Arab Jets Hit Foes In Sinai

By United Press International
Egyptian jets attacked Israeli positions in the Sinai peninsula Saturday as leaders of five militant Arab nations gathered in Cairo to draw up strategy to deal with what Egyptian officials called the most serious Middle East situation since the 1967 war.

GOV. DON SAMUELSON SPOKE at the opening banquet of the Northwest Regional Management conference of the Junior Achievement and here he talks business with Jan Helms, center, host Junior Achievement, and Twin Falls Mayor Frank Feldman, on the right. More than 500 students from Idaho, Montana and Washington are attending the conference, which ended today with a special awards breakfast.

A Cairo military spokesman said Egyptian fighter-bombers raided Israeli positions on the northern sector of the Suez. He said the jets ranged over the El Cap to El Tina regions of the canal, in a series of raids without loss to Egyptian planes. The air attacks were flown Friday before President Gamal Abdel Nasser convened the Cairo meeting and apparently aimed at supporting Egypt's position at the talks.

The Cairo meeting was a leading Egyptian columnist said the Soviets would give Arab nations the latest MIG21 jet fighters if President Nasser decided to supply Israel with more Phantom jets.

The columnist Hasan Abdel Fattah, writing in the mass circulation Akhbar El Yousri, ruled out the possibility of Soviet military intervention in the Middle East conflict.

Nasser played host at the strategy meeting to Yahya El-Bassiri, president of Syria's revolutionary command council; Nouruddin Al-Atassi, Syrian chief of state and premier; Lt. Gen. Salah Mahdi Ammash, Iraq's interior minister, and King Hussein of Jordan.

The conference was expected to last three days and he devoted to the deteriorating military situation against Israel, although related political developments would also be discussed.

Nasser is expected to tell the conference Egypt would continue to sign no peace, sea and land attacks on Israel even while preparing to absorb even heavier retaliation raids which he said have reached the outskirts of Cairo.

Ida Gem Dairymen Slate Confab

By Associated Press
JEROME — The 35th annual meeting of Idaho Gem Dairymen, Inc. will be held Thursday in the state auditorium. R. Lyons Smith, general manager, announced Saturday.

Top speakers for the event, which opens with a noon luncheon, will be James P. George, U.S. Dairy Council, and general manager of the California Cream and Butter Association, and Albert Jantzeck, Walla Walla, Wash., certified public accountant.

Four directors will be elected at the meeting. Nominations previously selected in local districts, include Joe Stuber, Minidoka district; Jack Nelson, Jerome; Cal Grabenick, Buhl, and Bill Darrington, Cassia, to fill an unexpired term.

Mr. Nelson and Mr. Graybill are incumbents. J. P. Edwards, Boise, president of the association, will preside.

Mr. Smith will give his annual report and other speakers slated are Dean Christiansen, Boise, director of dairying in Idaho for the state's Department of Agriculture, and Joe Hall, Boise, administrator of Idaho Dairy Products Commission.

Rogers Travels To Africa

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers Saturday began a swing through 10 African nations during which he hopes to obtain information for President Nixon's use in formulating a "new policy" for that restless continent.

Rogers' first stop was Morocco, where he was scheduled to confer with King Hassan and other officials at the capital city of Rabat today and Monday. Other countries on Rogers' itinerary are Tunisia, Ethiopia, Kenya, Zambia, the Congo, Cameroon, Nigeria, Ghana and Liberia.

Nixon gave a White House breakfast for Rogers, his wife and 12 state department officials before they left Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

"This trip indicates the enormous importance of Africa — its 350 million people and the 43 countries — to the future of the world, its peace, its prosperity," the President said.

Solons Find Hospital In 'Bad-Shape'

By Associated Press
BOISE (UPI) — Members of the Joint Finance Appropriation Committee said Saturday they found a "discouraged and depressed staff" at State Hospital South at Blackfoot but generally good conditions at shelter homes in the area.

Committee members reported to the Senate and House on their unannounced investigation trip.

One group of the committee inspected the hospital and nursing home at Darlington and the other inspected the Child Development Center and Regional Mental Health Center at Idaho Falls.

Mr. Lehmann died at about 2 a.m. when the car in which he was riding coasted back westward and went off the west side of the Deep Creek bridge five miles north of Buhl on the Mellon Valley Road.

James A. Fritz, 21, Buhl, driver of the car, told State Policeman Frank Mogensen he lost his brakes when the car rolled on the way up the hill. The car apparently rolled back to wards and off the bridge and landed on its top. The coroner cited Mr. Lehmann died by "throwing."

Governor Commends Idaho 'Achievers'

Speaking as one businessman to another, Idaho Gov. Don Samuelson praised Junior Achievement members attending the Northwest Regional Management conference at the Holiday Inn and predicted growth of the youth companies would be greater in the years to come.

"You advance a splendid cause and perform a public service that can never be repaid," he told the more than 500 attendees from Idaho, Washington and Montana.

Master of ceremonies was Jon Helms, Junior Achievement, and a guest speaker was Twin Falls Mayor Frank Feldman, Chamber of Commerce President Holly Houtburg and Chamber manager Ray Rostron.

Junior Achievement, which is an organization that teaches students how to organize, operate and manage businesses, is 50 years old.

Wendell Man Dies As Car Leaves Road

An inquest into the death of Martin K. Lehmann, 21, Route 2, Wendell, who died early Saturday morning in a one-car accident, has been called by County Coroner.

Mr. Lehmann died at about 2 a.m. when the car in which he was riding coasted back westward and went off the west side of the Deep Creek bridge five miles north of Buhl on the Mellon Valley Road.

James A. Fritz, 21, Buhl, driver of the car, told State Police- man Frank Mogensen he lost his brakes when the car rolled on the way up the hill. The car apparently rolled back to wards and off the bridge and landed on its top. The coroner cited Mr. Lehmann died by "throwing."

The other occupants of the car, Pat Huley, 17, and Lynn Huley, 18, all Buhl, were taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released.

Mr. Fritz was listed in satisfactory condition Saturday night at the hospital. He received an arm injury. They were taken to the hospital by the Buhl ambulance.

Revolt!

By Associated Press
PORT WORTH (UPI) — Eugene A. Watson, charged with throwing a tomstone through the plate glass door of a movie house that was showing "adult" films, can get out of jail on bond but not until he sees a psychiatrist Monday.

Watson was charged with destruction of private property under 350, a misdemeanor. The penalty is a maximum $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Watson threw the tomstone through the plate glass window of the Hollywood Theater Thursday night.

"The X-rated films are advocating free sex between unmarried people," he said. "I feel that has a bad effect on society."

House Bill Takes Scars From Mining

By Associated Press
BOISE (UPI) — White Gov. Don Samuelson kept the legislature guessing about a possible veto of the tax limitation Saturday as the House approved Saturday a bill to take some scars out of mining claims.

By a vote of 39-0 the House approved and sent to the Senate a measure repealing present provisions, which require that a shaft be sunk on new mining claims or that in lieu of this open cuts or drill holes be made.

Rep. Helen McKinley, R-Salmon, floor sponsor of the measure, said the bill was long overdue. She pointed out that the "seriousness of these discovery cuts was brought to light in the White Clouds area."

Chairman Of Democrats Resigns Post

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats started celebrating Saturday for a neutral technician to take command of the party's cluttered affairs, erase its whopping $9 million debt and preserve its majorities in the House and Senate.

The Democratic national chairmanship was left vacant when Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okl., announced Friday he was resigning to free himself from the "constraints" of the office.

Most frequently mentioned as his successor was Larry O'Brien of Massachusetts, who resigned the chairmanship last year after guiding Hubert H. Humphrey's unsuccessful campaign for the presidency.

Richard J. Hughes, the former governor of New Jersey, also is being discussed although some party leaders think he is better to stay in New Jersey for Humphrey last year puts him under a cloud.

Laura Vincent Is Crowned Idaho's 1970 Junior Miss

MOSCOW—Filler's Laura Vincent, a pretty blonde with an athletic figure and a winning smile at the plump, walked off with honors here Saturday night and became the 1970 Junior Miss of Idaho.

Mrs. Vincent, tears of joy sparkling down her face, accepted the crown of her new title with "appreciation for everyone who helped make it all possible." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vincent.

Filler, and is a senior at Piller High School. She went to the pageant at the Twin Falls Junior Miss.

In addition to her talented piano playing, she is active in sports and likes to swim and ride horses.

Thursday night she won the physical fitness and creative and performing arts divisions on the pageant, and Friday got her third honor of the week-long pageant by taking top honors in the poise and appearance division.

Competing against Miss Vincent were 25 high school seniors from throughout Idaho. All were named Junior Misses at individual pageants last year.

Maggie Valley's two other Junior Misses to attend the pageant are Marilyn Varin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Varin, Gooding, the Gooding Junior Miss, and Susie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson, Holey, the Blaine County Junior Miss.

Miss Vincent is now eligible to enter national competition in Atlanta later this year.

Miss Varin was fourth runner up in the final judging Saturday night.

First runner up was Nancy Yarnall, Naupau, and a tie for first in the scholastic division. Second runner up was Rhonda Hanson, Shelley, and third runner up was Noleen Park, Sugar City.

Miss Congeniality was Kirsten Ileria of Lewiston.

The pageant was held on the University of Idaho campus before a crowd of 2,000.

5 Children Die In House Blaze

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—A fire which apparently started from a heater put out a Tampa home Saturday, burning to death five small children.

The victims were Philip Holt, 6, Patrick Holt, 7, Daryl Gillette, 4, Vicki Gillette, 5, and Terry Reese, 4. The Reese children was visiting the other youngsters.

The children's parents were hospitalized for shock and minor cuts and burns.

Religious Riots Start In Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Rival mobs of Catholic civil rights demonstrators and militant Protestants rained the streets of Belfast in defiance of the law Saturday, kept apart by phalanxes of police who feared full-scale religious riots.

British troops equipped with automatic weapons and tear gas massed in the side streets as reserves. But policemen armed only with billy clubs and ice restraint kept the hooping, jeering mobs at least shouting distance apart all day long.

Civil rights advocates supported by militant Roman Catholics staged outdoor rallies in 10 cities or towns across the province in direct challenge to a new public order law.

Protestants took up clubs and went out to meet them in some of the towns, but no serious trouble was reported.

The new law, which took effect earlier this week, strengthened police powers to curb street demonstrations. It specifically prohibited public displays of religious symbols and counter-demonstrations.

Civil rights and many members of the province's Catholic minority saw the bill as aimed against basic rights of housing and political power. They swarmed into Belfast's streets right on signal with the Protestants to break the new law.

Car Torn In Half When Hit By Train

RUPERT — A stalled car and an approaching train usually spell disaster, but fast action on the part of four members of a Rupert family got them out of their vehicle before it was torn in two by a United Pacific passenger train Saturday morning.

The train tragedy occurred at 8:50 a.m. Saturday on the crossing at 400 East Road about 11 miles north of Rupert.

Driver of the 1964 Dodge, Charlene West, 20, Route 3, Rupert; her mother, Mrs. Martha West, 42, and Dennis West, 13, and Shawn West, 11, all got safely out of the auto before it was struck by the train approaching from the east.

State Patrolman Gordon Mills, investigating officer, reported R. A. Cox, Pocatello, engineer, told him he saw the car on the tracks about a quarter of a mile away and pulled the emergency air brakes. The train was traveling an estimated 70 miles per hour at the time of impact.

The car was broken into two sections, with the passenger compartment being hurled 54 feet in one direction while the motor and front end went 213 feet in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Winchell Dies
PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held here Monday for Mrs. June M. Winchell, 64, wife of retired newspaper and radio columnist Walter Winchell.

Burley's First Prayer Breakfast Draws Leaders

BURLEY — Burley's first prayer breakfast was held Sunday morning at the Ponderosa Inn with Mayor Garis Robertson, city councilmen and their wives as honored guests. Telephone greetings were received from Gov. Don Samuelson during the breakfast.

Some 85 persons attended to hear brief speeches from clergymen from several denominations, all stressing the importance of the spiritual aspects of life in America.

Rev. Warren Seicher, Christian Church minister, spoke on the relationship between church and state and Ernest Blauer, second counselor in the Burley LDS Stake, discussed the strength which military leaders derive through prayer.

Bill Kniffedge, missionary for the First Baptist church, spoke on religion as being one of the unguisings of liberty and invited guidance from the scriptures on the separation of church and state, using the title of "A Free Church in a Free State."

Rev. Donald Becker, Zion Lutheran Church, was master of ceremonies and invocations were offered by Rev. George T. P. Haight, United Methodist Church.

Rev. John Pickrell, Burley Presbyterian pastor, in offering the closing prayer noted that in Scotland there is served in a pulpit exchange last summer, city government leaders are assigned certain powers in the state church.

The prayer breakfast, patterned after the President's and Governor's breakfasts, was sponsored by the Burley Citizens, of which Stovs Porsch is president.

Dale Neheler was general chairman of arrangements, assisted by Jerry Lawson. Cur Jackson sang a solo.

Petition In Dillon Case Is Filed

JEROME - A petition to release convicted murderer Michael Dillon, 30, from the Jerome County Jail, on his own recognizance, has been filed in Third District Court here.

Dillon was convicted two years ago of murdering Alta Sherry, Jerome. He was sentenced to 20 years in prison, but the conviction has been appealed. The case might be heard before the Idaho Supreme Court in March.

The defendant is being held in jail in lieu of $10,000 bond. It was learned if he is not released on his own recognizance a request will be entered to lower the bond to $1,000.

Vandals Caught By City Police

Twin Falls police cleared at least one case of vandalism with the arrest of two boys, ages 15 and 16.

In the past two weeks there have been several incidents of lights and windows being broken. Thursday night a city officer was driving on Ninth Avenue East when a street light near him flashed and went out. The officer observed two subjects in the middle of the street near the light pole and took the two boys into custody.

A BB gun was taken from the youths, officers said.

Albion To Participate In Ownership Of New Power Plant

ALBION — The City of Albion Council has approved a resolution that will assure the city a participating role in the ownership of the new power plant.

All council members voted to join approximately 100 other consumer-owned electric utilities in the Northwest in the construction and operation of a 1,100,000 kilowatt nuclear power generating plant to be located on the Washington Coast.

O'Deen Redman, Albion mayor, stated the council's action will assure the city a large portion of its future power supply. The city has operated a municipally owned power system since 1918. Albion purchases its total power requirements from the Bonneville Power Administration.

"Participation in the ownership of the nuclear power project will not require any capital outlay by the city," Mayor Redman reported. "One portion of the annual cost of the facility will be subtracted from our monthly Bonneville Power Administration bill and submitted to the project operating entity."

The Washington Public Power Supply System, operator of the new production power generating reactor at Hanford, Wash., has been selected by the participating utilities to coordinate construction of and operate the proposed nuclear power plant. The plant is scheduled for operation in 1978.

Mayor Redman said the proposed nuclear power complex is one of seven thermal (steam) power generating facilities included in a 10 year program to provide the future power supply for the Northwest.

"Four private power companies, 104 publicly-owned utilities like ours, and BPA have gotten together and developed this program which is known as the Hydro Thermal Accord. Selection of suitable sites for major hydro electric dams and

Personal OPINION

QUESTION
"What do you feel is in the future for Albion and old State Normal School facility?"

LOCATION
Interviews were taken at Arnold's Market, now D. L. Evans and Co. Bank, Annie Laurie Inn, City of Albion Clerk's office and Tremayne's Service Station, all in Albion.

ANSWERS
Mrs. Ellen Arnold: "I hope for a school to go back into business and use the campus buildings."

Mrs. Joyce Ashers: "I feel a school on the campus would be a good deal for city and community. The city would gain by getting additional water tank and there are many other advantages the city would gain."

Marvin Tremayne: "A vocational school is what we need and we are doing our best to get the school into the buildings and into operation."

Mrs. Violet Hagar: "I don't want the buildings torn down. They should be put to use, and if the people of Albion will get behind a college and support it a college will stay in our town."

Arnold Ashers Tremayne Hagar Hesel Soronson Mahoney Redman

August Hesel: "It is a fine thing to have a school on the campus and the state Land Board wants out of the responsibility of the campus. It is a shame to let all of the investment of many years go to waste, also we have a pretty valley here and a campus being used looks good."

Mrs. Helen Soronson: "Without a college there is no future with a college or school of some type Albion has a good potential."

Mrs. Galla Mahoney: "A school using the campus again will be an adventure for the City of Albion if all goes as now planned."

O'Deen Redman: "If all goes as now planned, a school on the campus will be an asset to the Albion community and very good for the state. The city will be adequate for many years."

Proposed Gooding County Budget Is More Than '69

GOODING — Proposed budget for Gooding County is $700,510 compared to $440,002 last year, but the increase is within the four per cent increase stipulated by House Bill 304, according to Sibyl Stevens, county clerk.

Notable in the proposed budget, which will be presented at a public hearing at 10 a.m. Monday, is an item of $110,134.67 for construction of the new courthouse, now under construction. Last year's $110,000 was budgeted under this item.

Also included in the new budget is $10,000 set aside for the new district court magistrate's office which was created by the last legislature and will replace the public hearing at 10 a.m. Monday, is an item of $110,134.67 both probate and justice courts for construction of the new courthouse by 1971.

Unexpected 'Flu' Outbreak Spreads Throughout Nation

ATLANTA (UPI)—The National Communicable Disease Center (NCDC) added Maryland, Mississippi, Ohio and Oregon Friday to the list of flu-struck states and one official admitted there was more influenza around "than we expected this year."

Last week the NCDC named nine states in which outbreaks of influenza or flu-like illnesses had been documented. The latest additions ran the total up to 13 states.

Dr. Alexander Langmuir, director of epidemiology at NCDC, said the winter of 1970 "has not been an off-year for influenza" as originally expected. But he said the flu this year, most of it apparently the Hong Kong variety, has not hit any of the nation's big cities except Baltimore.

Most of the flu activity this year is centered along the East Coast and in the Southeast.

For the week ended Jan. 31, the NCDC said 784 persons in 122 U.S. cities died of influenza or pneumonia, 259 more than anticipated for the week, with the excess deaths attributed to the current flu activity.

In Massachusetts, a number of localized outbreaks of upper respiratory illness occurred in the metropolitan Boston area of Worcester, Springfield, Peabody and Lowell, the NCDC said. School absenteeism ranged from 15-30 per cent in some of the senior high schools. Industrial absenteeism was reported as high as 10-15 per cent.

Maryland reported scattered outbreaks of influenza throughout the state and there were some school closings. The NCDC said "considerable flu-like illness is still being seen in the Eastern area of Baltimore."

Camas County Snowmobilers Plan Club At Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — Snowmobilers in Camas County are planning to form a club.

A preliminary get-together was held Tuesday night by a group of snowmobilers and plans were made for another meeting soon. Other snowmobile clubs were to be contacted before the local group drew up a constitution and elected officers.

Camas County assessor Edward Reagan said there are 33 snowmobiles registered in the county, besides the ones owned and held by dealers and those for test use above the ground.

Fairfield passed an ordinance recently that snowmobilers could travel on the side streets in town provided they were equipped with a 12 by 12-inch flag on a staff extending four and one-half feet above the ground.

The ordinance also states that snowmobilers cannot be operated on the main street in town. Snowmobilers must also be equipped with a headlight and taillight.

So far very few snowmobiles have been operated on the side streets, except as access routes to fields around town that have been used by the snowmobilers.

CSI Class In Welding Has Opening

A few openings still are available for the welding sculpture class for women offered by the College of Southern Idaho Area Vocational School. The class will continue for five Saturdays. Hours are from 9 a.m. until noon.

The class is non-credit but a certificate of completion will be issued upon satisfactory completion of the course. The course requirements will include five projects, two of which will be assigned and three optional sculptures.

Cost of the course is $1 for materials and $10 for the course. The fee includes all necessary materials and equipment except personal gear such as small hand tools and welding goggles.

Anyone who has not been able to register can do so at the Saturday meeting. Fundamentals of welding will be taught during the first class and personal equipment will not be needed during the first session.

Anyone interested in the class, which will be limited to 15 people, can register at the vocational school, 1300 Kimberly Road. The course will be taught by Frank Schell. Further information can be obtained from Mr. Schell by calling 733-8664.

Sugar Beet Growers To Meet Monday

GOODING — The Amalgamated Sugar Co. will hold a growers meeting at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the War Memorial Hall, Gooding.

The program will include William Beck, president of the Growers Association, who will discuss sugar beet contracts and how they are negotiated, what affects sugar content, the domestic sugar allotment, and answer questions.

Dorrell Larson will speak on sugar beet irrigation. Bill Prigat, Jerome County Agent, will discuss cultural practices. Gooding County Agent, Ed Knepper, will talk on sugar beet fertilization. The morning program will conclude by 12:30 and resume at 1:30 p.m.

Burley's Decision

Burley City Councilman Sylvan Burgl hit the nail on the head when he said the one big problem in raising the present utility rates is that it has been a long time since this has been done.

There is less grumbling all along the way. The financial position in which Burley finds itself at the present time could well be avoided by other Idaho communities by taking Councilman Burgl's reasoning to heart.

Violence Failure

Advocates of violence to achieve social reforms and those who would "crack down on the dissenters" might both profit from a study of what has happened in Japan.

Chief among them are the extraordinarily demanding college entrance examinations and the complete dominance of faculty and administration in university matters.

The Court Role

WASHINGTON—A unanimous Supreme Court decision on a drawn-out case of the other day indicated that the "strict constructionist" role of Federal Judge G. Harold Carswell of Florida can be expected to play a role in the highest court.

on his person at all times. Through one's first entry in the feet of a Federal marshal certainly removes it from one's person.

