GOODING — A pickup truck and car collision a mile west of here on Highway 20 has claimed the life of a young Gooding housewife and put three other people in hospitals.

Dead is Mrs. Charles (Bonnie) Miller, 17, a Gooding High School senior. She was in a pickup truck with her parents-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. Gene Miller. Mr. Miller is in serious condition at Gooding Memorial Hospital and his wife, Marjorie, 62, is in critical condition at St. Alphonsus Hospital in Boise.

Another woman, Mrs. Bill (Virginia) Mink, the driver of the car, is in critical condition at the Boise hospital. Gooding County Sheriff Earl Brown said, "The road was clear for a half-mile in any direction. The vehicles came together at a high rate of speed. We don't know who was driving the Miller vehicle."

The accident happened about 12:45 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Miller's death was the third in the county in 1970, and the third in a little more than a 24-hour period.

Mrs. Miller died of head injuries. It was reported Mrs. Mink suffered head and chest injuries and has a broken arm and leg. Mrs. Gene Miller suffered severe cuts and several broken bones. Mr. Miller has severe cuts and a broken arm.

Sheriff Brown said the collision happened at the intersection of the highway and a county road.

All the people in the accident are from Gooding.

Insurance Guarantees Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers tracked the first satellite insured against the risks of rocket flight today and prepared to kick it into its final orbit above the Atlantic Friday.

The commercial communications satellite will remain covered by its $1.5 million insurance policy until "the ultimate 22,300-mile high" stationary orbit is achieved.

The spacecraft is owned by the Comsat Corp. and the 70 nations in the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium (Intelsat). Comsat's investment in the $115 million mission is $61 million and the insurance protects its stockholders against 75 per cent of the potential losses.

If all goes well, the first satellite launched by the United States this decade will be ready for business in the booming transatlantic communications service Jan. 25, able to relay 1,200 telephone conversations or four radio telecasts simultaneously.

It was launched by the space agency's 75th Delta rocket at the last possible moment Wednesday night when it appeared a troublesome rocket bank at the Bermuda Tracking Station was going to force the sixth launch delay in eight days.

But just as officials were preparing to call another postponement, the rocket was launched on schedule.

The Delta got off at 7:16 p.m. EST—the deadline for the night.

The Delta propelled the 644-pound, drum-shaped Intelsat-3 satellite into the current preliminary orbit ranging from an estimated 185 to 22,700 miles high.

Pat Nixon Is Surprised At Display Statue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon found herself on Wednesday as a museum never dreamed I would be here.

Nixon Orders Further Cuts In Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has told his budget advisers to make some more deep cuts in spending, apparently in an effort to head off the need for a tax increase this year.

The presidential order probably does many substantial new cuts, it could intensify the Democrats' election year criticism of the GOP administration places on education, welfare and urban problems.

White House Press Secretary Ronald Reagan said Wednesday Nixon had ordered a day Director Robert P. May to make "further substantial cuts."

Ziegler refused to say how much the tentative budget would cut. He said Nixon wants to cut Ziegler said earlier the budget would show a surplus.

Other administration sources said the budget, the first prepared from scratch by the Nixon administration, still will cost $240 billion for the first time in history. These sources said the cuts probably would be counted "in the billions, not the millions."

There were indications last week the budget would total about $203 billion with anticipated revenue as much as $5 billion less.

Following Nixon's budget cut order, one source said the chances of a tax boost had been lessened considerably.

Foreign Cars May Enter Steel Plant

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—The U.S. Steel Corp. is considering whether to allow foreign cars to be used in its Fairfield works was lifted Wednesday by Harlan Bullard, general superintendent of the plant.

The order, which went into effect Jan. 1, closed the door to imported cars driven by any of the 14,000 employees or by visitors.

"My decision was intended to give emphasis to my belief that those whose livelihood is dependent on domestic steel-making are served best by using American-made automobiles made of domestic steel," Bullard said.

"The publicity given to this action has already served to give considerable emphasis to this point, which I continue to feel is sound," he said.

The Alabama Consumers Association charged U.S. Steel with hypocrisy, since it uses imported iron ore in the Fairfield plant.

The United Steelworkers Union, AFL-CIO, supported the ban.

THE IDAHO THEATRE building will be demolished sometime in February as part of the Twin Falls downtown improvement project. The structure, built in 1915, was purchased recently by the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency. The property will be offered for sale at a public auction. James Kelsch, executive director of the agency, said it is hoped another building will be erected on the location.

Landmark To Disappear From Downtown Scene

Sometime in February a Twin Falls landmark will come down. The Idaho Theatre building will be nothing but a memory to movie fans by spring.

The planned demolition is all part of downtown improvement. The building was purchased recently by the Twin Falls Urban Renewal Agency at the Woodward Manor and hocked they way through problems dealing with improving the downtown area.

Financing was discussed, along with storm sewer systems and over all design.

City officials, members of the Urban Renewal Agency and downtown businessmen were present to review the downtown plans and whip the entire project into shape in order to present it to the coordinating committee on downtown improvement later this week.

Once the coordinating committee has had a chance to look at the plans, they will be forwarded to the Twin Falls City Council.

It is anticipated the council will approve the final plans now Monday night.

At that time, complete details on financing and the locations of various utilities, trees and recommendations on signage, curbs and gutters and other items involving downtown improvement will be explained.

Downtown improvement involves the cooperation of the city, Urban Renewal and downtown businessmen. Representatives of each of these agencies have been named to a coordinating committee and these individuals have been responsible for getting information to the people concerned.

Wednesday's meeting was a working session on downtown improvement, with the results to be finalized at the City Council meeting.

Senate Eyes Bill That Would Ban Drunken Hunters

By PAUL M. QUINN BOISE (UPI)—The Idaho Senate had before it today a bill from its Fish and Game Committee that would make it illegal to hunt or be in possession of a firearm while intoxicated.

The proposed law would make hunting while intoxicated a misdemeanor and calls for revocation of the right to hunt for a period of three years upon conviction.

The charged person would immediately have his license suspended. Persons arrested and convicted would be required to submit to a blood or urine test or face revocation, the same as is currently the case with Idaho drivers' licenses.

The bill sets the blood-alcohol percentage at .10 per cent. This is the same as is currently proposed for convictions for a motorist while intoxicated. A bill is ready for introduction to lower the alcohol content in the blood in cases involving driving while intoxicated from .15 per cent to .10 per cent.

Reds Rebuff Plea On War Prisoners

PARIS (UPI)—U.S. negotiator Philip C. Habib appealed to the Communists today to start negotiations without delay on American prisoners-of-war held by Hanoi. They shrugged off the appeal and countered with new charges that President Nixon is prolonging the war.

Habib, the only chief negotiator at today's 50th session, asked again for secret talks and again was refused. He said North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have blocked any serious negotiations at the talks which will be a year old Sunday.

The deputy Viet Cong and North Vietnam negotiators accused the United States "with one maneuver after another in order to downgrade this conference and sabotage it." And they repeated once more their demand for unconditional American withdrawal from Vietnam.

"Last week you went so far as to state that representations we have made here on behalf of the prisoners and their families are attempts on our part to downgrade these meetings," Habib said.

"What kind of sophistry is that? Why must the question of humanitarian treatment of prisoners in accordance with laws accepted almost universally be accepted as an over-all slogan? Your position is illogical and has convinced no one."

He asked for prisoners talks without delay and said "the prisoner question is a matter of human treatment for men on both sides who pose no threat and who no longer have the means to defend themselves."

It is also a question of human sympathy for the families of all those who are missing or captured—whether those families are in North Vietnam, in South Vietnam, in the United States or elsewhere."

His pleas fell on deaf ears. Deputy Viet Cong negotiator Dinh—Ba—Thi—enlaid—his statement another attempt to sabotage the meeting and said U.S. demands for withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from the south was a demand that the people of Vietnam hand over their country to the Americans.

Another measure ready for introduction would exempt property from taxation for persons being held as prisoners of war. Meantime, members of the House Judiciary Committee expressed concern about Idaho's rising traffic death toll and discussed ways to stop drunken driving.

Rep. William J. Brauner, D-Caldwell, suggested getting tough with persons who drive while their licenses are suspended and recommended forcing judges to impose a stiff penalty.

Rep. E. Don Copple, R-Boise, said he has asked legislation be drafted whereby truck drivers and others who must drive during working hours would be permitted to do so only at that time while being subjected to severe penalties otherwise.

Rep. Patricia McDermott, D-Pocatello, proposed legislation that requires proof of financial responsibility before a motorist can receive his car license tags. Copple recommended doubling the amount of required insurance under the Safety Responsibility Act.

Biafra Signs Pact To End Lengthy War

LAGOS (UPI)—The accessionist state of Biafra today signed an armistice agreement and pledged total loyalty to the Nigerian federal government with which it fought a 2½ year war.

The agreement was reached by Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the Nigerian leader, and a five-man Biafran peace delegation. Biafra had surrendered on Monday.

Gen. Philip Effiong, who took control of the rebel government after Gen. Odumegwu Ojukwu fled the country Sunday, signed on behalf of Biafra.

In brief remarks after the armistice signing, Gowon expressed thanks to the Biafran leaders for their cooperation and once again pledged the safety and welfare of all Nigerians.

Board members will have tickets available and they will also be on sale at the door each night. The jamboree will feature leading country music artists from this and several other areas and will be held in the CSI Fine Arts Auditorium.

Other financial matters discussed Wednesday included the county budget allocation and possible qualification by Harbor House under the Law Enforcement Planning Commission program.

Bad Weather Crimps Search For Jet Pilot

MOUNTAIN HOME AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—Searchers deterred by bad weather Wednesday renewed efforts today to reach the wreckage site of an RF-4C reconnaissance jet which crashed in the desert Tuesday night.

The aircraft crashed east of Boise and the navigator, Maj. Andy L. Heywood, O k e m a h, Okla., soon was rescued by a helicopter from the air base.

He was listed in good condition at the 67th Tactical Hospital with a broken leg and arm.

Searchers hoped today to determine the fate of the pilot whose name was withheld pending notification of his next of kin. An Ada County sheriff's deputy had reported seeing a flare soon after the crash but no sign of the pilot was found.

"I. A. Bauer, information officer at the air base, said the aircraft was located about five miles northwest of Danskin Peak.

Air Strike Is Delayed Until Friday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Union negotiators early today extended until 3 a.m. Friday, a strike deadline against Trans World Airlines, raising hopes a agreement would be reached on a new contract for 15,000 ground service personnel.

The 24-hour extension, announced minutes before the deadline by representatives of the International Association of Machinists, postponed a strike action that threatened to ground TWA's fleet of 214 planes serving nearly 40,000 passengers daily on domestic and international flights.

The main issue still in dispute were wages and work rules, he said, although he declined to disclose details.

William Beck Speaks To Area Chamber

BURLEY - William Beck, Burley, reported on the National Sugar Beet Growers Association meeting held recently in Denver, Colo., during the noon luncheon of the Burley Chamber of Commerce at Dryary's Cafe.

Mr. Beck has just completed his year as president of the national association. An average crop yield of 10 to 12 per cent is being sugar beet growers this year, Beck reported. Cassia County may have to cut acreage from about 24,000 to 21,000 acres of sugar beets this spring. The reason for the cutback in sugar beet acres is that for the past two years, growers have increased the surplus above 300,000 tons above the consumptive level. National acreage will be reduced about 225,000 acres.

He said the net return to growers each year is very consistent. Yield in this area varies from 15 to 18 tons and sugar content has improved slightly. Under the terms of the Sugar Act of 1934, payments to growers are technical and stable.

Beck praised the Sugar Act as one of the fairest pieces of regulatory legislation ever written by Congress. It protects beet growers, the processor and the public and has stood the test of many storms.

The national association took steps to bar mixing of a pure food like sugar with cyclamates which are under stress with the National Food and Drug Administration.

Other sugar beet growers of Cassia County which attended the national convention were Olen Lewis, Deeds, Melvin Parr, Melvin Garrard, Ray Freyhammer and John Adams.

