

Go-Ahead Given Bond Vote

BURLEY — Cassia County school trustees have now decided to go ahead with plans to hold a disputed $2.8 million school bond election...

The decision was made following a report from Herman Bedke, school district attorney...

The attorney is reported presently in contact with the attorney general's office in Boise and with key legislators...

Legality of the proposed $2.8 million school bond election was called into doubt when the United States Supreme Court ruled on June 18 that the right to vote in any school election may not be restricted to only parents and property owners...

The board decided to construct classrooms at a rate of throwing out as too costly bids received from private contractors...

The new classrooms will be built using school district personnel and purchasing directly all supplies.

Dayan Tells Arabs He Would Mobilize To Meet Any Threat

By United Press International Israel Defense Minister Moshe Dayan warned the Arabs he would mobilize Israel's reserve forces if fighting escalates along Middle East cease-fire lines.

Hours after Israel security forces evicted Arab families from homes near the Walling Wall in Old Jerusalem Thursday, Jordan requested Security Council action to halt what it termed Israel's annexation of the entire Holy City.

The Jordanian appeal, if honored, would bring the first meeting of the Security Council on the Middle East in nearly three months.

Noise-Wearry Resident Tries Bold Approach To Silence

HOUSTON (UPI)—It was the bottom half of the third inning, and the score between the two little league teams was 4-1.

Bob Rodgers, the umpire behind the plate, got ready for the next pitch, he heard what he thought to be a car backfiring and wheeled around. Then he saw Floyd, pistol in one hand and shotgun in the other, get ready to fire another shot.

Floyd, whose wife was inside the house suffering from heart trouble, began shooting out the lights on the field Thursday and then fired over the heads of the children in the park.

Viet Peace Talks Said 'Completely Deadlocked'

PARIS (UPI)—Allied and Communist negotiators said today the Vietnam peace talks were completely deadlocked.

A Viet Cong delegate said one reason for the lack of progress was the Allied rejection of Communist demands for a coalition government in Saigon.

OEO Plans Explained To Director

Larry Mack, South Central Community Action Agency director, has returned from a two-day meeting in Coeur d'Alene for Community Action Program directors.

John Buckstead, regional director from the Office of Economic Opportunity, Kansas City, Mo., explained the future OEO plans to the seven Idaho directors.

He said the OEO will be looking for local CAP agencies to become more innovative in their programs.

He explained after Jan. 1, the federal monies to the agencies will be cut 10 per cent and this 10 per cent is to be made up by the community. The extra funds will, however, stay in OEO and will be used to fund new innovative programs.

He also stressed the low income people are not involved enough in 10 per cent. The group discussed various ways they might get these people more interested in the various program workings.

Eight VISTA volunteers also attended the conference. They said they believe it was the underemployment, rather than the unemployment, which is the depressing factor for the low income groups.

The Twin Falls Community Action Committee will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Neighborhood Center to hear Mr. Mack's report. The committee will discuss some possible ways to get more people, especially low income people, involved in the programs.

Canning Kitchen To Open Here July 8

Opening of the Twin Falls Community Canning Kitchen on Blue Lake Boulevard South, is scheduled for July 8, Mrs. J. H. Sharp, kitchen manager announced Thursday.

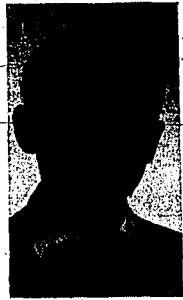

She said a number of appointments have been made for chili and chutneys are also ready for canning. Those wishing to make chili must make a reservation by calling Mrs. Sharp at 733-3497.

After July 1, a telephone will also be available at the kitchen.

The kitchen will be open Tuesdays and Fridays at 9 a.m. and possibly another day, later in the season.

Persons wishing to use the facilities for their canning need only call at the kitchen for a $1 registration fee and then pay for their cans. Kitchen employees will be available for special assistance. Reservations are required for chili only.

Workers will be at the kitchen late this week preparing for the opening, Mrs. Sharp said.

Power Firm Publishes Visitor Guide

BOISE — Idaho Power Co. officials have announced publication of a new brochure describing the utility's public recreation facilities throughout the Snake River Valley.

The brochure is designed to help promote tourist business in its service area.

The brochure will be available to the public at Idaho Power offices and at chambers of commerce, motels, hotels and travel agencies in the Snake River Valley and elsewhere in Idaho, according to Albert Carlson, company president.

"Title Fun Country," the brochure lists accommodations provided by Idaho Power at 13 of its hydroelectric projects and shows access routes on detail maps indicating distances from the nearest communities.

The brochure is illustrated with pictures depicting the power types recreation available at the company's facilities and in the surrounding areas. It also contains fishing and hunting information.

"Our new descriptive folder is intended to acquaint Snake River Valley residents with the recreation facilities Idaho Power has developed for their enjoyment free of charge and to help attract tourists from outside the state."

Copies of the pamphlet have been sent to numerous out-of-state persons who requested additional information after seeing a company advertisement in a 1969 edition of "Idaho Fishing and Hunting Guide."

Requests have been received so far from prospective visitors in California, Colorado, Iowa, Utah and Washington, as well as from Idaho residents.

Mr. Carlson said the requests indicated special interest in the Hells Canyon area, pointing out the 100-mile stretch of the Snake River has become a nationally known tourist attraction since Idaho Power completed it's three-dam development there. The brochure features the development's major recreation areas, which include Woodhead Park on Brownlee Lake, McCormick Park on Oxbow Lake and Hells Canyon Park on Hells Canyon Lake. Its cover is illustrated with a picture showing a scenic portion of Hells Canyon.

Ketchum Firm Provides New Guard Service

KETCHUM — A new private police service to Wood River Valley residents and businesses is now available.

Dan Hart, a native of Ketchum, has incorporated a security police force, Valley Security, Inc.

The service will include an inside and outside check of areas homes whose residents are away from home; protection for women staying alone; protection for children being attended by babysitters; a 24-hour fire vigil, and night-time assistance in securing the services of physicians or prescription medicines.

About 40 homeowners and several businesses in Wood River Valley already have subscribed to the new protection system.

Filer LDS Ward Has New Bishop

FILER — Kay Edrington has been named new bishop of the Filer LDS Ward and replaces James O. Page who was installed as bishop after serving nine years in that office.

Counselors Harold Luker and Donald Glendon were released with Bishop Page during the Sunday evening sacrament service. Mr. Luker was reappointed to his position as Raymond Hepworth, secretary and president Rex P. Hall of the Twin Falls stake presidency, conducted the meeting.

Bishop Edrington came to the Filer community in September, 1968, from Roosevelt, Utah; and is a professor at the College of Southern Idaho. He is married and his wife has seven children. The Edringtons have purchased the former George Oltens home on Faking.

Bishop Page was first sustained as bishop of the Filer Ward on July 10, 1960. During his years in this position he has seen the ward membership grow and a new building erected on Highway 30 after the former church on Union Street was destroyed by fire in 1967.

