$200.8 Billion Budget Set

Higher Taxes Asked

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon asked Congress today for $22.3 billion in higher taxes and postal rates to balance what he called a "hard choices" budget and provide a thin $1.3-billion surplus to fight inflation.

In submitting his $200.8 billion spending proposal — first in history to top $200 billion — Nixon said he eliminated or sharply cut back "a number of untimed and uneconomic programs." Included were some venerable sacred cows.

Nixon also asked Congress to raise the price of defense spending by $5.8 billion. Space outlays were cut $188 million. But he proposed spending $800 million a year for the next five years to curb water pollution, and budgeted increased funds for combating crime, food assistance to the poor, improved urban mass transit facilities, expanded manpower training and other social programs.

"This anti-inflationary budget begins to show the price of restoring our national priorities," the President said. "For the first time in two full decades, the federal government will spend more money on human resources than on national defense."

The President projected government income of $202.1 billion including the new revenue he wants from higher Social Security taxes, increased taxes on truck and aircraft users and increased postal rates — including a recent letter.

Nixon emphasized that a surplus for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is vital to the campaign against inflation even though it requires cuts in worthwhile programs and an election-year increase.

"The willingness to make hard choices is the defining force behind my 1971 budget proposals," he said.

Here is how Nixon's fiscal 1971 budget compares with the current fiscal year (in billions of dollars):

Revenues	$109.4	$202.1
Outlays	$107.9	$200.8
Surplus	$1.5	$1.3

For the first time in recent years, the President set specific figures for the Vietnam War. The President said they were omitted to protect the secrecy of his future troop withdrawal plans.

The overall military portion of the budget is $73.3 billion, down $5.8 billion from the estimate for the current fiscal year. That would be the smallest share of the total budget since fiscal 1950, just before the start of the Korean War.

In 1969, last full-year of the Johnson administration, 44 per cent of government outlays went to national defense and 34 per cent for such human resources programs as health, education, job training and housing. Nixon's plan provides 41 per cent for human resources and 37 per cent for defense.

"Although still comparatively small, other major programs of this administration — pollution control, crime reduction, transportation and housing — are planned to grow substantially in the years ahead," Nixon said.

The proposed outlay for law enforcement topped $1 billion for the first time, with street crime, the Coast Guard and drug abuse the chief targets.

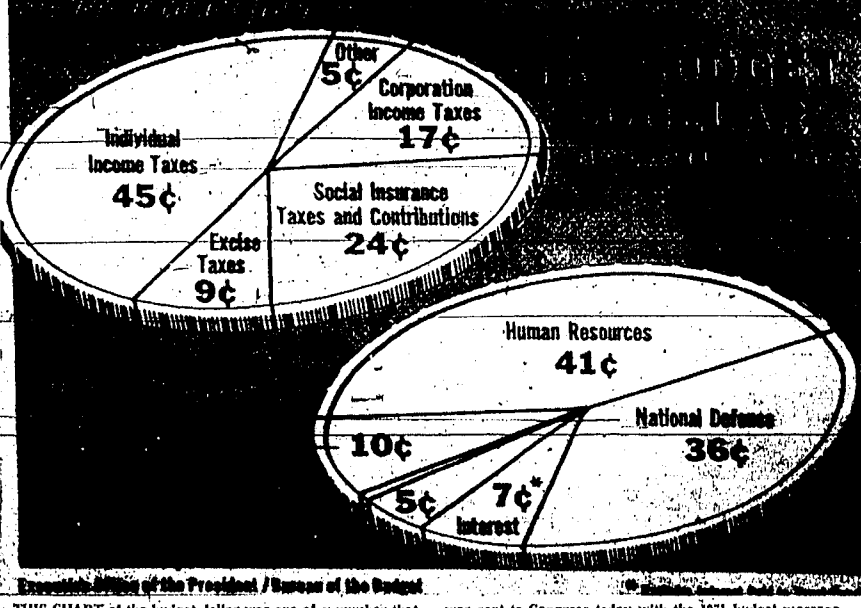

Although Nixon said government income would exceed spending in both the current fiscal year and the coming one, the size of the projected surplus must have come as a disappointment.

The spending continues to rise, the projected surplus for the year that ends June 30 was trimmed from $5.8 billion to a narrow $1.5 billion. Nixon expects the surplus for 1971 to be even smaller at $1.3 billion.

In fact, the surplus will turn into a deficit unless Congress approves these revenue boosts: $200 million by collecting Social Security taxes on the first $9,000 of wages, instead of topping $7,500 as now. The new law will increase the tax on a person earning $9,000 or more from $374.40 to $488 a year.

$600 million by keeping excise taxes at their present levels of 7 per cent on new cars.

THIS CHART of the budget dollar was one of a number that was sent to Congress today with the 1971 budget message.

Glenn Briggs To Get Hall Of Fame Honor

MURTAUGH — A homesteader in the Murtaugh area is one of five Magic Valley livestockmen who will be honored for their contribution to the livestock industry.

Glenn Briggs, who homesteaded on the Moorman Tract, east of Murtaugh, will be named to the Magic Valley Livestock Hall of Fame at the Hall of Fame Banquet Feb. 16 at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.

Mr. Briggs will be introduced by John Noh, Kimberly livestockman.

In 1915, Mr. Briggs came to the Murtaugh area from North Dakota and homesteaded the area now known as Poverty Knob. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs, who celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Jan. 17, still live on the homestead.

Glenn and his only son, Dr. Kenneth Briggs, Twin Falls, operate much of their farming and livestock operation as Briggs and Briggs. In addition to the farming end of the operation, they keep a herd of excellent Hereford cattle, including 66 cows.

Mr. Briggs was one of the original directors and organizers of the Miller Low Lift Irrigation District, which took in the Briggs land and others.

Because of his outstanding grass program a few years ago, Mr. Briggs was named the Twin Falls County Grassman of the Year in 1964. Today, he is continuing his grass program he started several years ago.

Mr. Briggs has been active in other "things." He was at one time, a member of the Murtaugh School Board, Twin Falls County Hospital Board and the Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Board and currently is a director of the Twin Falls Dam and Trust Co.

Rail Strike Bargaining To Resume

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Representatives of four shoppert unions and the railroads have agreed at government request to resume bargaining in an effort to reach voluntary contract agreement that would avert a threatened nationwide shutdown.

Labor Secretary George P. Shultz was to meet this morning with his top aides to determine what further steps might be taken by the government to secure a negotiated settlement.

Failure to come to terms on a work rules dispute within a 10-day grace period imposed Saturday by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica would again open the possibility of strike action by the unions and lockout retaliation by the railroads resulting in a transportation crisis of staggering proportions.

Although no names were mentioned, and Mr. Walters praised each individual as being "highly qualified," people in the audience had a fair idea of who the candidates are. The names of Cecil Andrus, a candidate for governor four years ago; Lloyd Walker of Twin Falls; Vernon Ravenscroft of Tully and Joe Williams, state auditor, were mentioned.

Mr. Walters, in his speech, said, "The campaign is well under way and we hope to have a full ticket." With a smile he said, "We only lack candidates for the offices of governor, Second District Congress, secretary of state and attorney general."

He said there is a candidate in the First Congressional District, but no name was mentioned.

It was the first political rally in Magic Valley in 1970.

This summer the State Democratic Convention will be held at the College of Southern Idaho.

Mr. Williams also spoke briefly for the candidates. He said, "It will be a costly campaign this year by the opposition party. That party will try to create and image for Idaho to create votes for him." Again no name was mentioned.

He said the Democrats will win on the "bread and butter issues, the issues on how much it costs to run our state government."

Other officials attending included Sen. Don Frederickson, Codington, R-O.P.; Ravenscroft; Rep. Walter Carr, Emmett; Rep. Neil Miller, Blackfoot; Rep. Alvin Joseph, Glenn Ferry, and Rep. Karl Koch, Hammett.

The Legislators told the gathering of the problems in the current session of the Legislature and predicted the session would continue well into March.

Democrats Hold Political Rally Here To Map Strategy For This Year's Campaign

The Democrats, with no one officially in the race yet, have at least four possible candidates for governor of Idaho this year, E. T. Waters, state Democratic Chairman, told a gathering of 150 at the Holiday Inn late Saturday.

