3 Moon Pilots Streak Homeward To S. Pacific

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Space Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Promised a "lovely day" in the South Pacific, Apollo 12's moon pilots streaked toward a triumphant homecoming today in the finale of man's first decade of space exploration.

Their Yankee Clipper accelerated quickly under the ever-increasing pull of gravity on the last leg of America's second $360 million lunar landing expedition.

Charles "Pete" Conrad, 39; Richard F. Gordon, 40, and Alan L. Bean, 37, set their sights on a splashdown in moderate seas at 3:58 p.m. EST. The veteran recovery carrier Hornet stood by under partly cloudy skies 405 miles southeast of Pago Pago to retrieve them.

"If you've remembered your lava-lavas (Polynesian clothing), it should be a lovely day in the South Pacific," ground communicator Donald L. Lind radioed the spacemen eight hours before their landing.

"Thank you, Don, sounds real good and we'll be happy to see the land of lava-lavas," replied Conrad.

Apollo 12 was 53,000 miles away at the time, its speed increasing from 5,660 miles per hour to 24,600 mph at reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

The 10-day, million-mile mission was the nation's last in a decade of manned spaceflight that opened when Russia's Yuri Gagarin and America's Alan B.

Shepard first ventured into the cosmos in 1961. Since then, 23 Americans, aged 34 to 49, Russians and Chinese, have flown in space.

Apollo 12's astronauts awaked at 5:27 a.m. after eight hours and began the final preparations for splashdown. Tony Caro said "there just isn't anything comparable" to their course with star sightings Apollo 12's rewards in all the scientific explorations carried out to date in the space program.

The three Navy fliers brought back 80 to 90 pounds of rocks and soil from a lunar desert called the Ocean of Storms, parts of a robot night surveyor spacecraft that landed there in 1967, and knowledge from that launch of Apollo 13 on an even more ambitious expedition in March.

They left behind the Stars and Stripes and a nuclear-powered laboratory, one project scientists said should increase man's knowledge of the moon at least a 1,000 times.

General Believes Villagers Exaggerated Song My Massacre

DA NANG, Vietnam (UPI)—A South Vietnamese general said today villagers may have deliberately exaggerated the number of civilians slain in the alleged Song My massacre in order to receive more money from the U.S. government.

Lt. Gen. Huong Xuan Lam, commander of government forces in South Vietnam's five northern provinces, said in the report to the government's high command in Saigon that the South Vietnamese general said the command in Saigon that the number of civilians slain in the alleged Song My massacre in Quang Nam Province were caused by U.S. damage caused by American air and artillery strikes in an "operational accident."

Waiting

PARIS (UPI)—Today was one more day of waiting for two Air Force wives from Texas, back at the site of the Vietnam peace conference for the second time in 10 weeks to try and learn if their husbands are prisoners in North Vietnam.

Mrs. Bonnie Singleton and Mrs. Paula Hartness, both of Dallas, were trying to relax before their second appointment with Hanoi diplomats Tuesday afternoon.

Both have been watching their mailboxes since they and two other Texas women left Paris after their precedent-setting meetings with members of the North Vietnamese delegation to the peace conference.

Treaty On Weapons Is Ratified

MOSCOW (UPI)—The President of the Soviet Union's Supreme Soviet today ratified the treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons at a meeting attended by the ruling troika, Moscow radio reported in an English language broadcast.

Villagers of Song My, 318 miles northeast of Saigon, have claimed American troops using automatic rifles and machine guns shot to death 300 to 800 civilians in March, 1968. Lam said he believed villagers distorted the incident when they talked to reporters who visited the village this month. "Maybe the local people hope to receive some indemnification from the Americans so they have exaggerated the number of houses, burned down and the number of persons killed," the command in Saigon that the civilian casualties at the village. The U.S. government pays of $2 million for casualties and Province were caused by American damage caused by American actions.

The treaty, known as the Nonproliferation Treaty, was agreed to last year and has already been ratified by the U.S. Senate. West Germany has been one of the major holdouts in signing the accord.

LONDON (UPI)—Leftwing parliament mustered forces today for a campaign aimed at pressuring the government to renounce the U.S. presence in Vietnam.

Their opposition to the war heightened last week with reports of an alleged massacre of South Vietnamese civilians by U.S. troops.

About 1,500 antiwar demonstrators burned an American flag in front of the U.S. embassy in London Sunday, shouting "U.S. murderers" and "victory to the NLF (Viet Cong)."

Interest Rates Will Remain High

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy predicts it will be a long time before interest rates fall back to the pre-inflation levels of three or four years ago.

But it will not take a recession, Kennedy said, to produce lower interest rates or a lessening of any of the other inflationary ailments.

Kennedy, in a UPI "Washington Window" interview, said he could not offer a date when the Nixon administration's battle against inflation will be won. But when that time finally does come, he said, interest rates should begin to fall.

John Rosholt was re-elected to represent Idaho as director of the National Water Resources Association. Mr. Rosholt was chosen during the state convention last week in Boise.

Third Meet Held On Nuclear Weapons

HELSINKI (UPI)—U.S. and Soviet negotiators today held their third working session on how to limit strategic nuclear weapons.

A Moscow Tass report placed the blame for the nuclear arms race on so-called imperialist nations.

The session at the U.S. embassy lasted two hours, the longest yet. The next meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Soviet embassy.

Instructions from their respective governments in Washington and Moscow.

They were trying to complete arrangements for full-scale negotiations on possible measures to curb the nuclear arms race.

The session at the U.S. embassy lasted two hours, the longest yet. The next meeting was scheduled for 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Soviet embassy.

Sticking to their agreement to maintain complete secrecy, neither side revealed any details about today's encounter in their preliminary round of Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT).

Hearing

A public hearing on the proposed reconstruction of West Fifth Avenue and portions of Addison Avenue will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Twin Falls American Legion Hall.

Conducting the hearing will be the Idaho Department of Highways. Testimony concerning the two proposed projects will be accepted at the hearing.

Jerome Man, 77, Dies Of Crash Injury

JEROME — An elderly Jerome man, injured earlier this month in an auto-pedestrian accident in Jerome, died Sunday night of injuries he received in the mishap.

William Robinson, 77, became Magic Valley's latest fatality. He was injured Nov. 11 when he leaped from the path of one car into the path of another car driven by Ronnie J. Moore, 16, also of Jerome.

The accident happened on Jerome's Main Street and the victim was crossing in the middle of the street, officers said. He was thrown about 50 feet by the impact and has been hospitalized at St. Benedict's Hospital since the accident.

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—The White House Christmas tree will be a 20-foot fir from northeastern Ohio.

Re-Entry Day Tomorrow

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC—JAKARTA (UPI)—Eighty-four persons died of smallpox in central Java during the first 10 months of the year, the Central Java public health director said Sunday.

He was born March 6, 1892, in Liberty, Utah. He moved to Idaho with his parents in 1893. He attended schools at Colman near Idaho Falls. He married Ella Silcock, May 1, 1917, at Colman. The marriage was later solemnized in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple. He moved to Burley from Gardfield in 1926.

North Idaho Crash Kills 5 Persons

MOSCOW (UPI)—An afternoon drive to visit relatives ended in tragedy Sunday when five persons, including the driver, died in a Moscow car pile-up. Under present policy the BLM classified land for desert entry only when there is an adequate water source currently available.

