New Bank Directors Set First T.F. Meet

Directors of the Bank of Idaho will meet in Twin Falls this Thursday, the day before the official grand opening of the new facility in downtown. Officials of the bank said it is policy to hold board meetings at various locations in the state during the year. It was added that in this way directors have a chance to get better acquainted with operations in all areas of the state. This is the first directors meeting in Twin Falls. Work on the new bank has been under way in downtown Twin Falls through spring, and a week ago a fence surrounding the bank was removed, allowing passers by to view the nearly completed building from the ground floor up.

Israelis And Egyptians Strike Across Lines

By United Press International Both Israeli and Egyptian commando forces struck across the cease-fire lines today in punitive raids that took the Middle East fighting into a new phase—limited ground war instead of the usual artillery duels. The new phase began early Sunday when Israeli commandos penetrated six miles south of Suez City at the southern end of the Suez Canal and blew up an Egyptian naval radar station to blind Egyptian defenses against any future Israeli strikes. Today Israeli commandos fought their way mile into Jordan in another punitive raid and attacked a Jordanian army and guerrillas base after a 24-hour period of heavy fighting by planes, artillery and tanks. Cairo said Egyptian army commandos staged two light raids across the Suez Canal today and killed 18 Israeli soldiers and blew up an ammunition dump in Israel-held Sinai. The commandos said they also blew up bunkers and fuel supplies in a second raid. The Israeli version of the attack said "several dozen" Egyptians crossed the canal under cover of an artillery barrage shortly after midnight. A spokesman in Tel Aviv said the Egyptians drove their way to the barbed wire defense perimeter of a base five miles south of El Qantara before being driven back, but he denied Egyptian reports the base was overrun. He said three Arab soldiers were killed and one Israeli wounded.

Oaths Taken

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Warren E. Burger became chief justice of the United States today in a brief ceremony featuring an unusual address to the court by President Nixon. In two oaths administered by his predecessor, Earl Warren of California, Burger promised to "bear true faith and allegiance" to the constitution and to "administer justice without respect to persons." He had taken the same oaths earlier when he became a member of the U.S. Court of Appeals here in 1955. The ceremony took place in the Supreme Court room before a about 500 invited guests.

Nine Persons Perish In Hail, Winds

By United Press International Tornadoes and severe thunderstorms lashed the Midwest late Sunday and early today, uprooting trees, knocking down power lines and damaging buildings. At least nine persons died as a result of the hail, heavy rains and strong winds. Five persons were killed and at least 30 injured Sunday night by tornadoes in the Missouri Lead Belt, about 65 miles south of St. Louis. One man was killed when his car was swept off the road. One twister touched down four miles west of Potomac, Mo., traveled northeast and hit one mile south of Old Mines in Washington County, cutting a path one-half mile on the ground. A second tornado hit just west of U.S. 67 at about the same time. Trees and power lines were down in Southern Illinois east of St. Louis and in Southeastern Indiana. A Benton, Ill., man was killed when he picked up a power line which fell in his backyard. A cloudburst virtually inundated parts of Iroquois County in central Illinois, about 75 miles south of Chicago. Up to three inches of rain was reported in 15 minutes and all highways in the area were nearly impassable. Three persons were killed in an auto accident north of Robinson, Ill., in Crawford County, where water covered Illinois 1. Police said one car skidded into the path of the gale when it hit the water.

Green Beret Camp Hit By Vietnamese

By WALTER WHITEHEAD SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese forces shelled the U.S. Green Beret camp at Ben Het today for the 20th time this month and sent two waves of infantry against its outposts, their siege unchecked by a million pounds of U.S. bombs dropped in 24 hours. The South Vietnamese mercenaries who man the outpost near the vital Central Highlands camp hurried back the ground attacks, killing 34 North Vietnamese against "light" casualties in their own ranks, military spokesmen said. The attacks were preceded by a barrage of tear gas, mortar and artillery shells and recalls less rifle fire into the outpost on either side of the camp and into the main base position itself. Seven civilian dependents of the Vietnamese mercenaries, who defend the camp under Green Beret leadership, were wounded. There were no U.S. casualties.

