

IT MAY BE A LONG DAY for some of the automobile owners who apparently waited for a deadline extension that never came. Here some of the prospective license tag buyers who were attempting to beat the Wednesday midnight deadline for 1970 and 71 tags wait in the lobby of the county courthouse. Lines wrapped around the entire lobby when the assessor's office opened at 8:30 a.m. Several thousand tags are yet to be sold and the lines are expected to continue several days past the deadline. Lobby wings to the left and right of the photo as well as behind the photographer were also filled Wednesday.

Pole Line Bridge Load Limit Set; Weakness Found

A second Canyon bridge serving the Twin Falls area will be posted Friday morning with load limit signs, officials of the Twin Falls Highway District announced today.

Keith Anderson, engineer, said the Pole Line Road Bridge, crossing Rock Creek Canyon northwest of the city, will be posted with an allowable load limit of 16 tons for a single truck and 27 tons for a truck with semi-trailer.

He said this will prohibit most loaded farm trucks, but the duration of the limitations should not extend too long; and a county road within about half a mile of the bridge serves the area from U.S. Highway 30.

The engineering firm of Howard, Needles Tammen and Bergendoff has completed an inspection and analysis of the bridge for the county highway district.

Mr. Anderson said the district was "highly pleased" with the overall outcome of the report despite the temporary load limit found necessary.

The report indicated some of the timber stringers show symptoms of overload deterioration. These damaged stringers will be repaired and the restrictions should be removed as soon as possible. The detailed design of the stringer repairs is being prepared by the same firm that completed the inspection. Mr. Anderson estimated repairs will begin soon after the first of the year.

The firm is the same that inspected the Perrine Memorial Bridge and recommended load restrictions and replacement there.

In the case of the Pole Line bridge, Mr. Anderson said, most of the sub-structure is of steel with timber flooring and railing. The firm advised it will be possible to make temporary repairs of the worn structures without alteration of the steel supports. It will also be possible at a later date, when funds are available, to widen the bridge to 28 feet, install a permanent new flooring, and replace all timber structures with no more than a few minor alterations to the steel substructure.

Since load restrictions were posted on the Snake River Canyon crossing north of the city, some of the large trucks have been swinging west over the Pole Line bridge to reach north-west locations, which could greatly endanger the deteriorating timbers, officials said.

Most of the traffic over the Pole Line structure, Mr. Anderson said, is local automobile traffic which will not be interrupted.

The 30-year-old bridge, built in 1939, will probably not be closed during temporary repairs; but if and when it is widened and new flooring installed, it will be necessary to close it to all traffic.

Mr. Anderson said estimates and plans are being prepared for the permanent repair and widening, although it is not known when such improvements can be made.

Temporary repairs, however, should be completed prior to spring farm activities so as not to hinder movement of farm machines.

Flu 'Bug' Ravages Britain

LONDON (UPI)—Emergency influenza cases in London rose to their highest level in seven years Tuesday and authorities in Hull reported 100 deaths due to respiratory illnesses.

Volunteer nurses stepped in throughout Britain to fill the gaps in hospital staffs caused by the wave of Asian influenza that has infected an estimated 2 million persons.

The health ministry said 298 deaths arising from influenza and pneumonia had been recorded in England and Wales in the past week.

The demand for medicines left many pharmacists without enough bottles. A general appeal went out for flu sufferers to provide their own bottles if they were prescribed treatment.

One pharmacist in London said: "We are slowly but surely heading for chaos. Not only are drugs and bottles dwindling but drug company staffs are being depleted by flu."

Dr. Alexander Hutchinson, the medical officer for the northern town of Hull, said more than 100 persons had died in the last few days of bronchial pneumonia and influenza.

All sections of industry reported up to 20 per cent of staff taking the day off for sickness.

In Europe, the influenza wave swept across Belgium and Switzerland. The incidence of Asian influenza in West Germany rose. As much as 30 per cent of the population was affected in some areas.

Nations Agree To Buy Gold At $35 Base

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The world's major trading nations have agreed to a gold purchase plan aimed at preventing the price of the metal from dropping below a floor of $35 an ounce. It was announced Tuesday.

The International Monetary Fund announced it will buy newly mined gold from South Africa when the free-market price falls to the official $35 price or below, with purchases in amounts necessary to meet South Africa's foreign exchange needs.

The agreement, worked out in negotiations between the United States, South Africa and other non-communist commercial nations, is the first major change in the two-tier gold pricing formula that was adopted in March, 1968.

'Me Too?'

MANILA (UPI)—President Ferdinand E. Marcos, first chief of state to be re-elected in the Philippines' 23-year history, returned to the presidential palace after his inauguration Tuesday and wrote in the palace registry book, "Glad to be back."

His 12-year-old son Ferdinand Jr. added the postscript, "Me next, I hope."

What, There's No Deadline Extension?

If it's any consolation to the license tag buyers who were waiting in long lines Wednesday to beat the midnight deadline, this may be the last of the deadline rush periods.

Under the new license plate buying date system, automobile owners will be buying their plates throughout the year, depending on when their specific number expires.

Wednesday morning the "Procrastinators" filled the entire lobby of the courthouse for the third consecutive day, and the same condition is expected to continue for a day or two after the deadline. Several thousand plates and tags are yet to be sold, said Deputy Assessor Creath Wilkison.

Most of the persons in line Wednesday were those who had just registrations and titles and required extra assistance and more time for their purchases, she said.

Anyone unfortunate enough to have purchased a new vehicle and needing a license plate would probably have avoided the transaction had he looked at the line first.

Mrs. Wilkison said the county office would close at 5 p.m. regardless of the size of the line and her overworked staff would enjoy a well earned holiday Thursday.

Policeman Kills Fellow Cop In Gunbattle At Ohio Motel

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—A $260,000 in counterfeit bills for $15,000 in cash.

Kieter did not identify the other officer involved in the shooting but indicated he may have been an undercover agent who did not recognize Bohanan.

Montgomery County Sheriff Bernard Kieter said Lt. James Bohanan of the suburban Vandalia police department was shot and killed "by an officer" as a result of mistaken identity.

Kieter said the shooting started when deputies and Secret Service agents went to a second floor room of the Ramada Inn to purchase

Interest On FHA Loans Is Boosted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government increased the maximum interest rate for FHA and VA home loan mortgages Tuesday from 7.5 per cent to 8.5 per cent in an effort to make more loan money available to home buyers.

The new ceiling, to take effect Jan. 5, will add $6,210 to the cost of buying a $25,000 home with a 30-year mortgage after that date.

George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, said the increase was ordered "with great reluctance" but that "the realities of the market place do not permit further delay."

The move will not affect the 8.2 million outstanding home loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration, which recently have constituted about half of all home mortgages.

Investment capital has flowed elsewhere in recent months in search of more attractive interest rates, leaving the housing industry increasingly depressed. While the FHA and VA ceiling has been held at 7.5 per cent since last Jan. 24, interest rates for conventional home loans have risen to a record national average last November of 8.13 per cent.

Since Jan. 24, Romney said, "market yields on most types of investments have risen by more than one percentage point."

Trial On Tap For Sergeant In Massacre

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Staff Sgt. David Mitchell will be tried on charges of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the alleged massacre at My Lai, the Army announced today.

Mitchell is being held at Ft. Hood, Tex., pending court martial proceedings. An Army spokesman said the court martial will be held at Ft. Hood, but no date has been set.

The spokesman said the trial will be open to the public.

Mitchell is the second soldier so far to be charged in the massacre, in which more than 100 South Vietnamese civilians are alleged to have been gunned down by U.S. troops.

Headstart To Continue, As Funds Get Verbal Approval

The Headstart program in Twin Falls will begin Monday as scheduled, Dr. Ernest Ragland, school superintendent, said Wednesday in light of verbal confirmation of funds are being granted for 1970.

Larry Mack, director of the South Central Community Action Agency, which contracts the program out to the local school district, said he has received verbal confirmation of a grant of $257,130 for 1970. He said these funds will be used for the local Headstart program, for the Jerome County summer program and programs in Cassia County.

He said the SCCAA's application has been processed in Kansas City, signed in San Francisco, and is now awaiting action in Washington, D.C. He said written confirmation should be received by Jan. 10.

Dr. Ragland said he will seek permission to operate the program until then on funds left over from the 1969 budget.

The Headstart program in Twin Falls affects about 100 children, six teachers and several aides.

real progress and now they are having to close.

There have been two migrant centers operating, in Twin Falls and Burley. The centers were establishing a relationship between the Spanish-American people and their communities, Mr. Mack said. They had organized Spanish-American advisory councils in the community which were proving very useful.

During the few months' program was in operation, more than 100 migrants were enrolled in basic education classes and were assisted in obtaining liv-

'No Crime'

MONTREAL (UPI)—Calling President Nixon a "murderer" is not a crime in Canada, a Municipal Court judge ruled Tuesday.

Judge Roland Langlois handed down a written judgment acquitting Steve Milton Queller of Montreal, who had been charged with disrupting the peace after an incident during the President's visit here June 27.

On that date, Queller, carrying a poster showing Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung, shouted that Nixon was a "murderer." Police quickly arrested and charged him. The judge ruled Tuesday, however, that the President was a "head of state who must expect necessarily that some individuals do not share his views."

Fred Higgins Retires As Fire Marshal

Fred Higgins, who has served as fire marshal with the Twin Falls Fire Department for the past 10 years, has retired, effective Thursday.

Mr. Higgins began work for the local fire department on June 1, 1959. He moved to California in 1953 and was employed by the Marysville Fire Department. Then in 1959 he returned to Twin Falls and was retained as the fire marshal. His work was concerned with fire prevention, periodic inspections and gas inspections.

Beginning Friday, all city gas inspections will be handled by Jim Ballard, city electrical inspector, according to J. E. A. Milar, city manager. Mr. Milar said many of the gas and electrical inspections are performed at the same time and Mr. Ballard will assume the additional duties. He said he felt the fire department has ample duties in its fire inspection work.

Fire Chief Zeke Bartlett is expected to appoint a new fire inspector soon.

Cassia School Chief Resigns Position

BURLEY — Cassia County School Supt. Dale L. Nelson has resigned his position, effective June 30.

He told board members, at a recessed meeting Monday, that he chose to resign because of problems affiliated in working with split decisions pertaining to school matters.

A contract was offered him, but Supt. Nelson said, that because of the division within the board, he decided to step aside.

"There appears to be no secret about the existence of split decisions and feelings about school programs and problems. What is required to deal effectively with criticism is solid support of the administration by the entire school board," Mr. Nelson declared.

He added he was declining further consideration of the position in the hope of bringing to Cassia county schools a man who can win the support of the entire board of trustees.

The decision was reached during a recessed meeting of the board at which unfinished business included consideration of policy matters as well as contractual discussion of central office administrators. Mat Warr, business manager and clerk; Harold Blauer, assistant superintendent; Herman Bedke, school attorney, and Orland Bateman, accountant, received contract renewal offers.

Mr. Nelson, who expressed appreciation to the board for the past year's opportunities, said he expects to complete requirements for a doctorate in education during the coming summer. He took the post of assistant superintendent in Cassia county in July, 1968, and on January, 1969, was appointed superintendent to fill the unexpired term of Ezra Moore. In March, Mr. Nelson accepted a contract extending through June 30, 1970.

Since he assumed the post, a supervisor of athletics has been added to the school personnel along with two assistant superintendents, a new lunch supervisor and a transportation director. Team transportation has been launched and the Head Start program is growing each year.

Painting Is Stolen From Museum Here

A painting purchased about 10 years ago for $2,500 was taken Tuesday or early Wednesday in a break-in at Herrett's Arts and Science Center on Kimberly Road.

The break-in was discovered shortly after 2 a.m. by a city policeman on patrol in the area. The officer observed four paintings leaning against a utility pole at the rear of the building.

