho, about 2,000 farms will be visited; across the country survey workers will conduct some 110,000 interviews.

State agricultural statistician, James L. Olson, explained the locally hired enumerators who will interview farmers are given several days training. He said, "Our people are instructed in how to properly use aerial photographs and record specific data for selected farm units. The information collected from the farmers operating in a field of these segments is important and each enumerator has to do a thorough and accurate job."

All the data gathered in these personal interviews plus detailed reports sent to the State office by voluntary crop reporters will be summarized and forwarded to Washington. Information from each State is processed and analyzed by the Crop Reporting Board, which issues crop and livestock estimates for the Nation and each State.

2 Area Men On Gem Dairy Commission

Two Magic Valley men have been named to the Idaho Dairy Products Commission by Gov. Don Samuelson.

Named to the commission are Robert Burks Jr., Wendell and T. W. Richmond, Puhl.

The newly established Commission will collect a tax from every producer in the state. This will amount to one-half of one per cent of the gross milk and cream sales off the farm. This money, estimated at about $200,000 annually, will be used to promote the markets and consumption of Idaho dairy products through research and advertising.

Malta Man Raises Tomatoes Commercially In Greenhouses

BRIDGE — A first-time venture of raising tomatoes in a greenhouse is proving a great success, according to Paul Crank, owner.

Presently he has one-half acre of greenhouses in the area of houses which is heated from natural hot water well of 214 degrees.

Assisting Mr. Crank in the operation is his mother, Mrs. Harriett Crank. They moved to Bridge (about 14 miles east of west of Malta) in April, 1966, from Spokane.

In a greenhouse, I then began looking for a place to locate and operate a place of my own. The Bridge area had the land, and natural hot water wells and the area was close to market, Burley to the west and cities in Utah to the southeast."

"Are other people raising ripe tomatoes in greenhouses?"

"There is one greenhouse near Pasco, Wash., that is raising ripe tomatoes in a greenhouse, but they are using gas for heat and paying over $1,000 per month in heating," stated Mr. Crank.

On the property which Mr.

Crank owns are two other natural hot water wells, which he hopes to use in expanding his operation.

"One of the wells is now flowing enough water to heat one acre of tomatoes in a greenhouse. The other well needs to be drilled deeper and then it would have the capacity of producing enough heat for five acres of greenhouses," reports Mr. Crank.

Each Sunday, there are at least 30 people driving to Bridge and touring the greenhouses to see the unusual way of raising ripe tomatoes.

After clearing sagebrush from a small area of the 189 acres, construction was started on the greenhouses. The greenhouses are 202 feet long, 120 feet wide and cover 24,960 square feet of one-half acre.

The greenhouses have 25 thermostats to assist in keeping the temperature from 70 to 72 degrees during the daytime and 60 degrees at night. There are 20 large four-foot square fans and 40 electric small motors (ranging from one-half to one horse motors) used in cooling and heating the greenhouses.

It costs about $30 per month to heat the one-half acre of greenhouses. About 100 gallons per minute of the hot water from the well is used to heat the building.

For cooling, wet pads and fans are used along with the south wall constructed so that it can all be opened for air circulation.

Growing in the greenhouse are four varieties of tomatoes, a total of over 6,000 tomato plants. Each plant is growing in an individual round container. The plants grow from seven to eight feet tall and are tied with a nylon cord to a wire stretched above the plants the length of the greenhouses.

Each tomato plant will produce about 10 to 20 pounds per plant and the plant life is about six months. The plants are watered from a cold water well, through a U.S. nonfat dry milk and tiny plastic tubing placed at each tomato plant container.

There are three full-time employees including Mrs. Marlin Booth, Mrs. Ronald Meadows, and Orla Willet. The women work in caring for the tomato plants and picking the ripe tomatoes ready for market.

At present, the demand for ripe tomatoes in Burley is greater than can be supplied from the plants in the greenhouses. The Associated Food Store Chain, Salt Lake City, has agreed to purchase tomatoes as soon as supply of tomatoes reaches a truck load at one picking.

"How did you get into this type of business?" was asked of Mr. Crank and he answered, "I answered an ad in a newspaper, and after talking and seeing what could be done in raising tomatoes for local markets

Grazing Study Is Planned

BOISE (UPI)—Gordon Trombley, state land commissioner, said Wednesday a grazing management study will be made on range lands in southeastern Idaho to identify range management problems and provide alternative solutions.

The study will be conducted in cooperation with the University of Idaho, the Idaho Citizens Grazing Association, the Fort Hall Indian Agency, the Bureau of Land Management, and the Agricultural Extension Service. It will involve over 100,000 acres of land, of which 82,000 acres are endowed lands belonging to the state of Idaho.

Hints Given For City Gardeners

City homes and apartments can be brightened with some greenery and plants. It adds a dimension of life and takes little work.
We're becoming a nation of pot plant hobbyists, according to a recent survey.

