

TWO AMARILLO, TEX., truck drivers remained hospitalized in Twin Falls Thursday following the crash of their tractor-trailer unit Wednesday afternoon near Bliss. James Everett, 45, is in fair condition, and his wife, Betty, 38, is in poor condition. The accident was the second Wednesday in Magic Valley involving large trucks and damage in both accidents was extensive. About 2 a.m. Wednesday a truck loaded with Navy undersea mines, parked west of the Twin Falls interchange on Interstate 80N. Neither of the truckers in that accident was seriously injured.

Japanese Youth Attacks Envoy

TOKYO (UPI)—A Japanese youth with anti-American sentiments in his pocket tried to attack Secretary of State William P. Rogers with a sharpened point scraper today but set upon U.S. Ambassador Armin H. Meyer instead. Police said the youth, a college student, apparently mistook Meyer for Rogers, never having seen either of the American diplomats. The two men are similar in appearance. Disguised as a newsman, the assailant knocked Meyer, 55, to the ground in his charge up the gangway during send-off ceremonies for Rogers at Tokyo International Airport. The ambassador was not hurt. U.S. Secret Service men and Japanese security guards seized the youth and whisked him away to jail. Police officials said he was carrying notes in his pockets denouncing the presence of U.S. poison gas on Okinawa and calling for the "reversion" of Okinawa to Japan. One of the notes demanded that Japan not renew its security treaty with the United States when it expires in 1970. Rogers' bodyguards hustled the secretary of state aboard his plane and it departed for Seoul at 2:08 p.m. Shaken but smiling, Meyer went home, telling newsmen he had not been hurt. The assailant was identified by police as Shioji Hamaoka, a college student.

Pope Vows Church Aid To Africa

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI)—Pope Paul VI arrived today in Uganda, the first pontiff to set foot on African soil, and pledged the Roman Catholic Church will join in Africa's fight against misery, backwardness and injustice. The 71-year-old pontiff touched down in a VC10 jetliner at Entebbe Airport, on the shores of Lake Victoria, after a 3,145-mile flight from Rome. The Pope came on a historic three-day mission to try to find a solution to the Nigerian civil war and to participate in religious ceremonies that included dedicating a memorial to 22 Uganda martyrs. Uganda's President Milton Obote and five visiting African heads of state welcomed the Pope as he stepped from his silver jetliner whose fuselage carried the pontifical seal. "At this blessed moment, for the first time in history, the successor of Peter as vicar of Christ sets foot upon the soil of Africa," the Pope said in his arrival speech. He read a message in English before a television audience that included millions of viewers in Europe and the United States receiving history's first satellite telecast from Africa. "Our prayers today rise to God that Africa may flower forth with all the riches of its culture and noble traditions, advancing with even longer strides upon the road of progress," the Pope said. He closed his 300-word address with the cry: "God save Uganda! God bless Africa!" Thousands of pilgrims crowded the 21-mile route from the airport to Kampala. They greeted the Pope with jungle chants to the accompaniment of tom toms, with shouts in many different native languages and with high-pitched undulations, a traditional form of African welcome. At Naramungo, about seven miles from Kampala, some 3,000 pilgrims set up a tent city near the site of the shrine the Pope will consecrate Saturday. A group of 22 barefoot men arrived there Wednesday after a 200-mile walk from the bush village of Gulu.

Man And Wife Are Hurt In Truck Crash

BLISS—A man and his wife, a truck driving team, were hurt in fair and poor condition in Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Thursday after their tractor-trailer combo went out of control on a curve near here and crashed. The accident occurred on Highway 30 a quarter of a mile west of Bliss at 1:35 p.m. Wednesday. Officers withheld pinpointing cause of the crash until completion of the investigation. Gooding County sheriff's officers listed the injured as James Everett, 45, Amarillo, Tex., and his wife, Betty Everett, 38. Mrs. Everett was in poor condition with fractures and lacerations, including skull fractures. Mr. Everett had concussion, cuts and bruises and was in fair condition. Deputy Sheriff LeRoy Hess, who assisted Sheriff Earl Brown in the investigation, said it had not been determined who was driving. Both names appeared on the truck log. Mice To Test Lunar Dust As Astronauts Brief Next Crew SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Armed with new reports that moon soil is different, biologists today once again attempted to begin tests to determine if lunar dust shelters germs that could endanger life on earth. The possibility is slim, said Dr. M. D. Kandau, president of the World-Health Organization, but he said studies at Apollo 11's Lunar Receiving Laboratory are of "paramount importance for medical science." Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin, the first men exposed to the dark powder of the moon's surface, passed their latest blood test Wednesday. Their doctor said they are as normal as when they began the moon landing expedition two weeks ago. "We have a tremendous fear of negative data which of course is quite gratifying to us," said Dr. Ralph W. Fisher, one of two physicians living in isolation with the moon pilots. "The astronauts' agenda today called for more reports on their epic adventure. But instead of talking to tape recorders, they were briefing Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad, Richard F. Gordon and Alan L. Bean, and the rest of the Apollo pilots. Apollo 12 is scheduled to blast off from Cape Kennedy Nov. 14 and land on the Ocean of Storms, the vast sea on the western side of the moon's earth-facing hemisphere. Armstrong and Aldrin landed on the eastern Sea of Tranquility while Collins orbited overhead.

Samuelson Says Agency Stirs Dispute

SEATTLE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho told western governors the U.S. Forest Service had "fired up" the public against a plan to mine what he said may be a billion dollar mineral deposit in the scenic White Cloud Mountains. The Republican governor said the federal agency should have quietly given a permit to the American Smelting and Refining Co. to build an access road to the molybdenum deposit without holding public hearings. Samuelson told Forest Service chief Edward Cliff, "if you had just issued the permit in the first place, there would have been no controversy." Samuelson's criticisms were voiced at the Western Governors' Conference here, where Cliff had been invited to discuss government timber policy. Cliff said opposition by conservationists and the public to the company's plan "has opened up a mine which is a difficult and controversial problem, but that his agency could not forbid construction of a road to the mineral deposit." Samuelson said there were many scenic areas in Idaho which could be preserved without "locking up" resources.

Mariner Sweeps Past Mars; Instruments Probe Planet

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Mariner 6 swept triumphantly past Mars today with its cameras and instruments taking "near-encounter" readings from a 130-mile-away, trying to learn whether the Red Planet can support life. The little unmanned spacecraft worked perfectly on a 241-minute, five-month flight that saw it make its closest approach 1:10 a.m. EDT today before it swung into orbit around the sun. For more than seven hours Wednesday night, scientists at the California Institute of Technology Jet Propulsion Laboratory lost communication with its twin spacecraft Mariner 7, and it was feared that the epic probe of the Red Planet might be blocked out. Mariner 7 was flying five days behind Mariner 6. Contact was lost at 6:03 p.m. EDT Wednesday, but at 1:20 a.m. EDT today the signal was re-established by switching to another antenna aboard the craft and it appeared Mariner 7 would make a similar sweep past Mars starting Friday night. Mariner 6 took not only close-up pictures of the equatorial area of Mars, but also had delicate instruments taking the planet's temperature and recording the gases and density of the atmosphere, the presence of oxygen, nitrogen and—most important—of whether there are any traces of water. "These clues may provide an answer to whether Mars, 58 million miles from earth at the time of encounter, has an environment in which life can exist. He also did so after Rep. Federal Official To Check Airport Improvement Plans

Final approval on plans for the airport extension project in Twin Falls is hearing, City Manager Herb Derrick said Thursday. The city manager said his concern is to get the project started as soon as possible so it can be completed during the current construction season. Depending on FAA regulations, he said, it may be necessary to limit some airport use during the major construction periods. The approval is given, a call for bids should be issued immediately. Compromise Allows Vote On Surtax Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate voted at last today on extending the 10 per cent income tax surcharge, a surprise vote born of corridor compromise, Democratic discord and presidential persistence. Extension of the tax, which expires midnight, was almost certain. It was likely, but not certain, the extension would be for the six months Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield reluctantly agreed to rather than the 12 months sought by President Nixon. Mansfield abandoned his take-it-or-leave-it offer of an extension of only five months late Wednesday and won the Senate's unanimous consent for a quick vote on a six-month extension of the $7.5 billion-a-year tax. He did it in the face of Nixon's rejection, in a telephone conversation to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, of his earlier proposal from Thailand. He also did so after Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, third-ranking Democrat in the House, subjected him to a torrent of anger. Shortly thereafter, Mansfield yielded, offered a six-month extension of the tax, and won the agreement of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen for today's vote on the compromise. Tutors Learn

New' Math Via Computer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—Teachers in Appalachia are learning the new math through a computer-aided study course in their own areas.

The teachers, most of them women, are mothers, are unable to leave home to attend inservice courses at summer institutes of advanced university courses.

So the Pennsylvania State University and the Appalachian Educational Laboratory, Charlestown, W. Va., are bringing the course to the teachers.

The computer-aided instruction laboratory at Penn State arranged for each teacher to be assigned a computer terminal in the program center at Dryden, Va. Each student can advance at his or her own rate of speed.

The program first was tested two years ago in Williamsport, Pa. Additional programs are planned for other sites later in the year.