Two temporary meeting places were used while the new church was being erected. The new building, which was completed in April, 1968, is expected to be paid for in the next few months and dedication will take place at that time.

VA Purchases Groceries For Rest Of Year

BOISE — The Veterans Administration today completed its grocery shopping list for the summer and fall of 1969 — 35 million pounds of fruit, vegetables and juices, according to W. Allen Director of the VA hospital in Boise.

The VA, buying for its 186 veterans hospitals, will require 347 railroad cars to haul its purchases to three national depots in Bell, Calif.; Hines, Ill.; and Somerville, N.J.

The VA summer-fall shopping list includes 178,000 cases of dietetic fruit and vegetables, 283,000 cases of fruit and vegetable juices and 432,000 cases of No. 10 cans of regular fruit and vegetables. VA buys these products at prime canning time each year, Allen pointed out.

The grocery list of fruit and vegetables is just one phase of VA buying to feed veterans in the largest hospital system in the world.

Locally, Allen pointed out, the hospital buys annually 38,400 pounds of fresh produce; 18,000 gallons of whole and skim milk; 3,500 pounds of butter and oleo; 19,000 pounds of poultry and fish; 10,952 dozen eggs; and 10,300 pounds of bread.

Annually, in addition to the current shopping list, VA buys nationally 6,428,000 pounds of sugar; 2,576,000 pounds of coffee; 2,888,000 pounds of flour and 3,468,000 pounds of meat.

To avoid the shopping cart traffic jam for these purchases, VA will utilize 185 additional railroad cars to distribute the chow to its kitchen and canteens across the U.S.

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration has informed Congress that the bombing halt was not a "deal" but a unilateral decision. The Secretary of Defense, Melvin R. Laird, gave that unequivocal assurance in closed-door testimony late in March. Laird said the understanding was one of the ground rules in existence when he took over the Pentagon a month earlier.

Latin Situation

Misconceptions, erroneous impressions and to a degree jealousies long have cluttered the relationships between citizens of the United States and their Latin neighbors.

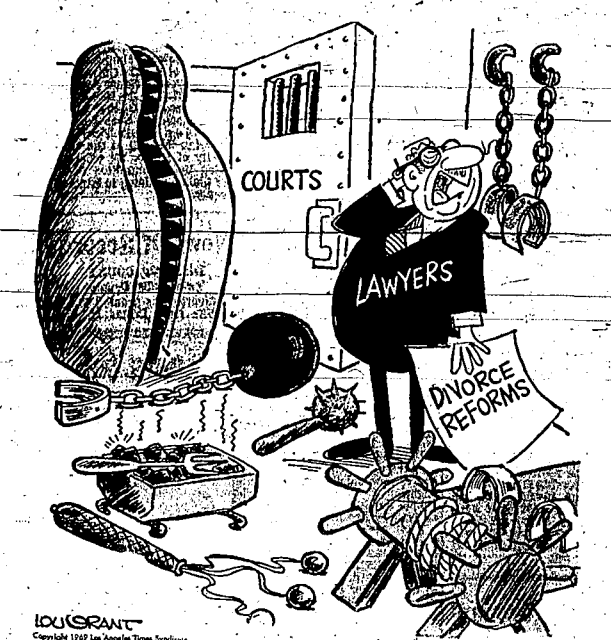

While political discussions frequently dominate—North Americans as a whole abhor militaristic administrations—the major problems and frictions between the southern countries and the United States are largely of an economic nature.

This was evident again in the list of grievances handed President Nixon on the name of 21 Latin countries by Foreign Minister Gabriel Valdes of Chile. The prime one was the complaint that the United States extracts far more in returns on its investments than it puts back into Latin America in the form of new investments.

"Latin American leaders are convinced that Latin America gives more than it receives," Valdes told the president. He claimed that earnings brought back to the United States in 1968 were five times the amount of new private U. S. investments. This is something, he said, "we can no longer accept."

U. S. economists have indicated the returns on investments have exceeded net investment by only a small margin. But basing the economic arguments solely on this one indicator is misleading. To measure the benefits to a poor region such as Latin America by private invest-peace talks.

Laird said Vance told him that he was understanding that, if the bombing of North Vietnam were halted, there would be "basic points" to be followed.

No operations carried on by North Vietnam through the demilitarized zone, the DMZ.

South Vietnamese government spokesmen would be assured a voice in the Paris peace talks.

Laird stressed that the understanding was "not in writing." He left no doubt, however, that such an understanding had been entered into with the North Vietnamese.

The Secretary is also reported to have outlined just how, as he understood it, the arrangement came into being.

After Laird's testimony, and perhaps as a result of hearing about the Secretary's attitude and positive statements about the understanding, members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee brought the question up.

Finally, Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., asked the State Department for information on the reported understanding. Apparently the Nixon State Department enlisted the help of Johnson negotiator, Vance, to elaborate on the treaty matter.

In any event, Vance came to Washington from his New York City headquarters on May 15th. He discussed the understanding, at some length, with Fulbright and some of his colleagues in Fulbright's private office.

It is true also that the understanding, as Vance had described it, was just as Laird had described it: No DMZ attacks, no indiscriminate shelling of cities, and no use of chemical weapons would have a role in substantive talks in Paris.

Warren's Grandstand Play

WASHINGTON — I'm afraid we must carefully monitor political fun, and games the grandstand play of Mr. Chief Justice Warren's Supreme Court in the Janis case. The Court perhaps was entitled to one last act of defiance to Capitol Hill before it is infiltrated by Nixon nominees.

Of course the Court was right in insisting upon its role as the "ultimate interpreter of the Constitution." That role was bestowed upon it by the Constitution.

But that role was being stonewalled upon it by the Constitution. That role was being stonewalled upon it by the Constitution.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Tipped Uterus

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son is to be married soon. The girl he is to marry went to a doctor for examination and for birth control pills.

The doctor said she has a tipped uterus and that it is so severe she may need surgery, and it would be a good idea for her to become pregnant.

I take a dim view of "what happens with a tipped uterus." It is quite true that the uterus in some cases is not at the usual angle, but is "tipped." It is true also that in some cases it can interfere with pregnancy. However, over the years I have encountered so many cases in which a tipped uterus caused no problems that I am very reluctant to jump to the conclusion that surgery is necessary in any case.

MR. SPECTATOR Progress Or Spoilage?

Seems as though Idaho isn't the only state having difficulty hanging onto things which some people think shouldn't be changed. In Idaho it's the White Clouds area where mining concerns are stirring things up. In Colorado it's an area near Florissant.

In fact, the Colorado situation — the fight against change, that is — is much better organized than it is in Idaho and the Defenders of Florissant have an office in Denver and are carrying on a nationwide drive to get people to see things their way.