Department economists, basing their studies on about 63 million acres of farmland retired from production in 1966, said the idled land was generally 10 to 20 per cent less productive than acreage remaining in production.
"Ageing diverted is usually the marginal land on each farm participating in the program," the report said.

For city gardeners, cactus plants are fun and easy to grow. Cactus plants require a gritty soil or hidden layer of coarse sand and peat moss. Water needs depend on the season - dry during winter, moderate moisture during spring and blooming.

Marginal Land Is Usually Retired Under Control Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Farmers who retire cropland under federal surplus control programs generally rent the government their second-best fields, an agriculture department study reported.
Department economists, basing their studies on about 63 million acres of farmland retired from production in 1966, said the idled land was generally 10 to 20 per cent less productive than acreage remaining in production.

At present, most land retired under the control system is held out of wheat and feed grain production until annual programs designed to curb surplus grain output. But Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin is reviewing proposals under which most of the job of keeping production in balance with demand would be accomplished by a major long term acreage retirement program. Under this program whole farms would be taken out of production.

Wendell Couple's Son Teaches Class On Meat Processing

WENDELL — Gordon Gibbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. JeRoy Gibbs, Wendell, has upgraded his vocational program in the Tracy, Calif., High School.

He is the agriculture and meat processing instructor at the school, explaining "Meat processing is the 'golden bee' of someone without any training."

"Like all other meat cutters," he said, "our boys will still have to serve a two-year apprenticeship, but employers would prefer to hire our students over someone without any training."

The Tracy meat processing class is taught both in the classroom and in the meat cutting lab. "We begin with a period of safety instruction," Gibbs said, "of course, we've had a few nicked fingers, but that's part of the trade."

"Classroom time is spent on economics, federal grading, meat inspection, wholesale and retail pricing, sanitation laws, handling and packaging laws, animal anatomy and chemical composition of meats."

"During the periods in the meat-cutting rooms, the students rotate duties at the cutting block, saw and grinder, boning table, wrapping, labeling and recording."

Most of the processed animals are owned by either the students or their parents. If time permits, animals belonging to area ranchers also are slaughtered and processed by the students.

"Slaughtering of animals is done at the ranch by using a self-contained slaughtering trailer hauled by the agricultural mechanic class, which includes a portable slaughtering vat for hogs."

"After slaughtering, the carcass is brought back to the high school where it is washed and prepared for the cooler. Through the use of grinders, slicers, scales, spices and other essential equipment, the meat is then processed and wrapped to the owner's specifications at no charge."

Bulletin Notes Increased Ground-Water Development

BOISE — The development of Idaho's ground-water resources is continuing at a tremendous pace, he continued, in his first report.

R. Keith Higginson, state reclamation engineer, announced the number of wells reported drilled in the state during the last year has increased by more than 70 per cent over those drilled in the preceding year.

This development is occurring, said Mr. Higginson, despite the fact the ground-water resources of the state have already been developed to the point where Idaho is being added to the list of nations in the production of ground water.

The largest use of ground water is for irrigation. More than three million acre feet are pumped annually to irrigate more than a million acres of land. This also places Idaho in the top four states in total irrigation agriculture.

The increased rate of ground-water development is depicted in a publication released by the Department of Reclamation, entitled "Ground-Water Development in Idaho, 1966."

Dale B. Rastin, the author, points out in this publication that to date 1,365 wells have been reported by well drillers as being drilled in 1966. In addition, 474 applications to appropriate ground water were approved by the department.

The center of well development in the state is Southern Idaho. The most active area is in the Boise Valley, where more than a third of the state's wells were drilled.

There was a 55 per cent increase in applications approved during the year.

Club Greet New Members At Murtaugh

MURTAUGH — New members of the Pasanah-AH Club are Kelly Christensen, Donald Muir, Patricia Muir, Terri Christensen, Richard Mitchell, Sharrin Coon, Kelly Dee Craner, Todd Peterson, and Julie Peterson.

The leaders, Mr. Morris Lattimer and Mrs. John Silvers, announced that Murtaugh's 1967 year and future meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. every other Tuesday at the Grange Hall. Kris Barza will serve refreshments at the June 3 meeting.

Rock hunting trips were discussed and a planning committee was named. Those serving on the committee are Dana Silvers, Marlene Lattimer, Bill Gray and Allan Mitchell. Arrangements are being made for the first field trip.

The leaders said that members have their projects completed before school opens the latter part of August.

Mrs. Lattimer displayed some completed sewing projects, and demonstrations were given by Carol Lattimer on art work, and Dana Silvers on preparing a rock display box.

Bill Gray, Terri Christensen and Gordon Graff will give demonstrations at the next meeting.

Dairy Aide Notes New Feeding Ideas

BURLEY—New feeding practices are gaining favor with Idaho's dairymen, facing common problems of maintaining efficiency for profitable operation.

George Cleveland, dairy specialist of the University of Idaho extension service, listed some of them this week in suggestions headed on to dairymen through the county agricultural agent.

