

By AL ROSSITER Jr., UPI Space Writer
CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Apollo 12 astronauts expect to walk on a half-mile from their spaceship on the moon if necessary next month to retrieve four parts of the Surveyor 3 lunar robot that landed there in 1967.

Mission commander Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr. rehearsed part of the excursion with Alan B. Bean Tuesday and afterwards said the chances were 50-50 they would land within walking distance of the Surveyor.

"We'll either land alongside of it, or it's going to be so far away it's not worth missing with," Conrad predicted.

Conrad, Bean and Richard F. Gordon, all Navy commanders, are scheduled to begin the nation's second moon landing expedition with a blastoff on a Saturn 5 rocket at 11:22 a.m. EST Nov. 14.

Their moonship and its booster took a major step toward launch date Tuesday by passing a flight readiness test, last overall check of the space machine's flight systems.

Conrad and Bean are scheduled to land on the moon's relatively smooth Ocean of Storms at 1:57 a.m. EST Nov. 19 while Gordon orbits the moon. The two landing pilots will spend almost a day and a half on the surface and stage two moon walks each lasting 3 1/2 hours.

Conrad said he expects missing planet will permit him and Bean to venture one-half mile from their lunar module to search for the surveyor and explore the surface.

"That's sort of arrived at two ways," Conrad said. "One, if we land further than that from the Surveyor, I'm not sure we could find it."

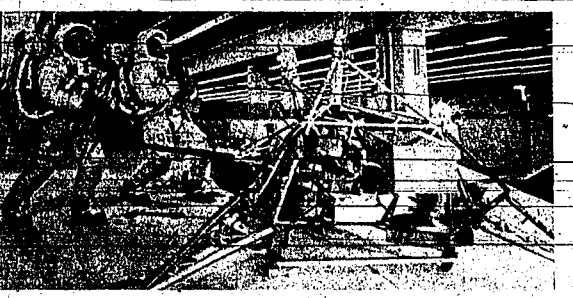

The second consideration was the distance the astronauts could walk. Ordinarily, 30-minute emergency oxygen supply, Conrad said he thought he and Bean would be able to move fast enough to return to the safety of the lunar module from 3,000 feet away.

Apollo 11's lunar pioneers, Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin, moved no more than a hundred yards from their landing ship Eagle. They also conducted only one 2 1/2 hours moonwalk.

Conrad, veteran of two Gemini spaceflights, practiced cutting parts of a full-sized Surveyor mockup during the moonwalk rehearsal. He and Bean used a pair of long-handled wire cutters.

If the astronauts do return pieces of the Surveyor, it would help scientists trying to determine what long periods of exposure does to machinery on the moon.

APOLLO 12 ASTRONAUTS Charles "Pete" Conrad, left, and Alan A. Bean practice a simulated moon walk at Cape Kennedy. The two are shown as they approach a model of the Surveyor III Space Craft to take off a camera and other material. Apollo 12 will be launched Nov. 14 on a 10-day mission. (UPI telephoto)

BOOSTS IN POTATO production and processing, possible through marketing in Japan are discussed here by South Idaho Chamber of Commerce members, Camden Meyer, Ruper, education chairman; Ron Robertson, Idaho Potato Commission member and meeting speaker; and Forest Blake, Burley, Idaho president. Approximately 45 members representing 13 communities met Tuesday in Twin Falls with Mr. Robertson as featured speaker.

Steak, Spuds Replacing Fish And Rice On Japanese Tables

Steak and potatoes—hopefuly Idaho potatoes—are replacing rice and fish on the dinner tables of the world's most populated country — Japan.

This was the report of Don Robertson, vice chairman of the Idaho State Potato Commission, and an employee of Simplot's potato processing Co. in Heyburn, speaking Tuesday before members of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Robertson spoke following a luncheon meeting of the organization in the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls, conducted by association president Forest Blake, Burley.

His talk covered a trip to Tokyo on behalf of the Idaho Potato Commission to represent the potato industry and Idaho potatoes in general during the International Trade Show.

Something that was good news to the potato commission, he said, was the tremendous population of Tokyo and other Japanese centers now acquiring a taste for western foods.

"Our big hope in going to Japan was to sell Idaho potatoes to that country," he said, "and when we multiplied a serving of potatoes per day by the 110,000,000 people of Japan it means big things for Idaho's leading commodity."

A two pound per capita increase in potato consumption in Japan would mean an Idaho potato production increase of 12 million hundredweight, the speaker said.

4,900 Leaving Vietnam

By WALTER WHITEHEAD SAIGON (UPI)—The withdrawal of 4,900 more U.S. Marines from Vietnam began today with ground fighting in Vietnam reported at its lowest level since a three-day Viet Cong cease-fire in early September.

"So far, there is no indication of any enemy plan for a new upsurge in the near future," said an official in Gen. Creighton W. Abrams' U.S. military command.

Military spokesmen said the level of ground fighting had dropped to the same intensity as during the cease-fire called by the Communists during the standdown for Ho Chi Minh, who died Sept. 2.

The departing Leathernecks boarded planes and ships for the United States, following 1,000 Marines who left Tuesday for Okinawa under President Nixon's latest 35,000-man cutback.

All 4,900 of them will have left by next Monday, according to the U.S. command.

Headquarters reported two "significant" incidents from Tuesday, both of them involving American artillery strikes in the northern war zone where the Marines were stationed.

One involved the 10th American bombardment of North Vietnam's hall of the Demilitarized Zone since the bombing of the North stopped last Nov. 1. Spokesmen said the U.S. salvos knocked out 10 bunkers and a machinegun that fired on a U.S. spotter plane.

In the second, U.S. Marine spotters called in artillery strikes on Communist troops near the Leathernecks' Quang Tri combat base, killing five of the guerrillas, spokesmen said. Despite the "pull" in ground fighting, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese maintained a steady pace in shelling attacks, firing 20 overnight barrages that killed one American and wounded three.

One of the conditions for further troop withdrawals, according to Nixon administration officials, is that the guerrillas tone down their attacks. The Marines who began leaving Tuesday were part of the 3rd Marine Division.

All 18,000 Marines in the division are scheduled for withdrawal under the plan. One regiment of the division—the 9th, left in the initial cutback in

Czech Aide Given Political Asylum

SYDNEY (UPI)—The highest ranking Czechoslovak diplomat to Australia, who had been recalled to Prague where a purge of liberal intellectuals was underway, defected today and was granted political asylum with his wife and three sons.

A government spokesman said Karel Franc, 46, Czechoslovakia's consul general to Australia since 1965, applied for political asylum with his family on Tuesday. He said the appeal was granted today.

Prime Minister John Gorton extended his sympathy to Franc "for his not being able to return to his homeland because of the Russian occupation and the suppression of those liberal techniques which Czechoslovakia was being urged to give up."

The Czech mission said Franc had been recalled to Prague along with several members of the consulate staff who left for Prague today.

Efforts to reach the Franc family were unsuccessful. Their home near Sydney harbor appeared deserted and Australian officials refused to disclose their whereabouts.

Franc was a close friend of Alexander Dubcek, the Czechoslovak reformist who was purged from the Communist party's presidency in Prague during the weekend.

The diplomat had made no secret of his displeasure with the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 21, 1968, and the crackdown on Dubcek's "experiment in freedom" that followed.

An official of the Czechoslovak consul general's office said Franc had been given orders to return home following the invasion but he refused to do so. He refused further comment.

It was reported Franc sent his resignation to the consulate early today and went into hiding with his wife, Geraslav, and three sons—Peter, Paul and Charles.

Threatens

SAIGON (UPI)—The widow of a Green Beret murder case, who has threatened to kill her two children and herself if her demands are not met, asked the U.S. Embassy today to tell her the truth about her husband's death.

The South Vietnamese government supported her demands.

During the past two days, Mrs. Thi Khac Chau repeatedly threatened to kill her four-year-old son and infant daughter and herself on the doorstep of the embassy.

Youth Held On Marijuana Counts Here

A 17-year-old Twin Falls youth was arrested Tuesday afternoon by city police and charged with two violations of narcotics laws.

Detective Lt. Tim Qualls said the youth was charged with illegal possession of marijuana and illegal sale of marijuana.

He was arrested about 3 p.m. by detectives and placed in custody at the city jail. A juvenile petition will be signed and the youth will be taken into probate court, Lt. Qualls said.

