Hurricane Camille's Death Toll Hits 106

GULFPORT, Miss. (UPI)—Hurricane Camille's death toll reached at least 106 today and was expected to go "considerably higher," as disaster workers bulldozed through the rubble of devastated towns and villages along Mississippi's Gulf Coast.

The 600-square-mile area, crippled by lack of food, water, electric power and communications, was a bedlam of confusion, grief and shambles. City and county officials from the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast huddled in an emergency meeting at Gulfport to bring about some semblance of order in the massive cleanup job. Receding waters uncovered dozens of bodies sprawled in the mud and tangled wreckage. "They're still digging them out," said Bill Harvey, public information officer of the Mississippi Civil Defense Council. He said there were 100 confirmed deaths, but added that today was the first chance to get bulldozers in and we expect the toll to go considerably higher. Hundreds and perhaps thousands were injured.

At least 200,000 were left homeless. Most spent the night in emergency shelters and ventured out at dawn to help clean up the ruin of what once was the playground of Mississippi's plantation aristocracy. Six cargo planes landed in Gulfport loaded with food, medical supplies and heavy building equipment. A 200-bed emergency hospital unit was moved from the space agency's Mississippi test facility north of Bay St. Louis into Pass Christian. Eight trucks carrying 15,000 gallons of water labored

City May Have To Boost Garbage Collection Rates

Divider Proposed On West Addison

A Twin Falls garbage crisis may quadruple the cost of collecting garbage a bag within two years, according to Twin Falls City Manager Herb Derrick.

He told the City Council Monday night that the city's sanitary fill site is nearly used up. "Possibly within the next 12 or 14 months we must move," he said.

"The only place I know is 15 miles from town. This immediately means sanitation is going up to $3 or $5."

The current monthly fee for garbage collection is $1.25.

Mr. Derrick said the problem is broad in scope, and involves the current garbage contractor, the Eldon Corp.

An official of the sanitary fill site said he believed the city's contract was "a should," he said.

In addition, Mr. Derrick said the city faces public demand for more complete garbage collection services. He said the city tried to write a contract "to get a minimum of service with a minimum of price."

"But with the affluent society," he said, "people want to grow their lawns in the fall and have it picked up." He said that the city can get more thorough collection—but it will have to pay more to get it.

After the meeting Mr. Derrick told councilmen that the cost of an incinerator-type garbage disposal system large enough to serve Twin Falls would be "prohibitive." He estimated the cost of such a system at $1 million.

Twins Falls Police proposed Monday night that a median divider strip be installed to eliminate the "West Addison problem." But no reference was made to an earlier police request for five additional officers to curb disorderly conduct along the strip.

Assistant Police Chief Roy Lindell told the city council that the stream of late-night traffic by teenagers and young adults, back and forth between two drive-in restaurants in the 300 block of West Addison, could be halted by the median strip.

He also proposed drive-in owners be forced to chain off access to their parking lots after closing hours to eliminate accumulation of "troublemakers" in the vicinity of the drive-ins.

Captain Lindell said that drive-in owners "have been very cooperative in the past three weeks," during which time, he said, the drive-ins have been kept under constant surveillance by police officers.

The assistant chief Monday was reporting back on request of the council following mounting complaints by West Addison businessmen and residents of increasing incidents of disorderly conduct by youths and young adults in the area.

"They're just driving. They don't know what the hell to do with themselves. They're of age, and middle-aged," Capt. Lindell told the councilmen.

But he said the "problem" just might be shifted to another part of town should a median divider be installed on West Addison.

The councilmen referred the police department recommendations to the City Highway Commission.

Earlier, a spokesman for the Twin Falls VFW offered the assistance of the local post in setting up an "auxiliary police force." Post Commander Ray Crandall said members of the local unit had voted to work part time to augment the police force.

His offer came after an appeal two weeks ago by Police Chief Frank Barnett for five additional police patrolmen to maintain a patrol strength of five officers. The chief said as few as three men are currently on patrol during a shift.

No council action was taken on the VFW offer.

'Debbie' Builds New Storm Fury

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—Hurricane Debbie flattened the open seas with 100-mile-an-hour winds today despite an attempt by the U.S. Navy to tame the storm with silver iodide.

The third hurricane of the year churned far out in the Atlantic east-northeast of Puerto Rico while scientists planned a second seeding attempt.

Dr. Cecil J. Gentry, director of the U.S. Navy's Hurricane Research Laboratory who spent 18½ hours in the air Monday directing the bombardment of Debbie with silver iodide particles, said it may take months to determine whether an attempt to tame the hurricane was successful.

At the Weather Bureau Center in Miami, forecasters Arnold Suggs said the fact that the storm continued to pack a 100-mile-an-hour wallop, does not necessarily mean Monday's seeding had no effect.

"We can't draw that conclusion," Suggs said. "It will take a long, long time to analyze all the data."

The silver iodide, dropped from 1,040 canisters by five U.S. Navy jets, was expected to freeze the moisture in the warm cloud walls of the hurricane, generating enough cold to drop the storm into the ocean.

Gentry described the experiment as an operational success but said the scientific results would not be known until December.

Gentry said further seeding of Debbie may take place Wednesday. The experiment is sponsored by the U.S. Weather Bureau and the Navy.

Contract Is Signed On Gooding Hospital

GOODING—H. Dyke Walton Construction Co. of Salt Lake, Utah, was low bidder on the new Gooding Hospital, on which construction is planned to begin next Monday according to the contract, which will be located on the corner of Main and 1st streets, just north of the Idaho State School.

Walter Opp Construction Co., Salt Lake, was next lowest bidder with a total of $599,200.

Other bidders included Tayson Construction Co., at $600,050; A. J. G. Construction Co., at $600,123; Keyward Construction Co., at $621,040; Ormond Construction Co., at $628,300; and David C. Wagner, chairman of the Gooding hospital board, expressed pleasure in the bids for construction of the physical facility.

Boy Shot

QUINCY, Ill. (UPI)—An 8-year-old boy was shot between the eyes Monday as he and his father were practicing fast draw techniques in the kitchen of their home, police said.

Billy Joe McKinney, Jr., of Quincy was taken to St. Mary's Hospital where he was listed in critical condition in the intensive care section following three hours of surgery.

Bill McKinney, 31, told police he and his son were practicing fast draws when a 12-gauge shotgun accidentally discharged. The boy was using a cap pistol, the father was using a loaded .22 caliber revolver, police said.

Wilson seeks to end war in Ireland

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson personally moved into the Northern Ireland crisis today, seeking to prevent further sectarian violence that could plunge the six-year territory into civil war.

Breaking off a vacation in the Scilly Isles, off the southwest coast of England, Wilson flew back and summoned key members of his government to Downing Street.

Officials said Wilson planned a meeting later in the day with Northern Ireland Premier James Chichester-Clark. It would be the first conference between the two leaders since Roman Catholics and Protestants battled in the streets of Londonderry and Belfast last week.

Nine persons were killed and more than 300 injured in nearly one week of fighting in Northern Ireland. Eight died in Belfast.

British troops enforced a tight calm over Belfast and Londonderry today. Reinforcements were expected to lift British troop strength in Northern Ireland to 6,000 by Thursday.

Buhl Boy Killed In Freak Mishap

Buhl, 16-year-old Gary L. Meissner is dead and his companion is in serious condition following a freak accident about noon Monday.

The Melvener boy died of massive chest injuries, according to Twin Falls County Coroner Clyde Edwards.

The boys had been riding on top of boxes of straw loaded on the truck. The Melvener boy fell off the right side of the truck and landed 45 minutes.

The Melvener boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Melvener, Route 3, Buhl, and the Clark boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Buhl.

Chief Frazier said the truck, driven by Claude Smith, 52, Buhl, was loaded with straw and traveling east on a county road. Mr. Smith saw a car coming out of a driveway about 150 feet away and applied his brakes. Chief Frazier said.

The truck went into a 72-foot skid, throwing both boys.

Vessel Capsizes, Victims Sought

THIONON-LES-BAINS, France (UPI)—French and Swiss forces searched Lake Geneva for the bodies of 24 persons missing after a pleasure steamer capsized Monday with 50 persons aboard.

Twenty-two persons were feared dead, police said. 34 persons survived. The divers, aided by floodlights, had already recovered eight bodies in rescue operations that continued past midnight.

The Melvener boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Melvener, Route 3, Buhl, and the Clark boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, Buhl.

Yanks, Reds Battle As Conflict Flares

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops trapped two American infantry companies in bush country below Da Nang Monday, but the outnumbered Americans fought off the attacks with the aid of gunships which killed so many North Vietnamese that the battle raged for more than 12 hours.

U.S. military spokesmen said today the Communists lost 155 dead in the two battles that raged for more than 12 hours. The Americans lost 14 dead and 50 wounded. Fighting there and elsewhere in Vietnam killed more than 200 Communists, the spokesmen said.

The twin battles occurred near the village of the Hiep Duc, about 20 miles inland from the coastal city of Da Nang, 35 miles southwest of Da Nang. The village is crowded with thousands of refugees and is the subject of Communist assault.

At Tan Son Nhut Air Base outside Saigon, a U.S. Air Force F-4 Phantom II reconnaissance plane crashed on takeoff into a row of houses, killing two Vietnamese civilians and destroying two homes. Two crewmen got up alive.

Just before dawn Israeli army units roared into the El Munzi refugee camp east of Gaza City, killed three Arabs and wounded two in a running assault and captured 10 others. No Israeli casualties were reported.

But terrorism continued and an anti-aircraft explosion in a Jerusalem public park at 11:45 a.m. Another went off 45 minutes later in a street near a bank. The two charges estimated to have killed a half a dozen and wounded two small boys.

By United Press International

Israel troops struck an Arab refugee camp today in the occupied Gaza Strip and wiped out a guerrilla assassination squad, killing three and wounding two others. Terrorists have fought a guerrilla war with Israeli forces since 1967.

The Gaza Strip, a sliver of land along the Mediterranean, was seized from Egypt in the 1967 War. It is jammed with Palestinian refugees and has been a thorn in the side of Israeli occupation authorities who have fought waves of terrorist attacks there.

Mr. Sobelson said it might be possible to bypass the commissioners if financing is arranged, for the commissioners might agree if private money could be raised to finance this food commodity program.

Mr. Sobelson said he would work on the problem and Mr. Sobelson ended the meeting saying, "Good luck. I doubt if you have anything else that might have much success, but you can try."

County Puts Thumbs Down On Food Plan

A food commodity program for the poor in Twin Falls County appears to be dead.

This was the conclusion reached Monday at a meeting between federal, state and county officials. The meeting was held at the Department of Public Assistance office near the hospital and lasted 45 minutes.

Also attending were Larry Mack, director of the area Community Action Agency, and two people interested in starting a food commodity program in the valley—Ruby Beckstrom and R. E. Hedrick.

The three Twin Falls County commissioners told the gathering they were in no way interested in a food commodity program in the county.

