Reds Will Meet Wives Of Airmen

PARIS (UPI)—The wives of four American airmen downed over North Vietnam played cards in their hotel rooms today and waited for a summons from Hanoi officials who they hope will say whether their husbands are dead or alive.

The Hanoi delegation agreed to a meeting after the women paid a surprise visit to the Communists' suburban villa Tuesday.

No time or date was set for the meeting. The four women, who flew to Paris Sunday, in an effort to learn the fate of their husbands, were scheduled to spend only a week in the French capital before returning home to Texas.

A North Vietnamese spokesman said the women could not be received by officials when they called on the villa because they did not have an appointment.

"But, of course, they will be received at the delegation," he said. The Communists never have reported the fate of the man missing over North Vietnam from eight months to four years.

Woman Takes U.N. Helm As Sharp Debate Flares On Violence In Ireland

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The 24th General Assembly session, "fresh from a warning by its second woman president against viewing world affairs "parochially," moved today towards a confrontation over Northern Ireland.

The battle shaped up within the steering committee, where a sharp debate was expected on whether to add Ireland's demand for a U.N. peacekeeping force in Northern Ireland to the assembly's 104-item agenda. Such a move was opposed by the British delegation. "We do not consider that U.N. intervention in the affairs of Northern Ireland is either necessary or appropriate," a spokesman said.

Members of the steering committee are the assembly's 17 vice presidents, to be elected today, Assembly President Angie Brooks of Liberia and the chairmen of the seven standing committees, who were elected at the opening session Tuesday.

In her inaugural address, Miss Brooks said the U.N. "weakness seems to lie in the fact that we all too often view world affairs somewhat parochially, as if they were being played out at the headquarters on the East River of New York."

Miss Brooks said diplomats "have sometimes failed to recognize that neither oratory nor agreements between nations nor even resolutions or recommendations have had much impact on the course of affairs in the world at large."

However, she said "with the seeming decline of effectiveness of the U.N. and its reputation in the wake of world events, the need for the world body is ever on the increase."

Miss Brooks, 41, a graduate of Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C., was the first woman to hold the assembly's presidency since Mrs. V. P. Pandit of India in 1953.

Collision Of Helicopters

Kills 12 American Troops

SAIGON (UPI)—Two U.S. Army helicopters collided in flight today just south of Saigon, killing all 12 Americans aboard. In another tragedy U.S. helicopter gunships fired on a group of South Vietnamese civilians by mistake, killing seven and wounding 17.

The helicopter collision occurred about 15 miles south of the capital and involved a UH1 command helicopter and an AH1 helicopter gunship. American military sources said. Both the collision and the accidental shooting occurred in the Mekong Delta.

Censor

JEROME Major Earl Greenawald has told news reporters that neither he nor any city council member will divulge information regarding the press unit's council meetings because of dangers of being misquoted.

He said no news of the 15 monthly meetings will be available to the press until the minutes of each meeting have been prepared for publication by Mrs. Mabel Beveridge, city clerk.

It was not clear what action will be taken if area newspapers decided to staff the sessions.

Astronauts Greet Congress, Ask Further Space Efforts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Apollo 11 astronauts reported to Congress on their moon landing Tuesday and asked the lawmakers not to neglect future space exploration in the effort to solve earthly problems.

The Apollo 11 lesson is that national goals can be met where there is a strong enough will to do so," Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. told a Joint House-Senate session.

"It was here in these halls that our venture really began," said Neil A. Armstrong who walked with Aldrin on the moon's surface.

Aldrin, Col. Michael Collins, who piloted the Columbia command module while his comrades descended to the moon, reported that in return for a $24 billion investment equal to "the wealth of the Indies," "we brought back a lunar system that will be used by some to escape all income taxes," Rockefeller quipped. But he argued that abuses could be halted without upsetting "the delicate balance of our present system which has encouraged private initiative to help in such a crucial and constructive way in coping with society's problems."

He said the bill "would duplicate the bill on the assembly of funds for philanthropic purposes."

Reds Told Withdrawal Depends On War Level

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Having announced a two-troop withdrawal, the White House is now trying to force the North Vietnamese to accept concessions unless it does something in return.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird called a news conference today, presumably to detail which units will be involved in the latest decision to pull 35,000 troops out by Dec. 15.

Many Americans Keep Gun, Dog For Protection

NEW YORK (UPI)—Slindinger and Co. reported Tuesday that more than one-third of the adults questioned in a nationwide telephone survey said they keep a gun, dog or other means of protection in the home against a possible crime.

Of the 1,378 persons polled, 7 out of 10 believe "each" family has increased in the past five years, Slindinger said.

Slindinger reported 27.8 percent said they are a member of their family kept some kind of protection in the home and 64.4 percent said they did not.

Of the 37.8 percent, 72.1 percent kept a gun, 71.1 percent a dog, 6.4 percent a knife, 2.5 percent a knife, 1 percent an alarm system and 0.7 percent a tear gas gun. Another 8.3 percent said they had "other" means of protection.

