6 New Fires Spur Hunt For Arsonist In Twin Falls Area

Six fires which burned two vacant houses and about 100 tons of hay Monday morning have increased the fear that an arsonist may be operating in Twin Falls County. Twin Falls County Sheriff's officers have been investigating the possibility of arson since a fire leveled the Twin Falls County Fairgrounds grandstands Thursday night. The latest fires ranged in area from a few hundred to about 100,000 square feet. The 4:30 a.m. fires destroyed haystacks owned by Tom Sharp and Ted Johnson and Homer Anderson. In a fire at 6 a.m., a vacant house four miles west of Twin Falls was destroyed and a haystack one mile west of the burning house also was damaged. Firemen were able to doze the burning bales away from the rest of the stack and only about 35 bales were lost. Both the house and the haystack, located near the Knoll Grange Hall, are owned by Gordon Cathro of California.

Fly Old Glory, Vets Organizations Urge

Leaders of various veterans organizations are urging all Magic Valley citizens, as well as all Magic Valley citizens, to fly the American flag Tuesday in observance of Veteran's Day. A. W. Peterson, commander of the Twin Falls unit of the Disabled American Veterans, said Tuesday is a day where citizens should respect and give thanks and devotion to dead and living comrades alike in protecting this country. He said every one should display the colors in backing the policy of the President in his decisions. Ray T. Crandall, commander of the Twin Falls Veterans of Foreign Wars group, said the VFW is "asking everyone to fly the colors all week and to show support by driving with lights on. Also, they are asked to set aside Sunday, Nov. 16, as a day of prayer for the boys overseas, for the ones who have been there and the ones not coming back."

Manila Puts Forces On Combat Alert

MANILA (UPI)—The government put its 54,000-man armed forces on combat alert today in an effort to quell election-day violence, already the Philippines' 38 million people are eligible to vote Tuesday in elections to name a president, vice president, eight senators and all 110 representatives. The office of President Ferdinand E. Marcos, who is favored to become the first second four-year term, said Sunday police had foiled an apparent assassination plot against him. It said the police were questioning 100 guerrillas "from a neighboring country" who were seized at Cebu, 300 miles north of Manila, where Marcos was to campaign Sunday. He canceled the visit. Political assassinations and intimidation murders already have accounted for 43 dead in the campaign, three short of the toll in the 1965 campaign. Another 39 persons have been wounded.

Rockefeller, Nixon To View Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon invited Nelson A. Rockefeller to the White House today to discuss the New York governor's proposals for changing U.S. policy in Latin America. One suggestion would increase military aid to offset reported growing Communist subversion there. Before meeting with Rockefeller, the President was to undergo what White House officials described as a routine physical check at Bethesda Naval Hospital in suburban Maryland. It was the first examination since Jan. 2 for Nixon, who returned to Washington Sunday night after a restful weekend in Key Biscayne, Fla. Rockefeller's recommendations, numbering about 80 in all, were based on conclusions he reached last spring during visits to 20 Latin American countries. The trips, which led to violent demonstrations in several nations, were made at the President's request and the proposals were submitted to him recently in a 137-page report, which was to be released today. The report warned armed Marxist subversion posed a serious threat in the Western Hemisphere and said the concern voiced by government officials was justified. It also defended the efforts of some Latin military regimes to help the oppressed, although it described their methods as somewhat authoritarian.

3 Astronauts Are 'Fit, Eager To Go'

BY AL ROSSITER JR., UPI Space Writer
CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Apollo 12 astronauts, pronounced fit and "eager to go," honed their moonship flying skills today for Friday's launch to the moon. Charles "Pete" Conrad and Alan L. Bean rehearsed emergency lunar landing procedures in a lunar module trainer while the Houston Control Center monitored the exercise as if it were real. The third crewman, Richard F. Gordon, honed up on lunar surface photographic targets before drilling in a command ship simulator. The astronauts are preparing for every conceivable problem that might develop during their 10-day mission. "I never worry about the things that everybody else is worried about," Conrad said. "I only worry about the things that none of us has thought about." "I'm sure that something will come up in the flight. They always do and that's part of the business." But the veteran mission commander said in a recent interview: "I think the risks are minimal." The three astronauts passed their final major physical examination Sunday. Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, said:

Egyptian Posts Hit By Israelis

Their second attack in as many days against Egyptian positions in the Gulf of Suez, a Tel Aviv military spokesman announced. He said all planes returned to their base safely. The raid appeared to be a further reprisal for an Egyptian naval attack Saturday night on Israeli positions on the Sinai Peninsula. Egypt said the bombardment caused heavy damage and casualties. Israel denied the claim. The Tel Aviv spokesman did not pinpoint the targets of today's morning aerial raids other than to say they occurred at 9 a.m. in the Gulf of Suez in the Suez Canal's central sector. A similar raid in the area was announced by Israel Sunday with all planes reportedly returning to base safely. An Israeli spokesman said Israeli planes unsuccessfully tried to raid positions in the Sukhna area of the west coast of the Gulf of Suez at 6 a.m. Sunday but were driven off by Egyptian jets. He made no mention of losses on either side. The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today the latest U.S. proposals for peace in the Middle East showed total favoritism for Israel. The report came as the 13-nation Arab Defense Council held its third day of meetings in Cairo.

Policewoman To Appear In Riot Trial

CHICAGO (UPI)—A policewoman who followed one of the defendants in the Chicago riot conspiracy trial during the 1968 Democratic National Convention was to be cross-examined today by defense attorneys. Mrs. Barbara Calender, who wore a black minidress to court Friday, testified then she heard Jerry Rubin exhort crowds of demonstrators four times during two nights while the convention was going on. Rubin is one of eight persons charged with crossing state lines in a conspiracy to incite riots at the convention. Only seven of the eight are now on trial, after U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman declared a mistrial for Black Panther Bobby Seale last week. Mrs. Calender's testimony came after Hoffman denied a defense motion for bond for Seale, pending an appeal of Hoffman's summary contempt judgment against the Panther.

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong commandos this morning broke into the U.S. airfield that provides helicopter support for South Vietnamese troops plying it alone against the guerrillas' Cambodian border offensive. Five of the attackers, firing bazooka-type rockets, destroyed three trucks inside the Ban Me Thuot base while a simultaneous mortar barrage scored direct hits on six huts and a bunker, wounding eight Americans. Military spokesmen said one of the commandos was killed in the raid 157 miles northeast of Saigon, apparently in an effort to reduce the effectiveness of helicopter operations supporting the South Vietnamese. None of the "copters was damaged."

Spies Hanged

SEOUL (UPI)—South Korea has hanged two North Korean spies whom the Seoul government said planned an armed uprising to coincide with what they hoped would be an eventual North Korean invasion. The resolution reads in full: Resolved: That the Idaho Congress of Parent and Teachers Association supports controls of curricula at the level of the individual school districts. That it supports endeavors on the part of the Idaho Department of Education to accumulate relevant materials from which administrators, school boards and citizen councils may choose at their own discretion and it supports endeavors by the Idaho Department of Education to accumulate relevant materials from and meaningful training programs for instructors in human living (sex education.) Removal of the 30 mill limit on maintenance and operation levies. Establishment of a kindergarten system throughout the state. A law allowing school bond elections to be passed by a simple majority of real property tax payers. A two-thirds majority is presently required. A state wide educational television station. Making the office of state superintendent of schools a non-partisan office on the ballot. Greater emphasis on vocational education. Implementation of a study for reappointment of school districts. Discontinuing emergency teacher certifications. Compensating school board trustees at $30 per trustee for each regular meeting, not to exceed $150 a trustee in any month.

