SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese forces Saturday reported killing 72 Viet Cong in two battles in the Mekong River Delta but military sources said action was ebbing on other fronts in a pre-Christmas lull. Two Americans were killed when a helicopter was shot down, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops failed to step up battle activity Saturday—the ninth anniversary of the founding of the Communist National Liberation Front (NLF). Allied commanders had feared attacks to call attention to the date. The heaviest ground fighting reported in communiques released Saturday afternoon was in the delta, the ricebowl region stretching across flatlands below Saigon. Two battles were waged there Friday. South Vietnamese regular army troops reported killing 38 Viet Cong in a battle near Giac district town 37 miles southwest of Saigon. South Vietnamese losses were described as light. Near Binh Dai, about 40 miles south of Saigon, South Vietnamese militiamen supported by fighter-bombers killed 34 Viet Cong, communiques said. Military sources said South Vietnamese losses were five killed and 12 wounded. The two Americans killed in the helicopter loss died when the aircraft as it was flying over jungles 62 miles northwest of Saigon. The crash raised U.S. helicopter losses in combat in the war to 1,430. Other U.S. units engaged in light and sporadic actions with Communist forces Friday and early Saturday, spokesmen said. In the largest of the clashes, men of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division reported killing 14 Communist soldiers in a killed and one wounded, American-headquarters reported.

Aid Revolt

It was apparent in the 200-195 vote margin the House gave the lowest foreign aid bill in history that many Americans are becoming convinced the practice of shoveling out billions in aid to other nations at a time when much remains undone at home for lack of funds is ill-advised.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Former U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg took himself out of the 1970 New York political picture because he could not take the heated criticism which followed one of the biggest foul-ups the frequently inept New York Democrats have ever committed. Goldberg was overwhelmingly their star prospect, with Oliver Quayle polls indicating he could defeat either of two Republican incumbents next year — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or Sen.

Charles Gooden. His abrupt pullout was a stunning blow to Democratic leaders in the state and left them rummaging frantically through a roster of lesser types — some of them frayed from previous bids for high office — in a scramble for a suitable 1970 ticket for the two big jobs.

Even though it had been announced in advance and well-reported, the session took on the back-room flavor of a sort the attending Democratic liberals used to attack when led by the now-deposed boss Carmine Desapio.

Interviews in this case were taken in the Merc Shopping Center in Halley.

ANSWERS

MRS. PERRY BROWN: "Christmas means family to me and being together. Of course it is really Christ's birthday and we try to remember that by sharing what we have."

MRS. BUD MIZER: "It's your family—giving and sharing and getting closer to God."

LEONA CASTLE: "It means a time of giving and being together with your family."

ROY LANDRETH: "Getting together with your family and having a good time."

Brown Mizer Castle Landreth

Landreth Ensign Wanlass Martin

DALE LANDRETH: "To me it means coming home. I am on leave from service and just returned from Okinawa."

STEPHANIE ENSIGN: "The season means our family can be together."

CHARLES WANLASS: "To me Christmas giving. I do, though, especially enjoy the Christmas decorations."

MRS. DUKE MARTIN: "Christmas is Christ's birthday and we should keep it that way, and maybe go a step farther and also remember he died for our sins."

Christmas Needy To Get Gifts

About 150 Christmas baskets of groceries will be delivered Tuesday to families in the Twin Falls area who would otherwise not have special holiday meals.

Sally Molyneux, director of the YWCA, who has been coordinating the program this year, said many organizations have come to the assistance of the Y and the program by providing donations of cash and groceries and by taking one or more of the names from the list to provide for the families. She said some groceries and especially money with which to purchase meat can still be used as names are continuing to be called and brought in to the Y clearing center. Most of the baskets will be delivered Tuesday afternoon. Elks Lodge members are providing for most of those outside of the immediate Twin Falls area and a number of youth organizations of the Y and others are assisting in delivery.

Suit Asking $248,000 Is Filed Here

A lawsuit asking $248,000 in alleged damages was filed against the American Casualty Co. Friday, records in Fifth District court showed.

Harold Patterson filed the suit. He claims he and the company settled for a lump sum on a claim arising from an accident Feb. 11, 1964 that injured Mr. Patterson's spine. The settlement came at a hearing before the Idaho Industrial Accident Board.

But Mr. Patterson claimed during the hearing, held in 1965, the defendant company presented medical testimony on the condition of the plaintiff and withheld certain medical data which showed the plaintiff's condition. He said he did not know this at the time.

Mr. Patterson said his injury was aggravated by the medical treatment furnished by the defendant company and as a result of this treatment he is permanently disabled.

He said he has a wife and six children and will not be able to work for the rest of his life. Mr. Patterson asks $148,000 lost wages, $10,000 future medical expenses and $90,000 general damages.

Summer Job Directory Is Received Here

High school seniors, college students and teachers who want summer jobs can get the latest information from the 1970 edition of "Summer Employment Directory of the United States" just received at the Twin Falls Public Library.

More than 80,000 job openings at resorts, summer camps, national parks, summer theatres and ranches are listed.

There are unusual jobs listed, also. These include positions as teachers in black history, a female navigator of a 34-foot auxiliary sloop and a consultant to a burro.

Hurricanes generally last about nine days.

Relaxed Trade Embargo Set To Improve Peking Relations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration has partially lifted the 18-year U.S. trade embargo against Communist China in a move high officials hope will improve relations with Peking but not alienate the Soviet Union.

State Department officials were watching for reaction from both Peking and Moscow to the announcement Friday of the three-point liberalization plan.

The plan, recommended by Secretary of State William P. Rogers and approved by President Nixon, modifies the foreign assets control regula-

Town 'Sale' Stirs Furor Of Dispute

LORMAN, Miss. (UPI) — Henry Cohn apparently hit upon an unfortunate choice of words when he offered recently to sell "an entire old fashioned country town near Natchez, Miss."

The newspaper ad brought immediate response — mainly from irate citizens who said you can't sell a town. It also brought several prospective buyers.

The ad said Lorman had fallen into disuse in recent years but, at $75,000, it would be a wonderful bargain for someone willing to refurbish it as a tourist attraction.

"He is only selling all that was left to him, not the whole town," said Mrs. Ernest Brethaupt, whose husband operates the Cohn Brother General Store. Cohn has a half interest in the building, but Brethaupt owns the merchandise and leases the space.

"We resent the fact that he describes the town as falling into disuse," said Mrs. Brethaupt. "The only thing that is falling into disuse around here is his property."

Cohn, who was willed 13 buildings, including two plantation mansions, agreed that he could not literally sell the town, which also includes about 200 residents, 20 homes not owned by him, a $20,000 telephone company building and a $300,000 structure headquarters of the Southwest Mississippi Electric Power Association.

Kenny Sargent Dies In Dallas

DALLAS (UPI) — Thirty-five years ago, when Kenny Sargent sang "For You" and "Under a Blanket of Blue" at Gien Island Casino near New York, women stopped dancing and pulled their partners to the bandstand to listen.

Sargent, a disc jockey since 1943, died of a heart attack early Saturday and broke his women fans up again.

"We put two people on the switchboard to answer calls," a spokesman for radio station WRR said. "Hundreds of people, mainly women, jammed it."

"They would say, 'Don't tell me Kenny's dead. They were either crying when they called or started crying when we told them he was.'"

"We finally gave up, pulled out all the plugs and stopped answering the telephone."

Sargent had been a disc jockey at WRR for the past 10 years.

tions under which the embargo is maintained. The points are:

— Foreign subsidiaries of American companies henceforth will be allowed to trade in nonstrategic goods with mainland China.

— U.S. companies with branches abroad now will be allowed to buy goods "of presumptive Chinese origin" in Hong Kong and other Far East markets and trade with them in other third countries.

The $100 ceiling on purchases by American tourists of mainland Chinese goods for personal use is now lifted. Museums, universities, and collectors will be able to import mainland Chinese goods on their own account for their own use.

This important liberalization of the trade embargo is the result of the administration's study of ways to improve trade with Communist China. In July the administration announced that it would allow American tourists to purchase up to $100 in Communist Chinese goods for personal use. Previously such purchases had been totally prohibited without special licenses.

On Nov. 18, Rogers indicated in a television interview that the administration was considering ways to improve communications and trade with Communist China.

One of the big problems the administration has faced is to liberalize trade without deepening the suspicions of the Soviet Union, which, currently is trying to negotiate its border dispute with the Peking government.

The administration has carefully stated numerous times in recent months that it does not seek to take advantage of Sino-Soviet differences and has stressed that it wishes to improve relations equally with Moscow and Peking. Officials hope that such declarations will allay fears of Soviet leaders who may think that Washington is seeking to make some kind of secret deal with Peking.

Robson Said 'Man Of Year' In Gem State

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho UPI editors and news directors have chosen Attorney General Robert M. Robson and Mrs. Mary Brooks, director of the U.S. Mint, as Idaho's Man of the Year and Woman of the Year for 1969.

Robson, who was appointed attorney general by Gov. Don Samuelson, received more votes than all of those considered received combined.

Mrs. Brooks, widow of former Illinois Republican Sen. C. W. Land Brooks and daughter of Sen. John Thomas of Idaho, was elected to the Idaho Senate in 1964 and at that time was the only woman serving as a Senator.

In 1960 she was elected vice chairman of the Republican National Committee but resigned in 1963 to return to Idaho to manage the family ranch. In 1965 she was named as assistant chairman of the national committee.

President Nixon announced her appointment as director of the mint on March 28, 1969. One editor said he picked Mrs. Brooks because "no woman from Idaho has done what she has done."

Deaf Youngster Learns Of Santa Claus By Sign Language, Seeks Jolly Gent Nightly

OLDSMAR, Fla. (UPI) — Five-year-old Robin Kirkhan kept running to look out the window of his small home here Friday night, his eyes sparkling in anticipation.

He was awaiting Santa Claus, making a special visit just to see him.

Robin, who suffered numerous birth defects and is totally deaf, is now a robust youngster holding his own at a public kindergarten.

His mother suffered German measles when she was pregnant with Robin who in addition to deafness, had hip trouble and has cataracts on both eyes.

But the outgoing youngster has learned to read lips expertly and while still using a lot of sign language, is learning to talk and to write.

Santa-known around his Hollywood Hills, Fla., home as Monroe Arnold Lerman—is no stranger to the world of the handicapped. He suffered a spinal injury at birth and is a paraplegic.

It was this close tie that led him from southern Florida to this small community north-west of Tampa just to visit Robin and to present him with a personal Christmas gift the child had requested, a race track outfit.

It is this same close tie that will take him north to Rocky Mount, N.C., Richmond and Alexandria, Va., and on to Boston to visit other handicapped children.

Lerman enjoys making things happier for these children. And he has always worked to try to offset his own handicap and to make things easier for himself.

This led to several inventions, including the collapsible wheelchair and driving controls which enable handicapped people to drive cars.

He holds patents on these inventions and the royalties have made him independently wealthy.

Attorney Denies Chicago Police Hampered Federal Investigation Into 'Panthers'

CHICAGO (UPI)—Cook County state's attorney Edward V. Hanrahan has denied that 14 Chicago policemen assigned to his office hampered the Justice Department's preliminary investigation into the slayings of Black Panther Party leaders Fred Hampton and Mark Clark.

U.S. Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced Friday that a federal grand jury and a seven-man team of government attorneys will investigate the Dec. 4 raid. Mitchell said the preliminary investigation had not "produced any meaningful results because several witnesses declined to cooperate voluntarily with federal investigators."

Radio Link Fails On Teton Climb

MOOSE, Wyo. (UPI) — No word has been received from 11 veteran climbers who began an assault on the Grand Teton Mountain in northwestern Wyoming Thursday morning.

The expedition, led by George Lowe of Salt Lake City, was scheduled to return from the mountain next Monday. However, rangers from Grand Teton National Park have failed in two attempts to raise radio contact with the party.

Asst. Dist. Ranger Dunbar said he felt there was no problem. "This is a real strong party. These guys are very experienced climbers."

Suson said the climbers were probably in the Amphitheatre Lake area which is "impossible to reach with a radio because of the interference."

In other developments, the Black Panthers have refused to be interviewed... it was impossible to complete... preliminary investigation... Hanrahan said the police showed "continuing willingness" to be interviewed. "It is outrageous that the Department of Justice would abandon its practices because of the refusal of the Black Panther Party to tell the truth to FBI agents," he said.

The crime commission report was released at the same time as a report by the Chicago police internal investigation division which concluded that police "used lawful means to overcome the assault."

Police Supt. James Conlisk, who released the two-paragraph statement, said he would have no further comment on the matter. The statement said the "investigation of this incident shows no misconduct by the police officers involved."

The cessation of the Justice Department probe was necessary, Mitchell said, because "a number of responsible citizens have questioned whether this incident may have involved the denial of federally protected rights."

Neither Mitchell nor Jerris Leonard, the assistant attorney general for the civil rights division who will head the government team, would say whether the reluctant witnesses were state's attorney's policemen or Panthers or both.

But Hanrahan said Leonard "told me that because the

Christmas Still Has Room For Traditions--Like Cutting Own Tree

CUTTING ONE'S OWN Christmas tree has become a yearly tradition for many Magic Valley residents, as witnessed by the report from Lew Martindale, Bureau of Land Management area manager for the Raft River resource area, that some 3,000 persons participated in last weekend's tree cutting south of Almo. He said 525 trees were cut by families who make the occasion a real outing, with kids, dogs, snowmobiles and picnic lunches all part of the action. Taking a coffee break, at left, after cutting their tree, are John Thiebert, John Doerr, Rosemarie Doerr and Corinne Thiebert, all Twin Falls. The two families have cut their own trees on similar outings for the last five years. Earl Johnson, Heyburn, happily brings out his Christmas tree from the BLM sale area. Second from right, Lloyd Hess, Burley, with ladies from his group, displays Johnny Horizon litterbags which were distributed to each family. At right, Mr. Johnson decides how he is going to cut the tree, under the critical surveillance of his wife, Betty, and Lloyd and Roberta Bartlett, also of Heyburn, while their children look on.

Idaho Power Pays Property Taxes, T.F. Gets $248,764

The Idaho Power Co. has sent checks to 27 Idaho counties to pay the initial installments on 1969 property taxes totaling more than $5 million for the third successive year, it was reported.

Twin Falls County will receive $248,764 as its first-half share of the taxes levied on Idaho Power's operating facilities and construction work in progress.

The utility's full 1969 property tax in the county is more than $497,529, of which about $314,041 will be used for the support of education.

Company President Albert Carlsen said Idaho Power — the largest taxpayer in the state — will pay a total of more than $5.2 million in 1969 property taxes to the 27 counties.

Schools will receive more than $3.4 million, or about 65 per cent of the total payment.

"The size of our 1969 property tax bill clearly shows that Idaho Power has not been suddenly favored with a 'windfall', or a 'massive property tax reduction', as a result of the Idaho Supreme Court's decision requiring equal assessment ratios," Mr. Carlsen said.

The company's 1969 assessment ratio of 29.13 per cent, he said, is "actually higher" than the 28.8 per cent ratio in effect prior to the time legislation was passed that resulted in the Supreme Court decision.

"If taxes were equalized as required by the Idaho constitution so that utility property is taxed at the same rate as the property of other businesses, the result would only be equity — not a windfall," Mr. Carlsen declared.

Under present law, he pointed out, "it will take 13 years, or until 1982, to achieve equalization of assessment ratios."

"During that 13-year period, Idaho Power's growth and the addition of new operating facilities is expected to more than offset any property tax reduction that Idaho Power is one of the out of every dollar it receives paid a total of more than $4.9 million in property taxes to the amount to help build new schools, buy books and pay teacher salaries. The remainder has been used for the support of colleges and library, highway, fire, sewer and cemetery districts," he said.

Study Of Basques Is Slated

The Basque Institute of North America filed articles of incorporation Thursday in Boise for a Twin Falls-based unit to research Basque tradition.

Dr. Bruce Harrison, CSI librarian, is chairman of the board, and Robert Pence, is secretary.

Dr. Harrison said there are two other Basque institutes — one in Europe and the other in South America. He said they felt it was fitting, since there are so many Basque people in Idaho, that such an institute be organized here. Dr. Harrison said the Basque language has been put into French and Spanish dictionaries, but none in English. He said he thought this would be one of their first projects.

The main purpose of the institute is to research, develop, preserve and offer education in regard to Basque culture and language.

Tit For Tat

CRAWTHORNE, England (UPI) — For Mrs. Aileen Holmes, it was an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth — a splash for a splash.

Motorist Francis McKee splashed her when he drove through a puddle. Later, Mrs. Holmes confronted him with a bucket of water and demanded, "Apologize, or you get this."

McKee refused and got the water in his face.

Police refused to get into the act. "It's a domestic matter," a spokesman said.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE Kellwood Co. plant is nearly complete, according to Robert Matthews, plant manager. He said some production will begin the second week in January and a grand opening is planned for the spring. Masons are finishing up stonework in the office area of the plant, which is located on Washington Street South.

Production At Kellwood Company Hosiery Plant To Begin Second Week In January

Production at the Kellwood Co. hosiery plant will begin the second week of January, Robert Matthews, plant manager, announced this week.

Mr. Matthews said knitting will begin in one department at that time. He said eight or nine men who have completed the College of Southern Idaho training course are now on the Kellwood payroll. Others, he said, will be hired as the production increases.

Mr. Matthews said the plant will not be in full production until 1971. He explained it takes a great deal of time to install the machines as they arrive.

The construction crews are now finishing up with the stonework in the front office at the site on Washington Street South. The building is being painted and some of the heavy equipment has been moved there, but is not yet installed.

Mr. Matthews said a grand opening is being planned for sometime in spring, perhaps April.

"Everything is on schedule," the plant manager said. "We are well pleased with the people with whom we are working. We think this country is great and think we are in the right spot."

CHRISTMAS
MERCHANDISE

THE SUN VALLEY branch of the First Security Bank of Idaho officially opened its doors this week for business. The new bank building is located in the Sun Valley mall. Banking services available to guests, residents and employees of Sun Valley are checking and savings accounts, correspondent bank services, travelers checks and BankAmericard cash advance. Richard P. Snyder, formerly manager of First Security's Ketchum office, has been named to manage the bank.

Education Commission Adopts $13,700 Operating Budget

BOISE (UPI) — Members of the Professional Practices Commission on Education held their initial meeting at the State Capitol Building Friday and approved a $13,700 operating budget for the 1969-70 school year.

The investigatory body, designed to serve as a buffer in cases involving teachers and school boards, had sought a budget of $20,000 from the State Board of Education but the figure was trimmed.

Idaho Education Association Executive Director Wayne York, who sat in as an observer and advisor, said the commission is not a policing organization but rather one that will hear complaints from organized groups in the education field and then offer recommendations.

The commission was established under House Bill 237, passed by the last session of the legislature. It is headed by Mrs. Lella Lewis, a teacher from Rexburg.

The budget is derived from a $5.00 additional fee attached to each teacher's certificate.

Shoppers Are Advised To Check Cash Register Tapes

By DEAN C. MILLER, UPI Business Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—American consumers, the alleged experts on machines, lose great amounts of money daily because they don't bother to understand one machine which is important to their economic lives.

It's the cash register which especially in holiday period of heavy buying, gobbles up their paychecks.

National Cash Register (NCR) has some tips on how shoppers can save many dollars by understanding a few basic principles of the machine and then applying them in a careful, consistent audit of purchases.

If the shopper can't keep up with the "indication" or "pop-up" window with figures, as often is the complaint, there is an effective alternative to on-the-spot auditing. Shoppers can and should check the written sales slip certified by the register with printed machine figures, or the printed list of all items purchased.

Cash registers have a locked in "journal tape" which lists details of every transaction. It provides an "audit trail" or history of transactions which management or shopper can inspect if necessary. In some cases, these tapes are sent daily to a computer center for automatic analysis.

The journal tape has a three digit number at the end of each of print. It identifies a particular transaction and the sequence in which it occurred. The same number appears on the receipt. If the shopper or management wishes to trace an article sale, the transaction number permits quick spotting.

Also on the printed receipt is a code letter identifying the clerk who billed you. Most registers print a department or "class of merchandise" symbol or "each item" letter—letter for bakery or a number and some itemized receipts show abbreviations such as "s" (subtotal), "T" (total), "amt" (amount tendered) and "ch" (change due).

With a long list of items it is not necessary to add up every item listed on the register receipt. A faster method of checking, according to NCR, is comparing the receipt with the item bought. If the prices do not check, or an item seems to have cost more than expected, keys once too often or accidentally charges you for something the previous or next person in line has bought.

Beware of transactions where the cashier has "forgotten" to charge you for an item and add it on the bill without ringing it up. Every item should go through the register and appear on the receipt.

Skating

HAZELTON — Ice skating is reported as excellent at Wilson Lake, Bert Havens reported Saturday. He said almost the entire lake can be used for skating and the condition of the ice is the best in recent years.

The road into the lake, which is northwest of Hazelton, has been graveled, he added. Many skaters have used the lake the past few weeks.

