TEN CENTS

TRUCKS LIKE THIS one, which is getting ready to dump 25 tons of beets at the Amalgamated Sugar Co. factory here, will have to take a 12-mile detour to do their job when they start moving beets in the next few days from the Jerome-Wendell area beet dumps. The state has placed a load limit of 22 tons gross weight on the Perrine Memorial Bridge, so the large beet trucks and other heavy tractor-trailer rigs will have to get across the Snake River either by way of the new Hansen Bridge or over the bridge at Hagerman.

Load Limit Will Detour Northside Beet Haulers

A familiar sight along Blue Lakes Boulevard from the Perrine Memorial Bridge through town to East Five Points has vanished — the roar of big trucks hauling sugar beets to the factory southeast of Twin Falls.

Robert Day, Twin Falls, assistant to the general agriculturalist for the Amalgamated Sugar Co., said with the 22-ton restriction put on trucks crossing the Perrine Memorial Bridge, as of yet there is no effect either to the sugar firm or to the Circle A Construction hauling the beets from various beet dumps to the factory.

Mr. Day said, "Presently the trucking firm is hauling beets from the Castleford area. However, in a few days some trucks will shift over to the northside and start hauling beets from the Jerome-Wendell dumps.

"When the trucks start hauling the beets from these two areas, the trucks will have to go to the Hansen interchange and cross Snake River at Hansen Bridge, then back to the factory — a distance of about 12 additional miles."

Mr. Day said this added mileage the trucks will have to travel, will "hurt the trucking firm, as the contract with them is a mileage type of contract that was predetermined prior to the harvest season. However, officials of both firms are currently discussing this issue in Ogden to see what can be done with the cost of the added mileage."

Mr. Day said the Circle A trucks each have a 25-ton load, thus causing them to bypass the Perrine Memorial Bridge because of the restriction.

Jovial Astronauts Achieve Linkup With 'Clipper'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—America's jovial Apollo 12 explorers rocketed from the moon's Ocean of Storms to a safe linkup in lunar orbit today with their colleague in the Yankee Clipper.

Charles "Pete" Conrad and Alan L. Bean flew their moonship Intrepid through a 3½ hour series of orbital maneuvers to rejoin Richard F. Gordon in the command ship.

During their dramatic 32 hour stay on the moon, Conrad and Bean walked 1½ miles on two excursions, collected a treasure of rocks and retrieved parts from a robot spacecraft that had been on the lunar surface since 1967. They left behind a nuclear-powered science station, Old Glory, and a plaque on their discarded landing stage saying they had been there.

Before going to sleep, the two Intrepid pilots had to unload their lunar booty into Yankee Clipper, abandon Intrepid and send it crashing back onto the moon.

Apollo 12's three astronauts will remain in lunar orbit until Friday afternoon, photographing potential landing sites for future moon crews.

Intrepid blasted from the lunar surface at 9:26 a.m. EST. The astronauts handled the vital launch as if the operation were just a routine space maneuver. They even found time to discuss the scene below.

"Oh, look at that rille down there," Conrad said.

"Wow," said Conrad after spotting the rille.

Yankee Clipper was more than 290 miles ahead when Intrepid achieved orbit at 9:33 a.m. EST.

The crucial takeoff firing was necessary to get the two men explorers home. If the engine had failed—and they had not been able to find and fix the trouble — Conrad and Bean would have been doomed to die on the moon.

Earth control reported that Intrepid's orbit was almost perfect, ranging from 10 miles to 54 miles above the moon. The Yankee Clipper was making its 30th swing around the moon at the time, following a path ranging from 67 to 71 miles high.

Conrad and Bean were in high spirits after traipsing like "giraffes" in their second moonwalk. At one time Conrad fell but was unhurt and Bean pulled him to his feet. The astronauts also inadvertently left behind a bag containing still color film snapped in lunar orbit.

Conrad and Bean achieved one of the most spectacular feats of the space program by trekking to the Surveyor 3 that had landed April 19, 1967, and snipping off a camera and metal pieces that had been scorched brown in 31 months' exposure to the sun's undiluted rays.

The 39-year-old Conrad and the rookie Astronaut Bean, 37, had a ball their last day on the moon. The skipper chuckled so often that controllers called it the "Conrad laugh."

The pair picked up what controllers estimated at 100 pounds of rocks and Conrad said: "This takes me back to my boyhood days—you know, you wanted to fling things around in dirt."

To test the sensitivity of shock-measuring instruments Conrad and Bean rolled grapefruit-sized rocks along the moon's surface, like clumsy monsters in their space suits bowling in the dust.

T.F. Couple Escapes From Burning Home

A Twin Falls man was hospitalized early Thursday morning with first and second degree burns he received escaping from his burning home.

Twin Falls City Firemen said fire broke out about 1:30 a.m. at the residence of E. E. (Bud) Smith, 49, 224-Pierce St. When two trucks arrived, the living room was engulfed in flames and Mr. Smith and his wife had escaped from the blazing frame house.

Assistant Fire Chief Bobby Bopp said Mr. and Mrs. Smith had awakened to the smell of smoke. Mr. Smith made his way through the flaming room and was delayed by a locked front door.

After he escaped, firemen said, Mr. Smith went outside the house to the bedroom window of the one-story house. He broke a window out with his hand, allowing his wife to escape uninjured. As he broke the window, however, Mr. Smith received a lacerated hand.

He was taken to the hospital by neighbors and is being treated for the laceration, burns on his back, face, hand and arm. He is in fairly good condition.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a couch in the living room. Two couches, an over-stuffed chair and rug in the living room were burned. There also was heat and smoke damage throughout the house, firemen said, and a large window in the living room was broken by heat.

Two trucks and crews that responded to the fire scene were back at the fire station by about 2:50 a.m.

Private Services Held For Kennedy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Private funeral services were held today for Joseph P. Kennedy at a Mass of joy celebrated on a chrysanthemum-laden altar dedicated to one of his fallen sons. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, his sole surviving son, eulogized his father.

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, widow of the patriarch of the powerful yet ill-fated family, requested the special Mass at which priests wore white vestments instead of the traditional purple vestments of mourning.

A heavy rain drenched spectators outside St. Francis Xavier Church. The Kennedy family and a small number of friends—admitted by invitation only—gathered in the dark, packed pews of the church.

A few miles from the seaside compound where the senior Kennedy died Tuesday after the latest in a series of heart attacks.

About 150 persons clustered around the church in a cold, driving rain as Mrs. Rose Kennedy, accompanied by her last son and his wife Joan and their two eldest children, arrived promptly at 9 a.m. EST in one of the 10 limousines.

Mrs. Kennedy was followed into the church by other members of the family, including the widow of the late President Kennedy, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis. She held her daughter Caroline by the hand as they walked up the red carpeted steps of the church and between four white pillars.

The casket containing the body of the former ambassador was carried into the church protected with a dark brown cover.

Plane Crash Claims 80 In Nigeria Area

LONDON (UPI)—A Nigerian airliner with 80 passengers and crewmen aboard crashed today in a bush country 12 miles from the Lagos Airport in Nigeria while coming in for a landing. A British airlines spokesman said there were no survivors.

The spokesman said cause of the crash was not known but that it occurred in "difficult territory" near the airport and that search parties were en route to the scene.

'Envoy' Will Send Messages To Prisoners

NEW YORK (UPI)—The sponsor of two American wives seeking information from the North Vietnamese in Paris concerning their soldier husbands said today he is ready to establish a "courier service" with letters and investigators to Hanoi on one day's notice.

Ross Perot, founder of United We Stand of Dallas, said private citizens would be sent by his group to interview American prisoners in North Vietnam and report on their condition.

"If in fact these men are being treated humanely the American people want to know that," the Dallas businessman said at Kennedy Airport.

The women, Mrs. Bonnie Singleton and Mrs. Paula Hartness, both said they were confident the North Vietnamese Paris talks delegation would keep a "promise to send us letters concerning our husbands."

Magic Valley Straw Ballot Returns Favor Return To Year-Around Standard Time

The recent Daylight Savings Time straw ballot, poll shows a large majority of area residents responding—preferring Mountain Standard Time over Daylight Savings Time.

State Rep. William Roberts, Buhl, who conducted the poll, said, "The heavy partiality for the old, exempted Mountain Time was not too surprising in view of the past expressions we have heard from people residing here. Also when we consider that Southern Idaho is practically in the Pacific Time Zone as far as its position with the sun is concerned, it is easy to understand why Daylight Savings Time has not been satisfactory in the summer months."

The poll shows respondents over the area favoring the old Mountain Time by a majority of 68 per cent. Of those the Twin Falls area ballot showed 81 per cent favoring Mountain Standard Time, by 32½ per cent and Pacific Time by 6¼ per cent. Kimberly area residents favored exempted Mountain Time by 85 per cent and Filer and Buhl, respondents showed exempted Mountain Time by 87 per cent. Mountain Daylight Time by 8 per cent Pacific Time by 5 per cent.

There were a total of 341 ballots received from throughout the area, which represents a response of about 2 per cent. Mr. Roberts said "Although the vote represents only about a 2 per cent response by area newspaper subscribers, it does show a heavy consensus of opinion that I believe is representative of the people of the area. When statewide results are totaled in the next week or so, they will be released to the people. We will then know how one votes line up with those in the rest of Idaho."

He said he felt the majority over the state should be 60 per cent or more before the legislature could arrive at any decision.

Steps Taken To Organize Guidance Unit

Initial steps toward establishing a Personnel and Guidance Association for Magic Valley were taken Wednesday night during a meeting in Twin Falls.

Doyt Simcoe, guidance director for Twin Falls School District No. 411, was named chairman of the steering committee which will look further into the organization of guidance personnel in the area.

Eight States Feel Tremor Of Quake

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—An apparent slippage in the underground rock structure of the "stable" Eastern United States caused earth tremors in eight states Wednesday night. There were no injuries or major damage.

Residents from Ohio to Georgia got a scare when dishes and windows rattled and buildings trembled and shook. Telephone circuits were jammed by callers.

The epicenter of the quake was located 60 miles west of Roanoke, Va., along the West Virginia border, according to the National Earthquake Center at Rockville, Md. It registered 4.75 on the Richter Scale, the largest tremor in the area since a reading of 5 near Galax, Va., in 1957.

Shocks were recorded in Ohio—particularly Cincinnati and Dayton; Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee.

Many residents of Egglestonville, Va., blamed the quake on the Apollo 12 moon mission.

"The last time them fellers walked on the moon, it rained almost every day for three weeks and washed away half the countryside," said Mrs. Betty Mills, 82. When the Apollo 12 moonship landed, she said, "I just knew something terrible was going to happen."

Agnew Plans New Attack On Newsmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he plans to make another "hard hitting" attack on the nation's news media in a speech tonight at Montgomery, Ala.

Agnew tipped reporters to the subject of his address Wednesday night during a state dinner at the White House. He said he plans to level more criticism against the television networks and single out certain newspapers and news magazines as well.

"Agnew said his address will deal with the fact that 'the comments he made against the television networks last week in an appearance at Des Moines, Iowa last week, Agnew criticized the networks' news judgment and in particular attacked statements made by commentators following President Nixon's Nov. 3 TV address on the Vietnam War."

Need Of Equalizing School Funds Cited

Equalizing of school funds was the topic Wednesday night in a panel discussion sponsored by the Twin Falls League of Women Voters at the YMCA.