A door to the center later was found to be ajar and the painting which was stolen was found to have been ripped from its frame. The four paintings recovered at the scene also were purchased by Norman Herrett about 10 years ago, for a total of $11,000.

Officers said the building showed no signs of forcible entry and it is possible someone remained concealed in the building when it was closed for the day.

The painting which was taken pictures a Tahitian dancer.

FREE COFFEE AGAIN will be served at the two Idaho State Police Posts of entry in Magic Valley on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. This year coffee was donated to the State Police by the Twin Falls DeMolay Chapter. Accepting the six pounds of coffee from DeMolay members Richard Shobe, left, district representative, and Fred Walker, master counselor, is Sgt. Calvin Bennett. Free coffee will be served beginning Wednesday night through Thursday. The law has proved a popular one in past years and many motorists traveling past the Hollister Post of Entry and the Cottonwood Post of Entry stop for a cup of coffee with the State Police.

Lack Of Funds Closes Migrant Program

The South Central Community Action Agency's migrant program, which started out as a controversial issue, will cease to exist after today.

The program was funded July 1 for a six-month period and Larry Mack, Agency director, said monies for the reinstatement of the program have been refused. He said the program has been modified and resubmitted, but the prospects are dim.

The program actually got underway in August, with Omar Anguiano as the director. Mr. Mack said funding had come from Headstart monies. The Headstart program had been under the Office of Economic Opportunity until July 1, when it was set under the Department of Health Education and Welfare.

He said this was how the migrant program originally received its funds. Mr. Mack said now, however, the former Headstart funds have been transferred to the Headstart program and the migrant plan will have to find financing elsewhere.

Mr. Mack said, like other new programs, it took several months to really get the migrant centers going. He said they were just beginning to show some employment. The centers also handled emergency situations and directed people to state agencies for temporary relief.

Mr. Anguiano had assisted in organizing guitar lesson classes for some of the migrants in Burley and was in the process of establishing some Boy Scout troops for Spanish-American boys.

Mr. Mack said the program had been helpful in teaching many migrants middle-class values and generally helping these people find their way around the communities in which they lived.

Weather Synopsis

High pressure continues over the Eastern Pacific and the Northwestern states. Storm systems moving into the West Coast are being weakened by the persistent high pressure system.

Most weather associated with the incoming disturbances is being pushed northward into the Northern Rockies and to the east of the Continental Divide. Some moisture embedded in the westerly flow will cause considerable cloudiness throughout South Idaho and East-Central Oregon. The outlook for Friday is for little change.

Precipitation that may occur is expected to be very light. With cold air being trapped in the valleys, some local areas may experience some freezing drizzle; although most of the precipitation that occurs will be occasional light snow flurries.

The temperatures today and Thursday will change little with highs mostly in the 20s in Eastern Idaho, rising to the upper 20s and 30s in Western Idaho and East-Central Oregon. Night-time lows in the higher valleys will continue to range below zero.

Agnew May Visit Viet On Voyage

MANILA (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's official visit to the Philippines drew toward a close today and there was widespread speculation he would fly to Viet Nam New Year's Day. His only scheduled item Thursday was a trip to the mountains.

Agnew held his first private talks with President Ferdinand E. Marcos today and informed sources said he assured him the United States will stick to its commitments to Asian nations. It was their first talk since Agnew arrived Monday to begin an Asian goodwill tour.

Agnew, who will visit 10 nations on the 23-day trip, had no official activities tonight and only a light schedule Thursday. The flight to Vietnam is barely 90 minutes from Manila.

Informed sources said the Agnew-Marcos session was extremely cordial and, in keeping with Agnew's presence in Manila as a special envoy to Marcos' inauguration, there was no agenda and no decisions were made.

Agnew discussed the Nixon doctrine, which pledges support of U.S. Asian allies but also calls for self-reliance, and said Washington intended to follow through on all its commitments, the sources reported.

Wives Say Reds Refuse Any Hope

Mrs. Richard Nelson, 26, and Mrs. Robert Dupcan, 23, also of Virginia Beach, agreed.

"I don't know what we did makes any difference but it makes us feel better," Mrs. Nelson said.

"They gave us no hope of knowing our husband's fates until the war is over," Mrs. Stegman added.

So far, only one of the women who has met with the North Vietnamese in Paris was known to have received a letter from her husband since her trip.

She was Mrs. Carol Monlux of Tulsa, Okla., who had not had any previous confirmation that her husband was alive since he was reported missing three years ago.

Nixon Spends Holidays In California
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI) — President Nixon, spending his second New Year's in a row in his native California, plans to ring in 1970 at a quiet family celebration tonight at his seaside villa.

As the first year of his presidency drew to a close, the Chief Executive was mapping plans for the new decade and concentrating on the State of the Union message he will deliver next month.

Arriving Tuesday for a two-week sojourn at the Western White House here, Nixon's mood was euphoric. He was caught up in the fervor of outstretched hands and squealing fans when Air Force One touched down at El Toro Marine Corps Air Station near here.

In brief, off-the-cuff remarks, he told the 3,000 persons who turned out to see him that he expected to make only one other public appearance in California, with his wife, Pat, and daughter, Tricia, 23.

"While I'm here the three of us are going to register to vote in my home state of California," he said.

Pope Paul Urges Continuation Of Catholic Schools
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI called Monday for the continuation of Roman Catholic schools. The speech apparently was aimed, among others, at those Catholics in the United States who want to abolish parochial schools.

"Is there still a place for a confessional and private school?" the Pope asked.

"We answer affirmatively. The Catholic school is necessary, still today, even if its statistical efficiency is very much diminished and its merits must recognize also the merits — in some respects truly notable — of the public school."

One of the principal motivations for doing away with Catholic schools has arisen in the United States, largely for financial reasons. Some diocesan schools have been closed and some of the American bishops are known to feel Catholic schools cannot continue to operate.

Now Derby is back in England, but a regimental parade, with Princess Anne attending, is scheduled for next month. The regimental commander ruled no dates for Derby until after the parade.

"After the parade we shall arrange a spot of shall we say — leave. The poor chappie deserves it," said Lt. Col. J. A. Castle.

Increase In Size Of State Police Force Is Requested

A plan to increase the size of the Idaho State Police force has been outlined to Gov. Don Samuelson in a study released Tuesday by the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission.

The study was conducted by Systems Science Development Corp. of Fullerton, Calif., under a project grant approved by the commission. Findings show the State Police force is underequipped at the present time.

Because of this, the commission is recommending Gov. Samuelson propose a budget sufficient to expand the manpower of the force.

The study is referred to as the Idaho State Police management study and in it the Department of Law Enforcement has submitted a supplemental budget of $2,199,873 to the Department of Administrative Services for the next 18 months with the plan to be fully implemented by the end of the present biennium.

The budget stipulates, according to the study, that primarily because of training facilities, new officers would be added to the force at the rate of 46 each six months during the next year and a half, with the first group being able to start about April 1. The request includes money needed for salaries, equipment and vehicles for the new officers.

The report said the manpower of the Idaho State Police is "grossly inadequate in relation to traffic safety and law enforcement requirements."

It was also reported that confidence in the management effectiveness of the force is impaired and its strengths are not appreciated. "Top management direction has been weakened somewhat as a result of the statutory allocation of responsibilities between the commissioner of law enforcement and the superintendent of the force," it was reported.

The report said district commanders should establish patrol routes, shift schedules and vacation schedules appropriate for detailed highway traffic loads and consider hourly and seasonal differences.

There are 54,798 miles of highway in Idaho with about 5,000 listed as rural state highways. This is a prime responsibility of the force, it was noted.

The report said the length of an officers' patrol on class one highways should not be more than 30 miles in any one direction, and not more than 60 miles in any one direction on class two rural highways and not more than 90 miles on class three highways, or interstate type highways.

The present strength of the force is 101 men, meaning there is one officer for every 6,906 people in the state. Each officer is responsible for 4,644 vehicles, it was reported. This does not include trailers or motorcycles.

It was stated that county law enforcement officials are turning more and more of their traffic responsibilities over to the state police because of increased workloads and manpower shortages. "are indeed formidable."

And the report said as the state grows the problem "will become even greater."

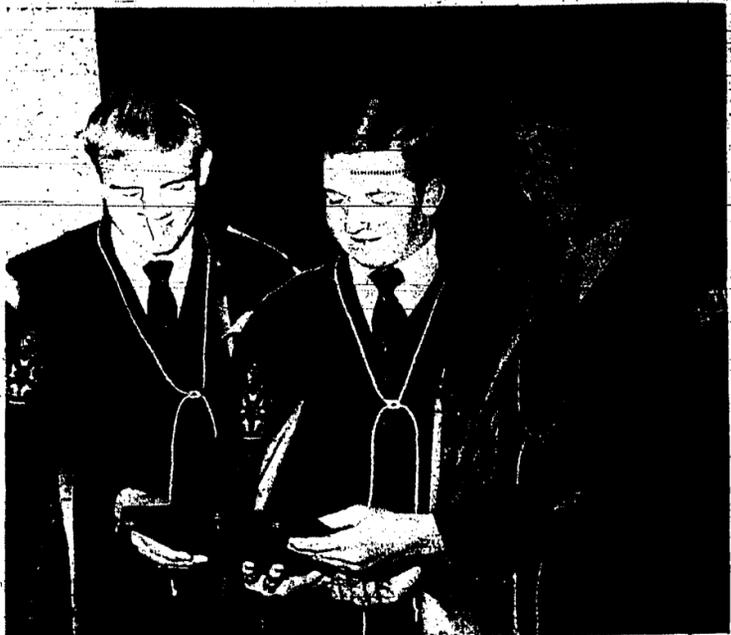

The consulting firm offered two alternatives: — A recommended goal with justifiable service criteria and requiring 354 patrolmen and field sergeants.

— Immediate implementation of a service that would require 259 patrolmen and field sergeants.

It was stated "the ambiguity in the top management chain of command should be forcefully corrected."

The alternative recommended for immediate implementation would add 138 troopers in the next 18 months. It calls for setting of lengths of patrols and outlines the number of hours various areas should be "troop covered," the number of sergeants (20) needed to supervise the total of 239 troopers, including the 101 present strength, and sets up schedules so that all accidents on any roadway in the state could be handled within 45 minutes or less.

It was also stated in the report that as soon as feasible the responsibility for parts of entry should be transferred out of the state police to another state agency.

Employment Report Is Released

Generally a high level of economic activity and associated employment persisted through the fall and into the month of November in Idaho and particularly Twin Falls County, an Idaho employment report shows.

Some industrial segments that expected to reduce employment with the cold weather held up well and maintained worker levels above previous periods. However, as expected, total employment was down seasonally. The decline was almost entirely due to seasonal agricultural reductions. The non-agricultural picture was bright as the wage and salary total rose from the October level with the normal pattern including a moderate decline. Responsible for the high figure were increases in manufacturing, trade and education. Also, the lack of a large decline for the construction industry contributed to the overall high employment level.

The labor force change from October to November produced a total drop of 510 workers. Unemployment eased upward with the cold weather as an increase of 90 was noted. Employment, on the other hand, dipped by 609 with agriculture being responsible for 590 of this decline.

A general improvement of the employment picture was reflected in the comparison with November of last year. With employment up, unemployment down and an improvement in the unemployment rate from 3.7 to 3.0 per cent, a healthy growth pattern was displayed.

FACTORIES PLANNED
RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Fleetwood Enterprises, Inc., a mobile home manufacturer, has bought sites for two new factories at Woodland, Wash., and Ontario, Calif., and said it is negotiating to buy factory sites at Lakeland and Haines City, Fla.

The program starts at 1:30 p.m. The public is welcome and there is no charge.

In announcing the program, officials said because of many requests for assistance in learning how to prepare meals to protect the heart the Idaho Heart Association, the Idaho Power Co., and the University of Idaho have undertaken a project on cooking demonstrations for the heart patient and members of the family.

Recipes for heart patients will be presented and booklets on this topic will be distributed at the meeting.