Although no names were mentioned, and Mr. Walters praised each individual as being "highly qualified," people in the audience had a fair idea of who the candidates are. The meeting, held Saturday night, was the first of several for Magic Valley Democrats before the elections this fall.

Solons To Get Bills

BOISE (UPI) — Rep. Jenkin Palmer, R-Mulad, said last weekend the Joint Finance Appropriations Committee will try to get all supplemental appropriation bills before the legislature by Feb. 10 — the 300th legislative day.

Palmer is co-chairman of the committee.

He said the 22 lawmakers who appear on the committee will start today on the $11.7 million in requests and try to fit them below the estimated $6.9 million in additional revenue available for the remainder of the 1969-71 biennium.

"Our first topic of discussion will be how much we can reasonably appropriate," said Palmer.

Co-chairman Sen. Richard High, R-Twin Falls, said he hoped the committee could get appropriation bills to the legislature by the 30th day, but he was not too optimistic.

High was at his desk Sunday pouring over the budget figures.

"He said other legislation is moving to the third reading calendar and added, "It will be hard to get the joint committee together."

Both Palmer and High have asked the governor to let them know if he has any additional recommendations for his supplemental appropriations above the $1.2 million he set in his budget message.

High said, "We need to get official recommendations from him."

The governor last week told a news conference that his recommendations still were "between $1.2 million and $4.5 million."

He said state agencies had "circumvented him" by going to the legislature with additional requests.

Palmer said the committee must also decide whether to recommend appropriate some $100,000 from the general fund to the permanent building fund to take care of several building needs.

Some of the needs include $133,000 to equip the new Life Sciences Building at Idaho State University; $250,000 for a swimming pool at Boise State College; and a new well and pump at the University of Idaho.

Paul Youth Dies As Result Of Car Crash

BURLEY — Randal Albrecht, 19, Paul, died Saturday in his own car driven by Frank Urigen, 19, also of Paul. The auto collided with another auto driven by Dorothy Matson, 41, Hazelton, which was traveling west. She is reported in anti-factory condition in Cassia Memorial Hospital. Urigen was treated and released from the hospital Saturday.

Charles Peugh, Idaho State Police, is investigating the accident, as is Bruce Young, Cassia County coroner. No decision has been made on an inquest.

The body is at Walk Mortuary, Rupert.

This is Magic Valley's eighth traffic fatality this year and 23 in Idaho.

Employees Blamed In Train Crash

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Col. Eduardo Anibal Nava, chief of police of Buenos Aires province, today blamed employees of the Benavidez station for a signal error that caused an express train to ram into a crippled local Sunday in Argentina's worst train disaster. Two men were arrested.

Police said 154 bodies had been removed from the wreckage this morning but unofficial railroad estimates were that the death toll would be 150 to 200 with 300 injured. Buenos Aires newspapers put the toll at 200.

Fernando Romeo, fireman aboard the crowded express, described the accident as "a north of Buenos Aires: 'The diesel leaped on top of the three local cars as if it were sprung by a trampoline.'"

If we were horrified by the wreckage, we were shocked by the wreckage," President Juan Carlos Onganía flew to the site today with Nava and Gen. Juan Carlos Demarech, head of the National Railroad System, Nava, in a surprise press conference, blamed the accident on a mistake at Benavidez station 1.8 miles away.

Nava said two men were placed under preventive arrest. One of them, Maximiliano, a signal man, suffered a nervous breakdown and was being treated in General Pacheco Hospital, Nava said. He declined to identify the other, a Benavidez station worker.

Nava said the local train with 1,000 passengers aboard developing engine trouble before arriving at Benavidez but was allowed to proceed when the trouble appeared to be fixed. The express train was given a clear signal but it slammed into the local which had stalled again.

Grants Planned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) announced Sunday it will in the next year award $30 million to scores of cities for crime control programs.

Traffic Stopper

Pranksters rolled 10 large snowballs into the street on Granada Drive, according to officers who were called to remove the balls which were blocking traffic in the area.

Airlines' Request To Be Reheard

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho public utilities commission will rehear Sun Valley Airlines Inc. request for additional service authority, the commission announced Saturday.

The PUC said it had issued an order awarding to Trans Magic Airlines an amendment to its certificate allowing regular route scheduled airline service between Halley-Sun-Valley and Twin Falls and at the same time had denied Sun Valley Airlines authority to provide that service.

The commission noted it received a petition for rehearing from Sun Valley Airlines on Jan. 21, which alleged that on the same date its request had been denied. The Civil Aeronautics Board had allowed Air-West to discontinue direct air service to Halley-Sun-Valley Airport, and the granting of the amendment to Trans Magic's certificate "through other regulation" would allow Trans Magic to fly a route from Boise to Halley-Sun Valley and return by over-flying Twin Falls.

The PUC said Trans Magic filed an answer to the petition for rehearing on Jan. 19, requesting that the petition for rehearing be denied.

But due to the "unusual circumstances" that on the same day the commission issued its See AIRLINE, Page 2, Col. 1

Botanist To Woo Solons With Flowers

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — A noted botanist is going to woo Congress with flowers Tuesday.

David Burpee is continuing the 10-year-old fight by the late Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., to have the marigold declared the national flower of the United States.

Burpee, who thinks it reminds that the United States is the only great country without a national flower, will make his newest pitch for the marigold Tuesday by sending bouquets to Mrs. Richard Nixon, Mrs. Spiro Agnew and 50 or 60 senators and congressmen in Washington.

The bouquets of the huge orange and yellow marigolds will have blooms measuring seven to 12 inches in diameter atop stems more than a foot long.

Heyburn Man Tries Hand At Ballooning; Slows Traffic On Interstate Near Burley

Traffic on Interstate 80N in the Burley-Heyburn area has never been as slow as it was Saturday afternoon when vehicles slowed to observe a low-flying balloon.

Many area residents watched the balloon, piloted by two men, as it landed and took off several times. Operating the balloon was Lee Moyle, Heyburn, under the direction of Bill Berry, Concord, Calif., a licensed balloon instructor. The president of the Hot Air Balloon of America Club.

Mr. Moyle is co-owner of the balloon with his brother, Don Moyle. Both are mink farmers. Lee and Bill first lifted off at a national Saturday afternoon Ore-Ida Foods plants, west of Burley. The ballooningists then hovered over the Heyburn area for awhile before setting down in a cornfield northeast of the Heyburn interchange.

With assistance of bystanders, who were observing the ballooningists, the balloon was carried over to an adjacent alfalfa field where the two men re-inflated it. After lift-off again, the ballooningists made several more landings and lift-offs before quitting just before dusk Saturday.

Moyle planned to continue his practice of lift-off and landing of the balloon today and tomorrow under the guidance of Mr. Berry before he leaves for California.

Mr. Berry delivered the balloon to Moyle Thursday. The balloon, manufactured by Raven Co., Boise, Idaho, is 60 feet tall and has a diameter of 50 feet and is classified as a 8,000-cubic-foot hot air balloon.

Mr. Berry said the balloon is equipped with a 44-gallon propane tank which is used for fuel and will keep the balloon afloat from five to six hours, depending on air currents.

It also is equipped with a furnace flame thrower that is rated at a six million BTU heat per hour. The platform, four by five feet, can carry four persons and a weight load of 1,400 pounds gross.

The balloon can go as high as 25,000 feet, says Mr. Berry. It has an altimeter, just drifting with the currents.

To inflate the balloon, the ballooningists laid out on the ground and with a butane burner and blower, hot air is forced into it. The temperature in the balloon averages from 165 to 170 degrees when inflated and can go as high as 275 degrees for a short time.

The balloon is made out of special heat-treated nylon and at the top there is a panel for letting out the air for landing. The balloon also is equipped with an altimeter.

Materialia traveling along the Interstate probably thought the two ballooningists were having fun, but Mr. Berry said the only excitement he felt during the flight over the Interstate was worrying about the many motorists who were watching him descend.

18 Firemen Injured In Hotel Fire

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavy smoke billowing up from a gas explosion and fire in the basement of the Manhattan Towers Hotel early today drove 500 guests into the street. Eighteen firemen were injured.