Rep. Vernonscraft, Tuttle Explains Shortcomings of Present Method of Distribution of School Funds

Rep. Vernonscraft, Tuttle explained the shortcomings of the present method of distribution of school funds. He formulated House Bill 285 in the last session of the legislature and said he was hopeful the bill will be acted upon at the next session. It was kept in committee for further study.

Sen. John Barker, Buhl, a member of the Legislative Council Committee on the school formula, told of changes his committee is considering recommending.

Rep. Ravenscroft said equalization of assessed valuations and many other things are necessary in the state. He has proposed in his bill that an average membership factor be used in distributing funds, as opposed to the present average daily attendance factor.

Both the legislators agreed Idaho should equalize the use of its federal funds. Rep. Ravenscroft pointed out federal funds are creating "islands of education" in the state. He said North Idaho receives considerable money for timber; Blackfoot and Lapwai get federal Indian funds; and Mountain Home also receives a great amount of federal money. He said this works a real hardships on many districts.

Rep. Ravenscroft also said the small school districts such as Camas County should be equalized. He noted there are several small districts in the state which are unable to consolidate and some of these are bordering on "educational poverty" because of their remote situations.

Sen. Barker said his committee will be meeting in Boise Monday to consider its recommendations on the new formula. Some of their considerations are insuring uniform procedure on the assessed valuation of property; raising 30 mill levy for maintenance and operation and a plan to equalize federal funds.

Sen. Barker discussed two plans for school financing formulas. One from Dr. Donald Duncanson, University of Idaho, and the other from the State Department of Education. He indicated points from both these plans will be given serious consideration by the committee.

Mrs. Ruth Hughes, a member of the local league, gave the preliminary explanation on the present formula for the distribution of funds. Mrs. Roy Sloten, league president, acted as moderator for the discussion.

'Dirty' Crew Will Return Lunar Soil

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 12 astronauts picked up a large quantity of rocks and other lunar materials while on the moon, but Charles "Pete" Conrad said today that was not all.

"We must have 20 pounds of dust, dirt and all kinds of junk," Conrad told mission control. "Man, is it dirty in here."

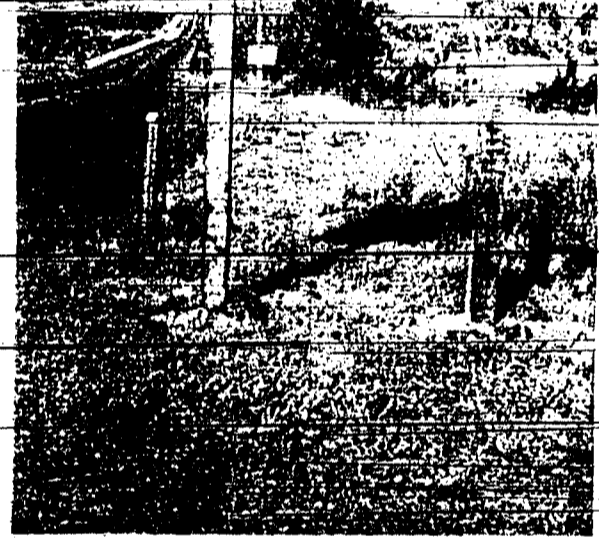

"We look like a couple of bituminous coal miners at the moment. But, we're happy."

"So are a lot of people down here," mission control said.

Boats To Change Hands

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Navy plans to turn over all river warfare craft now manned with U.S. sailors in Vietnam to the South Vietnamese by July, according to the commander-in-chief of the U.S. Pacific fleet.

BRIDGE CLOSED TO ALL VEHICLES OVER 22 TONS GROSS

SIGNS WARNING TRUCKERS that there is a 22-ton weight limit imposed for Perrine Memorial Bridge were up Wednesday on both the north and south approaches, said highway department workers were stopping big trucks to make sure they got the information. The State Highway Department announced the load limit here Tuesday as the result of an inspection of the 42-year-old structure earlier this year.

Flagmen Checking Highway 93 Trucks

Flagmen were continuing to check trucks approaching the Perrine Bridge on U.S. Highway 93 from both the south and north Thursday to make certain drivers are aware of the new 22-ton load limit and are complying with the restrictions.

Dale Harding, Department of Highways, Shoshone, said during an eight-hour period Wednesday, when restrictions were started, only 12 trucks had to be turned back.

Trucking firms and drivers are getting the word, he added, and most already have re-routed via the Hansen Bridge or through Hagerman. He said he had heard of no serious complaints from drivers or companies, but assumed those turned back were not too happy.

Mr. Harding said more signs are being erected this week in strategic locations and all ports of entry are assisting in notifying trucks.

Most trucks, Mr. Harding said, can get through under the 44,000-pound maximum, but most of the large semi-truck-trailers must be re-routed if they are loaded. Empty trucks all can use the bridge, he added.

Flagmen Mr. Harding added will be kept on the job only as long as is necessary as accounts are being maintained and a trend established. If all drivers and firms comply, flagmen will be removed.

Blanket coverage of the new restriction also was planned during the week, with letters and bulletins being sent all trucking firms and others involved in the industry much as the spring road restrictions are reported.

New Fighting Boosts Losses Of U.S., Viets

SAIGON (UPI)—The number of men—American and Vietnamese—killed in the Vietnam war rose past the 700,000 mark last week in fighting along the Cambodian border and near the Demilitarized Zone.

U.S. headquarters released the casualty figures today as the 3rd Marine Division, the first American division to arrive in Vietnam, dispatched the last of its combat troops to Okinawa, all but completing its withdrawal from the war.

The casualty report said 113 Americans, 497 South Vietnamese and 3,013 Viet Cong or North Vietnamese died in battle last week. Another 643 Americans and 1,310 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Weather Synopsis

High pressure which has been over the Intermountain region during the past few days is continuing southeastward and weakening somewhat as another Pacific weather disturbance approaches the west coast.

Moist air associated with the disturbance will continue to cause considerable cloudiness over Southern Idaho and Eastern Oregon through Friday. Some clearing of the skies is expected on Saturday however.

Although most of the precipitation associated with the approaching weather disturbance should be confined to the mountain areas in the form of snow tonight and Friday, there is a slight chance of some rain or snow drifting over the valleys of Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho on Friday.

A slight warming trend will continue through Friday. High temperatures today will range from the upper 30s and 40s in

Greens Are Closed At Muny Course

Permanent greens at the Twin Falls Municipal golf course closed Thursday for the season, Golf Pro Clyde Thomsen announced. He said temporary greens will be available for winter play.

The front nine holes will be open throughout the winter with temporary greens. The professional golfer said this was an excellent year at the municipal course and play still is good during warm weather.

The pro shop will remain open for Christmas shoppers from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dec. 5 through the Christmas season, and free coffee is available for shoppers, Mr. Thomsen said.

Schools Stay Closed As Talks Fail

DENVER (UPI) — Denver teachers boycotted their classrooms for a fourth straight day today after an exhaustive all-night session between teachers' representatives and school board members failed to reach a settlement.

The Denver Classroom Teachers' Association said 3,261 of the city's 4,525 teachers remained out Wednesday. It pledged to continue the strike — the first teacher walkout in Colorado history — until wage demands were met.

Election Set

WENDELL — West Point Highway District No. 4 will elect one highway commissioner from sub-district No. 1 to succeed Paule Jerke and one commissioner from sub-district No. 2 to succeed George Blackburn on Dec. 1 at the West Point Grange Hall.

The electors of the entire West Point Highway District may vote in this election and no previous registration is required of electors. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"Re-Entry Day," which will be a cleanup for the campaign. Mr. Muldoon, drive chairman, said he hopes to make this the first year the goal has been reached.

War Effort Undermined By Fraud

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. diplomat stationed in Saigon testified Wednesday that the Vietnam War effort is undermined by a $150 million a year currency black market run by Muslim money manipulators from India.

Robert V. Parker told the Senate permanent investigating subcommittee that U.S. banks, Americans in Vietnam and GI deserters hiding out in Saigon participate in the racket which has been described by some as a billion dollar operation.

Parker was an embassy attaché and assistant director of the U.S. aid program in Vietnam until last month. He also worked under U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker on a special investigation of black market currency manipulation.

"Black marketeers and illicit money changers have built a racket which has been estimated overall as running over $150 million a year in Vietnam," Parker testified.

"They create an atmosphere of illegality and fraud, immorality and cynicism... give aid and comfort to the enemy. They undermine what we are trying to achieve in Vietnam."

A $100 SCHOLARSHIP was presented to Judith Ann McFarland, Ketchum, for winning first place in an Associated Students of Idaho State University talent show sponsored by the social committee. While most of the competitors presented musical selections, Miss McFarland won the prize for her dramatic readings. There were 15 acts in all judged by professional judges.

'Re-Entry Day' Scheduled To Boost United Fund Totals

A "Re-Entry Day" is being planned for the Twin Falls United Fund Drive "to bring us down out of the campaign orbit," according to Jack Muldoon, drive chairman.

Mr. Muldoon stressed that all the money obtained through the drive goes to support the agencies specified. The only operational expense is for secretarial services, which are minimal.

The final push will be made Tuesday. Mr. Muldoon said volunteer workers from the drive, as well as service clubs and the agencies involved, will pick up cards at the United Fund Office and make calls. These will be cards of people or businesses which have not already been contacted or who have not yet participated in the drive.

MUSIC PROVIDED
TUTTLE — Mrs. Dolores Lovett Smith will provide music at the Gooding County Pomona Grange meeting Monday in the Wendell Grange Hall at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Muldoon said this is the closest Twin Falls has ever come to reaching its goal and with this extra effort on "Re-Entry Day" the goal will be realized. At a steering committee meeting Tuesday it was noted that $67,158.09 has been given. The goal is $85,000.

Prizes will be given for the workers with the most successful calls. Twenty turkeys will go to the top 20 solicitors and other gifts are being donated by merchants.

Emotion Worn On The Sleeve Is Suspect

WASHINGTON — Our values these days are pretty ruddy picturesque, so comment on Moratorium Week perhaps should be limited to the observation that patriotism is the last refuge of scoundrels of every stripe. Personal prejudice is involved here. I am repulsed by both the flag wavers of the lunatic Right and the wrecking crews of the lunatic Left. Both those who show up at work in an American Legion uniform and those who bust windows on Pennsylvania Avenue are infiltrated by nuts I would not invite to a backyard barbecue, let alone a civilized dinner. Emotion worn on the sleeve is always suspect. But what troubled me about Moratorium-Week was the double standard applied by the association of wet-pants liberals and steaming crazies. Somehow this curious coalition managed to get over the point that, while and the pot joints, but the term liberalism used to connote a tolerance even for unfashionable life styles.

The tragedy, of course, is that these often effluvial exquisites have discredited the millions of sincere — and even square, if you will — citizens who demonstrated against the Vietnam War out of simple conscience. After all, there should be nothing disgraceful or unpatriotic about raising one's voice against war. It should be one of the qualities that separate us from animals. I trust all of us oppose war except for a few defense tycoons, ambitious generals and hard-core revolutionaries of the Black Panther and fascist variety.

Yet the wet-pants brigade and the militant radicals have managed to suggest to many working stiff anti-war demonstrations are somehow ignoble. They have done this by their violent contempt for the intelligence and "middle-class" proclivities of those who disagree with them. Even the rational phrase, "law and order" has fallen into disrepute, as descriptive of a policy which might bring safety to the streets.

But the square is also legal, and perhaps occasionally discerning. He has the same right to march and wave the American Flag as the dissenters who wave the Viet Cong flag. However old-fashioned his opinions, they are as admissible as those of what Sam Johnson called "writers of temporary poetry." If both sides lay claim to the purest patriotism and thus dare Pope's dictum that "A patriot is a fool in every age," they may find comfort in the knowledge that the Constitution also suffers fools.

