Texas Mayor Bans Nude Swimming

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Mayor Sam Houston banned nude swimming and barricaded roads leading to the drag strip where 65,000 persons gathered for the Texas International Pop Festival.

The festival ends its three-day run today.

Houston ordered the roads barricaded, he said, not to keep hippies out of the area, but to keep Lewisville citizens away from the young rock fans at the Texas International Pop Festival.

"It's not the people that have come to the festival that have given me all my headaches and headaches," Houston said. "It's the people that want to come to eyeball the eyeballs."

Dr. John Craig, 29, of Dallas, one of the physicians at the festival's medical aid said the young "attending" the festival were attracting as much attention as some of the festival performers.

The comedian predicted some 100,000 would attend the festival, they said 60,000 tickets were collected Saturday and estimated about 65,000 attended Sunday's performances.

AEC Helps Students In Research

IDAHO FALLS (UPI)—Nearly 80 university faculty members, graduates, and undergraduates pursued a variety of research and training assignments at the Atomic Energy Commission's National Reactor Testing Station this summer.

The AEC programs are designed to further education in nuclear science and engineering.

The cooperative nuclear education program, administered by the Associated Western Universities from Salt Lake City, attracted 30 graduate fellows and faculty, student and post-doctoral participants to research assignments.

Eleven radiation protection trainees will complete their work and final-NRTR summer training sessions on Sept. 5 with another 10 trainees completing their first summer sessions at the station.

Assignments under several other sponsorships accounted for 20 more faculty and students involved in research and training at the NRTR.

WASHINGTON — Over the last six years, budget cutting action by the Senate has trimmed $3.8 billion from the regular appropriations requested for the Pentagon and the armed services.
That is a sizable sum. It represents about 2.6 per cent of the $143.8 billion in appropriations for defense purposes recommended for the 1964-69 fiscal years by former President Kennedy and Johnson.

COMMENT

Rail Safety

St. Louis Post-Dispatch

A little noticed study of a task force on railroad safety blueprints the way to minimize accidents with dangerous freight cars have all but destroyed the towns of No. Mo., Laurel, Miss. and Crêle, Nebr. in the past eight months.
Three quarters of a century after enactment by Congress of the first railroad safety legislation the Federal Government still has no authority to regulate the design, construction, frames, wheels, axles, switches, roadbeds, bridges or tunnels; to promulgate standards for employe qualifications, physical requirements and training, uniform railroad operating rules or the handling of hazardous materials except for packaging, and a few transit regulations.

Railroad Administrator and composed of an equal number of members from the state regulatory commissions, railroad management and labor.
Other major recommendations would direct the advisory committee to study the existing delegation of authority to the Association of American Railroads in specified areas of the Transportation of Explosives and Other Dangerous Articles Act and initiate a study by Government and the railroad industry into railway safety technology.
The task force commented that safety research now going on is inadequate because it is "sporadic and uncoordinated."

One Less For The Road

BRUCE BLOSSAT
110 New Towns By 2000

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the next 30 years, 100 million more Americans are expected to be added to this country's population. At least one important urbanologist thinks that building places for them to live can be made as exciting as going to the moon.
This expert, who cannot be named, assumes that most of the urban-suburban growth needed to accommodate this 50 per cent increase in numbers of people will occur in and around existing cities.
By the old 1960 census, we have 130 cities of 100,000 population or more, and the total number will rise after the 1970 census.
As for perhaps a fifth of that expected increase (20 million), this urbanologist agrees with a report by the White House titled "Urban Growth Policy" which contends they ought to be put in 110 totally new cities.
The committee's idea is that we ought to have 10 new cities of one million persons each, and then 100 cities of 100,000 each. One calculation suggests that such a mammoth undertaking would consume at least two million acres of presently rural land.

Andrew Tully
Liberals Gone?
WASHINGTON — Harry Ashmore, a liberal of impeccable credentials, has come up with the only possible answer to the question: "Where Have All the Liberals Gone?"
Ashmore, who is a graduate of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, Ashmore's answer is tantamount to saying that it is the genuine, bottled-in-bond liberal in the heroic role of thinker.
Ashmore's liberal, Ashmore says, "weighing and balancing; distrusting the tug of their own emotions and the confused confusion of campus opinions; discounting the radical brand of revealed truth; displaying the quality that renders their breed conspicuous, and — the capacity to entertain opposing ideas at the same time. It is an unheroic role that he must change.
First, he must be a real liberal. He must go along with "a sweeping moral and intellectual indictment of the universities." On the other hand, he must depend on the liberals, who were drawn up by the liberals, have been labeled upon self-proclaimed liberals who claim a right to act as judge, jury and executioner, and whose style is "patently anti-intellectual."

Conscience

Christian Science Monitor
It is sometimes said that any weapon of destruction is equally bad, that its aim is to kill. But popular feeling, and popular judgment have never agreed. The instinctive feeling is that such weapons as, say, nuclear bombs, napalm, poison gas, and germ warfare carry their own special horror.
For this reason we congratulate the Defense Department for its endorsement of strict congressional controls of the production and testing of chemical and germ warfare weapons. This is a wise move and unquestionably one in line with public sentiment and conscience.

We have long hoped for and urged steps which would control, and eventually, eliminate all weapons of death of whatever kind. Such a moral step may not be immediately possible, but it is possible to do two things. The first is to make progress towards the control of the more destructive weaponry. The second is to take further specific steps against the gruesome kind of weapon mentioned above.
One of the healthiest and most hopeful tendencies in today's world is the rising popular chorus against the horrors of war. We must all listen to this chorus and respond to it. It is the voice of man's God-given conscience speaking.