The fire department said a gas main in the basement apparently ruptured and a spark ignited the fumes. Fire damage was contained to the cellar level but the flames sent heavy smoke surging up through elevator shafts to all floors of the hotel at Broadway and West 70th St. in Manhattan.

Hotel employees awakened guests by telephone and by knocking on doors when the blast occurred shortly before 2 a.m.

"It was all very orderly and no one panicked," a hotel spokesman said after all the guests descended to the main floor by elevator.

The owner of a pizza stand across from the aging hotel which is now largely a residential establishment, said the occupants "were really coming out of that place."

The fire department said 18 firemen were taken to nearby hospitals where at least three were reported to be suffering severe burns. Most of the others were overcome by smoke.

Norwegian Oil Tanker Sinking

MIAMI (UPI) — A Coast Guard vessel out of New York City is hunting for a sinking Norwegian oil tanker north of Puerto Rico today. There was a little hope she would get there in time.

"She's vertical in the water," said the Coast Guard duty officer in Miami.

Last Witness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee called its final witness today to testify whether Judge G. Harrold Carswell is fit to serve on the Supreme Court.

Called for a second appearance was Julian Proctor, a Tallahassee, Fla., auto dealer who solicited Carswell in 1956 for a $300 membership in a golf club.

Proctor testified last week the club was organized to take over a municipal golf course because the city refused to keep up the facility.

Nightshirt-Clad Senators Gather For Club Initiation

By LEON BURNETT
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Odds and ends from the nation's capital—mostly odd: They gathered in the Senate Office Building Auditorium, resplendent in nightshirts and topknots—two score of them. The nightgowned ones solemnly anointed another gentleman present with waters of the creek called Octorara, and presented him with pebbles from it, to a cymbal solo. Thus was Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., inducted into the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge of Quarryville, Pa., a group which since 1908 has been perpetuating the notion that the forested animal can foresee when spring is coming.

Mansfield: "I can see some interesting days ahead, especially when one has to compete with an Oriental scholar on the other side of the aisle." I assure the senator that the (Democratic) words will be more decipherable than the ones describing a period of thought.

"In describing that period of thought one should look at one's navel, so one could achieve greater wisdom as a result."

Scott: "I have sought to keep ours Byzantine and Occidental since we Occidentals are sensitive to any loss of face. Therefore, rather than the Oriental I have concluded with a Greek word, courtesy of the policy committee, and a Latin phrase, courtesy of myself."

Headline on a newsletter to constituents from Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.:

"Upon 3rd senator in U.S. history to answer 1,000 consecutive roll calls."
 (The first was Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine.)

During one discussion of the controversial HEW appropriation bill, Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., was inspired to say:

"Improved educational methods and programs of education surely result in a better educated people."

Bless the American Miling Congress both for its hospitality and candor.

One paragraph of an announcement of its meeting in Washington was an invitation to a reception. The second and last:

"The major part of the two-day conference concerns internal organization and housekeeping, including in news interest."

The subject on the Senate floor was the Democratic leadership report on what's to be done by the second session of the 91st Congress.

GOP Leader Hugh Scott: "Will the pace and content of legislative action be better next year? Clearly the temper of this age of Aquarius calls for less bureaucratic omphaloskepsis; all things are changing and we are changing with them."

THIS NEW 270-FOOT-LONG grocery store and department store complex is one of the newest additions to Idaho's business area. Manager Dick Stevens said the complex remodeling was completed about the end of November and the grand opening festivities will be held in March. Prior to the face-lifting, the store was about 60 feet wide and 125 feet long, and the expansion enables the business to provide a complete variety of grocery and department needs for its customers, all under one roof.

Veto Of Education Funds Cripples Many College Officials Pledging Student Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anti-loan picture was reported to Congress by government and private sources. The trouble centered on the government's direct loan program under which federal funds are loaned to universities that make loans to deserving students. The student pays back the loan after finishing school at a 3 per cent interest rate over a 10-year period.

Examination Board, a private organization representing about 900 universities, said universities were encouraged because Congress has authorized $325 million and were still heartened when Congress' actual appropriation was $220 million, or $34 million more than last year.

The OE spokesman said many schools are telling students to apply to banks under the Guaranteed Student Loan Program. The government backs these loans and pays the interest while the student is in school.

There may be few grasshoppers out West this year. The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Friday fewer than seven million acres of rangeland were found infested in 15 of 20 Western and Midwestern states in a survey last fall.

"The colleges drew money out of other programs just to keep kids in school and in anticipation that the money voted by Congress would be coming in eventually," said Sanders. "Now, at this stage, with the new semester starting and with many of their other programs already in back and the outlook uncertain the colleges cannot continue the loans."

What Do Many Doctors Use When They, Themselves, Suffer From Hemorrhoids?

A survey among doctors showed 68% of the doctors reporting either use Preparation II themselves or recommend it for their families. Preparation II gives prompt, temporary relief from pain, itching and actually helps shrink swollen tissues of hemorrhoids caused by inflammation and infection. It also lubricates to help protect the inflamed, irritated surface area and helps make bowel movements less painful. There's no other formula for hemorrhoids like Preparation II. Ointment or suppositories.

COMMENT

Chinese Opinion

The Times, Taiwan, Formosa Vice President Spiro Agnew brought the expected assurance that the United States will honor its defense commitments to the Republic of China.

Japan attacked China and brought on the Pacific War largely as the result of American indecisiveness. The United States frowned on Japanese expansionism but did nothing to stop it.

It would seem that the United States wants to maintain the Asian status quo while mitigating its anti-Communist stand. The Americans have tried to have things both ways before - always unsuccessfully.

Now the United States is following a not so dissimilar course with respect to the threat of Chinese Communist aggression. Peiping is told that the Americans do not threaten mainland security.

After 1918, Americans returned to isolationism and let their defense establishment sink into decrepitude. The United States lifted no finger to help China against the Japanese militarists in 1937 and turned its eyes the other way when France and Britain capitulated to Hitler at Munich.

When the Chinese Communists strike at Taiwan or other targets, the United States will be faced with repetition of the decision of December 7, 1941. This country puts full credence in the promises of President Nixon and Vice President Agnew.

After 1918, Americans returned to isolationism and let their defense establishment sink into decrepitude. The United States lifted no finger to help China against the Japanese militarists in 1937 and turned its eyes the other way when France and Britain capitulated to Hitler at Munich.

Security for free China and Free Asia to be found where the Communist-held Chinese mainland meets the sea and not in after-the-fact response to new acts of aggression.

The Russians have replaced the Germany of the 1930s but with the addition of nuclear striking power. Satellites of Eastern Europe may be likened to the Italy of a generation ago.

U.S. Vice President Spiro Agnew has promised that the United States will live up to its commitments in Southeast Asia. This promise is meaningful only if Washington follows the advice of experienced Asian anti-Communist leaders.

In Asia, the Chinese Communists have taken the place of the Japanese militarists. They, too, have nuclear potential, however embryonic it may be.

There is need to consolidate the anti-Communism of Asia and expand U.S. commitments so as to face up to intensified Russian and Chinese Communist economic and diplomatic infiltration.

Washington's plan to withdraw all U.S. ground troops from Vietnam by 1971 is an invitation to Communist aggression. The plan to have Asians defend Asia must be accompanied by other measures.

The Nixon administration should start the 1970s with a stronger, less confusing anti-Communist policy.

The Welchers

At a time when the Idaho courts have nailed down the constitutional requirement of a free public education in the elementary and secondary grades, voices continue to be raised for a plan that would price the poor and even the not-so-poor out of a college education.

Most of the old grads of Idaho were given virtually a free higher education that now makes it possible for them to earn a living that can stand to be tapped a few more bucks a year for higher education.

The State Board of Education, the administrators of the University of Idaho, Boise State College and Idaho State University, and some members of the legislature have supported the imposition of tuition on the students of Idaho.

The time for nonsense has passed. Let us set aside here the problems of the "fees" which relate to the need for understanding, for treatment which in most places today is either inadequate or nonexistent.

Now, after several years in this state of adding "fees" on "fees," State Rep. E. G. Jenkins of Nampa has suggested that we add still more cost to a public education and call it a spade and tuition tuition.