Sen. Church Raps Nixon On Spud Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said today the continued refusal of the Nixon Administration to order a diversion program for the Idaho potato crop is "deeply regrettable."

Church made the comment in making public the latest letter from the Agriculture Department reconfirming its refusal to establish a diversion program.

Signed by acting Secretary of Agriculture Clarence D. Palmby, the letter concedes that while the department may have authority to order a diversion program for Idaho, the law "is a matter of interpretation and we are most reluctant to broaden our interpretation of the authority in this statute to use it as a means of disposing of weather-damaged crops."

Church had sought the diversion program after the Idaho potato crops was severely damaged by frost.

LARRY ECKLUND, formerly of Ontario, Calif., has assumed the position of sales and service manager for Air West at the Twin Falls City County Airport. He began his work here last week. Mr. Ecklund replaces Ronald B. (Map) Masoner.

Sen. Andrus Disputes Need For Additional State Police

LEWISTON (UPI)—State Sen. Cecil Andrus, D-Nezperce, has taken issue with a report calling for 138 more State Policemen to be added to the force in the next 18 months.

Andrus, considered a possible contender for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination next year, took his stand at a recent meeting of the Roads and Streets Committee of the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce.

A California consulting firm recommended the addition of the troopers and 20 supervisory sergeants and the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission adopted the report.

The report said the state now has 101 troopers and each officer is responsible for nearly 5,000 four-wheel vehicles.

According to the report the reason more state policemen are needed is because the state police are taking on more of the traffic responsibilities formerly handled by local police agencies.

The report recommended the addition of the troopers at a cost of $2.2 million over the next 18 months.

It was the expenditure of this money that Andrus questioned. He said the money would come out of the highway users fund and would hurt more than $8 million in highway projects because of the loss of matching federal funds.

Andrus asked, "Do you want more wages or highway construction projects?"

"I want the highway construction projects. You can't have both."

BOW BELLS

The famous Bow Bells are the bells of St. Mary-le-Bow (Bow Church), located almost in the center of London. The church was bombed during World War II; the bells were recast from the old metal and rung again in 1961 for the first time after more than 20 years.

Texas is the nation's leading producer of oil.

Businessman Finds Call Pays Off

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The owner of an appliance store called his shop recently to see if there were any messages and found one—the store was being robbed.

"Are you in trouble?" Philip Milberger, owner of Frank's Home Supply, asked.

"Yes," Marion Boyde, 28, a store employee, answered.

"Are you being robbed?"

"Yes."

Milberger placed another call to police and officers arrived to find a man loading store merchandise into a truck.

Police said Lawrence Brown, 32, was allegedly loading two television sets and a stereo set into the truck. Two other men, Joe Archie, 33, and James I. Lambrecht, 34, were inside the store. All were booked on suspicion of robbery.

Jerome Council Issues Permits

JEROME — Building permits were issued during the City Council meeting last week.

They include Jerome County Fair Board, John J. Steile Jr., for a new roof on a building at the Jerome County Fairgrounds; Henry Jasper, garage and utility room addition; Arellano and Johnson, new residence in Mann Sub-division; Don Rupert for a fireplace; John C. Swenson, for installation of self service gas pumps and to buy gas storage tanks on South Lincoln, and Wallace Ekren for two-car garage addition.

Beer licenses issued by the city council were to the Northern Tavern, the Elks Club, Moreley Food Center, and Safeway.

The Council approved renewal of all existing liquor licenses subject to the approval of Chief of Police C. H. Postney.

LINCOLN COUNTY Probate Court

Mrs. Judith Peterson, Bellevue, $5 for an expired safety inspection sticker.

Sheriff's Blotter

A black Angus calf belonging to Earl Hutchinson, Dietrich, was struck by a 1964 Pontiac car driven and owned by Ronald S. Thomas, Portland, Ore., six miles east of Shoshone on state highway 93A. About $400 damage resulted to the car, according to Norman Conable, a deputy sheriff, who stated the driver could not see the calf, since it was about 7 p.m. when the accident happened.

About $50 damage resulted to a 1969 Opel driven by Steven D. Marquis, Castro Valley, Calif., when the driver lost control of the vehicle, which crossed the road and hit a highway marker north of Shoshone. The road marker was also damaged, state patrolmen report.

About $700 damage resulted to a 1970 Chevrolet driven by Orville J. Cuthbert, Ontario, Ore., when he fell asleep and the car went across the center line into the borrow pit on the east side of Highway 93 north of Shoshone. The driver was cited for drunk driving.

A 1968 Dodge wrecker belonging to T. V. Strunk, Shoshone, was damaged $50 and a 1965 Ford driven by Donna Wallace, Sun Valley, was damaged about $110 when her car struck the parked wrecker on Highway 93 north of Shoshone. The wrecker, called to assist with another accident, was parked with flashers going in the northbound lane of traffic. Mrs. Wallace was cited for failure to observe the basic rule.

Bob Bonafont, Monterey, Calif., was treated for cuts and bruises when the 1968 Chevrolet pickup truck in which he was a passenger overturned 10 miles north of Shoshone when the driver, Joseph E. Cervera, Carmel, Calif., lost control on the icy road. Damage was estimated at $900.

More than $500 damage resulted to a 1958 Ford pickup driven and owned by Everett McGraw, May, Idaho, when it went off the road five miles east of Shoshone after hitting an icy spot.

Nebraska Rolls To Easy 45-6 Win Over Georgia In 35th Sun Bowl Game

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Paul Rogers kicked four field goals in the first quarter and Nebraska scored two touchdowns in less than a minute in the third quarter Saturday to give the Cornhuskers a 45-6 win over Georgia in the 35th annual Sun Bowl.

Rogers, taking advantage of a favorable 12 mile per hour wind, booted field goals of 50, 32, 42 and 37 yards and Jeff Kinney scored on an 11-yard run to give Nebraska an 18-0 lead in the first quarter.

Nebraska, the Big Eight champions, put the game out of reach with its scoring spurt in the third quarter. Quarterback Van Brownson hit fullback Mike Green from 11 yards out for one touchdown and plunged over from the one for the second.

The Cornhuskers' other touchdowns came on a one-yard plunge by reserve quarterback Dan Schnell and a two-yard run by Jerry Tagge in the fourth quarter.

Georgia, which crossed midfield only three times, scored its lone touchdown on a six-yard run by quarterback Paul Gilbert late in the final period.

After Brownson hit Green with the 11-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter, Nebraska got the ball right back when the Cornhuskers intercepted a pass and ran it back 43 yards to the two, setting up Brownson's run.

The injury-riddled Bulldog offense was completely stopped by Nebraska's "Black Shirt" defense, which came up with six interceptions and two fumbles.

Three of Rogers' field goals were set up by Bulldog mistakes. Rogers, who kicked three field goals of 50 yards or better during the regular season, opened the scoring with a 50-yard boot with 11:14 left in the first quarter.

On the ensuing Georgia drive, fullback Julian Smiley fumbled at his own 31 and Nebraska tackle Dave Walline fell on the loose ball on the 31. Six plays later, Rogers booted his second three-pointer.

Gooding Pins 58-56 Defeat On Murtaugh

GOODING—The Gooding Senators used Cahoon's clutch bucket and a Goodman tip-in in the final minute of play to knock off Murtaugh 58-56 Friday night, handing the Red Devils their first defeat of the season.

Frank Krahn hauled down 21 rebounds and shined all night on defense along with Estep and Jeffries as the Senators avenged a bad beating at Murtaugh earlier in the year. Estep, before fouling out, held Murtaugh's Mark Howard well below his usual point production, and Jeffries contained the Red Devils outside.

At one point it appeared Gooding might blow Murtaugh right off the floor, zooming ahead by as much as 15 points in the second quarter, but Murtaugh went to the half-court zone press and came back just as fast—only trailing 30-26 at intermission.

The Senators pulled ahead by 10 points midway through the third period, but Gooding's big men began to foul out in the persons of Gorrell and Estep, and Murtaugh came back to turn the game into a donnybrook in the final minutes.

Cahoon's basket with 50 seconds left put Gooding on top 56-54, and Goodman kept it with his crucial tip-in. Murtaugh hit the last bucket right at the buzzer.

Hansen Takes 70-60 Nod From Tigers

RICHFIELD—Hansen's Huskies pulled away from a tie in the third quarter and went on to take a 70-60 victory from Richfield Friday night behind the double figure scoring of three men.

It was a tight ballgame for 18 minutes, with Hansen leading by two at intermission, and Richfield took a brief lead in the third quarter at 41-39 after two previous ties established on Crowther buckets. Hansen took the lead back at 41-39 and began to pull away after Crowther fouled out at that point.

The Huskies, who got 13 points from Freestone, 18 from Taylor and 11 from Moore, mostly from the outside—led by as much as 14 in the late stages.

GLENS FERRY—Bob Carpenter hit 18 points to pace Glens Ferry past Kimberly 57-44 in a foul-filled contest Friday night which saw the Bulldogs' Steve Emerson raid the charity line for 14 of 16.

40 fouls were whistled on both teams, who combined for 33 free throws, although Emerson was the only man to hit double figures at the line.

The Pilots, who also got 13 points from Paul Shrum, pulled ahead by 10 points in the third quarter and kept that margin the rest of the ballgame, at times having a bigger edge.

Humes Leads ISU Past Chico 90-76

POCATELLO (UPI)—Willie Humes scored 31 points Saturday to lead Idaho State University past Chico State of California 90-76.

The game wasn't as close as the score would indicate, since the Bengals' full-court pressure forced Chico into 21 first-half turnovers and left ISU leading 53-31 at the half.

Idaho State led as much as 70-37 five minutes into the second half, and then Coach Dan Miller took all 15 of his players into the game.

ISU's Humes and O'Neil Simmons used the full court zone press to set up many lay-ins and short jump shots by teammates in addition to the 42 points scored between them. Center Charley Barber was second in scoring with 12 and led all rebounders with 10.

Wildlife Unit Hits Proposed Asotin Dam

LEWISTON (UPI)—A statement by an official of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers that a dam across the Snake River above Asotin, Wash., would have little effect on fish and wildlife was criticized Friday by the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

The department also took exception to a recent statement by Maj. Harold L. Mathias, acting Walla Walla district engineer for the Corps, that the dam would increase the number of visitor days from 10,000 to 30,000.

"Preliminary data from studies now being conducted by the department indicate the present use in actuality far exceeds not only Maj. Mathias' estimated present use figures but also his projected use figures for the reservoir," the department said.

The department added that the Asotin Dam would contribute no recreational benefits, few navigation benefits and a "relatively insignificant amount of hydro power in relation to power needs."

The department said the dam would have a serious effect on fish and upland game bird population.

"The important steelhead fishery would be virtually eliminated," it said. "The spring chinook salmon fishery that has increased in popularity in recent years would be lost. The sturgeon fishery would be lost. The quality of smallmouth bass and channel catfish fisheries would decline."

MANILA (UPI)—World Boxing Council junior lightweight champion Rene Barrientos scored a unanimous decision Saturday over Ecuador's Ege- nio Espinosa.

Barrientos, using his stiff left to advantage, staggered the Ecuadorian in the seventh and eighth rounds but failed to knock down Espinosa in the 10 round non-title bout.

It was the second victory in three outings for Barrientos since he won the title from Ruben Navarro Feb. 15.

Title Fight Called After Only $2,857 Goes Into Till

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—World Boxing Association heavyweight champion Jimmy Ellis and his manager Angelo Dundee flew home Saturday morning with an empty purse open for the highest bidder.

A 15-round championship bout between Ellis and Argentine challenger Gregorio Goyo Peralta was cancelled Friday night because promoters could not find a promoter willing to put up the $2,857 needed to finance the fight.

Now 36 years old, Peralta has been called "the beast" by some of his critics. In his professional career he has fought 88 times with three losses and two draws.

His last fight, against former South American heavyweight champion Oscar Bonavena in 1968, resulted in a draw.

Ellis, 29, has fought 36 professional bouts, losing five.

Hector Mendez, Peralta's promoter, told newsmen that as of Friday night, ticket sales had brought in less than $2,857.

He said the fight was off due to "unsurmountable economic difficulties."

Dundee told United Press International "Ellis and I are so shaken that I cannot think now of anything to say. It would have been a great fight. However, Dundee added, "they are talking back in New York about a fight between (Joe) Frazier and Ellis. Well, all I can tell you is that we are ready and the best bidder takes the fight."

Mendez said he lost $57,142 dollars in hotel, transportation and promotional costs because of the cancellation.

"With this I have lost a great illusion," Peralta said. "I have been concentrating on this for 30 days. I isolated myself from my family. I was dedicated to my preparation. Every day my optimism grew."

Russel Claims Giant Slalom

LIENZ, Austria (UPI)—France's daring Patrick Russel flashed to victory Saturday in this season's ski World Cup second giant slalom event, clocking the fastest times in both heats.

Russel dashed through the gates in 1:37.84 for a total of 3:21.09.

Rummerup was Italy's Gustavo Thoeni, who won the giant slalom at Val d'Isere a week ago in 3:21.52.

Judy Nagel flashed to her second victory in two days, capturing also the special slalom title of the Tyrolean International championships, counting toward the World Cup.

Utah Runs Past Michigan State In Classic Finals; Bradley Nabs Third Spot

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Run - and - shoot Utah bludgeoned Michigan State 105-85 in the championship game of the second annual Utah classic Saturday night. The Utes shot 63 percent from the field in the first half in turning in their finest performance of the year. They finished with five players in double figures.

Jim Maher, a 6-10 center, and Mike Newlin, a 6-4 guard, scored 23 and 21 respectively for the Utes, who ran their season mark to 5-2.

Bradley took third place honors in the Classic by rolling to a 95-80 victory over a tired San Francisco team. Bradley scored 18 points in the Classic by rolling to a 95-80 victory over a tired San Francisco team.

CSI Romps Past BSC Frosh 90-59

Steve Hegens put on another record to 7-1 with the runaway victory. CSI's next contest comes Jan. 7 against Rangely JC at Rangely. The next Golden Eagle home appearance is Jan. 16 with Dixie JC.

The Eagles, leading by as much as 40 points or more at times, were never pressed against the outclassed Broncos. Hegens' thread-the-needle passes and Ron Behagen and Al Davis' inside and outside scoring accounted for most of the offensive fireworks.

Pocatello Has 57-51 Win Over Bruins

POCATELLO — The Pocatello Indians stunned slow starting Twin Falls for a 12-point lead in the first 10 minutes of the game and then fought off the Bruins through the second half to claim a 57-51 Southern Idaho Conference victory Friday night.

Hegens hit on a bomb from the corner and converted a steal into a crumple to push the Eagles into an 11-5 edge, then CSI ripped off 10 straight points to push the score to 20-7 with 11:20 left in the half.

Chiefs Knock Defending Champion Jets Out Of AFL Series On 13-6 Win

NEW YORK (UPI)—Len Dawson, his wobbly left knee holding up well on a partially frozen turf, hit reserve flanker Gloster Richardson with a 19-yard scoring pass with 11:08 left to play Saturday and sparked the Kansas City Chiefs to a 13-6 victory over the New York Jets in the first game of the American Football League's playoffs.

The Chiefs, who will meet the winner of Sunday's game between Oakland and Houston for the AFL championship, preserved the victory by turning back three New York drives inside the 15-yard line in the final 11 minutes of play.

Dawson, whose knee was the subject of much concern for the Chiefs during the week, could not move his team into the end zone until the final quarter when he drove them 80 yards in just two plays.

After the Jets' Jim Turner tied the score at 6-6 with a seven-yard field goal, Dawson connected with Otis Taylor on a 61-yard pass which carried to the New York 19-yard line. On the next play, Richardson outmaneuvered cornerback Cornell Gordon and took Dawson's perfect pass without breaking stride in the end zone.

It appeared for a while that Richardson's touchdown would hold up easily, but Joe Namath rallied the Jets to within a touchdown-striking distance in the final six minutes of the game. Namath moved the Jets inside the 20 with 6:01 left to play but the Chiefs' defense, sparked by cornerback Emmett Thomas, broke up three successive pass plays along a Kansas City touchdown over on the 18.

The Chiefs, however, failed to move and the Jets gained control of the ball once more on their own 30 with just over four minutes remaining.

Namath connected on successive passes to Bake Turner and George Sauer to move the ball to the Chiefs' 28-yard line. Namath then connected with what appeared to be a touchdown pass to tight end Pete Lammons in the right corner but the referee ruled that Lammons was out of bounds before he caught the ball.

Namath came right back and almost connected with Sauer for a touchdown pass but Thomas stuck up his hand at the last moment and broke up the play.

That was the Jets' last scoring opportunity as the Chiefs took over and punted with less than 20 seconds remaining.

Prior to the last-quarter excitement, the game was a battle of field goals. Jim Turner got the Jets a 3-0 lead in the first period with a 27-yard kick and Jan Stenerud tied the score with a 23-yarder in the second period.

Stenerud put Kansas City ahead, 6-3, with a 26-yarder in the third period but the normally accurate specialist missed on three other opportunities inside the 50. During the regular season Stenerud set an AFL record by making 16 consecutive field goals.

Minico Grabs 70-57 Victory Over Skyline

RUPERT — Using their big height advantage, the Minico Spartans knocked off the Skyline Grizzlies 70-57 Friday night.

The Spartans ran up a big lead in the second quarter and rested the first team then as Skyline came back to stay within contention until the final half.

Minico ran up a 21-15 lead in the first quarter and then hit a hot streak in the second quarter. The Spartans hit nine of 12 field goal attempts in the second with minutes to run up their big lead. Skyline came back to within seven at halftime but in the third quarter Minico pushed in front by 16 and coasted home.

Minico took the preliminary 70-57.

Idaho Drops Portland; Adams Has 29

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — University of Idaho exploded for 17 straight points midway in the game and held off repeated Portland State rallies to post a 98-86 win Friday night.

Malcolm Taylor, a 6-2 junior forward, pumped in 30 points and hauled down 18 rebounds for the Vandals, who collected their second win of the season.

Idaho, which hit 58 per cent from the field (37-68) also received 29 points from reserve forward Ron Adams, who hit his last 12 free throws in a row and finished with 13 out of 14.

For PSU, which could come no closer than 10 points after holding as much as a five-point lead early in the game, Leon Edmonds scored 24 points and sophomore Willie Sloudamire had 23.

The Vikings, who shot .329 from the field, now have lost all four games this season. Idaho now is 2-3.

Tennessee Wins Fourth Vol Classic

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Bobby Croft scored 23 points Saturday night to lead Tennessee to its fourth consecutive Volunteer Classic championship, this one coming on a 55-47 victory over LaSalle.

Yale earlier won third place by beating Montana State, 78-65.

Croft was helped out by Don Johnson who had 16 in a hard-fought battle against the Explorers, who dominated the first seven minutes of play.

Ken Durrett had 23 points, Fran Dunphy got 11 and Bill Pleas had 10 for LaSalle.

Croft and Johnson teamed up to put the Vols ahead 28-24 with 6:29 left in the first half and LaSalle was never able to close the gap.

Jim Morgan scored 20 points in Yale's victory over Montana State.

Mike McLaren with 17 and Scott Michel had 14 in support of Morgan as the Elis handed Montana State its sixth loss of the season.

Don Lance got 20 points and Bill Brickhouse had 14 for the Bobcats.

Montana State jumped off to a four-point lead, but sloppy passing by the Bobcats and a lightning-fast Yale offense overtook Montana State before the middle of the opening period.

Hagerman Knocks Off Hansen 59-53

HAGERMAN — The Hagerman Pirates put four men in double figures Saturday night and used conversions of two crucial one-and-one foul situations to knock off Hansen's Huskies 59-53.

Both teams stayed close over the first three quarters, with Hansen leading by three after the first period, one at the half, and Hagerman taking over the lead at the third quarter mark 37-35.

With three minutes left Hagerman led 48-47, and the two squads fought down to the wire with the Pirates leading 55-53 with a minute left. Hansen, who used a press most of the final eight minutes, fouled twice in the final seconds and Nickolas and Butler converted on the 1-1 tosses, icing the victory.

Valley Rallies Cowboys' Calvin Hill Is Voted NFL Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—Calvin Hill, who made the jump from the Ivy League to pro football with ease, today was named the United Press International National Football League rookie of the year by a landslide vote.

Hill became the first member of the Dallas Cowboys ever to win the rookie award when he received 40 votes from the 48-member panel of experts around the nation in each league city.

Mean Joe Greene, of the Pittsburgh Steelers, the charge defensive tackle from North Dakota State, was second with seven votes. One other player, running back Larry Brown of Washington, received one vote.

Hill, the only rookie selected this year on the NFL all-star team, said he was "pleased" with the honor although he never expected to get it when the season started.

"I just wanted to make the Cowboys' 40-man roster," he said.

Hill not only made the roster, he became the top rusher in the league and also showed skill at throwing the option pass. A jammed toe slowed him down late in the season and he's now second in the league in rushing with one game left. Hill has gained 388 yards in 18 attempts for an average of 4.7 yards a carry. He has scored seven touchdowns and his longest run from scrimmage was 55 yards.

