Egypt Will Accuse U.S. Of 'Aggression' Against Arabs

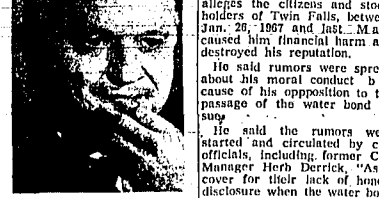

By United Press International
The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today Egypt will deliver an immediate protest to the U.N. Security Council accusing the United States of direct aggression against the Arab world. The newspaper said Egypt interpreted a recent U.S. Embassy spokesman's statement in Tel Aviv to mean that American military personnel are serving in Israeli forces and possibly flying Israeli warplanes. The spokesman was reported to have said that Americans who become Israeli citizens can retain their U.S. citizenship even if they serve in the Israeli armed forces. Al-Ahram said the Cairo government had instructed U.N. Ambassador Mohamed Hassan el Zayyat to immediately tell Lord Caradon, this month's Security Council president, that Egypt regarded the statement as revealing "direct American aggression against Egypt" and other Arab countries. In Washington, administration sources said the United States does not look with favor upon the idea of American citizens serving in the armed forces of a foreign country, but because of recent Supreme Court rulings, apparently cannot prevent it. It was emphasized that the laws concerning loss of retention of citizenship are general and there is no specific application to Israel or any other country.

Jerome Boy, 6, Is Struck By Truck

JEROME — A Jerome first grader is in critical condition at St. Benedict's Hospital, Jerome, where he was taken by ambulance after he was struck by a truck about 8 a.m. Friday. Sheriff James (Oat) Burns said the boy, Jay Falconburg, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Falconburg, was crossing Highway 79 to await a school bus. Mike Haugen, driver of the pickup truck which struck the boy, told the sheriff "I didn't see him until he was right in front of me." Visibility was poor Friday morning because of rain and overcast skies. The accident occurred about two miles south of Jerome in the area of the Parls Motel.

Korean Vote To Decide Future Of Government

SEOUL (UPI)—President Park Chung-hee voted early in the day today in a national referendum that will decide the fate of his pro-American administration as well as his own political future. An estimated 10 million South Koreans were going to the polls to vote on a constitutional amendment that would permit the 52-year-old Park to seek a third four-year term as president in 1971. Park, who came to power in a 1960 coup, has promised to resign if the voters reject the amendment.

U.S. Grants Additional $30,354 For Twin Falls Airport Project

Increase in funds amounting to an additional $30,354 for improvement and modernization work at the Twin Falls City County Airport will permit the entire project to proceed as originally planned, it was announced today by Jean Miller, acting city manager. Mr. Miller made the announcement after being informed that Sen. Len B. Jordan confirmed that the Department of Transportation had approved the increase in the Twin Falls grant.

The addition of $30,354 will bring the total federal government participating to $71,024. The entire project will represent an expenditure of approximately $230,000. A portion of the project will see extension of the east-west runway to permit use by Air West's new DC-8 passenger jet. Among other things the additional money granted by the Department of Transportation will permit installation and completion of a high intensity runway lighting system as well as the seal coating and marking of the main runway, relocation of an irrigation ditch and installation of necessary fencing. Work on the project is expected to start in the immediate future with final approval of awards expected at any time. Successful bids for the work, as indicated by city officials after opening of the bids submitted, was the Lane Equipment Co. of Kimberly.

Soviets Say Second Ship Makes Pinpoint Landing

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union brought the second of three spacechips back from earth orbit today. The three orbit Soyuz 7 made an easy pinpoint landing amid a group of scientists, sports commentators, friends and journalists. The craft, launched Sunday, was the second to return from space in two days and left only Soyuz 8 with its two-man crew still in orbit. Soyuz 6 and its two cosmonauts made a soft landing in the same recovery area on Thursday. The official Tass announcement said today's touchdown

U.S. Will Keep Troops In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird says the United States plans to keep a "residual" military force—perhaps numbering in the thousands—in Vietnam after the war is over. Such a residual force, Laird told an impromptu news conference at the Pentagon, would be comprised of a "training and advisory force." Laird did not say how long he envisioned the force would have to be left there. Sixteen years after the end of the war in Korea, 50,000 American troops are stationed there. Laird had said he hoped the approximately 300,000 combat troops in Vietnam could be withdrawn in a "reasonable" time. This would leave about 200,000 noncombat support troops. The residual force would be left after the support units are gone. Laird was not specific as to the size of the residual force; but he said it would not be as large as the number of troops in Korea, although it

Need Seen Here For Auxiliary Policemen

An auxiliary police force may be organized in Twin Falls in the coming year. But to appoint 20 men, fit them with uniforms and give them the basic training and protection they need are problems that will have to be broached in meetings between the city council and Police Chief Frank Bisset. Chief Bisset proposed the idea to the council recently. At that time several thought-provoking questions were asked. For instance, what happens if an auxiliary officer is injured while on duty? Does he pay for his uniform or does the city? What about a side arm? What about false arrest insurance? What are the auxiliary officers' powers of arrest?

Rev. Groppi Sentenced To 6 Months

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—County Judge F. Ryan Duffy today ordered the parole of the Rev. James Groppi, who was sentenced to six months in the house of correction. Duffy said that the controversial priest, in his role as a leader of disruptive welfare demonstrations at Madison, had violated the terms of his parole. Duffy said even by the most lenient interpretation of the parole agreement at Madison had "not been proper." An attorney for the priest sought for a stay of the sentence pending a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court but Duffy refused.

Youth Feels Police Are 'All Right'

DENVER (UPI)—Frank Viggli, 19, used to think of cops as "big bad" men. He nearly lost his life before he changed his mind. The teen-ager's heart stopped beating Sept. 28 when a car in which he was riding was involved in an accident. A patrolman came to his aid and saved his life, touching off a rock-throwing demonstration in the process. "I know people consider the police 'pigs,'" Viggli said in a letter to Patrolman Robert Mosler. "I now realize that the police are there to help us and are on our side, not against us."

Senate Panel Extends Life Of Surtax

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Finance Committee Thursday approved extension of the income tax surcharge at a 9 per cent rate for the first half of 1970. It also watered down tax increases for banks and savings and loans which the House had approved. The surtax is currently 10 per cent and is scheduled to expire at the end of the year. But, yielding to presidential insistence that it is necessary as an anti-inflationary device, the Senate went along with the House in phasing it out at the 6 per cent rate for the first six months of 1970. House actions which would have increased the taxes paid by banks by $250 million a year were toned down to the point they will rise $100 million a year in the long run effects.

Law Opposed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said Thursday a poll of residents in his district shows strong opposition to the gun control law passed by Congress last year. Hansen said that a majority of those who responded to a questionnaire mailed throughout the district said the regulations relating to firearms were "too restrictive."

U.S. Spurns Cong Offer To Bargain

PARIS (UPI)—Qualified diplomats today dismissed the Communist offer of secret U.S.-Viet Cong talks as just another effort to downgrade the Saigon government. The diplomats said Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was surprised by the timing and "blatancy" of the offer but not by the substance of the proposal. Successful bids for the work, as indicated by city officials after opening of the bids submitted, was the Lane Equipment Co. of Kimberly.

Military Tallies Costs Of War

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. military command said today it has lost 5,093 helicopters and airplanes in the Vietnam War—their total value conservatively estimated at $2 billion. An announcement from headquarters said 28 of the aircraft were lost in the past five days during the recent fighting. The losses were reported as the result of a weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks. If accepted by the United States, the Saigon government would be bypassed as a party to a settlement. Lodge countered the proposal with a call for secret discussions among all four participants at the talks, including the Viet Cong. The announcer said the United States rejected the move because it was not a genuine effort to find a peace settlement but an attempt to cause friction between the allies.

Martin Quits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House announced today that William McClellan Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board today, and the selection of William F. Burns to succeed him. Martin was chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors during the Eisenhower administration.

Cold Spell Gives Nation Wintery Touch

By United Press International
Most of the nation had cold weather today, although mild temperatures prevailed in the Southwest and in Florida. A large sprawling high pressure area in the Central Plains spread cool weather from coast to coast and into the Deep South. Parts of Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana were under front warnings early today, while scattered light rain occurred in the vicinity of the Great Lakes. Storm systems off the Oregon Coast and in the Great Basin area delivered rain to areas of the Pacific Coast states and East coast Nevada into the Central Rockies. From the Rocky Mountains and the Southwest into most of the Atlantic coastal states fall skies prevailed today.

House Completes Action On Bill For Student Fund

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Thursday passed and sent to the White House legislation guaranteeing banks 10 per cent in interest on government-backed loans to college students. The compromise measure, accepted earlier this week by the Senate, originated with the administration in early August when it appeared that 200,000 prospective college students would not be able to obtain the loans because of their interest rate ceiling of 7 per cent. Banks complained they needed more than 7 per cent interest to break even on the loans. The bill approved Thursday allows the government to pay banks up to 3 per cent extra in special incentive fees to make the loans.

It seems the girl was to have been home at a certain hour Wednesday night. She wasn't.

As an excuse, the girl said she was abducted and taken into the woods near the Elks Club. She said she had been molested but not raped.

"She didn't even appear to be too upset, let alone molested, and we started to suspect her story," Sheriff Corder said.

The girl, when the real story came out, refused to go home and was taken to Harbor House Thursday. The matter was then turned over to the county's juvenile officer.

Court Upholds Conviction In Draft Dispute

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — A federal appeals court, contending chaos would result if individuals decide which laws they will obey, has upheld convictions for destruction of draft records.

The appeals to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals were filed in Catonsville, Md. The nine convicted in the Catonsville incident argued their actions were morally justified because they "intended to protest a law which is outrageous to their individual standards of humanity," according to the decision.

"To encourage individuals to make their own determinations as to which laws they will obey and which they will permit themselves as a matter of conscience to disobey is to invite chaos," the court said.

The appeals court upheld the four convictions in the Baltimore case, but sent the case back to the federal district court to reconsider the sentences imposed on two of the defendants.

Glenns Ferry Lists Honor Roll Students

Other "freshmen" who made honors were Kara R. Berry, Wendy Webb, Debbie Sken and Jan. Haisler.

For the sophomore class, Barbie Wertz was the single four pointer. Others on the roll were Paul Shrum, Rebekah Messery, Kathy Wieber, Mike Siron, Debbie King, Karen Thompson and Jane Bern.

The single junior to make 4.0 was Patricia Pasberg, while others making honors were Rita Pusy, Reilly Clark, Cheryl Gluch, Debbie Houtberg, Laura Parish, Joann Brannon and Debbie Ceberson.

Two seniors earning highest honors were Phyllis Russell and Ginger Seese, while others on the roll were Robbin Anderson, Sarah Weston Farris, M. K. Shenk, Rocky Trail, Tim Landis, Bob Carpenter, Celia Black, Dale McCarty.

Students in Glenn's Ferry, a city of 400, are graded by the state. The school is one of the few in the state that is not graded by the state.

Rape Case Ends As A False Alarm

A rape case turned out to be a good excuse for a 15-year-old Twin Falls girl Thursday.

Sheriff's officers were asked to locate three men who had abducted the girl in Twin Falls. The search lasted for several hours Thursday night when Sheriff Paul Corder who really happened.

It seems the girl was to have been home at a certain hour Wednesday night. She wasn't.

As an excuse, the girl said she was abducted and taken into the woods near the Elks Club. She said she had been molested but not raped.

"She didn't even appear to be too upset, let alone molested, and we started to suspect her story," Sheriff Corder said.

The girl, when the real story came out, refused to go home and was taken to Harbor House Thursday. The matter was then turned over to the county's juvenile officer.

Sun Valley Is Building New Ski Lift

SUN VALLEY — A new ski lift is now under construction at Elkhorn gulch on the southern slope of Delmar Mountain.

The lift will accommodate 1,200 skiers per hour and is being built to lighten the lift line load on the existing lift.

