Winston Jones Named To Fill City Council

Winston Jones has been named to fill the unexpired city council term of the late George Bennett.

The council met Monday and unanimously elected Mr. Jones. He ran fourth in the November election in which three new councilmen were elected. Mr. Jones will fill out the remaining two years of Mr. Bennett's term.

Mr. Jones said he would like to thank those who supported him in the council election. He said he will do his best to justify their support.

The new councilman said, "Although I may live to regret it, I will keep my door open for suggestions from any people in the city. I am especially interested in a free flow of information from the public to the council."

Mr. Jones, who will be sworn in at the next council meeting Monday night, said he hasn't seen any reason to change his stand on any matters which he discussed during the campaign.

A retired Army colonel, Mr. Jones was raised in Twin Falls and then returned here two years ago. He is now employed at Fiberglast Programs, Inc.

Hailey Seats Mayor, New Councilmen

HAILEY—Hailey's new mayor and two city councilmen were sworn into office Monday night by Mrs. Virda Allred, city clerk and justice of the peace.

Lawrence Hoaglin, new mayor, served on the council from 1932 to 1938 and is a former state senator. He currently is national president of the National Automobile Dealers Association and left Tuesday for Miami to attend the group's national meeting.

New councilmen are Charles W. Dunn and Neal R. Nyblad. Holdover councilmen are Phillip Warner and Dale Peterson. Mr. Peterson was named president of the council to serve in the mayor's absence.

Councilmen reappointed Mrs. Allred as city clerk; Stephen Boller, city attorney; Reed Coulam, city building inspector; and E. Brown, city maintenance engineer.

Councilmen appointments include Mr. Nyblad, street right of way and parking; Mr. Peterson, street lighting, library, planning and zoning commission; Mr. Dunn, parks and recreation commissioner and sewer and water department.

Councilmen passed a resolution to pay Mr. and Mrs. Fred Povey $3,000 for 30.8 acres of land at a site for the city sewage treatment plant, for which a bond issue has already been approved.

Ernest Fite, co-owner of the old IOOF lodge building which was ruined last winter when a landslide at a site for the city sewage treatment plant, for which a bond issue has already been approved.

Board Okays Principal At Shoshone

SHOSHONE—Shoshone school board trustees re-elected all three members Monday night in a stormy session during which they affirmed support of Jack Bowlin, Lincoln grade school principal, whose administration has been under criticism of some parents.

About 35 parents attended the board meeting and expressed both criticism and support for the principal. Among the items mentioned were lack of discipline, too much emphasis on physical and physical education with neglect of academic studies.

One of the major issues of the discussion was Mr. Bowlin's administrative experience in his last position in Nome, Alaska, with several of the parents requesting the board raise a letter of reprimand to Mr. Bowlin. Board chairman refused to do so, quoting the Idaho statute governing the rights and privileges of school teachers.

He also read the statutes regarding the hiring and firing of teachers in the state, which has conferred with attorneys in taking this stand.

Mr. Bowlin's supporters presented a petition, bearing the signatures of some 70 school patrons, requesting the board to re-appoint Mr. Bowlin.

"We want art and physical education available to our children. We feel Mr. Bowlin should be encouraged to continue his program to offer a wide interesting and beneficial education, not only to the sixth graders but to all grades in the elementary schools."

The board recessed after hearing views of the patrons into a private, executive meeting to decide upon their action. Upon their return to the public hearing, a motion was made by Dr. See SHOSHONE, Pg. 2, Col. 8.

Ex-T.F. Man Asks Stanford Trustees To Disavow Action Against BYU

By O. A. GUS Kolkner
Times-News Editor

Trustees of Stanford University will be asked today to "demonstrate their sense of responsibility" by disavowing the "advisory" action of the school's board of trustees in charging for an "intercollegiate relationship" between the California University and Brigham Young University at Provo.

The request was placed before the Stanford officials by Dudley Swim, a former resident of Twin Falls who is still a property owner here and who was a graduate of the Twin Falls High School with the class of 1922.

Details of the request which he placed before the board today were spelled out in a telephone interview with Mr. Swim at his home in Monterey, Calif.

Widely known in financial circles throughout the nation, Mr. Swim is a son of the late Arthur Swim of Twin Falls. He is a member of the board of trustees of the California State College System involving 10 schools, is a graduate of Stanford with the class of 1928 and

Seeking To Allay Fears For People of Biafra

JOHN M. GARBA, Nigerian Ambassador to Italy, tells a news conference that "it is not the intention of my government to carry out reprisals or genocide" against the inhabitants of the secessionist province. He said military forces of the federal government have been instructed to take care of civilians, the sick and wounded. The U.S. Monday ordered an additional $10 million worth of food and medical supplies be sent to Biafra in the wake of reports the 30-month-old civil war might be nearing an end. (UPI cablephoto)

Britain Allowed To Assist Biafrans

By United Press International

Nigerian leader Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon agreed today to allow Britain to fly in tons of medical supplies for the ill and starving refugees of the Nigerian civil war. Diplomatic sources said this was because there is a common UNICEF committee in the Soviet Union as there is in the other Big Four countries.

Some diplomats said it reflected a fear that if massive aid should go into Nigeria from the Soviet Union they might lose another election which arose in 1960 when massive Russian aid poured into the Congo for the rebel regime of Patrice Lumumba. That situation brought the U.N. organization to the brink of disaster.

3 American Helicopters Are Shot Down

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist forces shot down three American helicopters Monday, and for the first time in more than a decade an American ship was threatened with a U.S. Navy vessel in Vietnam waters, military spokesmen said today.

Communist ground fire downed and destroyed the three light model Army observation helicopters in the 400-foot channel between the question of dress code in the Twin Falls School system during a school board meeting Monday night.

A mine, apparently attached by Communist frogmen, exploded early today against the port side of the U.S. Navy tank landing ship New London County in the northern coastal harbor of Chu Lai, 335 miles northeast of Saigon.

The blast caused minor flooding in the 400-foot channel. Spokesmen said there were no casualties among its crew of about 150.

Talks Resume

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union announced resumption of its border talks with Communist China Sunday, and at the same time, rejected the latest protest note from Peking.

It proved a move among Stanford alumni, I find actual dissatisfaction and indignation over this regrettable event—so often expressed in diversion of contributions from Stanford to BYU by Stanford alumni.

"It now appeared that this action was announced by the president of Stanford—in the newspapers on Nov. 12 without the subject even having been mentioned at the meeting of the Stanford board on the preceding day," Mr. Swim said.

He was high in his praise for the Utah school and said that "there is so much that the Stanford administration can and should do for the students of the school."

