Airport Board Turns Down City Plea For Land

Members of the Twin Falls City-County Airport Commission today were on record as being opposed to the use of any airport property as a sanitary landfill. The action by commission members, at a session Tuesday, came when Acting City Manager Jean Miljar said the present landfill on an airport property would be filled in about nine months. After that time it would be necessary to find another location and he suggested airport commission members should express their opinion on the matter of possible use of another 40-acre site, also on airport property. By unanimous vote, after a resolution was offered by Board

Viets Given Control Of Major Battle

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command has entrusted South Vietnam's army with the battle against a 7,000-man guerrilla threat along the Cambodian border—a test of the government's readiness to take over the war. Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky reassured that readiness today and told newsmen in Dalat, a resort town, the Saigon army would replace all American combat troops in Vietnam by the end of 1970, freeing 100,000 to 150,00 GIs to go home.

His prediction came as the advance elements of a 2,500-man U.S. Marine unit began leaving the war zone and as captured Communist documents indicated the North Vietnamese buildup 120 miles north of Saigon was intended, indeed, as a test of the government troops.

So far, the Communist push from Cambodia has forced Allied troops out of three isolated U.S. bases and now threatens two U.S. Green Beret camps, at Bu Prang and Duc Lap.

Riot Police Club War Protesters

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Riot equipped police wielding night sticks waded into 200 retreating antiwar demonstrators today after breaking up their picket lines in front of a Massachusetts Institute of Technology war-related laboratory. Several persons including two newsmen were hurt as police clashed with the demonstrators. One person was arrested.

The picketing was organized by the November Action Coalition (NAC), an umbrella group of several militant student organizations. Though police struck two days after MIT was granted a court order against NAC in an attempt to head off violence on the campus, a Cambridge police spokesman said MIT did not request police action. "We made that decision (to move in) because the situation warranted," the police official said. About 200 policemen, a few

Robertson Is Elected Mayor Of Burley In Heavy Voting

BURLEY — Garis Robertson, retired businessman and former city councilman, was elected mayor of Burley in a three-way race in Tuesday's municipal election which brought out 76 per cent of the registered voters. He defeated incumbent Mayor Joe Peters, who polled 43 votes, and Mack Crouch, former mayor, who received 240 votes. Mr. Robertson received 1,073.

Three councilmen were elected from a field of eight candidates, with only one incumbent, Sylvan Burgl, retaining his seat. Mr. Burgl, who works for the Gordon Paving Co., polled 751 votes.

Chairman Warren Barry and seconded by board member George Coiner, members voted to receive airport land for industrial development purposes and "under no circumstances" permit it to again be the site of a city dump. The action is suggestive, so far as members of the city council are concerned, but Councilman Bob Warberg, who attended the session, said he was in favor of the board's move. County commissioners at the meeting, Chairman Heber Loughmiller, Commissioners Bill Chancey and Morris Carlson, expressed their approval of the move. Chairman Loughmiller said that a comprehensive plan for Twin Falls county, now being formulated at Idaho State University, would show that in the next five to 10 years it could be expected that an interstate-type highway would run from the Nevada border, direct to the Hanover Bridge, skirting the City-County airport on the east. This alone, he said, would make the property valuable as industrial sites. Full results of the comprehensive plan are expected to be released in the near future. Mr. Miljar said that some 200 acres of BLM land southwest of the field may be available for a fill. He also urged that city and county officials study the possibility of a joint fill which would

Vacation

HAILEY — Hailey High School students continued their unplanned vacation for a third day today as construction on a cesspool continued. School district officials said the job should be completed today, and classes are scheduled to resume on Thursday. Elementary grade students were also released at 11 a.m. today, so teachers could attend a county-wide conference in Bellevue.

Roundup

Twin Falls City Police spent some time Tuesday night chasing some confused cows near the Depot Grill. "Finally some hands from the Twin Falls Livestock Commission were called to roundup the frightened critters. They had apparently escaped from the stockyards. The other two winners are James Roper, local businessman, who drew the most votes of any candidate, with 1,227, and Ted Smith, former city employee who now is in the insulation business, who polled 807 votes. The condition of Burley city finances has figured prominently in the election campaigning, with Mr. Robertson urging that the city be put back on a sound fiscal basis. Several special meetings have been held in recent weeks at which candidates expressed concern about the over spending. It has been reported the city is $43,000 over its budget. Mr. Robertson said Wednesday his main goal is to get the city back "on a sound financial basis." He said he will begin studying all departments of the city so that changes can be made where needed. City employees need not be worried about their jobs, he added, if they are doing their job. He said he feels there will be a spirit of unity among the newly elected councilmen and expressed appreciation for the support voters have given him. The other candidates for councilmen were Charles Krumm, who received 715 votes; William McGill, 667; J. L. Driskell, 391; James Henson, 375; and Marvin Lewis, 356. Mr. Driskell and Mr. Henson are incumbents.

Boise Ousts 2 Men

By United Press International Incumbent Boise Mayor Jay Amyx returned to his old office today for another four-year term but the voters in Idaho's largest city turned two incumbent city councilmen out to pasture. The largest vote-getter by far in the Boise election was newsman Dick Eardley who polled in excess of 9,000 votes to win a spot on the city council. Defeated as councilmen were incumbents William Onweiler and Ralph Frazer. Also elected to the council were Fred I. Kopke Jr., and Marjorie Ewing. In Pocatello, former independent gubernatorial candidate and former state senator and representative Perry Swisher led the ticket with 3,253 votes for a four-year seat on the Pocatello City Council. Also gaining four-year seats on the council were Charles Billmeyer and E.C. Johnson. Winning a two-year seat was Barr Brown. Swisher's vote was the highest ever cast for a Pocatello candidate in a local election and all four incumbents on the city council were bumped from office. In northern Idaho, Larry Merk, a 40-year-old economics professor at the University of Idaho, unseated 12-year veteran Mayor Fred Handel 1,204 to 839.

On another election issue, voters in Nampa decided overwhelmingly not to allow the sale of beer on Sundays. The advisory ballot proposing Sunday sales was defeated 1,010 to 1,243. The Israeli officer and eight men were gunned down during the skirmish and a wounded Israeli was carried back across the canal as a prisoner, the announcement said. All commandos reportedly returned safely to their base. Announcement of the raid came as the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahran reported that the United States has offered Egypt a new peace plan for the Middle East and Israel issued a new warning to one of its Arab neighbors.

Nixon Sees Victory In War, Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon celebrated the first anniversary of his election today with the prediction that his plans for ending the Vietnam War and licking domestic inflation will succeed. The president was clearly in excellent spirits as he hosted a breakfast for about two dozen early congressional supporters in his presidential campaign. He admitted he was "rather happy," saying it was not only because of the anniversary but because of "a couple of big victories" Tuesday in state elections.

He referred to Republican victories for governor in Virginia and New Jersey. But the president said progress toward another prime goal — reversing the rising crime rate in the nation — was being held up by congressional inaction. He said lawmakers had failed to act on administration anticrime legislation but "we're going to help their feet to the fire" until they do. He also said the public was looking to Congress for positive action on tax reform and other pocketbook items to "cut back on the cost of living."

5 Men, Woman Hijack Jet For Cuba Trip

A Brazilian jetliner hijacked by five armed men and a woman and forced to fly to Cuba landed safely at Havana today. The control tower of Santiago, Chile's Puduhuel International Airport said. The Boeing 707 belonging to Varig Airlines of Brazil was one of two Latin American airliners hijacked Tuesday. The gunmen took over after it took off from Buenos Aires with 133 persons aboard. A Nicaraguan Lancia jetliner America on a flight from Miami to Mexico City landed earlier Tuesday in Havana after a stop at Grand Cayman island in the Bahamas, 230 miles north of Cuba. The Federal Aviation Authority (FAA) said one of the two Lancia hijackers was captured by Cuban Communist police when he left the plane to supervise the release of the 32 passengers during the stopover. But police released the man when his companion aboard threatened to shoot the stewardess.

Egyptian Raiders Hit Foes

By United Press International Egyptian commandos crossed the Suez Canal today and ambushed an Israeli armored patrol on the east bank, a military spokesman in Cairo announced. He reported nine Israeli soldiers killed, including one officer. A Tel Aviv announcement confirmed the attack, the first of its kind in two weeks, but reported two Israeli soldiers killed, two injured and one captured. An Israeli spokesman said the assault was carried out under cover of a heavy mortar barrage. The Cairo announcement said the raid occurred at 7:45 a.m. opposite El Shatt near Suez City. The commandos ambushed two Israeli halftracks and one tank with antitank weapons and small arms fire, setting them ablaze and destroying them, the spokesman said. The Israeli officer and eight men were gunned down during the skirmish and a wounded Israeli was carried back across the canal as a prisoner, the announcement said. All commandos reportedly returned safely to their base. Announcement of the raid came as the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahran reported that the United States has offered Egypt a new peace plan for the Middle East and Israel issued a new warning to one of its Arab neighbors.

Sheriff Wins Mayor's Race In Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—Wayne County Sheriff Roman S. Gribbs pledged today to "turn this city around" and unite racially disunited Detroit after narrowly defeating a Negro opponent to become mayor of the nation's fifth largest city. "We shall have unity," the 43-year-old attorney told his cheering supporters. "I will be mayor of all the people." In a cliff-hanging election that went undecided until the last votes were counted, Gribbs edged Wayne County Auditor Richard H. Austin, a one-time homeblack who won the most votes in the September primary to become the Motor City's first major black candidate for mayor.

Werry Named New Mayor Of Shoshone

SHOSHONE—Ellwood Werry, retired postmaster, defeated three other candidates to become mayor in the city election here Tuesday, which drew the largest turnout of voters in the past 20 years. Mr. Werry polled 218 votes, while incumbent Mayor Victor Bozzuto, who did not file for re-election, but who had said he would accept written votes, polled 97 votes. The other two candidates on the ballot were Reid J. Newby, watermaster for the Big Wood Canal Co., who received 83 votes, and Perry Hadlock, manager of the First Security Bank, who polled 82 votes. Election officials said a total of 482 citizens cast ballots, surpassing the 1951 record when 453 persons voted. Interest of local residents has been aroused by statements from both Mayor Bozzuto and Mr. Newby indicating they favor installation of a sewage system for the city. Mr. Werry had not committed himself on this issue. There was no contest for the three councilman posts which were filled in the election. Frank N. Carothers, service station owner, received 318 votes, while Dr. Paul Jacobsen, incumbent, polled 430 for the two-year term. Wilson Churchman, manager of the Idaho Grange in town here, received 399 votes for the two-year term. Dr. Jacobsen, a veterinarian, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Charles Belz, who moved from the community last summer.

Burglary At Arson Site Investigated

Not only does it appear a home occupied by Linda Lujan at 620 Fourth Ave. E. was started on fire by an arsonist, but the place was burglarized twice. She reported the burglar to police Tuesday. Three separate fires broke out in the home about 9 p.m. Monday. When firemen arrived they found a window at the rear of the home had been broken. Firemen inside the home, quenched three fires and said it appeared to be arson. Police are still investigating this. The Lujan woman said sometime during the fire $215 in cash was stolen from her home. She said the money was in a place in the home that was not burned. Later, she reported a second burglary: Sometime Tuesday someone entered the house and took $45 worth of food and a $60 photograph album.

JOHN CHRISTOFFERSEN were elected to the Twin Falls City Council during the city election Tuesday. They will fill the posts of Mayor Egon Kroll and Councilmen Robert Warberg and John Angerbauer, who did not seek re-election. A new mayor will be elected when these three take their seats with the council after the first of the year.

Republicans Oust Democrats In Major Party Victories

Republican candidates captured the governorships of New Jersey and Virginia, from Democrats in Tuesday's elections and sent President Nixon's political stock soaring. Results were mixed in big city elections, where racial tensions and the tax-and-order issue dominated the campaigns. Mayor John V. Lindsay was re-elected in New York, Cleveland re-elected a black mayor but in Detroit, a black candidate was beaten in a tight contest. The Democrats re-elected Carl B. Stokes, only elected Negro mayor of a major American city, in Cleveland, the nation's eighth largest. In Louisville, Ky., and Syracuse, N.Y., the Democrats turned out incumbent Republican administrations. Lindsay, denied renomination by the Republican party, was re-elected as the Liberal party and independent candidate but with less than a majority of the vote. "His law-and-order opponents were Democratic City Controller Mario A. Procaccino, who finished second, and Republican State Sen. John J. Marchi, also the Conservative party nominee, who ran a weak third. In Detroit, the nation's fifth largest city, Roman S. Gribbs, Wayne County sheriff, and son

State Highway Aide Gets Probate Post

Appointment of an Idaho Department of Highways attorney as the new Twin Falls County Probate Judge was announced Tuesday afternoon by Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the county commission. Mr. McCoy will succeed Richard Reed who leaves office Friday to return to private practice with the firm of Schwartz and Door in the new Bank of Idaho building. Mr. McCoy is a graduate of the University of Idaho Law School and has been an active Republican. He is 36 years of age, has practiced law in Idaho the past seven years, served four years as deputy prosecuting attorney in Ada County, and two years as prosecuting attorney in Boise County. For the past year he has been with the Department of Highways legal staff and has spent considerable time in Twin Falls in condemnation actions for area highway construction. Married and the father of four children, he is a veteran of the Marine Corps, having served from 1950 to 1954 in the Korean conflict. Commissioner Morris W. Carlson said he will be employed at the same $9,000 annual salary as is presently paid, and will take office Monday. "This is probably the most difficult decision we have made since I have been a county commissioner," Chairman Loughmiller said of the selection. "Four applications were received for the office," he said, and after carefully weighing all factors, the commissioners voted unanimously to name Mr. McCoy to the office. Mr. Loughmiller said his previous work with juveniles and the fact commissioners felt he would be highly qualified to handle juvenile court cases was one of the major factors in the decision.

Mayor Wins Third Term In Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Incumbent Democrat Frank A. Sedita won an unprecedented third term as mayor of Buffalo Tuesday, running up a record plurality against Republican law-and-order candidate Mrs. Alfreda W. Slominski and black independent Ambrose I. Lane. Complete but unofficial returns from the city's 493 election districts gave Sedita 67,319 votes to 67,880 for Mrs. Slominski and 7,812 for Lane. He polled 20,000 more votes than he did in the 1966 election. Buffalo's mayor rate of 11,873 set by Sedita four years ago.

Girl Admits Halloween Apple Did Not Contain Razor Blade

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A jobless man jailed Halloween night on charges he gave an apple containing a razor blade to a trick-or-treat neighborhood girl will be released today because the girl's story proved to be false. Jack Thomas, 32, father of three children whose wife is ill, was arrested at his home in a housing project after Grace Wistotzky, 8, told her parents about receiving the apple. "Thomas was taken home in a magistrate who held him in $10,000 bail and told him there should be a whipping post for people like you. Since then, there have been threats to burn his house." Matthew Glotch, 44, a guard at the project, disbelieving the girl's story, talked to Grace and to Debbie Connors, 13, who made trick-or-treat rounds with Grace. Capt. Joseph Pearson said police reopened their investigation on Glotch's information. He said Grace told him she had received an apple with a razor blade in it. Pearson said the Connors girl gave the razor blade to Grace and suggested she take it home to her parents, saying she found it in the apple. Police said six other reports from children about receiving razors or pins in apples in the neighborhood have been proved false. No arrests had been made in these reports.