"And this is the feeling of the commissioners in Cassia and Jerome counties," Heber Laughmiller, commission chairman, told the group.

He said they were more interested in a food stamp program. The commissioners were told by Herbert King, an official of the Department of Agriculture from San Francisco, there are no funds for a food stamp program.

The commissioners had nothing to say about the food commodity program, but they did discuss ways of getting a food commodity program in Twin Falls County without the present sanction of the commissioners.

Without their okay, our hands are tied," Robert Sobelson, director of the state DRA's food commodity program, said.

Mr. Beckstrom then asked if there was any way to get private financial support for such a program.

"If possible, but it's not likely," he said.

ISU Students To Conduct County Planning Study

Approval was voiced Monday afternoon by Twin Falls County Commissioners and members of a county comprehensive planning committee for the participation of the local county in planning study by Idaho State University students.

Joseph L. LaVallee, county zoning administrator, said the students who will conduct the local study are fifth year architectural students about ready for graduation. They need to complete a county general plan in order to pass state requirements.

All information for the county plan will be gathered by county employees, officials and those working in the comprehensive planning program, Mr. LaVallee said, and shaped into a general prospectus of county assets and needs by the college students.

Dr. Ross Fasolino, head of the ISU Department of Architecture, will supervise the project.

Dr. Fasolino met with county officials and planning board members Monday afternoon to discuss the project.

County Commission Chairman Hoer Loughmiller said the program cost to the county will be only for material needed. There is no cost to the county for the services.

This is expected to run about $500, compared to around $10,000 or more if the county were to hire professional services, Mr. LaVallee said.

He estimated about 75 per cent of the information necessary for the county plan has already been collected in his office. The city of Twin Falls has already agreed to work with the county in an over all general plan and as soon as the plan is officially adopted other communities and cities in the county will be asked to join.

A regional planning board would then be created with one representative from each participating agency or city.

From this information and the county general plan, a comprehensive plan will be assembled,

Mr. LaVallee explained.

It will include soil and water studies, an inventory of all natural resources, including recreational areas and facilities, and reports on existing city planning as well as proposed development and needs in the entire county.

Such a plan would aid in the orderly growth of the county, coordinate county and city development and zoning, and make the county eligible for aid under Federal funding programs.

'Picturephone' Service For Idaho Draws Local Statement

Picturephone telephone service, scheduled for commercial availability in the early 1970's, probably will not be available in Idaho for at least five years, K. C. Mann, Mountain Bell district manager, said.

He said the new service probably will first be available in large urban areas by businesses. Recent appraisals in test areas show the "see" and "hear" service offers a wide variety of potential benefits in commercial communication, Mr. Mann said. He said it will be useful in showing graphic material such as drawings, photographs and samples.

County's New Voting Machines To Be Explained At Fair Booth

County Commissioners played in the new merchants building, which was formerly used by the Twin Falls County Historical Society.

Chairman Heber Loughmiller said Monday the county has been advised three voting machines will be delivered here in time for public display at the fair. The county has voted to enter a lease-purchase agreement on 90 machines for use in the 1970 elections.

The three machines, Mr. Loughmiller said, will be dis-educational campaign involving the voting machines.

Although the machines will be leased for the first year, they will, if satisfactory, be purchased by the county with the first lease payment applied to the purchase price.

BURGULARS STRIKE
PARIS (UPI)—Cat burglars moving across rooftops stole $23,000 worth of paintings, furs and silver during the weekend from the Paris apartment of wealthy businessman Jules and Georges Sisley, police said.

Show Goes On

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—For a 79-year-old lion tamer, as for any other performer, the show must go on—even if the lion bites down when you put your head in its mouth.

Jules Jacot forced the big cat's jaws apart and finished his performance at a Monday afternoon show in the St. Louis Zoo before going to Jewish Hospital to be treated for gashes on the temple, cheek and neck.

Anglers Say

'Monster' Chomps Oar

LOCH MORAR, Scotland (UPI)—The way William Simpson and Duncan McDowell tell it, they were rowing across Loch Morar when up came a monster.

The two Sunday fishermen said the thing from the deep lake was 60 feet long, had round humps, was dark brown and came at their 18-foot boat.

McDowell said he jammed an oar at the Loch Morar monster. The thing bit the end off the oar, McDonnell said.

Duplicate Bridge

JEROME—The Jerome Duplicate Bridge Club met Saturday at the Elks Hall. North and south winners were Mrs. A. C. Clark and Mrs. R. J. Reese; first, Mrs. A. D. McMahon and Mrs. J. F. Henry, second, and Mrs. H. G. Munyon and Mrs. J. M. Kingsbury, third. East and west winners were Mrs. A. V. Williams and Mrs. C. J. Straughn, first; Mrs. H. M. Proctor and Mrs. Campbell, second, and Mrs. Mary Lund and Mrs. Julia Brown, third. Unit play will be held Thursday night at the YMCA in Twin Falls.

So Simpson raised a shotgun and fired. He said the blast dug a four-inch wide hole in the thing and it dived below the surface.

CSI Hoping To Institute Nurse Degree Program

College of Southern Idaho board members were told Monday night the school hopes to have an associate degree registered nurse program in the near future.

The program has been requested by area hospitals to help ease the critical nursing shortage problem in the area.

"Our hitch is finding the right person to coordinate this program. We have the courses," Dr. James Taylor, college president, told the board.

He said such a person should hold a master's degree in nursing. "We are talking about a salary of $15,000 a year," Dr. Taylor said.

Board members whistled and one said, "It would be tough being married to such a woman. You couldn't even talk to her."

Dr. Barnard Says Heart Rejection

CAPETOWN, South Africa (UPI)—

Massive rejection of his new heart caused the death of Dr. Philip Barnard and showed medical science has yet to overcome the threat of rejection shadowing all organ transplants, Dr. Christian Barnard said Monday.

Barnard, 60, died here at 7:40 p.m. Sunday after living 19 months and 15 days with the heart of a 24-year-old colored South African machinist, Clive Hupie. Barnard's remains were cremated Monday afternoon after a brief Jewish funeral service at which Barnard served as pallbearer.

Barnard, the surgeon who supervised Barnard's transplant operation, declined heart transplants will continue because "we are on the way to solving the various problems," he added. "We've done very much better than we ever expected, but still, we're very sad it's all over now."

Dr. Taylor said he has left no stone unturned in his search for a coordinator. "This is a costly undertaking, because we are also talking of four teachers. But there is a need for nurses, and we should try and supply them."

He said area hospitals have agreed to work with the college in getting such a program going.

Dr. Taylor said a nursing program could be organized as soon as a coordinator is hired and the courses accredited by state officials.

In other business, Dr. Taylor told the board the plans for the college's student union, administration and library complex are in Denver and should be forwarded to federal officials in Washington, D. C. soon.

He said the plans may come out of Washington in a month and bids could be called for before October.

Rough Rector

GLoucester, ENGLAND (UPI)—

A man who told a rector he wanted to object to his son's marriage banns testified before a church court that the rector barred him from their church and said he would knock him into a grave.

The rector was charged with unbecoming conduct and neglect of duty.

Bids were turned down by the board last February because they exceeded cost estimates.

The board said it would meet in special session to call for bids once the plans are forwarded to the college from Washington.

Dr. Taylor said an application is now being prepared for a grant for a vocational and technical education building, to be built on campus. The grant will be matched by the $250,000 allocated by the Idaho Legislature for the project.

The hiring of Charles Charlton as physical education instructor and Paul Kliss as a part-time instructor in drama was approved by the board.

Dr. Taylor said he expects a "healthy" enrollment of 2,100 students this fall, and added, "We have as good a faculty this year as any we've ever had."

Approval of the board was also given to allow Dr. Taylor to become a consultant for junior colleges in the Northwest.

Board members said, "It is an honor to have Dr. Taylor act in this capacity. It is a good reflection on the college here."

Dr. Taylor will help junior colleges throughout the Northwest iron out domestic problems.

The college's student senate had requested the student activity fee be hiked $1 a semester and the board decided to have the senate resubmit the request before next February so the hike could be approved in strike by ironworkers.

Minidoka Fair Is Planned For Aug. 28-30

RUPERT — Magic Valley's final fair of the season, outside of Twin Falls, gets under way in Minidoka County Aug. 28-30, with pari-mutuel horseracing scheduled Aug. 30, Sept. 1.

In addition to the usual judging events, highlighting the three-day fair will be a tractor pull at 8 a.m. on opening day, a calf scramble and pig catching contest at 8 p.m. Friday and a Country Music program at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Fair board members said more details on the events will be released soon.

Another feature of the fair will be a two-day Women's Club Flower Show Aug. 29 and 30. The event, usually held in conjunction with the fair, is usually a one-day program, but was changed this year to better facilitate the public.

A style revue will begin Monday Aug. 28 at 8 p.m. at the Minidoka High School Auditorium. Tuesday, most exhibits will be entered, with judging scheduled to begin Wednesday. On that day, 4-h home economics and open class home arts exhibits will be viewed, and all 4-H, FFA and open class livestock, crops and miscellaneous exhibits entered. Fat stock will also be weighed.

The event opens Thursday, Aug. 28, and exhibits will be open to the public from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Beef and dairy exhibits will be judged that day. The remaining exhibits will be judged Friday prior to the annual 4-H and FFA Fat Stock sale from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturday. An awards assembly will follow.

Entries for the flower show must be registered from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. Aug. 29, and exhibits will be judged that afternoon. All entries must be submitted in clear glass containers.

Nixon's Aide Warns Inflation-Control Plan Will Crimp Business

By MIKE FEINSLBER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Paul W. McCracken, President Nixon's chief economic adviser, said Monday it will probably take a year for the administration's inflation-checking policies to catch hold—and they won't do so without considerable pain to business and labor.

McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said businessmen who have made their plans on the assumption that "the long tolerated inflation" is going to continue will have to cope with "weaker sales, bygone production schedules, reduced employment and diminished profits."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the University of Wisconsin's Graduate School of Banking in Madison, Wis., and distributed in advance to Washington reporters, McCracken expressed confidence that the economic policies of the Nixon administration have already started to cool off the economy but said this would not show up in price tags for another year.

But the economy has not yet reflected this slowdown, he said, because it has gotten too used to inflation. McCracken rejected wage and price controls as a painless method of slowing the economy. "Those who advocate them should think again, he said."

UCLA Professor Will Advise Idaho In Science Matters

BOISE (UPI) — Dr. Willard Frank Libby, a professor of chemistry at the University of California at Los Angeles, has been appointed science advisor to the State of Idaho, the office of Gov. Don Samuelson announced Monday.

Accused Soldiers Appear

SAIGON (UPI) — The Army today brought before the public for the first time since their arrest the eight U.S. Green Beret officers accused of planning and carrying out the murder of a Vietnamese civilian.

The Army took all eight out of 29 days of solitary confinement Monday and put them in an air conditioned officers' billet considered luxurious by military standards.

When the men were presented to newsmen and photographers outside the officers' quarters, all appeared in good health and spirits. Newsmen were kept 100 feet from the accused men and not allowed to talk to them.

