COLD? YOU BET! This chilly scene was captured on Soldier Creek above Fairfield, where temperatures have not been over 20 degrees for a week. The high during that period, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau at Kimberly, was 18, and the thermometer dipped to a frosty minus 27 Tuesday night.

In the Twin Falls and Magic Valley areas the mercury has been hovering around zero during the night time and from about 21 to the mid 20's during the day. Since throughout the valley have remained generally clear and sunny throughout the cold period, however.

County Finds Knotty Problems In Budget

Commissioners of Twin Falls County have been meeting in conference sessions behind closed doors since they met in an attempt to meet the Monday, Jan. 12, deadline of a tentative county budget.

County Commission Chairman Heber Loughmiller said commissioners must have their tentative budget ready by Monday afternoon which is necessary in an attempt to meet the Monday, Jan. 12, deadline of a tentative county budget.

Each department's proposed spending for the coming year has been studied separately and the chairman said Tuesday the commission is working on the last half of the budget.

Like other taxing agencies, he said, the county is faced with living up to restriction of House Bill 304, which limits them to a four per cent revenue increase over the previous year.

One of the big problems has been the planning for additional programs or facilities despite this four per cent increase. This year the county must replace the grandstand at the fair grounds which burned last fall. As yet the amount of insurance coverage on the old stand has not been determined which makes the budgeting difficult.

County Recorder Harold Lancaster said law requires the tentative budget be approved by the second Monday in January and the permanent budget by the second Monday in February. However a public hearing is scheduled for that date prior to adoption of the budget and this can be extended several days if necessary before the final budget is adopted.

Flooding

GOODING—Gooding city crews Wednesday were blasting the ice from the Little Wood River channel in Gooding after the river overflowed Tuesday into the yard of Jim Wood's home.

City officials said the ice was freezing so hard it was impossible to float. The river, causing the water to overflow its banks.

Draft Boards May Limit Call To Top 30

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Selective Service said it has suggested local draft boards limit their January draft call to men whose lottery numbers are between one and 30.

Capt. William S. Pascoe, chief information officer for the service, said the suggestion was made in an attempt to maintain some degree of equality between all the states and within various states. The January draft call is for 12,500 men.

"We suggested that for the January call they try to stay within the first 30 selection sequence numbers. This is not a directive, but a suggestion. If a state director goes beyond 30, nothing is going to happen," Pascoe said.

Cleaver Says He May Come Back Home

NEW YORK (UPI)—Black Panther Information Minister Eldridge Cleaver says he'll sneak back into the United States to help Negroes "take our freedom."

In a CBS television interview taped in Algiers, Cleaver said Negroes are not being allowed their freedom in the United States and consequently would have to "take it" by force.

Cleaver, who fled the country last year, said President Nixon, Sen. John McClellan, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and others in the "establishment" must be "apprehended."

"I feel myself that the fate that they receive will depend upon the resistance that they put up," Cleaver said.

City Fathers Take Oaths In 3 More Valley Towns

The 1970 municipal wheels of administration across Magic Valley continued to begin Monday today, with three more city councils swearing in their new officers Tuesday night.

New mayors were sworn into office at Shoshone, where Elwood Werry replaces Victor Borzillo, at Jerome where Mack Russell took over the reins of city government from Earl Greenawald, and at Rupert, where Wendell Johnson begins another term.

Only new member of the Rupert city council is Bill Whitton, who replaces Harold Caraway. Mr. Caraway was presented with a certificate of service. Mr. Whitton and George MacDonald were sworn into office by City Atty. Bill Goodman at Shoshone. In a session which continued until 1 a.m. and then recessed until tonight, the new council didn't get to the reappointment of department heads.

Sworn into office at Shoshone by Ruth K. Ches, city clerk, were Paul Jacobson, and Frank Carothers. The third new member, J. R. Chughman, is in Portland on business and will be installed later.

Principal business at the Shoshone meeting was setting Feb. 24 as the date for a $380,000 bond issue for a sewer system for the city. Resignation of Bill Moon as sanitation custodian was accepted, effective Jan. 15.

It is expected the council will name the heads of city departments and committees at tonight's meeting.

Jerome councilmen Walter Bontlinger and Elwin Flaker, incumbent, were sworn into office by Richard Sealey, city at-large. Mr. Bontlinger is the only newcomer to the council. Holdover members are Marshall

City To Start Preliminary Budget Study

The Twin Falls City Council will hold a special meeting next week for a preliminary budget study, according to Jean Milar, city manager.

Mr. Milar said he had not presented the city employees' requested plan for new incentive and retirement funds. He said, however, the council will review the request next week. Since there are three new councilmen and a new mayor, Mr. Milar said he was unable to know the general feeling of the council on this matter.

The city manager said he is waiting for the 1969 bookkeeping to be completed to ascertain the cash-on-hand balance before making definite figures on the new budget. He said he will have these figures by the middle of the month.

Agnew Visits Malaysia On Asian Tour

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew arrived tonight in Malaysia on the seventh stop of his 11-nation Asian goodwill tour. The distant lightning flashed on the distant horizon he drove without incident into the city, guarded by 5,000 police.

Militant leftists had threatened to demonstrate and the pro-Communist Labor Party of Malaysia issued circulars calling Agnew "obnoxious" and "unwelcome to the people of this country." But heavy security precautions kept things in hand.

A Chinese demonstrator was shot and killed here during street protests by the same organization when former President Lyndon B. Johnson visited Kuala Lumpur in 1967. Since then, Chinese-Malay riots had plunged the country into a state of emergency and sparked renewed Communist terrorism along the border with Thailand.

Agnew flew here from the cold climate of mountainous Afghanistan today and arrived in this tropical climate at 8:45 p.m. (8:15 a.m. EST). He made no arrival statement and proceeded straight to the Morlin Hotel where he and Mrs. Agnew will reside during their brief stay.

Police field force troops lined the highway—at 100-yard intervals—along the 14-mile route to Agnew's hotel.

Surplus In Road Revenue May Aid Perrine Bridge

Present trends in highway use estimates for the current biennium would probably not require any immediate replacement of highway funds over the 1968-69 period, but could brighten the outlook for the Perrine Memorial bridge, by Idaho Department of Highways Engineer Ellis Mathes.

Mr. Mathes told the Times-News it would be impossible to include the bridge replacement in the 1970 program because of the detailed planning, foundation studies and engineering of such a major structure.

"He said very rough estimates on replacement of the present weakened structure with a four-lane bridge run about $4 or $6.5 million. It might be more suitable, Mr. Mathes said, to construct two two-lane structures, which would cost slightly more but would probably mean an earlier replacement, with at least the first two-lane span.

Mr. Mathes estimated it would be about one and one-half years before replacement plans could be completed.

The state engineer pointed out the present biennium highway fund estimate of $75,298,000 was made in 1968 based on the past 10-year trends in revenue sources including highway user tax, license plate revenue and others.

Over the past two years there has been a marked increase in truck use of Idaho highways. Truck diesel fuel tax, as well as the ton mile tax charged on the large trailers pulled by the diesel trucks have shown a marked increase and are now about 10 per cent higher than the 1968 calculation of three per cent. Other increases are around 5 per cent.

A forecast increase in 1968, reflecting the normal ten-year trend was set at 3 per cent per year.

Mr. Mathes explained the state highway board members are most concerned with the Perrine Bridge problem, but added the highway funds are not being used in the state highway program. He said favorable legislation in the coming session is necessary if funds are to be allocated in a substantial amount toward the Perrine Bridge replacement project.

Board members, he said, will be meeting with legislators on this and other highway needs in Idaho.

As is the case with most major Idaho highway projects, federal funding will probably be used, which also takes time to establish.

Mr. Mathes emphasized the $50 million cost of the Perrine Bridge.

Ken Barry Named Acting Police Chief In Burley

BURLEY—Mayor Garis Robertson Tuesday morning appointed Ken Barry, a member of the police force, as acting police chief. He also dismissed Henry (Hank) Willis as police force captain and captain.

The present police chief is George Warrell. Mayor Robertson said Mr. Warrell will receive pay through the month of January. Mr. Warrell, who has been in law enforcement for the past 23 years, is scheduled for a heart examination soon in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Barry has been on the Burley police force for several years and was previously assigned in the records division.

In dismissing Captain Willis, Mayor Robertson said, "The responsibilities of the captain on this small police force should be those of the police chief." He said he did not plan to replace Willis.

The new mayor pointed out that during the Monday night meeting the council did not make an appointment for the electrical superintendent's position. He said, however, the matter was tabled until the next meeting. The mayor has called for nominations for the job.

Reds Hit 5 U.S. 'Copters

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops shot down five U.S. helicopters but lost more than 400 men killed in fighting reported today. It was the heaviest combat in a month.

Total U.S. losses in the northern quarter, were six dead and 40 wounded, military spokesmen said.

"This could well be the season's last of their (the guerrillas) winter-spring offensive," a U.S. military official said.

Headquarters reported 37 overnight shelling attacks, the same number as the previous night, but said damage and casualties at the targeted Allied towns and camps was light.