The chamber meeting was conducted by Ernest Blinzer, president, who also introduced Mr. Beck.

Legion Post At Wendell Wins Award

WENDELL - The Wendell American Legion post is one of three posts in Idaho to exceed its all-time membership high in 1969.

Cmdr. George A. Serr was awarded a 100 per cent commander's badge and Adj. Lloyd Little an adjutant's badge for having reached this membership record. The post will receive a special certificate from national headquarters.

The Wendell post No. 41 exceeded its goal of 96 members by two, and is one of 12 out of the 91 posts in Idaho to receive a citation for exceeding its goal.

Cmdr. Serr presented a 20-year pin to Harry E. Fritts and William Wert; 15-year pin to M. M. Mink and 10-year pins to Charles Freeman, Glenn Harmon and Jack Smith.

Kenneth Von Weller and Lavert Kurtz were welcomed as new members. Plans were made for the annual pancake feed Jan. 24 at the Legion hall. Joe Sprenger is in charge of the event, which will be held from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. He will be assisted by William Grant, dining room, and Ted Taylor, work detail.

Officers will be elected at the Feb. 4 meeting with installation in March.

Sinatra's Aide Asks Injunction

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - An attorney for Frank Sinatra asked a federal district court judge Wednesday to issue an injunction preventing the state of New Jersey from forcing the singer to testify in an organized crime investigation.

The independent attorney Bruce Kutman presented arguments for the entertainer to William H. Hastie, chief judge of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals. The arguments were heard behind closed doors. There was no indication when Justice would rule.

Lawyers for the New Jersey State Investigation Commission (SIC) argued against the request. The SIC has subpoenaed the Hoboken-born Sinatra for information suffered in a car-motorcycle collision July 16.

Official Seeks Reappointment

BOISE (UPI) - A Taylor Clark is trying to get his job back on the State Board of Correction. In a lawsuit that challenges constitutionality of the law setting up the board which replaced him.

In a suit brought in Fourth District Court Wednesday, Clark said he resigned from the board last March because of "unpleasant" conditions of the documents and other promises.

The complaint contends he resigned the $1,000 a month post which under the "mistaken assumption" that the law creating the new board of correction was valid.

Lawsuit Against City Of Twin Falls Asking $1 Million Ordered Dismissed

A lawsuit against the city of Twin Falls asking $1 million in damages has been ordered dismissed by Fifth District Court Judge Theron Ward, records showed Wednesday.

The dismissal was ordered on motion of defense counsel. Also, former Mayor Egan Kroll has been removed as a defendant in the lawsuit filed by the same plaintiff.

Last Oct. 14, Revero Hansen filed suit against the city, asking the $1 million.

He also filed a suit against former councilman John Angerhauser, George Bennett, C. G. McIntyre and Robert Warberg and present Mayor Frank Feldman.

In a third suit, he asked $500,000 from Helmut Moss, a former councilman.

In the suit against each of the councilmen, he asked $25,000 damages each for a total of $150,000 damages.

Mr. Hansen, who lives in Ogden, Utah, alleged character assassination and said rumors were started by city officials because of his opposition to the passage of the city's water bond issue three years ago. He said the rumors alleged had moral conduct.

Judge Ward, in his order, said Idaho law stipulates an out-of-state plaintiff is required to post security, no more than $300, to assure the state will have some recourse if the plaintiff should fail in his legal action.

Notice was served on Mr. Hansen Nov. 14, but the plaintiff failed to post the security, it was reported.

Therefore, the $1 million suit against the city was dismissed, on motion of defense counsel, and Mr. Kroll was removed as a defendant in the suit against the councilmen in another motion.

However, the suit against Mr. Angerhauser, Mr. McIntyre, Mr. Feldman and Mr. Warberg is still on file in the District Court. There were no motions made in the suit involving Mr. Moss.

More Fishing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Alaska Congressman Wednesday called for a "unified national policy" for development of the ocean's potential in terms of fishing, oceanography, shipping and shipbuilding.

Rep. Howard W. Pollock, R-Alaska, expressed concern that the Nixon administration's maritime message was geared exclusively to merchant marine construction and operation, without any mention of the problems of the fisheries, which he described as "one of the most neglected areas" on the maritime scene.

"The decline of the U. S. fishing fleet has been just as severe as the decline of our deep-sea cargo fleet," Pollock told the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department.

Achieving Peace

As long as there is an American military man in another country with a gun slung over his shoulder there will be no peace.

The statement was made by a priest participating in a Christmas-Eve-to-New-Year's-Eve peace vigil in a church in Kent, Ohio, an eccumenical affair sponsored by local clergymen and laymen.

As a personal expression of opposition to the war in Vietnam, the sincerity of the priest's statement is not to be questioned. As a guide to United States foreign policy, however, it is as defective, dangerous and simplistic as its opposite extreme — the premise that world peace depends upon the right of American military power to intervene in the affairs of other nations, anywhere, any time.

But assuming that the statement has some truth to it, and accepting its implication that only the presence of Americans with guns slung over their shoulders stands in the way of peace in Vietnam, it is interesting to inquire just how and when this came about.

No Americans are involved militarily in Nigeria or Biafra, yet the ordeal of blood in those lands goes on and on.

No armed Americans were in the Middle East when war flared there in 1967 and 1968, nor are there any today as a running war continues between Arabs and Israelis.

No U.S. troops disturbed the peace of Prague in 1968, nor of Budapest in 1956.

No gun-slugging Americans taunted the Chinese to cross the Indian border in force in 1962. True enough, Indians and Pakistanis both used American weapons to kill each other in Kashmir in 1965, but no American fighting men fomented that war.

Only a handful of American advisers was in South Korea in 1950 (as in Vietnam before 1964), yet a major war broke out that year between North and South Korea.

It can be argued, of course, that massive American intervention in Korea prolonged that war and made impossible a final peace — on Communist terms — and reunification of the country — under Communist rule. Yet strangely, despite the fact that 50,000 U.S. soldiers have been stationed in South Korea for the past 17 years, there has been, if not real peace, at least an absence of full-scale war.

Similarly, Western Europe has prospered in peace since 1945, despite this country's maintaining several hundred thousand troops, atomic weapons, missile sites, and air and naval bases off that continent for all those years.

This leaves only Vietnam, which may or may not be a special case, which may or not be this nation's worst blunder, its costliest and most tragic foreign entanglement. History will decide.

But the history of the past quarter-century provides little support for the contention that "as long as there is an American military man in another country with a gun slung over his shoulder there will be no peace."

Unless the Kent priest is talking about a kind of peace that passeth our understanding.

Hanoi's Purpose

Hanoi's response to each new concession by the United States in an effort to end the fighting in Vietnam has been to reply the monotonous record of refusal even to bring serious peace negotiations while we have troops in Vietnam.

The history of Communist expansion proves that it is slowed only by force — never by weakness.

Our position has been weakened by imprudent anticipatory announcements of what we plan to do. This is called telegraphing one's punches.

The new regime in Hanoi has exhibited no more interest in a negotiated peace than did Ho Chi Minh.

Time after time, we have tried tests of North Vietnam's intentions and there has been no resulting change.

The only remaining significant concession possible would be total unconditional surrender. And there are many in the United States, including some highly vocal critics in the Senate, who are ready to make this final concession.

Russia has declined to do anything to help us out of our dilemma. They talk of desiring peace, but like Hanoi, insist we must first get out of Vietnam.

If we did abandon Vietnam to its fate, history and logic tell us that the South Vietnamese, bled white by a generation of war, could not defend itself against North Vietnam, supported by Russia and China.

We cling to the antiquated code of good sportsmanship in war. The Communists crush resistance with every weapon at their command.

Carrying the burden of defense for the free world is taxing the strength of the United States, chiefly because we do not exercise the ruthlessness of communism and never will, unless forced by a clear and present danger to the United States, itself.

This necessarily places a share of the burden upon the shoulders of other free nations, as well, and they have shown reluctance to face up to this reality.

MR. SPECTATOR

It's All About Bridge

While back Mr. Spectator had a few remarks to make about numerous Idaho communities which had a postoffice — as evidenced because they had a zip code assigned to them — but were so small that a lot of people never heard of them.

Among those mentioned was the community of Bridge. Mr. Spectator was pretty sure where it was but it had been so many years since he had been there that he wasn't sure. So he listed Bridge among other communities, little known.

This got a rise out of one Frank Olson, who just happens to be the postmaster at Bridge. Calling himself the "Lone Coyote" he points out in a letter that he has been in Idaho since 1895.

He adds that Mr. Spectator's trips through Idaho must have been at a rapid rate and on busy highways because Bridge has been just where it is for years and even now is only about one mile off the surfaced Highway 30.

And, being a good resident of Bridge and apparently a one-man Chamber of Commerce, he points out that when a cow gets killed on the highway in that area it is listed as being 15 miles south of Malta, and that when two men get killed in a car it's listed 16 miles southeast of Malta, and when several hundred acres of rangeland burns it is listed as being 16 miles southwest of Malta.

Mr. Spectator has a hunch that what Mr. Olson is driving at is that everything happens around Bridge but that the place never gets mentioned in the news.

Mr. Olson — the postmaster — will be glad to point out the places of interest if visitors will just trek 15 miles south of Malta.

In addition to the letter, the postmaster sent along a rather complete history of the Bridge area.

We will quote from the first paragraph of this history:

In the year 1875 a Leo A. Kirk received the appointment of postmaster, and as his residence was adjacent to a very rustic bridge constructed across Raft River enabling the freighters to go on their way between Kelton, Utah, and Boise, during high waters, the name Bridge for the postoffice seemed very fitting. Thus there has been a postoffice in the area close to the original site since that time.

"Mail coming from Boise and northern Idaho was brought to Conant then on to Bridge from Albion by team and buggy. A like conveyance started with mail from Kelton and exchanged passengers and mail, changing horses and starting the return trip.

"The Albion stage, 25 miles and return, Kelton 36 and return, was made daily except Sunday. A stage from Yost, Utah, met at Bridge three weekly, a like conveyance from Nat. Bi-weekly, usually horseback or cart."

So now you readers (and Mr. Spectator, too) know where Bridge is located.

Next time you're down that way drop into the postoffice and tell Mr. Olson that Mr. Spectator sent you. That's Mr. Olson of the Rusty Spur Ranch!

WASHINGTON — The excise tax, long condemned by tax theoreticians and partially abandoned by Congress, has suddenly been resurrected as President Nixon's best hope of escaping a ghastly fiscal predicament.

At this writing, final decisions on Mr. Nixon's first budget (for the fiscal year beginning July 1) are still open for last-minute change. But in late December following the adjournment of Congress, Mr. Nixon all but finally determined to put that budget in balance by proposing excise tax increases.

That step alone scarcely increases a balanced budget in fact as well as on paper, much less victory over runaway inflation. But it is at least a step away from the economic abyss skirted by Mr. Nixon in 1969.

While the President was preoccupied with Vietnam, his economic lieutenants grossly underestimated the inflation's staying power. The result was the calamitous decision to halve the 10 percent income tax surcharge on Jan. 1 and eliminate it entirely on July 1, thereby further stimulating an inflationary economy. Still more stimulation will come from the 15 percent increase in Social Security benefits added by Congress to the tax-reform bill over the President's protest.

Thus, when Congress adjourned shortly before Christmas, the Nixon economic team faced a perilous situation. The end of the surplus and the big Social Security boost threatened a substantial budget deficit for the fiscal year starting July 1. Even with unrealistically low spending estimates and a new user charge which show up as expenditure cuts in the budget (such as a postal rate boost) spending could not be kept below $200 billion.

Mr. Nixon's budget will be financed by overestimating revenue. That would have to assume a bloated gross national product — a confession of the Administration's failure to control inflation.

But sending Congress an unbalanced budget would be even more injurious to the Administration's credibility. More important, Dr. Arthur Burns, the new chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is looking for a sign of enough fiscal restraint to ease, if not dangerously tight, money policy.

The only answer: higher taxes. But both the President and Congress have just ruled out any increase in income tax. Consequently, some high Administration officials flirted with disaster by thinking about a wholly new "value-added" tax (in effect, a national sales tax) long advocated by conservative tax theoreticians as a come tax.