We are talking about the most vicious business in the world. In New York City last year, some 800 persons died of heroin overdoses or drug-related ailments. Some 220 teenagers - one 12-year-old boy and another of 13 years - included.

The bill represents the second step in a march toward a higher education system for the well-to-do. You don't have to be very poor today to find it difficult to keep a youngster in one of the public colleges or universities of Idaho.

At Boise College, there are probably ample jobs in Idaho's largest city but not ample pay; there, too, the fees have increased faster than the part-time student jobs in college towns.

Oddly enough, a newspaper as progressive as the Idaho Statesman at Boise has missed the point of the chief evil of tuition in a public school system. The newspaper acknowledges that "tuition for resident

It's already later, sir. Our troops have been protecting Europe for 25 years, and a move today to withdraw at least two divisions from among the 310,000 American military bodies - as Mansfield has suggested - could hardly be described as "sudden or dramatic."

CSI To Stage Broadway Comedy Hit

"Barefoot in the Park," which was described by Life Magazine as "one of the funniest comedies ever" when it first set New York theaters roaring with laughter in 1963, will be the April production at the College of Southern Idaho, reports Fran Tanner, director.

Written by Neil Simon, the most acclaimed author of light-hearted plays since the days of George Kaufman and Moss Hart, "Barefoot in the Park" has the credentials of having been one of the biggest smash hits in American Stage history, running on Broadway for nearly four years, for total of 1,532 performances.

Mr. Simon has since scored other hits, among them "The Odd Couple," "Come Blow Your Horn" and "Star Spangled Girl." At present he has a record-breaking credit of three hits running simultaneously on Broadway: "P. L. 2," "Promises, Promises" and his latest, "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

"Barefoot in the Park" is a carefree comedy featuring a pair of newlyweds as they first set up housekeeping in a Greenwich Village apartment with complications provided by the bride's mother and an over-friendly, odd-ball neighbor who lives in the attic.

The play will be produced at CSI in a horseshoe arrangement, a modified arena format in the Cirque theatre. It will play two weekends, April 10 and 11 and April 17 and 18.

LDS and other students from the College of Southern Idaho are now making use of the new LDS Institute of Religion building on Falls Avenue across from the CSI campus.

GARY BECKSTEAD, Institute director, said about 30 Mormon students are taking religion classes and other students at CSI also utilize the facility as a student center.

He said there is a kitchen and game room in the functional building, which is modern in design and the first phase in a planned three-phase program.

He said the building is of standard design, used in many college towns. As CSI and the Institute's programs grow, the building will be expanded, with wings being added to both the east and west ends.

"Although the building is now in use from about 7 a.m. until 9 p.m. each weekday, and special activities are held on weekends, decorating of the facility still is not complete. Mr. Beckstead said arrival of bright, custom-made furniture is being awaited, and work has been received on the equipment is being shipped.

An open house will be held this spring, Mr. Beckstead said, and it is hoped landscaping will be complete by that time.

Contractor on the $300,000 project was Hafer Construction Co., Twin Falls.

Other instructors at the Institute besides Mr. Beckstead, are Frank Craven and M. S. Beckstead, who directs the choir.

Grandson Of Ike Enlists In Navy Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — David Eisenhower, the grandson of a five-star Army general with the draft breathing down his neck, was sworn into the U.S. Navy Reserve Saturday for six years.

On his graduation from Amherst College in June, he will enter officers candidate school at Newport, R.I., for 18 weeks of training and, if successful, will win the right to hold his commission at $38,400 a month plus allowances. Three years of active duty as a Naval reserve lieutenant will follow.

His father-in-law, President Nixon, who was a Navy officer during World War II, died in 1954. David, 21, took the oath from Capt. Phil Green, deputy director of Naval recruiting, at the White House.

"I've got a couple of old uniforms you can use," the President told David.

Nixon told newsmen he had nothing to do with David's decision.

David said it was his father, retired Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, now U.S. ambassador to Belgium, who had recommended the Navy because he said it offers a greater variety of activities than the Army.

Miss Hardin, Mr. Rogers Join Hands

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nancy Ann Hardin and Douglas Langston Rogers took the marriage vows Saturday in what historians believed to be the first wedding of the son and daughter of incumbent cabinet members.

President Nixon, daughter Julie and son-in-law David Eisenhower attended the double-ring ceremony at the National Presbyterian Church that united the 21-year-old daughter of Agriculture Secretary and Mrs. Clifford M. Hardin and the 23-year-old son of Secretary of State and Mrs. William P. Rogers.

The Rev. Dr. L. R. Elson, pastor of the church and the Senate chaplain, officiated at the service in the church whose cornerstone was laid by the late Dwight D. Eisenhower, David's grandfather, a prominent member of the congregation, in 1967.

Nixon and the young Eisenhower sat in one of the front pews on the right side of the oak paneled church. Mrs.

OPERATION IDENTIFICATION
We Have Joined...
All it takes is 10 minutes to have your identification ready for you. No Law Enforcement Agency needed.

MAGIC VALLEY BONDED POLICE
Invite you to join Operation Identification.

To discourage the theft of personal items of value from homes and other locations, Magic Valley Bonded Police have a program by identification of valuables and notifying potential thieves this action has been taken.

Don't wait until you are burglarized.

We'll give you a sticker for your front window or door which states you have joined OPERATION IDENTIFICATION and your items of value have been notified for ready identification. A thief will be notified when he sees this sticker if caught with the goods he's snuck.

HAS THIS PROGRAM REALLY WORKED TO PREVENT CRIME? YES. In Southern Calif., where this was first started, results have been a big success. With nearly 3000 participating homeowners in Monterey Park, Calif., since 1965, only three have been victims of burglaries, and, in only one instance identified items were taken. Home burglaries as reported in the Twin Falls paper, Jan. 11, 1970, have doubled in the last year.

WHO ARE THE OWNERS OF MAGIC VALLEY BONDED POLICE? One is a Rupert businessman turning a local business for the last one and a half years, one other partner is a man who was a sergeant on the Oakland police force, has taught crime prevention to the Oakland police force. The last, but not least, is also from the Oakland police force, with experience in crime prevention.

Every day we read about the increase of crime everywhere. You personally can do something about it by ACTING NOW, and prevent another tickle in the statistical crime barometer.

Mansfield Criticizes ABM Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., suggested Sunday President Nixon announced the intention of expanding the antiballistic missile system (ABM) could disrupt the Strategic Arms Limitations Talks (SALT).

Mansfield, Senate majority leader who criticized Nixon's announcement of the ABM expansion after his news conference Friday, said, "We're probably on the verge of a mad momentum."

He said it "worries me" that the ABM announcement came at a time when the United States and Soviet Union were engaged in the SALT talks and when U.S.-Red China talks had resumed.

The Senate failed by one vote last August to defeat an agreement which would have blocked the first phase of the ABM system. That phase included construction of one site each in Montana and North Dakota and the purchase of land for 10 more sites.

Mansfield was interviewed on the television program, Issues and Answers—ABC.

Extradition Of Trio Set This Week

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Extradition proceedings were expected this week against three men charged in Pennsylvania with the murders of United Mine Workers (UMW) leader Joseph A. "Doc" Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

Paul E. Gilly, 36; Claude E. Vealey, 27, and Aubrun W. Martin, 21, have been jailed since Jan. 21, but authorities in Washington County, Pa., said extradition was being upheld until completion here of a federal grand jury investigation of the slayings.

The grand jury was in recess over the weekend after indicting the three suspects Thursday on federal conspiracy charges. It resumes its hearing Friday.

Gilly, Vealey and Martin were to be arraigned today on the conspiracy charges, but it was doubtful they would be tried for them. The federal charges carry a maximum total of six years in prison and $5,000 fine. Pennsylvania authorities want to try the men for murder, which carries a possible death sentence.

Lawyers for the three have indicated they would fight extradition.

When the grand jury reconvenes it is expected to recall Mrs. Annette Gilly, the wife of one of the three men charged. Mrs. Gilly, who was named as a coconspirator but not as a defendant, testified in the fifth amendment in appearances last week.

Also expected to testify are three witnesses from La Follette, Tenn., including Mrs. Gilly's sister, Sallie Studdieaux. During his unsuccessful campaign for the UMW presidency last fall, Yablonski charged the union leadership with illegally pouring $3.7 million of union funds into the area.