Stamps And Welfare

New York Times
President Nixon's welfare reform program will have to be judged not by his glowing prospectus but by how the program actually works out in hard legislation and specific administration. He has laid down some enlightened principles for what amounts to an income maintenance policy for the poor, but the confusion over the role of food stamps, food stamps illustrate the many ideological battles remain to be fought out, not only in Congress but within the Administration, before we shall know just how enlightened his reforms turn out to be.
As initially explained by Administration spokesmen — and Mr. Nixon himself, the new program was to be accompanied by a rapid "plus-ing bill" of food stamps. The National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition promptly pointed out that this would mean, for some 87 per cent of the poor in 43 states, a harsh reduction in the amount of effective income available to them. Inadequate as it is, the present welfare program, in combination with the food stamp program which Mr. Nixon on only a few weeks ago promised to liberalize, provides a higher standard of living than could be expected under the new program with food stamps eliminated.

Some backing up filling has followed this embarrassing disclosure, and now Dr. Jean Mayer, the President's special consultant on food, nutrition and health, says he has been assured that food stamps will not be phased out after all — or, if so, only in the remote future. We hope his assurances come from Administration sources in a position to make good on them. We suspect that the issue is yet to be decided, and that the differences over it reflect basic divisions in attitude toward the whole problem of dealing with poverty. Mr. Moyrhan may propose enlightened reforms and Mr. Nixon may adopt them in essence, but it is a long road from prospectus to performance.
Malnutrition is such a vital part of the poverty problem, and food stamps are such an effective way of dealing with it, that it is premature to suggest abolishing food stamps as part of a welfare reform program. As it develops, the program Mr. Nixon has enunciated, the Administration ought to start with the frank acknowledgment that objective No. 1 is to increase, not merely to stabilize, the effective income available to the poor. For a long time to come we think that means retaining a vigorous and expanding food stamp program.

Knee Surgery

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I can be treated for water on the knee and have had fluid withdrawn four times. X-rays were negative, but the fluid keeps coming back.
The only time I recall injuring my knee was when I banged it against a table. Several weeks later when I bent down it appeared on the side of the knee.
The doctor has said that if I don't clear up, surgery to remove the synovial membrane may be necessary. Would you discuss this? — Mrs. F.R.
The synovial membrane forms sort of a lining for the joint and secretes a small quantity of fluid to lubricate the joint.
With certain types of injuries, especially those involving contusions or degenerative joint changes (as osteoarthritis), the amount of fluid increases. Your doctor is well aware of this, and you should have started your trouble.
This increase in fluid goes by a variety of terms. Water on the knee is a common one; knee effusion is a more technical one. Aspiration, or withdrawing fluid with a hollow needle, is done primarily to examine the fluid for certain clues, in blood, or pus present in the fluid? Are there certain dystonia associated with gout? Such clues can be followed in an important question to choosing the proper treatment.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When my father died recently at the age of 70, we learned that his final illness was the result of apoplexy contracted many years ago, before we were born.
He was, however, the father of five healthy children.
My sister and I have both had children with birth defects — with a difference.
Would there be any connection between the apoplexy infection and the birth defects in later generations? We have all had blood tests, many times, always negative. — Mrs. C.H.
Your answer, probably coming down to the fact that your blood tests have been negative, would not connect the dots. Therefore, that could not have had anything to do with the birth defects.

Suburban parents have a stake in this case. So do the conservatives, the cab-drivers, the shoe clerks and the Pro Silverites. The liberals have controlled the universities for years and look at them. They cannot now insist that they be permitted to rebuild them with no interference from the citizens to whom they belong. The liberals' neglect has brought higher education to the attention of the plain citizen, and he is not going to let it go.
Nor is it worthy of Ashmore that he should suggest, in the spirit of the John L. In a day a morally sane campaign in New York; that there is something unyielding about a fair law and order. The call may be echoed by rightist nuts, but it went up from the throats of those who simply believe that violence on campus is as reprehensible — and as illegal — as it is in the streets.
Indeed, in the thinking of some liberals, law and order should be a matter of concern on who needs it. A Berkeley professor, Joseph P. Lyford, took note of this in The Center Magazine two issues ago, when he wrote:
"The reflexive opposition of many liberals to the use of police on campus in any situation also brings to mind the days when we applauded the dispatch of National Guardsmen to the University of Mississippi to protect James Meredith, and supported the occupation of Little Rock by soldiers sent there to make Brown vs. Board of Education a reality rather than a hollow Negro civil right."

"WHY HURRY? I've got two days before the fair starts" seems to be the thought of Arnold Birrell, Twin Falls, as he takes it easy while painting benches in preparation for the Twin Falls County Fair and Rodeo this week. The fair starts Wednesday at Filer. The bench Mr. Birrell is painting is for the Twin Falls Fourth LDS Ward Elders concession stand at the fairgrounds.

Manila Shuns Nixon

By DAVID J. OESTREICHER

United Press International Plans to invite Lyndon B. Johnson and Charles de Gaulle to the inauguration next month of the cultural center of the Philippines in Manila were dropped for political reasons. Had Johnson and De Gaulle accepted, their presence side by side with Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos might be interpreted as a sign of approval for the flow of aid to the Arab world. The fear remains, however, that an incident like the Jerusalem mosque fire or the TWA hijacking could send the situation out of control.

Western officials are increasingly concerned about the escalation of Arab-Israeli fighting in the Middle East. But the Arab world was not ready for such a conflict and that the Soviet Union is keeping tight hold on the flow of aid to the Arab world. The fear remains, however, that an incident like the Jerusalem mosque fire or the TWA hijacking could send the situation out of control.

Talks on the Middle East crisis among the four powers—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—will not be resumed until Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko goes to the United Nations General Assembly later this month. If the French and British foreign ministers are not in the Gromyko will confer with U.S. Secretary of State Rogers and possibly even President Nixon.

The Post said Gromyko's contract for most of the garage construction, totaled $11,770,000. During the construction, the Post said, his firm and the Capitol Architects' office agreed on "extras" or additions to the contract. For these an additional $384,000 was paid to Freinkl's firm, the store reported.