One Dead, 2 Hurt As Car Dives Into Malad Canyon

TUTTLE—One man was dead and two others in undetermined condition Tuesday noon after the car in which they were riding plunged into the steep Malad river canyon, about 7 miles west of Tuttle.

Gooding sheriff's officers still at the scene at press time, indicated one man had been lifted from the car, which is partially submerged in the river, with equipment brought by the Wendell Fire Department. He is at Gooding Memorial Hospital, but his identity was not known as his wallet had not been found.

The second man was being brought from the accident site. The victim's body was taken to Thompson Chappel, Gooding.

Witnesses said the man who was killed was thrown from the car before it went into the canyon, which is estimated at 150 feet in depth. The other two men were both pinned in the car in the river.

Two ambulances were called to the scene, and the Northwest Crane Rigging and Transport Co. sent a large crane to assist with the wreckage.

Officers said the accident was discovered by two highway crew members, about 7 a.m. today.

Joe Weiss and Floyd Meyers noticed a highway sign lying on the highway and were about to pick it up and leave when they decided to look into the canyon and saw the car. They also found the body of the victim, which was lying a short distance from the highway.

One man was reported to have been submerged up to his armpits. The car was headed south-east and apparently went out of control, bouncing down onto the south side of the bridge, landing in the water.

This is the second traffic fatality in Magic Valley so far in 1970, and the first of the year in Gooding County. The first road death occurred last Friday in Minidoka County.

Burley Notes Dispute

BURLEY—A controversy here about a proposed change in the Burley police department, with Acting Police Chief Ken Barry and Don Nielson, who resigned last week, giving conflicting statements about the action.

Both are agreed that Mr. Nielson resigned from the force, but that the civil rights ends. Mr. Nielson told the Times-News Monday afternoon that he has served 20 years in the Navy, retiring from the service as a first class petty officer, and he has "an intention of going back to the Navy at the present time."

In his announcement in Sunday's Times-News, Acting Chief Barry said Mr. Nielson had resigned and would rejoin the Navy. Mr. Barry reaffirmed this statement Saturday morning, explaining Mr. Nielson had told both himself and his secretary that these were his plans.

The chief also reiterated what was announced in the earlier story, that Mr. Marsh was hired after Mr. Nielson's resignation and definitely replaces him, while Mr. Nielson told the Times-News that "Marsh was hired before I resigned."

The ex-police officer further said: "See BURLEY, Pg. 2, Col. 2."

Richfield Tot Overcome By Glue Fumes

RICHFIELD—The fumes of airplane glue threatened the life of tiny Tim Hardy, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Hardy, Richfield, in an incident at the family home.

The child had tumbled his older brother's two tubes of unopened glue and decided to squirt it out of the tubes the way he did toothpaste. Being careful of the carpet, he took a washcloth and got behind the couch in the living room while his mother was working in another part of the house.

Mrs. Hardy had been talking to Tim, and when he didn't answer she investigated and found his apparently asleep behind the couch. His face was turning blue and he evidently squirted out both tubes of glue and been overcome by the fumes.

Mrs. Hardy rushed the child out into the open air and she soon revived. She later called her husband to work on the Shoshone school system and a doctor to make sure she had done everything necessary for his complete recovery.

Mrs. Hardy said the two new tubes of glue had been given her by her father-in-law. She said she had not had a screw type opening which would have been impossible for the child to open. The glue had been left on a coffee table.

Hall of Fame Awards Made To Dairymen

BURLEY—Two Hall of Fame awards were presented at a luncheon Tuesday noon at the Ponderosa Inn during the opening day of the 46th annual meeting of the Idaho Dairymen's Association and affiliated organizations.

Some 123 persons are expected for the three-day meet. Receiving the engraved plaques were Herman Haffiker, Boise, and Melvin Mickelson, Grace.

Mr. Haffiker recently retired from the extension service, having served as county agent at Pocatello since 1941. He has been active in all phases of dairy work in Ada county. Mr. Mickelson is president of the Idaho Milk Producers Society and raises this breed of cattle.

The awards were presented by Floo Edwards, Nampa, president of the Idaho Dairymen's Association, which sponsors the Hall of Fame awards each year.

C. M. Carlson, Caldwell, was master of ceremonies for the luncheon. He is vice president of the Idaho Dairymen's Association. Forrest Blake, Heyburn, president of the South Idaho Chamber of Commerce, welcomed delegates.

The affiliated organizations to the state dairymen's group held individual meetings Tuesday. The convention continues through Thursday.

"Historic" Showdown Staged In Legislature

BOISE (UPI)—Sen. John Barber, R-Boise, Assistant Majority Floor Leader in the Senate, Monday said the 1970 Legislature would be "historic" since it actually marks the beginning of annual sessions for Idaho.

The first half of the 40th Legislature, held in 1969, was when the regular session was to be held.

Barber urged the senators to "set a goal to complete our work in the remaining time and get the legislation needed to start us on our way through the 70s."

Construction Jobs Given To Negroes

CHICAGO (UPI)—Last July 22, 17 black youths took over the Building Trades Council office in the Loop and demanded that 10,000 construction jobs be given to Negroes.

Monday, representatives of the 19 building trades unions, contractors and the coalition for community action group announced a formal agreement on a plan to provide construction jobs for 4,000 black workers.

The plan, announced in the office of Mayor Richard J. Daley, provides that in five years 18,000 Negroes will be hired.

Jet Tour Canceled

LONDON (UPI)—Pan American Airways today canceled the remainder of a scheduled European tour by the line's first Boeing 747 jumbo jet airliner.

The tour was scheduled to include stops in London, Paris, Rome, Athens, and Cairo. The airline said the cancellation was due to a change in the aircraft's schedule.

School Board Okays High School Project

The Twin Falls School board voted Monday night to go ahead with additions at the high school estimated to cost about $150,000.

The additions include classrooms added onto the end of "B" wing, an office space for four offices, and added room in the library.

Presentation of drawings was made by Harold Gerber, a Twin Falls architect. He said a complete cost estimate has not been made yet, but will be finished in the near future.

The board members were asked by Supt. Ernest Ragnland if they should wait on construction and save money because of highway improvements planned on Addison Avenue.

"We might have to tear away some of Washington School, set back the line at Lincoln Field and move the Happy-Day School," he said.

The highway plans to widen Addison Avenue and Blue Lakes Boulevard North sometime, but a date has not been established.

If the highway is widened, it appears part of the south face of Washington School and maybe some of the west face may have to be removed. The school would then face added construction in other directions.

Board members said they felt there is a present need to expand the high school. The office spaces and classrooms are needed now, it was reported. They added it is still not known what will happen at Washington School or at Lincoln Field.

"We should deal with that problem when it comes up. May not be an emergency, but then, and we can probably raise the funds at that time to deal with the problem," they said.

