Get-Away With Murder? Not Easy If Coroner Is On Job

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

Not too long ago it was easy to get away with murder. A little arsenic slipped into the wife's hot toddy at night and the deed was done with no one the wiser. The chances of you pulling this little caper today and getting away with it are mighty slim.

"In all-science-and-the-equipment we have to work with now," Cloyce Edwards, Twin Falls County coroner, said in an interview Tuesday.

"We don't take too much for granted anymore."

A person found in bed, a bottle of little red pills beside him, is not automatically ruled a suicide. A long criminal check is made, with physicians and law enforcement officers working side by side to determine just what happened.

Mr. Edwards said he can obtain a person's medical history and check into their insurance records to see if any foul deed might have been done.

Also, scientific tests, including laboratory checks, an autopsy and x-rays may be employed to determine just how the person died.

Since Twin Falls County became a county back in 1907 there have been 309 coroner's cases investigated.

But, and Mr. Edwards revealed the figures during the interview, 45 of these cases have been investigated in the last nine months.

"At this rate I might do more in two years than was done in the past 60," Mr. Edwards said.

What does he attribute to the rise in coroner's cases in the past few years?

"For one thing the population of the county has grown, especially in the last 20 years. For another, law enforcement officers are contacting the coroner and physicians more often in unattended death cases. Mr. Edwards also pointed out there are new laws requiring him to check on certain types of deaths.

"For instance, I have to check all automobile accident deaths and the deaths of all pedestrians struck by a motor vehicle," he said.

There seems to be now a general awareness of the coroner, where there wasn't 20 or 30 years ago.

In the 1920s and 30s, it was common for a person to die at home. The family usually contacted a physician and the body was removed to a mortuary after death was pronounced.

Now the family often contacts Mr. Edwards or a law enforcement agency. In many cases the family physician may contact the coroner.

Mr. Edwards said it is becoming increasingly uncommon for a person to die at home. "They usually die in a hospital and that is an attended death," he said. More often than not these days when a person dies at home, the coroner is contacted.

"Especially since I run an ambulance service and usually make many of these calls personally anyway," he said.

"After working in the job since January 1, how does he like the work?"

"It's still very interesting," Mr. Edwards said.

He said it would be very hard to determine suicide cases from murder years ago. "With the scientific knowledge physicians now have and the facilities they can use, extensive checks can be made to determine if a death is really a suicide."

Traffic accident cases are also checked. Alcohol seems to be behind many such deaths. But what of a case involving a per-

U.S. Educators Asked To Curtail Student Violence

Student unrest almost certainly will recur this year in the nation's high schools.

Defusing this tension in public schools has become a major concern of Dr. James E. Allen Jr., the U.S. commissioner of education. In an unprecedented step, Dr. Allen addressed a message this month to the nation's secondary school principals suggesting steps they should take now to stem the unrest. Last week he sent a similar message to all chief state school officers.

Rather than couched hard-line responses, Allen urged the school officials to make this a year of "communication, responsiveness and relevancy changes."

Educational leaders have an obligation to confront the issues which underlie unrest and plan actions which reduce avoidable tensions in our school districts," said Allen, who is assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, as well as education commissioner.

Allen urged school principals to "thoroughly face these issues:

- Making schools responsive and responsible to all the citizens they serve.
- Assuring that curriculum is relevant to the real world.
- Sharing decision-making responsibility and authority with parents, teachers and students.
- Improving and measuring objectively the quality of teaching to enhance public confidence in the schools.
- Encouraging good citizenship by assuring students

GOODING — Hot Grass needed a costly trip to court for a man from the East, who was charged with malicious injury to private property after he set fire to grass as the Y-Inn Trailer court at Bliss.

Sheriff's Blotter
No citations were issued in a truck-car accident Monday afternoon near Tuttle in which a truck driven by William H. Coulson, 501 W. Carey, collided with a car operated by Otto Anderson, 751 Route 2, Gooding. Mr. Coulson told Deputy LeRoy Hess that Mr. Anderson failed to signal for a right turn and pulled to the left, so the truck driver started passing on the right side as the Gooding man turned right.

The car was demolished and an estimated $200 damage resulted to the truck.

Mrs. Otto Anderson was treated by a doctor for cuts and abrasions. Other passengers in the Anderson car, Mrs. Stanley Sniipe and Mrs. James Scott, both Gooding, and the drivers were unharmed.

Monday night sheriff's officers investigated another accident east of Bliss in which a 1968 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Lloyd Smith, 26, Hagerman, went out of control and knocked down six highway markers.

The truck came to rest in a hayfield. The crash occurred at the intersection of Highways 30 and Junction of Highways 30 and 25.

Role Of The UN

President Nixon presented a challenge to the United Nations General Assembly, not so much in hope that it will win peace in Vietnam as in the sure knowledge that the world was listening and believing that Nixon wants peace as do peoples everywhere.

Appealing for the best diplomatic efforts of the 126 nations represented to persuade Hanoi to begin serious peace negotiations, the President made good use of his first appearance before the Assembly in a low-keyed, wide-ranging address that surely built good will for the United States.

There is no doubt that if a large majority of the nations represented in the UN did make an effort to persuade Hanoi to take a more realistic attitude, there could be a quick end to the fighting in Vietnam.

President Nixon's appeal could lead to a breakthrough in the peace talks, upon the cut-and-run advocates in the Senate, and his moves to reduce draft calls and reform the college campus less inflammable.

Probably the United Nations carries more weight around the world than we give it credit for. Its great function is to provide a world forum. It lacks direct power for peace because of the Security Council veto privilege and because its membership includes enemies as well as allies.

Angie E. Brooks, of Liberia, the second woman and the third African to attain the presidency of the General Council, chided the organization for its decline in effectiveness.

Delegates, she said, adopt resolutions with no concern for their execution and member governments "pursue one policy for national use and seemingly another for use in the United Nations."

Thus, Vietnam is not on the agenda of the current session.

The fact that the UN does exist, however, keeps alive hopes that sooner or later it may provide a vital, peace-keeping resource.

Individual member nations could and should do the best they can now for peace in Vietnam and in the Middle East as well.

PITTSBURGH — On Pittsburgh's hard-core Democratic South Side, the blue-collar rebellion is being pushed to new heights by Negro demands for building trades jobs — but not, so far, to the advantage of the Republican party.

Interviews with middle- and lower-middle-income white workers, conducted by us in cooperation with the Oliver Quayle polling organization, revealed deep anxiety over racial tensions here. Their anger is directed not only at black militants but also at the Democratic machine that has ruled Pittsburgh for a generation and at politics in general.

But these discontented Democrats are only mildly enthusiastic about President Nixon. Moreover, the state and local level, Republican prospects among them are absolutely bleak. The surprising fact is that these voters have taken a fancy to liberal City Councilman Peter J. Barry, running for mayor as an anti-organization reform Democrat.

Herein lies the fallacy of the conservative Republican strategy of seeking a new national majority from ethnic, blue-collar Democrats disgusted with their civil rights-oriented party. They will fall automatically to Republicans like a ripe plum as long as the Democrats can produce charismatic young candidates like Pete Flaherty.

The 73 voters (including 60 registered Democrats) we interviewed with the help of Oliver Quayle, a highly competent supervisor for western Pennsylvania, are in an advanced stage of Negrophobia. In Pittsburgh, the Bar dispute, 68 back the white construction workers against Negro demands; the remaining five are undecided. "I'm sick of this rage and frustration. One voter after another told us that a husband, a brother, or a son had filled building trades union applications. Why should there be special privileges for Negro applicants? Accordingly, Mayor Joseph Barr has been elected the victor of the Democratic machine never known as a civil rights crusader, infuriated these white constituents by suspending construction projects briefly to avert racial violence. No wonder then that Barr, retiring after 12 years as mayor, was given an impressive 22 percent favorable job rating by our voters.

President Nixon would seem to be a major beneficiary of this rebellion. What might Mr. Nixon, 51 percent Hubert Humphrey, 12 percent George Wallace. Asked about a rematch, they were 9 percent Nixon, 20 percent Humphrey, 10 percent Wallace, and 11 percent undecided.

Let's All Pull Together

Let's All Pull Together

BRUCE BLOSSAT

Blacks See Riots Are No Good

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The summer of 1969 has been relatively cool on the racial front largely because even militant blacks perceive major riots as basically self-destructive, because many believe a new rash of outbreaks would spark dealing counterintelligence, and because government ghetto-aimed programs to alleviate distress are at last making some dent.

These judgments represent a consensus among several practiced observers of the racial scene — all but one of them blacks.