After construction was completed in 1967, the newspaper said, the contractor filed claims for an additional $5,021,199 for added costs, some the result of special government requests. Most of these claims have not been paid, the Post said.

Farm Prices Continue Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Farm prices fell one per cent during the month ending Aug. 15. The Agriculture Department reported. Prices of beef, cattle, a poultry item for consumers, fell the decline in farm prices. The drop was the second consecutive monthly decline in average farm prices after seven consecutive months of increases. The department said it was prices for cattle were chiefly responsible for the drop in the overall farm price average for the month ending Aug. 15. It said, however, the reduced-cattle price was partly offset by higher hog and milk prices. Softening the effect of the farm price decline was a second straight monthly decline in the price of one quarter of one per cent in farm costs. The farm cost level had reached a record level in mid-June. A comparison of prices that farmers received with the cost of things they buy showed farm prices in mid-August averaged 75 per cent of the fair-care price power parity level. This was unchanged from a month ago and one point above a year ago.

The Agriculture Department said average farm prices had reached a five-year high in June before going into a two-month slide. The mid-August index of prices received by farmers for crops and livestock stood at 279 per cent of the 1910-14 base compared with 282 per cent in July and 261 per cent in August 1968. The index of farm costs stood at 373 per cent of the base compared with 374 per cent a month ago and 352 per cent a year ago.

The report showed mid-August prices were 81 per cent above a year ago with farm costs 52 per cent above a year earlier. Average beef cattle prices for the month ending Aug. 15 were $27.00 a hundred weight compared with $28.00 last month and $23.90 a year ago. Hogs averaged $26.00 compared with $24.90 last month and $19.20 last year. Mid-August prices for some other leading commodities compared with month-ago and year-ago levels included: Wheat—$1.19 a bushel $1.15 and $1.19; corn—$1.18 a bushel

Grand Jury Probes Charge That Solons Shared Bribe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal grand jury is investigating charges that Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., and former Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Mo., shared a bribe in connection with a government contract, the Washington Post said Saturday in a copyrighted article.

The Post said the grand jury is looking out of a grand jury room, or perhaps unconfirmed reports leaking from the FBI, he said. Long said he was cooperating fully with the FBI and the Justice Department and was confident that "I will be completely exonerated from any allegation of any sort, misconduct that anybody might have made before the grand jury." Brewster, a 45-year-old millionaire who was defeated last year in a bid for reelection to the Senate, was out of the country and could not be reached for comment. The Post said Long and Brewster were paid to exert pressure on the office of the Architect of the Capitol to approve extra costs for construction of underground parking facilities at the House of Representatives.

It is alleged the senators were to share a percentage of any such windfall profits reaped by the contractors, the newspaper said. The Post identified the prime contractor for the job was Baltimore Contractors, Inc., whose president, Victor J. Freinkl, was described as a contributor to Brewster and to the Democratic Party and a long-standing friend of Long. He could not be reached for comment. The FBI refused to discuss the matter. U.S. Attorney Stephen H. Sachs of Maryland, who the Post said was directing the investigation, was quoted as saying: "I have no specific comment at all, other than to say that a special grand jury in Baltimore has been inquiring into possible violations of federal bribery laws since early this year."

After construction was completed in 1967, the newspaper said, the contractor filed claims for an additional $5,021,199 for added costs, some the result of special government requests. Most of these claims have not been paid, the Post said.

Grain Nations Note Decline For Exports

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Three of the world's biggest wheat exporting nations—Australia, Canada and France—declined a net 12 per cent for the marketing year that ended June 30, 1969. But more detailed reports showed the declines were confined to the United States, Canada and Australia. Argentina and France increased the share of a world market now glutted by heavy supplies.

U.S. sales fell 31 per cent to 1.1 million tons; Canada's dropped 3 per cent to 8.1 million tons; and Australian shipments declined 25 per cent to 4.5 million tons. French sales rose 6.3 million tons to 1.7 million tons from the previous year, and Argentina's exports of 2.7 million tons were nearly double the unusually low level of the previous year. Virtually all the losses, officials said, came because of reduced American shipments to India and Pakistan under aid programs, reduced sales from Canada to the Soviet Union and a cut in Australian shipments to India and mainland China.

COMPLAINT ALLOWED QUINCY, Mass. (UPI)—District Court Clerk Dennis Ryan ruled Saturday that a Randolph woman may file a complaint against movie producer Otto Preminger and actress Lisa Merrill in connection with a nude scene filmed in the cemetery where her husband is buried.

Governors To Meet In Colorado Springs

By RAYMOND LAHR

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—State governors are meeting again to make their preliminary call for a greater voice in the federal system, to wall about red tape in Washington and to roan about their own budget and tax problems. President Nixon's proposal to start sharing federal revenues with state and local governments is to spend as they see fit, gets a more enthusiastic response than 1112 National Governors' Conference that ran from the Democratic majority in Congress.

The same is true of his proposal to consolidate federal aid to spending by the states and their cities and other local subdivisions. The freshest Census Bureau calculations, completed in August, cover state and local government spending for fiscal 1968—the year that ended June 30, 1968. These figures showed state spending had risen to $102 billion, up 9.7 per cent from the previous year and up more than 100 per cent over a 10-year span. Federal government spending also more than doubled during that decade and federal aid to state and local government almost tripled—from $6.7 billion to $18.6 billion. Federal grants for fiscal 1970—the year that ended June 30, 1969—totalled about $20 billion.

During what is called a period of taxpayer revolt, raising state taxes means taking political risks. So the governors began eyeing the U.S. Treasury in 1968 as a possible tax collection agency for their states. The Governors' Conference Fiscal Affairs Committee, headed by Gov. Daniel S. Evans of Washington, recommended a tax-sharing plan in a report prior to the meeting now in progress. It was very close to the recommendations in August. A message to Congress although it had been written earlier.

Nixon administration efforts to hand the states more responsibility fails to get universal applause. Some key members of Congress believe the government unit collecting taxes should regulate the spending.