Israeli Planes Continue Attacks On Egyptian Foes

By United Press International

Israel has no intention of backing off its air strikes into Egypt, government sources here said today. Israeli warplanes have struck across the Suez Canal and Gulf of Suez seven times in the past eight days.

The sources said Israel held the offensive in the Middle East air war and would continue to push it in what Egypt has described as "a war of attrition along the canal and the gulf."

After a one-day lull, the Israeli Air Force attacked Egyptian military targets along the western bank of the Gulf of Suez Tuesday. Egypt said the planes were turned back.

The aerial raids kept the Middle East air war at a pitch rarely reached since the 1967 war as Israel's foreign minister, Abba Eban, said his nation was ready to negotiate with the Arabs.

"We are prepared for unconditional negotiation," he said in London Tuesday. "We make no prior condition to negotiation and at the table of negotiations, any party can make any matter to other countries."

Peace-making attempts had no effect on fighting along the Suez. Israel reported today that it had shot down one Egyptian military target along the western bank of the Gulf of Suez.

Samuelson Rakes Foresters Over Timber-Sale Directive

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson today ordered the Forest Service to drop its directive to put up timber for sale.

The governor made his statement during a forum-type meeting in the southern part of the state. Samuelson told a group of about 40 people attending the session.

The governor said he was unhappy with the Forest Service for not putting the timber up for bid on smaller mills could get a chance at it.

However, he did praise the management of the north Idaho national forest, saying "You are fortunate to have a Forest Service managing timberland here under the multiple use concept."

"But," Samuelson continued, "in the south end of the state is a little different proposition."

The northern Idaho forests are part of the Forest Service Region One headquartered at Missoula, Mont., while forests in the southern part of the state are located in Region Four with headquarters at Ogden, Utah.

Samuelson said proper harvesting of matured timberlands can go a long way toward meeting the national goal of 26 million acres of timber by 1980.

Turning to another subject, the governor said the state has two choices in developing a sound tax base to provide the governmental services needed.

"Either we can make people dig twice deeper into their pockets to pay more taxes of the state can increase the tax base by encouraging business and industry to expand with the new business being sources of new tax revenues," Samuelson said.

The governor and several of his top state officials are scheduled to travel to Wallace Wednesday before returning to Boise.

Ford Adds $103 To 1970 Prices

DETROIT (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. today announced price increases in its 1970 model averaging $103, but retained its $1,800-five-on-the-lowest-price Mustang.

The price boost was $22 lower than average. Price increases announced by General Motors last week.

Endowment Fund Student Loans Asked By Hansen

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman Orval Hansen has proposed that part of Idaho's public school endowment fund be used for loans to Idaho college students under the federal guarantee student loan program.

Rep. Hansen would result in substantial benefits to Idaho education. Rep. Hansen explained, "It would help Idaho by Idaho loans and then returned to the endowment fund. Such loans should only be made, however, under conditions whereby repayment of both principal and interest is fully guaranteed in order to protect the endowment fund against loss."

Rep. Hansen said officials in the U.S. Office of Education with whom he discussed the proposal had expressed great interest. He said he had requested the assistance and cooperation of Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Robert C. E. A. Filles and James Allen, Commissioner of Education in the development of a plan for a guaranteed student loan program.

"Investment in student loans at current rates of interest could result in up to three times the original investment," Hansen said. "Investment in student loans received from government securities," Rep. Hansen said.

As a member of the Idaho State Public Health Commission, the author of the recently adopted constitutional amendment permitting broader and more productive investment of the state's public health fund, he is also a co-sponsor of the student loan bill passed Monday by the House of Representatives.

J. L. Driscoll, a councilman, asked the amount of these bills and the city clerk, Earl Shaddock, said he could not tell the amount, but it could be tabulated.

The right of the council to approve bills when there are not finances available to pay them was questioned by Councilman Les Morgan. Ken C. Church, city attorney, advised the council that it has the legal aspects of approving bills when money was not available and whether bills can be carried into next year. He will check if the council members can be held liable for knowingly overspending.

The council approved the bills as soon as the money is available.

A transfer of $5,000 from the electrical fund to the general fund was approved. The council also granted a request from Shaddock for purchasing a $4,574 business machine to be used in making up the payroll. Mr. Shaddock said the present machine is 10 years old and noted the new one can be purchased with no payment until the first of the year. The funds for the machine will be taken from the electrical, general and water funds.

The first reading of the new state plumbing code was held. The councilmen will attend the Public Utilities Hearing at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Ponderosa Inn to protest the railroad removing the passenger car from the Buhl-Pocatello route.

Police Guard Soccer Team After Threat

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Police today assigned security guards to protect a visiting Italian soccer team from an outlaw army of Protestant vigilantes who threaten to massacre the team.

The threat issued by an illegal paramilitary force known as the Ulster Volunteer Force pumped new tensions into the British military peacekeeping effort here just as agreement had been reached to remove peacefully all Roman Catholic brigades.