The board members also heard from members of the Twin Falls Education Association in their advisory committee.

Proposals were made to have all teachers in the system consulted on the setting of the school calendar each year.

Dr. Ragnland said, "You are welcome to it. If you can find a way to get in 180 days of school, that's the way to deal with that time, more power to you."

Members of the committee also recommended teachers aides be given supervisory duties for playground duty and back duty in the elementary school. They also recommended to devote more time to preparation for classes each day.

Committee members presented recommendations on teacher leave. The recommendations fall into four categories. They are sick leave, personal leave, emergency leave and professional leave.

Committee members also outlined how they are elected to represent all the teachers in the system. There are five members on the committee and they represent the grade schools, junior highs and the high school.

There was no board action taken on the recommendations and committee members said the proposals were presented only for board consideration at a later date.

Argument Heated, But Slacks Still Banned

BY FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer

There were charges and counter charges and at times heated debate on the question of dress code in the Twin Falls School system during a school board meeting Monday night.

After an hour of discussion, with many points of view expressed from students, adults and school officials, the matter was closed.

The school board will continue to abide by its school dress handbook approved last summer by a council made up of school officials, students and parents.

How long the dress code manual will be enforced is a question that was not resolved. But for the present the code will be enforced. Girls students will not be allowed to wear slacks to school.

It all started last Thursday, during a cold spell in Twin Falls, when four girls showed up at O'Leary Junior High School dressed in slacks. They were sent home with orders to change into appropriate slacks.

Two of the girls came back in the proper dress, two others came back in dresses that were, in the words of Supt. Ernest Ragnland, "shockingly short."

Those two girls were again sent home.

Monday, 10 girls came to O'Leary in slacks. They were sent home to change.

To date, none of the girls has been suspended from a school administration officials said at the Monday meeting.

But Dr. Ragnland said, "I can't understand why the girls came to school in slacks Monday. They know the rules, the standards adopted by our committee last summer after a lot of work."

Debate started off slowly Monday night in the school administration office. One mother said it was only because of the cold that she wanted her daughters to wear slacks.

Then a petition bearing 878 signatures was presented to the board. The petition stated opposition to the school's dress code.

School officials, after a brief study of the signatures, said, "There are some addresses here from Alaska, Buhl and Washington."

One man in the audience of an estimated 20 adults and 30

students said, "Some of the students have been slapped around at O'Leary."

It was also charged that students were not allowed to circulate the petition against the dress code, with one student claiming, "We were told we would be kicked out if we signed it."

O'Leary's Principal Carl Snow, denied the charge of students being slapped, and asked the unidentified man in the audience to name names.

The man refused to do so. Mr. Snow said there were no stated he had resigned because of "mud-slinging, name calling and unrest in the department." He said he was dissatisfied with the appointment of Mr. Barry as acting chief and "throwing the net over our heads before his retirement." He added it is a bad thing for younger men coming up in the department.

Mayor Chris Robertson termed the difference of opinion over the resignation a "misunderstanding," but explained that Mr. Marsh was hired after the resignation of Mr. Nielson because the department already had a contract with him and it was possible to bring the staff to full size at this time.

Under the mayor-council form of city government, the mayor, as a public commissioner is charged in law with administration of the police department. He advised the city council at the initial meeting of the new group that George Warrell, police chief, had been notified he would be kept on the payroll for one month only, regardless of the outcome of heart examinations he will undergo later this month.

The mayor later week named Mr. Barry as acting police chief. Councilmen James Hart said that as yet the council has not come officially before the council since the police department is within the mayor's jurisdiction.

BYU

(Continued From Page One) should learn from the administration at BYU where exists the finest, cleanest, busiest, and happiest-appearing student body that it has been my privilege to observe in these current times.

"I am a member of the campus (BYU) something that I have enjoyed several times this past year — provides a never-to-be-forgotten inspiration."

"More over, while so many other colleges have been going through the permissive line of so-called liberalism and as a result deteriorating, BYU has been independently moving forward with vision, strength, and courage and brilliantly coping with rather than succumbing to the human problems of the times, especially among youth," he said.

The former Twin Falls resident added that instead of resigning at BYU "the administration at Stanford was going through to accomplish what BYU so refreshingly maintains in fine and exemplary human conduct, far above the dreary level especially at those campuses which are so-called universities."

He continued, "At BYU, unlike so many schools, happily campus life does not embrace chain-walking to far left bigotry, homage to alien ideologies, disrespect to the American flag, arrogant flaunting of enemy flags, championing of drug use, dedication to debauchery, and physical violence, threatened or in fact — whether it be hoodlumism (such as a recent trustee's meetings) or murder."

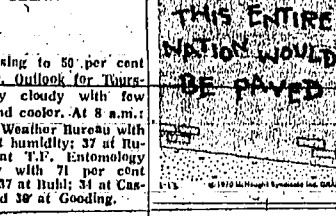

"Both these schools (privately-endowed) are proud of their founders. In disregard of the subtle attempts to disparagement through the years by the non-builders at Stanford," he said, "Stanford should stand with BYU, together as great sister institutions, dedicated to preserving the integrity of higher education and those values which are the heart of the American life and inspiration."

"BYU President Erno L. Wilkinson and the Mormon Church is owed eternal gratitude for the courageous demonstration in 1954 that the best of human integrity and noble principles in human relationships can be lived."

Mr. Swin also pointed to the rising crime rate, brought about because the "Supreme Court" in one month only, renege on a "counterpart on the campuses."

He concluded by stating that if violence is made to pay on the campus we will have more crime than what we have now. He said that "with strong presidents will have no problems."

Preliminary Budget OK'd For County

A tentative Twin Falls County budget was adopted late Tuesday just under the legal deadline for county budgeting, and county officials say current expenses are up $75,000 for 1970.

County recorder and budget officer Harold Lancaster, said Tuesday morning he was just beginning a review of the county's tentative proposal for operating costs and would have a final analysis of the budget by Wednesday. He said the current $3,128,124 budget increases over $313,874 as compared to $2,814,250 for 1969.

Hearings will be held on the tentative budget which by law can be trimmed but not increased, and a permanent budget will be adopted at the second Monday of February.

Included in the tentative budget is an increase of about $20,000 which would be needed should the commissioners adopt the state retirement program for county employes over the present retirement plan.

In addition to current expenses are the county hospital budget, the indigent fund, weed program and other special funds.

Mr. Lancaster said the tentative current expense budget is well within the limitations of House Bill 304 which prohibits more than a 4 per cent increase in revenue over the previous year.

Slacks

(Continued From Page One) threats issued to students on the signing of the petition, and added, "This is a free country and you have a right to do something in the Democratic way this is the way it should be done."