The disclosure came in an announcement that U.S. 4th Infantry Division troops had fought a 15-minute battle Sunday in the highlands region, where until now only government soldiers had been used against the 5,000-man guerrilla threat.

Lodge Refutes N. Vietnam's Charges

PARIS (UPI)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge issued a stern rebuttal today to allegations by North Vietnam's chief peace negotiator that the United States had refused to enter secret peace talks.

Lodge, who has announced his resignation as the chief U.S. negotiator, was replying to an interview given by Hanoi delegate Xuan Thuy to an American newspaper.

"First, it is not true that I have not been willing to meet privately, or otherwise, with Mr. Thuy to discuss general problems concerning Vietnam, and he knows it very well," Lodge said.

"Second, it is also not true that in the private meetings which have been held, I have only been willing to talk on one question—that of mutual troop withdrawal. He knows that, too."

"Third, it is not true, as alleged, that the U.S. wishes to continue the war in Vietnam. It is therefore inflexible," Lodge said.

He accused Thuy of being "as intransigent in private meetings as he has been in public meetings" and had avoided all give-and-take bargaining.

"Instead, his position has been to insist on the U.S. withdrawing completely from South Vietnam without any indication of what the North Vietnamese would do," he said. "He has also demanded that the U.S. overthrow the present government in South Vietnam as we leave."

Lodge said that the United States was willing to discuss all questions relevant to peace and

Israelis Hit Egyptian Positions

By United Press International

Israel said its warplanes capped a weekend of battling across the Suez Canal with a four-hour night raid against Egyptian positions along the waterway's west bank, their heaviest such strike to date.

From Cairo, the Egyptian command said the air raiders were turned back repeatedly Sunday night by its anti-aircraft batteries. One Egyptian soldier was wounded.

Tel Aviv said the raids followed heavy artillery duels across the 102-mile waterway Sunday afternoon. Three Israeli soldiers suffered wounds in the exchange.

Troops Sent To Border Region

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. military command disclosed today it has dispatched American troops to reinforce South Vietnam's defenses against a Communist threat along the Cambodian border.

The disclosure came in an announcement that U.S. 4th Infantry Division troops had fought a 15-minute battle Sunday in the highlands region, where until now only government soldiers had been used against the 5,000-man guerrilla threat.

Damage Shown

DAK DAM, Cambodia (UPI)—Cambodian army officials Sunday showed newsmen widespread damage he said was caused last week by U.S. air raids on this outpost near the South Vietnamese border.

Col. Sak Sutsakhan, the army's acting chief of staff, told the newsmen and members of the international control commission that 26 Cambodian soldiers were killed and 11 injured in the bombings.

Astronauts View Space As 'Unreal'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo-12 astronauts say man will have to retrain himself to some aspects of life in the "very, very unreal" world of space.

Voices from space tell the story:

Charles "Pete" Conrad: "All your training all your life has been to hunt for things on top of things, like on top of the seat, on top of the floor. So you walk about the spaceship hunting for it but really they may be in plain view, just resting right on the underside of the seat...you have one whole of a time finding things and somebody on the other side will say 'look, it is right by your left ear.'"

Alan I. Bean: "The moon is just a white ball right out in the middle of a great black void...there just doesn't seem to be any rhyme or reason why we are here or why it's sitting out there."

"It's as amazing to us to fly around it (the moon) as it is when you just think about going to the moon. It is very, very unreal to be there."

Conrad: "I fell over once up there. There wasn't any problem...to expedite things, we'd just fall over on our face and pick up the rock and give ourselves a one-handed push-up. Or just get down on our knees and pick up whatever it was we wanted."

Bean, comparing earth and moon walks in a space suit: "On earth you get tired from the walk. On the moon, your legs never seemed to get tired but the suit doesn't always want to bend when you want to bend."

Conrad: "I found I couldn't walk (on the moon). Wherever we went we loped...it reminded me of a giraffe running. I just had to step out and then hold what I had until I came down."

Conrad, describing rock rolling on the moon: "It rolls rather slowly. I was surprised it was so hard to get them going, but then they would just keep going."

Library Gets New Volumes At Jerome

JEROME—Mrs. Elwood Becker, Civic Club Memorial Library Librarian, reports the new books purchased for the library this month.

They include "The French Lieutenant's Woman," "Fowles," "Passions of the Ring," "Acree," "Bowmanville Break," "Shelley," "Here Before KJroy," "Walton," "The Catalyst," "Bell," "Cab-Intersec," "Walker," "Maigret's Pickpockets," "Simeon," "A Killing for Christ," "Hamill," "The Spotted Sphinx," "Adamson," "Prince of Darkness," "Meredit," "For Love of a Doctor," "Seifert," and "Consider the Season," Merill, all fiction.

Non-fiction novels purchased by the library include "True Stories of Berlin and Adventure," "Saturday Evening Post," "Notorious Ladies of the Frontier," "Drago," and "Only One Year," Alllueva.

Three children's Christmas story books purchased are "Christmas in America," "Paterson," "Little Bear's Christmas," "Janice," and "Christmas Stories," Lenski.

Mrs. Becker said that several of Mrs. Gladys Baker Bond's stories for children have been ordered. Mrs. Bond is an Idaho writer.

Featured in the art gallery of the library this month are the paintings of about 15 members of the Jerome Art Guild.

Mrs. Becker stated that the library is always interested in displaying art work of individuals or groups. She tries to feature a new artist or group each month.

Gooding To Host Career Day Nov. 26

GOODING — High school students from Gooding County communities will attend Career Day activities at the Gooding High School Wednesday.

The event is scheduled every two years and is hosted by Gooding. Students attend from Wendell, Gooding, Hagerman, Bliss, and Camas Counties.

Professional people from numerous occupations will lecture on various occupations. The purpose is to introduce students to different fields.

The Career Day activities should help underclassmen more than seniors, but the activities also benefit seniors that haven't decided on a vocation, school officials said.

SINGER APPEARS WENDELL — David Baumgarten, Los Angeles, well-known singer, movie producer and director was a guest entertainer at the Wendell High School and Junior High last week.

He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, two Air Medals, two awards of the Air Force Commendation Medal and the Army Commendation Medal.

Nixon Is Expected To Name Another Man Conservative As Haynsworth To Court

By WILLIAM B. MEAD WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate, with little stomach for another fight, may get a new Supreme Court nominee just as Southern and just as conservative as Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

President Nixon indicated he would seek that sort of man in a statement issued Friday after the Senate's decisive 55 to 45 vote against confirmation of Haynsworth.

"The criteria I shall apply for this selection, as was the case with my nomination of Judge Haynsworth, will be consistent with my commitments to the American people before my election as President a year ago," said Nixon.

During the 1968 campaign, Nixon said the man he nominated to the Supreme Court "would be strict constructionist who saw their duty as interpreting law and not making law... caretakers of the constitution and servants of the people, not superlegislators with a free hand to impose their social and political viewpoints upon the American people."

In Haynsworth, Chief Judge of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Nixon evidently felt he had found a man to fit that description. The Senate's refusal to elevate him to the high court was something of a personal defeat for the President.

But Nixon, saying the court "needs men of his (Haynsworth's) legal philosophy, to restore the proper balance to that great institution," appeared determined to employ the same standards again when he submits a new nominee early in January.