Catholics promised all 150 barricades that have been in place in their neighborhoods since the August riots would come down by midday Friday.

The militia, a Protestant force that sent police scurrying to Belfast's oval stadium, was directed against the Roma soccer team, which was to play Belfast's Newtonards club today.

"The Italian football club will never reach home," the Ulster Volunteer Force said in a letter to the militia.

The Italian press and TV have attacked British Ulster and England and we must and shall take a punitive action against them."

The threat was signed "Captain Johnson, Commandant, 59th Battalion. The militia said they were taking it seriously.

"We cannot afford to take any chances and the team will leave a police guard before, during and after the match until they leave the country," a police spokesman said.

Hero Of Wreck Dies In Smashup

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, W. (UPI)—Bernard Eichel, 21, Concord, N.H., who on Saturday rescued two youngsters from a burning car wreck that killed four other persons, was killed in another auto accident, it was learned Tuesday.

Police said Eichel's body was found near the wreckage of a car on Rte. 43 Tuesday. Also killed in the crash was Miss Darlene Merchant, 21, of White River Junction.

Eichel was following a car on Rte. 93 in Bow, N.H., Saturday when a southbound car crossed the median strip and slammed into the vehicle in front of Hamel.

Hamel stopped his car, ran to the burning wreckage and managed to pull two boys out. Police said the accident that killed Hamel and his companion apparently happened late Monday night. His body was found 140 feet from the wreckage and Miss Merchant's about 30 feet away.

Authorities were unable immediately to determine how the accident happened.

Use this time did not set a specific date for further review. He said troop levels would be under continuous review.

The White House disavowed the statement that the U.S. troop cut would reach 150,000 by the end of the year.

White House sources said that while contingency plans exist, the figures used by Ky had not been officially discussed with the South Vietnamese government.

Explaining its move to newsmen, the White House said that the criteria Nixon has set for troop withdrawals are to mean anything at all, the administration cannot state a rigid withdrawal schedule which would be carried out regardless of the actions of the other side.

The three criteria are presently being worked out. The administration is still in the process of working out the details of the withdrawal.

Paul V. Harrington, manager of the firm, said he has sent a fish loading machine to Denmark, the world's largest trout producing country, to feed about 25 million pounds of trout annually as compared to four million in the U.S.

Mr. Harrington said this Danish feed company has a trout farm and also will be a franchised distributor for Harrington's processing equipment.

Mr. Harrington said this will be the first fish loader in Denmark.

Pope Condemns Clerical Dissent

CASTLE-GANDOLFO, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said today dissent within the Roman Catholic clergy appears to have gone beyond permissible limits.

"One cannot look on without apprehension at the ease with which the virtues of ecclesiastical obedience is infringed," he said.

The Pope appealed at his regular weekly general audience for churchmen and laymen to unite in action to overcome the influence of priests contesting such issues as birth control, celibacy and experimental forms of worship.

Dissenting priests may obtain more publicity and attention, he said, but added that the church was filled with silent, understanding members.

Engineer Is Retained For County Plan

RUPERT — Wendell Smith, Preston, has been retained as planner and engineer for Millard County to complete a comprehensive survey of the county's resources.

The survey is to begin immediately, according to members of the county planning commission who met recently to sign the contract with Mr. Smith.

The primary purpose of the survey is to qualify the county for federal grants for improvement of sewer and water systems should such be desired. The survey is also to be used as an aid in planning for orderly development of the county for the next 10 or 20 years.

Mr. Smith is to have the survey completed within the next six months, at which time 250 copies will be available for use in the county.

Charities Get Boost From Safety Plan

BURLEY — Local charities receive funds as a new phase in the J. R. Simplot Co. Heyburn plant's safety program. Rex Stanley, safety director, made the check presentations on behalf of the employees.

Receiving the charity checks were Mrs. Mervin Ling, past Minidoka County Cancer Fund chairman; Carl Gled, Scout executive for the Snake River Area Council; Lee Childs, executive director of Idaho Youth Ranch; Rupert and George Warren, Salvation Army, Cassia County Chairman.

The checks totaling $35 represented money received by employees at the Heyburn plant under a new safety program which will be repeated every six months.

The program is set up so employees in each department have a chance to donate money to their favorite charity by simply observing the plant's safety program. Each month that a department goes "accident free," the J. R. Simplot Co. rewards that department with $10, each succeeding month that an individual department maintains an accident free status, the amount is doubled over a six-month period.

At the end of a six-month period, all funds are collected from each department and placed in a lump sum and at this time employees are given a choice as to which charity the money shall be donated.

"The contest is also a competition between the various departments in the plant to see which department can raise the most money," stated Mr. Stanley.

Space Will Wait

It is becoming obvious that the decade of the Sixties that put man on the moon is not likely to be followed by another comparable space effort in the Seventies. There are simply too many earthly problems and the stars don't vote.

A clue to the future may be seen in the shelving of the Manned Orbital Laboratory for economic reasons. It undoubtedly will come up again but not soon.