Serpent Expert Helps Zoo Chief

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—A Florida serpentarium director who has been bitten more than 100 times by snakes was being flown to Iowa City Wednesday to help Des Moines zoo director Bob Elgin in his fight against the effects of a cobra bite.

William Haast, director of the Miami Serpentarium, was being flown to Iowa by Air Force jet.

A spokesman at University hospitals in Iowa City said Haast would donate plasma from which antibodies will be removed to be injected into Elgin.

The spokesmen said the antibodies were expected to remove the venom present in Elgin's system, but would not reverse the symptoms already shown. Thus, he said, Elgin was expected to remain in serious condition for several days.

Elgin, who was bitten by a deadly cobra Tuesday afternoon, was reported in "serious but stable" condition. Doctors said cobra antivenom treatments Elgin has taken earlier apparently gave him some protection.

Syrians Raid Israel's Golan Heights

By United Press International
Syrian bombers and fighters attacked the Israel-occupied Golan Heights today and new fighting broke out in the area where Israeli warplanes on Wednesday strafed Arab guerrilla positions in Syria.

A Syrian spokesman in Damascus said the Syrian air force sent the second since the 1967 Middle East war as retaliation for enemy planes' aggressive actions against our positions.

Six Israeli warplanes attacked Syrian army positions in the foothills of Mt. Hermon in the Golan Heights Wednesday. The Syrian attack today was an Israeli troops in the same area, 25 miles southwest of Damascus.

The communique said all the planes returned to their base safely.

The spokesman said Syrian artillery blasted Israeli artillery positions in Syria's Quneitra, 40 miles south of Damascus.

Syria sent planes against Israel last month for the first time since the 1967 war and Israel claimed it shot down one Syrian airplane.

Military spokesmen in Tel Aviv said the ground fighting on the southern slopes of Mt. Hermon before dawn killed one Arab guerrilla and wounded one Israeli soldier.

Youngest Soldiers Die First, Review Of Casualties Show

By TOM TIEDE
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Each week for the past several weeks the Defense Dept. has presented a summary of the American casualties in the Vietnam war.

The following significant statistics of military activity in the Republic of Vietnam for the week ending July 25 were released to the news media at 1630 hours Wednesday.

When the figures follow: Two hundred to be dead as a result of hostile action. One thousand to 1,500 wounded in action. A dozen or so missing. Perhaps a few captured. And on down the line.

As far as they go, the figures are revealing. To some extent they indicate field trends, troop morale and enemy intentions. They also reveal successes and failures of tactics on both sides of the lines.

But what the numbers do not reveal are unquantifiable statistics of military activity: who died and who are wounded. The enemy's tactics, how they are compiled. And military agencies have kept some

Hawaiian Explorer Scouts Look Toward Career Needs

HONOLULU (UPI) — You won't find Hawaii's Explorer Scouts rubbing two sticks together or pitching a tent in wilderness.

They're busy learning about medicine, broadcasting, hotel management, banking, the aircraft industry, police work, seamanship, and a variety of other professions and trades.

"It's all part of a national effort by the Boy Scouts of America to give scouting a 'contemporary' outlook. In Hawaii, some 140 youngsters ages 14 and older are participating with 40 different agencies.

Local scout officials have heard the program praised by the youths, agencies involved and educators who see it as an out-of-class extension of the educational process.

For the youngsters involved, the Explorer program gives them the chance to try out a job before committing themselves to it.

For Isaac V. Guskuma, 18, Honolulu Explorer Scout, it's a desire to become a doctor.

"The program helped me see the different fields and aspects of a career," Guskuma said. "I knew that a medical education would be long and expensive, but never knew how long or how expensive."

Guskuma, who will be attending the University of Hawaii in the fall, said he had neither the time nor the money for scouting when he was younger.

"But the Explorer program has real practical value for me," Guskuma said. "I've learned a lot about medicine. I'd like to become a doctor, and the program has really strengthened that desire."

Guskuma said the group, which has 10 Explorer Scouts, "visited the radiology department and learned to take electrocardiograms, we went to the dental clinic, saw and saw films on childbirth, toured labs and were always able to ask questions to an instructor."

Explorers at a Honolulu television station wrote, directed and filmed a 30-minute color documentary, "Horizons Unlimited," about Hawaii's Explorer program.

Claude T. Yamamoto, a staff adviser for the Explorers program, said he thought many of his "contemporary outlook."

He said many youngsters have gone on to enter fields they had originally exposed to as Explorers.

"We give these youths real life work experience under the direction of top-notch professionals who have volunteered their services," Yamamoto said.

"So often young people have no idea of what they want to do."

"We realized that many youngsters lost interest in traditional scouting activities such as camping once they reached their teen years," Yamamoto said. "So Boy Scouts of America took a survey to determine what teen-age youngsters wanted. The answer was in-depth work experience."

Girls participate in the Explorer program as "guests," Yamamoto said. They receive benefits and treatment as the boys.

However the popularity of the program does not mean that the teen-ager who is interested in camping and other out-of-door scout activities.

"The regular program for the teen-ager interested in traditional scouting," Yamamoto said.

"There will always be a place for him."

NASA Revises Moon Statement

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The space agency has revised its official version of Apollo 11 commander Neil Armstrong's first words from the surface of the moon, adding the word "a" to its historic statement.

Public affairs officer Douglas Ward said NASA officials have now been given a copy of the original but have been unable to determine for certain what Armstrong said.

The dispute came into the space agency's attention when Armstrong was asked the astronaut what the first words he spoke were. A transcription related: "That's one small step for man; one giant leap for mankind."

Official transcripts issued a few hours after Armstrong's moonwalk deleted the "a."

thrown from the vehicle while his husband remained in the cab. It appeared he had removed his boots, which officers said might indicate he was not a driving glove. He was unable to give a clear account of the accident to officers, it was reported.

Officers said "damage" would run high, as the tractor of the truck was badly damaged and the trailer was also damaged. A cargo of canned goods was scattered over a wide area.

Deputy Hess said the vehicle was traveling east at an estimated 65 miles per hour when the driver apparently lost control after hitting the guard rail on a curve at the base of the viaduct.

It was necessary to call heavy equipment from N. O. 11 W. S. Crane and Rigging Co., Twin Falls, to clear the wreckage. Officers remained at the scene until after 9 p.m. to protect the cargo.

The two injured persons were taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital by Thompson Chapel ambulance Gooding.

Officers said the truck-trailer is owned by Producers Interstate Co., Weatherford, Tex. Everett told officers his brother-in-law and his sister were with him. Officers spent some time searching for a third person before identifying the injured woman and confirming she was the only passenger.

Wolfson-Linked Foundation Small Fires Put Out Along Track

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A deadline for filing a 1968 Boston foundation, with which Wolfson is linked, is set for Sept. 15. The foundation is listed as a trustee of free capital gains returns for the year 1968. Revenue Service showed Wednesday.

The returns said the Wolfson foundation, Boston, which paid $20,000 as a gift, grants or scholarships.

It was the Wolfson Family Foundation Inc. of Jacksonville, Fla., which paid $20,000 as a gift, grants or scholarships.

The foundation's state-recognized charitable research for 1966 to former Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas. Disclosure of the fund while Fortas was on the high court, led to his resignation under fire on May 15.

The family foundation requested and was granted an extension until next month.

SHOSHONE — Bureau of Land Management crews put out a series of small fires Wednesday night along the Union Pacific Railroad track east of Shoshone. No damage was done, district fire control officer said. The area involved is between Kama and Senter, near the site of a larger range fire Tuesday night which charred 6,000 acres. A freight train had passed the area shortly before the fires started and BLM officials said they probably were caused by a hot box from the train.

House Votes $4.2 Billion To Education

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Wednesday voted to spend $4.2 billion this fiscal year on education—$1 million more than President Nixon sought.

Liberal Democrats pushed through an amendment on a 242-148 nonrecord vote to add $394.5 million for education. This was in addition to $123.4 million that the House Appropriations Committee already had tacked onto the President's budget request for the fiscal year that began July 1.

But the House, working late into the evening, never got to vote on the explosive issues of busing school students to achieve racial balance and cracking down on campus rioters. These will be considered Thursday.

The budget action came on a $15.7 billion appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. In theory, it was subject to a later roll call reversal but the extra money was firmly added in the bill.

The $394.5 million package of amendments to the committee bill was authored by Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., and carried on a so-called teller vote in which members walk down the center aisle of the House and be counted.

WENDELL — Joel Dean Anderson, 18, Sunset, Utah, was killed in a car accident last week at West Yellowstone.

The Quidors will attend his funeral Monday at the Sixth Ward Chapel at Sunset.

Happy Demos Welcome Ted To Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Delighted Democrats welcomed Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's decision not to resign from the Senate Wednesday, but the Senate's senior Republican said the Massachusetts Democrat might as well forget any presidential aspirations.

"... We need Sen. Kennedy in the Senate," said Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., chairman of the Democratic National Committee. "I am therefore glad that he has now decided against resigning. His decision is good for the country. It is a decision for the Senate and the Democratic party."

While Harris and Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, the Democratic senatorial campaign committee chairman, said Kennedy's value to the party was unimpaired by the automobile accident that killed Harris' brother, Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said Kennedy was through as a possible 1972 presidential candidate.