Early this year, the Treasury began its own research on the value-added tax and asked outside tax experts for guidance. Always interested in the program, Mr. Nixon himself was momentarily intrigued, leading to semi-official gossip last week that a relatively modest value-added tax would in fact be proposed to balance the budget.

But Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, Mr. Taxation on Capitol Hill, would fight to the death anything faintly resembling a national sales tax — a fact well known in the financial community. Consequently, the proposal would then be widely interpreted as nothing but a gimmick for flimsy budget balancing.

Richard Cohen, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury for taxation, was particularly firm against anything so venturesome now as value-added tax. The plea for the best and most painless route to a balanced budget was the excise tax. Cohen wants to restore some repealed excises on "luxuries" (jewelry, entertainment, perfumes, leather wares); some of his colleagues prefer hoisting existing excises (on telephone service, autos, cigarettes).

The ideal White House political strategy would be merely to threaten the higher taxes as a last resort. If the Democratic-controlled Congress nixed on Mr. Nixon's bare-bones budget (as it undoubtedly will), but it now appears that the excise tax proposal will be in the formal budget proposal late this month.

Although substantial opposition will come from segments of both Congress and the business community, it is the only tax increase with any chance for passage. For example, it could have backing from Mills, who only reluctantly went along with President Johnson in the heavy 1962 excise tax repeal. That prospect alone may permit Dr. Burns to loosen up on the money supply, to the immense relief of the stock market and the business community.

In an orderly world, a return to an equitable, difficult-to-administer excise taxes — after just adopting REDUCTIONS in the much more sensible income tax — may seem mid-winter madness. But contrasted to the fiscal follies in Washington the past five years, it could be the beginning of wisdom.

ANDREW TULLY

About Senator Bayh

WASHINGTON — Sen. Birch Bayh's contribution to the first week of 1970 was an announcement that he planned to reform the Federal Judiciary. The Democrat from Indiana, who led the fight against confirmation of Judge Clement Haynsworth for the Supreme Court, will propose stiff new financial and ethical rules for judges when Congress finally gets back to work Jan. 19.

Bayh has something there, all right. The Haynsworth case at least strongly suggested that too many judges are insensitive to conflicts of interest involving their pocketbooks. Unfortunately, however, the Federal qualification statute does not define precisely what constitutes a "substantial financial interest" in a case.

The Bayh bill would spell out this definition. It also would require that judges open their financial books for examination, thus insuring that the disqualification provision was adhered to.

So far, so good. But there remains the nice question of whether Senator Bayh is quite the disinterested agent voters would prefer to entrust with this campaign. When Bayh speaks of conflict of interest within the Federal Judiciary, he speaks as a legislator who himself enjoys the benefits of a substantial conflict — namely the financial support given him by labor unions in Indiana.

Labor, which opposed Haynsworth's nomination, contributed a whopping $30,000 to Bayh's successful 1968 reelection campaign. Under present law, there's nothing wrong with that, but the electorate is entitled to wonder whether that $30 grand influenced Bayh in his stand against Haynsworth. Without doubting Bayh's sincerity, it is still reasonable to conclude that a politician would be most unlikely to oppose the wishes of a bloc of voters which had given him such generous help.

Bayh has said he fought Haynsworth's nomination because of the judge's sensitivity to ethics. But labor opposed the judge on the grounds he was anti-labor, and presumably wasn't interested in why Bayh opposed Haynsworth, so long as Bayh did it. To be absolutely sure, labor got its $30,000 worth in that one.

In fairness to Bayh, he also has proposed that members of Congress make full disclosure of their sources of income. But for him, again, the trouble is that the chances of such a proposal being enacted by our legislative body are approximately those of Teddy Kennedy being elected Governor of the Year. It is playing it safe.

Congress is always willing to clamp down on Cabinet members, judges and assorted other appointive officers who own stocks or otherwise are involved in making an outside buck. But Bayh, in his campaign, was afflicted with a permanent blind spot as regards their own interest in oil wells, labor unions, railroads, TV and radio companies, and law firms doing business with the government.

Bayh's personal purity may be unquestioned, but he did not get elected to the Senate as a candidate unfamiliar with the political facts of life.

Thus, I am not overwhelmed when Bayh declares that "If a judge knew that every year he had to sit down and list for the public record all his assets and sources of income, he would more carefully consider any nonjudicial relationship he entered into." Sure he would.

But Bayh has not yet announced that he will resolve his own conflict of interest by refusing cases in which he is preferred by the special-interest labor unions. The day he does that, I will first go into a dead faint and, upon "resuscitation," join the nearest Bayh-for-President club.

BOSTON (NEA) — It is a sign of the times, perhaps, that in this period when there is a growing public cry that more must be done to combat crime, scientists are uncovering an increasing evidence that much of what we are doing in this field may be ineffective.

Sit in on a series of research sessions, as this reporter did recently. You will hear scientists say that they, of course, have their own personal beliefs on what is effective, and what it is not, as we all do. But they add that, when they study data on crime, on criminal repeaters and on prisons, they are forced to the conclusion that we do not have proof that probation for convicted criminals works — or that it doesn't, whether punishment (imprisonment) prevents crime or doesn't, whether psychiatric treatment, work training or other methods of prison rehabilitation bring results or not.

Some of these men doubt that we know how to effectively combat crime when it is committed. They say the criminal, or to gather the evidence required to convict the guilty.

Listen in on the research discussions and you will hear experts in the field report on what a small percentage of crimes are being reported. The figures on unreported crime aren't known, of course. But the guesses, based on local guesses, are fantastic.

These scientists will point out that, even for reported crimes, few culprits are caught and convicted.

A post station robbery, one research man says, is a much different matter in New York City than in the radically different climate of a Midwestern state such as Kansas. Pursue a snatching reviewed in quite a different light on the downtown streets of a major city on the one hand and in a small rural town on the other. Even second-degree murder, these men argue, is considered quite differently, depending on the community in which it occurs.

Others among these students of crime are concerned with the numbers of men in crime combines (Mafia), in politics or in other positions of power of one sort or another who escape punishment for crime through influence or the employment of skilled attorneys too expensive for most.

So, if heavy new spending should put large amounts of money into enlarged police departments, modern prisons and prison reform, on rehabilitation and better-manned parole systems (and if these men are to be believed) — it is not at all clear what results we will get.

All this, and as it sounds, does not suggest to this reporter that we should wring our hands in despair.

What it does mean is that we must (as we have learned to our sorrow in the field of poverty) move in slowly and carefully, with a host of pilot experimental programs and a great deal more study on what steps cause what results.

For one thing (and some men in the field consider it crucial), we must know what it is that causes some men to be criminal repeaters and some men not.

How to distinguish between the two — and how, helpfully, to convert a repeater into a man who will leave crime alone.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D. LSD Twice

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a teenager with a problem that bothers me deeply. I tried LSD twice a few months ago without realizing what might be happening.

Now I've read that it can cause chromosome damage. Will these two times that I took the drug in any way affect my children if I marry? I never again intend to use this drug. S.P.

You are the only one who has asked me this same question, but there isn't any answer. It's something you'll have to wait and find out.

It's one thing to demonstrate a breakage of chromosome pairs; it is quite another to know whether the cells from which babies are created will be defective, too.

The most comforting thought I have on the subject — and it isn't exactly gay — is that when cells are defective, nature's genius is miscarriage. But obviously that does not prevent all defects, because even some serious defects do not cause miscarriage. Witness the "thalidomide babies."

The current protest generation has chosen some topics worth protesting about, but it has also expressed itself by protesting in areas that are not very sensible. The attempt to justify drugs is one of them.

I suspect that the tragedy of Art Linkletter's daughter has had its impact — but the disclosure of chromosomal damage from LSD may be having even more. Young people who felt that they had a right to "live their own lives" were suddenly confronted with the possibility that they might be playing havoc with the lives of their children.

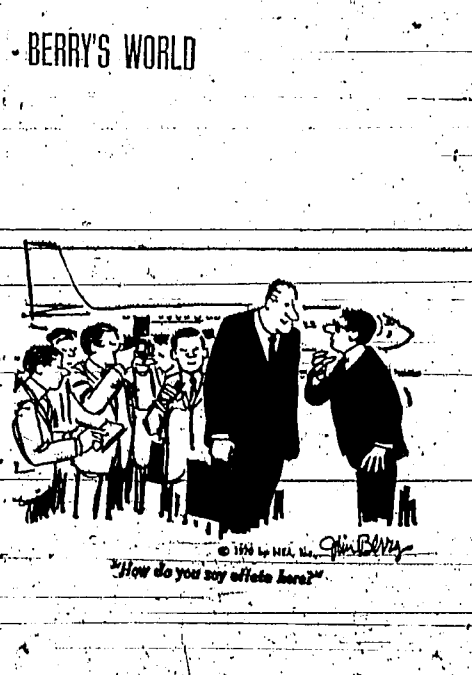

Whether LSD (and other drugs) either will or may cause birth defects is a question without a positive answer. For all I know, there may never be a positive answer, but for me it is enough to know that powerful drugs of any sort are not totally predictable.

Note to Mrs. G.H.: Sorry, but I make it a fixed rule not to disclose the names or addresses of people who send questions to me.

Note to Mrs. W.C.A.: The effective treatment for histamine headaches is desensitization by injection of tiny amounts of histamine, gradually increased until you acquire some degree of tolerance to histamine.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

How do you say "LSD" here?

Report On Idaho Power Is Released

The Idaho Power Co. report Wednesday it proposes to invest about $1.5 billion in additional service facilities during 1970 as it enters a new decade in which the energy requirements of its customers are expected to increase by nearly 70 per cent.

The construction budget was announced by Idaho Power President Albert Carlson in a review of the company's 1969 operations and its plans for the new year.

Mr. Carlson said more than $6.7 million will be spent for production facilities and transmission lines and substations in 1970, with some $8.7 million being used for distribution lines and substations and other service facilities.

The year's expenditure, he pointed out, is part of a $20 million investment that the company will be required to make by the end of 1973 for generating plants, lines and substations to supply growing demands on its interconnected system.

"Our construction plans are based on reliable forecasts that the needs for electricity for essential supplies of electricity will increase sharply during the next 10 years," the utility president said.

He said the forecasts indicate that Idaho Power's system load will amount to an annual total of about 9 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity by 1975 and to more than 11.7 billion kilowatt-hours by 1980.

The amount of energy that the company will be called on to provide by 1980 is 22 per cent higher than last year, Mr. Carlson said, noting that its 1969 system load was more than 6.9 billion kilowatt-hours.

The utility president repeated his earlier assertions that Idaho Power cannot carry out its "absolutely essential" expansion plans without the rate increase it has asked the regulatory agencies of Idaho, Oregon and Nevada to approve.

"These increases, which are only the third Idaho Power has requested in its history, are imperative to improve the company's earnings so that we can compete for the large amounts of financing that will be required for our expansion," Mr. Carlson said.

Idaho Power has told the state regulatory agencies in its applications and in hearings that inflation has increased the company's operating costs to record levels.

At the same time, according to the utility, its average revenue per kilowatt-hour from general business sales of electricity has decreased from 1.15 cents in 1963 to one cent in 1969.

"An increase in our rates is essential at this time if we are to continue to fulfill our obligation to provide our customers with adequate, reliable service at the lowest possible cost," Mr. Carlson declared.

Quarantine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal hog cholera quarantines have been lifted from parts of three counties in Missouri and North Carolina, where officials said they now find no trace of the livestock disease.

The freed areas include western portions of Worth County, Mo.; western portions of Cumberland County, N.C.; and eastern parts of Wilson County, N.C. Other portions of the counties remain under quarantine to prevent spread of hog cholera, officials said.

Budget Up Half-Million, But Won't Hurt Taxpayers

Tentative 1970 budget figures for Twin Falls County show just over a half-million dollars more will be spent in the coming year than in 1969, but most of it will come from fees and special revenue, rather than from the pocket of the county taxpayer.