Abernathy Fasts To Dramatize Cause

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI)—The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, jailed for the 27th time in his career as a civil rights worker, says he will begin fasting to dramatize the cause of 400 striking hospital workers. Abernathy's wife, who met with him in the Charleston County Jail Sunday, scheduled a news conference today. She was expected to announce a stepp in demonstrations against Gov. Robert McNair reimposed a curfew on the port city after an abortive march led by Abernathy sparked violence Friday night. National Guardsmen were reactivated to help police enforce the 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew. Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), was arrested in the march last week which violated a restriction against night demonstrations. He was held under $50,000 bond and was charged with inciting to riot, parading without a permit and disorderly conduct. Abernathy's arrest touched off a riot and bottle throwing by Negro youths. Five policemen and a newsman were hurt, none seriously. The hospital workers struck the Medical College of South Carolina Hospital and the Charleston County Hospital March 20 in a dispute over union representation and wages. Scattered violence last month forced McNair to activate National Guardsmen to enforce a curfew which was lifted June 1. Sunday approximately 100 Negroes marched through the black town demanding support. Andrew Young, vice president of the SCLC and Abernathy's top lieutenant, led the door-to-door march. Shortly after the march started, the Negroes gathered in the street and were stopped by Charleston Police Chief John Conroy. Conroy asked Young to disperse the crowd. Young took the marchers back to church for a rally before the curfew began; there was no violence, no arrests.

Officers said Mr. Turner was at the rest area on Interstate Highway 80N at 12:12 a.m. Sunday when two men drove by and dropped a firecracker into his truck. Mr. Turner attempted to grab the explosive and throw it out, but it went off in his hand. Officers said his hand was burned.

Congressman William Bates Dies At 52

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. William Henry Bates, R-Mass., a member of Congress since 1950 when he was elected to fill a vacancy caused by the death of his father, died Sunday of abdominal cancer. He was 52.

He was the senior GOP member of the House Armed Services Committee and the second ranking Republican on the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy and a champion of a nuclear Navy under development of peaceful uses of atomic energy.

He died at 8:00 a.m. EDT, in the Bethesda Navy Medical Center—while, by coincidence, the Navy band on the hospital grounds was playing the national anthem for regular morning colors.

His wife, Jean, was with him at the time. He had been undergoing treatment for abdominal lymphoma.

Bates was first elected to Congress Feb. 1950 in a special election called to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, George W. Bates. He was serving his 11th term.

At the time of his election, Bates was a lieutenant commander in the Navy and had been in the service for 10 years.

Bates' sixth congressional district covered Essex County, including his home town of Salem, where he was born.

He was educated at Worcester Academy, Brown University, and Harvard School of Business Administration.

Sims Admits Confession Was Hoax

By MICHAEL WILLARD

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—"When he tells the truth, he will be dead," he has never told the truth in his life."

Ernest Paul Sims' mother described Sims when she learned her son had confessed to the murder of two girls near Ann Arbor, Mich., and also the slaying of an Oklahoma City taxi driver.

After hours of intensive questioning by Nashville police, Sims admitted late Sunday his mother knew him well—the confessions were a hoax.

While local authorities agreed Sims apparently was not involved in the slayings, they still planned to give him a life sentence today.

In his statement with his four sisters at police station Sunday, Sims recounted the confessions and signed a statement admitting he had a "Sims" questioning had continued throughout the day after Michigan authorities had noted some discrepancies in his statement compared with facts in the slaying of the two girls.

It Ken Reasonover told reporters Sims had admitted he was a hoax. Reasonover said he felt Sims confessed because "he wanted attention and couldn't lie."

There have been six young women murdered in the Ann Arbor area since 1967.

The Nashville convict, who worked as a groundskeeper on the Eastern Michigan University campus May 5-7, admitted the slayings of Marilyn Skellan 18, whose body was found March 25 near the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor, and Dawn Hanson, 13, of Ypsilanti, Mich., whose body was discovered April 16 along a dirt road three miles north of her home.

Sims also admitted the May 11 slaying death of Eugene Stephens, a 49-year-old Oklahoma city taxi driver.