"I think he should as well forget any presidential aspirations and concentrate on being a good senator," said Aiken.

When informed of Kennedy's decision not to resign, the blunt-spoken Vermontier replied, "So what else is new? Didn't I expect it? You don't think 30 million Democrats (in Massachusetts) are going to stand by idly and see another Republican senator elected?"

But another Republican, Sen. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska, said Kennedy's chances for the presidency depend "on what he is able to bid from now."

Harris and Inouye still consider Kennedy a star in their roster of campaigners to help other candidates in next year's congressional races. Harris said Wednesday he hoped Kennedy would be willing to campaign in other states and Inouye said he was certain that Kennedy would not limit his campaigning to Massachusetts.

On Housing

Millions of would-be homeowners are caught in a vicious three-way squeeze, skyrocketing construction costs and record high interest rates. For many, mortgage financing has become difficult, if not impossible.

In a variety of cases, the NLRB subsequently ruled that plumbers and pipefitters could boycott prefabricated boilers, asbestos workers could refuse to handle prefabricated insulation material for pipes, carpenters could reject prefabricated laminated beams.

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, himself, may have to make the decision on whether the Air Force may test-fire Minuteman missiles from operational sites, across part of the United States and into the Pacific Ocean.

Some Air Force officials believe, however, that a final go-ahead would have to come from the White House, because of the touchy policy question involved in such overflights. There are some admitted safety hazards.

Nixon May Find Pakistanis Less Than Friendly Hosts

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Pakistan, President Nixon is visiting the only major non-Communist nation still retaining close ties with Red China, because of a mutual animosity toward India.

And, while the President is visiting Pakistan as a friend, he is bound to find a cool reception on a number of issues close to the United States.

The first of these is that so far as Pakistan is concerned both CENTO, and SEATO, are dead. CENTO is the Central Treaty Organization linking NATO in the West and SEATO, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, in the east.

The Pakistan press, largely government-controlled, has been unanimous in its denunciation of Nixon's proposals for collective security.

Pakistan has turned down Soviet proposals for an Asian security plan which would unite South and Southeast Asian nations—against Communist China and will not accept the same idea from the United States.

A high-ranking Pakistani delegation recently visited Peking and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai has accepted an invitation to visit Pakistan.

Pakistan also has no intention of a reconciliation with India, at least until after the Kashmir issue is settled, in Pakistan's favor. Kashmir has been a chief bone of contention between the two countries since their independence in 1947.

The brief Pakistan-India war of 1965 was fought on the Kashmir issue.

Whatever real warmth there is to Nixon's reception will be due to his importance as a banker.

In the last 15 years, the United States has extended to Pakistan $3.5 billion in economic and military aid.

It still is Pakistan's largest single source of foreign aid, and Pakistan wants more.

The United States suspended aid to both India and Pakistan during the 1965 fighting. It since has resumed economic aid but has limited its military aid to "non-lethal" items.

Doctors Put Politics Aside To Save Life Of Russ Youth

By ROBERT C. MILLER
HONOLULU (UPI) — Soviet-American understanding has reached an all-time high in Room 214 of Queens Hospital where loving tender care saved the badly burned body of a Russian teenager.

Nineteen-year-old Victor M. Ashikhmin suffered chemical burns over nearly half his body July 7 when an ammonia compressor exploded aboard the Soviet trawler "Barabinsk" in the Northwestern Pacific.

Four days later the horribly burned young Russian was brought to Queens Hospital after a Navy helicopter had picked him off his ship near Midway, and the U.S. Air Force had flown him to Honolulu.

There was hope, but little else, when the medical staff at Queens went to work on the blond, personable Russian.

For 11 days he was kept in the intensive-care ward at the hospital where relays of nurses kept him under constant scrutiny while teams of doctors applied every known burn technique to heal the chemically burned flesh.

They have now moved Victor to Room 214 in the 14th-floor Wing of Queens which was named after a famous prince of the Hawaiian royal family, and his recovery seems assured.

"Nearly 95 per cent of Victor's recovery is due to himself," explained one of the doctors who has been treating the fisheries student. "He was in excellent physical condition, and his mental attitude has been a great asset. Only two skin grafts will probably be needed, and we expect he will make a complete recovery with full use of all his faculties."

At the nurses on the ward,

Victor has become the ward pet, and Patricia Dix, head nurse on Liholho, describes him as "the most spoiled patient we have."

Communication has been a problem for the Siberian-born Ashikhmin who knew only a few words of schoolbook English. Cards were printed with English-Russian phrases which Ashikhmin would read out when he wanted water, food, attention or somebody to move his bed.

China-born Larissa V. Keller was brought in to interpret, and since being released from the quarantine of the intensive care ward, several Russian speaking Honolulu residents have come voluntarily to visit with the good-looking youngster. Victor is learning English with astonishing speed, aided by a Russian-English dictionary, the TV set in his room, and the able nursing staff who have adopted him as their special favorite.

Ashikhmin said he felt neither fear nor anxiety when brought to Hawaii "as I knew the world was not without kindness, and that the Americans would take care of me."

The nurses said that whatever fears and apprehensions Victor had at first soon melted under the loving tender care they applied in massive doses.

"We have turned Victor into an avid TV fan," said Betty Miller, Regina, Saskatchewan. "We were certain he watched the moon landing of Apollo 11 but at first Victor wouldn't look at it. Then he would glance at it out of the corner of his eye, and the next day he had his eyes glued to the tube, and has been a fan ever since. It questions us intently on what he sees."

Ashikhmin comes from the Siberian coal town of Gourley in

Massachusetts GOP To Oppose Kennedy Race

BOSTON (UPI)—The Massachusetts Republican Party will roll out "the biggest gun possible" next year if Sen. Edward M. Kennedy runs for re-election, a high-level GOP source predicted.

The source, who requested anonymity, said Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, a former three-term governor, and Undersecretary of State Elliot L. Richardson, former attorney general and lieutenant governor for Massachusetts, topped the list of potential candidates.

Kennedy has been in seclusion at his Hyannis Port summer home since a fatal auto wreck 10 days ago on Chappaquiddick Island. Telegrams and letters urging him to remain in office have flooded the home.

Hickel Tells Governors Of Talks With Trudeau On Water Needs

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said Wednesday he had talked with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau on the possible import of water from Canada to meet a growing shortage in the western states.

Hickel also told western governors that he believed Congress would pass some of the funds cut from President Nixon's budget for water resource development in the western states, speaking at the Western Governors' Conference.

of his talks with Trudeau Tuesday in a "question" for Gov. Stanley Hathaway of Wyoming. He said he and President Nixon discussed water imports with Canadian officials.

The former governor of Alaska did not say, however, what Trudeau's reaction had been to proposals for a huge project to move water from Canada to the far south as Mexico.

Hathaway, in calling for high-level talks with Canada, said water imports from the north were "the real answer" to shortages already plaguing many western states and due to reach a critical stage in 1980 to 20 years.

"We can't wait until 1980 to do the planning," Hathaway said, "we need help on the administration."

Gov. John Love of Colorado brought up budget cuts for reclamation projects saying he felt there was some confusion in the administration on the importance of the program to the west.

"Does the administration understand the vital importance to the west of these great projects?" the Republican governor asked Hickel.

The secretary conceded that the reclamation program, which has been reduced by $38 million and may be in line for further cuts—had been cut quite drastically. But he said he believed Congress would restore some of the funds cut by the budget bureau.

Hickel was not asked whether the administration would spend such additional funds if appropriated by Congress.

However, James P. Sorenson, president of the National Reclamation Association, told UPI that Hickel's statement was a "hopeful indication" that any additional money would be spent.

"I understand him to be saying that he expects the administration to be receptive to some increases in Congress," Sorenson said.

Sorenson, who is from Visalia,

Calif., talked earlier with Love and other western governors to urge their support for efforts to restore funds cut from the reclamation budget.

Hickel said later during a news conference that his talk with Trudeau had been general and that no specific proposals had been discussed. He said further talks should be held with Canadian officials.

"It's entirely possible we'll have this whole system of rivers tied together from the arctic through Alaska down through Canada, clear down through the northwest," he said.

The secretary said it would take at least 10 years to plan the huge complex of reservoirs and canals.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, has become the leading congressional advocate of the proposal, calling it the North American Water and Power Alliance (NAWAPA). It has been estimated that the project might cost more than $1 billion.

FAA Investigators Sift Wreckage Of Boise Plane Crash

BOISE (UPI)—Federal Aviation Agency investigators sifted through wreckage and took statements today, attempting to determine the cause of a fiery in-flight crash of a two-engine twin-engine twin-engine plane that claimed the lives of six persons.

The two separate crashes that followed miraculously spared residents of heavily populated areas near the heart of downtown Boise.

The planes plunged to the earth, one of them in flames and narrowly missed houses in residential areas.

