AWAITING ARRIVAL OF an ambulance Friday morning following a two-car collision on Blue Lakes Boulevard North is Phyllis Hatch, 17, Twin Falls. City officer Ron Garay and two unidentified men are leaning over the injured girl who was treated and released from Magic Valley Memorial Hospital. Miss Hatch was traveling north on Blue Lakes when a car driven by Michael Kenneth Reid, 19, Twin Falls, pulled over Evergreen Drive onto Blue Lakes. The Hatch car collided with the left side of the Reid vehicle.

Mideast Crisis Grows As Israelis Press Attacks

Israeli bombers raided within 10 miles of Cairo twice today in the increasingly intense Middle East crisis. Israeli invaders battled Egyptian defenders again on the Red Sea island of Shadwan. Egypt's air force struck back in their heaviest raids in weeks, bombing the Israeli positions on Shadwan and raiding three positions in the Israeli-occupied Sinai Peninsula, Cairo said. The two nations battled throughout the night with artillery along the Suez Canal and Israel said two Israelis were killed, one soldier and one civilian.

New England Freezes While West Coast Is Inundated

By United Press International
New England and the East froze today while the San Francisco Bay area turned into one big mass of wet jello. The upper Midwest warmed up but new snow accompanied the rising temperatures. Burlington, Vt., had 19 below, Lebanon, N.H., 17 below, Hartford, Conn., 5 below, Portland, Maine, and Concord, N.H., 3 below. Larger cities had above the zero mark. Boston had 12, New York City 15, Philadelphia 13 and Washington 18.

Three Are Charged In Mine Slayings

By STEPHEN MORROW
CLEVELAND (UPI) — The FBI investigation into the New Year's Eve murder of United Mine Workers official Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski, his wife and daughter appears to be far from complete, even though three men have been charged with the killings. Inquiries about the trio charged with the slayings and jailed under a total of $775,000 bond brought a terse "no comment" while Pennsylvania authorities rushed plans to have the three extradited.

Hairy Fuss

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Robert Heichenberg Jr., an Army veteran who was refused permission to enter Chadron State College because of a rule that "moustaches will be trimmed even with the mouth," has taken the case to court.

The role vocational education should play in the state's education network was verbally explored Thursday by members of the Governor's Advisory Board for Vocational Education.

remove the old facilities on the south edge. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly refused to allow removal, saying the right of way in the land patent belonged to the highway and not the telephone company. The Kellys also claimed the poles on the land and billed the telephone company $125,000 for the land since 1960. The telephone company did not deny and in 1966 had the Kellys sue. The suit asked the Kellys be restrained from further hindrance in removal of the old equipment on the south edge of the highway. The telephone company won in the District Court last week. Mr. Kelly took the matter to the Idaho Supreme Court. Again he lost. But Mr. Kelly contends the matter should have been heard before a jury and said since the old facilities were not removed, the case should be remanded for a jury trial.

Idahoan To Send 'Gifts' To Congress

COEUR D'ALENE (UPI)—House Speaker John McCormack will be receiving Valentine presents in the next few days from local residents.

The presents are unusable clothing sent to commemorate the upcoming first anniversary of the 42 per cent pay rise Congress voted itself last year.

The initial 35 packages were mailed Wednesday by Mrs. George Cook, Coeur d'Alene, who spearheaded a campaign last year to get people to send bonds to Congress, protesting the raise.

Mrs. Cook said the action was designed as a Valentine's Day present "to show Congress we haven't forgotten the salary grab of last Valentine's Day and all the other raids on our Treasury that followed."

The packages were decorated with various sayings expressing the thoughts of the senders. These included:

"Here's our shirt. You have everything else."

"In memory of the 1969 salary grab: To Congress, with love."

And this poem:

You broke our hearts when you raised your pay,
You knew what we would think—
But you had your way.
Better think it over and start to pray.
Cause come election time we're going to have our say."

Last February Mrs. Cook started a drive that gained national attention when she packed up boxes of beans to send to congressmen after the pay raise was approved.

She said the shipment of beans was prompted by a remark attributed to the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who was quoted as saying, "All I need is beans and bacon to get by, but I want to perform the social amenities and do my job as well as I can."

THIS EXPANSE OF WATER is really a road, but recent rains have inundated about a mile of 300 North and another mile stretch on 100 west near Rupert. This picture, taken from near the southeastern edge of Cap Holley Lake shows part of the area near the intersection which is under water. Depth of the water is estimated at about one and one-half feet.

San Quentin May Reduce Tight Security Around Sirhan

SAN QUENTIN (UPI)—Heavy security precautions around condemned assassin Sirhan B. Sirhan may be changed to allow him closer contact with other men on death row, San Quentin officials said.

"We will be reviewing his situation early in February," said Associate Warden James O. Park.

Sirhan went on a hunger strike last November in protest against the tight security which prevents his association with other prisoners.

He ended the hunger strike Dec. 11, but said he might fast to death unless concessions were made within a month.

The 25-year-old condemned killer of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was especially annoyed by the 15-foot "no-man's land" created by a double steel grating which separates him from others on death row.

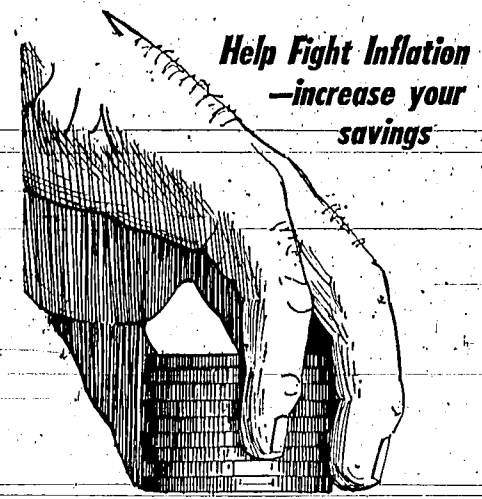

Park said the review early next month will cover "all the custodial restrictions but particularly the request for a single barrier."

He said Sirhan has been told the conditions are being reviewed and apparently has decided not to make any protests until after the review.

The Jordanian immigrant has also demanded freedom to exercise with the other prisoners.

The winner will be crowned at a homecoming dance Jan. 30 and the queen and her court will be introduced at half-time of the CSI-North Idaho Junior College basketball game.

CSI Homecoming Queen, Court, To Be Named In Voting On Campus Next Week

The 1970 homecoming queen at the College of Southern Idaho will be chosen next week in balloting on campus.

Nine candidates have been nominated by campus clubs and organizations which are campaigning for their favorite contestants.

The queen will be selected during voting Wednesday and will be crowned during intermission of a semi-formal dance Jan. 30 night at the National Guard Armory. Bob Keegan, Twin Falls, student body president, will crown the queen and her two attendants.

The homecoming royalty also will be introduced Jan. 31 during half-time of the CSI-North Idaho Junior College basketball game at Twin Falls High School gymnasium.

Candidates are Sherie Rieger, Verlene Claiborn, Jenny Peterson, Jane Martin, Lynn Summerfield, Vickie Guenechea, Lynn Havener, Elizabeth Nesbitt, and Doris McDonald.

Miss McDonald is sponsored by the CSI Veterans Club. She is a sophomore and is from Shoshone where she was graduated from high school in 1968. She is majoring in education, with an eye toward either elementary or physical education. Her future plans are undecided.

Miss Nesbitt is a 1969 graduate of Twin Falls High School and is a freshman at CSI. She plans to further her education in English, with side interests of sociology and music. Her primary interests are reading, riding, skiing and writing. She is 18 years old and is sponsored by the SAGA Club.

Another 1969 graduate of Twin Falls High School, Miss Peterson is being sponsored by the German Club. She is 18 years old and is a freshman at CSI where she is majoring in general education. She would like to study in Germany for a year and then pursue a career as an airline stewardess.

Miss Guenechea was graduated from Elmore High School in 1969 and is majoring in elementary education during her freshman year at CSI. She plans to further her education at the University of Idaho. She is 19 years old and is sponsored by the Circle K Club.

Miss Claiborn is a sophomore at CSI and plans to continue her education at Idaho State University. She is majoring in business administration. She is 19 years old and is a graduate of Jerome High School. Her sponsor is Rifle Club.

Miss Summerfield is a graduate of Twin Falls High School and is 19 years old. She has been elected Circle K vice president and student body treasurer. She is a sophomore majoring in elementary education. Her main interests are dancing, skiing, swimming and any other type of sport. She is sponsored by the Ski Club.

Miss Martin was graduated from Twin Falls High School and is a sophomore at CSI, majoring in home economics. She plans to further her education at Boise State College and eventually run a child care center or work in the field of child development. She is sponsored

Correction On License Suspension Is Reported

The Magic Valley drivers license suspension list for December, released to the Times-News recently by the Idaho Department of Law Enforcement, contained an error. It was learned today.

The list read William Saxton, Twin Falls, had his license suspended for altering his driver's license. This is not correct. Mr. Saxton's license has not been suspended and the reason his name was on the list is not known.

Interest On Savings Is Increased

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Home Loan Bank Board Wednesday authorized an increase in the interest rates they may pay to help them beat the competition from banks.

Chairman Preston Martin said the new rates authorized 5 per cent interest on immediately withdrawable passbook savings in all states and permit savings and loan associations to issue premium rate $100,000 certificates at the same interest as banks, 7.5 per cent.

Martin said his board, which regulates savings and loans, opposed any increase during consultations with the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The Federal Reserve and the FDIC authorized higher rates for commercial banks and mutual savings banks Tuesday.

District Judge Considers Dispute Over Authority Of State Board Of Examiners To Settle Payroll Dispute

By LINDY HIGH BOISE (UPI)—District Judge Merlin S. Young took under advisement Thursday a case which will decide whether the State Board of Examiners abused its authority in a dispute over Idaho payroll forms.

Board Members Gov. Don Samuels, Secretary of State Pete Conrath and Attorney General Robert Robison disapproved the forms submitted which would have kept the Division of Management Services from preparing any payrolls.

It would mean the Division of Management Services would no longer process payrolls. Deputy Attorney General Daniel Slavin, arguing for the state, said he believed the facts showed the board of examiners disapproved the system "because it was not in the best interests of the state at this time."

Business, Individuals Did Well In Gem State In 1969

Business and individuals did well in Idaho last year as personal income, employment, production and trade in the Gem State increased beyond the national average.

However, 1970 may not be as bright. Reports from the First Security Bank of Idaho indicate some slowdown in the economy in Idaho and other states as trends aimed at control of inflation become effective.

Total personal income in Idaho, says First Security's news letter, amounted to an estimated $2.04 billion, an increase of about 9 per cent compared to the national average increase of 8 per cent. After adjustment for inflation the Idaho wage earner and businessman gained about 6.5 per cent income wise.

Idaho's agricultural economy improved in 1969 with crop production above a year ago. Gain in potato production was about 7-million cwt. with the total output of 67 million cwt. being 29 per cent of the national total. Prices were slightly lower but hold over stocks moved out well at the end of the year.

Pointo processing utilized 8.7 million cwt., an increase of 1.5 million while feeder cattle increased about 10 per cent and feeder cattle prices are expected to increase early in 1970.

Lamb prices are also expected to increase in 1970.

The same or more than last year's levels. Lambs on feed decreased about four per cent.

Milk was one per cent below the previous year in Idaho and nationally and prices are expected to remain about the same for the coming year.

There was a 15 per cent decrease in Idaho egg production last year while the national production was off only one per cent. Broiler prices should be up, says First Security and production is also climbing.

Construction in the Gem State was up by about 20 per cent although residential construction decreased about 4.2 per cent. Estimated value of all construction contracts in the past ten months reached $183 million.

Peace Films

Two films, sponsored by the Magic Valley Citizens for Peace, will be shown at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Twin Falls YMCA building.

The films are "Last Reflections on a War" and "Goodbye and Good Luck." They were produced for national education television.

According to James Chupa of the Magic Valley Citizens for Peace the films deal with the Vietnam War, black militancy and civil rights.

Tickets are 50 cents and may be purchased from members of the M. V. C. at the door. For additional information call Mr. Chupa at 733-7002.

