Fisherman Drowns After Heart Attack

HAILEY — The body of a 71-year-old Idaho, Calif., fisherman was found in the Big Wood River near the Bullion Street Bridge Monday afternoon.

Charles S. Tune, who had a history of heart trouble, had a heart attack and then fell into the water and drowned, according to Dr. A. Scott Zarle, Blaine county coroner.

Mr. Tune's body was spotted by Martin Walker, Kuna, who was fishing below the bridge and notified officers.

Sheriff Orville Drexler and Deputy Doug Williams recovered the body about one-quarter of a mile downstream and had it carry it about 300 yards through heavy timber.

Mr. Tune had on wading boots. He and his wife have spent the past several summers here and have a cabin near the Bullion Street Bridge in a community called Little Lindo, because several families from Lindo, formerly there, live on the edge of the Hailey city limits near the river.

Mr. Tune was an ardent fisherman. He was born Aug. 31, 1897. The body is at Bird Funeral Home.

Government Crisis Ends For Italy

ROME (UPI)—Italy's month-old government crisis ended today for the time being.

Acting Premier Mariano Rumor announced he has succeeded in forming a minority government of his own Christian Democratic party, which lacks a majority in Parliament and that it will be sworn in Wednesday.

The new government was formed to avoid the necessity of calling national elections in which Italy's big Communist party probably could gain votes after a summer of strikes and student demonstrations.

Rumor was able to form the cabinet when one partner in his old coalition government promised not to vote against it and another said it would vote with it.

The Christian Democratic party is a bigger party than the opposition Communists and can out vote them in Parliament.

War Flares

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Police dashed through flames 20 feet high early today in pursuit of rival Catholic and Protestant gangs whose fire-bombing and street warfare continued into its fourth straight day.

Police trying to separate the mobs, battling over ancient religious hatreds, were struck by loaded garbage cans flung from doorways and upper windows. Gasoline bombs burst in shells paths, sometimes setting uniforms ablaze.

At least four buildings were in flames Monday night from firebombs. They burned uncontrolled because firemen were assaulted by more Molotov cocktails and chunks of paving stones.

Allies Slash Red Convoy Of Bicycles

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied troops killed 81 North Vietnamese in a series of engagements including a helicopter assault on a convoy supply-laden Communist bicycles and motor scooters in the jungle, military spokesmen said today.

In the Mekong Delta where South Vietnamese are gradually taking over most of the fighting, Saigon troops overran a Communist position near Rayong, 61 miles southwest of Saigon Monday and killed 40 Viet Cong. In a battle lasting several hours, the South Vietnamese captured four of the Communists and two mortars, nine rifles and other munitions, while suffering light casualties to themselves.

Other helicopter gunships backed by American infantrymen killed 12 Communists in a clash 23 miles northwest of Saigon along with five others killed 120 miles northeast of Saigon.

Communist terrorists in the Central Highlands blew up an administration office in Tuy Hoa Village 92 miles northeast of Saigon, killing a policeman and wounding the village chief and another civilian, spokesmen said.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

Mars Photos Show Mysterious Marks

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Mariner 7's closeup pictures of Mars early today exhibited in "fantastic detail" a bewildering variety of surface features on the already mysterious planet, including a bright spiral marking dubbed "The Great Shoelace."

The spectacular flashes by the Mariner 7 south polar cap Monday night and snapped 31 pictures, from 2,000 miles away. These photos and ones taken earlier in the evening as Mariner 7 streaked toward the planet were displayed live on screens at Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

In addition to the spiral formation, other unexplained features included cloudlike white areas near the polar cap and dark, linear spots on the surface.

Part of the problem was that one live picture was based on a one-seventh of what Mariner 7's television cameras actually saw. A black horizontal bar running across the middle of the photos, which carried electronic data, further obscured the image.

"These pictures are going to be very valuable," said Dr. Robert F. Leighton, head of the photo analysis section. The complete pictures were stored in a tape recorder and will be played back to earth tonight.

The immediate analysis of the photos came in off-the-cuff remarks by scientists assembled at JPL. Definitive conclusions must await processing by what controllers call "the boys in the back room" and their computers.

"Of 'The Great Shoelace,' one spokesman said, "The markings have a bewildering radiating pattern and he cautioned about coming up with any instant scientific conclusions.

The south polar cap and the cloudlike formations over some sections were variously described by observers as frost, dust haze, fog and rime. One of Mariner 7's objectives was to find out whether the bright, white cap is frozen water or frozen carbon dioxide.

If the cap is ice, it must be extremely thin because the Martian atmosphere is dryer than desert air on earth.

The pictures also showed the dark linear patches that have been called "canals" by some astronomers. One scientist said they were "linear segments, let's not use the words canals."

Contract For Voting Machines Signed

Signatures of all three Twin Falls County commissioners were affixed to a lease contract Monday afternoon, making Twin Falls County the first in the state of Idaho to accept automatic voting.

The contract, signed with the Automatic Voting Machine Co., Jamestown, N.Y., will give the county 90 machines for the 1970 primary and general elections, and possibly for future elections.

Terms of the contract provide the county may return the machines if they are not satisfactory at the end of 1970. If they are acceptable, the first year's lease payment of just over $10,000 will apply to the purchase price.

Morris C. Carlson, who said he signed the contract with the county, said he would, however, join the two other county officials in educating the public and election workers to use the mechanical voting equipment.

Adding he feels there are a few things the county needs more, he said the machines, which will install and if paid for over a 10-year period, would cost $205,000, should be delayed for a time.

Frank Williams, representative of the Automatic Voting Machine Co., said Twin Falls is the first county to purchase the machines, but both Ada and Benewah are considering the possibility.

Commissioners noted about 45 percent of the total county's vote is cast by automatic voting machines and that 120,000 communities in the United States use voting machines.

Mr. Williams said at least one or two machines will be here in time for the Twin Falls County election.

Chief Seeks Five Men To Beef Up Addison Patrol

By RICHARD HIGH JR.
Times-News Staff Writer

Twin Falls Police Chief Frank Barnett Monday asked a 25 percent increase in the strength of his patrol force following repeated complaints of mounting disturbances along Addison Avenue-West.

He was backed in his request for five new patrolmen by City Manager Herb Derrick.

At the same time, the police chief took a swipe at two groups of businesses in that area — the drive-in restaurants and the motel and hotel industry.

Both Mr. Derrick and Chief Barnett mentioned an additional complication. They indicated the motel owners may be complaining about the strip disturbances as a lover to have the drive-ins closed by the city.