As similar cities have done in prior times, smaller cities like Hartford, Conn., and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., "blew" this summer. Some big cities had brief, little-noticed furries, but their micro-size was the overriding, operative fact.

— however merger they may be — have had their beneficial impact," says a top southern black.

Others feel the same, that even inadequate efforts have made some mark. And there is at least one group that queried that federal manpower programs have scored some real successes in easing critical ghetto-unemployment, particularly among the multi-plying young.

Black leaders, including some stern militants, are not convinced, moreover, that the big advance must not come from federal and other job and antipoverty programs but from major self-help undertakings. Black entrepreneurs and black elected officials (who just met in force in Washington) are viewed as key evidence of this growing awareness.

Yet even as black leaders move constructively and with new sophistication to target their own problems (as in Chicago and Pittsburgh against nearly all white building unions), unrelieved tensions crackle in ghetto areas where the focus of poor, young, unemployed blacks grows greater in spite of all.

Indeed, Nixon gains were concentrated among voters most exercised racially. An elderly electrician, switching from Humphrey to Nixon, complained that Mayor Barr "favors colored people too much."

Another Nixon convert, the young wife of a truck driver, said her husband "much too tolerant" with Negroes. "Why should they get these good jobs when we can't get them?" she asked.

sternly clipped, tweezers, and such unless they have been used in infected areas. In such cases, putting them in boiling water for 15 minutes is essential. Otherwise, washing with soap and water should be adequate.

A glass thermometer can be washed with soap and water or wiped thoroughly with rubbing alcohol. There are various solutions used in doctors' offices for this purpose, but I doubt that they are necessary in the home.

Sky Piracy

President Nixon endeavored to enlist the United Nations in an international effort to stamp out sky piracy, which involves the interests of every nation and the safety of every traveler.

Plane hijacking is spreading and cannot be stopped, Nixon said, "as long as pirates receive asylum." Cuba has been consistently granting asylum to hijackers and Syria took the same indefensible position in the hijacking of an Israeli plane.

The United Nations so far has proved impotent to deal with international conflict, because of the Security Council veto and the prohibition against intervention in the domestic affairs of its members.

But in the non-political areas of health, child welfare, education, refugees and similar fields, the United Nations has done well.

Plane hijacking should be a similar opportunity for international service.

A jet plane flying at 30,000 feet is particularly vulnerable and an armed hijacker could send scores of passengers to their deaths. For this reason, crew members have been very careful in most cases to do exactly as ordered by the hijackers. (One Ecuadorian crewman who did attempt to resist was murdered.)

The United Nations should not wait until a major disaster shocks the world before it joins in efforts to stop this outrage which offends all humanity.

The United States ratified earlier this month the International Civil Aviation Organization's 1963 Tokyo Convention which will go into effect this fall. It calls for prompt return of hijacked airliners and their passengers. This would go far to prevent future piracy.

The great problem remains the extreme vulnerability of jet planes to internal attack.

MR. SPECTATOR

About The Statistics

Remember that yesterday Mr. Spectator promised statistics having to do with your chances of dying from some important cause — well here we get the findings as given in a statistical bulletin issued by Metropolitan Life and here are a few of them.

Because mortality rates have remained virtually unchanged for over a decade, especially among males — the 1967 experience is a good indicator of the current chances of dying from the principal diseases. The risk of dying from these diseases in 5, 10, and 20 years for males and females at selected ages are shown in the table.

The probability of a newborn infant dying within five years — 28.3 per 1,000 for males and 25.5 per 1,000 for females — reflects the high level of neonatal death rates. These rates exceed those at ages 15 and 30 for males and through age 45 for females. Mortality rates generally advance with age after the first decade of life, and the chances of dying within a specified period of time increase for any given age as the period of time lengthens. Thus, for men at age 45 the chances of dying increase from about 37 per 1,000 in a five-year period to 283 per 1,000 in twenty years.

Consequently, the chances of death in twenty years for men rise from 37 per 1,000 at age 45 to 788 per 1,000 at age 65. The chances of death are substantially lower for females than for males at every age and period of years.

The cardiovascular-renal diseases far outstrip all other causes of death. This is the outcome of past successes in preventing premature death so that increasing proportions of the population now survive to the middle and older ages when these diseases take their greatest toll.

For both sexes combined, arteriosclerotic heart disease accounts for more deaths than vascular lesions of the central nervous system and all other cardiovascular-renal diseases combined. Moreover, in contrast to these other conditions, arteriosclerotic heart disease is a greater threat to males than to females in every age group. (At age 45 for example, the chances of men dying from this cause within ten years are slightly greater than those for women within twenty years. Furthermore, the chances of eventual death from arteriosclerotic heart disease rise from 37 per 1,000 for men and 25 per 1,000 for women.

The chances at birth of eventually dying from a malignant neoplasm (cancer) are 162 per 1,000 for males and 155 per 1,000 for females. For both sexes, the risk of dying increases with advance in age till middle age, when it begins to decrease. Further analysis of the data indicates that the chances of death from cancer of the respiratory system for males are at least 4 1/2 times those for females. By contrast, for all other malignancies as a group, the risk is greater for women till age 65. Thereafter it is almost equal to that for men.

Accidents continue to take many lives. Currently, the chances at age 15 of dying from an accident are 61 per 1,000 for males and 30 per 1,000 for females.

COLLISION COURSE

A disease called taxation growth, it has been sweeping through the ranks of state and local governments during the last decade which threatens to overcome even the size of the public funnel into Washington.

Some political leaders have taken note of the alarming increase in state and local government budgets, and taxes to pay for them, and to their credit are at least trying to hold back the tax rolls. Too many others, however, have the stock answer, "everything costs more these days," for those who dare question where the nation is going if current trends in public spending continue.

Things do cost more today — especially public things. There is much amiss in states which permit their welfare rolls to expand enormously during times of great affluence, and then run to Washington for more federal aid. As the English economist Parkinson has noted so well, the tendency toward over-expansion bureaucracy is almost an irresistible force.

But the taxpayers rapidly are coming into a single inmovable object. If the two forces ever collide, the result will be more than a scintilla, curiously.

Junk And Mail

WASHINGTON — A lot of people are fed up on these days by receiving unsolicited plastic credit cards. In the past the consumer had the option to opt out of the credit card, but now in the great battle for the hearts and dollars of the American customer, the banks, oil companies and hotel chains are showing their credit cards at you whether you want them or not.

It is not just the offer of a wife or teen-ager receiving a credit card and giving her/him that bothers most American consumers — it's the number of the thing, and where will it all end? What is to prevent a company that sends unsolicited credit cards to your home from sending merchandise instead?

"I don't believe it is too far-fetched to see this happening in a few years."

You come home, and there on your front lawn is a complete dining room set with table, 12 chairs and cabinet. Attached to a leg of the table is a note: "Greetings. We are happy to inform you that we consider you may return credit to you within 10 days, and you will not be charged for it. If it is not returned, we will assume that you have accepted it, and we shall start billing you monthly."

Burning Tongue

(Second of two articles)

Dear Dr. Thostenson: Over three years ago I began to notice a slight burning of my tongue. It was not painful, but I suspected some type of injury that did not seem to be the cause.

Being military people, we were sent to a good doctor. I cannot recall his name, but I have mentioned this to doctors, but when they look at it, they say they can't see anything.

I'm a little angry at an suggestion that it was my imagination. I know it is not imaginary, but what might it be? — Mrs. J.A.M.

This can be aggravating, and not easy to treat. Or rather, not easy to diagnose.

It is true that burning tongue can be a consequence of neuritis (inflammation) but there are several other causes that should be ruled out.

Allergy is one of them, particularly an allergy to nuts, but sensitivity to such things as aspirin, penicillin, wool, or tobacco is another field worth considering.

Vitamin deficiency, mainly vitamin B (B12) various ones in the B complex, is another possibility as a cause. Trying B vitamin capsules for a time would do one no harm, but it is not effective for this purpose.

Iron deficiency (some degree of anemia) is still another possibility. More iron would be a more logical way of exploring this avenue.

Inadequate hydrochloric acid in the stomach and pernicious anemia are still other possibilities, either one of which can be managed without much difficulty.

Also, if you do not accept this exceptional buy, you must go down to the State Vehicle Bureau and return this decision. Otherwise we will start charging you interest, beginning next week."

The final indignity would be to receive a registered letter from a development company which read:

"We're happy to inform you that you are now the proud owner of a new ranch house in Paradise Acres. This extraordinary home (the dead is enclosed) has three bedrooms, two and a half baths, a playroom and completely equipped kitchen and will be ready for you to move into within two weeks.

"A check on your credit rating shows that you can easily afford this remarkable buy, and we have taken the liberty of deducting from your bank account the small down payment."