Year Of Growth By Mountain Bell Is Outlined By T. F. District Manager

A year of growth and improvement is revealed in year-end telephone statistics for Twin Falls.

Twin Falls telephones number 15,070 as of the end of 1969. This is a gain of 719 telephones over last year, according to Mountain Bell District Manager K. G. Mann.

Local highlights include increased conservations, cable and wire additions and completion of a rural improvement project which provides customers, regardless of location, at least four party telephone service in the Twin Falls area.

Mr. Mann reported that Mountain Bell will continue local growth and service improvements during the new year 1970. "We are constantly making studies to enable us to plan ahead for the communications needs of the growing Twin Falls area," Mr. Mann said.

Statewide, Mountain Bell invested $13.5 million in telephone communications projects in 1969 and plans to spend a similar amount in 1970.

The company now serves 243,081 telephones in the Idaho service area with a record gain of 13,000 over last year. Idahoans placed an average of over a million local calls per day. Long distance calls per day averaged 51,000 or 3,000 more per day than in 1968. There are 1662 Idaho telephone employees with an annual payroll of $12 million to enhance the Idaho economy.

The major improvement in 1969 was completion of a five-year multi-million dollar statewide rural improvement program to better serve rural subscribers. The project gives all Idaho rural customers in Mountain Bell's operating area four party or better telephone service. Idaho is one of the few states nationwide to have this.

Other 1969 statewide improvement highlights included building additions at Idaho Falls, Wendell, Custerford and Howe. Subscriber direct distance dialing of long distance calls was provided for Rexburg, Rigby, St. Anthony, and Shelley subscribers. Large central office equipment expansions were installed at Boise, Caldwell, Rigby, Roberts, Wendell, Nampa and Idaho Falls. Microwave systems were expanded and mobile telephone networks improved. Every Idaho exchange receives some type of service improvement.

During the year the company's firm name was changed from Mountain States Telephone to Mountain Bell. Also of note was the appointment of two former Idaho central office equipment men to Mountain Bell's eight-state area. Robert K. Timothy, former Idaho head, was named president of Mountain Bell and W. O. Fred Jacobs was appointed vice president of operations.

"We at Mountain Bell feel that 1969 was a progressive year for telephone communications in Idaho and we are gearing for similar success in 1970," Mr. Mann concluded.

Pole Line

Bridge Plan Is Studied

Temporary repair plans for the Pole-Line Bridge have been completed and will be reviewed by members of the Twin Falls Highway District board in a meeting within the next few days.

Highway Engineer Keith Anderson said the consulting engineering firm's representative, Cecil Counts, was expected in Twin Falls late today with repair proposals and cost estimates. He is also expected to have several alternative plans for making permanent repairs to the substructure and flooring of the bridge.

There will require review and consideration by the board and the local engineer before a decision is made, Mr. Anderson said.

Richfield Grange Nominates Ralls

RICHFIELD — Ronald Ralls has been nominated by the Richfield Grange for appointment to the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Committee.

Mrs. Burl Akins, secretary, filed a report on state grants and views on legislation of interest to Grangers at the last meeting of the Richfield group, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralls.

Ray Hubsmith received the attendance award. Cards were played during the program hour with prizes won by Mrs. Glen Ross, Eugene Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Akins and Mr. Ralls.

The Jan. 28 Grange meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Akins.

Career Day Set Feb. 6 At Burley

BURLEY — A Health Careers day is planned Feb. 6 at the Burley High School, sponsored by the Idaho Hospital Association.

The event, the 10th to be held in the state, will be an all-day event with 25 technicians present to counsel students. They will represent various health occupations, including hospital administrator, hospital administrator, dentist, nurse anesthetist, pharmacist, social worker, dental hygienist, dental assistant, medical record librarian, medical technologist, nurse, physical therapist, speech therapist, X-ray technician, physician, food service manager, dietitian, personnel director, purchasing agent, occupational therapist, medical secretary, psychologist, public health sanitarian, licensed practical nurse, and inhalation therapist.

Purpose of the health career day, according to Elmer Wood, director of education for the Idaho Hospital Association, is to attract young people into the health field.

"We are short of personnel in this field and unless we can encourage more youths to enter, we will have an acute shortage in the future," Mr. Wood noted. The career day exposes students to the entire health field, about which few youths know very much, he added.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is not unique altho I've never seen it in your column. After 10 years of marriage and two children, I still love my husband very much and think we have a good marriage.

He says he loves me, too, and is very happy, but he also says that "variety is the spice of life," and he's pushing to get me to go along with the "husband-wife variety." Apparently this type of thing has become more widespread. I suppose I should be grateful that he doesn't just go ahead and find somebody. At least he keeps asking me if I'll go along with it so he won't exactly be cheating on me.

In spite of my repeated negative reactions, he persists on using the old argument that men need variety more than women. What do you think, Abby? I could use some support.

LOVES HIM

Tell him that when you promise to forsake all others, you mean it. And nothing has changed.

DEAR ABBY: I started taking flute lessons at school. I was doing just fine until somebody stole my flute.

Then I started taking clarinet lessons, and three weeks later some kid broke into my locker and stole my clarinet.

I am so mad I think I will forget about music lessons. Can you help me?

NO INSTRUMENTS

DEAR NO: Don't give up hope. How about piano?

DEAR ABBY: "PROUD WIFE" certainly has reason to be proud of her husband because he quit smoking and took up embroidery in order to "do something" with his hands. However, why did she find it necessary to defend his manliness? And what a poor way to defend it—by attacking six children in six years is proof that her husband is "all man."

In my opinion, having children in this way shows him to be irresponsible—not manly. No one who is aware and concerned about the grave problem of overpopulation today (regardless of his ability to support a large family) could have such an attitude.

A man who sensibly limits his family to two or three children, and indeed a man who intentionally has no children at all, can be just as "all man" as a father of six or more. The survival of the world, including this country, may depend on changing the attitudes of many proud wives and husbands.

MRS. R.S.
FORT WAYNE, IND.

DEAR LOVES: When married couples agree that "variety is the spice of life," and then proceed to spice up their lives with that kind of variety, it is the beginning of the end. Men don't "need" variety any more than women. What all civilized people need is not "variety," its decency and self-control.

Newlyweds Reside In Kansas

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney James Bean, will reside in Manhattan, Kan., where the bridegroom is serving in the Army, stationed at Ft. Riley, Kans.

The bride, the former Constance (Connie) Maureen Rappleye, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Rappleye. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Bean, Seattle.

The couple recited vows in rites at the Logan LDS Temple and were honored at a reception at the home of bride's parents.

The bridal party greeted guests beneath a white arch flanked by beauty baskets of white gladiol and orange chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a wedding gown of silk organza and French lace forming an empire-waistline and trimming Juliet sleeves and neckline. French lace also trimmed the hemline which formed a slight train. Her veil gave illusion of a white hairnet and cap of organza and French lace. She carried an Edwardian cluster of Wabernall roses and white star flowers.

Mrs. Tony Hanson, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Other bridesmaids included sister of the bride, Corretta Bean, sister of the bridegroom, and Ginger Wells as bridesmaids.

Bill Rappleye, brother of the bride, was best man.

Guests were registered by Cathy Clark and gifts were displayed by aunts of the bride, Mrs. George Elnock and Mrs. Clarence Hulet.

Refreshments were served by aunts of the bride, Mrs. John Francis, Mrs. Darrell Helder and Mrs. Lloyd Graybill.

The bride's table was centered with the wedding cake, made by Mrs. Woodrow Bingham. The cake was topped with a nosegay of autumn-colored flowers, with

Farmers, Bean Seed Dealers Favor Continued Use Of DDT

By ROBERT VANAUDELN
Times-News Farm Editor

HAZELTON — More than 100 farmers and bean seed dealers representing the bean industry, went on record recently as favoring the continued use of persistent insecticides in order to save Idaho's agriculture.

This group of men were attending the South-Central Idaho Bacterial Blight Control Association annual meeting at Frontier Grange, when they went on record in favor of the continuation of pesticide uses.

Dick Cook, Twin Falls bean seed dealer, said in a motion, which states: "In order to save the agriculture industry of Magic Valley and Idaho, we request the continued use of persistent insecticides which have proven beneficial to both production and consumers of food products until some other control products are formulated, and was approved as a memorial by all attending the meeting.

Mr. Cook said prior to making the motion that if the use of these persistent insecticides, particularly DDT for the Western Bean cutworm, "We will have no more beans in this area or anywhere." He said this material is needed by farmers to control the cutworm, which can cause much damage to the beans, particularly the seed.

Dr. Douglas Sutherland, extension entomologist with the Twin Falls Branch Experiment Station, University of Idaho, at Kimberly, said the use of DDT is necessary for controlling the cutworm. He said there is no other product that will do the job DDT has been doing.

During the blight control group meeting, five directors were re-elected. They are John Remsburg, Minidoka County; Charles Gummerson, Cassia County; Ralph McClain, Jerome County; Clarence Werner, Twin Falls County; and T. A. Rosen, Gooding County.

Speaking during the meeting were Marshall LeBaron, Kimberly, superintendent of the Twin Falls Branch Experiment Station; Dr. Jay Smith, researcher, with the Snake River Conservation Research Center at Kimberly; Lee Thomas, Filer, Asgrow Research Center; Dr. Clyde Butcher, Twin Falls, Idaho Department of Agriculture; and Dr. Sutherland.

Mr. LeBaron spoke briefly on a new variety of bean that some farmers may be raising this coming year. This new variety is "Big Bend," a new Red Mexican bean. He also spoke briefly on the need for light-early ripening of beans.

Dr. Smith spoke on some of the problems farmers were having with wheat straw and on the results of test he has conducted at the research center. He said the Gaines and Nugaines wheat produces about twice the amount of straw as does Lemhi wheat. He told the farmers to cover the straw as soon as possible after harvest.

Mr. Thomas spoke on the bean seed industry, market channels, market restrictions and market opportunities. Dr. Sutherland also briefly spoke on the Mexican Bean Beetle.

Dr. Butcher said he and others inspected 17,500 acres of beans for halo blight and found 36 acres infested which were destroyed.

Farm AND Ranch SECTION

MARK BARNES, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. (Bill) Barnes, Jerome, poses with this Hereford-Simmental calf. With Mark is Carter Luther, vocational agricultural instructor at Jerome. This calf is a result of Mark's first venture into crossbreeding. Mark has two Hereford cows as his FFA beef project and both were bred to Simmental by artificial insemination.

Man's Best Friend Is Problem For Sheepmen

A dog may be man's best friend, but to many area farmers and ranchers, particularly sheepmen, he is a serious problem.

Each year, during the fall and winter months, when sheep are brought from the mountains ranged to the farms for the winter, the dog problem arises. Sometimes cattlemen are bothered by dogs.

Several dogs, usually in a pack, strike a flock of sheep, killing several and lambing many others. Usually the ones lambing have to be killed, resulting in hundreds of dollars every year to sheepmen.

This past fall, a Jerome sheepman lost 42 head of ewes, worth about $2,000. These ewes were registered hampshire and suffolk. Since then several sheepmen have lost ewes to dogs in other areas of Magic Valley.

Who is responsible? Lew Williams, Boise, executive secretary of the Idaho Wool Growers Association, says there is a state dog law, Chapter 27, Title 25 of the Idaho Code, Section 25-2806.

This law provides that the owner of the dog is responsible for the damage his dog does including the cost of the suit if there is one. Dogs may also be killed at any time if they are doing damage at that time. However, if a dog is killed and not doing damage, then the killer of the dog is held liable.

In most counties, Mr. Williams states, a dog license law is required which is very helpful. Many cities also have laws which are helpful as well as it causes fewer dogs to be kept. If the laws were enforced, we would likely have little trouble with the dog killing sheep.

Paul Corder, Twin Falls County sheriff, said the problem this year is about the same as last year. There have been several ewes locally killed and in past years, there also have been some calves killed by dogs.

Mr. Williams adds that dogs have always been a problem in Idaho so far as killing sheep is concerned. There is seldom a month that dogs do not get into flocks some place or another and do damage to the sheep, he said.

At a wool pool meeting in Twin Falls recently, one of the growers said the best control for dogs was a good rifle and say nothing about what happens.