It was reported many of the recipes will satisfy the entire family and at the same time protect the heart patient.

Candy Coated With LSD Is Sickness Cause

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two small children were in good condition Tuesday after apparently eating LSD-coated candy their father said was intended for "religious purposes."

Police Inspector Kenneth Sullivan said the father, John R. Wilson, 27, told him he had been given the candy as a Christmas gift.

Patrick Wilson, 18 months, and his 2 1/2-year-old sister Samantha were rushed to Alameda Hospital Monday night.

The children were given an antidote at Alameda and further treatment at San Francisco General Hospital.

Dr. Saretta Doyle said the parents provided samples of the candy for laboratory tests and that it was found to have been coated with LSD.

Soaring Sixties

The United States embarked upon what had been labeled the "Soaring Sixties" with a sense of euphoria—"A feeling of well-being, especially an exaggerated one having no basis in truth or reality."

How precisely the definition fit became apparent as national confidence drooped.

We lofted men to the Moon, and wondered what had been accomplished. Only the giant leap to the Moon seemed to go right or to unify the nation. Mostly the wrong things soared—the war in Vietnam, the cost of living, crime and violence, population, pollution and taxes.

John F. Kennedy's challenge as he became President—"Ask not what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country"—was quickly forgotten and its emphasis reversed as the blacks, the underprivileged, and some of the privileged, including Congress, demanded more and more.

Unsure in the Bay of Pigs debacle but certain in the Cuban missile crisis, Kennedy imbued people with his optimism. He personified a word the decade made popular—charisma. It was no shield against an assassin's bullet.

The nation was shocked into awareness of its ills, like a man learning his recurrent pain is dangerous, possibly incurable.

President Lyndon B. Johnson took charge and set out to buy victory in Vietnam with more men and more money. He sought to abolish poverty at the same time as if by fiat, though none knew better than he St. John's words: "The poor always ye have with you."

"Credibility gap" entered the language and the President, having lost the confidence of the people, retired, his high hopes blighted.

An atheist succeeded in getting the Supreme Court to rule out prayers in the schools. And the nation floundered as if bereft of faith either in the God it had always trusted or in its own strong hands that had hewn an empire out of the wilderness, and it mourned for the vanishing wilderness. The people endured torments of conscience for old wrongs that could not be righted.

Remedies which once seemed easy to obtain for a price became elusive. Transplanted hearts gave out, the war blazed on. Riots in the streets, campus rebellions, peace demonstrations, mini-skirts and mini-morals, LSD and pot, crime and pornography, tarnished "The Great Society."

Some descendants of the wronged, not content with just demands for justice, which most people supported, cheapened their cause by cries for cash reparations, which only a sentimental or guilt-ridden few could encourage.

Finally, the nation in its distress over the terrible erosion of war, massive inflation, and growing terror in the streets, turned to the man it had narrowly rejected in 1960, Richard M. Nixon, as the best hope for a new policy of getting out of Vietnam and of restoring fiscal responsibility. And they wanted everything done now.

The Sixties, which had begun with complacency, were ending with humility and self-doubt, rising anger and frustration, and questions that seemed almost unanswerable.

Tired of slogans, there was no alliterative label to title the Seventies as safe, secure, serene or sane.

There was a chastened realization that it is up to a united, intelligent and industrious people to hold safe what had been built by forefathers who exercised these qualities and did not look to government or their neighbors for handouts.

History seemed to overwhelm us all like a river in flood, but we were beginning to be aware of and to define our problems, conscious for once of the limitations that chasten nations as well as men.

History also reminded us that the Sixties of a hundred years ago brought to a young nation its sternest testing. A great Civil War drained the country and the painful ordeal of Reconstruction began with hatred and exhaustion, fear and frustration far greater than we now must strive to overcome if we are to progress toward the dream of peace on earth.

Now, in the balance of terror the Bomb has made, must Americans prove their worthiness to survive, to endure the trials ahead, and to address righteous grievances. There is reason for hope, no time for despair.

MR. SPECTATOR

A Footprint In ...

When Mr. Spectator was a kid there was an old slogan which said something about the "footprint in the sands of time."

Well, all that is changed and because this is the last day of the '60's and tomorrow the start of the '70's we thought you would be interested in the picture which heads this article.

It is not the footprint in the sands of time but the footprint—the first one—made on the moon. It will probably stay there for all time—or at least until there are so many people running around up there that it disappears as it is obliterated.

But you can remember the year 1969 as long as you live as the year it was put there.

Realizing a dream which first came when man saw the moon and wondered what it was, the first step onto the moon's surface was made on July 20, American Astronaut Neil A. Armstrong was the first guy to plop the old foot onto the surface. But when you really consider what has been going on you must admit that man has what it takes.

It was only about 67 years ago that man made the first heavier-than-air flight. Now, in that short span, we have flown men to the moon and even the ordinary citizens—like you and Mr. Spectator—can whisk through the air at more than 800 miles an hour.

The nation has shrunk from a trip of months from the Atlantic to the Pacific to one of about four hours.

There is not a spot on earth, served by the airplane, which cannot be reached from your home town in 24 hours or less.

So here we go into the '70's. And like the judge of the old west said when he sentenced the cattle rustler to hang: "May God have mercy on your soul!"

WASHINGTON—All agonized claims to the contrary notwithstanding, the nation's biggest New Year's Day hangover occurred 10 years ago, on Jan. 1, 1863. It was caused by a possibly illegal document called the Emancipation Proclamation, and it afflicted almost the entire South.

Actually, Jan. 1, 1863, was the date on which the Proclamation went into effect. President Lincoln had signed the document and made its contents public on Sept. 22, 1862, and at that time had given the South 100 days to free the slaves itself.

When the South sat on its hands, the Proclamation went into effect on the afternoon of Jan. 1.

When the Proclamation was announced in September, stocks fell, enlistments dropped and the Democrats shortly gained control of five key states. But on Jan. 1, hundred-gun salutes greeted the news in Boston, Buffalo and Pittsburgh, and there was general enthusiasm in the North and abroad.

The Proclamation freed slaves only in the sections not under the military power of the United States—Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana (except for 13 counties), Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia, except for that part known as West Virginia, which later became a state. No slave in the North nor in the border states was affected, since the Proclamation was a military measure, a punitive step, against the South.

As a result, the Democrats argued that the ukase had no legal force and emancipated no one. They claimed that as President Lincoln could issue no such declaration, and as commander-in-chief of the armed forces he could issue orders concerning only the territory within his military lines. But the Supreme Court was never asked to rule on it.

The Proclamation was Lincoln living up to a pledge he had made—that he meant to save the Union as best he could, by preserving slavery by destroying it, or by destroying part and preserving part. Lincoln was never an Abolitionist and, indeed, was on the record as saying he did not believe blacks were equal to whites, but the Proclamation was a necessary act of war against the South because of the urgency of crippling the cotton trade and of preventing intervention by England and France.

Until the Proclamation, many influential men in both England and France argued that the Southern cause was that of liberty and that the South was morally entitled to help. But once the North's struggle was converted into a crusade against slavery, public opinion in Europe made foreign intervention impossible.

Even before the Proclamation, Lincoln and the Congress had acted to abolish slavery in sections other than in the South.

A joint resolution passed by Congress on April 10, 1861, urged that the United States cooperate with any State which would adopt gradual abolition by paying for the slaves freed. As a result, the slaves in the District of Columbia were freed on April 19 of that year, and the slaves in the territories on June 19.

Tomorrow morning you should be as lucky as the ancient Greeks, who never had a hangover on Jan. 1. That's because they celebrated New Year's Day on June 21, the date of the summer solstice.

The ancient Romans spent New Year's Eve of Dec. 31-Jan. 1 drinking and carousing in honor of the two-faced god, Janus, so he'd be good to them during the year. January, of course, is named for Janus.

Robman emperors had a New Year's gimmick that is the envy of today's politicians. They announced that on that holiday, the people would be permitted to give them gifts. In a later period, Queen Elizabeth I of England collected her entire wardrobe from fawning courtiers on Jan. 1. Happy New Year!

BRUCE BROSSAT

Impotent Cong End For Hanoi?

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The evident severe decline of the Viet Cong as a military and especially as a political force is the biggest story in South Vietnam these days. It was reported only belatedly, and is still not well-explained.

By now we are all familiar with the fact that American reporters can hitchhike or drive in unescorted civilian cars through territory that long was controlled by the Viet Cong.

Hardly a major newspaper, news magazine or television network has missed telling us lately of this opening up of the Vietnamese countryside. There seems rather wide agreement that only around 10 per cent of South Vietnam's village population remains under tight Viet Cong control. The rebels' grip is even broken on some land held without interruption from the very outset of the war.

It is being reliably estimated that 400,000 South Vietnamese refugees have returned to their old villages and another 350,000 have been settled in new ones. Villagers nearby everywhere have begun managing their own affairs—some holding local elections, many setting up local defense units to guard the towns, the bridges and the roads from marauding guerrillas.

If these stories are accurate, then the working base of the Viet Cong is largely gone. There must be few areas from which they can draw recruits, taxes and vital rice supplies. The major question must be: "Whatever happened to the so-called 'civil war'?"

The answer is not at all clear. Nor is it plain why we now have a spate of stories depicting the wide sweep of this change in the countryside, yet heard so little of the change while it was going on. It is hardly a phenomenon that could have sprung full-blown in a matter of weeks.

Many reporters on the scene are suggesting that countless veteran Viet Cong fighting men and political officials are either dead—killed mostly in the famous Tet offensive of 1968—or have deserted their old cause.

Only in a few instances is it being hinted that Viet Cong officials may simply be lying quiet for a time. With U.S. troop withdrawals giving them fresh opportunities for widened control, this would seem an odd time to fall quiet and let the villagers reassert themselves.

The probability that the Viet Cong are seriously diminished in strength is of commanding significance. It means that the regime in Hanoi can no longer operate successfully behind the facade of the "way of liberation" in South Vietnam.

It is notable that right now the uncertainties regarding the enemy revolve not around what the Viet Cong may do but around what the North Vietnamese army regulars may do. The news is the stepped-up infiltration rate from the north, and the guessing is focused on what that portends for late January or February of 1970.

Obviously, those forces are still capable of causing big trouble. Most local defense units and many newly equipped and better-trained South Vietnamese regulars have not been tested in all-out battle. Another Tet offensive, aimed at these forces but perhaps highlighted by easily mounted rocket assaults on the cities and U.S. bases, would reaffirm the credibility of Hanoi's armies as a fighting force.

Yet there is no clear sign today that the North Vietnamese regulars will undertake a really large drive. One question is how well-supplied they would be with the material of war. Another has to do with their feeling. The forces from the north expect to live off the countryside. Unless they lie back in the protected preserves of Cambodia, this has been made extremely difficult by the decline of the Viet Cong—which no longer seems able to build up stores of rice or backup caches of ammunition.

So the enemy's intentions and capabilities in the next few months are greatly in doubt. But the doubt concerns itself with the men in Hanoi, not the thinned-out leaders of the fading Viet Cong.

Aim To Capture

WASHINGTON (NEA)—While we must relentlessly seek out the truth at My Lai, whatever horrors that search develops, it is unseemly to turn to self-abasement and accuse ourselves of all manner of wrongs we have not committed.

Take for example, a recent letter to the editor in the New York Times. The writers claim that Operation Phoenix "... is an official policy of our government" in which "we murder civilians employed by the Viet Cong." It is, they say, "as much an atrocity as the murder of 2,300 civilians in Hue" (by the Viet Cong).

It is further alleged that "according to statistics provided by our own government, some 18,000 civilians were killed (in Phoenix) in 1968 and more than 13,000 this year."

Let us analyze these statements. First, the truth is that more than 84 per cent of the 18,000 civilians allegedly killed in the Phoenix program in 1968 and the 13,000 allegedly killed in 1969 were, in fact, captured alive and deserted to our side and are still alive today.