"If we don't hear from you by registered mail within the next 30 hours, we will assume that you will be joining us at Paradise Acres. On the other hand, if you return the deed, then we ask you to contact our lawyers so some equitable arrangement can be worked out for a time and inconvenience.

Analysts Of China Mull Mao's Health

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

China watchers have revived a game in which they have indulged from time to time since late 1965. This concerns the reported death of illness of Mao Tse-tung, aging leader of Red China.

Since Mao is, after all, 75, someday the reports are going to prove accurate and maybe this time they are true.

But to be wholly believable the announcement must come from Peking and not from a speculation seems to originate.

This time the report that Mao has suffered a stroke and is unable to tend to China's day-to-day affairs originates from East European sources in Moscow.

Constitutional Commission To Hear Reports

BOISE (UPI) — Testimony at a series of public hearings will be reviewed by Idaho's constitutional revision commission at a meeting in Boise, Oct. 3.

Chairman Raymond L. Glvens, Boise, said the legislative committees on the constitution will meet Oct. 2 and then will join the commission in its deliberations.

He said he was hopeful the commission would come up with specific recommendations for the legislature at its session next year.

$200 monthly allowance for office expenses.

Under the proposed initiative, the committee expenses would be limited to $25 per day for the first 60 days of the first regular session and the first 30 days of the second regular session. The $200 office expense each month would be eliminated.

Burns referred to a proposed constitutional amendment which would have allowed lawmakers to set their own salaries, set now constitutionally at $10 per day for 60 days. This amendment was rejected by the voters in 1968.

Under action taken by the last legislature, lawmakers' committee expense allowances were raised to $35 per day from $25 for each day in regular or special session. The legislators also gave themselves a

Gov. Samuelson Intervenes On Behalf Of War Captive

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson has personally sought aid from the federal government in behalf of an Idaho-man-held prisoner-of-war by the North Vietnamese for the past three years.

The governor said on his return to Idaho from Washington, D.C., that growing efforts should be made to persuade the North Vietnamese to abide by the rules of the Geneva Convention.

The governor met with Harry Dent, special assistant to the President, and expressed concern for Don Waltman of Kellogg, an Air Force pilot who was shot down three years ago this past week and has been kept captive ever since.

Waltman's case was brought to the governor's attention last week in Kellogg and he met with the man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waltman of Kellogg.

The governor also said that while in Washington he learned that for four years the parents of Larry Chesley of Burley were not notified whether their son was alive or dead (until they heard recently that he was alive).

Samuelson said that Dent assured him everything possible would be done for all prisoners held captive by the Communists.

Cleric Defends Marijuana Use

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI) — A San Francisco Episcopal vicar testified in municipal court that marijuana can have the same effect as the sacraments in religious worship.

The Rev. Robert Cromey, testifying in defense of Jeffrey Stallard, 28, said that drugs were a factor in many religious experiences recorded in the Bible.

Xmas Rush

It isn't Christmas for another three months but Twin Falls postmen are getting ready anyway.

A special bulletin was received at the Post Office this week outlining procedures for the holiday rush. Officials said they haven't had time to act on the recommendations yet, but plan to get ready for the Christmas season in the next couple of weeks.

A complete listing of window hours will be published later, along with the annual plea from postmen to mail early.

Man Sentenced

Delbert Crawford, 24, was given a 30-day jail term Wednesday when he appeared in Probate Court for sentencing on a conviction of exhibiting a deadly weapon.

He was found guilty of the charge in a jury trial Tuesday.

The case has been appealed and Mr. Crawford remains at the jail pending the outcome of the case.

Movement Gathers Steam To Rescind Solons' Pay Boost

BOISE (UPI) — An initiative campaign to knock out legislative pay increases took a giant leap forward Wednesday when an Idaho-Falls man filed petitions bearing 2,665 signatures.

Wallace Burns, Idaho Falls, brought to the secretary of state petitions from six counties containing signatures of voters who want the pay increases rescinded.

Of those filed, 1,767 signatures were on petitions circulated in Kootenai County.

Those filed Wednesday brought to 2,732 the number of signatures filed since the campaign was begun last summer.

To put the question on the next general election ballot, those backing the initiative movement must file a total of 25,260 — 10 per cent of the total vote for governor in the last election.

Burns said his group hopes to gather 50,000 signatures and file them by December of this year. The deadline for getting the required number is next July 3.

"Where the petitions have been made available to the voter we have received an excellent response as shown by the success of Mrs. George Cook at an Idaho-Falls man filed petitions bearing 2,665 signatures. Cook signed up nearly every one she contacted," Burns said.

"She has informed me that many thanked her for bringing the petition to them, making it possible for them to register a protest and make possible an opportunity to pass a law by the people that would enforce the mandate of the people as expressed by SJR9 in the last November's election."

Burns referred to a proposed constitutional amendment which would have allowed lawmakers to set their own salaries, set now constitutionally at $10 per day for 60 days. This amendment was rejected by the voters in 1968.

Hunters Find Skeleton Believed To Be Remains Of Pilot Missing Two Years

REDDING, Calif. (UPI) — Positive identification is being sought of a skeleton believed to be that of Alvin P. Olen, 67, whose plane crashed on a snow-covered mountain in 1967.

The crash created a worldwide furor in October, 1967, when a hunter and his wife discovered the wreckage of the plane with the bodies of Olen's wife and stepdaughter, and the dairies they kept for five weeks while waiting for the rescuers who never found them.

The hunters found the skeleton Tuesday about one-fifth of a mile from the crash site on Bully Chooop Mountain. A ballpoint pen nearby bore Olen's name and that of the Clifford Hotel, which he operated in Portland, Ore.

His sons, Ronald, of Portland, and Alvin Jr., of Dallas, were to arrive here, with Ronald bringing dental charts for positive identification.

It was believed Olen went for help through the eight-foot brush and snow leaving his wife, Phyllis, and stepdaughter, Carla Corbus, resting in the plane, but managed to travel only a short distance before collapsing.

In the spring of 1968, a snowplow cleared Bully Chooop Road, and unbeknownst to the operator, it was thought Olen's body was thrown from the road along with the heavy snowpack. The skeleton was found 20 feet from the road.

Searchers logged 583 flying hours during the 15-day search for the plane, which went down on a flight from Portland to San Francisco.

The two women kept a record of their long wait before dying of starvation and exposure.

Thirty days after the crash, on April 30, Carla wrote: "Today is my 16th birthday. I hope you're happy, search and rescue. You haven't found us yet. A week later another entry read: "Fear Al did not make it for help. Getting weak."

Another entry said: "Please hurry someone!"

Economist Says Merchants Lose Money At 18 Per Cent

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI) — A Harvard professor who helped write the model consumer credit code told a Legislative Council committee today that only a few of the biggest chains of stores can make money at 18 per cent interest.

Robert Braucher, who reviewed the history of consumer credit legislation for the committee charged with drafting such legislation for Idaho, said most of the smaller stores cannot making money charging that amount for revolving charge accounts.

He questioned why some stores charge 18 per cent, saying if they can charge that amount they can charge even more if they do not come under the usury law which limits interest to 10 per cent a year.

Braucher said the only thing as sensitive as money rates is whisky legislation.

"Instead of competing in the market-place these companies in the legislature," Braucher told the committee.

He said there is a widespread feeling that six per cent interest is the "right amount to pay" but the fact is there is very little consumer credit at six per cent.

"For a long time your small loans and installment sales have been over six per cent," Braucher said.

Pope Paul Faces Difficult Decision On Church Policy

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Pope Paul VI must decide soon whether he will permit more democracy in the Roman Catholic church or try to crush a rising demand for it by forcefully reasserting papal authority.

If he chooses the latter course, as seems likely, the church may be torn by the greatest schism since the Protestant Reformation.

The issue could come to a head at the Synod of Bishops which convenes in Rome Oct. 1. One hundred fifty-six bishops, representing national hierarchies in all parts of the world, will take part in the closed meeting at the Vatican.

The Synod of Bishops is an outgrowth of the Vatican Council and is supposed to give concrete expression to the council's most important achievement — the so-called "Doctrine of Collegiality" which asserts the responsibility of pope and bishops in government of the church.

So far, collegiality remains largely a paper doctrine. Pope Paul has shown no disposition to share authority with the bishops to any important degree. On the contrary, he continues to encourage any independent tendencies among the various national conferences of bishops.

This intention is reflected in the official agenda for the Rome synod, which was prepared by the Vatican. It proposes that national hierarchies be required to obtain clearance from Rome before publishing any declaration on a grave matter.