Road Hazard

The drinking driver is not new to the nation's highways. He has been recognized as a hazard as far back as 1927. But all the statistics indicate he has become the number one driving menace and responsible for more deaths and injuries on the highways than any other single cause.

Volpe also said, "It's as illogical and inhumane to give a driving permit to a known alcoholic with repeated convictions for drunk driving as it is to furnish knives to homicidal maniacs."

In Those Dim Footsteps

WASHINGTON — To employ a favorite Nixonian phrase, the nomination of Judge G. Harold Carswell of Florida to the Supreme Court made it perfectly clear again — that distinction is only a casual requisite for a seat on the highest bench.

Supreme Court should be a continuing Constitutional convention. It is not bad to be offered a nominee whose record shows a position somewhat more sympathetic to the victim of a crime than that of, say, Justice William Douglas.

Meanwhile, I reject Atty. Gen. John Mitchell's statement that it is "unfortunate" that Carswell should be subjected to criticism based on remarks made 22 years ago.

Small Problems

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If New York City is an accurate testing ground, operations analysis (as used in going to the moon) can be most effective today in solving thousands of small problems which in the aggregate will save the cities millions of dollars and provide better services for citizens.

The solution to other of these problems may make the difference between a life is saved, or a criminal caught, whether fire trucks arrive on time or are caught overlong in traffic.

Intruders Take Drugs And Book On How To Use Them

GLENN'S FERRY — Break-ins were taken along with an otoscope and the drugs. Chief Murphy said the book contains information about medications. A small amount of cash was taken from the drug store and some wrist watches are believed to be missing, but the inventory is not yet completed. L. F. Pack, owner, said Saturday. The break-in, which occurred between Thursday at 9 p.m. and 8:30 a.m. Friday, is being investigated by Glenn's Ferry police, assisted by Deputy Sheriff George Taylor.

Methodists Set First Of Series On Conservation

SHOSHONE — A series of meetings on conservation will be given at the local Methodist church, sponsored by the United Methodist Church. First of the series will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Mrs. Richard Beckman will be the coordinator. Wallace Fixson will be the first speaker, using the topic "Forests and Fires." The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Degree Given

RICHFIELD — Glenn Ferry and Woodliff lodge members attended degree rites at the Richfield Masonic lodge Thursday night at the February meeting. The third degree was conferred on James Powell with Melvin Pope as master of the degree team. Some of the 14 visitors assisted with the degree work. The Washington's birthday banquet Feb. 22, was announced by John Lemmon, master. Melvin Pope, Forrest Armstrong, and John Lemmon were named to serve on the program committee. Melvin Pope was refreshment host.

Hearing Set Thursday On Youth Case

JEROME — A hearing is scheduled at 2 p.m. Thursday before Jerome Probate Judge Russell C. Shaud on a youth charged with striking another boy with a three-quarters inch chain.

Name of the youth charged with the incident, which occurred in a hallway at the Valley High School on James Cleveland, is being withheld by the court.

A juvenile delinquency petition has been filed against the youth by Deputy Sheriff Elmer Stephenson.

Another hearing is scheduled at 2 p.m. Tuesday before Judge Shaud on two minor girls who have been charged with the use of drugs. The petition filed on by officers against the two, aged 13 and 15, claims the girls left their homes on Jan. 31 and returned Feb. 1 and were under the influence of drugs not being used for medical purposes.

GROUP TO MEET SHOSHONE — Lincoln County Planning Commission will meet at 1:30 Thursday at the ASGS office.

Lawsuit Judgment In Iowa Stirs Furor Of Dispute Over

By JAMES JOYCE

EDDYVILLE, Iowa, (UPI)—Last November, an all-woman jury awarded a $30,000 judgment to an admitted intruder who was severely wounded by a shotgun blast into his right leg while he was prowling an unoccupied farm house.

Edward Briney of Eddyville, population 1,000, had rigged a trap in his home early in the summer of 1967 to cope with thieves.

The device was successful. On July 16 of that summer, Marvin Katko, now 38, was shot by it. He first was charged with breaking and entering, pleaded innocent; the charge was reduced to larceny in the nighttime, he pleaded guilty, paid a $30 fine and was released.

Then he filed suit, a personal injury claim, against Briney, 53, and his wife Florida, 49. His right leg now is 3 1/2 inches shorter than the left. He sought $30,000; the claim was reduced to half that amount by the jury.

Two Men Are Charged With Boys' Death

NEW YORK (UPI)—A former Scoutmaster and a landlord were indicted by a grand jury Friday in the fire-murders of three teenagers they allegedly hired to burn down a money-losing tenement building last August.

District Attorney Burton Roberts charged the fire was set in a 15-family apartment building. The purpose was to get out tenants and invading rent-control regulations in order to raise rents.

Benjamin Warren, 27, who had worked with youngsters in the Boy Scouts, was accused of locking the boys in the burning apartment building which they had soaked with gasoline and set afire. The indictment said he doused one of the victims with gasoline.

Warren also was charged with kidnapping Felix Hernandez, and keeping him for two years. Roberts said the youth was taken forcibly from his mother's apartment when he was 12 years old. A warrant was issued two years ago, but was never executed, Roberts said.

The district attorney said Warren was offered between $1,500 and $3,500 by the landlord, Albert Epstein, 50, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., to set fire to the five-story tenement building.

Epstein was arrested Friday at his sister's home in New City, N.Y. Warren was arrested in mid-December and has been held without bail.

The indictments said that George Crespo, 41, and Carlos Rivera, 15, were hired by Warren. They charge that the third victim, Esteban Torres, 17, whom Warren allegedly doused with gasoline, was merely a friend who went along on a promise that they might give him money.

Healinga feels the whole case is "pretty much cut and dried." However, he feels it all boils down to "human rights versus property rights" pointing to the Judeo-Christian ethic that "life is more valuable than property rights."

Briney's lawyers refused to talk about the case unless they were guaranteed their opinions would be kept in confidence.

Life, 77, has an office right across the street from Healinga's. All he would say publicly

Unemployment Had Best Jump In Decade Last Month

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment rose to 3.9 per cent in January in the greatest monthly jump in nearly a decade, according to the Labor Department.

It was the highest jobless level for adult men since the November, 1957 "mini-depression," labor analysts said.

The advance from 3.5 per cent in December was attributed to a fall in the number of job opportunities to materialize for the work force.

However, officials said the January increase, largest since December, 1959, also reflected administrative efforts to dampen the economy.

The rate of nonwhite to white unemployment, which was 2 to 1 for almost 15 years, has fallen to 1.7 to 1.

TWIN FALLS ARCTIC CIRCLE ALL 3 LOCATIONS

THESE TWO WOMEN ARE HEART Sunday chairmen and are working on literature here in preparation for the Heart Fund event Feb. 22. On the left is Mrs. C. R. McWilliams and with her is Mrs. V. V. Tolford. Heart week begins Feb. 16 and ends with the Heart-Busday drive, a drive that will see women working door-to-door through Twin Falls County in an effort to raise funds to aid in combating heart disease. It was requested that volunteer workers are needed. They may contact either of the two women here. A list of Heart Fund captains will be announced later.

Lions Club Sets Banquet At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — The annual Lions Club barbecue banquet is scheduled for April 25.

R. F. Adell, president, has appointed Alfred Sandy, Ted Monaghan, and Marion Pugmire to be in charge of the entertainment for the event.

Ticket sales will be under the direction of Loren Veder, Hale Glauner, and Art Kaster. As in past years, the barbecue will be held in the American Legion hall.

Members voted to insure the newly acquired Christmas decorations for vandalism, fire and theft with the Hartford Insurance Co., Glenn Evers.

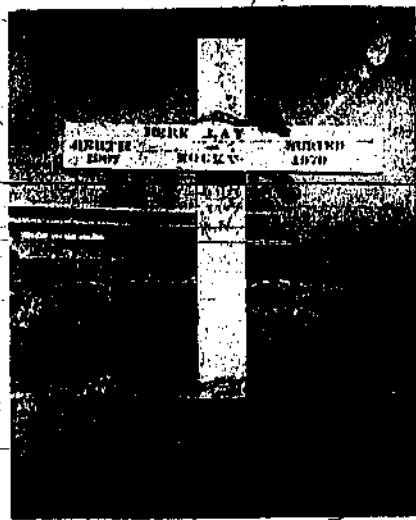

The swimming pool project discussed at previous meetings has been dropped as it was deemed to be too expensive in both construction and maintenance.

The organization will help reimburse Glenn Hendrickson for his costs when working with the Pony League baseball team.

and loss in crop yields due to prolonged ponding; at $133,000 for a total flood damage of $193,331.

In telephone conversations with Idaho Rep. Steve Antone and Sen. John Evers, discussion was centered on HB 459 dealing with airport authority; SB 146 amending the law regulating credit unions; repeal of sections of HB 394, and HB 638 dealing with county housing authority.

Pete Ford was program chairman. Guests were Jerry Johnson, president of the Northside communities; Bruce Bowman, Dad Bowman, Charles Clark and Aaron Johnson.

THIS IS THE BURIAL site of the huge and pale covered rock at the Twin Falls High School. The rock, used to paint names, club years and slogans, was a point of interest on campus for several years. Recently, a hole was carved in the ground and the rock pushed into the hole. Now there is a cross at the site marking the grave of the students' rock. School officials did some checking into the hole digging, but finally said "Well, it's their rock. If they get tired of looking at it, it's their business." It was reported the paint was nearly a quarter of an inch thick on the rock, the toll of many student hours of creative work.

Flood Control District For Minidoka County Discussed

By GRACE WALKER Times-News Correspondent

RUPERT—The necessity and feasibility of a flood control district for Minidoka County was discussed at the weekly meeting of the Rupert Chamber of Commerce, Thursday, by Burt Van Every, chairman of the Minidoka Flood Control Petition Committee and Edward Hillis, vice chairman.

Mr. Van Every represents the Minidoka County commissioners and Hillis the Minidoka County State Water Conservation District.

Mr. Van Every explained the purpose of the flood control district in relation to control of flood waters and damage to streams, lakes and watersheds and making the highest and best use of stored or developed waters.

He explained that a flood control district could not have more than nine or less than three districts would include the greater share of Minidoka county and a small portion of Lincoln county and would cover 220,000 acres.

Mr. Hillis told the group that flood control experts would come in to make an overall study of the problem and give what advice was needed.

Estimates of damage from the 1964 flood were given by Hillis at $100,000; for county roads, $3,283; state highways, $27,541; Minidoka Irrigation District, $52,000; A and B Irrigation District; and $10,000 railroad property. Cropland damages were estimated at $85,510; personal property losses at $40,000; losses in pasture, winter grain and newborn livestock at $40,000.

LBJ Admits He Deliberately Avoided Declaring War On Vietnam, Fearing Intervention By China And Russia

By STEWART HENSLEY WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Lyndon B. Johnson says he never asked Congress for a formal declaration of war against North Vietnam because he feared it would bring Communist China and Russia into the fighting.

In any event, Johnson said the Tonkin Gulf resolution passed by Congress in 1964 gave him all the authority he needed by authorizing him "to do whatever is necessary" to block aggression in Southeast Asia.

Johnson was scathing in his comments on Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, one of his severest Vietnam critics. The former President said Fulbright and every congressional leader fully understood in advance the broad sweep of the resolution but when the going got tough, he (Fulbright) and others headed for the storm cellar. Johnson made the statements in the second in a series of interviews with CBS commentator Walter Cronkite. The broadcast (to be aired at 10 p.m. EST Friday) was put together from taped conversations between Cronkite and Johnson at the LBJ Ranch in Texas last autumn.

THIS WILL BE THE third home of the D. L. Evans Bank in Albion, which has been in business since Sept. 19, 1904. A grand opening is planned soon after employees complete moving equipment into the new structure, which features dark wood-counter and desks, whitewalls, bright colored chairs and three carpet. Jay L. Nielsen is manager of the bank. The new facility was constructed by Jensen Construction Co., Burley, for an estimated $40,000.

D. L. Evans Bank At Albion To Move Soon Into Third Home In 65 Years

ALBION — The D. L. Evans second home... the square stone building in patterned after a new San Francisco bank and meets the latest specification of the Federal Bank Protection Act of 1968.

The late C. E. (Joe) Simonson served in various capacities of the bank from Junior to president. Mr. Simonson moved to Albion in 1919 and on July 27, 1925, became director of the bank and in 1961 was made president and manager where he served until his death April 8, 1968.

Jay L. Nielsen moved to Albion from Twin Falls and serves as manager of the bank.

In July, 1969, construction was started by Jensen Construction Co., Burley, on the new $40,000 cinderblock, mansard roof style bank building. The new bank building is patterned after a new San Francisco bank and meets the latest specification of the Federal Bank Protection Act of 1968.

The new building has a drive-up window, night deposit, safety deposit boxes and latest in vault design and protection equipment.

The interior is accented with dark wood counters and desks with 1 1/2" walls, bright colored chairs of orange and blue, and the floor is covered with a green carpet throughout the building.

A grand opening will be held soon after the move into the new and third home of the D. L. Evans and Company Bank.

This bank has never had to close its doors due to bank failure in all its 65 years of service to the community. It has withstood wars and depressions, thieves and even an assault by a car that skidded on ice and smashed its windows. The person or persons who cracked its vault in November, 1937, were never caught.

Before the establishment of the bank at Albion, the residents of Rock Creek, Albion, Elba and other settled for a quarter of a century-cared accounts with Ogden banks. Deposits in Ogden banks from Cassia County were estimated at $350,000 at one time.

The first home of the D. L. Evans and Company bank was a one story frame building which was used as the postoffice when the bank moved to its

Glue Sniffing Charges Pressed Against 2 Boys

Additional charges of glue sniffing have been lodged against two Twin Falls youths originally picked up for illegal consumption.

The boys, ages 16 and 17, were arrested by a Twin Falls Police officer who observed them throwing beer cans from a car. Investigation revealed the boys were in possession of several tubes of glue, part of which was opened.

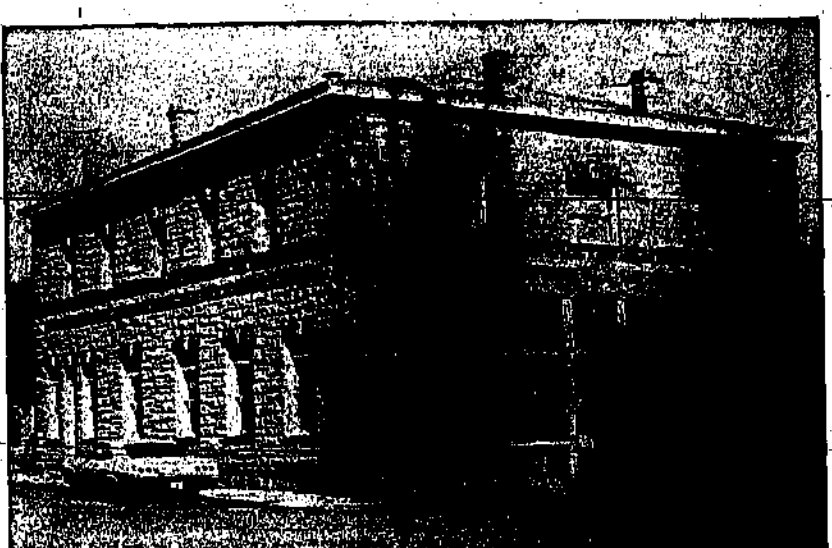

The boys were taken into custody Thursday and have been released to their parents pending further action.

Let's Go Country--It's Jamboree Time

By NORMA HERZINGER

The decisive test of every endeavor is based on its effectiveness and accomplishments. With this, in mind—country music speaks for itself.

It weathered its primary endeavor down through the years, and, today has reached an all-time high throughout the nation. For the first time country western music is heard on the air in Las Vegas and on almost every variety-type show on national television, to say nothing of the individuals featured in shows of their own.

Twin Falls is doing its part to augment this popular entertainment as country-western bands from throughout Magic Valley present the ninth annual Country Music Jamboree Monday and Tuesday nights in Twin Falls. The annual benefit shows are set for 8 p.m. at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center Auditorium, with all proceeds going to the Magic Valley Harbor House.

Bringing a little Grand Ole Opry to Twin Falls, the jamboree will feature 11 different bands, along with the King's Harvesters, Carlotta Cox and Diana Hopperstad, Miss Idaho. The renowned country music promoter, Holland (Holly) Houburg, will "emcee" the two shows.

Although Nashville, Tenn., has become the focal point of this often-referred-to "poor man's" entertainment, its popularity throughout the nation is astounding. It isn't an industry that has skyrocketed overnight, it has grown steadily since World War II, making it today one of the largest in the nation grossing in the neighborhood of 100 million dollars annually.

The basic history behind country music is most gratifying, making Cinderella stories come true for the greater number of the top recording stars. According to leading authoritative publications, this is partially true because of the humble origins of many country music stars and their rise from "rags to riches."

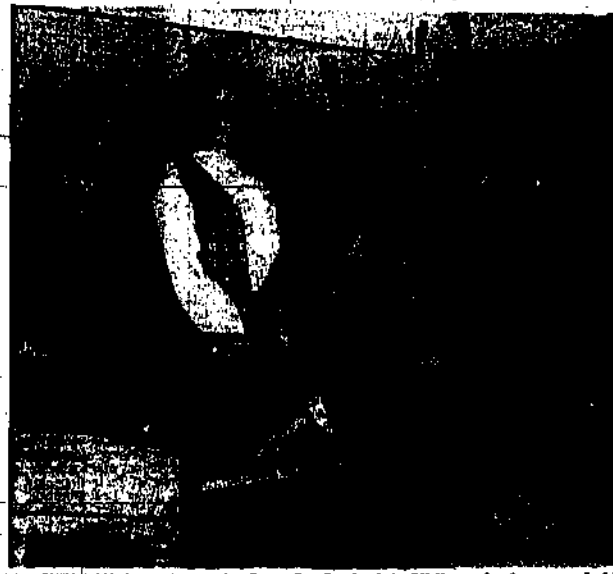

To be featured on Nashville's Grand Ole Opry, the so-called hillbilly Carnegie Hall, is the ultimate goal for every country music musician wanting to make an entertaining career. It's interesting to note, this well-known show started Nov. 28, 1925, and is the longest continued radio program ever presented in the United States. It is estimated that more than 10 million persons hear the Saturday night opsy broadcast weekly and it has done more to stimulate the growth of country music than anything else.

When you say "country music" you are referring to many, many styles—including western, hillbilly, ballads, rockabilly, folk songs, sacred, blues, old time western swing and gospel—all to be featured during the Jamboree. Each band will show distinctive

INCLUDED IN THE COUNTRY Music Jamboree circle this year are Diana Hopperstad, Miss Idaho, and Holland (Holly) Houburg, who will be master of ceremonies for the two-night event. This year marks the ninth annual Country Music Jamboree, to be presented with all proceeds going to the Magic Valley Harbor House.

LISTENING TO Dave Starr, the Jerry Lee Lewis of the Magic, as he does several of his favorite songs are Helen Brown of Helen's Record Shop and Carolyn Harvey, the current Miss Redox Idaho.

First Wedding At Clover Sees 50 Years

By MARJORIE LIERMAN
Times-News Correspondent

CLOVER — Surrounded by fertile fields, halfway between Buhl and Piler, is the Clover Lutheran Church, a white frame building with a tall steeple and a lighted blue cross which at night can be seen from miles around.

This simple but lovely country church has been the setting for many of the happiest moments of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pergelgh, lifelong members.

The Pergelghs were the first couple to be married in the church after it was completed in 1919, and through the years they have watched as their four daughters were baptized, confirmed and married at the church altar, and they themselves celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary this winter at an open house sponsored by the congregation with special services being held in the church.

A son, Emil, was born Oct. 23, 1927, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pergelgh on a farm near Sylvan Grove, Kan. The farm was later sold by the Pergelghs to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thamer, and on Jan. 8, 1932, a daughter, Amalia, was born to the couple. In those days nearly all births took place in the homes, so by an odd coincidence Mr. and Mrs. Pergelgh, who were later to grow up and be married, were born in the same farmhouse.

Amalia Thamer came to Idaho to visit a brother who had moved out here and she decided to stay. She worked for some time for Dr. and Mrs. F. A. McCluskey in Buhl. Her parents moved to Idaho a year later and lived near the former Clover store. A year after that Mr. Pergelgh came to Idaho to be near his childhood sweetheart.

The Clover Church was organized in 1916 by a number of Lutheran families who had moved out from Nebraska and Kansas. Construction of a chapel was begun and finished in time for the Dec. 14, 1919, wedding of Amalia Thamer and Emil Pergelgh with rites performed by the Rev. W. F. Dannenfeldt, pastor.

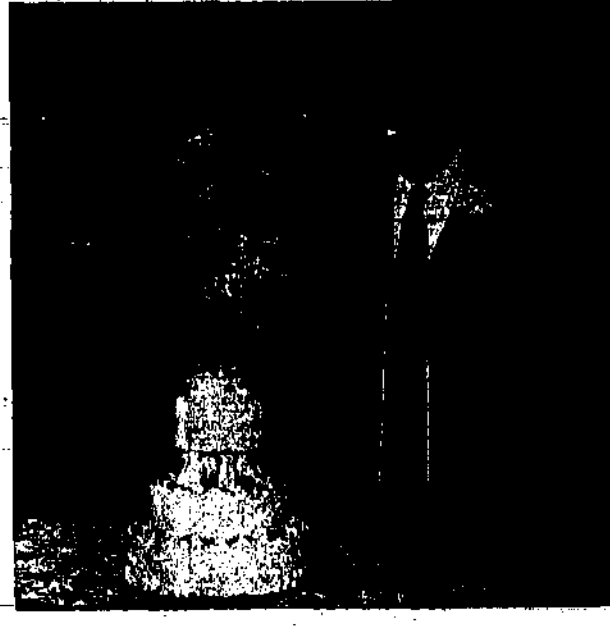

The couple's first child, Betty, was born June 24, 1926, and was baptized a few weeks later in the church. A second daughter, Vera, was born June 7, 1930, and was followed Sept. 5, 1931, by a third daughter, Gladys. The youngest daughter, Joan, was born Oct. 21, 1937. All the girls were baptized by the Rev. Mr. Dannenfeldt in the church a few weeks after their births.

