Cancer Fear Spurs Order To Halt Use Of Cyclamates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cancer in laboratory animals, widely used in diet drinks and foods, produce cancer in humans, Secretary Robert H. Finch of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration emphasized in announcing the ban on the use of cyclamates after studying new evidence that the sweeteners they said caused cancer in laboratory animals.

Civic-Tax Limit Faces Legislative Overhaul

By O.A. (GUS) KELKER
Times-News Editor

Some adjustments will have to be made in House Bill 304, the 4 per cent revenue ceiling measure — but the changes will be minor and the philosophy of the bill will be preserved. The measure is one of the many opinions expressed by William J. Lanting, speaker of the Idaho House of Representatives and chairman of the legislative council, during a far-ranging interview in Twin Falls Saturday afternoon.

annual appropriations to run the government or to continue on a two-year basis.

"In my opinion," Mr. Lanting said, "we should have annual appropriations because this fact was one used to justify the need for annual sessions when the issue was put to the people."

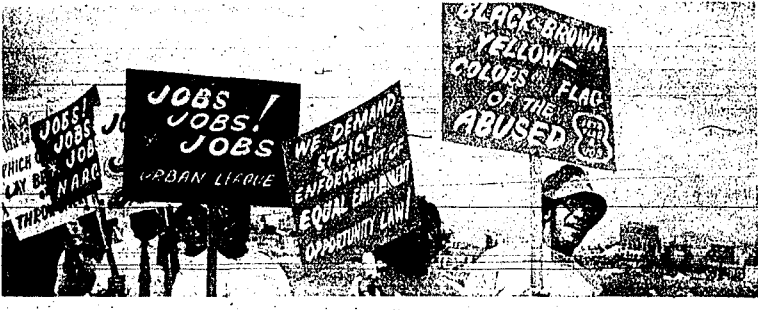

The first annual consideration would be in 1971 but the rule would have to be made in the upcoming session. But at this coming session Mr. Lanting believes that some of the adopted budgets will have to be revised and recorded. He noted that the law, enacted in 1967, although the number will be few because there will have to be a real emergency or it will not be done. He said that "we can't possibly avoid opening some of the budgets for new hearings," Mr. Lanting said. "But the emergency must exist. If we re-opened all of them it would be there forever."

WILLIAM J. LANTING

Also, he declared, budget changes (additions) would lead to additional taxes and "any tax plus revenue now (after three months of the biennium) would be small."

"I think we predicted revenue closer than we have for a long time in this state," he commented. "But getting back to the 4 per cent revenue ceiling measure, See TAXES, Pg. 2, Col. 1"

Governor's Natural Resources Confab Set For T.F. Nov. 17-18

The third annual Governor's Conference on natural resources will be held in Twin Falls on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 17 and 18 with the event being sponsored by the Idaho Association of Soil Conservation Districts. It was announced Saturday by Gov. Don Samuelson. In a communication to the Times-News the Governor said that the theme of this conference will be "Looking Ahead With Idaho Agriculture." Doyle Scott, Soil Conservation Commission administrative officer is conference program coordinator.

will be meeting right in the heart of a vast agricultural paradise. Gov. Samuelson said in the communication. A distinguished list of speakers has been arranged, according to the Governor, and the keynote speaker at the banquet the evening of Nov. 17 will be Harrison Loesch, assistant secretary for public lands, U.S. Department of the Interior. O. A. (Gus) Kelker, editor of the Times-News, will be banquet master of ceremonies. Featured speaker at the luncheon of Nov. 18 will be Gov. Samuelson who will sum up conference results and indicate future projects. Curtis T. Eaton, executive vice president of the Twin Falls Barn and Trust Co. will be master of ceremonies at the luncheon. Other state and federal officials will participate in the program. Basic industries of Idaho agriculture, such as cattle, sheep, potatoes, sugar beets, wheat and beans will be featured in panel discussions. DeVon Jensen, Moore, president of the association of Soil Conservation Districts, said registration for the conference would be open Sunday afternoon, Nov. 16 at the Holiday Inn—where all sessions will be held. The conference will run all through Nov. 17 and through the noon luncheon on Nov. 18 at which Gov. Samuelson will speak. The complete list of speakers at the conference will be announced later this week. Gov. Samuelson initiated the Natural Resources Conference in 1967, with the first event held at McCall. The sessions were held at Coeur d'Alene last year.

Japan Youths Hurl Bombs In New Riot

TOKYO (UPI) — Leftist students hurled firebombs Saturday at the official residence of Prime Minister Tanaka Sato in Tokyo University center this week and dropped firebombs in protest against Sato's pro-American policies. There was no damage, and police arrested 26 persons. Students also attacked a jail housing youths arrested in riots at Tokyo University center this week and dropped firebombs in protest against Sato's pro-American policies. Disorders designed to undermine the authority of the Sato government are expected to be regular events for the next year during Japanese negotiations with the United States for the return of Okinawa and renewal of the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Heavy Snows Force Deer Hunters From South Hills

Heavy snow in the South Hills and Shoshone Basin areas apparently discouraged many a deer hunters Saturday in the opening day of the annual five-day deer hunt, but at a later report Saturday night (A.P. report) no serious incidents. Sheriff's officers said a number of vehicles became stuck in the heavy wet snow and mud, but there were no injuries or reports of stranded or lost hunters or hunting parties. Claude F. Jones, owner of the Mangle Mountain Ski Resort said there was a foot of snow on the ground there Saturday morning after what must have been an all night storm. He said a number of vehicles slid from the road but most were able to get out under their own power after putting on chains. He said hunters were leaving the mountain area in large numbers Saturday night and few had deer. Deputy Sheriff Ivan Kistler who was in the area Saturday evening said there was no need for four wheel drive vehicles or other "trick" units as it seemed to be under control. Nearly 15 years ago some 3,000 hunters were trapped in the same area when a heavy snow storm occurred during a hunt. Many were unprepared.

Russian Ship Is Hit By Guns Of South Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said Saturday that a Russian vessel was hit by South Vietnamese navy gunners near Da Nang was a Russian ship. He said the shelling resulted in the deaths of two crew members in the vessel before it fled into international waters. Their speaking with newsmen during a tour of the countryside, tried to stiffen the speculation the shelling might blow up into a major confrontation. Military sources in Saigon said the Russian vessel was a fishing trawler disguised as a fishing trawler. "I don't believe it will create any diplomatic incident," Thieu said. There was no official Moscow reaction to the shelling, a fact which tended to bear out Thieu's prediction.

Sugar Industry Pressure Seen In Cyclamate Ban

GREENWICH, Conn. (UPI) — The chemist who discovered cyclamate asked Saturday whether losses in the sugar industry were behind the government's ban on artificial sweetener. Dr. Michael Svedin said he would "like to know whether economic or scientific reasons spurred the tests" which led Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, to announce the ban Saturday. "It would be perfectly happy if the tests were carried out on other sweeteners too," Svedin said.

Soviet Officials Travel To Peking For Chinese Huddle

MOSCOW (UPI)—Vnall V. Kuznetsov, the Kremlin's top diplomatic troubleshooter, led an eight-man delegation to Peking Saturday for the first Sino-Soviet border talks in five years. The sessions were held at Coeur d'Alene last year.

Radio Peking, in a broadcast Saturday night, announced that the talks would begin Monday and said the Communist Chinese delegation would be headed by Chiao Kuan-Hung, a deputy foreign minister with considerable experience in international negotiations. Chiao, a veteran of 20 years in the Foreign Ministry, was an adviser in a delegation Peking sent to the United Nations' Security Council debate during the Korean war.

Chiao, a veteran of 20 years in the Foreign Ministry, was an adviser in a delegation Peking sent to the United Nations' Security Council debate during the Korean war. The talks were arranged at the suggestion of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin when he made his surprising and dramatic flight to Peking Sept. 11 to resume the Sino-Soviet dialogue. During that critical visit the Soviet premier made a number of proposals to Chinese Premier Chou En-lai which included: —The resumption of normal trade and diplomatic relations. —A moratorium on JF not the cessation of the snailing polemics exchanged between the two Communist giants since 1960. —The regulation of the somewhat undefined 4,347-mile border which has seen bitter armed clashes this year, including many killed and wounded on both sides.

U.S. To Cut Military By Million Men

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A cutback of nearly a million men in the size of the U.S. armed forces apparently will be staged over the next three or four years if progress toward ending the Vietnam war continues. The military services, it was learned Saturday, have been told to budget for a total reduction of 600,000 by June 30, 1971. This would bring strength down to 2,900,000 men, with a further slash to about 2,500,000 expected.

Waddell said Mrs. Rodden suffered multiple lacerations and other injuries. The pickup was demolished, the investigating officer reported.

Driver 'Attacks' Police In Error

ALDERSHOT, England (UPI) — Patrick Hughes, driving down the main street, scraped a car driven by an off-duty policeman. Then he smashed into the back of another car driven by a vacationing police sergeant. An on-duty policeman arrested Hughes on charges of dangerous and drunken driving.

Deadline

BOISE (UPI) — Law Enforcement Commissioner Warner C. Mills said Saturday there would be no extension of the Dec. 31 expiration date for 1969 motor vehicle licenses. Mills said the state's new staggered system for issuing license plates and stickers allowed motorists to purchase validation stickers now and that these must be purchased before the Dec. 31 deadline if the cars were to be operated on Idaho highways after Jan. 1, 1970.

Police In Error

ALDERSHOT, England (UPI) — Patrick Hughes, driving down the main street, scraped a car driven by an off-duty policeman. Then he smashed into the back of another car driven by a vacationing police sergeant. An on-duty policeman arrested Hughes on charges of dangerous and drunken driving.

This is one of 13 traffic accidents in Twin Falls during a six hour period. This was also the most serious, with two people being sent to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. The accident happened at 4:12 p.m. Friday at the corner of Main Avenue North and Seventh Street North. Mrs. Patsy R. Jones, 24, Rogerson is in fairly good condition at the hospital. Michael Squires, 15, 1402 Poplar Ave., was treated and released. This is Squires' car here, with its gasoline tank resting on the pavement about 10 feet in front of the demolished vehicle. Police said the impact threw Mrs. Jones' head into the windshield of her car. Her car was also demolished. The high number of wrecks in the short period of time was blamed on the rain, the Friday rush hour, the upcoming hunting season Saturday and poor visibility.

Library Use To Determine Opening Time

SHOSHONE — Unless more patrons use the city library during the Thursday evening open hours, the library hours will go back to daytime use only, Library Board members announce.

A number of people requested the evening opening, but, according to Mrs. Marx Nielsen, librarian, only one or two persons have come in to use the facility during evening hours since the new time was established.

The Thursday evening hours will continue through October, after which the use element will determine the continuance of the evening hours, board members decided.

Several new books have been added to the library recently for adults as well as new western and mystery and juvenile books.

University Names Negro As President

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—The Michigan State University Board of Trustees today picked Clifton R. Wharton Jr. to become the first Negro president of a major American university.

Wharton, 42, was chosen by a 5-3 vote of the MSU board at its morning meeting. His choice ended a six-month search for a successor to John A. Hannah, who left in April to join the Nixon administration.

Wharton, Boston-born and educated at Harvard University, Johns Hopkins University and the University of Chicago, is currently vice president of the Agricultural Development Council, a private nonprofit corporation.

The trustees reportedly chose Wharton at a private meeting Thursday night and made the selection public at another meeting this morning.

Wharton was a member of New York's Nelson A. Rockefeller's presidential mission to Latin America. He is considered an expert on economic development in Latin America and Southeast Asia and has traveled to Vietnam several times a year for the past few years.

Cannon 'Fan' Jolts Area With Testing

MARSHFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—Every so often an explosion inside a garage jars this community south of Boston, but nobody pays any attention.

The neighbors know it's only Alexander Blair trying out one of his cannons.

Blair works for the Raytheon Corp. during the day, working on the most modern weapons known to man. At night he builds old cannons.

"I'm involved in both ends of weapons," said Blair, an industrial engineer. He feels old weapons are more interesting than new ones. His hobby makes him probably the only cannon maker in New England.

In his garage workshop he forges naval bronze into cannon barrels and uses a lathe to form the wheels and bases.

"I never make a cannon that really won't work," Blair explained. After he completes a cannon he fills it with black powder and fires it "to the chagrin of my neighbors."

Blair, became interested in cannons "simply because not much was known about them,

Sale Of License Tags Slow In T. F., Assessor Reports

Clifford Thompson, Twin Falls County assessor, urges people to purchase their passenger car and pickup truck licenses as soon as possible.

Mr. Thompson said Friday the sales have been slow. The licenses have been on sale since Oct. 1 and there are still between 25,000 and 26,000 passenger vehicle licenses to be purchased. They are also on sale at the Daiss Agency in Buhl.

All other vehicles not carrying passenger licenses will remain on the calendar year basis and these sales will begin Dec. 1. Snowmobile stickers will also go on sale Dec. 1. They are $5.

People are reminded to bring in the correct registration to the license department in the courthouse. If they do not have the registration they should bring the car title plus the correct license number. If the vehicle is being financed and they do not have the title or registration

Lottery Plan For Draft Stirrs Doubt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Many supporters of President Nixon's limited draft lottery plan, approved unanimously by the House Armed Services Committee, agree it doesn't mean much.

A minority of committee members proposed to turn it into a "real reform" of the draft law, with college deferments abolished and all registrants at 19 facing an equal risk of getting tapped for two years in the Army.

"Under the guise of reforming the draft, we are not doing a thing about the basic injustices of the law," said Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., after the committee refused, 22 to 11, to consider ending mandatory college deferments.

Rep. Richard H. Ichord, D-Mo., chairman of the committee on internal security, Pike and others will try next week to arrange a House vote on amendment to the lottery bill to abolish deferment and throw all registrants into the pool at 19.

'Wave Of Strikes' Predicted As Workers Press Demands

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI)—Labor Secretary George P. Shultz predicted Saturday a wave of strikes will sweep the nation next year as labor continues to demand higher wages and management stiffens its resistance. Shultz said the government will offer its help in mediating disputes, but he cautioned: "It is up to the parties to work it out for themselves even if that means a strike."

Shultz addressed the pre-ligious Business Council, which includes the top executives of many of the nation's biggest corporations, as the group wound up its annual meeting.

Shultz' forecast of "stormy weather" in collective bargaining, echoed views expressed privately this weekend by other high administration officials and by council members. Many of the 100 businessmen attending the meeting indicated management will be a lot tougher at the bargaining table next year. One industrial said business may have to "invest in a strike."

Shultz said the administration's anti-inflation measures are beginning to cool the economy and reduce corporate profits.

Another administration official, who declined to be quoted by name, said labor will not be able to get increases of 10 or 8 per cent as was the case in some settlements this year, because the employer would "not be able to pay it."

Irish Close Pubs Early To Ease Riots

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Belfast closed its more than 500 pubs, clubs and hotel bars early for the second consecutive day Saturday in a government drive to bring peace to a city whose recent weekends have spawned riots, terror and death.

Despite howls of protest from patrons, closing time came again at 7 p.m. The Northern Ireland government, which outlawed alcohol, was partly to blame for some of the city's most bitter riots since August, said patrons were being "driven away from possible trouble."

The cocktail curfew appeared to have the desired result when it began Friday, one lone gasoline bomb explosion and the blocking of a street by a Protestant crowd were the only disturbances in what otherwise was one of the city's quietest Fridays in months.

By late afternoon Saturday, few incidents had been reported, in stark contrast to the afternoon of street rioting and clashes with police and troops one week ago.

Cleric Urges Confidence In Church

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Cardinal Primate John Carmel Heenan of Britain said Saturday the current synod of bishops must restore confidence in the authority of the Roman Catholic Church.

"If the synod were to fail, the apostle in what other would be the victors," he told a news conference.

The church is part of the world's "It shares the experience of the world. From San Francisco to Tokyo, authority is questioned."

He said there was a nationally a nationwide trend in the United States against the war in Vietnam.

The cardinal said revolts against church authority have had "very violent repercussions." "People no longer have respect for their priests and hardly any for their bishops," he said.

The synod, which has been in session a week, will discuss the question of collegiality—how Pope Paul VI can share authority with bishops. The synod broke up into small working groups Saturday to "permit a more free expression of opinion," the Vatican said.

The full synod will not meet again until Tuesday.

Bandit Takes $700 From Boise Man

BOISE (UPI)—A young man described as a Mexican used a stolen revolver to take over $700 from a Boise man Friday night, then threatened to return to kill the man if he contacted police.

Robert McLellan, 33, returned to his home at 415 Blytheview Drive about 9 p.m. Friday. Several articles were out of place in his living room. He then noticed that the screen had been removed from a front window and the window was open.

As McLellan started toward his bedroom upstairs, a man entered his window, then ordered him into a small room. McLellan heard his assailant talking to another man, who remained hidden during the robbery. One of them said, "Shall we shoot him anyway?"

McLellan was told not to tell police or they would return his car to him. He then drove away in a light-colored vehicle with loud tailpipes.

Ada County Sheriff's deputies located a light-colored car in a box containing part of a pizza. A check at a local pizza restaurant revealed that an hour earlier a man had purchased a pizza like the one found near McLellan's residence.

De Gaulle Shuns Ben Gurion Visit

De Gaulle told Ben Gurion in a friendly letter he was observing a self-imposed rule to receive no personalities for the moment, the source said. De Gaulle's visit will be in France next Friday.