Farm, Ranch Managers And Appraisers Set Annual Meet

BURLEY — The Idaho Society of Farm and Ranch Managers and Appraisers will have its annual winter conference Jan. 30-31 at the Ponderosa Inn.

The banquet to be held at the Ponderosa Inn, which is being given by the Twin Falls general convention chairman, the items to be discussed range from land uses to the space program. The convention starts at 10 a.m. Jan. 30 and concludes at noon Jan. 31.

Some of the speakers during the two-day meeting are Gordon C. Trombley, Boise, commissioner of public lands; Ben Gomm, Portland, BLM regional planner; Russell Withers, associate professor of agricultural economics at University of Idaho; John Sealey, Idaho Falls, Idaho manager of Utah-Idaho Sugar Co.; and Carl O. Norbert, Dekalb, Ill., executive vice president of the American Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers.

The banquet on Saturday evening will be given by Ronald J. Schertler, Cleveland, aerospace physicist; National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He will speak on what the space program is doing for agriculture.

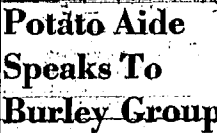

Mr. Schertler joined NASA in September, 1967, after receiving his master of science degree in physics from Pennsylvania State University. He is specialized in plasma physics and has written a few technical papers on this subject. Currently he is working in plasma physics and electric propulsion.

Assisting Mr. Schertler will be David Mead, Twin Falls. He also will be one of the speakers at the meeting.

Assisting Mr. Davis with conference planning are: Bob Hillard, Burley, Idaho Bank and Trust Co.

vention plans are John Gray, Burley, arrangement chairman; Harry Jenkins, Idaho Falls, program chairman; Harold Id Brown, Twin Falls, reservation chairman; Mr. Hillard, banquet chairman, and Jack Rasmussen, Twin Falls, publicity chairman.

Mr. Davis said the public is invited to all sessions of the convention and that wives are especially urged to attend the banquet.

Local Horse Club Formed; Meeting Set

HANSEN — The first annual meeting of the Magic Valley Appaloosa Horse Club has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 31 at Magic Valley Cafe in Jerome.

This organization is being formed by Donald Dewey, Route 1, Hansen. He says the purpose of this local club is to promote the breed by having a club to do things with the Appaloosa — trail rides, parades and competition, such as breeding classes, performance classes, gymkhana and racing.

Also planned is the emphasis on the versatility of the Appaloosa for the adults and to promote the fun of owning an Appaloosa for the youngsters. Youth programs are being planned and already a trophy saddle has been donated for the youngster with the most points won this coming year.

At this first annual meeting, a smorgasbord dinner will be served and a film, "The Appaloosa," narrated by Dale Robertson, will be shown. Officers and directors also will be elected.

Mr. Dewey adds that those attending the meeting are asked to bring something for a white elephant sale to be held that evening. Rich Savage will be the auctioneer.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in Appaloosas, whether they have one or one hundred, the breeder or the person who has one for a hobby.

Those planning to attend are asked to contact Mr. Dewey before Tuesday. His phone number is 425-3681, Hansen.

Potato Aide Speaks To Burley Group

BURLEY — Gene Rinebold, potato specialist for Cassia, Minidoka, Twin Falls and Jerome Counties, was guest speaker at the Burley Rotary Club noon luncheon at Bryan's Cafe.

"The larger the crop was the largest in history of the state but the quality was not comparable with many previous crops," stated Rinebold. "One problem was the hollow heart which was caused by heavy irrigation for the staff and the season. The season was one of the best for growing conditions even with the extra moisture."

"Management of fields was the variable. Good management brought high yields. Many fields are too large for the staff and employees taking care of them.

"Digging procedures are improving, a new vibrating digger leaves less bruises on potatoes when they are lifted into the trucks. The average production this year on a 400-acre field was about $1.50 per hundredweight."

Rinebold was introduced by Robert Saxvik, Rotary Club program chairman.

Guests were Harold Gerber, Twin Falls, and Gordon and Mrs. Rinebold, both Burley.

Assisting Mr. Davis with conference planning are: Bob Hillard, Burley, Idaho Bank and Trust Co.

Cassia NFO Group Elects New Officers

BURLEY — New officers and committees were selected by members of the Cassia County Chapter of the National Farmers Organization in a special meeting in conference room of Idaho Bank and Trust.

Daron Critchfield, Oakley, was unanimously re-elected as the group's president. Other officers elected were Bob Robinson, Oakley, vice president, and Gene Weber, View area, secretary-treasurer.

Committees selected were Leonard Rehn, Malta; Mike Cranney, Oakley; Dale Kidd, Declo, and Max Martin and Perry Christensen, both Burley. Potato and Grain Committees and this also includes beans and hay. Ray C. Bedke, Oakley, will serve on the meat committee which includes sheep, swine and beef cattle, and four more members will be appointed to this committee by the officers with the approval of the membership.

Ray Critchfield, Oakley, was re-elected as county bargaining supervisor. Mr. Critchfield will select and be in charge of bargaining groups in Oakley, Bliss, Star, View Unity, Declo, and Malta-Raft River areas of the county.

The Cassia County NFO members voted on a nationally proposed increase in dues. About 87 per cent of the represented membership favored the increase, reported Critchfield. If the proposal is accepted nationwide, dues will be raised from $25 to $75 a year.

Dale R. Holmes, Roberts, a state NFO official spoke briefly to the group.

Meeting dates were set at 7 p.m. during winter months for the first Wednesday of each month.

King Hill Club Plans Gymkhana

KING HILL — Plans for a spring gymkhana were made during the first meeting of the King Hill Country Club recently.

Members of a committee named to choose trophies for the event include Laura Parish, Susan Solomon and Debbie Arndson.

At the next meeting, set for 2:30 p.m. Feb. 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Sherman, a meat-eating demonstration will be given.

SPRINKLER USE RISES

WASHINGTON — About 7.6 million acres in the U.S. are now irrigated by sprinkler, more than double the acreage 10 years ago.

Jerome FFA Member Crosses Hereford With Simmental

JEROME — Livestockmen throughout Magic Valley as well as other parts of the state, are crossbreeding beef cattle to find a crossbreed that will produce the type of beef cattle the consumer demands today.

Some livestockmen are crossing Angus and Herefords, Angus and Charolais, Hereford and Charolais, etc. Now a Jerome FFA member is trying a new blood line in crossbreeding.

Mark Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. (Bill) Barnes, Jerome, is crossing Hereford and Simmental, a Swiss beef animal, Mark has two Hereford cows as part of his FFA beef project and they were bred to Simmental bull by artificial insemination. One cow already has calved and the calf is spotted like a Simmental, says Mark.

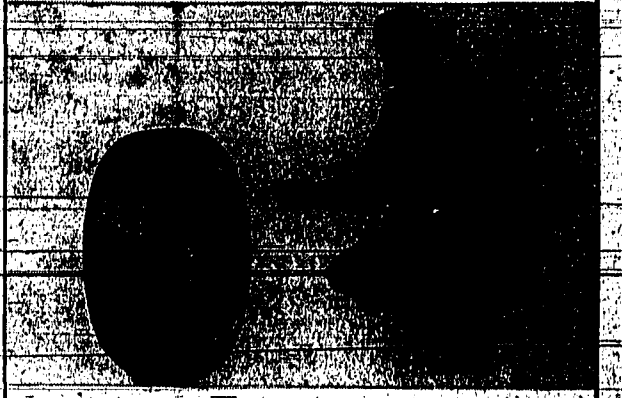

The other cow will be calving soon, he added. Mark's sister also has a cow that was bred to Simmental and it also has calved.

Mark decided to breed his two calves to Simmental after studying the breed and after discussing it with his vocational agricultural instructor, Carter Luther. Mr. Luther said several bloodlines are being used in crossbreeding and this new Sim-

Inflation Said Cattlemen's Toughest Foe

ALBANY, New York — "Inflation has seriously injured the financial structure of the beef cattle industry," commented Bill House, president of the American National Cattleman's Association (ANCA).

A top spokesman for the nation's beef cattle producers, House said, "Beef prices have been so low when compared with interest, tax rates, wages, salaries, and equipment prices that the cattlemen are facing one of his roughest tests. Inflation must be slowed down and eventually stopped, so President Nixon is correct in his efforts to cut down federal spending as a part of the effort."

House addressed the New York Cattleman's Association's annual meeting and said, "Cattlemen and beef prices have to move up with the rest of the economy if beef production is to continue at desired levels. The cattle industry needs a constant infusion of new blood and capital if we are to continue to supply the consuming public with ample amounts of high-quality beef."

The top ANCA official said, "Inflation has increased the cost of production have skyrocketed the cattlemen's cost of doing business more than 125 per cent since 1951, while he is still receiving 1951 prices or less for his animals. Cattle and beef prices lag partly because of tax to fifteen per cent — behind most other segments of the economy."

House pointed out that commercial beef tonnage has more than doubled, from nine billion pounds in 1946 to approximately 20.9 billion pounds in 1969. "Americans were eating 81.6 pounds of beef in 1946, today we average more than 110 pounds. Once again, this increased demand and production is supported by 1951 price levels."

"No other industry offers so much for so little to both affluent and low-income families, and gets so little in return."

Dairy Products Unit Names Rupert Man As Special Aide

RUPERT — W. F. (Bill) Whitton, Rupert, has been appointed as a special representative for the Idaho Dairy Products Commission, according to Joe Hall, administrator.

Mr. Whitton has been news director at KAYT radio station in Rupert for the past three years. Prior to that he was information specialist with the USDA in Washington, D. C.

According to Mr. Hall, Whitton will continue to live in Rupert and will spend most of his time promoting the dairy industry in Southern Idaho.

Until 1960, Mr. Whitton ran a dairy farm with his father near New Plymouth in south-western Idaho. Upon graduation from high school, he worked at a radio station in Welter before accepting the appointment in Washington.

In announcing the appointment, Mr. Hall said the Commission believes Mr. Whitton can be a big boost to the dairy industry in Idaho. By telling the true facts to the consumer about Idaho dairy products and by continuing a promotion program here in the state, the dairy industry will prosper.

According to Mr. Whitton, he will still remain on the Rupert City Council. He said he was accepting the new position because "it offers a terrific challenge and I have always been interested in helping the farmer get a good market for his products."

Along with serving on the city council, Mr. Whitton is the scoutmaster for the Idaho Youth Ranch Scout Troop 146 and a member of the Rupert Elks and Rupert Jaycees.

The appointment was effective Jan. 1.

Idaho Film

BOISE — "Sun, Soil and Water," a half-hour color motion picture on Idaho-grown beans, has been viewed by a total television audience of over 46 million people, it was revealed by the Idaho Bean Commission.

Gerard Baker, Hazelton, commission chairman, said "Sun, Soil and Water" was produced in 1961. He said the 46 million audience figure does not include those viewing it at hundreds of showings in private meetings and classes.

A later film on "Idaho Beans, 'Me and the King,'" has reached a TV audience of over 20 million, Mr. Baker said.

Moorman Named Chairman Of Farm Credit Board

MURTAUGH—Mark E. Moorman, Murtaugh, livestock feeder and farmer, was elected chairman of the board of the Farm Credit Bank of Spokane, at the annual meeting of the board in Spokane recently.

He succeeds Melvin A. Enley, Colfax, Wash. Thomas J. Harper, Junction City, Ore., was elected vice chairman.

Moorman is a native of Idaho and attended Willamette University, Salem, Ore. With his father he operates a large irrigated diversified farm which includes cattle and sheep feeding facilities. He is also instrumental in developing new irrigated lands. For a number of years he also owned and operated a cattle ranch at Townsend, Mont.

In addition to his position on the Farm Credit Board, Moorman is a member of the board of directors of the Federal Land Bank Association of Burley, Director of the United States Bean Marketing Association, and secretary-treasurer of the Cassia Irrigation District.

He has also served as a director and treasurer of the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association and as a member of the Cassia County agent's farm advisory committee.

The Farm Credit Board of Spokane governs the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane and the Spokane Bank for Cooperatives. Purpose of these banks is to make long term real estate loans and short term operating loans to farmers and ranchers in the Northwest and to make loans to farmer cooperatives in the four state area and Alaska.