Assistant Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin, who joined the anti-Haynsworth forces several weeks ago, said he hoped Nixon would make his choice even sooner.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., the Senate's oldest and most senior Republican, said the Haynsworth rejection meant the next man Nixon names to fill the seat vacated by Abe Fortas must not represent "Southern ultraconservatism."

Aiken said Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., had been mentioned for the nomination and "probably would be almost approved by acclamation because he is a judge in every sense of the word."

Stennis, 68, appeared to be forbidden from the court, however, by a constitutional provision that bars congressmen from voting to hike the pay of a government job, then filling it. Congress voted this year to raise the salary of Supreme Court justices from $39,500 to $60,000.

Aiken was one of 26 Republicans and 19 Democrats who voted for Haynsworth. Seventeen Republicans and 18 Democrats voted against him.

Haynsworth, 57, issued a statement from his Greenville, S.C., office, saying the Senate rebuff forced him to consider quitting the federal judiciary altogether.

"I do not think I should attempt to decide that question in the emotion of the moment," Haynsworth said.

Although Haynsworth's conservative rulings in segregation and labor cases probably cost him the deciding votes, most opponents cited his "insensitivity." They said he ruled on cases involving companies in which he had stock or some other interest.

It was only the 10th time since 1789 that the Senate rejected a Supreme Court nominee.

HELSINKI (UPI) — Foreign tourists were involved in 307 traffic accidents in Finland during the summer of 1969, according to a government report.

Buhl Woman Elected To Valley Post

Mrs. Jean Thompson, Buhl, was elected president of the Magic Valley Area Radiological Technologists during the group's meeting recently at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Other new officers are Mrs. Billie Bartholomew, Twin Falls, vice president, and Mrs. Vera Harvey, Buhl, secretary-treasurer. They will be installed at the annual Christmas meeting and party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Marrs on Dec. 13.

Mrs. Myrtle Stearley, newly elected state president, reported on the annual state meeting held in conjunction with the Northwest Conference of Radiological Technologists in Spokane. Mrs. Stearley also discussed the problem now involving personnel working with x-rays that are not trained in this field and do not have their registry. The U.S. Department of Public Health and Welfare is involved in settling the problem.

The group also made plans to collect used x-ray film to sell. This used film is sold and used in the manufacture of plastic materials. Members are to contact Mrs. Cathy Beer at the hospital concerning their used film.

The program included films, "Coronary Artery Disease," "Drugs Affecting the Nervous System," and "Acromegaly and the Growth Hormone."

Time Span On Sewers Is Explained

The Idaho Board of Health rejected the requests of three Eastern Idaho industries to delay the installation of adequate primary or secondary treatment facilities for the disposal of their liquid wastes, according to John Van Orman, Jerome, a member of the board.

In action taken at their meeting recently in Pocatello, the board, acting upon recommendations of the Water Pollution Control Advisory Council, refused to grant any further extension of time to Idaho Potato Growers, Aberdeen, Idaho, Fresh Pak, Inc., Lewisville, and Rogers Brothers Co., Rexburg, to install necessary pollution abatement facilities.

Mr. Van Orman said almost three years have elapsed since the time the schedule was first adopted and the availability of data concerning the treatment of potato wastes has increased substantially. He also added various pilot plant studies conducted in Idaho under joint authorization by the Potato Processors of Idaho, the Idaho Department of Health and the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration indicate conclusively that potato wastes can be reduced by as much as 90 per cent through secondary waste treatment.

Elderly Pilot Lands On Island With Fuel Lack

VONORE, Tenn. (UPI)—A 73-year-old pilot en route from Barberton, Ohio, to Florida, lost, short on fuel and with darkness approaching, chose an island in the Little Tennessee River near here for a forced landing.

Thomas Charr landed the single-engine aircraft safely. With him was his 79-year-old brother, Homer.

After spending the night at nearby motel and refueling, the two planned to continue their trip.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Diabetes

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 21, has diabetes insipidus. His only treatment is insulin which he injects himself each morning. He is sugar free, but he does not maintain proper water balance and always has a terrible thirst. What treatment other than insulin would help him?

effective. This is a paradox, since the drug is designed to stimulate the body to lose excess water. But it helps control diabetes insipidus, even though we don't know how or why. (Chlorothiazide can be taken by mouth.)

Check again. Are you sure it is insulin and not something else? For diabetes mellitus ("sugar diabetes") is quite different from diabetes insipidus, and results from a totally different condition. The two diseases are alike in that, unless controlled, they cause excessive urination and thirst as a consequence. They are totally unlike in that diabetes mellitus involves inability to utilize sugar, so sugar piles up in the blood. There is no sugar problem in diabetes insipidus, nor is there the threat to health and life that sugar diabetes poses.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Have you ever heard of another set of nipples beginning to grow beneath the breasts? Is this rare or does it occur frequently? Can anything be prescribed to correct this? - A.N.O.

Insulin is used to let the patient make use of his sugar. It is pointless to give it with diabetes insipidus. Therefore, I wonder whether your son isn't really injecting posterior pituitary material - as insipidus is caused by a defect in the posterior pituitary gland, and the suitable hormone is needed.

It's possible - It happens occasionally. These are called accessory nipples, and are in line with, but below, the normal nipples. They are small, may merely somewhat resemble a mole. They are an aberration in development, but do no harm and nothing need be done about them.

In your son's case, since his thirst continues, he may need two doses of the pituitary material a day instead of one. Better discuss with the doctor about achieving better control of the condition.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes a 14 reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Think of those poor people in Baltimore - they blew four straight: the Colts, the Bullets, the Orioles and Agnew!"

Ticking Clock

Christian Science Monitor

President Nixon gained some time for himself and his Vietnam policy with his televised address to the American people two weeks ago. The November antiwar demonstrations over the weekend - particularly the one in Washington, with its turnout of a quarter of a million people - was a chastening reminder of how limited the time gained is. He is still engaged in a race against the clock.

There is little doubt but that most Americans are fed up with the war in Vietnam. Most of them want disengagement as soon as possible. But the biggest part of that majority is probably still with the President in resisting any speeding up of disengagement beyond the point of safety. Mr. Nixon's task is to keep those people with him. His televised address was directed to that end. But he knows that in the weeks and months ahead he will have to add to that kind of appeal convincing evidence that he is maintaining the momentum of withdrawal.

At the same time, there is evidence that in his difficult and dangerous rearguard action on two fronts - at home and in Vietnam - he is trying to isolate the extremists. Vice President Agnew's outspoken and often provocative speeches are apparently part of the progress. Mr. Nixon, quite rightly, does not want the pace to be set by the more radical and less responsible groups on the protest bandwagon.

The wilder people who broke away from the majority in Washington over the weekend - smashing windows on Connecticut Avenue on Friday night and trying to storm the Justice Department on Saturday - played straight into the administration's hands.

This deliberate unruliness must have made many Americans who had joined the October moratorium in all sincerity wonder just what kind of people they might be getting mixed up with. Yet the fact remains that if this represents in any way a net gain for the administration, it is still likely to be only a short-term gain. This is the President's cruel dilemma, and he knows it. He knows, too, that the other side in Vietnam will be scheming and calculating to cancel out even any short-term gaining of time by him with deliberate acts of isolated destruction to jar once more domestic public opinion in the United States.