Some dairymen, he said, are feeding the same amount of concentrate according to production. Complete rations are receiving more attention. Research is under way in several states on feeding combinations of concentrates and roughage in mixtures. The complete rations may be cubed or fed loose from a feed wagon.

More areas in the West, he said, are feeding greater amounts of alfalfa hay in cube form. Some advantages of cubing are a saving in storage space, reduction in transportation and the ability to mechanize handling and feeding.

Another management tool suggested by the specialist is automation. Labor, he points out, represents about 20 per cent of the cost of producing milk.

Automation reduces working hours and work load. A dairyman considering a new building should consider devices that make these conditions possible.

Mr. Cleveland also stressed the value of production testing. Last year Idaho cows on production testing averaged 12,591 pounds of milk and 478 pounds of fat, compared with the cows that averaged 8,876 pounds of milk and 350 pounds of fat.

Production records that are put to use, he said, have definite value in efficiency of the operation.

NEW OFFICERS of the California Dairy Federation were elected recently and will represent the California Dairy Industry Association, thousands of pounds of butter were exported from Fort Ross to the Russian Colony at Sitka, Alaska. From left, are Orlo Edd, Decker, president; Jim Lattimer, Mar-taugh, vice president; Jerry Stewart, East Minko, secretary; Dick Roemer, West Minko, treasurer; Beverly Setzer, Colley, Hat River, assistant treasurer; and Stanley Trummell, Barley, sentinel.

California's Dairy Industry Celebrates 200th Anniversary

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's dairy industry, which has started with its scrawny wild cows from Mexico, celebrates its 200th anniversary in June as the state's second largest agricultural commodity.

Two-hundred years ago, the Spanish dairy farmer was a Spanish priest providing milk for a handful of starving settlers and Indians. Today, he is a specialist involved in a $1.3 billion industry.

And today, the original herd of 18 undomestic cows has grown to more than 790,000 well-fed animals grazing throughout the state.

Father Junipero Serra, the Spanish priest who founded the first mission in California, is the person credited with introducing dairy cattle into the state.

Soon after he established the mission at San Diego De Alcala, he discovered the poverty of the local Indians, known as "Diego" because they die for their food. So he imported the 18 cows from Sonora, Mexico, to provide milk and cheese for the Indians and settlers.

As other priests and settlers moved up the California coast along El Camino Real they took dairy herds with them. Just 20 years after the first cows entered Californian territory, a herd of 30,000 thrived at the San Gabriel mission alone.

As the Spanish moved up the coast, the Russians moved south from Alaska. They brought cows. In 1812, Russians built Fort Ross near Bodega Bay, where for the first time in Cal-

Lamb Import Quota Plan Is Supported

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A proposed quota on lamb imports has won the support of the Senate Finance Committee. Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, reported Tuesday the committee agreed to an amendment to a meat import quota bill that would bring lamb under the legislation.

Bennett said the committee agreed to an amendment to a meat import quota bill that would bring lamb under the legislation. The amendment, offered by the Utah Republican, would fix a quota based on average imports in the three-year period of 1964 through 1966.

Bennett said the legislation would permit imports of about 15 million pounds of lamb in 1967 compared with record imports of nearly 23 million in 1966.

Tests Show Sprouted Wheat Okay

BURLEY—Sprouted wheat is valuable as feed for livestock, according to tests conducted by the agricultural experiment station of the University of Idaho.

Results were recently reported at the Caldwell branch station by J. J. Dahmen, superintendent, who worked with several other scientists, states Wayne Cole, Cassia County agent.

Sprouting of grains in the field is generally not a serious problem in Idaho, the report said. However, in 1963 large quantities of sprouted grain were available for livestock feed as a result of wet weather during winter. Tests compared non-sprouted and sprouted grain of the Nugas variety in feeding cattle, swine and poultry.

The summary said substitution of sprouted wheat for normal wheat did not alter rate of gain in any category. Efficiency of gain was not changed in cattle or poultry. However, swine feed efficiency was decreased with increasing amounts of sprouted wheat. Feeding sprouted wheat to yearling cattle did not affect carcass quality or yield.

Energy levels in the rations fed to chickens were increased significantly when the diet contained both sprouted and non-sprouted wheat.

Nutritive value of sprouted wheat in cattle rations was tested on 40 yearling steers allotted at random to four treatments consisting of different levels of sprouted wheat in the ration. The feeding trial lasted 140 days.

Feedlot results showed no difference between animals fed normal and sprouted wheat in average daily gain, feed consumption or efficiency of gain. When the animals were slaughtered, no differences between sprouted wheat were shown in grade, yield, dressing percentage, carcass weight, rib eye area, kidney fat or liver condition.

Idaho ASC Committee In Capitol

Idaho's new Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee is meeting in the Capitol in Washington with Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin and other agriculture officials for briefing sessions on farm program activities.