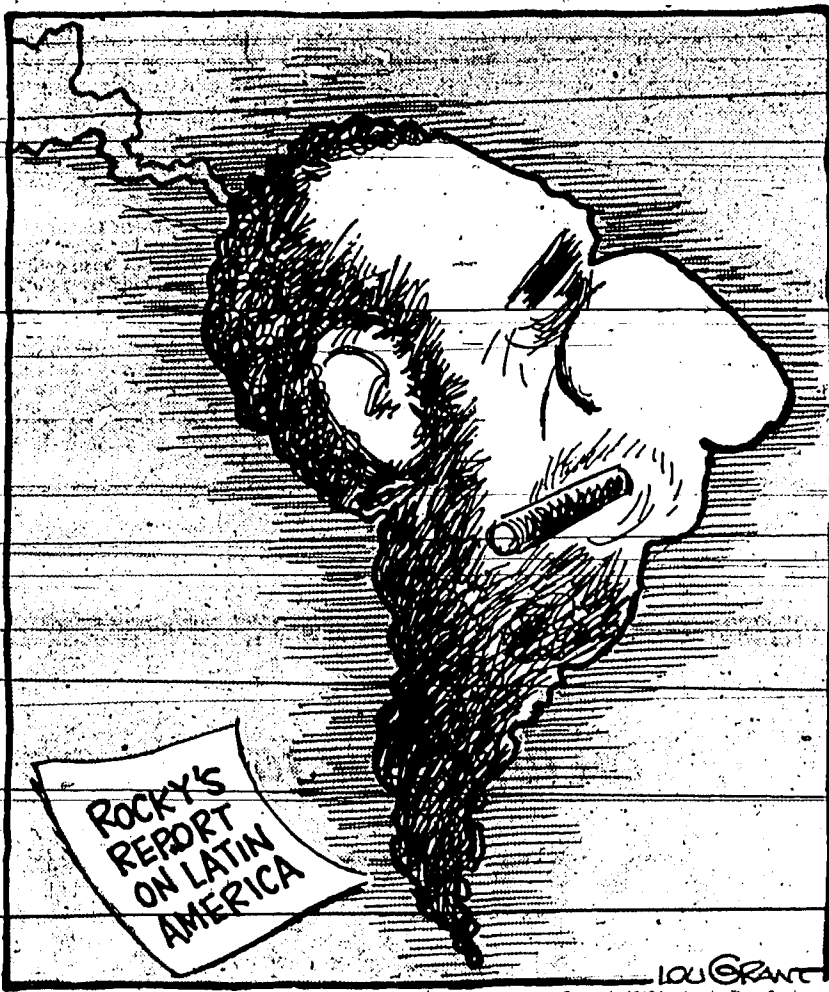

In the utterances of the opinion elite, spearheaded by such fronts of wisdom as Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and Doc Spock, the flag wavers were found to be creatures worthy only of contempt. Not, mind you, because they were necessarily wrong, but because they were so unchic, so square, so kitchen-table bourgeois. Their down-the-road air was almost enough to persuade a body to stop celebrating the Fourth of July.

I repeat, almost enough. Although I recognize that some fascist-minded types use Independence Day and other occasions for their own fanatic ends, I refuse to abdicate to them. The Fourth of July is my day, too, and I plan to continue to fly the flag on that day until they come in the night with a vet's dose of castor oil.

It is my day, not despite the Schlesingers and Spocks and Mrs. Martin Luther Kings—but because of them. It reminds me that the flag is a symbol of the Constitutionally-guaranteed right of dissent which they so rancorously exercise — sometimes, indeed, without anybody getting his head broken.

In my dream world, however, this right will also be extended to those who seek the privilege of NOT dissenting, in public display, without being despised by their self-styled intellectual betters as well-scrubbed Philistines who go about working for a living, paying their taxes, obeying the law and otherwise indulging their squareness. They may sound a touch dull to the exquisites of the drawing room

Cities' Plight Is Hopeless

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The cities of the United States are colossal failures. The concern over the many elections for mayor on Nov. 4 should perhaps be not just curiosity over how the victors won but wonderment over why so many people wanted the job.

It is already an aging commonplace that many cities are largely broke or soon will be. The magnitude of their failure is far greater than that. Scholarly men and ordinary citizens, each in their own way, ask whether American cities as they have developed really can be made to serve the most basic needs of human life.

Cities no longer seem to do anything very well. There is real evidence that, despite occasionally spectacular hypodermic infusions of "urban renewal" and the like, they are on a dying course.

At a recent gathering of state, urban and other specialists under auspices of Columbia University's American Assembly, the cities' plight was studied hard from the viewpoint of what the states could do about it. Assembly ground rules bar identifying the sources of comments made within the cloistered freedom of the experts' discussions. But some of them are pretty pungent.

One man, for instance, said of the beleaguered U.S. city:

"I don't give it many years before we're in total collapse."

Another, from a western state not exactly overburdened with big cities, flatly said he doubted the cities could "make it." Others said cities should not be encouraged to grow even if they could, that they should make no long-range plans designed to perpetuate them as they now are.

Though the assembly participants were almost without exception hard-driving, hopeful, thoughtful people, strains of pessimism kept surfacing stubbornly as they talked. Some samples:

"Some say the human animal has come to the end of his time. It is being predicted that in 50 years the breathable air around our cities will be gone."

All the bad things are getting worse. Why create broad metropolitan governments? You'll just have to keep repeating the process as population grows. It just means that about every 30 years you'll merely make your mess a little bigger. Population is doubling faster and faster. We have to ask whether we will soon reach the point where people can't react to change that swiftly.

Not one among the 82 participants thinks the cities can save themselves. They see mayors blamed for more and more as their chances of bringing real change are less and less likely. They recognize that not just anti-bureaucratic types but many thoughtful federal officials of both parties are weary of having the U.S. government inject itself into the cities' difficulties.

Though the cities have been leaning heavily on Washington for money for many years, the widening judgment is that seeping federal programs beamed to the cities do not work well. (Despite this, the assembly group, like the nation's governors in September, decided Washington should take over the whole welfare money burden.)

The turn is to the states. The assembly, in its approved formal statement, urged that the states—many with grossly underused taxing powers—join Washington in taking over all financial responsibility for quality public education. Cities, with their tangled jungle of inequitable and ill-administered property taxes, would be out of it.

Everybody knows the states have a lot of problems of their own. But the assembly folk agreed their potential for sweeping action, their resources, and their power to re-design more sensibly the wild urban crazy-quilt are all very great.

Yet these experts, earnest and feeling though they are, barely touched the deeper dilemmas—how to stir millions of affluent Americans to believe there is a crisis, how to find leaders with the ability above all to move people to act, how to get them into coalitions of support, how to frame dramatic goals they must pursue if U.S. urban life is not to suffocate itself in the approaching 21st century.

COMMENT

Small Schools

Lewiston Tribune

Gov. Don W. Samuelson put his finger on the least expensive approach to broadening curriculum in small high schools — consolidation. Samuelson heard complaints from students at Nezperce Friday as part of his courthouse tour. The students said they believe the limited curriculum in small schools isn't preparing them for college.

Samuelson suggested that school consolidation would provide a sound financial base for expanding curriculum and for cutting down on administrative overhead.

He is right on both counts, but reasonable consolidations of adjoining school districts will do more than that. A small high school has a manpower problem. The fewer the number of teachers the less the specialization possible and therefore the narrower the curriculum.

In a large high school, a teacher specializing in a given subject can teach that subject all day long and that subject only. In a small high school, a single teacher may handle two or more subjects a day, even though he is not well prepared in all of them. A single teacher may handle history, mathematics, science and the football team. Except in rare cases of a teacher with extreme breadth, that isn't fair to the students or to the teacher.

There are two approaches to the problem: greatly increasing the budget to provide far more teachers per student than most districts can afford, or consolidating the high school which has similar problems.

The latter approach is far more economical, if it is practical. In some cases it is not. If a high school is in a remote location that would involve busing students long distances over marginal winter roads, consolidation is not really feasible. In those cases, state financial support should be heavy for beefing up the teaching staff.

But in cases where there are two small high schools within a 15 or 20-minute bus ride of each other on an all-weather road, both schools would be doing themselves and their students a favor to take the governor's advice. — B. H.

ART BUCHWALD

The Whistle

WASHINGTON — A Ernest Fitzgerald, who blew the whistle on the overruns for the Air Force's C-5A airplane, was fired from his $28,000-a-year job last week. The Pentagon said it was eliminating the cost-analysis position as an economy measure and not in retaliation because Fitzgerald told Congress the plane would cost $2 billion more than the Lockheed Corp. had estimated.

I was inclined to be sympathetic with Fitzgerald's position until I heard the Air Force's side of the story. I have a friend in the Pentagon who said everyone missed the point.

"We didn't eliminate Fitzgerald's job to save $28,000," he said. "We eliminated the job because Fitzgerald was costing us millions."

"How's that?" "Well, his job was to reduce costs and achieve economy in Pentagon purchasing. He was supposed to study contracts, watch budgets and see that the military was not overcharged. As long as he did this without coming up with any irregularities, we could live with him. But the minute he thought he discovered waste and inefficiency and Congress found out about it, he cost us a packet."

"I don't understand." "Well, take the C-5A as an example. Once Fitzgerald revealed that the bill on the plane would be $2 billion more than originally anticipated, the Air Force had to go into high gear to defend its procurement methods.

"We had to take five generals as well as hundreds of civilians off other projects to develop testimony justifying the $2 billion overrun. We had to fly up Lockheed executives from Marietta, Ga., for conferences on the best way of explaining the added costs.

"We had to go to great expense having charts made, position papers printed, and press releases mimeographed. We were forced to hire public relations experts to keep the name of the Air Force from being sullied by ax-wielding senators. "The entire defense budget was in jeopardy, and we had to spend thousands of dollars lobbying on the Hill. It was a frightening experience for everyone."

"And Fitzgerald was responsible for all of it?"

"Certainly he was. Had he not come up with the disclosure, the secretary of defense and the deputy secretary wouldn't have had to have a big advertising campaign proving the value of the C-5A. All in all, we estimate that with the man hours and other costs, Fitzgerald cost us over a million dollars to defend the plane. So when the smartaleck press says we're trying to save $28,000, they don't know what the hell they're talking about. Getting rid of Fitzgerald's job saved the American taxpayer a million dollars."

"I don't think we should sniff at that," I said. "Fitzgerald meant well, but he just didn't understand how costly his revelations would be. He didn't see the big picture. He didn't understand that with the Air Force, as with all the military services, it's much more expensive to defend a mistake you made than to let the mistake go by unnoticed."

"It's obvious from what you've told me," I said, "that he didn't have the taxpayer's interests at heart."

"We hope if nothing else that this will be a lesson to our other cost management people."

Card Of Thanks

Idaho State Journal

Too often the assistance of private citizens in police cases goes unrecognized and unappreciated, except by lawmen who know how valuable such cooperation is.

Three recent examples of citizen cooperation:

— A man living in an apartment above a camera shop observed suspicious activity early in the morning, and took the license number of a car below. His tip led to the arrest of two men on burglary charges, and recovery of thousands of dollars worth of loot. Without his help, police would have been at a loss.

A sporting goods dealer sold a gun to a man who had been a customer for years. But when he heard the purchaser say something about using the gun "on people," the shop owner went immediately to the police station, returned to the area with officers, and helped them find the purchaser of the gun. He proved to be an escapee from State Hospital South who had already fired the gun once, and his downtown capture may have prevented a tragedy.

