DAVID O. MCKAY, president of the Mormon Church, died Sunday after a long illness. He was 86. While McKay had shown his age in recent years and was confined to a wheelchair and had difficulty in speech, he remained active as leader of the world's nearly three million Mormons. At his bedside at the time of his death were his wife, the former Emma Ray Riggs, whom he married in 1901, and five of their surviving six children. This is a 1963 photograph of the church leader. Death Of David O. McKay Is Mourned

By WILLIAM J. STANFIELD
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — The world's nearly three million Mormons mourned today the death of their prophet, seer and revelator, President David O. McKay.
McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints since April 9, 1961, died early Sunday in his Hotel Utah apartment. He was 86.
Death was attributed by his physician, Dr. Allen T. McFarlane, to acute congestion of the heart. He had suffered from heart and kidney failures for several months and lapsed into a coma shortly after midnight. He died at 6 a.m. Sunday.

His wife of 69 years, Emma, 95, was at his bedside as were most of their children.
A son, Robert, said McKay was without pain during his final hours and died "peacefully."
Messages of condolence poured into this city, world capital of Mormonism, from thousands of friends and acquaintances; from church leaders; and from President Nixon and former President Lyndon B. Johnson.
President Nixon said the "Mormon Church has been deprived of a distinguished and great leader and America has lost a foremost citizen and human being."

Johnson said McKay's "lifelong commitment to his fellow man and his faith inspired us to uplift our hopes and our sights toward a better world."
The LDS Church's Council of Twelve, which assumed leadership of the church upon McKay's death, was to meet today to arrange details of his funeral and to plan for the selection of his successor.
Tentative plans call for funeral services to be noon Thursday in the Salt Lake

Tabernacle with burial in the Salt Lake City Cemetery.
Informed sources said the council probably will meet Jan. 20 to pick a new president and the most likely candidate is Joseph Fielding Smith, president of the Council of Twelve and its senior member. His father, Joseph F. Smith, was sixth president of the church and his grandfather, Hyram Smith, was the brother of Joseph Smith, the prophet, founder and first president of the church.
Brigham Young, McKay and others presided over the council at the time they were elevated to the presidency.

Issues Facing Solons

BOISE (UPI) — As Idaho's legislature begins its second week today, it is faced with an additional problem created Saturday by an Idaho Supreme Court decision declaring it unconstitutional to charge fees to students in public schools.
Fifty bills were introduced last week. However, most of the main legislative issues still face solons. Only two bills are up for second reading on the calendar. Thirty-three bills were introduced in the House last week and 17 in the Senate.
The two bills for second reading today will be up for final passage Tuesday in the Senate under normal procedure. The bills would authorize the State Board of Health to enforce regulations governing disposal of solid waste and would authorize the Department of Health to administer shelter home licensing.
The Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee may take a look at additional needs for public education as a result of the Supreme Court decision on student fees. To date, there has been no request for additional funds for public schools.
If additional funds are needed it would require an amendment to the complex distribution formula.
Sen. Fred Bagley, R-Boise, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said the problem was whether state funds are available for public schools.
One of the stickiest problems facing the legislature is whether the law limiting the increase of property tax revenues by only four per cent a year by local government units should be repealed — last week reached the Senate in a bill form. The measure called for the repeal of that section of the bill.
Much of last week's action was in committees. The Joint Finance-Appropriations Committee held hearings on requests for supplemental appropriations and will conclude those hearings this week.
The joint committee will consider the health department's $1,550,000 request today. The $1.8 million request of the State Board of Education for higher education on Tuesday and the $1.6 million request of the Board of Corrections Wednesday.

GOV. AVERELL HARRIMAN and Mrs. William Janss are greeted for the fifth reunion of Sun Valley Ski Club by an arch of ski poles. Harriman is returning to Sun Valley after an absence of some 10 years.

Averell Harriman Is Here For Sun Valley Ski Club Reunion

SUN VALLEY — Gov. Averell W. Harriman, founder of Sun Valley, who has not been at the famed Idaho resort for some 10 years, is the guest of honor at the fifth reunion of the Sun Valley Ski Club.
The reunion continues through Sunday, with the annual reunion race Thursday. Friday evening the annual banquet will be held and the awards of the race presented.
Also, during this week of activities, including skiing and various dinners and parties, will be the showing of two old movies that were made in Sun Valley. The two movies are "Sun Valley Serenade," starring Sonja Henie and filmed in 1939, and "I Met Jim in Paris," filmed in 1937 and starring Claudette Colbert.
Gov. Harriman said a long list of services to his country has kept him from active participation in skiing activities for 10 years. He has been a cabinet member, an ambassador to Russia and Great Britain, Marshall plan administrator, touring ambassador, Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs at various times and every president from Franklin D. Roosevelt through Lyndon

B. Johnson, as well as governor of New York State.
According to Mr. Harriman, this is the third time he has attempted to attend the reunion. One year he was sent to the Paris peace talks and another, while hurrying in the reunion, his plane was grounded at San Francisco.
In a recent interview in West Magazine, he said, "I have been away too long. But it is only because I have been too busy."
In the same interview, the man who built the first big American resort, primarily for the sport of skiing, said, "No one has really lived until he has skied. You must quote me on that. This gives a new feeling on life, which, unless you ski, you don't get."

Gov. Harriman in 1936, as chairman of the board, Union Pacific Railroad, persuaded that railroad to build Sun Valley. He did so to encourage passenger service west on a new transcontinental passenger train he had built. Since the railroad ran in snow country, Harriman said, "I thought I should do something to make the snow profitable for the railroad."
It took belief in the future of the sport of skiing to build a million-dollar hotel in what was then a remote and apparently settled mountain region. That he was right in his foresight and his choice of location, is shown by the international reputation Sun Valley has achieved and maintained throughout the years.
"It was my idea," he is quoted as saying, "that many people would build second homes, but I was premature. I thought I would build a remarkable job with this phase."
For his contribution to skiing, Gov. Harriman was elected to the Hall of Fame of the U.S. Ski Association as a "ski sport" builder.
In addition to Gov. Harriman, the reunion will bring others connected with skiing in the early days. According to Carl Gray, reunion chairman, Lowell Thomas, famous news commentator, will act as toastmaster at the banquet on Friday evening. Dick Durance, Dartmouth racer who skied over a pine tree and took the "sillhank" on Baldy Mountain, straddled to win the Harriman Cup for the third time and gained permanent possession of it, will be here. Dick Gresham, first American to win an Olympic medal, will be a guest.