Hot Dog Ingredients Termed One Of Universal Mysteries

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Intensive examination of the Apollo 11 risk collection has given scientists a pretty good idea of what the moon is made of. Once that project is completed, scientists will then endeavor to solve one of the other great mysteries of the universe: Namely, what ate hot dogs made of?

It was when the moon rocks were examined in a pristine condition before being contaminated by man. This also is true of hot dogs. And time is of the essence. The Agriculture Department does not know how long up to 15 per cent chicken meat, and in some cases chicken skin. The last hot dog I bought already contained beef and pork, water, salt, corn syrup, dextrose, flavorings, sodium orthophosphate and sodium bicarbonate. The chicken meat in the other stuff, it may become impossible to analyze them. Even when the component parts of frankfurters are listed on the labels, percentages are omitted from the table of contents. The consumer therefore does not know how much of what he is eating. The manufacturers presumably know, but they aren't talking. Moves by consumer organizations to force the hot dog cook and see what's inside this fact have failed. It is known, however, that some hot dogs are made of fat.

Some authorities believe the first hot dog was created at Doney Island, N. Y., in 1867. Other theories include St. Louis, Mo., in 1863; San Francisco in 1869; and the Polo Grounds in New York City at the turn of the century. "Only you've had analyzed the ingredients will be able to say which theory is correct," Von Wurst said.

Meanwhile, enjoy chicken hot dogs while you can, and as to how, when and where the hot dog originated: Not to mention why.

Assessors Look At Change In Property Rolls

Tax assessors will be taking a new look at some commercial property in downtown Twin Falls and there is a strong possibility the property owner will come out ahead. County Assessor Clifford Thompson announced Friday. He said at Austin of the State Property Assessment Authority in Idaho will be reviewing commercial property for possible reappraisal purposes. Assisting Mr. Austin will be Myron Thorpe of the local assessor's office. Mr. Thorpe has attended special appraisal schools recently and is now providing additional training under Mr. Austin's direction. In order to arrive at proper appraisal figures, Mr. Thompson said, it is necessary to obtain from owners and renters of commercial properties, such information as operating expenses, rent figures and other values. Mr. Thompson urged property owners or managers to assist the appraisers in any way possible. All information, he emphasized, will be kept strictly confidential and will be used only as a basis for adjusting assessments where necessary. Some of the downtown properties are still being assessed on a basis of figures gathered a number of years ago when the property was being used for higher annual income. Such matters will be taken into consideration in making new appraisals, he said.

Church Damaged

RICHFIELD — Richfield LDS church officials report an estimated $100 property damage by vandals to the church building on Friday morning. Repair of a broken window light will cost approximately $50. Black top sealing was in progress on the parking lot where vandals tore down fencing to drive over the parking lot, causing damage to the work project. It was reported a checkbook was found leading the officials to learn the identity of the vandals.

Solons Say Nixon Fails To Heed Campus Warning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several Republican congressmen today accused the Nixon administration of failing to act on warnings there may be more trouble on the nation's campuses this school year. The congressmen feel the only response they get to their recommendations is administration backing to beat down repressive legislation and a statement in favor of lowering the voting age to 18. Much of the dissatisfaction among these lawmakers centers on the department of Health, Education and Welfare and on Burt Wilkinson, President Nixon's special consultant on youth affairs. Rep. William E. Brock, Jr., Tenn., who led the task force that visited the campuses and made the recommendations, said through a spokesman that he was disappointed in the response from the secondary levels of the administration. "While I throughout am very pleased with the President's reaction to the report, I can't say the same about the reaction of some of the cabinet and sub-cabinet officials who could be new to the scene and some of the major proposals and have not," Brock said. Rep. Donald J. Riegle, Jr., Mich., one of the five unit heads of the 22-man task force through a spokesman, "You can't be sure that the congressmen who have been working on this issue and the

Tax Reform Plagues Politicians

By MIKE PEINSLBER — President Nixon but they are somewhat against it's general welfare legislation and the plan to share federal tax collections with states and localities at an eventual cost of $5 billion a year. The bill would cut nearly everyone's taxes by an average of 4 per cent and eliminate income taxation for the 52 million poorest taxpayers. What bothers the White House Treasury and Bureau of the Budget is that gradually through 1979 it would increase federal revenues by $6.9 billion by closing loopholes for corporations and the rich but would give away $3.3 billion through tax cuts. The administration fears the loss of $2.4 billion a year in tax revenues might erode efforts to finance government programs already in law and those the President has proposed. These include a $12 billion, 10-year mass transit program, a $4 billion family assistance program designed to replace the welfare system in the Louisiana plan to share federal tax collections with states and localities at an eventual cost of $5 billion a year. Congress recessed administration officials framed proposed changes in the House's legislation and scores of lobbyists polished their arguments to convince the Senate Finance Committee to give somebody else's version of the House bill ready for Senate debate by Oct. 31. The bill is susceptible to further amendments and the final version will be written in a conference committee of Senate and House members, which will reconcile their differences. While Long, from Oklahoma, says he generally favors the House bill, his strong objection focuses on its cut of the oil depletion allowance from 27.5 to 20 per cent. The bill would cost the industry up to $600 million a year. Oilmen are preparing a massive advertising campaign against tampering with the depletion allowance.

French Clog Highways At Vacation End

PARIS (UPI) — For French people, the past weekend was an annual nightmare. For ordinary people it was a return to reality. For everyone, it was the annual yearly ritual of return from vacation. Almost half the country's 50 million population was travelling on the highways and the roads. The railways rolled decrepit coaches out of the sheds, adding 233 special trains to the 770 regularly in service. They went to haul back the hordes of Frenchmen who spent August at the seaside, so that shattered shops could open, factories might start humming, and France would get going again. The police went all-out to mobilize as they do every year. Some 30,000 of them were scheduled to participate this weekend in the "Plan Primrose" designed to keep the traffic rolling on the highways and the number of deaths down.