Fog Chokes Travel In Midlands

By United Press International

Fog choked air and land travel in the Midlands again early today and trapped a stagnant air mass over much of the nation's midsection.

The potential for dangerously high air pollution was increased as large quantities of pollutants were trapped in the lower layers of the atmosphere from the Ohio Valley to the Eastern Great Lakes and the Midwest.

The fog was expected to dissipate after dawn, with sunny and mild conditions predominant over much of the nation, but the pollution problem was expected to stay on.

Rain fell in the Northeast—Boston had more than 1 1/2 inches Sunday—and in the Southwest. A developing system produced some showers in the Northern Rocky Mountains. Snow flurries were expected today.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 22 at Evanston, Wyo., to 75 at Corpus Christi, Tex., Naval Air Station.

Romney Sets New Goal For Department

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary George W. Romney has enunciated a new goal for his Department of Housing and Urban Development: "A decent home for every American within a reasonable distance of his job."

Romney didn't build his case on the matter of saving time something millions of Americans who spend hours commuting every week would understand.

Rather, Romney talked about the persons who live in the inner city and work in the nearby areas, and those who live in the suburbs but work downtown.

He said it makes no economic sense for the poor and the affluent to pass each other each morning and evening on their way to and from their jobs.

To accomplish his goal, Romney said, might necessitate switching some poor, mostly black, people from the city slums into suburbs where blue collar jobs are increasingly located. And, he said, it might mean moving some affluent whites from the suburbs into the central city, where their jobs in finance and business already are located.

Pot Case Suspect Taken To Boise

Agnew Takes Stab At News Media

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "I don't consider the people who write for the news media the intellectual elite. Sometimes I think they're about the most superficial thinkers I've ever seen."

The speaker: Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

His complaint: "If you say something and carefully qualify it, the qualification, after three or four repetitions, disappears. And the repetition becomes an unqualified, highly promotional statement."

Agnew, whose controversial comments about antiwar demonstrators in many quarters, made clear Sunday in a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report he considered himself a victim of reporters who were oversimplifying the news in an intentional effort to be derogatory.

One of the things that distresses me more than anything about the handling I've had, and what I call this 'big city' liberal media is that they're intellectually dishonest in their reporting."

Garrison And Probe Are Alive, Well

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — District Attorney Jim Garrison is alive and well in New Orleans. And with him lives his investigation into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The Democratic voters of New Orleans, in nominating Garrison for a third term Saturday, stamped approval to his investigations into the murder of the President. Garrison campaigned on continuing the probe. His three opponents said they would drop it.

Garrison still must face Republican Phil Trice in the general election in April, but is expected to win early.

Garrison made few public appearances during the campaign and failed to show up for an election-pre debate with the other candidates.

Samuelson Returns To His Office

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson is back to work on state business today after completing one more of his town-hopping visits with citizens this time to north Idaho.

The governor went to Lewiston, Nezperce and Grangeville Thursday, Friday and Saturday to appear before groups varying in size from 40 to 400. The governor accompanied by his wife and several aides, attended meetings and casual discussion group affairs.

One of Samuelson's constant themes on the trip was saving government money, and late Saturday night he was able to give a practical, though unscheduled demonstration.

Samuelson was one of a group of men who worked long after midnight carrying desks and other school furniture out of a burning school building in Coalinga, a small town near Sandpoint. The men were able to save truckloads of the furniture before the school was destroyed.

McIntyre To Vote Against Haynsworth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., announced today he will vote against confirmation of Clement F. Haynsworth as a Supreme Court justice.

The announcement was a blow to Haynsworth's supporters who had hoped McIntyre, an independent-minded Democrat, would break ranks with many of his New England Democratic colleagues to back Haynsworth.

McIntyre had been listed in a UPI survey among 20 undecided senators. His announcement raised the number now believed firmly planning to vote against Haynsworth to 44, compared to 37 in favor.

The number of "undecideds" fell to 19. They are the ones who will decide the issue when it comes before the Senate. Debate is expected to start Thursday.

In a statement, McIntyre said he did not question Haynsworth's character or integrity. But he said he did not think his judicial record met the high standards needed to inspire public confidence in the court.

THIS ROCK SLIDE area at the west end of the Shoshone Falls Park is being repaired by the Twin Falls City Parks Department. The rock wall, which was constructed some 40 years ago, caved away this spring and the men are now finding time to repair it after their routine summer work. The large hole created by the slide is being filled with rocks and then concrete and rocks will be used a few feet up to the rim. The area has been fenced off during the summer months and a fence will be reinstalled after the work is completed.

Couple Uses Dogs Against U.S. Agents

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Brooklyn couple about to be arrested Saturday on charges of trying to sell $100,000 worth of heroin and cocaine to U.S. narcotics agents set two German shepherd dogs on the officers. The agents shot and killed one dog and muzzled the other.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Edward Boyd said the agents were negotiating the sale of a kilo of cocaine and a quarter kilo of heroin with Augustine Luna, 33, and his wife, Gunersinda, 31. When they had agreed on $18,000 as the price of the deal, the agents identified themselves and tried to put the Lunas under arrest.

Boyd said Mrs. Luna darted into the rear of the apartment and, speaking in Spanish, ordered the two shepherds to attack the agents. The dogs came growling out of the rear and lunged at the officers, Boyd said.

One of the agents shot and killed one dog and then he managed to subdue and muzzle the second dog.

The couple was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner and held in $25,000 bond on charges of selling narcotics.

Curiosity

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Duquesne University student Patricia Kline, 20, has designed the perfect campaign button for her father, State Senate Democratic Leader Ernest P. Kline of Beaver Falls.

Because he is an undeclared candidate for governor in 1970, she suggested his supporters hand out blank buttons.

They distributed 25,000 blank baby blue buttons and found that few people could resist asking wearers what the buttons meant.

Human Rights Group Plans T.F. Meeting

The Idaho Commission on Human Rights will meet in Twin Falls Nov. 24 at the College of Southern Idaho, in its first foray outside of Idaho's Capital City.

In an all-day meeting, members of the commission will confer with the Twin Falls rights commission at 9 a.m. in Room 206 of the CSI Fine Arts Building, and will meet directors of the Community Action Agency at about 9:30.

A noon luncheon in the Colonial Room will follow, with members of the commission planning to tour migrant camps and neighborhood centers in both Burley and Twin Falls during the afternoon.

The public is invited to meet and confer with members of the rights commission during the conference in Twin Falls, a spokesman said.

Blount Believes Most Americans Endorse Nixon

SAIGON (UPI)—Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said Saturday the great majority of Americans support President Nixon's Vietnam policies. Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace flew in for a fact-finding visit and said he supported Nixon's peace plans.

"Everyone I've talked to in Vietnam said they were extremely pleased with the President's policies outlined in his speech on Vietnam," Blount told newsmen on the second day of his visit.

"They constantly told me how relieved they were to hear his policies articulated so clearly," Blount said.

Box Car To Transport Autos

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Southern Pacific Railroad is experimenting with a new giant box car designed to carry 30 automobiles compared with the present capacity of eight to 15.

The new, 89-foot-long car, named Vert-A-Pac, carries the autos vertically—standing on end, front bumper down, like books in a bookstore.