The victims were:

- Dr. R. M. Kirkland, 49, a past president of the Idaho Podiatry Association, who had practiced in the Boise area for 20 years.
- Mrs. Donald J. Ruzicka, Milwaukee, Ore.
- Clapin and Smith were together in the Cessna and the others were flying with Flanery.
- A team of FAA investigators joined Boise officials late Wednesday afternoon and examined the mangled wreckage of the two airplanes before they were removed.
- There were about 16 airplanes in radio contact with the Boise tower at the time of the crash, many of them participating in the Chamber of Commerce "Fly-In."
- Chet Moulton, Idaho aviation director, said it was possible that the design of the two aircraft that crashed prevented the pilots from seeing one another until it was too late.
- He pointed out, however, that this was speculation.
- Secretary of State Pete Carrus said a veteran pilot who flew one of the 30 or more planes participating in the fly-in, said there was a strong possibility the two planes were not on the same radio frequency.
- Clapin was a former fighter pilot for the Royal Air Force during the Second World War and was recently awarded a combination Million Miller and Quarter Century Award.
- The Beechcraft, spiraled down in a ball of flame and smashed into a hillside just five feet from the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Deusen in an exclusive residential area on the city's north side.
- Gov. Stanley K. Hathaway said that it appeared the Beechcraft, even though in flames, was attempting to make a forced landing when it struck the hillside.
- An eyewitness, Mrs. Harry Blackstone, Boise, said, "There was a ball of fire and a loud bang."
- She looked like they hit head-on.
- "I was taking out the trash and heard the planes just above the house," Mrs. Blackstone said. "After they hit, one of them went straight down, on fire. The other looked like it was flying okay but a wing was missing, then it spiraled down and crashed with a bang."
- Brian Roberts, 18, was working on a hill in the Boise West Hillside area when he saw and saw the aircraft in flight.
- "I saw something fall from them and then one started to spiral down," he said.
- The other looked okay so I just ran and got a lady to call the fire department."
- The wheels, part of the engine and a rudder were above into the cockpit by the force of the crash.
- The Beechcraft, which struck the hillside, hit a guy wire and then crashed behind the Van Deusen home—just a few feet from the family's back yard in a grass fire that blackened the side of the hill and burned out bushes behind the house.
- The only identifiable portion of the Beechcraft was the tail section, part of the rudder and one wing. Flames destroyed the portion of the fuselage (the body) was thrown from the plane and the others were found in the charred wreckage.

Governors Seek Increased Lumbering, Mining Efforts

SEATTLE (UPI) — Western governors today pleaded for increased lumbering and mining efforts to help establish a conservation compact to encourage conservation.

The 11 remaining chief executives at the annual Western Governors' Conference—three already had left and one did not show at all—were offered nine resolutions by a select five-man committee.

The governors planned to adopt the resolutions today before winding up their four-day meeting.

The resolutions—many of them calling for water desalinization, more logging and mining, a federal reaffirmation of state jurisdiction over fish and wildlife, $5 million for water-related land development, increased Nixon Administration spending on water reclamation, and an increase from 100 to 600 acres the maximum size parcel eligible for federal water.

One resolution which never made it to the full committee would have urged creation of a Western Conservation Compact to establish areawide controls over pollution, pesticides and other environmental hazards.

"I got a negative reception from the committee," said the sponsor, Gov. Tom McCall of Oregon, "so I dropped it."

The "resolutions" committee chairman, Gov. Calvin L. Ramsey of Utah, said campus turnouts and other such nationwide topics will be discussed at the National Governors' Conference beginning Labor Day in Colorado Springs.

One resolution endorsed the proposed National Forest Timber Supply Act—which seeks to open more public land to logging. Conservationists claim it would introduce lumbering to primitive-type regions they want ultimately set aside as official wilderness.

"We could turn my whole state into a wilderness area," said Gov. Stanley K. Hathaway of Wyoming, "but somebody has to make a living there."

During a natural resources seminar Wednesday, Hathaway said—the federal government should increase the "allowable cut" on public lands so "man can harvest the forest before the bark beetles do."

Ed Cliff, chief of United States Forest, agreed. "We want to keep as much of this (non-wilderness) land in timber production as possible, been said because of a national 'timber squeeze'."

Utah Will Block Veto Of Train

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Utah senators Wednesday said they will move to block a West Coast Pacific's discontinuance of the San Francisco-Salt Lake City train, from Salt Lake City to Denver via the Zephyr passenger train.

The announcement was made by J. Thomas Greene, special assistant attorney general for Utah, at a hearing by the Interstate Commerce Commission. He said a petition will be filed with the ICC by the Utah ICC hearing examiner, Louis Bartoo, to oppose cancellation of the Utah leg of the passenger train, which runs between San Francisco and Chicago. The Denver & Rio Grande Western hauls the train, from Salt Lake City to Denver and has proposed to cancel the 20-year-old Zephyr.

Greene's announcement opened the fifth day of testimony in Utah.

Most of Wednesday's hearing was taken up by testimony from Francis Long, traffic manager for the Denver & Rio Grande.

FBI Joins Utah Blast Probe; Victim's Husband Suspected

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Sheriff's officers asked the FBI to join in their investigation of an explosion which tore apart a car and critically injured a woman.

Part of the car which exploded when Mrs. Kaeleyn Rahawi, 24, turned on the ignition key Tuesday morning were sent to the FBI for analysis of the explosive material.

—Capt. N. D. Hayward of the Salt Lake County sheriff's office said Wednesday the woman's husband, Michael Rahawi, 30, a life insurance salesman, was a prime suspect but the county attorney later said no action was planned against the husband Wednesday.

Explosives tore apart the entire front section of the Cottonwood Hospital here after undergoing about 10 hours of surgery Tuesday night.

Sheriff's deputies had been baffled earlier by reports of unexplained harassment to the Rahawis. Hayward said detectives found "no foundation for any charges of threatening and abusive phone calls or vandalism and prowling around the family home."

The dynamite or plastic explosive had been wired to the car's sparkplugs and was detonated by the ignition. The car was impounded and dismantled for a minute inspection.

Hayward said he had requested background information on Rahawi, who emigrated to the United States from Iraq about three years ago, from the Iraqi Embassy.

Church said the bill was written and that it accomplishes the same objectives as the earlier bill and stands a better chance of success.

As passed last year, the act required every licensed dealer to record each ammunition sale, specifying the date, manufacturer, caliber, type, and quantity, together with the name, age and address of the purchaser. These provisions would be repealed under the new legislation.

Idaho Senator Co-Sponsors Law On Arms Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, is co-sponsoring new legislation to repeal restrictive ammunition provisions of the Gun Control Act of 1968.

Church said the bill was written and that it accomplishes the same objectives as the earlier bill and stands a better chance of success.

As passed last year, the act required every licensed dealer to record each ammunition sale, specifying the date, manufacturer, caliber, type, and quantity, together with the name, age and address of the purchaser. These provisions would be repealed under the new legislation.

Officials Mull Water Pollution

COEUR D'ALENE — Idaho (UPI)—The first of a three-day series of meetings to discuss abatement of water pollution of the south fork of the Coeur River was held here Wednesday.

Atty. Gen. Robert Robison and State House Administrator Dr. Ferrell P. Carver called the informational meeting to see if the communities can come up with some plan of action to stop water pollution in the area.

Robison said the federal and state government "are not going to come with a gold platter and build facilities for you."

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating and if Coeur d'Alene doesn't have to eat any more water, we're going to let the department of health will be happy," Robison said.

He said that informal meetings should be held prior to any legal action and "legal action does not have to happen. The board of health and the attorney general's office would have to be notified if any of the law be not exercised if it is possible."

Robison added, "If it is necessary to go to court, I don't want to but if it's going to take an epidemic or a court order to get these communities to work together then the court order will come first."

Indians Told To 'Get With It'

SEATTLE (UPI) — Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said Wednesday the government had been a "little overprotective" of Indians, and that his administration might start reversing the trend.

Hickel told the annual Western Governors' Conference that Indians "always have to get a bunch of being able to go back to the reservation."

He said Indians have often come off their reservations, moved into the big Eastern cities and sometimes found that they could not make it and returned to the reservation.

He said—they must get the word sooner or later and become more involved in American society.

Asked at a news conference to expand on his remarks, Hickel said the department has jurisdiction over Indian affairs, said Indians should be given more freedom to make decisions, to be able to go back and learn from those mistakes.

In San Francisco, L. E. H. a "Birmingham" president of (United States) Indians, a group dedicated to Indian interests, said his organization had been opposed to Hickel.

"I'm in a pinch," Hickel said he printed and circulated by 4,000 members around the country.

Hickel said he was trying to find an Indian for the position formerly held by Robert Hendon, the first Indian to head the Bureau of Indian Affairs, but that he would have to consult

Employes' Aide Denies Protest

BOISE (UPI)—Gerald Jones, secretary of the Idaho State Employees' Association, said Wednesday the new overtime law has not put the state in a "pay bind."

Jones referred to an opinion from Atty. Gen. Robert Robson that since most departments had not budgeted to pay overtime in cash, department heads should make it a policy to give compensatory time.

Jones said, "The employe does not want compensatory time at the convenience of the department. He needs an adequate salary to support his family, not time off."

Jones said the overtime bill did not come as a surprise to any department, or the legislature, as the bill was made known to both well in advance of the 40th Legislature.

"Failure to budget for the overtime law appears to be another area in which the needs and requests of the employe have been ignored again," he said.