Officers learned Sims could not have committed the Skellan murder since the girl had been dead a couple of days when her body was found March 25 and Sims was released the same day from the Milan, Mich., correctional institution.

Pope Canonizes New Saint French Nun Julie Billiart

By RAY MOSELEY

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI Sunday canonized a new saint, French-born nun Julie Billiart, and asked the occasion to reject indirectly Protestant criticism of the Catholic Church's cult of saints.

"No one may think that honoring the saints, the Catholic Church detracts something from the honor owed to God alone and to Christ," said the Pope. "No one may call the cult of the saints superstition, when in them the Church seeks out and celebrates the source of holiness."

Vatican observers said both these remarks apparently referred to Protestant objections to the Catholic practice of proclaiming saints and then praying to God through them.

On the question of praying through the saints, the Pope said "intercession is admirable. Aren't the saints our brothers, our friends, our protectors?"

The canonization ceremony for Mother Billiart, a native of Couvilly, France, who founded the order of the Sisters of Notre-Dame de Namur in 1800, was the most saint canonization in centuries—in keeping with a papal reform of two months ago trimming many of the rituals and expenses from canonization rites.

The only sign of pomp was a papistry depicting the new saint in front of the church.

Thirty cardinals attended the ceremony, as did members of the diplomatic corps, to the Holy See. Observers estimated there were about 3,000 persons in the Basilica.

In his speech—half in Italian and half in French—the Pope said earlier times there had been too much emphasis on miracles attributed to saints. He said the result was that some saints were "adorned with imaginary miracles and unbelievable legends."

"But no longer," he said. "The miracle remains the proof, a sign of sainthood, but it does not constitute the essence of it."

Vietnam Peace Still 1 To 3 Years Away

By RAY CROMLEY
 WASHINGTON (NEA) — It can be reported flatly that key men in the highest circles of government do not expect a settlement on Vietnam short of one, two or three years — perhaps longer.

The signs are more toward two or three years than one. There is a strong belief in these circles the settlement, when and if it does come, most probably will not occur at the official Paris talks between the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong on one side and the United States and South Vietnamese on the other.

Rather, a settlement is believed much more likely to come as a result of the now much-publicized efforts at private talks between the South Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

These talk efforts have not been at all fruitful to date. By all known standards, they have gotten nowhere, so far as is known in American circles. Nevertheless, there is a great deal of optimism here on the possibilities.

The U.S. optimism is based primarily on the belief among American experts on Vietnam that the Vietnamese are extremely — pragmatic-practical people and are very likely to find a solution to the thorny political problems inherent in any peace settlement once they put their minds to it. But it will take a long time. Long, slow dickering is a Vietnamese characteristic, especially when the problems are as tough as these are.

It may be that, even when and if results begin to develop from the private talks, U.S. officials may not know what is happening. Both the Vietnamese and Americans are agreed that the less Washington's officials know the better.

The thinking is that, once something happens, some American official would be certain to talk "off the record." Such private leaks would get around and could blow the works.

The South Vietnamese know this and therefore are playing their cards close to their chests.

There is no worry here in the administration that the South Vietnamese would sell out their country. So there's complete confidence in the South Vietnamese pursuing their own course privately and secretly while the Paris negotiations go on in public.

The 25,000-troop withdrawal this summer, is being intended to buy time in the United States (in Congress and among the American people) for the South Vietnamese to do this secret negotiating.

The way it looks now, if things go right, officials say privately they would expect another 5,000 troops or so will be withdrawn every three to six months, as necessary, to continue buying the extra time it believed these negotiators will require.

Conservation Coordinator May Be Hired

SHOSHONE — The possibility of securing a fieldman to help coordinate Resource Conservation and Development in Camas, Gooding, and Lincoln counties was explained to members of the Rotary club by Leo Sentfen, Soil Conservationist. If sponsoring organizations make an application, the fieldman may be hired.

Various problems, such as sewers, water sources and others which would qualify for government help could then be studied more effectively and promoted through the cooperative effort.

