THE LYNWOOD SHOPPING Center is the location of the King store now in operation in Twin Falls. The firm has had a retail outlet in Twin Falls for the past 35 years. The second store in Twin Falls, to be located in the downtown area, will be the 27th in the organization. Nineteen of the stores are in Idaho with the original one in Burley.

King's Plans New Downtown Store

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER AND FRED DODDS Times-News Staff Writers M. H. King Co., will open a major variety-department store in the downtown Twin Falls section and officials expect retail operations to be under way in the late spring of 1970 following an extensive remodeling program. Announcement that the downtown outlet is planned — making it the second King store in Twin Falls and the 27th in the organization — was made this morning by Hermon King, president, at a press conference at the Twin Falls City Hall. The conference was hosted by the Downtown Improvement Advisory Committee, the Urban Renewal Agency and the Twin Falls Futures Unlimited organization. Mr. King, who is from Burley, where the first King store was established in 1915 by the late M. H. King, said that a company store has been located in Twin Falls for the past 35 years. Their original location here was in part of the same structure they will occupy in their latest move. The building is now occupied by F. W. Woolworth Co., which is ending a long term of business in Twin Falls. After several years in the building then known as the Harder Building, the King store occupied their own building from 1940 until 1960 when they See NEW STORE, Page 2, Col. 4

Surf Batters California Coast Areas

OXNARD, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Harry Dector and a couple of her ladyfriends were blithely playing cards Sunday when a giant wave rolled in off the Pacific and lifted their $50,000 two-story multiple dwelling several inches off its foundation. "We ran upstairs," Mrs. Dector said. "We were pretty lucky." Heavy surf, with breakers up to 24-feet high, battered Southern California coastal communities over the weekend. Four persons were killed and more than $1 million damage was reported. More high surf, spawned by a storm in the Pacific off the Washington-Oregon Coast, was forecast for today as residents in several seaside cities evacuated their beachfront homes.

Hawkish General Named To Post

By United Press International Israel added a hawkish air force general to its cabinet today, then sent its warplanes against targets in Egypt and Jordan in the almost nonstop air strikes against the two Arab states. Israel and Jordanian forces also exchanged tank and artillery fire. The new addition to the Israeli cabinet is Maj. Gen. Ezer Weismann, the man who masterminded the Israeli air force victories in the June 1967 War. He became minister of transport, a job which gives him important influence in maintaining Israeli military might.

Eisenhower Gives Views On Gun Control

By DANIEL C. RIKER BALTIMORE (UPI) — Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, who headed an 18-month study of violence in America, said today the nation eventually will have to take pistols from private citizens. Eisenhower, chairman of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, gave his personal views on gun control, the causes of violence and student unrest in an interview with United Press International for publication after the panel's final report. That report came out last weekend. He also urged a national commitment for rebuilding the nation's cities, upgrading law enforcement and criminal justice and continuing the curtailment of television violence. The violence commission was appointed by President Johnson following the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in June, 1968. The commission said "a national firearms policy which significantly reduces the availability of handguns will reduce the amount of firearms violence." Four of the 13 commission members Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., federal Judge Ernest McFarland, Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., and attorney Leon Jaworski issued a dissenting statement saying "Each state should be permitted to determine for itself without additional restrictions by the federal government the system which best meets its needs to control the use of both the hand guns and the long guns." Other factors contributing to the rising crime rate in America, Eisenhower said, are the frustration of black people, urban squalor and the effect of television on children. Eisenhower said the hopes of black people "soared very high and beyond any possibility of realization" following the passage of civil rights legislation in the late 1950s and early 1960s. He said the resulting disappointment Negroes felt when their hopes were not realized has been a major cause of today's violence. "Here, television has a great influence on their lives because the programs that they watch have been in the past literally dominated by violent incidents. I think that television today is obviously the most pervasive and probably the most influential single factor in American life. We have today a generation that has spent more time watching television than it has spent in school."

Moving on to other areas, he said "we unquestionably have to rebuild the cities and overcome the basic socioeconomic conditions that make for a high level of violence." "This is going to cost billions of dollars per year over a long period of years," Eisenhower said. "But because of the Vietnam War, other heavy costs of government and a very high tax rate, Eisenhower feels the rebuilding of the cities cannot be undertaken at this time. At the same time, Eisenhower said, improvements are needed in areas other than urban rebuilding: "We need greatly to expand the number of policemen, to get police of higher education and better training. We need more and better courts and we need better correctional institutions."

U.S. Willing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a little noticed but significant public statement, the Nixon administration has made known its willingness to renew relations with seven Arab governments who broke off diplomatic ties with the United States following the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. The statement appeared in the closing paragraphs of a major "Midyear" policy address Tuesday by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Eastern Bus Crash Claims Seven Women

GAP, Pa. (UPI)—A bus filled with party-bound women spun off a snow-slicked rural road Sunday, scattering gaily wrapped Christmas packages in a ditch and streaking the fresh snow with blood. Seven women died.

Nationwide Alert Set For Missing Girl

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—The mother's sobs tore through the public address system of the big department store. "Kristie! Kristie!" called Mrs. Mary Overton Slater for her red-haired, freckled little daughter, lost in the toy department while Christmas shopping. There was no answer. National Guardsmen, police and volunteers walked the aisles of the store, poking into corners in a search for 5-year-old Kristie Lynn Slater Saturday night. Other stores in the sprawling Eastgate Shopping Center were opened as more volunteer searchers arrived during the night and Sunday morning. Search ranks swelled to 900, but no trace of Kristie was found and by midday Sunday apprehensive police issued a nationwide alert for the missing girl, daughter of Randall Slater, owner of a bread company.