Planes Miss Boise Homes In 'Miracle'

By PAUL M. QUINN

BOISE (UPI)—A twisted piece of aluminum crushed a bed of pansies and petunias, firemen washed aviation fuel with large hoses down storm sewers, bits of the engine littered the sidewalk and hundreds of curious just stared.

This was the scene Wednesday just a few short blocks from downtown Boise's state capital building, where a single-engine Cessna plunged into a residential area, narrowly missing the Wee Willie Winkler apartment building. 14 small children played on a living-room floor.

The plane, piloted by B. W. (Basil) Chapin, collided in flight with another aircraft. Six persons in all died in the collision and subsequent crashes that followed.

The red and white Cessna was in the middle of Fifth Street in the downtown residential district, about a half a block from Fifth's intersection with Union Street.

When the crippled aircraft, with one of its wings completely missing, plunged to the ground, it narrowly missed at least four homes, trees lining the street and power poles.

"It's a miracle," said Mrs. Gardner Parsons. "It's just a miracle."

A piece of one of the wings of the plane plowed through the front window of the home, coming to rest against the outside of the house. In the back yard of the house next door—a long street—was lying on the grass.

A door from the plane ripped open several white pickets from a fence at a house further on down the block.

Several small chunks of metal were on the sidewalk in front of the kindergarten. The operator of the school, Mrs. Bess E. Stroud, took the children out into the back yard to play while morgue attendants lifted the battered bodies of Chapin and the Weiser Lodge die-hard AF and AM. He lived in Weiser for many years before coming to Shoshone. He previously spent eight years in Ketchum with a daughter.

In 1938, he married Rosa Williams in Missouri. She died in 1933.

Survivors include one son, Ralph Barton, Whittier, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Farnum, Ketchum, and Mrs. Ila Coffin, Walla Walla, Wash.; four grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Masonic graveside services will be conducted at Hillcrest Cemetery in Weiser at 2 p.m. Saturday, directed by Lodge 23, AF and AM. Arrangements are under the direction of Bergin Funeral Chapel.

James Barton

SHOSHONE—James L. Barton, 96, died Tuesday night at the Wood River Convalescent Center where he had been a patient since 1961.

He was born July 20, 1873, at Iberia, Mo., and was a farmer and an electrician. Mr. Barton belonged to the Baptist church and the Weiser Lodge die-hard AF and AM. He lived in Weiser for many years before coming to Shoshone. He previously spent eight years in Ketchum with a daughter.

In 1938, he married Rosa Williams in Missouri. She died in 1933.

Survivors include one son, Ralph Barton, Whittier, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Farnum, Ketchum, and Mrs. Ila Coffin, Walla Walla, Wash.; four grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Masonic graveside services will be conducted at Hillcrest Cemetery in Weiser at 2 p.m. Saturday, directed by Lodge 23, AF and AM. Arrangements are under the direction of Bergin Funeral Chapel.

BOISE (UPI)—Chief Justice J. McFaddin swore in four members of the newly established State Commission on Pardons and Paroles and will swear in another later.

The members of the new commission were Dr. David W. R. Jeffers, Donald E. Rogers, and Carl B. Shaver.

Raymond May, director of correction at the Idaho State Penitentiary, said that the new commission would help alleviate the burden now imposed on the board of correction.

He said that the commission would handle only pardons and paroles so that the board of correction could handle other matters.

MINOR INJURIES RESULTED Wednesday night when these two vehicles collided at Fourth Street East and Fourth Avenue East in Twin Falls. City police officers said a car driven by Charles Rae Fuller, 35, Chico, Calif., and one driven by Edward Worley Ross, 19, Twin Falls, crashed in the intersection about 9:40 p.m. Passengers in the Fuller car were Pat Fuller, 33; James Fuller, 5, and Jennifer Fuller, 2. Passengers in the Ross vehicle were Edward Ross, 19, and Dwayne Watson, both. Mrs. Fuller and Jennifer received minor injuries, but were not hospitalized. Mr. Ross was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Reagan Says

Smog Control Is Essential

SEATTLE (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan isn't taking seriously California legislation to ban the internal combustion engine. But he agrees the sooner it is banned the faster smog will disappear.

John T. Middleton, commissioner of the National Air Pollution Control Administration, told western governors at their annual conference Wednesday that the traditional gasoline engine must be phased out by the mid-1980s.

The California Senate earlier this month passed a bill to ban the internal combustion engine by 1975. The measure, by Sen. Nicholas Petrils, D-Oakland, now is in the Assembly Transportation Committee. As a member of Speaker Robert Monagan said Wednesday, he doesn't believe the legislation is "appropriate."

Asked whether he would sign the bill if it did pass, Reagan replied, "I never considered ever would be faced with that decision."

But Reagan said development of a smogless engine is "practical." "After setting foot on the moon anything is possible," Reagan said.

"I don't know when that time would be, though," Middleton said. "A real significant research program" headed to develop a smogless power plant, such as the gas turbine or steam engine.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—The widow of actor William Talman is personally lobbying for a state law to ban cigarette advertising.

"My message is a personal one," she told legislators. Her husband, best known for his role as the district attorney on the Perry Mason television show, died one year ago of lung cancer.

Mrs. Talman said she quit smoking after watching the anti-cigarette plea her husband taped a few days before his death.

The legislature is considering a bill to ban cigarette advertising in California.

Competition Set For Academy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, announced Wednesday that the annual competition for entrance to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy will commence with the December College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB).

The deadline for submitting applications for the next annual nationwide "competition" is Dec. 15, 1969.

Prospective applicants should arrange through their secondary school counselors to complete the prescribed CEEB tests prior to or including the Dec. 6, 1969, administration, since the test results subsequent to that date cannot be accepted.

Church said the four-year course leads to a commission as a career officer in the Coast Guard and a bachelor of science degree.

He said "appointments are made on a competitive basis, and there are no separate quotas for states and no special categories." A candidate for the next competition must have completed his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1970, and must be in excellent physical condition.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement.

Pope To Seek End Of War

by JOHN PLATTER
 KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI)—Pope Paul's historic three-day visit to Africa starting Thursday will set the stage for one of the most intensive efforts to settle the Nigerian civil war.
 Officially Pope Paul is flying here on the first recorded papal visit to Africa to attend a meeting of African bishops, dedicate a memorial to 22 Roman Catholic Martyrs, and officiate at a mass consecrating 12 new bishops.
 The Pope himself has focused publicity on the Nigerian peace issue by declaring in Vatican addresses that his visit could serve no finer purpose than to aid in settling the two-year conflict between Nigeria and Biafra.
 Possibilities for peace talks broadened when Nigeria announced it would send a top-level delegation to Uganda, headed by Information Minister Anthony Enahoro. Biafra said it was sending three representatives.
 Ugandan government sources said the Foreign Ministry would try to arrange an early meeting between the two delegations.
 African heads-of-state attending the celebration plan an informal summit to discuss the Nigerian situation. Attending would be President Milton Obote of Uganda and the presidents of Burundi, the Congo, Rwanda, Tanzania and Zambia.
 Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie had not yet responded to an invitation to join the papal visit.
 The bishops' meeting also planned to consider the Nigeria problem, with clergymen from both warring parties participating. The bishops decided Tuesday to establish Africa's first permanent secretariat for coordinating Catholic activities throughout the continent.
 Thousands of pilgrims, traveling from all over Uganda by foot and bus, swelled this city of 150,000 residents to several times its normal population.
 The 71-year-old Pope will make the 5 1/2-hour, 3,145-mile flight—from Rome—aboard a VC10 jetliner of East African Airways which has a special compartment so he can sleep and work.
 The Pope's plane will touch down at the Entebbe Airport on the shore of Lake Victoria.
 From there the Pope will ride 21 miles into Kampala, past banana trees and under triumphal arches built of bamboo. Hundreds of thousands of Africans were expected to line the route for the two-hour drive.

Sen. Stennis Doubts Viets Can Run War

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Armed Services Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said that after a briefing by Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, it will take years before South Vietnam can take over all combat operations from American troops.
 Wheeler is chairman of the Joint Chiefs of staff.
 "On the basis of what Gen. Wheeler said, it's going to take time at the very best," Stennis told reporters for the closed-session of the Armed Services Committee ended. "We'll be doing a good part of the fighting."
 Stennis was asked whether he was talking in terms of years before the South Vietnamese army would be totally ready. Stennis replied: "Yes, I think in terms of years... not many perhaps... it's not a short-term proposition and the years run into each other quickly."
 Wheeler, who recently returned from an inspection trip to Vietnam, was not available for comment.
 Both Stennis and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., indicated that Wheeler's assessment was not encouraging.
 "I wish the story had been more encouraging," Stennis said.
 Symington commented: "It's the same old story, very sad. I can only hope that it gets better."

Rep. Hansen Asks Laird For Visit

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rep. Orval Hansen of Idaho, called on Defense Secretary Melvin Laird Tuesday and issued a personal invitation to come to Idaho Falls in September for the homecoming of the 116th Engineer Battalion.

Rep. Hansen said he issued the invitation to Mr. Laird at this Pentagon office "because of the outstanding record of the men of the 116th during their service in Vietnam in deserving of recognition by the nation's top leaders."

Tuesday morning Rep. Hansen visited with Mr. Laird. He outlined the history of the battalion of the Idaho National Guard and its service during times of war and national emergencies.