A woman observed a teen-aged girl carefully hide something in a garbage can near her home. Her call to police led to discovery of a sack of marijuana in the garbage can. Police records are replete with other instances of citizen cooperation and assistance. What brings this all to mind is a remark that, while such assistance is becoming more important as crime rates rise, there seems to be more reluctance on the part of many persons to give it. Some fear retribution, others don't like the police, many simply don't want "to get involved."

We salute those persons who will get involved, to the extent of rendering what may be invaluable help in the apprehension of criminals or prevention of a crime.

A girl named Kitty Genovese was stabbed to death a few years ago in New York City after scores of people refused to answer her screams for help. Most of them said they didn't want to get involved. Let's hope there never will be a Kitty Genovese case here.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Perthes Disease

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would appreciate enlightenment in regard to Legg-Perthes disease which was found in our 5-year-old son.

Is there a surgical procedure in use today to hasten recovery? Or medication to increase blood supply to the area involved? Or is a sound diet sufficient?

Is the Sling-and-crutches combination most often suggested by doctors? Is one orthopedic opinion enough, or would it be better to have two or three?

With full compliance with the non-weight-bearing program, can one fully expect normal physical function as the end result?

A couple of times a year I expect a new surge of inquiries about Legg-Perthes disease, and a similar one, Osmond-Schlatter's. Dr. Molner and I made our "Everyday Medical Handbook" because we knew from experience that these two diseases worry parents to pieces.

Needlessly. Maybe it's because the names don't stick in people's minds, or maybe it's just that folks skip over the topic because it doesn't happen to have affected them. Whatever the reason, when parents learn that a child has either of these troubles, the reaction almost always is, "I never heard of it before."

With either disease, it's a matter of circulation being interrupted to part of the bone in the leg. It usually affects youngsters, but sometimes occurs in adults.

The one thing that is essential to protect the affected section of bone until circulation returns—as it will—and builds the bone up solid again.

Whether to use crutches and some device to prevent the patient from putting weight on the leg, or a cast, or a wheelchair is dictated by the particular circumstance, and often on the age, temperament, and obedience of the child.

Direct weight-bearing usually should be avoided for from one to three years, depending on the rate at which solid bone regenerates. Periodic X-rays show how this is coming along.

There can be special cases in which surgery may be required, but that is not at all usual. There is no surgery to speed up the healing process, nor any medication or special diet that will hasten it.

It's a matter of time, and of not putting weight on the leg until the bone is strong enough not to be damaged. Getting the opinion of other orthopedists may bolster your confidence, but I suggest that they will all tell you the same thing, and I don't think it is at all necessary. It just means additional X-rays and expense, both of which you might better avoid.

Full recovery is to be expected in these cases, so long as weight is kept off the leg for sufficient time.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We have a son, 23, who has epilepsy and we would like to know if there are homes in the U.S. which care for those with this affliction. We are desperately in need of this information.—C.M.

Yes, there are such places, but I do not have adequate data to give you specific references for all parts of the country. I suggest that you ask for help from the Epilepsy Foundation of America, 1417 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson is happy to receive readers' questions, and whenever possible uses them in his column. However, due to the great volume of mail received daily, he regrets he cannot answer letters individually.

Home-Buyers Aid Noted By Solon

LEWISTON (UPI)—The federal government has established an interest subsidy program to help people borrow money to build homes but in Idaho it has not been publicized and few people know it exists, Rep. Michael P. Mitchell, D-Lewiston, said Tuesday night.

Mitchell told a group of lumbermen Idaho was eligible for $218,000 in 1969.

He said he was not convinced the state had done a complete job of informing the eligible citizens of the availability of the funds.

The representative said he plans to bring the lack of information to the attention of the legislature in January "so the people of Idaho can take full advantage of federal help just as the state government does with matching funds and other monies available."

Cashier Charged With Theft Of Funds For 'Love'

LONDON (UPI)—A 36-year-old bank cashier began a three-year prison sentence today for stealing $7,200 so he could be reunited with his sudden summer love, a Cyprus barmaid.

Keith Amy, whom defense attorneys described as a "shy, introspective bachelor," had become infatuated with a brunette barmaid called Manilla when he took a two-week vacation in Cyprus earlier this year.

A week after returning to his job as a bank teller in Dorchester, he told co-workers he was taking a long lunch hour to go to the laundry. Amy disappeared with a briefcase full of the bank's money, police said. He was arrested a week later in Cyprus.

Agent To Travel

Mrs. Loma Child, office manager of Magic Carpet Travels, is going to Hawaii Saturday as travel consultant guest of Western Airlines, a familiarization trip in connection with Western Airlines' recently inaugurated jet service to the Islands from Salt Lake City and other western cities.

In the brief four-day hop, they will visit the "Garden Isle," Kauai, Oahu and "Aloha Isle" as an up-to-date review of hotels and scenic features of Hawaii.

SEWING STARS AND stripes onto the sleeve of Sheriff Paul Corder is Mrs. Corder. All Twin Falls County deputies will be sporting small American flags on their shirt sleeves, beginning this week. The wearing of flag emblems on officers' sleeves is a project of the American Federation of Police, which eventually hopes every law enforcement officer in the United States will wear uniforms displaying the Stars and Stripes. Sheriff Corder said the project began a year ago in Macon Ga. where 29 police officers had been assaulted prior to the use by Macon officers, there were none six years later. Sheriff Corder said while the Twin Falls area is not plagued with assaults on police officers, he feels it is still a good idea for officers or anyone else to show pride in their flag and the United States.

77 Million People Will File Federal Income Tax Returns On New Streamlined 1040 Form Which Is Being Made

The 77 million people expected to file federal income tax returns for 1969 will use the new 1040 form unveiled today by the Internal Revenue Service. The new tax form has been designed so, regardless of financial circumstances, it can be used by taxpayers in any bracket.

Card form 1040A, the old short form, filed by 18 million taxpayers last year, has been eliminated. However, the new form will enable over 30 million taxpayers to file by using only one side of a single page, the IRS said. An additional 20 million taxpayers will need no more than one-page basic form plus one additional page.

Taxpayers with special tax situations need only add to the basic form additional pages or schedules, to meet their needs. Itemized deductions, business income and expense and other additions or subtractions will be reported on separate pages.

The IRS said the card form 1040A was becoming obsolete because of rising income levels in recent years and increased complexity in the financial statements of taxpayers. This resulted in a decrease in the percentage of taxpayers using the card form.

The new 1040 enables all taxpayers to tailor their returns to their particular circumstances. Also the "add-a-page" feature provided by the new form has made it possible to provide more room for itemizing deductions and listing income sources.

The IRS said extensive research was conducted before the new form was adopted. This also included informal tests with taxpayers and discussions with legal and accounting groups.

Of the tax form packages being sent to taxpayers this year, 60 million will be printed in color. The red and blue format, is intended to direct attention to areas of the return where errors are most commonly made.

Apollo 12 Moon Landing Is Toasted, Praised By World

By United Press International

Russians, toasted the Apollo 12 moon landing in bourbon and vodka at the Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (SALT) in Helsinki Wednesday and Pope Paul VI hailed America's second moon mission as "another magnificent step for the human race."

In Buenos Aires former Argentine President Arturo Illia said the landing was "a victory for democracy."

But in the Soviet Union the Apollo trip to the moon brought only the briefest of mention of newscasts and in Poland the armed forces newspaper Zolnierz Wolnosci said the space flight "did not silence the protests" against the Vietnam War.

Some Europeans agreed with Mrs. Lisa Jonsson, 64, of Stockholm, who said, "It is not so thrilling this time. Moon flights have become too common."

In Vienna, however, bank employe Maria Anderst said, "A difficult operation is no less difficult for the surgeon the Russians, toasted the Apollo second time he performs it."

In Yugoslavia Prof. Tatimir Andjelic, a rocket expert, said he was "deeply impressed by the fantastic precision."

An estimated 1.5 million Indonesians witnessed live television coverage of a moon landing for the first time. They missed the earlier Apollo 11 mission for lack of a television relay station.

In Yugoslavia a spokesman for the television network said the audience for Wednesday's moon landing telecast was less than half that of the Apollo 11 mission. "People just tend to take things for granted, no matter how momentous," he said.

Largest 'Fast Reactor' Assembly In Nation Is Dedicated At AEC Station Near Arco

IDAHO FALLS — The nation's largest fast reactor critical assembly, the Zero Power Plutonium Reactor (ZPPR), was dedicated today at the Atomic Energy Commission's National Reactor Testing Station.

ZPPR is operated for the AEC by Argonne National Laboratory as part of a program to develop a commercial breeder reactor in the million-kilowatt electrical size. In ZPPR, various reactor materials are assembled to simulate the composition of a power reactor core. The assembly is then made "critical" to produce a self-sustaining chain reaction at very low power. The measurements of the low-power (almost "zero power") assembly permit a preview of the operating and control characteristics of the power reactor.

ZPPR reached initial criticality on April 18, and since then the first set of critical experiments for the AEC's Fast Flux Test Facility to be constructed near Hanford, Washington has been completed. These studies included a mockup core containing about 1,150 pounds of fissionable plutonium — probably the largest amount of plutonium yet assembled in a single reactor core. The next program, now beginning at ZPPR, will consist of mockups of commercial reactors of 300,000 to 1,000,000 kilowatts in size, the cores of which may contain as much as three tons of plutonium.

ZPPR is the only zero-power reactor in the world with sufficient size and sufficient plutonium inventory to build full-scale plutonium-fueled mockups of the large central-station breeder reactors envisioned for commercial use on the 1980's. The ZPPR assembly is 10 by 10 by 8 feet at present and can be later extended to 14 by 14 by 8 feet. The assembly is an array of 2- by 2-inch matrix tubes into which are loaded drawers containing reactor materials. Plutonium, uranium, sodium, and other materials used in the reactor are in the form of small plates, some jacketed in stainless steel. The assembly rests on two heavy steel tables, and is separated into two halves for loading, then brought together for operation. The tables can support 240 tons.

A unique feature of ZPPR is its containment mound. An earth mound surrounds the reactor cell, and the entire 2000-square-foot roof of the cell is a sand-and-gravel filter with a minimum thickness of 16 feet. The sand-and-gravel filter is backed up by a bank of fiber-glass filters to prevent the escape of airborne particles from the cell.

A small computer is used with the reactor to analyze data from experiments. This allows immediate decisions as to future work and greatly increases the experimental output of the facility.

The annexion is being undertaken at the request of the Minidoka School District officials so the school will be within the city limits to receive city services.

Mayor Wendell Johnson explained that only about 20 acres on the west side of H street will be annexed as the property on the east side of the street was annexed with the Big Valley Subdivision about two years ago. Water and sewer lines are already into the area and the school will only need to hook up to the services.

Rupert Council Hears Of Local Improvement Work

RUPERT — Reports on Local Improvement Districts in Rupert occupied most of the Rupert city council meeting this week.

It was reported IID 12 is officially completed but changes will need to be made in the assessment rolls before they are certified and sent to the individual property owners in the district. A hearing will be held on the assessments after the corrections are made.

Specifications for Local Improvement Districts 13 and 14 for the Grandview Addition are not yet completed, but bids will be called for that work when they are ready. IID 13 was established about a year ago to install sewer and water lines to the area. IID 14, when set up, will provide for the irrigation lines to the area.

Under present plans, the city will provide two fire hydrants and valves for the high pressure water system and will install three lines for irrigation. Two of the irrigation lines are already installed.