Mao Tse-Tung Ends 4-Month Seclusion

By CHARLES R. SMITH HONG KONG (UPI)—Mao Tse-tung ended four months' seclusion in Peking today and held his first public celebration Communist New Year birthday by warning the United States and Soviet Union against "nuclear blackmail."

Peking Radio said in a broadcast heard here that Mao and Defense Minister Lin Biao appeared in "excellent health" at a huge anniversary rally.

Lin delivered the keynote address, which was warmly greeted by the celebration proposing "negotiations and consultations" to overcome Sino-Soviet tensions.

It was the first appearance either leader had made in public since May 19. During his absence, East European sources said Mao, 75, had suffered a stroke and a Hong Kong newspaper said Lin, 63, was dying of cancer.

Lin delivered the keynote speech of the anniversary celebration. He appeared extremely concerned about nuclear threats from the United States and the Soviet Union. No mention was made of China's two recent nuclear tests.

The Peking Radio commentary said Mao moved about actively on the reviewing stand and waved repeatedly to the cheering throngs of 100,000 people gathered in Peking's Gate of Heavenly Peace Square.

Mao walked back and forth, shaking hands with other Chinese leaders, foreign visitors and diplomats who were invited to sit on the rostrum, the

Woman Attacked Near Payette

PAYETTE (UPI)—A man with a nylon stocking over his head criminally assaulted a woman in Payette, County Monday night after accosting a couple parked in a car on White Bottom.

Payette County Sheriff Richard Inyer said the couple was parked about two miles south of Fruitland when the man appeared and stuck a gun in the car's open window.

Rupert Man Claims Death Was Accident

MURPHY — Both James E. Rupert, 40, Rupert, charged with first degree murder, and his wife, who died during the shooting on his property last January, Dennis Hurling, who reportedly saw Mrs. Rupert's body in the trunk of the shooting prior to the incident, and Dr. Robert Maier who performed the autopsy on the victim's body, in addition to the Hunter boys.

A motion to dismiss the first degree murder charge against Rupert, entered following the ruling by the state's chief defense attorney Lawrence Duffin, was denied by the judge.

First witness for the defense was Mrs. Murphy, who related the events of the shooting, sobbing as she told of the event wherein her son was killed.

Witnesses for the state were

Boy, 11, Near Death After Sunday Crash

Physicians at Magic Valley Memorial hospital were attempting late Wednesday morning to save the life of 11-year-old Terry Stunsell, who was injured Sunday in a two-car collision.

Young Stunsell was scheduled to be transferred Wednesday morning to a Boise hospital, but as the transfer was about to be made, his condition deteriorated.

Killed in the Sunday accident was Mrs. Priscilla Robinson, 42, wife of the motorist for whom a mistrial was requested by two of the defendants' attorneys.

Ralph Crano, who with his wife, had the accident on Oct. 19, 1968, on the Nov. 1968, traffic death of their daughter, was testifying when he faltered. The suit asked a total of $50,710 from Max Banner, by his guardian, Max Banner, and Brock Loveland and Don C. Loveland.

The Crano's daughter, Connie Crano, was 8 years of age at the time she was killed, had been a passenger in the vehicle driven by young Banner just prior to her death.

The Banner youth had just let her get out in front of her home, when she darted from behind the vehicle into the path of a car driven by Brock Loveland. Attorney for the Lovelands, Fred Schwartz, Twin Falls, en-

Lloyd Cox Files Petition For City Council Seat

Lloyd V. Cox, Twin Falls businessman, and announced candidate for one of three vacancies on the Twin Falls City Council filed his petition shortly after 10 a.m. Wednesday.

City Clerk Constance Lester said the petition contained the names of 80 persons who will be checked against city registration books. A minimum of 40 signatures is required for each petition.

Mr. Cox is the fifth candidate to file for the three offices. He is the local Yellow Cab Co. operator and was an unsuccessful candidate for the city council in an election two years ago.

Corporation Running British Mail System

By ALVIN B. WEBB Jr., LONDON (UPI)—Britain today turned over its 212-year-old postal system to a profit-making corporation—something President Nixon has proposed for the U.S. mail.

Lord George Henry Hill, chairman of the new corporation, took full page advertisements in newspapers to excite the public not to expect miracles immediately. The corporation is now Britain's biggest business.

"Changes will not happen overnight," Lord Hill said, but "The government no longer will be responsible for details of its operations, though a minister will still answer to parliament on broad questions of policy."

"Unlike a majority of the crown which cannot be sued, the new post office corporation will be open to legal process for damages."

Nixon has asked the U.S. Congress to turn the U.S. postal system over to a public corporation but the proposal has been bogged down for months in the House Post Office Committee.

With 400,000 employees, the new post office corporation (historically been Britain's biggest employer) will employ 20 per cent of the total working population of the country.

The day-to-day headaches of labor problems now being negotiated with 10 different labor unions each with five figure memberships.

Parliament approved the change because it said there was a growing feeling the post office needed a new look.

"The new British Postal Corporation became a better one than it could have in many countries in that it is financially in the black."

The real profit-making part of the Post Office Department has been its telecommunications department, which controls telegrams, cables and other services. As in the United States, it is a money loser.

Mistrial Ruled In Burley

BURLEY — A mistrial was declared Tuesday when one of the witnesses in a civil suit being tried in Fifth District Court here fainted on the witness stand.

Judge Theron Ward, Twin Falls, who was presiding at the trial, declared a mistrial on the motion requested by two of the defendants' attorneys.

Ralph Crano, who with his wife, had the accident on Oct. 19, 1968, on the Nov. 1968, traffic death of their daughter, was testifying when he faltered. The suit asked a total of $50,710 from Max Banner, by his guardian, Max Banner, and Brock Loveland and Don C. Loveland.

entered the motion for mistrial on the grounds that Mr. Crano fainted, while on the witness stand in the local Yellow Cab Co. v. Banner case. He said that emotion and passion of the case because of the fainting, rather than the merits of the case might be considered by the jurors. Tom Watson, Twin Falls, attorney for the Banners, joined in the motion for a mistrial.

Judge Ward granted the motion, and the jurors, who were selected Monday, were excused. This case has not been recused, but attorneys in the case requested this be done as soon as possible.

Jurors selected Monday were Guy W. Jones, Nancy King, Gus J. Erickson, Aurora Vasquez, Fred Anderson, Carl Hedberg, Bruce L. Eames, Alice Shestard, Ruth G. Taylor, Ray Thompson and Doris Kelly.

Judge Ward suggested to the attorneys that new dates for the action not be reset until a new jury list is drawn in January.

Irish Catholic Home Is Bombed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Firebombs exploded in the home of the only Roman Catholic family in a Protestant neighborhood today, forcing the widow and her four children to flee in another flareup of religious violence.

The widow, Mrs. Margaret McQuiggin, her two daughters and two sons, all in nightclothes, jumped from second floor windows of the burning house. Police said the three were hospitalized with burns, cuts and shock.

Runaways Located Near Twin Falls

Three runaway juveniles from Twin Falls were apprehended about 4 p.m. Tuesday 10 miles south of Twin after being missing since 11 p.m. Sunday.

The youths, Dean Smart, 13; Darwin Smith, 13; and Mike Bulmer, 13, had been the object of a search by city and county authorities since they were reported missing.

A motorist traveling on the Nat-Soo-Pah road observed the trio "just sitting there" about 3:30 p.m. as notified county officers. When two deputies arrived at the spot where the boys were seen, they said it appeared the boys were simply waiting at the roadside for someone to pick them up.

The boys were none the worse for wear after nearly two days of hiking and sleeping out, even though they were out Monday night during a severe wind and rain storm.

The boys had a "whole car full" of camping gear—with them officers said. The youths had not taken much food. They told officers they scouted beans from a field south of Twin Falls Monday night and cooked out in the open. They also told officers they "slept in a pile of weeds" Monday night.

The boys were turned over to city juvenile officer Ron Stralberg and were then released to their parents.

Vandalism To Houses Probed By T. F. Police

Twin Falls City Police officers are investigating several recent cases of vandalism to houses in the South Park area of the city.

Four houses on Sidney Street, two owned by R. E. Dingsman and two owned by Jess Chappman, have been entered and extensive damage done, officers said. All four houses are vacant, they said, and it appears the houses are being "slowly torn apart."

Officers said juveniles have been seen going in and out of the houses. A fence at one of the houses owned by Mr. Dingsman was knocked down this week and windows of all the houses have been shot out with BB-guns, police report.