For the sixth successive day, the northern war zone saw most of the action, with Allied troops reporting 28 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese slain there.

In one battle 30 miles down the coast from northern Da Nang, North Vietnamese troops killed five Americans and wounded 10 in a battle that continued into the night, field reports said.

T. F. Hospital Is Defendant In Death Suit

Magic Valley Memorial Hospital has been named defendant in a $50,000 law suit filed in Fourth Judicial District Court in Boise as the result of the 1968 New Year's death of a Twin Falls woman.

Gerald W. Park, acting as guardian for Sharon and John Kibbey, juvenile children of the late Linda Kibbey Melles, 28, who was fatally shot and killed early Jan. 1, 1968, filed the suit Tuesday.

He alleges Mrs. Kibbey (Mrs. Melles) died of a gunshot wound when attendants at the hospital neglected to treat her after her admission to the hospital. The law suit charges negligence in the part of the hospital resulting in the woman's death.

Twin Falls Police Department records show Mrs. Melles was fatally wounded at her home, 354 Seventh Ave. E., at about 3 a.m. Jan. 1, 1968 when her husband, Ken Melles, shot her.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Melles died of the wounds. Mr. Melles at the scene of the shooting and Mrs. Melles died in the hospital at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Major Storm Belts East With Snow

By United Press International. A new major snow storm spread from the Central Appalachians and the Middle Atlantic states to New England today.

Up to 12 inches of snow coated by high winds was expected in Massachusetts and Rhode-Island. "There's no place left to dump the snow," Pittsfield, Mass., Mayor Donald Butler said. Berkshire County, Mass., has had 30 inches of snow since Dec. 14.

New York City and Washington, D.C., expected at least four inches of snow, and heavier accumulations were predicted from Northeast Virginia to New Jersey.

Cold air plunged southward behind the storm. Temperatures dropped near the danger point in the Florida citrus belt and frost was reported as far south as Lake Okeechobee, Fla.

Yablonski Deaths Bring Mine Walkout

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Thousands of miners in the eastern soft coal fields quit work Tuesday in sympathy for the execution-style gunshot killings of United Mine Workers (UMW) official Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

A UMW local leader in western Pennsylvania said the men "may be out a long time, but other union leaders said they believed the work stoppage would last 24 hours, as normally occurs in a mine when a worker is killed on the job."

Yablonski waged in all-out battle against the current UMW leadership last year when he ran unsuccessfully for the union presidency. He campaigned on a platform of restoring autonomy to the rank and file and giving them the right to choose their own district officials. He was defeated in the union's first presidential election by the incumbent, W. A. "Tony" Boyle.

Fireworks Suit Filed In Boise

BOISE (UPI)—Nile and Matt Stanger have filed suit for more than $30,000 in Fourth District Court against Ace Fireworks Co. and several other defendants.

The Stangers allege Mrs. Stanger sustained permanent injury after it exploded known as a "trick trap" was set on the couple's nine-year-old son.

They accuse Ace and others of sale of illegal and dangerous fireworks.

State Seeks New Trial In Turner Case

BOISE (UPI)—The State Tax Commission is seeking a new trial of a lawsuit contesting an auditor's report of Oliver B. Turner's wife and daughter.

Turner is accused of obtaining more than $300,000 in State Highway funds by false pretenses while he served as highway auditor for the highway department.

On Dec. 29, Fourth District Judge W.E. Smith permanently enjoined the tax commission from collecting taxes on certain property, although he left the door open for the commission to conduct a new hearing of its own on the matter.

Fair Board Budget Boosted To Replace Grandstand

Twin Falls County Commission has tentatively budgeted the amount of $100,000 for the 1970 county fair.

Heber Loughmiller, commission chairman, emphasized this is only a budget figure and in heavy time in September, the figure may change. Last year only $75,000 was levied for the fair.

The reasons for the 1970 increase is, of course, the replacement of the grandstands which were burned in November. Although they have been insured for 100 per cent replacement by the insurance firms, they must have this money available for new construction. There was no actual increase in the budget over that of 1969, except for the replacement of the grandstand and repair the other damage incurred by the fire. Mr. Loughmiller said. Approximately $250,000 has been budgeted for the construction and repairs and the total budget in dollars is approximately $300,000.

Members are now working on clearing the debris from the fire and the commission said they will begin construction as soon as possible. Mr. Loughmiller said a national horse show is scheduled at the fair grounds early this summer and the facilities must be completed by then.

Murder Probe Uncovers No Clues

CLARKSVILLE, Pa. (UPI)—Supporters of mine-union official Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski expressed impatience today with an investigation which state police acknowledged has developed "no clues, leads and no motive" for his killing.

Yablonski's two surviving sons asked more than 7,000 miners to end a wildcat sympathy strike that closed mines in three states. However, most of the 10,000 miners UMW District 31 in Northern West Virginia vowed to close all of the nation's mines by noon today unless the slayers were apprehended.

Brothers Joseph and Kenneth Yablonski, both lawyers, calling on the miners to return to work, said the killing of their father, their mother and their sister was the work of "professional assassins" and "an outgrowth of our father's most ardent wish to win election to the presidency of the United Mine Workers of America (UMW)."

In Washington, D.C., Attorney General John N. Mitchell ordered the FBI to join state troops and the local sheriff in the so-far fruitless investigation.

Jubilant Filer Girls Receive Permission To Serve As Pages For Idaho Legislature

LILA CHADWICK

CHRISTI GRIFF

Two Twin Falls County page "boys" for the upcoming session of the Idaho Legislature. Both girls are from Filer and both are top scholars in their senior class. Monday, when told of their appointments to serve during the legislative session, they said, "Oh boys!" The appointments were confirmed by the county's legislative delegation and the county central committee.

Two Filer girls shouted "Oh boy!" in unison Monday when Speaker of the House William Lanting told them they could go to Boise next week.

It wasn't the trip to Boise that brought the cries of joy. It was being selected as page "boys" for the upcoming legislative session that made their eyes light up.

Christi Griff and Lila Chadwick, seniors at Filer High School, are top students in their class. Friends for many years, they applied for the legislative jobs together.

Each year Twin Falls County sends one or two students to the legislature to serve as page boys. Last year it was Jim Allred of Murtaugh and Paul Hawks of Twin Falls.

Christi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Griff and Lila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Chadwick.

As page "boys" they will run messages throughout the Idaho Capitol building and will learn about the inner workings of state government. They will be paid $12 a day. Both girls will stay with friends of Mr. Chadwick while in Boise.

When not busy in the legislature, the girls will be busy "cracking the books." Being named pages does not exclude them from schoolwork. In fact, approval of school officials had to be granted before the girls could accept the positions.

Their assignments within the legislature are not final yet, so neither knows where she will serve, in the Senate or the House.

"It doesn't make much difference just so we are there," Miss Chadwick said.

Their applications were processed through the legislature's At-Large Committee, of which Rep. Ray Lincoln of Twin Falls is a member. Then the county central committee had to approve the choice.

Both girls expressed an interest in politics Monday and said they plan to work long and hard hours, both in the legislature and at home on school work.

Their applications were initially made to Rep. Lanting recently. After informing the girls of their appointments, he returned to work in Boise to prepare for the legislative session. It starts next Monday.

The girls said they will leave next weekend for Boise.

MRS. BESSIE RICHTARIK presents check for $1,300 to Shelby Williams, treasurer of the "Light the Way" fund at Buhl while J. P. Hamilton, co-chairman of the fund and executor of the Homing Estate looks on.

Gift Completes "Light The Way" Fund At Buhl

BUHL — Mrs. Bessie Richtarik completed the Homing "Light the Way" fund drive when she presented a check for $1,300 to the fund, thus completing a pledge she had made in 1968.

Mrs. Richtarik, while never a permanent resident of Buhl, has owned property in the area since 1914. She is an aunt of Dr. Blanche Palat and is a frequent visitor at their home in Buhl, as well as in the home of Dr. Vasika of Kimberly.

Mrs. Richtarik presented the check in memory of her late husband, John Richtarik, as a public contribution of $8,700 to the Farmers National Bank, which had been so wonderful to match the $1,300 contributed by Mrs. Richtarik's permanent amount will permit the "Light the Way" fund committee to complete its project at Earls Field.

The "Light the Way" fund began when the late Rollie Homing left a bequest to the city for new lights for the Buhl high school football field and Earls Field provided the amount was matched by public contributions.

Mrs. Homing also left approximately $1,000 per year to the city to be used for the purchase of books for the Buhl Public Library. The fund was set up to match the funds for the new lighting and also to match funds available for an addition to the library which was necessary to accommodate the new bookshelves.

With the check from Mrs. Richtarik the drive is completed and the people in the Buhl community are enjoying better ball games and a larger and more spacious library facility.

Pilot Foils 'Pirate' With Jet Thrust

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The pilot of a Delta Air Lines jet reversed the engines of his hijacking airplane Tuesday, sending the hijacker sprawling to the floor where passengers wrestled a knife from his hands.