Altogether, this could mean that the going will get rougher - both at home and in Vietnam, but particularly at home - before it gets better. We believe that the President's Vietnam policy in its general direction is the only safe one for the United States, and for all those in the world whose ultimate shield is United States strength and commitment. He deserves support. And he does not need to be told that it is most likely to be forthcoming the more he keeps the American people informed and the less he deepens the divisions in their midst.

TV Coverage

WASHINGTON - Today I would like to discuss with you the dangers of television sports casting and how a small group of men decide what 20 million people will see during a football game.

Last Saturday, Ohio State played Purdue in one of the most important football games of the year. While viewers had tuned in to see this great contest pitting two of the finest teams in the country, two or three commentators who had made up their minds in advance on the outcome had subjected the game to instant analysis and querulous criticism.

It was obvious to those of us watching that these self-appointed analysts expressed their hostility toward one team or the other before the television audience had a chance to digest what had happened. Two of the commentators, Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson, by the tone of their voices and the expressions on their faces, indicated sharp disapproval of Purdue's defense and couldn't hide their admiration for the way Ohio State had managed to score at will.

They offered gratuitous advice, challenging the policies of the Purdue quarterback and coach, and the networks seemed happy to offer the commentators all the time they wanted. Now everyone has a right to say what he wants about the Ohio State - Purdue football game, but the American people also have a right to make up their own minds as to what they have seen.

How was this football game telecast? A small elite group of men, no more than a dozen, decided what you would not see Saturday. They chose the plays and the players that you would follow. You had no choice in this matter. They also, at their own discretion, decided what instant replay would be shown and when. This great power in the hands of a few men is too frightening to imagine. Who is to say how much Chris Schenkel's inflections or Bud Wilkinson's raised eyebrows, contributed to Purdue's defeat? We know that Schenkel lives in New York and Wilkinson lives in Washington, the most unrepresentative communities in the United States.

Both men read the same newspapers and draw their views from the same sources. Worse, they talk constantly to one another, thereby providing artificial reinforcements of their shared viewpoints.

Is it not fair and relevant to question the concentration of power when it comes to college football games in the hands of a tiny enclosed fraternity of privileged men, elected by no one and enjoying a monopoly sanctioned and licensed by the government? We should ask ourselves: What is the end profit of watching such a game? Why, for example, did the network in question choose to show the violence of the Purdue-Ohio State football game, rather than the peaceful scenes on the sidelines? Why were their cameras constantly aimed at confrontation between the two teams instead of showing us what was going on outside the stadium in the parking lot, where all was calm and serene?

At halftime we saw demonstrations on the field, cheerleaders screaming and urging their respective teams to violence. In the search for excitement and controversy we were treated to a small minority of people, numbering no more than 85,000, shouting and yelling their heads off. Was this representative of all the people in the United States?

I do not have the solutions to the questions I have raised today. I believe it is up to the sports-casting media to re-examine and improve the objectivity of their football reporting. I don't say that government should get into it at this time, but if we can't have a football game without violence on the field and prejudice on the part of the commentators, then I can't see any other alternative than for the FCC to step in.

But there is no reason Nixon cannot make his peace with the commission's findings. They agree with the President, for example, that the present welfare system is a shambles. In commenting on the report, Finch predicted that dissatisfaction with the present system is so great that Congress will be forced to act on sweeping reforms next year. The Heineman report, which Nixon was under no obligation to accept, thus will give the administration added ammunition on the Hill.

Besides, the report generally is a good one. It is broader than the Nixon plan because it would not be limited to families but would cover individuals and childless couples, who would not receive benefits under the administration proposal. Surely, this is a step forward: families are not alone in the morass of poverty.

Just as the Nixon administration should be able to accept this change, so should the Heineman group compromise on the "universal income" concept. Including $720 worth of food stamps in the annual benefit is important, especially in the big cities, because it guarantees that dope addicts and alcoholics will be forced to spend at least a portion of their welfare grants on nourishment. It is insurance for the children and the wives, if not for the irresponsible husbands.

Both plans would provide work incentives by allowing the so-called "working poor" to keep 50 per cent of their earnings, up to a limit, and still get welfare money. The administration's limit is $3820, the commission's is $4800. Any conscientious Congressional committee should be able to settle that difference.

But Congress will agree at its peril to drop the mandatory "workfare" requirement in the Nixon proposal. Since the Nixon plan would cost $6 billion in 1971, and the commission's plan $7 billion, the electorate is sure to demand that something be done to encourage - or force - welfare recipients to remove themselves from the dole.

Civilian Skills

Lewiston Tribune

Leaders of developing nations characteristically initiate educational programs that, at best, will solve only half a problem. Perhaps that is because they lack experience.

Latest example of that was reported from Kampala, Uganda. "President Milton Obote says Uganda's soldiers will be trained in farming, animal life, administration and other civilian skills to prepare them for modern war."

His aim, it seems from here, is a bit narrow. And there is reason to doubt that men steeped in the military approach could be expected to understand appreciatively civilian attitudes toward, say, administration. For a balanced educational program, President Obote might well have considered training civilians in Uganda in the tactics of riot control, precision marching, and firearms maintenance. - C.C.

Gunman Surrenders In Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—A young Bahamian, who held his mother-in-law and her mother hostage for about nine hours in a high-rise apartment, heeded his estranged wife's tearful plea today and surrendered without resistance.

Short, slender Albert Lewless, 22, was allowed to talk with his wife, Nancy, 22, for about five minutes before he was led off handcuffed to jail. Officers said he would be charged with assault with a deadly weapon and discharging a weapon in an occupied building.

A boarder employe and former crewman on a cruise liner, Lewless had taken Mrs. Mary Snyder, his wife's mother, and Mrs. H. Gillen, mother of Mrs. Snyder, hostage Sunday night following a quarrel with his wife. The couple was separated and a friend said Lewless was "very jealous" of his black-haired wife.

Lewless had defied police through the night and fired his .30 caliber rifle six times harmlessly into the doors and walls of the eighth-floor luxury apartment. Police said he had 20 rounds of ammunition, including armor-piercing bullets.

Police had talked with Lewless by telephone through the night, and Mrs. Lewless talked with her husband several times, the last time for about 30 minutes. She broke down and sobbed. Jason said, and Lewless also cried. Lewless then agreed to surrender if he could meet with his wife.

Utah City Is Fighting Prostitution

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—The fight to curb prostitution continues in Salt Lake City despite the absence of metermaids posing as prostitutes.

During October and the early portion of November, Police Chief Dewey J. Fillis was using three metermaids to increase arrests in the west 2nd South district, but has discontinued the practice.

"We don't have the personnel to use that capacity right at the moment," the chief explained.

While the maids were on the beat in October, police logged 75 arrests for hire arrests. A year ago, when metermaids were used only as metermaids, six arrests were made under the same charge.

Fillis says the increase in arrests is not to be attributed entirely to the maids and does not indicate an increase in prostitution.

"It just means more concerted effort has been placed in making the arrests and seeking prosecution," he said.

The chief says the idea of using women to make arrests came from his vice division commander, Capt. Calvin C. Whitehead.

"We later secured the information as to the legality of placing a meter maid on the streets through the city prosecutor and city attorney's office," Fillis said.

He added that the attorneys outlined a very restricted framework for the maids, not allowing them to lure a potential customer with motions or conversation.