However, the Apollo program has a flexible schedule of nine manned flights to the moon for scientific studies of the lunar surface, and more could be quickly instituted if desired. The projected flights won't affect current budgets very much, since appropriations were made earlier.

Apollo 11 brought back some samples from the moon and some surprising results have been reported from early testing, although as the saying goes, we have only scratched the surface.

Unmanned planetary probes, which cost much less than manned flights and do not risk lives, are to be expected. There is a unique opportunity toward the end of the decade ahead to catch four of our planets all in a row, an opportunity that won't be repeated until after the end of this century. These planets are Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune.

Probes of the nearer planets, Mars and Venus, indicate that they are just as hostile to man as the moon, if not more so. If this indication is borne out by further studies, the space fiction dream of wholesale immigration to a new and better world will remain merely fiction.

Earth seems uniquely adapted for man who has yet to prove he is adapted for it and whose threats against its continued fitness are growing at an alarming rate.

Manned missions in orbit around the earth might have more immediate application and hold some promise for improvements in keeping earth livable, better satellite communications, better forecasting, perhaps some forms of weather control, and better understanding of earth's air, water and other natural resources.

Recent reports have indicated less contraband marijuana from Mexico reaching the United States with resultant skyrocketing prices and a shifting to other possibly more dangerous drugs.

It is commonly known that many drugs not sold without a prescription in the United States are available over the counter in Mexico. Some of them are made here, legally exported, and then smuggled back into the United States.

Nixon also has recommended to Congress a comprehensive program to bring into line federal and state laws dealing with sale, possession, narcotics. This is essential in view of the present loopholes and enforcement problems that have resulted from narrow legal interpretations.

The President clearly labeled marijuana a danger, something many youngsters do not believe because they have been misled. In some instances by notorious faculty users.

Vigorous action is required before the problem becomes so immense neither reason nor law can cope with it.

WASHINGTON—Solicitor General Erwin Griswold in a forceful congressional demand that the formally ask the Supreme Court to require Justice William O. Douglas to abstain from sitting on a far-reaching case involving the validity of a key provision of the Selective Service Act.

This unprecedented proposal is being made by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., a congressman and a member of the powerful House Armed Services Committee and chairman of its subcommittee on the National Guard, reserve and draft.

In a blunt letter to Griswold, who speaks for the federal government in arguments before the Supreme Court, Hebert flatly accuses the 71-year-old, four-times-married Douglas of having long displayed open and vindictive bias and prejudice against the Act, and being "morally and ethically unfit to sit on this crucial case."

"His record is as notorious as it is indisputable," declared Hebert, one-time crusading New Orleans newsman and editor.

This latest extraordinary challenge of Douglas follows on the heels of recent disclosure that he had been getting $12,000 a year as head of a foundation which derived much of its income from Las Vegas gambling casinos. Senators and congressmen indignantly demanded he quit the bench.

Douglas was defiant. He let it be known he would not resign as former Justice Fortas did under threat of impeachment on charges involving another foundation.

At the last of the Douglas affair has not been heard, Hebert's vigorous demand that the militant "pacifist" be compelled to withdraw from cases involving the draft and related issues is certain to add fuel to congressional opposition to his continuance on the Supreme Court. Members of the House Judiciary Committee are known to be considering offering a resolution on a caustically censuring Douglas and calling for his retirement.

There are no grounds for such a move in his letter to Griswold.

Citing details of Douglas' "notorious" bias and prejudice against justice against the Vietnam war and just about everything relating to it, Hebert declares: "There are no grounds for such a move in his letter to Griswold. Even he can hardly claim to have an open and fair mind on this. In fact, if he were a man of high character and probity, he would abstain on his own accord. But obviously he isn't, as evidenced by his conduct in other matters."

In a case involving Rep. Hebert's unprecedented demand involves a ruling early this year by Federal District Judge George Charles Lewis, Boston, a provision of the Selective Service Act relating to conscientious objectors was invalid.

Wyzanski contended the statute violated the First Amendment, and the "old" Supreme Court agreed to review this opinion. The case will be argued next month. Hebert maintains the outcome "is of the utmost importance to the security of the military service."

"It strikes at the very core of the military strength of the country," he wrote. Solicitor General Griswold's "selective objection to a particular law is one of the major issues in this case. The resolution of this issue may, vitally, create the ability of the Selective Service System to meet future military manpower requirements."

"This crucial reason," Hebert holds, the Supreme Court's consideration of this case calls for "impeccable objectivity and impartiality on the part of the Justices. It is inconceivable that the slightest trace of bias or prejudice should be permitted, either pro or con, by any of them."

"The last man who can claim such scrupulousness is Douglas. If ever there was a judge explicitly and militantly committed on an issue," Hebert charged, "Douglas is on the Vietnam war and just about everything relating to it. In speeches, articles, articles and legal pronouncements he has repeatedly demonstrated his personal vendetta and hostility against every opportunity to take legal action to cripple the ability of the military to continue operations in Vietnam."