Dr. Ragland emphasized "We don't want to say how these students sign a dress. The standards set by our committee on the dress code established those standards. We must abide by them."

Board members said, "We must go by the book (the dress code) on this." Board Chairman Elmer Sommer said, "I've been on this board 10 years and this is the first time this issue has ever come up."

One woman said, "I feel this is a rebellion. The students want the right to be heard."

Cliff Sharp, a city police officer, said, "I've got two kids in school in regard to this slapping. If an teacher says it's ground loop one of my kids, God bless 'em."

There was applause.

Dr. Ragland said, "We regret these incidents and this disagreement. But we tried hard on this dress code. The young should realize the Democratic process is slow and change does not come swiftly. We want harmony in our schools and with our patrons. If the code is to be changed, it should be changed the Democratic way."

One youth said, "This gathering does not reflect the majority of students or parents at O'Leary. The majority should be heard, or given the opportunity to be heard."

Mr. Swin again denied this matter so the silent majority can be heard on this issue.

Mr. Swin said, "If this comes to a vote and the voters throw you out of office that is the Democratic way and the way it should be done."

Finally a girl student said, "At first I was slacks because of the code, but now I realize a matter of our rights. We tell we were not being heard."

Mr. Sharp then said he had to leave the meeting, but added, "I voted for you people (the administration) the last election and I'll vote for you again."

Board members said, "We will abide by the rules in our handbook on school dress."

Report Claims News Media Reduce U.S. Violence

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The news media can help reduce the amount of violence in American society, not by ignoring conflict when it occurs, but by accurately reporting its root causes. They have not done a very good job of this in the past.

"That is the basic conclusion Monday by a task force of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

Although the report represents the views of the task force, said by Robert J. Baker and Sanjiv Sabherwal, principal recommendations have been endorsed by the 13-member violence commission headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower.

The task force report, entitled "Violence and the Media," is scorchingly critical of the performance of U.S. newspapers, radio and television. It said the news media "have contributed to the widespread use of confrontation as an instrument of social change by their failure to report adequately the conditions underlying current protest."

It also upbraided both broadcasters and the press for failure to provide "routine and useful access" to the public for people with new ideas and minorities with grievances.

"Too often, the report asserted, the content of the public news is determined by the unconscious prejudices and assumptions of the middle class whites who are the 'gatekeepers' or editorial decision makers of the news media.

"The increased level of violence in the country today is partially owing to the sluggish response of our institutions to social change, but the press shares in this sluggishness," it said.

But the report defended the news media against often-heard charges of promoting violence by giving its practitioners publicity. Although some groups doubtless use violence on some occasions in order to win attention from the news media, the report said, there is a good deal less of this than stems to be popularly believed. Violence is not necessary to gain the attention of the news media, and it defeats the purposes of groups that engage in it, because their "message" is then lost in the preoccupation of the media with the violence itself.

Pat Nixon Not Among 'Best-Dressed'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's First Lady wears conservative clothes and "her best-dressed list" doesn't get a woman on the best-dressed list.

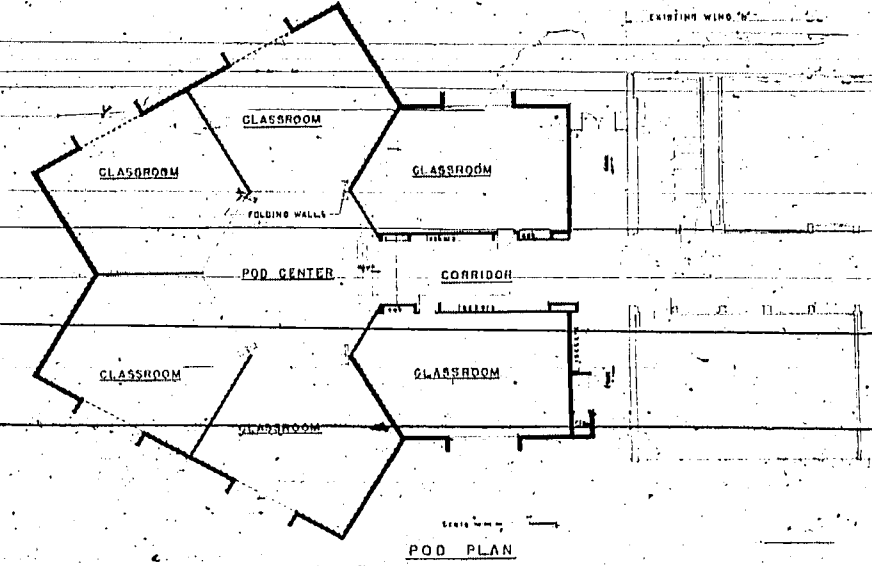

"Knowing Mrs. Nixon's general attitude toward clothes and her wardrobe, she's just not concerned," an aide said Monday when informed that the wife of the President failed to make the 30th annual list.

Mrs. Nixon also has made it a point to buy American designers' creations and has spread her business among several of them.

Mrs. Nixon's predecessor in the White House, Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson, also failed to make the list at the beginning, but was on it before she left the White House. On the other hand, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis was always at the top.

THREE-DARKENED AREAS of this drawing of the Twin Falls High School complex show additions which are planned for construction, probably beginning in April. The three areas planned for expansion will provide additional library, office and classroom space. The preliminary proposals, drawn by architect Harold Gorber, already have been approved and these drawings have been presented for the trustees approval. The largest single portion of the expansion will be a "pod" classroom area, shown at the lower left at the end of wing B, which faces Filer Avenue.

SIX CLASSROOMS SURROUNDING a milling area and highway are included in the major expansion planned at Twin Falls High School. The addition will provide needed instructional space at the high school and is planned for completion by the fall of 1970 semester. The "pod" addition, while different in shape and design than the rest of the local high school complex, will complement the front of the high school. The "pod" is on the west end of wing B. Trustees have approved the expansion, which includes additional library and office space as well as the classroom area above.

Pope Urges Defense Of Celibacy

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI appealed to Dutch bishops in December to defend priestly celibacy in an unsuccessful attempt to head off a vote of the Dutch Pastoral Council on the church law forbidding priests to marry, the Vatican said Monday.

The council, an advisory body made up of bishops, priests and laymen, went on to vote less than a week ago in favor of lifting the ban on married priests. Cardinal Bernard J. Alfrink, the Dutch primate, and other bishops at the meeting abstained on the vote.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano Monday published the text of a letter the Pope sent to the bishops, urging them to defend the celibacy law before the council. He also expressed strong concern over "other trends" in the Dutch church and said they

Chinese Quake Causes Damage

HONG KONG (UPI)—China's government news reports indicate last week's earthquake caused considerable damage, if not casualties, in Yunnan Province in southwestern Communist China, Hong Kong observers said Monday.