Authorities said the man was brandishing a knife, threatening a stewardess and demanding to be taken to Switzerland when Pilot Maurice Kuenzi of Richfield, Wis., quickly reversed the engines of his DC9 and sent him sprawling. Three passengers—two of them policemen—jumped on the man and held him until police arrived. Anton Funejk, 41, of Evansville, Ind., was led from the plane and booked at the Duval County Jail on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Federal authorities said hijacking charges also would be lodged against Funejk, described as a grey-haired, stocky man with a thick foreign accent.

Delta spokesman said the would-be hijacker made his move during the final phases of a landing at Jacksonville, the second stop of flight 274's Orlando-Jacksonville-Atlanta run.

As the plane taxied in, Kuenzi violently reversed the engines and the hijacker fell down. Charles Scripps of the Willard, Ohio police department, Franklin Hall, an Orlando policeman, and W. T. Hilliard of Green Bay, Wis., pounced on the man.

There were 58 passengers and five crew members on the plane. The craft was not damaged during the incident and after a brief delay in Jacksonville the crew completed its run to Atlanta.

Record Set In Volume Of Mortgages

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government-backed mortgage paper worth a record $704 million was offered for sale to the Federal National Mortgage Association at this week's auction of mortgage commitments, FNMA announced Tuesday.

The association accepted $127.7 million of the offer as FNMA Chairman William B. Ross said $150 million would be available for next week's auction.

The increased volume of offers more than double the previous record was fueled off by last week's jump from 7.5 to 8.5 percent in FHA and VA interest ceilings, Ross said.

The high volume of commitments should signal a brighter outlook for housing, he added. FNMA buys mortgages at a discount from mortgage bankers and other private holders to free additional money for making new loans. The effective interest yield to FNMA includes the base rate which increased one percentage point since last week.

WASHINGTON — Bronzed, fit and broke after a spell in the Caribbean, I seem to have discovered, belatedly, my kind of billionaire. This would be one H. Ross Perot (of Texas, naturally) who qualifies as one of the few activist philanthropists of our time.

Instead of hiring some lower-class Emily Post to teach them manners, he can always vote him down for the Kingpin.

Perot's direct approach is in cheerful contrast to the efforts of most charitable foundations, which seem to spend most of their money paying McGeorge Bundy's salary and conferring money grants on Bobby Kennedy's former campaign followers.

Ho's Big Boost To Power

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One of the ironies of history is that the Vietnam war might never have been had it not been for the political ignorance of American military and civilian officials during and immediately after World War II.

In the hands of Ho's men, a Moreover, Ho, by being there first, thoughtfully, was able to picture himself as a co-worker with the allies and the savior of Vietnam against the Japanese. This was, of course, no small political advantage.

The 1970 Model

WASHINGTON — It has been announced that the year 1969 has been recalled to Detroit for serious defects.

Rushing Boy

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 6-year-old son is a very active child and rushes to do everything. He's always in a rush to get to school, to get to bed, to get to the store, to get to the park.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes dandruff? I have used every dandruff shampoo on the market. The day after I brush it all out, the dandruff is back.

How does he behave in school? Is it just a matter of rush-rush, or does he cause a ruckus? Is he destructive, disruptive of classroom order? Does he jitter? Is he quick-tempered?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read an article about a family that saves leaves, and even all human waste, making a compost to go on their garden. They said this was healthier to use for growing vegetables than buying regular garden fertilizers.

However, this waste also contains harmful germs of many kinds. The inhabitants apparently gradually gain immunity to these germs, or to some of them, anyway. But travelers encountering them for the first time more virulent diseases if they eat any uncooked fruits or vegetables.

"A compost pile — but without 'leak' soil" — is useful, but puny smart gardeners improve it even more by addition of lime and sometimes other materials.

"I've got this great idea, Mr. Merrick—how about 'Hello, Dolly' in the NUDE?"

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any particular harm in the practice of reading in the bathroom? Is it wise to sit perhaps half an hour? Would this contribute to every development of hemorrhoids or piles? E. R.

Overweight persons are known to develop a weakness of the legs, ingeniously called "toilet seat palsy." This is due to prolonged pressure on the nerves in the back of the thighs — but this isn't limited to bathroom-sitting.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching, and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Times-News requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a 10c n.g. self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing an handling.

City Manager Charts Number Of Improvements For 1970

There will be 18 major activities planned for the City of Twin Falls this year and City Manager Jean Millar has scheduled upgrading of services and personnel in every department. The streets department will concentrate on maintenance and repair of streets. Mr. Millar said there are no major projects scheduled and this department will devote its entire attention on patching and seal coating in areas which weren't sealed in 1969. He said they will also use new and better methods for their work. The city's sanitation contract with the Elden Corp. will expire in September and the city will update its specifications and advertise for contract bids in June or July. Mr. Millar pointed out the present contract was let five years ago and there have been a number of improvements in the methods of handling solid wastes since that time. This will be taken into consideration when the new specifications are drawn up, he said. In hopes of providing better service to the people, Mr. Millar also said the landfill location will be changed later in the year. Emphasis will be placed on education and training in the police department, Mr. Millar

Funds may be withdrawn at any other time upon expiration of 90 days written notice.

If you desire to withdraw interest credited at the end of a calendar quarter, you may do so within the ten day period following that quarter. After that time, the interest is considered as a deposit.

Samuelson Says General Fund Surplus Will Be Larger Than Originally Expected

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson told the Idaho Press Club Tuesday that the general fund surplus will be larger than anticipated but indicated his spending recommendations still will be conservative.

"I think it probably will go up some," Samuelson said at a luncheon when he asked about statehood reports that the surplus might even be double the $374 million earlier predicted.

"I can't tell you how much at this point, but it will be at least $425 million."

Samuelson said he had talked recently with Tax Commissioner Clyde Koonz, one of three men projecting revenues for the administration, and that the surplus still was being worked to figure out whether the increase in revenues would continue through January.

"I have no qualms about projecting into next July," Samuelson said, adding he knows what would govern those revenues.

But he said that how much will pour into the state's general coffers "this coming July to the next July is anybody's guess."

"If we go ahead and appropriate more money than we have and then have to cut the schools..." he said, "I think we're better off still to have a dollar or two in the bank."

Samuelson said that is being talked about, despite the millions of dollars involved, is one or two percent of the total general fund budget.

Samuelson told the Press Club he would have specific spending recommendations for the legislature when it convenes for its second regular session at noon Monday. (Housing Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Tolier, says Samuelson is scheduled to address a joint session of the legislature in the hall of the Idaho State Capitol.)

He said he would combine his state of the state address with his budget message in the interest of time. He indicated he would recommend supplemental appropriations for Boise State College and Lewis Clark Normal but declined to list the specific amounts. He said all recommendations would be based on need and justification would be shown to the lawmakers.

Samuelson said he favored eventual annual budgeting for state agencies but not until a uniform accounting study is completed and a new system is adopted, until all pertinent information is available on the state's computers and until all agencies are involved in program budgeting.

"This, he said, will take at least two more years. At that rate, annual budgeting probably would not be feasible according to Samuelson's criteria — until the 1973-74 biennium.

Besides spending recommendations, Samuelson said, he will make other recommendations to the legislature. He indicated he favors retention of the controversial House Bill 304 — which sets a four per cent ceiling on annual revenue increases by local taxing units — but that he would be willing to see the percentage rate increased somewhat.

However, he said he felt there were adequate "safeguards" in the law to protect taxing units that suffer hardship through the limitation on revenues. These include appeal to the state Tax Commission and the right to bring the matter before the electorate.

He confirmed earlier reports that highway user revenues will exceed expectations this biennium.

"If everything holds as it's projected right now we could come up with $3 million," Samuelson said.

Noting that 30 per cent of these revenues go to the cities and counties he said this still leaves some $3 1/2 million which can be spent on other highway projects in the state — including bridges at Twin Falls and St. Maries.

Asked if he would recommend repealing the provisional, one-cent additional tax per gallon continued on gasoline by the legislature for a two-year period if the surplus continues, he said he would want to see what the legislature when the tax is scheduled to expire.

On other matters, Samuelson said:

— He believes a "stamp out stupidity" program whereby youngsters urge their peers to abstain from drug use is a proper approach to the drug problem in Idaho and believed it will be successful in discouraging use of narcotics.

— Additional highway patrolmen are needed if only to assure each county of at least one patrolman per eight-hour shift seven days a week. He pointed out there are 101 state troopers, 100 in 44 counties and some of the larger counties need several additional patrolmen because of the population and traffic.

— Real progress has been made by the Fish and Game Commission the past two years in correcting what he considered to be the problems in fish and game management and "I have a great deal of confidence — now — in the commissioners."

— Idaho's outfitters and guides need help in polling their industry to weed out those who give Idaho, a "bad name" through unscrupulous practices. Many of the packers and guides are good operators but some are giving the state a "real, real bad name."

Astronaut Alan Bean Raked For Flight Rules Violation

HOUSTON (UPI)—Apollo 12 moon walker Alan L. Bean was grounded a month for violating a flying rule on his first jet flight back to Cape Kennedy after his launch, the U.S. space agency said Tuesday.

Also grounded, separate flight rule infractions were Apollo 7 astronaut Walter Cunningham and scientist-astronaut Joseph P. Kerwin.