What they are trying to save is termed the world's richest and most unique fossil beds. They write that in this fascinating place in seconds, birds, fish and plant fossils millions of years old lie right at the surface where anyone can discover them.

ART BUCHWALD Defense Money

WASHINGTON — One of the things to come out of the congressional hearings on defense costs is that the Pentagon takes a dim view of those who come up with evidence that the Defense Department is being overcharged. For this diligence, A. E. Fitzgerald, an Air Force cost control expert who first revealed that the C-5A supertransport would cost more than $2 billion over the original estimate, was taken off Air Force cost-control programs and assigned to reviewing construction of a 20-jane housing alley in Thailand.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am female and 62, and have been given a diagnosis of high uric acid in the blood. The doctor gave me some medicine, probably in vain, and my booklet tells the uric acid probably would not get any worse. In 30 days I am to have another blood test.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What does the word "amlich" mean? A small amount? A little? A large amount? You used it in your column. Is it a colloquialism? From one as much interested in the word as I am.

Aide Warns Idaho Laws Fail To Curb State-Level Bank Overdrafts

By LINDY HIGH
 BOISE (UPI) — Edward W. Sawyer, director of administrative services, told the Committee on Accounting Systems and Data Processing Thursday the present accounting system allows warrants to be drawn without sufficient funds to cover them.
 The committee adjourned after deciding to meet again July 25 to select a director to coordinate efforts of the committee in coming up with a uniform accounting system and data processing system for Idaho.

 Chairman Sen. John Anderson, R-Arco, asked that all resumes of applicants be directed to George Post, fiscal officer for the legislative committee. Post will check the references and report to the committee when it meets again.
 The committee members also agreed to draw up a letter outlining requirements for the new systems for submission to interested firms. Anderson said the firm selected for the job would design an accounting system to the specifications of the committee.

 Sawyer, using information given him by Budget Director James Diefenbach, said the present accounting system "does not provide for correlation between bank balances as maintained by the office of the state treasurer and the warrants drawn by the state auditor."
 This, he said, meant in some cases banks were placed in a position where they must either return the warrants because of insufficient funds or honor the warrants in violation of both federal and state statutes.

 Deputy Auditor Chester Graham, representing the absent State Auditor Joe Williams, replied that if the "allegations" were true, the books of the state treasurer and the banks involved should be subpoenaed and investigated.
 "My own opinion is that the allegations are not true," Graham said. "We will not write a warrant unless there are sufficient funds in an agency's account to pay the bill."

C. Eugene Harder, director of the Bureau of Public Accounts, told the committee, "The essentials of a sound and effective accounting system are in its simplicity, availability of data, flexibility, ability to relate programs and cost data to other facets of the state operations, and auditability."
 Sawyer said some 60 department heads told him what they wanted on the proposed "uniform, modern accounting system."
 He said they wanted management information reporting available on a monthly, quarterly, annual, and emergency basis.

 The present system, he said, was based upon the single entry, cash, type of accounting.
 "This type of accounting does not produce the cumulative data provided by the double entry, accrual, type of accounting which is needed by program and activity managers in order to direct and control their areas of responsibility efficiently and economically."
 Sawyer said the present system does not reflect the state's cash flow position at any time, does not provide for recording and reporting sick leave, annual leave and leave without pay on a departmental basis and does not encourage or even permit taking purchase discounts.

 "There is considerable evidence that the state may be losing a significant amount of money through the failure to take these discounts," he added.
 Sawyer said the present system does not reflect the

Gem Aide Ponders Law Fuss

BOISE (UPI) — Assistant Attorney General Tom Frost Thursday his office was looking into the problem of having a drunken driving bill with no penalty, but said an opinion might not be ready until next week.
Frost, who stressed he could not speculate on how the problem might be solved, said he was approaching the problem in two ways.

He said, first, the office would try to determine whether the controlling bill was the one passed by the House and Senate, or whether it was the bill signed by the governor and entered in the office of the secretary of state.
He said he believed the one passed by the legislature contained a penalty clause while lowering the content of blood alcohol necessary for a driver to be presumed driving under the influence.

"If we determine the engrossed bill controls—that is, the one with the penalty clause—we are obliged to determine what the effect is."
Frost said it may be possible to have a mixture of both bills—that retaining the new blood alcohol level while keeping the penalty under the other bill.

He said that another possibility might be that the new bill failed in its purpose and therefore would not take effect.
"Occasionally we have a bill which is defective and which the legislature is a mandatory bill and which is not intended to be an old bill."
Under those circumstances, he said, the old bill would be the effective one.

There will be a shoot out, an annual show, at 4 p.m. the 4th and again at 10 a.m. the 5th.

Other events include a pony express ride at 10 a.m., a mile long parade at 2 p.m. and a little league baseball game at 5 p.m., all the first day. The rodeo will be at 7 p.m. the 4th and a fireworks display will be featured.
On Saturday, the 5th, the Wood River Jaycees will start the day with a pancake breakfast and there will be street sports at 11 a.m.

The rodeo and queen contest is set for 2 p.m. and the annual barbeque will start at 4:30 p.m.
The barbeque is sponsored by the Wood River Journal and the Peto Cennarius and Associates. It is free for all who wear "Days of the Old West" buttons. The buttons are being sold by members of Hailey Bethel No. 30, Job's Daughters, and by members of the celebration committee of Hailey.
The P and P Company of Darlington will produce the rodeo.

President came Thursday night at a Democratic congressional fund raising dinner, in the form of a letter to his former colleagues.
"A united Democratic party has moved mountains—in our time. It can again."
"The scars of our divisions are still there, but towering high above them are the monuments to hope and human progress, we have built together."
"Looking ahead has always come more naturally to Democrats than looking back. And tonight there is much more for Democrats to look ahead to. There are all those proud gains we labored so hard to achieve, which must now be preserved and protected."
"And there is the work left unfinished—the children still without health care and men still without jobs. There are cities to be built and rivers to be saved. There is peace to be won and freedom to be secured in Southeast Asia and the Middle East."

Johnson's letter was greeted with warm applause when it was read to the dinner audience by Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii. It was Johnson's first public statement since leaving office. Johnson originally came to Washington 37 years ago and said:
"Those of us who were young and concerned know the change was coming and that it would bring better days for the nation. We can look back now with satisfaction in the nearly four decades of action we got."
"Democratic administrations and Democratic Congresses extended the horizon of America, and lives did become better for all our people."

The dinner, at which a reported $750,000 was raised for party purposes, was given in a speech by Senate Leader Mike Mansfield.
The flag ceremony was conducted by boys from each den and the opening prayer was given by Thomas Mitchell.
The highlight of the evening was the annual polo race. The racers were made by the a c o u t s and their fathers. Awards were given for first, second, and third place on consecutive days. The first, second and third place for speed.