An advantage is that, unlike auto freight cars now in use, it is entirely enclosed, thus reducing damage from weather, vandalism and pilferage.

COMMENT

The Carrot Patch

Denver Post

The military-industrial complex is still alive and living in Washington. Last July we questioned the choice of Gilbert Fitzhugh to head a civilian panel that's supposed to spend a year scrutinizing the Pentagon. The idea was to restore public confidence in its operations.

Our view was based on information from Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., that Fitzhugh is chairman of the board of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., which has outstanding $1.3 billion in loans to 24 major defense contractors.

At the time, four of the 15 other panel members were known to work for firms doing substantial business with the military. Now Proxmire has found that the total is eight of the 15 members.

Other unfortunate facts erode whatever stature the panel has left. Its staff director is J. Fred Buzhardt, former aide to Sen. Strom Thurmond of the Senate Armed Services Committee. Proxmire has since discovered that Buzhardt, a West Point graduate, is special consultant to Assistant Defense Secretary Robert Froehle, who calls him "my man Friday."

Obviously Buzhardt—the key professional on the committee—as a Pentagon employe is hardly likely to bite the hand that pays his consultant's fees.

Alas, there's more. The responsibility for actually doing or contracting out necessary panel studies rests with the Stanford Research Institute. SRI is deeply involved in government contracts, especially with the Defense Department. This dependence has been reported by Fortune magazine, which quoted some employes who feared it had reached a dangerous level.

Among the institute's $28 million worth of government contracts last year was a $2.5 million project designed to prove the feasibility of the ABM. A member of the SRI steering group—which decides what it will do for whom—from 1958 to last January was David Packard, now deputy secretary of defense. Current members include several activists in militant right-wing organizations and two directors of the American Ordinance Ass'n, an aggressive lobby for arms manufacturers.

The Pentagon panel members without military interests (that we know of) include a college president, a female attorney, a physicist, a professional football official, an economist and the Reader's Digest Ass'n president. No matter how intelligent and earnest they may be, the deck is stacked against their making an impact.

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird was right when he said a review of military operations was "very much needed" to restore credibility. But if this is the best way he knows to improve credibility, the Pentagon's problems are even graver than we thought.

New Potato Grades

Idaho Falls Post-Register

Idaho's potato industry may have cause to worry about the U.S. Agriculture Department's proposed plan to tighten voluntary federal potato standards.

Understandably, the department is seeking to improve quality available to the consumer over the entire nation.

But the standards tightening, which the Agriculture Department is projecting, will really be an emulation of what Idaho has long done in its strain to sustain a quality image. Because of the Gem State's distance from national market, the quality image, in the past, has made up for the extra freight charges the Idaho industry must bear.

Many of the proposed changes were recommended by the National Potato Council, a grower organization with which Idaho is affiliated.

Use of potato grading standards and federal-state inspection services is not compulsory in most potato producing areas of the nation. It has long been compulsory in Idaho. But while 65 per cent of the national crop moving into sales channels are graded and inspected, the use of the grade name alone on packages of potatoes does not mean that the potatoes have been officially certified as meeting certain government standards. Retailers are permitted to apply the U.S. grade label on potato packages, for example, "with the understanding the contents meet grade specifications" but this is not certified by the government.

Consequently, if, in final form, the standards approved are meaningful enough, like those in Idaho, and if inspection is mandatory and must carry official grade certification, Idaho's competitors will be taking a threatening leaf from Idaho's book. Idaho could find it more difficult to advance its top quality image—because other potato producing areas will be certifying to a similar image.

If such a large portion of Idaho's crop were not going into processed channels, the standards would present even more of a threat. But, whether process or fresh, the final appeal to the consumer will be quality. Idaho's mealy fresh potatoes, for example, are truly king. Nevertheless, Idaho will not be able to capitalize on the quality indifference that many of its competitors have had in the past. Proposed revisions will not be considered until next May—but the formulation of the revisions bears watching.

Denouncing Crime

Boston Herald Traveler

Contrary to what some "law and order" candidates imply, there are no simple, easy—or inexpensive—ways of controlling lawlessness. Crime may not pay, but law enforcement certainly costs. And the cost is borne by those units of government with the most crime and the least ability to finance its control: the cities.

In crime control as in so many other areas, the cities must look for help to the expansive and flexible revenue-raising resources of the federal government. A channel for such aid was created in 1968 with passage of the Omnibus Crime Control Act. The Justice Department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration has already begun to provide bloc grants of crime control funds to the states, with a substantial portion flowing through to the cities.

The channel, however, is clogged. While among members of Congress the need for improved law enforcement is a subject of common agreement and constant pious repetition, the House has not backed up its rhetoric with action. The House has:

administration's request for federal funds for local and state efforts in law enforcement and the administration of justice;

—Cut out two-thirds of the administration's minimal request for $15 million to control and prevent juvenile delinquency; and —Appropriated only $7.5 million out of the $17.9 million requested to finance the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice.

In his recent Message to Congress, President Nixon outlined many of the national needs as yet unmet. The Senate, as it considers the administration's crime measures, should pay particular attention to one passage in the message:

"There is no greater need in this free society than the restoration of the individual American's freedom from violence in his home and on the streets of his city or town. Control and reduction of crime are among the first and constant concerns of this administration. But we can do little more unless Congress provides more tools to do the job. No crisis is more urgent in our society."

WASHINGTON — Some Pentagon planners, in and out of uniform, are privately apprehensive about the visit to Washington later this month of Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato. The cause of their concern is Okinawa, the big island in the Ryukyus which was taken by U.S. forces in 1945 at a cost of 12,500 American lives. They are afraid that Sato will depart after talks here with President Nixon taking a Okinawa commitment which will impede collective security operations in the Far East. For the most part, these officials are reconciled to the idea that control of Okinawa will be permitted to revert to Japan. In the rough and tumble of Japanese politics, Sato has staked his political life on such a reversion, possibly by 1972. What, in the minds of these defense-oriented officials, however, are the terms under which Okinawa, now the site of more than 100 U.S. military facilities, will be returned to Japanese control. These terms are still unsettled pending the Nixon-Sato meeting.

In talks to date, the Japanese have asked that U.S. bases on Okinawa be subject to the same restrictions which were applied by a 1960 mutual security treaty to U.S. bases on the Japanese mainland. Those restrictions require prior consultation with Japan on the equipping and use of the U.S. installations.

Many military men think that would give Japan a veto over use of the facilities on Okinawa. They think such a veto would seriously hamper U.S. forces in efforts aimed at maintaining the security of the area—including the security of Japan, for which the United States is now responsible by treaty.

Broad circulation has been given here to a five-page memorandum, officially unattributed as to source, but known to have been prepared in the Pentagon. It describes Okinawa as "the central link and key element in the U.S. Western Pacific defense perimeter."

The memo asserts that "most Okinawans today consider themselves Japanese. It calls reversion of the island to Japan "inevitable." It cautions that "agitation" for Okinawa's return could cause a political crisis in Japan.

"The negotiations leading to reversion must be conducted in an atmosphere removed from threats of the fall of the Sato government and Japanese leftist-inspired agitations and demonstrations so as to permit a statesmanlike compromise on an issue which at the moment appears to be irreconcilable," the memo says.

It explains that "all opposition parties in Japan and Okinawa have taken the position that the sanctioning of the free use of the bases—including their nuclear potential—would, after reversion, be too high a price to pay for the return of the islands."