A series of broadcasts Sunday night by Kunning radio made references to the disaster area. One report said "class enemies" were taking advantage of the calamity to go in for sabotage. There was no elaboration.

The broadcast did not indicate the extent of the damages caused in the province by the "strong" earthquake during the early hours of Jan. 8. No casualties were mentioned.

Now the Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission are proposing that, beginning with the budget year which starts in July, the testing readiness program be cut to about one-third of its previous level.

Experts say the funds reduction would be reflected in the time necessary to respond to start U.S. weapons tests after the Russians had started, or had announced that they would do so.

James Earl Ray Put To Work In Prison — Painting Cell

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—James Earl Ray, who complained that his isolated imprisonment was "cruel" and asked for some work to do, has been assigned to paint the interior of the state prison's maximum security building by himself.

U.S. District Judge William E. Miller Monday approved the state correction department's work and recreation program for Ray, serving a 99-year sentence for the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The program was set up as a result of a long hearing Dec. 29 on Ray's petition to be released into the main prison population. Miller refused an order that Ray be arbitrarily freed from maximum security, but ordered officials at the prison here to give him something to do.

The chief thing given Ray to do is painting the interior of his prison building—a task which officials said would take him

Toll Rises

MARIETTA, Ohio (UPI)—Mrs. Lydia Parks, 83, of Elizabeth, W. Va., died Monday in a hospital here, raising the death toll in a nursing home fire to 24 patients.

Four patients, all elderly, remained in critical condition while another 21 patients were reported improving from smoke inhalation.

Monday Is Bad Day For Officer

The first day of this week was definitely Monday all day for Nancy Trueblood, secretary in the detective division at the Twin Falls Police Department.

The worst was first, however, when at noon Mrs. Trueblood became trapped in the ladies restroom—without her cigarettes. After laughing for a period of several minutes, she then frantically began yelling for help.

While a sympathetic fellow female employee pushed cigarettes under the door, male members of the police force worked on the lock and finally rescued Mrs. Trueblood.

Minutes later she was rounding a corner in a hallway at the police station and landed—where else—on the floor.

After these experiences, Mrs. Trueblood decided to go home for a quiet lunch. As she was calmly munching on a donut, her pet cat leaped up and snatched the donut from her hand.

No visible sign of forcible entry was found by officers who investigated a burglary Monday at the Twin Falls Public Library.

Officers said the building was entered sometime over the weekend.

The loss of a small safe, weighing about 30 pounds and containing about $25, was discovered Monday morning. Officers said the burglar apparently took the safe from a shelf and threw it out a window and then made his escape, with the safe.

Commission On Selection Of Magistrates For Gem Court Reform Plan To Meet In Fifth District In Near Future

A date sometime in the near future will be set to discuss how magistrates will be hired to serve the Fifth Judicial District.

On the commission, which will screen applications, are Senior District Court Judge Charles Scoggins, Rupert Mayor Wendell Johnson, and county commission chairman "Tom" Greer of the counties in the district.

The district takes in all of Magic Valley.

To prepare for the new magistrate system, to go into effect Jan. 11, 1971, applications are now being sought in Idaho's First Judicial District. Applications there must be in by Feb. 1.

There was some concern that this Feb. 1 date was a state deadline, but Judge James Towles of Wallace confirmed there is no deadline for the filing of applications.

We just set Feb. 1 as our date in order to get applications now," he said in a telephone interview with the Times-News.

Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the Twin Falls County commission, said a meeting would be held in the district soon and the problems of hiring magistrates will be given attention.

All magistrates who are appointed will attend a training institute this fall.

It will be reported later when and where applications for the Fifth Judicial District should be submitted.

Classes At CSI Open On Monday

Regular registration ended Friday but a steady stream of students went through registration Monday at downtown offices where registration has been moved.

Police Judge are exempt from the educational qualifications, it was reported.

To qualify for the position of magistrate, a person must be a resident of the county for which he or she is appointed and must be a high school graduate or have the equivalent.

Dropout Is Blamed For Violence

By MIKE FEINSLBER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate subcommittee study says violence has increased so much in big city schools learning has taken a backseat to the problem of maintaining order. Teachers in one city, it says, carry guns for protection. A staff member disputed as a myth the idea that school violence frequently has racial overtones. In most instances, he said, blacks attack blacks and whites attack whites. The staff pointed to the breakdown of home and church influence as a factor for the upsurge in school violence.

The report, prepared for use by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., at hearings in April into the problem by his Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, also accuses principals of trying to cover up violence in their schools. Hiding the facts only encourages the troublemakers, it says.

"The dropout who returns in his old school to destroy it" because he "harbours a deep fury against the school which, through lack of discipline or lack of interest, has rejected him" has become a chief source of violence, the report said.

It said a survey showed a 25-fold increase in reports of violence caused by dropouts, with the number of instances growing from 142 to 3,564 in four years in 110 surveyed school districts.

While warning the statistics were too sketchy to show more than a trend, the report said the 110 big city districts responding to the survey led to the conclusion that "violence in our public school systems has increased dramatically over the past few years."

In many cases, school systems have entirely given up on the enforcement of discipline. If there are no rules, then no rules need to be enforced.

"There is indeed some guidance in the schools and society without security being aware of it, are giving up on a very large number of young people for whom apparently very little has been done."

Idaho Biologist Is Concerned About Bird Population

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — A biologist working with the National Audubon Society here has an "uneasy feeling" something is wrong with the populations of native birds.

Dr. Charles J. Trost, assistant professor of biology at Idaho State University, reported reduced numbers of native birds after a year-end bird count for the society.

The villains, Trost feels, are increased levels of pollution and insecticides.

He reported, after the search, which covered a 15-mile area, that while more species than ever before were found, the number of individual birds was less than half that of recent years.

He said the "frightening thing" about the process is that not only is calcium being replaced, but the sex hormones are affected.

"There may be, therefore," Trost said, "a real danger to man."

"Sensitive indicators of a sick environment," he said that the drop in the bird population may be related to a calcium imbalance, which is in turn caused by insecticides, such as DDT.

Q—Please tell me what has happened in the Dow Jones Railroad average. I have been asleep at the switch because I didn't see anything about it being discontinued. —H.D.

A—The Dow Jones Railroad average has undergone a major re-rating in order to bring it up-to-date with the times. The re-rating of the average of freight and passenger lines has had to step aside for airlines and trucks. Reflecting this change, Dow Jones announced on Dec. 21, 1969, that the railroad average would be replaced by a Transportation average effective the first trading day of 1970.