All four girls attended the Clover School and each was graduated from the eighth grade the same year she was confirmed into the Lutheran Church. All four also were graduated from the Piler High School.

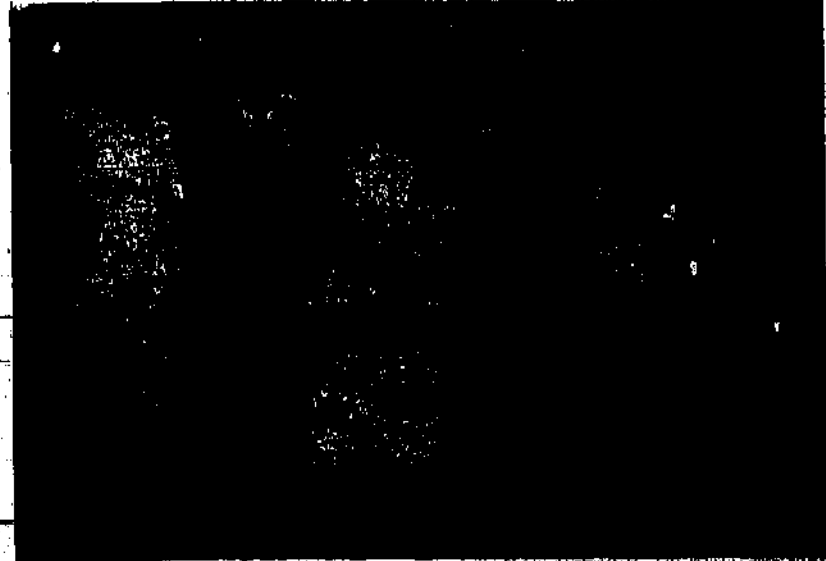

Betty, the oldest daughter, married Willard Thaste, Aug. 17, 1947, in a beautiful wedding in the church. The Thastes farm near Twin Falls and have five children, three boys and two girls.

Vera became the wife of Richard Landendorf in rites at the Clover Church Aug. 14, 1955. Mr. Landendorf had been a former vicar in the church and a teacher at the school. He now teaches at Kennewick, Wash., and they are the parents of three daughters and a son.

Appearing on the Tuesday night program are the Walker Brothers and Corlette Cox, Jerome Fiscus, and the Melody Masters; the Young Uns, Rondevoos, the Mallis and Ray Crumbly and the Salts who will feature Miss Idaho in numbers both nights.

Members of the Idaho Hair Fashion Committee in Magic Valley are Juan Menchaca, Twin Falls, IHFC styles director, and Mildred Haight, Burley.

Claver Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Continued From Page 11 Claver exchanged vows with Gene Rubter June 18, 1920. They farm north of Twin Falls and have one girl and three boys. Joan became the wife of Donald Stein on Dec. 27, 1960, and they reside in Burley, where she is secretary for a bank president and he is a laboratory technician in a government plant.

The Pergelias have resided all of their married life on the same farm a mile east of the church. She has held various positions in the Catholic Women's Missionary League, a church organization, and at present is corresponding secretary of the group.

She is a member of the Twin Falls Hospital Guild and has served as a pink lady for 14 years and as a nurse in the Red Cross first aid courses and since that time, as a nurse aide, has helped with each Filer Red Cross bloodmobile drive.

Mr. Pergeligh served as a school elder for nine years and is charter member of the C. I. O. v. Catholic Laymen's League. He also served as a director of the Highline Canal Co. board for many years.

In their spare time, the couple has many hobbies. They both have been on bowling teams in Burley and Twin Falls. They have a pool table in their basement, and friends and neighbors are always welcome to come over for a game.

The Pergelias enjoy playing pinocle with friends during the winter months. In summer they like taking their camper to Salmon Dam, Magle Reservoir or Murtaugh Lake and getting in on the good fishing. Mrs. Pergeligh has a decided "green thumb" at it, as she has many beautiful house plants.

As most parents will agree, they comment that "Children grow up all too fast." They remember the times when the whole neighborhood gathered at their place after the cookie jar was always empty. The lateral behind their farm was a favorite swimming place for the younger set, and their daughters and their friends enjoyed many a happy hour playing in a muddy trailer behind on the yard.

The Golden Wedding Anniversary open house of the Pergelighs held in the Claver School last month saw a crowd of more than 300 people gather to offer their congratulations. An anniversary service by Rev. T. D. Johnson in the church preceded the open house which was hosted by the congregation.

All the children and grandchildren were present for the special event, and Mrs. Thelma, their daughter, who has three children, presented the refreshment table. The church and school overlooked with beautiful floral arrangements sent to the honored couple.

Mrs. Pergeligh greeted their guests wearing a blue dress accented with an orchid corsage. Granddaughters, Jennifer Thelma and Linda Rubter, were in charge of the guest books. Mrs. Raymond Ottensmider, Mrs. Edgar Meyer and Mrs. Edwin Llewman, elder's wives, served cake, punch and coffee.

The only and note to mark the anniversary was the death of Mrs. Pergeligh's sister, Mrs. Joaquin Krumpholtz, who died just four days before the open house was to be held. She had eagerly looked forward to her sister's 50th Anniversary as it was the first Golden Wedding

National Beauty Salon Week Starts Today

The 20th annual National Beauty Salon Week, sponsored by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association will be observed Feb. 8 through 14. "Joy Is a New-Hair Style" is the theme for this year's observance.

During this week, members of the local affiliate will spend much time working to enhance beauty of less fortunate women. The institutional welfare program of the Magic Valley Affiliate has always been a major part of the organization's activities.

The cosmetologists will experience the joy of giving, when treating these women and girls to the newest in spring hair styles, permanent waves, hair cuts and shampoos.

Sharon Caldwell, Burley, NBSW chairman, reports a National Beauty Salon Week kick-off breakfast will be held at the Burley Ponderosa Dining Room on Monday. During the breakfast, a style show will be featured, narrated by Elaine Marlin, Burley. The fashions will be from Guya and Dolls and Hudsons Shoes. The breakfast is open to the public.

Sherman Kendall, Salt Lake City, nationally known hair stylist, will be featured stylist, showing the newest hair fashions for spring as designed by the official hair fashion committee of NBSA. The hair fashions were designed by the leading authorities of hair fashions and were created in "grown-your-beauty-for-spring."

Members of the Idaho Hair Fashion Committee in Magic Valley are Juan Menchaca, Twin Falls, IHFC styles director, and Mildred Haight, Burley.

Committees for National Beauty Salon Week include Miss Caldwell, chairman; Elva Knowles, Twin Falls, publicity; Doris E. Burley, institutional welfare; Ariens, Curtis and Carol Martin, Burley, tickets; and Wanda Critchfield, Burley, report-chairman.

Miss Voeltzel Is Bride Of Dallas Serr

FAIRFIELD — Vicki Sue Voeltzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Voeltzel, Fairfield, and Dallas Serr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serr, Paul, were married in a double ring ceremony Dec. 20 at the home of her parents.

Bishop Leroy Packham performed the ceremony before the brick fireplace which was decorated with white candles, pink lights covered with angel hair and dotted pink polka dots.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white peau de soie, fashioned with an empire waistline, A-line skirt and three quarter-length sleeves edged with hand cut French lace. A band of lace was set in the skirt and edged the chapel train. Her elbow-length nylon illusion veil was held in place by a pillbox hat of lace with flower and pearl trim. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of pink rosebuds centered with a white orchid. She wore a diamond and pearl necklace, a gift from her sister.

Mrs. Don Voeltzel, Pocatello, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Daryl Serr served as best man. Patsy Voeltzel, Pocatello, niece of the bride, and Andrea Lee Serr, Paul, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. Ricky Voeltzel, Pocatello, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hanson, uncle and aunt of the bride. Mrs. Kirk Voeltzel, sister-in-law of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Sunnie Sweet, Christie Gieseler, Marianne Kevan, Ellen Rae Krahn, Jan Cook and Paula Cox, school friends of the bride, arranged the gifts.

The three-tiered pink and white wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Edward Krahn. It was flanked by heart-shaped sweetheart cakes with the names "Dallas" and "Vicki." A white lace cloth over pink satin covered the serving table. The bride and groom's holders were on each side of the cakes.

Mrs. Stan Frantson, Mrs. W. L. Wilson, Mrs. Mark Flaneth and Mrs. Gene Rolando, sister of the bride, served at the reception.

A traditional German reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serr, Paul, later, at honor of the newlyweds.

The couple reside in Paul after a wedding trip to Southern California and Mexico. The bridegroom is engaged in farming. The bride is employed with the telephone company in Twin Falls.

Miss Ellison is a graduate of Ratz River High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Ellison, Malta, and Miss Nolwert is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nolwert, Burley.

Miss Ellison is enrolled in a private secretarial finishing school and was honored for her shorthand and transcription skills. Miss Nolwert is enrolled in an executive secretary course and was honored for having a perfect attendance and for her shorthand and transcription.

Mountain View Club Convenes

WENDELL — Women of the Mountain View Club were hostesses at a luncheon honoring their husbands at the IOOF Hall, Wendell.

Roll call was answered with "My Favorite Television Program."

Mrs. Luella Faustet was reported to be in patient at the Twin Falls Clinic Hospital by the sick and visiting committee.

Mrs. Mable Tooleman was welcomed as a guest. Plans were made for the coming year and the new yearbooks were outlined.

Students achieving outstanding performance in a particular subject area presented a special award certificate in recognition of their achievements, reported F. S. Robinson, director of the shorthand and transcription.

TOPS Member Is Reinstated

HANSEN — Mrs. Sam Huck, a former member of Slim and Trim TOPS Club, was welcomed back as a reinstated member. Mrs. Thomas Stoenhuth was best loser for the week.

A jar of bones was given as a penalty to count instead of eating. Other penalties were taken from a coner platform, "Mental Attitudes," "Good Grooming" and "I'll apply it Day."

An announcement was made that KOPS may compete in a charm or beauty contest in two categories, those under 40 and those over 40. Trophies will be presented to first and second winners and certificates for third and fourth winners.

In the pound-rama contest, Mrs. J. C. Cox was best loser and received a hair styling certificate. Other prizes were awarded to Mrs. Fred Howard, Mrs. Ralph Simmons and Mrs. Edith Glenn.

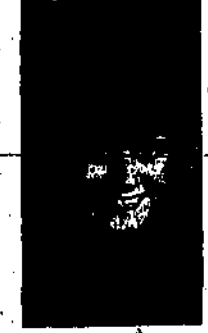

The orange team pulled ahead at the evening meet in weight loss on the trip to Hawaii contest, with Mrs. Cox as the aspirant.

Mrs. Ralph Simmons was awarded a gift as the winner of the monthly queen award. Yearly queen's were given special recognition awards.

It was reported that Joe Ryan, father of Bonnie Ryan, had heart surgery in Salt Lake City. Mrs. Edith Glenn, program chairman, presented each member a red heart with diet reminders to be put on the refrigerator.

Mrs. James Wright, program chairman and hostess for the evening, gave several diet hints from February's McCollins magazine. It stresses attendance for health.

Mrs. Niven read an article, "Average American Women," from the Inquirer.

Mrs. Parr Is Guest Speaker For Sorority

BURLEY — Mrs. Melba Parr was guest speaker during the XI Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Bultess, Monday.

The lesson was on "Sight and Experience." Mrs. Parr displayed a sculpture of a boy which had been carved from wood, and several paintings of still-life scenes of the outdoors and portraits. "What one person sees in a sculpture or painting may not be seen by another person, this is the reason you may like a painting and your sister will dislike the same painting. By studying the facial expressions of a person in a portrait you can visualize the type of life the person has lived," stated Mrs. Parr. She pointed out the different expression of people in comparing two paintings.

Mrs. Parr has studied art and painting under the direction of several well known artists. She started painting in her spare time after her family was grown and away from home.

The short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. LeAnn Layton, president. Mrs. Glenn Redman reported on the recent Burley, Rupert Beta Sigma Phi City Council meeting held at the home of Mrs. JoAnn Newton, Rupert. Mrs. Glenn Bailey reported on the State Beta Sigma Phi convention committee meeting. The three local chapters will host the state convention in June, 1971.

It was reported Mrs. Ransom Brown is at home following her surgery at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, Twin Falls, and a rose has been sent to her from the chapter.

The white elephant gift was awarded to Mrs. Clarence Bishop.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Butters and Mrs. Phyllis Weber, co-hostesses.

The next meeting is Thursday at home of Mrs. Rodney Murphy, with Mrs. Ralph Fik, as co-hostess. The chapter's Valentine Queen will be honored and special arrangements will be under the direction of the social committee, with Mrs. Merrill Atkinson as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Bailey.

Sandra Skinner, Hoag Wed

FILER — A candlelight ceremony Dec. 23 at the United Methodist Church united in marriage Sandra Kay Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skinner, Buhl, and Wayne Hoag, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoag, Filer.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Roy Watson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Rev. Elmer Anderson, local pastor, before a background of beasty baskets, including white gladioli, red pompons and evergreen and candelabra holding white tapers. The aisles were marked with white tapers tied with red ribbons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an A-line almonette gown of taffeta and slownet. The floor-length gown featured long lily point sleeves, a sabelina neckline and a lace chapel train attached to an empire waistline. The gown was enhanced with lace appliques and mother-of-pearl trimmings bordered the train.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion in three tiers was held by points of pearls and crystal drops. She carried a white Bible covered with a bouquet of red roses and white carnations in which nestled two tiny pearl hearts. She carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

Arlene Blass was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Susan Skinner, sister of the bride, Mrs. Walter Taylor, and Chelene Moniz, Salt Lake City. Denise Hixson was flower girl and carried a white basket of flower petals.

Timmy VonOstran was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white lace pillow. Carl Pitts and Carol Wright were taper lighters.

Tom Carter served as best man, and ushers were Claude Davis, Carl Pitts, Ralph Andrews and Rick Garner.

Laura Vincent was organist and accompanied Susan Pleator, soloist.

A reception for more than 200 guests was held in the fellowship hall. The young couple greeted their guests before a white arch decorated with red and white ribbons and holly.

The bride's table was covered with white and trimmed with red ribbons. It was covered with a five-tiered wedding cake decorated with red posiedus and topped with two large wedding bells. A white memory candle accented with holly and red ribbons flanked the cake.

The bridegroom's table was

covered with a white cloth, and pieces of bridegroom's cake were wrapped in red and white net and tied with red and white ribbons. Rice bags two in red and white net were also distributed from the bridegroom's table.

Guests were seated at quarter tables covered with white lace cloths over red and centered with red pompons in brandy snifters accented with holly.

Mrs. Don Wright cut and served the cake. Mrs. Hal Vandertan, aunt of the bride, served coffee, and Mrs. William Watt, aunt of the bride, poured punch.

Mrs. Clifford Gassert was in charge of the guest book. Diana Tucker and Sharon Andrews were gift carriers, and the gifts were displayed by Janice Shepherd and Becky Ulrich.

The couple resides at 2427 A St., Apt. 11, San Diego, Calif. The bridegroom is serving as a hospital corpsman with the National Guard.

The bride was honored at a luncheon shower hosted by Mrs. Don Wright, Mrs. Dorok Cartrell and Mrs. Don Howard. The woman-of-the-Baptist Church gave a miscellaneous shower for the bride, as did Mrs. William Blass and Arlene Blass. The parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal dinner in Twin Falls.

Guests attended from Norfolk, Va., Salt Lake City, and area towns.

Rupert Miss, Johnson Say Nuptial Vows

RUPERT — In a setting of red poinsettias, white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers, Dec. 28, Susan Jean Alexander, New York City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander, Rupert, became the bride of Murray Ward Johnson II, New York City, in an impressive ceremony at the Rupert Christian Church. Rev. John Sinclair performed the couple's ring ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ward Johnson I, Amesbury, Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length, Roman and Juliet creation of satin, beaded, crepe fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly embroidered lace trimmed in seed pearls and featuring a high collar and leg-length sleeves. She wore a lace-trimmed, long-sleeved gown and made by the bridegroom, and carried a cascading bouquet of red poinsettias and pine greenery.

Sharon Ross, Twin Falls, served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Kathy Harb, Towshbury, Mass., and Patricia Kerbe Warren, Calgary, Canada. Candlelighter was Jane Ross and ringbearer was Angie Denton, both Twin Falls. Ramie Watrin was flower girl.

Jackie Alexander, brother of the bride, Gunnison, Colo., served as best man, and usher were Norman Marble, Towshbury, Mass., and Michael Alexander, brother of the bride.

Naomi Tails, organist, played the traditional wedding music.

A reception immediately after the ceremony was held in the church recreation hall. The wedding party greeted guests before a white velvet valance and flanked by illuminated pedestals with white chrysanthemums and red poinsettias. Four red deer, red scented candles and holly in wrought iron candelabra accented the red-carpeted path to the receiving line. A white floral spray with red balls and red velvet ribbon enhanced the doorway. Behind the guest book table were white and gold screens with a white flocked wreath revealing the names of the bride and bridegroom.

Carol Harriott, Washington, D.C., attended the guest book. Mrs. Liz Martin, Burley, Mrs. Kate Serr, Mrs. Leta Denton, both Paul, and Mrs. Kala Stecklein, Sunset, Utah, were in charge of gifts.

White and red poinsettias decorated the round wedding cake that centered the bride's table, which was covered with illuminated white satin and lace. The four tiers of the cake were separated by swan columns with cupids on top. A nine-branch candelabra with red tulle cups and punch bowls enhanced the table decor. The serving area was complemented by a red and white velvet backdrop and electric chandeliers.

Mrs. Ralph C. Denton, Kimberly, grandmother of the bride, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Francis Denton, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Maril Denton, Columbia, Mo., served mints and nuts. Quiet tables covered with lace held red scented candles with evergreen and holly. White pedestals and ropes of satin ribbons outlined the table area.

The couple took a wedding trip to San Valley.

The bridegroom was graduated from Amesbury High School, attended Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y., majoring in Television Direction in the School of Speech and Dramatic Art, and is employed by Executive Personnel Limited, New York City. The couple will reside at 151 Elm St., Amesbury, Mass.

A pre-nuptial shower at the Ramada Inn in Burley was hosted for the bride by Pat Watrin and Kathy Stocks. A wedding supper was hosted by the bride's parents.

Special out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ward Johnson I, Amesbury, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Marble, Towshbury, Mass.

Club Discusses Planting Trees At Albion Park

ALBION — Planting evergreen trees in the Albion Park was discussed when the Albion Four Leaf Clover Club met recently at the club hall, with Lila Kell, vice president, presiding.

Mrs. Gaila Mahoney was asked to check the kind of trees and best of time for planting. A discussion was held concerning the Shell Oil Education contest. More funds to increase the awards in the school art and poetry contests for junior high school and senior high school students attending Deelo High School was requested by the fine arts committee.

These contests will soon begin. Local winners will be announced in April and entries will be sent to the fourth district convention of the Idaho Federation of Women's Clubs where they will compete for district awards.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kell and Mrs. Keith Amende.

40th Wedding Anniversary Is Observed

FAIRFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Leo Daniel were honored with a reception on their 40th Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krahn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Loy Vankilke hosted the event in the Community Church Recreation Room.

An elaborate three-tiered wedding cake centered the serving table with tall white tapers on each side. The white cake was trimmed with roses, bells and lattice work trimmed in deep rose and topped with bells and the numerals, "40". The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Krahn and Mrs. Vankilke, assisted by Mrs. Keith Strom.

An arrangement of 40 deep rose chrysanthemums was on another table. The bride wore a gown from Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Emshier, Cedar Falls, Iowa. Mrs. Emshier is the former Diane Daniel, a daughter.

Cards and family pictures were on each side of the flower. Two large baskets of American Beauty roses completed the room decorations.

Mrs. Dave Howard was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Krahn and Mrs. Vankilke presided at the serving table and were assisted by Mrs. Gwen Rice.

Mrs. Daniel wore a silver-colored knit dress with a corsage of deep rose carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel were married Jan. 30, 1930, in Monterey, Calif., and have resided in Idaho since 1956.

Out-of-town guests attended from Filer and Gooding.

CSI Sweeps Past Eastern Utah And Mesa

Bassett, Hegens Star As Eagles Rip Mesa, Clinch Share of League Crown

Combining the might of hand of Steve Hegens and the all-round performance of Big Tim Bassett, the College of Southern Idaho exploded away in the second half to defeat Mesa College 83-70 and just about clinch its second straight intermountain Collegiate Athletic Conference championship. The CSI victory, combined with Eastern Utah's 83-78 decision over Ricks College, shaved the Eagles three full games, in front of the ICAC pack with three left to play. It also was the 18th straight victory for the Eagles who were ranked 12th in the national poll this week.

Sirucek, Howa Pace Bruins Past Caldwell After Bowling To Borah

Tony Sirucek and Allen Howa provided most of the scoring on the Twin Falls Bruins went on their hottest shooting spree of the year Saturday night and toppled the Caldwell Cougars 77-56. The victory came 24 hours after the Bruins, without the golden touch, fell to the Borah Lions 59-54.