Charter Is Draped By Local Grange

Twin Falls County Pomona Grange met recently in the Twin Falls Grange Hall. The charter was draped for Mrs. Frank Souley.

Harry Sharp and Kenneth Poe reported on the annual Association of Grangers Convention held in Boise recently.

Knoll and Twin Falls Granges are hosts for the county-wide banquet this year. The date and place will be announced.

Mrs. Don Dietz, lecturer, explained the program for the coming year. Rituals will be stressed.

Practice sessions will be held throughout the year on presentation of the flag, draping of the charter, working in and out of meetings once in session and balloting on new candidates.

After the practice sessions are over, all sections are to be evaluated by five judges. Four degrees in full form are planned for the year. Kimberly, Twin Falls and Mountain Rock Granges will give the first; Murtaugh, second; Hollister, Knoll and Filer, third; and West End Granges, fourth.

The program was given by the Old Time Fiddlers. Those participating were Mrs. Dorothy

Egg Prices Have Reached Highest Level In 17 Years

CHICAGO (UPI) — American egg prices are paying more for their eggs because they're eating more of them, egg experts said today.

A few days ago egg prices reached the highest level in 17 years. They may rise even higher.

Grocery shoppers now pay from 79 to 89 cents a dozen for grade A large eggs. Prices for "jumbo" eggs have hit $1 to $1.25 in some stores. A year ago grade A large eggs were 60 cents a dozen.

According to egg producers, cold weather, which brought low temperatures all the way into Florida, has slowed up production on southern farms.

The production is so low that eggs are being shipped from Minnesota to the south. Southern farms are normally surplus producers.

In addition, consumer demand is unseasonably high. "The prices are about 15 cents a dozen too high for this time of year, but people are buying," a wholesaler dealer said.

Poultry and egg national board figures show that egg prices paid to producers reached an average 50 cents a dozen the week before Christmas. They are currently five cents below that. The 1968 figure was 39 cents per dozen.

Experts said that the price difference started increasing around September. In August, 1969, average prices were only two cents higher than the 1968 bushels.

Winter Wheat Acreage Down

BOISE — Wheat growers in Idaho have needed an estimated 200,000 acres of winter wheat for harvest in 1969, according to the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

This is 15 per cent below the 230,000 acres seeded for harvest in 1969.

Production of winter wheat in Idaho for the 1970 crop year, forecast at 33,180,000 bushels, is 10 per cent less than the 1969 crop and 27 per cent less than the 1967 record crop of 45,540,000 bushels.

Government's Second Round In Campaign To Slash Pesticide Use Starts in March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The second major round in the government's campaign to slash use of persistent pesticides will get under way as promised in March.

The first round in the campaign to reduce contamination of man's environment by residues of DDT and other long-lived pesticides was launched late last year. It was a series of proposals aimed at banning all but a few "essential" uses of DDT by the end of this year.

The second round will cover all other persistent pesticides. Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, whose department handles registration of pesticides, said last year that beginning in March, action regarding other persistent pesticides will be taken using the same criteria and procedures being applied to DDT.

What forms will the action take and how fast will it move? Some of the answers were supplied here last week in a private conference between top officials of the Shell Chemical Co. and two top agriculture officials — Hardin and Ned D. Bayley, the department's director of science and education.

Bayley later relayed the substance of the discussion to newsmen.

Action against the remaining persistent chemicals, Bayley said, will be on a chemical-by-chemical, use-by-use basis in an orderly way so we can reach decisions in the best interest of the public.

"There has been concern we were going to be indiscriminate and propose sweeping bans. This has never been our policy," Bayley added.

The official said that although other persistent pesticides will be subject to the same criteria applied to DDT, the results may not be as sweeping.

The character of individual chemicals will be considered in the new actions, Bayley said. In some cases, he said, it may be found that particular uses of some of the pesticides are "intrinsically harmless to non-target organisms."

Department officials will work closely with experts in the Interior and Health, Education and Welfare departments in the actions beginning in March. They will concentrate on the "degree of hazard" involved in each individual use of a pesticide, as well as on the issue of "essentiality."

Bayley said the second round campaign will proceed in stages. Agriculture department officials soon will select a few persistent pesticides for initial action. After action on the first batch is under way, a second group will be called up for review, and this procedure will continue until all persistent pesticides have been considered.

Bayley said he could not predict which pesticides would be included in the initial action group, but indicated he expected recommendations of priorities from his staff within a week. He declined, also, to predict how long it would take to act on each group.

"We'll have to get some experience with these things before we can make times estimates," Bayley said. On a product like Dieldrin, he added, a long time might be needed for reviews.

In most cases, Bayley predicted, the agriculture department is likely to begin — soon after the review process opens — by publishing notices of "intent to cancel" specific uses of the pesticides under study.

Bayley said this procedure, which was invoked for most DDT uses, is employed when there is reason to consider cancellation of a pesticide use. But he said there is also a need to gather full information before a final decision can be made.

When a "notice of intent" is published, all affected parties are given time — 90 days in the DDT case — to supply scientific data and arguments on the specific pesticide use being challenged.

Persistent pesticides to be covered in the "second round" actions are defined as those which "will persist in the environment beyond the current growing season for a crop, or one year for non-crop uses." A study commission which recently recommended action to reduce environmental contamination by persistent chemicals said the list of such materials includes Aldrin, Dieldrin, Endrin, Heptachlor, Chlordane, Benzene, Heptachlor, Chlordane, Benzene, Hexachloride, Lindane, and compounds containing arsenic, lead or mercury.

The study commission said use of persistent chemicals should be permitted only where approved unconditionally by all interested federal agencies, and should be "restricted to essential purposes, limited to the lowest effective dosage required for essential foods and fibers, and replaced by safer alternatives whenever possible."

Local Aides Attend Meet In Nevada

Twin Falls County commissioners and members of the Salmon River Canal Co. attended a public land exchange meeting Wednesday in Elko, and generally, those presenting testimony seemed to favor the exchange.

Heber Loughmiller, chairman of the county commission, said about 82,000 acres of land would be involved in the exchange, which is aimed at completing boundaries of the Point Rise National Park.

It involves lands in Nevada and California, with much of the area in private ownership. This is being exchanged for federal land, with ranchers buying the federal lands as they are offered to replace private ranch and grazing lands needed for the park area.

Commissioners in Twin Falls County were interested, he said, and invited to attend, as some of the lands are adjacent to the Idaho line and Twin Falls County. He said similar exchanges may be proposed in the future, especially under the Wild Rivers Bill, Salmon River Canal Co. officials are interested in watershed management since some of the watersheds serving their storage and delivery systems are located on the exchange lands. Those testifying urged continued proper watershed management to protect irrigation sources.

Social Security Question Box

If you have any questions about your social security, address them to: Jim Davis, P.O. Box 1299, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

Q. If it possible for a person to become entitled to hospital insurance benefits without being entitled to monthly social security or railroad retirement benefits?

A. Yes, a special provision in the social security law permits a person who has some credits under social security to become entitled to hospital benefits even though he may not be entitled to monthly social security benefits. The amount of work credits is determined by the year the individual will attain age 65. A man attaining 65 in 1966 will need six quarters of social security covered work to be eligible for hospital insurance benefits. A woman attaining 65 in 1966 will need 18 quarters.

Q. Is it true a younger worker has to have more work under social security to get Medicare than an older person?

A. Yes, the Medicare program just became effective in 1966. It was felt that the aged person who badly needed the Medicare program would be penalized unless some escalator plan was used to insure workers. Thus a person who was 65 before 1966 needs no work under social security to get Medicare. A worker reaching 65 in 1966 must have worked and earned three quarters of coverage to receive hospital coverage — increased to six in 1969, nine quarters in 1970 and continuing at three-step intervals until the requirements for hospital and regular social security will be the same in 1974. This way the elderly worker is not penalized for having had little chance to work under the social security program.

NINE OF THESE calves are the offspring of a 6-year-old grade Hereford cow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Adams, Tuttle. This cow has given multiple births since 1947. The first were quadruplets, then twins and finally on Sept. 2, 1968, triplets.

6-Year-Old Grade Hereford Cow Is Top Calf Producer

TUTTLE — A six-year-old grade Hereford cow is perhaps one of the Idaho's top producing cows. At least this is the thought of its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Adams. The cow is doing the unbelievable multiple births. On July 17, 1967, she gave birth to quadruplets — three bull calves and a heifer. A veterinarian, summoned to treat her, said she probably would not produce any more offspring. However, this was not the case. On Sept. 2, 1968, she had twins. That in itself was believed to be quite a record — six calves in 14 months without the aid of any treatment such as hormones. On Sept. 2, 1969, her record was enhanced by the birth of triplets, all heifers. All are doing well. The cow can hardly bear about her pedigree or ancestry — all that is known is the Adams purchased her as a 2-year-old and gave birth to a single calf. She was purchased in a group of cows. In an inquiry to Dr. T. Donald Bell, head of the animal science department, University of Idaho, there was no record found of anything that compares to the record of this Hereford cow. The Adams sold five of the offspring on Nov. 18. One steer weighed 1,025 pounds and sold for $24.85 hundredweight for a total of $254.71; another, 920 pounds, $24.85, $228.62; another 925-pounder, $28.20, $262.35; a yearling, 575 pounds, $33.60, $193.20; and another twin yearling, 655 pounds, $30.50, $202.80. This makes a grand total of $1,211.88 for the five steers from the 6-year-old grade cow.

Camas Soil Group Has Annual Meet

FAIRFIELD — Harold Harris, plant material specialist of the Soil Conservation Service, Aberdeen, gave a talk on "Quality Grass" at the annual meeting of the Camas County Soil Conservation district.

He told the audience they should not think of hay and pasture as tons per acre, but as pounds of beef, butterfat and milk per acre. He stressed the need for quality seed, proper management of forage and proper land use. He told of new improved grasses and the proper method of growing them.

The annual meeting was held in the high school with a potluck dinner in the home economic room. The new board of supervisors are Dale Reedy, chairman; Thomas Spackman, secretary; Bill Thompson, treasurer; and Ken Profferson, new directors. Hold-over members are Lawrence Davis, Lowell Ruby, Wesley Fields and Dwight Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krahn were presented a plaque as outstanding conservation farmers of the year. The presentation was made by Lawrence Davis, 1968 conservation farmer of the year.

Lynn Cox, daughter of Mrs. Helen Cox, was presented a plaque as the small winner of the Jingle contest.

The contest was open to grades three through eighth. Third grade winners were Norman Thomson, Scott Sheer and Robble St. Clair. Fourth grade winners were Mackey, Laren Sweet and Bobby Iyle. Fifth grade winners were Dalona Reedy, Rita Mullenberg and Randy Lee.

Sixth grade winners were Kathy Koonce and Barbara Mullenberg. Seventh grade winners were Christine Mullenberg, Brent Gleaser and Bill Bowman. Eighth grade winners were Lynn Cox, Mark Stewart and Kim Fields.

The purpose of the contest is to get the young people to think of conservation of our natural resources as the quality of our environment which is optimum of good land, purer air and clean water which is important for survival of man on Earth in the near future.

Lawrence Sorenson is the work unit conservationist for Camas County.

Organization of the Poultry Survey Committee is co-sponsored by the American Feed Manufacturers Association and the National Turkey Federation.

The committee expects a hatch of egg-type chicks during 1970 may be about five per cent above a year earlier. A hatch of this size probably would result in sharply lower egg prices by the spring of 1971.

January-March nine-city broiler prices are expected to average about 27.5 cents, slightly under the same months of 1969. Available prices will average about 28 cents and July-September about 29 cents.

Value of Idaho's Major Crops Set At $369 Million

BOISE — Idaho's production of major farm crops this year set an all-time record, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service announced.

The agency said production of farm crops, including grains, vegetables, field seeds and tree fruits was a record 188 per cent of the 1947-49 average and 49 nine points from last year.

The value of major crops, excluding sugar beets, totaled $369.4 million — up four per cent from last year. This year's sugar beet crop set a record for production at 3,383,000 tons up 65,000 tons from last year.

Potatoes, Idaho's largest money crop, was 67 million hundredweight this past year with an estimated value of $119.6 million.