Thant Back In New York

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Secretary General Thant conferred with Gen. Yakubu Gowon for two hours today and said afterwards the tribesmen were being treated well by federal soldiers.
Thant, who passed up a trip to visit a refugee camp, flew to New York shortly after concluding his talks with Gowon. The Burmese diplomat planned a brief stop in Paris on his way back to New York.
Despite the fact that Thant declined to visit anywhere near the Biafran war front, he said he was convinced that the process of reconciliation has started well. He gave no reason for cancelling his trip to the war zone.
In their talks Gowon reassured Thant on the safety of all Nigerians, including the 100 tribesmen who formed the secessionist republic of Biafra.
Thant said that his conversations with Henrick Beer, head of the Red Cross League, had also convinced him there had been no mistreatment of Iboes.
The government-owned newspaper, the Morning Post, editorially praised Thant today for his role in the Nigerian crisis.
"In a world full of political intrigues, a peace negotiator who is not a military might is right no matter how and where it is used. Thant has unimpeachably demonstrated his faith in human dignity," it said.
Native drums roared in the streets of Lagos Sunday night, the first time in nearly three years and street lights were switched on as authorities lifted wartime restrictions. People danced in the streets in celebration.
Confusion and delays continued to hamper most efforts of foreign aid agencies to fly aid to Lagos for shipment to the former secessionist state.
After winding up a 10-nation tour of Africa, Thant flew to Lagos Sunday. Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, Nigerian head of state, met him at the airport and promised him he would fly today to Port Harcourt in the former rebel area to inspect relief efforts.
Thant did not comment to reporters on his arrival but he would hold a news conference before departing Lagos.

Minico Shuts Down Schools As Heavy Rains Turn Roads To Mud

RUPERT — Minidoka County schools were closed Monday because of floods and impassable roads north of Rupert caused by the recent rains and thawing. Camden Meyer, superintendent of the Minidoka County School District, said road conditions on the north side and west end of the district, make it impossible for school buses to travel. He said drivers had encountered some problems Friday, but by staying on old and better traveled roads, they were able to complete the runs.

Mr. Meyer said if there is little or no rain today, school will re-open Tuesday morning. Ruben Kraus, supervisor of the Minidoka County Highway Department, said most of the roads are muddy and a lot of washouts are reported on the northside. He added road limit signs are now being posted on oiled roads in that area.
He said most of the frost is out of the ground, which is making the problem worse.
Virgil Temple, manager of the A and B Irrigation District, said the Cap Holly Lake, an old lake bed that covers about 40 acres, that was set aside by the government for sub and drainage water, is full and overflowing its banks, covering another 40-50 acres of land.
Mr. Temple said this condition is not abnormal, as there is a runoff every year. It has been worse in past years and could have been worse this year if there was more snow on the ground.
He added because of the private land above the A and B irrigation project, the district's drains are not adequate enough to handle all the runoff from the private land.
The Minidoka County Commissioners have called a special meeting for 1 p.m. Thursday of all sponsors of the proposed watershed project. Mylo Runge, Soil Conservation Service office, Bert VanEvery, chairman of the commission, said the purpose of this proposed watershed project is for flood control.
Lloyd Patterson, a farmer who had serious flooding in 1965, said it isn't as bad as then. His property is not in danger, but he doesn't have water on the ground at his ranch. He said in some areas, water is running into potato cellars.
He said some farmers are leaving their cars parked near oiled roads and are either walking or driving tractors to and from their homes.
Mrs. Susje Whitte, a widow, said her house was surrounded by water Saturday, but it all had backed off by Sunday evening. She lives 400 East and 60 North.
She said several fields near her ranch are under water and that the Camp Road, which runs north past the Idaho Youth Ranch, also is under water.

Children Die In Da Nang Schoolyard

By WALTER WHITEHEAD
SAIGON (UPI) — A 16-year-old boy today buried a grenade into a schoolyard near Da Nang and killed four children who were playing volleyball with a group of U.S. Marines. Eleven other children and six of the 12 Marines present were wounded.

It was the second terrorist attack of the day. Communist troops using a Claymore-type mine which hurls steel pellets over a wide area ambushed a South Vietnamese officer candidate company at the edge of Saigon, killing 18 Vietnamese and wounding 35.
UPI correspondent Barney Selbert reported from Da Nang that the terrorist who threw the grenade into the Thanh Quoi hamlet school 20 miles south of Da Nang was recognized as a boy from a nearby village. He escaped and policemen were searching for him.
The Vietnamese loss in the Claymore mine explosion was the heaviest loss in a single action since Nov. 18 when the Viet Cong killed 55 in one battle. In other actions Viet youngsters would take part in guerrilla attacks.
The document also mentioned establishment of suicide squads to kill local South Vietnamese government officials. The source said they assumed the youngsters would take part in such terrorist plans.
A South Vietnamese opposition political group called Sunday for a 14-day cease-fire in South Vietnam over the lunar new year period.

Agnew Ends Tour Of 11 Countries

HONOLULU (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew left for home today feeling "very encouraged" about American image in Asia where he visited 11 countries including South Vietnam.
The vice president's jet headed for Travis Air Force Base, Calif., for a brief stop and was to fly on to Washington where arrival was scheduled at 8:10 p.m. EST.
Agnew, accompanied by his wife, Judy, appeared rested after a weekend in Hawaii during which his only official engagement was a meeting with Adm. John S. McCain Jr., the U.S. Pacific commander.
The vice president returned to the United States Friday from his three-week tour of Asia and Pacific countries. He said he was "very encouraged by the general attitude toward the United States" and "very much more optimistic than when I left" about the Nixon administration's policy in Vietnam.

Allied sources quoted a document they considered extremely reliable. It said the Communist command in South Vietnam's northern provinces had ordered all youths between 9 and 15 years old into the guerrilla ranks.
The document also mentioned establishment of suicide squads to kill local South Vietnamese government officials. The source said they assumed the youngsters would take part in such terrorist plans.
A South Vietnamese opposition political group called Sunday for a 14-day cease-fire in South Vietnam over the lunar new year period.
Francis N. Long, chairman of the Progressive Nationalist Forces, proposed the truce begin Jan. 30 and run through Feb. 12.