Photographers were permitted to take pictures from a street 35 yards away as the men mingled before walking to eat at a nearby mess hall.

The men are accused of killing a Vietnamese civilian at Nha Trang on the coast 18 miles northwest of Saigon last June 20. The group includes the former commander of all U.S. Special Forces (Green Berets) in Vietnam, Col. Robert R. Rhea, of Vineyard Haven, Mass.

Both Gregory and Henry E. Rothblatt, civilian lawyers defending several of the men, said the accused men will probably be released in the next few days.

"I am very confident about the case," said Gregory. "My client should never have been charged."

State Approves Bank Petition
BOISE (UPI) — Finance Commissioner John D. Silva said Monday his department had approved an application of the Bank of Idaho for a branch in Idaho Falls, subject to the approval of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

THERE WAS AT LEAST one happy note in the aftermath of hurricane Camille: When Mrs. Donna Bilguy fled her home in Gulfport, Miss., Sunday night, she left behind the family dog, Doble. When she returned early Monday all she found of her house was the foundation — with Doble sitting on the remains of the front steps. She had been locked inside the house when the 160-mile-per-hour winds hit the area. (See story, Page one) (UPI telephoto)

Thalidomide May Help Curb Leprosy

By RUTH YOUNGBLOOD
HONOLULU (UPI) — Thalidomide, the drug blamed for thousands of birth deformities, may be a new aid in the treatment of leprosy.

Recent tests may alter thalidomide's reputation as a rippler of unborn babies to a drug offering hope for leprosy victims. Thalidomide presently is banned from general use in the United States.

The Hawaii tests have taken place in the Hale Mohali Hospital in Honolulu and at the Kalaupapa Hospital on the island of Molokai, 64 miles east of Honolulu. Kalaupapa is Hawaii's only leprosy settlement.

"Fever develops, places in the body affected by the disease become red, hot and swell up," Hirschy said, "causing pain and discomfort."

But daily thalidomide doses for a period of up to 10 days have been "very successful" in relieving these reactions, Hirschy said, "and there has been no evidence of their recurring."

Within 24 hours the swelling and fever go down, making the patient feel much more comfortable. He rests better, eats better and sleeps better."

Hirschy emphasized that thalidomide is "not used on women leprosy patients of child-bearing age."

"We've only used the drug on hospitalized patients," he said, "testing it under controlled conditions."

With immigration to Hawaii rising, Hirschy noted that the number of persons being treated for leprosy has increased during the last decade.

He said 350 persons are under treatment, 60 per cent of them foreign born.

Linking thalidomide to leprosy treatment originated about two years ago with Dr. Jaakov Shekshin, an Israeli doctor working in Jerusalem.

"We tried it out about a year and a half ago," Hirschy said, "and found that although it is not effective against the disease itself, it has a high degree of success in the treatment of this particular reaction, a familiar one in leprosy patients."

The sulfone drugs continue to be the most effective weapons against the disease, he said.

Sen. Jordan Hits Economic Policies

BOISE (UPI) — Sen. Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, Monday night blasted the former administration policy of both guns and butter for the creation of "an economic emergency."

Speaking at an Ada County Republican women's picnic in Boise, Jordan said, "The Nixon administration began its term with a sizable inheritance, which pays no dividends to the American people."

The Idaho Republican noted "inflation is no longer gradually nibbling away at the foundations of our economic system. It is ravaging that system by reducing the value of our dollar at an appalling annual rate of about 6.5 per cent."

Calling the reduction in dollar value an "inflation tax," Jordan said Idaho the amount of reduction in purchasing power is "more than $100 million, roughly equal to the total general fund appropriations for the state of Idaho for one year."

With interest rates at the highest level in the history of our country and with our federal government now operating at a deficit averaging more than $600 million per month, the time is long past when Congress can postpone the hard decisions," Jordan said. He added, "Congress must take more affirmative steps both toward controlling government expenditures and in providing sufficient revenue to restore some degree of fiscal responsibility to our economy. These are the proper tools for controlling inflation."

President Criticized By Group

BURLINGAME (UPI)—Directors of United Republicans of California, a large conservative volunteer organization, Monday criticized the Nixon administration of a broad front.

Local chapters were urged to ratify a list of resolutions, adopted at a weekend meeting, attacking programs of the President.

Nixon's proposed family assistance program, providing minimums of support for the needy, was condemned.

Another resolution deplored the recent visit to Moscow of Astronaut Frank Borman where he placed a wreath on the tomb of Lenin.

The Internal Revenue Service was criticized for its customary procedure of compelling taxpayers to prove their innocence

In tax disputes, rather, requiring the government to establish guilt.

Other resolutions accused the United Nations of pro-communist policies for not supporting Biafra and attacked Parent-Teacher Associations for promoting sex education courses. The directors tabled a resolution commending the appointment of U.S. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger after members said Burger has yet to prove his conservatism on the Supreme Court.

MEXICAN BUDDHISTS MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Luis Lavandero, chief monk of Mexico's first Buddhist temple, says there are 1,600 Buddhists in Mexico, including many movie and television personalities.

Director Named

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Dr. Malcolm P. Calhoun, a member of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, has been named director of the denomination's five-year "hunger" program. Dr. Calhoun will work full time on plans in the campaign against world hunger which followed a declaration by the church's General Assembly last April that "world hunger...is a top priority concern of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and that all possible resources...for at least the next five years, must be focused on ways and means of dealing with the problem." Black Manifesto Rejected By Christian Church

By MARTIN HEERWALD
SEATTLE (UPI) — The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) decided Monday to reject the Black Manifesto and to go its own route in financing programs to help end poverty and racial injustice.

The general assembly of the church voted overwhelming support for its general board which had denounced the manifesto of the Black Economic Development Conference (BEDC) as a document of "black racism."

In its manifesto adopted last April the BEDC demanded $500 million reparations from the nation's white churches and synagogues "as partial reparation for the white man's sins against the black."

Voting delegates among the 8,000 persons attending the convention "balked 1,001 to 67 against a motion to rewrite the general board's proposals so that they would include at least a little earnest money" for the BEDC.

Then by standing vote a larger majority endorsed the board's recommendation. While rejecting the manifesto, the resolution extends the church's urban emergency program — aimed primarily at poverty and racism — from two to four years and sets a goal of $4 million in new contributions.

The resolution also asks the church, nationally and through its local congregations to redevelop funds, putting more than $30 million into the fight against poverty and discrimination in the next four years.

As the assembly was voting on the issue of the manifesto, two dozen white youths lined up before the rostrum and raised their right hands in the clenched fist symbol of black power.

After the final vote, Charlotte Harris, a young black member of McCarty Memorial Christian Church in Los Angeles, said the young are forming a national youth conference to change the church.

Miss Harris, a nonvoting delegate, had warned earlier that the young were turning away from churches.

"The churches are going to be burned down and they're not ready for this," she said. "We had better take a stand today, because this revolution is changing every five minutes."

She said the disciples were racists by nature, "both black and white."

Rev. James Blair, a black minister from Kansas City, Mo., said after the assembly had acted that black churchmen were forming their own caucus to work for blacks, both inside and outside the church.

"In a convention of this size, it is impossible for the black church to vote through anything we consider top priority to ourselves," he said. "We must be how competent we may become... we would still be rejected in many of the white churches in this brotherhood."

The fight for rewriting the general board resolution was led by Revs. T. Garrett Benjamin of Philadelphia and Charles Bayer, Chicago. Bayer likened rejection of the manifesto to doctor telling a patient crying out in agony:

"I'm sorry, my friend, but we don't like your language as when you quit screaming and calm down, we will help you."

Dr. George Beasley, from church headquarters in Indianapolis, replied that "some of us just don't happen to think that the BEDC is the proper instrument for relieving that pain."

PRESIDENT NIXON NOMINATED U. S. Appeals Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. for the U.S. Supreme Court. Haynsworth, shown here in a 1968 film photo, succeeds Abe Fortas who resigned under fire.

ALICE MARIE LUSTIK, a Polish resident of Sao Paulo, Brazil, is led away from her home by military police after she used a revolver and five dogs to scare off a tax collector. The trick worked eight times, but on the ninth try the collector was accompanied by police in an armored car. She was charged with "disrespect for authority."

Grandmother Is Charged With Smuggling Aliens Into U.S.

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A 60-year-old grandmother is charged with smuggling aliens into the United States. Border guards found seven Mexicans jammed in the trunk of her car.

Mrs. Lucinda B. Lloyd, Los Angeles, was arrested at the San Ysidro Border Station as she crossed from Mexico accompanied by her three grandchildren ranging in age from 6 to 10.

A customs inspector searched her car because he thought it appeared to be heavily weighted down in the back. He opened the trunk and found the seven men, one of whom was unconscious from the heat.

The aliens told authorities they had been contacted by an "arranger" at a Tijuana Hotel who said he could get them to Los Angeles for $175 each, payable at the end of the trip.

Mrs. Lloyd told authorities she didn't know the men were in the trunk until she was stopped at the border.

"Mrs. Lloyd said she drove to Tijuana with a friend named 'Billy,' but after arriving in the border city the friend told her she would have to take another car back.

Mrs. Lloyd said she found the second car without trouble and drove it as far as the border, where it caught the attention of inspectors.

Mrs. Lloyd was arraigned Monday and freed on $1,000 bail.

Henry Miller Helped Open Door To Literary Freedom In U.S.

PARIS (UPI)—Henry Miller's books that should never have seen the light of day, Miller said in a UPI interview. Miller, 77, returned to the scene of his most celebrated books to attend the filming of "Tropic of Cancer," long banned in the United States and still banned in many other countries.

"The battle to publish 'Cancer' in my own country led good stuff eventually," he said, "many other publishers to printing."

Seeing this mild-mannered relaxed writer, full of friendship towards everybody, it is difficult to picture him as the angry expatriate who wrote that his first published novel, "Tropic of Cancer," was a "spit in the face of mankind." The book was written when I was in deep despair," he said. "I was desperate and had no money, no job, nothing. Even writing it brought me nothing for two or three years."

Day Of Show Business Boozer Is Over

By PATRICIA E. DAVIS

MIAMI (UPI)—The day of the great boozing in show business is gone, Jackie Gleason said with undisguised regret.

The Great One, long known as a man who likes his liquor, noted that "only a couple of good boozers are left" in the entertainer world — just Richard Burton, Peter O'Toole and Trevor Howard.

"Actors these days are a different breed," Gleason explained. "They're frightened. Unless you can hold your liquor, you're in trouble. As long as you can do your work, the public will forgive it. I never drink till 6 p.m. after that."

Gleason was sitting in solitary splendor in the middle of an empty parking lot at the Ivan Tors Studio when interviewed by UPI. He was soaking up the sun during a lunch break in the filming of his latest movie by ABC Picture Corp., "How Do I Love Thee."

While bemoaning the thinning ranks of tough show biz drinkers, he admitted modestly that his own capacity for booze has increased lately.