Idaho's wheat production this past year totaled 47.9 million bushels, 15 per cent below the near-record crop of 1968. Winter wheat production, 77 per cent of the total, was 38.8 million bushels, 19 per cent below the 1968 crop. Spring wheat, estimated at 10.9 million bushels, is about two per cent above the 1968 crop. The total value of the 1969 wheat crop is estimated at $59.6 million.

Production of barley in Idaho totaled 30.4 million bushels, a record for the state. This is mainly because of the record yield of 52 bushels, three bushels above the previous high. The estimated value of the 1969 barley crop is $28.2 million.

Oat production in Idaho totaled 5.6 million bushels, up sharply from the past two relatively small crops. The value of the 1969 oat crop is estimated at $3.6 million.

Idaho's corn-for-grain crop totaled 2.4 million bushels, a new record, with an estimated value of $3.4 million.

Mixed grain production was 7.2 million bushels and is valued at $6.9 million.

All dry pea production in Idaho, excluding Austrians, was 1.8 million hundredweight and its value is estimated at $8.9 million.

Commercial dry bean production was 1.8 million hundredweight, up five per cent from the 1968 crop, with an estimated value of $13.5 million. Garden seed beans totaled 365,000 hundredweight, up three per cent, and its value at $4 million.

Idaho produced 38 million tons of hay in 1969. Alfalfa, the leading type of hay, had a crop of 3.3 million tons and a 3.20 ton yield. The estimated value of the all-hay crop is $32.7 million.

The average price of the major crops this fall as compared to the 1968 crop, are: Potatoes, $1.79 hundredweight as compared to a year ago of $1.53; wheat, $1.24 a bushel as compared to $1.15 a year ago; barley, $3.39; oats, $5.85; $13.80, $13.30, and hay, $2.00 for corn, 1.42; 1.34; mixed $2.00.

Sugar Beet School Set At Jerome

JEROME — Production of sugar beets will be studied by agronomy fieldmen and agricultural agents of the University of Idaho extension service January 30 at the National Guard Armory in Jerome, Robert Higgins, extension agronomist, announced today.

Representatives of the industry throughout Magic Valley will take part in the "Sugar Beet Review." The discussion will begin at 8:30 a.m.

Topics include seed and planting, weed control, electronic thinning, diseases and nematodes, irrigation, fall bedding, and control of leaf hoppers and root maggots.

Speakers will be Walter Tollefson, fieldman for the Amalgamated Sugar Company, Burley; Gerald Simantel, Amalgamated Sugar Company, Nevada, Ore.; Bill Priest, Jerome County agent; Del Traveller, research agronomist, Burley; and Bob Day, assistant agronomist, Twin Falls, both of Amalgamated Sugar Company; Dorrell Larson, extension irrigation specialist, Boise; Harry Fenwick, extension plant pathologist, Moscow; and Walter Peav, entomologist of the agricultural research service, Twin Falls.

The school is one of three this winter in Idaho's sugar beet areas. Others are at Pocatello, Feb. 12, and at Boise, Feb. 18.

Mrs. Larsen Attends Meat Board Confab

KIMBERLY — Mrs. Russell C. Larsen, Kimberly, recently attended the executive committee meeting of the National Livestock and Meat Board in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Larsen is immediate past president of the American National Cattle Raisers and serves on the board's Beef Industry Council.

She said purpose of the meeting was to discuss income, budget, program and policy for fiscal year 1970-71, which begins May 1.

The committee recommendations will be presented to the 72-member directorate at the board's semi-annual meeting Feb. 22-24 at Montgomery, Ala. Directors represent all segments of the nation's livestock and meat industry.

for survival of man on Earth in the near future.

Lawrence Sorenson is the work unit conservationist for Camas County.

Organization of the Poultry Survey Committee is co-sponsored by the American Feed Manufacturers Association and the National Turkey Federation.

The committee expects a hatch of egg-type chicks during 1970 may be about five per cent above a year earlier. A hatch of this size probably would result in sharply lower egg prices by the spring of 1971.

January-March nine-city broiler prices are expected to average about 27.5 cents, slightly under the same months of 1969. Available prices will average about 28 cents and July-September about 29 cents.

Value of Idaho's Major Crops Set At $369 Million

BOISE — Idaho's production of major farm crops this year set an all-time record, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service announced.

The agency said production of farm crops, including grains, vegetables, field seeds and tree fruits was a record 188 per cent of the 1947-49 average and 49 nine points from last year.

The value of major crops, excluding sugar beets, totaled $369.4 million — up four per cent from last year. This year's sugar beet crop set a record for production at 3,383,000 tons up 65,000 tons from last year.

Kimberly Grange Plans Oyster Dinner

KIMBERLY — Plans for an oyster supper were made recently by members of the Kimberly Grange.

The event will be held Monday evening in the Grange hall with the star furnishing the supper. Chairman of the event is Les Lane with James Messersmith assisting him.

Mrs. Harold Heat outlined the rules for the annual sewing contest and that rug-making and liquid-substituted have been added to the contest this year.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. and Mrs. Dean Brit and Mrs. Martha Buleker.

MULTIPLY YOUR DANLIAS: I've been asked how to start...

First, you plant the roots in large pots of sand and peat-moss...

In about two weeks shoots will show up on the crowns of the roots...

New, green leaves are a sure way to tell if roots have formed...

Sometimes "knobs" form at the base before roots...

When shriveled weather rolls around the rooted cuttings can be set out...

WALNUT TREES IN DEMAND: Walnut trees are in demand and logs can be sold at any time...

Slightly lower quality walnut can be used as fuel for lumber in fine furniture...

WHAT'S TOP-DRESSING? A tender writer: "I purchased a recent dwarf banana tree...

MOLES IN THE LAWN: With snow on the ground, we're getting many letters asking what can be done to prevent mole damage...

As we've said before, moles are not the villain which they are made out to be...

If it isn't moles which eat the fruit trees, nutmegs, etc. then what is it? Usually, it's the work of mice...

Moles, mice and shrews are of similar size and color. The term vole (repeated) is often used...

CONTROL: One of our readers mixes a small amount of fibre glass from building insulation with soil...

Others use mole traps for the edge or tunnel making varieties. Many use poisonous baits in the runways...

Meanwhile, don't blame moles for what mice are doing to your plants.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: A.S.I. of Twin Falls: We want to know your good corn this year...

Corn is one of those crops which does not need a lot of cultivation. Frequently, repeated tests have shown that on all soils, except rather heavy clays, keeping the weeds pulled with no cultivation gave ears about equal to cultivated rows...

Did you know that sweet corn is the most typically American of all vegetables? It was developed from native Mexican species. Modern sweet corn dates back only to about 1830...

One way to achieve this is to plant three or more varieties, all at the same time, but differing in the number of days of maturity. For example, plant an early, mid-season and late variety. Some say this does not work, because temperature is the controlling factor in maturity, and prefer to plant an early, mid-season and late variety, and repeat sowings every two or three weeks until about the fourth of July.

For extra early pickings, some start a peat dozen hills of corn in peat pots indoors, or use hot tents if seed is planted outdoors.

The paper birch, white birch and canoe birch are the same thing, Betula papyrifera. Birch sold by nurserymen in "clump" form may be either Betula populifolia or B. papyrifera, the latter being more desirable from many standpoints, particularly longevty, resistance from disease and whiteness of bark.

Birch names are confusing because common names are used interchangeably. Most birches like a moist, well-drained soil. White birches do not develop their nice white bark until they are several years old. So, if the young tree you set out shows no white bark, don't be alarmed. It'll whiten with age—four to six years, or so.

Top-dressing is a farmer's term for applying fertilizer (or manure) to the soil surface. To top-dress your banana plant simply means to add a little plant food to the soil surface.

U. Of. I. Gets Study Grant For "Flukes"

MOSCOW — The University of Idaho's veterinary science department has received a $3,500 grant from the American Cyanamid Co. to study the effects of liver flukes on cattle.

Dr. Floyd Frank, head of veterinary science, and Dr. Richard P. Hall, extension veterinarian and research professor of veterinary science, made the announcement.

Dr. Hall will be in charge of the research and will conduct it on cattle in feedlots. He wants to study how liver flukes affect cattle's feed conversion efficiency.

"We think there's a high production loss from liver flukes," Dr. Hall said. "This grant gives us the opportunity to find out if this is true and if so, how much loss is caused."

Dr. Hall plans to use 200 cattle in the first stage of this research. He will investigate drug industry the need for an effective liver fluke drug.

Wendell Grange Hears Report On DDT, Insecticides

WENDELL — A report on DDT and other insecticides was given to members of the Wendell Grange recently.

Richard Jasper, agricultural committee chairman, gave the report entitled "Facts About DDT and the Usage of Other Insecticides."

Also giving a report was Mrs. Morrell McCloud, women's activities chairman. She reported on the recent Lion's Club dinner and the Grange's part in the Hayes reception.

Practice on degree work has been scheduled for Feb. 7 and 14, and the Wendell Grange will prepare an exchange program to be given March 17 to the Bliss Grange.

Couple Given Obligations By Grange

SHOSHONE — New members of Magic Grange, Mr. and Mrs. John Urrutia, were given the obligation in the first and fourth degrees at the Grange meeting held in North Shoshone.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Couch, hospitality committee members, welcomed new members, D. G. Mitchell, committee member, reported he was unable to locate flags to be sold as a project.

George Horn, Oscar Kerner, Louis Couch and Mr. Mitchell, provided an interesting compilation reported a project had been completed at the Grange grounds for improvement.

A letter from Lincoln-Blaine Pomona Grange notified each member they could be assessed $1 for finance of the National Grange Convention being held in 1970 in Boise.

After a discussion of dues and increased costs, the members voted to increase dues, from $4 to $7 per single membership and $12 for couple, $5 of the amount for each member goes in the state dues. Dues are payable in advance, officers announced.

Mrs. L. E. Campbell recited a poem and Oscar Kerner gave thoughts from Laugh-in at the lecturer's program. Mitchell read quotations and comments about time.

Delegates to National Grange were discussed. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jackson were in charge of the refreshments.

Milk Production Increase Seen

WASHINGTON — Total milk production in Canada during 1970 is expected to expand to 16.5 billion pounds, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Fluid milk sales are expected to rise on a volume basis, but the use of butterfat in fluid milk will probably decline, USDA officials note.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — I was told that Prudent Resources Trust was the only company which distributes 90 per cent of income to stockholders. How can it give in business?

A — Under terms of the Real Estate Investment Act of 1960, income tax exemption is granted to real-estate and mortgage investment companies which distribute 90 per cent of income after operating and management expenses to stockholders. The exemption is similar to that which applies to mutual funds.

Prudent Resources is unique in that it distributes 90 per cent of cash flow from real-estate operations. The difference between that cash flow if figured after amortization but before depreciation, whereas taxable income is figured after deducting both charges.

In the 6 months ended August, 1969, Prudent reported earnings of 30 cents and cash flow of 85 cents on a per share basis. The most recent dividend paid Jan. 13, was 25 cents plus a 5-cent extra. In addition to real-estate holdings of garden apartments, shopping centers and so on, Prudent carries on an active oil and gas drilling and exploration program. In the first nine months of 1969, 40 wells had been drilled in joint ventures. The company was organized to provide a shelter for high tax brackets. Shares are a no-load, no-risk.

Q — Some time ago I bought American Investors at $22. It went to $44 and split 4-for-1. Could I hope for a similar gain from present levels in the near future? — E. E.

A — American Investors in the eight-year period ending December, 1968, achieved a performance record that placed it in the top 10 per cent among all funds in 1969. However, the decline in net asset value has put American at the other end of the scale. This was primarily due to its predominantly speculative portfolio; but the size of the fund — assets of about $35 million — is a factor in limiting maneuverability.

Future performance will be largely governed by market conditions. Quick gains are not a reasonable expectation from a mutual fund or any form of investment.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices opened higher today in money market trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

President Nixon's State of the Union message Thursday sparked some buying in pollution control issues and general market activity.

Firm news. But analysts noted that Nixon said little about the new budget except that it would contain a surplus. Thus it is likely investors will remain cautious until after he delivers his budget message next week.

