Arco May Get Test Track

U.S., Russia Agree To Consider Limiting Arms

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States and the Soviet Union announced Saturday they will begin talks in Helsinki, Finland, Nov. 17, which officials here regard as the most ambitious attempt to curb the arms race since the nuclear age began in 1945.

The long-delayed negotiations are intended to arrange a limitation and possible eventual reduction in the two nuclear superpowers' entire range of strategic offensive and defensive weapons. The implications for world relations could be enormous.

Other speakers of the House of Representatives announced Saturday that he will seek another term not only as Congressman but also as Speaker. His denied allegations of wrongdoing from Life Magazine.

JOHN W. MCCORMACK, speaker of the House of Representatives, announced Saturday that he will seek another term not only as Congressman but also as Speaker.

Ruling Nears On Site

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, said Saturday that Idaho's nuclear reactor testing station is being considered as a site for a $50 million high speed experimental train test track.

As many as 1,000 new jobs would be possible if the site off U. S. Highway 20 were chosen. Hansen was informed that the Department of Transportation is considering five locations, and that the NRTS was the only Idaho site that met the exacting criteria established by the department.

McCormack Will Seek Re-Election

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The young liberals had counted on the old man too soon. Speaker John W. McCormack, 77 and 10 years from a party, he said he thought were his friends, said he was running for Speaker again and expected to win.

"I think it's very sad," commented Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., who was the first man in the House to say—and he started saying it two years ago—that it was time for McCormack to turn in his gavel.

Bolling and many others of the liberal bloc had figured that McCormack, occupant of the nation's second most powerful post since 1962 and a veteran of 41 years in the House, would decide next year he had enjoyed honors enough.

But when charges started leaking out of the grand jury rooms in New York and Baltimore, with their hints that McCormack had a hand in wrongdoing on the part of an aide and a friend, they began to speculate he might get his back up.

He did. At a jam-packed news conference Friday, tugging back in the name of his office, he said he presumed betrayers were alleged to have occupied while taking a $5,000 cash fee in a tax case McCormack pronounced himself not only innocent of every charge, insinuation, and innuendo published in every paper and news magazine for more than a week, but even of most of the names and cases involved.

THAI BANDITS STRIKE BANGKOK (UPI)—Three Thai holdup men stole 100,750 from the U.S. air base at Sakhalek, U.S., police reported Saturday. The armed bandits escaped with a payroll destined for Thai employees at the base about 80 miles south of Bangkok, the U.S. Embassy said.

German Allies Applaud Vote To Revalue

LONDON (UPI)—West Germany's allies and trading partners Saturday welcomed the government's decision to revalue the mark but the Soviet Union said the move "is fraught with complications for currencies of other capitalist countries."

The Belgian cabinet met to decide whether to revalue the franc upward after the West German decision Friday to raise the mark's value by 3.2 per cent.

If Belgium raised the value of the franc, Luxembourg would face a year of instability in currency trading. Speculators traded dollars, British pounds and French francs for marks in anticipation of an upvaluation of the mark.

Governor's Council On Health Sets Meet

The 31-member Governor's Advisory Council on Comprehensive Health Planning will meet Monday and Tuesday at the Holiday Inn, according to Morris Carlson, Twin Falls County Commissioner and member of the council.

Mr. Carlson said a main item of business, during the two-day meeting, would be a discussion of public health districting. He explained the council's committee on organization and administration of health care services has been collecting data regarding the feasibility of establishing statewide public health districts.

The council also will hear a committee report on health manpower needs in Idaho. "The report will focus upon present and future health manpower needs in Idaho and will have far-reaching implications on future health services and program in the Gem state," Mr. Carlson said.

Arabian Civil War Grows In Mideast

By United Press International
Thousands of Arab guerrillas and their supporters seized all but the center of Lebanon's second largest city, Tripoli, Saturday in bloody street fighting that raged into the night.

Guerrillas invading from Syria took a Lebanese border village for anti-Israel operations.

Israel jets roared into Jordan, attacking a suspected guerrilla base only three miles from King Hussein's suburban villa near Amman. Palace sources said Hussein personally directed anti-aircraft fire against the jets, described as Israel's closest raid since the 1967 war.

Other Israeli jets attacked Egyptian targets along the northern end of the Suez Canal as Egyptian planes swept into the Sinai Desert in the second consecutive day of strikes against Israel positions there.

Israel said anti-aircraft fire downed an Egyptian MIG. In addition to the near seizure of Tripoli, Arab guerrillas of Palestinian refugees fighting in support of them occupied parts of at least six Lebanese cities and towns, including a portion of the capital of Beirut near a refugee camp.

The black, white, red and green flag of the Palestinian guerrillas flow over Lebanese government offices in Binyamin village close to the Israeli border. Al-Minyah 10 miles north of Tripoli and the police station 40 miles south of Beirut.

Paris (UPI)—Attorney William Kunstler met with officials of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Vietnam peace talks Saturday to discuss matters connected with American prisoners of war.

Kunstler was received at the Hanoi delegation headquarters at suburban Choisy-le-Roi after flying to Paris on behalf of David T. Dellinger, and Richard C. Davis, of the Chicago charges of conspiring to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic Party Convention.

The attorney, who is part of the defense team in the trial, was asked to talk with the North Vietnamese after two meetings that Dellinger and Davis be allowed to come themselves were turned down by the court.

Fried Chicken Outlet May Bypass T.F.
Officials of Colonel Sanders Kentucky Fried Chicken have decided not to build on their alternate Twin Falls location at this time.

George Haney, Twin Falls Realty, who represented the franchise in negotiations here, said Friday the alternate location on the corner of Blue Lakes Boulevard North and Blue Lakes Circle will not be used.

The Twin Falls City Council turned down the firm's request for a zoning variance on the 100 block of Shoshone Street East during a meeting Tuesday. Mayor Edna Krulchuk chaired the vote and the 4-3 decision denied the zoning change from residential-professional to commercial.

Mr. Haney said the Colonel Sanders people may very well go ahead and develop a Durley outlet before Twin Falls. He said the cause of this delay, Mr. Haney is representing them in negotiations for a Durley location.

Cosmonauts Plan To View Football Tilt

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The two visiting Russian cosmonauts, one described as a "swinger" with an eye for Disneyland and a Hollywood beauty, are expected to watch the world's biggest zoo.

Maj. Gen. Georgiy Beregovoy, the extrovert, and his companion, scientist Konstantin Feoktistov, are expected to watch the Oakland Raiders-San Diego Chargers pro football game today.

The first event was the trip to the San Diego Zoo with 5,000 animals, the largest collection in the world. Most of the animals are housed in a zoo on islands surrounded by moats, giving the impression of being in an open space with trees.

Beregovoy and Feoktistov drew the biggest assemblage of movie and television stars to a private party in December Friday night at the Beverly Hills home of actor Kirk Douglas.

Multinational Yul Brynner acted as translator. "General Beregovoy is quite a swinger," Brynner said afterwards. "He has quite an eye for the ladies and keeps asking which ones are unmarried."

Hailey Plans New Protests On Ending Of Air Service

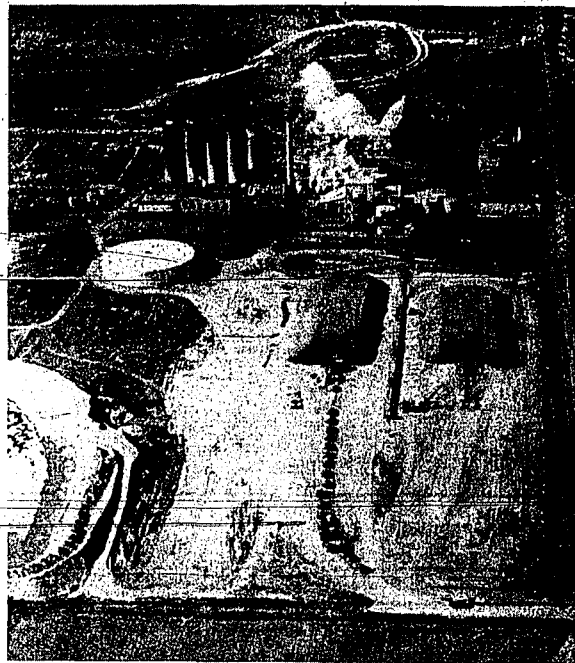

HAILEY — Hailey Rotary and Chamber of Commerce members have voted not to withdraw their letters of protest over cancellation of Air West milliner service to Friedman Memorial Airport.

At a special meeting of the two groups Friday noon at the Hotel Hlanawtha, members decided instead that other letters will be sent from each organization to the Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington, D. C., the Idaho congressional delegation and Gov. Don Samuelson.

The local civic leaders were asked by Don Cooper, Boise, Air West representative, at a meeting Tuesday to withdraw their protest.

In discussing the controversy, Friday's meetings, of the Hailey Rotary Club and Chamber pointed out that no one in Hailey, Ketchum or Sun Valley area is adverse to jet service coming to Twin Falls.

Mr. Cooper told the group Thursday that Air West still rejected the cancellation of service and at any future time, if the firm wants to again serve this area, it need only give 30 days notice to the CAB, the Idaho congressional delegation and Gov. Don Samuelson.

United Fund Campaign Reaches Two-Thirds Of $85,000 Goal

The Twin Falls United Fund held its final report meeting Friday and paid tribute to past presidents of the drive.

Roy Rogers, publicly chairman, presented trophies to Howard Allen, Harold Gerber, Ivan Eaton, John Peterson, Ivan Skinner, John Roper, Bob Day and Daryl Auler in recognition of their leadership of the Twin Falls United Fund.

The school award, for the local school with the highest participation in the drive, went to Harrison Elementary School. Frances Anderson accepted the trophy.

Jack Muldoon, campaign chairman, announced the drive has $55,839 to date. This is more than $10,000 ahead of the previous year. He said that although this is the final report meeting, the drive will continue through the month. Mr. Muldoon said there are still many checks to be turned in.

Dr. Terry Smith, head of the loaned executives, presented certificates to the five loaned executives who have completed their assignments. They are Wayne Kullander, Ken Montgomery, Tom Wojcik, Mike Sullivan and Jim Sinclair.

Dr. Smith said the other loaned executives will complete their assignments within the next two weeks.

Awards were also presented to representatives of the Times-News, the radio stations and television station, as well as to the United Fund office staff. Mr. Roper gave Dick Gabel special recognition for his work in the drive.

Dick Tulvinga served as master of ceremonies for the meeting which was held at the YM-YWCA building.

CSI Veterans Group To Help Keep Order

About 100 veterans attending the College of Southern Idaho have organized to take steps to prevent "noisy or destructive disturbances" on the CSI campus.

As its first official action, the group, called the Armed Services Student Veterans of CSI, declared unanimous support of the leadership of CSI's president, Dr. James L. Taylor.

Officers elected at the five-hour meeting Thursday night were: John Bryant, president; Mike McCordy, vice president; Tom Lane, secretary; Alan Smith, treasurer, and H. Lee Mable, chaplain.

The group appointed Dr. Bruce Harrison, CSI faculty member and Army and Navy veteran, as its faculty advisor.

Members were of record as assisting Magic Valley residents in the overwhelming majority of CSI students is interested in pursuit of an education and will not permit in the near future to undermine the college.

The group also adopted a constitution; formulated goals, declared future policy and established dues.

At a recent council meeting, Mr. Taylor announced that the CSI campus is being prepared for a demonstration Saturday, and that police killed at least five Kenyans and wounded 48 others during the crowd.

Kenyatta, the Soviet ambassador, hospital officials and opposition leader Oginga Odinga, had gathered in front of the hospital for dedication ceremonies and all scrambled for cover inside the hospital when this and I want the record cleared. Violence In Kenya Kills 5 Persons KISUMU, Kenya (UPI)—President Jomo Kenyatta's declaration of a Soviet-financed hospital erupted into a violent demonstration Saturday, and riot police killed at least five Kenyans and wounded 48 others during the crowd.

Annexation Cost—Here's How City Figures It Out

Annexation promises to be one of the hottest topics in Twin Falls since Mayor Egon Kroll put it recently. "The city brought up the dog leash law issue at a recent council meeting."

To get a high census count in 1970 and to get more state funds, annexation must be accomplished by the first of the year. Legal descriptions of the properties proposed for annexation are being prepared at City Hall, and when this map is finished it will be published in the Times-News.

PROBATE JUDGE RICHARD REED, left, and Rev. Keith Maxwell check over questions to be asked at a panel on "Youths and Drug Use" to be presented at 8 p.m. today at the Twin Falls First Methodist Church. The public is invited both to hear the panel and ask questions on the subject. A film on the subject at 7:30 p.m. also is open to the public.

Work Of Teen Challenge Program To Highlight Panel In T.F. Tonight

The work of Teen Challenge, a youth program organized to help troubled youth and drug users and meet the spiritual needs of all young people in metropolitan areas across the United States, will be highlighted during a panel discussion on drug use at 8 p.m. Sunday at the First-United Methodist church in Twin Falls.

Participating in the panel, which is open to the public, and the question period which will follow, will be Rev. John Swank, director of Teen Challenge in Phoenix, Ariz. He will be accompanied here by John Sanchez, man's supervisor for the Phoenix center, who was himself a drug addict until two and one-half years ago.

Local persons on the panel will be Probate Judge Richard Reed, State Patrolman Chet Hillman, Richard Bonn, dean of students at Twin Falls High School, and Dr. Harry Brumback, representing the parents.

Teen Challenge operates 24 centers in major cities of the United States and its chief aim is to rehabilitate youngsters who have been in trouble with the law, as a means of preventing the spread of juvenile delinquency.

The organization has received national acclaim for its work and been featured in such magazines as Life, Time and Good Housekeeping, according to Rev. Keith Maxwell, associate pastor of the host church who will serve as moderator of the panel.

The story of the organization is told in the best seller, "The Cross and the Switchblade," written by Rev. David Wilkerson, founder of New York Teen Challenge.

It is hoped that the Sunday night meeting not only will expose the problem of drug use in Twin Falls area, but give information as to what help is available for both youths and their parents.

A documentary film "Youth In A Fix," which shows what happens to youths who get "hooked on drugs" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. and Rev. Maxwell said anyone wishing to come early to see this film is welcome.

U. of I. Dean Gets Assistants

MOSCOW — To cope with a 31.9 per cent increase this year in graduate students at the University of Idaho, President Ernest Hartung has appointed two members of the faculty to serve as part-time assistants to Dean Melbourne L. Jackson. The appointments were among personnel action approved this week by the Board of Regents.

Devolving one-fourth of their time as assistant deans of the graduate school will be Dr. Doyle E. Anderregg, head of biological sciences, and Dr. Elmer E. Rautins, associate dean of the College of Letters and Science.

Operation Of Burley City Council Is Questioned At Candidates' Meeting

BURLEY — Charges that the present Burley city councilmen do not thoroughly check issues before spending money and do not operate within their budget highlighted a candidates meeting at the Burley Junior High School Thursday night.

All three candidates for mayor and the eight men running for the three council posts all attended the meeting, which was moderated by Jaycee members.

Support for the work of the present administration was also expressed by incumbent candidates.

Mack Crouch, former mayor, reviewed the accomplishments during his term of office while the present mayor, Joe Peters, outlined how the water and electric departments have been upgraded during his term.

The third-mayorality candidate, Garis Robertson, said he knows the "ins and outs" of the city operation since he has served the past 10 years on the council. The city must stay current on its bills and stay within the available finances, he said.

Lloyd Driskell, incumbent councilman, said he believes the present administration is doing a good job. Sylvan Burgi, another incumbent, however, stated money had been spent in unnecessary ways and there should be a check on spending.

James Henson, the third incumbent, said the present council is doing a tremendous job, but Marvin Lewis, who seeks one of the council posts, pointed out the public library needs checking into and adequate funds with which to operate.

Another candidate, Charles Krumm, said the council should check all issues thoroughly before spending money, even if it means tabling a topic until the next meeting. Bill McGill said his business background should help him to manage the city's business.

James Roper said the city is in trouble financially and it must operate within its budget. Ted Smith, the eighth candidate for the three posts, also spoke.

Observance Of Navy Day To Be Held In Twin Falls

The first observance of Navy Day in Twin Falls will be held Monday.

Mayor Egon Kröll has issued a proclamation designating the day in the city. He called upon all citizens of Twin Falls and Magic Valley to take part in appropriate observance of this day through the many channels open to them.

Lt. David Mead, U. S. Navy Reserves, said the observance is being held internationally honoring all war dead. A wreath has been placed on the Twin Falls Vietnam War Memorial in Twin Falls City Park by six representatives of the active, retired and reserve members of the Navy and the Marines. Lt.

Mead points out the observance was set on the birthday of President Theodore Roosevelt, a secretary of the Navy before he became President.

The mayor states in his proclamation, "Whereas, since 1922, Oct. 27 has been celebrated nationally and locally as Navy Day, a day on which it is only fitting and proper that the citizens of the great nation give well-deserved honor and recognition to the achievements of our mighty Navy and Marine Corps and particularly to its heroes, men and women — living and dead — all over the world for their patriotism, loyalty, efficiency and devotion to duty.

Navy To Visit 3 High Schools In Valley Area

High school seniors at three high schools in the Twin Falls area will be given an opportunity to join the regular Naval Reserve "Officers' Training Corps (NROTC)" on Monday.

A team of Navy recruiters from the University of Idaho, Moscow, NROTC unit will visit Jerome, Burley and Minidoka County high schools to explain the program and how young people can apply.

The regular NROTC program offers an opportunity for a young man to gain a regular commission in the Navy while studying at one of the many NROTC colleges and universities throughout the country.

Food Firms Will Discontinue Use Of Disputed Seasoning

NEW YORK (UPI)—Amid speculation by federal researchers that Monosodium Glutamate (MSG) could be a harmful ingredient in baby food, three major manufacturers announced Friday they were discontinuing use of the additive. Their actions, however, are not final.

H. J. Heinz, Gerber and Beecham said they retained confidence in the safety of the flavor-enhancing ingredient.

President Nixon's specialist on nutrition and health estimated at the same time that both MSG and table salt will no longer be added to baby food within a few months.

Too much MSG, even for adults, has been known to cause mild spells of illness, including dizziness, headaches and chest pains, called the "Chinese Food Syndrome" by the consumer. The firm added that "we know from long established research that monosodium glutamate is a safe and wholesome ingredient in baby food."

Dr. Jean Mayer, a French-born nutritionist on leave from Harvard to act as Nixon's health adviser, told the Women's National Press Club Thursday he expects to see MSG and salt go from baby food "as long as there is any doubt at all" about their safety.

Air 'Bandit' Ousts Pilot, Steals Plane

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (UPI)—A Massachusetts man was booked for armed robbery and kidnapping Friday after he allegedly forced the pilot of a small chartered plane to make an unplanned landing at Needles, Calif., before he flew the craft solo to an airfield west of Prescott.

Paul E. Lynch, 31, of Marlboro, Mass., was arrested at the airport in the "mimic" command of a Cessna 182 four-seater.

The pilot, Jay Williams-Gunzels, 28, told sheriff's deputies that the man chartered the plane at El Cajon, Calif., for a flight to Porterville, Calif.

Gunsauls said the man forced him by gunpoint to make an unscheduled landing on a single-engine Cessna 182 four-seater at Needles, Calif.

Federal agents said they may file charges since the plane crossed a state line.

Judge Takes Witness Stand At Hearing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—It may seem strange to hear the man in the witness stand sustain an objection on a question posed to him by an attorney. But this scene came Friday when Superior Court Judge Adolph Alexander took the stand in a hearing concerning the composition of the grand jury and then acted as both witness and judge.

The hearings are the result of a contention by the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund that people with Spanish surnames have been systematically excluded from grand jury duty.

Oscar Z. Acosta of the group called Alexander to the stand in an effort to show that "83 per cent of the judges" nominate people "of their own class" for grand jury duty.

First, Acosta asked the holding, gray-haired jurist if he was Jewish.

"None of your business," Alexander returned.

Alexander was then asked whether persons he nominated to the jury in the past 10 years with names like Silverstein, Pollock, Fields, Fox and Schultz were Jewish.

"I don't know... It's none of your business," the jurist snapped.

Finally, Acosta attempted to question Alexander on the economic and social status of the people he nominated. Deputy Dist. Atty. Bruce Campbell objected, an objection Alexander sustained from the witness stand.

Alexander then said he felt this was proper even though another attorney declared that he could not be both witness and judge.

"The scout car, taken out of active service 18 months ago, cost Scoltock $648.

Jerome Youths Plan Drive Tonight To Help Children

JEROME — Protestant and Catholic young people of Jerome will join forces tonight to raise funds for UNICEF.

The youths will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the United Methodist Church. Participating churches are the First Baptist, St. Jerome's Catholic, First Christian, Calvary Episcopal, Methodist and First Presbyterian.

Pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters given to the youths identified with the UNICEF car's on a transformation through the United Nations Children's fund where the coins become real tools to help millions of needy children in more than 100 nations, primarily in Africa, Asia and South America.

"Our dogs and cats in this country receive enough protein daily to feed a family of six in India," commented Rev. Jack Garrabranti, chairman of the drive. He said 10,000 persons starve to death daily in the world and many more perish from disease. Many of these victims are children.

UNICEF is the largest relief organization and ministers to starving and diseased children, distributing food and medicine at minimum cost.

Examples of how far a few cents will go thru the Children's Fund, 10 cents provides 50 glasses of milk, a nickel buys enough penicillin to inoculate two children against yaws.

A nickel also will buy 30 vitamin tablets or vaccinate four children against tuberculosis, while a quarter can buy a basic education kit for a primary school child and one dollar is transformed into a scholarship for a mother and child health center in Brazil, while $5 is converted into a professional reference book for a health worker in Thailand.

Grieving Art Linkletter Denounces Beatles In Testifying Against Use Of Narcotics

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Television personality Art Linkletter denounced the Beatles Friday as "advocates of an acid society."

Linkletter's 20-year-old daughter, Diana, jumped to her death this month, an act which her father says was induced by her use of LSD. He testified before members of the House Select Committee on Crime, which is holding four days of hearings on illegal drugs.

"When you lose a beautiful young girl at the beginning of her life, there is no one you won't attack," he told the congressmen.

"I will attack commercial enterprises, my own media, anybody who stands in the way of our progress against this scourge."

"I think every parent understands what is going on. I heard from her and my son, Robert, that they had done a little experimenting, but they didn't like it. It was a bad trip."

"What we didn't know was that she was having involuntary flashbacks. It was in one of these flashbacks that she killed herself. She was insane."

"So these people who say LSD is harmless, like Dr. Timothy Leary, I consider among her murderers."

Linkletter asserted that record companies, disc jockeys and rock bands are controlled by "the missionaries of this sub-culture."

He estimated that at least half of the most popular teenage records of the day "are concerned with secret messages to teenagers—drop out, turn on and groove with chemicals."

"The leading advocates of an acid society are the Beatles," he said.

As Linkletter finished his testimony, Hal Abercrombie, a teacher at the San Francisco Opportunity House, tried to obtain the floor, but committee chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., adjourned the meeting.

Abercrombie went out into the hall, where he and 10

Utah University Plans 'High-Rise'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Completion of the first high-rise classroom building for the University of Utah has been set for 1971 by Robert Folsom, project coordinator for the campus planning division.

Folsom said the 14-story building, at a cost of $4,193,000, will house classrooms, the behavioral-science and social work complex, and atop the tower section of the building will be a penthouse area with a student child-care clinic and a faculty lounge.

Homecoming Week Starts For Minico

RUPERT — A week of homecoming festivities in conjunction with the Minico County High School's annual homecoming events will kick-off Monday with a Powder Puff football game between Minico's junior and senior girls.

Tackle football will be played in the Spartan field, starting at 8 p.m. Coach Dan Slaugh, assisted by Dan Rogers, Steve Toris and John Fennell, have been in charge of "training" the players.

The Pop Club section will be filled by members of the M Club and the event is open to the public.

Tuesday, on the second day of the homecoming event, teachers will be responsible for promoting school spirit and Wednesday will include poster competition with winners announced Friday.

A pep rally in the city square in Rupert Thursday evening will be followed by the traditional burning of the Idaho High School at Washington Junior High School.

Homecoming pep assembly festivities will begin at 11 a.m. Friday with the crowning of the Homecoming queen. Candidates are Ruth Grosch, Jean Schenk, Susan Hyde and Vickie McKenzie.

At the pep assembly mothers of the Spartan football team will be introduced, presented corsages and promenade around the gymnasium floor by their sons.

The annual homecoming parade will be held at 1 p.m. Friday in the downtown area of Rupert. Friday's game kicks-off at 8 p.m. in the Minico playing field.

There will be live music for the homecoming dance at 8 p.m. Saturday. In charge of arrangements for the homecoming celebration are Marsha Whitaker, Darrell Dietz and Jerri Hollinger.

Utah Youth Dies When Car Rolls

HYRUM, Utah (UPI) — A 19-year-old Corvair, Utah, youth was killed early today when his car left a county highway and rolled nearly 200 feet down an embankment near here.

The victim was identified as Bryant L. Roche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roche. The youth apparently had been dead about five hours when his body was found by a farmer.

Roche's car failed to negotiate a curve about one mile south of the Cache County farm and community and rolled down the embankment. He was thrown from the car.

U.S. Job Plan For Negroes Brings Complaint By Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., says the Labor Department's "Philadelphia Plan" for increasing construction jobs for Negroes violates the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

In a pilot project planned for Philadelphia, the Labor Department intends to require big federal contractors to make plans for hiring more Negroes as part of their contracts. "To me," Ervin said in a statement, "the plan is a classic break of separation of powers. It openly disregards the intent of Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and twists the purpose of an executive order."

The act and the executive order "forbid discrimination against minority workers by

Young Korean Violinist Will Play At Community Concert's Season Opener

The Magic Valley Community Concert seasons open Thursday night with the appearance of a young Korean violinist at 8:15 p.m. in the College of Southern Idaho's Fine Arts auditorium. Kyung Wha Chung is the youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Chun Chai Chung, Seattle, who arrived in this country in 1952 to reunite their family, four of whom were studying at the Juilliard School of Music, New York.

Miss Chung, 20, began her career when she was 7 years old, and when she was 9 appeared with the Seoul Philharmonic. In 1961 she began studying in America with the Professional Children's School in New York and at Juilliard.

Her first competition in the U.S. was the Washington National Symphony's Merriweather Post contest for violinists and cellists where she received second prize. Two years later she placed first in the Leventritt Competition, an award reserved for musicians ready to embark on a major career.

Last year she appeared with the New York Philharmonic and on the Ed Sullivan Show. This year she will appear with more than 10-symphony orchestras and give 40 recitals.

She will have a return performance on the Ed Sullivan show as part of the Chung trio, which includes her sister, Myung Wha, cellist, and her brother, Myung Whun, pianist. Miss Chung will be honored

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Lewiston legislator has criticized Idaho State University for sending out promotional material showing a nude model posed before an art class.

Rep. Joe Wagner, D-Lewiston, caused a brief flurry during a recent meeting of the legislative fiscal budget committee when he questioned the taste shown by the institution in sending out such materials to high school seniors.

He passed around to some-times-laughing committee members a supplement to the Idaho State Journal of Pocatello, which he said was mailed to his son in an effort apparently to induce the youngster to attend ISU. Sen. J. Madsen Williams, R-Idaho Falls, said the supplements to the Pocatello newspaper were mailed out by the university to high school seniors throughout the state, adding his own child received one.

"I'm no prude, but I don't think this is a policy of good taste on the part of the school or the paper," the red-faced Wagner told the committee. He said he felt that perhaps nude models might be needed by art students in their classroom work but he strongly objected to mailing out pictures of them to prospective university students.

"The nude may be necessary, but I don't think it should be published," Wagner said, emphasizing his displeasure with the publication.

At this point Rep. Helen-McKinney, R-Salmon, questioned whether this committee was the proper sounding board for such objections.

"We are not here to judge what is pornographic or not," Mrs. McKinney told the committee. "We are here as a fiscal-budget committee."

Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grand View, said he disagreed

BOSTON (UPI)—The Massachusetts commissioner of Public Health said Saturday he believes that marijuana is less addictive than cigarette smoking.

"I think that many people would have more difficulty in giving up cigarettes than they would have giving up marijuana," he said.