In that connection, the memo notes that "Japan's World War II experience has left a deep pacifism and an antipathy to all things military—particularly nuclear weapons. It says no Japanese government could ignore those sentiments.

As against these political considerations in Japan, the Pentagon memo asserts that "Okinawa's strategic geographic location makes it virtually impossible to replace."

"None of its functions—nearby staging base, logistics and administrative base, vital communications and surveillance link and visible indication of our power to deter—can be duplicated by relocation to other installations in the Pacific.

"No other routing of communications in the Pacific will give us the reliability now achieved by the Okinawan linkage, nor can the interlocking radar coverage provided by our facilities on Okinawa be duplicated at fall-back locations.

"The critical reaction time, area of coverage, relative security, and present invulnerability to foreign political control can neither be matched nor duplicated by relocation to any other base or combination of bases in the Pacific," the memo declares.

It notes that the United States made multi-billion dollar investments in the Okinawa facilities on the basis that their use would be unrestricted. It states that U.S. spokesmen, including President Johnson in 1967, have always said that reversion must be conditioned on the availability of "effective" U.S. bases.

It concludes that "The extent to which the United States could fulfill its military commitments to Japan, Taiwan, Korea, the countries of the Southeast Asia Treaty, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, plus the protection of Laos and Vietnam, after having been denied the use of bases on Okinawa is highly debatable, particularly if we must attempt to do so from a fall-back position."

"Et Tu, Mr. Justice Burger?"

ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

Now We Know Why Lindsay Won

NEW YORK — The amazing collapse of Democratic Mayor Proccacino's mayoral campaign here is evident in the unpublicized fact that some local leaders in solidly Democratic districts have walked off the field, neglecting the last-week routine of stuffing election-ballot slates underneath front doors and getting out the vote.

The explanation for this surrender within the chaotic Democratic organization of New York City lies not so much in Mayor John V. Lindsay's brilliant campaign execution as in City Controller Proccacino's incredible ineptitude.

After Proccacino won the primary election against four liberal Democrats, his inner circle told him he simply could not lose in November. That was last June. Since then, every effort has been made by substantial Democratic party leaders—such as Paul Scriverano, former City Council president—has been summarily rebuffed by Proccacino insiders.

The reason: they wanted no competition for Mayor Proccacino's favors. Thus, instead of broadening his campaign base, these inner-circle advisers shut the door to proffered help. This effectively ruled out the once good chance of enlisting the support of former Mayor Robert Wagner and former Gov. Averell Harriman.

But the tight little circle of Proccacino's campaign aides proved embarrassingly unfit to run a mayoral campaign. Campaign manager Jacob D. (Jack) Fuchsberg, a wealthy trial lawyer who lives outside the city in Westchester County, had little experience in New York politics. The No. 2 man, campaign coordinator Victor Campione, was a district leader in the Bronx a decade ago and ever since has been an employee of the controller's office in City Hall.

In short, Fuchsberg and Campione were small-bore pols with faint comprehension of how to run a city-wide operation and a bare acquaintance with the big names of the Democratic party.

Besides those two, Proccacino has had the full-time services of only one paid operative: Martin Steadman, public relations adviser. Steadman, a former prize-winning reporter for the old Herald Tribune, is a young man of energy and imagination. But his efforts were fragmented by conflicting demands of press relations, scheduling television spots, and keeping up with the candidate's sudden changes of mind.

For example, one day early last week Proccacino suddenly cancelled a scheduled meeting with clergymen representing every religious denomination in Harlem—planned for improving Proccacino's dismal prospects among black voters, who have been repelled by his law-and-order campaign theme. But Proccacino abruptly cancelled it because he wanted to reserve the entire day to prepare for the radio debate that evening with Lindsay and State Sen. John Marchi, the Republican nominee.

Early in the morning, however, Harlem Democratic leader Hulan Jack telephoned Proccacino at home. He must attend the meeting, warned Jack, or jeopardize the support of the few Harlem organization Democrats still backing him. Proccacino changed his mind again. But since neither Steadman nor any other aide was informed, the confrontation was held without reporters present. Thus, Proccacino's "credible" performance in Harlem went largely unnoticed.

The campaign was filled with similar blunders. Proccacino never could make his mind up about the Vietnam Moratorium of Oct. 15. Lindsay not only supported the anti-war demonstrations but ordered city flags flown at half-mast. Marchi immediately opposed it, a move that endeared him to Proccacino's hawkish law-and-order backers.

Proccacino waffled, unable to make up his mind. The result gave Marchi added prestige even among doves who are backing Lindsay, a fact clearly demonstrated in a poll we conducted of Jewish voters in the upper Bronx. "Marchi had the guts to say what he thought," said one. "How can New York stand a mayor who can't make his mind up on Vietnam?"

On top of this, Proccacino's entire campaign budget was less than $500,000—compared with Lindsay's estimated $2 million plus. The end product: the most inept Democratic mayoral campaign in modern history.

The lesson is that New York's undeniably demanded for safe streets, deepened racial antagonism, and the unpopularity of the incumbent mayor appear to be quite insufficient to elect a non-descript candidate with an organization of hangers-on lust- ing for the spoils of Gracie Man- sion. The political career of John V. Lindsay did indeed seem ripe for a premature end this year—but only by an op- ponent with solid credibility.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Overdose

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My sister has been in a state of depression over the loss of a child. I don't think she wants to harm herself actually, but she did take about 30 grains of phenobarb with about six ounces of whiskey two weeks ago, which we discovered quickly, as I'm sure she meant to do.

I tried to stop her husband from calling an ambulance. I'm almost positive that black coffee and keeping her awake would have sufficed.

Now the fact that the neighbors know about this has put her deeper into herself and I think she should have some kind of help now.

Her husband is angry with me for not wanting to get help when she did this. Was I wrong? What would you advise that we do now? — M. B.

Yes, I think you were wrong. It used to be believed that suicidal attempts—which could be readily detected were undertaken to gain attention and were not serious.

This attitude—on the basis of a great deal of intensive study—has changed.

One book very highly regarded by experts is vividly titled "The Cry for Help" (edited by Norman L. Farberow and Edwin S. Shneidman). That is what a suicide attempt usually is—a desperate means of saying, "Won't somebody help me in my misery?"

The potential suicide is likely to know just what kind of help he (or she) needs. Otherwise he would go right to the knows only that life is flat and hopeless to him.

It is true that many suicidal attempts are contrived to make it probable that they will be quickly discovered. Why not? Why cry for help unless you expect the cry to be heard?

But implicit in these same attempts is an overtone which says, "But if I don't get help, I'm willing to take the chance of dying."

Another thing has been learned: that a suicide attempt which fails, perhaps intentionally, does not mean that subsequent attempts will not be made, nor that they will not succeed.

If the first "cry for help" brings no response, the subsequent "cries" may be repeated, but more loudly—that is, more dangerously. And then—death.