Gale Sayers of Chicago leads in rushing with 572 yards. Sayers won the rookie award in 1965.

Hill's selection broke a two-year hold on the record by the Detroit Lions. Mel Farr won in 1967 and Earl McCulloch took the award last season for the Lions.

Dallas had the 24th pick on the first round last year in the college draft, and there were a few eyebrows raised when the Cowboys drafted Hill from Yale.

Hill had fine credentials in the Ivy League but only a handful of Ivy League players usually make the pros and they're not usually considered first round material.

SHOSHONE — After trailing throughout the night, the Valley Vikings exploded for 23 points in the fourth quarter and overhauled the Shoshone Indians 63-58 Friday night.

Valley managed only three points in the first quarter but Shoshone couldn't take advantage of that as it hit only eight. The Indians took an eight-point lead in the second quarter and stayed ahead by a few points until the final three minutes. At that stage Rich Berricoch's first goal gave the Indians their lead at 56-54 but Larry Richman tied it. Then Richman hit a field goal and Valley picked up two free throws to quickly move ahead by four.

Wendell Tops Notre Dame Tips Hagerman Indiana 89-88

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — A five-point explosion by Gollis Jones and Austin Carr in a five-second span late in the game gave Notre Dame momentum to carry an 89-88 basketball victory over Indiana Saturday.

It was a 20-foot jump shot by Jones with 26 seconds left which actually assured Notre Dame's fifth victory in six starts.

The Jones-Carr burst came with the Hoosiers ahead 82-78, after Indiana had roared back from a six-point deficit just before halftime.

Carr sank a free throw but missed a second attempt, and Jones tipped in the rebound and was fouled; Jones missed the free throw but Carr rebounded and scored.

Hagerman could only hit nine points in the final eight minutes while Wendell tucked it away with 19.

Hagerman took the preliminary.

Ralph Kruse Is Selected Barber Shopper Of Year

BURLEY — Ralph Kruse has been named "Barbershopper of the Year" by the Burley chapter. He was selected as the man who most represents the ideals of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

His name will now be submitted to the district for further competition.

Mr. Kruse served as the first president of the Snake River Flat-Chapter of the SPEBSQSA and is a key man in the organization of the Minl-Cassia group.

The Burley and Rupert group began practices and received a license from the international organization in April, 1968, with 25 men interested in barbershop harmonies who joined together for a good time. Six months later 35 members of the local chapter were chartered with the larger group and Mr. Kruse was named as the first president.

During the first year they have been chartered, the men harmonizers, together with the three quartets which have been formed within the chapter, have appeared at 120 functions in the area.

Two more potential quartets are about ready to begin performances, reports Mr. Kruse.

He is a member of the Burly Chords, a barbershop quartet whose membership also includes Boyd Earl, Grant Richins and Howard Hanks.

In January Mr. Kruse will be succeeded by John Christian as president of the chapter. Other new officers include Richins, first vice president; Bill Thomas, second vice president; Forrest Hall, secretary; Don Jensen, treasurer; Leonard Hanold, publicity, and Ralph Maughan, historian.

Mrs. Belmont Honored By Lions Club

HAZELTON—Bertha Belmont, pianist for the Hazelton Lions Club since its organization in 1938, was honored Tuesday evening by the club. Joe Pharris, charter member, commended her for her faithful service and outstanding attendance record and presented a pendant watch on behalf of the club.

Speaker for the dinner meeting was Don Zuck, Twin Falls, district Governor, who commended the Hazelton club for its role in community activities.

After the business meeting the group viewed a film presented by Kermit Douglas concerning snowmobile racing. Filmed in the U.S. and Canada, it showed both the enjoyment of the sport and instructions for the safety of the participants.

Charles Orr announced that the members will bag treats this week for the Eden Elementary School children, and that they will sponsor a home lighting contest again this season. Two gift certificates are to be awarded to the top displays.

Persons wishing to participate should notify some member of the club. Judging will be done Monday and each contestant is asked to have his display lighted that evening.

Justice Department, Grand Jury Chart Probe Of Police-Panther 'Shootout'

By DONALD R. FINLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department and a special federal grand jury will investigate the Dec. 4 shootout between Chicago police and members of the Black Panther party, Attorney General John N. Mitchell announced Friday.

There have been serious allegations raised criticizing police tactics," Mitchell said. "A number of responsible citizens have questioned whether this incident may have involved a denial of federally protected rights."

The grand jury and a special team of government attorneys "will seek to establish the true facts regarding the violence that has occurred and hopefully will put an end to the rumors and speculation that has surrounded this incident," the attorney general said.

Fred Hampton, the Panthers' chairman in Illinois, and Mark Clark, another Panther leader, were shot to death during the pre-dawn encounter in an apartment on Chicago's West Side. Four Panthers and two policemen were wounded.

The shootout took place when police assigned to the state attorney's office armed with a search warrant entered the apartment, which they believed contained illegal firearms. Chicago police officials have said they were fired upon before Hampton and Clark were killed. Panther leaders claim the police fired first and that Hampton was asleep when Mitchell's announcement came amid reports that federal authorities conducting a preliminary inquiry ordered Dec. 11 by Mitchell were getting little cooperation from Black Panther party members, the Chicago police and State Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan.

High School Students Observing Ups, Downs Of Community Business Climate

By Bonnie Baird Jones
Times-News Feature Editor

Five struggling young business firms of Twin Falls will be closing up shop in the late spring but their company executives are not at all concerned about the prospects.

Some of the firms may possibly go broke before that time, while others will be showing a small profit. Whichever the case, those involved in the companies will have achieved their goal, a better understanding of the free enterprise system.

The five companies represent this year's Twin Falls Junior Achievement operations and at the present time all are "going concerns."

Now in its fifth year, the Junior Achievement program has trained several hundred young future businessmen and women in the operations of various types of enterprises.

This year there are between 80 and 90 young people working in the five business firms. They have been manufacturing and marketing various products ranging from telephone clipboards to souvenir golden spikes which are genuine small scale railroad spikes, coated with genuine 24 carat gold.

Not only do they do the marketing and processing, but the young students, all enrolled in the Twin Falls High School, set up their own business organizations, name company officials, keep sales and cost records and must record and pay sales tax, employment and income tax.

They also sell stock, generally at $1 per share for about 75 to 100 shares as necessary to raise operating capital. Wages for those who must be employed are 20 cents an hour while officers of the firms are paid salaries of $2 to $4 per month.

Inventories which may be on hand when the firm's close their doors in May will be sold at bargain prices and profits on hand may be used as bonuses for wage or salary earners or declared as dividends for stockholders.

Each year the firms are organized in October and during the year select a product, staff, company name and procedure of operation.

Students arrive at the Junior Achievement building on Main Avenue North at least one evening each week after school and work on their business projects. This year the five companies are producing such items as the golden spikes and the "gonks", furry little creatures, actually small banks; attractive candle holders made of cut and curled tin cans, plastic ash trays and picture holders, hard wood cutting boards, small rugs or mats for inside and outside use and flowers fashioned from wire and cloth, and the telephone clipboard.

Not all of the people involved in the program are students. A crew of local executives and employees from the five sponsoring firms work as advisors and supervisors.

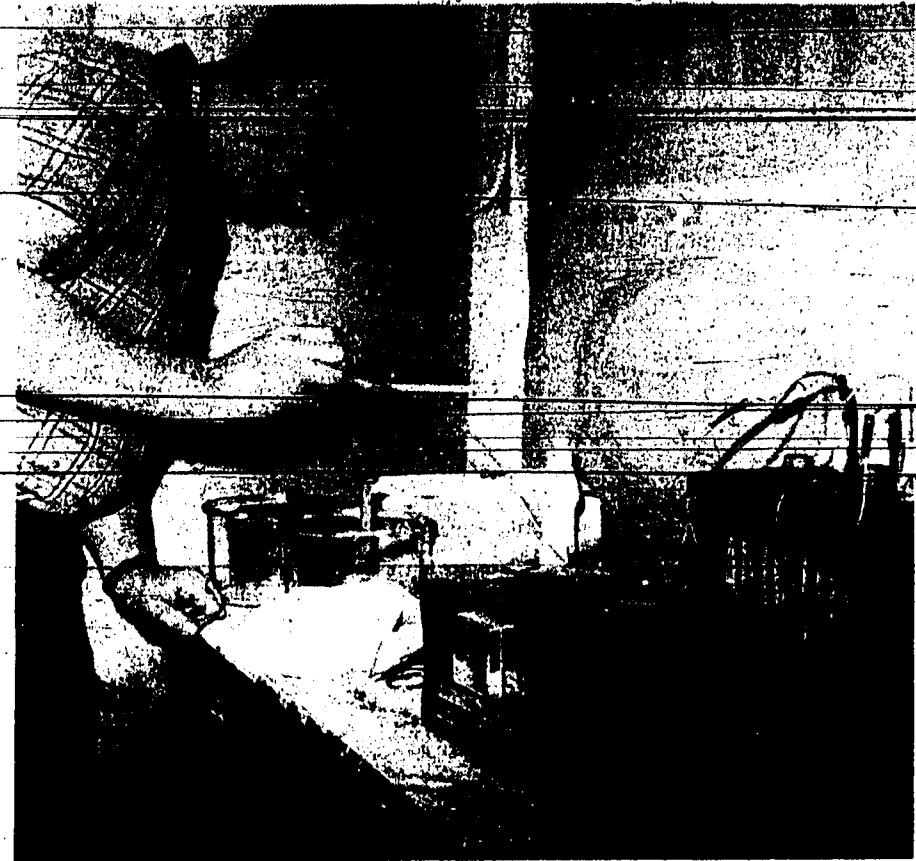

The Junior Achievement Association, the adult sponsoring group, also elects officers and assigns various individuals to work with the young companies.

This year Stradley's Insurance Co., Kimberly, is sponsoring the "Kimco" firm; Barth Manufacturing Co., the Arthco; Mountain Bell the Beltelco; Idaho Power Co., the Kilow Co., and Sears sponsors Mase.

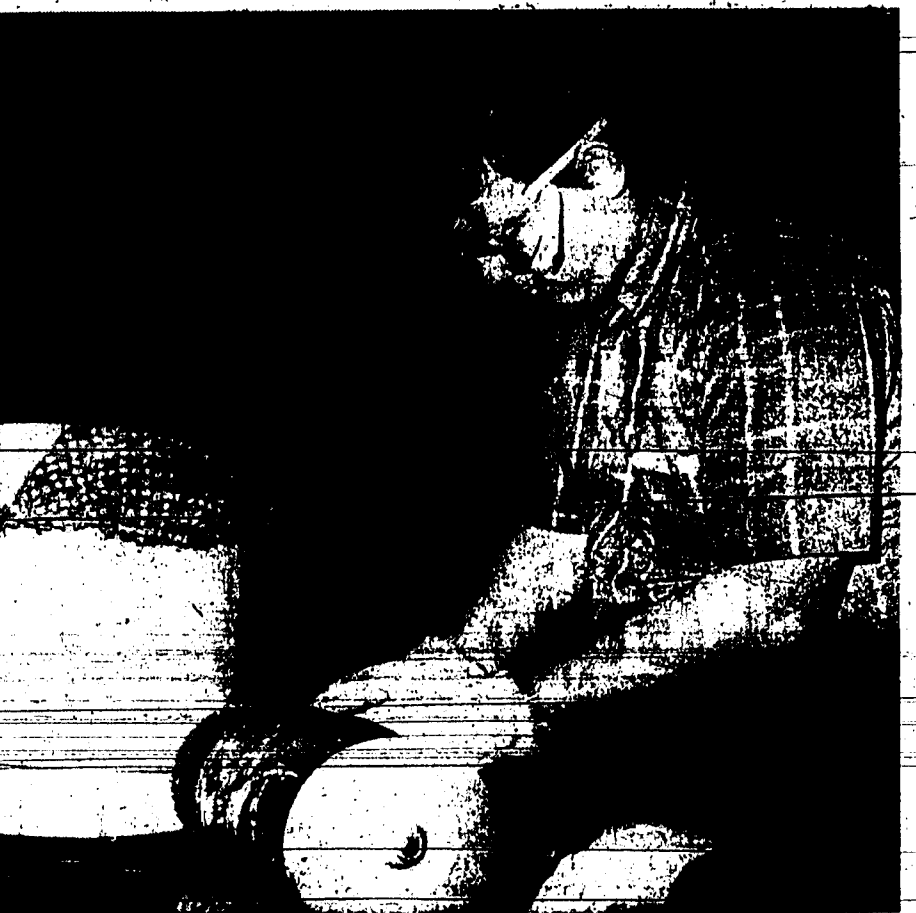

Students for participation in the Junior Achievement program are selected first on a volunteer basis. If more volunteer for the program than can be accommodated, usually by lack of enough sponsoring local business firms, the final selection is on a basis of time, ability and need for the program with the advice of school officials utilized here.

Russel Anderson, who has retired after serving the past five years as Junior Achievement Manager, has been succeeded by Vern Stanger and Phil Pinley as co-managers. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Finley are with Idaho Power Co. and Mr. Stanger with Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. Grant Osterhout, Reliance Credit Corp., is president of Junior Achievement in Twin Falls; Loren Wheeler, The Pepper Tree, is vice president; and Martin Slatoff, Peterson, Seamon's, Stacey and Bancroft, is secretary-treasurer.

SOUVENIR GOLDEN SPIKES, slightly smaller than the conventional railroad spike, but plated in genuine 24 carat gold and sold for $2, each to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the driving of the golden spike, are among Junior Achievement sales items. Here John Lowe prepares the rather complicated process of plating the spike after it has been buffed and polished.

POLISHING REGULAR IRON spike, Junior Achievement company official Ben Kerlin uses gloves and protective goggles. Safety is one of the prime requisites of the Junior Achievement program. The spike, buffed and polished, is then dipped in acid, a copper coating, in the acid again and gold plating. Each is packaged in a small plastic container with a card telling the history of the golden spike ceremony linking the transcontinental railroad 100 years ago.

TELEPHONE CLIPBOARDS can be an attractive addition to a wall or desk, say members of "Arthco", one of the five Junior Achievement companies now in production in Twin Falls. Teresa Cole, left, and Eva Jean Deacet, president of the company, work on the "assembly line", putting together the pads which sell for a reasonable $1.94 plus tax and include a roll of note paper, magnetized pencil and small decorative magnets to hold the notes in place, all on a clipboard.

ARTISTIC ASH TRAYS, picture frames and other decorator items made of resinol material and candle holders made of cut and curled tin cans are among the unique items produced and marketed by the Junior Achievement Clubs of Twin Falls. "Beltelco" company officials, Mike Walker, president, and Jeff Heugins, assistant treasurer and safety director, display some of their sales items during an open house event at the Junior Achievement headquarters.

It's Written In The Stars Says Veteran Sun Valley Astrologer

If you have lived with your wife for 20 years and she's still a mystery to you, perhaps Johnny Lister, Sun Valley astrologer, may be able to help.

What does a person ask when he or she visits the astrologer? "There is at least a little ego in all of us," says Johnny Lister. "Most of all people want to know about themselves." They may not want to admit to themselves they have certain shortcomings or weaknesses, but when the astrologer uncovers them. Continued on Page A-4, Col. 7

As one of the few professional astrologers in Idaho, he believes he may have helped prevent a number of bad marriages and saved a few good ones in recent years.

Astrology has come a long way in the past few years. It is not necessarily a science, says the astrologer, but neither is it a hoax or a supernatural thing. It hasn't been easy to convince the general public of the real values of astrology. In some states — including Idaho — it has not been legalized and the Sun Valley astrologer says those of his profession must depend on a broad-minded and modern-thinking public rather than the outmoded laws of the state which classify the art with fortune telling and witchcraft.

Efforts are under way on a national basis to eliminate these old laws in all states and give the art of "star gazing" its rightful and legal recognition. In some areas such as California, astrology has long been an accepted and highly popular study for many people, and Mr. Lister said he has been able to capture some of this same audience at the Idaho resort area of Sun Valley. Nationally, astrologers are working toward licensing and required standards of their profession.

This and his other profession — music — have made it possible for him to meet many prominent persons who would otherwise have passed him by. Among those for whom he has prepared astrology charts are the late Ernest Hemingway and his wife, Leonard Bernstein, judges and others in high positions.

Mr. Lister who is serious about astrology, says most people are skeptic until he begins telling them things about themselves they know are true.

At first only the brave — women — visited astrologers and became interested in what they could learn about themselves and others. Now, Mr. Lister says, many men keep a close watch on their astrology charts before they make investments, plan business expansions or new undertakings and often before

Sedimentation In Salmon's South Fork Results In Declining Salmon Population

By JERRY MALLETT
Anadromous Fishery Supervisor

The future of salmon fishing on the South Fork of the Salmon River in Central Idaho is of continuing concern to the Idaho Fish and Game Commission and the United States Forest Service. The two agencies are looking for ways to improve stream conditions and restore salmon runs to this stream which was once a top producer of summer run chinook salmon.

Fish and Game Director John R. Woodworth and Forest Supervisor Howard E. Ahlskog commented today regarding the mutual concern of the Idaho Fish and Game Department and the Boise National Forest. Unusually unstable granitic soils, coupled with past uses and development within the watershed (primarily logging and its roads), have resulted in sedimentation in the stream and a decline in salmon production. Numerous downstream dams in the Snake and Columbia River systems have presented obstacles to the passage of salmon. Historically, the South Fork of the Salmon River has been one of the top producers of summer run chinook salmon.

In recent years because there has been a major and steady decline in salmon numbers, it has become necessary for the Commission to close the South Fork of the Salmon to fishing.

In discussing the problem, Fish and Game and Forest Service officials point out the stream must be restored to a stable condition if the salmon runs are to be restored to their former abundance. In 1966, the two agencies jointly conducted "pilot" experimental work to determine what measures are needed to rehabilitate the South Fork habitat.

The Krassel Hole was dredged of its heavy sedimentation and used as a catchment pool to measure the sediment load and to determine if such a basin was sufficient to trap the granitic sand which is moving through the stream channel. At that time, approximately 16,000 cubic yards of accumulated sediment was removed from Krassel Hole in an attempt to form a barrier and reduce downstream sediment movement. A year later this pool had refilled and it was estimated it had caught less than 1-3 of the downstream moving sediment passing that point.

These studies in the South Fork indicate between 50,000 and 100,000 cubic yards of sediments are passing through the Krassel Hole during the average year and the South Fork is unable to rid itself of the sediment load as rapidly as it is entering the stream from the stream from the watershed. The Krassel Hole was 15 to 18 feet deep in the past but is now filled up to the point it is about four feet deep on the outside curve and much shallower for the remainder of the area.

It is estimated man's activities have increased the rate of sedimentation at least five times the natural rate. Since this experiment, the Forest Service has taken actions to reduce further deterioration of the watershed. Major modifications have been made in land management activities. Forage utilization by livestock was reduced. Logging and road building have been deferred pending development of methods that will not add to the problem. Hydrologists, soil scientists, and fisheries biologists have been assigned to the area to develop plans for stabilization. These plans can be implemented only INTERAGENCY PERSONNEL STUDY water and stream bed conditions on the South Fork of the Salmon River. Here William E. as funds become available.

The South Fork of the Salmon River is within that area of Central Idaho known as the batholith. It is characterized by steep slopes, deep canyons, and unstable granitic soils. The once relatively undisturbed watershed of the South Fork has been subjected to mining, logging, fire, and grazing by domestic livestock, coupled with road construction to accommodate these uses. Because the soils in the watershed are so fragile, man's activities have resulted in excessive soil movement. Experience on the South Fork and elsewhere shows the soils of the Idaho Batholith are particularly susceptible to erosion when disturbed by road construction, logging, grazing, and other activities.

Historically, the South Fork has been an excellent stream with few sediment problems. However, since about 1952, degrading changes in the aquatic habitat have been occurring rapidly.

The unusually heavy rain-snow storms of October, 1962, December 1964, and April 1965, combined with the disturbed lands, resulted in numerous slides and slumps and released large amounts of sediment. Stream sedimentation has been an increasing problem since that time.

Salmon must navigate a perilous course on their round trip from spawning grounds to sea and return. Heavy salmon losses of adults migrating upstream to spawn and juveniles returning to the ocean occur at each of the many hydroelectric dams on the Columbia and Snake Rivers. Until recent years, the South Fork of the Salmon River was able to absorb the losses which occurred at the dams and still produce adequate salmon runs to perpetuate the summer chinook and provide a spot fishery.

The effect of the dams, combined with the loss of spawning and rearing areas, has reduced the total salmon production, and in recent years closure of the stream to fishing has been necessary. The sediment in the South Fork was unusually heavy, following the 1964-65 floods, and much of the stream became incapable of adequate salmon spawning and rearing. Eggs deposited in the gravel in August and September and the emergent fry suffered heavy losses because the water with its essential oxygen supply could not flow through the silt-compacted gravel in sufficient quantities. Many of the fry could not emerge from the gravel because of the crust of sediment on the rocks above. Emerging fry use the South Fork as a nursery or rearing area for a full summer before they begin their journey back to the ocean. Excessive sediment such as the South Fork contains limits available food needed to support these fish and fills the holes used by adult salmon for resting. These conditions still exist and will retard salmon production until satisfactory rehabilitation takes place.