The contention that collegiality was prompted by the Pope's displeasure with some of the statements issued by bishops in a 1968 "Interpreting" his birth control encyclical, in several countries of Western Europe, hierarchically statements had the effect of toning down the Pope's stand and suggesting that devout Catholics could in good conscience decide to practice birth control.

Another item of the official agenda suggests that the proper role of national conferences of bishops is not to advise or criticize the Pope but to help him in his decisions to the faithful.

To many of the bishops who will assemble in Rome next month, this kind of talk indicates that the bureaucrats of the Roman Curia have succeeded, as many predicted they would, in scuttling the Vatican Council's calling for greater democracy and decentralization of authority in the church.

Instead of meekly accepting this reversal of the council's intentions, these bishops will call on the Pope to begin giving real substance to the co-responsibility doctrine.

They will ask specifically that in the future the Pope consult

Husband Waiting For Wife To Cash Check Finds Her, 3 Others Slain

By JAMES DELANEY

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Mrs. Joseph Huebner always cashed her paycheck near a downtown department store where she worked. But not this week.

Huebner, 50, and her sister-in-law, Luella Siltzer usually did their banking before they went shopping on Fridays. But not this week.

Police officers are making clearance decisions to depart from routine cost them their lives Wednesday. The three women and Mrs. Walter DeWald, a teller at the Cabinet

Supreme Savings and Loan Association in suburban Delhi Hills, were herded into a vault and shot to death in "Cold blood" by the three men who robbed the savings office of $275.

The county sheriff called it "the most vicious crime I've ever seen."

Early today, police here were questioning one suspect and releasing an all-points bulletin for two other men. No charges were filed.

The men sought by police were identified as John Leigh,

20, and Waterson Johnson, no age available, both of Cincinnati. Leigh was described as about 5-foot-8 with brown hair. Police said Johnson was 6-foot-2 with kinky red hair. The man being questioned was not identified.

"I don't know what we were doing there," said Joseph Huebner. "For two and a half years my wife cashed her check at a downtown bank near McAlpin's Department Store where she worked. We just decided to go shopping in Delhi Hills. It was my wife's day off."

Huebner, 50, who works at a brewery waiting in his car while his 45-year-old wife went into the savings and loan office.

"She was in there about two or three minutes," he said. "Two other women got out of a car and went in also. Then I saw three young men, one with a beard, come running out and get into an old car. They were carrying a suitcase and my wife's red purse."

"I went into the bank and called my wife," Huebner said. "There was no answer. I went to the back of the office to the vault and four women were lying inside the vault. One woman was missing. Three of them were covered with blood. I called to my wife. She moved. Then I telephoned the police."

Luella Siltzer's husband, Nicholas, 70, said his 61-year-old wife and her widowed sister-in-law, Henrietta, 64, usually went to the bank together on Fridays.

"They had a habit of going to the bank and shopping together," Siltzer said, "but Wednesday was an off day for them. It must have been their first stop because they left home shortly before this happened."

Paul Fricker, head of the Hamilton County sheriff's patrol, called it "the most vicious crime I've ever seen."

Police said one of the victims was lying near the door of the vault and the other three were stacked on top of each other.

Police-Cretney, manager of the savings and loan firm, said he was out of the office visiting his wife. He collapsed when he heard of the incident and was taken to St. Francis Hospital where he was treated for shock. "I was gone from the office only 40 minutes," Grueter said.

He said Mrs. DeWald, wife of a city policeman, had been "worried" about a possible holdup.

"On Aug. 28 we had two men come in and Mrs. DeWald was very observant. She said they looked suspicious. The fact when I went on vacation right after that she had her husband stake out the bank."

Fricker said the women apparently were killed because they knew their assailants.

Teachers' Cars, School Hit By Empty Dump Truck

JEROME—No one was injured, but more than $600 damage resulted when an unattended city dump truck rolled 208 feet into the Lincoln school Tuesday afternoon, hitting two teachers' cars as it went.

Police pointed out the timing of the accident was fortunate for an hour later there would have been hundreds of children on the playground.

William D. Avery, driver of the truck, told police he had set the parking brake on the truck about 2 p.m. and gone into the Lincoln school which is east of the grade school when he returned, he discovered the brake had failed, allowing the truck to roll backward.

The dump truck, belonging to Eldon Harris, Boise, was damaged an estimated $300. The two cars which were in the way belonged to Ted J. Barton and Mrs. T. C. Robinson, both high school teachers. These vehicles also were unattended.

Damage to the Robinson pickup with camper was estimated at about $300 and the Barton car damage was set at about $20.

Two pipe posts and railing were torn out of the blacktop in the parking lot by the rolling truck. Estimate of the damage to the railing, which separates the high school parking lot from the Lincoln school playground, was $100.

The accident was reported to police by William Hopkins, janitor, and investigated by Don Robinson who is not related to the T. C. Robinsons involved in the accident.

Supt. Kenneth Crothers introduced the teachers. Mrs. Floyd Kising, magazine chairman, was in charge of a skit.

Ronald Jenkins, music teacher, was a vocal soloist accompanied by Mrs. Jenkins.

Julie Cope, the high school student body president, gave a patriotic reading.

Rev. Wesley Johnson gave the invocation. The meeting was conducted by PTA president, Rev. James Hill.

At the Oct. 20 meeting a program on educational issues to come before the Legislature will be presented by Don George, its program chairman.

Attorney General Ponders Action Against Bank

BOISE (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Robert M. Robson is considering a request by Finance Commissioner John D. Silva that he take legal action against the First Security Bank of Idaho.

Silva contends the bank's First Security Savings on its credit cards exceeds the 11.55 per cent a year that Robson earlier said in an opinion was the legal limit.

Robson said a member of his staff was studying the matter but he indicated that a decision probably would not be made for a week or more.

Four Die As Printing Firm Blast Hurls Giant Rolls Of Paper Through The Air

CHICAGO (UPI)—Four persons died and dozens were injured Wednesday when a printing press exploded and propelled one-ton rolls of paper through brick walls.

The blast also leveled or severely damaged concrete-block safety walls around the press area at the R.R. Donnelley & Sons Co., commercial printing firm in the world.

Three of the injured were in critical condition and three others were serious. Most of the injured suffered burns.

Roy Szumski, a roll tender working near the explosion, said he was hurled 15 feet.

"I was flying through the air and I thought I was dead," he said while being treated for arm burns.

Other employees jumped to 12 feet to the street through holes torn in building walls by the blast. The bodies were made by 2,000-pound rolls of newspaper.

Some paper remaining inside the plant caught fire after the explosion but flames were extinguished quickly by employees and firemen.

Company officials declined comment on the cause of the explosion but employees and fire officials said a spark may have ignited chemical solvents used to clean the presses.

Killed were Sherman Winters, 41, Chicago; Lawrence Marton, 22, Park Forest; Bertha Nelson, 45, Chicago; and Vastilla Corneil, 50, Gary.

Company officials announced after the blast that six persons had been killed but later revised the figure. They said two of the bodies had been

POLICE IN GRANTS PASS, Ore., are seeking the mother of this bright-eyed youngster, about six to eight weeks old, who was abandoned on the steps of a Catholic church last Saturday. The boy weighs 11 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes, and was wearing a blue knit sweater and white sleepers when found. Police said doctors told them the child had had a corrective operation on his tongue. Police theorized the infant was abandoned when his parents were passing through Grant's Pass. (UPI telephoto)

Rupert Sets Bloodmobile Visit Tuesday

RUPERT—The Red-Cross Bloodmobile will make its third visit to Mindoka County for 1969 Tuesday from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the fire civic building, according to Dottie Burton, chairman.

Quota for the visit is set at 120 pints and Mrs. Burton noted that August was critical month at the Boise Regional Center, with blood storage now at an extreme low.

"A blood recipient has a moral obligation to replace what he has used," she noted.

A change also has been made in the type of donors which has been changed from 18 to 59 years to 19 to 66 years. All prospective donors under 21 need a written consent from their parents or guardians unless they are married or in the Armed Forces.

Since the last drawing, 75 pints of blood have been used by county residents at hospitals outside the county, and 40 pints at the local hospital.

It went about 800 yards to a waiting automobile and crossed the highway, and 60 pints were left at the local hospital.

Delay Ordered

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The trial date of a teen-ager accused of staying a service station attendant during an argument over a 15-cent bottle of pop has been delayed to allow time for a second psychiatric examination of the defendant.

Dist. Judge Clarence Sumner delayed the trial of Louis Kimble, 19, and ordered a second examination. The suspect also was expected to submit to a lie detector test.

Kimble was charged with fatally shooting John McCraney, 25, on June 22.