The track was borrowed from the Jerome Fire Department. Ricky Shook won a gold cup for first place in consistency with Jimmy Hoffman taking second place and John Perfect taking third.
Mark Lewis received a gold cup for first place in speed and Don Van Leshout took second with Terry Keate coming in third.
Thomas Mitchell was awarded the engineering, traveler, and forestry badges for his work in the ranks of Bethel and Jimmy Hoffman received his assistant donor badge and Mark Lewis received a gold arrow for their work in the Cubs.
Refreshments were served and Jimmy Hoffman gave the closing prayer.

History Buffs Re-Enact Arrival Of John Wesley Powell At Utah Site

VERNAL, Utah (UPI) — The arrival of Maj. John Wesley Powell and his crew at Split Mountain Gorge on the Green River, 15 miles east of here, was re-enacted 100 years later in a dramatic ceremony Tuesday afternoon to the delight of 600 history buffs and dignitaries.
Among observers of the Powell Centennial were Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah; Utah Gov. Calvin L. Rampton, Arizona's Gov. Jack Williams and Boyd L. Rasmussen, director of the Bureau of Land Management.
Williams said Powell's legacy to the American people was his indomitable spirit. Powell proved that "the individual still counts for something in this world," Williams said.
"Powell finally filled in the map for us," said Sen. Moss. He referred to the fact Powell mapped and charted the first unknown area of the United States, 1,600 miles of the Green and Colorado Rivers.
Rampton dedicated Utah's portion of the Powell Memorial Highway, a connecting series of roads beginning at Green River, Wyo., and running through Utah's Canyon Country into Page, Ariz.

The centennial boats were bedecked with state flags from Utah and Wyoming, as well as pennants of numerous federal agencies and other organizations.
It was Powell's determination and unquenchable mind 100 years ago that helped spawn America's heritage of exploration and scientific approach to the unknown.
The 35-year-old Civil War veteran, who lost an arm at the battle of Shiloh, led nine men down the twisting, rapids-filled and uncharted rivers. They left Green River, Wyo., on May 24, 1859, and 98 days later emerged near what is now Lake Mead, Nev.
Just six men completed that first trip. One abandoned the party within a month near Split Mountain. Three others had enough after the fearsome ride through the roaring Grand Canyon and quit a few days short of the journey's end. They died at the hands of Indians somewhere on the rims of the wild Grand Canyon country.

Powell, who newspapers had reported perished on the scientific venture, won national fame for his accomplishment.
AGED WOMAN DIES
CORRIGAN, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Laurel Williams, who had a mother who lived to a 105 and a sister who died at 104, will be buried here Saturday. She died Wednesday of pneumonia. Mrs. Williams, who was born on a cotton plantation before the Civil War, would have celebrated her 110th birthday in October.
DEAD BRUSH
RICHFIELD — Moving cattle Wednesday, the Mark Jaynes' noticed considerable dead sagebrush in the desert pasture east of their northeast Richfield ranch. The sage had died after rabbits ate the bark off the part of the brush sticking out of the snow last winter.

Man To Speak At Fisheries Convention

WENDELL — Robert Quidor, Niagara Springs Hatchery, left Wednesday afternoon for Jackson Hole, Wyo., where the Western Division of the American Fisheries Society is meeting Friday and Saturday. Mr. Quidor as a guest speaker will speak about the steelhead.
He stated the hatchery hatched over 3 million eggs. The little fish are now one-half to three inches in length. The salmon run has started on the Palisier River and the Fish and Game Department will trap the salmon and hold them until they spawn later in the year, thus insuring next year's hatch at the hatchery.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Rehwalt, Eden, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacqueline Ann, to William Carl Smith, son of Mrs. William Volau, Antioch, Calif., and E. E. (Bud) Smith, Twin Falls.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Trapped" that she is not alone. After 18 years of marriage, my husband had his fill. The next six months were tortore. The only good part of it was I lost 25 pounds, which gave me back the figure I had when we were married.

I didn't run to a lawyer. I went to a doctor for my nerves, and he had a long talk. I found out that part of the fault was mine. In raising our children, I was so busy being a good mother, I had forgotten how to be a good wife. I also let the children get me down, yelled at me, and I was irritable and a lump much of the time.

I made up my mind to change. I learned to make up my face like a movie star, got a new hair style, and bought some sharp clothes. I really concentrated on pleasing my husband, and I made a plan for him all over again. It worked!

We will be married 22 years next month, and I thank God for the other woman. She opened my eyes.

DEAR ABBY: The lady signed "TRAPPED," who discovered that her husband had been unfaithful for 25 years, could have been written by my mother, only she and Dad have been married only 19 years.

About three months ago she caught Daddy in a situation like that. She says there will be no divorce because of our religion, but she has locked him out of their bedroom, and now Daddy sleeps with my little brother.

Dad has begged Mom to give him another chance, but she won't. I am the eldest (18) but I am mature enough to know that any woman who is "TRAPPED" because she can't forgive, has trapped herself!

DEAR ABBY: Can you offer some advice as to whether or not it would be loss of a strain on the family to have a simple graveside burial instead of the regular funeral service under certain circumstances?

I think it would be in very bad taste for me, who has disagreed as to whether or not I have a regular funeral service. I have been told that it has about a year to live. No more, and less, so I must make a decision.

I have no friends or family who would want to be my pallbearers, and I would be ashamed to ask them. Thank you, for any help you can give me.

NO NAME, OR TOWN, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Talk this over with your clergyman. He will guide you. If you have no clergyman, seek advice from the clergyman closest to your family.

DEAR ABBY: I am still laughing about something that happened this morning. The character who gave us the laugh sounds like someone who would write to you.

I am a switchboard operator for the Telephone Company. This morning there was no response on the other end of the line. After I had said, "Hello, this is the Telephone Company," I heard a somewhat embarrassed little female voice ask, "Is this REALLY the Telephone Company?"

I assured her that it was, and asked her to whom she wanted to speak.

She replied, "Nobody, I guess. I just found this number in my husband's coat pocket."

Ronald Bell, Richfield, is again riding for the Gooding Cattlemen's Association. The 2,700 head of cattle will soon be started up to the Big Snake drainage and Soldier mountain area. Donald (Cotton) Riley is the rider for the Camas County Cattlemen's Association again this year.

Mark Jaynes, East Richfield rancher, chased off a coyote he found straying too close to a group of young calves. The Jaynes ranch is about some eight desert rock coyote dens.

The fence repair work on the W. W. Knox Dry Ranch, King Hill, has been completed.

Mrs. Charles Farish, King Hill, reports about 40 acres of corn in Pasadena Valley have been cultivated and sprayed.

The Phelan brothers from Jerome have finished stacking about 150 tons of hay on the Allen Daniels ranch, south of King Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wallon have moved from their farm northwest of Fairfield to a new home that they had built in Gooding. Their son-in-law and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Shaffer, have moved into the farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Olani Beal and family, Arco, have moved into the ranch house on the Dean Shaffer farm north of Fairfield. Mr. Beal is the new vocational agricultural teacher for Camas County schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Shaffer and family have moved back to Fairfield from their winter quarters at Tuttle. Mrs. Shaffer is a member of the Bliss high school faculty and they also feed their cattle during the winter at Tuttle.