Members of the Rupert Traffic Safety Committee recommended that the council appoint Elmer Edgington, affiliated with the Minidoka School District drivers education program, be appointed to the committee. The council approved the appointment.

In a special meeting of the council recently, called to canvass votes cast in the recent election during which George MacDonald, council, and Wendell Johnson, mayor, were re-elected and newcomer Bill Whitcomb was seated on the council, annexation of additional property was discussed.

With construction well under way at the East Minidoka Junior High site north of Rupert, the council approved an ordinance to annex that property to the city.

Filer Board To Invest School Funds

FILER — School board trustees of District 413 passed a resolution at their November meeting to permit Mrs. Loren Farmer, clerk, to invest currently received state and county funds as quickly as possible. The money is invested in 90-day government debentures and interest received on the last investment was 7.1 per cent.

Ed Moon, president of the Filer Educational Association, invited the board members to the annual teacher-trustee dinner and fun night this Friday at the Filer Elementary School.

A discussion was held on the towel situation in the athletic department but no action was taken until further information is received.

A postponement of retirement form was authorized for a teacher who reaches retirement age in December. This form is necessary to permit a state employee to finish a school term.

Howard Kinsfather, principal at the Hollister school, reported the metal two-car garage at the teaching has been installed and that a water fountain and tile were installed in the gymnasium and the gym painted this fall.

Ed Marshall will conduct a Saturday morning program of physical training at the Filer Elementary School for interested elementary boys after the Christmas holidays.

Law Enforcement Commission Authorizes Study Of First-In-Nation Radio Network

BOISE (UPI)—The Gem State will be the first state to consider a statewide communications system serving all state agencies as well as local jurisdictions.

The state Law Enforcement Planning Commission Wednesday approved a $6,000 project for study on ways to establish the system.

Bert Colwell, director of communications, division of Administrative Services, explained to the commission the need for such a system. He said the study, which normally would cost $40,000 to $45,000, could be obtained for about half that amount, since Idaho is the first state to consider the system.

Colwell said the state Traffic Safety Commission has agreed to provide $6,000 and that various state agencies had said they would provide $8,000.

He said the study would be started next January and would be completed in about four months.

"What we need to know," he said, "is what kind of a system we need to best serve Idaho agencies, local jurisdictions and provide the best protection and services for all Idahoans."

"This system would tie all agencies into a single communication unit, would allow for 24-hour and seven-days a week operation," he added.

Earlier, the commission approved a policy and procedures manual for use in the Idaho Peace Officers Training Academy which holds its first classes Jan. 4 at Idaho State University.

The commission also approved $15,000 to the legislative council committee for criminal code revision.

$10,000 to increase the scope of the Department of Law Enforcement — investigative services.

$7,000 to provide secretarial services for the Probation and Parole Department.

$5,000 to the attorney general's office to conduct a study on the feasibility of having full time and fully paid district attorneys on a district-wide basis.

—And finally, a previously discussed amount of $100,214 for the state peace officers training academy.

Apollo Moon Landing Proves Great Accuracy Is Possible

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—In 12 hours Wednesday, Apollo 12's astronauts planted a nuclear-powered observatory on Copernicus, and discovered two interesting mounds they said resembled tiny volcanoes.

"They're getting a lot of science on this flight," said Apollo 11 moon pioneer Edwin E. Bean as he reported collecting 15 to 20 rocks, including one that might have come from the great crater Copernicus, and discovered two interesting mounds they said resembled tiny volcanoes.

"The bullseye touchdown proved that the Apollo lunar lander is capable of the pinpoint accuracy that will be required for Apollo 13 astronauts James E. Lovell and Fred H. Haise to land on a more rugged stretch of terrain called the Fra Mauro formation.

Apollo program director Rocco A. Petrone said before launch that plans to send Apollo 13 to Fra Mauro were "very much contingent on our accuracy" during the "Apollo 12 mission.

Unlike the vast plain-like seas explored by Conrad and Bean, and by Apollo 11, Fra Mauro is believed to be a blanket of debris gouged from thousands of feet below the lunar surface by the great meteoroid that created what is now the basin forming the Sea of Rains. If this is so, its rock samples should tell scientists a great deal more about the material deep below the surface.

The observatory set up on the Ocean of Storms by Apollo 12's pilots also should tell scientists more about the lunar interior, and the moon's environment, as well.

Lovesick?

MARGATE, England (UPI)—A lovesick lion has been keeping his neighbors awake.

When the lion began roaring his mating calls in the middle of the night at Safari Park Zoo, residents of the nearby home for the elderly were not amused. "It's terrible, just like living in the jungle," complained one resident.

The zoo manager finally solved the problem by moving two lionesses into the lioness animal's cage.

Government Mail Service To Change

BOISE (UPI)—Plans for revamping the capital postal system in hopes of providing "better service for less money" were disclosed Wednesday by Administrator Lloyd O. Cook of Building Services.

Cook said the changeover will be undertaken after completion of a mail flow and workload study now in progress. He said the study should show the best procedures to follow.

He said the decision to revamp the postal service was made in part because of plans for the Capitol Mall in downtown Boise. Many agencies now scattered throughout the city in rented offices eventually will be moved to buildings being constructed or planned for the mall.

Samuelson Cites Growth Of Tourism

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson told a Society of Innkeepers convention at Washington State University Wednesday night that Idaho has a "successful program" for tourism which has been accompanied by "much growth in other industries also."

"But, the governor said the state should broaden its sights and "try to develop more of what the visitor is looking for and then advertise that."

The governor said, "Maybe we shouldn't only look at our advertising, but underscore what we're offering as a visitor's vacation."

The governor told delegates to the meeting that he wondered if Idaho was not "too much self oriented in Idaho rather than visitor oriented."

Speaking on the topic of liquor law legislation, Samuelson told the innkeepers association, "Those who deal in services for the drinker must somehow themselves or through the state be responsible for regulating this behavior and also be sensitive to the feelings of the community in which you're situated."

Demo Chief Hits 'Block' Of Governor

BOISE (UPI)—Gov. Don Samuelson was accused of harboring a "mental block" against higher education Wednesday.

State Democratic chairman E. T. Waters said, "The governor's latest slap at the University of Idaho graduate program is inconsistent at best with his plea for outside industry to locate here."

He added, "At the very time the state is trying to establish a graduate studies program at Boise State College, and strengthen those at the other two institutions so Idaho will be a more desirable place to live, the governor continues his stubborn assault against the universities."

"This mental block against education beyond the twelfth grade isn't helping Idaho to attract new business, broaden our economy or hold our young people."

Noise 'Contamination' Poses Growing Threat To America

By DEAN C. MILLER

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although relatively few people realize it, noise is as dangerous an environmental contaminant as the American cities as the "gases and wastes that plague our air and water."

At least six million, and possibly 16 million workers lose part of their hearing daily because of the industrial cacophony filling the air.

Scientists figure the threshold of pain produced by noise as 140 decibels. Consider, then, that a hydraulic press, a large pneumatic riveter, a pneumatic chipper produce 130 decibels; a four engine overhead jet, 120; a rock 'n' roll band, 100. Eardrums also are under assault by bulldozer, concrete mixers, jack hammers and pile drivers.

Millions of workers are in what the government calls the "noise belt" of industry, jobs that can lead to partial or total deafness. They include iron and steel plants, car production, textile manufacturing, paper making, metal fabrication, printing and publishing, heavy construction, lumbering and wood products, mechanized farming and many areas of military service.

Big business spends more than $150 annually on sound deadening materials in residential, commercial and industrial buildings. It pays out more than $1 million annually in loss of hearing suits and would pay more but for ignorance of state laws. They vary from state to state. Michigan has a compensable maximum of $28,500 for total hearing loss; Nebraska, a maximum of $3,700.

And it goes beyond human values. Noisy industrial plants near residential areas in many cases have reduced property values substantially.

"Americans are drowning in a cataract of noise and don't seem to know it," says Dr. Vern O. Kundsen, chancellor emeritus of the University of California and an acoustical consultant. Naturally, some companies have rushed into the field of noise. Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp. of Toledo, Ohio, a major supplier of engineered acoustical materials, recently surveyed noise on pleasure and military boats. It found that the highest noise levels were at points closest to the engine. Since it was impractical to redesign the engine, it improved by adding insulation and gaskets. Noise was cut dramatically. The same company reduced jet warm up noise by 90 per cent at the Los Angeles International Airport through fiberglass shields.

Glass blocks also have proved effective in fighting noise, according to R. E. Rawlings, a sales manager for Pittsburgh Corning. Hollow glass blocks have reduced noise an average of 40 decibels in many tests. And that noise level difference is the difference between an average factory and a normal home.

A bridge construction crew recently began ramming 80-foot pipe piles into the ground just a block away from the St. Francis Memorial Hospital in San Francisco. Normally, the resultant noise would have upset the hospital staff as well as their patients. Everyone was amazed at the lack of noise until it was learned that the steam hammer had been replaced by a vibro driver-extractor.

Land Board Delays Disposal Of Property From Campus

BOISE (UPI)—The State Land Board decided after an emergency meeting Wednesday to withhold disposal of books and other property at the old Southern Idaho College of Education campus in Albion.

Pending a decision on putting facilities on the campus—which more recently housed the Magic Valley Christian College.—to some constructive use, the board told Land Commissioner Gordon Trombley to continue to get a fee appraisal of the campus and buildings.

Ultimately, board members indicated, the legislature and the board will need such an appraisal in reaching a final solution for disposing of the campus or putting it to some use.

Acting on instructions from the land board, Trombley had told President John Barnes of Boise State College to remove the library and some of the laboratory equipment from the Albion campus. He told a local school district it could take some chemicals.

Residents of Albion became concerned, however, and through state Rep. J. Vard Chatburn, R-Albion, appealed to Attorney General Robert Robson for help.

Jerome To Close Street For Students

JEROME — The Jerome city councilmen approved a request by school officials at the council meeting Tuesday night to close Third street from Lincoln to Birch Avenues morning and afternoon while school buses are loading and unloading.

Supt. John Campbell, Clare Fire, trustee and Dale Vining, chairman of the Jerome school board, attended the council meeting to make the request. Councilmen said an ordinance providing for the closure of the two blocks during these times will be written.

Mel Morris was appointed public works director for the city of Jerome and will assume his duties Dec. 1.

The contract for digging and covering pits at the Jerome dump site was awarded to Leonard Huber and Tom Huber, both Jerome, providing the bid meets specifications after being studied.

A new dog leash ordinance was read for the first time and some revisions are planned, city officials said. This ordinance is in compliance with the results of an advisory ballot in the Nov. 4 municipal election which indicated Jerome voters wanted the council to adopt a dog leash law.

Beer licenses were issued to the Oasis Bar and to Larry Fleming for Wood Cafe.

Ricks Professor Pens Book On Modern Music

REXBURG (UPI) — A Ricks College music professor has written a booklet on "The Four Messages of Rock Music" which he lists as drugs, sex, anti-establishment and the death of God or religion.

Dr. Darwin Wolford said the booklet was an outgrowth of a class he taught last spring when questions were asked about "rock and roll" music.

"I felt answers given in the class were far from satisfactory and I realized I needed to do some checking on the music and why it was so popular and if it really had a message for the youth," he said.

Ten years ago when the Beatles first began, Dr. Wolford said, the entertainers may have been unconventional in dress but at least they were "clean."

"Today," he said, "members of rock groups are thrown into court quite regularly for illegal possession of drugs and acts of indecency."

Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals won three games in the 1967 World Series.