The South Fork of the Salmon River is an extremely interesting fishery. It is composed entirely of summer chinook and has been Idaho's main producer of this stock of salmon.

The summer chinook is one of three separate races of chinook salmon which enters Idaho's waters: The three races are known as the fall, spring, and summer chinooks on the basis of their time of entry into the Columbia River and their spawning time. The South Fork summer chinook enter the mouth of the Columbia in June and July and spawn in September.

Salmon construct a nest or "redd" for their eggs. Since these redds are easily observed, they are counted annually to determine trends in the number of spawners entering the South Fork. In 1960, a total of 2,306 redds were counted after sport anglers had already caught an estimated 3,905 salmon in the South Fork drainage that year. Since then, the number of redds counted annually has steadily decreased, until only 515 were counted in 1968. Since no fishing was permitted in 1968, these redds would indicate the total of all chinook entering the stream. Fish counts made at all dams on the Columbia and Lower Snake Rivers also indicate reduced runs of summer chinook into Idaho.

In a healthy salmon population, each spawner produces anywhere from two to six returning spawners at the mouth of the Columbia River. This ratio maintains runs in spite of mortalities caused from various sources (including fishing).

When the ratio is such that each spawner produces only one returning spawner, then the population is barely maintaining itself, without a surplus for fishing or other purposes. If the ratio drops below one to one, the population is unable to maintain itself. Basic productivity studies indicate the entire race of summer chinook entering the Columbia River system is at the bare maintenance level. This decline has resulted in the closure of both sport and commercial fishing seasons for summer chinook in Idaho and other States since 1965. Present commercial salmon seasons on the Columbia River are set so they fish the spring and fall stocks and not the summer chinook.

The future of salmon production in the South Fork of the Salmon River rests heavily upon planned rehabilitation. Studies and plans being prepared by the Forest Service and Fish and Game Department have outlined the necessary work which will stabilize the watershed and clean the river to make it suitable for maximum production. This work can be implemented when adequate funding is available. With the activation of planned rehabilitation, reestablishment of the South Fork salmon runs can be significantly speeded.

Book Review

By ANN HOLMES

A strong, well-organized band of black militants makes its power play—not in ghetto streets or city schools or government offices, but in the time-honored sanctuary of white America, the private home in the story of "Trespass" by Fletcher Knebel.

Tim and Liz Crawford are victims of a nation-wide conspiracy. They come home from a Saturday evening party and discover that something is wrong. Tim Crawford is a corporate lawyer and their home is very large and the most prominent near Princeton. When they discover something is wrong, Ben Steele makes his entrance. Ben is the head of this segment of the movement which was organized by the Blacks of February 21st. When Steele asked the Crawfords to sign their home and property over to the Blacks of February 21st, Tim refused and Liz showed that she wasn't really as sympathetic toward equality as she put on to her social friends. Ben explained the reason for the demand which was: Tim Crawford's father made his fortune by buying Negro slums when the prices were down and selling them when they went back up. The Blacks of February 21st felt the property belonged to them.

An FBI agent was found shot in New York in the early morning hours. He had been a former BOF member and had worked against the FBI but had switched sides.

The South revealed six telephone numbers in different areas of the country. Timothy Crawford's number was among them. President Randall was informed and the U. S. Government took over the task of getting the homes released. Troops were sent to each home and were told to stand by. All six of the homeowners were listed in Who's Who in America. President Randall went on television to inform the nation of his moves. Ginny Jones, a well-known Negro singer and member of the Blacks of February 21st, appeared on the air after the President and urged all Blacks to go to the six homes and help the BOF.

The Crawfords then discovered they weren't the only ones whose homes were seized. Holly and Scott Crawford don't seem to mind the intruders at all. They become good friends with Ben Steele and he keeps them housed. Chilli Ambrose hates the two children and would just as soon kill them. He is in favor of an all-out Black Revolution and is a strong supporter of Dan Smith, the head of the Blacks of February 21st. Ben Steele and Chilli Ambrose are always disagreeing on the steps of the plan. The entire BOF organization soon becomes split between the liberals and the militants.

"Trespass" is both a masterfully told tale of suspense and a carefully observed description of a nation and its leaders in a time of crisis. Most important, it is also a chilling yet compassionate portrait of America as it deals with an armed confrontation of black and white.

Money Box

By FRANK SCHELL

Question from F. I. B., Gooding, Idaho: Dear Sir: Please tell me what the value would be of an 1888 silver dollar which I have had for several years.

Answer: The 1888 silver dollar was struck in large quantities and most of them are still around. The Philadelphia mintage equals over 19 million specimens, and present value of a new, uncirculated specimen is about $3.10. This is dealer price and you could get from $1.75 to $2.40 for your coin. The New Orleans issue (mintmark "O") was a little over 12 million—and the coin brings about the same price. The 1888 San Francisco issue (mintmark "S") was much scarcer and amounted to 657,000 copies so is therefore more valuable. This coin should bring you from $7.00 to $14.00, depending upon condition. Mintmarks are found under the wreath below the eagle on the reverse side of the coin, in case you do not know where to look for them.

Question from D. F. H., Bliss, Idaho: I would like to know why some United States bills ($1.00) ($10.00) (Silver Certificate) (Federal Reserve Note) do not have "In God We Trust" on them.

Do they have any more value than face value?

Answer: No, they do not. The use of the motto, "In God We Trust" on paper money of the United States was not authorized until July 11, 1955, therefore, all paper money printed before that time does not have the motto.

The first notes to bear this motto were the $1.00 Silver Certificates of the Series of 1957. Bills which bear this motto in the $1.00 Silver Certificate series are the 1957, 1957-A, 1935-G (found with the motto and without it), 1957-B and 1935-H—all of which have been printed since 1957. The date on the bill does not signify the date of printing except in the case of the first issue of such a note. All the Federal Reserve $1.00 notes bear this motto, since they were issued in 1963, and thereafter.

Question from H. A., Kimberly: I have a silver coin, which has on one side a "10". Above that is a small crown. There are also the letters "KOITEK" and 1915. The other side resembles the drawing I am sending. What is it?

Answer: Your coin is a Russian 10-kopec piece, issued under the reign of Nicholas II who reverse of the coin is the Tsar. Collector value on this coin was 25 cents and it has until 1917. The design of the that of Poland and Germany, no monetary value at all.

Letter Of 28 Years Ago Tells History Of Twin Falls Tract Development

Were the original three investors in the Twin Falls project alive today, they would no doubt be congratulating themselves on a sound investment.

In a letter, dated Dec. 1, 1941, the late John E. Hayes told a friend he recalled the total cost of the project to construct Milner Dam, an irrigation system and open the Twin Falls South Side for farming was just under $4 million.

The 1969 assessed valuation of Twin Falls county was listed at $53,485,670, and county officials say the annual agricultural income of the county runs about $40 to $45,000,000.

The letter gives a number of other interesting facts about the building of Milner dam and other early development of the tract.

Earl Barnes, Hansen resident and Twin Falls reator, found the letter while looking through some of the belongings of his late father, James L. Barnes. He said apparently Mr. Hayes had written the letter in answer to a request from his father who was visiting in Kansas at the time and was anxious to interest residents there in the purchase of Idaho property.

The writer notes at the end of the letter he simply jotted down information as it came to mind, but the entire letter, well typed with perfect grammar and punctuation reads like a well written historical article.

Even at that early date of 1941, Mr. Hayes expressed deep concern for a problem facing present Idaho reclamation leaders. He wrote of the vast amount of water returned to the Snake River unused and warned unless some immediate action were taken, local water users might find the state or federal government stepping in to regulate their water allotments and make disposition of unused rights.

"Here on the Twin Falls tract," Mr. Hayes wrote, "we waste water like a drunken sailor."

In 1941, Mr. Hayes said water diverted to the project at Milner amounted to four acre feet per acre of land each season while consumptive use was 1.63 acres. Although some water, he said, was lost to the ground water table, 540 second-feet of water flows from the project over the cliffs of Snake River canyon and is lost. He warned 28 years ago unless some thought were given to putting this water to good use on desert lands in the local area, a means would be found to utilize it elsewhere and desert acres around the Twin Falls Tract would remain in sagebrush.

Mr. Barnes, a native of Kansas, came to the Twin Falls area in November, 1904. He homesteaded land on the tract and served 14 years as a county commissioner, being elected in 1926.

The late Mr. Barnes also ran for governor in 1940 on the Democrat ticket. He died in 1964 at the age of 87, having lived some 60 years in Twin Falls county.

In his account of the Twin Falls Tract, Mr. Hayes wrote it all began in the early 1880's when John F. Hansen made an actual survey of a canal line diverting from the river at "The Cedars", now known as Milner.

"This line," the letter states, "traversed the same course as does the present constructed canal. We found Mr. Hansen's stakes when we made our survey in 1903."

Mr. Hayes points out it was Mr. Hansen who first interested Bert Perrine in irrigation when he showed him a map and explained such development would mean a rich farm area. Mr. Hansen also explained how the irrigation program could be developed, the letter states.

Mr. Perrine in turn gave the information to Stanley Milner who passed it on to Mr. Buhl and Mr. Kimberly.

"Paul S. A. Bickel and I made the examination for the Milner-Buhl-Kimberly interests to determine feasibility and possible cost," the letter adds. "Paul and I came down from Montana in the late fall of 1902 to do this."

In 1903, he adds, the three men entered into a state contract under the Carey Act to build the Twin Falls Project. Under terms of the contract the state fixed the water rights and it was agreed water would be delivered to within one-quarter mile of each quarter section.

This would mean water on every 160 acres of land.

Mr. Hayes' letter goes on to explain he brought the first engineering crew into the area and the survey for Milner Dam began Jan. 21, 1903.

Mr. Hayes tells of building the dam under adverse conditions. There were no up river reservoirs or means of cutting the river's flow in 1903. To meet the challenge of building the dam during a heavy stream of water, the builders erected it in three parts.

"Milner Dam is in reality three dams, constructed between two lava islands at the site chosen by John Hansen," the engineer wrote.

Mr. Hayes described the dam construction as "loose rock fill," noting this type of structure became popular in later years with the Bureau of Reclamation.

Milner, Mr. Hayes predicted, would be standing long after many concrete dams have weakened or given way.

The dam, 2100 feet in total length consists of the south dam, 560 feet long and 66 feet high; the middle dam, 335 feet long and 81 feet high and the north dam, 340 feet long and 86 feet high. Spillways are on the south with the 99 regulating gates on the south portion.

Mr. Hays predicted a long life for the dam noting that writing it was 36 years old. Now 64 years old the dam is holding true to the prediction.

During the building of the dam there were no railroads closer than 50 miles and no automobiles or trucks and for that matter no roads. Horses were used for most of the work and a tunnel was cut in the south lava island diverted water while the north part of the construction was under way. The builders placed a small turbine in this hole and generated electricity to operate a small electric cart track to haul some of the materials.

Total cost of the dam, Mr. Hayes wrote was in the neighborhood of $426,000. No effort was made to glamorize the Twin Falls irrigation system with unnecessary structures, but the major concentration was on keeping costs in line.

HISTORY OF THE TRACT is told in a 28-year-old letter found by Earl Barnes, above. The local reator said the letter was written to his late father, James L. Barnes, by the late John E. Hayes, and gives some interesting sidelights on building of Milner Dam and bringing the Twin Falls Tract under cultivation.

Mr. Hayes said the canal distributing system of the tract was unique and later others followed the method. As far as possible natural coulees were utilized to carry water, eliminating construction cost and later maintenance of many regulating structures. Canals were built to carry 4,000 second feet of water. Land owners paid 50 cents for the land and $25 for the water on a per acre basis.

This was no government project, Mr. Hayes emphasized, but was developed under the Carey Act with private money from the three men, Milner, Buhl and Kimberly. Because it was developed at a reasonable cost and offered on this basis people could and did meet payments. Not a single acre of land reverted to the Twin Falls Land and Water Co. because of non-payment of principal or interest, Mr. Hayes wrote.

He said the total cost of the project ran around $15 per acre. Included in the canal system, he said were 25 miles of main canal, 47 miles of highline and 36 miles of lowline with 299 miles of laterals, 399 miles of coulees, and 3,000 miles of ditches.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

One of the most outstanding decorative items in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Wilde, Buhl, this Christmas will be a wreath of pinecones and nuts made by Mr. Wilde.

The wreath, which measures three feet in diameter, consists of 100 pinecones in three sizes glued to a wooden base, and weighs 13 pounds. The pinecones are graduated with the larger cones on the outside edge, with approximately two and one-half pounds of mixed nuts added for a more interesting effect.

Mr. Wilde built five candleholders in the base of the wreath so that red tapers could be added. The wreath measures 3 feet in circumference and makes a most unusual wall hanging.

Mr. Wilde made a smaller wreath of approximately the same design last year to use as a table decoration. The base was made of cardboard, but he found the cardboard had a tendency to curl up even with the pine cones glued to it.

Mr. Wilde has also made pinecone candleholders and Christmas trees as holiday decorations. He also plans something different in the way of a holiday door decorations.

Retired Carpenter Grows Own Wood For Carving Attractive Gift Items

By Zada Wisecaver, Times-News Correspondent

CASTLEFORD — Gleaming, hand-rubbed wooden items in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Senften, Castleford, are truly Mr. Senften's own craft.

Many are made of walnut wood from trees Mr. Senften planted. He planted the walnuts, grew the trees, harvested the wood and worked each piece into the finished product.

Each article Mr. Senften makes is a work of art. Each combines the beauty of the wood, skill and craftsmanship. From the spinning wheel he made for his wife, to the smallest article, his feeling for the wood is evident in the finished product.

The spinning wheel is approximately five feet high and is made of black walnut wood and is a completely workable piece of equipment. Wood for this and other items is cut from rough logs. After careful selection, it is lathed into the design wanted. It is then sanded smooth fitted together and glued into place. Mr. Senften says he uses raw linseed oil or corn oil as the finish.

Born in Amity, Ill., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Senften, who came from Switzerland, he first saw Idaho in 1907.

In 1904 he left his home and went to work in Detroit, Mich., where he served an apprenticeship as a carpenter. He also worked six months during an oil boom building oil derricks near Bridgeport, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Senften met in Claremont, Ill., when he attended an Epworth League ice cream social at the church she attended there. She was then Ruth Southwick and they were married Dec. 25, 1910.

In 1907 he decided to see the West and came to Idaho to visit a boyhood friend, Alfred Dewhurst of Twin Falls. He was the son of a Methodist circuit minister in Illinois and, Mr. Senften recalls, they lived where the present Sunset Memorial Park is located.

Mr. Senften, a carpenter most of his life, recalls the settlers came to Idaho and their furniture was shipped by train. It was loaded up and hauled from the railroad to their land and covered by canvas. The contractor and Mr. Senften would then build something to house it.

Usually they built a "car ruff shack"—a crude structure 14 feet wide with a roof of 1 by 12's, 16 feet long, and bent over for support. The little buildings resembled a railroad box car and could be built in a day.

The Castleford man recalls there was always work for a carpenter and he kept busy. When he arrived in Buhl, there were three lumber yards but not much else in the way of business firms. Only a year earlier all lumber had to be brought from the railroad at Shoshone.

Mr. Senften's parents came to Idaho in 1916 and purchased a farm east of Buhl where they raised vegetables and sold them to Buhl residents. Wind was a big problem for new settlers in the area, Mr. Senften recalls, and the planners who were laying out the townships of Buhl and Twin Falls decided streets should run diagonally to offer all possible protection against the prevailing strong west winds.

One of Mr. Senften's first major jobs as a carpenter was in Buhl, where he helped build a temporary schoolhouse where the John Deere building now stands. In 1908 he helped build the Poplar Grove schoolhouse. He voted in his first presidential election while working on this job.

The couple's first Buhl home was on Ninth Avenue North near the Episcopal Church, which still stands. In 1911, Mr. Senften built the Sunset Schoolhouse which was later moved to Castleford when the schools consolidated. It served as a grade school building and later as a lunch room. In the same year he built a home in Castleford and the family moved there where he farmed as well as continued carpenter work. Their present home on a ranch southwest of Castleford has been their permanent location since 1917.

Mr. Senften said the first church he attended was in a railroad car in Buhl, and the town of Hermiston, Ore., was later named for the minister. The Castleford man said he still doesn't know what denomination it was. Later the family attended the Methodist church in Buhl and Mr. Senften organized the first Epworth League there.

The couple had five children, their eldest daughter, Marie, was the first white child born in Castleford. She is now Mrs. George Black, A. son, Leo, is with the Conservation Service in Shoshone. Eugene is in Petaluma, Calif., affiliated with Petaluma Co-op Creamery, and Mrs. John (Juanita) Parks resides at King Hill and teaches in the high school there. Another son, Harold, was killed in World War II and was a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force. The couple also has eleven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

From the first comb rack he made, when Marie was born, Mr. Senften estimates he has completed some 200 pencil holders, 50 rolling pins, many given as wedding gifts to Castleford brides, and countless candle holders, spoon racks, bowls and other wooden articles. He recently finished a rack which will hold 21 coffee mugs and presented it to his daughter, Mrs. Parks.

For most of his wooden articles are made of walnut but some are cut from maple, cedar, sumac and fruit wood including apple and cherry all from the family orchard and farm. In addition to his complete shop, Mr. Senften keeps a stack of cut logs at hand for production. Aside from some wood donated by friends, all of his articles are made from his own trees.

Mrs. Senften contributes her share of talent to the family. She is something of a photographer, taking numerous pictures to record the family story in her albums. She also does her own dark room work and has developed and printed pictures for the Castleford School. She provided all of the photo work for the first annual for the Castleford school.

In addition she raises flowers and has one ivy geranium that has bloomed from the same place and same pot for ten years. Apple butter, which she began making because she didn't want to waste the apples of the family orchard is a delicacy from her kitchen. In addition she makes a great many fancy work items which are sold to help support the Castleford WSCS of which she is a member.

LONG TIME CASTLEFORD residents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Senften still reside on the farm they purchased in 1917. In the background are part of the nut trees planted some 40 years ago by Mr. Senften and now being harvested to make wooden articles. The couple first moved to Castleford in 1911.

BLACK WALNUT WOOD was used to make this spinning wheel which is a completely workable item and one of the first articles Henry Senften made for his own home. Each small piece was cut, polished and hand-rubbed, then assembled by the retired carpenter.

RICH, HAND-RUBBED wooden articles such as rolling pins, small bowls and letter holders are typical of the many gifts being produced in the shop of Henry Senften, Castleford. Most of the wood used to produce the items is grown on Mr. Senften's farm and most is from either nut or fruit trees.

It's Written In Stars

The genuine value, however, lies in what the individual does about the guidelines the astrologer is able to give him.

Often, says Mr. Lister, understanding is the big factor. If an individual is having problems with other people, they are usually problems which begin with himself. By understanding these and knowing the results, the individual can begin facing and correcting these conditions.

Astrologers never tell a person what to do, Mr. Lister is quick to emphasize. They can only present the facts and let the individual make up his own mind and chart his own course of action.

Many of the people who consult Mr. Lister are young couples planning marriage.

"If their astrology charts show they have conflicting personalities, I do not tell them they shouldn't marry, but often when they see the situation as it is they make the right decision," he said.

Mr. Lister said he has known couples to cancel marriage plans on the basis of their astrology readings, which isn't easy if they are in love. Next to finding out about themselves the individual wants to know about those close to him.

Husbands ask about wives and wives want to know what makes their husbands tick.

This is good, Mr. Lister says, because a better understanding makes for a better relationship and once a wife understands why her husband acts the way he does, she is more willing to accept it.

In demand as a public speaker, Mr. Lister has a number of entertaining programs ranging from a serious explanation of astrology and display of charts to a few off-the-cuff readings for those attending the meetings.

It takes anywhere from 45 minutes to a couple of hours to work out a chart for an individual, Mr. Lister explains, but the more accurate and complete information he has the more accurate the reading will be.

It is true twins are often very different people, Mr. Lister says the positions of the planets can change every few minutes and thus the exact time of birth, even to a few minutes is important in the study of an astrology chart. A baby born four minutes ahead of his twin may be very different in personality, Mr. Lister says horoscope charts published on the basis of the signs of the zodiac only are accurate as far as they go, but they cannot take into consideration any of the individual details which are important.

If there are errors they are not in astrology but with the astrologer, usually because of the lack of information or even incorrect information he may have been given.

There are probably only two people who really know the true ages of their women clients — her doctor and her astrologer.

Johnny Lister first came to Sun Valley when he was assigned there while serving in the Navy. He is a native of Montana and had returned there after World War II. He decided 22 years ago to spend a summer at Sun Valley shortly after leaving the service and has never left.

Like the shoemaker whose wife goes barefooted, he recalls an automobile accident in which he was recently injured. He said his astrology chart clearly showed a warning, but he had been too busy to consult his own chart.