George Black, Cassia County chairman of the state committee, and Orvil Minko, Shelley, were part of the delegation. They took part in the four-day orientation program.

They were recently appointed to the committee and are responsible for state administration of such farm action programs as price supports, acreage allotments, feed grain, wool, wheat, sugar, farm storage, facility loans, land-use adjustment programs and the agricultural conservation program.

The state committee joined other ASC committees from 16 other states in this first orientation for committee members. Much of the orientation was on specific farm program matters and included the policies and aims for program operations.

Two Cattle Vaccines Are Recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Livestockmen and veterinarians were urged to return stocks of two "serums" of blackleg and malignant edema bacteria vaccine, to suppliers because of the safety of the materials, it is under question.

The agriculture department identified the suspect serums, or batches, as Nos. 67163 and 67165. The serums were made by Chas. Pfizer and Co. Inc., which distributed about 380,000 doses of each batch beginning last summer but which has now issued a recall notice for unused stocks of the serums.

The department said two cattle on a California feedlot came down with blackleg after they had been vaccinated with one of the two serums. Tests by California authorities of materials used at the feedlot showed live pathogenic bacteria in the two serums, the department said.

The next meeting is June 11 at the home of Les Anderson, Jr., Lee Trail.

First Rule For Gardeners Is To Have Quality Tools

Nothing catches the attention of customers in a hardware or department store as does the display of garden seeds. And gardeners are not likely to modify a matter of desire for warmer weather as it is a need for garden supplies that make gardeners buy. But they will find it understandable that you would need fresh supplies of seed and fertilizer every spring. Garden tools, if picked out, should last for many years and not be something that you have to buy new every year or two.

The first rule is to buy quality tools. Small hand saws and cultivators, for example, that are pressed out of a single piece of bendable sheet metal are to be avoided.

Material should be of good quality, steel should be good. Handles should be of good straight-grain hardwood. Avoid painted handles, there's no way of telling about the quality of the wood underneath.

Don't just point and pay. Handle the tools in the store before you buy. Get them. See if the weight and balance suit you. A tool comfortable for someone else to use may not be comfortable for you.

Avoid the gadgets and stick to basic tools.

Get a spading fork for turning over the soil and to break up clumps of old grass sod. Get one with a metal shank that encompasses the wood handle rather than the kind that has a single piece of metal driven into the end of the handle.

Pick a spade the same way. A round spade is great for picking up the dirt you dig. A square spade is O.K. for turning the soil, can double as a lawn edger.

A steel rake is absolutely necessary for keeping the lawn once it is laid. A bow rake rather than a straight rake is preferred by many.

How come, in a variety of weights, sizes and shapes. Get one big enough to do the job but not so big that using it is a major chore. A tipped blade hoe should be kept sharp, and get one of good quality size.

A long-handled cultivator has prongs instead of a blade but is absolutely necessary. See how you get along with a hoe first. Available in a combination hoe—straight blade on one side, twin-point blades on the other.

If you get down on your knees and work among the flowers, get hand trowels and cultivators. The kind with good steel blades and comfortable wooden handles.

You'll need a pair of pruning shears for shrubs, rose pruners. If you have hedges you will need hedge shears. If you have a great many hedges, consider a hedge trimmer.

When has ready will YOU be?

Green Thumb

MORE ABOUT LAWN THATCH: Recently a reader said he had thatch in his lawn and he was advised (by this department) to detach his lawn.

I can't get too excited about thatch. Actually, removing grass sheaths and other parts of living grass plants, NOT from clipping, and my authority on this is Dr. Robert W. Schery, Director of the Lawn Institute.

I don't deny that heavy thatch keeps rain, fertilizer, fungicides, etc. from soaking through easily to the roots. When thick enough, it acts as a reservoir, holding water and nutrients, but it also holds hard times getting to the roots, and as a result, roots start growing into the thatch. Some say that thatch is a reservoir of disease spores and other pests, but on the other hand, as the thatch decays, it contributes fertility, and it acts as a mulch retaining moisture and keeps the soil cooler.

Many gardeners who have problem lawns do so because of a fungus and pesticides, without realizing that the fungicides they use smother out the beneficial decay organisms as well as the disease. When you kill the beneficial decay "bugs," decay is slowed down.

What to do? For those who want to fight thatch here's what you can do: (1) Get rid of it (at least temporarily) by raking it out with the so-called "vertical mowers," with rotating blades sliding into the turf like a buzz saw. (2) Approach the problem biologically by hastening decay. You do this by liming and feeding. These practices encourage decay and supply extra nitrogen for soil bugs and microorganisms.

You can rent the vertical mowers and do the job now, but remember, the problem will be back again in short order (in a little as a year) if conditions are conducive to thatch formation.

Golf superintendents encourage the decomposition by top dressing, thereby making a suitable environment for fast decay of the organic residues. Will readers who have detached their lawns write and tell me of their experience?