Idaho Resumes 53-Year Rivalry Saturday By Entertaining Utah State

MOSCOW — The Vandals and the Aggies from Utah State will meet for the 53rd time in their series this Saturday at Rogers field in Pullman. The two teams opened play in 1916 when the Vandals downed the Aggies 27-15. Since that time, the Vandals have won 10 games, Utah State seven and there have been two ties.

This series will be off and running again with this game on Saturday for the two teams.

The series will be almost every year for the next seven years on a home and home basis. The last time the Vandals downed the Aggies was in 1964 when Joe Chapman took a Mike Monahan pass for the winning touchdown and then Scott picked off a wayward pass by the Aggies from the three-yard line and saved a last-minute score by the Utah State team to preserve the win. It also marked the first big game for Ray McDonald. The Aggies downed the Vandals in 1966 42-20 for their last win in the series.

This week it will be a different type of game. The Aggies have been a much tougher team than their record shows. They have suffered injuries like the Vandals and also have played a touch schedule.

The Utags are also bringing the younger brother of the famous Merlin Olson of the Los Angeles Rams as their top all-American candidate. Phil Olson, who is a 225-pound defensive tackle at 6'5" and rated as one of the best in the west, has had a busy season and is certain to draw praise and some appearances in post-season games assignments.

Although they lost their talented sophomore, John Strucula in the Air Force game, Sam Cooper has been moved to the tailback position and has performed well. George Tribble is the tough fullback who has been the leading rusher with 397 yards in 106 carries for the Aggies. Dave Holman at quarterback has passed 199 times with 94 completions and five touchdowns and the Idaho staff expects the Utags to go to the air more often against Idaho on Saturday.

Gooding Has Big Man, But Wants More Experience

GOODING—The biggest thing in the Big Six Conference, and the South Central Idaho Conference for that matter, will be Gooding sophomore Frank Krahn.

The six-foot, six-inch Krahn, and reports on that height go from 6'5" which you will see on the field and whispered 6'6½", heads up a list of six returning veterans that Coach Larry Matthews welcomed back this fall.

But, says Coach Matthews, "We are rebuilding after losing four starters from last year. If our guards come through for us and our big men stay healthy, we will be okay. But inexperience will hurt us." The size is almost entirely found in the sophomore class. In addition to Krahn, the sophomores offer Gary Gorrell, a 6-2, 190-pounder, who lettered last year. The tallest senior is Brent Estep, who stands 6-1. The other forward veteran is Scott Carrico, a 5-10 senior. The experienced guards are seniors Jeff Jefferies, 5-7, and Chuck Cahoon, 5-9.

The Senators lost Chris Oakley, the Big Six leading gun, and Terry Reinke, a top rebounder, and playmakers Randy Hopkins and Rick Fleishman. Oakley had 245 points last year. That leaves Krahn as the top point producer to return. He had a 10.7 average with 195 points overall and 111 in the conference.

Gooding wound up with a 10-10 season and again will play in both the Big Six and South Central Idaho conferences. They were tied for third in the Big Six at 6-4.

The Gooding schedule includes Dec. 2, Gooding at Murtaugh; Dec. 12, Mountain Home at Gooding; Dec. 13, Bishop Kelly at Gooding; Dec. 19, Murtaugh at Gooding; Dec. 20, Gooding at Glens Ferry; Jan. 2, Gooding at Buhl; Jan. 9, Gooding at Filer; Jan. 10, Jerome at Gooding; Jan. 16, Shoshone at Gooding; Jan. 17, Wood River at Gooding; Jan. 23, Glens Ferry at Gooding; Jan. 24, Gooding at Mountain Home; Jan. 30, Gooding at Wendell; and Jan. 31, Buhl at Gooding.

Feb. 6, Filer at Gooding; Feb. 7, Gooding at Jerome; Feb. 13, Gooding at Wood River; Feb. 14, Gooding at Shoshone; and Feb. 20, Wendell at Gooding.

San Diego Coach Wants Florida State

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—San Diego State College coach Don Corvell wants his undefeated Aztecs to play Florida State in the Pasadena Bowl Dec. 6.

"We want to play someone as far away as possible," he said Tuesday after learning that Arizona State, the University of Utah, the Air Force Academy, Memphis State and Florida State were the leading contenders to oppose his club.

"Florida State would be tremendous," he said. "They would cost a few thousand more dollars but they would draw more fans. They pass a lot and play an exciting game."

Don Anthony, chairman of the Pasadena Bowl, said the opponent would not be known until later this week. He noted that San Diego State president Dr. Malcolm Love favored the Air Force but "Utah is the most, likely opponent of the Aztecs."

L.A. Tops Royals Without Stars

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The Los Angeles Lakers, playing without Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor and Johnny Logan, rolled to an easy 116-103 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals Wednesday night.

Cincinnati was never in the game and scored only 13 points in the first period. The Royals hit only 36 per cent of their 112 field goal tries while the Lakers hit on 52 per cent of their shots. Rick Roberson, playing in place of Chamberlain, had 15 rebounds and 12 points while Jerry West led the Lakers with 32 points and Dick Garrett had 26.

A tendon and dislocated a bone in his right foot in Detroit's 125-114 overtime loss to the Los Angeles Lakers Tuesday. Bing, who was still recuperating from knee surgery during training camp, limped off during the third quarter with the foot injury. X-rays Wednesday disclosed its extent.

San Diego MVP Climaxes McCovey's Greatest Year

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Today, without question, is the greatest day in the life of Willie McCovey, premier slugger who was named the National League's Most Valuable Player of 1969.

"Winning the award," said the 31-year-old San Francisco bachelor, "put the finishing touches to my greatest year. McCovey, who put fear in the hearts of many a National League pitcher—and a few managers as well—this past season, now has won both the rookie and MVP awards and has been named to the N.L. All-Star team four times.

In 1969, he was without question the one batter no pitcher cared to face, with or without men on base. And the statistics, when McCovey got a chance to swing his 40-ounce bat, were awesome—320 batting average, 45 home runs, 126 runs batted in, 121 walks and 157 assorted hits.

Three Black Players Quit Cage Team

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Three black lettermen on the Sacramento State College basketball squad have quit the team for the second time and coach Jack Heron says this time it's permanent.

Charles Williams, starting center, and Jesse Reed and Jim Jones failed to show up for practice and said they have quit.

They were three of five players who walked out last week and who this time objected to semantics concerning their reinstatement. Williams, head of the Black Students Union at SSC, took exception to a story in the student newspaper, "The Hornet," saying the five were "allowed" to come back. Williams said the word should have been "reinstated" instead of "allowed."

Heron agreed he did not use the word "allowed" and "reinstated" was the proper word. But he said the three wouldn't be reinstated a second time.

"There was a misunderstanding last week which was resolved and that was accepted," Heron said, "but this time—that's it."

SPORTS

ELEVEN POUND honker is displayed by Percy Montgomery, left, Twin Falls, and Jim Lamberth, Boise, following a successful weekend hunt at Lake Lowell near Nampa. The two men limited out with this 11½-pound Canada goose, which has a four-foot wing span, being the largest.

McCovey Is Winner Of NL's MVP Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Willie McCovey of San Francisco, who the Giants gave bus fare to a rookie camp 14 years ago and a promised a tryout, won the National League's Most Valuable Player award today.

The 31-year-old first baseman, who hit 45 home runs and batted in 126 runs to lead the league in both departments for the second straight year, edged pitcher Tom Seaver of the world champion New York Mets, 265-243.

Each got 11 first-place votes from a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, but Seaver was left off two ballots, while McCovey was on all 24.

Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves got the other two first-place votes and finished third with 188 points. Aaron was named on 23 of the 24 ballots. Batting champion Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds, who hit 34 home runs with 127 points, finished fourth, second to St. Louis pitcher Bob Gibson in the 1968 MVP voting.

Next were Ron Santo of the Chicago Cubs, Tommie Agee of the Mets, Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Phil Niekro of the Braves and Tony Perez of the Reds.

McCovey, who is six-foot-four and 210 pounds, hit 320 points this season. His highest average being named second by the two included in MVP balloting, and since 1959, when his 354 mark voters who left him off their ballots, it still would not have

Goose Blind Is No Place To Convalesce

If the nitro pills hold out and the doctor doesn't find out, Percy Montgomery, Twin Falls, may be able to carry on with his goose hunting.

Montgomery, associated with Security Campers and Trailers here, and Jim Lamberth, executive salesman for the firm, picked up their limits Saturday at Lake Lowell.

Montgomery spent the last year recuperating from a heart attack but felt up to a day in the goose blind when Lamberth offered the invitation. But he admits that the old thrill of seeing the big birds coming in hasn't waned over the years. After the action, he felt perhaps another attack was starting but he quieted things down with a pair of nitro pills.

The men did all their shooting from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., and picked up the six birds using three-inch magnums. The largest was 11½ pounds and boasted a four-foot wing span.

McCovey received nine for second and two each for third, fourth and fifth. Seaver, who led the major leagues with 25 victories and won the Cy Young Award in the National League, and third on five. He also drew one vote for fourth place and one for fifth.

First-place votes count 14 have argued that pitchers have their own recognition in the Cy and Young Award and should not be included in MVP balloting, and since 1959, when his 354 mark voters who left him off their ballots, it still would not have

District Sportsmen Slate Meet In Ketchum Saturday

KETCHUM—A preview of complete evaluation and totals fall hunting and a solid look of the current big game and at the new fishing regulations for next year will be heard Saturday morning when the fall Fish and Game Department meeting of the Fourth District would give a partial report, co-Associated Sportsmen's Clubs erling opening weekend success begins at the Ketchum American Legion Hall.

As usual, the group will hear reports from committee heads and representatives of various governmental agencies in the morning, and go into committee work in the afternoon. The meeting will close with presentation of resolutions to the general assembly. The hosting Ketchum club will offer luncheon and the well accepted crab banquet.

K. Whitworth Voted LPGA Yearly Award

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Kathy Whitworth, a professional golfer from Dallas, Tex., who finished in the top 10 in 27 of the 28 events she entered this year, was named Player of the Year by the Ladies' Professional Golf Association Wednesday.

It was the fourth consecutive year she had gained the honor. Miss Whitworth, a golf pro since 1958, also won the Vardon Trophy, awarded annually to the lady pro turning in the lowest average score of the year. She maintained an average of 72.38 strokes in 86 official rounds.

Carol Mann, the tall blonde from the Cincinnati Royal Oaks Country club, who set an all-time LPGA record last year with an average of 72.04 strokes finished second with 72.88.

Miss Mann eased past Miss Whitworth in the official winnings list. Miss Mann set a single season record with her $49,152, compared to Miss Whitworth's $48,171.

However, Miss Whitworth took over first place in career money won with $268,974, surpassing the former record of $268,167 held by Mickey Wright.

Pele Reaches Milestone In Soccer

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Pele, the world's greatest and highest-paid soccer player, scored the 1,000th goal of his career—at a "command performance" of 100,000 of his fans Wednesday night in a match between Santos and the Vasco Da Gama Club of Carioca.

The historic goal came at 31 minutes of the second half after the Santos coach originally assigned Pele's teammate, Rildo, to kick a penalty shot.

The Maracana Stadium was immediately filled with cries of "No, no, no... Pele. Pele. Pele."

Santos' coach, bowing to the pressure of the fans, changed his decision and assigned Pele to make the penalty shot. Seconds later the stadium erupted into a near-madhouse of sound when Pele's kick was good.

Pele, closely guarded by Rene of Vasco Da Gama, kicked four shots at goalkeeper Andrada during the first half. One of his shots hit the goal post.