The vertical rise is 150 feet, making it comparable to Half-Dollar. Beginners will be taken to nearby Elks Club to get the true feel of their skis, and from there to the Elkhorn chair lift.

The new lift house on top of Bald Mountain has a new summit and a new roof.

The warming hut at the foot of the lift is being remodeled and Broadway run is being widened.

All trees have been cut out for a new run called "The Graduate" and slash is now being burned. The run is classed as intermediate, comparable to the Piney Squirrels run. It will start at Mid-Collage and be served by the Sun Valley Lift.

When Sun Valley re-opens for the winter season, the new lift will be in use, more than $300,000 will be spent in converting this run and the adjoining lounge and dining room which will seat some 100 persons.

The present dining room will become a convention hall of 100 rooms in the lodge which were not remodeled last year will receive treatment this year. Electric elevators to Harbor House, turned over to the county's juvenile officer.

Senate OK's Legislation For Potatoes

WASHINGTON — The Senate Thursday passed legislation co-sponsored by Sen. Frank Church to create a National Potato Promotion Board, designed to improve national sales of Idaho's most famous product.

Designated as the National Potato Research and Promotion Act, the legislation passed the Senate by unanimous vote now goes to the House for further action.

As passed, the legislation provides that the board will be composed of representatives of potato producers, whose job would be implementation of a nationally coordinated research and promotion program for potatoes.

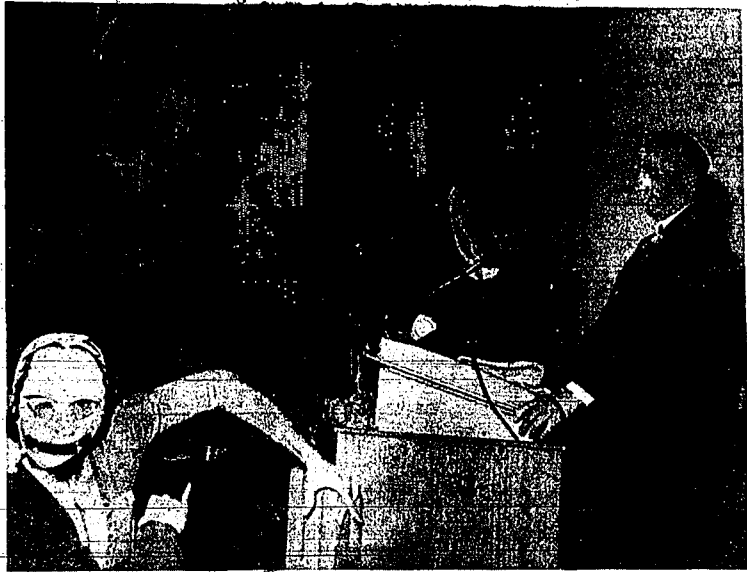

In a Senate speech during debate on the bill, Sen. Church said the legislation "would enable the potato industry to finance a nationally coordinated research and promotion effort, and through its own resources and ingenuity to build strong markets and preserve its position in our nation's agricultural commodity."

Sen. Church said there is no doubt such a program can increase demand for the potato as a consumer item.

"Only need look to my state of Idaho for a fine example of what can be done when an outstanding product is properly marketed."

The bill, the Idaho senator said, "will aid both the large and small production state by educating the consumer on the part that the potato should properly play in his diet."

At the same time, he said, the legislation will aid the consumer "since the research program made possible under the act will result in more and better potato products."

Hanoi POW Stand Draws Official Ire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department Thursday charged Hanoi with an "outrageous attempt to exploit the grief" of families of U.S. Prisoners of War.

Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said that was the only way to describe suggestions by Hanoi representatives in Paris to wives of American POW's that the best way to get their husbands released was to return home and demonstrate against U.S. policy.

McCloskey said, "an effort to use the POW's for political purposes—that is contrary to accepted international procedure—and a violation of the Geneva convention on prisoners."

Boastful Psychotic Named 'Zodiac' Is Linked To 5 San Francisco Murders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A boastful psychotic killer calling himself "Zodiac" was linked Thursday by handwritten notes, fingerprints and a bloodstained cloth to five slayings in the San Francisco Bay area.

"We're sure the same person is responsible," said Under Sheriff Tom Johnson of Napa County, where one of the five killings occurred.

The slayings began last December on the lovers' lane in Vallejo about 30 miles northeast of here, moved about 20 miles north to Lake Berryessa last month, and here last weekend.

Victims included three young women, a teen-aged boy and a cab driver.

A bloodstained cloth was mailed to a local newspaper this week with a taunting note about the slaying of the cab driver, Paul Stine, 29, killed and robbed last weekend in the city. The author, who identified himself as "Zodiac," said he was "the same man who did it to the people in the North Bay area."

The torn swatch of cloth, "definitely" came from Stine's shirt, San Francisco Police Capt. Martin Lee said after lab tests of the fabric and bloodstains. Handwriting experts said the note was written by the same person who sent coded letters earlier bragging about three slayings near Vallejo.

Husband Enters Innocent Plea To Wife's Death

Her beaten and stabbed body was found in underbrush off Lopez Canyon Road Aug. 25. Murphy told police he and his wife had been assaulted and robbed by two men they had stopped to help.

The state contends Murphy hired Saling for $1,000 to kill his wife. Saling was arrested two weeks ago in Albuquerque, N.M., and is set to enter a plea Oct. 22.

High Court Affirms Union Case

BOISE (UPI) — A Fourth District Court decision ordering a man be reinstated with full seniority rights in a union was affirmed today by the Idaho Supreme Court.

Justice Clay V. Spear wrote the majority opinion. Justice Henry McQuade dissented.

Wilson P. Lockridge brought the suit after he was dismissed from the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America Nov. 2, 1959 for alleged failure to pay dues.

As a consequence of his dismissal from the union his employer, Greyhound Bus Lines, terminated his employment.

Lockridge brought a civil action against the union alleging it breached its contract of membership with him. The lower court agreed with him.

On appeal, the union argued that the subject matter of the suit was pre-empted by federal laws enforced solely by the National Labor Relations Board.

But the high court's majority opinion held there was no pre-emption where the question involved an internal matter and not a labor dispute involving the employer.

Clay's opinion said there indeed was a breach of the membership agreement and that Idaho properly could grant relief—since the National Labor Relations Board could not restore Lockridge's membership. Furthermore, the court held the board also would be powerless to compensate Lockridge for 10 years of lost wages.

Therefore, the high tribunal

Logjam Slows The Navy Buildup

WASHINGTON — The Navy, caught in the Congressional appropriations logjam, has been given a go-ahead for only two of its six proposed conversions to carry the more sophisticated Poseidon missile.

however, the cut-back and confusion will serve to illustrate the serious administrative problems which arise in government departments when Congress defaults on its appropriation deadlines.

More importantly, no funds have been specifically appropriated for any of the conversions, and no such congressional action is imminent.

In that difficult position, and with the Poseidon already sailing toward a scheduled Poseidon overhaul, the Navy began asking questions at the couple weeks ago.

Housing Cost

To meet the goals established by the Housing Act of 1968, America has to build some 2.6 million units a year, both houses and apartments.

ment Authority. The authority has placed an initial order for 250, three-bedroom, factory-built houses with one manufacturer and 800 slightly more expensive homes with another.

With land, labor, materials and financing costs zooming, the price of housing at a current rate of 10 per cent a year, millions of Americans, especially those with low incomes, are rapidly being priced out of decent housing.

On the legislative front, the first major step — to break the logjam of restrictive local building codes, to use the phrase of the Urban Land Institute, is a bill introduced in Congress by Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa.

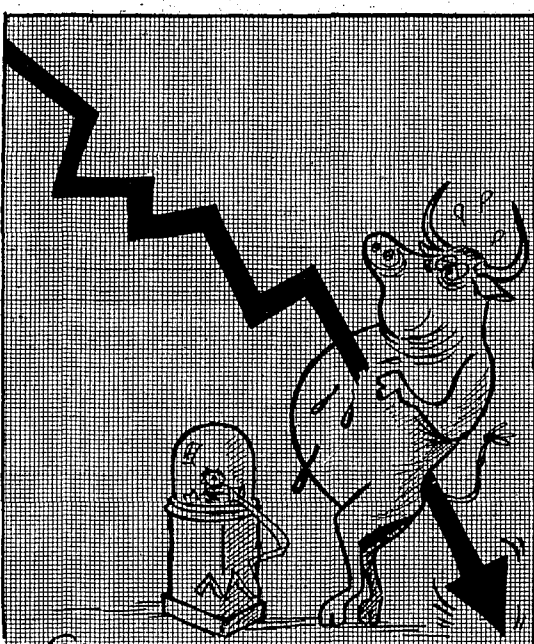

George Romney, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The onetime president of American Motors, who stole a lead on the auto industry with his compact car, has launched a campaign called "Operation Breakthrough."

Perhaps most encouraging of all, the 900,000-member United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, largest of the AFL-CIO building trades unions, has modified its traditional "procedures" by signing an agreement with a pre-fabricated housing manufacturer to put up 1,000 units in Rochester and Syracuse, N.Y., and Akron, Ohio.

Already some minor, but important, breakthroughs can be reported. In Detroit, Walter Reuther, head of the United Automobile Workers, who used to sit on the opposite side of the bargaining table from Romney, has been a moving force behind the creation of the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development to the Urban League to set up centers to train unskilled workers for employment in the company's factory. The day when houses or apartment modules will be rolling off the assembly line by the tens of thousands is still some years distant, but the idea is well into the tooling-up stage.

The Square Taxpayer

NEW YORK — One of the reasons why Mayor John Lindsay, and the mayors of most American big cities, are in political trouble is an impending revolt of the square taxpayer against the use of welfare money to finance drug addicts on the dole.

When the cats that work there will sell you anything you want. And narcotics officials in Washington point out that many pushers in big cities now spend most of their time hanging around welfare offices, where the money is.

Losing Venture

Seventeen years have passed since the SS United States was placed in service, but the majestic ship is still one of the most beautiful, fastest and efficient liners. Not only is she the pride of the U.S. fleet, but she is in heavy demand by passengers of all nationalities.

Lines. In November the United States will go into drydock for her annual checkup. Some are asking whether she will return to active service. The president of the line, John J. McMullen, said about her, "I am as much a romantic as the next fellow and I'm a devotee of a truly great ship. But I am also a practical shipping man."

Nothing is lacking in the success story of the United States, though it seems inconceivable that the superliner may be retired in the near future, that is what may happen if a way is not found to curtail the huge deficits she compiles every year.

With all of her 200,000-horsepower engines, her 35-knot speed and the tremendous prestige she brings to her country everywhere she goes, the SS United States is not indispensable. That is the point which hurts veterans sailors the most: the almost certain further decline of the merchant marine. Even, perhaps, the voluntary abdication of the unquestioned queen of the seas.

People attending during March should have a light overcoat with them. Those in April should have a sweater, those in April (at night) a light overcoat and those in May at night — a sweater.

Wonder how Mr. Spectator knows all this? It's because the Japanese are getting a real publicity campaign under way and we received one of the fact-filled EXPO '70 guide books. It came through courtesy of the public relations department of Japan Air Lines.

Fifteen nations, including the United States, will have exhibits. Only two states within the United States — Washington and Hawaii — will have individual exhibits.

So there you have it. Just a little information of a world's fair set for Japan next year. Are you one of those going to Idaho?

There will be lots of free entertainment and there will also be a Monorail system and moving sidewalks.

Apparently, their cases will remain hopeless, largely because there is little effort made in New York and other big cities to pressure addicts to kick the habit. Theoretically, welfare departments are supposed to "persuade" addicts to visit drug centers for treatment.

And if you get hungry there will be cafe facilities to feed 24,000 people at one sitting. These places will include eateries, coffee shops, and high class restaurants.

Progress is wonderful. When the two parents' jetliners start flying, people will be able to take even longer getting to their destinations.

