Cloudburst Washes Out Castleford Road

A 40-FOOT-DEEP gap in the Balanced Rock grade, northwest of Castleford, resulted Thursday afternoon when a cloudburst triggered a flash flood that caused an estimated $30,000 of damage to the grade and the Salmon Falls crossing. The cut in the roadway can be seen behind these area residents who came to survey the disaster.

CASTLEFORD — A torrential cloudburst in the Castleford area Thursday afternoon triggered a flash flood which undercut about a half mile of pavement and severed the shortest access route to thousands of acres of farm land west of Balanced Rock.

No one was reported injured in the raging waters, but damage was estimated at more than $30,000.

In addition, the rain leveled crops in some areas and left deep pools of water in fields.

The gully washed began at the east end of the Balanced Rock Grade northwest of Castleford and raced down the canyon washing out the road and the Salmon Falls Creek crossing.

An open spot there is a cut in the roadway 40 feet deep.

There is no natural water channel running down the grade where the sudden flood was heaviest. The water didn't cut down Salmon Falls Creek itself, but down the grade which runs parallel to the creek.

Art Babbitt, employed by area farmer Howard Harder, was traveling up the east side of the grade when one of the first waves of water hit.

He said he looked up the grade and saw a two-foot wall of water traveling down the road. The water splashed over the motor of his pickup and killed the engine. Mr. Babbitt got out and climbed over the rocks to the top of the grade to stop traffic.

When asked where the water came from, Mr. Babbitt said, "Right from the heavens, lady straight from the heavens."

The truck was later pulled out of the area with a four-wheel drive vehicle.

The Salmon Falls crossing, which was reported to be under water even after the flow had subsided.

In its wake the flash flood undermined and ripped portions of the paved grade road and deposited huge pieces of pavement in the waters at the side of the road.

The force of the sudden rush of water was evident from foot-square rocks which were washed onto what was left of the road. Willows, rocks, dirt and pavement all fell prey to the short-lived torrent, which residents reported at times was flowing over the top of the county road.

The Salmon Falls crossing, while not completely destroyed, was eroded to a narrow ribbon, varying from a yard to a foot in width.

The Salmon Falls crossing is the main access to farm land on the west side of the creek. The only other way to reach the area is from a road near Miracle Hot Springs in Hagerman Valley, a distance of about 30 miles.

Dan Thompson, who works for the Buhl Highway District, said the grade is completely impassible and will remain so for three to four weeks. He classified the area as a disaster.

Hundreds of area residents drove to the scene Thursday night to view the devastation.

Three Valley Airlines Vie To Obtain PUC Certificate

By LINDY HIGH

SUN VALLEY — Janss Airlines, Inc., based at Gooding, and Trans Magic Airlines, based at Jerome, are vying for the PUC certificate to operate an intrastate Idaho airline.

Harry Merrick, manager of the Twin Falls Airport, testified that Trans Magic is the only intrastate airline to serve Twin Falls, although he added that Air West "does provide service between points in Idaho."

Joe Peters, mayor of Burley, said his city was "particularly interested in the future of Trans Magic."

Top Gem Employees Honored

BURLEY — Idaho's two top employees will be presented awards tonight by the annual Idaho State Employees Association convention at the Ponderosa Inn in Burley.

The convention began Thursday afternoon as the board of directors met. Registration began Thursday night and will continue Friday. Between 600 and 725 are expected to attend.

Lawrence E. Walsh, acting head of the U.S. negotiating team, said the exchange between the two delegations "was a 'textbook' exercise. It was considered a 'day of no progress.' Walsh replied 'on a day-to-day basis, I don't think progress can be measured.'"

Envoys Confer

PARIS (UPI) — Allied and Communist delegates to the Vietnam peace talks conferred here today in the longest, tensest negotiating session since the talks began last month.

President Nixon said in Washington he hoped to see some progress in the talks within the next three months. He did not elaborate.

Nixon Voices Hope Of Troop Pullout In Viet By 1970

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has expressed hope all American ground combat troops — more than 200,000 men — will be withdrawn from Vietnam by the end of 1970.

But at the same time, Nixon warned there still remained a "long, hard road" to an honorable peace in Vietnam and acknowledged there had been no response from Hanoi or the Viet Cong so far to his order withdrawing the first 25,000 U.S. troops from Vietnam.

In a nationally televised news conference Thursday, his first since April 15, Nixon made few promises or predictions, all held out hope for some movement toward peace within the next few months. He also angrily defended his Vietnam policies against criticism by former officials of the Johnson administration.

Nixon called on North Vietnam, the Viet Cong and the newly formed Communist revolutionary government in South Vietnam to agree to an internationally supervised cease-fire and internationally supervised elections, points in which he said he would be firm.

Allies Repel Viet Strike On Tay Ninh

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command reported today that American and South Vietnamese troops had driven Communist forces from Tay Ninh City in the heaviest combat in Vietnam in four months, killing more than 400 of the attackers. But new attacks came today outside Tay Ninh.

Speakers said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong, operating out of Cambodia a few miles to the west, shelled Tay Ninh during the night — one of more than 50 attacks on allied camps and South Vietnamese cities. One of two rounds hitting Tay Ninh struck a South Vietnamese army hospital, further wounding four patients.

Tay Ninh is 50 miles northwest of Saigon.

At dawn today 400 North Vietnamese struck a U.S. jet Cavalry landing zone 10 miles north of Tay Ninh. They broke through the outer defense perimeter but were driven back at a cost of 70 dead. The Americans lost seven killed and 18 wounded.

French Rites Inaugurate New President

PARIS (UPI) — Georges Pompidou was inaugurated president of France today in a rain-soaked ceremony at the Elysee Palace dominated by references to Charles de Gaulle, the "grand old man" he succeeded but who was not there.

Top 10 years Gen. De Gaulle represented France with unequalled brilliance and authority," Pompidou, 57, declared in a brief inaugural address in the state reception room where De Gaulle held his twice-yearly news conferences.