3 New Men On Council

Twin Falls' new councilmen are John Christoffersen, Paul Ostyn and Tom Nelson. With only two of 10 precincts in at the early hours, the trend was established. From this point on, the winners continued to build their leads over the other four candidates. By 10:45 p.m. Tuesday all votes in the city's 10 precincts had been counted. The vote was Christoffersen, 1,459; Ostyn, 1,362; Nelson, 1,277; Winston Jones, 941; Earl Falkner, 885; W. G. Crippen, 654, and Lloyd Cox, 625. Contacted by telephone, Mr. Nelson said, "There were seven well-qualified men in the race." At this point there was a loud shout of joy in the background. "That's my campaign manager," Mr. Nelson said. He continued, "It's always nice to win. I'm looking forward to the next two years on the city council." Mr. Christoffersen said he was pleased with the results. "My telephone has been ringing all night and I've been telling them I'll get the streets paved." He said this was his first time running for public office, and added, "I was surprised because you don't know how your friends will vote until it comes to something like this." Mr. Ostyn said, "I'm pleased and hope to serve the city well." The three winners will replace Mayor Egon Kroll and Councilmen John Angerbauer and Robert Warberg. In January, when the winners are sworn into office, a mayor will be elected by the seven councilmen. Holdover councilmen are Eugene Cooley, George Bannitt, Frank Cook and Frank Feldman. All who lost, with the exception of Mr. Cox, who could not be contacted by the Times-News, had comments to make on the Tuesday race. Mr. Crippen said, "I support the three men who won." Mr. Faulkner said, "Three good men won. I'm not sorry about the results. I tried." Mr. Jones said he was not surprised by the vote, saying, "I've only been in Twin Falls a short time and I'm not really well known here. The voters have elected a good council and I have no regrets. I'm happy to have tried."

2 Jupiter Probes Are Planned In The Early 1970s

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI)—The space agency said Tuesday it plans a launch in early 1972 for the first of two unmanned probes to Jupiter. The $25-million spacecraft will be the first man-made object to leave the solar system. The craft will send back pictures in two colors and scientific data on the huge planet in late 1973 after a billion-mile journey of about two years.

Weather Synopsis

A deep low-pressure system at the surface and aloft was situated just off the coast of Southwestern Canada this morning, while a cold front at the surface was moving inland to a position near Kallispell, Mont., southwest to Boise and further west to San Francisco, Calif.

The front is expected to move east across the rest of Southern Idaho by tonight, bringing cloudiness and scattered shower activity from Southern Idaho into East-Central Oregon. The cloudiness and showers may continue into Friday, posing a possible delay in some farming operations.

Possible snow is forecast for mountain areas today through Friday.

A cooling trend has begun in the lower Malheur and Southwestern Idaho valleys and will spread into Southeastern Idaho by tonight. High temperatures today will be mostly in the upper 50s and the 60s, lowering to the upper 40s and 50s on day and Thursday. Low temperatures tonight will be in the 30s and the low 40s.

Normal precipitation for this time of year is around 20 of an inch. Normal high and low temperatures for this period are: Boise, 52 and 30; Pocatello, 49 and 27; Gooding, 53 and 30; Jerome, 59 and 29; Buhl, 54 and 31; Burley, 54 and 26; Idaho Falls, 48 and 24; and Twin Falls, 53 and 27.

Skies over the valleys yesterday were partly cloudy to cloudy. The only precipitation reported was a trace at Kuna early this morning.

High temperatures over Southern Idaho yesterday were 2 to 12 degrees higher than the previous day and ranged from 61 at Pocatello and Malad to 72 at Twin Falls.

Former Governor Of Tennessee Dies In Smashup

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Frank Good Clement, the one-time political "boy wonder" Tennessee governor but failed to realize his dream of service in the U.S. Senate, died Tuesday night after his car crashed on a city street.

Clement was governor of Tennessee from 1953 to 1959, and again from 1963 to 1967. Survivors include three sons, Robert, Frank Jr. and James.

Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George D. Fischer, president of the National Education Association, has asked President Nixon to withdraw his nomination of Clement K. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court.

Fischer also said in telegrams to the Senate that Haynsworth's civil rights record "renders him unfit to hold this high public position."

Calf Is Shot At Farm Near T.F.

A. T. Billington, Route 1, reported Tuesday evening a 300-pound Holstein calf had been shot at his farm during the day.

Mr. Billington had been away from the farm buildings during the day and found the dead calf when he returned home. He lives one mile west and two and a half south of the city.

Upon investigation, the sheriff's office found footprints in the corral which led to a canal bank behind the barn. Horse tracks were found there. Officers were asking neighbors Tuesday night if they had seen anyone in the area on horseback. The calf appeared to have been shot with a 22 caliber gun.

DEMOCRAT TAKES HELM

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Former Democratic Rep. Frank W. Burke Tuesday was elected mayor of Louisville, ending eight years of Republican control in this one-time Democratic stronghold.

"Sorry!"

NEWCOMBERLAND, W. Va. (UPI) — An apology from the neighbors has ended a $50,000 damage suit — and hopefully mended "bent feelings" in this West Virginia community.

Frank Daminger, 57, and does not dabble in black magic.

Mr. Daminger had filed suit against 10 of his former neighbors, claiming defamation of character and such like, when they allegedly called him a "warlock" or "male witch." The trial ended with an apology on Tuesday, and a cheer from the plaintiff. They had a change of heart, the defendant's neighbors admitted.

Beret Officer Endorses Nixon's Talk

SAIGON (UPI) — A Green Beret officer said Tuesday he believes President Nixon's Vietnam policy statement reflected an "honest effort" to end the war in Vietnam.

An Army private said the commander-in-chief was ignoring public opinion.

American troops in Vietnam who heard Nixon's speech on the American forces Vietnam network reacted as diversely as civilians and public officials in the United States.

"I don't have any solution to the problem, but I agree with him," said Lt. Richard Sternmann, 24, of Chicago, who heard Nixon's speech at the Green Beret headquarters camp at Nha Trang.

"I don't think the minority should dictate policy to the U.S. government," Sternmann said. "I firmly believe he's making an honest effort to secure peace."

But Army PFC. Stephen Johnson, 23, of Boulder, Colo., saw it another way.

"I don't think he explained his policy enough," said Johnson. "Basically, I don't think he is listening to the U.S. public."

Burley Boys Hurt In Crash

BURLEY — Three boys Wednesday were reported as improving in Cassia Memorial Hospital where they were brought after a truck-car accident Monday morning five and one-half miles southeast of here on a county road.

Harry Brown, 18, Route 3, Burley, was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Deputy Sheriff Pete Peterson, investigating officer, said Mr. Brown, who was driving a 1959 Plymouth, stopped at a stop sign, then pulled into the intersection in front of a 1957 Chevrolet two-ton truck loaded with sugar beets, owned by Frank Saldana, Route 3, Burley.

Driving the truck was Adolfo C. Saldana, 33, 501 Malta Ave., Burley. Gary Brown, 15, another passenger in the Brown vehicle, was not hurt and neither of the drivers was injured.

Damage was $800 to the truck and the Plymouth was demolished, the deputy said.

Mrs. Hicks Aims At Mayor's Post In Boston Race

BOSTON (UPI) — There wasn't much doubt today that Louise Day Hicks, who just missed becoming Boston's first woman mayor two years ago, still has her eye on the mayor's chair.

She led a field of 18 candidates in Tuesday's municipal election winning a two-year term in the City Council with an unofficial total of 76,177 votes — better than 50 per cent more than runner-up Thomas I. Atkins, an incumbent and the lone black on the council — who had 47,364.

"All of us have experienced defeat at times," Mrs. Hicks told a victory party. "We will never experience defeat again."

The reference was clear: Louise Day Hicks had all but officially declared herself in on the mayoral action in 1971. She lost to Kevin H. White by 12,000 votes in 1967.

Former Leader In Ada County Dies

BOISE (UPI) — Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. in St. John's Cathedral Thursday for Roy Francis Murphy, an Ada County Commissioner in 1958-69.

Murphy died Monday at a Boise hospital following a short illness. A native of Manitowish, he is survived by his widow, Georgie, a daughter, a brother and three sisters.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today.

Buhl Woman Honored By BPW Club

BUHL — Mrs. Mary Tomlinson was named "Woman of Achievement" for the year by the Buhl Business and Professional Women at a recent dinner meeting.

Mrs. Tomlinson has been a BPW member since 1958. She was in charge of the scrapbook for six years and was vice president for three years. Mrs. Tomlinson was on the nursing staff at Harvard's nursing home until her retirement in 1961.

In 1968 she received the gold membership award from the national BPW organization in Washington, D. C., the only member of the Buhl club to qualify for the recognition. She is a member of the Christian church and served as a deaconess for two three-year terms. She lists her favorite hobby as fishing. Her husband, E. M. Tomlinson, is a retired businessman.

New yearbooks were distributed and members were asked to report as soon as possible if they were planning to attend the convention in Rupert. A letter was read from the president, Mrs. Berna Smith, who has returned home from the hospital.

A group of high school students presented several musical selections under the direction of Daryl Cooper. Mrs. Jewell Chisham sang a solo accompanied by Blanche Smith.

Reclamation Chief Cites Money Woes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ellis L. Armstrong was sworn in Tuesday as reclamation director, and said the biggest problem facing him is an inadequate budget.

"We need more money," Armstrong said after Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel administered the oath of office. Armstrong, 55, of Salt Lake City, succeeds the retiring Floyd E. Dornley.

Armstrong said the 75 per cent cutback ordered by President Nixon in planned federal construction projects as a means to curb inflation was "not going to help us" or make his job any easier.

"During this cutback period, we'll utilize the time to better plan and re-evaluate so that we'll be in shape when the (budgetary) situation eases up," he said.

Armstrong was promoted to commissioner after serving since May, 1968, as assistant regional director of the bureau with headquarters in Salt Lake City.

He previously served from 1936 to 1954 with the bureau on the design in construction of water development projects. He was construction manager for the U.S. portion of the St. Lawrence Power and Seaway Project and is a former commissioner of public roads in the Commerce Department.

Fall Cleanup Delayed Here

It will be at least two weeks before the city cleanup is completed according to Lloyd Nelson, sanitation inspector.

Mr. Nelson said Wednesday that trucks from the city streets department, which had been assisting with the cleanup, had been taken off the detail for more road work.

He said one trash truck is still picking up leaves, but it will be several days before the street trucks are back on the job.

The crews are now working in the east part of the city.

Meet Slated

JEROME — Applications are being accepted for the position of public works director of the city of Jerome. Mayor Earl Greenawald said the applications will be reviewed at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today.

Several applications have been received for the post and other meetings will be scheduled as more applications are received. Both the present council and the newly elected mayor and councilmen will meet tonight.

Greek Regime To Allow Inspection Of Prison Camps

ATHENS (UPI) — The government announced Tuesday it has signed an agreement to allow an international Red Cross team to visit political prisoners in jails, police stations and other detention centers.

The government said it wanted "to put a definite end to irresponsible rumors concerning the living conditions of detainees and allegations of torture."

The government said the agreement bars the Red Cross from making public any evaluation on the condition of the detainees.

Elderly Woman Confiscates 20 Defense Signs

BERKELEY (UPI) — Berkeley police have confiscated 20 civil defense signs from an 80-year-old Gold Star mother who removed them from public places as an anti-war gesture.

Mrs. Bea Whitnah, who has been illegally collecting the metal signs for six months, said Tuesday that an officer came to her home here earlier in the week and picked them up.

"I stand before you guilty of petty theft and malicious mischief," she said she told the officer.

He chose not to arrest her.

She said she vowed to "tear down" the signs again if they reappear in public places.

Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George D. Fischer, president of the National Education Association, has asked President Nixon to withdraw his nomination of Clement K. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court.

Fischer also said in telegrams to the Senate that Haynsworth's civil rights record "renders him unfit to hold this high public position."

Magic Valley Obituaries

JUD N. PETTYGROVE, 58, Hansen, a prominent area musician died Monday at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at White Mortuary Chapel. Mr. Pettygrove was active in the Twin Falls Civic Symphony and other music groups.

Mrs. Carter

Mrs. Lena Carter, 75, 363 Sixth Ave. W., died Tuesday of a long illness at a local rest home.

She was born March 22, 1893 in Caldwell, Tex., and attended schools in Hydro, Okla., where she spent most of her childhood. She moved to Gooding when she was a young girl. Mrs. Carter was a member of the Methodist Church in Richfield and a member of the Rebekah Lodge. On Oct. 6, 1912 she was married to William M. Carter Sr., in Gooding.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are three daughters, Mrs. Rulland (Thelma) Brown, Boise; Mrs. Lewis (Hazel) Stevens, Halley; and Mrs. Lee (Bevelly) Thompson, Cheyenne, Wyo.; three sons, Owen Carter, Edmond Carter and William M. Carter Jr., all Twin Falls; three sisters, Mrs. Rosie Barrie, Concord, Calif.; Mrs. Maude Prayson, Hermiston, Ore.; and Mrs. Della Brennan, Ontario, Calif.; two brothers, John Mathis, Roseburg, Ore.; and Dan Mathis, Klamath Falls, Ore.; 10 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at White Mortuary Chapel with Rev. Harold Nyquist officiating. Last rites will be in Twin Falls Cemetery.

Elsie Lindgren Speaks At Meet Of Local BPW

Elsie Lindgren, guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Twin Falls BPW Club, gave her interpretation of "The Door in The Wall" by H. G. Wells.

How necessary it is for us to accept our opportunities when they come to us and not put them off until another day, when it is, too late.

The meeting was called to order by President Ina Knox and Hilda Mall, a new member, was introduced.

Chris Newbury and Becky Meunier of the Samathrace Club were guests. Miss Newbury announced the Samathrace Club's fund raising project of selling appointment calendars for a scholarship fund to the College of Southern Idaho for girls.

The next meeting of the BPW Club will be held Nov. 17, at the Depot Grill. Mrs. Stella Wobb will present Christmas ideas and hobbies.

Wendell Elects Soares As New Mayor In Heavy Vote

WENDELL — Eugene Soares, operator of the Cash Grocery Store and a native of Wendell for many years, was elected mayor Tuesday, defeating J. E. Barrus 270-174.

In a five-way race for two posts on the city council, E. Dale Bitterli, Ineumbow, and George A. Benson won.

The vote was Bitterli, 231; Benson, 195; Richard S. Eaton, 151; Charles Freeman, 149, and D. A. Schrenk, 111.

Mr. Barrus, who already is a councilman, will serve out the remaining two years of his term.

About 80 percent of the registered voters here turned out for the election. The main issue appeared to be over the fact that Mr. Barrus, if elected mayor, would have been authorized to appoint a man of his choice to fill out his term as councilman. There had been considerable discussion over his possible appointment.

The current mayor, Carl Geisler, did not seek re-election. He had been mayor of Wendell for about 20 years.

The new councilman, Mr. Benson, is a postal employee, and Mr. Bitterli owns and operates the Conoco Service Station.

Rupert Mayor Defeats Two Contestants

RUPERT — Wendell Johnson was re-elected mayor of Rupert Tuesday, defeating Bill Strasser and Grover Newman in a close vote.

Mr. Johnson received 351 votes compared to 339 for Mr. Strasser and 226 for Mr. Newman.

In the race for the two council posts, George McDonald was elected with 355 votes and a newcomer, Bill Whitton, with 428 votes won the other post.

Other candidates included incumbent Harold Carraway, with 276 votes; Dr. Howard Toews, with 352; Glen Allen, 234, and Mark Johnson, with 165.

Four council posts are for four-year terms.

Hansen Picks Puder, Allen, Mothershead

HANSEN — Donald Puder, Allen Bourn and Kenneth Mothershead were elected to four-year terms on the city council Tuesday, and Robert L. Perkins was elected for a two-year term as city clerk.

Mr. Puder, a member of the faculty at College of Southern Idaho and a newcomer to Hansen of less than a year, led the ticket with 47 votes. Mr. Bourn, an incumbent, had 42 and Kenneth Mothershead, an incumbent, had 39.

Fourth man on the ballot, Harold M. Miller Sr., had 26 and Thomas Sanders, whose petition did not contain signatures of enough qualified voters and could not be listed on the ballot, got 14 written votes.

Although Mr. Perkins was the incumbent clerk, this was his first election. He was appointed to the post about a year ago to fill out the term of Norville Reynolds. He was unopposed and received 48 votes. There were two written votes for Jack Allen and one for Mrs. Irene O'Brien.

There was a total of 60 votes cast.