Rain is hampering haying operations on Camas Prairie. A few farmers had started cutting hay before being stopped by rain. Recent rains were a help in the grain crops.

Jon Barron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Barron, Fairfield, had the misfortune to have both bones broken in his arm when he accidentally fell off a dump truck while attempting to dislodge some lumber that had stuck on the track.

Cattle have been turned into the forest reserve north of Fairfield. The last roundup of strays will be done this weekend on the Macon Flat range where the cattle are turned in the early spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tate, Gooding, have moved to the late Glenn Miller farm at Corral which is owned by Mrs. Abe Loewen of Gooding.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Franco, Gooding, are spending some time at their farm near Corral and are plowing out some fields.

Stan Wright, Pocatello, assisted his father, Raynard Wright, Tuttle, to finish stacking the first crop of hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wolfe, Tuttle, have purchased 26 head of small calves.

Idaho Economist Says People Eating More Meat

BOISE — People are eating more red meat and the trend is expected to continue, an economist of the University of Idaho extension service said today in the July issue of "Economic Facts for Idaho Agriculture."

Quentin Banks said consumer demand has been unusually strong in 1946. The average was about 10 pounds per capita during the first three months. That is an increase from the same period a year ago.

January-March consumption of pork was up about three per cent. Beef consumption was slightly larger. There was smaller consumption of lamb and veal.

MEXICAN BEAN BEETLE is Idaho's worst insect enemy of beans. This photo shows the eggs, larvae and the beetle which destroys the leaves of bean plants. The beetle already has been found in this area within the city limits of Rupert—and all bean growers and home gardeners are warned to keep an eye out for them.

Mexican Bean Beetles Found In Five Rupert Area Gardens

The Mexican bean beetle, Idaho's worst insect enemy of beans, has been found in the Rupert area.

Clyde Butcher, Twin Falls, state plant pathologist, said the beetle was found in five home gardens inside the city limits of Rupert. He added that in the third year the beetle has been found in this area, all within the Rupert city limits.

Mr. Butcher said the beetle, a copper-colored, hard-shelled beetle with 16 black spots on its back, destroys the green leaves of bean plants. The beetles found in Rupert were adults, the pathologist said.

All bean growers and home gardeners are warned to be alert for these beetles. They are three characteristic of the beetles.

They feed on the underside of bean leaves. The adults have 16 black spots and the larvae are a lemon color.

In feeding, the lower surface of the leaves are scraped up and compressed by the beetles and larvae as the juices are swallowed. The solid material is left on the leaf in small chips.

Leaves that are skeletonized dry up and drop or blow from the plant while the efficiency of other leaves is reduced.

Feeding is mainly on leaves, but the young pods and even

State Agriculture Group Backs Extension Service

By PAUL M. QUINN
 BOISE (UPI)—The executive committee of the State Agriculture Council today said it should not be taken lightly when the service is discontinued and while the legislature is in session.
 "The legislature's study committee was impressed by the fact that the extension service is the only service derived by the extension service and determine whether or not the effort between the federal-state and county governments should be reorganized, but the same or dropped completely."
 The committee is headed by Rep. Jack Claiborn, D., Twin Falls.
 There has been a lot of criticism but the extension service has not been all bad. Harold West, representing the Wheat Growers Commission, said he doesn't believe the service would be as good as it is if it didn't have the service.
 He told the legislature, "We have to remember that agriculture is the backbone of the state industry. The bread and butter of Idaho comes from the small farmer. Without the small farmer, the state would be a wasteland and it is important that the small farmer be kept down on the farm."
 West admitted that there appeared to be a "lack of coordination" between the state and county on the extension program.
 Don Rickard, representing the milk industry, said the dairy men were for continuing the extension service.
 Bill Bergeson of the potato industry said, "We actually should be moving more rapidly—we should jump 10 years ahead, and then figure out where we are."
 The extension service is being under fire for the past two legislative sessions and an attempt was made during the session to "improve it." He said, generally speaking, there have been good cooperations between the legislature and the state agriculture group.

Some 25 to 30 carcasses will be evaluated on July 16 at independent meat Co. as part of the Beef Evaluation Program, sponsored by the Magic Valley Cattlemen's Association.

Senate Kills Controversial Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate subcommittee knocked out a controversial section of a farm bill today, leaving the House with a bill to limit subsidy payments to $20,000 per farm.
 Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D., Fla., chairman of the subcommittee, told UPI the provision included in the House-passed version of the big farm money bill "was killed" in closed session.
 "We eliminated it," he said. The bill carries more than $6 billion to run the Agriculture Department and the nation's farm programs through the new fiscal year starting July 1.
 The most controversial section was the $20,000 limitation.
 The administration opposed the limitation, contending it would wreck the cotton support program and cost the country more in the long run than it would save.
 "The House approved the limitation for the second year in a row last year," Sen. Holland said. "The Senate blocked the same move."
 Demands for a limitation were generated by the fact that big corporate farmers receive subsidies sometimes in excess of $1 million for a crop-planting crop.

Evaluation Day Set For Steers On Test

Some 25 to 30 carcasses will be evaluated on July 16 at independent Meat Co. as part of the Beef Evaluation Program, sponsored by the Magic Valley Cattlemen's Association.
 Sixty-four head of steers are on the test and some of them will be slaughtered on July 14, Roland Patrick, Three Creek president of the association, said an estimated 25-30 steers will be ready for slaughter at that time.
 The event on July 16 begins at 4 p.m. when the carcasses of the steers killed will be evaluated and explained to the producers. All cattlemen and breeders are urged to attend this evaluation.
 At 6 p.m. a picnic has been set at Olmstead's Cattle Co. area, where the steers are on test.
 The 64 steers, currently on test at Olmstead's, have been averaging 2.2 pounds per day gain. The 120-day weighing of the steers will be held at 9 a.m. July 7. Cattlemen and owners are urged to attend this weighing and help select those steers ready for slaughter.

BLM, Cattle Group Sign Agreement

SHOSHONE — The Board of Directors for the Notch Butte Cattle Association have signed into effect an allotment management plan with the Bureau of Land Management.
 At 6 p.m. a picnic has been set at Olmstead's Cattle Co. area, where the steers are on test.
 Lowell Anderson, John Conway, Denver Kinyon, Floyd Kling, John Miller, Herbert McCowan, Earl Hutchison and Shoshone Land and Cattle Company.
 The new grazing system consists of a rotation of pastures to allow for maximum forage production; then maximum harvest of forage by livestock. This system will increase overall calf production, produce more pounds of beef, and increase the carrying capacity of the allotment.
 "Also it is designed to change the type of vegetation to a more palatable perennial grass type. This allotment management plan is very flexible. Turnout dates, gathering dates, and proper stocking are decided by the Board of Directors and the Bennett Hills Area Manager.
 This allotment management plan was developed through the livestockmen's efforts in cooperation with the Bureau of Land Management.
 The Notch Butte Cattle Allotment should show improved results with the beginning of the operation of this plan. This will repay the users for their hard work and money, and cooperation put into this allotment."