"I think we don't know enough about marijuana. This is really what concerns me," he said. "That we have very little long-term research on the effect of marijuana."

A Capitol Hill secretary called the White House inquiring as to the official designation of Mrs. Virginia Knauer, an aide to President Nixon.

"I'm sorry," came the reply, "but we can't give out titles." After the call was switched over to Mrs. Knauer's office, it became apparent why the

Police Say 'Zodiac' Killer Craves Attention Of Public

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police are convinced the psychotic slayer who identifies himself with the astrological sign for the heavens has killed five times in recent months. But the murderer isn't satisfied with his notoriety. He craves notoriety. He brags. He taunts police. He tells newspapers to print his message on a page and demands a famous attorney's appearance on a television show. He threatens to kill again.

Police "wanted" posters show the killer as a nondescript man—middle-aged, stocky, with receding brown hair cut short and hornrimmed glasses set firmly on his nose. Psychologist William F. Baker describes him as a "nobody" whose boundless egotisms in his anonymous notoriety, Baker feels the "Zodiac" is a sexually impotent woman-hater who kills to get even with his mother.

The killer struck first last Dec. 20 in a lover's lane near Vallejo, about 30 miles northeast of here. He shot Betty Lou Jensen, 16, and her boyfriend, David Faraday, 17, to death with a .22 caliber pistol.

His next victim was Darlene Ferrin, 22, who was shot to death July 5 with a 9mm pistol in another lover's lane near Vallejo. Her companion, Michael Mageau, 19, was critically wounded.

Police did not connect the two incidents until August, when the first of Zodiac's coded messages were sent to San Francisco newspapermen with a demand they be given front page coverage.

When the crude cipher was broken, the police said the writer had committed all three slayings and killing people was "more fun than killing animals."

Zodiac struck again Sept. 27, attacking a young couple planning on Lake Berryessa in Napa County, about 20 miles north of Vallejo.

Cecilia Ann Shepard, 22, was killed in a frenzied knifing by a man wearing a hood marked with the sign of the Zodiac. Her boyfriend, Bryan Hartnell, 21, was stabbed a dozen times but recovered.

After the attack, the slayer wrote the dates of the Vallejo killings on the door of Hartnell's car, signing them with the crossed circle symbol of the Zodiac.

Drinks Sought

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit-area diabetics are swamping suppliers with orders for beverages sweetened with cyclamates, stocking them against the new year when their sale will be banned, industry sources said Thursday.

"We have had calls from diabetics wanting to buy 40 or 50 cases," Morton Feigenson, president of the Fygo Beverage Co., said. "Sure, we supplied them. Even the Food and Drug Administration admits there's no danger from normal consumption."

Former Drug Addicts, Hippies Attain 'Peace Of Mind' In Profit-Making Commune-Style Candle Factory In Wisconsin

CROSS PLAINS, Wis. (UPI)—A communal bag of hippies, drop-outs, and former drug addicts are living their Age of Aquarius through self-expression of a four-letter word—work.

What's more, they're turning a profit on it. Fifteen young free thinkers are finding peace of mind, they say, through their business, a gift candle factory, housed in a barn on an 106-acre farm they rent near here.

He set up the candle making operation, in Milwaukee 10 months ago, because he saw work as an outlet for his own expression.

In July, he moved the factory to Cross Plains to a farm called the Aquarian Express by its former tenants, a group of former addicts. Larry and the new Aquarian commune, however, are adamant against drugs on the farm.

Larry, the group's founder, is a former drug user. A powerfully built young man, he often wears his blond locks bound up with a rubber band, a modified George Washington hairdo.

Most commune members have had drug problems. Some have had frightening experiences with drugs. At least one member admits to having withdrawal symptoms.

Work, according to the communal family, is the key to their success. Their approach to it is almost religious.

"LSD and hard drugs can open a person to new views, but they lock you in; sometimes they confuse you," Larry said. "There is a point where you have to gather yourself to do something, a point where you have to build something."

The group's work-day begins at 8 a.m. and continues until the job is done, often 12 hours later. Recently, the commune has had to work until past midnight to fill orders.

The factory has shipped five tons of candles some weeks. The Aquarians expect demand for the textured candles to multiply as markets are established. Two wholesale firms distribute the candles in the East and Midwest.

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special)—This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been sold and it is being handed in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S.

Because this diet really works, we have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs, dizziness and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with liberally "forbidden" foods, such as steaks flambéed with fat, roast or fried chicken, grapes, mushrooms, lobster swimming in butter, hucos, fish, stuffed and scrambled eggs and will lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not store fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst for "burning" it, to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose weight. Fat and excess body fluid. A copy of this startlingly successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to:

L.A. CALIF. 90016

Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear-out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth.

Personal OPINION

QUESTION

How do you feel about the property annexations proposed by the Twin Falls City Council?

LOCATION

ANSWERS

LOUIE SLIMAN — "I'm for it. It would improve the tax situation for the city."

BEULAH CARTER — "I don't feel property should be annexed into the city unless the city has the consent of the property owners."

PAT GUGELMAN — "I feel this is fine. It will spread the taxation levy off a little."

MRS. RAY BUTLER — "I haven't studied it too much. Since I already live inside the city limits, I haven't been too concerned."

Sliman Carter Gugelman Butler

Tate Newbry Craig Strong

MRS. TED TATE — "If I were living outside the city limits, I'm sure I wouldn't like it very well."

MRS. ELOISE NEWBRY — "I think people who live within these areas should be taxed the same as those now living inside the city limits. They enjoy the same services, such as the city parks, as we do."

W. F. CRAIG — "I feel annexation is not necessary at the present time."

MRS. ALDA STRONG — "I'm sure we expect growth. We should have annexations to keep up with the other cities. If we don't expand, they will."

As UNICEF Day In T.F.

Twin Falls Mayor Egon Kroll has issued a proclamation designating Oct. 31 as UNICEF Day in Twin Falls.

His proclamation was in keeping with those signed by President Richard Nixon and Gov. Don Samuelson. This is the first year Idaho has had a designated UNICEF Day.

The mayor's proclamation read: "I do hereby proclaim Friday, Oct. 31 as UNICEF Day in Twin Falls and urge every citizen old and young alike to participate in Trick or Treat for UNICEF and to welcome properly identified trick or treaters at the door — those whose orange and black containers carry the official printed UNICEF message with the UNICEF symbol of a mother and child, and who are accompanied by a responsible adult or teenager."

Local groups participating in the program include church groups, Key Club and Y-Teens. The money collected by UNICEF will be used to assist programs for the world's needy children in 120 countries.

Conspiracy-Trial Witness Heard 'Revolution' Plotted

CHICAGO (UPI)—A reporter said Friday he heard Tom Hayden, a defendant in the Chicago riot conspiracy trial, tell an unidentified telephone caller a few weeks before the 1968 Democratic National Convention that "We'll start the revolution now."

Michael Killian, a reporter for the Chicago Tribune, said he overheard Hayden's end of the conversation when the call interrupted his interview with the onetime organizer of Students for a Democratic Society in May, 1968.

"Fine, send them on out," Killian quoted Hayden. "We'll start the revolution now. Do they want to fight?"

Killian testified as a government witness at the trial of Hayden and seven other anti-war demonstration leaders on charges of conspiring to incite the riots that swept the city during convention week.

He said he had gone to the Chicago office of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam to question Hayden. While he talked with Hayden, he said, an aide told Hayden he had a telephone call and Hayden went into another room to take the call.

Killian testified under cross-examination that he could recall nothing else that was said in the telephone conversation except that Hayden and his caller discussed mutual acquaintances.

Killian said he later included an account of the overheard fragments of the phone conversation in a news story.

Defense questions as to the ethics of including an eavesdropped fragment of conversation in a newspaper account, and on why Killian did not report Hayden's remarks to a law enforcement agency, went unanswered because of prosecution objections.

Priest To Appear At College

Fr. David Nicholson, music consultant for radio and television, will speak at 5 p.m. Thursday at room 115, Shields Hall, at the College of Southern Idaho.

His appearance is being sponsored by St. Benedict's Priory. The Canadian-born priest took his vows as a Benedictine Monk in 1949 and was ordained the same year.

He holds a master of music degree from Northwestern University and has done post graduate work in musicology at Harvard.

He has written several books on church music and is a member of several music associations.

He presently is organist and choir master at Mount Angel Abbey and Mount Angel Seminary. The seminary choir, founded in 1850 by Father Davis, has made numerous recordings, some of them on the RCA label. The "Requiem," performed by the Portland Symphonic Choir in 1959 won the Grammy award for the best classical performance, operatic or choral. That year David is available as Father David is available as a consultant for religious and historical music for the television and motion picture industries.

Glenn Yarbrough To Appear At CSI In Nov. 3 Concerts

Folk singer Glenn Yarbrough will appear in two concerts next month on the College of Southern Idaho campus at the Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

The popular recording star will play two shows; at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Nov. 3, and tickets for the performances now are on sale at Helen's Record Shop, from all Twin Falls Jaycees, and at CSI. Providing seats are still available, tickets will be sold at the door the night of the performances.

The 39-year-old entertainer has been singing since the age of 8. He entered college on a singing scholarship, but the scholarship was changed to an athletic one when he made both the football and ice hockey teams. He refused several scholarships after graduation in favor of a hitchhiking tour through the United States, Canada and Mexico. He later spent three years at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., and spent two years in the army in Korea.

GLENN YARBROUGH

After that he again enrolled in college to pursue a career as a teacher.

That was in 1955 and a year later he was offered his first professional singing job. In 1959, while operating the Limelight Club in Aspen, Colo., Mr. Yarbrough met Alex Hasslev and Lou Gottlieb. They organized as the Limelighters and became one of the most popular folk singing groups in the nation. Because singing with a group did not satisfy his urge for personal success, Mr. Yarbrough abandoned the group and took off on his own successful career.

As an addition to the shows at CSI, comedian George McKelvey will accompany the Yarbrough troupe. Also, making it in the comedy part of show business, Mr. McKelvey sang with jazz groups, rock bands, and finally settling on folk music.

Junior Miss

The Twin Falls Jaycees held their first orientation this week for 1970 Twin Falls Junior Miss hopefuls, according to parent chairman Mike Packham.

Attending the session at the Idaho Power auditorium were Kathy McCandless, Filer; Laura Vincent, Filer; and Tami Mencl, Linda Watson, Bonnie Atlas, and Sheila Halliday, all Twin Falls.

The contest seeks to honor the county's outstanding high school seniors. Girls interested in competing may obtain entry blanks by contacting local Jaycees. Entries must be in by Nov. 5.

The local Junior Miss title is given to the high school senior who best typifies the ideal American teenager. Judging includes personality, talent, scholastic achievement and personal appearance.

First Meet Of Field Service Held

The Twin Falls chapter of the American Field Service held its first meeting this week.

Mrs. Jerre Cover, president, extended a special thanks to all the families who hosted the 40 exchange students who stopped in Twin Falls this June on a bus tour.

There will be a special meeting at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria to explain the American Abroad program. Mrs. John Breckneridge, committee chairman, will tell students and their parents interested in the exchange program just what it involves.

Involved in the AFS this year are: Steve Blaye, student body president; Rick Semba, student body vice president; Linda Watson, student body secretary; Janet Matsuoka, student body treasurer; Jim Baugh, senior class president; Michael J. Crandall, junior class president; Larry Anderson, sophomore class president; Debbie Benefield, girls league president; Mizie Sweet, neo club president; Mrs. John Christoffersen, host mother; Julie Christoffersen, host sister; and Angelika Dauses, American Field Service student.

Others are John Lawrence, principal; Paul E. Ostyn, vice principal; Richard A. Meeting On Health Is Held Here

Health Department officials and equipment manufacturers from Nevada, Idaho, California, Montana and Wyoming attended a two-day session Thursday and Friday in Twin Falls, conducted by the National Sanitation Foundation.

Marshall E. Gish, training coordinator for the NSF, Ann Arbor, Mich., said the training session was held at the request of the Idaho Health Department. He explained the purpose of the meeting was to acquaint Health Department personnel with the types of materials used and the design and construction of equipment concerned with food establishments. The health people were also instructed in the ways to check this equipment for proper cleaning.

Mr. Gish and his associate, J. Brown, also told of the NSF's testing laboratory services.

The National Sanitation Foundation is a non-profit corporation which is supported through its testing fees and grants from foundations. Its personnel conduct unannounced inspections of equipment manufacturing plants.

Mr. Gish said an international program was started this year to test all equipment sent into the United States. The NSF puts its seal on all equipment which it approves.

The training coordinator is a former Twin Falls man. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gish and was graduated from Twin Falls High School.

Some 25 people attended the training session which was held at Twin Falls City Hall. It was the first meeting of this kind to be held in the Northwest.

Mr. Gish said the State Health Department has also requested another training program on swimming pool equipment. This session will be held next spring.

Dr. James Kelly Is Dean Of ISU Business College

POCATELLO (ISU) — Dr. James Kelly, now in his third year as an associate professor of business administration at Idaho State University, has been named to succeed Dr. Alex J. Simon as dean of ISU's College of Business.

His appointment was confirmed Friday by the State Board of Education and ISU's trustees. Dr. Kelly will assume his new duties on Feb. 1. He becomes the third man to head the business school since it was elevated to college status in 1963.

A native of Riceville, Iowa, Dr. Kelly holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Iowa, an MA degree from Michigan State University and a Doctor of Business Administration from the University of Colorado.

Dr. Kelly replaces Dean Dr. Alex J. Simon who would not permit him to continue in the post.

DR. JAMES KELLY

Before coming to Idaho in 1967, Dr. Kelly was a member of the University of Denver business faculty for six years.

Wild Shot?

Kenneth Moon, an employe of Bob Rees Motor Co., reported Saturday morning a shot had been fired through a plate glass window at the dealership, 510 Second Ave. S.

The .22 caliber bullet passed through the window and through a car window in the show room and lodged in the ceiling of the building.

The incident occurred sometime between 7 p.m. Friday and 7:45 a.m. Saturday.

Twin Falls police are investigating.

A new run at the bottom of instructor's run has been added for beginning skiers and all runs have been "manicured" so that good skiing is available with as little as 18 to 20 inches of snow, Mr. Jones added.

Mr. West also addressed the group and promised to put the business end of Pomerelle back into a business-like manner. Manpower is being added at the area, he said, with attendants planned for the parking lot and for each of the rope tows.

Personnel will also be hired to manage the lodge. Harold Stanger has been retained as ski school instructor and is working on schedules for additional ski racing at the area.

In response to a question concerning overnight lodging, Mr. Jones noted that a 40 per cent increase in business is expected this year and if the figures justify doing so, overnight lodging will be planned for ensuing ski seasons in cooperation with the Forest Service who owns the land.

One rope tow has been added and another moved to a better vantage point, making three tows for beginning skiers.

He said the Platter Lift is now in operation and will be advantageous for ski schools and bad weather. Some $25,000 was spent improving the chair lift which now sports a hydrostatic drive system which provides 150 per cent more power than the old method, Mr. Jones said. Four methods to stop the lift in case of trouble are available, also.

Safety factors at the area have been improved and the packers is being repaired so that the runs will be packed at all times. Mr. Jones said the area will guarantee at least three runs packed every day. New equipment to move snow on the runs has also been purchased.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Len Jordan, R-Idaho, said Friday Wyman X. Zachary, McCall, has been named as director of resources and development for the Trust Territory of the Pacific.

Zachary and his wife, Eunice, will leave for Salpan in the Mariannus Islands next week to take up residency.

Pomerelle Ski Area Plans Outlined At Rupert Meet

RUPERT — It is anticipated the Pomerelle Ski Area near Rupert will be open to the public by Thanksgiving this year, not earlier, according to Roger Jones, president.

Mr. Jones, in an address this week to the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, described improvements made at the ski area during the summer months and introduced new manager for the area, Philo West. During the summer, some $50,000 in additional stock was sold to provide more operating capital for improvements at the area, Mr. Jones said.

The board of directors for the Ponderosa Inn, Burley, purchased half of the new stock and are working with the directors of Pomerelle for package plans for visiting winter tourists. Mr. Jones explained that summer business is also anticipated in the near future at the area with lift rides and horse rides planned in conjunction with conventions.

Gifts Accepted BSC President Stresses Needs Of School

MOSCOW — A total of $61,852 in gifts and awards were accepted by the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho during its meeting here this week.

Two awards were made to Magic Valley students, Thomas R. Shriver, built, and Glenn E. Shevemaker, Kimberly, each received $500 from the Green Giant Foundation, Minneapolis.

BOISE (UPI) — Dr. John Barnes, president of Boise State College, said Friday the $25,550 supplemental appropriation recommended for the school is the "minimally needed" figure to a matter for the legislature to decide.

Barnes said the figure was the smallest of the three the school presented to the state board of education over the anticipated enrollment by the per student cost of $1,009.

He said the number of excess students was actually twice as much as used in figuring but "we admitted to the state board that it is too much to ask and we would try to swallow the additional costs."

Art Works Are Shown In Boise

Four Magic Valley artists' works are included in the 34th annual Idaho Artist's Exhibition at the Boise Art Gallery.

Two acrylic paintings by Michael Green of Twin Falls, an acrylic painting and a metal sculpture by LaVar Steel of Twin Falls, a metal sculpture by Stanley Vandenberg of Twin Falls, and an acrylic painting by Marilyn LaCroix of Gooding, are on display.

Three of the works by the Magic Valley artists were included among the 10 purchase awards. "Multiple II Group II," an acrylic by Mr. Green, was purchased by the Boise Junior League and the Boise Art Association.

"Moon Turkey," a metal sculpture by Mr. Steel, was purchased by First Security Bank, and "Optimism," a metal sculpture by Mr. Vandenberg, was purchased by the Boise Art Association.

The show opened last week with a preview reception for artists and Boise Art Association members. H. John Helz III, Pennsylvania, a leading art collector, was on hand to discuss the works on exhibition.

Joseph Vistica, San Francisco painter and sculptor and juror for the exhibition, selected the 66 works to be exhibited until Nov. 19. He also selected the 10 purchase awards.

Here Are The Candidates, Backgrounds, What They Believe

Rupert Says It's Solvent

JOHN CHRISTOFFERSEN

The coming election will be an important one for residents of Twin Falls and everyone with an interest in his or her city must go to the polls, John Christoffersen, one of seven candidates for the three council posts being filled Nov. 3, said.

He pointed out a new mayor will be named after Jan. 1, when new council members take office. It is possible the new council will also inherit the responsibility of selecting a new city manager.

Important projects the coming council must be concerned with, he said, include a follow-through on the proposed airport expansion.

Like most other cities, we may find ourselves with an improved airport already too small when completed, and it may not be long before we must be thinking in terms of a larger regional airport for the entire area," he said.

Highway travel, with special emphasis on U.S. 93, is important to the city, motel business and other established businesses of the city and must be brought up to higher standards, he said.

Christoffersen said he has long been interested in working on behalf of the city and feels more people should take time to get involved in city affairs. He said he had already decided to seek election independently when invited to join the Citizens committee.

Annexation, Mr. Christoffersen said, will probably be a past issue by the time the new council members take office and candidate for the city should not be concerned with it.

Streets, he explained, are a target for public criticism in most cities, and he personally feels the city should not be afraid of street construction.

Garbage problems, he said, are something he would have to look into, as he has no comments to indicate the present system is not functioning properly.

LOYD COX

Lloyd Cox, owner of the Yellow Cab Co., says he is running for the Twin Falls City Council because he was elected to correct some present situations.

Mr. Cox said the Twin Falls city streets are a disgrace, except for the ones on the state assists in the maintenance. He said he felt the money spent on Dierke's Lake could have been better spent on city streets and for many other things.

"All we have to do is buy another Dierke's Lake, and we won't have to worry about city streets — we won't have any money to spend on them," he said.

Mr. Cox said the initial cost for Dierke's Lake is only a beginning and there will be a continual cost for building roads and maintenance.

In regard to possible sanitation fee increases, Mr. Cox said he does not feel this is needed. He said he did not feel the city should be asked to pay the present cost without the increase.

The candidate also criticized the airport project. He said the council not the city should be responsible for the safe construction. Mr. Cox said the runway and necessary facilities should have been constructed before this was done.

Mr. Cox said he thought the city has many other problems that require more immediate attention than the proposed annexations. "I can't see the purpose of annexing property several miles out of the city limits," he said.

He said he feels more emphasis on bringing new industry so our young people would go to work to find suitable employment. When you start losing your young people, what do you have left?

W. G. (BILL) CRIPPEN

Better utilization of available income in the operation of the city favored by W. G. (Bill) Crippen, one of seven candidates seeking election to the Twin Falls City Council Nov. 3.

Mr. Crippen, a resident of the city since 1943, said he feels the city manager has, in the past, had too much authority in determining expenditures — such as the purchase of Dierke's Lake.

"This could have been better spent on immediate needs of the city," Mr. Crippen said, noting nothing has been done to improve or develop the property since it was purchased.

Mr. Crippen, who resides at 312 8th Ave. N., owns his wife, Ann, two sons, Gary Crippen, a fireman, and Ron Crippen, employed by Garrett Freightlines, all residing in Twin Falls.

The candidate is self-employed as a number of manufacturing concerns throughout Southern Idaho in the sale of textile products and commercial clothing items.

The candidate said he also feels city employees should be given a livable wage before spending large amounts of money on purchase of property.

Mr. Crippen, who worked for Garrett Freight Lines, Kregg Hardware Co. and Detwiler's, Inc., before going into business for himself in 1961, said he also believes the city should enforce zoning laws, curfews and traffic regulations that are now being broken.

He said he is for improving some traffic bottlenecks in the city such as North Five Points.

EARL FAULKNER

Cites the size of Twin Falls should not have weeds growing in the cracks of the main Avenue sidewalks or gaining secondary windows from old fashioned buildings in the downtown area.

Mr. Faulkner says, "This should be seen important to some people, but it is part of the image Twin Falls has in the minds of some as a backwoods town." Earl Faulkner, candidate for the November city council election.

If elected to one of the three vacancies on the council, Mr. Faulkner says he plans to take steps to give the city a more progressive image, which he desires.

A resident of Twin Falls since 1949, and a downtown businessman throughout that time, Mr. Faulkner is one of seven candidates in the coming municipal election Nov. 4.

Transportation also is important to the future of Twin Falls, Mr. Faulkner says. This should include some serious planning for the upkeep and improvement of U.S. 93 through the local area.

Mr. Faulkner said he also feels the city should be given a livable wage before spending large amounts of money on purchase of property.

Mr. Crippen, who worked for Garrett Freight Lines, Kregg Hardware Co. and Detwiler's, Inc., before going into business for himself in 1961, said he also believes the city should enforce zoning laws, curfews and traffic regulations that are now being broken.

He said he is for improving some traffic bottlenecks in the city such as North Five Points.

WINSTON JONES

"We have to watch the taxation in Twin Falls," states Winston Jones, one of seven candidates seeking a position on the Twin Falls city council in November.

Mr. Jones says, "It seems to me the local taxes have gotten to the point action must be taken to stop the increase. On the other hand, I do recognize we need to continue to grow as a city and we are committed to such as the airport and the downtown improvement."

Mr. Jones is a retired army officer and representing financial programs, Inc., an investment company. He was born and reared in Twin Falls and graduated from the Twin Falls High School and University of Idaho.

He is married and has two children, a son, Ralph, a senior at the University of Idaho, and a daughter, Mrs. Johanna Gale Seattle.

In 1937, Mr. Jones entered the army as a second lieutenant and advanced to colonel in 1955.

Military service includes assignments with Civilian Conservation Corps, Second Army and the 5th Military Division, Army Group—82nd Airborne Division Military Assistance Advisory Groups in Japan and Turkey and Chief of Staff for operations and training in Cambodia. His assignment prior to his retirement was professor of military science at Lafayette College.

His military decorations include Commander of the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star and Legion of Merit.

He returned to Twin Falls in late 1957.

TOM NELSON

"Although he considers himself a relatively new resident in Twin Falls," Tom Nelson, practicing attorney with the firm of Parry, Robertson, Daly and Larson, says he has a strong interest in the community and would like to help on the growth and development.

A lifetime resident of Idaho, he was born in Idaho Falls and attended high school there. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho with a law degree, received in 1962. For three years prior to coming to Twin Falls, he served as deputy attorney general of the State of Idaho.

Since 1965, Mr. Nelson has practiced law in Twin Falls. He is married to the former Ella McPherson, Salmon, and has two pre-school-aged sons.

Mr. Nelson served as a member of the Idaho Air National Guard for three years and a member of the Army Reserve for three years. He is a member of the board of directors of American Bar Associations, former member of the Boise Jaycees and past chairman of Harbor House of Magic Valley.

Mr. Nelson also chaired the planning committee for the Child Development Center and is a member of the board of directors of United Fund. Past president of the Civitan Club in Twin Falls, he also served as secretary of the Mountaintop District of the organization.

A property owner here since 1966, Mr. Nelson is currently director of the Idaho Association of Defense Counsel and a member of the continuing legal education committee, Idaho State Bar and of the American Judicial Society.

Pointing out he is mainly interested in establishing a sound, long-range plan for city growth, Mr. Nelson said he also feels airport facilities must be kept at highest possible levels.

"I believe the present airport project will, when completed, serve only temporarily and we will have to begin thinking about further improvement and expansion to meet increasing air travel and the use of jet airliners," Mr. Nelson said.

PAUL OSTYN

"Sound, comprehensive planning programs that can result in a more economic development of Twin Falls and growth controlled and uniform growth are called for by Paul E. Ostyn, candidate for the city council election Nov. 3.

Mr. Ostyn, 41, is now vice principal of the Twin Falls senior high school and a former controller and artistic director of the local school.

One of the most urgent areas of concern for the city administration and citizens, is the leisure time and lack of sufficient recreational activities for the teenage residents, Mr. Ostyn said.

"I am vitally concerned about the spread and use of drugs among our young people. It should be a matter of concern to everyone who has children or grandchildren," he said.

He said steps must be taken to curtail the use of drugs although at the present time it is not certain what these steps should be.

The local candidate said he has been encouraged to seek a position on the city council by many friends and is submitting to these urgings because he would like to participate in shaping the future of the city.

Rearred on a farm in the Nampa area, Mr. Ostyn was graduated from high school at the University of Idaho, Marine Corps in World War II, was graduated from Boise Junior College, William College in Stella, Wash., and received his masters degree in administration from the University of California and University of Nevada.

Funds are available to meet the balance outstanding, they said, and no tax increase was necessary to pay any amount of debt. Mr. Ostyn said a 1969 increase is indicated in the future to pay the retirement of the debt.

Utah Solon Stresses Value Of Railroad

OGDEN (UPI) — Rep. Laurance Burdick, R-Utah, in an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that the operation of the Southern Pacific's City of San Francisco train is necessary to the continued growth of the Ogden area.

Burdick said, "This is the last passenger train between Ogden and Salt Lake City, the largest city in the state, and the Oakland — San Francisco area."

Pope Defends Celibate Law For Priests

ROME (UPI)—Pope Paul VI strongly defended the Roman Catholic Church's law forbidding priests Saturday, one day after a French cardinal called for new discussion on it at a meeting in Rome. He said in a ceremony at the Roman Church of St. Mary Major paying tribute to Mary.

He said he prayed to Mary "to help me to be chastity with that tremendous and sublime commitment which is our sacred celibacy." The pope was widely discussed today, the Pope said, "and not understood by some."

Court Backs Judgment In Damage Suit

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Supreme Court has affirmed a $4,000 judgment in favor of a plaintiff in a lawsuit against Cliff Slinger and Evergreen Express Inc., for personal injuries suffered in a car accident.

The court said that on May 10, 1965, Slinger's car and an Evergreen Express truck collided on U.S. Highway north of the Rose Lake turnoff near Coeur d'Alene.

Union Chief Enters Talks On Walkout

NEW YORK (UPI)—The president of the International Union of Electrical, Workers and the union's chief negotiator talks with General Electric Co. Saturday less than 36 hours before the deadline for a strike by 147,000 GE employees.

The full negotiations were called by the Federal Mediation Service which was not, however, taking part in the talks.

Young Couple Found Buried Under Debris

READING, Pa. (UPI)—State Police are striving to trace the whereabouts of a young couple slain on a date and buried under a pile of debris near an abandoned amusement park.