Mrs. Cyvus (Iena) Standler, Hazelton, who was employed as a plant worker, slipped while walking across the floor and her right arm, the turning parts of a cutting machine and was severed.

Markings On Interstate

Draw Looks

SHOSHONE — An explanation of highway markings was given to members of the Chamber of Commerce at their bi-weekly meeting. Edward Johnson, district engineer, officers announced Friday.

The markings at Junction of Interstate 80 N. and the north and south highway 93 were particularly discussed under question of Floyd Silva.

Note was made that some travelers from the east who wanted to leave Interstate 80 N. for southbound often went astray and left the interstate at the Jerome Junction, several miles to the west.

Johnson explained that the highway signs conform to the national standard which requires the signs to have the name of the focal point on the map in this case, Sun Valley to the North and Twin Falls, south.

The rule is that no more than two names of towns are to be on any one sign, with smaller towns placed on auxiliary or smaller signs.

He stated that when Interstate 80 N. is completed, Highway 20 will be removed from the interstate system highway. The two highways now pass through Shoshone, east and west although Highway 20 through Shoshone is actually 20 miles north of the north highway 20 extending west from Carey through Fairfield and Mountain Home.

He added that no actual complaint has been received from travelers, but local people have commented.

Ivan Hopkins, president, said most business hours would be closed on Labor Day along with the bank and government offices.

Lanting Talks To C. Of C. Heads At Local Meet

Although the Idaho Legislature will meet every year, the last session was biennial in 1968 and some of the laws enacted then were biennial in nature.

This is what Rep. William Lanting, R-Highway, Speaker of the Idaho House, told members of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce board of directors at a quarterly meeting at the Hotel Hawthorn Friday.

It was one of several informal statements made at the biennial session, termed "Very Informative and well attended" by R. Day, past president of the state chamber.

Other legislators attending were Terry (G. R. P.) R-Idaho Falls, William Murphy, D-Wallace, House minority leader.

They entered around revisions to Idaho's Constitution, with High Wilson, Boise, secretary manager of the state chamber presenting proposed changes to the Constitution.

"There was no action taken by the group at the confab," Mr. Day said the annual meeting of the chamber will be in Boise after this year, but added a date has not been set yet.

Harold Howe, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, and Ruy Rostron, chamber manager, welcomed the group.

Representatives from throughout the state, and eight board members attended. It was reported.

Robert Payne, Lewiston, president of the state chamber, presided.

There was some discussion on public land law and comments expressed on the mining issue in the White Clouds, but members said nothing would be determined until the annual chamber meeting later.

The meeting ended with an informal luncheon at noon. Afterward, many golfed at the Blue Lakes Country Club.

MRS. MERLE STODDARD recently soloed a Cessna 172 Skyhawk from Twin Falls City. County Airport — one of the few women to do so. Here she is checked out at the controls by Kenneth Jewkes, her instructor and an employee of Reeder Flying Service. Mrs. Stoddard's summer flying lessons have culminated a 28-year dream and she hopes to receive her private pilot's license by her 50th birthday, which will be this October.

Take It From Merle Stoddard, Flying Is More Fun Than Painting A House

It's a lot more fun and not nearly as scary as painting her two-story house — so she could afford flying lessons.

Mrs. Merle Stoddard, head of the Twin Falls Easter Seal Center, has just recently soloed and is continuing preparation for her private pilot's license.

The flying lessons, Mrs. Stoddard's project for the summer, have made a 28-year dream come true. She has dreamed of flying all these years and several times started to take lessons, even going so far several years ago to find her ground test. But, one thing or another, usually financial, prevented her from following through with her dream until this summer. First, she bought a house and since then she has had her children's education to finance.

Mrs. Stoddard comes from a flying family — her husband, Capt. Don Stoddard, was killed in a plane crash after World War II while serving as test pilot.

Her son has his private pilot's license and two of her daughters have married Air Force men. One of her daughters also took flying lessons and soloed, but did not continue.

Mrs. Stoddard began flying in the mid-40s and financed the project with money she would have used to have her house painted. She undertook the project herself, and a 14-foot ladder on top of the ladder with only some small rungs between her and the ground was much worse than soloing.

"I didn't have time to get scared about soloing," she was planning on soloing the following day, but in mid-August when she reported to Twin Falls City County Airport for her lesson with Kenneth Jewkes, an instructor for Reeder Flying Service, she found that the solo flight was to take place that day.

On one of our earlier trips we had flown up to Dietrich, to Shoshone, Gooding, Buhl, and back to Twin Falls. While in the Dietrich area I found Bestin — where my family had homesteaded. Kenny told me that anyone who could find Bestin just had to be handy to soon we'd go off I went."

Mrs. Stoddard hopes to receive her license before she turns 50 — which will be this October.

"If I don't have time between now and then, it will probably be next summer, but I'll get it as soon as possible."

She said that when winter arrives, there isn't much, including flying, that will interfere with her weekends of skiing.

Her next important step toward receiving her license is a cross-country solo flight. She flew to Boise this weekend, but wasn't planning on going alone.

One of her main reasons for wanting to fly is so she can visit her children who are scattered over various parts of the country.

Mrs. Stoddard is one of the few women who have soloed at the local field. She belongs to the Twin Falls Flyers, Inc., and pilots the club's Cessna 172 Skyhawk.

Seal Coating Completed In Blaine Area — HAILEY — Seal coating of U.S. Highway 20 was completed last week for 17 miles from the foot of Galena summit on the Swiss villa, and 22 miles from Robinson Bar to the East Fork of the Salmon river.

Omar Eldredge of the Hailey section of the state highway crew, said a special crew from Highway District No. 2, Shoshone, did the work. Lesley Bartholomew, foreman, and Frank Lanier, Phillip Ellway and Mr. Eldredge of the Hailey crew assisted.