Shortly after the opening the DOW market-wide indicator was up 0.12 per cent. Advances outnumbered declines, 171 to 140. The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chip industrials was up more than a point.

Four Pros Shoot 65s To Share Lead In Opening Round Of Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Bert Yancy, Ron Corrado, Bob Murphy and Bob Goolby shot matching five under par 67s Thursday to share the first round lead in the $100,000 Crosby National Pro-Am golf tournament.

Yancy and Goolby played their first round at Cypress Point, regarded as the easier of the three Crosby courses, Corrado played Pebble Beach, the scene of some of his greatest amateur victories, and Murphy played Spyglass Hill.

Murphy's round could have been even better. He had four birds and an eagle three on the par five 535-yard 11th, but on three other holes, his bid for birdie fell on the lip of the cup.

Operation Will Repair Injured Knee

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dr. Kenneth G. Jones of Little Rock, Ark., says an athlete whose knee swells because of damaged ligaments in the knee can be helped to almost normal function—and perhaps even play again.

A stroke behind the first four were Tom Shaw, Jim Wiechers, defending champ and Masters' king George Archer, George Knudson, Hugh Royer and Howie Johnson. The three-under par group at 69 was made up of Arnold Palmer, Bob Dickson, Doug Sanders, Lee Trevino, Dave Stockton, Bobby Mitchell, Paul Harney and Johnny Ditt.

There were 18 players deadlocked at 70, among them U.S. Open king Orville Moody and Jack Nicklaus, while 15 were tied at one-under 71, including Frank Beard and Dave Hill. The No. 1 and 2 money winners on the tour last year.

Verga Tops Pro League In Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Veterans Bob Verga and Larry Jones and rookie Spencer Haywood carry impressive statistical credentials into Saturday's American Basketball Association All-Star game.

Weekly statistics compiled by the ABA showed Verga the top individual scorer in the league. The Carolina star has collected 1,201 points in 45 games and a 26.6 average.

Hegens Still Second In ICAC Scoring

Southern Idaho's Steve Hegens remained second in scoring and rebounding, according to official intermountain collegiate athletic conference statistics released today.

SPORTS

Seattle Deadline Extended To Tuesday By American League

SEATTLE (UPI)—The deadline for the Seattle Pilots was extended to Tuesday by the American League.

Seattle businessmen, headed by theater executive Fred Danz, until 2 p.m. PST Thursday to solve its financial problems—and complete the purchase of the franchise from the present owners.

Uhlman's move, which he admitted was "a last resort" to gain time for the Save-the-Pilots campaign, got a quick support from the governor, attorney general and both U.S. Senators from Washington.

Hegens Still Second In ICAC Scoring

Southern Idaho's Steve Hegens remained second in scoring and rebounding, according to official intermountain collegiate athletic conference statistics released today.

The Bank of California has been putting pressure on the Danz group by announcing it would call immediately for payment of a $3.5 million note it had extended to the present owners, Pacific Northwest Sports, upon change of ownership.

"We're just waiting to see what happens with Danz," Daley said. "I hope he makes it."

Official Says Idaho Needn't Be Play Area

BOISE (UPI)—Attorney General Robert Robson told Idaho Trialer Coach Association members Wednesday that recreation is being "just a bit oversold" in the Gem State.

Tulsa Topples Southern Illinois

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Tulsa's sophomore center Dana Lewis blocked a Southern Illinois jump shot at the buzzer Thursday to gain a 66-65 victory for the Hurricane.

Lew-Big E Duel Fizzles, Bucks Win

HOUSTON (UPI)—Lou Alcindor and Flynn Robinson scored 27 points each to lead the rampancing Milwaukee Bucks to a 121-106 victory over the San Diego Rockets in the second game of an NBA double-header in the Astrodome Thursday night.

Army Nears Third U.S. Defense Title

NEW YORK (UPI)—Army, the nation's top major college defensive squad the past two seasons, is in the process of establishing a dynasty unmatched since Oklahoma's State's reign in the early-1960s.

Miss Cutter Stuns French With World Cup Slalom Win

ST. GERVAIS, France (UPI) — Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., pulled off a surprise victory Thursday over the favored French women skiers in a World Cup special slalom, but the French took the next six places.

The young American whiz scored her upset in the 12th international women's grand prix on a 1,161 foot, 60-gate course with a 510 foot drop.

Lying third after the first heat, with a time of 48.32 seconds, Miss Cutter shot down and around the course the second time in 44.26 for a total of 92.58.

France's No. 1, Michele Jacot, who leads the standings in the world cup with 130 points, fell in the first heat and was disqualified.

Her teammate, Ingrid Larfgren, finished second with 92.04. She had been second at the end of the first heat behind Florence Steurer, also of France, who finished third officially in 93.17.

"I had been thinking very much today about the world championships next month and about making our team," said Miss Cutter. "So I went all out, double or nothing, on the second heat."

But the French still were the contenders, but Miss Cutter lay down to eighth place and beyond.

Annie Famoso was fourth, Francoise Macchi fifth, Pitt Lafforgue sixth and Isabelle Mir seventh.

France's chief rival, Austria, managed only the eighth place of Berni Rauter.

The French predominance gathered them 45 points toward the World Cup, giving them a huge total of 1,014 to second place Austria's 423. The U.S. in third is the standings with 310 points.

Other American finishers Thursday were Karen Budge, ninth in 95.30, Julie Wolcott, 12th in 93.09, Susan Corcock, 17th in 96.01; Patty Boydstrum, 23rd in 98.26 and Ann Black, 29th with a clocking of 100.36.

Royals Rally To Defeat Celtics

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Oscar Robertson scored 40 points, 19 in the final quarter, to rally Cincinnati from 21 points back to a 111-104 victory over the Boston Celtics Thursday night and snap the Royals' seven game losing streak.

The Royals trailed 85-64 late in the third quarter before Robertson took charge. The Big O hit six straight baskets, including the field goal that put the Royals ahead 104-102 with 2:17 to play.

A basket and free throw by North Van Lier and two foul shots by Fred Foster increased the Cincinnati lead to 109-102 before Don Nelson scored with four seconds remaining.

Nelson's two points broke a 43-0 scoring drought for the Celtics. During that span the Royals scored 15 points. The loss broke Boston's four-game winning skid.

Computer Is Designed For Golfers

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A table model computer that can determine a golfer's handicap in seven seconds will be introduced at the Professional Golfers Association's annual merchandise show opening Saturday.

Computing handicaps often is as intricate as the game itself. Usually, they're figured by a club committee under U.S. Golf Association regulations, taking into account the best 10 of a player's last 20 rounds. Some clubs also score to a data processing center.

"The entire computer, available on lease for $100 a year, is simple to operate," Baumel says.

After a round, the player inserts his personal card into the Handy-capper, sets the score data for the round just played and enters the data. The machine then punches a hole pattern on the card representing the new score and then reads previous scores on the card.

Within seven seconds, the player's handicap is displayed in the handicap window. It may be verified at any time on any Handy-capper, even in a different club, according to Baumel.

Murphy Hits 38 In Niagara Win

NEW YORK (UPI) — Calvin Murphy scored 38 in a Thursday night to pace Niagara to a 111-89 victory over St. Francis of Brooklyn.

Murphy hit on 15 of 22 attempts from the field and free throw line.

Niagara's Wingate hit on 15 of 18 from the floor and wound up with 33 points to back Murphy as Niagara jumped to a 54-41 lead at the intermission and coasted in the second half.

Earl Roberts scored 33 points to top St. Francis scorers. Box.

Pitts, Caffey Shocked By Swap

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Lee Roy Caffey and Elijah Pitts weren't particularly surprised that the Green Bay Packers traded them, but Thursday they still couldn't get over that they'll now get their psychos from the Chicago Bears.

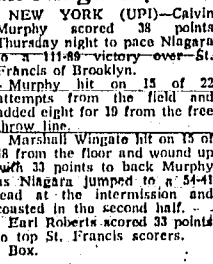

"I still haven't gotten over the shock," Caffey said.

"I was surprised I was traded to the Bears because normally teams don't trade with teams in their own division," Pitts said.

It was the first major transaction in at least two decades between Green Bay and Chicago, who not only are former members of the Central Division but the oldest rivals in pro football.

Neither Pitts nor Caffey, however, was unhappy with the deal.

TRICK IS GETTING TO DUMMY

George Gooden gives an excellent analysis of why South should open with four hearts. He starts with a 13-point count.

West opens the king of diamonds. If he could look at the total of 13. He does not open with one of a suit because he only has eight points in high cards. On the other hand South has eight probable tricks with hearts vs. trumps. Seven are in the trump suit. The king of clubs is worth another half-trick as is the fourth club.

South ruffs the second diamond. His problem is how to cash those two high spades. The jack of hearts is a possible entry. He can play the king and hope for the ace to take it but he decides a better way will be to lead a low heart. He turns out to be right.

West ducks. Not that it matters any more. Dummy's jack holds the trick. Two clubs go on the ace and king of spades and a club is led from dummy. East ducks but South has no choice except to play the king. It holds and South makes his doubled contract.

Two Gooding Youths Will Attend Seminar In Capital

GOODING—Two Gooding High School seniors will participate in seminars in Washington, D. C., sponsored by the Presidential Classroom for Young Americans.

Principal Ray Hall said Linda Mohwinkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mohwinkle, and Tom Arkoosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Arkoosh, will be in the nation's capital from Feb. 21-28, along with some 350 high school seniors from throughout the United States.

Purpose of program is to give seniors interested in political science opportunity to study the federal government in depth, reports Ray Hall, principal. The youths will spend time at the capitol, meeting and questioning congressmen; the State Department; observe the Supreme Court at work, study the organization of embassies in Washington, D. C., and the role of the press in the political process.

Daily seminars are held in each governmental branch, agency or department being studied. Classroom discussion is supplemented by lectures, and meetings with key government officials.

Man Of 51 Is 'Drafted,' Marines Say

QUINCY, Calif. (UPI)—Marine Story says the Marines "must really need men" if they are planning to draft him.

Story is a 51-year-old father of 11 children — and already has served in the Marines.

Nevertheless, he recently received a letter from the Marine Corps recruiting station in Reno, Nev., saying, "you passed your preinduction physical" and that under the new lottery system he probably would be drafted soon.

Story, who is not taking the draft warning seriously, said: "It was quite a surprise to read the letter, but it was so obviously a mistake that I just laughed. They must really need men."

His wife, Regina, said Wednesday that their children "thought it was real funny. They wanted to know when he was leaving."

Story, a Western Pacific Railroad engineer in Plumas County, said he did pass his physical — "but that was about 27 years ago." He served with the Marines in World War II.

A spokesman at the Reno recruiting station could not explain the letter.

"We get the list right from the Selective Service people," he said.

Assisting him will be musicians from the Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa.

THE BLACK GOLD DUO, composed of Raul Cruz and Emilio Pereira and their guitars will perform at the third concert of the season for the Twin Falls Community Center at 8 p.m. Jan. 31 at the CSI Fine Arts Center.

2 Guitarists To Present T.F. Community Concert

Two guitarists, called the Black Gold Duo, will present the third concert of the season for the Twin Falls Community Concert Association at 8 p.m. Jan. 31 at the Fine Arts Center on the College of Southern Idaho campus.

Raul Cruz and Emilio Pereira are young singers who accompany themselves with guitars. These personable young men have performed throughout Europe and Africa.

Born in West Africa, they perform a wide variety of music, ranging from songs of African folklore and interpretations of ballads and dances in their brilliant dialect.

They also do internationally popular song "hits" and particularly works of their own composition. Their repertoire is performed in many different languages, even Arabic.

They have made television and music hall appearances throughout two continents. Their engagements at the huge Olympia Theatre, in Paris, have been sold out and they were invited to appear with Danny Kaye at the Alhambra, also in Paris, to commemorate the 20th anniversary of UNICEF, a gala performance which was televised to more than 200,000 viewers.

"They have performed on several occasions at the royal court of the Prince and Princess of Monaco.

In the fall of 1968 the Black Gold Duo made their United States debut with a brief recital tour. This season's much more extensive tour is planned.