Preliminary investigations failed to reveal the cause of death of Marilyn Schaecker, 18, of Murrayville, and Glen Eckert, 20, of nearby Robeson, whose bodies were found in a couple of feet from the park six days after the couple disappeared last Aug. 12.

Prison Break Brings Death To One Man

WALPOLE, Mass. (UPI)—One inmate was electrocuted Friday night when three prisoners attempted to escape from Walpole State Prison.

Officials said another prisoner was captured and the third man made good his escape.

Communists Say U.S. Prolongs Vietnam War

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China and North Vietnam charged Saturday that President Nixon's policy of "vietnamization" is prolonging the Vietnam War.

The charge was made in a statement signed by Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong ordering Dong's official visit to Peking.

Radio Pastor Helps Battle Sex Training

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI)—Conservative radio preacher, Carl McIntire and his wife, Mrs. Lester Maddox, joined Saturday to fight sex education and press for victory in Vietnam.

The duo, who are a "Bible Believers' Victory in Vietnam" march past the statehouse in an effort to counter last week's anti-Bible morning prayer, Trenton police were preparing for 5,000 demonstrators.

Enrollment Rises

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford University enrollment rose to 12,000 last year, an increase of 112 over last fall, according to university registrar Harvey Hall.

Optimistic Investors Boost Stock Market Sharply

By HOWARD LUXENBERG
UPI Business Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Optimism on Capitol Hill over prospects for ending the Vietnam War and hopes for a loosening in the tight credit situation drove stocks sharply higher for the second week in a row in heavy turnover.

But as one market analyst noted, "What is interesting is that the peace pipe even though there was no dramatic peace news either from Washington or Paris, seemed to be smoking the peace pipe even though there was no dramatic peace news either from Washington or Paris."

In fact, Henry Cabot Lodge, head of the U.S. delegation, refused to deliver his prepared speech to the peace talks in the French capital because he said the other side made serious negotiation impossible.

Yet Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Nixon was deescalating the war. Long a critic of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, Mansfield noted that Nixon has

Hearing Set To Ponder Election Law

By THE AP

BOISE (UPI)—A public hearing has been scheduled in Boise on Nov. 3 to discuss amendment of Idaho's election laws to conform with a 1968 Democratic national convention resolution.

James Donart, chairman of the committee on delegate selection for the Idaho Democratic Party, said the resolution required that the "unit rule would not be used for delegate selection and that all efforts would be made to assure delegates were selected through party primary conventions or committee procedures open to public participation."

Under present law, Idaho delegates to both the Democratic and Republican national conventions are selected by a state party delegate committee composed of legislative district chairmen and representatives of county central committees.

The national resolution also required that delegates be selected within the calendar year of the national convention, but under the Idaho process members of the selection committees are elected two years prior to the national convention.

Donart said his committee would formulate proposals for amending Idaho law and make every possible effort to secure passage of legislation to implement the amendments.

Donart said anyone wishing to testify at the open hearing in the Hotel Boise could contact Dale G. Higer, Caldwell, executive secretary of the committee on delegate selection.

Glenn Asks Rhodes To Clear Charge

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (UPI)—Former astronaut John Glenn said Saturday that if Gov. James A. Rhodes decides to run for the U.S. senate he should clear up charges brought against him by Life magazine.

Life recently accused Rhodes of misusing campaign funds and failing to report income on his federal tax returns. The magazine alleged Rhodes had to pay $100,000 in income tax penalties.

Rhodes denied the charges. Glenn, considered the top candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate since Sen. Stephen M. Young announced he would retire, said the allegations would have to be brought to light if Rhodes seeks the Republican senatorial nomination.

"Some of the charges I have never been fully explained nor have they gone away," Glenn said. "I don't know what difficulties or what effect this might have upon his candidacy."

"He threatened some legal action against Life but no suits have come out as yet," Glenn said.

"As serious as those charges were, they certainly have to be considered," Glenn said. "They have to be brought to light or made a major issue, candidate-to-candidate."

"I am sure the people of Ohio are going to want a full explanation of some of those charges."

Glenn ran against Young in the 1964 Democratic primary but dropped out when he suffered an ear injury after a fall in a bathroom.

Glenn said his withdrawal in 1964 would not have any effect on his possible candidacy in 1970.

Building Is Purchased By Rupert Firm

RUPERT — Magic Valley Foods, Rupert, has purchased the building previously occupied by the now defunct Nida, Inc., and plans to use it for storage space for its potato flakes.

Ronald Jones, manager of the frozen foods firm, said the firm is using storage space in several other places in Rupert and has run out of space.

Poison Weed Falls 78 At State Prison

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Seventy-eight inmates at the Indiana State Farm were treated at an Indianapolis hospital Friday night, apparently after consuming poisonous jimson weed.

Officials at the Robert Long Hospital said 13 of the inmates were admitted for treatment or observation. Their condition was not made public.

A farm spokesman said the jimson weed grows wild on the farm 40 miles west of Indianapolis. Prisoners who consumed the little black seeds produced by the weed displayed symptoms of drunkenness.

Apparently there was no "party" as such, the spokesman said, but inmates were believed to have consumed the seeds by eating and smoking them at various places on the grounds.

Nixon Ponders Vietnam Speech

THURMONT, Md. (UPI)—President Nixon worked in the solitude of Aspen Lodge Saturday on the speech he will deliver to the nation on the Vietnam war Nov. 3, but with Nov. 4 and its implications also in the back of his mind.

The President spent much of a sleepless day at Camp David working on the speech, primarily by the way of dictating to the main body of the presidential record. No members of his family came along for the weekend—and only a handful of lower-echelon aides.

Besides the Nov. 3 Vietnam speech, the President was working on the first political campaign trips in almost a year in behalf of Republican candidates running in Nov. 4 elections in Virginia and New Jersey.

He also has to deal with the fact that the state with governor elections this year—to boost the candidates of GOP candidates,

Sen. Peavey Protests Plea Of Utility To Raise Rates

RUPERT (UPI) — Sen. John Peavey, R-Rupert, said he had written to Idaho Public Utilities Commission Chairman Ralph Wickburg expressing opposition to Idaho Power Company's proposed rate increase.

Peavey noted that President Nixon had asked the nation's businessmen to use restraint in pricing goods and services to fight inflation.

"Perhaps they (Idaho Power) should delay plant expansion for a short time," Peavey's letter said. "In doing so they will be abiding by the President's request and taking the forefront in the nation's fight against inflation."

Blacks Leave As Powell Appears

NEW YORK (UPI)—About a dozen Negro students walked out on Rep. Adam Powell while the Harlem Democrat was addressing a audience of several hundred Friday at the Lincoln Center campus of Fordham University.

According to Powell, it was the first time he had encountered this type of rebuff in his career.

The incident occurred just after an exchange between the congressman and students in the predominantly white audience over Powell's support last year of President Lyndon B. Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential race.

Powell told a questioner that he had supported Johnson because he thought the former President could make a bridge between "regionalism" and racism.

Woman Comments On The Recent Moratorium In T. F.

Editor, Times-News:
I should like to commend the various news media for their recent coverage of the moratorium observed by Twin Falls residents, Oct. 15. Their coverage was, in my estimation, unbiased, factual and informative. In sum, good reporting.

I think with gratitude, too, of the participants in that moratorium; they were a true cross-section of humanity. Anyone attending the peace service which I, too, attended at the Episcopal Church would have observed the elderly white-haired lady, the mothers with young children, the businessmen, and chic looking working women, and the adolescent young, most of whom sported clean shirts and neatly combed hair. All of these, with the bearded few (who seem to engage whether or not they deserve to engage), made up that congregation of "just humanity."

Thirdly, I think with respect of the general tolerant response of most members of the Twin Falls community, who, upon questioning following the moratorium, agreed that while the particular view expressed by that moratorium might not be their own, none-the-less it deserved to be expressed by those who held it. In sum, reasonable thinking.

As I am encouraged by much of the response of this community of Twin Falls, I am equally distressed by the few who feel challenged, who feel if an idea can be stifled today it will not be heard tomorrow. These few individuals, I believe, live in a fear of the world (and indeed there is much to be feared in the world today) and in experiencing this fear simply forget that it exists outside their small cove. They believe that by protecting democracy from opposing views they are strengthening it, when in fact they are admitting it weak if unable to withstand criticism.

I have believed in democracy all my life, but I believe in it as having the strength to support opposing views. Democracy will stand only if it stands against the attacks from within and the attacks from without. It will stand only if views even radically opposing it are allowed to be heard and therefore allowed to be found to be fallacious and unpracticable. It will stand only when open expression of opposing views with their inherent biases, make it emerge victor on its own strength.

I watched in disbelief as one member of the community (an organizational head) interviewed before the moratorium, practically labelled the moratorium un-American. He urged the flying of American flags in opposition. This individual and others like him couldn't understand democracy. The heartblood of Americanism is the provision to follow one's own conscience, to differ, and, broadly, to peacefully dissent. We call this freedom. It baffles me that any young man in school could misinterpret this most basic fact of a Democracy.

While I nod praise to most of the community of Twin Falls, I urge those who would always stifle opposition to stop operating from a base of fear, to reconsider the tacit admission they are making about democracy and about themselves.

UNICEF Drive Is Criticized In Local Letter

Editor, Times-News:
Next Friday night we will be accosted by assorted phots and goings, all good kids having a good time. There will be others, too, collecting donations for the needy children all over the world.

I commend these selfless kids and the adults who are coordinating this drive, all for the cause of the needy children. But despite their good intentions, once the donations are turned over to UNICEF they will not likely reach those for whom they were intended. In the past the greatest portion went to communist countries — and I grant their children are by far the neediest — and if we had some guarantee that the aid went to the children the program might have merit. If there was some guarantee the United Nations would not find a better use for the fund than aiding needy children, such as shooting Katangans, then it might have merit.

Yes, according to the United States State Department, $10 million of UNICEF funds were used to finance the Congo operation.

Granted some of the donations do get to needy children and there is evidence of this in most countries with Christian missionaries who could probably do a better job of feeding and aiding the needy than government agencies anyway.

But if you are mad at UNICEF you still have a moral obligation of charity, so donate to your own church missions and be polite when you say "no" to the UNICEF kids, because they're at least trying to do the right thing.

Background To White Cloud Issue Presented By Writer

Editor, Times-News:
What are the real issues where the mine is located, can the smoke screen obscuring the White Clouds issue?

First, the White Clouds mining claim is expected to yield about $1 billion in wealth, mostly for the state of Idaho.

The chief engineer at White Clouds reports once the mine is opened, enough work could be provided to keep 1,000 men busy for 75 years, as indicated by the block of ore that has been found by exploratory methods. Incidentally, although reported otherwise, these deposits were discovered in 1936 by the chief engineer at White Clouds.

In addition, Custer County, where the mine is located, can expect about 50 per cent tax relief from the benefits derived from the operation. As it now stands, Custer County is about 80 per cent federally owned.

It has been stated by a few that most of the money would leave the state. Common business knowledge dictates it more likely that 90 per cent would remain in the state.

Second, the mother lode, which is the largest known deposit of molybdenum in Idaho, covers only about three fourths of a square mile. It is situated indeed, then, to hear that the American Smelting and Refining Co. would tear up the whole Sawtooth Forest in its prospecting operations.

Bingham County, in Utah, and the Kennecott mine in Nevada, have greatly benefited their respective states by being leading tourist attractions. It is reasonable to suppose this would be true of the White Clouds operation.

Upon studying the legislation now under consideration and reflecting on the clouding of the issues, and particularly the pressure exerted through the Forest Service hearing, one wonders if there is an attempt here to overthrow the existing mining laws in order to set up a bureaucracy to benefit the chosen few.

The theft of equipment from a trailer house at Ready to Pour Concrete was reported Saturday to Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers.

A stove, sink and table were taken from the 14-foot trailer house, officers said. It is not known when the theft took place.

Samuelson Urges New Industries

WALLACE, Idaho (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson told the Wallace Boosters Club Friday that an alternative to higher taxes was to widen the state's tax base by developing new industries.

Samuelson said only about 20 per cent of Idaho's land was potentially taxable, and much of that was undeveloped.

FCC Ruling Allows Cable TV Systems To Carry Commercials

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in a step that may bring new diversity to television programming across the country, has ruled that cable TV systems may carry commercials and some must originate their own programs.

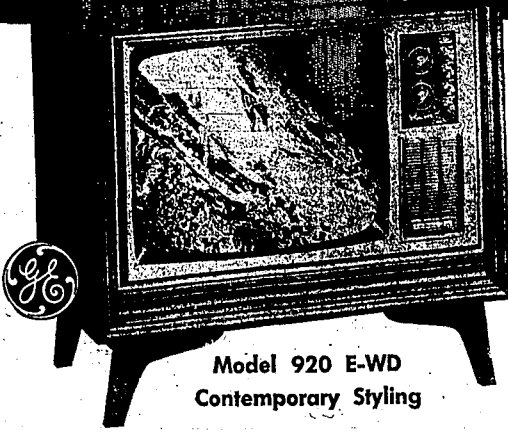

Cable TV systems, of which there are about 2,000 in the nation, pick up signals and offer them, at subscription rates, to households who might not otherwise be able to receive them. Such operations began mainly in rural, fringe coverage areas but have spread to cities where viewers are offered signals from neighboring or obstructed areas.

The FCC Friday said all Community Antenna Television (CATV) systems may carry advertising at natural breaks during their programming. Such clear permission to advertise had long been sought by the CATV industry, which said subscription rates alone were sometimes insufficient to make the operations profitable.

At the same time the FCC ordered all CATV systems with more than 3,500 subscribers to originate some of their own programming as of Jan. 1, 1971. It did not specify how much of the local programming the total programming was to be originated locally, but it said it would give the stations a period of experimentation before deciding if it will be necessary to make such specifications.

About 200 CATV operations have more than 3,500 subscribers. The new rules were the result of a Supreme Court decision in 1968. The court ruled that the FCC had the authority to regulate CATV.

Burley Strikes For Two Quick Touchdowns, Takes 18-14 Win From Jerome

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

BURLEY — Burley snapped away from a 6-6 tie by scoring twice in two minutes Friday night and held off a rally by Jerome to claim an 18-14 Cross State Conference victory.

Fairchild Sparks Oakley Past Hansen

HANSEN — An 80-yard run from scrimmage and a 93-yard touchdown return of a kickoff by Fairchild Sparky Hansen led Oakley Hornets past the Hansen Huskies 31-14 Friday afternoon in the second place in the Magic Valley Conference.

The win put Oakley into the extra game against the second place team from the fifth district alignment held at Stevie McLaw's home in Jerome.

Texas Tech Stuns SMU By 27-24

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Second scoring drive and sophomore Jim Bertelsen and junior fullback Steve Worster punched out scoring runs to lead second-ranked Texas Tech to a 27-24 victory over Rice Ows Saturday.

Texas kicking specialist Happy Feller sealed the scoring for Texas in the final quarter with a 37-yard field goal.

Lezamiz And Richfield Top Rimrock

RICHFIELD — John Lezamiz romped for two touchdowns in the final quarter Friday afternoon to a revenge 20-18 decision over the Rimrock Riders. Richfield topped Richfield in the final seconds in their first meeting.

Rimrock hit first, John Gaudin going in from the two but Richfield's Bill Patterson nullified that with a 12-yard punt.

Pilot Owners Did Not Ask For Meeting

BOSTON (UPI) — American League President Joe Crain said Saturday the owners of the Seattle Pilots had not requested a meeting of club owners to discuss the fate of their team.

Crain did say, however, that a meeting would be held in Cleveland Thursday at which league clubs would discuss routine matters on scheduling, doubleheaders and night games.

Crain did not exactly rule it out. Gaylen Honda brought Burley right back, however, when he squatted loose for 38 yards to the Tiger 22. Jerome got a first down at the 11 before Jerome stiffened on fourth and one to throw Kerbs for a loss and regain possession.

Jerome lost the game two plays after that by fumbling at its own 23 where Burley's Dick Randklev recovered. Shults, shaking through two would-be tacklers, then scored. Burley missed its first two conversion kicks and Jerome's Ted Klaus blocked the third.

Jerome's final touchdown came after a short Burley punt and a 13-yard return to the 32 by Klaus. Quarterback Jim Meeks pitched back to Capps who tucked the ball away and appeared starting on an end sweep.

Undeclared Wendell Shuts Out Wood River

HAILEY — Wendell's powerful and undefeated Trojans picked off five passes, and recovered two fumbles Friday afternoon and overwhelmed the Wood River Wolverines 38-0.

Johnson-Led Indians Tip Hagerman

HAGERMAN — Ellis Johnson ran for three touchdowns Friday night to lead the Shoshone Indians to a 20-0 Little Six Conference decision over the Hagerman Pirates.

Shoshone scored early. Ellis going into paydirt on the third play of the game and Sologa booted the extra point.

A short time later Hagerman was forced to punt and the Indians picked up good field position on a long return. Johnson made that one pay off with another scoring burst.

The Indians completed scoring in the third period when Johnson went in on a short drive play and Sologa tacked on the point-after.

Shoshone winds up its schedule at Wood River next week while Hagerman plays host to Valley.

Wendell regained possession early in the second quarter and moved from its own 23-yard line to the 15-yard line by a 15-play, 52-yard march, finally sent Kirk Dennis in from the five.

Wendell scored twice more before halftime. Mike Ybargen intercepted on the Wood River yard pass play nullified by a penalty on the fourth scrimmage of the game, took the lead late in the first quarter after a Craig Thompson pass interception set the score, Dennis going in from the lines 10.

Four plays later Ralph one with 20 seconds left. He King scored from the five, Wendell also tacked on the two-point conversion.

Scoring settled down in the second half. A bizarre possession exchange opened the scoring. Pat Miller recovered a fumble on the Wood River 30 but Wendell fumbled it right back. Two plays later Ybargen made his second interception at the 30 and this time Wendell moved to score. The touchdown came on the fourth play, Buhler slaming for the last seven yards.

Bill Eaton's fumble recovery at the Wood River 38 set up the last Wendell score. That came when Rod Adams smashed home from the three.

Bastain Sparks Capital To Easy Win Over Bruins

BOISE — Steve Bastain, slipping through Twin Falls for long gains, spearheaded an awesome ground attack that carried the Capital Eagles to an easy 56-14 romp over the Bruins Saturday night.

Capital was held scoreless in the first quarter but racked up 27 points in the second period and was never in trouble. Bastain reeled off several long runs, scoring on runs of 42, 18 and 11 yards. The Eagles saw a 73-yard run nullified by a penalty and Bruce Watson shook loose for 81 yards once to put the Bruins down three and set up another score.

Twin Falls missed a good chance early when it drove to a turnover at the eight but gave up the ball on the two.

USC Rallies To Dump Georgia Tech

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sophomore quarterback Jimmy Jones hit end Sam Dickerson with touchdown passes of 25 and 55 yards Saturday to bring the University of Southern California to a 29-14 victory over Georgia Tech.

The Yellowjackets capitalized on an interception of Jones pass and a recovery of his fumble to post 10 points in the second period. The Trojans, leading 14-0, then rallied twice within a space of two minutes to carry off a 19-10 halftime lead.

Georgia Tech, led by sophomore quarterback Charlie Durdish, came back following another pass interception in the third quarter to tie the lead only two more touchdowns in less than a minute and keep the national championship team undefeated although once tied.

Safety Jeff Ford made the initial interception of a Jones pass in the second period and the ball back 44 yards to the Trojan eight. On fourth down, Jack Moore kicked a 32-yard field goal.

Wood River Tops Gooding State Event

GOODING — Larry Hess of Jerome broke the course record Friday afternoon on the Gooding Municipal Golf Course cross-country layout with a time of 17:42.

Wood River, which won the sixth annual Gooding State Cross-Country meet.

Hess finished five minutes ahead of his nearest rival, Kent Waddoups of Butte of Arco, who had a time of 12:42. Taking third was Brian Koester of Gooding in 12:44, fourth was Mike Oschner of Filer with a 13:02 mark, and fifth place went to Randy Suter of Jerome with a time of 13:08.

Team Scoring: Wood River 51; Butte of Arco, 51; Jerome 69; Twin Falls 84; Filer 143; Gooding 170, and Gooding State 231.

Memphis St. Coasts Past Utah State

LOGAN, Utah (UPI) — Memphis State's improved offense striking on the ground and through the air, won in every quarter to submerge pumeliches Utah State 40-0 here Saturday.

The Tigers disappointed a visiting homecoming crowd of 14,805 by taking charge in the opening minutes of play and dominating the inter-sectional contest in sun-spashed Roman Stadium.

Memphis State got all the points it was to need late in the first period when sophomore quarterback Paul Crowe dashed 20 yards to a touchdown and a 7-0 lead.

The Tigers, winning their title in the first year, added nine points in the second quarter on a 64-yard touchdown "bomb" from Rick Thruow to wingback Jim Lynch and a blocked kick in the end zone.

Thruow, taking a pitchout from quarterback Danny Pierce, lofted a scoring strike to Lynch, who caught it with 1:15 on USU's 20, juggled it and scampered untouched into the end zone.

The safety came with only half. Linebacker John Allen, eight seconds remaining in the 100-pound junior, blocked Paul Crowe's punt in the end zone to give the Tigers a 16-0 margin.

Memphis State tucked the punt away early in the third period with a 55-yard drive completed when Jay McCoy plunged two yards for the touchdown.

Pick-Off Run Gives Ferry 20-14 Victory

GLENN'S FERRY — Paul Shrum intercepted a pass with 30 seconds left in the game and returned it 30 yards for the decisive touchdown Friday night as the Glenn's Ferry Pilots downed Filer 20-14.

All the fireworks occurred in the second half as the first two periods were strictly defense, with the Pilots holding four times at one point on their own four-yard line.

Filer scored first early in the third quarter when Randy Shank took a 25-yard TD strike from Wright. Dick Grigg blocked the extra-point attempt for Glenn's Ferry.

The Pilots tied the score later in the period when Randy Schwager ran an off-tackle play for 40 yards and a touchdown. The try for a two-point failed.

Bob Carpenter hit Schwager with a 65-yard bomb early in the last quarter, and Bob Shrum threw to Carpenter for the two-point and a 10-10 tie.

But Shank came through again when he picked off a pass and scampered 80 yards. Tim Chandler caught the clutch two-point to tie the score, setting up Shrum's dramatic pick-off.

The winning score was set up when Filer went into a hole by a Pilot punt which carried to the Wildcats' four-yard line.

Purdue Runs To 45-20 Big 10 Victory

LAFAYETTE Ind. (UPI) — Quarterback Mike Phipps passed for three touchdowns, a 45-20 victory over Purdue Saturday.

Purdue's passing game, led by Phipps, broke several career records. He gained 267 yards, 244 of them with passes, to run his total career record to 430 yards, compared with the old record of 4,829 by Bob Griese.

He also shattered Purdue's passing mark, running his total to 4,493 yards, topping Griese's old standard of 4,402.

In addition, Phipps tied the Purdue career touchdown record of 29 by Len Dawson, who retired now a star in pro football.

The Boiler-makers, now 5-1 for the season and 2-1 in the Big Ten, scored in every period but the last when they finished the game, mostly with reserves. They scored three times before Northwestern retaliated and then it was not until the final period that the Wildcats scored twice more on the passing of Maurice Daigneau.

Boise Blanks Southern Oregon 62-0

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Boise State College allowed only two yards rushing to overwhelm Southern Oregon 62-0 in a football game here Saturday.

Boise State, scoring almost at will, unleashed a balanced offensive attack with Abe Brown rushing 68 yards and getting two touchdowns, including one for 35 yards.

Specialist Gary Stevens kicked a 53-yard field goal, and was perfect in even-point touchdowns. Boise's Puddin' Grayson carried six times for 46 yards.

The Idaho team got two safeties, when SOC halfback Pat Howe was tackled in the end zone in the second period and again in the third period when the SOC center snap went out of the end zone.

Boise also collected touchdowns at the end zone from Harold Zimmerman to Dennis Baird, a 17-yard pass from Pat Ebright to Larry Smith and an eight-yard pass from Eric Gutrie to Smith. Ebright also ran 17 yards for a TD.

Henry Jenkins ran four yards for the final Boise score in the third.

Southern Oregon threatened once in the third period when reserve quarterback Bill Allwood's 55-yard pass hit Stan Taylor's first touchdown run, a three yard burst in the third quarter with two key carries on a 75-yard drive.

California Blanks WSU

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — A 24-yard touchdown pass from fullback Gary Fowler to split end Jim Fraser early in the first period started the California Bears on a 17-0 Pacific Eight Conference victory over Washington State Saturday.

Cal's Randy Wersching added three more points for the Bears on a 34-yard field goal with 35 seconds remaining in the first half, and Bob Darby scored from one yard to end the scoring, with 1:30 left.

Defensive halfback Joe Ackert picked off a Tech wide receiver and ran 29 yards to Washington State's 26-yard line to set up the final tally.

Minidoka Pheasant Harvest Is 2 Per Man, Area Mean Is 1.3

The Minidoka pumland area responded to the opening day of pheasant hunting with a fantastic two-bird per man average Saturday and that boomed the overall average of Magic Valley to 1.3 birds per man. The result was one of the largest opening day successes in many years.

Dale Turnipseed, regional biologist for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, said the Minidoka checking station produced 409 hunters — twice the number of any other — with 803 birds. The men reported hunting only 1468 hours.

Department conservation educator, Don Hibbert, did a check "economic impact" research in the Rupert area Saturday. Motels were filled to overflowing with the still building Ramada Inn in Burley opening about 50 units ahead of schedule to accommodate the heavy influx of hunters. Hibbert found some restaurants and cafes had run out of food before noon Saturday and service stations reported a heavy volume.

Of particular note was the "standing in line" as it were in the area. Many campers were parked along the county roads as hunters staked out the areas they wanted to hit first.

The Gooding and Dietrich check stations had the poorest success figures while Twin Falls had one of its best in several years. Twin Falls, the station located on Blue Lakes South, had 198 hunters with 235 pheasants for a 1.1 average. They hunted 393 hours. The Gooding station reported 206 hunters who were in the field 528 hours for 197 pheasants and a .35 average. Dietrich was down to 8 with 96 hunters having 77 birds in 315 hours. The Hunt project was up to 1.1 with 203 hunters using 582 hours for 216 birds.

The high average is expected to drop considerably Sunday and, for most practical purposes, the season ends Sunday night with the pressure decreasing very light by season's end. Now, again considerably and becoming 23.

Wolverines Keep Little Brown Jug

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Substitute Bill Bastain scored three touchdowns Saturday to lead Michigan to a 35-9 victory over Minnesota and keep the famous Brown Jug trophy in the hands of the Wolverines.

Taylor, who started when Glen Doughty, Michigan's leading rusher, was injured, caught an eight-yard scoring pass from Don Moorhead in the second quarter and ran for two scores.

The 5-10, 195-pound halfback from Barberton, Ohio, ran 31 times for 151 yards as the Wolverines raised their Big Ten record to 2-1 and their overall record to 4-2. Minnesota is 0-5-1.

Moorhead ran six yards for one touchdown and set up Taylor's first touchdown run, a three yard burst in the third quarter with two key carries on a 75-yard drive.

Wood River Tops Gooding State Event

GOODING — Larry Hess of Jerome broke the course record Friday afternoon on the Gooding Municipal Golf Course cross-country layout with a time of 17:42.

Wood River, which won the sixth annual Gooding State Cross-Country meet.

Hess finished five minutes ahead of his nearest rival, Kent Waddoups of Butte of Arco, who had a time of 12:42. Taking third was Brian Koester of Gooding in 12:44, fourth was Mike Oschner of Filer with a 13:02 mark, and fifth place went to Randy Suter of Jerome with a time of 13:08.

Team Scoring: Wood River 51; Butte of Arco, 51; Jerome 69; Twin Falls 84; Filer 143; Gooding 170, and Gooding State 231.

Idaho Rallies From 21-0 Early Deficit To Defeat Montana State By 31-21

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — The pass receiving of Jerry Hendren and the running of Ron Davis proved too much for Montana State University as the Idaho Vandals mowed the Bobcats 31-21 in Big Sky Conference football action Saturday.