Two Retained

OAKLEY — Two Oakley men were returned to office in Tuesday's municipal election.

Ray Anderson, who is completing a two-year term, polled 47 votes while W. B. Whiteley, who has served for several years, received 46 votes.

One write-in vote was cast for June Tanner.

Woman Wins

MALTA — Mrs. Margaret Whiting, who operates the Whiting Mercantile, defeated incumbent Blaine Wight in Tuesday's municipal election here to win a seat on the Malta City Council.

She polled 32 votes, while James Bennett, service station operator, polled 27 for the other four-year term. Mr. Wight received 20 votes.

Mr. Crippen Is Gooding's New Mayor

GOODING — Harley Crippen was elected mayor of Gooding Tuesday, defeating incumbent Bob Stewart by a vote of 426 to 166.

Election officials said more than 60 percent of the registered voters turned out for the municipal election.

Three councilmen were elected, unopposed. Earl Greenawalt polled 439 votes, Don Simis received 466 while Eugene Kelly received 485. All the men are incumbents.

There seemed to be no ready explanation for either the large turnout or large majority by which Mr. Crippen won the mayor's post, but the new mayor is well known in the community, having served in the past both as councilman and mayor.

There also has been some criticism in the past of money spent for a sprinkler system at the golf course.

Kimberly Elects Two Councilmen

KIMBERLY — Two councilmen were elected at Kimberly Tuesday without opposition.

Don Taylor, incumbent, was returned to office with 99 votes. Ruel Ledbetter, a newcomer to the local political scene, received 124 votes. He will take the seat to be vacated by Willard Rees, who did not seek re-election.

Von Nebeker polled 32 write-in votes, while Mr. Rees and Art Lewis each received two.

There is also serious question whether the use of marijuana is as universal among youth as is claimed or whether it has merely been seized upon as a symbol of revolt.

But Americans of all ages seem to be reaching a consensus on one point, and that is that the laws against marijuana are inconsistent and excessively harsh...

In South Dakota, for example, until 1968, first-time conviction for simple possession of marijuana could get you 90 days.

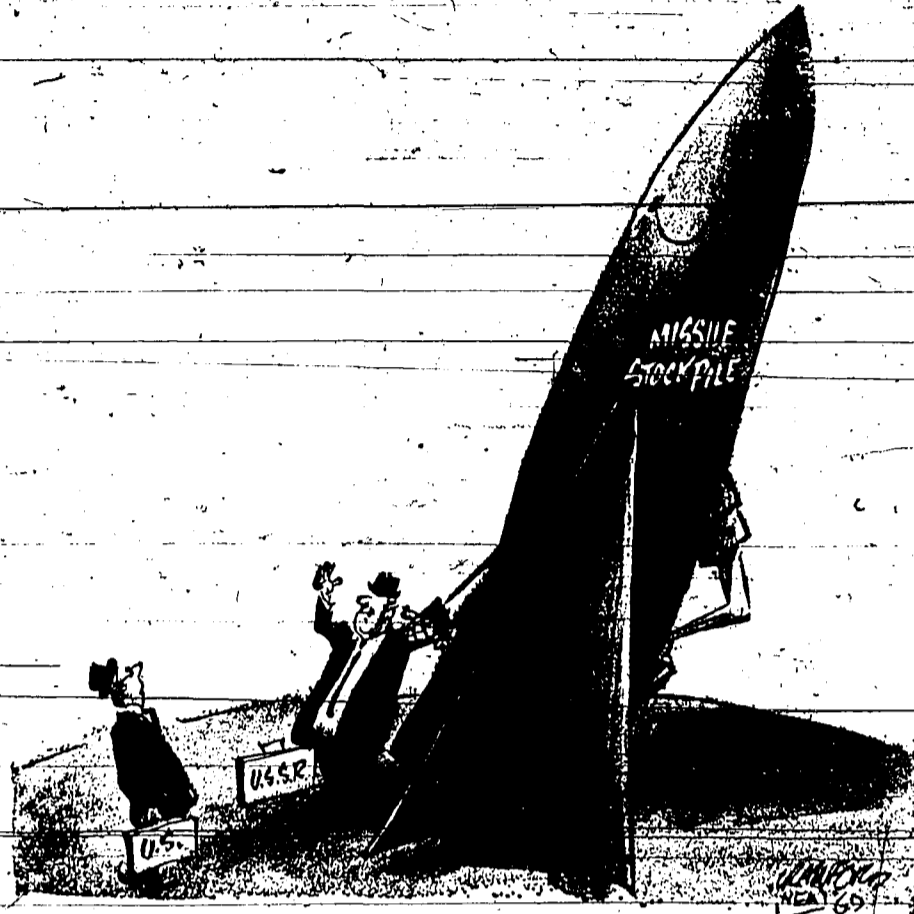

Dr. James L. Goddard, former director of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, is confident that on the basis of scientific investigations that are now being conducted...

In the meantime, it would seem that the nation might safely support the Nixon administration's recommendation that marijuana be reclassified from a hard narcotic...

MR. SPECTATOR

A New Paper Is Born

Mr. Spectator is always interested when he hears — or sees — the birth of a newspaper. And that's apparently what happened in Twin Falls because he opened an envelope and there was what was billed as the "No. 1" copy of the O'Leary "Cub News."

The first issue came out on Oct. 29 and the "sheet" was four pages filled with topics of interest to members of the student body and, really, the general public.

But Mr. Spectator couldn't help but note that the paper is a lot different than the ones put out when he went to school. He was editor of his high school paper, for instance, and it was a lot less interesting than the O'Leary publication.

For instance, Mr. Spectator would have been thrown out of school if he had authorized an editorial titled "Should Girls Wear Pants?"

Seems as though some of the gals at O'Leary want to wear slacks when it is cold and windy but the school dress code says that "no fadish clothing or make-up will be tolerated."

And right here Mr. Spectator is going to side in with the editor of the Cub News. He thinks there is nothing really wrong with slacks providing the gal has at least some sort of figure that looks good in them.

In fact, Mr. Spectator might drop a suggestion that the "no slacks" rule in any school must be set up by someone who is just too ponderous to wear them.

staff members are to be complimented on in the start of the publication. A school paper is a must and can be kept interesting by a good staff.

And to prove our point, let us point out a comment which was published relative to a student's feeling toward the hot lunches served at the school.

Said the interviewed student: "I don't like what my mother cooks either!"

And in closing — and for the records — we point out that the staff of the paper were ninth grade students in Sixth Period English, Room 104.

CIGARETTE DANGERS

No kidding. A bill has been introduced in Congress by Rep. James A. Byrne, D-Pa., which would require cigarette packages to carry the following warning:

The smoking of cigarettes is a dangerous fire hazard which results in hundreds of deaths and many millions of dollars in damage each year. You are urged never to smoke in bed or when in a drowsy condition and to be absolutely certain that each cigarette, before it is disposed of, is completely extinguished.

Put that on the package along with the health warning, the U.S. Surgeon General's latest tar and nicotine report and, of course, the brand name and there will hardly be enough room for another necessary notice.

Caution. Reading the small print on cigarette packages can cause severe eyestrain.

ART BUCHWALD

Henpecked

WASHINGTON — The days when a husband came home to a henpecking wife are a thing of the past. In these perilous times, it isn't a man's wife who gives him hell, but his children.

I didn't realize how common it was until I ran into my friend Nolan in a bar around 1 o'clock in the evening. Nolan was belting them down pretty fast and I said to him:

"Don't you think it's about time you went home?"

"What for?" Nolan said. "I'll just catch it from the kids."

"Have they been hard on you lately?" I asked.

"They're impossible. The minute I walk into the door they start in on me. Why do they have to wait for dinner while I watch the news. How come I can't drink a martini and they can't smoke pot? Why can't they each have a telephone in their own room? I tell you, they're driving me crazy."

"Why don't you tell them to shut up?"

"I do, but it doesn't do any good? They're so deaf from listening to their records that they can't hear anything I say. If they've had a fight with their mother and I stick up for her, they all accuse me of taking her side. I can't seem to do anything right."

"I have a 17-year-old son, and he's the bomb thrower in the family. He says everything in the system stinks. He's ashamed of the bourgeois life we lead and the bourgeois friends we have. But he's not above borrowing my bourgeois car to drive his girlfriend to a student meeting to overthrow the bourgeois establishment."

"It must be tough," I said to Nolan, buying him a drink.

"When my 16-year-old daughter goes out on a date and I say she has to be in at a certain hour, she says I'm destroying her social life, and it will serve me right when she winds up on a psychiatrist's couch."

"They really put you through the wringer, don't they?" I said.

"Nolan was practically in tears. "You don't know what it's like. The other night my 13-year-old said that Paul McCartney of the Beatles was dead. I said he wasn't dead that it was all a put-on, and that he was alive and well in London. She said I didn't know what I was talking about, because all the kids new he was dead. I showed her a picture in the newspaper of McCartney proving he wasn't dead, and she said the grownups were just hiding the facts from the kids because we wanted them to think he was alive. She said if I lied to her about McCartney, I probably lied to her about everything."

"What's the answer, Nolan?" I asked, as I bought him another drink.

"If it wasn't for my wife, I'd probably call the whole thing off. I love my wife, and I wouldn't do anything to hurt her."

"Then you're keeping the marriage going because of your wife?"

"That's all that's left of the home. I'm putting up a front with the kids, just so I can be near my wife. But it isn't easy. It's hard for a wife to live in a house where there is bickering going on all the time, and I think she senses that the only reason I come home at night is because of her."

"But Nolan, you can't stay married just because you love your wife," I said.

"It's tough," he said. "But I can't make her suffer just because I have three kids that drive me up the wall."

It is possible for TB germs, long dormant in scar tissue, to break out into a new infection years later, although after a lapse of 50 years, some new exposure to the disease would seem more likely.

From the little you told me—the lack of fever—I would doubt that your chest pain is TB, but if I were your doctor, I would still be suspicious until I knew for certain that it wasn't.

For whatever is the cause, a chest X-ray would be a good starting point, then a sputum analysis.

TB still attacks enough people to make me wish that all would maintain a suspicious attitude toward this deceptive disease.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Have had a pain in the right leg, from ankle to hip, for some time. Looks like arthritis. Did not go to the doctor because I understand they only give pills and tablets to relieve pain, no cure. So I have been rubbing the leg and ankle with liniment twice a day. Not much good. Can you suggest something else to do?—J.R.

Frankly your trouble, to me, does not sound like arthritis, because if it were, the pain would be in the joints.

A big mistake, made by too many people, is taking it for granted that any sort of chronic pain is "arthritis."

Even if it is arthritis, a good deal can be done to relieve the misery and prevent it from becoming worse, or crippling you. One of the great experts on arthritis insists that virtually every case of arthritis can be helped (although not totally cured) if treated soon enough and in the right way.

But in your case, the thing to do is find out for certain what your trouble is. That should be your first reason for seeing your doctor—for accurate diagnosis.

Many cases of supposed "arthritis" turn out to be conditions which can be cured.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it all right to do sit-up exercises during pregnancy? If not, what exercises are best?—Mrs. C.B.

If there is no history of miscarriage, any reasonable exercise is good during pregnancy. As to sit-ups, you'll know when to stop—they'll become uncomfortable and awkward.

In later pregnancy, walking is the best all-round exercise.

D. Acheson Assails Custom Of Presidential Assistants

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dean Acheson, who was very much his own man as President Harry S. Truman's secretary of state, said Tuesday night he would quit the job if there were a "second State Department" at the White House.

He was referring to the practice of presidents since John F. Kennedy of maintaining such foreign affairs advisers on their staffs as George Bundy, Henry A. Kissinger and Henry Kissinger.

Acheson, 76, reminisced about what he would do about the situation if he were secretary of state. Acheson replied: "I'd cease being secretary of state. You couldn't function. I couldn't function."

In a television interview (A Conversation with Dean Acheson—CBS), he said, Kennedy started it "to be sure that this thing called a State Department over there wasn't putting something over on the president."

Presidents always have been suspicious of the State Department, Acheson said, but he didn't have that trouble. "I think one of the reasons that Mr. Truman made me secretary of state was that he knew he could trust me," Acheson said.

Presidents haven't known their secretaries of state as well as he knew them.

Acheson, 76, reminisced about great world figures he had known, and gave the highest marks to Sir Winston Churchill and Gen. George C. Marshall. And he expressed irritation with President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

His comments: —Churchill: "The most outstanding man that I have ever met."

—Marshall: "General Marshall had such a commanding nature, and he was a person of such moral grandeur, tremendous self-control."

—Truman: "I thought he was a great president. In that role he was superb. He had many qualities of greatness, but I don't think he had quite the scope of the two I have mentioned (Churchill and Marshall)."

—Former French President Charles de Gaulle: "He was superb, and was a great actor, but not particularly a great man. And he had very poor judgment."

—Former West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer: "A remarkable person, just a remarkable old man. He belongs in a high rank."

—Roosevelt: "He was the 'Squire of Hyde Park'—it didn't flatter me to have the squire come by and speak to me familiarly, as though I were a stable boy and I was supposed to pull my lock and say 'aye, aye, sir.' That I did not find flattering."

Acheson expressed concern there were no longer any leaders of such stature on the world scene.

"The century of the common man has come into its own," he said. "Wherever you look you'll find governments which are not outstanding in nature. They're not outstanding in strength. They seem to be more of an average type. These grave problems coming from this."

Many Endorse Viet Policy Of President

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon, sitting behind stacks of telegrams from the "silent Americans," said Tuesday public support of his Vietnam policy could do more to end the war than the most skilled diplomatic or military strategy.

The President invited reporters into his Oval Office to see the piles of telegrams, numbering in the "high thousands," received by the White House since his Monday night nationwide television and radio address.

"I would put it this way flatly," said Nixon, "this demonstration of support can have more effect on ending the war sooner than the most skillful diplomacy, military tactics or training of South Vietnamese forces."

In his 33-minute address, Nixon said a precipitate withdrawal from Vietnam of U.S. forces would only increase the possibility of more wars like Vietnam.

He asked the "great silent majority of my fellow Americans" to support his policy of ending the war until South Vietnam can carry on without U.S. troops.

The main theme of the telegrams of support, Nixon told reporters, was, "we are silent Americans who are behind you."

Obviously pleased that he had coined a phrase, Nixon said, "About 50 per cent used the term silent Americans."

White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Western Union told him that 22 private circuits and eight commercial circuits "were totally jammed with telegrams for the White House." They were still arriving Tuesday afternoon.

Samuelson Cites Need Of Funds

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson told a news conference Tuesday that Idaho may need its permanent building fund monies for other than construction purposes next year.

Samuelson said he has been reading national business publications about the anticipated state of the economy in 1970 and said "it's kinda scary."

"They all predict business is going to be tight next year," he said. "It's going to slow down."

He said that while this does not necessarily mean a recession for business it could put the state of Idaho in a real bind because "our budget is projected on a certain percentage of increase."

If the money does not come in as expected, he said, the state could be in trouble financially.

He said the state could afford to cut back some $4 million on its building program and use the money to bolster the general fund. Even if the revenues come in as expected, he said, the building fund revenue may be needed for supplemental general fund appropriations.

Samuelson said it appears Boise State College will have a need for more money because its enrollment this year was greater than predicted. He said that predictions for the two universities at this point, however, appeared to be right on target.

The governor said his staff is checking the needs of Idaho's institutions of higher education as well as other state agencies so he can make his requests to the legislature when it meets again in January.

As yet, he said, he has not met with legislative leaders but he plans to do so when all his budgetary information is gathered. This, he said, should take "another week or so."

Idaho Governor Praises Nixon For War Stand

BOISE (UPI)—President Nixon's address on U.S. policy in Vietnam "reflected his intense and ceaseless and earnest desire for peace," Gov. Don Samuelson said Tuesday.

"President Nixon spoke frankly and directly to the hearts and minds of the most Americans," Samuelson said.

His talk reflected his intense and ceaseless and earnest desire for peace, which we all share, but he properly emphasized that it takes two to produce and agree to a just and honorable peace.