"I've been dieting," he said, proudly patting his shrinking stomach. "I just eat eggs, meat and fish. Leaving out the vegetables and starches gives you more room for the booze."

Gleason, who now weighs in at 220 pounds, has lost about 50 pounds in three months — a source of great satisfaction to him. "I feel great—never felt better. I lost the weight because I like clothes. I got a whole new wardrobe—it's just like the old one only now it looks better on me."

Gleason, with a conspiratorial air, said that he was on a "great new booze kick"—martini. "I just met a girl who makes a great martini — just great. With two olives—stuffed with pimientos," he said, expounding into a Gleasonesque ruffian.

In the interview, Gleason declined to discuss his private life, but an associate identified Gleason's martini-making friend as Beverly McKittrick, a Miami secretary, and said the comedian hopes to marry her when he can get a divorce from his estranged wife, Genevieve. "He's very much in love," the associate said.

Gleason, who starts rehearsal Sept. 2 for the upcoming television season, said retaining his high ratings this year — with the Andy Williams show in the same time slot on another network — "isn't gonna be a cinch" but we're gonna have 15 half-hour segments and five special musicals. "We'll be competitive all right."

He feels his new "skinny look" will also be a boon to the show, "but I can't lose too much weight — I have to be a little hefty for my image."

Gleason's regular cast, including Art Carney and Shelly Long, will be back on the show, as will be television's most famous coffee cup.

The cup, which he takes on stage with him, really "does contain booze," Gleason noted. "Either Scotch or champagne." The coffee cup idea, he thought, "brings the feeling of intimacy to the audience — a glass would be too crass. Sneaking the booze out of a coffee cup is much more intimate. It breaks the audience down."

Gleason plans to revive some of his famous characterizations for the TV season—Reggie Van Gleason, the Poor Soul, Runt Dum—pathetically funny characters.

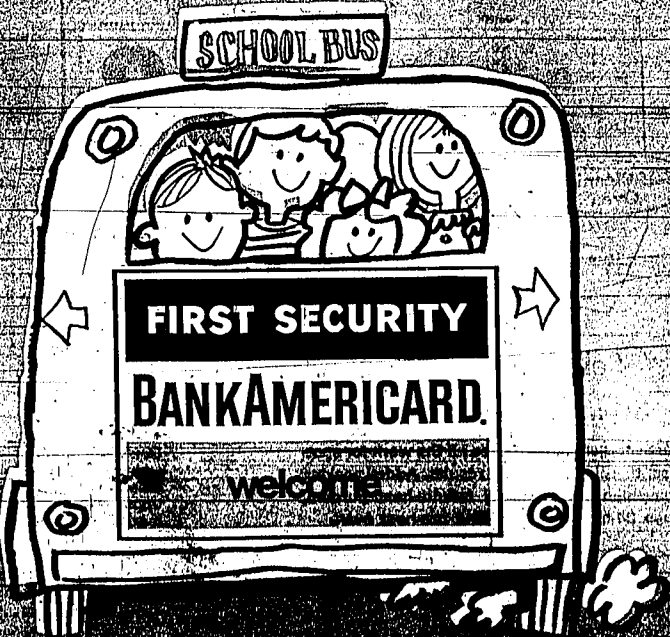

"Patience," Gleason said, "is the essence of good comedy. All good comics can make you cry."

I'd rather be known as a good comic than a good actor, but I'm really tough. You have to get an immediate response from the audience—acting you have plenty of time to win them over. Comics have to do it immediately or I continuous television. I'll never do another movie after this one.

"With all the retakes in movies, you lose the spontaneity," Gleason, an impatient man who detests rehearsals, explained, in a while. But no more for me, pal. I'm gonna do no more movies — never again."

Spaceman Guilty Of Enjoying Moon

By Preston F. Kirk
SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (UPI) — American's Apollo 11 astronauts pleaded "guilty" to enjoying themselves on the lunar surface. They also confessed, sheepishly they had teased ground controllers by playing mysterious noises over the radio on their way home. In their own defense, astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. had some fun with newsmen, too, at their first postflight news conference.

They showed a film of their moonwalking speeded up, so that they appeared to zip across the lunar surface key-hole cop fashion, and at one point in the moon Armstrong commented, "I quickly put up the TV camera."

More seriously, Armstrong and Aldrin said, it was just so much fun being on the moon that they took a little too much time looking around and got behind in their schedules.

Fire Truck Destroyed During Blaze

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Nez Perce County's only operational fire truck was destroyed by fire Sunday while fighting a grass fire near here. Officials said gas began spilling from the tank of the truck as it went up an incline. The trail of gas was soon touched off by the fire and acted as a fuse which led to the truck's tank. Damages to the 1952 four-wheel drive vehicle were termed "total," by Sheriff Bud Hudson. Lewiston said the county's only other fire rig was being repaired. He added that the county has no legal obligation to maintain fire fighting service, but said his office has provided the men and equipment since 1957.

Buildups Are Said Extreme

By United Press International
Even if the northern region forests located in eastern Washington and northern Idaho are listed as "extreme" in the forest buildup index, U.S. Forest officials announced today. They are the Colville, Knapik, St. Joe, Clearwater, Nezperce, Bitterroot, and Lolo National Forests. Elsewhere in the northern region, which also encompasses western Montana and parts of North and South Dakota, buildup ranged from high to very high. Although fire danger continues to be critical, the actual number of fires and acres destroyed by fire remained low, compared to last year's fires.

Lawyer Pleads Innocent To Charges Of Using Grand Jury Transcripts

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Grant Cooper, the attorney who defended Sirhan B. Sirhan and Dr. Bernard Finch at their murder trials, pleaded innocent Monday to charges arising from alleged possession and use of secret grand jury transcripts.

Cooper and eight other persons, including prominent lawyers James P. Cantillon and William Marshall Morgan, entered the innocent plea in federal court at arraignment on an indictment in connection with the Friars Club card-cheating trial last year.

Cooper was charged with two counts of contempt of court, an offense for which he could be given an indeterminate jail sentence. He was charged with alleged possession of the transcripts and for purporting to give them to the defense.

Eight other persons, including Cooper's client, Maurice H. Friedman, were charged with conspiracy to obtain the transcripts, and to use them for various purposes including obstruction of justice, bribing of witnesses, and perjury.

Cooper also was charged with lying in the judge in the Friars trial when he was asked how he obtained the document. Later he admitted he had not told the truth when he said he found the transcript on the counsel table. He said it would be a breach of the attorney-client privileged relationship if he told where he got the transcript.

Cooper, one of the top private attorneys on the west coast, sought unsuccessfully to persuade a jury not to sentence Sirhan to the gas chamber for the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in a trial that lasted three months.

A former president of the Los Angeles Bar Association and former president of the American College of Trial Lawyers, Cooper first came to national attention as the defense lawyer for Dr. Bernard Finch in the sensational Finch-Troff murder trials a decade ago.

Cooper, Cantillon and Morgan were to be arraigned later in the day. They indicated they did not intend "alleged I had informed, because in state court, I am being prosecuted for contempt for failing to disclose what defense witnesses would testify to before they testified."

Sino-Soviet Conflict Poses Growing Major-War Threat

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International
Window on the World

The Sino-Soviet conflict is becoming dead serious according to diplomats in London and elsewhere. But this would involve summoning the British Parliament to an emergency session to approve the decision.

China Detente:

The recent visit of President Nixon to Romania plus his new overtures to Red China are playing into the hands of the Russian hawks, according to a high ranking Filipino who has just returned to Manila from Russia. He says this, plus the new Sino-Soviet border clashes, may just lead to an overthrow of the Soviet doves who are now in power. The Filipino says Russia's greatest fear is that Nixon will engineer a detente with China which will isolate the Soviets. "Frankly," he said, "the Russians just don't trust Nixon."

Irish Outlook:
The Northern Ireland

1970 Census May Force Line Changes

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—After the 1970 census, population changes combined with the one-man one-vote edict are expected to force redrawing of congressional district lines in many of the 50 states.

As a result, both major parties have already zeroed in on the 1970 state elections in an attempt to control state legislatures which will be redrawing those districts. They want the control both for the political power base involved and because they hope to get a favorable break in the redistricting.

As an example, the Democrats say it would be theoretically possible for the Republicans to control the California Legislature in 1970 to redraw the congressional districts in such a way the Democrats could win only a small percentage of the seats.

The current issue of "Democracy," a publication of the Democratic National Committee, carries its lead story under the headline, "Project '70: Legislative Races." It notes that the committee's executive committee authorized Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, national party chairman, to appoint a special task force to develop a national program to win legislative seats.

At Republican headquarters, control of legislatures is one of the assignments given to the newly organized campaign division. That division is supposed to set standards of performance to measure capability of the GOP state organizations. Plans for legislative campaigns will be among the standards to be judged.

The GOP is planning to send advisory task forces to most states before the 1970 elections. These also will be concerned with legislative elections.

Although the Supreme Court is compelling population equality in legislative and congressional districts, it has done nothing about the permanent arrangement of district boundaries for the benefit of the party controlling the legislature.

situation gets further out of hand the British government will face the decision whether to assume full control over the northern provinces. Under the 1920 Government of Ireland Act, can do so in an extreme emergency. But this would involve summoning the British Parliament to an emergency session to approve the decision.

China Detente:

The recent visit of President Nixon to Romania plus his new overtures to Red China are playing into the hands of the Russian hawks, according to a high ranking Filipino who has just returned to Manila from Russia. He says this, plus the new Sino-Soviet border clashes, may just lead to an overthrow of the Soviet doves who are now in power. The Filipino says Russia's greatest fear is that Nixon will engineer a detente with China which will isolate the Soviets. "Frankly," he said, "the Russians just don't trust Nixon."

Unfinished Purge:

Diplomatic sources in Manila say Indonesia's purge of officials and military sources linked with the abortive 1965 coup that ousted overthrown President Sukarno is far from over. The sources said Brig. Gen. Moerdjo, Indonesian ambassador to the Philippines, is being recalled home and speculation he may face an investigation for suspected links to Sukarno and the plotters of the coup.

No Summit:

Observers in Moscow are increasingly skeptical that the much touted American-Soviet summit conference will be held this year. It was noted that even the disarmament talks which Washington had expected by the end of July are still being held up and there is no Soviet answer yet to the American proposal for such talks.

Jehovah's Witnesses File Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Jehovah's Witnesses have filed suit to collect damages and challenge the constitutionality of California's city ordinance requiring the purchase of a $100 license to solicit door-to-door.

Minister John Richard Newkirk and several members of the Saratoga congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses were cited last month for soliciting without a license while handing out Watchtower publications and accepting contributions.

The suit filed in federal district court charges the ordinance violates constitutional rights of freedom of religion, speech and press. They are asking $11,000 in actual damages, $50,000 in punitive damages and for a permanent injunction against enforcing the ordinance.

Seven city and two Santa Clara County officials are the defendants.

Problems

DUNGENESS, England (UPI)—A speedboat nicknamed "Lily the Pink" dumped its owner overboard while he was making a high-speed turn Sunday night. Lily then sped straight out to sea on her own at 30 m.p.h.