A NEAT FLORAL TRICK: Next time you take a walk around a frost-free yard, cut up pieces of straw (or use pieces of soda straws) and insert them into the top of each flower. This individual floral blossoms of pansy, lilac (or anything you have) and insert them into the base of these budding trees as they often send up wild suckers.

from below. Pull them off (instead of cutting) with a garden shears. They may take over the whole tree. Some purple-leaved trees have a muddy color and not much can be done to enhance them unless they are growing in shade. Partial shade subdues their color; full sun enhances it.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:
F. R. of Twin Falls: "I have what we call a 'milk lily.' The green foliage comes out in spring, then the crazy thing dies down, and a flower will come up in August. Please tell me what this is and what care it needs."
What you have is known as "magic lily" or Lycoris squamigera, commonly sold as Amarantilla hallii. This "lily" shows its leaves in spring, then dies, and in August it sends up stalks which have a pink-lavender blossom. It's not a particularly handsome item, but it does bloom in August when blooms are in demand. Failure to bloom is due to overcrowding.

Solons Select Burroughs As Top Choice In Annual Baseball Talent Draft

BY STU CAMES UPPI SPAIN WRITER
Under the tutelage of manager and former hitting great Ted Williams if he signs with the Senators, recently impressed Solons scouts by slugging five balls out of the Anaheim Angels' ballpark at Anaheim during an exhibition.
Baseball instituted its free agent selection in the summer of 1965 and 23 of the 43 players chosen in that draft are now in the majors, including No. 1 pick Rick Monday of Oakland and pitchers Joe Coleman and Washington and Bill Burbach of the New York Yankees.
Nearly half of this summer's 24 first-round picks were infielders. Of the 11 selected, third baseman Theodore Nicholson of Laurier, Miss., was the first to go. The 6-foot-5, 200-pound Nicholson was chosen by the Chicago White Sox, who had the third pick.
Houston is taking a risk drafted James Richard, a 6-foot-7, 225-pound right-handed pitcher from Ruston, La. As the No. 2 player in the selection, Richard posted an imposing record at Lincoln High School in Ruston, where he won all 21 of his games, including an unbelievable 48-0 decision in which he also belted four home runs. In his senior year, Richard struck out 89 batters in 43 innings.
But Richard is also a talented basketball player and has signed a grant-in-aid at the University in Louisiana. Astro officials said they are confident of signing him, however.
Burroughs was one of five players from California chosen in the first round. Others were shortstop Alan Bamister of Buena Vista by California, first baseman James Baxley, of Redding by Detroit, southpaw pitcher Charles Minnot of Covina by St. Louis and pitcher Randy Elliott of Camarillo by San Diego.
With the addition of the four expansion clubs, this summer's draft brings a chance for 162 players chosen in the two-day draft Friday.
Following the first round, the major league clubs used the rest of their picks for the minor league affiliates. One round each was devoted to Triple A and Double A clubs and the remainder to Class A teams.
Selections for the regular phase of the draft were based on the inverse order of the season's standings with American League and National League clubs choosing on an alternating basis. Picks in the secondary phase, however, were players previously drafted who did not sign, was determined by lot with Cleveland getting the first pick, followed by San Francisco.
Other first-round selections included: Pitcher Randy Sterling of Key West, Fla., by the New York Mets; first baseman Michael Anderson of Timmonsville, S.C., by Philadelphia; outfielder Paul Powell of Arizona by Minnesota; catcher Terry McDermott of Ingraham to hold a hearing and to determine whether illegal wiretaps; pitcher-third baseman Angelos; pitcher-third baseman

Donald Stanhouse of DuQuoin, Ill., by Oakland.
Pitcher Robert May of Merritt Island, Fla., by Pittsburgh; third baseman Lester Spikes of Bogalusa, La., by the New York Yankees; catcher Gene Burrell of Campbelltown, Pa., by Atlanta; outfielder Novel Jenks of University of Minnesota by Boston; pitcher Donald Gullett of Lyan, Ky., by Cincinnati.
Outfielder Alvin McGrew of Fairaid, Ala., by Cleveland; shortstop Roger Metzger of San Antonio, Tex., by the Chicago Cubs; southpaw Donald Hood of Florence, S.C., by Baltimore; shortstop Michael Phillips of Irving, Tex., by San Francisco; shortstop James Thomas of Charleston, S.C., by Seattle; pitcher Balor Moore of Deer Park, Tex., by Montreal; and shortstop John Simmons of Childersburg, Ala. by Kansas City.