Nixon To Ask Support For "Railpax"

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon is expected soon to ask Congress, which returns today, to set up a government industry corporation to save rapidly disappearing passenger service on intercity trains.
The semi-public corporation, to be known as "Railpax," would be financed by a $200 million contribution from the railroads plus $100 million from the government, informed sources said today.
The corporation would be modeled after Conrail, the public-private communications satellite corporation, they said.
The three-year proposal, which is backed by Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, would make it possible for railroads to concentrate on hauling freight, without disrupting intercity passenger service, the sources said.

Grant Made

WASHINGTON (Special to the Times-New) — Sen. Len Jordan announced Monday morning that he has been informed by the Department of Housing, Education and Welfare that a $25.17 grant has been made from the HEW Headstart program to the Southeastern Community Action Agency in Twin Falls.
The money will be used for Headstart programs in Cassia, Jerome and Twin Falls counties.
BILL FILED
NEW YORK (UPI) — A bill to change the name of Manhattan's Herald Square to Robert F. Kennedy Square has been filed in the New York City Council.

Negotiators Will Attend Peace Talks

PARIS (UPI) — Allied officials said today the United States and South Vietnam will send full negotiating teams to Thursday's Vietnam peace talks session.
The decision was taken despite indications from the two chief Communist negotiators that they will again stay away from the four-way discussions, now in their second year, the sources said.
Pham Dang Lam, the South Vietnamese chief negotiator, returned to Paris Sunday from Saigon after a two-week absence and told "newsmen" he would attend this week's meeting.

Israelis Attack

By United Press International
Israeli jets attacked Egyptian military targets in the central part of the Suez Canal today for 40 minutes.
An Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv said the warplanes struck army outposts, artillery positions and anti-aircraft batteries. All planes returned safely to their base, the spokesman said.

Millionaire Promises Peace Plan

NEW YORK (UPI) — Michael James Brady, who says he will distribute $100 billion, also promises a plan for peace in Vietnam to President Nixon plus cures for cancer and all other diseases.
Brady, whose red hair and hip clothing belie his claimed wealth, insists he will give away money to anyone who needs it.
Before a national television audience on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday night, Brady, 21, played a 12-string guitar and sang a ballad written by Bob Dylan, "You Ain't Goin' Nowhere." Then he proclaimed again: "I'm worth 100 billion dollars. Does that stagger your mind? In fact, that was yesterday. I might be worth a trillion today."

OFFICIALS OF THE Snake River Area Council and Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. met recently to implement two new trust funds for the area Boy Scout council. From left, standing, are John Doerr, chairman of the trust committee; Mike Gray of the Twin Falls Title and Trust Co., and Dr. Paul Houston, council president. Seated is Willard Rees of Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co.

Shrine Club Committees Announced

Committees to serve the Twin Falls Shrine Club during 1970 have been named by Morris Roth president.

Committees and their chairmen are: Special fund raising, Dale Eberhart; fourth-annual Shrine football game, William J. Moran; Shrine spring dance, John Bertie; howling team, John M. Peterson and Ivan Johnson; food caravan to Salt Lake Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children, Jack Waegelin; Christmas party, Paul Jones; sick and visiting committee, Lee Hunter, to be assisted by all officers and members; special parties, Charles R. Higgins, and special events, Cecil Brim and Fred Wenzel.

Other new officers, besides Mr. Roth, who were installed by Curtis Eaton, master of ceremonies, were John Bertie, vice president, and Floyd E. White, secretary.

An oyster stew, prepared by Charles Higgins and his committee members, Norman Tarter, Otis Hall and Don Hulbert, was served.

Mr. Waegelin showed a film, "Miracles," describing treatment and results at the Shrine's Hospital for Crippled Children.

Visitors were present from Nuhl, Burley and Twin Falls. The next meeting will be Feb. 9.

NEW UNIFORMS ADOPTED on a volunteer basis by employees of the Shoshone district highway office are displayed by Gary Kinghorn, district office manager, and Mrs. Ray Pruitt, principal clerk. The woman wears red uniform dress and the man wears red shirt. The department furnishes the uniforms for the employees. The red shirt idea was first adopted in a northern Idaho district about two years ago and has spread throughout the state. Howard Johnson, district engineer, said the program is entirely voluntary, but the red shirts and uniforms have been well received by the public.

Two Trust Funds Set Up To Handle Donations To Scouts

Two special trust funds have been established by the Snake River Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, to provide a place for special donations and memorials which the council receives.

"Many people are looking at charitable organizations with the thought of a legacy, but hesitate to take the step in fear their gift will rapidly dissipate through operating or urgent need. Our trust fund gives them the peace of mind they should have when such action is taken. We know of a few individuals who have informed us the Snake River Area Council has been named in their wills and at least one person who has named the council beneficiary of an insurance policy. This trust fund will assure the perpetual value to boys of these contributions," he said.

Information on the trust fund can be obtained at the council office.

Dr. Paul Houston has appointed an active trust fund committee which includes Mr. Doerr, U. N. Terry, Ivan Skinner, Gordon Gray and Dr. Joseph Marshall, all Twin Falls, and Judge James Gossett, Gooding.

In this way, Mr. Gleed said, individuals who wish to name the Boy Scouts in their will or otherwise wish to give a lasting gift to Scouting can be assured that boys in this area will receive benefits from the gift for years to come.

He said anyone who wishes to make a memorial gift in memory of a Scouter also can have the satisfaction of contributing to a lasting memorial. Real property, cash, stocks or any other forms of assets can be placed in the trust fund by donors and any special provisions of a gift will be honored, Mr. Gleed said.

Gas Method

NEW YORK (UPI)—Natural gas is being used now to help expedite the recovery of many persons suffering from severe burns. Patients "float" on the heated air stream in special beds that support them solidly only at the head and ankles, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says. In 80 minutes the new technique, termed "positioning method," speeds healing to a degree that is not achieved in less than 24 hours by other treatments.

Pay Cut Idea Gets Nowhere

NEW YORK (UPI)—Time magazine said Sunday a suggestion by Cabinet member George Romney that President Nixon and his cabinet "politicians" pay cut points take a pay cut get nowhere.

Romney, secretary of housing and urban development, made the proposal at a Cabinet meeting Wednesday at which Nixon sought recommendations on ways to cut the federal budget, the magazine said.

Romney told the Cabinet, according to Time: "The economic decision-makers are convinced that inflation will continue. Having put our hand to the plow to curb inflation, we must convince the decision makers that we are not going to turn away. A little difference can make a big difference."