Chief Barnett linked the mounting disturbances to a long strike with a shooting incident that took place early Saturday.

But, he said, the city police officer cannot make an arrest on a misdemeanor charge unless he personally witnesses the misdemeanor — which is unlikely — or a citizen files a complaint against the lawbreaker.

Chief Barnett told the councilmen the police force has had as few as three men in patrol establishments.

On the other hand, he said, the motel owners who call in most of the complaints have proven unwilling to sign formal complaints against the troublemakers, thus tying the hands of the policemen.

The chief explained that a police officer cannot make an arrest on a misdemeanor charge unless he personally witnesses the misdemeanor — which is unlikely — or a citizen files a complaint against the lawbreaker.

On some shifts, owing to illness and men on vacation.

He said the five additional men are needed to insure that an adequate number of men are on patrol duty each shift.

"We should be able to have enough men to have a stable group of five men on each shift — through vacation and illness," Chief Barnett said.

The chief recommended to the council that, as an immediate step to reduce disturbances on the strip, drive-in owners be required to keep an adult on duty to remove the loiterers and to Ground was broken Monday afternoon on the 14-acre site of the Longview Fiber Co., where a new Twin Falls processing plant and several cartons will be erected.

The site is located on South Pine Street in the Idaho-Frozen Food Co. plant.

Fire Causes Heavy Damage To Wendell Office Complex

WENDELL — A fire, believed to have been caused by the explosion of a gas water heater, caused between $40,000 and $50,000 damage to the McNutt Office building on Shoshone Street in Wendell Monday evening.

No one was injured in the blaze, reports Fire Chief E. E. Farr, but the furnishings in the building were damaged either by smoke or water.

The 1960 Willys truck, driven by Mark Hodges, 48, Paul, burst into flames and was demolished after it struck a concrete embankment and overturned.

Hodges and another passenger, Danny George, 15, Rupert, also were injured in the accident in the Burley Hospital.

Access Suit Filed Over Silver Creek

HAILEY — A suit seeking free access to Silver Creek for the use of fishermen has been filed in district court here by six sportsmen and the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association, Twin Falls.

The case, which will be heard by Judge Charles Scoggin, is the culmination of several years of negotiations between the area sportsmen and landowners along the famed fly fishing creek.

They ask a declaratory judgment against the Pibco Livestock Co. and demand that Silver Creek be designated a navigable stream within the laws of Idaho; that it be designated a public highway for fishermen who want to use the waters and banks up to the high water line, and ask that the stream be opened for business of pleasure to carry boats or other craft around any obstructions in the stream.

Filing the complaint were William C. Malberg, Leonard Miller, Earl Abelson, Jack R. Spencer, Leslie L. Hazen and Garth Stephens and the Southern Idaho Fish and Game Association. The suit is against the Pibco Livestock Co.

The defendant corporation reportedly owns 3,800 acres of riparian land along Silver Creek. The creek is about 20 miles long and empties into the Little Wood River at what is known as Silver Falls. The stream is world-known and is reported one of the best fly fishing streams in the world. The plaintiffs allege this stream is a navigable stream on which boats carry many people at all times of the year. They also allege the creek has carried timber and logs in the past, carrying them from the Livestock land to a market place.

Reportedly some of the six men tried to float and fish the stream last year, but an official of the defendant corporation.

The plaintiffs allege the defendant corporation does not own the bed of the creek and has the right of ownership only above the high water line of the creek.

The plaintiffs ask the defendant be restrained from interfering with the rights of the plaintiffs or any other persons "similarly situated."

The sportsmen indicate in their suit the negotiations with ranchers in the area had been under way for several years and it was believed progress was being made until the Pibco Livestock Co. purchased the Double R Ranch, formerly the Holger Albrecht ranch.

The fisherman also contend that the Pibco Livestock Co. plans to make the stream which flows through its land into private membership only fishery.

Moon Rocks Believed 'Different'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Astronaut Neil Armstrong celebrated his 39th birthday in quarantine today while scientists studying lunar rocks pondered the age and origin of the moon.

Armstrong's birthday fête was a plain vanilla cake with 26 candles—all the candles available in the isolation area in which Apollo 11's moon adventures are confined.

One scientist, who helped Monday to sort the final and largest box of moon material returned to earth by Apollo 11, said the material is "quite different" from the earth. Dr. Jeff Warner said he feels the discovery of one-molten rock in the moon samples will settle the "hot-moon-cold-moon" controversy.

The rocks and the astronauts are quarantined in separate parts of the $115 million Lunar Receiving Laboratory, Ellsworth in the lab, scientists used the most sensitive gamma radiation counter known in the world to try to learn how old the moon rocks are, and what they are made of.

Later studies outside the laboratory, after the rocks are released, are expected to help determine whether the moon was once volcanically active.

Captives Freed By Reds Reach Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Three American prisoners of war released Monday by North Vietnam arrived today in Vientiane aboard a plane of the International Control Commission (ICC). They were accompanied by a group of American pacifists who went to Hanoi after them.

The three men were one Air Force and one Navy pilot and an apprentice seaman who fell overboard from the guided missile cruiser USS Canberra in the Gulf of Tonkin and was captured. Their release brought to nine the total of U.S. prisoners released by Hanoi since January, 1968. Of the eight were pilots.

The three men released were Navy 1st Lt. (ig) Robert Franklin, 28, a pilot of San Antonio; Capt. Capt. Capt. Westley R. Rumble, 29, of Oroville, Calif., and Navy Seaman Douglas Brent Hagdahl, 22, of Clark, S.C. All three appeared in good health.

The men had been given blue trousers and white shirts by the North Vietnamese to replace their prison uniforms. They were greeted at the Vientiane airport by U.S. officials who conferred with them and the pacifists led by Renard C. Davis, 28, of Chicago, a representative of the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, on how to return to America.

The men were expected to remain in Vientiane overnight and return to the United States via commercial plane via Bangkok late Wednesday afternoon, U.S. officials in Bangkok had booked reservations for New York.

However the Americans also had a U.S. Air Force C47 standing by to take them to U.S. air base at Udorn, Thailand, should they prefer military transportation.

The reason for this was that Hanoi authorities expressed displeasure after former U.S. Ambassador William Sullivan ordered the first three Americans to use military transportation when they arrived in Vietnam in January, 1968.

The Pentagon is giving American servicemen 976 and 340 captured in North or South Vietnam. Most are flown down over the North before the bombing of North Vietnam was halted.

NEW DESIGNS WILL begin appearing on Mountain States Telephone Co. equipment as plans to change the firm's name to Mountain Bell were announced this week. Besides changing the telephone company's name, a new seal and new color combination will be used.