He said he was firm in intention of fulfilling his duty in the strict respect of the constitution and with the desire to maintain the dignity of France." Pompidou pledged.

TV Lens Lets Mom See Sniper's Ordeal

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The young man strode high atop the bridge, at once defiant and pathetic, a king of the hill with nowhere to go but down.

"Come down, we won't hurt you," police pleaded.

The response came from the tiny pistol in his hand. Barely visible, it popped twice, shattering the windshield of a patrol car, and police pressed against the car and wagons behind which they took cover.

More than 80 times Robert Michalak squeezed the trigger of his .23 caliber automatic randomly aimed at the faceless policemen below the bridge surface, at passing boats on the Allegheny River, then, finally, at his own head. He horrified family, 90 miles away, watched television as the drama unfolded.

Michalak, 22, married and the father of a five-month-old daughter, was carried from the bridge superstructure by police Thursday after his hour-long, one-man duel in the hot June sun.

Autopsy Performed On Understudy In Dolphin Show

An autopsy on a dolphin is probably a rarity, and certainly a costly one.

But, Thursday morning the biology department at the College of Southern Idaho, was called upon to assist in an autopsy on a dolphin.

"Bubbles," a female dolphin, part of a show being presented in the Lynwood Shopping Center last Wednesday afternoon in Burley.

Jerry Waystack, Boston, Mass., and Richard Lee and Susan Paikes, both from Virginia, said they had picked up the dolphin at Key West, Fla., about a week and a half ago. As they transported her across country they had noticed she wasn't feeling well.

They nursed her and gave her combiotic shots. The three young people were curious about the cause of her death and therefore asked to perform an autopsy.

The 400-pound dolphin's body was carried to the second floor of the CSI academic building on a stretcher to the biology laboratory. Don Puder and Ruth Ann LeBaron, CSI biology instructors assisted Mr. Waystack in the autopsy which took nearly an hour.

Mr. Waystack determined Bubbles had cysts and ulcers in her stomach and badly congested lungs. He said she had died from pneumonia. They said the dolphin probably

Recipients Of S.S. Checks Get Reminder

Residents of the Twin Falls area who are receiving monthly social security checks are reminded by Pat O'Marra, social security manager in Twin Falls, to report directly to the local office any change of address or other events affecting continued receipt of checks.

Reports may be made by mail, (you may use the back of your check envelope for this), phone, or in person. Appropriate report forms are available at the Twin Falls office, he said.

Mr. O'Marra said this reporting method enables the district office to take advantage of the increased capacity of its high speed communications circuits to transmit information to record centers. Until recently, social security beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events by mailing pre-addressed postcard forms to a record center.

Events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks, in addition to address changes, are starting or stopping work, marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce, and death.

Cardinal Allows Saturday Mass To Supplant Sunday

BOSTON (UPI) — Roman Catholics in the archdiocese of Boston may fulfill their Sunday and Holy Day mass obligation on the previous afternoon or evening, effective July 5, Cardinal Richard Cushing announced Thursday.

The cardinal said parishes must apply for the privilege and must agree not to begin the special masses until 4 p.m. The privilege is not a blanket dispensation, he said, noting parishes must request permission for the special masses.

The privilege is aimed at helping resort area or understaffed parishes which are overburdened under current regulations. The archdiocese includes some 1.9 million Catholics in more than 400 parishes throughout eastern Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON — Over a delightfully goulash lunch in Paris the other day, the French book publisher apologized for his "brutal pessimism," and then laid it on the line.

These overtures, however, indicate that despite Lindsay's bitter opposition to his own party in New York City, Republican liberals still view him as a glittering figure in the future of their party.

Dr. Harold Brown, former Air Force Secretary and now president of the California Institute of Technology, is about to be tapped by President Nixon to help the U. S. negotiating team on arms control talks with the Soviet Union.

Spending

Charges and counter-charges involving military defense contracting have become almost daily occurrences in Washington, but the most damaging comment has come from Gordon W. Rule, director of the procurement control and contract-clearance division in the office of the Chief of Naval Material.

Rule, testifying before a House subcommittee, said there was serious waste and inefficiency in defense spending because of a "climatic" he said existed between industry and military and high-ranking officials of the Defense Department.

A retired Navy captain and a senior procurement official, Rule is the highest authority in the defense establishment yet to condemn past methods of negotiating defense contracts.

MR. SPECTATOR

Thoughts While Sitting

What's the use of reading unless you can tell someone what you read? That's a good question, isn't it? Assuming you folks agree, today's column will be bits of interest gathered here and there while reading here and there.

For instance, did you realize that economic progress has made it possible for slightly over half the population of the United States to produce all of the goods and services and maintain the homes for every one else in the country?

Did you know that the 202 million total population, about 82 million (41 per cent) are in the labor force?

Did you know that in addition to the 17 million housewives who are in the labor force, there are another 27 million housewives who are not gainfully employed?

About 53 million, or 26 per cent of the population, are going to school to prepare for future production activity and many of these are working at least parttime!

Did you know that about 40 million people (20 per cent of the population) are neither working nor preparing for work in any of these ways?

Did you know that the population of the United States, on July 1, 1968, was estimated at 201.2 million? Did you know that by 1975 it is expected to reach 221 million and by 1980 over 230 million?

Did you know that the number of new families is not expected to increase? Did you know that this is true because women generally marry at an earlier age than men and that women of marrying age in the large group born immediately after World War II now exceed men of marrying age?

Did you know that increase in resident population from 1960 through 1968 jumped 20.6 per cent in the Pacific states and Nevada an "in" migration of 29.2 per cent, which is greater than any state in the nation?

ART BUCHWALD

All About Teddy

WASHINGTON — The problem of who to do about Kennedy is still haunting the Republicans. The strategy to hit him head-on almost worked, but what they failed to count on was Mrs. Rose Kennedy, Sen. Kennedy's mother.

When Sen. Dirksen attacked Kennedy on the floor of the Senate for Kennedy's remarks about the Vietnam war, Dirksen received a telephone call from Mrs. Kennedy thinking him "the gracious and temperate" tone of his speech.