Sirucek, in a rare starting role, hit 68 per cent from the field as he about doubled his point total for the year with 17. Howa hit 45 per cent and turned in for the second straight night.

Bruin Coach Charles Farmer stayed with a junior-dominated starting crew for the second night with Walt Sinclair starting both games and turning in good defensive efforts.

Caldwell was about as cold as Twin Falls was hot except for a few minutes in the fourth quarter. And good free throw shooting could have made a big difference since 47 fouls were called. But Twin Falls hit only 15 of 29 attempts and Caldwell 14 of 30 at the line.

Salmon Fry Will Be Placed In Pahsimeroi Ponds This Week

Some 440,000 Chinook Salmon fry will be placed in the Pahsimeroi holding ponds this week at the Idaho Fish and Game Department on the plans two of repopulating anadromous fish runs in that drainage.

C. R. "Bob" Quidor, manager of the Niagara Steelhead hatchery, said the 440,000 Chinooks are the offspring of salmon caught at the Falcater well last fall. The spawners were stripped of their eggs, which were eyed and hatched at the department's Mackay hatchery.

scribed them as being in excellent condition. The small Chinook will be kept in the holding ponds, leased from Idaho Power, for the next 14 months and then will be released into the Salmon River drainage. He said the holding ponds were rebuilt and automatic feeders plus a large freezer to keep moist pellets have been installed during the winter to accommodate the new project.

Most of the department's recent work on the Pahsimeroi has been in transplanting the Middle Snake River Steelhead run into the Salmon River drainage through the Pahsimeroi. Last year marked the first transfer of Steelhead, the project breaking even with 1.8 million planted three years ago and the spawners returning that same number of eggs last spring.

Raft River Knocks Off Rockland

RAFT RIVER—Ingrid Hutchings and Paul Edwards hit 10 points apiece Friday night to lead the Raft River Trojans to an upset 69-63 victory over Rockland.

Rockland led only briefly in the first few minutes and Raft River stretched a narrow one-point first period lead to 11-7 at intermission.

The difference came from the foul line, where Raft River hit 20 compared to 13 for the Bulldogs. For Rockland, Wap pumped in 20.

Shoshone Edges Past Kimberly

SHOSHONE — Ellis Johnson hit two clutch free throws with 40 seconds left Friday night to give the Shoshone Indians an eight 68-67 victory over Kimberly.

With four minutes left the Bulldogs held the upper hand by six points, but Jim Tronkie, Berriociano, and Pappas all hit points to move the Indians within one point. Johnson's two free throws gave Shoshone a 68-67 lead. Kimberly went down court and missed, and the Indians took the ball. Tronkie ended two free throws after that to insure the win with 14 seconds left.

Kimberly came out red hot and jumped into a 7-0 lead before Shoshone could turn around at the outset, but Shoshone nullified all that with a 20-point second quarter.

Two Carry Hansen Past Declo 74-64

DECLO — Walt Freestone and Lynn Pearson took turns carrying the Hansen Huskies Friday night, combining for 39 points in a 74-64 decision over the Declo Hornets.

Freestone hit Hansen's first 15 points and ended with 12 in the first quarter. When Declo began to concentrate on Freestone, Pearson started warming up and his 12 third-quarter points were decisive as Hansen moved ahead 51-45 at that point.

The Hornets, behind Kenny Darrington's 27-point effort, narrowed the gap to six in the late stages, but Hansen kept its lead. Declo took the preliminary.

Twin Falls led only once by virtue of Larry Blackwood's opening free throw. After that Borah was ahead but never by much. Eight shots gave the big margin in the first half but Twin Falls chopped a 14-7 deficit to 25-21 by halftime.

Four straight free throws by Dave Mallock and Don Hull gave Borah its first 10-point lead with 43 seconds left in the third quarter. The final period saw Twin Falls pull to within six or seven and then fall back to nine or 10. Training 54-45, with 2:35 left, Twin Falls started back on two John Van Engelen free throws and a fielder by Dave Mallock.

Three free throws around a Tony Strucek as Twin Falls pulled to within five. But Bishop drove the baseline for a rally killing a free throw and Mike Crandall a field goal to establish the final score.

Twin Falls sopho handed Borah their second loss of the year 68-57 in the preliminary.

Rimrock Is 91-68 Winner Over Bliss

BRUNEAU—Rimrock's Raiders blistered the nets for 20 points in the fourth quarter to blank a wild-open offensive battle with Bliss on Friday night in taking a 91-68 victory.

The Raiders, getting 20 points from Rolfe Magers and double-figure scoring from three other men, moved in front by nine after a quarter. Bliss got hot and trimmed that to 37-34 at the half and Rimrock led 65-50 after three periods.

Before breaking away, Keith Bybee pulled down 16 rebounds for Rimrock. Rimrock took the opener 70-40.

Rimrock of Bliss led 49-44 at the end of the first quarter. Rimrock's Rolfe Magers led with 20 points. Bliss' Keith Bybee had 16 rebounds.

Duquesne Tops Friars 70-66

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Duquesne, improving its chances for a bid to the National Invitational Tournament, pulled ahead for good at 34-32 just 4 seconds before halftime Saturday to defeat Providence 70-66 in a regionally televised basketball game.

Mickey Davis sank the go-ahead tally for the Dukes, who returned to widen their margin to 52-40 in the first nine minutes of the second half.

Michigan Has 95-84 Victory

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — The University of Michigan scored 13 straight points in a 3-minute, 16-second period in the second half Saturday in over-power Northwestern, 95-84, in a Big Ten basketball match that drew the Wolverines' first home game since Dec. 31.

Conjuring out a 49-46 halftime tie, the Wolverines began their surge with 14:07 left on the clock and held a 71-58 lead with 11:31 left on a well-rounded attack. The Wolverines built up their biggest margin of the game, 74-65, with 5:03 remaining.

U.S. Seems Willing To Let Latin American Armies Rule

By STEWART KELLERMAN and DANIEL DROSDOFF
BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The generals are flexing their muscles again in Latin America and the United States appears willing—at this point in history at any rate—to let them.

Not that Washington really seems to have much choice. The United States tried soft talk, the big stick, enticing chunks of aid and hard-nosed diplomacy in past attempts to keep the military chiefs out of Latin American politics.

But how far this has gotten can be assessed in one statistic—three out of every five Latin Americans are now under military rule.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, in a 137-page report on his troubled fact-finding mission to Latin America last year, put out in the open what State Department officials had been whispering in private.

"Many new military leaders are deeply motivated by the need for social and economic progress," he said.

He suggested U.S. policy should often be "to try to work with them in their efforts rather than to abandon or insult them because we are conditioned by arbitrary ideological stereotypes."

President Nixon's top policy advisers appear to have adopted Rockefeller's view.

The Nixon administration's policy for the 1970's is an about-face from the way President John F. Kennedy began the 1960's.

Kennedy launched a "progress yes, tyranny no" campaign aimed at keeping the hemisphere free of military rulers.

Why did Kennedy fail? A look at the 1962 military coup in Peru points up the difficulties.

When the armed forces took power in Lima the United States quickly suspended diplomatic relations and cut off military and economic aid.

Other Latin nations, however, failed to go along with Kennedy's boycott and the United States was eventually forced to back down and recognize the junta.

Kennedy's policy makers thought twice from then on before imposing sanctions, and by the time Lyndon B. Johnson took office, Nov. 22, 1963, the United States showed signs of moving toward a more pragmatic attitude.

The Johnson policy ranged from prompt acceptance of military coups against "unfriendly" leaders such as Brazil's leftist President Joao Goulart to delayed recognition and aid cutoffs after the fall of "friendly" presidents such as Peru's Fernando Belaunde Terry (Oct. 3, 1968).

Now, the Nixon administration has decided one step further, trying to deal evenhandedly with both friendly and unfriendly governments, military or civilian—with one exception, Communist Cuba.

President Nixon's promise to "deal realistically with governments in the inter-American system as they are" harkens back to early American foreign policy.

Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson, outlining U.S. policy in 1793, said every nation "may govern itself according to whatever form it pleases, and change these forms at its own will."

That remained the U.S. position for more than a century until President Woodrow Wilson's State of the Union address in 1913 took America's first tough stand against military governments in Latin America.

Wilson refused to recognize the Mexican regime of Gen. Victoriano Huerta, who came to power in a 1913 coup.

Washington also provided decisive aid to rebels who overthrew Huerta the next year.

The Wilson policy, however, was left by the wayside by succeeding Republican and Democratic administrations until Kennedy decided to tackle the military regimes again in the early 1960's.

"There's little doubt the United States has been willing to play ball with some military governments—where it has been in Washington's own interests."

One of these interests is stopping any political development that smacks of communism.

U.S. arms policy since the early 700's—outlined by 15 congressional amendments—has been a sore point for the Latin American generals.

The major impact has been to anger the Latin American military and drive them away from U.S. firms to European arms makers.

The Rockefeller report called for legislation "to permit the United States to sell aircraft, ships and other major military equipment" south of the border.

The U.S. decision to accept at least some military governments shows a belief among American officials that nothing really can be done to keep the generals in their barracks.

The military has ancient roots in Latin America. Spanish soldiers—the Conquistadores—settled the area, subdued the Indians and received governing privileges from the crown.

To this day military are symbols of national unity and are called upon to bring order in times of crisis.

Even Democratic governments in Latin America tend to be authoritarian. Mexico has essentially had a one party system—the Institutional Revolutionary party—since 1929.

And most Latin democracies have endowed their presidents with dictatorial powers in times of emergency—the emergency laws tend to be frequent.

One thing the United States must learn if it is to have greater success in its dealing with Latin America is that the day it can't deal with its southern neighbors—in the hemisphere as naughty or belligerent children has passed into history.

Ruling Draws Many Letters Of Protest

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI)—A judge who ruled that heroin taken from a baby's diaper without a warrant was inadmissible as evidence defended his actions Thursday against a mass letter writers.

"I don't like these staid letters, I don't think the pranks and jokes are funny," Municipal Court Judge Theodore C. Kruman said. "All I'm doing is upholding the Constitution. That's my job."

Kruman gained national prominence after ruling last Friday that sheriff's detectives searched the hands of a woman without a warrant when they opened the drawers of a nine-month old girl and found heroin.

Since then, he has received nearly 108 letters; about half of them signed. He said many of the letters were uncomplimentary phrases in describing the judge and his decision.

Welfare Ordered Despite 'Man In House'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department has told the Supreme Court that a state program may not withhold aid to dependent children payments because of the presence in the house of a man who assumes the role of spouse.

The dependent children (AFDC) program is provided, the department said.

Federal and state matching funds go to children deprived of support by reason of the death, disability or continued absence of a parent. Under federal regulations for determining financial eligibility, the income of a "man in the house" is considered, only if he is a proven contributor to the children's support.

The department's views were given in a friend-of-the-court brief filed in a California case.

Grocery Deduction Outlawed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The judge conceded the idea was ingenious, but he decided that money given to a wife for groceries cannot legally be deducted as a gift an income tax return.

"Gifts to spouses are commendable but nondeductible," wrote Judge Samuel J. Stieratt in a U.S. Tax Court ruling.

Sterrett said the deduction by three Maryland residents was claimed on "the advice of a tax consultant who certainly must be deemed ingenious." The consultant was not named.

The advice, however, turned out to be wrong. The court ruled Harold W. Laque of Silverville, Md., underpaid his 1967 taxes by $1,040; his wife, Debra Ann Laque, had 1968 taxes by $550, and Charles E. Sterrett of Pikesville, Md., underpaid his '64 taxes by $723.

PARENTS MUST TAKE an interest in a three-fold drug education program is going to work in Twin Falls. Here members of the O'Leary Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, a planner group in the project, discuss means of reaching other parents. Discussing educational materials and posters are Don Wilko, standing, president; Mrs. Imogene Henth, secretary; Mrs. Polly Woodson, Norman Wisconsin, Dean of Boys and vice principal, and Carl Snow, principal, standing, all from left. Close cooperation between school, parents and students is needed, say program instigators.

TRAINING FOR EDUCATORS is part of the program. Administrators and teachers recently attended a meeting in Twin Falls to hear Robert W. Goertzen, information officer of the Idaho Board of Pharmacy, second from right, explain drug laws, symptoms and proposed training methods. Participating teachers and administrators included John Lawrence, high school principal; Betty McIntyre and Larry Culver, teachers; and at right, Elmer Sommer, school board chairman.

Will Informed Students Be More Immune To Drug Temptations?

Can a sound and continuing education program provide at least part of the solution to community drug problems among young citizens? This question is not only being asked by leaders of the Twin Falls School District but administrators, teachers and students are joining forces to find the answer.

In the discussion stage for some time, the program is now in motion in junior and senior high schools. The general idea being an informed citizenry is capable of making a better decision. One of the first steps necessary in meeting any problem is to admit the problem exists. Twin Falls school officials have done this. They say it is not at a crisis stage as yet but too many young people indulge in the use of drugs, unaware of the full consequences. Purpose of the program is not to scare the students with imaginative stories and fake films, but to provide scientific information as to what the results can be and let the student make his own decision, says Paul Ostry, vice principal of the local high school and one of the leaders in establishing the present program.

"Scare tactics are outmoded and ineffective," Mr. Ostry says. "We have to be logical with today's intelligent and resourceful young people." John Lawrence, high school principal, has recommended the program be conducted in three major directions. First, comes the education of teachers and administrators. Next, the parents must be made aware of the extent of drug use and methods by which they can recognize use. Last, and possibly most important, the program must reach the young people themselves and they must become personally involved in the project, he points out.

Among the first to take up the cause were the O'Leary Junior High School staff and Parent-Teacher Association. Carl Snow, principal at O'Leary, said he has discussed the matter with his student office and is relying on their advice and assistance. Parent-Teacher Association members are giving their full support to an educational program for adults and students and have encouraged the school to go ahead with efforts to bring drug information to the students.

MARIJUANA PELLET IS BURNED by Paul Ostry, vice principal of the Twin Falls High School, during a class lecture on drug use. Here Dee Stone and Kevin Nelson are given opportunity to familiarize themselves with odor of burning marijuana.

"Unless we take some action now, the problem we have will snowball into greater proportions until it is completely out of hand, as it is in some of the larger cities. We don't know education holds the whole key, but we feel it will help," Mr. Snow said.

Several meetings have been held to acquaint teachers, even in the first grade level, with the problem and with educational phases planned in the schools. Administrators from the local district are attending special training sessions and information conferences to become informed on all phases of drug use and reaction.

A special library containing films and written material on all mind altering drugs is being established at CSI and plans are under way at the high school and junior high schools to collect material where students may obtain information on a specific drug or identify marijuana leaves.

Mr. Ostry uses a special kit illustrating drugs, marijuana and the forms in which they will be found, when lecturing high school classes. Other items such as a large dial on which the student can select a drug and quickly obtain a description and summary of results of overdose, are made available to students for their own studies.

Just how extensive drug use is circumscribed in the local area cannot be answered completely by law enforcement or school officials. As one school official estimated, however, any student would probably be able to obtain some type of "acid" or "pot" within about 30 minutes if he or she made the effort.

DIAL-DRUG, a quick method for identifying and picking out symptoms of use of mind-altering drugs is typical of research material which will be available in school drug libraries. High school principal John Lawrence explains the dial to Betty McIntyre and Larry Culver.

PREPARED KIT SHOWS various types of drugs and forms of marijuana leaves. This is one of the many aids used by Paul Ostry in class lectures to help students identify drugs.

School officials feel drug education may be a major factor in curbing "curiosity" use and body abuse from drugs.

Electronically Produced Music Planned For Expo '70 Golden Picture Pavilion

Visitors to Kodak's Golden Picture Pavilion at EXPO 70 in Osaka, Japan, will be treated to one of the most exciting developments in the world of entertainment in many years—electronically produced music.

Kodak's musical theme for EXPO 70 has been produced by the Moog synthesizer, a new electronic instrument which the United States music industry regards as the greatest innovation since the appearance of the piano 100 years ago.

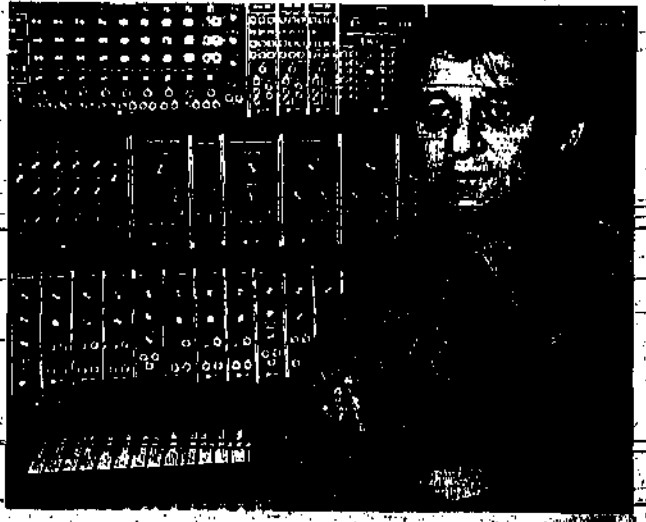

Different variations of music produced by the Moog Synthesizer will be heard in four of the five Kodak exhibit areas in the Pavilion.

German-born Kingsley formerly conducted the Vienna Symphony and a number of Broadway musicals before turning to composition. The Impresario, Sol Hurok, has signed Kingsley to compose the music for the Pavilion. Of his composition for the Pavilion, he said: "I have composed a different variation of the same melody, each with its own mood, to be played in each of the exhibit areas of the pavilion."

COMPLICATED MUSICAL SYSTEM known as the Moog synthesizer, will produce for Kodak's EXPO 70 pavilion. Here noted composer and arranger Kingsley is seen beside the unique instrument for which he has prepared a different variation of the same melody, each with its own mood, to be played in each of the exhibit areas of the pavilion.

Special Education Fills Bill Through Student Association, Job Opportunities

By ANNETTE JENKINS
Times-News Staff Writer

During the teenage years it seems the most important thing in life is to be accepted by others of the same age and be involved in their activities.

This year the special education students of this age group were given a building at the high school and included in the activities there. Previously these students were in the same building with children of elementary school age near Robert Stuart Junior High School.

The special education students are happy with the new arrangement and school officials agree it is working out well.

Although these students have a different schedule than the other high school students, they can take some high school classes. The girls can sign up for home economics, spelling, while the boys are in the physical education and vocational classes.

One student, Larry Ek, is especially pleased with the new location, because he is able to take classes at the high school which were not available at the special education building. He is in the space science class and school officials say he keeps pace with his class.

Nearly all the special education students give the same reason for liking their new situation — associating with students their own age.

Gary Hartruff says now he can enjoy attending the school basketball games and know some of the players. He says the younger children at the other school "get on your nerves."

One girl said even though she enjoys knowing students her own age and doing things they do, she sometimes misses the smaller children. Cecilia Lappi said she got to help with some of the classes at the other building and loved being around them.

Doyt Simcoe, director of special services for the school district, said the school administration has been wanting to move the older students to the high school for several years, but the lack of classroom space had stopped them.

Last summer a temporary classroom building was constructed there and made the move possible. Mr. Simcoe says it is just a simple matter of having these young people with their peer group.

Greg Otto, vocational rehabilitation counselor for the school district, said it is easy to see the change in these students. He points out anyone functions better when around persons with a higher caliber of learning. Many of the students, he said, have matured considerably from being around youngsters their own age.

The special education students have been given assistance in finding their way around the high school by members of the Teen Organization for Retarded Children (TORCH). These teenagers act as big brothers and sisters to the students and have helped them get acquainted. They also have hosted parties and dances for them.

HELPING TWO OF the special education students with their lessons is Margaret McCurdy, center, a member of the Teen Organization for Retarded Children (TORCH). This group has assisted the students at the high school this year and the members act as big brothers and sisters to the special member, said the students have been very well accepted at the high school and also feels many of the other students have learned from them. She helps the special education students one hour a day with their lessons.

Mr. Otto says there are two theories on educating these students. One is isolation from others their own age and the other is integration. The Twin Falls school has come up with a compromise for the program. The students have some classes in the high school, but return to their own building for other basic studies.

Special education students' schedules differ in another way from those of the regular students. Each has a job where he works half a day. He attends class part of the day and receives on-the-job training the other half day.

The girls have jobs at motels and nursing homes where they work in the kitchens or do cleaning and laundry. The boys are employed by auto parts houses, bottling plants, dairies and in offices doing janitor work and odd jobs.

Mr. Otto said most of the employers are pleased with the students' eagerness to work. He points out this program is to give the students work experience and learn good work habits.

When they are on their own and apply for a job they can point to their previous employment record.

The employers feel these students are not so easily bored with the tedious routine tasks which accompany most business and are of necessity. Roy Birrell, Seven-Up Bottling Co., has two of the students working for him. One of the boys missed his ride from Hansen one day and walked all the way to Twin Falls just to go to work, he said. The other walked to Kimberly once for the same reason.

There are presently 15 students at the high school special education school. They can stay at the school until they are 21, since it is a state supported program. The goal, of course, is for them to be self-sufficient members of society when they reach this age.

Present employers are Maple Valley Manor, Inc., Wendell; St. Benedict's long term and extended care unit, Jarome; Keystone Seeds, Inc., Hazelton; Skyview and Heritage manors, Rocky Mountain Harvester, Inc., Seven-Up Bottling Co., Abbott's Auto Supply, Holiday, In-Young's Dairy, H. King Co., Ron's Custom Upholsters, Mrs. Lilla Waller and the College of Southern Idaho.