Pocatello Crash Claims Utah Youth

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — One of Idaho's latest traffic victims was a Utah teen-ager, killed when his car overturned on a country road.

Dead is Larry Ross Echols, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Echols, Roy.

Two other teen-agers were slightly injured in the Friday afternoon mishap minutes after a fourth youth who was frightened by Echols driving asked to be let out of the car, police said.

Idaho state police said the accident occurred on a dirt road in the eastern foothills area on the outskirts of Pocatello. The 1963 model car skidded out of control, left the road and flipped over and twice before coming to rest on its wheels. Echols, who died while undergoing emergency treatment at Banock Memorial Hospital, was thrown from the car.

Treated and released were Penny Hutchinson, 17, Salt Lake City, and Patrick Shaffer, 16, Roy.

Nuclear Ship Sidelined In New Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The budget President Nixon sent to Congress today would end—at least for the present—the American Merchant Marine's dream of entering the nuclear age.

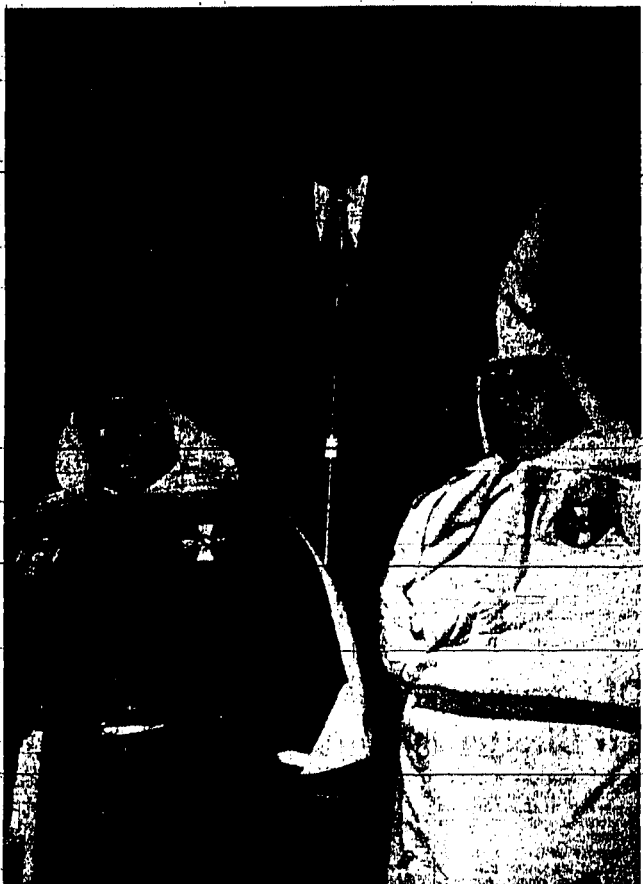

The N.S. Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, once billed as the dawn of a new age, would be put in permanent drydock under Nixon's budget proposals. Built at a cost of $40 million as an example of the peaceful uses of nuclear power, Nixon proposed to consign the 11-year-old ship to mothballs "to satisfy higher priorities."

Nixon's decision would save about $4 million. But he can expect a fight from Congress. Former President Lyndon B. Johnson was rebuffed by Congress in his effort to bench the Savannah.

SOPHIA MUST PAY PAPA

PADUA, Italy (UPI) — A civil court order says Sophia Loren Friday to pay $11,250 for a prefabricated house given to her by a builder who went bankrupt. A lawsuit had been brought against Miss Loren and others who got such houses from the businessman, Livio Valentini. She threatened to bring a motion picture to give it to an orphanage.

Pope Paul Defends Priestly Celibacy As "Capital Law" Of Roman Catholic Church

By HARRY JAMES
VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI has defended priestly celibacy as a "capital law" of the Roman Catholic Church and ruled out discussion on proposals to change it.

In a statement Sunday at St. Peter's Square served as a rejection in advance for Cardinal Bernard J. Alfrink of Holland, who has pledged to ask the Pope in person to allow priests to marry.

To change the celibacy law, the Pope said, would be "a step back" which "would mean a lessening of that faithfulness of love and sacrifice" that sustains the ministry.

He said celibacy is "a capital law in our Latin church... to abandon it or put it into discussion cannot be done."

The law prohibits priests from marrying or having sex.

Rebellious Dutch priests and laymen voted in a meeting last month to endorse the idea of optional celibacy and Cardinal Alfrink promised to take the proposal directly to the Pope.

Paul acknowledged Sunday celibacy "is certainly a high and demanding standard" but argued that it enables the priest to dedicate himself completely and exclusively to the ministry.

"Yes, it is difficult," the pontiff said, "but it is exactly this characteristic which makes it attractive to the young and ardent soul. We must conserve it and defend it."

By remaining celibate, priests follow in the footsteps of the Disciples who abandoned everything to serve Christ, he said.

The address put the Dutch church in a dilemma—to toe the line on celibacy or fall into open disobedience. Last week, in an apparent warning to rebellious Catholics, the Pope said excommunication has not gone out of style.

Sunday he asked his audience to pray for him with the hope that celibacy becomes better understood by both clergy and laity so they both "esteem and venerate it."

Dental Tips

This is the second in a series of several articles on dental health cooperation by the Times-News, in collaboration with the South Central Idaho Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week.

"Even though my family goes to the dentist regularly, it seems that we all have some decay, especially the children. Isn't there some way we can prevent decay between dental visits?"

With modern techniques, most decay can be prevented. But this disease is mankind's most widespread health problem. It is estimated that more than 90 per cent of the people have decay.

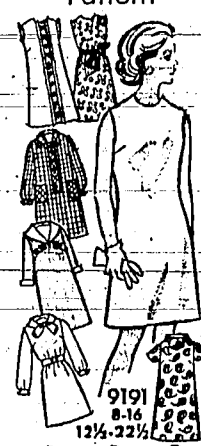

One of the most effective weapons against decay is dental caries. In fluoridation. Thousands of studies have confirmed that fluoridation effectively prevents up to 60 per cent of decay. Fluoridation at recommended levels is completely safe.

Dental scientists are working in several areas to develop more effective decay preventives. Oral bacteria are being studied to determine which specific bacteria are active in the acid-forming process. One day it may be possible to develop a vaccine to prevent caries. Other researchers are studying multiple uses of fluoride on the principle that a combination of procedures may increase fluoride's effectiveness.

Mouthpieces with fluoride concentrations, special toothpastes with high amounts of fluoride and the self-application of fluoride solutions are under study. Preliminary results of these studies indicate that multiple approaches may increase fluoride's ability to prevent decay. Scientists are studying an enzyme - dextranase - which appears to have a decay preventing quality. Dextran attacks a metabolic product of streptococci which are associated with caries. By effectively halting the formation of this product - dextran - it may be possible to break one line in the decay process and thus prevent at least slow-down decay. Studies in this area, of course, will continue for quite some time.

Basically, then, there are several methods of preventing decay or reducing the amount and severity. Fluoridation of the drinking water remains the most effective preventive yet known. Brushing the teeth immediately after eating and cutting down on sweets will also help prevent decay. Regular visits to the dentist will permit your dentist to treat any beginning decay before it becomes a serious problem.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I don't know when the smell of a man who has done an honest day's work went off my nose but I am from the old school and I have no intentions of changing.

I put in a good day's work, and naturally, I perspire, but that doesn't bother me. I shower every morning and I know I'm clean. At Christmastime I got some perfume and perfume oil that and a fancy kit with all kinds of deodorants from some people I work with. If that was supposed to be a hint, it didn't work. In Europe, real men don't use perfume and deodorants. They smell like MEN!

DEAR ALL: I think I've heard from some of your co-workers. A real "he-man" needn't smell like a flower garden, neither should he smell like a mountain goat. There are a many perfumers and perfume makers and specialists. If a "he-man" so pick up the scent and smell good, like a gentleman should.

DEAR ABBY: I read with an aching heart the letter from "TROUBLED" and I'm glad she is married to a homosexual. She has my heartfelt sympathy. I have lived in her situation for 20 years. The first 10 trying to make it work, and the second 10 in hell.