Harold Lancaster, county recorder and budget officer, released tentative budget figures Wednesday showing the 1970 total budget can be no higher than $4,593,794. This is $500,114 over the total $4,093,680 budget of 1969.

A permanent 1970 budget will be adopted the second Monday of next month and it is possible several items will be dropped or decreased before that time.

Under the tentative budget, salaries may not increase, but it may be trimmed, which allows county commissioners more time to discuss a number of items still in question.

Mr. Lancaster said there is a general increase in all departments and such things as salaries, 1970 elections, the court reform, a special ad valorem valuation fund established by the Idaho Legislature, state retirement program, insurance rate increases, new building program for the county, a new state requirement for solid waste disposal and other legislative actions will cost the taxpayers of all counties a bit more in 1970.

County commissioners set a good example by reducing their own budget from $42,510 in 1969 to $32,476 for 1970, thanks to a small surplus at the end of 1969.

Two items account for most of the total increase. The county has budgeted $200,000 for replacement of the grandstand at the county fairgrounds, a $200,170 more in the hospital budget. Both of these items will be largely carried by income outside of tax revenue.

In the case of the grandstand, at least $200,000 is expected in insurance payments from the old stands which were destroyed by fire. Hospital increases will come from fees charged by the establishment. Tax dollars requested by the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, Mr. Lancaster said, are the same as for the previous year.

In analyzing the budget figures, Mr. Lancaster said it will meet restrictions of House Bill 304. This bill, he said, requires taxing units to certify their budgets in dollars rather than levies.

This is a good change, he said, but the four-per cent limitation of the bill imposed on taxing

News Of Record

MINIDOKA COUNTY District Court
Ron Enders, 22, charged with grand larceny, waived his preliminary hearing and pleaded guilty when he appeared before Judge Sherman Bellwood. Judge Bellwood ordered a pre-sentence investigation before passing judgment. Enders is committed to the custody of the Minidoka County Sheriff's office in lieu of posting a $500 bond.

Larry Ramos Trujillo, 18, pleaded innocent to a felony charge of attempting to pass a forged instrument. No date has been set and Trujillo is in custody in lieu of posting a $500 bond.

Paul Wilkenon, 20, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of marijuana, and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Wilkenon is presently free on bond.

Units is not realistic and certainly the state of Idaho does not limit its expenditures to this amount.

Since the enactment of the "tax cap," Mr. Lancaster said, "we have not had the lower tax as promised, but instead have experienced an increase each year."

"I believe we should demand the legislature eliminate the eight mill general school tax and replace it with sales tax revenue. For taxpayers in Twin Falls County alone, this would mean a reduction of about $500,000 a year," he said.

Mr. Lancaster noted the audit of the budget shows a deficit of about $7,000 to cover court reform costs, although some counties are budgeting as much as $20,000 for this.

Election budget for 1970 is $40,000, a major increase because it will be an election year while 1969 was not.

Budgets for each department according to 1970 figures, and those for the previous year, include:

Prosecutor, $73,424; $77,045, a sizeable reduction, but the new budget does not include $24,550 established for ad valorem under the assessor's director and formerly known as re-evaluation; Clerk, Auditor and Recorder, $83,775; $50,250, up largely due to court costs; County Commissioners, $33,476; and $42,510; Coroner, $4,350 and $3,400; County Agents, $16,035 and $15,675 salary increases.

District Court is down slightly to $28,650 compared to $28,100; Elections, $70,222 and $70,222; Janitor, $78,600 and $80,880, down due to completion of the increased parking area and other improvements budgeted for in 1969; Justice Court, $26,150 and $24,300; Probate Court, $7,025 and $6,500 with both courts increases due to salaries, operating costs and court reform.

The Prosecuting Attorney's budget is $37,520, compared to $38,040, with travel expenses reduced. Sheriff's Department, $150,340 and $148,500, salary increases; Treasurer's budget, $45,435 compared to $35,680 including about a $10,000 increase with legislation requiring that office to collect personal property tax in the future as well as all state and federal taxes. Zoning, down slightly at $17,882 compared to $18,860 and General Expense budget $115,400 compared to $80,800 to cover increased insurance rates, social security and the state retirement fund, a $1-million item of $20,000 which may or may not be included in the permanent budget.

Public Defense is set at $29,800 compared to $25,000 budgeted and $35,000 expended in 1969; Wood, $100,000 and $79,222 and $72,000; Poor Fund, $181,500 compared to $170,400 including an increase of $13,500 for Harbor House which was transferred to this budget from the general fund.

Public Health increased from $46,000 to $56,740 because of new legislative requirements on solid waste disposal which has been passed on to the individual counties.

Parks and Recreation, $24,500 compared to $20,850, an increase which should be offset by matching funds; Airport $50,000 the same as the previous year; County Fair $307,850, $114,100, up because of the building requirements and County Hospital, $2,800,523 compared to $2,680,350.

Mr. Lancaster said the tax revenue portion of the hospital budget will actually show a levy reduction because of almost $10,000 in levying phase-out money which will be realized and counted as tax dollars.

Physician Says AMA Conceals Information On Birth-Pill Hazard To Promote Its Use

By WILLIAM R. MEAD
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A private physician suggested today the American Medical Association (AMA) may have helped keep from the public information on the hazards of its birth control pills and conceal their alleged dangers.

Dr. Edmund R. Kassouf, of Cranford, N.J., said he understood the prestigious AMA Journal refused to publish articles linking oral contraceptives with stroke and cervical cancer.

distorted," in pamphlets published by pill manufacturers, with no clampdown by the FDA.

Dr. Rhy Hertz, assistant medical director of the Biological Division, Population Council of Rockefeller University in New York City, said the FDA gave birth control pills an "indulgent endorsement" more than 10 years ago because of the "widely recognized urgency of the population problem."

and Welfare Secretary Arthur Flemming to order all poultry producers to stop the use of estrogens for the fattening of chickens," Hertz said.

He said the order complied with a law prohibiting "any substance in foods which is known to produce cancer in animals," the same legal basis for the recent exclusion of cyclamates.

Nixon Orders Further Cuts In Budget For Fiscal 1971

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has ordered "further substantial cuts" in the budget for fiscal 1971 in an effort to curb steadily rising prices, the White House reported today.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President decided during a three-hour meeting with the cabinet Tuesday that more "substantial" economies were needed to fight inflation.

At the start of the Tuesday meeting, the tentative budget for the new fiscal year, according to Ziegler, already was in balance with expectation of "some surplus."

That meeting led to the President's decision to order even further reductions.

The first truly official picture of the extent of the new economies probably will be found in Nixon's State of the

Cut Your Own Taxes, Chap. 10. Taxes Should Be Deducted On Income Tax Returns

By RAY DE CRANE
Distributed by Enterprise Press

Deductible taxes on your federal income tax return are generally restricted to real estate taxes, state and local sales taxes, state and local income taxes and personal property taxes.

Some taxpayers err in totaling their monthly mortgage statement and listing that as the real estate taxes for the year. Your actual real estate tax payment could be more or less than that total.

Your monthly contribution to taxes goes into a reserve fund to provide payment when the taxes are due. The real estate tax figures to be reported on your return are those payments actually made to the taxing authority by you, or your bank or savings and loan institution in your behalf.

If you don't pay your real estate taxes directly, your mortgage lending firm should be able to supply you with that figure.

The amount that may be claimed for gasoline taxes depends upon the gasoline tax actually in your state and the number of miles driven last year.

State gasoline tax charts are printed in the instruction manual mailed to you together with your income tax forms by Internal Revenue Service. Consult your state chart for the effective tax per gallon and then check the mileage chart for the allowed total tax.

Similar charts are provided in your manual of instructions for state sales taxes. These charts provide a flat allowance depend-

'Credit Cardsmanship' May Lead To Use Of 'Super Card'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The news that it will be possible to pay your income tax by credit card in several states this year was regarded by many of us fiscal grasshoppers as impeccability's finest hour. And with some justification.

Old Uncle Sammy, while a prodigious warrior himself, had always demanded cash on the barrelhead from his improvident nephews, which made April 15 a day of painful reckoning.

By adopting a charge-a-tax plan, even on a limited scale, the Internal Revenue Service has finally ended its holdout against deferred liability and recognized the principle of postponing the inevitable, which is a blessing.

But I say to you that this is by no means the ultimate in credit cardsmanship. Ever the higher-brain-through-the-sheets, if I'm any judge of accountancy reprints.

I say this because credit cardology is the last frontier of the American free enterprise situation. Consider these facts: Thanks to mergers, bankruptcies, fire sales, collusion and other commercial maneuvers, competition in other fields is steadily diminishing. But it's still dog-eat-dog among the credit card promoters.

Further substantial cuts in the budget as submitted by Director (Robert) Mayo.

Ziegler told newsmen Tuesday, before the new decision had been made, that the budget could be expected to show a surplus.

There was a time just a few years ago when you had to pay a fee to belong to a credit club. The assessment was soon dropped and free credit cards began to arrive unsolicited in the mail.

Sometimes I am unable to decide which card to use, so I charge a single purchase on two or three cards just to make sure I'm getting best credit available.

The next step, as I see it, will be for some credit card promoter to start giving us trading stamps for us to use his card. Followed by:

"Pay your bills with super charge, the all-purpose credit card that brings you a $10 monthly bonus if used for two or more purchases during any given 30-day period."

Needless to say, all of us will soon switch to super charge, and then it will be up to the promoter of ultra charge to come forth with a computer offer.

It is at this point that ultra charge likely will hit upon the ultimate in credit card financing. Ultra charge will bring out a credit card that you can use to charge what you owe on your other credit cards.

And that, fellow spendthrifts, is what I call utopia.

"Happy Holly" Houfburg To Be "Emcee" For Ninth Annual Country Music Jamboree

By NORMA HERZINGER
Times-News Social Editor

The most popular music trend today is toward country-western, and Magic Valley fans have a great treat in store when they attend the ninth annual Country Music Jamboree.

National television has well-known entertainers introducing country music almost every night of the week and the jamboree will have Idaho's "Mr. Country Music" himself, Holland (Holly) Houfburg, doing the "emcee" honors.

Country music and Holly are synonymous in the minds of Idaho people. He is a perfect master of ceremonies could not have been chosen. His knowledge of the entertainment field makes him a valuable addition to any program," according to officers of the Magic Valley Country Music Association.

Holly has many outstanding awards and national recognition citations to his credit in the entertainment field, including the coveted "Mr. D. J.—U.S.A." award several years ago presented by the board of directors of the Country Music Headquarters Co. in Nashville, Tenn.

He began his career at the early age of 16 as a radio sound technician at a radio station in Chicago. After spending five years there, he moved to Kansas City, Mo., where he worked in radio and advertising. He spent some time in other midwestern communities and in Hollywood before beginning his entertainment career in Magic Valley in 1959.

Magic Valley residents have been awakened for years by the familiar sounds of Holly's "Sun Up" radio show, his morning radio show at a most groggy early hour, with his "off-the-cuff" announcing and cheery "Good Morning All." It's always been a mystery to many how anyone could be so exhilarating at 5 a.m. and 4 p.m. He's back again at 12:15 p.m. introducing top country-western tunes of the day. His personal friendship with many of the well-known recording artists has made it possible for many outstanding programs featuring Nashville top personalities to be presented in Magic Valley.

Dick Shaffer is general program director for the jamboree, assisted by Rudy Williamson and Junior Walden, all members of the Magic Valley Country Music Association. Ray Crumbliss and Mr. Jack Cox are publicity co-ordinators.

The jamboree is set for 8 p.m. Feb. 9 and 10 at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center Auditorium. Entirely different shows will be presented each night of the jamboree. The 11 Magic Valley bands participating and also featuring Carletta Cox and the King's Harvesters.

Several Idaho personalities have been invited as special guests, including Diana Hopper, the current Miss Idaho, who will appear Feb. 10 with Ray Crumbliss and The Saints. It is hoped Gov. and Mrs. Don Samuelson will be in attendance.