ONLY FLATTENED BOARDS remain of what was an aluminum storage shed at the Jerome Country Club until it was demolished by a freak windstorm Saturday night. The building was lifted from its foundation and carried several hundred feet. Dick Lowe, manager of the club, said the wind deposited the building about 400 feet away. The building was used to store electric golf carts and one of them received minor damage. The storm created a power outage for about an hour, and one-half other trees fell across power lines during the windstorm.

Authorities Search For Ring Champ's Daughter

HAMBURG, Germany. (UPI)—Authorities Tuesday tried to trace the missing daughter of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney through travelers checks she may have cashed.

The woman, Mrs. Joan Tunney Wilkinson, 30, was last reported seen by her husband Carter on Aug. 25 in Bergen, Norway. The couple was touring Europe and decided to separate for a few days.

Mrs. Wilkinson took a side trip to the Norwegian city of Stavanger. Her husband took the couple's daughters, Alexandra, 5, and Erin, 3, on a camping trip into the mountains.

Mrs. Wilkinson's brother, Gene Tunney Jr., said Tuesday the couple arranged to meet either in Oslo a few days later or a week later in Hamburg.

State Approves Voting Machines

BOISE (UPI)—The State Voting Machine Committee Tuesday approved the Automatic Voting Machine (AVM) for use in the state.

Gov. Don Samuelson, Atty. Gen. Robert Robson and Secretary of State Pete Cenarrusa gave unanimous approval to the machine. Earlier this month, the committee also selected the Shoup voting machine for use in the state.

Cenarrusa said "we haven't approved any electronic device yet. Both these are mechanical devices—and both appear to be foolproof."

Cenarrusa said with the approval counties, or any political subdivision, could begin negotiating for the machines. He said Ada, Twin Falls and Bannock counties are already planning to get the machines.

Tighter Control Urged To Curb Air Collisions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government moved Tuesday to ease the threat of in-flight collisions by tightening its control over the use of air space at 22 of the nation's most congested airports.

Under a Federal Aviation Administration proposal, terminal control areas would be set up around the airports. No plane would be allowed in the area unless it was under the control of the tower, and equipped with a two-way radio and a radar beacon transponder—an electronic device designed to allow accurate identification of an airplane.

College Law

Man bit dog the other day. Or more accurately, a teacher lectured students on how they should conduct themselves academically — which is something of a switch. The task of students is to learn and to be instructed, not to decide what courses will be taught and who will teach them; and not to invest the university's money," says philosopher Ernest van den Haag of New York University, addressing a freshman convocation at DePauw University in Indiana. Other blunt advice offered by van den Haag: "Students are not in a position to know what they should be taught; if they do know what they should be taught, then they have what they came for and they should leave the university."

liling to 'make love, not war,' but it does mean something to learn how to prevent war by studying in political science and history. Perhaps the bluntest statement of all is van den Haag's contention that the reason higher education is irrelevant to so many college students today is because "so many students themselves are irrelevant to college." Americans are in the midst of an "educational escalation," he says. They erroneously believe that you can do anything better if you have more and more academic preparation. Hence the new waves of college students, half of whom should not be in college. Van den Haag says he favors a law that not only outlaws discrimination on the basis of sex, race and religion, but also on the amount of one's education. "Discrimination on the basis of educational degree should be prohibited unless it can be shown it is relevant to the work required to be done." Interestingly enough, the professor was not jeered but was, in fact, enthusiastically applauded by his student listeners.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A recent newspaper headline announced, "Rothschild to Quit Post with Abraham and Straus." The article, quoted Walter N. Rothschild Jr., who had been president of the prestigious firm for nine years and with the company for 24, as saying, "As a president of Abraham and Straus, I have become increasingly concerned with community problems to the extent that I don't think I am able to do justice to the company."

In an age when we read that anyone past 30 is "over the hill," this is a heartwarming example of the fact that, all over the country, there are a "old" (past 43) men and women who are devoting so much of their time aiding their fellowmen for free that their own work (for which they are paid) suffers. Rothschild noted that he could not do the two jobs. So he quit the one to "explore some of the urgent problems of urban life."

But even more important are the millions of "old" Americans who serve before retirement without pay and without recognition for their services. Little through their churches, their social and civic organizations and service clubs. The daughters of the American Revolution, for example, frequently derided by the youthful revolutionaries as "plump old ladies with proboscis in developing countries in what is commonly called the Paunch Corps and in private aid groups."

goes ahead with the new way of drafting young men he now proposes, he will be jumping from the frying pan into the fire. A college freshman with a student deferment will still have four to five years of uncertainty ahead. He won't know whether or not he is going to be selected for service until he graduates from college and spends his required years in the prime draft "age group."

Alaska's Headache

Alaska is bigger than Texas and it may become richer. It was a bargain when Uncle Sam bought it from Russia for $7.7 million. Why just the other day, the 59th state sold a few $900 million leases for something over $100 million and it will get a cut of one-eighth of the oil production. The money will bring in $45,000 a day in interest, a figure easier to grasp. But the soundboughts are not yodeling as they did in the gold rush days. The 250,000 Alaskans are talking happily of maybe not having to pay any state income tax. Republican Governor Miller says it's important to use the money wisely to assure the continuing success of "renewable resources"—timber, fishing and tourism. Alaska plans to sell $8.5 million in bonds shortly to build highways, airports, schools, fish hatcheries, hospitals, and a pioneer's home. Promoters are on the way to Alaska and some undoubtedly are there already devising stratagems to share the loot. "It's a headache," said one official, "but it's the best headache we ever had." We see troubled days ahead for Alaska. Jealousy? And how! But it couldn't have happened to a bigger state. Alaska's needs are outsize too.

numbers, so 20 db. is many times more than twice the sound level of 10 db. "db" being the abbreviation for decibels. There has been increasing study lately of the effects of noise, and some information is available — although doubtless not enough. To give you some rough idea, a faint rustle of a leaf might be about 10 db., the sounds in a quiet home perhaps 45 db. Ordinary conversational speech at a distance of three feet (which is pretty close) has been measured at 50 db., but the same speech from the far side of the room would be much less. The distance is significant. A garbage disposal device can be measured at 85 db., and an airplane engine, of course, much higher. The range of sound the human ear will tolerate is enormous, the loudest sounds being billions of times as great as the least sound which can be heard. But there is a limit — and I am not referring to some speech sound as an explosion which can rupture ear drums. Rather, prolonged exposure to noise above 85 db. is now felt to produce permanent loss of hearing. Workers in very noisy environments may have trouble hearing at the end of the day but recover somewhat by the next morning. But the small losses accumulate into impaired hearing. Impaired hearing has been found in people exposed to very loud rock and roll music. This in some cases has been measured as high as 120 db., which is a terrific lot of noise — in a truck with boiler factories or the like, where you can't even hear your own voice. Reason for the loss of hearing is thought to be utilization and degeneration of the delicate structures of the middle ear which have to transmit the vibrations of sound. I presume that the pitch of sounds also is significant, but I don't know how much has been learned about that. Anyway, a growing number of factories, offices, and other places of employment are becoming aware that the noise level is important, and should be kept at a safe level. MR. SPECTATOR Ho, Ho And Hum

When this picture was taken by Mr. Spectator he was some 10,000 feet up in a Navy C-119 four-engine transport plane. Mr. Arnold Zenk, of the Idaho Falls High School, was also up there. But he was asleep and one of the other passengers in the plane was likewise. But the other passenger's foot was on Mr. Zenk's chair. Neither Mr. Zenk nor the owner of the foot (whoever that might have been) knew the picture was being taken. Mr. Spectator thought you would like to see an educator at rest. In all fairness, though, we must point that Mr. Zenk was one of more than 30 Idaho educators who were guests of the Navy on a recent trip to Annapolis to view the U.S. Naval Academy. The flight was a long one going north and south in a total of over 17 hours. There was much walking around the Naval Academy and also in Washington, D. C. Because of this everyone was tired during the flight home. So in presenting this little snap of the Idaho Falls educator, Mr. Spectator must point out that soon after the picture was taken he was asleep too!