"I am hopeful when the date of the homecoming has been determined it will be possible for Secretary Laird to attend," Rep. Hansen said. The unit of some 800 combat engineers is expected to return to the U.S. following a year of duty at various bases in South Vietnam. The unit was activated in May, 1968, and assigned to South Vietnam last September.

Almost all of the men are from Eastern Idaho. One company in the battalion is from North Idaho. "Secretary Laird was acquainted with the Idaho guard unit and expressed the hope his schedule would permit him to be in Idaho for the homecoming," Rep. Hansen said. "The invitation was issued in the spirit of all Idahoans because we want to give the men of the 116th a homecoming they and Idaho will never forget."

U. S. Steel Lists Price Increases

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. Steel Corp., which reported sharply lower 1969 profits Tuesday, announced Wednesday price boosts averaging 4.5 per cent for most rolled steel products. Big steel boosted its price for cold rolled sheet steel, a large volume product used by the automobile industry, by 6 1/2 cents a ton. Hot rolled sheet and strip was increased 5 cents a ton. Galvanized sheet and other coated steel products were increased by 25 to 30 cents a ton. U.S. Steel Tuesday reported a sharp drop in first-half profits to $104,000,000, or $1.79 a share, from $172,000,000, or $2.18 a share, in the first half of 1968. The company said the drop reflected lower shipments, idled factory, and higher costs for labor and materials.

Judge Is Cleared Of Drink Charge

BOISE (UPI) — State Supreme Court Justice Clay Spear has been found innocent in Boise Municipal Court of a charge of driving while intoxicated. The charge stemmed from an April 1 traffic accident at a Hillcrest Country Club golf course. Spear's car was found in a ditch along a fence and he was arrested while walking along the roadway.

Defense attorney Sam Kaufman argued that there was no evidence that Spear was behind the wheel. Acquittal was granted by Judge John Wyman who heard the case without a jury. The right to a jury trial had been waived.

YEARBOOKS GIVEN
FILER — Summer supplement for the Filer High School yearbook will be distributed from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday in the Filer High School, lower hall.

TEN JAPANESE GIRLS, students of a high school near Tokyo, and their teacher and tour leader are currently visiting in Twin Falls under sponsorship of the Experiment in International Living program. The visitors, who will remain here for a month, arrived July 25. Following a group gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stacey, each girl will go to the home of a local family and become part of that family for a month. Comparing notes on their new "homes" are Mr. Osamu Yoshida, leader, Kazuko Michiwaki, Setsuko Kobayashi, Reiko Ohta and Hiroko Takagi; back row, and Michiko Inoue, Noriko Ikeda, Tomoko Nakano, Yoshie Iida and Nobuko Watanabe, front row, all from left. Not shown is Shigeko Goto who was on a trip with her host family.

10 Japanese Girls Visit In Twin Falls

Eleven Twin Falls families are learning a lot about life in Japan this month, thanks to some special house guests. Ten young Japanese high school students and their teacher-adviser, Osamu Yoshida, are spending the current month, July 20 through Aug. 22, in Twin Falls under the Experiment in International Living program. All of the young delegates attend the same high school and all are 16 to 18 years of age. Mr. Yoshida teaches English in the Matsudo High School, about 10 miles from Tokyo. As his English is better than most of the young students, he also serves as interpreter when the group is touring. But once they move into their respective new homes, he said, the girls are on their own. Most, he believes, will learn much about the English language as well as family life in America.

Mrs. Stacey and Mr. Yoshida explained the program is an internationally adopted one, aimed at promoting friendship and understanding between the people of various nations and thus creating a greater trend toward East and Africa. This is the seventh year Twin Falls has participated, Mrs. Stacey said. In that time, the community has had some 60 young students from 21 countries. Those in the Twin Falls community who are participating this year include Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drake, hosting Hiroko Takagi; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rank, Shigeko Goto; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cook, Yoshie Iida; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mottan, Reiko Ohta; Mr. and Mrs. L. Gilsuko Kobayashi, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith, Tomoko Nakano; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson, Kazuko Michiwaki; Mr. and Mrs. Jerre Cover, Michiko Inoue; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bamesberger, Noriko Ikeda; Mr. and Mrs. James Dodds, Setsuko Kobayashi, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stacey, Mr. Yoshida.

Indian Villagers Welcome Visit Of U. S. First Lady

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Pat Nixon, traveling through the countryside in an air-conditioned Rolls-Royce, today visited the village of Ghisarpur that produces linen on its handloom cottage industry, its birth control program and its kindergarten.

While the President conferred with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, Mrs. Nixon was doing what she liked best. Her warm smiles were returned by the villagers who heaped garlands of flowers around her neck and dabbed her forehead with the traditional red powder mark of respect.

The First Lady, wearing a bright pink linen dress with matching jacket, flew to New Delhi from Bangkok where she affectionately bade farewell to Thailand's Queen Sirikit, a picture of oriental splendor in her embroidered sarong and overblouse with a military aide holding a gold umbrella over her against the blazing sun.

The Nixons called on the king and queen before leaving Bangkok and Mrs. Nixon received several bolts of Thai silk. Ladies-in-waiting shuffled around on their knees before the queen, handing up the boxed gifts on golden trays.

The 67-year-old wife of the President then flew to Patna International Airport in New Delhi where she was met by an old friend of the family, U.S. Ambassador Kenneth B. Keating, who was the senator from New York when Nixon served as senator from California, both on the Republican side of the aisle.

The Nixons were guests at Raashtrapati Bhavan, the official residence of the president of India, red and cream sandstone structure built originally for the British viceroy in their 300 years of colonial rule. It was the president's Rolls-Royce she used today.

Swensen's Magic Mkts. remind you that:

YOUR PILE IS SHRINKING

Or in other words

SAVING MONEY IS STUPID

Please don't get us wrong; we're not against saving. Just saving money. If you save money under the mattress, every dollar saved shrinks 7c a year (inflation). If you save it in the bank, your dollars only shrink 2c a year (difference between 7% guaranteed annual inflation and 9% guaranteed annual interest). Then there are always stocks, bonds, and mutual funds, etc. etc., but with the stock market going down, they're not doing any better than inflation either. Of course, you might be lucky and know someone who is selling penny gold mine shares.

RIGHT NOW, the best way to save is SPEND. — at Swensen's Mkts, naturally. What we mean is: DON'T SAVE DOLLARS; SAVE POTATOES (Please notice our price on Potatoes below) Potatoes saved this week will be worth twice as much in six months. Or take Cucumbers, Cucumbers saved at Swensen's Mkts, this week will be worth 3 to 4 times as much if held until December or January. Meeli Powers Idaho Falls Past Magic Valley 15-7; Teams Slate Twin Bill

Rudy Meeli punished five Magic Valley pitchers for five straight hits in the past inning of the game, and seven runs batted in Wednesday night at the Idaho Falls Angels knock-out the Cowboys out of the Pioneer League (UPI)—

Gordon Is Out Of Bear Training

RENSELAEUR, Ind. (UPI)—Plunker Dick Gordon, the Bears' leading pass receiver, was out of training camp Wednesday in a contract dispute and George Halas Jr., president of the National Football League club, said Gordon would be fined $200 a day.

Halas also announced that Gordon faces a $1,000 fine for a contract violation. The Bears will be expected to be released from their exhibition season Saturday night against the Redskins at Washington.

Maxvill And Cards Drop Padres 5-2

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Dal Maxvill drove in three runs with a bases loaded triple that highlighted a five-run rally in the seventh inning Wednesday night to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 5-2 victory over the San Diego Padres at the front-running Chicago Cubs.

Bob Gibson, who won his 13th game in 21 decisions, contributed a run-scoring single and Julio Javier's single added the other run in the Cardinal rally which knocked Joe Niekro from the mound.

Maxvill pitched a one-hitter through six innings with Lou Brock getting a lead-off single in the first inning.

Vlad Pinson led off with a single in the seventh and Joe Torre singled him to third. It marked the 21st straight game in which Pinson hit safely. On Dave Ricketta's bounce to Niekro, the pitcher tagged out Pinson trapped between second and third with Torre taking second.

Aaron Climbs Up Homerun Ladder

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Ivan Aaron of the Atlanta Braves moved into third place on the all-time major league homer run list Wednesday night when he slammed the 37th homer of his career in the third inning against Philadelphia.

Aaron hit the second pitch thrown to him by left-hander Grant Jackson for the homer which moved him past Mickey Vernon into third place when he trails only Willie Mays (50) and Babe Ruth (714).

Phil And Braves Swap Decisions

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Rennie Allen and Johnny Callison traded back-to-back home runs with two out in the eighth inning Wednesday night to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

Allen, who pitched a one-hitter through six innings with Lou Brock getting a lead-off single in the first inning, picked up the victory when Stone suffered his sixth loss after nine victories.

Tillman, who went into the game with a 17-3 record, seventh, eighth and ninth homers of the season off Lou Brock to drive in four runs in the first game of the season.

Frank Anderson pitched his 37th homer and Felipe Alou hit his fifth of the year to supply him with Pappas with the runs he needed to win. Alou's homer placed him third on the all-time list, behind only Babe Ruth and Willie Mays.