Mountain Bell--That Has A New Ring

Mountain States Telephone today announced plans to change its name to "Mountain Bell." Also planned are replacement of green trucks by brightly colored ones — complete with competition strips — and introduction of modern new emblem for company equipment and buildings.

John E. Lattin, Idaho, vice president and general manager, said the company is changing to "Mountain Bell" for brevity and to provide easier identification with the nationwide Bell telephone system and its research and development capability.

Familiar, olive green telephone company trucks will gradually be replaced by two-tone ones: white on top and gray-green on bottom, with reflective blue and yellow competition strips separating the two body colors.

White tops are expected to lower the temperature inside the vehicles by as much as 10 degrees during warm weather. The reflective striping is designed for safety to increase the night visibility of company cars and trucks.

Also scheduled for design overall is the traditional Bell seal, which has served as the trademark for Bell System Co. since its inception in 1889. The Blue Bell in a circle will become bolder and more contemporary and the phrase Bell System will be removed.

The new telephone company design program is intended to "make us look like the advanced communication organization we are," Mr. Lattin explained.

"We think our newly designed appearance will provide the crisp, contemporary look which better reflects our modern operations."

Mr. Lattin said the design changes will not be widely apparent in Idaho for sometime. "We have chosen to make the changes gradually, rather than going to the expense of replacing material and equipment all at once," he said.

As new vehicles are purchased under normal replacement schedule they will be painted and striped with the new colors. The new colors will also be used as present green cars and trucks need repainting.

When present inventories of stationary and bills are used up, the new design will also appear on company correspondence.

The new name and modern Bell seal will begin appearing in Idaho company ads — scheduled for release early next week. Company buildings, as well as telephone directories and other publications, are scheduled to carry the new design in the future.

Coroner Ordered Reinstated After Recent Hearing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—County Administrative Officer Lindong S. Hollinger said Monday he still feels the charges he brought against County Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi were factual and the recommendation that he be dismissed was proper.

Dr. Noguchi was reinstated in the post by the civil service commission last week after being ousted by the county supervisors last March 18 on the basis of a Hollinger report.

Hollinger said that since Noguchi had been reinstated he would treat him "like any other department head."

Hollinger had charged Noguchi berated employees, prayed for disasters, used pills, had said he would like to perform a live autopsy on Hollinger and was in need of psychiatric care.

Two Young Girls Found Murdered

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Two teen-age girls, whose knife-mutilated bodies were found near a narrow twisting trail used by motorcyclists, were murdered somewhere else, police said Monday.

San Jose Chief of Detectives Barton L. Collins said "absolutely nothing new" had been uncovered by search teams poking through rugged underbrush just south of Blossom Hill Road where the bodies of the two teenagers were found Sunday.

"The only thing we know for sure is that they weren't killed where they were found," Collins said.

Each of the victims had been stabbed more than 50 times in the back-and-chest with a thin blade, probably a pocket knife or switchblade, he said.

"They had to have been brought to where they were found," Collins said, because the blood was discovered along with the bodies. He speculated that the girls, who were on a picnic in the area, were first kidnapped and taken somewhere else to be killed and were then brought back to the spot where they were found.

The bodies of Deborah Gay Farlow, 14, and Kathy Smoey, 16, who were classmates at Oakgrove High School in South San Jose, were found by a motorcyclist among a grove of trees in a hilly area laced with riding trails bikers use for scrambling.

Collins said "neither" of the girls appeared to have been sexually molested — and their clothing was intact.

WASHINGTON — Despite continuing political demands for tactical change in combat orders to U.S. soldiers in South Vietnam, present battlefield tactics worked out by Gen. Creighton

W. Abrams, the commanding U.S. general, will not be changed even if the fighting lull goes on.

The reason for this firm decision by Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird is that fewer U.S. lives are lost as a result of offensive actions against enemy concentrations, particularly actions to locate and destroy enemy rocket caches, than would be lost if search-and-destroy operations continued to disarm the enemy offensive — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, reported back to Laird after his recent trip to Vietnam that the Communist summer offensive did not get beyond the point of heavy rocket attacks and small-unit assaults against exposed U.S. positions.

Moreover, Boggs' oil move could improve the deteriorating prospects of becoming Speaker of the House. The House Majority Whip had alienated liberal Democrats by his aggressive support of President Nixon's virus extension. Now some of these liberals are praising Boggs' stand on oil.

It's No Surprise

WASHINGTON — No citizen with an IQ somewhat above that of a retarded street-odd should be surprised by the outpouring of support for Sen. Teddy Kennedy by his Massachusetts neighbors. They've been given only a few minutes of the events involving the drowning of Mary Jo Kopechne.

In his statement to police Kennedy said that after diving from the boat he saw a young woman, and he walked the more than a mile back to the cottage where he and his friends had been partying. There he said, he collapsed in a car and later asked someone to drive him back to his hotel in Edgartown. He told a different story on TV.

Well, forgiveness is one of the higher virtues, and the rich and powerful should not be excluded from its realm. Indeed, in an era in which cosmetics plays a leading role in the game of politics, Teddy Kennedy has a great deal going for him. He has a handsome face, and I wonder if they are present in a young man who admitted that, in his hour of ordeal, "all kinds of scrambled thoughts" — some of them irrational — went through his mind, including the thought that there might be "some justifiable reason for me to be in the boat, and I'd like to delay my report, whether somehow the awful weight of this incredible incident might in some way pass from my shoulders."

Mary Jo's death, in truth, was an "awful weight" on the Kennedy family, including that which burdens a President of the United States with his finger on the nuclear trigger.

Where Now?

The Great Moon Race has been won. The most costly and technically difficult goal-directed effort in the nation's history, aside from its major wars, has been crowned with complete success.

What now? Is the manned landing on the moon really to be that giant leap into a new era for mankind, or are we just going to chalk it up as an impressive technological stunt and get down to more important business on earth?

There is no lack of advice and comment from leading thinkers. Some of it ranges from the less-than-sublime to the more-than-rigorous.

In the opinion of British historian Arnold J. Toynbee, "Going to the moon is like building the pyramids or Louis XIV's palace at Versailles. It's rather scandalous, when human beings are going short of necessities to do this."

To flippant philosopher Marshall McLuhan, "The moon shot is strictly Jules Verne. Let's face it. It belongs to 1850."

One suspects that if the social critics didn't have space spending to attack, they would be hard-pressed to find a substitute. It could be argued that it is precisely because of the moon-landing project that we have become so conscious of our neglected earthly needs and so confident that they can be met.