BRUCE BLOSSAT Move To Boost Black Influence

WASHINGTON (NEA)—America's black officials, nearly 1,500 today, are giving prime priority to a kind of watchdog operation which they hope will help assure a full census count of the nation's blacks in 1970. These officials see themselves as a new focus of leadership in the black community. Their decision at their recent conference here to set up a permanent Center for Black Elected Officials, with another major meeting next year, reflects that conviction. They believe that the 1960 census probably underweighted the total black population by at least tens of thousands. They think the same thing may happen again next year unless they use their energy and ingenuity to aid in turning up all or almost all of the people in the city ghettos. The elected officials' motivation is a very practical one. If the Negro head count goes to the levels they believe it might, one vote black representation in Congress, state legislatures and city councils might double the number of black elected officials in 1972 and thereafter. Obviously, such a result would greatly magnify the potential of the organized black officials, and in the view of many acceptable "black power" an acceptable and useful reality within the established political system rather than a revolutionary slogan.

PAUL HARVEY U.N. Influence

Pitcairn Island, population 82, is making infamously well expect to be admitted to the United Nations where, in the General Assembly, this island nation will have a vote as big as yours. Founders of the United Nations in 1945 did not anticipate this recent emergence of tiny, new, independent states. Nor did the founders foresee this day when the United Nations would go so far astray from its original intent and purpose. For example, the U.N.'s own rules specify that the organization is not to interfere in the internal affairs of any member nation. Yet it has frequently criticized and passed resolutions condemning the racial policies of South Africa. Whether South Africa's apartheid policy is, in fact, misbegotten is a domestic matter and none of the U.N.'s business. Similarly — and just the other day — Ireland's Minister for External Affairs asked that a U.N. peace-keeping force be sent to Northern Ireland. Again, the Catholic-Protestant struggle in Northern Ireland is tragic but it is an internal United Kingdom problem and not properly the concern of the United Nations. Any day, the United Nations could presume to dictate to the U.S. Among the U.N.'s 120 members are many nations smaller than your state and some smaller than your city. The mid-nations include Malawi, Zimbabwe, Botswana and Gambia. Many of these nations are too small and

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. Sterilized?

Dr. Thosteson: My fiance and I plan to marry in about one year. Neither of us wants children and are very sure of this. Before we marry him, I require he have a vasectomy. He (and I) would be willing to sign any papers freeing the doctor of a later suit or problems. I have heard that you must be married with a lot of kids to have one. I hope this is true. This is very important for us, as I want to remain married, because I trust no other birth control methods. Only sterilization. I am 20 and my fiance is 25 — S.M.

You sound like an overly positive young woman to me, what we used to call "set-in-her ways." And what would you do if your fiance said he wouldn't have a vasectomy? You had you Fallopian tubes tied? That's a surer method of sterilization than vasectomy. There's a common notion that the ducts can be rejoined if you change your mind later. This is not an assured thing at all. It succeeds only in about half the cases tried. It does not afford instant sterility. Although in most cases, if you are found to be over two months, some men have shown active sperm 12 months later, and in rare instances a second operation is necessary. But perhaps the most serious aspect is that young, healthy males can have serious emotional and mental problems when their fertility has been impaired. Sexual virility is not impaired, nor is physical health, although in most cases, some men have shown active sperm 12 months later, and in rare instances a second operation is necessary.

Such techniques may be employed for other reasons, usually after a divorce has arrived. Health of the wife is the reason. Sometimes the intention is to overcome a neurotic fear of pregnancy, but a good reason is to prevent a man from necessarily changing their minds later. Sometimes they divorce and marry someone else, and the picture changes. There are other, and very effective, methods of contraception, and I do not think surgical sterilization makes sense for young people.

I think you have the impression that I think you are an opinionated and selfish young woman who just doesn't want to give. Give more, more serious thought to the situation.

ROME (UPI) — Cigarette smoking is on the rise throughout the world despite warnings about health dangers, United Nations experts reported Tuesday.

About the only result of warnings, they said, has been a shift by some smokers in filter tips and cigarettes with low nicotine and tar content.

But pipe and cigar smoking, described by some health authorities as less dangerous than cigarettes, is falling off.

Trends in tobacco production and trade were outlined in a report delivered to the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization's committee on commodity problems.

The report said the number of cigarettes smoked is increasing by 70 billion a year. Consumption in 1966—the last year for which complete figures are available—was more than

Industry Poll Request Made By Idaho Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, Tuesday asked the Atomic Energy Commission to poll its contractors in private industry to see if any of them might be willing to take over the Materials Testing Reactor at the National Reactor Testing Station.

In a letter to AEC chairman Glenn T. Seaborg, Church said a "private contractor willing to participate in the operation of the facility could prove to be a decisive factor in keeping the MTR operational" in conjunction with the state of Idaho, various western universities and other groups.

The AEC presently plans to terminate its support of the MTR at the end of the fiscal year next June.

The state of Idaho, as well as western universities and private research groups, would like to see the facility maintained in operation for private, public and academic research purposes.

It would be redesignated as the Western Beam Research Reactor.

The MTR is one of the largest beam research reactors in the world.

In his letter to Seaborg, Church noted that General Electric had expressed an earlier interest in participating in the operation of the MTR but later declined because of economic reasons.

Church asked the AEC to contact its many contractors throughout the United States to determine if there is any interest on the part of private industry in joining in future operations of the MTR.

Brandt, FDP Examining World Affairs

BONN (UPI)—Foreign Minister Willy Brandt announced the small Free Democratic Party (FDP), in agreement in domestic policy, turned to international affairs today in negotiations for forming a coalition to oust Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger.

Free Democratic Chairman Walter Scheel announced the "most far-reaching agreement" on domestic affairs after a three-hour meeting with Brandt Tuesday night.

The accord came less than 48 hours after the results from Sunday's parliamentary elections showed Kiesinger could be ousted if Brandt's Social Democracy Party (SDP) and the Free Democrats joined forces.

On international affairs, the party bosses have much in common. They agree on speedy signing of the nuclear weapons nonproliferation pact, a normalization of relations with East Germany and support for Britain's membership in the European Common Market.

One of the main international questions on today's agenda for Brandt and Scheel was the value of the mark. Both have expressed concern that the European dollar was dangerously undervalued.

Their theory was underscored in Germany's money markets, where the mark was allowed to find its own level and rose in value 4 per cent Tuesday in the first trading in five days.

The markets had been closed since the three-year coalition between the Social Democrats and Kiesinger's Christian Democratic Union (CDU) formally ended Tuesday. Brandt and Scheel agreed to communicate the election had terminated the partnership.

Army Moves To Sharpen Its Probes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As the Army moved to sharpen internal investigative procedures, a Senate subcommittee sought to find out today why the name of the Army's top enlisted man vanished from a report on the alleged service club scandal.

The Senate permanent investigations subcommittee moved into the second day of what may be weeks of hearings on alleged massive thefts and kickbacks at U.S. service clubs in Georgia, Germany and Vietnam.

Late Monday Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor announced creation of the Army Criminal Investigations Division, Agency "to provide central direction" for Army investigators. Resor said that as a result of premature investigations in the service clubs matter, "improper and possibly illegal behavior was allowed to continue for too long a time."

Rex Harding, an Army Criminal Intelligence Division (CID) agent, was called to tell the subcommittee about his investigation of the Ft. Benning operations, and the manner in which his report was squelched. Subcommittee sources said Ft. Benning was the midway station for a clique of apparently crooked career sergeants between their allegedly massive thefts from U.S. service clubs in Germany and Vietnam.

William O. Woodruff, 47, first to be given the rank of sergeant major of the Army and top enlisted man, was accused by another CID agent Tuesday of masterminding a "criminal conspiracy" of kickbacks and "raffish" from 11 service clubs in Germany.

WELFARE-PROTESTERS led by Fr. James Groppi met sharp opposition Tuesday when they marched to the state capitol, Wisconsin National Guardsmen, ordered to duty Monday when the demonstrators held the assembly chambers for 10 hours, halted the crowd of several hundred marchers with fixed bayonets. Governor Announces Idaho Will Host Group Of Touring Japanese Officials

By PAUL M. QUINN
BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson announced at a news conference today that he will host a group of touring Japanese next month, including three vice governors.

The visitors will arrive with a party of more than 35 on Oct. 16.

The trip is sponsored by the National Governor's Conference. A year ago Samuelson visited Japan with several other United States governors and attempted to interest the Japanese in Idaho products—mainly peas, wheat and dairy products.