Aussie Police Hold Family Of Bandit In Capture Attempt

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—Police held the family of Britain's great train robber, Ronald A. Biggs, Saturday in hopes of forcing the jail breaker to give himself up.

Biggs, one of the world's most wanted men, escaped a police raid by about nine hours Friday. Biggs' wife, Charmain, 30, and his three sons, Nicholas, 9, Christopher, 5, and Farley, 3, were held by police.

Commonwealth Police Superintendent E. F. Canle told newsmen: "We hope that if Biggs realizes we have his whole family he may be persuaded to give himself up."

An all-points alert was ordered after fellow workers at a construction site notified police that they recognized Biggs from a photograph published Thursday. It was reported that a man of Biggs' description tried to charter a plane to fly himself to Sydney.

Biggs, 39, was the leader of the Great Train Robbery in which $7.3 million was stolen in a daring raid on the Glasgow-Edinburgh express Aug. 8, 1963.

He was captured and sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment, which he was serving when he escaped from Wandsworth Prison in England in 1965.

Svetlana Tells Russians That Life In The U.S. Is 'Full Of Bright Colors'

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF WASHINGTON (UPI)—Svetlana Alliluyeva, in her first broadcast to the Soviet Union, told the Russian people Saturday that her life in America was "easy, free, gay and full of bright colors." Svetlana, daughter of the late Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, said since she defected to the United States while on a trip to India in 1967, she has been "completely cheerful something—that people in Moscow simply do not know."

UPI obtained a transcript of the recorded broadcast beamed to the Soviet Union Saturday afternoon by the Voice of America. In it she said: "Of course, life here for me is easy, free, gay and full of bright colors. And that is the way I speak of it."

U.S. officials explained that they were interested in informing the Soviet people of Svetlana's impressions of America because these details were generally unknown throughout the Soviet Union. But the officials were uncertain of the reception because the Kremlin resumed jamming of Russian-language broadcasts after the Soviet bloc invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 21, 1968.

Elderly Man Held For Threat On Governor Reagan

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—An unidentified elderly man was under observation at the county medical center Saturday in connection with a bomb scare at Gov. Ronald Reagan's home.

The Sacramento Police Department received two telephone calls Friday which led them to a fruitless search of the chief executive's home and also to the home of the former mental patient.

Lloyd Murray, chief underwriter for the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., said the theft occurred Thursday afternoon at his home in Abington, about 15 miles south of Boston.

Noisy Arguments Between Attorneys, Judge Delay Chicago Conspiracy Trial

By TONY FULLER CHICAGO (UPI)—The judge is speaking: "Please hush up . . . we'll have no more of that in here."

prosecution witness' testimony. The prosecution objected. "I'm sorry; it was involuntary," Kunster said.

It is U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman either interceding or involving himself in one of the constant clashes between defense and prosecution attorneys or the defendants in the trial of eight men charged with conspiring to include riots at the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The continual arguments have upstaged the legal issues in the trial and have kept it from settling into any traditional pattern.

"Do you have something against black people, Judge?" Once again, Hoffman is furious and repeats four times that there "is no race in this courtroom."

"You should ask my wife about that," Kunster shot back and the courtroom filled with laughter.

Up jumps assistant U.S. Atty. Richard G. Shultz. He says angrily, "I'm sick and tired of the defense trying to inject race into this trial."

"I don't see another black man being ejected from the spectators' section," defense attorney William M. Kunster interrupts his cross examination to ask.

Other explosive diversions have included such things as a Viet Cong flag draped on the defense table, a prosecution attorney calling Kunster a "moultree" and Kunster announcing he expects his clients to be convicted.

Bank-Card Suit Will Not Hamper Firm's Business

BOISE (UPI)—Attorney General Robert Robson said Friday the suit brought against First Security Bank of Idaho's BankAmericard credit card would not interfere with the bank's business during the case.

"We have been very careful not to interfere with their commercial undertakings," Robson said, adding that he had asked for a declaratory judgment rather than an injunction.

"We will certainly ask for an injunction if they continue," Robson said, adding that that would only apply if the courts decided in favor of the state.

Youth Hurt In Jerome Auto Crash

JEROME — Charles Spencer, 15, Jerome, was listed in fairly good condition Saturday at St. Benedict's hospital with injuries received in a two-car collision about 11 p.m. Friday at the intersection of East Main and Buchanan Avenue.

Police cited the Giltner youth for following another vehicle too closely. Both cars were headed east on Main street. Damage was estimated at $500 to the Giltner car and $650 to the Henderson auto.

Marian Ochsner, 17, Gooding, was riding with Miss Henderson. Neither of the girls was injured.

Personal OPINION

QUESTION

How do you feel about the Vietnam moratoriums which were conducted this week?

LOCATION

Interviews in this case were taken in the J. C. Penney Co. store in Twin Falls.

ANSWERS

MONTE LEE: "I believe something ought to be done, but I don't necessarily think this is the answer."

TIM NAYLOR: "I think it is good for us to be able to voice our opinions in this country, but I can't help but think we are helping the enemy. I can just see the headlines in Hanoi."

DELVA THOMPSON: "Peaceful demonstrations are okay, but I can't see the purpose in rioting. If I had a brother, I would want him to be fighting for his country and defending South Vietnam."

MRS. ED SORBEL: "I think it was fine!"

Lee Naylor Thompson Sorbel

SHARON CHAMBERS: "I'm just glad they were conducted in peace and there wasn't any violence."

MARJORIE BROWN: "I think as long as they're held under control they are all right."

EARL REAMY: "I'm against this sort of thing. I don't like the war, but I believe we should stick together."

VONNIE CONN: "I don't approve of violent demonstrations, but it is all right to be able to voice an opinion. I still don't believe we should leave that small helpless country."

53 Giant Condors Sighted In Bird Survey, Hope Still Falls

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — Observers sighted 53 Giant Condors, North America's largest land bird, during the Fifth Annual Population survey of the nearby extinct animal.

This year's two-day survey was hampered by rain and most of the birds were sighted on the first day of the count. There were a total of 238 sightings, but many were duplications. Originally there were 55 bird watchers stationed atop 51 mountains and ridges. Some of the stations were forced to close early due to the bad weather.

Blaze Controlled In White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A short circuit in a coffee machine caused a small fire in the West Wing office area of the White House Friday, sending smoke through ventilators. A White House spokesman said the blaze was quickly brought under control, but there was some smoke and water damage. A small fire truck and a large hook and ladder wheeled into the driveway alongside the wing.

Norwegians Set Bad-Teeth Mark

OSLO, Norway (UPI) — Norway should be able to claim a world record for bad teeth, statisticians say. More than 700,000 Norwegians have lost all their teeth, and only one out of 1,000 Norwegians in their twenties have perfect teeth.

Prankster Tells Pocatello Youth, 15, His Brother Was Killed In Viet War

POCATELO (UPI) — A young boy who couldn't bear to tell his parents their son had been killed in Vietnam became the victim of a cruel prank this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yount were working Wednesday afternoon, the day of the Vietnam moratorium, when their 15-year-old son, David, received a long distance telephone call. The caller, who remained anonymous, asked for his mother, Stella, and when David said

David broke down and told him of the telephone call. Mrs. Yount said, "I was just beside myself."

Thursday afternoon the parent that their son was alive and U.S. Marine Corps command and that their son was alive and uninjured in Vietnam.

The pen name "Mark Twain" was first used by New Orleans newspaper columnist Isaiah Sellers, then later by Sam Clemens.

Group Therapy Said Hazardous

LAH, So!

LONDON (UPI) — The railroad station at Stratford in East London has put up a sign reading — in Chinese — "Please State Your Destination."

A British Rail official explained: "There's rather a large Chinese population and many don't speak English. Sometimes ticket clerks asked them where they were going and couldn't be understood. On one occasion, tempers flared and a clerk got punched in the eye."

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Marathon group therapy sessions could be as dangerous as LSD trips for some persons, according to a University of California psychiatrist.

"Both can be intense, highly concentrated and vivid emotional experiences," says Dr. Cloyd Duncan of the UC Medical Center.

Marathon therapy can help resolve emotional problems and can aid those in good mental health to discover rich and important areas of their personality, Duncan says.

"As a result of long hours of discussion, entrenched social inhibitions and self-deceptions begin to dissolve. The individual is thus able to dispense with many of his defense mechanisms."

"However, latent or borderline psychoses with tenuous ego controls and defense may, under the stress of such groups, jump the barrier between sanity and the 'psychic wilderness beyond.'"

CHURCHES JOIN
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The University of Southern California, a nonsectarian private university founded in 1880, was built on land donated by a Catholic, a Jew and Protestant.

WHY do stores start Christmas before Thanksgiving?

YOU'VE HEARD THAT QUESTION, PERHAPS YOU'VE SAID IT YOURSELF . . . IT DESERVES A SINCERE ANSWER!

Do you recall shopping in the final two weeks before Christmas last year? Remember the tedious waiting . . . or seeing the gift you had your heart on going to the previous customer . . . and no time to re-order before Christmas?

ping service would bog down. Out-of-town mail would never make it! Stores would be strained to capacity and unable to maintain the kind of service they want to give, and which customers expect.

Remember the long lines . . . the crowded streets . . . the fight for parking places? And, of course, the fatigue that made you resolve to start your Christmas shopping early next year? Well, THIS is next year!

For these reasons and others which will occur to you, don't you agree that beginning your Christmas Shopping early makes that task easier, faster, and a whole lot more pleasurable for YOU? Do yourself and your favorite store a favor . . . start shopping soon, while selections are greater . . . while you have plenty of time to compare before buying . . . while salespeople can give you the kind of service you prefer.

If everyone waited until the last week before Christmas there wouldn't be space in the stores for all the shoppers. Delivery and wrap-

To preview all the excitement, and wrap Christmas up early . . . look for the special Christmas Gifts Section, coming October 29th in the Times-News.

Nixon Plans Pressure On Inflation

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today the Nixon administration is resubmitting pressure to let up in its anti-inflation fight and "we cannot yet afford to relax our efforts."

Kennedy spoke at a meeting of the prestigious business council a few hours before President Nixon's national broadcast on the state of the economy.

In what his aides said was a preview of the Nixon speech, Kennedy said there was pressure on the administration as a result of "painful" results of the anti-inflation campaign, such as higher unemployment, to switch to a policy intended to prevent a recession.

"I think the most damaging course we could take would be the stop-and-go route," he said. "We cannot yet afford to relax our efforts."

He urged the businessmen to "exercise responsible and enlightened self interest in your corporate investment, production and pricing decisions."

Voluntary restraint by business is both "the nation's Law and order and the nation's Law and interest and your own interest," Kennedy said.

William E. Irvin, president of the Idaho First National Bank, said Friday there is climate of economic well-being in Idaho. "Our year to date has been busy and productive. Livestock prices have held at profitable levels and we look for an increase in the total of agricultural income for this year. Metal prices have shown some improvement, while the lumber industry is suffering somewhat from a price decline. We expect a marked increase in tourist income and throughout the state there is

Old Farmer's Almanac Is Ready Again

The 1970 edition of "The Old Farmer's Almanac" is now available on newsstands throughout the country. Although the book is for the year 1970, it also includes weather forecasts for November and December of 1969. The trip to the moon was the big event of not only 1969, but of all time, the publisher noted. He said the presses were held up to get in what they could on these events. Although many people buy the almanac for its weather information, it also includes news events, signs of the stars and moon myths and amusing anecdotes. The weather forecast for this winter, according to the almanac, calls for a fickle, unpredictable winter. "You'll freeze one day and roast the next," the report says, and there will be plenty of heavy storms.

The Tigers, sticking to the ground, moved to a first-down at the Georgia Tech eight-yard line but were still a foot short of the goal after three plunges by Mickey Zofko and called on Riley for the 38-yard field goal that put the winning points up with 1:01 left in the game.

Utah State Throws For Three Touchdowns, Whips Army 23-7

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—Quarterback Dave Holman threw three touchdown passes to top sophomore wide receiver Wesley Garnett and Utah State's defense kept Army huddled up in its own territory most of the game Saturday to give the Aggies a 23-7 victory over the injury-plagued Cadets.

Holman hit Garnett with scoring strikes of 9, 30 and 30 yards in the first quarter and connected with tight end Paul Ruter on a seven-yard TD pass in the third period. Steve Garcia kicked a 34-yard field goal for the other Aggie goal.

Army, forced by injuries to use a rotating quarterback, had Roger Ledoux, used Lynn Moore's 50-yard touchdown run to tie the score with 3:09 left in the first period but failed to threaten seriously again.

Holman completed four of five passes for 57 yards in moving the Aggies 62 yards in eight plays to score the second touchdown on a 10-yard pass, 6:16 remaining in the first period. Holman hit Garnett with a short-in pass at the goal line and Garcia's kick made it 7-0.

Late Notre Dame Field Goal Just Misses As Irish, Southern Cal End Up 14-All

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The thickness of the cross bar was all that saved No. 3 ranked Southern California from its first defeat of the season Saturday and salvaged a 14-14 tie with No. 10 rated Notre Dame.

The surging Irish had tied the game in the fourth quarter and, with just 24 seconds left on the clock, Scott Hempel tried for a 43 yard field goal which could have meant a Notre Dame victory.

His kick was low but had the range and the crowd of 59,975 was breathless as it watched the flight of the ball.

The ball hit the cross bar dead center between the uprights and dead center on the bar—it bounced—straight—back onto the gridiron.

The Irish, though ranked below the Trojans nationally, put on a gutsy show after USC had dominated the first half.

Each team earned a touchdown and each team called a touchdown after a break.

Notre Dame scored first on a one-yard plunge by Bill Barz to wrap up a 74 yard parade. But Southern California bounced back with a 75 yard drive ending in an in-yard touchdown pass from sophomore quarterback Jerry Jones to end Terry Dickerson.

Notre Dame, trailing by seven points, promptly drove to the Trojan three yard line, but Thielsmann lost 15 yards attempting to pass to kill the attack.

Then the Irish got their break. With John Young back to punt massive 274-pound tackle Mike McCoy blocked the kick and end Walt Patulak recovered for the Irish on the Trojan seven. On the four play Denny Allan slanted over from the one yard line and after Hempel's kick, it was a 14-14 tie.

Southern California, a three point underdog, going into the game had its chances to score in the first half. It lost one of them on a fumble by Charlie Evans on the Irish eight. Notre Dame crossed mid-field only once in the first half getting to the Trojan 49.

But the Irish turned it around in the second half and nearly pulled it out. It was the fourth tie in 42 games between the two teams and the second straight year in which they wound up all even.

Stolen Passes Let Browns Top Steelers

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Erlch Barnes ran 55 yards with one interception and Walt Sumner sprinted 40 yards with another stolen pass for the second half touchdowns that spoiled the Cleveland Browns to a 45-31 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday night.

Barnes' long run came at 6:30 of the third period and Sumner's sprint, the first of six touchdowns scored in the fourth period, was scored with 12:52 to go and came on the second pass thrown in the National Football League by former Notre Dame All-American Terry Hinshelty.

Sumner came back to throw a 15-yard TD pass to Earl Gros with three minutes to go in the game and another 15-yard TD pass to Roy Jefferson with 1:18 seconds left in the game. His 41-yard pass to Bob Campbell set up a 10-yard touchdown pass to Jefferson with two minutes left. Jefferson recovered an onside kick to set up that touchdown.

However, the interceptions by Steve and Barney led to two touchdowns that spoiled the Browns to "put the game out of reach.

Morrison, raced 54 yards to the one and plunged over for the touchdown with 35 seconds left.

Collins' 48-yard catch, was his second touchdown of the game and his sixth of the season.

Notre Dame, trailing by seven points, promptly drove to the Trojan three yard line, but Thielsmann lost 15 yards attempting to pass to kill the attack.

Tigers Explode From 0-0 Half Into 28-0 Win

STOCKTON, Calif. (UPI)—After a scoreless first half, the University of Pacific erupted for 22 points in the third quarter Saturday en route to a 28-0 win over the Idaho Vandals in a non-conference football game.

In notching its third shutout of the season, UOP improved its record to 5-1 while the Vandals suffered their fourth loss against a single victory.

Junior quarterback John Read, a transfer from the University of Arkansas, started the game and threw for 100 yards over from the one and Stefan Schroeder kicked a 22-yard field goal to round out the Tigers scoring.

Idaho drove to the Pacific one yard line in the second quarter but failed to score in four running plays. The starred Tiger defense, which has allowed 38 points in six games, handed Idaho its first shutout since 1964.

Steve Olson, the Idaho quarterback who has been averaging 522 aerial yards per game to lead the nation's collegiate passers, completed 13 of 23 for 141 yards.

CLEMSON, S.C. (UPI)—A one-yard plunge by tailback Ray Yauger with 2:39 remaining snapped a 14-14 tie Saturday and sparked the Clemson Tigers to a 28-14 victory over Wake Forest.

Weather Dampens Deer Opening Success

Mud in the lower elevations, snow up high and muddy, impassable roads in between, urged some deer hunters to the south hills and the opening day of the season Saturday.

Despite that, hunters ran up some nice success percentages in the eastern part of Magic Valley.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department had no report on the Rock Creek and Shoshone Basin checking stations Saturday night. But Charles Blake, biologist, ran the Oakley station, which has a combination of hunters from units 54 and 55.

That station showed 361 hunters with 54 deer and only 14 percent success. That mark is about half of what went through the station on opening day last year.