FBI Men Give Contradictory Testimony
HOUSTON (UPI)—Two FBI agents being questioned in federal district court about the wiretapping of former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's telephone conversations contradicted each other under oath Thursday.
The contradiction may have given Clay's lawyers, possible defense attorneys, a possible opening to challenge Clay's draft-dodging conviction, five-year prison sentence and $10,000 fine.
The FBI men were questioned about whether a summary of a wiretapped conversation between Clay and Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad ever got out of the Phoenix, Ariz., FBI office.
FBI special agent C. Barry Pickett, who spent four years in Phoenix as an FBI clerk, said the summary did not get out of Phoenix. Warren L. Walsh, an FBI special agent in Louisville, Ky., said he had letters from the FBI's Phoenix office about the wiretap.
"Does this show faint?" reporters asked Charles Morgan Jr. of Atlanta, one of Clay's lawyers in the U.S. district court hearing.
"Of course it does," Morgan replied.
Pickett, 28, now in the Jacksonville, Fla., office of the FBI, testified that as an FBI clerk in Phoenix he covered dropped eight hours a day, five days a week for four years on Muhammad's telephone conversations.
Clay's lawyers charge that the government's case against Clay, which convicted him of draft dodging in June, 1967, was tainted by use of evidence obtained from illegal wiretaps.
The U.S. Supreme Court ordered U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham to hold a hearing and to determine whether illegal wiretaps tainted the government's case against Clay.

Frazier Says Clay Is Bum, Wants Fight

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Joe Frazier, the six-stake heavyweight champion, says Cassius Clay is a "bum" and he would like a shot at him after a June 23 title defense against Jerry Quarry.
"I hope Uncle Sam cuts him (Clay) loose so I can get him," Frazier said, referring to Clay's battle with the government over his conviction as a draft evader.
Frazier told a telephone news conference that he considers Clay, who prefers the name Muhammad-Ali, a "bum," and then added:
"I'm talking about what he stands for, personally," Frazier said. "Not about his fighting. You know, the blabbermouth, and how pretty he is."
Clay, who often called himself "beautiful" in the early days of his career, has said he does not expect to fight again. He has appealed his draft-evasion conviction and his five-year prison sentence.
The untested Frazier is recognized as world heavyweight champion by the athletic commissions of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Illinois, California and New York. Asked his plans after the Quarry bout, he said: "Right now, you and I have Muhammad-Ali. I call him Clay." Frazier said he could beat Clay if he ever got the chance. Clay was undefeated when the World Boxing Association stripped him of his title.

Beard And Maxwell Miss Record But Tie For Lead

CHICAGO (UPI)—Frank Beard and Billy Maxwell missed a 21-year-old course record by one stroke Thursday to share the first round lead in the $130,000 Western Open with five under par 66s on the 6,654-yard Midlothian Country Club.
Both Beard and Maxwell teed off in the afternoon section of the 144 player field and both declared the course played well for them. Beard, in fact, cited missing birdie putts under six feet as the hole and said: "I would have shot a 63 or a 64."
Both Beard and Maxwell had a shot at the competitive course record of 65 set in 1948 in the Chicago Victory Open by South Africa's Bobby Locke. But Maxwell said he "scrambled all over the place and I got as much as I could possibly get."
Beard believed that the pins were "very, very difficult positions but very fair" on the small greens and added that the putts were "very difficult to read."
Beard, the 19th leading money winner with earnings of $45,000 this year, and Maxwell, 52nd in earnings, were only one stroke ahead of Rocky Thompson and Dick Ryan, who had 67, and two up on Jack Ewing, Bob Goalby, Bob Murphy, Gary Player and Mike Hill.
Seven players fired two under par 66s, 13 were one under at 70, and 15 in the field equalled par. Twenty-nine players in all bettered the regulation figures.
Most of the field declared that the course played "short" because of recent wet weather which made the fairways soft and took away roll. But they agreed also that the greens were holding pitch shots well and they preferred the opportunity to shoot for the flag with the expectation of keeping their ball on the green while taking away the added distance in the fairways.
"If it dries out," Beard said, "the scores will go up because you won't be able to keep the ball on the green."
The thick and damp rough bordering every fairway, permitted to grow as high as 6 inches, posed a major problem to most of the field. Goalby said it "caused problems because the ball is flying a bit out of the rough. If you're not in the fairway, you're not going to hit too many of these greens."
Some of the games of stars were among the trailers. Doug Sanders had a 70, Jack Nicklaus, trying for a third straight Western title, the Che Rodriguez, Bob Charles and former champion Doug Ford had 71s. Billy Casper, Lee Trevino and Julius Boros had 72s.
The field plays another 18 holes Friday, with the top 70 shooters and ties continuing to the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. Seventy-six players were 73 or better Thursday, indicating a cut-off point around 145 or 146.

Holtzman Named Player Of Month

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ken Holtzman, left-handed pitcher ace of the Chicago Cubs, was named Thursday as National League player of the month for May by a panel of 60 baseball writers and broadcasters participating in the league's monthly poll.
Holtzman received a 24 vote to outdistance the field. May of the Cincinnati Reds was runner-up with 10 votes.
Holtzman started seven games in May, posting a .61 won-lost record and a ERA of 2.18. He pitched 50 innings, allowed 42 hits and struck out 44.
"The scores will go up because you won't be able to keep the ball on the green."
The thick and damp rough bordering every fairway, permitted to grow as high as 6 inches, posed a major problem to most of the field. Goalby said it "caused problems because the ball is flying a bit out of the rough. If you're not in the fairway, you're not going to hit too many of these greens."