Congress Zeroes In On Big Tax, Social Security Issues

By MICHAEL L. POSNER WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress zeroed in today on its biggest tax and Social Security issues in recent years in a drive toward adjournment sometime before Christmas. A 15 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits was set for House action while House-Senate conferees tried to work out a complex, multibillion-dollar tax reform and relief measure. The boost in Social Security benefits for 25 million retirees, disabled workers, widows and children would become effective Jan. 1. The first checks reflecting the higher benefits would not show up until April because of computer programming requirements. House passage of Social Security increases could clear up a procedural problem involving the tax bill and prevent a veto threatened by President Nixon. Nixon has threatened to veto the reform measure if it upsets his budget with the Senate version of the Social Security hike, along with a costly boost from $600 to $800 in the personal exemption allowed taxpayers and dependents. House and Senate conferees were expected to compromise over the $800 personal exemption tax cut, and 5 per cent rate reductions voted in the House bill. A combination of both, to take effect after 1970, was being discussed. Besides the thorny tax cut problem, House and Senate negotiators plan lengthy sessions to resolve numerous other differences in the tax bill affecting the taxes on oil companies, foundations, stockholders, the wealthy and others. On a fiscal year basis, the Senate tax bill would add $1.7 billion in revenue this year, while the House would increase revenue by $3.8 billion. The impact of the tax cuts, however, would be felt in later years. The outcome, including what happens with Social Security, will play a key role in Nixon's anti-inflation fight and his ability to end this fiscal year, ending next June 30, with a budget in the black.

MELVIN E. LAIRD, secretary of defense, said Sunday that some infantry troops would have to remain in Vietnam even after the end of phase one of President Nixon's planned troop withdrawal, but only to protect U.S. support forces. Sec. Laird assured newsmen at a televised news conference that a breakdown in Vietnamization "will not happen." (UPI telephoto)

Nixon's Phase 2 Finished

By WALTER WHITEHEAD SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command officially announced today the completion of President Nixon's "Phase Two" withdrawal of 35,000 more men from Vietnam and said another 11,500 had left without fanfare. Headquarters gave no explanation for the departure of the additional 11,500 Americans, who were expected to be part of the "Phase Three" pullout to be announced by the President tonight. Field reports said the Saigon army bore most of the combat reported Sunday and this morning, killing 193 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in 10 fights. Government losses were described as light in the fighting, from the northern war zone to the Mekong Delta. In scattered fighting during the same period, U.S. troops reported killing at least 72 guerrilla troops. Three Americans died and 27 were wounded in both the fighting and 12 overnight sniping attacks. The Saigon government announced in addition that it now controls 92.5 per cent of the South Vietnamese population. A U.S. Marine general declared the Allies on the verge of a "tremendous breakthrough in the war." Pacification figures released this morning showed the government extended its control over 188,100 more persons during November, pushing the number of South Vietnamese under the government to 16,188,400, a figure never before reached. "We are on the verge of a tremendous breakthrough—militarily and in the areas of pacification and Vietnamization," Marine Maj. Gen. Ormand Simpson said in Da Nang. "The enemy is in very bad shape. He is desperately short of rice. He can't take and hold anything that's ours. We can deal with anything this guy wants to do." Simpson made his comments in ceremonies turning over command of the 1st Marine Division to Maj. Gen. Edwin Wheeler of Port Chester, N.Y. Field reports listed light and scattered fighting. The most significant weekend battle saw U.S. troops kill 53 North Vietnamese troops, two of them women, in fighting near the scene of the My Lai massacre. "They were all in NVA (North Vietnamese army) uniforms and they were all armed," a U.S. military spokesman said. "They hadn't just gotten together for a picnic. They shot up three of our helicopters and wounded three of our men." Two soldiers face charges for the alleged massacre at My Lai in March, 1968, when U.S. troops are reported to have killed 108 civilians.

Meeting To Discuss Tax Limitations Set

Advantages and weaknesses of House Bill 304 will be discussed Tuesday night at the Holiday Inn during a no-host dinner. Mayor Egon Kroll and open to representatives of all taxing units in the local legislative districts. Mayor Kroll has extended an invitation to mayors, county commissioners, school superintendents, legislators and IEA unit presidents of both Legislative Districts 23 and 24. and City Clerk Constance Leiser said Monday she has received confirmation from only three, John Barker and Bill Roberts, both Bull, and Ray Lincoln, Twin Falls. Mayor Kroll, in his letter of invitation, pointed out most cities are working toward home rule, which under HB-304 is not possible. Most administrators of municipalities, school districts and county officials alike feel it is a poor bill and should be revised, he said. The meeting has been called to give those most directly involved an opportunity to explain to legislators their views on the bill and suggest amendments.

Apollo 13's Rocket On Launch Pad

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Apollo 13 rocket rolled to the launch pad today to begin final testing for the March 12 launch of an expedition to the foothills of the moon's rugged highlands. Apollo 13 astronauts, James A. Lovell, Thomas K. Mattingly and Fred W. Haise were to inspect the launcher before it reached the firing pad this afternoon. The astronauts' towering Saturn 5 booster and spacecraft combination began its three and one-half mile trip from the Saturn assembly building to the ocean-side launch site at 5:55 a.m. EST. The 363-foot-tall space machine was perched upright for the trip on the back of an eight-tread tractor as big as a baseball diamond. Two dozen searchlights illuminated the black and white rocket as it left its 52-story tall hangar before dawn.

Court Rules In Housing Prejudice

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court ruled today that a recreation association which serves a housing community has no right to discriminate against Negro applicants. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White dissented from the 5-3 decision. The court in a majority opinion by Justice William O. Douglas, also held that monetary damages could be sought in court by both a Negro who was denied membership in such an association and a white man who was expelled for supporting the Negro. The court's ruling came in a case involving the unsuccessful effort of Paul E. Sullivan, a white property owner in Virginia, to assign his share in Little Hunting Park Inc. to a Negro tenant, T. R. Freeman Jr.

Soviet Aides Report On Peking Talks

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union's top two negotiators at the two-month-old Sino-Soviet border talks in Peking have returned to Moscow to report to the Kremlin today on their progress. Diplomatic sources said the men were withdrawn from Peking not only to discuss the negotiations over the troubled 5,000-mile border but also to receive new instructions. The official reason given for the return of Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili V. Kutznetsov and Maj. Gen. Vadim A. Matrosov, commander of Soviet frontier troops, was that they were to attend a session of the supreme soviet (parliament) beginning Tuesday. Peking Radio said Sunday the Chinese government had been informed by the Soviet delegates they were leaving for Moscow for the supreme Soviet session and would be gone "about one week." While the talks, which began Oct. 20, were recessed with the departure of the two top Soviet negotiators, their aides and other specialists remained in the Chinese capital, according to Moscow Radio. There have been no official reports on the talks from either Peking or Moscow. Some analysts saw the recess as an indication they were "deadlocked."