The chief feels, however, that the program worked successfully.

Smallest Of New Quintuplets Dies

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI)—The smallest of the world's newest quintuplets died Sunday due to a respiratory condition, doctors said. The other four were born in the same hospital.

In a bulletin, doctors at Barcelona's Social Security Clinic said Lino Castro, who weighed only 2.4 pounds at birth, suffered a "heart stop" Sunday night.

He had been placed in an automatic respirator, but doctors said earlier that "his situation is practically irreversible."

Agnew Says He Had Enough, Like Great Silent Majority

NEW YORK (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he has criticized the news media and antiwar demonstrations "because, like the great silent majority, I had had enough."

"I had endured the didactic inadequacies of the garrulous in silence, hoping for the best but witnessing the worst for many months," Agnew said in a Life magazine article released Sunday.

"And because I am an elected official, I felt I owed it to those I serve to speak the truth."

Agnew said many have contended President Nixon urged him to make three recent and controversial speeches, "but it is not the answer." The vice president blasted demonstrators in a New Orleans speech, then rapped the news media in Des Moines, Iowa, and Montgomery, Ala., speeches.

Newsweek magazine, meanwhile, said the speeches were part of a concerted Nixon administration crusade. It quoted an unidentified source as saying, "It's a campaign, and carefully organized. It is also very crude."

The magazine said presidential aide Patrick Buchanan drafted Agnew's latest speech as he did the first attack on the news media. But, it said, at the last minute it was toned down.

Agnew said, "I believe the people of the United States would like to know their vice president for what he really is."

Lewiston Board Is Reorganizing

LEWISTON, (UPI)—The entire board of adjustment here submitted their resignations to the city council Saturday to make room for a new board to include members from Lewiston Orchards.

In a letter of resignation, the four members said, "We are aware that there are qualified and experienced citizens in the orchards who would make excellent members of the board of adjustment."

The four members urged "in the interest of fair play and community harmony" that the members of all other city boards and commissions also submit their resignations to give the city council the opportunity to appoint members from the orchards.

The resignations were to become effective when the orchards are annexed by the city of Lewiston, a move made possible when the city's voters balloted to abandon the city charter and operate under the municipal code of the state constitution.

The board of adjustment is an appeal board for zoning laws and has the power to act on appeals unless specifically overruled by the city council.

and what he really thinks. The game of 'ridicule the vice presidency,' played so enthusiastically over the years, is wearing thin on the people of our country. They know that vice presidents are people, not cartoon characters."

Of demonstrators, Agnew said, "Frightening forces have been set in motion as the public has become conditioned to precipitate action rather than quiet discussion. The announced decision of the more extreme antiwar groups to continue and escalate their disruptive activities proves this."

The vice president said a Vietnam moratorium-type protest "is not only negative in content but 'brutally' counterproductive." He said, "It undermines the policies of the President of the United States" in dealing with the North Vietnamese.

Sentencing Set In LDS Church Theft

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—LaMar Edward Kay, 42, is to be sentenced Dec. 8 for forgery in connection with the theft of more than $800,000 from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

Kay, a former bookkeeper in the finance department of the Mormon Church, was convicted by a jury of six men and two women which deliberated 180 minutes before returning a verdict. The charge was in connection with the forgery of a letter authorizing a $3,500 payment to Clarence Seldon Darrow, 32, also charged in the case.

Kay faces a sentence of one to 20 years imprisonment. Kay and Darrow were charged in six complaints and were free on bonds totaling $20,000 each. Darrow is to be tried separately on a forgery charge.

AGREEMENT SIGNED TOKYO (UPI)—An agreement was signed in Peking Sunday on mutual goods supply and payments for 1970 between Communist China and North Vietnam, the New China News Agency reported.

Mild, Dry Weather Covers U.S.

By United Press International Mild, dry weather covered most of the nation today, with frontal systems in the east and northwest providing light precipitation. Showers extended from the Washington and Oregon coasts into the mountains of northern Idaho and western Montana, with snow in higher elevations. In the east, rain fell from Tennessee and Kentucky into New England as a cold front passed over the Appalachians. Snow fell in northern New York and New England, with Burlington, Vt., adding an inch to its snow cover. A few thundershowers damped the southern Texas area and snow flurries were scattered across the upper Great Lakes states. Early morning temperatures ranged from 15 at Evanston, Wyo., to 72 at Miami, Fla.

Secret Senate Report Shows U.S. Leads Russia In Missiles

By WILLIAM B. MEAD WASHINGTON (UPI)—The transcript of a rare secret Senate debate released Saturday disclosed classified Pentagon statistics indicating that U.S. defensive missile deployment would throw the financial burden of the arms race onto the Soviet Union.

ABM's by firing a few more nuclear missiles. The transcript also disclosed a previously classified report, quoted by Symington, in which a group headed by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said radar proposed for the "Safeguard" ABM system were far too few and far too vulnerable.

But Antibalistic Missile (ABM) opponents led by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., used figures from the same Defense Department chart to support their contention that Russia could easily overwhelm U.S.

Medical Classes Are Open To Area Physicians

The annual general practice review, open to all physicians in the Intermountain area, will be held Dec. 15 at the University of Utah Medical Center in Salt Lake City.

A variety of topics pertinent to the general practice of medicine will be presented, with each day devoted to a major specialty. Physicians may register for selected days which meet their interests and needs.

Special demonstrations will be conducted in rehabilitation activities, defibrillation, home dialysis, hypnosis and pressure breathing.

Group discussions will also consider the problems and treatment of pulmonary disease, the tired patient, stroke as a symptom of other diseases, burn therapy, the newborn intensive care unit, and the management of practice.

Sponsored by the Post Graduate Medical Education Division of the University of Utah College of Medicine, general practice review is approved for 36 hours of credit by the American Academy of General Practice.

The debate was held last July 17, preceding the Senate's Aug. 6 vote in which an amendment to stop deployment of the Safeguard Antibalistic Missile system failed on a 50-50 tie vote.

For part of one day, the Senate barred reporters, the public and senators' aides from the chamber so both sides could present classified material bearing on the ABM controversy.

The transcript, with most classified material censored out, was printed in the congressional record Saturday.

In the debate, senators on both sides of the issue agreed that unless an Arms Limitation agreement with Russia was negotiated, the United States might have to choose between building a massive defensive missile system or many more offensive missiles—or both—at a cost of tens of billions of dollars.

Symington first referred to the Pentagon chart, which he mentioned during a July television interview as proof the ABM was a poor investment.

But Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said "we can increase our protective response" by building more ABM's, if Russia does increase its force of about 230 SS9 ICBM's. And he said the ABM costs much less, putting Russia at a disadvantage.

He gave one example in which, he said, "it would cost the Soviets $3.6 billion to neutralize this step of defense which we could make at a cost of $700 million."

Oakland Keeps Mastery Over Chiefs 27-24

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—It was an even game. Both teams put together impressive touchdowns drives. Oakland slashed 80 yards and Kansas City rolling 71, 80, and 80 yards. Daryle Lamonica passed 22 yards to Warren Wells just before the end of the half for the Raiders' lone offensive touchdown. Kansas City held twice, forcing George Blanda to kick 10 and 14-yard field goals. The Chiefs' drives were culminated by Warren McVea's 54-yard run and Dawson's 31 and 42-yard passes to Otis Taylor and Frank Pitts. Jan Stenerud had a 14-yard field goal, tying an AFL record of 10 consecutive three-pointers.