To leave no doubt in Griswold's mind as to the extent and nature of this "notorious record," Hebert cites a number of specific instances.

The records of the Supreme Court will show, he declared, "that in the past several years Justice Douglas has had a number of stays in cases involving the Vietnam war after they had been refused by other members of the court."

Hebert also charges that Douglas has "deliberately" withheld his vote in cases involving the Vietnam war and just about everything relating to it. In speeches, articles, articles and legal pronouncements he has repeatedly demonstrated his personal vendetta and hostility against every opportunity to take legal action to cripple the ability of the military to continue operations in Vietnam."

War On Drugs

President Nixon took dead aim on the narcotics problem and the threat it poses to the nation's youth by enlisting Mexico's aid in cutting off the sources of supply.

"It is doubtful," Nixon said, "that an American parent can send a son or daughter to college today without exposing the young man or woman to drug abuse."

The National Institute of Mental Health estimates that more than one third of all college and high school students today have used marijuana or some other drug and the number has been rising at a runaway rate despite publicity of crimes and deaths resulting from drug abuse.

Therefore, the President's action in preparing a gigantic effort against smuggling of marijuana and other dangerous drugs from Mexico and seeking from President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz the fullest possible cooperation, is timely and necessary.

Efforts are to be made to persuade the Mexican government to locate and destroy marijuana and poppy fields with sensors, chemicals and helicopters supplied by the United States.

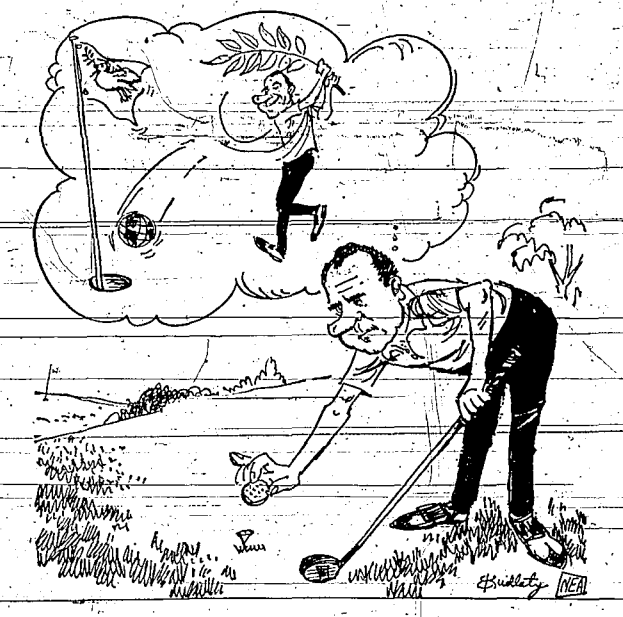

Recent reports have indicated less contraband marijuana from Mexico reaching the United States with resultant skyrocketing prices and a shifting to other possibly more dangerous drugs.

It is commonly known that many drugs not sold without a prescription in the United States are available over the counter in Mexico. Some of them are made here, legally exported, and then smuggled back into the United States.

Illinois Has GOP Muscle

CHICAGO (NEA) — The upbeat condition of the Illinois Republican party is not only a tribute to the leadership of Gov. Richard Ogilvie but telling demonstration of how success breeds success.

While the once high-riding Democrats are able to rely in many places with the array that so often accompanies defeat, the GOP in state after state is exhibiting charisma in its candidates, getting up the money and putting fresh muscle into organizations that for long years were fairly feeble.

National Republican officials accustomed to thinking of Illinois as somehow the proven political property of Chicago's Democratic Mayor Richard Daley now suddenly see it as a new and shining example of alert and triumphant Republicans.

stant hard eye on the whole matter of party development. His grasp of politics is good, though he leaves the details to trust aides and established party men of evident talent. Among the latter is the veteran state GOP chairman, Victor Smith, an able realist with capacity for harmonizing differences.

Ogilvie's clout has been substantially magnified by his success in mulling through Illinois' first personal and corporate income tax. Though he had to settle for 2 1/2 per cent personal levy and 4 per cent corporate, both rates, his skill at negotiating the result was impressive. Furthermore, he is getting a better management grip on the state's traditionally decentralized budget operation with a new overseeing Bureau of the Budget.

What might be called the "ogilvianity" of Illinois Republican politics gives the party a long-overdue fresh look.

MR. SPECTATOR

The World Champs

If you think that you entertain heroes here in the United States Mr. Spectator would hasten to point out to you folks that they go way out in Free China.

Scanning the Free China Weekly the other day (it's published in Taipei, Taiwan) Mr. Spectator found that the big story of page one was the welcome being prepared for the Taiching Golden Dragon - Little League baseball team which was returning home after winning the world championship in the United States.

And, brother, the welcome that was prepared for the kids, of course, the welcome was Sept. 7 so it is past but the story in the paper was printed before the kids got there.

So why not share it with our Free China friends? Mr. Spectator remembers seeing the fume on nationwide TV and it was interesting. So here's the story from the Free China Weekly.