The Japanese will come into Idaho on the evening of the 18th from Portland, Ore. On Sunday, Oct. 19, they will have an official breakfast, a tour of the State Capitol complex and visits to the Boise Cascade lumber mill, the Lucy Peak Dam area and a lunch. In the afternoon there will be a side trip to the Nampa-Caldwell area for a series of visits to a sugar factory, a potato processing plant and a cattle feeding yard.

Samuelson also said it was possible an authentic Japanese dinner will be held Sunday evening.

The visitors will leave Boise the morning of Oct. 20 for Omaha, Neb.

On another matter, the governor reiterated his position on the White Clouds molybdenum venture, stating that "if the Forest Service is going to have the land they will have to grant a permit for a mining road to American Smelting and Refining Co. into the White Clouds mining area."

Samuelson said ASARCO has proved up its claims and informed him it will "run over a billion dollars."

"The more they drill the better it looks," Samuelson said. He said again that the claim, which possibly could go to more than a billion and a half dollars, will provide jobs for some 350,500 persons for between 35 and 50 years.

"It's possible that a smelter operation could provide even more jobs" if such a smelter is built.

The governor said there had been some talk of the possibility of a smelter and that Idaho Falls and Pocatello areas had been mentioned with nothing definite planned.

The governor also said he felt that one of the solutions to searching up the land would be to conduct drilling for a mining claim rather than building.

Accuracy Of Russ Missile Is Discussed

Lt. Gen. A. D. The Oklahoma group of seven wives and one mother of missing servicemen met Tuesday with three members of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris talks. They came away with promises they would receive news by mail of the fate of the men.

"The U.S. MIRV, unlike the Soviet multiple missile, would carry small warheads of about one megaton. Testimony on probable accuracy of the independent heads of the U.S. missiles was censured from the appropriations subcommittee's published hearings."

Riot Trial Jury To Be Locked Up

CHICAGO (UPI)—The jury hearing the trial of eight persons accused of inciting riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention has been ordered locked up for the remainder of the trial because two jurors received threatening notes.

U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman was to rule today whether the two jurors, both women, should be dismissed because of the threats.

Hoffman ordered the jury of 10 women and two men sequestered Tuesday after he was told two of the jur's 10 women had received letters that read: "We are watching you. The Black Panthers."

However, when defense attorney William A. Kunstler told Judge Hoffman the defendants thought the threatening notes were a "government trick," Hoffman challenged them to "prove that right now."

When Kunstler replied, "We obviously can't prove it," Hoffman said, "Then don't say it. We'll never have it in our memory in this district."

Hoffman scheduled a hearing today to determine whether the two threatened jurors should continue to serve. He directed the trial to continue in art cases since the jurors could be replaced by two of the four alternates.

It's Not The Size Of The Dog In The Fight, It's The Size Of The Fight In The Dog

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

ANNAPOLIS — Where all the Midshipmen can see it, there's a truism painted along a wall which skirts the United States Naval Academy grounds on the banks of the Severn River. It reads: "It's not the size of the dog in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the dog."

Just that there is one basic difference. Here the transition from boy to man is guaranteed. A group of 36 Idaho educators found out this was the truth as they visited the Academy as guests of the Navy's Blue and Gold program. Two days of tours, lectures and personal inspections — as well as visiting and having mess with Midshipmen from Idaho — tired them out but gave them a more healthy respect for the officers leading this nation in war or peace. This Times-News writer was the only non-educator or service connected person on the jaunt where boys become men, it's heard a Navy C-118 plane for the fight east. Like others on the trip, he found that. Every Midshipman is at the Academy because he wants to be there. Each one of them, if they ever conclude they cannot make it, can leave at any time. If he cannot become a man who can defend the uniform he wears, then he shouldn't wear it. The program is not so difficult as to be impossible, but it is phased so that it teaches obedience to others. The Midshipmen are taught that theories are stepping stones but that they never find the final answer. They are expected to always

EARLY TRAINING for sea knowledge and duty is gained by Midshipmen on Yard Patrol craft. They operate in the Severn River and on Chesapeake Bay.

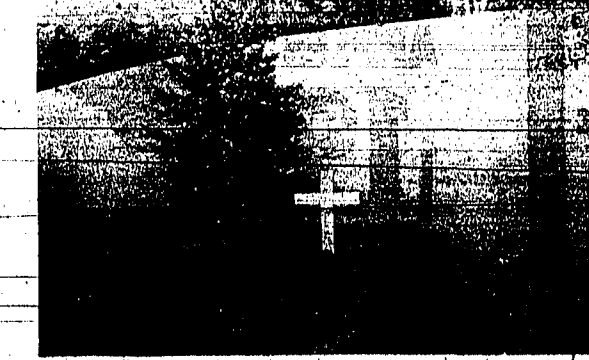

FIGUREHEAD OF Tech Tecumseh, god of the passing grade at the Academy, is inspected by Idaho visitors. Midshipmen flip pennies at the historic ship's figurehead in hopes of getting better academic grades.

BRIGADE OF Midshipmen march to mess after assembling in the parade area while the Academy drum and bugle corps plays.

CIVILIAN PROFESSOR lectures to Idaho educators. The Academy has about 600 professors — half civilian and half Navy officers.

when members of the party search for more knowledge. They operate on the honor system. They are written by Midshipmen for Midshipmen and controlled by them. The young men are not only prepared for war but are prepared to return from war. The program backs up the theory that the basis of all fitness is physical fitness. They are taught to be cool under pressure. That's the reason for all the pushing around in the initial year. The reason is to relate to them now what they are going to go through in the future. Living with and working with the Midshipmen, the faculty members — both civilian and service — are able to communicate with them. Attendance at religious services is mandatory and here this writer might point out that there was no objection to this rule from among the Midshipmen. A n y objections raised came from the outside. The program is planned for the education of the whole man — morally, mentally and physically. The enthusiasm of the Midshipmen cannot be realized until you talk to them. Is it rough? Sure, they tell you, but that's what makes it great. Although the Brigade of Midshipmen numbers more than 4,000 individuals, only one is from Magic Valley. He's Midshipman Dale C. Sugg of Twin Falls. He graduated from the Twin Falls High School with the class of 1966 then went into the Navy. He applied for admission to Annapolis, was accepted, and now is a second-year man. He will receive his college degree and his commission either in the Navy or the Marine Corps in 1972. A few minute conversation with him reveals his enthusiasm. He wouldn't want to be anywhere else. His enthusiasm carries over to his listener as he talks.

And this enthusiasm comes from a young man — an Idaho and Twin Falls youth — at a time when a man in uniform is not especially popular. It's a paradox of our times. Midshipman Sugg's parents no longer live in Idaho, but his grandparents do. They are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Calien, Kimberly. The two days at the Academy were busy ones but perhaps the few minutes most remembered will be those spent in the Chapel on the grounds. There, in the crypt, the educators visited the tomb of John Paul Jones, called the father of the U.S. Navy. It was he who said "I have not yet begun to fight." Through cooperation of Navy officials, the educators were able to spend several hours in Washington, highlighted by a luncheon meeting at which all members of the Idaho Congressional delegation were present. The Idaho visitors were also able to visit the Capitol building, Arlington National Cemetery, the Tomb of the Unknowns, President Kennedy's grave and other historic points of interest. The program at the Academy is well-rounded and offers each Midshipman the choice of more than 200 electives in addition to the basic subjects such as aerospace engineering, applied science, chemistry, mathematics, economics, foreign affairs, history, literature, political science, European studies, Soviet studies, Latin American studies, ocean engineering — just to name a few. Full particulars on application for admittance (and Academy officials said this step should be taken in the junior year in high school) and the requirements are available in Twin Falls. Lieut. David Mead, USNR, is in charge of this project and can be contacted at the Fidelity National Bank in Twin Falls. Or the various educators from over the state who were members of this special tour will have full particulars available. From Magic Valley, educators on the trip were John Lawrence and Richard Bann, Twin Falls High School; Gene Snapp, Mindoka High School; David Bodine, Raft River High School; Frank Charlton, Bush High School; Lavere Gooch, Jerome High School; Richard Jones, Wood River High School; Matt Warr, Burley school system. Those from other parts of the state were Leo Miller and Charles LaFontaine, Mountain Home High School; Max Urwin and Clarence Jansuek, Boise school system; John A. Rueter, Nampa High School; Clifton Windisch, Meadow Valley High School; Paul Norton, Parma High School; Mrs. Dorothy Kidd, Caldwell High School; Joseph Peniska, Payette High School; Mrs. Janet Thomas, Marsing High School; Daniel Mabe, Middleton High School; Robert Gooch, Pocatello High School; Robert Freeman, Grace Junior High School; Wayne Nelson, Marsh Valley High School; Kent Anderson, Aberdeen High School; Arnold Zank, Idaho Falls High School; Thomas Campbell, Bonneville High School; Harold Briggs, South Fremont High School; Clinton Long, Salmon High School; T. Pilots of the C-118 used for the trip were Maj. Frank Butler, United States Marine Corps, who in civilian life is an Air West captain; Lt. Commander Jim Callahan, USNR, who in civilian life is a TransWorld Airline first pilot; Commander Frank Wasko, USNR, Navy reserve support personnel. Crew members were Frank Van Sant, ADRI, USNR; Gerry Wright, AMSI, USNR, and Jim Thrasher, AMHI, USNR. All are Navy reserve support personnel. Assigned host at Annapolis was Lieut. Robert C. Bondi, USN, candidate audience officer at the Academy.