Kansas City muffed several chances after Conners' run, once when Dave Grayson intercepted at Oakland's 8 and again with 1:45 to play when Ed Podolak fumbled Mike Eischen's punt at the Kansas City 49.

Kansas City had one last chance, getting the ball at its 20 with 47 seconds to play. But Gus Otto cut off that threat, intercepting Dawson's pass at the 50 with 30 seconds to go. The victory left Oakland atop the Western Division with a 9-1 record, Kansas City is 9-2.

Oakland now has beaten the Chiefs six of the last seven times the two teams have met.

KANSAS CITY'S MIKE GARRETT (21) is wrestled down by Oakland's Dan Conners (55) in the first quarter of Sunday's AFL Western Division showdown. The Raiders kept their jinx on the Chiefs, winning 27-24 and taking over first place. (UPI telephoto)

Buhl Good Bet To Improve On Last Years Hoop Mark

BUHL — Just three veterans return from a 4-15 Buhl Indians basketball team that finished dead last in the SCIC a year ago, but coach Rod Hohnhorst can count on most of this season's help from the junior varsity ranks anyway.

What makes Buhl a good bet to improve on that 4-15 record is the presence of two men who stand out. With a pair that size no one is going to intimidate the Indians on the boards. The two are Dave Herrick, a senior, and Steve Meire, a junior.

Add that to veterans Ralph Keeney and Malcolm Perkins at the forward slots and things don't look so bad. Keeney looks like the man to supply a lot of the points for Buhl this season, along with returning guard Ted Poppewell, a 5-10 senior.

The other guard spot is up for grabs between four men, Jim Anderson, six-foot senior, Ben Allen, 6-1 junior, Tim Hudson, 5-9 junior, and Mahlon Hammerquist, 5-9 junior.

Others counted on for forward duty are Doug Erb, 6-2, John Muirhead, 5-10, Bob Anderson, 6-2, Jeff Harper, 6-3, and Steve Hopkins, 5-11, who could also fill in at guard.

Buhl's schedule includes: Dec. 5, Glenns Ferry at Ferry; Dec. 6, Wendell at Buhl; Dec. 9, Glenns Ferry at Buhl; Dec. 12, Vallivue at Vallivue; Dec. 13, Emmett at Emmett; Dec. 19, Buhl Holiday Tournament; Jan. 2, Gooding at Buhl; Jan. 10, Filer at Buhl; Jan. 16, Valley at Valley; Jan. 17, Jerome at Buhl; Jan. 24, Wood River at Buhl; Jan. 27, Burley at Burley; Jan. 30, Valley at Buhl; Jan. 31, Gooding at Gooding; Feb. 7, Filer at Filer; Feb. 13, Jerome at Jerome; Feb. 14, Burley at Buhl; and Feb. 20, Wood River there. Sophomore games begin at 6:30 p.m.

San Diego Tops Celtics 125-116

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—With Elvin Hayes scoring his season high of 41 points, the San Diego Rockets broke open an evenly played game midway through the fourth quarter for 125-116 victory over the slumping Boston Celtics Saturday night.

In that fourth period, Don Kojis scored on a three-point play with less than four minutes to go to give the Rockets a 111-106 lead. Kojis followed with a corner jump shot and San Diego led by eight and never looked back.

In scoring his 41 points, Hayes hit on medium distance jumpers and inside layups and taps over former Rocket reserve center Henry Finkle, starting for Boston this season in place of the retired Bill Russell.

Hayes Has One Major Regret: Buckeyes Didn't Run Star Fullback Otis Enough

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Woody Hayes of Ohio State has one major regret.

"We should have run Jim Otis 40 times," Hayes said Sunday—less than 24 hours after the Buckeyes' 24-12 upset loss to Michigan.

"Jim just played a magnificent game. They tried, but they couldn't stop him. I've never seen a man with more desire. The last game he played was the best. He made two difficult catches and his blocking was pretty doggone good," Hayes said of the 214-pound senior fullback who bulldozed for 144 yards and one touchdown in 29 carries.

However, not even Otis' record-breaking performance was enough as Michigan snapped the Buckeyes' 22-game winning streak and probably ended all hope of a second straight national title.

The loss also prevented Ohio State from gaining a record 18 straight Big Ten conquests.

Instead, Hayes and his dejected team had to be content with the Big Ten championship.

Otis not only became the first

Longhorns' Koy Says Texas Is 'Obvious Number One Choice'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Halfback Ted Koy probably summed up the jubilant reaction of his University of Texas Longhorns and Coach Darrell Royal to the news of Ohio State's fall from grace when he commented, "it's obvious we're No. 1 now, but staying there is what's important."

Only Royal, a veteran of just such gridiron upsets by which Michigan stunned the Buckeyes 24-12 Saturday, managed to keep his feet on the floor when news became official that the Wolverines had opened the door for Texas to move from No. 2 into the No. 1 spot.

There was wholesale jumping and shouting throughout the Longhorns' athletic dormitory and things got so noisy that one player commented that "they should have been able to hear us yelling, even up in Dallas," 200 miles away.

Royal, who was in the press box at Waco taking a busman's holiday by watching the Baylor-Southern Methodist game, first reacted to the news with a simple comment, "that's nice."

But later, as he held an impromptu press conference at halftime, he began to show the signs of the pressure building up inside him.

"I get nervous as a cat just thinking about it," he said, "but we have the opportunity now."

Royal said he felt there was "always a possibility" Michigan would win. "Just like there is a possibility of us getting beat on Thanksgiving Day."

Royal was referring to his team's traditional Turkey Day classic at College Station against Texas A&M in which he

Namath Guides Jets To Rout Of Bengals

NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Namath connected on two scoring passes to George Sauer and reliable Jim Turner booted four field goals Sunday as the New York Jets routed the Cincinnati Bengals 40-7 for their seventh victory in their last eight games.

The Jets, boosting their record to 8-3, scored their first five times they got the ball with Turner capping four of the drives with field goals of 29, 41, 50 and 17 yards. Turner, the most accurate place kicker in pro football, now has booted 28 of 38 field goal attempts, and is a perfect 15-for-15 inside the 30.

Namath, who left the game with the Jets ahead 26-0 in the third period, hit Sauer for a four-yard score in the second period and connected on a 15-yard TD pass with the speedy end in the third period before being replaced by veteran Babe Parilli.

Parilli accounted for the Jets' third TD by hitting tight end Pete Lammons with an eight-yard scoring pass with three seconds remaining in the third period. It was Parilli's first touchdown pass of the season.

The Jets' defense also played an important part in the victory as they allowed the Bengals to get past the midfield stripe only three times. Cincinnati's only score came with 12:18 left in the game when rookie Greg Cook connected on an eight-yard touchdown pass to tight end Bob Trumpy, who made a one-handed grab in the corner of the end zone.

Bill Mathis capped the Jets' scoring with an 11-yard run with 1:54 remaining in the game after Al Woodall replaced Parilli at quarterback.

The Jets' defense made things miserable for Cook most of the game as the young quarterback was thrown for losses on four occasions and managed only three completions in 10 tries in the first half when the Jets soared to a 19-0 lead.

