WINTER HAS COME slowly, but scenically, to Wood River this year. An old cabin near the outskirts of Bellevue reposes on the partially covered snowscape as skiers and residents of the valley, whose winter livelihood depends on tourists visiting the valley, wish for snow as high as the brush. Sun Valley, to the north of Bellevue, has opened its winter season bringing an influx of celebrities, stars and vacationers into the valley.

Final Agreement Nears On Major Tax Reforms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate negotiators all but wrapped up the biggest tax reform, tax cut package in modern history today in a 17-hour session that ended at 3 a.m. EST.

The 14 conferees planned to meet again at noon EST. They said they definitely planned to finish their work today. The whole tax package would then go before both houses for a final vote, probably Monday.

Otherwise during Thursday's busy congressional session: —President Nixon threatened to veto the spending bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and related agencies because he said it would be inflationary.

—House-Senate compromises agreed to continue the war on poverty to another two years, with few changes—a victory for the Nixon administration.

—The Senate passed, 55 to 35 a foreign aid bill totaling just over $2 billion, but not including $54.5 million for a squadron of jet fighter planes as approved by the House in its $1.8 billion measure.

—Congress passed and sent to President Nixon its biggest annual money measure—appropriating $69.8 billion for military spending.

—Congress passed and sent to the White House a bill setting limits on coal dust levels in mines and providing millions of federal dollars in compensation for disabled miners.

—The House passed and sent to the Senate legislation for hiring an additional 600 policemen to help guard both the White House and foreign embassies.

—The House slashed to 30 per cent a proposed 46 per cent increase in educational benefits for veterans. The 46 per cent increase had been passed by the Senate.

—House and Senate conferees agreed to give President Nixon standby power to order controls over business and consumer credit transactions.

—The Senate, in a 52 to 37 vote, said, in effect, it does not agree with the Nixon administration's "Philadelphia plan" for bringing more Negroes into federally contracted construction projects.

Cost Of Living Jumps During November

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The cost of living jumped one half of one per cent in November, led by such basic items as food, clothing and home ownership, the Labor Department reported today.

The consumer price index advanced to 130.5 of the 1957-59 base period, an increase of 5.8 per cent over November, 1968.

The index means it cost $13.05 to purchase goods worth $10 about 10 years ago. The November-to-November increase between 1967 and 1968 was 4.8 per cent.

Senate leaders said they felt they should honor Nixon's request on the measure which is the second largest annual money bill outside the military appropriations package.

The 5.8 per cent rise between November, 1968, and last month was the sharpest for such a period since 1951.

The cost of living usually drops slightly in November so the month's increase, computed on an annual basis and including a seasonal adjustment was 7.2 per cent, the biggest rise since June.

The Nixon administration's inflation watchers have pointed to a slowdown in the rate of cost of living increases since mid-year as evidence that its policies to cool the economy were beginning to work.

The cost of food increased 0.7 per cent last month, pushed up by salad bowl items like lettuce, up 33.5 per cent; tomatoes, up 23.3 per cent, and green beans up 33.6 per cent. Eggs increased 6.8 per cent.

The cost of clothing increased 0.7 per cent while home ownership services such as interest rates, property taxes and insurance increased 0.6 per cent.

U.S. May Lift Embargo On Trade With Red China

By NICHOLAS DANILOFF

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The United States is close to a decision to lift partially the 18-year U.S. trade embargo with mainland China, informed sources said today.

The sources said the Nixon administration is planning an announcement shortly. The action would allow foreign subsidiaries of U.S. companies to trade with Peking.

Officially, the State Department declined comment.

The embargo went into effect in 1950 and is controlled by the foreign assets control regulation administered by the Treasury Department.

Under the anticipated decision, trade between subsidiaries of U.S. companies abroad and Peking would be in nonstrategic items. Peking would be able to buy trucks, razor blades and other items not considered of strategic defense importance.

The expected decision appeared to be in line with a statement by Secretary of State William P. Rogers Nov. 18.

Rogers said: "We would like to have more travel between the two nations (the United States and Mainland China) . . . better communications and trade relations, to some degree at least."

The move also supplemented the administration's announcement in July that U.S. tourists would be allowed to bring back $100 worth of Chinese manufactured goods.

It is expected in diplomatic circles after a lapse of two years Peking will agree soon to resume ambassadorial conversations with the United States. These talks, which were begun in 1955, have been carried out in Warsaw, Poland in recent years.

Whether China would respond to the relaxation in the trade embargo was a question. It was expected at first Peking would probably scorn the move, but after weeks or months might show some interest.

Probe Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced today that the Justice Department and a special federal grand jury would investigate the Dec. 4 shootout in Chicago between police and members of the Black Panther party.

Mitchell said a special team of attorneys and the grand jury "will seek to establish the true facts regarding the violence that has occurred between police and Black Panther party members . . . and hopefully will put an end to the rumors and speculation that has surrounded this incident."

Reds Renew Attacks On Saigon Port

SAIGON (UPI) —The Viet Cong shelled Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport for the first time in six months, today and announced cease-fires with certain unnamed units in three South Vietnamese divisions.

Four long-range rockets hit a housing project for families of government soldiers at Tan Son Nhut at 3 a.m., killing one civilian and wounding five. It was the second shelling of the Saigon area in three days.

Ground fighting was reported light across the battlefield.

Negroes Demand 20 Per Cent Of Fund Collection

BOSTON (UPI) —About two dozen blacks entered the Massachusetts Bay United Fund Awards Luncheon Thursday and demanded 20 per cent of the fund's annual collections. They dumped luncheon scraps on the head table.

Melvin King and James Bishop of the New Urban League of Greater Boston led the group into the Statler Hilton ballroom through a maze of tables seating more than 1,000 persons.

"We want no part of this white racist approach," King said. "All you give us is crumbs." His followers gathered up luncheon scraps from the tables in a large bag, which King then dumped on the head table.

Bear Funds Voted

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Appropriations Committee Thursday approved a request by Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., for a $20-million supplemental appropriation for management of bears in Yellowstone National Park.

Arabian Leaders Convene 'Summit'

RABAT, Morocco (UPI) —Troops armed with machine guns stood guard today around Rabat's Hilton Hotel, where leaders gathered for the Arab world's first summit meeting since 1967.

Arab sources said they were confident the three-day summit beginning Saturday would result in new determination to unite Arab nations against Israel despite internal Arab quarrels.

Analysts considered it unlikely the meeting would result in specific battle plans. Instead, they expected the participants to concentrate on the mobilization, organization and financing of any coming battle.

Morocco ordered 10,000 plain clothes security men and thousands of troops and police into Rabat to guard the 17 kings, princes and heads of state and three delegation leaders attending the conference.

The first to arrive in this capital of 450,000 Thursday was Jordan's King Hussein. He was greeted by host King Hassan II at Bab-el-Salaam (Gate of Peace) Airport, 10 miles outside the city.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and King Faisal of Saudi Arabia were to arrive Saturday. They have been holding last-minute private meetings in Cairo prior to the summit.

Also among those coming Saturday was Palestine guerrilla leader Yassin Arafat, who urged last week the summit be turned into a "war council." He was expected to advocate increased Arab militancy.

Heads of state not attending are the presidents of Syria and Iraq—but they agreed to send representatives. Ailing Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba sent a personal envoy.

U. S. Plane Is Reported Missing

TAIPEI (UPI) —A U.S. Air Force KC135 tanker plane is missing in the Formosa Strait today, Chinese air force sources reported.

The sources said they were informed by the U.S. Air Force that the plane lost contact with Ching Chuan Kang Air Base in central Taiwan at 8 a.m. EST.

Chinese sources said the plane was on a training mission in the area between Taiwan and Communist China, together with two other tankers.

Draft Board Is Moving Office Here

The Twin Falls Selective Service office will move to 340 Blue Lakes Blvd. N. on Monday, according to Mrs. Faye Hoffman, secretary of the board.

They will move into the new building of Globe Realty and open there Tuesday.

The office has been located in the Idaho Theatre building for approximately 17 years. Prior to that it was in the Fidelity Bank basement for six years and in the Woolworth building.

It became necessary for the Selective Service Board to find new quarters when the Idaho Theatre building was purchased by Urban Renewal.

F. V. Morrison, Murtaugh, is chairman of the board. He has served with the group for 21 years.

SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Office Open

Since the real property tax deadline comes on Saturday this year the Twin Falls County treasurer's office will be open all day.

Ruth Jones, treasurer, said the hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. To date $2,355,751 has been collected, leaving nearly $2,600,000 yet to collect.

Mrs. Jones said payments have been very slow this year and added Saturday is the last day to pay the tax payments and escape penalty and interest charges.

The office is located on the second floor of the courthouse.

U. S., Soviets Announce Secret Pact

HELSINKI (UPI) —The United States and Soviet Union have drawn up a secret protocol for next year's negotiations on limiting nuclear weapons, it was authoritatively stated today.

The unique document summarizes respective positions on negotiable strategic weapons systems as outlined and defined in five weeks of preliminary talks in Helsinki.

It will be used as a basic working paper when concrete limitation bargaining begins next year, probably in late February or March.

Meticulous care was taken in drafting the highly-classified protocol because it represents a landmark signed record of the preliminary discussions.

This explains why the initial talks have lasted longer than expected. They are now due to wind up next Monday or Tuesday, a week to 10 days beyond original estimates.

The aim of the preliminary talks was to search for common ground on which to base actual negotiations. But a formal protocol had not been predicted.

Hunting Dogs Are Poisoned Near Filer

Ora Lee Medlock, who resides four and one-half miles west of Jordan's Corner near Filer, told officers Friday six of his coon and bear hounds were poisoned this week.

Sheriff's officers said Mr. Medlock reported the first dog died Tuesday, and on Wednesday five more died. An autopsy performed by the Twin Falls Veterinarian Hospital indicated two of the animals, at least, had died of poison.

Mr. Medlock said his son recalled seeing one of the dogs eating on what appeared to be a piece of raw meat near the canal bank. Mr. Medlock said the dogs, all hunting hounds, represent a loss of at least $500.

Addonizio Declares Innocence

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) —Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio and reputed Mafia lieutenant Anthony "Tony boy" Bolardo pleaded innocent in federal court today to charges of extortion, tax evasion and conspiracy.

The two-term Democratic mayor and Bolardo were among 15 persons indicted Wednesday in combined federal state and county investigation of organized crime and official corruption in the state.

"Not guilty," Addonizio said as he stood before Judge James S. Coolahan in the jammed, third floor courtroom.

Bolardo stood silent and let his attorney enter the innocent plea for him.

Bolardo had been hunted by federal agents from Las Vegas to Florida for more than a week to serve him with a subpoena to appear before one of three federal grand juries involved in the massive investigation and crackdown on organized crime.

Appeal Issued

NEW YORK (UPI) — Willie "The Actor" Sutton's attorney appealed to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Thursday to overrule the "death sentence" she said the parole board has imposed on her ailing client.

Dangerous?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Attorney Donald A. Zelinek has written to 30 radio and television stations demanding equal time to oppose Army recruiting messages.

Zelinek noted the radio and television industry was persuaded to carry anti-smoking messages to counter cigarette advertising and contended that serving in the Army is as dangerous as smoking.

British Abolish Capital Punishment

LONDON (UPI) —Since the 12th century regime of King Henry II, the gallows has awaited British murderers. Until 1868, convicted slayers were hanged in public and their bodies often left on display as a warning to would-be criminals.

The British abolished capital punishment Thursday in a nearly unanimous House of Lords vote that brought cheers from a packed visitors gallery and shook the august decorum of the chamber.

The lords vote followed approval by the House of Commons and made permanent a five-year trial suspension of the death penalty.

By a vote of 220-174 the lords defeated an amendment to extend until 1972 the suspension of the government resolution permanently abolishing capital punishment.

The gallows in Wandsworth Prison in London will be the only one in Britain left standing. Treason, piracy, arson of government dockyards and mutiny are technically still punishable by hanging.

No one has been hanged in peacetime in Britain since 1861 for crimes other than murder.

Most of the nation's police had opposed abolition of the death penalty.

"I hope the people who have taken this decision will not live to regret it in terms of lost lives, particularly insofar as prison and police officers are concerned," said Fred Castlet, general secretary of the Prison Officers' Association.

Most of Western Europe had already abolished the death penalty. In the United States, 13 states abolished the death penalty.

Industrial Board Picks Harold Hove

Those elected to the board for three-year terms were Howard Allen, Mr. Barry and Mr. Frrazier. Carry-over directors are Earl Haroldson, Mr. Hove, Mr. Rostrom, Mike Gray, Dick Wheeler and C. E. Wadsworth.

A resume of the past year's activities was given by Mr. Hove.

Steel Producer Says Prices To Increase Again

NEW YORK (UPI) —The head of the nation's largest steel producer says steel users can expect rising prices again next year to meet increased labor costs.

"You can't have wage increases and not have price increases. It's not in the books," said Edwin H. Gott, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

Gott cited Thursday up to a 5 per cent increase in labor costs which steelmakers will be paying next August under the third step of their contract with the United Steelworkers of America.