Messersmith Beats Sox For Angels

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Mickey Messersmith won his 10th game in 12 decisions with a four-hitter and Jim Fregal belted a home run and triple Wednesday night as the California Angels beat the Boston Red Sox.

The big right-hander went into the ninth inning seeking his second straight shutout but Carl Yastrzemski donned a right fielder's cap.

Messersmith then worked two straight wild pitches to give up Boston's only run. Messersmith, who lost his first five games of the season, yielded only three singles to that point as he ran his record to 10-7. He struck out seven to give him 27 strikeouts for the American League.

The Angels scored three times in the second inning to hand Sonny Siegel his ninth loss in 17 decisions.

By winning their third in a row, California moved to within one game of fourth-place Kansas City.

Bjornson sparked the Angel rally in the second inning by leading off with his ninth home run to lift California to a 1-0 lead. Johnny Johnston followed with a single and Joe Arcue drew an intentional walk after two were out. Messersmith collected his seventh hit of this year, a single, to drive in Johnston. Sandy Alomar followed with a perfect bunt to score Arcue.

Pirates Nip Dodgers In Eighth Inning

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Manny Sanguillen singled home Ron Davis from third base in the eighth inning Wednesday night to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Steve Blass pitched seven innings, successfully butting singles by Jose Martinez and Blass and Matty Alou's two-run single.

The Dodgers led 1-2 in the sixth when Bill Russell took second on Tom Hutton's single and scored when the ball got by Alou in center for an error. Tom Hutton led off in the second, moved to third on a walk and a sacrifice and scored on Ted Sizemore's single.

Marty Liquori of Villanova, who has developed into the premier American miler, won the 1,500 meters in 3:37.2, the world's best time of the year.

The crowd of 30,000 in attendance included West German President Gustav Heinemann and Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee.

In addition to the European sweeps in the shot put and pole vault, led 55 points to 49 in the men's division and 37-25 in the women's events.

He drew even with the slender American coming into the stretch, then faded and allowed Liquori to go on to victory by about four meters.

Carlos turned on the speed to win from Bill Hays of Los Angeles in 10.3 seconds in the 100 meters and Evans won second as he blipped from the outside lane but his time of 4.9 seconds was a bitter disappointment to the crowd, which expected him to get close to his world record of 43.3 set at Mexico City in his Olympic gold medal winning run.

Bob Beamon, the Olympic champion from the University of Texas at El Paso, was booted by the crowd for his apparent lack of effort in the long jump where he finished last to 1964 Tokyo winner Lynn Davies of Britain. Davies cleared 28 feet 7 1/4 inches.

Doctors there confirmed the diagnosis of the Twins' team physician and said McClain would probably be in the hospital "a day or two."

EXPANSION PROJECT is underway at Roper's Clothing store in Buhl with crews removing the roof and second story of the former Idaho First National Bank building next door to the clothing store. Ropers will build a new front for the combined buildings and archways will connect the two rooms inside. It is the first improvement project for the clothing store since 1953.

Expansion Of Buhl Store Under Way

has been in the Buhl store since it opened. The three companies are bidding for the contract to do the remodeling on the outside of the two buildings.

BUHL — Demolition crews are at work removing the roof and second story of the Roper's Clothing Store as part of an expansion project by the firm. The store, which has operated in Buhl for the past 20 years, is expanding into the former Idaho First National Bank building which is next door to the present location.

A new front will be constructed on the combined facilities and the second story of both buildings is being dismantled. A stairway which was between the two buildings is being abolished.

The second story of the both buildings was formerly used for office buildings and apartments. The bank moved into a new structure last December. The new store will have a modern woman's department as well as young men's and teen shop. Archways will connect the two rooms.

The interior will feature new ceilings and modern lighting fixtures with carpeting in the new part of the remodeled building. The interior was designed by Noel Pool, architect and store designer from Salt Lake City.

Ropers bought their present building in December, 1947, and opened for business here in January, 1948. A woman's department was added in the downstairs store in 1953 and this is the first major remodeling since then.

Lampert Parrish, manager of the local store, anticipates completion of the expansion project by the last week in August. He

MR. AND MRS. LAWRENCE L. BARTLETT

Twin Falls Couple Says Vows in Lutheran Rites

Connie Jean Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford P. Owens, and Lawrence L. Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Bartlett, at Twin Falls, were married June 28 at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Iben before a background of white daisies and yellow roses. The church also was decorated with yellow pew bows and gold-candela containing white tapers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire waisted floor-length gown of chastity lace, made by the mother of the bridegroom. The floor-length veil edged with matching lace was held in place by chiffon roses. She carried a formal cascade of daisies and yellow roses.

Maid of honor was Nancy Cooke and Brenda Buffington was bridesmaid. Christa Olson, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Dick Herron served as best man and Danny Boyd was groomsmen. Fred Flegel and Raymond Olson were ushers and Scott Bartlett, brother of the bridegroom, and Ronald Owens, brother of the bride, were candle lighters.

Guests were registered by Sherry Briggs, cousin of the bride, and Nancy Flegel, sister of the bride.

Wedding music was played by Nelda Brax, who also accompanied Chuck Larson, soloist.

Prepare Bean Dish To Quench Teen Appetites

Teens adore sun-worshipping in one form or another. Whether they prefer lazing lazily at the pool or romping on a pebbled beach, they remain one like charmed. When the water nymphs arrive home golden and glowing, they'll be ravenous.

To prepare to invite the whole gang to a big, fun, fishing supper to renew spent energy. Set it up on your porch or patio buffet-style so they can eat a la svignante while you're on the way to winning the most popular mom of the day award.

For more points, appropriate children's menu. The fish soup is a hit. The marinade-flavored foods borrow the warm flavors of Mexico and stir into staple cured beans for a sure winner. The following recipe features beans 'n beef - plump, tender beans and bits of ground beef in tomato sauce - but you'll want to try all four canned bean choices this summer. There's also family favorite pork and beans with tomato sauce, turkey 'n beans 'n frank, and uniquely flavored barbecue beans.

Mexican accents of corn and onion rings add the fiesta flavor to beans 'n beef for the teen buffet. For fiery tang, there's garlic and chili powder.

To top off the dish, choose curly tortilla chips - plain or taco-flavored. You might want to include a basket of these chips to munch along with feed tables, and a dessert-coverage combo of root beer and vanilla ice cream.

TORTILLA BEANS 'N BEEF
 1/2 cup sliced onion
 1 small clove garlic, minced
 1/2 cup cooked corn
 1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
 1 tortilla chips
 In saucepan, cook onion with garlic and chili in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients except chips. Heat now and then. Garnish with chips. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My 47-year-old husband of 25 years is living in a droll, but he is driving me to distraction with his check writing. I have a faint checking account, but I have learned from experience that I don't dare write a check for even two dollars because it might bounce. My husband writes checks like crazy without listing them, so consequently we never know how much we have in our account. When we were first married our checking account got into such a mess that I had to close that account and opened up a new one in another bank. Pretty soon we were all messed up again, and had to close that account. Well, we are on our FIFTH bank now, and it looks like we're going to have to find another one. What's the solution, Abby? My husband is really a sweet guy, but when it comes to writing checks, he's a big jerk.

One of the main ways for a man to get more "loving" is to bathe regularly. How true! Sometimes words won't do. I recommend the following: Place a his shaving stuff, deodorant, talcum powder, and cologne together where he can see it in the bathroom. Then with your lipstick, draw a big red heart on the bathroom mirror. Then make an arrow pointing to the shaving stuff, deodorant, etc. Then put some lipstick on your lips and kiss the mirror. (Don't worry, it's easy to wipe off.) This is very sexy and unless he's dead, he'll get the message. Next, put a lace nightgown, spray a yourself and the bedclothes with a lovely fragrance, and I guarantee you this will pep up your marriage. If your husband is one of those who just sits in the bathtub and expects you to be loving anyway, keep moving. Also, spray the room with air freshener, say, lavender. All the time you're shaving and when you're thru, keep fanning the air with a newspaper. I am no nut. I'm a married woman with four kids by three different husbands and none of my marriages has been dull. Life is short, girls, so be it, and love it up. I never met a man I didn't find sexy in some way.

DEAR ABBY: My parents were divorced when I was 24. My mother received no child support, and my father never remembered me on my birthday or Christmas. It was like I never had a father. My mother is now in the process of divorcing her fourth husband, and my father was just divorced by his third wife. And guess what? My parents have "re-discovered" each other and are planning to get married!