Spray Has Third Round PGA Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Steve Spray of Indianapolis, Iowa, without a tour victory in 18 years of trying, ran down five birdie putts on the back nine at Harding Park Saturday for a five-under-par 65 and the lead by three strokes with one round to go in the $100,000 San Francisco Open.

The 28-year-old Spray, who finished in a tie for second in the 1968 Sahara Invitational for his best showing on the tour, went in even-par 36 in the third round and came home in a one-under-par 35 for a 54-hole score of 14-under-par 199.

While Spray caught fire on the back nine when he sank a long putt he needed for a birdie, George Archer, the Masters champ who led through the rounds, ran into biggy trouble and finished with a one-over 73 that put him in a tie with four other players at 203, 10 strokes under par.

Miller Barber shot a 70 and Bobby Lunn a 69 to tie for second at 202. Deane Beckwith at 203 were Deane Beman (65), Dick Sikes (66), Bob Gosby (68) and Dave Hill (67). Billy Casper, recent winner of the Alex. Championship of the Year, had his best round of the tourney, a 66, that put him in a tie with Bob Call and Jimmie Rodgers (67), Lee Elder (70), and Jerry Healy (70).

Arnold Palmer, trying a comeback after a two-month layoff, had a two-over 73 that dropped him 11 strokes off the pace at 210.

Reaves Fires 5 TD Passes; Florida Wins

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Sophomore quarterback John Reaves broke another Steve Spurrier record with five touchdown passes Saturday as unbeatn, 11th-ranked Florida ripped Vanderbilt, 41-20.

Reaves rifled three scoring tosses to flanker Carlos Alvarez, the Gators' fleet-footed refugee, another to halfback Tommy Durrance and still another to tight end Bill Dowdy to run his total to 20 touchdowns in six games. Durrance also scored on a short run. The best Spurrier ever did in a season at Florida was 10 scoring tosses in 1966 when he won the Heisman Trophy.

Oregon Tips Fumbling Washington

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Ken Woody kicked three field goals and his Oregon teammates added two fourth-period touchdowns Saturday for a 22-0 victory over fumble-plagued Washington.

points before the Vandals got on the scoreboard. The Bobcats scored their first TD with 37 seconds remaining in the first quarter when flanker back Jay Groepner plunged from one yard out.

A minute and a half later, the Vandals scored again after a fumble by Idaho quarterback John Hathaway. Hathaway had hit ball knocked away from him as he set up to pass on his plunged in from the one after defensive end Tim Reese blocked a Bobcat punt on the Montana State eight yard line.

With slightly less than three minutes remaining in the third quarter, Vandal kicker Ricardo Castillo put the game out of reach with a 33-yard field goal, his sixth in ten tries this year.

The only touchdown in the fourth quarter came when a Lansdell hit Hendren on a 31-yard pass over the middle.

Idaho rolled up 486 total yards during the game while holding Montana State to 245 yards, 199 of that figure rushing.

The Vandals gained 306 yards passing and 180 yards on the ground.

Idaho now has a 2-4 record while Montana State is 1-6.

Pocatello Has 37-13 Win Over Minico

POCATELLO — Quarterback Cary Toone picked up 155 yards in total offense and threw for three touchdowns Friday afternoon as the Pocatello Indians dumped the Minico Spartans 37-13.

A pass started scoring as Toone hit Gordon Guntz for an eight-yard play and Butch Griggs converted minutes later.

Griggs shook loose on a 47-yard scamper, McCoy replicated with a drive, Tom Finney scoring on a 21-yard wingback reverse, before the half Pocatello scored again.

Toone hit fullback Jim Wheeler for a 26-yard scoring strike and Toone later scored on an eight-yard keeper and then hit Ken Monroe for 25 yards and his last scoring throw. Dave Heberlein took over with a touchdown strike to Wheeler.

Barry Rogers, the SIC's leading ground gainer, kicked his 15 average with a 46-yard reverse run to get Minico's final points.

BYU Breaks Away To Top UTEP 30-7

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — A 57-yard touchdown run with a block punt by Dennis Wilford and a 32-yard punt return by Chris Parasopoulos sent Brigham Young University breezing past the stubborn University of Texas at El Paso 30-7 in a game tinged with racial overtones.

Five Negroes, taking part in a protest against alleged racial discrimination at BYU, were arrested after scuffling with police in the stands.

A Negro fraternity had urged El Paso residents not to attend the game, and the 19,529 persons in attendance amounted to about 6,000 less than UTEP's normal attendance. Several hundreds persons in the stands including both black and white students, wore black armbands as part of the protest.

Watford broke open a 7-7 deadlock in the third period when he blocked a field goal try and romped 57 yards with the ball for a score. Parasopoulos' punt return early in the fourth period put the game out of reach.

Packers Will Use Anderson

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Tommy Anderson is still a Green Bay "packer" and will play his first extended duty of the season Sunday, coach Phil Bengtson said Friday.

For the second time in a week, Bengtson flatly denied that Anderson will be traded to the New York Giants. The first report came a few days ago when a private wire linking New York City investment houses.

Friday, a newspaper in Washington reported that the Giants would have Anderson going to New York in exchange for running back Ernie Roy and receiver Homer Jones.

Quarterback Tom Hunchard hit Bobby Moore with a 35-yard touchdown pass and halfback Stan Ileana went over from one yard out for Oregon's two touchdowns.

Washington, after its fumbles, set up Woody's first two field goals, marched 80 yards in the second quarter to go ahead 7-0 on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Gene Wills.

Texas Tech Stuns SMU By 27-24

DALLAS (UPI) — Jerry Don Sanders' 36-yard field goal with just 36 seconds left kicked Texas Tech to a 27-24 upset of Southern Methodist Saturday in a regional television Soyuz Conference battle highlighted by spectacular interceptions and fumbles.

The stage had been set for the winning points when Tech defensive back Denton Fox jammed SMU soph-hero Gary Harmond loose from the hall on the tail end of a 40-yard pass play and teammate Dale Rebold fell on it at his own 43-yard line.

The late Tech flurry, which kept intact its record of having not lost to SMU, in the Cotton Bowl since 1961, qualified great receiving and running performances by Harmond and a 130-yard rushing afternoon by pint-sized Daryl Doggett of the Mustangs.

Tech had tied the score with just 5:14 left in the game on soph Danny Hardaway's 24-yard touchdown of the day, a four-yard crawl on his hands and toes. Hardaway had a one-yard punt for earlier Tech touchdown, Sanders had kicked a 32-yard field goal and Charles Napper had hit Johnny Odum on a 75-yard pass play to keep Tech in front until an SMU fourth quarter rally.

Pocatello police said several persons were taken to the Banner Memorial Hospital for treatment. Officers donned hard hats and used Mace to break up the fights.

Police said the fighting in the Weber zone occurred after 150 students from the Weber spectator section and tore down a banner that read "Bomb the Bengals."

Although it was not believed that the football players themselves participated in the fighting, it took both police and stadium officials to break up the donnybrook that involved more than 100 persons, often fighting or milling around.

The game itself was a fight from beginning to end even though the penalties were light. Idaho State University was only penalized 45 yards and the Wild cats from Ogden 84.

The Bengals won 2-2 in Big Sky play, opened up the scoring in the first quarter when junior quarterback Jerry Dunne handed off to James Jackson, who went in from the three.

Louie Hurst kicked the PAT to make it 7-0 in favor of ISU.

It was actually on conversion attempts from this point on that the Bengals blew at least a chance for a tie.

Weber scored next on fullback Jack Brown scampered 54 yards around end, picked up excellent blocking along the way, and crossed the line for a tally.

Jamie Nunez booted the extra point to tie it up 7-7.

Both teams scored in the second quarter.

Weber quarterback John Smith picked up the next Wildcat tally when he went in from four yards out on a keeper play. Nunez picked up the extra point to make it 14-7.

Shortly after this, the Bengals suffered another blow when quarterback Dunne was taken out with an apparent separated shoulder and replaced by Dan Hilt.

Hilt did okay when he hit Bell on a 26-yard pass play and then attempted a two-point conversion and was halted by the stubborn Weber defense.

Several series of plays later, Weber's Smith came back and his wingback Mary Langhery on a 30-yard pass play. Nunez again converted to make it 21-13 as the third stand ended.

In the fourth quarter, Hilt hit Bell on a 26-yard pass play and then again attempted to pick up a two-point conversion and was halted by the stubborn Weber defense.

Webber State College Wildcats, 7-4 rough and tumble Big Sky Conference football game, marred by a series of fistfights, among fans on the field, narrowly edged Idaho State University 28-25 Saturday.

Kansas State Surprises Oklahoma; LSU Slips To 1-Point Win Over Auburn

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI)—Kansas State, with Lynn Dickey's passing opening the floodgates, rained touchdowns on the 11th-ranked Oklahoma Sooners and rolled up a 59-21 upset and gave coach Vince Gibson's miracle men their first win over Oklahoma since 1934. It also gave Kansas State no worse than a share of the lead in the Big Eight Conference, which is being contested Oct. 26-27. Dickey completed 28 of 42 passes for 380 yards and three touchdowns. K-State's State route led to a 28-14 halftime lead, then applied a 21-point finishing blow in the third quarter. Oklahoma rallied twice in the first half on Jack Milder's 77 and 85-yard touchdowns passed to Joe Killingsworth and Everett Marshall. But it was a day for the purple, and a record crowd of 38,500 watched Dickey's assault on conference records. His 28 completions and 380 yards both were records. Dickey's touchdown passes covered 28, 15 and 26 yards to Charles Collins, Jerry Lawson and Bob Long. Mack Herron also scored three touchdowns on short runs as did Lawson and Russell Harrison. Oklahoma's previous worst loss was 47-0 at Oklahoma A&M in 1945. The 59 points were the most scored by a K-State team since 1917. The back-breaking touchdown came after Oklahoma pulled within 21-14 with 2:59 left in the first half. Dickey completed 12 of 22 passes in a 64-yard drive with Herron crashing over with a 1 with 34 seconds left. Oklahoma's Steve Owens, who gained 105 yards in 29 carries, scored on a one-yard run in the fourth quarter after the game was out of reach.

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Ninth-ranked Louisiana State jumped in front on the first play of the game Saturday, but it took two blocked kicks by linebacker Bill Thomson to free the undefeated Tigers to come from behind 21-20 victory over Auburn on a one-yard touchdown. LSU scored on a halfback pass of 62 yards from Jimmy Gilbert to Andy Hamilton on the initial play, but the Tigers needed a two-yard pass from quarterback Mike Hillman to Jim West and a one-yard run by Thomson to take the lead. Quarterback Pat Sullivan hit Mickey Zofko on two touchdowns passes of 12 and 14 yards for Auburn, and the Tigers took their other touchdown on a one-yard run by fullback Wallace Clatter. The difference came when Thomson broke through to block the extra point after Auburn's final fourth-quarter touchdown. Thomson also kept three potential points off the scoreboard for Auburn when he blocked a 42-yard field goal attempt by John Riley in the first period. The win before 65,000 persons and a regional television audience raised the LSU record to 6-0 this season and gave it a 2-0 record in Southeast Conference play. Auburn, ranked 18th nationally, dropped to 4-2 for the season and 1-2 in conference action. LSU, which was averaging 39 points a game going into the contest, was virtually shut out in the second period to tie the game 14-14 at halftime. LSU struck early in the third quarter, driving 75 yards in 11 plays on passes by Hillman and short gains by hard running fullback Eddie Ray. Shorey limaxed the drive with a two-yard drive over the left end of Auburn's defense. West had pulled LSU even with 23 seconds left in the first quarter by grabbing a two-yard pass from Hillman and leaping around a defender into the end zone. LSU's score on that first play came when the Bengals caught Auburn flatfooted. Hamilton tossed a lateral to Gilbert on the LSU 38. Then Gilbert jobbed the ball to Hamilton, who outran the lone Auburn defender for a touchdown.

Kern-Led Buckeyes Coast 41-0

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Rex Kern passed for two touchdowns and ran for another, and fullback Jim Oatis rushed for 153 yards and another touchdown on short runs as did Lawson and Russell Harrison. Oklahoma's previous worst loss was 47-0 at Oklahoma A&M in 1945. The 59 points were the most scored by a K-State team since 1917. The back-breaking touchdown came after Oklahoma pulled within 21-14 with 2:59 left in the first half. Dickey completed 12 of 22 passes in a 64-yard drive with Herron crashing over with a 1 with 34 seconds left. Oklahoma's Steve Owens, who gained 105 yards in 29 carries, scored on a one-yard run in the fourth quarter after the game was out of reach.

Buff's Pin Upset Loss On Missouri

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—Colorado's Buffaloes surprised seventh-ranked Missouri Saturday by closing off the Tigers' chief weapon, their running game, and used the brilliant running of Bob Anderson for a 21-24 Big Eight homecoming upset. It was Missouri's first setback the year after five victories and dimmed "the Tigers' hopes for a post-season bowl bid. Representatives from the Sugar Bowl and the Liberty Bowl viewed the game. Anderson, a 205-pound senior, switched from quarterback to fullback three games before and won a personal duel with Missouri's Joe Moore, the nation's fourth-best rusher, going into the match.

Alabama Has 38-13 Nod Over Clemson

CLEMSON, N.C. (UPI)—Tailback Johnny Musso rained over two touchdowns and flanker George Ranager latched onto a pair of scoring bombs in the second quarter in a 38-13 rout of Clemson Saturday. Quarterback Scott Hunter still ailing from injuries suffered in last week's loss to Tennessee, threw two touchdowns passes, including a 36-yarder to Ranager to ignite the Crimson Tide onslaught in the first period. He also passed 21 yards to Bubba Sawyer to cap a 55-yard drive late in the second quarter. Ranager's second touchdown came in the second quarter when he grabbed a 40-yard pass from reserve quarterback Ned Hayden. Musso, whose darting runs produced long yardage for Alabama, scored on a 5-yard plunge late in the first quarter and on a one-yarder just after the start of the final period. Hayden played most of the second half in place of the game holding his shoulder after being hit hard trying to get off a pass.

Irish Rind Out 37-0 Nod Over Tulane

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Twelfth-ranked Notre Dame, sparked by two touchdowns each from halfbacks Andy Huff and Dennis Allan, methodically rolled up 384 yards on the front end to stagger past Tulane 37-0 Saturday night. "Tulane" with an offensive line outweighed 40 pounds a man by the Fighting Irish defensive front wall, was able to get inside Notre Dame's 35-yard line only twice in the game. The first time a drive stalled on the 33, and the second ended on the 15 at the final gun. Allan, Huff and fullback Bill Barz ripped through big holes in the front wall, and the Irish defensive unit. Allan crashed for two one-yard touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters, ending Notre Dame's drives of 47 and 73 yards; Huff scored on a four-yard run in the first quarter set up by a fumble recovery on the Tulane 28, and then he ran three yards for a score with 41 seconds left in the second quarter. The other Notre Dame scores came on a two-yard plunge by fullback Ed Ziegler, capping a 78-yard first quarter drive. Steve Hempel kicked all but one of the extra points, setting a Notre Dame record with 29 consecutive conversions before the game in the fourth quarter.

Graham Rumored For Badger Job

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Former Washington Redskins' Coach Otto Graham has been approached by University of Wisconsin officials about the possibility of becoming head football coach should John Coatta's contract not be renewed, it was reported Saturday.

Utah's Late Score Nets Upset Over Oregon State

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Fullback Dave Smith sparked a last-gasp rout Saturday night to lead Utah to a 7-3 upset victory over Oregon State. The win was Utah's fifth straight since its opening game 28-17 loss to Oregon. The victory was only Utah's second in the 10 game series, but added some prestige to the Western Athletic Conference. Smith brought Utah back in winning moments of the game after Mike Nehl's 33-yard third-quarter field goal for OSU looked like it would hold up. The Redskins rambled 81 yards in nine plays with Smith getting the touchdown on a bolt from 11 yards out through the left side of the Oregon State defense line. Quarterback Clint Harder's 21-yard pass to end Jim Brown put the visitors inside the OSU 20. Three plays later Smith shot into the end zone.

Fourth-Quarter Field Goal Lets Stanford Deadlock UCLA 20-20

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Steve Horowitz lofted a 27-yard field goal, his second of the game, early in the final period to give underdog Stanford a 20-20 tie Saturday with fifth-ranked UCLA before 84,000 fans in sun-drenched Stanford Stadium. The tie left UCLA with a 3-0 record in the Pac-8 while Stanford, a one-point underdog, was ranked 14th nationally entering the game. Record-busting quarterback Jim Plunkett hit flanker Randy Vataha with TD passes of 19 and 28 yards, and Horowitz punted a 30-yard field goal to give Stanford a 17-6 halftime lead. Plunkett hit on 26 of 44 passes for 263 yards to set a new school record in total offense despite the fact he is only a junior. The 62 quarterback from San Jose, Calif. now has 3,771 yards in total offense, eclipsing by 117 the old school record of 3,654 set by Dick Norman from 1958-60. Stanford defenders intercepted a Dummit pass and recovered a fumble by Bruin halfback Greg Jones to set up one touchdown and Horowitz' first field goal. Safety Jim Kauffman from Stanford fell on Jones' fumble on the Indian 44 near the end of the first quarter. Plunkett hit split end Jack Laster for 11 yards and Bubba Brown carried twice—for 18 yards as the opening quarter ended.

Late Pass Lets Florida State Win

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—Running back Art Munroe fired a 20-yard pass to flanker Mike Gray with 5:42 remaining to give Florida State a 20-17 comeback victory over Mississippi State Saturday night. The Bulldogs had handcuffed the Seminoles' vaunted passing attack after taking a 14-13 halftime lead on quarterback Don Reed's 16-yard touchdown pass to David Smith and wingback Steve Whitley's 4-yard pass. Chuck Jordan booted a 34-yard field goal early in the final period to put Mississippi State ahead 17-13. But quarterback Bill Cappleman took Florida State 48 yards, setting up the final touchdown with a 22-yard toss to tight end Jim Tyson. Two plays later he passed to Munroe, who started around right end before spotting Gray in the end zone.

Wyoming Tips San Jose On Field Goals

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI)—Wyoming's Bob Jacobs struck for three field goals Saturday in setting a conference record of 16 in one season to lead the 12th-ranked Cowboys to a 16-7 win against stubborn San Jose State.

Deviils End Year With Tie At Wells

WELLS—The Murrain Red Devils ended their 1969 season with a 12-12 tie with Wells Saturday afternoon. Wells moved ahead in the first quarter when Mike Sallee went in from the four-yard line. In the second period, Wells had the ball inside its own 10 yard line. Larry Hehl blew through in hit Wells' ball carrier behind the line, shaking the ball loose. The ball, after being batted around, bounced into the hands of John Herworth, who fell on it for a touchdown. Sallee's five-yard run in the third period gave Wells a 12-6 lead that lasted until two plays into the final quarter. Then Stanger turned to the air and passed Murrain to the 20. Stanger then hit Greg Stanger for the tying points.

Unbeaten Carey Wins

CAREY—The Carey Panthers took their eighth straight victory Friday afternoon, toppling outmanned Dietrich 33-6 and running their seasonal point total to 402 in the process. Dennis Rush and Dick Simpson led the way on the ground, and flanker quarterback Mike Mcham hit through the air confidently. Robb Beck was the primary receiver for the unbeaten Panthers.

CYCLAMATES?

Diet Pepsi can do better without them

Soon you will be enjoying a new, better-tasting Diet Pepsi-Cola with a "touch" of real sugar and no cyclamates.

Recently there have been some unsettling news reports about the artificial sweeteners (calcium and sodium cyclamate) used in most low-calorie beverages and a number of other food products. In effect, the reports related possible health hazards to human beings that could result from the consumption of cyclamates.

Although the sweetener has up to now enjoyed approval by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, no consumer should be asked to worry or wonder about the food or drink she buys for herself or her family. This is especially true of soft drinks which people buy for pleasure more than nutrition.

A New Diet Pepsi
Diet Pepsi-Cola, which has become the nation's most popular diet cola, was formulated in part of cyclamates and was so labeled. But Pepsi-Cola Company cannot in good conscience offer its customers any products about which even the remotest doubt exists.

We have immediately formulated a completely new Diet Pepsi which is not only free of cyclamates, but which tastes noticeably better than our previous product. The secret is sugar—pure, natural sugar—but an amount so insignificant that people who watch their weight will be drinking and enjoying a true diet cola. And new Diet Pepsi offers a genuine cola taste remarkably similar to Pepsi itself.

Is It Safe For Diabetics?

For some people even a teaspoon of sugar is considered harmful. We are carefully labeling new Diet Pepsi cartons and wraps in bold type (see above) to warn diabetics and other persons who must restrict their intake of sugar that the new product has SUGAR ADDED. If you are such a person, we suggest you drink new Diet Pepsi only after consulting your doctor.

Where And When Can You Get It?

We are moving just as fast as production and distribution facilities permit. Within a few weeks, people in this area will begin noticing our new Diet Pepsi cartons in their favorite stores. You will recognize them by a bright yellow band containing the words: SUGAR ADDED—NO CYCLAMATES! The same band appears on the label of non-returnable bottles. And, the phrase appears in a red-out-line rectangle on the back of Diet Pepsi cans.

What About Other Diet Cola Brands?

We believe and we hope that other soft drink companies—making diet colas or other diet flavors—will follow Pepsi-Cola's lead by developing cyclamate-free beverages. Obviously, we take some satisfaction in our own readiness and technical skill. But, the soft drink industry as a whole has never been reluctant to modify its products for the benefit of its customers.

NEW DIET PEPSI. TRY IT... SOMEONE WILL BE WATCHING!

ACCOMPANIED BY WIFE. Hattie, violin maker Fred Craig is also an enthusiastic "old fiddler" having played in many jamborees and contests. At right, he stands beside the trophy case in his home showing a few of the trophies he has won in international competition with other violin makers. The Instruments are judged unseen, on tone and then inspected by judges for workmanship and beauty. Mrs. Craig who has made only one violin, also won a trophy for her efforts.

VIOLIN MAKER AND FIDDLER Fred Craig has gained international renown with violins he makes in this Twin Falls home. He says it's a hobby, not a profession, but many who seek to buy violins from him feel differently. In recent years he has entered the International Violin Makers competition winning first place honors except one year when he entered two violins and won first and second.

Local Fiddler Turns Out Prized Violins

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Feature Editor

Violins can be made by machine, but only human hands can make a good violin and build a beautiful tone into it.

Fred J. Craig, 155 Buchanan St., who has been making violins the past 53 years is a good violin maker and his work is now in demand in many parts of the United States and other countries.

Something few people know he said, is that a violin need not be hundreds of years old to be good and many old violins are not as good as the newest one. Some old violins made by such famous people as Stradivarius are actually very poor instruments, Mr. Craig explained.

"The vandals who pose as violin repairmen or refinishers may have ruined the instrument in changing it over to meet present day trends to a higher pitch," Mr. Craig explained.

The violin that started out as a work of art will continue to play good music depending to a great extent on the talent and ability of those who have cared for it and remodeled it down through the years, Mr. Craig said.

Although he makes fine violins, Mr. Craig is "fiddler" at heart. He got his first fiddle when he was 12 years old and at the age of 13 began remaking it. For him, violin making is a hobby, not a profession, he says.

He has now made 86 violins, many of them as gifts and some for his own use. Each instrument is different in appearance and tone, depending on the shaping, wood used and method of assembly.

Until his retirement a few years ago, Mr. Craig worked as a carpenter but now devotes most of his time to violin making and "fiddling." His living room features a trophy case filled with awards he has won in international competition with other violin makers and one trophy his wife, Hattie, won.

"I think I'll leave the violin making to Fred," his wife commented. "It is too tedious for me."

Mrs. Craig accompanies her fiddle playing husband on the piano and devotes the rest of her leisure time to knitting.

The couple has just returned from Globe, Ariz., where they attended the annual convention and fiddling contest of violin makers from throughout the world.

During the convention for violin makers, Mr. Craig served as panel moderator. He also writes a regular column for the official publication of violin makers and says he is one of about 400 people who enjoy this as a hobby or a regular business.

To make a good violin, he says, you must start with good wood. Although some of his hardwood is shipped in from Germany or Switzerland, Mr. Craig says the spruce-grown in the Sawtooth mountains is as good as any he has found.

The violins that come from Mr. Craig's shop have a spruce front while the back is usually from maple, as are the sides. This is the part in which the wood's beauty is seen and the maple contributes to the appearance as well as the tone.

To start his project, Mr. Craig takes a piece of wood which looks more like it had been cut for the fireplace than for violin making. From this he cuts a thin slice which becomes one half of the front or back of the violin. In all there are about 65 parts in a violin and Mr. Craig has fashioned many of his own tools to be used in cutting some of the small parts.

For stringing bows, Mr. Craig uses a conventional mousetrap and spring to hold the string taut on the spool. His career as a carpenter helped greatly in having just the right tools for the job. His workshop, partly in the family garage, and partly in a rear room of the house is often filled with used instruments needing a complete reconstruction or just a touch up repair.

When making a violin for a specific person, Mr. Craig says he usually starts with whatever request they may have as to tone or shape and works from there.

Many violins made today have a better tone the day they are completed than do the old treasured violins that have been used for stored in homes for hundreds of years.

Mr. Craig recently made a violin for a man in another state who told him the kind of tone he liked and added he wanted a flat bridge. After making the violin, Mr. Craig received another letter saying he liked the instrument fine and since he plays in a wheelchair the flat bridge was just right. In fact he had won a contest with the violin the first time he used it in competition.

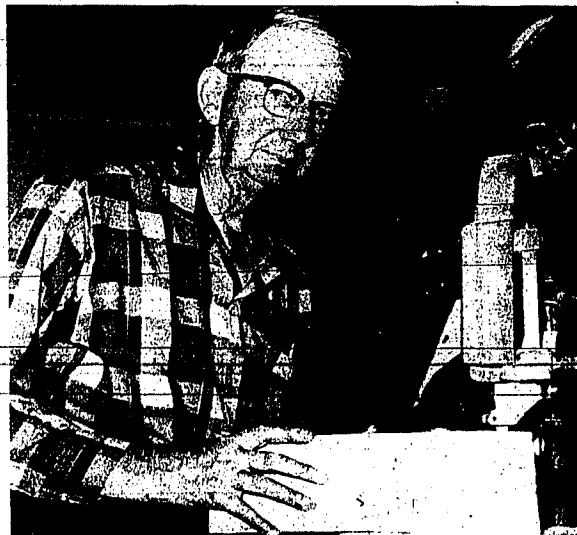

T. F. Gains 650 'Phones This Year

Twin Falls has gained 650 telephones this year, according to Ken Mann, local Mountain Bell district manager.

Company third quarter results also showed a steady increase in telephone usage and conversations, Mr. Mann said.

Statewide, Mountain Bell in an operating area south of the Salmon River, now shows a total of 241,000 telephones. This is an increase of 9,000 since the end of 1968. The number of Idaho telephones has doubled in the past 10 years. State long distance calls average around 30,000 per day. Local calls per day number well over a million.

"Telephone statistics reflect a community's economic health and growth. Our company statistics show that most Idaho cities reflect an improved economic climate," Mr. Mann concluded.

SLAB OF WOOD, looking as if it had been cut for a fireplace is the start of a beautiful violin. Here Fred Craig begins cutting a thin piece of wood from the heart of a section of "spruce." At upper right small hand tools are needed to shape many of the graceful parts of the violin. Lower left, an item of equipment he invented cuts the ornate side openings of the violin face in a matter of seconds while by hand it may take most of a day. When stringing a bow, at right, Mr. Craig uses a conventional mouse trap attached to the spool to hold the strings tight. Typical of most any violin maker's shop, is the partly finished product hanging in the window while special varnish dries. Mr. Craig says a good violin maker could earn a substantial living at his trade as all good violins must be made by hand and good violins will command a good price.

Ringneck Pheasants Holding Own In Face Of Changing Farm Habitat Conditions

This weekend marked the opening season of pheasant hunting across all of southern Idaho. As usual, it comes a fortnight later than the October 11 starting of ringneck shooting in the Clearwater and Panhandle regions of northern Idaho, where hunters averaged about one-half bird each in five hours of work behind well-trained dogs.