Mr. Eldredge said 4,100 gallons of oil were used to the mile. The road from Stanley to Robinson Bar was seal coated last year and the mile road from Ketchikan to Sun Valley was seal coated this week.

Stolen — Two suitcases stolen Thursday night from a truck owned by Werberg Moving have been recovered by Twin Falls City Police.

Officers located the small cases in a grain bin at the Twin Falls Food and Ice Co. Friday night. Nothing was reported to be missing from the cases, which contained clothing and trip permits.

Woman Hurt As Car Hits House Here

A rural Twin Falls woman was admitted to Madam Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday afternoon after she was involved in a two-car collision and her car slammed into the side of a house.

Twin Falls City Police said Mrs. Blanche McDowell, 54, Route 3, was injured when her 1959 Mercury was struck by a 1963 Plymouth driven by William R. Flower, 28, Twin Falls, collided at Fifth Avenue North and Third Street Saturday afternoon.

Officers cited Mr. Flower for failure to obey a stop sign. They said his vehicle skidded through the intersection and collided with the left rear fender of the McDowell vehicle. The Mercury then slid and ran into the side of a house owned by Mrs. David Clark. Extensive damage was done to the house.

Fire Destroys Farm Equipment Near Fairfield — FAIRFIELD — Fire of undetermined origin caused extensive damage on the Ben Krahn farm eight miles southeast of Fairfield Friday afternoon.

Mr. Krahn, who was in Gooding when the fire broke out, said his loss consisted of 6,000 bushels of new hay, a granary and buildings used for housing chickens and hogs. Mrs. Krahn discovered the fire and sounded the alarm. A volunteer crew with two county fire trucks and a bulldozer responded.

Neighbors assisted in battling flames and keeping them from spreading to the family home, garage and barn. Mr. Krahn said he believed the fire started in a grain grinder he had been using shortly before he left for Gooding.

Two county trucks were standing by Saturday afternoon, keeping water on remaining buildings and watching as the hay stack burned itself out. Mr. Krahn said none of his loss was covered by insurance.

Chamber Prexy Sees Jets As Valley Event — The president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce has lauded the announcement by Air West that jet service in and out of Twin Falls will begin Oct. 26 as realization of a dream for Magic Valley.

Harold O. Howe said, "for several years Magic Valley has dreamed of jet-airline service, and on Oct. 26, this service will become a reality."

Mr. Howe said the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce board of directors commends Air West for providing this new service to Magic Valley.

The sale of the jets and any additional air service, he added, will depend on usage. "We hope," he said, "people of Magic Valley will fly more than ever before now that jets will be available."

Woman Hurt As Car Hits House Here

A rural Twin Falls woman was admitted to Madam Valley Memorial Hospital Saturday afternoon after she was involved in a two-car collision and her car slammed into the side of a house.

Twin Falls City Police said Mrs. Blanche McDowell, 54, Route 3, was injured when her 1959 Mercury was struck by a 1963 Plymouth driven by William R. Flower, 28, Twin Falls, collided at Fifth Avenue North and Third Street Saturday afternoon.

Officers cited Mr. Flower for failure to obey a stop sign. They said his vehicle skidded through the intersection and collided with the left rear fender of the McDowell vehicle. The Mercury then slid and ran into the side of a house owned by Mrs. David Clark. Extensive damage was done to the house.

Fire Destroys Farm Equipment Near Fairfield — FAIRFIELD — Fire of undetermined origin caused extensive damage on the Ben Krahn farm eight miles southeast of Fairfield Friday afternoon.

Mr. Krahn, who was in Gooding when the fire broke out, said his loss consisted of 6,000 bushels of new hay, a granary and buildings used for housing chickens and hogs. Mrs. Krahn discovered the fire and sounded the alarm. A volunteer crew with two county fire trucks and a bulldozer responded.

Neighbors assisted in battling flames and keeping them from spreading to the family home, garage and barn. Mr. Krahn said he believed the fire started in a grain grinder he had been using shortly before he left for Gooding.

Two county trucks were standing by Saturday afternoon, keeping water on remaining buildings and watching as the hay stack burned itself out. Mr. Krahn said none of his loss was covered by insurance.

Mr. Howe said the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce board of directors commends Air West for providing this new service to Magic Valley.

The sale of the jets and any additional air service, he added, will depend on usage. "We hope," he said, "people of Magic Valley will fly more than ever before now that jets will be available."

Russ Say U.S. Plots Atom War

MOSCOW (UPI)—The commander of Russia's nuclear missile forces said Saturday that "American 'imperialists' are making plans for devastating nuclear war against communism."

Marshal Nikolai I. Krylov made the charge in a long, rocket-rattling article in the newspaper Sovetskaya Rossiya (Soviet Russia) commemorating the 25th anniversary of the start of World War II. He said the danger of still another war "was great; but warned that the rocket forces at his command would bring retribution," "immediately and irreversibly."

"World capitalism with U.S. monopolists at its head seems to have forgotten the lessons of World War II and is preparing to commit a frightful crime which makes all its former bloody deeds," Krylov said.

"They are preparing a surprise attack in a rocket nuclear war which will have a biological, psychological and political consequences far beyond the previous wars."

Krylov, who is a deputy defense minister in addition to being the chief of rocket command, apparently referred merely to U.S. contingency plans such as the "Soyuz" program, but he also prepared, rather than to some specific preparations for nuclear war, but by the language of his article he interpreted the supposed existence of "contingency plans as evidence of evil intent."

In preparation for a sudden attack on the Soviet Union and other countries of socialism, the U.S. government has long ago set up a special department for strategic planning which is working out plans for massive nuclear blows on the targets and "territories" of our country and other socialist countries," he said.

He warned that the Soviets were ready to retaliate against any such attack.

Inquest Stirs Dispute

Time also quoted a leading law professor who said Dineen should have brought his investigation to a grand jury instead of an inquest.