The Feb. 9 program will be presented by The Saints, the Drifters, Country Cousins, Last Resorts, the Sinners and the Outcasts. Appearing on the Feb. 10 program are the Walden Brothers, the Melody Masters, the Saints, the Young'uns, Romedovos and the Millits.

All proceeds from the jamboree will go to the Magic Valley Harbor House. Harbor House board members, along with other interested persons, are in charge of ticket sales and promotion. They will be assisted by Civilian members in ushering, etc., the night of performance.

Tickets can be obtained from our music store throughout Magic Valley, from any of the participating musicians or at the door the night of the shows.

Later School Opening Is Urged By Minico Parents

RUPERT — The Minidoka country school board has been urged to postpone opening of the school next fall until after Labor Day.

About 25 persons attended the board meeting this week and several voiced opposition to the opening before Labor Day because, according to Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, spokesman, with the country fair held just prior to Labor Day, many 4-H students are unable to show their projects because school is not dismissed.

She urged that the school opening be delayed until after Labor Day this year to see how the schedule worked out. Board members noted that 180 school days are required by state law and thus school could not be dismissed until mid-June if classes do not begin until September.

By this time, they added, many of the summer jobs for high school students are already taken. Supt. Camden Meyer said a later starting date has been discussed since the completion date for the new junior high school buildings is set for Sept. 1. No action was taken on the matter.

Trustees also:

—Hired Mrs. Altha Seamons as third-grade teacher at Heyburn, replacing Mrs. Re-na Asson.

—Voted to assist financially with a class presently held three times weekly in Rupert for the mentally and physically trainable handicapped, pending State Board of Education approval. The program, conducted by the State Board of Health, has 15 enrollees, 11 of whom are school age.

—Agreed to obtain copies of new science and math textbooks tentatively selected by the teaching committee for next year's study and to make copies available to those interested in screening the materials.

—Agreed to meet with the Paul City Council soon to decide whether to install to a pressure system or use the lift stations in sewer and water installation at the Paul Junior High School.

—Set a special meeting Jan. 26 to continue a discussion on the school bus routes and class schedules for the coming year.

Drug Talk

Robert (Buz) Goertzen, Bureau of Drug Control, State Board of Pharmacy, will address the local faculty and the public at 7 p.m. Monday at the O'Leary Junior High School auditorium.

Prior to his appointment to the Bureau of Drug Control, Mr. Goertzen served on the Boise police force for five and a half years and served in the U.S. Air Force until 1958.

School officials said a 11 school personnel are expected to attend this meeting and the public is urged to attend.

Brandt Asks Reds To Help Cut Tensions

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Willy Brandt invited the Communist rulers of East Germany Wednesday to join him in open negotiations to bring about a "fraternal relationship" between the two states, now divided by a "bleeding border."

East German reaction to his proposal will determine whether Bonn takes part in the European security conference demanded by the Russians and their Communist allies, the chancellor told parliament.

Brandt outlined his policy aims in a State of the Nation address to the Bundestag (lower house of parliament), his first since taking office in October.

"It would be in the interest of an agreement if there is a direct exchange of views about all questions interesting to and connected with both sides before one attempts to formulate details," Brandt said. "This exchange of views—or these negotiations, however one wants to describe them, could start soon."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock prices continued sliding Thursday with blue chips among the heaviest losers. Volume was moderate.

Shortly after 1 p.m. the S&P marketwide indicator was off 0.27 per cent. Of the 1,481 issues crossing the tape, 889 fell and 406 advanced.

The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chip industrials was off about 4 points. Volume of just under 7 million shares was only slightly ahead of Wednesday's pace.

Some election-related clouds were centered around strength. Steels, autos, chemicals, aerospace issues and rails were generally weaker. Airlines, among the most actively traded issues, were mixed. Glimmer issues moved in both directions with oil companies hitting some recent favorites.

Gunman Kills Two, Wounds 3 In Rampage

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Five persons were shot, two fatally, in a rampage Tuesday by a gunman police believe is a paroled rapist wanted on 18 counts of felony.

Police identified the suspect as Raymond S. Scott, 36, an animal handler in the veterinary school on the Davis campus of the University of California. Davis police said Scott was wanted for attempted murder, assault with a deadly weapon, four counts of rape and three counts of kidnapping all during a 26-hour period last weekend. He was paroled from Folsom State Prison in May 1968 after serving a sentence for rape.

Tuesday's shootings occurred in the Inglewood district residence where a man was killed and his wife was wounded during Tuesday's outbreak. The briefcase contained newspapers and note paper, with such phrases as "Death to Pigs."

Police said he was identified as Cecilio Cifino, 50, and Yolanda Danelli, 30, whose body was found in her apartment near the Cifino home during a police search for the gunman.

Police Capt. William Conroy said Cifino apparently struggled with the robber at his home, overturning chairs and tables. He was fatally shot in the chest and abdomen.

Cifino's wife, Dominec, was shot in the back as she ran from her home screaming for help. She was hospitalized in critical condition.

Authorities said the gunman ran down the street, shooting as he went. He fired several shots in an unsuccessful attempt to commandeer a car, shot a woman in the arm when she stepped out of her home to investigate the noise, and critically wounded Dudley Kennedy, 40, moments later.

The gunman next burst into the home of Mrs. Danelli, mother of three, fatally wounding the woman after demanding money, and fled. Police found no sign of the gunman in a house-to-house search.

Nixon Friend Gets New Job At $36,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Murray M. Chotiner, a sometimes controversial political planner and friend of President Nixon, has been given a $36,000-a-year White House advisory job by the President.

The 60-year-old California lawyer and public relations man, who was shunted into a relatively obscure government job after Nixon took office, will become a special counsel to the President.

Chotiner handled publicity for Nixon's first congressional campaign in 1946 and was a key figure in Nixon's 1950 Senate campaign against Democrat Helen Gahagan Douglas, which prompted charges of smear tactics from the Democrats.

Chotiner managed Nixon's 1952 vice-presidential campaign and was a special assistant to Nixon's 1956 campaign manager, Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

Chotiner, who has a law degree from Southwestern University, Los Angeles, has been filling the job of general counsel for the office of special representative for trade negotiations.

THE "LIGHT OF PEACE" DIAMOND, recently acquired by the Zalo Corporation, will be donated to the cause of peace. The 435-carat diamond, 14th largest in the world, measuring approximately two inches high, will be cut up into small diamonds and one large 160-carat pear-shaped diamond expected to be worth $3 million to $5 million. It won't be sold, but funds derived from its exhibition will be devoted to the cause of peace, according to the firm. Former U.N. ambassador Arthur Goldberg will head a committee which will decide how accrued exhibition funds and a $250,000 Zalo family grant will be spent. (UPI telephoto)

Former 'Troublemaker' Visits Judge Who Imprisoned Him, But With A Difference

CHICAGO (UPI) — James Earl Ray visited his old jailer, Judge Saul Epton, who had sent him to jail 43 times in four years.

Hobson was one of the worst troublemakers the judge had ever seen. But the judge knows talent when he sees it, and what he saw Tuesday did not surprise him.

Hobson, 24, was back from Vietnam, a hero. The road to Vietnam and back was a little longer for the West Side youth who once headed one of Chicago's biggest black youth street gangs.

Hobson was an orphan. He lived in foster homes from the time he was 2, spent some time in the Boys' Club, and lived near Rockford, Ill., and once spent 22 months in the Audy Home in Chicago because nobody knew where else to put him.

It was no surprise he grew up tough and he grew up mean, and that he gravitated to a gang. He became a vice president of the Conservative Vice Lords, a West Side gang of about 1,000 members. His nickname was "Caveman."

He won that name for his refusal to fight with weapons. He was tough enough not to need any. Beginning in 1963, Hobson was brought before Epton many times on various charges: burglary, battery, theft, mob action. Forty-three times he went to jail.

"I just can't tell you what a troublemaker this fellow was," the judge said. "He was the leader of a gang of 3,000 members and I felt he was responsible for most of the activities."

The judge managed to get Hobson inducted into the Army on Aug. 4, 1967. Hobson became a sergeant and won eight medals—two of them Bronze Stars—and two presidential commendations. Once, he and a lieutenant—the only officer left alive—rallied their troops and evacuated them under heavy fire.

Fighting where a weapon is needed gave Hobson a "perspective" on his gang days. "More than half my friends from the old days are dead now," he said. "The gang life isn't a good life for anybody, but they aren't given a chance for any other life—the ghetto is the only life they've ever known."

Epton said he was proud of Hobson. "He had real leadership, just in the wrong direction. I knew he'd wind up a hero or in the Stars-and-two presidential commendations. Once, he and a lieutenant—the only officer left alive—rallied their troops and evacuated them under heavy fire.

Another measure considered by the committee would raise the fee of $2 from $1 to the fee for certified copies of Department of Vital Statistics records.

In the near future, Chairman Rudy Andersen, R-Boise, said, the committee will take up a bill to raise the fee for licensing of morticians.

British Prosperity Offers Problems, Smiles For Wilson

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Agency
Britain's spectacular economic recovery has given Prime Minister Harold Wilson at least one rather pleasant problem and several pressing and less pleasant.

The country's balance of payments surplus began zooming upward last spring, continued through the summer, and fell and is now running at an estimated rate of more than $2 billion a year, the highest in British history.

It gives Wilson a happy thought that his Labor party's fortunes may also have turned the corner after months of steady losses to the opposition Conservatives—and that early elections might be in order to cash in on the gains.

Speculation centers around Oct. 1. Wilson is not required to hold elections until the spring of 1971.

Unpleasant problems also arise as result of Britain's new prosperity.

After years of austerity the British people want a share in it.

Facing the government with pay demands ranging up to 50 per cent for seamen are nurses, civil servants, dockers, auto mechanics, chemical, rail and post office workers.

Altogether they total some 2.5 million workers.

The government is relaxing its wage controls but it fears the new demands could trigger an inflationary spiral starting at the gains. It is urging unions and management to hold annual increases within 2.5 and 4.5 per cent.

The problem is several-fold, British devaluation of the pound, making British goods more competitive in foreign markets, accounted for much of the gain in the balance of payments. But British unions still are undisciplined and British industry is inefficient in many ways.

Any significant rise in the price of British goods could reverse today's pleasant trend.

Perkins as approving to him is the poor reception his planning project—welfare reform—has received in Congress.

Finch was the glamour guy in the administration's early days last year.

But the lines in his handsome face are more prominent these days. His shoulders sag a little.

Finch long has been disenchanted with the politics of Health, Education and Welfare. The bitter defeat he absorbed in pushing Dr. John H. Knowles of Boston as the government's top health officer was a sobering experience.

Perkins as approving to him is the poor reception his planning project—welfare reform—has received in Congress.

Finch was the President's architect for the family assistance plan which would assure every family of year at least $1,000 a year. It would double federal welfare costs.

This revolutionary proposal is being threatened with death by invisibility at the hands of Congress apparently too preoccupied with other matters even to offer alternative reform proposals of its own.

Finch Tuesday told the National Press Club.

"I would estimate the odds in the congress to be running against any type of fundamental welfare reform right now."

Stanford Coeds Can Get 'Pills'

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Stanford University physicians can issue contraceptives to single coeds, according to school health director Dr. James B. McClenahan.

He said Tuesday that the university's health service doctors now have the same relationship with respect to student patients as all other community physicians.

Campus doctors previously provided contraceptive prescriptions only to married students or to those whose relationships were imminent. All others were referred to private physicians or community clinics.

Idaho Congressmen Seek Loans To Help

Idaho Ranchers Hit With Beet Infestation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Idaho Congressmen James McClure and Orval Hansen Tuesday asked for a review of emergency loan laws to help ranchers in southern Idaho stricken with some 30,000 acres of infested sugar beets.

The Idaho Republicans asked the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service for the review.

The congressmen urged the review Tuesday at a meeting with Farmers Home Administration and ASCS officials. McClure and Hansen have contacted FHA administrator James V. Smith concerning the plight of the sugar beet ranchers by laws was urged by the congressmen.

The infestation falls to qualify under a "natural disaster," an FHA administrator said, from meeting, even though the infestation is a direct result of unnatural weather conditions in southern Idaho.