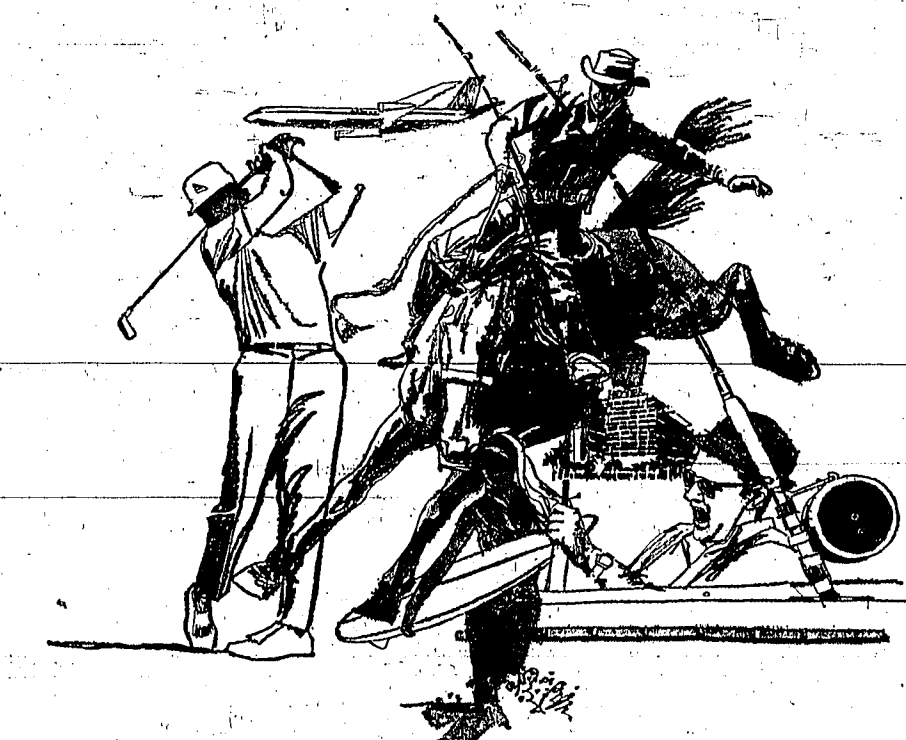

Guests were Julius Schmidt, Alan McCombs, Bill Carrico and Ed Koetter, Gooding.

The wedding anniversary song was sung for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blackburn and for the birthdays of Mrs. Judith Love Abraham, Miss Kristler Hansen Rose, Julius Schmidt and Noel Johnson.

William Thomason reported that one grill at the Rotary park shelter has been installed.

CERTIFICATE OF APPRECIATION for assistance to the Idaho state winner of the essay contest on Hiro the Handicapped, was presented Mrs. Mary Slaughter during a recent ceremony. Making the presentation were Gene Cunningham, seated, service officer, and Hiro the Handicapped chairman for the Disabled American Veterans; Tom Jones, Assistant to Gov. Don Samuelson for Hiro the Handicapped activities in Idaho, and Cmdr. Arthur Patterson of the Twin Falls DAV Chapter, all from left. # Friends Reflect On Judy

By United Press International

Mickey Rooney says the world was too late to understand and love Judy Garland.

"If they could have taken her but her heart a little sooner she might still be alive today," said Rooney, a child star with Miss Garland at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and later her costar in the Andy Hardy series.

Ray Bolger, who played the Scarecrow in Judy's best known film, "The Wizard of Oz," summed the feelings of many Hollywood personalities who knew Miss Garland.

"I think the whole world probably burst, the bubble on Judy Garland," Bolger said in New York. "Her last few years must have been very difficult."

Margaret Hamilton played the wicked witch in "The Wizard of Oz" and first met Judy when she was 16. "When you work with someone on a picture you only know that side of them," Miss Hamilton said.

"But as far as I knew, she was a gaily, bubbly person. Let's say I'm talented. Everyone loved her."

Fred Astaire, who costarred with Miss Garland in "Easter Parade," said, "I did only one movie with Judy and found her a delightful person to work with. I feel very badly about what happened."