Less than one out of six were killed, and these died resisting arrest—a remarkably low figure when it is remembered that many of these are armed intelligence agents, security men (Gestapo-type, strong-arm types), enforcers, civilian terrorists and assassins. Most are hard-core and armed. Numbers are captured in military operations in VC controlled areas. Second, the object of Operation Phoenix is to capture, not kill. There are compelling military-political reasons for this. Live prisoners talk; dead men don't. The information and the help these cadre give after capture is essential if the core of the underground is to be rooted out and the war won. Note these Phoenix examples:

—A South Vietnamese army unit liberates a village long held by the VC accompanied by policemen armed with lists that contain the specific names of 20 out of, say, 35 VC who rule the village. Once captured, these 20 may "sing," implicating their VC comrades.

—A Viet Cong district chief is seized with 20 of his bodyguards and operations lieutenants, including the Communist intelligence chief for the area. The capture leads to a stock of valuable enemy intelligence documents.

—Hue police receive a tip that a Viet Cong propaganda specialist will attend a particular meeting. Captured en route, he identifies eight other VC cadre. Fifteen more arrests follow.

Third, Phoenix is not aimed at the enemy rank and file or civilians they employ. It is directed at the estimated 80,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese cadre—the brains and power of the terrorist, underground organization. These include those who organize and operate the guerrilla bands, order assassinations, draft young men and women for guerrilla and other military operations, direct terror campaigns, organize and carry out propaganda, collect taxes and run the local hamlet, village, district and provincial undergrounds.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Pulse Beat

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What would cause a beat-beating in my ears when I try to get to sleep at night? I am taking a pill to keep my blood pressure under control. I am under 70 and in good health otherwise.

Although I have mentioned this to my doctor, he seems to ignore it. It keeps me awake for hours. Is it my heart?—Mrs. W.J.G.

You are hearing your pulse beat. With elevated blood pressure the thrust of the heart beat is stronger. It is not of great significance, which is why your doctor "seems to ignore it," but the loss of sleep and nervous turmoil are a waste of your energy and an infringement on your peace of mind.

I'd mention it again to your doctor and tell him that it keeps you awake, because a very mild sedative at night may be in order so you'll sleep better.

The reason you hear it at night is that it becomes noticeable when the room is quiet, and particularly when you are lying down, and especially if you have your ear on the pillow. The beat-beating is there during the day, but you don't notice it.

This may be accentuated a bit because of your blood pressure and age, but I assure you that young people sometimes notice it, too, and not infrequently worry about it—once they have noticed it. It's a very human quirk of nature: once we notice some little thing and start listening for it, we hear it.

Try lying in a different position; try a mild sedative for a few nights; try reminding yourself that it's a normal enough sound; try a ticking clock near the head of your bed, or, if you have one, try an automatic radio that can be set to play softly for half an hour or so after you go to bed and then shut itself off.

The thump of your pulse isn't important enough to keep you awake when these simple remedies will usually let you forget about it and get your sleep.

What causes "balance" trouble? What can be done to correct or overcome it? Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Dizzy Spells," discusses loss of balance, vertigo and nausea, Meniere's disease and labyrinthitis. For a copy of the booklet write to Dr.

Thosteson in care of this newspaper enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain the following terms in relation to a heart condition from which my nephew died: cardiac arrest, myocardial infarction, coronary arteriosclerosis, cardiac decompensation. All these terms were on the death certificate.—M.K.M.

Cardiac arrest means that his heart stopped. Myocardial infarction means that part of the heart muscle was affected already, from a previous heart attack. Coronary arteriosclerosis means that the arteries serving the heart muscle had gradually become hardened and thickened which led to the heart attack. Cardiac decompensation is another way of saying that the heart, already damaged, was unable to pump a normal amount of blood.

A great many people, I find, do not understand how the heart operates, or what a heart attack really is. That is why I explain it in my booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," and I suggest that you read it. For a copy, send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of Times-News.

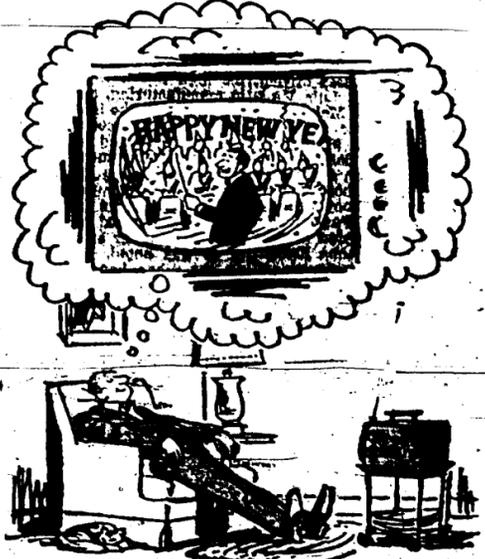

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there always danger of cancer after being hit in the breast?—A.M.Z.

I don't know that there has ever been identified as leading to cancer. The occurrence of cancer in such a case would be coincidental rather than a consequence of the blow.

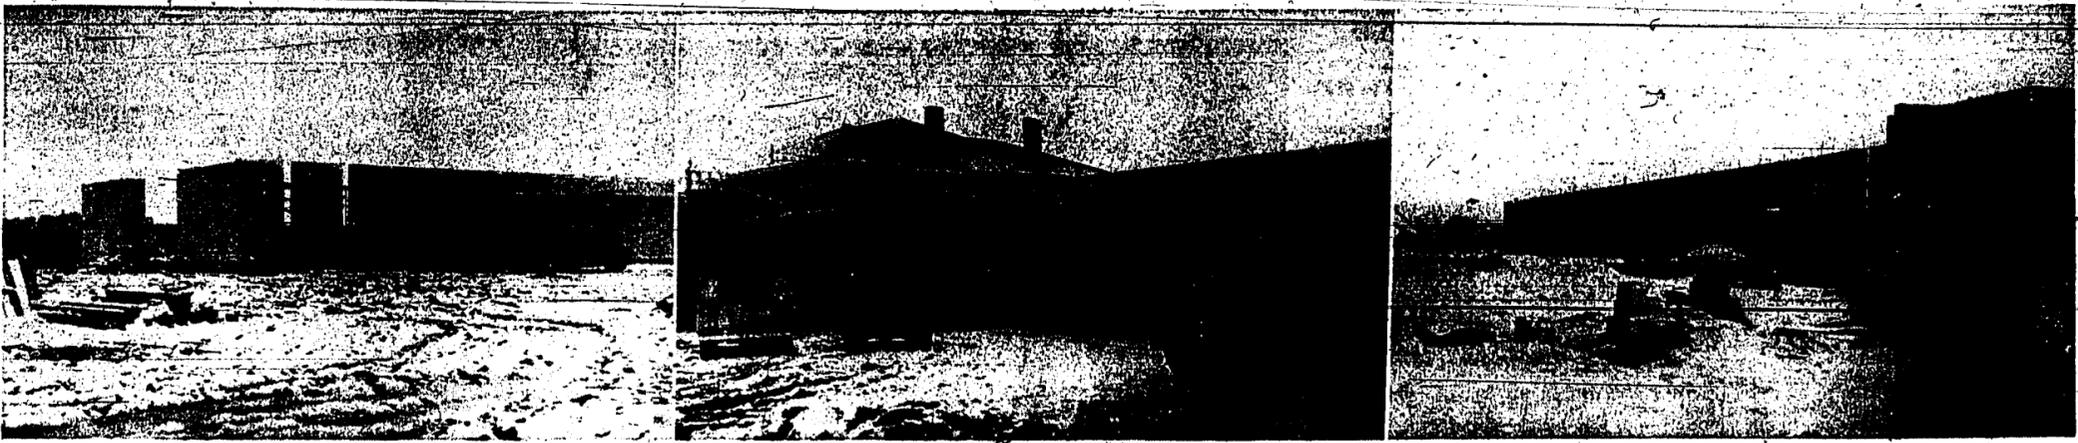

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

MINIDOKA COUNTY'S new school buildings are beginning to take shape despite delays caused by uncooperative weather. Grant Brower, Pocatello, architect, says muddy conditions have held up moving the prestressed concrete beams and columns at both the two new Juniors being built in Rupert and Paul. At left, nearly all the concrete floors are poured in the classroom area at the West Junior High in Paul and wood framing can begin the beams and columns are installed. Light fixtures are expected to be installed soon at the five-room addition being added to the Heyburn elementary school, center. Tile floor and electrical switches are being installed, while at the East Junior High School site, right, in Rupert, masons are working on the west walls of the gymnasium.

Construction Progresses On New Minidoka Schools

RUPERT — Work on three new school buildings for the Minidoka School District is continuing to progress well despite periods of adverse weather conditions, according to Grant Brower, Pocatello, architect for the projects.

In a written report to school superintendent Camden Meyer, Mr. Brower said muddy conditions have held up the moving of prestressed concrete beams and columns, although the beams were expected to be in place in the gymnasium roofs at both the West and East Minico junior high school sites in Paul and Rupert last week.

At the East site in Rupert, masons are working on the west walls of the gymnasium and steel joists are ready for installation as soon as the beams and columns can be installed.

Nearly all the concrete floors are poured in the classroom area at the West Junior High site in Paul, and some concrete is poured in the gymnasium dressing rooms. Wood framing can begin when the equipment is able to move to install the beams and columns, Mr. Brower said.

The two junior high schools are being built by Mitchell Construction Co., Pocatello, who was the low bidder of $1,300,000 for the two buildings. Subcontractors are Home Heating and Plumbing and Alva Lewis for the electrical work.

In Heyburn five classrooms are being added to the existing elementary school facilities and are expected to be in use by Jan. 5, according to Mr. Brower.

At the site, electricians are installing switches, and the tile floor is being laid. The ceiling suspension system is in place and ready to be tiled. Light fixtures are expected to arrive and be installed soon.

Mr. Brower noted that no word has been received on the roof-mounted heating units and that a holdup in shipment has delayed installation of wainscot material for the classroom walls. The order has been shipped, however, he added, so should arrive soon.

The J. A. Clawson Co., Twin Falls, is contractor for that improvement with a low bid of $175,484 for the work. Subcontractors are First Street Plumbing and Heating and Alva Lewis.

When the classrooms are complete, the old building at the site will be demolished and an all-purpose room built in its place. That is not expected to be completed until the end of the year, however.

Hard To Burn

TUY HOA, Vietnam (UPI) — Maj. Norman A. Higgins of Yazoo City, Miss., does not believe money is easy to burn, not even when you have more than a million dollars.

Higgins recently was placed in charge of a 10-man detail and ordered to burn more than $1 million worth of old military payment certificates (MPC), scrip currency used by American servicemen in Vietnam.

"Money is a lot harder to burn than you think," the major reported.

Ray Wins Concessions: Stays In Cell

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — James Earl Ray has won limited concessions from Tennessee corrections officials, but was denied what he wanted — freedom from his cramped maximum security quarters.

U.S. District Court Judge William E. Miller Monday ordered correction officials to submit by Jan. 12 a plan providing a work program and better exercise and recreational facilities for Ray.

But the judge refused to order the convicted assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. released into the general prison population. Prison officials objected to his release from maximum security, saying he needed protection from any possible co-conspirators in the King slaying.

Miller's ruling came after seven hours of testimony which included the rare mention of possible co-conspirators in the King assassination — a view which is officially denied.

Assistant State Attorney General Thomas E. Fox asked state Correction Commissioner Lake Russell why Ray was being kept in solitary confinement.

"If there were conspirators on the outside, wouldn't you have to protect him from the conspirators?" asked Fox.

Samuelson Doubts Chances Of 'Short' 1970 Session, Plans Conference With Legislative Leaders In January

By DR. PAUL M. QUINN
BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson told a news conference today he is hoping the second half of the 40th Idaho Legislature will be a short session but added, "I wouldn't bet any money on it."