Marvin Gelles of the ASCS said sugar beet growers would qualify as usual for abandoned acreage under the Sugar Act.

'No Conspiracy'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—U.S. Attorney Cecil Poole said Tuesday he finds "good and bad" in the Black Panther Party-Davy-Bruce case. He said it is as a threat to overthrow the government of the United States.

"I find it difficult to believe that a group of men who have succeeded in getting their members elected, jailed or killed shows any real danger of overthrowing the country," said Poole, who leaves office in 18 days.

He said he was willing to pay for it because he liked her," the judge said.

Yablonski Aide Cites Need To Investigate Mine Union

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The attorney for slain unionist Joseph A. Yablonski, has accused Labor Secretary George P. Shultz of contributing to his death by not heeding repeated appeals to investigate alleged corruption and fraud in the United Mine Workers (UMWA).

"The Yablonski family and the Yablonski supporters believe—and I share their belief—that the failure of the Labor Department to investigate the illegals in the UMWA elections contributed to the death of Jack Yablonski," Joseph L. Rauh said in a letter to Shultz.

Yablonski, his wife and daughter were murdered Dec. 30 at their home in Clarksville, Pa.

"Your repeated failure to intervene could not but have encouraged the most lawless elements to believe that the Yablonski group was defenseless," Rauh said.

Shultz last week ordered his department to investigate the election, which Yablonski lost to incumbent W. A. "Tony" Boyle. But Rauh said Tuesday the department is not pressing the probe with enough vigor and is still showing "indifference" to the scandalous conditions inside the UMWA.

In response, the Labor Department said 200 men working in 21 towns have been assigned to the investigation.

"Some of the material in Mr. Rauh's letter is relevant to the investigation to the UMWA department," said a department spokesman.

Rauh urged that a federal task force—encompassing the Labor and Justice Departments, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Internal Revenue Service and other agencies—be created to investigate both the election as well as other alleged corruption in the UMWA.

Rauh said he tried to present his request personally to Shultz Monday, but was told by Labor Department collector Lawrence Silberman to "go through normal channels."

Rauh said it was time to forget about normal channels and "get down to the hard reality of whether the UMWA is to continue to be above the law."

"CAT SAND" HELPS
BOSTON (UPI)—The Massachusetts Division of Un-American Activities Association (AAA) has come up with something new to give automobiles real tiger traction in icy weather, kitty gravel. The granular substance used in the cat's litter basket can be scattered on slick places to give your car traction to get started and is much better for the job than sand.

Tommy Smothers, Believed A 'Changed Man' After Exile, Plans 'Fun-Type' Special With Brother Dick On NBC

By VERNON SCOTT, UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Among the most uplight people on the planet last year was Tommy Smothers, the more hyperthyrical of the brothers Smothers. This year, at least in the first few weeks, Tommy is a changed man.

After battling with CBS, the FCC and other opponents usually superior in weight, Tommy has regrouped, calmed down and matured more than somewhat.

He and brother Dick will star in an NBC special Feb. 16 titled

"The Return of the Smothers Brothers."

The duo, who had been forgotten for the time being, "We're going to have fun," said Tommy from his new Beverly Hills headquarters, mod to a faint. "There'll be something about the Bill of Rights, with Ben Franklin, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and others."

"We hope to be funny and entertaining," Dick said.

The boys were axed by CBS last April 4 in a dispute over the content of their (until then) weekly musical-comedy-variety hour.

Since then the Smothers were considered a bit worn, "the touch by other producers. They appeared only on the Glen Campbell and Andy Williams shows since their fall from grace."

The brothers are on the threshold of building an entertainment empire. With Smothers Inc. they are establishing a music publishing firm, a talent agency, a television arm for producing pilots and other activities.

Asked what had wrought the changes in Tommy's usually defensive, sometimes hostile attitude, Tommy was interrupted by Dick who said, "Tell about our guest stars."

It was a protective, defensive suggestion by Dick to shield his brother from what might have been a rough moment for Tommy.

FAREWELL DINNER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President and Mrs. Nixon will give a farewell dinner Saturday for William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Integration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court has ordered total desegregation of 14 school districts embracing 300,000 pupils in five states in the Deep South by Feb. 1.

The brief order followed a temporary one Dec. 15 in which the districts were told to make all preparations for complete unified school systems by the Feb. 1 deadline.

The states involved are Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Highway Board Chairman Disputes Report Of 'Surplus' Funds In Idaho Road Fund

BOISE (UPI)—Chairman C. Ed Flandro, Pocatello, of the state Highway Board says there is no surplus money in the state highway fund in spite of statements to the contrary.

Flandro told delegations appearing before the board Tuesday that such assertions largely were alluding to an estimate of increased revenues for the biennium "based on developments during the past five months."

Noting that present funds are dedicated, he said the department in fact is operating under a tight money policy.

A delegation from Nampa

asked that several projects be given consideration by the board, adding they would like to see these programmed at the earliest possible time. These included:

DRUNK TEST UPHELD

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday the law ordering a motorist to submit to chemical intoxication test was constitutional. The ruling was in the case of Herbert G. Starnes of Toledo, who claimed the law was unconstitutional because it permits unreasonable search and seizure and compels a person to be a witness against himself.

— Second and Third Streets one-way easement from the Phyllis Canal Bridge on Highway 30 to 12th Avenue south in downtown Nampa.

— Four lanes on Highway 30 from the railroad underpass to the Interstate interchange.

— Widening of Highway 30 to four lanes between Nampa and Caldwell.

Gem Square Round Dancers Flower Power Plan Saturday Activities

The Idaho Federations of Square and Round Dancers will hold a board meeting at 3 p.m. Saturday at Nickel School Auditorium, and at 8:30 p.m. a square dance will be held at the school with callers from the floor and Jack Nuckolls, Hansen, master of ceremonies. Refreshments will be furnished.

All square dancers are welcome to attend both the meeting and dance. A no-heat breakfast meeting will be held at 8 a.m. at Smitty's Pancake House on Addison Avenue West.

Mr. Nuckolls began his square calling career in 1958. Since that time he has called for the Star Twirler Club at Hingens Square Dance Barn, Renton, Wash., as well as club caller for the Tri-Square and Deep Sea Clubs of Seattle. He has done extensive traveling for groups on the west coast and in Canada, participating in national, far Western Washington State, Seafarer, South-End Jamboree and Seattle Council Square dance convention both as a caller and sound technician. For several years he conducted a square dance institute at Whidby Island Resort on Whidby Island, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Nuckolls and a family now reside in the Rock Creek area, moving to the area after 14 years with Boeing at a design engineer. He is associated with the Vanderhook Studios, Kimberly, and operates the Rock Creek Welding Shop with his brother-in-law, Lloyd Weech.

At present Mr. Nuckolls is conducting a learners class in square dancing on Tuesday evenings in Twin Falls at the DAV Hall. His group has progressed far enough this season to begin an open workshop for all square dancers in the near future. It will be known as "The Always Open Squares."

Is 'Out' In Sheets, Towels

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jas. flower power had it? In towels, sheets and other furnishings for bedroom and bath, the answer is—probably.

A maker of such things, showing off the newest for the seventies, put it this way: "The flower is tired."

Sheet and towel decorations bypass the traditional flower designs, popular in the late sixties, for more stylized and surrealistic ones—plus bold geometrics.

Color also has undergone a metamorphosis. Pastels of the past are out. Instead we are going to see more of the brightest color combinations in years.

Consider (for towels and sheets): shocking pink with orange, black and tan, electric blue and green combinations.

At a show during the fashion week of the New York Couture Business Council the West Point Pepperell people said the high fashion—bathrooms, bedrooms and bath furnishings reflect the new and more eclectic influences of the Paris, London and New York couture collections.

In styling the collection, Chris Crispino said he felt he was strongly influenced by the age of Aquarius, and its staccato beat of fast-paced living.

He said the new designs and colors, while youthful in approach, are definitely sophisticated.

And while advocating rather more offbeat combinations, all items in the new collection are versatile enough to fit into existing decor. In other words, you can mix the bold geometrics and shocking pink and black colors in with your pastel and post-plant flowers.

The aim is to enliven one's bathroom and bedroom without necessarily redoing the whole thing.

Color mistakes happen all the time, of course. It's usually because you bought something that's the wrong color key, the firm's color experts reported at the show.

Something called a color key guide was described. "The world, you see, is divided into two color key groups and everyone is keyed to his or her color group or family. You blossom in the right color key and jags out with the wrong one."

And how do you know where you fit? Well, the color key is determined by your coloring and each individual's coloring is composed of three primary colors: red, yellow, blue.

The way it works: —The color key 1 person has more blue in coloring, giving a rose-pink-skin complexion. —The color key 2 person has more yellow, with a peach-pink skin coloring.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have recently become engaged and am in the process of planning my wedding. A problem has arisen about which my mother and I disagree. Let me explain the background:

When I was 10 I got into trouble. The boy ran out on me, but I kept the baby and with the help of my wonderful family I raised the child. (She is now nearly 9.)

Abby, I want to have the kind of wedding every girl dreams about. My fiance says that he is with me all the way. I want a wedding gown and veil, and bridesmaids and organ music, and I even want my daughter to be my flower girl. It's not like nobody knows about what friends to me, Abby. All my friends and relatives know, and so do his. My mother and it isn't "right." Please help me make up my mind. I know that a wedding gown and veil is supposed to be for a first wedding only, but even this I am a mother, this is my first wedding. Would it be wrong?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is quite a talented young artist. She's not "great," but there is a local demand for her paintings, and she has done quite well.

Recently an aunt (my sister) expressed a desire for one of her paintings, so my daughter spent several weeks painting a special picture for this aunt's birthday — as a surprise.

When the gift was presented, the aunt had nothing but criticism for it. "It wasn't right, that wasn't right, and the colors weren't good, etc."

My daughter listened to all the criticism, then picked up the painting and said, "If you want a photograph, I'll buy you a camera." My sister was indignant to say the least.

"My daughter sold the painting for $100. The aunt is now threatening to see a lawyer. She says that painting was MINE, and my daughter had no right to sell it. Has my sister a chance to get the painting?"

— IN THE MIDDLE

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR WITHHOLD: If you want to have your "dream wedding" and your fiance is "with you all the way," then I vote with you.

However, instead of a stark white gown and veil, I suggest off-white, ivory, or a pale pastel. And please don't think me unkind, but having your daughter for your flower girl would undoubtedly call attention to that part of your life which I think is better forgotten on your wedding day. Good luck.

DEAR IN: I would say that by clear implication, the painting was offered and rejected, but the painting was not your sister's until your daughter had given it to her. However, if this case ever gets to court, anything can happen. (P.S. One thing is certain, your sister will never make the diplomatic corps.)

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this question is too dumb to answer.

Why are famous women always referred to as "Miss" regardless of whether they are married or single?

For instance, you are called, "MISS ABIGAIL VAN BUREN." I know that's not your real name, but since you are married and have grown children, why aren't you called "MRS. VAN BUREN?"

Also, when Judy Garland died, they were calling her "MISS GARLAND" until the end, and she had been married several times and had children. How do you explain this?

Why wasn't she called "MRS. GARLAND?"

DON'T GET IT

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIRGO: It is time to take stock of your company. Those who sleep with dogs, wake up with fleas. (Or worse!)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

ADD INTEREST

Add interest and flavor to your free diets by combining flavors. Fresh lemon juice squeezed onto meat, poultry and fish accents flavor. Apples combine well with sweet potatoes, and oranges and orange juice, with carrots and beets. Slightly increased use of pepper, especially the coarse-ground variety, seems to compensate for lack of salt in veal and egg dishes.

DEAR DON'T: Yours is not a "dumb" question. It's very intelligent. When a woman takes a pseudonym (pen name) for professional reasons, she is always known as "MISS" regardless of her marital status. (This would have been a good question for Miss Kitty Vanderbilt, who is also a "Mrs.")