On the list of past employers are Sholly's Market, Bull, Ida Gem Dairy, Jerome; Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., Rogerson Restaurant, Union Motors, Bertie's Pastry Furnis, Kirkman Diner's School Transportation, Happy's Automotive, Try National Laundry and Dry Cleaners, Dean Kendrick's Phillips 66, Abbe Urqugen Oldsmobile Buick, OK Tire stores, Children's Village, Western Salvage Co., Western Nursery, Volca Builder's Supply, United Automotive, F. W. Woolworth Co., Warberg's 3-Minute Car Wash, Happy Day School and Arctic Circle Drive Ins.

Mr. Otto said he welcomes inquiries from any businessman who might be interested in hiring one of the students. He said they encourage the students to try more than one type of job if at all possible.

Access Roads Provide Important Service To Hunters, Fishermen

By JIM HUMPHREY
 Idaho Game Department
 Much of Idaho is in the public domain. Most big game hunting and a large part of fishing is done on national forests and other public lands. Sometimes guys and gals tie down on many airplanes on a backcountry or wilderness area that it looks like a parking lot in town on a Saturday afternoon. Then they fan out to fish for cutthroat trout (a wilderness species), or snag chinook salmon and anadromous steelhead trout. At other times they and sportsmen, outfitters and guides, and go with them from the landing strips to base camps for quality big game hunting that can be equalled only in a few places on the North American continent.

SPORTSMAN ACCESS SIGN, now standardized and erected nationally by state highway departments, was designed and promoted by Idaho men. Jim Graham, Boise, regional conservation educator of the Fish and Game Department, above, was instrumental in getting this standardized design adopted nationally.

Boise, the state capital, is such a place, but does not stand alone. Idaho's rugged interior is fringed with lowland plains, valleys and foothills thronging with people. The closeness of backcountry or populated areas, however, is a mixed blessing. Whether in the wooded hills north and east of Boise, or other crowded sections, landholders provide that townspeople, logging and sometimes committing acts of vandalism. More often than not, boys armed with small bore rifles and airguns are blamed. But in all truth, city dwellers of all ages and both sexes, seeking outdoor respite from a way of life that gives no quarter, also are suspect.

As more and more land is reclaimed from the "protective" wildlife habitat side of the ledger by drainage, spraying, leveling, farming, methods, dam, impoundments, clearing of woodlots, urban sprawl, more sites are desperately needed for public hunting and production of upland game birds and migration waterfowl, and for access to these sports. The Idaho Fish and Game Department, often in cooperation with federal, state, county and even city governments, gave high priority to a long-range program of accepting land for public access units as early as 1955.

So far the effort, though maximum and still having top priority, has not been enough. The selling and draining of private lands reduces the amount of public shooting grounds where shotgunners can ply their sport faster than new ones can be found.

More key land is needed, plus the development of sites already acquired by the Idaho Fish and Game Department.

Last year in Idaho, just a shade under three-quarters of a million dollars in federal aid funds were available for fish and wildlife restoration projects during this fiscal year, ending June 30. That means the state's matching fund of 25 per cent will bring the figure to a cool $1 million. This was an increase over the previous year of almost $75,000 in federal aid funds to this state, not counting Idaho projects to be financed under the new Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR).

Over the years, 125 public access sites have been acquired by the department, and many of them have been developed with roads, parking areas, fences, catlewards, boat ramps and sanitation facilities, as needed. Actually, making places for people to play, as well as fish and hunt, is a cooperative venture. These places attract picnickers and others along with sportsmen — and some litterbugs and even vandals. Several areas are becoming garbage dumping grounds. Yet no money is available for cleanup jobs, or retaining a caretaker, even part-time. Department funds cannot be diverted for the benefit of recreation programs, except those related to expanding fishing and hunting opportunities throughout the state.

Various cooperative arrangements have been made in several parts of the state between department representatives and county commissioners and other community officials and organizations to meet these needs. Sometimes other state and federal officials help get the job done.

For example, the State Highway Department now erects standardized signs along the U. S. highways of all states, including Idaho. Those used in Idaho are paid for out of Fish and Game Department funds. It also is noteworthy that a department employee, Regional Conservation Educator, Jim Graham, Boise, designed the Sportsman Access sign and promoted its use as a standardized marker along all of the nation's highways.

Most of the development work done on public access sites and most of the land itself were paid for out of Idaho Fish and Game department funds, rather than federal aid funds, according to Vernon Rich, Federal Aid Coordinator. Federal aid funds, plus state matching money, has gone mainly for the acquisition and development of big game winter ranges and public game bird and waterfowl shooting areas. More key winter ranges are needed in certain regions for future hunting there, and more public marshes and coverts are needed to give the

The Money Box

BY FRANK SCHELL

From H. P. Hailey, Idaho: I have a 1941 five dollar gold piece. It is an inverted Indian head design. In what condition? Where you usually find the mint mark the engraver had engraved his initials. They are H.P. Does this change the value? What is the market on a coin like this?

Answer: The coin you have is the standard United States Mint Eagle. This coin, together with the Quarter Eagle ($2.50) of the same series is unique in United States coinage since it is the only coinage struck with an "incuse," or sunken design. The design and letters on all other coins were struck with raised features, while these two gold pieces were struck with the design below the surface of the coin.

Believe me, it is responsible for these designs, and you will find the initials "H.P." on all of these coins struck from 1906 to 1929. The presence of the initials does not change the value. The market value for this particular date, 1941, is in the condition you describe, is about $4.00. Gold coins were struck in value about 25 per cent in the past few months, but this is approximately what dealers are asking for this coin. It is not a particularly scarce date minting was approximately 915,000 coins.

From D.E.S., Twin Falls, Idaho: Is it true the United States has fifteen mints at one time? If so, where were they located?

Answer: If I attempted to give you all the information I have available on the United States Mints I would need the whole edition of the newspaper and not just a small column. However, I can give you a brief summary. The United States has operated a total of seven mints during its history. These were located at: Charlotte, North Carolina (mintmark "C"); Carson City, Nevada (mintmark "CC"); Dahlonega, Georgia (mintmark "D"); Denver, Colorado (mintmark "D"); New Orleans, Louisiana (mintmark "O"); Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (no mint mark) and San Francisco, California (mintmark "S").

The mint at Charlotte, North Carolina and Dahlonega, Georgia struck only gold coins. It is not generally known a great amount of gold was produced near these mints. We generally think of gold production as confined to the western mountains, but a lot of coinage came from Georgia and South Carolina. A number of private mints also existed in the area, and the coinage from these private mints is very rare.

The Denver, Colo. mint was established long after the Dahnlonga mint, so the "D" mintmark can be identified with the dates on the coins.

Philadelphia has traditionally never imprinted its coins with a mintmark since it is the original mint. However, during World War II, when silver five cent pieces were struck, the letter "P" was included on the reverse, over the dome of Monticello, to distinguish the change in metal from the original nickel.

Best you visit your local library and read it if you are interested. Briefly, the Confederate States took over this mint during the Civil War, but struck only a small amount of coinage, due to a lack of metal.

The San Francisco Mint was closed in 1955, but recently reopened in coin proof sets and some planer coinage. Mints which are presently striking coins are Philadelphia, Denver, and in a small quantity, San Francisco. All other mints have been closed for some time.

The column is still searching for trade tokens (nickies) and would appreciate any information or leads as to their locations. (Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.)

Librarian's Report Given At Shoshone

SIOSHONE — The City Librarian's report for the past year was given at a meeting in general type, 91 on the pay shelf, 66 non-fiction and 172 for juveniles.

Mrs. Marx Nielsen, librarian, states 52 books were donated, 41 for adults and 11 for juveniles.

TIMES-NEWS Book Review

By DAVID WOODHEAD
Twin Falls Public Library

Many visitors to the library are in search of a book that is humorous. It is for this type of reader that Gillian has written "Manxmouse," a comic account of the adventures of a porcelain mouse come alive.

Manxmouse, the hero, was created by an English porcelain-maker of mice. Into a cat's paw of Angarose Park, Gillian has written the body of an opossum, and was colored a pale blue.

Worse yet, he had no tail! Still, he possessed a sort of mouse personality touched off by his cheerful smile and his happy frame of mind. So despite his somewhat homely appearance, the porcelain-maker of mice decided to keep for himself this mixed-up mouse. He named him Manxmouse, after the tailless cat that lives on the Isle of Man near England.

The reasoned Manxmouse would serve as a reminder in him of what might happen should he have a tail. He decided to drink a bit too much cider.

Unfortunately Manxmouse had other lions, one of which he had to beat. Truly, is the story, set.

The reader at once falls in love with this likeable mouse who travels about the English countryside and down the streets of London befriending all whom he meets. His acquaintances include all types of nobles, most of whom warn him to beware of the Manxcat. Finally, it is his actual encounter with the feline cat that designs the climactic scene of hopefulness, for Manxmouse refuses to give in to the worldly Doom sent out to him. "Manxmouse, the story of 'the mouse who knew no fear', is a captivating spoof to be welcomed by all those looking for a humorous treat."

Bridge Urged At Hagerman

HAGERMAN — Bill Haines, Gooding, a member of the Gooding County Planning Board, Joe Looper, Jim Freeman and Allan Johnson, members of the Wendell Chamber of Commerce, met with the Hagerman Valley Chamber this week to discuss the possibility of constructing a bridge across the Snake River near Hagerman.

It was felt that a bridge constructed at this site would make it more feasible to reach the fossil beds and the new farming area west of the river.

Merle Owsley was appointed chairman to look into this situation further. He requested that Mr. Haines and Duane Matron work with him on this project.

The Chamber voted to pay Glenn Hendrickson $25 to help reimburse him for expenses for the Pony League baseball team last summer.

Exchange Student From Finland Finding Life Different In Small Rural Town

HANSEN — Like many exchange students in this country, Arja Makela, 16, Lahli, Finland, wondered what it was going to be like attending school in a large American city.

She is still wondering because on arrival in the United States she found she had been assigned the Hansen High School in a community of about 400 persons. Arja comes from a city of 85,000 in Finland where she attends a private high school. She says she has found life in Hansen quite different to say the least.

Well accepted by her fellow students she has had an opportunity to participate in all school activities and organizations of interest to her. She is a member of the Pep Club, Drill Team and participates in tumbling. She also has a part time job in the Hansen school office.

In Finland she lives only about six miles from the ski area and at Hansen she is about 25 miles from Magic Mountain. Skiing she said, is different in Finland in that terrain is more suited to cross country and skiers may ride a lift to the top of a ridge and then ski for a number of miles cross-country including long skis. Some downhill terrain and even some hiking. She has been skiing about three years and is happy she has not missed the winter activity.

"Here we ski downhill and this is the only way—a time a day than we could at home," she said.

In Hansen she is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Norris who live east of the town. She and Susan Norris will both graduate from the Hansen High School this spring, but Arja will attend for another year after returning to Lahli to make up for being away from the school there.

She feels it is worth it for the additional experience she is gaining by a year in the United States' educational system.

A student of several foreign languages, Arja studied English the past six years and has also studied Swedish, French and German.

She has had little difficulty with the language in this country except for slang and the fact Americans are inclined to speak too rapidly.

Since her arrival in August she has visited the Sawtooth mountains and other scenic areas and accompanied the Norris family to California at Christmas time where she had an opportunity to visit Disney Land, the San Diego Zoo and take a short ocean cruise.

There she also visited a friend who had spent two months in Lahli last year as an exchange student from California.

Miss Makela says she plans to visit California again after graduation and before her return to Finland next summer.

In Lahli, Arja's parents operate a textile shop and she has two sisters and a brother attend school there.

SKIING IN IDAHO is somewhat different than in Finland, says Arja Makela, center, a frequent visitor to the Magic Mountain slopes. An exchange student at the Hansen High School this is from a town of 85,000 population and finds much contrast in Hansen, a town of about 400 persons. Popular in the local high school she enjoys skiing with Dean Perrygrove, left, and her adopted sister, Susan Norris, right. She is also active in Pep Club, tumbling and the Hansen Drill Team.

As a member of the Norris family, she has a "sister" Susan, Linda, who attends Idaho State University at Pocatello, and a "brother," Marvin, in the eighth grade. The Norris family farms east of Hansen and she finds this quite different than her way of life in Lahli. The country is also different and she said she found it difficult to believe those who told her this is actually a desert after witnessing some three weeks of rain.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Making candle holders may be an interesting but profitable and has selected the Idaho Youth Ranch as the beneficiary of whatever profit the hobby may bring in. She first became interested in the project, she says, about a year ago. Her first holders were styled from some she had seen in a store in Salt Lake City, but such with some of her own personal touches.

Mrs. Anderson said she takes such items as old salt trays, drinking glasses, small fruit jars and odd shaped dishes. After acquiring the desired shape, they are glued together and patterns of heavy lace and braided are glued on them for more decoration. Next she paints them in various colors, using an antique paint and followed with clear varnish. The large candles are made in bright colors to pick up the lace pattern colors.

After she displayed the candle-holders at a bazaar in the Christ Church here, last fall, Mrs. Anderson said she had several orders to make them for Christmas gifts. Since that time she has made several others, big six on hand at this time ready to turn into a project for her own. She has selected to give the candle-holders or sell them and give the money to the Idaho Youth Ranch, RUPERT. She selected the ranch because of personal knowledge of good she feels is accomplished there.

It takes about five hours work to make each holder, though no more than about one and one-half hours a day is given to the project, as the paint must dry. She has sold them for a minimum price of about $3.00, trying to get back just what she has invested in them. She is rapidly running out of lace and dyes, however, and has had to buy them for the most recently made items.

Mrs. Anderson said she always has a special hobby and one of her most recent ones is making Christmas tree ornaments. She has worked at this for several years and now enough for a large Christmas tree.

CANDLEHOLDER-MAKING has come back into fashion after some 100 years but as illustrated by Mrs. Kelli Anderson, Shoshone, it is no longer to supply standard household equipment, but now provides an artistic touch. Mrs. Anderson uses odd shaped dishes, bottles, ash trays and the like.

Drug Education Program Undertaken In Schools

termining how many youngsters have taken some form of drugs at one time or another but most difficult say the percentage in the schools would be high.

Most, however, agree the majority of the students only try it one or two times and satisfy their curiosity, then forget it.

Many feel they are being left out if they haven't at least tried various types of pills and marijuana. Some have had unpleasant experiences and have become frightened. Others are eager to say they have used drugs, to maintain a status, when in reality they have not.

In nearly all of the classes where he has lectured, Mr. O'Leary says, before the class is over several have related their own experiences with drugs.

"Some display a knowledge so close to fact there is no question they have a personal relationship with some types of drugs," Mr. O'Leary explains.

Anything he has presented on for two class sessions on drugs, students have been highly receptive.

"They want to know more about drugs and marijuana and the class participation is overwhelming," he added.

Paul O'Leary, a burly, middle-aged man, is a member of the class sessions and students are given an opportunity to detect the small amount of the smoke so they can recognize it.

Ernest Ragland, school superintendent, said the study must be continuing and one designed to reach all students and instructors.

Just how it can be permanently fitted into the overall curriculum has not been determined, but as high school officials say, students could be included in almost any class from English class themes written on drugs to the study of human biology reactions in biology and science classes or a breakdown of the drug itself in chemistry classes.

Mr. Snow said plans have been made at O'Leary to have members of the local Medical Society and law enforcement agencies meet with the students.

Both groups have offered full cooperation. Mr. Snow said. Twin Falls Jay-C-Ettes have also joined the campaign providing informational material and conducting poster contests among lower grades.

A district meeting was held last month for all teachers of the district from first through 12th grades in which the State Board of Pharmacy information and education officer, Robert W. Goerzler, explained the work of his department. He also presented educational information in help classes in explaining drug use and control in the classroom and advised what action should be taken when drug use is suspected.

Magic Valley school administrators who have attended a special drug institute in Denver, Colo., last month, will hold a state session here April 2 and 3 for administrators and teachers of the Fourth District.

Administrators say it will cost some money to add drug studies to the curriculum but there is a possibility for federal funding.

Mr. O'Leary said concerned citizens are asked to encourage congressional delegates to support legislation that would provide assistance.

Counseling officers of the high school such as Richard Baum, vice principal, have had considerable contact with the local drug problem and have also worked in research and training programs.

Mr. O'Leary said when a student's school record shows a distinct change in routine such as recurring tardiness or a decline in grade standings or when it is known he is emotionally disturbed over problems at home, in school or with his job or job friend he becomes a likely suspect for drug use and is usually contacted by school officials or counselors.

Others come to realize they are in deep water because of growing drug use as an escape from problems and voluntarily contact a counselor, administrator or teacher. These can use the hospital recuperation center in the hospital but the concern is for the student who simply drops out of school and thus breaks contact with those most likely to help.

2 Castleford Scouts Earn Eagle Rank

CASTLEFORD — Two Castleford youths, members of Troop 1, sponsored by the Castleford Scouters Club, received the Eagle badge, highest rank in Scouting at a court of honor Wednesday evening in the United Methodist Church Fellowship hall.

They are Terry Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kramer, 15, and Steve Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John (Pit) Peterson. Both are 15 years old and sophomores at the Castleford High School. Maurice Guerry is Scoutmaster of Troop 1.

Ivan Skinner, Twin Falls, advancement chairman for the Snake River Boy Scout Council, spoke on four important qualities for success in Scouting: persistence, ambition and self-discipline.

Darl Glead, Scout executive for the council, spoke briefly on the work of Scout leaders and introduced Gerald Shackelford, of the Sunset District of the Snake River council, and Dale Christiansen and Lloyd Smith, both, who both hold the Silver Beaver award, for service as adult leaders in Scouting.

Gary Kaufman and Tim Quilley were awarded the Star rank and Don Vorhees, Brad Bishop, Rob Hadley and Bill Swancara were presented Star rank.

John Peterson received second class award.

Don Kramer, assistant Scoutmaster, acted as master of ceremonies. Rolly Senften, original-council member from Castleford, and Nelson Ripa, present member of the Sunset district board and past chairman of the Snake River Council, were introduced.

Other's honored included Frank Wells and Delbert Alexander, former scout leaders, and Gale Conner, Jim Hultberg, Ed Novacek and Mr. Kramer, all of whom hold the Eagle rank.

To Give Eskimos Aircraft Carrier

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI) — The state Senate Affairs Committee Thursday approved a resolution urging the Department of Defense to give the Eskimos of little Diomedes Island an aircraft carrier.

It seems it was warmer than usual in winter in the Bering Strait. Ice did not form as quickly as it generally does, leaving the villagers without adequate communications with the mainland.

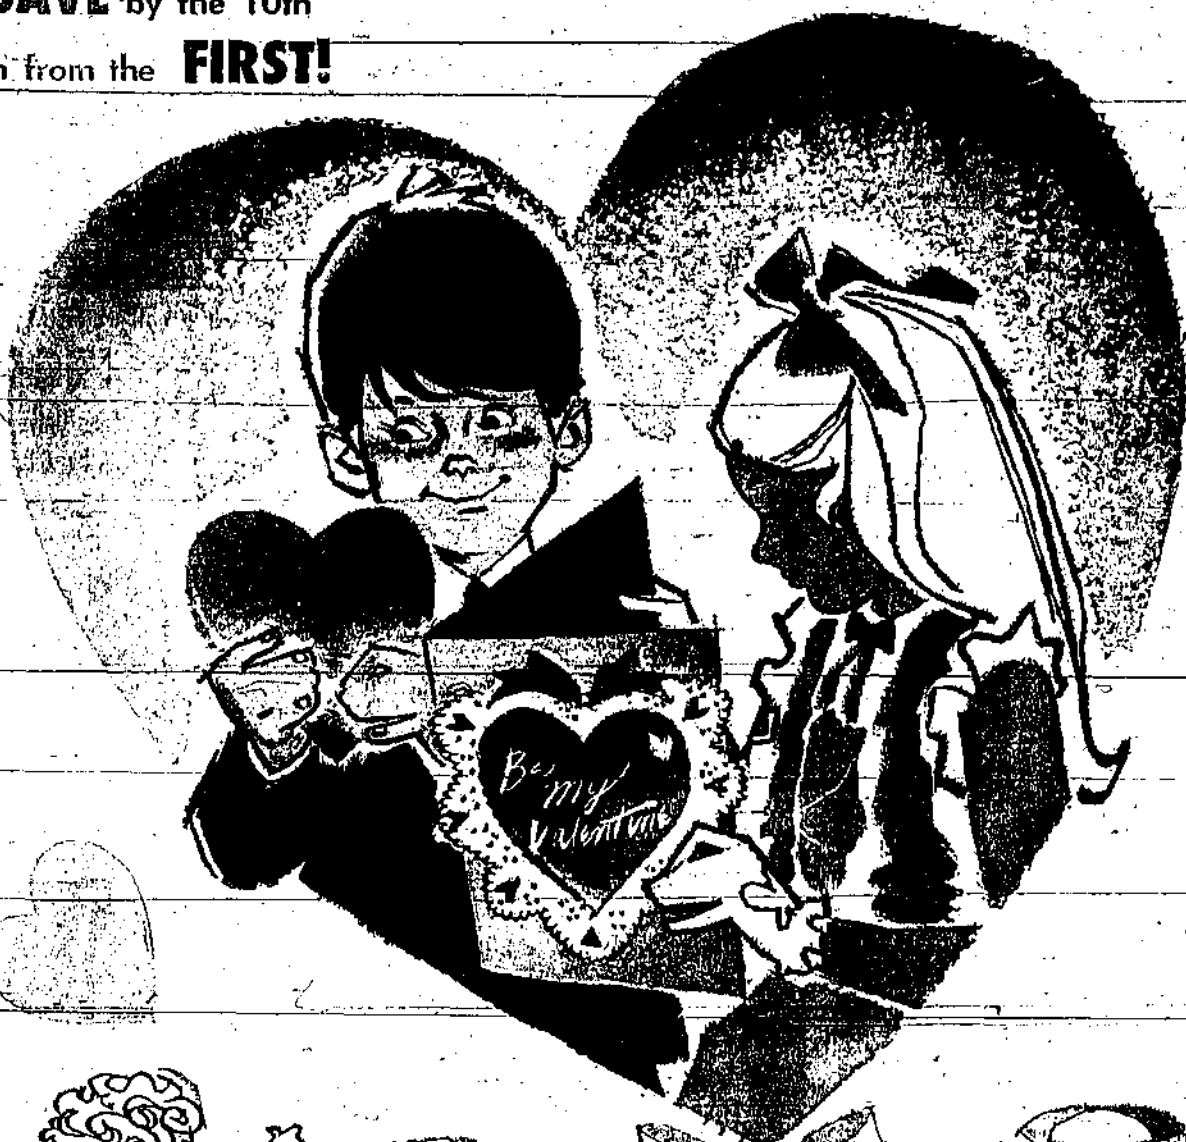

Sen. Bob Blodgett, D-Teller, who sponsored the resolution, said the Eskimos could use the carrier as a permanent all-weather landing strip.