The governor said he planned to meet with legislative leaders just prior to the opening of the session on Jan. 12. He said he would like to see the lawmakers limit themselves to a certain number of days but did not state how many days this should be.

He also said he would suggest that both the House and Senate "put together a screening committee" to study the bills to "see what is real important at this time."

Samuelson said he had been told there were approximately 800 bills that have already been introduced or ready for introduction "and there are undoubtedly more just waiting in the wings for the session to begin."

The governor said the lawmakers should "set priorities." The first half of the 40th session ran 74 days and many lawmakers expressed a hope then that the second half would not exceed 20-30 days. However, some legislative leaders have predicted that the second half will be as long as the first.

Samuelson said he plans to deliver both a budget message and a state of the state message when the legislature reconvenes.

"I will ask for just the bare necessities," the governor said. Commenting on an Idaho state police management study just completed, Samuelson said he has been meeting with Department of Law Enforcement officials to "figure out the best organization features" for the state.

He said it has not yet been decided if monies will be available this session to upgrade the state police but did comment on the shortage of state troopers.

As an example, the governor pointed out that Boundary County has just one state trooper "and when he goes on vacation or is sick there is no one."

On another matter, Samuelson said that the Board of Examiners is "just following a mandate of the legislature" in attempting to upgrade management services.

Fourth District Court Judge Merlin Young ruled in Boise last week in favor of State Auditor Joe Williams in the feud between the auditor's office with management services and the Board of Examiners over who has the responsibility to prepare the state payrolls.

The governor said there are only two alternatives left — to ask for a ruling from the Supreme Court or to go to the legislature and seek a constitutional amendment.

On constitutional revision, Samuelson said he did not know what course the legislature would take.

"It's going to take, an awful lot of education on it before the people accept it," Samuelson said. "Many areas in it (constitutional revision) are good."

Reviewing the year 1969, the governor said that great progress had been made in the state.

He cited as examples: — The activities of the Department of Commerce and Development in attracting new industry.

— Overall improvements in all branches of state government.

— The "pleasing" progress made at the state prison by new Director of Correction Raymond May.

— And progress made in all phases of education.

The governor also said Idaho, when its new prison construction plan is completed, will have "one of the finest penal systems in the nation."

Fatal Search

LONG BEACH (UPI) — A one-year-old boy died Monday when he apparently crawled into a Christmas toy chest in search of a toy and the lid slammed shut on top of him.

Police said Anthony Decker Villarte either suffered a broken neck or suffocated when the lid closed.

A babysitter, Ruth Elliott, 14, found little Anthony and called the police.

Viet War Hero Admits Robbing Service Station

DETROIT (UPI) — Twenty-year-old Michael Bruce Sharp, decorated 23 times for bravery and wounded twice during a 14-month Army stint in Vietnam, admits to committing an $80 gas station holdup last July.

But he can't figure out why he did it.

"It just happened," he said Monday after appearing in court for sentencing on the charge to which he pleaded guilty.

"I was, like surprised to wake up the next morning behind bars," Sharp said. "I'm just not the kind of person who robs banks."

Sentencing was postponed until Jan. 29 because, said Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Joseph G. Rashid, "Two psychiatric reports emphasized that his experiences in Vietnam were so traumatic they had a direct effect on him, later."

Sharp, a native of West Germany who enlisted in the Army after becoming a U.S. citizen, could get as much as a 15-year prison sentence for the holdup.

"You get him into a veterans' hospital," Rashid told Sharp's attorney, "and I'll hold up sentencing."

Manson Picks Records Label

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charles Miller Manson, the guitar-playing hippie leader charged with the Sharon Tate murders, will record his songs for "The Family Jam Inc." label.

Michael Plotin, spokesman for the recording outfit, declined to comment on the type of records Manson, an aspiring soul singer, would make.

Manson, who is charged with six murders and is acting as his own attorney, presumably will use the revenue from the records to finance his defense.

State Police Urge Samuelson To Endorse Expansion Of Law Enforcement Manpower

By PAUL M. QUINN
BOISE (UPI) — An Idaho State Police management study was released Tuesday, calling for Gov. Don Samuelson to "propose a budget sufficient to expand the manpower of the State Police."
The Department of Law Enforcement has submitted a supplemental budget for $2,199,873 to the Department of Administrative Services for the next 18 months with the plan included in the study to be fully implemented by the end of the present biennium.
The report, released by the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission, said the manpower of the Idaho State Police is "grossly inadequate in relation to traffic safety and law enforcement requirements."

Idaho residents and each trooper is responsible for roughly 4,644 vehicles — not counting trailers or motorcycles.
It was stated that county law enforcement officials are turning more and more of their traffic responsibilities over to the State Police because of increased workloads and "manpower shortages" are indeed "formidable."
And the report said as the state grows the problem "will become even greater."
The consulting firm offered two alternatives:
— A recommended goal that based on a total response to the traffic problems with justifiable service criteria and requiring 354 patrolmen and field sergeants.
— Immediate implementation of a moderately degraded service that would require 259 patrolmen and field sergeants. It was stated "The ambiguity in the top management chain of command should be forcefully corrected."

The alternative recommended for immediate implementation would add 138 troopers in the next 18 months. It calls for setting of lengths of patrols and outlines the number of hours various areas should be "troop-covered"; the number of sergeants (20) needed to supervise the total of 239 troopers, including the 101 present strength, and sets up schedules so that all accidents on any roadway in the state could be handled within 45 minutes or less.
It was also stated in the report that as soon as feasible the responsibility for parts of entry should be transferred out of the State Police to another state agency.

Soviet News Agency Says Half The Chinese Leaders Purged

MOSCOW (UPI)—Breaking a long silence on Chinese affairs, the Soviet news agency Tass said today at least half of the Chinese Communist party leadership was purged in Mao Tse-tung's cultural revolution.
In a lengthy dispatch on "Events in China," the agency said survivors of the purge had joined with revolutionary committees that now appear to hold power in the country. Tass said the military had the dominant role.
The story was the agency's first major report on China since Sino-Soviet border negotiations began in Peking Oct. 20. The Soviet Foreign Ministry said Monday the talks, having recessed Dec. 14, would resume soon.
The story did not directly attack China as Tass had done in commentaries before the start of the border negotiations. Mostly quoting the Chinese press, it painted a picture of China torn by a struggle of power between the Communist party apparatus and the revolutionary committees.
East European sources said Tuesday the Soviet delegation was most likely to achieve much success in the talks unless the Chinese had drastically changed tactics since chief Soviet negotiator Vasily V. Kuznetsov returned home earlier this month.

The sources said the Chinese had participated in only 12 sessions with the Soviets to seek arrangements to keep the peace on their 5,000-mile frontier. Peking also denied the Soviet access to top-ranking Chinese, the sources said.
The Chinese reportedly used the meetings mainly for propaganda barrages or lengthy denunciations of the Soviet Union and were unwilling to discuss details of averting border friction.
The sources said the Soviet delegation had been greeted with wall posters in Peking personally critical of Kuznetsov and his deputy, Lt. Gen. Vadim A. Atsov.

Prepared by the Systems Science Development Corp., Fullerton, Calif., the study pointed out inadequacies in manpower, direction and follow-up from headquarters and in field supervision.
It was stated, "Confidence in the management effectiveness of the ISP is impaired and its strengths are not appreciated. Top management direction has been weakened somewhat as a result of the statutory allocation of responsibilities between the commissioner of law enforcement and the superintendent of the State Police."
Samuelson told a news conference Tuesday that changes in the organization and operation of the State Police would be made. He said he has been meeting with Department of Law Enforcement officials to "figure out the best organizational features" for the state.
But the governor also said if more will be available in large sums this session to upgrade the Idaho State Police.
It was brought out in the report that the superintendent should formulate a detailed deployment plan responsive to specific needs for the state's six districts.
"Further," the report said, "district commanders should establish patrol routes, shift schedules and vacation schedules appropriate for detailed highway traffic loads and consider hourly and seasonal differences."
The study said that there are 54,786 miles of highways in Idaho with approximately 5,000 miles listed as rural state highways. This presents a prime responsibility to the State Police.
The report said that the length of an officer's patrol on Class 1 highways should not exceed 30 miles in any one direction; not more than 60 miles in any one direction on Class 2 highways and not more than 90 miles on Class 3 highways.
With the present state trooper strength of only 101 men, there is one officer for each 6,936 of New Orleans, was named first alternate, and Kibbie Simmons, of Decatur, Ga., on left, gained second alternate honors. Miss Thornton is from Meridian, Miss; (UPI telephoto)

Witness Says Attorney Must Speak 'Right'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Assistant U.S. Attorney Richard G. Schultz Tuesday began cross-examining Able Hoffman in the riot conspiracy trial of the "Chicago Seven."
Schultz asked Hoffman if "it wasn't a fact" that Yippies planned sessions of "public fornication in the parks" during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.
Hoffman said he doubted he "would ever use a phrase like that."
Unable to get an answer, Schultz asked, "Did you not state that people would — on the grass during the convention?"
"That sounds more like something I would say," Hoffman replied.
The defense finished direct examination of Hoffman Tuesday and the government began cross-examination. The next defense witness was supposed to be Mayor Richard Daley, but that could come Friday or Monday.
The defense in the trial of seven men charged with conspiring to incite riots at the convention was expected to try to show Daley and the Chicago police were responsible for the violence.
The first cast steel cannons were manufactured by the German Krupp firm.

Gunman Gave $310 Gift To Pawnbroker

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A gunman who killed one man, wounded another and committed suicide during a downtown shooting spree earlier this month gave a pawnshop manager $310 shortly before the outbreak, police said Tuesday.
The pawnshop manager, Donald Zobrak of Argonaut jewelry and loan, said he had forgotten about the gift according to homicide inspector Telford Stettvedt.
The gunman, identified as John Henry Price, was believed to be the man who robbed the Fidelity Savings and Loan Co. of $435 a few minutes before he bought a 900 rifle at Zobrak's shop.
After the shooting spree on Mission Street, police found only $428 on Price's body.
Stettvedt said the mystery was cleared up in a second questioning of Zobrak.
"After he threw down the $90 for the gun, Price took another roll from his pocket — $310 and threw that down also," the inspector said. "He told the manager, 'You might as well take it.'"

Expedition May Uncover 'Noah's Ark'

DENVER (UPI) — A major expedition is planned for early next spring for the purpose of uncovering a huge, ice-locked object on Mount Ararat in Turkey that some people believe is Noah's Ark.
Harry Crawford, director of field operations for the Search Foundation, Inc., said Tuesday that "Turkish and U.S. authorities are extending every courtesy in the planning of logistical and engineering steps necessary for the uncovering project."
Crawford told a Denver newspaper, the Rocky Mountain News, that a major news conference by the Washington, D.C.-based search organization would be held next Tuesday in Los Angeles to provide additional information on the probe.
Crawford, a Denver resident, said the "dark object" which could be the Ark rests in a frozen ice pack at an elevation of between 13,000 and 14,000 feet on Mount Ararat.
"We believe something is there," Crawford said. "It's a matter of getting the right men and equipment to uncover it. We think we have the talent to do the job."
Crawford said radio ice-depth measuring equipment and complex engineering tools would be used to expose the ancient artifact. He estimated it would cost $1.5 million to remove 900,000 cubic meters of ice and moraine to get at the object.
Crawford said the "artifact is frozen solid in a lake surrounded by perfect conditions for its preservation." He said searchers already had discovered toiled wood from both sides of the ice pack.
"Indigenous timber simply does not grow on Mount Ararat or in any area of Eastern Turkey," Crawford said. He added that the region was "the only protective area on Ararat that could hold an object the size of the traditional ark."
Crawford said aviators have reported seeing a large, ship-like shadow through the ice pack when surface snow is melted. Crawford, who made a scientific expedition into the area, said the shadow he also has sighted a shadow which he estimated to be about 450 feet in length.