The rookie from Tampa shocked Carolina on the third play of the game with a pass to Cuban refugee Carlos Alvarez good for 76 yards and a touchdown. Before the quarter was over he had thrown two more scoring passes and the Gators were ahead 28-0.

Florida, starting 11 sophomores, got the ball again only seconds after its first touchdown when linebacker Mike Kelley recovered a Tar-Heel fumble on the Carolina 22.

Reaves hit on a quick pass to halfback Tommy Durrance for a touchdown.

McCarthy To Stay Active In Politics

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Sen. Eugene McCarthy said Saturday he planned to remain politically active through the 1972 presidential election but didn't know exactly what role he would play. He did not rule out running for the Senate as a New Yorker.

"I expect to remain active after my term in the Senate is up, at least through the next presidential election and possibly beyond," the senator said at a news conference.

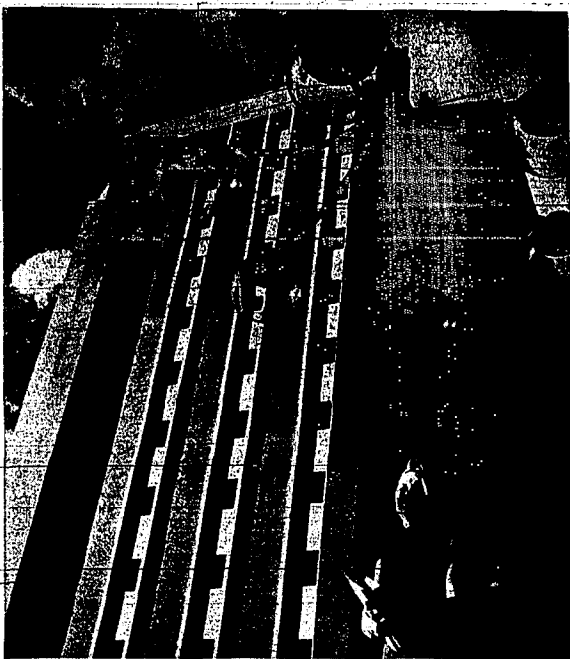

He said he still had not made a definite decision on whether to run for the Senate from the state of New York.

"I have no plans for running and I have given it no thought," he said, "but I won't say that I won't run."

He said he had not checked on the "technicalities" of establishing residence. But he said he supposed he would have to resign his Senate seat before the end of the term if he decided to run. This would mean that Minnesota Republican Gov. Harold LeVander would name a replacement.

McCarthy said he refused to accept appointment as ambassador last week of a 17-year-old girl, which President Nixon offered him, because LeVander refused to promise he would appoint a Democrat to succeed him in the Senate.

However, he said, this would not deter him from running in New York because there would only be about three months left in his term.

Land Panel Alters Stand On Proposals

By LINDY HIGH

BOISE (UPI) — A Legislative Committee on state lands met Saturday to approve recommendations presented in public hearings, but changed its mind and voted to draw up legislation for presentation next January.

Sen. Ray Rigby, D-Reserve, at first questioned even approving the recommendations, saying, "We've had a lot of hearings, but we've never had a ball game on the problems."

"If we do it this way, we should label it recommendations made by the people at the hearings. For me, it's difficult to jump into conclusions without an actual discussion of recommendations," Rigby added.

However, Sen. Don Summers, R-Boise, moved that the committee boil the recommendations down to proposed legislation for presentation to the second session of the 40th Legislature.

Sheriff May Renew Action Against Film

BOISE (UPI) — Ada County Sheriff Paul Bright said Friday he would not decide whether to take action to halt the proposed showing of the movie "Candy" until he conferred with prosecuting attorney Ellison Matthews.

The controversial movie was scheduled for showing in Boise in February, but at that time Bright, Boise Police Chief John Church and deputy prosecutor John Rowen were given a preview of the movie.

Showing it, Church and Bright said they would arrest the operator if the movie were shown to the public at the time. It was not shown.

The theater has announced that the film will be shown starting Oct. 29. The theater manager said he had decided to show the film after a district court ruled that Idaho law did not prohibit showing certain films.

Action is also expected on an ordinance designating Second Avenue East North as traffic thoroughfares.

The council will also authorize the release of an easement of property on the Inman Lutheran Church land, and will authorize the investment of bond funds in United States treasury bills.

Two new members will be appointed to the city's Parks and Recreation Commission.

FBI Agents Flush Suspect In Kidnaping From Laundry Hamper In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Robert A. Harvey, wanted for the kidnaping last week of a 17-year-old girl, was found by FBI agents Friday hiding under a pile of dirty laundry in an apartment house building.

The FBI said Harvey climbed out from beneath the clothes shouting, "Don't shoot. I'm not armed." He was arrested without a struggle. He was traced to the building through a stolen car.

Harvey, 31, also is wanted for a kidnap-robbery in Albuquerque, N.M. He has been the object of a manhunt throughout the western United States since Kristen "Kitty" Anderson was kidnaped Tuesday.

She was forced into a car at knifepoint as a hostage when she came to work at the Peter Pan Nursery School in Arroyo Grande, Calif., where she was teaching aide. Her abductor drove her 300 miles to the Northern California community of Vacaville where she was freed Wednesday. She was found, bound and frightened but unharmed, in a baseball park restroom.

The FBI said Harvey told the girl he intended to flee north to Seattle, Wash., area but authorities felt the disclosure might be a ruse and the suspect instead might head for familiar haunts in Los Angeles.

On Friday, the station wagon stolen by the abductor outside the nursery school was sighted parked on a street in the central area of Los Angeles.

Agents searched nearby buildings until they flushed Harvey. He was arraigned later in the day and ordered held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Greek Right-Wingers Explode Bombs In Display Against Military Government

ATHENS (UPI) — Eight bombs exploded almost simultaneously in the heart of Athens Saturday in one of the boldest shows of sentiment against the military regime in months.

At least six persons were injured, including a 55-year-old retired army general.

Three of the bombs exploded along a road used 30 minutes later by Premier George Papadopoulos, but there was no evidence he was a target.

Authorities said the eight explosions were the most recorded on one day since anti-regime forces began a series of bomb attacks a few months ago.

A right-wing organization called the "Greek Democratic Front" telephoned foreign newsmen to announce it was responsible.

"It was a complete success," the spokesman said. "We wanted to cause traffic jams and we succeeded."

He described the bombings as "a rehearsal" for Oct. 28, a national holiday marking the anniversary of the 1940 invasion of Greece by Italy.

Among the injured was former Brig. Gen. Ioannis Chrysicos, hurt when a bomb exploded near the officers club off central Constitutional Square.

Other blasts damaged traffic signal boxes, broke windows in the National Bank of Greece and destroyed a transformer box used to power streetcars.

The explosions occurred when streets were jammed with vehicles. Traffic was snarled more than an hour.

The suit also named Boise School Bus Co., Boise Independent school district, Ford Motor Co., B and D Automotive, and Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co.

The Rea's six-year-old son was killed and 60 students were injured when the bus and truck collided May 15 at the intersection of Greenwood Road and Highway 20.

It's 62 Miles From Cotterel To Snowville, But Next Month It Will Be Just 50 Fast Miles

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Feature Editor

In less than a month the motorist traveling between Utah and Idaho will soon be skimming over a quarter-million-dollar highway representing nearly a month in construction and planning time.

Sometime in November, with reasonable cooperation from the weatherman, 46.3 miles of new Interstate 80N between the Cotterel Port of Entry in Idaho and the Utah-Idaho state line will be open to the public.

In addition, another five miles in Utah are expected to be complete about the same time and available for major travel. This brings to more than 50 miles the latest Interstate highway project and completes Interstate 80N from Jerome to Salt Lake City.

The 46.3 miles in Idaho is the Gem State's longest single Interstate project to open to travel at one time. It represents about $10,000,000 in state and federal funding and nearly three years of construction time.

Running through the juniper-covered area north of the present U. S. Highway 305, the highway involves new construction throughout. It cuts 12 miles for the present route and trims a good deal of time by eliminating the towns of Malta and Sireveil and giving the motorist a 40-mile-per-hour speed limit instead of the existing 50 and 60-mile-per-hour limits.

Despite the multi-million-dollar price tag, the construction has been termed relatively inexpensive by Ellis Mathes, engineer for the State Department of Highways. In North Idaho, Interstate construction has been costing nearly $2 million per mile, he said.

Highway construction can be an involved thing. State major contractors have worked on the project since it began more than two years ago.

About half of the project, when completed, will provide four-lane divided highway, while 20 miles will remain two-lane for the present. Right-of-ways has been acquired, the grade completed and fencing installed.

Mr. Mathes estimated that within the next two to six years when traffic demand and financing warrant the additional two lanes will be added. By the mid-seventies, highway officials say, all of Idaho's interstate system will be completed to four lanes.

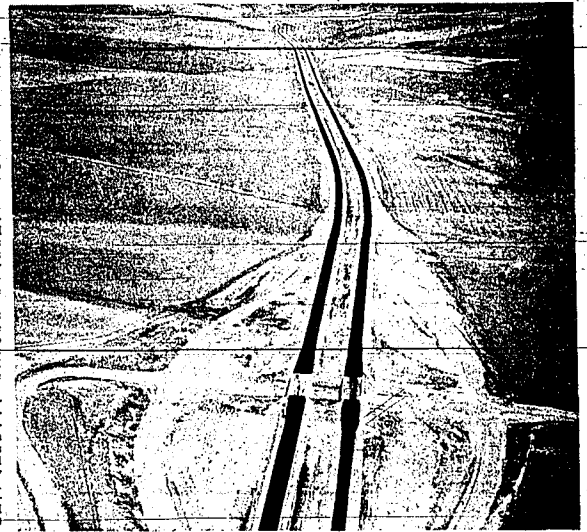

When the Cotterel-to-Utah section is open, about 80 percent of the system will be in use.

In a tour during the past week, Burley and Rupert Chambers, Commerce delegates and community leaders in Cassia and Maladoka counties received a preview of the route traveling from Cotterel to just beyond the Utah line in a Highway Department caravan.

There are 19 major concrete structures, four interchanges and two rest areas including the one now in use at Cotterel. The other rest area is located in the scenic juniper trees just south of the Juniper interchange.

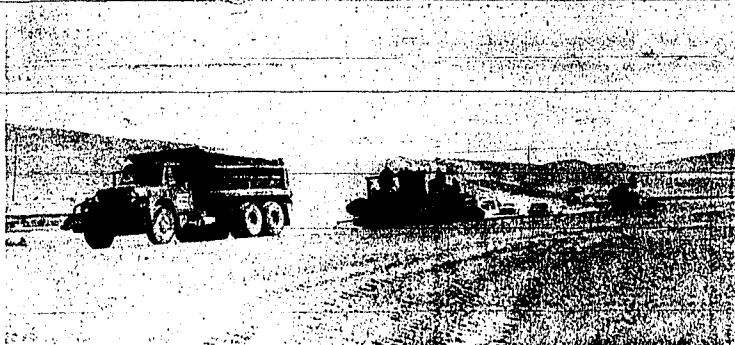

Here a 400-foot-deep well was drilled to provide water and electricity will be brought in from lines already in the area to serve irrigation pumps.

Because of higher elevation and varying weather patterns, snow removal is an accepted burden for highway crews on the new route. Maintenance equipment stations with six access points will be provided.

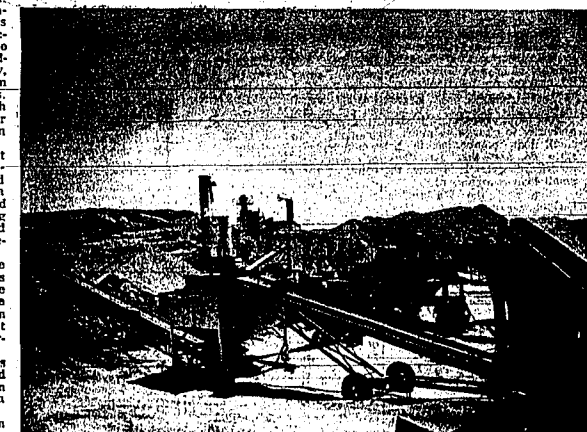

MOTORISTS CAN LOOK forward to a much shorter trip to Salt Lake City from the Maglo Valley area when the new 46.3 miles of I-80N opens in November. Typical four lane section is shown here from the air with overpass structures built to allow ranchers and land owners access to their property on both sides of the new controlled access highway.

Times-News Sunday Feature SECTION

ADVANCE TOUR OF NEW Highway I-80-N between Cotterel and the Utah-Idaho state line, was provided by Idaho Department of Highway Officials for community leaders of Burley, Rupert and surrounding towns. At top, Ellis Mathes, far right listens with others during a discussion of the construction program. Others from left include Dale Dammorell, Burley; Dale Harding, Department of Highways, Shoshone; Grant Fillmore, Lloyd Hollinger, Garis Robertson and Mrs.

Robertson, all Burley. In the center photo Howard Johnson District Engineer, Shoshone, left, chats with two other State Highway Department employees while watching paving machines spread hot plant mix on the new roadway surface. Below, heavy equipment is also at work on the Utah portion of the project. This section, about 10 miles, brings the total highway program to more than 50 miles and completes Interstate 80 from Jerome to Salt Lake City.

ONE OF THREE PLANTS operated in conjunction with the construction of Idaho's largest single Interstate project is this crusher and lime operation in the foreground with hotplant in the background. The plant was set up at the site by LeGrand Johnson, one of six contractors taking part in the $10,000,000 construction project.

Idaho Writer, Publisher Win Top Award For Western Non-Fiction Work Of 1968

GOLDEN SPUR AWARD for the best non-fiction western book of 1968 is displayed by Opal Fisher, widow of the late Idaho author, Vardis Fisher. The award was presented for his final book, "Gold Rushes And Mining Camps Of The Early American West." Gordon Gipson, vice president and editor-in-chief of Caxton Printers, Ltd., Caldwell, was presented a similar award for publishing the book. (Jan Salisbury Photo)

It comes as no surprise that Vardis Fisher's last book, "Gold Rushes and Mining Camps Of The Early American West," was given the Golden Spur Award by the Western Writers of America.

The award recognized the well-known Idaho author's final work as the best western non-fiction to appear in 1968. His last novel, "Mountain Man," won the same award as the best historical or regional novel of 1965.

"In reviewing 'Gold Rushes and Mining Camps' for 'The Magazine of Western History,' Marshall Sprague, a well-known writer and expert on the early West, said: 'As everybody knows, the indomitable Dr. Fisher was a literary phenomenon: poet, essayist, teacher and story-teller, debunker of sacred cows and Snake River pioneer (he) poured his amazing vitality into a gold rush panorama even more lively for us, perhaps, than if we had actually been there. The text is illuminated by 300 old photos, some of them pretty wonderful.'

"The flavor is pure Fisher — at once satirical and sentimental, bumptious and kind, hilarious and tragic, and as provocative and stimulating as a champagne glass. 'A thrilling tome, Vardis Fisher was getting along in years (73) but he came out of this one seeming to be in his brass and brave and irreverent and exasperating and delightful as ever.'"

JUNIPER SPRINGS REST AREA is one of the more scenic offered Interstate travelers. Located in heavy juniper groves, the rest areas, including the one shown on the left, feature the usual picnic tables with shelters, restrooms, and parking areas. On the right is the access road leading from the rest area for southbound traffic. Another rest area, already in use is located at the other end of the project near the Cotterel port of entry.

Rare Law Used To Hit Teens

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—Dist. Judge Stanley Kirk today sentenced three boys found guilty of second degree lynching in the beating of a high school teacher to four years in prison but gave them probation.

The sentence means that during the four years of probation should the youths violate it they could serve a full four-year prison term.

Robert A. Mack, Charles Young and Donnie Ray Higgins, all 17, were convicted Thursday of knocking down and kicking C. H. Dowdy, a biology teacher at Hirsch High School.

They were convicted under a law passed in 1949 during times of labor strife in the oil fields of the state. The law declares that any gathering assembled to commit assault and battery to be a mob and stipulates that any member of the mob is guilty of second degree lynching.

The law carries a penalty of up to 10 years in prison.

Dowdy testified during the trial he told the boys to remove their caps and button their shirts while in school. He said he was about to take one of the boys to the principal's office when another tackled him.

The teacher is white and the three students are Negroes.

IDENTIFYING CHARACTERISTIC of the white-tailed deer is shown as the graceful forest inhabitant runs through brush. Its antlers have a broad "saw" and each beam bends back slightly, then sweeps forward with individual lines or points emerging from a single beam. In contrast, antlers of the mule deer branch and re-branch. White tails are shy animals and among the most difficult for the hunter to track.

Bankers Will Join Idaho In Suit On Cards

BOISE (UPI)—Directors of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks have voted to join Idaho in a suit challenging the interest rate on certain bank credit cards, it was reported today.

State Finance Commissioner John D. Silva said the directors voted unanimously to have the association join the case against First Security Bank of Idaho and the U.S. comptroller of the currency.

Attorney General Robert M. Wilson and Silva filed a suit in U.S. District Court alleging the rate of interest First Security charges on its Bankmaster credit loans exceeds Idaho's legal rate.

The bank contends it has authority to charge as much as small loan companies in the state do and that its Bankmaster rate is below the small loan company rate.

Silva said the Washington, D.C., law firm of Eves, Neal, Pogue and Bell will handle the action for the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks. Silva is one of the 12 directors of the Association of State Bank Supervisors.