Guerin Says LeW Needs More Weight

ATLANTA (UPI)—Atlanta Hawks coach Richie Guerin said Thursday he "questions" whether super-rookie Lew Alcindor is strong enough to stand the pace of an arduous National Basketball Association schedule.
"Don't get me wrong," said Guerin. "I think Alcindor is going to be one of the NBA's all-time greats. But unless he puts on a lot more weight than he now has, he's going to have a tough time against the likes of Chamberlain (Bill Russell), (Nate) Thurmond and (Zemlo) Beaty."
Guerin said Alcindor, who is 7-foot-2, has indicated that he'll play at his college weight of about 230—but will try to put on weight later if he finds that this is a handicap.
"A lot of 6-foot-6 and 6-foot-7 men are playing at 230 or 235 and they don't even have to go up against those big centers," Guerin pointed out.
"I suspect Alcindor will have a tough time over a regular game schedule, plus exhibitions and playoffs—if his team gets that far."
Speaking of playoffs, Guerin was asked whether he thought, as some have claimed, that signing Alcindor will enable the Milwaukee Bucks, this past season's last-place Eastern Division team to win twice as many games in 1969-70.
"Oh, no," Guerin protested. "The Bucks won 27 games last season. Double that would put them in the championship class and I don't believe Alcindor can bring them that far his first year."
However, except for that possible weight handicap, Guerin thinks Alcindor may be more rounded rookie than either Chamberlain or Russell were.
"I think he's a better defensive player right now than Wilt was when he came into the league and he's a better offensive player than Russell was when he started."
"But, it's going to take him awhile to find his way in the NBA," Guerin added. "It's certainly should expect rough going for the first couple of years."

Quarry Drops Spar Mate

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UPI)—Jerry Quarry displayed power in both fists Thursday as he dropped sparring partner Al Brooks twice during a three-round workout in preparation for the June 23 heavyweight bout with Joe Frazier, for a six-stake heavyweight title.
Brooks, a former Frazier sparring partner, said Quarry was correct in his prediction that he would win the fight by a knockout within five rounds.
"I take nothing away from Frazier," Brooks said after he recovered from a first round knockdown from a right and a second round decking from a hard left jab. "Frazier is tough but he's never met anyone who can punch as good as Quarry or is as quick with either hand."
Quarry gave Brooks, from Springfield, Mass., plenty of time to recover from the first striking. But about 30 seconds into the second round of workout, the Californian had Brooks on the floor again. A third round was devoted to Quarry touching his defense against body blows. He allowed Brooks to throw punches without retaliation.

Davalillo Likes New Club's Style

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Vic Davalillo has been with the St. Louis Cardinals only a few days but he says, "I like the way this club plays."

"When I like to win," said the Venezuelan. "When a ball club doesn't play to win, it doesn't make sense."

Some Cardinal fans, weary of the team's lengthening slow start, could give Davalillo an argument about the way their club is playing. "The Cards' newly acquired outfielder comes from the floundering California Angels, and he likes the chances of the defending National League champs."

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks were in a charged mood today following a boost in the broker loan rate by a major bank to 8 1/2 per cent from 7 1/2 per cent. Trading was moderately active.

Morgan Guaranty Trust imposed the boost in the rate which charged banks with loans backed by stock as collateral. It is viewed as a possible prelude to an increase in the prime lending rate — that charged banks most creditworthy customers — which has been discussed for more than two weeks.

As activity swung into the final hour, the UPI stock market indicator, measuring all issues traded, was off 0.37 per cent of the 1,519 issues trading—the tape .769 declined and 479 advanced.

The Dow Jones average of big blue chip stocks had a loss of 4.20 at 928.51 at 1 p.m. Volume exceeded 9,000,000.

Q—You recently mentioned American Depository Receipts for buying and selling stocks of foreign companies. I bought Pacific Petroleum (Canadian corporation) on the Big Board, my broker said that the ADRs were differential in dollar exchange. When I sell these shares, will there be a discount between Canadian and American dollars? I'm confused after reading your column... S. D.

A—While ADRs are used to facilitate the transfer of ownership of foreign securities, they would not be required for trading Pacific Petroleum. These shares, listed on the New York, Midwest and Pacific Coast exchanges, are traded in the regular way by American investors.

Both of your transactions, carried out in U.S. dollars, will clear through an American transfer agent, probably Chase Manhattan Bank. Hence your shares do not involve any currency exchange rates between Canada and the United States.

Q—I've been recently widowed and desperately need to know what to do for more income. I own 600 Lucky Stores, 100 New York Midway Paper and 100 Seaboard World Airlines. Should I keep Lucky Stores until it splits? — G. K.