Unable to get an answer, Schultz asked, "Did you not state that people would — on the grass during the convention?"
"That sounds more like something I would say," Hoffman replied.
The defense finished direct examination of Hoffman Tuesday and the government began cross-examination. The next defense witness was supposed to be Mayor Richard Daley, but that could come Friday or Monday.
The defense in the trial of seven men charged with conspiring to incite riots at the convention was expected to try to show Daley and the Chicago police were responsible for the violence.
The first cast steel cannons were manufactured by the German Krupp firm.

Gunman Gave $310 Gift To Pawnbroker

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A gunman who killed one man, wounded another and committed suicide during a downtown shooting spree earlier this month gave a pawnshop manager $310 shortly before the outbreak, police said Tuesday.
The pawnshop manager, Donald Zobrak of Argonaut jewelry and loan, said he had forgotten about the gift according to homicide inspector Telford Stettvedt.
The gunman, identified as John Henry Price, was believed to be the man who robbed the Fidelity Savings and Loan Co. of $435 a few minutes before he bought a 900 rifle at Zobrak's shop.
After the shooting spree on Mission Street, police found only $428 on Price's body.
Stettvedt said the mystery was cleared up in a second questioning of Zobrak.
"After he threw down the $90 for the gun, Price took another roll from his pocket — $310 and threw that down also," the inspector said. "He told the manager, 'You might as well take it.'"

The baby girl was 21 inches long and her father, George Belch, is a 21 dealer at a downtown hotel.

Expedition May Uncover 'Noah's Ark'

DENVER (UPI) — A major expedition is planned for early next spring for the purpose of uncovering a huge, ice-locked object on Mount Ararat in Turkey that some people believe is Noah's Ark.
Harry Crawford, director of field operations for the Search Foundation, Inc., said Tuesday that "Turkish and U.S. authorities are extending every courtesy in the planning of logistical and engineering steps necessary for the uncovering project."
Crawford told a Denver newspaper, the Rocky Mountain News, that a major news conference by the Washington, D.C.-based search organization would be held next Tuesday in Los Angeles to provide additional information on the probe.
Crawford, a Denver resident, said the "dark object" which could be the Ark rests in a frozen ice pack at an elevation of between 13,000 and 14,000 feet on Mount Ararat.
"We believe something is there," Crawford said. "It's a matter of getting the right men and equipment to uncover it. We think we have the talent to do the job."
Crawford said radio ice-depth measuring equipment and complex engineering tools would be used to expose the ancient artifact. He estimated it would cost $1.5 million to remove 900,000 cubic meters of ice and moraine to get at the object.
Crawford said the "artifact is frozen solid in a lake surrounded by perfect conditions for its preservation." He said searchers already had discovered toiled wood from both sides of the ice pack.
"Indigenous timber simply does not grow on Mount Ararat or in any area of Eastern Turkey," Crawford said. He added that the region was "the only protective area on Ararat that could hold an object the size of the traditional ark."
Crawford said aviators have reported seeing a large, ship-like shadow through the ice pack when surface snow is melted. Crawford, who made a scientific expedition into the area, said the shadow he also has sighted a shadow which he estimated to be about 450 feet in length.

Beauty Problems Are International

NEW YORK, N.Y. — "Women all over the world share a number of errors in their makeup and beauty techniques, and American women are no exception." So says international beauty authority Glenn Roberts, who has recently returned from two years of globe-trotting, lecturing and demonstrating modern beauty concepts to thousands of women in both hemispheres.

"The most common mistake," he says, "is simply too much makeup. The American woman is at her best when she is breezy and casual — the Spanish woman when she is her most dramatic — the Chinese woman when the emphasis is on her beautiful eyes."

According to Mr. Roberts, who is now touring the U.S. with his "Adventure in Makeup" demonstration, there is a definite relationship between the theatrical traditions of a nation and the makeup styles of its women. "For example," he reports, "the influence of the flamenco dancers in Spain and the geisha in the Orient have a tremendous effect on the beauty concepts of the women there — and not always to the good. Too much eye makeup, too much red on the lips, too much hair, frequently, detract from their natural beauty."

With his collection of beauty pointers for women of all ages, complexions and cultures, the international Elizabeth Arden expert reports that one's own natural coloring should be the first consideration in selecting makeup. The foundation should always be chosen in a shade to match the neck, but keeping the facial skin tone in mind. The blusher should be selected carefully for subtle contrast, and Mr. Roberts says it should be blended up on the cheekbones and the temples to avoid the artificial doll-like blush.

When it comes to the eyes, the beauty expert stresses the importance of differentiating between outdoor and indoor, daytime and nighttime makeup. "For the woman who lives the outdoor life," he says, "Colors such as Taupe Creamy Powder Eye Shado blended with Cocoa Brown in the crease of the lid and Sunny Gold, beneath the brows makes a perfect go-everywhere eye for daytime."

For evening, Mr. Roberts advocates Elizabeth Arden color combinations that are wider and more inventive. "For example, Clear Celadon," he says, "is a soft focus green-inspired by Ming Dynasty vases and delicate Chinese paintings. It goes subtly with Clear Pink Creamy Powder Eye Shado beneath the brows to create the softest of evening eyes. Lilla Mauve, a lilac shade inspired by the exotic Middle Eastern woman, mixes beautifully with Pewter Frost or Clear Pink for evening wear."

"Eyelining, a feminine art in many countries, is an all-important aid for shaping and defining the eyes," says Mr. Roberts. "More and more women are learning to use the eyeliner sparingly, and then add extra lashes for more shaping." He notes that Elizabeth Arden's development of the Eyewriter now makes it easy for the woman to control the exact amount of eyeliner she's using.

As for the lips, Glenn Roberts advocates an underplayed mouth, softened with color, to provide the proper balance for the face. "Japanese women need education in this area," he says, "because they tend to imitate the geisha which means that they put too much emphasis on red mouths and white skins — and this is rarely a flattering look." For a young girl, he advises clear, glossy lipstick in tropical colors, while an older woman looks better in a creamy lipstick selected from a range of soft pinks, delicate reds and island corals.

For the black girl the Elizabeth Arden expert recommends makeup that is glossy and fresh, the natural tone of her skin. He suggests a thin veil of Very Sunny Creme Blush blended all over the face to even out skin texture and provide a pretty glow. Cheekbones should be gleamed with Frosty Bronze Creme Blush, a copery brown highlighter extended up to the temples. Eyes can be shaded with two unusual but subtle colors. For instance, Artichoke Green, a shiny, no-color green, is blended on the lids with Cocoa Brown in the crease. Beneath the brow, Mr. Roberts suggests Bronzetto, a copery tone flickered with golden lights, and extra lashes for the eyes — on both the top and the bottom lids. The lids are glossed with Clear Mango Color. Clear Linstick, a sheer slick of coral. In general, Mr. Roberts suggests that every woman — all over the world — should evaluate her own beauty potential. "Never mind what everyone around you is doing," he advises. "The makeup that looks perfect on a friend could be a disaster on you. As Socrates said, 'Know thyself.'" The beauty authority adds, "And let your makeup allow that self to glow through!"

Beauty

... problems are international according to international beauty expert Glenn Roberts. One's own coloring should be the first consideration in selecting makeup, he advises. For the Oriental complexion, top picture at left, he uses a light pink blusher and adds eye shadow of soft green blended with clear pink. For the girl at right, he applies makeup that is glossy and fresh, and he highlights the eyes with a subtle combination of artichoke green and cocoa brown eye shadow. In the lower picture he demonstrates the correct use of the blusher, blending up on the cheekbones and the temples to avoid the artificial doll-like blush.

Women's Section

DEAR ABBY: I am so disgusted. I don't know which way to turn. Our son lives in another town. He has a degree from a leading university and is presently working on his Masters; however from the judgment he uses, one would never know he finished college.

Our son has always loved pets, and at present I am keeping and caring for about a dozen dogs, just because he likes them. He has these dogs at school, but when he comes home for week-ends, he brings the dogs with him. I have recently installed wall to wall carpet, and not all his dogs are housebroken. My carpet is taking a beating, and the place smells like a kennel.

No one can say a word against his dogs or he flies off the handle. If I complain, he won't come home at all, which would bother his father and me more than it would bother him. So what can I do? Disgusted.

DEAR DISGUSTED: You're doing it. Complaining to me.

DEAR ABBY: Margie's husband thinks HE has a problem because Margie has to call her bachelor boss at 7 a.m. every morning to tell him up. MY wife's boss calls HER every morning at 7 a.m. to tell her what he wants her to do that day when she gets to the office. He also calls her as soon as she gets home in the evening and DICTATES letters to her on the phone so she can have them ready the first thing the next morning.

So tell Margie's husband that I know how he feels. I also wish I had my wife all to myself at home.

DEAR TEX: Stop wishing. Tell your wife to quit her job and stay home. (Or do you like the income, Tex? Forgive me.)

DEAR ABBY: I am 37 years old, stand 4' 11" and have been married for 20 years. I have four children, ages 19, 18, 7 and 2. I still weigh the same as I did when I was married — 102!

To give you an idea of the way I live, I rise early, clean my house, and then get busy.

Oakley Races To Easy 83-55 Win Over Burley

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

OAKLEY.—The Oakley Hornets scored the first 12 points of the night and never looked back Tuesday as they stormed past Burley 83-55 for their first decision over the Bobcats in six years.

The talented Hornets had things easy when Burley went four minutes and 12 seconds without a point and then feasted off their ball handling to shatter the Bobcats' full court press. Burley never did recover from the early cold spell, hitting only two field goals in the first eight minutes. Oakley led 24-5 at the end of the first quarter and any hopes for a Bobcat comeback ended when Kim Martindale and Russ Hardy combined for the first 11 points of the second quarter.

Both coaches went to their benches midway through the third quarter when Oakley held a 58-25 lead. Oakley's biggest margin was 57-21 a few moments earlier.

Oakley junior, Crafton, hit the first six junks of the game and Hardy, Martindale and Steve McLaws joined in to push the Hornet margin to 12-0 before Dalling hit for the Bobcats. Mike Kloepper got the other Burley field goal in the period.

Martindale got two off the second-quarter tip-off and then came back with a three-point play as Burley went to its press. Hardy benefited from a pair of good feeds for field goals the next two times down the court and Martindale wound up with a bucket with another bucket to make it 35-5.

That 30 points about told the story as the Bobcats managed to start scoring a little better after that. But the closest Burley came, after Oakley reached a 30-point span, was 25.

It was the first win for Oakley Coach Gary Swan since assuming the Hornet helm.

Oakley's jayvees made it a great night for the home team, beating Burley's frosh in the preliminary.

Kuhn 'Can't Comply' With Curt Flood

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Outfielder Curt Flood said Tuesday night he was discussing with his attorneys what action to take as a result of Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's reply that he cannot comply with Flood's request to be freed from baseball's reserve clause.

Flood said, "Filing suit (against the reserve clause) may be the next step, but that's a decision I have to take under advisement with my attorneys. I talked to Commissioner Kuhn over the phone and he read the letter to me. From what I understand from his letter, the only thing to do is to talk with my attorneys."

"Any help we may get from the Major League Players Association and Marvin Miller (executive director of the association), will be appreciated," Flood said. "But it's my litigation, my action. Marvin is acting as an interested party."

Flood is seeking to be freed from the reserve clause and to be able to negotiate as a free agent. The clause binds him to his team for life unless he is sold, traded or released.

Kuhn replied Tuesday that he "cannot comply" with Flood's request to be released from the reserve clause.

Allan H. Zerman, Flood's attorney in St. Louis, said, "If we do decide to file a suit—and the decision will be up to Curt—we would have a choice of venue to institute the suit virtually any place there's a major league club, preferably in New York or St. Louis, perhaps in Philadelphia."

St. Bonaventure Cops Holiday Festival; Lanier Tanks 50

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bob Lanier scored a record-tying 50 points, including 13 straight in the first half, as undefeated St. Bonaventure beat Purdue, 91-75, Tuesday night for the Holiday Festival Basketball title.