DEAR STRETCH: If, as you say, "a homosexual is a crippled personality" other ways than sex. This is not text book talk. I've been there.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from "MISTY" and I must share some advice an old widow gave me 26 years ago - just before my marriage. It went like this: "Never put anything ahead of your husband. If he wants you to go fishing, let him go. If he wants to dance around the table - dance! The dishes will wait, and the kids will love you more for making their father happy. I don't believe a marriage ever succeeded because the wife was first of all a good housekeeper."

Agent Reports Reasons For Better Eggs

GLENN'S FERRY - "Have you noticed that eggs are getting better in recent years?" says Marilyn Jordan, Elmore County extension home economist. Egg size and quality are on the upswing and have been for a number of years.

On a national scale, the quality of eggs—measured for freshness by yolk color and yolk and shell consistency—improved two per cent in the early sixties.

It was announced the monthly queens for the last quarter included Mrs. McKinster, October; Mrs. Lay, November, and Mrs. Lay and Mrs. Van Orden tied for the honors in December.

It was announced members would not be able to meet at the American Service Center. Meetings will be held temporarily at the home of Mrs. Dale Ford, 1530 Kimes Ave.

"You see, my dear, I always put a clean house first. Then one day my husband died suddenly of a heart attack. Now I have plenty of time. But for what?"

She concluded her advice by saying that the day her husband died he had asked her to go fishing with him, but she had said, "No, it's Monday, and that's washday."

DEAR ABBY: Sound advice! I'll pass it along to "Mrs. Clean" to keep her husband from heading for the "back alley" in search of romance.

PAUL - Pamela Grant was recently crowned queen for the year 1969 by members of the TOPS Pamper Club. She was presented a trophy by Mrs. Lola Patton, club president.

Mrs. Arveta Savage was crowned queen of the week with a 6 pound loss and was presented a gift. Mrs. Thelma White was named queen for the first meeting in January with a 3 1/2 pound loss and presented a gift. Mrs. Savage was welcomed as a new member.

The club recorded a 22 pound loss and 15 gained. Members voted to conduct a contest with the TOPS Tips for the Weight Club, Heyburn, for a four-week period. Another contest was voted to be held between club members with the losing team presenting a letter to the club.

Mrs. Brenda Knight led singing and Mrs. Joy Young led the pledge. Mrs. Lavern Farnsworth won the special prize. A low calorie salad-plate lunch was served after the meeting.

JEROME - Ten Junior Girl Scouts received their Girl Scout pins and world association pins at rededication ceremonies held at the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Mary Rose's Cadette troop helped with the rededication ceremonies. Girls who received their pins include: Marlene Arbaugh, Laura Atwood, Shelley Baisch, Laura Bell, Juna Bragg, Michele Bragg, Michele Fritzer, Theresa McLean, Brenda Stroud and Phyllis Ward.

DECE - Ed Schwaegler, Declo, was guest of honor at a dinner party hosted by his wife. The guests played games and traveling pinocle, with Ernie Dayley and Mrs. Hazel Schwaegler receiving the high prizes. Low prize winners were Don Schwaegler and Helen Dayley.

During the evening the Schwaeglers showed slides of their recent trip to Florida. The wife was first of all a good housekeeper.

Are eggs smaller these days? Not so. Sometimes people who remember the "good old days" say eggs don't cover as much area. That's right. And it's an improvement - a sign of freshness. A fresh egg has a thick white that stands tall around the yolk. With age, the white spreads more.

Luncheon, Tour Held By JOC

GLENN'S FERRY - Mrs. Beatrice Luginer hosted the JOC Club in her home recently, with a covered dish luncheon, followed by a tour of her newly-remodeled home.

Starting with a small and old house, Bea has been working on it for years, remodeling and enlarging into a well-arranged, spacious dwelling decorated with her own collection.

Mrs. Vaughn Spangler presented the program on "The 60's". The Feb. 10 meeting is with Mrs. George Withers. Mrs. Ben Taylor will present the program.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks advanced through mid-session Monday following comment by President Nixon over the weekend that "time has arrived for some easing in monetary restraint." Trading was brisk.

Electronics were among the strongest features, paced by IBM with a gain of 5 1/2. Texas Instruments and National Cash Register ranged about 2 to 3 higher, while Litton, Memorex, Honeywell and Sperry Rand rose 1 or more.

Other strong spots included Great Northern, American Telephone & Telegraph, Xerox 1 1/2, Avon Products 3/4, Wall Disney 3/4 and Johnson & Johnson 3/4.

Chrysler, the most active issue, however, fell more than 3. The car maker posted a loss for the fourth quarter and a big drop in profit for all of 1969.

Near 1:15 p.m., the UPI market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, showed a gain of 0.83 per cent on 150 issues on the New York Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chip stocks picked up 3.80 at 747.95.

A three-hour turnover of 8,740,000 shares compared with 8,170,000 shares at a comparable period on Friday.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—In the slow-down in the economy, how can I invest in common stocks to show up in the next few months, presumably hoping for a psychological advantage.

A—Leading indicators are just now showing a definitive slowing trend, and there is still debate as to the extent of the slowdown. Many industries are slow to reflect economic turns since orders are placed six months or more in advance of shipping. Once started, an economic trend snowballs; brakes applied now will not be fully effective for at least six months.

Q—I am now employed by a supermarket which is owned by Cook United. Can you send me information on this chain for possible investment? —R.S.

A—Some 60 conventional supermarkets and 14 discount outlets account for about 48 percent of Cook United's sales. General merchandise sold through a distinct department store contribute an additional 43 percent. Wholesale operations and home service account for the remaining portion of sales.

Planned acquisition of a drug chain and two wholesalers, if completed, would give a substantial boost to 1970 volume. Sales and earnings for 1969 were estimated at $50 million and $2.45 a share respectively, both gains over 1968 results. A meat-processing plant is scheduled to become operative this year. The multiple commanded by these shares, while high relative to other retailers, reflects growth both in the past and anticipated for the future. Shares have promise for long-term portfolios.

President To 'Weed Out' Useless Item

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has embarked on an effort to weed out federal programs that are outmoded, ineffective or poorly designed.

He told Congress today his budget for the new fiscal year reflects savings of $2.2 billion from eliminating or cutting back such "uneconomic" federal activities.

For example, he said, the nation's stockpile of strategic commodities has been built up to a point far in excess of foreseeable needs. He proposed to sell $750 million worth of stockpiled materials in fiscal 1971.

U.S. Budget Parallels Production

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The federal budget for the past 10 years has consistently averaged about one-fifth of the nation's total output of goods and services.

President Nixon maintained that proportion in the fiscal 1971 budget which he sent to Congress today. Federal expenditures of $208.8 billion would amount to about 20 per cent of an estimated Gross National Product (GNP) of $980 billion.

The proportion also was 20 per cent in fiscal 1970. It reached a low point of 17 per cent in 1956, and a high of 22 per cent in 1963, but usually has remained within a range of 19 to 21 per cent of the GNP.

Budget Asks $200 Billion In Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's fiscal 1971 budget at a glance:

Outlays—A record $200.8 billion, up $2.9 billion from current year.

Income—$202.1 billion, provided Congress approves Nixon proposals to extend auto and telephone excise taxes, and raise Social Security taxes for persons earning over $7,800 a year.

Surplus—$1.3 billion including the proposed revenue increases. Without the increases in income and without higher postal rates sought by Nixon, there would be a deficit of $1.2 billion.

Minority Leader Says Samuelson Vetoes Drug Plea

BOISE (UPI)—Minority leader John Evans, D-Malad, said Saturday that Gov. Don Samuelson has "withdrawn his request" to transfer narcotics and drug control from the State Board of Pharmacy.

Evans, rising on a point of personal privilege in the Senate, said that the law enforcement department has "formed a special narcotics investigation team" to compete with the pharmacy board's investigations.

He said, "The 1969 Legislature did not authorize the governor's department of law enforcement to undertake any of these narcotics investigations. Instead, we gave our support to the board of pharmacy."

Evans added, "The duplication of efforts by the unauthorized department is a great waste of the taxpayers' money and which never has been allowed to occur."