Bell Eyes National, Big Sky Marks As ISU Hosts Drake In Football Finale

POCATELLO — Ed Bell can set a national record if he catches nine passes Saturday. The present record holder is Dick Hewins, excellent pass catcher from Drake University, who grabbed 95 passes in 1968. ISU's opponent Saturday — Drake University. The game is in ISU's Spud Bowl and the time has been moved up to 1 p.m. The Bell-Drake battle adds spice to what would already be an interesting game. Drake started out a little slow with a tie and loss in the first four games, but has since won four in a row. ISU has an offensive machine that won its first four

TWO DAYS OF HUNTING netted these two trophies for Mrs. Gayle Diamond, Twin Falls. She shot the 200-pound female mountain goat on Big Creek in the Pahsimeroi drainage Saturday. The horns are seven to eight inches long. She downed the deer the day before. Mrs. Diamond and her husband, Oren Diamond, route three, Twin Falls, have hunted together many years. Mrs. Diamond plans to have the goat's head mounted and a rug made from the hide. It will be added to the family trophy room which includes a black bear Mrs. Diamond shot two years ago.

The Bulldogs have an excellent passing combination even if it is unpronounceable. Mike Grejowski has completed 111 passes for 1618 yards. Duane Miller, a converted defensive back who still goes into the secondary on occasion, has hauled in 67 aerials for 10 touchdowns. The big question for ISU is Jerry Dunne who was setting national total offense records until a variety of injuries set him down. He now has knee trouble but may play. However super-soph Dan Halt will start and probably throw a few long bombs to Bell and Tom Ude. Coach Ed Cavanaugh hopes to get his running attack rolling again. ISU early in the year had some of the finest running ever seen in Pocatello, but it has slacked off due in part to injuries. Several offensive linemen and backs have had to sit down at times, but they may be getting healthy for Drake. Idaho State has set 21 offensive records this year, that is school records. The Bengals have set an undetermined number of Big Sky marks, and Bell has a chance to add three national records to the total Saturday. Bell grabbed two scoring passes Saturday in State's 35-27 loss to Boise and that gave him 18 for the season. This ties the NCAA College Division record set in 1967 by Joe Koozot of San Francisco State. Bell needs nine receptions and 51 yards to shatter College Division season records. The present records are 95 receptions by Drake's Dick Hewins and 1479 yards by Bruce Cerone of Emporia State, both set in 1968. Bell's final college opponent will be Drake University this Saturday. One touchdown will give Bell the Big Sky Conference scoring record. He has 118 points, two short of Don Hays of Montana State, who scored 20 touchdowns and 120 points in 1966. Bell is right behind the nation's leading scorer, who has 132 points and has finished his season. Three touchdowns for 15 points scored in any combination of ways would give Bell the nation's scoring leadership. Ironically, Bell is having a tough struggle trying to win the pass catching championship of the Big Sky Conference. Idaho's Jerry Henderson is tied with him at 87 catches but is considered in the university division of the NCAA's statistics. Bell could set many national records and still not be his conference's top pass receiver.

Oakley Boasts 10 Returning Veterans From Last Year's Winning Hoop Squad

OAKLEY — With 10 returning lettermen from a team that won district and played all three days in the state tournament, the Oakley Hornets and Coach Gary Swan are looking forward to a good season but also one of being marked. The Hornets racked up a 20-0 overall mark last year in gaining the state consolation finals. There was one loss to graduation in big Don Craner who led the Hornets in scoring, rebounding and percentage shooting from the field. Another regular missing is Bill Anderson, a guard. But Oakley has good height and depth and some boys who showed they could score last year. The veteran is 6-foot Kim Martindale who has three letters to his credit. Coach Swan is hoping Martindale, a smooth player, will have the kind of senior year he potentially could. The tallest is rugged Randy Hardy, a 6-4 junior who is a fine rebounder and should help pick up the point vacancy left by Craner. Two-year lettermen are 6-2 forward Steve McLaws, a good scorer-rebounder; Robert Fairchild, 5-10, and Keith Adams, a 5-9 junior guard. McLaws and Fairchild are seniors. The one-year men are Richard "Bub" Poulton, 5-8 senior guard; Chris Okeberry, 6-1 senior forward; Bryan Crafton, 6-0 senior forward; David Baker, 5-11 junior forward, and Stephen Severe, 5-7 senior guard. Up from the Jayvee squad are Lyn Simons, 6-3 junior center; Dutch Robinson, 6-1 junior forward; David Eger, 5-9 junior guard; Randy Robinson, 5-9 junior guard, and Dan Gorringer, 5-10 junior forward. Adding further depth to that list is 5-10 senior Marv Alton, who was counted on for considerable service last year but was unable to play due to an injury. The Hornets again should be a contender in the Magic Valley Conference but Coach Swan believes the history of the league has shown it to be a well balanced one. The Oakley schedule includes Dec. 5, Oakley at North Gem (Bancroft); Dec. 6, Oakley at Grace; Dec. 12, Dietrich at Oakley; Dec. 20, Oakley at Shoshone, and Dec. 30 (5:30 p.m.), Burley at Oakley. Jan. 3, Kimberly at Oakley; Jan. 6, Castleford at Oakley; Jan. 9, Hansen at Oakley; Jan. 16, Oakley at Mutaugh; Jan. 17, Rockland at Oakley; Jan. 23, Oakley at Raft River; Jan. 27, Oakley at Hansen; Jan. 30, Dec. to at Oakley. Feb. 4, Oakley at Rockland; Feb. 6, Mutaugh at Oakley;

Minico's Rogers Placed On First All-League Team

Minico's Barry Rogers, the Idaho Falls, with 15 tackles, Southern Idaho Conference's leading ground-gainer, became the only all-league team named on the all-league team announced today by sports-writers-casters in the member cities. Rogers, who wound up with 1250 yards in his 10 games, was voted the starting backfield. But the league was basically dominated by the three Boise teams, which went one-two-three in the league and boasted an overall record of 25-5. Tom Moriarity, Idaho Falls, who broke all passing records while Borah's Don Hutt, an end and kick return specialist, was voted the lineman of the year. Borah's Dee Pankratz, seeing his team run its win record to 22 straight, got coaching honors. The top vote getter, however, was Capital halfback Bruce Watson. Watson topped all vote-getters with 18 while Moriarity had 16. They are joined in the first team backfield by Steve Bastain of Capital with 14 and Barry Rogers, Minico, 12. In front of them are ends, Don Hutt of Borah with 16 and Darrell Baldwin,

Celtics Blast Bulls 122-106

BOSTON (UPI)—John Havlicek poured in 21 points Wednesday, leading an all-around Boston Celtic scoring effort which carried them past the Chicago Bulls, 122-106, the stumping Celts' second win in as many nights. Veteran forward Tom Sanders, with 11 points in the first period, paced the Celtics to a 32-21 lead at the quarter.

Hansen Shooting For First Winning Record In Years

HANSEN—The Hansen Huskies haven't had a winning basketball season in a few years but coach Gordon Hogan hopes this year's crew will change that. The Huskies went to youth a couple of years ago, riding basically, the class of 1971. While these boys are still only juniors,

ISU Cagers Slate First Scrimmage

POCATELLO — A combination ISU basketball scrimmages and camera night will be the top-off for the 1969-70 Bengal basketball season. Coach Dan Miller will throw the doors open at 7 p.m. Nov. 24 for a half-hour camera night with the public invited to bring their cameras and take pictures of their favorite Idaho State frosh and varsity players. At 8 p.m. Miller will divide his squad into two-thirds varsity on one roster and one-third varsity one-third freshmen on the other and play a four-quarter basketball game. Team A and Team C of the varsity will oppose Team B and the freshmen. Team A consists of Charley Barber (8-8) center; James Bonner (6-0) & John Cullom (6-4) at forwards; and O'Neil Simmons (6-0) and Willie Humes (6-1) at guards. Team C will have Jerry Harris (6-5) center; Nick Tsakrios (6-3) and Larry Johansen (6-7) forwards; and Bob Dickson (6-5) and Rodney Martin (5-11) guards. The frosh will start Bill Minor (6-3), Terry Carodine (6-5), Jesse July (6-3), Greg Hawkins (6-2) and either Craig Christensen (6-2) or Terry Adolfsen (5-11). The Kittens use a spread-court offense and don't go by positions. Team B has Abe Gibbons (8-8) center; DeWitt Walton (6-8) and Mike Gurnel (6-4) at forwards; and Fred Treanls (6-4) and Trent Wagner (5-11) guards.

Bengals See Help From 18 Freshmen

POCATELLO — Idaho State finished its frosh season with an 0-3 record but Coach John Buck attributes that to anything but lack of talent. He figures no fewer than 18 of his Kittens have a chance to play varsity ball next year. Buck says, "Our frosh were a real great crop of kids to work with. They steadily improved. We could have won two of our three games if we had more depth. By the end of our Utah State game, our last game, we had seven kids playing both ways." "We never had much of a chance to develop an offense, since all week we ran opposition plays at the varsity. That made our kids tough and we found out in a hurry who wanted to hit. I think we did a good job preparing the varsity for their games." A Connecticut quarterback and two Idaho men lead the list of ISU futures. Harry Conlan, a double-duty quarterback who called signals, played safely, ran back kicks, and ran the ball often, was singled out by Buck, along with tailback Clyde Wright (Filer) and linebacker Sam Morford (Caldwell). Others expected to make their mark in future years are quarterbacks Paul Sestero (Boise) and Dave Kegriz; defensive backs Terry Adolfsen (Firth), Rick Nall (Caldwell), and Mike Davis; split receivers J. A. Kinsley and Tom Fischer; tight end Tom Toner; linebackers Ralph Macra and Joe Matile; and linemen Pete Herod, Norm Oakes, Bob Kiley, Jim Houtfield, and Rick Alvarez.

Tart-Led Nets Dump Miami

NEW YORK (UPI)—Levern Tart scored 33 points to lead the New York Nets to a 115-110 American Basketball Association victory Wednesday night over the Miami Floridians. The Nets led by as many as 16 points early in the third period but had the lead cut to 111-108 with 1:40 left in the fourth period. Then Bill Melchionni hit a 20-foot jump shot to put the Nets ahead 119-108. Tart scored 11 minutes later for the clinching basket.

Feb. 7, Oakley at Burley; Feb. 13, Raft River at Oakley; Feb. 14, Oakley at Kimberly; Feb. 17, Oakley at Declo; and Feb. 20, Oakley at Castleford. All Jayvee games will start at 6:30 p.m. excepting the Burley at Oakley date. Varsity clashes will start about 8:10 p.m.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Although I've never seen my problem in your column, I'm sure other men have had it, too.

I am 41, and a bachelor. Believe me, Abby, I enjoy the company of women, but it seems that in this day and age any man who is still a bachelor at 40 is immediately suspected of being a homosexual.

I actually find myself holding hands with my date, hugging her, and acting affectionate, even when she doesn't appeal to me in that way, just to let on like I know I'm normal and to "reassure" my date. (Many women think if they don't turn a man on, he must be queer.) When I go to dinner or to a movie with another man, I get all sorts of funny looks. And I've heard people have said that the only reason I date women is to cover up my preference for men.

I have my reasons for not wanting to marry. I like my privacy, don't care for the responsibilities of marriage, can't stand children, and frankly, I am very selfish and would make a lousy husband.

So, how does a normal man go about proving to the world that he's not queer?

STRAIGHT MAN

DEAR STRAIGHT: First, he protests too much. Even he doesn't make a phony fuss over women who don't turn him on. And, lastly, he doesn't give a second thought to what people say.