Congressional Conferees Agree On Extension Of OEO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House and Senate conferees Thursday night agreed on a compromise antipoverty bill extending Office of Economic Opportunity programs until July 1, 1971 at a cost of $4.2 billion.

The conferees also voted to delete the so-called "Murphy Amendment" from the controversial bill for the controversial community action programs project guaranteeing continuation of this major OEO function.

The amendment by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., would have given governors absolute veto power over legal services programs which provide free legal help to the poor.

The compromise measure would authorize $2.19 billion for the current 1970 fiscal year and $2.8 billion for second year. President Nixon had requested $2.4 billion for the current year and no set amount for 1971.

Conferees also voted to require OEO Director Donald Rumsfeld to set aside $25 million a year for "local initiative funding" for community action programs. This money could not be siphoned off to other OEO programs.

Funds were also allocated for such OEO programs as head-start, legal services, family planning and emergency food and assistance.

House conferees accepted a new program, already in the Senate measure, for alcohol counseling and recovery. Both bills added a new program for drug rehabilitation.

Area Ski Lifts To Operate Despite Scarcity Of Snow

With one exception, all ski lifts in the area will be running this weekend, despite the fact that most areas still can use additional snow.

Skiing generally should be good in most areas, according to reports from the Sawtooth National Forest Service in Twin Falls. The only area not opening this weekend will be Rotarun at Halley, where there is not sufficient snow to cover runs. Snowmobiling also is not open in the Halley, Ketchum and Sun Valley areas.

Soldier Mountain, at Fairfield, will open on Sunday with runs well packed and skiing good. The area has about 12 inches of snow and roads to Soldier Mountain are good. Snowmobiling is available in that area on back country roads. All other areas will be open Saturday and Sunday.

Heaviest snow is reported at Pomeroy where resort operators list 30 to 34 inches of snow. Runs are well packed and roads are good except that snow tires or chains are recommended.

Sun Valley lists 12 inches on top of Bald Mountain, 11 inches at the roundhouse and skiing good. Ridge, College and River runs are open on Bald Mountain and runs are also open on Dollar Mountain. Roads to the resort are good.

Magic Mountain lists snow at 12 inches at the lodge and 24 inches on top of the ski runs. All lifts and other facilities will be in operation, and skiing on Magic Mountain will include the upper face and Gulch runs, while all runs on Pike Mountain are in excellent condition. All runs have been recently packed. Snow tires are recommended.

Snowmobiling is available on the lower slopes of the mountain above the ski lodge and on the lower slopes of the mountain.

Hayakawa Cracks Down On Black Studies Department, Fires 10 Student Aides

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College fired 10 student aides Thursday in a crackdown on the school's rebellious black studies department.

He said the department had become "a training ground for revolution."

Hayakawa said he was cutting the students off the payroll in an effort to bring the department back into the control of the college administration. He said the salaries of the 18 faculty members would be continued for the present, but might have to be withdrawn. "We cannot continue as we have in the past with the department operating almost entirely without supervision," Hayakawa said at a news conference.

Urban Whitaker, dean of ethnic studies at the college, said the faculty of the department which he is supposed to supervise has refused even to meet him. He said he cannot even find out how many students are enrolled.

As nearly as he can figure, Whitaker said, there are about 460 students enrolled for one or more courses in the department. He does not know how many of them are blacks.

GI Serving In Vietnam Writes Santa Satirical Note About Getting Anti-War Demonstrator For Christmas

HAYDENVILLE, Ohio (UPI) — Spec. Clifford J. Klinebriell, on duty in Vietnam, South Vietnam, wrote a letter recently to his parents here to let them know he has received a special present from Santa Claus and that other members of Co. B, 111 Infantry, want similar presents.

"You can imagine the joy on my face," said Klinebriell in a letter written in a sarcastic vein to Santa Claus. "When I opened your gift and found the one thing I want most in the world—an anti-Vietnam war demonstrator."

Klinebriell, 18, is one of four brothers who have enlisted after turning 17. He is the second member of the family assigned to duty in Vietnam and the letter was written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Klinebriell. "At least I'll have something all mine, to share my excitement and experiences with, and Santa, I promise I'll take special care of him," the letter read.

Mine Workers' Bill Supported By Union Boss

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon vetoes the toughest coal mine health and safety bill in the nation's history. It will mean that "sick coal miners are being thrown on the industrial scrap heap," the president of the United Mine Workers Union said Thursday.

W. A. "Tony" Boyle, sent a telegram to the president urging him to sign the bill passed by the House Wednesday.

"Since he likes to protest so much, the next time one of our patrols is attacked by the Cong, I'll even let him run to the front to tell them how he loves them and wants to help them."

Klinebriell, who will turn 19 in January, ended the letter to Santa "with a New Year's request. Do you think you could send all my buddies a demonstrator of their own?"

Protests Ebb

The mid-December peace demonstrations resembled very little the massive anti-war rallies of mid-November, which may well go down as the high water mark of the effort to dictate national policy from the streets.

Undoubtedly, the forthright words of Vice President Agnew and the ensuing support for the administration took a lot of wind out of the sails of ringleading dissidents who thought they could start a stampede that would sweep everything before it.

No wonder the North Vietnam Reds praised the protesters. But the hand-rubbing glee with which Hanoi greeted the anti-war parades served as a counter-irritant to many quiet Americans. Anything so welcomed by the enemy could not be healthy for us.

The prompt change in the draft law, although perhaps leaving much to be desired, nevertheless did serve to bring home to conscientious students that they are being heard. With further study of the draft and possibly new legislation coming next year, the business of getting on with their work took natural precedence with the great majority of students. Black Panthers and their cohorts, in the wake of arms raids by Chicago and Los Angeles police, screamed "murder" and even "genocide" while ignoring the cache of weapons accumulated by the Black Panthers which gave weight to their repeated threats.

While the professional trouble-makers got most of the publicity with their wild charges of "police suppression," there were some sober leaders in the black community who praised the work of the police as essential to peace and security.

Peaceful dissent is a horse of an entirely different color from brandishing guns and shouting for the overthrow of the government.

Spokesmen for the Black Panthers had no hesitation in calling two deaths in the Chicago shootout police murders and in calling for Congressional investigation.

We agree there should be Congressional investigations, not because the Black Panthers want it in Chicago and Los Angeles, but because the truth needs to be told and the wild charges of suppression, murder and suppression laid to rest or proved.

No more than peace can be negotiated by street mobs can civil fights be won by the anarchy of gangsterism.

Smart Pills

Students of the future who talk about taking their smart pills before going to school may not be kidding. Cellular biology is blazing a trail now which is leading directly toward chemicals to make a person smarter.

The idea is still little more than just that in the minds of some scientists. Practical applications of it are still a long way off.

But some experiments with animals have given cause to hope it is not impossible to transfer knowledge between individuals through resort to an injection, or to strengthen weak cellular structures by chemical treatment.

What it all may mean some day is that the human brain could become as complete a storage tank as any computer. Knowledge gathered from the past could be added to the present and passed on to future generations, chemically. Mental illnesses and retardation could be treated in the same way.

Right out of science fiction, the concept is fascinating. The fact the first steps already have been taken to bring it about, in both animal experiments and in some elemental illness treatments, brings the concept of cellular manipulation out of the world of fantasy.

MR. SPECTATOR

The Meanest Mother

Many of the readers of Mr. Spectator will remember Dr. E. J. Miller.

Dr. Miller practiced in Twin Falls for 15 years — from 1937 to 1952. He still has a "hand" in the community, being owner of the Miller Apartments across from Sears.

Dr. Miller now lives in Nampa (his mailing address is P.O. Box 434) and he wrote Mr. Spectator a note the other day. Along with the note he sent long a copy of an article which he had recently read and which was entitled "The Meanest Mother In The World."

"I thought your readers would be interested in the article and I would like to share it with them," he wrote.

And so Mr. Spectator passes it on: "I had the meanest mother in the whole world. While other kids ate candy for breakfast, I had to have cereal, eggs or toast. When others had cake and candy for lunch, I had to have a sandwich. And, as you can guess, my supper was different from the other kids, too. My sister and brothers had the same mean mother as I did.

"My mother insisted upon knowing where we kids were at all times. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were, and what we were doing. She insisted, if we said we'd be gone an hour that we be gone an hour or less; not one hour and one minute. I am really ashamed to admit it, but she actually struck us, not once, but each time we did as we pleased. Can you imagine someone actually hitting a child just because he disobeyed? Now you can begin to see how mean she really was.

"The worst is yet to come; we had to be in bed by nine each night, and up early the next morning. We couldn't sleep till noon like our friends. So, while they slept, my mother actually had the nerve to break the child-labor law. She made us work. We had to wash dishes, make beds, learn to cook, and all sorts of cruel things I believe she laid awake at night thinking up mean things to do to us. She always insisted upon our telling the truth, even if it killed us, and it nearly did.

"By the time we were teen-agers, she was much wiser, and our life became even more unbearable.

None of this tooting the horn of a car in front of the house for us to come running. She embarrassed us to no end by making dates and friends come to the door to get us. I forgot to mention, while my friends were dating at the "mature" age of 12 and 13, my old fashioned mother refused to let us date until the age of 15 and 18. Fifteen, that is, if you dated, only to go to school functions, and that was twice a year.

"My mother was a complete failure as a mother. None of us has been arrested for beating his mate. Each of my brothers served his time in the service of his country. And whom do we have to blame for the terrible way we turned out? You are right, our mean mother.

"Look at the things we missed — we never got to march in a protest parade; or take part in a riot; burn draft cards; and a million and one things we missed, that our friends did.

"She forced us to grow into God-fearing, educated, honest adults. Using this as a background, I am trying hard to raise my three children. I stand a little taller and I am filled with pride when my children call me "MEAN." Because you see, I thank God, He gave me the "MEANEST" mother in the whole world. — Author unknown

WASHINGTON — Although most professional politicians have ruled him out of the 1970 campaign picture in California, President S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College is now leaning toward seeking the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

In private conversations with friends, Dr. Hayakawa has expressed increasing interest in the seat now held by Republican Sen. George Murphy, in one confidential chat with Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco (who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor). Hayakawa was positive in his desire to make the race.

In fact, Hayakawa's senatorial ambitions have gone to the point that an emissary has recently sounded out professional campaign techniques — about working in a possible Hayakawa-for-Senator campaign.

If he does run, Hayakawa would be a strong favorite because of the popular acclaim for his courageous handling of student and faculty revolutionaries at San Francisco State. Despite opposition from the left fringe of the party, he would be a near certainty for the Democratic nomination and a strong favorite against Murphy.

Earlier this year, California Democratic leaders were hoping Hayakawa would run against one of two right-wing Republicans — Gov. Ronald Reagan or State School Supt. Maxwell Rafferty. But Hayakawa has no intention of opposing Reagan (whom he admires) and would regard the state school job as a long step down from his present college presidency.

A footnote: If Hayakawa runs and is nominated, Sen. Murphy's present words may haunt him. In his current speeches, Murphy invariably lavishes praise on Hayakawa for his handling of the San Francisco State crisis. Just as invariably, the mention draws heavy applause.

The Soviet Union has by no means abandoned its old trick of trying to undermine the Western position in the Middle East through black propaganda — most recently in oil-rich, politically troubled Libya.

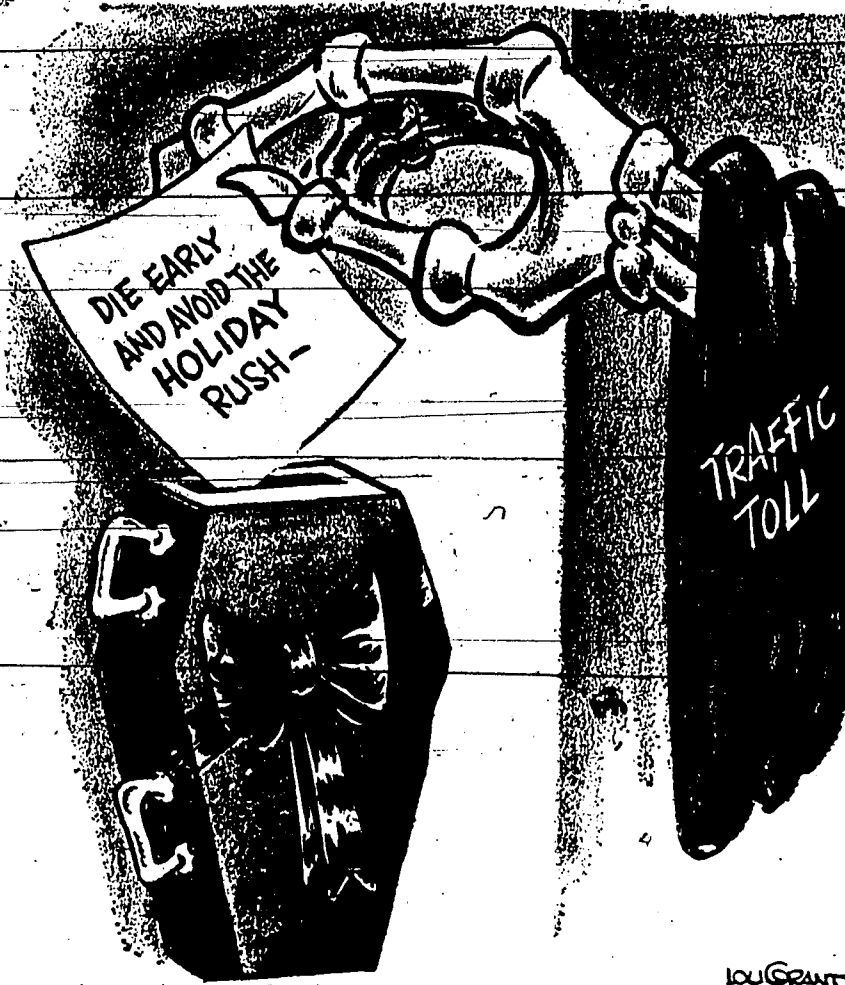

Within the past few weeks, wild rumors — totally absurd and without the slightest foundation in fact — have been passing through the diplomatic community in Washington and Western-European capitals. The essence of the rumors: the West plans a military strike, with both aid and paratroops, against Libya to dislodge the new and beleaguered government there instituted by a coup of nationalist young officers.