The nation is preparing a heroes' welcome for the Taiching Golden Dragon baseball team, which won the 1968 Little League World Series, when they return to Taipei from the United States Sept. 7.

The Little Leaguers will be greeted at the Taipei airport by an unprecedentedly large crowd, including contingents from all parts of this island.

After ceremonies at the airport, the young heroes will be paraded through the city in 20 open cars to receive the acclaim of hundreds of thousands of people.

In the evening, the 14-member team, together with the five officials who accompanied them to Williamsport, will be feted at a grand dinner hosted by public and private organizations representing the whole country. After the dinner, the whole country. After the dinner, the Little heroes will give interviews that will be televised and broadcast.

The Ministry of Education will present medals to the Little heroes in appreciation of their contribution to the glorification of the nation. Public and private institutes, including the Provincial Education Department and the Chinese Scholarship Foundation, have decided to give scholarships to the youngsters to help them finish their education through college.

The Chinese team from central Taiwan went to the United States on Aug. 13 and represented the Pacific region in the play for the 23rd Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

The team was the first to represent the Pacific in the defuncting Japan, the world title winner in 1967 and 1968.

Eight teams took part in the Williamsport tournament—four American teams representing the east, west, north, and south regions, and four teams representing Canada, Europe, Latin America and the Pacific, respectively.

The Chinese entered the semifinals by defeating Canada 5-0 in the first round Aug. 20.

They defeated the north region team of the United States 4-3 in the semi-finals Aug. 22 and triumphed 6-0 over the west region American team, Santa Clara, California, in the final game Aug. 24.

In the title fight a wild pitch and a passed ball led to three Chinese runs in the second inning and two errors contributed to two more runs in the fourth.

PAUL HARVEY

Flesh Peddlers

Dirty movies, magazines and adult novelties are worth $2 billion a year. Pornography is a bigger business than the "legitimate" movie industry.

I am going to use the word "pornography" even though the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled it fine because you and I know what it is whether they do or not.

You and I grew up with an instinct of right and wrong and telling us what's "dirty" and what's "decent" and we must have been right because there was less crime, less illegitimacy, less venereal disease, less drug addiction, fewer abortions, fewer spoiled children and less prostitution in lower high schools.

How much aphrodisiac can be blamed on permissive parents, lax school teachers, compromising clergy and ad execs? None can say. Yet FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover affirms that in the possession of slung every six criminal apprehended is found a quantity of lurid literature.

Lowly movie movies have become big business. It's not just on Broadway that they are now showing the sex act; these slick flicks are showing in downtown Dallas. It's not hungry ghettos that are the main market.

Some states, including New Mexico and Oklahoma, are hoping to attract the nation picture industry. They offer tax and other advantages to producers of exploitation films.

Often the publicity for these low budget flicks includes more sex, horror and violence than the content of the films themselves, but many — foreign and domestic — are what we need to call "hard-core" movies. I am sure that the industry is no further to the time. Nine Supreme Court Justices, average age 66, have been justicable to decide what any housewife knows: the difference between what's "art" and what's "dirty."

Repeatedly the court has struck down efforts at censorship so it may be that the Americans will not see — those housewives — may have to do a little "demonstrating" of their own.

Women who are "down graded" with sex "filmed" in Harvard's "sex boredom."

Harvard theology Prof. Harvey Cox says if he were a woman he would be insulted by the Playboy philosophy which identifies sex as a playing and any woman as the playmate.

Actress Virginia Mayo outspokenly castigates the "male-feminine writers, producers and directors in show business who are purposely showcasing women in the male world."

At least some women intend to fight back. Without quite yet knowing how they will fight or with what weapons, the 21 million members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs have launched a campaign "to halt the proliferation of hard core, crime and violence in movies, TV, magazines and paperback."

Federation president Mrs. Walter Magee says "self-censorship by the industry involved has not worked. Pressures made by the heads of these industries have not been carried out. The entertainment media is increasingly vulgar and of a low level."

Through its national magazine, and its 15,000 clubs in 50 states, the federation is urging step-by-step procedures on how clubwomen in their respective towns can "pressure for morality."

"They intend to reverse the tide. Don't bet they won't. There is no way like that of a woman scorned."

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Virus Hepatitis

(Second in a series of three articles.) As remarked yesterday, there isn't any "dramatic" treatment for hepatitis, no "wonder drug." Indeed, there are few virus diseases that are curable by medication, and that is true of hepatitis — a virus infection of the liver.

The liver, fortunately for all of us, has strong powers of recuperation, but it must be given a chance. Therefore bed rest and liquid diet are essential in treating hepatitis in its early, acute stage.

Bed rest replaces the liver its own rest by relieving the burden of strain. In any way the patient is pretty sick and weary and wants to rest. And the liquid diet is designed to reduce the liver's workload by relieving the burden of strain. In any way the patient is pretty sick and weary and wants to rest. And the liquid diet is designed to reduce the liver's workload by relieving the burden of strain.