These were the first groundings of astronauts for disciplinary reasons for at least the past several years, said a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

The infractions occurred last month and astronaut Donald K. Slayton banned the three spacemen from flights in their T38 jet trainers until Jan. 23.

The NASA spokesman said the disciplinary actions will have no permanent effect on the astronauts' pilot licenses or their space flying careers.

Bean, the fourth man to walk on the moon, was grounded for taking off from Ellington Air Force Base near the Manned Spacecraft Center Dec. 16 without flight clearance. NASA said this was due to a "communications misunderstanding" and that Bean thought he was cleared for takeoff.

Bean was flying to Cape Kennedy to meet his Apollo 12 colleagues, Charles "Pete" Conrad and Richard F. Gordon, for a reunion with the Apollo 12 launch team at the moonport. It was his first visit to the cape since his first flight to the moon Nov. 14.

Cunningham and Kerwin, making separate flights, violated a regulation—Do-17—requiring them to list a suitable alternate landing airport before takeoff.

Cunningham and Kerwin flew to Marshall Spaceflight Center at Huntsville, Ala., where the agency is developing a space station for launch in 1972.

Cunningham, who orbited earth in the initial Apollo spaceflight in 1968, and Kerwin, a medical doctor and a veteran Navy pilot, are both expected to fly in the space station in 1972.

The infractions were violations of NASA's Federal Aviation Regulations set by the Federal Aviation Agency, NASA said.

Slayton ordered the astronauts grounded on Dec. 23. A NASA spokesman said the agency did not say why it failed to make the announcement at that time.

Commission Shuns Plan Of Free Press

POCAATELLO (UPI) — The Law Enforcement Planning Commission voted Tuesday not to approve the fair trial-free press principles and guidelines.

The commission said it endorsed the concept of establishing press guidelines on a voluntary basis with no threat of penalty on contempt approach.

Copies of the outline, which has been approved by the news media, the Idaho State Bar Association and the courts, will be given to all law enforcement agencies for suggestions. The commission will probably take action on the amended set of principles at its next meeting.

Robert Robson, Attorney General, said the commission should examine its own drug and narcotic problems before considering a model state law which would be applicable in all 50 states.

Robson said he had discovered that many model laws which work in New York City will not work in Idaho.

The commission received a letter from Gov. Don Samuelson in which he asked the commission to make recommendations to the legislature on drug and narcotic problems in Idaho.

Warner C. Mills, law enforcement commission's staff study ways to investigate and formulate an approach on a survey on drug problems.

The commission also discussed amendments to the Omnibus Crime Bill, proposed in the U. S. Senate, which would substitute funds to states for block money grants to cities.

Although the commission took no action on the proposal, it indicated that such amendments would be harmful to states like Idaho because of the lack of large cities.

During his session at Idaho State University, the commission appointed a new peace officers Academy, which began classes at ISU Monday.

Whites Obey Integration In Few Places

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A pattern emerged Tuesday in Mississippi's federally-ordered school desegregation with whites accepting integration only in those districts where they are in the majority.

Integrated classes began without a hitch Tuesday at city schools in Columbia, in south Mississippi, and at schools in the Quitman Consolidated District, in east Mississippi, where whites have a sizeable edge in numbers.

This was in contrast to Wilkinson County, the boyhood home of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, where Negroes outnumber whites 3 to 1. When the Wilkinson schools opened their doors Monday only two out of 600 whites turned up, leaving the school system to 2,800 blacks.

Tuesday, the Wilkinson system — was entirely black, and when asked what had happened to the two whites, a school official said: "They just didn't catch the school bus." The two white children had said their father did not have the money to send them to a private school, which is the alternative the other whites have taken.

Disturbed that meaningful integration still had not been accomplished 15 years after the initial 1954 school desegregation ruling, the federal courts last fall handed 30 Mississippi districts a tough, "desegregate now" edict, and gave them until Dec. 31, 1969 to carry it out.

Commission Handed Down On Mafia

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Two more indictments were handed out Tuesday in the coordinated drive to end illegal corruption in a local Internal Revenue Service office, break Mafia control of gambling and root out unsavory public officials.

Charged with conspiracy to bribe an IRS agent were Benjamin Harris, a principal owner of the Westwood Furniture Co., Inc., and Martin Herschhoff, identified as an attorney for Harris.

The indictments of Harris and Herschhoff brought to 75 the number handed up by three federal grand juries investigating graft and official corruption in the state in concert with at least three state investigative groups.

The multi-pronged investigations thus far have toppled two judges and given rise to a call for New Jersey Gov. Hugh J. Addonizio to step aside.

Addonizio and 10 former or present city officials have been charged with extortion and tax evasion. Among those indicted was Anthony "Tony Boy" DiIorio. They were charged with extorting $253,000 from a city contractor.

School Chief In New York Resigns Post

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. Nathan Brown Tuesday announced his resignation as acting superintendent of New York City schools, effective March 1.

In a news conference at Board of Education headquarters in Brooklyn, Brown said he was leaving the post to help form a coalition in his home state of New York.

When asked a comment on what appeared to be a hasty departure, the 57-year-old Brown replied, "Well, I have been acting superintendent and I have not been given tenure. Maybe that will facilitate the choice of a chancellor."

In announcing his resignation, Brown took the occasion to thank those persons whom he charged were using school funds to develop a political power base.

Meat Variety Anticipated For Shoppers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food stores and supermarkets will feature a variety of meat and fresh produce this weekend.

A good selection of meat will be available. Ground beef, roasts, and steak are in good supply. Pork buys include bacon, chops, roasts, and smoked picnic. Broiler-fryers continue to be abundant. Fresh buys to look for, according to the Interior Department, are fish sticks and portions, Maine sardines, and canned tuna.

Fresh vegetables, in best supply are onions, potatoes and lettuce. The most abundant fresh fruits are apples, oranges, grapefruit, bananas, and tangerines. Other foods on plentiful food list for January are corn, tomatoes, and tomato products, dry beans, lentils, and fresh and canned peas.

SKELTON IMPROVES
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Red Skelton was in satisfactory condition today in Desert Hospital, where he is being treated for an upper respiratory ailment and bronchitis.

Highway Department Employee Threatened During Search For Boise Extortioners

BOISE (UPI) — Two men, armed with hand guns, threatened the life of an Idaho State Highway Department employee Tuesday morning and then apparently made a get away after an alleged extortion attempt against a Boise businessman fell apart.

A day-long search in the area between Boise and Idaho City failed to turn up any trace of the suspects, described as orientals.

In the meantime, Boise County Sheriff Jack Williams was staked out in the highway department garage where the drop-off point for the money was visible.

Bailey notified Williams about 15 minutes after he was accosted and the state police set up the roadblocks at 7:44 a. m.

Roadblocks were set up on both the north side of Idaho City, and on the outskirts of Boise as well as at several state roads in the area.

Law enforcement officers theorized that the men who accosted Bailey were the same as were involved in the threat against Stone.

BOISE (UPI) — Two men, armed with hand guns, threatened the life of an Idaho State Highway Department employee Tuesday morning and then apparently made a get away after an alleged extortion attempt against a Boise businessman fell apart.

A day-long search in the area between Boise and Idaho City failed to turn up any trace of the suspects, described as orientals.

In the meantime, Boise County Sheriff Jack Williams was staked out in the highway department garage where the drop-off point for the money was visible.

Bailey notified Williams about 15 minutes after he was accosted and the state police set up the roadblocks at 7:44 a. m.

Integration In Few Places

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A pattern emerged Tuesday in Mississippi's federally-ordered school desegregation with whites accepting integration only in those districts where they are in the majority.

Integrated classes began without a hitch Tuesday at city schools in Columbia, in south Mississippi, and at schools in the Quitman Consolidated District, in east Mississippi, where whites have a sizeable edge in numbers.

This was in contrast to Wilkinson County, the boyhood home of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, where Negroes outnumber whites 3 to 1. When the Wilkinson schools opened their doors Monday only two out of 600 whites turned up, leaving the school system to 2,800 blacks.

Tuesday, the Wilkinson system — was entirely black, and when asked what had happened to the two whites, a school official said: "They just didn't catch the school bus." The two white children had said their father did not have the money to send them to a private school, which is the alternative the other whites have taken.

Disturbed that meaningful integration still had not been accomplished 15 years after the initial 1954 school desegregation ruling, the federal courts last fall handed 30 Mississippi districts a tough, "desegregate now" edict, and gave them until Dec. 31, 1969 to carry it out.

Nuclear Power Plants Seen If Dam Not Built, FPC Hears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Construction of nuclear power plants will have to be speeded to meet future power needs of the Pacific Northwest if the $248 million High Mountain Sheep Dam is not built soon, the Federal Power Commission was told Tuesday.

Arthur J. Porter, vice president of Portland General Electric Co., said the long-delayed project could go on the line in 1978 if the FPC grants a license for its construction on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon.

Porter's company is one of four which have joined the Washington Public Power Supply System, an operating agency for utility districts in Washington state, in seeking a license for the huge project. The company formed the Pacific Northwest Power Co. to carry out construction.