Lanier's point total equaled the 50 Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati scored against Iowa in 1959 and Jimmy Walker of Providence netted against Boston College in 1965.

The 6-11 Lanier drew his fifth personal foul with 1:07 remaining in the game to spoil his bid for the tourney scoring record. Bob Morse tallied 27 points to lead Pennsylvania to an 88-69 victory over state rival St. Joseph's third place in the ECAC tourney. John Fraley's 28 points paced Cincinnati to an 85-70 triumph over Boston College for fifth place honors.

Lanier, boomed as the No. 1 draft choice in the post-season pro selections, tallied 28 points in the first half as he went 11 for 13 from the field and sank six foul shots. The big Bonnie center continued the attack in the second half with seven field goals and eight free throws for 22 points.

Bill Kalbaugh's 25-foot soft set gave St. Bonaventure its first two points of the game. Lanier then reeled off his 13 straight before Paul Hoffman broke his teammate's scoring spell with a jumper.

Lanier's spectacular streak in the opening 20 minutes, however, failed to start any runaway as the Bonnies kept pace to tie the Bonnies at the half. The crowd of 15,497 watched the lead change 11 times before Larry Weatherford finally tied the score at 42-42 for Purdue with 11 seconds left in the half.

Lanier's 50 points gave him a three-game total of 108, far short of Robertson's 122 in the 1959 Festival, and his 44 field goals tied a record for three games. St. Bonaventure set a three-game record of 294 points.

Bob Ford led Big 10 champion Purdue with 23 points and All-America Rick Mount tallied 19 for the Boilermakers.

LaSalle Is Upset Quaker City Champ

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Sharp shooting, swift passing of Fran Dumphy inspired LaSalle to an 89-74 victory over previously unbeaten Columbia Tuesday night for the championship of the Quaker City Tournament.

Cornell, behind the shooting of Bill Schwarzkopf and Paul Frye, upset Villanova 63-58 for third place. Wake Forest, led by Charlie Davis and Gil McGregor's combined 43 points, beat Brigham Young 108-93 for fifth place.

With the 5-foot-11 Dumphy providing the spark and leadership, LaSalle took a 42-38 halftime lead and stayed in front until Columbia rallied to tie at 59-59 with 10:09 remaining. Then Dumphy, voted the tournament's most valuable player, scored on a free throw to give LaSalle a 60-59 lead it never surrendered.

Columbia's shooting went cold and LaSalle opened a 78-61 bulge while the Lions went more than five minutes without a field goal.

LaSalle previously won the Quaker City Tournament in 1963 and lost to South Carolina in the 1968 finale.

The loss was Columbia's first after 10 victories.

Ken Durrett led LaSalle with 25 points and Dumphy added 24. Hevard Dotson led Columbia with 22 points.

Cornell rallied after trailing by 11 points midway in the first half and the score was tied three times before the Big Red went ahead to stay at 53-51 with 5:38 remaining on a field goal by Schwarzkopf. He added two more from the floor as Cornell scored nine consecutive points.

But little guard Ken Macklin wound up the night with 20 points and seven steals. Florida forward Andy Owens led all scorers with 28 points.

Florida St. Rips Florida For Title

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Big ball-hawking Florida State confused arch-rival Florida with a game-long full court press Tuesday night to easily win the Gator Bowl basketball championship 88-63.

Earlier, Cadets Doug Clevenger and Jim Oxley combined for 42 points as Army beat Virginia Tech 57-55 in the consolation game.

Florida never made a game of it as the two cross-state rivals, plagued by basketball squabbles in the past, got together before a coliseum crowd of 5,700 for the first time in two years.

The Seminoles, winning their eighth game in nine outings, kept the boards cleared with 8.9 Dave Cowens and 6.7 Willie Williams, who scored 16 and 12 points respectively.

But little guard Ken Macklin wound up the night with 20 points and seven steals. Florida forward Andy Owens led all scorers with 28 points.

Cinderella Sooners Are Big Eight Meet Winners

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Unheralded Oklahoma defied the odds, outlasting Colorado, 73-72, Tuesday night, as the Sooners won their first Big Eight basketball tournament since 1948.

The Sooners, victors in only seven games a year ago, cut an unbelievable swath through the tournament, knocking off Kansas and Kansas State before the Buffaloes.

It was guard Steve Ayers who preserved the championship trophy. The 6-2 senior made two free throws in a 1-and-1 situation with 14 seconds to play that propelled the Sooners into a 73-70 lead.

The Sooners held Colorado's super-star, Cliff Meely, to 17 points. Garfield Heard had 22 for Oklahoma and Clifford Ray and Bobby Jack made 16 each.

The victory stretched coach John MacLeod's Sooners record to 10-1. Colorado is 7-4. Nebraska sophomore AT Nissen sank four free throws in the last 20 seconds to preserve a 78-73 victory over Kansas for the championship in the consolation bracket.

Earlier, Kansas State captured third place over Missouri and Iowa State needed two overtimes to defeat Oklahoma State for seventh place.

Junior guard Marvin Stewart did the damage to Kansas, scoring eight straight

Warriors Rally Past Lakers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 105-100 in a come-from-behind victory Tuesday night.

Trailing by as much as 19 points, the Warriors stormed back to catch the Lakers midway in the fourth period at 89-81 and then go on for the win.

Northwestern, fighting superior height, closed the margin to 13 points as it trailed 53-40 at the half.

In the consolation game, Joe Brunton scored 26 points and pulled down a record 28 rebounds to spark Furman to an 80-71 victory over The Citadel.

Seton Hall Is Hurricane Champ

MIAMI (UPI) — Melvin Knight hit a follow shot with 13 seconds to go Tuesday night to give Seton Hall a 56-55 upset victory over Texas and the championship of the annual Hurricane Classic.

The consolation game fifth ranked Ohio University behind senior guard John Canine, took an early lead and never relinquished it, downing Miami 99-74.

Seton Hall took a 33-25 lead into the second half of the title game, but had to hold off a Texas rush up until the end of the game.

With 4:53 left Texas took the lead for the first time in the half at 51-50. Seton Hall took the lead back but then with 1:09 the Longhorns took a 55-52 lead.

West Virginia Tips S. C. In Peach Bowl 14-3

ATLANTA (UPI) — Sophomore fullback Eddie Williams, who stands only 5-foot-10, but weighs 210 pounds, carried the ball only 53 times during the season but was called upon 34 times and he responded by nearly matching season average of better than seven yards per carry.

Although the favored Mountaineers dominated play throughout most of the game, they were able to score only twice — on Bob Gresham's 10-yard run with the game only 5:36 old and on Jim Braxton's one-yard plunge with only 23 seconds left in the game.

Braxton, who scored 105 points during the season, kicked the two extra points.

South Carolina, which needed its passing attack to offset the Mountaineers' powerful running attack, was hampered severely by the rain and had only little Billy DePre's 37-yard field goal with 3:49 left in the first half to show for its evening's work.

West Virginia, an independent which posted a 9-1 season and placed fifth in the nation in rushing offense, started out as though it would run South Carolina out of the stadium in spite of the horrible playing conditions. With Gresham picking up 38 yards, including one 23-yard burst, and Williams gaining 22 in four carries, the Mountaineer marched 66 yards on the ground the first time they got their hands on the ball to score their early touchdown.

But South Carolina held for downs at its one-yard line with 10 seconds left in the first half and West Virginia missed two short field goal attempts late in the third period as the Gamecocks continued to turn them back.

South Carolina, led by quarterback Tommy Suggs and fullback Warren Muir, got down to the West Virginia 10-yard line once in the first period only to have Muir fumble away the wet ball.

The Gamecocks got a big break midway through the second period when Ron Probolski misplayed a fair catch and Ken Ross recovered the ball at the Mountaineer 40-yard line.

Oregon Stuns Huskies With Hot Shooting To Win Far West Classic

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Defending champion Oregon, combing a tenacious 2-1-2 zone defense and shooting a torrid 60.0, won its second straight Far West Classic championship by defeating sixth-ranked and previously unbeaten Washington, 83-73, Tuesday night.

In earlier action, Washington State took third place beating Oregon State, 59-54; eighteenth-ranked USC outgunned Illinois, 85-82 in overtime for fifth place, and defending National Invitational Tournament champion Temple ran past Michigan State, 80-51.

The Ducks, counted out by most experts, shut off the sensational sophomore center Steve Hawes and forced the Huskies into taking wild shots. Oregon, meanwhile, hit 15 of its first 20 shots in the game and led by as much as 14 in the first half before going into the dressing room ahead, 48-39. The closest Washington could get in the second half was within five

Emotion Will Play Big Part In NFL Title Clash Sunday

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Emotional attitude was the primary concern of the Minnesota Vikings Wednesday in their preparation for Sunday's National Football League championship game against the Cleveland Browns.

There was fear of overconfidence, because the Vikings smashed Cleveland 51-3 during the regular season, and also concern whether the Vikings could get "up" for the Browns after their win over Los Angeles Saturday.

But if anybody relaxes, it won't be the Viking players.

"I don't see any way possible we couldn't be tight Sunday," said end Jim Marshall, Vikings defensive captain. "It's the biggest football game I've ever been in. Everyone's a little tight, but we'll straighten out."

"I don't see that it (the earlier game with Cleveland) will have any effect," Vikings coach Bud Grant said.

Nobody was downplaying the Browns, who defeated Dallas 34-14 for the Eastern Division title last Sunday.

"Cleveland has the finest array of individual ballplayers of any team we played," Grant said. "It's a team that always attacks, as opposed to ourselves and the Rams."

Grant said it is "tough to anticipate what they're going to do" in any game.

The Minnesota coach has special praise for Bo Scott, who has replaced Ron Johnson at fullback since the two teams met. Grant said Scott has "emerged as a real star in the league."

Grant also called Gary Collins the "best clutch receiver in the league" and said that tackle Walter Johnson was "one of the finest defensive linemen in the business."

Vikings offensive captain Grady Alderman said he felt the Cleveland defensive line was as good as any in the league.

"They have three good linemen and one extra-good linemen," he said, referring to Walter Johnson.

"Johnson single-handedly beat our offensive line two years ago," Alderman said. "The line is bigger than the Rams and plays the run a little bit better."

Cleveland public relations man Nate Wallack said the Browns were taking some consolation in their earlier loss to Minnesota.

"If we win Sunday, it won't be because we were going into the game overconfident," he said.

Dickey Will Decide On Gator Offer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Tennessee athletic director Bob Woodruff said today that Doug Dickey, Tennessee's head football coach, will decide shortly whether to accept an offer to become head coach at Florida.

"Coach Dickey has indicated to me he will make his decision today or Wednesday," Woodruff said.

"Should he decide to remain at Tennessee, an announcement will be made immediately," Woodruff said. "If he accepts the Florida offer, consideration for a replacement will begin immediately."

Woodruff said Dickey "is not trying to bargain with the University of Tennessee through the University of Florida."

"He is trying to decide whether to spend the remainder of his coaching career with Tennessee or to return to his hometown and alma mater," said Woodruff.

Although Florida offered the coaching job to Dickey, support continued at the Florida campus for the hiring of Florida defensive coach Gene Ellenson for the position as Ray Graves' successor.

Signs on motels and lawns in the Gainesville, Fla., area said, "Gene's Our Man" and "We Want Ellenson."

The Florida football team, which defeated Tennessee in Saturday's Gator Bowl, issued a statement supporting Ellenson for the job.

Graves, who plans to remain at Florida as athletic director, is believed to support Ellenson but a university committee formed to find a successor favors Dickey.

Ole Miss Wins Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Ron Coleman scored 27 points to lead Mississippi to a 80-61 victory over South Alabama Tuesday night for the Senior Bowl championship.

Earlier, Valpraiso took a 86-71 victory over Navy in the consolation match.