The whole investigative process could be pursued more reasonably with a grand jury. Yale University law Prof. Abraham Goldstein said.

Under the law, the prosecutor would conduct hearings in secret and an indictment could be issued. The inquest, Dineen said, will be public although presided over by a judge.

LDS Plan Blends Indians, Whites

By SOLVEIG TORVIK SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Assinibone, Papago, Mesquero, Squamish, Thingit, and Jautsi—an exotic recipe? In some ways, yes.

The mixing process begins every August when Indian children are placed in white foster homes for the school year.

The program is administered jointly by the states and the LDS Church, designed to give the students broader child experience as well as the opportunity for the student to live in a "typical" LDS family.

All students are baptized members of the LDS Church. Foster parents must meet both state and LDS requirements and each family is expected to assume expenses and provide necessities for the Indian child during the school year.

Thirty-two tribes of the Indian nation are represented in the program. They come from Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Nebraska, Alaska, Montana, North Carolina, the Dakotas and Canada.

The program must also meet some demanding standards. "Students must have a good school record, good church record, and good attitude to be placed in the program," according to Shumway.

The major purpose of the program is to develop leadership while growing spiritually, scholastically, socially, and having better conditions in which to live.

Although there are some dropouts because of homesickness and dissatisfaction, most students stay with the program. It gives love, security, discipline, understanding and opportunity.

Students coming into the program must also meet some demanding standards. "Students must have a good school record, good church record, and good attitude to be placed in the program," according to Shumway.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am absolutely miserable with the news you never really cared what my parents gave me this morning. They grove over here and calmly announced that after 20 years of marriage they are getting a DIVORCE! I honestly believe they have taken leave of their senses.

They have had their differences like all married couples, but they have never separated—not even for one day. I can't imagine what has come over them.

Had says that he is 70, and if the good Lord gives him another five years, he wants to live them in peace. Mother who is 69 says she feels the same way.

I suggested a larger apartment with two bedrooms, frequent separate vacations, a trial separation—ANYTHING, but divorce. But they insist they have thought it over and this is what they both want. Abby, they have children and grandchildren who love and respect them. What can we tell people? How can parents disgrace their families that way? I would like your opinion.

THEIR DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: Your parents have a right to make their own decisions, for their own reasons, without loss of love or respect from their children and grandchildren. And if they choose to terminate their marriage after 41 years, where is the "disgrace"? Perhaps they stayed together as long as they did out of consideration for you.

Head compassion, not criticism.

Fail '69

will be a real Brogues Gallery — and a few of the suspects are on the loose already. Here are three of the styles from Thom McAn. The top two styles are made of rich, thick leather with chunky stacked heels and broad, boxy toes. Adorned with pearls, all over, they're trimmed in big metal straps with brazen brass buckles. They will be a striking bet on pants or hanging-around-minis. The bottom pictures show a two-tone scroll shoe with a broad-and-boxy toe, up front and a subtly tapered heel in back. This shoe goes well for city slicking or suburban shopping.

Curt Thomesen blazed over the course of the Twin Falls Memorial course with a 30 Sunday en route to a terrific 63 and the second round lead in the Maple Valley Golf Tournament by a single stroke over John Memmott.

Gary Phil McRoberts took a thrilling nine-hole elimination play from Jeff Thomesen Friday, outdueling the final hole, following Thomesen and 10 others.

Memmott's fine six-under 62 brought him from way back in the pack as he shot a two-over 70 Saturday. He held fourth place steady through the first hole as Saturday's championship came with a 30 go with his Saturday 68.

Thailand, U.S. Talks Are Delayed

BANGKOK (UPI)—Talks between the United States and Thailand on gradual withdrawal of American troops from the country probably will open Wednesday instead of Monday, the two sides said Sunday.

Officials said the two governments agreed to postpone the starting date because Monday is a U.S. holiday and Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman would be busy with a Thai cabinet meeting on Tuesday.

They said Thanat and U.S. Ambassador Edward R. Snider would each have one side with them when they sat down for the first session.

The officials, including military men, would be brought in after a political framework for the withdrawal was established.

They talks stem from Thanat's American probe, made after the Thai government decided it would be best to dampen down an argument between Congress and the U.S. administration over commitments to send some of the soldiers home.

The U.S. were frustrated by the debate and feared that growing pressure in Congress to avoid new American commitments abroad might force them even to provide military equipment and weapons assistance they need to cope with a new insurgency they have been fighting for more than four years now.

Congressmen led by Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, were in turn fearful that a secret 1965 "contingency plan" signed by Premier Thanat and American prime minister, commander Maj. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell, could drag the United States into "another Vietnam."

Repeated statements by Thanat and other Thai leaders that this country would never ask American troops to leave after Thailand had agreed to the needs of Vietnam.

There is certain to be a large number of troops in the country. For one thing, both Unger and Thanat will be striving for a formula that would in fact keep many Americans as possible in Thailand to cope with the needs of Vietnam.

Ketchum To Get Catholic Parish Priest

KETCHUM—The new Ketchum-Sun Valley parish of Our Lady of the Snows Catholic Church, which until now has been a mission of St. Charles Parish in Halley, will have a pastor, Rev. William Carroll, who will assume his duties Tuesday.

Rev. Carroll was ordained in 1950 as a member of the Society of the Fathers of Mercy. He was assigned to different parishes in New York state and Kentucky until 1966, when the society disbanded.

He was then named assistant pastor of St. Anthony Parish in Pocatello, where he served until being appointed as pastor of Mary Immaculate parish in St. Anthony, from whence he comes here.

During the years Our Lady of the Snows parish has been a mission, it has been under the care of Rev. Francis DeNardis of St. Charles Church.

Bishop Tremp said that two years ago, when the archbishop was on an experiment to determine if there is sufficient ability and willingness of the people in the parishes to support two pastors.

A new Our Lady of the Snows Church is now under construction on a site on Sun Valley road which was donated to the parish by the Jones Corp.