South of the Salmon River, where habitat conditions often are better, the number of birds per hunter is expected to average one pheasant a day this weekend, and slightly more than that on ranges where shooting is slower. Whatever the hunter success may be, some scattergunners stay with the ringnecks through the long season, which ends November 23 in most of the eastern counties of the state, and December 7 in the western region extending from Adams and Valley counties on the north through Blaine and Cassia counties on the east.

Pheasants are the most popular upland bird in Idaho's wide assortment of species, both native and naturalized including three kinds of quail, two partridges, three forest grouse, sage and sharp-shinned grouse, and wild Merriam's turkeys. Chukar partridge easily ranks second in popularity, while wild turkey is getting the kudos now from a small but highly vocal coterie of sportsmen.

In any case, the hardy ringneck is holding its own in places in the face of sometimes staggering habitat changes. Brood stock was imported and established on the Pacific and Pacific seaboard of the United States late in the 19th century. Most sportsmen know that crates of ring-necked pheasants were shipped from China to Oregon's Willamette Valley in 1881. But Greece, and eventually England, transplanted a brood stock of Chinese pheasants at a much earlier date. George Washington, as a planter in the Colony of Virginia, is credited with being among the first Americans to order some of the gaudy long-tailed birds from Great Britain in about 1790.

The 10th Biennial Report of the Idaho State Game Warden points out that pheasants were planted throughout farm areas of southern Idaho in stages in 1909-1910. It was November, 1909, when a 15-day season was set in southwestern counties and the following year, from 1913-24, 30-day seasons with a four bird bag limit was declared.

For many years, parts of Latah county and some irrigated lands of the Snake River Plains were classified with the best habitat to be found anywhere in the celebrated eastern states to the east, areas where ringneck population density amounted to 50 birds or more per square mile.

Pheasants are birds of the farmland and a close look at rural life of America indicates that they are found in two decades of this century reveals some of the reasons why ringnecks could be hunted a few years ago. The reasons are new lands where habitat conditions were right.

Life down on the farm until the 1920s evoked fond memories and rich nostalgia. It's something people like to talk about, those "good old days," but it is a rare person who trades in a tractor or two for a string of 18 or 20 horses and mules; harnesses and implements for them; barns and grain; coops, sheep, hogs, chickens and whatnot. Livestock, of course, means chores before sunup and after sunset, so daylight hours had to be spent working in the fields.

Those were the good old days for ringnecks — even more so than for the farmer. Draft animals (instead of tractors) plowing family-sized farms (instead of whole sections in one tract as now) contained a lot of rough fence-rows and other benefits for pheasants. There was plenty of food for ringnecks available in the form of grain, crop, brushy fence rows and gullies for nesting and escape cover, and there were springs, seeps and wetlands to quench their thirst. Prior to self-propelled combines, grain was threshed at "stationary" mills, and hogs, horses and pheasants used the count-down strawstubs for food and shelter. Corn and the once abundant apple and cherry orchards added variety of food and cover available.

When tractors replaced horses and mules, beginning about 1920, fences were no longer needed, haystacks were outmoded, fall plowing was done with the tractor, winter stubblefields, brushy fence rows were cleared, gullies filled, wetlands drained, and vast areas of wild ground were planted in rotation with peas in the Palouse Country.

Much of the winter pheasant range now, particularly in northern Idaho, is plowed ground and virtually no rose bush or hawthorn can be found in gullies, fence rows or ditches. The decline in wild pheasant populations in northern Idaho in the past few years and somewhat in the middle south of the Salmon River.

Along with habitat changes, the widespread use of organic phosphorus pesticides has had a significant impact on pheasant populations. The Idaho Game Warden points out that the use of DDT, of course, has been used in a manner to simulate natural conditions under which wild pheasants would be subjected to the pesticide spray resulted in a 20 percent mortality of five-day-old chicks. Since the edges of fields commonly are sprayed with insecticides, the use of such chemicals, particularly with such chemicals, is probably more than a little greater than the tests showed. In other words, mankind now derives great benefits from pesticides and other agricultural chemicals but numerous problems are associated with their use — particularly their misuses. Many problems could be eliminated if those who use agricultural chemicals were better informed about safe methods of handling and application. They maintain and improve our food supply, public health, high standards of living and, in some cases, economic survival is dependent upon these chemicals. But, they must be used with caution, never misused.

Tired but happy hunter and Labrador retriever relax in warm sun after hunting beet and cornfields of Boise Valley for pheasants. Hunter is R. T. Nahas, Owyhee County rancher near Brunson. This is opening weekend of ringneck season on all pheasant ranges south of the Salmon River. Season opened October 11 in Clearwater and Panhandle Regions.

Book Review

By MARY ALICE FLORENCE
"The White Call," by Cliff Faulkner is a winner of the Little Brown Canadian Children's Book Award. This award is given at stated intervals to an unpublished children's book manuscript judged by the joint editorial boards of Little, Brown and Company (Canada) Limited and Little, Brown and Company, Inc., Boston, as best submitted by a Canadian citizen or resident. This book proves again what people working with children's literature have always known — a really fine children's book can provide pleasant reading for adults as well as children.

"The White Call" is a story of Eagle Child, a young Indian boy who is a member of a band of Piegan Blackfeet. Eagle Child found a dead buffalo cow and, puzzled in despair, he realized he was a little calf. This calf was not the muddy yellow of most buffalo babies, but was pure white with the spots. To Eagle Child, the buffalo was an animal to be hunted for food and clothing, but he remembered tales of the Medicine Man about a huge white buffalo to which once roamed the plains. "Perhaps it is an omen," he said to his pony. "If I take the little one home with me, I will possess a buffalo spirit. Someday I will be a mighty hunter."

So Eagle Child and his horse, Sun-in-the-Morning, returned to their winter camp with the little white calf. This begins their adventure with the spirited animal. Although the time of the story is the 1850's and the culture of the Blackfoot is very different from ours, the reader finds much of the humor and warmth of the life needed today. Tallfeathers, the older brother of Eagle Child (at least to Eagle Child) to taunt him unmercifully. But when Eagle Child lost his race with his sometimes friend, sometimes rival, Sun Boy, it was Tallfeathers who was right by his side. "You ran well, small one," Tallfeathers said gruffly. "It is hard to beat someone who is longer legs."

Cliff Faulkner lives in Calgary, Alberta, and is Associate Editor of the magazine, "Country Guide." It was in this capacity that he spent several days in Magic Valley last spring with the group of Calgary farmers and cattle-feeders who toured our area. They visited the Olmstead and Henry Jones cattle feeding operations, the Snake River Trout Company and other industries related to natural resources. His acknowledgment at the beginning of "The White Call" seems typical of the man we met there. Mr. Faulkner says that a writer needs inspiration as well as information, and for that I am indebted to this western range country where the rolling grasslands meet the shining mountains.

HOMEWORK FOR BURLEY students: Patricia Castellote, 16, Argentinian, standing, and Joan Harper, 17, involves some translation as well as studying. Miss Castellote is an exchange student in Burley this year and a guest of the Darrell Harper family.

Burley Family Welcomes Young Argentine Exchange Student

BURLEY — Patricia Castellote, 16, Argentinian, is the foreign exchange student attending Burley High School this year. She is making her home with Mrs. Darrell Harper and family.

The B-Teen Club of Burley High School raised $350 which was used to pay for transportation for the exchange student. "With two years of English studied at home in Argentina, when I arrive in New York, I could not think how to 'speak' in English," reported Patricia, "but it was just all the excitement."

One year ago Patricia took an examination and filled out forms to be an exchange student. The examinations are sent to the American Field Organization, New York and if sponsors and a host family are available the student is notified of a selection. Patricia is a member of the American Association of University Women and she sponsors and acts as liaison between the New York office of American Field Organization and the Harper family.

Patricia left two older sisters, age 20 and 18 and one younger sister, age 15, at home. Her mother is a housewife and her father is owner and manager of a glass factory where glass bottles of many sizes and shapes are made.

In Burley she joined the Harper family where Joan, 17, a senior at Burley High, and Joan, 14, a student at Burley Junior High and Bruce, 10 in grade school all at home. Kathleen, 19, is attending Brienly in Young University. Mrs. Harper is director of nurses at Cassia Memorial Hospital and Mr. Harper is co-owner and operator of Nu-Vu Glass Co.

On Aug. 12 Patricia was notified she had been awarded an exchange student scholarship and on Aug. 18 she left Argentina for New York City. She spent several days at Hofstra University for orientation along with 2,000 exchange students prior to their departure to the various American homes.

brothers to play "Rugby" which is similar to our football only they do not wear helmets or protective padding. She lists her hobbies as water skiing and riding horses. In her home area sugar cane is grown and beef cattle and sheep are raised. Some of the factories in her home town produce sugar, mattress, furniture and batteries. Many items are more expensive here than at home, for example a wool sweater could be purchased at home for about $5 to $6 and here a sweater of the same quality is $25 to $30 in the local stores.

In Argentina school students do not work, also there are few working mothers. Most homes have servants and they are more like a part of the family. The same movies that are available here are also shown in Argentina only with a Spanish subtitle. Young people in Argentina go out in groups and the father decides with whom his daughter will go out with and his wife is final. Patricia will graduate in the spring with the Burley High School and will then return to her home land.

From B.B. Heyburn, Idaho: I have two coins I would like to "find-out-about." (1) A figure 8 sitting holding something in hand, date 1912, and word "penny." Is all I can make out. Copper. Other side: "Georgius V Delger, Brit Omni, Rex Fid Def, Ind, Imp." (2) Man's head, small beard, 1853, Napoleon III E m p e r o r. Other side: Empiro Franceis, cinq centimes, Englo on lighting rods.

Answer: Your first coin is a standard issue British penny. Struck under the rule of George V, (grandfather of the present queen, Elizabeth) and still found in use. The value is about 35c on the island, but in the United States it has no value, except as a conversation piece. The second coin you describe is French, 4 centimes, about equal to 2-1000ths of a cent in United States money, under the rule of Emperor Napoleon III, the coin was struck in 1853. The eagle is a familiar representation on many coins. This coin is worth about 15c brand new, with little value in other conditions. Surprisingly, there are a great many examples of it. Can you tell me what this coin is worth?

Answer: The Spanish milled dollar (called a piece-of-eight) was minted in Mexico. This particular coin should have an "M" to the left of the crown, on the reverse, and an "8" on the right of the crown and initials otherwise it may be another denomination. It could be 1, 2, 4, or 8 reales, depending upon size. The 8 reales piece, if in very fine condition should bring you from $12.00 to $15.00. From D. S., Burley, Idaho: I have a silver coin which has a man's head, crown, on one side, and the words Georgius V, Dei Grat, Brit, Omn, Rex Fid, Def, and a plus sign. On the other side, crown, on one side of Jersey, and One Twenty

Two of A Shilling." The date is 1947 and there is a shield on this side, with three lions on it. What can you tell me about it?

Answer: The Island of Jersey is off the west coast of France, and belongs to Great Britain. The Lieutenant Governor is appointed by the Crown, but is not bound by Acts of the British Parliament unless such acts are named in the legislation. The island is about 45 square miles in size. Although British coinage is legal, coins are struck exclusively for the island, but not made to equal fractional parts of the British shilling.

They have been issued in 1-52, 1-20, 1-13, 1-8, 1-24, 1-12 denominations. Collector value of your coin is about 25c, brand new, and it has little value if in worn condition. From A. R., Buhl, Idaho: I have a small, shiny coin a moon on one side, and a full moon and a star and the words, Toriko and Cumburyvot. On the other side is what looks like a head of a wheat stalk and the number 25, and the word "Laurus." The date is 1945. What can you tell me about it? Is it valuable?

Answer: Your coin is from Turkey, issued between 1943 and 1946. It takes 100 of these "Laurus" to make a Lira, and the Lira is worth about eleven cents in our money. It is not a valuable coin and collector value, if any, would be about 25c. It would have no value other than that. STRONG VOICE and director of the 42-member Magchords is Karl Wilson who also sings with the Harmonalres quartet.

Area Singers Prepared For Songfest

Magie Valley men who like to harmonize and get together every Tuesday night in Twin Falls to do just that are using their voices to help less fortunate people who not only can not sing, but have difficulty speaking.

This year's annual Barbershop Quartet singing event will be held Nov. 7 and 8 in the College of Southern Idaho auditorium. This year it is being extended to two nights to accommodate the many area residents who enjoy barbershop quartet singing. Last year the event was the first to fill the new CSI auditorium and many persons were turned away.

Known as the Magchords, the local singers, numbering about 42 members, appear as acapella choir singers and their membership includes a number of individual barbershop quartets, who will be appearing in the Nov. 7 and 8 program.

In addition to local area singers, the Golden Staters, a California Barbershop quartet currently the runner up in international competition of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., will appear as guest artists each night.

All profits from the annual program as well as membership fees paid by singers are used by the local organization for the treatment of those with speech impediment.

Within the local organization are several quartets of long standing including the Gem State Four, winners in district competition last year in Billings, Mont.; the Harmonalres; the Common-Taters; of-Buhl, and several newer groups including the Sing-A-Poor Four.

Singers meet Tuesdays in the First Baptist Church with Karl Wilson as director and sing as a group, then break into quartets or smaller units and harmonize often far into the night. Called rehearsal sessions, the Tuesday night events are more recreation and fun for the singers. They are relaxed sessions as singers may attend in old clothes or business suits, stay only a short time or for several hours.

All tickets for the Nov. 7 and 8 show are reserved and are on sale by Magchord members or at the Idaho Barbershop from William Rappleye.

Business World Beckons Young Men To Specialty Enterprise

In the market for some Hooks—or maybe Fonda shades? The then the place to go is "The Violet Rose," one of the newest specialty businesses in Twin Falls.

Two young merchants, making their start in the business climate of Twin Falls, have just opened their own specialty shop on Main Avenue West. Gary Koutnik, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. James Koutnik, and Clay Bolster, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bolster, both eighth graders at O'Leary Junior High School, are the owners and managers of "The Violet Rose."

Last spring they decided Twin Falls teenagers need a place to purchase popular posters, bumper stickers, buttons and all the other "in" things now going to Boise or Salt Lake City. Although some local stores handle such items, there was no store in Twin Falls that carried them. As in the case of any business, financing was the first problem. Both young men obtained summer jobs, each about $100. They are moving for Clay to working for his father as a custodian for Bolster. By the close of the summer each youth had about $100 to contribute toward the business venture.

Obtaining catalogues and order books from Chicago, New York and San Francisco, the boys ordered about $200 worth of what they believed would be the best selling items.

Before the inventory arrived, they also invested in some paint and paint brushes, went to work on the old building Gary's father owns, and came up with a clean and newly decorated shop.

Among their merchandise are such items as Hooks, which are watermarks, for those who square to understand, and Fonda shades, or sun glasses to many shoppers. They also sell love beads, candles, gum, buttons, incense and incense burners, posters, bumper stickers,

Ugly American Is Killing Resources

By JOHN PAYNE

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI)—A privileged thief with the combination to the vault is Jasper, Park in Canada and parks in seven western states; in the group 41 men were accompanied by a charming Czechoslovakian park administrator, Miss Milada Letiska of Prague, the only female. Miss Letiska also was the only representative of a Communist nation. The others were from Western Europe, the British Commonwealth countries, Asia and Africa.

"They were very concerned about the fate of this nation," Tocher's colleague from the University of Michigan, B. L. Driver, said of the visitors. "Of course, they were very concerned about our conservation program, too."

"One reason why I'm concerned," said Richard Bahary, from Kilmochow, Scotland, "is that I believe that the survival of humanity is involved in good conservation practices."

Robert Lundey, of Michigan's School of Natural Resources, provided what many of the group considered to be a shocking indictment of poor planning and bureaucratic indifference to park problems.

Lundey told the traveling seminar as a "for instance" that blacktop parking directly over New Mexico's Cañon de la Navajo prevented water from percolating down to the caverns, thus ending a process as old as time itself. As another example he said logging had been built over priceless Eskimo archaeological sites at Katmai Park in Alaska, losing a valuable link both in Eskimo history and the settlement of the North American continent.

Lundey criticized roads in American parks. He said that not only did the roads themselves destroy scenery, but petroleum and associated products had a continuing effect on the ecology. As an alternative, he suggested "a cog railway or tramway often could be used in place of roads, especially at Yellowstone."

Czech Citizens Anticipate Winter Will Be One Of Serious Fuel, Food Shortages

Editor's Note: Czechoslovakia is approaching its second winter since its invasion of Aug. 21, 1968, by forces of the Soviet Union and four of its Warsaw Pact allies. In this dispatch reflecting on the mood of the Czech capital, UPI news editor for Eastern Europe tells why he thinks the winter ahead will be "long and hard one for the unhappy city."

By RICHARD C. LONGWORTH

PRAGUE (UPI)—The autumn sky looms gray with smog over this lovely and capital city. It is not only winter nears, and the grayness is not all in the sky.

Housewives hurry anxiously in the early morning to groceries stocked increasingly with only cabbage and cauliflower. Rumors fly about politics and food and money in the Communist Party headquarters by the Vltava River and in the sprawling castle on the hill, three men wrestle with the present and the future.

At night, the gritty smog and pollution add another layer of grime to Gothic spires blackened by the smoke of six centuries. Clean cars parked in the evening are filthy by morning. Chunks of plaster, undermined by damp, fall from baroque facades onto the cobblestones and are swept away at dawn, unperceived.

By all the signs, a long hard winter is descending on Prague—worse one of the most in this city's tragic history.

Food shortages are freely predicted. Already the best of the highest priorities in town has been one day, no veal the next.

Most Czechs fear a coal shortage. Coal miners are working unpaid shifts on their days off to build up supplies. But railwaymen are working the usual five-day week and the extra coal lies at the mines, undelivered.

Most of all, there is a shortage of faith in the future. No one expects a "well informed Czech says, "I don't think there is anything they can do."

And cynicism—"We thought the Soviets were our best friends," an official who has kept his job says. "Now we feel frustrated and this has turned into disappointment, hatred."

Or the final refuge, bitter laughter. "I heard the Joint Chiefs take the bus to work, the plane when they go on vacation and the tank when they go abroad."

The Russians are not seen much in Prague these days. Mostly they live in barracks outside the city and venture into town only in groups of three or four.

But the knowledge of their COMMUNIST PARTY FIRST secretary Gustav Husak, faces problem in coming months with all of Czechoslovak people. The country is pressed by the Russians to maintain production quotas and at the same time a need for internal energy. The country's steel production is shipped to Russia, and leaders anticipate a December report will call for further tightening up by hard pressed citizens.

presence is part of the weight that makes the Prague atmosphere so heavy.

No one knows when they will leave. And every move, every political move must be taken with one eye on what Moscow will think.

The problems are tough enough by themselves.

One Czech leaned across his bureau desk, spread his hands and told this reporter: "Here's the situation. We simply must get this economy running. But to do that will take political stabilization. But we cannot stabilize without getting more goods on the market, and that means we need to fulfill our trade obligations to the Soviet Union, and that will make the Russians angry. And the only thing we can do for stabilization is the Russians' confidence."

"Well, the only thing we can do is set clear priorities. It's like our streets—we try to fix them all at once and none of them are done properly. Our planners must prepare an economic plan soon. But without political stabilization, no planner knows if he is going to keep his job, so no planning is being done. We cannot have stabilization unless the economy is moving again. It's a vicious circle."

Actually, some planning is being done and, according to top planners, it will provide another black date in the 1969 calendar.

In August, the government used tanks to put down protests. In September, liberals were purged. In October, Czechoslovakia lost the freedom to travel freely to the West.

The November calendar is already made, (which side is lapel buttons and other novelties.

Now in its second week of business, the firm operates on a full time schedule Saturday but on week days is open after school only, as the young businessmen are busy getting their education.

Parents of the young men say they are learning a lot in the business world, too, including such things as buying, advertising, salesmanship, how to prepare sales tax forms and social security reports.

They keep records of all sales as well as costs of merchandise and other operating expenses. "So far we aren't paying any rent or electricity," commented Gary, "but if we make too much money my dad will probably expect us to pay."

"About the only thing we need now is customers," added Clay.

Before the inventory arrived, they also invested in some paint and paint brushes, went to work on the old building Gary's father owns, and came up with a clean and newly decorated shop.

Among their merchandise are such items as Hooks, which are watermarks, for those who square to understand, and Fonda shades, or sun glasses to many shoppers. They also sell love beads, candles, gum, buttons, incense and incense burners, posters, bumper stickers,

Czech-made "key club" scotch goes for 90 crowns ($5.00). Even a pack of peppermint gum costs five crowns, the equivalent of 30 cents.

By comparison with the West, the stores are poorly-stocked in the style, quality and quantity of the most advanced nations in Eastern Europe, is still far ahead of the Soviet Union in the style, quality and variety of its goods—a fact that cannot be lost on the Russian soldiers here.

The Russians also must wonder at the acceptance of two things which the Kremlin tries to deny exist—religion and atheism.

Churches are open for worship. Religious newspapers are on sale. Shops sell Bibles, rosaries and other religious goods. Mr. Goldsworthy was escorted to the state line by Twin Falls law enforcement officers.

After seeing the Yellowstone National Park, Hannu Ormlo, of Finland said, "Dr. Lundey was certainly right about the roads. There were no major roads, minor roads, connecting roads, all sorts of roads. There was commercialism and lack of planning. There were more visitors than there was nature."

"In the deep west the visitors saw the Navajos, whom they liked and greatly respected. They saw the clean horizons and the limited tours of Navajo land and the lack of roads, and the future looked brighter," Tocher said. "They still believed that often park planning was uninteresting, and that American planning had been downright stupid," Tocher added. "They did, however, have a little more faith that Americans were attending to the dangers threatening the nation's park lands."

10-year prison sentence was suspended against a Portland man Friday, providing he leave the state.

Gem Women Assist Special Moose Homes

By PAULINE DAY
Times-News Correspondent

BUHL — A Christmas tree in October? It happened — when the Buhl Women of the Moose recently observed "Christmas in October" for Mooseheart and Moosehaven. All Idaho Chapters participate in this annual event and gifts or monetary donations are collected for the children at Mooseheart and the aged at Moosehaven, to make it possible for them to have a joyous and happy Christmas. Women of the Moose Chapters in Idaho number more than 25.

In keeping with the Christmas theme the hall was decorated with holiday trimmings and homemade candies were distributed to those present. Santa has even been known to make an early appearance for the "Christmas in October" celebration.

Chairmen for this year's event were Mrs. Leonard Severa and Mrs. Harry Davis.

The Women of the Moose also sponsor other activities to help at the two homes which are maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose.

Mooseheart is widely known as the Moose City of Children. It is a home, and school owned and maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose near Aurora, Ill., for children of deceased members. Mooseheart was founded in 1913 by the first Director General of the Order, James J. Davis.

There are more than 100 buildings located on some 1,263 acres on the Mooseheart campus. They provide facilities for student residences, the House of God, hospital, schools, gymnasiums, vocational buildings, administration buildings, warehouses, garages, utilities and farm buildings.

At the present time there are more than 500 students living there and approximately 65 mothers.

One of the outstanding buildings at Mooseheart is the Baby Village, a group of five one-story structures of concrete with red tile roofs arranged in the form of a heart. Here the 16 month to six-year-old children make their home, surrounded by furniture scaled to fit their size.

For the children over six years-of-age, the campus is divided-with-girls-living on one side and boys on the other. Students live in units known as residence halls with a minimum of 8 and a maximum of 24 in each hall. They are assigned to the halls according to school classification, chronological age and social maturity and are supervised by the deans of the primary, elementary, junior and senior departments.

Religious training is mandatory at Mooseheart, with one class period of each week set aside for religious instruction. The children attend services every Sunday and are trained in the faith which prevailed in their original homes.

Mooseheart-provides-total-education-from-nursery school through the 12th year. Each student graduating from Mooseheart High School receives not only a diploma but a vocational education certificate. Each student is required to learn a trade and must complete all requirements before he is awarded the vocational certificate. The children have 15 different vocational subjects from which to choose.

The children at Mooseheart also have a complete sports program including varsity teams competing in conference games. There are also intra-mural sports and a summer recreation program. Musical education is also stressed with many students taking part in the vocal and instrumental organizations.

Recreation plays an important part in the lives of the children at Mooseheart. Lake Mooseheart provides fishing and boating facilities for the students. Mooseheart Camp Ross is a 100-acre woodland which provides camp life for Mooseheart children. It is about 70 miles west of Mooseheart and has eight modern cabins. The camp also includes a combined dining and recreation hall, a swimming pool and bath house, arts and crafts building and the winter-summer cabin.

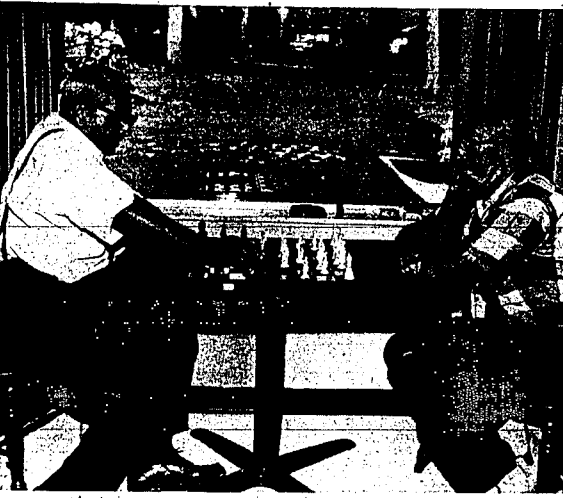

Mooseheart's a complete community sufficient unto itself. They manufacture their own electricity and the water supply comes from two wells located on the property.

A store for boys and a store for girls is maintained at Mooseheart. The students do not wear uniforms but go to their respective stores and select the shoes and clothing. A grocery store is also operated there. Also included at Mooseheart are a student bank, a United States Post Office, a student post office, a hospital and medical center and a child guidance clinic.

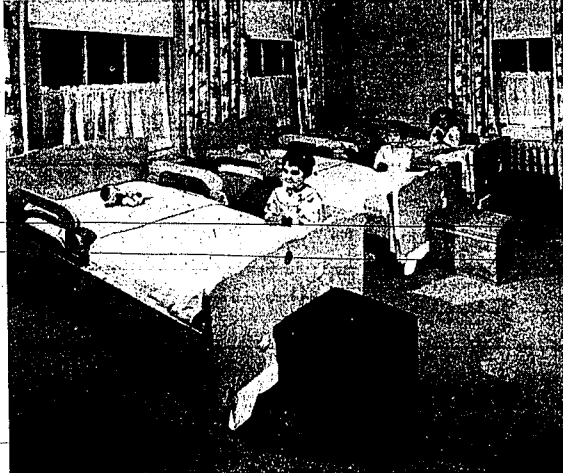

Moosehaven, famed as the "City of Contentment" for aged members and their wives, is located in Orange Park, Fla. The main campus consists of 25 buildings on 53 acres. Nearly 450 persons make their home at Moosehaven.

Moosehaven's modern and completely equipped Health Center was completed in 1968 at a cost of nearly two million dollars.

THESE TWO CHESS players are deep in thought as they attempt to out-manuever each other. Chess is only one of a number of games and activities available in the card rooms at the Michigan Recreation Center at Moosehaven.

A PART OF THE daily routine at Mooseheart is kneeling at bedside to say prayers before going to bed. Youngsters learn this at the earliest possible age, as can be seen in the above scene at the Baby Village. Observances held by Idaho women assist in financial support of Mooseheart.

TINY TOTS AT the Baby Village get their first taste of school at the age of three when they are enrolled in Nursery School. One of the highlights of each day is when the youngsters gather around their teacher for a story hour. Children get two years of nursery school before entering kindergarten and going on to eventually be graduated from Mooseheart High School.

Laughing At Oneself Isn't Easy! These Gals Can

BY ARVETTA SAVAGE
Times-News Correspondent

Happiness is being eligible to stand before a group of admiring club members and say "My name is Jane Doe and I have lost umpteen dozen pounds."

This was observed recently during the annual TOPS Magic Valley Area Rally held at the Turf Club. But—the names belonged to actual persons and the pound loss was announced, verified by club record.

The crowd applauded as each lady on the stand reported her loss. The ladies were of a select group. Some were members who had lost 30-plus pounds being eligible to participate in the "baggy dress" parade, while another group was being graduated into the KOPS division.