Panel Views 'Internal' U.S. Threat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence says the nation's gravest threat is not external, but internal.

"While serious external dangers remain," the commission said in its 10th and final report, "The graver threats today are internal: haphazard urbanization, racial discrimination, disfiguring of the environment, unprecedented interdependence, the dislocation of human identity and motivation created by an affluent society—all resulting in a rising tide of individual and group violence."

The commission said the nation must shift its concentration from its concentration on war, a booming economy and space to providing better homes, jobs, education and income for its citizens.

Farm Leader Cites Change In Farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The big change in farmers, Charles F. Shuman said reflectively, is that "they're more like business people now."

The evidence spilled all around him in Washington this past week as Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, presided over the group's golden anniversary convention.

The way farmers are turning their attention to affairs off the farm, Shuman said, was reflected in the wide range of subjects covered in the Farm Bureau's annual policy resolutions.

Murphy Asks 'Re-Evaluation' Of Idaho Tax Situation

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI)—Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy told newsmen that he believes there should be a re-evaluation of taxes—even a cut—if Idaho continues to pile up huge general fund surpluses.

Pointing to surpluses of more than $20 million in the past few years, Murphy said he feels there is a constitutional question about continuing to raise more revenue than needed.

He said he is convinced there will be another surplus this biennium although he is uncertain just how large it will be. At the moment, he said, he would agree with the administration figure of $3.5 million plus.

But he stressed that four or five months of a fiscal year do not serve as an accurate barometer of tax flow to the state treasury and said more time would be needed to firm up the figures.

But he added that "Idaho persists in huge surpluses there is going to have to be a re-evaluation of taxes."

"The Idaho Constitution does not contemplate surpluses in the budget," Murphy said.

Murphy, acting governor while Gov. Don Samuelson is attending the Republican governors' conference this week at Hot Springs, Ark., also told a morning news conference:

— The legislature must take a "real analytical look" at the Boise State College budget

Dress Code Is Amended In Minidoka

RUPERT—An amended dress code for Minico High School students has been adopted by Minidoka school district trustees.

The code has been read by all students and approved by the majority of them, according to Dick Schafar, student body president. Several changes were made upon suggestions of students.

Under the new code boys may not have watches and ties will have to wear socks with sandals; their hair must be trimmed over the ears and not hang more than two inches below the ears in back. Girls will be allowed to wear pant dresses and boys may wear sideburns to the bottom of the ear.

when it reconvenes Jan. 12 because it anticipated a 12 per cent enrollment increase when 27 per cent occurred.

— Perhaps Lewis-Clark Normal School also will seek supplemental funds from the forthcoming session of the legislature.

— All legislators must become involved in the budgeting process and each committee should study budgets germane to its assignment before they go to the Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee.

— Historically and basically today only 22 people are involved in the budget process," he said, referring to the joint committee.

— He will meet with the legislative leadership shortly after Jan. 1 to discuss guidelines that must be followed in the now-annual sessions of the legislature.

He said he felt perhaps annual budgeting could be accomplished at the first session of each legislature and that budget set for the second year of the biennium could be adjusted if necessary at the second session.

The code will be reviewed annually. Trustees also approved a proposal for release time for all ninth graders wishing to enroll in religious training, providing the churches can work their programs into the existing school schedule.

Opponents Of ABM System Set Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate opponents of the Safeguard antiballistic missile (ABM) system geared today for a rerun of last summer's almost-successful campaign against the controversial weapons system. A moral victory was the most they could hope for.

The new ABM battle was expected when the $68.3 billion defense appropriations bill, containing $779.4 million for Safeguard, was brought to the floor today.

Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., planned to introduce an amendment to cut out $378.5 million for deployment of the ABM, leaving $400.9 million only for research and development. Their renewed attempt to scuttle the ABM, however, bore little resemblance to the prolonged national controversy and four-week Senate debate that ended in August with approval of the ABM on a 50 to 50 tie vote.

This time ABM opponents know even if they won the ABM funds would be restored by a House-Senate conference. The House, which has already acted on the defense appropriations bill, has approved the ABM. It is virtually impossible to reverse a decision once it has been approved by one chamber and the standing committee of the other.

Nonetheless, opponents of ABM expected a close vote since only about 90 senators—10 fewer than voted in August—have been present in recent weeks.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Young Democrats Clubs of America, ignoring the pleas of the party's 1968 standard-bearers, passed a resolution over the weekend calling for immediate withdrawal of all U.S. troops and personnel from Southeast Asia.

Concluding a fiery, four-day convention, the young Democrats selected David Sternoff, a West Coast businessman who favors reform legislation, as their new president.

Sternoff, 29, Bellevue, Wash., was elected on the 10th ballot after more than 12 hours of voting at the group's biennial convention which took solid stands against some senior party policies.

Former Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, indicated before the Vietnam resolution passed that immediate withdrawal would be irresponsible if not impossible. Humphrey and Muskie were running mates for president and vice president in 1968.

Later in a speech to the group, Humphrey said "the politics of denunciation may make good headlines but they don't make good government."

Humphrey was critical of the Nixon administration for "too much talk and too little action."

In other action, the young Democrats approved resolutions:

- Called for the repeal of abortion laws because "women should have the freedom to decide whether or not to continue with a pregnancy."
- Urged presidential pardons and amnesty for all Americans who because of conscience had left the country or were in prisons as a result of opposition to the Vietnam War.
- Called for removal of all current laws punishing possession and sale of marijuana. The resolution said the abuse of marijuana should be dealt with through regulation rather than criminal penalties and favored punishment similar to those presently in force for alcohol abuse.
- Urged that all 18 year olds be given the vote.
- Supported the admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Need Cited For Special Education

BOISE (UPI)—Nearly 21,000 Idaho public school children are in need of special education attending, according to a statewide survey released by the State Department of Education.

D. F. Engelking, superintendent of public instruction, said the study identified 8,394 children with learning problems; 3,108 with speech difficulties; 1,655 with hearing problems; 1,310 with physical handicaps; 1,095 with vision problems; 4,347 with behavior disorders; and 4,960 children that were considered "academically talented."