It seems more than a coincidence that the same decade that witnessed the massive, single-minded effort of landing a man on the moon also witnessed the first massive assault on the nation's problems of poverty, ignorance and social inequity.

It is to be hoped that Lewis' fears are unfounded and that the glorious success of the Apollo project will give us the inspiration we need to duplicate that success with humanitarian goals on earth. As former President Johnson said after the launching of Apollo 11:

"If the great managers of industry, the laboring people, the government, the scientists, all with the help of Congress, can get together and do a job like this, there's just nothing we can't do."

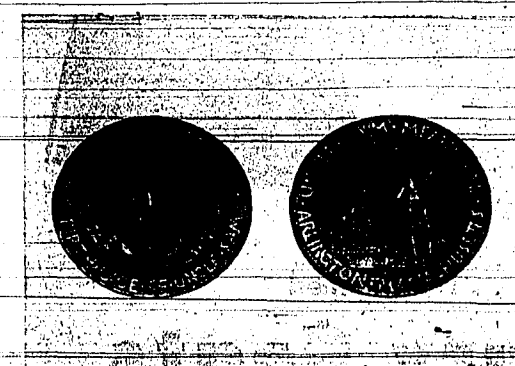

Which is another way of phrasing that familiar expression, "Any nation that can put a man on the moon ought to be able to..."

Shall we enshrine our lunar rocks in our museums and phase out the infant space age with the remaining Apollo shots?

British astronomer Sir Bernard Lovell: "If you look at the thousands of years of civilization, you will find that only those communities that have been prepared to struggle with the nearly insoluble problems at the limits of their technical capability — those are the only communities, the only times, that civilization has advanced."

Agriculture Department Insures Loan To Build Controversial Golf Course

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has agreed to insure a $265,000 loan to build a golf course in the district of a powerful Southern conservative although one of its "guidelines" was not met in the loan application. An official of the department's Farmers Home Administration, which approved the loan, said Monday, however, that no regulation was overridden or ignored in the case. The "guideline" which was not met in the loan to the all-white Natchez Trace Golf Club Inc. near Sallisville, Miss., involved the amount of debt for each member of the club. Danton E. Sprague, director of the FIA's Association Loan Division, said the agency examines all recreation loan applications, although one of its proposed loan will average over $1,000 per member family. FIA approved the Mississippi loan last month on the basis of an application showing 221 members. The average loan per member approved was thus $1,195. "But another FIA spokesman reported the club's membership has since risen to about 250, and Sprague said the enrollment was expected to rise to 200, creating a debt average of $1,010. In any case, Sprague said, the $1,000 average debt figure was not a fixed limit or a regulation. He said it was not unusual for the FIA to approve recreation projects with a debt average slightly over $1,000. If study showed the borrowing association would have the ability to repay the debts, the official added,

Selective Service Officials Charge Draft Chief With 'Meddling'

By STEVEN A. COHEN

NEW-BRITAIN, Conn. (UPI)—The outgoing chairman of the National Selective Service Appeal Board and a board member who resigned last month charge that Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, runs roughshod over the supposedly independent board.

In fact, the member who resigned, Dr. Kenneth W. Clement of Branford, Ohio, charged Hershey with "meddling" and "interference" in the board's activities. He was replaced by a civilian since "for some time now, he has been unable to distinguish between himself and the Selective Service."

Judge Henry J. Gwiazda of

New Britain, the outgoing appeal board chairman, said the selective service system "is a mess" and "meddling" in the board's activities impeded justice in many draft cases and should be aimed at reducing the board to a rubber stamp for Hershey's policies.

"We are not only under General Hershey's thumb, we are actually subject to him," Gwiazda told UPI in an interview.

Gwiazda, who has submitted his resignation from the board at the request of President Nixon, said Hershey, 75, appointed director in 1948 by President Harry S. Truman, has used his position to quash board options which, by executive order, are supposed to be independent of the director of the selective service system.

"Most intolerable has been the board's inability to appoint an executive secretary—who must not be affiliated with the military," Gwiazda said. "The executive secretary of the National Selective Service Appeal Board is the key man, according to Gwiazda, responsible for running the board's Washington office and most important, for funneling information about the draft application to the three board members whose final decision carries the weight of the President."

Gwiazda said Hershey had offered him Col. Francis S. Drath and Col. George J.

Wendel—both of the Selective Service staff to brief the cases. "Wendel," according to Gwiazda, had even gone so far as to say he "could only brief the cases part time," because he had commitments to the Selective Service System.

Gwiazda pointed out that the Universal Military Training and Service Act of 1948 requires that the board be civilian and completely independent of the Selective Service System—and the director of the Selective Service.

Gwiazda said Hershey has used one paragraph of that act, which says the Selective Service System must provide compensation, offices and other necessary facilities at its headquarters—to give himself budget control and power over the board.

Gwiazda said he had recently requested Col. Robert T. Hays, retired head of the legal division of the Selective Service, to fill the post of executive secretary. Hays fit the civilian bill because he had retired, Gwiazda said, and he met all the qualifications because he was a lawyer and was familiar with the administration of Selective Service laws.

Gwiazda said the appointment was not permitted by Hershey "because we would then have a man as competent as the man running Hershey's legal division."

Gwiazda said he had issued a directive to Col. Thomas M.

Pickie, chief of the Administrative Division of the Selective Service to instruct Hays on the personnel rules. "It was there that I obviously had stepped on the director's toes," Gwiazda said. "It was the board members were called in by Hershey, and it was pointed out to us that he is the one in charge of this personnel thing, and he is the one who is going to furnish us the people and that we, or I, have no authority to issue directives." This sort of meddling, and the handling of personnel, according to Gwiazda, is done by Hershey under the guise of "services" also required of the director under the 1948 act.

Accounting Panel Asks Revamping Of Land-Sale Routine

BY PAUL M. QUINN

BOISE (UPI)—The Bureau of Public Accounts, in an audit report on the Fish and Game Department's land sale routine, is strengthening procedures surrounding the sale of state lands, including vesting of purchase and resale powers solely with the State Land Board.

The Fish and Game Department currently act on their own in many of the matters.

It was recommended that Idaho assign the holding, set purchase and trade of all land by the state to a single department.

"The State Land Board would be assigned this duty as it was created by the State Constitution whereas the other state agencies obtained their power to deal in land through statute and can be relieved of their power by the legislature. It would seem appropriate

Michigan, California Murder Series Linked

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UPI)—Police today investigated a "striking similarities" between two murder series—one in Michigan and five in California who may have died by a two-country killing spree by a cross-country killer.