Seven lovely women were graduated as KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) after achieving the goal set by their doctors and then retaining it within a three-pound-area for at least three months.

Graduating were Gerlie Talbot, Jerome Silmettes Club with a 19 pound loss; Lois Lelich, TOPS Tuck Takers of Buhl with 23 pounds; Clarice Grant, TOPS Pamper Club of Rupert, 17 pounds; Yvonne Wagner, Nik On Pix 27 pounds; Maybelle Buring, TOPS Weight Warriors of Buhl, 19 pounds; Wilma Miller, TOPS Weight Warriors of Buhl, 22 pounds, and Myrtle Alice Brewer, TOPS Or Bust of Castleford, 30 pounds.

A loud yambon rang out from Warrior members as the two KOPS from the Buhl Weight Warriors were introduced. Graduates were presented corsages by their individual clubs and were serenaded by Beulah Clissham, Buhl, to the music of "Oh You Beautiful Doll."

Certificates were presented by Deloris Sims, Pocatello, area supervisor.

The Baggy Dress Parade was something considered out of this world and from each woman participating in this dress review, a "million seller" book could be written. Rules for this parade require at least a 30-pound loss. Faye Cole, Heyburn, modeled a dress she wore 137 pounds ago.

The event was just marvelous. The women were united in their desire to help themselves and others that if a woman had stood and announced "My name is Jane Doe and I have lost ONE pound," the 24 TOPS members would have brought the house down with an enthusiastic applause.

Inflated balloons under the dresses representing former bulges, were popped at the conclusion of the parade and each participant reverted to her new self in a completely different style attire.

The difference between the large balloon filled dresses and "new self" underneath, was quite an experience for both the model and the viewer. And it was apparent that in terms of self respect and self confidence, the ladies had "gained" more than they had lost.

A few models remarked that they had to go to their neighbors house and "borrow" back the baggy dress they had worn several pounds ago.

During the preparation of the parade, a few women were commenting on the large size of their former dresses and how revolting the dresses look to them now.

"I WEAR THAT SIZE," winced a shorter dark haired lady, who was reporting a 28 pound loss. "They're making fun of my size."

One lady modeled a dress she wore the first night she attended the club weighing 38 pounds heavier, and noted that the dress had been so tight she had to leave the last button undone. She since has gone down three dress sizes.

A SHARP PANTS suit is modeled by Julie Clark during the recent rally in Twin Falls. Fashions for the show were courtesy of the Towne Shop, Buhl, and were narrated by Mrs. Venable Wheeler, Twin Falls. All models were TOPS club members.

The relaxed atmosphere was terrific and there was no apparent feeling of competition normally found between women in today's society. The women radiated compassion and tolerance for each other. They applauded each other, laughed at each other and the biggest satisfaction of the evening was that they could laugh at themselves.

The event was hosted by Marjorie Kramer, assisted by Donna Stanger, both Twin Falls. Area officials assisting were Deloris Sims, Pocatello, area supervisor, and Ollivine Armstrong, Twin Falls, area captain. Committee members included Betty Frantz, Twin Falls, publicity; Jane Peterson, Wendell, secretary; Penny Ferland, Buhl, treasurer; Dorothea Steinhilber, Hamlet, accompanist, and Donnie Fry, Twin Falls, song leader. AMONG THOSE ATTENDING the recent rally were Beulah Holloway, Gooding, and Nona Junk, Oakley. Mrs. Holloway has retained her KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) for four years having lost 58 pounds, and Mrs. Junk has retained her KOPS for six years.

240 Women Attend TOPS Club Rally

Betty Rice, Twin Falls, won the ugliest baggy dress division, and the best name tag received. The TOPS Weight Warriors members who were dressed in warrior fashion. Twin Falls Trimmer TOPS had the most KOPS present, and traveling the greatest distance went to Tick Tock TOPS, Ketchum. TOPS Pamper Club, Rupert, won the banner division, and the centerpieces divisions were won by Hollister, Weight Warriors and Jerome Slimettes. Oldest club in this area is Nic-On-Pix, Twin Falls. Club Queens for 1968 and KOPS in Waiting (KIW) were acknowledged. Heyburn TOPS Tips the Weight Club was jokingly recognized for gaining the least amount of weight during the evening. The Heyburn club was in line for the smorgasbord dinner and was called to stand up from their table three times for recognition.

Norm Jenks of the TOPS Pamper Club, Rupert, was introduced for the KOPS with the oldest maintaining record of six years, and to Bonnie Holloway, TOPS Kolorie Kouters Club, Gooding, for maintaining a four-year TOPS record. Adding "dessert" to the evening was a talk by Mrs. Virginia Eldredge, Twin Falls Trimmer TOPS and former Mrs. Idaho. Her humor, experience and wisdom on weight problems were well received by her audience as she pointed out that "everyone has at least one good point about them." "Maybe you have a beautiful face, but can't find it," she joked. She encouraged members to stay active in their clubs because, "there's always someone there that has a bigger problem than you—and there's always someone there that looks better than you."

Three Magic Valley Women Are Listed In "Who's Who"

Three Magic Valley women are listed in the 1970-71 edition of Who's Who of American Women which has just recently been published according to Publisher Kenneth N. Anglemire. They are Norma Herzinger, Times-News women's editor, and Mary Helen Perry, principal of Washington Elementary School, both Twin Falls, and Lorena E. Warnke, Burley, head librarian of the City Public Library. In our fast-moving world of today, publishers of reference works particularly are hard-pressed to keep their products up-to-date. Nowhere is this more true than in the world of women. More and more, women are assuming responsibilities and acquiring enhanced status in the professions and in business. These changes are dramatically reflected in the pages of the just-published Who's Who of American Women. Of the more than 24,000 women whose biographical sketches are included in the 1,286 pages of the new Sixth Edition, exactly 9,651 are appearing for the first time, notes Mr. Anglemire, who also is president of the A. N. Marquis Co., the publisher of Who's Who in America since 1889.

Worldwide—and nationally, women have been recognized for their achievements and admitted to the pages of Who's Who of American Women. Among them are well-known actresses Sandy Dennis, Anouk Aimée and Candice Bergen. Biographies listed in Who's Who of American Women are chosen from the United States, Canada and foreign countries on the basis of meritorious service in civic or vocational endeavors. The number of women included marks a new record, 2,000 more than the 22,000 admitted to the preceding Fifth Edition. "My salads," he said, "are larded with mayonnaise and the ladies aren't passing them by. They're supposed to know what they can eat." And with a smile he added, "you can see for yourself, the food is almost gone." But the ladies had a good explanation. Some had fasted all day so they could enjoy the meal. And the last remark heard when leaving the building was, "Boy, I'm not going to eat another thing for a week."

40th Wedding Anniversary Open House Set

FAIRFIELD—An open house reception from 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 2 will be held in honor of the 40th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Koonce, Fairfield. Shelter Plan Pamphlets Distributed By Area Women

SHOSHONE—Members of the Civic Club are assisting with the distribution of the Community Shelter plan pamphlets. A house-to-house visit is being made by club members and members of the American Legion Auxiliary to see to it each family in the community receives and understands the importance of the pamphlet.

The pamphlet is prepared by the Idaho Department of Disaster Relief and Civil Defense and explains such things as where to go and what to do in case of nuclear attack, what is fallout, what to do when public shelter is not available, your family emergency plan, how to improve shelter at home, home shelter supplies and farm planning. Pictures and maps are included to give a clear picture of the program.

For the Nov. 21 meeting, members will meet at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill. A tour of new homes will be taken, with members of the club and their visitors or guests diving into groups for this evening. New homes to be visited will include those of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Senton, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bozzuto and Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Thorne, and Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins.

Mrs. Paul Jacobsen reported to the club that she had visited the City Council regarding the club's project for fencing the river at the Mary L. Gooding Park and that she had been assured the work will be completed as soon as rip-rapping of the river is done.

Matrons Club Stages Auction

Charles Sluder, Richfield contractor, is to do the rip-rapping work this fall and the fence will then be installed by city crews.

Mrs. Rex Thomas was welcomed by a new club member, Mrs. Howard Adkins, hostess, served a dessert.

For the auction, each member is asked to bring white elephant items. Susie Pratt will be the auctioneer.

Florence Creed was in charge of the business meeting, with members answering roll with summer vacation items. The next meeting is at the YM-YWCA building, with Fleeta Weir as hostess.

IF YOU LOVE ITS UNEQUALLED BEAUTY SHOULD YOU BUY AND WEAR A DIAMOND? IS IT A SOUND INVESTMENT?

A diamond's value is forever.

There are many reasons why you should own a diamond, or more, if you can afford it. And there are few investments better. (Probably none you can be sure are better — or as good.)

It would be nice if we could all judge our fellow men by their virtues and the service they render their fellow men. Unfortunately we can't judge them that way. And since we live in the world we cannot ignore how the world judges. All other things being equal, decent people who wear a reasonable amount of diamond jewelry gain therefrom — a certain additional respect. We all have some admiration for success, and diamonds, rightly or wrongly, seem to testify to some worldly success.

We don't say you should own a diamond or wear a diamond to gain added respect. We are saying that whether you like it or not, you will be accorded more respect and consideration in many quarters, if you wear any handsome diamond jewelry.

We confess we do not like (nor do you) the idea of wearing diamonds to put on a false front. But if you deserve the respect of people, don't hesitate to wear good diamond jewelry. It's a sound investment more ways than one. Diamonds are our business. Come talk about them.

Girls' League Unit Hosts Father-Daughter Banquet

The Twin Falls High School Cafeteria was the meeting place for the annual Father-Daughter banquet held by the sophomore unit of Girls' League of the Twin Falls High School.

Special guests included George Staudaher, assistant superintendent of Twin Falls schools; John Lawrence, principal, and Mrs. Lawrence; Paul Ostyn, vice principal, and Del Slaughter, a teacher on the faculty. Also included were Debbie Benefield, Girls' League president; Mrs. Doris Watts, sponsor of Girls' League; Mrs. Ruth Gately, sponsor of the senior unit, and her student teacher, Linda Johnson; Mrs. Janet Browning, junior sponsor, and Mrs. Alpha Hann, sophomore sponsor.

Lesli Hamilton, sophomore unit president, welcomed the group and introduced the special guests and committee members along with the officers. Vice president is Marieta Bastian, secretary, Linda Slaughter, and treasurer, Jan Lawrence. Members of the central planning committee include Cheri Christensen, Barbara Filut, Jeannine Berry, Sandy Blair, Chris Wyatt and Mary Ann Carter.

Miss Bastian gave a talk on the purposes of Girls' League. Each girl brought a box lunch for her dad, and herself, having previously decorated her box in her own original way. The boxes were judged by Bob Van Engelen, Clarence Dudley and Veri Meacham. Winning the prize for the prettiest box was Karen Florence; Patti Staudaher won for the wildest box; Cathy Caughey had the funniest box, and Sue Coleman had the most original box.

After the meal, an entertaining program was presented by several of the girls. Linda Slaughter and Marieta Bastian sang, followed by a piano duet by Sue Coleman and Jeannine Berry. A dancing group, including Elizabeth Morgan, Leanne Gorrings,

Cheryl Cook, Brenda Permann, Patty Dodson and Charlene Hansen, danced to "Sugar, Sugar."

A tribute to dads was read by Mary Ann Carter, after which Lloyd H. Hill gave a response. Ruedem Bell did a twirling act, and Vicki Kiesig and Saundra Casperson presented a comedy song.

Prizes were awarded to various dads. Mack Dodson won the prize for the least hair; Mr. Van Engelen won for being the tallest, and Bill Berry won the prize for being the shortest. Dr. William Toolson and his daughter, Ellen, were awarded prizes for being the most look-alike father and daughter.

Mrs. Slaughter, Mrs. Arlon Bastian, and Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton served beverages for the meal.

Acknowledgments and closing remarks were made by Lesli Hamilton.

Miss Miller, Hamilton Wed

Wedding vows were exchanged by David L. Hamilton and Bonnie Sue Miller Sept. 12 at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. The double ring ceremony was performed by Elder Gordon B. Hinckley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, Twin Falls.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridegroom's parents hosted a wedding luncheon at the Lion House in Salt Lake City. In attendance were the bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. Pearl A. Hamilton and Mrs. Laue E. Kinghorn; Mrs. Margaret, Mrs. Nille Messer, Rex O. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Egbert, Mrs. Dean Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs W. Wiers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nielson, Mrs. Ross Brown, Barry Hamilton, Ross Miller, Joy Graves, David M. Hamilton, Melanie Hamilton, Jonelle Fiedler, Jay Miller and Mrs. Gene Taylor.

The newlyweds were honored at a wedding reception that evening at the Holiday Inn in Twin Falls.

They greeted guests before an arch of greenery, lavender and purple gladioli and clusters of white gladioli.

The bride wore a floor-length, empire-styled gown of silk organza over satin. Overlay of lace and hand-sewn beads adorned the yolk, stand-up collar and panel front. The puffed sleeves were of silk organza. The fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached by a band of hand-made roses.

A detachable train flared from the waistline attached with a bow and matching the beaded front panel.

The dress is an original creation of the bride's aunt, Mrs. T. J. Egbert, Salt Lake City.

The bride carried a bouquet of two large Cattleya orchids, accented with a cluster of the pearlized grapes, and tied with a lavender velvet bow with streamers.

Maid of honor was Linda Miller, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Jonelle Fiedler, Anahelm, Calif., former colleague roommate of the bride, and Camille Hamilton and Leslie Hamilton, sisters of the bridegroom. Junior bridesmaids were Melanie Hamilton, sister of the bridegroom, and Kelly Anne Miller, sister of the bride.

Harry Hamilton, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ross Miller and Richard Miller, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

Registering the guests was Nancy Helwell, Linda Harder and Pat Harmer received the gifts.

The bride's table was covered with white lace accented with milk glass cherub vases on the each end and holding arrangements of lavender carnations and Vanda orchids in graduated shades.

The five-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Virginia Bismann, was also done in lavender and whites.

Janet Hiedeman cut and served the cake. Assisting were Linda Staugher and Cynthia Jensen. At the punch bowl were Joy Graves and Dulce Egbert. Special guests were Mrs. Laura E. Kinghorn, Mrs. K. Mableston, Mrs. Marian Kinghorn, David Kinghorn, and Mrs. Francis Nielson, all Salt Lake City; Mrs. Rest Brown, Greeley, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Egbert, Salt Lake City, and Mr. and Mrs. Val Feller, Caldwell.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Yellowstone National Park. They resided in Twin Falls prior to the bridegroom entering the Air Force. He is now at Oakland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex. The bride will join him later in Blixoi, Miss.

Ann Penfold Is Bride Of William Baker

HAGERMAN — Ann Penfold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Penfold, Hagerman, became the bride of William and Ann Baker in temple rites, Oct. 10. Mr. Baker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Baker, Salt Lake City.

The marriage was performed by President Byron L. Bunker at the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white crepe in an A-line style featuring a soft rolled collar of lace edged with seed pearls and full wrist-length sleeves with lace cuffs edged with a tiny lace edging. The gown was designed and made by the bride.

Accompanying them to the temple were her parents; Mrs. Baker; Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, Roy, Utah, the bridegroom's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Penfold, Mesa, Ariz., brother and sister-in-law of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Seth Bean, Twin Falls, uncle and aunt of the bride; and Mrs. Albert Bennett, Bountiful, Utah, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held for the newly marrieds at the Rose Park Stakehouse, Salt Lake City, the same evening. The cultural hall was decorated in fall colors. The bride and bridegroom greeted guests before a background of autumn colors accented by leaves and figurines.

The three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. Orange tapers on each side of the cake complemented the orange roses decorating the cake, which was topped with an arrangement of white flowers.

Guests were seated at quartet tables centered with small bouquets of chrysanthemums. Assisting with the refreshments was Mrs. Craig Baker, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

An open house was held at the Hagerman home of "the bride's parents Oct. 11. Guests were registered by Mrs. Lyle Potter, aunt of the bride. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Floyd Marsh, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. R. K. Bendorf.

Also assisting with the serving and in the kitchen were Mrs. Seth Bean, Twin Falls, and Fern Birch, Boise, aunts of the bride. Gifts were arranged by Mrs. Dale Turner and Mrs. Ed Turner.

The bride is presently employed as manager of the Anita Dress Shop, Provo, Utah. The bride and groom met at the Restaurant Equipment Service, Salt Lake City, where they reside.

DEAR ABBY: I was one of those sloppy housekeepers who never seemed to get her housework done. I could sit for hours, moping, and when my husband came home from work, the house looked about the same as when he left, or worse!

Gary never complained, so for four years we lived in a pippen, whether I was working or not.

Finally I became pregnant, and when the day came for me to go to the hospital I left behind dirty dishes from three days, an oven full of dirty pots and pans which had been "in the oven" here for weeks, and soiled clothing piled high to the ceiling right next to my new water-dropper.

This is only a partial description, but it will give you an idea of what a lousy housekeeper I was.

I realize this is long—Abby, but I'm sure it describes many homes from Boston to San Francisco, and I want to be sure these lazy women recognize themselves.

Well, I am sending you a copy of the letter my mother wrote to me while she stayed at my house when I was in the hospital. Perhaps if you print it, it will wake up some other lazy wives. It sure did wake me up. And though it's been two years, her letter has been read and re-read and cherished. I am still so ashamed of my old habits. I've changed the names, so feel free to print it as it is.

"Dear Lisa,

Just a note between us girls. I am cleaning your house today so you won't have so much to do when you come home.

Now you're probably saying, "Gee, that's sure nice of you." Well, Mom, I didn't ask you to. But the truth of it is, you didn't. But I wanted to, and it sure needed it. But that's all in the past. Let's look at the future.

You are now a mother, and it's time you became a housekeeper, so get busy! If Gary made you a living the way you keep your house, you would starve to death. He does his job well, and you should start doing YOUR job, too. Okay?

If you're tired, talk to your doctor. If you're too lazy, talk to yourself.

You may say, "Mom, you have no right to say this!" I say, "Oh, yes, I have. It's a mother's right."

Your house is spottless now. Keep it that way! And when you get over being mad, make a pot of coffee and invite me over.

All my love, MOM"

Beta Sigma Phi Scholarship Fund Discussed

FILER — Members of Preceptor Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi heard a talk about the Walter Ross Scholarship Fund when the group met at the home of Mrs. Derek Cantrell, Buhl.

It was explained that the scholarship of $100 is available to either boys or girls whose mothers are members of the Beta Sigma Phi Chapter. A letter was read from the international unit urging new applicants to be started in memory of Mr. Ross.

Tickets for the Dec. 6 dance and midnight buffet will go on sale Nov. 5 and may be purchased from members. The dance will be a fund-raising event at the Buhl American Legion Hall.

The Dec. 17 meeting of the chapter will feature a gift exchange. Mrs. Charles McMannan will host the Nov. 5 meeting, with Mrs. Cantrell in charge of the program.

Public Dinner, Bazaar Slated

RICHFIELD — Plans for the Nov. 4 bazaar and public dinner were made by the Richfield Ladies Aid at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Riley, unit president, at the recent meeting. Mrs. Sadie Rider was co-hostess.

Mrs. Riley named chairmen for the bazaar booths and table arrangements. They are Mrs. C. M. Primrose and Mrs. Albert Polloy, candy and cooked food; Mrs. Eugene Alexander and Mrs. Joe Seward, aprons and fancy work; Mrs. Ronald Roder, novelties; Mrs. Jack Hulsbuth, Mrs. Dean Patterson, Mrs. Sid Edwards and Mrs. Carl Riley, tables.

Proper Jewelry Is Discussed

Mrs. Nell Allen gave the culture on jewelry when members of Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Murray Dates.

Mrs. Allen explained where and when people first began using jewelry and why and what kind should be used.

The next meeting is set for 7:30 Nov. 5 at the home of Mrs. Allen, with a potluck dinner featured. Plans for the new members will be conducted.

Lower Fuel Bills

One way to cut down on home fuel consumption and increase comfort at the same time, says the National Better Housing Cooling Council, is to put thermostats in different parts of the home. In this way, the bedrooms can be kept at a lower temperature during the day when they are not used.

Religion

Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Pelley assisted.

The Tuesday meeting is at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Magoffin.

FILER — A double ring ceremony performed Sept. 20 in the Foothills Congregational Church, Los Altos, Calif., united in marriage Bonnie Lee Blakeslee, daughter of Mrs. Leon Wright, Filer, and Bruce Walker Chamberlain, son of Mrs. Lucille Chamberlain, Belmont, Calif.

The altar was decorated with tall baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Birch Creek apartments, Mountain View, Calif.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Leon Wright, wore a floor-length gown of white organza, fashioned with a fitted bodice, and a white lace coat which flowed into a train. The edges of the coat and train were trimmed with fabric daisies.

Her veil of illusion was held by a Dior bow, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

Linda Stow, Mountain View, was her only attendant. William Prouty, Redwood City, was best man, and ushers were Robert Blakeslee, brother of the bride, and Kelly Lookingbill, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Perry Cottingham, Berkeley, and Mrs. Russell Pugmire, San Francisco, aunts of the bride, cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Lookingbill and Donna Blakeslee, sisters of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

After a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, the newlyweds are residing in Mountain View.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was asked to baby-sit (without pay) with my daughter's children while she and her husband went out for dinner.

I went directly to their house from work, thinking that was what they expected. When I got there I noticed she had TV dinners ready for the children, but nothing for me, so I went home (only a few blocks away) and got myself a bite and brought it back and sat with the children. They ate their dinners and part of mine! All the while, their mother looked on.

I must have spoiled this daughter more than I know, for her to be so thoughtless. What can I do now? If anything? Am I in need ME next time, too? Or am I too sensitive?

Miss Monroe, Crawford Say Nuptial Vows

FILER — A double ring ceremony Sept. 9 at the Carillon, Twin Falls, united in marriage Laurel Fern Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Monroe, Twin Falls, and Calvin Lee Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford Sr., Filer.

Rev. Howard of the Southern Baptist Church, Twin Falls, performed the ceremony before background decorations of lighted candelabra decorated with lavender asters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white satin with lace overlay. The gown featured a scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and long lily point sleeves. A tatra of flowers and pearls held her elbow-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of lavender carnations centered with a lavender orchid.

The bride's gown and veil were made by her mother.

Mrs. George Burgess, Boise, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Debbie Monroe, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Carrie Pruett was flower girl and carried a basket of flower petals.

Robbie Hanchev was ringbearer and Dusty Pruett and Blaine Pruett lighted the tapers. Mrs. Roger Kalbfleisch provided the wedding music.

Sieve Pruett, Twin Falls, was best man, and ushers were Robert Crawford and Charles Crawford, brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony. Marie Whelan was in charge of the guest book. Gifts were displayed by Deniece Kinney and Mrs. Carolyn Patterson, San Jose, Calif., sister of the bride.

The bride's cake was made by Mrs. Dottie Rowe, Twin Falls, a friend, and decorated by Mrs. Burgess, sister of the bride. Reception assistants were Mrs. Johnny Hanchev, Mrs. Pruett, Rose Marie Crawford and Betty Crawford.

Members of Calvary Pentecostal Church, Twin Falls, hosted a potluck dinner and grocery shower for the couple.

Grand Guardian Makes Official Visit To Unit

WENDELL Mrs. Ruby Taylor, daughter-in-law of the grand guardian of Idaho, made her official visit to Bethel No. 12, International Order of Job's Daughters, recently.

Mrs. Taber's visit began with a school of instruction for Jobs in the afternoon and a salad bar luncheon for council members.

Chapter No. 35, Order of Eastern Star, cooked and served a dinner preceding the Job's daughter meeting. Given honor were Mrs. Peggy Frith, past honored queen, Mrs. Joe Klimes, Mrs. Marion Giggins, Mrs. Erma Scott and Mrs. Blanche Bungum, all past guardians and Cathy Thomas, a queen of Jerome Bethel No. 14 and grand Bethel senior princess.

Mrs. Taber and Jack Wellie, grand associate guardian, and Mary Trousson, grand Bethel initiation ceremony was performed by the Bethel officers. New members include: Penny Bird, Karen Thompson, Cynthia McClure, Irene Closs and Tammy Gilbert.

The group voted to sell Christmas wreaths and cards as a money making project.

Other business included plans for a hayride and chili feed for Nov. 1. Committee in charge of arrangements include Debi Gilbert, Pam Parr, Stacy Sufra and Terri Cooper, hayride, and Jan

Higgenbotham, Leslie Sullivan, and Tami Gilbert, chili feed. Janet Callen, librarian, read a poem, "Could I?"

New members were given favors by the grand guardian. Robyn Frith, honored queen, received a remembrance.

The girls presented a skit, "Ruby in Jodie's Land," before presenting Mrs. Taber a silver offering for her Shriners Hospital project.

DUMMY REVERSAL AIDS GRAND SLAM

The Reese-Dormier bidding of today's hand is very good. North responds only three spades to today's exploration. When South's next bid is diamonds, North raises to show the king and South goes to the grand slam.

West, determined not to look foolish, opened the ace of hearts. South ruffed, proceeded to play out three rounds of trumps, and eventually could only make 12 tricks. East hung on to all his diamonds and a dummy hearts to prevent the establishment of a heart in dummy.

West should really have opened a trump on the bidding: If it had, South would have gone down. As it was, the heart opening gave South a chance to reverse the dummy and make the hand by playing it upside down. The dummy reversal play would also be a sure thing, provided the diamonds did not divide 7-0.

At trick two, South leads a diamond to dummy's king. Then he ruffs a second heart high. He gets back to dummy again by ruffing his nine diamonds. He ruffs a third heart, leads a trump to dummy, ruffs a fourth heart high. This will leave him with one trump, since he has played one and ruffed four hearts. He will also be holding the ace-queen of diamonds and his ace-jack of clubs.

Dummy will still have two trumps. He will lead a trump to dummy, discard his jack of clubs on dummy's last trump while West follows with his last trump. Then lead a small club to his ace, where his top diamonds will take the rest of the tricks.

What do you do now?
A—Bid three spades only. A jump to four would be a distinct overbid and a pass or three no-trump, silly.

Beauty 'Expert' Says Ideal Woman Should Be 36-25-35

IDEAL WOMAN—Erick Morley says the ideal girl should be 5-feet-6-inches tall, What you say you've never heard of Eric Morley? He's an Ex-husband who runs beauty contests. Fascinating fellow, Mr. Morley. He has supervised more than 2,000 such pageants. This qualifies him to comment on the measurements of young ladies, I think. It is his opinion that the aforementioned ideal girl should tape 36-25-35.

ANOTHER COMMON misconception is that only a few types of spider bites such as that of the Black Widow, for instance, are poisonous. In fact, all spider bites are poisonous.

"WHAT DO YOU CALL that drink of half beer and half gin and tonics?" asked a subscriber reports the citizenry around St. Louis refers to said concoction as a Dutch Highball.

TO PAY DEBTS—Don't count the rent or mortgage. Just count what goes to settle installment debts. Does it add up to 14 per cent of what you make? Merely a rhetorical inquiry, sir, no answer expected. The point is statisticians claim exactly 14 per cent of the income is what the average family pays out on such indebtedness.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q—"How did the street called Malden Lane in San Francisco get its name?" A. Am guessing it was named after New York City's Malden Lane. Which used to be the bed of a crooked creek. Whereat the young Dutch ladies congregated to wash clothes. Understand it readily came to be known as the place where the girls were... Q... U... P... Address—mail to L. M. Boyd, in care of P. O. ARGUMENTS — Those specialists who make a study of why young men fight with young men have been looking into the arguments which occur in places of business. Specifically, arguments between office girls and salesmen. And it is the contentions of these experts that three out of four such arguments are started by the girls. Please don't ask me why, the pretty little things chose to pick on those innocent fellows. Just don't know. To get their attention maybe.

CASSIA COUNTY

James Kloor, 18, Murtaugh, charged with illegal possession of marijuana, was placed on two year's probation and sentenced to 10 weekends in the county jail from 4 p.m. on Fridays to 10 a.m. on Mondays as his sentence. He is a high school senior. Justice Sheron Bellwood stated that sentencing was withheld and placed the youth on probation. Lola Hodge, 16, Burley, appeared on charges of forgery. Sentence was withheld by Judge Bellwood and the youth was ordered to make restitution of the checks. Both Kloor and Miss Hodge had appeared before Judge Bellwood a few weeks ago and Judge Bellwood ordered a pre-sentencing investigation for both youth.