The unflappable Dirksen became flapped and after exchanging some kind words walked out into the hall and told Sen. Kennedy, "Your mother just called me to thank me for my speech."

Last week Sen. Kennedy and Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina had a bitter exchange on the floor over Justice Douglas. As of this writing Mrs. Kennedy hasn't called Sen. Thurmond, but I can imagine how the conversation will go when she does.

"Hello, Sen. Thurmond, This is Mrs. Rose Kennedy, Teddy's mother."

"How do you do Mrs. Kennedy?"

"I just wanted to thank you for the new way you treated Teddy on the floor of the Senate the other day."

"I am an expert," he said, "because I am a human being. This is all you have to be to understand that the human beings on the Communist side in Vietnam are in no hurry to negotiate a peace. Why should they? Nobody who can read knows the Vietnam war is highly unpopular in the United States and that President Nixon is under tremendous pressure to get a peace treaty — any kind of a peace treaty."

"This is to borrow an American expression, a hell of a way to run a railroad. If I were selling something and I knew you absolutely had to buy it, I certainly would not reduce the price of it."

A Frenchman's viewpoint, of course, is open to suspicion because the French were kicked out of Indochina 15 years ago. As a result, the average Frenchman is apt to resent the thought that America might succeed where his own country failed.

"I've told Teddy once, I've told him a hundred times, not to interrupt when somebody else is speaking. I assure you he didn't learn that habit at home."

"I don't know what to say to you, Mrs. Kennedy. I've all choked up."

"You don't have to say anything, I know you will never say anything about Teddy that would hurt his mother."

"No, ma'am. You can be assured of that."

'Dictatorship' Envisioned by Fulbright

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said Thursday the United States was well along the road toward "an elective dictatorship."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee opened debate on a controversial resolution asserting Congress' role in the making of foreign policy. It was expected to last through next week.

If the nation continues its role of involvement and unilateral military action overseas,

Fulbright warned that the United States was "already a long way toward becoming an elective dictatorship, more or less complete over foreign policy and over those vast and expanding areas of our domestic life which in one way or another are related to or dependent upon the military establishment."

"In short, America is to become an empire," Fulbright said, "there is very little chance that it can avoid becoming a virtual dictatorship as well."

Craters Of Moon Said Benefit To Area's Economy

Visitors to the Craters of the Moon—National Monument—contributed an estimated $2.1 million in gross expenditures to the surrounding economy in 1968, according to a National Park Service report.

The report said this outpouring of travel money also had the following beneficial effects: Produced $1,583,200 in personal income for Craters of the Moon area-people and others living on routes between visitor point of origin and the monument and yielded $317,800 in federal taxes.

Park Superintendent Paul Friz said the figures are based on research techniques used by Dr. Ernest W. Swanson, North Carolina State University economist. Dr. Swanson recently completed a "Study of the Impact of National Park System Travel on the National Economy in 1967."

In Dr. Swanson's national parks study, he said, "personal income resulting from national park spending is quite sizable as a matter of gain to the nation from assets being preserved for posterity. Unlike the oil industry which gives up non-renewable resources, the National Park System yields contributions with little or no diminution of its resource values."

It's A 'Yolk'!

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (UPI)—The eggs around a curve on Banker-Street-the other-day were mostly scrambled.

Drivers reported that youngsters were amusing themselves with an egg barricade in which the eggs were spaced about 18 inches apart across the street.

Many a driver made failing marks as he tried to successfully maneuver past the barricade, whereupon the youngsters gleefully replaced the scrambled eggs with fresh ones.

THIS BOILER EXPLODED Thursday at the Troy National Laundry and two trucks from the Fire Department were called to the scene. Here Lt. Ward Freeman inspects a huge crack in the boiler. Smoke clogged the building for a time but firemen couldn't locate a fire.

Huge Boiler Blast Rocks T. F. Laundry

A huge boiler in the Troy National Laundry and Dry Cleaning plant at 201 Second Ave. W. exploded Thursday, scattering metal and employes in different directions. Firemen were called to the scene within minutes of the blast but there was no fire. A cloud of smoke filled the building for some time after the explosion, but fire officials said damage appeared to be limited to the boiler. A workman, standing near the boiler when it exploded, was hurt slightly but he did not require medical attention. He was not identified. An estimate of damage was not given by Troy plant officials. Firemen said it appeared the boiler exploded through the large plate side of the boiler and the force of the explosion moved one end of the boiler several feet. Its estimated weight is five tons. It is the fourth time within a month that firemen have been called to the laundry. The first time firemen were called was when a heater caused some mops to smolder. The second time a heater caused a small fire. Firemen had to return after that second call when fire broke out again in the building. Damage was minor in all earlier calls, fire department records show.

Drugs Listed In Rupert Burglaries

RUPERT — In addition to the guns taken from two Rupert burglaries in early Tuesday morning burglaries, a quantity of drugs and medicines were taken from a doctor's office. The list of missing drugs includes morphine, antibiotics and syringes, atropine and a variety of narcotic variety. They were taken sometime after midnight Monday from Dr. B. K. Humphrey's office. In the burglary of the Stag Pool Hall, in addition to the $500 of second-hand guns, four transistor radios, a camera and a lady's watch were taken. These items, excepting the guns, were recovered later Tuesday morning about one block away from the pool hall near the library. The thieves also took 10 semi-automatic pistols valued at about $500 from a western Auto Store about 2 a.m. Tuesday. The burglars entered both businesses by breaking down their front doors. It is reported that the Rupert City Police Dept. has no leads in the thefts.