Book Review

The lake was cold, black, evil no more, than five hundred yards in length, scarcely two hundred in breadth, a narrow stretch of glassy calm shadowed by the mountainsides that slipped steeply into its dark waters and went plunging down the lake, called Finstersee, is the beginning of a novel of action and suspense, "The Salzburg Connection," by Helen MacInnes.

Richard Bryant plans to recover the Finstersee boat that he believes has been kept hidden for twenty odd years. He waits until the tourist season in Unterwald is over and uses all precautions in his journey from Salzburg to Finstersee. His plan works with few complications and hides it.

Augusta and her son, Anton, stopped Richard Bryant on his return home. Anton lost his life trying to dispose of Bryant's boat.

Mrs. Bryant knows what her husband has done and realizes his death wasn't accidental. Her brother, Johann, the man who won Bill Mathison came from the United States to investigate Bryant's "hook" he was accepted very easily. Mathison suspects something is wrong and ends up in an adventure of danger and suspense.

The story is filled with action and thrills. Once you start reading, you won't be able to put the "Salzburg Connection" down.

"The Salzburg Connection" is a fascinating exercise in wide-area spyship. Helen MacInnes' appeal lies in her unflinching eye for vivid backgrounds; in her clean-cut presentation of each important member of her cast. This is a complete novel, a complete given her fiction a kind of grandeur, a romantic overtone suggesting knights in mortal combat.

White-Tail Deer, Favorite In North Idaho Hunts, Is Moving South Of Salmon River

By JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish-Game Department

A chunky little forked-horn whitetail created quite a flap recently when a hunter brought it through the Mores Creek station east of Boise. Though 11 deer and five elk were checked that day by attendants who maintained five lines to speed up the flow of 1,203 hunters, the event was judged so unusual that the Idaho Statutes were amended to include the white-tailed buck. It was the first of this species of deer to be checked out at the Mores Creek station since the memory of attendants. In all truth, they would have missed the identity of the animal, which was in the trunk of the car, except for a decision to weigh the carcass.

Actually, some 80-85 per cent of the statewide deer harvest each year is made up of mule deer. Calculated statewide harvests, based on hunter questionnaires, report card returns and check station data, averaged 67,495 deer for ten years, and 78,442 last year, including both mule and whitetail—the highest ever recorded.

Most whitetails are shot north of the Salmon River, Ralph Peterson, game management supervisor, says he never has checked a whitetail deer at the Canyon station just north of Salmon City in the many years he has helped staff it. An exceptional whitetail has been observed on the Lemhi River. One female whitetail was observed on the Middle Fork of the Salmon near Bernard in 1967. Another was seen in 1968 and again in 1964.

There is a small population of white-tailed deer in the lodgepole pine-meadow complex of Chamberlain Basin, and some have been reported by hunters in the Warrenburg area near the Snake River, Long Valley area in the vicinity of Cascade, Dick Norell, Western Regional game biologist, says he has seen a number of whitetail roams the North Fork of the Payette River and could be spreading out some. Bill Pogue, Garden Valley district conservation officer, observed a white-tailed doe and fawn wintering on the South Fork of the Payette River last year and is trapped and tagged one of them. The one recently trapped at the Mores Creek station was shot by a Boise hunter on the South Fork of the Payette River about six miles east of Lohan.

"Idaho Wildlife Resources" reported in February, 1959, "Twenty more white-tailed deer had been released near Banks (Payette River), bringing the total to 200. The game department has been releasing deer in the bushlands in the herd to a total of 73 transplants." No other mention is made of this operation, except that similar deer introductions were made on the South Fork of the Snake River and the Teton River in eastern Idaho. The white-tailed deer were live-trapped on the old Farragut Naval Training Station, now a State Park on Lake Pocatello, and then transported and trucked to Southern Idaho.

"This species of deer is scarce, rarely seen, and few ever have been trapped by hunters near Banks. Biologists do not believe they cross with mule deer during the rut."

The man who suggested bringing animals in from America to hunt is an old white-tailed buck, like to delay the opening of white-tailed deer season until snow flies because leaves are down from deciduous trees and brush, making targets easier to see and identify in thickets. Cold weather, including snow, minimizes tell-tale human scent and sounds that signal danger to game animals. Most hunters do not try to follow every set of deer tracks—that way lies exhaustion if not madness.

Such signs do help a group of hunters know where to leave a man on a "stand," where to start their drive, how many animals are using the area, whether they are young or old, does, bucks or fawns, whether they are browsing or passing through the area.

Whitetails have been found in the valleys and foothills of northern Idaho ever since white man first explored the area 150 years ago. They are still common over most of the Bitterroot ranges. Dr. William Leslie Pengelly, a game biologist in the 1950's for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, quoted an old-time resident of Hayden Lake (Vern Perry) to the effect deer were scarce from 1917 to 1933 but are common everywhere now. "Everyone had heard about them, they ran deer all year round . . . I recall seeing sleigh loads of venison being hauled into Coueur d'Alene prior to World War I. Early logging and big fires opened up dense timber and made conditions more favorable for deer."

Pengelly said it works both ways. Logging and ranching over the years have opened up much of the timber cover, thereby increasing suitable whitetail range. Where too much cover has been removed and whitetail habitat has resulted. For example, the large fire that swept over the Mago area in 1931 changed it from good whitetail range to good mule deer range. As plant succession progresses and the vast brushfields give way to the uneven-aged stands of evergreens, it may change back to good whitetail range and mule deer numbers will decline.

There are reports every year of other types of local deer (fawns, Columbian blacktails, mule deer-whitetail hybrids), none of which has been confirmed.

Until more evidence is found, it is safe to say only two species of deer inhabit Idaho—the northwest whitetailed deer and the Rocky Mountain mule deer. The mule deer became numerous, even in northern Idaho, after the great wildfires of 1910, 1916, 1926 and 1931.

The Money Box

By FRANK SCHELL

From Mrs. A. S. Paul, Idaho: We read your column with much interest so thought we would get your opinion as to the value of the following:

We have two (2) two-dollar bills. One is a 1928-A, serial and is not brand new but not bad and the other is in excellent condition and is a 1963-A serial. Is there anyone that has value? I know they are not made anymore. Also have a Columbia Half Dollar, not in brand new condition, 1892. Does this have much value? I have a $10 bill, serial 100000000A, redeemable in Gold, H. Tate, S-1028, A. W. Weston.

Answer: The 1928-B $2.00 bill (of which $2 million were printed) is not particularly scarce, but brings about $5.00 in brand new condition. The 1963-A is the last of the $2.00 bills printed, and is currently sold by dealers for $2.25 each, brand new.

The Columbia half-dollar is the first of the United States Commemorative half-dollars. This coin was minted in 1902 and 1903. The 1902 currency sells for $4.00, brand new. Yours would be less than that, since it is circulated. Your Federal Reserve Note, Series 1928, about 1928-1930, is worth $20.00 and $20.00—this is current dealer price.

From V. J., Bull, Idaho: Can you please tell me if my Indian Head pennies have any particular value? We have a collection of several hundred with some very old ones. I have been told that we may have some very valuable coins, but this information has not come from an authority. Could you please shed some light on this subject?

Answer: Some Indian Head Cents are valuable, since yours is one of a number of requests, we will briefly review prices and scarce dates of this popular series.

The first Indian Head Cents were struck in 1859, and are commonly termed "white" cents since they were made from copper-nickel and have a light color. In 1864, the metal was

Russia Makes Impressive Show In Anti-Red Malaysia

KUALA-LUMPUR—(UPI)—The flag of the Soviet Union has never been lowered over anti-Communist Malaysia than it has this month and last during the Soviets' first trade and industrial exhibit.

The fair is the biggest the Russians have staged in South Asia. It also has been the first major Soviet venture into the public eye in Malaysia.

Beneath the giant red standard waving over the language and literary agency in downtown Kuala Lumpur, hundreds of Malays, Chinese and Indians have been attracted to the exhibit and watched according to young blond Russians demonstrating a giant Soviet-made excavator.

According to Western diplomats here the venture has been a success and another plus for Moscow in its attempt to spread Soviet influence in this part of the world.

Moscow's diplomatic offensive made its first score in Malaysia 17 months ago with the opening of a Soviet embassy in Kuala Lumpur. There contact with the Communist world was banned for the first 11 of its 12 years of independent existence.

The opening of the trade fair made all that seem a long time ago. Some 50 smiling Russians, led at the outset by Deputy Foreign Trade Minister Mikhail Kuzmin, showed off heavy earth moving equipment, automobiles, printers, jewelry, vodka and postage stamps. In the exhibition hall while Russian folk songs and classics played over a loudspeaker system.

The motive was purely to boost trade. Kuzmin said the Soviet Union buys 20 per cent of Malaysia's rubber crop and much of its tin and sells little in return. The trade gap was $0 to 1 in Malaysia's favor last year and has followed a similar pattern for a decade.

To even the flow of goods, the Russians say they hope their products will find a bigger market in Malaysia. Agents for Russian manufacturers previously numbered hardly a dozen in Malaysia.

No observer doubted that there also were political motives behind the exhibition, which collectively weighs 500 tons and cost Moscow $1 million to bring to Kuala Lumpur. For one thing, much of the heavy equipment on display is the kind Malaysia gets only through government purchase and as a Singapore trader said, "You don't need a trade fair to sell something to a government."

On the purely trade level, the Russians are breaking new

USE SOME IMAGINATION and you can probably identify these creations by members of the Wesley Annis family. Mr. Annis and his two youngsters designed the odd figures from small machine parts, iron hooks, chain links, washers and the like. Sprayed with black paint they become attractive miniature art items.

Giant Bucket Converts To Fireplace

Granted, not too many people have an old drag-line bucket around the house, but for those who do, a Twin Falls family has a suggestion.

The otherwise unattractive item can be made into a perfect outdoor (or even indoor) fireplace. All you need to do is mount it on steel planks or large rocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Annis, 107 S. Washington St., say it is ideal for such use, as the draft from the natural shape and design of the bucket adapts suitably to outdoor fires. Compared to other types of outdoor fireplaces, it also is relatively inexpensive, Mrs. Annis said.

In the case of their new fireplace, Mr. Annis said he had been looking for several years for an old drag-line bucket for this purpose. He finally found one at the Amalgamated Sugar Co., and was able to purchase it at scrap metal prices.

The bucket weighs about two tons, so requires some special equipment to transport and set in place, Mr. Annis warns, but once it is placed on end with the teeth up, there is a natural firebox and opening for smoke. A grill can be installed and Mr. Annis placed two strands of link chain, welded together around the fire box area.

Members of the Annis family admit their fireplace is not the most beautiful, but they like its natural, comfortable, old and weathered look. They plan to cover the lower area with exposed steel supports, with rock work and to landscape around the fireplace. It should then be an attractive and unique conversation piece for the backyard.

Mr. Annis, a welder by trade, has fashioned a number of other items not found in most areas. A rock fountain made of potato harvester-link chain in cone shapes and filled with rocks enhances the family's backyard.

UNUSUAL FOUNTAIN in the back yard of the Wesley Annis home, although disconnected at this time of year, provides an unusual decoration item. The fountain is fashioned from potato harvester chain and filled with unusual rocks. Water sprays from the top bringing out the colors of the rocks and creating an attractive addition.

Using old horseshoes, Mr. Annis has welded them into shape to form two fighting cocks and another pair of roosters fighting over a worm. Small pieces of the horse shoes are cut and welded to form the beaks while nails left in the horseshoes give the appearance of ruffled feathers along the backs of the fighting roosters. Weathered wood buses are used to mount the iron figures.

Horseshoes have also been used by Mr. Annis to design an iron art item welding of a cowboy.

Using small machine parts, bolts and washers and even ordidinary wood and metal screws, Mr. Annis and his youngsters have designed a number of unique figures resembling birds, reptiles and undefinable creatures.

'PLUG' ORIGIN NOTED
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Plug tobacco originated in Missouri, deriving its name from the method of curing. The tobacco leaves were treated with wild honey and brandy and wedged into holes in green hickory or maple log. The holes were then plugged and the tobacco left to cure.

he must have been when he wrote his first book a long time ago.

Richard H. Dillon, also a well-known writer and expert on the early West, wrote in the San Francisco Sunday Examiner & Chronicle: "The West in this volume is the real thing. . . . All in all, Fisher has pulled off a five-foot shelf of Western American in a mere 466 pages and 200,000 words. . . . a four-round, sturdily bound and extra-illustrated education on what the West was really like. . . . The writer's widow, Opal Fisher, who has always shunned personal publicity, admitted in an interview a few days ago, that she is now "on the firing line" and must not only submit to normal publicity as representative of a famous writer, but must participate actively in promoting his work. She considers it "a privilege to be associated with the name of Vardis Fisher, which represents the best in scholarship and artistic integrity to be found in the literary world."

She is presently engaged in compiling and editing a memorial book of essays (tentative title: Vardis Fisher—To Each His Own), written by the author's friends and admirers. "An editing task, I think," she said, "an honest book, I hope. Not a bath of honey by any means; the essays presented so far, have plenty of spice and vinegar and add up to a realistic picture of a complex personality, a man who was something different and special to each person who knew him."

The book also earned for an Idaho publishing concern the same coveted award. Gordon Gibson, vice president and editor in chief accepted a plaque for Caxton Printers, Ltd., Caldwell, for publishing the prize-winning western writing.

ROASTING MARSHMALLOWS in an old drag-line bucket isn't done every day, unless you are a member or guest of the Wesley Annis family in Twin Falls. Here John Hill and Janette Annis enjoy the unique new outdoor fireplace at the Annis home. Hidden behind Janette is her older brother, Gordon. The fireplace, not fully completed, is a two-ton drag line bucket standing on end to form a fire box and perfect exit for the smoke. When complete, the fireplace will have removable grill, rock foundation and landscaping.

High School Girls Parade On Picket Line In 'Pants Strike'

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (UPI)—A dozen girls protesting the effects of cold weather on bare legs, marched for the right to wear pants last week in front of North High School.

Regina Jackson, a sophomore, told principal Carl Bee that skirts just fail to do the job in winter. She said the girls came to school with skirts on in the morning but changed to long pants for their protest march in front of the building.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT GRUBBS examines some of the ceramic items Mr. Grubbs produces in his workshop at their home west of Bliss. Mrs. Grubbs and their daughters paint the items. One of their specialties is the Antique pitcher and bowl sets. Mr. Grubbs is a grade school teacher at Dietrich.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

"I just learned it the hard way," explains Robert Grubbs, a DIETRICH school teacher who lives near BLISS, when asked how he learned the techniques required in the making of ceramics.

After experimenting with plaster of paris, while still in high school and rejecting it because of poor quality, he took to the ceramics. Mr. Grubbs produces many objects, piggy banks to bud vases, in his underground workshop which originally was dug for use as a reptile tank. It was never used for this purpose, however, and later was converted into a fallout shelter for the Bliss area. It then served as a potato cellar until Mr. Grubbs leased it two years ago. The workshop contains a Grubbs' two kilns, a washing machine used for mixing the clay and water to pouring consistency, molds and materials for cleaning and painting the ceramic items.

Mr. Grubbs pours and cleans the items, then his wife and two daughters paint them and add any other finishing touches. One of their specialties is the antique pitcher and bowl replica set. The Grubbs opened their ceramic and rock shop at the west side of Bliss two years ago.

One of the special interests of the shop are the Snake River agates. There is also a free museum containing a fossilized leg bone and hoof of the Pleistocene Shoshonensis, more commonly known as the fossil horse, steer horns from Texas and many rock specimens.

The teacher is happy to discuss techniques and show his workshop to anyone interested in ceramics. He feels that ceramics do and comb out with a good product.

He teaches grade school at Dietrich.

NEW DELHI — LAMA SAM TEM, a Buddhist Monk adds a cautious touch on the head of a deity he is sculpturing from butter. An expert in the unusual art of butter sculpturing, he says the art originated in the Himalayan kingdom in the 10th century after Christ. The problem of sculpturing in butter is keeping it cool long enough for completion and exhibit. Then it melts.

Like Feathers In Storm, Butter Sculpturing Is Quick Vanishing Beauty

By R. C. PANDE.

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Instead of eating butter, Lama Sam Tem shapes and carves it into figures of deities and demons. Sam Tem, a Buddhist monk, practices the Tibetan art of butter sculpturing which originated in the Himalayan religious kingdom in the 10th century. He is one of the thousands of Tibetans who fled their remote state in Central Asia after the 1959 Communist Chinese invasion and occupation.

Before the Chinese invasion, butter sculptors from all Tibet met once a year in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, for the Monlam Festival. This was an exhibit of butter sculpturing, and the best works won prizes awarded by the Dalai Lama, Tibet's god-king, who now lives in exile.

Butter sculptors are not fasting. Generally they are prepared for exhibitions, or festivals, then cut up with the butter sometimes being distributed to the poor.

Lama Sam Tem now lives in a Tibetan refugee camp in northern India. He came to New Delhi, the Indian capital, as the head of a team of other Tibetan butter sculptors to prepare a special exhibit of their art.

The butter artists work about 12 hours a day in a room filled with buckets of ice and cooled additionally by an air conditioner turned to top speed.

"In Lhasa, where temperatures are much lower than in India, we never had to use ice," Sam Tem said. "And the yak butter we used in Tibet is more solid than the ordinary butter we are forced to use here."

The Tibetan artists mix a dash of wheat flour with Indian butter to make it harder.

While the craftsmen squat on the floor shaping their butter works, an attendant sprays insecticides on the sculptures from time to time to drive away the flies.

Some parts of a statue require hours to shape.