Rejects Sale Of Ailing Chickens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford W. Hardin has turned down a controversial proposal that would have allowed human consumption of chickens infected with cancer-like viruses.

Hardin rejected a proposal submitted to his department which would have allowed processors to trim off parts of chickens affected with minor signs of tumors and sell the remaining parts for human food.

Hardin said federal inspectors will continue to condemn all poultry showing signs of the disease, outlawing its use for human consumption but allowing it to be used in pet food.

IOOF Lodges

BURLEY — The Canton and Ladies Auxiliary, Rupert No. 10, held a joint installation of officers in the Rupert IOOF Hall.

Installed were Mrs. LeRoy Fenton, president of Ladies auxiliary; Patricia Milligan, Rupert No. 10, and Patricia Arbogast, vice president. Herbert Kennedy was re-installed as captain and Francis Fenstermaker was installed as lieutenant of the Canton, Rupert No. 10.

Serving as installing officers were Col. LeRoy Fenton, Rupert; Mrs. Hazel Schwaepler, Dectia; Brig. Gen. Robert Bryan and Mrs. Bryan, Gonsville, as aides and Col. Alvin Knowlton, Fairfield, as adjutant. Ruth Harrison, Fairfield, and Keith Rowland, Idaho Falls, were installing chaplains.

In the installing guard were Adj. Knowlton, Eula Shook, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jordan, all of Wood River Valley No. 21. Brig. Gen. Fred Anderson was officier of the guard of honor.

Brief talks were given by Brig. Gen. Robert Bryan, Capt. Kennedy, Col. Fenton and Mrs. Fenton, the new president.

Nancy Johnson, officer of the day, introduced distinguished guests, including Marjorie Tachka, Idaho Falls, president; Ruth Harrison, Fairfield, vice president; Patricia Arbogast, Dectia, hospital matron; Velma Fenton, Rupert, banner bearer; Esther Arbogast, Turley, flight aide to president; Nancy Johnson, Burley, officer of the guard, and Eula Shook, Shoshone, reporter.

Other guests were Brig. Gen. Bryan, Gooding, Department Commander; Col. Knowlton, Fairfield, officer of the guard in the council and Col. Fenton, of First Regiment.

MAJ. Kennedy of the 8800th Battalion; Brig. Gen. R. T. Arbogast; Edith Clevenger, Burley, past assembly president, Keith Rowland, Idaho Falls, past grand master, and D. Johnson, Idaho Falls, right aide to junior past president, also a past president of the association, were other guests.

The program included two piano solos by Tom Clark, Rupert, and a short sketch on Old Fellowship and the life of Thomas Wiley who founded the canton and auxiliary given by Mrs. Herbert Kennedy, junior past president.

Mrs. Fenton, president, presented Mrs. Schwaepler and Mrs. Kennedy each a gift in appreciation for their work. Mrs. Fenton's yearbooks were distributed.

The opening and closing thoughts were given by Mrs. Schwaepler. Guests attended from auxiliary at Pocatello, Wood River, and Rupert, including Ann Dutton, Rupert, and Velma Fenton were hostesses for the salad-bar refreshments.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 23 in Burley honoring past presidents of the Ladies Auxiliary Patriarchs Militant.

72nd Birthday Anniversary Is Observed

HANSEN — Mrs. Berta Duncan was honored at birthday anniversary party and reception at her home planned by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Durl Duncan, Mountain Home.

Assisting with festivities were her son and family, Mrs. and Mrs. George Duncan, Twin Falls, and her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Berry, Twin Falls. Another son, Clarence Duncan Jr., was unable to attend, but telephoned his mother from his home in Livonia, Mich.

It was Mrs. Duncan's 72nd birthday anniversary. A cake, made by a friend, Mrs. Larry Lock, Mountain Home, centered the reception table. Cupcakes, made by Mrs. Cissy Stephens, wife of the Faith Assembly of God pastor, Twin Falls, and by a granddaughter, Mrs. David Porlier, were also served. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

In addition to her family and grandchildren, friends from Twin Falls, Hansen and Kimberly attended.

POLYNESIAN FRYERS
Broil small, tender broiler-fryers (now on plentiful foods list) several inches from heat with a brushing of melted margarine. Turn once after 30 minutes and broil 15-30 minutes longer. Serve with a Polynesian sauce of pineapple preserves sharpened with vinegar and mixed with silver almonds.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL RAY JAMES

Newlyweds Reside In New Jersey

DUREN — Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ray James are residing in Fair Mountain, N. J., where Mr. James is stationed with the Army after serving in Vietnam.

Mrs. James is the former Gloria Jean Johnson, Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Johnson, and Mr. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory James, Durley.

The couple realized their wedding vows in an evening ceremony Dec. 28, at Durley LDS Stake Tabernacle, Bishop Curtis Pickett conducted the double ring ceremony.

The bride repeated her wedding vows wearing a floor-length white satin wedding gown trimmed in white lace accented with seed pearls. It was fastened with a scooped neckline and long, lily-petal sleeves. Her elbow-length veil of tulle was held by a lace petal cap. She carried a cascading arrangement of white carnations and red roses accented with silver streamers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Linda Madden, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jocelyn Felman and Judy Felman. Junior bridesmaid was Gail James, sister of the bridegroom. Jana Lee Felman was flower girl.

Paul Peterson was best man. Ushers were Dennis Larson and Craig Dayley. Mike Luna, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

The newlyweds greeted guests in the recreation hall after the wedding ceremony before a arch decorated with greenery and tied with red bows flanked by beauty baskets of white chrysanthemums and white carnations accented with red ribbon bows.

The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white lace cloth accented with red bows and centered with a three-tiered white wedding cake with the layers separated by pillars and swans and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom in a double ring of lilies of the Valley. The cake was decorated with red roses.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Julia Luna, sister of the bride, and gifts were displayed by Joan Sellers.

A bridal shower was hosted for the bride by Jocelyn Felman and Judy Felman.

DEAR ABBY: What is an old lady supposed to do when she's married to an old man with young ideas? I am 69 and Ollie is 72.

Right now he has two tubes on the string. One is about 60 and lives across town. The other lives right next door. She's about 50 and doesn't have the brains she was born with. Ollie recently went to his doctor for a physical and came back saying the doc told him he'd never see a 50-year-old in such good shape! Just like a boy of 25!

How did a man have to be before he slows down, Abby? He doesn't bother me, thank heavens, but we have only one car and he's always using it.

BALTIMORE

DEAR BALTIMORE: Even though Father Time will blow the whistle on Mother Nature, so be patient. And in the meantime, let's have a 50-50 arrangement with the car.

DEAR ABBY: We have two boys, 12 and 14. My husband opened a savings account for each of them when they were very young, and each year he puts several hundred dollars into their accounts, plus the money they receive for birthdays, Christmas, etc.

Our problem is trying to get the boys to earn money and save it on their own. What if they do a job they'd rather give up on, candy, records, and foolishness if their father did not insist that half of every dollar earned must go into the bank. This gives them very little incentive to save. They say, "What for? Daddy will only make us put it in the bank."

What do their parents do? Have you any suggestions?

Bethel To Fete Masonic Aides

HAGERMAN — March 11 has been scheduled as Masons and Order of Eastern Star Night by members of Bethel No. 48, International Order of Job's Daughters.

Members of the local Masonic and OES lodges will be honored and given special recognition for their assistance in the Bethel. Special entertainment is planned.

Money-making projects were discussed. Lora Sandy, Librarian, gave an original poem, "The Creation," as her report.

Demonstration Presented On Pincushions

HAGERMAN — Velvet pincushions were the projects for the Hagerman Valley Hobby Club at a recent meeting. Mrs. Robert Tupper demonstrated how to make the pincushions and assisted those who made them.

Mrs. Gerald Duncombe, president, reported on the program, looks for the coming year, and these will be completed by the February meeting and distributed to the members at that time.

Mrs. Arden Lauritzen and Mrs. Elva Wright became new members and will host the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Lauritzen in King Hill. It was noted that will be an all-day work meeting commencing at 10 a.m. A potluck luncheon will be served at noon.

Guests in attendance were Mrs. Bill Brailford, Mrs. Johnny Longshore, Mrs. Harry LeShyne, Sgt. Patsy Fields and Cindy Grimes, all Ingarman, and Mrs. Billie Strickland, Gooding.

Refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Tupper and Mrs. Duncombe. The meeting was held at the Duncombe home.

SIMPLE PLAY EASY TO OVERLOOK

We don't think much of South's cue - spade overall. South was pretty unhappy about it when his partner started by cue-bidding the enemy suit and continued a jump to the spade game.

South was still unhappy after looking over dummy. Somehow or other he felt that trump wouldn't break. Therefore he couldn't really afford to draw them. Furthermore he couldn't afford not to draw them and was between the devil and the deep blue sea.

South didn't give up. After a lot of thought he came up with a very simple play that just about insured his contract. The play was so simple that we feel many players would have overlooked it entirely.

South allowed East to hold the trick. East thought things over carefully and finally judged the best play at his disposal. He led back a trump.

There were still some traps in the play but South ravelled off all his trumps, and then attacking diamonds.

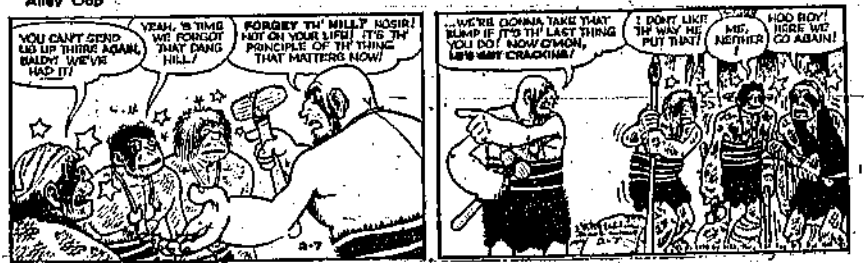

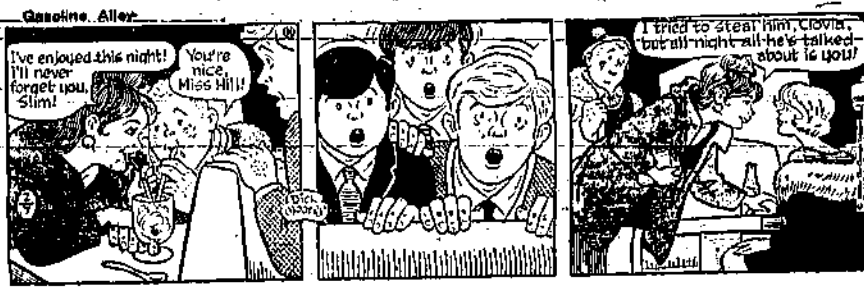

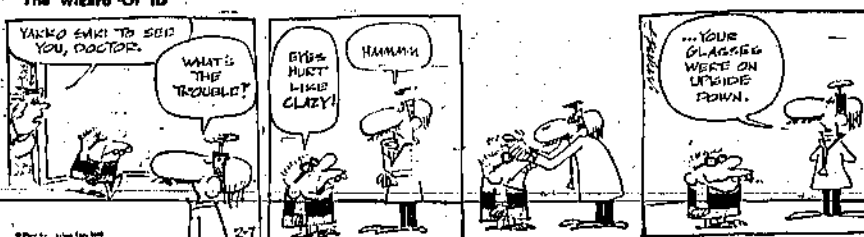

In playing the diamonds he started by leading his jack and continued with the three-spot. If East ducked this South would simply play a third diamond which East would be forced to take with his ace. Now East would have to return a club or a heart. East saw this. Thus he won the second diamond and led a diamond back. South won with his 10, cashed his ace of clubs, entered dummy with a heart and cashed the last two diamonds for his ninth and 10th tricks.

San Francisco Men Have Bigger-Than-Average Feet

ECTO, ENDO AND MESO — nice single girl could find a nice single man with a lot of money? There must be some place where these rich men gather? A. Bollovo there is, young lady, mormor, if you're regular and mormor, you're a mormor, but the rich women gather. Practically everybody is mostly one of these. But practically everybody, too, is some of all three. The ectomorph — tall and skinny — leans toward solidism, upward and so. The mesomorph and sensibility. The endomorph — short and plump — likes sensibility and mobility — good for sales and success. Now if the science boys are correct, everybody in your family can be categorized in the foregoing terms. So, should, try it.

IN CHINESE, English, Japanese, Greek and Arabic it's said, typhoon, pronounced typhon means typhoon... AHE YOUNGSTERS still taught it's more dangerous to be pricked by a pin than by a needle? Such was the erroneous notion you're apt... IF HE SPELLS his name Gray, he's of Scottish extraction, but if he spells his name Grey, he's of English extraction, remember that.

MECHANICS — Did I say there were no fat car mechanics? "Wrong!" writes a subscriber. "We've got one in Ilavro, Mont." Interesting. Next time I head home to Seattle, I'm going by way of Ilavro to check out that fat mechanic. I won't let him work on my car. I'll never let a fat mechanic work on my car. I just want to look him over.

CUSTOMER SERVICE — Q: "Could you tell me where a nice single girl could find a nice single man with a lot of money? There must be some place where these rich men gather? A. FEET — A national shoe seller or shoe store was the continent's shoe size among men. But a San Francisco shoe seller named Rubo Graff says his records show 10 D is the commonest. How do you explain this discrepancy? Why is it the feet of San Francisco men are bigger than the feet of men elsewhere? Must be the hills.

LONGEVITY — A study of the longevity tables indicates college professors and social workers tend generally to have about the same lifespan. It's longer, incidentally, than that of almost any occupational group. Waiters and typewriters tend to have about the same lifespan, too. But it's shorter. Considerably shorter.

THOSE MEDICAL MEN who for so long have been hazing around with hormones now find an injection of same will permit a swordless female swordfish to grow a sword. What do you make of that? WHY MASSACHUSETTS should be that place where the women most outnumber the men is unexplained, but such is said to be the case. Ratio of females to males there is 100 to 93.

Ask Them Yourself

FOR PRESIDENT NIXON

I have heard that when you graduated from Duke University Law School in 1937, you applied to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a position. Is this true?—Albert Cina, Malona, Fla.

● Along with three or four other members of my class, I submitted an application to become a member of the FBI. I never heard anything from that application, however.

FOR ROBERT W. HAACK,

president, New York Stock Exchange
Why are stock prices quoted in eighths, quarters, etc., instead of simply dollars and cents—or, at least, in the decimal system of tenths?—Mrs. Leo Q. McGarrey, Reno, Nev.

● Some historians believe that the Spanish "pieces of eight" used in early trading established the pattern. Others—and I am among them—believe that the practice dates back to the 1790s, when the New York Stock Exchange was founded, and trading was reckoned in British shillings and pence. With a shilling worth a quarter of a dollar at the time and a sixpence worth an eighth of a dollar, the conversion to quarters and eighths was convenient.

FOR RUTH GORDON, actress

Since you frankly admit to being 73, how does a woman of your age maintain such good health and vitality?—Mrs. Henry Spencer, Cincinnati, Ohio

● I'm kind to myself. I got enough rest. I don't overeat. I take a three-mile walk every day. I treat myself like a treasure, which I am to myself.

FOR HUGH LYNN CAYCE,

Director, Cayce Foundation
Is it true that your father, the prophet, Edgar Cayce, said that there was life on the moon but that the pictures taken of it would never be shown in the U.S. because of the panic that would result?—R. D., Green Bay, Wis.

● A rumor. My father wrote that there was no life on the planets.

FOR VICKI GARR, singer

Why do singers come to your eyes when you sing "With Pen in Hand"? I saw you on two different TV shows, and both times I noticed this.—Mrs. Rose Miles, Cressfield, Md.

● My father once told me to sing with my heart, and if I ever find that I can't do that, I'll quit the business. I pick my own material, and I always look for songs that have meaning. If I can't feel them, I don't want to sing them.

FOR HUGH DOWNS

My husband says Vin Scully was the sports announcer eight years ago on the "Today Show"? I say his first name was Jack and his last name began with L. Who was he?—Sue Funk, Pine Bluff, Ark.

FOR FRANK BORMAN, astronaut

Do the astronauts have any way to heat their food while in space, or do they eat something cold?—Phyllis Swart, Las Vegas, Nev.

● In the Apollo spacecraft, the astronauts have a water heater on board, and when they reconstitute their food, it is with warm water.

FOR FORREST H. ANDERSON,

Governor of Montana
Is cattle rustling still a big business?—Conrad Fiorello, Brooklyn, N.Y.

● Livestock rustling in Montana is big business, amounting to approximately $25,000 in losses yearly. Rustlers are becoming more sophisticated, utilizing rapid-transit trucks and other modern equipment, but they still alter brands just as they did in pioneer days.

Viewpoint Sam Levenson, humorist and ex-teacher, recalls how his own children and their friends, 3 to 5 in age, view the fantasy facts of life in his book, "Sex and the Single Child," illustrated by Whitney Darrow, Jr. His own three-year-old Emily, for instance, stated: "I didn't come out of nobody's stomach; I came out of Brooklyn Jewish Hospital."

Levenson says. "At that age, they don't need many specifics.—My wife and I taught them love and morality. Sex education is what moves human beings to fall in love; it's building toward marriage. And if teenagers are in love, they will wait." Commenting on groups calling sex education in schools "Communist," he said: "It's just the opposite. In fact, a leading Russian baby doctor advises, 'Tell children as little as possible.'"

Snow Jobs Although radio-15 weather reports have the highest audiences, the public doesn't realize all the ramifications of the terminology. So the "Pirelli Fuel-Weather Guide" compiled a list of "what to expect." Sampling: "snow" means steady fall for several hours without let-up. "Heavy snow": four to six inches in a 12-hour period. "Snow flurries": short duration...but driving visibility may be reduced to 1/8 mile or less.

Hand Warmer Do you like to go hunting—or just walking in the woods on a snowy evening? You say you would like to—but can't take the cold? Well, here's available on special order only since the demand for it is expected to be less than heavy. It's for real thought, and on sale in a New York boutique appropriately called "The Male Animal." Price is quite reasonable—"two dinosaur teeth (or their equivalent)."

Wedding Guest One of the most interesting girls at Tiny Tim's wedding was not necessarily Miss Vickie. Family Weekly attended and met Miss Sharon Fox, Tiny's devoted fan who puts out a newsletter, "Tiny-Gram." She was so

My Greatest

A wild-boar hunt

The wild boar charged, but the rifle went off before I was ready!

ILLUSTRATION BY GIL COHEN

Czechoslovak frontier for many miles.

After so much frantic telegraphing back and forth, I was happy and excited to actually be where I was—for, a fortnight earlier, I received an invitation from my good friend, Count Stefan, to participate in a wild-boar drive on his estate in northern Czechoslovakia.

Although not a big-game hunter by choice—I prefer wing shooting—I eagerly had accepted the bid.

Light, powdery snow had just commenced to drift down through the twilight, when, through a clump of firs and still another burst in the driveway, I glimpsed a cluster of golden lights. Then I made out the sturdy towers and battlements of Count Stefan's "Shooting Box," effectively silhouetted against the fast-darkening sky.

In an incredibly short time I found myself being warmly greeted by my darkly handsome host, who was my senior by only a few years. "What a joy to welcome you, Frankie" (for some inexplicable reason, most of my European friends add the diminutive to my given name). "I hope we shall have a most memorable shooting." We were destined to have one—most rugged one, too!

Conducted into the main hall where fires blazed in huge chimney pieces set at either end, I was presented to the other guests, of whom I recognized only one, a Frenchman I had served with at Verdun in the First World War.

There were few ladies present since boar hunting is essentially a manly sport, but one young woman immediately captured my attention. She stood tall and ramrod straight, was powerfully built, and had pale blonde hair.

She proved to be a German baroness whom I promptly and privately nicknamed "the Valkyrie." Although most of the other guests used French when not employing their native tongue, the Baroness and her lean, equally blond, air-crazy husband had a fair-to-middling command of a kind of bizarre English.

By the time my host led me aside to his gun room, I—never before having participated in a boar hunt—was experiencing severe doubts as to the wisdom of having come here.

In the gun room, the Count said, with an apologetic shrug, "I fear, Frankie, my friend, I have a small disappointment in store. You see, the rifle I had kept reserved for you was lent to another guest."

He chuckled. "Nevertheless, I can offer you a weapon which has served my family very well over the years. Here is a boar gun which belonged to Tomna Dukla, an uncle of mine, who once owned vast estates in the heart of the Hutschian Range of the Transylvanian Alps."

Count Stefan then lifted from its rack a very handsome muzzle-loading cap-and-ball rifle. At a quick guess, I judged its barrel to be some 29 or 30 inches in length, octagonal in shape, and forged of browned steel. I noted that the weapon's steel lockplate had been skillfully ornamented with engraved stags and roe deer, while on its handsomely shaped trigger guard was the image of a fiercely charging wild boar.