From the left are Cong. James McClure, Senator Frank Church, Senator Len Jordan and Cong. Orval Hansen. They discussed legislation of interest to teachers and school administrators.

President Sees Two Options For Ending War In Vietnam

By PHIL NEWSOM, UPI Foreign News Analyst

As President Nixon appears to see it, he has two options for ending the war in Vietnam. He can accept the humiliating demands of the Communists for early and complete withdrawal of American troops, or he can continue the support of the American people he can end the war, possibly before the end of 1970.

Since he does not accept the former, therefore, must be the latter. The President thus has drawn the battle lines between himself and demonstrating anti-war students and his congressional critics who demand that Saigon be put on notice that U.S. troops will be withdrawn on a strict time table — that the U.S. will adhere to it.

The pitfalls in the President's path are many. Announced troop withdrawals which will bring the American total in Vietnam down to 484,000 by Dec. 15, have satisfied neither critics nor the North Vietnamese.

Somewhere the President must find, or try to find, the magic figure which will settle the issue and reduce American casualties to an acceptable level. At the same time he must convince the North Vietnamese that the United States will remain in South Vietnam until its minimum goal is accomplished.

The President described this minimal goal as free determination by the South Vietnamese of their own future through elections.

The difficulty here is that the South Vietnamese never really have had a chance to voice their own desires.

Both sides claim to control the destinies of the Vietnamese people. A certain amount of prosperity brought to the cities by U.S. involvement probably would sustain the vote to the U.S. and government side. In the countryside, it seems probable the people would vote for peace on any side.

The war in Vietnam became an American war first in 1964 when U.S. warplanes began bombing the North and escalated in 1965 with the first big wave of American troops. It became a truly American war in late 1966 when the Americans took over the chief role of strike force in the search-and-destroy operations.

Nixon's effort now is two-fold, to achieve progress in Paris and give the war back to the Vietnamese.

Cool Reaction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has responded coolly to a Democratic proposal to extend the Migrant Health Act for three years and boost its budget from $12.9 million this year to $60 million in fiscal 1973. Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, assistant secretary of health education and welfare, told a House subcommittee the administration favors a two-year extension and financing of "such sums may be necessary." The program provides grants to state and local governments to health care migrant farm workers' problems.

Cassia Plans Brochure On Shelters

BURLEY — Cassia County is participating in the National Civil Defense Shelter use program with planning presently in progress by the Cassia County Civil Defense Agency.

Result of the planning will be a published folder illustrating the best family actions to take directed toward survival in the event of nuclear war. This procedure, known as Community Shelter Planning, is financed entirely with federal funds and supplied by a division of the Idaho State Office of Disaster Relief and Civil Defense.

This study was initiated in Cassia County in February, 1968, and is scheduled for completion this year.

A continuing OCD survey of buildings, mines, caverns, and homes has identified substantial shelter capacity presently in existence. The aim is to identify and mark places that people may obtain a survival degree of safety from the lethal effects of gamma rays emitted by fallout from nuclear explosions.

The Community Shelter Planning develops the folder to be delivered to each family related to the fallout shelter available in their area, how to utilize home basements, and/or actions to take if no identified shelter is available.

The plan will illustrate up-to-date Civil Defense methods of warning, movement, shelter and other essential items of general information.

Sen. Moss Is Included In Sample Cigarette Mailing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, Congress' leading anti-smoking crusader, was accidentally included in a sample cigarette mailing with a letter urging him to "enjoy the taste" and tell his friends about it.

"If I do, it will probably not be in the way they want," Moss said of the suggestion. The mailing was signed by Robert B. Walker, board chairman of the American Tobacco Co. It told Moss "a gift box package of Winston 70 mm. filter tipped cigarettes, will be sent to you."

Moss, a Mormon who does not smoke, though he is a member of the church, was asked whether he would be willing to accept the gift. He said he would not. The company did not know Moss was on the list, he said.

3 Cardinals Will Represent America At Synod Of Bishops

By RAY MOSELEY
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Three cardinals who stand somewhere near the middle on questions now facing the Roman Catholic Church will be the chief American representatives at the World Synod of Bishops opening Oct. 11.

They are Cardinals John F. Dearden, 61, of Detroit, president of the U.S. National Conference of Catholic Bishops; Terence J. Cooke, 48, archbishop of New York; and John J. Wright, 60, president of the Vatican Congregation for the Clergy.

All three have reputations for liberalism on some questions facing the church, such as civil rights, but all tend toward a moderately conservative outlook on questions of Roman Catholic doctrine.

Thus they can be expected to give support to the broad concept of a strong papacy in the single debate before the synod—the question of the relationship between Pope and bishops.

Dearden is the "official" American representative at the synod, in that it is primarily a meeting of presidents of episcopal conferences. He is highly regarded in the Vatican as a man who has been able to steer a middle road between extreme liberal and extreme conservative factions in the church in the United States, and he was one of six prelates named by the Pope to draw up the agenda for the synod.

Cooke, one of the youngest cardinals in the world, was a protégé of the late Cardinal Francis Spellman. But despite liberal fears, he has proved more moderate on church issues than the conservative Spellman, whom he succeeded in March 1968.

Cooke was one of 17 synod participants appointed personally by the Pope. Vatican sources said this was due to the importance of New York because of its position as president of the Pontifical Commission for Social Communications.

He will be charge of press, radio and television arrangements for the synod, and thus his job dictated that he give a seat.

Pedestrian Death Toll Up In Idaho

BOISE (UPI) — With one quarter of 1969 remaining, the Gem State pedestrian death toll has already surpassed the total for last year, according to Idaho State Police records.

The record shows that six more such deaths had occurred in Idaho through Monday than the 15 total for 1968.

Of the 226 traffic fatalities recorded to date, 21 were pedestrians, compared with 15 in 1968.

ISP Supt. L. Clark Hand warned pedestrians and drivers that "walking" accidents and fatalities are more apt to occur during months when there is more early and late darkness and the urged motorists and walkers to observe all rules of the road.

Pizza Hut Is Being Built At Ketchum

KETCHUM — A Pizza Hut will open in mid-December in the new Glacobi Shopping mall in Ketchum, announces George Heller, president of the Anstorp Corp.

He said this will be the first national franchise food operation in the Ketchum-Sun Valley area for the firm which has more than 350 franchises throughout the United States.

The Pizza Hut will feature a variety of pizza and specialty sandwiches, and will contain 2,000 square feet with a seating capacity of 60 persons.

There are six Pizza Huts being constructed in Idaho, including one which is now in operation in Twin Falls.

The Glacobi Square shopping mall complex in Ketchum will contain a grocery, drug and sporting goods store in addition to specialty shops and offices, all surrounding the fiberglass covered mall.

The square will be built of native brick and wood with a modern-style roofline and will be on two levels, surrounded by a 200-car parking lot.

The architectural design is by William Mathauer, Sun Valley, with engineering by Carl Benson, Twin Falls, as engineer.

Marijuana Cost Doubles In 2 Months

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The price of marijuana has almost doubled in the last two months, and the quality is down, L. Duke La Motta, head of the police narcotics detail said Tuesday.

"Most of it being sold now is rough-uncleaned," he said. "They are getting a lot of leaves, stems and branches in their buys. They aren't getting their money's worth."

The price of one kilo (2.2 pounds) of marijuana in July was $85, he said. Now it is up to $165.

La Motta attributed the difference to a poor crop in Mexico and Operation Intercept.