EXTRA CHANCE WORTH EXTRA RISK

Oswald: "Sometimes the beginner will do better than an average player."

Jim: "Let's see how a beginner might play today's hand. He would win the spade lead and go right after clubs. Since he wouldn't know about finesses his ace of clubs would drop West's queen and our beginner would wind up with nine tricks."

Oswald: "The beginner might not reach game but the expert would with 18 high-card points and a five-card suit. He would be a trifle too strong for a one no-trump opening but he would rebound in no-trump and get to game. He would duck the first spade but win the continuation. Then he would play his ace and king of clubs in order to see if the queen would drop. It would drop and he would play on and hope to find some way to collect over the top."

Jim: "This would be an example of expert rubber bridge technique. Expert South would be trying every way to make his contract. He would still have the diamond finesse left as an extra play in case the club queen failed to drop."

Oswald: "A player who started by trying the diamond finesse would be giving up the extra chance of picking up a doubleton queen of clubs while a player who tried the club finesse first would be giving up the chance of finding West with the king of diamonds."

Jim: "Of course the expert would go down two tricks instead of one in case the queen of clubs didn't drop but the extra chance for the contract is well-worth that extra risk."

Deploying Of Land Missiles Sought By President Nixon

By DARRELL GARWOOD
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon proposed in the new defense budget today the first deployment of land-based intercontinental missiles capable of carrying clusters of nuclear warheads that could be guided separately to different enemy targets.

During the fiscal year beginning July 1, the budget also would reduce U.S. military strength by an additional 252,000 men, and stop purchases of the controversial F111 fighter plane.

The overall budget for national defense calls for spending of $73.6 billion, down $5.8 billion from the current fiscal year. This includes certain military aid to foreign countries, atomic energy and defense-related activities such as selective conscription.

Nixon explained that the reason for this was the need to "maintain the security" of the administration plan for winding down the war, including troop withdrawals.

The authorized U.S. troop strength in Vietnam was ordered cut by Nixon by 115,500 as of April 15. He said in his budget proposal that he expects to make further reductions "in the future" but that "U.S. actions depend upon the actions of the other side in Vietnam and on the battlefield, as well as on progress in Vietnamization."

In contrast to lack of specifics on Vietnam spending, the administration went into more detail in the strategic nuclear field than is usually considered necessary. The objective was to make clear that it was rejecting apprehensions that deployment of multiple warhead missiles might impede U.S.-Soviet talks on arms control.

The budget for the year beginning July 1 provides funds for 300,000-man, cut in military forces—to 2.9 million by mid-1971—would be on top of a 300,000-man reduction to be completed before July 1.

The budget's absence of funds for the troubled-planned F111 killed an Air Force hope that 40 more would be purchased to complete a fourth 72-plane wing.

Instead, an unspecified additional number of A7-1 fighters will be purchased. The A7-1 is a subsonic jet, capable of carrying 15,000 pounds of bombs and rockets. It is made by Ling-Temco-Vought of Dallas, Tex. at a fraction of the cost of the $9.1 million F111.

MEET RETURNS
NEW YORK (UPI)—The National AAU—Indoor track New York after a four year absence, will be staged Feb. 27 at Madison Square Garden with men's and women's competition held concurrently.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon said today federal aid programs to disadvantaged school children have fallen short of their goals. He promised that new approaches would be tried.

In his budget message to Congress, Nixon also proposed a $7 million cut in "impacted area" school aid to $340 million and asked that an 80-year-old aid program for land grant colleges be ended.

Nixon asked for a total education budget of $5.39 billion.

Under the impacted aid program, funds are granted to school systems whose revenue is affected by the presence of non-tax paying federal property.

As he did in vetoing a health-education bill last week, Nixon called the present system outdated and said he would propose legislation to concentrate the aid in districts where the impact is the greatest.

Nixon also proposed that the government end a $22 million annual grant to land grant colleges under the Second Morrill Act of 1900.

"Such funds are a relatively minor source of revenue for these institutions, which collect the most prestigious institutions of higher education in the nation," he said.

Nixon said federal aid to programs for disadvantaged school children, such as Head Start, were not producing results.

Of pre-school education programs, he said, "recent evaluations of federal programs in this area failed to show lasting developmental gains. Consequently, more emphasis will be placed on systematically testing a variety of approaches to aid pre-school children."

Nixon asked for $327 million for early child development programs, a $3 million increase.

LAGOS (UPI)—The Nigerian government has expelled a U.S. Army colonel who was the representative of President Nixon's special envoy on operations into the former Biafran enclave.

No explanation for the ouster of Eugene Dewey of Hendersonville, N.C., was given beyond a government statement to the U.S. Embassy that "his presence in Nigeria at this time is inappropriate."

Dewey was the representative of C. Clyde Bergenson Jr., Nixon's special envoy on relief operations. He has made several trips into former Biafran territory since the rebel state fell three weeks ago.

According to informants, Dewey was the U.S. official who smuggled a note to the American Embassy two weeks ago from correspondents held in Port Harcourt after their first visit to the war zone.

Travelers returning from Port Harcourt said today Nigerian authorities have detained almost all the 75 Roman Catholic priests and nuns who remained in Biafra until surrendered.

No announcement was made about their fate but it was expected they would face illegal immigration charges under which three other Catholic priests have been jailed for six months.

Diplomatic sources in Lagos said a four-nation military observer team had noted a great improvement in both the behavior of federal troops and in the food situation. In the former, reports said after a three day trip into the area.

The Nigerian Red Cross said it has increased the number of its food and distribution centers and is moving truckloads of corn, soy and meal into them from stockpiles around the central eastern state.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nearly half of the new federal budget—$9.9 billion—will go to meet the cost of past, present and possible future wars.

The total includes $7.5 billion for current national defense; $8.5 billion for veterans benefits, and $1.7 billion in interest on the national debt, which was run up largely because of war costs.

A TWIN FAIRS CADET, Sgt. Byron Barlow, center, has his second lieutenant bars pinned on by his wife, Jeanne, and brother, Barry, both of Twin Falls, Lt. Barlow, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert D. Barlow, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army at ceremonies at the University of Idaho recently, along with 14 other Army cadets. Lt. Barlow has received a Bachelor of Science degree in Political Science, and will receive his Master's degree in Business Administration on May 31 from the University.

2-Vehicle Crash Claims Eight Lives

MCEWEN, Tenn. (UPI)—Eight persons were killed and seven others injured Sunday night when a car and a pickup truck collided head-on in a driving rain on U.S. 70 about one and one-half miles east of here.

State Trooper Guy Barnett said he quoted a witness as saying the car and passed several other cars and was on the wrong side of the center line when the vehicles collided on a hill on a two-lane stretch of highway. He said witnesses estimated the car's speed at 80-90 miles per hour.

The impact knocked the vehicles off separate sides of the highway down eight-foot embankments and ripped the bed from the pickup truck. The occupants of the car were pinned in the wreckage, Barnett said.

Postal Hike Advocated By President

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon asked Congress today to increase the cost of mailing a letter from $1.54 to $1.60, a 4 percent hike, to bring the postal service within a hairbreadth of self-sufficiency and help him balance the budget.

Nixon's budget proposals included a taxpayer outlay of $382 million for the biggest postal system in the world. But to accomplish that, he will have to wring from Congress a mail rate increase that lawmakers may be reluctant to grant in an election year.

Nixon said he was counting on enactment of his budget to generate $674 million to help him end fiscal 1971 with a $1.3 billion surplus.

He said the increases in the cost of postage stamps as well as other postal rates would be a net gain of $1.3 billion during the year to $7.7 billion—nearly enough to cover the estimated $8 billion it will take to keep the mail moving.

The deficit would be roughly a fourth of what the taxpayers would have to pay up this year and would point the Post Office Department toward the goal structure that could be turned into a going private enterprise.

The President gave scant attention to the postal corporation's financial situation in his budget message, simply repeating his plan to turn the department over to a government-supervised private corporation.

THE NEW GOLD BARS of a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps are pinned on Michael J. Cryder by his wife Linda. Lt. Cryder is the son of Oris D. Cryder of 1528 Seventh Ave., E. # President Nixon Urges Boost In Drive To Curb Hunger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon proposed today a $782 million increase for the government's campaign to wipe out hunger in America.