George Jessel recalled that he gave the singer her stage name.

"She was only 11 years old but she sang like a woman three times—her age with a broken heart. They laughed when I introduced her as Frances Gumm, so one day I said, Judy Garland."

George Kuker directed Miss Garland in "A Star is Born," for which she was nominated for an Academy Award.

"Judy was obviously a very talented woman, but many people missed the great essence of Judy—which was that she was an extremely sharp, an extremely intelligent person. But all her wit and all her intelligence couldn't save her," he said.

JUDY GARLAND AND Mickey Rooney swung through a fast dance number in his scene from "Strike Up The Band" in 1941. Miss Garland co-starred with Rooney in the "Andy Hardy" series, racking millions of dollars for MGM studios. The singer-actress was found dead in her London home Sunday by her husband. # Versatile Pontoon Boat Is Popular On Inland Waters

By JACK WOLISTON

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the most versatile of craft becoming popular on inland waters is the pontoon boat. The industry estimates that spring sales of these "party boats" will total about 10,000.

Like every other type of pleasure craft, the pontoon boat has been "refined" and it bears little resemblance to similar craft of a few decades ago which consisted of little more than a platform strapped to a few old oil drums.

Today's refinements include decorative colors, carrousel canopies, vinyl-enclosed camper cabins and lightweight, easy-to-maintain aluminum construction.

One pontoon boat even boasts of streamlined engineering which allows it to pull 24 water skiers at a time or reach speeds of nearly 70 miles per hour.

Recently, this craft started attracting spectators at a speed boat race on the Detroit River by winning the first and second heats in a 100-mile outboard marathon.

Powered by two 110 horsepower engines, the pontoon boat zipped past the sleek conventional racing boats at a speed of 88.1 miles per hour on rough water.

Such a slight probably would astound the pontoon boat builders of a quarter century ago whose products were used mostly as fishing or swimming platforms and were about as graceful as a diving raft.

As the social possibilities of the pontoon boats were realized, some wag nicknamed them "martial boats." Their design became more streamlined, but they still had the image of a slow, lumbering craft.

With the introduction of aluminum construction, additional streamlining and some of the creature-comforts that are found on conventional pleasure craft, the pontoon boat shed its ugly duckling label.

One of the leaders in this transformation has been Twin-Alume, a division of Brown-Hutchinson, Inc., in Detroit which claims its pontoon-boats, ranging in length from 20 to 32 feet, are the fastest in the world. Its standard 24-foot model astounded spectators at the previously mentioned Detroit marathon.

"You couldn't call it a 'sexy-looking' boat," says Robert Litzenberg, vice president and general manager of Twin-Alume. "But it rounds out what you can do with a boat."

"Pontoon boats have always been good for diving, sunning, picnicking or dancing, but now you can satisfy the people who like to race and water ski."

How does Twin-Alume get its speed and power? Through three design features, says Litzenberg.

"Aluminum construction makes it much more lightweight than a steel raft," he says. "The streamlined engineering includes pontoon apses which slice through water like the prow of a sleek canoe. The structure is reinforced to withstand the torque of powerful engines."

One additional feature of pontoon boats—most are no more than eight feet wide so they can be easily trailered, at highway speeds without a special permit.

Dick Gregory Proposes Xmas Boycott

BERLIN (UPI)—Dick Gregory, the Negro comedian, proposed Sunday that the world boycott Christmas this year if the United States does not withdraw from Vietnam.

Gregory, who was presented as the "former American presidential candidate," drew up the proposal for submission to the Communist-sponsored World Assembly for Peace, which is currently meeting in East Berlin. Gregory heads the Assembly's Committee on Racism.

As an example to the world, Gregory said he and his wife began to fast Saturday when the four-day peace assembly opened in East Berlin's Dynamo Sports Stadium and will continue to fast until it ends.

Gregory said the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Central Intelligence Agency—"the most vicious organization in the history of the world"—were behind assassinations in the United States.

"These murders are not committed by nuts and kooks," he told the East Berlin news conference. "It's the government, it's the C.I.A."