Unless the dam is built soon, Porter said, it will become necessary to advance construction of an alternate nuclear plant by up to a year to avoid a power shortage in the area.

The vast hydroelectric potential of the Pacific Northwest has been largely developed and the middle Snake River is scheduled the last major dam site left.

Porter and Dr. Robert R. Lee, director of the Idaho State Water Resources Board, were the first witnesses to be cross-examined — the state prepared testimony as hearings were reopened by FPC trial examiner William Levy.

Lee urged priority be given to Idaho's water needs if the project on two alternate dams are built. The state official cited estimates that irrigated acreage in the Upper Snake River Basin of Idaho, Oregon and Wyoming would increase by about $15 million each by the year 2010 or 2020. In Idaho alone he said, 3.6 million acres were under irrigation in 1968.

Lee also urged any license require construction of a road which would not only provide access to the dam but also a new through route across the Snake River Canyon between Idaho and Oregon.

"Who do you assume would pay for this road?" Lee was asked by an FPC staff attorney.

The application was reopened with a smile. He said the state does not now have any plans for such a road.

The High Mountain Sheep Dam case has been before the FPC and courts for 14 years and originally involved a battle between the Pacific Northwest Power Company and WEPS. For the right to build a dam in the area.

The private company won a license in 1964 but it was overturned by the Supreme Court in 1967. The court ruled not enough attention had been given to an Interior Department proposal for federal construction.

Cut Your Own Taxes, Chap. 3 Exemption Rate Remains At $600 For Each Individual

By RAY DE CRANE
Distributed by Enterprise Press

Some common problems which arise over these rules:

Q: My son, who is 20, is a college student. He earned $1,200 last year from an after-school and summer-time job. How much must I have contributed toward his support before claiming him as a dependent?

A: The amount that you would have to spend that much is not his earnings, but the amount spent in his own support. If he saved $300 of his $1,200 income, he would have spent $900 in his own support. That is the "key amount" you must more than offset with your own contributions.

Q: My mother, who had a total of $700 from taxable dividends and high interest, lives in our home. We spent $1,200 in her behalf last year, including her medical expenses. May we claim her as a dependent?

A: No, the gross income test rules out a dependency claim. Since you did furnish more than half of her support, however, you can list her medical expenses paid by you as a possible medical deduction. Include them with your own medical expenses.

Q: My daughter, 21, was in college last year. She had no income and my wife and I paid all her expenses, including tuition. She was married at Thanksgiving time. May we list her as a dependent?

A: You may, if she does not file a joint return with her husband or is not listed as an exemption on his separate return.

Q: My wife died last June. She would have been 65 in September. May I claim two exemptions for her on my return? A: Just one; she was not 65 at the time of death. The status at the time of death is the controlling factor.

Legal Aide For Calley Asks Details

FT. DENNING, Ga. (UPI)—The civilian attorney for Lt. William L. Calley Jr. has filed two motions asking the Army to be more specific in the murder charges against the 26-year-old officer in the alleged massacre of 109 South Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

George Latimer of Salt Lake City filed the motions Monday with military judge Lt. Col. Reid Kennedy, who did not immediately set a date for a hearing on them.

In one motion, Latimer asked that the Army name the times, dates, places and locations of each of the offenses alleged to have been committed by Calley.

The other requested dismissal of duplicating and multiple specifications in the case, or as an alternative, that the government be directed to select and designate a particular incident on which to base its case.

Calley has nine specifications against him stemming from the alleged multiple slaying.

Solon Hopes For 45-Day Legislature

By RICHARD CHARNOCK

BOISE (UPI) — House Speaker William J. Lanting, R-Holliester, expressed hope Tuesday that the second regular session of the 40th Legislature can be concluded in 40 to 45 days.

Although the people in the general election of 1966 approved a constitutional amendment providing for annual instead of biennial sessions no ground rules were established for length or subject matter.

"I'm hopeful we can do it in 40 or 45 days," Lanting said. "We should be able to coordinate to guidelines, however, such as the length and the subject matter."

He said decisions to be made include whether the legislature should adopt annual budgets for state government or remain with the biennial budgeting system. He said he personally favors annual budgeting, starting with the next biennium.

While the decision on annual budgeting can be made late in the session, Lanting said, other decisions must be made early. One of the first will be disposition of the 287 bills "left over" from the first regular session.

By rule adopted at the first session of the 40th Legislature, undrafted bills from the first session were returned to their committee or origin in their house of origin. The plan at the time the rule was adopted was to reintroduce such legislation for consideration at the second session.

Several of this, however, never were worked out. Lanting said the legislative leaders are looking at a plan under which bills which have passed one house at the first session are taken up in the other house at the second session. If they pass they then are returned to their house of origin and treated as bills "amended" in the second house.

Disney Shows Will Travel Through U.S.

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Disney people share Mother Nature's compulsion to fill a vacuum and will do so spectacularly this year.

A task force from Disney land and Disney Studios discovered that there are 35 arenas (and more) around the country with capacities running from 5,000 to 20,000 seats.

These showcases, alas, are dark and empty much of the year.

A light bulb flashed above the heads of Disney executives and leaders. Why not fill the arenas with colorful, entertaining, eye-popping, profitable roadshow from Disney.

And so it came to pass — "Disney on Parade."

The touring arena and coliseum show carrying all the Disney characters along with some new ones. The show includes motion pictures, live performers, a majority of them in Disney character costumes, music and comedy.

Robert M. Weill, general manager of "Disney on Parade," said the show has a cast of 110 performers and a staff of 35. NBC is working in conjunction with the Disney people.

According to Maxwell, arenas around the country will be filled with Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Cinderella, Dumbo, Pinocchio, Peter Pan, Mickey Mouse as master of ceremonies, Pinocchio, Dumbo, Goofy, Pluto, Alice in Wonderland and the characters from "Jungle Book."

"In addition to our own characters we have variety acts which will be integrated into various acts and Disney-like Maxwell said. "What we'll be doing is presenting a musical show combined with Disney characters and stories. Each of the cartoon groups are introduced by filmed footage from the classic cartoons on a screen at one end of the arena."

GUARD FACES TRIAL
BOISE (UPI) — Leonard E. Wood, 40, an Idaho prison guard accused of illegal possession of drugs, has been bound over to District Court after a preliminary hearing in Justice Court.

Seed Co., Twin Falls, are headed for Vancouver, British Columbia, where they will be placed on steamships and then transported to Holland and Sweden.

This trial run, consisting of a little more than half a million pounds of seed is going to Amsterdam and Helsingborg, Sweden, according to Les Anderson, Idaho Falls, area manager for the Rogers Brothers firm, who was in Twin Falls Saturday overseeing the shipment.

The firm has shipped seed all over the free world for some years, but the produce had been either trucked or shipped in boxes, and this meant handling several times during the transfer from vehicle to ship and again at the port in the country where the seed was being sent.

By using the huge containers, eight by eight by 20 feet in size, and owned by the steamship line, the merchandise remains intact, and is protected against individual handling and rehandling damage.

The metal containers have a door which closes and seals against moisture. They also have a locking device so they cannot be opened by unauthorized persons, thereby eliminating theft and the possibility of shipping damage which results from handling.

When the containers reach port, they are lifted by large cranes directly into the holds of the vessels; and when they arrive at the foreign port, they are taken by crane for delivery. Meantime the seed, safely sealed inside, has not been touched.

Mr. Anderson said many products have been shipped by this method, termed "containerization" before, but not from this area because the containers did not become available until last month.

The Rogers firm ships pea, bean and sweet corn seed, contract-grown by local farmers, in the free world to the Soledad grown in Magic Valley are considered the highest quality in the world, the official said, because of arid growing condition, availability of water and freedom from disease.

Officers at Mercy Hospital said the boy's temperature was so low when he was brought in for treatment they were unable to record it. He was placed in the hospital's intensive care unit after receiving emergency treatment.

Police said the boy, who was not attending school, was recently in an auto accident and suffered "severe brain damage." Authorities reported that the Parker boy had undergone treatment at Galveston, Texas, hospital, but he was still "suffering mental problems."

Ray Graves, driver of the vegetable truck, said the boy was discovered shortly after his arrival at the Niagara Frontier Food Terminal. The truck was loaded with 41,000 pounds of tomatoes and kept at a temperature of 45 degrees.

WENDELL — Mrs. Nancy Griffith said that her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George McKay, Port Orchard, Wash., were involved in a car accident Christmas Eve. Mr. McKay is in serious condition. Both are in Harrison Memorial Hospital in Bremerton, Wash.

Other awards presented during the dinner meeting were Steven Bill and Loren Smith, Wright Brothers achievement award and promotion to rank of corporal; Glen Kober, Karen Falkner and Gary Rendia each received the General Doolittle and Lindbergh achievement awards and promoted to the rank of sergeant. ## Youth Listed In Bad Shape After Ordeal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A Texas teenager was hospitalized in critical condition Monday after he was found nearly frozen to death in the back of a refrigerated truck shipped here by rail from Nogales, Ariz.