Use Of Snowmobiles Poses Problem To Forest Officers

Snowmobilers are becoming as numerous as skiers on a snowmobile accident rate makes comparison. Their studies of 103 accidents seen in six Vermont hospitals last winter revealed 67 broken bone cases. Injuries were most often found in the lower back and legs. Chest injuries, lung penetration, and damaged or knocked out teeth were also high on the list.

Adequate trails and parking areas solve part of the problems but only part. According to recent studies, many serious injuries are resulting from snowmobile accidents.

Doctors Stanley E. Chism and A. Bradley Soule, University of Vermont radiologists, reported in the "Journal of American Medical Association" that the as numerous as skiers on a snowmobile accident rate makes comparison. Their studies of 103 accidents seen in six Vermont hospitals last winter revealed 67 broken bone cases. Injuries were most often found in the lower back and legs. Chest injuries, lung penetration, and damaged or knocked out teeth were also high on the list.

One possible solution to this growing problem would be a snowmobile patrol fashioned after the National Ski Patrol, reported one Forest Service official. The patrol's purpose would be to attend, police, and educate snowmobile enthusiasts. It is expected that one million snowmobiles will be in use

Heart Recipient Dies In Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—Roger A. Burke Jr., 34, of New Castle, Pa., the world's 153rd heart transplant recipient, died Saturday night when his body rejected the new organ, the hospital said Sunday. The heart, supplied by an unidentified donor, was implanted in Burke's chest Jan. 10 during a three-hour operation by the transplant team of Dr. Michael DeBakey. Burke had been listed in satisfactory condition all week before taking his sudden turn for the worse Saturday.

This winter, if you are among the one million users, your winter trips will be more enjoyable and safe when you maintain your machine properly and use lots of common sense, forest officers report.

The late President Eisenhower held that changes in racial attitudes could not happen until the hearts of the people were ready.

Dear Abby By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Marriage is one of the most important decisions a person has to make in his life. Right? So why shouldn't a person take as much pains in selecting a mate as he would in hiring an employee? I mean, no one in his right mind would hire anyone until he checked his references, and found out if he had his last job as well as his last one.

DEAR ABBY: I just hate to answer my telephone for fear it's my husband's daughters calling for a ride. You see, when I met Howard he was already married. His two teen-age daughters live with his ex-wife not far from here. The "ex" doesn't speak to me, but hardly a day goes by without those girls calling me for transportation somewhere. So one day I just took them down to the shop and got around. (It wouldn't be surprised if Howard's wife puts them up to calling me.)

DEAR PRACTICAL: Your idea would never work. When a marriage is considered, the candidates are looking at the world (and each other) through rose-colored glasses, which they wear to see the good in each other. Also, the same divorces are more civilized than others, for part "friends," and one wouldn't expect to get an impartial reference from an enemy. And lastly, one woman's letter can be another woman's bandaid.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry in exactly four weeks. My future husband is every thing a woman would want in a man, but there is one thing that is upsetting me. I am of the opinion that once the wedding date has been set, all past "ties" with old friends should be broken. He, on the other hand, has different ideas. He sees nothing wrong with living with one woman in particular.

DEAR DESPERATE: You sound desperate as well as stampeded, addressed envelope.

3 Europeans Held After Protests

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet authorities today held three young West European—who handicuffed themselves in public—and disrupting a performance of "My Fair Lady"—in protests against imprisonment of dissident Russian intellectuals.

Vicor Van Brantegen of Ghent, Belgium, managed himself to a balcony railing Sunday night after the first act of "My Fair Lady," shouted "Svoboda Grigorenko!" (freedom for Grigorenko), and showered the audience with confetti. He was arrested after the bandits and removed him from the theater.

Van Brantegen was appealing for freedom for Maj. Gen. Pyotr G. Grigorenko, cashiered from the Red army for his liberal views.

New Mortgage Insurance Plan Promises To Make It Easier For Young Families

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new mortgage insurance plan promises to make it easier for young families with small savings but bright futures to make the down payment on conventional home loans.

Jack W. Goss, executive vice president of Investors Mortgage Insurance Corp., describes the plan as a private alternative to FHA home loans.

Under the plan, the insurance company underwrites the top 20 per cent of a mortgage. In effect, the insurance permits the home buyer to borrow about two-thirds of the down payment required for a conventional loan.

Goss explained that many young college graduates have a high enough income and promising enough prospects to be in the market for a home in the $35,000 to $40,000 bracket.

However, to buy such a home on a conventional mortgage, the family must make a down payment of 30 per cent, or between $10,500 and $12,000. Most young families, no matter how bright the future, do not have that kind of cash.

Under the insurance plan, the home buyer would put up 10 per cent of the loan in cash and the insurance company would underwrite an additional 20 per cent. Thus, the lender is guaranteed 30 per cent of the home's worth in cash — just as he would be with the usual down payment.

The FHA loan program permits 10 per cent down payments but Goss said loans usually are limited to $30,000.

Electric Administration loan can be made with no money down but there are strict eligibility requirements.

Goss said his company issues insurance with less red tape than the FHA and charges less for the service.

The FHA guarantees costs one half of 1 per cent per year on the outstanding balance of the loan for the entire term of the mortgage.

Goss said his private plan costs one half of 1 per cent for the first year and one quarter per cent annually thereafter until the insured portion of the loan is paid off, usually in about five or 10 years.

"In effect, private industry has gone into business to do what the government earlier saw the need for," Goss said.

Handicapped Man Revenges His Plight

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A man confined to a wheelchair was charged with first degree murder Sunday in the death of a man he said cost him use of his legs in a tavern fight seven years ago.

Police said James M. Doolin, 35, Indianapolis, the handicapped man, drove to police headquarters after the shooting and surrendered.

Doolin told authorities he was parking his car outside a home where he was to attend a party when William R. Schubnell, 44, Indianapolis, approached him. Doolin said Schubnell had a gun on his belt, police reported.

Doolin told police he drew his own gun and shot, fearing Schubnell might shoot him.

Police found Schubnell with a fully loaded .22 caliber pistol lying on his chest, which was punctured by three bullets. He died before they could move him.

Police records show Doolin welded a pool cue against Schubnell May 18, 1963, as the two fought in a tavern. Schubnell then owned over a $15 check Doolin had written. Doolin's spinal cord was severed by a bullet fired from a gun Schubnell was holding and Doolin's legs were paralyzed, police reports show.