Ole Miss went ahead by 12 points in the first seven minutes of the game, with South Alabama hitting only two of seven field shots during the period, to break the game open.

The Rebels coasted to a 44-30 halftime advantage and, in the second half, hit 15-10 to go, the Browns led 61-44.

Utah Bombs California By 96-77

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—Utah exploded in the second half on the shooting of Mike Newlin and Jim Mahler to clinch a 96-77 comeback victory over California Tuesday night.

California's nine-point halftime lead quickly evaporated as the Utes blew redhot, outscoring the Bears 33-7 in one stretch.

Newlin pumped in 29 points for the Utes as they split a two-game series with the Bears, who registered an 86-80 victory Monday night.

The Utes, now 8-3 for the year, went ahead for keeps 49-48 on Newlin's jumper early in the second half.

The 6-10 Mahler, ineffective in the opening half, was impressive after intermission, scoring 14 of the 18 points. Ken Gardner was Utah's second leading scorer with 18 and turned in an impressive game on the boards.

Santa Clara Tops Nevada In Finals

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Dennis Awtry, Santa Clara's 6-foot-10 center, shook loose for 37 points and Ralph Ogden chipped in with 29 Tuesday night as the Broncos won the ninth annual Holiday Classic with a 93-77 victory over University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Awtry, who was voted the most valuable player in the four-team tournament, also fouled-team rebounder as Santa Clara improved its record to 7-2.

Ninth-ranked Houston took third place with a 98-85 decision over UC Santa Barbara.

Santa Clara led all the way, holding a 25-21 advantage midway through the first half and being in front 45-38 at the intermission. With 15:10 to go, the Broncos led 61-44.

South Carolina Shades Irish 84-83 In Overtime For Sugar Bowl Hoop Title

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Austin Carr, who scored 43 points for Notre Dame, was named the tournament's outstanding player.

Carr set a Sugar Bowl record with a total of 70 points in the two-night tournament. He played the entire game without a turnover and hit 19 of 24 field goals attempts.

South Carolina, which raced to a seven-point halftime lead, defeated the Irish on the shooting of Tom Riker and John Roche.

Riker got 36 points. Roche scored 25 and hit four consecutive free throws in the overtime period.

Will Robinson, scored 31 points to pace West Virginia to the win over New Mexico in the night's first game.

Five-foot-nine guard John Somogyi scored 31 points for New Mexico but the Lobos never could catch the Mountaineers in the second-half.

At one point Robinson hit on nine consecutive field goals. He connected on 14 of 22 shots Tuesday and finished the tournament with 53 points.

Somogyi hit on his first six field goal attempts and had New Mexico out front by as much as eight points in the first half.

The game gave West Virginia a 4-3 record and New Mexico a 4-6 mark for the season.

Clutch shooting by Cross and Johnny Burks kept San Francisco ahead in the waning moments of the game. The Redmen had trailed by nine points but narrowed the deficit to 62-58 with three minutes left.

Cross dropped in three free throws and Burks added a pair to put it out of reach.

Earlier, Subpac of the Hawaii Armed Forces League edged Drake 77-75 for fifth place and Iowa blasted Hawaii 111-60 for seventh place.

Yale Shocks Maravich, LSU To Snare Rainbow Classic

HONOLULU (UPI)—Yale's scrappy Ellis, a team nobody thought had a chance, came from behind on the torrid shooting of guard Jimmy Morgan Tuesday night to beat Pete Maravich and the Louisiana State Tigers 97-94 for the Rainbow Classic championship.

Morgan outdueled Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, 35 points to 34 but the LSU flash got the tournament MVP award mainly on the strength of his 53-point performance against St. John's Monday night.

Yale, rated the worst of the eight teams entered when the tournament started, appeared to be a beaten team through

SOLOWAY DOUBLE TIPS SLAM LEAD

At this point, we cannot say just how many Master Points Paul Soloway won in 1969 but we do know he won enough to give him the McKenney Trophy and a new record. The Vander-

Bob's two no-trump was an absolute force, and designed to elicit more information from Mike. Of course, Bob was on his way to a slam after that response and his use of Blackwood was to keep out of seven when he found that an ace was missing.

When the six-spade bid came around to Paul, he doubled. This was a perfect example of the lead-directing double but also a courageous one. If West held two hearts instead of one, Paul would look mighty silly but Paul felt that the North-South bidding had shown seven hearts in the combined hands and was willing to back his judgment.

The heart lead and ruff beat the slam. Against any other lead it would have been a cinch.

Opening lead—♥ 6

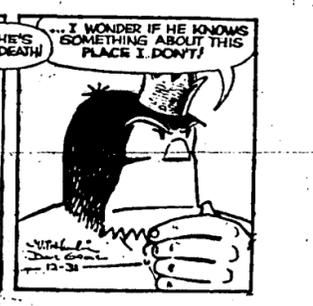

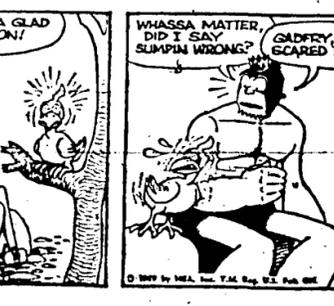

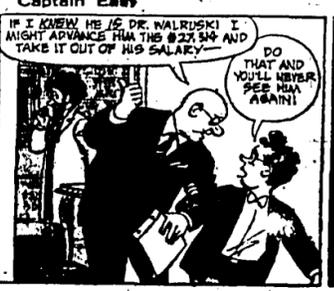

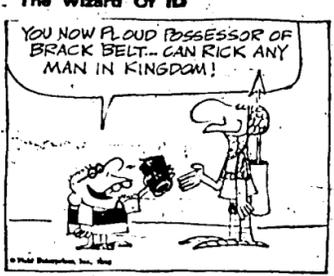

bilt win by Dick Walsh, John Swanson, Jerry Hallee and Paul was worth 125 Master Points and got them into the match with the Dallas Aces to determine the 1970 International team.

Today's hand might have resulted in a 13-IMP pickup for the Dallas Aces in the match but Paul came through with a bid that gave his team the 13 IMPs.

The way Bob Hamman and Mike Lawrence of the Aces bid to the spade slam is worthy of study. Bob's hand was just below a two-bid in strength. Mike's two-heart response was made in preference to a spade-raise because he was just too strong

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding six spades to show three kings, your partner has bid six hearts to show two kings. What do you do?

Answer Next Issue
Oswald Jacoby, world-famed bridge expert and co-author with his son Jim of the popular Win at Bridge column, has written a 64-page booklet of bridge tips for Times-News readers. Copies of Jacoby's "Win at Bridge" may be obtained by sending 50 cents to Times-News, Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Please be sure to include your Zip Code.

Why Are Most Engagements Broken During Evening?

WHY ARE MOST matrimonial engagements broken, if at all, between 9 p.m. and midnight? Now that's a mystery that has our Love and War man stumped. I AM ASKED TO DEFINE a "Yarborough" in Bridge. That's a hand with no card higher than a nine. Chances against getting a Yarborough run 1 to 1,827.

SUICIDES — What follows is about men who died young, and I won't dwell overlong on the matter, but this much is odd. In general, of the men who die between the ages of 25 and 39, one in 11 is a suicide. However, of the doctors who die between the ages of 25 and 39, one in four is a suicide. Why are young doctors so much more apt to kill themselves than young men in other professions? Most mysterious.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q. "Does wine get stronger as it ages?" A. Sherry does, but don't think any other wines do. Q. "HOW MANY SLAVES did George Washington own?" A. 188. Q. "WHAT PROPORTION of the men get bald?" A. To some degree, four out of five. Q. "THE AUSTRALIAN QANTAS is the oldest of the airlines, is it not?" A. Second oldest. Q. "DO IDENTICAL TWINS tend to have moles and birthmarks in the same places on their bodies?" A. Almost never.

EYESO F WOMEN — When a woman is happy, hopeful and fascinated by something she sees, she closes her eyes at a rate of about 15 blinks a minute. When she is relaxed, unconcerned and disinterested, she closes her eyes at about 12 blinks a minute. When she is thoughtful, tense and frightened, she closes her eyes at a rate of as much as 45 blinks a minute. That has been scientifically established. Now get this. The hidden-camera boys set up observatories in supermarkets to study women's eyes, and found: "As the ladies walked in, they blinked 32 per. As they paused before the hypnotic stacks of groceries, they blinked at 13 per. And as they approached the check-out counters, they blinked at 45 per.

ANOTHER LITTLE KNOWN fact is most American Indian chiefs were selected for said high office not by the tribal braves, but by the squaws. IT'S REPORTED some of those relatively rare citizens who know how to shoe horses now are making up to $1,000 a month.

AS TO THAT MATTER of which of the songbirds sing on the wing, if any, the mockingbird does, I'm told.

MR. EDISON — Can the dead speak to the living? So you think not, do you? Likewise, however, that exceedingly savvy gentleman named Thomas Alva Edison was not so sure, evidently, because he worked secretly for some time on the notion to produce a machine that would allow communication between the here and the hereafter.

Percy Killing Is Admitted By Convict Before His Death

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—Authorities reported today a man who died during an escape from jail here in 1967 told an accomplice he killed the daughter of U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., three years ago.

The man was identified as Frederick J. Malchow, 40, one of two convicted men in a June, 1967 rape-robbery in nearby Wynnewood.

Malchow and his co-defendant, Harold J. Evans, escaped while being led in handcuffs from a court to jail.

Malchow's body was found two days later in the Schuylkill River a few blocks from the courthouse. He had jumped or fallen from a railroad bridge across the river.

Evans was arrested by the FBI last January in Chicago where he was living with his wife and baby under the name James J. Thompson. He was returned here, and is scheduled to be sentenced Friday in the rape-robbery.

Montgomery County District Attorney Milton O. Moss said Evans told Illinois State Police that Malchow told him he killed Valerie Percy, who was beaten and stabbed to death in the Percy home at Kenilworth, Ill., Sept. 18, 1966.

News Of Servicemen

Airman I. C. Karl L. Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Malone of 243 Caswell Ave., Twin Falls, is a member of a unit that has earned the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award at Hohn, Iceland. Airman Malone, a radar operator in the 667th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at Hohn Aircraft Control and Warning Station, Iceland, will wear the distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the unit. His unit was cited for distinguished accomplishment in the tracking, intercepting, and identifying of non-NATO aircraft approaching or flying through the Iceland Military Air Defense Identification Zone, despite extreme climatic conditions. The 667th is a unit of the Aerospace Defense Command that protects the U. S. against hostile aircraft and missiles. The airman, a 1966 graduate of Twin Falls High School, attended the College of Southern Idaho. His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Twin Falls.

Opinions On Enforcement Made By Club

BURLEY — Burley Sportsmen Club members believe the county sheriff's offices should continue to handle driver's licenses, that all state patrol cars should be marked, the state police force is adequate and driver's licenses should be issued to 15-year-olds and driver's training should be mandatory.

Response to questions on these subjects was made at a meeting of the Burley club when State Rep. Jim Martin, guest speaker, asked for an expression. He said he will take opinions gathered from citizens with him when the Legislature convenes in January.

During the business meeting Mrs. Blanche Bagwell, formerly of Portland, and a member of the local club, was granted a member-at-large status. Mrs. Bill McKnight reported on cookbooks which the club is selling. It was announced Mrs. D. C. Fuller, past president of the local club, has been appointed to the International Goodwill and Understanding committee. A Christmas prayer was given by Mrs. Glenn Bailey.

Shipfitter Fireman Gary R. Waller, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berr A. Waller, Hammett, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger of the coast of Vietnam.

The 60,000-ton Ranger is currently in its fifth combat tour in Vietnam and ninth to the Western Pacific. This is her third cruise with Attack Carrier Air Wing Two embarked. The Ranger serves as flagship for Rear Admiral James C. Donaldson, BuAer, Ala., Commander Carrier Division Three.