The same number of stocks, twenty, have been used in the new average. Eleven rails in the former computation remain intact, but nine have been replaced by six major airlines and three nationwide truckers. Several railroads—the ones which were omitted—are in various stages of merger or have diversified into other industries.

For the 1969-70 period, the Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 1.53 percent to 701.05. The new average, the Dow Jones Transportation Average, was 100.00.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average is a composite of 30 blue-chip stocks. The Dow Jones Transportation Average is a composite of 20 stocks, including six major airlines and three nationwide truckers.

Quick Guard Tandem Points Idaho State To 79-75 Victory Over Idaho

By LARRY HOVEY
Times-News Sports Editor

POCATELLO — Idaho State's quickness, personified in Willie Humes and O'Neill Simmons, proved the difference Tuesday night when the Bengals topped the University of Idaho Vandals 79-75.

Oklahoma Nips Missouri 52-48

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Oklahoma overcame two last minute turnovers to hold on to a 52-48 Big Eight Conference win over Missouri Monday night before 4,100 fans, the largest crowd to fill the Sooner field house in three years.

Only when sophomore Scott Martin hit the end of a 1-1 situation with four seconds left did the Sooners lead the contest. Two offensive fouls in the last 46 seconds turned the ball over to Missouri, but both times the Tigers returned the favor and failed to score.

Humes, the nation's sixth top scorer, got 20 points—two under his average—and combined with Simmons to make things uncomfortable for the Vandals. Although the Bengal press, employed after each successful night game, did not result in a great number of steals, still the several it did earn were enough to assure the victory. Idaho's troubles with the press were magnified when guard Tim Cummings fouled out with 11:24 left in the game.

Idaho State, which held the biggest lead at 10 points, was troubled with turnovers and never really did control the game as had been expected prior to the game. Idaho State made two efforts at breaking away, the first in the opening seven minutes and the second some six minutes into the second half. But each time, John Nelson, a 6-6 junior who wound up with 33 points, brought the Vandals back into the game.

Humes and O'Neill Simmons scored six points each in the early going when the Bengals rushed into a 20-8 lead, but Idaho's Malcolm Taylor's three-point play staided the Vandals and, although trailing by six to eight points for the next several minutes, Idaho presented the early ISU blow away.

Trailing 32-23, Taylor and Nelson got field goals that started Idaho back and Nelson, for a few minutes, controlled both backboards, getting in a lot of second shots. With 1:57 left in the half a Nelson rebound shot gave Idaho its first lead at 39-38. ISU's John Cullum nullified that the next time down the court and the lead shifted twice more before a 43-42 tie.

Prince, Idaho junior, gave the Vandals a brief 45-43 lead but Simmons tied it by halftime. There were two ties in the opening seconds of the second half before Gibbons and Humes got two apiece to shove ISU ahead to Nursing a 66-64 lead. Idaho State flurried at the 15-minute mark with Humes hitting a free throw. Cullum scoring off a steal and Simmons and Humes coming back with two each to open up a 65-53 ISU lead. The second-half lead crested at 66-56 with 11:24 to play before Idaho rallied back. Taylor and Nelson got the points that trimmed the Idaho deficit to 68-64 and then came the key moments of the night. Three times Idaho took possession and managed to put up nine shots—but came away empty—while ISU had two tries. Barber then slipped inside for a crumple and with 4:34 left, ISU went into a slowdown. At 68-64, Idaho could come no closer than 69-64. In a rarity, Ricks and the ISU coach tied at 68-64, the preliminary called due to time.

Clark, 22, who signed with the team last September, asked to be relieved of his duties "for the best interests of a concerned in the Pipera organization." Clark's team showed a 14-25 record in his pro coaching debut. He left St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., where he posted a 35-20 record in three years, to try his luck in the pros.

Gabe Rubin, owner of the Pipers, said "new duties would assume his new duties immediately and Clark would have an opportunity to remain with Pittsburgh in an administrative capacity."

"John, Buddy and I are hopeful that the Pipers can come through the second half of the season a winner and our objective is to make the ABA playoffs," Rubin said. "We will work toward that goal."

After the early Trojan lead, the Bulldogs emerged the winner in six of the next seven minutes, and added to that edge with two forfeit wins.

Results of the matches, Kimberly men listed first, include: 100-Shawmarket was pinned by Johnson; 109-Hilton dethroned Chandler; 117-Johnson drew with Powell; 125-Murphy dethroned Rost; 132-Young dethroned Kober; 138-Ludbetter pinned Lowry; 147-Heath pinned DePew; 157-H. Reinstein pinned Prestwich; 167-D. Reinstein was pinned by Bullock; 177-Dry won by forfeit; 187-Gott won by forfeit; 187-Heavyweight, Steele pinned Lowry.

Get Hero's Welcome In K.C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Kansas City Chiefs, conquerors of professional football's Super Bowl, came home Monday to a hero's welcome.

Thousands jammed a parade route through the downtown streets and sirens blared as Kansas City hysterically celebrated its first world championship in any sport.

The Chiefs chartered for now New Orleans, scene of Monday's homecoming was prepared after thousands jammed the Municipal Airport terminal, tying up highway traffic and pouring onto the airport's runway, the night the Chiefs came home after being declared by the American Football League title game.

Police Monday estimated throngs up to 100,000 had lined the parade route. Ticket-tape and confetti poured from office buildings along the parade route as the red and white convolvules carry 17,000 Chiefs' players trekked slowly to a Liberty Memorial Mall ceremony.

"I never advertise in advance what our needs are," he said. "However, he confirmed that the youth and strength of the current Kansas City team takes the pressure off finding immediate help for the Chiefs. And, he added, it will give two or three years to properly develop players they pick up in the draft."

The only thing the Chiefs lost to Minnesota in the Super-Bowl Sunday was priority in the player draft. As the world champion, Kansas City will get last pick in the draft. Minnesota will get the 25th selection. Stram declined to speculate on whether his Chiefs could dominate the Vikings in another game as they did Sunday.

"Football is such a game of now," he said. "What you do this time may work differently next time."

It was the Chiefs' second straight victory over the Vikings. They beat Minnesota in tough 13-10 pre-season game in 1968.

Someone asked if that pre-season battle helped win the Super Bowl.

"We learned some things in that game," Stram said. "It's always great to relate to a victory. I think it's important that we win every exhibition game."

The Chiefs went into the Super Bowl Sunday with more confidence than they had in the inaugural bowl three years ago when they lost to Green Bay 35-10, he said.

He declined to compare strengths of the American and National Football Leagues, but said he told his team before Sunday's game that they were "proud champions of a proud league."

The point spread that made Minnesota a two-touchdown favorite did not bother him, Stram said.

"I am so unconcerned about the spread that I give it little consideration. I'm sincere about this," he said. "I don't understand how they come up with those figures. There's no way in the world they can tell."