Former Mexican Prisoner Dies From Savage Beating

PORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Dykes A. Simmons, Jr., the "forgotten American" who escaped in April from a Mexican prison by disguising himself as a woman, was found beaten to death in Port Worth late Wednesday night, his body slumped over in a car.

Simmons, 41, spent 10 years in a Monterey, Mexico, prison on a murder charge, protesting his innocence, then escaped by dressing as a woman and walking out with 400 women who were visiting the jail.

Police said details surrounding the death were sketchy, but Simmons apparently was badly beaten in a fight.

They said Simmons apparently was beaten in one section of town, then driven to another spot about nine miles away.

Simmons originally was sentenced for the death of the family of a Monterey physician, slain Oct. 12, 1959. He was on vacation in Mexico at the time. He was convicted after one of the children identified him as her attacker shortly before she died.

Weight-Watchers Advised Use Books To Burn Calories

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—McGraw-Hill's new magazine published a weight-watcher chart showing the number of calories that people burn while engaged in various activities.

The chart lists activities such as driving a car, playing piano, dancing, typing and reading.

You'll give the magazine credit for good intentions, but the chart is too vague to be of much help in calorie juggling.

It says, for example, that you burn 22 calories an hour while reading. This obviously is only a rough approximation at best.

The number of calories we burn while reading depends to a large extent on what we are reading.

When we speak of burning calories, we are speaking of expending energy. And any literate person knows that certain books take a lot more energy to read than others.

Therefore, anyone who is trying to keep his or her weight down by reading would do well to choose his or her literary with great care.

Reading is my most strenuous form of exercise, and since I don't have an ounce of surplus fat on my firm little body perhaps I can be of some assistance in the selection of non-fattening, or dietary, literature.

Here is a credit list I recommend a starting point with the collected works of Jacqueline Susann. I was underweight for a month later after I finished her latest novel, "The Love Machine."

At intervals that averaged out to about once per chapter, I was able to operate with Mrs. Susann's prose-styled (early fan magazine blended

Civil Defense Programs Set Here Soon, Director Reports

Civil Defense is getting more attention in Twin Falls County with several programs planned for the first of next year.

The county commissioners said Wednesday they will budget the programs and the county said, "Civil Defense is with us, it is necessary, and now we have a director to see that these programs are started and finished."

Clyde Edwards was appointed director recently by the commissioners.

He and his deputy director, Harlan Fillmore, returned from Boise last week after attending a five-day training conference on Civil Defense. It was conducted by the University of Idaho.

State and federal officials also attended to outline the needs of Civil Defense in Idaho in the years to come.

Trial

A jury trial for a man accused of robbery and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder started Wednesday in Fifth District Court.

On trial is Larry F. Daugherty, accused of attacking Neal Pastoor of Twin Falls with a pitchfork last March.

The trial before Judge James Cunningham, is expected to end today.

Golden Bennett represents the defendant and Robert Galley is representing the state in the trial.

Older Couples Needed To Help At Idaho Youth Ranch

RUPERT — On the job training in second careers for older citizens is being offered by the Idaho Youth Ranch near Rupert.

The career is in caring for children at the ranch and the senior citizens are paid and housed while in training. The situation requires couples, and the pay scale is graduated automatically. The present schedule calls for 10 days on duty with five days off duty.

Lee Childs, executive director at the youth ranch, pointed out that older people adapt extremely well to this type of environment which requires judgment, compassion and authority which can be easily coordinated in the training program established by the Youth Ranch.

The particular talents of this overlooked group of citizens are being wasted in total retirement and their knowledge and ability should be valuable to any other of our great natural resources.

These senior citizens create exactly the right type of atmosphere—for our purpose—and we are willing to pay well for what they have to give, Mr. Childs said.

While there is nothing new in an on the job training program, it is believed this is the first time a whole second-career opportunity has been offered to this group of our citizens.

Here, it is stressed, age is no barrier, it is an asset.

The golden years can prove an interesting and rewarding challenge and the solid experience these people have accumulated through the years must not be wasted, he added.

Several senior citizens already are in training at the ranch and other couples are needed.

ONE-THIRD COMPLETE, and just barely out of the ground, the College of Southern Idaho health-PE building is scheduled for completion next July. Workmen from Arrington Construction Co., Idaho Falls, have been on the job site for several months, but because so much of the $1 million-plus building is located below ground, the construction site has looked rather barren until just recently. Late next month two other CSI buildings will be let for bids.

New College Of Southern Idaho Health-PE Building Is Nearly One-Third Completed

Although it's not evident from the motorist's — or pedestrian's — eye view, the College of Southern Idaho health-PE building is about one-third complete this week.

Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, said although the $1,140,000 project is slightly behind schedule, work has been going "very well" the past two weeks and the building is now 32 percent complete.

Much of the building is below ground, other than the presence of large equipment at the site, little evidence of the work going on there since the first of April has been obvious to passersby.

The gymnasium proper is below ground and entrance to the building will be below ground level.

Also located below ground will be two men's dressing rooms, a women's dressing room, a varsity dressing room, weight and therapy room and one teaching station. The seating area in the gymnasium is mobile, allowing the gymnasium floor to be converted into three teaching stations.

— Located at ground level will be offices, two rooms for corrective exercises and individual sports.

The facade of the building, being constructed near the CSI tower, will be pre-cast and brick in design similar to other buildings now on campus and two more, a "commons" and dormitory. CSI received the go-ahead this week for the latter.

Dr. Taylor said the steelworkers strike earlier this year is responsible for the project being slowed down. The building is expected to be complete in July.

Contractor is Arrington Construction Co., Idaho Falls, and Jones - Fehlberg Associates designed the building.

Cannon was working as an aquanaut in the Navy's man-under-the-sea program. The Navy said the board believed the death was accidental. It said all proper emergency procedures were followed when he was seen to be in difficulty.

Catholic Priory To Offer Two Courses For Adults

Two theology courses for adults will be offered at St. Benedict's Student Center and Priory on 215th Avenue during the coming months.

Father Simeon Van De Vourd said the courses are being offered by the Benedictines in Twin Falls in the hope they will be beneficial and timely to those attending. All interested adults are invited to attend.

Senior Days At University Are Planned

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO — High School Senior Days will be held at the University of Idaho Oct. 9-11, according to Robert R. Taber, Boise, student program chairman.

The student-sponsored program, he said, is designed to show top high school students the educational opportunities offered by the university.

Selection of students to attend the senior days event is based on academic achievement and involvement in senior activities. Those chosen will be able to attend classes of their choice for actual experience in a university learning situation.

Death Of Diver Draws Official Ire Of Navy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Letters of admonition are being addressed to two Navy men in connection with the death last Feb. 17 of a civilian diver, Berry L. Cannon, who was employed on the Navy's Sealab III project off San Clemente, Calif.

Navy Secretary John H. Chafee said a board of investigation could not establish the cause of Cannon's death beyond all doubt but that "it most probably was the result of carbon dioxide poisoning."

According to the Navy, a canister in the diving gear worn by Cannon during his last dive had not been filled with a substance for filtering carbon dioxide from his breathing mixture.

The letters of admonition were ordered for Senior Chief Mine-Idaho Paul A. Wells, who was in charge of assembling and checking Cannon's equipment; and for Cmdr. Jackson M. Tomney for organizational deficiency found to have "contributed to an environment making it less likely."

Youngsters Take Dynamite Sticks

HERRIMAN, Utah (UPI) — Dynamite was taken from a box stored in a locked shed here, apparently by youths who mistakenly thought they were firecrackers.

Three partially burned and one full stick of dynamite was found Tuesday near Harriman Elementary School. There are some lucky boys alive today," said Lt. Pete Kutulas of the Salt Lake County Sheriff's Office.

Deputy Ernest Clough said approximately one-half case of dynamite was left in the box at the shed after youngsters apparently entered through a broken door panel. "We do not know how many other sticks they might still have in their possession," he said.

Parade Of Harmony Set For Saturday At Burley School

BURLEY — The Second Annual Parade of Harmony will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Burley High School Auditorium, sponsored by the Snake River Flats.

Advance tickets to the "Parade of Harmony" are available from all members of the Snake River Flats; at Garth's Music, Wood's Music and the Pacific Co-op Supply, all Burley; Paul Drug Store; The Music Center and Tom Pierce Insurance Agency, both Rupert.

RETURNING TO MAGIC VALLEY to perform at the second annual parade of Harmony, slated for 8 p.m. Saturday in the Burley High School Auditorium, will be The Classics, Bountiful, Utah. Members include: Tom Tallman, baritone; Ann Schow, tenor; Jen Bangert, lead, and Thelma Robinson, bass.