The Coast Guard said it is searching for the runaway craft but faces another problem if Lily is found. The owner forgot to give them his name or address.

Conservation Philosophy Is Explained

BOISE (UPI)—Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., the youngest member in the U.S. Senate, told a news conference in Boise Monday he is in favor of a "new philosophy" in the field of conservation.

Packwood held the news conference and then departed for a two-week trip to visit constituents in Eastern Oregon. He said he favors a philosophy that gives priority to public use rather than to public jobs.

The 36-year-old legislator said that reclamation and conservation were his prime targets in the Senate and added he did not favor more dam construction on the Snake River. He said he was basically against construction of dams whose principle purpose is for hydroelectric power at the detriment to public use.

The Oregon Republican, who defeated veteran Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse last year, defended Democratic Idaho Sen. Frank Church in his battle to obtain information on U.S. military commitments in Thailand. Church walked out of a closed Senate Foreign Relations Committee meeting with the military last week when he was unable to obtain information on just what commitments the United States has made in Thailand.

Packwood added, "The Pentagon in many instances is its own worst enemy."

He said also that there is a "frightened feeling" in Congress on inflation.

"It really hasn't come to a head yet. Everyone has in the back of his mind wages and price controls. I don't like them but I wouldn't say I wouldn't support them," Packwood said.

The Oregon lawmaker left Boise for Malheur County and then planned to travel through Baker County arriving in Portland during the weekend. Next week he is to tour in the Burns, Portland and Klamath Falls areas.

RESIDENTS EVACUATED: BANGKOK (UPI)—Thousands of residents along the flooding Mekong river in the Thai-Lao border were ordered Sunday to evacuate their homes because of the "alarming" state of the river's rise.

Houston And Westerhouse Lead Cowboys To Double Victories Over Caldwell

Rowland Houston's two-out, seventh-inning hit, settled the first game and Rightfielder Chuck Westerhouse followed up with a three-run homer to lead Magic Valley Cowboys to a 5-0 victory over Caldwell.

The Cowboys now travel to Salt Lake City for a big three-game, two-day stand and return home Thursday to open a five-day final home series.

Bunker Fires Royals Past Yanks 6-1

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—Wally Bunker drove in three runs with a single and a double and scattered eight hits Monday night in pitching the Kansas City Royals to a 6-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

Gene Michael's throwing error with the bases loaded in the fourth inning helped the Royals to two runs and Bunker aided his own cause with a two-run single in the sixth and a run producing double in the eighth.

A walk to Joe Keough, Mike Fio's single and a walk to Joe Foy off loser Mel Stottlemyre loaded the bases for Kansas City in the fourth. Terry Adams then hit a grounder to Michael whose wild throw to second enabled Keough and Fio to score. Foy tallied the third-run of the inning on a force play.

New York's 100th game was a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stottlemyre, Hamilton (7) and Rodriguez (12) pitched for the Cardinals.

Reds 12-5

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Carl Taylor's bat loaded double and a two-run homer by Gene Alley highlighted a seven-run 10th inning Monday night which carried Pittsburgh to a 12-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds after the Pirates had tied the game with three runs in the ninth with the help of Woody Woodall's throwing error.

The Pirates' winning rally was helped along by two of the five errors committed by the Reds. Tony Perez bobbled a pitch. Bruce Darvill's grounder to open the 10th. After a bunt single by Matty Alou, Jose Pagan bounced to pitcher Wayne Granger, who threw a second for an attempted force but Chico Ruiz dropped the ball and the bases were loaded.

Al Jackson replaced Granger and struck out Willie Stargell. Pedro Ramos then replaced Jackson and was greeted by Taylor's three-run double. Manny Sanguillen followed with an infield hit and both he and Taylor scored on a double by Al Oliver. Alley followed with his fifth homer of the season, all coming in his last five games.

Darvill, who limited the Reds to one run and three hits over the last three innings, picked up the win.

The Pirates scored three runs in the ninth when Alou singled. Stargell doubled him home and Woodward threw away Sanguillen's grounder with two out, allowing Stargell to score. Oliver then doubled to tie the game.

Bobby Tolán's 21st homer, a three-run blast, gave the Reds a 3-1 lead in the third. Two throwing errors by Sanguillen in the sixth gave the Reds their fourth run and Dal Canton, who pitched home the first run in the eighth.

Salts Lake pitcher Dan Young had a no-hitter for nearly five innings of the opening game, but Billings erupted for three runs in the bottom of the sixth to take the victory.

ABA Champion Oaks May Move From Bay City To Washington

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland Oaks may become the second American Basketball Association team in two years to bid farewell to a city the season after winning the championship.

Reports were filed Monday that the Oaks would be sold to a Washington group headed by attorney-sportsman Earl M. Foreman and moved to the nation's capital.

The mentioned sale price was $2.5 million.

Bruce Hale, general manager of the Oaks, confirmed the negotiations were underway but declined further comment.

ABA officials denied the talks have anything to do with the much-discussed merger with the rival National Basketball Association but other sources indicated that a merger, or even a common-player-draft, would have as a price the removal of Oakland and Los Angeles ABA franchises.

"We're having very serious discussions with the Washington group," ABA president James Gardner told George Ross, sports editor of the Oakland Tribune. "It is by far the best offer but you understand nothing is final until the league approves it. Nothing can be done certainly until Tuesday, when we meet in New York."

The Tribune also reported that another offer made by an unidentified Oakland-based group intending to keep the franchise in the Bay Area, was labeled "white negotiations" and forward with the Washington bidders over the weekend.

Gardner added that even if the team is sold to the Washington group, the Oaks might have to play in Oakland for another season.

"The move to Washington presents problems of securing

Cubs Tip White Sox In Benefit

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ernie Banks and Billy Williams hit solo homers to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 2-0 victory over their crosstown rivals, the White Sox, Monday night in the 20th annual Best-Benefit Game.

The victory broke a five-game "White Sox" winning streak in the annual game.

Banks, whose 16 hits in the series leads all active players, hit a homer in the second inning off Sox closer Bart Johnson. Johnson, the strikeout leader of the Midwest League who is 19 years old, pitched the first five innings. Williams hit a solo homer to lead off the fourth to wrap up the scoring.

Cub rookie Archie Reynolds, who pitched the first five innings, received credit for the victory.

I could save only $10 a month, yet the man from Equitable showed me how it would grow to $1500 in less than 10 years."

You save $1160, get $1500 back! It's pretty hard to beat. (Unless, of course, you could boost that saving to $20 a month so you would get $3000 for the $2320 you saved.)

The beauty of an Equitable Systematic Savings plan is that you decide the amount you can save regularly each month. If you put more than the pre-set monthly amount in the account, the excess earns the same high earnings. It's like finding a treasure.

Equitable has the savings plans that really work... the experienced counselors to help you... the stability you trust. After all, Equitable Savings is presently serving over 92,000 savings and investment accounts for big savers and small.

Come in, phone or write this week. Don't put it off. Money slips away without a plan, and it's gone forever. And remember, Equitable gives you a savings plan that really works.

Seafood Salad Is Good Party Idea

Half the fun of going to an outing or hosting one is discovering something new and different to eat. Perk up your late summer party with this interesting new treat idea—summer seafood salad served on crackers.

Let your guests serve themselves and they'll say this seasonal snack is simply scrumptious. What does it take? A box of Keebler's new Town House oval crackers and a bowl of summer seafood salad. Here's a recipe that was recently developed by Fran Gardner, Keebler Co. home economist.

SUMMER SEAFOOD SALAD
1/4 cups of cooked or canned shrimp
1 3 ounce package of cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
Salt and pepper to taste
Lemon wedges
Oval Crackers (Keebler's new Town House)
Thoroughly drain seafood and dice finely. Blend cream cheese with mayonnaise and lemon juice until smooth. Combine seafood, celery and green pepper. Add mayonnaise mixture. Mix lightly, season and chill. Serve with lemon wedges.
Tailor to your locality and taste by substituting crabmeat, lobster, water-packed tuna or salmon for shrimp.

PANTS ARE POPULAR

Sweater soft is the key expression in defining Chester Weinberg's look for 'day and evening this fall and winter. Detail in the art of dress-making abounds. Throughout the collection, pants showed up as essential parts of many outfits.

SUMMER SEAFOOD salad will offer an interesting taste treat when served on crackers. These new flavor-improved Town House ovals are just right for bite-size snacking. Your do-it-yourself guests will enjoy the snappy tang offered by lemon wedges.

Drinking Habits Discussed During National Meeting

NEA—The college and post-college set is drinking less whiskey and gin today but more beer. Within the next few years, according to some observers, legally sold, "clean" marijuana could supplant alcoholic drinks among the young.
These opinions were expressed recently at the 50th anniversary meeting of the National Restaurant Association in Chicago.
Noel Henneberry, the 35-year-old owner of Chateaux's pub in New York's Rockefeller Center, was one of the five panelists. He predicts:
"Maybe in the future the young will switch to pot. At least some of them. But certainly not all."

Silver Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

BURLEY—Mr. and Mrs. John Dirickson, Burley, were honored on their Silver Wedding Anniversary with a surprise family gathering and barbecue dinner at their home on Miller Avenue.

The couple has three children and one granddaughter. Mr. and Mrs. Larry D. Anderson and daughter, Meridian; Johnny Dirickson, Jr., and Randy Dirickson, both Burley.

Assisting with the affair were Mrs. Dirickson's sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stapelman and sons, DeWayne and Stanley, both Burley; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones, daughter Jeannie and son Terry, Boise, and Mrs. Frank Jones, Burley.

The honorees were presented a sterling silver serving set and a set of sterling candleholders containing pink rosebuds of Mrs. Dirickson's favorite colors.

The anniversary cake, made by Mrs. John Heald, Burley, was decorated with pink rosebuds and featured a 25th anniversary emblem.

Mr. Dirickson is employed at the Burley Fire Department, a position he has held for 13 years. Mrs. Dirickson has been employed by the Miller School for eight years.

Monthly Queen

Noted By TOPS

Audra Lundin was honored as queen of the month by the Twin Falls Trimmer TOPS Club. Marjorie Kramer, club leader, presented Mrs. Lundin a banner and gift.

Weekly queens were Mrs. Linda and Phyllis Aamdt.
Hostesses for the month were Patricia Libert, Dorothy Ilerman, Ann Livingston and Lois Martens.

Programs were presented to club members by Mrs. Tony Euteneier, "Proper Exercise," and Mrs. James Fitzpatrick, "Charm and Poise."
Mrs. Dee Kinton, leader of the Co-ed's Trimmer-California TOPS Club, as a guest and presented ideas with the club members.

Anyone wanting information or wishing to join a TOPS Club may call Mrs. Marjorie Kramer, 733-2307.