Jet defenders were responsible for setting up both of Namath's scoring passes. Cornerback John Dockery intercepted a Cook pass and returned it 35 yards to the Bengal seven to set up Namath's first TD pass and Wayne Stewart recovered a fumbled kickoff by Ken Riley on the 24 to set up the other.

The Jets befuddled Cincinnati with a new defense that featured four linebackers and only three deep men—cornerbacks Dockery and Cornell Gordon and Free safety Billy Baird. The Jet defense had been porous against the pass in recent weeks.

Boston Pins 35-21 Defeat On Buffalo

BOSTON (UPI)—Boston quarterback Mike Taliaferro passed for three touchdowns and set up the decisive fourth score Sunday while directing the Patriots to a 35-21 victory over the Buffalo Bills.

Taliaferro hurled scoring passes of 24 and 34 yards to Charlie Frazier and 35 yards to Ron Sellers.

But it was Taliaferro's 27-yard connection with Jim Nance just five seconds into the fourth quarter that set up Nance's two-yard scoring plunge for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Buffalo scored first in the first quarter when rookie running back Carl Garrett, locked in a battle with Buffalo's O. J. Simpson for rookie honors, scored an insurance touchdown when he raced 44 yards with only 52 seconds remaining in the American Football League game before a capacity 25,584 persons at Boston College stadium.

Jack Kemp passed to Haven Moses for two and 48 yards for two Buffalo touchdowns and fullback Wayne Patrick dove one yard for the other Bills score.

The victory, which deadlocked the Patriots and Bills at 3-8 each to tie for third place in the eastern division, was marred by several flareups among the players.

Veteran Boston center Jon Morris was ejected for his part in a fourth quarter boxing match with two Buffalo players.

The Patriots raced away to a quick 7-0 lead when Boston defender Ed Phillips intercepted a Kemp pass just 1:25 into the game and Taliaferro hit Frazier with a 34-yard scoring connection.

Leafs Top Flyers

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Bob Pulford scored two goals and assisted on a goal by Dave Keon that proved decisive as the Toronto Maple Leafs edged the Philadelphia Flyers 3-2 Sunday night in a National Hockey League game.

Pulford closed to 89-92 with Charlie Williams scoring eight points, two on three point goals, but the Nets again pulled away. Tart led all scorers with 32. Williams had 29.

Streaking N.Y. Dumps Oakland

NEW YORK (UPI)—Juhawating, a Finnish-born rookie, scored the second and third goals of his National Hockey League career Sunday night to power the streaking New York Rangers to a 5-2 victory over the Oakland Seals.

The Rangers, with seven wins and tie in their last eight games, scored four goals in the second period to protect their hold on first place in the league's Eastern Division.

After Bill Hicks provided the Seals with a 1-0 lead in the opening session, New York pulled away in the second period on a pair of goals and single tallies by Rod Gilbert and Vic Hadfield. Jean Ratelle and Brad Park each contributed two assists.

Post, Chargers Steamroll Past Denver 45-24

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Dick Post ran for three touchdowns and rookie quarterback Marty Domres ran for two as the San Diego Chargers steamrolled to a 45-24 American Football win over the Denver Broncos Sunday.

The win avenged a 13-0 loss suffered at Denver three weeks ago and moved the Chargers into third place in the Western Division.

San Diego's offense had not scored a touchdown in three straight games, but Post tied a club record for touchdowns rushing in a game with jaunts of seven, one and ten yards, the only three scores he has made this year.

Domres ran for 10 and 8 yard touchdowns in the third quarter, the first breaking a 17-7 tie and the second icing the game 38-24. He later hit Gene Foster on a 14 yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter.

The Chargers' attack nullified a three touchdown performance by Denver quarterback Steve Tensi, who was lost with bruised ribs late in the third quarter.

Defense back Kenny Graham set up two Charger touchdowns with interceptions.

Chargers coach Charlie Waller started Domres in place of veteran John Hadl because he wanted to see how his younger players could perform with San Diego eliminated from the playoffs. The rookie completed 11 of 20 passes for 235 yards. The 45 San Diego points are the most the club has made this year.

Post, who entered the game fourth in the league in rushing, ran 17 times for 136 yards. Denver's Tensi completed 10 of 26 passes for 301 yards. He completed his first 11 which gave him twelve in a row over two games, the second best completion string in AFL history.

The game was tied 17-17 at the half as Tensi hit Al Denson on two touchdown passes and Post ran for his first two. Both clubs had first goals.

Beathard, Oilers Rap Miami 32-7

MIAMI (UPI)—Pete Beathard threw two touchdowns and Roy Gerela kicked three field goals to lead Houston to a 32-7 win over Miami Sunday and give the Oilers a firm grip on second place in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

Gerela kicked field goals of 21, 10 and 18 yards and added two conversions on a muddy and showery day in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Roy Hopkins scored Houston's first touchdown with 4:35 left in the second quarter when he bulled into the end zone from a yard out to cap an 80-yard drive that included 18 and 20-yard Beathard passes to rookie Jerry Levias.

The loss of tight end Jan White and Red Kern's sore arm also were factors in the loss.

White, the Buckeyes' block-busting 207 pound end, was injured in the second period and sat out the rest of the game. White's loss reduced the effectiveness of Ohio State's robust or Tight-T offense.

Levias also caught one of Beathard's scoring passes, a 21-yard toss in the third period. With less than two minutes remaining, Beathard threw a six-yard touchdown pass to Jim Beirne.

Miami rookie defensive end Bill Stanfill scored the Dolphins' lone touchdown on a pass interception. Stanfill grabbed a Beathard pass on Miami's 17-yard line, stiff-armed one tackler and shook off two others before lumering into the end zone with his second touchdown of the year. Karl Kremser made the conversion.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently at our son's college homecoming, he and three of his friends invited their parents out to dinner in appreciation of "all we had done for them."

The bill came to well over $60, plus tax and tip. Apparently the boys did not have enough money with them, so in order to minimize the embarrassment, my husband paid the bill with his credit card and left the tip in cash.

Our own son and one of the other boys paid us their share the next day; one other parent mailed his son's share, and the fourth will probably never pay us.

Our questions: When we see these boys again, should we bring up their inexcusable lack of preparation to pay the bill that night in order to help them avoid such situations in the future? Also, do you think my husband did the right thing in rescuing the boys the way he did? Or should he have let them solve their money problems in their own way? A MOTHER

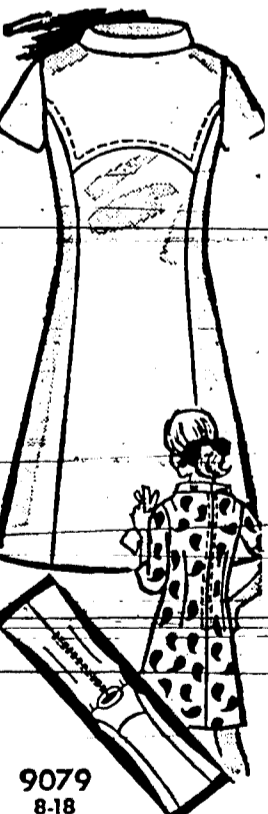

DEAR MOTHER: I think your husband did what any other father would have done in the same situation, and I don't fault him for it. (It would have taken a super-disciplinarian to witness one's son and his friends trying to scrape up enough money to pay the tab for a "parents' treat" and let them solve it in their own way.) I do think you should tell your son in no uncertain terms that he is a big boy now, and old enough to come prepared to pay his share of the check when he's a host. And as for the other boys, it's up to their parents to give them the same lecture.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 29 years old, and he decided that WASHING his hair will make his hair fall out, so will you please put something in your column to set him straight? Melvin is a very good-looking fellow, but he's got this thing about losing his hair. He won't use a hairbrush at all because every time he sees a few hairs in his hairbrush, he practically bawls. And he doesn't use a comb any more than he absolutely must.