"He discarded apprehension and surrender, two words which are not in the vocabulary of the United States of America," Samuelson said. "It's no easy way out of the war which Mr. Nixon inherited."

TRICIA HELPS CLINIC
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Tricia Nixon helped Monday in a German measles immunization program for grade school children. The President's 23-year-old daughter swabbed the arms of about 50 of the children, reassuring them and praising them while doctors gave each child a shot from a jet injector.

DISHWASHING WILL BE EASIER at Harbor House and also will meet all State Health Department requirements, thanks to the Twin Falls Rotary Club. One of the major donations received at Harbor House has been presented by Rotarians and consists of an electric dishwasher and a large deep freeze unit. Here Fred Wanzon, Rotary president, and Dan Obenchain, first vice president, look over the already much-used new dishwasher. William Langley was chairman of the project, an annual effort in which the Rotary Club donates to one major youth program in the community.

Solons From Both Parties Back Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A hundred House members, evenly divided by party, introduced a resolution Tuesday backing President Nixon's search for a "just peace" in Vietnam. But at least two signers expressed reservations about the President's latest policy pronouncement.

The resolution was drafted and circulated for support in advance of Nixon's Monday night Vietnam address, although the chief sponsor, Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., said that House passage would mean "the silent majority speaking up for the President's efforts."

On the other hand, Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, D-Md., said he was disappointed in the President's speech, saying that as to pursuing the policy urged in the resolution "He's not doing it right now but we're hoping he will."

A similar position was taken by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who saw the speech as "a hardening of the line, less flexibility."

Earlier, Wright had said the White House assured signers in advance there would be nothing in the Nixon address to affect the resolution's validity.

'Panther' Chief Continues Arguments In Chicago Trial

CHICAGO (UPI) — "May the record show that Mr. Seale represented," the prosecutor said. "May the record show that I'm a black man too and I'm being railroaded," Bobby Seale shot back, rising from his seat. It was the first of the six times Seale, national chairman of the Black Panther party, seemed angry when he rose from his seat Tuesday to demand he be allowed to act as his own attorney in the trial of the "Chicago Eight."

U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman adjourned court 15 minutes early, after telling Seale that William Kunstler is his defense attorney. Seale contends Charles R. Garry of San Francisco is his lawyer and since Garry is recovering from an operation he should be allowed to cross-examine witnesses himself. In another development Tuesday, 30 lawyers, charging Judge Hoffman had returned Seale to his "pre-emancipation chains" when he gagged and shackled him last week, filed a District Court suit asking for an immediate show cause on why the trial should not be halted. The petition said the trial should be halted until Judge Hoffman permitted Seale to act as his own attorney.

Broadcasters Offer To Halt Ads By 1971

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A last-minute offer by broadcasters left Congress uncertain today whether cigarette commercials should leave the air by law or by industry abstinence—and when.

The Senate Commerce Committee faced three options today in a closed meeting. One would outlaw television and radio cigarette commercials, effective either Sept. 30, 1970, or Jan. 1, 1971.

A second would grant nine cigarette makers a special antitrust exemption so they could carry out their offer to stop voluntarily all broadcast advertising next September.

The third, tossed into the hopper by the National Association of Broadcasters late Tuesday, would require no legislation. The NAB promised to black-out cigarette commercials effective Sept. 1, 1971.

The committee tentatively approved Thursday the first option, a law against cigarette commercials. But the unexpected NAB offer reopened the issue.

The committee also faced a key vote on whether to forbid the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to require a health warning in printed cigarette advertisements.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, urged his colleagues to leave the FTC free to step in with a health warning requirement or some other regulation if cigarette makers diverted their broadcasting advertising money to "a great flood" of advertising in other media.

Distaff Mayor Regains Seat In Hartford

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Mayor Ann Uccello, the only woman mayor of an American capital city, narrowly won reelection Tuesday to a second term.

Miss Uccello, the 47-year-old daughter of an immigrant shoemaker, defeated Joseph Alinoff, Democrat, by 337 votes, 14,724 to 14,187.

The victory thrust her into contention for higher office on the Republican state ticket in 1970.

Miss Uccello was able to capitalize on a three-way split in the Democratic party between Alinoff, the party choice, Deputy Mayor George B. Kinsella, and Wilbur Smith, the Liberal party candidate and an NAACP official.

Smith, the first Negro political candidate in Hartford's 334-year history, drew 5,443 votes and Kinsella 4,363. Hartford has 35,700 registered Democrats and 9,500 Republicans.

In New Haven, Board of Aldermen President Bartholomew Guida, a Democrat, defeated his Republican opponent, Paul Capra, a 30-year-old assistant director of admissions at Yale University. Guida polled 20,440 votes to 18,742 for Capra.

Nixon Appoints Assistants To Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has named Bryce Harlow and Daniel P. Moynihan presidential counselors with cabinet rank—only the second and third men to hold that title.

Arthur Burns, the first person to be designated counselor, was named by Nixon in October to become chairman of the Federal Reserve Board Jan. 31, coming year.

South Chills As Rain Pelts Northeast

Tallahassee, Fla., was 10 degrees colder than Minot, N.D., this morning. Minot had a 45-degree reading; Tallahassee logged 35.

Gentle rains peppered the Northeast, portions of the Atlantic Seaboard and Southern Florida. Heavy precipitation and high winds blasted the Northwest.

North Bend, Ore., had more than three inches of rain in 18 hours from an intense storm over the area. Cape Blanco, Brookings and Astoria, Ore., all reported more than two inches.

Credit Code Explained At Burley Meet

BURLEY — Tim Brennan explained the proposed Uniform Consumer Credit Code which will be presented to the state legislature in January during a luncheon meeting of the Burley Chamber of Commerce at Bryan's Cafe.

The proposed bill is patterned after the federal "Truth in Lending" law. If the proposed bill is passed by the state legislature it would give the state the right to enforce the federal law which is supervised by the Federal Reserve Board.

The proposed bill is likely to be identical in wording to the federal law in order that there will be no question when Idaho applies to the Federal Reserve Board, Mr. Brennan said.

There is a bill before Congress now which, if passed, would prohibit states from enforcing the federal law. Many Idaho retailers opposed this bill, Mr. Brennan reported.

Other topics on which Mr. Brennan spoke briefly were minimum wage raise, and inventory tax phaseout.

James Roper reported that a bid for the GOP State Convention June 12-13, 1970, in Burley has been forwarded to the site committee.

A board of directors meeting was held following the luncheon and Jay Schofield was selected as second vice president of the chamber for the coming year.

School Officials Ponder Dilemma Of Youth 'Preaching Gospel' During Lunch Hour

FREMONT, Calif. (UPI) — School district officials have asked for a legal opinion on whether a student can be disciplined for preaching the gospel during his lunch hour.

The district acted in the case of Steven Minyen, 18, sent home by Dr. Robert Callahan, principal of Washington High School last week, because he refused to stop "talking about God."

Steven and his mother, Mrs. Asa J. Minyen, later met with Callahan to discuss the matter and Mrs. Minyen said Steven "feels that God can help people in times of need and he wants to be a witness to that."

Monday night, more than 700 members of the Assembly of God Church held a rally in nearby Hayward to support Minyen's "lonely step in behalf of his convictions."

The Alameda County attorney's office said it would have an opinion on the matter by the end of the week.

Callahan himself has not commented on the action, or on Steven's parents' charges that he was "suspended" for a day and a half.

But a spokesman for the school district said Callahan "did at no time suspend Steve Minyen. He merely asked him to go home and return with his parents to discuss the matter."

Callahan's schedule did not permit him to meet with Mrs. Minyen for another day and a half, the spokesman said. He said Callahan believed that preaching on a school grounds was against the law.

Agency Fires Industrial Engineer Who Saw $2 Billion Additional Costs in Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A. E. Fitzgerald, the man who told Congress the Pentagon was going to have to pay nearly $2 billion more than expected for a batch of cargo planes, has been fired by the Defense Department.

The Pentagon said it was an economy move. Fitzgerald said he expected it, and Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a military spending critic, called it a reprisal for offending the military establishment.

Fitzgerald, 44, an industrial engineer who served as a cost watch dog in the Pentagon, was told Tuesday his $31,000-a-year job had been eliminated, and that no other job there was available for him. The Defense Department said 849 other jobs also were eliminated in the same economy drive and that Fitzgerald's testimony in the cargo plane case had "absolutely no" connection with the loss of his job.

Fitzgerald told a congressional committee nearly one year ago that the cost for 120 C-5A cargo planes had risen to more than $5 billion, compared to original estimates of $3.4 billion. The revelation precipitated a storm of congressional criticism and close Senate scrutiny of the whole project earlier this year.

The public announcement involving Fitzgerald's job did not mention him by name. His position as an Air Force deputy for management systems was merely one of those jobs listed as being abolished to save money.

The Pentagon said Fitzgerald would remain on the payroll until Jan. 3 and will be entitled to about $3,778 in severance pay if he does not receive an offer of another Civil Service job.

Former Banker At Buhl Named To Seattle Post

The appointment of Robert V. Pence to the board of directors of the Pacific Coast Banking School at the University of Washington was announced today.

The Pacific Coast Banking School is recognized as one of the most outstanding banking schools in the United States. Its curriculum provides advanced bank management study programs to bank officers throughout the Northwest.

Mr. Pence is vice president of the Idaho First National Bank and has been manager of the bank's Pocatello main office since Jan. 1, 1965. He joined the Idaho First National Bank in Buhl in 1946 and was named to the assistant manager's post in 1952. He became manager of the Buhl branch in 1959 and continued in that capacity until November, 1964, when he moved to Pocatello.

He received the Buhl Distinguished Service Award in 1959 and served for nine years as a member of the school board. He is a past president of the South Central Bankers Association.

Young Candidate Loses Election

KENT, N.Y. (UPI) — The race for town supervisor of Kent was a two-man, one-horse race.

George C. Whipple III ran as a write-in candidate, saying he understood the problems of the city's young people. Whipple, a 14-year-old student at Choate Prep School, finished third—well behind the Republican and Democratic candidates.

Jerome Voters Approve Passage Of Dog Leash Law

JEROME—Jerome city voters overwhelmingly approved the enactment by the city council of a dog leash law.

In an advisory ballot in Tuesday's city election, 478 voters were cast in favor of such a leash law, compared to 278 against.

Jack A. Russell, former councilman, was elected mayor without opposition. He polled 381 votes.

Elwin L. Tinker, incumbent, and Walter C. Bentzinger, were elected to the two councilman posts, defeating Jerry H. Nelson, who polled 206 votes.

Mr. Tinker received 611 votes, while Mr. Bentzinger received 605 votes.

Mayor Earl C. Greenawald, who did not seek re-election, said the council desired an expression from voters as to whether they favor an ordinance which would make it unlawful for the owner of a dog to allow him to run at large within the city.

Mayor Named

CASTLEFORD—Willis Owen was elected mayor of Castleford in Tuesday's city election. He received 23 votes and was unopposed. Former mayor, Carl Peterson, got five write-in votes.

In the three-way councilman race, Paul Warr, with 16 votes, and Lester Walden, with 29, were elected to the two posts. They defeated Jack Healey, who polled 12 votes. Both the elected councilmen are new to city office.

Thometz, Loos Win Election Of Buhl Posts

BUHL—Richard Thometz, owner and operator of Thometz Canvas shop and former councilman, and Darrel Loos, owner of Wright Fuel Co., won a four-way race for the two Buhl city council posts Tuesday.

Mr. Thometz received 249 votes while Mr. Loos polled 176. They will replace Dale Christensen and George Harvey, neither of whom sought re-election.

Other contestants in Tuesday's election were Donald Nowlis, who polled 124 votes and Wendell Gannon, who received 93 votes.

Write-In Elected

DIETRICH—One of the two unopposed candidates in Dietrich's city election Tuesday is moving to Nevada, but voters elected a write-in to take his place.

William Towne Jr. who had filed a nominating petition, is moving, so Ladd Hollibaugh received 13 write-in votes to be elected in his place. Dean Durfee received 16 votes for the other council post.

Mayor Named

EILER—Dan Coffman received 79 votes for mayor in the Eiler election Tuesday, which drew a light turnout of voters.

He was unopposed as incumbent Ralph Pitts did not file for re-election. The incumbent councilmen were re-elected, both unopposed. Richard Schweitzer polled 78 votes while Gilbert Chandler received 75.

Patterson, Dale Elected at S.V.

SUN VALLEY—Incumbent Councilman James A. Patterson was returned to the Sun Valley City Council here in Tuesday's municipal election.

Also elected was O. A. (Laddy) Dale, who polled 20 votes while Mr. Patterson received 17. The third candidate, Jack L. Gray, received 16 votes and Shrede Archer Jr., a write-in, polled five.

2 Re-Elected

Honorable?

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—For only $9, Frank Moeller met a thief with honor.

Moeller, an insurance man, was riding alone in an elevator at a housing project when the elevator stopped between floors and a voice came up the shaft, saying: "Drop your wallet down the shaft or you'll be here a while."

Moeller dropped his wallet, containing $9, and the elevator carried him to the 11th floor.

Elmer Pyne Is Hazelton Mayor

HAZELTON—Elmer Pyne is the city's new mayor, getting 52 votes in the Tuesday election.

There were four write-in votes for Dale Pressey and one vote for Harry Kurtz.

The two new councilmen are Wallace Bragg, with 55 votes, and Kermit Douglas, getting 31 votes.

Others with vote totals are Charles Orr, 25; Leonard Hamilton, 3, and Grant Turner, 4.

Eden Voters Okay Sewer Bond Issue

EDEN—Voters here approved a sewer bond issue, voting 84 to 42 in favor of the issue.

The sewer facility will cost $163,250, with $30,000 to come from a grant and the remainder from a federal loan.

Incumbent councilmen re-elected in Tuesday's voting were Terry Burnett, 101; Ronald Metcalf, 109, and Jerry Jergen, 91 votes.

There were two votes each for Les McNeil and Ray Clark.

Two Elected

PAUL—Both incumbents were re-elected in the Paul city election Tuesday, with Art Uhrich and Frank Wood defeating two opponents in the four-way race.

Mr. Uhrich received 65 votes and Mr. Wood polled 39 votes for the two four-year terms. Their opponents, Tom Felton, received 20 votes, and Michael Taylor polled 27.

Richey Wins Mayor's Post For Ketchum

KETCHUM—Kenneth W. Richey, former mayor and councilman, was elected mayor here Tuesday, defeating incumbent Ted Werry and Ben Jewell, a city councilman.

Mr. Richey, who served on the former village board for 10 years, polled 245 votes, compared to 183 for Mayor Werry and 97 for Mr. Jewell.

In the race for the two city council posts, which were contested by seven candidates, including one woman, Gerald Stowell and Vern McClellan won. Mr. Stowell, manager of Pete Eane's Store in Sun Valley, polled 277 votes, and Mr. McClellan, who is supervisor of repairs and maintenance at Sun Valley, received 209 votes.

Other candidates included Carl Mullins, who received 151 votes; Phil Puchner, 155; Jack Simpson, 114; Von Murphy, 110, and Mrs. Ardis Allen, 38.

New Troy Laundry Building Under Construction Here

Construction of a 50-by-125-foot metal pipe of which some 20 clear span structure just south of the present Troy National Laundry is now under way, which will provide much needed sorting and receiving room for linen supplies.

Bill Powell, owner of the laundry concern, said his firm now serves commercial and private interests within 100 miles in all directions of Twin Falls, with a linen supply program involving the furnishing, laundering and delivery of sheets, towels and other linens.

The new cinderblock building will house a 250-horsepower boiler and is expected to be completed by Dec. 10 when the firm begins serving customers at Sun Valley and that area for the winter season.

Last summer the boiler in the present building exploded, and since then a new boiler system has been put in use. Mr. Powell said in connection with this, the old "smoke stack" on the present building has been removed. This came down Tuesday, involving about 60 feet of HEAVY CRANE EQUIPMENT from Northwest Crane and Rigging Co., Twin Falls removed a Twin Falls landmark Tuesday from the top of the Troy National Laundry building. The equipment lifted a 60-foot high steel smoke stack from the building in connection with construction on a new linen sorting and receiving building, being built just south of the present building.