Korean Air Action Veteran Addresses Kiwanians Here

MAJ. Chad Hull, a native of Twin Falls and a veteran of the air action in Vietnam, Thursday noon told Kiwanis members he had mixed emotions about completing his zone assignment — ecstasy and joy. But on the serious side, he told the service club members that "this country of ours is a great country" and that "most of the men in Vietnam are dedicated to the principles that have made this country great and free. His squadron is the only one assigned to the task of crop and jungle growth destruction through use of chemicals. The project started out with three planes and is now engaged in the work. At one time 18 of these planes were grounded for repair because of enemy ground fire. The planes do the spraying at altitude as low as 100 feet and according to Maj. Hull, "we are sitting ducks because we go low and slow." Commenting on the role of the United States in Vietnam, the officer said it was to fight a holding action. He said the South Vietnam regulars are "getting stronger every day" and are more and more in a position to fight their own war. He showed color slides and motion picture film of the area in which he was stationed and also of several combat spraying missions. Major Hull holds many awards, has a BS degree from Brigham Young University and a masters from Sacramento State College. After spending a leave here he will be assigned to an administrative post at Lowery Air Force Base in Denver. The speaker was introduced by his brother, Gene, who is

MAJ. CHAD HULL, incoming president of the local Kiwanis club. Prior to the program, Charles Sieber awarded trophies to winners of the club golf tournament held at the Holiday Inn course last week. Most of the awards were old horsing show trophies, which members were told they could use after they had anything they wanted engraved on the plaque. Low gross at the turnery went to Judge Dick Reed and Charles Sieber, while Mr. Hull had the low net and Merwin Helmholz also received a special award for hitting the most balls — eight — into the lake.

Gov. Maddox Eyes Wife For Georgia Top Post

JEKYLL ISLAND, Ga. (UPI) — Gov. Lester Maddox, fed by a speedy legislative rebuff of his tax program, has hinted broadly that he might run his wife for governor in 1970. Maddox is prohibited from succeeding himself. But he told the Georgia Municipal Association that either he or his wife, Virginia, would be in the gubernatorial race next year. He said that he would continue to push for his tax and budget program and, if he did not get approval, "some other people may have a chance to vote for Virginia."

He blamed former Gov. Carl Sanders, who is expected to seek another term, and Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen and the Atlanta newspapers for the overwhelming defeat of his tax program in a two-day special legislative session last week. "If Virginia gets in the race, almost nobody — no matter how many television stations they own — will know who's going to win until the votes are counted," Maddox said.

District Bar Association Picks Rosholt

John Rosholt was elected president of the Fifth Judicial District Bar Association during a meeting at the Turf Club this week.

Other new officers are Bill Nungester, Buhl, vice president, and John Doerr, Twin Falls, secretary. Outgoing officers were Cecil Hobdy, Gooding, president; Larry Duff, Rupert, vice president, and Steve Bolter, Shoshone, secretary.

The association considered several resolutions which have been presented to the Idaho State Bar Association for action. These will be presented at the state bar meeting July 6-10 in Sun Valley.

The local bar association endorsed a resolution providing for the authorization of a study group to make recommendations in regard to providing legal services for the needy. Idaho Water Resource Development Items Outlined BOISE — Idaho Water Resource Board director, Dr. Robert R. Lee, reviewing problems encountered by the Board in their efforts to carry-out legislative directives in developing Idaho's water and related land resources says the State must make substantial investments to achieve desirable results.

"Water needs, federal programs, private development, and our resources must all be taken into consideration when long-range plans are being made," Dr. Lee said.

"We are attempting to answer these questions: 'In our state planning effort and interagency Columbia River Pacific studies presently underway. Preliminary estimates show that for Idaho to maintain its present rate of economic growth, about two million acres of land will need to be developed in the next 50 years.'

MAP OF THE South Hills Burn Tour show the eight stops for those attending the tour on Friday, June 27. Stop No. 1 is Bill Moore's place, where he will explain his grass seeding. Alexander reminded the farmers to sign up at the ASCS office for the number of acres of grain and seed planted. The youth camp at Donnelly was announced by Mrs. Gotochewski.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers will host the July 1st picnic.

Wheat Planting Allotments For '70 May Be Record Low

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon Administration, facing a growing wheat surplus, may limit 1970 wheat planting allotments to the lowest level in record, farm sources report.

But a big 1969 crop brought the July 1, 1969, carryover up to 839 million bushels, and a record 1969 crop combined with a sharp gain in exports to lift the carryover for July 1, 1969, to an estimated 800 million bushels.

Carriage allotments for the 1970 crop are expected to be announced soon because some producers are beginning to make plans and prepare land for planting 1970 winter wheat.

The 1969 planting allotment for wheat under the government's voluntary production control program was 21.8 million acres, down 12 per cent from 1968 and a fraction above the all-time low of 21.5 million acres allotted in 1968.

In spite of this year's allotment, the 1969 wheat production below the record 1968 level, output of wheat this year apparently is going to be more than domestic and export markets will be able to take in the marketing season that begins July 1. And surplus "carryover" stocks will apparently go up for the third consecutive year.

Wheat surplus stocks, which peaked at 1.4 billion bushels in mid-1961, were cut to 425 million bushels by July 1967, and a combination of government controls and strong exports—indeed heavy foreign aid shipments—brought the 1968 crop brought the July 1, 1969, carryover up to 839 million bushels, and a record 1969 crop combined with a sharp gain in exports to lift the carryover for July 1, 1969, to an estimated 800 million bushels.

Idaho Fruit Growers See Record Crop

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho fruit growers are optimistic about what could be the best fruit year in Idaho's recent history.

The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting service said unusually favorable conditions prevailed in all major fruit areas during the winter, frost damage and exceptionally good bloom, pollination and set of all fruits.

The state's peach crop is expected to be 10 million pounds—the largest since 1956. Peach production was forecast at 2,100 tons—three times as large as the 1968 crop.

Sweet cherry production was set at 3,200 tons—the largest since 1955—and Idaho's sour cherry crop was expected to be 1,200 tons, considerably above the poor crop of 1968.

Dairy Judging Safety Tips Described To Grangers

The Southcentral Idaho Holstein Club is sponsoring a Dairy Cattle Judging School Wednesday at the Ernie Ehlers' farm, near Twin Falls.

The school will begin at 10 a.m. at the Ehlers' farm, located one mile south, one-half mile west and one-half mile south of East Five Points. The school ends at 7:30 p.m. Lunch will be served at the farm.