"I understand they made the NFL an eight to 10 point favorite before the bowl teams were known," he said.

Stram Hoping For Chiefs' Dynasty

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Hank Stram is not making any predictions, but he sounds like a man who intends to stay on top of the football world.

"We've got a good blend of youth and experience," the Kansas City coach said Monday while discussing the Chiefs' 23-7 victory over Minnesota in the Super Bowl.

He said he expects quarterback Len Dawson to play "two or three more years." And he does not believe Dawson will need an operation on the knee that was injured twice this past season.

Stram and his Chiefs packed up their bags Monday to return to Kansas City with their first world championship. The sticky coach said he had little sleep since the bowl, yet he looked relaxed.

"I need a vacation," he said, but he added that he would be kept busy during the next two weeks preparing for the professional player draft later this month.

Stram declined to tip his hand on what he will be looking for in the draft.

"I never advertise in advance what our needs are," he said. "However, he confirmed that the youth and strength of the current Kansas City team takes the pressure off finding immediate help for the Chiefs. And, he added, it will give two or three years to properly develop players they pick up in the draft."

The only thing the Chiefs lost to Minnesota in the Super-Bowl Sunday was priority in the player draft. As the world champion, Kansas City will get last pick in the draft. Minnesota will get the 25th selection. Stram declined to speculate on whether his Chiefs could dominate the Vikings in another game as they did Sunday.

"Football is such a game of now," he said. "What you do this time may work differently next time."

It was the Chiefs' second straight victory over the Vikings. They beat Minnesota in tough 13-10 pre-season game in 1968.

Someone asked if that pre-season battle helped win the Super Bowl.

"We learned some things in that game," Stram said. "It's always great to relate to a victory. I think it's important that we win every exhibition game."

The Chiefs went into the Super Bowl Sunday with more confidence than they had in the inaugural bowl three years ago when they lost to Green Bay 35-10, he said.

He declined to compare strengths of the American and National Football Leagues, but said he told his team before Sunday's game that they were "proud champions of a proud league."

The point spread that made Minnesota a two-touchdown favorite did not bother him, Stram said.

Horton Tanks 29 For Win

Big Milt Horton, the leading scorer in the 'A' league of city basketball, tanked 29 Monday night to lead Mountain View over Farmers Market 98-50 in the highlight of a three-game schedule. Bert Scott hit 14 for the losers.

T. F. Piremen knocked off Varsity Barber Shop 64-40. Cramer's 22-point output, 61-40. Kelly Murphy topped the Varsity scoring with 12 points.

Ferry Haggeman's, also in the leading scorers parade, for the 'B' league, hit for 18 as his T. F. Tractor and Implement squad defeated Abble Urigen 61-55. Denny Porter had 23 for the losers.

Kimberly — The Kimberly Bulldogs slugged back from an early 6-5 deficit Monday night on route to an easy 41-12 wrestling victory over the Wendell Trojans.

After the early Trojan lead, the Bulldogs emerged the winner in six of the next seven minutes, and added to that edge with two forfeit wins.

Results of the matches, Kimberly men listed first, include: 100-Shawmarket was pinned by Johnson; 109-Hilton dethroned Chandler; 117-Johnson drew with Powell; 125-Murphy dethroned Rost; 132-Young dethroned Kober; 138-Ludbetter pinned Lowry; 147-Heath pinned DePew; 157-H. Reinstein pinned Prestwich; 167-D. Reinstein was pinned by Bullock; 177-Dry won by forfeit; 187-Gott won by forfeit; 187-Heavyweight, Steele pinned Lowry.

Clark, 22, who signed with the team last September, asked to be relieved of his duties "for the best interests of a concerned in the Pipera organization." Clark's team showed a 14-25 record in his pro coaching debut. He left St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., where he posted a 35-20 record in three years, to try his luck in the pros.

Gabe Rubin, owner of the Pipers, said "new duties would assume his new duties immediately and Clark would have an opportunity to remain with Pittsburgh in an administrative capacity."

"John, Buddy and I are hopeful that the Pipers can come through the second half of the season a winner and our objective is to make the ABA playoffs," Rubin said. "We will work toward that goal."

Orr Handed Bonus For NHL Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bobby Orr, the Boston Bruins all-star defenseman, was rewarded with a $500 bonus Monday for leading the National Hockey League in scoring during the first half of the season.

Orr, who scored 12 goals and picked up 40 assists during the first 36 Bruins games, is on his way to becoming the first NHL defenseman ever to win a scoring title. His 81 points are 12 more than Phil Esposito, last year's scoring champ, and veteran Phil Goyette of the St. Louis Blues.

Esposito, a teammate of Orr, moved into 4th place with Goyette when he scored the hat trick and added an assist Sunday night. However it was Goyette, with 17 goals and 32 assists, who won the scoring race in the mid-season scoring race which ended Saturday.

New York (UPI)—The top 10 scorers in the National Hockey League for a 75 game season are:

1. Bobby Orr	81
2. Phil Esposito	69

5. Esposito	65

BOOKISH PLAYER FAILS IN DEFENSE

The Professor was holding forth on the subject of a little knowledge being a dangerous thing.

did lead that third heart and South did hold the 10 and did ruff with it, then West's failure to overruff would locate the king in the East hand.

As is the custom with most bridge stories, the Professor was the hero sitting South. East was a fairly good player and an avid reader of bridge books. Not that we disapprove of reading bridge books. We read every one that comes out, but so does the Professor.

South would have no choice but to play a trump to dummy's ace and his blank king would fall.

Anyway, East led a second and a third heart. The Professor sitting South won with his king and proceeded to lead a trump to dummy's ace. Down came the king with a crash, and the rubber was over.

Thus, to finish in the Professor's own words: "How could East really imagine that I would not know just why he didn't lead a third heart?"

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been West North East South might hold the 10 of trumps. All East knew was that if he

Checking Up

By L. M. BOYD

Baby Whale Is Just Half Of Mother's Weight At Birth

LITTLE KNOWN is the fact that every year, about 20 percent of the newspaper editors in this country switch jobs. WERE YOU AWARE, there's nothing in the U.S. postal regulations to prevent you from sending your small children through the mails? ... THAT YOGURT will restore a man's hair—said to be the most belief in the Middle East... OF THOSE late lovers who are over the age of 25 when they marry, exactly 17 out of 20 stay married... YOU CAN FIGURE, a baby whale will be just about half its mother's weight at birth.

OPEN QUESTION—When did the longest serial in newspaper history—"The Married Life of Helen and Warren"—finally end?
LOVE AND WAR—It's frequently stated the women outnumber the men. They do, sure enough. But in the cities and in that age bracket known as the marriageable years, the single girls still outnumber the men. Love and War expert reports the foregoing in the hope it will give heart to unattended ladies in big towns.