Altogether, this weapon was a museum piece, built, I soon noticed, by a gunsmith named Stoarmer of Herzberg; also that this elegant muzzle-loader, despite its age, was equipped not only with a base for a telescopic sight but also with a pair of set-triggers—about which much more will be said later on!

Correctly, my host assumed I had never handled, let alone loaded or fired a muzzle-loader! My heart sank. While it might be risky enough for an inexperienced hunter to face an enraged boar with a modern repeating rifle, it was quite another matter for a neophyte to face up to a tanker with only one shot at his disposal.

Count Stefan carried only long enough to explain to me the use of a slender forward hair-trigger, which was adjusted to fire at the lightest touch, even of a three-ounce pull, by first pulling hard on the rear or principal trigger.

Next morning I came down to breakfast wearing my American khaki duck-shooting coat, thornproof chaps, and calf-high Rem boots. The other shooters all were clad with neatly knotted linen cravats, smartly tailored formal hunting coats of forest green or field gray, adorned by

IT WAS LATE FALL, and the last leaves had fallen from all save coniferous trees, leaving naked, black branches to reach starkly towards a leaden sky.

The sleek Mercedes-Benz touring car sped through imposing forests crowding in close to the driveway, and smoothly passed a stone gatehouse guarding what Count Stefan Dukla modestly termed his "Shooting Box." In reality, his was a large and picturesque medieval castle of considerable size.

For an hour now I had been driven from Goriachovka, where I had descended from the railroad train, by one of the Count's chauffeurs ever higher into the ruggedly wild Tatras Mountains which straddle the Polish-bright brass buttons and various club insignia. There followed considerable good-natured kidding about my colorless American get-up.

Some of my fellow hunters were amazed and a few appeared uncomfortable that I was going on the drive armed only with a muzzle-loader, firing a soft-lead bullet only slightly smaller than a golf ball!

The sportsmen commenced drawing for posts along the line of guns. I never discovered whether there was anything underhanded about the fact that, somehow, I drew Post No. 13, which lay on the firing line's extreme left. Had Count Stefan reasoned that, ill-armed as I was, the risk of my being overwhelmed by a mob of boars would be lessened by being posted way out in left field?

Neither did I ever ascertain whether it was purely by chance that the Valkyrie had drawn Post No. 13. Bright blue eyes a-twinkle, the Valkyrie reminded me that for the safety of the hunters—was hopefully would drive the boars from the thicket into the firing line—everybody had been warned that no must never shoot ahead of the line unless a boar was close in and definitely charging. The rule was to shoot only after a tusker had passed through the line of guns and was going away.

When we were about to get out of the slozh, I couldn't resist saying with false gaiety, "Well, Brünnhilde, I hope you won't have to lug me off to Valhalla after the drive is over." "Gott forbeet!" she laughed, brushing flakes from long, blonde eyelashes. "Just remember this, mein Amerikantacher friend—be sure to allow the schwein to come very close in before you fire that harqubuss you carry."

She smiled a bit grimly, adding, "I will not be far away. Eff you need help, please to call out!" She patted the stock of the slick modern rifle she carried. "Believe me, these I can handle, vot."

My station and the rough blind I was to occupy lay near the center of a small open space in the woods about 50 feet wide and 100 feet in length. In this clearing, fir trees were stunted and few, probably through lack of soil. Before me stretched a wide area of tangled dark underbrush. By now, fallen snow had grown knee-deep and wind-driven flakes continued to sting my eyes and cheeks.

Looking about, I considered the one shot at my disposal and so picked out a likely fir tree for which—after touching off the old muzzle-loader—I intended to leap with the agility of a flying squirrel if the going got really rough.

Finally, in the far distance sounded a muffled braying of horns, then the brittle clatter of tin pans being beaten on as well as staccato noises created by large wooden rattles being lustily swung; other hunters vigorously whacked the underbrush with long wooden staves.

For how long the hunters had been driving or just in which direction they were advancing, I had no idea. Minutes dragged by; then away off to my right sounded the sharp, spiteful crack of a powerful modern rifle; then came a second shot.

Silence prevailed until, possibly 10 minutes later, a brief volley of flat, dry-sounding reports cracked from the center of the line of guns.

Nearer now and much louder resounded the racket raised by advancing hunters. Before long, the tumult sounded so close I felt confident that at any moment an ear-piercing blast on the chief huntsman's horn would announce an end to the drive and thus put a period to my anxieties.

Quite distinctly I could hear the Baronesse, crouched low and intent in the next blind, cursing over not having sighted even a half-grown pig, let alone a trophy tusker.

I heard such a loud crackling of underbrush from up the game trail that I figured some energetic flanking hunter must be drawing near. But perhaps not? To be on the safe side, I set the hair trigger and with heart beginning to thump like a tomtom, I peered through clouds of madly whirling snowflakes.

Suddenly there he was! The biggest boar since his species quit the Ark. When the tusker sighted me, his tail jerked up and immediately a mass of long, coarse bristles on his neck and shoulder rose up and with the effect that, all in an instant, this monster seemed to have doubled in size! Clattering yellowish, scimitarlike eight-inch tusks, he gathered himself and got under way—black as sin and twice as dangerous.

Somehow, I recalled the Valkyrie's reminder, as shouldered the muzzle-loader and held fire until the beast, plunging through swirls of flying snow, galloped near, nearer. When he was 50 feet away, I aimed—too hastily—for the rifle went off before I was ready because, inadvertently, I had brushed the hair-trigger!

Those of us living in this age of smokeless powder have no idea what a great, blinding cloud of rotten-smelling smoke a single discharge from old-fashioned black powder can immediately cause.

My muzzle-loader kicked like a curriest colt with a tender belly, and, shoulder numb, I was reeled far back on my heels.

Since I could see nothing through the whirling gogamoke, I had no idea whether I'd hit or missed—probably missed because of that confounded hair-trigger.

At any rate, I knew I was now completely defenseless so I made for the haven offered by that sturdy young spruce I'd already selected.

I pulled up mighty short, however, for between the trees and myself another boar had appeared with magic speed! This second tusker might not have been quite as huge as the first, yet he remained most dangerous. I dropped the useless muzzle-loader and changed direction and plunged toward a much smaller tree.

Frantically I grabbed a dangerously slender low branch which proved nowhere near strong enough to keep my legs safely clear of the glistering snow. I was trying to seize a higher branch when something rapped hard on my hanted left foot and nearly sent me sprawling down to almost certain destruction.

I heard somebody yell while I glimpsed the second whirling sharp amid a shower of flying snowflakes to return for another go at my defenseless legs.

Visions of at the least being crippled for life were becoming a distinct probability, when a flat, sharp report cut the icy air a split second before the second boar lurched and commenced to stagger sideways and go floundering crazily off through the heavy snow!

Posting, I watched the huge black animal buck spasmodically until it became lost to sight in the depths of a snow-covered gully.

For the first time, I found time to wonder what had happened to the first boar. I was amazed to make out the great beast hunkered down on the game trail with front legs braced stiffly out before him.

Red little eyes still glaring into, he was coughing and giving convulsive heaves. These spasms ceased and, still quivering, he toppled over onto his side with little fountains of steam rising from between his jaws.

Dropping to the ground, I picked up the muzzle-loader and, trampling a bit, was wiping it free of snow when I heard a feminine voice calling, "Frankie, shall we postpone that trip to Valhalla?"

Delightfully she pounded my snow-powdered shoulder. "Vot a shot! I saw it. You stopped that big one in his tracks! What nerves of iron you must have to shoot so well with a weapon like that vord-old-time muzzle-loader!"

With the ghost of a smile, the Baronesse dropped her gaze to my left foot; the tuak had sliced through the boot's tough rubber sole so deeply that, had it penetrated another quarter of an inch, the whole side of my foot would have been laid open.

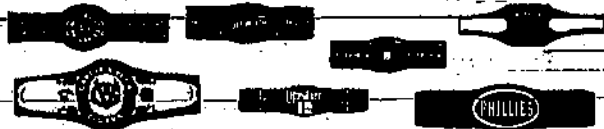

I slung my arms around her and kissed her snow-flecked blonde hair. "Thanks, Brünnhilde, I'll take a rain check on that trip to Valhalla!"

Terrence Wallace, Atlanta contractor, took 2½ inches off his waist in two weeks with Dr. Salls' exercises.

THEY TOOK INCHES OFF WAISTLINE AND HIPS IN 20 MINUTES!

And so can you! Trim down your waist, hips, thighs, arms and other problem areas...turn ugly flab into firm, healthy muscle...look pounds lighter...with the minute-a-day magic of Dr. Salls'

"INSTANT EXERCISE"

Try this revolutionary short-cut for 20 days for just 10¢ a day. It must work or it won't cost you one penny! And no diet to fuss with!

Lorae Thomas, New York, slimmed down her waist, hips and thighs in just 15 days with Dr. Salls' exercises.

Down comes the waistline! In come the hips! Trim go the thighs! Away goes the flab! All in a minute a day with a remarkable set of exercises that's sweeping the country. And no diets!

It's the same basic approach to exercise the astronauts use. Just one can help you shape up better than 24 push-ups a day. A mere 6 seconds daily of this muscle magic can slim down a soft, flabby middle in a week or two. Even strength can be doubled with ultrarapid speed. And all without moving a muscle, without "working out" more than 1 minute a day!

Doctors, nurses, athletes, insurance firms, citizens everywhere are turning to these amazingly simple exercises developed by Alabama Doctor Donald J. Salls. The Navy and Marines have adopted this type of exercise, too. And now even the astronauts!

Why? Simply because isometric exercises, better known to so many as Dr. Salls' "Static Exercises," really do work. In fact, they're so effective they can slim you down without any special diet. And it's been proved...proved over and over again...in research, under independent professional supervision using subjects like you.

Here at last is one type of exercise that appeals to crick-riding, diet-bating Americans...week-end athletes...people who dislike exercise or don't have time. Here is the answer for the desk-bound man who wants to look trimmer, more muscular... for the modern woman who knows so well how important a slimmer, more attractive figure can be... for the older who seeks to improve fitness, figure and life-span by restoring long-neglected muscles without prolonged exercise.

Each of Dr. Salls' wonderfully simple exercises takes 6 seconds. All total just 1 minute per day. Instructions are graded for housewives, executives, teenagers and senior citizens, for superior fitness and prowess in such sports as bowling, golfing, golf. And you can do most of these exercises almost anywhere...at work, waiting for a bus, while shaving. No gadgets are required. There's no extreme exertion, not even heavy breathing!

The revolutionary principle Dr. Salls applies has the impressive support of highly respected educational institutions, leading physiologists, Olympic stars, fashion models, police groups, top pro and college athletes. And Time, Life, Reader's Digest, TV, newspapers, scientific journals have called attention to the exciting concept.

Followers of Dr. Salls' muscle magic report surprising results. Thousands have discovered that the stronger, tighter muscles resulting from the minute-a-day plan can lend quickly to a slimmer figure...even without weight reduction!

So many users of Dr. Salls' exercises also exclaim: "How much better...more alive, more alert, more youthful...I feel!" But specifically, he offers:

Stronger, firmer muscles - slimmer waist, hips, thighs, cubes, upper arms and neck - better muscular coordination - stronger back - improved posture...all without diet.

Results are controlled primarily by the individual's own desires. If a man wants weight-lifter's strength, he can simply concentrate more often on certain of Dr. Salls' exercises. If a housewife seeks a more shapely midriff, a few weeks with his 6-second workouts is indicated.

Yes, now you can have a stronger, slimmer, healthier body without the boredom of old-fashioned exercises or the strain of a diet! Dr. Salls will send a complete set of his instructions in a large, fully illustrated folder, to interested readers who use the coupon on this page. Remember! These exercises are different; just 6 seconds each!

READ WHAT PEOPLE SAY

Mrs. P. McMorrow of White Plains writes: "I reduced my waist 2 inches, my hips 2 inches—all in 2 weeks, a minute a day, with your exercises."

John H. Villano, Denver, reports: "Excellent results! My waist has gone from 36½ to 32—down 4½ inches. My chest increased from 41 to 43 inches."

Mrs. E. V. Smith of Mankato writes that with Dr. Salls' exercise she's trimmed down her waist from 33½ to 28½, her hips from 43½ to 39½.

Charles Hall, Springfield, 93 years old and "still very active," says: "Your exercises are 'under' heaven's blessing their cost. They certainly work for me."

RESEARCH PROVES "INSTANT EXERCISE" WORKS!

In one group of 353 girls, over 94% improved in physical fitness and over 50% had marked figure improvements...all in just 3 weeks, using Dr. Salls' motionless exercises for 1 minute per day. And no diet!

Over 92% of another group had waistline improvements, decreases of up to 3½ inches...thighs, 84%...hips, over 90%. Again in 3 weeks or less! And no diet!

88% of still another group, measured periodically under the watchful eye of a physician, showed marked measurement improvements in less than 30 days. And no diet!

A top university had one test group use isometrics for 1 minute daily while another worked no gym equipment for 45 minutes every day. When compared for fitness the isometric exercisers scored highest in every test!

THE MOST POPULAR EXERCISES EVER DEVELOPED IN THE U.S.

...because they work so amazingly well! Fewer than 1% of the hundreds of thousands who have purchased a set of Dr. Salls' "Instant" under his personal guarantee have ever talked for their money back. Doctors order them by the dozen!

Egg Dishes for Lent

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

Behold the versatile egg! Few foods can compare with its universal appeal. Its flavor and nutritive value make it an indispensable commodity served alone or in other foods.

Eggs may be used as the theme of any course of a meal—breakfast, brunch, lunch, or dinner, from appetizer to dessert. The wide range of fine recipes on the following pages is proof of the versatility of the egg—particularly helpful during the coming Lenten season.

Jellied Egg Canapés

- 2-avo., unflavored gelatin
- 2 cans (10½ oz. each) condensed beef or chicken broth
- 1 cup dry Madeira
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- 24 to 30 hard-cooked egg slices
- 24 to 30 toast triangles or rounds
- Tarragon or parsley leaves

1. Soften gelatin in 1 cup broth in a small saucepan; stir over low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add remaining broth, the wine, and Tabasco; blend thoroughly.

2. Pour about half of the mixture into shallow pan (15x10x1-in. or two 8x8-in. pans). Chill until almost set (but not firm).

3. Arrange egg slices about ½ in. apart in the jelly. Spoon the remaining aspic over eggs, covering the slices completely. Garnish each egg slice with a tarragon or parsley leaf. Chill until firm.

4. When ready to serve, using a 2- to 2½-in. cookie cutter, cut the aspic, leaving an edge around each egg slice.

5. Spread toast shapes with soft butter or margarine, mayonnaise, anchovy paste, deviled ham, or deviled luncheon meat spread. Then place an aspic-glazed egg slice in center of each canapé. If desired, before glazing, spoon a few drained corners onto each slice. 24 to 30 canapés

Note: If desired, prepare toast cutouts and spread surface of each as suggested in step 5. Top with an egg slice. Then, cover entire top of canapés with slightly thickened aspic. If aspic runs off, continue chilling it until it is thick enough to remain on surface of canapé. Garnish with tarragon or parsley and chill until serving time.

Cheese Bread Pudding

- 6 slices bread, cut diagonally in half
- ¼ cup snipped parsley
- 2 cans shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- ¼ teaspoon Worcester-shire sauce
- ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard

1. Alternate layers of bread, parsley, and cheese in a buttered 2-qt. casserole, ending with bread and cheese.

2. Beat eggs until light, then beat in milk, non-seasoned salt, thyme, Tabasco, Worcestershire, and mustard. Pour over the bread and cheese in casserole. Allow to stand 30 min.

3. Bake at 300° F. about 1 hr. Serve immediately.

About 6 servings

Curried Eggs in Rice Ring

- 6 cups cooked rice
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 medium-sized onion, chopped
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 to 3 teaspoons curry powder
- 1 can (about 14 oz.) clear chicken broth
- ¼ cup light cream
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- ½ to 1 teaspoon salt
- 8 hard-cooked eggs, quartered lengthwise

1. Combine ¼ teaspoon Tabasco with 2 tablespoons of the melted fat and stir into cooked rice. If needed, season with salt or seasoned salt to taste. Pack the rice firmly into a well-buttered 6-cup ring mold. Fifteen minutes before serving time, set mold in a pan with boiling water to reheat the rice.

2. Cook the onion in remaining fat heated in a saucepan. When onion

In tender but not brown, mix in flour and curry. Stir in broth and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of cream. Bring to boiling; cook and stir 6 min. Mix in the remaining cream, Tabasco, and salt to taste. Gently mix in the quartered eggs and heat slowly to serving temperature.

3. Unmold the rice ring onto serving plate and serve curried eggs in center. Accompany with hot peas in butter sauce and Crumb-Coated Bananas. 6 to 8 servings

Crumb-Coated Bananas with Caramel Topping

Serve bananas as accompaniment to Curried Eggs in Rice Ring or sauced for dessert.

Cut 6 to 8 medium-sized bananas crosswise into halves. Coat bananas with thawed frozen orange juice concentrate, with a mixture of $\frac{1}{2}$ cup packaged corn flake crumbs and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, with slightly beaten egg, and again with crumbs; put into a shallow baking dish. Bake at 350°F. about 10 min., or until bananas are tender.

Meanwhile, thoroughly heat contents of 1 jar (11 oz.) caramel topping and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan; stir to blend. Serve sauce over bananas. 6 to 8 servings

Eggs in Neats

Prepare instant-style potatoes according to pkg. directions, using amount for six servings. Whip in 1 tablespoon instant onion flakes, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon Tabasco, and salt, if needed. On a well-greased baking sheet, form potatoes into 8 neats (see photo); if desired, force potatoes through a pastry bag and decorating tube. Bake at 325°F. 25 to 30 min., or until neats are set and lightly browned. Break 1 egg into each neat. Over each egg sprinkle 1 teaspoon grated Parmesan cheese, a little salt, and 2 to 3 drops Tabasco. Bake at 325°F. 15 to 20 min., or until eggs are desired doneness. Transfer to serving platter. Garnish as desired. 6 servings

Shrimp Omelet Bake

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 can (5 or 6 oz.) shrimp, drained and separated into small pieces
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons dry sherry
5 eggs
3 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk

1. Add shrimp, onion, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, and $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon Tabasco to heated butter or margarine in a saucepan; stir and cook 3 to 5 min. Remove from heat and mix in sherry.

Turn mixture into a buttered $1\frac{1}{2}$ -qt. baking dish. Set aside at least 30 min. to allow flavors to blend.

2. Beat eggs until foamy and light. Beat in flour, remaining salt and Tabasco, then milk. Pour into baking dish over shrimp mixture.

3. Bake at 375°F. 30 to 35 min., or until mixture is set and lightly browned. Garnish the top with whole cooked shrimp. Serve with heated canned newburg sauce. 4 to 6 servings

Fish Stick Canapés

Hard-cook as many eggs as desired; slice peeled eggs and blend in enough salad dressing to moisten. Heat frozen fish sticks according to pkg. directions; cut into 1-in. pieces and impale on frilly picks. Heat seasoned crackers such as onion, wheat, or cheese. In a 375°F. oven about 5 min. Spread hot crackers with egg mixture and sprinkle with snipped chives or lemon pepper marinade. Dip each fish stick piece into peppery tomato seafood cocktail sauce and place on a spread cracker. Serve immediately.

Molded Tuna-Egg Salad

2 cans (8½ or 7 oz. each) tuna, drained and finely flaked
Bottled clear French or Italian dressing (about $\frac{1}{2}$ cup)
12 eggs, hard-cooked, peeled, coarsely chopped, and chilled
1 pkg. (6 oz.) lemon-flavored gelatin
3 cups boiling water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup catsup
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup white vinegar
3 oz. (1 pkg.) cream cheese
3 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 cup mayonnaise
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped green pepper
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup finely chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 tablespoon capers

1. Toss tuna with dressing until well blended. Refrigerate about 1 hr.
2. Add boiling water to gelatin in a bowl and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Blend in cold water, catsup, and vinegar. Chill until slightly thickened.

3. Beat cheese with salt and onion until softened. Blend in mayonnaise, heating until smooth. Gradually add gelatin mixture, stirring constantly. Add the marinated tuna, chopped eggs, and the last 4 ingredients; mix well.

4. Turn into a 3-qt. mold and chill until firm.

5. Unmold onto a chilled serving plate and garnish with salad greens; 12 to 16 servings

Vanilla Soufflé

A delicious and simple sauce for this soufflé is puréed thawed frozen strawberries or raspberries.

- 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 2 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 4 egg whites

1. Butter bottom of a 1 1/2-qt. soufflé dish (straight-sided casserole) and sift confectioners' sugar over soufflé dish; set aside.

2. Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan; stir in flour and cook until bubbly. Gradually add milk, stirring until blended. Bring to boiling; stir and cook 1 to 2 min.

3. Beat egg yolks, sugar, and extract together until mixture is very thick. Stirring vigorously, pour sauce slowly into egg yolk mixture. Cool to lukewarm.

4. Beat egg whites until rounded peaks are formed. Spread egg yolk mixture over egg whites and carefully fold together. Turn into the soufflé dish. Set the dish in a pan of hot water.

5. Bake at 400°F. 15 min. Turn oven control to 375°F. and bake 30 to 40 min. or until a knife comes out clean when inserted halfway between center and edge. Serve immediately. Accompany with a berry sauce.