Engelking said many school districts have demonstrated increasing concern for children with serious learning difficulties, but added that the state still lacked "adequate diagnosis and identification, quality special education personnel, proper classroom space and facilities, and an adequate budget."

Idaho's special education funding totals a little more than $1 million a year in state and county money, and about $500,000 in federal funds.

Food Stamp Bill Attacked By Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., warned today that under the Senate-passed food stamp bill even a millionaire could use government script to purchase countless nonfood items.

The bill is so broad in its coverage, Aiken said, the $2.5 billion requested by President Nixon "would not begin to do the job. Twenty-five billion dollars annually would be a more realistic estimate."

The bill passed by the Senate was a substitute proposed by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and George McGovern, D-S.D., for the food stamp bill approved by the Agriculture Committee of which Aiken is the ranking Republican.

If the bill becomes law, food stamps will "in practice" become script, supplanting currency in the purchase of literally thousands of items," Aiken said.

Aiken said the bill—now before a House committee—would not be a food bill but a broadly based welfare program providing government script for the purchase of countless nonfood items.

Net worth would not be considered in determining eligibility of an applicant and "even a millionaire could be eligible for food stamps," Aiken said.

Accreditation Withdrawal Is Requested

BOISE (UPI)—A delegation representing parents in the Bruneau-Grand View District has presented a petition asking withdrawal of accreditation of the district's high school.

The petition was delivered to Superintendent of Public Instruction D. F. Engelking. It requested the State Board of Education take action so the local school board could be ordered to pay tuition of students who wish to attend Mountain Home High School.

The petition lists several allegations of what it claims is inferior standards at the local high school.

Engelking said he would bring the matter to the attention of the state board next week at its meeting in Boise. "I'm sure the board will investigate and take whatever action is deemed necessary for the good of the school children," he said.

Boeing Says Crew Erred In Accident

RENTON, Wash. (UPI)—The Boeing Co. blames a crew miscalculation for the first in-flight accident involving the new 362-passenger 747 superjet.

The plane touched down short of the Renton Airport Saturday, knocking loose one set of landing gear, part of a wing flap and the right outside engine cowling.

No one was injured when the plane skidded 2,500 feet down the runway in a shower of sparks.

The plane was on a two-mile flight from Seattle's Boeing Field when the landing gear struck a dirt bank at the end of the 5,000-foot runway.

The accident occurred only two hours after Pan American World Airways accepted delivery of the first 747 turned over to an airline.

Smog Termed 'Silent Killer' Of Trees In Coast Forests; Many Acres Doomed

By JOHN M. LEIGHTY
BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—Smog has become a silent killer in the forests of California. More than a million trees are dead or dying from polluted air. Barring dramatic new pollution controls, the only solution seems to be the development of a smog resistant strain of trees, and despite the obvious difficulties, the U.S. Forest Service is hard at work on the task. An aerial survey conducted by the forest service in November showed 161,000 acres of conifers in various stages of decay in the southern California range. In northern California, montoring devices at Watsonville near Santa Cruz have verified that smog levels are sufficient to damage Monterey pine. There also is suspected damage to the famous trees at Torrey Pines State Park near Riverside, in Southern California.

Residents around the San Bernardino and Angeles National Forests first began noticing pine trees turning yellow in 1955. But it wasn't until 1962 that Dr. Robert V. Bega, director of forest disease research in Berkeley, discovered the cause to be smog.

Bega exposed a sample of trees to heavy doses of ozone, which produces the same effects as smog. The trees underwent the same type of "chlorotic decline" as the pines in the forests. During chlorotic decline trees gradually lose their vigor and the needles turn yellow and fall. The chlorophyll in the leaf tissue is destroyed, speeding up the aging process and weakening the trees, making them prey to forest insects, particularly bark beetles.

Chlorotic decline is progressive. In five years trees now beginning to show symptoms of light damage will turn yellow. In a few more years they will be dead.

In San Bernardino forest, 46,000 acres of pine are nearly dead, 52,000 acres are in a moderate stage of decline and 61,000 acres have begun to show symptoms.

Although other species of trees may be damaged by the present levels of smog, the pine trees, particularly the ponderosa pine, are the most susceptible.

"The trouble is being able to read symptoms," Bega said. "We have studied the pines enough to know the damage. We have to be able to learn the symptoms of other trees better before we can really say it's smog or another type of disease damaging them."

The forest service has an emergency program of tree removal and planting. The dying trees are cut to make room for the more tolerant species.

Republican Chairman Ponder Campaign; To Talk With Nix

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—

Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton announced Saturday that he will confer with President Nixon on Tuesday about whether he should run next year for the seat of Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md.

He told reporters that his decision would be disclosed at a news conference after his 10 a.m. meeting with the President. Although the circumstances indicated that he would make the race, some of his political associates firmly believed that he would seek re-election to the house and retain the party chairmanship.

Knowledgeable Maryland political observers regard Morton as the only Republican with a realistic hope to unseat Tydings. He became national chairman last April 1, succeeding Ray C. Bliss, who was nudged out by the White House.

British Royal Family Plans Tour Of World During 1970

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's royal family will make 1970 a year of world travel, including a possible trip to the United States.

In March, Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip and Princess Anne will set out on a marathon official tour which will take them right around the world. The first stop is Australia, where they will join in the centenary celebrations of Captain Cook's discovery of the continent. Then, on to New Zealand, Fiji, Tonga and the Pacific Islands.

In July, the Queen, Prince Philip, Princess Anne and Prince Charles plan a journey to Western Canada and the rugged lands of the Northwest Territory for an official tour which may take them to the United States on the way back. If plans for an American tour go through, it will be the first visit to the United States for both Princess Anne and Prince Charles. The last time the Queen visited America was in 1957.

The royal trips next year will be Princess Anne's first major overseas tours and she already is picking out a spectacular wardrobe.

Palace observers agree her lively personality will bring her success abroad. At 19, the royal debutante has frequented London's most fashionable night spots, danced along with a gyrating audience at the tribal rock musical "Hair," and kept in the mainstream of fashion with a wardrobe of mindresses and trouser suits.