Frequent small feedings are the right pattern at this stage. The patient hasn't much appetite, but he does need food. Return of appetite, reduction of swelling and tenderness of the liver, and a return toward normal of chemical tests signal the beginning of recovery.

As the patient can tolerate it, he should return to a full diet but — and this is of urgent importance — he must not consume alcohol in any form. Alcohol puts a strain on the liver. The patient hasn't much appetite, but he does need food. Return of appetite, reduction of swelling and tenderness of the liver, and a return toward normal of chemical tests signal the beginning of recovery.

As the disease subsides, so does the jaundice, or yellowness of the skin. Reason for this yellowing is the extra amount of coloring matter in bile. The important digestive juice produced by the liver.

Brennan, Harlan and White. In each of these instances, the Court subsequently vacated a decision of Douglas, still uncalculable and irreparable mischief had been done."

Despite these repeated rebuking, rebuts by his colleagues, Douglas still insisted on his meddling and obstructionism.

Hebert cites a recent instance involving Capt. Howard Levy, an Army doctor serving a three-year sentence for refusing to let train menials of service in Vietnam. Douglas released him after Justice William Brennan Jr., who has jurisdiction in Levy's case, had rejected his petition.

"Not only did Douglas go over Brennan's head and reverse him," pointed out Hebert, "but did so by the extraordinary means of a long-distance message from a summer cottage on the West Coast. As I have pointed out, this is not the first time he has displayed such blatantly arbitrary and capricious bias in cases involving the Vietnam war in particular and the military in general."

Hebert noted he is aware that seeking Douglas' forced withdrawal from sitting on such cases is extraordinary and possibly even unprecedented. But he contended it is completely warranted and justified.

Citizenship Day Noted In Valley Area

Today was Citizenship Day in Twin Falls and throughout the valley. There was no formal observance, Mrs. John E. Hayes, state chairman for Citizenship Day and Constitution Week, called the matter to the attention of citizens.
Mrs. Hayes pointed out that two joint resolutions of the Congress authorized the President to call for the observance. The first resolution, approved in 1952, authorized the designation of Sept. 17 each year as "Citizenship Day" in commemoration of all citizens who have come of age and all who have been naturalized during that year.
The second resolution, approved Aug. 2, 1956, authorized the designation of the week beginning Sept. 17 of each year as "Constitution Week," a time for study and observance of the acts which resulted in the formation of the constitution. The President now issues a single proclamation.
The proclamation this year was issued by President Nixon. It called for special observances over the nation.

LOSE 10 LBS. IN 10 DAYS ON NEW GRAPEFRUIT DIET

This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants, and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada. Word of its success has spread like wildfire, because this is the diet that really seems to work for most overweight people. A well known Toronto columnist recently praised it to the skies. He reported losing 20 pounds quickly and easily, long after he desisted of ever getting down to his working weight of 165 pounds. All this without cutting out the occasional beer. If it is followed exactly, the average overweight person should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss the first four days, but you will actually drop 3 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day, then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there should be no hunger pangs. Now relax and enjoy this new diet list as you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden." Such as big steaks trimmed without fat, fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fish, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first 10 days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" diet is not generally known. Fat, it has been theorized, does not burn fat. Perhaps fat fights fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet might act as a catalyst (the trigger) to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food list in the diet plan, and still lose weight. Fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and blood are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startling successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $3 to GUY C.

Former T.F. Resident Weds

Martha Ann Marnier, Lafayette, Calif., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cummings Marnier Jr., was married to Bruce Andrew Voyles, son of Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Quintin Voyles, Palo Alto, Calif., former Twin Falls resident, in rites Aug. 23 at the United Methodist Church, Lafayette.

Rev. R. Richard Roe performed the ceremony before a setting of floral arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums and gladioli and two cardelabos. Ribbon bows marked the pews. All flowers were arranged by Mrs. Ruth Wilmarth.

The bride wore a full-length gown of tulle and silk trimmed with Venise lace. Her Astor skirt, with a flowing champagne-length train, was attached to a fitted bodice, fashioned with short sleeves and a wedding ring neckline. Venise lace accented the gown at the neckline, empire-line, hemline and train.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore an elbow-length veil of illusion—held by a pearl crown. She carried a cascading bouquet of white and yellow

Bulah Kemper, Knutsen Recite Nuptial Vows

Bulah Kemper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kemper, became the bride of Cpl. Earl Knutsen, son of M. and Mrs. Lynn Knutsen, all Twin Falls, in rites Aug. 30 at Lynwood Chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown many inches shorter than her 83-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Bulah Wickle, and her mother.

Examinands served at head of honor and the bridegroom's father was best man.

Sherilyn Ferrar, Central Agency, was pianist. A number of the guests were women from Heritage Manor.

The couple took a short honeymoon trip to Yellowstone National Park. The bride will reside in Twin Falls until Cpl. Knutsen completes his tour of duty in Vietnam.

Sweet and sour potatoes.