Four classes of Holsteins will be judged. An area-accredited Holstein judge, assisted by Gerald Strandlund, Seattle, regional Holstein-Friesian fieldman, will conduct the judging school.

All 4-H and FFA members and dairymen are urged to attend this school as well as others interested in dairy cattle.

Safety Tips Described To Grangers

She urged them to check their registrations before they leave, have engines in good working order, and most important of all "to drive carefully."

The members went on record as supporting Sen. Frank Church's golden eagle stamp plan for picnic areas and parks in the national forests.

A potluck dinner honoring graduates preceded the meeting.

Dr. Lee's report to the Idaho Legislative Council and legislators pointed up the following facts: (1) Only a small proportion of the two million acres will likely be developed by private enterprise since storage facilities will be required. (2) About 150,000 acres near the Snake River appear feasible for private development by high-lift pumping. (3) Total of new lands to be served by all identified U.S. Bureau of Reclamation projects in Idaho is 700,000 acres. Wheat Planting Allotments For '70 May Be Record Low

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon Administration, facing a growing deficit surplus, may order 1970 wheat planting allotments slashed to the lowest level in record, farm sources reported. Farm spokesmen who have talked to administration officials about the outlook for next year's wheat crop, have come away feeling the government would slash allotments to cut the 1970 allotment, but how much. "It is pretty obvious there's going to have to be a cut of somewhere around 10 percent," said one farm spokesman who asked not to be identified. The 1969 planting allotment for wheat under the government's voluntary production control program is 814 million acres, down 15 per cent from 1968 and a fraction above the all-time low of 815 million acres allotted in 1966. Idaho Fruit Growers See Record Crop

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho fruit growers are optimistic about what could be the best fruit year in Idaho's recent history. The Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting service said unusually favorable conditions prevailed in all major fruit areas during the winter frost damage and exceptionally good bloom, pollination and set of all fruits. The state's peach crop is expected to be 15 million pounds—the largest since 1958. Pear production was forecast at 2,100 tons—three times as large as the 1968 crop. Sweet cherry production was set at 3,200 tons—the largest since 1965—and Idaho's sour cherry crop was expected to be 1,200 tons, considerably above the poor crop of 1968.

USA Notes Upgrading Of Hogs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Farmers are rapidly upgrading their hogs in line with consumer demands for more lean meat and less fat, the agriculture department said today.

The department said a study by its economic research service showed the number of U.S. No. 1 grade hogs slaughtered under federal inspection rose from 53 per cent of total slaughter seven years ago to 49 per cent in 1967-68.

No. 1 grade hogs, officials said, are mostly a heavy yielding, high percentage of lean cuts popular with consumers.

The report said the percentage of fat, "waxy" hog carcasses grading U. S. No. 3 declined from 25 per cent in 1960-61 to only 12 per cent in 1968-67.

Photograph Cows

WEST BERLIN—Some farmers in Germany have been asked by police to photograph their cows, so stolen cattle will be easier to identify.

A report from Neumuenster, Germany, tells the story. Police claim they can't identify stolen cattle from farmers' descriptions, but that photos show the "distinct individual features" of the cows.

NEW PROCESSING EQUIPMENT in the Del Monte Corp.'s new pea and corn processing plant at Burley, which was officially opened recently, is inspected by Gov. Don Samuelson and other state and local officials, as well as Del Monte personnel and growers. The local plant will process locally-grown peas for the first time this year. Last year peas were processed here. The peas were hauled to Smithfield, Utah.

Del Monte To Soon Process Local Peas

BURLEY—Peas soon will be harvested in this area and one of Burley's newest industries will be processing the local peas for the first time.

Processing the peas will be the Del Monte Corp., located just west of here on U.S. Highway 30.

The new plant was opened officially last week, although corn was processed at the plant last year. This year both peas and corn will be processed and canned. New pea processing equipment was installed last winter, says Paul Wood, area superintendent for Del Monte.

Officially opening the plant last week was Gov. Don Sam-uelson. Afterwards he was taken on a guided tour of the plant to inspect the new equipment that will be used in processing locally-grown peas and corn. Last year the peas grown here were hauled to Smithfield, Utah, for processing.

The peas harvested are expected to run from late June to early August. From August through October corn is expected to be processed and canned at the Burley plant.

The canned corn and peas will be shipped directly from the warehouse at Burley to consumers or to disposition areas.

The Burley plant is the second Del Monte food processing plant built in Idaho—the other is at Franklin, near the state line, five miles south of Preston—but the first one in the Mountain States Division in 46 years. Two other plants are located in Utah, Smithfield and Ogden. Del Monte also operates a can manufacturing plant at Smithfield and a major distribution center at Clearfield, near Ogden.

Gem Farmers Increase Use Of Fertilizers

MOSCOW—Idaho farmers used 10 per cent more commercial fertilizer in 1968 than the year before, Wayne Thiesen, soils specialist of the University of Idaho extension service, reported today on the basis of figures compiled in cooperation with the state department of agriculture.

The report said 330,521 tons were registered for use in 1968. The figure for 1967 was 318,517 tons.

Thiesen said the increase was brought about by cultivation of more land and use of larger amounts of fertilizer for maximum crop production.

Dry ingredients accounted for 72 per cent of the materials. The rest was liquid.

In actual tonnage of plant nutrients, nitrogen amounted to about 75,000 tons, phosphorus totaled 48,500 tons. There were 2,800 tons of potassium. Use of nitrogen and phosphorus increased but less potassium was applied. The specialist said part of the reduction in potassium was related to late harvest last fall. Less fertilizer was put on in the fall than usual.

"Fertilizer use continues to increase as new cropland is brought into production and as higher yields are sought," Thiesen said. "This means more soil and plant analysis is necessary to determine nutrients required in a sound soil fertility program."

RING HILL—The Kooly Cooks 4-H Club attended the recent "foil cooking" demonstration by Intermountain Gas Co. Helping with the demonstration were Charles Ferris and Ricky Bloom, club members.