In its most common form the rumor has the British intervening militarily in Libya to save its financial interests. A less common version has the U.S. attacking to keep its use of Wheelus Air Base, about to be terminated by the nationalists now in power.

Since both versions are absolute fabrications, where did the rumor begin? Neutral diplomatic sources have looked into the stories and are convinced that the source is the Soviet Union. The Russian motivation: to convince the naive, inexperienced young officers who overthrew King Idris last summer that the Anglo-Americans are their enemies and the Russians are their friends, building the basis for a Soviet foothold in Libya.

President Nixon made no effort to conceal his fury from White House aides when he first

Demos Are All Stirred Up

WASHINGTON — Knife throwing has developed over the prostrate body of the national Democratic Party as a result of attempts to organize a "Citizens for McGovern Committee" looking toward the 1972 Presidential election.

Ordinarily, it would be considered early days for any serious discussion of the Democratic nomination. But the frankly admitted Presidential ambitions of Sen. George McGovern, the South Dakota liberal, have stirred up the party chieftains — and especially those who picked up the banners of the fallen John and Robert Kennedy.

Put bluntly, the Kennedy people at this stage regard George McGovern as a would-be usurper. None of those who count will have anything to do with the proposed citizens committee. Their excuse, for publication, is that the organization of such a committee would be premature. The real explanation is that there are others in the Kennedy wing who have Presidential presumptions — not excluding Sen. Teddy Kennedy.

Privately, Teddy has not finally disavowed making the White House race in '72. Meanwhile, he is not enamored by McGovern's ambitions, and has made this clear to the Kennedy wing. Teddy wants time to think without the distraction of an early announced McGovern candidacy which might build up enough steam in the next two years to make the South Dakota unstopable at convention time.

There are others now committed to Teddy who reject McGovern as an alternative should Teddy decide not to run. Among them are Arthur Goldberg, former Supreme Court justice and former United Nations Ambassador, and Ted Sorensen, one-time eminence grise in the John Kennedy White House. Another is Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, widow of the slain Bobby, who has considerable influence within the political hierarchy.

Goldberg's case is particularly interesting. He is being suggested by one liberal Democratic group, including former Ambassador Averell Harriman, as a Presidential candidate who would appeal to liberals of both parties. Goldberg isn't talking, but he hasn't rejected the idea.

There is also the New York clique which is talking up Mayor John Lindsay, the part-time Republican who very well may decide to join the Democratic Party. And a new dark horse is Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who led the fight to defeat Judge Clement Haynsworth's Supreme Court nomination and who as a result has been urged by another liberal group to make the race. None of the supporters of these men will join the McGovern organization except at the political point of a gun. Nor will those who support what might be called the old-time, original candidates — former Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, and Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin. One Democratic chieftain has described the reaction of supporters of all these potential candidates to McGovern's early move as "infuriated."

Except that politics is such a throat-cutting game, this anti-McGovern attitude would be considered most curious. He announced his candidacy for the 1968 nomination after Bobby Kennedy's assassination as a man deeply committed to Bobby's policies, and a flock of Kennedy supporters rallied to his side.

But that was 1968, and the Kennedy people had no alternative after Teddy refused to enter the lists. Today the role of leader of the party, Presidential division, is up for grabs, with plenty of time for maneuvering. The rest of the party, and especially the hyper-sensitive Kennedy organization, understandably is boiling mad that George McGovern should even consider helping himself to a head start.

George C. Thosteson, M.D. Aspirin Itch

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Whenever I take aspirin I break out in blotches on my hands, my hands swell, and I itch all over. What if anything can I take for a headache? Anything I can buy at a drug store? — Mrs. R.J. Aspirin can be taken with as little trouble—for most people—as anything you can think of, but it does bother some. Fortunately few are as sensitive as you are.

Most of the pain relievers available without prescription contain aspirin, often with other things (including caffeine) added.

The best suggestion I have is to avoid any of the drugs of the salicylate family, of which aspirin is one (acetyl salicylic acid).

Try acetaminophen, which is a pain reliever of quite different chemical composition. At least two preparations containing it are Tympa and Tylenol.

Acetaminophen also is available in combination with caffeine, which can be useful as caffeine is an effective adjunct in controlling headaches.

Memorize the name, acetaminophen, and be sure that preparations you buy contain it and not acetyl salicylic acid.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is "tinnitus"? Is it an infection requiring treatment by an ear doctor? Does it affect the hearing, cause dizziness or unsteadiness? Is it like Meniere's disease? — E.D.

Tinnitus is from the Latin term meaning "ringing," as in ringing, clicking, buzzing, hissing, or other odd ear noises.

Infection is only one cause of it. There are several (drug sensitivity, too much salt, high blood pressure, etc.).

Tinnitus, a common nuisance, doesn't cause hearing loss, nor dizziness, nor Meniere's disease, although all of these may at times occur in combination. If it's just the tinnitus that bothers you, you'll find it covered in my booklet, "Ear Noises, Their Causes and Cures." Send 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper for a copy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I know this has been in your column before, but please answer again. How long after cessation of menstruation can a woman become pregnant? — F.S.

It is generally agreed that one year allows a margin of safety.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne—The Teen-Age Problem." Please enclose a long self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

RAY CROMLEY

Viet Schools

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some time back this reporter rode from Saigon to Can Tho with a remarkable man, intelligent, dedicated and resolute. He was the Saigon government's head of education for all of southern Vietnam — something over 30 per cent of the nation — and he was determined that somehow and some way every child would be educated despite the war and the lack of money and teachers.

He had left his wife behind in Saigon when moving to Can Tho because (although he was a high official in the education department) she had to stay at home where she had a job in order that the family would have enough money to support itself.

Some teachers in South Vietnam have been known to moonlight as bar girls—for 10 to 15 times what a teacher is paid.)

Yet with all this, the poverty, the war, the below-living wages, the corruption and the harassment of the Viet Cong, the South Vietnamese, with American aid, have wrought a miracle in education the past 15 years.

This very real miracle, almost unnoticed in the United States because it has been overshadowed by the shooting war, will have a deep and profound impact on how the war ends, how South Vietnam is governed and who does the governing.

In 1954, when the government of South Vietnam was set up, less than 16 per cent of its children, aged six to 10, were in school and less than 3 per cent of its children 11 to 17. The average South Vietnamese had less than three years of schooling. Many had none. Many dropped out to work after two.

Total school attendance in the first five elementary grades was 400,000. There were 53,000 in middle and high school. The university population was 2,900.

This past school year there were 2.1 million students in the first five years of school, five times as many as 14 years ago. Eighty per cent of all South Vietnamese children of primary age were in attendance. (Though figures are not available here, it is understood that the 1969-70 school year figure will come out at around 85 per cent.)

This past year there were 543,000 students in middle and high school, 10 times the 1954-55 figure.

Today there are 40,000 university students, 14 times as many as 14 years ago.

U.S. aid has built thousands of new schools, trained teachers, and supplied 18 million textbooks.

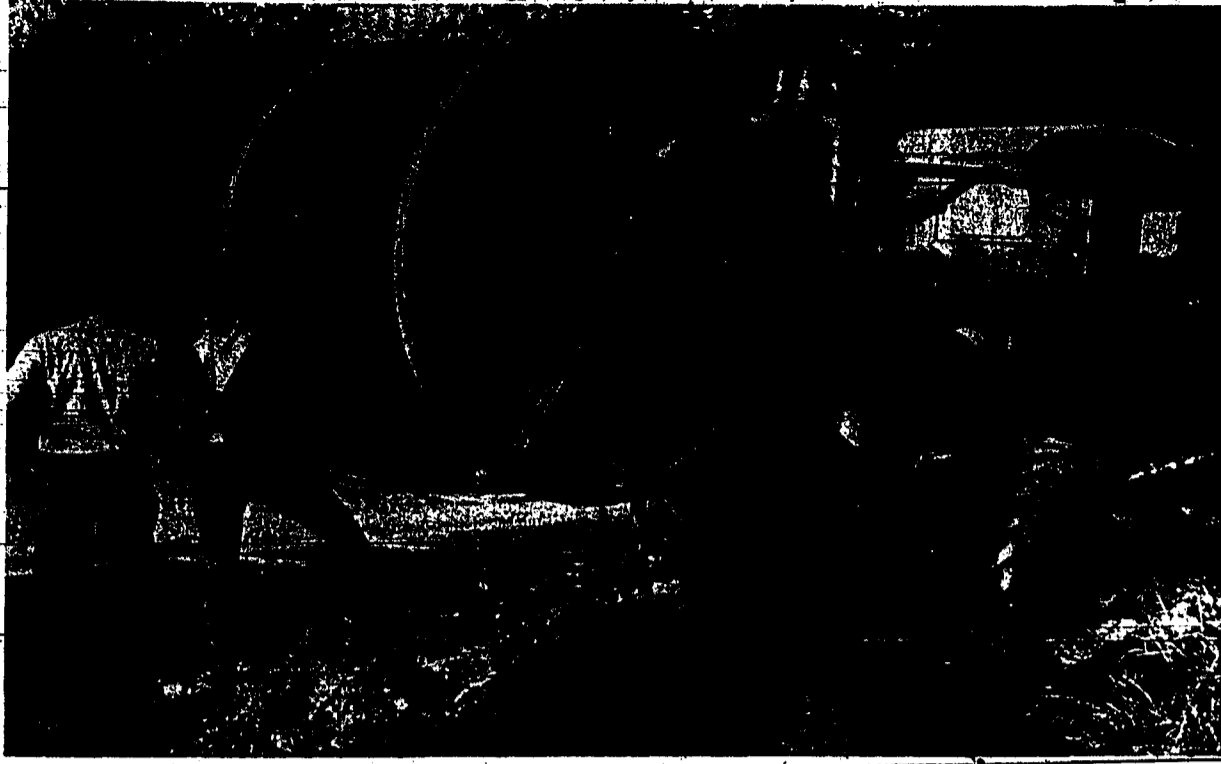

Because it takes years to expand a nation's school system and because, even when expanded, it takes years to run just one generation through school, beginning at the first grade, high school and college graduates are just now beginning to come out into South Vietnamese society in the numbers required to make a major impact on government, medicine, industry, agriculture and on education itself.

Most importantly, the incredible figures noted above mean that in the next three years (during which almost all American troops are due to be phased out of the country), South Vietnam, for the first time, will be getting enough high school and university graduates to build a workable government, a viable economy, a minimal medical establishment and a population with the education necessary to understand and take a stand on national issues.

Walker Talks To Boise Demo Club

Lloyd J. Walker, Twin Falls, considered a possible Democratic candidate in Idaho's next gubernatorial primaries, told a Boise Democratic Women's club Thursday that "as a nation, we appear to be in a state of dismay. We worry over our national morality, both domestically in the destruction of our cities, our racial wars and internationally in our involvement in the terrible Vietnamese war. We worry about the refusal of our young people to fully participate in our established political system," he said. "Most of all, we seem to have lost our style — our confidence that we as a people can control our destinies to create a better life for all," Mr. Walker said. He went on to say that to "regain our confidence in the future, we must recapture the 'great promise' which was lost with the death of President Kennedy and his brother Bobby. We in Idaho have a great opportunity to create a political atmosphere in which the 'great promise' can be restored. We in the so-called establishment can realize we have not managed our state and country too well. We can participate fully in government," Mr. Walker said. "We need their idealism, their enthusiasm, but most of all, they must exercise their rightful place in the nation. Such an atmosphere does not exist in Idaho or in the nation. We can have style enough to return confidence to our state and to our nation," he said.

U.S. Sailors Face Unrest

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI) — Leftist students accused American servicemen of trying to use Turkey as a brothel and said they would prevent U.S. sailors from coming ashore when ships of the 6th Fleet visit Izmir Friday. "We will not permit Turkey to become a bordello for 6th Fleet sailors," read a petition distributed by 1,000 coeds at Ankara University. Anti-American demonstrators assembled at Izmir in advance of the fleet's arrival. A spokesman for Navy European headquarters in London identified the ships bound for Izmir as the guided missile cruiser Columbus, the destroyers Basilone, Warrington and Joseph P. Kennedy and the ammunition ship Wrangell. Their visit would be the first to Turkey by U.S. naval units since a 6th Fleet visit to Istanbul last Feb. 16 that prompted an anti-American demonstration and brawling between leftists and rightists. Two persons were killed and hundreds injured in the ensuing riots.