The youth was identified as Jesse Parker, 15, of Corsicana, Tex. Police said he apparently had been in the back of the truck since last Monday when it was sealed and loaded piggy-back aboard the train in Nogales.

Officers at Mercy Hospital said the boy's temperature was so low when he was brought in for treatment they were unable to record it. He was placed in the hospital's intensive care unit after receiving emergency treatment.

Extortion Attempt In School Brings Murder Of Youth, 15

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 15-year-old boy was shot to death by robbers and a 14-year-old boy was wounded accidentally Monday in two separate shootings at a Southport Washington public school.

District of Columbia police said Tyrone Perry, 15, was leaving a gym class at Hine Junior High School Monday morning when a youth stopped him in a stairwell and demanded money.

"Tyrone told him he didn't have any," said Principal Charles Thompson. "The other youth shot him without warning or provocation."

Stephen Swinson, 14, was wounded in the left groin while inspecting a pistol held by a 15-year-old classmate at Sousa Junior High School. He was hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

Late in the day, a 15-year-old boy surrendered to police in connection with the slaying of Perry. He came to police with his parents after telling them of the shooting, officers said.

Mayor Walter E. Washington expressed shock at the shootings and called a late afternoon meeting of top police and school officials to consider ways of curbing such incidents.

In another incident, police reported that a band of about 10 youths approached James Owens, 18, on a school playground late Monday and demanded money from him. When Owens ran away, one of the youths fired twice at him, but missed, police said.

Congressmen, local school administrators and parents have been expressing concern over violence in the city's schools. At a recent Senate committee hearing, parents living at Bolling Air Force Base in Southeast Washington complained their children are beaten, robbed and their lunch money extorted from them on public school property.

Communist Hungary Takes Another Step Toward 'West'

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Communist Hungary has taken another step toward expanding relations with the West.

It is a cautious step because, with the August, 1968, invasion of Czechoslovakia in mind, the Hungarians always must keep a nervous eye on the suspicious Russians.

During the weekend the government announced a plan to liberalize its passport laws to give the individual the right to apply to a Hungarian authority for his passport application is rejected. The net result is expected to be an increase over the approximately 150,000 Hungarians permitted to travel to the West in 1969.

It is part of what James J. Callaghan, Hungarian Communist party leader, calls "socialist democracy," which in some of its aspects is not unlike Czech party leader Alexander Dubcek's efforts to put a "human face" on Communism. "Everyone," Kadar said in a recent interview, "is entitled to equal rights and respect, regardless of his party position, world outlook, background and occupation, if he participates in the work of building socialism."

Results have included harmonious relations with the Roman Catholic Church and Protestant groups, expanding economic and cultural relations with the United States and other nations of the West and economic reforms which have reduced the power of central planners and given new responsibilities and rewards to a growing middle class.

On the economic front it also has meant construction of a new Inter-Continental Hotel on the banks of the Danube and a Budapest-Hilton-to-be-built on the other side.

For Hungarian industry it has meant a new oil refinery, a thermal power plant and a $200 million factory equipped with the latest in Western machines to make Hungary one of the biggest heavy truck and bus builders in all of Europe. Foreign imports have made Budapest a shopping center for eastern Europe.

The Hungarians, who also recall the Soviet Union's bloody suppression of the 1956 revolt, appear to be succeeding where the Czechs failed, because they continue to pay steady homage to Moscow and because, as in Romania, party control remains centralized at the top.

Vikings Pin Bowl Hopes On Defense; Chiefs See Easier Time Preparing

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Bud Grant's football philosophy is basically simple, so simple it's likely to determine Sunday's Super Bowl battle between his Minnesota Vikings and the Kansas City Chiefs.

"Good defense," the blue-eyed Vikings coach declared Tuesday following a brief 20-minute drill by his NFL champions in damp, miserable weather.

"It is where it all starts. Defense wins football games; the offense sells tickets," Grant said.

Minnesota's defense, particularly its front four, is considered the securest in the first look at some of Kansas City's game films, Grant had a lot to say about the Chiefs' defense.

"It's not hard to see why they're here," he said, "they talk about our pass rush. Their backs are just as strong. We don't have the size they have."

Regardless, the Vikings still rate as 13-point favorites over the Chiefs and when Grant was reminded of that, he made little comment other than to nod his head.

"I'd rather be the favorite than the underdog, but I don't know anything about points."

Brushing off that 13-point spread, the Minnesota coach said "you'll see a close and good ball game," indicating the Vikings would have to put in some overtime time Sunday to familiarize themselves with Kansas City's varied offenses.

Grant had his players out on the field less than 30 minutes Tuesday. He said he got to the stadium at 10:30 a.m. "We merely went up and down the field a couple of times, with quarterback Tom Braden leading the way, and then called it an afternoon."

Kapp was his customary confident self about his team's chances against the Chiefs.

"We recognized they have a sound club," he said. "But the Minnesota Vikings got 40 guys who love to play the game. Sounds goofy, but it's true. We love to play the game. Right or wrong, we have one more game to play."

Card Eller, who anchors Minnesota's front four and generally is considered pro football's outstanding defensive end, said he had a chance only once to see the film of the Sunday AFL title contest in Oakland in which Kansas City beat the Raiders 17-7.

"You can't tell much from television," Eller said, "you have all that talking and what not and it's not like watching a game. You can't tell some things, of course, like they have a good defense and Len Dawson doesn't stay in the pocket, but there are a lot of things you can't tell."

Eller sided with his coach. He could understand the Chiefs should be considered two touchdown underdogs. He didn't fathom why anybody would rate them 13 points below the Vikings.

"I don't know how they arrive at this figure," Eller said. "I think anybody who did is off his rocker."

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The only physical question with the Vikings is linebacker Louie Warwick who suffered a sprained ankle against the Chicago Browns and is being kept off his feet, but when Grant was asked about his status for Sunday, the Minnesota coach declared: "he'll play."

Dawson Says Chiefs Are 4-0 With NFL

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Len Dawson isn't blaming his mere status as a fact.

"We played NFL teams four times this season; we beat them all four times," Dawson, who'll quarterback Kansas City's AFL team against Minnesota's NFL title holders in the Super Bowl here Sunday, made the statement so much as a boast but during the Chiefs' brief workout Tuesday as an illustration that he put it, "the mystery is 'I'd rather be the favorite than the underdog, but I don't know anything about points.'"

Those four victories he was talking about had to do with Kansas City's pre-season games. The "mystery" he meant might have something to do with the Chiefs' first exposure to the team dominant AFL back on Jan. 15, 1967 when they were mauled 35-10 by the Green Bay Packers in the original Super Bowl game at Los Angeles.

Eller's "chilling" damp and chilling 42-degree temperature Tuesday and with his hands curled up in the pouch of his crimson sweatshirt, Dawson who played in that historic first Super Bowl contest, recalled some of the things about it.

"I hope we're not as emotional this time as we were then," he said.

Green Bay held only a narrow 14-10 lead when the second half of that game started, but Packers safety Willie Wood was the hero. Dawson said it was all Green Bay thereafter. Many claimed that interception was something Dawson never really has gotten over.

"I took it hard at the time," he conceded. "But I've thrown a lot of interceptions since and I've pretty much forgotten about that one. That was Green Bay and this is Minnesota. I'm not going to be thinking about it any more, I assure you."

Dawson said as if he were surprised about the fact that the Vikings are 13-point favorites over the Chiefs. Either way it didn't seem to bother him. "I heard Minnesota would be favored," said Eller, "I'm a 34-year-old field leader, even. We have no control over that. I don't know who makes the odds. It wasn't Hank Stram or any of the rest of our coaches."

Kansas City has met Minnesota only once. That was in a 1968 pre-season game and the Chiefs won that one, 13-10. But Dawson admitted he doesn't know much about the Vikings.

"I've seen them mostly on television," he said. "I tell you that," Dawson said.

He did know enough, however, about the NFL champs to talk about their brilliant defensive end, big Carl Eller.

"He's all over the football field. I've never quit. But I can't get in the game thinking about him. Primarily that's the line man's responsibility. I can't worry about that. I have a lot of confidence in my linemen. They're gonna die for me, I know that. So I have to concentrate on my job."

Ice Fishing Is Good At Fish Creek

Fish Creek Reservoir is providing top ice fishing again this year with Little Wood and Mormon reservoirs described as only fair.

Bob Bell, biologist for the Idaho Fish and Game Department, said a sample check of 36 fishermen of Fish Creek Reservoir over the weekend indicated a catch rate of about four trout per hour.

The other two reservoirs were also good with a two-and-a-half pounder, taken from Mormon, being the largest fish reported.

Access roads to all three impoundments are in good condition and the parking area at Mormon Reservoir has been plowed out. However, the good access is largely attributable to the subnormal snow-fall.

Bell said Little Wood and Fish Creek each received between three and four-hundred surplus snowmen from the Haysville hat factory. These averaged 10 to 15 pounds each. In addition, those two received a good planting of catchable-sized fish prior to the season-opening.

Those three are the only ice fishing impoundments open this year, Roseworth Reservoir was closed, due to maximum draw-down.