Meat Output On Increase In Gem State

BOISE (UPI)—The dressed weight of hogs during April was below that of a year ago while cattle and sheep showed an increase, the Reporting Crop and Livestock Service said Friday.

Red meat production by Idaho's commercial slaughter plants was estimated to be 19,042,000 pounds during April, the reporting service said.

This is an increase of four per cent over March and 12 per cent more than production in April, 1968.

More cattle and hogs were slaughtered in April than a year earlier, but fewer sheep. Calf slaughter was estimated to be less than 83 head.

Events Set By Lincoln Farm Bureau

SHOSHONE — Coming events were planned by the Lincoln County Farm Bureau Board of Directors at a meeting held at the Manhattan park.

Reports were made there are 108 family members in the county at this time. A multi-county meeting at Jerome office was reported on by Dale Eden. The office location at Jerome is being moved to 601 South Lincoln.

Lincoln County will have its annual picnic on July 13 at the Mary Gooding park. The picnic menu includes fried chicken, ice cream and punch will be furnished by the organization for members and their guests.

A discussion on the Wood River Resource Area Association project was held and more information will be obtained before final action is taken by the group. They also discussed the zoning commission.

M. E. McKendrick and Dale Eden reported on a fire meeting they attended and Glenn S. Shoshone District fire chairman, reported on a fire program he had attended.

The group decided to purchase slow-moving vehicle signs which are available at cost to members. The group will donate $15 to the Chamber of Commerce to help purchase fireworks for the July 4 celebration.

There will be no meeting in July. Advertising space in the fair book was approved.

Gem Stock Specialists Reassigned

MOSCOW — Changes in assignments for livestock specialists were announced today by C. O. Youngstrom, associate director of the University of Idaho Extension Service.

Beginning July 1, the state will be divided into two districts with one specialist responsible for all phases of livestock work in each district.

Wayne Wells, Boise, will continue as leader for the extension livestock project for the state and also have responsibility for southern Idaho, and eastern Idaho counties, beginning with Canyon and Ada in the southwest, continuing on through to Elia in the east and eastern part of the state.

Morris Hemstrom, Moscow, will cover all northern counties with his district continuing south to include Washington, Fayette, and Gem counties.

Activities have for several years been divided according to kinds of livestock. Wells has worked with sheep and swine, Hemstrom with beef cattle and 4-H projects.

Under the new arrangement, Youngstrom said, each specialist will "cover the waterfront" offering leadership by county in the livestock industry on all types of livestock production problems.

Easier and more direct attention under the new district arrangement can be given by Wells and Hemstrom in assisting county agents in the development of educational programs that will meet local problems.

It is expected that county agents will be able to plan and conduct increasingly effective livestock programs with these new assignments for the specialists on a district basis.

MEASURING commercial fertilizer for use in a field trial is Wayne Thelless, soils specialist of the University of Idaho extension service. The device for band application was constructed for the test plots in several areas of Southern Idaho.

Fertilizer Trials Established

Thirty-five field trials of fertilizers have been established in Southern Idaho.

According to Wayne Thelless, soils specialist, University of Idaho Extension Service, the plots were set up under the University of Idaho soil test correlation project with financial cooperation of the potato commission, the wheat commission and the fertilizer industry.

County agents and individual farmers assisted in selecting fields. Leonard Kerbs, soils research associate of the University of Idaho, established the plots and will collect data on response to various treatments. Farmers provided the land.

The trials include the use of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium in conjunction with extensive soil sampling and testing to determine yield response in relation to soil test values.

The research is an expansion of a program in which 12 fields were studied last year. The 1969 work includes 15 potato fields in an area from Dry Lake in Canyon County to Rexburg in Madison County, 15 grain fields in the same area and five alfalfa fields from Meridian to Rupert.

Results will be studied during the year and particularly at harvest to see how fertilizer use contributes to yield and quality of the crops as predicted by soil tests. Application of fertilizer will be correlated with other factors such as "crop rotation, varieties and irrigation.

The field tests show promise of being valuable tools to supplement the regular soil test program recommended for all farmers. Thelless said. More precise information for a certain area will be available on their basis.

In the potato trials, plant tissue analysis will be made on

Outlook For Manufactured Grade Beef Supplies Good

LINCOLN, Neb. — "The outlook both for immediate and long-range supplies of manufactured grade beef is good," said Bill House, president of the American National Cattlemen's Association.

House set the record straight concerning accusations put forth by the Meat Importers' Council in an address at the annual meeting of the Nebraska Stock Opwers Association in Lincoln.

The ANCA spokesman said, "Cow slaughter this year is running six to seven per cent above last year's pace. In 1968, 8.3 million head of commercial cattle were slaughtered, last year the total was 8.8 million head, a jump of 15.3 per cent."

The Cedar Vale, Kan., rancher said that recent scare tactics employed by the Meat Importers' Council concerning declining domestic commercial-beef supplies have "no foundation."

House stressed the fact that the American cattleman has proven he is perfectly able to supply all qualities of beef our consumers demand, with the most wholesome product obtainable anywhere, and still have enough production left over to export to beef-deficient countries.

House reassured the American consumer that the U. S. beef cattle industry will continue to produce enough manufacturing grade beef. House said, "In 1968 there were 15.5 million beef cows, in 1969 there were 16.1 million, a healthy increase of 13.5 per cent. These animals, combined with the slaughter of dairy cows, illustrate very clearly the trend that cattlemen are keeping more females in their herds."

House zeroed in on the total beef import picture and said, "It is obvious that domestically

Spud, Onion Group Okays Expenditures

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Potato and Onion Commission has approved $115,950 worth of expenditures for research projects during the coming year.

The sum brings the total research budget for 1969-70 marketing season to nearly $70,000.

A month ago the commission okayed more than $140,000 worth of extension programs. Chief among the items okayed during a recent meeting in Burley was $30,350 for a market study program.

The commission has set aside until after June 30 a requested appropriation of $7,700 for a technical potato research library on potatoes at Aberdeen.