"Operation Intercept seems to be a definite factor in the shortage," he said. "Even our arrests are way down. When this is a result of the operation, I don't know, but they are 50 per cent below normal."

He said his information came from undercover agents, one of whom noted he bought a "lid" Monday—that weighed only 17 grams.

"A righteous or good lid weighs one ounce or 28.25 grams," he said.

One announced purpose of operation Intercept is to drive up the price of marijuana and dangerous drugs so youths will not be able to afford them.

Perfect Attendance Noted

Three members of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers Evening Camp, Cathrine Parker, Alton Welker and Maurine Rappleye, received special gifts during the unit's first meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Gwen Barton.

They received Volume II of "Our Pioneer Heritage" for having perfect attendance at meetings last year.

The invocation was given by Sylvia Wills and Ila Campbell was welcomed as a guest. Mrs. Parker resumed as captain of the camp because of ill health, and Irene Barton appointed to fill the office, with Thelma Smith as first vice-captain, Martha Bates, second vice-captain; Emma Luke, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Rappleye, chaplain; Shirley Hummel, historian; and Henrietta Jones, registrar.

Ella Crandall, president of the Twin Falls County Company of Daughters of Utah Pioneers, gave a report of the four county convention held in Jerome recently. She urged all members to try to attend at least one session of the semi-annual convention of the National Society of Daughters of Utah Pioneers to be held Oct. 3 in Hotel Utah, Salt Lake City. After the noon luncheon, special busses will be provided to take all interested persons on a guided tour of Parley's Canyon.

The lesson, "The Year 1869," was reviewed by Martha Bates. Mrs. Wills read a sketch of the life of David Sessions, father of the noted pioneer, Perrigreen Sessions.

Meetings for this year's study will be held the fourth Monday of each month at 8 p.m. Persons with ancestors coming to the plains before May 10, 1869, are eligible for membership. Guests are welcome.

The Evening Camp was organized for the convenience of the working women. The first meeting was held at 1018 Blue Lakes Boulevard.

Current Personal Care Market Is Booming Business

NEW YORK (UPI) - Millions of women shave before going out on the town, and while they are smoothing their legs, their truck driver or steelworker husbands probably are polishing a c.o.l.o.g.n.e. on their faces or whooshing a holding spray on their hair.

It's all part of today's booming personal care market. Some see this as a healthy break-out of senseless taboos. Others see it as evidence of an acceleration toward a "unisex" society.

Executives in the multibillion dollar personal care market couldn't care less which side is right so long as the trend continues. Men's toiletries and women's shavers are especially lucrative areas today.

Electric shaver sales have been increasing about 10 percent annually since 1965, and women's a.z.e.s have grabbed more than 25 percent of that market. Of the $5 million units moved over retail counter in 1968, more than 2.25 million units were designed for women.

Manufacturers of men's toiletries expect to sell $700 million worth of products this year. Retail sales of all cosmetics and toiletries stood at about $4 billion in 1968, compared with $3 billion the year before.

Richard Q. Kress, president of the Home Appliance Division of North American Phillips Corp., marketer of the Norolco shaving line, attributes much of the company's success in selling to women to the multipurpose grooming kit concept. It combines a shaver with other beauty care items. "High fashion styling also has attracted the women's attention," he said.

"Remington-Sunbeam, Schick and Ronson also are heavily invested in the women's shaver market.

The youth market, of course, is getting close attention in the light of the personal care dollar. According to Kress, the habit of giving shavers as graduation gifts, both to girls and boys, has helped this market. Studies show that the average person tends to stay with the shaving technique with which he or she starts.

Dear Abby
 By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Your answers to other people's problems are so wise, maybe you can help me with mine, too. I believe it's hopeless.

My husband and I have been married for 27 years, raised three children, and now we have grandchildren. He traveled for his living and made little effort to hide his cheating. He calmly told me (when I caught him) that it meant "nothing."

I have offered him his freedom a dozen times, but he always refused it, saying he loved only me.

He has never wanted friends. Never knew a neighbor. I have raised the children alone, covering up for him, helping him in his office. We are financially well off, but what good is the money?

I am 5 feet tall and weigh 105 pounds and am tired repeatedly that I look like a sister to my daughters. My husband has gained 50 pounds since our wedding and doesn't even think of dieting.

He keeps talking about how crazy he is about blonde hair. (My hair is as dark as yours, Abby, but most people say we are an it.)

Please don't tell me I've been a doormat. I know that. What else have I been doing wrong?

HAVE BEEN MISERABLE.

DEAR MISERABLE: You may not have heard hard enough to improve your miserable lot. No man will give up his cake if he can have it, too. And for 27 years you have been having a ball in a bakery.

DEAR ABBY: Never in my whole life have I been so confused about a problem as I am now.

A few weeks ago, my roommate came home from the hospital after minor surgery, and was sleeping peacefully at a table having taken pain pills and a sedative. Her boyfriend of long standing was just about to leave when I got the shock of my life!

He tried to get involved with me in a very private way. Need I say anything more?

Should I tell my sick, but recovering friend? It would hurt her beyond words, yet I think she knows what kind of "man" he is. Maybe ignorance is bliss, but for me to have such knowledge is a very painful burden. Help!

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: The word from here is "Mum!" He has probably concealed it to his girl friend fearing that you might talk on him. But even if he does, the more the kind of information one passes on to a friend.

DEAR ABBY: I recently learned that my husband's grandmother was very much offended by the letter I wrote thinking her for our wedding gift. It seems that everyone in the family calls her "Nanna" but not being aware of this, I addressed her as "Mrs. Smith" in the salutation, and twice again in the body of the letter!

DEAR ABBY: I never asked my husband "Nanna." In fact, I don't recall that she ever called me to call her anything.

Quite frankly, since I have raised the four "few" I thought the "Mrs. Smith" would be more appropriate - and anything more familiar would be a nice touch.

The couple took a honeymoon trip into West Yellowstone and Banada.

The couple plans to continue college work at Western States College, Colorado. They will reside at Crested Butte, Colo., where Mr. Haller is employed.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding reception were from Denver, Cortez, Colorado Springs, and Crested Butte, Colo.; Granger and Salt Lake City, Utah; Baker and Medical Springs, Ore.; Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Ketchum and Bellevue.

The bride was honored at a pre-nuptial shower given by Mrs. Thomas Brown and Mrs. Mary Louise McGonigal. The bride's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at their home.

Mrs. C. E. Arndt was organist and played the processional and recessional, and accompanied Sam Harsin, Medical Springs, Ore., cousin of the bride, who was soloist.

Beauty baskets of white gladioli and tangerine-colored carnations and white gladioli on the altar decorated the church. Lilies of the Valley tied with white satin ribbon were used for aisle markers.

Servers included the couple's paternal grandmothers, Mrs. Rosa Smith and Mrs. A. Haller, and the bride's great-grandmother, James McEwen. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the Parish Hall. The bride's table and canopy of large wedding bells, was covered with a white lace cloth over satin.

The three-tiered wedding cake was centered with a ruffe of apricot-colored tulle in which nestled Verona roses and lilies of the Valley. To either side of the cake were triple silver candlesticks holding white candles decorated with tangerine-colored carnations.

White roses were sprinkled down the skirt of the lace-satin cloth. Mrs. R. C. Stephens presided at the guests' table on which were tiny bags of rice.

Kathy Mahoney and Linda McDaniel, Colorado school friends of the bride, were the gift table. Mrs. Watson poured champagne punch; Mrs. L. A. Stevens served fruit punch, and Mrs. Owen Eschell-

Workshop Set

HAILEY — "Nothing to Wear?" asks Loraine Howles, extension home economics agent, University of Idaho. If so, she advises, register now for the clothing workshop to be held during the month of October.

The classes will be for beginners, those who want to "brush up" on techniques and 4-H leaders.

She said it will consist of six meetings of approximately two hours each. If there is enough call for it, afternoon and evening classes will be held, possibly in two different locations.

LOSER-ON-LOSER STYMIES WEST

Here is another example of loser-on-loser technique from the first Solomon-Wilson book.

North has a terrific choice at his first turn to bid. Some people would double two diamonds. There are others who would let two trump. North's choice of a raise to two spades the ace of hearts in back of dummy's king and sees that re-opens dummy leads by the defense will make it impossible for him to ruff his third heart in dummy.

There is more than one way to skin a cat and South found another way to make his contract.