Head Of Idaho Magistrates Association Explains Details Of Court Modernization

Idaho's court modernization plan goes into effect Jan. 11, 1971. At that time the lower courts as they exist in the state today will be a thing of the past.

Glenn A. Phillips, Arco, president of the Idaho Magistrates Association, is active in speaking and writing about the transition to the new court system.

"Some new magistrates will be laymen. This was the intent of the law. But there will and must be some attorney magistrates and for two very good reasons," he said.

First, a magistrate appointment is a training step to a District Judgeship or a seat on the Idaho Supreme Court. Second, magistrates in various areas will be required to preside over some detailed preliminary hearings and handle complex estates matters, divorces and guardianships.

Mr. Phillips said, "In many cases, however, the layman judge is just as qualified to handle court cases as the attorney and this was the wish of the Legislature and the governor's office when the court package was passed."

He pointed out all present lower court judges will be eligible for appointment as magistrates when the court modernization package goes into effect, in a little more than a year.

"The court modernization plan goes back two and a half years, to March of 1967. At that time Idaho's 13 judicial districts were changed to the present seven judicial districts with each district having a minimum of three judges.

"This was one of the first steps approved in the court plan and it provides for much more flexibility in the district and for better service to the citizens in Idaho," Mr. Phillips said.

Each county in Idaho will have a magistrates division of the District Court. A magistrate means a person appointed to a post within the District Court system.

Also, in each judicial district there will be a district magistrates division which will consist of the chairman of the county commission, a mayor of a city appointed by the governor, and the senior District Judge of the district. The senior judge may appoint one of his judges to the division.

The three-person group will have the power to determine the number and location of magistrates to be appointed within the judicial district, out of the allotment allowed each district by law. Salaries of magistrates need not be uniform, it was reported.

Magistrates will be appointed on a non-partisan merit basis.

It also was reported the actions of the commission shall be subject to approval of a majority of the judges in the district.

Mr. Phillips said a magistrate must be a qualified elector of the county for which he is appointed, except qualified non-residents may be appointed when no other qualified elector is available.

A magistrate must have a high school education or the equivalent and they shall not take office for the first time until they have attended a special institute on the functions of the office. It will be supervised by the Supreme Court.

A magistrates term will be for two years, with the term starting on the second Monday of January of each odd-numbered year.

A magistrate may be removed from office after a hearing before a District Judge and after a vote of dismissal by all the judges in the district.

At the present time, lower courts in the state consist of City Courts, Justice Courts and Probate Courts. This makes a three-level system for courts in the state. The three levels are Supreme Court, District Courts and the lower courts.

Under the new system, there will be only two levels — the Supreme Court and the District Courts, Mr. Phillips said.

Publication Tells About New Savings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department announced Tuesday publication of a 400-page book to help Americans plan healthier diets and to reduce their grocery bills.

The book, "Food for Us All," includes 46 separate articles by government and academic experts on subjects ranging from the economics of food production and marketing to building better eating habits, menu planning, dieting and money stretching ideas to make your food dollar go farther.

Practical advice for food shoppers in the book ranges from a simple warning: "Don't pinch the produce"—to a moderately complex table which cautions consumer can use to determine if he is saving or losing money by buying sides of beef for home freezer storage.

Nixon Writes Off Confab, Pins Hope On Troop Pullout

By STEWART HENSLEY
UPI Diplomatic Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has virtually written off the Paris talks. He now pins his hopes on a gradual U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam under conditions giving the Saigon government a fighting chance for survival.

The President's address to the nation Monday night was aimed at two audiences.

He appealed to the American public for time in which to achieve a carefully staged pullout keyed to the increasing ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves.

He warned Hanoi the timetable would be interrupted and the United States would take "strong and effective measures" if the Communists increased infiltration or the level of violence during the U.S. pullout.

Nixon called this "a plan which will bring the war to an end regardless of what happens on the negotiating front."

In his May 14 address in Vietnam, the President had emphasized his proposals for a negotiated peace, involving mutual withdrawals by Hanoi and the United States and a political settlement worked out by the Saigon government and the Viet Cong.

Monday night he put his emphasis on a plan for staged U.S. withdrawal over a period of time with honor.

In effect, he has come to terms with reality.

He recognizes the United States must get out of Vietnam within the next two or three years to avoid an explosion at home and that there is little hope of doing it at the negotiating table.

His formula for disengagement says to Hanoi: Give us a virtual cease-fire for a while and we will pull out, leaving it to you and Saigon to settle your differences.

Nixon's hope is that Saigon will be strong enough by then to strike a good bargain on its own.

But whether it is or not, the United States will have withdrawn gradually on the assumption that Saigon has been built up enough to take care of itself.

This would enable the United States to feel it had fulfilled its commitment. Nixon stated in July at Guam and repeated Monday night — that Asian nations must be able to handle their own defense except for massive attacks by nuclear powers.

'Maxicoats' Stir Sailors' Protest

FALL RIVER, Mass. (UPI) — Crewmen of the destroyer Purdy want the skipper of the battleship Massachusetts to do something about "maxicoats."

Sailors from the destroyer, permanently moored alongside the mothballed battleship which is now the state's war memorial, warned Capt. James F. Gavin today that the popular full-length coats may be a safety hazard in walking gangplanks or climbing steep ladders aboard ship.

Reliable sources aboard the Purdy, however, indicated there may have been an ulterior motive to the petition. It seems the destroyer's crew has been spying on female visitors to "Old Mamie" through a telescope and the maxicoats cut down visibility.

Idaho State Moose Convention To Open Thursday In Buhl

BUHL — Some 300 delegates are expected to attend the convention of the Idaho State Moose Association Thursday through Saturday in Buhl, according to Henry Wavra, Twin Falls, general chairman.

Special guests and featured speakers during the three-day convention will be George R. Reilly, San Francisco, past supreme governor of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Official visitor for the Women of the Moose is Alta Meade, past graduate grand regent, Aberdeen, S. D.

Registration for both men and women will begin at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Buhl Moose Home. Regular sessions will begin at 2 p.m. at the Moose Home. At 6:30 p.m. buses will leave the Moose Home for Jackpot, Nev., for dinner and entertainment.

At 9:30 a.m. Friday a general assembly for the Loyal Order of Moose and the Women of the Moose will be held at the Moose Home. The assembly will be followed by a no-host luncheon at the R and R Cafe where members will be addressed by supreme lodge representative, George Reilly.

At 1:30 p.m. the Loyal Order of Moose will hold its business meeting at the Buhl VFW hall, with Barth Combe, state president, in charge. The Women of Moose will meet at 2 p.m. at the Moose Home with Mrs. Henry Wavra, former deputy grand regent, presiding.

General sessions will continue Saturday morning and afternoon. At 3:30 p.m. Saturday drill exhibitions will be held at the Jaycee hall, formerly the American Legion hall, to which the public is invited.

The President's Banquet will be held at the Moose Home at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, at which time new officers will be installed.

Following the banquet, the President's Hall will be held at the Jaycee Hall.

State officers for the Loyal Order of Moose include Barth Combe, president; R. D. Clark, Jr., past president and deputy supreme governor; Henry Wavra, secretary-treasurer; Roland Young, vice president Gateway district; Nile Casten, vice president Magic Valley district; Cleo Smith, vice president Capitol district; R. G. Bailey, sports chairman; Max Kirkland, Ritual chairman; and Elden Thompson, publicity chairman.

Supreme Lodge visitors are Mr. Reilly and Kenneth James, state director.

Officers of Buhl Lodge No. 305 include Leonard Vitek, past governor; Loy Spradling, governor; Steve Foukal, secretary; Shelley Howard, treasurer; Homer Bean, prelate; Lee Monroe, junior governor; Roy Howerton, sergeant-at-arms; J. K. Patton, son, assistant sergeant-at-arms; Clifford Brown, Leroy Jenkins and Thomas Novacek, trustees; Charles Tippet, inner guard and Jack Fields, outer guard.

Convention committeemen include Henry Wavra, general chairman; Steve Foukal, registration; J. K. Patterson, housing; Shelley Howard, publicity; LeRoy Carter, fun night; Nile Casten, Dutch lunch, and Floyd Dais, banquet.

FOUR BUILDINGS BEHIND THE new Bank of Idaho are nearly gone now. Work started Saturday. It will be another week before all the debris is removed, then workmen from Northwest Crane and Rigging will start hauling in dirt to fill the space. The dirt will be pressed and smoothed over and the property will then be maintained until it can be paved and turned into parking spaces. It's all part of the demolition phase of urban renewal in Twin Falls. It started late in September when a building at 241 Second Ave. S. was torn down. Workmen then moved to two buildings at 143 Second Ave. N., and 151 Second Ave. N. Work was finished there last week and all that remains is an empty spot waiting for new buildings or more parking spaces. The work here is the last in the contract. Additional demolition in the downtown urban renewal area is expected in the near future.

Troops Voice No Surprise At War Talk

SAIGON (UPI) — The American Forces Vietnam Network (AFVN) beamed President Nixon's address on Vietnam to more than 400,000 American servicemen in the war zone Tuesday morning.

Most servicemen questioned by UPI correspondents expressed no surprise at the contents of the address but their opinions of it varied.

"I wasn't surprised at what he said," Green Beret 1st Lt. Richard Starbuck, 24, of Chicago said at Nha Trang. "I don't have any solution to the problem. But I agree with him. I don't think the minority should dictate policy to the U. S. government. I firmly believe he's making an honest effort to secure the peace."

Pfc. Stephen Johnson, 23, of Boulder, Colo., said he was disappointed.

"It told me nothing new," the Army enlisted man said. "I don't think he explained his policy enough. Basically, I don't think he's listening to the U. S. public."

Johnson indicated he believed antiwar demonstrators expressed the trend of public opinion in the United States.

Sgt. Albert Frantum, of Lancaster, Pa., expressed support for President Nixon.

"I think the man's right,"

Crude Oil In Garbage? News Is Promising

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government scientists Tuesday reported an experimental process that promises to produce about a barrel of crude oil from every ton of garbage.

The Interior Department's Bureau of Mines said this discovery could lead to "garbage and waste paper" one day becoming raw material for making gasoline and oil.

Research chemists at the Interior Department's coal research center at Pittsburgh developed the new process while searching for ways to produce petroleum from coal. Tests so far have been limited to laboratory-size runs, but the Interior Department said yields on a larger scale at the same ratio would produce just over one barrel of oil for each ton of organic waste.

Legislators Using Straw Ballot To Learn Sentiment On Use Of Daylight Saving Time

Opinions on Daylight Savings of a statewide straw ballot to time are being sought by Rep. William Roberts of Twin Falls. Rep. Roberts said today a local sampling will become part of a statewide straw ballot to see if the Legislature should change the law or leave it alone. Presently all clocks are moved ahead an hour in the spring to give Idahoans more daylight time. In the fall, the clocks are moved back an hour.

Most states subscribe to the Daylight Savings Time system.

Rep. Roberts said the ballot alternatives would be: All of Idaho should go on exempted Mountain Standard Time year around, or the state would go on Pacific time with clock changes in April and October.

He said both alternatives provide that the state would observe one, uniform time.

Currently the state is divided at the midriff between Mountain and Pacific time, with the cut coming at the Salmon River.

He said accepting or rejecting Daylight Savings Time must be done on a statewide basis. This means a boundary change. There is a third alternative, also. This would be no change at all.

People are asked to mail their recommendations to the Times-News, Post Office Box 548, Twin Falls, 83301. The letters should be marked "Straw Ballot."

The three alternatives again are: Mountain Standard Time year around; Pacific Time, meaning Southern Idaho in the summer would then be on the old historic Mountain Standard Time. However, the short-day sunrise for Southern Idaho in the winter would be an hour earlier than normal. Northern Idaho would remain the same as it is now. The plan would entail clock changes in April and October. The third alternative is no change, leaving the law as it is.

Bank of Idaho's Premium Passbook Savings offer you a premium return on your savings with the convenience of a savings passbook so you know exactly where you stand on earnings. You have the complete record in your possession.

The minimum amount required to open a Premium Passbook Savings Account is $500. You may make additional deposits at any time in multiples of $50.00.

Interest is paid at the rate of 5% per year and is credited to the account at the end of each calendar quarter. In other words, interest is compounded quarterly.

Funds must be on deposit for 90 days to earn interest and may be withdrawn during the ten calendar days following the end of a calendar quarter, without notice.

Funds may be withdrawn at any other time upon expiration of 90 days written notice.

If you desire to withdraw interest credited at the end of a calendar quarter, you may do so within the ten day period following that quarter. After that time, the interest is considered as a deposit.

In the event of a withdrawal which reduces the account balance below $500.00, you still earn 4% (the regular passbook savings rate) on the remaining balance. When the balance returns to $500.00, the 5% rate becomes effective.

Negotiators On Fire Bills Mull Accord

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's four-member state fire bill negotiating team met with Region 1 U.S. Forest Service officials Tuesday to discuss nearly $900,000 worth of federal bills on the Trapper Peak fire.

Trapper Peak was one of several costly fires that broke out in northern Idaho forests and rangelands during the 1967 season. The fire bill negotiating team already has reduced bills from some of the other fires by more than $2 million.

Lt. Gov. Jack M. Murphy, chairman of the negotiating team, said Tuesday's meeting was limited primarily to a detailed discussion and review of chronological development of the Trapper Peak fire.

"We're trying to agree on what facts took place to make certain there is no disagreement on the facts and then we'll get into the problem," Murphy said.

Besides Murphy, other members of the Idaho negotiating team are House Speaker William J. Laning, R-Hollister, Sen. Ray Righy, D-Rexburg, and State Land Commissioner Gordon Trumbley.

Representing the Forest Service was a three-member team headed by John Miodragovich, assistant regional forester for Region 1. Others in that group were Bud Moore, assistant regional forester for fire control, and Supt. Harold Andersen of Kankyu National Forest.

Murphy doubted if any conclusions insofar as the bills themselves would be reached at Tuesday's meeting.

High Court Hears Arguments On Disputed Assessment Of Sales Tax For Bowling Items

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho's Supreme Court heard oral arguments Tuesday on the appeal of the state from a district court ruling on whether sales taxes could be imposed on leased bowling machinery.

The Boise Bowling Center leased such machinery from American Machine and Foundry Company for use in their bowling establishments and the state imposed a sales tax on these lease arrangements.

The bowling center brought legal action and the district court held that such a tax was not within the meaning of Idaho statutes.

Also up for appeal to the Supreme Court today was the case of Douglas P. Hobbs against Ada County.

Hobbs alleged that on Jan. 28, 1964 he was struck twice with a blackjack while being detained by Ada County sheriff's deputies.

He said that as a result of this alleged battery he has suffered continuous, painful and permanent injuries for which he claimed $301,500 damages and costs.

A jury ruled in favor of the county and Hobbs appealed on grounds the county was allowed to produce immaterial but highly prejudicial evidence.

Automakers On Smog Issue

STANFORD (UPI) — San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has lambasted the auto industry for going too slow in the fight against smog.

In a speech interrupted by four robed figures and a plectrum-carrying choir, Alioto told 450 Stanford students that the whole pollution problem will be fought out in the courts during the next decade.

Alioto was the first speaker in a series of campus lectures entitled "America on the threshold of the Seventies." He entered Memorial Auditorium through a picket line set up by a group calling itself the Stanford Committee Against War and Fascism. Members of the group handed out leaflets reading: "Keep organized crime off the campus," an apparent reference to the Look Magazine article linking the mayor to Mafia figures. Alioto has sued the magazine for $12.5 million in connection with the article.

Prince Philip Ends Vacation In Wyoming Hills

BIG HORN, Wyo. (UPI) — Prince Philip, who spent the weekend relaxing at a sprawling 5,600-acre ranch in rugged Northern Wyoming, planned to fly to Washington Tuesday.