Donna Ross, Pirnie Reveal September Plans

SHOSHONE—Mr. and Mrs. Hal Ross announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Gail, to Ronald Pirnie, Caldwell, son of Mrs. Roy Robinson, Caldwell, and Glen Pirnie, Boise.
Miss Ross was graduated from Shoshone High School and will be a senior this fall at the College of Idaho, Caldwell. She is majoring in psychology.
Mr. Pirnie is a Junior at the College of Idaho this fall and is majoring in economics.
A Sept. 6 wedding is planned at Shoshone.

"It is true that they are ordering more beer today. But many young men and women still do enjoy a gin Martini. And they still like Scotch, too. But they all want something to eat when they drink. That's why our food bar alongside our regular bar is so popular with them. And with our not-so-young customers, too."

"This food bar is one of our specialties. We serve the best roast beef and the best corned beef. And individual servings of shrimp, clams and oysters. Not a delicatessen layout, but a selection of those foods we find people enjoy most with a friendly drink."

Born in Ireland and trained in London pubs and clubs as a waiter in the British Merchant Navy, Henneberry regards today's youthful customers as quite sophisticated.
"They have lots of money to spend. They demand certain brands now, no longer will they accept bar brands. They like activity in a place. Which explains the popularity of our food bar. It creates activity. And let me ask you, will a person return to a bar or lounge simply because he got a good drink? I doubt it. But he will come back."

Women's Section

DEAR ABBY: This is for a letter in your column "CAREFUL IN W. VA.": the mother who said she wouldn't leave her 11-year-old daughter alone for even 15 minutes with her teenage brother because "sex is sex" to a boy until he reaches manhood, and he does most people do in a lifetime, for I was the victim of a "loving" grandfather.

VICTIM IN TACOMA
DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old boy, and a better authority on how teen-agers think than that lady signed "CAREFUL".

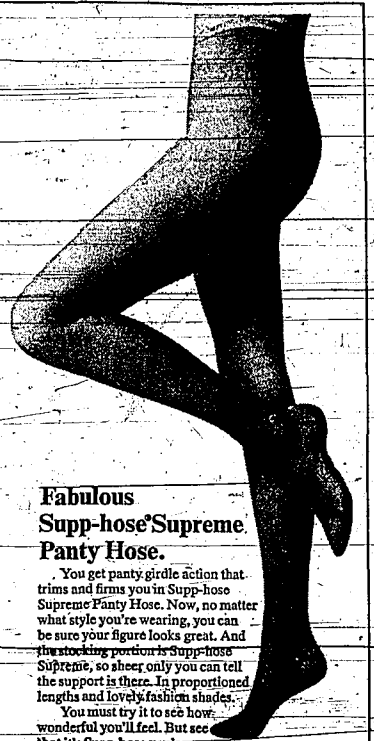

If someone thinks an 11-year-old girl, walking around in her pajamas is going to turn me on, they are crazy.
NOT TURNED ON
DEAR ABBY: I have to agree with "CAREFUL": You can't be too careful.

I was shocked when my husband told me what went on in the hayloft while his parents were milking the cows. I say a lot depends upon the upbringing the kids have had. (My husband wasn't anything to brag about.)

I don't believe in leaving anything to chance. And believe me, I am still going to keep a close watch on my children, Abby.
"THE POLICEWOMAN"
Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TREAD LIGHT, MEN
Men's fashions have gone wild and wonderful, but the basic rules still apply: Gentlemen, please remember that no one, in any fashion era, has looked anything but silly if he mixes his styles—which is to say that silk ties and sports jackets worn together is still a fashion horror. So is wearing any type of loafer with a business suit, or wearing wingtips with casual slacks. Look as suave-gent as you please, but be consistent.

"COLD IN TEXAS"
DEAR ABBY: One would have to have a very sick mind to sexually molest a child, but unfortunately there have always been — and always shall be — sick people.
I silently bless you every time

Idaho Products Picnic Slated By Goodwill

An Idaho products picnic for members and families of the Goodwill Club was planned during a recent meeting at the home of Jean Carr.

The picnic is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Thursday at Harmon Park.

Thelma Rigdon led the flag salute and Doris Scherupp the prayer. Lucille Smith and Doris Scherupp won prizes for turning in the most coupon-points on their teams.

The thought for the day was given by Nellie Orndorff. Secret gifts were received by Mrs. S. L. Smith, Mary Rigdon, Mary Wildman, Joyce Everett and Goldie Severt.

White elephant prizes went to Mrs. Meader, Lydia Scherbinske, Mable Holmgren and Joyce Everett.

A Chinese auction was held with Evelyn Tyner, president, in charge of activities, assisted by Chloe Carr, Joyce Everett, Betty Treat and Mrs. Severt.

Class Meets

SHOSHONE — Mrs. Velma Allen was among those present as special guest of the 1969 class reunion of Shoshone High School.

Mrs. Allen, who now lives and teaches in Boise, taught the members of the class and spent extra time with them in musical productions for a number of years.

IT MAY STILL be summer, but fall is creeping up, and fashions for that season already are on the scene. These "Me-plus" knit together by Catalina let the wearer make one or two quick changes to create a totally new look.

Glimpse Of 70's

Change is in the air, and fashion the first to sense it. With the coming of crisp, bright weather and turning leaves, fashion is letting its skirts down.

It means a return to modesty with a covered-up look and subdued, slightly—even plainness in soft, fluid lines.

The fall look is the country governess, the good old-fashioned girl walking in the country beneath falling leaves, bicycling in the park on gusty autumn days, and enjoying to the full the games.

She is casual in long mid-length skirts with blouses and stretch-out sweaters, warm in soft cardigan suits, long coats and boots; individual in a wardrobe of varying skirt-lengths and ray in Art Deco prints.

A great look, and a big change from the Mod 60's. And here for the new old-fashioned girl are a few tips on heavy care, compiled by researchers for the Marline Company:

1) Days are shorter and temperatures cooler, but the sun's rays are still intense. So, skin needs the protection of frequent facials, with plenty of extra-lubrication to erase wrinkles.

2) Properly fitted sunglasses are a "must" on bright, sunny days for protection against burning rays of ultra-violet sunlight.

With today's variety of sizes, shapes, and styles, they also serve as a smart fashion accessory.

3) Carry a compact makeup kit for those emergency outdoor repairs. It should include a skin cream, lip balm, hand lotion, powder, hair spray, 11 s a u a makeup basics, and a yellow plastic squeeze bottle of eye lotion. Eye drops provide soothing relief for eyes irritated from over exposure to wind and weather.

4) Hair needs several oil treatments every Fall. Moves your crowning glory with thick conditioners and wrap it in a steaming towel for an hour. Bring back natural lustre by brushing, and trim off dry ends.

5) Soft, fluid lines of the new fashions means the figure-must stay trim. Maintain a well-balanced diet, and exercise often. Beware of many "fadish" diets; if they aren't well-balanced, they'll do more harm than good.

6) Skiny rib turtle-neck sweater and giant houndstooth check sweater pants are one combination. To create a slimmer look, exchange the checked pants for skinny ribbed sweater pants, and a thin belt, and presto—a new look!

Kabob Cookery
Zesty beef kabobs can be cooked indoors or out. Cut ½ to ¾ pounds of boneless sirloin steak into 1½-inch cubes. Combine contents of one 3½-ounce envelope of brown gravy mix with 1 cup of water, 1 tablespoon oil and 1 teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. Mix well to even meat cubes and refrigerator several hours, or overnight. At cooking time drain meat, but save marinade. Dry cubes well—drippings remove browning and makes meat lose juices. Alternate cubes on skewers with wedges of green pepper and onion, using one of each. If desired, also include fresh mushrooms, caps and cherry tomatoes. Broil 5 to 10 minutes, or until as done as desired. Turn to broil all sides. Bring remaining gravy mixture to boil and serve with meat, and rice or—noodles. Makes 2 servings.

Betty Canary's Wonderful World

If you're expecting a few comments on the hilarious antics of parents attending a Little League banquet, don't read further.

I haven't attended any games this year, because I am no longer playing the game of organized baseball. And make no mistake about it, organized ball is an organization of parents, not boys.

Last year my youngest son played because he asked to join a team. I sat on the sidelines sweating at just so he would have a turn at bat. And, for the benefit of those who might suspect I'm chewing over sour grapes, I can say proudly that he isn't a sissy. Also, our group was set up so that every boy had a turn so I have no quarrel. As do many parents, about democracy or the fairness of the officials. The important thing is, he was not having any fun.

I could not help comparing the games my cousin Jack (he always wore a leather flying helmet and goggles) played and the games my son played. The little boys, none over 10, sat grimly, looking like a row of ulcer cases. The parents were for want of a better word, enthusiasts. (The truth is, I know a better word but I don't think the editor will print it.)

There was a time when I was a devout Baseball Mother—when my eldest son was trying to play the game. I'd like to forget about it, but bad memories DO have a way of sticking. There was the time when I watched my eldest (he was only 10 then) cry on the diamond while a grown man stood screaming over him because he had dropped the ball. I was ashamed. No; and I'm sorry to admit it, I was not ashamed of that ridiculous red-faced man. I was ashamed of the boy!

My second son turned a deaf ear to our pleas to play ball. He would never try out for a team. And, I have bad memories of that also, because I was guilty of shouting at him. What's the matter with you? Now, I wonder what was the matter with ME!

At least I was never guilty of running onto the field or shrieking abusive words at an umpire, and I have seen more than one parent do those things. I have never cursed a child—and I've heard that more than once. I have never driven off. And let a child walk home at night without an error in the game—and I observed a father take that action.

When I was a Baseball Mother, I had big words and long theories about how playing ball was not only healthful but was a learning experience for the boys. My personal experience is that at least one thing these children are learning is how to make play seem like work.

BELTS APLENTY

Belts make their own inner circle of chic. The fashion-conscious young sometimes wear two or three belts together, extending from waist to hip, to accentuate slenderness. Some belts for fall and winter have bells that tinkle. Single-angle comes from gypsy coins and other metallic ornaments that tink and clank when the wearer walks.

Salmon Tract Club Hosts Guest Day

Members of the Salmon Tract Homemakers Extension Club hosted their annual Guest Day meeting at the home of Mrs. William Lanting, with Mrs. Homer Roberts as co-hostess.

Mrs. Lanting gave the opening thought and Mrs. Oran Jones, vice president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. C. J. Boss introduced Mrs. Jess Jones and Mrs. Harry Shurk of the Country Pals Extension Club. Mrs. Jones demonstrated making tissue paper flowers and Mrs. Shurk displayed evergreen flowers. "Cakes" prior flowers—bals made from bleach bottles and roses made from plastic egg cartons—She demonstrated making the roses.

Other guests included Mrs. Dee Heworth and children Julie and Ricky, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Douglas Kramer, Hollister. Plans were made to hold the November meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard Mills instead of at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Astor. It was announced the health cards should be returned to the president. Members were reminded the extension cookbooks are still available for purchase.

Mrs. Mills received the woman's prize and Julie Heworth received the children's prize. Salads brought by the members were served by the hostesses.