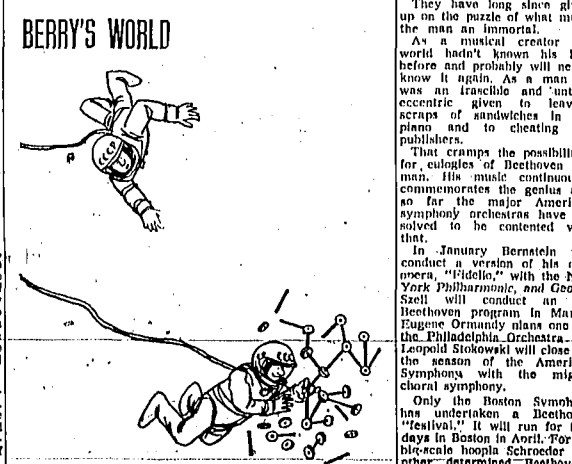

IF A PUMPKIN GROWER owned this "patch," he'd be sitting as pretty as Judy Jolley, of Chicago, seemingly perched atop what appears to be the highest pumpkin in the world. These "pumpkins," however, are not of the usual sort. They are ball-shaped stems being made by an oil company to be installed on service stations across the country. (UPI telephoto)

Senate Committee Endorses 5 Per Cent Tax On Presently Exempt Income Sources

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee voted Friday to impose a 5 percent tax on income which is now tax exempt or taxed at low, preferential rates. The new tax is a modification of a narrower but harder hitting "minimum income tax" in the House-passed tax reform bill. The Senate version would increase government revenues by $155 million more than the $45 million raised in the House bill. Intended to ensure that no taxpayer used so many "loopholes" that he escapes all taxation whatever despite a high income, the Finance Committee provision falls short of that goal by exempting three categories of tax preference income. Consequently, it would still be possible—although more difficult than under the House bill—for persons of great wealth to escape paying any income taxes or to pay at rates far below those paid by middle-income taxpayers. A person with all his money invested in tax-free state and municipal bonds, for example, would still escape the tax collector's reach. In addition, bookkeeping losses in farming are excluded in the Senate bill, as well as the device which allows a taxpayer to deduct the full value of a charitable gift from his taxes even if the gift cost him much less than its later value. Stocks which grow in value are also exempt. This exemption was of vital importance to universities, which receive much of their endowments from such gifts.

Have Happy Beethoven's Birthday, Charlie Brown

By DELOS SMITH NEW YORK (UPI)—Beethoven's birthday coming up next year will be no ordinary Beethoven's birthday, of the kind which can be passed over lightly. It will be his 200th birthday. A round number of that size all but shouts for attention. This is now embarrassing many musical clubs and leaders of musical affairs. They, of all people, should be responsive. An extraordinary commemoration seems in order. It has nothing to do with "his" having occurred to them. If anyone has any ideas, they'd be welcomed. Should they perform new music? How is that possible when his music always gets more attention than that of any other composer? Should they sponsor dancing in the streets, or at least some banquets? Should the more articulate musicians, such as the eloquent Leonard Bernstein, make commemorative speeches before performing a Beethoven symphony or piano sonata? Should there be eulogies and all this and more have been considered and largely rejected as either malapropos or downright silly. Unlike the comic strip child musician, Schroeder, musicians and musical people become self-conscious when confronted with the mundane fact that Ludwig van Beethoven was born on a certain day of a certain year just like everyone else. For them the giant still strides and was not really of mortal stuff. Such as he shouldn't have birthdays even though he was a man who was born in Bonn, now the capital of the West German Republic, on Dec. 10, 1770. They have long since given up the puzzle of what made the man an immortal. As a musical creator the world hadn't known his like before and probably will never know it again. As a man he was an irascible and untidy eccentric given to leaving scraps of sandwiches in his piano and to cheating his publishers. That cramps the possibilities for eulogies of Beethoven the man. His music continuously commemorates the genius and so far the major American symphony orchestras have resolved to be contented with what is. In January Bernstein will conduct a version of his only opera, "Fidelio," with the New York Philharmonic, and George Szell will conduct an all-Beethoven program in April. Eugene Ormandy plans one for the Philadelphia Orchestra and Leopold Stokowski will close out the season of the American Symphonies with the mighty choral symphony. Only the Boston Symphony plans to undertake a Beethoven "festival." It will run for four days in Boston in April. For the bi-racial hoopla Schroeder and other determined Beethoven's birthday celebrators will have to go to Bonn and Vienna.

"Knock that off, comrade—we're supposed to be building a space station!"

Young Begin To Pull Away From Noise, Seek Quiet Talk

BY PATRICIA E. DAVIS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Young people may dig the loud decibels generated at discotheques, but they need a place to talk—quiet place.
Increasing numbers of young men and women across the country are finding that the best place to get together for conversation is the coffee house.

"It's the answer to our need," said 19-year-old Kathy Kovacs who last year organized a coffee house in Columbus, Ohio.

"We needed a place to be comfortable and talk, and the coffee house is a place where kids can go and have intelligent conversations in comfortable surroundings—not like the loud psychedelic discotheque," Kathy said.

Kathy, visiting New York City to accept for her coffee house, "The Wrong Number," the first prize in the National Coffee House Awards program sponsored by the National Coffee Association, said that there are currently 1,200 non-commercial coffee houses in the United States.

They are sponsored, she said, by religious, civic and other community groups, but are run by the young people themselves.

Kathy and five other members of the North Broadway Methodist Church in Columbus started their coffee house in February 1968 after they realized there was "no organized church activity to bring us together regularly after we graduated from high school."

The group has now swelled to 30 members, between the ages of 17-25, but the coffee house is open to the public and many, many more come to it on the Wednesday and Friday nights we are open," Kathy said.

The coffee house, located in a city-owned house, was named "The Wrong Number," Kathy explained, because "the telephone theme seemed the essence of person-to-person communication." The young people charge a 25 cent admission which entitles the patrons to all the free coffee they can drink as well as entertainment and discussions.

"On Wednesday nights we have guest speakers," Kathy said, "and they've included ministers, rabbis and a man from the vice squad who talked to us about drugs. Friday nights we have entertainment—maybe a singer, a poet, a guitar player or a small band."

Kathy, who lives with her mother and is a secretary, said that the coffee house's "person-to-person contact must be working—we've had three engagements among kids who met here."

The young church members who run the coffee house, the "Single Young Adults Club," also sponsor activities for children from low-income area church congregations. "We take them to movies or shows and then bring them back to the coffee house for refreshments," said Kathy, who is a "big sister" to an underprivileged child she met through these activities.

"I think the whole coffee-house idea is just great," Kathy said. "Because adults often Spies?

MOSCOW (UPI)—The newspaper Pravda said Friday that American expeditionary forces claiming to be hunting for the remains of Noah's ark in Turkey have attempted to set up spy posts near the Soviet border.
The newspaper quoted the Turkish press as saying some American mountain climbers were "caught in the act of installing spying equipment" at a site in Turkey.

Reprinting Of Famed 'Domesday Book' Offers Fresh Look At Early England

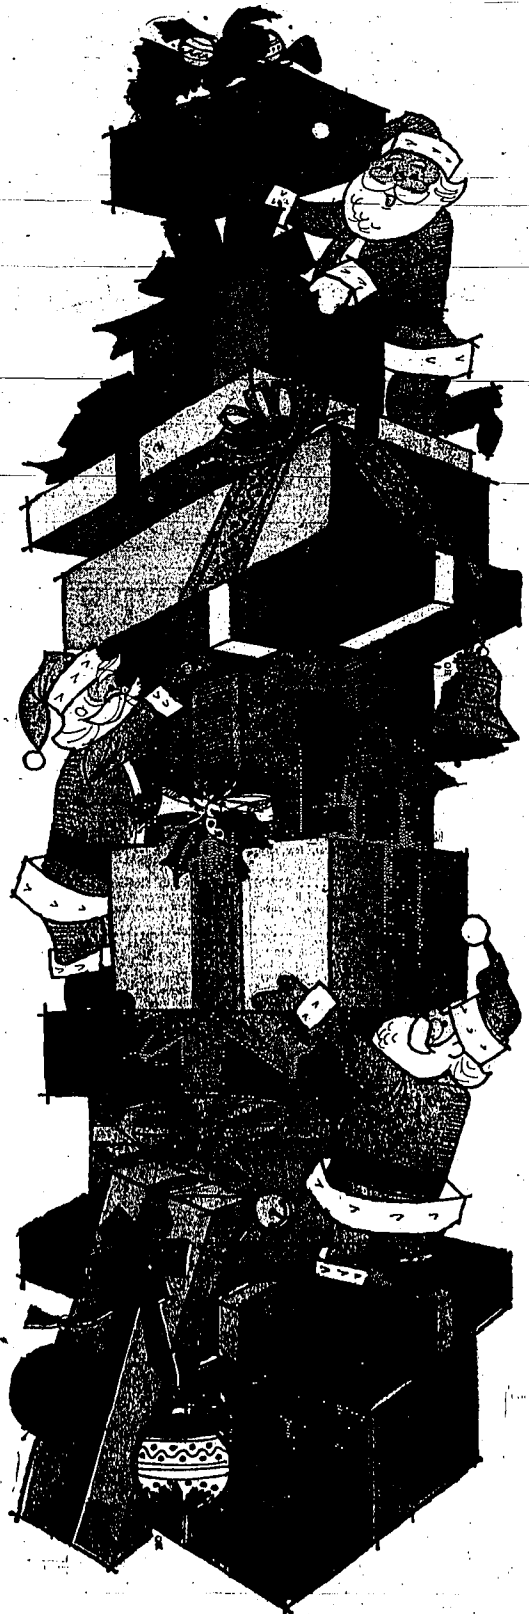

By MARIS ROSS
LONDON (UPI)—Hear ye, hear ye, whoever is interested in knowing the number of peasants, meadows, sheep and oxen in England in the year 1085 A.D.
The Domesday Book listing all these fascinating figures and more besides is to be republished in facsimile nine centuries after William the Conqueror ordered the hated survey of his new kingdom.
William wanted to know how rich he was. So he sent out teams of officers to count who owned what and assess how much tax they should pay the crown.
Written in a difficult form of Latin Domesday is not exactly the stuff from which best sellers are made. But the publishers, Gregg International, think museums, institutions and historical researchers are interested enough to warrant re-issue.

"It's extremely difficult to understand unless you are very well versed in reading manuscripts of that date," said their head of research, John Sansom.
"It uses considerably more abbreviation than is usual for the time and considerable technical vocabulary. It's not the sort of thing you'd read for enjoyment, but it's not supposed to be. It's a collection of statistics. It's as disappointing as it would be to read the income tax returns."
"But apart from photocopying the original manuscripts, they will be publishing a translation."

A Few Extra Days Can Mean So Much!

If you think it's too early to be thinking about Christmas shopping, better take another look at the calendar! With only 23 shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas, you'll want to start your shopping right now to allow more time near Christmas for baking goodies, parties, decorating, preparing Christmas cards, mailing packages, wrapping gifts, church affairs and watching your youngsters "star" in the school Christmas play.

Because these precious days escape us much too easily, your Twin Falls merchants have already stocked their shelves and are advertising their Christmas merchandise. Though it may seem that they are "rushing the season", they are actually helping you to have a more enjoyable holiday by giving you a few extra days to shop early, but wisely and then sit back and relax with the family and friends. Try it this year. Come December 20th, you'll be so glad you did!

House Cats May Transmit Leukemia

BOSTON (UPI)—A medical journal report to be released soon claims that the household cat is "strongly suspected" as a transmitter of leukemia to other animals, including man.

The report, to appear in Medical World News, finds the feline leukemia virus, which is the cause of cancer in cats, can be transmitted from cat to cat and to other animals.

Dr. Louis Melendez, chief of the department of microbiology at Harvard's Primate Research Center, called the report "very interesting and certainly an important finding."

Among the evidence cited in the report linking the leukemia virus in cats to other animals was:

At three institutions researchers have produced cancer in newborn kittens, puppies, rabbits and monkeys, by injecting them with a virus taken from cats known to have leukemia.

Scientists at the National Cancer Institute and the University of Glasgow have watched cancer grow in cultures of human embryonic lung cells following the addition to the cultures of feline leukemia virus.

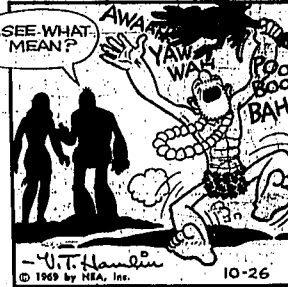

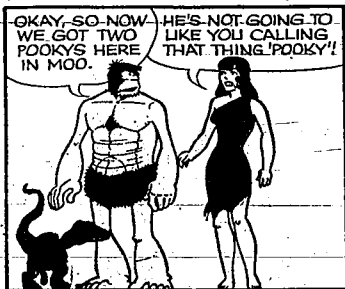

Using electron microscopes, researchers have taken pictures of "leukemic cell cultures" from cats and other species that seem identical to pictures of cancerous tissue in human patients with leukemia.

POLLY'S POINTERS

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is especially good when someone is bed ridden. Sprinkle talcum or baby powder between the sheets to help keep knees and elbows from chapping. It makes the bed smell nice if the powder is sprinkled on as you make the bed.—MARCIA

DEAR POLLY—Knot the ends of a new string mop and have no tangles in it.—MRS. H. J.

DEAR POLLY—To line-dry a sweater or drip-dry dress without clothespin marks, run a towel through the garment from one sleeve to the other, clip clothespins at each end and in the middle of the towel.—MRS. J. T. O.

DEAR POLLY—When first using a new pattern for a lined garment, I make the lining first to see if any adjustments need to be made before cutting into the more expensive fabric.—ELLEN

WHERE'S THE ZIP-OUT LIVING TO MY NEW COAT, EDDY? I CAN ONLY FIND THIS ONE FROM MY OLD COAT!

DEAR POLLY—After cleaning summer shoes I always dry them on shoe trees. This keeps the shoes in better shape and prevents puckered and wrinkled toes.—ALICE

DEAR POLLY—I find that pump bottles (like window spray cleaner comes in) are excellent for my many house plants that have to be watered with a fine spray.—BRENDA

DEAR POLLY—I used to buy plastic by the yard for making baby's bibs but was caught short and used a heavy plastic bag. It worked great so I have been using them ever since and am saved the cost of new plastic.—JOYCE

DEAR POLLY—Save those neatly cut tin can tops. If you are short of ornaments for your Christmas tree cover the two sides with pictures from old Christmas cards. Put a hole in it for a ribbon and hang it on the tree.—BRENDA

DEAR POLLY—I spread a white terry cloth towel over the sink when I put in or take out my contact lenses. If I should drop one I can find it easily and it protects the lenses from damage.—LIZA

MAKE A HALLOWEEN HEX SIGN.

It is the custom among the Pennsylvania Dutch people to paint "hex signs" on their houses and barns to keep away ghosts, witches, and all other evil spirits that might harm them. The first ones were thought to have been copied from a double rosette design cut near the entrance of an old Greek church built in Athens about 1453.

Copy this design on cardboard. Color with crayons or paint. Cut out. Put on a cord and wear around your neck, or paste it on your notebook, lunchbox, mirror, etc.

Ask Them Yourself

FOR FRANK SHAKESPEARE,

U.S. Information Agency

Are there any records of the names of immigrants who entered the country about a century ago? If so, where are they kept, and is it possible to find the name of a distant relative?—Mrs. Robert Wipping, Ruth, Mich.

● You may request information from records of the U.S. Customs Service now in the custody of the National Archives, Washington, D.C. 20408. If you inquire, include the following information: 1) full name used at the time of entry; 2) port of embarkation; 3) name of vessel on which arrived; 4) name of port and date of arrival.

FOR DR. HARRY J. JOHNSON,

President,

Life Extension Foundation

Do cardiac specialists support your view that jogging can be dangerous for sedentary men over 50?—L. D., Waco, Texas

● I conducted a survey among 30 cardiac specialists in New York City. All but one were unanimous in recommending against jogging for sedentary men over 50 years of age.

FOR HELEN ROSE, designer

For next year, what do you think will be the stylish dress length?—Allen Zorn, Las Vegas, Nev.

● Once again, it will be short. If your legs aren't attractive, however, keep the length to not more than three inches above the knee.

FOR BOB HOPE

What entertainer is a favorite, and what type of entertainment do our servicemen overseas enjoy most?—Glenn Corbett, Kansas City, Mo.

● Men serving overseas like to see pretty girls first of all. No one pretty girl should be selected since the GIs like variety, and just generally enjoy the view, whether it be blonde, brunette, or redhead. Any comedian who can touch on the things of most interest to them in their current situation will meet with a happy response. Over the years, I have been lucky enough to discover the areas which make them laugh—jokes about officers, food, the progress of the war, the fact that they miss their girl friends.

FOR DON MAY,

New York Knickerbockers
Do you credit your basketball jumping ability to isometrics? Would you recommend it for boys wanting to improve their jumping?—H. M., Canton, Ohio

● Isometrics is beneficial only for average or below-average jumpers. I was blessed with exceptional jumping ability; and although I tried both isometrics and weights to improve, the increase in my jumping ability was slight.

FOR EVELYN MARSHALL,

cosmetic expert
What foods do you consider must be avoided by a person who has severe acne?—Barbara Doll, Quincy, Mass.

● Avoid salt-water seafood (fresh fish is allowed), spinach, cantaloupe, iodized salt, chocolate, nuts, peanut butter, Italian and Spanish cooking (too much olive oil), pork, colas—even diet versions because the spoiler is the cola bean itself.

FOR MAX McGEE

What are you doing since you retired from the Green Bay Packers?—Royce Carolyn Clary, Star City, Ark.

● I am in the restaurant business with ex-Packer Fuzzy Thurston, operating "Left Guard" and "Left End" steak houses throughout Northern Wisconsin.

FOR KEN PARKER, playwright

I once read that you were a professional ice skater. What made you switch to playwriting?—R. Carlson, Pittsburgh, Pa.

● A broken foot! That break came while performing in Sonja Henie's ice show. While recuperating in a New York apartment, my landlady told me of a murder that had taken place there during the occupancy by a previous tenant. She filled me in on the details and there, on a rented bed, I penned my first dramatic effort, "There's Always a Murderer" based on fact, not fiction.

What in the World!

Onion Philophy Sixty years ago, before tourism, author Mark Twain so loved Bermuda that he even signed an early petition to ban motor cars. His writings are in the public domain now. But since his words were used in the short film, "Bermuda: The Island Nobody Wanted" (so called because pirates and conquerors left it alone), he was given script credit. Of the ubiquitous Bermuda onion, he observed, "In Bermudian metaphor, it stands for perfection. To praise the departed, it is said, 'He was an onion!'"

Mark Twain

To encourage a son, "Be an onion!" Twain's own onion-accolade to Bermuda was: "You go to heaven if you want to; I'd rather stay here."

lin, sister the piano, and brother the drums. "Once, while we were away," Herb's mother recalled, "Herb, only 11, rented a trumpet. When we came back, we arranged for lessons." Now he has two children of his own. Doro, 9, "didn't want to take lessons, so Herb won't force him." Grandma reveals. What about his little girl? "Eden listens. But she's only three."

New Hope for Premies Hyperbilirubinemia (jaundice) affects one in five premature babies. Until recently, the only treatment was drainage and replacement of blood. Now a new fluorescent bulb has been developed by Duro-Test of North Bergen, N.J. Called Vita-Lite, it enables the jaundiced baby to have the benefit of the proportion of ultraviolet radiation found in normal outdoor light as well as the benefit of an isotope. Dr. Peter Scaglione, pediatrician-in-chief of Brooklyn (N.Y.) Hospital, who developed the incubator fixture, reports success after 48-72 hours of use.

Be a Psychic Maurice Woodruff, the tv clairvoyant, believes that everyone has some of this power. To help others develop their own powers, Maurice wrote a book, "The Secrets of Foretelling Your Own Future." One tip: If you foresee a tragedy in the life of a friend, keep it to yourself. At the most, suggest indirectly he make a will.

Mop Balls Pictured here are not Paul Bunyan's bowling balls. They are balls, though—40 inches in diameter and weighing 900 pounds. In Louisiana, the rubber balls are inserted in an underground oil pipeline known as Capline.

A clean strike

They roll 630 miles through the pipeline, reaching Patoka, Ill., 10 days later. In their journey, they mop up salt water and sludge, leaving the pipeline clean for transporting oil. And they're reusable.

A Spirited Tour of America's Haunted Houses

A parapsychologist says our ghost legion is bigger—and bolder—than any nation's

By HANS HOLZER

Author of "The Truth About Witchcraft," "Ghost Hunter," and "Life After Death: The Challenge and the Evidence"

An old wooden church occupied this site in Milvale, Pa., until it burned down. Nowadays apparently a long-dead cleric haunts the rebuilt church.

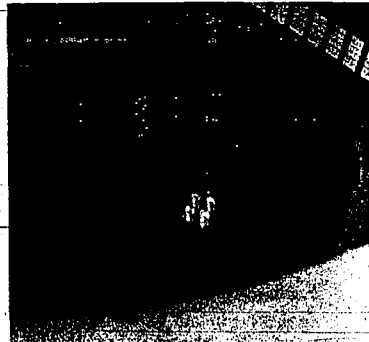

YOU DON'T have to go to England to meet a ghost.

There are more haunted houses in America than anywhere in the world. True, ghosts of the Old World are more colorful and romantic than ours, but what ours lack in age they make up in personality, violence, and persistence. I should know. As a parapsychologist, I'm often called in (along with a trance medium who allows the ghost to speak through her) to rid a haunted house of an unwanted spirit.

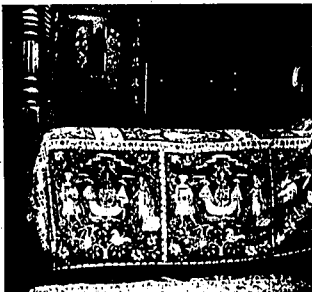

Here's a cross-section of American haunted houses, which don't wait for Halloween to accommodate a visitor from the other world. ♦

Mary Wallace and her pirate benefactor built this house in Henneker, N.H. Witnesses have reported seeing her ghost at times.

The daughter of a 19th-century officer, Col. F. Taylor, leaped to her death here in the Octagon, Washington, D.C. Numerous persons have heard mysterious footsteps and found locked doors unexplainably unlocked.

A mother, who thought she had smothered her baby, committed suicide in Carragross house, Charlottesville, Va. Her sob's once haunted this room.

Flora Somerton, a San Francisco socialite, ran away rather than marry a man she didn't love. She was never seen again—except her ghost has been observed at times on this street corner opposite the Fairmount Hotel atop historic Nob Hill.

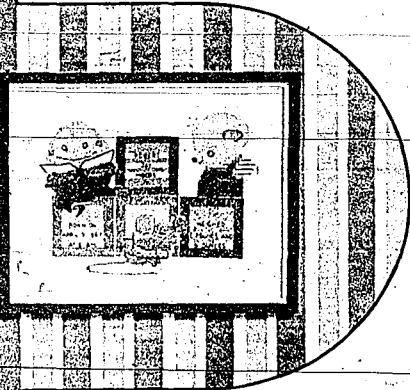

Once a Victorian mansion, now an apartment building in Cincinnati, this building has disembodied voices and footsteps—plus tragic tales of suicide and foul play.

Why Middle-Age Men Revolt

By SAMUEL G. KLING Author of "The Complete Guide to Divorce"

WHILE RIOTS plague our college-campuses, a different kind of revolt also goes on—the revolt of the middle-age man. You don't hear much noise about this rebellion, nor does it provoke shocking newspaper headlines. But the effects are as insidious as any campus unrest.

For example, a pharmacist I had known for years recently faced me across the desk in my office. There were dark circles under Fred's eyes, and his hairline was receding. He seemed tired and worn as he slumped deep into the chair.

"Look," he said wearily, "I want a divorce. I'm 52, and I've had it. Up to here. I have children and grandchildren, and frankly I'm fed up. I want out."

"But why?" I asked. "Why now?" "I'll tell you why!" Fred replied. "As you know, I run a drugstore. For 15 years I've asked my wife to close early so we could have a decent home life. And for 15 years she has obstinately refused.

"We don't have much of a sex life, and we don't have much of a social life. It's work, work, and more work. My wife seems to have some sort of compulsion about accumulating money. If I leave the store at 10 p.m., she keeps open until midnight. Nothing I do or say seems to make very much difference.

"About nine months ago I met a young divorcee in my store—my wife happened to be out at the time—who seems to have everything my wife doesn't. This girl has charm, personality, good looks. Most of all, she understands me. As a matter of fact, we've been having an affair for the past few months.

"She's the most important and exciting thing that's ever happened to me. As soon as I can get a divorce, I want to marry her and make a fresh start. Perhaps then I'll find some sort of happiness."

When I asked Fred why he didn't assert his masculinity and lock up the store himself, he could give no satisfactory explanation except that it would upset his wife.

Then when I said there was the possibility that he didn't want to close early either and merely wanted a scapegoat and that he, too, wanted to accumulate money, Fred heatedly protested.

About the young divorcee who was going to bring him such happiness, I said that when a man and woman are having an affair, both are on their best behavior. And there's a natural letdown that inevitably comes with marriage.

"Isn't it true," I asked, "that you've been flattered by the attention of a younger woman, about whom you actually know very little, including the real reasons which led to the break-up of her marriage?"

Fred grudgingly admitted that perhaps I had a point.

"And isn't it also true," I persisted, "that because you're getting older and think life is passing you by that you want another fling, hoping to find the paradise you think has eluded you through the years?"

"Not only that, you don't have any grounds for a divorce at all. It's your wife who could divorce you because you're creating the grounds by being unfaithful."

Fortunately, I was able to persuade Fred to see a psychiatrist who helped him bridge the gap between illusion and reality.

There are many reasons why middle-age men revolt.

For example, dissatisfaction or failure in work. A case in point was Harvey, a first-class baker who had learned his trade as a mess sergeant in the Army. For a number of years he had his own shop, putting in long hours. Harvey was an easy-going, good-natured man. He gave full value for every dollar spent in his shop.

But when the neighborhood began to deteriorate, he simply could not adapt to changing conditions. His sales fell off sharply, and within two years he was forced to sell at a loss.

After a few months Harvey opened another shop in a high-rent shopping center, not far from a well-entrenched competitor. Once again, he could not meet the competition and was forced into bankruptcy.

A failure in business, Harvey tried to prove he was a success with women. One affair followed another until his humiliated, outraged wife finally divorced him.

Then there was Al, a stereotype of the fast-talking, hard-driving businessman who had made it on his own. He was small of stature and had been a small-time night-club singer with an ordinary voice.

During one of his singing engagements, he had been attracted to a striking blonde whose intelligence was limited. It was love at first sight, followed by a whirlwind courtship, marriage, and two lively youngsters.

Realizing he could never reach the top with his limited talent, Al invested his accumulated savings in the stock market, having read a great deal about securities and investments. He bought into growth companies could eat on a diet!

French toast, pancakes, pizza, soups, mousses, ice cream floats, muflets, jams... what kind of diet is that? But your Diet Watchers Program includes a complete cookbook filled with ingenious, delicious and non-fattening meals, plus seven days of delicious menus to start you off right. And you'll find foods you can eat at certain times of day without gaining, although they would add pounds at a midnight snack. Your Diet Watchers program includes TV snacks, mid-afternoon food breaks, midnight munchies. You'll be so busy eating, you won't remember this is a diet!

Take this simple "faty test!"

DO YOU LOOK AT YOURSELF IN THE MIRROR
ONLY FROM THE NECK UP?

HAVE YOU STARTED BUYING
"SENSIBLE, DARK CLOTHES"?

DO YOU STAY AWAY FROM THE CAMERA
BECAUSE YOU JUST DON'T TAKE A GOOD PICTURE?

WHEN YOU SEE YOURSELF UNEXPECTEDLY IN A MIRROR OR STORE WINDOW DO YOU ASK
"WHO'S THAT?"

ARE YOU GOING TO START A DIET
"TOMORROW?"