University Buys Interest In Angus Bull

LEADORE — A third interest in an Angus bull, owned by Bob Adams, Leadore, has been purchased by the University of Idaho.
 Dr. T. Donald Bell, head of the animal science department at the university, said the university is interested in the bull because of its lean meat-producing ability. Tests were conducted earlier this year with a sonography device to determine the size of the bull's loin eye muscle.
 Because of a large loin eye with less fat, the bull will be used by the university in its breeding program to produce improved beef animals.
 Dr. Leon Orme, meat specialist, tested the loin eye size of the animal during a visit to the county this spring.

Safety Important With Chemicals

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—Agricultural chemicals must be handled with constant attention to safety, reminded Roland W. Portman, entomologist with the University of Idaho Agricultural Extension Service.
 "That means safe use, safe storage, and safe disposal of empty containers," Portman said.
 "Thousands of Idaho farmers safely use chemicals every year to control insects, weeds and diseases in their crops," Portman continued. "Still, the few instances of misuse are costly demonstrations of what careless handling of these chemicals can mean."
 The Notch Butte Cattle Allotment should show improved results with the beginning of the operation of this plan. This will repay the users for their hard work and money, and cooperation put into this allotment."

Meat Cuts Are Explained At Declo 4-H Meet

DECLO — Jay Hill, leader of the Declo Junior Farmers 4-H club, explained the different cuts of a dressed hog at a meeting held at his home.
 A discussion on parliamentary procedure was led by Terrell Kild and Randy Kild. Dan Kild gave a demonstration on farm safety.
 The 4-H club camp will be held from July 13 to 16 and members were urged to attend and have their money in prior to July 1.
 Refreshments were served by Sylvia Sawyer.

Demonstrations Highlight 4-H Meet At Milner

MILNER — Carl Seymour gave a demonstration on the fitting of a horse at a recent meeting of the Belter Feeders and Horsemen Club.
 Raymond Sargent gave an illustrated talk on the care of pigs and Paul Warr a demonstration fitting, training and care of a sheep for show.
 Paul Warr gave a talk on his recent trip to Moscow to attend the annual 4-H Club Congress.
 Riley George led the pledge of allegiance and Stephen Brill led the 4-H pledge. A farm Warr leader discussed each of the boys' demonstrations and showed members how to trim a horse tail and hooves for the fair and how to block out lambs for fitting and showing.

Tuttle Grange Hosts Area Pomona Meet

TUTTLE Grange recently hosted a meeting of the Gooding County Pomona Meet at the Tuttle Grange Hall.

Omar Schmitt, Agriculture Committee, said he thought from reading about the administration policies for the farm program that they were considering the consumer more than farmers and their problems as before.

A later date for the fair, more protection for produce in booths and better parking privileges for those bringing produce for competition were some of the suggestions made for having more booths and a better display.

The Pomona voted to continue their annual picnic this year with the District Grange Picnic to be held on Sunday, July 20, at the Gooding West Park at 1 P.M.

All Slow-Moving Vehicles Must Display Safety Emblem

Farmers, every time you take a farm implement or tractor out on the highway or public road, it must have a slow moving vehicle emblem on it. As of May 1, all slow moving vehicles in Idaho that travel on public roads at less than 25 miles per hour, must have this emblem on the rear part so motorists behind them will know it is a slow moving vehicle. Any person operating a farm vehicle that is classified as a slow moving vehicle is subject to a citation if the emblem is not displayed.

It should be entirely visible day and night to vehicles approaching from the rear. The emblem should be maintained in a clean and defective condition. Any farmer needing additional information concerning the slow moving vehicle emblem should contact the Idaho State Police.

4 Honored By Area Grange
KING HILL — Frank Jones, Rodney Ruberry, Ben Ellis and James Bulgiano were honored on their birthday anniversaries at the Grange meeting recently, following the potluck dinner. After a discussion, plans were made for an ice cream social on Friday, July 18th. Arthur Greer, chairman of the legislative committee, reported on a meeting of the committee, and the current resolutions to be introduced at the Grange State Convention in Twin Falls. One relative to increasing grazing fees on public land was tabled, as was one about the new P.A.T. on some. One about labeling dairy products, was adopted, as was one resolution on elected officials voting a raise in pay for themselves. One to restrict motorcycles and trail riders to certain areas (so they would be prohibited from riding through grazing cattle, or over farm land) was not discussed as was one protesting any further raise in first class postage. The group held a discussion about the Supreme Court ruling that any resident could vote on a bond election, regardless of whether he was a taxpayer or not. The new divorce law by the Adam Clayton Powell problem. Mrs. Joel Lector was in charge of the program. Nevada Farm Research Said Important To Arid Countries

RENO — "Agricultural research and development in Nevada is of importance to arid countries in other parts of the world," said Dr. Dale W. Bohmont, dean and director of the College of Agriculture, University of Nevada in Reno.

can be found. But there is little or no land left aside for pasture or equally for grazing purposes. Animals move from lower country in winter to higher elevations in the summer but this is controlled by weather and not based on any management regimen or system, the Dean said. "Another area where agricultural research in Nevada is of importance to arid countries is in the development of forage and other plant species particularly adaptable to such environments," he said. The Moapa variety of alfalfa developed in Nevada through cooperation of the United States Department of Agriculture and the University is well adapted to the southwestern part of Iran as a forage variety, Dean Bohmont said. Conditions there are similar in many ways to our Moapa Valley.

Dean Bohmont returned to the University last week following a 10-month leave of absence in which he served as a senior consultant for the Development and Resources Corporation of New York City.

During the leave, the Dean traveled around the world twice, visited 14 foreign countries, and conducted studies during extended stays in Australia, Turkey and Iran. The studies dealt with agricultural and resource development possibilities in these countries.

"One area in which work in Nevada has implication to foreign countries with like climatic and other conditions is in grazing management," the Dean said. He pointed out that the University will hold its annual Knoll Creek Field Laboratory Field Day on June 18 and that emphasis during the day will be on range improvement and grazing management.

"We're working at solving problems at Knoll Creek and the State as concerns livestock grazing that are similar in many ways to problems encountered in arid lands throughout the world," Dean Bohmont explained. He went on to say that during his travels, particularly in mid-east countries, that he observed many areas where no grazing management whatever was practiced. Such areas are almost completely denuded, he said.