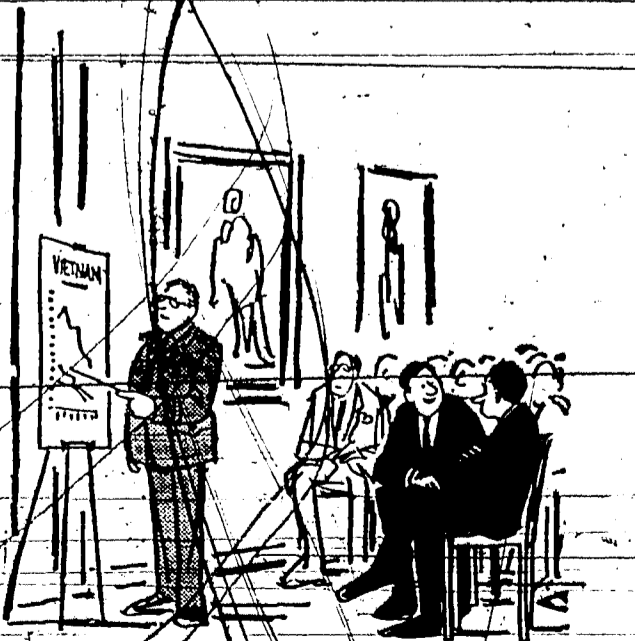

Your sister's cry for help has been heard, but there has been no response. She needs prompt psychiatric care. See that she gets it.

As to calling the ambulance, that is what I would have done. You may feel "almost positive" that black coffee and wakeness would have brought her around. Perhaps so.

But can you ever be "almost positive" that a person hasn't taken more than you thought? Or be unusually sensitive to it? Or have taken something else besides?

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

BERRY'S WORLD

Republican Leaders Eye Judge Ouster

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top Republicans once again are looking for grounds to impeach Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. If the Senate "sets up new ethical standards" by rejecting the pending court nomination of Clement Haynsworth Jr., they may conclude they have found them.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford insisted he was not trying to influence either the Senate debate, starting this week, or the eventual Senate vote on confirmation of Haynsworth, expected to be close.

Ford told newsmen that, however, he had instigated a fresh search of information with a view to possible impeachment action against the 71-year-old Douglas, who has regularly incurred the wrath of conservatives almost since his appointment to the high court in 1939.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., circulated a draft minority report of the Senate Judiciary Committee Friday in which he accused Haynsworth of a lack of candor in testimony about off-bench financial affairs, as well as an unintentional violation of law requiring reports on a profit-sharing trust he administered.

The Senate is expected to begin debate this Wednesday or Thursday on Haynsworth, chief judge of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals. The charges against him are primarily that he violated judicial ethics by ruling on cases involving companies in which he had a financial interest.

Impeachment proceedings are difficult and involved, and can be brought only on the constitutional grounds of "treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors." The House initiates the impeachment proceedings, and the Senate acts as a sort of jury.

'Integrity' Of Broadcasters Questioned By Congressmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A staff study of the House Commerce Committee says its examination of the television film footage of the 1968 Democratic National Convention "raises some question as to the objectivity of the broadcasters in Chicago."

Staff investigators said that from an examination of film footage shown on television and the footage removed or withheld in editing, it might be concluded a bias was present in favor of the demonstrators. "It is also true that material to support the opposite conclusion may also be found," they said.

Investigators said they found no evidence of consciously deliberate slanting in the filming or editing of the televised material. And they said no instance was proved of alleged "skating" of news events or encouragement of demonstrations by television newsmen.

Property Tax Levy Down In Idaho

BOISE (UPI)—The Associated Taxpayers of Idaho reported this past weekend that Idaho's average property tax levy declined this year—the third time in the past 20 years.

Association executive manager Max Yost said the reduction is only about a tenth of a mill in the property tax levy and compares with downturns of four points six mills in 1965 and 11.1 mills in 1966.

The latter two reductions were the results of sales tax enactment and of the property tax rollback law.

Yost said repeal of the rollback law in 1967 brought an increase of 7 mills in the average tax levy—the biggest jump since 1949.

Hijacker's Attorney Defends Self

ROME (UPI)—The American lawyer representing Raffaele Minichello today defended himself against Italian criticism of his role in the hijack case.

"I'm here at a request of Raffaele's family," Marvin Mitchelson of Beverly Hills, Calif., told a news conference. "They want me to help their son and assist them in helping their son."

"I'm also here now at the request of Raffaele," Mitchelson added. "I met with him for two hours on Saturday. He has indicated his desire for me to help him and assist in his defense."

Mitchelson, whose clients include Groucho Marx and other Hollywood personalities, has attracted ill-will in the four days since he arrived here with Minichello's mother and sister.

First, the two original lawyers in the case, Nicola Lombardi and Vincenzo Siniscalchi, either resigned or were dismissed.

Then, as an indication of the way some Italians feel about Mitchelson, several hundred people demonstrated in the southern town of Pratola Serra Sunday to show solidarity with Minichello and hostility to the lawyer.

Search For Missing Men Abandoned

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Coast Guard has abandoned a five-day search for 28 men missing from the Liberian tanker Keo, believed sunk off the coast of Nantucket Island. Eight bodies have been recovered.

A spokesman said Sunday there is "always a possibility" the search will be resumed if any hopeful evidence is discovered.

Ships sailing through the area 240 miles southeast of Nantucket have been asked to look for more bodies or debris.

The 639-foot tanker, carrying oil from Europe to the United States, split Wednesday during a violent storm. In its last radio message, 40 miles from where the bodies were found, the Keo said the ship's crewmen all were on the stern section.

That half of the ship was not found, although the bow of the Keo, debris, lifejackets, a lifeboat and a small raft were seen in waters nearby that the Coast Guard said were thick with sharks.

No 'Cupid'

SALISBURY, Md. (UPI)—Mayor Dallas Truitt says he's not going to play Cupid, and that's that.

The mayor received a letter recently from a New York City man asking Truitt to help him find a wife.

Truitt said he decided to ignore the request, which he called "the most unusual since being elected."

Mansfield Says GOP Threat In Nomination Will Backfire

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says a Republican threat to hold Justice William O. Douglas's hostage to the outcome of the Supreme Court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. will backfire.

But a key White House aide says he understands what motivated the GOP move.

Both said, however, Douglas should not have an effect on the Haynsworth outcome.

Mansfield and presidential counselor Bryce N. Harlow were quoted in separate interviews Sunday about House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford's move in the Haynsworth nomination, which is expected to reach the Senate floor this week.

Ford said last week he was considering impeachment proceedings against Douglas if Haynsworth is not approved.

Ford said the same standards applied to nominees should be applied to sitting justices.

Until he resigned earlier this year, Douglas was the paid director of the Parvin Foundation which was funded in part by sources who had financial interests in Las Vegas gambling casinos.

Asked if he felt Ford's statement would help or hurt Haynsworth's chances, Mansfield told an interviewer: "Speakign personally, I think it will be counterproductive. You're getting into the situation what is in effect an extraneous matter."

Harlow, speaking on nationwide television (Issues and Answers—ABC), said: "I suppose what Gerry Ford was saying was, well, if these standards are applied to a person put on the court, then let us apply it around in the federal judiciary and see how it works."

"I can understand his doing it," Harlow said. "I don't know that it should have any effect whatsoever on the situation in the Senate. Justice Haynsworth's case rests on his own record and I don't know what the Douglas matter would have to do with that."

Apollo 12 Will Face Threat Of Being Stranded In Space

By EDWARD K. DELONG
UPI Space Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 12 moon pilots must take the risk of getting stranded in space much earlier in their mission than the men of any past lunar flight. For Apollo 12, "biting the bullet" comes just 30 hours, 53 minutes after the blastoff from Cape Kennedy.

During earlier flights to the moon, astronauts followed a path that would bring them looping around the moon and back to earth with only minor course adjustments if their spacecraft rocket engine failed to fire.