When Doolin turned himself in Sunday, there was a pool cue in his car and he told police to "take real good care of it."

Police said Doolin, who told them he is unemployed, is able to propel himself about in a wheelchair. Police said he was nearly driven and owned a car. Doolin was scheduled for a court appearance Monday.

Romney Says He Would Ask Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Housing Secretary George Romney says he would advocate a tax increase if necessary to control the inflation which has already made it impossible for half the nation's families to afford a new home.

Romney conceded the nation is building fewer than half enough homes to meet the professionally set goal of 26 million new units in 10 years. He blamed inflation.

"There is no possible way by which you can achieve that housing goal in an inflationary economy of the type we have at the present time," he said in a UPI "Washington Window" interview.

Romney also said his housing and urban development department is determined to help more poor people — black and white — move into suburbs which have been almost exclusively the preserves of the white and affluent.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Weakness in the glamor group of the New York Stock Exchange Monday in moderate turnover.

As trading rounded the halfway mark, the UPI market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a loss of 0.59 percent on 1,476 issues, crossing the tape of those, 600 retraced and 360 advanced.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 93 selected blue chips was off 5.28 at 777.37.

IBM, which fell 1 1/2 Friday following a decline in fourth quarter earnings, has not opened due to an imbalance of orders.

Some analysts attributed the slump in the glamor group to IBM's slide on Friday, although others pointed out that the group was ripe for profit taking and IBM's action served as the trigger.

Business Today

By RICHARD ROSSI
UPI Business Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Each year in the United States nearly 500,000 marriages end in divorce courts.

Ideally, the settlement agreement should spell out precisely what each party is getting in practice, that often isn't the case.

One frequently overlooked item in divorce settlements is the disposition of life insurance policies.

"In many instances people do overlook the fact that there is life insurance and this frequently is a cause for trouble later on," said an officer for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

He said the Metropolitan, the second largest insurance company in the United States, handles "a dozen or two cases a day" in which the divorce settlement was either inadequate or unclear about the disposition of life insurance.

Problems usually arise when the husband decides he wants to change the beneficiary after the divorce. Unless the settlement agreement specifically forbids this he is perfectly free to do so. But some companies require that the original life insurance policy be submitted before a beneficiary change can be made.

Q — During 1968 I purchased Ampek Corp. at a 1/2 price. As a result of the Fed. Reserve Act of 1968 its bank accounts were frozen. A $4,000,000 video recording system introduced by Ampek will be marketed by Debold, a well-established bank equipment firm. If the 15 percent annual growth rate projected by management is achieved, should I sell now or hold?

A — Unless you are really pressed for additional current income I would favor holding Ampek. A world leader in audio and visual tape equipment and related systems, Ampek is estimated to supply 75 percent of the video recording equipment used in commercial television. In fact, video products accounted for about 40 percent of Ampek 1968 sales.

Five years ago, Ampek entered the mass consumer market for tape recorders, cassettes and so on. Sales in this area reached $70 million in 1968. Another promising field which opened up

Wallace Hits School Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — George C. Wallace says President Nixon "has done more in this administration to destroy the public school system in one year than the last administration did in four."

The former Alabama governor, who is expected to run again in 1972 as the American Independent Party candidate for president, said Nixon will lose in 1972 if he does not stop "the destruction of the public school system."

Wallace was interviewed on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

Wallace suggested that Nixon should "stop the dismantling of the union" speech that he favors the freedom-of-choice concept in education despite a Supreme Court ruling that it tends to preserve segregation.

Congress Returns For 2nd Session

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic controlled 91st Congress returned for its second session today to face an immediate political struggle with President Nixon on school aid and inflation.

The House and Senate meeting at noon, after weeks of recess for late winter tests on hot issues from street crime to the draft.

Nixon will deliver to a joint session Thursday his first formal report on the State of the Union. Lawmakers speculated he will propose a narrowly balanced budget for the new fiscal year with little room for legislative innovation.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he would call up at once a $1.7 billion money bill for the Labor and the Health, Education and Welfare departments which Nixon has promised to veto as costing too much.

In the House, only minor bills were on the floor Wednesday. The House Ways and Means Committee was starting secret consideration of Nixon's proposed welfare reforms.

Members said Nixon's plan for guaranteed minimum income for poor working people faces nearly insurmountable odds partly because it would double current $5 billion annual welfare expenses.

Foyt Captures 500-Mile Race

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — A.J. Foyt, the 35-year-old veteran from Houston, Tex., Sunday scored a four-second victory in the accident-marred 100,000 Motor Trend 500 at Riverside International Raceway.

Jim Cook, 48, Norwalk, Calif., was critically injured when his 1968 Ford was involved in an accident with David Pearson in an unidentified third car and struck hay bales at 140 miles an hour.

Cook was rushed by helicopter to Riverside Community Hospital.

Foyt, a three-time winner at Indianapolis, finished the U.S. 500 at 107.070 Ford Torino in NASCAR's first Grand National race of the year. Cook was in a 1968 Plymouth Toronado.

Third was Larry Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., who also was in a Ford Torino.

SEARCH FOR LEADS

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard investigated underground political organizations today in a search for leads to vandals who tried Sunday to blow up the tomb of Karl Marx, Police said. The 17-foot-tall monument was doused with sweetbats. Two large stones had been shattered in the blast and the nose of the large statue of Marx, coauthor of the Communist manifesto, had been all but sawed off.

Dale Douglass Breaks Up Logjam With 66 To Cop Phoenix Golf Win

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Dale Douglass, veteran Colorado golfer, broke up a logjam in the final round of the $100,000 Phoenix Open by shooting a 66 Sunday to win the $20,000 top prize with a 72-hole total of 271, two under par.

Harney going into the last round but shot a three over-par 74 and had a total of 277. Douglass, who will be 53 in March, finished with his 66 about 45 minutes ahead of the last two, of Little and Dill. Douglass had an unseasonal one under par 35 on the front nine but rallied for a 31 on the back nine with four birdies. Going out, he had three birdies and two bogeys. "I putted real well," he said. "I made a number of 10-footers which is hard to do."

Weber State Regains Old Spot As Big Sky Conference Leader

The latest round of bids went for those Big Sky Conference teams hoping to defend Weber State as the Big Sky Conference's weakest phase of their game — free throws.

The Wildcats connected on 22 of 26 attempts from the charity line Saturday night in defeating Montana State 66-52 to sweep a weekend pair from the Bobcats at Bozeman.