The Agriculture Department budget calls for a boost in food program funds from $1.54 billion in the current fiscal year to more than $2.32 billion in the 1971 fiscal year beginning July 1.

The plan includes a proposed new food stamp allocation of $1.25 billion—more than double the current level—along with other increases for needy children.

Despite these and other federal programs for agricultural and rural areas being "re-directed to meet today's needs" for greater emphasis on rural development and for new types of farm support programs.

Administration programs will include a new farm bill to control surpluses while giving farmers more freedom of choice in the budget document said. The administration's bill has been drafted and is awaiting final White House review but its provisions would have little fiscal effect until the spending year starting in mid-1971.

Spending on farm and farm-related programs would increase $377 million over the current fiscal year. Outlays for price support and related programs was estimated at about $4.5 billion, basically unchanged from the current year.

Murderer Of Parents May Get Estate

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI)—Russell Payne, 25, serving a 40-year prison sentence after pleading guilty to manslaughter charges in the deaths of his parents, appears to be one of two direct heirs to the estate of his late parents, Dr. and Mrs. Martin W. Payne.

A hearing on the will of the Paynes has been set for Feb. 19 in Teton County Dist. Court. In his will, Dr. Payne appointed the First National Bank of Nevada as trustee of his estate and named his wife, Emalyne, his mother, Marie A. Payne, and his son Russell, as sole heirs.

In the event that the only survivor would be his son, Dr. Payne ordered that his entire estate go to him at the age of 30.

The two wills were drawn up by the law firm of Singleton, Beckley, De Lanoy, Jemison and Reid of Las Vegas. The wills were signed by the Paynes on April 13, 1966 and filed in Teton County Dist. Court Aug. 6, 1969.

Two lawyers of the firm, Rex Jemison and Harry Reid, acted as defense counsel for Russell Payne in the manslaughter trial.

Interest On National Debt Skyrockets

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American taxpayers will pay $17.8 billion in interest charges on the national debt this next year—nearly twice the entire federal spending total of 1940.

But President Nixon held out hope today that interest rates for both the average taxpayer and the government will come down.

"The budget assumes that in 1971, a somewhat lower level of interest rates will result from a less inflationary economy," Nixon said.

MAKES OFFER
NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Marvin Goldberger, manager of Oscar Bonaville, said Sunday that Madison Square Garden promoter Teddy Branner had offered the former South American heavyweight champion $35,000 to fight Jerry Quarry early in March.

HEALTH — Federal outlays for health would reach almost $15 billion, up $1.7 billion from 1969. This increase would be offset by a decrease of $1.7 billion in other areas.

HEW Official Egeberg Strikes Many As One Who Doesn't Mind 'Blowing His Cool'

By CRAIG PALMER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A little red fire hydrant sits on the desk of the Assistant Secretary for Health and Scientific Affairs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.
It reminds him of the days he was dean of the University of Southern California Medical School.
"A dean is supposed to be to the faculty, students and administration what a fire hydrant is to a dog," said Dr. Roger D. Egeberg, who came to Washington as second choice for the government's top health job.
Now that he has been in the capital for awhile he describes himself as "a bluffer fire hydrant. I can see it coming."
While sought after by the ladies as a conversationalist, the 66-year-old doctor also impresses the men who have employed him. That included Gen. Douglas MacArthur during World War II.

Egeberg was MacArthur's personal physician, and he quotes the general as saying that Egeberg had three qualities: "Loyalty, courage and a modicum of good sense. He complimented me for having them in that order."
Egeberg is a bearish man (six-foot-four and about 340 pounds) who slaps backs vigorously and bristles when he's mad. Unlike most Washington bureaucrats who figure the deadliest sin is losing their cool, Egeberg is known to lose his cool.
He was caught in a minor racial confrontation recently that left him boiling for days and to upset a biracial group of health officials that some protested to HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch about the doctor's behavior.
"What he has got to learn is that this big stick approach doesn't work any more with black people," said Dr. David French, chairman of the Department of Community

Medicine at Boston University. But Egeberg also has empathy. He recently consoled a staff reporter who cursed bitterly when she missed a chance to interview him. He threw his arm roughly around her shoulders and said, "Come on, honey. You can ride to the airport with me."
But the characteristic he has relied on most in the national health care crisis is candor. "During five and a half months of this administration there was nobody really in my position to help fight for the medical end of the budget," he told UPI.
"So I think we kind of lost out in the early part of the budget... the Knowles thing, absence of somebody (in charge) during that period was harmful to us, and I don't see how you can deny that."
"But it also highlighted the importance of the problem and made people aware of the potential, the impact and the problems of the health care aspect of the federal government, as they never have been before."

Egeberg wasn't supposed to get the job in the first place. It was reserved for John H. Knowles, Boston hospital administrator and Finch's first choice. But the HEW secretary couldn't muster the support he needed and Finch conceded defeat on June 27.
One of the first major problems to confront Egeberg was the furor over administration cuts in health research.
It was embarrassing for the doctor to have to go before the Washington press corps Sept. 12 and defend the cutbacks as "necessary," while expressing regrets and pointing out that they were not as great as anticipated.
In fact, he said later, he fears the cuts may slow momentum in the research field.
"My fear would be that if, because of inadequate money, we discouraged young people from coming into research and caused some of those who have come into research to go over to something else—practice or administration—we might lose five or eight or ten years of momentum—in our terrific forward march in research."

National Institutes of Health officials say this is happening already.
"Young people are going to find it tough," said Dr. R.W. Berlin, deputy director for science at the institutes. "One of the major hazards of this is that people are not going to continue thinking of medical research as a career."
Finch tried to allay those fears in a Nov. 18 speech at the health institutes' campus.
"The over-all momentum of our research must and will be maintained," he said.
Egeberg's scorecard of successes is not a happy one. But the toughest health professionals in Washington say, to a man, he needs more time. It is too early to judge him.
This is true, for example, of the American Medical Association which said on the day his nomination was announced: "We believe Dr. Egeberg will be able to bring about the necessary close coordination between government and private sectors in the health care system."
Egeberg, who is known to carp about "budget clerks" whose decisions make policy,

Nixon Asks Congress To Increase Total Takeout To Pay Social Security Expenses

By MICHAEL L. POSNER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon asked Congress today to raise Social Security taxes by as much as $62.40 a year for one in every five American workers. But he dropped an earlier plan to the future benefits to the cost of living.
There were few revenue-raising surprises in his fiscal 1971 budget. Included were requests for more Social Security taxes, another try for transportation user charges and a speed up in tax collections.
He suggests he may be making an impact on those decisions.
"I think there is some evidence we may be making some inroads," he said.
Asked for examples, he replied, "I can't, because these refer to next year's budget."
When President Nixon takes the wraps off his spending plan next month, Egeberg watchers will have a better yardstick to measure his impact.

Total Social Security taxes, unemployment insurance taxes and related payroll taxes are expected to rise to a record $19.1 billion in fiscal 1971, higher than the expected $15 billion in corporate taxes and second only to the expected $31 billion the treasury should get from personal income taxes.
Nixon would let the 5 per cent surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes expire on schedule June 30, 1970.
If Congress goes along, Nixon plans to raise $200 million by increasing to $300 the amount of wages on which a person and his employer would pay Social Security taxes. The present ceiling is $7,800.
For many people, the higher tax — as much as $62.40 a year over the current schedule of Social Security taxes for people earning $9,000 or more — would eat up tax reductions they are due under revisions voted in the tax reform bill.
Experts said about a fifth of the nation's work force would be affected by the Social Security tax plan. The present maximum collection for Social Security and Medicare is $74.40. Under the present schedule, the maximum goes to $105.60 starting next Jan. 1, without need for congressional approval. Nixon's plan would boost the maximum to $48.

He dropped without mention, however, his earlier proposal that Congress let future Social Security benefits for 25 million people to rising living costs. He makes no mention of his plan, and includes no proposed outlays for implementing it — one of his campaign promises.
He renewed, however, requests for other Social Security revisions — now under consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee — together with welfare reforms. These include increasing widows' benefits and liberalizing the ceiling on outside income before retirement benefits are reduced.