Hendrickson, East Helena, Mont., were united in marriage at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple on June 6. After the wedding ceremony, solemnized by Pres. Arravie, the wedding party was feted at a luncheon held at The Star Dust in Idaho Falls by the groom's parents. That evening the young couple received guests at the Carey LDS Cultural Hall. The hall was decorated with white streamers accented by bouquets of pink daisies. At each end of the receiving line were bouquets of white net and pink daisies, and the bride couple stood under a white arch twined with greenery and white carnations. The bride wore a daisy embroidered lace gown with chapel train, a pearl embroidered bow head piece veil and carried a white carnation bouquet centered with a removable gold throuated Catalpa orchid. Maid of honor was Mary Lou Taylor, Blackfoot; matron of honor, Mrs. Larry Allred, Moscow, and bridesmaids, Peggy Hunt, sister of the bride, and Julia Hendrickson, sister of the bridegroom. A rose in a frosted styrofoam vase centered each pink cloth covered quartet table. The serving table was covered with a full gathered dotted swiss overskirt tablecloth. A num. ribbon heading held clusters of white daisies with pink centers. The five tier wedding cake, featuring pink daisies and shaded pink roses was baked and decorated by Mrs. Leon Peck. The cake top was an arrangement of white frosted ice balls, lily of the valley and lace. Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Floyd Meacham, aunt of the bride. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Boyd Barton, Mrs. Grant Patterson, and Mrs. Keith Hunt, aunts of the bride, presided at the cake table. Bonnie Briggs, Joan Hunt, Susie Simpson and Cindy Murdock served, while Wesley Hunt and Linda Hunt passed napkins. Food and drink was carried by Mrs. Ken Meacham, Mrs. Vincent Olsen, and Dale Hunt. Friends and relatives in charge of decorating were Mrs. Gale Roberts, Mrs. Wayne Peterson, Mrs. Milton Earne, Mrs. John Briggs, Mrs. Boyd Barton and Mrs. Claude Hartkins. Kitchen aides were Mrs. Alton Patterson, Mrs. H. B. Phillips, Mrs. Jim Peterson, and Mrs. John Briggs. Jane Peck, Salt Lake City, presided at the guest book. A short program announced by Keith Hunt, uncle of the bride, presented a quartet, LaDean and Jean Stocking, Bill Hunt and Edward Thatcher, who sang "More" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" accompanied by Mrs. Wallace Stocking. MEET PIE CHALLENGE
Pie — specifically pie crust — is a challenge to the novice cook. Often it's first on the bride's "help wanted" list. Yet because pastry can be tricky it is the very reason a woman takes such pride in turning out a perfect pie. To achieve that perfection of crust, follow pastry recipe carefully. Use lard for tender, flaky crust.

Congress Ducks Gun-Control Fuss

By WILLIAM B. MEAD WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gun control appears a dead issue in Congress this year and perhaps next, barring another dramatic assassination.

They've proved that the gun nuts were right," said one congressional source who worked on gun control for two years. "When this whole flap started, the immediate reaction of gun lovers was, 'You bastards, you are trying to get my gun, and here it is.'"

There was little congressional impetus anyway. The Nixon administration asked to testify told a Senate subcommittee this week it was against all proposals aimed at requiring registration of guns and licensing of their owners.

POOR PLAY AIDS IN BAD BREAKS

South went right up with dummy's ace of clubs and lost no time playing ace and a small diamond. He ruffed the next club, ruffed a diamond and started happily after trumps. When East showed out on the second trump, South stopped to study the hand but the board had settled without him. He had to go down one trick.

South remarked, "I guess I bid too much, but the contract was all right. Trumps just never break for me."

The contract was a good one indeed, and South could have made it had break and all. If he had just played with a little caution.

At trick two, he should have ruffed a club. Then he could have played ace and another diamond. East would almost surely have won the diamond and would have seen no reason not to lead another club. South would trump that also, ruff his last diamond in dummy and then lead trumps. East would show out on the second trump lead but that wouldn't hurt South. He would simply lead a spade to dummy's ace, ruff dummy's last club with his last low trump and wind up making all of his six trumps.

West would still make his jack of trumps but he would ruff his partner's good spade with it.

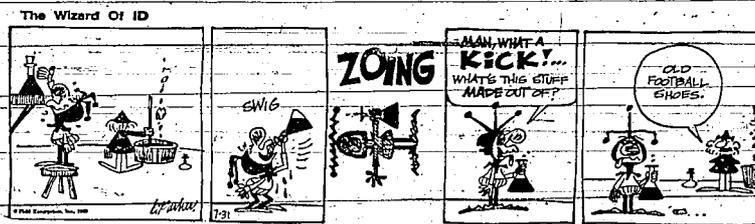

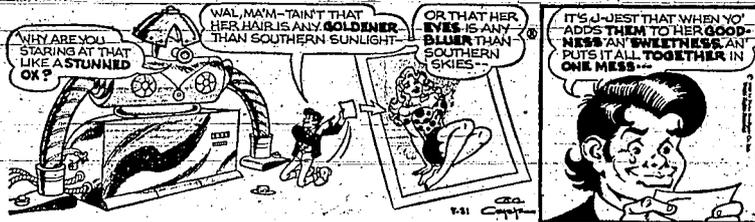

Of course, there was some risk to this line of play. West, given only one club, together with three trumps to the jack, might scrounge a club to set an otherwise win-down contract. Furthermore, the hand still could have been better if East had just led a trump instead of a club when he got in with the diamond. South would never be able to score his three small trumps.

Reader Pacifies Wife With Supply Of 'Teddy Bears'

TEDDY BEARS—Whenever credited with the creation of the teddy bear, a fight with his barefaced, baseness, bumps, wife, he buys her a stuffed teddy bear to make up. That is the sentimental custom of a certain district, a dwindle, eventual, sure husband, His wife has been fond of such toys since her grade school days. Went to a party at their place the other night. He parks his car in the street. He showed me why. Their garage is full—I mean shoulder-high—of stuffed teddy bears.

INFIRMATES—Of George Burns and Betty White, who have been together for 30 years, Burns says: "I don't know how she does it. I think of that? Could this be another ditty? I wish they'd revive it. That thing called 'Your Mother-Ride-a-Bike-with-a-Baby on the Handlebars?' until just 16 MORE YEARS ago. I don't know how she does it again. Will you wait?"

WHAT—was the world's first daily newspaper? asks a subscriber of Frankfurt, Germany, in 1615 A. D. ... THE SHORTER YOU CUT your lawn, the more apt it is to sprout crabgrass, reports a horticulturist on a rack of inebriation. Because, he says, it alternates every glass of liquor with a glass of plain water, drinking each with equal nonchalance.

RAPID REPLY: No, sir, never did any roast kangaroo. Don't let me expect to either. Have already developed more tastes than I can satisfy as is. COVETED SILVER SMOKEY statuette was awarded to Barney Wozniak, director of the "Keep Idaho Green" program, at the Western Governors' Conference in Seattle Wednesday.

Keep Idaho Green Chief Is Awarded Silver Statuette

Barney Wozniak, joyful and energetic director of the "Keep Idaho Green" program, received the coveted Silver Smokey Statuette in a special ceremony at the Western Governors' Conference held in Seattle, Wash., July 30.

The silver replica of Smokey Bear was awarded to Mr. Wozniak by Gov. Don Samuelson and Chief of the Forest Service Edward P. Clift. Only three silver Smokeys are given each year to people who have made outstanding contributions to the cause of fire prevention.

The Advertising Council, Inc., the National Association of State Foresters and the U.S. Forest Service join in sponsoring the award through the Cooperative Forest Fire Prevention program. The Cooperative Forest Service Fire Prevention program strives to prevent resource losses caused by wild fire, whether or not on public or private land.

As director of the Keep Idaho Green program since 1958, Mr. Wozniak has channeled much energy and enthusiasm into promoting forest and range fire prevention. In official and unofficial time devoted to achieving a fully coordinated fire prevention program he continues to "think green" during his own time.

The result is many unusual and exciting displays, float program activities and gimmicks to capture the imagination and attention of the public. Mr. Wozniak works closely with the U.S. Forest Service and other federal and state agencies and organizations in Idaho. He uses the Cooperative Forest Fire Prevention program and makes it a significant part of the total Keep Idaho Green forest fire prevention program.

'Decontamination' Of Rock Exasperates Geologists

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The notion that Apollo 11 might have brought a moon plume back to earth is frustrating geologists and other physical scientists aching to get to work on those priceless rocks now quarantined in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory at Houston.

Said one geologist: "Just because hammer and a hand lens and a couple of minutes to tell me things nobody ever knew before about the moon."

"We'll have to wait until the biologists are satisfied. At the moment, all the physical scientists can do is look at the rocks through a window and make guesses."

School Trustees Hold T.F. Meet, Call For Bids

Twin Falls school trustees met in special session this week to review the bookkeeping methods used by the elementary and junior high schools and discussed ways of improving the system.

Riddle, Roth, Evans and Evans, the accounting firm retained by the school district, reviewed the accounting system with the trustees.

Another purpose for the Apollo 11. So the present show of caution at Houston, he reasoned, is a "probably" futile attempt to forestall future criticism.

3 Californians Injured In Crash

Three Carlsbad, Calif., people were treated for injuries Tuesday night at Maple Valley Memorial Hospital following a two-car accident 10 miles southwest of Twin Falls on Highway 30 near Berger.

Don Eckhardt, 55; Maxine Eckhardt, 56; and George Eckhardt, 81, were treated and released at the hospital.

According to State Patrolman Everett Waddell, Ray Johnson, 26, Route 2, Twin Falls, started to turn right in his pickup truck and was struck from behind by the Eckhardt vehicle. Mr. Eckhardt said the other vehicle had its left turn signal on and he started to pass it. Neither Mr. Johnson nor Blaine C. Kirkland, 39, Twin Falls, were injured.

The patrolman cited Mr. Johnson for an improper turn and Mr. Eckhardt for improper passing.