A building fund campaign is currently under way to complete the new structure. Father Carroll will live in Halley until permanent arrangements can be made in Ketchum.

Gator-Napping

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Gov. John A. Love has found a new way to raise taxes for Colorado.

The state's largest crocodile, not attending the National Governors' Conference with a deed of ownership to one of the largest crocodiles in the world, a 12-foot, 100-pound crocodile.

As the governors applauded, Love explained: "You can't tax crocodiles, but you can tax landowners but taxpayers in Colorado."

Widow Runs Cartwrights "Off Range"

BONN (UPI)—Old Tien Cartwright lectures in the range by the widow Darkly.

Off the range in Germany, that is, 105 episodes of America's "Bonanza" television series starting widow rancher Ben Cartwright and his boys, is being replaced by "Off Range" which is being produced by widow Darkly and her boys and her girl.

For two years, an average of 70 million viewers in the United States, women and children, have gathered around their sets at precisely 8:25 p.m. every Sunday, to watch Ben, Hoss and Little Joe, the cook Inop Shuff, Sheriff Coffee and the three Cartwright boys.

Albano knows how many televiewers in Communist-ruled East Germany also watched the show, relayed by transmitters along the western line of its West Berlin. But as a guess, probably a high proportion, only by "watching" Western television can East Germans see individualism, consumerism, and Communist party, that wins, never the loser.

The streets of the federal capital were completely empty, though not deserted. On last independence days they have been filled with thousands of protesters going to various traditional events.

Police patrols in the capital were beefed up as a precaution against any possible outbreak of trouble, but there were no signs of trouble and Sunday, normally a public holiday, passed quietly.

The only official gathering in Kuaia Lumpur was an evening reception attended by the Yang Di-Pertuan Agong (King) Sultan Ismail Nasruddin Shah.

HERE IS BUTTREY'S EXCITING "BUDGET PRICE" STORY

We, at Buttrey Food Stores, believe that our business is a service to you, the customer; and we want you to be able to serve the very best foods available so that your family's meals will be wholesome, nutritious, and appetizing. With that objective in mind, we spent many months preparing a "complete" food store program called "Budget Prices," a new store pricing policy, for low everyday prices that assure you of money saving values any day you shop! But we didn't stop there! Here's more exciting news for homemakers doing the family shopping. In addition to Buttrey's low Budget Food Prices, our program has been well planned to maintain the same Buttrey friendly, courteous service, the same wide variety of national brand merchandise, the same top quality throughout the store, Meat, Produce, and those delicious in-store Bakery goods, in the same modern, spacious, spotlessly clean stores to shop in!

We invite "you" to be the Judge and make a searching comparison of Buttrey's "complete" food store program called "Budget Prices" to see the total value for yourself!

We believe Buttrey's "Budget Price" program will win your counts!

WE INVITE COMPARISON

Action speaks louder than words, and Buttreys invite you to make a complete comparison of our Budget Food Price Program, and everything we are saying in these ads. Compare the "Extra Value" you get at Buttreys where Superb Service, Superb Quality, and Superb Variety are all combined with Buttreys Budget Food Prices to give you greater total food value!

Now you can balance your food budget and feed your family better!

BUDGET PRICES are HERE TO STAY

We at Buttreys pledge low Budget Food Prices day after day, week after week, month after month, and year after year. Now you can shop any day of the week at your convenience! Buttreys Budget Food Price Program has been long and well planned. We didn't jump into it quick because we wanted to make sure we didn't eliminate any essentials. Budget Food Prices are an "extra"! You still get the same friendly service, great selection, and of course, Buttreys top quality merchandise. Shop Buttreys in total confidence, you'll be glad you did!

FRIENDLY COURTEOUS SERVICE

At Buttreys you'll find "Service is our middle name"! Let us list some of the services we specialize in. First there's Buttreys' Courtesy Counter featuring check-cashing, Express-checkout, mailing service, money orders, and general information. Next, the produce man takes up the same split of service, and how about asking the butcher for special meat cuts or package sizes. Also Buttreys' in-store bakers would be happy to fill your special orders for all special occasions, and last but not least speedy checkout service, that extends all the way to your car, awaits you! All this and Budget Food Prices, too! Try Buttreys, we're here to serve "you"!

The SAME WIDE VARIETY

With the coming of Budget Food Prices, Buttreys continue to offer you, the customer, the same wide variety as always including many new items as they appear on the market. U.S.D.A. Choice beef sets off the Meat Department in addition to complete selections of poultry, fish, fresh and smoked pork, and specialty items. The variety of Buttreys' in-store Bakeries is also a sight to behold, from over twenty varieties of bread to most anything your sweet-tooth desires. Produce, dairy, and frozen food cases are also long and well stocked. At Budget Foods you get wide variety and Budget Food Prices! Shop and Compare!

The SAME TOP-QUALITY

Total food value at the checkout counter consists of High Quality as well as low prices. And again in planning Buttreys' "Budget Price" Program, we didn't sacrifice one for the other! Compare the freshness and extra value trim of Buttreys' meats. Smell the aroma of Buttreys' Delicious bakery goodies, baking while you shop! See the dewy freshness in the produce case and, of course, national brand groceries and staples assure you of top quality, always at low Budget Prices! Behave "yourself" Budget at Buttreys Foods where High Quality and Low Budget Prices go hand in hand any day you shop!

TRADING STAMPS

Gold Strike trading stamps have been a bonus you received for shopping at Buttreys, and now with the advent of Budget Food Prices, that bonus is in the form of low everyday Budget Prices. However, Buttreys Foods will continue to give trading stamps through September 13, to enable you to complete your saver books. At that time, they will be discontinued in favor of Buttreys complete food store program featuring low everyday Budget Food Prices! Shop and compare, you'll find you can place your complete confidence in Buttreys!

You've enjoyed shopping Buttreys for total Quality, total Service, total Variety - and NOW...