Advertising In Newspapers To Go Up, Official Reports

"Even if stores sales curves flatten out some in 1970, we should still add another $100 to $120 million to the retail advertising revenues of daily newspapers during the coming year," Lee B. Tompleton, senior vice president for chain and department stores sales of the Bureau of Advertising, bases this prediction on the established trends in the advertising revenues of daily newspapers.

He further predicts that if the upcoming retail business year is a difficult one, as many ap-teach, stores will tend to strengthen rather than weaken their ties to the newspaper advertising medium.

"It will be a simple case of looking for sales results where long-time experience has shown is the place to find them," Mr. Tompleton says.

"One hundred to $120 million is a conservative forecast for 1970," Mr. Tompleton points out.

"It is much less than the $200 or more million added to newspapers' retail advertising revenues during 1969, but you must consider that if the stores have a harder time in 1970, newspapers will feel it too. Therefore, we can't simply project our historic rate of increase in arriving at a revenue estimate for the new year."

Mr. Tompleton thinks the retailer-newspaper ties will grow stronger despite the increased efforts of broadcast media to get a bigger share of retail advertising revenues.

"Look at the record," he said. "Radio and television probably never tried harder to get a really significant share of the retailer's business than they did in 1969. What happened? Retail advertising in newspapers had its best year. It passed the $3 billion mark, and when the final figures are in, it may even have reached up to $3.1 billion.

To achieve this increase, newspapers had to improve their rate of gain over historic levels, and they did, despite the increased competition, or maybe because of it, Mr. Tompleton notes. He points out that between 1958 and 1968 the newspaper retail advertising revenues averaged gains of 4.9 per cent a year.

"Conservatively, we got better than a 6 per cent increase in 1969," he said.

"We can understand the importance of this kind of momentum when we look at the total new dollars generated in newspapers' retail advertising revenues since 1958. The figures went from a little under $1.8 billion to more than $3 billion — a gain of more than $1.2 billion," Mr. Tompleton points out.

DAVID HUMPHREY has been named the new director of the Twin Falls Department of Public Assistance Office. Mr. Humphrey was formerly the director at the Cassia County office. He succeeds Don Frank, who has been promoted to regional director.

Bill Planned To Forbid Snake Dams

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — A bill will be introduced in Congress to stop construction of any future dams on the Snake River and other Idaho and Oregon rivers, sources said here Tuesday.

The bill, called the Hell's Canyon-Snake National River Act, would protect a total of 385,000 acres of land by adding it to the National Wilderness Preservation Act. Co-sponsors of the bill are Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., and Rep. John Saylor, R-Pa.

The bill has the support of the Hell's Canyon Preservation Council and the Sierra Club and is the outgrowth of plans for the establishment of a 714,000-acre park to permanently preserve 120 miles of the Snake River.

Supporters of the legislation say the Seven Devils Mountains in Idaho, the plateau and mountains on the Oregon side of the river and the lower 45 miles of the Salmon River have already been mapped by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for future dams.

The bill, to be introduced in the House and Senate by Packwood and Saylor simultaneously, is strongly opposed by Idaho Sen. Frank Church who not only refused to introduce it, but opposes its introduction by any one else.

Packwood and Saylor said conservationists in Idaho are puzzled with Church's contradictory stands and are beginning to question his motives in co-sponsoring a 10-year moratorium bill on further dam construction in the Middle Snake. Named as defendants in the action were William Wrigley Jr. Co., Warner-Lambert, Pharmacia, Proctor & Gamble Co., Colgate, Palmolive Co., and A.M. Food Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mint Growers File Lawsuit On Gum Firms

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — Thirty-one Pacific Northwest mint growers have filed an antitrust suit against five of the nation's biggest producers of chewing gum, toothpaste and mouthwash and a major mint oil dealer.

An attorney said the damages sought for alleged price-fixing could total $120 million. The suit was filed in U.S. District Court by two law firms on behalf of the growers in October and 7 of Washington. They said they represent 720 commercial mint growers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana producing 88 per cent of the nation's spearmint oil and 87 per cent of its peppermint oil.

Named as defendants in the action were William Wrigley Jr. Co., Warner-Lambert, Pharmacia, Proctor & Gamble Co., Colgate, Palmolive Co., and A.M. Food Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich. The growers contend they have been paid at least $2 a pound less for mint oil than Midwest growers were paid during the past four years.

Nevada Will Halt Driving By Jurist

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — The state Motor Vehicle Department is starting procedures to suspend the driver's license of Chief Justice Jon Collins of the Nevada Supreme Court for failing to take a blood alcohol test after his arrest last month.

William Fitzpatrick, chief of the Driver's License Division, said the six-month suspension notice is being typed and will be mailed within a few days to Collins. The suspension becomes effective 10 days after mailing.

The action was taken despite a move by Nevada Attorney General Harvey Dickerson to halt all action in the case pending a legal review.

Man Arrested

AEC Member Defends Atomic Energy As Useful 'Tool'

By MYRAM BORDERS
TAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A member of the Atomic Energy Commission defended the use of nuclear energy Wednesday as a means of cleaning up the environment, developing natural resources and helping solve the growing problem of water shortages.

T. J. Thompson told 600 scientists attending a symposium on engineering and nuclear explosives that critics of the Plowshare program were carrying their objections to the point of becoming ridiculous and stifling programs.

Plowshare is the AEC program to develop peaceful uses of nuclear energy and has involved such natural gas recovery tests as Gasbuggy near Farmington, N. M., and Kulsion near Rifle, Colo.

Thompson said critics of the program "don't even pause to ask themselves about the positive benefits. . . . It is as though they decided not to get out of bed any more, because they might slip on the way to the bathroom," he said.

Thompson said such an attitude was a "sign of age" of giving up, or growing old, of decaying.

Plowshare projects have come under recent fire on grounds that such tests release radioactive dust into the environment. The Colorado Open Space Council, the Garfield County district attorney and four individuals currently are involved in a federal court suit in Denver in an attempt to prevent scientists from entering the underground caverns created by the 40-kilowatt Rulison test on Sept. 10, 1969.

Thompson, one of Nixon's appointees to the AEC, said the use of nuclear fission for central power stations in the United States could further reduce the amount of pollutants which go into the atmosphere from fossil fuels.

Sen. McCarthy Says Paris Talks Are In A 'Blind Alley'

PARIS (UPI) — Sen. J. Edgar Hoover, North Vietnamese Embassy J. McCarthy said Wednesday officials. In Paris, he held his talks with American Communist diplomats to have lengthy talks with chief North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy, peace negotiations in Paris are in a blind alley.

The Minnesota Democrat admitted his extensive private consultations had failed to indicate any early breakthrough in the stalemate at the conference table.

"My conversations, I believe, have been useful," he told newsmen before leaving by plane for Washington. "I came here without too much optimism and I'm leaving no more optimistic."

McCarthy came to Paris from Moscow where he was greeted by Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and met with

NCAA Authorizes Teams To Play In 11 Grid Tilts, Leaves Recruiting Alone

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association voted Wednesday to permit 11-game regular football schedules next season.

Everyone Isn't Happy With New 11-Grid Game Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI)—University coaches accepted the decision to expand the football season to 11 games next year but a spokesman for the college athletic business managers expressed his opposition to the proposal.

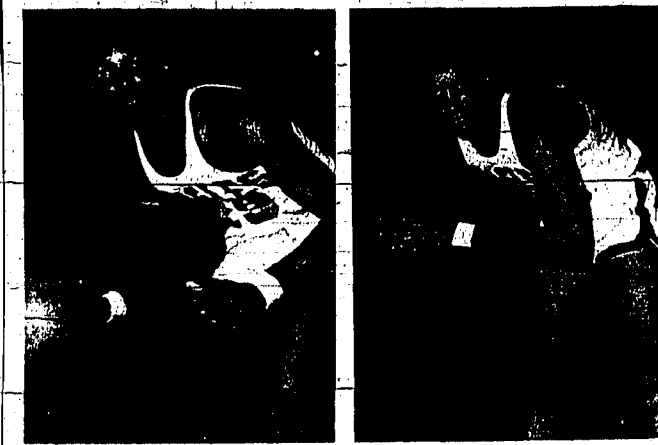

Since 1954, only 10 games have been authorized for a regular season.

The expanded season is optional with each school, Wiles Hallock, commissioner of the Western Athletic Conference, said.

refused to adopt a stiff new high school recruiting restriction or to undercut the power of its rules committees.

The proposal seemed on the verge of victory at a morning session when delegates approved an amendment which would have allowed additional contacts with a high school star once he had signed a letter of intent to attend a particular college.

CSI Slates Big Three-Tilt Week With ICAC Foes

College of Southern Idaho, holding a one-game lead in the Intercollegiate Athletic Conference after one week, runs into three tough foes in six days in hosting Dixie, Snow and Ricks colleges.

The Eagles take on Dixie at 8 p.m. Friday at the Buhl Gymnasium, go against Snow at 8 p.m. Saturday at Murtaugh and return to the Twin Falls gymnasium at 8 p.m. Wednesday to play Ricks, which is looking more and more like the team to beat in the upcoming regional playoffs.

over their first 11 games, scoring 78.9 points per outing and allowing 11.3. They were ranked sixth in the nation defensively before last weekend.

Not counting last week's games, Hegens was second in the ICAC scorers with 21.2 while Jendar Stan Milon of Mesa had 23.4. Dehagen ranked 15th. Davis was ninth in rebounding with a 9.1 average while Hegens has shown his versatility by ranking 10th in the leading takedowns with 8.8.

T.F. To Host SIC Wrestling Meet Friday

Pocatello and Minico loom as the teams to watch in the annual Southern Idaho Conference wrestling tournament, starting at 2:30 p.m. Friday, things should come out pretty close to the expected.

The Eastern division schools' toughest tests should come from Caldwell and Capital. But since the tournament will be seeded by the coaches, starting at 2:30 p.m. Friday, things should come out pretty close to the expected.

Oakley Invades Murtaugh, Filer Hosts Wendell In Features Of Cage Slate

Oakley invades Murtaugh in the premier test while Filer and Wendell meet in a Big Six Conference battle to feature a 23-game basketball weekend for Magic Valley high school teams. Oakley, which has been breezing past all teams from A-1 to A-4 classification, takes a big reputation with it to Murtaugh where the Hornets' hope appears to be a bunch of good shooters. In the past two weeks, Oakley had dominated foes so completely that half-time usually is a good time to go home. The Hornets have shown the full arsenal—offense, defense, rebounding and shooting. Oakley will be taller than Murtaugh—but that's nothing new. Murtaugh, together with the home court advantage plus the ability to get hot and settle a game in just a few minutes. Chief of those executioners is Junior Mark Howard who is an outside jumper generally is deadly. At Filer, the Wildcats, stung by losses last week, host Wendell, which fell out of the undefeated ranks last Saturday. The effect on the teams could be interesting. Filer ace Guy Ramsey was slowed by a hip injury last week. Wendell's problem will

Grid Loop Seeks Realignment

NEW YORK (UPI)—Commissioner Pete Rozelle recessed the National Football League's realignment meeting Wednesday night without getting an agreement but promised that the representatives of the 13 clubs would remain in New York until an agreement is reached. Rozelle also raised the possibility that he will take unilateral action and make a decision by lottery if the owners cannot make an agreement themselves. It takes a unanimous vote of all 13 teams left in the National Conference of the merged NFL to reach an agreement but St. Louis had blocked an alignment plan. "It's unfair to label any one club as blocking the alignment because you can make many plans in which 12 clubs will agree but the 13th will disagree," he said. Rozelle labeled Wednesday's meeting "a pleasant one" but added, "we will have a resolution before they leave New York, but how and when I can't say."