And youngsters with basement printing devices get out clandestine campus publications concentrating on sex talk and Sexton words.

Mr. Blum's concern, stated bluntly, is that the "sex overdose" could cause boys to lose interest in the subject "completely and forever."

Apparently, their cases will remain hopeless, largely because there is little effort made in New York and other big cities to pressure addicts to kick the habit. Theoretically, welfare departments are supposed to "persuade" addicts to visit drug centers for treatment.

It was not my purpose to encapsulate this theory merely because it's fashionable these days to "talk sex." What intrigues me is the fact that so many Americans, quite old and experienced enough to have exhausted their illusions, are now fascinated with their new nakedness.

Comptroller Jack R. Goldberg of New York's Department of Social Services, has pointed out another aspect of the problem. While saying he had "no knowledge" that any members of the department staff used drugs, he noted that under the law he had no control of sin-

WOODWORKING AND POTTERY courses will be offered this winter by the Twin Falls City Recreation Department. The programs are of two several which will be offered to adults and children during the winter months. From left are Ray Beaumont and Dee Hansen, who will instruct the woodworking and pottery programs.

Variety Of Programs Planned by City's Recreation Department For Winter Season

The Twin Falls City Recreation Department has planned a number of activities to keep adults and children of the community busy during the winter months.

Chad Browning, recreation director, said the Knott basketball program, held here for several years, proves to be the most popular of the activities, with about 550 boys usually taking part. The adult basketball activities also are popular, with

Library Workshop Planned For Jerome On Tuesday

JEROME — Some 40 Magic Valley trustees, librarians and interested citizens are expected to attend a day-long library workshop here Tuesday.

The workshop is titled "Challenge of Trusteeship" and the trustees' role in libraries will be the theme this year, reports Mrs. Pat Klinger, Gooding, workshop chairman.

She said case studies of library problems relevant to Idaho will be presented in group discussions at the morning session, following a mock library board meeting.

The workshop will be held at 9:30 a.m. in the Jerome Public Library. Dr. James S. Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls, will discuss the library technician program at the college and the important role local public libraries can play in serving commuting students.

Presidents Of Colleges Eye Bond Laws

Legislation concerning sale of revenue bonds were discussed with presidents of Idaho colleges and universities met this week in Boise.

Dr. James L. Taylor, a member of the new President's Council and president of the College of Southern Idaho, said college administrators are concerned because present law sets a 6 percent interest rate ceiling on sale of bonds which will be paid back through revenue from the facility to be constructed with the funds.

Dr. Taylor said at present interest rates the 6 per cent limitation is not realistic. The college presidents hope in draft proposed legislation to present when the Idaho legislature convenes, an attorney from Boise State College presently is working on the matter.

Attending the meeting were college heads from CSI, College of Idaho, Northern Idaho State College, Northwest Nazarene College, Ricks College, Idaho State University, University of Idaho, and Idaho Falls College.

New Vaccine Aids Fight On Birth Defects

"The development of a vaccine against rubella (German measles) gives us one more preventive weapon in the fight to conquer birth defects," Rev. Delbert R. Remaley, pastor of the Kimberly United Methodist Church, said today.

The new vaccine and other preventive measures were the focus of a two-day March of Dimes program orientation meeting which Rev. Remaley presided Monday and Tuesday in Portland, Ore. He is chairman of the Twin Falls County Chapter of the National Foundation for the March of Dimes.

Another volunteer from Twin Falls County attending the meeting was Scott Nelson, son of Rev. and Mrs. William Claiborn, Kimberly. Scott is Twin Falls County chairman of the March of Dimes Teen Action Program.

According to Rev. Remaley, the 1964-65 epidemic of rubella damaged or destroyed some 50,000 American babies during pregnancy. At the meeting approximately 250 volunteers from 14 a.h.g., Oregon, Washington, Montana and Alaska learned from national leaders how they can help prevent another epidemic by assisting in immunization programs and medical education in their communities. A. McCuskey is medical director of the local chapter.

Remaley said that many boys and girls between one year of age and puberty as possible are vaccinated against rubella. If children cannot catch rubella, they cannot spread it to pregnant women," Rev. Remaley said.

Scientists at 111 March of Dimes Birth Defects Center are studying the causes and prevention of birth defects, as well as the improvements of diagnostic, treatment and rehabilitation techniques. The national voluntary health organization also offers professional and public health education and patient community services.

The nearest birth defect center to Twin Falls is the Primary Children's Hospital in Salt Lake City. Further information regarding this program can be obtained by contacting Rev. Remaley, Dr. McCuskey or Peggy Morgan, secretary of the local chapter. Miss Morgan also is from Kimberly.

Film Version Of 'Hello, Dolly' To Be Released

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — After more than a year's delay, the film version of "Hello, Dolly!" will be released this December, 20th Century-Fox studios announced Thursday.

The motion picture, starring Barbra Streisand, was completed in August, 1968, but was held back due to contract disputes between the studio and Broadway producer David Merrick.

"Hello, Dolly!" is the second longest-running musical in New York theatrical history (first at 7 years in "My Fair Lady") and is now in its sixth year with an all-Negro cast.

Poll Shows Gun Control Law Disliked

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressmen Orval Hansen (R-Idaho) said a poll of the residents of his district shows strong opposition to the gun control law passed by Congress last year.

Rep. Hansen said of those who responded to a questionnaire throughout the district, 62 per cent said the law and regulations relating to firearms that were adopted in 1968 were "too restrictive." Nine per cent felt the law was not strict enough, while 20 per cent said they were about right. Nine per cent of those responding expressed no opinion on the law.

Many objected to the 1968 gun control law on the grounds that it placed an unnecessary burden on the sportsmen without affecting criminals," Rep. Hansen said. "Others said the regulation of firearms should be the subject of state rather than federal action."

"There were strong objections to the regulations under the new law requiring the registration of ammunition, particularly for sporting ammunition," Rep. Hansen said. "I am pleased at the action taken in the Senate last week removing sporting ammunition from the registration requirements of the gun control law. I am hopeful we will be able to obtain House approval of this proposal."

Congressman Hansen has introduced a bill in the House similar to the measure approved by the Senate.

Navajos May Get Federal Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navajos got a boost this week when the House and Senate reauthorized differences on the Interior appropriations bill. Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., said. "The measure contains $3.5 million for the Navajo Indian Irrigation project."

President Nixon had asked only for $3.5 million, but Congress cannot spend more than the $2 million total appropriation to date for the long-range project has been $28.3 million, Montoya said, and is lagging far behind schedule.

Defense Attorney Expects Conviction In Chicago Trial

CHICAGO (UPI)—A defense attorney in the trial of eight men charged with inciting violence at the Democratic National Convention said the court it looks like an "armed camp" and said he expects his clients to be convicted.

Tom Hayden, say on the eve of the convention that antiwar demonstrators need "an army and guns" and that another, Ronald Davis, told the demonstrators, "Go down to the Loop and burst it up—tie up traffic and so forth. If the police battle us, just riot."

Under cross-examination, Oklepek said he heard leaders of the mobilization committee say repeatedly they wished to avoid violence but that they expected violence from Chicago police.

Sightseers

THURLESTON, England (UPI)—The quarterly electric bills for a nudist camp in western England ranged from alarmingly high to amazingly low. Curious, the camp secretary started asking questions.

The Southwestern Electric Board held an inquiry which revealed the regular meter reader for the camp had been renting his official cap and badge to friends for 30 cents.

Friends were more interested in the rights inside the camp than in meter reading and had erroneously jotted down figures on the meter dials.

Matchmaker Foiled By Biology

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UPI)—It seemed like a good idea to mate a duck with her drake. But if Ypsilanti woman ran afoul of both the law and biology.

The unidentified woman took the duck from the pond at the seventh hole of the Washtenaw County Club golf course and took it home as companionship for her drake.

But the ducknaper was spotted by another woman who quickly wrote down the license number of her car and phoned Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies to report the fished fowl.

When confronted by police, the woman said she only wanted to "borrow" the duck to mate with her drake. Both were found in a pond behind her apartment swimming placidly and ignoring each other.

The published duck was returned to the country club pond and the dejected matchmaker admitted it wouldn't have worked anyway since the "duke" also was a drake.

"I can't tell one-dara duck from another," she said.

Power Official Warns Of Shooting At Power Lines

BURLEY—Shooting at electrical system facilities and equipment is a deadly practice," says Lee Bonner, the Power Administration Area Manager, stated today.

"Power line insulators and even power lines have been shot down by hunters in the Burley area which is served by the Unity Light and Power Co.," stated John Jones, manager for Unity Light and Power Co.

"Each fall the crews spend several days repairing damage created by hunters," Mr. Jones stated.

"The electrocution of a young man recently near Lewisville, who, with a companion, was shooting at power line insulators confirms the serious nature of his activity," Mr. Lee said.

"Six insulators attached to a power pole were destroyed by the two shooters. In the process a live power line dropped on the victim, electrocuting him instantaneously," the official added.

Mr. Lee said death by electrocution can result without direct contact between a human and high voltage power equipment. As an example, a power line dropping near a human can be deadly.

"Thoughtless destruction of power system equipment is totally unjustified, especially when the dangers and costs are considered. The shooter is not only losing with his own life but also jeopardizes the lives of others," Mr. Lee stated.

He added, "When a bullet knocks out a power system an entire community or area can be paralyzed. Essential and emergency services such as medical, law enforcement, communications and transportation can be curtailed or stopped. The lives of many people especially the elderly, ill, handicapped and very young may be placed in real danger."

In a day when inflation is rapidly taking its toll of personal and business income, any additional financial burden is devastating.

Locally with Unity Light and Power Co., the expense is very costly to repair the electrical systems," reported Mr. Jones.

"The costs of replacement of equipment and electrical system equipment destroyed by lightning are paid by power users many lines, including the shooter."

CLEVELAND MAYOR Carl B. Stokes, left, and U.S. Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., enjoy a hearty laugh prior to Sen. Bayh's speech at a Democratic Party political rally in Cleveland Thursday, honoring the mayor, who is seeking re-election. About 1,000 persons heard Sen. Bayh urge the re-election of Mayor Stokes. ### Careless GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UPI)—Four men were arrested at a Great Falls hotel early Thursday after breaking into a grocery store.

Police apprehended the suspects by following a trail of broken eggs from the store to the hotel.

Police Chief Clayton Bain described the quartet as "inept, to say the least."

Gooding County Sued Over Contract On New Hospital

GOODING—Fifth District Judge Charles Scoggin is expected to set a hearing date soon on a suit being brought against the Gooding county board of commissioners and Dyke Walton Construction Co., Salt Lake City, over an alleged breach of contract in the construction of the new county hospital.

According to a suit filed in district court here by Park Electric, Idaho Falls, and Brigham Motel Products, Pocatello, the two sub-contractors contend the Walton firm and the commissioners acted illegally in excluding their bids for the new hospital which is now under construction.

Their bids were listed with the Walton firm main bid, but when the contract was signed, Babbitt Electric was given the sub-contract, according to the suit.

The foundation of the new Gooding Memorial Hospital has been completed and the walls are being started.

The county commission and the Walton firm are represented by Andy James, Gooding county prosecuting attorney, and the Park and Brigham firms are represented by Fred Hahn, Idaho Falls, and Robert Bennett, Pocatello.

Ben Glauser, one of the county commissioners, said the commission was not familiar of the legal details of the suit.

Autopsy Plea Said 'Unfair' To Kopechne

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI)—Attorneys for the parents of Mary Jo Kopechne contended Thursday that performing an autopsy on the girl's body three months after her death could add "new charges and suspicions" to the case.

In a legal brief filed here, the lawyers for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne argued an autopsy would be "grossly offensive" to the parents and would be "prejudicial to their wishes, sensitivities, health and well-being."