Police Seek Identity, Motive Of Gunman After Shooting Spree Claims Californian

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Authorities today sought the identity of a middle-aged man who bought a rifle in a downtown pawn shop, walked outside vowing to get "three or four dudes," and opened fire at passing cars and pedestrians. He wounded two men, one fatally, before taking his own life.

The gunman signed the name "John Price" on the pawn shop register, but police said they were attempting to establish his true identity through fingerprints.

Donald Zorbrak, 35, the pawn shop manager, said the man entered the shop, paid $90 for the 8mm automatic Mauser and asked to see shells for it. They he loaded the gun.

"I told him he couldn't do that in the store, but he just waved the gun in my direction," Zorbrak said. "Then he started backing out of the store and said he was going to get three or four 'dudes' before anybody got him."

Pedestrians loaded with Christmas packages and a gas company crew working in the street scattered as the man walked along Mission Street, swinging the rifle back and forth on his shoulder.

Horace Benjamin, a UPI employee who witnessed the shootings, said he saw the gunman approaching and "hurried back around a corner where there was some shelter."

"He fired a shot at a Volkswagen driving by... then he saw a pedestrian on the other side of the street and fired one or two shots at him," Benjamin said.

"The guy went down... the gunman turned back, walked a few more feet, then stopped and put the rifle against his head and fired."

The pedestrian, Richard Vargas, 21, was hit by a single shot over the heart. He died several hours later at a hospital.

The driver of the car, Julius John, 30, was wounded in both legs but was reported "not in serious condition."

Daley May Be Subpoenaed In Chicago Conspiracy Trial

CHICAGO (UPI)—After the judge denied a motion for a Christmas weekend recess, in the trial of the "Chicago Seven," the defense said Thursday it will call Mayor Richard J. Daley to testify the day after Christmas.

Defense attorney Leonard J. Weinglass made the announcement after U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman ruled there would only be a recess for Christmas Day in the trial, which began Sept. 24.

Daley has said he will make no attempt to quash his subpoena. The defense wants to question him on his role relating to violence surrounding the 1968 Democratic National Convention. Seven men have been charged with conspiring to incite riots here during the convention.

"Oh Calcutta!" said he met Yippee defendant Abbie Hoffman in New York in January, 1968 and gave him advice on how to plan a "Festival of Life" during the August, 1968, convention.

Jacques Levy, long-haired, mustachioed and wearing mod clothes—said Hoffman told him, "We're going to give people an alternative. They have the Democratic party and there's going to be our party (the Youth International party) there, too, and people in Chicago will realize that our party is better."

Levy said he worked with Hoffman, Yippee Jerry Rubin and Timothy Leary, the former Harvard psychologist who advocates the use of LSD, in planning the festival, which dissolved into violence.

Earlier, Judge Hoffman denied the appeal of Chicago attorney Stuart S. Ball—former president of Montgomery Ward & Co. and brother of former presidential adviser and United Nations Ambassador George Ball—to allow his son to stay on the defense team.

Stuart Ball's son, Stuart, was banished from the courtroom last week after the judge said the younger Ball—who has long hair and a beard was laughing at him.

Julie, David Will Leave For Brussels

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Julie and David Eisenhower stay at the White House tonight before taking off for Brussels to spend the holidays with David's parents, Ambassador and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

Their college classes at Smith and Amherst wind up this afternoon. They leave for Belgium Saturday, flying with tickets purchased as their wedding anniversary gift by the Eisenhowers.

They will celebrate their first anniversary Monday.

They were expected to arrive at the White House in time for President and Mrs. Nixon's Christmas party, starting at 5 p.m. EST for 450 members of the Cabinet, the sub-Cabinet and their families.

Actor Dies

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Tommy Noonan, 57, a former movie stand-in for the late Tyrone Power, died here Wednesday at a motel where he had been reservations manager.

Noonan and Power were childhood friends.

Noonan, a native of Wyoming, Ohio, worked for 20th Century Fox Studio for 20 years. Power was a native of Cincinnati.

Hanoi Broadcasts Yuletide Messages From Prisoners

SAIGON (UPI)—Hanoi Radio, in programs beamed to the Far East, has begun broadcasting Christmas messages from American war prisoners to their families in the United States.

"Dear mom, dad and family, I'm sure you'll be glad to hear my voice again," began one message by a man identified as of New Manchester, W.Va. "This will have to do this year as my Christmas present to you."

Mayhew, a pilot, was captured Aug. 17, 1968 after his plane was shot down over North Vietnam, according to the U.S. Military Command.

"The government's fiscal year begins on July 1."

Stuart Ball's son, Stuart, was banished from the courtroom last week after the judge said the younger Ball—who has long hair and a beard was laughing at him.

Segregation To End As Holiday Begins

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Segregation ends in many school districts in the South today with the letout for the Christmas holidays. Class reopenings in January will be on a desegregated basis under the U.S. Supreme Court's "integrate now" ruling.

Mississippi is the state hardest hit immediately by the order, with about 35 school districts on January or February deadlines. North Carolina has three districts with a Dec. 31 deadline for integrating. Nineteen districts in Tennessee must desegregate in January and three Alabama districts have until Feb. 1. Eighty-one districts in Georgia have until Sept. 1 to integrate or face a cutoff in aid funds. Other districts in the South have less stringent deadlines.

Gov. John Bell Williams and several other Mississippi officials have predicted the orders handed down Oct. 29 by the Supreme Court will cause mass withdrawals by white students in heavily black areas. Many black parents also have expressed apprehension over the impending changes.

Between father and son, man and woman, there's a feeling that cannot be put into words. It's been put on film.

Grand Jury May Receive Judge's Case

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Informed sources said today District Attorney James Garrison will turn over to the grand jury the case of Edward A. Haggerty Jr., the white-haired original judge arrested at a stag party.

Haggerty presided over the trial that found businessman Clay L. Shaw innocent of conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

Four criminal charges against Haggerty and 13 others were referred Thursday to Garrison's office.

Garrison has the option of charging Haggerty directly or of submitting the case to the grand jury. Sources close to Garrison said the district attorney would send it to the grand jury.

Court Takes Children Of Fouquets

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Three children of Mrs. Betty Lansdown Fouquet, accused of abandoning her 5-year-old daughter next to a busy freeway, were made wards of the court Thursday during a closed hearing.

The hearing, however, failed to reveal the whereabouts of the woman's missing 8-year-old son.

Mrs. Fouquet, 26, was arrested with her common-law husband, Ronald, 31, after the woman's daughter by a previous marriage, Jody, was found clinging to a freeway fence near Bakersfield, Calif., Oct. 26. The couple faces trial in Bakersfield Feb. 2 on child abandonment charges.

Following the couple's arrest, Mrs. Fouquet's ex-husband, Billie Joe Lansdown, of Camas Valley, Ore., revealed their 8-year-old son Jeffrey, who is in Mrs. Fouquet's custody, had been missing for several months.

Deputy District Attorney John Stillman said the investigation into Jeffrey's whereabouts was continuing. The Fouquets, on the advice of their attorneys, have refused to answer questions concerning the whereabouts of the boy.

Santa... Brace Yourself!

Woman's View
By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dear Santa, brace yourself against your sleigh. Finally I've made out my Christmas list.

As a starter, there's a maxi coat in perfect matched Russian crown sable skins, priced at $125,000. So hurry over to Jacques Kaplah, the furrier, who advertised it in a newspaper two weeks ago. I quietly checked in with Monsieur Kaplan and the coat is still available, although some customers have been in "negotiating."

Don't let him sell you on one of his hammocks of yak fur at $8250. Each measures 10 feet, and that in a New York City apartment? Forget it.

Then, there are those jeweled stocking stuffers I've been clipping information on. Start at Cartier's on Fifth Avenue, where the Sultan de Maroc diamond is available for "several hundred thousand dollars." It's only about half the size, 35.27 carats, of the stone Richard Burton bought from the store for Elizabeth Taylor, for something over $1,050,000.

I'm hardly the Liz Taylor type anyway, and quiet little me will be quite happy with the sultan, a "rare icy blue-gray diamond" set in a ring and surrounded by more diamonds. There's some doubt, Santa, that you'll have a chance at the Tiffany diamond up the avenue. A 128.5 carat number, valued at $2 million and said to be about the largest and finest canary stone in the world, Tiffany's has owned it since 1878, and the word is that Walter Hoving, the company's chairman, would just as soon keep it around. But the store does have an 80-carat rough diamond for $450,000, which can be cut to specifications.

Harry Winston has another nice little stocking stuffer—a 65 carat marquise diamond for $700,000. Or take a look at Winston's emerald and diamond necklace for $1,200,000. I've always liked emeralds too.

There's no immediate interest at our house in the African safaris that Abercrombie & Fitch offer at $1950 per person. We wouldn't mind chartering an A & F yacht, though—cost unlimited.

Santa, I realize that these requests all tote up to several million dollars. You may have trouble financing them, what with the stock market in a deep slump. Matter of fact, it might be wise to shop after Christmas and get the marly-downs. I can wait.

Dear Abby
By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: George and I have been married only nine years. I am 29 and George is 30, so we can't be considered "old." But listen to this: Last night I was feeling in a romantic mood, so I put the stereo on, bathed, combed my hair real pretty, and put on my best nightgown and his favorite cologne. I snuggled up close to him and whispered, "George, I'm chilly." "Do you know what he said?" "Turn up the electric blanket!" What would YOU have done?
KAREN

DEAR KAREN: I'd have turned up the electric blanket.

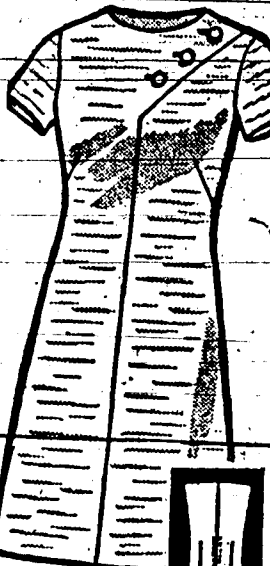

DEAR ABBY: My husband recently returned from a business trip to Japan. Before he left, he asked me what I wanted him to bring me from Japan, and I told him I had always wanted a nice string of cultured pearls.

Well, he brought me a string, costing $39, but now I don't feel like wearing them because he told me he also bought a string for a girl who works for him. Hers cost $26. This girl is 32 years old and has worked for him for 18 years, and over the years I have certainly heard enough about how "hard" she works, and what a "devoted and loyal employee" she is.

Do you think I am wrong to object to my husband's bringing her pearls, too?
JEALOUS IN NEWARK

DEAR JEALOUS: Yes. Since

your husband didn't hesitate to tell you that he had brought a string of pearls for a loyal employee (and even how much they cost) there is no reason for any jealousy on your part. He sounds like a good man who gives pearls with no "metaphoric" strings attached.

DEAR ABBY: I am in the same boat with "MISLED" — the 70-year-old lady who married a 73-year-old man and found that all he could give her was a lovely home and a gin rummy partner.

We have been married for 12 years, and our marriage has never been consummated. We are both now in our early fifties and this is the second time around for both of us. I am sure there is nothing wrong with him physically because he had children by his first wife. I am nice and clean so that's not the reason.

When we went together I mistook his puritan behavior for "gentlemanliness" and respect for me. I later learned that he does not care for sex. To him, it's a dirty word. When a couple kisses in a movie, he turns his head.

Otherwise I can't complain. He is a good provider and he has been very good to me and my children. I can live without sex. I know women who are worse off. Sign me.

Monthly Queen Announced For Trimmer TOPS

Mrs. Wilma Chaplain was honored as "Queen of the Month" by members of the Twin Falls Trimmer TOPS Club during a recent meeting. She was also weekly queen during the month. Other weekly queens were Mrs. Betty Rice and Jo Ann Ainsworth.

Members in charge of program were Mrs. Eunice Bankhead and Barbara Arndt. Mrs. Beverly Arndt, contest chairman, announced the starting of a new contest. Paper money was awarded to members as they lost weight during the month. Everyone was asked to bring wrapped white elephant gifts. At the completion of the contest, an auction was held and the members could purchase the articles with the money they had acquired.

Mrs. Pattie Correll reached her KOPS status. She became the 11th KOP for the two-year-old club.

START PLANTS IN BAGS: Now's a good time to try your hand at rooting cuttings of woody plants (evergreens and non-evergreens). Make yourself a window sill greenhouse out of a plastic freezer bag filled with vermiculite.

The plastic freezer bags are ideal for starting many popular ornamentals and this includes foliage plants, such as ivy, philodendrons, Chinese Evergreen, to name a few. Make the cuttings about three inches long and insert them about an inch or so into the moist vermiculite. Firm the cutting at the base, syringe them with warm water, then seal the bag with a rubber band to trap the moisture inside.

Some plants root more readily than others so it's a good idea to check for roots every few days. Cuttings of most plants will root in eight to 10 weeks. Cuttings which have not rooted but are in good condition should be re-planted in pots.