Born Oct. 14, under the sign of Libra, Mr. Lister says the next few years hold promise of good things for Libra. Taking his own advice, he is currently working on his first book on astrology and looking forward to other major undertakings.

lar school and community program in a number of states and sponsoring business firms as well as school officials in Twin Falls say it is an outstanding example of the business element of a community joining with the schools for overall benefit of the young people.

Next Feb. 6, 7 and 8, Twin Falls will host a conference of Junior Achievement members from other Idaho towns as well as Oregon, Montana and Calgary, Canada.

Young people from these areas will be meeting in Twin Falls to compare the Junior Achievement business climate and exchange ideas in promotion, marketing and other phases of their operations.

To raise money to help host the conference, local young people of the Junior Achievement organization are selling Christmas trees at their building each evening after school. They say their prices are as reasonable as any in town, and they even make deliveries.

Students also conducted fireworks sales last summer to help build up a reserve for the coming conference.

Tuesday night an open house at the J. A. center hosted a large number of parents and board of director members of the local J. A. association.

Phil Finley said all of the booths, arranged by the young business officials to display their products, were designed by the students without assistance from sponsors.

CHRISTMAS DECOR PREVAILS

By NORMA HERZINGER

To be confined to a hospital away from family and friends can be most dismal at any time, but during the holiday season the feeling seems to mount.

Wanting to make the holidays a little brighter for these patients, members of the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Guild plan months ahead—so the hospital can take on a festive air during December.

Mrs. Wilford Herrett, Filer, served as chairman of the decorations committee this year, with many hours of work and planning needed before the Christmas decorations could actually be put up. Then, as the members gathered to begin the decorating, it was interesting to note—a bit of a personal touch was included in all arrangements. When you stop to think that all time and talent are donated unselfishly by these women for the benefit of others—it makes you wonder just what you have contributed this holiday season.

Decorations are placed on every floor, from kitchen and cafeteria in the basement to the fifth floor. It takes two days of hard work to get all the decorating placed properly. Special care must be taken that all decorations are safe—no fire hazard, etc., so lights are not permitted. The playroom in the pediatrics ward was decorated by the student nurse class.

Mrs. Coral Harris served as co-chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Lafe Barron, Thelma McKenzie, Mrs. Maude Shotwell, Wilma McCleary, Mrs. David Marrs, Mrs. Clyde Smith and Dorothy Macaw.

Mrs. Lyle Schnitker, chairman of the flower arrangement committee, assisted by Mrs. Wayne Schow, made beautiful Christmas arrangements for sale during the holidays. Mrs. Schnitker made candles and ceramic figurines which were used in the arrangements. They are placed in the windows of the snack bar and help decorate as well as being a profitable guild project. All money made from these projects is donated to the hospital later in the form of gifts for needed equipment.

The pediatrics committee, headed by Mrs. Gene Carpenter, has a special project during December. They make large Christmas stockings of bright red flannel. Each new baby born during the holidays is presented to his mother in a Christmas stocking.

Anniversary Open House Set

RUPERT — An open house reception will be held for Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hunsaker by their sons and daughters from 3 to 7 p.m. Dec. 26 at the Rupert Fourth Ward LDS Cultural Hall, on 5th and South F in Rupert. The reception is in honor of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunsaker were married Dec. 26, 1819, at Rigby and resided there about three years. They then moved to Murray, Utah, where their first two children were born. After about six years, the family moved to Heyburn where Mr. Hunsaker purchased a farm and the remaining six children were born. In 1963, Mr. Hunsaker retired and the couple moved to Rupert, where they purchased their home at 713 S. 5th St.

The Hunsakers are the parents of two sons and six daughters. Mrs. Blaine (Lola) Rasmussen, Mrs. Richard (Shirley) Paoil, Ross Hunsaker, Mrs. Fred (Velda) Barras and Mrs. Dennis (Beth) Loosil, all in Rupert; Mrs. Roy (Carole) Jensen, Heyburn; Mrs. Lewis (Nelma) Abrams, San Jose, Calif., and Dale Hunsaker, Salt Lake City. The couple has 28 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

All friends of the couple are invited and the couple requests no gifts.

Area Rebekah Lodge Officers Are Elected

JEROME — Officers were elected recently when the Syringa Rebekah Lodge met. Mrs. Ed Adams, vice grand, conducted the meeting.

Officers elected include Mrs. Ed Adams, noble grand; Mrs. Willard Shropshire, vice grand; Wanda Easton, recording secretary; Mrs. R. J. Piper, treasurer; Mrs. Russell Shaud, staff captain; Mrs. Mary Mann, trustee No. 1; Mrs. William Jewell, trustee No. 2, and Mrs. Mary Keith, trustee No. 3.

A donation was made by the lodge to the Boise Children's Home.

Members voted to send Sister Eva Smith, who is in the IOOF Home in Caldwell, a personal gift for Christmas.

After the Monday meeting, the members will prepare "cheer boxes" for shut-in members, to be delivered Tuesday. Members are to bring food for the boxes to this meeting.

A Christmas party for all Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, their families and friends will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The children should come to the party prepared to take part in the program. Treats will be given to all attending.

Menu committee members for the evening was Mrs. J. R. Wiley, Mrs. Fred Clubb and Mrs. Dora Studvinn.

Special Meet Is Conducted

A special meeting was held recently by Bethel No. 43, International Order of Job's Daughters, with DeAnne Eslinger, honored queen, presiding.

The business was dispensed with, so practice could be held for initiation. Walter Slaughter, past associate guardian of Bethel No. 43, was introduced.

School of instruction was held later in the month, with Ruby H. Taber presiding. A banquet was held after the school of instruction for all members and the new initiates. The initiates were Jane Williams, Elizabeth Russell, Laurie Beal, Karla Fillmore, Theresa Kramer, Debbie Straugh, Joan Wilkie, Becky Sweet, Nancy Graybill and Kathy Kelly.

Introduced were Mrs. Taber, grand guardian; Betty Davis, guardian of Bethel No. 43; Jim Clark, associate guardian of Bethel No. 43; Lucille Kelly, guardian of Bethel No. 56; Art Wylie, grand outer guard and past associate guardian of Bethel No. 19; Vera Wylie, past guardian of Bethel No. 19; Marian Jenkins, past guardian of Bethel No. 56, and Bill Taber, associate guardian of Bethel No. 8.

Masons introduced were Robert Black, Daryl Sweet, Glen Davis, Floyd Bandy, Craig Graybill and Doug Kramer.

Eastern Star members introduced were Robin Sweet, Mrs. James Beal, Carol Lee Parrott, Nellie Black and Ila Bandy.

The librarian's report, "Ideals," was given by Kim Nelson. "Job of the Meeting" was Sue Howe. Birthdays honored were those of Teresa Naumen, Jeannine Blei, Karla Fill-

Handicapped Adults Host Holiday Party

WENDELL — Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kennedy hosted a Christmas party for the Magic Valley Friendship Club for the Handicapped Adults at the Heritage Home Community Hall at Jerome.

Dinner was planned around a main course of turkey and dressing furnished and prepared by Mrs. Nellie Likely. The tables were decorated in a Christmas theme.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Likely, program director. Several traditional Christmas carols were sung by the group, accompanied by Mrs. Lula White. Mrs. Walt Hall gave a reading, "An Old-Fashioned Christmas." A scripture from the Bible was given by Leonard Luper.

A gift exchange was held. Highlight of the gift exchange was the presentation of a slide projector to the club by HOPE of Jerome.

A short business meeting was held to plan the January meeting.

Barbara Kurtz, card chairman, will send cards to members who were unable to attend.

The meeting was concluded with a standing ovation to Mrs. Likely and Mrs. and Mrs. Kennedy in appreciation of their efforts.

more. Carol Grossaint, Bill Taber, Laurie Beal, Theresa Kramer, Katie Rayhorn, Janet Reagan and Linda Tsatsa.

Miss Clark And Mabbutt Wed At Shoshone

SHOSHONE — Marriage vows were exchanged by Katherine Joleen Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Evans, Nampa, and Christopher Lane Mabbutt, son of Mrs. Helen Mabbutt, Emmett, and the late Richard Mabbutt, Sunday evening, Nov. 30, at the Shoshone Episcopal Church.

Rev. Father John Turk was assisted by Rev. William Ludlow, campus minister at the Idaho State University, Pocatello, in performing the ceremony. Attendants were fellow students at ISU, Pocatello.

Lighted candles, bouquets of orange, yellow and white flowers decorated the church and formed bouquets and corsages for the attendants. Mrs. Claude Chess and Mrs. John Turk played musical numbers.

The young couple will live in Pocatello and continue their school work.

Special guests came from Emmett, Nampa and Salt Lake City for the event.

Dinner for the bridal party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Mabbutt. A

European Tour
Slides Shown
At Club Meet

ALBION — Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Kircher showed slides and told of experiences during their recent "People-to-People" tour to European countries, during the annual Christmas dinner and program of the Albion Four Leaf Clover Club.

Husbands of the club members were special guests, and the meeting was held in the Albion Grange Hall.

The tour group included doctors and their wives or husbands. This type of tour was started by President Eisenhower who believed that person-to-person contact is our "Passport to Peace" and can accomplish more for world peace and understanding than any other method.

Dr. Kircher reported the group also went into Russia behind the Iron Curtain, and they found the Russian doctors were 80 per cent women, due largely to the low wages paid to doctors.

The tour took the group through Sweden, Russia, Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland.

"Anyone that is not satisfied with life in America should make a trip behind the Iron Curtain," stated Dr. Kircher.

Mrs. Jim Kell introduced Dr. and Mrs. Kircher.

The tables were decorated by Mrs. Vadell Mahone and Mrs. Jan Chipman using a Christmas motif, with lamps, poinsettias and pine cones. The buffet-style dinner was planned by Mrs. Alvin Kempton and Mrs. Galia Mahoney.

Chapter No. 42
Hosts Annual Holiday Party

SHOSHONE—Members of Lincoln Chapter No. 42, Order of Eastern Star, held their Christmas party recently at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Edward Bayliss, worthy matron, conducted the business meeting.

The birthday anniversaries of J. J. Locke, Mrs. Elmer Terry and Mrs. Arvilla O'Donnell were honored and donations made to the ESTAR Fund.

Mrs. Dorothy Clayton, Mrs. Kenneth Crothers and Mrs. John Lallis were in charge of the program and Mrs. Crothers introduced Ronald Jenkins and Wayne Graham, Gooding, who sang duets, accompanied by Mrs. Jenkins.

Mr. Jenkins introduced a Shoshone High School sextet he directs; Denise Blackburn, Susan Neher, Cindy Trammel, Lorinda Dille, Layne Hadlock and Chan Evans, who sang with Mrs. John Tulk as accompanist. Christmas carols were sung by the group, with Mrs. John Lallis accompanist. Gifts were exchanged. Hostesses were Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Elmer Terry and Mrs. Howard Adkins.

DIANE GAYLE BECK

Diane Beck,
Johns Disclose
Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Diane Gayle, to Benjamin L. Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johns, all Twin Falls.

Miss Beck, a 1967 graduate of Twin Falls High School, is currently a junior in home economics education at Idaho State University. She was president of SWAG, the freshmen women's service-honorary and vice president of Spurs, the national sophomore women's service-honorary. Miss Beck is now a member of Zeta Chi Rho, the home economics honorary.

Mr. Johns, a 1963 graduate of Twin Falls High School and a 1969 honor graduate of Idaho State University, is currently a graduate assistant in speech at Idaho State University. He served as a graduate assistant in speech-communication at the University of Wisconsin-1969. He is a member of Blue Key National Honor Fraternity and was president of the ISU Chapter in 1967-68.

The couple plans a Jan. 24 wedding. They will continue their education at Idaho State University.

Twin Falls Couple Observe
50th Wedding Anniversary

The Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Heber L. Hansen, 210 Filer Ave. W., Twin Falls, was observed Dec. 20 by members of the immediate family.

The couple was honored earlier this fall by family and friends at the Hansen family reunion held at Salmon Park in Burley. Hosting the event included a daughter, Mrs. T. R. Staples, and a niece, Mrs. Wilma Plickens. Friends and relatives were present from Twin Falls, Burley, Boise, Emmett and Idaho Falls, and from Utah, Oregon, California and Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen were also given special recognition at the Simmons Reunion held in Burley this past summer.

They were married Dec. 20, 1919, at Burley. The following April the marriage was solemnized in the Salt Lake City LDS Temple.

The Hansens have farmed most of the time since 1919 in the Upper Snake River Valley and in the Magic Valley. The past five years Mr. Hansen has been employed by the Twin Falls County Weed Department.

They are the parents of eight children, Mrs. T. R. (Joy) Staples, Twin Falls; H. Dean Hansen, Northridge, Calif.; Max J. Hansen, Napa, Calif.; Glenn J. Hansen, Shelley; Harold L. Hansen, Cooperstown, N.Y.; James V. Hansen, Bellevue, Wash., and two daughters, Mary and Anna Marie, deceased.

The couple has 34 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Women of the Moose will hold their regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Moose Home. Secret pal gifts will be exchanged.

Gale Short, Johnson Wed

Gold and bronze-colored chrysanthemums, accented with Pampas grass, cattails and wood roses, were used to decorate the First United Methodist Church, Roseburg, Ore., for the Nov. 22 wedding of Gale Susan Short, Roseburg, and William Ace Johnson, Twin Falls.

The couple took a week's honeymoon and reside at 1313 Brown, No. 109, Yakima, Wash. The bride and bridegroom were graduated from the University of Oregon, the bride with a bachelor's degree in elementary education. She will be a teacher in the Yakima school system beginning in January. The bridegroom earned his bachelor's degree in advertising. He is a second lieutenant in the Army and is participating in the management program at Boise Cascade.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM ACE JOHNSON (Dickover-Sogge photo)

The altar bouquet of large chrysanthemums was flanked by candelabra-containing gold candles. Pews were marked with gold ribbon and gold and bronze-colored chrysanthemums.

Rev. Hillis Slaymaker officiated at the double ring evening rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig I. Short, Roseburg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ace L. Johnson, Twin Falls.

The bride wore a peau de sole gown, styled on empire lines with an attached chapel train. Re-embroidered atonon-lace trimmed the Victorian sleeves and neckline. The bride wore a Juliet headpiece with her matching lace veil and carried a nosegay of white roses and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rick Watkins and Debbie DeBarnard.

Richard Johnson, Twin Falls, was best man for his brother, Roger Rutan, fraternity brother of the bridegroom; Eugene, as usher.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Umpqua Hotel. Serving refreshments were Mrs. Lance Short, Mrs. Jerry Gjesvold and Sheryl Russell.

Area John Day Chapter Hosts Yule Luncheon

BURLEY — The John Day Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their Christmas luncheon meeting and social at home of Mrs. Frank Redfield.

Mrs. M. R. Manning, new regent, conducted the business meeting, and a ritual service with the message of the President General read by Mrs. Con Annett. Mrs. J. F. Caldwell was chaplain and conducted the flag exercise.

The group voted cash donations to the following Daughters of the American Revolution groups; Tamasee, Kate Duncan Smith, Micro film, Boise Veterans Hospital, Americana Collection Fund, American History Scholarship, Investment Fund, Constitution Hall Renovation and for Museum air conditioning.

Letters and Christmas greetings were read from Mrs. Jessie Gordon, Coos Bay, Ore., and Mrs. Cora Miller, The Dalles, Ore., both are chapter members.

A message on genealogy was read from Mrs. Marie Webb, Pocatello.

Mrs. Redfield distributed copies of the original Bill of Rights which she received from Tom Good, Twin Falls.

Mrs. M. H. King reported on an article of recent Vietnam news.

Mrs. Earl McCaslin was in charge of the program on Christmas customs and each member reported how she would spend Christmas Day.

Mrs. J. P. Mahoney, Ketchum, was a guest for the luncheon.

The next meeting is Jan. 5 at home of Mrs. McCaslin and Mrs. Verna Blakeley will be in charge of the program on "Forest preservation." Delegates will be elected for the state convention.

LEEUVON ADFIELD Leevon Adfield, Lieberman Plan

June Wedding

JEROME — Mr. and Mrs. Norman Adfield, Jerome, former Twin Falls residents, announce the engagement of their daughter, Leevon, to Alan Michael Lieberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lieberman, Glendale, Calif.

Miss Adfield is a 1966 graduate of Twin Falls High School. She will be graduated with honors from the College of Idaho in February, where she served as homecoming queen this year. She is a member of Delta Phi Omega Sorority.

Mr. Lieberman was graduated from the College of Idaho in 1969 and is currently a student at the University of the Pacific Dental School, San Francisco. An early June wedding is planned in San Francisco, where the couple will reside.

Mrs. McFarland Is Oracle For Royal Neighbors

HANSEN — Mrs. W. I. McFarland was elected oracle for the new year at the Royal Neighbor Lodge meeting at Woodman Hall.

Mrs. Vernon Ball is past oracle; Lena Bohrn, vice oracle; Mrs. Madge Panting, chancellor; Mrs. Lewis Reed, recorder; Mrs. Ovie Anderson, receiver; Mrs. Elsie Henry, receiver; Mrs. Dorothy Voss, assistant marshal; Mrs. Earl Tridle, inner sentinel, and Mrs. Jessie Calico, outer sentinel.

Mrs. Ruth Wright was elected as three year manager; Mrs. Ruby Hill is two-year manager, and Mrs. Mary Taylor, one year manager. Mrs. McFarland is a three-year member of the joint executive board with the Modern Woodmen.

Mrs. McFarland will announce her appointive offices later. The charter was draped in memory of the late Mrs. Rose Wiseman. The resolutions committee chairman was Mrs. Ruby Hill. Past officers were Mrs. Jessie Calico, Mrs. Stella Hughes and Mrs. Madge Panting.

It was voted to start the meetings from November to March at 7 p.m. The new officers will be installed at the Jan. 13 meeting.

Lena Bohrn and Mrs. Ruth Wright were hostesses.

Flower Club Members Hear Program On Arrangements

The program for the Twin Falls Garden Club's December meeting was given by Mrs. Sidney W. Smith. Mrs. Smith presented her program as a series of flower arrangements which could be constructed from flowers and materials grown in this area.

displayed in good light, out of cold drafts and watered correctly, will put on a beautiful display in the home for many weeks of enjoyment.

The tea table was centered with red poinsettia plant and red tapers. Tea and coffee were

Her narration of the different types of period arrangements was illustrated with colored slides as examples of the different types. She gave comments bringing attention to the aspects of color, harmony, balance, scale, design, rhythm, and all elements one should strive for in making a pleasing floral arrangement.

The fashions were furnished by Roper's and Hudson's Shoes. Styles shown were sports, casual, dress and sleep wear. Models were Janet Richardson, Linda German, Judy Trunnell, Jean Corkins, Joyce Medak, Myrl Chugg, Kathy Davidson, Brenda Orton, Betty Jo Keller and Claudia Bray.

Music teacher recommends 45 minutes a day, it may be best to divide the time into two sessions.

Some of the slides presented different combinations of the "Williamsberg" type of arrangement. "These are mass-type, usually constructed in slender containers, and can be very lovely if well put together," she stated. The "Georgian" era used lots of white blossoms in vivid contrast with deep shades of blues and reds usually. The "Victorian" period during the early part was quite restrained, but during the later part of that period they became almost gaudy in contrast.

Special guests were Mrs. Rose Blair and Mrs. Georgia Harris, both of Ropers. The Christmas bell-shaped programs were prepared by Helen Walker, Zella Hazel and Gwen Stoker.

But children aren't the only new owners of musical instruments who get practice fidgets. Guitarist Jimmie Webster gives these hints to adults who are going through throes of practicing:

The Oriental form of the art has always been restrained with emphasis on line, and individual perfection of each of the few flowers used in their arrangements. From all of these various periods has evolved the "American Garden Club" arrangements which are a combination of both the mass type arrangements from the past periods plus the line and simplicity from the Japanese types. From these we have the traditional types using a crescent, hogarth curve, vertical, or mass type in some cases combinations of two of these, such as a mass-line arrangement. This gives one greater freedom of choice in selecting just the right form and line and desired degree of mass for any particular spot in a room from coffee table to mantel or dining room table.

Newcomers attending their first meeting were Mrs. Richard Griner, Mrs. Lynn Paulsen and Mrs. Richard Schafer.

Planned are couples dinner group social; coffee hour; bowling; bridge lessons; and arts and crafts. Persons interested in the planned projects who are newcomers to the area may phone Mrs. Corkins for details.

Style Show Is Held By Burley Newcomers

BURLEY — A style show was held following the annual Christmas dinner meeting of the Burley Newcomers Club in the Sawtooth Room of Ponderosa Inn.

Children have an innate love of music, but not necessarily of music lessons—especially the practice part after the novelty wears off. Many of the joys of learning to play an instrument are crushed by parents who react to the reluctant ones at practice time. Their attitude: "We pay, play—or else."

Children Love Music, Not Lessons

NEW YORK (UPI)—If the Santa at your house plans to deliver a guitar, violin, trumpet, drums or even a zither for a child, understand: Children have an innate love of music, but not necessarily of music lessons—especially the practice part after the novelty wears off.