Prince Charles, who came into the public spotlight with his investiture this summer as Prince of Wales, will join the royal family in their Australia-New Zealand tour during his Easter vacation from Cambridge University.

The prince, whose romantic life has been under constant scrutiny by newspapers since he became 21 in November, must be back at Cambridge by mid-April to study for final examination in June. Charles is hard at work for a Bachelor of Arts honors degree and determined finally to quell critics who complained he was not up to college standards when Cambridge accepted him three years ago.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip enjoyed almost as much publicity in 1969 as their children. Prince Philip's claim in the fall that the royal family was going in the red sparked paper headlines for weeks and debate which dominated newspaper headlines for weeks and reached all the way into parliament. Members of Parliament and newspaper editors still are talking about whether to give the queen a raise.

Latin America Chiefs Back 'Alliance'

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The 23 U.S. diplomatic chiefs in Latin America ended an unprecedented three-day meeting Saturday refusing to bury the Alliance for Progress.

Undersecretary of State Elliot L. Richardson and Charles A. Meyer, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, reaffirmed the Alliance would remain the cornerstone of President Nixon's Latin American policy.

But the officials stressed the Nixon Administration was seeking new initiatives to achieve the goals of the often criticized 8-year-old hemispheric development program.

The officials said proposed cuts in U.S. aid to Latin America, if approved, would not be felt in the hemisphere for several years. Richardson and Meyer declined detailed comment at a news conference on the substance of the meeting of the 21 ambassadors and two charges d'affaires.

Richardson called the parley "rewarding" and said such meetings may be held annually.

Richardson said the meeting at the heavily-guarded U.S. Embassy was aimed mainly at exploring methods of implementing Nixon's "action for progress" program, sketched out in a Washington speech Oct. 31.

Union Leader In Britain Vetoes Pay-Curb Policy

LONDON (UPI)—A British union leader Saturday "utterly rejected" the government's proposed income control policies and at least one member of the ruling Labor party threatened to vote against the measure Wednesday.

"The government should not be wasting its time shilly-shallying around, attempting to restrain incomes," said Alfred W. Allen, general secretary of the 311,015-member union of Shop, Distributive and Allied Workers.

"As far as the union is concerned, we are not prepared to be bound by any 4 1/2 per cent norm. We utterly reject it," said Allen, who is also a member of the Trades Union Congress General Council.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower Slams Conflict Coverage By Media

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower today criticized the news media for giving more attention to the conflicts dividing the American people than to providing information needed by citizens to overcome the nation's problems.

"My one criticism of the mass news media," Eisenhower said in an interview with United Press International, "is that for a long, long time it has given greater news value to conflict than it has to the fundamental knowledge that the people need in order to make wise, democratic decisions."

Eisenhower, chairman of the national Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, cited Vietnam, inflation, crime and the debate over national, state and local priorities as "problems of great complexity and magnitude." He said that a problem such as the control of inflation "involves dozens of things that very few people truly comprehend."

"If the citizen, who still possesses the basic power, is to help make intelligent right decisions to overcome our problems he needs more information and in greater depth than he has ever needed before," he said.

"I would therefore hope," Eisenhower said, "that more newspapers, news magazines and television would give as

Winter-Like Storm Hits Midwest Area

By United Press International

A winter-like storm spread a blanket of snow in the Northeast and Midwest today. Across the nation, a clean-up began in the wake of waves which washed across the coastal highway from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

With breakers up to 24-foot high, heavy surf battered Southern California's coastal cities during the weekend. At least four persons were killed and more than $1 million damage was reported today.

A storm in the Pacific off the Washington and Oregon coastline promised more high surf today. Residents in some seaside cities evacuated their beachfront houses.

On the Harbor Freeway in Los Angeles dense weekend fog caused a 52-car accident which closed Los Angeles International Airport and other nearby airports for at least eight hours. Some pleasure boats were grounded.

Gales and snow flurries accompanied a storm into the Great Lakes region Sunday.

Travelers warnings were in effect today over most of the Northeast, from Pennsylvania and New York into New England. Heavy snow warnings were posted for Rhode Island and parts of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Southern Maine.

At least one to three inches of new snow had fallen early today across eastern New York and Pennsylvania, into New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Farther west, rains tapered off in the Northwest today, as light sprinkles occurred just west of the Cascades and in the Northern Rockies.

Clear, dry weather continued over most of the Western half of the nation and in the South. Temperatures at 2 a.m. EST ranged from 4 below zero at Grand Forks, N.D., and Fargo, N.D., to 65 at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station in Texas.

In East-Central Missouri and throughout much of the region light rain and snow fell Sunday night and early today.

Air Force To Get First C5A This Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first C5A will be delivered to the Air Force this week unable to do any of the unique tasks its boosters claimed, a congressional critic of the giant cargo plane charged today.

Rep. William Moorhead, D-Pa., said he had obtained from the General Accounting Office a list of 25 deficiencies in the aircraft that have not yet been corrected.

Moorhead contended the operational problems with the C5A were so extensive that the transport could well become another F111, the Navy-Air Force fighter-bomber that has long been a subject of controversy.

The deficiencies in the Lockheed-produced C5A range from major difficulties which impose severe limitations on the plane's flying, landing and cargo handling ability to somewhat lesser bugs such as an inoperative autopilot and an ineffective anti-icer, Moorhead said.

The net effect, he added, was that the first of the 81 jumbo planes, scheduled for delivery Wednesday at Altus Air Force Base, Okla., cannot perform several of the unusual tasks which the Air Force touted in selling the plane to Congress.

Burglary Listed In Glens Ferry

GLENN'S FERRY — An undetermined amount of money was taken from the Starlite Lounge, owned by Bud Goodman, sometime Friday evening, according to Chief of Police Ted Murphy.

The chief said apparently someone had hidden in the back room and permitted themselves to be locked in the lounge at closing time, then departed by the rear door which Mrs. Clara Case found unlocked when she came to work in the morning.

This is the first case of robbery in Glens Ferry in about three years, when the school building and Meserle's Market were robbed.