Only after they dropped into lunar orbit with a blast of their main command ship engine were they dependent on rocket power to get back home. Engineers said if the rocket worked once, putting them into moon orbit, it probably would work again to get them out.

Group Studying Proposed New Panama Canal Ponders Threat To Pacific-Born Fish Transferred To Atlantic

By ELIZABETH WHARTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Can a fish born and bred in the Pacific find happiness in the Atlantic?

The question is deadly serious and is only one of many facing a presidential commission studying construction of a new sea-level canal across the Isthmus of Panama.

The commission, authorized by Congress four years ago and scheduled to report to the President next year, has farmed-out the problem of the displaced fish to the National Academy of Sciences and the Smithsonian Institution.

But it has answered some other fundamental question. They include:

Q. Is it technically feasible to replace the 55-year-old lock canal in Panama with a new sea-level cut linking the two oceans?

A. Yes—at several possible locations on the Isthmus. Fears that the Pacific, which has a higher sea level, would spill over into the Atlantic and alter both coastlines have been proven groundless.

But opening an unobstructed channel between the two oceans would allow a far greater exchange of marine life than now takes place through the Panama Canal, raising the questions as to whether fish and other marine life might suffer. The Academy of Sciences has been asked to propose a program of long-term studies of the potential biological effects.

On the other hand, engineers have concluded there is no reason to worry about the "infinitesimal" exchange of water between the two oceans because of tidal ebb and flow. They explain that the levels of all of the earth's great oceans vary at different locations.

They were going to find a common level. It would have happened a long time ago because the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian Oceans all converge around the Antarctic.

Q. How much would it cost?
A. Probably somewhere between $3 and $6 billion, at current estimates (which are a way of escalating before a project is completed.) This depends on location—some sites involve more engineering difficulties than others—and the method of excavation to be used. Nuclear energy would cost less than half as much as convention methods, but poses problems of its own because of the test ban treaty.

Q. Is the canal needed?
A. Yes. At least in the view of the commission. Congress and the Defense Department agree, as do most of the world's maritime nations. Traffic frequently backs up for days awaiting passage through the present canal with its old-fashioned locks. It's also too small for most modern ships. (Nearly 1,000 Navy and merchant ships are too wide or too deep for the present canal.)

The sea-level canal also would be easier to defend. One nuclear warhead or a salvo of conventional bombs landing on the present locks would put the old canal out of operation almost indefinitely.

There are some unanswered questions too. Namely:
Q. Can the political problems be solved?
A. That's a poser. Originally, the Isthmus was a part of Colombia. When the United States decided to undertake the canal construction around the turn of the century, it offered Colombia $10 million for the land plus an annuity of $250,000.

Colombia rejected the offer but the action set off a rebellion in Panama, which declared its independence in 1903. The United States sent a warship to Panama preventing Colombian troops from quelling the outbreak.

The new republic promptly negotiated a treaty which allowed construction of the canal, gave the United States control of it "in perpetuity," and ceded other land necessary for the canal's defense. The construction, which took seven years and cost $350 million, was completed in 1914.

The original treaty provided an annuity of $250,000 to Panama, but this has been increased periodically over the years and now stands at $1.9 million a year.

Panam also has been de-manded increased recognition of its inherent sovereignty over Panama, but this has been the canal and parity between the wages paid local employees and U.S. employees in the Zone—a 10-mile wide strip of U.S. territory bordering the canal.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About three months ago I met a very pretty Christian girl. She's 29 years old and still unmarried. I'm 33 and divorced my wife 3 years ago when she ran out on me for another guy.

Well, I informed this lovely Christian girl of my past, explaining to her that I had accepted Jesus Christ as my personal Savior three years ago, but prior to that time I could have said with the Apostle Paul that I was the "Chief Sinner."

I asked her to marry me and she said she would think it over. The next day she handed me a piece of paper that looked like an application for a job with the FBI. She requested that I fill it out right then and there with a carbon copy, too! There were questions like, "Where have you been employed the past 10 years? Have you ever been fired? If so, state reasons. Where did you obtain your divorce? Have you ever had any communicable diseases? Do you have a police record? Do you owe any money?"

I felt like telling her to take her piece of paper and get lost, but instead I filled it out and signed it because I really cared for her. Now I feel like a fool. What is your opinion of this girl?

DEAR ABBY: One thing for certain, she is not stupid. Perhaps she was frightened by your confession of having been the "Chief Sinner" and wanted to know precisely what that involved.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 years old and will be married very soon. I have had dentures for nearly four years and not even my closest friends suspect my problem. Should I tell my fiancé before we are married? Or should I wait until after? Or do you think it would be all right if I just didn't offer this information at all? I am absolutely positive that he doesn't know. UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: This is a decision which YOU must

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Ointment or suppository form.

Gabriel Hits For 3 TDs As Rams Rap 49ers 41-30

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Roman Gabriel threw three touchdown passes including one to Wendell Tucker that covered 93 yards and ran for one touchdown Sunday as the Los Angeles Rams wrapped up their eighth straight win, a 41-30 decision over the San Francisco Forty Niners.

96-Yard Run Helps Lions Edge Atlanta

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit scored the first three times it had the ball on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Greg Landry to Earl McCullough, a one-yard run by Bill Triplett and a spectacular 96-yard kickoff return by Bobby Williams—then the Lions' defense took over Sunday and provided a 27-21 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

Beleaguered quarterback Randy Johnson of Atlanta, who had thrown an 11-yard touchdown pass to former Detroit wide receiver Gail Cogdill in the second quarter, brought the Falcons back in the second half.

Johnson fired a 25-yard pass to running back Jim Butler and one of 34 yards to Paul Flately—both on first downs—to set up a one-yard scoring plunge in the third period by Butler.

Lem Barney was unable to punt deep in Detroit territory because of a poor snap from center and Atlanta took over on the Lions 16, trailing only 42-14 with plenty of time left.

But defense end Joe Robb caused Johnson to fumble trying to pass and defensive tackle Dennis Moore, who started when regular Jerry Rush came down with a bleeding ulcer before game time, recovered the ball.

Detroit punted but Atlanta immediately fumbled again with safety Mike Weger recovering. Earl Mann then came in to kick a 34-yard field goal to make it 72-14. It was his second field goal of the game and 13th of 16 attempts this year.

Snead Scores To Tie With 'Skins 28-28

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Norm Snead bucked over with the tying touchdown with 56 seconds left after an interference call put the ball on the one Sunday as the Philadelphia Eagles and the Washington Redskins battled to a 28-28 deadlock.

Snead's score and Sam Baker's extra point climaxed an Eagle rally from 14 points behind in the fourth quarter.

With a fourth-down-and-25 situation, Snead hurled a desperation pass from the Washington 42 and interference was called against Redskins' defender Mike Bass, who was covering Ben Hawkins on the one.

The Redskins spurred ahead 28-14 in the first 4:12 minutes of the final quarter as Sonny Jurgensen passed four yards to Charley Taylor for a go-ahead touchdown and two plays later, Sam Huff ran 18 yards to score with an intercepted pass. But Snead directed the Eagles on an 84-yard drive that paid off on Tom Woodeshick's one-yard scoring plunge to cut the margin to 28-21 and set the stage for the close finish.

Using nine running plays, the Eagles marched 57 yards for a first quarter touchdown the first time they had the ball with rookie Leroy Keyes scoring from the two for the first touchdown of his pro career.

Woodeshick accounted for 40 yards of the drive on five carries.