NOTE: Do not try to root "soft" plants such as geraniums, in a plastic bag, as they are apt to rot. Such items can be rooted in a glass of plain tap water.

CREOSOTE FOR BORERS: A reader writes: "I have used creosote for many years and would like to tell you how I use one teaspoon of creosote to a regular spray mixture and apply it to magnolia, dogwood, white birch and other plants. Use a paintbrush to get good coverage. You'll be interested to know that I have melted up some face soap and used it as a paste for scales on magnolias."

WAX PLANT WILL FLOWER: The popular wax plant, Hebe, is a real show piece when it produces. It's noted for the very fragrant, pinkish white blooms each set in the middle with a maroon, star-shaped center. There are variegated wax plants with leaves bordered in white and pink-tinted. The Hindu rope plant is member of the wax plant family, noted more for its odd rope-shaped clusters.

NOTE: Here's a good point to keep in mind for flowers. Once your plant flowers, do not cut the stem or "spur" from the blossoms have been borne. Why? Because next season's flowers will come from the same place and if you cut the spur you remove next year's blossoms.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: A. S. of Paul: "This past year I planted a yellow tomato, then a red one, alternating them in the same row. Some of the stalks had tomatoes with orange fruit, instead of yellow. My question: Did the red and yellow tomato cross pollinate to produce an orange variety?"

When you plant a red and a yellow tomato side by side, they will not cross, unless you transfer pollen by hand. Even if your tomatoes did cross pollinate, the results would not show up in the flesh, but in the seed which you'd plant next year.

Varieties like Sunray and Golden Jubilee are yellow as they are starting to mature but get to be a more golden-orange as they ripen. The rich golden-orange flesh is not from cross pollination between a red and yellow tomato. It's the natural color of the fruit.

A. B. of Mindoka: "Every spring our daffodils and narcissus turn brown (buds, that is) and do not bloom. Is there anything I can do between now and next spring to treat our bulbs so we'll have blossoms?"

Next spring as soon as you see growth coming above the ground spray or dust it with Captan, Zineb or Ferbam. Apply another dose a week later, and be sure that the newly formed buds are covered with one of these fungicides. Don't wait until the buds start to open, but rather as soon as they start to form. The same materials can be used on tulips (to prevent fireblight or blasting, and for peonies which have the same dreaded disease).

A. W. of Twin Falls: "We had our lawn sodded and they put sod right up close to the trunks of trees. I thought this was wrong so I put the sod away (about six or eight inches). Now I've been told I was wrong by doing it. Who's right?"

It doesn't make much difference. However, it's smarter to have the sod away from the trunk so that the lawn mower won't gouge the bark. I like to see a neat ring around the base of a tree, and inside this ring you have your favorite mulch material — peat, gravel, cocoa-bean shells, buckwheat hulls, to name a few mulch items.

D. F. of Burley: "I have always had a beautiful lawn, but this year there were brown patches in spots. Please tell us what can be done."

I'll mention a few things which could be causing the trouble: (1) Grubs. Loosen sod and see if grubs are present. (2) Dog Burn. (3) Poor soil conditions, as shown up by wet weather this year. (4) Burn from overdose of pesticide or fertilizer. (5) Disease, which is perhaps our best guess. Certain diseases such as "fusarium patch" and others can be checked by using a fungicide such as sulfur dust, zineb or Maneb.

I'd wait until spring and loosen up the brown spots, dust on some fungicide, loosen the soil, and scatter some grass seed. Usually the brown spots will outgrow themselves, if grass seed is applied.

A. S. of Twin Falls: I heard that apples left on a tree will not freeze. Is that true? We want to keep our apples as long as possible, and don't know how.

Indeed, apples will freeze on the tree. They'll take cold a lot better than most fruits, but they will freeze when the temperature is in the 20's. Apples will keep long if picked and kept cool. The refrigerator is your best storage place for apples. Apples are "alive" and at room temperatures they "breathe" faster, or in other words are shorter-lived.

For example, at 85 degrees room temperature an apple "lives" at a rate 15 times greater than in regular refrigerator storage (around 31 degrees). At 60 degrees the rate is 12 times as fast. In other words, an apple held at 32 degrees will last up to 15 times longer than one kept at room temperature. Keep your apples in a polyethylene bag in your refrigerator. The bag maintains the proper humidity (about 85 per cent) and helps keep apples fresher.

Hermiston Citizens Approve Army Plans To Store Nerve Gas Near Oregon Town

HERMISTON, Ore. (UPI) — Gov. Tom McCall's mail may be running 90-1 against bringing more poison gas to Oregon, but the citizens of Hermiston — where the gas will be stored — are lining up 95-5 in favor of the Army's decision.

The Army has announced plans to ship its stores of nerve gas from Okinawa to the Umatilla Army Depot in mid-January. "I don't see anything wrong with the shipping the gas in here," said Bill Bhinney, manager of a local food market. "I think the problem is that the people of Portland and the surrounding areas who are against it don't know what they are talking about."

"We've had poison gas at the depot since it opened in 1941 and nerve gas since 1962, and we've had no problem. I doubt that Governor McCall has ever been to Hermiston."

Tax Protest Is Planned During 1970

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Resistance to taxes and the draft will be the goals of a new antiwar offensive early next year by organizers of the November moratorium march on Washington, according to Rep. H. Ichord, D-Mo.

Ichord, who is chairman of the House Internal Security Committee, said staff investigators learned that a tentative three-phase campaign was drafted at a secret meeting in Cleveland last weekend of leaders of the New Mobilization Committee to end the War in Vietnam.

The staff report was released Wednesday by Ichord as the committee entered the second day of a new round of hearings on Students for a Democratic Society, a radical campus organization.

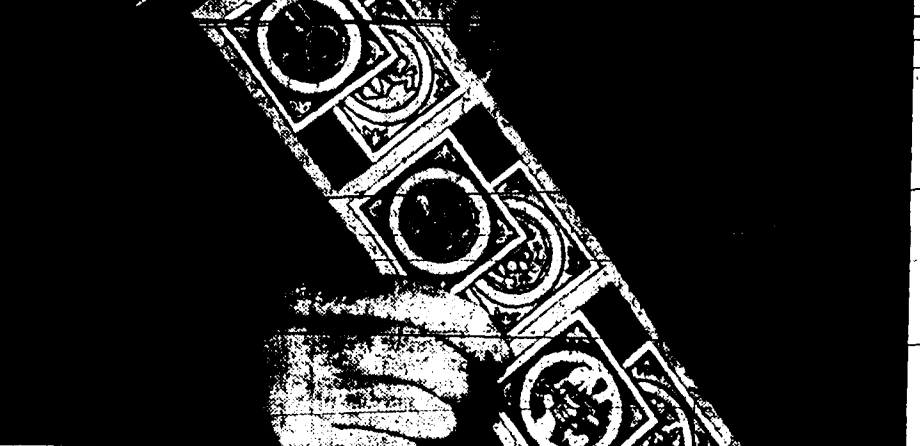

The congressman said the first phase of the planned campaign is a "propaganda assault" against alleged repression by the government of antiwar dissent. This would include mock retrials during January and February of persons who have been punished for war resistance.

Ichord said a second phase in early spring would include protests against "war" taxes, inflation and production of military goods.

It's the holiday season; 1795. Jacob Beam and his family are buckboarding it around the Kentucky countryside. Chinning with the neighbors. Giving gifts. Jacob Beam is giving his closest friends a bit of himself. Some Beam Bourbon. It comes right from his own choicest grains. His own secret formula. And his secret knack for making the best-tasting, lightest Bourbon within a two days' ride. It's a rare gift, because Jacob never seems to be able to make enough to keep up with the demand.

Today, T. Jeremiah Beam, pictured here, makes Jim Beam Bourbon just like Jacob did. generations of Beams ago. And he's gift-wrapped it in a handsome holiday package. Give it to some of your friends and you'll sort of be doing what old Jacob did. You'll be giving a bit of yourself. And that's still the rarest gift of all. "World's finest Bourbon since 1795."

4-H Reunion Dance Is Set For Dec. 27

A county-wide 4-H Club reunion dance will be held in the Buhl Junior Chamber of Commerce hall Saturday night, December 27 from 8:30 until midnight.

The event will be sponsored by the Twin Falls County 4-H Builders Club, according to Audrey Thelemann, publicity chairman.

Members of 4-H clubs from Twin Falls who are attending college and alumni of the organization will join the Builders for the annual holiday 4-H dance.

The "Family Dog," a well known rock and roll band, has been engaged to supply the music for the dance.

Miss Thelemann said the dance is open to the public and will be chaperoned by 4-H club leaders and parents.

She said the gathering will serve as a place for old friends to meet, visit and discuss 4-H competition in the past, especially at the County Fair.

The present active 4-H Builders from throughout the county will host the dance and proceeds will go for the building expansion of the 4-H summer camp facilities northwest of Ketchum.

Mrs. Frank Southwick, Buhl, adult sponsor of the Builders, has coordinated complete plans for the dance Dec. 27, at Buhl.

One of the top 10 4-H members in Twin Falls County in 1969 will be awarded a wristwatch by First Security Bank of Twin Falls during intermission at the dance.

CLIVE JAMES STRONG, Wendell, is congratulated by E. W. Ukkelberg, senior vice president of Deere and Co., for being state 4-H winner. Clive received an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress as a prize for his achievement from the John Deere organization.

POSING WITH Ken Berry, star of the CBS-TV series "Mayberry RFD," at the 48th annual National 4-H Congress in Chicago recently is Lenora Anderson, Glenns Ferry, the 1969 state winner of the 4-H Food-Nutrition Award, sponsored by General Foods Corp. ## Along Fences And Canals

The Lester Molts, Richfield, have moved their milk cows to a farm north of Hazelton with a modern milking barn and bulk tanks. Carl Riley trucked the milk cows from the Marley ranch. The Molts have leased and Mrs. Grace Stevens helped Mrs. Molt with some of the moving. Mrs. Molt and three younger children look after the milk stock most of the time, and Mr. Molt and son, Eldon, take care of the range cattle, calves and hogs at Marley.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Naylor, Tucson, Ariz., have purchased the Louis Race ranch in northwest Shoshone, and took possession last week. Mr. and Mrs. Race will move to Gooding. The Naylors have an 11-year-old daughter, who is enrolled at the Shoshone elementary school. The farm consists of 160 acres. R. E. Naylor is a brother of Stan Naylor, Dietrich farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sellers and son have moved to the Howard Hill ranch, near Shoshone, where he is employed.

Rodney Ruberry, King Hill, has been working at Reverse, loading out beets for shipment to the factory.

Congress Delays Action On Cropland Retirement Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress has quietly agreed to delay until next year at least any decisions on reactivating a long-term cropland retirement program.

The decision attracted little attention at the time. It was reached late last month when a House-Senate conference committee completed work on the agriculture department's appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Most public attention was centered on the conference committee's decision to kill a proposed $20,000 ceiling on federal payments to individual farmers on 1970 crops, and to boost food stamp appropriations up to $810 million.

At the same time, however, the conference committee killed a Senate-approved provision that would have authorized the agriculture department to reactivate the Johnson Administration's Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP) in 1970.

The Nixon Administration, endorsing a request left behind last January by outgoing officials, had asked for authority to enroll about four million acres of farmland during 1970 under 10-year CAP land retirement contracts at a cost of $30.3 million. Four million acres were enrolled in the program in 1968 and 1967, but Congress refused to fund any further new contracts in 1968 and this year.

The congressional decision against reopening the CAP in 1970 leaves the government without any funds for new long-term land retirement contracts, although payments continue on old contracts under the CAP and other earlier programs such as the Eisenhower Administration's Conservation Reserve plan.

Basic legal authority for signing further CAP contracts expires at the end of 1970. But if Congress heeds a recent request by Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, the whole subject will be reopened next year when Congress acts on a new omnibus farm bill.

Hardin has asked the House Agriculture Committee to include in the omnibus bill a three-phase plan for long-term retirement of surplus farm acreage.

Under Hardin's proposal, the heart of the new plan would be a program for taking land out of production under a "crop easement" plan. The government, under this plan, would buy production rights, or "easements," from farmers who could continue to use the land for non-crop purposes. Hardin's plan also calls for small-scale use of a currently suspended cropland conversion program that for revival, also on a small scale, of a Johnson Administration plan to aid local governments which buy up farmland for parks. Total land retirement under all three programs would be held to between 2.5 million and four million acres.

Grange Plans Yule Party At Richfield

RICHFIELD — Plans for a Christmas party were made by the Richfield Grange recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stubbs.

Mrs. Buri Akins reported on attendance at State Grange in Twin Falls. Eugene Alexander reported on sugar beet allotments for the agriculture committee. He said planting of more beets for next year was planned for other areas with some large ranches planning 1,000 acres.

Mrs. Alexander presented a literary program with readings by herself and Mrs. Buri Akins.

Glen Ross was winner of the meeting's attendance award.

The Christmas party will start at 1 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 28, at the Methodist recreation rooms. Program committee includes Mrs. Edgar Stubbs, Mrs. Jack Hubsmith, Mrs. H. A. Ross Sr., Mrs. Glen Ross and Mrs. Akins.