"Take for instance the large lotus used in decorating the scaffolding of a altar piece," Sam Tem said. "Each petal has to be softly pinched and painted before a highly symmetrical pattern is formed."

One of Sam Tem's complex butter statues represented Mahakali, deity of destruction. Mahakali has 10 arms and a headgear decorated with hundreds of small patterns, all of it shaped from butter.

Sam Tem never sketches his statues in advance.

"All the sketches and blueprints are tucked in here," the Lama said, pointing a finger to his close-cropped head. "I model from memory."

Asked if he considered it a waste of time and talent to create art which is destroyed after exhibition, the monk answered from his Buddhist teachings: "You forget that nothing is permanent in this earth. Even the creator is destroyed when the time comes."

Highway Work In South Idaho Is Part Of The New U. S. Interstate System

lected for snow plows and summer repair equipment. A maintenance patrol car will be assigned to the route and will travel it daily as is the case of all Interstate routes, Mr. Mathes said.

"When completed, the route will replace U.S. 305 through Malta and Struvell, and these communities, now known as tourist stops, will revert to business centers for the sparsely populated cattle country."

Contractors experienced some unusual problems in the construction of the new route. At one point, ranchers whose cattle range on both sides of the construction, route found their animals were turning up in their neighbors' herds. After some detective work, it was found that while the major area was fenced, drainage structures provided openings large enough for most of the animals to squeeze through, and squeeze through they did.

As a result, these structures are being equipped with special gates that open only when pressure is applied at the bottom. Water pressure will open gates but the cattle will not — unless of course they are smart enough to push on the lower portion of the gate.

Drainage, says District Engineer Howard Johnson, Shoshone, is something of a problem because of the history of flash floods but drainage structures were designed with this in mind. Contractors also proved they can't hear, but may have recognized it. A lone juniper tree north of the Juniper interchange is one of the few trees remaining on Interstate right of way anywhere in the nation.

Because it was growing just off of the roadway and was an attractive, old juniper, it was decided to leave it at the expense of some heavy equipment operators.

For many of the contractors and their crews it has been a long project. Because of the remoteness of the area, workers are driving as much as two hours per day to get to and from the work site. Added to this are the 10-to-12-hour work schedules. Some workers brought their families and mobile homes to the area for the summer-but trailer parking was not exactly luxurious and it was a long drive to Burley or Tremonton, Utah, for major shopping needs.

For the most part, workers were obtained in the local area. The construction project has seen 240 persons including about 62 state highway employees at work over the past nearly three years.

Gravel and aggregate supplies were obtained from sites adjacent to the project itself, and as many as three plants have been operating.

When work is completed, the aggregate digging areas will be filled in and replanted, making it difficult to detect any damage to the surrounding area.

Contractors who have participated in the giant undertaking included Rogers Construction Co., Nelson and Miller, Grant Construction, LeGrand Johnson, Goodwin Construction and Peter Kiewit and Sons.

Actual total cost reached $9,

570,421.45; excavation totaled 2,878,335 cubic yards while borrow material totaled 2,233,500 cubic yards and a total of 700,007 tons of plant mix will be used to form the surface.

Another 1,174,118 tons of aggregate base gravel went into the road bed and fencing required 549,480 feet of steel post fence. In the construction were 1,553,890 pounds of steel and 43,435 tons of cement.

A formal dedication ceremony is being planned for Nov. 21, under direction of the Bureau of Commerce with the cooperation of other chamber organizations. Tentative plans call for Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho and Gov. Calvin Rampton, Utah, to join in the dedication event.

Border Checks Prove Effective

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite its change of name and intensity, the U.S.-Mexico border crackdown on marijuana and drug traffic shows continuing "high degree of success," Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., said Thursday.

No border towns will be made off limits to military men in the operation, Tower said he has learned.

The crackdown started on "Operation Intercept," with searches of each border-crossing auto or pedestrian. Traffic backed up, tempers shorted, Mexico protested, and U.S. border congressman aquawaked. Last week, the operation was changed to "Operation Cooperation," with a frequency of searches reduced to suit the traffic flow.

"DON'T TOUCH" PETERBOROUGH, England (UPI)—When a labor union complained that a local firm sometimes ordered women employees to strip to make sure they weren't stealing, company manager Tommy Thomas said, "Some of our women employees have been known to tuck goods under their girdles and slip. Our security officers have strict instructions not to touch the flesh."

MAKING HALLOWEEN SUCKERS is a treat idea suggested by Mrs. Nancy Barron for the ghosts and spooks who will be ringing doorbells in the very near future. Mrs. Barron's recipe is easy to follow and a real treat for any youngster.

A DELIGHTFUL CENTERPIECE or mantel decoration for Halloween is this elaborately decorated witch made by Mrs. Bess Smout. Various types of paper are used in its construction along with a large popcorn head. This witch even sports a seat belt. Complete instructions for making the witch are included in today's story.

Will It Be Trick—Or Treat?

By NORMA HERZINGER
Women's Editor

It's almost Halloween time again and many mothers and youngsters are in a quandary about what kind of goodies they will prepare for the wicker-treaters.

The customs seem to vary from household to household and those with small kiddies usually go to a little more trouble with their cookies, popcorn balls, etc. It's always fun to make something the youngsters enjoy, so with this thought in mind, we asked several Twin Falls women to share their Halloween treat ideas with us.

Nancy Barron, who has two delightful daughters, recommends Halloween Suckers.

HALLOWEEN SUCKERS
2 cups sugar
1 cup water
3/4 cup light corn syrup
1 drop orange food coloring
2 teaspoons orange flavoring

Combine sugar, water and syrup. Cook until hard crack stage. Add flavoring and coloring and drop onto sticks on greased cookie sheets. Makes 12 to 15 suckers.

Sharon Walker's children always help prepare the goodies at their home and they enjoy making popcorn balls to resemble pumpkins.

POP CORN BALLS
7 cups popped corn
Mix in a sauce pan—
2 cups sugar
3/4 cups water
1/2 cup light corn syrup
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup butter

Bring to a boil and cook to 250 degrees. Remove from heat and stir in two teaspoons vanilla and orange food coloring. Pour over popcorn, stirring constantly. Shape into balls with buttered hands.

Cut long green gumdrops in half and roll in sugar to form stem of pumpkin. Cut the regular colored gumdrops into fourths, roll in sugar, and use for eyes and nose. Dip the tips of individual pieces of candy corn into syrup and use to form the mouth.

The favorite treats from Janell Arrington's kitchen are decorated cookies, either Old Fashioned Sugar Cookies or Molasses Cut Ups. Mrs. Arrington usually makes extra large round cookies of which she frosts and decorates (and can't keep enough made).

OLD FASHIONED SUGAR COOKIES
Cream together—
1 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 large eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon extract

When well blended, add alternately—four cups sifted flour blended with one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-third cup milk.

The dough will be soft, but do not add more flour. Chill in refrigerator at least one hour, then roll one-fourth inch thick on floured board or pastry sheet. Cut into desired shapes and bake for 10 to 12 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

MOLASSES CUT UPS
Cream together—
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup dark molasses

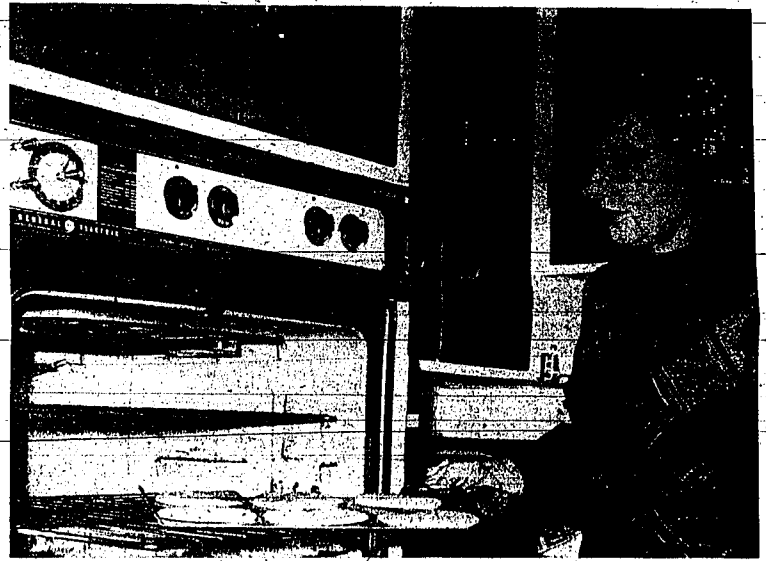

Sift together
3/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
3 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger

Add dry ingredients alternately with one-half cup water. Mix well and chill in refrigerator until dough is firm. Roll one-fourth-inch thick and cut into desired shapes. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

Lola DeWitt has lots of help at her house—from her two sons, Monty and Douglas. Their favorite treat, not only for Halloween but for classroom treats and parties, is decorated cupcakes.

DECORATED CUPCAKES
Use your favorite recipe for cupcakes. For the frosting, pour one box of M&M's Frosting Sugar into a mixing bowl. Add dash of salt. Put one teaspoon vanilla into measuring cup. Add milk to make exactly one-fourth cup. Pour over sugar. Add four to six tablespoons soft butter or LARGE ROUND COOKIES are taken from the oven by Mrs. Janell Arrington to be cooled and decorated. Mrs. Arrington has two favorite recipes, Old Fashioned Sugar Cookies and Molasses Cut Ups. They are perfect for decorating for any occasion. Mrs. Arrington prefers to make her cookies extra large for special events.

SUGAR SANDIES ARE combined with popcorn to make popcorn pumpkins for Halloween treats by Mrs. Sharon Walker and her two daughters, Wendy, right, and Tammy. These are favorites at the Walker home and are fun for the youngsters to make—as well as eat.

DECORATED CUPCAKES are real favorites of Monty and Douglas DeWitt as is quite evident from their big smiles. Their mother, Mrs. Lola DeWitt, recommends the cupcakes not only for Halloween goodies but for classroom treats and parties.

margarine and some orange food coloring. Beat for minutes until smooth and creamy.

Remove baking papers from cupcakes. Turn cupcakes upside down and frost entire cupcake. Use M&M's candies for eyes, candy corn for the nose and string candy for mouths. Gumdrops are used for the stem.

Although our next lady, Bess Smout, has no children she is one of the most popular women in town. Not only for her marvelous treats, but for her outstanding knack for creating and decorating. She has a Halloween witch on her fireplace mantel that would catch the eye of any youngster.

The finished witch stands 37 inches high. For the black dress — 8 1/2 - inch neck by 17 1/2-inch length by 33 1/2-inch bottom. Six large orange ball fringe and six 1 1/2-inch circles of orange paper glued down front of dress. Cut hole in dress front between third and fourth button for broom and attach seat, belt buckle on top extended brown hand. Label buckle "Fasten Your Seat Belt." Seat belt circles body and fastens on broom behind witch.

Pin paper dress in back of neck. Attach arms with pins just below neck base. Glue arms to seat belt at side front. For the eyes, you will need 1 1/2-inch length and 2 1/4 - inch wide (black). The black cape requires 9 1/2-inch length by 4-inch neck by 8 1/2-inch bottom. Attach with pins at back neck base. The orange scarf is made of crepe paper. For the hat brim, orange paper — 2 1/2-inch deep by 8 1/2-inches across. The hat crown black — 12 1/2-inches high by 17 1/2-inch bottom.

Glue five one-inch orange paper circles down center of hat. Glue five small orange ball fringe on paper circles. Form cone and pin together. Slip hat brim over crown and rests on popcorn head and hair. Tie yarn ribbon around head and let hang over side.

For the black hair, nine inch length by 1 1/4-inches wide. Pleat paper hair which is cut into strips and has uneven bottom edge around popcorn head. Top hair — black — 4 1/2-inch length by 1 1/2-inches wide. Pleat paper and pin on top of bottom hair. Pin into the popcorn head.

For the popcorn head — 7-inches wide. You can make smaller head if desired. For the nose use orange slice pinned into head and for the eyes black jelly beans pinned into head. Black licorice strips pinned into the head are used for the eye brows and the licorice pinned to the head is used for the mouth.

Mrs. Smout's popcorn recipe goes something like this — 17 cups popped corn, 2 cups brown sugar, packed 1/2 cup white syrup, 1 cube butter.

Put all ingredients together and when barely begins to boil, pour over popped corn. Shake in a 7-inch bowl to coat head.

A wooden base with shrunken dowel stuck into cooled head will bear the weight.

So, there you have a delightful Halloween centerpiece and several ideas for the young-trick-or-treaters. With goodies like these mentioned, however, it might be wise to make a few extra — some for the ghosts and spooks who will be ringing your front doorbell — the others to enjoy yours.

VISITORS FROM "SOUTH of the Border" in Twin Falls this week were, Sra. Haydee Costa de Benzo, Uruguay, left, and Sra. Concepcion Garza Hernandez, Mexico, visit with Mrs. John Hayes and Jesse Berain, both Twin Falls, during a luncheon meeting at the Rogerson hotel sponsored by Church Women United. The Latin American guests also participated in an evening meeting held at CSI.

Latin American Women Give Program For Church Women

By LORAYNE SMITH
Magic Valley Editor

The role of the Spanish Americans in the culture of Twin Falls was spotlighted here this week with the visit of two women from Latin America.

Under the sponsorship of The Christian Causeways, a project of Church Women United, Sra. Concepcion Garza Hernandez, Mexico City, and Sra. Haydee Costa de Benzo, Uruguay, were guests at a luncheon and afternoon and evening meetings sponsored by the local unit of Church Women United.

It was pointed out a causeway is "a modern road rising above marshy ground bridging a gap which otherwise mires us down and keeps us from finding each other." And it was apparent at both the luncheon and the discussions afterward that both the visitors and local persons attending were trying hard to understand each other.

One of the most obvious barriers was that of language with Srita Garza Hernandez speaking only in volatile Spanish which was capably translated by Mrs. Tom Duncan in the afternoon meeting and her husband at the evening meeting at CSI. Mrs. de Benzo spoke correct English, but obviously was groping for the right word.

The visitors from "south of the border" were briefed on the role of Mexican people in Twin Falls through a panel skillfully moderated by Mrs. Helen Henderson, Twin Falls county probation officer, at the luncheon at the Rogerson Hotel.

Jesse Berain, a local Spanish-American who serves on the governor's Commission for Human Rights, said the problems his countrymen face are almost entirely social and economic and come from lack of education. He said the most important thing is keeping channels of communication open, such as this type of meeting sponsored by the church women.

Mr. Berain is chairman of the Neighborhood Center program in Twin Falls and serves as interpreter and friend of the Mexican-Americans in the area.

Mrs. Zoe Ann Shaub, former probate judge here, outlined steps taken nationwide and in the states to protect rights of women and children. She said in Idaho the Youth Rehabilitation Act protects juveniles who become involved with the law.

Probably the most impressive part of the afternoon panel was the brief, informal talks by three local Mexican women who described their work with the Headstart program, the day nursery at the Neighborhood center and the home extension agent's home nutrition project.

These people pointed out, "You're not discriminated against; just ignored" in some business places.

Mrs. John Hayes presided at both the afternoon and evening sessions. The latter, held in the academic auditorium at CSI, attracted some of the college's Spanish students who apparently were delighted to find they could understand the visitor from Mexico and asked her many questions about the country, ostensibly to keep her talking.

Bert Larson served as moderator for the evening presentation which also featured a talk on characteristics of Latin families by Mr. Duncan of the CSI faculty.

State Moose Convention Set For November In Buhl

BUHL — Plans for the state Moose convention to be held in November at the Buhl Moose Hall were made when the Women of the Moose met in regular session, with Mrs. Bill Woyner, black, senior regent, in charge.

Marcella Povalawski is the general chairman of the Women of the Moose for the convention. Henry Wavra, general chairman of the Idaho State Moose Association convention, and Mrs. Wavra, a former deputy grand regent, assisted the women with their plans. Mrs. Povalawski called a special meeting to organize committees and work out convention details.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Severa and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Severa and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smallwood.

Communications were read from the Buhl Public Library and the Idaho Tuberculosis Association. A card was received from Mrs. Vivian Harmon who is visiting in Hawaii. Mrs. Melba Feeter was reported ill.

Pledge Officers

MOSCOW — A total of 52 women have been elected to pledge class officers in the ninorities on the University of Idaho Campus.

23 Chapters Represented At State ESA Seminar

Twenty-three chapters of Epistola Sigma Alpha from throughout Idaho met at the third annual leadership seminar at a state board meeting recently in Boise.

Mrs. Maurice Fuller, Twin Falls, state president, presented the theme "Partners in a Changing World," and challenged the ESA members to realize the importance of the role women play in leadership in the old saying, "leaders are born, not made," the art of learning can be taught and it can be mastered."

Mrs. Dean Algood Jr., past president and philanthropic chairman of the International Council, gave special emphasis on the basic drives that are essential to a good leader: (1) Security, (2) Sense of belonging and being needed and loved, (3) Our status in life and a need to be recognized, (4) The drive for self improvement.

She strongly stressed that a good leader must both communicate as well as motivate those working under her leadership.

A skit was presented on the proper and improper way to introduce a guest speaker by Mrs. Algood and Mrs. Cleo Freeman, state publicity chairman.

ESA's state project is the sale of candy for the Crippled Children's Hospital. Mrs. Freeman encouraged everyone to remind the public that not only are they receiving a box of candy for their dollar, but also they have the opportunity to help a handicapped child. None of the money is kept in the chapters, but is sent to Boise to be used throughout the state.