The Rams looked like easy winners for three quarters and led 20-9 at halftime.

Forty Niner quarterback John Brodie, coming back after a three-week rest because of a "dead arm," narrowed the gap to 34-30 in the fourth quarter after he threw his third touchdown pass, a three-yarder to Bill Tucker with less than six minutes to play.

Gabriel rallied the Rams after that, however, and scored their final touchdown on a nine-yard rollout around right end to complete an 83-yard drive that was highlighted by a 55-yard pass to Tommy Mason.

The 93-yard pass play from Gabriel to Wendell Tucker came on the first scrimmage play of the game. Tucker caught the ball on the Rams 40 and scampered on a slant toward the southwest section of the end zone. Jimmy Johnson made a dive for him on the 10 but missed.

Gabriel's other touchdown passes were a 35-yarder to Les Josephson at 7:27 of the first quarter; an eight-yarder to Jack Snow with only four seconds gone in the fourth quarter.

Brodie connected to Ken Willard on a 20-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter; and a two-yarder to Bob Windsor in addition to the three-yard pass to Bill Tucker in the fourth period.

Bruce Gossett contributed two field goals of 15 and 20 yards to the Rams scoring total and Eddie Meador intercepted a Brodie pass at 4:25 in the third quarter and ran it back to a touchdown.

Hill Sparks Dallas To 33-17 Nod

DALLAS (UPI)—Calvin Hill romped 30 yards for one touchdown and set up another with a 55-yard run Sunday to propel the jittery Dallas Cowboys to a 33-17 victory over the New Orleans Saints and a two-game lead in the National Football League's Capitol Division.

Hill, the NFL's leading rusher, had his second 100-yard plus game of his rookie season—both against New Orleans—to more than offset quarterback Craig Morton's erratic passing and an otherwise ineffective Dallas running attack in the wake of a storming Saints' defense.

Morton, who had one of his worst days ever despite hitting 13 of 23 for 292 yards, hit Bobby Hayes for a 23-yard touchdown pass and tight end Mike Ditka for a 16-yarder, while Danny Reeves ambled seven yards for another and Mike Clark kicked in a pair of 21-yard field goals.

But the Saints made a game of it for three quarters and the score was tied at 17-17 going into the final period. Bill Kilmer had the Dan Abrahamer 102-7 for 14 and 17-yard passes over Cowboy defender Phil Clark and Tom Dempsey had booted a 37-yard field goal.

Both quarterbacks suffered a pair of interceptions with Mike Gachter getting both of them against Kilmer and setting up one Cowboys touchdown. Dave Whitsett and Bobby Thompson picked off Morton passes within less than a minute of each other and the Saints pulled to within 17-10 after Whitsett's pickoff.

Douglass, badly battered in his three previous starts this season, reeled off touchdowns passes of 25 yards to Brian Piccolo and 12 yards to Bob Wallace. He also scrambled for 72 yards in nine carries, at least one of the times after his helmet had been knocked off.

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI)—Joe Kapp threw three touchdown passes to Gene Washington and Fred Cox Sunday and led the Minnesota Vikings to their seventh straight victory—a 51-3 trouncing of the Cleveland Browns.

Minnesota scored the first nine times it got the ball as the defensive front four held the Browns—the Century Division leaders—to only eight first downs and 151 total yards, 42 on the ground.

Kapp, who completed 16 of 24 passes for 23 yards, hit Washington for scoring passes of 16, 10 and one yards. The Vikings opened the scoring after Bobby Bryant intercepted three passes, two that set up touchdowns and the third to end the game, to take over the league lead with seven.

Washington took a 10-yard scoring pass from Kapp in the second quarter, climaxing a 59-yard drive for a 17-0 lead following Cox' 32-yard field goal late in the first period.

In the last minute of the first half, the Vikings were apparently stopped by a roughing the passer penalty gave the Vikings a first down on a one-yard touchdown pass to Washington to give Minnesota a 27-3 halftime lead after Cox and Cleveland's Don Cockeroff swapped 28-yard field goals.

Dave Osborn drove in from the Cleveland five for a 34-3 lead after three periods as coach Bud Grant began substituting freely.

With the second string backfield of Gary Cuozzo, Clinton Jones and Oscar Reed, the Vikings scored 17 points in the fourth period, including a one-yard touchdown plunge for Jones and a 32-yard Cux field goal.

Stubborn Colts Down Green Bay Packers 14-6

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Johnny Unitas passed for two touchdowns while Tom Maxwell and Bubba Smith blocked field goals Sunday as the Baltimore Colts defeated the Green Bay Packers, 14-6.

With the Colts leading 7-6 in the second quarter, the Packers attempted a field goal from the Baltimore 45 yard line. Maxwell, a rookie cornerback, blocked Mike Mercer's kick and the Colts recovered the ball on the Green Bay 49.

The Colts then drove to the Green Bay three yard stripe in 11 plays and Unitas followed with a touchdown pass to Ray Perkins.

The Colts' first touchdown, a 51 yard pass from Unitas to tight end Tom Mitchell, came with 4:49 left in the first quarter.

Mitchell, subbing for the injured John Mackey, then wrenched his left knee on the Colts' kickoff following the touchdown and had to leave the game. The Colts lost another receiver, Jimmy Orr, because of a muscle pull, also in the second quarter.

Mercer kicked two field goals in the first quarter to account for all the Packers' scoring. Following Herb Adderley's interception of a Unitas pass at the Green Bay 35, the Packers moved to the six where Mercer booted a 14 yard field goal.

Green Bay was helped by a roughing the kicker penalty when the Packers punted from their 41 which allowed them to keep the ball during their drive.

Mercer's other field goal, a 47 yarder, came after the Packers had moved to the Colts' 40 following Baltimore's first touchdown.

Neither team scored in the second half as the Colts were hampered by a lack of healthy receivers and the Packers' substitute quarterback Don Horn was unable to move the ball. Horn was playing for Bart Starr who was suffering from a sore arm.

The gap time the Packers managed a sustained drive in the second half. Smith blocked a Mercer field goal attempt at the Baltimore 35.

Chiefs Keep Hold On AFL Western Top Spot By Routing San Diego

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Warren McVea broke open a ruggid defensive struggle with a 50-yard pass and a two-yard run for a touchdown Sunday as the Kansas City Chiefs retained their lead in the American Football League's Western Division with a 72-3 victory over the San Diego Chargers.

Domres, a 6-4 rookie from Columbia, started and played all the way in place of John Hadl at quarterback. San Diego's lone score, a 52-yard field goal by Dennis Parzee, gave the Chargers a brief lead in the first quarter.

Dawson and the Chiefs put together an 11-play, 80-yard drive in the second quarter. Dawson completed three of five in the drive for gains of 21, 15 and nine yards. Mike Garrett scored from the five, squirting out of the arms of several tacklers when it appeared he had been stopped for no gain. Jon Etenerud added field goals of 30 and 47 yards before McVea put the game out of reach.

But it was a defensive struggle most of the way, with the Chiefs intercepting five passes and the Chargers three. The victory left the Chiefs atop the Western Division with an 8-1 record. San Diego dropped to 4-5.

Jim Hart, who took over for Johnson during the fourth period, tossed a 60-yard touchdown pass to John Cannon for the final Cardinal score.

Roland took a 10-yard pass for the first score, and after Fran Tarkenton passed 17 yards to Aaron Thomas for a 3-yard touchdown, Roland plunged two yards with 29 seconds left for the go-ahead score in the first period.