ENTERTAINER TINY TIM and his bride-to-be, Vicky Budinger, have eyes and hands for each other during a party given by Hunting Hartford at the "Inn of the Clock" restaurant in New York Sunday. They are scheduled to be married on Johnny Carson's TV show Wednesday. Hartford gave the party to promote his new magazine, "Show."

Suspect-Informer In Tate Murders Leads Policemen Through Hollywood Hills

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two dozen policemen accompanied by Susan Atkins, a suspected-informer in the seven Sharon Tate-La Bianca slayings, scoured the Hollywood hills Sunday.

They reportedly searched for the bloody clothing discarded by the killers involved in the Tate massacre.

Authorities maintained strict secrecy about the purpose of the search but they did reveal a rusty .38 caliber pistol was found. However, police would not comment whether the gun had any connection with the case.

A spokesman at the Brand Institute where Miss Atkins, 21, is being held, conceded the girl was released to officers and that she was involved in the search. A court order signed Friday provided for the girl's removal from the prison for 12 hours.

Police also used a helicopter in their search, which lasted six hours and included 80 Explorer scouts.

"All I can say is that we are searching on the ground and in the air and it's in connection with the Sharon Tate case," Police Lt. Robert Helder said. He would not comment on what investigators were seeking, citing a court order banning

Romania's Red Leader Urges Relations With W. Germany

BUCHAREST (UPI) — Romania's Communist party leader called on his Eastern European allies today to establish diplomatic relations with the West German government of Chancellor Willy Brandt.

It marked another move toward relaxing East-West tensions since Brandt took office and announced a policy of friendship toward his Communist neighbors to the east.

Nicolae Ceausescu, in a speech published in today's newspapers, declared his full support for recent gestures of friendship with West Germany, including Bonn-Soviet talks on a nonaggression pact and Bonn-Polish moves toward diplomatic relations.

"As it is well known, Romania declared herself and is declaring herself consistently for the normalization of relations between the Socialist countries and the Federal Republic of (West) Germany," he said.

Ceausescu made his remarks last week at a meeting of the Romanian Communist party central committee. It was released Sunday for publication in today's morning newspapers.

The speech still contained the Warsaw Pact's demand that the Western nations recognize East Germany and warned of

Women's Section

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please rush me 10 "DO'S AND DON'TS" on how to get my husband back. He hasn't actually left me, he's just not here. I am 28 and Harold is 28 and he hasn't even held my hand since last June.

We have two adorable children. We had planned to have four, but if I'm going to have any more, I will have to look into artificial insemination. I've been complaining about this for a long time, but it hasn't done me much good. Harold says he's tired. (But he's not too tired to play 36 holes of golf every Sunday.)

Then it suddenly hit me. I guess I just don't appeal to him anymore. I don't know why. I'm the same girl he chased all over the campus at Nebraska U. back in 1963. I haven't let myself go to seed and I know there's nobody else. I just hate to be the aggressor, but if I wait for Harold to make the first move, nothing will ever happen. Besides, I have my pride. So please be a pal, Abby, and send me those 10 "DO'S AND DON'TS" on how to get my husband back. Thank you.

DEAR LOST: I wish there were 10 "Do's and Don'ts" on how to revive a marriage, but there aren't. Every marriage is

Today's Market And Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks declined Monday after an early technical rally evaporated. Turnover was moderate. Analysts said the market was well sold out, but there was little "incentive to buy stocks." They noted that many investors were marking time until more favorable economic news appeared.

An item which added to investors' discomfort was the National Planning Association's comment that inflation will be accompanied by rising unemployment next year. The decline also predicted a decline in real economic output at the end of this year and the beginning of 1970.

Shortly before 11:15 p.m., the UPI indicated that many stocks traded, was off 0.19 per cent. There were 1,546 issues traded; there were 670 declines and 564 advances.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which reflects movement in 30 selected blue chips, showed a loss of 2.50 at 784.19.

A three-hour turnover of 7,350,000 shares compared with 7,850,000 shares which changed hands at a comparable period on Friday.

Idaho House Has Full Slate Of Work Waiting In January

By PAUL M. QUINN
BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho House of Representatives, when the second half of the 40th session of the legislature gets underway in January, has a full slate of more than 136 bills and resolutions to consider.

The legislation, like that in the Senate, represents the "leftovers" from the first half of the session.

Some of the most controversial bills of the 40th session will face the 70 members in the House.

Like the Senate, the House bills that were not acted upon were referred back to the committee of origin and exactly how they will be handled from this point on remains to be seen.

This will undoubtedly be one of the first orders of business when the lawmakers sit down at their desks on Jan. 12.

Lt. Gov. Jack Murphy conferred this past week with House Speaker Rep. William Lanting, R-Twin Falls, as to how to treat the "leftovers."

Murphy has stated that it has not been specified as to how the bills are to be handled and said that with these organizational problems and the "tremendous backlog" he doubts if the second half will be shortened up appreciably from the near record 74 days that the first half ran.

— Require written consent of a parent or guardian at least 48 hours in advance on teaching of sex education in the school.

— Change the Department of Public Assistance into the State Board of Social and Rehabilitative Services.

— Abolish the Youth and Rehabilitation Department in the State Department of Health.

— Call for a graduated annual license tax on chain stores.

— Set up a Public Schools

Professional Practices Act.

— Regulate kindergartens.

— Repeal the annual safety inspection of motor vehicles.

— Impose a gross receipts tax upon utility corporations for the "privilege" of using state facilities.

— Appropriate $150,000 from the state liquor fund to the State Board of Health to maintain in-residence facilities for the rehabilitation of alcoholics.

— Set up the State Board of Social and Rehabilitative Services to consolidate social and rehabilitative functions in the state.

Camas Club Sponsoring Yule Contest

FAIRFIELD — A Christmas lighting contest is being sponsored in Camas County by the Camas Club. Various organizations are contributing toward the prize money.

There will be three divisions, town, country and business houses. There will be one prize for the business houses and three for the town and country.

The contest will run from Wednesday through Jan. 1 and those entering are asked to have their decorations up during that time.

The committee asks that if possible, a theme be used and carried out. Registration must be made by Wednesday at the Fairfield Drugstore.

Mrs. Wesley Fields, Mrs. Donald Ivie and Mrs. Russell Pate are handling the contest for the Camas Club. The amount of prizes will be announced later.