DEAR ABBY: I am 25 and a graduate student at Berkeley. A month ago my sister came out here to visit me, and she reported back to my mother that I had lost a lot of weight and looked awful. (I heard this every time I went home—to Ohio at Christmas, although my weight hasn't varied more than 5 pounds in the last 8 years.)

My mother then mailed me 5 pounds of cookies. I just got a letter from her complaining about the $2 postage she had to pay for the cookies, and say that she had contracted with an Oakland department store to keep me in a steady supply of cookies. Should I tell my mother that her efforts are not appreciated?

CRUMBS IN MY BEARD

DEAR CRUMBS: The "crumbs" are not confined to your beard. Your entire attitude is "crummy." Let the cookies come, and if you don't appreciate them, give them to someone who will. You won't have to look far.

DEAR ABBY: Would you please inform teen-age girls that no decent boy wants to be called by phone or chased by a girl, regardless of what he may have told her on the back porch last night. I am the mother of a teen-age boy, and I get the message from the other end of the line.

Also, please inform mothers of girls that we, the mothers of boys, appreciate their efforts to provide wives for our sons, but please, leave the driving to us.

My complaint, Dear Abby, is that we are trying to rear our sons to be gentlemen and to respect women. Our method of dealing with a disrespectful, unappreciative "big mouthed" son is to sometimes withhold the use of the family car. Well, tough luck to us! The girl comes over in her family car, and off they go!

Mothers of boys can do only so much. The mothers of daughters have to do the rest. No wonder so many girls get into trouble. They practically wear signs that say, "Here I am, fellows, car and all. Come and get it!" MRS. I. V. H.

DEAR ABBY: What great English essayist wrote "No man worth having is true to his wife, or can be true to his wife, or ever was or ever will be so?" CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Sir John Vanbrugh, an architect and playwright. I don't know how "great" he was, but he is one John who spoke only for himself.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

SOFT, SLINKY KNITS
Underthings are understated for the soft, slinky look of knit favorites. Miss Morgan, Swainston Wed

RICHFIELD — The marriage of Janet Morgan and Ens. Gaylen Swainston was solemnized in an evening ceremony Nov. 4 at the Richfield LDS Church. Bishop Vern Nelson performed the single ring service in the Relief Society Room.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan, Hagerman, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Swainston, Richfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white bridal gown of embroidered peau de soie. The bodice was designed with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves ruffled at the cuffline. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was held by a satin flower trimmed in pearls. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride's cascade bouquet of pink roses and white carnations was tied with streamers of pink satin ribbon enhanced with tiny pearlized hearts.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Gary Swainston, Richfield, as matron of honor, and Debbie Swainston, sister of the bridegroom, Richfield, and Diana Timney, cousin of the bride, Hagerman, as bridesmaids.

Michael Swainston, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Kelly Swainston, cousin of the bridegroom, served as usher.

Mrs. Kenneth Johnson played the wedding music and was accompanied by Mrs. W. T. Flavel and Mrs. Lyle Deeds, who sang.

A reception in the LDS Cultural Hall was held after the ceremony. The three-tiered wedding cake was displayed on the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth over green linen. Decorated in pink and green, the cake was topped by nuptial figurines. Beauty baskets of pink gladioli decorated the reception center.

The cake was served by Mrs. Ross Swainston and Mrs. Lyle Swainston, aunts of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Morris Swainston, cousin of the bridegroom. The guest book was attended by Mrs. Gary Kissler, cousin of the bridegroom.

Eva King and Ann King presided at the gift table. Rhonda Swainston, cousin of the bridegroom, Colleen Brown and Joyce Ward were in charge of serving.

A SPACE CENTER ENGINEER adjusts a TV camera similar to the type scheduled for use on the surface of the moon by the Apollo 12 astronauts. The camera, which would have transmitted color pictures of the moon and the astronauts, failed less than an hour after the Intrepid moonship landed. It was believed that one of the astronauts accidentally pointed the lens at the brilliant sun during the setting-up maneuvers, and the picture tube was damaged. (UPI telephoto)

Sun's Rays Destroy Image On Intrepid

$78,833 Camera On Intrepid

SPACE CENTER, Houston sent back an unrecognizable picture with white splotch at the top and the rest of the screen black. Space agency technicians radioed up to Conrad and Bean several corrective steps. None worked. Then Bean banged it twice with a hammer and the picture improved briefly. But ground controllers told the astronauts to press on with erecting a nuclear powered science station and ignore the camera for the time being.

The space agency said the television imaging tube on the camera had burned out when the lens was accidentally pointed directly into the sun. Technicians devised ways to get more light to the tube that might enable it to produce fuzzy black-and-white pictures. The space agency said it would pass the instructions to the crew if time permitted later in the day, and said there was a 50-50 chance some picture might be restored.

Conrad Notes 'Clean' Surface Of Lunar Soil

By Utah Press International "Mark, Oh, is that soft and clean." Those were the first words of Charles "Pete" Conrad when he stepped on the moon. The first words of Neil A. Armstrong when he landed July 20 were: "That's one small step for a man; one giant leap for mankind."

BRIDGE

By Jacoby

MALE EGO-BURNS WHILE HELEN WINS
Today's hand was played by Helen Sobel Smith in a rubber bridge game at New York's Cavendish Club. She was sitting South. The other three players were near experts of the male sex. I was sitting southeast and watching to see if this young new comer was as good as some people said she was.

condescendingly that Helen had a lot to learn about double-finesse situations and would do well to study this particular card combination for future reference. Helen said nothing at all but just spread the cards to cut-see. I was sitting southeast and found what I wanted to know. This young blonde was a real player. She needed to be sure of two club tricks and her ace play had guaranteed these two club tricks against any combination of the East-West cards. Obviously, she knew this safety play and none of the three pseudo-experts did. Any other club play risked her contract against some possible club break. Helen had insured her success.

I had hardly finished my analysis when Helen settled the matter by calling for dummy's ace of clubs. This dropped East's queen nicely and, when a second club play showed that the queen had been a singleton, Helen just claimed her three-no-trump.

East and West were indignant about the dumb luck this girl was enjoying. North was happy about the result but remarked

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 1♥ Pass 1♣
Pass 3♠ Pass 4 N.T.
Pass 5♦ Pass 5 N.T.
Pass 6♣ Pass 7

You, South, hold:

What do you do now?
A—Bid six spades. You are not likely to have any play at all for seven.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding six clubs, your partner has bid six hearts to show two kings. What do you do now?

Checking Up

By L. M. BOYD
Red-Haired Men, Smokers Are Poor Tipplers In Cafes

WAITRESSES know that red-haired men don't tip well. Neither do pipe smokers. Nor do fellows who carry umbrellas when it isn't raining. THAT'S WISE. A LEMON contains about 10 per cent sugar while a water-melon contains only about 7 per cent sugar. RECENTLY INQUIRED naively why girls' legs are called "gams" and a traveler or two reported the word in Italy for leg is "gam-ba."

AMONG THE GIRLS who play musical instruments, the most attractive are the harpists. That the harp is a woman's instrument, not a man's, is widely known. More than 19 out of 20 harpists are female. But not so widely known is that these girls almost all are beautiful. Or at least pretty. It's a fact. Check them out. You won't find a homely harpist anywhere, hardly.

OPEN QUESTIONS: 1. How long is a deceased person referred to as "the late . . . ?" 2. Who can explain why summer temperatures of 100-degrees-plus are common in Canada than along the Equator? 3. Why is it most women look graceful going down a staircase, but awkward going up?

HYMNS—Most popular hymn of all is "The Old Rugged Cross," it's now reported. That's news. "Abide with Me" used to be the most popular. Followed in order by "Nearer My God to Thee," "Lead Kindly Light" and "Rock of Ages." Or so the pollsters' records show.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q. M. Body in care of The Times-News. "Are wristwatches common in News."

New Councilmen To Attend Class For Officials At ISU

All three newly elected Twin Falls City Council members have been invited to attend a workshop meeting Tuesday in Pocatello and two other city officials will be participating in the workshop program.

Acting City Manager Jean Millar said Wednesday he has been asked to participate in the program as has Councilman Frank Feitman, Twin Falls.

The workshop is a one-day session held at Idaho State University for newly elected city officials and interested incumbents of the Southern Idaho area.

Mr. Feldman will speak on a panel on "Powers and Responsibilities of the Legislative Policy Making Body — the City Council."

Mr. Millar will discuss preparing a city budget and appropriation ordinances.

He said the purpose of the workshop is to assist newly elected officials in understanding some of the responsibilities they will face as City Council members and to bring incumbent officials up to date on administrative matters.

Registration at ISU will begin at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday with sessions adjourning at 5 p.m. Dr. John Eves, director of Government Research Institute, ISU, is in charge of the Pocatello workshop. Others will be held in Boise and Moscow.

Coordinator for the Pocatello workshop is Paul L. Kelly, Community Development Specialist, Government Research Institute.

He said the workshop will be conducted on an informal basis allowing time for questions and answers and open discussion by the city delegates.

INFANTS ONLY 12 HOURS old are now being treated at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for possible hearing defects. The test, administered by nurses and physicians, is one of the projects of the Easter Seal Society. Here, Merle Stoddard, left, and Margaret Stelling, Idaho Falls, talk about the speech and hearing therapy program. Mrs. Stelling, who started a pilot project in Idaho Falls recently was in Twin Falls Tuesday to meet with area physicians, nurses and hospital administrators. A demonstration was then performed at the hospital. The test uses a machine called an infant audiometer. The machine gives out various wave lengths of sound and the infant's response gives a clue to the hearing ability. Physicians can then take corrective steps at an early age, once a defect is discovered.

Court Continues Charges Against Idaho Official

BOISE (UPI) Fourth District Judge W. E. Smith has continued until Dec. 31 the forgery case against Dr. William Suifrit Jr., 34, former director of planning and research for the Office of Higher Education.

Suifrit pleaded guilty on Tuesday to a charge of forging a $500 state check. He was arrested Sept. 29. Judge Smith continued the case to allow time for a pre-sentence investigation.

Meet Slated

SHOSHONE—North Side Communities, Inc., will meet at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Manhattan cafe. State Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, Gooding, will be featured speaker.

All Chambers of Commerce on the North Side are urged to send officers and delegates as well as other interested persons. A question period will follow Mr. Ravenscroft's talk.

WINS AWARD
BURLEY—Sava Overacre won the Salesman of the month award for October in the Magic Valley district of the Prudential Insurance Co. This is the fifth monthly award won by Mr. Overacre so far this year. There are 12 agents in the Magic Valley staff competing for the award each month.

Loud Protest To Save British Horses

LONDON (UPI)—The tired, horsemeat brings up to $2.50 a pound from Europeans, many of whom consider it makes a tasty steak. The Defense Ministry has been selling aged cavalry and artillery horses to find homes for the ceremonial horses too old or infirm for parade work.

When British newspapers reported the sales the Royal Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals offered to find homes for the ceremonial horses too old or infirm for parade work.

Youths Convicted Of Kidnaping Teachers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—month trial without a jury, 20 youths were convicted Tuesday of kidnaping and holding members of a state college faculty and administration at knife point during a campus disruption instigated by black militants.

LONDON (UPI)—The Hanson quintuplets—Joanne, Nicola, Julie, Sarah and Jacqueline—are "maintaining their improvement and are coming along quite nicely," a spokesman for Queen Charlotte's Hospital said today. The quintuplets were born Thursday night, nine weeks premature.