Roland added a three-yard touchdown in the second period and Cid Edwards ran one yard for a touchdown in the third period before he injured his right wrist and left the game. Roy Shivers added to the Cardinal assault with a 4-yard touchdown run before Gilliam's big yardage touchdown.

Kick In Last 22 Seconds Lets Bengals Tie Oilers

HOUSTON (UPI)—Cincinnati's soccer-style kicker Horst Muhlmann kicked an 18-yard field goal with 22 seconds left Sunday to give the Bengals and Houston Oilers a 31-31 tie with the Oilers.

Houston's own soccer-style kicker Roy Gerela had given the Oilers a 31-28 lead just three minutes earlier with a 50-yard field goal. It was Houston's only lead of the day.

Cook threw four touchdowns, three of them to tight end Bob Triunphy for 70, 44 and 14 yards, and the other for 70 yards to flanker Eric Crabtree. Don Trull gave the Oilers a 44-yard toss in the first quarter came on a fancy reverse with end Essex Johnson flipping back to Cook, who easily hit the wide-open Triunphy for the score. On the second bomb, Triunphy outran Oiler defensive back Ken Houston on a deflected pass that Triunphy snapped on his back in the end zone.

Trull's two first half touchdowns came on runs of one and four yards. The first was set up by a 35-yard pass to running back Roy Hopkins, who was dropped on the Bengal one and ended on Gerela's 60-yard field goal attempt which fell five yards short with two seconds left.

Lamonica Guides Oakland Over Denver 41-10

OAKLAND (UPI)—Daryle Lamonica, who leads American Football League quarterbacks in touchdown passes, ran his 1969 total to 25 Sunday with three scoring throws to Fred Biletnikoff, in leading the Oakland Raiders to a 41-10 victory over the Denver Broncos.

	Den	Oak

Passing yards	17	82

Despite the victory, Oakland's seventh compared to one loss and a tie, the Raiders remained a half game behind Kansas City in the AFL's Western Division race. The young Broncos, burned consistently by Lamonica's pinpoint passing, slipped to 4-5.

Lamonica's scoring passes to Biletnikoff, who now has 10 on the season, covered 53, 28 and 15 yards. George Blanda, who had to take over for Daryle late in the second quarter after defensive end Rich Jordan laid out the Oakland quarterback, threw 11 yards to Charlie Smith for another TD and booted field goals of 45 and 18 yards.

Chip Oliver ran 29 yards with an intercepted pass for Oakland's other TD while the Broncos' 12-point underdogs scored on a one-yard smash by Fran Lynch and a 21-yard field goal by Bobby Howfield.

Oliver's run on a pass he picked off from Steve Tensi gave the Raiders a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and Denver tied it with 2:20 left in the second when Lynch wrapped up an 88-yard drive with a smash off right tackle.

With 44 seconds left to play in the first half the Raiders scored on the first of Lamonica's passes to Biletnikoff and Blanda's heave to Smith for a commanding 21-7 halftime edge. The Raiders made it 31-10 in the third quarter on the second of Lamonica's passes to Biletnikoff, and Blanda's first field goal before the Broncos scored for the second time on Howfield's FG.

The Lamonica-Biletnikoff combo struck again on the first play of the fourth quarter and Blanda punted his second field goal with three minutes left to close out the scoring.

A NEW WRINKLE-WINNER ON LOSER

Jim: "South might well have bid three no-trump but he wanted his 150 honors..."

Oswald: "He scored them and game and rubber also, but it required some really excellent play before he got through..."

Jim: "East won the first trick..."

Oswald: "The stage was now set. South led dummy's queen of diamonds and discarded his king of spades on it..."

Jim: "This actually was a winner-on-loser play, since the king of spades was a winner, but look at the dividends..."

Oswald: "West was on lead with the king of diamonds. He was out of hearts and clubs and had to lead either a spade or diamond..."

Jim: "Note the unblock. If South had hung onto the spade king, West could have put South in with a spade. This way, South was able to enter dummy and discard his two club losers on the 10 of spades and jack of diamonds..."

EPITAPH — Joe Miller was a fine chap, a dramatic actor, an Englishman with a serious turn of mind. He died in 1738. A careful study of the records of the day do not indicate he ever told a joke in public. Nonetheless, a year after Mr. Miller's demise, some cunning entrepreneur collected all the bad gags current in the London streets and published them in a volume peculiarly called, "Joe Miller's Jest Book." What an odd thing to do to an honorable man.

It isn't Math, History or English. But it's just as basic.

To earn a living, he needs the old fundamentals. To keep on living, he must learn the right way to drive. Yet only one out of three high school students takes a driver education course. Too bad. Automobile accidents are the number one killer of American teenagers.

How important is driver education? Well, it's important enough that trained drivers have 50% fewer accidents and traffic violations. Important enough that many insurance companies offer lower rates for teenagers who have completed driver training.

And important enough that new car dealers across the nation loan 34,000 automobiles every year to our public schools for driver training.

It's your responsibility to help make sure your teenager takes the proper subjects in school. So make sure driver education is one of them. Where it's not available, we suggest that you consider a good private driving school.

When it comes to preparation for living, learning how to drive safely really is basic.

Closing Of White House Pool Stir Tales Of Presidents

By MERRIMAN SMITH WASHINGTON (UPI) The White House swimming pool, a fixture at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue since the early days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is being boarded over to make room for additional office space, largely for use of the press. Exercise rooms, steam baths, a room for pool equipment are being re-done as part of the renovation; a room for White House dogs and the florist shop moved to other locations. The expensive, colorful mural around the pool which was added during the Kennedy administration has been removed and stored away, should some later President decide to re-open the pool.

Miss Hansing Is Crowned At Homecoming

FILER — Linda Hansing was crowned homecoming queen during half-time ceremonies of the Filer-Groeding football game. Helen Fleener and Christie Griff served as attendants for the queen. The queen and her attendants are chosen by members of the football team. Homecoming day got underway with a parade at 12:30 p.m. Friday followed by the game, band show and crowning of the queen. A dance in the evening in the school gymnasium climaxed the events. Theme of the dance was "Everyone's Gone to the Moon." Spirit Week at the school was marked all week with Tuesday designated Crazy Day; Wednesday, Old Clothes Day; Thursday, Dress Up Day, and Friday, Red and White Day. A pep rally and bonfire were held Thursday evening.

Repairs Given Hospital Items

COLUMBIA, Md. (UPI) — Hospital equipment around the country is in better health today, thanks to a new cure for sick instruments. Under a plan developed by the Bendix Corporation, cardiographs, blood cell counters, X-ray machines and other diagnostic and therapeutic equipment in need of help can receive instant therapy at hospital service centers set up in major cities for that purpose. The program, first of its kind in the country, offers preventive maintenance, equipment calibration and emergency repair work seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

Slides Shown To Club On Scotland

DEGLA — Rev. John Pickrell, who was an exchange pastor in Scotland last summer, showed slides and described his three-month stay there, for the Deglo Kiwanis club this week. He said gasoline is 90 cents per gallon in Scotland and the average wages are about half what the same type of work receives in America. Food and rent are about the same as in this country, but the difference in the wage scale makes them much higher, in relation to the average income. The first Monday of each month has been designated as ladies day.

OPENINGS REPORTED BOISE (UPI) — The Boise office of the Idaho Department of Employment has reported there were 255 unfilled openings at the end of the month of October.