'Idlers' Banned

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — St. Louis' police have asked the county counselor to provide guidelines for enforcement of a new city ordinance which technically means motorists could be given tickets for stopping at railroad crossings or being caught in traffic jams.

The law, designed to combat air pollution, prohibits idling automobile engines for more than three minutes.

Idaho Official Commends Pact On-Land Control

BOISE (UPI) — Asst. State Land Commissioner Jack Gillette said a contract between the state and the Priest Lake Timber Protective District should lead to improved management and fire control.

Gillette said the district directors have turned controls over to the state. He said there will be no increase in costs to the state as a result of the move because the law limits liability of the landowner in the district to 10 cents per acre.

Costs incurred above the levy are picked up by the state.

Management of the timber protective district has been a subject of controversy since the 1967 Trapper Peak and Sundance fires.

Boise May Vote On Water-Utility

BOISE (UPI) — Residents of Boise may be asked to vote Nov. 4 on whether to purchase by the city of the assets of Boise Water Corporation.

Mayor Jack Amey told a news conference such a vote could be conducted on whether to issue general obligation bonds to buy the company or just as a question on the ballot.

Personally, I would like to see it go to a vote of the people," Amey said.

Members of an engineering study indicated a water rate hike can be expected soon.

Israeli Premier Will Ask U.S. For Planes; Money

By PETER D. LYNCH — JERUSALEM (UPI) — When Israeli Premier Golda Meir meets President Nixon at the White House Thursday she will ask not only for more arms but for the money to pay for them.

This was how well-informed Israeli political commentators summed up the purpose of Mrs. Meir's visit to the United States, her first since becoming premier last February.

Foremost on her shopping list will be a negotiated peace settlement to the war between the Arabs and the Jews which has festered for more than 20 years, they said.

But Mrs. Meir is a pragmatic politician well aware that peace now is even more elusive than it was in the weeks following the last major Middle East conflict in June of 1967.

So instead, they said, she will ask Nixon for more Phantom and Skyhawk jets and Hawk ground-to-air missiles to maintain the arms balance in the Middle East.

Well-informed financial sources said Israel is beginning to feel the pinch from its arms purchases—and Mrs. Meir will seek financial assistance from Nixon to pay for any arms she may be able to buy.

Israel has $200 million frozen in France for Mirage jets which the French government refuses to deliver and has paid an additional $200 million for 50 U.S. built Phantoms which now are being delivered.

Nixon Aide Rakes Racism In Building

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) — A top Nixon administration official told construction union leaders Tuesday that minority group representation in the industry was "totally inadequate" and is hindering the "free" trades.

Richard C. Van Dusen, undersecretary of housing, made his charges one day after the union leaders rejected the demands of black leaders for hiring quotas in the construction field.

Van Dusen chided labor leaders for failing to hire more blacks to fill critical shortages in the construction field.

He said modern building methods, he said, would help fight inflation.

The department's 12-member executive council rejected the idea of hiring quotas Monday, calling it a "simplistic idea" and contrary to existing civil rights legislation.

The 400 delegates—five of them black—wind up their biennial meeting today.

author and speaker is asked to contact Mrs. George Thompson, and possible such arrangements can be made on behalf of the library.

Soviets Keep Armed Forces In Europe In Permanent State Of Mobilization

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union is keeping its armed forces in Europe in a permanent state of mobilization, evidently to tighten control over uneasy East European allies, Western defense sources said Wednesday. The Soviet forces, first alerted weeks before the Czechoslovak crisis, have been kept mobilized since the invasion last summer, the sources said. There has been no corresponding alert on the part of Western powers in Europe or the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) to match the Soviet strategy. Warsaw Pact armies are currently holding maneuvers in Poland under Soviet command. Contrary to some reports, Russia has not withdrawn any of her forces from Europe as a result of heightening Sino-Soviet tensions. Reinforcements along the Chinese border have been drawn from Soviet reserves in central Asia.

Smothers Brothers Bring $31 Million Suit Against CBS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Smothers Brothers, whose television show was cancelled five months ago by the Columbia Broadcasting System, Wednesday sued the network for $31 million and sought an injunction against its "censorship" of its entertainment programs. The legal action, which the brothers called their "last word" on the cancellation that climaxed a long standing dispute over what the comedians thought was undue censorship of their program, actually is a series of three suits.

The first suit charged CBS with censoring material protected by the first and fifth amendments to the Constitution and seeks an injunction to prohibit the network from further such censoring of its entertainment programs, the brothers' attorney said. The suit asked $3 million damages. The second suit accused CBS of violating antitrust laws by monopolizing the prime time and program material of its 200 affiliate stations. It sought $18.8 million damages. The third charged the network with breach of contract, copyright infringement and unfair competition and trade libel of the Smothers. According to the Institute for Strategic Studies, Russia has 22 divisions in central and Eastern Europe, including 20 in East Germany, three in Poland, four in Hungary and five in Czechoslovakia.

Sen. Griffin May Oppose Haynsworth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., tapped for the Senate Judiciary Committee partly to provide a sure vote for Supreme Court nominee Clement F. Haynsworth, backed off Wednesday and indicated he might vote against confirmation.

Griffin's reversal of the situation, Griffin told newsmen after questioning Haynsworth. "I'm going to reserve final judgment."

Most observers, however, expected Haynsworth to win approval handily, barring any unexpected disclosures. There are still 20 witnesses to be heard.

Some potential GOP opposition appeared to be melting. Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ill., said Tuesday the conflict of interest allegations against Haynsworth were so thin they could lead to unrealistic charges. Cook said he would vote against Haynsworth's confirmation.

Griffin took the late Sen. Everett M. Dickson's judiciary committee seat last week at the quiet urging of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who wanted to make sure the committee would confirm President Nixon's nomination of Haynsworth, Griffin, who started and led the successful fight against Senate confirmation of Abe Fortas as Chief Justice last year, had announced he probably would support Haynsworth.

Griffin said in the interview he believed Haynsworth's participation in a minor role in the 1964-65 "Brunswick" Corp. showed "a technical disregard" for a judicial canon of ethics.

AMONG THOSE ATTENDING a monthly meeting of area school lunch supervisors were, from left, Mrs. Bertha Glick, Twin Falls, area president; Cecil Olsen, Boise, state school lunch director; Mrs. Ruby Conner, Rupert, secretary; and Mrs. Betty Otto, Jerome, reporter. Among items discussed was next year's state convention which will be in June at Burley.

Idaho Power Has Film For Schools

BOISE — Idaho Power Co. reminded educators Wednesday that a color- and sound slide presentation explaining the generation and delivery of electricity is available this year for showing in the schools of its service area.

Teachers may arrange to obtain the 22-minute presentation, titled "Your Power System: And How it Works," through their local Idaho Power office.

Showings of the presentation produced early this year, will be scheduled on a first-come, first-served basis.

The non-technical presentation tells the story of energy generation and delivery in relation to the area economy. It was audience-tested before school teachers prior to its release.

The presentation is intended to be an audio-visual supplement to science courses at the junior high- and high school level, but also is suitable for use in general instruction.

Though primarily designed for school showings, the presentation can be adapted to meetings of business clubs and other groups.

School Lunch Supervisors Plan Programs For Idaho

A dozen school lunch supervisors from Magic Valley were told Wednesday that the government surplus commodity program should remain on a "status quo" basis through mid 1970.

Cecil Olsen, Boise, state director for school lunch programs, said the quantity of surplus items available for use in school lunch programs should remain about the same as in the past. He said Congress is expected to pass an appropriation which will insure this.

Attending the regular monthly meeting at the Holiday Inn were school lunch personnel from Rupert, Burley, Twin Falls, Murtaugh, Hansen, Jerome, Buhl, Hazelton and Ellettsville.

The representatives of the various school districts from throughout Magic Valley also discussed problems facing school lunch programs.

The state convention of the Idaho branch of the American School Food Service Association also was discussed. The convention will be June 15-18 in Burley, with Magic Valley members of the organization sharing most of the planning.

Officers of the valley branch are Mrs. Bertha Glick, Twin Falls, president; Mrs. Ruby Conner, Rupert, secretary; and Mrs. Betty Otto, Jerome, reporter.

Mr. Olsen said that in Idaho this week surplus beans from Kimberly and four carloads of ground beef from Nampa, both surplus commodities, were shipped to Idaho schools.

Job Totals Hit Record For Idaho

BOISE (UPI) — Total employment in Idaho last month hit the highest point ever achieved in this state, the State Department of Employment reported today.

In a newsletter, the department said there were 2,100 more workers employed in Idaho during August than in October, 1967, the previous record employment month.

Comparing total employment with the 1960-69 August average reveals a gain of 6.2 per cent over the average, the department said.