The victory was the 23rd in a row in conference play for Senior guard Lesions Harlan caught off scoring honors in both games for Weber. He totaled 26 in a 73-70 squeaker Friday and had 16 in Saturday's win.

Phil Johnson's Wildcats get a chance to make it 24 straight in league play when they meet Montana tonight in Missoula. Idaho State, defeated by Montana Friday night 81-73, squared its series with the Grizzlies by winning a 96-89 decision Saturday night with Willie Hines and O'Neil Simmons scoring 30 and 24 points respectively.

Montana, now 1-1 in league play, was led by guard Dave Gustafson and Don Wetzel with 23 each. Montana and Montana State will hook up for a pair of games this weekend, meeting Friday night at Butte and Saturday night at Bozeman.

Other Saturday games find Portland State at Gonzaga and Weber at West Texas State.

Two Will Miss NHL Classic

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Two Western Division players injured within the past week will miss the National Hockey League's 22nd All-Star game Tuesday night.

Goalie Glenn Hall and Center Phil Goyette, both of the St. Louis Blues, will miss the game. Goyette was chosen as the starting center by hockey writers, and Hall was added to the team by Western Division coach Scottie Bowman.

Wyoming Scrambles Back Into Midst Of WAC Basketball Race

By James Bapts United Press International Wyoming has scrambled back into contention in the Western Athletic Conference basketball race with back-to-back victories over Colorado State that must have stimulated the aging process for cowboy coach Bill Strannigan.

Both contests went down to the wire as Wyoming boosted its WAC record to 3-1 and gained an all important road victory at the expense of the Rams.

Guard Willy Robinson sank a pair of free throws with three seconds left to clinch a 77-77 victory for the Cowboys Saturday night at Laramie. It took a twisting jumpshot by Carl Ashley in the closing seconds to give Wyoming an 88-87 victory two nights earlier at Ft. Collins.

In Saturday night's victory at home, the Cowboys bounced back from a 40-30 halftime deficit to outscore the Rams 35-16 in the first 10 minutes of the second half and take a 65-66 lead.

CSU regained the lead with a rally of its own but accurate foul shooting in the closing minutes assured victory for Wyoming, the Cowboys hit 12 of their final 14 charity tosses.

Texas-EI Paso, meanwhile, took over sole possession of the WAC lead by hurrying Arizona State 108-84 behind the scoring and defensive play of scrappy Nate Archibald.

In other Saturday action, Arizona downed New Mexico 78-72. Utah State ousted Utah 106-88 in overtime and Brigham Young continued its losing streak, dropping a 74-70 contest to Athletes in Action.

Archibald scored 20 points and held ASU's Sabers Hill, the league's top scorer, to the 15th ranked Minors registered their fourth straight WAC victory. Four other UTEP players finished in double figures, including Bob Doyle with 10 and Mike Switzer with 18.

A 32 point effort by Ken Gardner was not enough to carry foul plagued Utah to victory over arch rival Utah State at Logan. The Utes, suffering their fourth defeat of the season, lost three starters on fouls, including scoring ace Mike Nowlin.

Six consecutive free throws in overtime by sophomore guard Jeff Tebbel preserved Utah State's second victory this year over the Utes.

Pistons Drop Lakers 106-100

DETROIT (UPI)—Dave Bing hit 27 points and Otto Moore added a career high of 25 Sunday in leading the Detroit Pistons to a 106-100 National Basketball Association triumph over the Los Angeles Lakers.

Moore, who has averaged 14.5 points and 14 rebounds since taking over the starting center position from Walt Bellamy, sparked Detroit on the inside while Bing led the outside attack.

The Pistons broke open a close game in the second quarter and led by as much as 17 points in the fourth period to offset Jerry West's 30-point performance.

Boston Has 109-102 Win Over Knicks

BOSTON (UPI)—Henry Finkel and John Havlicek combined for six points in the last three minutes Sunday afternoon to give the Boston Celtics a 109-102 victory over the New York Knicks in a National Basketball game.

The Celtics overcame a 31-point effort by New York's Willis Reed in a nationally televised game which was tied 101-101 with just over two minutes left. Finkel scored the go-ahead basket on a layup with 2:34 to go.

After both teams missed baskets four times down the court, Havlicek sank a long jumper shot with 1:27 remaining. The Knicks' Walt Frazier dumped in a free throw and then Finkel scored again to ice the game for Boston.

In the highly contested first half, during which several hatracks occurred, New York took a 35-36 lead into the dressing room. But Boston came back in the third quarter to outscore New York 34-22 and take a 90-80 lead.

Milwaukee Rips San Francisco

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Bucks built a 26-point lead in the third quarter, then withstood a San Francisco rally for a 123-107 National Basketball Association win over the Warriors Sunday.

The Bucks, with three players in double figures, led the cold shooting Warriors 58-30 at the half, but San Francisco was without the services of center Nate Thurmond and had trouble following through on their shots.

LONG SUIT HOLDS THAT NINTH TRICK

Oswald: "George Gordon of Carmel, Calif., may well be the world's most successful bridge teacher. He has just sent us a book showing the bidding and play of 24 simple hands. As you would discuss some of them this week. Jim: "A good idea. Our column has been running a trifle too tough lately."

Oswald: "His Deal Number Two concerns the opening bid of one no-trump and development of long-suit cards into winning tricks. He uses the standard 18-19 for his opening no-trump and South has exactly 18 high-card points."

Jim: "North has 10 high-card points. There is no reason to try for a slam or into both with the five-card diamond suit. Ten plus 16 is 26; 10 plus 18 is 28. The partnership total cannot exceed 26 to 28, so a raise to three no-trump is indicated."

Oswald: "George points out that South can count eight top trick winners and that he can find additional winners in either clubs or diamonds."

Jim: "There are two reasons why he should go after diamonds. The first is that there are two potential extra tricks here. The second is he can get that long-suit trick provided the diamonds break either 4-2 or 3-3 while the extra club trick can only result from a 3-3 split."

Oswald: "There is another reason to start on diamonds. If either opponent shows out on the second lead there is still plenty of time to go after clubs."

Jim: "One more point: South must with the first spade in his own hand so as to leave the spade ace as an entry to assuming the suit breaks, 4-2 as it actually does."