About 6 servings

Egg Filling with Bacon Flavor

Chop 4 hard-cooked eggs, sprinkle lightly with seasoned pepper, and molton with 3 to 4 tablespoons mayonnaise. Spread on buttered bread and top with desired amount of prepared bacon-like pieces (a soy protein product). Complete sandwiches using second slice of bread for each.

Enough filling for 4 sandwiches

Party Stuffed Eggs Mornay

- 6 eggs, hard-cooked and peeled
- Mornay Sauce (see recipe)
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon minced onion
- 1 cup (about 4 oz.) fresh lump crab meat (bony pieces removed)

1. Prepare Mornay Sauce while eggs are cooking. Cover and keep sauce hot over simmering water.

2. To prepare stuffing for eggs: cut eggs lengthwise into halves. Separate yolks and whites; set egg whites aside. Mash egg yolks with a fork and blend in the next four ingredients and about 2 tablespoons of the hot Mornay Sauce.

3. Mix in the crab meat. Spoon filling into the egg whites. Place stuffed eggs in a chafing dish blazer over simmering water.

4. Cut slices of ripe avocado into pieces and stir into the Mornay Sauce. Pour sauce over and around the eggs in the blazer pan. Cover chafing dish; heat to serving temperature. 6 servings

Mornay Sauce

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 cup cooled chicken broth (use 1 chicken bouillon cube and 1/2 cup hot water)

- 1 cup cream
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup (1 1/2 oz.) Gruyère cheese, cut in small pieces
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine

1. Heat the 3 tablespoons butter in a double-boiler top over low heat. Blend in the flour and heat until mixture is bubbly (do not brown).

2. Remove from heat and stir while gradually adding the chicken broth and cream. Bring rapidly to boiling, stirring constantly; boil 1 to 2 min.

3. Remove from heat. Blend several tablespoonfuls of the hot mixture into the egg yolks; immediately return to mixture in top of double boiler. Cook 3 to 5 min. over simmering water, stirring occasionally.

4. Add the cheese and butter and stir until melted. Serve hot.

About 2 cups sauce

Egg Loaf

- 1/2 cup sliced cooked carrots
- 1/2 cup chopped cooked celery
- 1/2 cup cooked peas
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon minced onion
- 1/2 cup Medium White Sauce*
- 4 eggs, beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper

1. Mix first six ingredients.

2. Stirring vigorously, slowly pour white sauce into a mixture of the eggs, salt, and pepper. Blend in the vegetable-egg mixture. Turn into a greased 8 1/4 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-in. loaf pan.

3. Bake at 350°F. 40 min., or until a silver knife comes out clean when inserted, halfway between center and edge of loaf pan. Serve immediately. If desired, accompany with cheese sauce. About 6 servings

Deep-Frying Facts

Hydrogenated vegetable shortening, all-purpose shortening, lard, or cooking oil may be used for deep frying. Fill a deep saucepan or automatic deep fryer one-half to two-thirds full with the fat and heat slowly to temperature given in recipe; it takes about 20 minutes. A deep-frying thermometer in an accurate temperature guide when using a saucepan. Without a thermometer, use a bread-cube test: a 1-in. sq. of day-old bread turns to golden brown in 30 to 40 seconds at 375°F. Deep fry at one time only as many pieces as will float uncrowded one layer deep in the fat.

To prevent product from becoming grease-soaked, the fat must be maintained at required temperature during frying.

Lift cooked foods from the fat and drain for a few seconds before removing to absorbent paper.

Egg Croquettes

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon Accent
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 2 cups milk
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 4 hard-cooked eggs, diced
- Fat for deep frying
- 1 cup fine, dry bread crumbs

1. Heat butter in top of double boiler or over direct heat. Stir in next four ingredients and cook until mixture bubbles. Remove from heat.

2. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly. Bring rapidly to boiling; cook 1 to 2 min.

3. Vigorously stir a small amount of the hot sauce into the slightly beaten eggs. Quickly blend into sauce. Cook over simmering water

3 to 5 min., stirring slowly to keep mixture cooking evenly. Remove from heat; cool slightly.

4. Add diced hard-cooked eggs to the sauce; chill thoroughly.

5. Heat fat to 375°F.

6. Using 1/4 cup mixture for each croquette, drop into bread crumbs and coat wall. Remove with slotted spoon and lower into heated fat.

7. Fry about 3 min., or until golden brown. Drain. About 1 doz. croquettes

Chocolate Angel Food Cake

- 1/2 cup sifted cake flour
- 1/2 cup cocoa
- 1 1/2 cups egg whites (about 8)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

1. Sift the flour and cocoa together about four times to distribute cocoa evenly. Set aside.

2. Beat the egg whites and salt together until frothy. Add cream of tartar and continue beating until stiff, but not dry; peaks are formed. Lightly fold in the sugar 2 tablespoons at a time. Fold in extract.

3. Sifting a small amount of flour mixture at a time over beaten egg whites, fold in lightly but thoroughly until blended.

4. Turn batter into an ungreased 8-in. tubed pan, turning pan to distribute batter evenly. Gently cut through batter with a spatula—to remove large air bubbles.

5. Bake at 375°F. about 35 min., or until top of cake springs back when lightly touched.

6. Invert pan and let cake hang in pan until cold. Loosen the cake and remove from the pan.

7. Overlap large sections of cake on a pretty plate or tray. Accompany with Custard Sauce and a nutmeg mill. One 9-in. tubed cake

Custard Sauce

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

1. Blend sugar, flour, and salt in top of a double boiler. Add the eggs and egg yolk; mix thoroughly. Stir in 1/2 cup of the milk.

2. Heat remaining milk just until hot. Blend into mixture in double-boiler top. Stirring constantly, cook over simmering water until mixture coats a silver spoon, about 10 min.

3. Stir in the extract. Cool; chill in refrigerator at least 1 hr.

About 2 cups sauce

The best things in life are real.

The real things in life just can't be beaten. After all, what could be better than the real cakes you bake from scratch? Nothing.

But it does take longer at a time when life's a lot more hurried than it used to be.

That's why Fleischmann's developed the new Rapidmix method. It makes baking the real thing quicker and easier than ever before.

Because you no longer have to dissolve the yeast, worry about water temperature or heat the bowl.

Now you just blend Fleischmann's Yeast with your other dry ingredients, mix—and bake one of the best things in life. A light, tasty cake. The real thing.

The "hostess with the mostest" earns her rating first with a superb menu—then with her dramatic attire. The trio here, all of which you can sew at home, are easy to make, have a decided flair, and are comfortable to move around in. We have heightened the drama by showing the clothes tie-dyed, a simple process in which you tie off portions of a garment (which resist the dye), then dip into a color of your choosing. You might also tie-dye just to trim a pants outfit, as we did. The result is like colored rain against a window, an unusual abstract blend.

Wasn't I looking better in them? All weight lost! I was 150 pounds.

I'd probably never be married now, if I hadn't lost 49 pounds

Dear Ruth McCarthy: You don't know me, but I've been reading your stories about people who've lost weight and I'd like to tell you my tale.

I was a junior in high school. A fat, dateless teenager who spent her lonely evenings at the refrigerator. Either at my house or baby-sitting at someone else's. The bad thing about baby-sitting was that there was always food in the house, which turned into fat on my hips. Whenever I got a chance to dance (usually in the arms of my father at a family wedding), I looked like a bowl of jelly, jiggling across the floor. Sounds funny, doesn't it? But it wasn't. Particularly not when you had a slim sister, who dated regularly.

She and her boyfriend tried to fix me up with fellows, but who wanted to do the Twist with 150 pounds of fat? I kept telling myself that I'd outgrow it. I didn't. And you don't when you eat like I did.

My mother is Maltese and my father Czechoslovakian. When he married my mother, he insisted that she learn how to bake all those fancy Czech pastries. Of course, she had a few Maltese specialties of her own. And me, I just lapped them up.

By the time I'd become a junior in high school, however, I began to think more about boys than baked goods. Not too far from where I lived, in Flushing, New York, there's a very nice place that has dances for teenagers on Friday evenings. I used to go sometimes, but nothing ever came of it. I always wound up a wallflower.

Summers were hard, too. Bathing-suit time. Mine would always be one-piece. And black. I'd stay in the water, up to my neck, as much as possible. On the sand, I'd wrap myself in a robe and watch the others have fun. I'm sure they thought I was shy, but I was really ashamed.

After unhappy times like these, I'd try to "starve" myself. I'd lose a couple of pounds, but at the end-of-the-week, I'd go on a binge and gain it all back.

Then one day I read an ad about a reducing-plan candy, called Ayds. And the word "candy" got me. This sounded like the answer to my problem.

After all, I thought, it wouldn't be like taking a reducing pill. And it wasn't, once I tried Ayds. One thing I liked; this candy contained no harmful drugs. And it was sweet enough to satisfy my sweet tooth, so I didn't feel I was denying myself at all. I just took one or two before meals as directed, with a hot drink. And it helped me control my appetite. Really. It was as pleasant as could be. I lost 25 pounds in three months. That's when my friends began to notice my looks. I even began to like the way I looked myself. In fact, I began to think about getting contact lenses. "Might as well go all the way," I thought.

When I reached 125 pounds, one of the girls got me a date for Rye Beach. It was great. And it was only the beginning. There were dates and more dates.

Every pound I lost motivated me to lose another. By the time I graduated, I had dropped to 115 pounds. And it wasn't long before I lost more. The only reason I took baby-sitting jobs from then on was to make money. Not fill up my evening.

After years of being wrapped in 150 pounds of fat, I was slim—and free.

I'm 5'2½" tall and today, I weigh 101 pounds, down from 150. In the measurements department, I've gone from 40" to 33½" in the bust; from 29" to 23½" in the waist; from 40" to 34" in the hips; and from a size 16½ to a size 5 dress.

Isn't that wonderful? And what really makes me feel good is knowing that I haven't gained any of the weight back in six years. And I haven't even had to continue using Ayds to stay slim. On the Ayds Plan, I had trained myself to eat less. And like it. And the habit has lasted.

In January, I was married to a wonderful man, who found it hard to believe I was ever heavy. During our engagement, I showed him the enclosed pictures of myself. I suppose it wasn't the brightest thing to do, but, thank goodness, it didn't scare him off. He did say though: "If I'd seen you when you were that big, I'd never have asked you out." And I'm sure that, without Ayds, I'd never have this wedding band on my finger today.

Here I am 150! My husband carried this 150 on his wallet.

Can We Prevent Child Beating?

A noted pediatrician calls for rehabilitation of "cruel" parents, not pointless punishment

JAMES S. APTHORP, M.D.
Pediatric Trauma Coordinator Los Angeles Children's Hospital
As told to Frank Thielso

ONE DAY not long ago, three separate cases of child beating were reported to police officers in California's San Fernando Valley.

A 14-month-old boy was found with more than 100 pinpricks on the soles of his feet; his toes and buttocks had been burned; he had multiple cuts and bruises on his body. A two-year-old girl suffered internal injuries, a broken arm, bumps on the head, a bite on the chin, and indications that her fingernails had either been bitten or peeled back. A seven-month-old needed treatment for broken arms and legs and fractures of the skull and pelvis.

Gross, blood-curdling crimes against helpless children like these occur every day in the United States. Several hundred American children are deliberately murdered by their parents every year, and 10 times as many are seriously injured through beatings. The national toll of child abuse is conservatively estimated at 60,000 annually.

Fantastic as it sounds, more children under five years old are killed by their parents each year than die of disease.

How could a parent beat a helpless child? The answer is not the common response: "They must be some kind of monster!" Rarely is child abuse the product of wanton, willful, or deliberate acts of cruelty. It usually results from lack of capacity for coping with tensions.

In nearly every case of child beating, abusing parents have been abused themselves, either emotionally or physically, by their own parents. In reality, they are getting revenge—punishing their own parents.

For example, perhaps a young mother is visited by her mother, who criticizes her housekeeping. After the grandmother leaves, the baby begins crying. The mother hits the child, taking out on the child all her resentment toward her own mother.

Abusing parents tend to be withdrawn, antisocial persons who have few satisfying relationships in their lives. They feel generally disappointed in life, let down by those around them, and look to their children for sadistic gratification.

Generally, child beating is higher among mothers who have first conceived at a young age and those of very low mental aptitude. The younger the parents the more prone they are to lose their tempers when the children get on their nerves. In spite of the accepted concept of male aggressiveness, a surprising number of mothers have been responsible for child beating. I have found abusive mothers most always to be severely emotionally disturbed.

When the father is involved, in child abuse, the circumstances are usually entirely different. Normally, what started out to be a disciplining of the child got out of hand.

Sometimes a parent will actually refer to his child as if he were speaking of an adult. For example, in one case I was involved with the father of a boy only nine months old who said to me: "He thinks he can push me around, but I showed him up."

When parents "take it out" on their children, the "it" is quite often intolerable self-hatred. The qualities and attributes with which the mother endows the child and for which she abuses it were the very features she cannot tolerate in herself. The unfortunate child is the scapegoat for an unconscious sense of guilt.

Parents who beat their children come from all walks of life. They come from the poorest slum areas to some country-club districts, from culturally deprived families to families in the highest economic, educational, and social strata.

What should we do with the parent who beats his child? I believe they should be treated psychiatrically rather than punished by law. We must try to rehabilitate them. Child beaters are not inhuman. Little would be gained by punishing them.

Most child beaters love their children and will fight as though their lives depended on it to keep them—and it's not just to beat the rap. They have a need and an investment in these children. It may not be as healthy as that of healthy parents, but it certainly doesn't stem from hating the child.

Punishment to parents can be stiff, depending on the state law. Most states have laws providing for fines and imprisonment for convicted parents. In only about one-third of our cases is a specific individual proved to be responsible. Convictions on criminal charges are often very difficult in child-beating cases. Young children are unable to testify because they can't talk or are afraid to.

Unless the infant dies from mistreatment, the courts have historically tried to mend the domestic problem and keep the child with the parents. They feel that removing a child from his parents for an extended period—and sometimes for good—is often less desirable than giving the offenders a warning and attempting to rehabilitate them.

Is it possible for parents who abuse their children to be successfully treated for their character disorder? I have seen few parental child beaters change their stripes. First, because of the lack of psychiatric facilities and, second, because of insufficient professional knowledge in treatment of these individuals.

Child beating is one of our most acute social problems today. It is also one of the most difficult to correct. The real tragedy is the battered child whose injuries, solving far beyond the visible scars, last a lifetime. Physical injury heals in time. Emotional scars seldom do.

To help such children, we must must-help the parents. We must increase our knowledge on how to treat the troubled parents, then provide adequate help for them. >

Now—Developed by Over 1000 Arthritis Specialists and Doctors Working Together—a Needed and Medically-Approved Program to Overcome Arthritis!

Arthritis can be successfully treated. Buoyant, pain-free living should be yours.
A new 5-way practical plan of positive action causes pain and disability to go.

By William S. Kitay
Medical Science Reporter

If you've had Arthritis for years, have just had first twinges, are susceptible through heredity—or if you have a loved one who suffers from it, here's news.

Scientists have revised their viewpoint on Arthritis and what you can do about it. Science now knows that there is no universal cure miracle pill or drug for Arthritis—and probably never will be.

The plain scientific truth is that you can recover from Arthritis with simpler means. Techniques now available can calm the pain, the activity of Arthritis, even lessen the damage.

What Researchers Discovered

A simple home treatment can get you back on your feet, give you new independence and return you to useful living.

It stops pain, reduces inflammation and swelling, gives greater use of your joints. Simply, it minimizes the misery and crippling of Arthritis.

It is a 5-Way method developed by over 1000 Arthritis specialists and general practitioners working together. It's surprisingly effective in even severe, complicated cases. Often it stops short pain and disability of NEW Arthritis sufferers—virtually at first symptoms begin.

ARTHRITIS DANGER QUIZ!

- Will the juice of one lemon in hot water before breakfast relieve Arthritis? Do special diets help? How does consumption affect Arthritis? Do laxatives help?
- How about Vitamin B-12, Vitamin C and orange juice, orange juice and cod liver oil, lemon juice and baking soda, honey, cranberry, milk, milk, vegetable juices, food supplements, mineral waters, and herb medicine? Does reducing help?
- Doctors and scientists have investigated virtually any remedy obtainable. You get a full report with the 5-Way plan.
- Will oils be absorbed by your skin and help lubricate a "stiff joint"? Does iodine help? Are dry skin or scalp oil symptoms indications of Arthritis? Does how you eat affect how your body builds bones with calcium? Does Vitamin D stimulate the Adrenal glands and ease Arthritis? Are bananas as effective as most lemons?
- What about a no-salt diet—or meat 3 times daily? No smoking or 3 cigarettes daily, sleeping with windows open or closed? Or sleeping on the floor? Do vibrating machines help? Or heating backs?
- Does curling up comfortably in bed relax—or cripple? Will a pillow under your knees when asleep give needed rest—or enhance your ability to walk? When on a small pillow under your head help—and when NAHM?
- Will climbing stairs strengthen knees, feet, hips affected or harm them? Will sitting in one spot avoid using painful knee and low back pain, and stiffness or increase chance of deformity? Should you keep covers off feet? Are long detachable slides good for you? Each year countless people wear their own Arthritis—especially many give themselves pain—some cripple themselves for life—simply because they don't know or tragically believe they are helping and relieving their Arthritis.
- You get a 4-page report in 5-Way on a critical here. The misformation, confusion, claims and counter claims and ignorance about Arthritis are cleared up. You get the truth about, and how to recognize and avoid, quick cures, "cure cures" and false remedies.

Why Suffer Needlessly

How often have you done your work with arthritic-pain-meaning your energy and-stilling your efforts? Or has it progressed even further, and you've looked with sinking heart at your hot, swollen joints and twisted fingers—actually brushed tears from your eyes because you became so dependent on others' kindness?

A remarkable organization—endorsed to do the job—has banded together the greatest medical drive in Arthritis history—to find the truth about—and OVERCOME ARTHRITIS!

Virtually every conceivable method to treat Arthritis has been investigated. Folk remedies, fake cures, cure-alls, wild hopes of medical science for new drugs—anything promising even alleviating relief, however, unorthodox, has been studied. Over 1000 doctors and dentists joined in. If any method worked, it was reported.

The truths, the fakes, the false hopes were shown up. Full facts on new medicine—side effects—disadvantages—withdrawal—effects in different situations were frankly faced. The work goes on—searching for the miracle not yet found.

The Simple Truth

But the quickest, surest, safest methods yet found—when again and again proven in different situations—have been included in the 5-Way plan to give you greater relief fromches and pain, greater use of joints, faster resumption of activities.

Whatever form of Arthritis, however complicated or intensive, whatever use and arthritic condition, the flexible 5-Way plan adapts to help.

Here are the most effective techniques in single areas, around knee joint, shoulder, ankle, back of neck—techniques to improve circulation in your entire body.

—Feel the Improvement—and Say "Yes" to Life Again

See and feel at home your 5-Way plan. Start your body on the way to useful normal living. Feel tight joints rest, relax, free up. Feel muscles tied in knots become more supple. Feel body tension eases and pain, soreness, muscle spasms be relieved. Feel muscle tendons soften and stretch. Feel your body's full breathing range permitted again. Feel strength of needed muscles increase.

As you return full motion and range to joints, you're preventing and reducing chance of crippling. You're saving corrective action later. Because you have found the full facts about Arthritis and what to do about it, you've been restoring motion, strength and power to stiffened, weakened joints, increasing the range of joints, helping prevent weakening and deterioration of essential muscles important for walking, climbing stairs and getting in and out of chairs.

You've gained surprising independence from disability and you're feeling better than you have in years. You say "YES" to life again!

5-Way Plan in Book Form

The entire plan is now published in one easy-to-read-to volume. You just use the information you need. What kind of Arthritis do you have? Rheumatoid to Osteo Arthritis—they're here (covering 95% of Arthritis cases) including Rheumatic Fever, Hand Arthritis, Gouty Arthritis, Shoulder and Neck Syndrome and Traumatic Arthritis—PLUS—the RELATED DISORDERS of Rheumatism, Bursitis, Tendinitis, Psychogenic Rheumatism—even Fibrositis, Fasciitis, Tenosynovitis, and Myositis.

Get the facts about the Arthritis that strikes 10 men for each woman—and another kind that strikes 10 women for each man—the Arthritis most past 40 eventually get to some degree—the kind that attacks rugged outdoor men—and another kind that attacks thin, tense, intellectual types—the Arthritis that's the most common cause of heart disease under 40 and often affects children—and how best to minimize heart damage from it—Arthritis a vigorous cough makes pitifully worse—a kind involving the upper spine arriving with headache, earache, sore throat, neuritis pains in arms, or stiffness in neck.

And more! The most ignored warning signals of Arthritis and what to do when you first spot them. Facts—you should know about—epiphitis—gout—psoriasis—prediabetes—psoriasis, hydrocortisone.

What food disorders can do to Arthritis and what you can do about it. The truth about Arthritis corsets and spine braces. What almost every patient first suffering from chronic Arthritis does wrongly that can cause deformity—unnecessarily.

Amazing 6-Months Guaranteed Available To Anyone

Any doctor any arthritis sufferer, anyone susceptible to Arthritis, any family member or friend who wants to help may accept the amazing offer below.

It is not a 24-hour miracle cure. There is none. It's a way to help yourself and your doctor to overcome Arthritis, stop Arthritis, relieve pain and misery, restore action to crippled limbs, and give back normal, useful living.

Only if after looking over the book and 5-Way plan for 10 full days, you're convinced you can be helped, is there any cost. Otherwise, simply return within the ten days for no cost. And if you keep the book for its low cost—if at any time within six months thereafter you—or your doctor—have any doubts of what it has done for you—if in any way it does not do what reading this page has led you to expect, simply return for full refund. Could anything be fairer?