"Research data and information compiled in the United States and from such states as Nevada is being used and is of importance to these lands," Dean Bohmont continued, "and this, in a sense, is completing the full circle. Americans brought their first concepts of agricultural and land management with them when they came from Europe and other foreign countries and are now exporting knowledge and research results on land management back to

Today's Market And Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market was in moderate activity trading as the session swung into its final hour Friday.

Around 1 p.m. the UPI stock market indicator had a rise of 0.13 per cent with 1,472 issues traded. Of these, advances outnumbered declines, 672 to 518.

The market apparently drew its lift from the upsurge late Thursday. The background news was sparse and a long persisting item—the lack of progress in the Vietnam talks at Paris—seemingly had longed by traders and investors.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Although it would be surprising if some sort of a rally does not develop within the next week or so, says Wright Advisory Reports.

The rally early this week was still a satisfactory showing even if the price advance was a dividend.

After the sharp and lengthy decline in the market recently, there is a natural reaction among traders to be suspicious of any rallies.

BRIDGE

SOUTH HAS GOT BAD FALSECARD

A Howard Dietz couplet on bridge reads, "Why do you falsecard, Rusinoff? Why play the six, ain't the deuce enuff?"

Howard's couplet rather maligned the late Sidney Rusinow, inventor of the Rusinow leads and one of the great players of the 30s, because Sidney like most great players, only falsecard when it was important that he do so. Thus, he would never have been guilty of the outrageous falsecard perpetrated by today's South.

West opened the king of hearts. His partner made the correct play of the seven-spot and South falsecard with the Jack. West continued with the queen of hearts and led a small heart at trick three. East knew what was expected of him. He ruffed with the eight of trumps. This play effectively brought South's trump holding. He had to overruff with the jack, whereupon West was sure of two trump tricks.

Wasn't this defense automatic? What else would a good player do with the West hand? The game was table of four and at the other table South dropped the five of hearts at trick one. Now West went into a long huddle and worked out another line of defense. He shifted to his singleton diamond. South won in dummy and led a trump. West took his ace and led a low heart. His idea was to put his partner in with the correct play of the seven-spot Jack and get to ruff a diamond. A little far-fetched and very unsuccessful, because South ran out of the rest of the tricks. A line of defense that would never have been tried against a falsecard of the Jack at trick one.

Coody, Moody And McGee, Hardly The 'Big Three,' Lead Cleveland Tourney

AURORA, Ohio (UPI)—Orville Moody, who has been in the U.S. Open for two weeks ago, a relatively obscure journeyman pro named Charles Coody and an unknown named Jerry McGee shared the first round lead in the Cleveland Open with 67s Thursday.

Moody, a 31-year-old veteran of the U.S. Open, has been playing a consistent round after bidding the first two holes with 25 and 14 foot putts. Coody has not won a major tournament in five years, but placed second last week at the Kemper Open.

Among 17 pros bunched at 69 were Charlie Sifford, Gardner Dickinson and the Cleveland Open here two years ago and Bruce Crampton, the Australian playing out of Grand Bahamas Island.

Dodgers Tip Braves, Take League Lead

ATLANTA (UPI)—Willie Davis drove in two runs with a homer and a fielder's choice and Bill Singer and Lew Burdette combined for a 4-hitter Thursday night to lead Los Angeles to a 3-0 victory over Atlanta and lift the Dodgers past the Braves into first place in the National League's Western Division.

McGee, 25, who plays out of Leesburg, Pa., in the anthracite coal country, and is a three-year follower of the pro tour, had not qualified for a tournament in six weeks. But Thursday he had "five birdies, none of which required a long putt," he said.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

PREVENTING SEEDS ON TREES: If homeowners had one wish it would be: keep my maples and other trees from forming seeds. Is there a practical way to prevent a maple from forming seeds, or a pear or apple from forming fruit?

Commercial growers can prevent trees from setting fruit by chemical sprays, but as far as home gardeners are concerned very little research has been done to help them grow ornamental trees for a decade and beauty instead of fruit and seed. There are hormones and non-hormone sprays which are being used in orchards to prevent fruiting and we've used them with varying success on ornamentals to prevent fruiting. Hormone sprays are generally applied at blooming time or shortly after blooming to kill the flowers, or the fruit-producing capabilities of the tree.

I haven't been able to find anyone who has been successful in a way for home gardeners to prevent fruiting or seeding, and hope that someone will use the hormone sprays that commercial growers use (they usually contain naphthaleneacetic acid, and one is used for "bloom" thinning, while another is used for "fruit" thinning. If you have had any experience using the fruit thinning sprays, please write and tell me about it.

Incidentally, if you like flowering crabapples, but don't like the fruit, plant the Bechtel Crab, a large double, pink flowering type that blooms year after year and is fruitless. Bechtel is a natural sport, producing flowers that are double, hence no fruit. Meanwhile, I hope we can concentrate research on thinning fruits and seeds on ornamental plants.

THE HIBISCUS STORY:

There's a lot of confusion about hibiscus, so I'll try to straighten it out.

(1) First, there's the hardy rose mallow (Hibiscus moscheutos), with white cream or reddish flowers. This item dies down to ground in winter, and in spring you cut the old canes back, so all new growth comes up again.

You can start new plants from seeds sown in pot of sand and peat. Takes three years for plants to bloom. Non-flowering is due to lack of manganese, heavy shade or too much nitrogen. Hibiscus will tolerate dry soil, sun or partial shade.

(2) Chinese hibiscus, also called rosa-china or "flower-of-a-day" (Hibiscus rosa-sinensis), has hollyhocklike blossoms, single or double, and in shades of yellow, salmon, pink or red. Flowers last for a day. Shakes (3) Hibiscus syriacus (Rose of Sharon) is the popular one that flowers in fall. This item is not altogether hardy and parts of it freezes back in winter. Rose-of-Sharon has a habit of dropping back its buds and flowers due to overproduction, varietal characteristic, lack of phosphorus or potash, too much or too little soil moisture, attacks by thrips or aphids.

You can start new cuttings in boxes of sand and peat moss. The only pruning needed is in spring when you can cut out wood which has winterkilled.

HOW TO GET RID OF SCALE PESTS: Few insects are tougher than the scale insect, tough because this pest has a built in suit of armor which repels most pesticides.

However, one researcher has come up with an idea which banishes this pest, and one almost as tough — the methylbug. He writes: "My two dwarf lemon trees (ponderosa lemon) were for two years infested with scale. I did everything to get rid of it, but in vain. Then I tried your tip about using a Yaponia insect strip to control 'insects' in small greenhouses. I weighed the plants in soapy water, put a plastic bag over each stem, then placed the insect strip inside the bag, placed a rubber band around the pot (to keep the fumes in), and left the bag enclosed for three days. After that I took it off and sprayed the plants. After many weeks, I find there is no trace of scale or other pests."