ESA chapters throughout this country and many foreign lands number 1,600, with more than 40,000 members. Thousands of ESA members daily contribute their time, talent and resources for furthering education of youth, for the benefit of the disadvantaged and for improving their communities. Each year they give more than one million dollars to local philanthropies.

Florist Gives Demonstration To Newcomers

BURLEY — A demonstration of flower arrangements was given by Bill McGill, owner of the new "Flower Pot," during a meeting of the Burley Newcomers at the Stampedale Cafe.

Mr. McGill discussed various containers, types of flowers to use and demonstrated making of an arrangement with the use of fresh flowers.

Mrs. Kathy Davidson and Mrs. Jane Butcher were in charge of the table decoration and used a harvest theme of cornucopias of fruits and vegetables.

Newcomers attending the dinner meeting were Linye Sherman, Betty Kaszowski, Fay Cox, Ersel Sharples, Gwen Stoker, Jane Corkins, Sharon Lusher, Janette Chawick, Janice Goodwin, Freda Kunsal, Laura Berdesen, Claudette Bray and Verena Clifford.

Guests were Mr. McGill and Renee Shiffer.

Minister Talks On Family Topic At Buhl Meet

BUHL — Rev. David L. Turnmire, pastor of the Buhl United Presbyterian Church, presented the topic, "Family Relationship," when members of a local chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, met at the home of Mrs. Vernon Rodig, Mrs. Bob Juker and Mrs. Don Wavra were in charge of the program.

The group voted to buy a birthday gift for Edith Egan, a patient at the Gooding state hospital. Last year the sorority adopted two girls at the St. TB hospital as a welfare project. The group remembers the girls with a gift on their birthday as well as individual gifts from members at Christmas.

It was noted that Mrs. Melvin Reynolds worked at the well baby clinic in September.

The ceremony was by candlelight.

Guardian Visits Bethel

JEROME—Mrs. Ruby Tabor, grand guardian for the state of Idaho, made her official visit to Bethel No. 14 in Jerome.

She met with the Guardian Council members for a luncheon and business meeting at Wood's Cafe. The Jobie Hour, conducted by Mrs. Tabor, was held at the Masonic Temple, with about 45 Bethel members present.

Juanita Mauldin presented a dance number for the program. Initiation was held for six girls, Cindy Greenawald, Brenda Peterson, Genele Mobley, Jolyn Soules, Cheryl Thibault and Beth Mobley. Honored Queen Kathy Thomason presided.

Honored guests at the meeting besides Mrs. Tabor were Jack R. Wetfle, Idaho Falls, grand associate Guardian, and Mary Trounson, Wendell, Grand Bethel honored queen.

Miss Rucker, Anderson Say Nuptial Vows

VIEW—The Logan LDS Temple was the setting for the Sept. 27 wedding of Connie Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rucker, Rupert, and Jerry Lee Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Anderson, View.

and Mrs. Richard Randall, all View; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rucker, Bountiful, Utah; Bishop and Mrs. Lamar Niel, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Belnap, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beaser and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Christensen, all Rupert; Marty and George Thomas.

The bride wore a white, floor-length gown of chiffon over tulle, styled with an empire waistline and elbow-length sleeves enhanced with imported Italian lace around the bodice, sleeves and hemline. Her elbow-length veil of illusion, a double-tiered mantilla with matching lace around the edges, was held by a satin bow. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses accented with white orchid streamers.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Something in your column sure stirred up a hornet's nest in our family, and I'll bet it did the same in hundreds of others across the country. It was the letter from the married woman who said she had a strong "physical attraction" for her husband's brother, and if she didn't get him alone just once she would lose her mind.

of wedding her older sisters had to be mortgage our home. Prices for weddings today are fantastic! Not one of the groom's parents ever offered to play a dime toward the expense of the wedding. We think this is unfair. It should be a 50-50 deal. Please put this in your column. Maybe it will soak in where it's needed.

Bridesmaids were Susan Daling, Yutonna Kerbs, Linda Flueckiger, all college roommates of the bride. Junior bridesmaids were Rogene Woodbury and Karlene Woodbury, nieces of the bridegroom.

Well, last evening my husband's brother and his wife came over for a friendly visit. The first thing the wife said was, "Did you read Dear Abby today?" I said, "Yes, wasn't it a little fishy?" She said, "It sure was." Naturally she had to see it, too, so they dragged out the paper, and here was this "scandalous" married woman who had the "hots" for her brother-in-law, who was also married. By the time they left, my sister-in-law was barely speaking to me, and if looks could kill, her husband would be dead now.

MOTHER OF DAUGHTERS
DEAR MOTHER: Don't punt on it. But you have only yourself to blame if you go broke putting on a wedding that is beyond your means.

Marty Holland serves as best man, with Blaine Hiens and Richard Anderson, brother of the bridegroom, as ushers.

That night when we went to bed my husband "checked" me, but he didn't say anything. Will you be kind enough to write and say which town, or at least which state, the slut from so the rest of the world can sleep in peace. Heaven help me if you say "Illinois."

CONFIDENTIAL TO CHARLIE: You have 20-20 hindsight. Welcome to the club! There is hardly a man alive who couldn't retire comfortably in his old age if he could sell his experience for what it cost him.

Refreshments were served at banquet tables covered with white and yellow linen and centerpieces with crystal chandeliers containing green and yellow flowers.

DEAR NOT GUILTY: You'll not need Heaven's help on this one. Illinois it wasn't.

NOT GUILTY
DEAR ABBY: I was always under the impression that the bride was supposed to acknowledge the wedding gifts with a personal note, mentioning the gift, etc.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For personal reply write to Abby, Box 9970, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR QUD: The printed "thank you" barely covers the situation, but is better than no acknowledgment. I think the most gracious "thank you" is written individually. The only exceptions are acknowledgments which run in the many hundreds or thousands. Bill Eleanor Roosevelt, the greatest lady of them all, somewhat neglected to acknowledge every gift with a personal note.

QUO VADIS
DEAR ABBY: We are about to marry off our fourth daughter and we are certainly a bit blind. We have skipped and saved for the last 15 years to be able to pay the bills for the wedding of our third oldest daughter. We have deprived ourselves of vacations and other luxuries, and now we find that the only way we can give our fourth daughter the same kind

The couple took a wedding trip to Arizona and will reside in Green, Utah, where the bridegroom will attend Brigham Young University and the bride will be employed in Provo.

After the ceremony, the bridegroom's parents hosted a wedding dinner for the guests at the Westbank Restaurant in Idaho Falls.

A reception honored the new couple's same evening at the Cultural Hall of the Declo LDS Ward. The bridal party greeted guests before a white archway brimmed with greenery and topped with a great host. Beauty baskets of pink gladioli accented by large green bows flanked the archway.

The bride wore a white, floor-length gown of double knit, featuring bell-shaped sleeves edged with a green bow. Beauty baskets of pink gladioli accented by large green bows flanked the archway.

The bride was attired in a floor-length white A-line wedding gown of double knit, featuring bell-shaped sleeves edged with a green bow. Beauty baskets of pink gladioli accented by large green bows flanked the archway.

The bride's table was covered with a full skirt cloth of pink, trimmed with white lace. The three-tiered red-velvet wedding cake was decorated with cascades of shaded pink roses, Lilacs of the Valley and lace. POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY—Save those plastic coffee lids. The children will love playing flying saucers with them. —SHEILA

DEAR POLLY—Wear a finger cut from an old rubber glove when pushing quick-drying putty into small holes in the woodwork. I do not think it sticks to the rubber as it does to a putty knife. There is less excess to clean off woodwork, hands and equipment. —MRS. H. G. S.

DEAR POLLY—I think that strawberries stay in better shape and the dirt and sand go through better when I wash them in a deep fry basket rather than in a strainer or colander. —MRS. C. T.

DEAR POLLY—When we buy nails, we always put them in a can and tape one nail on the top. This way we can tell at a glance what size nail each can holds. —AMY Polly pays a dollar for every idea used. Send them to her, care of this newspaper.

THE RINGS THAT HOLD MY MEASURING SPOONS ARE ALWAYS SEPARATING!

DEAR POLLY—My dad finds that a sure way to get grime and grease off his hands is to use liquid hair shampoo. It works just fine. —EVELYN

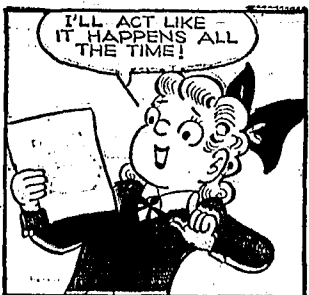

DEAR POLLY—I keep old and broken costume jewelry. When a stone is lost out of a favorite piece, I can remove a stone from a discarded piece with a heavy, darning-needle and then re-set it with jewelry cement. —MRS. B. L. M.

DEAR POLLY—Time can be saved by having two sets of measuring spoons hanging on the same rack. Use one for dry ingredients and the other for liquids. —MERLE

DEAR POLLY—Plastic strawberry baskets may be fastened together to make a cute cage for artificial flowers. It can be hung from the ceiling for a nice decoration. —MRS. R. D. M.

DEAR POLLY—When fitted sheets are still damp and you cannot hang them outside, double the sheet over and hook the corners on the bed posts at the foot of the bed. Wood posts that might be damaged by dampness can be protected with a plastic bag. —MRS. N. B.

ACCORDING TO THIS DIPSTICK I HAVE 1 1/2 GALLONS OF GAS IN THE TANK... AND I'M FLAT BROKE!

I HAVE TO PICK UP JUNE, DAISY AND YOU AND DRIVE TO THE DANCE TONIGHT.

I'LL HAVE TO DRIVE ABOUT 18 MILES, BUT I DON'T KNOW WHAT MILEAGE I GET PER GALLON!

WHEN JUST TO BE ON THE SAFE SIDE, LET'S CHECK IT!

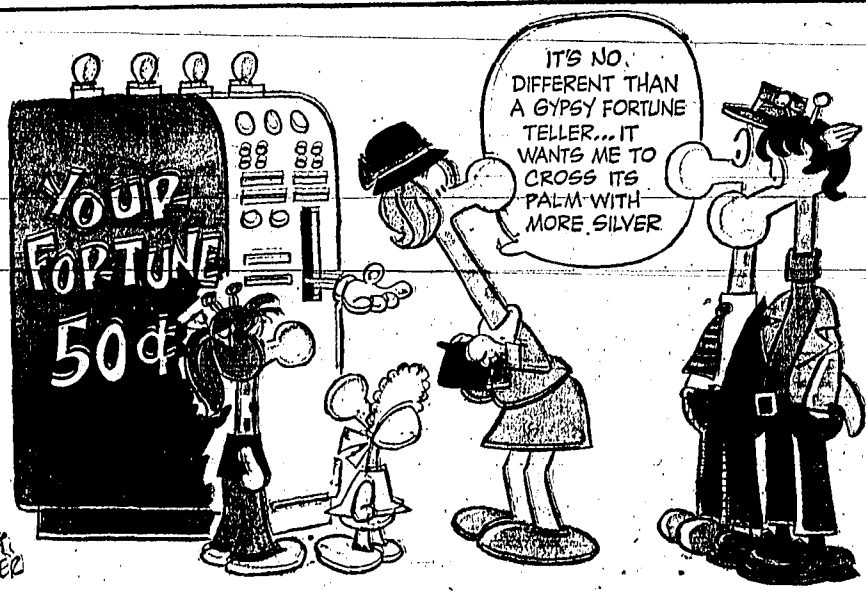

SO FAR WE'VE GONE SIXTEEN MILES, AND... SPUT SPUT SPUT!

WE'RE OUT OF GAS! IT'S A GOOD THING WE CHECKED THE MILEAGE!

IT MIGHT'VE SPOILED OUR WHOLE EVENING!

IT'S NO, DIFFERENT THAN A GYPSY FORTUNE TELLER... IT WANTS ME TO CROSS ITS PALM WITH MORE SILVER.

IN THESE DAYS WHEN SO MANY THINGS ARE FALSE... ISN'T IT REFRESHING TO KNOW THERE ARE THINGS THAT ARE NATURAL. THERE'S NOTHING FALSE ABOUT THE TASTE OF SPRITE. SWITCH TO SPRITE.

KIDS, WHEN WE ARE DOWN, FREE THE BOW LINE TO THE TUG—BUT NOT BEFORE I CAST OFF THE STERN!

OTHERWISE THE FORWARD SURGE WILL SHOVE OUR BOW AWAY AND WE'LL WHIRL AROUND—INTO REAL TROUBLE.

"THE TUG'S DIESELS BEGAN TO ROAR AS THE GATES OPENED. THE WATER CHURNED AND THE RACKET WAS TREMENDOUS."

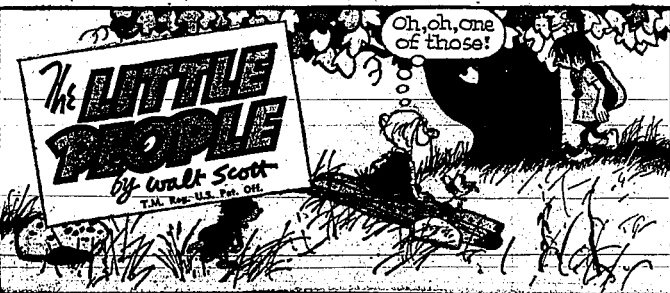

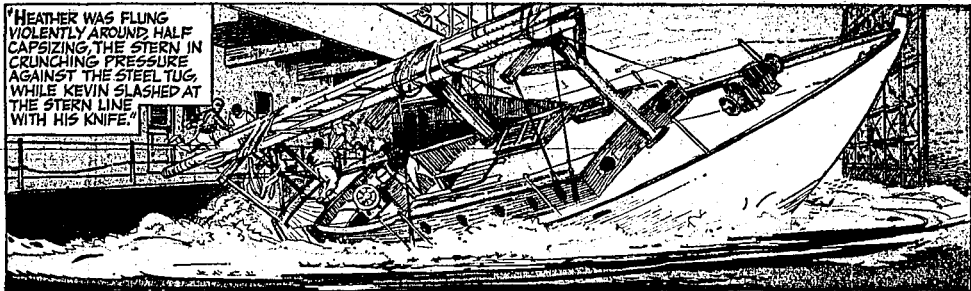

HOLD IT, BOYS! I HAVEN'T FREED THE STERN!

TOO LATE, HONEY! THEY'VE ALREADY DONE IT!

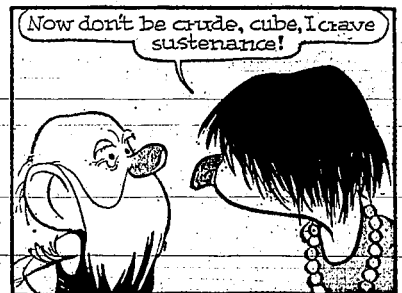

HEATHER WAS FLUNG VIOLENTLY AROUND HALF CAPSIZING THE STERN IN CRUNCHING PRESSURE AGAINST THE STEEL TUG, WHILE KEVIN SLASHED AT THE STERN LINE WITH HIS KNIFE."

Cool it, cat! I dig! A snack shack is thataway! It's the most, man! Cook cuts out early—so split, hip, take wing!

Ask Them Yourself

FOR GOV. RONALD REAGAN

of California

Is it true that in order to stay in college, you washed dishes and posed for art classes?
—Doris Limoux, New Hartford, N.Y.

● I washed dishes, but I did not pose for art classes.

FOR DR. THOMAS O. PAINE, NASA

Have any of the astronauts ever orbited satellites while in orbit?
—Dan Infield, Middleton, Ohio

● Yes. As recently as on Apollo 9, the crew sighted the unmanned LM upper stage after separation. LM was in a highly egg-shaped orbit while Apollo 9 was flying in a circular orbit.

FOR DORIS DAY

Is "Que Será, Será" your favorite song? If so, why?
—Paul Hampton, Milligan College, Tenn.

● Yes, because of what it says—"Whatever will be, will be."

FOR J. EDGAR HOOVER,

Director, FBI

Why can't women who fit the requirements become FBI agents?
—Jane Schulz, West Long Branch, N.J.

● Only male applicants are considered because of the hazardous nature of the work. Our agents must be qualified to handle all phases of work, including, for example, the use of firearms, participation in raids, dangerous assignments, or defensive tactics.

FOR MARK DUNCAN,

NFL Director of Officials

Do interior offensive linemen in the National Football League wear certain numbers on their jerseys so the officials can tell more quickly if an ineligible man is down-field on a pass play?
—Chet Juggert, Cheyenne, Wyo.

● Yes, interior linemen wear numbers in the 50s, 60s, and 70s to assist in officiating. If a player wearing a number in this series is to line up in a formation that would make him eligible to move down-field, he is required to notify the official prior to the play.

FOR TINA COLE of "My Three Sons"

Are't you one of the King cousins? Which of the King sisters is your mother?
—R. V. Liles, Raleigh, N.C.

● Yes, I am. Yvonne is my mother.

FOR F. J. MULLINS,

Vice President, Marketing, American Airlines

Who plans the airline menus? From whom are supplies bought?
—Mrs. Art Rohr, Devils Lake, N.D.

● Menus are planned by two groups—our food experts in passenger services and, more important, our passengers. Travelers are quick to tell us what they like and dislike, and they are the people we must please. Quality products are bought from suppliers throughout the country. Our purchasing specialists contract for meats, staples, and frozen items. Airline catering services, such as our subsidiary, Sky Chef, buy fresh vegetables, fruits, and baked goods.