The same advice will help children, too. Music educators are agreed about certain things regarding practice—no matter what the instrument—where children are concerned. To wit: "For it to be meaningful, let child practice a well-learned piece before he takes on a newer and harder one. Starting out with the one that takes struggling will bog him down."

—If the child rejects music study completely, discontinue lessons again in a short period. —If he has a music class in school be interested in his progress, how he feels about the experience and what type of music future he might be projecting for himself.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband died nine years ago leaving me with two small children. Friends rushed in, offered their sympathy and we were promptly forgotten. Months, even years go by without an invitation to have dinner with a "complete" family.

I have often invited married couples and their families to my home for dinner, but they politely decline for they are not interested in coming to a lady's home where there are only the lady and her children. I have my women friends, and the children have their school friends, but aside from this, we don't even exist.

I once considered joining an organization for parents alone, but when the first invitation closed with, "bring your own bottle," I decided it wasn't for me.

A well-known young men's service organization announced a Sunday father-son swim hour. When I called and explained that my son's father was dead and asked if my son could attend anyway, I was told that the boy would feel "uncomfortable" with boys and their fathers, and he was refused permission to attend.

Please, Abby, appeal to your readers who are fortunate enough to still have their "complete" families to remember those who do not. My story is not unique. Ask anyone in these circumstances.

PARENT ALONE

DEAR PARENT: I cannot imagine a "service organization" rebuffing your son in the manner (and for the reason) you describe. (In which city was this? I'd like to know more about it.) And as for having your dinner invitations "politely declined," because "no one is interested in coming to a lady's house where there is just the lady and her children": If that is indeed the reason, I'm surprised that you haven't thought of inviting a gentleman to be your "host" and escort. Surely in the past nine years you must have met one such gentleman who could fill that role.

DEAR ABBY: Talk about we'd problems, check out mine! I am a college student and have recently been fitted for contact glasses. I love them because I've worn glasses since the fifth grade. My problem is my boyfriend. Believe it or not, HE likes me better in glasses! He wants me to throw away my contacts, but I am not about to, after having invested $200 in them. I much prefer contacts over glasses and I think I should be the one to decide, don't you?

My boyfriend says he has to look at me. He's even offered to reimburse me the $200 if I get rid of the contacts. So far we've compromised. I wear my glasses when I'm with him, and my contacts when I'm not with him, but this is a stupid arrangement and can't last very long. Can you help me?

GLASSY-EYED

DEAR GLASSY: You're right. YOU are the one who should decide. If whether you wear glasses or contacts is going to make a difference in your relationship, it's best to find out now and act accordingly.

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNCLE MILTON: If you lend a friend

10 dollars and never see him again, it's a good investment. What's your problem. You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Pledge Ritual, Party Held By Omicron Chapter

A pledge ritual and Christmas party were held by members of Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi recently at the home of Mrs. Jack Jardine.

The pledge ritual was conducted for Mrs. Steve Swope and Mrs. Dale Johnson. Christmas gifts were exchanged and refreshments served.

The Barbie doll and wardrobe, made by members as a fund raising project, was awarded to Mrs. Andy Capel, Twin Falls, when Susan Herzinger, daughter of Mrs. Norma Herzinger, selected the winner Dec. 13.

Members are planning a party for Dec. 28, with husbands as special guests. It will be a buffet-style party at the home of Mrs. Dave Gietzen.

The next sorority meeting is scheduled for January at the home of Mrs. Helen Thorpe.

Jerome Civic Club Conducts December Meet

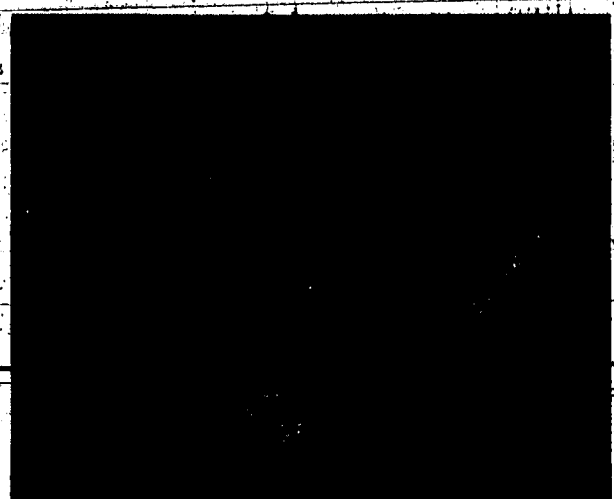

JEROME — The Jerome Civic Club held its December meeting in the Civic Club Room of the Jerome Civic Club Memorial Library.

During the business meeting, a committee was appointed to select a book or books as a memorial for the two recently deceased members of the club, Mrs. Gertrude Brewer and Mrs. Florence Thomason. The committee members appointed are Mrs. J. D. Noland and Mrs. Eugene Judd.

The housing committee, in charge of purchasing needed items for the library building, reported on their assignment of investigating purchasing flags. The decision to buy the flags was tabled until the next meeting. One member of the club made a five dollar donation toward the purchase of a flag.

Mrs. Lyons Smith, Jerome, presented an interesting program about her doll collection and had several of the dolls on display.

The Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Carson Wong from the Jerome High School, sang three Christmas selections. The refreshment table, in keeping with the Christmas theme of the meeting, was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a white, fluffy nylon Christmas tree with lights. Hostesses were Mrs. Oscar Fort, Mrs. Dave Detweiler and Flora Waite, Mrs. Sharon Albertson and Mrs. Harriett Miller poured.

50th Wedding Anniversary Open House Slated Dec. 26

Rep. and Mrs. Jack D. Claiborn will be honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary at an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Dec. 26 at their home on Addison Avenue East.

The reception will be hosted by the couple's four children, a daughter, Mrs. R. J. Burkey, Ogden, and three sons, W. L. Claiborn and Jack Claiborn Jr., Kimberly, and Maj. E. L. Claiborn, Air Force Academy, Colo., and their families.

Rep. and Mrs. Claiborn were married Dec. 25, 1919, in Twin Falls, and resided on the Claiborn farms, where he and his sons have operated farms during the past years.

Mrs. Claiborn came with her family from Greensboro, N.C., in 1908. After finishing school, she was secretary for the manager of Studebaker Co., where she remained until her marriage.

The couple has 14 grandchildren. The families are associated in the Methodist Church in their respective homes.

The Ivory Coast Republic has the world's highest death rate; Haiti leads in infant mortality rate.

Area Couple Will Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

WENDELL — Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Hayes, 518 E. Main, Wendell, will celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary at the Wendell Grange Hall Dec. 28 with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes were married at Hood River, Ore., Dec. 25, 1919. They moved to this area in 1928, where they farmed west of Wendell until they retired in June, 1968. On retirement they purchased a home in town. Both list their hobby as gardening.

They have been members of the Wendell Grange for 35 years. Mrs. Hayes is a member of the Hobby Club and the Mountain View Club.

They have two children—Fenton Hayes, Riggs, and Myra Ann Lewis, Detroit, Mich. Their three grandchildren—Suzanne, Bob and Gary Hayes, are the children of their son.

Arrangements for the reception are being made by their children and grandchildren. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the reception. The couple requests no gifts.

Goodwill Club Hosts Annual Holiday Party

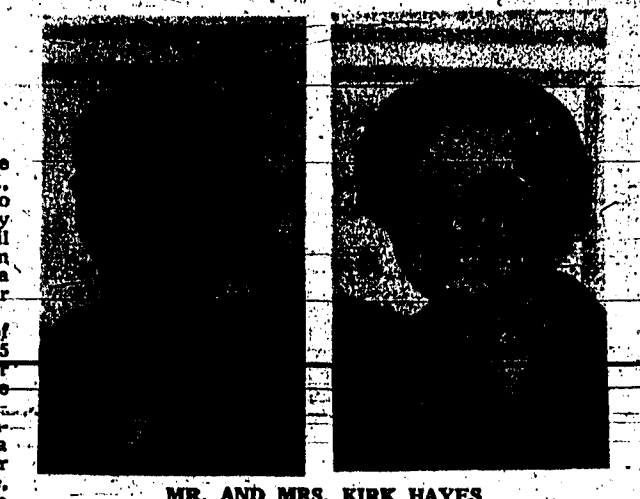

Members of the Goodwill Club held their annual Christmas party and gift exchange recently at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Kelley. Hostesses were Mrs. Emery Treat and Mrs. Henry Wilson.

Christmas verses and prayers were given by the members. The "Lord's Prayer" was given by Mae Meader and the flag salute led by Ellen McCollum.

Mrs. Charles Mattice and Mrs. Bill Hamilton were in charge of the gift exchange, with Mrs. Lynn Owens serving as Santa Claus. The white elephant gifts were won by Marty Wildman and Mrs. Hamilton. The thought for the day was given by Mrs. George Rigdon.

Secret pal gifts were received by Mrs. Mattice, Mrs. Chloé Carr, Miss McCollum, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Ed Orndorff.

West had noted his partner's play of the three and knew that the deuce was stiff missing. Therefore, East had either played a singleton or started an echo to show a doubleton. Thus, it was safe for West to play his nine-spot.

South was in dummy and, since he could not get back to his hand to lead a third club through West, he had to play the third club from dummy. This made it impossible for him to get a diamond discard.

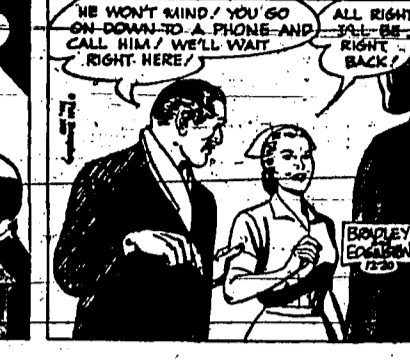

South should have guarded against this defense by leading a club at trick two. If West ducked, South would then draw trumps before leading a second club. This would leave him a heart entry to his hand for a third-club lead and his overbid would have paid off.

Short, Stubby Fingers Said More Dexterous Than Long

THE MIXED DRINK — Ordered a larry concoction last night comprised of three parts apple juice and one part bourbon over ice, and the establishment's host, having never bumped into such a thing before, tried it himself, liked it, and promptly named it "Boydian Sip." Most flattering, to have something named in your honor. Still, it wasn't the first time. A customer once wrote she had named her parakeet Louie, poor bird.

5103-N CROCHET

All-Over Pattern
THIS HANDSOME sweater for the man in your life is made from crocheted afghan squares in an all-over pattern! Pattern No. 5103-N has crochet directions for Small (36-38), Medium (40-42) and Large (44-46) inclusive.

DEAR POLLY—When I asked my husband to help move the furniture out of our bedroom so I could shampoo the carpet we found it difficult to move the heavier pieces because we could not get a hand hold on the back sides. He put inexpensive handles on the backs of the hard-to-move pieces. Now we have something to hold on to which really makes furniture moving faster and easier.—JUANITA

I NEED SOMETHING TO GET HIM TO MOVE FASTER!

DEAR POLLY—When using my sewing machine I pull out a drawer and drop threads, scraps and so on in it. This saves litter from getting on the floor and the drawer is easily emptied.—L. M. W.

I PUT ROLLERS IN DOLLY'S HAIR SO SHE CAN GO SHOPPING LIKE MAMA!

DEAR POLLY—When dressing and fixing dolls for my grandchildren I find that the hair on dolls can be rolled around toothpicks and pinned with straight pins to work like our rollers with plastic pins.—MRS. G. F. B.

DEAR POLLY—A plastic bag such as onions came in works nicely as a scouring pad for pans with food particles stuck to them.—MR. G. C. D.

DEAR POLLY—When removing anything that has stuck to your linoleum or vinyl floor use a pancake turner rather than stooping and scraping with a dull knife.—E. F.

DEAR POLLY—I store my rolls of gift wrapping paper in an old nylon stocking. This way they do not come unrolled and torn. They can be stored vertically or horizontally thus making the best use of any available space.—MABEL

DEAR POLLY—When cleaning drawers in the children's rooms, I tie a knot in one end of a plastic dry cleaning cover and use this as a sack to catch all discarded papers and junk. When full, I tie a knot in the other end. Now the garbage collector doesn't scatter debris all over the yard.—MRS. L. M. B.

DEAR POLLY—Using a shoe bag for a work apron saves steps. Put stout strings on it to tie around the waist and fill the pockets with furniture polish, dust cloth, brushes and anything else you know from experience will be needed in the particular room you are to clean.—E. F.

A COLD AIR DUCT WOULD SPEED UP MY WORK CONSIDERABLY!

DEAR POLLY—When cleaning drawers in the children's rooms, I tie a knot in one end of a plastic dry cleaning cover and use this as a sack to catch all discarded papers and junk. When full, I tie a knot in the other end. Now the garbage collector doesn't scatter debris all over the yard.—MRS. L. M. B.

FOR SPIRO AGNEW, Vice President

Does the Vice President have a special house provided for him as the White House is provided for the President?—Frances Yost, Bluefield, Va.

● No. My wife, our two youngest daughters, and I reside in a nine-room apartment, which we rent at the Sheraton-Park hotel in Washington.

FOR MONTY HALL

of "Let's Make a Deal" Are any steps taken to insure that animals given as prizes on your television show will be properly cared for by the recipients?—Mrs. Lola Landerman, West Sacramento, Calif.

● People whose prizes have been wild animals have actually never taken them from the studio. They are offered a useful substitute prize. If a winner should decide to take the animal, he would be informed about the rules regulating its care and his responsibility to abide by the laws governing the keeping of the animal. The show's producers would then notify civil authorities.

FOR GRACE DAVALL, New York Zoological Society

Is there a simple way to tell the difference between an African elephant and an Indian elephant?—Conrad Piorello, Brooklyn, N.Y.

● The Asiatic has small and triangular ears while the African has larger ears with a narrow extension at the bottom.

What is the most important factor in a baby's first year?—Mrs. E. M. Burks, Santa Rosa, Calif.

● Good nutrition.

FOR PAUL NEWMAN

If Butch Cassidy was big enough of an outlaw to make a movie about, why is it they never made one about him until now?—G. D., Green Bay, Wis.

● Changing mores and audience tastes make the difference. Butch Cassidy never shot a man until finally cornered, and he was generally a lovable character. Until now, it was unthinkable to make an outlaw as sympathetic as all records show Butch to have been.

FOR GEORGE PLIMPTON, author

In one of your books you said that you once boxed Archie Moore, but in the movie, "Paper Lion," the dialogue indicated you lasted three rounds with Sugar Ray Robinson. Whom did you fight?—Kevin Hayes, St. Johns, Mich.

● It was Archie Moore.

What do your duties consist of in your position as Commissioner?—Mrs. Edwin Johnson, Iron River, Mich.

● My responsibilities fall into two major categories—consumer protection (by campaigning for new city, state, and Federal legislation) and consumer education. It is also my duty to see that existing consumer laws are enforced.

FOR DAVID KENNEDY, Secretary of the Treasury

Now that Jackie Onassis has refused the pension that was rightfully hers, to which fund will it be accredited?—Mrs. Irene Rohr, Devils Lake, N.D.

● The Treasury's general fund.

FOR MRS. MARY BROOKS, Director, U.S. Mint

Are there any immediate plans to change the design of the nickel, since this design has passed the usual 25-year life?—Mike Basten, Green Bay, Wis.

● There are no such plans pending.

What in the World!

Bye, Bye, '60s In a short time the decade of the '60s will pass. Some believe it the most revolutionary decade of modern times, and this view is strikingly substantiated in "Goodbye, Baby, and Amen" (photos by David Bailey, text by Peter Evans). It records the phenomenon of the Beatles, the self-awareness of minorities and the poor, the challenge of youth to accepted values. Actor Michael Cline, a symbol of the '60s to many, is quoted as saying, "You can keep the human spirit subdued for 1,960 years and suddenly there comes a time when you can't keep it subdued for another New Year's Eve. We suddenly realized that all these people for whom we had respect not only didn't respect us—but didn't respect themselves. I can see myself at 75 on tv telling people about that time (the '60s)."

Churchly Beginnings Today's ABC-tv special, "The Mysterious, Magical Miracle Box," was written by James Buell and features the Fort Worth (Texas) Boys Choir. Ordained a minister in 1958, Buell says, "I was influenced in the theater by my boyhood roles in Christmas pageants at Madison Street Methodist Church in Muncie, Ind." Currently a television writer, Buell adds, "I think I may be the only clergyman to be represented by the William Morris talent agency."

Small Sight-seeing Some sight-seers think they have "seen the Everglades" by just speeding along the 38-mile road to the Flamingo vacation complex on climbing Lingus snail, for instance, has 50 different shell patterns, none larger than 2 or 2½ inches. Squirrel tree frogs, about one inch long, walk on window panes at night, singing a metallic imitation of a cricket. The Parula warbler is a winter bird, less than four inches long. Next trip, stop, look, and listen to the little wonders of nature.

The Christmas Party I Never Wanted— and Will Never Forget

This noted novelist found his yacht overcrowded with holiday guests; he wasn't too happy about it—not until a memorable midnight surprise

By SLOAN WILSON

Author of "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," "A Sense of Values," and "Away from It All"

MY MOST memorable Christmas started out to be a disaster.

My wife Betty, our two-year-old daughter Jessica, and I had recently given up our apartment in New York to live permanently aboard a lovely but narrow old 54-foot motor cruiser in Florida.

In the excitement of making this great change in our lives, we had broadcast invitations to all our friends and relatives, begging them to visit us any time they came south. The week before Christmas everybody accepted—all at once!

"This is going to be impossible!" Betty cried in dismay. "All three of the older children want to come and bring friends from college. Mort Leavy and Fay are going to bring their two daughters. My father will be here from Ireland. That means there are going to be 14 people aboard this boat. It will be like having a cocktail party in a closet! And we only have seven bunks!"

"The kids will stretch sleeping bags out on deck," I said.

"What will they do when it rains?"

"I'll rig up some tarpaulins."

"How am I going to cook for them all on a three-burner stove?"

"Stick to hot dogs and hamburgers. If we stay on the Inland Water Route, we can eat ashore a lot."

"It's going to be a madhouse," she said gloomily. "How can we put up 14 people in a boat that has only four cabins? And not one of them is as big as the elevator is at home!"

"Do you want to tell any of them not to come on down?"

"No, we've been begging Mort and Fay to visit us for months. We can't tell the kids not to come, and if they can't bring their friends, we'll probably never see them. My father would be terribly hurt."

"It won't be bad when people are on deck. And maybe I can arrange for some of them to stay ashore some of the time. I have a friend who runs a boarding school in Palm Beach which will probably have empty dormitories over the holiday."

That seemed a practical solution, but when our guests arrived, it also turned out to be a miserable one, for everyone wanted to cruise around the Florida Keys, not to hang around a deserted campus.

"Let's take a chance on the weather," I said. "If things get bad, we can tie up near some hotel."

"It would cost a fortune to put this gang ashore!"

"Maybe it won't rain. Things will work out somehow."

The young people were cheerful as they picked places on deck to unroll sleeping bags, and Betty's father said several times that the narrow bench in the deckhouse was really extremely comfortable.

Although our tiny after-cabin had only two small bunks, Mort Leavy said there was plenty of room for his family of four. The weather reports weren't encouraging, but two days before Christmas the sky cleared up, and we started down the canals to the Keys.

"Can we stop in some town before the stores close?" Betty asked. "I haven't had a minute to plan any Christmas decorations."

"Oh, no!" I groaned. "We just don't have room for that sort of thing. Everything is complicated enough as it is."

"Can't we even have a Christmas tree?" she asked.

"Where would you put it?"

"All the other boats have tiny ones at least. Jessie's just getting old enough to appreciate Christmas. Couldn't we hang up a few wreaths and colored lights?"

I was tired and worried by the task of running a crowded boat safely. "Christmas decorations are a fire hazard at sea," I replied. "Strings of colored lights can short-circuit and throw out our electrical system."

"Can't we at least hang up a few sprigs of holly and some mistletoe?"

"There isn't room for people to hang up their clothes!" I retorted.

"Aren't you having trouble enough as it is?"

"All right," Betty said sadly. "We'll give up Christmas."

"I didn't say that!" for some reason, my voice sounded angry.

"Christmas isn't supposed to be just wreaths and a tree and colored lights. Christmas is the spirit of giving, and I'm giving everything I've got just to keep this gang alive. Christmas is people, and heaven knows we have plenty of them!"

"All right," she said. "What do you want to have for Christmas dinner? Hot dogs and hamburgers?"

"What else are you going to cook for 14 people on a three-burner stove? Try a big beef stew. You'd never get a big turkey in our oven."

"Some Christmas this is going to be," she said and went below.

Betty had cheerfully put up with a great many inconveniences ever since we had moved aboard the boat, and I expected her to bounce back from the disappointment of missing a traditional Christmas celebration, but that evening she seemed more depressed than ever.