The prince, flying a red, white and blue twin-engine Andover, was to leave from nearby Sheridan, Wyo. He planned a refueling stop at Mason City, Iowa, on his cross-country trip.

Prince Philip arrived here last Friday following a tour of Canadian cities and has spent the past three days in seclusion at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wallop at the foot of the Big Horn Mountains.

Big Ten Boss Says OSU Won't Play In Bowl

CHICAGO (UPI)—It was "a bowl" day at the football writers' meeting Tuesday, and there is "no way" for No. 1 ranked Ohio State to look forward to a post-season game.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

Reports that Bliss has considered giving up football hold no water, according to some Bliss fans who called in to say so.

"We started the season with only nine boys and after winning that first one we started getting more out," says Ron Stroud, a Bliss booster. "By the end of the season we had 16 or 17."

By Larry Hovey

The Bears expect things to get better and the booster crowd is more than pleased with the coaching and handling of players by new mentor Sid Lansing.

Bliss will graduate only three boys this spring, meaning they will have just about everyone back. In addition, the eighth grade will send seven boys into the freshman class. While they might be a little young, they still can pick up some experience and lend bench support.

Coach Lansing made his stand known early in the going. Bliss, if you'll recall, has had a little trouble with emotions or to put it a little plainer they have had a couple of nicks over the years.

Some of this flared during a football game this fall. Coach Lansing then announced that any similar flareups would result in certain sanctions being taken and specified it could mean no basketball season.

Major Hoople received a letter from his "ISU proteges" this week asking him to select the winner in the outcome of the Tau Kappa Epsilon Little Sisters vs. the Phi Sigma Kappa Little Sisters. The game will be played Sunday at Idaho State.

The proteges included this background: "The Teke little sisters have won all previous games. Despite this fact, the Phi Sig little sisters feel they don't need to practice. On the other hand, the Teke little sisters have had extensive training sessions under the guidance of several prominent ISU Bengal football players. I've not been around so long that I can't remember indoctrinating a few coeds during football season in my own playing days at Harvard — or was that Yale. Ahem!"

"Zounds! I remember this one. . . . But I must report that one of the finest female football players I've ever seen is my own wife Martha. I, myself, haven't managed to evade her in an open field and I was always considered one of the best broken field runners of my day. I make that statement to refute charges that I was the original tight end! Harumph!"

(The Major then recounted several outstanding feats on the gridiron which we deleted.) "With that as background, let me say if indeed the Tekes are larger, if indeed they are faster and possess outstanding quarterbacking and receivers and if indeed the Phi Sigs are not practicing then I must pick the Tekes. But if indeed the Phi Sigs are practicing secretly, or, again indeed, if they consider themselves so talented they need practice, then I pick the Phi Sigs."

Thoughts of a tie also fill through my mind in compiling the facts. It should, however, either be very tight or a run away, one way or the other. In cases like this, stick with the undefeated champs and pray a little."

League Discusses Expulsion Of BYU As Student Demands Rise

DENVER (UPI) — Possible expulsion of Brigham Young University from the Western Athletic Conference, along with other solutions to disturbances in the conference centering around BYU, was discussed for three hours without any conclusions at the WAC Athletic Council meeting in Denver Tuesday.

Haymond One Ram Leading NFL Category

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams obviously believe in a team effort.

Latest statistics released today by the National Football League show only one Ram player leading in any individual category despite Los Angeles being the only unbeaten team in pro football with a 7-0 record.

Alvin Haymond, acquired in a trade from Philadelphia during the off-season, is the only Ram leader, pacing the league's punt returners with a 14.3 yards average, gaining 285 yards in 20 carries. The only other Ram players to rank high in individual statistics are quarterback Roman Gabriel, third in passing, and kicker Bruce Gossett, third in scoring.

Tom Matte of Baltimore, who has tallied 11 touchdowns, leads the scorers with 66 points; Bart Starr of Green Bay is tops in passing with a 63.2 completion percentage; Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh leads the pass receivers with 37 catches for 617 yards; rookie Calvin Hill of Dallas paces the rushers with 545 yards in 115 carries for a 4.6 average. Ollie Gordell of New Orleans is the leading punter with a 44.5 average; Bo Scott of Cleveland is the leading kickoff returner with a 32.6 average; and Mike Howell of Cleveland is the pass interception leader with six swipes.

Namath Back On Top In AFL Passing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Namath of the New York Jets is back on top in the American Football League's passing statistics.

Namath took over in the statistics released Tuesday with 119 completions in 225 attempts for 1,746 yards and 10 touchdowns. Cincinnati's Greg Cook, who returned last Sunday after an absence of three weeks, moved up to second place, completing 45 of 80 passes for 790 yards and eight touchdowns.

Another Cincinnati quarterback, Sam Wyche, dropped from first to third place with 52 completions in 102 tries for 790 yards and seven touchdowns. Wyche had taken over the lead during the absence of Cook. Denver's Floyd Little, who has 637 yards and six touchdowns on 125 carries, leads in rushing, followed by Cincinnati's Jess Phillips (84 carries for 490 yards) and New York's Matt Snell (126 for 483 yards).

a demand by the chairman of the Black Students Union (BSU) at the University of Arizona for the removal of BYU from the eight member conference.

Gale Dean, the chairman of the Arizona BSU, told the WAC athletic directors, and faculty representatives that continued affiliation of BYU would "help perpetrate and perpetuate a racist doctrine which we, as black men and women of the University of Arizona, and as black members of the BSU, cannot do."

Dean said the Arizona BSU was supported in its position by similar groups at four other WAC schools and several other non-affiliated institutions.

The demands were touched off by the suspension of 14 black athletes from the University of Wyoming football team Oct. 17 after they violated a rule by Coach Lloyd Eaton against participating in student demonstrations. The Wyoming athletes had worn black armbands into Eaton's office, protesting alleged racist policies at BYU and the Mormon Church. The church operates the Provo, Utah, university.

The WAC council, holding its regular meeting in Denver, discussed the BYU situation at length but reached no decisions. WAC Commissioner Wiles Hallock said after the closed session that the situation was "going over pretty thoroughly."

He said there was general "concern and realization that under present circumstances any school that plays a game with BYU can expect demonstrations and student activism can erupt."

But, Hallock said, "I don't think the conference feels that the theological precepts of the Mormon Church are the interest of the conference." The council, Hallock said, will consider at its final session Wednesday whether to make a recommendation to the Presidents' Council to adopt a conference policy on athletes' participation in demonstrations and protests.

No one during the meeting suggested that BYU should be expelled from the conference, Hallock said, although the possibility was discussed in a wide range of extremes seeking a solution.

He said the dominant feeling at the meeting was "to preserve the conference as it now exists."

The directors generally felt, he said, that there are areas of student rights in legitimate concerns over which the coach should have no control as long as it does not affect the team or athletic programs or the athlete's eligibility.

If the conference does not decide any policy on student-athlete involvement, then it will be up to the individual school, Hallock said.

Dean Milton E. Hartvigson of BYU, the school's faculty representative on the council and the chairman of the council, issued a statement during the meeting denying that BYU was racist.

The university's policy "in no way restricts anyone from attending BYU because of the color of his skin," he said. "True," the statement said.

Montana Now Second In Small Ranks

NEW YORK (UPI)—North Dakota State is beginning to feel some resistance in its run toward the national small college title.

The Bison, undefeated in eight games, were named the nation's top college division team for the seventh consecutive week today, but three teams — Montana, Arkansas State and Delaware — are beginning to show strength in the ratings.

North Dakota State, which winds up its season Saturday against South Dakota State, recouped 28 first place votes and 326 points from the 35-member United Press-International Board of Coaches.

Montana, also unbeaten in eight outings, took second with 256 points while Arkansas State and Delaware occupied the next two positions.

New Mexico Highlands moved up five places to the No. 5 ranking, followed by Colorado State College, Akron, Texas A&I, Tampa and Alcorn A&M. Louisiana Tech was 11th, followed by Indiana (Pa.), two schools — East Tennessee State and Troy State — tied for 13th. Concordia (Ill.) and Abilene Christian, Northern Arizona was 17th, with Humboldt State, Western Carolina and North-eastern Oklahoma completing the top 20.

North Dakota State, seeking its second consecutive unbeaten season, blasted Northern Iowa 41-13 Saturday for its 18th consecutive triumph. Montana had to battle to beat an inspired Montana State team, 7-6 while Arkansas State blanked Lamar Tech 20-0.

Tickets For Super Bowl Hiked To $15

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle's staff announced Tuesday that the $1,000 Super Bowl tickets this season will be priced at $15 each, "no exceptions."

Prices at the last game in Miami were $12, $8 and $5. "We feel the game has been raised to that stature," said Jim Kensil, a spokesman for Rozelle, in announcing the ticket sale here.

He said the price was in line with other championship events. The game will be played Jan. 11 in Sugar Bowl Stadium. Kensil estimated 250,000 tickets could be sold for the game if room-for-that many could be found.

A sellout will produce gross receipts of $1.2 million, compared to about $800,000 at the Miami game last January, Kensil said.

He said New Orleans Saint season ticket holders will be allocated 48,000 tickets. The Saints have sold more than 50,000 season tickets.

An over-the-counter public sale of 2,000 tickets will be made in New Orleans in December, compared to 22,000 in Miami last year. Members of the winning team will get $15,000 each. The losers will receive $7,500 each.

Kensil said the commissioner's office will take usual precautions against gamblers when the teams arrive the first week in January, but added that no special security is planned because of New Orleans' traditional tolerance of gambling.

"We don't feel that's a problem," Kensil said. "Those kind of people (gamblers) will go wherever the game is."

But he added that players in the Super Bowl are so busy preparing for the game that they have no time to talk to such people or frequent places with gambling reputations.

Kensil said reports that Miami had already been selected for the 1971 Super Bowl "are absolutely without foundation at all."

"There is no chance of lifting the television blackout to the Louisiana area after the stadium is sold out," Kensil said.

He said his office had already mailed out several thousand letters declining tickets to travel agencies and other persons requesting tickets for the game.

Officials Meet

Persons interested in certifying to officiate area high school basketball games should attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Jerome high school.

Commissioner Bob Matthews, Burley, said films of rule changes will be shown and the copla book test passed out. Homer Williams, executive secretary of the Idaho Intercollegiate Athletic Association, will attend. Matthews said all coaches should attend and bring their schedules.

DUPLICATES FEAT NEW YORK (UPI)—Edward Walsh of Manhattan duplicated a feat accomplished by his father 23 years ago by winning the 43rd annual Metropolitan Intercollegiate Cross Country Championship Tuesday with a 17.4 second for the five miles.

We keep a thief in our aging houses.

It's not the regular kind, of course. Our thief is a long tube. We use it to see how our Jim Beam Bourbon is aging from year to year in our special charred, white oak barrels. These barrels breathe, just like your skin. And as they breathe, they let some elements in and keep some out. In time, this helps make that wonderful, light and warm Jim Beam taste that's been a Beam family art for nearly 175 years. So when we tell you there's a thief in our aging house, it doesn't mean we end up with less Bourbon. All it means is we end up with the best Bourbon. "World's finest Bourbon since 1795."

Boozer Guides Seattle Past Pistons 116-102

DETROIT (UPI)—Bob Boozer and Tom Meschery paced Seattle to only its second win in nine starts Tuesday night as the Superonics outclassed the Detroit Pistons, 116-102, in a National Basketball Association contest.

Boozer, who finished with 28 points, came into the game in the second quarter and hit on six straight field goal attempts to push Seattle into a 30-25 halftime advantage. With Meschery banging home 24 points, Seattle boosted its advantage to 95-66 before Detroit put on a spurt in the final quarter.

The Pistons, led by Dave Bing with 28 points, closed the gap to 105-96 in the closing minutes but couldn't catch the high-flying Superonics. Seattle was helped considerably in its victory by hitting on 22 consecutive free throws.

Five Games To Complete Magic Valley Grid Slate; Buhl Hosts Snake River

Five games, spread from Thursday evening through Tuesday afternoon, will wind up the Magic Valley High School football season. Buhl kicks it off with a game against Snake River at 7 p.m. Thursday, followed by Burley at Bishop Kelly and Gooding at Filer Friday; Minico at Twin Falls Saturday, and winding up with Buhl at Jerome Tuesday.

Buhl plays early to meet the five-day between games requirement set by the state. The Twin Falls-Minico battle marks the first time the teams have met on the season finale. And if marks the first time in a long while only one game has been played on Veterans' day.

Snake River is an unknown quantity and Coach Rod Hohnbarst knows a few things about the Panthers but it won't be like going against Jerome. Buhl should know Jerome quite well, having played the Tigers in the season opener that wound up in a scoreless tie.

Lemm Pulls Beathard For Don Trull

HOUSTON (UPI) — Oiler coach Wally Lemm, whose offense was shutout Sunday for the second time in a month, benched quarterback Pete Beathard Tuesday in favor of veteran Don Trull.

"The injury hasn't affected his quickness," Agase said. "He's great at reading an opponent's play and, even if he misreads it, he's so quick that when their blockers are a little slow, he'll be able to break up the play."

N. Texas Leads MVC Statistics

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — North Texas, still harboring hopes for a tie in the Missouri Valley Conference, continues to lead most of the offensive and defensive categories in the conference statistical tables.

Florida State to defeat Memphis State in a late-season game that will count in the conference standings, lead six categories.

Penn State Tackle Said Super Player

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Defensive tackle Mike Reid is a super-player who can be compared with Tommy Nobis of the Atlanta Falcons and Bob Lilly of the Dallas Cowboys, Penn State Coach Joe Paterno said Tuesday.

North Texas is tops in total offense (416.1 yards per game), passing offense (289.7), scoring offense (29 points per game), total defense (267.4 yards per game), rushing defense (107.1) and scoring defense (16.6 points per game).

CRANES ARE PUTTING the huge beams in place for the College of Southern Idaho Health-P.E. building. This work began Monday on the campus and Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, said the structure is now about 44 per cent complete. The gymnasium will be finished in July.

Construction Is 44 Per Cent Complete At College's Health; P. E. Building

The College of Southern Idaho's new Health-P. E. building is beginning to take shape as the huge beams are being installed by two cranes. They were transported here from Idaho Falls by Arrington Construction Co., the contracting firm.

Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, said the building is about 44 per cent complete. He said the beams, which weigh about three tons apiece and are 112 feet long, are being put in place by two cranes. They were transported here from Idaho Falls by Arrington Construction Co., the contracting firm.

Twin Falls United Fund Drive Nears $85,000 Goal, End Is Seen In 10 Days

The $85,000 goal of the 1970 Twin Falls United Fund Drive is expected to be reached in 10 days, according to Jack Muldoon, campaign chairman.

Mr. Muldoon said the drive is about 75 per cent complete with nearly $62,000 collected. This is about $6,000 ahead of last year.

During the 1969 drive, $72,000 was collected and Mr. Muldoon said he hopes this will be the first year the campaign reaches its goal.

He made a special appeal to all in the community who haven't donated to the campaign. The Times-News is running a reproduction of a pledge card and people who have not been contacted can donate this way.

Mr. Muldoon said the professional division, which includes education, government and other professional sectors, is past its quota. He noted all the divisions are ahead of previous years. He asked all who have cards out to bring them in and make their pledges and donations to finish out the drive.

Mr. Muldoon reminded people that nine agencies are supported through the United Fund Drive — all which are very important to the community. They are the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, U.S.O., Arthritis Rheumatism Foundation, Red Cross, Mental Health, YMCA and YWCA.

General To Command Area Unit

The commanding officer of the 96th Army Reserve Command, which has units in Utah, Idaho and Montana, Sterling R. Ryser, has been promoted to brigadier general.

The new general had his stars pinned on by Maj. Gen. Ray D. Free, former commanding general of the 96th, and Mrs. Ryser. Others present at the ceremony were members of the general's family and commanders of several Army Reserve units in the Salt Lake Area.