Haircut For 'Beatle' May Ignite Fad

LONDON (UPI)—Hair today and gone tomorrow?

The Beatles burst upon the United States in February, 1964, bringing with them the Liverpool sound and the expression "mop top quartet," a more or less accurate description of the long hair that entranced rebellious youth and horrified grownups.

First there was a craze for Beatle wigs but in time the youth of the nation was able to grow hair of their own and the wigs were discarded. Hair first covered the ears and then reached the shoulders. There were also sideburns and beards — a revolt against the establishment.

Now one of the Beatles has got a crew cut.

Will the youth of America follow? Well, they have been following ever since the Beatles and Carnaby Street happened, and already London is jammed with a new generation known as skinheads, youths who have revolted against the revolt against the establishment.

The Beatle was John Lennon, the guitarist and singer, who has done such things as posing nude on album covers with his Japanese wife Yoko Ono and staged love-ins for peace.

And when John cut his hair in a makeshift barber's chair in a barn in Denmark Tuesday so did Yoko Ono and her five-year-old daughter, Kyoko. For the first time it was a Mia Farrow type cut.

Lennon also got a shave.

Man Of 51 Is 'Drafted,' Marines Say

QUINCY, Calif. (UPI)—Marine Story says the Marines "must really need men" if they are planning to draft him.

Story is a 51-year-old father of 11 children — and already has served in the Marines.

Nevertheless, he recently received a letter from the Marine Corps recruiting station in Reno, Nev., saying, "you passed your preinduction physical" and that under the new lottery system he probably would be drafted soon.

Story, who is not taking the draft warning seriously, said: "It was quite a surprise to read the letter, but it was so obviously a mistake that I just laughed. They must really need men."

His wife, Regina, said Wednesday that their children "thought it was real funny. They wanted to know when he was leaving."

Story, a Western Pacific Railroad engineer in Plumas County, said he did pass his physical — "but that was about 27 years ago." He served with the Marines in World War II.

A spokesman at the Reno recruiting station could not explain the letter.

"We get the list right from the Selective Service people," he said.

Assisting him will be musicians from the Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa.

A View Of Twin Falls

Religion Today

By Rev. Lester Kinsolving

"How do you explain the fact that youth are no longer accepting institutional religion?" appears to be a stock question whenever clergy are interviewed.

Rarely, however, are any symphony orchestra conductors or proprietors of art galleries ever asked to justify the relevance or significance of their occupations on the criterion of such appeal to juveniles. And those clergy who worry about their ability to capture the attention of the young might recall the New Testament. For one of the very few teenagers mentioned in this chronicle of the original Christian Church was Elychus. And according to the 20th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles:

"And there sat in a window a certain young man named Elychus, being fallen asleep in a deep sleep; and as Paul was going preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft (story) and was as dead. And Paul went down and fell on him and embraced him and said, 'Trouble not yourself; for his life is in him'."

There are few sincerely religious parents who would write off St. Paul simply because his preaching happened to put a teenager to sleep. Yet many of these same parents think that the Church is in mortal danger because it does not have the same appeal to all of the young as do such things as bubble gum and The Beatles.

(Many churches have tried to remedy this by staging such bizarre liturgical spectacles as Jazzy Lord's Suppers — only to discover that while the stunt may cause teenagers to fill the church initially, the attraction doesn't last.)

Some denominations have a high rate of youth participation, usually because the family's entire social life is tied up with the church. But on the whole, teenagers are generally (and, considering their ages, understandably) too immature to have a very deep-seated interest in religion, or, for that matter, classical music.

Many devotees of classical music (opera and concerts now attracting larger audiences than baseball) now recognize that their appreciation of good music is due in a large measure to teachers or parents who obliged them to attend concerts or listen to good music at home.

In religion, however, many such parents are unusually permissive. And, as one foreign philosopher noted, "It is amazing how assiduously American parents obey their children."

This may also be responsible, in large measure, for what is repeatedly proclaimed as "the generation gap."

On the other hand, Catholic writer Dan Herlihy has pointed out that "twice as many under-30s voted for Wallace in 1968 as for Goldwater four years earlier, and President Nixon is stronger in the twenty- to thirty age group than any other."

Father Andrew Greeley, a Chicago sociologist, contends: "There really isn't a generation gap in the United States. The so-called 'gap' is largely a fiction created by journalists and TV commentators who they have something to worry adults about, or to pontificate on when they make their nightly descent from Mt. Sinai. Despite the TV spectacle, picture stories in LIFE and frightening editorials in the daily press, most young Americans share — for woe or we — the values of their parents. The serious social research on generational differences shows that they are rather small."

But for those parents whose offspring if not creating a gap create an awfully good facsimile thereof, there is trenchant advice from a Canadian clergyman, the Rev. Maurice Soutter, Rector of St. Andrew's Anglican Church in Wellington, Ontario, and writer for the award-winning periodical The Canadian Churchman. The Rev. Mr. Soutter recently received a letter from an anxious reader signed "Mother."

"I've done everything I can to help my 19-year-old son into the adult world. He has rejected his family, rejected school, and won't work. What next?" Replied the Rev. Mr. Soutter: "It's time for the ultimatum: (1) Choice: he goes to school, lives at home and accepts the discipline of the household; (2) Choice: he goes to work, lives at home and accepts a financial obligation to the support of the home; (3) Choice: he goes out altogether. Often, by the latter, do boys become men."

(Editor's Note: Sunday is Rev. Hoffman's final day with the Twin Falls First Christian Church. He has accepted a call to the Tillamook, Ore., Christian Church. A reception has been planned for him and his family from 2-5 p.m. Sunday in the church basement. The following is Rev. Hoffman's views of the religious situation in Twin Falls.)

By REV. DONALD L. HOFFMAN

Having been asked to give an impression of Twin Falls, and especially of the religious situation — how after 1 1/2 years of ministering to First Christian Church and to the community, the following things come to mind.

Twin Falls is the nicest place we have ever lived, from the standpoint of size, neighbors and the friendliness of most all citizens. Perhaps the sunny skies have an effect on the sunny dispositions of folk. Both have been appreciated.

The merchants in Twin Falls offer goods of all kinds with a very wide selection and at prices that say, "You can do better by shopping at home."

Some of the finer things that Twin Falls has to offer include the library, an outstanding influence for good music that especially has been appreciated by our family, an excellent junior college, a fine program of helping the less fortunate and the transient, enjoyable city parks, other good, clean recreation for all the family, close by, and a fine school system.

Religiously, Twin Falls offers excellent churches of almost all faiths. However, I sincerely believe that the religious climate was better 12 years ago than today.

There was better cooperation then, on the part of most churches, than now. The tendency towards ecumenicity, not only in theology, but also in politics and the social gospel, has driven a deeper wedge between Protestant groups. Twelve years ago most Protestant groups worked together through the Twin Falls Ministerial Association. Today, because of the increased differences mentioned above, this is no longer the case.

It saddens me that churches cannot at least cooperate with other faiths when it comes to community activity and civic betterment. For example, the united effort to furnish Christmas baskets and needed clothing and toys to the less fortunate bogs down somewhat and is not as good as it could be because of the attitude of many of us who cannot work with an organization to do this work, because it also includes many others of us. This is tragic indeed.

It is one thing to take a stand for liberal theology or for conservatism, to be against the social gospel or for it to work with the National Council of Churches or to work with some other council or cooperative

Lutheran Group Has Annual Meet

WENDELL — The Wendell Gooding Lutheran League held its regular January meeting recently at the Calvary Lutheran Church at Gooding.

After a short business meeting the group went to the Ranch Road where they hosted going-away party for Carol Hill, who is moving to California.

The Wendell Gooding group was joined by the Twin Falls League at the bowling alley. After bowling, the group returned to the church and the Twin Falls league reported on Winter Camp to be held in Twin Falls Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

Connie Waterholter and Kathryn Sorr were hostesses.

agency, or even to work with none.

But, it seems to this writer that in local affairs and in opportunities for civic betterment, here we could, and should, forget these other differences and work together. My hope is that this situation can be bettered in the future.

Among the highlights of our stay in Twin Falls were the annual Christmas parade, held by the churches of many faiths, Gothic, LDS and Protestant, from 1959 to 1964.

Another was the united service held by Protestant and Catholic religious leaders and people the day our whole nation mourned the death of John F. Kennedy. This is not what is called the "Ecumenical Movement," but it's good!

While the congregation which I have served, at least for the most part, is not in sympathy with the so-called "Ecumenical Movement," it is however, of the belief that all people of all faiths, working together locally in a community like Twin Falls, can help better one another's lot. Citizens can make their community a better place for all folk, and can, thus, honor the name of our common Lord and Savior.

One of the really good things we have seen in Twin Falls has been the cooperation of many churches with us in the summer "Drive-In Church." Another is the excellent annual Sunday School Convention that goes far beyond the city limits, reaching out to bring Christian folk together from many faiths throughout Magic Valley.

Still another was the splendid way churches worked together in the great outdoor mass evangelistic program held at the High School Bruin Stadium the summer of 1967. Many such efforts continue and many other similar programs of cooperation begin.

As we leave Twin Falls and the many wonderful friends we have made, we wish God's blessing upon them and upon the entire community.

Rev. John Swank and the team of former drug users from the Teen Challenge Center in Phoenix, will be featured in both the morning and evening services Sunday at the Twin Falls First Assembly of God Church. Pastor L. I. LaMance said Rev. Swank will minister in the worship services and other team members will assist in the Sunday School class sessions at 9:45 a.m.

Sunday evening the team will present their informative program, including a showing of a film portraying the effects of LSD, at 7:30. The public is invited.

Assemblies Of God Have District Meet

HANSEN — The Hansen Assembly of God Church hosted an all-day District Ecumenical meeting of Magic Valley Assemblies recently at the old Grange Hall.

There were some 80 representative members from the Twin Falls, Jerome, Gooding, Burley, Rupert, Albion and Buhl churches.

Rev. Homer Walkup, former Hanson minister, Nampa, now district president, was present. Rev. L. I. LaMance, First Assembly, Twin Falls, presided at the meetings. Rev. Duane Gunderson, Galvady Assembly, Buhl, was the morning session speaker; Rev. V. O. Brassfield, Rupert Assembly, was the afternoon speaker and Rev. Wunder, Albion, was the evening speaker. Rev. Harold Johnson is the local pastor.

DINNER PLANNED — The Magic Valley Council of Churches will have its annual dinner at 7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 30, in the Twin Falls Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

Richfield WSCS Group Hears Report

RICHFIELD — A report on the Heart and Hand House in Hannuau, was made up by the Richfield WSCS program recently at the home of Mrs. Edward Schjeler.

Mrs. Myrtle Riley, unit president gave a New Year's prayer and readings as helping others. Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. C. M. Primrose took part in the Heart and Hand House review. Mrs. Albert Peley gave the devotionals and reported on visits and courtesy cards sent in the community.

Correspondence revealed the new district secretary is now Mrs. Gary Hubsmith, Burley, a former Richfield resident.

Mrs. Jodely Parker was a visitor. The Jan. 27 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. James Thomas.

LEAGUE TO MEET

Medicine And Religion Is WSCS Topic

HAGERMAN—“Medicine and Religion, A Design for Health for the Whole Man” was the topic of the lesson presented by Mrs. Alfred Sandy at the general WSCS meeting of the United Methodist church.

Mrs. Sandy was assisted in the dialogic presentation of the lesson by Mrs. Bill Jones, Mrs. Leonard Titmus and Mrs. Ted Monaghan. Mrs. Verna Carson read the scripture. Group singing was accompanied by Mrs. Woodrow Harris at the piano. Mrs. Carson also offered the invocation.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Titmus, Mrs. Ralph Miller reported a new sewing machine had been purchased.

Mrs. Bill Jones reported on the costs of installing curtains for the stage in the church all-purpose room. It was decided to postpone purchasing the curtains until further costs and information could be obtained.

Mrs. Robert Tupper reported the World Day of Prayer will be held March 8 at the Gooding Baptist church.

An open house reception will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Jan. 25, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Clawson on their 50th wedding anniversary.