A—Your strong growth holdings are currently worth about $55,000—yield a paltry 2 1/2 per cent. The firm looks for a period of "rolling readjustment" rather than sharp decline, and continues to have confidence in "future of prime investment."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The year 1969 shows every sign of being a period of major change in investment trends, from secondary market speculation to issue to prime quality stocks, from "cynical" industrials to "defensive" growth industries, according to Weight Advisory Reports. The firm looks for a period of "rolling readjustment" rather than sharp decline, and continues to have confidence in "future of prime investment."

Wrist-Watch TV Sets Seen By Idahoan

MOSCOW (UPI)—The day when each individual can have his own wrist watch color television receiver may be too far off to think of, but a physicist, Thomas Ingerson, is successful in his development of direct conversion synchronous electronic devices. For the past six months Dr. Ingerson has been experimenting with and constructing many different types of circuits and space communications where interference problems are approached superior to present day electronics.

According to Ingerson, "virtually all of our present-day electronic devices utilize the synchronous circuit. This type of circuit does a good job but is subject to a great deal of interference or noise. The synchronous circuit combined with the new metal oxide semiconductor field effect transistor, greatly reduces noise because it locks onto the signal."

"I imagine this circuit will initially be used in military and space communications where interference problems are the most critical. However, it has numerous civilian applications. It could be used to make near-perfect radio and television receivers which require no line tuning, or ultimately, could be miniaturized to construct a wrist watch color television receiver or even a television receiver the size of a pinhead if desired."

Ingerson, an assistant professor of physics degree at the University of California, received his doctorate in physics at the University of California.

Plant Closes

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Plans to shut down a phosphate ore beneficiation plant at Condon, Idaho, effective June 1, because of operational losses have been announced by Mountain Fuel Supply Co. company spokesman said Thursday losses incurred in operation of the plant a of a continued depressed phosphate market where phosphate is used-made operation of the plant economically difficult. The spokesman said the move "hopefully would be temporary" in nature. However the fertilizer will remain in effect until such time as the market improves or the plant can be operated under more favorable conditions.

Agency Urges Dependent Aid Age Extension

NOISE (UPI)—The State Department of Public Assistance has urged the eligibility of more than 900,000 dependent aid students whose parents get federal aid to dependent children.

The proposal was one of several changes in regulations considered at a public hearing by the committee. Commissioner Bill Child said no parents were registered at the hearing.

Business School Changes Hands

BOISE (UPI)—Links School of Business has been sold to Education Service Inc., a subsidiary of ITAT.

Walter R. Renner, president of Education Service, said Thursday that the school, which has 140 students, will be moved to a new building at the first of the year.

Renner said ITAT will maintain the school, backing the present curriculum with its resources, and may add new courses as the demand arises.

Mutual Funds

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices on the New York Stock Exchange were mixed today, with the Dow Jones Industrial Average down 4.20 points to 928.51.

The market was characterized by a general decline in most sectors, with a notable exception in the technology and growth sectors. Investors were cautious, reflecting concerns about inflation and the overall economic outlook.

Arab Guerrillas Killed In Clash

By United Press International

Six Arab guerrillas and one Israeli were killed Thursday night in three separate clashes in the West Bank, a Tel Aviv spokesman said today.

In Caifra, the editor of the semi-official Egyptian newspaper, the arm had predicted another Middle East conflict would break out before the third anniversary of the June 5, 1967 war.

The national announcement of the nationalities was made only a short time after an earlier communication reported that the clashes Thursday night or four hours in the northern part of the country. Seven persons, including three guerrillas, were injured.

The Tel Aviv spokesman said four Arab terrorists died in a brief fight with an Israeli patrol near the Damiya Bridge, 22 miles north of Jerusalem, in the South Jordan Valley, and two others in a clash at Be'er, 12 miles north of Eilat, on the Gulf of Aqaba port.

EXPERT BIDS WIN OVER GOOD ONES

Today's hand was sent us by a reader in Madison, Wis. He didn't say how the hand was bid except to state that North was dealer and they only reached six spades. We can visualize any number of bidding sequences and that in the box is our guess as to how it went when the hand was played.

flying blind in a fog. Some North players might look at those two little hearts and set to work for hearts. Others would go to six on the theory that South would have to have the king bid except that North's not be led.

An expert would not use any number of bidding sequences and that in the box is our guess as to how it went when the hand was played.

North's Blackwood four no-

South would merely continue to four spades. He had already served notice that he held a big hand but if North held the wrong cards for him he might well be the limit.

Now North would show that he was interested in a slam by bidding five diamonds or six, whereupon South would be able to bid five hearts to show first-round control of that suit. The five-heart bid would be enough for North. He would jump right to seven spades.

Q—The bidding has been: West 1♣, North 2♠, East 4N♠, South 5♠. Pass, 3N♠, Pass, You, South, hold: ♠AK5 ♣AK95 ♣AKQJ2

A—Bid six no-trump. There should be a satisfactory play for 12 tricks.