Police here and in California said there were "striking similarities" including earnings missing from many of the victims—that suggested the same person or persons could have been responsible for the "murders" in Michigan and California deaths.

While John Norman Collins remained in his Washnetaw County maximum security jail, police here and in California searched for 8-foot-tall, 235-pound Andrew Manuel, 25, Richard Diaz, whose last known address was the rooming house Collins lived at in this university community.

Collins and Manuel, 25, alias Richard Diaz, whose last known address was the rooming house Collins lived at in this university community.

Collins and Manuel were believed to have been in California together in June and July. Police said the pair used Collins' car to tow a trailer pulled by Manuel, but they returned without the trailer.

"During the time of your California visit, four young women were slain there—three in the Salinas, Calif., area and one near Yreka—Collins, about 300 miles southeast of Salinas. Those murders occurred between June 23 and July 15.

Police also investigated a possible connection between those deaths and that of Marina Elizabeth Hays, 47, daughter of novelist Hans Hays and actress Elsie Hays, who was slain in the Hollywood Hills last fall. She was abducted from the driveway of her mother's home.

The body of the sixth Michigan victim—raped, stabbed and shot through the head—was found June 8, before Collins and Manuel took their California trip, police said. The next victim, Karen Sue Belter, 23, was slain July 27 after they returned, police said.

Collins is charged with first-degree murder in the death of Elizabeth Hays, who was said to have been murdered in the home of State Police Cpl. David Leik, Collins' uncle, who was vacationing at the time.

Genealogists Open First Utah Conclave

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—An "impressive assembly" of genealogists, historians, archivists and librarians gathered here Monday for the first annual world conference on records, which was to open today.

In greeting the 280 speakers and special guests, Howard W. Hunter said, "This is an impressive assembly. There have been conferences before, but never before have groups of people gathered in these phases of recordkeeping gathered in one place."

Hunter is president of the organization hosting the conference, the Genealogical Society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormons). He said that insects, mold, fire, floods and usage cause the deterioration of records and "when they deteriorate, they are useless."

"To said the purpose of the conference was to gather the expertise of all types in preserving and exchanging records.

Hugh B. Brown, counselor in the first presidency of the church, conducted a convocation preliminary to the conference on Sunday night.

Hunter said the church is dedicated to recording, preserving and safeguarding valuable records. He added that the church solicits the cooperation of records officials throughout the world in this endeavor.

The result is a collection of 670,000 rolls of microfilm stored in the Granite Mountain record vault, or some 975 million pages of data.

Ken Stryker-Rodda of Elizabeth, N. J., president of the American Society of Genealogists, said, "There is no comparison between the compilation in this vault and any other collection in the world."

Stryker-Rodda added that his society plans to present a certificate of appreciation, awarded only three times in the past, to the Genealogical Society for its efforts in the field.

Sen. Bennett Demands End To Utah's 'Air Isolation'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, this morning urged the Utah Aeronautics Board to end Utah's air route isolation.

Bennett's field representative delivered the message at a CAB hearing here.

He called for a "chevrollet service," stating United holds a "monopoly position with respect to 80 per cent of Salt Lake City's most frequently traveled markets."

"As a result of this monopoly position," he said, "Salt Lake City has become a satellite neighborhood for Denver."

Bennett said, "It is simply time to recognize the fact that Salt Lake City is no longer a satellite city. It should not be saddled with satellite-type service."

The key cities involved in this case generated a total of 223,440 true origin and destination passengers in 1957. The Salt Lake International Airport—one of the major terminals in the intermountain area—receives feeder traffic from a six-state area, including a population of some 450,000 in southern Idaho," Bennett added.

The Utah Republican said that the Beehive State's position also requires new air service to major cities. Bennett said, "We now have approximately 1,600,000 persons in Utah with a projected population of 1,351,000 by 1960. Seventy-seven per cent of this population resides within 40 miles of Salt Lake City."

Telephone Utility To Change Name

BOISE (UPI)—Mountain States Telephone Monday announced plans to change its name to "Mountain Bell" to provide easier identification with the nationwide Bell Telephone System and its research and development capabilities.

John E. Lattin, Idaho vice president general manager, said the name change would also mean a briefer title for the company.

Also planned are replacement of the green tricolor by brightly-colored ones and introduction of a modern new emblem for company equipment and buildings.

The traditional bell seal has served as trademark for the Bell System companies since its inception in 1888. The blue bell in a circle will become bolder and the words "Bell System" will be removed.

Lattin said the new company design program is intended to "make us look like the advanced communications organization we are."

"We think our newly-designed appearance will provide the crisp, contemporary look which better reflects our modern operation."

The new name and the modern bell seal will begin appearing in Idaho company ads scheduled for release early next week.

Lattin said the design changes will not be widely apparent in Idaho for some time.

"We have chosen to make the change gradually, rather than going to the expense of repainting materials and equipment all at once."

Sen. Bennett Demands End To Utah's 'Air Isolation'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, this morning urged the Utah Aeronautics Board to end Utah's air route isolation.

Bennett's field representative delivered the message at a CAB hearing here.

He called for a "chevrollet service," stating United holds a "monopoly position with respect to 80 per cent of Salt Lake City's most frequently traveled markets."

"As a result of this monopoly position," he said, "Salt Lake City has become a satellite neighborhood for Denver."

Bennett said, "It is simply time to recognize the fact that Salt Lake City is no longer a satellite city. It should not be saddled with satellite-type service."

The key cities involved in this case generated a total of 223,440 true origin and destination passengers in 1957. ### Michigan, California Murder Series Linked

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UPI)—Police today investigated a "striking similarities" between two murder series—one in Michigan and five in California who may have died by a two-country killing spree by a cross-country killer.

Police here and in California said there were "striking similarities" including earnings missing from many of the victims—that suggested the same person or persons could have been responsible for the "murders" in Michigan and California deaths.

While John Norman Collins remained in his Washnetaw County maximum security jail, police here and in California searched for 8-foot-tall, 235-pound Andrew Manuel, 25, Richard Diaz, whose last known address was the rooming house Collins lived at in this university community.

Collins and Manuel, 25, alias Richard Diaz, whose last known address was the rooming house Collins lived at in this university community.

Collins and Manuel were believed to have been in California together in June and July. Police said the pair used Collins' car to tow a trailer pulled by Manuel, but they returned without the trailer.

"During the time of your California visit, four young women were slain there—three in the Salinas, Calif., area and one near Yreka—Collins, about 300 miles southeast of Salinas. Those murders occurred between June 23 and July 15.