The brief was filed in preparation for a hearing next Monday on a Massachusetts request for the autopsy. Mary Jo Kopechne died when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car plunged off a bridge at Chappaquiddick Island, Mass., on July 18.

COMMONSATS TO VISIT WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two Russian commonsats will arrive in New York Monday for a two-week visit in the United States.

The U.S. space agency announced Thursday. They are Maj. Gen. Georgiy Beregovoy, who made a space flight a year ago, and Konstantin Fedalov, a scientist who flew with two companions in October, 1964. She was 63.

Sunken Vessel Of Spanish To Be Raised In Pacific

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (UPI)—Efforts to raise a sunken Spanish vessel, believed to be Cortez treasure ship Trinidad, will begin Saturday 3,500 feet off the California Coast.

Remains of the ship, believed to contain $12 million in gold, coins, and artifacts, were discovered several weeks ago by Wilfred Takasate, a professional diver.

Takasate said he contracted with American Mining & Development Co. to raise the vessel, buried in five feet of sand and silt. He said the company owns a barge equipped with a suction device to clear the sand and silt from around the ship.

PRINCESS DIES KONSTANZ, Germany (UPI)—Princess Theodora of Baden, sister of Britain's Prince Phillip, died in a sanatorium at nearby Bussingen Thursday, a spokesman for the family said today.

Catholic Liberals Gain Upper Hand In Demanding More Authority For Bishops

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—World Synod of Bishops was all but dead under the strong liberal attack for more authority.

Roman Catholic conservatives Thursday defended a powerful Papacy but church sources said the Vatican's agenda for the Ecumenical Council which started the process of reform in Catholicism.

Candidate At Rupert Hits Tax Proposal

RUPERT—A candidate for the Rupert city council, Bill Whitton, has gone on record to oppose the proposed one per cent income tax on those working within the city limits.

The church sources said there was a strong possibility the synod would be followed early next year by a Vatican-called world assembly of priests to discuss such questions as whether priests should be permitted to marry.

The conservative bishops lauded a counterattack against the liberal onslaught for bishops.

Danielou said the council brought forth great fruits but also a crisis in the Western world, with priests going astray, the faith of youth weakened and moral and spiritual life in decline.

To meet the crisis, he said, the church needs a "firm, united authority" and an ultimate union of bishops with the Pope.

The Brazilian bishop, who heads the Latin American Episcopal Conference, said the ecumenical council brought forth both fruit and weeds, he urged greater dialogue between Pope and bishops, and among Thursday's synod debate the bishops.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN DUREN

DEAR ABBY: Every time a letter appears in your column from someone who HATES cigarettes, and puts down cigarette smokers, my husband accuses me of writing it. You had such a letter in your column recently and since I got the "credit" for writing it, even though I didn't, I am now putting in my two cents worth.

I'll never in the form of a DEAR ABBY letter.

DEAR ABBY: If all your lovely new furniture already has cigarette burns in it, and your husband always smells like he's been fighting a fire in a tobacco warehouse, and the smell of stale-tobacco on his breath kills all inspiration for romance, are those sufficient grounds for divorce?

My husband's KISSES taste terrible. He is a very affectionate man—and he KNOWS how I feel about his kisses because I have told him that that is the reason for my holding out in the romance department, so WHY in Heaven's name does he continue to smoke?

HOLDING OUT

DEAR HOLDING OUT: Because your husband's poor kisses are "hooked" and thus far has been unable to kick the habit. But I don't recommend that "hook out" technique. He might turn to something (or someone) else.

DEAR ABBY: Last week my 22-year-old daughter came back from a two-week beach vacation. She went with two other girls from the office where she works. I happened to notice when she was drying herself after a shower that she was tan ALL OVER!

I commented on this, asking where she could get a sun tan without a bathing suit. She said an overnight "quick tan" lotion was responsible. He might turn to something (or someone) else.

DEAR SHOCKED: Your daughter is obviously not telling you the whole truth. Don't tell her father. What is needed now is a closer relationship between you and your daughter. Don't be critical of her, don't "punish" her and don't drive her away with threats and admonitions. A mother is helpless to help her daughter unless they remain good friends. And your daughter needs help.

DEAR ABBY: We have a 19-year-old son who causes us untold embarrassment by insisting, despite our pleas, on wearing loud, hippie-type clothes to dressy occasions such as weddings, parties, and church services.

Is there some way we can explain to our son that certain occasions demand normal attire? Are there other parents among your readers who have the same problem?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: A 19-year-old is too big to be dressed by his mother. Parents could spare themselves much "embarrassment" if they realized that they are not responsible for the dress or conduct of their adult offspring. We waste a lot of energy worrying about what the neighbors "think"—when the neighbors aren't even home!

CONFIDENTIAL TO DAVEY: You could have saved yourself a lot of trouble by marrying your second wife first!

Everybody has a problem. Write your letter to Abby, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lillas L. Rawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber F. Rawson, Pocatello, was married to Michael L. Talley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Talley, Twin Falls, in late August rites at the Idaho Falls LDS Temple.

The couple received wedding guests at a reception at the Pocatello Stakehouse before a white archway trimmed with yellow and bronze-colored chrysanthemums and flanked by a potted fern.

The bride wore a gown of aneu skin pead de soic and angel d'ange lace. The neckline carried an empire line of lace and was highlighted with pearls. The lace continued over the empire bodice, and the long sleeves were finished at the wrists with lace crescent designs. A wide band of lace with scallops and beaded pearls accented the hemline of the A-line skirt. The chapel train was a full waltz with lace tulle. Her veil was held by a headpiece of lace and pearls, with pearls and shells placed on the forehead. A white rose corsage centered her bouquet of white carnations.

The three-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Austin Walker, Declo, was centered on a large mirror. It was decorated in the bride's colors of pink and white and featured scalloped plastic butterflies and linked wedding bands and was topped with a pair of love birds. The refreshment table was decorated with pink Peace roses and white candles. The room decor was completed by large banks of pink and white pompons.

The couple will reside in Heyburn.

Farm AND Ranch

PAUSING BRIEFLY while driving several hundred head of cattle down from the high country north of Glens Ferry is Bob Irving, Hammett, a rider for the Mule Shoe Bar Ranch.

Mule Shoe Cattle Trailed From Mountains

By ROBERT VANAUDELN
Times-News Farm Editor

This is the time of year the leaves turn colors and fall from trees; nights turn cold, and farmers are busy getting their crops in.

This also is the time of year when days of the Old West are revived — for this is time of year cattlemen trail their herds down from the high country to fall pastures.

Although many cattlemen truck their cattle down from the high country, there are a few who still trail them down from the mountain tops, through canyons and draws to the lower country where they will graze the rest of the fall. One of these cattlemen who still trails his herd is Carl Houtberg, manager of the Mule Shoe Bar Ranch, Hammett.

Mr. Houtberg and several riders have just finished trailing between 600 and 700 head down from Bennett Mountain, north of Glens Ferry, to the lower rangeland near Hammett. Mr. Houtberg said at first he planned to truck these 600-700 head down from the mountain, but decided to trail them instead. He will bring the rest of his cattle down from the mountain later this month. There is about 1,300 head still up high in the Bennett mountain area.

COMING DOWN from the high country near Bennett Mountain, north of Glens Ferry, are Mule Shoe Bar Ranch cattle. More than 600 head were trailed down to lower rangeland recently by Carl Houtberg, manager of the ranch. Later this month the cattle, nearly 1,200, will be trailed down

Move For Ceiling Limit On Subsidies Killed By House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon Administration scored a temporary victory when the House bucked off its earlier requirement to limit crop subsidies to big farmers to $20,000 per farm.

On a close vote recently, the House killed, 181 to 177, a move by Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., to force House conferees to insist on the $20,000 ceiling in a showdown with Senate conferees over farm appropriations.

Last May, the House voted 224 to 142 over White House opposition to set a $20,000 limit on subsidies, which run up to several million dollars a farm in some cases. Backers of a ceiling say they might insist on another vote if the compromise farm bill emerges from a Senate-House conference with no subsidy limit. The Senate earlier refused to write in a limit in its $7.6 billion farm appropriations bill. A year ago, the House passed a $20,000 limit, only to have Senate conferees delete it from the final bill. Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, knowing pressure for a ceiling is strong in congress, was careful not to insist that the ceiling be blocked. But he made clear he had studied at the agricultural department showing the most efficient way to apply any limit would be on a graduated "scale-down basis," rather than with a flat cutoff at $20,000 or some other figure. The House alternative, there would be no limit on payments to farmers operating a family-sized unit of production such as 400 acres of corn, 200 acres of wheat or 200 acres of cotton. For each additional unit of production, the payment due the farmer would be scaled down by 10 per cent until a zero point was reached. On an 800-acre corn farm, for instance, the grower would get a full subsidy payment on his first 400 acres plus 90 per cent of the regular subsidy on the second 400 acres.

Maximum subsidies under the plan might range up to $80,000 to $100,000 per farm. A second alternative plan would put no limitation on subsidies to feed grain growers and would exempt wheat and cotton growers from limitations on the first 50 per cent of their subsidies.

On the second half, a limit of $5,000 or so might be applied. Thus, a cotton farmer normally eligible for $30,000 in subsidies would wind up with $20,000; a grower normally eligible for $1 million would be cut to $400,000. The studies said use of a graduated system would reduce pressure on farmers to sell off acreage affected by a flat payment limit. Armed with alternatives to present law, Hardin dolborately did not ask congress to write any per-farm subsidy limit into the new farm program he outlined to the House Agriculture Committee in September. For the moment, they are going along with him.

Another Beef Evaluation Program Is Planned Here

Tentative plans have been set for the 1969-70 Magic Valley Cattlemen's Association Beef Evaluation Program. According to Rollie Patrick, Three Creek, president, the tentative weigh-in for the steers will be Dec. 6.

This evaluation program is being conducted for the second time, more simplified and will be vital to all Magic Valley cattlemen, whether cow-calf operator and feeder, etc. This program is to help promote the beef industry and for educational values to the individual cattlemen.

Mr. Patrick said each cattleman can see how his own steers do during the entire program, from the time they enter the feedlot to the time they are slaughtered.

Committees Named By Area Grange

Twin Falls. Mr. Patrick said this written commitment is needed because 150 if there is to be a large number of steers in the program, there may be two weight classes to enter the program. He stressed that the minimum number of animals to be entered by any individual or firm is five. After the steers are weighed in on Dec. 6, Mr. Patrick said, they will be put on a 100-day growth feed and then onto full feed ration for at least 120 days, but not more than 150 days. ### Social Security Question Box

If you have any questions about your Social Security, address them to Jim Davis, P.O. Box 1239, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

Q. My husband became ill 3 months ago. We did not inquire about disability benefits because we both thought he would be able to return to work. Now he is in the hospital and will be there for several months. Does he have to wait until he is out of the hospital before he can apply?

A. No, it wouldn't be necessary for him to wait until he can come to the social security office. Although benefits cannot begin until the seventh month of disability, you should get in touch with your social security office immediately. A representative of the office will visit your husband at the hospital or you could come in and give us all the necessary information regarding your husband's disability and take the forms out to him for his signature.

Q. I am receiving social security benefits as a student attending college full time. What will happen to my benefits if I take a year off to work and then return to college?

A. Your social security benefits can be resumed when you go back to school if you are still under 22 years of age, providing you are a full-time student, unmarried, and not earning too much.

Q. I am the youngest child in my family. I live at home with my mother who is 43 years old. My mother has been receiving monthly social security benefits. Will my mother's benefits stop when I reach age 18?

A. Benefits for your mother will stop when you have reached the age of 18. This is true even though you might receive student's benefits up until age 22. At age 60, your mother can decide whether she wants to receive a reduced widow's benefit or wait until she is age 62 when she can receive a full widow's benefit. The amount at age 60 is approximately 75 percent less than she would receive at age 62. However, if your mother is severely disabled, she might qualify to receive benefits as a disabled widow as early as age 50.

right was named the winner of the least amount of paper used and the girl third from right was the winner of most modern fashion. Some 60 4-H'ers from 30 Idaho counties attended the two-day meeting.