FOR STANLEY R. RESOR,

Secretary of the Army

Is it true that the Army once had a camel corps?
—Conrad Fiorello, Brooklyn, N.Y.

● Yes, at one time before the War between the States. The champion of the "camel cause" was Jefferson Davis. He felt they should be tried out in the deserts of the Southwest. After four controversial years, Congress approved a bill for the purchase of camels. Then the Army imported and used 75 camels to carry supplies and equipment between posts and to make short scouting trips. The project was short-lived.

FOR JOHNNY CARSON

On the "Tonight Show" you have made reference to Ralph Williams. Who is he?
—Fender Franklin, Jr., Durham, N.C.

● He is a well-known automobile dealer in Los Angeles.

Delicate "Strawberry Banke" Tea Cloth & Place Mat Sets

Our crisp, delicate strawberry tea cloth and place mats were inspired by a historic restoration now going on in Portsmouth, New Hampshire. When the early settlers arrived in this charming port, they found the riverbank covered with wild strawberries, hence its original name "Strawberry Banke." The design is stamped on heavy, cream white 100 percent linen. Both the 48-inch-square cloth and mats are already bound with a moss green "beauty edge," an embroidered finish that insures a flat edge. Completely finished 100 percent linen napkins are included in the kit and come in the same soft moss green.

OFFER WILL NOT BE REPEATED THIS SEASON
We urge you to order the Strawberry Tea Cloth and Place Mat kits now, while the supply lasts. You will be delighted by the color and beauty and fun they will add to your home. NATALIE WOOD—

From Pampered Star to Doting Wife and Mother

As a child-actress, she knew nothing but work; now she has family responsibilities—and loves them

By PEER J. OPPENHEIMER

NATALIE WOOD: contentedly married and mothering three lovely children!

It was a totally new concept for the doe-eyed beauty I'd known so long. Seventeen years before she'd given me her first interview. Before that, I'd watched her advent upon the Hollywood scene as a child. I speculated on the changes I could anticipate in Natalie, as I waited in her split-level Bel Air home.

And I recalled her mother telling me, "I raised my daughter to be a movie star. I completely subordinated my life, that of my husband, and our other two daughters to help Natalie get ahead."

In spite of her father's objections to show-business involvement for his daughter, Natalie's mother remained true to her obsession: Natalie had whatever was necessary to steadily build her career.

And while she left Natalie's dramatic training to the directors, Mom took over the care of her daughter's personal life so that Natalie grew up fully concentrating on acting, while her mother answered fan letters, did her shopping, and performed every chore around the house.

Natalie never had to dry a dish, make a bed, put her clothes away, or keep track of a checking account. This lack of training later backfired unhappily on Natalie, when, in 1961, her four-year marriage to actor Robert Wagner failed. "I may have spoiled her too much," worried her mother at the time of the wedding.

While Natalie's teen life appeared carefree, privately she struggled through a miserable existence. "It was the worst time of my life," she confessed. "Not only was it hard to find the right roles, but I was awkward and self-conscious."

By the time she was 16, her role opposite James Dean in "Rebel Without a Cause" won her an Academy Award nomination. Still working hard at her trade, Natalie played Maria in "West Side Story" and chalked up another Oscar nomination in 1964 for "Love with the Proper Stranger."

But Natalie's personal life deteriorated.

Heartbroken when her close friend James Dean met his tragic death, Natalie bottled up her thoughts and, except for her anonymous psychiatrist, refused to discuss what went wrong.

When people insisted that one need only see how totally consumed Natalie was with her career to pinpoint the trouble, I couldn't help remembering Natalie's sincerity when, before her marriage to Bob, she told me, "I can't believe that a career can ever become all-important to a woman. It's completely unnatural!"

In trying to sort out her personal life once more, Natalie confessed, "Most people spend the better part of their lives trying to find out what they want. Happiness is so elusive. I honestly can't visualize what I'll be 10 years from now."

Now, eight years later, Natalie's voice outside the door sounded deeper than I remembered, more mature. As it should be, I reasoned, now that she is a 31-year-old woman with a family. But her voice, and my imagination, misled me. The petite Natalie Wood who bounded barefoot into the room, dressed in a fetching doll-sized romper outfit, looked more like one of the youngsters she was supposed to mother than the woman I'd mentally constructed.

"I am sorry I'm late," she apologized. "I was taking my French lesson, and there was so much to do. The children—Sarah who is 10, and Charlotte, 9, and Hugo, 7, a miniature of my husband, are coming over from England next week. We're so happy."

Natalie's new life began almost three years ago when publicist Rupert Allen invited her to dinner to meet Richard Gregson, who was visiting from England. Gregson was getting a divorce, so Allen decided to play cupid, seating the two side by side. Allen knew that Natalie was unattached, although she had been romantically linked with actor Warren Beatty. "It was really strange," recalled Natalie. "I sat down, and he sat down, and we turned to look at one another—and that was it!" She promised to visit Gregson in England.

Gregson proposed as soon as Natalie arrived. There was one hitch, however. In England it is difficult to obtain a divorce. Natalie and Richard waited two years for his freedom. During all that time, Natalie refused to accept a film role for fear she couldn't be with him. For Natalie, the waiting period was a good thing. "It gave the children and me time to get to know one another."

At first, Natalie was not sure that they should have a church wedding after waiting so long. "But, then I decided I wanted something I could remember." She smiled as she showed me pictures of the ceremony.

I commented on her wedding bouquet of wild blossoms and strands of golden wheat. Natalie smiled and said, "That's an old Russian fertility symbol. My parents were Russian." As my eyebrows raised, she continued, "Oh, yes, I'd like two or three children of my own!"

Natalie continued to surprise me. Unable to even boil water, she had somehow learned gourmet cooking and had become a licensed decorator as well. She decorated her husband's office before he decided to return to writing (he coauthored "The Angry Silence," for which he received an Academy Award nomination).

Her one extravagance, she admits, is clothes. One day the children saw a picture of her in a magazine, and when they asked their father about it, he explained that she was in films and was a famous lady. And then Sarah said knowingly, "That explains why she is so clever and has so many pretty clothes."

Natalie was enticed back into movies this year with the role of Alice in a film about modern marriage and morality called "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice." "I was looking for something unique," she explained, "and I feel this picture is."

Does Richard object to her career? "No, as long as it doesn't interfere with our lives." If it should, could she give it up? Natalie looked at me as if I were simple-minded. "Why, I did—for two years—and it was easy!"

As I rose to leave, I couldn't resist the query, "Natalie, what took you so long to discover how to be really happy?"

"I guess just finding the right man," she admitted. *

Share an African adventure in a palace studded with jewels and guarded by lions; meet

An American Couple Visits the

By JHAN AND JUNE ROBBINS

The sumptuousness of Haile Selassie's autocratic reign is displayed on his bejeweled throne.

RECENTLY, during a visit to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, we kept hearing colorful descriptions of Haile Selassie, the country's 77-year-old monarch, one of the world's last autocrats, a man both feared and beloved by his subjects.

That night at dinner an English journalist exclaimed, "The titles that man possesses—Emperor of Ethiopia, Elect of God, King of Kings, Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, King of Zion—and that isn't all! But on him they look so good!"

Our host, an Italian businessman who has lived many years in Ethiopia, said, "When the native see Selassie's automobile passing by, they throw flowers, kneel, and burst into tears! Mussolini should have taken that into account before he ordered the invasion!"

We were intrigued by all these comments and felt that the Emperor would be an exciting person to meet.

When we requested an interview, a court spokesman said, "HIM (Selassie is rarely referred as anything else, and HIM means His Imperial Majesty) is very, very busy, but I'll make special mention of your desire."

The following day, as we watched the Emperor Rolls-Royce slowly pass by on Churchill Street Addis Ababa's main thoroughfare, one excited man ripped off his shirt and waved it furiously. A woman kept bowing and moving her right hand counter-clockwise as she twirled a Coptic Cross the double-barred cross of Charlemagne with the six-pointed star of David.

Our comments attracted the attention of young men. He bowed and said, "Please do not think me forward, but I speak your language. I am a student at the University. If those people do not act that way, it could be very difficult for them. HIM expects such adoration, and it is uncommon for the police to arrange such demonstrations of affection!" The Ethiopian did not seem to be afraid of being overheard because he added, "My poor country has much poverty and despair. However, we are making some progress."

A professor at Haile Selassie University told me, "Ethiopians are leaping forward, but they still have much leaping to do. Many people in the country are still living in the 16th and 17th centuries. When Selassie dies—after all, he has been ruling for 38 years—there will be a socialist match, but there is little Communist movement here, so it doesn't seem to matter to Ethiopians who wins!" Selassie's son is now under virtual house arrest after being involved in an unsuccessful coup to overthrow his father in 1964.

Our request for an interview was finally granted. The only rule that we would have to observe was not to quote Selassie directly. We also learned that he often gives extravagant presents to people he likes.

ruler who has survived invasion and coup as

Emperor of Ethiopia

The palace grounds are surrounded by a fence higher than that which surrounds Buckingham Palace or the White House. Visitors walking up from the parking lot are greeted by an enormous, free-roaming lion named Tojo and the ominous roars of several others that are caged. We clutched each other tightly at one ferocious roar.

The staff tiptoes and talks in whispers as they shuffle up and down the steps of the mud-colored stucco palace that has precious stones—emeralds, opals, amethysts, diamonds, and sapphires—set into the exterior walls.

The reception room is lavishly furnished. The bookshelves hold a collection of and about Winston Churchill. The only incongruity is an embroidered Victorian sampler that reads, "God bless our home." We were told that it was a present from a lady in Rhode Island.

Although the Emperor is slightly more than five feet tall, his impact is enormous. When we met him, he was wearing a light tan uniform with 13 military decorations. He received us in a large, sunlit room, but the day was chilly and a fire crackled on the hearth. His two papillon—something like a Chihuahua—also a gift from the United States, snuggled on a polar-bear rug. The Emperor sat in a silver-gilt chair that bore a royal crest. He already had sent word that he would speak only in Amharic, his country's tongue. But he is fluent in English, so as we spoke, he often bypassed the interpreter. The Emperor made a great point of saying that Ethiopia was the only country that has held together since Biblical times and that his people do not give up easily. He then told us that Ethiopia slumbered historically for a very long time partly because it was and remains a Christian country surrounded by Islamic nations. Haile Selassie recalled the classic story of how the Biblical Queen of Sheba, then Empress of Ethiopia, heard of the wisdom of King Solomon and traveled with 1,100 retainers and 2,000 horses and camels to Israel to hear the great King's lectures.

We were reminded that in The Song of Solomon it is recorded that King Solomon, entranced by the Queen of Sheba's beauty, pointed out that she was in his power. She replied that Ethiopia has no power to be trifled with. Solomon offered an agreement—he would not approach her unless or until she took something during the course of her visit that belonged to him. She answered calmly that she therefore could not be more safe, as Ethiopians are not thieves.

Solomon, in his wisdom, arranged however to have Sheba served a very spicy and salty dinner without either wine or water. Sheba went serenely to sleep but woke up several hours later parched with thirst. Solomon had left a crystal jug of water in her room. She drank from it. Solomon promptly appeared from behind a curtain, claimed default, and the line of Judean-Ethiopian rulers was that night established. Hundreds of centuries later, Haile Selassie is the result.

Selassie waved both hands as he told us that he is determined to move his country forward peacefully. In order to do so, he believes African nations must avoid major wars among themselves and walk an amenable and opportunistic tightrope among the great powers.

When we asked him what he regarded as his greatest achievement, he said in English that he feels that a country can only be strong if its people are educated. The Emperor has turned his former palace into a university which bears his name. Of the examples of student unrest we had seen, he merely said that there also was a great deal of student unrest in the U.S., but it didn't mean that education or the country was doomed.

In 1935 Mussolini's Italian army occupied Ethiopia, and Selassie, despite a very eloquent plea for help before the League of Nations, was forced into exile. Selassie believed that he was destined to go back to Ethiopia after the end of the five year Italian occupation to help his people.

He told us that on Jan. 20, 1941, he crossed back into his country. It was shortly before noon when his plane landed in a field that had been hacked-out-of-the-jungle. He marched the 500 yards to the border and ran up an Ethiopian green, yellow, and red standard on a flagpole.

We said that we had been married on a Jan. 20. He smiled and remarked that it was indeed a lucky day. We had visited Selassie's private stable that morning and mentioned how impressed we were with his magnificent Arabian-Ethiopian ponies. When we told him that we owned horses, the conversation turned to horse breeding, of which he knew a great deal. The Emperor said that riding was the best way for a man to get away from his cares. Then, sighing, he remarked that although it was a lovely day to mount his favorite steed, he had to work.

We took this as a sign to depart. As we were about to leave, he said that one of his mares would shortly foal and that although we raised fine horses in the U.S., no stable was complete without an Ethiopian pony. We agreed.

Recalling that he gives expensive gifts, we wonder whether the mail soon will bring news that a foal from HIM is en route.

Emperor's residence, whose walls are studded with precious jewels.

Ethiopians kneel and kiss the ground as Haile Selassie's car approaches.

Can We Solve the Trash Crisis?

DISPOSABLE pop bottles, abandoned automobiles, obsolete refrigerators—just plain garbage. They all add up to a monumental headache for many communities across the country. How can we get rid of all the waste affluent America produces?

Each year this nation produces solid wastes weighing 260 billion pounds. That would make a mountain a city-block wide—and 50 miles high. Each one of us throws out 5.3 pounds of solid waste a day or...2,000 pounds a year. What's more, that amount will triple in 10 years.

Compounding the problem is a shortage of laborers willing to work garbage routes, reduced land-fill areas for dumping, and our awareness of the hazards of pollution.

"Obviously such a crisis needs a solution, and some of the proposed solutions are revolutionary.

For instance, the U.S. Public Health Service has awarded several grants to study the transportation of refuse and other solid wastes by rail from cities to abandoned strip mines and other lands in need of reclamation.

The PHIS is also looking into the possibilities of pumping-liquefied garbage through a pipeline from Chicago "to make marginal Illinois lands productive for agriculture without hazard to human health."

There are machines which can compress raw garbage into small solid blocks 1/15 the original size. Industrial designers like Jerome Gould are working to create a glass bottle that melts when broken. Other scientists are exploring the possibilities of formulating paper cartons that will dissolve in water and edible materials that can be used to package food and then fed to the household pets.

But probably the most bizarre research is in finding ways to refine garbage and extract nutrients from it.

The seemingly exotic, comic-strip solutions to trash disposal have become imperative now. Cities such as Philadelphia have already signed contracts to have solid wastes landfilled to distant empty mines.

A Japanese scientist, Dr. Kunioshi Terzuka, has gone one step further by inventing a combination compacting and coating machine to overcome the bacterial problem. After he compresses the garbage into cubes, they are dipped in asphalt or concrete, making them immune to decomposition.

Other techniques being proposed are burning the garbage at sea, in a specially designed incinerator ship and dumping the residue overboard.

Nonreturnable bottles and plastics are the biggest headaches of the sanitary engineers. "Plastics," said a jet by the Karman Center of Aero Jet-General Corporation in California, "are completely immune to biological decomposition. If we bury them, they remain almost indefinitely in their original state. If we burn them, they contribute hydrocarbons and oxides of nitrogen (dangerous air pollutants) to our atmosphere."

So plastics have been formulated that will decay within two or three years in sunlight.

Research in the "evaporating" glass bottles is accelerating. Dr. Samuel F. Hulbert of Clemson University in South Carolina says he has a bottle that will behave just like glass—until it is broken. Then it will become soft and greasy and eventually melt away.

What about refuse being useful again? Dr. Byron Miller of Colorado University is researching the biological conversion of animal wastes into useful nutrients.

Science is also struggling with the problem of reclaiming base metals from old autos, tv sets, refrigerators, and other massive nonfood trash.

But whatever solution is found, whether it be bizarre or banal, something must be done soon. Former President Johnson emphasized the urgency of the all nation when he said, "Rachel Carson once wrote, 'In biological history, no organism has survived long if its environment became in some way unfit for it, but no organism before man has deliberately polluted its own environment.'"

FAMILY WEEKLY COOKBOOK

Tricks and Tasty Treats

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Homemade candies and cookies are just right for handouts to the "trick-and-treat" group. Adults, too, will enjoy these special treats. Using large squares of aluminum foil, hang an assortment of packaged peanuts, marshmallows, commercial candies such as candy bars, corn, orange slices, caramels, and multi-colored candy-coated milk-chocolate candies. Tie each foil pouch with an orange ribbon. Put one in each extended hand when "trick and treaters" come to call.

Butterscotchies

- 1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 6 oz. (1 cup) butterscotch-flavored pieces
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup flaked coconut
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
- 2 to 2 1/2 cups crisp ready-to-eat cereal

1. Put evaporated milk, sugar, salt, and butter or margarine into a heavy 2-qt. saucepan. Bring to a full boil, stirring constantly, and boil 2 min.

2. Remove from heat. Add butterscotch pieces and extract; stir until smooth. Add coconut, nuts, and cereal; toss lightly until well coated.

3. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto a cookie sheet which has been lined with waxed paper or aluminum foil. Allow to stand until set. About 1 1/2 lbs.