It was decided to combine the Susannah Wesley and Genevieve Griggs circle meetings. They will meet at 2 p.m. on the fourth Wednesday of each month at the church. A work session will be held prior to the circle meetings beginning at 9 a.m. with a potluck lunch at noon.

A work meeting was held prior to the general WSCS meeting with members working on items for the gift shop.

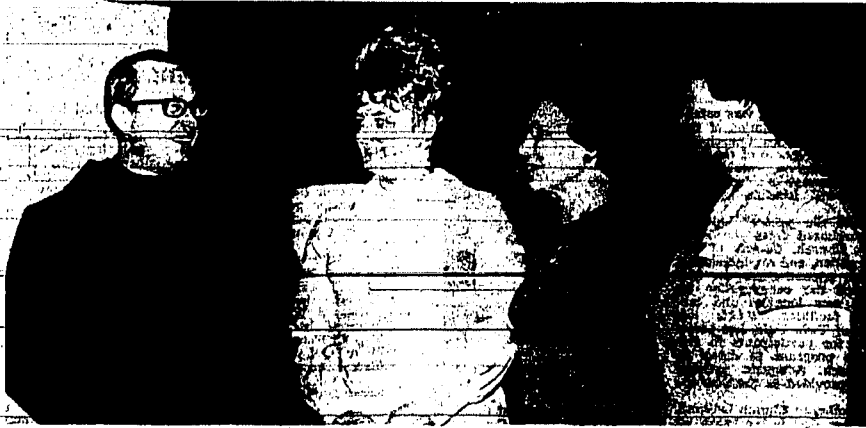

Mrs. Monaghan will present the lesson for the circle meeting Jan. 28, and Mrs. Carson will give the lesson for the general WSCS meeting, Feb. 11.

Youth Week Services Slated

A special service in keeping with Youth Week will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Twin Falls First Church of the Nazarene, 401 6th Ave. N.

A man's quartet from the Northwest Nazarene College will furnish the music and a ministerial student, Jim Dodge, will be the speaker. The NNC group also will be singing and speaking at both the 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m. services Sunday.

The public is invited to all services, states Pastor Howard R. Olson.

Mrs. Esther Hatcher, president of the United Church Women, and Mrs. Irene Baltzer, church communities chairman. The occasion was the annual meeting of the council.

Bandages Are Rolled By Church Unit

SHOSHONE — Devotionals at the Baptist Women's Mission Society meeting, held at the home of Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker, were by Mrs. T. V. Strunk on the subject "Changing Values."

Mrs. Harry Turnbull, white cross chairman, directed members in rolling bandages to be sent to foreign missions for first aid use.

Reports were given by committee chairmen.

Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey reported on her book "Rock and Lava," which contains a history of the Baptist Church here and the Community of Shoshone. She had additional copies have been distributed.

She also read her church history pageant which will be produced by the church at a future date.

A letter was read from a former pastor, Rev. Joseph McLeod, who lives with his family in Texas at this time. He is a history professor in a college there now.

Plans were made to serve the luncheon for the past Matron's Club at the official visit of the Worthy Grand Matron of Order of Eastern Star.

ANNIVERSARY SET

The Twin Falls First United Methodist Church will celebrate its 66th anniversary on Feb. 18.

Film Planned

WENDELL — "Where the People Are" is the topic for the program to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday to the youth of the United Presbyterian Church of Wendell.

The film is about a seminary student who does a year's internship in the inner city. "Where the People Are" reveals his work with MUST, a critical interview by Allen Funt, creator of Candid Camera, and the conflicts set up with family and church. The seminarian's vision of a reconciled mankind.

Slides Shown Women's Unit

Slides were shown recently during a meeting of the American Baptist Women in the Twin Falls First Baptist Church.

Mrs. R. E. Lightfoot showed the slides which related the importance of the white cross. Mrs. Margaret Duplin and Mrs. Hallie Carlson sang a duet with Mrs. Fred Brock at the piano.

It was announced that several circles will be meeting soon. They include the Esther Welke Circle, 2 p.m. Feb. 12; Elizabeth Walters Circle, 7 p.m. Feb. 12; and the Charles Y. Ho Circle, 9:30 a.m. Feb. 11.

The next meeting of the American Baptist Women will be 8 p.m. Feb. 10.

Council Of Catholic Women Has Annual Ecumenical Meet

Guest speaker at the recent annual Ecumenical meeting of the Twin Falls Council of Catholic Women was Father Simeon Van DeVoord OSB. The meeting was held at the St. Benedict's Student Center and Priory.

He spoke on what Ecumenism means to him and then he explained why St. Benedictine monks and brothers were here in Idaho, their first placement in Idaho and what they hoped to accomplish. He also explained what the student center part of the building was for and it is always open to all College of Southern Idaho students.

A tour of the student center and priory was conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Walker, president of the council.

The meeting was hosted by Mrs. Irene Baltzer, church communities chairman for the Catholic Ladies.

Seminar Slated

RUPERT — J. O. Wallace, national Sunday school director, United Pentecostal Church, will hold a Sunday school seminar at the Flier Home mission church at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Wallace, St. Louie, Mo., headquarters for the United Pentecostal church, will present the latest advances in teaching methods and materials for Sunday school teachers.

munities chairman for the Catholic Ladies.

LDS Choral Festival Set Wednesday

The Twin Falls West LDS Stake MIA will present a 1970 choral festival at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Singing in the event will be a 50-voice mixed chorus of young people with members from the Hollister, Flier, Buhl first and second wards and Twin Falls second, fourth, sixth and eighth wards.

The event will be held in the stake center on Harrison St. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

Director will be Mrs. Rachel Christensen, stake MIA music director, with accompaniment by Mrs. Myrna Bell, stake MIA organist, Jeanine Berry and Launa Stoker.

Some of the chorus members will be selected to sing in the All-Church Festival to be held in the Salt Palace Arena in Salt Lake City June 26-27. This festival will have 4,000 voices and a full symphony orchestra and will culminate the choral festivals held in stakes from all the LDS churches in the world.

Today With All Faiths—In Tribute A PORTRAIT OF SERVICE

Rev. Harrie S. Young Became Pastor Of Buhl's First Christian Church In 1968

By HARRIE S. YOUNG

When a person decides to enter the ministry of the church, he does so with a sense of God's wanting him to give himself wholly to this task, and with a deep desire to help others.

There is the recognition on the part of the individual of the needs of men for the Gospel of Christ, and a conviction that he has the ability to serve in a particular way to help meet that need.

Thus it was that Harrie S. Young, pastor of the First Christian Church in Buhl since November, 1968, reared in a Christian home by parents who were active in the life of the church, and encouraged by two ministers who helped to crystallize his determination toward the ministry, felt the call of God to this noble profession.

Following graduation from Herbert Hoover High School in Glendale, Calif., Mr. Young enrolled in Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Ore., from which he received the Bachelor of Theology degree.

It was here he met and married Virginia Stanley of Nampa. They have three sons, Stanley, who is in the United States Navy and stationed at China Lake, Calif., Richard, a junior at Boise State College, and Robert, a freshman in Buhl High School.

Additional education has been taken at Northwest Nazarene College at Nampa, the Graduate Seminary of Phillips University, at Enid, Okla., and Christian Theological Seminary at Indianapolis, Ind., from which he received the Bachelor of Divinity degree.

A pastoral ministry of 29 years has found Rev. Young serving both rural and urban pastorates in Oregon, Oklahoma, Kansas, Indiana, New York and Arizona before coming to Buhl. To help pay college expenses and to supplement his income, he has worked at various occupations ranging from logging camp, fruit cannery, and service station attendant to sales clerk, bookkeeper, school bus driver and substitute teaching.

While serving pastorates in the state of New York, Rev. Young was active in ecumenical affairs. In Syracuse, he served as vice president of the United Campus Christian Fellowship at Syracuse University, chairman of the Church-Neighborhood Relations Committee of the Syracuse Council of Churches, and as a member of the Inter-Church Locations Committee of the Council.

In Niagara Falls, N.Y., he served as chairman of the Church Planning Committee of the Niagara Council of Churches, and as a member of the Regional Church Planning Committee for Erie and Niagara Counties, which included all of the metropolitan Buffalo, N.Y., area. He also served as vice president of the Niagara Falls Planned Parenthood Association and as a member of the Kiwanis Club.

During his ministry in Niagara Falls, Rev. Young served his denomination in various capacities at both State and National levels, including a term as President of the Northeastern Association of Christian Churches, which encompassed the states of New York, New Jersey and the six New England States.

Mr. Young has found in recent months a renewed interest on the part of members of the church for an in-depth study of worship and the doctrinal beliefs of the church. As a result of this interest, and requests from many in his present parish, he is conducting two classes each Tuesday evening in these areas.

New Drive For Catholic School Aid Gets Under Way

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Religious Writer

A new drive for public aid in parochial schools is getting under way in state legislatures. It is fueled by warnings from Catholic leaders that state aid is the only way to prevent wholesale closing of church schools.

It is winning support from some governors and other state officials who say it would cost the taxpayers far less to keep parochial schools in business than to absorb large numbers of parochial students in public schools.

But there is vigorous opposition from some Protestant and Jewish groups who see the aid proposals as a serious breach of the constitutional principle of church-state separation.

Most state aid proposals are patterned after the so-called "Pennsylvania Plan," adopted by the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1968. It provides for the state to pay part of the salaries of parochial school teachers who instruct students in secular subjects. The theory is that the state is not supporting religion as such, but is merely purchasing services.

Last month a three-judge federal court in Philadelphia upheld the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania Plan in a split 2-1 decision which doubtless will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

State aid plans similar to Pennsylvania's were enacted during 1969 by Ohio, Connecticut, and Rhode Island.

They were defeated, however, in 17 other legislatures, including Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Vermont, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

Aid bills will be re-introduced this year in all of those 17 states and in several others. The prospect is that many of them will get through on second try.

Americans United for Church State Separation has appealed for a "moratorium" on all state aid legislation until "the serious constitutional issue" is resolved by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Enrollment in Catholic schools is dropping by nearly 700,000 pupils during the past three years, and additional school closings are said to be imminent in many states with large Catholic populations, including Michigan, Illinois, New York, and Massachusetts.

There still are more than 12,000 Catholic elementary and high schools in America, and they are currently educating about 4,860,000 children.

2 View LDS Groups Name New Officers

VIEW — Two auxiliary groups of the View LDS Church were reorganized recently.

New officers of the Relief Society were Mrs. Don Wrigley, president; Mrs. Delous Stoker, education counselor; Mrs. Blaine Tegan, homemaking counselor, and Mrs. Rex Wrigley, secretary.

Officers sustained for the Young Women's Mutual were Mrs. Milton C. Payne, president; Mrs. Don Wrigley and Mrs. Elmer Mangum, counselors, and Mrs. John Howard, secretary.

Mrs. Glen Searle was sustained ward chorister and Mrs. Garth Freymiller as junior Sunday school coordinator.

View Couple Is Honored

VIEW — Mr. and Mrs. Theral Parikh were honored guests recently at the View LDS Mutual Married dance and social in the cultural hall.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. John Koyle, Mr. and Mrs. Don Merrill and Mr. and Mrs. Ray West. Musical selections were given by Sylvan Bergio and her daughter Lydene, Arvel Rasmussen, Paul Tegan, Elton Hatch and a combo band, composed of Larry Krue, Larry Baker, Dennis Koyle and Kent Searle. The Parishes have moved to Twin Falls.

Luncheon Set

The Challenger Class family potluck luncheon will be held at noon Sunday in the Twin Falls First Baptist Church. Those attending are asked to bring a hot dish, a salad or dessert and own table service. Officers also will be installed.

LAST CHANCE

Dealer prices increased effective January 1, 1970, on all Frigidaire Appliances (the first substantial increase for many years). Although we had a large warehouse stock, we ordered another CARLOAD at the OLD prices to arrive after our year-end inventory.

OUR ENTIRE STOCK IS NOW BEING OFFERED AT DISCOUNT PRICES OFF THE OLD LOWER PRICES — TILL OUR TOTAL INVENTORY IS IN LINE — WE STILL HAVE ABOUT 45 UNITS TO SELL BEFORE WE MARK EVERY FRIGIDAIRE APPLIANCE AT THE NEW HIGHER PRICES.