The lieutenant governor, also president of the Senate, has suggested that the bills resting in committee be processed as if they were new bills.

He pointed out that there has been no court declaration as to the fate of bills under the annual sessions, set up by voter action at the last general election.

Among some of the more important bills left over in the House when the first half of the session adjourned are measures that:

— Allow a general school levy in excess of 30 mills if approved by a majority of the voters.

Weber Has Only Big Sky Victory Over Weekend

By JAMES BAPIS
By United Press International

Willie Sojourner's virus may be the most sought-after infection in big sky conference basketball this season. The big Weber State center, sidelined with the flu in Thursday's loss to Southern Colorado State, returned to the lineup in impressive fashion Saturday night against West Texas State. The 6-foot-7-inch man scored 24 points and gathered in a school record 25 rebounds to lead Weber to a 97-78 victory over the Texans. He also blocked several shots and fed his teammates for a number of easy baskets. Weber, winning its third contest of the year against a pair of losses, also got 21 points from Rich Nellson and 19 from Bill Orr. It was the only victory in Saturday action by Big Sky teams. Gonzaga, Idaho State, Montana and Montana State all suffered defeats in non-league contests. Montana dropped a 106-77 decision to hot-shooting Washington State in a game played at Pullman. It was the fifth straight victory for the Cougars who shot a blistering 62 percent from the field in the first half.

The Grizzlies, dropping their third straight, were led by Willie Flowers, who had 23 points and 11 rebounds. Dennis Hogg led Washington State with 21. The Bobcats dropped a 68-68 decision to Boise State College when a last-gasp rally failed in the final seconds. The Bobcats had two chances in the closing seconds to win the game at the free throw line but Bo Clark and Mick Fullerton missed on one-and-one situations. Senior forward Don Luce was Montana State's top scorer with 14 points. At Corvallis, the Oregon State Beavers coasted to a 67-53 win over the Gonzaga Bulldogs. Vince Fritz and Vic Bartonlone combined to lead the Beavers to victory. Bartonlone pumped in 25 points to lead all scorers and had 15 rebounds. Bill Quigg led Gonzaga with 9 points. Idaho State, dropping its third straight game on a swing through the midwest, was beaten by Butler, 85-69. Three games are on Tuesday's schedule. They include Gonzaga at Seattle, Seattle Pacific at Idaho and Loyola of Los Angeles at Weber. Gonzaga meets Boise in the only contest scheduled Thursday. Highlighting the weekend action will be Montana state's participation in the Volunteer Classic at Knoxville, Tenn. The Bobcats meet host Tennessee in Friday's opening round. Idaho is at Portland State and Idaho State at Chico State for Friday games. A slim schedule of Saturday finds Gonzaga at Oregon and MSU playing its second game in the Knoxville tournament.

Malstrom Has Idaho Golf Group Post

Bill Malstrom of Boise was named executive secretary of the Idaho Golf Association Sunday by the group's Board of directors. Malstrom, a retired Air Force senior master sergeant and a bachelor, said the IGA headquarters would be located in Boise. A five-handicap golfer, Malstrom was born in Emmett and raised in Boise. He returned to Boise after retiring from the service in October. On other action the board named Lee Chatterton of Boise president to replace Joe Marmol of Idaho Falls. The other new officers are Gale Parcell, Preston, vice president, Bob Saxvik of Burley, executive vice president, Horace Howell of Pocatello, treasurer, and Dean Bent of Burley, secretary. Ray Wright, Twin Falls, was named to the board to fill a one-year term created by the resignation of Max Brown of Twin Falls.

Redskins Edge Saints 17-14, Clinch Rare Winning Season

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Charley Harraway boosted Washington to a 17-point lead with two first-half touchdowns Sunday but the Redskins had to choke off a last-ditch threat to defeat the New Orleans Saints, 17-14. The victory insured the Redskins a winning season in their first year under coach Vince Lombardi. They last finished above the .500-mark in 1955. After Harraway's scores — one on a run and one on a pass — gave Washington a 17-0 lead, rookie quarterback Edd Hargett, taking over for Bill Kilmer, marched the Saints to 58 and 97 yard scoring drives in the second half.

Raiders Lose Wells For AFL Playoffs

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Flanker Warren Wells, a speedster specializing in long touchdown passes, was lost Sunday to the Oakland Raiders for the American Football League playoffs. Wells, who scored 14 times and averaged 26.8 yards on his 47 receptions this season, suffered a shoulder separation Saturday as the Raiders defeated Kansas City, 10-6 to win the AFL Western Division title. His physician, Dr. Charles Rowe, scheduled an operation Monday at Peralta Hospital. Wells is expected to be in a cast for at least six weeks. Wells has been quarterback Daryle Lamonica's favorite target on long patterns. They set up Oakland's first score Saturday on a 73-yard bomb, the flanker's only reception of the game. Wells was hurt near the end of the third quarter when he and defender Emmitt Thomas collided in mid-air on a long pass play. "We both went for the ball, he batted it away from me, I lost my balance and landed on my right shoulder," Wells said after the game. "I don't have any pain. It just feels numb."

The first came with Don Sly bucking over from the one in the third period and the second was on Ernie Wheelright's five-yard run with 12:05 left in the final period. With 5:20 left in the game, the Saints held for downs on a fourth and inches smash to take possession on their own 30. Hargett took them to the Redskins' 43 but two of his passes were incomplete and he was knocked out of bounds when he was brought down short trying to run for a first down with 1:45 remaining. Walt Roberts' 25-yard punt returned to the New Orleans 38 set up a first-period score as Harraway ripped over from 32 yards out. Rickie Harris intercepted a Kilmer pass and raced it 47 yards to produce a 19-yard field goal by Curt Knight in the second period. Then, with 1:12 left in the half, Sonny Jurgensen hit Harraway with a 20-yard touch down pass.