In this area, Co. D, 321st Engineer's Battalion Twin Falls, is a part of the 96th Army Reserve Command with headquarters at Fort Douglas, Utah, according to Capt. Bill Jacobson, commanding officer of the local unit.

Gen. Ryser, an administrative official for the federal government in civilian life, assumed command of the 96th last December. He was deputy commander for one year after the 96th was created.

The new general has 28 years of Army service. He holds the 10-year Reserve Medal, the National Defense Service Medal, the Legion of Merit and the Polish Golden Cross of Merit.

Judge To Confer On Inquest Date

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — The date for the secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne probably will be set Thursday when District Court Judge James A. Boyle meets lawyers for prospective witnesses.

The meeting, which will be private, was announced Monday by Court Clerk Thomas A. Teller. He described it as "pre-inquest conference."

Custom Tailor Offers 1940 Styles For Men This Year

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Felice di Pino, one of New York's small band of super custom tailors who must stay a jump ahead of their competitors to survive, has suddenly taken a 10-year lead. While everybody else is reviving the look of the 1930s he is reviving the look of the 1940s.

"That includes watch pockets for all of those people who have been asking 'why don't they bring back watch pockets?'" pleaded trousers for the ones who have been asking the same thing about pleats, and "spalla a sella," which is the Italian way of saying roped shoulders on a jacket.

Di Pino, 39, who held the title of Marchese in his native Italy and is a bit of a socialite-playboy at night, thinks the 1940 look, refined for present day tastes, will be more comfortable to wear, especially with trousers not so tight.

The basic look of the jacket is this: A three button model of which the lower two buttons, and with a very tapered front as opposed to the extreme flares that is prevalent now. The lapels are up to four inches wide, which is a bit wider. The flaps on the pockets are a bit wider and the waistline is a bit higher.

There is no padding in the shoulder but there is a slight puff where the sleeves join the jacket. It's usually called a "dud" shoulder which is English for spalla a sella. The coat is about two inches longer, there is a bit less shaping at the waist and a snugger fit at the hips.

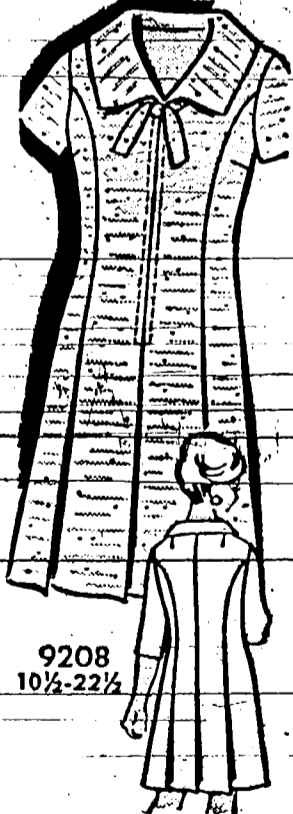

The coat is longer so that the expanse of jacket and the expanse of trousers are about the same. The pants are straight with two inch cuffs (a little wider) and pleats for more comfort and better appearance. Legs run about 17 inches instead of the current 16.

Double breasted models are in the same manner with reduced flare and no vents since, di Pino said, "that vent business is now a uniform throughout the world."

The fabrics are about the same level as those used now but with more subtle colors — a return of the grey flannel suit and a preponderance of light brown. But there are also big stripes of the 1940s and a few fairly subdued plaids.

Di Pino predicted overcoats would become much longer — as much as seven inches below the knee. He showed one of that length in tan camel hair twill, more reminiscent of a 1920 cavalry officer than any thing of the 1940s. The coat had a long inverted pleat in the back from the waistline and was fitted and flared. There was a fly front

Computers Have Quirks; Teachers Are Still Needed

By PATRICIA MC CORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Teachers can stop worrying about computers showing them into ranks of the unemployed.

The authority for this statement: A batch of New York City school children who have been using computers for 18 months.

Oh, the computers help the children learn faster, more definitively and at their own best speed of comprehension. But the computers have quirks. And they need teachers to help them.

"If you ask me," one second grader wrote about her computer, "if computers were people or animals they would always be having heart attacks."

Her computer "is always breaking, is crazy, is a pest and costs a lot of money."

"I like you because you can't scream at me or put me out the door and you can't move a bit because your (sic) nailed to the floor. And when I get tired of you I throw you in the dump."

The reactions of students to computers come from Mrs. Shelley Umans, coordinator of innovative practices in education for the New York City schools. With the assistance of RCA Corp. and some funds from the U.S. Office of Education, she supervised the installation of the 200 teletype-like terminals in schools here over a year ago.

She says the collection of pint-sized reactions to the experiment may answer adults who object to computerized instruction as being "impersonal, dehumanizing, mechanized. Children reacted to the computer emotionally."

Among emotions were love, hate, or a combination of both.

—Love "The terminal is my best friend. I know it likes me because it always gives me extra time for my problems." (She calls her computer Clyde) —Hate. "If the computer were a human being he would be a boring person because no one likes a person who always has a time schedule and shows no mercy towards anyone else."

—Love-Hate. "I think the terminal doesn't like me. Each time I go, it puts down different answers and I get in the 80's. My father yells at me and says 'You should have got 100, but if he had gone to the (computer) terminal he would be nervous.'"

Some critics turned to verse. Sample: "I saw a computer crying: I slapped his space bar and knew he was crying."

And an obvious genius wrote: "computer, I enjoy you very much, but you're much too slow."

Harvest Ball Held In Oakley

OAKLEY — "Autumn Leaves" was the theme for the annual Harvest Ball held recently at Oakley High School. The annual event is jointly sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America and the Future Farmers of America.

Crowned Harvest King and Queen were Bob Fairchild and Deborah Mabey. Prince and Princess were David Baker and Cindy Romer.

The hall was decorated in fall colors and John Swan, FFA adviser, was master of ceremonies during the intermission program. The theme song was sung by Karla Buckley, accompanied by Mrs. Noreen Clark.

Other program numbers included a piano solo by Marvin Altom; group singing by Harold Clark, Robyn Whiteley, Brenda Crafton, Charleye Bench and Janet Speckman, accompanied by Mrs. Swan, and a musical reading, "October," by Suzanne Matthews, accompanied by Robyn Whiteley.

Mrs. Dean Peck is the FHA adviser.

Label Poison Accurately

BOSTON (UPI) — Proper poison prevention, according to the Massachusetts chapter of the National Safety Council, includes keeping poisons in their original containers — not putting them in soda bottles.

"Using pop bottles and other common food containers to store potential poisons is gambling with your family's safety," said Kenneth Brown, executive vice president of the Massachusetts chapter.

"People tend to forget that one particular bottle contains poison and not the cool drink they normally expect, for this reason, all harmful liquids — especially household cleaners — should be stored in their original containers," he said.

To make doubly certain poisons aren't accidentally taken, store them away from food supplies.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is between my husband (I'll call him Eugene) and my father. Eugene is 25 and my father is 65.

Several months ago they had an argument during which a lot of angry words were spoken. It ended when my father told Eugene never to set foot in his house again! (I'm sure my father didn't really mean it because he keeps asking me how Eugene is.)

I keep telling Eugene that my father didn't mean what he said, and my husband says, "Well, if he didn't, let him call me and say so."

My father is a very stubborn man, and I can't see him calling my husband and telling him he didn't mean it. Eugene is also very stubborn, and he won't make the first move either.

What do you suggest be done? My mother and I are very much upset over this, and we can't seem to get the two of them together.

UPSET IN UTAH

DEAR UPSET: Keep working on Eugene. Tell him that out of respect to your father's age, the younger man should give in.

And ask your mother to keep working on your father, telling him that since HE told his son-in-law never to set foot in his house again, it's up to him to tell him that he IS welcome, if indeed he is. And let the bigger man extend his hand first. (I'm betting on your husband. Youth is usually quicker to forgive.) P.S. My husband is betting on the old man. He says your mother will have more influence on her husband than you have on yours.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am stupid, but do you know of anyone who can contact the dead?

I recently lost my beloved husband and I sometimes feel his "presence" near me so strongly that I know I could communicate with him if I knew how.

I have heard that there are "mediums" who can put the living in touch with the dead. Do you know any such person? I am willing to pay to have this done. I'm signing my name for you, alone. Please don't publish it. Thank you.

FROM KENTUCKY

DEAR FROM: Many have claimed that they can communicate with the dead, but so far no one has been able to prove it. Me? I'm from Missouri!

DEAR ABBY: In June I met a real cool guy I'll call "Mac" who said he was on leave from the army, then my father pointed out that Mac had awfully long "leave." Well, it turned out that Mac was AWOL. We were pretty serious about each other by this time so I told him if he didn't go back and turn himself in I wouldn't ever see him again.

Mac turned himself in and took his punishment which wasn't as bad as we thought it'd be as it was his first offense. Two weeks ago Mac came home and confessed that he went AWOL again. We had a big fight and I made him go back. This time they put him in the stockade for a good long time.

We planned on getting married when he gets out of service, but now I'm not sure! If it weren't for these black marks against him in the service he would be a wonderful guy. What do you think?

THINKING IT OVER

DEAR THINKING: First, you'd better wait until your "real cool guy" gets out of the cooler — out of the service, and into civilian life. Then take a good hard second look at him. And I think you're going to have plenty of time to think it over.

DEAR ABBY: What is all this nonsense about gentlemen preferring blondes?

I consider myself a gentleman, and I have never dated — or had the desire to date — anything but a brunette.

I have spent 58 months out of the last six years in brunetland. That is Viet Nam, Korea, Central and South America, and I can't wait to get back to Korea.

I wouldn't walk across the street to meet the most beautiful blonde or redhead in the world. The only women who are ALL WOMEN are brunettes.

A GENTLEMAN WHO PREFERS BRUNETTES

DEAR GENTLEMAN: You have made the day for many brunettes. (Including this one.)

Supermarket Snackers Bring Food Prices Up

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Supermarket snackers and their cousins, the pinchers and the squeezers, are driving food prices up.

Marketing experts at Michigan State University said Thursday the occasional grape or apple given to pacify a child or munched while shopping, the pickles sampled to see if they have enough dill, all add to the cost of being in the grocery business. And as the costs go up, so do prices.

"One apple or a candy bar may not seem like much, but some retail food stores check out as many as 4,000 customers in a day" and the small items mount up, said the MSU experts.

In addition, they said, merchants daily must throw out oozing masses of fruit, squeezed to oblivion by ripeness testers. And they often have to discard merchandise dumped elsewhere in the store by mind changers, such as "the soggy package of once-frozen peas found dripping in the macaroni display."

Finally, stores also lose about 1 percent a year to shoplifters, and prices also must absorb that loss, the experts said.

SHOSHONE — Officers for the coming year for the Association of Ladies Auxiliaries Patriarch Militants of Idaho, IOOF, are Mrs. Marjorie Luebke, Pocatello N. 16, president, and Mrs. Zane Harrison, Wood River N. 16, vice president.

Mrs. Floyd Silva, Shoshone Opal Rebekah Lodge No. 74, was among those who received the Decoration of Chivalry at a ceremony by the Chevalliers and Ladies Auxiliaries recently at a state meeting in Boise.

Pauline Howerton, Weiser, president, conducted those attending from the Wood River No. 22 area were Mrs. Harrison, officer of the guard from Fairfield; Mrs. John Kieffer, Mountain Home, banner bearer; Mrs. Omer Shook, Shoshone, Canadian banner bearer; Mrs. Boyd Harrison, Fairfield, honor guard.

Others attending included Mrs. A. G. Biswell, Shoshone, past president; Mrs. Robert Bryan, Gooding, and Mrs. T. V. Strunk, Shoshone.

Mrs. Stimpson Reviews Book

DECLU — "Grandma Moses, My Life History" was the book reviewed by Mrs. Della Stimpson when she hosted members of the Declu Book Lore Club.

In the interesting biography, Grandma Moses recalled some of her childhood experiences in Massachusetts.

She dictated the book in her own manner of speaking and it illustrated her well-known optimistic point of view. The novel relates the life of this strong character-type of woman who began her painting very late in life.

The next meeting is at the home of Mrs. Carl Osterhout, who will give the book review.

WOMEN MEET

GLENN'S FERRY — Mrs. Paul Anderson decorated her home for a Halloween theme for hostess members of the Lady Trainmen Lodge after their meeting at the Glenns Ferry City Hall.

Card prizes went to Mrs. Pauline Woolen, Mrs. Leora Greenstreet and the president, Mrs. Kay Westing. At the lodge session, a donation was voted to the local Girl Scout fund drive.

Shopping At The Gastronomie Is Newest Mode In Moscow

Woman's View
By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

MOSCOW. (UPI)—Transplant it to the United States and it would be almost typical of that chunk of Americana, the supermarket.

Here in the Soviet capital, it's called a gastronome and it's the newest mode of shopping offered women who for years have queued patiently at counters of little shops to purchase at one the day's supply of bread, at another meat, at another vegetables and at still another pastries or other needs.

But Moscow's showcase gastronome, the Novobaratsky, aims to put almost every household shopping need under one roof and offer self-service. Both are immense breakthroughs in shopping convenience which the Soviet women just never have had but which the Americans take for granted.

"The future belongs to self-service," said Mrs. Svyoboda Volodina, manager of the whole self-service floor of the spaciiously modern two-level building housing the gastronome on Kalinin Street.

"Almost all the new food stores are putting in self-service sections," she said as we toured the gastronome. But there's a "go slow" on total conversion. The state, which of course owns the Kalinin gastronome, the largest in the U.S.S.R., wants to determine just how profitable self-service is compared to the old.

So, only the second floor of the gastronome is Mrs. Volodina's domain. On the first floor (both escalators and stairs connect the two), the picture again is the traditional one of individual counters where the consumer queues to select fish, poultry, cheeses, other dairy products, fruits and vegetables. And here the woman goes through the complicated method of paying, select product, get slip showing how much owed, pay a cashier, get back in line with receipt to pick up the purchase.

Many a U.S. supermarket chain would like to have the spaces still to be filled that you find at the Novobaratsky—the shopping complex has about 3500 square yards.

Checkout counters are much like those of U.S. supermarkets in the self-service department, in that a cashier totes up all the items in the "maybe" bag (the women still use them over the new carts). The "maybe" got its name, I was told, because in leaner days and shorter food supplies the housewife always carried one "maybe" she would on this day find something that hadn't been on the counters for weeks.

Modern self-service, yes. Modern cash registers, no. The cashiers still tote up sales on the ancient abacus.

Seventeen Magazine Includes Interview With Burley Girl

BURLEY — Elizabeth Irene Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Johnson, 2460 Burton Ave., Burley, is featured in the November issue of Seventeen Magazine in an article titled "The State of High School Journalism."

Last year Miss Johnson was the editor of "Paw Prints," the Burley High School newspaper. In the featured article she answers such questions as "What's happening with today's high school newspapers?" Another question is "Can they compete successfully with a fast-growing underground press that stresses student draft resistance and antiwar demonstrations rather than junior prom news and student council projects?"

Miss Johnson says she had to set new standards last year as editor of her school newspaper. "Paw Prints" party in response to the sporadically-published underground papers. "Most of the students wanted an eight-page comic strip with everybody's name in it. I tried for significance instead," she said.

The Seventeen feature highlights the comments of students across the country who point out that many high school newspapers are meeting the challenge of the underground press by giving greater coverage to local, national and international news issues.

What changes took place in the Burley High School paper? "I decided to leave out a VIP student column of interviews with class and club presidents in favor of more editorials on subjects directly affecting the community and student body," said Miss Johnson. "Special features were important too," she added.

"My pet project was a two-page story on juvenile delinquency in our area. I talked to police, a probate judge and county probation officer about the number and types of offenders and what law officials are doing to stop crime," she relates.

One problem not confronting underground newspapers is censorship by the school administration. While Miss Johnson says she faced no official censorship of the paper last year, she does admit that she did "run into a typical case of evasion." "Not only did I find a lack of administrative response when we asked questions about teachers, classes or disciplinary problems, but even the lunchroom cooks were afraid to say what student reaction to the food was!"