"This employment record was accomplished in spite of a 1,500-worker drop in agricultural employment," the department said. "The need for weeding crews dropped considerably from July as the continued hot, dry weather matured some crops to point where harvesting was necessary."

The report said the start of the 1969 harvest and the consequent reopening of support industries such as food processing plants and fresh pack and seed warehouses, contributed the greatest gains to total employment during August.

Canyon County Taxpayers File Suit To Test Bond-Law Constitutionality

BOISE (UPI) — Two residents of Canyon County School District 139 have brought a test case before the supreme court on restrictions in Idaho laws governing general obligation bond elections.

In a petition to the Supreme Court, Ernest G. Muench and Robert Taylor challenge a Bond Law restriction that limits voting in such elections to property taxpayers.

They contend the restriction is illegal because it improperly denies the voting franchise "to a large segment of persons who are otherwise qualified electors."

The petitioners brought the test case against trustees and the clerk of the school district. The supreme court gave the district until Oct. 7 to file an answer in writing.

The test case is an outgrowth of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that voting on proposed revenue bond issues cannot be restricted to property taxpayers. While the ruling did not specifically apply to Idaho law which restricts voting on general obligation bonds, attorneys have advised against bond purchases until the law is changed.

Muench was listed as a property taxpayer. Taylor was listed as a non-property taxpayer.

Court Is Closed For Hearing In Insurance Case

BOISE (UPI) — The preliminary hearing for a Boise man accused of filing a false arrest claim continued today, in Justice court, still closed to the public and news media.

The hearing recessed late Wednesday afternoon, on Tuesday—Justice of the Peace Fred Cromwell upheld a motion on behalf of Wm. C. Stain of Boise to exclude all persons from the court room, Idaho Code provides for closing preliminary hearings at the request of the defendant.

Prosecuting attorney Ellison Matthews said, "I cannot divulge anything—that has taken place due to the fact that the court has ordered it a closed hearing."

Stain was arrested by Boise Police last Aug. 6 on charges he gave $15,000 worth of jewelry to another person and then filed an insurance claim to recover the loss, allegedly stating his home had been burglarized.

Hiring Law Gives Blacks Skilled Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department has issued racial hiring standards for federal construction projects in the Philadelphia area that would give blacks and other minorities at least one of each five highly skilled building trade jobs by 1973.

Assistant Secretary Arthur A. Fletcher said minorities now hold only one out of each 100 such jobs in the Philadelphia area.

Labor Secretary George P. Shultz released the standards Tuesday at a news conference and said similar ones tailored to local conditions would be extended later to other cities.

Hearings were scheduled for today and Thursday in Chicago for blacks who have been demanding 10,000 construction jobs.

The federal guidelines were issued to implement the so-called Philadelphia Plan, the pilot program ordered in June by Fletcher to get more minority employment in the construction industry.

Under the program, bidders on construction projects of at least $500,000 involving federal funds are required to set goals within the guidelines for hiring blacks and members of other minority groups.

Minority employment is low in the skilled construction craft, and blacks in Pittsburgh, Chicago and other cities have been demanding a bigger share of these highly paid jobs.

The Philadelphia Plan applies only to six highly skilled trades—iron workers, steam fitters, sheet metal workers, electrical workers, elevator construction workers and plumbers and pipe fitters. Fletcher said blacks have only a 10 per cent of these jobs in the Philadelphia area, which has about 20 per cent Negro population.

Food Buyers Report Meat 'Adequate'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior for UPI.

USDA's food experts report that food shoppers this weekend will find good displays of meat and poultry and adequate stocks of some fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

"Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys continue to be the most abundant meats. For beef, value shoppers should look for chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef and short ribs. In the pork line, chops, loin-end roasts, ham and shoulders are the whole smoked hams, are expected features. Fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of Interior, are Maine sardines, canned tuna, and fish sticks and portions.

Fresh vegetables in best supply are potatoes, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, apples, bananas and grapes are the most abundant fruits.

ISU Stands Pat, Vandals Juggle Lineup Preparing For Saturday's Contest

MOSCOW — Coach Y. C. McNeese announced some lineup changes for the Vandals as they prepared for the invasion of the Idaho State Bengals on Saturday.

Jim Wilund replaced Ron Davis at running back on offense and Kurt Miller replaced John Knowles at defensive end in the defensive line. Roosevelt Owens, who has been a middle-linebacker, has been moved to outside-linebacker with Ron Linehan moving to the first unit as middle-linebacker. Joe Yates, who is nursing a bruised knee was at the outside-linebacker position.

Coach McNeese reported that the defense would be spending time on plans to contain the Bengal offensive. Ed Bell and Carl Harris, the Bengal's outside speedsters, with such speed and good passing from quarterback Jerry Dure, the Bengal's best threat, will be constant threats with their aerial game, McNeese said.

The Vandals will have work-outs right through Friday of this week as they will be playing at home in Fullman's Rogers Field on Saturday.

Elaborate ceremonies are being planned for this game as it is Idaho's Football Centennial. Game, Governor Don Samuelson, members of the Supreme Court, legislators and many other dignitaries will be present for the game and ceremonies.

Senators Grab Two Victories From Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Del Unser's two-run triple in the eighth inning gave Washington a 7-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the second game of a doubleheader Wednesday night after the Senators.

Frank Howard hit his 47th home run to pace an 8-4 triumph in the opener.

Howard, Lelch, now 18-10, walked two Senators to open the eighth, and the left-handed hitting Unser delivered his triple off the Detroit southpaw to break a 4-4 tie. He was then wild pitched home by Tom Timmerman.

Ken McMullen, who drove in three runs with a double and single in the first game as the Senators shackled Denny McLain, hit an inside-the-park home run in the first inning of the second game. McMullen's 18th home run bounced off the fence in left-center and center fielder Mickey Stanley, who attempted a leaping catch, did not see the ball go behind him. It scored Zollo Versalles, who walked.

Howard doubled in a run in the third inning of the opener and another run scored on a bases-loaded error by Don Wert. Darnell Allen hit his ninth home run following McMullen's run-scoring double, an inning earlier as Washington jumped off to a 5-1 lead against McLain, who suffered his 9th loss against 23 victories.

Howard's 47th homer and first in two weeks, plus a two-run single by McMullen in the ninth ended the Washington scoring.

Howard doubled in a run in the third inning of the opener and another run scored on a bases-loaded error by Don Wert. Angels Trim Seattle In Home Finale

ANAHEIM (UPI)—Jim Spencer drilled a two-run homer and Rick Reichardt delivered an inside-the-park round-tripper Wednesday night as the California Angels ended their home schedule with a 3-1 win over the Seattle Pilots.

Reichardt's homer was made by the Angels' Anaheim Stadium record 43-38 for the year by hitting Seattle to four hits. It was his 10th victory against 13 setbacks.

Loser Gene Grabender, who worked seven innings and yielded both home runs, saw his record ended at 13-13.

Reichardt's homer was a sinking shot down the left field line which went under the glove of diving Steve Whitaker. By the time Whitaker retrieved it, Reichardt was rounding third base.

The relay (not looked to be in time, but Seattle catcher Gerry McNeerney missed the tag on the sliding Reichardt.

Spencer's 410-foot blast into the right field bullpen came with two-out in the third inning and rookie Randy Brown aboard via a double.

May's own throwing error on a pickoff attempt ruined his bid for a shutout as Seattle scored its run in the seventh. Wayne Comer singled, went to second

Fans Explode As Mets Shutout Cardinals To Clinch Pennant

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two "explosions" rocked Shea Stadium Wednesday night, leading the New York Mets and their incredible fans in a state of euphoria which will last a long time.

The first bombshell was dropped by the Mets on rookie ace Steve Carlton of the St. Louis Cardinals in the first inning of a game which the Mets won 6-0, to clinch the National League's Eastern Division title.

A second was unloaded by a widely excited crowd of 56,387 which practically destroyed the Shea Stadium playing field after the game in an effort to take home souvenirs of one of the most dramatic moments in baseball history.

The amazing Mets, who in their eight-year history never before finished higher than ninth in a pennant race, were determined to wrap up their division title in their first at-bat and went at Carlton with vengeance.

Carlton, who had struck out a record 19 batters in his last game, was hit by a line drive on the error and scored on McNeerney's two-run single.

Padres Drop Giants Off Braves' Pace

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Tom Dukes, pitching in relief of starter Al Santorini, choked off a San Francisco rally in the eighth inning Wednesday night as the San Diego Padres scored 1-0 in a game which clinched the National League West.

Santorini, who picked up his eighth win against 13 losses, held the Giants to three hits until the eighth. He hit two batters and walked a hit to fill the bases without getting an out before being replaced.