Bill Campbell, named secretary of the American International Charolais Association, the nation's fourth largest beef breed registry, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell moved to Wendell earlier this year from Arizona where they operated the CP Ranch near Seligman. They have been producing Charolais since 1961.

Briton Visits Potato Areas In Gem State

A young English farmer is spending six weeks in the United States and Canada visiting farms, processing plants, export stations and storage facilities.

R. J. Matthews is in this country on a Nutfield Foundation scholarship provided by a British automobile firm in cooperation with USDA and land-grant universities.

He was in Idaho recently studying Idaho potatoes. With the assistance of Dr. Richard Ohms, University of Idaho potato specialist, he visited several farms and experiment stations, including the Twin Falls branch experiment station.

Four Idaho potato "fa. well known to us," he said, "I am not sure we can grow it in England, but one of my purposes is to learn all I can about it to see if we can't produce our own potato yields and marketing systems."

Most English potatoes, he said, are more round in shape than the typical Idaho Russet. Popular varieties are King Edward and Red Craig Royal. Twelve tons to the acre is an average yield on fertile soil. Crop is produced without irrigation.

Mr. Matthews has a 600-acre farm 40 miles from London in Chesham, Essex. He is a graduate of the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester.

He also plans to confer with Idaho potato specialists in Malaga and New Britain, Canada.

No Storms Hampered Field Day Events At Knoll Creek

By ROBERT VANAUDELIN Times-News Farm Editor

It was a bright sunny day, with just a few clouds in the sky, south of the border Wednesday.

For the first time in six or seven years, it did not storm at Knoll Creek Field Laboratory, southeast of Contact, Nev., on its annual field day, which was Wednesday.

In past years when Clark Torell, Knoll Creek superintendent, had the field day activities at the station, it has rained, hailed and snowed as well as being windy. But Wednesday — although a few drops did fall — it was a beautiful day. It did, however, rain there the day before.

Clark Torell and other University of Nevada personnel have a field day each year at the station to tell Nevada, Idaho and Utah ranchers what has been done there in way of research in both livestock and range problems.

mountain meadows was the subject of Irving Hackitt, Elko County agent, discussion.

Varieties of alfalfa and grasses were explained to the group by Mr. Jensen, agronomist at the University of Nevada. Natural sub-irrigation and spring burning of sagebrush was outlined by Dr. J. H. Robertson, university of Nevada, talked on soil potential of upland meadow, and Dr. Jensen discussed grass variety management and short season forages.

Next year research and trials on livestock will be featured at Knoll Creek.

Knoll Creek is one of seven field laboratories operated by the University of Nevada. The laboratory is located on leased land from the Salmon River Cattlemen's Association.

Mr. Torell concluded the day by saying, "I hope the weatherman will cooperate next year for our field day."

Horses Discussed

KING HILL — Horses were discussed by the 4-H Horse Club during a recent meeting.

Sewing Shown

SHOSHONE — Members of the Mrs. Lawrence Sturgeon 4-H Sewing Club learned how to use a machine and choose material when they met recently.

Tammy Kinney gave a demonstration on how to make a sewing box.

WHY LEAVES TURN BROWN? Many home owners are asking why leaves of ornamental trees and shrubs turn brown, especially around the edges. The answer is simple: you are keeping them too dry.

ROSE JAR: A reader asks for information on keeping a fresh flower in a jar with all night cover which he says last indefinitely. "If the jar is opened" - the flower will, disintegrate," he adds.

FORSYTHIA ONLY HALF BLOOMS: Many ask why it is their forsythia bush blooms only from the bottom half, while the top half remains nice and green. The answer here is: winter injury.

JACKRABBITS Jackrabbits will be discussed at a special meeting Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the Twin Falls County Agent's office, old hospital building.

PHIDS AND MILDEW: These are problems on ornamentals now. Aphids are killed by spraying with malathion or nicotine sulfate, one tablespoon to a gallon of soapy water.

LAWNS: Some lawns are covered with white mildew the m is "full of powder" as the m is cut. This is powdery mildew, a white coating on grass blades of susceptible strains such as Merion Bluegrass, especially in damp weather.

PEACH BORER: Those masses of gum-like bubbles and a sawdust-like material you see near the base of the peach tree means the presence of the peach borer.

New Farm Plan Under Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A new plan for government purchase of crop production rights on marginal farms and the nation's farm support headspace permanently, the plan's sponsors claim.

The long-range adjustment plan is now under study by administration officials who favor many of its basic principles. The proposal was outlined in a report - now circulating here - that recommends purchase of 20-year - cropping - easements on 353,000 marginal farms including more than 73.5 million acres.

Current farm programs have already swallowed about $76 billion in federal costs without solving the farm surplus and income problem the report said. If the programs are continued, another $35 billion may be spent during the next 10 years and the problem would still remain.

Enough has already been spent for the nation to have bought its way out of this problem several times over, the easement technique may be the way to finally dispose of the problem and move onto more pressing social and economic issues," the report said.

Under the easement plan - Farmers in marginal areas would be invited to sell the government an easement covering rights to produce major crops on their farms for 20 years. The landowners, or any later owners of the farms during the easement period, could not grow any specified crops without government permission.

A farmer selling an easement would be paid over a 10-year period with a large part of the price paid during the first few years.

Easements would be bought first in areas of lower farm productivity, then in the next lowest areas, until sufficient land had been tied up to leave production on remaining farms in balance with demand at about present price levels.

DISCARD ORDER AIDS DEFECTION

The bidding of today's hands is a sure sign that East from Maine to California, north to Alaska or west to Hawaii, South will open one no-trump. No trick will count carefully to make sure the really holds 22 high-card points, look hard at his partner to see if he is joking with his no-trump bid and then raise to seven.

The play will be a lot slower. Thirty-eight are supposed to be enough for seven, but these are not the cards you want to play until just and will surely start by cashing four diamonds. East will know his spade queen is the only honor held by his side. West should also figure his partner holds a that queen. Otherwise, South would claim 13 top tricks.