Janet Bruesch Is Bride Of Michael Ladhner

BURLEY — The Little Flower Catholic Church in Burley was the setting for the wedding of Janet Lee Bruesch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bruesch, Almo, and Michael Joseph Ladhner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Ladhner, Pass Christian, Miss.

Rev. Richard C. Bauman officiated at the Aug. 9 ceremony before a bevy of white-clad guests. The bride wore a white gown with blue carnations and white satin ribbon streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length A-line gown of white satin over a white tulle skirt. The dress was designed with a corset collar and long sleeves scalloped at the wrists, accented with white satin bows on the scallops with a matching bow at the neck.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a white satin bow outlined with seed pearls. The cascade arrangement of the bride's bouquet featured blue split carnations and white baby roses accented with blue satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Lola Whitaker, cousin of the bride. Best man was William Boatwright, with James Boatwright serving as usher.

The bride was honored at a bachelorette party at the Almo LDS Ward Cultural Hall. Hostesses were Marcia Sheridan, Mrs. H. T. King, Mrs. Cleon Durfee and Mrs. Earl Taylor. A blue and white color scheme of bells, streamers and flowers enhanced the recreation area. Mrs. Cleon Durfee assisted the bride with opening and registering gifts. Mrs. Clair Taylor and

Miss Sheridan displayed the gifts.

Background music was played by Mrs. Helen Koyle. A program of songs and music was presented with Mrs. Arley Cannon as mistress of ceremonies. The refreshment table was covered with a white net cloth over blue and centered with flowers and a miniature bride made of white tissue and lace.

Mrs. H. E. King and Mrs. Earl Taylor served. The newlyweds are residing in San Bernardino, Calif., where the bridegroom is stationed at Norton Air Force Base.

Events

PAUL — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Paul United Methodist Church will meet at 2 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Aho, 1145 N. 2nd St. Martin Muecke will serve as co-hostess. Officers noted the meeting date had been changed. It was previously scheduled for Aug. 28.

Bowl-and-Blossom Club will meet at 9:30 a.m. Thursday for a coffee hour at the home of Mrs. Laura Gillette Kloefer.

The Mountain View Club will meet with Mrs. Lillian Assendrup Sept. 24. The August meeting has been cancelled.

ZODIAC SIGN — Trifari casts your personal horoscope in every scintillating sign of the zodiac. To wear for luck in many delicious new forms. Now necks are circled with slender golden throat-hoops from which are suspended your birthday symbol. Or, it's a girl's taste turns to a fine chain-around her neck, she may have it to wear with her own zodiac sign dangling from it.

TWO LOOKS IN ONE — Panty hose are now for everyone — the newest styles have light or medium panty girdles attached, so that you can have both the firm look created by girdles and the garterless look created by panty hose.

Fresh Look Necessary For Career Girls

Ever wonder why a stewardess never has a pin in her stocking? Wonder why, after a long day, some girls emerge from offices looking shower fresh?

"Tricks of the trade" in the world of jet travel include an extra pair of stockings for each stewardess, carried in purse or tote bag. A working girl's desk drawer has a corner for emergency beauty items. A box of Kleenex man-size for her facial tissues is a must. The strong, three-ply tissues are a foot square, perfect for removing "work" makeup and applying fresh, Astrin-ment dabbed on with the tissue will refresh your skin, giving you a fresh, wide-awake look.

Borrow tricks from the women whose business it is to look lovely. Traveling in a car on a long trip, attending a convention with your husband or simply very busy at home are reasons enough to keep supplies together, ready for a quick beauty pick-up.

Invest a small sum in a good mirror, a magnifying one if you need it. Keep it in a basket or box with other necessary beauty items. A box of Kleenex man-size for her facial tissues is a must. The strong, three-ply tissues are a foot square, perfect for removing "work" makeup and applying fresh, Astrin-ment dabbed on with the tissue will refresh your skin, giving you a fresh, wide-awake look.

Keep an extra supply of makeup in the "kit." It's worth the pennies you've invested. Apply makeup, press powder on lightly with tissue, then "do" your eyes. Makeup for her costume are handy for a quick cleanup of mascara and eye liner brush and your "equipment" is ready for the next beauty treatment.

LIPSTICK'S Next and you're ready to go. Powder lips lightly with a tissue for better holding power. Apply the lipstick, blot and you're beautiful! A dab of perfume from a purse atomizer completes your image.

For busy women, the gals whose business is beauty know that the proverbial ounce of prevention saves many a day. They know that organization helps them feel beautiful and look that way, too. Steal a trick or two — for beauty's sake.

MARY JANS

Mary Janss, Egan Disclose Wedding Date

SUN VALLEY — Mr. and Mrs. William C. Janss, Sun Valley and Beverly Hills, announce the forthcoming marriage of their younger daughter, Mary, to Roger Thad Egan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egan, Old Greenwich, Conn.

The outdoor ceremony will take place Sept. 21, at Trail Creek cabin, Sun Valley, with the reception immediately thereafter. Chaplain Charles Scott, Middlebury college, Middlebury, Vt., will officiate.

Matron of honor for her sister will be Mrs. William Ferguson, Palo Alto, Calif., with Martha Egan, bridesmaid. Bruce Barty, Ohio, is best man, and William C. Janss, Jr., usher.

Miss Janss attended Middlebury College and is completing her final two semesters at the School of Geology, University of Montana, Missoula. Mr. Egan was graduated from Middlebury College and is studying for his master's degree at the School of Geology, University of Montana.

Mr. William C. Janss is president of the Sun Valley corporation, owners of Sun Valley.

ELLEN ALDREDGE

Miss Aldredge Reveals Truth

RUPERT — Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Aldredge, Rupert, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Janeal, to Gary D. McChesney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. McChesney, Tropic, Utah. The bride-elect is a graduate of Minidoka County High School and Brigham Young University. She taught school in Rupert for four years and is presently teaching in Spanish Fork, Utah.

Mr. McChesney served a two-year LDS mission in the New England states and is presently majoring in speech therapy at BYU.

A Sept. 12 wedding is planned in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

CHANGE MATERIALS

A new idea in fall shoes similar to the apparel trends is the use of the same silhouette for daytime and evening achievement with a change of materials. Sample: a polished calf pump, untrimmed with emphasis on a pedestal heel is done for day in an off-white leather. For evening in satin and jewels. A boot look for daytime in a combination of black patent leather and white kid is done for evening in velvet and gold kid.

MARCIA HARLEY

Marcia Harley Is Engaged To Ronald Hagen

WENDELL — Mr. and Mrs. Orville Harley, Wendell, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marcia, to Ronald Wayne Hagen, son of John Hagen, Mount Vernon, Wash., and Mrs. Jerry Kessler, Key West, Fla.

Miss Harley was graduated from Wendell High School with the class of 1969 and is employed at the Idaho First National Bank, Wendell. Mr. Hagen was graduated from Jerome High School with the class of 1968 and is serving in the Navy aboard the USS Tulee.

Because of military obligations, a definite wedding date has not been set.

Colombian Girl Is Guest Of Wendell WSCS

WENDELL — Cecilia Arias, Bogota, Colombia, was a guest at the August meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church.

Miss Arias is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Freeman and will attend Washington State University at Pullman, Wash., this fall. Her topic was her native land and customs.

The pledge service was conducted by Mrs. Lillian Burton. Other reports were given by Mrs. Abner Brown, courtesy committee, and Mrs. Hazel Haviland, Ruth Robb Circle.

Mrs. Hugh Caldwell brought several items to be embroidered for the WSCS gift cupboard. Plans were completed for the annual Chuck Wagon Dinner to be held at 5:30 p.m. Aug. 28, to be served buffet style.

Italian Pastry Made Ahead

Calzone Canapes are a bit fussy to prepare because you have to roll out and cut pastry. However, because the recipe makes lots at one time (especially if you're cany and double the recipe), you can freeze the extras to bake up fresh when you need them.

Literally translated, calzone means "brooches." The southern Italian home-makers who first made the little pastries thought they resembled the full trousers worn by their husbands.

Only four ingredients are needed for the pizza — including canned tomato sauce with cheese, Mozzarella cheese, Italian salami and oregano. Tomato sauce with cheese was designed for Italian cooking; it's a smooth blend of vine-ripened tomatoes, aged Romano cheese and seven Italian seasonings.

CALZONE CANAPES
1 egg, (4 ounces) tomato sauce with cheese
1/2 cup shredded Mozzarella or mild process cheese
1/2 cup very finely chopped Italian salami or luncheon meat
1/4 teaspoon oregano
Pastry for double-crust 9-inch pie.
Combine 1/2 can tomato sauce with cheese, Mozzarella, salami and oregano; set aside. On lightly floured surface roll pastry 1/4-inch thick; cut into 2 or 2 1/2 inch rounds with lightly greased biscuit cutter. Place 6 or 7 amount of salami filling in center of round. Moisten edges of pastry; fold in half. Seal edges and prick tops with fork. Bake at 450 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. Meanwhile, heat remaining tomato sauce with cheese. Serve pastries, warm with sauce. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen.

If desired, double recipe to make 5 dozen pastries. Freeze unbaked. Bake unfrozen pastries as needed at 450 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes.

TINY CALZONE CANAPES, created by Italian housewives, taste like pizza. The pastries are a bit fussy to prepare, but a double recipe can be made and the extras frozen, unbaked.

SKILLFUL PLAY TOPS DEFENSE

We don't approve of North's opening bid. North didn't think much of it himself but he still decided to go from two to three on-trump on the theory that his six diamonds might all turn out to be tricks.

He was wrong about that since West decided to open the queen of hearts rather than a spade. East decided his partner's queen with the king and returned the suit. Declarer had to take the third heart with dummy's ace and the return to the diamond suit was gone.

South decided that East would hold the king of clubs as part of his spade effort and got off his hand with a finesse of the queen. Then he led the seven of diamonds.

If West had been sleeping quietly the double finesse of the 10 would have given South five diamond tricks. But West was wide-awake. He made the second hand high play of the king. South could not afford to let the king hold. West would have cashed two more hearts so South had to find another way to make his contract.

He did this by leading a second club. East played low and South rose with the ace and threw East in with the king. East led the jack of spades. South finessed his queen and when it held, was able to wind up with four clubs, two spades, two diamonds and one heart for game.

East could have found an amazing play to beat the contract. No—it wouldn't be to rise with his king of clubs the first or second time the suit was led. South could just duck. East would have had to discard that king of clubs the third time.

However, South could have foiled that play by winning the second heart, not the third.

What do you do now?

A—Pass. You have invited a slam and your partner has declined the invitation. You don't have enough strength to warrant a move past game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four spades your partner has bid four hearts over your four diamonds. What do you do now?

Bartenders Face Danger Of Pneumonia More Than Other

AMONG 21-year-olds in this country, the women named Mary outnumber the men named John now by three to two. CAN YOU NAME ANY FAMOUS FEMININE INVENTOR? HOW ABOUT ANY FAMOUS FEMININE MAGICIAN? CANNOT. WHAT'S LITTLE KNOWN is that silver-haired cane, carried by the real Bat Masterson, was given to him by President Theodore Roosevelt. MUST NOT FORGET to file the fact a sizable whole's heart weighs about 750 pounds.