Presently Miss Johnson is a freshman at Whitman College, where she hopes to major in sociology. A 1969 graduate of Burley High School, she was salutatorian of her class, and won second place in the Science Fair. During her senior year she was selected as Girl of the Month by the Burley Sororities Club. She and her family were the host family for the Foreign Exchange student last year from Finland.

Listed as hobby's or personal interests are music, hiking, and skiing, by Miss Johnson.

HOW TO REALLY 'DOG' IT
For a thorough, pedicure, begin by soaking your feet for as long as you like in warm suds and water. Then smooth out rough spots by rubbing them either with an abrasive lotion or pumice stone. Clip toenails straight across and file for smoothness. Push back the cuticle with a cotton-wrapped manicuring stick and apply enamel. Let dry thoroughly, then apply body or hand lotion and massage it in.

ELIZABETH IRENE JOHNSON of Burley has her say in this month's issue of Seventeen Magazine.

Holiday Gift Idea Given By Max Factor

A flashing, thirty-eyed feline faun is certain to be one of the most-wanted gift ideas of the holiday season.

The perennially popular, perfume-toting, Max Factor Sophisti-Cat now returns to the Santa scene in an exciting, all-new presentation that features a trio of world-famous modern fragrances. This year, for the first time, the classic black cat cuddles an all-new perfume in its paws — the highly popular sun-scented, woody Golden Woods — in addition to a choice of Hypnotique or Primitif.

More adorable than ever, each 1969 Sophisti-Cat also carries each of the perfumes in a brand new 1/2-ounce flacon. Gracefully designed and multi-faceted, it features an over-all pattern of deeply sculptured, vertical flutes, accented by a gleaming, golden-tone cap. Achieving a classic perfume style, it conveys a modern, feminine aura, both in the container, as well as on the most fashionably appointed boudoir table.

Attractively decorated with fashion-oriented colors and jaunty simulated pearl chokers around their necks. The Hypnotique presentation features either a bright yellow tail feather with brilliant topaz eyes or a pale, light blue feather with sparkling sapphire eyes. The Primitif version is identified by pink or flame-colored feathers with harmonizing light rose or hyacinth eye tones. And the all-new Golden Woods Sophisti-Cat is bedecked with light green or orange feathers and glittering peridot or sun-hued eyes to match. Each is encased in a glamorous diamond-clear crystalline dome gift package, which adds a distinctive note of glittering elegance to the entire presentation.

In the three perfumes, women are offered a choice of scents to suit every individual fragrance mood. Captivatingly magnetic, Hypnotique is described as an enchanting floral bouquet. Primitif is an exotic, sultry blend of florals and precious woods and the distinctively intense Golden Woods is a sun-drenched bouquet with woody forest tones.

Paul Wood and Mrs. Shirley Croft. The party is scheduled for 17 p.m. Nov. 19 at Price's Cafe. Special musical entertainment will be presented by a local group, birthday gifts will be featured and officers elected.

Be A Wardrobe Magician

By HELEN HENNESSY, NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)— Presto, changeo, pull your closet out of the doldrums in the twinkling of an eye with smashing, spectacular scarves.

Anyone can be a wardrobe magician, claims Sally Gee, changing the mood of an outfit from pirate to Isadora to Annie Oakley.

Scarves can add excitement to an otherwise routine outfit. They can pull together separates with dash.

Superlong, flattering, floating chiffons, deeply fringed shawls, splendid Eastern silks — are all meant to be used with exuberance and drama.

"Scarves are this season's most exciting bits," said Sally, play up that wasp waist. Wrap a long scarf around twice as though it were a cummerbund and knot it in front.

"Bring out the gypsy dancers with a triangular fringe shawl draped over the hip. Or sash an oblong six-footer about the hips and let the ends sweep down to the knee."

You can be a romantic charmer with a floaty Isadora scarf knotted tightly around the neck with ends floating free. Or try the roughneck touch with a tiny scarf knotted Apache style. Sally Gee also suggests muffling up in Arctic weather with superlong, fleecy sweeps of hair stretching almost to the hem of a maxi-coat.

Improve. Do your thing. Scarf tricks have no rules except spontaneity.

Tie up your leg, your arm, your handbag. Your scarf can be what you make it.

'DO-IT-YOURSELF' GOES FORMAL

One of the largest carpet mills has introduced a sculptured nylon carpet complete with its own waffled foam rubber backing. It's made to sell for less than $8 per square yard, and can be installed on a "do-it-yourself" basis. Eliminating installation and padding costs makes this carpet a real bargain for master bedrooms, and even more formal living and dining areas.

Shower Honors Michelle Simons

By HELEN HENNESSY, NEA Women's Editor

WENDELL — Michelle Simons was honored at a personal shower at Colonial House, Twin Falls, under the direction of Mrs. Gilliespie.

Mrs. Jay Moyle, Twin Falls, was assisted by Diane Meyerhoff, also Twin Falls. The serving table and small quartet tables were decorated in pink and white. Other decorations were wedding bells.

Shower games were played and winners were Mrs. Francis Scott, Wendell, and Mrs. Eugene Baisch, Jerome.

Special guests were Mrs. Barbara Rogstad, great-grandmother; Mrs. Don Holden, grandmother, and Mrs. K. E. Bachman, all Burley. Guests attended from Eden, Wendell and Twin Falls.

Events

HAGERMAN — The Golden Age Club will have its annual Thanksgiving turkey dinner at the American Legion hall at 7 p.m. Monday. All members are urged to attend.

The Royal Neighbors Club has been postponed one week. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Miller at 2 p.m. Nov. 14.

Amigo Star Club will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the senior citizens recreation center. A bazaar will be held.

RICKS SIGNUP GROWS — REXBURG, Idaho (UPI) — Unofficial registration totals for the fall term at Ricks College show 4,452 students enrolled, 478 more than last fall and 554 more than 1967.

Silhouette Fashions Ignore Waistlines In New Trend

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—There's good news from the nation's garment district for females who can't keep their waistlines under control.

True, for spring, anatomy-defining tops abound. But in between, plenty of designers are squeezing into their collections silhouettes that ignore the waistline.

Take the poncho. It goes over every body shape. Marie McCarthy, designing for Larry Alrich, advanced this type in dresses for day and evening.

Some dresses in that collection of mostly pastel wools were casual enough to be described as sweatshirts gone long—even midi length.

After the poncho, the bathrobe style dress promises ease for those with waisted woes. This is a sidewrap usually collarless, has long sleeves and is tied with a sash.

The softly draped hip-length jacket, seen in many collections, also fits with the casual look that somehow manages to overcome the too ample waistline.

It is being shown over dresses and as a part of three-piece costumes.

For the ultimate in body-disguising, a technique every woman with figure faults should master, there is the shawl to consider. Some of these are tablecloth size and can cover the dress underneath from neck to hem. Hiding under such a wrap will be perfectly respectable and acceptable this spring.

Chester Weinberg was one of the designers using the poncho as part of an outfit. One of his poncho outfits consisted of the ample shelter in red, white and black checks, worn with a black tunic top over pants repeating the checks.

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

DUPLICATE PLAYER SEEKS OVERTRICKS

Bridge. They mean wins in duplicate play. The diamond-jack will drop 34 per cent of the time, so he starts with a 54 per cent chance of making five diamond tricks. Then if the diamond jack fails to drop, he can still bring home nine tricks if the clubs divide 3-3.

In addition, West will have to make two discards on diamonds. He had better throw away two spades and hang onto all his clubs and hearts if he wants to keep South from making a third trick in one of those suits.

If all this happens to him, South can reason that he should not have gotten out of bed that morning and look forward to a better day.

Oswald Jacoby, world-famed bridge expert and co-author with his son Jim of the popular Win at Bridge column, has written a 64-page booklet of bridge tips for Times-News readers. Copies of Jacoby's "Win at Bridge" may be obtained by sending 50 cents to Times-News, Box 459, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Please be sure to include your Zip Code.

would win the heart lead and play a diamond to dummy's nine at trick two. Later on he would gallop home with four diamond tricks and his contract.

An over-optimistic duplicate player would perhaps try the same safety play and would come up with a top score this time, but a good duplicate player would bang out the top diamonds and wind up down one if the defense did its job properly.

Why would he do this? Because he would be in a normal contract and would play for as many tricks as possible. Overtricks mean little in rubber.

Use Aquarium Gravel To Halt Children's Tracking Of Sand

AT A PARTY in Scandinavia, it's bad form to propose a toast to the host. Theory is if everybody did it, the thing would dissolve into a quick binge. DON'T PUT SAND in the children's sandbox, young lady. They'll track it all over the house. Use aquarium gravel.

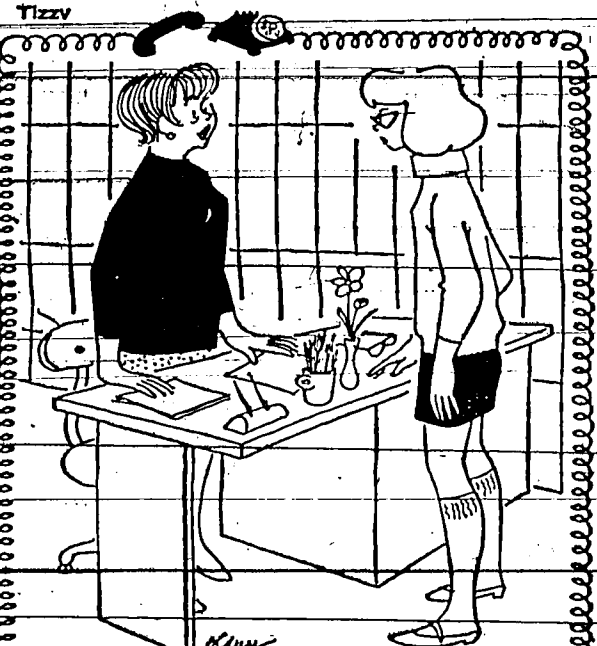

THE PECULIARITY of Aries girls, says our Planet man, is they tend to be fascinated with what's new. Not only in costumes, but in gentlemen-friends. AMONG CITIZENS listed in the Manhattan telephone directory, reports our Name Game man, are 16 named Kiss and 19 named Tell. Pair of these would make an interesting law firm, what? IT IS THE CONVICTION of most opera stars that a male singer should not involve himself in amorous activity during the 24 hours just before a performance.

POTATO CHIPS — Knew the first potato chips were created 116 years ago, but didn't know the name of the genius who created them: George Crum was the fellow, I'm now informed. It was at Moon's Lake House in Saratoga Springs, N. Y. A disconsolate diner kept sending back his breakfast fries, claiming they were too thick. So Mr. Crum shaved a potato over the deep fat, to his customer's great delight, and the rejoicing lingered on.

WEIGHT — In the last 100 years the men of this country have been getting taller. And heavier, too. Much heavier. Proportionately, they've been gaining a lot more weight than height. Incidentally, it's a fact the women from generation to generation aren't putting on as many pounds as the men, but I don't know why.

Avis President Insists All Executives Keep Familiar With 'Cash Register Sound'

By DEAN C. MILLER
UPI Business Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) - "If you can't hear the cash register ring, you're in trouble," is the business philosophy of Winston V. Morrow Jr., president of Avis Rent-A-Car System, Inc.

Morrow believes some companies start dying the moment they start growing. "Bigness, if you let it, can isolate executives from employees and customers," explained Morrow in a recent interview. "Since we make money on the line away from our desks and closed office doors, it is vital that Avis managers keep familiar with the sound of a cash register at the point of sale."

To get this, Morrow enforces a policy of "visible management" which requires Avis executives to go "on the counter" at regular intervals. It seems to have paid off for this subsidiary of International Telephone & Telegraph. In 1956, Avis had 900 cars. Today, operating in 46 countries, including Russia, it has 100,000 vehicles, 60 per cent of them company owned. From a $44 million business in 1965 when it joined ITT it now has sales of $200 million.

Morrow is the first to admit that "visible management," while successful, has had its traumatic moments. Take, for instance, the West Coast vice president who decided to lose some "cash register" time by jockeying cars at the San Francisco Airport. Before leaving home, jokingly and without explanation, he told his wife he had a rough day ahead of him and was worried.

Being the worrying kind, the wife figured his job was in jeopardy. A neighbor's husband happened to pass through the airport that afternoon and saw the vice president, wearing a uniform and taking orders from a service area foreman, wheeling rental cars around a lot. Word got back to the wife in minutes. When the tired vice president arrived home that

Health Seminar Set In Boise

BOISE (UPI) - A seminar entitled "New Horizons in Environmental Health" will be held in Boise Dec. 1-5, sponsored by the Idaho Health Association and the State Department of Health. The course is designed to inform the participants on the environmental hazards and basic problems mankind will face in the future with our changing environment.

Continuing education chairman Elizabeth Abel, Boise, said the course is open to persons in industry, government, business and the health field. Scholarships and per diem assistance are available.

Chairman Named

IDAHO STATE UNIVERSITY, Pocatello - Scott F. McClure, Jerome, student body president of Idaho State University, has been named new chairman of the Idaho Student Government Association.

Mr. McClure, who had been vice chairman of the state group, replaces Steve Branting of Lewis and Clark Normal, who resigned. The term will run until next spring. The new President was installed during a convention at Ricks College, Rexburg.

Payment Ordered

WASHINGTON (Special) - Sen. Len B. Jordan (R. Idaho) said Tuesday the Globe Seed and Food Co., Twin Falls, has been awarded a $12,500 payment by the Bureau of Land Management.

The amount is for the purchase of the BLM. of Siberian Wheat Grass seed from the Idaho concern.

British Reserves Tally $2 Billion

LONDON (UPI) - Britain's gold and dollar reserves rose by $48 million in October to stand at $2.48 billion at the end of the month, the Treasury said today.

Informed quarters said the month had been good for the pound and as the reserves climbed the policy was to use these for the repayment of foreign debts. It was the biggest monthly gain of the year.

A gain had been widely expected because Britain earned a big foreign trade surplus in the month and also because international funds flowed back into the country after the up-valuation of the West German mark late in October.

Rail Unions Hold Firm To Demands; Strike Threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI) - There appears to be little likelihood four railroad shopcraft unions will agree to the proposed 5 per cent wage increase suggested by a presidential board Monday in an effort to halt a possible nationwide rail strike.

The chief union negotiator said he could not recommend the proposal to members because it would cover only about half the increased cost of living in 1969. The wage proposal was identical to what the railroads offered, but was below the 10 per cent demanded by the unions.

If the two sides can not reach agreement during the next 30 days, the unions will be free Dec. 3 to carry out their threatened strike against seven major railroads except the Penn Central have said they will shut down if selected lines are struck.

Ina Knox, owner and operator of the telephone answering service in Twin Falls, is attending a convention in Colorado Springs, Colo. through Saturday.

Simple solution to rising car prices.

The Simple Machine. Ford Maverick. Still $1995*

Our small car has scored a big success. And the reason is simple—solid value. Now, with other car prices going up all around it, Maverick is going its own Maverick way. It still costs $1995* and that's still a small price to pay for a car that's simple to drive... simple to park... simple to service... simple to repair... and simple to own.

Simple to drive: Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage.

Simple to park: Maverick can fit into a tighter circle than the leading import. It can nip around corners and slide into tight parking spaces with amazing agility.

Simple to service: Maverick is easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications, too. You save time and money.

Simple to repair: The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself like change spark plugs, adjust ignition timing, and more. Fenders and grille can be replaced in a matter of minutes.

Simple to own: The simple machine can start solving money problems for you right now. Check it out at your Ford Dealer's. The price that made it famous now makes it a better buy than ever.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the car. While almost all cars are sold locally they are not all sold at the same price. Dealer price may vary. Tax, license, title and other equipment that is specially required by state laws.

For more information about Maverick see your Ford Dealer or write: MAVERICK CAR, Dept. N-1, P.O. Box 1908, Dearborn, Michigan 48121.