Illinois Rolls Over Indiana

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—Illinois, riding a team record of 670 field goal percentage, rolled over Indiana in the Big Ten football Tuesday night, 34-7, to maintain a share of first place in the conference.

The Illini, making good on 40 of 50 shots from the floor, placed six men in double figures in scoring. Price's 18 points were topped by Greg Jackson with 17, Rick Howatt, 16, Randy Crews and Fred Miller with 13 each, and Bob Windmiller with 10 markers.

Indiana, led by Joe Croke's 18 points, stood by behind after catching the Illini just once in the game when the teams were tied 7-7 in the opening minutes of play. The only other Hoosiers in double figures were Joby Wright and Jim Harris, who chipped in 14 and 10, and Ken Johnson with 16.

The Illini victory improved their record to 2-0 in the Big Ten, tied with Iowa for first and also with Ohio State, 1-0 in conference play, and a 3-3 overall mark. Indiana dropped its second decision against two victories in the conference and slipped to 4-7 for the season.

Bulls Throttle Lakers 105-100

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Chicago Bulls held the Los Angeles Lakers to 17 points in the last quarter and spoiled the Jerry West's 18,000th point night with a come-from-behind 105-100 National Basketball Association victory Tuesday night.

Nance Given American League's Comeback Player Of Year Award

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fullback Jim Nance of the Boston Patriots, who rebounded from major ankle surgery to finish second in the league in rushing, today was named the American Football League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1969 by United Press-International.

The 28-year-old Nance received 11 votes for comeback honors in a balloting conducted of 22 sports writers who covered the AFL, regularly.

Defensive tackle Tom Keating of Oakland finished second with four votes and running back Floyd Little of Denver received three.

Linbacker Nick Buonicintini of Miami was named on two ballots while Boston quarterback Mike Taliaferro and wide receiver Marlin Briscoe of Buffalo each got one vote.

Nance, who led the league in rushing in 1966 and 1967, missed over half of the 1968 season with an ankle injury suffered in the final pre-season game against the Philadelphia Eagles and managed only 593 yards rushing.

The ankle surgery performed in February of 1968, repaired the damage, and with the aid of a 600-calorie-a-day diet and some extensive bicycle riding, Nance recovered in time for the opening of training camp.

"The ankleback experienced some difficulty in the early part of training and was forced to wear a special shoe to protect the ankle, but by keeping his weight down to a professional low of 245 pounds he was ready for the start of the season."

Nance got better as the season progressed and he finished second to San Diego's Dickie Post in rushing with 750 yards. Under new coach Clive Rush's intricate offense, Nance also was used a great deal as a pass receiver—his 11 catches second on the team in receptions with 29 for 168 yards.

"Nance was a great deal more valuable to us this year than his figures might indicate," said Tom Keating, "his blocking and pass protection were vastly improved, and they were a key to our second half showing."

Keating, a six-year veteran, had an outstanding season after missing the entire 1968 campaign with an ankle injury. The 6-foot-2, 247-pound tackle received all-league second team honors and was instrumental in Oakland's climb to the Western Division title.

Clay Claims He Cancelled Match Because Of Pride

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay, who attempts to get back in the boxing ring lately, has been rebuffed by angry veterans' groups, said Tuesday that he himself canceled a proposed fight with a mediocre opponent in an out-of-the-way place because of pride.

"I didn't like the conditions, I didn't like the arena, it was too cold, it was outdoors, it was in a place and the contender wasn't qualified," Clay said at a news conference where he announced a contract with a book company for his autobiography.

"I'm too great, too good in the sport to go down so cheap," he said. "I'm not going to take a big dollar to be made, they're coming to me telling me if we can get it in Texas, we'll take it. If we can get it in Miami, Arizona, Nevada, Mississippi, Illinois, would you take it?" Clay said.

"I told 'em if they can make it legal, if they can get all the proper officials, I will have no problem, that I would consider it, but they were turned down — not me."

As far as standing up for what he thinks is right, "and doing what I want to do, and being a free man, I will have you sell out or maybe Uncle Tom or be a compromiser of a thing, then I will never fight again never," he said.

Packers Don't Plan Bidding On Veterans

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Marv Fleming, John Rower and John Rower intend to come back to the Green Bay Packers next year, it will be on management terms, they were told Tuesday.

Fleming and Rower did not sign contracts for the 1970 season, played the season at a reduced salary and will become free agents on May 1 unless they sign with Green Bay before then.

"They're not necessarily gone from our team," said Phil Bengtson, the Packers coach and general manager. "But I don't think we're going to offer them any more than we have offered them."

Bengtson, who is hospitalized with a broken hip suffered in a Christmas 'eve fall, was interviewed by Terry Bledsoe of the Milwaukee Journal.

"It's a matter of money — an unreasonable amount of money," Bengtson said. "If one of your second stringers asks for a salary that would be more than some of your regulars, you're getting all out of balance."

The second stringer he referred to was Rower, a former Michigan state who has been playing behind regular cornerbacks Bob Jeter and Herb Adderley for three years.

Rower denied that money was at the seat of his dispute.

"The matter of salary is part of it, sure," Rower said. "My salary is really increase — your salary sitting on the bench. But I want a chance to play."

Rower said there was no personal dispute with the coaches. "But I thought I'd like to get going clear and get in to help with some other things."

Bengtson had hoped to be able to attend Sunday's Super Bowl game at New Orleans, but said he would not. He hopes to be released from the hospital Friday or before.

Bucks Seek Expansion Of Facilities

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The President of the Milwaukee Bucks said Thursday he and the team would like to see some changes made within five years and warned the team could be forced from town unless there was an adequate arena to house it.

Ray Patterson said the Bucks were "extremely enthusiastic for now and the near future."

However, he said, "like any corporation we have to look five years ahead." He made his remarks in an interview with basketball writer Bob Wolf of the Milwaukee Journal.

The Bucks "presently play most of their home games in the Milwaukee Arena, a stadium with a seating capacity of nearly 11,000 and one that is booked almost solid through the entire year."

The booking problem is the most serious one, Patterson said, and he said the team may have to go to Madison should the Bucks get into the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The arena is booked for the period of the first round of playoffs and the Bucks have a hold on the Dane County Coliseum in Madison.

John Erickson, Bucks' general manager, said the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse could also be used, but Big Ten permission would have to be obtained.

The Bucks and many county officials are backing a proposed 18,000-seat arena that could be built near the County Stadium.

City officials, however, would like to see a new exposition hall built near the downtown arena, freeing the arena for sports events.

Ballard Will Head T.F. Gun Club

Jack Ballard was named president of the Twin Falls Gun Club in a group organizational meeting Sunday.

Lynn Messman was named vice president and Paul Beck is the new secretary-treasurer. Max Stuart was named to the board of directors.

Placed on the registered shoot committee were Cliff Sparrow, Jerry Gibson and Bernie Voyles, and the team shoot panel consisted of Steve Gilman, Steve Brannon, Jerome Eisenhauer and Warren Guyer.

The group will have its facilities, located on Washington Street North at the canyon, open for both trap and skeet shooting each Sunday beginning at 10 a.m. The club plans several registered shoot regimens Feb. 8, to allow members to establish ATA handicaps for the coming year.

Iowa St. Nips Huskers 72-70

AMES, Iowa (UPI)—Iowa State's Rick Engel hit a free throw with only 4 seconds left Tuesday night to give the Cyclones a spine-tingling 72-70 victory over Nebraska.

Engel's shot came after the Cornhuskers failed to take the lead as Charlie Jura missed a one-and-one free throw opportunity, with 7 seconds left and Nebraska trailing by only one point, 71-70.

The Cornhuskers trailed by five at the half, 35-30, and then battled back to a 70-point deficit and held a 70-67 lead covered the AFL, regularly. Defensive tackle Tom Keating of Oakland finished second with four votes and running back Floyd Little of Denver received three.

Linbacker Nick Buonicintini of Miami was named on two ballots while Boston quarterback Mike Taliaferro and wide receiver Marlin Briscoe of Buffalo each got one vote.

Ford Gives In, Okays Auto Racing

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. showed Tuesday to the National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing and said its star drivers will run in the $100,000 Riverside, Calif. 500 on Jan. 18.

"For the most part we think we can get a good faith with the new clause in the entry blank," said a Ford spokesman at Dearborn, Mich.

The Ford announcement came less than 24 hours after Chrysler said its Dodge and Plymouth drivers will also take part in the season's first race, despite two controversial new clauses put in the entry blanks by powerful NASCAR.

The new clauses require that drivers "try to make every effort to appear in the race and that car owners must substitute another driver if the original one refuses to drive."

The Ford decision puts such big name drivers as Lee Roy Yarbrough, David Pearson, Danie Allison and A.J. Foyt in the race. Yarbrough led the national stock car drivers in winnings last season with $180,000. Pearson was second with $183,700.

Among the big name Dodge and Plymouth drivers who will race at Riverside are Richard Petty, last year's Riverside winner; Dan Gurney, Bobby Allison, Bobby Isaac and Buddy Baker.

"We told our car owners," said the Ford spokesman, "to do what they thought was best. But we advised them that we thought we could live with the clause despite some misgivings about it."