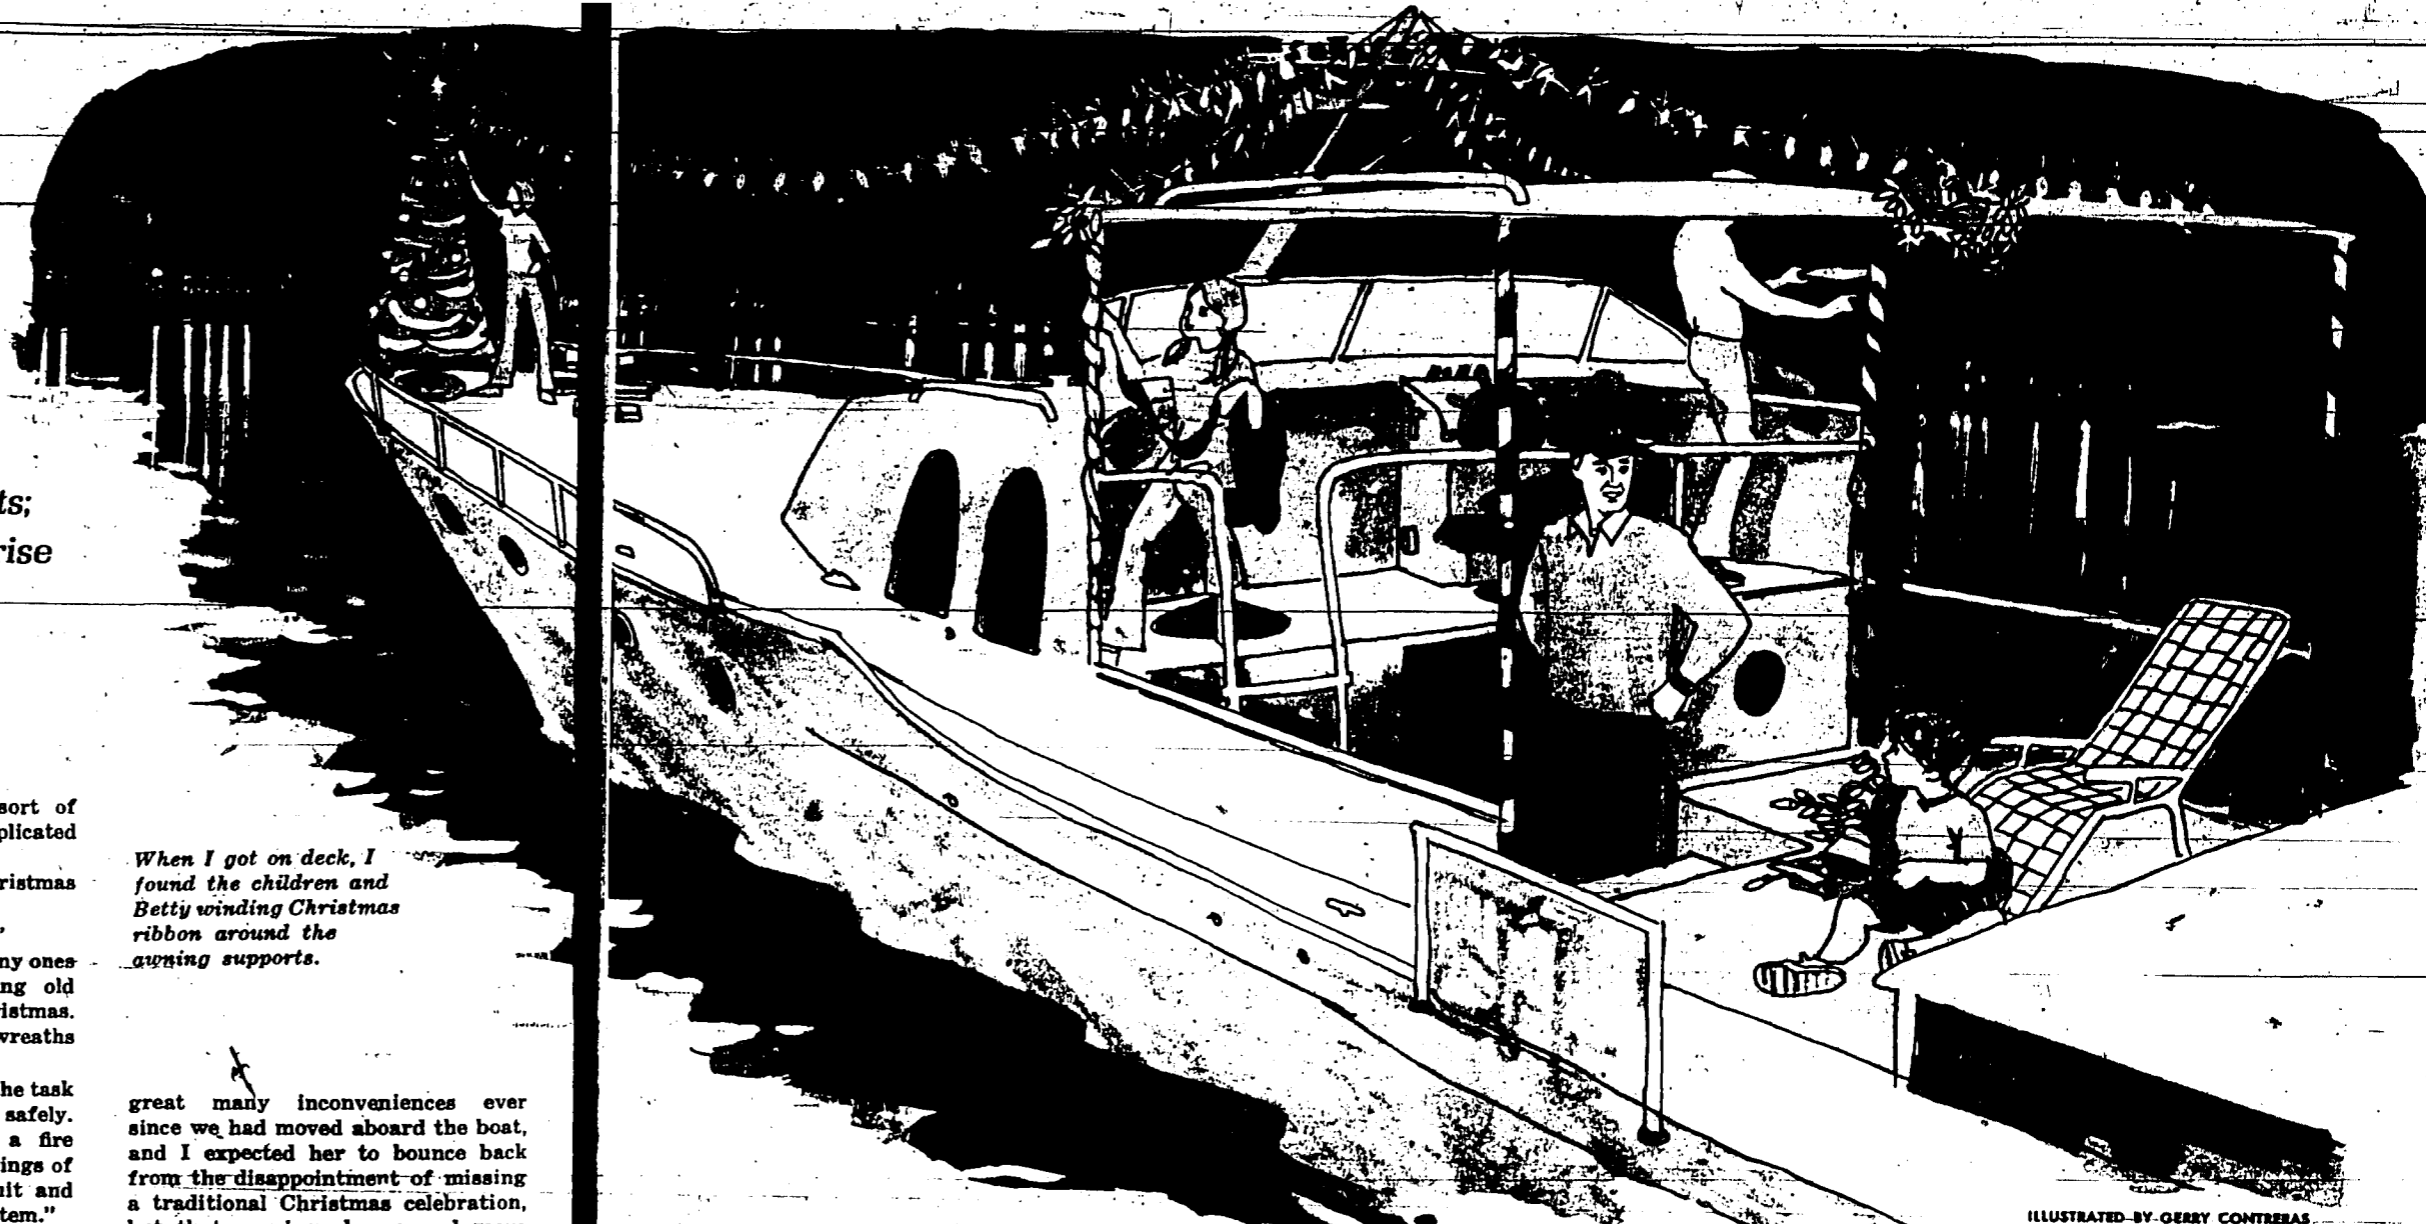

My attempts to justify my Scrooge-like attitude by emphasizing the necessity for safety precautions at sea were ruined by a parade of gaily decorated boats which turned the Inland Waterway into a Christmas carnival. Many boats had colored lights strung from bow to stern.

Christmas trees sprouted from the decks of the tiniest houseboats. Papier mâché Santa Clauses climbed from the stacks of larger yachts, and a cardboard reindeer pranced on many a flying bridge. One big schooner had all her masts and rigging blinking with lights.

"All that wiring must be waterproof," I said to Betty as she sat with Jessie admiring the fleet. "It would cost a fortune to decorate this boat like that."

"All right," she said acidly. "Do you mind if I go ashore and at least get some things to fill stockings?"

"Go ahead," I replied defensively. "I've got to wash the decks down and do some work on the engines."

Shortly after, Betty went ashore. Everyone followed her except two of the boys who stayed behind to help me. With the boat almost deserted, the cleaning went faster than usual, but it took me an hour to put a new belt on a generator, and the strain of the past few days had left me exhausted. Stretching out on a bunk in the forecabin, I decided to take a nap before dinner.

It was pitch dark when I awoke, and glancing at my luminous watch, I saw that I had slept until midnight. Opening the door to the galley, I was surprised to see a silver bell hanging over the oven and a red wreath surrounded the porthole.

Going into the forward cabin, I saw a miniature tree of metal foil glittering on a shelf, and another tree of green paper had been pasted against a bulkhead.

The leaves of the dining-room table had been opened, and there Fay Leavy and several of the young people had set up a regular factory for the making of Christmas ornaments out of balls of plastic, ribbons, glue, and a variety of sequins, beads, and colored paper.

"Take a look on deck, Skipper," Fay said, "and don't worry about all this. We made absolutely certain that everything is fireproof."

On the bow, a tall tree with green nylon leaves had been lashed to the anchor davit, and the boys had outlined our mast and cross trees with white lights. Betty, the Leavy children, and Jessie, who was too excited to sleep, were winding red ribbon around the awning supports, and an elaborate wreath had been fastened onto the deckhouse.

"I didn't start any of this!" Betty said to me, grinning with delight. "Everybody just went out on his own and combed the town for decoration. I don't think Christmas is even a religious holiday for the Leavys, but Fay saw how miserable I was, and she said life is too short to pass up any celebrations."

"Don't worry about the wiring on the mast," my older daughter's boy friend said. "I found some waterproof wire at a filling station."

All the next day the entire ship's company worked on the decorations. Betty explained to Jessie the significance of the cross they rigged out at masthead and the meaning of all celebrations meant to express the joy of life and the love people can have for each other, as well as the love of God.

Whether Jessie, at the age of two, understood this wasn't clear, but she loved the tree on the bow, which had been hung with strings of popcorn, candy canes, cookies, and fruit, instead of glass balls or lights she couldn't be allowed to touch. The only light was a star at the very top.

When it came time for Christmas dinner, we found that the three burners did a remarkable job of heating canned turkey and plum pudding, which had been provided by our thoughtful guests. Afterward, Betty played carols on the tiny piano we had installed in our deckhouse, and we lit a handful of briquettes in the miniature fireplace, which we had bought just as insurance against cold weather.

It didn't rain all that week, and no one minded sleeping on deck as we sailed to the Keys and back to Palm Beach. At night, when we lay anchored in still black water, our festive lights and the Christmas tree were reflected in the water beside us.

Standing by the rail, looking out across the water, I felt a glow of happiness. I was fortunate to have had this Christmas with my family and friends on our floating home.

Our Christmas in the Wilderness

A city family takes a camper into the isolated North Woods for a yuletide with the deer and porcupines—and nature at its best and worst

By BILL THOMAS

TO US, Christmas has always meant a warm, comfortable home with a tree, decorations, and the children running around in their pajamas and slippers.

But last year changed that age-old image for us. My wife and our two sons, Billy, 9, and Alan, 2, decided to camp out on Christmas in the North Woods section of Michigan in the Ottawa National Forests. Alone with the elements, our holiday was exhilarating and memorable—contrasting sharply to past ones.

We struck out from home in Cincinnati, Ohio, in an El Dorado camper outfitted with a butane-gas forced-air furnace, gas refrigerator, four-burner range, double sink, bathroom and shower, and beds for six. It was to be our holiday home.

After almost six months of considering sites, we choose (with the help of the U.S. Forest Service) Sylvania on the west end of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. We drove the 1,400 mile journey leisurely, stopping for overnight rests. We reached the ranger station in Watersmeet and parked overnight. The next morning, we picked up a snowmobile and drove five miles to Sylvania, where we found a snow-laden paradise—and more snow falling.

Once at the site, we spied a pine tree close by, its branches heavy with snow. It was small enough to be decorated and would be our own special Christmas tree—not one for bright electric lights but one on which we hung edible decorations for the wildlife which abounds there. Strings of popcorn and cranberries, apples, suet, and ears of corn made up the tree décor. We carpeted the snow beneath the tree with bird seed, and we knew that this would be the best Christmas tree we had ever had.

Christmas Eve the snow stopped, leaving a 42-inch blanket of white on the ground. It was powdery and difficult to travel on by snowmobile.

But we did explore several miles in Sylvania that day, and on several occasions we spotted fresh deer tracks. The bellies of the animals nearly erased their tracks, the snow was so deep. We also spotted the cuttings of porcupines and knew the forest was alive with animals.

Mark Lefler, U.S. Forest Ranger, came by to warn us that night of an impending cold wave—temperatures would drop to -30F. We decided to prepare for it. We'd had some problems with the regulator on the bottled gas tank which had frozen on the underside of the camper, so we insulated it after we heated the pipes.

We had some heaters—a butane-gas radiant heater and one Coleman heater, which had an output of 5,000 BTUs for just such an emergency. We lit it that night; it would burn for 36 hours on one filling so it would last the night.

If the journey itself lacked an atmosphere of adventure before, it certainly did not now. We now felt like frontiersmen.

On our breakfast table, we decorated a small tree which we had obtained in Watersmeet. Around this would be our gifts to one another, but Santa was not going to come until Christmas morning—not during the night and leave without being seen. He would come through the woodland on a snowmobile, racing along the modern way instead of with his usual flying reindeer.

We decorated our Christmas tree with tidbits for the wildlife there.

Santa arrived by snowmobile.

We thought we'd explore Lac Vieux desert some 15 miles south of Sylvania to see if any ice fishermen were there. Besides, it was a nice day for a drive along a snowy back road, and this particular one leading to the lake would pass an old Indian village, deserted in winter but occupied in summer by members of the Winnebago tribe from Wisconsin.

We stopped and took pictures, wading about in the snow to the flimsy framework of their one-powwow tent. The hides which formed the walls were missing but the wooden framework was still there, and we marveled at the architecture of it.

The snow was too deep to walk around much without snowshoes, so we soon went on. There were no fishermen out that day. It might have been because it was Christmas Day, or it might have been because it was so cold—the thermometer never did get up to zero all day.

That night we had Christmas dinner. We planned to spend another day at Sylvania, but after dinner, the ranger came by to warn us again—this time a storm was on its way.

We talked about it and decided not to make any firm decision on leaving until morning. But when we awoke, it was snowing heavily again. We quickly broke camp, returned our snowmobile to Watersmeet, and headed home. We didn't want to be snowed in by a blizzard if we could avoid it.

It was with great reluctance that we left Sylvania and the North Woods. The giant hemlocks, spruce, and firs all pointing skyward from their blankets of snow, large snowflakes falling from the skies, made the scene—whatever its hazards—like a Christmas card.

Our Christmas ended earlier than we had planned—but even so, it was the most cherished of all.

Real Jewels Among Swiss-made Watches

3 WORLD FAMOUS CHRONOGRAPHS

ALL COMPLETE WITH 6 DIALS, 5 HANDS, AND
2 PUSHBUTTON CONTROLS

Pilot's Chronograph only $1295

This is a gem, first made famous by World War II pilots who found it not only an absolutely accurate timepiece, but a piece of equipment more valuable than a boxful of instruments. Whether you like to fly, or drive sports cars, record your average speed per mile, or time the number of beers consumed in an hour, this will do the job. All 5 hands are machine-calibrated in Switzerland where the complete works are neatly turned out in two different factories, then assembled in a third. It is shock-resistant, anti-magnetic, has unbreakable mainspring, big sweep second hand, luminous dial and hands, golden-finished die-cast case, and a leather strap. A big hunk of watch for only $12.95. Guaranteed for 1 year!

SELF-HELP QUIZ

What's the Truth About Lying?

HAVE YOU ever told a lie? Can you tell when you are being lied to? Was that a truthful answer?

Lying is a problem that modern science has been looking into with some interesting results. The following true-or-false test was devised from these findings and gives you the chance to compare your conclusions with the experts.

1. The best way to tell whether a person is lying is to watch his face carefully as he's talking.

2. Lying has a physical effect on you.

3. A man is more astute than a woman when it comes to judging whether a person is lying.

4. In principle, it's just as bad to tell a "white lie," as to engage in any other form of deception.

5. If a person vows to keep a secret, he isn't likely to break it.

6. Women lie about their age more than men do.

7. Pathological liars tell the biggest falsehoods.

8. Deceitful people always have shifty eyes.

9. The trait that men dislike most in a woman is lying and deceit—feeling one thing and pretending another.

10. People who are happy with themselves, who have high self-esteem, seldom tell lies.

ANSWERS

1. False. Recent studies conducted at the University of Michigan demonstrated that you can judge whether a person is lying or not with far greater accuracy if you pay more attention to his voice—and don't look at his face. Facial expression and mannerisms serve as distractions and make judgments less accurate.

2. True. And the more flagrant the lie, the more severe the physical reaction. Lying can have an adverse effect on the nervous system and on the function of various vital organs, leading to ulcers and even high blood pressure.

3. False. Studies show that women are more sensitively aware of other people. Men are more likely to take others at face value while women tend to probe deeper, screening out superficialities.

4. False. A "white lie" is de-efined as a false statement made knowingly but with the intent of being polite or kind; a minor or trivial untruth.

5. False. A psychological study conducted at the University of California showed that 72 out of 113 subjects broke a promise of secrecy regarding the research project in which they were engaged. First-born and only children were best in keeping secrets.

6. False. Intensive investigation revealed that lying about age was found to occur most frequently in the 30 to 50 age group, and 14 percent of the men in this group lied about their age. Only 10 percent of the women did.

7. True. The pathological liar has a mental quirk and, though he may be relatively normal in other respects, lying gives him an emotional kick and self-satisfaction.

8. False. Many people—both truthful and otherwise—find it difficult to look steadily into another person's eyes for more than a few moments. There may be many reasons—shyness, even a physical condition of the eyes—but not necessarily dishonesty.

9. True. Psychologists at Davidson College surveyed men on the traits they most disliked in women, and deceitfulness or insincerity came out at the top of the list. Shallowness ranked second. Women were more tolerant of deceitfulness in men.

10. True. Studies by University of Texas psychologists show that lying and cheating go hand in hand with low self-esteem. It was found that when people could be induced to raise their self-esteem, they were much less likely to act in a dishonest fashion.

THIS DIAMOND IS NOT A DIAMOND!

Imagine paying under $100 for a perfect two-carat diamond ring... under $100 for fabulous one-carat diamond earrings... under $60 for a full carat diamond tie-tac!

(A 69.2 carat DIAMOND costs $1,000,000.
A 69.2 carat Diagem costs $2,500.)

Impossible?

Since diamond prices are so closely controlled by the international cartels, of course that likelihood is extremely remote, but now thanks to an incredible space-age breakthrough, you can do practically the same thing!

Now, for a fraction of what you would pay for a genuine diamond, you can purchase a man-made stone so perfect even an expert using a powerful magnifying glass can't tell it from the real thing for sure without actually subjecting it to scientific testing!

Imagine! Magnificent man-made diamonds so perfect that experts can barely tell them apart positively... So beautiful that jewelers — and even pawnbrokers — are fooled!... So flawless that few genuine diamonds can match their perfection... and for less than one twentieth the cost!

These magnificent stones are called Diagem. They are identical to diamonds in every respect except one!