SALUTATIONS—"Rejoice" is what the old Greeks said to one another when they met. Instead of "How do you do?" The Hebrews said, "Peace." The Dutch in the morning said, "May you eat a hearty dinner." The French said, "How do you carry yourself?" An old Pole, even before the Polish met, always greeted friend and stranger alike with the simple query, "Are you gay?"

THE TUBE—Am asked who invented the toothpaste tube, a Gentleman named John Rand did that. But not for toothpaste. For oil paints. The artists of his day knew how to mix their colors, but they didn't know how to keep said colors from drying out—so Mr. Rand handled that matter.

WRITES a Georgia gentleman: "If you check the statistics, you will find about 75 percent of the girls who enroll in modeling schools are from the North while about 75 per cent of the models who actually get paid in that profession are from the South. Does this mean the South turns out prettier girls than the North? Of course, it does. Much prettier, generally."

YOUR QUESTIONS and comments are welcomed and will be used wherever possible in "Checking Up." Please address your mail to L. M. Boyd, McNaught Syndicate, Inc., 60 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Draft Reform Has Strong Support, But Odds Suggest Action Delayed Until 1971

By DANIEL RAPOPORT
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Words upon words will be spoken in Congress about reforming the draft during 1970, but the odds strongly suggest that all the talk won't lead to action until 1971.

So much pressure built up in the past year that legislative overloads of the Selective Service System agreed to hold hearings this year even though the draft law doesn't expire until June 30, 1971.

While the congressmen are taking testimony from witnesses in and out of government there will be these other developments during 1970:

By February, President Nixon will have appointed a new director of the Selective Service System to replace retiring Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the only man to have headed the agency since July 31, 1941. The 76-year-old career soldier has been a frequent target of draft-critics, especially the young.

Sometime this month a presidential commission headed by former Defense Secretary Thomas Gates is expected to report to Nixon on the feasibility of abolishing the draft and switching to an all-volunteer military force when the Vietnam War permits.

The nation will be deciding how it likes the lottery method of induction that went into operation this month. Congress authorized Nixon to switch to a random selection system or the President's contention that it would be more fair and would reduce the years of uncertainty facing young men.

Officials in Washington will be closely watching combat activity in Vietnam, making the necessary adjustments in troop levels there and in draft calls back home.

All or some of these factors will influence the congressional deliberations on the draft. The President is pledged to the concept of a volunteer Army and he may seek enactment of some of the Gates Commission recommendations even before conditions in Vietnam allow a total abolition of the draft.

More than 200 House members and senators would like to see some change in the draft and have introduced dozens of bills. Citizen groups are also compiling proposals to put before Congress.

Complaints range from the contention that conscripts should not be sent to fight in Vietnam to the more common objection that the approximately 4,000 local draft boards seem at times to be applying 4,000 different standards on who should receive occupational and hardship deferments.

Sure — to come up is the question of whether young men who are able to go to college should be allowed to put off their military service for at least four years.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee may start hearings by the end of February. To clear the lottery bill through the Senate without having to consider other amendments, he promised Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and other draft reformers to hold full hearings early in 1970.

In a similar move, Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., pledged that his House Armed Services Committee would hold hearings in 1970. But Rivers did not say they would be early in the year, and like Stennis, he emphasized that holding hearings in 1970 did not mean that bills would be passed the same year.

Paulists Elect

NEW YORK (UPI) — Father Thomas F. Stransky, C.S.P., a 39-year-old native of Milwaukee, has been elected President of the Paulist Fathers Community, the first missionary society of priests to be founded in the United States.

Father Stransky is the youngest priest to head the Paulist Fathers since Father Isaac Hecker, C.S.P., who in 1858 founded and became the first Superior General of the Paulists at the age of 38.

Samuelson Calls For Broad Changes In Structure Of Idaho State Police Force

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Don Samuelson, citing the fact that the state has only 101 patrolmen, called for broad changes in the structure of the Idaho State Police, including the addition of 135 state troopers.

The governor recommended that the "minimum manpower level" as outlined in an Idaho State Police management study be adopted by the second half of the 40th Idaho Legislature.

The study was conducted by a California research firm.

During the last session the governor asked for 50 more state troopers but was turned down.

Stating "the state police manpower shortage has become so serious that only drastic action can bring us up to standard," Samuelson predicted that funds will be available to meet the need without impairing the highway construction program in any manner. He reiterated that original estimates of income to the highway users fund for this biennium "will exceed original estimates by a safe $5 million."

Of the $5 million $1.5 million will go to the cities and counties and the $3.5 million, Samuelson suggested, can be used to meet state police needs and for highway projects.

The governor told the legislators that traffic safety continues to be one of the most serious problems facing the state.

The governor pointed to the shocking record total of 331 killed in traffic accidents during 1969 and said an estimated 212 million miles more were driven last year on Idaho highways than in 1968.

The governor also called for the legislature to:

- Re-enact the legislation lowering the permissible blood-alcohol content to .10 per cent from .15 per cent. A similar bill was passed in the last session but lost out on a technicality in a court fight.
- Update the state's driver licenses to meet federal standards.

— Add, in addition to the 138 state troopers, 20 radio dispatchers, 17 sergeants and 10 specialists and administrative personnel.

Samuelson made it clear to the lawmakers that the $1.5 million surplus in the users fund could not be used to increase the amount of federal highway construction funds available to Idaho.

Idaho's federal allocation is already fully matched under the current budgets," the governor said in his state-of-the-state message.

The governor's recommendations, especially those on increasing manpower, paralleled those in the state police management study.

But the figures on the increasing toll short of the "highest quality" plan recommended.

The highest quality level called for the addition of 226 state troopers.

The Samuelson study was closely followed by the governor in his message.

It was pointed out that state police are responsible for covering 5,000 miles of highways in 41 counties. The average patrolman on a single shift has responsibility for 100 miles of widely varying road and traffic volume in an area of approximately 840 square miles.

As the governor speaks on traffic safety, the lawmakers had on their desks copies of the management study report.

Nixon Names Ambassador To Sweden

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today selected Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of Princeton (N.J.) Institute, to fill the long vacant post of U.S. ambassador to Sweden.

State Department officials said the Stockholm post is the last major ambassadorial position to be filled by the Nixon administration.

Holland, 54, an all-American football player at Cornell University in the late 1930s, will be nominated to succeed William W. Heath who left the post in Sweden effective Feb. 28, 1968.

The job had not been filled, partly because of tensions between Sweden and the United States over Stockholm's relations with North Vietnam and the fact that Sweden has become an asylum for a number of American military deserters.