Most defenders would hang on to their spades to last. East would have to let one go eventually and when South got around to the final problem he would play East for the queen with three. In the absence of high-card points, look hard at his partner to see if he is joking with his no-trump bid and then raise to seven.

Expert defenders would make their tricks tougher for South. East and West would discard a space each at the first opportunity. West's 2nd discard would be the ace of hearts. After this each one would follow suit on clubs and hearts with West carefully watching the queen of spades. South would have no way of knowing which opponent held the club six and might just as well toss a coin to decide how to play the spades.

Carlos Shoots For 9-Flat Mark In 100-Yard Dash As NCAA Meet Continues

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—John Carlos of San Jose State goes all out for a world record in the 100-yard dash today—and he thinks he can be the first to break the nine-second barrier. Carlos already owns a share of the 100-yard record with a 9.1, but he wants to rule the world's fastest man. He has two chances today—in the semifinals and finals of the 48th annual NCAA Track and Field championships. A bad start robbed him of a try in Thursday's preliminary run, so he "eased up" to 9.3.

Sox Shatter Pilots With Early Surge

CHICAGO (UPI)—First inning home runs by Carlos May and Bill Mellon accounted for the Sox's early surge. Sox bunched all their scoring in three innings to outslug the Seattle Pilots 13-10 Thursday. The two-run homer by Max Melton's three-run blast gave the White Sox a 5-4 lead after one inning. Chicago scored four in the third, and then overcame a 10-9 deficit with its four runs in the seventh inning.

T.F. Legion Teams Top Rupert Twice

RUPERT — Four Twin Falls Legion 'A' pitchers combined to shutout the Rupert Rangers 6-0 Thursday night while Mike Chandler twirled a one-hitter for the 'B' team in an earlier 5-0 victory over the Rupert 'B' team.

Culp, Boston Stop Indians On Two Hits

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Ray Culp pitched a two-hitter for his 10th victory of the season and Gene Yastzanski hit a two-run homer Thursday night to pace the Boston Red Sox to a 3-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a game delayed twice by rain.

Culp, who was making his 17th start of the year and his eighth try for his 10th victory, struck out eight to tie Sam McDowell of Cleveland for the American League strikeout lead. He walked one and didn't allow a Cleveland runner to reach second base.

Culp allowed only a single by Lou Killechick in the third and a single by pinch-hitter Leo Mayo in the fifth.

Yastzanski, who had gone 0-for-10 after hitting a first-inning home run in Monday night's 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels, struck his 10th home run off Cleveland starter Dick Ellisworth after George Thomas singled in the first.

Nightcap: Twin Falls 6-0, 000 000-2 4 0; Rupert 0-0, 000 000-0 2 0. Astorquia, Soran (3), Graham (5), Kinghorn (7), and Frazier; Chiffon and Schab, WP — Astorquia.

K and T Sips Kreft In Extra Innings: K and T Sips outlasted Kreft Junior 7-1 in eight innings for the longest game of Thursday night's city slopstick league action.

And Terelurst homered for the winners while Henry Pluce and Bridger got round-trip piers for the losers.

Namath Labels Magazine Story About Him As 'Pack Of Lies'

SEATTLE (UPI)—New York Jets quarterback Joe Namath Thursday described a recent magazine article accusing him of connections with the Mafia as "nothing but a pack of lies."

He said the article in Sports Illustrated was full of innuendoes "designed to degrade me personally and professionally."

Questioned about known gamblers frequenting his New York restaurant, Bachelors III, Namath said as far as he was concerned, a customer was a customer, and said if he had associated with known gamblers "it never affected me or my teammates."

He said he had not talked with newsmen from Sports Illustrated, Life or Time Magazine, all Luce publications, in three years although he said he once was accused of beating up a Sports Illustrated editor.

Namath said he hoped to meet with Rozelle next week but indicated nothing definite had been set.

"I want to play football but I am not optimistic," he remarked.

In New York, Namath's press representative said Joe's attorney, James Walsh, was "conferring with the top legal experts in the country" about possible libel suits against publications carrying articles lying Namath to the Mafia and alleging dice games took place in his New York apartment.

The spokesman said that Namath was not in New York when the dice games were supposed to have taken place in January and February. "Joe was in Miami following the Super Bowl until Jan. 22 and in New York for only two days before leaving on a tour of the Far East," he said. He added, "Namath had three FBI agents" for neighbors in New York and they would have noticed any untoward behavior.

Namath, he said, "intends to proceed vigorously against these campaigns by magazines all on information by so-called anonymous New York policemen."

The New York Civil Liberties Union sharply criticized wiretaps put on the telephones in Namath's apartment as "the latest in a series of illegal wire taps that threatens certain constitutional protection."

Others are the 3,000 meter steeplechase, the shot put, the long jump and the hammer throw. In the latter, Richard "Narcissus" Richardson of Villanova tries to keep the NCAA title in the family—his brother Robert won it the past two years.

Carlos will be making his bid on the artificial Tartan floor of the Tom Black Track on the University of Tennessee campus. But he admits, "I prefer cinders."

Edwards-Led Astros Drop Padres 4-2

HOUSTON (UPI)—John Edwards started a three run rally in the second with a single and homer to lead the Houston Astros to a 4-2 victory over the San Diego Padres Thursday night.

Jim Wynn doubled and scored on Edwards' single with two out in the seventh for the Astros' other run.

San Diego scored its first run in the fourth on singles by Al Ferrara, Ed Spiezio and Tommy Dean, and added its second in the sixth on Ferrara's double, a wild pitch and a single by Chris Canizaro.

Farrell appeared out of trouble when he struck out Tommie Agee but Boswell put the Mets in front with his single to give Ron Taylor, who pitched the eighth, the victory.

Shamsky, who scored the Mets' first run on a second inning single by Al Wei, tied the game at 3 in the sixth when he followed Cleon Jones' single with his second homer of the year and cleared the right field fence again in the eighth to put the Mets ahead 4-3.