President Pompidou Promises France Era Of Gaullism Minus De Gaulle

By GEORGE SIBERA

PARIS (UPI)—President Georges Pompidou promised France an era of Gaullism minus De Gaulle. Today he began it in earnest, minus De Gaulle's top lieutenants.

To be sure, the new 18-member cabinet included Sunday included 11 men considered loyal Gaullists, including former Premier Michel Debre and defense minister with unprecedented powers.

But the roll-call of new ministers read formally today by Pompidou by former Jacques Chaban-Delmas. In effect said this about the top of the old Gaullist guard:

—Pierre-Claude de Merville, nine years De Gaulle's foreign minister, gone. Pierre Messier, keeper of the nuclear striking force as armed forces minister, gone. Andre Malraux, the general's literary blood-bank as minister of culture, gone. Edgar Faure, minister of education and Jean-Jean, minister of state, both gone.

Composition of the cabinet indicated there would be continuity in the broad lines of Gaullist policy but also room for Pompidou to reshape relations with the United States and toward United Europe, if he chose.

Besides Debre, the top-ranking cabinet appointments were:

—Maurice Schumann, 58, at foreign minister. Hard-line Gaullists in the national assembled, pressured Pompidou to give this job to Debre. Schumann has long favored resumption of close relations with the United States in a strong Atlantic alliance, plus a united Europe with Britain included. He quit De Gaulle's cabinet in 1962 to protest "nationalistic" policies.

Cong Said To Lose Hope Of Victory

SAIGON (UPI)—The Viet Cong have abandoned hope of military victory and now seek to win control of South Vietnam "in a more complicated and indirect way," apparently through U.S. withdrawal and coalition government, a captured document disclosed today.

U.S. military sources said the document, captured at Ben Luc about 25 miles south of Saigon on June 1, states that the present summer offensive is not meant to be "decisive."

"Full victory will come later, in a more complicated and more indirect way," the document says.

"It is now impossible to annihilate all the enemy forces."

The sources who disclosed the document said failure of the attempted all-out military victory in 1968 was caused by the reluctance of Red troop units to carry their full share of the fighting at that time.

The sources said they expected the current summer offensive to be characterized by high points of activity such as the attacks on the border province of Tay Ninh.

The campaign is expected to last through July with the Communists attempting to occupy one or two border-proving capitals, possibly to set up headquarters for their newly announced provisional revolutionary government.

Vessels Barred

PARIS (UPI)—France today barred its ports to foreign nuclear-powered vessels without prior authorization from the French government. A decree published in the official journal said that the French government will have to ask permission in advance from the ministry of foreign affairs and include guarantees "for the repair of nuclear damages."

—Valery Giscard d'Estaing picked. "The real work now begins and I will take the first decisions tomorrow (Monday) morning."

Chaban-Delmas holds his first cabinet meeting Wednesday and goes before parliament for the first time, Thursday.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: George (made up name) and I have been married for 27 years. We have six children. Two are married and we have grandchildren too. Abby, I really love this man with all my heart. Recently an old girl friend of George's found his name in a telephone directory and she wrote him a letter, asking him to reply. Well, he CALLED HER UP, long distance and they talked for 20 minutes. George told her he was happily married and had six children. She told George she had married an alcoholic, who deserted her four years ago. Well, I thought that was that, but in a couple of days here comes a letter from this woman. She told my husband her whole life history since they had last seen each other, which was 30 years ago and she closed by saying, "Let's keep in touch." Now, Abby, I can't see any good in his "keeping in touch" with her, can you? George says there is no harm in reviving an old friendship, but I know they were more than friends. Dear Abby, do you think I'm just looking for trouble? Please put your answer in the paper as he reads you faithfully and respects your advice.