Fruit Jewels

- 1 cup sifted regular all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 2 cups chopped mixed candied fruit
- 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
- 6 oz. (1 cup) semisweet chocolate pieces
- 1 cup seedless raisins

1. Sift the flour, baking powder, salt, and spices together; set aside.

2. Cream butter or margarine; gradually add brown sugar, creaming well. Mix in orange peel.

3. Alternately add dry ingredients in thirds and evaporated milk in halves, mixing until blended after each addition. Stir in remaining ingredients.

4. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto lightly greased cookie sheets.

5. Bake at 375°F. about 12 min.

6. Cool cookies* on wire rack.

From top to bottom: Butterscotchies, Fruit Jewels, Toll House cookies, Double Flavor Fudge, frosted squares, and Chocolate Decorating Dip for Cookies.

7. If desired, coat the bottoms of cooled cookies with Chocolate Decorating Dip (see recipe). 6 to 7 doz. cookies

Double Flavor Fudge

- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 2 1/4 cups sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 large marshmallows or 1 cup marshmallow cream
- 6 oz. (1 cup) semisweet chocolate pieces
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 6 oz. (1 cup) butterscotch-flavored pieces

1. For chocolate layer: put evaporated milk, sugar, salt, butter or margarine, and marshmallows or marshmallow cream into a heavy 3-qt. saucepan. Bring to a full boil, stirring constantly, and boil 5 min. Remove from heat. Add the chocolate pieces and extract; stir until smooth. Mix in nuts.

2. Line bottoms of two 8-in. square pans with waxed paper or aluminum foil, allowing ends to extend over two opposite sides of each pan. Divide mixture equally in pans. Set aside.

3. For butterscotch layer: use ingredients and follow procedure (step 1) as in chocolate layer, substituting butterscotch pieces for chocolate pieces. Divide mixture in half and turn each half onto a chocolate layer. Cool; chill until firm.

4. Loosen fudge from pan, lift out or invert onto a board, peel off paper or foil, and cut fudge into squares. If desired, top with walnut halves. About 4 lbs.

Chocolate Decorating Dip for Cookies

- 12 oz. (2 cups) semisweet chocolate pieces
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk

1. Melt chocolate in the top of a double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Add confectioners' sugar and evaporated milk; beat until smooth. Keep on the heat over hot water while dipping; stir occasionally.

2. Dip cooled cookies (prepared from a cookie mix) in chocolate, put on waxed paper-lined cookie sheet, and allow to stand until set. 2 1/2 cups

New Ways to Help Your Pre-Schooler Learn

A noted educator is proving that the child who isn't learning simply isn't being taught.

LITTLE JOHNNY can't understand how to tell time. So his mother follows him around with a clock. She keeps telling him the time and asking him the time.

Then she buys him a toy watch, and she is determined that he will learn even if she must smother him with lessons. Little Mary can't understand how to tell time. Her father says she's a bright child and that she is just being obstinate. "You could do it if you wanted to," he rages. "You're a naughty girl! No more dessert until you learn this one simple thing!" Father is determined that she'll learn even if he has to punish her.

"The two most common faults of parents trying to prepare their child for learning is smothering and punishing," according to Siegfried Engelmann, an iconoclastic educator at the Institute for Research on Exceptional Children at the University of Illinois. "But any parent can instill in a child a love of learning, as long as they themselves understand the teaching principles," he adds. These include:

1. All children can be taught. If a child does not learn, it is because he isn't taught.
2. Start early. Half of all growth in human intelligence takes place between birth and age four.
3. Teaching should be made pleasant.
4. Don't be surprised if you can't teach some basic thing in a moment or a day.
5. Always end the lesson on a note of accomplishment.
6. Let him know you are on his side.
7. Use praise and give him the reward of showing off his new knowledge.
8. If you have set standards too high, he will fail.

When should you apply these principles? As young as 18 months, according to Engelmann, the baby is ready to learn "what he is, where he is, and who loves him." His self-image and his approach to later life, emotions and daring, is in the process of being formed. A parent can teach his infant the basic assumptions of language even before he knows how to talk. Engelmann also says that when baby naps, the household should not tiptoe and whisper; if he is to learn to concentrate, he must be able to shut out noises himself.

A baby can soon start building toward a useful vocabulary, if his parents name parts of his body while pointing them out. Always speak in complete sentences, too, not nouns and verbs only. "This is your..." is as important in the learning process as "hand" is.

After about a year, have him try to point to his hands and toes. Although he will make mistakes, he is getting the idea that language is not just sounds, but something to be transformed into actions.

Little children cannot recognize a familiar person in a photograph because the person is only two-dimensional. They can identify that person only as a three-dimensional object. So Engelmann suggests teaching your child to identify animals from well-illustrated books first.

At two years, you may teach several lessons weekly with the following steps:

- 1) Isolate the object. 2) Name it. 3) Ask him to repeat. 4) Relate the book object, name it, and then relate it to the real object. Caution: you must realize that the baby can't see much difference between a tiger and a giraffe, so point it out.

You must relate book objects to real ones.

Don't be afraid to admit that you don't know. Have reference books on hand. He will follow your example.

Don't inadvertently give your child a downgrading self-image with such remarks as, "You'll never learn." It frequently takes a trained person to undo this unfair handicap to learning. "If he's been hitting too many snags lately," Engelmann adds, "it's all right to rig it so he will have the satisfaction of doing the next thing right."

Engelmann's concepts have been incorporated in teachers' manuals, records, and children's workbooks published by Instructional Media of America, Inc., New York City.

According to its president, Norman Franz, the first special pre-school program was held at the University of Illinois. It took children with an average I.Q. of 95 and sent them to first grade with an average I.Q. of 121 (the top 5 percent of the nation).

But the most important factor in helping your child love to learn is you, the parent—your patience, understanding, and thoroughness.

SELF-HELP QUIZ:

What Do You Know About Your Intuition?

SCIENTISTS are as curious about the phenomenon of intuition as the layman. In their studies they've learned some interesting facts about this elusive characteristic. Try this true-and-false quiz to learn about intuition—and how much of it you have.

1. Intuition is something that only women have.
2. Intuitive thinking is not infallible and sometimes comes up with the wrong answer.
3. Intuitive thinking can solve problems which logical or analytical thinking cannot.
4. It's difficult for a person to tell when his intuitive faculties are functioning and when they are temporarily "turned off."
5. Intuitive people have different personalities than the nonintuitive ones.
6. Intuitive people enjoy taking chances.
7. Your intuitive faculties function best when you're tense.
8. A well-developed intuitive sense makes a person "lucky."

ANSWERS

1. False. Intuition is no more confined to one sex than thinking is. As a matter of fact, it is a form of thinking. But as Harvard University studies have demonstrated, it differs markedly from ordinary analytical thinking which proceeds logically, one step at a time. Intuitive thinking, on the contrary, is described as a mental short cut, a perceptive leap, bringing the intuitive thinker an answer which arrives so quickly that he is scarcely aware of the process.
2. True. But, as Harvard scientist Dr. Jerome S. Bruner points out, all of our faculties are fallible, and logical thinking can result in wrong answers, too.
3. True. The same study showed that intuition can often provide answers to problems in science, as well as in everyday life, which would be extremely difficult—if not impossible—to achieve with logical thinking only.

4. False. The noted psychiatrist, Dr. Eric Berne, made a study on intuition and the way it works. He finds that the intuitive person can almost always sense when this sense is operative and when it isn't. In his notes in summing up his findings, a special feeling, which comes and goes.

5. True. Psychological studies at Vassar showed that persons who made high scores on solving test problems intuitively (without being given clues necessary for analysis) differed from the others in the following ways: they were much more self-confident, had quicker reflexes, were more creative-minded, and able to express their thoughts and feelings with greater clarity. They also tended to be markedly individualistic persons.

6. True. Intuitive people tended to be much more fearless in every way than the nonintuitive and much less afraid of being criticized by others.

7. False. Studies show that mental states which produce tension, tend to paralyze intuitive perception. On the other hand, serenity and self-confidence help the delicately sensitive "sixth" sense to function at peak efficiency.

8. True. In a crucial situation, intuitiveness enables the person to sense tangible and intangible factors more swiftly and accurately than with the slower processes of reasoning and deduction. This permits quick judgments which makes it easier to take instant advantage of opportunities.

The Fun Begins When The Lights Go Off!

Christmas Ornaments Glow in the Dark, Cost Five Cents! Won't Shatter, Wear Out, or Burn Out! Guaranteed!

(HOLLYWOOD) Now, for the first time you can decorate your Christmas tree with the amazing new and improved Magi-Glo ornaments that "come to life" when the lights go off!

Glow and Float in Space!

These unique gold, silver, red, green and white ornaments add a festive spirit to the most elegant tree, under ordinary lighting conditions. But listen to the delighted gasps of surprise when you turn the lights out!

Then, in total darkness, your Magi-Glo ornaments continue to glitter, gleam, and glow and give the illusion of gently floating in space!

Won't Wear Out or Burn Out!

Magi-Glo ornaments will brighten your Christmas, year after year after year! That's because your Magi-Glo ornaments can't wear out or burn out! Magi-Glo's microscopic energy units, can be charged and recharged indefinitely! And they require no batteries or electrical connections!

Wonderful, Magical Figures!

Designed by American artists, produced by American craftsmen, Magi-Glo designs embrace all the traditional, wonderful, magical figures of Christmas: Cuddly Santa Clauses! Darling Christmas angels! Sparkling stars! Delectable candy canes! Shimmering Christmas trees! Gleaming candles! Caroling bells! And many more!

Discovery is "Accidental!"

A TV and motion picture producer accidentally discovered the secret process that makes this spectacular effect possible, while investigating special effects for a science-fiction movie.

Researching phosphorescent materials, he found the only known methods of application (hand painting and silk screening) were often unsatisfactory and always costly. However (because he didn't know that it "couldn't be done") he developed a new method using high speed lithography and injection moulding.

Then, inspiration! He realized that his secret process would make it possible to produce stunning Christmas ornaments. They'd glow in the dark, yet cost less than ordinary ornaments!

Shatterproof Ornaments!

Next, he ruled out breakable materials, so even the youngest member of the family could share the thrill of trimming the Christmas tree. The final choices included specially treated shatterproof materials (durable enough for outdoor display!) as well as metallic laminates on heavy stock. Excited by the enthusiastic comments of his normally blasé movietown friends, he arranged for exclusive distribution by a reputable mail order firm.

Set of 72 Only $3.50!

The successful result is the availability of Magi-Glo ornaments that glow in the dark with radiant, luminescent color! And they are priced so low that you can decorate your tree lavishly, use them as stocking stuffers, table decorations, and party favors—or even trim Christmas packages you want to "gild" the rest!

A deluxe assortment of more than 72 individual Magi-Glo ornaments, (averaging over 3 inches in height!), is bargained priced at only $3.50. That's less than five cents apiece! And quantity discounts make Magi-Glo ornaments ideal for Christmas gifts. You save $1 on each additional set!

Magi-Glo ornaments are the perfect gift for the people who deserve "something more" than just a card!

NOW THERE IS NO REASON FOR YOU OR YOUR LOVED ONES TO EVER BE ROBBED OR MORTIFIED

by Ulrich Kaufmann - Retired Federal Agent in Charge and Security Expert

Would you like to sleep sound—and live safe—for the rest of your life—regardless of headlines of spurning, violent crime?

You like to relax your worries about the safety of your wife, your daughter, your younger children?

Then accept my help. I'll give you the simple cautions and safe counter-measures I've used to protect VIP's the world over. It need cost you virtually nothing. It takes little time. It's as easy as brushing your teeth.

How to Play Safe!

Intruders do get into your car as you stop down on a deserted street at red light. You get down at night in a strange area—return to your car there. But I show you now what to do to avoid danger then.

You hear a strange noise in the basement. It is an intruder. But I show you now the simple protective steps to take then—before he gets to your bedroom.

You're away on a trip. Intruders approach your empty house. But I've already shown you exactly what to do before you leave and the intruder passes your house by.

You think you're being followed or overheard. You're not sure. But I've already shown you what to do to protect yourself—even how to use the police to frighten them off—with them or the police, realizing what you're up to.

A stranger comes to the door with a "legitimate" reason to come inside. I show you exactly how to check his "credentials" before it's too late and exactly what to do as soon as you have any doubts.

You return home. It's burglarized. But I've already shown you exactly how to increase greatly your chance of getting back personal possessions.

You're walking home on a dark night through a strange neighborhood. Or you get home late and suspect intruders have already entered. I tell you now exactly what to do to play safe then. I warn of ways thieves take advantage of your habits, plans, even parties—and tell how to forestall the chances of spotting them, and how to lock and tubbed even in a high class hotel elevator—and how to keep this from happening to you.

especially at night.

I show you how to outrun completely the intruder who sticks his hand through a broken back door—win even if you're not home. I warn how intruders may easily open any spring lock or bolt in your house—and show you the simple way to prevent this.

Your present lock may not be engaging the lock like family—and have lost most of its holding power. I show you how to restore that power completely—for a fraction of a cent.

Travels who else often makes most ordinary locks ineffective against a trained intruder—and what you can do to correct this completely—for pennies.

Amazing auto security devices to secure hood, prevent crossing ignition wires, secure hub cap, gas cap and gears, and on alarms and nosmekars that go off if doors, hood or trunk are opened while car is unattended.

Astonishing remote electronic units on entry, phone, fire department and report fire, even phone utility and report anything trouble or your plumber, plumber home or trusted friend when trouble strikes actually distinguish between emergencies and give proper advice to a trouble or your plumber, robot nurses that report heart attacks or other emergencies under any conditions.

I report on amazing protection available from simple, low cost security items—like astonishing chain locks you lock your door with—on an incredibly simple gadget that makes it harder and harder to break a partially open window—the harder an intruder attempts to open it—and pillow switches for outside lights—to use the moment you hear a noise.

I warn of pitfalls to avoid in buying security equipment. I show how to protect yourself from six-equipment in place of impressive costly equipment—and get more security—and how to be safe—without any conditions.

I report on TV cameras or 2-way voice boxes that report on your from lobby into your elevator, upstairs and step by step to your apartment—and give proper advice to a trouble or your plumber, face—and credentials blown up—on your present TV screen.

Easy to Be Safe!

What's so difficult necessarily, all you have and love?

You may now be turning risks which you've been taking—the easiest, simplest steps could safeguard you simply by knowing about them.

But Guys teach and rob as a business. Training is long. Prison is a tutoring school. They're tough. They've been taught exactly what to do to invade your home—like your possessions—even your wife—successfully, with least risk to them.

They can be their easy mark victim. They know exactly the easiest, safest, fastest way to steal your car—your valuables and your cash unless you know how to prevent these dangers.

But here's how—and to easily avoid most of these:

What Discourages Intruders.

I know—and I can help you and your family avoid danger from intruders.

Because my job has been to do exactly that for VIP's. Because all my professional life I've studied how criminals think—and I can help you look over a "job"—plan strategy—commit their crimes—and what discourages them.

Would you prefer an intruder to pass you up for an easier mark? Follow my simple do's and don'ts and overwhelmingly they will pass you up. Yet you take no drastic steps nor change your way of life. Because intruders look for the fastest, easiest ways to steal the most avoid hand ways.

I've put all I know into book form to help average families keep safe. I simply tell you the glaring weaknesses which trained criminals can recognize in your home—how to look over a "job" to correct them. I give you the simple security cautions and devices that cause intruders to go on to another easier "job."

Should an intruder ever follow you or approach your car, you have knowing exactly what to do do can save your life. So please read for the next 60 seconds carefully.

Protection for 25¢

Here's what single woman should do before leaving home. Security experts report most window locks cannot even adequately protect against a burglar. I show you how to lock adequately. I show you exactly how to secure these openings firmly.

Suddenly Feel Secure!

Here's how to know for certain whether someone entered your apartment while you were gone—for a fraction of the cost.

I show you how to see a door closed while you're in the room. Again, on a simple, very effective device that costs at only pennies, makes it impossible for an intruder to "pick" the lock—and how to prevent this.

Turning: Even how to use your present TV, radio or stereo to protect you.

It's the best way to secure your car—bombs—and women—can beat hide money on their person—and exactly what to do to give sensitive and children, who seem to be making minor thefts. Is your present outside lighting hurting your chances of spotting intruders—and how to find the perfect light protection for you—immediately.

The Full Story

Here's the full story of latest sophisticated "bugging" devices that spy on you electronically and how to prevent this. How to protect your business secrets, from them or if your hotel or motel room or even if your own house is bugged.

I show you how to eliminate the danger of being overheard—even by tiny transmitters placed in your pocket or briefcase.

I reveal three "secret" devices that cost you nothing—are found in every hotel or motel room—and have enabled me to locate easily in hundreds of strange rooms throughout the world.

I show you how to protect locks against any master key—block any door knob from within—make a noisy clattering burglar alarm at no cost or trouble.

Act Now!

Don't buy a fire extinguisher or a burglar alarm until you've read this book—or snow about after you've snowed in this book after you've snowed in this book after you've snowed in this book.

Accept it now. You must get your security cautions now—before your life is lost—or no cost.

Can't anything be fairer?

My book is in short supply. Each edition printed so far has quickly sold out. It's first come, first served. Act now—before you get it the sooner you get my Security Help, and peace of mind!

Science Finds Way To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

A scientific research institute has discovered a medication with the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop burning itch and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

In one hemorrhoid case after another very striking improvement was reported by doctors who conducted the tests. Pain and itching were promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all done without narcotics—or stinging astringents of any kind.

This secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like it! Preparation H also lubricates, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.