Strong Magnets Can Divert Migrating Birds From Course

IT'S CLAIMED the most widely recognized trademarks in the world are "Coke," "B. V. D.," and "Singer." POWERFUL MAGNETS can throw migrating birds off their course, that has been proved on experiments—says "I don't know why, but almost all the birds sold in Hawaii are a size 34 B." IT'S SIMPLE, in the wild animal world, the magnets sip water, the magnets eaters lap it... THE SURVEY-TAKERS SAY: only one college girl in three will kiss on the first date. And I am Genghis Khan.

LOVE AND WAR — You'd think the report about a woman who kneels-down on the floor and takes off her husband's shoes should be filed under "Love," would you not? That's what I thought when a Sacramento subscriber so described his wife's nightly routine. She turns out, however, she does not engage in this tender practice when he arrives home, but only when he tries to go back out.

OPEN QUESTION — In there any evidence to support the old claim that Adolf Hitler once was a house painter?

CONSIDER THIS — Married men make more money than widowers. Divorced men make more money than separated men. Single men make more money than single men. In all ages. On the average. So say the statisticians.

CUSTOMER SERVICE — When a gentleman is walking down the street with two women, he should be between them, right? A. That's the one experts say he ought to walk on the outside, so he can talk to either one without turning his back on the other... Q. WHICH HAVE the longer life expectancy — tall men or short men? A. Up to the age of 40, more tall men than short men die. After that, though, the tall men seem to live longer.

NARCOTICS — Man for man, there were 10 times as many drug addicts nationwide 55 years ago as there are. Listeners who were making some sort of scene with hard narcotics, Mall-order houses — specifically, Sears Roebuck & Co. — sold tablets to help the poor, plungers put away their needles and needles, just about any trifles you meet can tell you more about turning on. With opiates than your bearded boyfriend will ever find out. And the old ranch hands who know too weed when they see it still outnumber all the petty, paltry, puny pot-smokers in your class. Oh, come on, stop bawling, honey. I didn't mean to hurt your ego, you're a real sophisticated young lady.

THE COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN IDAHO is organizing a tour of Europe this summer as part of its educational program. The primary program being planned for the CST tour will be on the German language, but others are available. The group will leave June 22 and return July 31. Principal European cities which will be visited are Paris, Heidelberg, Munich, Vienna and Venice. A meeting to discuss the tour is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday at Shields Academic Building. All high school seniors, college students and other interested persons are asked to attend. Anyone who is unable to attend but is interested in the tour is asked to contact William Hughes at CST. A student participating in the tour will receive six semester hours credit from CST. Here a similar group of students wanders through the streets of Brussels, Belgium, while enjoying one of the study-tours.

Leary Avers Many People Use 'Pot'

LAREDO, Tex. (UPI) — Timothy Leary, who will go on trial for the second time today in Laredo on marijuana smuggling charges, said Saturday that "25 or 30 million Americans" smoke marijuana so he did not think the use of "pot" was such a big thing. Leary, the guru of the marijuana smoking crowd, will be tried on a smuggling charge that grew out of a common customs inspector's finding three ounces of marijuana in a silver suitcase between his 18-year-old daughter's legs. Fog grounded Leary's Laredo trial, which was postponed to Dallas Saturday. He had shaved off his beard, but his hair was long and he was wearing cowboy hats and cowboy boots. His wife, who was with him, was wearing Indian moccasins and had hair well past her shoulders. A jury in U.S. District Court found Leary guilty in March, 1968 of transporting marijuana and failing to pay a transfer tax. U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally sentenced him to 30 years in prison and fined him $40,000. His daughter, Susan, tried separately, was convicted of illegally transporting and concealing marijuana. She was given a probation sentence without supervision and released from probation in 1969. Leary, 46, has to be tried again because he appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, which threw out the conviction, sentence and fine. The Supreme Court took the view that Leary was protected by the 6th Amendment. That is, the court said, if he had declared the marijuana in order to pay a transfer tax, the State of Texas would have arrested him for marijuana smuggling and conviction.

MORE FISHING AND TRAVELING are on schedule for Mr. and Mrs. Dell Hudson, who have retired from duties at the Castleford post office. Mrs. Hudson served as postmaster since 1943 and her husband was assistant postmaster since 1945. No appointment has yet been made to fill the vacancy.

Postmaster And Assistant Retire From Castleford Jobs

CASTLEFORD — Mrs. Dell Hudson has retired as the postmaster of the Castleford Post Office after serving in this capacity since 1943. Mrs. Hudson also has retired as the assistant postmaster. He has been employed in the Castleford Post Office since 1945. Mrs. Hudson became the postmistress following the retirement of R. W. Gager. Mrs. Gager helped until the Civil Service tests could be taken and the appointment was made. When Mrs. Hudson learned of her appointment by telegram from the late D. Worth Clark, then Senator from Idaho, the Castleford Post Office was a fourth office. In 1945, due to the increase in outgoing mail, it became a third class Post Office and Mrs. Hudson was then appointed as postmistress by President Harry S. Truman. As yet there has been no appointment made to fill the office of postmaster at Castleford. Since Mr. and Mrs. Hudson's retirement, Audrey Oatler, Buhl, has been the acting postmistress. She has served as the substitute rural carrier in the Buhl-Castleford area. Mrs. Deborah Alexander has been working in the Post Office with Mrs. Oatler. Mrs. Hudson recalls that when she began working for the Post Office it was located in the "old Hitchcock" store. In 1952, the Hudsons built the present Castleford Post Office building and moved into it. The late Steve Brabb was the rural mail carrier for Route 1 and also helped Mrs. Hudson. Following his death, Route 1 and a part of Route 3 at Buhl were combined and Gene Todd became the carrier for this enlarged route. The present carrier is Paul Kifer, Buhl. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson plan to do some fishing and traveling. They have recently returned from a trip to California where they visited relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson's daughter, Mrs. L. C. (Buck) Boss, lives in Twin Falls.

Too Sensitive

LONDON (UPI) — Janke Baillie, a sensitive vagrant, decided the judge had gone too far when he asked Baillie if he had been drunk when picked up by police. Baillie snapped: "I've never been drunk in my life." He then removed his top teeth and hurled them at the judge. He was found guilty. GRANTS ANNOUNCED WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General John N. Mitchell said today he announced $236 million would be distributed in direct grants to states and cities for crime programs under the 1968 Safe Streets Act.