 GEORGE'S WIFE
 DEAR WIFE: George is not looking for "trouble" — he's looking for excitement. But trouble is probably what he will get. Tell him you love him, you're jealous, and if he "keeps in touch" with this old flame from 30 years back, he'll break your heart.
 DEAR ABBY: No offense intended! I am one of your greatest fans. However, this letter is prompted by the one you received and answered about singers and musicians at weddings not being part of the wedding party.
 Come on, Abby, I have played piano and organ at weddings for several years. I have always been included in the wedding party. To leave out the musicians in my book is bad taste, especially if the services are performed at no cost to the couple. I have never charged for my services and I am a professional. I consider it a "personal" favor for those getting married.
 Yours, sincerely, JOHN BROWN

Sunburn Season Is Here

By GAY PAULEY
 NEW YORK (UPI)—The sunburn season is with us—good news for the sun worshippers, bad news for conscientious dermatologists like Dr. Janith Stewart Kice. Bad news also for many a skin which, roasted to a deep tan on beach, surfing, water skiing, rooftop or poolside bathing, never again regains its elasticity.

The result of over and undue exposure is more than the immediate pain of sunburn. It turns skin into what Dr. Kice calls a "generalized prune," wrinkled and senile long before its time.

But the results are more dangerous than the surface damage. Dr. Kice and her fraternity of skin specialists know it means increased incidence of skin cancer which kills some 5,000 persons per year, according to the American Cancer Society (ACS). ACS says that each year some 135,000 Americans develop skin cancer, and Dr. Kice says the number is growing because of the increase of the sun-olitics, and the increase, too, in such outdoor sports as water skiing and surfing.

ACS calls skin cancer the most common of all cancers—and the most curable if detected and treated in time. But why not prevent the cancer with some sense in the sun?

ACS preaches the sense in pamphlet form. Dr. Kice, who is president of the Western Nassau County division of ACS, preaches it in talks to groups, putting across the message wherever she finds listeners.

Her husband, Dr. Raymond F. Smith, surgical chief of Nassau County General Hospital, preaches likewise. He is president of the entire Nassau County division of ACS.

In an interview, Dr. Kice commented that she "fairly cried" when the government made official holiday holiday weekends no matter on which day some of the national holidays fell. "I pray for rain on at least one of any of our three-day weekends," she said, hoping that'd salvage some skins from permanent damage.

She isn't saying stay completely out of sight of old sol, but protect the skin with a good sunray screening lotion or cream when in it.

Apollo Flight Chief Talks About Mission

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The flight director says he would consider next month's Apollo 11 mission a success if Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin merely land on the moon and return without stepping on its surface.

Clifford E. Charlesworth said in a weekend interview in Houston he thinks the chances are "pretty close" to 100 per cent the pilots will be able to achieve the landing while orbiting astronaut Michael Collins orbited overhead.

The three pilots took Sunday off, but more grueling training was on their agenda today at the Cape Kennedy complex.

Technicians at the ocean-side launch pad hoped to complete the tedious five day spacecraft fueling operation tonight.

The next and last major test facing Apollo 11 is a weeklong countdown rehearsal scheduled to begin Wednesday. Once that is completed, engineers will be able to start final preparations for the July 16 launch.

Charlesworth said if Armstrong and Aldrin get the opportunity to leave their landing craft, to collect moon rocks and deploy three scientific experiments he will consider that an added dividend.

U.S. Effort In Vietnam Stirs Trouble In Neighboring Laos

By KIM WILLENSON
VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — When American officials tried recently to help South Vietnam conserve its currency their efforts resulted in headaches for U.S. aid officials in Laos.
The trouble involved gold smuggling. At least, it is called smuggling in Saigon. In Laos it is a legitimate business from which the Royal Laotian government formerly obtained 30 per cent of its annual budget. All from taxes on the smugglers of gold traders, as the case may be.
It worked this way: Chinese traders in Vientiane imported the gold, converted it into 24-carat jewelry and re-exported it to South Vietnam. Not by conventional means. Smugglers wore the gold back to Saigon after paying the Laotian tax on it.

South Vietnamese bought the smuggled gold for hoarding. Advisers, who said this hurt the value of the Vietnamese piaster and drained too much gold from foreign exchange, urged Saigon to crack down on the smuggling. It did, so sharply that tax collections in Laos fell by two-thirds. The Laotian government demanded immediately that the U.S. make up the difference, about $1 million per year.
Not only that, the Laotian government flatly refused to levy taxes to replace the revenues lost in the gold crackdown.
The Laotian parliamentarians reasoned that the U.S. should make good the loss because the only reason Laos needed the gold tax revenue was to support a 50,000 man frontier army. That army was made necessary by a car that, in Laotian eyes at least, is primarily an American venture. The U.S. and four other allied countries already had provided a $25 million fund to stabilize Laos' currency, called the kip, from the effects of the war. Laos also stands to get about $35 million in U.S. foreign aid this year, $14 million less than last year.