He's a wonderful guy, but Abby, you don't know how hard it is to sleep with a man who hasn't washed his hair since last July. Help!

Perfect Dish For "Boys Night In"

Make lusty Stag Party Bean Bake for the boys night in. This is real man-style eating, a casserole reminiscent of the dishes made famous in German taverns and country inns. The casserole features dry lima beans and spicy sausages slowly cooked in canned tomato sauce with onions and craftily seasoned with beer, dry mustard and garlic.

You can use almost any kind of sausage for the casserole. Our combination of pork, smokie and Polish link sausages offers a good balance of seasonings. You might experiment with Italian or other sausage in casings or even shape bulk pork sausage into balls, brown lightly then mix carefully into the beans.

New canned tomato sauce with onions sharpens the rather bland taste of the beans and mellows the spiciness of the sausages. You'll like the full-bodied onion flavor this tomato sauce gives the casserole as well as the time and effort you save chopping onions.

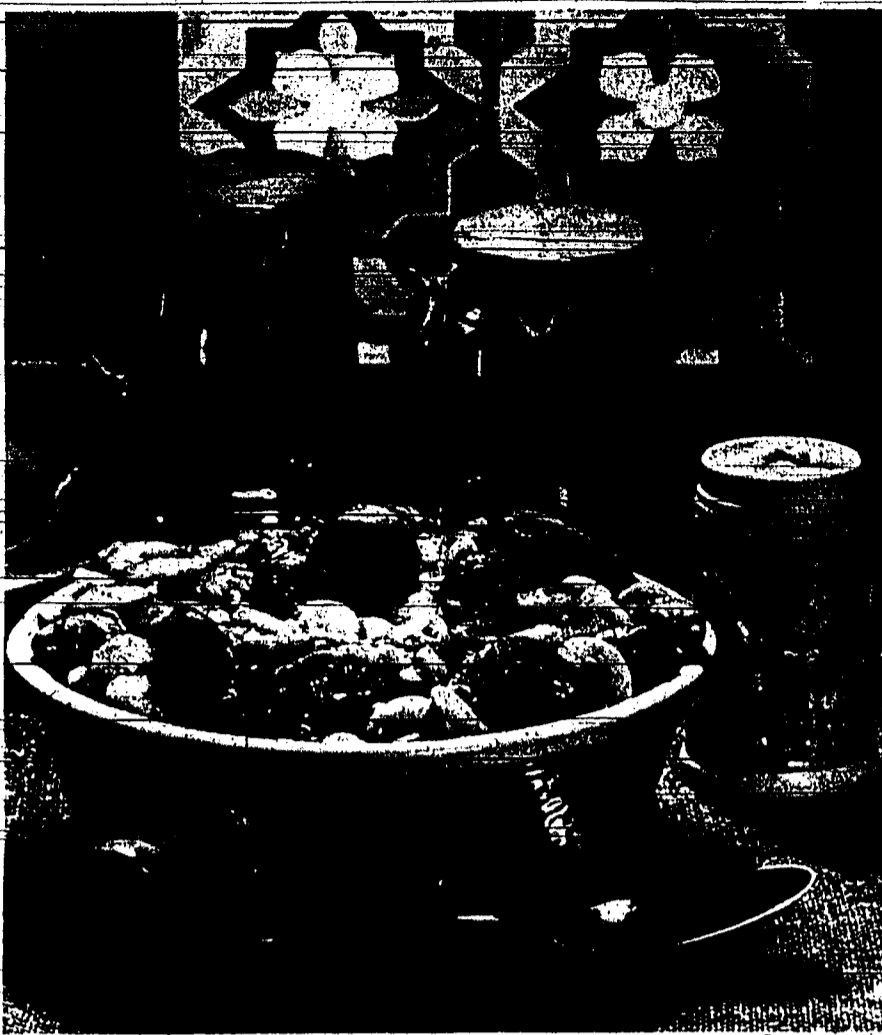

You can bake the casserole a day ahead then reheat slowly before serving, a convenience for you and a step that actually seems to improve the flavor.

Keep accompaniments simple—a slaw of red and green cabbage, pumpernickel bread, sharp German mustard and beer or cider. For dessert cut hefty servings of warm apple pie and pass sharp Cheddar cheese.

STAG PARTY BEAN BAKE

3 cups large dried lima beans
Boiling water
1 1/2 pounds mixed link sausages (pork, smokie and Polish), cut in chunks
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce with onions
1 cup beer
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cloves garlic, crushed

Rinse beans and place in Dutch oven or three-quart saucepan with oven-proof handle; cover with boiling water. Let stand, covered, one hour; stir in salt and additional boiling water, if necessary, to barely cover top of beans. Simmer uncovered, one hour. Meanwhile, in large skillet brown sausages; pour off fat. Stir in remaining ingredients; mix into beans. Bake, covered, at 275 degrees for two hours. Makes six to eight servings.

HERE'S ONE FOR the boys: Stag Party Bean Bake, a robust, stick-to-the-ribs bean and sausage casserole.

Foreign Foods Dinner Held

CASTLEFORD — The Castleford Future Homemakers of America held a Foreign Foods dinner at the school lunch rooms. Guests were their parents and the high school faculty members and their wives and husbands. Vickie Bybee was mistress of ceremonies. She welcomed the guests and prayer was given by Joy Burmaga.

The dinner was served smorgasbord style. All of the food was from authentic foreign recipes and included Spanish steak, tacos, French breads, sweet and sour cabbage and Hawaiian beans. Chinese chicken and sauerkraut salad and German chocolate cake were also prepared. Bavarian desserts were enjoyed with a Bavarian Black Forest Cherry dessert and Bavarian cream pie leading the dessert parade.

After the dinner, the FHA girls presented a program. The first skit was of a candy store and concerned a request for candy. The storekeeper did not have any candy except for three suckers. Vickie Inchausti, Barbara Conrad, Laren Graybeal, Anita Woodruff were FHA girls who took part. Members of the audience who participated were Verlin Williamson, Floyd Bowers and Ralph Hatch.

SKIT No. 2 was presented by the girls who are working on their state degrees. Jackie Allred, Linda Severa, Debbie Baughman, Lorie Sill, Vivian Allred, Tammy Keller and Sherry Pretl. This skit was a comedy bit portraying a row of Indians sitting on the floor. "It is time," the time being time to change positions. The third skit concerned the fearful coming of the viper and featured the frightened group predicting the coming of the viper. The viper was the "viper coming to wash the windows."

Women And Service Station Men Talk Different Language

One problem for a woman (through going over twice a year) getting her car serviced is that she often has trouble with the language. Servicé station men, like people in many other specialized professions, have their own way of saying things.

"You've got corrosion on your terminals." Translation: You may have trouble getting your car started unless you have the important battery connections cleaned and tightened.