Tentative plans for a New Year's Eve dance were discussed.

LOOKING AT a field of turnips that several hundred head of sheep have just finished cleaning up on the Ray Seymour farm near Milner are, from left, H. L. (Spec) Haslam, Globe Feed and Seed; George Colner, Hansen; Victor Otama, sheep

Turnips to beef cattle as well as sheep.

Anderson Brothers, Oakley, are feeding several thousand head of cattle turnips. They have nearly 1,000 acres of turnips, many in grain stubble, and many straight turnips.

Tom Anderson, Oakley, noted that planting turnips along with the grain did not hamper the yield of the grain very much.

One field of Gem barley yielded 115 bushels per acre. He said there was 200 acres of grain with turnips; yielded over 100 bushels per acre.

Another aspect of feeding turnips, particularly to sheep, is that it conditions young lambs for another forage, such as beet tops.

The yield of turnips in this area is practically unbelievable. George Colner, Hansen, said he feeds turnips to young lambs because it conditions them better before going into beet tops. This way, he said, the lambs don't scowl as they would if they were put into beet tops first.

Mr. Seymour is grazing more than 3,000 head of ewes and lambs on the turnips. He says the sheep are doing very well on the turnips and are cleaning everything up.

Mr. Seymour planted the turnips in July, immediately after his green peas were harvested. He also applied 70 units of nitrogen and 70 units of phosphate at planting time. He planted the turnip seeds on top of the ground, states Mr. Haslam.

There they saw several fields that were being grazed by both sheep and cattle. Fields that had already been grazed and cleaned up and field that had not yet been grazed.

Any area farmer or rancher interested in raising or feeding turnips can contact Mr. Haslam.

Grange To Meet

TUTTLE — The Gooding County Pomona Grange will meet at the Tuttle Grange Hall on Monday at 8:30 p.m.

The Junior Grange from Orchard Valley will present the program, and a gift exchange will be held.

EXAMINING TURNIPS from a large turnip field on the Ray Seymour farm near Milner are some area farmers. ### $22,750 Paid For Charolais During Expo

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—More than 2,000 persons flocked to the arena at the Las Vegas Convention Center to bid on some of the country's top bulls which were auctioned at the first International Cattlemen's Expo.

Twenty-one Charolais bulls sold for an average of $4,639 with a full French bull from Louisiana drawing the highest auction price of $22,750.

A bull owned by Van Horne and Cole of Daggett, Calif., was the champion of the International Cattlemen's Expo when it received a certification index of 821 out of a possible 1,000. The certification index is the total number of points given an animal by a panel of 18 judges and computerized scanning devices.

The show's champion bull, Double K 711, won its owners $2,000 in top prize money and sold for $11,100 to Dick Endcott's Devon Dells Charolais of Lincoln, Neb.

The champion bull sold for more than $10,000 less than a bull with a lower certification index. Many breeders had questioned the certification index system.

Official Says Inspect Stored Grain Often

SHOSHONE — "Inspect stored grain regularly for insect damage," advises the county extension agent, Ivan Hopkins.

A few copies of a bulletin "Controlling Insects in Farm Stored Grain," are available at the extension office. They were published by the department of agriculture.

Even though the grain went into the bin in good condition, there is a possibility that infestation can develop, the agent points out. A large infestation can heat the grain and remain active, even in cold weather.

The bulletin recommends fumigation when inspection shows insects are building up. About once a month, take samples of grain from the center of the bin and inspect them for insects. Sift the samples through a screen that has a mesh large enough to let most of the insects fall through, but small enough to hold back the grain. Most of the insects are smaller than the grain.

Social Security Question Box

If you have any questions about your social security, address them to Jim Davis, Box 1238, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

Q. I am scheduled to undergo cataract surgery in two weeks. I will have to wear eyeglasses following the surgery and my doctor says Medicare will help pay for them. However, my neighbor says you were unable to reimburse her for the glasses she recently purchased. I am confused, who is right?

A. Medicare can help pay for the eyeglasses or contact lenses when they are used to replace the lens of the eye because of surgical removal or congenital absence. This includes corrective lenses after a cataract operation. Ordinarily eyeglasses are not covered.

Q. Isn't there some provision in the social security law that will help out in a case like my sister's? She collected social security benefits for herself and her children for about 10 years after her husband's death. When the payments stopped two years ago because all the children were 18 or over, she was 51 years old. They told her at that time that she would become eligible for aged widow's benefits at age 60. She has no income and she cannot work because she is completely crippled up with arthritis.

A. Your sister may be eligible to collect disabled widow's benefits due to a change in the law. Under this new provision, a widow 50 or over may qualify for monthly cash benefits if her disability began within seven years or the time her social security mother's benefits stopped, as in your sister's case, or if she was disabled before her husband's death or within seven years after his death.

DIE for making Harrows is shown to Lyle Fraxler, right, president of the Fidelity National Bank, Twin Falls, by Hugh Farmer, president of Acme Machine Works. Mr. Fraxler was among several visitors who recently toured the Acme operation at Filer.

DRAPER CHAIN, manufactured by Acme, is looked at closely by area implement dealers, city officials, bankers and Acme officials. The occasion was a brief tour of the operation and how Harrows are made and the future plans of the small town manufacturing firm.

ONE OF MAJOR items made by Acme Manufacturing Inc., Filer, is the potato planter. Here, some visiting dignitaries examine one of the Acme potato planters.

Acme Is Diversified

FILER — Acme, one of the largest manufacturing firms in this area, but small compared to other manufacturing companies in the nation, is, however, one of the most diversified. So diversified is Acme that about 50 different farm machinery items are made by this Filer-based firm.

According to the firm's founder, Bill Herrett, who also is considered the "guiding spirit" of the entire operation at Acme, "We (Acme) make almost everything from the tractor to the ground" in the way of farm equipment and parts.

This tour of the plant at Filer, its various departments and personnel as well as products, was conducted by Mr. Herrett, Hugh Farmer, president of Acme Machine Works, and John Miller, director of personnel. Mr. Herrett is president and manager of Acme Manufacturing Co., the parent company.

One of the items made at Acme which those on the tour were impressed with was the Acme potato planter, a machine line. Potato planters in demand throughout the world were made in 1958 at Acme. Many are built on the assembly line each week for the season and made on the planter.

The Acme potato planter sold throughout the West and plans are under way for market outlets throughout the Midwest and Eastern states.

Also shown to the visitors were the draper chains which are manufactured extensively for use on potato and beet harvesting equipment. This chain, made by Acme and shipped throughout the nation and world, is the largest volume item manufactured here states Mr. Herrett.

Plans also are under way to expand the operation at Filer to handle the expected volume of business in the future.

Crackdown Is Expected Soon On Sale Of "Farm Use Only" Tires For General Use

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government plans to crack down soon on the sale of "farm use only" tires for general use, according to a highway safety official.

The problem, the official said, involves tires with manufacturing defects that make them unsafe for highway service.

He told a panel at the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation that manufacturers must check for farm use tires.

The panel also discussed the need for highway safety tires that are sold at a price that will allow them to meet the speed of the highway and the farm equipment.

The American Farm Bureau of the United States and the United Kingdom, Canada, and other countries are working on a plan to make sure that the tires are safe for highway use.

and plans every effort to ensure that "farm use only" tires do not get on the highway. The "use only" tires for general use, he said, "One method would require manufacturers to mark their tires with a special identification mark to ensure that the tires are used only for farm use.

Manufacturers would be required to mark their tires with a special identification mark to ensure that the tires are used only for farm use.

(general) safety net has provisions for those who introduce unsafe tires into interstate commerce, and the Federal Highway Administration will take necessary steps to get an end to this practice," he said.

Manufacturers will be required to mark their tires with a special identification mark to ensure that the tires are used only for farm use.

It's the first time 10 players have gotten off to such a good start. Austin Carr of Notre Dame is third top scorer with his 35.6 average, followed by Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure (35.0) and Willie Humes, of Idaho State (34.0).

"I feel pretty good," Wells said. "But no decision has yet been made on whether I'll need an operation."

Wells suffered his shoulder injury during the Raiders' 10-6 victory over Kansas City last weekend. The triumph gave Oakland its third straight AFL Western Division crown.

Wells said his injury was described to him as a "shoulder separation," and the operation, at first set for last Monday, had been postponed by Dr. Charles Rowe.

The Broncos, overcoming a frigid first half shooting performance, hit 52.5 per cent from the field in the final 20 minutes to win going away.

Austin scored 22 points — 11 in each half — and was second to Bill Otey with 14 rebounds to 15 for the latter.

All five Boise State starters hit double figures, with Keith Burke getting runner-up honors with 17, Otey netting 14, Renee Ruth adding 13 and Wendy Hart shipping 10.

The Bulldogs were paced by Bill Quings with 12 rebounds and 12 points, but Jim B'sannah was high point man with 17.

Boise State dominated the boards with a 51-37 advantage and wound up the night from the field with a 43-1 percentage (34-79) to 43 per cent for the visitors with a 31-72 performance.

The win moves Boise State's record to 4-2 on the season, while the Bulldogs dropped their fifth game in six starts.

Kent State broke a 37-37 halftime deadlock with four straight markers at the start of the second half, but Purdue caught up, 49-49, on Bob Ford's bucket. The teams traded the lead nine times in the second half.

Declo Breezes To Mat Tourney Win

HAILEY—The powerful Declo Hornet wrestling team, placing seven men in the finals and coming out champion in six of those matches, ran off with the Wood River Invitational Wrestling Tourney Thursday night.

Declo totaled 88 points in the one-day affair, while runner-up Jerome had 69. Twin Falls, using mostly JV men, took third with 60, and Wood River took 49. The host Wolverines could have placed much higher, as they put six men into the final matches, but only one man could come out a winner.

The Hornets meanwhile were paced by the almost unbeatable Osterhout brothers in the 185-pound and heavyweight classes. But all the Osterhout power isn't heavy — a third Osterhout took the 115-pound championship.

Results of the championship matches: 98 — Darrington of Declo pinned Jefferson of Wood River; 107 — Otto of Jerome pinned Pascoe of Wood River; 115 — Osterhout of Declo defeated Jerome; 123 — Dehrt of Jerome, Krenz of Wood River; 130 — McCain of Twin Falls decided Matthews of Declo; 137 — Campbell of Jerome decided Deckard of Wood River; 145 — Kelsey of Declo decided Sommers of Twin Falls; 155 — Stone of Jerome decided Swope of Twin Falls; 165 — Oschner of Twin Falls pinned Fife of Wood River; 175 — Duffy of Wood River pinned Touchette of Twin Falls; 185 — Osterhout of Declo pinned Randall of Jerome, and Heavyweight, Osterhout of Declo pinned Hessler of Jerome.

Fight Promoter, Ellis' Manager Say Saturday Title Event Still On

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Promoter Hector Vendez said Thursday night he expected the troubled heavyweight title bout between World Boxing Association champ Jimmy Ellis and Argentine challenger Gregorio Peralta to take place Saturday night as scheduled. "There will be a fight," Mendez told newsmen. "The only problem is the arrival of a judge and referee, but I expect that to be solved."

Brawl Ends Game Before Halftime

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Georgetown University forfeited a basketball game to a brawl on Saturday night when players and spectators engaged in a two-minute brawl on the court. Georgetown Coach Jack Magee pulled his team off the court with 1:23 remaining in the first half and refused to let them return. Jacksonville was leading 41-26 when the game was called. "I'm responsible for 18 people. I can't risk having them hurt," Magee said. When they come at you out of the stands, it's time to get out." Rex Morgan of Jacksonville received a cut beside his eye that required two stitches. His was the only serious injury during the brawl. The two opposing coaches broke up the fighting and no police were called in. The fight started when Arthur White of the Washington school took a punch at Jacksonville's Mike Blevins under the Georgetown basket. A brief fight broke out and officials ejected both of them.

Wendell's Matmen Top Indians

Results of the matches, Wendell men listed first, include: 98 — Shoshone forfeit to Archibald; 107 — Johnson won by decision; 115 — Powell won by decision; 123 — Klezmoon decided Heath; 130 — Falter pinned Urritia; 137 — Sites decided Farnsworth; 145 — Presthich won by forfeit; 155 — Royce was pinned by Ritter; 165 — Jacobsen won by forfeit (W); 185 — Wendell forfeit to Everhart, and Heavyweight Ambrose was decided by Schoolcraft.

Angelo Dundee, manager of Ellis, met Thursday afternoon with Mendez and later told newsmen, "the fight is on." Dundee said the major stumbling block to the fight was eliminated when a Dec. 9 cable was finally received Thursday by WBA authorities. The telegram asks the WBA to appoint one judge and one referee to join a judge selected by the local boxing commission in officiating the fight. Dundee said he was grateful to the WBA for giving Ellis a chance to defend his crown here. "We are expecting the WBA American referee and judge Friday. After all, there are fights from the U.S. all day long, and the fight is the next day," he said.