THE ONLY DIFFERENCE

Genuine diamonds are produced from carbon under tremendous heat and pressure. So are Diagem! Genuine diamonds have a cubic molecular structure. So do Diagem! Genuine diamonds have a fire and brilliance measured on the refractory scale as 2.4. So do Diagem! Genuine diamonds are cut by expert diamond cutters. So are Diagem!

What is the difference then? Simply this... A diamond, which is the hardest substance in the world, is harder than a Diagem. A Diagem is almost as hard as an emerald, but it isn't as hard as a diamond. This is the only basic difference between a genuine diamond and a Diagem, and that difference is of no practical consequence.

The woman who wears a Diagem will never be aware of the minute difference — nor will anyone else — unless you tell them! Diagem pass for real diamonds anywhere, under close examination, and in the most knowledgeable and most sophisticated company!

100 years ago, 50 years ago, even 20 years ago, there was no substitute for diamonds. There were paste, zircons, and a few laboratory-made stones of uncertain quality, but nothing that could actually pass as a genuine diamond. Now that situation

HOW DIAGEM COMPARES TO A DIAMOND
58-FACETS	YES	YES
FLAWLESS	NO	YES
BRILLIANCE	YES	YES
PURE WHITE	NO	YES
HARDNESS	YES	YES } diamond is harder
EXPENSIVE	YES	NO
	$800 to $2,000 a carat	$35 or less a carat
SUMMARY Why pay twenty times more for a diamond when Diagem surpass diamonds in every test but one?

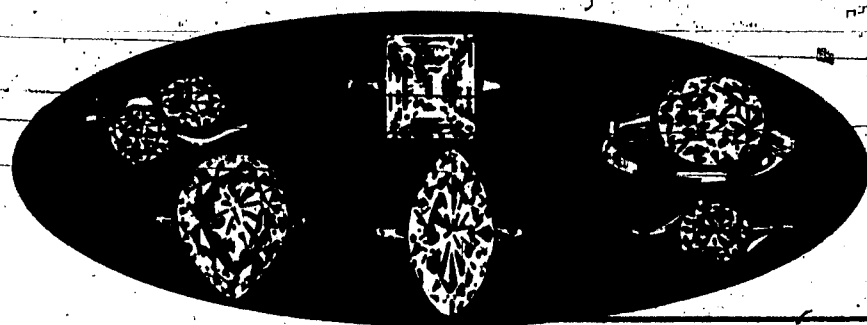

has changed dramatically! Just as the cultured pearl can't be told from the genuine pearl, so the Diagem can't be told from the diamond, and knowledgeable people everywhere are taking advantage of the fact!

Those magnificent diamond earrings your friend's wife was wearing the other day may actually have been Diagem! That beautiful ring your best friend was wearing may have been a Diagem as well! More people — especially among the wealthy — are wearing Diagem than you would begin to suspect, but they're not telling, and unless they do, there is no way you could possibly know.

WHY NOT YOU?

Unless you are buying purely for investment, Diagem make perfect sense because: 1. They cost only a fraction of what diamonds cost, yet they are just as beautiful and often more so. 2. They pose no expensive insurance problems. If one should be lost, strayed or stolen, the event is not the calamity it might otherwise be. 3. No one can tell them from the real thing for sure without subjecting them to a hardness test.

If you are wondering what kind of a gift to get for that special occasion... why these stones with zircons, white sapphires, paste or any of the "synthetic diamonds" you may have seen, heard or read about. Diagem are different! The product of years of research and development, they are virtually identical to and indistinguishable from genuine diamonds in every important respect... Same basic cubic molecular structure, same light refractive index (2.4), same clarity and brilliance! Like a diamond, Diagem, too are forever.

PAWNBROKERS BEWARE (TWO TRUE STORIES)

When Diagem were first introduced, a matewe know approached a pawnbroker with a one carat Diagem ring. The broker examined it through his glass and said, "$750." Look again, smiled our friend expecting the pawnbroker to recognize his error. "O.K., $800," he replied, "but no higher."

The prospective mother-in-law was unimpressed by her daughter's choice of a beau. When the young couple showed her the magnificent engagement ring, Momma softened a bit. After all, anyone who could afford an $1800 ring couldn't be all bad. The actual cost of that ring? Less than $80, but to this day Momma hasn't the slightest inkling! Diagem simply cannot be told from real diamonds by visual inspection alone!

Money-Back GUARANTEE

When your Diagem arrives, examine it for 10 days at our risk. If you aren't convinced it is everything we claim, indistinguishable from a genuine diamond except by hardness test, don't keep it. Simply return for full and immediate refund, no questions asked!

READ WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT DIAGEM

"... the jeweler remarked three times about the brilliance of the gem and even compared it with a diamond of the same size, under the same light and apparently did not know that it was not a diamond."

C. T.
Lansing, Michigan

"I gave a Diagem for inspection, to a friend of mine who has been a jeweler for over 40 years and he could not tell the difference. I am sold."

R. B.
Worcester, Mass.

not a Diagem? If you have an anniversary coming up, what better way to go all out than with a gift like this? If you are about to purchase an engagement ring, how much more sense to invest in a Diagem! You get a bigger (and since diamonds are judged by size), a far more lovely and impressive ring for a fraction of what you would expect to pay, and the huge savings can go towards furnishing the house or towards that new car.

Or, if you are simply trying to impress or win over a friend, what better way than this? If diamonds are a girl's best friend, so are Diagem because she'll never tell them apart!

No matter what kind of gift, no matter what the occasion, certainly Diagem make good sense, and if you have any doubts, you can actually see for yourself without risk. We are so confident you will be impressed with Diagem once you actually examine one, that we make this

Traditional Christmas Dinner

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

■ Merry Christmas! As you plan and prepare your Christmas dinner, the roast goose and steamed pudding may well remind you of a dinner long years ago—one conjuring up visions of yule logs and "A Christmas Carol."

Roast Goose with Stuffing

Rice 'n' Pickle Stuffing (see recipe)

8- to 10-lb. goose (ready-to-cook weight)

1 tablespoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1½ cups orange juice
½ cup orange marmalade

1. Rinse goose and remove any large layers of fat from the body cavity. Pat dry with absorbent paper. Rub body and neck cavities with a mixture of the salt and pepper.

2. Lightly spoon stuffing into the neck and body cavities. Overlap neck cavity with the skin and skewer to back of goose. Close body cavity with skewers and lace with cord. Loop cord around legs; tighten slightly and tie to a skewer inserted in the back above tail. Rub skin of goose with a little salt, if desired.

3. Place goose, breast side down, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Roast, uncovered at 325°F. 2 hrs., removing fat from pan several times during this period.

4. Turn goose, breast side up. Brush generously with a blend of the corn syrup and 1 cup orange juice. Roast about 1½ hrs. or until goose tests done. To test for doneness, move leg gently by grasping end of bone; when done, drumstick-thigh joint moves easily or twists out. Brush frequently during final roasting period with the orange-syrup blend.

5. Transfer goose to a heated serving platter. Spoon into a small saucepan 2 tablespoons drippings, the remaining ½ cup orange juice and marmalade. Heat thoroughly, stirring to blend. Pour into a serving dish or gravy boat to accompany goose.

6 to 8 servings

Rice 'n' Pickle Stuffing

3 cups cooked rice; or 6 oz. (1 pkg.) seasoned white and wild rice mix, cooked according to pkg. directions
1 pkg. (7 oz.) herb-seasoned stuffing croutons
2 medium-sized navel oranges, pared and sectioned
2 onions, chopped
1 cup cranberries, rinsed, sorted, and chopped
1 cup sweet mixed pickles, drained and chopped
¼ cup sweet pickle liquid
¼ to ½ cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons brown sugar

1. Combine all ingredients, and toss lightly until blended. Stuff neck and body cavities of the goose.

2. Put remaining stuffing into a greased casserole and cover; or cook in heavy-duty aluminum foil. Set into oven with goose during final hour of roasting.

About 3 qts. stuffing

Old-Fashioned Plum Pudding

1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon ground mace
4 oz. suet (about 1 cup, chopped)
1 cup sugar
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 eggs, well beaten
¼ cup orange juice
1 cup milk
1 cup dark seedless raisins
1 cup currants
½ cup chopped nuts
¼ cup finely chopped candied orange peel
¼ cup finely chopped candied lemon peel

1. Sift the first 6 ingredients together 3 times; set aside.
2. Separate the suet from its membrane, discarding membrane, and chop suet finely. Put into a bowl with sugar, bread crumbs, and beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Stir in the orange juice.

3. Adding alternately and mixing thoroughly after each addition, add the dry ingredients in thirds and milk in halves to suet mixture.

4. Mix in raisins, currants, nuts, and candied peels. Turn into a well-greased 2-qt. mold or 2 1-qt. molds. Cover tightly (inside cover greased), or tightly tie greased heavy-duty aluminum foil over top of mold and steam* about 3 hrs.

5. Remove pudding to a rack; remove cover and let pudding stand 10 to 20 min. Unmold onto serving plate. Serve with any desired pudding sauce. (If storing pudding, unmold on rack and cool completely before wrapping in foil and setting in a cool place. Steam thoroughly before serving.) About 12 servings *Place covered pudding on a rack in a large kettle. Pour in boiling water to no more than one-half of the height of the mold. Cover steamer; bring water to boiling and keep it boiling at all times.

Vanilla Sauce

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 to 2 tablespoons vanilla extract

1. Sift sugar, cornstarch, and salt into a saucepan. Add the water gradually, stirring constantly. Continue to stir, bring to boiling and simmer 5 min.

2. Remove from heat and blend in the butter or margarine and extract.

2 cups sauce

Note: For Lemon Sauce, substitute 3 tablespoons lemon juice for vanilla extract and add 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel. For Brandy or Rum Sauce, substitute 3 tablespoons brandy or rum for the extract.

A Christmas Prayer

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding & that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified & that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them & that each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses & that the true spirit of this Christmas Season — its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith — may live among us & that the blessings of peace be ours — the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence.

PROVEN IN THE LABS — PROVEN ON THE ROAD —
PROVEN ON THE INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY —
— and finally released to the public!

Yes, proven at Indianapolis — proven in the world's largest automobile fleet owned by Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — proven by the world's most famous proving grounds, Yes, here on the big exciting new scientific "proving grounds" that means... no matter what kind of car you own you can now pile up 100 miles of driving a month... pile up 500 miles after month and fill your gas-tank as little as once a month... and save up to 500 gallons of gas 100 miles of driving a day all 365 days of the year... and save up to 500 gallons of gas each year!

NOW! 30 DAYS OF DRIVING ON A SINGLE TANK OF GAS!

— even more startling, now save up to $16 a month, up to 50 gallons of gas each month, without changing a single part on your car!

Laboratory reports... PLUS road tests conducted on Indianapolis proving grounds... save up to 50 gallons of gas each month... save up to $200 on your car each year!

Six months ago, for perhaps the first time in history, the United States Government issued patent protection to an invention that has been classified ILLEGAL! Sound strange? Not really here's why: I'm sure you're familiar with the famous gasoline economy tests run by all the major oil companies. Well, do you know that the remarkable new invention described on this page is actually banned from these tests because it is TOO EFFECTIVE! Do you know that because this invention saves so much gasoline... that because it gives so much economy... it is actually ILLEGAL for a test-driver to fit one on his car! And do you know that because it boosts gasoline mileage up to 11 more miles per gallon... it has actually been OUTLAWED in every recognized cross-country economy run... simply because if you are about to read these tests were forced to rule that it gives all cars that have it an UNFAIR ADVANTAGE!

In other words, if you are a person planning on entering one of these cross-country economy runs... then this message is not for you! YOU MUST BE ALLOWED TO USE THIS NEW INVENTION—SORRY, BUT IT'S SIMPLY ILLEGAL. BUT... if you are a person who is not interested in setting any records... who is only interested in getting more miles per gallon than you ever dreamed possible... and doing it the very same way that many of America's leading corporations are doing at this very moment... then what you are about to read is perhaps the most thrilling and exciting news in automotive history.

TEST DRIVERS REPORT UP TO 11 MORE MILES PER GALLON!—The name of this great new invention is the G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER... and there is no letter way to describe to you the increased performance and economy it will give you... than to tell you of the "bombshell effect" it had on research scientists and test-drivers, who simply refused to believe their own gasoline gauges when they first tried it out. Look:

CUTS GASOLINE COSTS TO AS LITTLE AS 10 CENTS A GALLON!—When the G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER was first tested by the same research laboratories used by Ford, General Motors and Chrysler... results were so overwhelming, it staggering increase of up to 68 per cent)... it actually lowered gasoline costs to as little as ONE CENT A MILE!

2. When tests were made by the world's leading auto rental system with this incredible money saving invention... and then test-run on the road and on such world famous proving grounds as the Indianapolis Speedway... the test-drivers of these vehicles were absolutely amazed to see big a cylinder engine and better gas mileage than small European economy cars!
3. When large fleet owners and some of the nation's largest rental fleets tested the great new invention to determine just how much gas it would save them... the results were so dramatic that within 30 days they reported savings of not hundreds... but thousands of gallons of gas the very first month alone!

UP TO 500 MILES OF DRIVING FROM A SINGLE TANK OF GAS!—Yes, from test after test... road tests, laboratory tests... and on such of the world's most famous drivers... come reports of cars that drive for hundreds and hundreds of miles ON A SINGLE TANK OF GAS! Reports of test cars from Ford, General Motors, Chrysler that get more miles per gallon today than when they were brand new! Reports of big, luxury sedans that weigh 2½ times more than small European cars... yet get better mileage, better performance and huge dollar savings thanks to this new miracle invention!

BEST PROOF OF ALL!
World's Leading Rent-A-Car Company—Best Jobs Among New Inventions For 3 Months... THE FLEET OF CARS IMMEDIATELY EQUIPPED!—They report "savings of up to $4 per gallon a month per car!"
Yes, from one of the nation's largest automobile fleet owners comes the most dramatic proof of all! A company that spends more money on gasoline in one weekend than the average person spends in a 12-month period... they tested this incredible new invention and here is what they found: BOOSTED GASOLINE MILEAGE A SHOCKING 11% ON TESTS! Wouldn't you like to save up to $200 a year on your car? For full details read the rest of this page!

IF IT WORKS SUCH MILEAGE-MIRACLES, HOW COME THE CAR MANUFACTURERS HAVEN'T INSTALLED THIS TYPE UNIT IN THEIR CARS?—THE ANSWER IS THAT YOU ALREADY HAVE!

By now you are probably wondering just what is the G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER... and how does it work? Well, to make a long story short... if you were to look under the hood of one of those $20,000 European luxury cars like the Mercedes or the Aston-Martin, you would see sitting in those engines... a special gasoline unit especially designed to extract more blazing power, more energy from each gallon of gasoline. This remarkable booster-unit is what gives these cars such magnificent performance... such TOTAL POWER!... such increased engine efficiency. And this is precisely what the G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER is designed to do — enable your engine to extract more piston-driving power, more raw, blazing energy and more gasoline economy...

HERE IT IS — IN ACTION!—The miracle G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER, caught by the eye of ultra high-speed cameras at one of the world's most famous proving grounds. Yes, here on the big viewing console you see dramatic picture-proof of tests conducted by leading automotive authorities at the Indianapolis Speedway... tests that PROVE you can now actually take ordinary gasoline... feed it into your engine in a new and different way... trigger it into piston-driving energy... and unleash a blazing source of power for your car, for full scientific proof of just how this amazing new discovery can save you up to $200 in gasoline bills in the next 12 months... read the rest of this page. (Tests performed by official Indianapolis test driver.)

ONLY, instead of costing $100 to $150 (like the European booster-unit)... the G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER costs but a mere fraction. That's because after years of intensive research automotive experts have finally found a way to simplify these booster units... reduce the number of parts in each unit... mass produce them... slash-costs to a mere fraction... and make them available at a price so low it's almost too ridiculous to mention. Why do you realize what this means to you if you are a person who is determined to save yourself up to $16 a month on your gas bills... up to 50 gallons of gas each month... yes, up to $200 a year on wasted gasoline.

INSTALLS IN MINUTES — PAYS FOR ITSELF IN AS LITTLE AS 15 DAYS!—It means that no matter what kind of car you now have... no matter how old that car may be... no matter what condition it is in... no matter how many miles you pile on each month... here at last is the automotive discovery you've long dreamed about... and has now come true. Because, from this day on you too can now save up to 500 gallons of gas each and every year. NOW you too can drive for weeks and weeks on end without ever stopping at a service station. Now you too can drive across 6 states of the union on just a single tank of gas, blaze a trail from New York to Chicago on just 2 or 3 tankfuls. In other words, perform mileage miracles that only yesterday you thought were impossible. So if you too want to achieve the same wondrous results as America's largest automotive fleet owners, by Indianapolis test-drivers, and by research scientists at the very same testing laboratories used by Ford, Chrysler and General Motors, then take advantage of this special Free-Trial Introductory Offer. Remember, all you risk is the few minutes it takes to fill out the special reservation coupon below, and you have a lifetime of driving convenience and economy to gain.

THIS OFFER EXPIRES IN 15 DAYS — YOU MUST ACT NOW! Now the price of the G. T. ENERGY CHAMBER on this special introductory offer is not the $5 or 20 dollars you might expect... but only $3.95. Why, you'll save up to 10 times that amount in gasoline savings in no time at all... not to mention the hundreds of gallons of gasoline and hundreds of dollars in money you save year after year. However, due to the enormous demands of trucking companies, car-rental companies, taxicab fleets and other large users, only a limited number of G. T. ENERGY CHAMBERS can possibly be allocated each month for consumer orders. Therefore, all orders must be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. So to take advantage of this limited introductory offer... mail the no-risk coupon today!

My love and I this year arranged
To place beneath the Christmas tree
Two gifts that need not be exchanged—
He shopped for him, I shopped for me.

QUIPS AND QUOTES

The first-grader arrived home from school and ran to her mother in the kitchen. "Oh, Mommy," she said excitedly, "there's a boy in my class, and he's so smart! He just knows all about the first grade!"

"How is that?" queried her mother. "He was there last year," the little girl replied.
—A. T. Quigg

Ever notice that the friendly fellow who does the tv loan commercial is never the one who makes the loans?
—William Lodge

A kleptomaniac repeatedly tried to steal something from the best department store in town. Just as often, she was caught in the act by one of the store's detectives. Knowing she was mentally disturbed, they always let her go.

But finally officials told her that if she didn't stop bothering them they'd have her sent to prison for several years. "Why don't you just leave us alone and operate in some other store?" one executive asked.

She replied, "But this store has such marvelous bargains!"
—Dorothea Kent

"Now that we've learned to communicate, I just want to say I don't understand you."

A man returned to his office after his two-week vacation, and one of his fellow workers asked him what kind of a time he'd had.
"Well, I spent the two weeks of my vacation helping my wife paint all the rooms in our house."

"Does your wife redecorate very often?"
"Well, was the disgusted reply, "our guest room was 9 by 12 when we built the place. Now it measures 8 by 11."
—Dan Bennett

Prediction
The parent-child relationship
With passing time grows grim—
By the time he stops embarrassing you,
You'll start embarrassing him.
—Susanne Douglass

WHY PLANT A GROUND COVER?

In many areas and situations, ground covers are more appropriate and more satisfactory than turf. They are able to grow and thrive in sun OR shade, and in poor soil.

On steep slopes where mowing is difficult, ground cover is much more effective and much less laborious to maintain than grass. Ground covers hold the soil as well as turf and the textures are far more interesting.

Small areas of grass are a continual chore to keep mown and trimmed but ground covers require almost no care. They are excellent protection and soil conditioners. They hold the fallen leaves from blowing away, thus helping to add annually to the humus content.

WHY CREEPING RED SEDUM?

One of Sedum's most valuable assets is its full-time beauty. Lush foliage begins in early spring, and star-shaped scarlet flowers delight the viewer from late June through September. The attractive semi-evergreen foliage lasts well into winter, maintaining its rich green and bronze color nearly all year round.

Besides being one of the loveliest of the ground covers, Sedum also rates high on the other requirements. It is hardy, grows well in sun or partial shade, in sandy soil, clay soil, or good soil.

Its thick foliage and root system hold the soil on slopes or banks. The neat 3-4" cover forms a dense perennial mat to bring green and scarlet beauty to slopes, borders, rocky areas, anywhere beauty and durability are needed.

Each plant will easily and quickly spread to fill one sq. ft. Sedum spreads evenly, maintains its uniform smooth beauty at all stages of growth. Unlike some other ground covers, Sedum, also called "Dragon's Blood", stays where you put it—does not straggle out into places where it doesn't belong. Sedum is almost indestructible, enduring and persisting against heavy climatic and nutritional odds.

and Peonies!

Now is a Good Time to Plant
RED SEDUM!

Your young Sedum plants will establish themselves and begin to spread a few days after planting. In a month or so they will already be 3-4 inches in diameter. They may lose their foliage as the first winter progresses but will leaf out again in early spring. During a long growing season they may reach 12" in diameter, always maintaining their neat regulated shape.