Idaho 4-H'ers Attend Meet; Tour Area

Some 60 4-H'ers from throughout Idaho, left Twin Falls recently with a better understanding of community pride, a project under way throughout the state by the 4-H organization to beautify Idaho.

The 60 4-H'ers represented 30 Idaho counties and after hearing several talks on community pride, they planned an Idaho scenic tour at Shoshone Falls Park, looked at a community pride project at Buhl by the Sunnyside Livestock 4-H Club, toured the Snake River Trout Farm and then enjoyed a fish fry, sponsored by the Buhl Catholic Women's Association.

While touring the Snake River Trout Farm, Tony Horn, University of Idaho extension horticulturist, pointed out to the 4-H'ers the landscaping around the hatchery by Howard Tankersley, owner and operator of the hatchery, has done.

The two-day conference was sponsored by the Standard Company of California, in cooperation with the University of Idaho extension service. Some of the speakers during the conference were Howard Tankersley, Boise, city and rural development leader, extension service; Mr. Horn; O. J. Kukul, editor of the Times-News; Jim Johnson, Moscow, extension editor; John Rountree, San Francisco, public relations specialist for Standard Oil Co.; R. E. Ball, Pocatello, district sales manager for Chevron Oil Co.

The American Association of Nurserymen has provided some suggestions on the subject which will contribute to the success of the planting and the future beauty of the plants.

Choose the location of the rose bed with care, advise the nurseryman. Put the roses where you can see them frequently, enjoy them intimately, and care for them conveniently. Plant them as far as possible from any big shrubs or trees. Roses need privacy, because they just can't compete with other roots for the moisture and food they need to survive.

Roses like the sunlight for about six hours — at least for half the day. Morning sun seems best, and some types of roses burn or bleach under hot afternoon sun.

The planting hole should be 15 to 18 inches wide for each rose plant, even if the roots don't look as though they require that much space.

The depth of the hole should be just enough to bring the bud union (the bulge where the main stem starts) about level with the surface soil.

In the center of the bottom of the hole there should be a mound of soil over which the roots of the plant will be spread. Hold the bush in the center of the hole and spread the roots out, then work in fine soil until the hole is about half full and press it down firmly. Pour in half a bucket of water around each bush, and when it settles replace the rest of the soil.

The continuing care required by roses is mainly food and water. A "complete" plant food, high in phosphorus, is recommended. The American Association of Nurserymen warns that the lawn fertilizers, with their high nitrogen content results in tender wood and short-lived blooms.

The water is even more important than food. Ideally, roses should get about an inch of rainfall a week, and if nature doesn't do the job be sure that you do.

Later this year you'll want to "winterize" your roses. In the case of bushes, that means preparing a hill of soil banked against the base of the plant to a height of 8 to 10 inches. If you have tree roses, wrap the top in burlap and the trunk in heavy paper.

Fall Planting Can Be Just Right For Roses

There's a springtime sort of pleasure this season of the year for gardeners who discover that autumn is a good time to begin growing roses. Wherever winter temperatures rarely go below zero, fall planting is right for roses of most types.

Choose the location of the rose bed with care, advise the nurseryman. Put the roses where you can see them frequently, enjoy them intimately, and care for them conveniently. Plant them as far as possible from any big shrubs or trees. Roses need privacy, because they just can't compete with other roots for the moisture and food they need to survive.

Horse Shows To Highlight Golden Spike Stock Show

OGDEN — Appaloosa horses, the breed with the color patterns that is gaining popularity among western horse fanciers, will be the lead-off attraction for the 51st annual Golden Spike National Livestock Show.

One of the highlights of this year's two-day Appaloosa show, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 will be the crowning of the Utah Appaloosa Horse Club Queen for 1970 by this year's queen, Sylvia Shaw.

Over 35 classes of competition, at halter and performance, are listed for the expected 20-plus Appaloosa entries.

There also is a special Appaloosa youth show scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. No. 2. Wind-up events will begin at 7:30 p.m. with trophy presentations for champion performance horses to follow.

One major difference in this year's show will be in the premiums offered. Rather than a set amount in each class, the purse will be $25 with all entry fees added. The purse will be $40, $30, $20 and $10 per cent with ribbons to the first five places.

Another event this year will be the Golden Spike "Speed Bred" Appaloosa yearling sale, sponsored by the Utah Appaloosa Horse Racing Association. Thirty head of the top speed bred Appaloosa yearlings in the nation will be auctioned off during the sale.

All yearlings sold in the sale are nominated for next summer's Golden Spike Appaloosa Futurity and only yearlings sold in the sale are eligible to run. Estimated purse for the futurity is $8,000.

Further information concerning the sale should be directed to the Utah Appaloosa Horse Racing Association, Dan Bell, Dalton, president, 2393 W. 800 N., West Point, Utah, or Maurice Arbuckle, secretary, Box 63, Woods Cross, Utah.

This year's stock show will run from Oct. 31 through Nov. 15 with four free days, Nov. 3 and 4 and Nov. 9 and 10. Draft Horses and Shetland Ponies will take over the show Nov. 4 with Paint Horses performing Nov. 5.

Nov. 6 through 8 will be for Quarter Horses with the Rocky Mountain Rodeo Association finals scheduled each night.

Livestock will be shown and sold Nov. 11 through Nov. 15 with the World Champion Miniature Rodeo scheduled Nov. 14 and 15.

Officials predict more than 300 entries, coming from several states, will be seen in the Quarter Horse division — oldest and largest of the equine events — of the 51st annual Golden Spike Livestock Show.

Hosts for the Oct. 27 meeting are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wartz, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stornemets and John Kral.

Grapes Estimated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agriculture department has forecast grape production at 3.8 million tons, about 8 per cent above 1968. The forecast is virtually unchanged from that of one month ago.

The 1969 forecast for all California grapes was 1,520,000 tons compared with 1968 production of 3,255,000 tons.

Averages Are Released For Local Herds

There were 20 herds with 1,089 cows on production testing in August, in Unit No. 2 in the Twin Falls County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, according to the Twin Falls County agent, Donald F. Youtz.

Testing supervisor, Bill Lamp, Filer, reports that 20 herds in the unit totaled 1,089 cows on test with 923 milking and 165 dry cows.

Mr. Youtz said that all records are being processed at the Washington State University Computer Processing Center. He said that monthly production is being reported as daily average production for milk and butterfat, and not total monthly production as previously reported.

Youtz also stated that the daily average production is for all cows in the herd, including dry cows, not just cows that are milking.

The following daily average production figures, listing number of cows milking, total cows, average daily milk production and average daily butterfat production are:

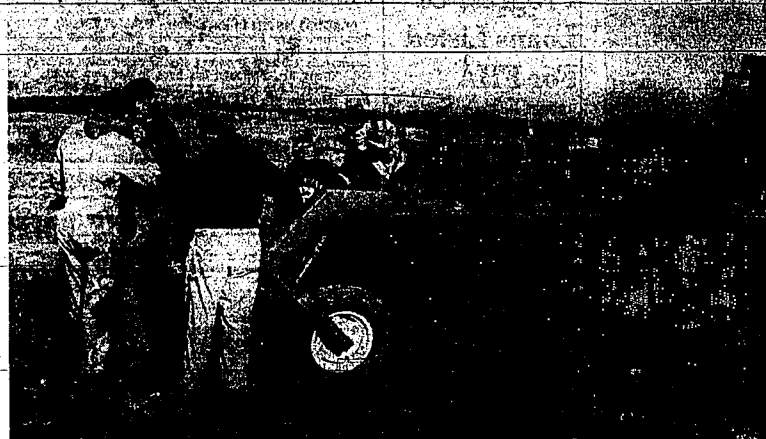

Everett Andrews, Filer, 57, 63, 43.9; and 1.54; Burton Baughman, Buhl, 16, 21, 34.1, and 1.14; Gary Custer, Twin Falls, 74, 81, 41.5 and 1.32; Gaylord Drown, Filer, 39, 42, 46.5, and 1.67; Irwin Ehlers, Twin Falls, 50, 66, 47.2, and 1.35; L and R Enterprises, Buhl, 69, 87, 34.7 and 1.23, and Gary and Harvey Grindstaff, Buhl, 50, 58, 40.4, and 1.43.

CAMAS PRAIRIE farmers and ranchers watch demonstration by area equipment dealers on how their latest tillage equipment works on the land in Camas Prairie. This demonstration took place during the recent Tillage Day festivity at the Lee Barron farm; Nearly 100 farmers and ranchers attended the annual event.

ONE OF MANY pieces of farm equipment demonstrated during the recent annual Tillage Day festivity at Fairfield was this five-bottom plow. Here some Camas Prairie farmers and ranchers examine the plow and some work it has done on the Lee Barron place, southwest of Fairfield.

Along Fences And Canals

Marley-area farmer, Delmar Hardy, got what every farmer hopes for, a better crop than he had been expecting. When Delmar's 28 acres of beans were frosted this spring he was so disappointed his wife said that was the last year of raising beans on their ranch. One reason was the frost had hit each year for eight years. Frost struck again in late summer—seeming to skip other ranches and just hit Delmar's beans. Then after he cut the beans it rained on them. Halfway inclined to not even have them harvested, Delmar did go ahead and have them threshed, cleaned, and stored. The big surprise came when he learned they had averaged 28 sacks to the acre with dockage of three to four per cent. Last year he had been docked 18 per cent. Delmar raised pinto beans and neighbors won't be surprised if he keeps right on raising beans.

Eyle Deeds, Richfield, finished threshing pinto and pink beans Saturday just ahead of a skiff of snow which fell that night. His pink beans averaged 14 sacks to the acre.

Bob Tupper, Hagerman, has completed his fourth crop of hayling. Some third crop hay is still in the fields because of rain.

The Bradshaw Ranch at Tuttle is preparing sagebrush ground for planting and barnyard fertilizer is being hauled from the corrals.

Discussions Are Held By 4-H Leaders

BURLEY — Carolyn Barnes, Cassia County Extension Home Economics Agent led a discussion on an Achievement Day during the 4-H Leaders Council meeting held recently at the courthouse.

Achievement awards were discussed and the achievement meeting was set for 7 p.m. Nov. 22, with a covered dish dinner. The meeting place will be announced.

The best boy and girl awards will be chosen by a committee. Each 4-H member over 14 years old are to fill out a form furnished by the county agent on what projects they have completed, awards received and their club activities.

Wayne Cole, Cassia County agricultural extension agent led a discussion on the building of the 4-H cabins. Plans are to build four cabins plus a cook cabin and the work has been done on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays and help is needed to complete the project.

A fund campaign was discussed. It was announced a special meeting for livestock club leaders will be called in the near future.

Farm Equipment Demonstrated At Fairfield

By ROBERT VANAUSELIN, Times-News Farm Editor.

FAIRFIELD — It was a typical October day recently on the Camas Prairie — cool and brisk — when nearly 100 area farmers and ranchers turned out for the area's annual Tillage Day festivity.

Sponsored by the Camas Soil Conservation District and the Camas Wheat Growers Association, the activity for the day started with demonstrations by farm implement dealers from Boise, Jerome, Hammett, Filer and Fairfield.

The implement dealers showed the Camas Prairie farmers and ranchers how the new farm equipment works for dry land farming. The demonstrations took place on the Lee Barron place, southwest of here.

A special attraction in the line of farm equipment was a DS caterpillar, specially designed for dryland farming. Other types of equipment demonstrated were a five-bottom plow, eight-bottom plow, a disc and spring-tooth type tiller, plus new tractors.

During the afternoon, the group met in a storage shed at the Barron farm to hear talks by Martin Wise, a cereal chemist at the Aberdeen experiment station, and Bill Hascher, agronomist with the SCS at Boise.