But as they walked down the floor, Blevins walked up behind his opponent, apparently intending to shake hands. "But someone said something to me and I hit the guy," Blevins said. Both White and Blevins are white. At this point, several students came out of the stands, both benches emptied and the free-for-all started. The 6-6, 180-pound White said Blevins had jabbed him in the face with his elbow three plays before the fight started. "I just started swinging and lost my head," White said. "I guess the guy was trying to intimidate me."

"White has got to be kidding," Blevins' storked when told of the charges of elbow throwing. "The only thing I remember was I was standing there and the guy started swinging and hit me." Blevins is 6-5 and 190 pounds. Jacksonville Coach Joe Williams declined to blame anyone for the incident. "That's the last time you'll see a JU team come off the bench," said Williams. "Regardless of what happened, our team should not have come onto the floor."

"What Arthur (White) did was wrong," admitted Magee, "but I really don't know if the other boy (Blevins) didn't aggravate it. Still, quick fights like that will happen. The second go-round was inexcusable."

Asked if Georgetown considered playing Jacksonville next week, Magee said "No, I don't think we'll try it. Not next year. But what happened here tonight doesn't mean we won't work with JU in the future."

One of the referees, Ralph Waldo, said "I don't want to say anything. It was rough. It was unfortunate. That's all."

Jacksonville went into the game as the nation's scoring leader with a 110.3 average in four wins in four outings. Georgetown was 5-1, losing only to powerful St. Johns.

Before the game Magee had congratulated Williams for asking for a referee from the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, of which Georgetown is a member.

"I thought that was damn nice of Joe. He didn't have to do that," Magee said. "Joe is doing everything he can to avoid being known as an outlaw. It's hard enough for an independent team, especially a small independent like Jacksonville, to get a good schedule."

Vikings Meet Their Maker, Colts Take On Rams In NFL Regular-Season Finales

By JOE CARNICELLI UPI Sports Writer

The Minnesota Vikings will meet their maker Sunday. Unfortunately, he may not be too happy to see them. The maker is Norm Van Brocklin, who coached the Vikings for the first six years of their existence (1961-66) and put together the nucleus of what today is possibly the most powerful team in the National Football League. Van Brocklin, however, is now head coach of the Atlanta

Falcons and his team plays host to the Vikings Sunday as 6-12-point underdogs in the regular season windup for the NFL. The Vikings will be looking to tie the record of 13 consecutive victories, set by the unbeaten Chicago Bears in 1934. They can also erase the 14-game record for fewest points (144) set by the 1968 Baltimore Colts and the 1963 Chicago Bears. The Vikings have allowed only 123 this season. Minnesota dominates NFL defensive statistics, leading in nine categories, and kicker Fred Cox leads the league in scoring with 118 points. Atlanta is third in the league in rushing and the Falcons have four starters—quarterback Bob Berry, wide receiver Paul Flatley, linebacker Don Hansen and defensive tackle Jerry Shay—who were at one time property of the Vikings. In other action Sunday, Baltimore is 6-1-2 over Los Angeles, San Francisco is 11 over Philadelphia, Dallas is seven over Washington, Cleveland is 4-1-2 over New York, Detroit is five over Chicago, Green Bay is seven over St. Louis and New Orleans is nine over Pittsburgh.

The Rams close out their season at home before leaving for Minnesota Tuesday to prepare for their Western Conference title game with the Vikings. A Los Angeles victory would set a club record of 12 triumphs in one season.

Steve Spurrier, who threw 48 passes in a snowstorm against the Vikings last week, is expected to be at quarterback for San Francisco against the Eagles, who lost Tom Woodeshick, the No. 4 rusher in the league, with an ankle injury last week.

The Dallas-Washington game could help decide some statistical leaders. The Cowboys' Calvin Hill is second to Chicago's Gale Sayers in rushing, 103 yards back. Washington's Sonny Jurgensen is the No. 14 ranked passer in the NFL and teammate Rickie Harris is second in punt returns. Ron Widby of Dallas and Mike Bragg of Washington rank 2-3 in the league in punting and Mel Renfro of the Cowboys holds a slim lead in the interceptions department. Charley Taylor of the Redskins is a three-way tie in the pass receiving department.

Cleveland is looking to tie a club single season mark with 11 victories when the Browns play the Giants, and the Lions are hoping for third place money in the West with a victory or a tie against the Bears. St. Louis tries for its first victory over the Packers since 1949 when the Cardinals journey to Green Bay for the first time since moving to St. Louis in 1960. Roy Jefferson of Pittsburgh and Dan Abramowitz of New Orleans try to snap the three-way deadlock for the pass-receiving title when their teams meet.

Wolverines Arrive In L.A., Predict Buckeye Fate For USC

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The University of Michigan football team arrived in Southern California Thursday vowing to do the same job on the University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl that they did to Ohio State to win the right to represent the Big 10 in the New Year's Day football classic. Coach Glenn (Bo) Schembechler led the Michigan team off the United Airlines charter plane at International Airport to receive the traditional welcome from the Tournament of Roses Association. "We have an enthusiastic club," Schembechler told the crowd of about 300. "We were very high for Ohio State. We never went into a game that meant so much, and we hope to be just as high on New Year's Day."

Wolverine captain James Mandich echoed his coach's words and added, "We feel we can beat any team on a given day." The traveling squad of nearly 50 players departed from the plane dressed in gold jackets and wearing light blue shirts. But most of them carried topcoats and reported that they had left Michigan in freezing weather. Tournament of Roses president C. Louis Edwards extended the official greeting and welcome to the Michigan team. He was followed by athletic director Jess Hill of the University of Southern California who said he knew from personal experience as the former head coach of the Trojans that USC would be in for a rough time on New Year's Day because every Big 10 team played hard football.

Queen Pamela Tedesco and her court of princesses handed each of the Michigan players a California orange as he came off the plane. Michigan athletic director Donald B. Canham expressed the pleasure of the Wolverines at the hospitable greetings and said that "I hope your hospitality is as good on Jan. 1."

Canham then introduced the coach and captain Mandich who spoke on behalf of the team to express its thanks.

Nevada Drops Creighton 67-66

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Sharp shooting Rollie Hess led the University of Nevada to a 67-66 victory over Creighton at Omaha Thursday night.

Hess, a 6-2 senior, led his mates to a strong comeback in the final 20 minutes of play after Creighton took a 37-26 lead at the intermission. Nevada caught up at 52-52, a little more than halfway through the second half and the lead saw-sawed after that until the final minute when Nevada went ahead for good.

Hess popped in two free throws to force a 64-63 lead in the closing minutes and got two more in the closing seconds to put the game out of reach for the host team. He connected on 14 of 15 free throws during the game and had seven field goals to give him 28 points, one less than Cyril Baptiste of Creighton who led all scoring. The victory evened Nevada's record at 3-3 and dropped Creighton to a 3-4 mark.

DUMP BRUIES ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Frank St. Marseille scored in the third period Thursday night to give the St. Louis Blues a 3-3 tie with the Boston Bruins.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Forward Bill Tollestrup led the Brigham Young Cougars past Texas Tech 88-81 Thursday by scoring 20 points. Tollestrup, who hit nine field goals and two free throws, paced the Cougars in shooting and teammate Scott Warner grabbed 27 rebounds as Brigham Young completely controlled the backboards 65-38. Brigham Young is now 3-2, and Tech is 4-3.

Tech held a three-point margin, 11-8, three minutes deep in the game, but Brigham Young took command at 12-11 and never trailed again. High scorer for the game was Tech's Gene Knolle with 24 points. Teammate Greg Lowery added 20 and Steve Williams hit 13. For Brigham Young, Doug Howard had 18 and Warner had 17.

S. Carolina And Niagara Post Wins

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Roche scored 27 points, 11 of them during a second-half spurge which blew the game open, as fourth-ranked South Carolina ran away from Long Island University, 89-52, Thursday night in the first game of a college basketball doubleheader.

In the second game, Niagara, sparked by All-America Calvin Murphy's 27 points, used a fast break to build a 19-point lead and then slowed down the pace in the second half for a 73-61 victory over Rutgers. South Carolina was unable to score a field goal for the first two minutes of the game until Roche's jump shot from the baseline gave the visitors a 2-1 lead. The Gamecocks were never behind again.

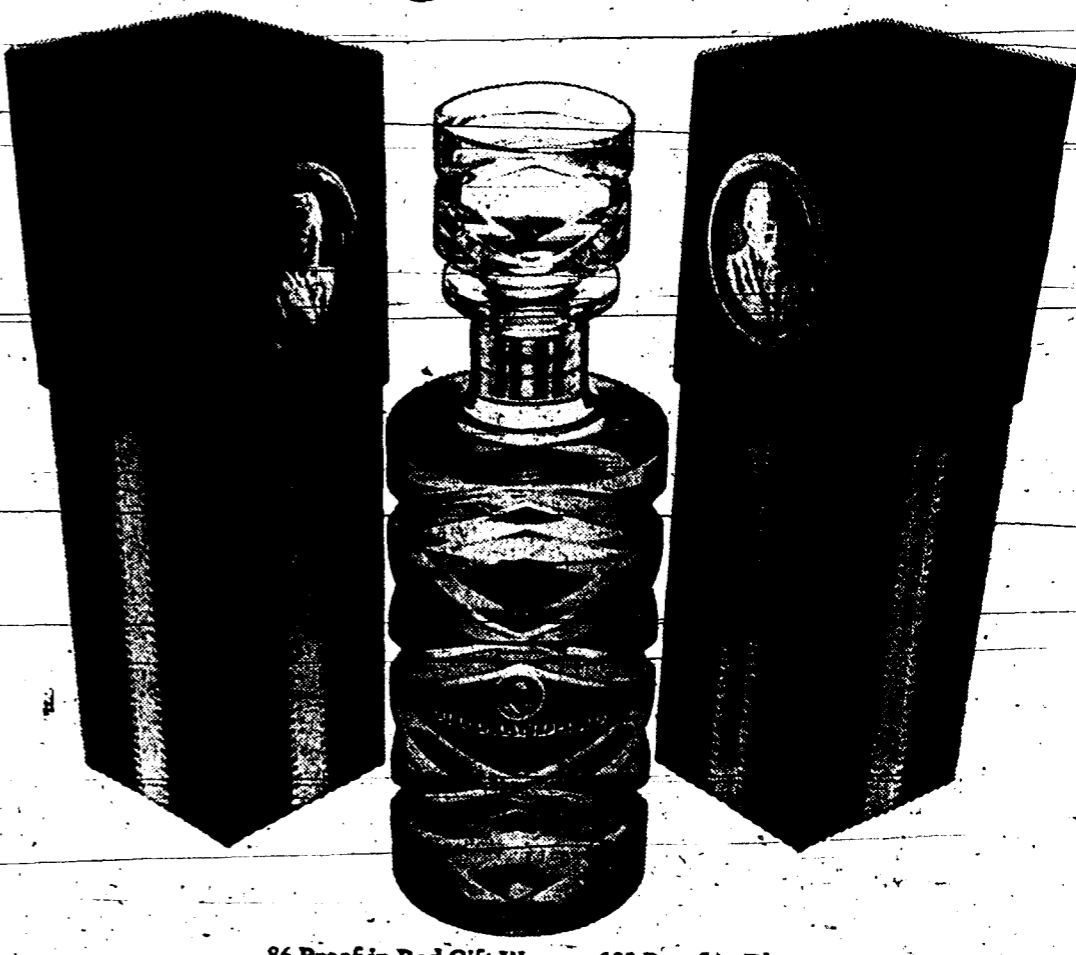

Roche played with a pulled muscle in his rib cage that he received when South Carolina beat East Carolina last week and had to leave for three minutes in the second half to adjust an elastic support.

Tom Owens, who finished with 20 points and 20 rebounds, converted a three-point play to open the second half and Roche then hit four field goals and three foul shots as the Gamecocks jumped to their largest lead at 75-33 midway through the second half.

CASE DISMISSED AGAINST NORTH

North accused of the crime of overbidding, sat dejectedly by Merry Pason, his counsel, while District Attorney Ham Burger examined his chief witness.

"Is this your partner's hand?" he asked.

Pason arose. "We have already stipulated the hands and the bidding and the result of three trump-down one," he remarked.

my's queen and a second heart to your jack?"

Again the answer was, "Yes, that is all," said Pason. "I move for dismissal of the complaint."

"On what grounds?" snarled Burger.

"In the case of the people vs. Culbertson, it was held that there was no penalty for an overbid if the contract should have been made. We submit that South did willfully throw this contract away by leading a heart to the jack at trick five. He should have led the 10 of diamonds to his jack instead and continued by leading a second low heart toward dummy. West would have been forced to play the ace and South would eventually have made three heart tricks and his contract."

"Case dismissed," said the Judge. "South will be held for assault on an almost ironclad contract."

Heyburn Man Held After Causing Stir In Store

BURLEY — A Heyburn man is in Cassia County jail in lieu of $4,000 bond, on two separate charges, forgery and unauthorized use of a credit card, and parole violation from California. He was arrested after causing some excitement at Roper's Store here.