Finance Minister Sisouk Na Chamseuk got nowhere in his effort to get parliament to levy new taxes on Laos' economy for the rather stark reason that in modern terms Laos simply doesn't have an economy.
Between 85 and 90 per cent of the people of the landlocked jungle kingdom are subsistence farmers who live by barter and spinning and weaving their own clothes.
The country's only exports are illegal opium and gold. Its main products are rice, coffee and a few simple food flavorings. The country has lots of valuable timber that is virtually untouched.
Some geologists believe the mountains of Laos contain vast mineral wealth, but the French never found it during the years they ruled the country. Scientific exploration of Laos will not be possible until the Southeast Asia war ends.
Meanwhile, for the United States, Laos is expensive and thorny dilemma, but of great political and strategic importance.

To get the best of both worlds, Page rented two buses, put 70 friends and a feast of beer and potato chips on them, and off they went.
The buses stopped at a rest area on the way to the stadium, and the two were married by the Rev. William Brown in an outdoor ceremony.

Reports reaching New Delhi Sunday said another 300 persons who ate at the feast Thursday night were in serious condition. A death feast is usually held on the 12th day after the death of a village elder.
Finance Minister Sisouk Na Chamseuk got nowhere in his effort to get parliament to levy new taxes on Laos' economy for the rather stark reason that in modern terms Laos simply doesn't have an economy.
Between 85 and 90 per cent of the people of the landlocked jungle kingdom are subsistence farmers who live by barter and spinning and weaving their own clothes.

ONE TEAM'S MEAT ANOTHER'S POISON

Oswald: "Here's a hand to wind up our discussion of luck in duplicate. It came up in a match between a New York and a Boston team back in 1957. The bidding in the box was that of the Boston North-South pair."

Jim: "I can see what happened to South. He won the second spade, took a club finesse since he was in his own hand, for the last and last time, watched East take the queen of clubs and four spade tricks for down one."

Oswald: "When New York held the North-South cards they were playing a convention known as 'aces over two bids.' South responded two spades. North tried three hearts and South raised to four hearts."

Jim: "Wasn't that bid supposed to show the king of hearts?"

Oswald: "It was or at least North thought so. He jumped to six no-trump. East led the four of spades and North had to scramble for 12 tricks."

Jim: "Not a very encouraging prospect but it looks as if North managed to take all 13."

Oswald: "That he did. He saw just one slim chance to make six and took it. He won the spade lead with the ace and at trick two he finessed the jack of hearts. Then he played his ace and king of clubs and dropped East's queen. Now he had a second entry to dummy for another heart finesse but he wasn't satisfied. He cashed his ace, king and queen of diamonds. The suit broke 3-3 so that after entering dummy with the 10 of clubs he took the last diamond to discard his last spade. It was no trouble to finesse hearts again and take all the tricks."

But once they are married, they lean their backs against their marriage certificates and defy you." Such were the cynical sentiments of Douglas Jerrold. Our Love and War man disagrees. Marriage generally gives a girl confidence, he says, and confidence tends to gentile her.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks extended their better than month-long slide in moderately active trading Monday. Leading market averages reached new lows for the year as activity moved into the final hour. Tight money continued to weigh heavily on the list. Also depressing was the discouraging news background which included sharp cuts in lumber prices because of reduced housing starts—and a decline in factory output for durable goods last month after an advance in April reported by the Commerce Department.

Near 7 p. m. the UPI stock market indicator, measuring all stock traded, was off 1.67 per cent on 1,536 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 1,144 declined and 221 advanced.

The Dow Jones average of blue chip industrials fell 0.30 to 869.80 at that time. Volume approximated 8,000,000 shares.