Police also investigated a possible connection between those deaths and that of Marina Elizabeth Hays, 47, daughter of novelist Hans Hays and actress Elsie Hays, who was slain in the Hollywood Hills last fall. She was abducted from the driveway of her mother's home.

The body of the sixth Michigan victim—raped, stabbed and shot through the head—was found June 8, before Collins and Manuel took their California trip, police said. The next victim, Karen Sue Belter, 23, was slain July 27 after they returned, police said.

Collins is charged with first-degree murder in the death of Elizabeth Hays, who was said to have been murdered in the home of State Police Cpl. David Leik, Collins' uncle, who was vacationing at the time.

Senator Predicts Repeal

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., predicted Monday the investment credit over federal income taxes will be repealed.

Hartke said he believes the credit should be continued but "it is going to be repealed, there is no question about it."

However, the Hoosier Democrat said he believes small businesses and farmers will get some type of extension in the new version of tax reform.

"There is going to be more tax reform than a lot of people who have been yelling for it will want," he predicted. Hartke said his reason for voting for a six-month extension of the surtax was that it was a necessary condition to get a "really meaningful" tax reform. He thinks the surtax is a bad tax but there were enough votes to extend it. The question was whether it will be a six months or a year extension.

Hartke, a former Evansville mayor, also said he believes "it is a proposed national program to delete or reduce the tax exemption on municipal bonds have a valid point."

However, he said he felt that the "proposing" is not as closed as some extent, if it is possible, without adversely affecting property taxes.

Hartke also renewed his call for greater railroad safety in the light of a Noel-Moore train accident in which one person was killed and 40 injured. "It could just as easily have been killed," he declared. "It had not been a small community instead of a metropolitan area, it might have been."

Birth Control Gains Favor Despite Religious Doctrine

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—A group of scientists, medical men and population experts say American women appear to be approaching total acceptance of birth control regardless of religious, racial or economic status.

Furthermore, they said, the trend toward family planning appears to be moving around the world.

These were the conclusions of the men who made a study and published their findings in the book "Fertility and Family Planning" published by the University of Michigan Press. The study was edited by three U. of M. experts, Dr. S.J. Behrman, Dr. Louis Gordon Jr., and Dr. Ronald Freedman.

The writers included sociologists and population experts from Princeton, Wisconsin, Norman Ryder, of Wisconsin, Simon Kuznets of Harvard, Harrison Brown of Cal Tech, and Bernard Berelson of the Population Council.

OAS Faces Challenge In Undeclared War Between El Salvador, Honduras

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the undeclared war between El Salvador and Honduras, the Organization of American States (OAS) faces one of the sharpest challenges of its 25-year history.

These are small Central American republics, defenseless against the combined weight of the other American republics. Therefore any tribute to the peace-keeping abilities of the OAS also must be small.

Police and Edward Galvan and Helen Zamora were taking turns behind the wheel.

NAMED CHAPLAIN

KING HILL — Rev. and Mrs. Dwight Wilcher have returned here after attending the state conference on religious cooperation in Pocatello. Mrs. Wilcher was appointed department chaplain.

Nonetheless, the success so far has preserved the 1947 Treaty of Rio providing joint access to the Panama Canal, where in the hemisphere. Failure would have reduced it to a scrap of paper and the influence of the OAS to nil.

Further, peace has been achieved by Latin Americans themselves with the United States largely in the role of bystander.

El Salvador, briefly gave its young "hawks" their day and then bowed to OAS demands that it withdraw troops from Honduras and submit to OAS arbitration in the face of a unanimous threat to embargo Salvadoran exports of petroleum, machinery, coffee, cotton and sugar.

At the root of what has been called a "football war" was a long-smoldering border dispute and Honduran resentment against some 300,000 Salvadoran labor migrants who had come to Honduras to work in the banana plantations and then had settled permanently, many of them illegally.

U.S. Unemployment Rises To 3.6 Per Cent During July

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment in the nation rose to 3.6 per cent in July but this provided little indication of any cooling of the overheated economy, the Labor Department reported today.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said, "We are looking for a slowing down but we aren't finding very much."

Mechanics' Unions To Negotiate

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Western mechanics and the Teamsters Union, whose strike of mechanics has halted operations for a week, were reported today ready to resume contract negotiations under a new federal mediator.

Cornelius Dulen, of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in Washington, flew here to try to bring the two sides together in the dispute, which has grounded all Western 77 aircraft and caused a layoff of 8,500 employees with a weekly payroll of $1,650,000.

Over the last two years relations have deteriorated. The dispute threatened the future not only of some 3.5 million Salvadorans and 2.4 million Hondurans in two sharply contrasting nations but also the future of the remaining 11 million in Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Guatemala.

The five had banded altogether in a Central American common market, seeking first economic and cultural union and then, in the distant future, political unity which would eliminate duplicate costs in separate military, educational and governmental systems.

American private investment in Central America, excluding Panama, totals around $650 million. El Salvador, more industrially developed, has prospered despite the highest population density in the Americas. Honduras, a generation behind, has suffered.

Argentine Chief Hears Rumbblings From Military

By WILBUR G. LANDREY

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—For the first time since the coup in 1955 serious rumbblings are audible from the Argentine armed forces against President Juan Carlos Onganía.

The army high command has taken measures to silence some dissenting officers. But the coming days—possibly in September—will tell whether Onganía can regain enough of his luster to silence the criticism of his regime.

Rumors have been rife in Argentina for nearly two months of coups supposedly being planned against Onganía.

Suit Filed Against Two Men

A lawsuit asking $41,500 in damages in connection with an alleged accident last fall has been filed in District Court, records showed Monday.

Walter Carder filed the suit against Lloyd Hundley and Clayton Heister, attorneys. Mr. Hundley was driving a car on Aug. 4, 1968, two miles west of Burley, on Highway 30. It is also alleged he was driving the car with the owner's consent, Mr. Heister.

The plaintiff charged that because of negligence on the part of the attorneys, Heister suffered $15,000 medical damages, $5,000 loss of wages and $35,000 general damages.

a former army commander in chief who came to power himself by that familiar South American route.

Until last May, he enjoyed an image as one of Latin America's most successful military rulers. His government brought economic stability and recovery, but at the price of a wage freeze which alienated labor.

In May, widespread student and labor disturbance shattered the Onganía image. And rumbblings began from some officers when he reshuffled his cabinet but failed to make real policy changes—so far—to regain the ground lost.