They're both Idaho Russet Burbank potatoes. They're almost identical in every respect except one. The one on the left was hedged at a profitable price by the man who grew it. The one on the right was sold for cash—at a loss.

You can take much of the risk out of the potato business through the modern business practice of hedging on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

Hedging is a useful transaction by which you contract to sell your potatoes at the best available price before they are produced. If, later, the price goes up, it's true you will not make as much as you might have. But if the price drops, you've avoided a serious loss. In either case, you can add dollars to your working capital by borrowing on your hedged production. Many banks will loan more money on hedged potatoes than on unhedged.

Those who buy large quantities of potatoes can protect themselves from an extreme price rise by buying potato futures at a guaranteed price for possible future use.

To learn more about the application of hedging to your business, write to us at the address below and ask for "potato hedging information."

Sage Grouse And Other Upland Game Birds Are Legal Targets Saturday

The upland game bird season, with the sage grouse carrying the brunt of the first weekend pressure, opens in Magic Valley Saturday morning and will continue for some species through the remainder of the year. The big item Saturday will be sage grouse and the Idaho Fish and Game Department reports the birds have had another excellent to satisfactory reproduction year, depending on the area discussed. All indicators, strutting ground counts and brood counts, show an upward trend. This is reflected in longer seasons and, for some areas, increased bag limits.

Williams, White Sox Take Pair

CHICAGO (UPI)—Walt Williams hit three singles and a double in eight appearances Tuesday night, drove in two runs and scored another to lead the Chicago White Sox to a doubleheader sweep over the California Angels 7-4 and 3-2. Williams collected two singles and a double in the nightcap as he opened the game with a single, advanced on Luis Aparicio's single and scored on Duane Josephson's single. The Sox got another run in the fourth when Josephson reached second on a two-base error by Aurelio Rodriguez, advanced on a wild pitch and score on Bob Christian's single. The Sox's run came in the sixth on Bill Melton's walk and Don Pavletich's double.

Haney, Doctor Rejoice Vandals

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—Two injured players, Bob Haney of Colville, Wash., and Frank Doctor of Spokane, are returning to the starting lineup of the Idaho Vandals. Steve Olsen led the backfield, including Doctor, Mike Wilcombe and Jeff Guillory, against some Northern Illinois defenses in practice Tuesday. The Vandals will hold one more strong practice in preparation for the Huskies and then taper off Thursday. They will leave Spokane Friday morning for the Delcath, Ill. for the Saturday night game.

Coaches Drop All-Star Game

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Coaches All-America Football Game, plagued first by sagging attendance and foot-hot weather and then by a strike by the superstars, apparently hung up its cleats Tuesday. The summer all-star game could be revived at another site at a later date but the co-sponsoring American Football Coaches Association and Atlanta Braves announced Tuesday that "by mutual agreement" they were terminating the contract for playing the game in Atlanta Stadium.

Cox Fly In 13th Downs Detroit 7-6

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bobby Cox's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded and one out in the 13th inning scored Jerry Kenney and gave the New York Yankees a 7-6 victory Tuesday night over the Detroit Tigers. Jerry Kenney and Thurmon Munson led off the 13th with singles and pinch-hitter Tom Shipoy was intentionally walked by Darrel Patterson to load the bases. Horace Clarke flied to short center before Cox hit the sacrifice fly that gave the victory to Lindy McDaniel, who entered the game in the 12th.

Killebrew, Twins Rout Oakland 11-3

ST. PAUL, MINN. (UPI)—Harmon Killebrew hit his 44th home run and Jim Perry won his 13th game as Minnesota whipped Oakland 11-3 Tuesday to extend the Twins' lead over the A's to 10 games in the American League West. Perry's 13th win was Minnesota's magic number to six.

Killebrew hit a three-run homer in the first inning of loser Jim Nash, 8-8, to increase his league-leading RBI total to 134. The homer was his 11th against Oakland this season. Perry's 13th win gave up 10 hits, but pitched out of numerous jams for his 11th complete game. The 19 victories are the most Perry has won in a season during his 11-year major league career.

Ex-Elmore Man Given New Heart

GLENNIS FERRY, Ida. h (UPI) — Herman Joslyn, 64, the retired airline pilot from Seattle who received a new heart at Stanford University Medical center Sunday, is a former Idahoan.

Joslyn also is the brother of State Rep. Alvin Joslyn, D-GleNNIS Ferry, and attended school in this railroad town at one time.

"Alvin Joslyn said his brother, born at Tacoma, Wash., retired two or three years ago as a Pan American Airways Captain. He said his brother had flown the Seattle-Honolulu route for Pan Am.

During the past 1 1/2 years, he said, Herman Joslyn developed a serious heart condition and it was decided to seek a heart donor when it was found he could not survive without a transplant.

"The entire family is and will be forever grateful," Alvin Joslyn said. "It's these kinds of things which really make us aware that other people care."

Alvin Joslyn said he would like to visit his brother but at this time will be unable to do so.