Wise spoke on quality testing of wheat for making bread and cookies as well as on the Bolivian wheat industry. He has just returned from Bolivia where he spent two months.

Mr. Hascher spoke on minimum tillage. Dr. Dale Westerman, Snake River Conservation Research Center at Kimberly, spoke briefly on alfalfa culture.

This event is held annually in the fall so area farmers and ranchers can see the latest tillage equipment in action as well as for the dealers to show off their equipment.

Best way to beat cheatgrass,

mustard and shepherdspurse in your alfalfa

is with a spray, this fall, of Princep® brand of simazine herbicide.

With Princep, you can turn a field of weedy alfalfa into a clean stand again. You get more TDN value from your hay. Reduce off-flavor problems in milk and give that stand a longer, more vigorous life span.

You can spray Princep anytime after the first killing frost. Winter moisture carries Princep down into the soil to pick off weeds as they germinate... right through next spring and summer.

Not only does Princep get cheatgrass (June grass), mustard, and shepherdspurse, it gets most other annual broadleaf and grassy weeds as well. Weeds that can infest, take over and eventually ruin a good alfalfa stand.

Your return on the investment in one spray of Princep is clear cut. Better quality hay which will help you get more pounds of milk if you're a dairyman... a higher daily rate gain if you're raising cattle... cleaner, higher quality hay if you're selling the crop.

So make this the year you turn your weedy alfalfa into pure alfalfa again... with Princep.

Order Issued On Filled Milk Rules

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department today issued an order, which will be submitted to dairy farmers for approval, on the regulation of dairy ingredients for filled milk.

Filled milk is a beverage containing either fresh liquid skim milk or skim milk reconstituted from nonfat dry milk, with added vegetable fat or oil in place of natural butterfat. Filled milk would be classified as Class I (fluid milk) under all federal milk marketing orders.

Filled milk is a cheaper grade of milk, not widely sold in American markets for consumer use, but frequently used as a feed grain mixture.

The adoption of the milk order is subject to the approval of at least two-thirds of dairy farmers serving the 67 milk marketing order areas voting through their cooperative associations.

The federal milk marketing orders set minimum prices that milk handlers or dealers must pay farmers from whom they buy milk. The orders do not set retail prices.

Honored

DENVER — W. D. Farr, Greeley, Colo., was presented the Animal Agriculture Award by the American Meat Institute (AMI) at its 84th Annual Convention dinner in Chicago.

Farr, first vice president of the Denver-based American National Cattlemen's Association (ANCA), is an internationally-known cattle feeder. He has studied techniques here and abroad to perfect feeding programs for various types of cattle designed to produce "specific" carcasses which he hopes will stimulate and expand consumer acceptance and consumption of beef.

FEED PRICES UP
BOISE — Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says Idaho farmers paid more for feed in Sept. it than a month earlier.

Changes Eyed On Procedure Of Importing Breeding Cattle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — By the time an American redhead can get through the red tape of importing cattle for breeding, the animals could well be into middle age.

One Congressman considers the situation a billion dollar loss to the American ranching and dairy industries.

Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., wants to change that with a bill to set up a United States quarantine station for imported breeding cattle.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., is sponsoring the Senate version.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has yet to give official approval, so no hearing has been set in congressional committee.

"It is almost impossible to bring animals from another country into this country," Dr. R. E. Hodson of the USDA said. Dr. R. J. Anderson, deputy administrator of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, explains how it is done, using France as an example.

"An unvaccinated calf less than 6 months old in a country that has been free of hoof-and-mouth disease at least a year is eligible. The animal has first observation and quarantine in the place of origin, then at Brest, France, then on Grosbois in Canada. Then, because Canada has an embargo at present, only the male offspring of the

Record Crop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The agriculture department has estimated the 1969-70 crop of early, mid-season and novel oranges at 102.2 million boxes, a record crop up 12 per cent over last year.

It also is 11 per cent above the previous record set in 1966-67.

Florida's crop is a record 81 million boxes, up 16 per cent over last season.

State Grange Aide Speaks At King Hill

KING HILL — Mrs. Merle Hansen, Meridian, state Grange youth chairman, was guest speaker at the King Hill Grange's booster night.

She spoke on the importance of the youth in the community joining the Junior Grange. She also urged members to encourage the youth to attend the Grange Youth Summer Camp at Donnelly, even if they are not children of Grange members.

Several flute selections were given by Tamara Sherman with Mrs. Karl Andersson as accompanist. Frank Jones gave a brief history of the King Hill Grange and community service projects while Mrs. Hester explained the women's activities group projects during 1969.

Several vocal selections were given by Sherry Carla and Ardelia Rubery with Carla accompanying them on the electric organ.

Guests were from Millwaukie, Hermiston, Ore., Mountain Home and Meridian.

Progress Of Loans Listed For FHA

BOISE — "Farm families in Idaho borrowed $11,655,990 in operating loans from the Farmers Home Administration in fiscal year 1969, Donald Winder, FHA state director, reports.

A total of 1,235 families in Idaho used credit from the agency to assist them in making adjustments in their operations.

"During the past year," Winder said, "operating loans have enabled Idaho farmers to modernize their farming operations, raise their incomes and give families a higher standard of living."

Operating loans are made to meet farm operating costs, to finance machinery, equipment and livestock and for refinancing debts.

They can also be used to develop recreational facilities or other non-farm enterprises which will supplement farm income.

A recent national survey showed that farmers using the operating loan credit program have increased their gross cash income from $10,459 in the year before they received the loan to $16,241 in the past crop year.

Farmers' net worth rose from $13,081 in the year before the loan to $17,880 in the past crop year.

Winder said FHA operating loans appeared to be of particular benefit to three groups of farmers in Idaho:

- Young farmers who have an opportunity to assume farming operations of older farmers wanting to retire.
- Farmers who need credit to make major changes in their farming operations to do a successful job of farming.
- Part-time farmers who receive part of their income from an outside source but needing operating credit to increase their income from their farming operations.

In all cases, an FHA county supervisor helps farmers to develop a farm and home plan to effectively utilize available resources and increase their income.

Tax Law May Lack Power To Enforce

BOISE (UPI) — A controversial new law which puts a 4 percent ceiling on revenue increases by local units of government apparently lacks teeth for enforcement. Chairman Luther T. Passmore of the State Tax Commission said that it appears at least six such jurisdictions have failed to stay within the limitation and apparently nothing can be done about it. He said commission records indicated that the Kootenai Hospital District and the cities of Dalton, Hayden, Rathdrum, Ashton and Salmon have exceeded the limit set by the legislature. Passmore said there may be others but that his office has not received mill levy certifications from all counties. He said an assistant attorney general told the commission this week that it has no authority to force local taxing units to stay within the limitation.

Mom Mourns While U.S. Demonstrates

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Alfred Gonzalez, joined the Marines and volunteered to go to Vietnam over his mother's wishes. "I wanted him to go to college," Dolla Gonzalez said, shaking her head as she glancing at a picture of her son, dressed in full battle dress. "But ever since he was 8 or 9, he had this idea of being a Marine. He finished high school on Wednesday and on Saturday he had joined the Marines. Why? I really don't know." Mrs. Gonzalez, a widow, made no special plans for Wednesday—Memorial Day. Her son was killed Feb. 4, 1968, during the Tet offensive and she had no desire to demonstrate for or against the war. She only wanted to forget. Marine Capt. James O'Reilly of Camp Carroll did have an assignment however. He drove to Edinburg Wednesday to inform Mrs. Gonzalez her son was awarded the Medal of Honor. "You try to push it into the back of your mind and now this takes me back," she said. "I'm a little bit shaken up. It was quite a surprise." Capt. O'Reilly did not know why her son won the medal. Mrs. Gonzalez did not even know her son was nominated for the nation's highest military award. But Capt. O'Reilly could tell her that she would go to Washington Oct. 30 and President Nixon would personally present the medal.

DISSOLVES MARRIAGE LOS ANGELES (UPI)—

burlesque queen Tomsett Storm has stripped herself of her fourth husband, singer Herb Jeffries. Several transfers and replacements of Idaho State Police officers within District No. 4 have taken place in recent weeks, according to Lt. Dean Bennett. S. D. Luickert, who has been supervisor of the Hollister Port of Entry for several years, has assumed a position with the motor vehicle inspection bureau of the Department of Law Enforcement. He will make his home in Twin Falls and will be in charge of that area. Replacing him as supervisor at the port is Cpl. C. K. Hillman, who has been a patrolman in Madia Valley for several years.

Pending

GOODING — Leslie Hewitt, accused of murdering Ira Treadwell more than 14 years ago, is still awaiting a preliminary hearing here. His hearing had been set for Sept. 15, but Mr. Hewitt was hospitalized with a cold and remained in the hospital until Sept. 27. The hearing was postponed and it has not been re-set. On March 26 Sheriff Earl Brown found human bones on Mr. Treadwell's property. Mr. Treadwell disappeared in 1954 and it was thought the bones might be his remains. On March 27, Mr. Hewitt and his wife were arrested in Ogden, Utah, and charged with first degree murder. Mrs. Hewitt died in the county jail May 19.

A contract with Cain's Furniture was approved for installation of refrigerators, electric ranges, washer and dryer under the Frigidaire replacement plan. Such equipment is to be replaced every year for five years with minimum installation charges for each item. A request was approved from David Pöllingstad, music director, for additional instruments and music.

Actor LaRocque Dies At Home

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Rod LaRocque, heartthrob of millions of female moviegoers in the 1950s and whose career spanned the silent and talkie eras, is dead at the age of 70. LaRocque, who appeared in films until the late 1940s, died Oct. 16, 1969, at his home following a brief illness. ## REDS CONDEMNED WASHINGTON (UPI)—

The State Department says North Vietnam's suggestion the wives of American prisoners of war be permitted to visit U.S. war policy is an "outrageous attempt to exploit grief." Donald Hebert, formerly supervisor of the King Hill Port of Entry, is replacing Cpl. Hillman. Leslie R. Stimpson has joined the District 4 squad and will work at the Hollister Port of Entry, replacing Floyd Robinson, recently named Idaho State Liquor Law Enforcement officer for Twin Falls, Cassia, Blaine and Jerome counties. Cpl. Bill Green has transferred from Blackfoot, District No. 5, to the Twin Falls area, replacing Ron Grove, who resigned from the force about a month ago.

Motorists Litter Road With Trash

NEW YORK (UPI) — American motorists may be the world's greatest litterbugs. A survey sponsored by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., and conducted by the National Academy of Science, disclosed that motorists drop an average of 1,304 pieces of litter each month for every mile of the nation's vast network of highways. The survey by the academy's highway research board said that 39 per cent of roadside litter was comprised of paper items, 16 per cent cans; 6 per cent plastic items, 6 per cent bottles and jars and 13 per cent miscellaneous. Keep America Beautiful, Inc., a non-profit organization whose goal is to prevent littering, said of 29 states participated in the highway departments survey.

Chinese Free British Sailor At Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China today freed a British sea captain who had been held more than 16 months on a charge of insulting Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung. Capt. Peter M. Will, master of the Singapore Registry freighter Kola Java, said the terms of his departure from China said he had been deported. He arrived in Hong Kong unexpectedly and border officials said he was in good health. Will was the sixth British citizen to be released by China in the past two weeks: He was arrested at gunpoint May 28, 1968, when his ship called at Taku, near Tientsin, China. He said he was held incommunicado, with all British requests to see him refused by the Chinese. Will's ship sailed without him when he was arrested and it was only in early 1969 that China admitted it was holding him. Will told border officials he had been accused of insulting Mao but he did not elaborate.

CAUTIOUS PLAY BRINGS IN SLAM

Here is another hand from the August ACBL Bulletin. This one is from the bridge page and illustrates some of the differences between rubber bridge and duplicate.

He explains that North and South had a part-score of 60 but once they got started bidding they couldn't seem to stop short of the slam.