Water Rates Discussed For Elmore Park

Mr. Mohlman Wins Pencil For Speech

RUPERT — Russell Mohlman, presenting a speech entitled "Look at the Pretty Lights," won the blue pencil award during this week's meeting of the Rupert Toastmasters at the Red Ram in Rupert. Other speeches given were "Why Celebrate Christmas at All?" by Pete Ford, and "A Holiday or Tradition," by Neal Breashears.

on the forgery charge and attempting to obtain property worth over $400 with an unauthorized credit card, and was arraigned earlier on the fugitive warrant. Bond was set at $2,000 in both cases.

The man was arrested Monday night in Roper's Clothing store when he attempted to use a stolen credit card. According to James Roper, Olson had purchased about $48 worth of clothing in the downstairs store and then attempted to purchase $101.25 worth from an upstairs department.

The code on the card revealed to employees that a check should be made if the bearer wanted to purchase more than $100 worth of merchandise at one time. So one employee kept Olson busy while another employee called the bank card's headquarters and was informed the card was stolen.

Store employees then notified Burley police. Olson became suspicious of the delay, but Mr. Roper and Mrs. Ralph Butters kept him downstairs in the office until police arrived. As the officer was escorting Olson out the door, Olson took a swing at the officer and pulled the hands of two other officers.

Two employees, Mike King, 19, and Steve Kitley, 24, joined the officer in chasing the fugitive. King cut off his escape route in the parking lot across the street from the Federal Land Bank office.

Police said Olson wrestled free from King and headed down the alley behind the Pacific Co-op Supply. The chase ended in the Darrell's dry cleaning store when Kitley, who was right behind, held Olson until the officer arrived. Olson had run into the opened back door of the dry cleaning firm.

The credit card was reported stolen from a car in Boise and bears the name of Ralph Lowery.

Olson asked for the statutory time to get an attorney when he was arraigned Thursday. Officers here have not yet heard from California authorities, but received the fugitive warrant.

Price Index For Farmers Is Down

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho farmers received less for their commodities at mid-November than they did a month earlier, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said today. The index of prices received fell one point below the previous month, the report said.

Prices of all livestock items were above last year at this time but the livestock index was down from October because of drop in prices received for beef cattle.

Meanwhile, the reporting service said Idaho farmers paid more for feed on Nov. 15 than they did at mid-October.

Answers To Questions On Draft Given

Answers to some of the questions submitted to the Times-News by young men of the community concerning the new military lottery system have been obtained from the Twin Falls office of the Selective Service.

Question: Does a young man in a deferred student status retain the same number that was drawn Dec. 1 until he reverts to I-A status on completion of college, or does he get a new number each year?

Answer: The number drawn in the recent lottery will always be his number providing he was born before 1951. Another drawing will be held for those born in 1951 and later.

Question: My deferment expires in October, 1970. Would I then be subject to induction in 1970 or 1971?

Answer: This would depend on your lottery number. If your number is reached in 1970, you could easily be called before the end of 1970, or even if your number is reached when the deferment ends.

Question: I would like to know if the present lottery selection would affect me. I will become 19 in February of 1970.

Answer: No. If you were born in 1951 or after, you are not involved in the current lottery. Another will be held in February, at which time birthdates of young men born in 1951 will be drawn and numbers assigned. The Dec. 1 lottery was for persons born from Jan. 1944 through Dec. 31, 1950.

QUESTION: I am 18. I would like to know what you mean by the lottery. If your birthday was called are you a draftee. My birthday was called as Number 200, March 19.

Answer: If you are only 18, the current lottery does not affect you, but you will have a number drawn in February which will become your draft number after that time.

Question: My question on the draft lottery concerns those already called up for their physical examination, but not yet drafted. Would a young man born May 13, but called up for his physical exam in January, 1970, be drafted before those chosen in the lottery, or would his name be taken in turn according to his birth date?

Answer: The question must come from outside of Idaho as no physical examination calls have been issued as yet in Idaho for January, 1970. If the individual were born in 1951 he would not be affected by the present lottery. If born before 1951, however, he would automatically come under the present lottery and regardless of whether or not he had taken his physical and would be inducted according to his lottery status. Some young men born in 1951 have been called for physical examinations, but not for induction.

Two Chosen

GLENN FERRY — Marva Wootan and Paul Shrum were chosen by Glenns Ferry High School as the "Boy and Girl of the Month" for December. Miss Wootan is a junior and participates in band, chorus, G.A.A., Spanish Club, Annual Staff and is secretary-treasurer of the drill team. Shrum, a sophomore, is a member of band, G. F. Club, and Spanish Club. He is on the varsity basketball team and played varsity football.

THE GRADUATE

If he's going on to college he'll need more than good wishes.

Law students and English literature majors need a heavy-duty work portable like the Studio 45. It's rugged enough for day-in-and-day-out typing, yet light enough to take home for polishing off term papers during vacations.

Alcatraz Indians Seek Daily Newspapers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Indians occupying Alcatraz Island seek to add an extra service—daily newspapers.

Editions of the San Francisco Chronicle were delivered to them by helicopter on Thursday and received by two Indian girls in a brief ceremony representing hope of such continued service.

Food, medicine and clothing have been top priority to be carried by the lighters supplying the estimated 150 Indians on the island, but news communication with the mainland has been only by radio and one television set. The Indians indicated they wanted about 20 daily papers delivered and Al Newman, public affairs director of radio station KSPQ, offered to make the delivery by the station's chartered helicopter, used in highway reporting, if contributions were made to pay for the newspapers.

An ad hoc committee headed by Steve Talbot, political science teacher at the University of California at Berkeley, sought to raise the money needed to pay for delivery of daily papers five days a week.

Religion Today

By Rev. Lester Kinsolving

DETROIT — The first woman ever elected president of the National Council of Churches (NCC) is Mrs. Theodore (Cynthia) Wedel, wife of a retired clergyman who is one of the Episcopal Church's most revered elder statesmen.

In this post, Mrs. Wedel will need every bit of her renowned brilliance and charm; among other reasons because she is also the first presidential candidate in Council history to have to face a rival candidate.

And her rival, the Rev. Albert Cleague of Detroit, was hardly gracious in his concession speech. Immediately after learning that he had received only 93 out of the 480 votes cast, he proceeded to excoriate what he termed "the white racist establishment of the NCC" which he identified as "anti-Christ."

The Rev. Mr. Cleague, a United Church of Christ pastor of Detroit's "Shrine of The Black Madonna," is renowned among other reasons for his contention that Jesus Christ was black—which disclosure is no less extraordinary than the Nazi proclamation that Jesus was an "honorary Aryan."

During an interview with this writer, the Rev. Mr. Cleague strenuously asserted that, while he is opposed to segregation, he accepts separatism such as ghettos, which he said "We can use for political and economic power."

He went on to say that black dormitories on college campuses are "a good thing, if black students are trying to find a black identity and want to be together."

The Rev. Mr. Cleague also noted that Dr. Martin Luther King "was killed by white men." But as for the black men who murdered Malcolm X; "I would question who they were working for."

The militant Detroit pastor was nominated by the National Committee of Black Churchmen (NCBC) — for whom the General Convention of Mrs. Wedel's own Episcopal Church recently voted to raise $200,000. (The Rev. Metz Rollins, New York Presbyterian who is NCBC executive director, told this writer that the Episcopal Convention's designation of his organization as recipient of the $200,000 — rather than the Black Economic Development Conference of which James Forman has been appointed field director — "was a dodge, everybody understood that.") Moreover he conceded that "the only honest response to the Black Manifesto came from the Catholic Archdiocese of New York, which rejected it."

As for the Episcopal General Convention, he conceded that it has "quibbled" in using the NCBC as a conduit — and that Episcopal leaders had subsequently tried to smear the secular press for reporting the situation.)

In addition to this nomination of the Rev. Mr. Cleague (which was only slightly less sensational than a nomination of either the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell or the Rev. Muhammad Ali) the NCC delegates were repeatedly subjected to bitter denunciations and bizarre demonstrations.

The NCC General Assembly devoted most of the afternoon of the first day of its four-day meeting to assorted protests. These ranged from numerous black demands, to an American Indian who demanded $750 million (30 times the entire NCC budget) to "Jonathan's Wake," a hippie aggregation who appeared with a giant balloon which they bounced about while scampering from one delegation to another, kissing both male and female delegates.

Some delegates expressed hope that the devotion of this much time would at least get the intrusions over with. But two days later, James Forman himself appeared and resumed the haranguing. (Mr. Forman has recently raised the level of reparations that his Black Manifesto demands from churches and synagogues from $500 million to $24 billion.)

And on the Assembly's final day, the Episcopal hippie priest, the Rev. Richard York of Berkeley, demonstrated his opposition to the Vietnam War by suddenly drenching the NCC officer's table with red paint.

The next General Assembly of the NCC is scheduled for 1972 in Dallas. These Assemblies are costly enough in travel, food, lodging and rental of facilities—not to mention the added costs in man hours devoted by able business and professional men who serve as delegates.

So perhaps president-elect Wedel's major problem will be in persuading many of these men to return to the 1972 Assembly — unless she can assure them that proper policing will keep the gathering from becoming so largely a white flagellation session and a bowling alley for oddballs.

T.F. First LDS Ward Was Organized In 1910

The Twin Falls First LDS Ward was organized in 1910 and the first organizational meeting was held at the home of Lawrence G. Kirkman, 601 6th Ave. W.

Later the first meeting place was in the chapel located at the corner of Third Avenue East and Third Street East, now occupied by the United Brethren in Christ Church.

At this time the stake headquarters were located at Oakley with William T. Jack as stake president.

There were about 75 members in the first organization of the ward. The first bishop was Mr. Kirkman with Arthur Swenson and Mr. Schwab as counselors. Mrs. Olivette Henry, who still resides in Twin Falls, was the ward clerk as well as president of the MIA.

The organization soon outgrew the facilities of the small church building, so the church at the corner of Third Street East and Fifth Avenue East was purchased in 1911.

As the congregation grew, it was decided that still larger quarters were needed, so the present chapel at the corner of Fourth Street East and Second Street East was started in 1913.

The basement was partly finished when World War I came along and construction was halted. By the time the war was over and construction on the chapel completed, the congregation had grown to about 1,300 and more changes were needed.

On July 26, 1919, the Twin Falls Stake was organized. The chapel then served as a combination ward and stake headquarters from that time until the stakehouse on Maurice Street North was built in 1957.

The chapel near the City Park now serves the First and Third LDS Wards, with a total congregation of about 1,400 people.

Despite the sound condition of this building and its favorable location, plans are being made to build a modern chapel to meet the needs of the members residing in these wards.

The new bishop of this ward is Darrel A. Heider, a convert to the LDS Church. He replaces Howard Arrington who served in this position for slightly over 11 years.

Counselors of the newly-formed bishopric include Melvin VanNoy and Jack Stanger.

Mr. Heider is a flooring contractor and has been a resident of Twin Falls for many years.

Writer Notes Meaning Of Herald Angel's Proclamation

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religion Writer

The shepherds were frightened when the angel appeared. But the angel said:

"Don't be afraid. For I am here with good news for you, which will bring joy to all the people."

The coming of Christ is "good news"—for you, for me, for all people. That was the herald angel's proclamation on the first Christmas Eve. It is still the basic rationale of Christmas festivity.

Nearly everyone would agree, probably, that the birth of Christ is "good news" in the sense that the world has been a better place because of His life and teaching.

But the herald angel meant a great deal more than that. And what the angel meant—and what has always been the heart of the Christian gospel—is that Christ was the living embodiment of a message which God was unable to get across to mankind in any other way.

The message is simple and enormously comforting. God does not hate us. He loves us.

He does not wish to punish us for our errant ways. He seeks reconciliation and offers forgiveness.

The destiny He has prepared for us is not extinction, which would render our brief existence ultimately meaningless. He offers us eternal communion with His own timeless being, and thereby confers crucial importance on each deed and word and thought by which we become more or less worthy to be called His sons.

The distinguished British theologian Erik Routley, points out that men have an ingrained tendency to suspect that God is hostile toward them.

This is a hangover from the primitive era of religion when gods were thought to be vengeful and capricious beings who had to be appeased by every means possible. Some versions of Christian theology have helped to perpetuate this unflattering concept of God, Routley says, by depicting Christ as a scapegoat who sacrificed himself in order to assuage God's hatred of humanity.

But this, says Routley, is "a pernicious distortion of the truth."

"Jesus Christ did not come to stand for us over against God: To vindicate mankind against a God who disbelieved in man's worthiness to be saved. The office of Christ was not to represent men to God, but to be God among men. Where men were saying constantly that 'God must be caused to love the world,' Christ said, 'God is love'—meaning that God loves the world and has always loved it."

That is indeed good news, forever relevant, perennially fresh, worthy of being celebrated with joy over and over again.

Merry Christmas!

God has asked us to

Now how about listening to Him?

More than a few things are troubling our cities,
our world, our souls.

Sometimes, we raise our hands heavenward and say,
"When oh when are you going to change it all, Lord?"

And "changing it all" is just what He expects us to do!
Listen: "Love your neighbor as yourself."

If that were put to practice—really to practice—
ghettos would not exist, wars would cease, hunger would end, inhumanity would be stricken from the dictionary.

A perfect world.
Will we ever see it?

One thing is certain, we won't even begin to see it, if we don't start doing what God has asked of us for heaven only knows how long.