Dukes, who spent the summer with Elmira in the Eastern League, took over and struck out Bobby Bonds. He gave up a sacrifice fly to Jim Hart for the first Giant run and forced pinch-hitter Leon Wagner to foul out.

Bob Burda hit a pinch home run in the ninth for the other Giant tally.

San Francisco staff, who were the loser as the Padres collected all their runs in the first inning, two of them as the result of Hart's error on a two-out fly ball.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter married a 30-year-old man with tropical fish. He has 13 tanks of them. He's got a fortune sunk in those fish. Just to give you an idea, he paid $14 for one little fish.

Well after four months of marriage my daughter got pregnant against his wishes so he got mad and went home to his mama. He says they can't afford a baby yet. (FISIF he can afford.)

He left the fish tanks in her apartment, and even though she feeds the fish she had to feed them and clean the tanks. The fish-lover came by once in a while to see the fish. My daughter cried her eyes out and lost the baby so now her husband decided they should kiss and make up and start all over again.

She took him back, and so far all is calm, but I know this isn't going to last. The priest says she can get an annulment on the grounds that this man is a boy. How can I convince her she ought to forget him once and for all?

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You can't water-ski on your own level. Even in a fish tank, so keep your ears out of their water and let your daughter sink or swim.

DEAR ABBY: My sister's daughter, Arlene, is being married soon, and the whole family is all excited about the coming wedding, which will be a large formal church affair.

Arlene has asked all the girl cousins near her to be bridesmaids. I just don't feel that I should put my sister on the spot by being asked to ask Arlene to include Nancy.

Naturally my daughter is deeply hurt, and now she doesn't even want to go to the wedding. Should we insist that she go and pretend she doesn't care? Or should we let her stay away? Now I don't know if my husband and I should go to the wedding either. It is certain to be a very unhappy day for my immediate family. Please advise.

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Don't insist that your daughter attend the wedding if she prefers to stay away. (Perhaps the week-end of the wedding she could take a little trip out of town to cheer her up.) If you and your husband want to go, by all means, go. But don't stay away in order to "protect" the slighting of your daughter. And by the way, I think you used excellent judgment in refraining from putting your sister on the spot.

European Trip Slides Shown

Lucille Routh showed slides and told of her recent trip to Europe when members of the Merry Marrieds Club had a party at the home of Virginia Jensen.

Open-faced sandwiches, made from a book Mrs. Routh brought from Europe, were made and served as refreshments by Mrs. Jensen, Betty Munter and Phyllis Anderson.

I know it announced Marilyn Dart is planning to attend the state convention in October. Information on kitchen planning was distributed to each member.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Clara Stover, with "Blender Basics" as the lesson.

Cherill Tate, Tannehill Say Nuptial Vows

HAGERMAN — Christ Lutheran Church, Wendell, was the setting for a wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Cherill Louise Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tate, Hagerman, and Jack Jay Tannehill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tannehill, Malta.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. John Jerome, before an altar flanked by beauty baskets of white gladioli and candelabra with white tapers trimmed with greenery. Mint green ribbon bows marked the pews and white crosses with intertwined rings, representing marriage in Christ, adorned the windows.

The bride, escorted by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown of bridal satin featuring an embroidered nylon organza and lace empire-styled bodice with matching lace on the stand-up collar, wide cuffs and around the skirt. Pleated ruffles of matching satin trimmed the high neckline and cuffs and the full-length billowing sleeves.

A semi-circular train of bridal satin, trimmed with applied lace along the edges, was attached to the gown at the waist with a bow.

Her shoulder-length veil of a combination was held by a crown of lace.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses accented with pink gerbera, ribbon and dark green beaded hearts. She wore an initiated handkerchief belonging to her grandmother. The bride designed and made her gown, train and veil.

Maid of honor was Mavis Tate, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Janet Egan, Twin Falls, college roommate of the bride, Kara Stenerson, Salt Lake City, cousin of the bride, and Beverly Bailey, Wendell, college friend of the bride.

Phillip Gerberding, Minnetonka, Minn., college friend of the bridegroom, was a best man. Groomsman was James Thomas, Anaconda, Mont., college roommate of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Russ McChinney, Burley, and Donald Burk, Albany, Ore., friends of the bridegroom.

Deris Stenerson, Salt Lake City, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer, carrying a white heart-shaped pillow designed by the bride. Lonny Tate, brother of the bride, was candlestick-bearer.

Mrs. Warren Berry, Hagerman, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Jerry Chavez, Lewiston.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church basement decorated with white bells and green and white streamers. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over green and was centered with a five-tiered wedding cake.

Nutrition Aides Assist

Twin Falls County, through the University of Idaho Extension Service, is working with low income families to help them eat better.

According to Alice Reed, Extension Home Economics Agent, "Seven women have been trained and are now working with low income families in Twin Falls County. The program is financed through federal funds from the United States Department of Agriculture."

The nutrition aides began contacting families in February of this year after attending a training session given by Mrs. Reed. They received information on foods and nutrition and teaching methods. Some of the aides are welfare recipients and the others are also familiar with the problems of low income families.

The homemakers who have been contacted have been referred from the Department of Public Assistance, the Community Action Agency, the District Health Department, and the Farmer's Home Administration. The aides have also been given referrals from the homemakers with whom they work.

The primary purpose of the program is to teach planning and preparation of balanced meals, money management, proper purchasing and better methods of food preparation in order to preserve the nutritional value of foods. The nutrition aides also help the homemakers with any homemaking problems, such as simple clothing construction, making curtains and draperies, refinishing furniture, etc. The aides are also familiar with the problems of low income families.

The homemakers who have been contacted have been referred from the Department of Public Assistance, the Community Action Agency, the District Health Department, and the Farmer's Home Administration. The aides have also been given referrals from the homemakers with whom they work.

The primary purpose of the program is to teach planning and preparation of balanced meals, money management, proper purchasing and better methods of food preparation in order to preserve the nutritional value of foods. The nutrition aides also help the homemakers with any homemaking problems, such as simple clothing construction, making curtains and draperies, refinishing furniture, etc. The aides are also familiar with the problems of low income families.

The nutrition aides began contacting families in February of this year after attending a training session given by Mrs. Reed. They received information on foods and nutrition and teaching methods. Some of the aides are welfare recipients and the others are also familiar with the problems of low income families.

Local Women Will Attend PEO Centennial Conclave

Two members of Twin Falls PEO chapters will attend the Centennial Convention of the PEO Sisterhood in Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 29 through Oct. 2.

Mrs. K. A. Keveren, president of Idaho State Chapter and a member of Chapter AI, and Mrs. C. L. Fisher, Kimberly, president of Chapter D, will be official delegates to the convention. Nineteen members from various parts of Idaho will comprise the Idaho delegation, which will be headed by Mrs. Keveren.

Approximately 6,000 delegates and visitors from 50 states and six provinces of Canada are expected to attend the 49th biennial convention of the PEO Sisterhood. Mrs. E. L. Gardner, Ojai, Calif., president of Supreme Chapter, will preside at the meetings to be held in the Des Moines Memorial Auditorium, Des Moines. Hostesses will be members of Iowa PEO chapters.

A highlight of the four day international convention marking the founding of PEO will be the dedication of the Centennial Center next to the PEO executive offices in Des Moines. The new building will serve as a meeting center.

PEO was founded as a college sorority in Iowa Wesleyan College at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, in 1869. Today it is an international community organization with over 4,200 chapters and approximately 162,000 members in the United States and Canada and organized groups in Europe and Mexico.

PEO is a philanthropic, educational organization interested in bringing to women increased opportunity for higher education. Its projects include the educational fund, Cottey Junior College for Women, and the International Peace Scholarship program.

The educational fund, created to assist deserving women to continue their education, began in 1907, and as of this year over 15,300 women have been granted help amounting to more than $5,000,000.

PEO has owned and operated Cottey Junior College since 1927. It was founded in 1884 in Nevada, Mo., and is a fully accredited liberal arts junior college.

The International Peace Scholarship project is an expression of the PEO belief that education is fundamental to world peace and understanding. Voluntary contributions are made for scholarships for women from foreign countries to study in colleges in this country and in Canada. These students return to their homelands to serve their own people.

LINCOLN COUNTY Sheriff's Blotter

The Richfield Service Station in Shoshone was broken into sometime between Thursday morning and 5:30 p.m. Saturday. The station has been closed for sometime, having been operated by Grant-Hawes Motor recently. When members of the Hays family checked into the station Saturday evening, they found the front lock knocked off and the lock on the pop machine broken.

Since there was no money in the machine, the burglar found nothing he apparently wanted to take. Investigation is continuing.