South looked over dummy and was quite pleased with his contract. Assuming reasonable breaks in all suits, he could count 12 tricks if either the diamond or spade finesse worked.

He would probably come out with 13 tricks if they both did. South happened to be a pessimistic expert and he thought a trifle further. Suppose neither finesse would work? Could he make it?

The answer was yes, provided diamonds would divide 3-2. At trick two, our pessimist ruffed a heart with a small trump. At trick three, he led the six of diamonds toward dummy. West rose with the queen and shifted to a spade. South went right up with the ace and ruffed dummy's last heart. Then he cashed his ace and queen of clubs.

The next step was to enter dummy with the 10 of diamonds, in order to play out the king and jack of clubs. Not only did this count 12 tricks if either the diamond or spade finesse worked, but it also allowed South to discard his two losing spades.

The ace, king and jack of diamonds accounted for the last three tricks.

Just for the record, a spade lead would have beaten the slam.

ISU Invades Montana To Settle Big Sky Title As Vandals Travel To UOP

United Press International
A share of the Big Sky Conference football championship will be served up Saturday at Missoula when the Montana Grizzlies test their potent running attack against Idaho State's feared passing game.
A victory would automatically clinch at least a tie for league honors for the winner. But if the game ends in a tie, at least another week would be needed to decide the title.

10th-Ranked Irish Favored Against USC

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ohio State's defense of its No. 1 national ranking against conference rival Minnesota and 10th-ranked Notre Dame's bid to trip No. 3 rated Southern California highlight the Midwest college football program Saturday.
Strangely Notre Dame, though ranked 10th on its record of three wins and one loss, was a three-point favorite over the unbeaten Trojans, who have won only once at South Bend in the last 12 games.
"I'm amazed that we're favored to beat a coach like Parseghian said. 'People just don't understand that Notre Dame is not invincible. I don't know whether we're good enough to cope with Southern California, and the fact they've only won once here doesn't mean a thing. A lot of those games were 20 years ago.'
Parseghian declared that the Trojans have in Clarence Davis a coach who may be as dangerous as graduated All American O.J. Simpson. "He's got great speed and great balance—and he doesn't get at the scrimmage line. O.J. waltzes a bit and Davis just goes."
For Ohio State, unbeaten in three games, the question appeared to be whether the Buckeyes would win by more than the 25 points by which they are favored or whether the

Healthy O.J. Gives Bills Shot At Raider Win Skein

There is a good chance O.J. Simpson, ordered by doctors to sit out last week's game, will be able to pass on his recurring headaches to the Oakland Raiders Sunday.
When healthy, Simpson has produced pain in various parts of the opponents' anatomy, with 200 yards and a touchdown in 66 carries so far in his rookie season.
Simpson and Wayne Patrick, a second-year running back who gained 151 yards against Boston last week, give the Bills reason to believe they can end Oakland's regular-season unbeaten string at 12 although the Raiders are solid 14-point favorites.
In other games Sunday, Cincinnati is favored by four over Denver, Kansas City by 12 over Miami and San Diego by 13 over Boston. Defending champion New York is a 12-point pick over Houston in a Monday night game.
The last time Buffalo met Oakland, the Raiders escaped with a shaky 13-10 decision despite the fact that Buffalo was forced to use Ed Rutkowski, a wide receiver, at quarterback, and even Tommie Agee, who's trouble running down Rutkowski's wayward passes.
This time the Bills, who wear green, (Ken's calling signals, with exciting youth

Bruins Offer Contract To Hurt Player

BOSTON (UPI)—A three-year contract was offered Wednesday to Boston Bruin defenseman Teddy Green at his home in Winnipeg, Canada, Bruins President Weston W. Adams announced.
"I feel this action on my part is plainly and simply a proper and honorable thing to do," Adams said.
Green is recuperating from two operations for a skull fracture sustained in a hit by right shot with Wayne Maki of the St. Louis Blues. He is expected to be out the rest of the season.
"When Teddy was injured he was actually playing under last year's contract which would have expired Sept. 30," Adams said. "He had not signed his contract for the coming season; however, regardless of many legal technicalities, Teddy and the Bruins had pretty much agreed to terms," he added.

Lew's Era To Begin Saturday

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Pro basketball officially moves into the "Alcindor Era" Saturday when the Milwaukee Bucks open their second season in the National Basketball Association against the Detroit Pistons.

Lew Alcindor, probably the most sought after college basketball player in history, will be making his regular season debut and the 7-foot-2 former UCLA great will be trying to live up to the tradition of always playing with a winner.

Alcindor will be facing off against veteran Walt Bellamy, the Pistons' 6-foot-11 star who is considered one of the craftiest pivot men around.

Coach Larry Costello of the Bucks is also expected to start a second rookie—Bob Dandridge of Norfolk State—at one forward and the young Milwaukee lineup will be filled with Don Smith, the other forward and John McClocklin and Flynn Robinson at guards.

Robinson was the Bucks' high scorer during the pre-season game with a 29.1 point per game average.

Alcindor's game will be nationally televised on ABC-TV's Wide World of Sports. Game time is 1 P.M. EDT.

Alcindor was college player of the year as a sophomore and again as a senior, finishing second to Elvin Hayes of Houston in his junior year.

Alcindor was named "All-American" set an "NCAA field goal" percentage record of .639.

Alcindor was hounded some during the pre-season game, but he sprained his ankle, but came back strong and dumped in 26 points and grabbed 16 rebounds in last Monday's win against Philadelphia.

That gave him 150 points and 103 rebounds in seven games. He missed one game and at least half of another because of the sore ankle. The Bucks won five of the seven games and lost the one contest Alcindor set.

Milwaukee won the rights to Alcindor in a coin flip with the Phoenix Suns. After the two teams had finished last in their divisions of the NBA.

After taking bids from the New York Jets of the American Basketball Association and the Bucks, Alcindor decided to stick with Milwaukee and the NBA.

Idaho Makes Assignments For UOP Tilt

MOSCOW, Idaho (UPI)—Coach YC McNease ran his Idaho Vandals through a four-hour review of offensive and defensive assignments Thursday morning for Friday morning for the UOP tilt.

The Vandals will meet the University of the Pacific at 2 p.m. Saturday in a non-conference game.

McNease announced the starting offensive squad composed of a backfield of Steve Olson at quarterback, Frank Decker and Jeff Gullery at right backs and Terry Morland at flanker.

Up front, Mike Dempsey was named to start at tight end, Jerry Henderson at split end, Bob Haney and Andy Kupp at tackles, Bill Gady and Tom Nelson at guards and Gordon DeWard at center.

As the celebration were on, all the busting was stripped away, including that of the upper lips, where teenagers were their precarious way along catwalks to get to the red, white and blue banners.

The turf again took a beating, with huge clumps of it being ripped out of both infield and outfield, and then thrown wildly about.

A young man had come equipped with a reddish smoke flare and raced around the field, and then through the crowd, with it.

The TV technicians found willing actors for their cameras, with people engaged in gathering what used to shout, "We No. One" and wave.

As they finally began the long trek out of the center field gate, the fans halted at the fences to scratch their names on it or to scrawl in letters three or four feet high the foot that their beloved Mets had really gone all the way.

A half-hour after the game was over, the special police began formally a long line and started to herd the stragglers off the field.

Despite the madness, there appeared to be no injuries, nor real trouble.

A few larcenous souls tried walking off with special chairs that had been in some field boxes, but police quickly reclaimed the articles.

With the celebrants at last dispersed, a gloomy ground

The bottle of Bourbon you can't buy for love nor money.

At the Beem distillery, there's some Bourbon bottled in 1911. Our chemist asked for a sample to compute it with the Jim Beem Bourbon we make today. Well, we gave him a drop, and he found out today's Jim Beem has the same good light taste that our 1911 Bourbon had. And our 1911 Bourbon tastes as good as it did in 1915. That's because the Beem formula has been part of our secret family art for six generations. We don't mind proving it scientifically. We just don't like using our only bottle of 1911 Bourbon to do it. ### Economists See Lowering Of Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's key economic advisers forecast Thursday that high interest rates, symbols of current inflation, will be lowered soon.

The prediction was made by Arthur Burns, economic counselor to the President, and Paul McCracken, chairman of the White House Council of Economic Advisers, who have been participating in a two-day series of conferences by Nixon on inflation.

They summed up for newsmen what they called two "clearly emerging" focal points of the economic situation:

"That the administration's policies of fiscal and monetary restraint are now clearly beginning to show some bite into the inflationary situation."

That this is a particularly critical time in the administration's efforts to cool off the inflation, thus making it "crucially important that we reverse in the policies we are embarked upon."

Burns then forecast a downward trend in interest rates "some time soon."

Utilities Find Leasing Of Atomic Power Cores Pays Off

By DEAN C. MILLER
UPI Business Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — One reason utility companies haven't moved quicker in the power crisis underscored by increasing black-out and brown-outs is the cost.

Over the next 11 years, industry sources estimate, they must spend $10 billion to build the 250 plants needed to keep factories and homes in business. That's double normal annual expenditures and money is expensive today.

Newly-formed leasing companies are stepping into the budget gap by offering to "rent" core elements for nuclear reactors. No small consideration, on a typical 1000 megawatt atomic installation, the nuclear fuel investment runs about $30 million. By 1980, such nuclear fuel investment is expected to hit about $5 billion.

Leasing companies contend they can save utilities "hundreds of thousands" of dollars per year per plant by renting nuclear fuel. Over the life of a typical atomic plant, the cost of atomic fuel will be several times the investment cost of the plant itself, but still less than the cost of the fossil fuel, eaten up by a non-atomic plant.

Source-of-heat energy is the basic difference between an atomic and traditional power plant. In both, the heat is used to change water to steam to drive turbines which produce electricity. In the atomic plant, the heat is by-product of an atomic chain reaction in a reactor core.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) currently leases cores to utilities operating atomic plants. Today, 89 nuclear energy plants are in operation, being built or in advanced stages of planning, and 180 are expected to be in operation 10 years from now. But the rules are due to change in about a year.

After Jan. 1, 1973, all reactor cores must be privately owned.

With the government phasing out, private companies are stepping in. CNA Financial Corp., a Chicago based holding company, recently entered the field by acquiring a majority interest in Nuclear Energy Leasing, Inc., in New York state, a new agency, the Atomic and Space Development Authority, is seeking to enter the core leasing field. Commercial banks also are interested. So are the utilities they seek to serve. And naturally because of the cost factor.

'Outsiders' Newsletter Gives New Slant On News

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are presently being published in the U.S. capital about 50 newsletters that purport to give the inside slant on what is happening in Washington.

I have long envied the authors of these newsletters because they don't have to worry about punctuation marks. They just sprinkle a few dots (.) here and there and that's about it.

Not long ago I decided to start a newsletter of my own. After checking into the matter, I concluded the only field not already covered by a newsletter would be a newsletter for people who don't give a hoot about what is happening in Washington.

So I herewith offer the first issue of:

The Outsiders Newsletter

Senate may vote something soon on Haynsworth Supreme Court nomination if it hasn't already done so. Current hearing around Capitol is that nomination will be either confirmed or rejected, outcome hinges on whether majority of senators vote "yes" or "no"; provided nomination isn't withdrawn before it comes to vote.

This year's tax reform bill appears to be in trouble... nobody is saying tax reform bill appears to be in trouble but that approval can be arrived at through historical perspective... tax reform bills in past have always appeared to be in trouble and this year is no different from last year... except that it's odd numbered... Economists privately admit they are puzzled over economy... but when placed down they refuse to say why they are puzzled... Treasury sources privately acknowledging that if economy weren't puzzled they wouldn't be economists...

especially in an odd-numbered year... Look for new development in Paris peace talks before first of the year if the war isn't over by then... should we continue for the rest of October negotiators may agree to change calendar to November... but end of fighting would raise chances for progress in peace talks this year... Who is calling shots on foreign policy in Nixon administration? If Secretary of State Rogers or White House adviser Kissinger??? Rogers and Kissinger would be answers to these questions... President Nixon has been asking... Rising crime rates in Washington may hasten action on anti-crime legislation... or Congress may wait until holiday men start holding up other business... HEW plans to speed pace of school integration in South while Justice Department slows pace of integration... shows that race will end in dead heat...