He started by playing three queens and 10 of clubs. He overtook the 10 with dummy's jack and left the ace as a further entry.

Then South led dummy's 10 of diamonds and discarded the four of hearts on it.

West was in with the jack and was faced by a hopeless choice. A diamond lead would allow declarer to make a trick with the queen. South showed West his hand and West conceded the contract to South.

Men With Younger Sisters Deemed Best Marriage Risk

MATRIMONY—Is a man with several younger sisters a good marriage risk? Inquires a feminine subscriber. He certainly is, the best, in fact. Our statistics show that young men in this country who are married before they're 23 are more likely to have a good marriage than those who wait until they're 25 or older. A CHEF of some repute says never salt meat until after it's cooked because the salt makes it taste better. The average plumber makes more money every year than the average lawyer. If you want good gravy, salt the meat early.

TOAST—A feminine subscriber wants this department's staff to suggest some toastmaster appropriate for Autumn. Closest he can come to that is a Hollywood casting office. A Chinese lad who calls himself "Helping Tom" to September, the month of fruit. He says the month of fruit is the best time to get into dogs. And the poor men reeking their old ambition, and the women move into the stores.

CATS—Never actually saw a woman's waist measure 27 inches. Do you believe that? I'm skeptical. Nonetheless, it's such a cat is taught to sneak up behind an intruder, jump on his back, and sink the claws of all four paws into the unfortunate fellow right below his shoulder blades. Imagine these are Siamese and Burmese cats, which are not smart enough, but apparently are equipped with a suitable disposition. The cat with the worst disposition, it might be noted, is the curly-haired Rex.

Washington News Accuracy Is Questioned By Public

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At a recent national meeting of news and advertising executives in New York, deep interest was evident in a recent public opinion poll showing many people are less than fully convinced of the accuracy of Washington news stories.

The survey was conducted by the opinion analyst Louis Harris for Time Inc. One of the basic findings in the Harris survey was that nearly three out of four college-educated persons contacted believed the real story in Washington "is behind the scenes and only a small part gets in the news."

The survey also concluded "the public is ready to believe that the real decision-making at the highest level takes place without public scrutiny."

Among the college educated people, the Harris pollsters also found for the most part a belief that Washington news coverage was not "a free press operating at its best."

Washington news coverage, regardless of the medium, obviously has many faults but the fact still remains: no world capital is covered by reporters as openly and extensively and with as little actual government control.

Much of the news from Washington, whether from the White House or Capitol Hill, the Pentagon or the State Department, frequently is "quite unpalatable" dealing with "taxes, inflation, war, war protest, crop failures or surplus, and natural disasters."

Could it be that many educated people believe much of the Washington news, but because it is so often painful and upsetting, that they prefer to pretend as long as possible that it is untrue?

Then, there are the politicians themselves and government leaders who for years have attacked the press regularly for printing items embarrassing to them or out of agreement in "chairs" dear to these particular figures.

And the press itself, using the term generically, often brings criticism down on itself justifiably because of "inexcusable incompetence which can slide even the best journalist into inaccuracy, as well as other shoddy, sloppy practices."

Applications OK

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Public Utilities Commission Monday approved the application of George Wright, Burley, to amend his motor carrier permit.

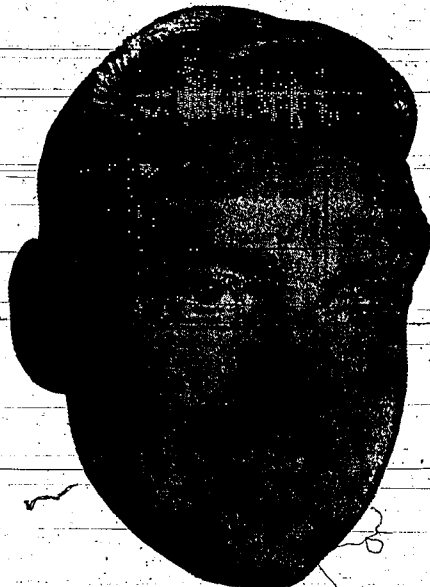

The amended permit will allow Wright to transport hay, grain, potatoes and beets over regular routes between points in Idaho south of the Salmon River.

The PUC also granted a permit to Kenneth L. Singover, Twin Falls, to transport "sand, gravel and aggregates" over irregular routes between points within the entire state.

BIDDING PLANNED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers plans to issue invitations to bid during October for levy repairs along the Kootenai near Bonanza Ferry.

Records On Juveniles Are Listed

Records at the Twin Falls Police Department show juvenile cases have risen by 94 during the past year.

In September of 1968, when Ernest Marlow left to teach school out of state, the juvenile division was incorporated into the detective division and Ron Seelberg was named to handle juvenile cases.

From Sept. 1, 1967 to Sept. 1, 1968 the juvenile division had contact with 434 juveniles. Of this, 21 were involved in felonies and 413 were involved in misdemeanors. There were no narcotics cases involved during this period, according to Police Chief Frank Barnett.

In the past year, ending this last September 1, the juvenile division had contact with 528 juveniles and of this, 91 were felony cases. The balance, 437, were misdemeanor cases. Of the 528 juvenile cases, 46 petitions were filed, meaning the youths were taken into Twin Falls County Probate Court.

Chief Barnett said the past year has seen an increase of 34 juvenile cases, with 70 felony cases.

He said during the period between September of 1967 and a year later there were no narcotics or drug abuse cases processed by the juvenile officer. During the past year, he said, there have been at least six drug abuse or narcotics cases investigated.

Communist China Hailed By Viet Cong

TOKYO (UPI)—The Viet Cong Monday hailed Communist China's emergence as a nuclear power with capabilities of launching nuclear warheads on missiles.

An editorial broadcast by the Gulf Phung Press Agency (GPA), and monitored here said "within two years and eight months, China has repeatedly astounded the world with the successive explosions of her atomic bomb, hydrogen bomb, and the launching of nuclear warheads by means of remote-control engines."

On Oct. 27, 1966, Communist China announced that it had successfully launched a missile with a nuclear warhead. At the time, Peking said "the guided missile flew normally and the nuclear warhead accurately hit the target at the appointed distance, effecting a nuclear explosion."

The GPA editorial was broadcast two days before Peking's Oct. 1 celebration of Communist China's 20th anniversary.

China watchers here said they expected a Peking announcement of Chinese nuclear atomic explosions Sept. 29 and Sept. 29, possibly carried by missiles.

Burley Show Set By Busy Entertainers

BURLEY — The Thunderbird Hotel in Las Vegas, the battlefields of Viet Nam, a university lecture series, and campus hopping across the United States and Canada have kept the Three D's busy lately. The trio will appear at 8 p.m. Oct. 15 at the Burley High School.

The trio is being sponsored by the Burley Seminary and advance tickets are available from many members of the Burley Seminary or at Saw-Mir, Drug, Overland Shopping Center.

The Three D's, Dick Davis, Denis Swenson and Duane Hunt record for Capitol and are one of the top college attractions in the nation according to Billboard Magazine's annual "Top 100" list.

Their show begins with two big opening numbers, and from there they range through Broadway show tunes and "Top Forty" hits.

They include parodies on such varied topics as football, bull-fights, travel customs, and the history of stringed instruments. They interpret poetry and talk of love, patriotism, and the worth of a man.

But the Three D's unique contribution to the entertainment world is their original music set to classic poetry. Dick Davis, bass in the trio, is also the group's musical arranger and composer. He wrote all the music for the Three D's first album, including musical settings for "The Charge of the Light Brigade," "Jabberwocky," and "Gunga Din."

The Three D's provide their own backing, working out on guitars, drums, bass and sometimes trumpet, melophone, harmonica, bongos and finger cymbals as the production requires.

Stepson Of Filmstar Gets Award

EL TORO MARINE AIR STATION (UPI)—The stepson of filmstar James Stewart, Marine Lt. Ronald W. McLean, was posthumously awarded the silver star medal today for heroic action in Vietnam.

Mrs. Gloria Stewart, mother of McLean and wife of the actor, accepted the award during ceremonies here.

McLean, 24, was killed by machine gun fire while leading a patrol last June 8. He was Mrs. Stewart's son by a previous marriage.

The medal was presented during a parade in which two platoons of marines, three platoons of flying crosses, a Navy Marine Corps band and two brass bands were given to Vietnam veterans.

Stewart is a retired Air Force Reserve Brigadier General.