ONE STATISTICAL STUDY indicates those jobholders most apt to come down with pneumonia include bartenders.

LOVE AND WAR — Chances are 98 out of 100 a 30-year-old divorcee will get married again. However, chances a 30-year-old widow will get married again are only 81 out of 100. That's what I reported. "But why the difference?" inquires a client. Took this matter up again with "Love and War" man, and he explained, "Because a number of divorcees decide who they're going to marry next even before they're divorced, while few widows do." He says some analysts construe from these figures that approximately 17 per cent of all divorcees have other men waiting to marry them when they break up with their husbands.

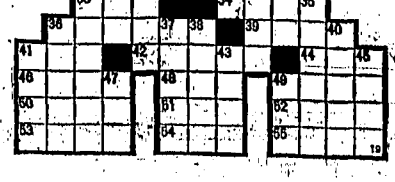

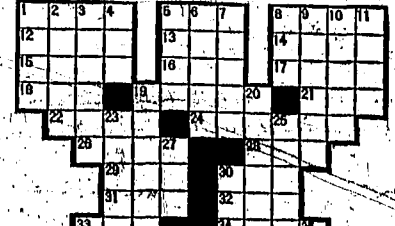

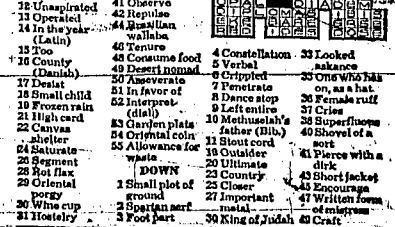

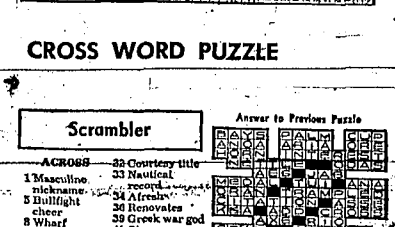

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q—Wasn't it James Thurber who said, "Early risers are contented in the morning and stupid in the afternoon?" A. No, that was Dean Swift. Thurber said, "Early to rise and early to bed make for a healthy, wealthy and dead." Q. "THAT BORDER TOWN" called Tijuana, what's it mean? A. Tijuana? "City near the Sea."

LANGUAGE MAN — You've eaten linum haddie. Or declined to, one. But do you know how the Scots—yes, sir, the Scots—came to name said dish? Fimmin' stands for Fimdon, the Scottish town best known for its sea fare smokers. Haddie stands for haddock, although how anybody could get cozy enough with that fish to nickname it is most mysterious. Incidentally, John Barrymore once defined love as that "delightful interval between meeting a beautiful girl and discovering that she looks like a haddock."

INTERCOM — Do you own a summer cottage? If so, how about vandals, do you get many? A major mail-order house sells for about $20 a simple set of silent sensitive intercoms. They can be rigged so every sound in your vacant haven will be overheard someplace else. When I am away from my trout farm cabin, if I ever get it, I am going to hide a tuned-up pair of those intercoms in the bushes. Iron passers tuppence in on their little catfeet, I will push a button and make a noise like a disturbed lord and stupid to scatter the little bandits.

Your questions and comments are welcomed and will be used whenever possible in "Checking Up." Address mail to L. M. Boyd, in care of P. O. Box 89187, Seattle, Wash. 98189.

ISRAEL STAKES ITS CLAIMS

Computer Control Network Set For Transit District

OAKLAND (UPI) — A year ahead of time, technicians are starting to work on the computer control network for the bay area rapid transit district, the first completely automatic train system in the world.

"The system must be automated because 105 trains accelerating to 80 miles an hour and operating 86 seconds apart will move too fast for human response," says William Brownson, system project manager.

Bart opened the doors to its centralized automatic train control room and computer center to news reporters today for a tour of how the complex system will operate.

A system-wide display board eight feet high and 38 feet long dominates the operating control center one floor below street level at BART's Lake Merritt headquarters building in Oakland.

The board graphically depicts a map of the 75-mile BART system, including its 33 stations. The conditions of the electric power network, ventilating fans and other equipment on the system is also indicated.

Twenty-one miles of wiring on the board supply power to its 35,000 small light bulbs. In full operation, the control center resembles a "space center" automatically controlling bart trains on aerial, underwater, underground and surface tracks.

In the event of an electric power interruption, emergency power sources in a room one floor below the control room can maintain the rail control system for two hours. There are also duplicate computer systems.

But should an interruption make centralized control impossible, automatic controls at each station, operating independently, will take over and operate the system safely.

The first 10 cars are expected to start test runs next fall on bay tracks and service is scheduled to begin on part of the bay by leg by late 1971.

The automatic control system was designed and built under a $28 million contract with Westinghouse Electric Corp.

DIVIDEND TOLD

ONCE FAMED EUROPEAN dancer, Paulita de la Torre, will be among the many long time Ketchum residents participating in the Wagon Days parade Saturday. She will ride on one of the many Wagon Days floats, and plans to wear the costume she wore in the photograph above when, at 20 years of age, she danced before the king of England.

Former Dancer To Ride In Wagon Days Fete Saturday

KETCHUM — Paulita de la Torre will make her first appearance before the public in the Wagon Days parade on Saturday.

Miss de la Torre, better known to residents of this area as Mrs. Paulita deSutter, together with three of her favorite children, will ride on one of the floats. Tiny, Minnie, Simon, and Marc and Gregg Simon (ages 10 and 11) will ride with her.

The boys will wear Swiss Schuylater costumes, replicas of the ones worn by Paulita when she was the first to do the Schuylater dance in the

Children's Program May Pull Adults

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—The perfect children's program, if such a thing exists, should also attract adults to the tube and all networks spend a lot of time seeking the elusive point at which the interests of the generations coincide.

On a school playing field in Ridgefield, Conn., one sunny day recently Jacqueline Babbitt helped rehearse a group of subteenagers for a scene in one of the plays of "CBS Children's Hour," the program her network hopes will enthrall off-spring and parent alike.

When it is of course, the easiest way to capture the small fry audience but this year, with Washington's censorious eyes on their product, the networks are trying to appeal to the better natures, if any, of the little darlings.

"This is a fascinating project," said Miss Babbitt while the children took their places as players and spectators at what will appear on the screen as a school basketball game. "There's nothing else like it at all. It's not the cartoon route. It's not the sweet route. It's not entertainment for the sake of entertainment. We've got some suspense and some laughs to keep kids glued to their sets but at the end of it we hope they'll also feel they've learned something."

The hope is that mum and dad will not say "all right and watch that," but "let's sit and watch that."

The first of the three plays Miss Babbitt is preparing for "Summer is Forever" by Broadway playwright Alvin Karpis. It stars Gary Merrill as a Maine lobster fisherman and it is intended, according to Miss Babbitt, to convey the thought that dreamers can also be doers and that friendship is a form of cooperation.

The second, "Toby" being filmed at Ridgefield, is the story of a 9-year-old neuro-genius who learns that his brain may be adult but his heart is that of a small boy. It stars Robert Hennessey, a very youthful veteran of the soap opera, "Love is a Many Splendored Thing." The third play, "J.T.," is about the awakening of a lonely colored boy through his love for a stray cat.

"Someone asked me what I knew about children," said Miss Babbitt. "I presented the strongest possible credentials—I'm an ex-child myself."

Idaho Has New Science Advisor

BOISE (UPI)—Dr. Willard Frank Libby, currently a professor of chemistry at UCLA, has been appointed as science advisor to the State of Idaho, it was announced today.

The appointment was made by Gov. Don Samuelson, who said Libby will work with university, government and industrial leaders throughout the nation in an effort to apply science to the solution of problems in Idaho.

From 1954 to 1959 Libby was a member of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and in 1960 was awarded the Nobel Prize for Chemistry.

"Dr. Libby will work very close with the Idaho-Nuclear Energy Commission," Samuelson said in a prepared news release. "His first effort will be associated with the feasibility of identifying the Materials Testing Reactor located at Idaho's Nuclear Reactor Testing Station as the Western Beam Research Reactor."

The reactor will complete its engineering mission in April of 1970 but Samuelson pointed out that many scientists are interested in using it as a research reactor because of the available neutron beam holes.

"Dr. Libby will also offer his assistance on the possibility of utilizing the Craters of the Moon as a field laboratory for our nation's space program," the governor said. "Volcanologists believe that the surface of the moon is similar to this area."

Samuelson also pointed out that Idaho will utilize the experience of Dr. Libby for all state agencies, including Idaho's institutions of higher education.

"We are indeed fortunate to have a man of Dr. Libby's caliber accept this position and all of Idaho will benefit from his experience and determination," the governor added.

Thant Asks Observers On Border

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Secretary General Thant proposed Monday that Lebanon and Israel permit the stationing of U.N. truce observers on both sides of their common border.

He expressed hope that each of the two governments will regard this proposal favorably and will advise me of its decision promptly.

Thant made the proposal in separate communications to the Lebanese and Israeli missions to the U.N. on Saturday, texts of his communications were published Monday.

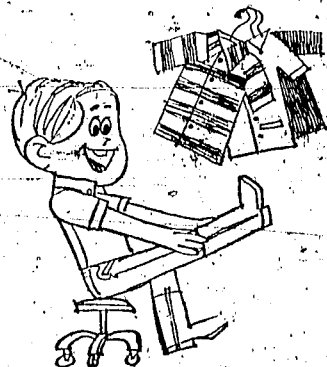

During the council's debate last week the United States first suggested that U.N. truce observers be stationed on the Lebanese border. The suggestion was indirectly rejected by Lebanon which argued that as far as it was concerned the Israeli-Lebanese mixed armistice commission set up in 1948 was still in existence and could supervise peace on the Lebanese border. However, Israel after the June 1967 war ceased to recognize the various armistice commissions functioning along its borders with neighboring Arab states.

"I believe that the establishment of an observation operation at this time in this sector would be of real service to both parties and would provide an important means, at present lacking, of deterring incidents and of maintaining the cease fire," Thant said.

"My dream now is to dance at the foot of the American flag on the Moon," she laughed.

And those who know Paulita believe she would do just that if she could get the chance.

Blaiberg Case Said Encouraging

ROME (UPI)—Heart surgeon with our work, Dr. Philip Blaiberg should not be allowed to set back heart transplant surgery.

"We have made so much progress and we did so much good for Dr. Blaiberg that this surgery should be encouraged rather than discouraged," said Cooley, who has performed 10 heart transplants.

The Italian news agency ANSA earlier quoted Cooley as saying to a group of Rome doctors that medical men must consider whether or not to continue heart transplants after Blaiberg's death.

But Cooley told UPI this was a mistranslation of his speech. "I raised the question as to whether this surgery should continue and my conclusion was that it should," he said. "We should not discourage further surgery of this type."

"My concern is that the public will become discouraged with this technique, when we should really be going ahead