Mount Has 36; Purdue Coasts

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Rick Mount pumped his 30 points to lead Purdue to a 80-7 Big Ten basketball victory over Wisconsin Tuesday night extending the Bollermakers' homecourt winning streak to 20 games.

The victory also evened defending champion Purdue's conference slant at 1-1. The Bollermakers are 8-4 overall. The Badgers are 0-2 in the league and 5-5 over-all.

The score was tied nine times and the lead changed hands six times in the first half before Mount's two free tosses with 5:56 to play gave Purdue the lead for good, 32-30.

The Bollermakers held a slim halftime margin, 48-43, but pulled away frequently in the second half. Purdue's 10-point spread was 15 points at 80-65. Mount bagged 13 fielders and 10 of 10 free throws for his total. Bob Ford added 13 and George Faerber got 11.

Clarence Sherrard topped Wisconsin with 21 markers. Tom Iard added 14 and Leo Oler got 10.

Bears' Mudd Denies Rumor

CHICAGO (UPI)—Chicago Bears offensive guard Howard Mudd Tuesday denied reports that he was negotiating with the Oakland Raiders of the National Football League for next season.

Mudd said he did attend the AFL championship game between Oakland and Kansas City last Sunday as a guest of one of the Oakland owners, a personal friend, but said he would not be able to conduct negotiations with any team other than the Bears until May 1, when he becomes a free agent.

Mudd was playing out his option with the San Francisco 49ers when he was traded to the Bears in the middle of the 1969 season. He said he and his attorney are currently negotiating with the Bears for the 1970 season.

A report of Mudd's alleged negotiations with the Raiders was first reported by him $200,000.

Mudd said he wished he had heard the same figures.

12,000 Die In Fires During Year Of '69

BOSTON (UPI) — More than 12,000 persons died in fires throughout the United States during 1969, about the same as 1968, the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) reported.

The NFPA said the figure represents a small improvement because fire deaths remained about the same, but the nation's population increased by about 2 million. Dwelling fires claimed about 6,550 lives last year, a slight dip from 6,600 in 1968, the NFPA said.

The worst fire fatalities occurred in transportation accidents — 26 persons dying in a ship collision and fire April 7 off New Orleans and 24 in a fire aboard the USS Enterprise in Pearl Harbor Jan. 14. Sixteen were killed when a DC-9 plane crashed March 20 in New Orleans.

Property damage due to fire during 1969 was $2.416 billion, the NFPA reported, with the worst blaze causing $45 million damage on May 11 at the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's plant at Golden, Colo.

Gunmen Haul Ton Of Money From Home

BLOOMFIELD TWP., Mich. (UPI) — Three determined gunmen wearing ski masks hauled off 63 bags of pennies worth more than a ton Monday from the basement of a man who was saving the 315,000 coins to finance his daughters' college educations.

"They were all quite gentlemanly and told us someone had tipped them off about the coin collection," Raymond E. Nelson said of the robbers who burst into his home carrying revolvers. "But they were quite unhappy about carrying that ton out of the basement. They warned them if they took the pennies, their car would drag so low they couldn't drive."

The robbers took 1 1/2 hours to load the $3,150 in pennies and other goods into two cars. Nelson, who estimated the total loot at $20,000, broke loose from his bindings and called police minutes after the robbers left.

Police chased the chrs. weighted with 36-pound bags of coins, at speeds up to 120 miles an hour until one car hit the ditch and the robbers fled on foot. Thirty-one bags of pennies were recovered. Nelson said the robbers had thought the collection was worth $40,000 to $50,000. It was kept on basement shelves because Nelson "never thought anyone would be foolish enough to steal it."

Hat Trend Evokes Big Smiles

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Men joke about them; women coming out of beauty salons rarely wear them; and the wind snags them down the street. Hats.

Enough of them to suit all three situations were in the Millinery Institute of America's spring show staged Sunday in New York.

Take hats to evoke smiles. These included a yard-wide corded straw hat cloaked in chiffon—shown for the ultimate in disguise. Another smile: A brim hat made of cascades of satin ribbon, fore and aft and both sides from crown to elbows and sprinkled with flowers.

Mata Hari would have found it perplexing for wedding day. Groomings not meant to team with a new hairdo included those that sit firmly on the head, practically down to ears. These, frequently in straw, had massive brims turned up, down or just flipped up in front or back.

For the wind's whims, there was headgear a couple of feet wide in straw or felt and with huge tri-colored sashes or bands, some trailing down side or back.

The newest hat: The maxi-turban. This is a regular-looking turban with long tails attached and actually part of the hat. The tails are to be wrapped scarf-like around neck and arms, or to trail off after that are to trail down front or back the way 12-foot scarves do.

The ultimate in the maxi-turban was one with enough fabric attached to make wide slings for both arms. This was almost a hat with jacket attached.

As is traditional for spring there were the bonnets with flowers. Realistic enough to attract dew-dripped bees. The prettiest touches reached the highest pitch in a shoulder-wide, brim-down straw. It was decked with enough giant-sized poppies to be able to pass as a centerpiece for a slowdown dinner for 50.

Hats that make the perfect disguise could be this maxi-turban, top, with yards of attached fabric. It was unveiled recently at Millinery Institute of America show of spring, 1970, designs. The silk turban by Brookline can frame a face or cover it. The cascade of satin ribbons, bottom picture, is sprinkled with flowers and is a bridal hat designed by Adolfo. It was something of a smiler at the Millinery Institute of America spring, 1970, show. The ribbons dangle to the elbows. (UPI telephoto)

Carol Turner, Pfc. Black Wed In Candlelight Rites

Carol Lee Turner became the bride of Pfc. Harold Ray Black in a candlelight ceremony Dec. 19 at the United First Methodist Church, with Rev. Harold N. Nye officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Turner, Twin Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Doree Black, Jerome, and Harold Black, Kuna.

Organist was Mrs. Nye, with Fania McKinney as soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle and lace featuring a bustle back and lace trimmed and gathered neckline. The gown was worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. Her veil of Chantilly lace was held by a heart-shaped crown trimmed with beads. She carried a bouquet of red feather poinsettias with green streamers.

The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar set with baskets of white feathered chrysanthemums and velvet poinsettias. The communion rail was decorated with green garlands and velvet poinsettias. Decorations for the altar and reception tables were taken care of by Mrs. John Frederickson and Wilma Silgar.

Mary Simpson served as maid of honor, with Teena Johnson and Brenda Carroll, bridesmaids. Flower girl was Jean Shane, Jerome, carrying a basket filled with poinsettias.

Pete Turner, brother of the bride, served as best man, with Jerry Black, brother of the bridegroom, and Tom Turner, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. Ringbearer was Kirk Ruby, nephew of the bridegroom. Ushers were Wayne Courtney, cousin of the bride, and Richard Borah, friend of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church social hall under the direction of members of the Methodist Women's Society. The bride's table was covered with a white tablecloth with a skirt of organza, flounced with red beads draped in front and green bows at each end, enhanced with a poinsettia in the middle. The four-tiered cake with a clover leaf base was decorated with poinsettias, miniature bride attendants on bases around the cake and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Oscar Ford. It was cut and served by Mrs. Loyd Cooper, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Imogene Heath-Coffey was served by Mrs. Wesley Stewart.

Punch was served by Mrs. Jim Shann and Mrs. James Fisher.

Gifts were opened and displayed by Mrs. John Malone, Mrs. Dale Corbit, Connie Heath, Mrs. Roland Ruby, Mrs. Albert Irish and Mrs. Gail Miller. Gifts were taken to the hall by Lois Shane and Connie Ruby.

Guests were registered by Ann Leonardson. Guests were seated at tables decorated with greenery, red poinsettias and green bows.

Out-of-town guests attended from Mountain Home, Boise, Jerome, Klamath, Burley, Hanssen and Kuna, Ida.; New York, New Hampshire and Vermont.

The couple took a short honeymoon trip to Boise. The bridegroom will be stationed in North Carolina.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents at their home. A lingerie shower was given for the bride by Mrs. Jim Shane and Mrs. Imogene Heath, and a miscellaneous shower was hosted by Mrs. James Fisher and Mrs. Dale Corbit. A kitchen shower was given for the bride by members of the Friendly Twelve Club.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You were asked in your column, "Is a Jew a Jew because of his religion, or because of his race?" You replied, "I like Ben Gurion's definition. 'A Jew is anyone who says he is.'"
While Ben Gurion may be a very distinguished Jew, he is not an authority on religious matters. Also, he is badly mistaken.
The accepted Jewish law is as follows: "A Jew is a person who was born into the Jewish peoplehood by Jewish mother, and who never left his faith by accepting another religion, or one who has accepted the Jewish faith by an official conversion-to-Judaism ceremony."
In other words, a Jew is a Jew because of his religion, and not because of his race. Neither race nor nationality exclude anyone from becoming a full-fledged Jew.
As you know, Sammy Davis Jr. is Jewish because he converted to Judaism. To which RACE does he belong? He certainly didn't change his race by becoming a Jew; he changed only his religion, but he remains a member of the race to which he originally belonged to.