ISU Takes League Lead To Montana For Two-Game Stay

POCATELLO — Idaho State finds itself in an unfamiliar position, first place in the Big Sky Conference in basketball. Following a four-for-four week ISU is number one, and ISU has been first only one other time since the formation of the Conference. Two years ago Idaho State won its first three games, then hosted Weber State for a pair, dropped them both, and lost the only lead ever held by the Bengals in conference standings. Monday night Idaho State held on to beat Idaho 79-75, after having beaten Gonzaga twice and Montana State once in Bozeman. That brings out a striking parallel between ISU's football and basketball seasons. On the gridiron the Bengals edged Idaho and were undefeated in conference play before taking a trip to Missoula, Montana to play Montana. Dan Miller, ISU's basketball coach, is currently undefeated after edging Idaho and going to Missoula, to play Montana. The Bengals face Montana twice, and have never won a conference game on the Grizzlies home court, closing even in a row. On top of that Montana has some fine players, like 6-5 forward Willie Flowers, the 5-10 All-Conference guard Harold Ross. Other starters, and they are good ones, are 6-2 Dave Gustafson, 6-8 Ray Howard, and 6-3 Howard Clark. Idaho State has continued to get fabulous point production from 6-2 Willie Humes, who is the nation's seventh leading scorer. Humes' average has dropped slightly after playing

Heart Attack Fatal To Mets' General Manager

NEW YORK (UPI)—Johnny Murphy, general manager of the New York Mets, died following a massive heart attack in a New York hospital Wednesday night. Murphy, 61, moved in as general manager of the National League team two years ago when Bill DeWitt returned to St. Louis and he celebrated his greatest year in baseball in 1969 when the upstart Mets, 100-1 longshots at the start of the season, won the pennant and the World Series. However, he suffered what was termed a "coronary occlusion" on Dec. 30, the day of his 35th wedding anniversary, and had been in the intensive care unit at Roosevelt Hospital since then. Ironically, the Mets were informed earlier Wednesday that Murphy had improved to the point where he would be moved to a private room as soon as one became available. The fatal attack occurred about 8:30 p.m. (EST). Murphy first complained about pains in the back of his neck the morning of Dec. 30 while he was shaving. He called the Mets' office and said the pains were going down his back and he wouldn't be in to work. The Mets immediately sent a doctor to examine him, and the doctor rushed him to the hospital. Murphy is survived by his widow, Elizabeth, and two sons, John Jr. and Tom. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Mount Jumps To Fifth In Point Race

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rick Mount of Purdue has leaped from 20th to fifth place in the major college basketball scoring race but Pete Maravich of Louisiana State remains in his own little world atop the scorers. Mount, who averaged a modest 23.3 points in his first three games for the No. 49 ranking, scored 35, 38 and 39 points in his last three games, through Jan. 13, to raise his average to 31.6. Mount, Austin Carr of Notre Dame, Dan Issel of Kentucky, Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure, Calvin Murphy of Niagara, Willie Humes of Idaho State and Ralph Simpson of Michigan State are in a seven-man battle for the second spot. Maravich, leading the nation in scoring, has a record 30th straight week, has tallied 564 points in 12 games—a 47-point-per-game average. That average is the highest ever at this stage of a season, according to the National Collegiate Sports Scores for Jacksonvile, led by its two seven-footers—Artis Gilmore and Pembroke Durrows—leads in team scoring average with 104.1 per game and Army leads in defense with a 52.9 mark.

Hagan Quits As Coach Of Chaparrals

DALLAS (UPI)—Cliff Hagan, former Kentucky and St. Louis Hawks, resigned Wednesday as head coach of the Dallas Chaparrals of the American Basketball Association. Hagan, 38, resigned only three hours before the Chaps were to take on the Pittsburgh Pipers at home. Hagan said he resigned "because of a difference in coaching philosophy with the team's owners." He would not elaborate. Max Williams, Chaps general manager and a Southern Methodist basketball star of the late 1950s, replaced Hagan as head coach. Dallas officials said the replacement was permanent. "Hagan will continue to be associated with the Chaparral organization through the remainder of his contract and will assist the club in its preparation for the 1970 player draft," said David Bruner Jr., chairman of the board. Hagan was in the third year of a three-year contract which expires June 1. Hagan, with a 100-90 record in two and a half ABA seasons, was the only coach the Chaps have ever had in the short league history. It was his first coaching job. "The first two seasons he coached the Chaps got into the playoffs. Dallas is presently second in the ABA's Western Division."

Drake Tightens Hold On First

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI)—Drake improved its hold on first place in the Missouri Valley Conference Wednesday with a 65-53 victory over Bradley. The game was tied 27-27 at the half, but Drake came out to open the second half by outscoring Bradley 16-3 in the first five and one half minutes to take a 43-30 lead. The victory left Drake with a 10 conference mark and an 11-4 overall mark, while Bradley was left with a 3-3 conference record and a 10-5 showing for the year. Box:

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Southern Illinois nursed a slight lead virtually all the way Wednesday night to post a 66-59 college basketball victory over Evansville. The Salukis took the lead with four minutes played in the first half and were never headed again, but their biggest margin was only eight points. It was 28-26 at the half.

Baughan Tells Rams He Is Retiring

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Maxie Baughan, standout linebacker with the Los Angeles Rams for the past four seasons and the club's defensive signal caller, announced his retirement Wednesday. "I actually thought about retiring before this past season but George Allen (the Rams' coach) talked me out of it," Baughan, 30, said. The former Georgia Tech star, a 10-year National Football League veteran, was selected to play in his ninth Pro Bowl this year but will miss the NFL's annual all-star game here Sunday with a knee injury. Baughan missed the Rams' 23-20 loss to Minnesota in the NFL Western Conference game. The Rams won the Coastal Division title. Baughan had two operations on his right knee during his pro career, the second one before the 1969 season. He came to the Rams in 1966 in a trade with the Philadelphia Eagles. Los Angeles gave up defensive lineman Frank Johnson, tackle Fred Brown and draft choice to the Eagles. "I still consider acquiring Baughan the best trade we ever made," Allen said. "And I'm optimistic I hope during the offseason that Maxie will change his mind."

Frazier And Moses Added To All Stars

HOUSTON (UPI)—Tight end Willie Frazier of the San Diego Chargers and wide receiver Haven Moses of the Buffalo Bills were added to the American Football League all-star squads Wednesday for Saturday's game in the Astrodome. Moses, a second-year man from San Diego State, replaced Don Maynard of the New York Jets, who was unable to play because of a broken bone in his foot suffered Nov. 23 at Cincinnati. Frazier, a six-year veteran from Arkansas A&M, replaces Bob Trumpy of the Cincinnati Bengals, the all-AFL tight end who learned Tuesday of a broken bone in his right ankle. Trumpy apparently suffered the injury late in the season. He limped badly in practice Tuesday and had it x-rayed. "It was a chip fracture of a small bone," said trainer Bobby Brown of the Houston Oilers. Trumpy is the second AFL player the west all-stars have lost. Quarterback Daryle Lamonic of Oakland was forced out earlier with a hand injury suffered in the title game with Kansas City. The East team, coached by George Wilson of Miami, switched its afternoon practice from the Oilers' outdoor practice field to the Astrodome. The West team worked out in the dome in the morning. The coaches said their teams would continue to practice daily in the Astrodome. They were working on the Oiler field on alternate days.

Low Hits 46 As Bucks Tip Lakers

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Low Alcinder playing the finest game of his brief but brilliant career, capped a 46-point outburst with a basket in the last 15 seconds that enabled the Milwaukee Bucks to nip the Los Angeles Lakers 115-113 Wednesday night. "We free throws by the Lakers. Happy to see the lead score at 113-113 with 30 seconds left, but Alcinder refuted with a short follow-up shot that proved to be decisive. The Lakers called time out to work for a final shot, but Elgin Baylor took it and missed. It was the fifth consecutive win for the Bucks and 14th in win for the Bucks and pulled them to within five games of the first place New York Knicks in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Detroit Smothers Loyola By 86-66

DETROIT (UPI)—With its five starters each scoring in double figures, the University of Detroit had no trouble Wednesday night defeating Loyola of New Orleans 86-66 for the Titans' third win in 13 starts. Detroit made good on 11 of its first 14 field goal attempts in the second half to run off with the victory after leading 39-21 at the half. Junior Bob Boisland led all scorers with 32 points but he couldn't improve on Loyola's sorry 38 per cent shooting from the field as the visitors sank to a 4-6 season mark.

Caps Overpowers Stars 134-117

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Rookie guard Roland Taylor highlighted a third period Washington rally with a 46-foot shot good for three points Wednesday night as the Washington Caps defeated the Los Angeles Stars 134-117 in an American Basketball Association game. Taylor on his amazing shot that drew cheers from a rainy night crowd of 628, had picked up a Stars fumble with three seconds left in the period, dribbled just past midcourt and lofted the ball with both hands. The shot gave Washington a 103-96 lead which Los Angeles could not dent in the final 12 minutes.

CAGEY DISCARDS TRICK DECLARER

Kent and Lois Wiley of Oak Park, Ill., are one of the really nice couples that play top flight bridge. In 1968 when we won the Mixed Team Championship with Miss Brachman of Dallas and the late Helen Sobel Smith of Detroit, the Wileys were on the team that finished fifth. This year, they won the Flight B Mixed Pair Championship.

The remarkable feature of this is that Lois has to use her cards to monitor the dummy when it is laid down and carry all this extra material in her head. Here is a gem of defensive play with which the Wileys managed to defeat one of our most famous players at a six-trump contract.

Six hearts would have been a superior contract but the game was match points and no-trump counts a trifle more. As for the bidding, North's four-club call was Gerber ace request, and South's four no-trump showed three.

Kent opened the king of spades. Lois played the ace and South won with the ace. Then he rattled off four winners to chuck out club from dummy and five hearts to come down to the jack of spades and ace-queen of clubs in his own hand.

Kent could see what declarer was doing and proceeded to discard down to the queen-eight of spades and king of clubs, while Lois who kept her fingers up for lack of lift, hung on to all three of her clubs.

At this point declarer could make his slam by simply playing a club to his ace but he tried the other play and led dummy's six of spades, and Kent's two spade tricks defeated the contract.

Most 'French' Poodles Come From Breeders In Britain

SHAVING— Mister, in your habit of shaving every morning, do we get the most hurricanes? You generally first touch the razor? I like to start the initial stroke straight down from the right sideburn. So what? Nothing much. But politeness says approximately 60 percent of the Brits' shave in like that. Tomorrow I will tell you which shoe the majority and I put on first. Be sure to buy a paper.

ON THE AVERAGE, I've divorced a man, following a seven-year marriage, remarried two and a half years after the divorce, and done so at the age of 33. THAT CHARACTISTIC—which distinguishes Capricorn girls, says our Planet man, is a tendency to be highly practical about money, but none-on-swing in romance.

ONLY IN THE most French poodles for export come from Great-Britain, but it is also a fact Japan now is the biggest buyer of British-bred French poodles.

NOTE I stated that cold potato soup known as vichyssoise was created not by the French, but by the Germans in the French town of Vichy during World War II. Something wrong with that, Chef-Louis Dine of New York City's Ritz-Carlton dreamed up said dish. In 1917, What else would a good restaurant man do with left-over spuds? At any rate, neither the French nor the Germans had ever heard of vichyssoise during World War II.

CUSTOMER SERVICE— Q. Among dog lovers, what's the most popular, the Beagle or the Dachshund? A. The Dachshund

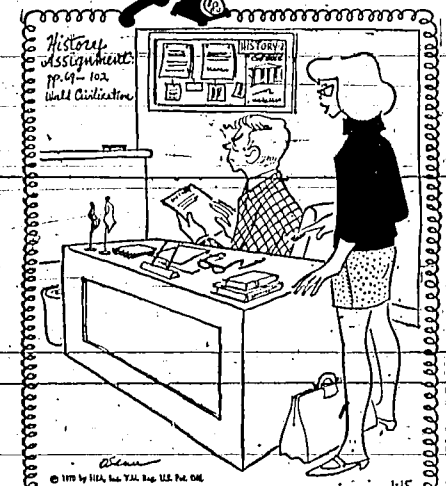

OPEN QUESTION— What's the name of that rare animal which causes but a few people in this world to break out crying every time they eat any thing?

HELPFUL HINT— Coconuts always fall off their palm trees at night, never in the daytime. Remember that, if you decide to vacation in coconut country. Nip, all you like under the palma when the sun's up, but do not romance your ladyfriend thereabouts by the light of the moon. You might get thumped upon in a savage manner.