Ironically, Munson was the Rams quarterback the last time they were shut out, 20-0, as they opened the 1969 season in Detroit. The game marked the first time the Lions had scored three white washings in a season since 1943. Munson, traded to the Lions from the Rams two summers, made his pass of the game good for 43 yards and a touchdown to Earl McCulloch. His fourth pass attempt of the Detroit-dominated affair went 62 yards to back Bill Triplett for another score. Mann added field goals of 38, 22, 16 and 42 yards to extend his own team record for three-pointers to 23 as Detroit clinched second place in the

DISCARD ORDER SIGNALS DEFENSE

Oswald: "Let's discuss defensive discards this week and keep the column simple."

Jim: "That doesn't follow. Defensive play is far tougher than dummy play and there is no such thing as simple defense."

Oswald: "There is if the defenders will take the trouble to review the bidding and to see just what cards declarer will be holding."

Jim: "West opens his partner's suit against three no-trump. South wins the third heart lead and discards a club from dummy. Then he runs off dummy's four diamonds and discards two of his clubs. West has to discard on the fourth diamond."

Oswald: "It's simple enough. If he throws a spade, South makes his contract. If he throws a club, South is down one."

Jim: "If West reviews the bidding he can be pretty sure that his partner holds one of the black aces and nothing else. If it is the spade-ace, then South started with a club suit headed by ace and king. If it were sure a six-card suit, South would have rebid it directly over the one heart overcall. If it were only a five-card suit, South would be down to three clubs and three club tricks wouldn't give him the contract. Not exactly simple, is it?"

Oswald: "No, it isn't. Nevertheless expert East would have told expert West which ace he held."

Jim: "That is so. An Expert East would have played the 10 of hearts first, then the jack, then the queen. A suit preference signal to show an entry in the lowest suit, clubs!"

One-Third Of 21-Year-Old Girls Have Never Kissed

ONE-THIRD of the 21-year-old girls in the world have never been kissed. A. Only Woodrow Wilson was the closest to another Jimmy Carter. A turkey has fewer calories than the dark meat right? A. Oliver, that intense lad in the "Bracken's World" series. Quite a performer. YOU KNOW THOSE elementary school students' savings accounts? Average balance is $35. IT HAS BEEN determined scientifically that approximately 10,000 minds travel every day without stopping. I can assure you... THAT MONTH of the year when your teeth are least apt to develop new cavities is August. LIERS PLUS — A pair of Italian confidence men were sentenced to prison on June 15 each to stretches totaling 7,109 years. Or so says Frank L. Forster of Santa Cruz, Cal. He keeps track of such matters. These are thought to be longest prison sentences ever imposed. THE GENTLEMEN named Mr. Nichols, who plays Santa Claus every year in Olean, N.Y., also qualifies for membership in the Proper Job Club, of course. TO GRADUATE from a certain St. Louis tonsorial school, student barbers are required to shave a lathered balloon without popping it. HOW WYN SOCK SAVED CHRISTMAS — By Paul Gringle

Test Collisions Show Driver Has Little Chance In Wreck

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—An automobile with four occupants smashed into a fully loaded school bus. The hood of the car flew into the air. The bus was shoved almost 100 feet.

But no one suffered even a scratch. Neither vehicle contained any people.

Several anthropometric dummies either lost their "lives" or sustained "serious injuries." But this happens all the time at the crash site of the University of California at Los Angeles Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering on Terminal Island.

The institute had just completed their 119th crash in a program that has been in progress since 1950. Results won't be known for a month, but some things were quite evident.

For one thing, the driver and front seat occupants of a car stand little chance of surviving a high-speed crash into a stationary object.

Also, UCLA research engineer Derwyn Severy pointed out that front-seat occupants would be safer with either a lot more or a lot less room than current models offer them.

Severy feels that today's cars give its passengers too much room to fly around inside if there is a wreck. But not enough space is allowed to avoid serious and often fatal injuries from steering posts and engine parts that are driven into the front seat by the impact of a crash.

Leisure Home Is Furnished With Beauty

NEW YORK (UPI)—You have a vacation home! Now, how do you furnish it?

Leftovers and hand-me-downs are a solution, of course—buts and pieces from your attic, your relatives' attics. Unless you are among the artistic and handy types, clever at refinishing, reupholstering and refurbishing generally, you could end up with a hideaway resembling the local thrift shop.

Another solution is "outdoor furniture," inexpensive, sturdy, colorful, easy to maintain.

There's a variety to suit any taste, from rugged redwood to sophisticated but sturdy steel mesh. On chairs and settees, cushions; mostly vinyl covered, always easy-care, provide comfort. Chaise lounges, grand for fireside—a comfortable corner or a window overlooking the view, can be folded down to use as guest beds.

There are tables and chairs in wide variety—many of them foldaway, easy to store out of the way until company calls for added facilities.

What was left of the car was another story. The front end practically disintegrated. The engine was jammed backward and the dummies went forward. Severy said he doubted the dummies in the front seat "survived" the crash.

Severy said results of the controlled crashes produce valuable information. The institute makes safety recommendations to the government and the auto industry.

Crash No. 119 was a real donnybrook. A cable device hurtled a 1967 Ford along a guiding track for 900 feet. Then the blue sedan was on its own for about 20 feet.

Close behind, also traveling at 60 miles an hour, was an older station wagon filled with electronic equipment. About 100 feet of electric wire attached to every feasible point on the test car and its dummies was coiled on the hood.

The very live driver of the station wagon slammed on the brakes. The test car streaked ahead, its electric umbilical cord snaking out behind.

Home-Buyers Use Cars To Locate New Dwellings

NEW YORK (UPI)—How do people learn about and select a new home? According to a survey by Owens Corning Fiberglas Corporation, people learn about new homes by (1) driving around, (2) through newspaper ads, (3) through friends.

The average buyer visits seven sites but many visit more than 20 before selecting their new home. Before making a final decision, the average buyer returns to his new home at least three times.

His selection was made during a joint meeting last week in Portland of the junior college group and the Northwest Regional Accrediting Association.

While at the Portland meeting, Dr. Taylor chaired two discussion sessions and made two evaluative reports on colleges in Nevada and Montana which he has visited.

Dr. Taylor Gets Post In Junior College Group

Dr. James L. Taylor, president of the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls, has been elected first vice president of the Northwest Association of Junior Colleges.

His selection was made during a joint meeting last week in Portland of the junior college group and the Northwest Regional Accrediting Association.