Armed forces leaders seem to be worried about their own image as the organization which put Onganía into power to bring recovery and pave the way for a stable civilian government.

One general has been abruptly retired. High officers have been questioned.

Two colonels were relieved of their commands and put under disciplinary arrest for 20 days. The details are obscure, but unofficial reports said they were all members of an ultra-nationalist group opposed to Onganía.

Six former men who were also all members of an ultra nationalist group broke into the government radio station in the city of Córdoba to broadcast a communique saying that Onganía was overthrown. Several were later arrested.

If they choose, the army chiefs could decide whether Onganía goes or stays. Since May, they have held power alongside him, according to diplomats.

June and September, they say in Argentina, are the best months for coups. In June, the conscripts of the current year are fully trained. September is just before the army retirements and promotions take place.

Hemline Still Having Its Ups And Downs, Dior Says

PARIS (UPI)—Dior is dropping the hemline. The word was out today, officially, as Dior spokesman said...

But in the collection Bohan plans to unveil next week, he is also including some very, very short skirts.

Bohan will not be alone in trying new longer skirt lengths. Yves St. Laurent has been experimenting in that direction for some time...

Bohan's dresses, whether they are very short or a his "new length" 14 inches from the floor, have a slightly retrogressive look.

Cardin had even longer skirts and even shorter ones than Dior and lots of lengths in between. But there was never so much as a backward glance.

Several collections, notably Courreges, will stick with the idea that long skirts are outdated except for glamorous evenings.

What seems likely to emerge from the fashion shows next week is what emerged in recent seasons: There are plenty of different ways to dress and the well-dressed woman is a stylist who chooses the way or ways that suit her best.

Utter Confusion Noted In 1970 Fashion Field

BY JOAN DEPPA PARIS (UPI)—Fashion goes so many directions for fall and winter that it would be easy to write it off as utter confusion.

Once the Paris collections ended Friday it became clear that the high prices of fashion designers are ready and willing to help her.

Women who began making tough decisions in the sixties to wear the mini-skirt to work are not to bare the bosom—have finally acquired a kind of fashion independence and the collections are revealing.

Only one designer tried to dictate what women should wear. That was Yves St. Laurent and judges from the reaction to his efforts to make women look like little old men, the dictator ran headlong into revolt.

There were no bravos for his collection of long droopy skirts and jackets, tied Oxford shoes, dark stockings and face covering. In fact, he had been just two seasons ago when he introduced the trouser and tunic look.

The most applause and approving chat went to Pierre Cardin, both of whom made all sorts of headlines in two different ways.

Bohan's dresses, whether they are very short or a his "new length" 14 inches from the floor, have a slightly retrogressive look.

Cardin had even longer skirts and even shorter ones than Dior and lots of lengths in between. But there was never so much as a backward glance.

Several collections, notably Courreges, will stick with the idea that long skirts are outdated except for glamorous evenings.

What seems likely to emerge from the fashion shows next week is what emerged in recent seasons: There are plenty of different ways to dress and the well-dressed woman is a stylist who chooses the way or ways that suit her best.

WASH BOTH SIDES Wash both sides of a foam-backed vinyl placemat. A stain which appears to be on the vinyl side may be imbedded in the foam. A vegetable brush dipped in soap or detergent suds makes an effective scrubber for this purpose.

Quick Soup Serve this quick homemade vegetable soup with toasted cheese sandwiches. In saucepan combine 2 cans (8 ounces each) or 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits; 1/2 cups water; 1 can (1 pound) cut beans; 1 can (1 pound) diced carrots; un-drained; 1 envelope spaghetti sauce seasoning mix; and 2 tablespoons chopped parsley. Simmer 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

HOME HAIRCUTS Home haircuts for tots should be followed by a bath to remove any snags of hair which may prove itchy or irritating to a baby's sensitive skin.

Hebner Wants Rookie Of Year Honor

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Richie Hebner figures he must improve his road performance before he can win the rookie-of-the-year award in the National League.

The 21-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate third baseman has been in a mild slump—the last two weeks—but has kept his batting average around the .300 mark.

"I don't hit well enough on the road," Hebner said. "I have trouble in St. Louis, Atlanta and Houston. The only place I do well is at Jarry Park in Montreal where I got a .400 average in seven games."

Hebner regards Coco Laboy of the Montreal Expos and pitcher Tom Griffin of the Houston Astros as his strongest competitors for rookie honors.

"Griffin has a fast ball that whiffs right past the batter. He's helping the Astros make a good fight in the Western Division."

Hebner, who played three seasons in the minors, admits he has a lot to learn at this base.

"At the beginning, the teams tried to punt up on me," he said. "If I weren't for the careful of Maury Wills and Lou Brock."

With less than 80 games to go in the season, Hebner must step up his batting if he wants to be the honored rookie.

Indians Knock Off Orioles 2-0

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Rookie Frank Baker hit his first major league home run and Ken Harrelson belted his 21st homer of the season Monday night to back the four-hit pitching of Steve Hargan and give the Cleveland Indians a 2-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Hargan, hitting 45th since joining the Indians last week, homered—in the fourth—and Harrelson drilled one in the seventh off Baltimore starter Tom Phoebus.

Hargan, who pitched his first complete game and first shutout of the season, struck out six and walked three, picking up his fourth victory against eight losses.

Phoebus, who had won three of his last four starts, went seven innings in losing his fourth game in fifteen decisions.

Baltimore 000 000—2-0 Indians 000 000—0-1 Phoebus, (4-9) and Harrelson (11-4), Hillier (10-12).

Hebner said he has "some kind of a hang-up in St. Louis." "I think I had only two in three hits there," he said, "and that made it worse I must have had a half dozen errors in that ball park."

You have to think and talk championship. The Los Angeles head mentor declared. "If you don't you're not gonna win it."
The Rams had three first round draft selections but one, All-America end Jim Seymour from Notre Dame, was called into the Army and will miss the season. Seymour caught 138 passes for 2,113 yards and 16 touchdowns in three collegiate seasons.
"We didn't even have him one day," Allen lamented.
Lamar Lundy, a 13-year pro from Purdue and one of the NFL's top defensive ends, underwent knee surgery and will miss part of the season.
"We'll miss him the most," the coach said. "He's not only a player but a leader. You can't have a lot of people that are good football players and just followers. Lamar helped keep our team intact."
The first round draft choices the Rams have available are Larry Smith, a running back from Florida, and Bob Klein, a tight end from University of Southern California.
Lester Josephson, the club's No. 1 rusher in 1967 who missed last season with a torn Achilles tendon, is back.
Allen smiles when he talks about Roman Gabriel, the eight-year veteran quarterback from North Carolina State.
"Roman's worked hard in camp," his coach commented. "He's in for a good year."