AEC Witness Cites Hazard Of Atom Test

DENVER (UPI) — A witness from the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) testified Friday he could not tell how much radioactive hydrogen will be released if the cavern created by the Project Rullison nuclear blast last September is re-entered. Dr. Fred Holzer of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Livermore, Calif., said he could not provide the answer to that question without knowing the amount of the flow of the gas. The court hearings in U. S. District Court are an attempt to prevent entry of the cavern near Grand Valley, Colo. The AEC has estimated the amount of radioactive hydrogen produced by the 40 kiloton nuclear device would equal from 1,000 to 10,000 curies in the cavity. A curie is a unit of measurement for radioactivity. Dr. Lee Amold of Santa Fe, N. M., scientific director to the AEC on Project Rullison, testified Tuesday that based on gas samples taken from the well head last Friday, he would estimate the amount at 1,300 curies. Dr. Holzer was brought from California Friday in an attempt to clear up confusion resulting Thursday from the testimony of Dr. Bruce Bray, a chemical engineer in the CER Geonuclear Corporation in Las Vegas, Nev. Apparently Dr. Bray misinterpreted information in a deposition taken from Dr. Holzer, and the testimony prompted Judge Ara) to comment on the confused state of the record regarding the amount of tritium reaching the surface. Bray was asked by an attorney for the Austral Oil Co. of Houston whether there could be any commercial development of the gas released by the blast "until an act of Congress is passed." Bray answered, "To the best of my knowledge, no." An AEC spokesman said legislation is pending in Congress. The witness called by the defense Friday, Dr. Melvin Carter of the Las Vegas, Nev., Public Health Service, in charge of monitoring the radioactivity levels at the Rullison site, indicated that no significant amount of radiation was detected near the site before or after the blast. Carter also said that 25 Public Health Service personnel would be monitoring radiation if the cavern is uncapped. Plaintiffs in the trial are the Colorado Open Space Council, the American Civil Liberties Union, Garfield County District Attorney, Martin Dumont and four individuals, three of which live in the Project Rullison area. Named as defendants in the trial are the AEC, Austral Oil Co., CER Geonuclear, and the AEC.

Cut Your Own Taxes, Chap. 13 Miscellaneous Classification Holds Deduction Gold Mine

By RAY DE CRANE — Distributed by Enterprise Press — Don't be deceived by the heading on the final classification of deductions. On Schedule A of your income tax return, it is shown as "Miscellaneous Deductions." There's a gold mine of deductions here. Don't pass it over too quickly. Here is the place to list all of these: —Child care or invalid care payments; —Storm fire, auto accident and theft losses; —Unreimbursed work expense, such as the purchase and cleaning of required work uniforms and special work clothes, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves used in certain occupations, safety equipment, tools and supplies, deductions from your wages for damages to your employer's property; —Union dues; —Fees paid an employment agency to obtain a new job; —Educational expenses, if the training was to maintain or improve skills required on the job or to meet your employer's specific job requirements, or if required by law or regulations to maintain your status. Such expenses undertaken initially to qualify you for a job or to qualify you for a better job are not deductible, however; —Alimony, if paid periodically to your former wife in accordance with provisions of a court decree or written separation agreement entered into after Aug. 16, 1954. The former wife must include such payments as income on her return; —Unreimbursed entertainment expense, if ordinary and necessary in your work; —Expenses incurred in connection with the collection or production of income. If you are an investor, you may deduct the fees paid an investment counselor or for subscriptions to financial publications or for the rental of a safety deposit box for the protection of your securities.

Pope Ponders Parochial Sex Classes

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican said Saturday it is studying ways of giving "positive and prudent sexual education" in Roman Catholic schools. But it angrily rejected a Rome newspaper's speculation that this might include condoning sex deviation or encouraging sexual intercourse among pupils. "Statements and insinuations in the article about methods of sex education allegedly taken from models do not deserve a response since their character is as hateful as it is ridiculous," the Vatican Congregation for Catholic Education said, answering a story in the newspaper Il Tempo. The congregation said its school department, under Swiss Marialist Father Albert Kossler, has been studying the problem of sex education in the light of Ecumenical Council decrees. It quoted the council of the item immediately before the casualty with its fair market value immediately a far ward. In no case may the loss be greater than the adjusted basis, generally the purchase price, of the item. (NEXT: The final countdown.)

Service Restored

BOISE (UPI) — Idaho Power Co. crews working since late Saturday afternoon to restore power to two Boise television stations and the Bogus Basin Ski Area. W. G. Walstra, central division electrical superintendent, said severe icing conditions on lines serving Bogus and the TV transmitters on Shafter Route was responsible for the break in service. Ruling that teachers should give students a positive and prudent sexual education. It said the subject is being given "a certain priority" but "the study of the matter is still in a preliminary stage and will be continued with proper speed and under normal procedures." Il Tempo reported the congregation's study of sex education in an article based partly on a story in the U.S. newspaper, the Long Island Catholic. It said some Catholics were protesting in the congregation to adopt "the most advanced experiments under way in many schools in Sweden in America, where... the sex act among children is encouraged and morbid and psychopathic degenerations are explained and justified."

Sen. Scott Asks Jobs For Negroes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said Saturday Negroes "have a just claim" to more political appointments by the Nixon administration. —Disappointment with the number of jobs given to blacks, he said, is part of the explanation for apparent Negro disenchantment with the Republican Party. Another reason, the Pennsylvania said in a radio interview (Metromedia), was the stand taken by some Republicans on civil rights matters. And he predicted that President Nixon would reverse his earlier stance on the most important civil rights issue before Congress and end up taking a liberal position. The issue is whether to extend or change the expiring Voting Rights Act of 1965 under which tens of thousands of Negroes in seven Deep South states registered and voted for the first time. Northern liberals favor a simple extension of the 1965 law. Nixon backs a House-passed version of the bill to apply the law nationwide, but in the view of the northerners, watering-down enforcement of voting rights. If Scott's prediction turns out to be correct, Nixon will have made a total reversal. The White House exerted tremendous pressure in the House last year to substitute the Nixon-backed voting rights bill for a simple extension which had been approved by a House committee. Scott made his prediction in discussing the Deep South Negro disenchantment with the GOP. "Black people would like to see more appointments of Negroes to office," he said. "And in that respect they have a just claim. And every month there are some more, but not enough, appointed."

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — The Wisconsin Senate has passed an implied consent bill for testing suspected drunk drivers in a series of tests. The driver must take a test and then says he doesn't have to. One section of a bill says an arrested driver is deemed to have consented to a chemical test of his breath, blood or urine. Another section states no test will be given if the driver refuses to take it.