Religion Today

By Rev. Lester Kinsolving

"The broadcast industry has never exhibited much social conscience," affirms a recent article in the prestigious interdenominational weekly, "The Christian Century."

"Historically it has preferred the conventional to the controversial. Its broadcasters are usually give themselves awards for this of that public service. But on the whole, they leave crusading to the daily press."

The author of the Century article, Washington, D.C. public relations executive Sherwood Ross, contends that this is due in part to it being "simpler and less controversial to report events (ah, give us one more documentary on the race crisis!) than to try to change them."

He also notes that "It's easier to hold a lot of church bazaar plugs than to produce a truly creative public service program" — adding that "good public service costs money."

The broadcast industry is actually obtaining a considerable amount of professional talents in those clergy who for evangelism's sake are glad to broadcast for no pay at all, often in violation of union contracts. In Oakland, Calif., for instance, "Metromedia's" KNEW has had Methodist minister Douglas Henderson running a 6 to 9 a.m. Sunday talk show for the past eight years — without paying him anything but the expense from his home in San Jose.

Despite the example of Rev. Henderson, there is money in religious broadcasting. As many as 600 radio stations have profited by selling time based on the right-wing reverend's programs like Carl McIntire and Billy James Harkiss.

Otherwise, the broadcast industry's "concern" for religion may be explained for the most part by a six-page statement of the Federal Communications Commission on July 27, 1960. Religious programming was designated in this statement as one of 14 "major elements usually necessary to meet the public interest, needs and desires of the community."

Since the FCC has to choose among what may be several applicants for the same frequency, stations in their original applications for a license (or in the license renewal every three years) generally promise to allocate some time to religious programming. In the majority of cases, however, such written promises are not honored by assigning religious programming to a time period known as either "God's Graceyard" or "The Hammer Hour" (very early) Sunday morning.

Any Sunday morning programming, during or after this dawn patrol, has an effect described by TV writer John Bloch as "incestuous — you're talking to yourself."

Bloch, the writer of a number of TV shows such as "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." and "Dr. Kildare," also comments: "I don't see what you would attract unchurched people to church-sponsored shows."

While he might have made an exception of some religious shows (perhaps the program of Milton Berle's vivid remembrance of a visit to compete with Bishop Sheen), most listeners will agree that a considerable amount of religious programming is so deadly dull (safe enough to play to the nonbeliever, but interdenominational officials) that it may be depended upon to smother the ratings of almost any station. Instead of trying to interest the unchurched by the obviously questionable methods of broadcasting church Bloch suggests that the churches and synagogues "spend some time and money working with writers, producers and directors, who put content into prime time evening viewing."

Until the religious denominations are willing to do this, most of their audiences will be confined to the religious shut-ins, as their programming will continue largely confined to the Sunday morning broadcast.

And the churches and synagogues are still unwilling to allocate more time and money for the sake of effective electronic transmission of religion, the stations may well exclude the religious organizations altogether and plan religious broadcasting on their own.

A TV rerun of the movie "King of Kings" on Easter in 1963 should provide a sample of what could thereby be in store for religion. During the Last Supper scene, Christ's breaking of the bread was interrupted — deliberately and on cue — by a commercial for Tricacene which allegedly relieves acid indigestion.

Episcopal Church In T. F. Has Membership Of 781

By REV. JOHN RILEY
Church of Ascension, Twin Falls

The 1969 Episcopal Church annual reports that the total baptized membership of the Episcopal Church stands at 3,388,435. And out of the 42 churches reported to be in Twin Falls, one is an Episcopal church known as the Church of the Ascension with some 781 baptized members, some of which are residents of nearby communities where there is no Episcopal Church building.

In looking at such vital statistics it might be well to ask just what an Episcopalian is or is not.

An Episcopalian is a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church which is a branch of the Anglican Communion, a religious group spread throughout the world and numbering some forty million Christians. The Church of England is the "mother church" of all the Episcopal Churches.

This Church has been known as the "bridge church" between Roman Catholicism and Protestantism. The Episcopal Church preserves the ancient Catholic sacraments and professes the ancient Catholic creeds; this was the intention of the reformers of the 16th century.

On the other hand, it is a "reformed" church, for during the 16th century the authority of the papacy was rejected and many modifications were made in worship and doctrine.

But in no sense did the reformers in England intend to deny "Catholic truth."

It has been thought by many that during the 16th century, the founder of the Church was Henry VIII. But it was only under his reign that the Church in England became the Church of England and freedom from the authority of the Bishop of Rome (the Pope) was gained. Henry's desire for a divorce provided the occasion for such freedom, but was not the cause.

As to the beliefs of the Episcopal Church, they may be found in the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed. Some of the phrases of the creeds are taken symbolically (as, "sixth on the right hand of God," unless of course you believe God is a committee of which the Father is chairman); some parts are historically stated (as, "born, crucified, dead, buried, raised" when referring to the life of Christ). There is great freedom allowed in the individual believer's interpretation of creedal statements.

The same may also be said about the Episcopalian acceptance of the Bible. In this Church the Bible is the great source and testing ground of doctrine. Nothing may be taught as necessary for salvation excepting what can be tested by Holy Scripture. But again, the Church does not hold to the literal inerrancy of Scripture.

The Bible is held sacred for its general inspiration and as the record of God's revelation of Himself to man.

Freedom of investigation and the use of reason have both been a part of the Episcopalian's life within his church. The Episcopal Church has accepted the theory of evolution as an account of man's origin as well as other new scientific discoveries without disturbing its central beliefs.

The first service of worship conducted in the New World was held by the crew of Sir Francis Drake's ship when it was anchored in what is now Drake's Bay, Marin County, California. The year was 1579.

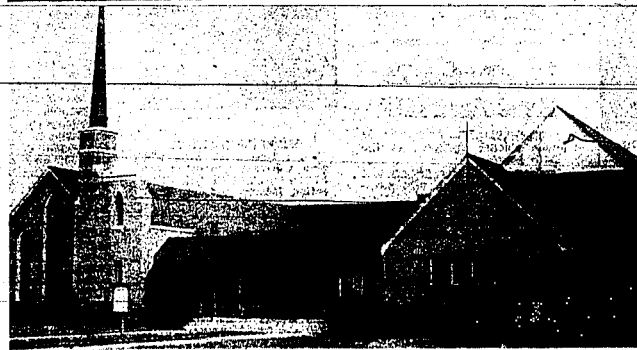

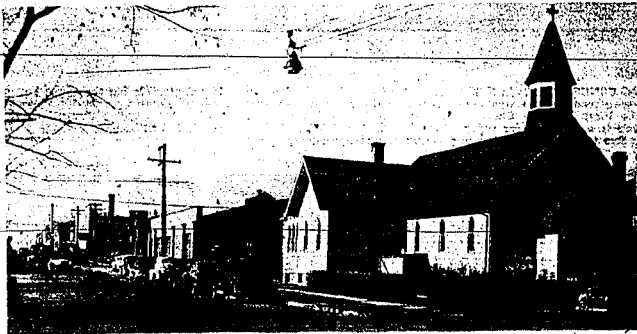

The first church of the Anglican Communion to hold regular worship and classes was begun in Jamestown in 1607. The majority of the founders of this nation were Episcopalian, including Washington, Hamilton, Madison, Monroe, Marshall and Jay.

Ascension Parish in Twin Falls was begun on Aug. 5, 1905. The original church building was at the corner of Third Avenue North and Second Street North. In the summer of 1950 the present site on Blue Lakes Boulevard, North was purchased and the present facilities were completed with the addition of the Rhea Auditorium in 1958.

Henry J. Gernhardt Is One Of Twin Falls Pastors With Colorful Career In Ministry

One of Twin Falls' pastors with a very colorful career in the Methodist denomination's ministry is Henry J. Gernhardt Sr., who has resided in Twin Falls since 1899.

It was at that time he came here to be associated in the ministry of First United Methodist Church with Rev. Walter MacArthur. He ministered in this church until 1906, when he became the supply minister of the Community Church at Bliss where he served for two years.

Now, as of this fall, he has accepted a second invitation from the people of the Church of the Brethren to be again their spiritual leader.

Rev. Gernhardt got his start in life on July 4, 1891, in Chicago. He attended the Chase Elementary school and Crane M. T. High School. As a young man, he was an apprenticed draftsman for the Indiana Limestone Industry in Bedford, Ind. After his apprenticeship, he was foreman and superintendent.

He married Willa Roxana White on June 21, 1909, at Bedford. They shared the interests of the Christian ministry and their family of two children and their children's children for 59 years and five months; Mrs. Gernhardt died last fall. Among their children are Mrs. Willis Rider, Twin Falls, and Rev. H. J. Gernhardt Jr., a minister in North Dakota.

Mr. Gernhardt felt the call of the Christian ministry and entered the Indiana Conference of the Methodist Church in the fall of 1920. Two years later he was received into full connection of the Indiana Conference and was ordained deacon. In September, 1924, he graduated from the course of study of the Methodist denomination and was ordained elder. His final ordination for ministerial aspirants of the Methodist Church.

From 1918 to 1925 he served rural circuits (two or more churches) and churches of small towns in Indiana. During that time he designed and superintended the building of the Methodist Church in Wheatland, Ind.

He served churches in the North Dakota Conference from 1915 until 1914 when he transferred to the Idaho Conference of the Methodist Church. He was the minister of the Nysaa, Ore., church for four years. They, he was appointed as pastor of the church at LaGrande, Ore. Both of these towns were related to the Idaho Conference. He was at LaGrande for 11 years.

Ill health, from which he soon recovered, forced his retirement in 1959 at the conference which was held in Salmon. Having restored his health, he was invited to come to the Twin Falls Methodist Church as an associate minister where he served helpfully and with distinction.

Mr. Gernhardt says, "The break from industry to the ministry was a daring leap of faith. Any genuine worth of life I attribute to faith in Christ and the faithful comradeship of the wife of nearly 60 years, the joys of five children and the families, and my many friends whose encouragement and cooperation have made life a joyful adventure."

HENRY J. GERNHARDT SR.

Mormon Tabernacle Choir To Sing In Idaho Dec. 5

POCATELLO—The travel-experienced Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir, with successes across the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe to its credit, will sing in Idaho this year for the first time.

Idaho State University president William E. Davis and Isaac M. Stewart, president of the 375-voice choir, announced today that the choir will sing at the university in Pocatello, Dec. 5, as the inaugural cultural activity in the new multipurpose sports arena to be completed this month. A capacity crowd of 18,000 persons is expected.

"We are most pleased that this world-renowned choir, which has particular significance to the people of southeastern Idaho, is able to accept our invitation," said ISU president William E. Davis. "Your appearance here will be a fitting tribute to the many fine contributions to our campus life made by members of the LDS Church in our community and student body. We all look forward to your visit."

"The covered sports arena is a tremendous achievement," Mr Stewart said "It is an honor for the Choir to appear We sincerely hope that the new $2.8 million facility will serve the cultural program of that fine University as adequately as its outstanding athletic program."

President Davis explained that the possibility of the Tabernacle Choir appearance at ISU had been under discussion for several months.

The covered sports arena will house major sports activities such as football, basketball and track; minor sports consistent with the University intramural program, physical education activities, ROTC, musical concerts, conventions, shows of various kinds and other large audience functions requiring indoor facilities.

The Choir will be conducted by Richard P. Condie, with Alexander Schreiner as accompanist. Richard L. Evans, the internationally-known voice of "The Spoken Word," will be the commentator. The arrangements on behalf of the Choir are under the direction of Mr. Stewart and Stanford P. Dargor, general secretary.