If your answer to any of these questions is yes—you need to send for this fantastic new weight loss program right now... not tomorrow, not even tonight. Clip the coupon and order your copy now!

You won't believe how good you'll look and feel!

Because this new diet is a complete nutritional program which gives you balanced quantities of everything you need, yet takes off pound after pound and inch after inch, you start feeling marvelous right away—often better than you do on your present regime of snuff and starve. A real health necessity for heart patients and other health problems aggravated by obesity, this extraordinary diet is the doctor-recommended way to lose weight and keep it off.

And inches seems to melt away even faster than pounds! Even in those annoying "plateau" periods when your scale refuses to go down, you'll see that this special DIET WATCHERS program makes inches go, go, go!

Because weight loss is steady and does not depend on a diet imbalance or a starvation routine, you suffer none of the beauty loss that sometimes comes with crash diets... no sagging skin, sudden wrinkles, haggard look. Mirrors, cameras will show an excitingly new slender you... and your weight loss starts showing from the very first week!

QUIPS AND QUOTES

Washed Up

When I'm alone and hatching it,
I never wash a dish.
Do I then leave them all unwashed
Or give them just a swish?

Oh, no, I have a better way.
Exclusively a man's:
I do not use a dish at all,
I eat from pots and pans.

And when the sink's so filled with these It's hard to move about,
I look forlorn and drop some hints
And get invited out.

—Richard Armour

While out on a date with her boy friend, a girl announced proudly, "Well, I gave up smoking."

He pretended to be deeply thoughtful, then said,
"I'm not sure I want to go with a girl with that much will power."

—Dorothea Kent

He worked hard, made a good salary—but, alas, gambled away every penny he earned.

"Listen, Jack," a friend told him, "you're being a fool. Save your money, don't gamble it away. If you put away $100 a month, for example, in 10 years, you'd have $12,000. That would be a good cushion if a depression ever came along."

The gambler shook his head. "And suppose a depression doesn't come along?" he said. "There
I'd be stuck with $12,000."

Cut to the Quick

What I Learned from Our Wounded GIs

By MARTY ALLEN

Now a completely new Bisquick. Makes biscuits even lighter, fluffier than scratch.

Exactly what refrigerated biscuit bakers have been waiting for... good scratch results with 3-minute ease.

Good as they are, New Bisquick biscuits

Why make biscuits any other way? P.S. New Bisquick still makes delicious pancakes, waffles, shortcake and 276 other favorite bakings.

Shown right: New tear-tape package. It zips open... inner lining re-seals... lid recloses tight.

WHEN our wounded boys are flown into Washington (D.C.) Airport from the Air-Vac, they lie there on their stretchers, exhausted from the long trip, tense, apprehensive, and in pain. That's when I try to meet them.

I'm the first one they see while they're waiting to be transferred to a veteran's hospital. I tell them, "Welcome to the Playboy Club. Your room is ready—and I'm your Bunny."

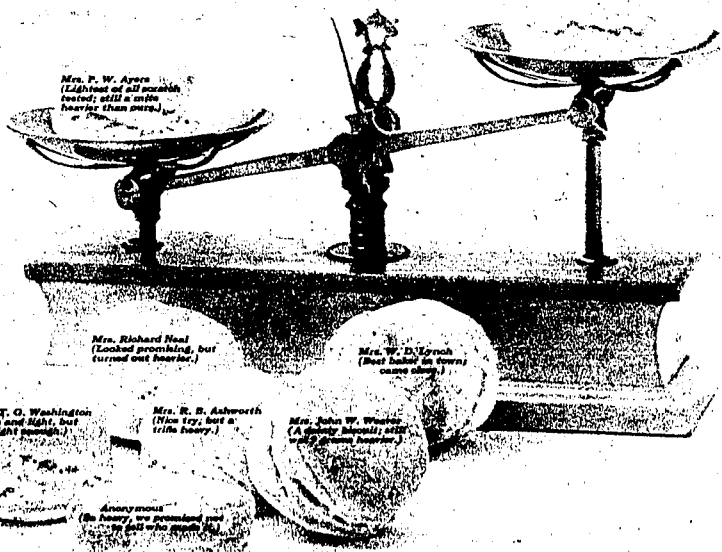

It breaks the tension, and some smile wanly.

That smile is the greatest gratification to me. Helping our wounded GIs is something I just must do. It started a few years ago, after I kept seeing pictures and hearing stories about entertainers going to Vietnam. I also keep seeing pictures of the wounded. I wondered, who entertains them? I found out—no one. So I figured I'd try.

I talked it over with Leo Singer, president of Miracle White, a synthetic fabric bleach, and he agreed to underwrite "Operation Hello Dere."

On my first hospital tour, I was very uptight. I didn't know whether I could face the amputees or the burned vets. Sometimes even their own families can't bear to witness their suffering. But once you see those kids, you have just got to be involved. Now I don't feel the agony until the end, when I get back to my hotel.

I have a format worked out now to help me and the guys over any rough spots.

Mrs. P. W. Agers

Mrs. Richard Neal

Mrs. T. G. Washington
(High and light, but not light enough)

Mrs. R. S. Ashworth
(Nice try, but a little heavy)

Mrs. W. D. Spruck
(Not baked in time; came along)

Mrs. John W. Whetson
(A heavy biscuit; still a little heavy)

Anonymous
(So heavy, we promised not to eat it)

This popular comedian visited hospitals to help Vietnam casualties and found they helped him

First I send some pretty girls on ahead to break the ice and get the guys' names and home towns. Then I come in. They don't expect me because I don't notify them in advance. I go from bed to bed, with small talk and jokes. I autograph casts and give them photographs. They usually want to touch my hair, especially the ones who were blinded. Once I start my tour, I'm "on" until I see the last patient.

I eat with the enlisted men, stand in the food line with them, banter with them. I may take out a deck of cards and say, "Pick a high card. The winner gets Raquel Welch and the loser gets me."

The wounded GIs seldom seem to want to talk about their suffering and their worries. I've learned a lot about sheer guts from them.

Marty and Cpl. Richard Higuera.

For instance, I came to the bedside of a young double amputee who was writing a letter.

"Writing your family?" I asked him. "No, to my girl." "Oh, you planning to get married?" "No," said the boy with great determination. "I'm calling the whole thing off. You see, I'm just not the marrying kind." I had to turn away to hide my tears.

I've never heard any of them express bitterness. I don't hear "Why me?" I've never heard any of them say anything against the war. In fact, most of them want to go back. It's not the war. It's their buddies. They have a terrific team spirit.

Most of them manage to hide their fears for their futures, although there was one young captain who had everything going for him before he had become somparalyzed. "What am I going to do with my life?" he whispered in despair.

"Have you tried writing?" I suggested. I have found out since that he has sold some short stories and is beginning to feel he has something to live for.

One of the most moving experiences for me was when I visited the psychiatric ward. Most entertainers are afraid of an unresponsive audience—and the reactions here certainly were unpredictable. Then there is the possibility of danger, too.

I started out by introducing "Marty Allen's Survival Kit." That's my name for the troupe that accompanied me—some pretty girls and a guitarist. I had the guitarist play some Greek folk music, and I was doing a sort of spontaneous free-form dance to it. I told the patients to join in. Most of them did.

I was standing there alone, apart from the audience, moving to the music, when suddenly a big guy, about six-foot-five, slowly got up and headed toward me. He seemed menacing. Frankly, I was scared. But I tried not to show it and reacted instead like a partner. There we were, facing each other, doing this Greek folk-rock step. He seemed to be enjoying himself.

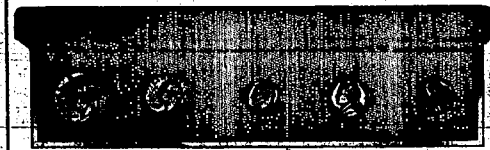

Later, the doctors told me that until that day he had never spoken or reacted in any way, that our dance was his first step to toward recovery.

Also in the audience that day was a kid in a wheel chair. He just stared vacantly at me the whole time, never laughing, never even cracking a smile. I didn't think I was reaching him at all. Yet when I passed him going up the aisle, he greeted me with—"Hello, dere!"

I've learned so much from kids. My insecurity has been slipping away in the years I've been doing "Operation Hello Dere." I've always been too shy to ask people for anything, but I no longer hesitate to call up a businessman and tell him I want $8,000 for those hospitals.

It's been a great lesson on compassion, courage, comradeship. If I ever have to face tragedy myself, I'll be sustained by the memory of those wounded GIs. I hope I can measure up to them. ♦

Goodbye.

Good buy.

The Last Year Set of U.S. Coins To Include the 90%-Silver Dime, Quarter, and Half-Dollar (1964)

This Presidential Silver Coin Set is the last minted before the Coinage Act of 1964, which, for the first time in 173 years, provided for the removal or reduction (to 40%) of silver in all U.S. coinage.

Now the Treasury Department has lifted its ban on the melting and export of silver U.S. coins. The outlook is for continuing and increasing scarcity as silver coins—ordinary pocket change only a short time ago—become valued collectors' items.

The set pictured above, the only set of its type ever minted, commemorates five of America's presidents—John F. Kennedy, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, and George Washington.

- Contains the elusive 90%-silver Kennedy half-dollar which was minted for one year only.
- All coins in the set are in brilliant, uncirculated condition.
- Set is housed in a black, red-lined box. Included is a free booklet that details the story behind the coins.
- Makes an ideal gift and keepsake. Several thousand have been ordered by business firms as customer gifts.
- Fast experience indicates that the value of this set is likely to increase over time. (Of course, there is no assurance that this will occur.)
- 50 sets is the limit that may be ordered by one person through this ad.

Bring The Bloom of Beauty To Your Complexion

Every day your complexion can grow a little lovelier, lavishly cared for with a remarkable tropical moist oil which has the skin-cherishing ability to help capture and maintain the precious bloom of true complexion beauty.

The fine, fair promise of skin beauty is initially determined deep down under the surface, where the tiny oil and moisture reservoirs establish a delicate balance by releasing just the right amounts of perfect, natural nourishment to keep the complexion soft, supple and gloriously alive.

Cosmetic researchers have constantly borne in mind this basic understanding of the human skin in their efforts to find ways and means to improve and cherish its most precious qualities. With the discovery of the tropical beauty fluid has come the realization that at last it is possible to assist nature in maintaining the flow of the skin's natural oil and moisture and help in every way to bring long-term youth and beauty to the complexions of women living in all the differing climates of the globe.

When the beautifying moist oil is lavished on your skin nightly before your sleep, and worn every day beneath your make-up, your complexion will benefit immediately from its isotonic action, which is calculated to take conserving fluids directly down to where they are most needed.

Being remarkably compatible with the natural fluids of the skin, this moist oil readily merges with existing reserves and helps boost the dwindling cellular levels so that the complexion is encouraged to regain its equilibrium.

The beauty fluid also helps to maintain the vital measures of moisture responsible for the dew-fresh appearance of a lovely complexion. It encourages the natural hygroscopic attraction of moisture from the surrounding atmosphere and sponsors the moisture-retaining ability of the tissues so that youthful freshness and radiance become wonderfully constant on the skin.

In America this unique moist oil is available from drugists as oil of Olay, a remarkable blend of precious elements that brings your skin its softest, smoothest bloom of beauty.

Beauty Skin-Care Consultants Recommend

To take advantage of the beautifying properties of this moist oil and to give your complexion smoothness, clearness and youthful loveliness, always smooth on a film of oil of Olay over the face and neck before applying make-up. Besides cherishing and beautifying, the Olay oil will insure that your make-up has a perfect matt beauty.

Areas where age-signs first begin to show need extra rich care at night. Massage oil of Olay over your throat and neck and tap lightly into the delicate tissues around your eyes to smooth and beautify the skin.

To keep your lips soft and pretty, give them a generous quota of the beautifying moist oil when you do your face. This light film of oil of Olay will also act as a foundation for the smooth and lasting application of your lipstick.

Aromatic Cookery from Southern France

MELANIE DE PROFF Food Editor

■ Tantalizing aromas and high flavors are fundamentals that glorify the local cooking throughout that charmed countryside of southern France. As you prepare these recipes—aromatic with a blend of garlic, herbs, onion, olive oil, and tomatoes—enjoy sniffing the wonderful fragrance that comes before the feast.

This adaptation of the classic French Cassoulet—a hearty white bean mixture with meat and goose or duckling—is equally as delicious as the authentic regional dish.

Cassoulet

- 2 lbs. dried pea (navy) beans
- ¼ lb. salt pork, diced
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 large carrots, pared and sliced
- 6 cloves garlic, peeled and minced
- 1 can (10½ oz.) tomato puree
- ½ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 lbs. smoked boneless pork shoulder butt, sliced
- 1½ lbs. garlic-flavored sausage, sliced
- Duckling giblets
- 1 duckling (4 to 5 lbs.), cut in pieces
- 1 jar (4½ oz.) pimiento-stuffed olives, drained and sliced

1. Put beans in a large saucepot. Cover with water and soak overnight.
2. Drain beans; cover with ¼ qt. water. Add 1 to 2 teaspoons salt, and bring to boiling; boil 2 min. Remove from heat; let stand uncovered 80 min.
3. Meanwhile, put salt pork in a skillet and fry until browned. Add onion, carrots, and garlic; cook until tender, about 15 min., stirring occasionally.
4. Blend in tomato puree; heat thoroughly; add to beans with the pepper, pork butt, sausage, and diced giblets. Mix thoroughly; bring to boiling. Reduce heat, cover, and simmer about 2 hrs., stirring occasionally.
5. Meanwhile, rinse duckling with cold water; pat dry with absorbent paper. Put pieces, skin side down, on a rack in shallow roasting pan. Brush lightly with melted butter, and put in a 350°F. oven. Brush with drippings occasionally, and turn with tongs to broil evenly. Cook until duckling is tender, about 2 hrs.
6. Remove the cassoulet from heat and ladle one-third of the beans into a 5-qt. casserole. Cover with a layer of olives, pork, sausage, and duckling (using about one-half of each).

7. Repeat layers, ending with beans, and topping with several slices of the sausage. Pour over any remaining liquid.

8.* Heat thoroughly in a 350°F. oven about 1 to 2 hrs. 12 servings

*If desired, the assembled cassoulet may be cooled and stored in the refrigerator for 2 or 3 days before final cooking and serving.

Eggplant with Meat Sauce

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 cups chopped onion
- 6 to 8 oz. mushrooms, chopped
- 1½ lbs. ground lamb
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 3 large ripe tomatoes, peeled and cut in small pieces
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley
- Olive-oil (about ½ cup)
- 1 eggplant, pared and cut into 6 or 8 slices (about ¼ in. thick)
- ¼ lb. Swiss cheese, shredded

1. Heat butter or margarine in a large skillet; add the onion and mushrooms, and cook about 5 min. Mix in the ground lamb, salt, and pepper; cook about 15 min., stirring occasionally.
2. Blend in tomato and parsley. Simmer about 10 min. to blend flavors.
3. Meanwhile, heat 3 tablespoons of the oil in a skillet. Fry eggplant slices (as many as will fit into skillet at one time) on both sides until lightly browned. Remove from skillet and drain on absorbent paper. Add oil to skillet as needed.
4. Put the slices into a large, shallow baking dish and cover completely with the lamb mixture.
5. Top with the shredded Swiss cheese and set in 325°F. oven for about 15 min. or until cheese is melted.

If your hemorrhoids need something more effective than Pazo... maybe it's surgery.

Pazo not only shrinks hemorrhoids in most cases, but actually starts relieving throbbing pain on contact—and for hours.

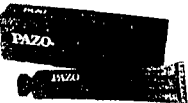

In fact, this soothing relief begins within seconds after you finish applying Pazo.

In moments, Pazo's anesthetic formula starts to ease the pain, quells the itching and irritation.

Try Pazo, in suppository or ointment form.

FUN—WITH SAFETY

How to Avoid a Halloween Tragedy

By ANDY SUGAR

EVERY HALLOWEEN millions of costumed youngsters roam their neighborhood streets, ringing doorbells and trick-or-treating.

But many of them return home injured, some crippled for life. Some are even killed in freak accidents, most of which could have been avoided if their parents had followed a few simple safety rules.

Sara Miles, a consultant in the home-safety department of the National Safety Council, suggests that "an adult or other responsible person go along with the trick-or-treaters to help prevent such mishaps as falls, burns, and pedestrian-auto accidents."

To help reduce Halloween accidents, the National Safety Council offers these recommendations:

Costumes should be light in color so they can be seen in the dark by drivers. But if the child must wear a dark outfit, decorate it with reflective tape so it will glow in a car's headlights. Or paint it with luminous paints, which also will add "ghostly" effects.

The costume should fit well enough so that the Halloweener will not trip over it. Avoid having the child wear either mom's high heels or dad's shoes, which will keep him constantly off-balance.

If the outfit or accessories are bought, make sure that they carry a flameproof label.

If the costume is being made at home out of a cotton fabric, such as a pillowcase or a bed sheet, fireproof it by following this simple formula: soak the material in two quarts of warm water that has been mixed with seven ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid.

Let the material drip dry, Miss Miles explains. Then iron it. If the outfit is to be dyed, use the flame-retarding solution for the last rinse. An outfit will remain resistant to fire only until it is either washed or gets wet; also the solution is only effective with cotton fabrics.

Facial make-up is safer than a mask.

At night, a grown-up should go with tricksters; note luminous costumes.

"Masks, floppy hats, whiskers, and wigs that slip and slide about the face and eyes can prevent a youngster from spotting a bottom porch step or an oncoming car," Miss Miles adds. "So why not use substitutes of burnt cork for whiskers, hair-spray tints rather than wigs, and make-up instead of masks?"

And make-up is easy to remove with a dry tissue if you apply a thin layer of cold cream before it is put on. But most important, a face of multi-colored make-up won't block the trickster's vision.

Other hints to prevent mishaps include: make such props as swords, wands, or witch's broomsticks out of cardboard; stick reflector tape on the trick-or-treat bag; illuminate a pumpkin with a flashlight instead of a candle. (This last hint is important; recently, a nine-year-old Chicago girl was severely burned by carrying a candle-lighter jack-o'-lantern.

"Halloween fun and safety depend on all of us," Miss Miles emphasizes. "Homeowners should make it a point to turn on their porch lights and clear their porch steps and yards of obstructions and debris.

"And motorists should drive with extra caution in residential areas, keeping an eye out for the little Halloween spooks who may dart out into the street." *

I moved out on my mother-in-law and lost 65 pounds

By Bonnie Franz as told to Ruth L. McCarthy

I WAS ONLY 16 when I married. And since my husband and I had next to nothing, we moved in with his folks. That's when I learned I was living with the best hot-roll maker in Williamsburg, Maryland. Yes, my mother-in-law is some cook. And her specialty isn't just baked biscuits. You should taste her goulash and fried potatoes with onions. But you'd better have more willpower than I did. Because in a matter of months, I'd gained 40 pounds.

As for my trying to cook, it wasn't easy. Specially since my husband's grandparents lived with us, too. Three women in a kitchen are just too many. When I look back now, it seems like I did nothing much but eat, read movie books and wait for our first child to be born.

There were tensions, too, of course. And the tough thing was, when Kenny and I'd be fussing, the rest of the family would take sides. To console myself, I ate. But that only added fat to fat.

Fortunately, not too long after the baby came, we managed to get a place of our own. It was only an old trailer, but it was all ours, and I was determined to take off that extra weight. I tried slimming chewing gum, and sugarless foods, even reducing drugs. Still I stayed fat. And this time I couldn't blame anybody but myself.

You see, my husband runs a general store and gasoline station. His hours are long—from seven in the morning until nine at night and later on weekends. To pass the time, I'd stuff on candy and soft drinks, or roll out a do-it-yourself pizza. Or I'd go get myself a submarine sandwich, come home, crawl into bed and just eat and read. I'll tell you, I got so big, I once got stuck in a telephone booth. Honest. My oldest sister and I were spending a couple of days at Ocean City, the amusement area, and I turned out to be the funniest act on the boardwalk. Well, that's the way it was until after my second daughter was born. By then, the scale was up to 198 pounds, and occasionally shot to 200.

I knew it wasn't funny anymore. I had to reduce. But what was I to do? About then, I began reading of people who'd used a reducing-plant candy, called Ayds. Next time I went to the store, I asked the woman there about them. It turned out that she had been on the Ayds Plan and it had worked for her. So I bought a box of the plain chocolate fudge type, though later I tried the chevy vanilla caramel kind. Well, anyway, I started taking the Ayds like the directions said. One or two before meals with a hot drink. For me, it was tea.

Now, I never cared much for breakfast. But on the Ayds Plan, I sometimes took an egg, because I know you should always eat in the morning. At noon, I'd have a sandwich. And for dinner, I'd have meat, a vegetable, and a salad, like lettuce, tomato, cucumber and onions. And by having that candy before meals, I didn't seem to crave sweets afterwards. Of course, one of the biggest helps was that, for the first time in my life, I wanted to reduce. I wanted Ayds to help me. And they did. They helped me curb my appetite, so I ate less.

Well, it wasn't long before weight began to come off. That made me feel so good, I changed my hairstyle. And next I started giving away those old women's clothes I used to wear.

When I got down to 148 pounds, however, I quit taking Ayds because I was pregnant again. But after my son was born, I asked my doctor about Ayds, and he said they were all right for me. So see, they don't contain any harmful drugs. So I followed the Ayds Plan until I reached 133 pounds.

I can't tell you what it's like to look and dress young once more. After all, I'm only twenty-one years old, and a size 12 dress sure has more style than a size 22.

I found that out at a Dutch Maid party I gave. It was great fun. You invite friends to your house, and a woman comes with a lot of new styles and you try on and buy what you like. And I sure liked to buy. When my sister saw me dressed up and slimmed down, she said: "Bonnie, if you let yourself get fat again, don't bother to visit me." Only then did I realize how ashamed she was of me.

Well, I think my waddling days are over. At least, I hope so. Fact is, I want to take off another ten pounds, so I'm trying the minty chocolate fudge Ayds now. That doesn't mean, however, that I never got to enjoy my mother-in-law's cooking these days. But now, thanks to the Ayds Plan, it's a thinner me that goes to dinner.

THE COAT DRESS—

PATTERNS

Something for Any Time

By ROSALYN ABEVAYA

WHAT WARDROBE is complete without a coat dress? None. Because it's the one that steers you through any occasion. And you can easily sew it at home. This marvelous silhouette takes an unconventional turn in its diagonal-button closing. Semi-fitted, slightly A-shaped, it's a clever fashion investment designed to capture the natural young look. Other assets worth noting: its flattering pointed collar, full three-quarter sleeves gathered into cuffs. A smashing design-to-make-in-jersey, tweed, gabardine, or lightweight wool. To get your pattern, simply fill out the coupon.

SPECIAL BARGAIN OFFER FOR READERS OF FAMILY WEEKLY

HI-POWER MIDGET TELESCOPE CAPTURES THRILLING VIEWS UP TO 5 MILES AWAY!

SO POWERFUL...pulls in buildings, animals, people, from great distances!

Deep Slashed PRICE!

plus postage

This nationally advertised MIGHTY MIDGET Telescope will be given to any reader for only 1.00. This incredible price is just a fraction of our regular price. Please notice — this is definitely not a cheap, economy model, but the genuine and original DELUXE MODEL. Precisely the same pocket instrument that thousands of shrewd shoppers bought for much higher cost this year — up to only a month or two ago! Not old or defective, but brand new and of excellent quality. Each in original factory package. Nothing removed. Nothing discarded except the price. This deep slashed price is for a short time only. Any reader may take advantage of this offer by sending in the coupon below.

VERY TINY . . . BUT SO POWERFUL!
This sturdy optical wonder is only 5 inches long. Heavily smaller than a pen and only weighs AN OUNCE! Just the same, this MIGHTY MIDGET is so powerful and powerful that it staggers the imagination! Hard to believe, yet so true—this optical midget really has greater ENLARGING POWER and far more LONG RANGE than a well known binocular that weighs 16 times more and sells for lots more than our special price of 1.00 to readers.

GET BIG THRILLING CLOSE-UPS OF ALL SPORTS EVENTS!

Always carry a MIGHTY MIDGET Clip one in pocket or purse. While it's out all horse or auto races, baseball games, football, swim events, etc. Capture all the action, all the inside plays—even if you're sitting in the bleachers! So light to carry. So light to hold. Never tire you.

SEE WHAT'S HAPPENING WITHOUT BEING SEEN

Ideal for detective or surveillance work. So small—it cannot be seen from far away. Perfect for secret agents, gasline checking work operations on big ranches, oil fields, etc. While in portable view. Nature, mountains, rivers, lakes, woodlands. Use in portable view. Greatly much closer. Lets you observe wild animals in far away that they can't hear, smell, or see you!

ENJOY A TRIP 'TO THE MOON WITHOUT LEAVING YOUR ARMCHAIR

On a clear night, when the moon's full and bright, take aim with your MIGHTY MIDGET Telescope. Explore the chame, the lunar mountains, the mysterious coral. Experience the thrill of almost being an "ASTRO-NAUT"—without moving out of your chair! This tiny but powerful wonder sure gives you and your kids, as well as yourself, loads of fun and a little extra education too! Best of all—you can buy one for 1.00—during this special offer to readers.

SPECIAL OFFER WILL NOT BE REPEATED AGAIN THIS YEAR TO READERS

This is the last opportunity that readers of this publication will have to get this telescope for only 1.00. This bargain price offer will never be repeated again this year. Mail orders filled immediately. Please allow your postman from 1 to 2 weeks to deliver your parcel. Be sure to rub the coupon below THAT with 1-10 (plus mailing cost shown in coupon), LIMIT 1 To satisfy all readers, we will not ship more than 2 to a reader. Naturally this offer is for a short time only and is subject to withdrawal without notice. Letters received too late will be returned at once to readers. Address:

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, loss of sleep and a tormenting itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms—ugly parasites that medical experts may infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

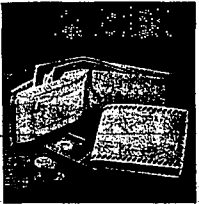

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carbon the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Formula... 1 small, easy-to-take tablet... special sizes for children and adults.

Perry Mason's pretty client is charged with murder. And the only one who can save her is blind. (Publ. Ed. $3.50)
- 4. The Case of the Beautiful Beggar
Who murdered Daphne? Perry can't figure it out. Then, Daphne seems to make a drastic recovery. (Publ. Ed. $3.50)
- 5. The Case of the Troubled Trustee
Dutton was with Palmer the very hour Palmer died. Dutton's gun killed him. Can Perry ever save him now? (Publ. Ed. $3.50)
- 6. The Case of the Horrified Heirs
Perry Mason's client met Mrs. Trent only once. But a mutual "friend" wants to kill them both. (Publ. Ed. $3.50)

Plus this exciting big 3-in-1 volume

- 7. Message from Hong Kong
by Mignon G. Eberhart
3 years after the disappearance of her husband, Marcla Lowry flies to Hong Kong on a mysterious lead. But she finds her contact... his neck cut open with a knife! (Publ. Ed. $4.50)
- 8. An Easy Way to Go
by George Harmon Coxe
Murdoch walks right into a trap. As a gun roars off, he crumples to the floor. He has to convince his assassin he's dead—so he can live to prove his innocence! (Publ. Ed. $4.50)
- 9. The Etruscan Bull
by Frank Gruber
Death follows the strange little terra cotta statue, worth over a half a million dollars. Now Logan has the bull... and now it's Logan's turn to die! (Publ. Ed. $4.50)

Out of the 300 or more new detective books that come out every year, the Club selects the very cream of the crop. Outstanding authors like Erle Stanley Gardner, Agatha Christie, Mignon G. Eberhart, John Creasey, and Van Wyck Mason and many others have had their books selected by the Club. Many are members themselves.

Club selections are all newly published books. As a member, you can get three of them each month complete in one handsomely bound triple volume (an $11.00 to $13.85 value in publishers' editions) for only $3.39.

You do not have to take a volume every month. You receive a free copy of the Club's Preview which will fully describe all coming selections and you may reject any volume before or after receiving it. You pay no money in advance; no membership fee. You may cancel membership at any time. Don't be disappointed. While the supply lasts, send the coupon to get your 9 mysteries.