NEW USE FOR GARBAGE: Prof. Kon Sanderson of the Floriculture staff at Auburn University, has been working on garbage — as a soil amendment for growing horticulture crops. Here's what he writes: "We are working with another pest mors substitute — processed garbage. While the results of our initial experiments are not encouraging, the material has a high pH (8), high soluble salts and low nitrogen content. We have grown several crops of mums in soil mixtures containing processed garbage and have produced foliage damage (leaf scorch)."

"We have work under way on lilacs, snapdragons, geraniums and a number of woody plants. The material is being marketed in the Mobile area, and we will send you more information when it is available." Green Thumb notes. This is the step in the right direction. There'll be problems as well as anything new, but I'm sure they can be worked out.

THIS WEEK'S PERENNIALS:

Hardy Bachelor's Button, or Cornflower (centaurea) are easily grown, plants are hardy and will make fine cut flowers. There's also an annual Bachelor's button, C. cyanus, excellent for cutting and an ideal button-hole flower. Both annual and perennial bachelor buttons tend to flop-over as they become big scraggly. Both self-sow. Start new seeds in spring, or you can divide plants in early fall, or spring for rejuvenation.

New Manager Of Ore-Ida Farms Listed

BURLEY — John P. Stanley has been appointed general manager of agricultural operations at Ore-Ida Foods, Inc.

He will supervise the company's 10,000 acre Skyline Farms, along with all other company farming operations at Burley and Greenville, Mich., plus fresh-pack sales at all company locations. He is located at Ontario.

Mr. Stanley came to Ore-Ida from the agriculture investment and management services of Dinuba, Calif., of which he is founder and president. His firm specializes in the areas of agricultural investment and management consulting. He was instrumental in developing a double-entry cost accounting system which is the most advanced measurement and control system now available to agriculture management.

Mr. Stanley has been actively engaged in farm bureau organizations, agricultural group and farm consulting all of his life. He has traveled widely on agricultural assignments and studies, visiting countries in Europe and the Mediterranean area, plus Iran, Australia, Ethiopia, Lebanon and Iraq, besides many states in this country.

He is an inventor, and prolific author of books, reports, papers and guides on farming. Several titles are: "Handbook for Farm Management," "Development and Production Cost Data for Bruner (Idaho) Desert," and "Pioneering in World Agriculture."

John Stanley was born in Parker, Calif. He received a Bachelor's Science Degree at the University of California at Davis, and has taken additional graduate studies in Agriculture at the University of California at Davis and California Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Mr. Stanley is married and has two sons. He enjoys horsemanship, fishing, and golf.

At Skyline, Mr. Stanley intends to "Maximize the use of farm resources into a production mix for the output commodities compatible with Ore-Ida's processing and marketing requirements, and at competitive costs. Stability of raw product costs, generating reasonable returns on investment will be a major contribution to the potato industry. Our human, land, and capital resources are so valuable to the nation to do otherwise."

4-H Club Meets

Vietnam Acc To Speak At Base Tonight

MOUNTAIN HOME—A famed Vietnam air ace, Brig. Gen. Robin Olds, will be the featured guest at a banquet tonight at Mountain Home Air Force Base. The general is commandant of cadets at the Air Force Academy. He is a graduate of West Point and is married to film star Elizabeth Taylor. During World War II he shot down more than 20 German planes and flew 107 combat missions. In Vietnam he commanded the Eighth Tactical Fighter Wing and flew 105 combat missions over North Vietnam. Turkey Prices To Increase; Eggs To Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find good supplies of meat and poultry and some choices in fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets this last weekend in June.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue to be the most abundant meats. Good supplies of beef are roasts, steaks, and ground. Pork items in best supply include bacon, roasts, and smoked hams. Some areas may feature chops, fresh and smoked hams, and spare-ribs.

Best buys in fish include fish sticks and portions, Maine sardines, and fish fillets, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Fresh vegetables in best supply are cabbage, corn, lettuce of all kinds, onions and potatoes. Cantaloupes and watermelons should be abundant in all areas.

USDA's official plentiful foods list for this weekend includes milk and dairy products, canned and frozen sweet corn, canned tomatoes and tomato products, turkeys, and rice.

Youth Faces Trial For Manslaughter

JEROME — Dennis Larsen, 19, Burley, was bound over on a felony charge of involuntary manslaughter by a district court order dated June 24. S. A. Kolman, Jerome county prosecuting attorney, will represent the state in the case and Dean Klopfer, Burley, will represent the defendant.

The charge arises from an automobile accident, April 25, 1969, in Jerome county which claimed the life of Darrell M. Lewis. The date for the trial has not been set.

Horse Workshop Held For Kids Without Horses

BURLEY — A workshop for area children interested in riding and handling horses was held at Cassin County Fairgrounds, jointly sponsored by the Cavalier Riding Club and the City of Burley Recreation Dept.

The "Fun with Horses" workshop was held for children who do not have the privilege of riding or owning a horse. The children were taught correct ways to get on a horse, get off a horse, and ways to ride and handle horses.

Furling horses for the workshop were members of the Cavalier Riding Club including Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Papp, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hayden, Melva Morley, and Dale Doman. The city recreation director also furnished a horse.

This year 25 boys and girls attended the workshop. This is the fourth year the event has been jointly sponsored by the Cavalier Riding Club and the City Recreation Dept.

The Cavalier Riding Club is a family club—children as well as adults take part in the riding activities. The club practices each Friday in the arena at Cassin County Fairgrounds.

In May, Blaine County had $17,147 in sales; Carmon County, $3,747; Cassin County, $6,720; Gooding County, $3,112; Jerome County, $4,886; Lincoln County, $1,272; Minidoka County, $3,160; and Twin Falls County, $21,201.

OFFICERS CHANGE — KING HILL — Denman Byram, an officer at the Port of Entry here, has been transferred to Coeur d'Alene. New officers at the Port are R. D. Holloway, formerly of Boise, and Jerry Lyona, formerly of Idaho Falls. Officer William D. Walker, who is being transferred to Kellogg, is being replaced by Donald Hibbert, Rupert.

Development Plan Accepted At Hearing

WEWENDELL — The Gooding County Planning Commission held a public hearing on the proposed development plan for Gooding County at a recent meeting in the Wendell American Legion Hall.

At the meeting all data gathered was reviewed and accepted by the public. The plan will be carried out as was proposed by the committee.

City de Peterson, chairman, stated this is a continuous program based on existing situations and setting forth opportunities and problems.

Members of the permanent planning commission will execute the plan. Commission members are Robert Stewart, Don Sims and Everett Daubner, Gooding; Clyde Peterson, Harold Brown and Carl Geisler, Wendell; Merle Owsley and Ralph Miller, Hagerman, and Harold Butler, Bliss.

Mr. Peterson reported that three of the member's terms have expired and it will be filling by appointment by the Gooding (thanks should be given to Allen Committee (RAD) because they County Commissioners. Johnson, Wendell, and members greatly assisted in gathering information for the plan.