BATH COUP SETS STAGE FOR WIN

Unlike other bridge plays, the Bath Coup covers one specific situation. You hold ace-jack and one or more small cards in a suit. The king is led and you let hold. This gives you two tricks in the suit of your opponent—continues it—but that happy result doesn't take place often. Most of the time, your opponent will shift, whereupon the Bath Coup will merely have served to give you time to go about your business somewhere else.

East's jump to three hearts put a lot of pressure on South but he had the cards to withstand the pressure. If anything, his four-club call was an underbid. The four-club bid put pressure on North also—but North decided correctly that his two kings, good trumps and single ton heart warranted a bid of game.

A heart lead would have made things easy for South but West had a natural lead of the king of spades. This set the stage for the Bath Coup.

South let the king hold and West was helpless. A spade cascade tricks and West stayed out-of-that-trap.

Not that it did him any good. He ditched to the five of hearts, which was hopeless. A spade trumps, knocked out East's nice pair of diamonds and eventually discarded his spade-jack on one of dummy's long diamonds.

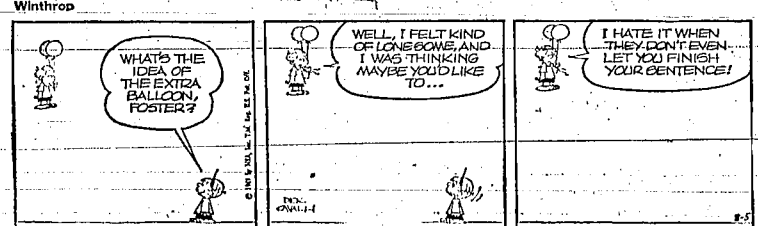

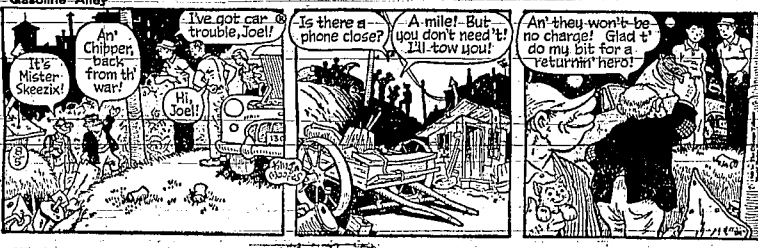

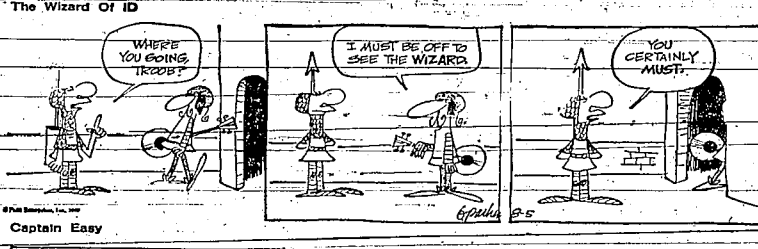

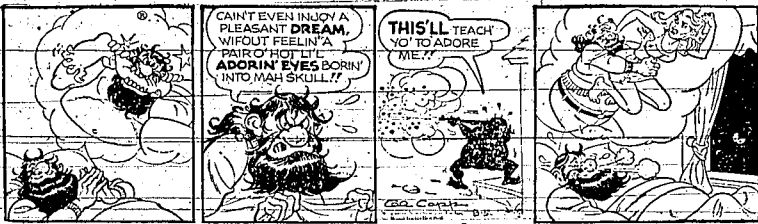

We mentioned earlier that South's four-club call was something in the nature of an underbid. The proof of this is twofold. North was under a lot of pressure to bid game and yet South managed to get a 5-1 against any lead but a spade.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
West 1♠ Pass
East 2♠ Pass
South 3NT Pass
You South, hold:
♠AK984 ♥Q65 ♦AK104 ♣2
What do you do now?
A—Pass. There's no slam and three no-trump should be a satisfactory contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three no-trump, your partner has bid three spades over your three diamonds. What do you do now?

Astrowheel Shuts Down

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Astrowheel, a double ferris wheel that looks like a brightly colored octopus, was shut down, possibly forever, Monday a few hours after it partially collapsed, injuring 17 persons and suspending 31 others high above ground for four hours.

"We are closing the ride indefinitely and I am sure it will not be operating the rest of the season and perhaps never," said Wayne Chandler, a spokesman for Astroworld, a multimillion dollar amusement park.

U.S. Command Won't Tell Of Offensives

DA-NANG, Vietnam (UPI) — In a major policy change, the U.S. Command has decided to quit releasing names of American offensive operations in Vietnam, informed military sources said today.

The commanders agreed to the change because they said it was politically desirable to try to play down the fact that U.S. offensive fighting has not decreased in recent months, the sources said.

With the Paris talks now focused on de-escalation and troop withdrawals, one U.S. officer said, "it does not serve our best interests to ballyhoo a multi-battalion drive in search of the enemy."

Under the new policy specific contacts with Communist troops will be reported as before by official briefers but no mention will now be made that such an engagement is part of any named operation.

Newsmen will still be allowed to report U.S. troop commitments at a particular area.

51 Fishermen Flee Red China

HONG KONG (UPI) — Fifty-one fishermen and their families fled Communist China Monday for refuge in Hong Kong, a police spokesman reported.

He said the refugees in five junks were intercepted by police patrol boats near Cheung Chau Island, about 10 miles west of the main island of Hong Kong.

They were detained by Hong Kong police pending a decision on their appeal for asylum.

AN EXPLOSION ON a railroad train killed one person, injured about 10 others and damaged more than 200 buildings in Noel, Mo., a small Ozark community. Some 800 residents were evacuated from the town Sunday while authorities worked to tap a burning propane gas storage tank, in background, before it could explode. (UPI telephoto)

Shift Away From Caution Is Seen In Market Position

BABSON PARK, Mass. — "We do see the possibility of still lower prices than those we have already seen," says a spokesman for the investment firm.

One strongly supporting element in the situation, according to Spear, "is the reports of apprehension in Congress and in high business circles over the dangers of continuing inflation and increasing prospects that an extension of the surtax would be enacted, stepped in," he explains.

He adds, "Another is that at some 'panic' point the market will forget the frustrations of the worst comes to worst, and begin to look at the great economic growth, with some inflation, that is unquestionably ahead for the 1970s."
